

Army Asks Year's Training For 18-Year-Olds

Two Invasions Of Holy Land Are Reported

JERUSALEM (AP)—A reliable Arab source said troops of an Egyptian armored division crossed Palestine's southern frontier at dawn Tuesday.

The report came on the heels of a Damascus report that a Trans-Jordan Arab Legion had occupied the town of Jericho and was moving into the Dead Valley of Palestine.

This was discounted here since legion security forces are on loan to the British under both the old and new British-Trans-Jordan treaties.

Reports that Haifa is being shelled from Acre, across the bay, were unconfirmed.

An official British Army spokesman in Jerusalem said one company of the Arab Legion "under British Army orders" had entered Jericho on specific duties.

"When their duties are finished," he said, "they will be withdrawn."

A Palestine government spokesman said that "any Trans-Jordan troops now in Palestine are under command of the British general officer commanding and their conduct is not in question. We have not heard of any declaration of war and consider any such declaration as extremely unlikely."

Four Nations Pleased

A Jewish Agency spokesman told newsmen Jews had learned that Monday night the Trans-Jordan Parliament agreed to send troops into Palestine and ordered a general mobilization.

Armies of the four Arab nations which encircle Palestine are reported ready to invade the Holy Land before the week ends.

The reports said the forces of Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Egypt will launch the thrust in defiance of the British mandate, not scheduled to end until May 15, and of the United Nations Security Council, which has ordered a ceasefire in Palestine.

In London, the Foreign Office announced that Britain will resist any Arab "invasions" into Palestine before the British mandate ends.

Two Britons were killed in Jerusalem Tuesday, as tension increased over the threatened invasion.

SE HALE DISCOVERY IS COMPLETED ON THE PUMP

General American Oil Company No. 1 A. F. Byrd, Southeast Hale County wildcat, about three miles northeast of Petersburg, is 920 feet from north and 680 feet from east lines of section 17, block K, TTRR survey, has been officially completed for a 23-hour pumping potential of 118.3 barrels of 40.5 gravity oil, plus 32.2 per cent water.

Gas-oil ratio was 305-1. The pay section between 5,820 feet and the plugged back total depth of 5,902 feet, had been treated with a total of 7,500 gallons of acid.

The production is through perforations in the casing. The pay section is a Pennsylvanian lime, said by most geologists to be the Cisco. Total depth of this new field opener is at 5,745 feet in granite.

Lario Oil & Gas Company has started drilling on its No. 1 Bob Mayo, as a stepout to the east from the No. 1 Byrd. It will be 1,960 feet from west and 680 feet from south lines of section 18, block K, TTRR survey. It had a depth of 19 feet and had set 10 3/4 inch surface casing at that point in cement. It is to drill plug and start making new hole immediately.

Original drilling application on this semi-wildcat was filed with General American Oil Company as the operator. Lario has taken the project over, so far as drilling is concerned.

H. E. Chiles, Jr. is due to spend his No. 1 Flora C. Strickler, another Floyd County stepout from the No. 1 Byrd, discovery.

This project is located 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 19, block K, TTRR survey. It was originally reported as an operation of General American Oil Company.

Drilling application filed by Chiles for this venture reveals that it may be carried to 8,200 feet, which should take it to the granite.

Vandenberg Warns Reds, Calls For Stern Action At Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Vandenberg tossed out a fresh hint to Russia Tuesday that the United States may join Western Europe in a military alliance against Communist aggression.

The Michigan senator—chief Republican exponent of this country's bi-partisan foreign policy—at the same time served this warning on Americans.

"We are suicidal fools if we do not root out and destroy any treason at home which may dream of bringing world revolution to the United States."

About all Vandenberg said, Premier Stalin should understand that "we shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made his pronouncements in a surprise speech Monday night at a dinner given by Michigan chambers of commerce and trade associations for the state's congressional delegation.

He declined afterwards to expand on his remarks.

Reuther Shooting Suspect Is Held

DETROIT (AP)—Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy said Tuesday that a man under arrest by his officers resembles one supposed to have threatened to take a shot at Walter P. Reuther.

Toy did not identify the man. He said he would be viewed by two informants.

The two, also unnamed, told police they overheard a man threaten Reuther last November, shortly after the 40-year-old labor leader gained complete control of the CIO United Auto Workers.

The tip—received from a man brought here from Toledo, Ohio—was the latest and most "startling" in the police manhunt for Reuther's April 20 assailant, Toy said.

Toy identified the police informant only as a minor UAW official.

Compromise UMT Proposal Linked To Air Force Wrangle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military leaders are proposing a full year in the armed forces for 18-year-olds under a "compromise" universal training program.

It was learned Tuesday that this is being suggested to congressional committees which are considering a broad defense program revolving about three points: universal training, temporary revival of the draft, and expansion of the Air Force.

The original "compromise" idea on universal training was that 18-year-olds should have six months of training to be followed by service in the National Guard or some other active, organized civilian reserve.

But some officials contend now that a man with only six months training would be of little value in a military unit and that his minimum time should be at least one year.

The draft and training proposals are tied in closely with the controversy over how large the Air Force should be. Some air men want a 70-group Air Force. Secretary of Defense Forrestal has been battling to hold it to 66 groups.

"Poppycock, Camouflage"

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said Forrestal's 66-group proposal is a "lot of poppycock" and a "camouflage" for universal military training.

Johnson told reporters the 70-group program the House has voted to get underway is the least needed for national security.

The Colorado senator lit into the Forrestal compromise plan at committee on both sides of the Capitol kept at the job of charting military preparedness. Here is the picture:

1. The Senate Armed Services Committee called Secretary of the Army Royal to a closed session for details on a plan to blend the proposed temporary draft and long-range UMT.

2. The House Armed Services Committee called Secretary of the Army Royal to a closed session for details on a plan to blend the proposed temporary draft and long-range UMT.

3. A Senate Appropriations Subcommittee scheduled an afternoon open meeting to hear Secretary for Air Symington and other Air Force officials on the 66 air group plan.

Johnson called the Forrestal proposal "a compromise without substance—a play on words." He said the backers of 66 groups "are trying to get out of having an adequate Air Force," and added:

"What they want is UMT—period. All the other is just a camouflage for it."

Claims Fill Air As Stop-Stassen Signs Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Growing signs of a stop-Stassen movement were countered Tuesday by claims that Harold E. Stassen may grab a share of Washington state's 19 GOP presidential nominating votes.

Stassen spokesmen here said supporters of the former Minnesota governor, by working down into the precincts, have put themselves in position to challenge Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's men for control of the state's May 15 GOP party meeting.

That gathering will name the 19 Washington delegates to the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia this summer.

The story told by Stassen's backers is that his workers showed up in force at precinct meetings and succeeded in naming many delegates of their choosing to several county conventions, including the one in Spokane.

Vandenberg Talk Grows

Dewey backers reported, however, that Stassen is only whistling to keep up his courage in Washington. They said control of Seattle and Tacoma delegations will freeze the Minnesotan out at the state convention.

Talk of Senator Vandenberg of Michigan as a compromise candidate has increased, with old line forces in the party casting about for someone to stop Stassen if he continues his winning ways in the Ohio primary next Tuesday and in the May 21 Oregon balloting.

"From any party or from the Dixie Party?" he was asked.

