Turner And Hewley Get Flowing Oil In E-C Upton

Fred Turner, Jr. and J. M. Hewley, Sr., No. 1 Barnett, East-Central Upton County wildcat, flowed clean oil for approximately 15 hours from a Pennsylvania section, and the oil yield was increasing at the end of that period when it was shut in on account of all storage on the lease being filled.

At the start of an eight-hour period of gauging the well tanked 21.3 barrels of pipe line oil, through a three-quarter inch tubing choke, in the first 60 minutes.

Gauging Started
During the eighth hour of gauging the new discovery showed a recovery of 29 barrels of oil, through a one-quarter inch tubing choke. Gravity of the petroleum was reported as 55-degrees and gas-oil ratio was 2,500-1.

Informed sources reported that the well was showing a steady increase in oil, and a reduction in the gas-oil ratio, as flowing progressed.

Flowing tubing pressure was 1-350 pounds. More testing will be undertaken as soon as additional storage is available.

Flows After Acid
The oil and gas is coming from perforated sections in the casing at 9,982-85 feet; at 10,822-68 feet; at 10,987-100 feet, and at 10,137-140 feet, in the Pennsylvania.

Those intervals had been treated with 2,000 gallons of mud acid.

After the injection had been pumped into the formation operators pulled the swab ten times and the well kicked off and started flowing.

The fluid was run to pits for five hours to clean, and was then turned to tanks. The flow was not gauged the first two hours. Then at the start of the third hour of flowing to tanks operators started measuring the oil.

The flow was through a three-quarter inch choke, and in the first 60 minutes the recovery was 21.3 barrels of oil. In the next hour a total of 23.7 barrels of oil was gauged.

During the third and fourth hours no gauges were reported, but the well continued to flow steadily. In the fifth hour the well made 19 barrels and in the sixth hour 20 barrels.

Choke Reduced
At the start of the seventh hour of gauging the choke was reduced to a one-quarter inch opening. In the next 60 minutes a total of 20 barrels of oil was produced. The petroleum yield jumped to 28 barrels in the eighth hour. At the end of that period the well was shut in for more storage.

This new discovery is three miles northwest of the discovery well for Ellenburger production in the Benedict field and is 1,800 feet from north and 860 feet from east lines of section 4, block Y, GC&SF survey.

It was drilled to a total depth of 12,367 feet, into the Ellenburger, by Humble Oil & Refining Company, Ellenburger West Warren.

That formation was topped at 11,650 feet. It did not show any signs of commercial oil or gas. The project was then turned to Turner and Hewley, and Humble retained an over-ride on the quarter section in which it is located.

The new owners set a liner on bottom, and tested the Ellenburger formation, but failed to develop any appreciable showings of petroleum.

They set a retaining at 10,211 feet, and perforated the Pennsylvania sections which have made the oil.

It is understood that as soon as more tank room is available the new discovery will be given an extended testing and its oil and gas yield holds up, as the initial tests have indicated, it will be put on production.

Johnson Will 'Tell The People'

DALLAS—(AP)—Lyndon Johnson, who claims victory in the U. S. Senate race, promised to tell the people "what has been going on" in his 7:30 p. m. broadcast Monday night.

Johnson led his opponent, Coke Stevenson, by 162 votes in the latest Texas Election Bureau report. The last tabulation by the unofficial vote reporting agency was made Saturday at 9 p. m. Bob Johnson, bureau manager, said no further reports would be made unless there was an unusual change in the vote.

The count Saturday was Johnson 494,158, Stevenson 493,996.

Johnson, in announcing Monday night's broadcast, refused to elaborate further on what he would say. Stevenson said he had no statement to make Sunday. But last week he said he would not accept as final any unofficial tabulation of the votes. The official count will be made when the state Democratic executive subcommittee appointed to canvass the vote meets in Fort Worth September 13.

Gov. Beauford Jester said Sunday night both candidates and several other persons had talked to him about an investigation of the race.

Jester said he did not want to make any further statement until he had looked into the matter to see if it is within his province.

Reds Renew Protests On MacArthur Policy

TOKEYO—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Kusuma Derevyanko, fresh from Moscow, renewed Soviet protests against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's labor policy.

Through a press officer, General Derevyanko, Soviet member of the Far Eastern Commission, demanded immediate cancellation of the ban on strikes by government workers.

Berlin Reds Smash Into City Hall

Truman Campaign Starts With Blasts On Prices, Housing

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—(AP)—President Truman formally began his campaign Monday by again blaming the Republican-controlled 80th Congress for high prices and housing shortages.

Truman told an estimated crowd of 20,000 here that Congress had failed to act in the people's interest. The speech drew scattered applause. It was the first of six which Truman planned for the Labor Day start of his campaign for a new term.

The President said he could stop the rise in prices now if the 80th Congress had given him the authority he requested.

He also lashed at the legislators for failure to act on low-cost housing. He said the "Real Estate Lobby" didn't want low-rent housing and GOP leaders had blocked a House vote on the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill.

Truman coupled this with a charge that Senator Taft (R-Ohio), one of the sponsors of the housing measure, "ran out on his own bill."

Elsewhere across the nation, the Democratic Party rolled up most of its big guns for a drumfire attack on the Taft-Hartley Act in particular and the Republicans in general.

Truman's schedule called for five speeches before nightfall in the native state of his GOP opponent, New York's Gov. Thomas Dewey. A sixth was on tap Monday night at Toledo, in the home state of Senator Robert A. Taft, co-author of the year-old labor-management relations law.

The Republicans generally held their fire Monday.

Harold E. Stassen has been picked to deliver the party's official "answer" to the President Tuesday night. He will speak from Detroit. (Continued on page 7)

Polish Communists Push Party Purge

WARSAW—(AP)—The Polish Communist Workers Party Monday embarked on a purge of nationalist members and called for a "class war" in farm villages throughout the nation.

Party leaders and organizers from all Poland assembled in Warsaw at the summons of President Boleslaw Beirut for a council of war on a party split which endangers the Communist grip on Poland.

The party members were told in a public communique of the party executive committee that there must be a "full liquidation" of all members who fail to follow the Marxist-Leninist line as handed down by Moscow.

The communique also made clear that the Communists intended to push through socialization of production in peasant villages, one of the issues which caused the party split. The party organizers got orders to sell the socialization plan to the peasants.

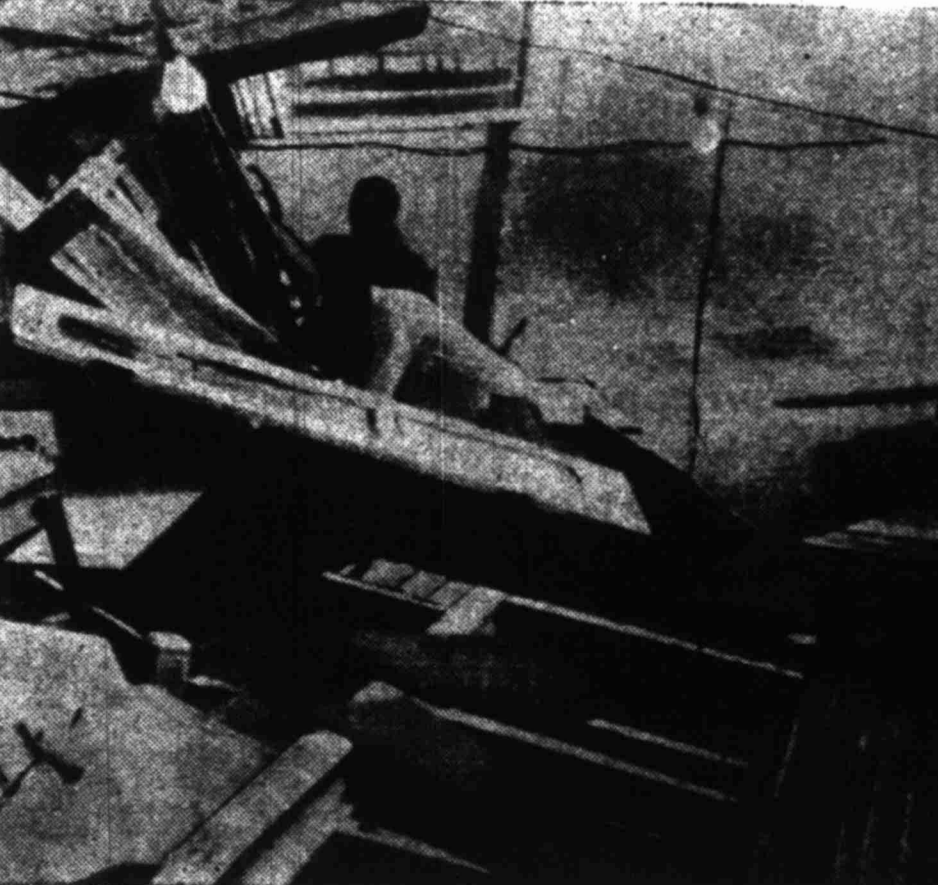

First Dollar Day Scheduled Tuesday

Midland's first city-wide Dollar Day in recent years will be held Tuesday, with practically all retail merchants participating.

Outstanding values in all lines of merchandise will be offered in the special event, which in the future will be held the first Monday of each month.

