Truman Demands Check On Costs

Asks Excess Profits Tax, Wage Control

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Tuesday demanded limited price control and an excess profits tax to help check the rising cost of living and avert "another great depression."

A depression, he said, would scuttle "the world's hope for a lasting peace."

The President coupled a reiterated plea for power to hold wages in line with his price control recommendation.

And he personally confronted the politically hostile 80th Congress with six other proposed brakes on spending—among them a return to credit restrictions and standby rationing authority.

"The Communists, both here and abroad, are counting on our present prosperity turning into a depression," the Chief Executive declared.

"They do not believe that we can—or will—put the brakes on high prices. They are counting on an economic collapse in this country."

That, he said, "would cut the ground from under the free nations of Europe."

Truman addressed a joint meeting of the Senate and House on the second day of the special session he called in the heat of a presidential campaign year.

But his language was far more restrained than it was in his campaign tour, or in his acceptance speech to the Democratic National Convention. Then he referred repeatedly to the Republican-controlled 80th Congress as one of the worst in the nation's history.

The President did not spell out the details of his price control program. He left that a question to be answered by an Administration bill promised later this week—perhaps Wednesday.

But he did say the controls should be authorized for "serious commodities which basically affect essential industrial production or the cost of living." That would seem to mean things like steel and meat.

The chief executive hit hardest at the rising cost of living. But he led off by saying that another crying need is for more and cheaper housing.

So he called again for passage of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner Bill to meet the "acute" housing shortage.

In addition to selective price control and a return to the wartime excess profits tax at a rate he did not disclose, the President asked Congress to:

1. Restore consumer credit controls—such as those which specified down payments and the time in which installment purchases had to be paid off.

2. Arm the Federal Reserve Board with more power to regulate "inflationary bank credit."

3. Grant him power to regulate speculation on the commodity exchanges.

4. Grant him power to impose allocation and inventory control over "scarce commodities which basically affect essential production or the cost of living" during the term he used for his price control proposal.

5. Strengthen controls over rent with adequate appropriations for enforcement to prevent "further unwarrented rent increases."

6. Give him standby power to ration "those few products in short supply which vitally affect the health and welfare." He said that unless further shortages occur, this authority "might not have to be used at all."

Asks Power Over Wages
The President asked authority to limit wage increases only where they would "force a break in a price ceiling." Even in this instance an exception would be made if the increases were "essential to remedy hardship, to correct inequities or to prevent an actual lowering of living standards."

Contending that industry has boosted prices in many recent cases where profit margins were "adequate" to absorb the increased labor costs, the President added:

"Rising wages and rising standards of living, based on increasing productivity and a fair distribution of income, are the American way. Non-inflationary wage increases can and should continue to be made by free collective bargaining."

Aside from his reference to Communists here and abroad counting on an American depression, Truman made no direct reference to this country's strained relations with Russia.

The President devoted only a single paragraph in his 3,000-word address to "urge upon Congress" the controversial civil rights program he sent to Capitol Hill last February.

The civil rights proposals, Truman said, "are necessary to carry out the American ideals of liberty and justice for all."

As he had said he would, the chief executive also asked the special session for:

1. A new displaced persons bill to provide for the admission of some 400,000 of Europe's war refugees into this country during the summer.

Two Police Forces May Be Ordered In Blocked Berlin

BERLIN—(AP)—Two police forces as well as two police chiefs appeared in prospect Tuesday for blockaded Berlin.

Communists directly challenged the authority of the socialist-controlled city government. Paul Markgraf, Communist-trained police president, told the elected municipal government it could not suspend him because he had the support of the Soviet Army.

Markgraf said he would refuse to yield his office to Socialist Johannes Stumm, his former deputy whom the city government has appointed as his successor.

Central police headquarters in the Soviet sector. The prospect arose that the three Western powers might decide to establish a central police headquarters in their occupation sectors where Stumm would preside. The three Western allied commanders of Berlin met and were believed discussing the police crisis.

To Present Proposals
Meanwhile ranking diplomats of the three Western powers were reported in London to have decided to present orally to Russian Foreign Minister M. Molotov the proposals of their governments to end the month-old blockade, and on other German questions. An oral presentation, rather than another formal note, seemed likely to have more leeway in getting an agreement. It offered the Russians less chance, too, of another formal rejection.

The Russians maintained silence for the moment on the American and British retaliation of stopping train traffic into and from the Soviet zone of Germany. A Dutch government spokesman, however, expressed regret in The Hague.

German Newspapers Said
The German newspapers said the Russians are increasing substantially the number of fighter planes they maintain near Berlin. Large army maneuvers were reported in the Red zone.

Chief Paul Markgraf, suspended by the anti-Communist city government for being "un-Democratic, un-German and uncooperative," continued to receive the backing of the Russians, who appointed him originally.

His anti-Communist deputy, Dr. Johannes Stumm, directed by the city government to take over, was ordered dismissed by the Russian commander of Berlin, Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov. The dismissal was a one-power act, however, and the city is run by four powers.

In Frankfurt, the military governors of the French, British and American zones reached final agreement with German political leaders for establishment of a unified government in Western Germany.

The plans, according to information received by Attorney General Price Daniel.

Officials of the negro university have asked the attorney general for a legal opinion on the question.

Negroes Ask $180,000 In Anti-Segregation Suit Against T&P

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—An anti-segregation suit for $180,000 damages was on file against two railroads Tuesday.

Nine California negroes accused the Southern Pacific and the Texas and Pacific Railroads of "willful misconduct" in requiring them to leave reserved chair car seats for another coach at El Paso.

They contended their tickets entitled them to the more comfortable accommodations from Los Angeles to Dallas. Each asks $180,000 actual damages for "loss of comfort, humiliation and discontent" and $10,000 punitive damages.

The plaintiffs are Laura Powers, Violet L. Adams, Josephine Benjamin, Mary Jackson, Nettie Lee Cook, Joseph B. Williams and Benny H. Warren, all of Los Angeles; Pearl Smith, San Francisco, and Myrtle Lee Wright, Vallejo.

25-Year Olds To Get First Call In Draft

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey announced Tuesday that 25-year-old men will be drafted first.

Other age groups will be taken in order of their registration, he said.

Hershey made the announcement after an hour conference with members of the Senate and House Armed Services Committees.

Later he told newsmen approximately 5,000,000 men will be processed in the first six months of the program, beginning with the 25-year-olds and working down through those in the 22-year-age brackets.

Claim System Fair
Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said the system established by the Selective Service Board for the selection of draftees is "fair and in accordance with the act."

Draft headquarters estimated Monday night that of the 578,000 non-veterans in the 23-to-25 group only about 40,000 or 50,000 are qualified for service. Since the Army is expected to call for around 30,000 a month it appeared the bulk of inductees will come later from the younger groups.

Organization of state and local draft boards meanwhile was reported nearing completion. Registration of all those 18 through 25 will get under way August 30.

