Magnolia Gets Free Oil At N-C Upton Venture

Some possibilities of the discovery of a new oil field, in North-Central Upton County, 30 miles south of the city of Midland, have been indicated at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A TXL, wildcat, which was started out to explore into the Ellenburger.

This prospect has a two hour and five minute drillstem test at 5,321-45 feet in an unidentified lime and shale section.

A 1,350 foot water blanket was used. Gas showed at the surface in 25 minutes. The volume was not reported.

Recovery was the 1,350-foot water blanket, heavily cut with oil and gas; 800 feet of clean, 41-gravity oil, and 450 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud.

The drill pipe unloaded considerable fluid while it was being pulled. There was no formation water.

Bottom hole pressure, after a 15 minute shut in, was 4,800 pounds. Operator is preparing to run another drillstem test to the same total depth.

The project is about 20 miles northwest of the Benedum field, in East-Central Upton County, and 600 feet from north and west lines of section 31, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S.

Ellenburger Test To Be Drilled In North Pecos

Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Austin is to be a semi-wildcat to dig to 10,000 feet to test the Ellenburger in North Pecos County, eight miles south of Grandfalls.

It will be 1,320 feet from northeast and northwest lines of the north quarter of section 106, block 8, H&C survey, which puts it one-quarter of a mile northwest of the C. W. Chancellor and Slick Oil Company No. 1 Thornton Davis, wildcat discovery for heavy gas and distillate production from the Ellenburger, to test the Santa Rosa field. That well was completed several months ago.

Gulf Will Dig Outpost To Winkler Discovery

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 138-T Keystone is to be a semi-wildcat in North-Central Upton County. It is to go to 8,000 feet to try to develop production in the Tubb zone of the lower Permian.

It is 600 feet from south and 1,500 feet from east lines of section 29, block B-2, Winkler County. It makes it one-quarter of a mile south of the same company's No. 125-T Keystone, completed several weeks ago as the discovery for a new field from the Tubb. It is eight miles east and slightly north of Kermit, and about four miles southeast of the nearest completed oil wells in the multi-pay Keystone field.

Drilling with rotary is to start at once.

Benedum Area To Have Two New Prospectors

Slick-Urschel Oil Company has made locations for two more prospectors in the Benedum area of East-Central Upton County. Both are slated to start operations at once.

Slick-Urschel No. 1-B Arvilla E. Gordon will be 660 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 47, TCRB survey. It is one-half mile north and slightly west of Slick-Urschel and Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Gordon, recently completed as a flowing oil well from the Ellenburger.

No. 1 Gordon is the second producer to be finished in the Benedum field.

Slick-Urschel No. 1 J. S. Elliott is to be 660 feet from south and east lines of a 293-acre lease, which is the west half of section 10, C. D. Masley survey.

That makes it one and one-quarter miles west and one-quarter of a mile south of the Slick-Urschel and Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 Stander, southwest flanker to the initial producer in the Benedum field.

No. 1 Stander is now waiting to run a 4-inch liner to bottom, preparatory to testing the top 500 feet of the Ellenburger, which has not yet been investigated for petroleum producing possibilities.

Both the new Slick-Urschel ventures are to dig to at least 11,500 feet, to look at the Ellenburger.

Turner-Hewgley To Test Ex-Humble 1-A Barnett

Fred Turner, Jr., of Midland, and J. M. Hewgley, Sr., of San Antonio, and Midland, have made a deal with Humble Oil & Refining Company to take over that concern's No. 1-A Barnett, East-Central Upton County wildcat, three miles northwest of the Benedum field discovery.

That project is 1,980 feet from north and 980 feet from east lines of section 4, OGDSP survey. It drilled to a total depth of 12,387 feet, in Ellenburger, entered at 11,150 feet.

That formation had some small shows of oil and gas in the Ellenburger, but it developed water in the bottom section.

In the deal, Turner and Hewgley get the well, and the northeast quarter of section 4. Humble retains an over-ride.

The new operators of the exploration plan to run a liner to bottom, to case the hole back up to the intermediate pipe. They still then perforate and test on several intervals in the Ellenburger.

There is a possibility that should the tests of the section already (Continued on page 9)

Threat Of Perjury Charge Hangs Over Hiss Or Chambers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A battered old Ford car, and what was done with it, became a central issue Wednesday when Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers faced each other in the congressional spy hearings.

The two men—accused and accuser—were brought together before the House Un-American Activities Committee and warned that one or the other will be tried for lying under oath.

Then Hiss was questioned for hours about a 1929 Ford he once owned. It was clear the committee expected by tracing the Ford it could pin down at least partially, the matter of who was lying.

Hiss, 43-year-old former State Department official, said he knew Chambers in 1934 or 1935 as George Crosley, a free lance writer, and "gave" or "anyhow let him use the car."

But Hiss insisted he could not recall ever getting the car back and selling it, but wouldn't be surprised if that had happened.

After Hiss and committee members sparred at length over the car, Committee Investigator Robert E. Stripling produced what he said was a record of testimony Chambers gave on August 7.

Stripling produced papers which he said was a copy of a certificate of title, showing that Alger Hiss assigned title to a Ford roadster to the Cherner Motor Company of Washington on July 23, 1936.

This was about a year after Hiss said he had given the car to Chambers, or Crosley, or at least the use of it.

"At that point the committee recessed for lunch."

At the start of the morning session, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) flatly declared that as a result of the hearing one of the two men would be "tried for perjury."

"Slowly, solemnly, Thomas said: 'As a result of these hearings certainly one of these witnesses will be tried for perjury.'

Hiss and Chambers have told the committee widely-varying stories.

What Thomas' statement implied was this: The committee intends to (Continued on page 9)

Ordinance On Paving Is Adopted

As the initial step in the proposed 400-block paving program here, a paving ordinance was adopted by members of the City Council at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

The ordinance, adopted as an emergency measure, calls for the improving of certain streets, provides the manner in which the cost of such improvements will be paid, directs the city engineer to prepare and file with the council plans and specifications for such improvements, and adopts and includes the State Paving Law.

Eighty-six units, covering approximately 400 blocks, are included in the program.

According to the ordinance, property owners will pay nine-tenths of the total cost of paving, and the city will pay one-tenth. Property owners, if they desire, may pay for the paving in five equal installments, with an interest rate of five per cent.

City Manager H. A. Thomason said engineering on the project now is underway, and bids will be called on the first units as soon as plans are complete.

