Hurricane Whirls Past New Orleans With Little Damage

NEW ORLEANS — (P) — A Gulf hurricane smashed its fury against New Orleans early Saturday and blew on into Mississippi a milder gale. No fatalities or injuries were reported in New Orleans or in its wake along the South Louisiana coast northward to the city. At the storm's peak, winds attained a steady 75-miles an hour with gusts of 90 miles whipping Moisant International Airport, 12 miles west of the city.

After a preliminary survey, Mayor deLesseps Morrison estimated damage at less than $100,000. In the business district the winds ripped some signs from their moorings and broke a few plate glass windows. Most downtown stores closed for the day. In residential sections, a few frame structures were wrecked, trees uprooted, and a few power lines blown down.

Nearly seven inches of rain that accompanied the storm flooded streets in some areas. And the wind-whipped waters of Lake Pontchartrain splashed over protecting seawalls at the Bucktown community, where New Orleans and Jefferson Parish to the West join on the lake front.

Residents Flee Homes Residents of the community were evacuated and housed in the nearby Yacht Harbor Building. About 2,000 other residents in some other low-lying communities left their homes for a night of shelter in the city auditorium.

Several boats in the yacht harbor were sunk or damaged. The center of the hurricane passed over New Orleans about 7:15 a. m. and lasted an hour and a half. Thereafter winds renewed with force up to 65 miles an hour, but quickly died down. A drizzling rain followed, but by midnight the sun was shining.

The storm's first strike on the coast was at Grand Isle, a resort community about 60-miles south of New Orleans. Only minor damage was reported to four beach camps. Waves whipped over sections of the area, but the approximately 200 residents took refuge in the Coast Guard lookout tower.

Volcano Buries Two Villages In Philippines Isle

MANILA — (P) — The main port of Camiguin was abandoned Sunday and two villages were buried under a sea of rock and lava by a self-destructing volcano which is in eruption for the fifth day. An estimated 30,000 Filipinos already have fled the Southern Philippines island. The remainder, estimated at 15,000, were fearfully awaiting rescue.

Observers reported the ancient volcano, called Hibokhibok, which once jutted more than a mile above sea level, had been reduced by the eruption to less than several hundred feet in height.

Boulders, rock, lava and ash had settled on nearby farms and coconut plantations on the slopes, covering some of them to a depth of 50 feet. The port of Mambajao, main city of the island off the Northern coast of Mindanao, was abandoned by its 10,000 population. Two nearby villages were covered by ashes and lava.

Jose Nable, reporter for the Manila Chronicle, messaged: "The spectacle was the imagination. All vegetation has been whitened by flying ash. No people were around for miles."

McCamey Youth Is Held; Postal Funds Recovered

LOS ANGELES — (P) — Postal Inspector D. L. Lambert said Saturday $23,500 identified as part of $25,000 missing from the McCamey, Texas, Post Office, had been recovered here.

Lambert said Fred Newton Davis, 19, a part-time postal clerk of McCamey, was arrested here Friday. He has been charged in a complaint filed before the U. S. commissioner at Pecos, Texas, with taking a package containing $25,000 from the McCamey Post Office.

Davis had made reservations on a luxury liner scheduled to sail Wednesday for Honolulu. Investigation showed that Davis abandoned his car in El Paso, arriving there early Wednesday. He was arrested in El Paso and flew to the West Coast.

He registered in a Los Angeles hotel under the name "Rodney Rogers."

Davis was born in San Angelo. He is a graduate of McCamey High School and attended the University of Texas two years.

Johnson Leading By 162

DALLAS — (P) — Lyndon Johnson led Coke Stevenson by 162 votes Saturday night in the Texas Election Bureau's count from last Saturday's runoff race for the U. S. Senate.

The count at 9 p. m. was Johnson 451,158 votes; Stevenson 493,996. Bob Johnson, election bureau manager, said it planned to issue no more totals on the election "unless there is an abrupt change" in the vote.

Candidate Johnson was ahead by 58 votes in the noon count of the election bureau. By 6 p. m., his lead was 181 votes.

An official total from Brazoria County gave Stevenson a gain of nine votes. The official count from Galveston County showed Johnson losing 1.

The bureau's tabulation included 163 counties from which the vote had been confirmed as official. Check Counting Details

An official canvass of votes Sept. 13 by the State Democratic Executive Committee in Fort Worth will name the winner.

In the 6 p. m. bulletin, Johnson's total was 494,168; Stevenson's 493,997.

Between noon and 6 p. m., 27 counties sent in confirmations, causing as many revisions. The biggest changes were noted in Lubbock and Starr counties. In each Johnson gained 90 votes. In Lubbock County Stevenson's total remained unchanged, in Starr County, Stevenson lost one vote.

A combined budget of $33,923 for the Midland Community Chest for 1948-49 was announced Saturday by Chairman Robert I. Dickey, following approval of budgets of the participating organizations by Chest directors.

The Community Chest budget includes the following: Boy Scouts, $12,000; Girl Scouts, $9,435; Youth Center, $8,930; Goodfellows, $600; Salvation Army, $1,500; U. S. O., $785; and campaign expense, $673.

U. S. O. Asking The U. S. O., which next year will expand its operations in line with the peacetime draft, was not included in the 1947-48 budget.

Major Strikes Cloud Labor Day Weekend

WASHINGTON — (P) — Annoying dark clouds drifted suddenly into the industrial horizon this Labor Day weekend.

There had been rumblings of thunder, but most of the forecasts were optimistic. And then a maritime strike broke on the West Coast and AFL teamsters struck in New York City.

Within 48 hours, 16,000 CIO-oil workers walked off the job in nine major California refineries.

The labor-management situation took a swift—though possibly brief—turn for the worse. The summer calm was ended shrilly on the eve of the 66th anniversary of labor's own holiday. It was brought on by big strikes besetting parts of the nation. It was the worst Labor Day since V-J Day.

The major cause for governmental concern was the West Coast maritime shutdown. It was brought on by the collapse of negotiations between Harry Bridges, San Francisco leader of the CIO-Longshoremen's Union, and the Waterfront Employers Association of the Pacific.

Could Cripple Industry A prolonged strike of the type threatened by both sides would have a paralyzing effect on the West Coast and eventually would cripple dozens of U. S. industries dependent on Pacific commerce for supplies or markets.

To plague the West Coast further, the oil refinery strike "within a few days" would cut off gasoline supplies in California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona, an industry spokesman said.

The CIO-oil workers also have been idle for "several weeks" at operations of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio. Statistics were vague, but the conciliation service was told at the outbreak of that dispute that the strikers would shut off 100,000 barrels of oil a day.

Government trouble-shooters had little prospect of settling the New York trucking strike before Tuesday, because of the long week-end holiday. Mayor O'Dwyer said some chain stores would be forced to close as movement of groceries was checked off.

Russians Seize, Then Free Six Americans

BERLIN — (P) — U. S. Military Police said Sunday the Russians took six American soldiers into custody in Berlin during the night but later released all of them.

Names of the soldiers were withheld pending an investigation. The police also declined to disclose the circumstances surrounding the incident.

The arrests, the first in more than a week, came amid hints that the four-power Berlin talks had reached a final stage with a partial agreement on trade and finance problems. An official spokesman said, however, the talks had not yet produced any decisions on ending the crisis produced by the 73-day-old Soviet blockade of the city.

TWO-WAY POLITICS

WASHINGTON — (P) — Quiet moves were underway Saturday by some Southern congressional candidates to get their names on both the Democratic and States' Rights tickets.

Investigation Is Proposed By Johnson

DALLAS — (P) — "The News wishes to join Mr. Johnson in his suggestion of an FBI investigation," The Dallas Morning News says in a front page editorial on the U. S. Senate race for its Sunday edition.

The editorial comments on a statement issued Saturday in Austin by Lyndon Johnson, one of the senatorial candidates.

The News' editorial follows: "Yesterday, The News suggested that, in view of the very close senatorial contest and certain aspects thereof, the election be made the subject of an investigation by the standing Investigating Committee of the State Senate, a purely nonpartisan body."

"Following this suggestion by The News, Lyndon B. Johnson, candidate in opposition to Coke R. Stevenson, issued a statement (1) Accusing the members of the Senate committee of being 'cronies of ex-Governor Stevenson, (2) Alleging that his opponent had been the recipient of 'fictitious votes', (3) Stating that he had been 'corrected out of' votes in several Texas counties, including Dallas and (4) Recommending that, 'if they want an investigation' of the contest, it be made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. Johnson also stated that 'a large metropolitan newspaper and their candidate... by their slanted headlines and their front page editorials... are trying to throw up a smokescreen in an effort to blind the good people of this state. Seeks All Facts

"In reply, The News wishes to join Mr. Johnson in his suggestion of an FBI investigation. It should be a full and fair investigation with the full cooperation of the Federal Department of Justice, headed by Atty. Gen. Tom Clark. Let's have all the facts without concealment. Let the chips fall where they may. The immediate impinging of a special federal grand jury for the consideration of evidence would be following effective procedure in some other parallel investigations.

"At the same time the investigation by the State Senate Committee should go ahead because only under State statute can an investigation of all aspects of an election be made. A federal investigation can be made into the election only insofar as conspiracy is charged.

Accidents Take Toll Of 56 Lives As Long Holiday Period Starts

By The Associated Press Fifty-six persons died accidentally as the Labor Day weekend got underway with a rush of motorists to the highways.

Forty-eight of the dead were traffic victims; five were drowned, made three other vacation points. Miscellaneous causes attributed to the holiday.

The combination of a three-day weekend and a forecast of good weather sent millions to resort spots and other vacation points. The National Safety Council has predicted that at least 260 persons will die in traffic accidents over the weekend. The council estimated that 100,000,000 persons in 30,000,000 vehicles will be on the streets and highways during the three days.

Last year 293 lives were lost in traffic accidents over the Labor Day weekend. An additional 81 persons died in miscellaneous accidents.

No Request Made For Investigation

PARIS, TEXAS — (P) — Senator A. M. Aiken, Jr., chairman of the State Senate Investigating Committee, Saturday told Bob Vickery of the Paris News:

"So far as I know, we have had no request for an investigation of the election, either from Lyndon Johnson or Coke Stevenson. If we receive such a request, it will be given due consideration."

American War Planes To Remain In Britain

LONDON — (P) — American Superfortresses and other war planes will remain in Britain as long as the cold war continues between Russia and the Western Powers, a responsible American official said Saturday.

He made the statement in commenting on reports published here that the United States and Britain have agreed to base an American air armada in the British Isles for the next ten years.

The official discounted the reports that the agreement covered any fixed period such as ten years, but told a reporter there was no doubt the U. S. Air Force is here for the duration of the East-West tension, now centered in Berlin.

Senate Panel Demands Ouster Of Communists Holding Federal Jobs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Senate subcommittee checking on the government's "loyalty" program demanded Saturday that all Communists and their sympathizers be kicked out of federal jobs at once—and kept out.

The investigating committee, composed of seven senators, said in a 28-page report that the present method of testing the loyalty of the more than 2,000,000 government employees is "inadequate," filled with "dangerous delays," and in need of speedy overhauling.

Four Republicans and three Democrats signed the report, with one of them putting in one dissent. The suggestion that Communists or others who advocate overthrow of the government by force be barred from government jobs is not new. The subcommittee noted that Congress has been trying to scratch them from the payroll since 1939 with ineffective results.

But the report differentiated between the constitutional "rights" to freedom of speech, assembly and "not to be forced to testify against oneself" and the "privilege" of working for the government.

"Today a person in our country has a right to be a Communist and to speak out in behalf of Communism if he violates no law such as espionage or conspiracy," the report said. "By doing so, how-

Phillips Completes Producer In Waddell Pay At Andector

A new pay zone has been proved productive in the Andector field of Northwest Ector County, as Phillips Petroleum Company No. 10 Embur, (Cowden).

That project, located 850 feet from north and west lines of section 17, block 44, T-1-N, completed the Simpson, middle Ordovician, for a 24-hour natural flowing potential of 183.67 barrels of 43-gravity oil and no water.

The flow was through a one-half-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 441-1.

Top of the pay is at 7,710 feet and total depth is at 7,830 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 7,808 feet.

The Andector field already has proven production from the Ellenburger and from the Clear Fork of the Permian. Some other wells in this field, which have been completed from the Simpson, middle Ordovician, for production from the Simpson, but the Phillips No. 10 Embur is the first to actually complete as a producer from that zone.

Operator has requested the Railroad Commission to designate the new well as the opener of the Andector-Waddell field.

Dual-Completion Will Be Tried At Penwell Project

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 25-C-E-B W. E. Connel is a new exploration for the Jordan field in South-Central Ector County, which will attempt to complete as a producer from the Connell section of the Simpson and also from the Ellenburger.

It is adjacent to wells which have been completed in both of those zones. The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 26, block B-16, psi survey.

Drilling with rotary tools to 8,900 feet to explore through the Connell zone and into the Ellenburger, is to start at once.

Pecos Venture Completes From Ordovician Section

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 J. W. Lutz, in the Pecos field in North Pecos County has been officially completed as a producer from an unidentified section of the Ordovician, possibly to prove a new pay for that region.

Located 648 feet from south and 678 feet from west lines of lot 5, section 27, block 9, H&GN survey, this development made a 24-hour flowing potential of 169.2 barrels of 39.7 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 3.191-1.

The production was natural, and no water was developed. That pay is between 4,936-46 feet. The 7-inch casing is cemented at 4,915 feet.

Ray A. Albaugh Finishes Outpost In S-C Howard

Ray A. Albaugh, of Midland, No. 3 Stewart, outpost production in the South-Central Howard County sector of the Howard-Glasscock field, has been completed for a 24-hour pumping potential of 82 barrels of 34.7 gravity oil, and no water.

The pay is at 1,411-14 feet. A string of 7-inch casing is cemented at 1,380 feet. The new well is 2,084 feet from east and 330 feet from south lines of north half of section 130, block 29, W&NW survey.

Stanotex Sets Casing At New Well In Tucker Area

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 2 Nellie M. Tucker, stepout from the proven area in the Tucker field of Southwest Ector County, and 2,870 feet from southeast and 660 feet from southwest lines of section 21, block 3, H&TC survey, has proven for flowing production from the Waddell section of the Simpson and is to run casing and complete.

This exploration ran a drillsite test at 5,740-95 feet. The tool was open four hours and 40 minutes. Oil started spraying at the surface in 30 minutes. The gas volume reached a maximum of 6,000,000 cubic feet per day. Operator estimated that the oil spray was at the rate of 130 barrels per day. A one-quarter-inch tubing choke was used. Changed Packer

In an effort to cut down the heavy gas volume, and to produce more oil, another drillsite test was taken with the tool set at 5,751 feet, and total depth still at 5,795 feet.

The tool was open three hours. A one-quarter-inch choke was used. Oil started flowing at the surface in 26 minutes and flowed for two hours and 34 minutes at the rate of 1,158 barrels per day. Gas-oil ratio was 743-1.

A core was then taken at 5,795-5,820 feet. There was a 100 per cent recovery, which included seven feet of oil saturated sand. The remainder of the material was shale.

A drillsite test for seven and one-half hours was taken at 5,801-20 feet. Recovery was 2,300 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud and 128 feet of muddy water, in the bottom of the test at 5,800 feet.

Operator is now preparing to cement seven-inch casing on bottom, and complete through perforations.

Y. & A. Outpost Has O&G Cut Fluid In Latest DST

Magnolia No. 2 Anderson, northeast outpost to the Yarrowburg & Allen-Elleburger field, in Southwest Ector County, and 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 23, block B-14, psi survey, took a one-hour and 15-minute drillsite test at 11,109-90 feet.

Recovery was the 1,350-foot water blanket and 30 feet of drilling mud. The bottom 70 feet of the water blanket, and the 30 feet of drilling mud, were slight cut with oil and gas. The exploration is slated to drill ahead.

Magnolia No. 1 Winston Gets No Shows On DST

Magnolia No. 1 Winston, South-Central Scurry County prospector, four miles southwest of Snyder, and 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 72, Kirkland & Fields survey No. 37, ran a 30-minute drillsite test at 7,838-45 feet.

Recovery was 35 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The venture is coring below 7,848 feet in lime and shale.

Important Wildcats In Gaines Continue To Dig

In Gaines County, several important wildcats, were either drilling, or preparing to begin making new holes. These projects include:

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 2 Proctor, slated 7,500-foot wildcat to the lower Permian, 10 miles southwest of Seminole, and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 35, block G, CCS&R&NG survey, had reached 6,424 feet in lime, and was continuing.

Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, 15 miles south of Seminole, in South-Central, 12 miles north, and 1,283 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23, psi survey, had progressed below 7,741 feet in lower Permian dolomite, and was drilling up to locate and explore the Ellenburger.

Drilling Out Plug
Magnolia No. 1 Hicks, in extreme Southeast Gaines County, and 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Lovington County survey, was drilling plug on 9 5/8-inch casing which had been cemented on bottom at 5,892 feet, and was then to start boring ahead. It is scheduled to dig to around 12,500 feet to try to locate and explore the Ellenburger.

Guy Mabee Drilling Company No. 1 McCrea, contracted to 7,500 feet to test into the lower Permian in Northwest Gaines County, 12 miles north, and 1,283 feet from north and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 123, block G, WTRR survey, had reached 6,096 feet, and was continuing.

CRA To Drill Stepout To New Hockley Field

Cooperative Refinery Association No. 1 Ellwood estate is to be one location, diagonal northeast stepout to the recently opened Spade field in East-Central Hockley County.

The prospect will be 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from northwest lines of section 12, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, and about three miles north of the town of Smyer.

It is to drill to about 6,000 feet to explore into the Glorieta-Permian, the producing formation in the nearby field.

The venture is one-location diagonally northeast of Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1-B-13 Ellwood, which is testing preparatory to completion. It is the second well to be drilled in the area.

On the latest test, swabbing above the plugged back total depth of 5,996 feet the well made 165 barrels of oil in six hours. The seven-inch casing is cemented at 5,886 feet.

Contract to drill the Cooperative exploration with rotary tools, has been let to Grappe-Denton, Inc., of Levelland.

Two Gaines Prospectors Are Plugged, Abandoned

Two wildcats in Gaines County have been plugged and abandoned after failing to develop any signs of oil or gas in the San Andres-Permian.