Plan, Play, Pray Together, Clergyman Tells Lana, Topping

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—It was quite a production. Lana Turner, the bride, was radiant, and nervous. Her white-orchid corsage trembled. She went upstairs and lay down to rest for a half hour after the ceremony Monday.

She spoke her "I wills" at just above a whisper. The movie's blonde sweater girl, 27, was far less poised than in the 11 times she has been married in well-rehearsed movie scenes.

Her dark-haired, millionaire bridegroom, Henry J. (Bob) Topping, 34, heir to a tinplate fortune, said his vows with calm assurance. The black-robed clergyman told them solemnly in the ceremony: "Henry and Lana, let us believe that in the province of God you have at last found each other." He adjured them to "plan together, play together, and most important of all—pray together."

KING BRUCE DIDN'T GIVE UP

King Bruce of Scotland, after many successive defeats, and alone in his cave, greatly discouraged. He watched a spider trying to climb the wall of the cave. The spider had climbed six times, but each time had fallen before reaching the top. The seventh attempt was successful. Bruce took courage from this, went to battle the next day and won.

So, if you are one of those people who have tried, unsuccessfully, to obtain relief in medicine you may need, MERTOX Compound may be the answer.

The great medicine has been endorsed by hundreds of Texas people. Here is what Mrs. J. S. Bell of Dallas wrote us:

"For the past seven years I have been in a weak, rundown condition. I was troubled with gas and bloating to such an extent that the pain and misery seemed unbearable at times. I had very bad dizzy spells, some absolutely blinding me for a spell. I have even fainted out at times after eating certain foods."

"I have had pains and aches all over my body. My bowels were very irregular and caused me no end of misery."

"It just seemed that everything was the matter with me. I have tried dozens of methods of relief in the past seven years, but I honestly never knew what real relief could be until I tried that wonderful medicine, MERTOX Compound. Why, I couldn't eat anything without it hurting my stomach. Now I can eat absolutely anything. I wouldn't walk four blocks without hiring myself terribly. Now I would rather walk than ride. I eat and sleep much better and I have gained 15 pounds in the past three weeks."

The above is just one of the many endorsements we have received for this splendid general tonic.

Buy MERTOX from your druggist at the NEW REDUCED price. Send a post card to The Farnam Co., 4818 Bryan St., Dallas 4, Texas, for our free booklet, "BETTER HEALTH," and PROOF of what MERTOX is doing for sick people.

Inconsistencies

The tentative scheme for carrying out the American proposal for a trusteeship over Palestine aroused no notable enthusiasm. But, unfortunately, it did emphasize the inconsistency of this government's switch in policy.

One of the most interesting points of the tentative plan was the disclosure that the United States favors an international force to keep order in Palestine, under the trusteeship that it now advocates. It seems safe to assume, from the guarded wording of Austin's statement, that the American government would be willing to include its own troops in such a force.

The statement pointedly did not say that this force would be used to enforce trusteeship. Yet, if UN troops were to be used to put down disorder arising from opposition to trusteeship, the difference between enforcing order and enforcing trusteeship would be one of words rather than of actuality.

The UN Trusteeship Council, which Russia is boycotting, would set up the Palestine government. It would be headed by a governor general authorized to call upon "such states as would be specified in the agreement" to help maintain order. Doubtless, the U. S. would be hoping that the Soviet Union was not one of the states to be called upon.

But the Soviet Union is named as a permanent member of the Trusteeship Council by the UN Charter. Its representatives can enter the council's discussion any time it chooses. Furthermore, the use of any international force in Palestine would need the approval of the veto-armed Security Council.

Thus it might work out that American and Russian vetoes would cancel each other, and the UN force would be made up of troops from smaller nations.

But, if such force could be set up to keep peace under the trusteeship, then why not under partition? The Arabs oppose partition. Both Arabs and Jews oppose a trusteeship. What, then, is the advantage of the latter?

The Arabs refuse to consider either an independent Jewish government or further Jewish immigration. The Jews, promised a national homeland by the League of Nations and independence by the United Nations, do not want to become a minority group under an Arab government. There is little hope of voluntary compromise in this situation.

The classic argument against partition is that "Palestine belongs to the Arabs." The Moslems grabbed the country in the thirteenth century, lost it and regained it from the Crusaders, then controlled it as part of the Turkish Empire for 400 years. But there never was an independent Arab Palestine. The country no more "belonged" to the resident Arabs than it did to the Jews, who have lived there since the dawn of recorded history.

Considering all this, the General Assembly may reject the trusteeship proposal at its meeting. It may also ask why, if the U. S. is willing to provide troops to keep order under a trusteeship, it cannot do as much under the partition plan.

Another Campus Casualty

A Montana State College student, married, a father, and a veteran of 36 air combat missions, was killed by a college employe in an incident growing out of a campus society initiation. This is only one of many tragedies connected with collegiate pranks which are part of our academic history. But the circumstances make it particularly regrettable.

We aren't against fun. But it would seem, with a more mature student body in America's colleges, that this would be a good time to curb the senseless, dangerous excesses of hazing and initiation in favor of a little more concentration on the serious business of education in a serious world.

The DOCTOR Says

Balance Must Be Maintained
In Diets To Increase Weight

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
Many abnormally thin people find that it is much easier to know they should gain weight than to accomplish it. There are two ways to gain weight: (1) cut down on the activity output, and (2) increase the food intake. It is usually easier to gain by increasing the intake and at the same time holding exercising down to what it was.

There are several ways of increasing the food intake. One of them is to choose foods with the highest calorie value. Starches or carbohydrates and fats supply more energy and have more effect on weight than proteins do.

When trying to gain weight one should include fatter meat, more butter or margarine, cream, sweets, potatoes, bread and cereals. Balance must be maintained in the diet, however. It is not wise to cut out fruits, vegetables, meat, milk and eggs which supply ingredients necessary to maintain good health.

Another thing which can be done besides choosing the right diet is to eat more at each meal. The amount

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

tion, sinus trouble and allergy.

one eats is largely habit and can be changed. The stomach can be trained to hold more by gradually increasing the amount taken at each meal. One good way to do this is to eat until the appetite is satisfied and then always take a few more mouthfuls.

More food can be taken also just by eating extra meals. A small mid-morning meal, an afternoon or bedtime snack of weight-gaining foods are helpful. A glass of half milk and half cream is a good example of what could be taken.

It cannot be emphasized too often that a balanced diet must be kept up. Almost anyone who does not save some serious disease can gain weight by following the plan of decreasing or at least not increasing activity and increasing the food eaten.

Long Range Housing
Was Like Football

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—After four years of involved political fighting, the Senate got around to okay-ing a long-range housing policy bill. And in so doing it delivered a sound spanking to a freshman senator who got too big for his britches.

The story is a classic example of how some of the most needed and constructive reform measures get kicked around in this town.
It begins back in 1944 when Senator Robert A. Taft took chairmanship of a Senate Postwar Planning subcommittee on housing.

By dint of thorough research,
Taft came up with some really constructive proposals. They were a good idea. The Democrats tried to steal them. Senators Robert F. Wagner of New York and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana rushed to introduce a bill including all of Taft's recommendations. Later the trio got together for joint sponsorship and the bill became known as the Wagner-Ellender-Taft housing bill.

When the GOP got control of Congress after the 1946 elections, it became rightly known as the T-E-W bill. It was passed by the Senate last year but the House did nothing.