McKee Resigns

The resignation of Roy McKee as a member of the Board of Adjustment, because of the press of private business, was accepted by the council. Drue A. Dunn was named to succeed him, with Floyd J. Nicholson as alternate.

Thomason was authorized to negotiate for the lease of certain facilities at Pagoda Park during the Fall and Winter.

The council was advised that 203 new penny-nickel parking meters have been installed here. Parking lines are being widened from nine and a half feet to 13 feet, and the parking angle is being cut from 45 degrees to 31 1/2 degrees to allow more room for getting in and out of cars, and providing additional street space.

The city manager said parallel parking is being started on all streets where the width of paving is less than 42 feet.

Thomason was authorized to attend the annual meeting of the International City Managers Association in Michigan next month.

Earthquake Shakes Northwest Argentina

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — A violent earthquake shook the mountainous region of Northwestern Argentina early Wednesday, but reports indicated damage was only slight. Only one death was reported.

The epicenter was about 40 miles north of Salta, where the residents fled into the streets in their nightclothes. One man died from a heart attack there, and a few one-story buildings collapsed. The shock also was felt in neighboring Tucuman, Jujuy and Santiago del Estero Provinces.

The quake, registered here about 3:12 a. m., equaled intensity the one which occurred Jan. 15, 1944, in San Juan Province and which caused heavy loss of life and property damage.

Living Costs Reach All-Time High Mark

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Your living costs have skyrocketed to a new record high, the government said Wednesday.

This means an automatic, three-cents-an-hour pay hike for some 285,000 General Motors employees. But for them and other wage earners, the price picture painted by two federal agencies also means that:

1. It took $21.68 in June to buy the same food items that cost $10 back in 1935-39.
2. For a family of three that amounted to a $705 yearly "market basket" outfit as compared to the $695 rate in January and the World War I peak of $615 in June, 1920.
3. The price chart of all the things that make up the daily budget hit a new top of 713.7 on July 15. This is the Consumers' Price Index figured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics on a 1935-39 base of 100. It now stands 9.7 per cent higher than a year ago, 30.3 per cent above June, 1946, when most OPA controls were abandoned, and 76.2 per cent higher than prewar August, 1939.

Texas Weather Cools To Normal

Temperatures had dropped and the weather is back to what the Weather Bureau called normal for this time of the year in Texas Wednesday.

Cloudy skies and scattered thunder showers brought the break in the heat wave.

Only five spots which report regularly to the Weather Bureau had temperatures 100 degrees or above Tuesday. They were Seymour with 104, Henrietta with 103, Presidio with 102 and Haskell and Waxahachie with 100 each.

Rainfall in the state was concentrated at Victoria, but showers were scattered all along the coast and up into the central portions of Texas.

State Department Says Soviet Edict Will Be Accepted

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said Wednesday the United States will accept Russia's order for closing the American Consulate in Vladivostok.

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Russian government, reacting sharply to the expulsion of the Soviet consul general from New York, chopped off all consular ties with the United States Wednesday.

The action entails the closing of Russian Consulates in New York and San Francisco, the closing of a United States Consulate in Vladivostok and the voiding of an agreement granting the United States the right to open a consulate in Leningrad.

It grew out of what has become known as the Kasenkina affair, the case of a Russian school teacher, now in a New York hospital, who has been the subject of an international tug-of-war on the highest diplomatic levels.

The U. S. State Department, on August 19, asked the Russian government to recall Jacob M. Lomakin, the Soviet consul general in New York, because of his activities in the Kasenkina case.

The Soviet reply, as published by Tass categorically rejected the United States contention that Lomakin and other Soviet officials had exceeded their legal rights in the case of Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina and Mikhail I. Samarin, another Russian school teacher in the United States.

"The actions and statements of the Soviet government and its official representatives in the United States in the affair of Kasenkina and Samarin fully correspond to (Continued on page 9)

Superfort Crash Kills 16 Airmen

HICKAM FIELD, HAWAII—(AP)—Sixteen airmen died Tuesday night in the twisted, burned wreckage of the Okinawa-bound Superfortress that crashed in one of the islands' worst peacetime air disasters.

Four others were burned seriously. One of the big bomber's four engines conked out three minutes after it took off on another leg of its Far Eastern hop from the 96th Bomber Group's base at Spokane, Wash.

The pilot was ordered to land at the Municipal Airport.

The Superfort came in at an altitude of 150 feet, and missed the field. The pilot banked the plane in an attempt to circle and bring it back in but a wing caught a transport plane parked on a Hickam Field taxiway.

The Superfort crashed into a concrete power substation and exploded. The crash put out all of the field's lights momentarily.

Witnesses said the four survivors either jumped or were thrown free from the wreckage.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld.

CRANE — The body of a woman found late Monday under some mesquite bushes near a gravel pit about five miles north of Crane was identified Tuesday afternoon as that of Mrs. James Boyd, about 38, of Odessa.

The woman, whose face was identified beyond recognition, was located by her estranged husband as a funeral home in McCamey, Texas Ranger Earl Stewart said. An acquaintance, Henrietta Greer of Odessa, verified the identification.

A group of oilfield workers discovered the body at the side of a dirt road Monday afternoon. Doctors estimated she had been dead from 26 to 48 hours.

Survivors include the mother, a Mrs. Engliat of Cisco, and a sister, Mrs. Vera Allie of San Angelo.

Texas Rangers and members of the Crane County sheriff's department are continuing the investigation.

WTCC Panel Against Proposed Water Laws

ABILENE—(AP)—The Water Resource Commission of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has decided to oppose the writing of new water laws, recently proposed at a meeting in Austin.

"The new proposal makes worthless our municipalities' present superior rights," the commission said in a statement, "and such West Texas waters as now are being used for big industries and rice-growers on the Gulf Coast can never be recovered for our own use."

You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barconrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe to take off ugly fat.

Just go to your drugist, and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconrate. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the slim, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Start Is Made

The last American-built, American-operated passenger ship was launched in 1940. In the five following years this country's shipbuilding industry attained the greatest size and productivity in our history. But few of the wartime vessels are used or usable today, and none of them, of course, is anything like a luxury liner.

So when the war was over three or four European countries had a big jump on America in carrying a bumper crop of passengers. America's deficiency worried people in the shipping business for three reasons: The U. S. was missing out on a lot of revenue; it was leaving itself vulnerable, in a time of uneasy peace, to a serious lack of fast transports in the event of an overseas war; and it was dissipating the skilled nucleus of a vital industry through lack of work.

