Try That Left-Handed Time Saver
By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
EAST LANSING, MICH.—(AP)—Dr. Gross of Michigan State College advises housewives to remember their left hand.

On household jobs, a good left hand can cut down on the time needed for each job, she explains. And the savings in time mean less of that tired, flustered feeling of always being rushed.

Dr. Gross is in charge of the home management research projects of the college's Agricultural Experiment Station. She is interested in how housewives can save steps, motions, and energy in running their homes.

Experts in industry work out ways to simplify jobs to get more done with less effort. The same kind of research is being applied to benefit housewives.

Generally Dr. Gross said, considerable time can be saved by putting the left hand to work. Women should dust or polish with a cloth in each hand, and wash windows the same way.

Both hands should be used in removing or replacing dishes and glasses from cupboards, or in placing silverware and dishes at the table. When drying dishes, the left hand should use the towel as well as the right. In molding cookies the dough can be spooned up with the right hand, rolled into ball and placed on the baking sheet with the left hand.

Time-Saving

On cleaning spinach, the time saving was 20 per cent. On washing the woodwork, the saving was 10 per cent. On the spinach but process, some time-saver recommendations are:

Use lukewarm water, not cold. Arrange the work set-up to cut the spinach as it's taken from the bag and have the waste bowl next in line; wash in a double sink or two containers that can be alternately filled with water, to avoid waiting; and use both hands to lift the spinach and floating bits from the water.

For washing the woodwork: Put the pail on something at a convenient height, instead of on the floor; use a cleaning agent that doesn't require rinsing, like trisodium phosphate, instead of soap; use long strokes, not short ones in washing; and keep the drying cloth handy in an apron pocket.

The time savings weren't big, but if all the jobs are properly organized, the minutes and seconds mount up to an hour or more in an eight-hour day.

"When I started taking Barocrate, I weighed 185 pounds. I now weigh 160. I certainly praise Barocrate."—G. W. Miller, Weatherford, Texas.

When you buy Barocrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet nor for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barocrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe to take off fat.

Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barocrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

WE'RE PROUD of the numerous cases that we've had during our two years here. Cases such as:

CASE No. 134—Man, age 37, had pain in lower part of back soreness in back, nervous, vomiting spells in mornings. After proper chiropractic care and necessary adjustments, the conditions cleared up and the patient said he felt fine.

CASE No. 22—Woman, age 26 back ached, got tired easily unable to do house work. She was very nervous and high strung. She had been in bed for the past three days with painful "catch" in back and hip. Had tried everything, including surgery for relief. After one adjustment the "catch" disappeared and with the proper chiropractic care she reported, "My back doesn't hurt any more and I feel fine!"

Dorothy Wright Is Honored With Kitchen Shower

Decorations of kitchen "gadgets" and utensils helped to give the proper atmosphere at the kitchen shower given Miss Dorothy Sue Wright by Mrs. Jack W. Goddard and Miss Mary Ann Goddard Tuesday morning.

Miss Wright, bride-elect of H. G. Bedford, Jr., is from Coleman and formerly lived in Midland.

A lace cloth covered the serving-table, whose centerpiece of white daisies and feverfew in a red bowl helped carry out the "kitchen" color scheme of red and white.

The guests registered by leaving their favorite recipes in a red recipe book, which was presented to the honoree. Miss Ann Tucker had charge of the book.

Big Basket Of Gifts

Gifts were presented to Miss Wright in a clothbasket lined in red and white, which she also received.

Red bowls of feverfew and daisies in the entertaining rooms helped carry out the color motif.

The guest of honor received a corsage of feverfew from her hostesses. Miss Tucker wore a corsage fashioned from a miniature red knife and fork set, and Miss Goddard's corsage was made of measuring spoons tied with a red ribbon.

The guest list included Miss Wright, Miss Marilyn Miller, Miss Grace Baker, Miss Phyllis Chancellor, Miss Pat Ruckman, Miss Dorothy Wright, Miss Jane Peterson, Miss Montie Jo Glass, Miss Pat Flanagan, Miss Shirley Lones, Miss Catherine Lee McDonough, Miss Barbara Cowden, Miss Diana Neisel, and the hostesses.

Unusual Setting And Comedy Feature Play Which Opens Thursday

A house and a full size apple tree are the setting for the Community Theater's production of the ever-popular comedy "On Borrowed Time," which opens a three day run at the City-County Auditorium Thursday night.

Not since the 1944 production of "Green Grow The Lilacs" by the former Civic Theater, have Midland first-nighters seen an unusual setting as the one for "On Borrowed Time." And the comedy in this play promises to match the scope of its stage set.

Midlanders may have their choice of three performances, Thursday through Saturday, when they reserve their seats at Tallorfine Store starting Thursday at 9 a. m. The seat board will be at Tallorfine through each day of the play's run, and will open at the box-office in the auditorium each night at 7:30 p. m.

Leaves Produced

As stage workers rushed to complete the set Monday night, it was discovered more leaves would have to be added to the tree and work was started on another five hundred hand made apple leaves. Each leaf is cut from unbleached muslin, "sized" with a glue solution and painted. Using florist's wire and tape they are then grouped into clusters of three or more and attached to the branches. The apples were on the tree Wednesday and everything is ready for the final rehearsal Wednesday evening.

The cast includes some new faces along with those familiar to Community Theater audiences. Among the group are Leon Valdes, Elvin Weatherabee, Jr., Norris Greath, Louise Showalter, Myrtle Ratcliff, Billie Reed, Lee Warren Hays, Bill McMorris, Jack Menish, Don McKibben, Bill Waldschmidt, and George S. Cone, Jr.

