

Cherry Whip Highlights February 22 Dinner

Top off a Washington's Birthday party with crested cherry whip.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

It may be historically accurate that George Washington chopped down his father's favorite cherry tree. It is true, however, to say almost everyone likes cherry-flavored desserts.

Crested Cherry Whip

(Serves 6)
One package cherry - flavored gelatin, 2 cups hot water.
Dissolve cherry - flavored gelatin in hot water. Pour 1 cup into mold and chill. Chill remaining gelatin mixture until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Pour over firm gelatin in mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with cherries and mint leaves. Serve with custard sauce.
(Makes 1 1/4 cups sauce)
Three tablespoons sugar, 2 egg

Landlord Charged After Attempting Smoke-Out

PHILADELPHIA. —(P)— A landlord admitted to Fire Marshal George Gallagher that he deliberately started a fire in his West Philadelphia building to smoke out two second-floor tenants he was trying to evict.
Richard Light, 55, was booked on arson charges after signing a statement, Gallagher reported. The fire was started in a bucket of rubbish placed on a stairway. Flames were extinguished by firemen after they scorched the stairs.
"I must have had a crazy day," Gallagher quoted Light.

Give your cooking extra flavor with Heinz Tomato Ketchup made from the world's finest tomatoes, rare spices and fine vinegar

1 1/4 cups canned red cherries, 1 1/3 cups cherry juice and hot water, 1/3 to 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and 1/2 cup sugar and sift into mixing bowl. Add milk and melted shortening; stir only until smooth. Spread evenly in greased 10x6 1/2-inch baking dish or 8x8 1/2 - inch square pan. Arrange cherries over top. Combine cherry juice and water, sugar and butter and bring to a boil. Pour mixture over cherries. Bake at once in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 40 minutes or until done. Serve warm.

NON-STOP REFUELING

The frigate bird refuels while aloft. One of the fastest of all birds, it secures its food in unscrupulous manner, by diving at other birds, causing them to drop their prey, which the frigate bird catches in mid-air.

Club Fights Blizzard To Save Birds' Lives

LINTON, N. D. —(P)— What happens when pheasant living in sparse shelter get caught in a swirling North Dakota blizzard was vividly demonstrated here recently to members of the Emmons County Wildlife Federation.

Club members visited one of the best pheasant territories near here and found many birds dead and others dying from suffocation caused by ice forming around their heads.

Field biologists say the ice first forms around the birds' nostrils, shutting off normal breathing. The birds then breathe through the mouth. Ice soon begins to form in the mouth and around the beak. Suffocation usually follows in a short time.

Many of the birds found still alive were picked up, brought into Linton and thawed out. They were released later, apparently none the worse for their experience.

Number Of Voters Increases Ten Million

WASHINGTON — (P)— There will be at least ten million more persons eligible to vote in this year's presidential election than in 1940, the Census Bureau estimated.

It calculated that there will be 83,941,000 persons over twenty-one alive in the United States next November — 47,760,000 women and 46,181,000 men.

There were 83,996,629 persons of voting age in 1940, the bureau said, but only 49,815,312 voted.

The bureau noted that in Georgia the voting age now is eighteen, which adds about 200,000 to the total number of potential voters.

Sennett Decries Films' Lack Of Entertainment

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD —(P)— "The picture business will have to go back to making entertainment—or else give up."

Mr. Sennett, the man who made a nation laugh, was telling his views on the state of the screen.

"I see all the pictures that come out. Many of them are terrible; there's too much murder in the films. Where are the belly laughs that we used to put on the screen? Comedy is becoming a lost art. Why? Because there is no training school for comics."

Sennett, once a film titan as a producer of comedies, gave a rare interview in his comfortable apartment overlooking Hollywood Boulevard.

He had much to say about how the screen has forgotten the value of movement. He also commented on some of the newer comedians. Red Skelton, he said, is "wonderful." Danny Kaye "amusing." Of Bobe Hope: "He throws so many puns at you, you have to laugh at some of them."

Discovered Chaplin
Charlie Chaplin, whom Sennett discovered, it "the greatest comedian of all time." But he didn't approve of Chaplin's latest film.

