Midland To Decide On Bonds Saturday

Qualified voters of the Midland Independent School District Saturday will determine, in a special election in the City-County Auditorium, whether bonds for $450,000 will be issued to finance a proposed program of expansion for public schools.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Voters are urged to bring poll tax or exemption certificates. Fourteen absentee ballots were cast in the election.

The bond money, if the election carries, will be used to complete a large-scale expansion program which was mapped more than a year ago. Voters last year approved the issuance of $1,000,000 in bonds to finance the program, but by the time plans for the new buildings and additions were completed and submitted to contractors recently, the lowest bid was $450,000 in excess of the building funds available. The contractors agreed to let the bids stand for 60 days to allow time for another bond election to be held.

Original Program
School trustees said the original building program can be completed even in the face of rising costs of materials if the additional funds are voted in Saturday's election. A contract has been let and work is underway on the new high school building which will be one of the finest in the Southwest. It will be at the site of the present John M. Cowden Junior High School. The present high school building will be converted into a junior high school. A new athletic plant also is being erected in Northwest Midland.

The Texas Company No. 1 Scharbauer one mile south of Midland Air Terminal, in West Midland County, had progressed under 6.125 feet in dry lime, and was continuing. It is scheduled to drill to around 12,500 feet. The project is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 20, block 40, TP survey, T-2-S.

SO&G TAKES OPTION ON SITE FOR LEVELLAND GAS PLANT
Stanolind Gas Company has secured an option to purchase 170 acres of land in Central Hockley County, two miles west of Levelled, as a possible site for a natural gas plant to produce natural gas for the Levelled field.

The option was taken from H. Sherrod of Levelled, who now owns the land. It is in labor 7, league 72, Val Verde County School Land survey. The acreage adjoins the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad which runs through the Levelled field.

It is known that Stanolind is drawing plans for a large gas plant in the Levelled area. No details regarding the size or capacity of the installation, its possible cost, or when construction will be started, have been officially released. Informed sources indicate there is a possibility that work on the plant will be underway in the next few weeks.

The report of the acquisition of the option was given The Reporter-Telegram by Stanolind executives in Tulsa.

MABEE TAKES DST AT SW CONCHO VENTURE
Guy Mabee Drilling Company No. 1 A. H. Denis, Southwest Concho County, No. 1 1/2 miles southwest of Eden, was running a drillstem test at 4,450-4,500 feet.

The project is in the Ellenburger. Top of that formation was at 4,350 feet. The exploration is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 39, block 8, H&TC survey.

SW SCURRY DISCOVERY DUE TO BE COMPLETED
Sun Oil Company No. 1 Emil Schaffel, Southwest Scurry County, flowing discovery from the Canyon line of the Pennsylvania, at 8,850-91 feet, is now flowing to tanks, preparatory to taking official Railroad Commission potential test, and being completed and put on regular production.

This well flowed seven hours, through a one half inch bottom hole choke and made 142.10 barrels of clean, 44.3 gravity oil.

It is 1,860 feet from south and west lines of section 186, block 97, H&TC survey.

SE SUTTON PROSPECTOR HAD SHOW OF GAS IN TEST

Jerusalem Quiet As Jews, Arabs Resume Warfare

CAIRO —(P)—Arabs and Jews again took up arms to settle the Palestine question Friday, and fighting erupted in both the Northern and Southern parts of the Holy Land front.

Tel Aviv, the Jewish capital, was bombed five hours after the end of the four-week truce at midnight (CST). Half a Jewish-held port city, had its first air-raid alarm since the end of the second World War.

A Jewish communiqué said Israeli troops counterattacked and captured three Egyptian-held villages near Majdal, 28 miles south of Tel Aviv, but admitted loss of two other villages to the Egyptians. The communiqué said fighting continued all night after being started by the Egyptians at dawn Thursday, 24 hours before the end of the truce.

Bernadotte Visits Abdullah
Half a alert ended a few minutes after it was sounded. The airman sounded 45 minutes after Count Bernadotte, the UN mediator, had left for Rhodes. He had stopped from a surprise last-minute visit to Amman, where he conferred with King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, in an effort to capture the truce or at least eliminate the Holy City of Jerusalem from the zone of military operations.

A dispatch from the walled Old City, held by the Arabs, quoted Lt. Col. Abdullah Bey Tell as saying Arab Legion field guns were ordered to refrain from opening up on new Jerusalem unless the Jews began mortaring the Old City.

Rail Dispute Settled As Government Moves To Halt Coal Strike

By The Associated Press
The nation's labor dispute has been settled and steps were underway Friday to restore the government-operated lines to private ownership.

Settlement of wage and rule disputes between the carriers and three operating rail brotherhoods was announced at the White House Thursday night.

The three brotherhoods — engineers, firemen and switchmen — accepted a wage increase of 15 1/2 cents an hour, retroactive to last Nov. 1, plus several changes in working rules. Management representatives said the settlement was virtually the same as that recommended by a presidential emergency board March 27.