The big fight is over public housing—government financing of low-rent housing for families unable to pay for decent shelter. One of the reasons given for House failure to act on the T-E-W bill was that this public housing situation needed investigating some more. House Republican leadership approved this idea.

A Joint Congressional Committee on Housing was therefore set up to investigate during the past Summer.
Taft wasn't on it. Senator Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire was by seniority entitled to head the new group. But by some fast footwork Tobey was frozen out. Congressman Ralph Gamble of New York was elected chairman and Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin vice chairman.

McCarthy, the freshman senator who defeated able young Bob La-Follette in the 1946 election, immediately set out to make a record for himself with an independent course of action. Reports from the Joint Committee on Housing began to flow from various subcommittees and individuals in amazing perplexity and sometimes contradiction.

Vice Chairman McCarthy put out a general report of his own. He also drew up some new legislation of his own. The impression was given that the T-E-W bill was now dead and that the McCarthy bill was the Republicans' approved substitute.

When the full committee met early last month to approve its final report, the McCarthy report and his draft legislation were placed before it. Senator Tobey asked pointedly what this was. McCarthy said it was the T-E-W bill—with amendments.

With some caustic comments that McCarthy had now had enough publicly on this issue, Tobey rejected the whole business. Not even Chairman Gamble would go along with it. McCarthy then tried what was described as a filibuster in committee.

While he was talking, the real report of the committee was brought out and passed around the table.
A majority of the committee members present signed it and then walked out. McCarthy was left high and dry as sole sponsor of his legislation in which he sought to separate the public housing bill from other provisions, presumably so that public housing could be killed off.

At this juncture, Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont stepped into the picture. He drew up a series of amendments intended to bring the original T-E-W bill into line with present conditions and give more aid for the housing shortage.

Senator Taft accepted the Flanders amendments in toto. When the housing legislation came to the Senate floor recently, however, Senator McCarthy insisted that his 15 long amendments to the old original T-E-W bill be considered. So the Senate took them all and approved them all. It looked like a McCarthy victory, but it was hollow and it lasted only over a weekend.

The strategy was to let McCarthy have his day. As Senator Taft explained it, "Since the senator from Wisconsin (McCarthy) will not cooperate by working on the committee bill which I, as author of the original bill have agreed to, I am willing to have him amend the original bill all he wants to. He can have the original bill. He can rewrite the original bill. But then I shall ask the Senate to adopt the substitute bill. Of course, the effect of that will be to wipe out all his amendments."

In the end, Taft gave McCarthy
a couple of minor amendments.

Mayor Says Pike's Remains To Stay In
New York Village

SACKETT HARBOR, N. Y. (AP)—
Mayor Carl Jackson is defying the U. S. Army and the Rev. C.
W. Harrison of Gainesville, Texas.
The mayor's dander was raised by plans to remove the remains of General Zebulon Pike, for whom Pike's Peak was named, for reburial near Colorado Springs, Colo.

Pike was buried in the Military Cemetery here after he was killed in the War of 1812.
But Army cemetery officials said the body would be removed at the request of Harrison, Pike's great-great grandson.

"We have taken a liking to the general, and we're going to keep him here," Jackson said.
"If anybody tries to move General Pike from here, we'll have an armed guard waiting for them. They'll do it over my dead body."

Claims Board Named
In Cattle Poisoning

GALVESTON. (AP)—A three-man board will meet Wednesday at Angleton to discuss plans of hearing claims growing out of the arsenic poisoning of an estimated 400 head of cattle.

The cattle died after drinking from Little Laville Creek in Bra-soria County. Six thousand gallons of an arsenic poison weed killer had been dumped into a canal leading into the creek by mistake.

Fred A. Gurley, president of the

THAT BOY
OF YOURS . . .

When your boy is not a boy, something is wrong, and the case should be looked into.

In running, climbing, and swimming, accidents may happen. A fall from a tree, diving in water too shallow, even running into something or being run into may cause a subluxation in the spine that will pinch nerves, lower resistance, disturb function and cause any number of symptoms not natural to normal health.

When a child becomes irritable or doesn't want to play, when he complains of a headache or a stomach disorder, it is likely that nerve-channels are blocked somewhere in the spine and that the service of a Chiropractor is needed.

Many parents ke their children, even babies, to a Chiropractor for the health problems and wonderful results are obtained, as the following cases show:

Case No. 12,386 — Boy, age 15, complained of his feet hurting so he couldn't do his chores or even play like other boys his age.
Elimination was poor and he had frequent boils. Result: under Chiropractic were good and his mother says she hears no more complaints.

Case No. 10,770—Boy, age 2, had numerous colds and a constant croupy cough. He also had frequent earache. There was a history of several falls which had doubtless caused nerve pressure.

Anyway, the child responded promptly to spinal adjustments and soon all symptoms cleared up.

Case No. 11,875—Boy, age 2, had several hard falls when a baby and the parents noticed he was not developing normally in the use of one leg and arm and that his appetite was poor. They took him to a Chiropractor and shortly marked improvement was noted.

That boy of yours is a great asset, not only to your family but to the nation because he will be a future citizen. Let Chiropractic be sure that he will be at his best.

Longhorn League— Oilers, Sports, Cowboys, Cats Win Contests

Sweetwater was declared winner of a game over Midland 9-4 by umpires, who called the game in the eighth inning. Prior to a hotly disputed eighth inning activity, the Sweetwater team led 5-2.

The Odessa Oilers scored four runs in the seventh and eighth innings to take a 6 to 5 victory over the Big Spring Bronco, ending a short series at 1-1.

The Del Rio Cowboys broke into the Longhorn League win column edging out Vernon 2 to 1 in the tenth inning.

The Ballinger Bearcats overpowered their second straight over the San Angelo Colts 2 to 0.

Citation's Entry In Tuesday Trial Gives Fans 'Derby Fever'

LOUISVILLE —(P)—Preliminary symptoms of the annual "Kentucky Derby fever" broke out Tuesday as Calumet Farm prepared to parade Citation before the home folks for the first time in his young turf career.

The winter book favorite for Saturday's $100,000 mile and a quarter classic at the sensational stables, Calumet, was cautiously entered with three other colts for Tuesday afternoon's Derby trial at Churchill Downs.

However, it was generally conceded that Calumet, in razor sharp trim, would be scratched. Calumet captured the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, Ky., only last Thursday, and is all set for Saturday.

This would leave it up to William L. Brann's Escadr, Howard Wally's Eagle Look, C. A. O'Neill, Jr.'s Galileo, and Citation.

The Midland High Bulldogs were scheduled in a 3-A baseball game at 3:15 p. m. Tuesday in Indian Park against the Sweetwater High Mustangs.

A win for the Bulldogs is a MUST to stay in the league race.

Okloman Has Free Wolf Killing Service

TULSA, OKLA. —(P)—J. D. Bradshaw credits his seven greyhounds with the success of his northeastern Oklahoma "wolf extermination" service. "My hounds," he says, "can snap the life right out of the biggest wolf that roams."

Bradshaw doesn't charge for his service. Neither does he collect the $2.50 bounty the state pays for each wolf bagged. With him, it's a hobby. He began his hunting two years ago after a pack of wolves invaded his farm, mauling two calves and killing several young turkeys.

Bradshaw hunts the wolves in a pickup truck with a hinged tailboard which can be opened in the truck's cab. The dogs ride in the back. "I just drive around a ranch until I spot a wolf," he says. "Then I let the greyhounds out and they pick up the scent and that's all there is to it." He recently accounted for 20 wolves in less than that many trips.

