THREE STEPOUTS STAKED TO NE LEA DEEP DISCOVERY

Locations for three new stepouts from the recent deep discovery in Northeast Lea County, New Mexico, at Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Sawyer, have been reported for immediate activity.

Two of the ventures are to be drilled by Mid-Continent and the third is a project of Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Mid-Continent No. 1-B U. D. Sawyer will be 1,900 feet from east and 600 feet from north lines of the north half of section 34-29-36. That makes it a one-quarter offset to the discovery.

Mid-Continent No. 1 Dessie Sawyer will be 1,900 feet from west and 600 feet from south lines of the southwest quarter of section 27-29-36. It is one-quarter of a mile west flanker to the new producer.

Magnolia No. 1-B Santa Fe Pacific will be 600 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 26-29-36. That makes it three-quarters of a mile northeast of the Mid-Continent No. 1-A Sawyer.

Each of the new explorations are projected to at least 12,500 feet, to test into the pay section of the Mid-Continent No. 1-A Sawyer. That well flowed 996 barrels of 42.6 gravity oil in six and one-half hours through a one-quarter inch choke, from perforated section at 12,115-215 feet, which had been washed with 1,000 gallons of mud acid.

Most geologists think the zone making the oil is the Devonian. However, some of the scientists are still of the opinion that it might be Ellenburger.

The No. 1-A Sawyer made a two-hour flow Saturday of last week. In the first hour, flowing through a three-quarter inch choke it produced 170 barrels of oil. In the second hour it flowed through a one-half inch choke and made 110 barrels of oil.

Another two-hour test was run Monday. In the first hour, flowing through a three-quarter inch tubing choke, it produced 150 barrels of oil, with a shut-in of one per cent drilling mud.

In the second hour, through a 32-64th inch choke, the oil yield was 130 barrels, with a cut of four-tenths of one per cent mud.

Operator representatives say the mud coming from the space between the tubing and the casing, and not from the pay section.

The rig is being moved off and the well will be put on regular production. It is 660 feet from south and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 27-29-36, and six miles east of Crossroads. The new discovery is 17 miles north of Tatum, and 12 miles southwest of Bledsoe, in Southwest Cochran County, Texas.

Skelly Oil Company staked the first stepout to the new producer. It is that concern's No. 1 U. D. Sawyer, and is at the center of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 27-29-36, and one mile southwest of the discovery. It is to start drilling immediately.

SE EDWARDS VENTURE HAD NO SHOWS IN ELLENBURGER

Hunt Oil Company, et al., No. 1 Allison, Southeast Edwards County wildcat, 18 miles southeast of Rock spring, and in southeast corner of section 1, block OA-6, GC&SF survey, ran a one-hour drillstem test at 5,441-5,233 feet.

There was a air blow of air for 40 minutes and it then died. Recovery was 65 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The project is making more hole below 5,600 feet in lime and shale.

Operator made a tentative call on the top of Ellenburger at 5,425 feet. No signs of petroleum have been developed since that formation was entered.

MID-CO TO DIG FULLERTON TEST TO W-HITA-ALBANY

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 9-9 University is to be an 8,000-foot wildcat to try to develop production from the Wichita-Albany section of the lower Permian in the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews, 15 miles northwest of the town of Andrews.

It will be 600 feet from north and 810 feet from west lines of the south half of section 19, block 13, University survey.

That makes it a twin well to a producer from the Devonian, from pay bottomed at approximately 8,500 feet. Drilling will start at once. There are no wells in the vicinity which are now making oil from the Wichita-Albany.

WPOC-CSOC SPOT WILDCAT TO 3,300 FEET IN N-C CROCKETT

Sinclair Prairie Oil Company and Cities Service Oil Company have made location for their No. 1-76 University, to be a 3,300-foot wildcat in North-Central Crockett County, three and one-half miles northwest of the World field, and 15 miles southwest of Big Lake.

It will be 600 feet from south and 1,900 feet from west lines of the north half of section 27, block 13, University survey.

Marshall Says No Two-Nation Talks Due With Russia

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall said Wednesday that if Russia improves world conditions, there would be no two-nation talks with the United Nations.

In a news conference statement, Marshall ruled out the possibility of a direct two-nation settlement with the United States and Russia of general international problems also concerning other governments.

Marshall said in the statement that Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith had not asked Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov "for any general discussion or negotiation."

Molotov had said Smith proposed discussion and negotiation and publicly announced that Russia had accepted. That was in a world-stirring Russian broadcast Monday night.

"We have had a long and bitter experience with such efforts," Marshall said.