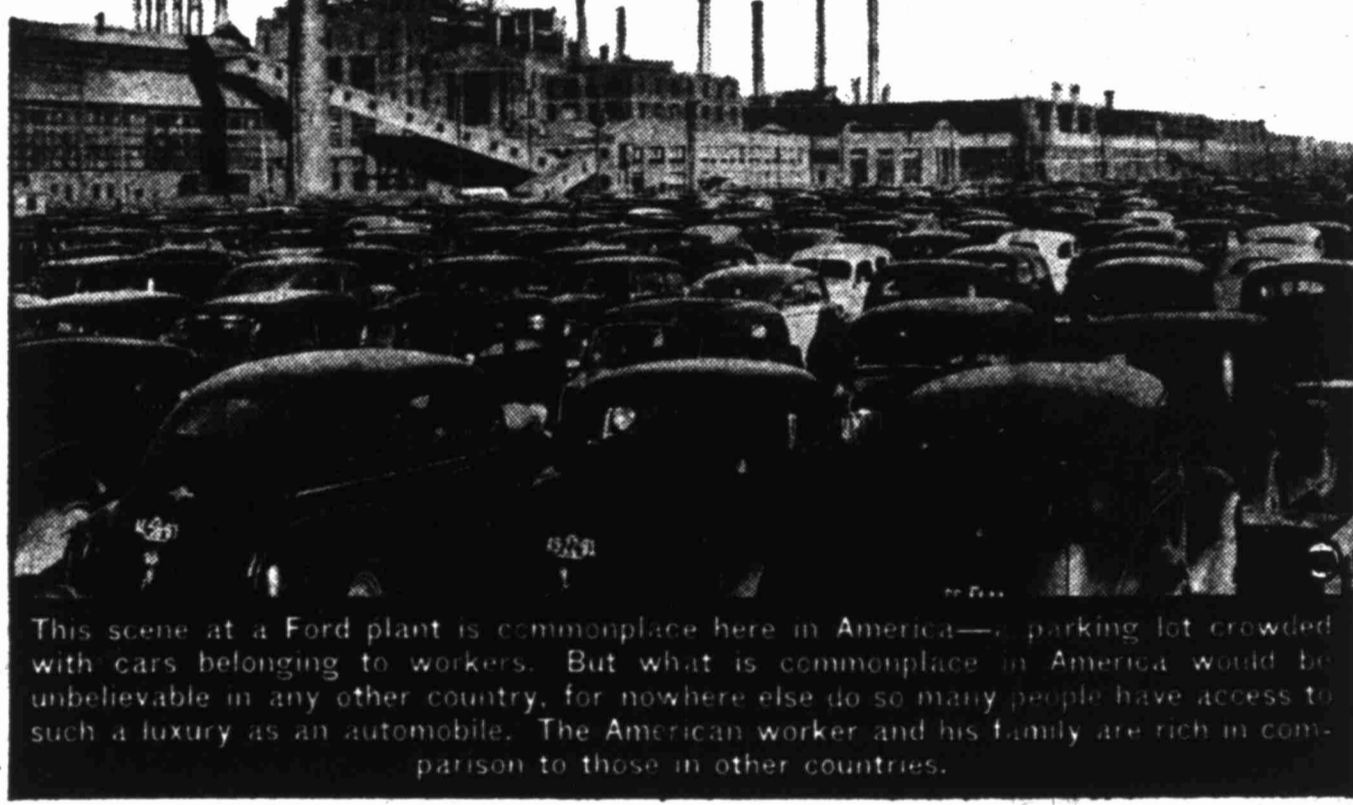

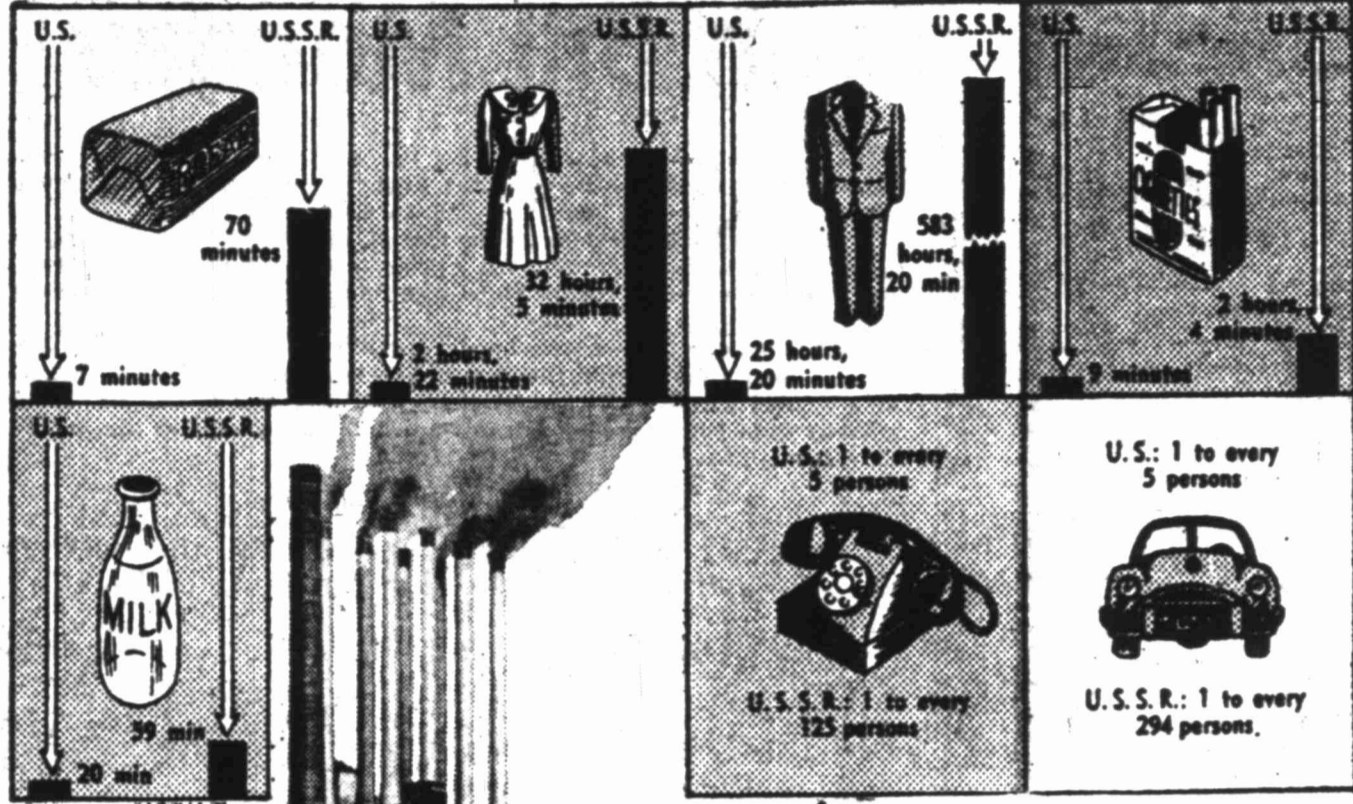

The Dollar Days are expected to attract hundreds of shoppers from Midland and area cities.

Tempest In A Restaurant

This lakeview seafood restaurant in New Orleans, La., was completely demolished when the gulf hurricane ripped through the ancient city and headed for the Mississippi coast. Water and mist, background, from Lake Pontchartrain, are blowing over the sea wall.

Food for Labor Day Thought

This scene at a Ford plant is commonplace here in America—parking lot crowded with cars belonging to workers. But what is commonplace in America would be unbelievable in any other country, for nowhere else do so many people have access to such a luxury as an automobile. The American worker and his family are rich in comparison to those in other countries.

Baseball, Dance And Barbecue Are Labor Day Events

Labor Day in Midland is being observed in a quiet and dignified manner, with no public celebrations or special events scheduled during the day.

Business practically was at a standstill, with the banks and practically all retail stores, service firms, professional offices, and city, county, government and oil company offices closed for the day.

A doubleheader baseball game between the Midland Indians and the Big Spring Broncos is slated at 8 p. m. in Indian Park, ringing down the curtain on regular season play in the Longhorn League. An overflow crowd is anticipated.

Public Dance
A Labor Day dance sponsored by the Local Union No. 1428 of the Carpenters and Joiners of America will be held Monday night in the American Legion Hall. The public is invited. Pitz Fitzgerald's Orchestra will play. The union members and their families were to attend a barbecue at 1 p. m. at Cloverdale Park.

Many Midlanders took advantage of the long weekend holiday to make trips near and far prior to the opening of school Tuesday.

County and city peace officers reported holiday weekend was unusually quiet up to Monday morning; however, they and state highway patrolmen were prepared for a busy Monday afternoon and night. With highways filled with motorists, officers feared an increase in traffic mishaps.

Mrs. Rachel Drake, director of special education for exceptional children in the Midland school system, said Monday all children who will be enrolled in her department should report to her Tuesday morning at the West Elementary School. Classes will be held on the regular school schedule, she said.

High school students will report at 8:30 a. m. and junior high and elementary pupils at 8:55 a. m. The first grade will dismiss at 2:30 p. m.; second at 3 p. m.; third at 3:30 p. m.; fourth and fifth at 3:40 p. m.; junior high at 3:45 p. m.; and high school at 4 p. m.

Cafeterias in the various schools will be open Tuesday noon, officials said.

Schools Listed
Schools of the Midland Independent District include the high school, junior high, West, North and South Elementary, Air Terminal Elementary, Latin American and Carver.

The only other public school in the county is the Greenwood Consolidated Common School, which also will open its 1948-49 term Tuesday. The Stokes and McClintic districts were merged early this year to form the new district. The school is located adjacent to the Greenwood Baptist Church on the Stokes road.

All buildings will be crowded again this year, but officials said a regular schedule will be maintained.

Room assignment rosters will be placed on doors at the elementary and junior high schools. New students who have not registered may do so in the offices of the principals.

LUBBOCK—(AP)—Classes will begin Sept. 30 at Texas Technological College with an estimated 6,800 students. Early registration has reached 4,000.

Thurmond Will Visit Midland

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, a candidate for President of the United States on the Dixiecrat States' Rights ticket, will visit Midland Thursday afternoon, it was announced Monday.

An informal reception is planned for the prominent Southerner at 3 p. m. in Hotel Scharbauer, with the public invited to attend. The South Carolinian will speak.

Governor Thurmond, who is in Texas on an election-seeking campaign, is making a swing through West Texas this week. He will be in Lubbock Wednesday, in Big Spring and Midland Thursday, and in San Angelo Friday. He was accorded a preferential majority vote in the recent Democratic runoff primary in Houston.

The presidential candidate is from Edgefield County, S. C., and is a former district attorney and circuit judge. He is a combat veteran of World War II, and is a bitter opponent of the Truman-proposed "civil rights program."

Public Schools Will Open Fall Term Tuesday

Doors of Midland public schools will swing open Tuesday for an anticipated record enrollment of between 5,400 and 5,500 students, Supt. Frank Monroe announced.

The enrollment at the end of school last May was approximately 3,200. A full day of classroom activities is in store for students on opening day, he said.

Mrs. Rachel Drake, director of special education for exceptional children in the Midland school system, said Monday all children who will be enrolled in her department should report to her Tuesday morning at the West Elementary School. Classes will be held on the regular school schedule, she said.

High school students will report at 8:30 a. m. and junior high and elementary pupils at 8:55 a. m. The first grade will dismiss at 2:30 p. m.; second at 3 p. m.; third at 3:30 p. m.; fourth and fifth at 3:40 p. m.; junior high at 3:45 p. m.; and high school at 4 p. m.

Two American Newsmen Are Hurt In Fights

BERLIN—(AP)—Communist-led demonstrators smashed into Berlin's City Hall Monday, using battering rams and breaking windows.

Two American correspondents were injured in fist fights during rioting inside the building. The camera of a third American was smashed.

The disorder, the third of its kind in 10 days, was apparently intended to force the Anti-Communist government from power.

Soviet-controlled police made no attempt to halt the Communist assault. There were indications the riots were a prelude to a Communist attempt to set up an "action committee" government over the dissension-torn and blockaded city.

The rioting took place as the four military governors prepared to meet a mile or two away in an attempt to solve the crisis brought on by the Soviet blockade of the city since late June.

A shock unit of 50 to 60 youths smashed the outer gate to spearhead the demonstrators. They broke windows to the inner building, and poured through to overcome resistance by unarmed City Hall guards.

The rioters, singing the "International" and shouting Communist slogans, took over the City Hall assembly room.

The Americans manhandled were Associated Press photographer Henry Burroughs, whose camera was smashed, and Ernest Leiser, Overseas News Agency correspondent, who was slugged. The demonstrators yanked a telephone out of my own hands and ripped out the telephone plugs.

The demonstrators beat up Leiser, who went to Burroughs' aid. Joseph Evans, Wall Street Journal correspondent, who went to Leiser's aid, was thrown down a flight of stairs and knocked unconscious. Evans said he attacked by the Soviet-controlled police.

The demonstrators were quickly engaged by the small force of civilian guards when they first entered the building but quickly subdued these unarmed city employees in a flurry of fistfights.

Leaders of the demonstrators stood on the balcony of the assembly hall and shouted to the milling crowd below to clear the lower floor "so the City Parliament cannot blame us for preventing their meeting."

Three Russian liaison officers sitting in the balcony watched impassively as the crowd churned about. One of the Soviet-controlled policemen, asked why he did not stop the demonstrators, said:

"We have no authority here. The city government wanted its own guards in the building." The police, like several other city government agencies, are split between West and East control because Russia refused to recognize city orders.

After the rioting, Deputy Mayor Ferdinand Friedensrow told a news conference the Soviet-controlled police had arrested a "considerable number" of city employees who had tried to stop the demonstrators.

The police threw a cordon around the building and started checking all passes. They were reported locking for 20 members of the Western sector police who, in plain clothes, had been brought into the building to protect the Assembly from demonstrators.

The minority in the city administration representing the Communist-controlled Socialist Unity Party (SED) tried to hold a brief ramp session in mid-afternoon but used the session only for propaganda speeches. Anti-Communist members of the Assembly had left the building.

Carl Litke, SED leader, charged the city government with irresponsibility and demanded that "millions of Berliners take a hand and get the government going again."

Russia Calls For Big Four Meeting On Italian Colonies

LONDON—(AP)—Russia has called for a Big Four meeting before September 15 to settle the future of Italy's prewar colonies, Moscow radio said Monday.

The broadcast said a formal request for a session of the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and France was submitted in notes delivered Saturday.

In Washington, the State Department said Sunday night it had not received such a note.

The Italian peace treaty fixes September 15 as the deadline for an agreement among the Big Four powers on what is to be done about Somalia, Eritrea and Libya. In the event there is no agreement, the treaty states, the problem goes to the United Nations for settlement. The UN Assembly meets in Paris September 21.

Bulgaria's Ouster Of American Diplomat Is Called Plain Frame-Up

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States Monday labeled as a plain frame-up Bulgaria's ouster of an American diplomat on a charge of spying.

A "transparently fabricated" maneuver was the way the State Department officially described the second incident of its kind behind the iron curtain of Eastern Europe.

The central figure this time was Donald F. Ewing, vice consul of the American Legation at Sofia.

The Bulgarian radio said Sunday that Ewing's immediate recall was arranged after his arrest in July while "getting important written espionage information from two Bulgarians."

The radio described the pair as agents for American Intelligence and said the data they were giving Ewing was "of a military, economic and political character representing state secrets."

Eight Bosox-Yank Games May Decide American League Title

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It becomes more apparent every day that the eight home-stretch games between the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees will decide the American League pennant.

Should either the front-running Red Sox or the runner-up Yankees capture six or seven games, they would come close to clinching the flag. On the other hand, a split in the eight games could conceivably enable the third-place Cleveland Indians to take the bunting.

Of the three contenders, the Indians are favored most by the schedule since they play only six of their 25 games on the road. The Indians are booked for only one more game each with the Red Sox and Yankees, both at home.

The schedule gives the Yankees the worst of it. In addition to three games with Boston, the Yankees play only two of their remaining 25 games at home. Both are against the fourth-place Philadelphia Athletics Monday. The Red Sox play 11 of their remaining 26 games at home.

The Red Sox went 10 innings Sunday to defeat the Athletics 4-3 to retain their half-game edge over the Yankees. The Yanks kept pace with the Sox, whipping the Washington Senators 5-3.

Rain caused postponement of the Indians-Browns game at St. Louis. The Indians trail the Red Sox by three and a half games. In the remaining American League game, the Chicago White Sox nipped the Detroit Tigers 4-3 on Luke Appling's ninth-inning single.

