SAYS RETONGA GAVE HER GREATER RELIEF THAN ALL OTHER MEDICINES

Gas On Stomach, Muscular Aches and Pains, Sluggish Elimination, Weakened Feeling, All Promptly Relieved, Says Mrs. Era Manning in Discussing Her Own Case

MRS. ERA MANNING

"A good friend personally recommended Retonga to me and I can say that she did not praise this fine medicine half strong enough," gladly states Mrs. Era Manning, respected resident of 408 Barrera St., San Antonio, Tex. The mother of seven children, Mrs. Manning is a member of the Baptist Church. She gratefully continues:

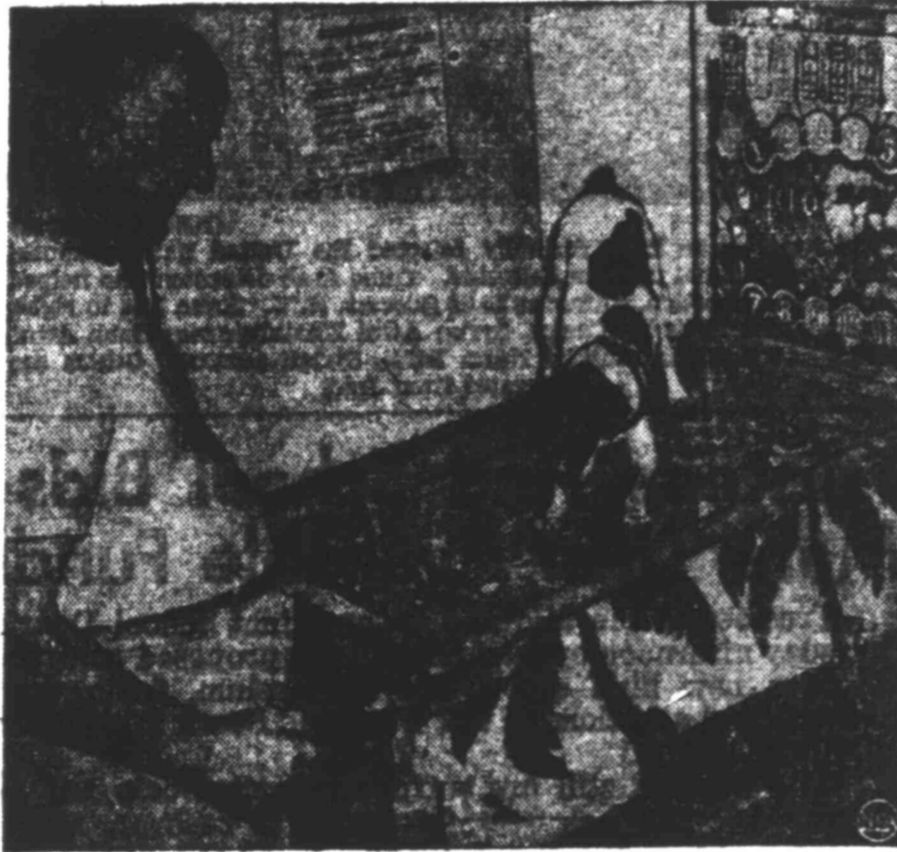

"If meal time had never come it would have been all the same to me, for food seemed to sour in my stomach and burn inside me like acid. I suffered so much distress from gas on my stomach and bloating that sometimes I could hardly get my breath. I thought I was at the end of my row. I felt so weakened and worn-out. My shoulder and arm muscles pained and ached something awful and I had to rely on strong purgatives, my whole body seemed so full of toxic poisons.

"The very first bottle of Retonga gave me wonderful relief. I have a grand appetite now and can eat anything I want with no fear of distress from acid indigestion. I no longer rely on harsh purgatives. I sleep good, feel refreshed when I get up, and my housework is a pleasure instead of a drag. No one can be more thankful than I am for Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Midland Drug Store.—(adv.)

Director Says Voice Of America Not Offensive

HAVANA, CUBA.—(P)—The man who handled the U. S. State Department's Voice of America programs to Latin America says he is "astonished" that they caused such a commotion in the U. S. Senate.

Alberto Ganderu, a Cuban-born U. S. citizen, formerly was head of the Voice of America Program Division of the National Broadcasting Company in New York. He is here visiting relatives. Ganderu said he resigned from NBC last April, effective May 15.

"I can say that the people who are doing those Voice of America programs at NBC feel in their hearts a very deep devotion to the value of the programs," Ganderu said in an interview. "To reflect in any way on our country was the thing farthest from our minds."

Fine Propaganda

"It is not fair to take from a script an isolated sentence here or there, and construe that to represent what the whole story tells."

The complete story in each case was a fine piece of propaganda for the United States.

"All this was started by Rep. John Taber of New York, who, for reasons I cannot imagine, has been attacking these Voice of America broadcasts. I recall some time ago he found a phrase in a script about an annual pageant in Wyoming where Indian girls run a foot race. He found a phrase in Spanish which, translated literally, says they ran in the race 'feathered and naked.'"

"But if the sense of the context is considered, and the Spanish fully understood, it means that they ran, possibly with bare arms and no stockings—or, to follow the literal language, with some skin showing—and wore a feathered costume. The program x x x was not offensive in any way, either to the listeners, or to Wyoming itself."

Given Very Little

Ganderu said NBC was "given very little by Congress with which to put on the programs" and "we could not hire the necessary personnel."

"The people at NBC doing those shows are doing so at very low salaries," he said. "People who wrote scripts, did other work and put programs on the air got $300 to $400 monthly. In radio, that is peanuts."

"In my own situation, I was in charge of the programs, but it was physically impossible for me to review every script that went on the air. I think it is self-evident that, taking the scripts in their entirety, and not picking out an isolated sentence here or there, they were favorable to the United States."

Philadelphia Has Curb Service For Firemen

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—(P)—Firemen, answering a telephone alarm recently, rushed to a Northeast Philadelphia intersection.