"This government had no intention of entering into bi-lateral negotiations with the Soviet government on matters relating to the interests of other governments. Points to United Nations."

The discussion of any proposals in regard to outstanding issues which the Soviet government may have in mind, must, as a matter of course, be conducted in the body charged with responsibility for these questions.

This was a clear reference to the United Nations and to the various allied bodies set up during and after the war for handling such problems as the future of Germany and Austria.

Marshall then presented the positive side of the American attitude. He asserted that "what we want is action in the fields where action is possible and urgently necessary at the present time."

He specified issues before the United Nations Security Council and other UN agencies, such as the Korean situation, as well as German reparations to the Allied Control Council in Berlin and Austrian treaty negotiations.

Wild Rodeo Stock To Eat 'Wild' Kanstos Hay

The rough broncs and bulls used in the Midland Rodeo, June 3-6, will be fed Kanstos hay during their stay in Midland. Maybe that's what makes the stock so wild?

Any way, rodeo officials said Wednesday a car load of hay for use at the big show here has arrived from Buffalo, Kan., and is being unloaded at the fair grounds.

Six New Wells To Build Up Midland's City Water Supply

Plans for the development of six wells, capable of producing a combined total of more than 2,500 gallons per minute, at the Wadley tract north of the city were outlined by City Manager H. A. Thomas to members of the City Council at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

He told of findings and recommendations of the Lane-Texas Company, which was engaged to test the tract's water possibilities, and said the concern will make its final report later this week.

The city soon will advertise for bids for completion of wells and for pumps, motors and other equipment. The water expansion program is scheduled for completion by July 1. Water from the Wadley tract will practically double the present supply.

Bids were opened for the furnishing and erecting of two structural steel tanks of 250,000 gallons capacity each at the Wadley tract. Only two bids were submitted—one from the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Company for $30,800, and the other from the Chicago Bridge and Tank Company for $31,500. At the request of the city manager the bids were referred to the city's engineering department for study before letting a contract.

Long Distance Operators Next In Strike Line

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A possible nationwide strike of long distance telephone operators hinged Wednesday on a new government try at settling the union-company wage dispute.

John J. Moran, president of the CIO American Telephone Workers Union, said a strike date will be set if the government negotiations fail.

"Nobody pays much attention to you until you inconvenience them," Moran told a reporter. "I guess John L. Lewis has the right idea."

Moran—whose union represents 23,000 long distance workers in 42 states—was due to meet with representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and mediators of the Federal Mediation Service at an afternoon conference.

More Pay, Shorter Hours

The union wants a 30-cent wage boost, a shortened work week and larger pensions. It says workers now average $1.21 an hour.

AT&T's proposal for a two-year contract extension with no immediate wage increase was rejected.

AT&T is parent company of the Bell Telephone System.

Chicago Livestock Prices Hike Sharply

CHICAGO — (AP) — Country supplies of livestock were much lower than expected Wednesday, sending some cattle and lambs to new recent high price marks.

Governor Orders Strikers Charged Under State Law

DETROIT — (AP) — The CIO's 75,000 Chrysler Corporation employes struck Wednesday for a third round of post-war wage increases.

Governor Sigler immediately ordered a complaint against the strikers under Michigan's new Bonine-Tripp Labor Law.

It requires that the state take a strike vote before workers can walk out. The CIO United Auto Workers contend it does not apply when a firm has plants outside of Michigan.

Sigler told reporters he had asked the State Labor Mediation Board to make a complaint to Wayne County (Detroit) Prosecutor James McNally. Under the law, McNally then could ask a court injunction.

"Either the law is good or it isn't," Sigler said. "If it's constitutional, we might as well find out now."

Picket Cal Moorehead, parading before the big Dodge main plant, told reporters "it looks like a long strike."

"This will probably be tough," he added.

Picketing was quiet. Union headquarters said the first workers out were those at the Dodge truck plant. They jumped the gun by 30 minutes.

Million Dollar "Kitty"

The union already is raising a million dollar "kitty" to finance the walkout.

The executive board of the union met in special session as picket lines were thrown about Chrysler's Detroit plants.

Negotiations broke down Tuesday night on wage demands of the CIO United Auto Workers. The union scaled its 30-cent an hour demand down to 17 cents without success. The best company offer was six cents an hour.

The Chrysler production workers' 16 plants average about $1.50 an hour now.

It was the auto industry's first major strike since November, 1945, when the UAW-CIO walked out at General Motors Corporation to begin a 113-day siege.

Service Bill Bumps Into Racial Issue

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate's military manpower bill bumped head-on Wednesday into the explosive race segregation issue.