The Boston Braves maintained their two-game advantage over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers in the equally tight National League race, defeating the Philadelphia Phils 5-1 while the Dodgers nipped the New York Giants 4-3 in a 12-inning thriller.

The third-place St. Louis Cardinals trounced the Reds in Cincinnati 5-1. The fourth-place Pittsburgh Pirates divided a doubleheader with Chicago, winning the opener 7-3 but losing the nightcap 11-3. The Bucs lost ground to trail by four and a half games.

Ted Williams' fourth hit, a double, and a single by Wally Moses in the 10th won for the Red Sox.

Joe DiMaggio was the big gun in the Yankees' triumph. He slammed his 33rd home run and started a two-run, sixth-inning rally with a two-out double.

George Shuba's pinch hit double with two out and the bases loaded in the 12th climaxed a three-run winning Dodger rally. The Giants had taken a 3-1 advantage in the top of the 12th on Johnny Mize's second home run of the game with one on.

BEAT BALLINGER CATS 4-1 IN SUNDAY GAME—

Tribe Closes Out Regular Play With Twin Bill Monday

The Midland Indians and the Big Spring Broncs collide at 8 p. m. Monday in a big Labor Day holiday attraction which will ring down the curtain on regular season Longhorn League play here.

Two seven-inning games will be played. There will be a 20-minute intermission between games. Big Spring is the league leader. Midland is in third place. Both clubs have clinched Shaughnessy playoff spots.

In 18 games this season between Midland and Big Spring, the Indians have won six and the Broncs 11. One game was tied. There is a heated rivalry between Midland and Big Spring for no other reasons than both have good teams and have been high in the league all season.

In a surprisingly good ball game when no great issue was at stake, the Midland Indians sacked the Ballinger Cats 4-1 Sunday behind the six-hit pitching of Dick Willenberg.

Both clubs were loose and relaxed and put on a good contest.

Not only was Willenberg lots of pitcher Sunday but he became a slugger. The little right-handed pitcher slapped out a seventh-inning home run which brought him about $80 from the fans.

A feature of the game was a foot race between Harold Webb of the Indians and Bill Atwood of the Cats. Webb held his own for 25 yards but Atwood finished fast to win the sprint from center field to home plate. Umpire Sadowski ruled Webb won the race.

The victory was Midland's 13th over Ballinger in 20 games this season. The Cats won seven. The Sunday win swept a two-game series here for the Indians.

Ballinger scored in the first. Wynns erred on George walked. Williams got a fluke hit. Cowser flied out scoring Wynns. Atwood hit into a double play.

Tied It—Went Ahead

Midland tied up the game in the third. Specht hit. Willenberg hit a fielder's choice and Specht was out at second. Collins singled. Jakes walked. Presley grounded out scoring Willenberg. Prince walked. Melillo fouled out.

The Indians added a run in the fifth to go ahead. Willenberg flied out. Collins doubled. Jakes flied out. Presley singled scoring Collins. Prince singled. Melillo hit a Fielder's choice and Prince was out at second.

The Webbsmen collected an insurance run in the seventh. Willenberg hit his homer. Collins struck out. Jakes flied out. Presley walked. Prince walked. Melillo grounded out. Atwood hit into a double play. Midland in the eighth. Perry doubled. Guy hit scoring Perry. Specht hit a fielder's choice with Guy out at second. Willenberg flied out. Collins singled. Jakes flied out.

Cruces Has Two Games To Blast Home Run Mark

By The Associated Press

Amarillo's slugging outfielder, Bob Cruces, gets two chances Monday night to set a new organized baseball home run record.

The 29-year-old outfielder Sunday night hit two home runs against Pampa to tie the record of 69 set in 1933 by Joe Hauser of Minneapolis of the American Association.

Lubbock and Amarillo play a doubleheader at Amarillo Monday night as the West Texas-New Mexico League season comes to an end.

Pampa took the decision from the Gold Sox Sunday 13-12.

In other games, Albuquerque defeated Lamesa 7-5, Clovis downed Abilene 13-11, and Lubbock and Borger split. Borger won the first game 12-9, Lubbock the second 22-3.

Home runs were cheap.

John Bottarini, R. C. Otey and Dave Teyama hit them for Pampa; Doug Lewis, Paul Halter and Dick Gentakow for Amarillo.

In the Lubbock-Borger doubleheader, Parr Fowler hit three homers for Lubbock and so did Frank McAlexander and Don Moore. Moore got all of his in the second game. Virgil Richardson also socked one for the Hubbers, while Leon Mitchell hit two, Gordon Nell, Eddie Carnett and Bob Ferguson one each for Borger.

DOWN SPORTS LANE

with TANNER LAINE

Wayne Specht, Indian catcher, won the fourth "Player of the Week" watch given by Kruger's Jewelry. He was awarded the Gruen watch Sunday at home plate preceding the Ballinger-Midland game. Specht polled 387 votes.

Other Indians receiving votes included: Leland Crisaman 131, Julian Presley 114, Clyde Perry 108, Rip Collins 101, Dick Guy 64, Ernie Nelson 56, Sam Van Hoozer 26, Dick Willenberg 3, Jim Prince 3, Carriel Nipp 2, Levi Clay 2, Tony Farris 2.

Kruger's has consented to award one more watch for outstanding play this week during the Shaughnessy playoff.

We received good response from our appeal to you fans for the origin of the seventh-inning stretch.

Comes a letter from a reader in Wink, which we are letting you read:

Box 12
Wink, Texas
September 4, 1948

"Dear Mr. Laine:
I read with interest your question in yesterday's paper concerning the 'seventh-inning stretch'. The enclosed clipping is from 'Man to Man Answers' by Robert E. Pinkerton, and appeared in the September is-

"Perhaps someone will dig up the true story eventually. Just now there are two or more versions. One places the origin in Providence, R. I., in 1884 or 1886 when Providence and Boston of the National League were playing, but why all the crowd stood up in the middle of the seventh inning is not recorded. Another version gives President Taft the credit, the story being that he got up to stretch in a game in Pittsburgh. The crowd thought he was about to leave and stood up out of respect. Then the President sat down, and so did the crowd. One thing is certain. Anyone watching a tense game wants to stand up and relieve cramped muscles. Some day we may learn what gave them the seventh-inning excuse."

Buffet Dinner In Marion Flynt Home Honors College-Bound Crowd

A buffet dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Flynt, 101 North B Street, was given Saturday evening for their daughter, Dorothy Faye Holt, who will leave soon to be a student in the University of Texas, and a group of her friends, most of whom also are leaving this month for college.

Yellow linen covered the serving table, and quartet tables, at which the guests were seated in the playroom, were covered with yellow or green cloths and set with green pottery.

After the dinner the group went to the Midland Country Club for the first formal dance of the Fall season.

Guests, and the schools they plan to attend this year, were: Jim Griswold, Texas Tech; Norma Jean Hubbard, Christian College of Columbia, Mo.; Richard Berry;

Elizabeth Ann Cowden, University of Texas; Charles Kelly, Barbara York, Edgewood Park, New York; George Griswold, Texas Tech; Bonnie Bruner, University of Colorado; Bobby Hyatt, Texas A&M; Jeanine Stephens, Southern Methodist University; Penny Merz, Texas Tech; Pat Pryor, will be a senior in Midland School; Pat Ryan, Texas Tech; Grace Baker, University of Texas; Bud Aldridge, University of Texas.

Sub-Deb Pledges Presented Pins Following Dinner

Pledge pins were presented to the Sub-Deb Club pledges Sunday after they had been honored with a dinner at the Midland Country Club. Mrs. H. L. Bray and Mrs. William H. Pryor were hostesses for the dinner.

Flowers in the club colors, red and white, decorated the tables. They were the gift of Shirley Pulliam. After the one o'clock dinner, the group went to the home of Sarah Link, 1411 West Texas Street, for presentation of the pins.

WEDDING GUESTS LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Guenther, Sr. left Sunday for their home in Memphis, Tenn., after attending the wedding Saturday night of their son, Richard Stewart Guenther, Jr., and Mary Nell Casselman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Casselman of Midland. Mrs. E. E. McNeel of Atlanta, Ga., who was matron of honors at the wedding, also left Sunday by plane, for her home.

NEW YORK—Cape and coat fashions in which our well-dressed and ancestresses posed for pictures step out of their daguerreotype frames into Fall collections.

Autumn 1948 version of the full, two-tiered cape in which Great Aunt Sophia cut a swath is shown left. Claire McCardell uses red woolen for the cape and turns it into an ensemble by adding a long, full navy blue woolen skirt and red and navy-striped blouse of Winter cotton.

As typical of the period in which imposing capes wrapped a lady up in style is the long tubular coat which closed by clutching. The long line of the revival coat of wool, right, in light and dark oxford, plaided with red, is broken only by a curved hemline opening and a brief rolled collar. This coat is ensemble by designer McCardell with a gray worsted jersey dress in a complementary style.

Holiday Postpones Churches' Meetings

Because of the Labor Day holiday, most of the women's organizations in Midland churches postponed their regular Monday meetings this week.

Women of the First Presbyterian Church deferred their meeting one day, and will meet in Mrs. A. P. Shirey's home Tuesday afternoon. The Women's Council of the First Christian Church will have its general meeting next Monday.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church, and the Woman's Society of Christian Service in both the First Methodist and the Asbury Methodist Churches also deferred their scheduled programs. Only the Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary Union announced a meeting at the regular time, 3 o'clock Monday at the church.

TO MEET TUESDAY

The first Fall meeting of the Beta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be held at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Joe Hullum, 1000 North Loraine Street.

Missionary Speaks At First Baptist Service

Dr. William Williams, medical missionary to Nigeria, Africa, spoke at the morning service and presented slide pictures of Africa at the evening service of the First Baptist Church of Midland Sunday. The church supports the work of Doctor Williams by paying his salary.

The missionary, scheduled to sail for Africa this month, is now doing the work done by Dr. H. Glenn Walker of Midland before the latter was called to Army duty.

VISITING BRASHEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Val J. Ainsworth of Amarillo are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brashears and family. Mrs. Ainsworth and Mrs. Brashears are sisters.

TAKE A LOOK AT YOUR INSIDES

bad taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and daisy spells, you may be troubled with belching; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes, you may feel lacy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-aches; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning ("intestinal toxemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it).

HOW TO GET RELIEF
You can relieve this condition, usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bed time and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your druggists.

The American Team

On this third postwar Labor Day, American workers find that the worst has failed to materialize and the best is hopefully yet to come. The fear of widespread unemployment and loss of wages which gripped so many at the war's end has not been translated into reality. The great boom and bust has failed to materialize.

This year has been one of growing labor peace and stability. There have been strikes, of course, and some have been bitter. There have been threats of other strikes that would have been economically disastrous. But the disastrous ones have been prevented—in two instances by government intervention, but in the others by agreement.

This has also been the year of the Taft-Hartley Law. Labor Day speeches will contain a lot of angry words about that law. Yet the average pay of workers has increased under it. And a provision of the Taft-Hartley Law, coupled with the formation of Henry Wallace's third party, has produced one of the most notable achievements of the labor year.

That achievement has been the determination to wrest the divisive, subversive, cynical power from Communists who had infiltrated many of our unions. There are still Communists in important union posts. But they are fewer, and they are recognized, and their position is insecure. A law which made them stand up and be counted as Communists, and a party already marked by Communist support and policy, put them on the spot. Union members and their non-Communist officers acted with swift determination. Their action has removed a large part of the growing malignancy which threatened the healthy body of the labor movement.

So today the agitation for class struggle is weaker. Today fewer workers are listening to those who preached to them that they were a separate and exploited class apart. Fewer of them are lending innocent support to their enemies within their own ranks.

The result is that labor as a whole thinks of itself first as a body of Americans and second as a distinct division of American society. Labor has its own special problems and rights and duties, as always. But their recognition and achievement promise now to be reached more in balance with the good of our whole society. For the welfare of the nation and the welfare of its workers are inseparable and identical.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Hopeful Signs Appear, But It's Still Anybody's Cold War

By PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The indicated Moscow agreement to lift the blockade from Western Germany to Berlin may at first glance look like a victory for the United States, Britain and France. The off-setting victory for the Russians is the right to have their money used in all four sections of Berlin. Whoever controls the money of any area may be said to control its economy.

There are supposed to be four-power consultations on control of the money in Eastern Germany. But four-power management of other postwar problems has been notoriously unsuccessful.

So it would be wrong to say that the Moscow negotiations between Premier Stalin, Molotov, Ambassadors Smith, Roberts and Chateigneu represent a victory for anybody or a settlement of anything. The Moscow negotiations must be considered only in relation to what has gone before and what is yet to come between Russia and the West.

