150 Drown When Ship Hits Mine

Danish Passenger Vessel Goes Down Soon After Blast

AALBORG, DENMARK—(AP)—About 150 Danes drowned Friday when the passenger vessel Kjoebenhavn struck a World War II mine and blew up in the Kattegat. The vessel, carrying 400 passengers, went down 10 minutes after the dawn explosion ripped her apart. Scores of sleeping passengers were drowned in their berths. Many saved their lives by diving from the deck of the sinking vessel.

The 1,668-ton steamer, owned by the United Steamship Company (D. F. D. S.) was en route from Copenhagen to Aalborg, Jutland.

Three Kermit Residents Die In Auto Crash

KERMIT—Three Kermit residents were killed and two seriously injured in a head-on collision between their car and a truck nine miles north of Jal, N. M., Friday.

Dead are D. L. Newman, Jr., 28; Donna Faye Ford, about 14, and Jeanie Kerr, about 14.

The injured were taken to a Buñon, N. M., hospital. They are James Row, 20, and Lewis G. State, 21.

Deputy Sheriff Elmer Turner of Jal investigated the accident. According to his report, the Kermit automobile, a 1947 Ford five passenger coupe, was traveling north when the crash occurred. The truck, a 1947 Ford, was traveling south, though the truck overtook.

The bodies of the three victims are in the Griffin Funeral Home of Hobbs, N. M. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Turner said an inquest will be held Friday afternoon in Hobbs. A Newman was a member of the Kermit Oilers baseball team.

Lack of Accord Remains Evident In Coal Parleys

San Antonio—A fourth bargaining session on the coal issues was set for Friday afternoon in Washington.

General Motors Corporation announced that 600,000 of its workers will be laid off for a week, beginning Monday. The company said the layoffs could be blamed on steel shortages resulting from the last coal strike.

Assembly-line workers in Ford Motor Company plants across the nation were in a one-day shut-down Friday. Ford officials said their workers couldn't agree on arrangements to keep the mines open after the agreement ends.

Work interruptions continued at plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Company while the company continued to negotiate with the CIO.

United Auto Workers' Union on a new wage contract.

Pay raises were announced by the Packard Motor Car Company simultaneously with price boosts of 75 to 800 for all of its cars effective June 14. The CIO-UAW accepted a 15-cent hourly wage increase. White-collar workers at Packard were given a nine per cent raise with a ceiling of 30 monthly.

In Aalburg, CIO President Philip Murray announced the CIO would support the planned June 15 strike of five maritime unions.

More Scorching Heat Is Forecast

By The Associated Press

A shady spot and a jug of lemonade are recommended weekend equipment for Texas. The unseasonable heat was hung on Friday and no relief was in sight.

Scattered thundershowers produced slightly cooler weather in North and West Texas Thursday, but temperatures from two to five degrees above normal were forecast for the state over Sunday. A few showers also were promised.

The Rio Grande Valley took the brunt of the heat Thursday. Precipitation again had a high of 100, Crystal City 106, Laredo 108, Alice 104, Del Rio 101, El Paso 100. Highs elsewhere generally were in the 90's. Clarendon, in the Panhandle, was the coolest spot with a top of 83.

In the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a. m. Abilene had 32 inches of rain, Houston 38, Beaumont 18, Galveston 19, Laredo 23, Fredericksburg 14, and Crystal City 28.

The Panhandle and West Texas had cool sleeping Thursday night. Pampa had a low of 60 degrees, San Angelo 61 and Amarillo 62.

Truman Nominates Two New Ambassadors

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Friday nominated new ambassadors to Peru and Haiti.

He asked Senate approval for Harold H. Tittmann, Jr., of Missouri, now ambassador to Haiti, to be ambassador to Peru.

William E. DeCourcy of Texas, a career foreign service officer, was nominated to be ambassador to Haiti, succeeding Tittmann.

Long Range Housing Bill Goes To Rules Body In Surprise Coup

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A surprise Democratic victory in a Republican-dominated House committee Friday put the late long range housing legislation squarely up to a second GOP-controlled group.

Eleven Democrats, voting solidly and with the help of three Republicans, took full charge of the 27-member House Banking Committee late Thursday. That body approved by a 14 to 13 vote all the major provisions of the Senate-passed Watt-Blender-Wagner Housing Bill.

The D-E-W measure aims at bringing about the construction of 15,000,000 homes in 10 years—including 500,000 government-financed, low-rent dwelling units to be operated by local public housing authorities. Sponsors say the main emphasis, however, is on private enterprises, with various government aids.

The housing issue now moves to the House Rules Committee, which must clear all controversial legislation before it can be brought to a vote on the floor.

Rep. Murray (D-Okla.) said the bill might be "bottlenecked" there, since Republicans insist that, however, it will get a green light.

Flooding Columbia River Breaks New Dike Near Portland

PORTLAND, ORE.—(AP)—The flooding Columbia River broke through another dike on Portland's outskirts Friday and raced over a rich lowland area extending 10 miles to the East.

Doomed were the Portland Airport, four golf and country clubs, a lakeside resort and homes for several thousand persons.

All residents were ordered evacuated days ago, but the sheriff's office feared some might have returned.

The airport siren sounded a warning when the break came in the early morning. The fire department at Troutdale, a small community on high ground east of Portland, also wailed a warning to any returnees. Eight sheriff's cars raced over roads ahead of the water with sirens going.

Army engineers pulled out all troops and dike workers.

The sheriff's office said the warnings would have given anyone in the area time to escape ahead of the flood.

The break, as in previous breaches that flooded Vanport, the Portland Meadows Race Track and another golf course, came in a side dike, not on the river front.

Highest Waters Coming

Army engineers said they would attempt to hold an intermediary dike, 10 miles to the east, protecting the 43,000,000 Reynolds Company Aluminum Plant.