With The Voyagers—

Midland Scouts End Canoe Trip; Start For Home

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis., July 25 (By Air Mail)—The Midland Voyagers, fresh from their five-day canoe trip into the Wilderness Lakes region of Canada, arrived here late Sunday to spend the night before heading for Chicago on their return trip to Midland, Texas.

They planned to spend Monday in Whitewater, Wis., where they were to pick up Mrs. Ralph Smith who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Williams. They also were to receive new Explorer Scout uniforms. The Scouts were scheduled to attend the Breakfast Club program in Chicago Tuesday morning.

Wednesday, the Midlanders will drive to the farm of Ralph Smith's parents in Southwest Missouri for a rest.

The Voyagers completed their canoe trip Saturday afternoon, arriving back at their base camp on Moose Lake north of Ely, Minn. No mishaps were reported, although two of the boys had spills in the water during practice sessions.

They got back to the base camp after 48 miles of rowing and 16 portages, the portage varying from a hundred yards to a mile in length. On a portage, canoes and equipment must be carried.

After a good sleep Saturday night, the boys left early Sunday for Ely and on to Duluth, Minn., and Wisconsin Dells.

The Voyagers are members of Midland Explorer Scout Post No. 25 which is sponsored by the Midland Lions Club. Advisers Ralph Smith and Albert Kelley are accompanying the 15 Scouts on their tour.

Hudson Retains Top Place

Hill D. Hudson, Pecos attorney, and Henry A. Coffield, Marfa ranchman, Tuesday emerged as the runoff candidates in the race for senator from the 29th Senatorial District, according to still incomplete and unofficial returns from the 27 counties of the far-flung West Texas district.

The four-way race was one of the closest ever observed in this section, with less than 1,400 votes difference between the high and low men.

Hudson topped the field with 12,861 votes and Coffield was second with 12,135. Charles Moore of Del Rio was third with 12,872 and Maurice Bobbitt of El Paso trailed with 12,288.

Coffield was high man in seven counties and Hudson took the lead in nine.

The district includes the entire 18th Congressional District plus eight other counties, and covers approximately 55,000 square miles. H. L. Whitfield of Port Stockton, the incumbent, did not seek reelection.

Man Hits Jackpot, But Almost Gets Crushed

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF.—(AP)—A young man hit the jackpot here and almost got crushed with the proceeds.

What he wanted was a 25-pound cake of ice, so he put two dimes in the vending machine.

He got his cake of ice all right, followed in rapid succession by 3¢ more.

Intimidated by this incipient gain, he dodged behind his car while the ice dealers swung their hands.

When the deluge subsided, the young man tossed one chunk in his car and drove off.

Recruiter Needs House, Recruits House Owner

ERIE, PA.—(AP)—Master Sgt. Vincent Petrocki, father of three children, needed a house.

The sergeant, who is recruiting for the Army, started to "sell" Earl Easton, 25, on the Army. Easton mentioned he had a five-room house. Petrocki really poured on the steam.

Now Easton is in the Army. And Petrocki has his house.

SEA SCOUTS TAKE PASTEUR TREATMENT

Midlander's Gift Causes Shriek Heard From Coast To Coast

A Midland Scout caused a shriek which was heard across the nation Tuesday morning.

Ed Prichard, one of the Midland Voyagers from Explorer Scout Post No. 85 who have been on a trip through the Border Lakes region of the United States and Canada, evoked the shrill cry when he presented a horned frog to Patsy Lee, singer on Don McNeal's Breakfast Club program in Chicago.

Ralph Smith, senior advisor with the group, introduced the Midland boys on the program, and then Prichard handed McNeal, Miss Lee, and Sam, the show's comedian, presents from Texas. The men managed to remain reasonably unexcited when they opened the boxes and saw their spiky presents, but at sight of a live horned frog, Miss Lee gave out a shriek.

The boys explained over the program, which was heard here from 8 to 9 a. m., that they left Whitewater, Wis., at 2 a. m. Tuesday in order to appear on the program. They have driven about 2,400 miles on the trip and are enroute back to Midland. Albert Kelley also is an advisor accompanying the Voyagers.

Community Theater Needs 36 Persons For New Play's Cast

Thirty-six persons are needed to complete the cast of the next Community Theater production, "The Man Who Came To Dinner," according to Joe Kogler, chairman of the casting committee.

The play will be presented sometime in September and the casting will be made around August 15. Because of its wide popularity on the stage and as a motion picture, a large number of Midland citizens are expected to try out for the various parts.

Anyone interested in trying out can obtain advance copies of the script by contacting Kogler at the Midland Floral Company.

Art Cole, director of the theater, pointed out that an advance study of the script will materially aid those trying out for parts by familiarizing them with the various situations in which the characters become involved.

American Announces 'Family Fare' Plan

American Airlines officials announced here Tuesday the company will file with the Civil Aeronautics Board a "first of the week family fare plan" permitting wives and children 21 years of age or less to travel at half fare.

Officials said the action is designed to broaden the market for air transportation and to increase income by making it possible for more persons to travel. Passenger loads, they said, are lower on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday than on other days of the week, therefore American will make the new plan effective on those days only.

The plan provides that when a husband purchases a full fare ticket he may take his wife and children 21 years of age or less at half fare. If either parent alone purchases a ticket, he or she may take the children at half fare. The arrangement does not affect the present regulation between two and 12 and no charge for children under two.

At the same time the company announced it will file with the CAB a complete fare equalization program for all passenger aircraft to the DC-6 level.

First Primary Storm Ends In Political Lull

By The Associated Press
Texas was in a political lull Tuesday.

The first Democratic primary storm was at an end, but in the offing was the second primary, soon to strike with renewed intensity.

Both runoff candidates in the race for U. S. Senate were temporarily off the campaign trail. Coke Stevenson was making plans to go to Washington to attend the special session of Congress as an observer. Lyndon Johnson was already there as congressional representative from the 19th district.

Meantime only a few thousand primary election votes remained to be accounted for. Stevenson was easy possessor of the lead in the Senate race. Monday night's Texas Election Bureau returns gave him 435,058 votes to 365,989 for Johnson. Stevenson's percentage was 53.06; Johnson's 46.94.

Record Vote Assured
George J. Eddy, who conceded elimination from the runoff, held 236,196 or 21.03 per cent of the votes.

A record vote for the state was assured. Up to Monday night 1,108,790 votes were accounted for by the Texas Election Bureau.

The bureau's returns Monday night were based on reports from 263 of the 284 counties, including 156 complete.

Gov. Beauford Jester won renomination with little trouble over State Rep. Roger Q. Evans and Cazo March.

No other statewide race was in apparent doubt. Even the early see-saw battle between Associate Justice W. S. John Garwood and Jefferson G. Smith was without suspense. The associate justice faced defeat until returns from his home county boosted him out in front with a comfortable lead.

Monday night's tabulations gave Garwood 480,711 votes; Smith 440,032.

Greeks Battle Reds For 6,000-Foot Height

ATHENS — (AP) — Dogged Army forces are battling fanatically resisting guerrillas for possession of a 6,000-foot-high Kleftis Height, the Greek general said Tuesday. The height is the key to the Northern Smolikas Mountains.