"I told Charlie: 'There are hundreds of actors who can do that serious stuff as well as you, but no one can match your comedy. Why waste your time?'"

Sennett told me he keeps an office in New York and is retelling his old comedies. "Think of the possibilities in 16-mm and television!" he said. He also plans a feature-length collection of some W. C. Fields and Bing Crosby shorts and others. He showed me the manuscript of a fiction book he had written. And MGM and Warners are bidding for his film biography.

Sennett attributes the eclipse of his comedies not to the advent of sound, but to the double feature. The culprit, he declared, was a theater owner of Providence, R. I., whose customers complained they had nothing to do after the show was out at nine o'clock. So he gave them another picture to keep them happy. The double feature idea spread and finally killed the two-reel comedy, ending a happy and colorful era of movie history.

Part Of Modern Banner Equipment

This machine, part of the modern equipment at Banner Creamery in Midland, represents the very latest development in bottle cappers. There are only three such machines in the state. From sheets of aluminum, it cuts, stamps and applies caps to 64 quarts per minute, sealing the milk against any sort of contamination and even covering the entire top of the bottle so that the sterilized opening is not touched in handling and the contents can be poured over completely clean glass surface.

Russians Are Reading Current Best-Sellers
LONDON —(AP)— Moscow Radio reports a current best-selling novel in Russia is Ira Wolfert's "Tucker's People," which it said "exposes the social origin of gangsterism and the gangster nature of American monopoly capitalism."
Upton Sinclair's "World's End" depicting American life during World War I, and the Sinclair Lewis novel "Glendon Plinius," which the radio said was "aimed against fascism and its manifestations in America," will soon come off Russian presses.

Heirs To Fortune Lose Custody Of Orphans

CHICAGO—(P)—The court fight between Mrs. Muriel Hubbard McCormick and her brother, Fowler McCormick, heirs to the McCormick and Rockefeller fortunes, over custody of two former orphans, has ended with both relinquishing all claims to the children.

Under terms of the settlement, announced by Superior Judge John P. Sbarbaro, the two children will be formally adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardin, with whom they have been living for 20 months.

The children, Edith Rockefeller McCormick Hubbard, 14, and Elsie Dyer Hubbard, 10, were placed in the home of the Hardins, wealthy elderly couple of suburban Evanston, in June, 1946, by Fowler McCormick when he was appointed their guardian by a Connecticut court.

McCormick, chairman of International Harvester Co., and his aunt, Mrs. Anita McCormick Blane, will provide trust funds of at least $75,000 for each of the children, said McCormick's lawyer, Austin Wyman.

Mrs. Hubbard, granddaughter of Cyrus McCormick, the inventor of the reaper, and John D. Rockefeller, Sr., has said she had named the two children as sole beneficiaries of her fortune. She added, however, she might change her will if the children did not wish to return to her.

Represents Two Teams In Sugar Bowl Play

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—(P)—Kenny Malone of the University of Maryland claims to be the only athlete to compete for two colleges in two different sports in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl.

The Paterson, N. J., athlete played center for the Tulsa football team against Georgia Tech in the 1944 bowl game. This year he fought in the light heavyweight division in the Maryland-Michigan State boxing match.

His Tulsa eleven was beaten 20-18 and he lost his boxing bout. The Maryland team saved Malone from drawing a complete blank in his bowl appearances by winning the match.

FORGETFULNESS IS AN IRRITATING HABIT

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Do you make it a practice to look back to see if you have forgotten anything when you go away from a place where you may have left gloves, umbrella or packages?

If you don't, this is a good practice to adopt. The woman who makes a habit of the "back look" will never be guilty of the forgetful lady's unhappy faculty for annoying people.

Hostesses can be irked by guests who put them through the routine of a household search after a visit for missing possessions. Male escorts are irked by the necessity to go back into a restaurant or movie theater to search for gloves and other forgotten objects. A "back look" taken before you leave a place will make such searches unnecessary.