Meanwhile the highest waters of the flood rolled toward the Portland area.

The break unleashed Columbia waters which had wiped out Vanport Memorial Day, then cut through a cross-dike and flooded to the East over the Portland Meadows horse racing plant before being halted by a second cross-dike.

This second cross-dike was the one that gave way Friday, letting the old floodwaters race farther upriver to the East behind the main Columbia River barrier.

Hoffman Says Fund Cut Will Paralyze ERP

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The boos of the European Recovery Program said Friday House cuts in ERP funds would virtually "eliminate" plans to put Europe's industry back on its feet.

The brunt of the cut must fall on the machinery and equipment necessary to restore or increase Europe's productive capacity. Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman told the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"The most productive and the most far-reaching part of the recovery program would for all practical purposes be eliminated."

Hoffman's first formal appeal for restoration of the full $5,000,000,000 in recovery funds showed that machinery shipments would have to be reduced from $1,100,000,000 to $100,000,000 if the Senate upholds the House slash.

Food Must Come First

In advance of Hoffman's appeal, a Republican member of the House indicated the committee would insist that food be the first priority of the recovery program.

Hoffman said food and raw materials must be shipped to Europe to survive, therefore the industrial recovery goods would have to be cut.

He decried the proposal of Chairman John Taber (R-NY) of the House Ways and Means Committee that RCA come back for more funds next year if it runs out.

"I can not state too strongly that the emergency is here," Hoffman said, adding—

"Our rate of expenditure during the next six months will determine whether we are now launching a true recovery program."

Two Men Meet Death In Fiery Plane Crash

CHILDRESS—(AP)—Two men were burned to death Thursday when the small plane in which they were taking off from a wheat field hit the back of a combine and burst into flames.

The victims were Waldo Drake, 27, and Jim Bob Wood, 27, both of Earth, Lamb County.

Witnesses said the plane, a Cub, hit the combine with its undercarriage, slipped upside down to the ground on the other side of the combine and started blazing. They said the engine was not functioning well and the flyers were unable to gain altitude to clear the combine.

Only the skeleton of the plane remained after the fire was out and the two men were in a sitting position, upside down, with their heads in the ground. Earnest Waters, Childrens County sheriff, said.

The two men were visiting their uncle at the Hunter farm approximately halfway between Childress and Tell, Texas.

Vandenberg Calls For Approval Of Resolution On UN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) urged the Senate Friday to help "organize the peace" so this country won't have to use force to help keep the world on an even keel.

Vandenberg asked quick approval of a resolution paving the way for American political and military support to European nations joining hands against possible Communist aggression.

He is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which drafted the resolution calling for strengthening of United Nations procedures. He said its adoption would show the Senate has not lost sight of the peace problem in voting to draft young men for military service.

"It is necessary to make it plain that we are not preoccupied with bombs and bayonets," Vandenberg said.

He called the resolution "a sound answer to several critical necessities of foreign policy." He added that it "offers new hope for security and peace for us and for others under the United Nations."

4500 FOOT WILDCAT STAKED IN EAST SUTTON TERRITORY

Fred M. Manning, Inc. of Fort Worth, has staked location on a 4,500 foot wildcat in East Sutton County, three miles west of the east lines of that county, and 10 miles west of Roosevelt, which is in West Kimble County.

The prospector will be Manning No. 1. Mrs. Margaret Schwiening, and is on a block of 4,523.68 acres. The drills are 2 1/2 feet from north and 2 1/2 feet from east lines of section 53, block A, GWT&P survey, A-253. Drilling is due to start soon.

BOTH MIDLAND VENTURES ARE MAKING MORE HOLES

Gulf Oil Corporation has staked 14 miles south of Midland in Central Midland County, and 680 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 36, block 38, TP survey, T-3-S, had reached 10,620 feet in shale, and lime, and was making more hole.

Tex Harvey Drilling Company No. 1 Floyd, at the center of the north-west quarter of the southwest quarter of section 15, block 37, TP survey, T-3-S, had penetrated under 3,400 feet in anhydrite and lime, and was drilling ahead. This venture is 13 miles southwest of Midland, in East Midland County. It is due to go to about 13,000 feet, to test into the Ellenburger.

SE CROCKETT WILDCATS TROCK DST AND CUT CORE

The Texas Company No. 1 Victor L. Pierce, Southwest Crockett County, wildcat 2 1/2 miles southeast of Oona, and 985 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 8, block C, W. Brown survey, cut a core at 11,212-922 feet, in the Ellenburger, and was coming out of the hole with that specimen.

Texas No. 1 Tom Smith, also in section 8, block C, W. Brown survey, and 680 feet from south and 985 feet from east lines of the west half of the section ran a one-hour and 20-minute drillstem test at 2,344 feet in a sand and shale zone.

Uneasy Peace Comes At Last To Palestine

By The Associated Press

Uneasy peace came to Palestine Friday to the accompaniment of whining air raid sirens in Tel Aviv and gun bursts in Jerusalem.

The four-week armistice and arms embargo became effective at 1 a. m. EST. During the truce, Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator, will seek to resolve the great issue of partition.

The Jews said the cease-fire generally was observed several hours before the deadline. They announced a last-minute bombing of Damascus. The Syrians said this bombing, causing no casualties and little damage.

The heaviest last-minute fighting was around Latrun, where the Arabs block the main Tel Aviv-Jerusalem supply road. The Israelis claimed "important successes" there.

Sirens, Random Shots

The Arab Legion of Trans-Jordan said the Jews broke the truce in Jerusalem within an hour, killing an Arab soldier. Random shooting echoed in the Holy City for six minutes after the armistice hour.