Even before the compromise measure blending a five-year draft revival with a voluntary training program for 18-year-olds hit the floor, angry Southern senators promised a red hot fight.

What they want is a provision in the bill guaranteeing every enlisted man the right to serve only in a unit of "his own race."

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) asked the Armed Service Committee to approve such an amendment Tuesday, but the committee turned him down Tuesday.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), who cost one of the losing votes, served this warning on his colleagues: "The day that this bill comes to the Senate floor I will make speeches and offer amendments until the issue is clear as crystal."

He said he would not be allowed to pass in its present form.

Gurney Regrets Issue

Newsmen who asked Chairman Gurney (R-SD) whether the segregation question might jeopardize the compromise bill finally worked out were given this reply: "I am not making any forecasts but I sincerely wish that issue never had been raised."

Meanwhile the $3,200,000,000 money bill authorizing an immediate start on a 70-group combat Air Force awaited its expected signature.

Containing $22,000,000 more than the President asked, it sped through both the House and Senate Tuesday by voice votes approving a final conference report.

Justice of the Peace Will Fountain ruled in an inquest verdict that Mrs. Blum killed herself.

The Democrats elected a delegation with 20 votes.

In the only other delegate-choosing Tuesday, Arkansas Republicans selected an uninstructed 14-member national convention delegation.

North Dakota Democrats voted to instruct an eight-vote group for President Truman.

Pickets Patrol AFL Brotherhood Hotel

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Pickets maintained patrol for the third straight day Wednesday at the Park Lane Villa, swank hotel owned by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Floods Threaten Northeast Texas

By The Associated Press

Flood waters spilled out over lowlands in Northeast Texas Wednesday after heavy Spring rains, which extended to most parts of state in the last two days, came to an end.

Flood warnings were broadcast in the Sabine River Valley in the East Texas oil field. A stage of 34 feet—eight feet above flood level—was forecast for Gresham by May 17. Since Monday, 5.18 inches of rain has fallen at Gladewater. The east fork of the Trinity River was spreading over lowlands in Rockwall and Kaufman counties.

The Dallas Weather Bureau reported that the stream stood at 17.1 feet at Rockwall Wednesday morning. Flood stage is 10 feet.

The State Highway Department said Highway 287 between Corsicana and Palestine probably would be closed for several days because of floods.

Jewish City Claims Administration Of Arab Port Of Jaffa

TEL AVIV, PALESTINE — (AP) — Mayor Israel Rokach announced Wednesday the administration of neighboring Jaffa had been "taken over" by this all-Jewish city.

Jaffa, an all-Arab city, has been the main port of the Arabs in Palestine.

The announcement came a few hours after Abu Laban, chairman of the Jaffa Emergency Committee, came to Tel Aviv in a car guarded by the Jewish militia Hagannah for a truce talk. The Jaffa Emergency Committee, which took over the virtually deserted Arab city last weekend, already had declared Jaffa defenseless and without normal municipal services.

Thousands of Arabs had fled the city following Jewish attacks on it. The Jews succeeded in virtually isolating the city before the British stepped in and enforced a truce.

2—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, MAY 12, 1948

Interest High In Baseball Program

Interest is high in American Legion Junior Baseball in Midland. "We were pleasantly surprised with the show of natural ability at the first workout," Joe Shell, director, said.

Twenty-nine boys reported for the initial drill. Workouts are held daily on the Odd-Fellows park diamond on South Main Street. Parents and the public are invited. The atmosphere is clean and wholesome. Sportsmanship is stressed.

Bob (Moe) Price and Roy Mann, high school baseballers, are helping with the coaching of the Legion ball players.

At the first workout, Price's team beat Mann's by 3-2 with some tight pitching by Ray Williams. Jimmy O'Neal hurled for the losers and did almost as well.

The youngsters have a lot of pepper and determination. The program is wide open to all boys of the city. A player must not have reached the age of 17 years before January 1, 1948—otherwise—come one, come all.

Co-sponsor with the American Legion post is Murray-Young Motors. This firm furnishes the uniforms for the team members, and other equipment.

SAN ANGELO—The Midland Indians were better mudders here Tuesday night and they beat the San Angelo Colts 11-3 on a wet diamond in cold weather.

Levi Clay had the Colts on his hip while his mates clouted the ball for 18 safeties.

Harvel Jakes hit a triple and two singles for the Tribe. And Clarence Haggard poled three singles. Carrel Nipp registered a triple and a single.

A clay limited the Colts to six blows.

The game marked the second win straight by Midland over San Angelo in this series. The third and last game of the engagement is scheduled Wednesday night at San Angelo. The Indians then move to Midland for three with Del Rio.