They found no fire.

Then three railroad men walked up.

"Don't get impatient, fellows," one of the railroaders said. "Your fire will be along in a minute."

The firemen waited. A Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive came along, pushing a blazing boxcar onto a siding. The firemen went to work.

Arkansas Woman Creates Ageless Orchids Of Wood

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK. — (AP) — It takes seven years to grow an orchid. Mrs. Ruth Woodruff Gilbert can create one in a few hours with a pair of scissors and a piece of wood fiber. Even florists are fooled by her product.

It's a hobby with Mrs. Gilbert, who lives near here. She says her only aim is to make other people happy with her flowers. In 1939 Mrs. Gilbert was riding with a friend and noticed an illustrated orchid on a billboard sign. The Arkansas had never seen a live orchid, but was struck by the beauty of the flower on the sign.

Started To Work

Mrs. Gilbert rushed home and started to work with glue and scissors to recapture the billboard image in her mind. Later, when she first saw a real orchid, she was disappointed with her synthetic creation. This spurred her to work harder and achieve an almost life-like reproduction.

Florists say it is difficult to tell, even by touch, that Mrs. Gilbert's orchids are artificial. One woman wore a Gilbert orchid on a plane trip and politely declined when the pilot asked if she wanted it put on ice. The passengers were amazed when the "flower" didn't wilt on the trip.

A California bride, who received a Gilbert orchid as a gift, keeps her friends wondering at her husband's extravagance. Mrs. Gilbert says the bride has never disclosed the secret of her ageless flower.

A Danger

Chairman Leo Allen of the House Rules Committee, who has kept the military training bill on ice for almost 30 months, isn't going to be hurried on a draft bill either.

The committee usually finishes its hearings in one sitting. But Chairman Allen doesn't like either UMT or the draft, and makes no bones about it.

But Chairman Allen put no hurdles in the way of the Mundt-Nixon Bill to expose and control communism in America.

Now these three bills were inspired by the same basic situation—the threat which communism offers this nation's safety.

The Mundt-Nixon Bill is excellent in intent. But it deals with a tricky subject made up of intangibles as well as tangibles.

This piece of legislation deserved calm, thorough, thoughtful debate. Instead it was considered in speed and anger.

It is natural and laudable to hate communism as it is practiced by the Soviets and their agents.

One would think, from the House action, that the greatest danger from communism was right at home.

The menace of communism in America cannot be dismissed as non-existent. But it is not as important, while a mighty Red army confronts an almost defenseless Europe.

But Chairman Allen does not like the idea of using men as well as machines for national defense.

Speaking Of Contempt Thirteen out of 21 witnesses refused to answer questions in the vote-buying trial of three Democratic politicians in Missouri.

It's lucky for those 13 that they were only suspected of selling their votes, instead of being suspected of membership in the legal Communist Party.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

U. S. Anti-Subversive Laws Fail To Snare Communists

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—If the Senate decides to pigeonhole the controversial Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist Bill which roared through the House by a five-to-one vote, the issue may become a dead duck for this session of Congress at least.

But there will remain the question of what laws there are now on the books for use against Communists, and how effective they are.

Dewey gave a quick run-through of some 27 existing laws which he said were able to take care of the Communist situation without the Mundt-Nixon Bill.

Various sections of the treason, espionage, conspiracy, sabotage, sedition, immigration, alien registration, foreign agents' registration and neutrality laws cover the activities of people working in the interest of foreign governments or against the U. S. government.

All these acts apply to individuals and organizations in general, not just to the Communist Party and its members.

The Smith Act "to prohibit subversive activities" by individuals provides penalties up to $10,000 fine and 10-year imprisonment for advocating overthrow of "any government in the United States by force or violence."

Because of the difficulty of obtaining evidence of intent to use force or violence, the Smith Act has been tested in only one important case.

The Voorhis Act requires registration with the attorney general by any organization subject to foreign control and engaging in civilian, military or political activity, the purpose of which is to overthrow a government.

Most amusing aspect of the Voorhis Act, however, is that in the eight years it has been on the books, only five organizations have registered.

The Communist Party never registered under the Voorhis Act. Several days before the Voorhis Act became law, the Communist Party changed its constitution and legally dissolved its ties with the Communist International in Moscow.