Refreshments will be served in the lobby at each performance by members of the Recent Graduates Group of the A.A.U.W. Curtain time for this seventeenth Community Theater production is 8:30 p. m. each evening, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Political Technique

Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission has told a Senate appropriations subcommittee of "wholly preliminary, but impressive" developments in radioactive medicine. It is now possible, he said, to inject radioactive colloidal gold into a cancer that can be reached with a hypodermic needle. It is also possible to send radioactive iodine to any part of the body and concentrate any desired amount there without harm to other tissues.
 These are not cures for cancer. As yet they are not even treatments. But they may be the spearhead of an attack which some day will conquer what is perhaps the most horrible disease of all mankind's ailments.
 Some day, surely, the announcement of cancer's conquest will come—in those careful words which, to the honor of medical ethics and scientific caution, are used to guard the sufferer from false hopes. But the announcement will come only if all who control nuclear research will use the wisdom that their solemn obligation demands. A beginning of that wisdom would be to remove the whole atomic program as far as possible from politics.

The two developments which Strauss mentioned were made possible by radioactive elements from the Oak Ridge atomic pile. That same pile is the source of weapons most important to our national defense. And since national defense is the responsibility of government, and government is a political structure, the divorce of science from politics is not easy to achieve.
 Strauss' disclosures were made in connection with the Atomic Energy Commission's appeal for restoration of a $48,000,000 cut in its appropriation by the House of Representatives. What particularly disturbed the commission's chairman, David Lilienthal, was that the House had specified that this cut must be made in basic research.
 Many, if not most, of the world's great discoveries have originated in basic research. That is, the scientist did not set out to invent something specific. More often he discovered that he could explain and control some action or behavior in nature. The practical applications came later.

The field of atomic energy is still largely uncharted. And we are willing to go along with Lilienthal's earlier statement that scientists do not know in what section of that field new discoveries may be found.
 So when Congressman Taber and his House Appropriations Committee confidently say where and how the atomic energy appropriation is to be spent, they are implying that they have knowledge which Lilienthal says the scientists don't possess.
 Lilienthal has consistently refused to play politics in non-political matters. So we believe that when he asks that the appropriation cut be restored, he is speaking honestly and without political motives.
 Congressman Taber & Co. have assumed a big responsibility in doling out funds to the atomic scientists. Yet they have dealt with the funds as if the atomic energy program was just another routine political matter.
 But the Atomic Energy Commission is not just another agency. It is not simply a bomb factory. Its activities are concerned with life as well as death. They may hold the key to cancer's cure as well as to incredible destruction. Yet it is conceivable that that key might be lost or at least misused if, in the last analysis, the course of atomic research were to be directed by politicians rather than by scientists.

Perennial Problem

The government is going to issue a special stamp honoring the centennial of America's poultry industry. The problem of the stamp's design will probably revive the old question: Which came first, the chicken or the egg?

A Little Souvenir Of The Trip

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Look For Many New Faces When 81st Congress Convenes

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent
 WASHINGTON—The 81st Congress which convenes in Washington next January will very definitely have a different look. Thirty-three senators have to be elected in November. Senator Overton of Louisiana died. Seven veterans are resigning: Capper of Kansas, Hawkes of New Jersey, White of Maine, Moore of Oklahoma, Bushfield of South Dakota, Hatch of New Mexico and Pappy O'Daniel of Texas. Four Republicans are leaving: Knutson of Minnesota, Ball of Minnesota, Brooks of Illinois, Cooper of Kentucky, Revercomb of West Virginia. Two Democrats are in the same boat: Johnson of Colorado and Tom Stewart of Tennessee. Unseated districts in North Carolina has already been defeated in state primary.

All 435 of the congressmen must stand for reelection. Four important Republican committee chairmen have announced they may not run for reelection, but may change their minds: Knutson of Minnesota, Andrews of New York, Dirksen of Illinois, Dardley of New Jersey. Almost 100 House seats were won in the 1946 election by a margin of less than five per cent. A change of that much the other way this November would mean many new faces. But it's too early to do any predicting on that score now, for the influence of the third party and the ability of candidates to ride on the coattails of the presidential candidate is uncertain. Present divisions is 345 Republican, 185 Democrat, two American Labor, three vacancies.

Greeks Have Explanation
 Greeks have a novel explanation for their government's recent execution of more than 200 political prisoners in one week. It wasn't just a retaliation for assassination of the minister of justice. But during a week's religious holiday, the jails were filled with political prisoners. No trials were held during the holiday. After it was over the accumulation of cases had to be cleared up and that's why so many prisoners appeared to be executed in what looked like a mass killing. Rate of executions is now said to be back at normal, though what's normal isn't stated.

With U. S. cost of living index expected to show further rise for May, Department of Agriculture's "Outlook Digest" predicts food will be more plentiful for the rest of the Summer, as new crops come in, but that total supplies will be lower than last year and prices will therefore average higher.
 What is "unification"?
 Here's latest blunder of armed services which again raises question of just what "unification" is supposed to mean. Army is now preparing to put out a book giving records of all medal of honor winners in U. S. military history. Cost of the slick paper job is said to be around $30,000. This project was started just before unification law was passed. Serious consideration

The DOCTOR Says
DDT Rarely Harms Humans But Solutions Using It May

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
 Written for NEA Service
 DDT means death to most insects and is being used, more and more. Pure DDT does not cause irritation of the skin in either animals or man. So far, as is now known, DDT does not produce allergy, that is increased sensitiveness such as hives, or asthma.
 This substance is used either in a powder form or is dissolved in liquids and used as a spray. The powder does not seem to produce any harm to a person's skin or harmful symptoms even when inhaled. DDT, when dissolved in liquids, however, is another matter. The liquids often contain other chemicals which are skin irritants, one of the most common being kerosene. Also the vapors of kerosene or some of the other solutions when inhaled can produce irritation of the mucous membranes and may cause asthmatic attacks in a person who is susceptible to asthma.
 Not everything is known about the possible actions of DDT on the human body. Since this substance will certainly be used in vast quantities under all sorts of conditions, people should be careful not to expose themselves unnecessarily to inhaling, swallowing or getting these preparations on their skin, especially in the liquid form. This, of course, does not apply to the use of the powder form for lice, fleas, or other recognized purposes.
 As with every new substance which has medical or public health uses, complications have developed.