Balance Sheet
 The agreement does provide a convenient opportunity for a cold war review, to see where both sides stand. Battles that the United States and its Allies have won include these:

1. The Communists have been defeated in French and Italian elections. They have taken a set-back in Finland.
2. The Marshall Plan for Western European recovery seems to be catching on, though it is only five months old.
3. The so-called Truman Doctrine for aid to countries combating communism seems to be working. Without it, Greece at least and possibly Turkey might now be under Soviet domination. Russian aggression in Iran has been checked.
4. American, British and French zones of Western Germany have achieved a degree of economic unity. A start has been made on drafting a constitution and setting up a provisional German government.
5. Foundations have been laid for building a Western European Union for greater political, economic and mutual defense cooperation.
6. American, British and French occupation forces are determined to stick it out in Berlin. The new Moscow agreement may make no promises about relaxing Communist pressure to drive the Western Powers out of Berlin, however, so don't put this one in the bag.
7. Political refugees from behind the Iron Curtain are escaping into non-Communist territory in increasing numbers. Olympic athletes who refused to go home after the London games and the breaks for freedom by the two Russian teachers in New York indicate that all is not happiness in the Communist paradises.
8. The Cominform's break with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is another indication of lack of unity.
9. A provisional, democratic government has been set up in the U. S. zone of Korea, but its strength is uncertain.
10. The United States controls the situation in Japan.

Red Victories
 Against these favorable factors are a number of events which must be chalked up as Communist victories:

1. The Communist coup in Czechoslovakia was a hard blow.
2. Poland and Czechoslovakia and possibly Yugoslavia also were prevented from cooperation under the Marshall Plan.
3. Poland, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Albania have abandoned democracy for Communist dictatorship.
4. Writing of a peace treaty with Austria is stalemated.
5. The Danube River pact just dictated by Russia and okayed by her six satellites was a definite set-back for Western ideals.
6. Resumption of East-West trade, which is necessary for full European recovery, seems remote. Even reparations payments are blocked—both ways. For all practical purposes, Europe is split in two.
7. Unification of Germany and the writing of a peace treaty with a new Germany has been effectively blocked by the Russians.
8. Agreement on government of Trieste is similarly blocked.
9. There is no immediate prospect for the unity in Korea.
10. Effective operation of the United Nations has been made impossible by refusal of the Communist countries to join most UN agencies or to collaborate on most issues. It is still anybody's war and its end is not yet in sight.

Asthma Usually Leaves When Irritating Cause Is Removed

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
 Written for NEA Service

Shortness of breath and wheezing in the chest are common symptoms of asthma. The physician is helped in determining the seriousness of the condition and in prescribing treatment, by listening to the chest through a stethoscope and by examining X-ray films.

The seat of the trouble is principally in the small tubes leading from the main breathing tube into the lung tissue itself. The walls of these tubes become thickened, the passage is narrowed and filled with mucus.

Sometimes the bronchial tubes also undergo contractions or spasms which still further narrow the space and cut down the air supply. The coughing associated with asthma is nature's way of trying to enlarge the openings.

Asthma is usually due to an allergy—the sensitiveness of the patient to proteins outside his body. These may be inhaled or eaten. When the protein responsible can be found and eliminated from the vicinity of the victim, the results may be very good.

Even when that cannot be done, treatment which is not aimed at the ANSWER: Most authorities feel that none of the common forms of rheumatism are directly caused by overeating or deficiencies in diet. Of course, a diet which is badly out of balance will impair the general health.

allergic cause is sometimes quite successful. Some treatments which have been used include the direct application of an iodized oil, the use of X rays and the breathing of gaseous mixtures containing oxygen and helium.

Changing location or climate brings varying results—some are helped, others are not. A person with asthma, who is forced to consider a change, should give the new location a long trial period before deciding on a new permanent residence.

THE STORY: Hilary Shenstone, British secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a crushed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England and home. Next thing Hilary is aware of, he is back in London sleeping in at his club. But no one seems conscious of his presence. Hilary learns that his brother, George, has been getting in with Alice, Hilary's fiancée. He thinks it's all a dream until he overhears a report of his own death. Shocked at first, Hilary later decides to enjoy the situation. Next day he visits his mother's town house. George and his mother are awaiting Alice for lunch. They, too, are unaware of his presence. Hilary hears his mother encourage George to win Alice away from him. She says Hilary is too weak like his father to make a woman happy. She begins to cry and leaves the room when Alice comes in.

HILARY put down his impulse to escape from the room. Alice stood looking after his mother—slim and straight and fair and desirable, her pale gold hair gleaming in sculptured curls round her halo hat. If he had come home on leave this summer, and found her looking like this, surely he would have had the good sense to urge a date for their wedding? And what would she have said to that—now that George had come into it? He had to know. George had dumped the ice into the White Lady hastily and was now performing tunes with the shaker. "What upset her?" Alice was asking. "I thought perhaps she was worrying about Hilary again." "No," said George, and began to pour out into the little stemmed glasses with great care. "Are you?" "Well, I'm afraid I haven't been writing much either," she acknowledged defensively, "so I don't really deserve to hear. One loses touch." She accepted her glass from him and raised it.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
A short time ago I wrote up a hand played by Mrs. Gertrude Jobs and Mrs. Augusta Cantor of New York City. They are sisters, and at that time they had just won their first major victory, the Eastern States mixed team-of-four championship. Just recently they went up to the Adirondack Inn at Sacandaga Park, N. Y., and won the Adirondack women's pair championship, also the special pair event of the tournament. The sisters gave me today's hand, on which they won a top score in the tournament. The bidding is worth a comment or two. Many players would open the

with a little provocative smile. "Cheerio," she said, and drank. "Bung-bo," said George, and took his at a gulp. "Happy landings," murmured Hilary, watching them. "Alice—" George set down his glass with a clink. "—how much longer are you going to let things go on like this?" "What?" She raised startled blue eyes to his darkening gaze. "How much longer are you going to let me dangle?" "George, you're not to talk like that. I won't listen!" "YOU have to listen. I'm sick of waiting for Hilary to make up his mind to marry you," cried George angrily. "After all—where do I come in?" "George, Hilary never asked me to promise anything—actually. But if I choose to consider myself pledged—" "Pledged to what?" he jeered rudely. "To marry him if and when he asks you to set a date!" Alice drifted down the room, avoiding chairs and tables blindly, her hands pressed together. "Are you really in love with him?" demanded George, coming after her, so that she turned to face him, at bay against the grand piano. "Are you, Alice?" insisted Hilary softly. "I was." She hesitated. "I could have been. I'm not going to let him down now." "And what about me?" George asked with sudden humility. "You?" She tried to laugh it off. "You'll be all right! You've heaps of friends. But Hilary's all alone. He needs me." "So that's how it is," said Hilary, and he had never thought of it quite that way before. "But—you'd rather it was me?" George persisted hopefully. IOOF Pilgrimage Draws 3,000 Visitors

CORSICANA, TEXAS. — (AP) — The first annual pilgrimage of the IOOF homes in Corsicana and Ennis Sunday attracted an estimated 3,000 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. Federal District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, Dallas, was the principal speaker. He was introduced by Judge C. A. Wheeler of Austin, immediate past grand master of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the World. Leland E. DuPre, Dallas, was master of ceremonies and chairman. Miss Jennie Bain, Dallas, was co-chairman. Others appearing on the program included Grand Master Frank R. Rundell, Austin, and Rebekah President Gene Lawless of El Paso. Read The Classifieds.

At least four Cabinet officers, an assistant secretary and several Democratic senators, among them National Chairman J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island, were lined up to give the labor's support at the polls in November.

The President heard a pledge of that kind of backing when his special train stopped briefly at Harrisburg, Pa., Sunday night.

As he stepped down to greet a delegation of 20 Pennsylvania union leaders, one of the group called out: "Labor's for you, Mr. President."

With a broad grin, the President replied: "I may be egotistical but I think I ought to be—look at the record."

Maybe They Pushed Him BALTIMORE—(AP)—Adam Collins, 43, came off second best Monday in a bout with mosquitoes.

Police found him lying on the sidewalk in front of his home with a broken leg and possible internal injuries.

Collins said he was pestered by mosquitoes, got up about 2:30 to put a screen on his second floor bedroom window, and fell out.

Rebs Hand Cats Double Trouble

By The Associated Press Sunday's results left the way open for some smashed attendance records in Texas League Labor Day doubleheaders Monday night.

Most of the host clubs provided fans an incentive to turn out for the twin bills.

Fort Worth plays host to arch rival Dallas, smarting under a double licking by the Rebels Sunday night 8-7 and 8-5.

Beasmont climbed within half-game of seventh place by knocking out Houston 9-1, and San Antonio ousted Shreveport from fourth with an 8-1 decision over the Sports.

Oklahoma City and Tulsa split. The Indians won the opener 8-3, and Tulsa the second game 6-3.

Quentin Altizer continued his jinx against Fort Worth. He beat them the sixth straight time in the opening game, though touched for eleven hits. Roy Sanner, bought by Dallas for $10,000 from Houma, La., in the Evangeline League, went the route in the second game.

City Bus Operates 'School Specials'

The City Bus Lines Tuesday will initiate a "school special" bus service on a 30-day trial basis to serve students in the North and Northwest parts of the city.

The management said numerous requests for the service have been received, and it will be tried for 30 days to see if the business is sufficient to justify the additional trips. The student fare is five cents.

The first trip will leave downtown Midland at 8:10 a. m. daily, serving the North Big Spring, North Main and North Lorraine Streets area.

Another trip will start at 8:30 a. m., traversing East Highway 80 to Skyhaven Airport, out North Fort Worth Street to Maiden Lane and backdown North Baird Street.

The afternoon run will be made over the same routes, leaving the North Elementary-Junior High area at 3:45 p. m.

Four-Power Talks In Moscow May Be Resumed This Week

MOSCOW—(AP)—Four-power talks on Germany may be resumed in Moscow this week, authoritative informants said Monday.

While the talks among the four military governors in Berlin have not broken down nor even approached that stage, these sources said they have not been running as smoothly as could be hoped.

Still, some progress is being made and considerable progress has been reported in the technical committees which are assisting the governors. In Moscow the general outlook on the Berlin situation now appears to be one of guarded optimism.

Originally the negotiators here gave the military governors in Berlin a week, according to the best reports, and that time limit would run out Monday. There are indications, however, that more time will be given the Berlin negotiators and that the Moscow talks may not be resumed before the end of this week.

China Cracks Whip In War On Profiteers

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
China has started her economic and monetary house-cleaning with a vigor which is calculated to support the advance notices that this is the biggest sweeping of dark corners the country ever has known. They've actually started sending members of the greatly privileged families to prison for violation of the new regulations. But it isn't only the "malefactors of great wealth" who are catching it, for two government officials already have been sentenced to death for infraction of the regulations, and another is cooling his heels in jail pending further action. Three rice merchants in Manchuria have been shot.

Of course these developments may be merely an exemplification of the old adage that new broom sweeps clean. However, it's making the dust fly now, and the Chinese say this is really a serious house-cleaning—the result of long consideration and planning by the government.

Indications are the Nanking government, headed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, has decided that solution of China's economic crisis can't wait on the outcome of the war against the Communist Rebels. The civil strife is decidedly a long-term affair and moreover it is international. So the government, which has been charged by some with shielding the rich, is cracking down on the profiteers, high and low, who have played a great part in bringing the country to its present sorry straits. The program has three main objectives: to hold the price line, which has been frozen at the August 19 level in connection with the monetary change to the new "gold yuan"; to kill all forms of hoarding and speculation, to build up popular confidence in the new currency.