Jap Houses Probably Burn Easily Anyway

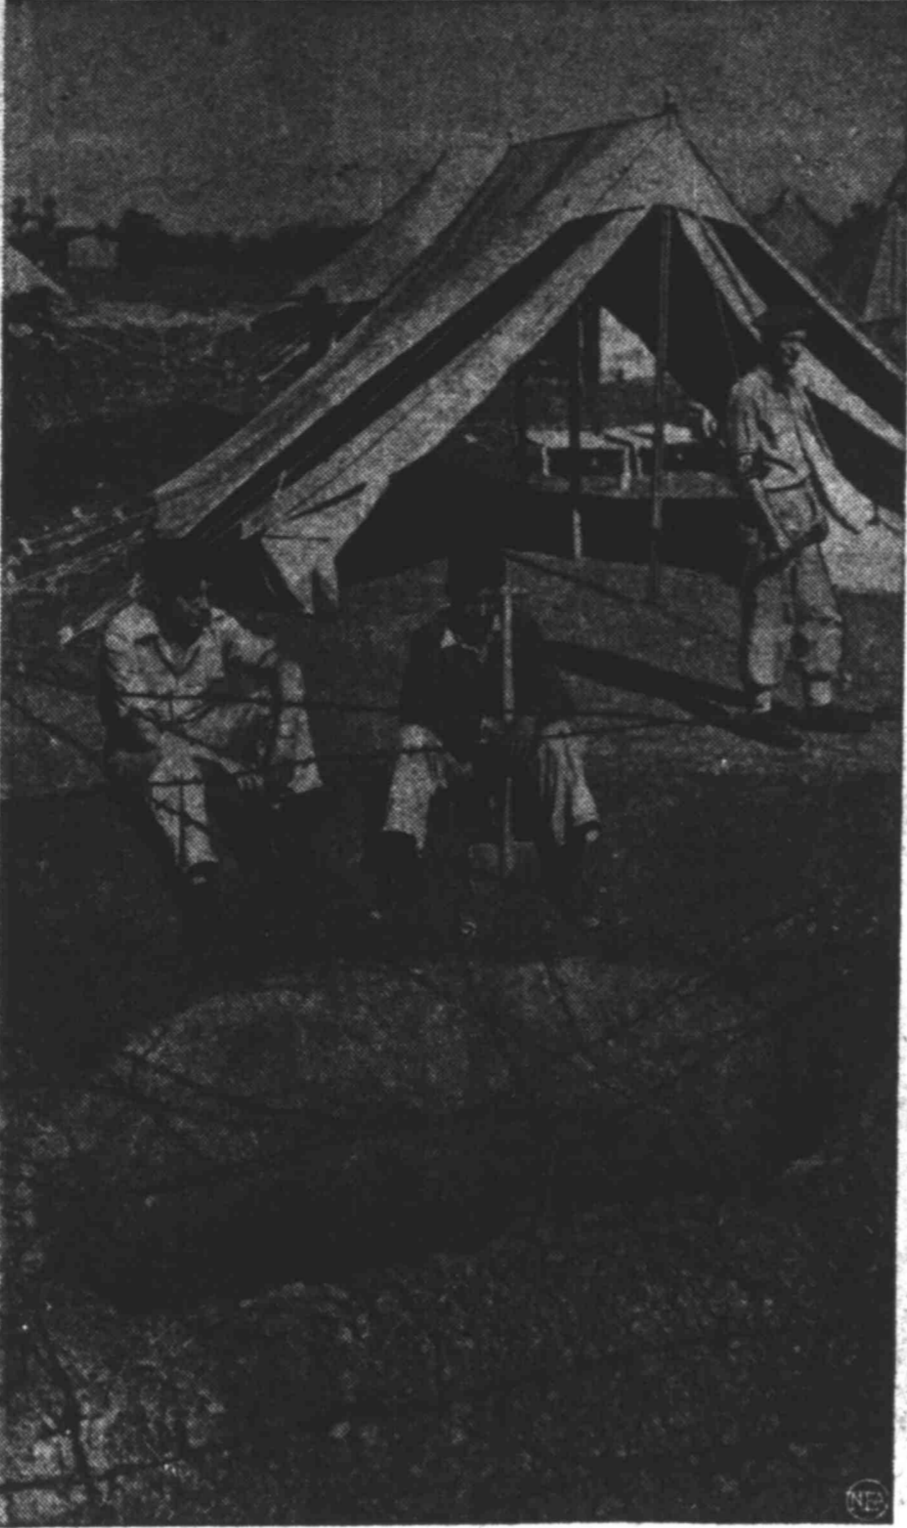

TOKYO —(AP)— A seven-year-old Japanese boy has been saved from banishment from his village by Japan's new democratic constitution, Kyodo News Agency reported recently. The child was banished by the elders of Aomori after he started a fire which destroyed 41 houses. Prefectural officials explained, however, Kyodo said, that not in keeping with democratic practice and the boy was "acquitted of expulsion."

Apparently Diamond Ring Doesn't Fit Bossie

PORTALES, N. M.—(AP)—For six years the old milk cow on B. F. Holcomb's farm limped, and for most of that time Holcomb wondered why. The other day Holcomb investigated. Imbedded in the cow's hoof he found a diamond ring—the same one Mrs. Holcomb lost six years ago, she said. Now Mrs. Holcomb and the cow both feel better.

Israeli Draft Dodgers Put to Work

With the infant state of Israel conscripting all men between 18 and 38, the problem of what to do with the inevitable draft dodgers arose. The state, through its military police, rounded them up and put them to work in this Tel Aviv camp. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent David S. Boyer.)

International Police Finds Elusive Criminals For 32 Member Countries

PARIS —(REX)— The American FBI wanted Vivian Homer, charged with stealing checks down in Texas. But Homer was an elusive person, and Edgar Hoover's operatives never could seem to catch up with him.

As a matter of routine, they notified Interpol — the International Criminal Police Commission — at its headquarters in the fabulous mansion of Francois Meunier, French chocolate king.

Interpol's little staff of 20 went to work, and soon was able to notify Italian police that Homer was in their country. He was picked up in Genoa.

Turning the picture over, there was Joseph Geller, who was wanted in Luxembourg for a million Belgian franc swindle involving the sale of merchandise back in 1943. Interpol was called in. It discovered Geller in Portugal, where he had gone from the United States with a fraudulent South American passport carrying a visa for his return to the States. Interpol notified the FBI, which arrested him when he returned to New York. He was extradited to Luxembourg.

Two Of Many These are just two of the many alleged criminals with whom justice might not yet have caught up if it hadn't been for Interpol, revived in 1946 after being dissolved when the Germans seized its original files in Austria in 1938.

Herr Schober, chief Police Commissioner of Vienna, established Interpol in 1923, at a time when Austria was far ahead of other countries in both criminology and general psychology. By 1938 the organization had established its usefulness thoroughly and had built up an invaluable file of international criminal records.

But when the Nazis over-ran Austria, and took its archives to Berlin, the rest of the membership resigned.

Two years ago Florent-E. Louwage, inspector-general of the Belgian surete, began reviving Interpol. At first general meeting was held in Brussels early in 1947 to revise the government statutes. It was decided unanimously to establish headquarters in Paris.

Interpol's service is mostly one of co-ordination and information, providing a working link among police headquarters of member countries. There are only two genuine detectives on its staff. One is Erstwhile mansion of a French chocolate king makes a cloak-and-dagger setting for the office of Interpol's communications chief Jean Nepote, but he does his work with teletype and telephone.