An hour and a half after the armistice was effective, sirens started an eerie wail in much-bombed Tel Aviv. There was no report of Arab planes sighted. Two warships appeared in the Tel Aviv waters, probably UN truce patrols.

Great Britain announced she would not recognize Israel during the truce. A spokesman said such recognition would be "a positive act of intervention" favoring one side.

Born in war, the first Jewish nation since before the days of Christ had its first day of peace. Both sides were frozen in their military positions. It was a day of burials of the slain, tending for the wounded and repairing of the havoc of war.

Arabs Feels Little Hope

"Hope was high in Israel that permanent peace might come from the impending talks on the Greek Island of Rhodes between now and July 2.

The Arabs held little hope for a lasting peace.

Premier Tewfik Abu Alhuda of Trans-Jordan said the Arabs may refuse even to sit at the same table with the Jews at Rhodes. He said certainly no peace can come if the Jews persist in their demands for a Jewish state.

He said the Arabs accepted the armistice at the personal request of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, but that there had been no British pressure.

House GOP Leaders Stamp 'Must' On Peacetime Draft

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House Republican leaders stamped an emphatic "must" Friday on enactment of a peacetime draft law next week.

Encouraged by the whopping 78-to-10 vote the Senate gave its Selective Service Revival Bill, House supporters were confident of sending a finished measure to President Truman before adjournment.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass) told reporters the House bill will be called to the floor Tuesday or Wednesday. He predicted it will pass with only one day of debate. This would contrast with six days and three nights of Senate wrangling.

House Rules Chairman Carl Albert (D-Okla.) said his committee will report Monday to vote the House measure "up or down." The bill has been awaiting Rules Committee clearance since May 7.

With adjournment tentatively set for a week from Saturday, the bill cannot be debated in the House unless the Rules Committee approves it.

No Basic Differences

There are no fundamental differences between the Senate and House bills, but some provisions will have to be compromised.

Both bills would expire in two years, and both would require two years of military service for enough men from 19 through 25 to bring the armed forces up to full authorized strength.

Amendments voted during Senate debate out the life of that bill from five years to two, tacked on a House-approved measure revamping the court martial systems of the Army and Air Force, and outlawed the poll tax as a requirement for voting by men inducted under the bill.

175 Industrial Experts Attend Safety Meeting

Approximately 175 industrial foremen and safety experts from 40 Texas and New Mexico cities were here Friday for the Permian Basin Foremen's Safety Conference which opened at 9 a. m. in the Crystal Ballroom of the Schlarbauer Hotel and was to continue throughout the day, terminating in a banquet at 7 p. m.

The morning program began with an introduction by E. C. McFadden, vice president of the Industrial Association of the Texas Safety Association. The Rev. H. E. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation, and Mayor R. H. Gifford welcomed the group to Midland.

A Ross Rommel, Houston, Assistant Chief Safety Engineer of the Humble Oil & Refining Company, presided during the morning lecture and discussion program. Featured talks were "Causes and Costs of Industrial Accidents in Texas" by A. F. Allen, vice president of the Texas Employers Insurance Association, Dallas; and "Fundamentals of a Sound Safety Program," by J. W. House, division superintendent of Humble Oil & Refining Company, Midland.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon program was to be presided over by V. O. Shawro, personnel director of the Southwest Public Service Company, Amarillo. Lectures on "Fire and Explosion in the Home and Industry Caused by Static Electricity" by G. M. Kintz, safety director for the United States Bureau of Mines, Dallas; and "Foreman's Responsibility in Accident Prevention" by C. D. Althway, safety director for the Arkansas Fuel Oil Company, Shreveport, La., were scheduled.

Charles A. Miller, president of the Texas Safety Association, and safety and personnel director for The Texas Company, Houston, was to be the principal speaker at the banquet Friday night, talking on "Safety in Industry."

Safety Display

Buffalo On Loose In Midland County

Buffalo are on the loose in the "wild and woolly" ranch country south of Midland.

R. H. Davidson reported Wednesday night a buffalo bull showed up at his ranch in South Midland County sometime Tuesday and is making himself at home there.

The Davidson ranch is about 20 miles south of Midland and off the Rankin Highway.

The rancher said the old bull, about six feet in height, must have jumped several fences to get to his ranch since he does not know of any buffalo in that immediate section. The animal has horns and is in fair shape.

The owner can have the beast by identifying him, Davidson said.

If your buffalo is missing, contact R. H. Davidson, Box No. 287, Midland.

Kjoebenhavn Survivors Tell Of Panic, Hysteria And Fright

By NIGEL ANDERSEN

AALBORG, DENMARK—(AP)—A bedlam of panic was described by survivors of the Danish vessel Kjoebenhavn which struck a mine Friday morning and sank with 400 aboard in the Kattegat.

First survivors brought ashore were landed from the Danish tugboat Danngulf Lube at Hals. They were a miserable group of exhausted, wounded men and women. Most of them did not know whether kinfolk with them on the vessel were dead or missing.

They told of seeing frantic passengers jumping off the smouldering vessel, some with children in their arms.

"I was asleep in my berth below deck and was awakened by a terrific burst followed by a rumbling noise," said Helge Petersen, a bus-ness man from Aalborg.

"I did not realize what had happened until I heard the sound of splashing water through the corridor followed by cries from a woman apparently in agony. I thought she was smothered, but suddenly I knew everything.

"I grabbed my trousers, rushed to the deck and jumped into a veritable bedlam. Men and women fought to reach the rail. Others tried to get away from the rail while crew members were pushing people into the water. I climbed a ladder in a frantic race against lashing waters, when the Kjoebenhavn went down.

"I won and clung to the ladder just above the water, exhausted beyond belief. For two hours until help arrived."

Another survivor, Mrs. Ellen Jensen of Aalborg, was hysterical. She had been on vacation in Copenhagen with her husband and two-year-old daughter. She said she did not know what had become of them.