First Baptist WMU Has Annual Hospital Program

The WMU program in the First Baptist Church Monday afternoon was another of the annual tributes to Texas Baptist hospitals.

The program, directed by Mrs. George Johnson, featured Mrs. Clint Dunagan in a discussion of Texas Baptist hospitals and Mrs. R. O. Walker in an outline of "What Baptist Hospital Means to Us."

Since the annual program follows Mother's Day, WMU officials explained, the offering is used for less fortunate mothers who need hospital care. The Midland group aids nearby hospitals.

Attending were Mrs. John Godwin, Mrs. Raymond Greene, Mrs. Conner, Mrs. J. M. Long, Mrs. W. B. Preston, Mrs. Tyson Midkiff, Mrs. Alice M. Neill, Mrs. G. C. Johnson, Mrs. H. N. Strickland, Mrs. C. F. Health Round-Up To Begin May 18 For Youngsters

The P-TA Council announced Tuesday that two doctors and two nurses will be in each of Midland's elementary schools at 1:45 p. m. May 18 to begin the annual "health round-up" for more than 350 pre-school children who will enter first grade classes next fall.

This P-TA-sponsored program is under the direction of the council's health chairman, Mrs. J. M. Devereux, in cooperation with the Midland-Ector - Howard County health director, Dr. F. E. Sadler.

The P-TA announces financial assistance to parents who are unable to procure the corrective measures suggested for their children.

An article in the Texas Parent-Teacher states that the examination "is intended to reveal information concerning the child's health and growth... it calls attention to conditions which require positive, helpful action to conserve and to improve the child's health... it opens the way for remedial procedures to be determined and applied... it is without practical value if it does not result in the corrective action which is indicated... responsibility for corrective treatment belongs primarily to the family."

"No one can call you either"

said Dad...

JUDY WALLINGTON, seventeen, cute, and popular, hung up the receiver from a 27 1/2-minute telephone chat.

"Look," said Dad, pinching her on the chin, "we have a party line. Remember?"

"But I didn't hear any 'clicks,'" said Judy. "No one tried to use the line."

"Could be," said Dad, "but some one might have been trying to call them; and," he continued, "did you ever stop to think: no one can call YOU while you're using the line!"

"Jeppers, you're right!" said Judy. "I'd tell the gang there's a five-minute limit," suggested Dad. "Self-preservation, you know. Ought to make everyone happy."

Talks Useless Without Strength

When people get together in a discussion of the world situation these days, one of them is pretty sure to say, before it is over, "Truman and Stalin ought to sit down and thrash this thing out"—or words to that effect.

Several writers have made the same suggestion. Henry Wallace has intimated that if he were President, that's what he would do. Speaker Martin has volunteered to meet Premier Stalin and talk things over as one Joe to another.

One of the innumerable questions fired at General Eisenhower recently was whether he would take such an assignment. He wisely answered that no one less than the President, authorized to speak for the people of the United States, should attempt such a conference.

And there are Washington correspondents who have said with assurance—though without offering proof—that Truman turned down an offer from Stalin for a meeting in Stockholm last winter. There is, as we said, no proof that such an offer was made and refused. But if that were the case, we should say that Truman acted wisely, and for two reasons.

First, we would have had at that time no existing or assembling military strength to back up an insistence on the status quo, or to enforce the demand for a reasonable compromise. We do not have such strength now, though there are signs that we may regain it. And Stalin obviously is not the sort to be turned aside by moral indignation or appeals to sportsmanship and his better nature.

Second, Stalin and his government cannot be trusted to carry out an agreement, even though the Soviet dictator might be bland and agreeable with Truman, as he often is with American visitors. That may sound pessimistic and cynical, but the record is there.

It used to be said during the war, when people were looking for all the nice things to be said for our Russian allies, that the Soviet government had never broken a military agreement. That statement seems to hold good today—but only as regards military pledges.

The Russian government has broken diplomatic pledges given at Yalta and Potsdam. It has met protests with argument, evasion and delay and, if all else failed, with silence.

It would be folly to assume that the Soviet government does not have a plan of action, peaceful and otherwise, for every continent on earth. The evidence is too strong to the contrary. It would be equal folly to trust that Premier Stalin would abandon that plan because of mere arguments or appeals.

Chamberlain sat down and talked things over with Hitler at Berchtesgaden. Chamberlain and Daladier talked things over again with Hitler at Munich. Hitler made a mockery of his pledges in both cases. If, as Winston Churchill points out, the two men had confronted Hitler with the strength that their aroused, alert and prepared nations might have given them, the story would probably have been different.