Jean Nepote, assistant to the secretary-general. Even they seldom go out looking for criminals.

There is direct teletype and radio communication between the headquarters here and 11 member countries. And Interpol uses the facilities of NEA-Acme Telephone in Europe to receive and send photographs and fingerprints of persons who are wanted. This, for example is how a Swede, wanted in Stockholm, was traced to the small Paris hotel where he was hiding with his mistress.

Minerologist Reports 'Poor Man's Diamond'

NEW YORK —(AP)— A new synthetic gem stone, which he calls the "poor man's diamond," is reported by Jack DeMent, of the Fluorescence Laboratories, Portland, Ore.

This man-made stone, he says, will have more fire than a diamond. It will emit more of the light it receives than a diamond. It is harder than rubies, sapphires or any gem except a diamond. The hardness comes within half a point of a diamond, which is the hardest substance on earth.

DeMent estimates that the cost will be less than one-hundredth that of a diamond.

To rival diamonds. The stone is not known to exist in nature. It is silicon carbide, a synthetic known for 50 years, but mostly as a dark, porous mass, of no gem qualities. Recently, DeMent says, new forms have been discovered, in England and in his laboratory. They include one that is water-clear, with the same form of cubic crystals that make diamonds. The latter he expects to rival and in some ways outdo diamonds.

"We may well regard the new gem material," he writes in a Minerologist, "as the poor man's diamond of the future. In short, silicon carbide will enable the mesopur to enjoy all the beauty and glory seen in a huge, perfect diamond."

"Synthetic ruby has enabled everyone to possess, for all practical purposes, a real ruby, in color, hardness and optical properties. Silicon carbide will serve this same function in the case of the diamond, and a cost well within the range of the masses of the people."

No Place For The Old Folks? They Are Setting The Pace!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)— There's a great to-do in the world over what to do with the old folks.

The population is growing older, but the cry goes up there's no place anymore for old people.

Since everybody moved to the city, we don't need grandpa anymore to fetch water from the well. We turn on the faucet. There's no chimney corner left for grandpa, 'cause the fireplace is only colored glass now. And it's cheaper to hire a baby-sitter by the hour than keep pore widowed Aunt Agatha around the homestead.

If there's no place for the old folks at home, how about industry? Nope, the workman approaches at the age of 40 with a feeling of personal guilt.

This is the dismal picture many sociologists paint.

Still Making Money But look at some of the oldsters who are still kicking up their heels, having fun and making laws or money.

A 68-year-old ex-trapeze artist just fathered triplets in Manhattan. A spinster in Scranton, Pa., slid down a bannister start her 102nd year. In New York State, a one-legged widow past ninety married a 37-year-old farmhand. At 70 the ebony toes of Bill Bojangles Robinson have tapped out five million dollars, and he's still good for $4,000 a week or better.

Bernard Baruch — "old silver-top" the financier—is 77, and has more influence from a park bench than a dozen junior senators.

Who are two of the greatest living oil salesmen in history? John D. Rockefeller, Jr., 74, and King Ibn Saud of Arabia, who is touchy over his age—but is beyond 70.

Two of the world's newest states picked active septuagenarians — Dr. Chaim Weizmann, 73, provisional president of Palestine, and Mahomed Ali Jinnah, 72, governor general of Pakistan.

Highest Paid Dramatist

High in the literary and musical worlds are such figures as George Bernard Shaw, Broadway's highest paid dramatist at $1; Somerset Maugham, 74; Arturo Toscanini, 81; composer Jean Sibelius of Finland, 83; Carl Sandburg, 70; Robert Frost, 73.

Connie Mack, who at 85 has a good chance to win the American League pennant; labor leader William Green is 75; Thomas J. Watson, 74, of international business machines, is rated the nation's highest paid corporation executive ($800,000 some years).

Even Hollywood has its oldtimers. Victor Moore, 72, is looking for one more good musical comedy to retire on. Lionel Barrymore, 70, has outlived several young Doctor Killdears and is busy on the radio, too.

What do they mean there's no place for the old folks?

UN Seems Headed For Drastic Action In Palestine's War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Foreign Affairs Editor The United Nations seems at long last to be getting ready for drastic action to end the conflict in the Holy Land.

Britain's new proposal in the Security Council's Thursday evening for peaceful mediation was coupled with the declaration that if this failed it would be necessary to invoke the strongest measures against the warring Arabs and Jews. Coincidentally Russia proposed that the council order the combatants to cease hostilities within 36 hours.

Britain's willingness to take drastic action if necessary is a significant reversal of her previous stand. Herebefore she has stood pat for peaceful mediation.

However, it strikes me that the time has arrived when England would be greatly relieved if the Lake Success peace-makers would create a situation which automatically compelled her to assume a neutral attitude in Palestine.

British Complications The British Lion certainly has his tail in the cleft stick as the result of the complications surrounding the Palestine war. As things stand there is only one source from which aid could come—the United Nations.

At the outset of World War I, Britain made treaties with Ibn Saud and other Arab leaders to secure their military aid against Turkey.

That was the position when, in 1917, British Foreign Secretary Balfour made the historic declaration under which England promised to use her "best endeavors" to establish a Jewish national home for the Jewish people. It was added that it was to be understood nothing would be done to prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, that is to say, the Arabs. Well, there you have the roots of Britain's present dilemma. She has two solemn commitments on her books, and time has demonstrated only too clearly that they clash most dangerously.

Ugly Fat

IT'S SIMPLE. IT'S AMAZING, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenterate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. Coaltown by a String of Coal Cars

Coaltown wins Belmont Park's $17,500 The Swift Stakes at seven furlongs by six lengths, according to the chart, but you can figure the Calumet colt's winning bulge for yourself. My Request, winner of Jamaica's two Experimental Free Handicaps and the Wood Memorial, Charley LeBlanc up, is second. Clayton Heafner Leads Colonial Invitation Play

PORT WORTH—(AP)—The $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament moved into its second round Friday with the select field chasing Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C.