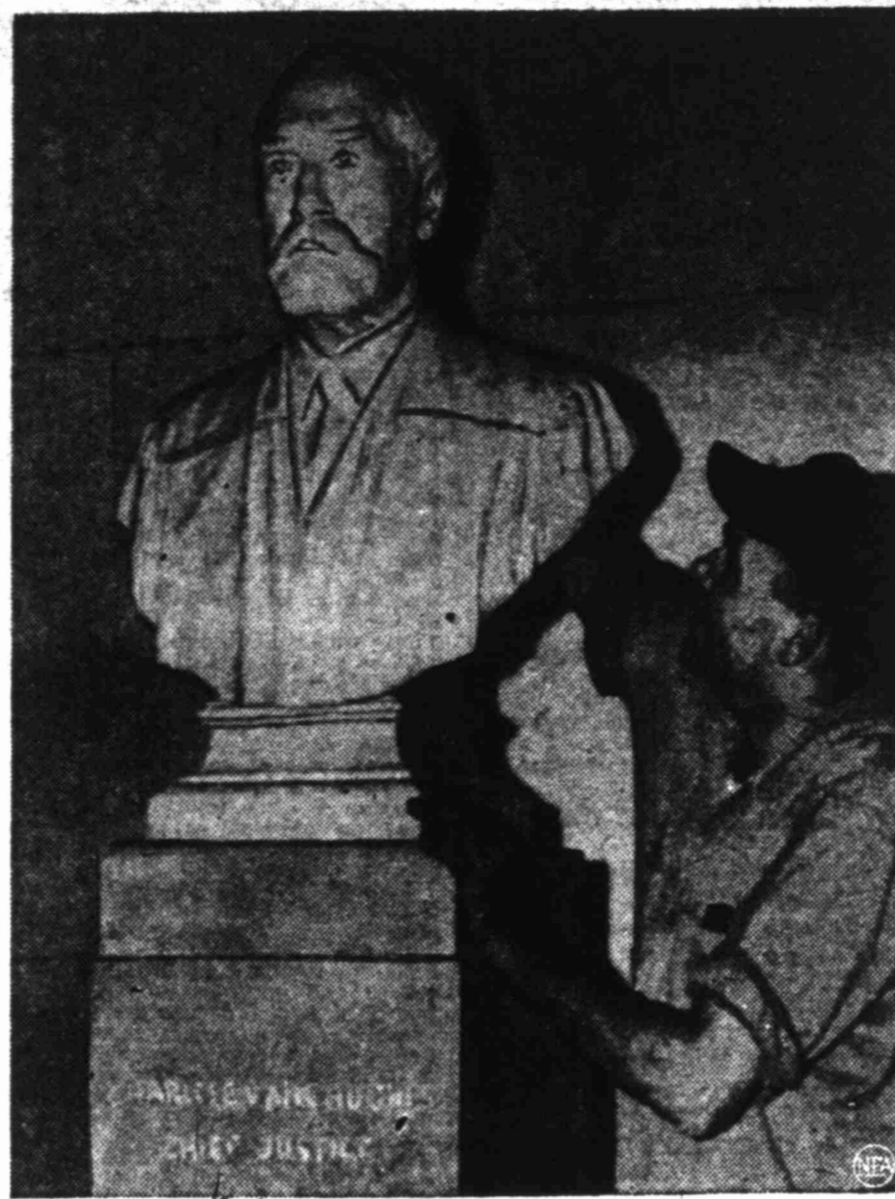

Governors, mayors and other responsible officials throughout the country have been ordered to carry out the new instructions. Naturally the area most greatly affected is the Shanghai-Nanking zone, which is the center of big business, and the government is devoting special attention to operations there.

An interesting aspect of the situation is that the Generalissimo's son, Maj. Gen. Chiang Ching-Kuo, has been placed in charge of the government's economic forces in Shanghai. And it is General Chiang who is daring the lightning in that all-important business center by cracking down on the big-money interests. The question naturally arises whether he can get away with it, despite his government backing and the fact that he is the son of China's top man. We shall see in due course.

The general seems to have his nerve with him because he himself announced the jailing of Tu Yei Ping, son of a Shanghai banker and industrialist, on a charge of using advance knowledge of the economic reform to dump stocks on the exchange for profit. Police needed this case with that of a secretary in the Finance Ministry at Nanking, and he has been arrested. This economic drive doesn't mean that the campaign against the Chinese Communist Rebels has been halted. The military wheels continue to turn, though slowly. As a matter of fact, it is said the military situation hasn't changed greatly in the last three months.

Britain's Mock Air War Draws To End Monday

LONDON—(AP)—Raiding American and British bombers again penetrated Britain's aerial defenses Monday in the closing operation of a four-day mock air war.

The umpires' final communique on the biggest test of Britain's air defenses since the war said the principal targets were London, the big Naval base at Portsmouth, and Southampton, one of the nation's largest ports.

"Intensive and large scale bomber raids were undertaken by enemy night bomber forces Sunday night," the communique said. "Interspersed with high level bomber raids, the entrances to Portsmouth, Southampton and Weybridge Harbors and the River Humber were mined by enemy aircraft flying at comparatively low levels."

Four Casualties
The final results of the maneuvers will not be known for several weeks, after umpires have studied films snapped by gun cameras in both raiding and defending planes. American Superforts did the day raiding in the four-day maneuver; British planes did the job at night.

Actual casualties of the operation were four. One American died after bailing out of a burning B-29 off the Dutch Coast Monday. Three RAF fliers were killed in two other crashes. At the height of Sunday night's raids, two defending Spitfire pilots dropped the whole fight to go to the aid of a raiding Lancaster bomber which got lost in a cloud with its radio not operating. They escorted the bomber back to its base.

The umpires said 23 raiding aircraft were "eliminated" by the defending forces during the maneuver. Glenn Presnell's 54-yard field goal is the longest in National football League History. It was kicked Oct. 7, 1934 and gave the Detroit Lions a 3-0 victory over Green Bay.

Expelled Red Consul Arrives In Sweden

GOTEBORG, SWEDEN—(AP)—Jacob M. Lomakin, Russia's expelled consul general to New York, arrived in Goteborg Monday stirring up excitement such as used to occur when Greta Garbo paid one of her rare visits home.

Lomakin was friendly and smiling but even more uncommunicative than the actress. A "no comment" or a shrug was his answer to all questions put by correspondents who met the vessel which brought him here enroute to Moscow.

While a number of Communist leaders met Andrei Gromyko when he arrived here earlier this Summer, they were absent this time.

Safety Campaign Aims To Cut Accident Toll Among Texas Children

AUSTIN—About 900 Texas children a year lose their lives from accidents, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said recently in announcing a statewide safety campaign for September.

The death rate among children from accidents is higher than that from any other cause, he said. Advances in medical science have resulted in outstanding decrease of death rates from disease, and corresponding decreases in the accident death rate are the goal of health workers and parents cooperating in the September safety campaign.

Riots Jeopardize Success Of Four-Power Talks

Military Leaders Consider Protest To Soviet Marshal

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Government officials said Tuesday they feel the Communist-led attacks on the Berlin city government have created a serious situation in the former German capital.

High State Department authorities, they said, are closely studying the situation to determine what, if anything, the American government should do about it.

These officials told a reporter no decision has been reached yet on whether to send an official protest to the Russians on the matter.

The State Department must decide whether such a protest would hurt the chances of success for the current talks among the four military governors on ways of lifting the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

These officials said, however, there is no doubt the Communist mob that broke into City Hall and arrested Western sector policeman has violated agreements for protection that the Western Powers have with Russia.

Death Toll For Holiday Reaches 393

By The Associated Press

The nation's accidental death toll during the long Labor Day holiday approached 400 Tuesday. The reported total was 393 and still incomplete.

Traffic deaths numbered 261 since 6 p. m. Friday to exceed the National Safety Council's estimate of 360 highway deaths for the period.

Fifty-nine persons were drowned, and 53 others lost their lives in a variety of other type accidents.

Ex-Convicts Held On Suspicion Of Killing Dallas Man

JACKSONVILLE, FLA. —(AP)— Three ex-convicts arrested here Saturday were being held Tuesday on charges of suspicion of murder after one of them accused another of slaying a man in Dallas, Texas, and taking his automobile.

Detective Sergeant Don Butler was called to the scene after Frederick E. Miller, 24, of Syracuse, N. Y., told him a 23-year-old Dallas man shot and killed Jack Rose and buried his body near a river just outside Nashville, Tenn.

Miller identified Rose as the fourth member of a gang that plotted a holdup of the First National Bank in Dallas, Butler said. Rose was slain before the holdup was carried out and Miller and the other Dallas man fled.

Confronted with Miller's story, the Dallas man denied it and said Miller was the one who killed Rose, Butler related.

Crude Production Continues Climb

TULSA, OKLA. —(AP)— The nation's crude oil production continued to break records during the week ended September 4 in which it averaged 5,525,000 barrels per day, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

This new all-time high represented an increase of 3,820 barrels daily over the previous week's figure.

Principal gains were in the following states:

- Illinois, up 1,900 barrels to 150,400 barrels; Oklahoma, up 1,800 barrels to 420,200; Texas, 13,978 to 2,460,478; and California, 1,800 to 862,000.

Indiana's production increased 300 barrels to 21,500. Louisiana was up 900 to 483,200 and Wyoming gained 200 to 151,210.

Largest declines were reported in Michigan, down 2,100 to 42,800; and Kansas, off 15,700 to 280,500.

Other decreases were in the Dakotas, down 475 to 12,450; Florida off 10 to 900; the Eastern area 400 to 64,200; Kentucky 300 to 25,400; Mississippi 185 to 128,500; New Mexico 25 to 122,135; Colorado, 200 to 47,840; and Montana, 60 to 28,140.

Production was unchanged in Alabama at 1,350 and Nebraska at 400.

To Visit Midland

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina will be honored with an informal reception in Hotel Scharbauer at 3 p. m. Thursday during his scheduled visit here. The North Carolina governor is a candidate for president of the United States on the States' Rights ticket, and is on a whirlwind campaign tour of Texas. He will speak in Dallas Wednesday night, and in Midland, Big Spring and Lubbock Thursday. He will visit San Angelo Friday. The public is invited to attend the reception here.

Police Capture Alleged Killers

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— State Police said Tuesday two armed men sought in connection with the slaying of a New Orleans detective were captured without a fight at Galvez, La., early Tuesday morning.

Superintendent of State Police Goldman Grant said the arrest was made by City Marshal "Red" Bourque of Gonzales and State Trooper L. E. Wright, Jr., stationed at Gonzales. He said they were armed with four pistols but made no attempt to resist arrest.

Telephone Tie-Up Is Threatened

CHICAGO —(AP)— The CIO Association of Communication Equipment Workers Tuesday set September 17 for a strike which it said would cripple telephone service over the nation.

Announcement of the strike date was made by Dan Harris, Portland, Ore., vice president of the union. He said negotiations between the union and the Western Electric Manufacturing Company are deadlocked.

Harris said the strike would pull out 25,000 members of the union working in 2,200 Bell Telephone Company locations in 45 of the 48 states.

Shoppers Throng Midland Streets For Dollar Day

Tuesday was one of the busiest shopping days Midland has experienced in months, as Dollar Day and school opening combined to start the Fall rush.

Shoppers by the hundreds thronged the business district to take advantage of the Dollar Day specials and to purchase school supplies for the school district's record number of students. Shoppers from a number of area cities joined Midlanders in rushing stores and shops here.

Several merchants predicted sales receipts for the day will set a record for the year.

The shopping spree started early, and large crowds were in the downtown area when the stores opened for business. Traffic was congested and traffic officers were on duty to keep it moving. Observers predicted the shopping pace would quicken during the afternoon as schools dismissed and as students and parents started to fill school supply lists.

The two banks here reported rushes following the Monday holiday.

Midland's first city-wide Dollar Day was termed most successful by cooperating merchants who offered outstanding bargains for the special sales event. In the future the Dollar Days will be held the first Monday of each month.

Stores featuring school supplies had well-stocked shelves and cabinets Tuesday morning, but the supply was expected to be low, and in some instances exhausted, by nightfall. Extra clerks were on duty in many of the stores to handle the expected rush of school children. The school supply buying is expected to continue at a fast pace for several days.

Texans Have Narrow Escape When Canadian Well Catches Fire

EDMONTON, ALBERTA. —(AP)— Two Texans saved themselves from an oil well fire Monday night by fast running. The well still was blazing furiously Tuesday.

The two Texans are L. H. "Hick" Kern of Houston, and Charlie Smith (address not available). They were about 150 feet from the well, Atlantic No. 3, when it burst into flame.

Kern, an engineer in charge of drilling at a relief hole nearby, said: "Suddenly I saw a small flame near the well-head close to the ground. In about a second there was a small explosion. We started to run. When I looked around after doing a couple of hundred yards in near-report that the flames and smoke were shooting 700 feet in the air. It was too close for comfort."

The fire was fed Tuesday by a steady flow of crude oil and natural gas.

Truman Predicts Possible Depression If GOP Wins

By The Associated Press

The presidential campaign zipped into high gear Tuesday with Harold E. Stassen ready to deliver the official Republican reply to President Truman's day-long series of Labor Day addresses.

From early morning until late Monday night, Truman hammered away at his theme that an "era of fear" and depression may result if Republican "reactionaries" are elected in November.

Stassen will speak from Detroit at 7 p. m. (CST) over the same NBC network that carried the President's kickoff speech from that motor city.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey already has given his blessing to Stassen's address as the result of a conference the two held at Albany last week.

Talks Mainly To Labor

Dewey, who beat out the former Minnesota governor for the Republican presidential nomination, said the speech will be "of major interest to the American people."

Although his off-the-cuff utterances across Michigan and into Ohio covered a wide range of subjects, Truman aimed most frequently at his labor hearers.

He told a Pontiac audience that union members had better get out and vote Democratic because:

"This election makes a lot of difference to you. Among other things, it might make the difference between whether you have a job two years from now or not."

That was after his main speech at Detroit in which the President declared:

"If you let Republican reactionaries get complete control of the government, I would fear not only for the wages and living standards of the American workingman, but even for our Democratic institutions of free labor and free enterprise."

A crowd estimated at 120,000 gathered in Detroit's Cadillac Square to hear Truman. The President said in advance he had been told it would be disappointing if 300,000 failed to appear.

There and in his other Michigan appearances — at Grand Rapids, Lansing, Hamtramck, and Flint — Truman got off such digs at the Republicans as:

"The boom is for them and the bust is for you."

"They failed to crack down on prices but they cracked down on labor."

"They voted themselves a cut in taxes and voted you a cut in freedom."