Cascade Petroleum Company No. 1 McMurry, in Northeast Gaines County, eight miles west of the Central Leakey field, and 1,290 feet from north and west lines of section 80, block H, D&W survey, penetrated to 5,292 feet and had no signs of petroleum, or of water. It is plugged.

W. P. Luce and C. O. Lee No. 1 Webb, eight miles west of Seminole, in Central-West Gaines County, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the south half of section 332, block G, CCS&R&NG survey, is preparing to plug back and cement a string of 5 1/2-inch casing at about 10,700 feet.

This development drilled to a total depth of 13,977 feet in the Ellenburger. This zone showed only salt water, and there were no signs of oil or gas.

The zone from about 10,600 feet to 10,700 feet is in the Strawn section of the Pennsylvanian. There were some extra slight oil stains in some streaks in that horizon.

Operator is expected to perforate

Upton Discovery Flanker Perforates Higher Zone

Flanking the Benedum discovery on the southwest, No. 1 Standefler, operated by Slick-Urschel Oil Company and Plymouth Oil Company, was being prepared for more perforations. The shots are to be in the zone above 11,450 feet.

Operators had set a retainer at 11,450 feet and squeezed off perforations at 12,179-745 feet and at 12,250-90 feet. Salt water had recovered from those perforations after an acid treatment.

The drillsite is 660 feet from the north and east lines of lot 3, section 50 1/2, P. B. Scott survey, Plymouth and Slick-Urschel No. 1 Taylor and Sadler, in East-Central Upton County, and 660 feet from north and west lines of lot 4, section 50 1/2, P. B. Scott survey, was flowing 12 barrels of oil per hour. This Benedum outpost was continuing to test. Total depth is 11,496 feet, in the Ellenburger.

Surface casing had been set by Slick-Urschel at its No. 1-47, Gordon to 280 feet, five feet above bottom, and cemented with 250 sacks. Size of the casing was 10 inches. The project is waiting for cement to set.

It is located 660 feet out of the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 47, TORR survey. It is contracted to 11,500 feet for an Ellenburger test.

Slick-Urschel No. 1 Dixon, 660 feet out of the northwest corner of the west half of the west half of section 3, block 4 1/2, C. Bendie survey in the Benedum field of

Lea County Gets Two Prospectors

HOBBS, N. M.—Locations for two new petroleum prospectors in Lea County were reported Saturday. Both were to begin operations at once.

Kewanee Oil & Gas Company, et al. No. 36 Balish is to be an 8,200-foot prospector in the shallow Maljamar field of West-Central Lea County.

It is to be 1,554 feet from north and west lines of section 28-175-32E. The drillsite is surrounded by producers from the regular Maljamar pay in the upper Permian between 3,800 feet and 4,200 feet.

The Kewanee exploration is slated to go through the lower Permian, and may penetrate the Pennsylvanian.

In C-SW Lea County
J. C. Clower No. 1 State, two miles west of the West Eunice field in Central-Southwest Lea County, is contracted as a 4,200-foot venture to explore into the middle Permian lime.

It will be 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 16-213-34E. Drilling is to start immediately on the one-location extension for producers from the regular Maljamar pay, locations for which have been previously reported.

Approximately six miles north of Eunice, Continental Oil Company is slated to drill to approximately 10,500 feet to test into the Ellenburger at its No. 1 Warren. Location has been spotted 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 29-206-38E.

Roads are now being built. It is three miles southeast of the Cass field.

The Texas Company is to undertake the other venture. It is the No. 1 Z. A. McMullen, at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 3-198-38E. Location is about 4,500 feet, to try for production from the San Andres. This prospector is about midway between the Monument and the Hobbs field.

Cochran Venture Flows Oil From Deep Section

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Birtle Brown, has proven for a one-location extension for the Landon-Deep field in South-Central Cochran County.

This prospector, a stepout from the lone producer from the Strawn lime section of the Pennsylvanian in that field, ran a one-hour drillsite test in the top of the pay at 10,371-430 feet.

The 1,170-foot water blanket started flowing at the surface in 29 minutes. Oil came to the top of the drill pipe in 44 minutes, and flowed for 15 minutes at the estimated rate of 30 barrels per hour, before the tool was closed.

Is To Core Ahead
No water was developed. Operator is now trying to loosen a stuck anchor on the bottom of the tester, so the drill pipe can be pulled. When that has been accomplished, operator plans to core ahead. It is expected that the prospect will be deepened about 100 feet before completion tests are undertaken.

The well is 2,655 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 4, block L, psi survey.

Midland Trio Going Ahead On Ellenburger Ventures

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Wilson Bryant, Central Midland wildcat, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west line of section 39, block 39, TP survey, T-3-S, about 14 miles south of the City of Midland, was below 12,838 feet, drilling lime and sand.

In West Midland County, about one mile south of the Midland Air Terminal, The Texas Company was taking its No. 1 Scharbauer down beyond 10,487 feet through lime and shale in search of the Ellenburger. It is expected to encounter strata between 12,500 feet and 13,500 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 20, block 40, T-2-S, TP survey.

After being shut-in for a short period to regain circulation, it Floyd Harvey Oil Company No. 1 Tex, approximately 13 miles southeast of Midland, in the central-east portion of the county, had resumed drilling operations. Last report had it below 8,250 feet, penetrating shale.

This venture is situated 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 15, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey. It is an Ellenburger exploration.

Operators Are Deepening Four Wildcats In Reagan

In West-Central Reagan County, Plymouth was going on down below 9,988 feet in lime and shale with its No. 1 Elliott. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 46, block Y, ME&T survey, 1 1/4 miles northeast of the Benedum field.

Plymouth No. 1 Dixon, 660 feet from north and 2,526 feet from west lines of section 2, Peter Beach survey No. 2, had reached 3,677 feet and was boring ahead in lime.

Three and one-half miles northwest of the Barnhart field in Southwest Reagan County, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company was drilling its No. 1 Price Miller beyond 1,664 feet. It was going through a formation of redbed and salt.

Location is in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 226, block 1, T&B survey.

White Eagle Oil Company No. 1 R. E. Ringo, 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 8, block H, L&SV RR survey, was borin, ahead past 2,366 feet in anhydrite and STP. It is eight miles northwest of the discovery well for the Benedum field.

Each of the Reagan County ventures are contracted to go to the Ellenburger.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—Almost Everyone Had Stake In Oil Commission Meeting

DALLAS (AP)—Every man who drives an automobile and every person who heats his home with oil had a stake in the Interstate Oil Compact Commission meeting in New York last week.

Governors of 21 states—or their representatives—attended. They heard reports crammed with statistics. They made, and listened to, speeches on conservation, regulation.

But to the man behind the steering wheel and the housewife with the oil furnace, this was the real news that came out of the gathering:

1. There will be gasoline for automobile tanks for many more years.
2. There will be enough fuel oil this coming winter, if—

Senator George W. Malone of Nevada made the prediction a bolt of crude oil, from which gasoline is produced. He said 23,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil is known still to be underground. At the present rate of use, this would last about 12 years. After that is gone, and yet unfound oil is used up, there still is oil shale from which he said 100,000,000,000 barrels could be produced.

A committee informed the meeting of the oil prospects for next winter. Even if the weather is normal, said the committee's estimate, the demand for crude oil will be seven per cent greater than it was last year. The committee's belief that the oil industry can keep up with the demand was hinged on three "ifs":

1. Continued American production of 5,600,000 barrels of crude oil and 415,000 barrels of natural gas liquids daily.
2. Importation of about 200,000 barrels per day more than is exported.

Withdrawal of 180,000 barrels daily from storage.

APRIL REPORTS NEW PRODUCTION RECORD
On the day the meeting ended, the American Petroleum Institute reported that the nation's production hit a new high record last week, a daily average of 5,528,850 barrels.

William J. Murray, Jr., member of the Texas Railroad Commission, told the meeting that Texas is now producing every barrel of oil that can be taken out without endangering the future life of the state's fields.

The compact commission originally was formed to hold down the production of oil. In the early 1930's, the uncontrolled flow from the rich East Texas field and new fields in other states was flooding the market, breaking prices. A rapid depletion of the supply.

First formed by the mid-continent oil states, the commission agreed to hold production down to demand, giving each state a quota. The state regulatory bodies, in turn, gave quotas to each of its fields and individual wells. The agreement received federal recognition through a "hot oil" law, making it an offense to transport between states petroleum production in violation of state regulations.

In wartime and the booming postwar years, the compact has become concerned with supplying the ever-increasing demand without waste or endangering the future supply.

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, this state's oil regulatory body, told the meeting the compact commission's waste-prevention efforts have accomplished "more than was expected."

The Soviet Pattern

By the lopsided score of 7 to 0, Russia's Andrei Vishinsky and a team of Soviet stooges shut out the western world from most of the Danube River at the Belgrade conference. Thus the great and important river has become a private Communist stream for about two-thirds of its navigable course.

The conference was a depressing but interesting example of Soviet technique when the Russians have a large and obedient majority on their side.

All of the 10 delegations included experts on law, shipping, engineering and other technical subjects. But, as U. S. Ambassador Cannon pointed out, all discussions were steered down a political channel. Vishinsky brought the Russian draft of the convention, or agreement, to the conference. The western delegations were invited to take it or leave it. They left it, of course. And after some 20 days of fruitless talk, the Communist delegations signed the convention with scarcely a word, much less a basic idea, changed from the original draft which Vishinsky presented.

That, of course, is the Soviet pattern of government and diplomacy. At home they permit no deviation by the faithful, let alone any word of opposition. In their international discussions, such as the UN and foreign ministers' meetings, compromise is almost unheard of. When they are outnumbered they are inclined to veto or walk out. When they are in power, as they were in Belgrade, they steam-roller their program through with scarcely a pretense of the diplomatic amenities.

Thus the Danubian Conference has re-emphasized the fundamental and seemingly hopeless difficulty of settling any world problem in which Russia is involved. The closing of the Danube presents one of the major problems in the economic field. And while there was little likelihood that Russia would retreat by agreement from a position that she had taken by force, a small hope remained until it was erased by the Belgrade fiasco.

Now one of the main east-west arteries of European commerce is definitely and officially shut off. The act is bound to have a serious effect on Europe's health and recovery. The continent has no such railway network as that of the United States, which includes almost 100,000 more miles than the whole of Europe. Closing the Danube to non-Soviet international traffic shuts one of the most important doors between the industrial west and agricultural east.

This will undoubtedly slow up European recovery and make it more difficult. It will put a continuing burden on the United States. That is the goal that Russia was aiming for. But obviously the hardship will work both ways.

Russia and the Balkan countries have a problem of recovery, too. They need machinery and all sorts of manufactured products. If the process of getting them becomes slower and more costly because of this latest Soviet stratagem, Stalin may find that he has cut off a good chunk of his own nose to spite free Europe's face.

No Free Lunch

The airlines are talking about abolishing their long-time practice of serving free meals aloft to try to get out of the red, where most of them find themselves. That may be good business, but we think it's also bad psychology.

Many citizens of the pre-prohibition era still talk wistfully about the free lunch that a nickel beer would get you in those days. The airlines' lofty repasts were the only descendant of that pleasant institution in these days of high prices, big tips, and the universal gimme. The lure of something for nothing—however small the something—has a magnetic pull for most of us. A lot of airline passengers would miss the free meals, and would probably tell the airlines about it in no uncertain terms.

Want To See A Politico Squirm? Fire These Questions At Him

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent
 WASHINGTON—Two years ago Editor William E. Heath of the Haverhill, Mass., Gazette inaugurated a quiz for his state's congressional candidates. His idea was to pop 10 of the toughest questions he could think of on national and international issues. Then he let the politicians squirm out of them as best they could.

So much good came out of the inquisition that Editor Heath wants to repeat it this year. He has asked for suggestions from which to pick his leading questions. For whatever they may be worth in putting other candidates on the spot, here are 12 questions.

Most important domestic issues of the campaign should be high prices and housing. A candidate can be heckled by merely asking him how he stands on these issues and what he proposes to do about them. A better plan is to ask specific questions to nail him down.

1. Do you favor restoration of price controls and rationing on scarce items like meat and automobiles, with the allocation of iron and steel to essential users until supplies increase and prices come down?

Some people believe that a fundamental reason for high prices of food is the government's farm price support program. The Aiken farm bill passed by the last Congress continues present price supports until Jan. 1, 1950, then puts in a revised, lower formula. To smoke out where a candidate stands on this, ask him:

2. Do you favor amending the Aiken farm bill so as to lower farm price supports both before and after January, 1950?

Principal issue on housing is the matter of government aid for low-rental public housing projects. Most other key points of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner housing bill were passed by the last Congress. So ask your man:

3. Do you favor passage by the next Congress of the low-cost public housing sections of the Taft-Elliender-Wagner housing bill?

A more basic approach to the housing question comes through rent controls which under present law

Texas Electors Asked To Stand And Be Counted

By DAVE CHEAVENS
 AUSTIN—Texas Democratic electors were asked Saturday to stand up and be counted on the party-loyalty-Dixiecrat issue.

State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Robert W. Calvert sent telegrams to the 23 electors demanding an answer before next Saturday on the question of whether or not they would cast their votes for President Truman as the party's presidential nominee.

He reminded them that the May convention at Brownwood pledged them to support all the nominees of the Democratic Party, and said he wanted to know how the electors stood for the information of the Fort Worth convention's delegates.

The loyalists—headed by Calvert and Gov. Beauford H. Jester—are sticking to the party line. Southern Democrats or Dixiecrats want the names of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond and Gov. Fielding Wright substituted for Truman and Barkley on the general election ballot in Texas.

This fight will come to a head at the September 14 convention at Fort Worth.

Pledged to Nominees
 Here is what Calvert said in his telegram to the electors:

"When the state convention at Brownwood selected you as one of its nominees for the office of presidential elector, it also adopted a resolution pledging you to support all the nominees of the Democratic Party."

"In order that the delegates to the state convention to be held in Fort Worth on September 14th may be advised as to whether or not you intend to carry out this pledge, please wire me, immediately at Hillsboro, Texas, first, whether you recognize and agree that Harry S. Truman and Alben Barkley are the duly and legally selected nominees of the Democratic Party for the office of president and vice president, and, second, whether, if elected, you will cast your vote in the electoral college for the said Harry S. Truman and Alben Barkley."

"If no reply is received hereto by Saturday, September 11th, it will be assumed that you do not recognize Truman and Barkley as such nominees and that you will not vote for them in the electoral college."

Crewless B-29 Reported Flying Toward Moscow

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—The possibility that a crewless American B-29 Superfortress had taken off on a runaway flight in the general direction of Moscow held the attention of Air Force officials Saturday.

One thing was certain. A B-29 was missing after its crew of 11 parachuted with the loss of one life Friday near Vilsingen (Flushing) off the Netherlands Coast while engaged in a mock air war over Britain.

Then came roundabout reports that eyewitnesses had seen a B-29 flying at 10,000 feet over the Hamburg, Germany, area—200 miles away and about an hour after the men jumped.

Other unofficial reports said the plane was seen over Luebeck, about 35 miles northeast of Hamburg. No Trace of Wreckage

Air Force officials were inclined to believe the plane fell into the Schelde Estuary, where it was abandoned by its crew after engine trouble. One of its rescued crew members said it fell into the water.

But after an intensive search failed to locate any trace of the plane, Air Force officials put out an official statement that they were investigating the Hamburg reports.

"It could have happened that way on the time element and everything else," said one airman. "The plane probably had been set on the automatic pilot before the crew jumped."

Air Force officials refused to speculate on the possibility that the plane might reach Russia on its own. Moscow is about 1800 miles from where the crew jumped. The Superfortresses have a range of almost 4000 miles when fully fueled. The B-29 in the Dutch Coast incident had been engaged in maneuvers and consequently had used some of its fuel before the crew jumped.

States' Righters Take Over Dallas Committee

DALLAS —(AP)— States' Right Democrats took charge of the Dallas County Democratic Executive Committee Saturday.

On the only recorded vote, the States' Righters won 53 to 23. That was when they replaced vice chairman Mrs. W. S. Bramlett, a staunch Truman supporter, with E. E. Turquette.

Supporters of Lyndon Johnson and Coke Stevenson sat by as the executive committee certified the county vote in the senatorial race and all local races.

Argentine Exports Of Meat To England Drop

BUENOS AIRES —(AP)— Argentine meat shipments to Britain have declined some 4,000 tons a month because of cattlemen's reluctance to sell beef at present prices.

Food ministry officials here say they believe the slowdown will be only temporary. But England normally buys about 33,000 tons of Argentine meat a month.

Twenty months ago the Argentine government, which has a monopoly on meat sales abroad, fixed prices which packing houses should pay for cattle. Stockmen were willing to sell cattle at the time the price was fixed. But now, they say, their costs are going up. Ranchers have asked the government several times to raise the floor price of cattle. The matter is now under study.

Held Cattle

Meantime, cattlemen are not selling any more than they must to meet running expenses. The current sales are not enough to fill Argentina's domestic needs and still provide enough meat for normal exports.

Government trade circles contend that the value of Argentine meat has doubled since 1939. When Britain began her wartime buying in that year, the price was 48 centavos per kilogram, or 5.8 U. S. cents per pound. Now Argentina wants Britain, which buys more than 80 per cent of her export meat, to pay one peso per kilo.

One Killed, Three Hurt In Highway Crash

AMARILLO —(AP)— One man was killed and three persons were injured when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a loaded grain truck near Claude, Texas, Saturday.

Dead was Gerald Glen Berry, about 18, of Quanah. Bobbie Sue Stanton, 14, also of Quanah, was injured seriously.

Arthur J. Stanton, about 25, a war veteran of Phillips, Texas, and John L. Fontenot, Houston, also were injured.

Operation Beaver

Beavers are traveling by plane and parachute from settled areas of Idaho, where they damage irrigation systems, to primitive areas, where they can build dams and grow fur. Above, near McCall, Idaho, a plane releases parachute with a boxed beaver. Below the parachute has settled to the ground where the special release device, which kept box closed in the air, opens allowing the beaver to crawl out and get to work.

Tiny Sovereign State Born In French Capital

PARIS —(AP)— The new, independent state of "Unosia" is being formed in the capital of France.

The tiny, sovereign state will cover 10 acres of land, and number about 4,500 inhabitants.