Chemurgic Council To Expand Services

Directors at a meeting here Monday authorized a survey of all chemurgic industries in the state to determine their economic value. They authorized wider distribution of the Texas Chemurgic News, and a financial campaign looking toward addition of a director of field services to the staff.

Victor H. Schoffelmayer of Dallas is president of the council.

UMPS CALL IN EIGHTH— Sports Win On Forfeit

SWEETWATER — Umpires O'Neill and Francis called the Midland-Sweetwater Longhorn League baseball game here Monday night in the eighth inning and declared Sweetwater the winner 9-0, alleging misconduct and abusive language on the part of Harold Webb and his Midland Indians. The score, previous to the dispute in the eighth, was 5-2 Sweetwater.

When the game was called, Sweetwater had the bases loaded, there was one out, and one run had come in.

A dispute arose when the umpires called Cowser safe at third base. Eddie Melillo, Tribe third sacker, had received a ball at the third base post and had then thrown to first for an attempted double play. The ball had been hit to Pitcher Ralph Blair, who threw to third base. The umpire ruled E. Melillo had not touched third before throwing to first.

Of course Midland claimed E. Melillo did touch the sack and the storm broke. Webb, defending his players, took up to the umpires in no uncertain terms.

It is a Longhorn League rule that umpires may call a game and declare a winner by forfeit.

The box score (until the game was called):

MIDLAND	AB	R	H	O	A
H. Melillo, ss	4	0	0	1	2
R. Collins, 2b	4	0	0	0	1
Jakes, lf	4	1	1	5	0

Nipp, rf	3	1	1	0	0
E. Melillo, 3b	3	0	1	1	1
Haggard, cf	3	0	0	0	1
Specht, c	3	0	0	1	1
Blair, p	3	0	0	1	3
Totals	29	2	4	22	8

SWEETWATER	AB	R	H	O	A
Berringer, ss	4	0	1	1	0
Ingram, 3b	4	0	0	0	1
Steger, cf	3	0	2	3	0
K. Peacock, 2b	3	1	1	2	4
Cowser, lf	3	1	2	0	0
Dunlap, rf	1	0	0	0	0
Jackson, 1b	4	1	1	9	1
E. Peacock, c	3	1	0	8	0
Gann, p	3	0	1	1	1
Totals	28	5	7	24	7

Each team in the Longhorn League is allowed 16 men on its playing roster. These 16 are broken down into three categories: 8 rookies, 5 limited service, 3 class.

A rookie is a player who has not spent more than 45 days under professional contract.

A limited service player is one who has spent 45 days under professional contract and less than three seasons under contract.

A class player is one who has spent three seasons or more under contract.

This 8-5-3 was set by the league. Eight rookies are a must on the roster, regardless of how many play. The 5-3 ratio on limited service and class players can be elastic, one limited service, seven class; seven limited service, one class; etc. Just so you don't go over the whole ratio.

Now let's see how Webb's Indians stack: Rip Collins, second base, and Jim Prince, first base, are class men. So is Webb himself if he is going to play. Henry Melillo, and Eddie are class men of the infield as are Harold Jakes and Carlisle Nipp of the outfield. Ralph Blair and Weidon Stewart are limited service pitchers.

Rookies are Clarence Haggard, center field; Dick Willenburg, pitcher; Willie Wynn, infielder; Levi Clay, pitcher; Levy Connell, pitcher; Jerry Straus, pitcher; Bill Gillan, outfielder-infielder (utility); Les Jones, catcher, and Wayne Specht, catcher.

Something has to give. Somebody must go. It's Webb's problem. One thing we'd like to see would be a class pitcher.

How would you juggle it?

—SL—

Harvel Jakes, hard-hitting left-fielder of the Midland Indians, was a bargain even at the high price paid for the former Odessa Oiler. Jakes has been fielding like a hawk and he is hitting at a .429 clip (21 times at bat, 9 hits). Has slugged out five doubles and two home runs in five games.

—SL—

ROUNDIN' UP THE STRAYS—You can't always judge the length of a game by the score—The Dallas Rebels and the Fort Worth Cats consumed six minutes more playing time in a 1-0 game than Dallas and Tulsa did in a 31-1 contest—None of the Big Berthas of professional golf will be missing when the play-for-pay gets together in St. Louis next month for their own private feud—The PGA championship—What, no green? The Chicago Colleen, a new club in the All-American Girls Baseball League, looks nifty in all-white uniforms—Indications are that only seven colts will start in the Kentucky Derby Saturday, bearing out a theory that one standout racer will scare off a lot of possible contenders—Yale looks good to furnish the United States entry in the Olympic eight-oared rowing race—The Reporter-Telegram has a big company pride in James Beggs, linotype operator, who won the singles event of the recent city bowling tourney—Points—Ty Cobb, the baseball great, says the hardest pitcher he ever faced was "Father Time"—30 for strays, eatin' son-of-a-gun.

Texas League— Missions Share Top Perch With Exporters, Cats

By The Associated Press
San Antonio, Beaumont and Fort Worth can start from scratch in the Texas League race Tuesday; they're all on top.

Fort Worth and Beaumont moved into a tie for the lead with victories over San Antonio and Oklahoma City Monday night. The Cats won 8-2 as Bob Austin notched his third win of the year, and Beaumont won 4-1 on the five-hit pitching of Bob Alexander.

Dallas, which could have taken over the lead, lost a 3-2 game to Houston and also centerfielder Joe Smaza, who injured a leg sliding into third base.

In the other game Monday night, Shreveport walloped Tulsa 10-1. The same teams meet each other again Tuesday night at the same sites.

Wife Makes Up Mind For Dallying Spouse

DETROIT —(P)—Mrs. Harold A. Howe had a divorce Tuesday from her indecisive husband.

She told Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan her husband pulled out a deck of cards in a lawyer's office to help him decide between his wife and a girl friend.

"For two hours he tried to get up nerve enough to flip a card to determine which of us he wanted," she said. "He never did decide."

This biggest market basket for us is important news for you...

Our 1948 market basket is the biggest one we ever had. It's filled with things telephone customers—present and future—need—the new equipment that will put telephones in homes waiting for them; the added facilities that will help make all telephone service better.

To get this equipment and put it to work, we must spend one hundred and fifty millions of dollars this year alone.

What will $150 million buy? A host of skilled man-hours. A million miles of wire in cable, and more than a hundred thousand poles. Enough new switchboard to make space for 1,000 more telephone operators. In dial exchanges, another 200,000 lines, each able to serve up to four customers. New buildings—more than $11 million worth—to shelter new equipment. About 190,000 more miles of long distance circuits. Even small items bulk up—it takes only a drop of solder to secure a connection but we'll use 125 tons of it this year.

Other dollars will go to buy trucks, tools, land for buildings and pole lines, telephone instruments, and hundreds more things.

So this biggest market basket for us is important news for you. It means more and better telephone service in the making. We're pushing along with the job, for we're as anxious as you are to see it finished.

THE MAJOR LEAGUES—

Giants Uncover Pitching Power

By JOE REICHLER
It may be only a flash in the pan, but the New York Giants appear to have finally found that missing link—strong pitching—which, added to their terrific batting power, can make them the most feared outfit in baseball. Combining the two Monday, the Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phils 5-1 for their fifth straight. They now enjoy a game and a half first-place lead in the National League pennant race.