A White House spokesman said the railroads will be freed of Army control as soon as the necessary papers can be drawn.

Also in Washington, Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough convened court to hear arguments on a government motion for an injunction to halt a strike of miners in the steel industry's coal mines.

Among the contestants representing different areas are Mary Rucker, Abilene; Carolyn Koome, Lubbock; and Enid Loftis, Odessa.

Gloom Pervades Convention City As Democrats Flock In

By BELMAN MORIN
PHILADELPHIA —(P)—There is a for-whom-the-bell-tolls atmosphere in Philadelphia Friday.

The Democratic convention opens Monday, and, according to the sign on the depot, this is the same city that entertained the Republicans two weeks ago. But it doesn't look or feel or sound the same. Registering at the hotel Friday was like checking in at a haunted house.

The difference lies in this: The Republicans came here convinced that they were nominating the next President. Hence, their was a joyous session of stultifying and shill-kicking, a belated battle-royal that left even the distinguished with much to expect next November. They were alive, lusty and vital.

The Democrats are arriving with no such feeling. They act as though they have accepted an invitation to a funeral. Old-timers, the veterans of many a call to convention, claim they have never seen one start under such a cloud of plain depression.

Whistling is dark. The city is be-flagged and bedizened. The red-white-and-blue signs denoting headquarters and offices are gleaming in the lobbies and corridors.

Senator McGrath smiles confidently at the news conference. Some of the delegates are frank to say that this is plain whistling in the dark. They still speak wistfully of General Eisenhower, and when they mention his name it takes on the quality of a magic word; the secret whereabouts that might have opened all doors and resolved all problems.

Eastern Railroads Granted New Increase In Passenger Fares

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Eastern railroads Friday were granted a new increase in passenger fares averaging 17 per cent.

The new fares can be put into effect by the railroads upon five days' notice to the public.

The raise was authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission for all of the railroads doing passenger business north of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers and east of the Mississippi.

The ICC order sustained the carriers' request for an advance of 20 per cent in basic passenger coach fares and 14 1/2 per cent in basic fares in sleeping and parlor cars.

Bernadotte To Report To UN; Asks New Truce

RHODES —(P)—Count Folke Bernadotte announced Friday that he is leaving Saturday for Lake Success to report to the United Nations Security Council on Palestine.

At the same time he announced he has appealed to Jews and Arabs with the utmost urgency to accept an unconditional cease-fire in Palestine for a 10-day period, starting at noon (6 a.m. CST) Saturday, July 10.

Hunt For Gunman Is Led By Texas Ranger G. Roach

WEATHERFORD —(P)—Rewards totaling more than $1,000 were offered Friday for the capture and conviction of the gunman who shot down former State Senator Eugene Miller at his farm home northwest of here Wednesday night.

Officers headed by Texas Ranger George Roach kept up a search for the unknown slayer. Justice of the Peace Bob Oakley returned an inquest verdict of murder by an unknown person.

One of the contributors to the reward fund was State Rep. Jim Wright, for whose legislative seat Miller was campaigning. Wright, a candidate for renomination, gave his opponent a blood transfusion before Miller died in the Parker County Hospital here Thursday morning.

A total of $50 in rewards was offered here Friday morning. Gov. Beauford H. Jester announced a state reward of $600 Thursday night.

Parker County Attorney I. E. Hand said there were no overnight developments in the investigation.

Funeral services for Miller, who served a term in the State Senate and two terms in the House of Representatives, were to be held Friday afternoon at Garner.

Miller was shot three times by a person who summoned him to the gate of his home in the Bethesda community. He lived until Thursday morning and gave officers an account of the incident, but said he did not recognize his assailant.

Miller was shot three times by a person who summoned him to the gate of his home in the Bethesda community. He lived until Thursday morning and gave officers an account of the incident, but said he did not recognize his assailant.

More than 200 witnesses paraded before the grand jury during the prolonged investigation, which District Attorney A. C. Winborn said began after a reporter on the Houston Chronicle "convicted an horse meat being sold in Houston on a shocking wide scale."

Later Winborn learned that both Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan and Manager C. E. Buechner of the Better Business Bureau also were investigating reports of such illegal sales.

Later it developed that the school board also had been conducting an investigation privately.

One of the principal witnesses before the grand jury was J. F. Lakey, head of the State Health Department's Food and Drug Division, who termed Houston "the horse meat capital of Texas."

Saulter Dies In Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS —(P)—Joseph Lee Saulter died in the electric chair early Friday, protesting his innocence and naming three or four persons he said figured in the fatal stabbing of Thelma Leale Cook.

Saulter, denied a third reprieve after a last minute plea by his mother, entered the death chamber at 12:04 a.m. He was pronounced dead at 12:12.