For three years there was intermittent concern over the situation. The President appointed a fact-finding group, the Keller Committee, to look into our shipping needs. The committee presented a long, detailed list of recommendations. Nothing much came of them. A couple of bills to revive the shipbuilding industry were introduced in Congress. Nothing was done about them, either.

Then the other day American Export Lines signed a contract with the Bethlehem Steel Company for two fast passenger liners. They will be used in the shipping company's Mediterranean service, and will cost at least $46,830,000. The log jam of inaction was broken not by executive or legislative decree, but by the efforts of individuals.

Credit is due the members of the Maritime Commission and John E. Slater, executive vice president of American Export, for the start. After Slater persuaded the commission to increase the subsidy to 45 per cent, the members simply put to use the powers and money they already had. In two days work on the new ships was under way, although the keels will not be laid until Spring.

It remains to be seen whether the 45 per cent subsidy will serve as the financial pattern for a revival of our passenger shipbuilding industry. But it does seem certain that it provided the impetus which will start some wheels turning, at least. Meanwhile, the first two contracts carry with them some very tangible benefits.

They will give 24,500,000 hours of work to 5,000 shipbuilders for 28 months. When completed, the ships will offer long-term employment to 1,100 officers and men of the Merchant Marine. They will add a yearly berth capacity of 60,000 to trans-Atlantic traffic which now is short some 600,000 berths annually. And from the standpoint of national defense, these ships will be able to carry 2,500 men each if they have to be used as transports.

The United States must travel a long road to recover its prewar position in this department of the shipping trade. At the time of Pearl Harbor we had 113 passenger ships active, with a capacity of 35,000 passengers. Today we have only 39 with a capacity of 13,000 passengers. But even though the road is long and the start is late, there is still good reason to be thankful that the start has at last been made.

Wanted: Steady Work

Much has been written recently about a defeatist attitude among the Democrats. But Maurice J. Tobin of Boston doesn't seem to have heard of it. At least he has passed up the chance to run for a two-year job as Massachusetts' governor to accept Truman's offer of the post of secretary of labor, which might be only a five-month job. So apparently Tobin is looking forward to more than four years of employment in Washington.

State Primaries Still Promise Plenty Of Political Fireworks

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There is plenty of political fireworks in those states where primaries are still to be held before election on November 2.

Beginning with Mississippi, Democratic Rep. John E. Rankin has a real fight on his hands in this year's primary against Claude F. Clayton and Raymond E. Jarvis. Senator James O. Eastland is opposed by Dewey Norton.

The New York state primary is complicated by the existence of American Labor and Liberal Party candidates, in addition to Republican and Democratic.

In the 14th District, for instance, Rep. Abraham J. Multer has Democratic, Republican and Liberal Party endorsements for the race against Les Pressman, running as an ALP candidate. The same is true in the 24th District, where Isidore Dollinger has three-party endorsement against the incumbent Leo Isaacson, ALP.

Hottest New York Republican races are in the 29th District where Katharine St. George has two opponents, and the 45th, where Daniel A. Reed has three opponents.

In the 27th District Republican Ralph W. Gwinn is opposed by F. X. Nulty, running as Democratic and ALP candidate, and Richard W. McSpedon, running as a Democrat only. In the 18th District Republican Pat Kearney is opposed by ALP candidate Andrew Peterson and Liberal William Murphy, but the last two are also seeking the Democratic nomination.

Big contest in Texas is the race between Rep. Lyndon Johnson and ex-Gov. Coke Stevenson for the Senate seat being vacated by W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel.

The South Carolina primary August 31 has a race in the Third District, where Rep. W. J. Bryan Dorn vacated his seat to run for the Senate, but no other contest of importance.

Both Louisiana Senate seats are at stake in the August 31 primary. Senator Allen J. Ellender is opposed by James DiMaggio and Charles S. Gerth. Senator William C. Pezall is not seeking reelection, so his seat is being sought by Huey Long's son, Russell, and by R. F. Kennan.

Arizona, Nevada and Utah have primaries September 7. In Arizona the hot race is for the governorship, sought by Rep. Richard F. Harless and Dan E. Garvey.

Nevada's one representative, Republican Charles H. Russell, has no opposition in his own party. The two Democrats seeking to oust him in November are Walter S. Baring and Simon W. Conwell. The race for governor in Utah finds Democratic Gov. Herbert B. Maw opposed by John S. Boydson and two Republicans, Jay Bracken Lee and R. N. Mayberry.

Georgia's primary on September 8, with a runoff October 6, may produce a few upsets as Rep. E. E. Cox, James C. Davis and Don Wheeler have tough opposition.

Johnson's Seat Is In Jeopardy
 On September 14 in Colorado, the main event is the fight for the Senate seat now held by Democrat Edwin C. Johnson. He is opposed by Eugene Cervie in his own party, Ex-Gov. John C. Vivian and Will S. Nicholson are contesting for the Republican nomination.

Michigan's primary on September 14 has the state in a turmoil for the congressional race. Only a few representatives, including Fred Crawford and Albert J. Engel, have no opposition.

In the First District, Democrat George E. Sadowski faces 10 Republican and six Democratic opponents. Republican Earl Michener in the Second District is opposed by four Republicans and two Democrats. In the 15th District Democrat John D. Dingell is opposed by 11 Republicans and four other Democrats. In the 16th, Democrat John Lesinski faces eight Republicans and three Democrats. There is no runoff in Michigan, so the candidate getting the most votes wins.

Republican Gov. Kim Sigler and Republican Senator Homer Ferguson have no opposition from their own party in their bids for reelection. Three Democratic candidates are seeking the gubernatorial nomination—B. F. Abbott, Victor E. Bucknell and G. Mennen Williams. Ex-Rep. Frank Hook, Democrat, is running against Ferguson.

Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Vermont and Washington state also have primaries on September 14, but their closing dates are all around September 1, so the lists of candidates are incomplete.

Overhead passenger cars, running suspended from a single track, have been proposed as a solution for street traffic congestion in large cities.

Questions and Answers

Q—What is an oratorio?
 A—It is a dramatic text or poem, usually on a Scripture theme, set to music. The music consists of recitatives, arias, duets, trios, quartets, and choruses, accompanied by instruments, but no action, scenery, or costume.

