Red Sox, Indians Meet Monday In Do-Or-Die Tussle

By RALPH ROSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Sudden death" confronts the Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox Monday.

The Indians and Sox are scheduled to clash in Boston in a one-game do-or-die playoff for the championship of the American League.

This unprecedented American League event came about Sunday when the Indians and Red Sox finished the regular season in a tie for the pennant.

The Indians began the day's activities a game ahead of the Sox but dropped a 7-1 decision to the Detroit Tigers while the Red Sox mauled the defending world champion New York Yankees 10-5.

Both Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland and Joe McCarthy of Boston declined to name their starting pitchers for Monday's deciding game, slated to begin at 12:30 p. m. CST.

Said McCarthy after the Red Sox win: "I had everybody working in the bullpen Sunday afternoon and I haven't the ghost of an idea who I'll start Monday." Best guess is that either Ellis Kinder (10-7), a righthander, or lefty Mel Parnell (15-8) will work for the Red Sox with Denny Galehouse (8-7) a dark-horse.

First AL Playoff
Boudreau said: "My starter will be Bob Feller, Gene Bearden or Bob Lemon. There will be no announcement of my starting pitcher until he steps on the rubber."

This is the first time in its history the American League has had to stage a playoff to decide a pennant. The National League established the major league precedent in 1946 when the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers finished the campaign tied for the lead. The Cards won the best-two-out-of-three playoff by winning two straight games.

No matter which team wins Monday the World Series will open in Boston Wednesday with the National League's champion Braves entering, taking the American League winner.

Bob Feller was entrusted with the job Sunday of nailing down Cleveland's first pennant since 1920 but

Bulldogs Due For Workout

The Midland Bulldogs are due for long and hard workouts this week in preparation for an opening 3-AA battle Friday night with the Sweetwater Mustangs at Sweetwater.

Coaches already have promised the Bulldogs enough work this week to "separate the men from the boys."

The Friday night test is a stiff one for the Midlanders. They meet an undefeated, united and unscored on eleven in Sweetwater. Sweetwater is big and rough and rugged defensively. Coach Pat Gerold fields a clean but hard-hitting outfit year after year. And this year he has a plenty well-equipped team, one of the favorites to take the district title.

McCamey Wins Over Denver City

MCCAMEY—The McCamey Badgers entered workouts for future games Monday looking their shape after a 31-14 drubbing put to Denver City Friday night.

There was no scoring in the first quarter ended by slipping through the left side of the line for a yard and another tally. McCamey led at this point 13-7.

Frankie Stokes, McCamey half back, added two more tallies in the second period, the first coming on a 23 yard jaunt. On the next kickoff, he made for a loose ball over the goal line and recovered for another McCamey score. The half-time score was 25-7.

There was no scoring in the third quarter, and both teams punted only once in a sluggish period of play.

Opening the final period, Denver City pulled five first downs on a 73 yard march that saw Howard go over from the five yard line for the score. Prichard added the extra point. After two exchanges of fumbles, McCamey took possession of the ball on the Denver City 29 and was penalized to the 34. C. M. Gray, substitute halfback went over right tackle, reversed his field and outran the entire Denver City team for the final score.

Middle West Looms As Tough Section Of College Football

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Middle West, long an incubator for stout college football machines, has hatched another bunch of toughies—but they threaten to rub each other out before one can make a bid for national honors.

They're loaded in the midlands this year, with teams like Notre Dame, Michigan, Northwestern, Minnesota and Ohio State all acting up in early games. But strength appears evenly distributed.

This week Northwestern, the Big Nine's newest wonder team after that 21-0 shellacking of Purdue, plays unbeaten Minnesota, Purdue, which earlier tossed a scare into Notre Dame, takes on Michigan.

Notre Dame and Michigan shared the unofficial national championship last year on the basis of two Associated Press polls.

Elsewhere around the country these teams stepped to the fore as the young season swung boisterously into October:

- East—Army, Pennsylvania, Penn State.
- South—North Carolina and Georgia Tech.
- Southwest—Southern Methodist University and Arkansas.
- Far West—Nevada and California.

From 15 to 20 per cent of their light is absorbed by dust film on electric light bulbs.

DOWN SPORTS LANE

with TANNER LAINE

For what it's worth to the Midland Bulldogs:

No one yet has ever explained quite satisfactorily just what makes a football team win.

Some teams appear to have everything from talented backs to able linemen with weight and speed—but never rise above mediocrity.

Other teams with less apparent talent wonder and win, win, win.

If there is one intangible that seems to spell the difference between great and mediocre it is spirit. It is esprit de corps.

The old notion that a team that won't be licked can't be licked has much merit.

Eleven men, banded together for a given cause, possess more strength as a unit than the sum total of their individual strengths.

They generate a lift and a drive, provided the proper motivation is there in the form of spirit, that make them quite invincible.

Great coaches know the value of the spiritual element. Yale has used it for years by featuring it as a tradition. Notre Dame employs this element regularly. Every successful team has it.

A spirit of striving together for a common purpose of all for one and one for all.