"I am not guilty of this crime," he told the handful of witnesses. Four other people did it. Three women and a man. That's the truth, so help me God! I know the name of three of these people. One name I do not know."

Saulter was convicted of murder in the stabbing of the Cook woman in a Galveston bar Feb. 24, 1947.

The death sentence of Saulter twice had been stayed—once when he offered to give his eyes to Alfred Johnson of Dalhart, a student at Hardin-Simmons, and again when a life-term convict signed a confession he killed Miss Cook.

In speech his strongest words were saved for criticism of a third candidate, Lyndon Johnson. Whereas Johnson was widely quoted in newspapers in 1946 as wanting to appease Russia by giving that country U. S. atomic bomb secrets, Peddy said, Johnson now is running for the Senate on a "stop-Russia" platform.

Privately, Peddy declared he believed Johnson's publicity-gaining tour of the state by helicopter was not so good. He prefers to pass among the people on foot, he said, going into stores to meet business men who have no time to stare at a flying contraption.

Three Americans Die In Crash Of Berlin Transport

BERLIN—(P)—Three Americans were killed Thursday night when a United States Air Force plane flying food to Soviet-blockaded Berlin crashed near Frankfurt. They were the first American lives lost in the Allied lift to the isolated city.

Despite the accident and bad weather the Western Allies kept the momentum of the air ferrying service going Friday.

The plane which crashed was a two-engine C-47. The crash occurred 20 miles northwest of Frankfurt. The plane burned after plunging into the woods on a peak.

Three charred bodies were dug from the wreckage. The victims were two U. S. Air Force officers—the pilot and co-pilot—and a civilian passenger. Their names were withheld.

Reds Practice In Corridor
Up to Thursday midnight the Soviet ground blockade had forced the Americans to fly 1,400 plane loads of food into Berlin.

The Russian Air Force informed the British Royal Air Force Friday that Soviet pilots are engaged in "instrument flying practice" at Brandenburg in the British air corridor linking Berlin with the British zone. British officials said.

The British have instructed RAF pilots flying supplies into Berlin to avoid the area, they said.

B&PW Federation Will Elect Friday

PORT WORTH—(P)—Delegates to the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs convention vote Friday on national officers.

The balloting was to start right after the final credentials report. Polls will be open for five hours.

The convention Thursday reaffirmed its stand to support qualified women for political posts by a narrow margin and heard a speech by Secretary of Treasury Snyder.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You go to visit friends who have recently moved to a place that to you seems inconvenient and too far from town.

WRONG WAY: Say: "It's nice out here, but not for me. I don't see how you stand it, being so far from everything. And don't you get terribly lonely?"

RIGHT WAY: Keep your doubts and personal preferences out of your comments. Admire what there is to admire enthusiastically and let it go at that.

Mrs. Joe Lambeth Is Twilight Tea Honoree

MCCAMEY — Mrs. Paul Fisher entertained with a bridal twilight tea recently honoring Mrs. Joe Lambeth, the former Miss Bonnie Merriman.

Mrs. Fisher stood at the door with the bride to receive the guests. Mrs. Ralph Brown presided at the bride's book, which was exquisitely made, decorated with pink lace, white satin ribbon holding white wedding bells on its cover.

The serving table was resplendent with a centerpiece of Spring flowers in the bride's chosen colors of pink and white. Tall pink tapers burned at either end. Mrs. Harry Anderson and Mrs. Potter Farrow presided over the punch service. Cake ornamented with pink rose bud decorations was served with punch. GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kildland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Merton Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloating, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before.

BLAMED OLD AGE FOR FEELING UNDER PAR; THEN FOUND RETONGA

"The Relief Retonga Brought Me From Muscular Aches, Sluggish Elimination and Restlessness Changed My Mind About It Being Old Age," Says Former Indianan.

"Retonga was surely a blessing to me," happily states Mr. Willis A. Miller, retired home owner who lives at 8825 Sag Juan Ave., Southgate, Cal. A resident of Green Castle, Ind., for 30 years, Mr. Miller first knew of Retonga there before moving here about 7 years ago. He gratefully continues:

"My friends in Indiana found wonderful relief from this great medicine and I was certainly happy to see it come to California. Before I started taking Retonga I suffered something awful from muscular aches and pains and constipation. I would have to get up several times a night for relief. Most of the time I didn't feel like doing anything, and no matter how much or how little, or what kind of food I ate, it seemed to bother off and felt as weakened as even."

"At first I thought my condition was due to old age, but the relief Retonga brought me changed that way of thinking for me. I feel years younger now, the aches and pains have let up, my constipation has been relieved, and my food seems to give me the strength I felt I should get from it. Re-

MR. WILLIS A. MILLER
Retonga was a blessing to me. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to give you gratifying relief, your money will be refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Midland Drug Store.