America and free Europe love peace and want peace even more than England and France did in 1938, for they have just come through a war whose horror and destruction make World War I seem pale in comparison. But America is wise enough now to take steps to avoid the mistakes of the complacent thirties.

When, through expenditures and sacrifice, we have grown strong enough to make the architects of imperialistic communism pause and consider, then it will be time for the President of the United States to meet the premier of Soviet Russia and arrange the truce that will be the prelude to disarmament and world peace.

There is no place like home if the place is home-like.

Draft Law's Cost And Effect On Economy Bear Watching

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Whatever draft law Congress comes up with is going to be hammered out in compromise after the Senate and the House pass their somewhat different bills to strengthen the armed services.

Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal gave a couple of good peeks at the latter when he testified before the scrappy House Armed Services Committee just before the committee approved Chairman Walter Andrews' House draft bill.

Forrestal said flatly he didn't want control of the civilian economy. But with Congress going home for the summer, he thought it would be wise to give him certain limited powers. First he wanted power to get scarce raw materials. He said later that he would submit a proposal to change the present law which prevents the armed services from stockpiling materials which are in short supply for the civilian economy.

The second thing Forrestal wanted was power to take over the manufacturing capacity of plants which could make scarce items like jet engines. A little-noticed section 17 of the House bill would give the President this power. It isn't anything new. It was contained in the draft acts of 1916 and 1940, although it was used in only a few cases in the last war. But just the same, this section 17 gives the military the right to go to any manufacturer and tell him, in effect, "You're working for us now and you make what we tell you to make." There is a penalty of three years in the jail house or a $50,000 fine for those who don't comply.

All this is highly interesting. It indicates that defense planners want something like the old wartime priorities system put back in force to make sure the military gets its wishes.

Air Force procurement officers have been handing out the line that there would be no materials shortages to interfere with their 70-group program. But here it is right from the big boss himself that there will be shortages. He wants controls put back on.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, Pa., gave a few arguments that these scarcities might be handled by voluntary allocation agreements among producers. He mentioned oil as an example. There is only one such agreement in force now. It's in the steel industry, which allocates some metal to a few essential manufacturers like the nail, soil pipe and freight car makers.

Secretary Forrestal explained that there had to be exemption from the anti-trust laws before suppliers could get together on allocations. So maybe that's in the offing.

What all these things add up to is the likelihood of greater scarcities, more competition with civilian production, and higher prices.

As for the cost of this whole new defense effort, Rep. Leon Harry Gavin of Oil City, Pa., pointed to some very pertinent figures. The original military budget for next year was estimated at $11,000,000,000. To this have now been added supplemental appropriations of $4,200,000,000. This makes the total $15,200,000,000.

Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, in charge of plans for the new draft bill for all three services, recently estimated that the selective service law would cost $2,100,000,000 a year to operate. That would make the total $17,300,000,000.

But now, Gavin pointed out, it is being proposed to add something new to this in the way of peace-

The DOCTOR Says

Disease Results When Clot Cuts Off Heart's Blood Supply

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service. Coronary thrombosis, a disease of the heart, is responsible for many sudden and unexpected deaths.

Many people seem to be confused about this disease. Without going into technical details, it can be described as a clot which closes up one of the branches of the arteries which supply blood to the muscles of the heart.

Like every other muscle, the heart muscle must receive blood in order to function. Consequently, when this supply of blood is cut off by a clot or closure of the artery, a certain part of the muscle is deprived of life-giving blood and, therefore, the heart muscle cannot keep contracting as it must to maintain life.

Location Important The severity of an attack depends on where the clot is located, and whether a large or small part of the heart muscle is deprived of blood. It takes a long time for good recovery of the heart muscle. If the injury was not too great and enough time is allowed, a type of scar forms at the injured area. For this reason, complete and lengthy rest in bed is extremely important.

In spite of the serious nature of this condition, many recover from an attack of coronary thrombosis with practically no ill effects and can and do lead relatively normal lives for a great many years.

Most of these people who make good recoveries have been good patients. They have taken the lengthy rest period and have adjusted themselves to a slower, more restful form of life and activity than they were probably used to before.

The cause of causes of coronary thrombosis are not all understood. Now that so many more people are living to ages at which the condition is common, it is particularly important to carry out research which will lead to its eventual conquest.

Bronchos Conquer Bulldogs

The Midland Bulldogs out-hit the Odessa Bronchos but couldn't cash them Tuesday night in Indian Park here and the visitors won 9-3. It was a 3-AA conference battle and the first night appearance of the Bulldogs at home this season. Cold weather out the attendance but a good number of fans turned out anyway.