Billy Southworth's all-out baseball with the pennant won cost the Braves the services of Jeff Heath in the World Series, but it was highly commendable.

Billy the Kid once more demonstrated why he is the most respected of managers.

How many times have you seen a club with the flag in the bag take it easy?

Starting pitchers throw three innings, or something like that, just enough to keep loosened up. The shortstop with the tender under-eye circles takes a good rest. The big shot in center field is carefully spelled, etc. You see second-stringers and young fellows brought up from the farms for a Fall look.

But not when Southworth is running the show. He is carefully spelled, etc. You see second-stringers and young fellows brought up from the farms for a Fall look.

But not when Southworth is running the show. He is carefully spelled, etc. You see second-stringers and young fellows brought up from the farms for a Fall look.

ROUND UP THE STRAYS

A pleasant visitor with us at the sports desk Saturday night was Speedy Moffett, backfield coach of the San Antonio Bobcats.

We asked Speedy a few questions about his ball club and he wanted to know something about the Bulldogs.

He was surprised Midland sputtered in the last half and lost to Plainview.

So were we, Speedy!

A special trainload of fans followed the Fort Worth Cats to Birmingham.

Tommy Hariz writes in the Big Spring Herald: "Do the Odessa Bronchos have a weakness? Well, the fourth string right halfback has a tendency to look over his shoulder after he's broken into the clear."

The new 17,000-seat Odessa High Stadium will be ready for the October 15 game with Abilene.

We have our fingers crossed Monday for the Cleveland Indians because their name is Indians.

One of the best football game stories leads we read over the weekend was Amos Melton's starter on the SMU Tech tilt: "Life a white-robed group of brilliant and ruthless physicians perform an autopsy, the mighty Mustangs of SMU sliced the willies but hopelessly outclassed Texas Tech Red Raiders into a 41-6 defeat Saturday."

We are going out onto the limb and predict that Midland will cross Sweetwater's goal line come Friday night, a feat which has not been done so far this season.

Old man Sammy Baugh was in action Sunday as Washington surprised the New York Giants in pro football 41-10.

Slinging Sam passed two TDs and scored one on a QB sneak.

30 for strays, Midland "took up a claim" Friday night, being thrown from a bronc or bull.

Five SWC Elevens Play Intersectional Contests Saturday

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Five Southwest Conference teams tackle tough intersectional foes this week, but the top attraction may be that which could change the color of two darkhorse entries.

Arkansas and Baylor match speed and trickery at Fayetteville, Ark., in a tilt that could mean a lot in the final standings.

The five intersectional games include the annual Texas-Oklahoma classic at Dallas; Texas A&M-Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, La.; Rice-Southern California at Los Angeles; Southern Methodist-Missouri at Columbia, Mo.; and Texas Christian-Indiana at Bloomington, Ind.

Arkansas Razorbacks took a game advantage in the conference race last week by routing Texas Christian under 77-14.

Baylor was impressive in drawing with Mississippi State 7-7.

Should Arkansas win, it would be in a strategic position in the title chase. With two victories, the Forkers could tie for the toughest—Southern Methodist and Texas—and let matters attend to themselves against Rice and Texas A&M.

A win for Baylor would send the Bear's stock soaring as a menace.

Southern Methodist ran its victory string to fourteen straight with a fast finish that buried Texas Tech 41-6 Saturday.

Texas gave its reserves a good workout in smothering little New Mexico 47-0.

Critical Test
Louisiana State sprang a 26-13 upset at Rice while Oklahoma beat Texas A&M 42-14.

Clyde Scott of Arkansas and Oak Walker of SMU paced individual performances.

This week's schedule is expected to be a crucial test for conference teams.

Missouri should be a good measuring rod for the strength of Southern Methodist; Oklahoma could be a stumbling block in Texas' comeback plans, and Southern California and Indiana should cause Rice and Texas Christian's rebound formulas.

Louisiana State is a one-sided favorite over the luckless Texas Aggies.

In intersectional competition this year conference teams have won six, lost four and tied one.

Texas Schoolboy Elevens Facing Crucial Contests

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas schoolboy football is in its biggest week of the season—a week when the No. 1 team of the state should be established beyond contention.

Five games of great import are scheduled, the feature bringing together mighty Fort Arthur of Class AA and Brackenridge (San Antonio) the ranking power of the City Conference.

These two get together at San Antonio Friday night, one of three clashes matching unbeaten, united teams.

The other contests in which clubs with perfect records will perform send Highland Park (Dallas) to Waco and Austin (Houston) against John Reagan (Houston), the latter a City Conference title game in District 2.

Odessa ambles into Amarillo Friday night in the top battle of the West while Marshall journeys to Kilgore in the headliner of the East. Amarillo and Kilgore are unbeaten and untied; Odessa and Marshall are undefeated but have been tied.

There are other highly important games. One of them matches Bonham with Denison at Bonham. It is generally conceded to be the tilt that will determine the District Five championship.

Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, another power of Class AA, will go to San Angelo in a tilt that will vie for interest in West Texas.