This makes it even smaller than Andorra, Monaco, or Liechtenstein. But Unosia will be far more powerful and far more polygot. Its members will come from 58 other sovereign nations.

Unosia has the reputation of being the most pacific of states, but just in case it will be guarded by at least a 50-man police force, and a 20-man fire department.

It may perhaps even be guarded by anti-aircraft guns. A passport will be needed to enter Unosia.

Once within its sacred precincts, even criminals can benefit—temporarily—by immunity from French police.

Unosia is to be the Fall home of the United Nations, which will sit in general session from September 21 to December.

In French Museum

Unosia will be located in a French museum, in the Trocadero section of Paris, looking out upon the Eiffel tower.

France is spending $3,300,000 to equip the museum with everything from four-mile-an-hour elevators to banks, hospitals, a radio station and a 3,000-seat restaurant.

Tiny as the state is, it will have a telephone exchange equivalent to that of a city of 100,000 persons. If you want, you could wander 12 miles from its conference hall to the secretariat offices.

Its printing presses can turn out 10,000 booklets daily. Since May, 3,000 men have been working day and night to create Unosia.

At midnight, on September 21, it will become the world's capital. Its citizens will be 1,500 delegates, 1,500 functionaries, and 1,200 news and radio reporters.

The concern of Unosia will be the destinies of the two billion persons in the vast spaces beyond its ten acres.

Wilhelmina Leads Cheers For Juliana, New Queen Of Dutch

AMSTERDAM, THE NETHERLANDS —(AP)— The rule over The Netherlands and the Dutch Empire passed Saturday from Queen Wilhelmina to her daughter Juliana.

The historic moment was 11:33 a. m. when Wilhelmina dotted the second "I" of her boldly inscribed signature on the instrument of abdication. The scene was the Moses Hall of the Royal Palace on Dam Square.

Then in the climax of her golden jubilee celebration of 50 years on the throne, the 68-year-old queen stepped out onto a palace balcony with her 39-year-old successor and led the cheers from 19,000 subjects for their new queen.

There were 36 other entrants, all women.

Russians Revive Nazi Horror Camp

BERLIN —(AP)— More than three years ago American soldiers liberated the half-starved inmates of Buchenwald, ill-famed Nazi concentration camp.

Today, according to German press accounts which the Russians have not denied, it is still a concentration camp, operated by the Russian MVD (secret police) and many of its reported 10,000 prisoners are anti-Communist German politicians, teachers and "just ordinary people who dared to criticize the Soviet system."

Many reports about postwar Buchenwald and other Russian-operated concentration camps in the Soviet occupation zone have been published and whispered here and throughout Germany.

The most detailed account was published by Rie Welt, official German newspaper of the British military government. The paper said its facts had been obtained from former inmates who had been amnestied which affected some in-released under a recent Soviet termed former Nazis. The released Nazis immediately were recruited to join a new "National Democratic" party which the Russians authorized in their zone to supplement the "official" Communist-controlled Socialist Unity party.

Top-Limb Braves Stretch Lead In Split With Phils

BOSTON —(AP)—Merex marking time by splitting a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phils, the top-place Boston Braves pulled two games ahead of the defeated Brooklyn Dodgers Saturday.

The Phils, inspired by the aging Schoolboy Rowe's five-hit pitching, came from behind to take the opener 4-3. Vernon Bickford then squared matters by twirling a neat 8-1 triumph for the Tribesmen in the nightcap.

Bill Volselle was the Braves' first-game starter and Jeff Heath sent him away to a flying start by tripling in Tommy Holmes and Earl Torgerson in the first inning. In the top half of that frame, Harry (The Hat) Walker's two-bagger and the first of three Boston errors gave the Phils their initial run.

These games mark the end of regular season league play here. The Shaughnessy playoff begins Wednesday. Team one will play team four and team two will play team three. Winners must take four out of seven games. Two games will be played at the choice of team one and team two.

Then two games and three if necessary will be played at the team three and team four locations. If more games are needed they will be played at the team one and team two sites. First round winners meet in the finals and play four out of seven.

There will not be a playoff game played in Midland Friday night. A night will be skipped because of the high school football game. This concession was made at a league meeting Friday in Big Spring. Shaughnessy playoff games will not be broadcast by radio, the league has ruled.

Mantz Wins Bendix

CLEVELAND —(AP)—Nattily dressed for the occasion, Paul Mantz of the movies flew the hottest Bendix race in 18 years Saturday to become the only three-time winner of the cross-country classic.

His average speed of 447.980 miles an hour was about 13 miles an hour slower than the record time he made a year ago.

The Bendix, over a 2045-mile course from Long Beach, Calif., is a race against time. And Saturday only one minute, 19 seconds separated the first and third places.

Linton B. Carney of Houston, Texas, using the plane Mantz won with twice, came in a close second with an average speed of 445.112 miles an hour.

Miss Cochran Third Jacqueline Cochran, only woman winner of the Bendix and second in 1948, finished third with 445.847 mph, a disappointed flier who doesn't lose easily. By her own calculations she was easy winner, but the official timers figured it four minutes longer.

The Bendix was one of the smallest since the Bendix was started in 1931, but speeds were doubled those of the early years.

Fourth place went to Edmund T. Lunken of Cincinnati, Ohio, who averaged 441.591 mph. Fifth and last place was headed to Jesse F. Stallings of Nashville, Tenn., flying a British Mosquito bomber, the only foreign plane in the race.

Stallings, averaging only 341.12 miles an hour, said he had had to slow down to conserve fuel because of head winds.

Jet Plane Finish The first four places were won by North American P-51 Mustangs, three of them entered by Glenn McCarthy, Houston, Texas, oilman.

The jet division of the Bendix, flower this year for the first time by the Navy, turned up an average of 489.526 mph. The pilot was Ens. F. E. Brown of Port Atkinson, Wis., flying a North American P-51 Fury, a carrier-based fighter with a full complement of jets and armament.

Three of the five Navy jets which reached Cleveland landed with empty gas tanks. The fighters carried wing tip tanks nearly double ordinary size to give them the range for the long flight.

The Bendix is the traditional opening day feature of the National Air Races. This year something new was to be added—an attempt at a new world speed record by an Air Force North American P-86 fighter.

Door visibility caused postponement until Sunday. Maj. Richard L. Johnson, 30-year-old pilot of the P-86, went up to practice over the course in an F-80 Shooting Star after the close of the race program. He stayed on the course until 8 p. m., flying with his navigation lights on.

Turnesa Turns On Heat To Win Amateur Crown

MEMPHIS, TENN. —(AP)—William Peter Turnesa, 34-year-old "kid brother" of the famous golfing clan, won his second United States Amateur championship Saturday with a 2-and-1 victory over Ray Billows in an all-New York final completed in a drizzling rain.

It was one of the most fantastic finishes of all the 48 tournaments played, electrifying a crowd of 2,500 that had followed the finalists through 27 holes of dismal mediocre play on the 661-yard Memphis Country Club course.

Turnesa, the tiny automaton from Elmford, N. Y., turned into the last nine holes with a two-up advantage only to see Billows rack up three holes in a row to go ahead.

The jovial, pipe-smoking salesman from Poughkeepsie won them with par-eagle-par, lacing two brilliant shots on the 465-yard 29th and sinking a 10-foot putt for the lone eagle of the match.

Turnesa, the fire extinguisher man, put out Billows' flame by taking the next three holes with two pars and a birdie to regain his previous margin.

St. Louis Browns Nick Indians 4-3

ST. LOUIS —(AP)—Pitcher Ned Garver won his own game with a tenth-inning single that drove in Dick Kokos to give the St. Louis Browns a 4-3 verdict over the Cleveland Indians Saturday night before 17,092. Leroy (Satchel) Paige, the famed negro pitcher, was knocked out by the Browns in the fifth. Ed Klemmas was the loser.

The score: R. H. E. Washington 032 000 200-7 9 0 New York 005 400 00x-9 9 0 Candini, Ferrick, Harriet and Evans; Porterfield, Byrne and Marhoss.

Kiely Nudges Riley In Women's Western

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)—Dot Kiely of Long Beach won the 48th annual Women's Western Amateur golf championship Saturday from her Curtis Cup teammate, Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas.

The California state champion finished the 36-hole final round one up.

U. S. Davis Cuppers Bury Aussie Netmen

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. —(AP)—It took Frankie Parker and Ted Schroeder just about three hours and 15 minutes Saturday to crush and bury the "land down under."

In one of the most classiest routes in Davis Cup history, Parker humbled Bill Sidwell, "baby" of the Aussie side, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, and Schroeder humiliated the 35-year-old Adrian Quist 6-3, 4-6, 6-0.

So one-sided was the opening day's competition that the 9,000-odd who sat in the big horseshoe tennis stadium had few chances to cheer. Quist, once one of the world's great tennis players, gave a sad spectacle as he lost 12 straight games to Schroeder. He practically gave up.

All the Americans need to win the international trophy for the third straight time is one victory in the three remaining matches, and they almost surely will get that Sunday when Gardner Mulley and Billy Talbert play Quist and Colin Long in the doubles.

Sidwell made a game fight against Parker in the opener, but he simply lacked the implements to oppose a Frank who was at, or very near, the greatest of his long career. The Aussie rookie served well and rushed the net and volleyed brilliantly at times, but there really was little he could do to stem Parker's steady march to victory.

Sidwell appreciated that his only chance lay in getting to the net and banging winners on the fly. At times it worked, and he even held a 4-1 lead in the second set. But then the veteran Frankie, a ranking star for 15 years and a genius at timing his shots, would begin catching Sidwell around the ankles as he came in, or passing him cleanly down the lines. In the end, Sidwell was tired, beaten and bewildered.

Better Self Outsteps Nine Others To Win Discovery Handicap

NEW YORK —(AP)—Kings Ranche's Better Self outstepped nine other three-year-olds to capture the fourth running of the $25,000 Discovery Handicap by three lengths Saturday at Aqueduct.

C. V. Whitney's Mount Macy finished second, a length and a half back, while A. G. Vanderbilt's Loser Weeper was third.

Ridden by Doug Gorman and carrying top weight of 123 pounds, Better Self stepped the mile and a furlong in 1:43 4/5 and paid $5.80, $4.60 and $3.60 across the board.

James D. Norris' Nell K. outran 15 other juvenile fillies to score a surprise triumph in the $13,950 Astarita Stakes, a six-furlong secondary feature.

Jack Boles, son of Mrs. G. H. Boles, 1310 West Wall Street, Midland, is one of the 20 returning lettermen who reported to Coach Warren B. Woodson at Hardin-Simmons Wednesday morning, September 1, to begin Fall football training. Thirty-nine varsity men and 39 freshmen were on hand to begin training that will include both morning and afternoon drills until September 15, registration day at the university.

Boles, a junior student, lettered two years in football while playing for the Abilene Eagles. He played at Hardin-Simmons, where he plays end for the Cowboys.

Collier's All-America football team, the daddy of all our All-America teams, will be chosen this fall on the basis of the hard and fast individual performance of star players as recorded by the unerring "eyes" of cameras.

A board of six college coaches will see films of football games throughout the country each week. They'll study the films, "evaluate" and then "compare" the stars, and finally select the mythical eleven.

The six coaches on the board are Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, Matty Bell of Southern Methodist, Wally Butts of Georgia, Jeff Cravath of Southern California, Bernie Bierman of Minnesota and Lou Little of Columbia.

Warner Pathe News will give the coaches play-by-play action shots of the big games each week. In addition, official films of games as taken by colleges will be made available to them.

At the end of the season, Collier's will bring the All-America aggregation together in New York City for a broadcast over the CBS television network. In the same television broadcast, Warner Pathe will present a new show showing each of the All-America players in action during the season.

Maybe the Midland Indians might even "rent" out Melvin Harty.

It seems the New York Yankees recently "borrowed" the Philadelphia A's loudest rooster to use against Cleveland.

Impressed by his leather-lunged uproar from a box above first base, Coach Chuck Drensen asked Pete Adelis to come to New York—expenses paid—and follow his scorn from a vantage point close to the Indians' dugout.

Pete consented—on one condition: "If the A's say it's okay."

The A's, who also wanted to see Cleveland licked at the time, said it was okay—provided only that Pete returned to Philadelphia in time to root for them in their double-header with the Chicago White Sox.

"What—with Pat Seery coming back to Philadelphia?" Pete ejaculated. "I wouldn't think of missing that."

McCamey Badger Football Team Has 27 Hopefuls

MCCAMEY — One note of optimism was sounded by Coaches Wesley Ply and "Putt" Brandon as the McCamey High School Badgers completed another week of practice. That was a turnout of 27 men, the largest number of football team candidates here in several years.

But when speaking of prospects in the District 5-A race the coaches benched the power of the other eight clubs, and the lack of weight and experience on the Badger squad.

With 27 men, more reserve power will be available than in previous seasons. Also, two of the returning lettermen are mainstays in the backfield of last season, Ike Courtney and Frankie Stokes. In addition, Colby Belcher has been doing a fair chore in throwing passes and looks good in the quarterback slot working off the "T" formation.

Mack Patterson, and Dale Williamson will see a lot of action in the backfield. Williamson also is a letterman. He is expected to play a guard slot much of the time as well as carry the backfield duties. End Positions

Five men will be competing for the end positions. Kent Brooks has been able to pull in many passes with ease and has been looking good on line play to lead the prospects. Darrel Graves, Joe Kemp and Teddy Vaughn have been looking up during the practice periods. Thad Putnam may see some action at an end position as well as at the tackle slot in the line.

Wallace Hudson, 185 pounds, and Robert Carter, 170 pounds, will add weight in the line, but will get much of the action from Orville Churchill, Gordon Carleson, and Richard Furr for permanent places.

At the guard position, Richard Lea, returning letterman, will lead the guard positions. Donald Boggs, 185 pounder, doubtless will see activity on the gridiron during the season. Johnny Boggs, Joe Robbins, Emmet Hyman, Lloyd Lee Hayes, Douglas Boyd, George Livezey and D. R. Stacey will offer competition in an effort to make the starting line-up.

Jerry Lambeth and "Rusty" Kedziora will vie for the center position. Schedule Listed

The schedule is as follows: Sept. 10—Seminole, there; Sept. 17—Iraan, here; Sept. 24—Monahans, there; Oct. 1—Denver City, here; Oct. 8—Pecos, here; Oct. 22—Wink, there; Oct. 29—Crane, here; Nov. 5—Kermit, here; Nov. 12—Andrews, here; Nov. 19—Fort Stockton, there.

Indians Sweep Dusters

The Midland Indians took a 6-4 win over the Vernon Dusters Friday night in Indian Park to sweep a two-game series. The game ended regular league season play between the two clubs—Midland won 11, Vernon won nine.

The Tribesmen carried big war clubs Friday night. They teed right off on Jacome, 22-game winner, and knocked him out of the box in the first inning.

That terrific start brought Midland and won the Indians a ball game. Here is the rundown on how the Indians took care of Jacome, leading game winner in the Longhorn League: Collins singled, Jakes doubled. Pressley singled scoring Collins and Jakes, but was out himself at third. Prince singled. Melillo hit a fielder's choice and Prince was out at second. Perry singled. Guy hit a home run over the left field fence scoring Melillo and Perry. That was all for Mister Jacome. Specht singled. Van Hooser struck out.

Vernon Rallies
Vernon rallied sharply in the top of the seventh and got back in the ball game with four runs. Holliday, Simons struck out. McCaskey flied out. Cowser singled. Rigby singled scoring Holliday and Cowser. Gonzalez singled. Huntley doubled scoring Rigby and Gonzalez. Luquette flied out.

Midland added an insurance run in the bottom of the seventh. Pressley singled. Prince doubled scoring Pressley. Melillo flied out. Perry singled but Prince was out at the plate. Guy flied out.

Van Hooser was in trouble but once, that being in the seventh. He notched his 12th victory of the season against seven losses. He walked but one Duster. Luquette, who has pitched a game this season, put out Midland's fire after the Tribe had slaughtered Jacome. He struck out five Indians. Van Hooser whiffed five Dusters.

Indians Are Sharp
The Indians were sharp. They teed right up at Jacome and quickly got enough to win. Guy's homer was a terrific smash high and over the wall. The night previous he had pitched a game to a triple which drove in two tallies.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, SEPT. 5, 1948—7

Purple Bangs Open Season

The Midland High School Bulldogs bang open 1948 football season competition at 8 p. m. Friday in Memorial Stadium here. Opposition is the Ysleta High School Indians.

Little is known here of the strength of the District 4-AA eleven. It does possess a touted passing attack.

The Bulldogs are fairly hefty but lack experience and speed. Ysleta defeated Midland 13-7 last season with a last-minute, desperate forward pass.

The Bulldogs will beat down heavily in drills this week in preparation for the opening game. It means more than any game this season to the inexperienced ball club, the coaches believe.

Larry Buckingham, injured lettered back, is expected to join the team in practice this week. He has been out since a scrimmage session at the Alpine training camp with a badly sprained ankle.

Starters Indicated
Expected to get the nod for starting assignments in the Purple backfield are: Bill Little, letterman and heavy muscled power runner; Cecil Stephens, heady little quarterback, triple-threat; Larry Messersmith, fancy-stepping wingback letterman, and Dee Bivens, blocking back.

Ready for backfield replacement are: Buckingham, a wingback; Robert (Mo) Price, seat wingback; Frank Robinson, passing specialist; Dick Patton, hustling scrapper and a runner; Charlie Wheat and Roy Mann.

Expected to start up front for the Bulldogs are: Kent Miller, tall center; Dan Branham and Don Deed, lettered tackles; Jack Lynch and John Greene at guards; Lloyd Henderson and Gene Heil at ends. Henderson lettered last season at tackle. Miller, Lynch, Greene and Heil are up from the 2 team and junior high eleven of last year.

Hope For The Best
Ready for line replacement are: Jimmy O'Neal and Bob Burks, centers; Jimmy Davenport, utility; Bob Woods, L. C. Thomas, and Jack Mobley, tackles; Arnold Drake, guard; Harry Smith and Totem Dickinson, ends.

A flock of other boys may break into the lineup of this first game as the coaches try for the winning combination.

"We are hoping for the best. We have a team wrecked by the eight-semester rule. We are inexperienced. But we will be out there scrapping as a team to win," coaches said.