The surprising part of the Giants' surge, naturally, has been their airtight pitching. And to make it all the more confusing, it has come from the most unexpected sources. Take Monday's masterful hurling by southpaw Dave Kooso. Manager Mel Ott had no assurance that Kooso would go the route, let alone pitch a seven-hitter and a near-shut-out. Not to be outdone by Kooso, the Giants power hitters slammed starter Schoolboy Rowe and his two successors for eight hits, five of which went for extra bases. Sid Gordon cracked a home run, the club's tenth in eight games.

Eddie Stanky, in his first crack against his former Dodger teammates, slammed a triple and single and drew a walk in four times at bat to lead the Braves to a 5-0 victory over the Dodgers in Boston. He also handled eight chances in the field in flawless fashion. Indians Still Hot
The Cleveland Indians outlasted the Chicago White Sox 12-11 in a 14-inning affair lasting four hours and 20 minutes. A home run by Eddie Robinson, his second of the game and third of the year, decided the contest. Manager Lou Boudreau chipped in with five hits, including two doubles and two triples, and drove in four runs.

In all, seven home runs, three triples, four doubles and 23 singles were hit for 68 total bases off 11 pitches, seven for Cleveland and four for Chicago. Bobby Feller was called upon to retire the last three White Sox batters in the fourth. Fred Sanford outpitched Dizy Trout to give the Browns a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers in St. Louis. In the only other scheduled contest, the Boston Red Sox won the first night game of the season, defeating the Senators 6-0 in Washington. Lefty Mel Parnell limited the Senators to five hits while Boston collected 10, including three singles and a double by Ted Williams, defeating batting champion who had a perfect night.

Two million students were enrolled in evening and adult classes operated in 1940 as part of the U. S. public school system.

WT-NM League—
Lamesa Makes It Three Straight

By The Associated Press
Lamesa goes after its fourth straight win Tuesday night, on top of the West Texas-New Mexico League standings and in a good position to stay there. The Lobos hung a 16-14 licking on Clovis Monday night, using three pitchers to four for the Pioneers. John Botterill connected for a three-run homer for Clovis in the seventh and Tony Fiorito and Bob Murphy hit for the circuit for Lamesa in the fourth.

In other games, Abilene outlasted Borger 16-12. Borger scored nine runs in the third inning, but could not match the Blue Sox's power in the latter innings. Albuquerque bumped Lubbock 14-10, and Amarillo scored four times in the ninth in a 6-1 decision over Pampa.

The purple finch is not at all purple. The male is of an old-rose color and the female has the general sparrow-like appearance.

Fort Worth Catcher Is Fined, Suspended

DALLAS —(AP)— Maurice D. Atwell, Jr., catcher for the Fort Worth Cats of the Texas League, is under indefinite suspension and must pay $100 fine for his part in a squabble with an umpire during the Fort Worth-Tulsa game last Saturday night. League President J. Alvin Gardner announced the penalties Monday and at the same time fined Manager Lester Burge of the Cats $50 for "failure to control his players."

The custom of wearing "mourning" rings, particularly in memory of dead sovereigns, reached high popularity in the fourteenth century.

World War II Vets Get Bigger Bonus Outlay

World War II's veteran bonuses already overshadow those of World War I. This is illustrated by the fact that nine states have authorized a total of $1,877,000,000 payable for service in the armed forces. Less than one-fourth of that amount, $385,000,000, was paid in bonuses by a total of 20 states after World War I, according to Veterans Administration. Highest bonus, a maximum of $900, is paid in Illinois. Map above shows status of veteran bonus legislation by state to date. Bonuses are also payable to veterans in Alaska and Hawaii.

U. S. Follows Groom-To-Be As Diamond Buyer

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The dry ice business—the sale of diamonds for the glitter trade or industrial use—is getting more of an American accent. And Uncle Sam is buying heavily.

Before the war 74 per cent of the world's diamonds were marketed in the United States.

"Now it's about 85 per cent," said Joseph Baumgold, secretary of the world's largest diamond cutting firm. "And business is up 35 per cent over last year."

The number one customer is the man who wants to plunk down $200 to $600 for a ring as a gift to his wife-to-be or an anniversary present for his wife.

That will get him a stone of from one-fifth to one-half a karat—depending on its quality—or a ring made of "melee"—diamond fragments smaller than one-fifth of a karat.

Mass Business
 Diamonds are a mass rather than a class business. Only fifteen per cent of it is on the luxury level—over $500 a stone.

Biggest buyer today after the prospective bridegroom is—Uncle Sam.

"The government is stockpiling diamonds again," said Baumgold. "They are a strategic mineral."

He wouldn't go into any detail. The two things diamond dealers dislike discussing most are the extent of government purchases and those by moneyed men who buy diamonds for women they aren't married to and don't intend to marry. Smart buyers tend to get diamonds for their wives at one store and those destined for other ladies at another shop. It cuts down embarrassing errors—the kind a man does not like to make.