Only 17 teams have survived the first month of play without meeting defeat or tie. Arlington Heights, Milby (Houston), John Reagan, Austin (Houston) and Brackenridge are the City Conference teams unbeaten and untied. In Class AA they are Pampa, Amarillo, Sweetwater, Austin (St. Paul), Bonham, Highland Park, Stephenville, Henderson, Kilgore, Waco, Fort Arthur and Alice. Six Fall Press Circle

Six teams fell out of the circles last week. They were Adamson (Dallas) which lost to Marshall 26-6; Jeff Davis, whipped by Arlington Heights 46-8; Wichita Falls, upset by Abilene 13-0; Gainesville, trimmed by McKinney 18-7; Greenville, edged by Palestine 7-0, and Orange, lipped by Baytown 23-0.

Eight teams are undefeated but have been tied. They are Lamar (Houston), Quanah, Odessa, Marshall, South Park (Beaumont), Texas City, Baytown and San Benito. Arlington Heights, Brackenridge, Odessa and Fort Arthur made the greatest show of power last week. Brackenridge whammed Lanier of San Antonio 30-0, Odessa ran over Big Spring 52-0 and Fort Arthur blasted Sunset (Dallas) 61-0.

Birmingham Events Series With Cats

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—(AP)—The Fort Worth Cats and Birmingham Barons were even with one victory each as the two clubs journeyed to the Texas city for resumption of the Dixie Series.

Three games are scheduled at Fort Worth for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. If further contests are necessary in the best of seven series, they will be played in Birmingham Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Barons took Sunday's game 8-4.

Red Sox, Indians Meet Monday In Do-Or-Die Tussle

By RALPH EDDEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Sudden death" confronts the Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox Monday.

The Indians and Sox are scheduled to clash in Boston in a one-game do-or-die playoff for the championship of the American League.

This unprecedented American League event came about Sunday when the Indians and Red Sox finished the regular season in a tie for the pennant.

The Indians began the day's activities a game ahead of the Sox but dropped a 7-1 decision to the Detroit Tigers while the Red Sox mauled the defending world champion New York Yankees 10-5.

Both Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland and Joe McCarthy of Boston declined to name their starting pitchers for Monday's deciding game, slated to begin at 12:30 p. m. CST.

Said McCarthy after the Red Sox win: "I had everybody working in the bullpen Sunday afternoon and I haven't the ghost of an idea who I'll start Monday." Best guess is that either Ellis Kinder (10-7), a righthander, or lefty Mel Farnham (15-8) will work for the Red Sox with Denny Galehouse (8-7) a dark-horse.

First AL Playoff
Boudreau said: "My starter will be Bob Feller, Gene Bearden or Bob Lemon. There will be no announcement of my starting pitcher until he steps on the rubber."

This is the first time in its history the American League has had to stage a playoff to decide a pennant. The National League established the major league precedent in 1946 when the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers finished the campaign tied for the lead. The Cards won the best-two-out-of-three playoff by winning two straight games.

No matter which team wins Monday the World Series will open in Boston Wednesday with the National League's champion Braves entering the American League winner.

Bob Feller was entrusted with the job Sunday of nailing down Cleveland's first pennant since 1920 but

Bulldogs Due For Workout

The Midland Bulldogs are due for long and hard workouts this week in preparation for an opening 3-AA battle Friday night with the Sweetwater Mustangs at Sweetwater.

Coaches already have promised the Bulldogs enough work this week to "separate the men from the boys."

The Friday night test is a stiff one for the Midlanders. They meet an undefeated, untied and unscared on eleven in Sweetwater.

Sweetwater is big and rough and rugged defensively. Coach Pat Gerold fields a clean but hard-hitting outfit year after year. And this year he has a plenty well-equipped team, one of the favorites to take the district title.

McCamey Wins Over Denver City

MCCAMEY—The McCamey Badgers entered workouts for future games Monday licking their chops after a 31-14 drubbing up to Denver City Friday night.

Here is how the Badgers took the Mustangs:

Billy Stokes, McCamey fullback, circled the right end for 51 yards and a tally in the first two minutes of play. Denver City received the kickoff and challenged up four first downs with Prichard carrying over for a touchdown to knock the count. Courtney put McCamey back in the lead just before the first quarter ended by slipping through the left side of the line for 9 yards and another tally. McCamey led at this point 13-7.

Frankie Stokes, McCamey halfback, added two more tallies in the second period, the first coming on a 22 yard jaunt. On the next kickoff, he made for a loose ball over the goal line and recovered for another McCamey score. The half-time score was 25-7.

There was no scoring in the third quarter, as both teams punted only once in a sluggish period of play.

Opening the final period, Denver City tallied five first downs on his way to the fifth to make it a 5-4 game in favor of the Sox. However, Raschl folded in the sixth, yielding four runs on five hits.

Dom DiMaggio again started the fireworks by leading off with a homer. Peaky beat out a punt and after Williams fled out, Stephens lined his twenty-ninth homer of the season over the left field wall.

Doerr singled, Spence walked and Goodman singled to drive in the final run of the inning.

The Yanks' Joe DiMaggio rapped out four hits, two of them doubles and batted in three runs.