Midland couldn't find Roth, Odessa pitcher, until late in the game. Odessa didn't damage Roberson, starting Bulldog pitcher, very much as he struck out nine in two-thirds.

of the game. The Bronchos managed to nick him just enough to tally a run here and another there. His curve had a fine wrinkle. Odessa popped three straight doubles off Max Harris, first relief fliker, in the ninth and got two tabs. Marion Tredaway came in for fireman duty and struck out the next two Bronchos, retiring the side.

The Bulldogs were anything but vicious until the eighth. Then they scored three runs with a single by Price, a double by Buckingham and a triple by Whitson.

Odessa registered a run in the first frame, and then two each in the fourth, sixth, seventh and ninth. The box score:

Pampa Edges Into Tie For Circuit Lead

By The Associated Press

Pampa and Borger were tied for the lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League Wednesday as the result of a great pitching job by George Payne.

The Pampa ace held Lameta hitless for eight and one-third innings Tuesday night as the Oilers won 5-1. A single by I. B. Palmer and a double by Bob Murphy kept Payne from reaching the League hall of fame.

Albuquerque edged Borger 5-4 to drop the Gassers into a deadlock with Pampa for the top spot. Virg Butler bested Sid Jamison in a left-handed pitchers' duel.

Lubbock whipped Abilene 10-6 and Amarillo licked Clovis 7-4 in the other games. Lubbock thus climbed into third place and Abilene fell to fifth.

Nobody Loves Forever

THERE is no spot in Akron where you can get a better picture of the population than at the municipal airport on Sunday afternoon. Cars of every conceivable make make up the parking places. Buses of various makes with the crime of the "artory" still in their sagging faces. There are women carrying fretful babies and dragging by the hand small, shabbily dressed children. There are girls. Girls in smart suits with "cheap sweaters and snappy slacks."

There are others. Men in uniform, and men with disarming buttons in the laps of ill-fitting ready-made suits.

There are small boys wriggling in and out of the crowd squealing with excitement as they identify every make of plane which wheels aloft.

Everyone is interested, thrilled, standing in a crowd and eyes squinting against the blinding glare of the June sun.

Jessica Blake wedged tightly in the crowd which pressed close against the stout iron fence surrounding the airport.

Fiona was wonderful. She thought as she stood shielding her eyes from the glare of the sun and watching a great twin-engine plane zoom in. Imagine being able to take off and in a few minutes be up there leaving this crowded rubber town behind you!

Sooty she reminded herself. But you can't escape so why not enjoy this short respite from the drab everyday existence you must lead until Tom comes home?

She moved closer, taking advantage of a break in the crowd and saw a station wagon wheel down the field and stop beside a plane warming up to take off. Army officers and other important-looking persons got out.

"Bound for Washington," exclaimed a man behind Jessica.

"Mexican officials," said another voice. "They've been here on a tour of inspection."

"Akron can give them ideas," boasted the first. The other man laughed and the two went on to talk about the rubber center and its important position in the post-war world.

Jessica listened idly, thinking how little she really knew or cared about this town where she lived. But I won't live here always, she told herself and suddenly remembered that in her absorption in the scene before her, she had completely lost track of the time. Lucy would be angry and justly so.

Betsy shrieked and hid her face in Jessica's skirts and cried. "Mummy! Mummy! Don't let Aunt Lucy take me." The man's expression changed. "I didn't know—" "Betsy is my little girl," said Jessica softly.

His eyes met hers from time to time and although he talked of commonplace things like planes and factories and rubber output, there was a spark of admiration in his glance which was disquieting.

He wasn't much taller than she. He had good shoulders. Tay Haydn's type, she decided. Sophisticated. He wore clothes well, good clothes; the tie knotted expertly under his hard brown chin never came from a department store counter. His smooth brown hair was ruffled by the wind which swept across the airport.

She said, "This is almost as exciting as the Derby," and realized that just for an instant she had been that carefree Jessica Gordon who had stood in a box at the Derby thrilled by a horse race. "Kentucky, aren't you?" he said. "I thought I was right about the accent."

AS she started to work her way back through the crowd, a huge man in a dirty sweat shirt made her lose her balance. Another man tried to push him back and in another minute a general scuffle threatened. Then someone caught her arm in a firm, hard grasp and helped her keep her balance.

A man whose voice she recognized as one of the two who had been talking about rubber said, "Are you all right?"