Tito's Rebellion

The recent crisis in Yugoslav politics suggests Marshall-Tito made two mistakes. He apparently forgot that while the Soviet dictatorship is fanatically nationalistic, the puppets are not allowed to follow suit. The satellites move in their prescribed orbits, and any attempt to change them invites trouble.

Tito also seems to have forgotten that an attitude of "Let them eat communism" is no more realistic or successful than Marie Antoinette's "Let them eat cake."

The Yugoslav dictator was trained in a ruthless school, and once he attained power he put his training to use in trying to cram communism down his country's throat. But the Yugoslav peasants didn't lie down and play dead. They had enjoyed a little more freedom than their Russian neighbors were used to before the revolution.

So when Tito failed to deliver goods as well as promises, the small farmers retaliated by hoarding food. This led to hard times and a loss in popularity for a system which never was too popular in the first place.

Then Tito apparently decided on such drastic measures as a show of independence, an appeal to national pride, and a slight modification of hostility toward the west. This didn't square with Soviet policy and "pure Communist precept." So Tito got his ears pinned back.

Probably one should go a little slowly in thinking that this heralds a split in the Soviet bloc. The scene of the present crisis is outside the Soviet borders, but it is still within the Communist Party. There is nothing new about disagreement and rebellion within the party, or about purges to whip the boys back into line.

The result of the present situation probably will be the same. Whether Tito or someone else is chosen to sit in Belgrade and take orders from Moscow, he will toe the line or find himself in a serious jam. And he will be hostile to the west just as long as Moscow is hostile.

At the same time, the root of the trouble in Yugoslavia may mean that Stalin will run into an increasing amount of difficulty if he continues his imperialistic course. For nationalism, which can be a curse under certain conditions, can also be a force for good.

The Soviet government will not have to look farther back in history than Hitler's Third Reich for the tribulations of a dictator who tries to subjugate a people who can't and won't be assimilated.

The Yugoslavs probably would not fight the Russians with guns, as they did the Nazis. But their crafty disobedience might serve as an example for anti-Communists in other countries of the Soviet bloc. Any widespread lack of cooperation seems a remote possibility now, for the Soviet police system is thorough and cruel, and the risks of disobedience are great.

But the underlying reasons for Tito's rebellion, with some other recent setbacks for Soviet world ambitions, offer at least a faint hope that the men in the Kremlin will some day find their hands so full that they will not be able to reach out and grab for more.

Can This Be 'Slave Labor'?

The very left-wing United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) is one of the bitterest critics of the Taft-Hartley "slave labor" act. Though it represents hundreds of thousands of workers, its officers have refused to take the non-Communist oath, which would give them use of NLRB facilities for collective bargaining. Nevertheless the UE now reports that in the past year it has signed up 72 new employers, has won $100,000,000 in wage increases for 450,000 members. Many who don't belong to any union think the Taft-Hartley act has flaws. But the charge that it makes for "slave labor," or that it renders labor unions impotent, is disproved by the UE's own boasts of its accomplishments under the law.

Old-Age Diseases Predominate As Life Expectancy Increases

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The risk of dying from many formerly common diseases has decreased greatly in the last 35 years. According to the figures of a large life insurance company almost 23 out of every 100,000 living in 1911 died from typhoid fever; in 1947 there were fewer than two out of every million who died from this disease.

Likewise the chances of dying from the communicable diseases of childhood such as whooping cough, measles, scarlet fever, and diphtheria have declined enormously. In 1911 about 59 in each 100,000 died each year from diseases of this kind, whereas in 1947 only about one in every 100,000 died from this group of conditions. In mentioning the improvement, tuberculosis should not be forgotten. Some 224 in every 100,000 died from tuberculosis of all kinds in 1911; in 1947 about 34 died in every 100,000.

Everybody Goes Sometime
Everyone must die sometime of something. The result has been about as expected: As further an increase in the number of deaths from the so-called degenerative diseases which include many diseases of the heart and blood vessels and cancer which attack older people.

Also, there has been an increase in deaths from accidents, particularly automobile accidents. The increase in the length of life has also led to a relative increase in the frequency of mental disease.

During these 30 to 50 years the average length of life has increased by more than 16 years. As further progress is made in reducing preventable disease among older people, the average length of life may be extended from the somewhat

Hubbers Trim Dukes Twice

By The Associated Press

Hubbock's Hubbers stopped Albuquerque's high-stepping Dukes Thursday night 7-3 and 6-5 to trim their West Texas-New Mexico League lead to three games.

A squeeze bunt by Don Moore with the bases loaded in the final inning gave the Hubbers the nightcap after a three-run homer by Virgil Richardson and a two-run triple by Moore won the first game.

In other games, Lamesa handed Clovis a 10-6 licking, Abilene blasted Borger 16-4, and Amarillo outlasted Pampa 17-9.