In the other American League games, the Washington Senators downed the Philadelphia Athletics 7-2, and the Chicago White Sox beat the St. Louis Browns 10-5 in the first game of a doubleheader.

The second game was called at the end of eight innings because of darkness with the score tied 2-2.

Braves Tune Up
The Braves tuned up for the World Series by trouncing the New York Giants 11-1.

Although beaten 4-3 by the Chicago Cubs, the St. Louis Cardinals clinched second place as the Brooklyn Dodgers lost 4-2 to the Philadelphia Phillies. The Dodgers, defending National League champions, finished a game behind the Redbirds.

The Cincinnati Reds, behind the two-hit pitching of Johnny Vander Meer, shaded the Pittsburgh Pirates 1-0. The win enabled the Reds to wind up in seventh place, a half-game in front of the Cubs.

DOWN SPORTS LANE

with TANNER LAINE

For what it's worth to the Midland Bulldogs:

No one yet has ever explained quite satisfactorily just what makes a football team win.

Some teams appear to have everything from talented backs to elite linemen with weight and speed—but never rise above mediocrity.

Other teams with less apparent talent work wonders and win, win, win.

If there is one intangible that seems to spell the difference between great and mediocre it is spirit. It is esprit de corps.

The old notion that a team that won't be licked can't be licked has much merit.

Eleven men, banded together for a given cause, possess more strength as a unit than the sum total of their individual strength.

They generate a lift and a drive, provided the proper motivation is there in the form of spirit, that make them quite invincible.

Great coaches know the value of the spiritual element. Yale has used it for years by featuring it as a tradition. Notre Dame employs this element regularly. Every successful team has it.

A spirit of striving together for a common purpose of all for one and one for all.

Billy Southworth's all-out baseball with the pennant won cost the Braves the services of Jeff Heath in the World Series, but it was highly commendable.

Billy the Kid once more demonstrated why he is the most respected of managers.

How many times have you seen a club with the flag in the bag take it easy?

Starting pitchers throw three innings, or something like that, just enough to keep loosened up. The shortstop with the tender underpinning takes a good rest. The big 73 yard march that saw Howard spelled, etc. You see second-stringers and young fellows brought up from the farms for a Fall look.

But not when Southworth is running the works.

"We're still playing to win," he told the Boston Nationals, when they shaded the Giants to take it all. "That's the only way we know."

ROUND UP THE STRAYS... A pleasant visitor with us at the speed of Saturday night was Speedy Moffett, backfielder of the San Antonio Sabers.

We asked Speed a few questions about his ball club and he wanted to know something about the Bulldogs.

He was surprised Midland sputtered in the last half and lost to Plainview. "So were we, Speedy!"

A special trainload of fans followed the Fort Worth Cats to Birmingham.

Tommy Haris writes in the Big Spring Herald: "Do the Odessa Bronchos have a weakness? Well, the fourth string right halfback has a tendency to look over his shoulder after he's broken into the clear."

The new 17,000-seat Odessa High Stadium will be ready for the October 15 game with Abilene. We have our fingers crossed Monday for the Cleveland Indians because their name is Indians.

One of the best football game story leads we read over the weekend was Amos Melton's starter on the SMU Tech tilt: "Life's a white-robed group of brilliant and ruthless physicians performing an autopsy, the mighty Mustangs of SMU sliced the willing but hopelessly outclassed Texas Tech Red Raiders into a 41-6 defeat Saturday."

We are going out onto the limb and predict that Midland will cross Sweetwater's goal line come Friday night, a feat which has not been done so far this season.

Old man Sammy Baugh was in action Sunday as Washington surprised the New York Giants in pro football 41-10.

Singing Sam passed for two TDs and scored one on a QB sneak... 30 for strays, Midland "took up a claim" Friday night, being thrown from a bronc or bull.

Five SWC Elevens Play Intersectional Contests Saturday

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Five Southwest Conference teams tackle tough intersectional foes this week, but the top attraction may be that which could change the color of two dark-horse entries.

Arkansas and Baylor match speed and trickery at Fayetteville, Ark., in a tilt that could mean a lot in the final standings.

The five intersectional games include the annual Texas-Oklahoma classic at Dallas; Texas A&M-Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, La.; Rice-Southern California at Los Angeles; Southern Methodist-Missouri at Columbia, Mo.; and Texas Christian-Indiana at Bloomington, Ind.

Arkansas Razorbacks took a game advantage in the conference race last week by routing Texas Christian under 27-14.

Baylor was impressive in drawing with Mississippi State 7-7.

Should Arkansas win, it would be in a strategic position in the title chase. With two victories, the Razorbacks could point for the toughness of Southern Methodist and Texas—and let matters attend to themselves against Rice and Texas A&M.

A win for Baylor would send the Bears' stock soaring as a menace. Southern Methodist rebound from victory string to fourteen straight with a fast finish that buried Texas Tech 41-8 Saturday.

Texas gave its reserves a good workout in smothering little New Mexico 47-0.

Critical Test
Louisiana State sprang a 26-13 upset at Rice while Oklahoma beat Texas A&M easily 42-14.