"The gas I saw off my husband, she added, "was when he jumped into the sea with our little daughter in his arms. A little later I jumped myself and was taken on board a raft, but I was washed away from it and floated for what seemed to be an endless time before I was taken aboard the tanker."

DOWN SPORTS LANE

with TANNER LAINE

In many ways boxing and horse racing are similar. Yes, pick a horse on his past performance or on workouts. In boxing you pick one of two rivals because you like his record. When a horse gets old, say more than five, you lean back and think. Maybe his legs aren't what they used to be or the distance may be too far, you say to yourself.

It's the same in boxing. Take Joe Louis, for instance. The world's heavyweight champion is past his prime. He's 34 and fights once a year. A boxer, or even a horse getting the taste of competition once a year can't be expected to give his best despite all the grooming and preparation.

The same holds true of Jersey Joe Walcott, the father of six kids. He all but knocked the heavyweight crown from Louis' head last December. He's around 34, too. Nobody seems to know his exact age. He's been fighting so long that some observers seem to believe he's closer to 40.

At any rate, many a racetrack handicapper will tell you the thing to do is string along with the champion until he is beaten. That again makes you stop and think. Who inflicted the most damage and who looked fresher when it was all over last time they met? These are two important questions that apply to boxing as well as racing.

Walcott looked better than Louis last time. At the end of 15 rounds he honestly thought he won the decision. So did the referee, Ruby Goldstein. But the two judges voted for Louis. Their explanation, although never put on record, was "you can't take the little away from a man when his opponent runs away."

But again you've got to remember that Walcott floored Louis, that he landed the hardest blow, connected more often than the champion who at the end was bleeding from the mouth and had his left eye closed. That fight might have taken more out of Louis than many suspect. When the two negroes meet again on Wednesday, June 24 in Yankee Stadium, Walcott might have a little more ring courage than he had six months ago.

One thing Walcott knows is that Louis is not the Louis of old. But Walcott also knows what happened to seven of Louis' previous opponents who squared off a second time against the Brown Bomber.

Timmy Tamarzio, now line coach for the Detroit Lions, tells this one about the losing streak that chased him right out of baseball. Timmy was coaching a team of "hitless wonders" through a long losing streak at Denison University. The one day the team found itself in the unique position of having the bases full with no one out.—Desperately seeking a run to break the "jinx," they decided to try a squeeze play.—The attempted bunt was just a pop fly to the pitcher, who wheeled around and threw to third. From there it went to second and to first, killing off all the runners.—"Four put-outs!" exclaims Timmy. "That's how badly things were going. It convinced me baseball was not for me."

2—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JUNE 11, 1958

Oilers Salvage Win In Series

The Midland Indians and the San Angelo Colts open a two-game series at 8:15 p. m. Friday in Indian Park. The second contest is slated Saturday night.

The visiting Colts are in seventh place in the Longhorn League. Midland rests in second place. But anything can happen in this loop. In six games with Colts this year, the Indians have won five.

Odessa's Oilers salvaged a win of one game in three with the Midland Indians 9-2 here Thursday night taking the third and last tilt of the series. Midland won two with scores of 8-5 and 15-2.

An Indian, Herbie Pitts, put the Indian sign all over the Midland Indians Thursday night. The young Odessa hurler scattered seven Midland hits and was never in danger after the opening frame. He was tight in the clutches.

It was Pitts' second straight win over Midland this season. The Indians forged out in front with two runs; Odessa's one in the first inning and the home folk settled in their seats for continued enjoyment of what had happened two nights before.

But, no! Midland never scratched after the first inning although several opportunities came around. Odessa went on to score one in the fourth and exploded for six in the eighth.

Ready Gressed
Ralph Blair started on the mound for Midland but went out under a landslide in the fat eighth of Odessa. Reliever San Van Hoozer was rudely greeted with a double by Leon Brinkopf, Otter bat star, which scored three runs. Odessa got six runs on four hits, one hit batter and two walks in the eighth and this was the decider.

Midland's runs came in the first when Melillo walked, Collins singled scoring Melillo who had gone to second on a passed ball, Nipp struck out, Prince tripled scoring Collins, James hit a fielder's choice and Prince was out at the plate.

NEWARK, N. J. (P)—
The champion who came back, Tony Zale, charted a fighting future Friday over the prostrate form of Rocky Graziano.

Zale, the underdog, regained the world's middleweight title by knocking out Graziano, just as he predicted he would, in the third round of their third encounter.

Although 34, Zale immediately proclaimed he would not retire. He offered to fight all comers and declared: "I feel like I'm going the other way again—to youth."

Marcel Cerdan of France was the boxer mentioned as Zale's probable next opponent, providing Cerdan takes back the European title from Cyrille Delannoit of Belgium July 10.

Both of the previous fights between the poised, silent Zale and the tough and rugged Graziano went six rounds, but Zale needed only half that Thursday night. He floored Graziano after less than a minute of the first round, then lost the second when Rocky came surging back.

But in the third Zale was absolute master. He downed Graziano for the count of seven, twice hat him hanging on the ropes, and ended matters with a tremendous left to the head after 1:08 minutes. In between all this punishment Graziano kept on swinging.

Graziano was numbed, bruised and baffled after he was revived and taken to his dressing room. He received a concussion and for a time his reflexes were gone.

However, he was pronounced "absolutely okay" early Friday by his manager, Irving Cohen.

Graziano said he never got over the first punch which Zale landed—a left to the temple.

Hit by pitched ball—Bolen by Blair. Bases on balls—off Pitts; off Blair 6; off Van Hoozer 2. Struck out—by Pitts 6; by Blair 1. Hits, runs-off Blair 9 and 8 in 7 1/3 innings; off Van Hoozer 3 and 1 in 2 1/3 innings. Wild pitches—Blair 2. Losing pitcher—Blair. Umpires—Frank and Sadowski. Time: 2:20.

