Latest Soviet Blast Called End Of Cold War's 'Phony Peace'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— American diplomats decided Monday that the "phony peace" in the cold war is over that this is where we came in.

The East-West bickering apparently goes on unchecked after 20 days of crazy-quilt diplomacy that sometimes gave rise to hopes that a letup was in sight.

Tribe, Broncs, Colts, Cowboys Notch Loop Wins

Midland's surging Indians whipped the Ballinger Cats 5-3 Sunday to take the first game of a three-game series. The Redskins had to break a 3-3 deadlock to win but managed to eke runs in the seventh and eighth innings to do it.

Ray Vazques's ninth inning single pass second base, coming with one man away and the bases loaded, enabled Bobby Fernander to score the run that gave the Big Spring Brones a gramatic 5 to 4 victory over the Vernen

Dusters. San Angelo's Colts broke up a 6-6 deadlock in the eighth inning to shade the Sweetwater Sports

Sweetwater had taken a fourrun lead in the third on a basesloaded homer by Kennedy Peacock, but the Colts pecked away at the offerings of Taylor until they knotted the count at 4-all in the fifth.

Del Rio's resurging Cowboys scored 11 runs in the first three innings, then coasted to an 11-5 victory over Odessa's Otiers,

Our big aim in Del Monte Caree is flavor. Rich, honest-to-goodness flavor. Really full flavor. And that just can't be achieved with ordinary blends of only three or four coffees - not by our standards, anyway.

No, sit! It takes seven coffees - and seven of the world's choicest, at that - to get the kind of flavor we want.

Each one of these cottees is carefully selected from the famous coffee markets of the world. Each is chosen with a special flavor characteristic in mind.

'Strike Breaker' Charge

'If the government is going to step in as a strikebreaking agency," says the president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, "it's about time that the American people start thinking of what they are going to do for the American working man deprived of his bargaining

That is an imposing generality, but it doesn't square with reality. And it doesn't justify a railroad strike, as it apparently was meant to do.

From the practical viewpoint, there is no such composite creature as "the American working man," any more than there is a similar one called "the American employer." Even in the restricted sense of the working man as a union member, the generality does not apply.

Union members have varying responsibilities, just as they have varying jobs and wages.

It may not injure the public for the workers in a pottery factory or even an automobile factory to go on strike and stay out until they get what they want. It does injure the public if union leaders, in industrywide bargaining, shut down all the coal mines or all the steel mills or all the railroads to enforce their demands.

In the case of the railroads, the government has entered the picture as what the switchmen's president chooses to call "a strike-breaking agency." It did so because, as President Truman rightly said, "a strike on our railroads would be a nationwide tragedy, with worldwide repercussions," and because, as Justice Goldsborough said, that most cynics have been predicting for the past year nearby Sheppard Field in particusuch a strike would cause the country "to suffer irrepar- has now arrived.