Speed Record Set In 1920 Has Yet To Be Equalled—Officially

by WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

Next month marks the 25th anniversary of a memorable South Texas speed run—a record round-trip between San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Dimly remembered now, the run was a colorful event, conducted with fanfare and peppered with excitement. The record still stands—no one ever bothered to officially better it.

Fred Schoenberger is the surviving member of the two-man team that rode the green Essex roadster to fame in 1920. Schoenberger, thin-haired and 57 now, moon-faced and good natured, today supervises a utility company garage in Corpus Christi. From him we obtained these details on the daredevil trip:

The San Antonio Express and the Corpus Christi Caller offered a silver cup to anyone who could better the round-trip time from San Antonio to Corpus Christi which had been established in 1911. Veterans of France

The Clyde Chaddick Auto Company of Corpus Christi decided it would sponsor an attempt on the record. Schoenberger, veteran of fighting in France and a mechanic employed by Chaddick, was selected as the mechanic or—as he was to be known—the "pilot of the trip." Hired as a driver was the late Walter White, a man devoted to fast driving. Charles Roster, now an advertising man in Corpus Christi, was official timer.

Schoenberger owned a new Essex roadster, a dashing vehicle with big-spoked wheels. Two horns and a siren were mounted on this car and at 5 a. m. the morning of July 14, 1920, White and Schoenberger pulled away from the San Antonio Express office on the first leg of the run.

They were dressed in khaki shirts and trousers, they wore goggles they had breakfasted excitedly on coffee and doughnuts.

The highway to Corpus Christi in those days was 160 miles, a hazardous road of big ruts, deep holes, ciling sand, detours and indolent cattle. For the ordinary driver it was a dawn to dark trip. People with brains took the trains.

Left Early "We left early to take advantage of the cool of the morning," Schoenberger said. "We figured to do everything possible to keep from overheating the car."

"We had 40 pounds of air in the front tires and 45 in the rear so that we could jump over curbs and holes easier. We hit a hole in some sand near Floresville and the car went up four feet into the air and flew for 40 feet.

"White didn't say anything—just nudged me with his elbow."

"I spent a lot of time cranking that siren," said Schoenberger. "Wagons moved over for us but we had a time with pigs, chickens and cows. You can't impress a herd of cows with a siren."

A fire truck escort was waiting at the city limits of Corpus Christi. It led them part of the way into town, but then White, fuming at the delay, passed it. The Essex arrived at the Caller office at 9:23 a. m., four hours and 23 minutes after leaving the Corpus Christi.

Word of the incredibly fast time spread quickly. A big crowd cheered as White and Schoenberger left the caller office at 5 a. m. the next morning on the return trip. Hundreds lined Leopard Street for two miles to the city limits and yelled and applauded as the green topless roadster, its siren howling, roared by.

Schoenberger burned out the siren and one of the horns on that return trip. The time was slower, four hours and 55 minutes. "A lot more cattle," Schoenberger explained.

The total time was nine hours, 18 minutes—almost three hours better than the 1911 record.

San Antonio turned out to give the daredevils a royal welcome. And when the pair returned to Corpus Christi, a luncheon was held in their honor. They drove the Essex into the ballroom of the Nueces Hotel and the chugging of its brave engine mingled with the roars of the banqueters.

White later became a ranger at Agua Dulce in South Texas and died several years ago. Schoenberger has a son, a 23-year-old veteran who like his father, fought in France.

Fred Jr. likes speed, has a souped-up Ford, and drives the smooth, greatly shortened, highway from Corpus Christi to San Antonio in two hours.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JUNE 23, 1948

Junior Indians Win 7-1

The Midland Junior Indians, American Legion Junior baseball team, won its second straight game of the season Wednesday at the high school diamond here, defeating the Odessa Legion nine 7-1. It was a twilight game.

Donald Deel, Indian catcher, started the fire with home runs on two men on base when Midland was trailing 1-0. Joe Robertson's leads went on to win handily.

Ray Williams pitched five innings of the six-frame game. He allowed only three hits and was masterful with a teasing slider throw. Frank (Poncho) Robertson came in to finish the engagement and he got the Odessans out harmlessly in the last inning.

Odessa's one run was a homer. Deel was especially potent at bat and also he rifled out two men trying to steal second base. Jimmy Conline, second sacker, played heads up and alertly at second.

All the Junior Indians drew praise from Coach Robertson and Manager Joe Shell.

Midland and Odessa play a return game at Odessa Sunday afternoon in Oiler Park.

Favorites Collide In Women's Western Open

CHICAGO (AP)—Favored Babe Diridickon Zaharias met a youthful Jim opponent, two former champions collided and a couple of Texas feuded in Wednesday's second round of the 19th Women's Western Open Golf Tourney.

Mrs. Zaharias, three-time open winner, took on tiny Mary McMullen of Green Bay Wis., who in 1946 handed the Babe one of her most stinging setbacks in a phenomenal athletic career.

The two former champions pitted were Betty Jamison, San Antonio, Texas, and Helen Dewster, Indio, Calif., both professionals, like Mrs. Zaharias and Patty Berg of Minneapolis, who had Tuesday's steepest performance.

The embattled Texans were Polly White of Fort Worth and Betty M. White of Dallas, who met once before in this tourney. That was in 1945, when Miss White scored a 2 and 1 first round decision.

Anyone in the United States may change all his name at will, without legal process, if he does it in good faith and for an honest purpose.

DOWN SPORTS LANE with TANNER LAINE

One of the best assists to "Jim Prince Night" was the fine work of Lois Webb, business manager of the Midland Indians.