The Army jumped off Monday morning in a renewed drive to crush Communist rebels holed up in the Grammos Mountain area. Kleftis stands at the summit of the height, which the Army captured and held for two hours Monday before being driven off by 12 rebel counterattacks.

Tom And Ike, They Smile Alike

(NEA Telephoto)
Somebody must have said something funny, as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, left, and Republican presidential candidate Gov. Thomas E. Dewey met at Dewey's Pawling, N. Y., farm. The conference was "non-political," but both men agreed that America "must stand with absolute firmness in Berlin."

Question Of Progressive Geography

By HAL BOYLE
PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — To put the robust, newborn Progressive Party in its proper perspective, it is perhaps pertinent to point out a geographical fact.

The city of brotherly love is only one hour and a half by train from New York City.

How much does that explain the new party's impressive vigor? In Manhattan at any major rally the Communist Party and its friends can crowd Madison Square Garden with 20,000 people.

It is important to remember because veteran political observers expressed amazement at the fact Henry Wallace and Sen. Glen Taylor, his tenor running mate, drew more than 30,000 lovers of a new political music to their doubleheader at Shibe Baseball Park last Saturday night.

Babe Ruth in his prime hardly did better. But the campaign will reveal whether the Progressive Party has astonishing popular strength — or merely was born in a town where all the relatives could get there in time for the baptism.

Show Support
The campaign will quickly show whether the strength of Wallace, who disavowed no support by anyone sincerely interested in peace, is largely based on the Communists.

Regardless of the sources of its main power, the Progressive Party has a special vitality rare in American politics. It claims to be a people's party — what party ever didn't? — but it acts like a people's party.

It had representatives of 19 different melting pot nationalities here, and it courted them all.

The founding convention of the Progressive Party also was noteworthy for the politico-religious fervor of its delegates. They felt they were engaged more in a crusade than a campaign. And they had more fun than people are supposed to have in politics.

"A waitress told me we ate five times as many hot dogs as the Republicans did," said a proud delegate in convention hall.

The Progressive Party is hungry for victory, too.

Dangerous Implications

General Eisenhower may have thought that the presidency of Columbia University would give him academic sanctuary from international politics. But he can't have persisted in the idea very long. For he was scarcely settled at his new desk when a problem in international relations confronted him.

Dr. Arthur Prudden Coleman resigned as assistant professor of Polish language and literature in protest against the university's acceptance of a Polish government grant to establish a chair of Polish literature, language and philology at Columbia.

Dr. Coleman contended that the new chair would constitute "academic infiltration" of communism at Columbia. He said that by working in the same field with a man who was paid by the undemocratic Polish regime, he would feel that he was conniving in an intellectual "collaboration" like that of the professors who stayed at their German university posts under the Nazis.

Columbia's new president accepted the resignation. But he did so with reluctance, and with reservations which to us seem justified.

No one can deny Dr. Coleman the right to his sincere convictions and his academic freedom.

But one wonders if this educator, like some other well-meaning Americans, is not borrowing communistic techniques to fight communism. The Soviet government long ago slammed the door on freedom of academic intercourse between its own schools and those of the outside world.

We do not know the personal politics of Dr. Manfred Kridl, now on the Smith College faculty, who was chosen to fill the new chair at Columbia. But Dr. Coleman's objection seems to be one of principle rather than of personality; we gather that he would be unwilling to serve with any professor on the Polish government's payroll.

If this were the general attitude, then American higher education would be ringing down an iron curtain of its own. Such an attitude would imply that there was no common non-political ground where Communists and anti-Communists could meet, that the two systems could not live together either in the academic or the political world.

In the Soviet sphere outside the Russian borders, the arts and sciences have not been entirely subjugated to a political formula, as they are in the Soviet Union and as they were in Nazi Germany.

In that connection it might be pointed out that nazism in the beginning was a matter of free choice, while Communist control of the satellite countries was swiftly and fraudulently imposed. If state-supported education is to continue in those countries, the teachers and researchers have little choice in the matter, whatever their personal opinion.

This is not a pretty state of affairs, and we hope it is not permanent. But while it exists, Dr. Coleman's action raises the question of whether it is better to try to preserve some ties of interest and understanding between thinking people who are not unfriendly and who do not want war, or whether they must end all intellectual communication as a prelude to conflict.

Two Tough Opponents

Senator Taft offers the country his assurance, confident but not guaranteed, that "the price situation is all right" and that prices, with the exception of meat, won't rise in the coming year. But he says nothing about bringing prices down.

After the outcome of his stop-Dewey drive, the senator is understandably a little wary of rushing into a stop-inflation campaign.

Fantastic Financial Fish Story Features ECA Loan To Iceland

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Loan business at Paul G. Hoffman's Economic Cooperation Administration, handling Marshall Plan money, isn't so good.

Announcement that the first reconstruction loan of $2,800,000 had been authorized for Iceland was a little premature. It was to cover $800,000 to outfit a herring oil factory ship, plus $1,500,000 for a fish oil refinery and other modernization of the Icelandic fishing industry. The loan hasn't been signed yet, and the Iceland government, somewhat embarrassed by the early announcement, is balking at the terms and interest rate through its minister to Washington, Thor Thors.

It is quite a fish story. The project was originally conceived by the Icelanders. They wanted a factory ship so that the fishing fleets wouldn't have to come back to port every time they made a catch. Instead, they would be able to discharge their hauls to the floating factory, which would reduce the herring to oil at sea. Then the fishing fleets could be refueled and take on new supplies of food and water from the factory ship stores. The fishing boats could then remain at sea and fish for longer periods of time.

The Icelandic government first approached the U. S. Export-Import Bank to finance this modernization, early this year. The project looked good to Ex-Im Bank. It was all set to make the loan when ECA was opened for business last April.

Wanting to show results as soon as possible, ECA suggested that it take over the loan to Iceland. All the spare work that had been done by the bank was then done again by the ECA staff.

Then the statistics and reports division of ECA put out a pretty book of charts and graphs which, in two footnotes, made reference to the fact that Iceland received the only procurement authorization ($2,800,000) written against the loan programs.

That let the cat out of the bag. And when Administrator Hoffman held his first meeting with the ECA advisory board, the word got out that the loan to Iceland—the long-awaited start on European recovery—was all set. Actually, the loan hasn't been signed.

The reasons why the reconstruction loan business hasn't been any better at ECA are perfectly understandable. Out of the first year's $5,000,000,000 appropriated by Congress, roughly $1,000,000,000 is for loans, and $4,000,000,000 for outright gifts. Naturally, none of the ECA countries wants to borrow money if it can get it as an outright gift.

The British, for instance, are said to be turning down all suggestions that they borrow some money for reconstruction, on what are described as "highly moral grounds." The argument is that, since the British government hasn't been able to service or repay anything on its debts to the U. S. government, it would be "immoral" for them to borrow still more money.

The question of interest rates, which has been a stumbling block on closing the initial loan to Iceland, has also been raised by other countries. ECA enabling legislation specifies that its loans shall bear the U. S. Treasury's current monthly average interest rate. This is now slightly under two per cent.