Heafner held a one-stroke lead as the result of his three-under par 67 in Thursday's opening 18 holes. It came through some of the best putting ever seen on Colonial Country Club's sweeping 6,638-yard course.

He was one of six who bettered par for the day. Heavy rain made the fairways and greens soggy and cut down the carry on drives and did aggravating things with the chip shots.

A stroke behind Heafner were Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va.; Herman Kiser of Akron, Ohio; Tony Penna of Cincinnati; and George Schoux of Marmaroneck, N. Y. The latter missed a hole-in-one on No. 16 by a fraction of an inch as his tee shot edged past the cup. Heafner's luck was better. At No. 4 he had a 3 1/2 foot putt for a birdie and the ball hung on the edge for what he estimated to be at least two minutes before falling in.

Hogan Four Strokes Back

Three times big Clayton rammed in 30-footers for birdies and he had a 16-footer and a 10-footer in his assortment of putts that ranged downward to a couple of 18-inchers, one of which he missed.

Four strokes back was Ben Hogan, from Hershey, Pa., who won both of the previous Colonial tournaments and who was the general favorite this time.

Hogan had all his trouble on one hole—No. 8—where he said mud on his ball caused it to "duck" to the left on his second shot. It landed on a creek bank and Hogan over-shot the green. He ended up with a two-over par six.

Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., had a 69, and a stroke back of Palmer were Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz.; Cary Middlecott of Memphis, Tenn.; Jimmie Demaret of Ojai, Calif.; Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa; Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, and Byron Nelson, the Roskoke, Texas, farmer.

Garden Headliner Hard Way Mexican Jess Flores Becomes

By RUSS NEWLAND SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Mexican section hand Faustino Flores, tolling on the railroad near Harrison, Kansas, 21 years ago, never dreamed his first born son, whom he named Jesus Borjon, one day would be boxing in Madison Square Garden.

The father, born in Mexico City and now dead, probably never heard of the famed sweat pavilion, goal of all fighters, but the boy, who dons the gloves as Jess Flores will make his second appearance there June 4. He will headline the Garden program with Terry Young, tough New York lightweight.

Youthful Flores, 21 years old, got his big chance recently when the New York Fight Managers Guild settled its dispute with Garden officials over television rights. He took a match on three days notice and held well-liked Johnny Williams to a draw. Some ring-side experts thought he deserved the decision.

The match with Young resulted. He was due to arrive in New York city Friday by plane.

The Flores family moved to California shortly after Jesus was born in the small Kansas town of Harrison. He was reared in nearby Rentwood and attained a limited high school education. One of his uncles had been a pro fighter and started giving Jess boxing lessons at an early age. Jess fought in the amateurs when he was 15.

Since turning pro three years ago, Flores has lost only three of 59 fights. He dropped two decisions to Rudy Cruz and was kayped by former lightweight champion Bob Montgomery. He fought a draw with Mexican Enrique Bolanos, who lost a close 16-rounder to title holder Ike Williams in Los Angeles this week.

WT-NM League—Three Shutouts Tabbed In Seven Loop Contests

By The Associated Press

The free-hitting West Texas-New Mexico League saw some extremely close baseball Thursday night.

Three shutouts were recorded in three double-headers and a single game.

Lamesa swept two from Clovis 9-0, 9-7; Abilene took a 4-0 decision from Borger after losing the opener 1-0, and Lubbock won two from Albuquerque 2-0, 9-2. League-leading Pampa defeated Amarillo 5-1.

Avon Driggers notched his eighth straight victory in holding Amarillo to six hits. His mates collected nine, including Tony Range's fourth-inning homer.

Ed Jansson held Abilene to one hit as Borger took the opener. Frank Means' single in the first inning spoiled Jansson's no-hitter. In the nightcap, Fred Panto scattered six hits as Abilene won its first shutout of the year.

Bob Clodfelter chalked up his second shutout as Lubbock won the opener, scoring both runs on Charles Scarborough's single.

A four-run rally in the fifth inning gave Lamesa the first game, and a walk, single and error accounted for the winning run in the second.

Turnesa, Stranahan Advance Into British Amateur Semifinals

SANDWICH, ENGLAND—(AP)—Willie Turnesa, of White Plains, N. Y., and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, advanced into the semifinal round of the British Amateur golf tournament Friday.

Turnesa, defending champion, subdued Sam Roberts of Wales 4 and 3. Stranahan, runner up in the British Open a year ago, mastered Mario Goncalves of Brazil 4 and 2.

The semifinal rounds were to be played Friday afternoon with Stranahan paired against D. H. R. Martin, a Sandwich golfer, who eliminated John Campbell by a 2 and 1 count Friday morning.

Turnesa had Charlie Stowe, British Walker cupper, as his opponent. Stowe stopped Charles Lawrie 6 and 5 Friday after Lawrie had ousted Chapman Thursday.

Lifeguards Head Off Ocean-Going Deer

MALIBU, CALIF.—(AP)—Startled lifeguards looked twice when they saw a small deer race out of nearby Topanga Canyon and plunge into the Pacific.

The deer swam vigorously, apparently headed straight across the ocean. The lifeguards took to their paddleboards. The deer was almost a half-mile out before the pursuers could head the animal back to shore. Game wardens took over from there and escorted the fawn back to its canyon home Thursday.

Davis Quits As Oiler Boss

ODESSA—A. D. Ensey, general manager of the Odessa Oilers of the Longhorn League, became temporary field manager of the club Thursday following announcement that Bill Davis had resigned as the field pilot.

Davis was in his first year as manager in the Longhorn loop, having come here from Miami, Okla., of the K-O-M league where he managed that city to the league pennant last season.

Ensey in making the announcement gave no particular reason for Davis' resignation other than he is disinterested and wishes to leave.