Stander Tries To Stop Water From Oil Section

Slick-Urschel Oil Company and Plymouth Oil Company, No. 1 Stander, one-half mile southwest of the first Ellenburger oil well in the Benedum field, of East-Central Upton County, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of lot 3, section 30 1/2 T. 2 S. Scott survey, perforated the casing at 11,430-490 feet, in the upper section of the Ellenburger.

The project kicked off after swabbing and flowed some clean oil. The flow was stopped however, when water broke in. Operators think the water is from a lower zone of the Ellenburger, and is coming up back of the casing through channels in the cement.

A retainer has been set at 10,390 feet, and 105 sacks of cement have been squeezed in back of the casing below that point.

After the additional cement sets the 11,430-490 foot interval will be re-perforated. The attempt will be made to produce oil without water.

Informed sources say that No. 1 Stander will make an oil well from the upper section of the Ellenburger. Top of that formation was called at 11,064 feet. The lower zone of the formation had only water, with slight signs of gas.

Prospects For Ending Major Strikes Seem No Brighter Tuesday

By The Associated Press

There appeared no indication of immediate settlement Tuesday in the nation's three major strikes — in the oil, trucking and shipping industries.

The six-day oil strike by 10,000 truck drivers in New York City became more serious as 3,500 AFL truckmen in Northern New Jersey joined in the walkout. The full force of the work stoppage were felt by millions living in the metropolis and Northern New Jersey.

On the West Coast, where 28,000 CIO Longshoremen have been idle since last Wednesday, there was no hope for settlement by either union or shipowners. Some 180 ships are tied up from Puget Sound to San Diego.

In the strike by some 15,000 oil refinery workers in California and four other Far Western states, nothing of gas became a possibility. An industry spokesman estimated West Coast motorists may be unable to buy gas by the middle of next week if no settlement is reached in the wage dispute.

In the truck strike, city officials expressed fear of a milk shortage because of the heap of deliveries of their containers.

Labor Day Festivities Enjoyed By Capacity Crowds Here Monday

Two Labor Day events — a barbecue at Cloverdale park and a dance at the American Legion Hall — both drew larger-than-expected attendance, union and Legion spokesmen reported Tuesday morning.

The barbecue was attended by hundreds of Midland union members and visitors Monday afternoon. The dance Monday night drew an estimated 500 to 600 persons crowded into the American Legion Hall. Both events were highly successful, labor organization leaders said.

A double-header baseball game at Indian Park Monday night drew the season's biggest crowd as Midland and Big Spring finished the season's regular play by splitting the twin bill.

Stanotex Is To Drill Wildcat In NW Crockett

Standard Oil Company of Texas, No. 1 J. H. Tippett is to be a 5,400-foot exploration in Northwest Crockett County, about 2,200 feet away from the nearest completed oil wells in the Tippett field, where the oil comes from a lower Permian formation.

The new prospector will be 440 feet from northeast and southeast lines of section 38, block 3, HATC survey. It is to start operations in the near future, and will use rotary tools.

Richardson & Boss 1 Neal Enters Devonian Strata

Richardson & Boss No. 1 Neal, East-Central Upton County Ellenburger wildcat, about seven miles northwest of the initial producer in the Benedum field, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 9, block Y, TC&SF survey, is credited with entering the true Devonian at 11,251 feet, on an elevation of 2,726 feet.

The venture had reached 11,362 feet, and was drilling ahead in the lime and chert formation.

T. & H. 1 Barnett Shutin Waiting For More Storage

Fred Turner, Jr., and J. M. Hewley, Sr., No. 1 Barnett, wildcat in East-Central Upton County, three miles northwest of the discovery well of the Benedum field, and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 4, block Y, GC&SF survey, was shutin for storage.

This project has discovered flowing oil from the Pennsylvanian from perforated sections at 9,862-85 feet; at 10,062-065 feet; at 10,097-100 feet and at 10,137-140 feet.

After those intervals had been treated with 2,000 gallons of mud acid, the well kicked off following ten pulls of the swab.

It flowed to pits for five hours to clean, and then flowed to tanks steadily for 10 hours. The gauges ranged from a low of 19 barrels a high of 29 barrels of oil. The largest 60-minute flow was made through a one-quarter inch choke, and was during the last hour of testing before the well was shutin on account of all storage being filled.

Gas-oil ratio averaged around 2,500-1, and gravity of the oil was 55 degrees. No water developed.

As soon as more tank space is available the new pay discovery will be tested further and operators will probably undertake to put it on regular production soon.

TRUMAN'S CIVIL RIGHTS RIOTS PLAN EXPOSED!

On Feb. 2, 1948 Pres. Truman Asked Congress to Pass the So-Called "Civil Rights" Laws Modeled After Dewey's New York F.E.P.C. Law, Truman-Wallace and Dewey Unite in Their Platforms to:

- 1! BAN ALL RACIAL SEGREGATION THROUGHOUT THE U.S.A!
- 2! CREATE A PERMANENT FAIR EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES COMMISSION.

The threat of this menacing plan is not wholly prospective. Several States have already bowed to the demand of communistic front organizations for this law, which is a carbon copy of Jos. Stalin's "All Races" law proclaimed for Russia in 1920 as a weapon to destroy the last vestige of private enterprise there. Truman's plan and Federal law, aimed directly at us in the South, is now pending in tri-partisan Senate Bill No. 984, reported by Senate Committee February 26, 1948.

THE TRUMAN - DEWEY - WALLACE PROGRAM TO ABOLISH ALL RACIAL SEGREGATION WILL . . .

- 1. Admit all races to our public schools without discrimination. If your children go to school, as required by law, they could be forced into association with negro boys and girls.
- 2. Could put negro principals over white teachers and negro teachers over white children.
- 3. Admit negroes, without discrimination into all colleges.
- 4. Admit negroes in all hotels, restaurants, theatres, churches, swimming pools, barbershops, beauty parlors, and all places where the public congregates for business or pleasure.
- 5. Admit negroes, without discrimination, on all trains, buses and public conveyances.

The Truman - Dewey - Wallace FEPC Anti-Discrimination in Employment Plan, Senate Bill S-984, Does This to:

1. LABOR UNIONS:

"(b) It shall be an unlawful employment practice for any labor organization to discriminate against any individual or to limit, segregate, or classify its membership in any way which would deprive or tend to deprive such individual of employment opportunities, or would limit his employment opportunities, or otherwise adversely affect his status as an employee or as an applicant for employment, or would affect adversely his wages, hours, or employment conditions, because of such individual's race, religion, color, national origin or ancestry."

This bill provides for fine and imprisonment for its violation. This bill was reported out of Committee February 28, 1948.

2. EMPLOYEES:

It is unlawful for any employee "To offer resistance to the employment of any individual because of race, color, religious creed, national origin, or ancestry." (Page 710—Hearings before Senate Committee on Senate Bill 984). Penalty: Fine and Imprisonment by Federal Court.

Thus, if a white girl should object to working for a negro boss she can be fined and imprisoned.

3. EMPLOYERS:

It is an unlawful employment practice—

(1) To ask any questions of an applicant for employment to disclose race, color, religious creed, national origin.

To make inquiry into the complexion of an applicant for employment or require an applicant to annex a photograph to his application.

To make inquiry whether an applicant is naturalized or native born, or date applicant acquired citizenship.

To make inquiry into the lineage of an applicant for employment, his ancestry or national origin. (Thus, the son of the biggest communist in the community might get employment under an assumed name because it is against the law to inquire into the original name of an applicant for employment whose name has been changed by court proceedings or otherwise.)

Unlawful to make inquiry into the birthplace of an applicant or his parents, spouse, or other close relatives. Note: Thus, the man who has been guilty of a criminal offense and changed his name might find employment in a bank without fear of detection.

Unlawful to inquire into the general military experience of an applicant for employment or to inquire the whereabouts of an applicant for employment DURING THE FIRST WORLD WAR FROM 1914 TO 1919. (The applicant could have been an alien enemy or a spy, yet get employment in a munitions plant.)

Unlawful to make inquiry into organizations in which applicant for employment is a member, including organizations whose name or character indicates the race, religion, or national origin of its members. (It is against the law to ask an applicant if he is a member of the Communist Party or any other subversive organization.)

If a bonding company makes any of the above inquiries and discloses the answer to the employer it is a violation of the law punishable by fine and imprisonment, as is the case for any of the above violations.

IT CAN AND WILL HAPPEN HERE. IT HAS ALREADY HAPPENED in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and many other states, and Truman, Dewey and Wallace demand immediate action to put this program into nation-wide effect.

We of the South are not going to be taken over by the Eastern element to satisfy the power-lust of wicked and unscrupulous politicians.

By Executive Order No. 9981, signed July 26, 1948, all segregation of the armed services was abolished by the President, which means that your sons and daughters may have to eat in the same mess, sleep in the same barracks, work and play together, and be under the direction of negro officers.

THE CREED OF THE STATES RIGHTS PARTY

We rededicate ourselves to the principles and traditions of the Democratic Party and repudiate the blasphemy of those who would charge us with bolting. It is our loyalty to these principles and our devotion to these traditions which provoke us to action. It is our cherished desire to reactivate our Party with the principles which others have sacrificed for cheap political expediency. We stand for individual liberty and the sovereignty of the States as essential to the independence and preservation of the Republic.

Master Magician And Company Booked By Midland Lions Club

Magicians now are booking engagements for other magicians—or so it happened in Midland Tuesday when Zogi, one of America's foremost magicians, met with directors of the Midland Lions Club to arrange for an appearance here December 13 of Dr. Gaffney, master magician, and Company.

Zogi, the booking agent, is in real life C. A. Frank, a native of Waco, who is nationally known for his show of illusions. He said his show is off the road this year due to the serious illness of his wife.

The Rev. Clyde Lindsley, Lions president, said contracts were signed Tuesday by 'll have a business for the appearance here of Dr. Gaffney and his streamlined performance of ultra modern miracles. He is termed "the man with the miracle hands," and his show is one of the best on the road today.

The performances will be held in the high school auditorium, with special shows for children and adults.

To help you who may be wondering how to cope with your problem, we cite the skin care mapped out for teen-age twins—one has dry skin, the other oily—by a leading beauty specialist.

The program which Jane and Janet Leigh of Port Chester, N. Y., adopted with such benefit may suggest as helpful routines to many other girls.

Janet's skin is dry. For her, a plus-cleanser which lathers and cleanses like soap but is really a cream was prescribed. After this is used to loosen soil gently, Janet washes off her cleanser with warm water and applies a night cream which she wears to bed.

Although this is a simple-enough routine, it has proved to be successful in taking care of Janet's problem.

Jane, whose skin is oily, uses for a super-duper cleanser special friction grains. These are cleansing granules which are made into paste and rubbed over an oily skin for a friction action more effective than simple soap. Jane, like her sister, Janet, creams her face after washing it, but uses a cream which does not add oil to it. Her routine goes one step farther with the use of a skin lotion with a medicated base. This helps to banish oil and to discourage pimples.

These are common problems that almost everyone except that rare person with the normal skin needs to follow one of two routines for skin care.

The program which Jane and Janet Leigh of Port Chester, N. Y., adopted with such benefit may suggest as helpful routines to many other girls.

Janet's skin is dry. For her, a plus-cleanser which lathers and cleanses like soap but is really a cream was prescribed. After this is used to loosen soil gently, Janet washes off her cleanser with warm water and applies a night cream which she wears to bed.

Although this is a simple-enough routine, it has proved to be successful in taking care of Janet's problem.

Jane, whose skin is oily, uses for a super-duper cleanser special friction grains. These are cleansing granules which are made into paste and rubbed over an oily skin for a friction action more effective than simple soap. Jane, like her sister, Janet, creams her face after washing it, but uses a cream which does not add oil to it. Her routine goes one step farther with the use of a skin lotion with a medicated base. This helps to banish oil and to discourage pimples.

Twins Follow Two Skin Care Routines

(Helena Rubinstein)

Teen-age twins, Jane, left, and Janet Leigh have different skin-care problems. At bedtime Jane puts on medicated lotion to counteract excess oiliness. Janet smooths on cream to combat dryness.

Is your skin so dry that at the peak of its bloom you see barely visible threats of future wrinkles? Or is it the oily kind which has a magnetic power for attracting blackheads?

These are common problems that almost everyone except that rare person with the normal skin needs to follow one of two routines for skin care.

Revolt Is Still Red Goal

Henry A. Wallace shares with most of the "common men" of this war-torn, and war-weary world a desire for peace. But his apparent desire for peaceful surrender at any price is not shared by many freedom-loving people, including, we imagine, a majority of his fellow Americans. It is Wallace's theory that the differences between the United States and the Soviet Union were made in America by war-hungry politicians and militarists and money-hungry financiers. It is his theory that these differences arise from a conflict between systems of thought which can be dissolved by sweet reason. If elected President, he promises to take sweet reason into a conference with Premier Stalin and quickly erase all threat of war.