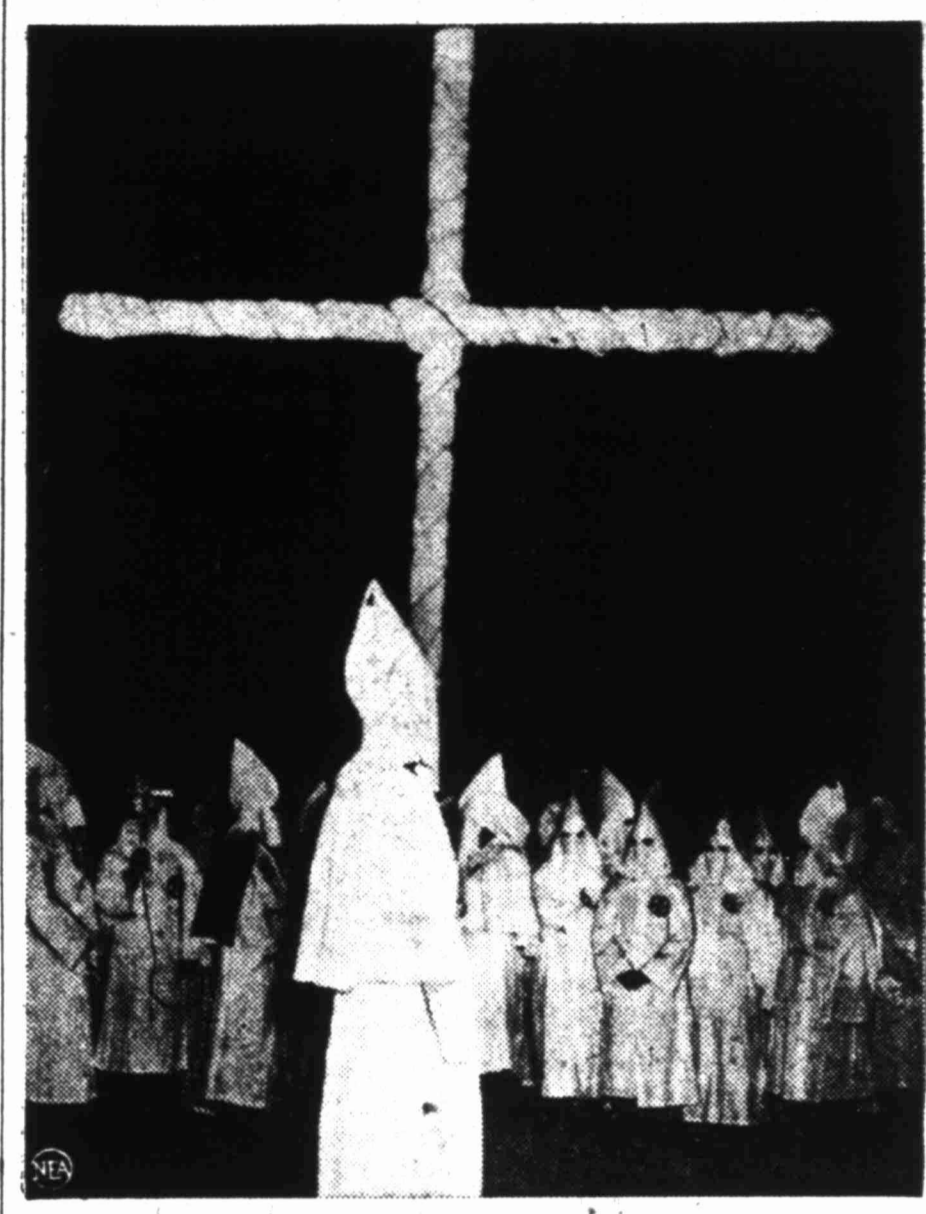

Off Matrimonial Market
 Two customs the dealers are trying to encourage: The buying of "melee" diamonds for women's wedding rings and the practice some have developed of giving their husbands gold wedding bands containing one to three diamonds.

"They figure it's worth the money to them if he wears the ring that was once the man's," said one dealer cheerfully.

War has changed the diamond market in several ways. Few people know or remember that the diamond is the hardest thing on earth—harder than a banker's heart in a depression. Industry has found nothing to take its place to cut and grind metals.

"Before the war 95 per cent of the diamonds here went into the jewelry trade," said Baumgold. "Only five per cent were used industrially. Now it's about 25 per cent."

Fiery Crosses Burn In KKK Rebirth; South Throws Water On Klan Flame

Hooded Klansmen who gathered around this cross at Swainsboro, Ga., in their first demonstration of 1948 call themselves the Georgia Association of Klans. They claim they have no connection with the old KKK, but the regalia and the ceremony are the same.

By HENRY LESENE
ATLANTA, GA. (AP)—Fiery crosses are flaring up again in Georgia, birthplace of the Ku Klux Klan, but the South's political experts say the KKK's old fire is gone. This time nobody concedes the hooded order much of a chance to regain its power, politically or otherwise.

For one thing, Georgia's Governor M. E. Thompson has promised legislative measures to curb the activities of the Klan, which he brands as a traitor to the South. For another, the postwar South is not the South of the 1920's when the Klan reached its heyday.

Virtually disbanded as a national order about 1940, the Klan showed a brief postwar revival when the CIO and the AFL were beginning to organize both whites and negroes, and when negroes were beginning to vote in the South for the first time.

Then, under pressure of a court fight by Governor Ellis Arnall, Thompson's predecessor, the Klan surrendered its charter a year ago. A new "hate" order, the Columbians, which sprang up when the Klan died down, was quickly squelched. Until last month, it began to look as if the KKK had collapsed for good.

Its latest "rebirth" comes in the midst of the South's threatened revolt over the civil rights proposals of President Truman. It and the Klan type of mind been revealed so dramatically as anti-Southern and as actually giving aid to the Communists, race baiters and radical organizations which are pushing legislation we declare unwise and unnecessary.

"While our Senators and Congressmen in Washington tell the world we have enough laws and we will enforce them without federal coercion, the Ku Klux Klan by such meetings . . . cuts the ground from beneath their feet. The Klan, and others who use their methods, practically nullify the work of decent people in the South."

U. S. Army Wants Slim Men With Hair

WASHINGTON—Complete baldness, bad breath and unusual fatness were among little-known cases of disqualification for U. S. military service during the war, Dr. Louis Carp, describing his experiences at New York's Grand Central Palace induction of upsetting morale or exposing the men to ridicule.

"Unshapely, very obese men with unusual fat distribution," he writes in the magazine Military Surgeon, "were not only bad potential risks, but they might come in for some chronic ribbing . . . Total (baldness) was not only unsteady but it could easily make a man the butt of a company."

Tattooed men were okay, and Carp said the percentage of tattooed soldiers "was considerably higher than is generally believed."

Carp tells of one chap who had a black cat and the number 13 tattooed on his arm. "It had always been lucky for him," related the doc. "His most recent lucky episode occurred on Friday, April 13, 1945, when he was among a group of 13 doughboys who escaped from a German prison camp."

Air Force Asks For Seven Surplus Bases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has asked the War Assets Administration to withdraw Camp Maxey, near Paris, Texas, and Shepard Air Force Base at Wichita Falls, Texas, and five other former Army bases from surplus status.

"We asked that the seven be recalled from surplus and we will use them in event of an expanded defense program," an Air Force headquarters office said.

The other five bases are Camp Crowder, Mo.; Camp Gruber, Okla.; Camp Mackall, N. C.; Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base, Goldsboro, N. C.; and Luke Air Force Base near Phoenix, Ariz.

McNeal Paint And Supply Company To Have Formal Opening Wednesday

McNeal Paint and Supply Company is the name of a new Midland store which formally opens Wednesday at 509 South Loraine Street.

Though the store is new, the owner is well-known, not only in Midland, but throughout the state, for C. J. McNeal has been in the paint business 28 years, and long has specialized in heavy oilfield paint contracts throughout the state.

The new store will be headquarters in this area for paints and painters' supplies, wholesale and retail. Among products to be sold are Dupont, A. C. Horn, and Gulf States paints, quality varnishing finishes, auto finishes, and special paints for rough or industrial jobs.

Automotive Paint
 Spray King automotive paint will be featured as one of the best car finishes available on any market. All colors are stocked.

Duco "one-coat-magic" paint will be featured and small cans of this easy-to-apply paint will be distributed free to visitors on opening day.

A complete line of painters' supplies will be sold at the new store. Spraying equipment, including air compressors, Whiting and Adams and Elder and Jenks brushes, two of the oldest and most popular brands in the nation; and other painters' needs will be available here.

Salesmen from the store will travel through a wide territory, and the new store will be a wholesale supply source such as this section has not had in the past.

Analyze Paint Problems
 Expert advice on painting problems will be available to customers of McNeal Paint and Supply Company. In addition to the owner, Harold Hensley, his assistant, is a trained expert on paints. Moreover, the firm has made arrangements whereby chemists from the factories where its products are made will come to this section to analyze any special paint problem.

An important sideline to the paint business of this firm will be distribution of water softeners custom made for Midland water.

And as an extra service to customers, the firm will provide technical assistance on modern color tones which are being used in practically all new buildings to increase comfort and efficiency.

McNeal Paint and Supply Company's new home is an important addition to Midland's business development; and it is important to residents of this entire section of the state, because it is a nearby wholesale source of many items which heretofore had to be ordered from distant points.

Battle Of Fats Decision May Favor Margarine

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The battle of the fats—butter and margarine—is coming to a head.

Butter is made of animal fats—cream from cows.

Margarine is made of vegetable fats—oil from soy beans, cottonseed, peanuts.

For years the dairy farmers and the butter-makers have had an advantage over the margarine makers and the growers of vegetable fats.