MAJOR LEAGUES—Braves' Pennant Hopes Mount As Sain, Spahn Regain Form

By RALPH BODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn once again are being called the Mr. Right and Mr. Left of the Boston Braves' pitching staff.

Sain and Spahn won 21 games for the Braves in 1947 and the National League pennant hopes of the Braves hinge on their duplicating that feat this year.

Both however, got off to poor starts. Each won only one game out of his first three contests.

Sain, the righthander, pitched the Braves into second place Thursday by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 10-2 in a night game at St. Louis.

It was the Braves' fifth straight victory and second in a row over the Cardinals. Spahn, the lefthander, stopped the Redbirds 11-7 Wednesday night for his fifth win and fourth in his last six starts.

The New York Giants were beaten 6-4 by the last-place Cubs in a day game at Chicago, while the Pittsburgh Pirates turned back the Brooklyn Dodgers 4-1 in a night contest at Pittsburgh.

Island Break Stopped
The American League's front-running Cleveland Indians took a 15-7 pounding from the Red Sox in a day game at Boston. The loss ended a five-game Cleveland winning streak and cut their margin to three games over the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics.

Bobby Feller started for Cleveland but was routed in the third inning when the Red Sox jammed eight runs home.

Righthander Joe Dobson went the distance for Boston, scattering nine hits to post his seventh triumph of the year.

Yanks, A's Aare Close
The Athletics also enjoyed a big inning in crumpling the Detroit Tigers 10-4. Philadelphia pushed seven runners home in the fourth inning. Philadelphia now trails the second place Yanks by four percentage points. The Yanks' scheduled game with the Chicago White Sox in New York was postponed because of rain.

The Washington Senators triumphed 5-4 over the St. Louis Browns in a night game at Washington when Frank Biscan walked Mark Christmas with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth to force in the deciding run.

The Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phillies were idle.

Borger walloped Clovis 20-6 Thursday night and Albuquerque downed second-place Amarillo 11-3. Another wild scoring game was Lamesa's 2-1 victory over Lubbock, while Abilene went 11 innings before beating Pampa 4-3.

Borger batted around twice in a wild seventh inning and scored 12 runs in that frame off nine walks and six hits. Tommy Fox hit two home runs for the Gasters and Marvin McNulty and Leon Mitchell one each. Bob Crandall's infield tap with the bases loaded scored Abilene's winning run. It was the second win in a row for the Blue Sox over the league-leading Oilers.

Lamesa wore out five Lubbock pitchers in pounding out 17 hits for a one-sided triumph. George Sturdivant hit two home runs for Lamesa.

Albuquerque used home runs by Frank O'Brien, Dick DeYonno and Lynn Pili to beat Amarillo.

Texas League—Buffs Win To Crowd Kittens For Loop Lead

By The Associated Press

Houston pins its hopes to take over the Texas League lead Friday night on the strong left arm of Little Pete Mason.

The Buffs moved within half-game of the top spot by handing the league-leading Fort Worth Cats a 4-1 licking Thursday night. It was the fourth defeat in a row for the Cats.

Fort Worth has had little luck against left-hand pitchers this year and in Mason they face one of the best of southpaws in the league. He has won his last six games.

While Houston crept closer to the Cats, Tulsa plastered a 10-4 defeat on Beaumont, Shreveport downed Oklahoma City 5-1, and San Antonio yielded to host Dallas 7-3.

Cloyd Boyer rat his string of strikeouts to 87 by whiffing ten Fort Worth batters. He issued nine walks, however, and the Cats had seven men on base when the 30-year-old Boyer whiffed Yie Marso for the final out and a five-hit triumph.

Wildness and bad fielding hindered Cat twirler Dwain Sloat, who gave up only five hits. Houston made its first tally in the first, added two more off two hits, a walk, a hit batsman and a fielder's choice in the third. Milt Schmees drove in two Cat runs in the ninth with a single.

Anybody Listening?

There is a perfect climax to the incredible "Voice of America" story that seems to have been overlooked. The investigating congressmen were so incensed by what they called the "drivel, slander and falsehood" of some Spanish-language broadcasts to Latin America that they paid little attention to this point brought out in the testimony: There was no evidence of listener reaction in Latin America.

Congress appropriated millions for these broadcasts and apparently forgot them. The State Department farmed some of them out to private networks, as Congress ordered, and then either forgot them or was so understaffed that it couldn't check them.

And then Latin America forgot to listen. At least, no friend of the Yankees arose to protest the slander on the fair names of New England, Nevada, Texas, and the rest. Nobody seemed to chuckle over this embarrassing example of self-criticism.

It was bad enough for these broadcasts to go out—though not as bad as some affronted congressmen think. But it was far worse to learn that all this elaborate expenditure of money and effort seems to have just gone bouncing off into space, and that was the end of it.

From now on the "Voice of America" scripts—assuming that the "Voice" survives—will probably be checked and double-checked. We may assume that there will be no more broadcast catalogs of our states' imperfections. But all the checking will not guarantee any listeners.

A $1,000,000,000 appropriation would not put radios in the homes of all the millions of Latin Americans who haven't even money enough for proper food and clothing. It would not force the few who have radios to listen to the short-wave "Voice" in preference to domestic programs. In Europe and Asia, it would not convert many among the millions of Russians who have been taught from childhood to believe only what the state wants them to believe—or suffer the dire consequences.

Telling the story of free America to the world by radio was a wonderful idea. It was a high-minded notion to sing our songs to people in far-off lands, and give them reviews of our new books, and sketch for them the varied pictures of our daily life.