Collared leards can run on their hind legs for a distance of 30 yards or more.

with JIMMY ALLISON,
Pinch-Hitting for Tanager Laine

A full week of study and discussion is awaiting the coaches of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Arizona when they meet at the annual sessions of the Texas Coaches Association at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene August 2 to 8. The head of the organization is Gene McCollum, Port Neches High School football coach and former Midland High School football and basketball coach.

The faculty of the coaching school will include Matty Bell and Rusty Russell of S.M.U.; Billy Gilstrap, Jack Gray and Clyde Littlefield of Texas; Ray Ellis and Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech; Bob Cannon of Edinburg Junior College; Clair Bee of Long Island University, and Eddie Wojcicki of Rice Institute.

The meeting will end with the annual all-star basketball game Thursday night and the annual all-star football game Friday. Dodd will coach the North football team and Bell and Russell of S.M.U. will be the mentors of the Southern basketball team while Gray will coach the Southern squad. Tickets are on sale now for both events.

Here are the latest professional boxing champions in the state of Texas: Heavyweight—Louis Berler, light heavyweight—Adolfo Quijano, middleweight—Jimmy Curt, welterweight—Bert Linnam, bantamweight—Rodolfo Villanueva, flyweight—Pablo Zamora. The lightweight and featherweight championship titles are vacant.

ROUNDUP UP THE STRAYS
Earl Blaik, who led the Army to football fame, has been made athletic director at West Point on top of his coaching duties.

The present U.S. and British women's golf champion, Louise Suggs, has announced that she will turn professional.

Bob Wakefield, Dick Wakefield's brother, is burning up the Western League since his arrival from the University of Illinois.

The Hambletonian race for three-year old trotters will be worth more than $60,000 this year.

Julian Presley, new Midland outfielder, has been quite a help since he joined the Indians at Vernon.

College football coaches are disturbed over the new draft.

Ten of the Brooklyn Dodger farm teams are leading their leagues.

Herb Barten, of Illinois, claims that if he had been within five yards of Gil Dadds at the finish of the 1,500 meter Olympic tryouts, he would have beaten him.

However he wasn't within five yards... 30 for strays... One more day to go.

Injuries Beset Players From All-Star Teams

By JACK HAND Writer
Associated Press Sports Editor

Ewell Blackwell, the lean Cincinnati ace, showed his old time slip Thursday in striking out 13 Chicago swingers while blanking the Cubs with seven hits 4-0. It was his first complete game since the opener.

Eddie Stanky, the National League's all-star second baseman, was injured by Brooklyn while his Braves were snapping the Dodgers' six-game win string 7-4. Stanky suffered a sprained ankle in a collision with third baseman Bruce Edwards.

Pittsburgh kept pace with the Braves, remaining 2 1/2 games back in second place, by dumping St. Louis 6-4.

Injuries also hit the American League where pitcher Early Wynn of Washington and third baseman George Kell of Detroit, an all-star team regular, were sidelined by sprained ankles.

Kell's Hurt Not Serious

Wynn was forced to retire in the second inning when Birdie Tebbets lashed a single off his right ankle.

The Red Sox nipped Wynn for two runs before he left and added another pair off Forrest Thompson for a 4-1 edge.

Kell's injury, described as "not serious," forced him to retire from Detroit's game with St. Louis in the eighth inning. The Tiger were well on their way to a 12-2 romp at that time.

Cleveland opened up a full game on Philadelphia by slugging the happy Chicago White Sox 14-1, while New York took a fall out of the Athletics 6-5.

New York and Philadelphia were not scheduled in the national.

Longhorn League—

Broncs Stretch Lead As Tribe, Oilers Go Down

By The Associated Press

Sweetwater's second-division Sports handed the Midland Indians a double licking Thursday night as the Oilers and Oilers' one-half game back of the pace-setting Big Spring Broncs in the Longhorn League.

Sweetwater took the first game 3-2, then won the second 6-5.

Big Spring handed Odessa a 10-2 licking, but the second-place Oilers kept a one-game advantage over Midland.

In other games, San Angelo edged Ballinger 12-10 and Vernon beat Del Rio 3-0.

Scout Ranch Sates Camping Activities

A special period of camping will be held at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains August 2-9. Boy Scout officials said Friday. This period is to give every Scout of the council who has not attended camp the opportunity to attend.

The camp opened May 24 and 423 Scouts have attended so far.

P. V. Thorson, Scout executive, said the camp will be provided by the council for any Scout or troop and that no Scout need miss camp because his troop has been unable to find adult leadership. However, Scouts and troops must furnish their own transportation. They also must have a medical examination before leaving for camp. The day after arrival in camp every Scout will be given a medical check by a registered physician.

Scouts must furnish their own bedding and bring their personal effects, including good hiking shoes.

Junior Tribe Gets Lamesa Scalp 5-4

The Midland Junior Indians hung a 5-4 defeat on the Lamesa American Legion baseball nine here Thursday night, and it was the first district loss of the season for the visitors.