He had swung her around and toward the fence and they stood close together and alone while the crowd milled about behind them. "Yes," she said breathlessly and nodding stirred by the admiring expression in the man's bright blue eyes as he continued to hold her arm. "Thanks. I was about to leave."

"Don't go yet. Look—" He indicated the speed with which one plane with its freight of important passengers not down the runway explained just who the passengers were and although she knew that she should leave, Jessica lingered for a few minutes longer.

For he had been kind; without his support she might have been thrown down and injured. While she listened she made excuses to herself for remaining, watching, laughing, exclaiming.

There was a hint of malice in her tone. "But she isn't my little girl," she explained. "She's my brother's little girl. He's overseas and Betsy and her mother live with us."

She never looked once at Jessica and Jessica felt the color rise in her cheeks. She said hurriedly, "Come, Betsy," and seized the child's hand and started to walk away without a backward glance.

She should have known he would not be easily discouraged. He followed her, with Lucy hastening ahead and Betsy dragging back until the three of them, the man and Jessica and Betsy, walked together toward the parking space.

He said, "Sorry you must rush off. I don't suppose—" His glance was uncertain.

"No," Jessica smiled but shook her head.

The man said hopefully, "Maybe some other time?"

She said, "I'm sorry," and her glance told him that she was sorry desperately sorry to seem abrupt and ungrateful for his kindness. He had given her the happiest few minutes she had had for over two years.

"Well, that's that." His eyes met hers and he asked bluntly, "Why not?"

Which was impudent of course and yet . . .

Jessica looked up and saw Lucy coming toward them. Lucy was furious. She tried to seize Betsy's hand. The child shrieked and hid her face in Jessica's skirts and cried, "Mummy! Mummy! Don't let Aunt Lucy take me."

The man's expression changed. "I didn't know—" "Betsy is my little girl," said Jessica softly.

There, he knew. She was a married woman with a two-year-old daughter, and not a gay young thing to be picked up for a mild flirtation. She said, "Goodbye," and he bowed politely and walked away and left her. There was a note of finality about the whole affair which there shouldn't have been if Lucy had not behaved so abominably. An awkward ending to a casual meeting which had given her release from the monotony of the life she led with Lucy and her mother.

Just then there was a disturbance in the crowd behind them and a voice cried, "Jessica, where are you?"

She turned and saw Lucy making her way toward them. Lucy angry and breathless and dragging Betsy by the hand. Betsy sobbing and digging her fists into her eyes, her cheeks a violent pink and her bonnet hanging by one string.

THEY stood together in a little huddle. Lucy and Jessica and the man, whose face was puzzled for a minute before he squatted down and held out his arms to Betsy. "Want to see?" he asked.

Betsy, after one glance, dimpled and ran straight to him. He lifted her high onto his shoulder.

Lucy said, "Who—?"

"Just a man who was explaining the planes to me," Jessica said hurriedly.

"Well!" Lucy's voice spoke volumes. She tapped the ground impatiently with a small brown shoe. "What are you going to do now?" she demanded.

"Go home, of course," Jessica answered quietly.

The man turned and came toward them and set Betsy down. He said to Lucy, "You have a charming little girl."

Lucy brushed a speck from her immaculate blue suit coat. There

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
In Cincinnati recently I met a rising young Cleveland bridge star, Alex Szabo, considered tops by Cleveland players. I had an opportunity to kibitz him for a while and liked his style. Today's hand is an example of it.

South had bid spades and hearts. This is the type of hand that generally calls for clearing trumps.

However Szabo (West) made the natural opening of the king of diamonds, which South trumped.

♠ A	♠ K 10 8	♠ Q 3 2	♠ A J 10 8 7 5
♠ Q J 10 2	♠ A 6 5	♠ A K 10 9	♠ 7
♠ K	♠ 8 7 6 5 4 3	♠ 2	♠ None
♠ 9 3	♠ 8 7 6 5 4 3	♠ 2	♠ None

Tournament—N-S vul.
South West North East
Pass 1 4 Double Pass
1 2 3 4 Pass Pass
4 1 Pass Pass Pass
Opening—♦ K

A small heart was led toward dummy, Szabo played low and the eight-spot held the trick. A heart was returned and Szabo won this trick with the ace.

The natural tendency at this point would be to lead the trump and clear the hearts out of dummy to assure two spade tricks.

But Szabo was also starting at the blank king of clubs. If South had the club queen nothing would defeat the contract. But if East had the queen perhaps he could prevent declarer from establishing the suit.

Therefore he led a small spade, killing dummy's ace. Now declarer could trump another diamond, which he did, then led the nine of clubs. Szabo's king went on and the ace in dummy won—but there was no way for declarer to keep from going down one.