The "back look" is a good practice to adopt for still another reason. You stand a much better chance of reclaiming your possessions if you look around for them before you leave than you do if you send a retriever back later to grope under tables, around chair seats or in aisles.

Average Consumption Of Salt Increases

It has been estimated by reliable sources, including the Morton Salt Company, that the average consumption of salt per person per year is steadily increasing. One of the important reasons, it is stated, stems from the new uses for salt which more and more people are discovering every day.

For example, the idea of putting a pinch of salt on grapefruit or in grapefruit juice, which originated in the grapefruit-growing areas, is spreading rapidly across the country.

With food merchants stalwartly "holding the line" on prices, the American family is in good position to enjoy frequently grapefruit's goodness sparked up with a dash of salt.

Prison Conditions Are So Bad Most Inmates Prefer Death To Term

DALLAS—(P)—Conditions in the Texas prison system are so bad that 80 per cent of the convicts at Darrington Prison Farm would prefer death to serving the rest of their sentences on the farm, E. A. Stufflebume, Grand Prairie banker and member of the Texas Prison Board, said here.

Stufflebume made the statement in an interview.

"I firmly believe that if the men at Darrington farm were told that they had their choice of being gassed to death or staying on the farm and serving the rest of their sentences, 80 per cent would choose the gas chamber," Stufflebume said.

Darrington's inmates, "repeaters" under 25, include some of the most desperate criminals in the Texas prison system. The farm was the scene of a hunger strike against prison food shortly before Christmas. A shakeup in the farm's management followed a prison break recently when 11 convicts overpowered a guard and escaped.

Stufflebume said that the prison system is the site of the "worst forms of moral degradation" because of lack of isolation facilities and equipment.

"In O. B. Ellis, the system's new general manager, we have a manager as well equipped by knowledge and experience as anyone in the United States to operate the Texas prison system," the board member pointed out. "But without the help of everybody in Texas—governor, Legislature, and citizens—his hands are tied."

ATE OXEN
The physical properties of the prison system have been allowed to deteriorate in the past to the point that they long have been unfit for use in a modern penal institution, he explained.

Antiquated methods are in use, he said, although General Manager Ellis has indicated that he intends to modernize and mechanize farm work.

Some oxen actually were used for work on one of the farms last year, he said, "but we have had to kill them for food, so that we aren't working oxen any more."

THE STORY: Ann Bancroft—Mrs. Bancroft—suddenly became terrified. Someone has wanted the notes of her new brown blouse. Someone who evidently wants her to slip and fall down the steep staircase at Tophill. Ann discovered the one of wax to her blouse. Her fright increases when she gets a letter from a Mr. Stark about work done on the swinging bridge over the ravine in the garden.

to pull the shades at the window over the sink because the sun hit the kitchen windows in the afternoon and made the room hot. Then she followed Luke down the path.

It was Luke, the gardener. He'd started into town, got a flat tire. He'd walked back for a jack. It was in the garage and he'd get it but the walk had been long and dusty and if he could please have a glass of water?

LUKE was dead. His neck, as well as most of the bones in his body, was broken. Rush called the doctor who in turn notified both the coroner and the sheriff, Sheriff Sam Blanding. The authorities, Rush said, was lips white, had to be notified in case of sudden death. They went out into the garden to look at the bridge, to check the ropes, to see if they could figure out what had caused the accident.

RECALLING all this, Ann drew a deep breath. Would that verdict of accidental death remain unchanged if she were to show Mr. Stark's letter to the coroner? What had been done to the bridge to make it collapse?

Happily Wed Women Less Likely To Suffer

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — (AP) — Happily married, lady? Well, if so, you're less likely to be in poor health, Dr. Edward A. Strecker, psychiatrist, declared.

He told an obstetrical and gynecological assembly that one out of every three married women is not well adjusted to matrimony, and this is likely to lead to nonorganic ailments. These may take the form of so-called feminine maladies, nausea, skin irritations or even heart disease, he said.

Repeated examination by a physician may do more harm than good, the doctor said, because the search for an ailment may convince the patient there is some organic cause for her difficulties.