The Oilers, who started the season in good shape, dropped to sixth place during a recent road trip in which they lost six of seven games.

Ensey added that he and partner, W. O. Shafe, had no prospects in line at this time for a new manager.

Davis, 31 years old, was a pitcher. He had started four games for the Oilers, winning two and losing two. He plans to remain here for a few days then join his family in Miami.

Canada has increased its food production more than 100 per cent since 1939.

Scribes Favor Rocky

NEW YORK—(AP)—Sports writers seem to be generally agreed on one point about the third Rocky Graziano-Tony Zale middleweight championship fight June 8—it'll be another knock-down, drag-out scrap. And Graziano is a heavy favorite.

The two previous meetings resulted in bitter toe-to-toe battles and sixth round knockouts. Zale won in New York in 1946, successfully defending his title. He lost the championship to Graziano last year in Chicago.

A large majority of the editors expressing an opinion favor Graziano to keep his title. The Brooklyn banger received 221 of the 322 votes. Zale got 41.

One hundred and twenty-seven writers from throughout the country said they believed Graziano would store Zale away between the fourth and eighth rounds.

Only 41 of the 221 who lined up with the champion said the bout should go all the way. Thirty who picked Graziano didn't name the round.

DOWN Lane
with TANNER LAINE

A half-dozen new engineering ideas will be tried out May 31 in the 32nd annual 500-mile automobile race at Indianapolis Speedway, the proving ground for such long-accepted improvements as the low-pressure tire and rear vision mirror. Some of the innovations will be kept secret by the race car builders. They're especially quiet about gear ratios and fuel formulas. Other experimenters welcome publicity in hope of selling to the major passenger car and truck manufacturers.

One of the new devices is a rubber fuel tank that does not develop leaks from vibrations or burst when a car is wrecked. It was developed by Firestone from bullet-proof aircraft tanks. One advantage is that it can be moulded to fit odd-shape spaces.

The rubber tank also is lighter than the conventional metal tanks and will give extra fuel capacity to the nine cars that will use it. Grooved pistons will be used in the Novi specials owned by Lou Welch, Novi, Mich., and designed by W. C. (Bud) Winfield of La Canada, Calif. The piston surfaces are drilled by grooves not much bigger than those on a phonograph record. Welch explains that raised portions of the piston surface will "flow," making a perfect fit in the cylinder.

Anthony Granatelli, Chicago manufacturer of "hot rod" heads, is trying out an external oil cooler and an air scoop comprising the entire front area of the chassis. Hidden flaws in the metal parts are being detected by "Magnaflo," an extension of the magnaflo test previously used on all speedway cars. Parts are magnetized, then dipped in a fluorescent liquid. Subsurface cracks show clearly under infra-red light.

Mack's A's Take Back AL Top Slot

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Connie Mack's Athletics are safely home in first place, fooling the wisecracks who said Philadelphia would fade in the West. Winners eight times in 13 starts since leaving Shibe Park, the Mackmen now must be considered bona fide pennant contenders.

It looked bad when their 10-game streak was snapped in New York the first day out of Philadelphia, but they rallied and swept a double-header the next day. Cleveland belted them two in a row and Detroit's Freddie Hutchinson handed them a third straight loss before injured Elmer Valo rejoined his mates.

The As split the next two with the Tigers, swept a pair at St. Louis, two more in Chicago and then smothered Washington Thursday night 7-3.

Cleveland's ally in the percentage point columns couldn't stop the As from regaining the lead. They moved a full game in front of the idle Indians and, more important, nine percentage points to the good. With the New York Yankees coming in Friday night, a new Shibe Park attendance record may be set. Fog Bottle Shower

Umpire Red Jones found himself in the midst of a shower of bottles, beer cans and other debris at Washington in the ninth inning. He was in the path of a ball thrown to the plate by Mickey Vernon of Washington. Vernon scooped up Pete Sider's grounder and tried to catch Sam Chapman at the plate but the ball struck Jones' chest protector as he stood in the base line.

Stan Musial polished off his sensational Eastern swing with two hits, including his tenth homer, in the St. Louis Cards' 9-6 victory over the New York Giants. Red Schoendienst's bases-loaded single was the big blow for the Cards as they scored four runs in the ninth to top the stubborn Giants 9-6.

The Brooklyn Dodgers ended a one-day stay in the National cellar, climbing to sixth place by shading Chicago 4-2.

Curt Simmons, the Phillies' $60,000 bonus left-hander, finally hit his stride with a fancy three-hit win over Pittsburgh 3-1.

Cincinnati and Boston were idle in the National as were Boston, New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis in the American.

Minister Of The Interior—Key Position

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — They sound alike but there is a big difference between the two titles: Secretary of the Interior and Minister of the Interior.

One is harmless and one isn't. One hardly touches people's daily lives, the other has terrific control over them.

In this country we have a secretary of the Interior, Julius A. Krug. He's in charge of the national parks, the Fish and Wildlife Service, public lands, Indian affairs, and he's boss of territories like Hawaii and Alaska.

But in those countries of Europe where the Communists have taken over or would like to, the Minister of the Interior is a key man.

He's in charge of state and secret police, he can block people from moving around the country, he can say who will or won't be allowed to leave or enter the country, he may be in charge of the election machinery, and he may even control food rationing.

That's why the Communists—if they don't have enough strength to take over the government—try to get a Communist into the job of Minister of the Interior.

The minister, controlling the state police and the secret police, can be sure that his party members don't go to jail.

At the same time he can keep an eye on the enemies of the Communists and even jail them.

When the Communists reach the point where they wish to seize power, the Communist-controlled state police can be used to help them do it. The police can crush all opposition.

Reds Press Finland
In Finland this week President Paasikivi forced out of the Interior Ministry job a Communist, T. J. Rieho, who had been censured by the Finnish Diet, or Parliament.

But Paasikivi quickly replaced him with Eino Kilpi, who is considered a fellow traveler of the Communists.