Q—Whom do the Germans regard as the creator of German prose?
 A—Martin Luther, the first person to translate the Bible into colloquial German.

Q—Does heat come directly from the sun?
 A—The sun itself does not give out heat but sends out rays which travel through space. When these rays reach an object they cannot penetrate, their energy is converted into heat.

Q—From what type of plant is allspice obtained?
 A—Allspice is obtained from the berries of the pimento tree which grows in the West Indies. It derives its name from the fact that it is supposed to combine the flavors of cinnamon, nutmeg and clove.

Q—What specifically did Benedict Arnold seek to betray?
 A—Benedict Arnold sought to betray the fortress of West Point to the British during the American Revolutionary War.

Uncle Sam's SELECTIVE SERVICE

(One of a series of questions and answers on the second peacetime military training program. The information was prepared under the direction of Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, Texas Director of Selective Service.)

CLASSIFICATION
 Q—What does classification of registrants mean?
 A—It means that every man between the ages of 19 and 26 who registers will be classified according to his availability for 21 months of military training.

Q—What will be the classes in which registrants will be placed?
 A—There will be five basic classes instead of the four used in the 1940 operation. The main class—Class I—will be composed of those who are available for training immediately. Persons whose services in essential civil occupations are of great importance will be placed in Class II, and their call to training will be deferred. Those with dependents (wife, children, etc.) may be placed in Class III, and deferred on grounds of dependency. Certain individuals will be placed in Class IV when their services are undesirable on moral, physical, or other grounds or because the law defers them (ministers, etc.). Class V is intended to provide a class for all men who register at the age of 25 and who reach 26 before induction.

Q—How will this classification be made?
 A—The local boards will classify all registrants on the basis of detailed questionnaires, interviews with registrants, and other information gained through private research.

Deferment Claims
 Q—Will all registrants be placed in Class I unless additional facts prove that they should receive a different classification?
 A—Yes. If a registrant does not claim a deferment, for example, he will automatically go into Class I. If he fails to fill out his questionnaire, he will be placed in the same class. The only way to get out of Class I is to prove the right to deferment or to be removed as a result of a physical examination which shows the registrant is not suitable for service.

Q—Suppose some citizen of the community is not satisfied with the classification given to a registrant. What can he do?
 A—In each local board area a government appeal agent will appeal from any local board decision he believes is wrong. A citizen can present his facts in secrecy to the government appeal agent, who will then act. The government appeal agent will also help those registrants who do not completely comprehend to secure justice.

Excessive Thirst Marks Rare Condition, As Yet Untreatable

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
 Written for NEA Service

Diabetes insipidus, a rather rare condition, is not the same as diabetes sugar diabetes and should not be confused with it. In diabetes insipidus, large quantities of urine are passed but it contains no sugar.

This disease is more common in young persons than old, and in boys and men than in girls or women. The cause cannot usually be discovered, but a family tendency, perhaps a truly inherited one, has been suggested as responsible.

The location of the trouble is better known. It is pretty well agreed that the source lies in a portion of the brain. Irritation or injury in this region will produce the symptoms of diabetes insipidus.

Excessive Urination
 As a rule, the symptoms develop gradually, although sudden onsets have been reported. A great increase in the amount of urine excreted is the most constant symptom. An increase in thirst is also frequent. Someone suffering from diabetes insipidus may pass nearly four gallons of urine in 24 hours. The appetite is likely to be normal, whereas in the common form of sugar diabetes hunger is likely to be excessive. In many cases, the general health does not seem to suffer.

Removal of spinal fluid has sometimes been followed by great improvement. Giving a hormone, obtained from the pituitary gland which lies in the brain, brings about relief of symptoms for many hours.

The condition is an interesting one to medical men, and has been recognized as a distinct disease since 1874. It is lucky that it is so rare since no thoroughly satisfactory treatment is available. Research is needed to find the cause and to improve the treatment.

A species of birds, the megapodes of New Guinea and Australia, build a large nest of decaying vegetable matter so that the resulting heat generated hatches their eggs.

Playoff Bracket Is Near Complete; Umps Trouble At Lubbock

By The Associated Press
The playoff bracket of the West Texas-New Mexico League is due to be completed this week. As of Wednesday, Albuquerque and Amarillo already are in it, the former boasting a 23-game lead over fifth-place Abilene and Borger, and Amarillo a 16 1/2-game lead. Albuquerque has only 16 games to play and Amarillo 15. Pampa is 13 1/2 games ahead of fifth place and Lubbock 13, with Pampa having 17 games to play and Lubbock 14. Tuesday night found league-leading Albuquerque taking a 21-6 licking from lowly Clovis. The Pioneers blasted four Duke pitchers for 18 hits. Runner-up Amarillo couldn't take advantage of the Albuquerque slip as the Gold Sox fell before Borger 12-8 in a battle of pitchers. Each used three. Lubbock advanced within a half-game of third-place Pampa by whipping the Oilers 10-8. Umpire Jim Brockwell was pelted with overripe eggs by irate fans and left the park under police protection. He had chased Manager Jackie Sullivan of Lubbock in the fifth inning for protesting a decision. Lamesa scored six runs in the ninth but it wasn't enough to overtake Abilene, the Blue Sox winning 11-8.

umph pushed the Sox half a game in front of the Indians.

The Red Sox knocked out Satchel Paige with a two-run rally in the third.

In the ninth, hits by Dale Mitchell, Bob Kennedy, Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon put Cleveland ahead 8-6. Braves Increase Lead
Dom DiMaggio lashed a double off Spec Klemm to open the last half of the ninth. After Johnny Pesky singled, Ted Williams flied deep to left, scoring DiMaggio. Boudreau brought in Russ Christopher, a righthander, to pitch and Stephens whacked the first pitch high against the left field screen and the Sox were in first place.

The Boston Braves increased their first-place lead to three and a half games over runnerup St. Louis 9-3. The victory also put the Braves four games ahead of the third-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who were whipped by the Pirates 9-1 in Pittsburgh.