It was from her efforts that George M. Trautman, baseball celebrity, was persuaded to come to Midland in the first place.

She assisted in every plan for "Jim Prince Night" and made many helpful suggestions.

Mrs. Webb is one of the most valuable members of the Midland Indians organization. Never seen much and never heralded greatly, she is a tireless performer behind the scenes.

SPORTSLANE salutes Mrs. Webb and we believe the fans join us in this.

Incidentally, the Webbs (Harold and Lois) gave Jim a suit and clothes for his night. This gift might have been overlooked in the rush but it surely was appreciated by Jim. It was one of the nicest gifts of the special event.

Bud Browning, director of athletics for Phillips Petroleum Company, wired Frank Monroe of Midland asking for an appearance date in Midland.

Frank wired back December 8 would be a good date. And so the famed Phillips 66 Oilers will play some Midland five here on that date.

WT-NM League—Albuquerque's Dukes Crowd Loop Leaders

By The Associated Press

Albuquerque's hammering Dukes were closing in Wednesday in the battle for first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

They licked Amarillo 4-3 Tuesday night to gain a third-place tie with Borger.

Pampa fell before the Lamesa Lobos 4-1.

Abilene trounced Lubbock 9-8 to remain in a tie with Lamesa for sixth place while collar-dwelling Clovis won its fifth straight game by whipping Borger 10-5.

Albuquerque scored the winning run in the fifth inning over Amarillo without a hit. Two men walked, then successive fly balls to the outfield brought in the deciding tally.

Boy Scout Council Obtains Office Site

The City Council, at its regular meeting Tuesday night, agreed to remove two lots in the 300 block on 11th Colorado Street, lots 10 and 11, block 28, from the fire zone so the Buffalo Trail Council Boy Scouts can move a building from the Midland Air Field to the site and use it for the council's executive offices.

The councilmen amended the city's fire zone ordinance to permit the frame structure to be placed on the lot which the city and county have agreed to lease to the Scouts for five years at a very low rental. George Abell appeared before the council to obtain the permit.

Hearing Ordered

A public hearing was ordered at 8 p. m. July 13 on the application of Dr. J. Dow Scott to place the west 80 feet of his lot in the 2100 block on West Wall Street in the business district so he can erect a drug store and building for his office. He said the building proposed would be 60 by 100 feet, and that the zoning commission had not favored his application.

On recommendation of the zoning commission, the council denied the application of Riley Parr to erect a business building on Tract 18 of the Garden Addition and of Mrs. Julia Wilson to erect a business building in Block 45 of the Homestead Addition. Both sites are classified as residential areas.

The commission also recommended that Wade Heath's application for an off-premise beer selling establishment at 305 South Baird Street be denied and the council followed this recommendation.

Replats of three parts of an addition to provide for alleys were approved.

The council also accepted an easement from The Borden Company so a sewer line can be installed in the rear of its property.

PLAY WEDNESDAY—Broncos Win First 12-9

The Midland Indians and the Big Spring Broncos do battle at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday in Indian Park here. It is the second of two-game series. For reasons established Tuesday night and throughout two seasons, the Indians will be out for revenge.

By TANNER LAINE

Big Spring was strong at the start and got fat enough to win but Midland was giving the Broncos all the scrap and baseball they wanted at the end. In a hammer and tongs, typical Midland-Big Spring battle Tuesday night, the visitors won 12-9.

The victory gave the Broncos a two-game advantage in a torrid Longhorn League pennant chase and gave them a 4-3 edge in games played with Midland this season.

The Broncos lead right off. They hit four runs in the first frame with four hits including a round-tripper by McClain with two in front of him.

Midland managed one run in the second when Prince doubled and scored on Perry's grounder.

Big Spring chalked two tabs in the third as Pat Stacey homered with one aboard.

And the Broncos notched four runs in the fifth with four hits and a Midland error, including Fernandez's four-master with two on base.

The Indians excepted in the sixth when two were added. Bosch arrived on and went all the way around to score on two errors on the play. Aspiazu tripled in Arencibia, who had doubled.

Caught Some Fire

Midland caught some fire in the fifth with three runs. Haggard hit a walk and Nipp scored him with a hit. Prince doubled, scoring Collins (fielder's choice) and Jakes (walk). The Tribe managed one run in the seventh when Prince doubled and Perry scored him with another two-bagger. The Indians really ginned in the eighth when four tallies came. Stewart hit, Collins hit, Jakes walked. Prince cleaned the bases with a double, his third of the night. Melillo hit, scoring Prince.

In a great individual battle of the hitters, Stacey of Big Spring got four for four and Prince got four for five. Stacey hit two doubles and a homer. Prince hit three doubles and drove in five runs.

Midland took care of Big Spring's highly-touted pitcher Freddy Rodriguez in the eighth inning. The assembled Gerry Rodriguez relieved a d it was off him that Prince cleaned the sacks.

Stewart Suspended

Manager Harold Webb of the Midland Indians announced early Wednesday that Weldon Stewart, pitcher, had been fined $50 and suspended for an indefinite period without pay.

Webb said he fined Stewart for insubordination and a general lack of team spirit on several occasions.

Webb said he sought a show-down with Stewart when several of the Indians indicated they had put out their all for the team and rightly kept training rules when Stewart had not.

The fine and suspension came on the heels of three straight losses by Stewart, who has won nine games this season and dropped six.

Webb stated to the press, for relay to the public: "We cannot allow any boy to perform as a 'Midland Indian' unless he gives his best and is a team man."

The phrase "crossing the Rubicon" means to commit oneself to a dangerous course from which there is no retreat.

Strange Light Makes Second Appearance

GOLDEN, WOOD COUNTY, TEXAS (AP)—Residents of this Northeast Texas town saw the light again Tuesday night.

Telephone Company Manager E. F. Thompson said a number of persons told him they saw a blazing light like one that caused a search Sunday night—only higher and redder.