This would be a splendid prescription, and if it did not collide so violently with fact it could probably get him elected almost unanimously. But Wallace so consistently overlooks the conflict between the facts and his preconceived theories that the whole case for his candidacy seems to vanish like snowflakes which melt when they first touch solid ground.

Wallace displayed this optimistic but uncertain manner of thinking again in his half-hearted brush-off of Communist support. His declaration was evidently an answer to Rex Tugwell, one of his chief supporters, who had said he would leave the Wallace party if Communists were allowed to run it.

The third party candidate did not repudiate Communist support. He said he "did not want" the support of any group which believes in the violent overthrow of our government or that "puts their allegiance to some foreign capital first—whether it is Moscow or any other place." But he made it clear that he did not think there were many Communists among his followers who were guilty on either count.

Wallace has often confessed ignorance of Communist doctrine and vague knowledge of Communist policy. He has also, in the case of the Czechoslovakian coup, made it clear that he suspects the U. S. press of anti-Red fabrications.

But his declaration contained some positive and amazing statements.

"There is as much variation in the beliefs of Communists as in the beliefs of Democrats and Republicans," he said. "I doubt if any Marxists today are as violent as Lincoln and Jefferson were in their day."

Through all this vagueness it appears that Wallace is concerned only with the field of thought and blind to any accompanying action. Perhaps, to many, the democratic principles of Jefferson and Lincoln's anti-slavery stand seemed as radical as Marx's philosophy did to a later generation. But can Wallace forget that there were no secret police under Jefferson, or that the Lincoln administration conducted no purge trials and set up no one-party system?

Wallace says that both the communistic and the capitalistic "systems of thought" have "very powerfully gripped the imaginations of a great many people." He grants that there is a conflict between them. But he dismisses any possible armed clash that might result as a "religious war," and says he is trying to prevent it because he doesn't like religious wars.

Being a man of peace, Wallace probably would have disliked the conflict of ideas which led to the "religious war" for American independence. But unless the sacred writings of Marx have been secretly discarded, the Communist goal is still world revolution—and with it no freedom of thought or speech, no freedom from want or from fear.

The evidence of that is found in the Soviet-dominated countries of the world today. And it is that evidence which Wallace steadfastly refuses to see or to believe.

UEW Chief Fitzgerald Is One Of Labor Movement's Enigmas

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—President Albert J. Fitzgerald of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO, is one of the enigmas of the union labor movement. A House Labor subcommittee under Congressman Charles J. Kersten, ex-deputy district attorney of Milwaukee, has just called Fitzgerald on its carpet for investigation. What the committee is fishing for is evidence of Communist domination in UEW, as the big union is called for short.

Fitzgerald often has been called a Commie, or a stooge for Julius Emspak and other left-wing leaders in his union. That is denied. He happens to be a Roman Catholic from Lynn, Mass. This classifies him roughly as Boston Irish, than which there is nothing less Communist.

It's his 800,000-member union is, however, rightly considered leader of the 11 left-wing unions in CIO. Not all the 1,250,000 members of these 11 unions are Commies or even fellow-travelers. But their leaders lean that way. They are all active in promoting the Henry Wallace third party.

Fitzgerald is one of the co-chairmen of the third party. He was chairman of its Philadelphia convention and his gavel banged through most of the Commie-dictated policies of that august body.

How a portly, ruddy-faced Boston Irishman gets mixed up in all this funny business takes considerable explaining. He was born in Lynn, Mass., of parents who came from the old country. He is 40 years old. When he got out of high school he went to work in the Lynn motor plant of General Electric. When union organizers moved in on the factory, Fitzgerald became one of the leaders. He was elected president of the local. This was before CIO came into being. Afterward, Fitzgerald became district president.

In a dramatic floor fight at the international UEW convention of 1940 Fitzgerald defeated James B. Carey for the national presidency. The issue was left-wing control of the union. Fitzgerald has no use for Carey, now CIO national secretary-treasurer.

Fitzgerald carries that idea over into inter-union politics. Hating the CIO majority leaders as he does, there might be good reason for Fitzgerald to pull out his union and the other 10 left-wing unions to form a new radical labor front. But he believes that unions have more to gain by working together for specific gains.

He is no intellectual. He can't write a speech and he can't deliver a speech written for him by a ghost. He is just an extemporaneous talker, utterly unsophisticated.

He has a number of other pet hates, in addition to Murray, Carey, McDonald and company. He hates Truman. He hates the press. He thinks all newspapermen are a bunch of liars who merely obey the orders of union-hating bosses.

Science Makes Great Strides To Stop Once-Fatal Disease

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The germ which causes influenza meningitis was discovered by the German bacteriologist, Pfeiffer, in 1892. He and some others at first mistakenly believed that it was the cause of true influenza. This accounts for the name and a certain amount of confusion.

Influenza meningitis is a rather common disease in children, although rare in grown-ups. The meningitis part of the name refers to an inflammation of the lining of the spinal cord and brain. Until recently, most of those who were stricken with this disease died. In one hospital, between 1920 and 1931, only one survived out of 78.

The first sign of improvement came when a serum was developed which enabled 31 of another group of 201 to recover. Other new discoveries have made possible still better results in the treatment of this killer of infants and children.

Part of the improvement is caused by the development of better serums, the most powerful being one prepared from rabbits. The use of sulfadiazine has also helped a great deal.

How great a change has been brought about in the chances for these children is shown by a report of 28 children with influenza meningitis. Twenty-four of them re-

QUESTION: Should enlarged, although uninfected tonsils and adenoids, which do not interfere with breathing, be removed in a six-year-old child?

ANSWER: At present, the tendency is to leave such tonsils and adenoids where they are. However, it must be pointed out that there may be some special reason why the physician may feel that they should be removed.

covered completely and only four died.

The treatment was the use of sodium and sulfadiazine combined. Other good results with anti-biotics, such as penicillin, either alone or combined with sulfas or serums have been reported.

This fine result shows what remarkable progress can be made in treating a highly fatal disease.

"NEW FEATURES"

Dodge has had for years!

There's a lot of talk today about this new feature or that. But down-to-earth engineering advances are a matter of record. And this record shows that many of today's so-called "new car features" have been part and parcel of Dodge over the years.

From the earliest Dodge Safety Steel Body to today's Dodge All-Fluid Drive, Dodge owners have enjoyed a succession of engineering "firsts". These features have made Dodge famous for comfort, economy and dependability.

You are cordially invited to come in... to check... to compare the scores of "new car features" that Dodge has had for years.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Two Boston Teams Clamber Ahead In Holiday Twin Bills

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

"They can't catch me when I'm in front." Those words, uttered by Billy Southworth earlier this season, were ringing in the ears of Burt Shotton Tuesday as he brought his groggy gang back to Brooklyn.

The silver-haired Dodger pilot, home from an ill-fated one-day trip to Boston, knows now what Southworth meant. He received a first hand illustration Monday as Billy's league-leading Braves drubbed Brooklyn in a Labor Day doubleheader 2-1 and 4-0.

The Dodgers had journeyed to Boston with the express purpose of disproving Southworth's statement. A sweep of the twin bills would have boosted the Brooks into first place past the Braves. Instead, they now find themselves still in second place. The St. Louis Cardinals, only two and a half games off the pace before Monday's games, were handed a staggering double defeat by the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 and 4-1 to fall into fourth place, four and a half games behind. The Pirates advanced a notch to third place, two percentage points in front of St. Louis and three behind Brooklyn. Giants cling to chance.

The fifth-place New York Giants retained an outside chance by sweeping a doubleheader from the Phillies in Philadelphia 4-3 and 3-0. They trail by six and a half games, but only four on the losing side of the ledger.

Climaxing a great day for Boston, the American League-leading Red Sox boosted their first-place margin over the New York Yankees to a game and a half, sweeping both games from the Senators in Washington 14-6 and 2-1. The Yankees lost a full game when they were held to a split by the Philadelphia Athletics. The Yanks won the opener 6-4 for their ninth consecutive triumph, but the A's ended an eight-game losing string by winning the nightcap 4-2.

The third-place Cleveland Indians continued to lose ground to the Red Sox as they were held even in their double header in Chicago to skid to four and a half games off the pace. After losing the opener 3-1, the Tribe came back to defeat the White Sox in the second game 1-0.

14-Inning Battle
In the American League split with the Browns in St. Louis, winning the opener 8-1 but losing the second game 11-10. The Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds divided a National League doubleheader, the Reds winning the opener 3-1 and the Cubs taking the second game 6-2.

The second largest home crowd of the home season—39,970—which gave the Braves a record season attendance of 1,305,060, saw 14 furious innings before the Braves finally subdued the Dodgers in the first game. Lefty Warren spun,

WT-NM League—

Crues Misses In Try At New Home Run Mark

By The Associated Press

Bob Crues called set a new home run record for organized baseball but his Amarillo teammates clinched second place as the West Texas-New Mexico League season wound up Monday night.

Crues collected four hits in seven times at bat in two games against Lubbock. He hit one ball over the fence in foul territory and that was as close as he could come, hitting into a strong wind.

Crues Sunday tied the record of 69 set by Joe Hauser of Minneapolis in 1933. Amarillo clinched second with a 3-2 decision in the first game, and took the second 4-3 for good measure.

In other games, Abilene blasted Albuquerque twice 9-1 and 16-3; Clovis beat Lamesa twice 11-8 and 1-0, and Borger defeated Pampa 6-2 and 11-10.

The Class C league's Shaughnessy playoff opens Wednesday at Albuquerque and Amarillo, the first and second place teams respectively. Pampa will play Albuquerque two games and then be host in the next three. Lubbock will be at Amarillo for two, then at home for three.

Passing Package

The Chicago Bears hardly will run out of quarterbacks and pitchers this fall. On St. Joseph's College field, Rensselaer, Ind., owner-coach George Halas goes over passing patterns with lefty tight end, Texas' Bobby Layne and Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack, who are understudying old reliable Sid Luckman.

Tribe Splits Holiday Bill

The Midland Indians split a doubleheader with the Big Spring Broncs 7-3 and 11-5 here Monday night in Indian Park to close down the regular Longhorn League season.

An overflowing Labor Day holiday crowd saw the contests, cheering loudly for one team or the other. It was the largest turnout of fans of the season.

Midland won the first game, a seven-inning affair, with a fat rally in the fourth frame which brought five runs. Previous to this frame, Big Spring had collected three runs in the third stanza. Midland went on to score two more runs in the fifth frame. Big Spring remained scoreless after the third inning.

Big Spring took the second game, called at the end of the fifth inning by curfew. Midland had this one just about sewed up with a 5-3 lead going into the fifth. But the Broncs went crazy in the fifth and hit the fat ball for eight runs. Erratic in First

The Broncs were erratic in the first game and committed an unheard-of five errors. The Indians really carried the battle to them.

The Indians faltered in the second game after building up a lead.

Schroeder Spurns National Net Trials

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Having given one of the most devastating exhibitions of power tennis in Davis Cup history, Ted Schroeder was on his way back home to Los Angeles Tuesday, again snubbing the National Championships, which start on Friday.

Ted, now strictly a weekend tennis player, left his refrigeration business long enough to come East and help squelch Australian challengers again. He attended to that in a big way in the series which ended Monday, and he doesn't care whether or not the national ranking committee gives him a place.

Schroeder, who could "make" the championships if he were willing to play in them, was a ring-tailed wonder in his 6-2, 6-1, 6-1 victory over Billy Sidwell in the first of Monday's concluding cup matches. He served with terrific power, whipping nine aces past his bewildered little rival and hitting a score of others that Sidwell managed only to get his racket on.

Left over chicken will go a long way if diced and added to a mixture of rice and tomato sauce. Bake in a casserole topped with buttered crumbs, or heat on top of the range.

Triple!

Snuffy Stirnweis hits the dirt on a triple to left center in the third inning at Yankee Stadium, beating the relay from Pat Spera to Luke Appling to Floyd Baker. The Yankees went on to smack the White Sox 8-2, and remain in the thick of the American League fight. The umpire is Bill McGowan.

HERITAGE

Cadillac is the only name in all motordom which has been identified exclusively with fine cars for more than 45 years. During that time many have sought a place in the fine car field—but only Cadillac has remained there continuously, year after year. This great heritage of experience has never been reflected more clearly than in the new Cadillacs you see on the streets and highways.

For these magnificent new cars stand definitely apart from all other automobiles. Today's Cadillac is distinguished, first of all, by striking originality and beauty of design—and its superb beauty is a true reflection of its inner goodness and magnificent performance. If you have not yet learned the full story of the new Cadillac, we cordially invite you to do so at our showrooms soon.

TRUST

By Elswyth Thane

THE STORY: Hilary Shonstone, British secret agent, recalls the events of a cracked plan, after completing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England and Nuns Farthing, his family's country home. (He doesn't know that the house has been let and that Hilary is aware of it at his club. Next day he visits his mother's town house, learns about Nuns Farthing, and sends a telegram announcing his death.)