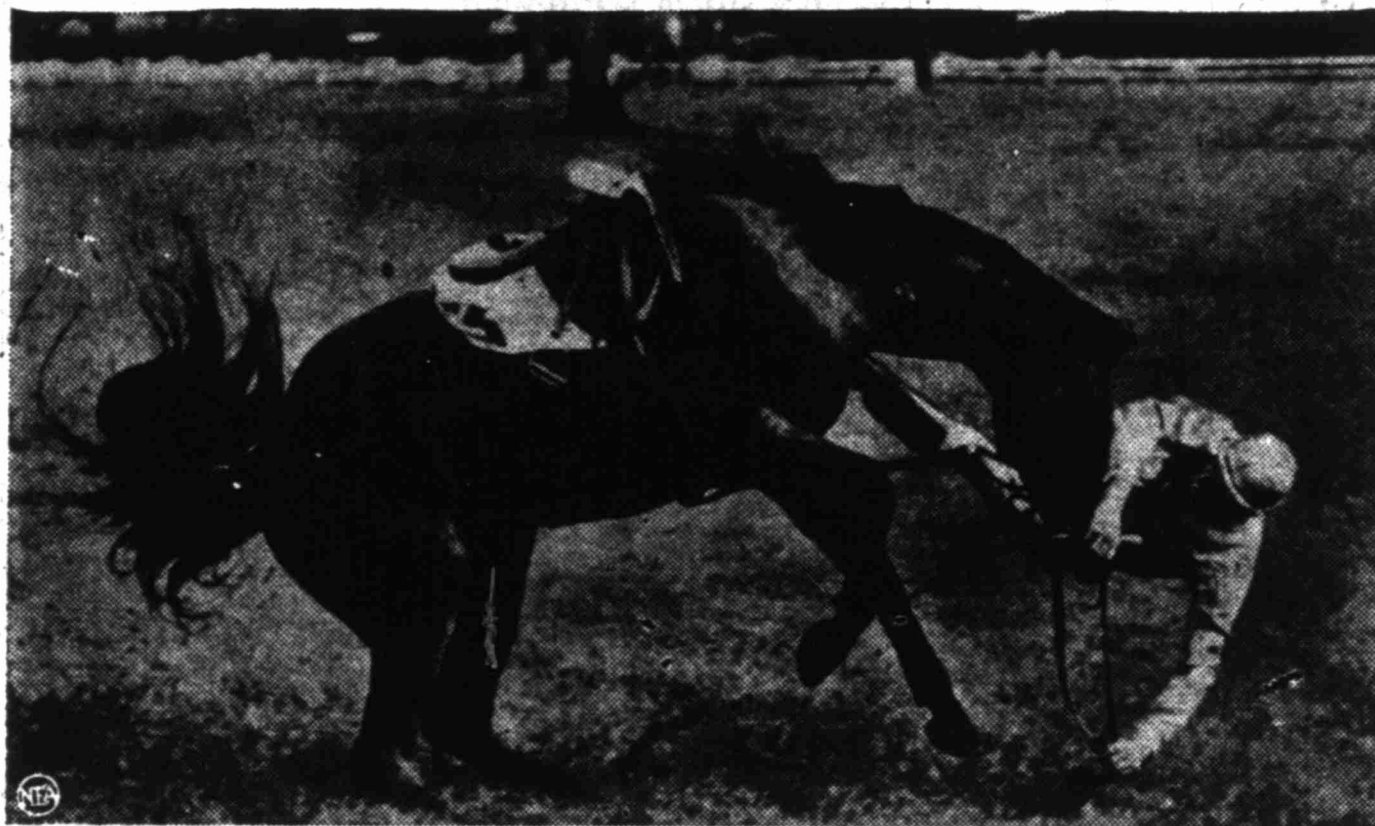

Johnny Sain had an easy time winning his 19th game as the Braves pounded Harry Brecheen and three relievers for 18 hits.

Ralph Kiner walloped his 33rd home run and Wally Westlake his 13th to help the Pirates subdue the Dodgers. Jackie Robinson, Dodger second baseman, was banished from the game for the first time in his major league career for heckling Umpire Butch Henline. Chisox Nose Yankees
The New York Giants remained in a virtual fourth-place tie with Pittsburgh, six games off the pace, by defeating the last-place Cubs in Chicago 7-4.

The third-place New York Yankees failed to better their two-game deficit in the American League when they were nosed out by the cellar-dwelling Chicago White Sox 6-5 at Yankee Stadium.

The Detroit Tigers drove L-gu Bristie from the mound with a six-run attack in the third inning and went on to defeat the skidding Athletics 7-4 in Philadelphia. The St. Louis Browns checked a ninth-inning rally after Washington scored four runs and beat the Senators 6-5 in the capitol city.

COLTS TRAMPLE TRIBE 10-6 IN LAST BATTLE

Open Border City Series

The Midland Indians and the Del Rio Cowboys open a three-game series in Del Rio Wednesday night. The second battle is carded Thursday night and the third Friday night. The series will mark the final appearance of the Indians in Del Rio this season. In 17 games between the two clubs so far this season, Midland has won 14 and Del Rio three. Midland won 10 of these games at Midland.

SAN ANGELO—The San Angelo Colts beat the Midland Indians 10-6 here Tuesday night to even a two-tilt series. The game marked the last appearance of the Tribe in San Angelo for the regular season and ended competition between the two ball clubs. In 20 games, Midland won 15 and San Angelo 5. Again Dick Guy started a game for Midland and again he was shelled early. Guy was relieved in the fifth by Willenberg. But the damage already was inflicted. The Colts got one run in the first, added five in the second, punched across three more in the fifth and got one off Willenberg in the eighth. Chuck Ellis pitched the win for San Angelo. It was his seventh victory of the season against 13 defeats. He has been wild in every game this season and leads the league in walks. But Tuesday night he weathered his moment of wildness, which was in the sixth frame when Midland got three tabs on four walks, an error and one hit. Two runs were walked in.

Buffis Shatter Own Attendance Mark Set In '47

By The Associated Press
A new Texas League attendance record for one club was in the books Wednesday as the circuit rolled through the final three weeks of the campaign with only one play-off spot apparently undecided. Houston's Buffs, crowding Tulsa for second place, drew 5,540 fans Tuesday night to bring the season home total to 386,817—4,542 more than Houston drew all last season in hanging up the record. Houston and Oklahoma City played a 4-4 tie on "Happy Chandler Night" with the baseball commissioner and other baseball notables as special guests. Meanwhile Shreveport was dropping a full game back in its fight for fourth place and a spot in the play-offs. The Sports lost to the league-leading Fort Worth Cats 7-1, while San Antonio was moving a game and a half ahead of Shreveport by downing the second-place Tulsa Oilers 3-1. Dallas licked Beaumont 6-3 in the other game last night. Houston and Oklahoma City had to quit their game deadlocked so they could catch a train for Oklahoma City.