The first light, sighted over the Lake Fork section east and slightly north of here, was said to resemble a burning plane, and search parties went to hunt for it. Thompson said no crashed plane has been found.

Weather Threatens Louis-Walcott Bout

NEW YORK—(AP)—Given a break in the weather, a bulky fight-wary Joe Louis will defend his heavyweight championship against Jersey Joe Walcott Wednesday night in what will mark the end of a boxing era.
 It's this intriguing prospect—the last ring appearance of a great champion or an upset victory by the old campaigner from South Jersey—that is expected to lure a crowd of 55,000 into Yankee Stadium.
 The 15-round title bout is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. CST. Twentieth Century Sporting Club officials anticipate a gate of between $800,000 and $900,000, with radio and television receipts making it a million dollar affair if it's clear.
 The weatherman could offer little comfort on that point. He said intermittent showers that hit the New York area Tuesday may clear up evening, permitting the battle to go on.
 If postponement is necessary, the bout will be staged Thursday night. Odds favoring Louis dropped to 5 to 12 as the result of a last-minute influx of Walcott money and it's possible they will shrink to 1-2 by ring time.
 If you like the champion by a knockout you must lay 7 1/2 to 8. If you figure Walcott can end it before schedule you can back your sentiments at 4 to 1.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Weather Bureau predicted partly clearing weather for Wednesday night at about the time heavyweight champion Joe Louis and challenger Jersey Joe Walcott are to climb through the ropes for their 15-round bout.

The weatherman could offer little comfort on that point. He said intermittent showers that hit the New York area Tuesday may clear up evening, permitting the battle to go on.

If postponement is necessary, the bout will be staged Thursday night. Odds favoring Louis dropped to 5 to 12 as the result of a last-minute influx of Walcott money and it's possible they will shrink to 1-2 by ring time.

Major Leagues—

Redbirds Cut Braves' Lead In National

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 National League clubs are finding out that a team blessed with a .400 batter and an .800 pitcher is tough to beat.
 It was this combination that paved the way for the 5-3 victory the St. Louis Cardinals hung upon the league-leading Braves in Boston Monday night and boosted the Redbirds right back into the fight for the flag.
 Slashing Stan Musial stroked five consecutive singles to zoom his league leading batting average to .403. His fifth hit came in the ninth with the bases loaded to drive in a couple of mates and snap a 2-2 tie.
 Harry (The Cat) Brecheen won his eighth game of the year. He has lost two.
 The triumph moved the third place Cards to within a game and a half of the league leaders.
 The White Yanks of the American League pace-setters, the Cleveland Indians, whipped New York 5-3 in Cleveland to increase their margin over the runner-up Yankees to three and a half games.
 Danny Litwhiler's 10th inning home run with Hank Sauer on base gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-4 victory over the Phillies in a night game in Philadelphia.
 Earl Wooten's first major league homer gave the Washington Senators a 5-4 victory over the Tigers at Detroit.
 A four-run eighth inning helped the Philadelphia Athletics beat the St. Louis Browns 7-4.
 The Boston Red Sox came from behind to club the White Sox 11-8 in a night game in Chicago.
 The scheduled games between the Chicago Cubs and Giants in New York and the Pirates and Dodgers in Brooklyn were postponed because of rain.

Texas League—
Double Loss Tumbles Buffs Out Of Lead

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 Associated Press Sports Editor
 Tulsa rode the top of the Texas League Wednesday after an eventful 12-hour period during which the Oilers won a game through an act of Divinity, Houston was toppled from the lead by lowly Oklahoma City and Fort Worth fired its manager.
 Only the Tulsa and Houston situations were related, but the disposing of Les Burge as skipper of the Cats attracted as much attention. The Dallas club management not only took notice but stepped out and signed Burge as a player as soon as it could get to him. Burge is a top first baseman.
 The firing of Burge Tuesday was the first managerial change made in the league this season.
 A Texas League rule that says in the event of an act of Divinity which interrupts a game the decision shall be left to the umpire in charge, was called into play in order for Tulsa to take a three percentage-point lead over Houston.

Lights Go Out
 The Oilers lost their first game of a double-header to San Antonio 9-4. In the nightcap, however, they held a 10-4 lead in the last of the sixth when most of the lights went out. A terrific wind had snapped a wire connecting the light towers in center and extreme left field. But it was ruled a completed ball game by Milton Steengrafe, the plate umpire, and League President J. Alvin Gardner.
 Andy Sierra pitched an eight-hitter in guiding San Antonio to its victory over Tulsa. The nightcap had been a free-hitting affair until the light trouble.
 Vic Johnson and Preacher Dorsett turned in a couple of fine pitching jobs to send Oklahoma City to its double triumph over Houston. Oklahoma City won the first 7-1 behind seven-hit hurling by Johnson. Dorsett also allowed Houston only seven bays in the 3-0 nightcap decision.
 Dallas Crews Mistaken
 Dallas surged into fifth place—just a half-game back of San Antonio—by sweeping a double-header from Shreveport. The Rebels took the first game 3-1 on Marty Erante's eight-hit stint in 11 innings and captured the afterpiece 5-4 as Jodie Phipps duplicated Erante's pitching performance.
 Fort Worth, playing under Acting Manager George Dockins, whipped Beaumont 6-2 to move within a game and a half of second-place Houston. Carl Erskine limited Beaumont to six hits in notching his ninth victory of the year.

A new container, claimed to be radar-proof, for air shipment of photoflash bulbs has been announced.

Man Drowns Trying To Rescue Daughter

DENISON — (AP) — Mack Dunn, 57, of McKinney was drowned Tuesday night in Lake Texoma, attempting to rescue his nine-year-old daughter, Molly Sue.

The girl was in a Denison hospital Wednesday and was expected to recover.