Clyde Scott of Arkansas and Don Walker of SMU paced individual performances.

This week's schedule is expected to be a critical test for conference teams.

Missouri should be a good measuring rod for the strength of Southern Methodist; Oklahoma could be a stumbling block in Texas' comeback plans, and Southern California and Indiana should ease Rice and Texas Christian's rebound formulas.

Louisiana State is a one-sided favorite over the luckless Texas Aggies.

In intersectional competition this year conference teams have won six, lost four and tied one.

Texas Schoolboy Elevens Facing Crucial Contests

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas schoolboy football is in its biggest week of the season—a week when the No. 1 team of the state should be established beyond contention.

Five games of great import are scheduled, the feature bringing together mighty Fort Arthur of Class AA and Brackenridge (San Antonio) the ranking power of the City Conference.

These two get together at San Antonio Friday night, one of three clashes matching unbeaten, untied teams.

The other contests in which clubs with perfect records will perform are Highland Park (Dallas) to Waco and Austin (Houston) against John Reagan (Houston), the latter a City Conference title game in District 3.

Odessa ambles into Amarillo Friday night in the top battle of the West while Marshall journeys to Kilgore in the headliner of the East. Amarillo and Kilgore are unbeaten and untied; Odessa and Marshall are undefeated but have been tied.

There are other highly important games. One of them matches Bonham with Denison at Bonham. It is generally conceded to be the tilt that will determine the District Five championship.

Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, another power of Class AA, will go to San Angelo in a tilt that will vie for interest in West Texas.

Only 17 teams have survived the first month of play without meeting defeat or tie. Arlington Heights, Milby (Houston), John Reagan, Austin (Houston) and Brackenridge are the City Conference teams unbeaten and untied. In Class AA they are Pampa, Amarillo, Sweetwater, Austin (El Paso), Odessa, Highland Park, Stephenville, Henderson, Kilgore, Waco, Port Arthur and Alice.

Six teams fell out of the circle last week. They were Adamson (Dallas) which lost to Marshall 26-6; Jeff Davis, whipped by Arlington Heights 46-8; Wichita Falls, upset by Abilene 13-0; Gainesville, trimmed by McKinney 18-7; Greenville, edged by Palestine 7-0, and Orange, licked by Baytown 23-0.

Eight teams are undefeated but have been tied. They are Lamar (Houston), Quanah, Odessa, Marshall, South Park (Beaumont), Texas City, Baytown and San Benito. Arlington Heights, Brackenridge, Odessa and Port Arthur made the greatest show of power last week. Brackenridge whammed Lanier of San Antonio 30-0, Odessa ran over Big Spring 52-0 and Port Arthur blasted Sunset (Dallas) 61-0.

Middle West Looms As Tough Section Of College Football

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Middle West, long an incubator for stout college football machines, has hatched another bunch of toughies—but they threaten to rub each other out before one can make a bid for national honors.

They're loaded in the midlands this year, with teams like Notre Dame, Michigan, Northwestern, Minnesota and Ohio State all setting up in early games. But strength appears evenly distributed.

This week Northwestern, the Big Nine's newest wonder team after that 21-0 shattering of Purdue, plays unbeaten Minnesota. Purdue, which earlier tossed a scare into Notre Dame, takes on Michigan.

Notre Dame and Michigan shared the unofficial national championship last year on the basis of two Associated Press polls.

Elsewhere around the country these teams stepped to the fore as the young season swung boisterously into October.

GOOD NEWS—THE PIPE IS HERE!
For An Important Project In This Year's Program
ALL Cities And Towns Served Will Benefit

DESCRIPTION OF PROJECT: Construction of 10 1/2 miles of new 8-5/8 inch pipe line from Amherst to Littlefield Compressor Station, replacing a 4-1/2 inch pipe line.

Purpose of Project

To provide ample pipe line capacity to receive and feed into our system the natural gas we will shortly commence purchasing at Amherst from El Paso Natural Gas Company's Panhandle-to-California line.

More Gas For Entire System

While the gas we buy at Amherst will not be carried throughout our system, it will nevertheless benefit ALL our customers. Towns not reached by this new supply will have available to them more of the gas coming into the system from OTHER sources. Our project will be completed prior to November 1, the date on which we expect gas to be available from the California line.

Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week is in full swing here, under sponsorship of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has arranged a comprehensive program designed to prevent fire and to educate citizens in fire safety. It is a most important project in Midland and in every other city, and the JayCees are to be commended for their fine work in sponsoring and arranging the observance here. Never before in the history of our nation has there been a time when Fire Prevention Week was more important. Fire waste is running at an all-time high. During the first seven months of this year alone the destruction amounted to more than $437,000,000—far exceeding the total for the entire year of 1944. Higher prices and values of course are factors, but the fact remains we are having more fires, and the average fire is causing more destruction. The toll of death and destruction by fire can and must be checked.

The official poster for this year's Fire Prevention Week shows, in the background, the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse—war, famine, pestilence and death. In the foreground, carrying a flaming brand, is the Fifth Horseman—Fire.