Chandler Talks Of Three Major League Circuits

HOUSTON —(P)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler suggests an expansion plan for the major leagues that eventually would create three loops of eight clubs each. Here to attend "Happy Chandler Night" at Buff Stadium, home of Houston of the Texas League, Chandler declared that proposals for enlarging the big leagues are under constant study but that such expansion would be slow. In an interview, he cautioned against optimism for including such cities as Houston, Los Angeles and San Francisco any time soon but said that the continued expansion study had resulted from the rapid growth of these cities along with Milwaukee, Montreal and others. His plan would increase each of the two major leagues from eight to 10 clubs each and "then see if it works." If it works, then expand to 12 teams and then, perhaps, split the 24 teams into three major leagues," he said. But, he added, "We must be certain new cities can support a major league team financially." Chandler Wednesday went to Uvalde to visit his old friend, John Garner, the former vice president.

Some scientist should analyze across the front of their uniforms and brother, it's a team and you can't beat 'em. You tell us how they do it.

Odessa's fire in any sport is coming to border on the fantastic. It makes no difference the sport. Odessa will come out burning. And nine times out of 10, Odessa will win.

The Odessa Oilers in the Longhorn League currently are on a little red-hot wagon. They have just finished cutting off Vernon's water and Vernon had the pressure on. Recently the Oilers smashed Midland with 50 runs and 55 hits in three games and followed with a 21-5 rout of Ballinger.

If Odessa isn't harnessed before long and before the playoff—look out! You know who's got to play them in the Shaughnessy, as it looks now. Oh me!

Odessa puts competitors on the football field, on the baseball diamond, on the golf links and on down to marble games—who are fired to win to the high heavens. You just have a heck of a time beating them at anything.

Don't ask us how it's done. We, who have to compete with Odessa, know it is true but seemingly can't do anything about it.

Take Odessa's Longhorn League baseball team apart and compare player for player against any other team's players in the league and you come out wondering. But put together the Oilers and put Odessa

Oilers Move Up On Big Spring

By The Associated Press
Odessa moved up on Big Spring Tuesday night in the battle for first place in the Longhorn League.

Big Spring, the leader took a licking from last-place Del Rio 12-11 while Odessa was beating Vernon 7-4 to edge within four and one-half games of the top.

Big Spring has 16 games to play and Odessa 15. San Angelo beat third-place Midland 10-6 while Ballinger and Sweetwater split a double-header in other games of the night. Sweetwater won the opener 5-2 but Ballinger took the nightcap 14-6.

Anything In Sheet Metal' Is Slogan Of Austin Works

"Anything In Sheet Metal" is the slogan of Austin Sheet Metal Works, located at 2201 West Wall Street in Midland.

Specifically, the motto means that not only does Austin Sheet Metal Works make anything of sheet metal, but also it will give you a free estimate of the cost of building and installing whatever metal object you need; furthermore, the firm furnishes its own engineers for designing any sheet metal product, and then provides its own expert installation men to give you a completed job.

Hot Or Cold

Just now, the firm is concentrating on construction and installation of combination heating and air conditioning systems. Many modern commercial buildings and homes are being equipped with a single system of ducts, blowers and machinery which heat the building in cold weather and cool it in Summer. In such projects, where each building presents its own peculiar construction and installation problems, the skill and experience of Austin men are particularly valuable.

Storage tanks and an infinite variety of other things made of sheet metal are turned out regularly from the Austin shop, however, so regardless of what it is, if it's made of sheet metal, this firm is capable of manufacturing it in a manner you'll find quite satisfactory.

Service By Haney Is Top Quality

Latest news from Melvin Haney's Humble Service Station at 702 West Wall Street is that the station is undergoing a complete remodeling and redecorating, inside and out. While it long has been one of Midland's most attractive and modern automotive firms, it nevertheless is getting a brand new coat of paint, plus new interior decoration and fixtures.

Also new at Melvin's station is a Brady radiator-cleaning system. If your car tends to heat, or if you wisely want to keep it from getting that way, take it to the station for a thorough, safe cleaning.

Surprised Motorists
The new system uses there effectively removed rust and sludge from your car's entire cooling system, yet imposes only eight pounds of pressure in the process. When Melvin cleans a radiator now, he saves a small quantity of the water from it to show the car owner the difference between the radiator's contents before and after the cleaning process. Most drivers are highly surprised to see how dirty their radiators were before being cleaned by the Brady system, Melvin says.

The station is open 24 hours a day. Motorists can have their cars washed and greased there at night and get them back, ready to go, next morning. Pickup and delivery service at all hours is offered here, and a telephone call will bring a Haney man after your car or a flat tire any time. Humble gasolines and oils, Atlas tires, tubes and accessories are featured products.

Glass for every purpose imaginable is available at the Service Glass Company in Midland. The firm's place of business at 306 North Weatherford Street is pictured. Here mirrors, glass tops for desks and other pieces of furniture, and automobile window glass may be obtained and cut to order for your usage. The concern also does store front construction, and the operators, Dan Edgemen and Charles Willis, are available at all times to design and install show windows, glass fronts and glass doors. The telephone No. is 2432.

First National Bank Is Leader In Wide Southwest Territory

Dependable, efficient and courteous service for more than 58 years has made The First National Bank of Midland one of the strongest, largest and best-known banking institutions in the Southwest.

The bank was organized in 1890 to serve the needs of the then new but potentially prosperous city and section, and since that time it has led the way in the fast growth and development of Midland and of West Texas. But while keeping pace with progress, the bank never has lost sight of its basic objective—to serve the financial needs of this fast-growing Permian Basin area.

The First National, too, has been a leader in civic development, never unmindful of its civic responsibility to the community. The institution, in other words, long has been a leader, and citizens recognize and appreciate what the bank has done for the city and section.

Capital Structure
With deposits in excess of $20,000,000, the bank has a capital stock of $300,000; surplus of $300,000, undivided profits and reserves of more than $390,000, which gives it one of the strongest capital structures of any bank in Texas.

M. C. Ulmer is president of The First National Bank and John P. Butler is vice president and cashier. E. P. Cowden, Joe Crump and H. H. Watson also are vice presidents. E. D. Richardson, J. T. Baker, Cecil Waldrep and C. J. Kelly are assistant cashiers.