Sir Oliver S. Franks, 43-year-old Oxford University professor, was named British ambassador to the U. S., succeeding Lord Inverchapel, who is retiring. Franks, an economist, served in Washington during the war, and was a visiting lecturer at the University of Chicago in 1935.

GI's In Germany Now Behave Better Than Most Americans

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—The much criticized American soldier in Germany now behaves himself better than the average American citizen in the United States.

Although beset by the traditional temptations of wine, easy women and easy money in the black market, the GI crime rate in Germany has dropped more than 50 per cent in the last year. As the result of an Army campaign it is now below the national average in the United States for the same category of crimes.

A similar Army drive has cut venereal disease rates by approximately the same proportion.

In the first year after Germany's surrender, GI misbehavior was one of the major concerns of occupation authorities. There were storms of public criticism about his loose relations with German girls, his black-marketing and his drinking. He was attacked in Congress and the press.

All-Time Peak
Courts-martial were busy. The venereal disease rate soared to an all-time peak. Hospitals were crowded with soldiers suffering "non-battle casualties."

Then came the crackdown. On April 24, 1946, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, then U. S. commander in Europe, ordered all troop commanders to bear down at once and hard to restore discipline. Training programs were stiffened. Controls were tightened. The worst trouble-makers were weeded out of the Army.

Within a few months the situation began to improve. The improvement gained pace after Gen. Lucius D. Clay succeeded McNarney at the start of 1947, with Lt. Gen. Clarence Husbner, an efficient disciplinarian, as troop commander.

Different Spirit
Now Army records show that only one soldier out of 74 is contracting a venereal disease in a month, contrasted with one out of 47 in the Summer of 1946. The number of "serious incidents" per thousand of troops was only 1.18 last November, contrasted with 2.38 include murder, rape, burglary, robbery, assault and black marketing.

According to statistics on similar crimes in the United States, arrests in the same categories of crime total 1.90 per thousand persons.

Officials of the provost marshal's office attribute the crime decline not only to "a general tightening of discipline," but also to these other factors:

Most of the soldiers here now are Regular Army volunteers who have deliberately chosen the Army for a career and are trying to make good in it. There is a different spirit than that among the draftees of 1945 and 1946 who had gone through combat and were indulging in a sort of postwar spree while trying to get out of the Army as quickly as possible.

Eighty per cent of all activities are guided by the eyes.

Car Won't Work Only When It Is Needed

DETROIT—(AP)—Ford Motor Company announced its engineers have developed an automobile radiator fan that operates only when needed. Operation and speed of the fan are controlled by a thermostat in the radiator hose.

The Ford announcement said tests show that in cold weather the fan seldom turns on.

Controlled cooling, it added, means increased gasoline mileage, less fan noise, quicker warmup, better acceleration and more engine power and flexibility.

RADIO IN POLAND

WARSAW—(AP)—The government controlled Radio Polskie announced it installed more than 26,000 loudspeakers in Polish villages last December and is asking parliament to approve the erection of 100,000 more.

Change In March Allowable Is East Texas Field

AUSTIN —(P)— An 8,817-barrel increase in the East Texas oil field is the only change in Texas allowances set by the Railroad Commission for March.

The commission's order, issued yesterday, is expected to produce 100,923 barrels of crude daily. Total new allowance for Texas was set at 2,560,988 barrels daily, but a commission figured underproduction of 6.23 per cent or 160,042 barrels, will mean an actual flow of 100,923 barrels per day.

Natural gasoline and distillates will add another 213,184 barrels of gas-petroleum products, boosting total output to 2,814,107 barrels daily. This is 214,107 barrels more than the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of daily market demand for Texas production.

ALL OF FIRE IN BELIEVED METEOR

PORT WORTH —(P)— Astronomer Oscar Monny said he believes the "ball of fire" seen in six states Wednesday was a meteor which disintegrated high in the air.

Ranchers in the Higgins, Texas, and Shattuck, Oklahoma, reported seeing a brightly colored object about the size of a barrel, which exploded in the air north of hatter.