She was one of three girls who were wading in the lake and stepped into deep water. Her father and his brother, Collin Dunn, also of McKinney, rushed to help them. It is believed that the father then suffered a heart attack.

The children were rescued by Collin Dunn and an unidentified man. Molly Sue was revived after 25 minutes of artificial respiration. Her father's body was recovered by divers two hours later.

It was the season's first drowning in the lake.

American Legion Post Builds Barbecue Pit For Community Use

Midland soon will have a community barbecue pit as a gift from the Woods W. Lynch Post No. 19 of the American Legion.

Construction on the "finest and largest" barbecue pit in West Texas was started Wednesday morning. Floyd O. Rhoden post adjutant, said. It will be located behind the American Legion Hall.

Not only American Legion members, but all Midlanders will be welcome to use the pit. Rhoden explained. Users will have to furnish their own wood and, of course, their own meat.

City Will Save Funds By Moving Two Tanks

More than $20,000 will be saved by the City of Midland by moving two large tanks from the Midland Air Terminal to the Wadley tract north of the city for the storage of water, City Manager H. A. Thomason told the City Council Tuesday night.

The best bids obtained for the purchase of two tanks for the water system was approximately $30,000. Thomason said the city owns the tanks at the airfield and recommended that they be moved to the Wadley tract. Each will hold 187,500 gallons of water. He also recommended that $5,000 from the city's water fund be transferred to the airport fund in the deal and the councilmen took the necessary steps. Thomason estimated it will cost about $2,000 to move the tanks to the Wadley tract and put them in service.

Pipe is Arriving

Thomason said five carloads of 20-inch pipe for the new main to bring water from the tract to Midland has arrived. This is about a third of the amount necessary to complete the project. He said that as soon as half of the pipe is on hand, digging of the ditch from the city to the Wadley tract will start.

Paving plans also were discussed by the councilmen and they indicated a preference for either "hot mix" or Uralde asphalt for the big project which will be launched soon. The paving survey now is underway and the purchase of a small truck was authorized to expedite the work of the crews.

Red Cross Given Major Credit For Rebuilding City

In another two months you won't know McKinney, Texas, was hit by a tornado, and Robert F. Newsome, 51, red-haired, 53-year-old mayor, gives the lion's share of credit to the Red Cross.

"I figured the Red Cross would come in, parcel out groceries and clothing and move on out," said Newsome. "I didn't know they stayed around to rebuild a town."

So far, the relief organization has spent $147,000 in McKinney, and estimates it will dish out another $53,000 before it's through. Seven hundred and fifty carpenters are on the job.

The May 3, tornado destroyed or damaged more than 300 homes in the southeast and southwest portions of the town. The Red Cross has gotten about 500 calls for aid—clothing, groceries, furnishings, and home repairs.

On Basis of Need

"It works on a basis of need," said Newsome. "It will supplement your insurance in rebuilding a home or it will build from the ground up if that's what you need. It doesn't help people who don't need help. It won't contribute to rebuilding a rent house—it has to be a home."

The amiable mayor said he had trouble convincing some needy residents of McKinney they should ask for help.

"They figured the Red Cross was charity and they didn't want charity. I got hold of a sound truck and went into the wrecked areas and told those folks what was what. 'Suppose you got together with some friends and every one of you put $100 each into a pot to go to the family of the first one that died,' I told them. 'That wouldn't be charity—that would be mutual aid. 'That's what the Red Cross is—you've been contributing to it all your lives and it belongs to you. You've been putting money into the pot and now you get some of it back.'"

Cynics Are Convinced

"Well, that argument broke the boys down and they asked for the help they deserved to get."

"Some people were cynical about what the Red Cross would do. One lady told me: 'I'll give $100 to the Red Cross if I ever see one home they build here for anybody.' Well, she's paying off."

"A young fellow and his wife were wiped out by the tornado. When he learned that the Red Cross would rebuild his home and furnish it, he asked them how he could pay it back. They told him they didn't take pay. But he now pays $25 per month into the Red Cross National Disaster Fund.

"I want my money to help someone in the same shape I was in," he said."

Mississippi Delegates To Walk Out On Truman

JACKSON, MISS — (AP) — Mississippi's 30 delegates to the National Democratic Convention are pledged to walk out if President Truman is nominated.

They were elected here Tuesday in a smooth, swiftly operating convention in which states righters found no opposition.

The convention also nominated nine presidential electors and then recessed until August 3.

1948 GOP Platform Is Far Different From That Put Forward At 1944 Meet

By FETEE EDSON

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Political platforms never mean much, but there's a whole of a difference between the GOP principles of 1944 and 1948—on paper.

Foreign policy planks drafted for submission to this year's convention are far broader. Four years ago the big idea was to secure peace, but "not by joining a world state." This year's platform calls for strengthening United Nations for strengthening international law, be freed of any veto. And be provided with armed services. That's giving the despised world government idea quite a life. It also calls for "universal limitation of arms."

The 1944 GOP platform called for bringing the boys home at the earliest possible moment. The 1948 platform calls for strengthening the armed services, even to the extent of "recognizing the principle that every citizen has an obligation of service to his country." That would mean both the draft and a deepened military training, though neither is mentioned by name. The emphasis four years ago was on building up the National Guard to get "adequate defense to insure security."

Domestic Policies

Foreign cooperation on a basis of mutual aid and self-help is promised this year. There is even a plug for reciprocal trade agreements, after safeguarding American industry and agriculture. In 1944 the Republicans came out flat for return to protective tariffs.

On domestic policies the GOP also has changed. In 1944 it said the secretary of labor should be a representative of labor. There's no such statement in 1948. The 80th Congress cut the department way down.

In 1944 as before when Republicans were claiming they could run New Deal reforms better than Democrats, the GOP platform accepted the purposes of the Wagner Act, Wage and Hour Law, Social Security and all other statutes aimed to promote the welfare of the American workmen.