So a lot of people were set to work to carry out the idea. There was a lot of space to fill and a lot of words to be spoken. And, as with a couple of other high-minded, big-scale creative writing projects called WPA and OWI, some of the results were bound to be pretty silly.

It will be a great day when the nationalistic boundaries of countless human minds are erased, and people understand better the lives and problems and thoughts of their fellows in other lands. But there are some more immediate problems that have to be solved before that day arrives.

Most of these problems hinge on peaceable agreement among the people who make the policies of world governments and shape the destinies of nations. We doubt that most of those people really care whether Texas was founded in sin or conceived in holy political wedlock.

So perhaps Congress could appropriate our money to better advantage than on these free-wheeling cultural productions. And perhaps the State Department might do better, for the time being, if it took a more direct and concrete approach toward the creation of worldwide good will for America.

An Eastern woman is going to marry a man who broke her nose in an argument. Just give her time—she'll get even!

There's nothing gained when you bury the hatchet but keep the hammer out.

 Exposure to sunlight, like everything else, can be greatly overdone and often is. The amount of sunlight from which the skin and body can benefit is not unlimited. A lot of sun is not necessarily better than a little sun. After a long winter of little sunshine the skin is not able to stand much sun until it has become accustomed to it.
 Everyone knows that the rays of the sun contain properties which are necessary for growth of plants and helpful, if not quite so obviously necessary, for the health and well-being of human beings and animals. One of the benefits which the sun can give is to aid the human skin in producing a substance called vitamin D, which is necessary for complete good health.
 A brown, tanned color is the result of the deposit of a pigment or coloring matter in the skin called melanin. This helps to protect the body against getting too much from which is desired.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

QUESTION: Is it true that putting castor oil on the eye lashes will make them grow longer?
 ANSWER: No so far as I know.

QUESTION: The sun's rays, when the skin becomes pale it means that there is not much melanin present. Melanin does not flow to the skin at once on exposure to sun but takes time. A white skin, therefore, is not as well protected against the sun as it is when good tanning is present. Until the skin is protected in this way it can be burned by the sun in almost exactly the same way that it can be burned by any other hot substance.

When the skin is burned by sun the outer layers are killed. After a severe sunburn, the outer layers are shed in sheets, which we call peeling. The dead outer layers do not get any benefit from the sun and actually prevent some of the good which is desired.

You Can't Enjoy The Big Game Without This GOP Scoreboard

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—Six characters are in search of the Republican presidential nomination at Philadelphia this month. The seventh and leading possibility, Vandenberg, says he doesn't want the job. The favorite sons—Baldwin of Connecticut, Martin of Pennsylvania, Green of Illinois and others like them—are in the race only as stalking horses or dark-horse compromises, in case the seven deadlock.

Sheet music will have little to do with the convention's choice. There won't be any intelligence test, high man to get the job.
 Compromises by the candidates themselves, deals by the bosses and m.b. psychology of the delegates determine the outcome.

Here's The Line-Up
 Analyzing the candidates separately, each shows up with certain virtues—and certain faults. Analyzing them together, comparing them on points like stallions in a horse show, to see which should get the cheap's blue ribbon, reveals some interesting data:

On the basis of age, Mac is 66, Van 64, Joe 63, Bob 56, Earl 57, Tom 46 and Harold 41.
 As for families, the Warrens have three boys and three girls, which they decided was the ideal size for a family before they married. The Tatts have four grown sons, Senator Vandenberg, by his first wife, has two married daughters and a bachelor son, who is his secretary. The Stassen's have a boy of 13 and a girl of six, the Deweys two boys of 13 and 15, the MacArthurs one son, Arthur, 10.

Martin's father was a blacksmith, Stassen's a farmer, Dewey's a newspaper publisher and postmaster, Vandenberg's a harnessmaker, Warren's a railroad car repairman, MacArthur's an Army officer, Tatt's a lawyer. Tatt is the only one born into a well-to-do family.

Stassen, Dewey, Martin and Warren were all born to poor parents and worked their way up. Warren's parents were brought to America as children by immigrant parents, his father from Norway, his mother from Sweden. Stassen's father was born to Norwegian and Czech parents. His mother was born in Germany and brought to America by immigrant parents. Martin's father was Scotch, his mother Irish.

Dewey's grandfather was one of the founders of the Republican Party in Michigan and he is distantly related to Admiral Dewey of Manila Bay fame. Vandenberg's father was a Democrat until he was ruined by a Democratic depression.

Martin graduated from high school, Vandenberg had one year of college, MacArthur led his class at West Point. Dewey, Warren, Tatt and Stassen went to college and law school. Vandenberg was editor of the Grand Rapids Herald till he came to Washington, 1938. Martin is still owner and publisher of the North Attleboro, Mass., Evening Chronicle.

Here's Their Experience
 By experience, Vandenberg has been a senator 20 years, Martin a congressman 24, Dewey, Stassen and Warren were all prosecuting attor-

The Rainbow division in France in World War I, was U. S. chief of staff during the Igouze army march on Washington in 1932, was retired in 1935 and went to the Philippines as field marshal. He hasn't been back in the U. S. since. During the war he was Allied commander in chief in the Pacific.

Warren was drafted in 1917 and came out of the war a Lieutenant, but never got overseas. The others have no military records. Dewey, Warren, Tatt and Martin have no foreign service experience.

Reading from left to right, the candidates would probably line up Stassen, Warren, Vandenberg, Dewey, Tatt, Martin and MacArthur. Stassen, MacArthur, Vandenberg and Warren are six-footers, the other six feet. Dewey is the only one with a mustache. Tatt has the least hair.

Take your pick.