Teachers May Again Ask Special Session

MARSHALL —(P)— Miss Emma Mae Broeze, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, said it may be necessary to ask Gov. Beauford Jester again to call a special session of the Legislature in order to overcome a deficit in rural-aid funds.

She said "every effort will be exhausted" to overcome the $3,000,000 deficit short of a special session. But she said if efforts fail to cope with the deficit in the school equalization-aid fund, the governor will again be asked to call the special session.

Jester denied such a request Tuesday.

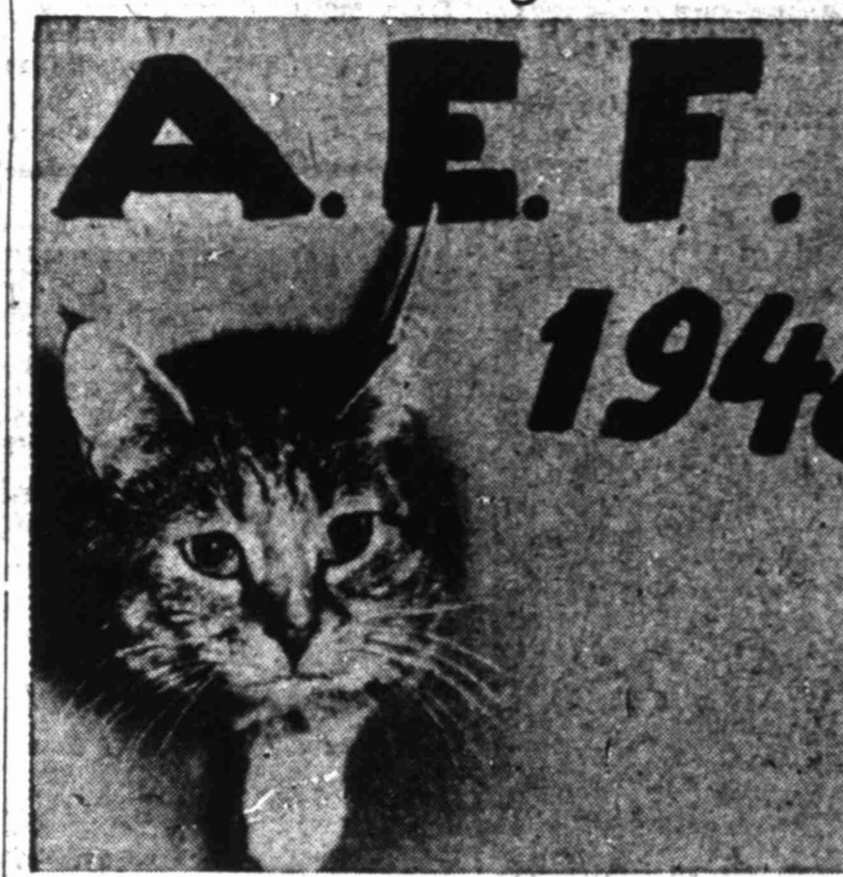

Four Burned In Butane Gas Explosion

PORT WORTH —(P)— A butane gas explosion burned four members of a farm family and smashed their home near Mansfield Wednesday night.

Burned were Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Pyles, both 57, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Billy Pyles, 18, and her son, Mike, nine months. The baby was burned critically.

The blast smashed windows, cracked walls and jarred the roof. Trees in the tropics are not active the year round, but have distinct rest periods.

Cats Are Coming Over There

Look out, European rats—the AEF (American Expeditionary Felines) is coming! Flash, poking his head from his crate is one of the AEF men in purr-sion. Sponsors of the movement, the American Feline Society, hopes to send a million cats to kill off Europe's rats, but government experts say "a few cats have nerve enough to sit back and watch."

No Cheap Meat In Sight, Says Spokesman For Packers Group

DALLAS —(P)— You'll be able to buy meat this Spring and Summer, but not cheap.

Wibur LaRoe, general counsel for the National Independent Meat Packers Association, made the prediction.

"There is perhaps 200,000,000 pounds of meat in warehouses and private lockers," he said. "It may be able to offset the usual seasonal decline."