While it is true that certain established rules of play should be followed, Szabo believes that in order to become a successful player you have to know when to violate the common practice of play.

Europe May Weigh Electricity Vs. Coal

GENEVA—(AP)—Is coal or electricity more economical for industrial power? A research project proposed to the Electric Power Committee of the Economic Commission for Europe may seek the answer.

Another proposal before the committee suggests a survey and comparison of the safety regulations in different countries. International regulations may eventually be drawn up.

What Will Happen When The Fleet Is In?

HOUSTON—(AP)—"Wrong number" is liable to become a by-word in Houston.

The Southwestern Telephone Company announced recently it was going to expand by the installation of 75,000 additional instruments. And every single number in the book is going to be changed.

The switch will be gradual—over a two-year period. Numbers will be lengthened, too, to seven digits.

Peoria Family Has Reunion In Hospital

PEORIA, ILL.—(AP)—Mrs. Ellen Plover, 82, felt right at home in St. Francis Hospital.

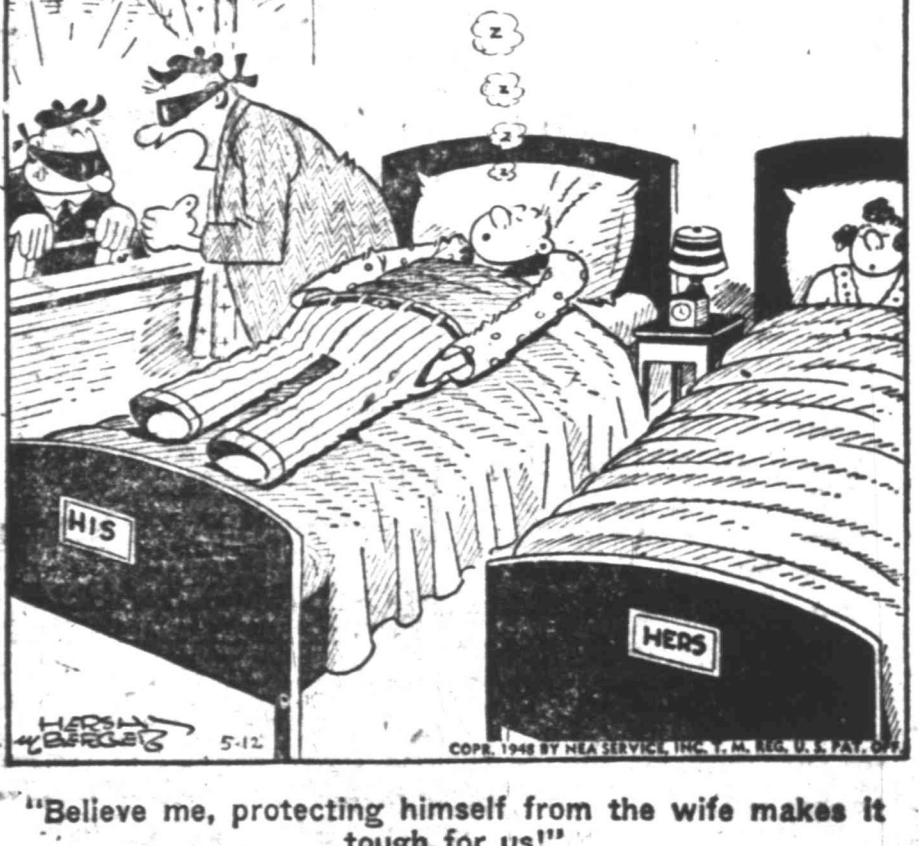

Following her there, as patients were her daughter, a granddaughter and a great-grandson.

And while they were there another granddaughter received her cap as a graduate of the hospital's school of nurses.

LOOK FOR GUARANTEE ON SUMMER FABRICS

NEA Service

One way not the wise shopper to stretch her dollar is to be sure when she buys summer clothes that the fabrics will neither shrink nor fade when washed.

The only way you can be sure that colors are going to remain unchanged when Summer rayons and cottons are washed is a guarantee of good behavior.

There are certain soap-and-water fabrics which carry an unconditional guarantee of wash-ability. The fabrics are so labelled. The label is a clothespin tag attached to a garment which says in effect that the fabric is shrink-and-fade-proof no matter what methods of laundering are used. This guarantee also says in effect that any kind of soap and water can be used when washing the garment.

It is the claim of the people who make this unconditional guarantee of washability that either plain or printed fabrics actually improve in appearance after laundering.

In 14 Southwestern Conference football encounters, Mississippi and Mississippi State have broken even.