Sept. 10—Denver City in Kermit; Sept. 18—Austin HI in El Paso; Sept. 24—Ft. Stockton in Kermit; Oct. 1—Pecos in Pecos; Oct. 15—Andrews in Kermit; Oct. 23—Seminole in Kermit; Oct. 29—Monahans in Monahans; Nov. 5—McCamey in McCamey; Nov. 12—Wink in Wink; Nov. 20—Hobbs, N. M., in Kermit.

New Progressive Party's Candidate Tells Life Story, Political Philosophy

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
 WASHINGTON (NEA)—Henry Agard Wallace says he wants to change his present self-employed job as farmer-geneticist-writer for the presidency of the United States because of his "desire for World Peace."
 Those are the four words the Third Party (New Party) candidate, probably one of the most controversial personalities in U. S. politics today, put down on an application for federal employment as his "reason for desiring to change" positions.
 Without skipping a dotted line, Wallace filled out "Standard Form 57" at the request of NEA Service to provide a unique insight on the life and philosophy of the man who calls himself the independent candidate.
 "Form 57" is the U. S. government blank which every hopeful federal employe must fill out when he applies for a job. It is scientifically designed to try to establish whether the applicant has the necessary experience, education, personality, etc. for the job in question.
 It also contains the most rigidly-worded loyalty questions which can be asked of a person regarding affiliation with the Communist Party or any un-American group.
 By checking the "no" column beside these loyalty questions, Wallace makes the flattest repudiation of any Communist affiliation which he has ever put on record. One question asks if he is or ever has been a member. The other asks in highly legal language whether he is or was a "member of . . . or associated with any organization . . . approving the commission of acts . . . to deny other persons their rights under the Constitution of the United States."

 "Doesn't Smoke Or Drink" Not brought out on Form 57 are the facts that Henry Wallace doesn't smoke or drink that his father was secretary of agriculture under President Harding, and that although he claims no connection with the Communist Party, his most ardent supporters for the presidency are Communist Party members and the rest of the extreme left-wing groups in America.
 Question No. 31 on the form asks: "Have you ever been discharged, or forced to resign, for misconduct or unsatisfactory service from any position?" To that Wallace answers: "I resigned as secretary of commerce at the request of President Truman in September, 1946, after making a speech on foreign policy which Mr. Truman himself had approved line by line. The secretary of state, Mr. Byrnes, and others, forced my resignation on the grounds that the philosophy and program for peace which I had espoused then and now was opposed to their impractical 'get tough' policy."
 Question No. 31 on the form asks: "What skills you possess and machines and equipment you can use." "Comptometer" is his answer. He is also known to be quite skilled with a boomarang but he apparently didn't think it was pertinent.
 Question No. 23 gives the applicant a chance to elaborate on his "public speaking experience." Wallace writes:
 "As editor of Wallace's Farmer, campaigning for Al Smith in 1928; as secretary of agriculture, as vice presidential candidate, as vice president in 1944 campaign, as editor of the New Republic, as presidential candidate, I have had extensive public speaking experience."

Householders Urged To Check Dwellings For Fire Hazards
 NEW YORK — Fire will kill nearly 11,000 Americans and destroy $700,000,000 in property this year and much of the blame for its havoc will belong to "good citizens," fire safety authorities say. The dutiful home-owner, raking his yard, may be just as sinister as a gun-bearing gangster, they disclose.
 With the start of the heating season and the need for disposing of dead leaves increasing fire hazards, responsible householders should make Fall the time for annual fire prevention check-ups, according to a The Council of America report on fire safety in the home.
Suggestions Listed
 Here are some suggestions, advanced by the Council, for reducing Autumn fire danger around the home:
 Start the check in places where fires are most likely to start. Clean out the furnace or oil burner. Inspect chimneys, flues and smoke-pipes for cracks or holes that will spread fire. Install fireproof floor and wall material such as ceramic tile in danger spots such as wall areas behind kitchen stoves and radiator tops. Inspect the kitchen stove to be sure it's functioning properly.
 Rid basement and attic of rubbish accumulated during Summer. Store papers and old clothes only in rooms with fireproof floor and wall finishes. Inspect electrical wiring and have defective wiring repaired or replaced. Equip the home with plenty of ash-trays to keep ashes from wastebaskets and carpets.
 When burning rubbish or leaves don't pile everything in one big pile. Burn in small piles on a windless day. Burn rubbish in incinerator or covered metal basket, if possible. Keep away from fire to avoid danger to clothes. Inspect the roof to be sure it's not vulnerable to spark fires.

Little Classic

Here is a little house with a classic, unbarred spirit — a house for those who mind their manners and sometimes like a touch of formality. The house, as featured in the September issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, is bright, original, and very elegant. It lends itself readily to additional rooms.

Simple Design Assists In Keeping Home Building Costs At Minimum
 Prospective home builders seeking means of keeping construction costs at a minimum can do so by employing simplicity of design, using economical materials and omitting certain non-essentials, architects point out that all this usually can be done without sacrifice of basic soundness or attractiveness. Simplified design permits numerous savings in construction costs. Examples of such economies are found in simple, straight-line roofs, and division of a house into a few multi-purpose rooms instead of a greater number of small rooms. Another point of saving is designing a dwelling with an eye toward more uniformity in sizes of windows, doors and other millwork. Further economies can be effected by using materials in which there is a minimum of waste and which can be applied without undue difficulties. One should be careful, however, to select materials which are durable and efficient.
 For such structural parts as the flooring, for example, oak and other hardwoods can be installed rapidly with little cutting, fitting or waste. Attractive and unusually serviceable, they ordinarily last the life of a house.
 A considerable saving also can be gained in construction by having a first-floor utility room rather than a basement.

Half Of Homes Lack Sufficient Fire Insurance
 Approximately one-half of the home-owners in America do not carry enough insurance to replace or repair their property if it is damaged or destroyed by fire, it is stated by a leading fire insurance company.
 The building industry finds that the house which cost $5,000 to build in 1939 now costs $10,450, but countless insurance policies are still being carried on the $5,000 valuation.
 In view of this, insurance firms and mortgage lenders are urging property owner to survey their insurance protection and to increase the coverage if policies will not replace the structure at present costs.
Housing Shortage
 It is further pointed out that even if a policy should pay 100 per cent of the replacement cost, the home owner would still lose. Because of the acute housing shortage it is difficult to find a place to live during replacement of a fire-damaged dwelling, and no insurance policy can pay for the destruction of irreplaceable heirlooms, documents and other articles.
 This is why it is so important that fire be prevented and that homes be built so flames are confined to the area where they start. Architects say this is best accomplished by placing fire-barriers in walls and ceilings, equipping the home with solid doors and using fire-resistant materials everywhere possible.

School Facilities Add To Home Value
 Whether or not a family buys or building a home has children of school age, school facilities of the neighborhood should be thoroughly investigated.
 It has been estimated that proximity to a good school adds as much as $1,000 to the value of a home. Inadequate schools adversely affect the resale value of a house because families with children will not be interested, thereby greatly narrowing the market.
 It is wise to check with the school authorities themselves. Although a school is located only a few blocks from the property, it may be in a different district while the school serving the property is a mile or more away.
 It is especially important to learn whether the school is unduly crowded, and if it is, what plans are under way to expand the building and its teaching staff. As a result of a 10 per cent rise in population and a record-breaking birth rate in the past eight years, there are few schools anywhere today that are not overcrowded and under-staffed. It is estimated that 500,000 more children will enter kindergarten and first grade in September than a year ago.

Nation Continues to Follow 'Go West' Pattern

More and more people are moving to the Pacific Coast, according to the Census Bureau's latest report, which shows the population trend for each state. Map shows percentage changes between the last census, 1940, and the Bureau's new estimate for the nation as of July 1, 1947. Overall, the nation now has some 143,414,000 inhabitants, a nine per cent increase over 1940. The District of Columbia, not shown on the map, gained more than 20 per cent.

Woods Hands School Tiff Back To Gregg County Grand Jury

AUSTIN—(AP)—State School Superintendent L. A. Woods Saturday declared untrue charges made against him of non-cooperation and allowing unbusinesslike handling of State Aid funds.

The charges were leveled at Woods in a letter he received Friday from a Gregg County grand jury and district attorney.

The grand jury's letter, dated September 1, followed by several days the filing of a civil and criminal suits against Mrs. Bertha D. Allen, Gregg County superintendent. The grand jury asked that Mrs. Allen be ousted because of alleged official misconduct, incompetency in office and gross carelessness in the discharge of her official duties.

Closer To Home

Mrs. Allen has been indicted on charges of perjury and theft over $50. She was suspended temporarily from office by court order pending disposition of the ouster suit.

Replying by letter to the grand jury and district attorney, Woods said the charges against Mrs. Allen include an allegation that claims for reimbursement of funds spent for lunches for Gregg County school children were altered.

The grand jury recommended to Woods that he seek enactment of a law whereby the offices of the county school superintendent and other departments of education be audited at least annually.

Admiral Solberg Holds Key To U. S. Navy's Stake In Future

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The Navy is betting heavily on research, the atom and Rear Adm. Thorvald A. Solberg.

Admiral Solberg is the new chief of Naval Research. He's one of the Navy's top experts on atomic energy.

His freshman course in nuclear fission was at Bikini. There he was in charge of the technical details of preparing the target ships, assessing the damage after each test and writing the damage reports. The intelligent job he did with that assignment logically led to his appointment to the very exclusive Military Liaison Committee to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Solberg's new job is considered so vital to the Navy's future because a lot of the air power exponents have been predicting that the Navy is doomed to become a sort of uniformed, ocean-going passenger and freight service.

One of the Navy's chief hopes of avoiding such a humble assignment lies in its multi-million dollar research program. It some day could produce atomic-powered subs which can transport hundreds of troops and launch guided missiles with atomic war heads, revolutionary torpedoes with atomic noses, airplanes which travel faster than sound and can carry atomic bombs and land on carriers and atomic missiles which can be launched from battle-ships.

Solberg's job is to needle, coax, pamper, inspire and coordinate that basic research program so that what is a mass of chicken scratchings on a scientist's note pad today may become something on which you can break a bottle of champagne tomorrow.

The admiral is a sort of middle-of-the-roader when it comes to predicting just how soon atomic energy will become a practical source of power. He says:

"I agree with those optimistic scientists who say that atomic energy is right around the corner. But nobody knows where the corner is." Solberg is a hard realist. He believes one of the most important jobs of his research program is to get a metal or some other material which can stand the intense heat of atomic energy. He has given that job to top priority.

Rear Admiral Solberg: Nobody knows where the corner is.

If any man in the Navy can get real results from the Navy's complex research program Solberg probably the one, both from the standpoint of temperament and experience. From his size it's hard to guess that the blood of Norwegian

He took post-graduate work in electrical engineering back at the academy in 1921-22 and so impressed his instructors with his grasp of the subject, they decided to send him to more advanced study of the subject at Columbia University. His outstanding work there won him a Master of Science degree in 1923.

After that Solberg combined routine assignments with producing two outstanding developments which are used aboard all naval vessels today. Both revolutionized the methods of handling sea water for use in the boilers and for drinking purposes. His quarters aboard ship were always a confused tangle of test tubes and microscopes.

During World War II he had the vital task of helping to coordinate the exchange of technical information between the British and U. S. Navies. One of his specialties is his ability to get along with scientists. He talks the language and knows their problems. Understanding the scientists' viewpoint and reconciling it with that of the Navy is one of the main jobs of the boss of Naval research.

A log will sometimes contain 200 pounds of water for every pound of dry wood.

WAA Plans Release Of Grain Storage Space

DALLAS—(AP)—Duncan D. Myers of the War Assets Administration announced Saturday that he will visit two West Texas points next week to inspect grain storage facilities in charge of WAA.

The WAA has approved plans to release unused portions of airports for emergency grain storage and is seeking more storage space.

Myers said he will inspect the South Plains Air Field near Lubbock Thursday and the Pantex Ordnance Works near Amarillo Friday. He plans conferences with warehousemen, elevator men, growers and others to explain leasing arrangements at available sites.

He said the WAA will give blanket approval for the release of all available buildings still under the agency's jurisdiction.

Armed Police Guard Bombay Electric System

BOMBAY—(AP)—Police armed with rifles mounted guard Saturday over 200 substations of Bombay's electric supply system amid reports that Indian military operations against Hyderabad were imminent.

The guarding of the substations was unprecedented. Apparently the police were sent to the posts to prevent possible sabotage by fifth columnists.

Five Years' Work in One Day

Doing the work of five years in one day, 500 farmers and workers gave a convincing demonstration of teamwork on Mrs. Nellie Thrasher's 175-acre farm in Frederick, Md. This aerial view shows part of the huge crowd which watched the streamlining process. At upper left is a pond the men built.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —
BY STANLEY FRANK

Last week and the week before, this column was written by Editor Bill Collins, and last Sunday in addition to doing an all-around better job than we do, Bill came out with a stunt that makes it impossible for the regular scribe ever to feel capable again.

Bill predicted it would rain during the week-end. It rained. Somehow, this reporter has to try to equal Bill's remarkable feat of prognostication. Okay, here goes: Our prediction for this weekend is that it won't rain.

Midland gins are receiving an occasional bale of early cotton, but ginnermen say it will be 30 days before ginning really gets under way. The crop in the county this year is estimated to be less than half as big as last year's.

Hotel lobby dope has it that un-sold calves in this territory are becoming hard to find; also, that while there are fewer calves in the Midland area this year than last, delivery weights this year will be comparable to those of 1947. A great many light calves have been moved out during the summer, along with their mothers, to grass, leaving a high percentage of top-end calves here.

Sheep runs at the San Angelo auctions have been big in recent weeks as growers continue to lighten parched pastures. One day, week before last, one of the auctions there drew 12,000 head. The market is still good, but sheep traders say a man could make a fortune overnight if he bought a lot of sheep and then it came a general rain throughout West Texas the next day. They say the market will be up $2 to $3 per head within 24 hours after such a rain.

Four hundred head of cattle sold Thursday at Midland Livestock Auction. The market was steady to a shade lower on butcher stock, with fat calves and yearlings going at $24.50 to $27.50 and medium kinds at $21 to $24.50. Fat cows brought $18 to $20, with a few on the heavier order to $22, and medium-fat cows around $16 to $18. Cannerns and cutters brought $12 to $16, fat bulls $19 to $21.50, and medium bulls $17.50 to $19.

Stocker steer calves and yearlings went at $26 to $29, heifers at $21 to $25.50. Best cows and calves sold at $18 to $210 per pair, with less desirable ones at $135 to $185.

Superintendent Frank Monroe tells about a Midland youngster who entered school last year for the first time.

"Who's the smartest one in your class?" the first-grader's mother asked.

"I am" was the quick reply.

"Well, who's the second smartest?"

"The lad considered a moment. 'The teacher,' he said."

The Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin for the week ended August 30 reported that deterioration of range and pasture feed was checked during the week by good rains in the upper coastal counties and by scattered showers in other sections of East Texas. But then the bulletin goes on like this:

"Ranges continued to make good growth in the Northern High Plains counties where moisture reserves were generally adequate. In all other areas deterioration continued. Supplemental feeding continued in some central and Southern counties. Stock in these areas and in East Texas continued to lose flesh. Marketing of cattle and sheep was active for this time of year."

Billy Boyd, Stiles ranchman, was a visitor in Midland a few days ago. He has a lot of grass as a result of heavy rains early in the summer, and water still stands in big lakes on his country.

Wide Variety of Exhibits Will Feature Annual County Fair Here

Exhibits showing the fertility of Midland County soil and the skill and industry of Midland County farm folk are planning to make this year's county fair, September 30-October 2, bigger and better than ever before, Mrs. Nettie B. Measick, home demonstration agent, said Saturday.

General crop exhibits, open to all residents of the county, include: Cotton, with classes for the best 20 bolls of any variety, best samples of lint ginned from the 1948 crop, and best individual stalks; grain sorghum heads, with one-gallon samples of threshed flintman, Martin Bevers, and George York milled and hedges; and bundle grain, with samples of sweet sorghum, Sudan grass and hegar.

Home demonstration and 4-H Clubs will exhibit field crops, garden crops, cheese, butter, eggs and soap, canned vegetables and fruits, pickled vegetables and fruits, jelly and preserves, and educational displays.

Specifically, 4-H Club girls will exhibit in their canned fruit and vegetable booths: tomatoes, string beans, black-eyed peas, tomato juice, grape juice, pineapple juice, corn, beets, okra, carrots, English peas, greens, plums, pears, peaches, apricots, figs, pineapple, apples, apple butter, peach, watermelon rind, pear, apricot and apple preserves; grape, plum and apple jelly.

In their clothing exhibit, first-year 4-H Club girls will show embroidery, pieces, aprons, tubbies, plain pillow slips and a yearbook. Second-year girls will show dresser scarfs, aprons, tubbies, crocheted samples, embroidery, yearbooks and blouses and skirts. Third-year girls will show cotton dresses with buttonholes, dresser scarfs with handwork, tubbies, embroidery, crocheting, and yearbooks. Fourth-year girls will exhibit cotton or rayon dresses with buttonholes, tubbies, luncheon cloths, play suits, embroidery, yearbooks and crocheting. Fifth-year girls will show two-piece dresses, tubbies, luncheon cloths and napkins, simple dresses, embroidery, crocheting and yearbooks.

Bake exhibits for girls and women of the county will include yeast bread, with samples of loaves, rolls, tea rings, and cinnamon rings; cakes, with samples of layers, yellow, white, chocolate, pound, angel food and chiffon cakes; and cookies, with samples of bromides, ice box cookies, macarons and sugar cookies. A candy display will include chocolate fudge, divinity and date loaf.

The fresh vegetable exhibit will include Irish potatoes, jams, onions, turnips, beets, carrots, radishes, tomatoes, string beans, squash, cashaws, pumpkins, watermelons, cantaloupes, pepper, okra, cucumbers, cabbage, eggplant, black-eyed peas and creamed peas.

Fresh fruits will include apples, figs, grapes, peaches and pears. Canned fruits and vegetables will include tomatoes, string beans, English peas, black-eyed peas, carrots, squash, okra, mustard pickles, kraut, beets, greens, dew berries, blackberries, pears, peaches, apples, pineapple, grapes, apricots, figs and pineapple juice.