And while he doesn't expect any meat shortage, LaRoe said he could not see lower prices as long as the federal government supports the price of corn at $2.07 a bushel.

"With that $2.07 support price, a farmer can't sell his hogs for much less than 20 cents a pound without losing money. If he has to take less than that for hogs, he'll sell his corn rather than use it for feeding."

German Orphan Girl To Make Home In Texas

MARSHALL —(P)— Denise Dammstein, 18, will arrive in the United States from Europe this week-end to make her home with an uncle she has never seen.

The uncle, Nathan Weis, a tailor here, is going to New York to welcome his sister's daughter.

During the occupation of Paris in 1942, Germans carried away the girl's parents and younger sister. She has not seen them again.

In her mother's effects she found letters Weis had written his sister. She wrote to Weis and he replied.

It took more than a year to get the necessary papers for the girl to enter the United States.

New Corsettes Come Out Into The Open

NEW YORK (NEA)—Last year's concealed corsette comes out in the open this Spring as a belt. Ready to do the same job of nipping in a waist as a corsette, but prepared to make the performance more glamorous, belts not only little a middle but breathe it with glitter. Shown here are two shining examples. The belt of gold capskin, right, which rises to new heights to create fashion's taut and tiny waistline, takes the look of a corsette right down to lacing. The waist-nipper, left, is a glittering bodice belt inspired by medieval designs, climbs high to meet this Spring's descending necklines. Gray suede is encrusted with spears of silver kid, bejeweled with white rhinestones.

'Who Damaged Who, And How Much' Issue

DALLAS (AP)—A jury failed to agree on who damaged who, and how much, in the trial for alleged rent overcharge brought by a Baylor Dental Fraternity. The fraternity, Alpha Phi Chapter of Alpha Phi Phi, claimed it paid rentals amounting to $1,500 over ceiling to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Echols of Dallas.

Members of the fraternity sought treble damages under Office of Price Administration legislation and also $1,000 for attorney fees. In a cross action Mr. and Mrs. Echols claimed they, not the fraternity, were the injured party. The prospective dentists wrecked their furniture to the tune of $2,500, Mrs. Echols testified.

Coal Producer Ready To Build Pilot Plant For Synthetic Fuels

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The world's largest commercial coal producer is ready to begin construction of a pilot plant to convert coal into gasoline, fuel oils and gas. If the $300,000 model plant to be located at nearby Liberty proves practicable, the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company will erect a $120,000,000 big scale operation in the same general Southwestern Pennsylvania area.

The process is known as coal gasification. It would conceivably point the way for the coal industry to provide the nation with an adequate gasoline reserve for uncounted years to come. If the pilot plant proves gasification is a commercial success, Pittsburgh Consolidated hopes to be operating the big plant by 1960 or 1961.

Raw coal for the program—about 6,000,000 tons a year would be needed eventually—will come from Consolidation's 100,000 acres of bituminous lands. Joseph Pursglove, Jr., vice president in charge of research and development, said the 180,000,000 tons of mineable coal available to the company in this area would assure recommended that Congress lay out $8,000,000,000 over the next five or ten years to establish a synthetic fuel industry.

US Drive Against Tax Evasion Brings Results

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's drive against tax evasion is rolling up new records in collections, indictments and convictions.

The Internal Revenue Bureau has reported it took in $1,928,187,000 in extra taxes and penalties last year, a jump of $428,187,000 over 1945's previous record. The government also racked up nearly $1,000,000 more in fines assessed in criminal evasion cases. It scored a record of 873 persons convicted in trying 267 persons. But it didn't stop with that.

Future Cases Handy
A back log of future cases was laid up by indictment of 873 persons and by investigation of more than 4,000 cases that will result in still further indictments. Only about $250,000,000 of the extra taxes and civil penalties collected came from persons convicted in court.

Many more people came across with much money without prodding. The bureau does not prosecute when it gets a "voluntary" back tax payment before it begins its investigation of the case. More than $500,000 in extra levies were laid against the operator of several concerns engaged in government construction work, along with one five year prison term and a $25,000 fine. The bureau named the operator as Norton Samuel Locke of Dallas, Texas.