Marshall Plan countries dickering for loans have expected to get this low rate. Since ECA loans are handled by Export-Import Bank, however, all negotiations have been conducted on the bank's usual terms. Ex-Im Bank is required by law to make interest-bearing loans on such projects as appear to be self-liquidating, so that there is a good chance the money will be paid back. Ex-Im Bank's interest rate therefore varies with the risk and runs from two to four per cent.

Prospective Marshall Plan borrowers are now trying to beat down these interest rates. So far they have had no success, but this is one of the principal reasons why ECA's loan business has been slow.

Administrator Hoffman, before taking off for a week's quick trip to Paris, announced that ECA had set aside $289,000,000 for loans to 10 countries in the period ending next September 30. This includes the $2,800,000 for Iceland, the smallest loan under consideration and the only specific project authorized.

Questions and Answers

Q—In the Coat of Arms of the United States, what is the significance of the olive branch and arrows?

A—The olive branch and the arrows (13) in the talons of the eagle denote the power of peace and war which is vested in Congress.

Q—For how many years, under Mexican law, may a president hold office?

A—Mexico's president holds office for six years. He may not succeed himself.

Q—Why is "rock dust"—lime rock ground as fine as talcum powder—sprayed on the walls and roof of a coal mine?

A—Loose coal dust in a mine is a safety hazard. But when a powerful blower sprays the mine with "rock dust" the coal dust is diluted, neutralizing its explosive qualities and safeguarding against explosions.

Q—Are all camels dromedaries?

A—No. There are two types of camels—the one-humped Arabian, and the two-humped Bactrian. Correctly used, the word dromedary applies only to the one-humped variety.

Q—When does a new star become part of the flag?

A—If Alaska, or any other territory, were to enter the Union as a State a new star would become part of the official flag on the following Fourth of July.

Q—The islands of the Philippine archipelago are largely volcanic.

A—No. There are two types of camels—the one-humped Arabian, and the two-humped Bactrian.

Correctly used, the word dromedary applies only to the one-humped variety.

Democracies Take Initiative In Berlin Crisis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Widespread speculation that a parley of the big four foreign ministers (America, Britain, Russia and France) may be held to try to settle the Berlin crisis has been accompanied by a decided hardening of the Western Allies' attitude towards the Bolshevik aggression.

The Democracies are exemplifying their declaration that they are willing to negotiate but they won't do it under coercion. The attempted coercion in this instance is the brutal food-blockade of the civilian population of Western Berlin.

Monday the United States and Britain handed Russia a dose of her own medicine by banning movement of trains to and from the Russian zone of Germany.

Furthermore America and Britain are expanding their already huge air services for transport of food and fuel to save the 2,400,000 inhabitants of the Democracies' zones.

What must be the last straw for Moscow, however, is the announcement that the military governors and German political leaders of the three Western zones of the Reich have reached final agreement for a unified government of that area. The Muscovites have fought this program tooth and nail.

There even is speculation again that President Truman and Marshal Stalin might meet to try to iron out the crisis. Truman hasn't received any official proposal for such a meeting and his position continues to be that he would be glad to welcome Stalin in Washington but has no intention of leaving America for such a conference.

There certainly is a big question whether a meeting of these two chiefs of state would in itself resolve the differences between Democracy and Bolshevism.

There is some doubt whether the Berlin issue, or any other vital issue, could be decided solely by Stalin these days.

Time was when Stalin was credited with being the absolute dictator of Russia. There has been much speculation abroad whether his word still is law.

Observers have noted that the Politburo, or controlling body of the Russian Communist Party, more and more has been reported as having the last word to which, in theory, it always has been entitled.

One suspects that the Politburo may have the decision regarding developments in the cold war. The majority views of that body might not agree with those of Stalin.

Britons Charged With Espionage In Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL—(AP)—An Israeli police prosecutor filed general charges of espionage and security violation Tuesday against five Britons arrested six weeks ago in a Jerusalem spy hunt.

Magistrate Eliezer Malchi told the prosecutor he would hold the five men 15 days on these allegations but would release them August 10 unless more specific charges are filed.

Pasteurization Kills Germs, But Milk Must Still Be Clean

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service
Milk has been known to carry disease to many people. The germ of tuberculosis has been carried in milk. Typhoid fever, septic sore throat and undulant fever are also spread by infected milk.

The spread of disease germs through milk can be checked. The way to do this is simple and well known. It is only necessary to use a process of treating milk with heat which destroys the disease germs. This heat treatment is called pasteurization—a name which it received from the great French pioneer in bacteriology, Louis Pasteur.

Nearly all city health departments now require pasteurization. This has reduced the spread of disease through milk in city areas to the practical vanishing point. For those who cannot purchase pasteurized milk several electrically operated home pasteurizers are available.

Ne Examine For Dirt
Destroying germs by heating is no excuse for supplying consumers with dirty milk. The more healthy the cows, the cleaner the collecting methods, the transportation and the bottling, the fewer germs there are to be destroyed by pasteurization.

Great steps forward have been made in getting cleaner milk. Modern dairy herds are healthier, and dairy methods are much better than they used to be. All this has resulted in a supply of cleaner, better and much safer milk to city residents.

For a long-time the idea of pasteurizing milk was objected to because people thought that it harmed the taste or destroyed some of the nutritious value. These ideas are wrong. The taste is altered only slightly by pasteurization. It has been shown conclusively that the seasonal variation in the nutritional quality of milk is greater than any effect which pasteurization has on it.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

QUESTION: What are the symptoms of high blood pressure?
ANSWER: There may be no symptoms at all from high blood pressure. It is frequently discovered accidentally. Dizziness, headache, buzzing in the ears, and a flushed face are among the common symptoms. Fainting of the heart may occur. None of these symptoms, however, is absolutely characteristic of high blood pressure, and may be present with other things of less importance.

Not A Chigger in Miles— Kermit Doubts If Movies Can Make East Texas Pine Look Like Mesquite

By MAUD GREEN
KERMIT—Residents of Kermit are "all agog" since discovering their fast-growing and prosperous community is the theme city of a motion picture, "Strike It Rich," now being filmed by Jack Wrather, wealthy Texas oilman and movie producer.

There is only one thing wrong—the filming is in East Texas, with the village of Lindale, Smith County, chosen as the locale to portray this deep West Texas city.

Kermit citizens, proud of their many oil wells and the miles of barren, rolling sand dunes of Winkler County, just don't believe it can be done.

But Kermitites, after learning their chamber of commerce and newspaper, had dispatched telegrams of resentment to Wrather, had their laugh Sunday night when a Hollywood radio commentator reported production of the film had been stopped because of the famous East Texas chiggers.

No Chiggers
Immediately the Kermit Chamber of Commerce shot another telegram to Wrather. It read:

"We heard with regret on Sunday night radio program that you had been forced to stop production on 'Strike It Rich' because East Texas chiggers temporarily marred the beauty of the film's star, Bonita Granville. Why not finish picture where it belongs? Tell Bonita there is not a chigger within hundreds of miles of Kermit."