That makes a dramatic and thought-provoking picture. Fire is one of the most consistent killers. Its ravage is especially great among small children. And, on top of that, it disfigures and cripples thousands of persons each year. Then, for good measure, it destroys well over $50,000,000 worth of property every month. Experts say that 90 per cent of all fires, great and small, are unnecessary. Of all fire's allies, human carelessness is by far the most effective. Our collective failure to follow the rudiments of fire safety is the basic reason why fire waste continues to grow. When fire is fought intensively, it always loses.

Even before the nationwide campaign opened, its sponsors warned that Fire Prevention is not just a seven-day job. Fire Prevention is a war that never ends—a war requiring unified action by all citizens throughout the year. Citizens should and must be conscious of fire hazards at all times.

Let's back the JayCees in their program of Fire Prevention this week and every week of the year.

Smart Commie

Ben Gold, head of the New York fur and leather union, is a refreshing change from the dozens of suspected Communists who have hidden behind the Constitution when congressional committees have questioned their political affiliations. Gold came right out and said he'd been a Commie for 25 years. Gold used the Constitution smartly. Since it still isn't a crime to be a Communist, he won't be cited for contempt of Congress. He has probably incriminated himself less than any he had clammed up like the others. We don't admire Gold or his politics. But we don't think he's so dumb.

A professor says that a fellow applying for a job should be a "good listener." It's tough, though, when all you hear is "No."

Once the politicians get wound up they do a lot of running down.

It's a nice knack to be able to disagree without being disagreeable.

The parking problem is just another by-product of the machine age.

When Boss Is Away, Staff At White House Forgets Him

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent (Peter Edson is on vacation) WASHINGTON—Off the cuff of a Washington reporter...

When President Truman is out of town campaigning, the White House staff apparently doesn't have too much interest in their boss's whereabouts or activities on the road. When somebody from one of the campaign committees called the White House to check whether Truman was going to speak that night and to find out exactly where he would be for the next couple of days, nobody there could supply the answer.

The new motion picture put out by the Navy, called "Secret Land," a film account of Admiral Byrd's 1946-47 Antarctica expedition, recently had an exclusive private showing here. It shows scenes of Capt. George Dufek, a member of the expedition, falling into the frigid water several times and being fished out just in the nick of time. When the lights went up after the finish one of the guests remarked in a loud voice:

"They should change the title to 'The Dunking of Dufek.'" Cabines' Food Brewing. In addition to all of his other woes the President recently has had to put his foot down several times on a feud brewing in his cabinet between the new secretary of agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, and the secretary of interior, Julius Krug. Brannan has discovered that Krug had urged Truman not to give Brannan the job when his name was being mentioned as a possibility. It all goes back to Krug's bureau of reclamation tangling with Brannan over certain irrigation policies when Brannan was assistant secretary of agriculture.

The Loves of Carmen By SOPHIE KERR Copyright, 1948, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Don Jose, young officer in a fashionable Spanish regiment, has just come to Seville from the countryside of Navarre. On his first day in the city, a gorgeous gypsy girl, Carmen, disappears. Some day, later he is on duty in the square with his friends, Andrea and Andre. From the nearby cigar factory comes a burst of gypsy music and the sound of Carmen's castanets could be heard. The lackey turned to watch, and Don Jose followed his gaze, but he could only see Carmen's face and her raised hands holding the castanets as she danced by.

ON the last night of his extra duty, Don Jose was placed outside the tall wrought-iron gates of the colonel's house. He had been told to wear his best uniform and plumed helmet. Every time he passed the gates, from the corner of his eye he could see the portion of a flower-decked patio where whirling couples danced to the accompaniment of a Viennese waltz. Carriage after carriage pulled up, bringing guests for whom the gate was opened by a liveried lackey.

Late at night a carriage pulled to a stop directly before him and four gypsies emerged, arrayed in the most elaborate finery. One man carried an accordion while one of the women had a guitar and another a tambourine. Don Jose stared astounded as Carmen stepped out, the last of the group. She was done up like a gyp Christmas tree, wearing blue shoes with spangles, a spangled dress, a lace mantilla, flowers, imitation jewels and a handsome cloak. When she saw Jose she threw him an oblique, knowing little smile and continued on through the gate, switching her skirts brazenly as she walked.

Former Abilene Physician Dies

WACO—Dr. James Ferrin Peak, 82, veteran physician and educator, died here Sunday. Doctor Peak attended school at Cleburne and was graduated from Tulane University in 1882. He returned to Tulane for post-graduate work in 1907 and then went to Abilene to practice. He retired in 1920 and moved here.

Atwood bought the old-fashioned small engine and cars for his private property "Edville Railroad" from a defunct line in Maine several years ago. It has become one of the chief tourist attractions in this section.

By YANKEES think even a hobby should pay its own way, so Atwood's busy little railroad has a function beyond keeping him and the tourists amused. It hauls from bog to boxing factory the 10,000 to 12,000 barrels of cranberries he grows each year.

The railroad winds around the 1,800 marshy acres that yield the small red berries which built a fortune for the Atwoods in the last three generations.