Pickles, preserves and jellies will include sweet and sour cucumbers, chow-chow, mustard pickles, dill pickles, bread and butter pickles, pickled beets, peach sweet pickles, watermelon pickles, pickled pears.

School notes that an excellent cotton crop plus plenty of peas, okra, cantaloupes and watermelons are the result of good farming and a good irrigation well on the Solomon farm North of Midland.

Midlanders might be surprised to learn also that the Hall farm in the Warfield section, as well as the W. M. Stewart farm in the same vicinity, are producers of high-quality watermelons comparable to any grown in the state, Cuffman adds.

A. W. (Dub) Stanley, well known in the Midland area, will succeed Ben Carpenter as secretary-treasurer of the Stanton-Midland Farm Loan Association at Stanton September 15. Stanley has just finished a year of graduate work in agricultural economics at Washington State College, Pullman, Wash., and has been living in Midland until he finds a residence in Stanton. Carpenter is moving to Riverside, Calif.

Many Midland cowboys and cowmen who saw the movie "Red River" last week said it was the best Western picture they'd ever seen. Neither the plot nor the acting both of which were pretty good, brought forth praise from booted gentry in these parts, however. What excited the applause was the fact that after all these years Hollywood finally showed a group of cowpunchers all tired out from punching cattle. The cattle were pictured, too.

The movie drew capacity crowds here. It proved something we've argued a long time: It is quite possible to make a movie of ranch life that will stand up before the critical judgment of genuine cowhands and yet thrill the general public.

Not that "Red River" comes close to standing up under the test of cowboy appraisal. It simply comes closer than any other show produced to date. One observant gent here noticed that in the picture a cowboy rode between the cook's fire and the chuck wagon. This is an infraction of range etiquette Emly Post probably never heard about, but which anybody will certainly hear about the first time he tries it on the average chuck wagon cook.

Bodie Owens of Barnhart has hit the jackpot several times with his crossbred Suffolk-Rambouillet lamb crop, but this year he sold it, averaging 83 pounds, at 25 cents a pound—$20.75 per head.

Jerry Anderson, left, of Columbus, O., and little Sandy Deemer of Brooksville, Pa., are amazed at the cavernous jaws of this 100-pound large-mouth bass landed at Nag's Head, N.C.

The oil industry is producing more oil for you . . . but it's a big job!

A SEISMOGRAPH CREW creates miniature earthquakes with dynamite charges and records the shock waves with delicate instruments. The records are then studied to see if they reveal likely oil formations. The seismograph crews operate on the plains and prairies of Texas, on the ranges of New Mexico, in Mississippi's farm lands, in the bayou country of Louisiana, and in the open Gulf of Mexico—wherever there is a chance that possible oil-bearing formations may be found.

Humble, for example, this year completed a producing well in Chambers County, Texas, that is 12,026 feet deep, and many exploratory wells are drilled even deeper. All this makes the search sometimes slow, always expensive; and it adds thousands of dollars to the cost of drilling a well.

But the industry is producing more oil than ever before in its history, and is finding enough additional oil to maintain its reserves. You can help this effort by making your personal demands for petroleum reasonable, by cooperating with programs designed to conserve oil products for the uses to which they are best adapted, by the exercise of patience as the oil industry acts to meet the need.

OIL GEOLOGISTS examine surface rocks in an effort to find evidence of underground formations which may contain oil. Their work leads to additional exploration by other methods, and to the drilling of exploratory wells. The geologist seeks rock outcrops usually found in creek bottoms and dry ravines, cliff sides and canyons; his tools are the geologist's hammer, the surveyor's transit, education, experience.

The Checker Cab Fleet, pictured above, is being equipped with this latest safety device.

The Checker Cab Company pioneered the Motorola 2-way radio in Midland and now as a further service is installing in its' fleet of cabs, Tachograph.

The Tachograph is an instrument that records on disks, similar to a watchman's time clock device, the exact speed a cab is driven every minute of the time it is in service.

This record enables us to check on all speed and safety requirements the Checker Cab Co. insists all Checker Cab drivers comply with. It is insurance that these regulations are carried out.

'Handouts' For Vets Blasted

CHICAGO —(P)— Secretary of Defense Forrestal Saturday endorsed a criticism of "handouts" for veterans made earlier by Edgar C. Corry, Jr., national commander of the AMVETS.

Forrestal, here for an address before the fourth annual convention of the American Veterans of World War II, told a news conference:

"I agree that our veterans, who with their families constitute more than half the population of the nation, should stand against automatic government pensions and bonuses."

Connie Mack, 86-year-old owner and manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, has participated in more than 10,000 baseball games as a player or manager.

Johnson—

the official returns were the only ones counted, I have taken particular pains to have my loyal supporters contact the election officials and report the official returns in every county except Galveston, where they are canvassing the returns Saturday night. I can assure my fellow Texans that I have won by a comfortable majority as I have always contended I would do since the trend set in Saturday night. I expect to make a report to my fellow citizens over a statewide radio network Monday night and I hope all of them will tune in.

Asks Explanation

"While a large metropolitan newspaper and their candidate were leading me by fictitious votes, all was quiet and serene. When the official count, the honest count, put Lyndon B. Johnson in the lead, that newspaper and their candidate started screaming.

"I would like for them to explain how they corrected me out of 400 votes in one county, 225 votes in another, more than 200 in Harris County, and to top it all, from their own columns, in today's paper, it appears that they have corrected me out of 2,000 votes in Dallas County, in a two-time certification to the state chairman before the votes were even canvassed.

"I am trying to stop the same thing from happening in other counties. By their slanted headlines and their front page editorials, that newspaper and their candidate are trying to throw up a smoke screen in an effort to blind the good people of this state to what that newspaper and their candidate are trying to do to Johnson.

Suggests FBI Probe

"It's a peculiar thing that my opponent and his newspaper sponsor thus far have made no mention of some counties that did a complete about-face, but when he trails by 17 votes, they cry for an investigation to be conducted by a committee the majority of whom are his old cronies and his financial, voting and speaking supporters. That's like a mother being asked to judge a baby show in which her twins are entered.

"If they want an investigation, since this is a federal election, a disinterested and efficient agency, would be the proper agency to conduct it. I can furnish some good leads to such an investigating body.

"When the honest count is in and all the votes cast are canvassed, as I have maintained throughout the counting of the votes, I will have a comfortable majority."

WELCOME TEACHERS

WE ARE GLAD TO HAVE YOU BACK WITH US AGAIN.

"BORROW THE BANK WAY"

in our opinion, has as fine a group of teachers as will be found anywhere in any town or city in the State of Texas. We feel that our schools are efficiently managed and supervised. We further believe that our children have the very finest opportunity to receive a good high school education.

Our school system in Midland is worthy of every ounce of support we are capable of giving. We should boost it, take an interest in what is going on, and lend encouragement and co-operation wherever needed and whenever asked.

There should be no strife, no bickering, gossiping or knocking, but a continuous pulling-together to the end that no school system anywhere will outdo ours. It can be done with the co-operation and support of every citizen in Midland and community.

America Knew Czechoslovakia's Benes

At Arlington, in the National Cemetery, he paid homage to America's Unknown Soldier of World War I—the war that gave birth, through American inspiration, to Czechoslovakia as an independent nation.

Cleveland, with a large Czechoslovak population, gave him an especially personal welcome, led by Thomas L. Sidlo, center. The late Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, of New York, was prominent among those honoring Dr. Benes in Cleveland.

New York made him an honorary citizen when he visited there during the war. Thousands of persons of Czechoslovak descent, many in native costumes like this young girl, thronged City Hall Plaza to honor him.

New Haven's citizens crowded the Yale campus at the 1939 commencement where Benes was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. There he prophesied a U. S. of Europe. He's pictured with Dr. Charles Seymour, left, president of Yale.

Texas' Two-Year Revenue Is Estimated At $1,000,000,000

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas' revenue during the current two-year fiscal period is expected to reach one billion dollars.
 The state started the new fiscal year September 1—the second of the period—with $74,076,814 surplus in its General Revenue Fund. Total cash in all state funds was $176,827,380.
 Revenue during the first year of the current two-year fiscal period was $513,000,000, comptroller George Sheppard said.
 "A billion dollar biennium seems certain provided current levels are maintained," Sheppard said. "The state's revenue was almost exactly double the revenue of $245,000,000 in 1946, emphasizing the sensitivity of state revenue to changes in quantity production and dollar value."
 "The greatest single item of income for this year was $37,000,000 crude oil tax, exceeding motor fuel tax for the first time in history."

GIVES SCHOLARSHIPS TO UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON

HOUSTON—(AP)—Scholarships valued at $60,000 to help students learn a trade have been contributed to the University of Houston by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Jones.
 The gift was made by Houston Endowment, Inc., a philanthropic organization created by the publisher of the Houston Chronicle and his wife for civic educational and charitable purposes.

Dixiecrats Deny Plan For Jester Opponent

DALLAS—(AP)—Palmer Bradley of Houston said Saturday Texas States' Rights Democrats would center their activities on presidential and vice presidential nominees.
 "Despite rumors to the contrary, we do not intend to nominate anyone for local or state office," Bradley said.
 There have been recurrent rumors the new party would seek a candidate to run against Gov. Beauford H. Jester.
 Bradley said, "We have no intention of nominating a candidate to oppose him in the general election."

Plans Readied For County Fair Here

Plans rapidly are being readied for the annual Midland County Fair to be held September 30 and October 1 and 2 in the City-County Auditorium, American Legion Hall and in the street adjoining the property on the East. R. L. Miller, supervising director, and Barney Barnard, general superintendent, said Saturday.

Fifty-two exhibit booths will be located in the auditorium and Legion Hall, and more than 50 pens for livestock will be erected in a blocked-off segment of South Colorado Street, adjacent to the auditorium. Implement and automotive exhibits will be outside on Colorado Street.

Ferd Rhodes, chairman of the general exhibits division, said 15 booths already have been reserved in this classification. Mrs. C. E. Bissell, club exhibits chairman, said 13 clubs have requested display space.

Oil Display
 Arrangements are being made for a representative oil industry display, featuring production, geology and scouting, Paul Davis, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Petroleum Committee, stated.

Mrs. Nettie B. Messick is in charge of Home Demonstration and 4-H Club exhibits, and she promises outstanding displays from both groups.

Gerome Grayum, chairman of commercial exhibits, said Saturday 12 such displays already have been arranged.

More than 50 head of cattle, sheep, horses and hogs also will be on exhibit, Chairman A. G. Bohannon said.

R. A. Doran, poultry division chairman, invited persons desiring to show chickens to contact him this week.

A parade with decorated floats, and headed by the Midland High School Band, will be held at 4:30 p. m. on the fair's opening day. Individuals, firms and organizations are invited to participate.

Special entertainment is being arranged by a committee headed by James L. Daugherty, who said championship Sweetwater square dance team will be presented at dances in the Legion Hall. Johnny Reagan, noted trick roper, will be an added feature.

Harlan Howell, program chairman, indicated programs and prize lists will be available for distribution this week.

The construction of booths and pens is being handled by a committee including Charles Reeder, J. R. Cuffman, Don Thomas and Gordon Holcomb.

Traveling Zoo Brings Animals To Youngsters As Part Of City's Mobile Entertainment

In the "petting pen" of Cleveland's traveling zoo, city youngsters get a chance to see what a rabbit is like.

CLEVELAND, OHIO — (NEA) — "Hey, Ma, guess what. I just petted a skunk!"

In most places, that admission would cause anything from inflated nostrils to screams of horror, but in Cleveland, mother just says, "Oh, that's nice. The Traveling Zoo is around again."

The Traveling Zoo is one of three mobile entertainment units that cruise the city's streets. They bring a museum, a vaudeville show and a zoo to people who otherwise might never see the real thing.

The oldest of the three, the Traveling Zoo first took to the road in 1942. The recreation division of the Board of Education, realizing that the park zoo is inaccessible to many people, decided to bring a capsule-sized animal collection to the people's doors.

They built a gay little jeep-pulled trailer with bright-colored animals painted on it. It is equipped with cages for about a dozen small and relatively tame animals. A schedule of stops at playgrounds and parks was arranged. The sponsors fixed up a public address system, and got a lecturer to talk about the specimens. The zoo makes four stops a day, five days a week. During its Summer season, 100,000 people see it.

The crowd of youngsters, liberally sprinkled with adults, hears a 45-minute talk, consisting of stories and facts about the animals.

Then some of the exhibits are brought into a roped-off "petting pen," where the youngsters are allowed to play with them. The Zoo is now carrying an opossum, raccoon, duck, horned owl, skunk, goat, bantam rooster, armadillo, fox, hawk, rabbit, monkey and some turtles.

Show Stopper
Of this crew, the fox has become the show-stopper. He is a great ham, thriving on attention. He sits up and practically "mugs" at the throngs of excited children who crowd around him.

The Showwagon, another traveling unit, played to its first audience in 1944. Also unique in this city, it gives five evening shows a week to an average crowd of 3,000. During its season, 150,000 people flock around the brightly-painted truck, which opens up to an 18-foot-square stage.

Every two weeks, the bill changes. Thus, during the 10-week season, five different shows are presented. A professional band accompanies the talent, and the band leader serves as master of ceremonies.

Newest of the three exhibits is the Traveling Trillside Museum. This is the brainchild of Kenneth Disher, director of the Cleveland Museum of Natural History.

The "portable museum" is a huge trailer, which had been used during field expeditions out west. Visiting hospitals, orphanages, schools, homes for the aged and other institutions, it has attracted more than 100,000 people in the less than a year it has been touring.

All three of the mobile units are co-sponsored by the Cleveland Press, which daily prints the schedule on the idea of bringing entertainment to those who can't seek it out.

Water Covers Highways
Three boys and their adult companion, missing on a shrimp fishing trip from Covington, La., north of New Orleans across Lake Pontchartrain, were found safe. One of the boys was Rothwell Sheriff, Jr., whose mother was lost from aboard a ship off the African coast last month.

While storm hampered communications with points in its area, all available reports and a tour of the area showed that damage was largely confined to fallen trees and other minor damage.

U. S. Highways 11 and 90 connecting New Orleans and the Mississippi Gulf Coast were covered with water in spots. The double highway between Biloxi and Gulfport, Miss., was covered by water washed over the seawall and traffic was rerouted over back roads.

William R. Ray Denied New Trial

CORSICANA, TEXAS — (AP) — District Judge A. P. Mays Saturday overruled a motion for a new trial for William R. Ray of Vernon, given the death sentence on conviction of rape.

Ray was convicted in 13th District Court here last July of the rape of a 9-year-old Fort Worth girl. The attack occurred last April in a Fort Worth park.

New Pipeline Will Bring Gas To Dallas

DALLAS — (AP) — The Lone Star Gas Company has begun construction of a $3,500,000, seventy-mile pipeline to bring more gas to Dallas, President D. A. Hulcy said Saturday.

The new supply is an attempt to prevent curtailment by industrial users such as occurred in the extreme cold period last winter.

The 20-inch line is being laid from Opelika in Henderson County to connect with the company's transmission system serving Dallas County.

Flyers Escape When Plane Lands On Track

AURORA, ILL. — (AP) — An Army pilot and his passenger escaped injury Saturday night when their single-engine training plane made a forced landing on the busy Aurora Downs race track.

The landing took place before some 7,500 spectators between the third and fourth race at the harness track.

The pilot was identified as a Lieutenant Fitzgerald; the passenger as a Sergeant Priska, both of Milwaukee.

Fitzgerald said he and the sergeant were flying from San Angelo, Texas, to their homes. He said the emergency landing was necessary because his gasoline supply was low.

In landing in the infield, the plane's right wing struck a flagpole and was damaged.

Storm-Tossed Oilmen Send Plea For Leaves

BERWICK, LA. — (AP) — A Kerr-McGee oil industrial official here said 60 men who rode out Saturday's gulf hurricane on two offshore drilling barges had made only one request:

"Send up something with leaves on it—like a tree."

Tom Seale, director of Kerr-McGee gulf operations, said he was in constant radio communication with the men. He said they "just climbed into their bunks and went to sleep" during the storm and planned to resume operations about midnight Saturday.

Three Lose Lives In Boarding House Fire

WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — Three persons died here Saturday in a boarding house fire, one of the victims losing her life in an attempt to turn in the fire alarm.

The dead were identified by Justice of the Peace Coit Mock as Mrs. Opal Duncan, 46; Albert Jackson Conway, 50; and Joe Duard Castleberry, 31, all of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Duncan died when she left her husband and 10-year-old daughter in an attempt to get to a telephone in the hall to turn in the alarm.

Triplets Born Four Days Apart

SUCKLEY, ENGLAND. — (AP) — Mrs. Arthur Blake, 28-year-old housewife, gave birth to triplets four days apart, it was disclosed Sunday.

Last Saturday she bore a daughter, Rosemary, four pounds. Wednesday she bore another, Veronica, four and a half pounds, and a son, Anthony, three pounds. She also has a two-year-old son. Her husband, a painter, earns $23.80 a week. The family has been living in two rooms in a cottage belonging to Mrs. Blake's mother.

Three-City Shrine Club Is Organized

WINK — Shrine members of Wink, Monahans and Kermit gathered at the Winkler County Country Club Friday night to form a Shrine club for the three cities. The new club is under the jurisdiction of El Paso's El Malda Temple.

A barbecue preceded the organization meeting.

The New York Rangers of the National Hockey League suffered only two shutouts last season as compared with five the campaign before.

Speedway City's Fire Laddies Seem Eager

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — It takes less than a whiff of smoke to get action from Speedway City's eager fire department.

The station telephone rang. "We have a fire at the motor speedway," somebody said, "and . . ."

The firemen departed without further discussion, roared into the speedway, and began pouring water on a blazing grandstand.

"Quick work," said Speedway Superintendent Jack Fortner, Jr., "but we just wanted you to watch the fire. We're burning the wooden stand to make room for a new steel one."

So the firemen restrained themselves while the blaze was rekindled.

Haiti Seeks $3,000,000 Loan From Uncle Sam

By DAVID FERNSEER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Republic of Haiti is asking the United States for a $3,000,000 "survival" loan to revive her once-prosperous agriculture.

The Institute of Inter-American Affairs, a State Department Agency, says its a question of survival in Haiti. The Institute believes the loan sound.