Previously, the following telegram had been sent by the chamber of commerce and newspaper:

"We note in the press, with surprise and a little resentment, that you have chosen Lindale, an East Texas town, to shoot an oil story picture, 'Strike It Rich,' depicting Kermit in the early 1930's. This has us puzzled since we always have thought pictures were filmed in at least a reasonable facsimile of the story locale. We seriously doubt if even the magic camouflage of the movie industry can make an East Texas pine tree look anything like one of Kermit's scrub mesquite bushes.

Bustling, Busy City
"The bustling, busy city of Kermit of 1948 might have been different to show as it was in the 30's, but 9,850 of its present 10,000 population would have been delighted to remain under cover while the 'shooting' was going on.

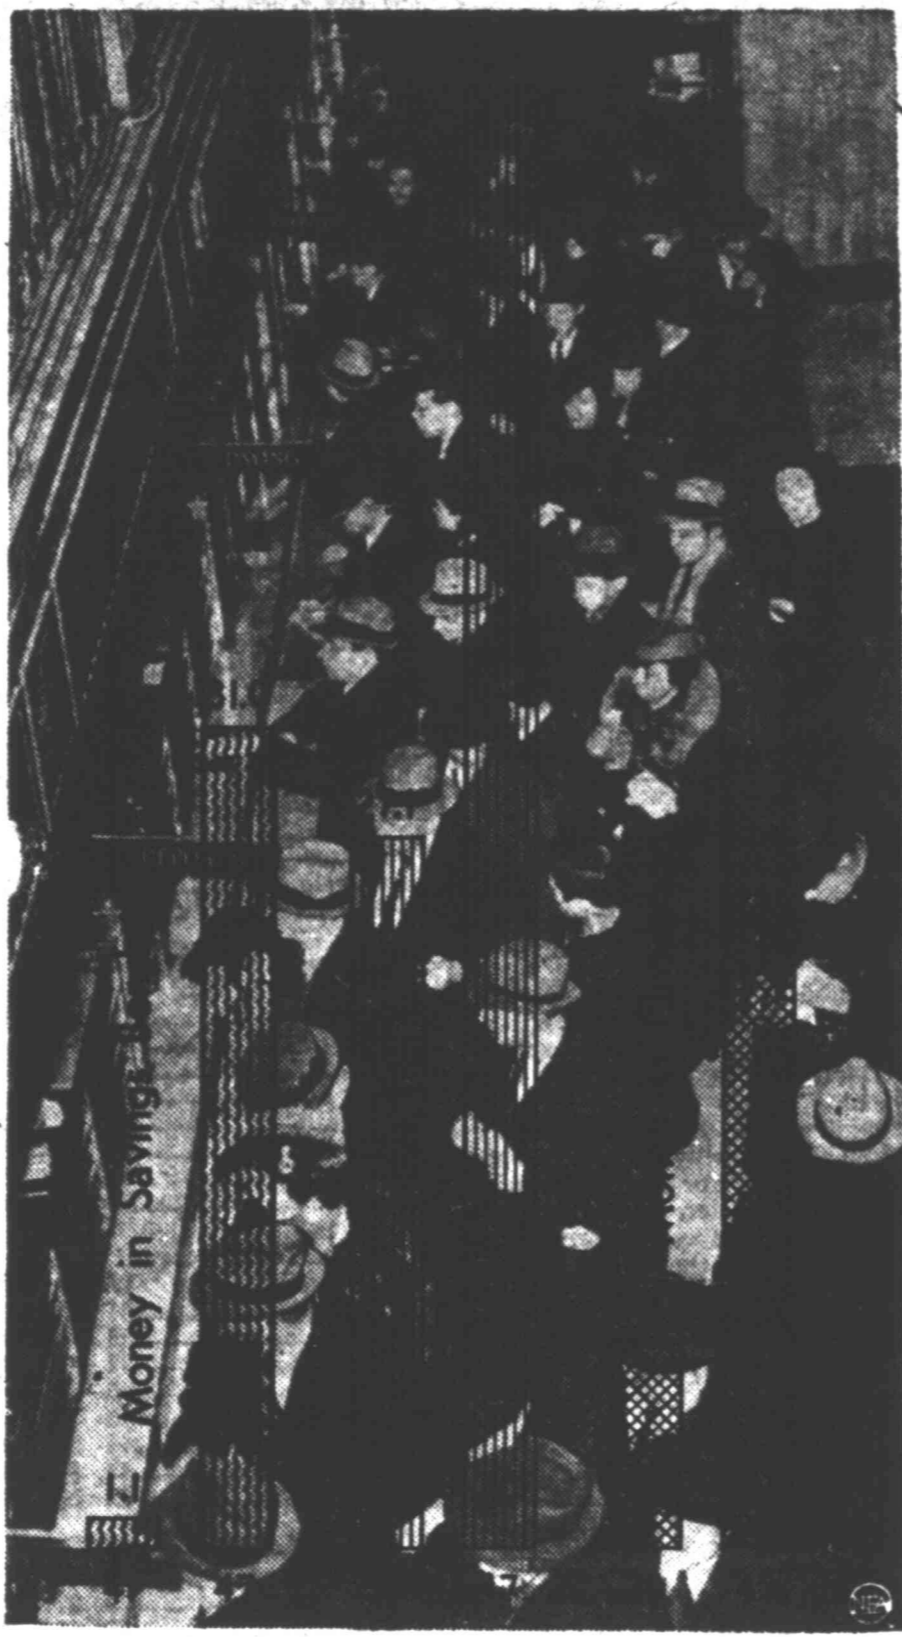

"Everything you needed in the way of props would have been right handy, except the Model A's and T's. Kermit could have hidden its Buicks and Lincolns and imported the A's and T's from East Texas.

"They don't let our oil wells gush anymore, but some driller could have been persuaded, for such a special occasion, to let one 'get loose,' and you could have set the day and hour for this scene.

Beer Signs
"Only false fronts about the beer signs would have been the five-cent price. There's always been plenty of the first part of the sign, but no one remembers it ever selling for a nickel.

"The picture probably is almost finished, so all we can do now is extend an invitation for the premiere showing of 'Strike It Rich' to be held in Kermit. It would draw a much larger crowd than in Dallas, and besides, we're all agog to see the movie's picture of Kermit in the 30's, as it was filmed in East Texas."

Inflation Caused By Large Increase Of Money In Nation

These bars show why inflation is spiraling so fast—tens of billions of dollars in new money and new savings that can be cashed quickly, trying to get spent for goods that aren't available. With three times as much spendable money, and only once and a half as much to buy, prices could be expected to double. They haven't yet—but they're heading that way. All figures are in billions of dollars, based on National Industrial Conference Board records.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Some economists feel that the cost of living has not yet reached the height it is entitled to reach. They expect it to keep climbing until something breaks.

They recognize this in an unpopular theory, and they consider the whole situation unfortunate, but they think the public ought to know the facts.