The New York Times reports that "political circles" say Paasikivi was pressured by the Russians into giving Kilpi the job.

In Czechoslovakia, a Communist, Vaclav Nosek, has been interior minister since 1945.

Need For Nurses Said Imperative By Health Group

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The need for nurses is "imperative" if present health programs, as well as anticipated expansion in health services, are to be carried out. This was revealed in a report by the personnel section of the National Health Assembly, which met in Washington recently to prepare a 10-year United States Health program.

It is estimated that approximately 564,300 nurses will be needed in 1960 for federal services, non-federal hospitals, private duty, public health and industrial services.

Because of the increased services required of professional nurses, the report further states their educational program must be broadened.

The number of graduate nurses employed by hospitals with schools of nursing has increased by 270 percent since 1945. Of the country's approximate 1,250 hospitals with schools of nursing, there were 20,500 graduate nurses in 1946 and 50,700 in 1948. Public health services are expanding rapidly, the report states. It estimates that public health nurses make more than 16,000,000 home visits annually.

From January 1, 1947, the number of nurses employed by all public health services was 21,500.

The personnel section recommends that nursing education should be included in the curriculum of all institutions of higher learning, and that nursing education should be available to qualified applicants without discrimination as to race, color or sex.

Other recommendations: (1) Scholarships for qualified students, otherwise unable to finance their nursing education, should be made available through the schools. (2) Fellowships should be made available to encourage advanced training of teachers and research workers in nursing. (3) Research funds should be available to improve the practice of nursing, investigate the use and need for professional nurses, practical nurses and other auxiliary workers and to study the role of the nurse in the health team.

Texas A&I College Holds Spring Training For Yell Leaders

KINGSVILLE — (AP) — And now "spring training" for yell leaders. Head Yell Leader Donald Stewart of Texas A&I took a page out of Football Coach Dewey McWhorter's notebook and held it for the pepsters.

Getting in trim for the Fall gridiron campaign were Stewart, who hails from Harlingen; Pat Morris of Fort Worth; Dennis Jean Scott of Harlingen; Mary Alice Crow of Hondo; Bill McFall of Corpus Christi and Billy Jack McKenzie of Bishop. A freshman boy will be added next Fall.

Bad-Tempered Moose Bangs Up Automobiles

BOZEMAN, MONT. — (AP) — A bad-tempered bull moose staged a fast workout with three automobiles near here recently and the machines got the worst of it.

The first car the moose encountered belonged to salesman John Vaseline, who drove cleverly enough to make the moose miss badly once or twice, then kicked down on the gas and escaped.

Next was a car driven by Mrs. Walter Stewart. The bull banged into her from the fender, knocking about a $10 dent in it. Third victim was Wendell Anderson, who was forced to back up a quarter of a mile before losing the moose.

Swiss Plan To Fight Hail To Protect Crops

BERN, SWITZERLAND — (AP) — The Swiss Agricultural Department will undertake experiments in blasting hailstorms out of the sky. The experiments, the department announces, are planned where tobacco plantations have been subject to seasonal damage by hailstorms.

In the fruit-growing area of western Switzerland, for some years rockets and shells have been shot into hail clouds in an effort to break them up before they loosed their load on vineyards and orchards. The ground defenses have been made mostly by small communities, and local authorities have not been able to agree to the efficiency of their methods.

For one thing, the vineyards and orchards to be protected were scattered, sometimes separated by mountains, and it was impossible

FOLES PLAN REBUILDING

WARSAW, POLAND. — (AP) — Poland plans to spend more than $10,000,000 this year to rebuild what war destroyed and to develop industries in the lands she absorbs from Eastern Germany. That embraces nearly 300 miles of Baltic coastline, all of the Silesia (Silesian) area and runs southward into the heart of Lower Silesia, including Wroclaw, formerly German Breslau.

The wealth of the Nizami of Baghdad has been estimated at $2,000,000,000.

He Wasn't Drunk, He Had A Tooth Yanked

PASADENA, CAL. — (AP) — Chemist Frank M. Robinson, 51, presented a tooth and a pair of pliers in court and won acquittal on a misdemeanor charge of drunk driving.

"A friend has just pulled one of my back teeth with a pair of pliers," Robinson told the jury. He said that after the operation he gargled with a solution of alcohol, water and salt. This, Robinson said, accounted for the breath officers smelled when they arrested him last February 6.

A jury of five men and seven women decided he was innocent.

BOTH FAMILY TRADITION

LONDON — (AP) — Following in the family tradition, Cadet Stuart Booth, great grandson of William Booth who founded and was the first general of the Salvation Army, has been commissioned in the organization. He is a son of Lt. Col. Wycliffe Booth, territorial commander for France, and the grandson of General Bramwell Booth, the army's second general.

PAPAYA MAY SPICE DIETS

HONOLULU — (AP) — Pineapple may have to move over on the American table to make room for another tasty dish from Hawaii—papaya. A new heat treatment which kills the Oriental Fruit Fly makes papaya eligible for sale on the mainland, according to Dr. C. L. Ritchie, Honolulu inspector for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Exporting the fruit from the islands had previously been prohibited.

SECRET PHONES TO GO

PRAGUE — (AP) — Secret telephone numbers, unlisted in the public directories, are on their way out in Czechoslovakia. The ministry of posts said there were more than 7,000 of them in Prague alone, and that they caused a great deal of trouble to the operators. Only special and important subscribers will be permitted to remain unlisted.

LITTLE BUSYBODY

What tireless little busybodies some of our youngsters become as they grow out of the baby stage into early childhood! They seem to possess unbounded energy and an insatiable curiosity.

They have reached the inquisitive age when they want to know what things are and why they tick. So they are constantly pulling at this and prying into that and investigating whatever attracts their attention.

These childish activities give parents an endless task. But they have the satisfaction of knowing that their children are developing normally.