Four hours by air from Miami, this country of 3,000,000, free since 1804, is beset by poverty, disease, despair, ignorance and suffering unmatched in other parts of the Caribbean. The nation has about 10,700 square miles of territory. Mountains and hillsides, long since stripped of timber that would bring dollars, make about 8,000 square miles unsuitable for farming.

Vexed through a quarter of a century by $24,000,000 in six per cent loans floated in this country, the little nation lifted itself out of the dilemma with shoestring bonds, got on its own financial feet and now offers a $3,000,000 food production plan which the Institute says will pay out in 20 years.

Haitians have endured 10 long years of revolution, dictatorship and occupation. U. S. Marines landed in 1918 to protect American investments. They stayed until 1934. We regulated economic life to safeguard our bondholders. We controlled the customs. Our own rates of interest dropped, but Haiti continued to pay us six per cent.

The turn came in 1946. A people's government staggered out of the revolution which chased President Elie Lescot to Canada. The Communist Party there had been attacking the Good Neighbor policy as "the most cruel policy" in the world. But for the sake of national unity the Communist party of Haiti disbanded.

Deumarsais Estime, a business man who had long been fighting absentee ownership—investments in Haiti by U. S. financiers—became president. He found his hands tied. On a 1922 loan floated by U. S. banks, the nation had already repaid $17,000,000 as well as $21,000,000 in that six per cent interest. Amortization and interest took first cut out of the budget despite all sorts of claims of graft against us. The country could incur no new funded indebtedness without our permission. Argentina and the Dominican Republic were both extremely sympathetic, but we had tied a financial knot and we held it tight.

With his back against the wall, Estime asked the U. S. for a loan of $20,000,000 and got nothing. He wanted to pay off the remaining $7,000,000 of that six per cent debt. He wanted to put agriculture on its feet. He wanted to encourage industrialization, sanitation and education.

Raised Money
Feeling against the U. S. flamed hot and high over that refusal. So hot and so high that the Haitians raised the money themselves. Taxi drivers and waiters bought 20-cent bonds. The rich threw in plenty. A prize team of Boy Scouts cancelled a trip abroad in order to buy "Freedom bonds."

"Our national income is less than $10,000,000," Estime told me early in 1947, shortly after he had taken office. "From that is first taken $2,000,000 for principal and interest on the old United States debt. There is too little left for sanitation, for national education in our land, where illiteracy is estimated at 55 per cent—and nothing for developing this nation which has so long been exploited by everyone."

In thumbing down Estime's proposal for a $20,000,000 loan the U. S. left the door open. There was a soothing suggestion that something specific, well surveyed and authenticated, costing less money, might be favored.

Now Estime is standing in that door again. He is asking for $3,000,000 instead of $20,000,000. The Institute of Inter-American Affairs says that his plan to reclaim 80,000 acres of land that was rich and productive in French colonial days is sound, that it will pay off easily in 20 years.

The land which made money for the French now is covered with mesquite and cactus. It is choked with salt. But tests by the Institute indicate that nearly 70 bushels of rice a year can be produced against those handicaps. The Institute says that is good.

The 60,000 acres are in the valley of the Artibonite river. The Artibonite has been flooding the land for centuries. Flood control will cost more than $500,000. On the other hand, there must be irrigation and watering works in the old colonial days, but most of those things have crumbled. There must be roads from farm to market. Good seed is needed. Haitians still thresh rice by slapping it over a log. Modern agriculture must be brought in.

All this is contemplated in the $3,000,000 venture which the Institute approves. Granted the loan, Haitians may have a little more to eat. There will still be disease, suffering and illiteracy. Against these Estime can move only as he can move. Government income is increasing. It may be $5,000,000 more this year. The bankers no longer get their $2,000,000 cut. A new sugar mill to double output is in prospect. The only mill of importance is on the outskirts of Port-au-Prince, the capital. There are prospects for textiles. Haitian handicrafts are making their way in smart New York. The nation has minerals. But under Estime these minerals will be developed only by Haitians.

YOUTH DROWNS

Truman, Dewey Bid For Support Of Labor Groups

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Both President Truman and his political rival, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, bid Saturday for support of the American Federation of Labor.

Truman said: "The party that pressed the Taft-Hartley Act upon working people over my veto and is responsible for the high cost of living is asking labor to vote for its candidates in November."

"Having inaugurated in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress a blue-print for tearing down sixteen years of progress under the Democratic Party, the Republicans are now asking labor's support for their anti-labor policies."

"The 80th Congress was guided by Republican policies and was completely under the thumb of the Republican Party. The Republican candidates cannot disavow the party leadership which dictated these policies. Neither are these policies repudiated in the Republican platform to which the candidates are committed."

"In 1933," Truman declared, "after twelve years of Republican administration, union membership had dwindled to 2,887,000. Today, union membership exceeds 15,500,000, the highest in our history. The Republican reaction to growing union strength was to force the Taft-Hartley Act through the Congress. Dewey made no reference by name to the Taft-Hartley Act. Nor did he refer to the record of the Congress on labor and price questions."

"I begin," he said, "with the profound conviction that the American labor movement is a bulwark of our system of freedom; that unless labor is free, none of us are free; and that that freedom can and must be preserved. We must never let ourselves forget that the first act of the Hitler dictatorship was to destroy the German unions and that the Soviet dictatorship has made the Russian unions creatures of the state, instruments of terror and keep enslaved the Russian workers."

"With these awful lessons before us, we must zealously guard against any attempts at union busting and against efforts to make the American labor movement a political company union."

"Knowing the AF of L as I do, I would expect to find in it very few men who would sell out the interests of their members and their country for political pretreatment."

"The AFL has not officially endorsed President Truman for reelection to the presidency, as the CIO's executive board majority has done. But AFL leaders who are supporting the President's bid for a full term have formed a committee to work for his election."

Golfers' Lunch Table Decked In Football Motif

The 1948 football season was heralded in decorations for the Ladies Golf Association luncheon in the Midland Country Club Friday. Mrs. Bob Franklin, club president, was hostess.

Footballs were placed at either end of the table, which was centered with a bowl of marigolds. Midland High School's gold and purple colors were in evidence.

Golf preceded the luncheon, with games starting at 9 o'clock, and bridge occupied the afternoon hours.

Mrs. J. C. Stevens, Jr., was elected representative to the City-County Federation of Women's Clubs. Style Trends

The program was on "New Styles for Winter." Mrs. Stevens modeled a brown suit ensemble from Everybody's, calling attention to style points as well as to its construction to assure perfect fit in the slim skirt.

Style trends emphasized by Mrs. Nettie B. Meek, home demonstration agent, as she showed how last year's clothing can be re-styled for this fall, included slim skirts with back interest, and accessories in shades of one color rather than in contrasting colors.

Other members present were Mrs. J. D. Bartlett, Mrs. W. T. Parker and Mrs. B. L. Mason.

Casselman-Guenther Vows Are Exchanged

Candlelight on white flowers made the setting for the wedding of Mary Nell Casselman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Casselman, and Richard Stewart Guenther, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Guenther, Sr., of Memphis, Tenn., in the First Christian Church here at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

The Rev. Clyde Lindsley, pastor, read the double-ring ceremony as the wedding party stood before a background of woodwardia and deflexus fern studded with white asters. On either side a large woodwardia tree was placed in front of palms and candelabra.

Two rectangular arrangements of white gladiolus, asters, and feverfew with lemon leaves of the chancel were flanked by tall baskets of the same flowers. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon and white asters. Matching arrangements of white flowers were on the organ and piano.

Music Preceded Wedding
The candles were lighted by John Casselman, Jr., brother of the bride, and Harry Roberts of Edinburg.

The bride's dress of navy blue was worn with white accessories and an orchid corsage. For traveling she wore a powder blue frock with black accessories.

An informal reception at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Nadine Harris, followed the ceremony. Wedding cake and punch were served.

Organist At Familiar Instrument

Mrs. J. Holt Jowell, seated at the organ of the First Methodist Church, has resigned the duties of head organist after serving the church since 1921, first as pianist and then as organist.

Members of the First Methodist Church will find a familiar figure missing from the church musical ensemble at Sunday's services. Mrs. J. Holt Jowell will not be at the organ, as she has been at almost every service since it was installed.

Mrs. Jowell has resigned after nearly 30 years of service to the church, first as pianist and then as organist. She began playing for Sunday School when she was a high school sophomore, soon was called upon to assist as church pianist, and was made the regular pianist in the Fall of 1921. She has always given her services without pay.

She expects to assist her successor, Homer Meek, when she is needed, but wishes more freedom and more time to give to her family. The Jowells have two children, Jerelen, who will be a sophomore in Midland High School this year, and Billy, who will enter Junior High.

In addition to Sunday services and choir rehearsals, Mrs. Jowell has had the church organist's full experience of playing for scores of weddings, funerals, and revivals. Civic groups also have called on her to be pianist for benefit shows and minstrels, to accompany soloists, and to play for club singing by Lions and Rotarians.

It has been a pleasure to her, whether she was setting the time for lively congregational songs in a revival, following the pace of a soloist, keeping an amateur minister rehearsal moving, or adding music to the solemnity of church worship.

Playing for a wedding she considers the most exacting duty of an organist, because the music furnishes cues for all the participants and has a major part in keeping the ceremony moving smoothly and with dignity.

During her years with the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Jowell worked with 12 different ministers. For a year and a half she served as choir director as well as organist.

Leldon Harrises Back From Trip After Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Leldon Harris have returned from a trip to Austin that followed their wedding last Sunday in the parsonage of the Calvary Baptist Church. Mrs. Harris was Juanita Bralley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bralley of Lamesa, before her marriage.

The Rev. A. Teaff, Calvary Baptist pastor, read the single ring ceremony with only relatives and close friends present. The couple was unattended.

The bride's dress of navy blue was worn with white accessories and an orchid corsage. For traveling she wore a powder blue frock with black accessories.

An informal reception at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Nadine Harris, followed the ceremony. Wedding cake and punch were served.

Mrs. Harris has been employed in Midland with the City Drug store. Mr. Harris, a graduate of Midland High School, is an employee of the Texas Electric Service Company.

Gay But Practical Gadgets Please Younger Back-To-School Set

Youthful pedestrian looks at the traffic policeman through her new transparent vinyl umbrella which is small-sized and lightweight. Safety reminders are printed on the plastic.

New bicycle lock fits around wheel spokes. Metal cylinder on lock slides up steel shackle, anchoring wheel so that bike cannot be rolled away.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
New devices designed for the back-to-school set combine showy styling with practical performance to make a double-barreled bid for approval. A see-through umbrella, for example, scaled down to small-fray size, protects a young pedestrian from Autumn showers, without shutting out her view of street traffic. Vinylite plastic in a leather-like finish makes a roomy western-style "saddle bag" in which a young student can pack her books, pencils, papers and lunch. Flashily trimmed with gold hardware and colored stones, this over-the-shoulder bag is showy enough to delight any youngster's heart. What will appeal to a parent is the sturdy construction and the tough, scuff-resistant surface which can be cleaned with a damp cloth. Protecting blouse or sweater sleeves from desk grime and blackboard chalk is the talking point for School girl packs her notebook and other supplies into a Western-style "saddle bag" which has shoulder strap.

New flexible plastic guards. These laundry-savers zip up neatly from wrist to elbow. A new zipper-type lock promises to stand guard over a bicycle parked on the campus by the student who pedals to school. In this new comer, a slender, horseshoe-shaped steel shackle with saw-tooth edges is fitted around wheel spokes and fender supports. A cylindrical metal lock is pushed up the shackle, anchoring the wheel so that it can't be rolled away. Another gadget for the pedal pusher is a pocket-sized tire inflator. This device is a compressed gas cylinder of the type used to inflate life belts during the war. When used in its special attachment for bicycles, the contents of one cylinder will inflate the standard balloon tire to 18 pounds; a lightweight high-pressure tire to 45 pounds.

Salerno Beach Again Is Bather's Paradise

SALERNO, ITALY—(AP)—Italian tourists with toy spades scoop wading pools on the pebbly beaches where five years ago this week American and British troops dug for their lives. Texas 38th Division and the 45th Division played heroic parts in the campaign. The turquoise tyrrhenian water, black with allied landing craft on Sept. 9, 1943, is chattering today only by the bobbing head of bathers. Peace has come back to this pretty land of sunshine and salt water. There is little to remind the Salernitan that here, for six days of bloody fighting the fate of the first invasion of Adolf Hitler's "Fortress Europe" hung in desperate balance. Five years ago, North Africa had been mopped up. The big island of Sicily had been won in 39 days. On September 3, Canadian and British divisions of the British Eighth Army followed the fleeing Germans across the Strait of Messina, advancing northward against slight opposition. Nightmare Over. Military disaster already had precipitated political upheaval in Italy. Benito Mussolini was ousted July 25. The 20-year nightmare of fascism over Marshal Pietro Badoglio had succeeded to the premiership. A soldier, Badoglio saw the uselessness of fighting on with the Axis. The day the British crossed from Messina, he threw in the towel. On September 8, the Italian radio announced that Italy was out of the war. At the announcement the Salernitan—who had taken to the hills—began drifting back to their homes. They ran straight into a hell on earth. The morning of September 9, Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth Army—the American Sixth Corps and the British Tenth Corps—poured onto the beaches along the great sweep of the Gulf of Salerno. The Germans were expecting them. Tanks and infantry slashed savagely at the invaders, and big guns mounted in prepared positions poured murderous fire on the Americans and British. Fighting for time to redispense their forces after the Italian surrender, the Germans threw some of their finest troops into the struggle. Heroic Efforts. But heroic allied artillerymen backing up equally heroic infantry, the superhuman efforts of the Air Force and the Navy's crack job of keeping supplies and reinforcements flowing finally prevailed. Fortress Europe had been breached the hard way. Today, if you ask a Salernitano what anniversary September 9 is, he is likely to give you a puzzled stare. A few mementos remain. In the hills above, the peaceful farmer mutters as he turns his plow around the huge German pillboxes which, like obscene mushrooms sprout in his fields. Beachgoers paddle about the shallows in rubber boats, salvaged from an American plane that crashed in the battle—or, more likely, bought in the ubiquitous black market. Urchins still jabber an outlandish jargon they fondly fancy to be English. In the Rhododendron-surrounded cemetery at the ancient Greek city of Paestrum white crosses, row on row, mark the sleep of the American dead.

Organist—

She started her career as a pianist without ever having studied piano formally—and has never had any formal training. Classroom instruction in the fundamentals of music taught her the notes when she was small Lillie B. Williams, in grammar school, and with her natural aptitude for music she started practicing to fulfill her first ambition, to be pianist for her schoolroom.

Encouraged in School
That goal achieved, she continued playing for high school assemblies and programs, and was encouraged by W. W. Lackey, then superintendent of Midland schools. It was customary for various churches of the city to call on Lackey to assign groups of high school students to form choirs for funeral services, and she was one of the pianists for these choruses.

After she became church pianist, she took leave to attend Peabody College a year, and to spend several Summers in college study. She was teaching freshman English and history in Midland High School during regular terms.

One Summer while she was in school at Boulder, Colo., she learned something of organ technique by studying with the organist at the First Methodist Church there. When the organ was installed at her own church here, she had what she smilingly calls a refresher course with Nita Akin of Wichita Falls, noted Texas organist, who was here to play at the service dedicating the organ.

Had Midnight Lessons
Workmen were completing a rush installation of the instrument, and were usually busy until midnight. Then Mrs. Akin and her pupil would go to the church for a few hours of instruction.

Mrs. Jowell carried her interest in music to her club affiliations. She was a charter member of the Fine Arts Club and the Civic Music Club. She also has been active in other phases of the church, and was a teacher of the Boone Bible Class for a time before her children arrived to claim part of her time.

She is not losing any of her interest in music by giving up one job. A piano dominates the pleasant living room of the Jowell home at 705 North Pecos Street. Jerelen, who also plays the violin, shares in its use, and Billy has been studying piano, too. Mrs. Jowell believes it is good for all children to be surrounded with music, and that they learn to love it by knowing it.

Add drained prepared horseradish, salt, sugar, freshly ground pepper and onion juice to whipped cream for a sauce to serve with cold ham or luncheon meat. This sauce is also delicious with cold salmon.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and get a couple of liquid Barrentrate tablets. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the results, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves. If it's reasonable pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds
"When I commenced to take Barrentrate, I weighed 212 pounds. I now weigh 165. I lost 47 pounds on the first two bottles. I feel so much better after losing that weight. I think it is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Barrentrate"—Mrs. George Green, Chalmers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

Lost 20 Pounds
"I lost 20 pounds taking four bottles of Barrentrate and I feel fine."—H. M. Gates, 912 25th Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Delegates' Plain Talk, Not Protocol, Marks World Conference On Religion

By FRANK STEWART
NEA Special Correspondent
AMSTERDAM—Churchmen of the globe are "chinning" things over before they draft a world charter of religion—and that may be one of the biggest and best results of the conclave.

Your reporter is not inclined to delve deeply into weighty issues before the assembly of religious leaders gathered here from India's coral strands to Greenland's icy mountains—or is that the way the old hymn runs?

That will come when we report on the specific reports brought in by the four study sections now at work—at least, it is the hope they will agree on findings.

My first impression is that this is the greatest gabfest I ever heard any place or any time. It differs from a national church meeting in the United States only in the respect that you may be talking with a Chinese bishop or a dark-skinned churchman from South Africa.

Gabbing Has Advantages
I am not trying to be facetious—actually the gabbing is one of the top flight advantages which will be written on the credit side of the Amsterdam assembly.

It is simply this—and it is tremendously important—the very fact that men and women from Australia, Egypt, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Spain, England, Belgium,

Pow Wow For Cubbers Slated At Big Spring

A council wide "Pow-Wow" for adult Cubbers of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be conducted Saturday, September 18, at the Howard County Junior College in Big Spring.

The program will include seminars, practice and discussions under four main headings: pack administration, handicrafts, games and ceremonies. Each of the council's 10 districts covering 15 counties is to send a minimum of 10 adult Cubbers to the Pow Wow.

A blue and gold banquet will culminate the day's sessions, which opens at 2 p. m.

legs under the same table and blow off verbal steam.

Take the case of your reporter, from my seat on the main platform—directly in back of the five presidents of the World Council—I could reach out and tickle the back of the Archbishop of Canterbury. I haven't tried that stunt yet—but day after day this great churchman mingles with us as part of the world host.