The cost of living is up, and still mounting, because the people have more money than they are anxious to spend than there are things to be bought.

In a recent study of Domestic Consumer Markets, the National Industrial Conference Board brought out figures that explain and confirm what these pessimistic economists say.

The amount of cash—paper money and metal coins—in circulation has risen from $7.6 billion in 1939 to $28.9 billion in 1947. That means there is $21.3 billion more cash floating around than there was before the war—$3.80 in cash now for every $1 then.

There is $56.3 billion now in time deposits—bank accounts on which we can draw almost at will—compared with $27.1 billion in 1939. That means an increase of $29.2 billion we can fall back on if we spend all the ready cash we have.

There was $31 billion in government "E" bonds at the end of 1947, whereas very few had any government bonds at all in 1939. "E" bonds are the kind for which you pay $17.50 and cash in after 10 year for $25, or pay $75 and cash in for $100. You can get your money out any time after 60 days by walking into a post office or bank.

Patriotic Duty
"E" bonds were defense bonds, war bonds, savings bonds designed for folks with small incomes. They were bought partly as a patriotic duty, but they were sold through a high-powered campaign pointing out that as soon as the war was over we could use them for houses, automobiles, washing machines, television sets and the like. Everybody and his brother is trying now to do just that, and having hard sailing.

In these three classes alone the American public had only $34.7 billion in 1939, but at the end of 1947 it had $116.2 billion. The increase is $81.5 billion. Or, put another way, the American people have $3.06 that they can spend today and tomorrow, if they choose, for every dollar they had in 1939.

Moreover, this money, actual and potential, is better distributed than it was. Today everybody who wants work has it. The two millions of unemployed are less than the number that normally is out of work on any given day because it is shifting from one job to another.

Conference Board studies show that the average income of the nation's poorest families, even after allowing for higher prices, rose from $88 in 1941 to $225 in 1946. The average income of the second lowest fifth rose from $1,275 to $2,023, after allowing for the dollar's lower value. The average for all families and individuals jumped from $2,993 to $3,806 in terms of 1946 dollars.

New Wave Money
This means that the very people who never had enough to eat properly now have money. For years they had been longing for luxuries, semi-luxuries, conveniences. Now they can pay for some of them, and they intend to get them. Their new money is pushing harder against prices, in the national auction, than the money of the old middle class that is being squeezed dry by inflation but that already owned many conveniences and some minor luxuries.

When ready money runs out, and the "E" bonds are gone, and the savings account has been cleaned out, there always is credit. The Conference Board's studies show that open charge accounts in retail stores jumped from $1.3 billion in February of 1944 to $2.1 billion last February; that single payment loans rose from $1.1 billion to $2.7 billion; that installment credit—the $1 down and 25 cents a week thing—went up from $1.5 billion to $4.3 billion.

Meanwhile industry has done a marvelous job of stepping up its output. The production of consumers durable items—such things as electric ranges, water heaters, radios and the like—has again as great as it was in 1941.

It won't work...by itself

It takes a lot more than a telephone instrument to give you telephone service.

Before a telephone will work it must be connected by a pair of wires from your home all the way to the switching equipment in the central office.

Telephone wire and cable are still scarce compared with the large amounts we need. But we are placing and splicing new cable as fast as we can get it.

In some places, there isn't room for more telephone connections on the switchboards. To get more room, we are adding new equipment—faster than ever before.

Despite shortages, we would be caught up by now if it was not for the extremely large number of new applications for service. They pour in at a rate of 50,000 a month in the Southwest, and that tremendous demand has kept us from eliminating the wait for telephone service in most places.

It is still an uphill pull, but we are gaining on it, and we are grateful for your patience and understanding.

Mills Stops Lesnevich In 15 Round Decision

LONDON—(AP)—Ring-scarred Gus Lesnevich falls for home Friday minus the world light heavyweight championship and his once bright hopes of fighting for the heavy-weight crown.

Freddie Mills, beetle-browed Briton, scrambled Gus' future Monday night in a surprise upset. The former carnival clown won the 15-round crown with a 15-round decision.

Lesnevich, twice banged to the canvas and left with ugly gashes around both eyes, immediately announced he was discarding his heavy-weight aspirations in favor of another shot at Mills.

Lesnevich scored a tenth round knockout over Mills in 1944.

This time, however, he failed to look the same authority in his fists. Lesnevich rushed Mills in his first round but Freddie landed a right hook that cut the champ's left eye and brought blood. Lesnevich's stier eye soon was gashed and the American from that point on seemed unable to grab command of the situation.

WT-NM League—Abilene Gains In First Division Drive

By The Associated Press

Abilene gained a bit in its drive for the first division Monday night by handling Lubbock a 7-2 beating in a rain-shortened West Texas-New Mexico League game.

League-leading Albuquerque outlasted Borger 13-11; Clovis nosed out Amarillo 7-5 and Pampa beat Lamesa 9-4 in other games.

Six runs in the third inning insured Abilene the decision. The game was called in the Blue Sox's half of the fifth.

with TANNER LAINE

Wanted: a house.

We talk a lot in Midland about how to have a winning football team. In the past we have been prone to not do much about it.

There is now an opportunity. In Midland is a man who has two sons of great prospect as football players. This man needs a home for his family. He has been here three months or more trying to find it. He has not been successful.

Some indication of the caliber of the football-playing sons is given in the record of still another son. He was an All-State footballer at Mineral Wells, one of the best in the big Lone Star territory. And Mineral Wells had a swell ball club last season. This boy was the spark.

Lesnevich scored a tenth round knockout over Mills in 1944.

This time, however, he failed to look the same authority in his fists. Lesnevich rushed Mills in his first round but Freddie landed a right hook that cut the champ's left eye and brought blood. Lesnevich's stier eye soon was gashed and the American from that point on seemed unable to grab command of the situation.

Any one who may know of a house which the aforementioned man may get—please, oh, please, contact SPORTSLANE, Carleton & Brumelow, Coach Milam or a member of the Bulldog Booster Club.

Now, with that off the cuff, we go to other house hunting. Living units are needed by a couple or three of the Midland Indians.

These boys are with us. They need apartments or even a nice room will do.

A married ball player is not happy and cannot do his best unless his wife and family are with him. That's human nature.

Any Midlander who can help these boys find a place to live—please and oh please, contact the management of the Midland Indians.

All right, all right, so Ernie Nelson lost a ball game Monday night. That's baseball.

But to one wolf we would say today: why are you so darned happy about it?

The wolf berated Nelson to the skies. He called Nelson a sandlotter and said "the guy can't throw a thing."

"Where did that guy get the idea he can pitch?" we heard this howling wolf bay.

The wolf howled when Nelson was taken from the mound and Ernie Nelson, himself, isn't allying. He didn't ask us to write this.

But we have just this to say to the wolf—it so happens that Nelson entered the game sick. He had been taking medicine for two days. He had been advertised to pitch and so he did. He would not let down the fans who were to see him in a homecoming try.

And so the wolf howled on and on. He wasn't satisfied with Clay, who relieved Nelson. He bellowed at Jakes, "come on and strike out." He applauded every defensive maneuver of the visitors and laughed heartily at Midland's misfortune.