Nobody Loves Forever

By Margaret Brucker

THIS was Tom Blake, her husband, returned from overseas. This was the man she had married in a moment of mad infatuation and now planned to leave. Over and over again Jessica had rehearsed to herself just what she would say or do should Tom return before she could leave Akron. Now, after the first moment of shock at his appearance, she forgot everything else in the wild relief that she was no longer alone. Tom was here to share her anxiety, and, with this in mind, she seized his hand and drew him toward the living room, trying hysterically to explain just what had happened: the storm, the fire, and her own fright when his mother did not come home, her terror when a stranger brought Mrs. Blake back with her hands smoke-blackened and her hands scarred with burns.

significance to her lack of demonstration. Thankfully she heard a car stop outside and a little later the doctor appeared. Now she had an interval to pull herself together, to escape Tom's notice, to slip about following the doctor's directions while Tom and the doctor discussed Mrs. Blake's condition in low, serious tones.

Tom inquired, "Will she recover?"

The doctor could not tell. There might be no immediate change, and again Mrs. Blake might regain consciousness any minute. She must be watched constantly. The attack seemed to be the result of a severe shock.

HE turned to Jessica. "Did she know anyone injured at the fire?"

"Of course not," Tom said. "Fire was an obsession with my mother and always have been. For years my sister and I tried to persuade her to remain quietly at home, but in spite of everything we could say she would slip off, even at night."

"This will be her last trip," said the doctor bluntly.

He described the fire and talked at length about the downtown tragedy. He repeated what Doris' husband had said, that many were trapped in the burning building and others taken to hospitals still unidentified. He was stern in his judgment of the men who had run away and left the girls they had been with to face a tragic death.

He rambled on as he snapped shut his case and picked up his overcoat, but Tom only half listened, with no interest in the fire, concerned only about his mother.

"What's the worst that can happen?" he demanded.

The doctor hesitated. "The worst? She may be paralyzed for the rest of her life, son," he answered finally.

Tom uttered a sharp exclamation of disbelief.

Tom interrupted. "Where's Lucy?"

He looked bewildered and unable to grasp the fact that his mother-in-law still and later before him.

"Lucy went off this morning on a Y hike. She'll be back tomorrow afternoon."

"We'll have to locate her at once," said Tom. "She will know how this happened and just what to do."

Yes, Lucy would know. Lucy would be gentle and capable. Lucy would comfort Tom.

Jessica found herself awkward and ill at ease in Tom's presence. For the moment he was too absorbed in his mother to attach any

So-called electric eels are like South and Central American fish that generate electricity in their bodies. They can give off electric shocks strong enough to kill small fish and stun humans.

The doctor said, "We can hope. Hope, thought Jessica bleakly. What hope would there be for anyone, if his diagnosis should prove correct? Paralyzed! Impossible to imagine an active person like Mrs. Blake helpless and unable to move. Frightening to think of the future which this threat offered Lucy and Tom. Who would take care of a helpless invalid?"

I will not, she told herself passionately, maintaining self-control with an effort.

SHE was glad when the doctor suggested that Tom carry his mother upstairs to her own room. Jessica ran ahead to prepare the room, pulled down shades and opened the smooth bed, all the time dreading the moment when the doctor would leave and she would be alone with Tom. Would she let pity weaken her resolve? Would Tom continue to be too absorbed in his mother's illness to show any interest in her for the present? If only she need say nothing to hurt him until Lucy came to be with him.

Mrs. Blake lay like a corpse on the bed, her bandaged hands stiff and motionless on the cover, her face as pale as death, her closed eyes sunken and dark-circled.

Would she die?

No. She would not die, thought Jessica bitterly. She would live and through this tragic illness, reach out and control the future as she had the past, reach out and destroy Jessica's own hope of happiness. She wanted to cry out from sheer exhaustion and despair. "What's wrong, Jess?" Tom's voice was gentle.

"I'm tired," she said, and moved toward the doorway.

"Of course. Go to bed and get some rest. I'll stay with Mother." Jessica paused uncertainly.

"You'll call if you need me?"

"I'll call if I need you." He sat down beside his mother's bed. He made no move to touch her as she passed him. He seemed lost in some gloomy reverie of his own, and her last glimpse of Tom, as she looked back from the hall, showed him with his head buried in his hands.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

No readers, you are not seeing double when you look at today's hand. There are two kings of spades and two kings of hearts, and other duplications. This is a situation that happens once in a while in tournament bridge. This one came up in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the Midwest regional championships tournament.

Frank Weisbach, of Cincinnati, who with Allen Harvey of Louisville, Ky., won the world championship masters pair event last summer, was the victim of the situation. In duplicate bridge the hands are dealt out on the first round and placed in duplicate boards. What happened here was that the North West and South players look their cards from board No. 1, while Weisbach, by the East look his by mistake from board No. 2.

When the dummy went down, Weisbach saw that South had the jack of hearts, the ten of diamonds and seven of clubs, all of which he had in his own hand. Of course, he called the tournament director for a ruling.

Weisbach explained the bidding and that his cards were from the wrong board. The director correctly informed him that he would have to put his hand back in board No. 2 and take the correct hand from board No. 1 and that he was responsible for all of the bids he had made. He would have to play it out with the correct cards.

Weisbach took the correct hand, which was as follows: spades, ace, 8; hearts, queen, 6, 4, 2;

Shell Engineer Is Speaker At Meeting Of Presbyterian Men

A. C. Buines, reservoir engineer of the Shell Oil Company here, was the guest speaker at the June dinner-meeting of Presbyterian Men of Midland Thursday night at the church. "The Conflict Between Religion and Science" was the subject of his address.

The speaker said efforts long have been made to reconcile religion and science, but the conflict still remains.

He said the principal objective of mankind is to achieve happiness and contentment, present and future, and that some think they can be achieved through science and others through religion.

Buines mentioned the scientific successes down through the years, and then asked, "Has science actually achieved happiness?"