Wisely handled, the energy and inquisitiveness of childhood can later be turned into constructive channels. Above all, parents should teach their children the moral and spiritual values behind all earthly things.

That is where the Church can render great assistance to parents. It can guide them in applying the teachings of God's Holy Word to the many difficult problems that stem from parenthood.

Wise parents turn to the Church for spiritual guidance.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship, strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Nobody Loves Forever

By Margaret Brucker

THE STORY: Lucy does more than just sit on the sofa, waiting for her husband to come home. She has a job, she has a car, she has a life. But when she meets David, she finds herself falling in love with a man who is everything she needs. David is a doctor, a successful man, and a very handsome one at that. He is everything Lucy has ever wanted in a man. But when she tells him about her life, he tells her to give it up. He wants her to be a housewife, to be dependent on him. Lucy is torn. She loves David, but she also loves her life. She is caught between two worlds, and she doesn't know which one to choose.

DAVID'S eyes studied Jessica over the baby's golden head. "Do you realize that it has been three months since I saw you? I called repeatedly. Don't you think you acted rather silly, Jessica?"

"No."

He persisted. "You wanted to see me didn't you?"

She tried to deny that and couldn't. David set Betsy down and said, "Run along, baby." His eyes were grave and for a little while he said nothing. They sat and watched Betsy dart about in the patches of sunlight.

Then David said thoughtfully, "It's the very devil to meet the one girl you've wanted to meet all your life and to find that she's married. I've tried to fool myself into believing that I'd forget you." He turned and smiled at her. "That didn't work. Now I'm not letting you slip away again without telling you that I love you."

Jessica spoke sharply. "Don't."

"Why not? Why not be honest about it?"

"You don't know me."

"I know enough to love you. I know that you're married to some guy overseas and you probably think me a heel to try to cut in."

"You couldn't."

"No," he said thoughtfully, "probably I couldn't."

He stood up and called to Betsy. He said, "Look, why can't we be friends, you and I and Betsy? This is a perfect day for a ride. I've got a thermos and we'll pick up

Betsy slept and David sat with his hands linked about his knees, looking off into the distance. Peaceful, and yet not peaceful. Aware of a rising excitement in her breast as David got to his feet and stooped and lifted Betsy, settled her on the rug and drew the rug up over her. He turned and grasped Jessica's hand and pulled her to her feet. "Let's walk about a bit," he said. "Betsy will be all right, we can watch her."

THIS was wrong, all wrong, for David did not release her hand as they walked along to where they could look down and far away to the violet hills in the distance. To where a little lake shone like a chip from a mirror. To cattle grazing quietly in close-cropped fields. Everything beautiful and still, so still. Only her heart beating wildly at David's nearness. Only her effort to remember Tom, failing. She wanted to cry, to laugh. She was happy, for a little while David said nothing. Then he turned and spoke quite calmly. "Darling, I love you."

The hand which held hers tightened. One glimpse of his blue eyes and Jessica jerked her hand away and stood quivering all over, unable to speak. Finally she said, "Please don't say that again, David. There's another word much more important than love—loyalty." Then, suddenly, she was telling him all about her meeting with Tom and their rash and hasty marriage, her bewilderment when Tom went away and she was left alone with strangers.

David moved impatiently. He picked up a stone at his feet and flung it down the little hill on which they stood.

"You made a mistake, Jessica. You took a silly schoolgirl infatuation for love. Love is something quite different. I want to teach you how different. I want—"

He ended abruptly. He caught her by the arms and drew her toward him, closer and closer, with his bright blue eyes intense and dark, probing her own.

"I want to kiss you, Jessica," said David softly. "Will you let me kiss you, darling?"

Tournament players all over the country are beginning to know Leo Roet of New York City. His work, importing commercial diamonds for industrial use, involves a good deal of traveling, and like many other business men, Roet likes to plan his trips according to the tournament schedule.

Roet gave me today's hand because he thought it a "peculiar" one. The bidding shown is exactly the way it occurred. It is surprising that East did not make a quick plunge to four hearts, as long as he intended to bid it anyway. You will note that at one point Roet could have been passed out at three spades. He had good reason for not liking his partner's double, so he went to four spades.

East played the queen of hearts on his partner's opening lead, probably trying to confuse the issue, but Roet ruffed it, then led the queen of clubs. West made the mistake of playing "second hand low." East won and came back with a heart which Roet ruffed with the five of trumps.

Next he led a small diamond and West split his honors. He put on the jack and Roet had to win in dummy with the ace. The small club came back, Roet finessed the nine spot, forcing West to win with the ace.

West's only return at this point was a small spade, because he knew that South held only the ace-king-queen of trumps. Roet won, cashed the jack of clubs and led the club deuce. West ruffed

White Australia Means Trouble, Says Professor

MELBOURNE.—Prof. Griffith Taylor, geographer and anthropologist, has warned Australia of dangers in her White Australia policy. He says Australia would antagonize China and Japan to a dangerous degree if she persisted with "petty evictions of people on color grounds."

Australia in the past two years has deported Chinese, Malaysians, other Asiatics, and one or two American negroes who had been here since the early days of World War II.

Professor Taylor said one of the biggest reasons for man's trouble is that five-ninths of the world's surface belongs to colored men, but is occupied by white men.

British Press Has Way Of Saying It

LONDON.—The Medical Press, British scientific journal, wasn't impressed by American and Belgian treaties on the removal of warts. It commented after a terse review:

"But whatever incomprehensible pontifical utterances roll in unctuous polysyllabic didacticism from the lips of the eclectic cognoscenti, all the vulgar know full well that warts are cured either by pulling them out with adhesive strapping or by burning them with fuming nitric acid or, better, by the charms of witches or, best of all, by the magic of wizards."

Lake Nicaragua in the country of the same name is the only body of fresh water in which large salt water fish abound, scientists explaining that the lake was once an arm of the sea before the land was elevated during an earthquake.