And this darned guy, the wolf, lives in Midland.

Major League—Leo Beats Bums In Only Major League Game

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Lippy Leo Durocher rode triumphantly into the Polo Grounds Tuesday in his home debut as manager of the New York Giants with all the pomp and glory of a conquering hero.

No matter what Durocher does from now on, Giant followers will never forget what he did Monday night. Neither will the Flatbush faithful. In a setting knee deep in drama, the former pilot of the Brooklyn Dodgers returned to his old stamping grounds Monday night and watched his Giants club his former hirings into almost total submission. The New Yorkers massacred their inter-borough rivals, 13-4.

It was sweet revenge for Giant fans who had seen their favorites humbled 32 times in 39 clashes at Ebbets Field over the last four years. It also was sweet revenge for Durocher, who was shipped across the river to the Giants only 10 days ago.

Durocher took an unmerciful booting before the start of the game. Rarely has a manager or player been forced to accept such a shower of verbal abuse.

Cries of "Kill the quitter," and "Send the bum back to New York," were hurled at him.

The partial Dodger crowd of 33,932, all that could get into the park, didn't know it then, but that was the last chance it had to jeer Durocher and the Giants. Once the game got under way, it was Leo who had the laugh.

The Giants opened up on starter Preacher Roe. Before the game was 10 minutes old, Roe was enroute to the showers and the Giants had a 5-0 first inning lead on six hits.

The game was the only one played in the majors Monday.

The shoe was on the other foot in the Longhorn League Monday night, the two lowest ranking teams knocking off the top pair.

Cellar-welling Del Rio 3-2 licking pace-setting Big Spring 2-0 and seventh-place San Angelo walloped second-place Midland 11-6. Ballinger defeated Sweetwater 7-4 in a six and one-half inning game. The tilt was called because of threatening weather. Vernon downed Odessa 4-1.

Proulx, Odessa Oiler shortstop, was married at home plate the other night... Three eight regulars in the Longhorn League hit 300 or over last season... Of the 38, 18 were infielders and 16 were outfielders with four being catchers... The Big Spring infield is the roughest in the league... And how do you like that pretty carpet on the Midland infield? ... Fans here greeted the news of Umpire Tondrick's leaving the Longhorn League with—you guessed it, cheers... We just heard that Weldon Stewart, suspended Midland pitcher, was in business with a relative in Oklahoma City... Jack Knott, scout, was in the stands Monday night... Knott last year bought Hank Ramsdell and Claud Gray for the Cincinnati Reds... Pete English, Indian batboy, is back from vacation... Unconfirmed is our report that Webb's suspension was cut to five days by higher baseball authority than Howard Green of the Longhorn League... 30 for strays, short on saddle soap today.

U. S. Olympic Hopes Continue To Spiral

LONDON—(AP)—Cloudless skies and another spell of hot weather sent confidence spiraling among America's Olympic athletes Tuesday.

The track and field squad—spurred by the favorable break in the weather—was reported particularly in peak form.

King George will launch the games Thursday in elaborate ceremonies at Wembley Stadium. The competition proper will get underway Friday with 5,000 athletes from 61 nations vying in 17 sports.

Not a single bird has become extinct in Africa, and only one or two in Asia, South America and Australia.

6—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JULY 27, 1945

Colts Pound Tribe, 11-6

The Midland Indians and the San Angelo Colts collide at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday in Indian Park for the second game of a three-tilt engagement.

Midland seeks revenge. San Angelo wants the second and deciding battle of the series.

It's Crisman's time on the mound for the Tribe.

Pepper Martin's San Angelo Colts pounded Harold Webb's Midland Indians 11-6 in Indian Park Monday night in a free-hitting Longhorn League contest. The visitors got 15 safeties in bunches. The home nine got 12 hits of the scattered variety.

It was an unpleasant homecoming for Ernie Nelson, ace Indian hurler of last season, who was shelled from the mound by the hit-happy Colts. Lefty Clay, the fireman, pitched fine ball but his efforts were in vain—the damage had been done.

San Angelo was away with the "play ball." The Colts were heavy on the hits at the early stages. Midland tricked in six runs but they came in ones throughout.

Al Leedy, Colt hurler, had good control and although nipped for lots of hits, he was very effective. He walked one Indian.

Ripper Collins got four hits in five trips for Midland. Carriel Nipp got a single, a double and a triple in five trips. Harvel Jakes smacked his fourteenth triple of the season. Doug "Tom" Ows Chapetta and Murphy got three hits each for the Colts. Cowley, McClain, Martin and Cluley got two hits each.

The night was one of sparkling defensive catches by San Angelians. Jakes McClain dug "em out of the ground in the Colt infield. Miles Smithhart was flyper on liners at third base. Cluley robbed Presley of an apparent home run with a catch up against the wall in left field. Martin ranged far and wide in center field.

San Angelo Wins Sea Bright Match

SEA BRIGHT, N. J.—(AP)—Defending titleholder Gardner Mulloy, of Miami, Fla., recovered fully from last week's foot infection, appeared back in championship form Tuesday as the annual Sea Bright tennis tournament moved into the second round.

Mulloy advanced at the expense of Gilbert Shea of Los Angeles in Miami, Fla. in the first round Monday 6-1, 6-3.

In another match, Bernard Bartzen, San Angelo, Texas, topped Fred Kovaleski, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-0, 6-3, 7-5.

America's Crude Oil Production Gains 7,580 Barrels Daily

TULSA, OKLA.—(AP)—America's crude oil production during the week ended July 24 gained an average of 7,580 barrels daily over the previous week's figure, the Oil & Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

The Journal gave the week's total daily average production as 5,447,455 barrels.

Texas League—Tulsa Ace Nears 20 Game Winning Mark

By WILBUR MARTIN

Associated Press Staff

Harry Perkowski is only two game away from being the Texas League's first 20-game winner this year. The lanky Tulsa southpaw insured his eighteenth victory Monday night with some hefty stickwork.

Perkowski set Beaumont down with six hits, hit a grand-slam home run and started another scoring spree in the Oilers' 8-3 win with a triple.

Two other pitchers took the spotlight Monday night. Ray Shore lost a two hit, 2-1 decision to Fort Worth when Dee Fondy's triple erased a San Antonio lead. Len Gilmore held Shreveport to two hits as Oklahoma City won 2-0.

Houston swept the short series with Dallas 7-1 by coming from behind again.

Perkowski has been beaten only four times this year and with better than a month to go, seems assured of nearing the 30-victory mark.

Bitter Reprieve

By Drexel Drake

THE STORY: Miriam's banker tells Talent that when she withdrew the $100,000, the bank gave her new bills of the same serial number. "This was a big request," the banker said. "It was Miriam's lawyer, T. Bryan Steadman, who told her to do it. She will inherit Miriam's personal property, including the house and the necklace, which was insured for $100,000."