The economic possibilities of the cranberry were overlooked for two centuries by the descendants of the Pilgrims who landed in 1620 at Plymouth, only a few miles from here. But in the last 100 years it has become Massachusetts' most valuable export crop.

Today the state grows 67 per cent of the world's supply of cranberries, and more than 50 per cent are produced within a fourteen-mile radius of this small village.

The cranberry used to be as wild as the Indian. Now it is tame and profitable. It fetched $31.40 a barrel in 1946, $12 a barrel last year. This year the opening price was $15, but even at that figure it pays good dividends to thrifty farmers here.

Brine Well Caves In At Grand Saline

GRAND SALINE, TEXAS.—A gaping 150-foot crater was left here when a brine well caved in. Occupants of six houses near the well were ordered vacated and traffic on the Texas & Pacific spur nearby was suspended.

The cave-in, first here in years, occurred Sunday. No one was injured. A deposit above the 400-foot-deep well toppled over. It was partially buried in the crater.

The well is owned by the Morton Salt Company. The houses are company owned.

Cranberries Build Railroad, Fortune

By HAL BOYLE CARVER, a railroad here...

The line is only 5-1/2 miles long, but it carried 125,000 passengers last year.

"It's the last surviving two-foot gauge steam passenger railroad on the continent," said the owner, Ellis D. Atwood, 59, who is the nation's largest individual cranberry grower.

Atwood bought the old-fashioned small engine and cars for his private property "Edville Railroad" from a defunct line in Maine several years ago. It has become one of the chief tourist attractions in this section.

By YANKEES think even a hobby should pay its own way, so Atwood's busy little railroad has a function beyond keeping him and the tourists amused. It hauls from bog to boxing factory the 10,000 to 12,000 barrels of cranberries he grows each year.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON—Perhaps because it's buried in a mass of legal documents, or because it contains political dynamite, newspapers have left unnoticed a case in the U. S. District of Columbia Court which comes up before Judge Matt Maguire Monday.

It involves the man who may be Dewey's Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles.

It also shows how the Nazis operated through the Swedes to hide the true ownership of the American Bosch plant at Springfield, Mass., and how Dulles was involved in the deal.

The story goes back to 1940 when the Germans, knowing war with the United States was inevitable, made a deal with the Stockholm Enskilda Bank to take over the American Bosch plant, valued at $2,000,000, and "cloak" it under Swedish ownership for the duration of the war.

It was provided that the Swedes would give the plant back to the Germans after the war. To "cloak" the plant, the Swedes got a fee of $80,000.

All this was strictly secret. And during the war the Swedes protested that they owned the plant, not the Germans.

But toward the close of the war the U. S. Army found a false wall in a Stuttgart air-rail shelter, behind which was a box of secret papers regarding the American Bosch deal.

Dulles Would Delay These showed in detail how Marcus Wallenberg, head of the Enskilda Bank, had come to New York, conferred with Dulles and his law firm, Sullivan and Cromwell, and arranged a voting trust for the German-owned Springfield plant for the balance of the war. Furthermore it was arranged that if George Murnane, appointed voting trustee for the company, should die, John Foster Dulles would name his successor.

Later, through a complicated process, the voting trust certificates were placed with a Delaware Corporation, "Providentia," owned by the Swedes, and then the shares of this corporation were put in another voting trust controlled by Dulles.

Thus Dulles not only held the voting trust, but drew up the agreement and was also named Murnane's successor.

This secret agreement remained unknown to the U. S. Government all during the war, at a time when Dulles was acting as foreign-affairs adviser to Governor Dewey and as U. S. adviser to the United Nations. He told no one in the government about it.

Today the matter comes up in federal court when the U. S. government will demand that the Wallenbergs of Sweden, star witnesses in the case, be required to come to the United States and testify.

The Dulles law firm has opposed this, and government attorneys charge that Dulles is fighting a delaying action so the case will not be heard until after January when a new Republican administration will control final disposition of the American Bosch plant.

Note—Senator Clyde Briggles of New Hampshire, Republican, has vigorously urged Dewey not to appoint Dulles as Secretary of State, warned that he might not be confirmed by the Senate.

Bipartisan Neoplatonism Democratic Congressman Jasper Bell of Missouri, who represents President Truman's home (the fourth) district, announced this year that he was retiring from Congress. However, what he didn't tell the voters was that he had put his married daughter, Virginia Russell, back on the payroll for the duration of his term.

Following a nepotism expose last year, the Missourian yanked daughter Virginia off the payroll in a big hurry. This was before he decided to retire. But now that he isn't running for re-election and doesn't have to worry about adverse publicity, Virginia has been reinstated (as of July 15) at $2,400 a year.

Meantime, Rep. Cliff Clevenger of Ohio also is performing some interesting sleight-of-hand in the payroll department. His secretary, Edgar A. Drake, is paid $5,000 and works at the job.

But what Clevenger's constituents don't know is that Drake's wife, Grace, also has been put on the payroll as a full-time employee—salary, $4,500 a year. However, what she does—anything—around the office is a mystery. As a source close to Clevenger puts it: "I've known Mr. Clevenger for a number of years and in all that time I've never laid eyes on Mrs. Drake in his office."