Match that against Taft-Hartley act passage last year and the 1948 platform which says labor has a right to strike if it doesn't interfere with public health and safety, and that when the government intervenes it should be to prevent

Marine Corps Reserve To Hold Maneuvers

CHERRY POINT, N. C. — (AP) — The Marine Corp's Organized Reserve Training Command will demonstrate here next month just how fast it could act if war were declared.

The annual maneuvers starting at this air base July 10 will involve 3,000 officers and men of reserve squadrons in 27 cities of Eastern America.

On the first day of the two-week maneuvers, Cherry Point's transport squadron will gather in the personnel from the 27 cities east of the Mississippi which have reserve squadrons. From that day until July 26, the reserves will run their show at Cherry Point.

Each squadron will bring its own fighter planes, their pilots and their ground men. They're all civilians now, but every pilot is a combat veteran.

In their high-speed two weeks' training here, these war-seasoned reserves will fit together a fighting organization which could form a secondary line of existing forces.

Nobody Loves Forever

XXXVII
 LUCY could not be brought home immediately. Possibly not for a week or two. Then there would be a period of time which must elapse before plastic surgery could be done to help make less shocking the disfiguring scars left by the burns.

"When Lucy comes, I can manage," Tom told Jessica several mornings after his announcement that his sister had recognized him. He had immediately gone out and reclaimed his old job at the rubber pits. Now he was working steadily.

Jessica heard from David. Telephone calls. Finally David himself appeared one day, impatient and irritable, and unable to accept her excuses that when Tom was away on a job someone had to remain with Mrs. Blake.

"Let him hire a nurse," said David, looking oddly out of place in the Blake living room, his critical glance traveling over the old portraits on the walls and fastening upon Tom's picture upon the table. "This the soldier?" he asked carelessly.

"That's Tom."

David gave the picture only careless attention.

"When are you going to Kentucky, Jessica?" he asked.

"When Lucy is strong enough to take care of her mother and keep house for Tom. He has to work, you know. He'll have heavy expenses."

"Linton plans to finance the plastic surgery job. Pretty decent of him."

"Decent?"

David shrugged. "He didn't owe the girl a thing. She made a fool of herself, which wasn't his fault."

"You mean—?" Her shocked dark eyes never left David's handsome face. So David had known all along!

He offered no explanation but eyed her curiously. "Look here, you don't condemn the man because he was human?"

"He has a wife."

"A cold proposition," said David indifferently. "The daughter's quite different." He smiled engagingly. "I'm not trying to make you jealous, but Hugh Linton's daughter is a very attractive girl."

HE rose then and took her in his arms. His lips sought hers, demanding a response she found it hard to give.

Why? Because it shocked her to have David make love to her in Tom's home?

Jessica tried to draw away but he held her fast. He said positively, "Once and for all you must set a date when you will leave this house. Set your own date, but don't expect to change it because Tom Blake meets some new difficulty. Exactly when does this sister expect to come home?"

"Thursday."

"Very well. We'll say that you will stay until after New Year's. That will give you more than a month. That will reconcile you to this new, crazy sense of duty to a man you plan to leave. I'm having our company lawyer check the Kentucky divorce laws. Better to be prepared, although I don't think Blake will make any trouble."

"No, Blake will not make any trouble."

They sprang apart. Jessica felt shame; David looked confused.

Tom stood in the doorway. He came forward. "Are you David Gregory?"

"I am."

David had regained his self-control. He even managed to smile, while Tom regarded him with a cool contempt and said, "You are the man Jessica plans to marry?"

"Yes, I am. But there's no reason we should jump at each other's throats because we happen to be involved in this kind of situation."

"Such as a man stealing another man's wife?"

David shrugged. "If you want to be melodramatic about it, yes. Jessica has a mind of her own. I didn't force her into any situation. She was quite willing to exchange what you have to offer for a very different type of living, one that she has been accustomed to and deserves. Jessica has been generous enough to refuse to leave immediately. I understand that you have had trouble here."

"Leave my affairs out of this," Tom said.

THE door into the kitchen opened and Betsy came in. Jessica had completely forgotten her daughter, busy with her toys in the sunshiny kitchen. The child's round eyes traveled past David and brightened as they saw her father.

"Daddy!" she shouted and rushed forward and held him tight around the knees.

"This is my cue to exit," said David.

He was still at ease, smiling at Jessica as she followed him to the hall door. "I'll call you tomorrow," he said in parting, ignoring Tom completely. "Good thing this whole affair has been brought out in the open," he added as he said goodby.

He doesn't have to go back and face Tom, though Jessica, as she watched him climb into his roadster, his hat tipped at a jaunty angle.

Tom looked up as she came back to the living room. "I'm bringing Lucy home this week," he said. "If she is not able to do much for a while, I'll get a housekeeper to help her. I can afford one now that I'm working again." He went on trotting Betsy on his knee and made no reference to David's visit. He seemed to accept David's announcements calmly, and as a matter of course planned for the day when his wife would leave him.

Jessica wanted to strike out and hurt him, cruelly.

"You'll miss Betsy," she said.

After a moment, Tom said, "That's not all I'll miss, and looked straight into her troubled eyes.

A sob rose in her throat and choked her. Jessica turned and went quickly upstairs to her own room. She flung herself face down across the bed and muffled her sobs in the pillow.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
 America's Card Authority

The women bridge players of Cleveland, Ohio, are probably the best organized tournament group in the country. At the Ohio State tournament they saw to it that all out-of-towners had an enjoyable time. Mrs. H. J. White has been active in tournament affairs in Cleveland for a number of years and is a consistent winner. She and Mrs. H. D. McKnight, also of Cleveland, won the women's pair championship this year.

Mrs. White recognized today's hand as an endplay situation rather than a hold-up. She also lowed the opening lead of the king of hearts to hold, and when West continued with the queen, declarer did not make the mistake of holding up until the third round. She won the trick with the ace of hearts.