XXVI
"YOU might see what you can pick up from that Miss Weirhaven," Talent said to Trapgood. "Take Gus Ripley along with you. And possibly over the weekend you can worm yourself into an invitation to play golf at Edgcraft."

Janet Weirhaven was not disposed to hysterics. Hence there were no outbursts when she learned of Mrs. Sterling's death. "Quite well, not without sympathetic allowances," Richard Trapgood read in the stark expression in her eyes the struggle to accept as truth something she found impossible to believe.

Trapgood explained the circumstances that accounted for his noonday visit. With a gesture, he included Detective Ripley in his apology. "Yes, I remember now mentioning to Marcus... Mr. Sterling... at Edgcraft last night that Miriam and I had lunched together," Janet said. "He was staying there overnight. I understood."

"You knew both of them well, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling?" "Quite well, I think you'd say. We met often." "Well enough to know if they were happily married?" "I should go so far as to say that Marcus and Miriam were conventionally stable," Janet said after a pause. "But can that have anything to do with a burglar breaking into the Sterling home and killing Miriam?" "Not directly," Trapgood hastened to admit. "The question suggests itself, perhaps, because" meeting was entirely casual," she said. "Just crossed paths in Fifty-Seventh Street." Trapgood got up on that and Ripley followed his lead. "We're merely trying to follow Mrs. Sterling's program of yesterday," Trapgood explained. Janet walked with them to the door. "On a happier occasion, I'll offer you a drink," she said. "This doesn't seem just the time." She included both men, but her eyes, frankly wide, lingered on Trapgood. He carried their expression with him as he led the way along the curving gravel path to the sidewalk.

AT the wheel of his car, Trapgood inquired, "Hungry, Gus?" "You're reading my mind. Long time no eat." Trapgood headed the car away from the direction of the Parkway. For four or five blocks he drove through quiet curving roads past Clifton homes. Beyond the final fringe of houses, the road swerved sharply and there was a sharp descent of two long blocks past heavily wooded land.

At the base of the descent, the road opened into a wide, cobble-paved cross thoroughfare. Trapgood held the car before turning while a trolley-car clanged by. "What street is this, Dick?" Ripley asked. "I'm sure you've heard of it, Gus. It's a little street called Broadway."

"Broadway?" "A sort of back road, isn't it, with a heavy screen of woods hiding Clifton?"

"I was thinking this would be the way out for a yeg pulling off a job up there." "Or the way in, too," Trapgood added. "Gable ought to have some of the precinct men do some checking along here." He turned the car into Broadway, drove south. A block short of the subway terminal, he brought it to a stop in front of a weather-scared diner, pretentiously identified as "The Rensselaire." "Doesn't look too good, Gus, but we'll see what we can pick up," Trapgood said. (To Be Continued)

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
American Card Authority

One of the hardest workers for organized bridge in the mid-west is Harry Lees, of St. Louis, Mo., vice president of the American Auto Insurance Companies. He is a vice president of the American Contract Bridge League, and served for some time as president of the Midwest Conference of the league. He will head the St. Louis delegation to the Summer session

Lees is a bridge leader, he plays tournament bridge just for the fun of it. Nevertheless, he is always in there to take all the match points he can on a board. He certainly collected all of them on today's hand.

So far as his spade bid is concerned, I think that Lees has a theory that if nobody else bids spades, it might be a good idea to bid them yourself. But the spade bid did not stop West from opening the deuce of spades, and that was the opening at practically every table in the room.

Also, everybody put on the queen from dummy—that is, everybody but Lees. At all of the other tables East's king won the first trick, the king of clubs came back, and now try to make three no trump!

Lees went right up with dummy's ace of spades on the first trick, and led the king of hearts. Why? Because he counted one spade trick, four heart tricks, three diamonds and the ace of clubs—nine tricks, and that was what he made, for a top score on the board.

George Bernard Shaw Aims At 100 Years

AT 97 ST. LAWRENCE, ENGLAND—George Bernard Shaw turned 97 recently, determined to round out a full century of life. The bite of his wit and wisdom are as potent as ever. The bearded sage's scorn of birthdays—especially his own—has for years imposed a hush upon his household when this important day comes around, and consequently observance of the anniversary is a subdued affair—insofar as Shaw can manage it.

Shanghai Police Seek Hoarded Goods

SHANGHAI—Five thousand Shanghai police have begun searching warehouses for hoarded goods. They found 700 bags of rice at the first stop. The owner denied he was hoarding. He was arrested in the drive against inflation. Police continued a sharp watch on the commodity and black markets. As a result all prices remained steady.

Oil & Gas Log-Truman-

(Continued from page 1) next four years, instead of 202,000 in two years as provided in a bill passed at the last session. He asked that Congress wipe out "discriminations" in the current law. He has said it would operate unfairly against Jewish and Catholic displaced persons. 2. A federal-aid-to-education bill to provide $300,000,000 annually to states for education. 3. Approval of a $65,000,000 loan for the construction of a permanent United Nations headquarters in New York City. 4. Senate ratification of the international wheat agreement. He said this would "guarantee American farmers an export market of 185,000,000 bushels of wheat at a fair price (a maximum of $2 a bushel) during the next five years. 5. Restoration of $56,000,000 trimmed from proposed appropriations at the last session for power and reclamation projects, including a Tennessee Valley Authority steam generating plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn. 6. A "more equitable and realistic" pay bill for federal employees. 7. A bill raising the present 40-cent minimum wage to "at least 75 cents an hour." 8. Legislation increasing "by at least 50 per cent" the benefits under the old-age retirement provisions of the Social Security law. He said the age at which women can receive benefits should be lowered from 65 to 60 years, and he again asked extension of coverage to groups not now included. 9. President took note of the GOP cry of "politics" that went up in response to his special session call. "High prices," he said, "are not taking 'time off' for the election. 'High prices are not waiting until the next session of the Congress. 'High prices are getting worse every day. They are getting worse every day. 'We cannot afford to wait for the next Congress to act."

ATTEMPTED DST FAILS AT CENTRAL MIDLAND VENTURE Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Wilson Bryant, Central Midland County wildcat, 14 miles south of the city of Midland, tried a drillem test, when total depth was at 12,165 feet, in Devonian lime, and chert. The packer did not seat. There was no test. Operator was to condition the hole, and the drilling mud, and attempt another drillem test immediately. No appreciable indications of oil or gas had been encountered in the section which is to be covered by the scheduled investigation. MITCHELL PROSPECTOR MAKES SULPHUR WATER Fullerton Oil Company, Phillips Petroleum Company, Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., et al, No. 1 Strain, North-Central Mitchell County Ellenburger venture, nine miles northwest of Colorado City, ran a two-hour and 22-minute drillem test in the Ellenburger at 7,842-94 feet. There was a fair blow of air throughout the test. Recovery was 90 feet of heavily gas cut drilling mud, 300 feet of gas cut water, and 210 feet of sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas. The project drilled on down to a total depth of 7,944 feet. It did not log any signs of petroleum. At last report it was shutdown for orders, and probably will be abandoned soon. The venture is 680 feet from south and east lines of lot 10, Reigers survey.