He recalled that practically all scientific developments for the good of mankind have also been used for evil, even though most individual scientists have intended their discoveries and inventions for better living. He mentioned the atom bomb and other discoveries used in scientific warfare.

"Science seeks out the truth, but it cannot control the usage of its discoveries, whereas religion accepts scientific methods but says the discoveries shall be used only for good," Buines said.

He said if the world is to be saved, its people must return to the old fundamental beliefs, with full acceptance of Biblical teachings.

Robert Payne, program chairman, introduced the speaker, and President Raymond Lynch presided.

Lynch announced a barbecue will be held the second Thursday in July.

No Bids Received On Church Building Job

No bids had been received Thursday afternoon when members of the Expansion Committee of the First Presbyterian Church met to let a contract for the construction of an educational building annex to the church plant here. Church officials said plans and specifications for the project had been forwarded to seven contractors.

Several contractors advised the committee they would figure the construction job on a cost plus basis.

The committee did not announce what steps it would take in waiting the expansion program underway.

The debris was named after Andreas Dahl, Swedish botanist.

STEAMBOAT on the RIVER

The steamboat was a glamorous sight on many of our navigable rivers many years ago. People thronged the wharfs and landings to see "the boat" come in bringing passengers, freight, and mail.

Some of these old steamers still ply their trade, but most of them have passed into history. Time and change have produced more modern methods of transportation.

The steamboat in the picture thus becomes a symbol of change. But the river on which it rides is God's handiwork, a symbol of constancy. It flows on and on through the endless years.

The Church stands for the things of God—the constant things. It stands for the Bible, for faith and hope and right living. All material things may change, but these will abide forever.

Get acquainted with your Church, and put your faith in the things that endure.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday ..... Deuteronomy 23:26-28
Monday ..... Psalms 46:1-3
Tuesday ..... Psalms 121
Wednesday ..... John 11:2-9
Thursday ..... Matthew 13:1-9
Friday ..... Revelation 1:6-11
Saturday ..... Revelation 22:1-5

Crop Report Raises Hopes For More Food, Lower Prices In 1949

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A government crop report raised hopes Friday for more meat, dairy and poultry products, and lower prices—in 1949.

The Agriculture Department said the crop—raw material for livestock food products—is off to a much better start than a year ago when it turned out to be a near-failure.

Furthermore, wheat prospects turned up enough during May, the department said, to indicate that this crop may be the country's second largest in history. Wheat is used for livestock feed as well as for direct food.

Brightening future meat prospect still further was the prediction of a bumper cattle crop and the largest barley crop since 1943.

Shortage Would Be Ended

If the present favorable grain crop outlook continues through to harvest time, the current grain shortage would be ended and farmers would be in a position of expanding livestock numbers again.

Consumers would not feel the full effect before the latter part of next year, however. That is because it takes about a year to convert grains into pork and two to three years into beef. Farm officials say cheaper meat prices cannot be expected until production jumps.

Truman To Keep 'Pouring It On'

OLYMPIA, WASH.—(AP)—President Truman renewed his bombardment of Congress temporarily Friday to fly over the Columbia River flood area but said he would keep "pouring it on" until the November election.

His face flushed from campaigning by open car and his voice a trifle husky, the chief executive said he would carry his case from one end of the country to the other and added:

"Then, if you people want to continue the policies of the 30th Congress, that will be your funeral."

In off-the-cuff talks at Bremerton, Tacoma and Olympia and in his formal speech at Seattle, the President:

Called Congress a "special interest Congress";

Told the voters they should not be "suckers" for a Congress which will be "a disgrace to this country" if it fails to vote price, housing and labor welfare laws.

Said a lot of congressmen were listening "to the greatest gathering of lobbyists in Washington that has ever been formed in this country."

Cameron Physician May Be Discharged From Prison July 6

AUSTIN—(AP)—Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron has donated another pint of blood and shortened his penitentiary sentence by another 30 days.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester Friday granted the physician his fourth 30-day reduction of sentence for giving approximately a pint of blood to indigent patients at the M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research at Houston.

Fifteen other convicts who donated like amounts to the cancer research hospital also were given 30-day commutations.

Under a long established practice, each donation of blood brings a 30-day reduction in sentence. Friday's were recommended by Prison Manager O. B. Ellis and the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

The new reduction means that Newton, convicted by assault to murder on Dr. Roy L. Hunt of Littlefield in 1942, may be discharged as a prisoner July 6, if he has accumulated all possible good credits.

Midland Officers Capture Convict

Midland officers Friday were waiting for California officers to arrive and pick up a 30-year-old escaped convict from that state who was arrested here Tuesday with a stolen automobile.

City Policemen L. T. Stephens and Jim Wilkerson arrested the man here and it developed he was wanted in California. The man had escaped with two others and had stolen a car. He was serving a term for car theft, officers said.

Turtle Turns Up Four Years After Racing

Four years ago John Scrogin staged a turtle race for the Lions Carnival at the site of the present F. W. Woolworth Store on North Main Street in Midland.

Thursday the best turtle racer in the bunch back there in 1944 was found at the First Baptist Church, two blocks up the street from the race "track."

That best racer four years ago had a red painted back. Traces of the red paint still were on the turtle.

The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church, brought the turtle to the Reporter-Telegram to verify the story. He will repair the turtle, date him, and turn him loose again.

So if you find a red back turtle 1950—something?

U. S., Britain Open Negotiations On Aid Operation Agreements

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States Friday opened negotiations with the Marshall Plan countries on agreements to govern American-European recovery operations.

Franks said he thought that as the talks progress various differences which have been reported from London will disappear in fairly quick understandings.

But it would be surprising, he said, if one or two points do not emerge which will require serious negotiations for settlement.