XVI
HILARY found himself again in the sunny street, drifting aimlessly. So Alice would marry George and be happy—happier than his mother had been.
Well, Alice was not his job. There was something else something waiting... somewhere...
Paddington Station was just ahead of him. At sight of it, confusion vanished. Nuns Farthing. They had let it, with his room just as he had walked out of it that day two years ago. Of course they must have left the door locked. If they hadn't he would see that they had about it. If anyone had been allowed to go mucking about with his things...
That was it! Strangers were in possession down there. He had to get back.
I suppose an old hand at this game would know how to get there without the railway, he thought, entering the booking hall. Perhaps in a hundred years' time I'll learn how to transport myself through space on my own. But until I get the hang of it—solace within his own four walls. Books. He could still read books. And no one would care what he did in his own room at the top of the house, there would be no one to see...

ONCE more he was confronted with the problem of a closed door, for the evening was cool. There must be a way to pass through a door without opening it, he told himself, but I'm hanged if I see my way to try it now.
He walked round the house to the back, noticing with approval that the garden was well-kept and flourishing. A mounting excitement had begun to possess him, as though some tremendous experience was drawing nearer with every step he took.
It's coming, he thought, trying not to hurry foolishly, for surely there was no need for him to hurry ever again! Whatever it is, it's going to happen now. I was wasting time in Town—not that time matters after all. But this is it. This is what I've been headed for. I might have known it was here, all along. It's coming now—whatever it is.

Through the open kitchen window he could see Mrs. Pilton, sitting as she used to do, with her knitting. For a moment he paused to contemplate the dark, brooding face bent above her knitting, while a grateful feeling of companionship crept through his loneliness and his driving anxiety. This strange, uncommunicative woman, a native of the grim countryside, was a part of his childhood. Undemonstrative, inarticulate, indestructible, their strange friendship stretched back the whole length of his memory, and never once had she let him down.
Hardly knowing what he expected, he went to the kitchen door and tried the handle. It was locked for the night. He knocked on the panels softly—and heard her moving to let him in, watched the door open before him into the lighted room. She stood there, tall and calm and unflinching, and he crossed the threshold into the kitchen.
"So you've come back at last," she said quietly.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

We had the pleasure recently of being the guests of Mrs. Margaret Oltmer at her home at Lake Hopatcong, N. J. Mrs. Oltmer's granddaughter, Miss Joanne Plunger of Miami, Fla., has been making a name for herself as a trap-shooter, and she also is pretty good at the game of bridge.
Today's hand is one that I played with Mrs. Oltmer during our stay at the Lake. I had told her that my no trump bids were very good. She had quite a problem with the South hand when I opened the bidding with one no trump. She did not want to pass; she would not pass a trump with a singleton, so I think she made a good choice in bidding two spades. I decided against putting any more pressure on her. She had passed originally and kept the bidding open for me, and furthermore I did not think she would dare to bid spades on the type of four-card suit that she held. However, I still think it was a good bid.

West took the first trick with the ace of clubs and continued with the jack. Mrs. Oltmer won in dummy with the king and discarded the five of diamonds from her own hand. At this point, she led the six of clubs. East should have discarded a heart, but he did not. He let go the deuce of diamonds. Declarer trumped with the three of spades, led the six of spades, West played the king and dummy's ace won. Mrs. Oltmer knew now that all of the spades were in the East hand.
She cashed the ace and queen of hearts and led the third heart, winning in her own hand with the king. When West showed out, de-

First European DPs To Arrive In October

NEW YORK—The first of a quota of 205,000 DPs selected for admission to the United States from Europe will "certainly arrive in October," Ugo Carusi, chairman of the Displaced Persons Commission, says. He made the statement as he left by plane for Frankfurt, Germany, to confer with officials who will screen applicants.
Carusi said three ships capable of carrying a total of 2,100 persons are scheduled to sail from Europe in October. Another, with facilities for 520 passengers, is listed tentatively to leave the same month, he said.
Congress has set the quota of 205,000 for the two years ending June 30, 1950.

Jester Proclaims Child Safety Month

AUSTIN—Gov. Beauford H. Jester has proclaimed September as child safety month.
The proclamation said that last year 218 children below the age of 14 were killed in traffic accidents and 1,228 others injured. This was a daily average, the governor reminded, of five children killed or injured.

Oil & Gas Log-

west Coke County, and 600 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 31, J. P. Smith survey, ran a 30 minute drillstem test at 7,404-54 feet in the Ellenburger. Recovery was 300 feet of sulphur water. No signs of oil or gas were shown. Operator has ordered the venture plugged and abandoned.

This exploration had no signs of petroleum from which commercial production might have been developed.

Gulf T-E Bryant Makes Second Try For Dst

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E Bryant, Central Midland County prospect, 14 miles south of the city of Midland, and 600 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 36, block 38, TP survey, T-3-S, undertook a drillstem test in the Simpson sand and lime, when total depth was at 12,907 feet. The tester did not function properly, and there was no test.

Operator was making another try for a test, with the total depth at the same point, at the last report.

West Midland Venture Has Gas Show In Test

The Texas Company No. 1 Scharbauer, one mile south of Midland Air Terminal, in West Midland County, and 600 feet from north and west lines of section 20, block 40, TP survey, T-2-S, was making hole under 10,586 feet in an unidentified lime.

The venture took a two hour drillstem test at 10,550-580 feet. Gas showed at the surface in one hour and 15 minutes. The starting gas volume was at the rate of 50,000 cubic feet per day. At the end of the period the gas volume had decreased to 20,000 cubic feet per day. Recovery was 60 feet of gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of oil or water in the fluid which was recovered.

This exploration is slated to dig to around 12,500 feet, and possibly below that point, to try to find and test the Ellenburger.

Tito's Defiance Of Moscow Echoes In Other Countries

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The sturdy defiance of Moscow by Yugoslavia's tough dictator, Marshal Tito, is echoing sensationally in another important Russian satellite state, and that none other than Poland—one of the pillars of the Bolshevik clan.

The Polish Communist Party, with a membership of 1,000,000, is split so wide open the Red grip on the country is threatened. As high as 50 per cent of the membership is in open revolt. The dissidents are fiercely opposed in general to toying the party line as laid down by the Cominform and specifically to the socialization of production in Polish peasant villages.

The rebels stand for nationalism as opposed to the totalitarianism demanded by the totalitarian dictatorship of Moscow. That also is the basis of the row between Tito and the Soviet. These two big nations of Poland and Yugoslavia, whose fierce love of independence has been written in their blood time and again through the generations, want an individual and sovereign existence, although they have not asked for a severance of the tie with Russia.

Yugoslavia Blamed

Let there be any doubt about the relationship between the Yugoslav and Polish defiance of the master, it can be recorded that a Communist Party resolution presented at an emergency meeting in Warsaw Monday blamed the "Yugoslav incident" for causing disaffection among the Polish Reds. And this, I take it, is a reminder that "a little heaven leaveth the whole lump." It also is an invitation for us to watch for the working of the leaven in other Russian satellite states.

Polish Communist Party leaders from all parts of the country rushed to Warsaw Monday for a council of war on how to deal with the split in the party. This conference assembled shortly after Wladyslaw Gomułka, vice premier of Poland, had been "freed" from his position as secretary general of the Party. He had backed the Yugoslav revolt against the Moscow-

German Socialists Say Allies Welching

BERLIN —(AP)—The German Socialist press accused the Western Powers Tuesday of welching on their obligations here.

Der Sozialdemokrat, organ of the German Socialists, sharply criticized the Western occupying powers for not giving stronger support to the anti-Communists in their fight against Communist efforts to seize control of Berlin.

It accused the Western Allies of naivete in dealing with the Russians and said they had made a mockery of the "unflinching and unrighteous attitude" presented by non-Communist Berliners.

Unless the Western Allies take a stronger stand in the "battle for Berlin," Der Sozialdemokrat said, they will lose face throughout the world and especially in "the Soviet satellite countries of Eastern Europe where anti-Communist elements are in need of encouragement."

Belgium Supports European Assembly

LONDON —(AP)—Belgium joined France Tuesday in applying pressure for quick action on creation of a European assembly to promote continental unity.

Here and in Brussels the Belgian government disclosed that its support of the assembly plan had been registered formally in a note to the permanent commission of the five-country Western European Alliance in London—Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Britain thus far has shown little desire to back the assembly proposal, which has won the approval of the State Department in Washington. The British Foreign Office said Tuesday it had no knowledge of the Belgian note.

'Dope' And 'Sex' Called Top Problems In Texas Prisons

By TIM PARKER

HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS. — (AP)—How much dope is smuggled into Texas prisons? How does it get in? "We don't know," says O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison system.

But, Ellis told the State Prison Board Monday, he does have some partial answers.

Enough gets in so that "dope, and sex, make up the number one problem of the Texas Prison system."

He held aloft a quart jar full of vial-colored tubes and other articles.

"All this was collected in a short period of time at Wynn Farm near Huntsville," he said. "Wynn Farm is where we keep our physically handicapped prisoners."

"Precisely because they are handicapped, they have more time to think up things, more time on their hands."

Then he pulled from a brown paper sack two evil-looking automatic revolvers, their blunt ends glistening.

"But they were made of wood, the product of un-numbered hours of careful work by the disabled inmates at Wynn. Ellis said making of mock guns seems to be a "pastime" for some of the Wynn prisoners, but added:

Dope Principal Worry

"You could get pretty scared, couldn't you, if one of these were pointed at you?"

But dope is the principal problem.

"You wonder how it gets in," Ellis continued. "Probably more comes in on the person of trustees than any other way."

"Recently we found four tubes of benzadrine at Wynn. They had been wrapped in adhesive tape, dipped in wax to make them waterproof, weighted, and dropped in the overhead water tank of a toilet in one of our offices."

"Obviously, they were brought in by someone, and the plan was for a trusty to pick them up and take

Prison Board Seeks Complete Overhaul Of State Prison Laws

HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS. — (AP)—A complete overhaul of Texas prison laws will be asked by the State Prison Board.

Present laws, in the words of board member Bronson Morgan of Jasper, are "conflicting, cumbersome, confusing and inconvenient."

Principal difficulty arises from the fact that law has been piled on top of law without repeal of the older legislation to eliminate conflicts, he said.

The board, at its bi-monthly meeting Monday, voted to arrange for a complete rewriting of the laws for submission to the Legislature, probably in two years.

The board made clear, however, that the penal code revisions is secondary to the $4,000,000 reorganization program under O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System.

Ellis and Mace Thompson, his lieutenant, meanwhile planned a six-month tour of the prison system with H. Leon Slaughter, 31-year-old Edgewood, Texas, agricultural specialist named Monday as assistant to Ellis for prison farm operations.

To make escape less inviting, the board voted to ask the Legislature to make it a felony, a practice followed by most other states.

Cleveland Brown Quarterback Otto Graham and Cliff Lewis are neighbors in Bay Village, O., a suburb of Cleveland.

Politicos Turn Eyes To Fort Worth

By The Associated Press

The eyes of Texas politicians are centered on Fort Worth.

And politicians have drawn red circles around September 13 and 14 on their calendars.

On those two days in Cowtown, two major questions are expected to be settled:

1. The winner of the U. S. Senate race.
2. Whether Texas Democratic electors will vote for the "regular" Truman-Barkley ticket or the States' Rights Party nominees, Thurmond and Wright.

The state party executive committee and the convention are due to certify the winner of the Senate race. At the last unofficial count by the Texas Election Bureau, vote reporting agency, Lyndon Johnson led Coke Stevenson 162 votes.

Robert Calvert, chairman of the executive committee, said Monday for the umpteenth time that the executive committee did not plan to rule on disputes concerning the votes.

Johnson Appeals To Friends

He said the committee merely would add up the totals certified to it by the state's 254 county Democratic committees. Calvert said the state committee did not have the power to rule on the disputes.

Johnson, in a broadcast from Austin Monday night, said there might be an "attempt to thwart the will of the people" at the Fort Worth convention. He urged his friends to attend the convention "to see there is fair play" when the official tabulation is made.

The candidate also attacked Stevenson's charges of bloc voting in some counties, saying his opponent had accepted the vote from those counties in previous races when they went for Stevenson.

Meanwhile, the "loyal" Democrats—those supporting the Truman-Barkley ticket—laid plans to make certain they controlled the state convention. The convention will have the final say as to which electors are chosen for Texas.

'Loyal' Plan Rally

In a meeting at Waco Sunday which was secret at the time, 35 or 40 Democratic leaders planned their strategy to keep the States' Rights group from capturing the convention. Byron Skelton of Temple was named floor leader for the "loyal" group. He will set up offices in Fort Worth Wednesday.

The Temple man said a rally of Truman-Barkley supporters will be held in Fort Worth the night of September 13, one day before the state convention. He said the place and facilities had not been determined. But he said it would not be a small, select gathering, indicating he expected a mass demonstration which will be as large as seating space will permit.

The Temple man said Gov. Beauford Jester held a conference with high party officials on the organization and platform of the convention.