How? By blocking any attempt in Congress to knock off the special federal taxes and fees for making or selling margarine.

Above all they've fought against letting margarine be sold in yellow color—like butter—without some special tax or label.

Witnesses Favored Margarine
 About 18 bills were introduced in the House this year to wipe out the margarine fees or taxes.

In March the House Agriculture Committee for days held hearings on these bills, listening to a stream of witnesses.

Most of the witnesses were on the side of margarine. They included spokesmen for retail grocers, educators, hospitals, a veterans group, labor organizations, college women and consumers.

But when the hearings were all over, the members of the committee voted—16 to 10—to sit on the bill. Which meant the full House would not get a chance to vote on that.

Then some margarine-minded Congressmen got up a petition in the House to drag the bills away from the committee.

Sure To Pass
 So Monday the full House voted—235 to 121—to force at least one of the bills out of the committee to the floor where the whole House could debate and vote on it.

This bill would wipe out all federal taxes and fees on margarine.

After a couple of days of argument the House will vote. This is expected Wednesday. The House is almost sure to pass it.

Will Rogers Fund Aids Handicapped Students

NORMAN, OKLA. (AP)—Since 1939, when a $150,000 scholarship fund was established from a bequest by the late Will Rogers, 156 physically handicapped students at the University of Oklahoma have received financial assistance.

Successful scholarship applicants—including the blind, crippled and deaf; those suffering from heart ailments and arrested tuberculosis—receive monthly stipends ranging from $30 to $50. The amount is determined by the difference between the student's needs and resources.

Grants to students may be made as advances, loans or gifts. Most of them are approved under the third classification. The maximum amount given thus far under a regular scholarship was $1,545 during a four-year period. The lowest was $38.

The funds provide an annual income of $400. Only the interest is expendable. The State Vocational Rehabilitation Division matches the Will Rogers scholarships, and usually supplies such aids as crutches, wheel chairs and glasses.

The program also is in operation in Texas and California, where the state universities aid handicapped students through Will Rogers funds.

TOO MUCH SOLITUDE
SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA (AP)—An abandoned hut in western New South Wales carried this unusual notice on its door for some years: "Twenty miles from a neighbor, 40 miles from a post office, 50 miles from a railway, 50 miles from a pub, 10 miles from wood and water, 100 miles from a city. Whoever finds this farm can have it. We hope they will settle down and help pioneer the west. We would do it ourselves only the misus wants to see life. She has left for the city. So have I."

RESPECT
Cadillac
 The extraordinary respect in which Cadillac is held, is due in great measure, to the respect in which its owners are held. Relatively few people have had the opportunity to know Cadillac at first-hand—but the men and women who own and drive these wonderful cars are known throughout the world. It is but logical to deduce that a car which has won the favor of the world's foremost personalities is the world's foremost car.

Internationalized Jerusalem Will Isolate Its Jews

Whatever happens to Palestine as a whole, Jerusalem is expected to be internationalized under a statute drawn by the UN Trusteeship Council. This provides that Jerusalem proper and suburban settlements be administered by a governor appointed by the Trusteeship Council, a Council of Administration and an elected Legislative Council and a Judiciary. White area with dot-dash border on map at left shows proposed boundaries of Jerusalem under the UN statute. It would be an inland "island" completely surrounded by Arab territory and would be dependent on the outside for water, food, fuel, electricity and communications. Jews' two "lifelines," highway and railroad to Tel Aviv on the coast, run through Arab territory. Palestine map at right shows isolation of Jerusalem from Jewish areas.

Navy Pilot And Gunner, Wartime Pals, Make Last Flight—In Death

By HARRY J. LAMBETH
HONOLULU (NEA)—A Navy dive-bomber pilot and his radio-mat-gunner, who were an inseparable team in 33 combat missions against the Japs, have finally flown their 39th mission together—their last.
This time they were passengers. A pudgy torpedo bomber roared down the runway at Barber's Point Naval Air Station to carry the ashes of Lt. Harwood S. Sharp and Aviation Radioman First Class James R. Langiotti, who met their death by a Jap samurai sword more than two years ago.

Russians Rebuild Nazi Naval Yards

BERLIN (NEA)—The Russians are reconstructing the former German naval yards of Wilhelmshaven as a key base on the White Sea in their development of Arctic ocean routes, according to the best information available here. Reliable informants say the site selected is Molotovsk—sea. Archangel.

Continuously from training days through combat missions against the Falasus, Woleas, Hollandia, Truk, Saipan, Guam, Iwo Jima, Formosa.
On Mission 39, the plane scratched for altitude. Five miles off Hawaii's famous Diamond Head crater, it banked sharply. The ashes of the two young men, brought back from a Jap prison camp, were scattered high over the Pacific. Sharp and Langiotti had been lucky in the air battle for Guam—the Marianas "turkey shoot" in which the Japs lost 402 planes. They helped sink a Jap carrier but were attacked by enemy fighters and forced to make a night landing at sea. A destroyer picked them up and brought them back to the Bunker Hill, their carrier base. But a few months later there was no friendly destroyer.

The One in the Middle's an Alien

Mrs. Julia C. Bonati, 38, leaves Ellis Island, New York immigration center, after immigration officials released her. She had been detained because her six-month-old baby, Richard, is regarded as an alien under a recently changed immigration ruling. Mrs. Bonati, a native of Rochester, N. Y., and wife of an Italian, had been living in Italy for 18 years. Older son Frank, 12, left, is a citizen under the old ruling. Richard was paroled pending further investigation.

Good For You And Your Dog

AUSTIN (AP)—Bottled medicine of 50 to 75 years ago apparently was good for man or beast. The label on an ancient bottle displayed in a University of Texas Pharmacy College exhibit claims these virtues:
"Valuable stimulating oil for rheumatism, neuralgia, bruises, cuts, sores, sore throat, stiff neck or chronic pain in any part of the body, and excellent for all kinds of stock in the cure of lameness, ringbone, sore back, sprains, spavin, windgalls, etc."

Gas Nearly Burst Ribs

"My stomach bloated up so bad with gas I thought my ribs would burst," said a lady recently. "My whole abdomen was horribly sore from gas pressure. Now, INNER-AID has relieved me. The gas pressure is GONE. This medicine certainly does everything claimed for it."

INNER-AID is the new, scientific formula containing 12 of Nature's Herbs. So it is like several medicines in one; it accomplishes several things at the same time, that is, it acts on bowels as a laxative and helps cleanse out old, foul substance that often causes headaches, dizzy spells, and worn-out feeling. It brings forth gas and bloot from stomach and relieves gas pains and swelling. Miserable people daily write us they get such a cleansing and invigorating from INNER-AID they soon feel like different men and women. So get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores. —(Adv.)

FISHERMAN SMELLS OUT COMPETITION AT LAKE SOUTH BEND, IND.—(AP)—Fishesman Michael Infalt has a favorite fishing hole in a Michigan lake and he doesn't like too much company when he is working it. Infalt has no monopoly on the hole but he has a system that serves the same purpose.
He goes to his favorite spot about dawn and usually finds a flotilla of other boats anchored at the hole. Then he sets up a gasoline burner on the boat seat and fries bacon and eggs. Other fishermen inhale the aroma, get so hungry they can't stand it, and paddle back to shore for breakfast.