In charge of the House Un-American Activities Committee's search for spies who stole atomic secrets, Congressman John Moe...

Britain Halts Shelter Demolition

LONDON.—Preparedness-minded Britain has stopped general demolition of its wartime air raid shelters.

A home office spokesman said Monday that, except for shelters which have been condemned as dangerous, all of these refuges from air attack will be left standing for the time being.

No statistics were available on the number of shelters still in good condition. Thousands of chiefly surface shelters erected in busy city streets and parks—have been destroyed. Most of the big underground shelters still are in existence.

Kermit Schools Let Building Contract

KERMIT.—Contract has been awarded by the Kermit Independent School District to the Burford Construction Company of Dallas for the construction of an auditorium and art and music room addition to the Kermit Elementary School, Supt. G. E. Thompson announced.

The contract, let on a low bid of $119,778, provides for the completion of the building within 370 days. Thompson said the structure should be ready for occupancy by the next school year.

So they say

We need far more tolerance, far more consideration, for others, far more good will to our fellows. These cannot be gained through legislation or other compulsion. They must come from education.

We are setting up America's best insurance policy against communism or any other kind of "ism" and against those who believe that it is the function of the state to regulate completely the lives of all men.

—John L. Lewis, UMW president, referring to the miners' pension plan.

God bless the day John L. Lewis was born.

—Horace M. Ainscough, 62-year-old miner who received the first $100 monthly pension check from the union welfare fund.

I am convinced that close co-operation on a voluntary basis between the national administration and the state can eliminate many wasteful practices and eliminate many of the overlapping taxes that are so burdensome to our people.

—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The most significant thing about my victory is that it demonstrates to the people of the world that Georgia does not look with favor on civil rights, and proves that Georgia is not a testing ground for communistic ideologies.

Artie Dunn, Morty Nevins and Al Nevins, known to music lovers as The Three Suns, dropped in the other day. They were telling me how the idea of forming a trio came to them one day in a Brooklyn taxicab. Now they are on top of the world, playing at the Astor Roof in New York City.

Morty told a few stories, including the one about the card gave us game and rubber on today's hand.

Unfortunately for him, Morty opened the ten of clubs, which Artie won with the ace. In pinocle you force out the opponent's high cards without wasting time, taking finesse. So Artie did not make the mistake of going over to dummy with a spade to take a heart finesse, which would have lost. If he had done so, he might have tried going back to dummy and taking another heart finesse. Artie simply laid down the ace and queen of hearts. Morty won the queen with the king and now there was no return he could make that would prevent Artie from making nine tricks.

He led a diamond and when Al put on the queen, Artie won with the ace and led the three of hearts, thus establishing dummy's ten for the ninth trick.

Now I have a pinocle challenge match on my hands. If Artie plays pinocle as well as he plays the organ, I may not do well.

Record-Breaking Midland Fair Ends Three-Day Strand

The most successful Midland County Fair in history closed its three-day run late Saturday night after shattering all previous records in attendance, interest and displays. The Saturday night crowd exceeded by far the Thursday and Friday attendance figures.

Highlighting the Saturday night entertainment were square dance exhibitions by Jack Pomy and his championship team from Sweetwater, and Luan Harris and his Stanton All-Stars. Doyle Fitzgerald and his band furnished music for the dancing.

The exhibits and displays were removed from the City-County Auditorium and the American Legion Hall Saturday night and Sunday. The livestock pens were dismantled Saturday night after the stock had been removed late Saturday afternoon.

Officials again expressed appreciation to exhibitors, volunteer workers, organizations and others who had a part in making the fair such an outstanding success.

Clean Oil Recovered At Terry Prospector
Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, Northeast Tarry County deep prospector, 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, and 800 feet from north and west lines of section 31, block 4-X, pal survey, took a two hour drillstem test at 11,131-148 feet.

Gas showed at the surface in 43 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery was 300 feet of clean oil, 70 feet of mud and oil plus 100 feet of salt water.

The project is to drill ahead.

This exploration is a previous test at 11,112-130 feet. The tool was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in 16 minutes. Recovery was 1,200 feet of clean oil, 100 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, and 150 feet of salt water.

The section showing the oil, and the small amounts of salt water is an unidentified lime. Some observers think it is possible Ellenburger. Others are inclined to the belief that it might be Mississippian.

Mechanical difficulties prevented the test being secured. Operator will re-condition the hole and make another effort to test to the same total depth.

A drillstem test was taken at 7,917-42 feet. A five-eighth inch bottom hole choke was used, and the tool was open for 40 minutes.

Gas showed at the surface in three minutes. Drilling mud came to the top in six minutes. Oil started flowing in seven minutes.

In 15 minutes of flowing to tanks the well made 60.72 barrels of oil, and after the tool was closed an additional 15.18 barrels of oil flowed out of the drill pipe into the tanks.

Another test was taken at 7,942-38 feet. The tester was open for one hour and five minutes. Gas showed at the surface in 13 minutes. Recovery was 5,800 feet of oil and gas cut salt water and 2,000 feet of salt water.