Ulmer, Cowden, Crump, Watson, Butler, Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., Mrs. Ruth Scharbauer, E. B. Dickenson and A. N. Hendrickson are directors.

TRYST

By Elswyth Thane

THE STORY: A mysterious locked room on the top floor of Juna Park, a rented country house, fascinates dreamy 17-year-old Sabrina. Father and Aunt Edith tell her the room belongs to one of the owner's sons and they are not to have the use of it. One rainy day Sabrina, overcome by curiosity, picks the lock, she finds a comfortably furnished man's room, filled with books. The place checks her. Mrs. Filson, the housekeeper, surprisingly offers to leave the door unlocked henceforth. Sabrina sets to know the room as well, it is almost as though she knew its owner. She tries unsuccessfully to find out his name from papers in his desk.

WITH rifles and ammunition, ready to move within a week's time. The Mullah was at X, the stores at Y. Dalton knows the rest."

He signed his name and the date with a very unsteady hand—Hilary Shenstone, June 5, 1938—on the last of those precious pages; figures and diagrams and a hasty map in pencil on a few smudged leaves torn from a pocket notebook. And a hot wind scattered sand across the ink as it dried. The plane lay on its back, shining in the desert glare. Two long skid marks led up to it, deepening towards the spot where it had finally dug its nose into the sandy ground and somersaulted. Its trim military lines showed little damage except for a crumpled wing-tip.

In its protecting shadow Hilary lay propped against the bundle of an unused parachute. He wore an ordinary civilian khaki shirt and shorts. His left side from above the waist downward was banded in his own blood round the bandage on a two days old bullet wound, and his breathing had become difficult. He reached for his khaki coat on the ground beside him, and began to go through its pockets methodically.

A silver cigarette case and lighter, which he laid across his signature as a paper-weight; a bunch of keys, a pocket-knife and a bottle-opener, a nail-file, a handful of coins, a compass, a small leather-bound engagement book, a tin box of peppermints, a pipe and tobacco pouch—these came at last to his wallet and its few papers. Two thin letters with English air-mail stamps he laid to one side. A three-cornered butterfly-envelope made of a ruled notebook page came next, labeled Roadside Near Kohat—Junonia, and enclosing a male of that species destined for his collection at home.

A PICTURE cut out of the Tatler was next—a fair girl in her presentation gown and feathers. With only a brief glance he placed it on the letters, his eyes caught and held by the snapshot which was beneath it, and which showed a curving drive shaded by old trees, leading to a stone house with pointed gables and rows of casement windows. The edge of a well-kept lawn was visible, and flowers bloomed. And yet the house stood somehow barren and bleak, with a bare hillside rising behind it.

He had not been there for two years. On the top floor in a long, L-shaped room was all his boyhood. Not a very luxurious room, furnished with odds and ends left over from downstairs. But the casement windows opened above the garden to the south, the armchairs were comfortable, his desk was Chippendale, and the mantelpiece, displaced from the drawing room a hundred years ago by a vulgar piece of Victorian marble, was Jacobean oak. Not a very luxurious boyhood either, if it came to that, shadowed by the Great War, and dominated by the ruthless, abiding knowledge of what was expected of him when he grew up.

He stared down at the snapshot, his teeth clenched against the food-tide of emotion which took him unawares at sight of it. He was not often homesick, not since his Spartan schooldays had imposed an agony of longing for the privacy and solitude of that gable room. And for the past 10 years, at least, he had been pretty busy, all over the world, wherever his job took him.

YET often he had thought of England, when he was half across the world—tenderly, as a man may think of his mother, striving in his small and solitary way to keep her safe as she was protected, and provided for. Yes, he thought of England. . . . But he had never before experienced anything like the persistent nostalgia which had begun to dog him recently, drawing him back just to England, but to that gaunt house in the Mendips.

True, he had left it in a great hurry, at a sudden call from the Home Office. He had not stopped to put anything away in his room at the top of the house. His country clothes were left hanging in the wardrobe, his books were strewn about, he had not even locked up his letters and papers. Worst of all, he had left his favorite pipe behind.

He tried to suppose that this was what worried him, and why he felt such a nagging need to return. This, and some subconscious premonition that today was coming; his wound, the crash, and now the final check-up, of his belongings and affairs. He should not have left home in such a hurry. It was untidy and careless and not like him. But the Home Office had been urgent on the telephone and he had packed an overnight bag and caught the London train from Wells in less than 30 minutes. It was only for a conference, they said. But in less than 90 hours he was crossing the Channel in an India Mail plane. That was June, 1938, and since then one thing had led to another for two years.

He must get back home. But why? His mind fumbled over it futilely for the hundredth time, and he wondered if fever was making him muzzy.

McKenney on Bridge

This is the third of a series of articles based on Fred L. Karpin's booklet, "The Point-Count System of Bidding in Contract Bridge."

It has been difficult, says Mr. Karpin, to interpret the precise significance of jump bids, but with the point-count system, the true meaning of jump bids is no longer ambiguous. To illustrate, he gives today's hand, taken from the national championships last year at Atlantic City, N. J.

In most cases, South bid two clubs over North's bid of one spade. The North bid only three spades. South, who felt that he had shown the full value of his hand with the bid of two clubs, passed the three-spade bid.

Karpin points out that it is impossible to miss game on the hand when using the point-count system. South has only a count of 10 and therefore must pass, as it takes a minimum of 13 points to open the bidding. According to this system, 26 points in the combined hands will produce a game.

North, with a count of 18 points, makes the normal opening bid of one spade. (The count on North's spade suit is 12, that is, four for the ace, three for the king, two for the queen, one for the jack, and one each for the fifth and sixth cards in the suit.)

Any response at the two-level in a new suit shows a minimum of 9 points. Therefore, when South bids two clubs, North adds 9 points to his own 18 for a total of 27. Now he knows that there is a game in the combined hands, so instead of bidding three spades, which South might pass, North jumps to four spades.

Of course the four spade contract is made easily. As a matter of fact, five is made if East, after cashing the king and queen of diamonds, continues with a diamond instead of cashing the ace of hearts. Now declarer can discard his three hearts on dummy's good clubs.