Don't be too much concerned with some ponderous speeches you may have read in the papers by John Foster Dulles, Dr. W. A. Visser 'T Hooft of Holland and all the rest. One always expects a flood of oratory and speeches. The big things to watch for are the reports and findings that will come out of the preliminary word marathon in which we are now engaged.

Dr. Harold M. Osborne, many times AAU high jump champion and Olympic winner in the high jump and decathlon in Paris in 1924, has been elected president of the Illinois Osteopathic Association.

I know the big wigs would have a fit if they read this—but in plain, mid-western style I am telling you there is hope for this old world when such diverse religious groups can just shove their

Retail Credit Course Will Be Offered Here

A 10-hour course in Retail Credit Procedures for merchants and employees will be conducted here September 20-24. Deibert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, announced Saturday.

The course is co-sponsored by Ruth Donnell, coordinator of the Distributive Education Department of Midland High School and Mrs. Agnes Park of the Retail Merchants Association. Midland is among a limited number of Texas cities included this year in the Distributive Education training program offered by the University of Texas, Division of Extension, in cooperation with the State Board for Vocational Education.

Sterling S. Speake of the Extension Division will conduct the course. Classes will be held in Studio A, KCRS, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. daily. A small enrollment fee is the only cost.

Practical Training
The course is said to be a practical and interesting study of current and future retail credit problems. It deals with successful methods used by many Texas business firms in handling charge accounts. Sponsors said the course is most timely because of a large increase in open accounts and installment consumer credit. Merchants are urged to cooperate by attending and having their employees attend.

The topics to be included in the course are: current and future problems in credit; credit applications; credit interviews; investigating and evaluating the applicant; rejecting the applicant; accepting the applicant; store credit policies; credit sales promotion; credit letters and collection procedures.

University of Texas Extension Division certificates will be presented to those who meet attendance requirements.

Switches Solve Problem Of Long Hair For Fall

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Now it's the lack of tresses that distresses. All the glamor experts say you'll be wearing long hair come Fall. Only it won't be your own hair.

Hairdressers had just persuaded the girls to cut their hair off, and along came milliners in Fall fashion shows, showing their chapeaux worn with added tresses. As one milliner stated and demonstrated by removing the added hair-pieces from the nape of the neck of her model, "Most of the new Fall hats look ridiculous with short hair."

The reason for this is that many of the hats are worn straight on the head, with the back of the hat shallow. Such a hat calls for more hair in back than most of today's sheared women possess.

Hairdressers can't see any reason why the girls should be upset. After all, they say, you can have the comfort and fun of short hair, yet achieve the long-haired look whenever you want it, just by adding a braid, chignon or curls.

Most women will have to decide for themselves if that is what they want. If they do, it won't be difficult to find the tresses. You can even get budget priced ones by mail order. These are said to match the hair sample perfectly and to be easily arranged at home.

Gaily Hued Moutons Are Fall Head-Liners

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor
Mary's little lamb, whose fleece was white as snow, would never recognize some of its modern descendants, whose fleeces may be navy blue, mint green or silvery gray.

A change of color isn't all that has happened to 1948 lambs. New methods of processing are turning out moutons (lamb to you) coats that have all the luster and suppleness of furs formerly restricted to the upper income brackets. The new moutons are water-repellent, with a texture like beaver or seal. The one-time bulkiness has been eliminated, and top designers have gone to work on the sturdy and inexpensive fur with results that are breathtaking.

For the college crowd the new colored moutons are slated for instant popularity this Fall. They come in smart, ribbon bound blazer styles, in full-length wrap-arounds and in swank hip-length jackets, with gay plaid or striped taffeta linings.

The new and glorified moutons come with all the new style notes of the season—jaunty collars to be worn up or down, sashed pockets placed well back on the hip to reduce front bulk, natural shoulders, loose, easy lines and effective combinations with fabric trappings, such as taupe velvet collar and buttons on gray mouton.

With all the expert styling, the coats are still in the budget class, within the reach of the college girl or her career-minded sister, who have to count their pennies but still want to look smart.

Jewelry Captures Autumn Color

New costume jewelry will spike Fall fashions with a brilliant dash of color. Included in the array is the trio of knobby gold hatpins which anchor the velvet beret, top left. Turquoise and gold bracelet, top right, dangles a gold pillbox. Dramatic ropes of malachite and nut agate beads are strung on gold chains and separated by gold acorns, bottom left. Fan-shaped pin and earrings, bottom center, glitter with rhinestones and emerald green sparklers. Necklace, bottom right, is made of baroque pearls tinted pink, gray and yellow and clasped in front with brilliant clips.

By EPIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK—Brilliant Fall colors to wind around the throat or wrist, clip to ears or stick into a hat come courtesy of new costume jewelry.

Jewelry as fabulous looking as a Maharajah's owes its new richness to colored stones. Nut agate, malachite, amber, emerald, turquoise and cherry stone are bead colors that string along together to make showier necklaces for Fall. When many ropes of beads—some strung on chains and separated by tiny gold acorns—are massed together, all of this multicolor has the makings of high drama.

New baroque pearls forsake their allegiance to all-white for rain-bow-like tints. Designed to enhance the sparkle of tinted pearls, worn like ropes, are clips studded with brilliant and colored stones which are used to clasp a long necklace close to the throat.

Fan-shaped earrings, often paired with matching dress clips, are a new conceit for Fall which comes richly bejeweled with make-believe gems. Color flashes from a gem-studded bracelet which dangles a golden pill box. White knobby hat pins add gimmicks of gold, as eye-catching as apawbroker's to new bonnets.

Sloppy Grooming Is Blow To Poise

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

There are two tell-tale ways by which a girl's sloppy grooming habits advertise themselves. One, obviously, is by the way she looks. The other is by the way she acts—a sort of attitude of apology when she lacks a feeling of physical freshness.

Perhaps more important than looking scrubbed and wearing immaculate clothes—as important as these are to a girl's appearance—is the big boost to her morale which a consciousness of good grooming gives.

A young girl has difficulty enough mastering poise as she grows up. She only makes her lot harder when she allows sloppy grooming habits to lower her good opinion of herself. Few things help to strengthen self-respect as much as a knowledge that every routine of good grooming has been chalked off before you start off for the day.

Try adding to the basic routines of good grooming the little touches that make you feel more beautiful. A dash of cologne, a sprinkling of luxurious bath powder, or an exquisite handkerchief put into a pocket—are not the frivolous accessories that they might seem. Any of these things are worth the price they cost if they help to strengthen a girl's good opinion of herself.

Yellow and brown shades of tops are relatively rare.

AMAZED AT QUICK ACTION OF MERTOX

"For the past ten years I have been troubled with severe gas pains which seemed to grow against my heart and made it difficult to breathe. I had a pain under my heart that was almost unbearable at times," writes Mrs. Alma Cummings of Waco. "My food would not digest and soured on my stomach. I had had dizzy spells and when these attacks occurred I felt all pulled up. My appetite has greatly improved and I can now eat lots of things that I couldn't eat before taking this wonderful medicine. "Since taking Merton I feel like a different person. It certainly is wonderful to get up in the morning and do a day's work, without that tired, worn-out feeling. I certainly was amazed at the quick action of this medicine." You can get Merton from any Texas drugist at the new REDUCED price.

Big Texas Is Meeting Juvenile Problems With Big Boys Ranches

By HAROLD V. KATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

Big Texas has a lot of boys and many of them have problems.

There are boys from broken homes, from homes where the mother has been left to shift for a whole family, from homes where the mother or the father—or both—just plain don't give a hoot what happens to their kids.

And there are boys from homes where the parents, although willing enough, just don't provide properly for their children.

Then there are boys from homes that have shiftless parents—they're like for their kids to have a good home and an opportunity in life but they're too lazy to try to provide it.

Big Texas is meeting the problem in her own way. Not all kids, of course, are reached by civic-minded people. Were that so, there would be no need for jails or reformatories or charity. But there are many enterprises trying to remove the hazards to juvenile delinquency.

Prominent in these enterprises are the Boys Ranches. Granddaddy of these undertakings are Boys Ranches at Copperas Cove and at Amarillo.

The Copperas Cove project is the oldest of all. It was started 12 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dawson. Three years ago it passed to the Variety Clubs of Texas, an organization maintained by the people in show business. It is a rich project indeed. Each year the showmen get together at Dallas for a turtle derby. Some of the nation's glamorous names in the theater and of the screen participate. The events have valued as much as $100,000. Not only has the ranch been broadened and enriched, but a foundation has been established that will mean perpetuation of the project.

On Boys Ranch at Copperas Cove are 51 boys. They are all delinquents—only that type boy is taken there. The ranch, a 4200-acre spread, offers opportunities for work, school and finally college. There hasn't been a failure on a boy there yet.

Amarillo's Boys Ranch, founded by the colorful Cal Farley, was started in 1938. It has properties worth $750,000 and has handled close to 400 boys. Only the "tough guys" are taken at Boys Ranch; they have to be the kind no one else will attempt to control. There have been a few failures, but only because the ranch didn't have the manpower to handle the situation.

National In Scope
Public subscription maintains this project that is national in scope.

Boys now at the ranch come from more than a dozen states. The place has 1,500 acres and south of Dimmitt is a 1,480-acre irrigated farm given to Boys Ranch by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight G. Artell. The boys work at the ranch and at the farm, go to school and eventually pass into the state's business life.

Arlene has a Boys Ranch, too, it is only 14 months old but it is making rapid progress. The Optimist Club organized it and now has turned it to the city as a community-wide project. It is designed for homeless boys and is a 310-acre plot of mesquite land south of the city. Driving force behind the project was Ben Richey, Optimist Club president. When funds obtained through club members seeking subscriptions from businessmen, were exhausted, Richey left his private work and went out to raise the money needed to support the ranch.

When the first superintendent and his wife became discouraged and left, Mr. and Mrs. Richey went to the ranch and operated it until another couple could be obtained to take over.

West Texas Ranch
There's a Boys Ranch being founded at Tankersly in Tom Green County. It is designed to serve 32 West Texas counties and is known as the Boys' Co-Op Ranch of West Texas. It has 985 acres of productive land.

The ranch will accept boys upon recommendation of juvenile authorities. Fourteen county judges have expressed the desire for such a home, pointing out that boys come before them who have not committed reformatory offenses but that there is often no place to send them to keep them out of serious trouble. Their records show that almost 100 boys a year in these counties should be recommended for such a home. The ranch is being purchased and maintained wholly by public subscription.

Beaumont has its Boy's Haven, a community-supported project for homeless, abandoned and neglected boys between the ages of 9 and 16. It was established in 1945 and in its three years of operation has housed 86 boys. There are 15 at the home now.

A new home three miles north of Amelia and six miles west of Beaumont has been completed and occupied. It is on a 42-acre tract donated by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gordon. The new structure will house 50 boys. The original home idea was advanced by the Beaumont Optimist Club but now is a community project. It is maintained by public subscription.

Amarillo doesn't have all its eggs in one basket in its efforts to wipe out juvenile delinquency. The boys who are not eligible for Boys Ranch have recreational opportunities through the Optimist Club. This organization is organized play the year around—football, basketball, baseball and softball.

Boys Clubs
San Antonio has three Boys Clubs, each affiliated with Boys Clubs of America. Current total enrollment at the three clubs is 2,750, there being 1,000 Latin Americans, 900 Anglo-Americans and 850 negroes. The first such club was founded in 1912 by Porter Loring, O. P. Schnabel and Evans Fitch, business men. Since that time the organization has grown to a $35,000 per year operation with 25 staff employees. In command are 75 outstanding business men serving as a board of directors. The current president is M. C. Gonzales, an attorney, recently re-elected to a fourth term. Funds are raised by contributions through the Community Chest.

Hillsboro's Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a recreation program with co-operation of the city, service clubs, The Booster Club and the Senior Chamber of Commerce. This program was inaugurated last Summer with erection of a lighted softball field. Civic organizations contributed funds to hire a recreational director for the Summer months for the benefit of the kids.

Fort Worth Projects
Fort Worth has a number of projects for the benefit of the kids. There are two Junior Optimist Clubs sponsored by the Optimist Club, each with a membership of 45 boys ranging in age from seven to 17. Each boy has a YMCA membership paid for by the club and they go on a five-day camp at Eagle Mountain Lake. A $35,000 camp for the boys will be constructed at the lake soon.

The Fort Worth Boys Club is a Community Chest agency and is sponsored by the Fort Worth Boys Council (all women) and the Kiwanis Club of North Fort Worth.

The Fort Worth Children's Museum is newly organized. It has classes for boys in stamp collecting, photography, astronomy, nature, gardening, leather and wood working.

The Lake Worth Sports Club serves approximately 70 boys ranging in age from eight to 18. Leiland Mayfield, a resident at Lake Worth, started the club.

There are many other such projects in Texas, including the boys home founded by the Optimist Club at Houston in the former Ross Sterling residence, Boys Harbor at LaPorte and the many play programs and Boy Scout projects that give the boys a chance to build themselves physically and morally and become outstanding citizens of their communities.

Formal Opening Kermit-Andrews Highway Scheduled September 14

KERMIT—Formal opening of the Kermit-Andrews highway, first inter-county connecting link to be completed on the proposed Broadway to Big Bend Highway, is to be held Tuesday, September 14, with the Kermit Chamber of Commerce sponsoring the affair.

Proceeding the highway opening ceremonies, members of the Broadway to Big Bend Association will be guests of the chamber of commerce at a luncheon meeting in the American Legion Hall, with the association then going into a business session.

The highway will be opened at the Winkler-Andrews County line, at 8 p. m., followed by a barbecue feed served by Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang.

Invitations are being extended to Gov. Beauford Jester, members of the State and District Highway Departments, recently elected state and national officials of this area, members of the Broadway to Big Bend Association, county judges and commissioners courts, as well as chamber of commerce officials and their highway committees along the proposed route. Roy Turner, governor of Oklahoma, and the Oklahoma State Highway Commission also are being invited.

The Andrews section of the road has been completed for sometime, while the Winkler County part this week is receiving the asphalt topping. The approximate 46 miles between Kermit and Andrews is the first completed section of the proposed route which is planned to go direct from the Big Bend to Oklahoma City. North and east from Kermit, the highway is planned to pass through Andrews, Lamesa, Post, Dickson, Paducah, Quanah, and into Oklahoma. South and west of Kermit, the proposed route extends to Pecos and on into the Big Bend National Park.

Right-of-way has been purchased, funds have been made available, and construction is expected to be started soon on the highway from Andrews to the Dawson County line, and on through Dawson County to Lamesa.

Sudden minute changes in the length of a day have been observed. For instance, it increased .004 of a second in 1897 and decreased by a like amount in 1918.

Rev. Vernon Yearby Observes Anniversary As Midland Pastor

The Rev. Vernon Yearby Sunday will start his seventh year as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Midland, assuming the pastorate Sept. 2, 1942. He now is the oldest pastor in point of service in Midland.

Rev. Vernon Yearby

The church has witnessed a remarkable growth during his pastorate, the membership having increased from 1,800 to 2,465 members. The church has baptized 419 persons, and received 1,276 members by transfer. The Sunday School membership has increased from 912 to a total enrollment of 1,847.

During the six year period, the First Baptist Church has given $77,700 to benevolences, and $243,975 for local work, a total of $321,675.

The church has 45 young people in training for full-time Christian service. It maintains a Latin American mission, a day-time negro kindergarten, and a Baptist church at the Midland Air Terminal. Two missionaries, one in Africa and another in South America, are supported directly by the Midland church.

Well Water Better For Car Than Thirst

BIG SPRING—Walter Merrick's water well has become too strong for the family but just right for his automobile.

Merrick has a 30-foot well at his home in the Sand Springs Community, five miles east of here, and until a year ago it produced good water. An oil film developed and it became increasingly worse until he abandoned the water for domestic purposes.

His windmill stopped this week and he bailed the well. Recovery was 100 gallons of what tested 96 per cent gasoline. Merrick estimated he had 400 gallons more in his well.

Meanwhile, source of the gasoline is a mystery. None of the service stations in that area have reported losing storage and Couden Petroleum Corporation refinery is three miles away. With nearby wells beginning to taste of oil, Merrick is hoping some enterprising geologist will determine the source of his high-octane well.

Record Attendance At Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Ranch

A total of 566 Scouts of the Buffalo Trail Council attended the long term camp at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains, this Summer. It was announced Saturday by Scout officials. This is the largest Summer camp attendance in the long history of the council and is attributed to the acquisition of the 6,000-acre ranch bought and paid for by the council this year.

The camp opened May 24 and with the exception of two weeks was in constant operation until September 1. A feature of the camp program was a two-day burro pack trip through the rugged and beautiful mountains. Meals were cooked by the Scouts on the trip.

New Facilities
A new mess hall and kitchen have been constructed at the ranch. Other improvements include showers, walk-in ice box, butane gas and hot water for the kitchen, troop sites and latrines. Twenty horses and 21 burros have been provided and a wrangler-custodian has been employed to take care of the property and the stock.

Previous to the Summer long term camp, more than 1,500 Scouts and leaders had visited and camped at the ranch since its opening last year. Further improvements will be made before camping time next Summer. In the meantime the ranch is open to all Scouts of the council for camping and to the general public for inspection.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief, you must keep your blood strong. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have positively proven that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

The event is being held in preparation for the Court of Honor to be held September 30 for all Midland Scouts.

Social Situations

SITUATION: Your husband is rather quiet and reserved, especially when he is in a crowd he doesn't know well—while you feel perfectly at ease in any group.

WRONG WAY: You do all of the talking for both.

RIGHT WAY: Try subtly to draw your husband into the conversation, instead of pushing him into the background by doing all of the talking yourself.

Tucked Border For Old Skirt Is One Style-Wise Way Of Hiding Hem Mark

Fashion-wise young girl stitches a tiny tuck around the bottom of an old skirt after she has let down hem. Tuck hides crease which marks original hemline, gives skirt new style detail.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The hemline crease which usually resists cleaning and pressing attempts to banish it is a common problem facing women who are letting out skirt length.

Neat solution to the problem is to hide the stubborn crease in a tiny tuck. Take a look at fashion's many tucked hemlines and you'll see how style-wise this detail is. Tips from sewing center experts tell you how to put a new tuck into an old skirt.