The contest was a thriller from the word "go" until Midland won it in the last of the tenth frame with Moe Price beating out an infield hit, working his way to third, and scoring on Jimmy Conine's well-laid bunt.

Tit-for-tat went this American Legion Junior Baseball game. Both clubs scored a tally each in the first inning. Both lashed one each in the fifth. Lamesa garnered one in the seventh and one in the ninth. Midland bunched two in the last of the ninth.

Then came the thrilling extra inning.

Frank Roberson pitched great ball for nine innings for Midland and Ray Williams spelled him in the tenth to get the Lamesans out without a hit.

Drake Scores Twice

Midland worked pinch-hitting strategy in ninth with Ben Stanley and B. H. Spaw coming in well. Norman Drake scored two of Midland's precious runs.

The line score:

Lamesa 100 010 101 4 5 5
Midland 100 010 002 1-5 6 4

Olympic Tryouts Finals To Start

EVANSTON, ILL.—(AP)—Friday is the day the nation's fastest runners, greatest jumpers and mightiest weight men start kicking up their heels in a last-ditch bid for places on the track and field team that will carry the Red, White and Blue into the coming Olympic games.

The final Olympic tryouts are scheduled to get under way at 5 p. m. and will continue through Saturday afternoon.

Fifteen men already have nailed down positions on the squad departing July 14 for London, where they will compete in the decathlon, marathon, 10,000-meter run and 10,000 and 50,000-meter walks.

Now, with the list of available athletes trimmed to less than 200 by eliminations in the NCAA and AAU championships, 53 additional places remain to be filled for the 17 other individual events and two relays.

The first three men in each of the 17 events land on the team automatically. In addition, the fourth men in the 100 and 400-meter dashes will be taken along to round out the 400 and 1,600-meter relay teams.

80th Congress UN Support Leaves Much To Be Desired

By FETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—What the last Congress did to the United Nations was both good and bad. Congressmen still view UN with fishy eyes.

Most important favorable action was Senate passage of the Vandenberg resolution, reaffirming U. S. intent to work for peace through UN.

Being just a Senate action not requiring a vote by the House nor signing by the President, the Vandenberg resolution is not law. But it is an important policy statement. It backs up the President's State Department and U. S. mission to the UN under Ambassador Warren Austin. And it is a setback to impatient Americans—including many congressmen—who wanted immediate revision of the UN charter.

Ultimate revision of the UN charter is cautiously called for by the Vandenberg resolution if other, voluntary means for ending use of the veto on international dispute cases and admission of new members do not prove successful. Main purpose of the Vandenberg resolution, however, is to let the world know that the Senate is behind all efforts to promote regional security pacts and disarmament, while at the same time strengthening the United Nations world police force.

Ultimate revision of the UN charter is cautiously called for by the Vandenberg resolution if other, voluntary means for ending use of the veto on international dispute cases and admission of new members do not prove successful. Main purpose of the Vandenberg resolution, however, is to let the world know that the Senate is behind all efforts to promote regional security pacts and disarmament, while at the same time strengthening the United Nations world police force.

Record of the last Congress falls short of this goal. Congress provided enough money—more than $12,000,000—for the U. S. share of UN expenses. It provided another million plus for pay of the U. S. mission to the UN—now numbering 188. Congress failed, however, to authorize appointment of another U. S. deputy to serve on the Security Council with Ambassador Acheson and Dr. Philip C. Jessup.

After much pressure upon it, Congress approved U. S. affiliation with the World Health Organization. Three conditions were tied on. First that if the U. S. share of WHO expenses rises above an approved $1,500,000 for the first year, there will have to be specific legislation by Congress. Second that the U. S. may withdraw on one year's notice, for which there is no provision in the WHO charter. Third that all Americans appointed to the WHO staff must be cleared by the FBI.

Whether any of these limitations on an international agency by the U. S. Congress can be made binding is a question no one can now answer. Congress also refused to ratify a convention on privileges and immunities for officials of other governments serving the UN in the U. S. Authority to loan U. S. government technical experts to UN organizations also failed to get action.

Revisions in the International Labor Organization charter were approved, but some of the ILO conventions were not ratified. U. S. membership in an Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization was not acted on.

An international wheat agreement which would have set top and bottom prices for the principal exporting and importing nations failed to get action. As a result, the cost of Marshall Plan relief purchases of wheat is expected to be increased.

Charter of the new International Trade Organization was not submitted to Congress for ratification this year. That, the UN building fund loan and many of the other matters which could not be considered will be up before the next Congress.

Siam Counterfeiters Fool Bank Experts BANGKOK—(AP)—Counterfeiters are so good in Siam that experts have trouble detecting forgeries. So said a criminal court judge, dismissing a charge that a village medicine man had 46 false notes for the purchase of roots, bark and leaves he used for doctoring. Since Bank of Siam experts had difficulty telling a counterfeit note from a real one, said the judge, you couldn't expect villagers to spot the bad ones. ly ill of a heart ailment this week. John L. Hardly! But some day they may be! Yes—some day these same young lovers may seal their vows with a ring and a kiss, and come happily down the aisle to begin their life together.