Like a Ton of Brick

Sid Gordon scored on Willard Marshall's grounder to first baseman Earl Torgeson, but Braves' catcher Bill Salked came down on the sliding Giant third baseman like a ton of brick. The umpire is Frank Dascoli. The New York club won, 8-2, to split a two-game set at the Polo Grounds.

Perjury- (Continued from page 1) make a decision which one is lying and seek action against him in the courts. The 43-year-old Hiss was sworn in as the first witness immediately after Thomas' statement. Hiss then publicly admitted for the first time that he once had known Chambers, but said it was under the name of George Crosley. With Hiss under oath, Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, turned to Chambers, who was sitting behind one of the press tables. "Mr. Chambers, will you stand up?" Stripling said. Turning back to Hiss, the investigator inquired: "Mr. Hiss, have you ever seen this individual who is standing?" "I have sir," Hiss answered. "Hiss said he knew Chambers as George Crosley in the winter of 1934 or 1935. He said he last saw Chambers in 1935. A moment later, Chambers said he last saw Hiss in 1938. So right at the start there was an element of conflict in the testimony of two men who had taken an oath to tell the truth.

Reds Chop- (Continued from page 1) the leafy interest of the Soviet Union in defense of the United States from criminal infringements on their freedom and civil rights," the note said. The note said such actions as New York police "invasion" of the Soviet consulate August 11—the day Mrs. Kasenkina jumped from the building—had made it impossible for Soviet consulates to fulfill normal functions. "In view of these circumstances," the note stated, the Soviet government has taken the decision: "(a) To immediately close both Soviet consulates in the United States—in New York and San Francisco. (b) In correspondence with the principle of reciprocity, to consider as immediately closed the American Consulate at Vladivostok. On the same basis, the earlier-arrived-at agreement between the government of the United States and the Soviet Union on the establishment of a consulate at Leningrad is to be considered as having lost its force." The note repeated Soviet accusations that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been active in the Samaritan and Kasenkina case. "The American government," the note said, "has at its disposal a sufficient quantity of information x x x to affirm the facts of the kidnaping of Mrs. Kasenkina and M. I. Samaritan, the participation in this affair of the bandit white guard organization—the Tolstoy Fund—and also the connection of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with the case." The note added: "Inasmuch as Kasenkina at the present time is being held in a prison regime and free communication with her by Soviet representatives are not permitted, declarations ascribed to her cannot be recognized as deserving any attention whatsoever, especially taking into consideration the serious condition of her health." The Russians further protested that "Up to the present time we cannot receive any information on the fate of Samaritan and family." The note demanded access to both Samaritan and Kasenkina and rejected accusations by the State Department that Lomakin had abused his diplomatic prerogatives in dealing with the Kasenkina affair. "The actions of Consul General Lomakin," the note said, "were directed exclusively in defiance of the rights of Soviet citizens."

Devaluation Of Peso Stirs Rumors Of Strife Within Mexico

MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—Devaluation of the peso has stirred political and personal enemies of President Miguel Aleman and his associates into feverish activity. Wild rumors of shootings and cabinet resignations have floated around for a month. So far as can be learned, most of the gossip is only gossip, but there is uneasiness among many people. They don't fear armed revolution, but they wonder if ripples on the surface indicate a dangerous undertow in political waters. Neither the President nor his associates have given substance to rumors of violence by denying them. One of these rumors was of an attempt to kill the President. Responsible men laugh at the stories. Aleman supporters put up "Don't Whisper" posters in an effort to halt rumors. President Aleman, two years in office, seemed some months ago to have lost the strong but flexible leadership he had showed. Two weeks ago he appeared to be regaining strength in his swift, comprehensive plan to hold and then to lower the cost of living. He got the public support of farm and labor organizations and the people for quickly established food markets where prices are fixed well below commercial levels. He made price-raising a sort of disloyal act. For the present the markets function, but whether true or not, there are complaints of short weight and poor quality.

And Now She Lays Eggsactly None

HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS.—(AP)—A four-pound White Wyandotte hen has Walker County residents shaking their heads. Her owner, eight-year-old William Kennedy and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Kennedy, claim the hen went on a two-week egg-laying spree that began with 14 eggs in one day. Two weeks ago William saw his hen lay an egg in the yard of the Kennedy home, three miles from here. A short time later the hen laid another egg. Mrs. Kennedy came out to investigate—and stayed. In the next four hours, she says, the little hen laid 12 more eggs. William and his mother kept a close watch on the White Wyandotte after that. The next day the hen laid seven eggs, then she skipped a day. The day after that she came through with four eggs. After that she laid one and two eggs each day until a week ago Sunday, when she laid three. Last Tuesday it was six. On Wednesday, only one egg was laid and the little hen looked tired and worn out. "I was worried about her, so I took her to a feed store in Huntsville," Mrs. Kennedy said. Since then the hen hasn't laid a single egg but she seems to be picking up strength and the Kennedys have hopes of another egg-laying spree.

States' Righters To Ask Court To Seat Convention Delegates

DALLAS.—(AP)—The Texas Supreme Court will be asked this week to order Democratic Party leaders to seat States' Rights Delegates to the state convention in Fort Worth September 14, J. Hart Willis said Tuesday night. Willis heads the Dallas County States' Rights delegation. He said C. C. Renfro, Dallas attorney, will file an application, "presumably Thursday," to put the case before the court. Delegates in Tarrant and Harris counties are thinking about the same tactics, Willis said, but it has not been decided whether the suits will be filed separately or as one. "We will in any event file our suit," Willis said. States' Righters controlled party conventions in Dallas, Tarrant and Harris counties. Truman supporters held separate conventions and are sending separate delegations to the state convention in Fort Worth.

Contempt Order Asked Against Printers' Union

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The NLRB general counsel's office Wednesday asked that the International Typographical Union be held in contempt of court for insisting on closed shop contracts. The union is under a five-month-old injunction against negotiating such agreements, outlawed by the Taft-Hartley Act. In a critical move against the ITU in its fight to keep the closed shop, the National Labor Relations Board's prosecuting agency charged the union's top officers with having disobeyed and disregarded the injunction.

Pat Corbett's opponent for the important post of Representative of the 88th District in West Texas was born and raised in another State and only in recent years has claimed residence in West Texas and in the 88th Legislative District.

Why not elect a native Texan who was raised, and has spent practically his entire life and plans to spend his future life in the 88th District of West Texas to represent you in Austin???

Emory T. (Pat) Corbett is a native Texan and a bona fide resident of West Texas.