Rip out the old hem and steam-press the fabric as flat as you can. Now, take a tiny tuck on the right side of the material, pinching the fabric together so that the old hemline mark is in the center of the fold. Machine-stitch or handsew the tuck in place with a loose running stitch.

If the hem is too skimpy for new-look length, try adding the necessary inches by adding a tucked-hemline border. A band, flounce or ruffle of a matching or contrasting fabric will not look like hasty improvising if the length is attached under a fold-down tuck. Before adding a band, rip out hem. Now sew the raw edge of the band an inch below the original hem mark on the right side of the skirt material. Pinch skirt material together on the line of the old hem in order to convert it into a new inch-wide tuck or pinched fold. Bring the pinched fold down over the edge of the added band, stitch in place and view your professional-looking letting-out job.

Miss America Contest Is No Fun; Hard Work

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. —(AP)—There just isn't any fun for the sweet young thing who wants to become Miss America.

Lenora Slaughter, director of the Miss America pageant, says "it's deadly serious business."
Beauties from 44 states, nine cities and Canada will compete September 7-11 for the Miss America title and $25,000 worth of scholarships.

Many of the girls will come here with local scholarships already won. Junior Chambers of Commerce, sponsoring state contests, have added scholarships ranging from $500 to $3,000 as awards to winners.

Once a girl has been selected to appear in the Fall beauty classic as representative of a state or city, hard work begins.

Learn To Walk
The candidates must learn how to walk all over again. She may have to take a two-week to a month-long course at a modeling school. She has to find out how to do her hair, how to apply makeup to her face and how to overcome stage fright.

Over the years, most Miss America contestants have been accompanied to Atlantic City by their mothers. In recent years, college beauties have been competing in increasing numbers. Last year "Miss Montana," Carol Chaffin of Corvallis, brought along Dr. Maurine Clow, dean of women at Montana State University, as a chaperone.

Miss Slaughter has 55 loyal ladies as chaperones, plus 10 substitutes. Each assigned to one of the contestants and one to the reigning Miss America. While the girls are in Atlantic City, they are constantly in the company of a chaperone.

Rules Outlined
On her first night in Atlantic City, a beauty must attend a general meeting and hear the rules of the pageant. These include:

- 1—She cannot be seen in a cocktail lounge.
 - 2—She must not appear in public without her chaperone.
 - 3—She must not permit a man, even her father, in her hotel room.
 - 4—She must not permit an interview by the press, talent scouts, or other persons without permission and without her chaperone.
 - 5—She must not use padding in her bathing suit.
- Last year's "Miss Omaha," Madeline King, left the orchestration for her dance back home. Her Omaha sponsor, L. W. Baker, flew to Atlantic City, rushed to her hotel, puffed along the hall to her door. He knocked, called out who he was and what he had and got this reply: "Throw it over the transom."
He protested loudly. A door opened down the hall and a man stuck out his head.
"Don't worry about not getting in. I'm her father and I can't get into her room either."

The first Atlantic cable was laid in 1858 between Newfoundland and Ireland.

FRESH LETTUCE

Green leafy garden lettuce, richer in Vitamin A and C than the paler heads, does not keep as long as market head lettuce. Pick enough for a one or two-day supply. SPARE WATER WITH ARTICHOKE

Many cooks use too much water in preparing artichokes. They should be dropped into no more than two inches of boiling water. The water should then be brought to a boil again, the saucepan covered tightly, and the artichokes cooked for 30 to 35 minutes, depending on their size. By then the artichokes will be tender and an outer leaf can be easily pulled from the stem.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Details designed to make you look twice at 'The Look' this Fall include a few outright breath-takers. Take the "breath-taker" neckline, for example, which unbuttons, as shown bottom right, all the way down to here. This neckline adds a provocative décolletage to an otherwise cover-up type of dinner dress of Adele Simpson's design, which has a top of black velvet, a skirt of mezzotint satin. Other naughty little shockers are garter clasps which come out from under cover to make costume sparklers. The pair pictured top left are golden garter clasps with which designer Brownie decorates the pockets of a green woolen suit. "Doll" muffs of fur that double as handbags rate a second look when they zip open like a melon cut in two. The leopard bag, bottom left, is one of a series which Richard Koret has designed for wear with fur-trimmed ensembles. Eye-filling color enhanced by cut-steel embroidery puts removable wool plaistrons or bibs, ensemble with dark basic dresses high on the list of the season's glance-getters. The red plaiston, shown top right with a gray crepe dress of Anna Miller's design, is tab-tied under the arms for easy removal when the basic dress needs to be stripped for a change of accessories.

Tips Teach You Care Of Girdles
By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Top requirement for Summer care of girdles when hot weather wear threatens to shorten their life expectancy are frequent sudings and prompt repairs. Laundering a girdle after every wearing is not too often if a garment is dampened by perspiration. To preserve the lines of the garment and the stretch of the elastic, wash your girdle in mild, lukewarm suds. Soiled spots yield to gentle brushing with a soft-bristled brush or soapy turkish towel. Three rinsings in clear lukewarm water are recommended for flushing all traces of soap out of the fabric. Wrap girdle in a turkish towel and knead gently to blot up as much water as possible. To dry, ease garment back into its original shape—smooth out shoulder straps and garters, stuff bust cups with tissue paper. Lay flat on a towel or hang evenly over a rod for drying. Never hang up by the garters. Don't try to speed up drying by exposing girdle to direct heat or sunlight, because this will damage the elastic. Fabric sections may be pressed with a warm iron but elastic sections should not be ironed. Patch holes in elastic with new elastic if possible, sewing with zig-zag stitches. Don't lap under the edges of the patch which may create an uncomfortable bump. New elastic or strong tape may be used to replace worn sections. If tape is used, cut it the same length as the elastic section fully stretched.

Kermit Schools Have Record Enrollment
KERMIT—Enrollment in Kermit schools, at the close of the second day of registrations, had smashed all previous records, and expectations are the next two weeks will bring still more students into the system, Supt. G. E. Thompson said. Enrollments Thursday were 1,470, an increase of 130 students over the 1,340 enrolled on the same date last year. A total of 919 students were enrolled in the first six grades; 335 in junior high school; and 216 in the three senior high school grades. While classes were not started until Thursday, official opening of the school was Wednesday morning when a get-acquainted breakfast was given in the high school cafeteria for all faculty members. With all schools to be closed Monday for the Labor Day holiday, and most of this week devoted to registrations and arrangements of schedules, Thompson stated classes would not really get underway until Tuesday.

Air Force Private Takes Sweet Revenge

LANCASTER, PA.—(AP)—Revenge is sweet, said the former Air Force Private.

A World War II veteran, who declined use of his name but said he served three and a half years and went on 40 missions with the 15th Air Force, found himself the possessor of that rarest of present day prizes—an apartment to rent. He inserted this ad in the newspaper:

You Can Live Cheaper Than In 1939 On Oranges, Electricity, Apples, Gas

If this girl actually lived on oranges (instead of just getting paid for posing in them) she could beat the cost of living. Oranges are one consumer item that's cheaper today than in 1939.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN WASHINGTON—(NEA)—If you could keep body and soul together just on oranges, apples, electricity and commercial gas, you could really lick today's record-high cost of living.

Electricity and commercial gas are the only consumer items which have gone down in price since 1939, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. The drop has been approximately one per cent.

And oranges and apples are the only foods which the Bureau shows have gone down since the war—apples about one half cent a pound and oranges about seven cents a dozen.

Those figures are national averages and of course vary widely among communities. But they do show that the word "down" still exists to describe some prices.

None of the 50 key foods which the Bureau checks regularly is below 1939 prices. And only oranges and apples have come down since 1946 when most price controls were lifted. The total average increase of food prices has been 129 per cent since then.

Have Risen The Least

Since 1939 the important foods which have risen the least, not including oranges and apples, are milk (up 79 per cent) and spinach and canned peas (up only 25 per cent). Those items are also on the small list of foods which have dropped in price since last March. That list includes wheat flour, salt pork, fresh green beans, dried prunes, sugar, navy beans, onions, canned tomatoes and frozen fish.

The Bureau reports that prices went down slightly since last March on a very few items such as men's shirts and pajamas, some radios and refrigerators and on some other electrical appliances.

It must be remembered, the experts point out, that a dollar and cents decrease in price is actually a much greater decrease in comparison with generally higher wages throughout the country. Many items which don't show an actual money decrease, really have decreased in price in terms of increased purchasing power. So the price situation isn't all black.

Library Offers Wanted Story In Magazine Form

Many inquiries have been made at the Midland County Library about the story which was the basis of the film "Red River," Mrs. Lucile Carroll, librarian, said. The film was shown here last week.

It was adapted from "Chisholm Trail," a novel by Borden Chase which appeared serially in the Saturday Evening Post from Dec. 7, 1946, to Jan. 11, 1947. Mrs. Carroll said, adding that the library circulates all magazines except the current issues. Reservations and renewals of magazines, as well as books, may be made by telephoning the library.

New Sinclair Novel

Books just received in the library include several copies of Upton Sinclair's latest novel, "One Clear Call," the ninth of the "Lanny Budd" series. The story of Lanny is perhaps the most widely read of modern American historical novels, in this country and also abroad.

The present action-packed volume takes Lanny to Italy in 1943 just before the invasion of Sicily. From there he continues his duties as presidential agent in world capitals. Authentic history and famous persons, living and dead, who frequent the pages of these novels along with the fictitious characters, add interest to the books.

Books Change Shelves

Mrs. Carroll announces a list of books which have been moved from the rental group to the seven-day shelves. Non-fiction on this list includes World Communism Today (M. Ebon), My Life as a Teacher (J. J. Erskine), Africa, I Presume? (Alan Reeve), Cotton in My Ears (F. Warfield), A Streetcar Named Desire (Williams).

On the same list are these books of fiction: Lucinda Brayford (Boyd), I Thee Wed (Gabriel), Special Nurse (Hancock), Arabesque (Household), Came a Cavalier (Keyes), Fare by My Side (Knight), The Pleasant Morning Light (Lawrence), I Want to Go Home (Lockridge), A Light in the Window (Rhinehart), Another Year (Sherriff), Fire (Stewart), Tammy Out of Time (Sumner), An Author Bites the Dust (Upfield).

Time Is Extended

Another group of books has been transferred from the seven-day to the two-week shelves. The non-fiction books are First Five Years of Life (Greell), Inside U. S. A. (Gunter), The Gay Genius (Lin Yu-Tang), Loud Red Patrick (McKenney), Other Side of the Record (O'Connell), Animal Tales (Sanderson), Music and Reason (Smith), 50 Great Americans (Thomson).

Fiction in this group includes There Was a Time (Caldwell), The Moneyman (Ostain), Dead at the Take-Off (Dent), West in the Saddle (Keyes), Beckoning Trails (Loring), Unless Two Be Agreed (Feiler), The Sealed Verdict (Shapiro), Vain Shadow (Spence), Death Will Find Me (Stears), Adversary in the House (Stone), Something Wonderful to Happen (Teihet), and The Hidden Portal (Weston).

Texan Directs Landing Operations On Modern 35,000-Ton Aircraft Carrier

By TEX EASLEY

ABOARD THE USS PHILIPPINE SEA—(AP)—A Texan is the one man more directly responsible than any other individual for the safety of the pilots who operate from this modern 35,000-ton aircraft carrier.

He is Cmdr. S. S. Searcy, Jr., 38, of San Antonio. He answers directly to the skipper, Capt. John L. Pratt.

His title is that of air officer. Under him come the men who guide the planes for takeoffs and landings, service them and make any necessary repairs.

One of the highlights of these present training operations in the North Atlantic off the New England Coast occurred recently when fighter planes and torpedo bombers flew 150 miles to sea from a Rhode Island base to land in total darkness.

A British air mission official was on board to watch the latest development in American "Carrier Control Approach" operations. Like the Air Force "Ground Control Approach," the CGA can bring the aircraft in when visibility is at a minimum. And a carrier deck is a pretty small target.

Tense Moment

It was a tense moment as the first plane approached, banked sharply and raced toward the stern of the Philippine Sea. Her flight deck is 870 feet long and 93 feet wide. She was plowing ahead through the waves at 32 miles per hour.

Seconds before the pilot made a sharp descending bank the faint landing lights that outline the deck switched on.

You held your breath as he roared down over the stern and cut his motor. The tires went whop, and the lines that stretch across the deck as a barrier caught a hook which hangs down from the tail. Instantly the lights again were out.

And in a flash a dozen men leaped up on the deck from the catwalk which hangs over the sides of the ship, unfastened the line from the tail hook, and pushed the aircraft on up the deck out of the way.

All this took about 30 seconds. I own came the next plane. The third craft slipped and was waved off for another try. . . . the signals given by a man in a suit with a fluorescent lighting arrangement that makes him appear like a grotesque neon sign.

Probably the most impressive thing about all this landing and launching from a carrier, both day and night, is the teamwork.

On this carrier it is due to the keen admiration the men have for Commander Searcy. Himself a

Road Flames Up As Mercury Hits 98

CONOVER, N. C.—(AP)—The highway caught fire recently just as the thermometer hit 98.

State Highway Foreman Ivey Curlee found the asphalt burning right at the intersection of State Routes 321 and 16.

After putting out the blaze, Curlee did some checking and found an overturned smudge pot. He also learned two small boys had passed along shortly before the fire.

"I saw three of those in a pool in a man's yard once," he said. "That was down in my hometown in Texas."

He identified himself then as Charles Peters of Edinburg, and says he's going back to the Rio Grande Valley some day to live. On duty in the same part of the ship with him were Frank Coon of Orange and Dall Dunlap of Rochester.

Earlier in the day on hangar deck I encountered Machinist Mate Louis G. Di Iorio of Hempstead. He's been in the Navy seven years and was aboard the carrier Enterprise when it was bombed in the Pacific.

R. J. Harrell of Dallas electronics technician, and A. L. Simmons of Amarillo, engineer, also were aboard the carrier.

Labor-Savers Help Make Home Ship-Shape And Shining For Fall

Soft, pliable rope of glass fibers makes this new weather-stripping. Young housewife seals up window crack by poking strip in place with a kitchen knife.

Miniature electric buffer does all the work of polishing furniture for a housewife.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

A battery of new labor-savers promises to help Mrs. America put her house in snug and shining order before the first chill winds of Autumn blow.

Thanks to new glass fiber weather-stripping, for example, Mrs. A. can plug up cracks around windows, doors and baseboards implemented by only a kitchen knife. In this weather-stripping, glass fibers are pressed together into a soft, pliable half-inch wide rope. All Mrs. A. needs to do in order to seal up a crack is to push the rope in place with the back of a knife. The glass strip is impervious to moisture, cannot rot and offers no food to pests.

Patching up cracks in the cement floors of a basement, porch or garage with a minimum of muss and effort is the job assigned to another newcomer. Ready-mixed cement packaged in a 20-pound bag, which is sufficient for many minor repairs, needs only the addition of water and a stirring stick and it is set for patch-work.

On her round of pre-Autumn repairs, Mrs. A. can take the squeak out of stairways or beds, tighten wobbly balusters, chair or table rungs with one small bottle of a resinous chemical preparation. A few drops of this liquid is squirted into a wood joint or socket with an oil can or eye dropper or it may be applied with the sponge applicator in the bottle. The liquid swells up wood fibers, locking the squeaky stair tread or rung securely into its socket.

With a miniature electric buffer in her hand, all that a housewife has to do in order to shine up household wood surfaces is to touch

Industrial Use Of New Energy Lags

WASHINGTON—(AP)—If you have any idea that atomic energy already has aided industry widely—in the production sense—pull up a chair.

It just hasn't. The general advisory committee to the atomic energy commission says that even with the best technical breaks it doesn't see how it would be possible for "any considerable portion" of the world's present power supply to be replaced by atomic fuel in less than twenty years.

Industry's other great act in the atomic field—the "isotopes"—are being extensively used in industrial laboratories.

But—Despite their possibilities for the future, these peacetime by-products found of A-bomb development have so far found only a few uses on production lines.

They are being used almost entirely on investigative work—covering projects to which the manufacturers of steel, machinery, rubber, gasoline, oil, plastics, rayon, chemicals, drugs and other things are looking to get better and more economical production.

A wealth of fundamental knowledge is being gained, but you can count on your fingers the number of applications to everyday work in industry to date.

Walla Walla Men Want Facts On Texas

AUSTIN—(AP)—Two Walla Walla, Wash., men telephoned long distance to Austin to talk to acting Gov. Allan Shivers about several matters.

They wanted to know:
1. The outcome of the U. S. senatorial race between Coke Stevenson and Lyndon Johnson.

2. The size of the Texas wheat crop.

3. Whether Joe Stalin was born in Waco, Texas.

The men said they used to live in Texas. They said the question about Joe Stalin's birthplace arose when another man said Joe was born in Waco, and one of the two busted the man in the snout.

Miss Texas Seeks Career In Art After Graduation

ORANGE, TEXAS.—(AP)—Most entrants in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N. J., will be looking toward careers in the movies, on the stage, or in radio or television.

Not so Bonnie Bland, the 20-year-old, green-eyed blonde from Orange County, Texas, who will carry the banner of the Lone Star State. Miss Bland will settle for nothing less than a career in commercial art, preferably designing.

While the others have been slaving away at practicing their singing, dramatics or dancing, the lady from Texas has been working quietly with brush, paints, ink, sewing machine and yards and yards of satin and stuff.

All Miss America entrants are required to display some form of talent before the judges but it is limited to the lively arts. Miss Bland sings well enough to draw a good many listeners for a local radio show and will depend on that ability to fulfill the talent requirement at Atlantic City.

Helped Make Dress
When the girls are called upon to parade before the Miss America judges in evening gowns, Miss Bland will be wearing one she designed and helped to make herself.

The beautiful Southern Belle number Miss Bland wore during the evening gown parade in the Miss Texas contest some weeks ago was her own creation. The other entrants over whom she won that competition weren't exactly dressed in rags.

Miss Bland and her teachers discovered the talent for creative art late in her college career. She started out with dramatics in mind but switched to commercial art in her junior year. She is a student at the University of Texas and had enough credits this year to receive a bachelor of arts degree but is going back for another term this Fall in order to complete a major in art.