When that day comes, their happiness is going to depend in large measure on the influences which have molded their character during youth.

The strongest character-building influences in the life of a child are the teachings of his Church and the example of his parents. When these harmonize they provide a constant guiding force, turning the child's interests to the most important values in life.

Your youngster deserves the moral and spiritual training the Church offers. And the influence of the Church will be many times more effective if you, too, worship every Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily. Bitter Reprieve

By Drexel Drake

THE STORY: Playboy Marcus Sterling owes Harry Blaine a gambling debt of $10,000. Blaine, who usually wins, has lost this time. He agrees to pay up by Saturday. Sterling has also taken a sealed packet from the safe. After Blaine leaves, he sets the stage for robbery. A disconnected electric clock, set ahead to 1:30, will mark the time. Satisfied, Marcus goes to Edgewood Cemetery Club to spend the night. In the lounge, attractive man-chance Janet Weirhaven greets him with pleasant surprise. She has been waiting to break Sterling's marriage. She looks at the safe with Miriam. Alone in his room, Sterling rediscovers the sealed packet he had taken from Miriam's safe. It contains $10,000 cash and a gracious note to him from Miriam.

CLIFTON is one of the unique, unusual, little known phenomena inside the bounds of New York City. Such public institutions are entirely agreeable to the two hundred or so families whose homes spread themselves peacefully among the huge brown boulders and on the luxurious slopes of Clifton.

Among certain stalwart New York names, early enrolled on the list of Clifton's homebuilders, was that of Harrison Page, whose gray-rock mansion passed on at his death to his motherless daughter Miriam, one year after her marriage to Marcus Sterling. In a not far distant Clifton villa, Lieutenant Christopher Talent of the New York Homicide Squad, whose spotlessly polished coupe is within inches of the precinct car parked at the curb. Only the telltale insignia on the car would have identified him with the police department. He was tall, almost lean, getting on toward forty without surplus flesh and his erect figure lacked both the breadth of

McKenney on Bridge

That's where the story begins," Gable suggested.

"Two cars in the driveway," Talent commented. "The family's?"

"Ain't got around to that yet," Gable said. "Giving this Nelson baby a chance to get herself together. It's been hard, pumping to get answers."

"Any answers at all?"

"Only that she got here 10 minutes to eight, went up to her room on the third floor for a couple minutes, came back down, had one look phoned the station and fopped in that chair."

"She was out all night, you mean?"

"She gets Thursday afternoons off, like all the household flunkies get, and spends the night with her folks in Jersey... Union City."

Talent glanced back at Ripley and was satisfied when he found his companion from Headquarters taking notes.

"This is a big house," Talent observed. "Nobody else here? Where's the family?"

"Not much of a family, Lieutenant," Gable said. "Just Marcus Sterling and his wife. Maybe you know who he is?"

"A little about him. Figures on Broadway once in a while. Married a lot of money. He isn't here, huh?"

Gable didn't answer was unnecessary. Talent's attention had returned to the window. He studied the shattered window pane, let his eyes travel to the litter of splintered glass on the rug, stooped for closer scrutiny of traces on the rug.

"Somebody didn't want to leave a footprint," Talent idly observed. He examined the fallen tabaret and the white flurrie electric rug clock the lay on one side.

"Sets the time for us, doesn't it?" Gable suggested.

"Thirty-one after one," Talent murmured. "Tells us when the plug was pulled out, anyway."

The correct play is not to win this club trick with the ace, but to let the queen hold. When East continues with the three of clubs, South should win with the ace, which will drop the king. Now declarer leads the ten of clubs, West discards a diamond, East wins with the jack and leads a small spade which declarer trumps with the five of hearts.

Now South leads the nine of clubs, and if West makes the mistake of trumping, South will over-trump in dummy, pick up the trumps and discard his contract. If West refuses to trump, declarer goes down one trick, losing two clubs, a spade and the long heart.

Later in the evening, one of the experts who had been thinking about the hand, told South how he could have made it. Instead of leading the ten of clubs at trick four and letting East win it with the jack, he should have led a small heart to dummy, led the queen of spades and discarded the nine of clubs from his own hand. West would have won with the king of spades, but he could not return a club. Declarer would win either a heart or diamond return in dummy, lead the ten of spades and discard the ten of clubs. Then he could pick up West's four trumps and make the contract.

It is true that if declarer had won the queen of clubs with the ace at trick two and then picked up the trumps, he could have made the hand. But this would not have been the correct percentage play because it would work only when the clubs are divided king and one.

Deputies Trained In Manly Art Of Speech

ELYRIA, OHIO—(AP)—A corps of smooth-talking deputies is being developed in Lorain County to protect the taxpayers against glib-tongued lawyers, says Sheriff Carl R. Finegan.