She knew that she had three spade tricks, a heart, three clubs and the ace of diamonds. A three-three break in either spades or clubs would give her the ninth trick. She could take the diamond finesse, but if it lost, West would cash the balance of the hearts. So she was careful to save a small heart in her hand.

She tried out the spade suit, and on the third round West discarded a diamond. Then she tried out the club suit, and again West showed out on the third round, discarding another diamond. Now Mrs. White did not have to guess the diamond play. She simply led the small heart from her hand, and West won with the jack. West could cash the two good hearts, but then she had to lead a diamond into Mrs. White's ace-queen, thus giving her nine tricks.

Councilmen Study Midland Finances

The City of Midland spent $51,150.71 to operate its departments during May, the City Council was told at its meeting Tuesday night. The financial statement of the municipality was presented by City Manager H. A. Thomas.

The city's budget had allocated $52,244.45 for expenses during the month.

Employees of the municipality totaled 154. Employees who have been on the payroll a year are entitled to one week paid vacation and those who have been with the city two years or longer get two weeks vacation with pay. Thomas has instructed that all vacations be completed by September 1.

The city's receipts in May totaled $44,461.52.

Duff is leading an anti-Dewey faction in the big Pennsylvania delegation. That group is to caucus Wednesday night, said Duff.

"We will have a candidate" to oppose the efforts to line up the delegation for Dewey.

Stassen told reporters there is "great resentment" among the delegates over the attempt to swing the Pennsylvania delegates to Dewey.

"I am not a candidate," said Dewey. "I am not a candidate for the first time in my life. I am not a candidate for the first time in my life. I am not a candidate for the first time in my life."

He said the second purpose is to find out whether there is any possibility of the coalition agreeing on some one candidate.

Taft announced that one of those who will second his nomination will be a delegate from Dewey's own New York.

For the first time in the big hall here, Vandenberg banners put in an appearance. A truck drove up with a load of them soon after Sigler announced he had the Michigan senator's consent to put his name before the convention.

These strategy conferences and maneuverings went forward while the delegates assembled in this big hall for the morning session of the convention's third day.

The big item was the nominating speeches. Balloting probably will begin until Thursday, although that was not definitely settled. It may begin Wednesday night.

Dewey To Be First

Any doubt that Dewey's name would be the first to go before the convention was removed when the Alabama delegation voted 8-6 to yield its first place on the alphabetical roll call to Pennsylvania, so Martin could nominate the New York delegate.

An Associated Press survey of delegate intentions pointed up the formidable task confronting the "Stop Dewey" forces.

This survey indicated that if Dewey were to go before the convention he might receive 374 to 407 votes on the first ballot.

The survey also showed that, if delegates do not change their present intentions, he might get 80 additional votes in the second round. This still would leave him short of the 548 needed to nominate.

Taft's first ballot figure was estimated in the survey at between 207 and 217 on the first count, with a net backing of 60 additional votes due to come his way.

Tel Aviv Residents Flee Harbor Area As Munitions Ship Burns

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL — (AP) — Thousands of Tel Aviv residents fled from the waterfront late Tuesday when a munitions-laden LST beached by rebel Irgun Zvai Leumi fighters threatened to explode after being set afire by Israeli army shelling.

The sudden fire, resulting from regular army mortar fire, threw the four-hour battle between Irgun and the army into strange confusion.

All hotels and apartment houses along the Mediterranean waterfront, including headquarters of a United Nations truck team, were deserted within a few minutes.

Truckloads of unarmored Irgun fighters suddenly appeared on the city's main streets. Two dozen crew members jumped off the LST, which carried 800 tons of munitions. Both army troops and Irgun rebels joined in the mass exodus.

Just what was happening to Irgun's fight against the Israeli government remained a mystery.

A Tribute To One Who Won And Lost

By HAJ BOYLE
PHILADELPHIA —(P)— A man could get only one ovation like that in a lifetime. It was the kind of ovation people give to a leader who has won and lost for them in the past, whom they have passed by for the new leader with the new prospect of victory. There is a strange music in the loyalty of massed human voices. And it must have been nostalgic music indeed to Herbert Hoover Tuesday night as he stood on the platform and heard the Republican National Convention explode in tribute to him. It must have carried him back across the years on a bridge of turbulent sound to 1928 and the sweltering Summer when he was first nominated in Kansas City. But he didn't show it. As he walked to the speaker's stand he suddenly caught the convention's heart with his familiarity. This was the same Hoover of yore, back perhaps for his swan song at a party convention, for he is 73. Human Symbol To the Republican delegates as he stood there waiting to speak he was a human symbol of their party, unchanged in principle by either defeat or victory. They let him know their pride in him. The ovation began with the suddenness of a flash flood. It seemed to catch Hoover, the only living former president, by surprise. As the entire convention leaped to its feet in a tempest of cheers and waving banners, he stood uncertainly, half-squinting his blue eyes in the glare of the bright hot lights. In a twinkling the aisles were jammed with delegates and the convention band blared out "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." All through the hall hundreds of voices picked up the words: "Glory, glory, hallelujah! The truth goes marching on!" Then the parade of delegates, state banners tossing high, wound around the convention hall past the speaker's platform, giving every delegate a chance to wave up individually to the man who twice had led their party. And they took it as a chance to give him an individual tribute. A number of women in the long line wept with emotion, and so did several men. Hoover stood silently, his left hand flexing nervously, his face now smiling, now sober. After 15 minutes the pounding gavel of the convention chairman, House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., ended the demonstration. In grave, unemotional words Hoover then spoke. He said the country and the world faced critical problems which "far transcend partisan action." He told the delegates they are the trustees of the great cause of human liberty and warned: "If you follow the counsel of those who believe that politics is only a game to be played for personal advantage, you are wasting your effort. Make yourselves worthy of the victory."