THEY sped swiftly through the streets, empty today save for the sparse Sunday traffic. Charlotte sat beside Roger, Patience behind them. The two in front spoke very little. Patience wondered uneasily what was wrong with them. They didn't seem to be getting along very well. Last night too she'd noticed that Charlotte had been singularly irritable. Was it that they were growing tired of each other? That each had found someone else?

They turned in at the wide gates of the airport and Patience saw the plane waiting on the tarmac. As she followed Charlotte aboard she knew a moment's wild panic. "Scared?" asked Roger.

"A little."

"For heaven's sake, Patience, don't get nerves," said Charlotte sharply.

Patience pulled herself together. She settled down in her seat. The steward put the strap around her.

"What's this for?" she asked anxiously.

The man smiled at her.

"Only just for taking off and landing, miss."

Patience gave a little shudder. "I don't think I'm going to like it."

But she found she was wrong. In a very few minutes, once they were airborne, her initial nervousness vanished. She sat forward eagerly, looking out of the window, at the country spread below her like a variegated carpet.

"You'd soon get used to flying if you were in the States," said Charlotte. "One just goes by plane as a matter of course over there. It's so much quicker. Remember that first trip, Roger, down to Washington?"

Roger chuckled.

"I do. And that party we went to when we got there."

THEY were sitting next to each other. Their heads moved nearer together. Patience caught an odd sentence now and then. They seemed to be getting on better together.

Patience told herself she was glad. Only—no, of course she didn't feel a pang! Why should she?

"There's the sea, Patience," Charlotte was smiling at her warmly, quite her gay self again. "Oh Charlotte, it's so thrilling. And now they were crossing the coast. She could see the white surf of the waves breaking against the sands. France!

At last they were circling Le Bourget. A few moments more and they were taxiing along the ground.

Patience stepped out onto foreign soil and looked eagerly around her.

"I feel there should be a band playing the Marseillaise," said Roger.

"There is, I can hear it," Patience insisted.

They went through customs quickly and then took a cab straight to the Royale.

The hotel took Patience's breath away. She followed Charlotte across the richly-carpeted foyer to the reception desk, trying to look as if traveling abroad was something quite usual for her.

It was the first time she'd signed a hotel register. She thought for a breathless moment: "If Aunt Helen could only see me!" The man handed her her key.

"Numero quarante-sept, Mademoiselle."

"Thank you."

"We'll wash and re-do our faces and then see Paris," said Charlotte as they went towards the lift.

Patience's room was next to Charlotte's. It had a bathroom leading off it. She stood at the long window overlooking the busy street and marveled that she should be there at all.

She heard Charlotte moving about next door and quickly unpacked her suitcase. Once ready she went in to collect her, only to find her still at her dressing-table.

"Darling, do be quick. I'm longing to go out and see everything," she said impatiently.

"Go along down, I won't be a moment."

Roger was waiting in the lounge for them.

"Charlotte's just coming," said Patience.

"The hours I've waited for Charlotte!"

"She won't be a minute."

She was 15. By the time she arrived they'd planned the remainder of the day. Subject, of course, to her approval. Champagne cocktails right now at the Cafe de la Paix. Lunch in the Bois de Boulogne. A run out to Versailles where they'd have tea. Back again to change for dinner.

"With a quickie at the Dome beforehand," put in Roger.

It all went according to plan. And for Patience it was sheer enchantment.

They were at the Dome and saying it was time they went back to change for the evening when suddenly Patience saw Charlotte raise her hand in greeting. She looked round to see Dwight Breeden coming towards them.

"Hello," he said, smiling down at Charlotte.

"Hello, Dwight."

Roger looked at him.

"What are you doing over here?" he asked, none too enthusiastically.

"I'm just over on business. I'm going back tomorrow."

"So are we," said Charlotte.

"Where are you staying?"

"At the Royale."

"We're there, too," said Patience, and wondered if Dwight knew this already.

Charlotte hadn't really seemed so very surprised to see him. Was it possible that she had been expecting him? That it had been arranged between them beforehand?

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

When I retired as executive secretary of the American Contract Bridge League on the first of the year after 20 years of service, Curt H. Reisinger of New York, an old friend, was elected secretary. Reisinger was treasurer of War Orphans Scholarships, Inc., and vice president of Children's Cancer Fund, Inc.

The Curt H. Reisinger Trophy for the Eastern States open team-of-four regional championship is one of the oldest contract bridge trophies in play. Today's hand came up during that event this year.

The bidding shown is the way it occurred at a table I kibitzed. Some employed Blackwood, and most pairs arrived at six spades. In practically every case the diamond King was opened. With the ace of clubs opening declarer would have no problem, but with the diamond opening there was a question as to proper play.

Should declarer win the first diamond with the ace, or should it be trumped in dummy?

It was generally agreed that the king of diamonds should be trumped in dummy with the deuce of spades, and the next play should be the deuce of clubs, trumping in the West hand with the three of spades. Then a small

Music Teacher Says Mass Lessons Better LEWISTOWN, MONT. (AP)—A young fellow from Northwestern university says his mass production instrumental music teaching here is more effective than individual lessons.

Robert Beers believes his supervisory practice clinic at Lincoln Grade School teaches youngsters to play instruments three-times faster than private lessons. Above the din of some 40 violins and nearly as many horns, Beers says "it's time music was taken out of the home and placed on a level with school studies."

Atom Age Revives Aerial Refueling As Vital Weapon

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—An old aviation stunt revived by the atomic age is providing the United States with one of its most vital weapons.

Mid-air refueling of airplanes was one of the big flying wonders of 1929. In that year, Gen. Carl Spaatz, recently retired Air Force chief, kept the famous "Question Mark" plane aloft seven days by refueling in flight to set a new endurance record.

The stunt became a practical necessity for military use with the development of the atomic bomb. During World War II, when a mass bomber raid was the prime operation of the Air Force, it wasn't possible to refuel thousands of bombers in the air to give them added range. But the A-bomb gave a single bomber the equivalent striking force of many bombers carrying conventional bombs.

New techniques developed by the Air Force to extend the range of bombers by aerial refueling are a secret. An increase of from 40 to 75 per cent in the range of the B-29, depending on the stage of flight at which refueling takes place, has been revealed, however.

British Method
Although the U. S. is keeping mum about the details of its flight refueling methods and equipment, the British have developed the idea very satisfactorily for their overseas airlines as well as for their bombers. The British method is supposed to be very similar to that used by the Air Force. It is claimed to be satisfactory in all kinds of weather.

The bomber which is to receive the gas unreels a line with a weight and hook on the end. The line forms an arc behind the plane. The tanker plane moves to within one hundred or so feet of the trailing arc and shoots out a line. It also has a hook on the end, which crosses the bomber's trailing line in such a fashion that the two hooks become fastened. The British claim this part of the procedure is relatively simple and seldom misses.

Fastens Hose
The tanker plane then fastens a hose to the bomber's line and the bomber reels back the line and the hose. The hose automatically fastens into the bomber's tank. The first substance which passes through the hose is an inert gas which is supposed to make the whole operation fireproof. The tanker plane then climbs above the bomber and gravity lets the gasoline flow from tanker to bomber.

When the bomber's tanks are full, the pilot signals the tanker plane to pull away. The connection between the planes is severed at a weak link in the line, which the bomber unreels as the tanker leaves.

The Manx Church, on the British Isle of Man, recently celebrated what it called its 1,500th anniversary.