Finegan, a Purdue University and Western Reserve Law School graduate, has organized a public speaking class for his 13 deputy detectives to give them verbal action to match the speed of their trigger fingers.

"Deputies are constantly meeting the public and should know how to speak in a manner befitting their office," declared the sheriff.

Sheriff Finegan has engaged Prof. John Grafton of the Niagara School of Speech, Cleveland, to conduct the unique 10-week course in detective training.

The course, said Finegan, will prove "important to the taxpayer in the police which the deputies will acquire as skilled speakers."

"The police will help the deputy through trying periods in the courtroom, when lawyers for defendants sometimes try to weaken the state's case by adding to the discomfiture of police officials," he asserted.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING
WACO —(P)—Oddie Ferrell, 38, was killed late Thursday afternoon when struck by lightning as he was rounding up cattle two and one-half miles north of McGregor, Texas.

To make toasted bread crumbs trim the crusts from slices of stale bread; dry slices in a slow oven until they are thoroughly crisp but not browned. Crush fine and sift, before using, if desired.

A most attractive salad is one of avocado and grapefruit. Cut the peeled avocado in half and then into crosswise slices. Arrange alternate slices of the avocado and grapefruit segments on watercress. Serve with a savory French dressing.

Convention's Top Jobs Go To The South

WASHINGTON —(P)—Two old political warriors from the South will handle the two top jobs at the Democratic national convention, which opens in Philadelphia Monday.

As keynote speaker for the third time, Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will sound the call for all good Democrats to come to the aid of their party.

As permanent chairman, Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas will preside when the convention transacts its main business—drafting a party platform and selecting presidential and vice presidential nominees.

The choosing of Barkley and Rayburn has been interpreted as an effort to soften southern hostility to President Truman on the civil rights issue. Both are seasoned party peace-makers as well as longtime battlers against the Republicans.

Both have been in Congress 35 years—since the first inauguration of Woodrow Wilson. Barkley has been Senate Democratic leader for 11 years. Rayburn has been the leader of the House Democrats for 12 years.

In his younger days Barkley had the reputation of being an oratorical "iron man." He could make a dozen campaign speeches in a day and be fresh at the finish.

At 70 he is still going strong. Last Fall he was hurt in an auto accident while campaigning for state candidates in Kentucky. He didn't find out that a rib was broken until three weeks later. In the meantime he had made 40 speeches.

Sen. Barkley has attended Democratic national conventions since 1920. He was a permanent chairman of the 1940 convention which nominated Franklin Roosevelt for his third term.

The soft-spoken, 66-year-old Rayburn should slide easily into the chairman's chair at the convention. He was speaker of the House during the war years and was recognized as a smooth parliamentarian. He learned legislative tactics from the old political maestro, former Vice President John N. Garner.

Wife Helps Bill Murray Campaign For Rail Board

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

A pert and alert brunette, a green-eyed gal with gumption, is spearheading the campaign of William J. Murray, candidate for the Railroad Commission.

She is the wife of Murray, the mother of his three daughters and the manager of his campaign.

Generally, she stays in Austin, running the campaign headquarters, answering letters and talking on the radio, but now and then she hits the road—with a wallop.

This is her technique: She stops at some service station on the outskirts of a small community and gets the names of the principal business men. Thus armed, she walks through the whole town, going to every business establishment, handing out Murray literature. She doesn't raise the benediction either—customers underdriers have time for conversation and can't get away.

"Someone has to ask people to vote for Bill Murray," Mrs. Joe Newton Murray says. "He's so shy he never asks for anyone's vote. But I don't have any qualms at all."

Murray has been a member of the Railroad Commission since January, 1947, when he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Gov. Beauford Jester. He now seeks election to the remaining two years of this unexpired term.

He is the only graduate petroleum engineer ever to serve as a member of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

"Bill really knows the oil business," says Mrs. Murray, "but when he starts telling some average voter about the need for conservation he uses such technical language that the voter sometimes gets lost in a fog of oil jargon. In other words, Bill doesn't talk the voters' English—but by gosh, I do."

The attractive Mrs. Murray, a native of Burnett, Texas, met her husband on a West Texas oil lease. They were married in 1939. She has attended John Tarleton Agricultural College, Kilgore Junior College and the University of Texas.

She is 27 and her hobby is trout fishing. When she is out politics, a nurse looks after the three daughters.

At Cotulla the other day, Mrs. Murray made her greatest sacrifice to her husband's campaign: "They were having a rodeo and a friend told me it would do Bill some good, politically, if I would get on a horse, ride out into the arena and be introduced.

"I don't know anything about horses but I figured if I fell off and broke my neck it would be good publicity for Bill and if I stayed on I'd be doing all right.

"I almost died of fright when that horse began galloping but I managed to stay on."
