'Running Higher' In Final Performance Here Monday Night

The final performance of "Running Higher," the Kiwanis Club Community Theater minstrel-revue, will be presented at 8:30 p. m. Monday in the City-County Auditorium. Another capacity crowd is expected.

The all-Midland talent show was presented before large crowds four nights last week, and was held over for a fifth performance by popular request. The demand for tickets during the regular run exceeded the seating capacity of the auditorium. "Running Higher" features comedy and music and is one of the most delightful shows ever presented in Midland. Art Cole is the director and Lee Flood is the general chairman of production. A revue of songs and skills, many of which were written and arranged by Bill Pomeroy, fill the first hour, and a minstrel takes the stage the second hour.

Proceeds from the performance go to the Kiwanis Club's youth welfare fund.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

SHE'S a typical wife—if she is more anxious to go out in the evenings than you are. She is quicker to notice that you need a haircut than that you have just had one. She thinks your job is a snap compared to hers, although she may only hint about it. No matter how little encouragement you give her, she always insists on rehearsing a party after it is over. She always acts a little surprised and hurt when you mention some small happening in a crowd that you haven't told her previously. She can't wait to criticize her friends, even though she always lets you in on their faults. When you comment on what a good-looking dress another woman is wearing, she says: "It ought to be. Do you know how much that dress cost? It cost such-and-such if it cost a cent!"

Though she frequently asks your advice, you notice that when a matter is really important to her, she decides it for herself and merely tells you what she is going to do. She is never so amiable as when she has just come home from a shopping trip with an extravagant purchase and the secret knowledge that she really shouldn't have bought it.

Swiss Just Don't Understand Rodeos, Says Texas Cowgirl

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—A rodeo company "from the savage West" put on a combination rodeo and riot Sunday night at the Palais Des Expositions. The event left policemen and performers bruised and ruffed and 27 of the cast of 40 under arrest. The trouble started when a hardy Genevan took up the rodeo company's offer of 1,000 Swiss francs (about $250) to anyone who stayed on the back of a bronco named "Income Tax" ten seconds. The Swiss horseman, whose name was lost in the scuffle, declared he rode "Income Tax" ten seconds. The cowboy—who billed himself as coming from Texas—said he was up only four seconds and not on any bronco named "Income Tax." The argument roared into a free-for-all. Somewhere in the melee a cowgirl was bashed on the head with a club. Police Win Battle

Then, says the newspaper La Suisse, the cowboys demanded "a pistol duel between the attacker and the husband of the victim—all according to every-day custom in Texas, apparently." The duel didn't come off.

Police, after losing various parts of their uniforms and suffering some punches, finally won control. They put the 27 performers in jail for questioning and cancelled the final performance of the show, scheduled for Monday night.

The rodeo performers took the view it was all the fault of the police for letting the fight get started.

"They don't understand us over here at all," a cowgirl said.

Ask the woman who owns one
Packard
By tradition, she's entitled to the last word. So Packard has built it for her!
She might not care whether what's under the bonnet is a "free-breathing" straight eight, or a turbo jet.
But when she praises delightful responsiveness, and the soothing smoothness of Packard power... we like it! (What man ever put so dainty a shoe against an accelerator pedal and got such results?)
She might not care whether Packard's superior roadability and handling ease are achieved by advanced engineering, or by happy little gremlins.
But when she tells us that her Packard has the restful riding ease of a limousine, and the finger-tip handling of a tiny tot's stroller... we beam!
And when it comes to styling, and tailoring, and convenience features, she's always been the No. 1 authority—and New York's Fashion Academy confirms her good judgment in preferring Packard.
Come in—learn all the reasons why the most enthusiastic "man who owns one" is often a woman!

The Chinese Problem

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee has recommended a program of stepped-up aid to China which probably will displease a good many Americans.

The over-simplified situation confronting our government in its relations with China is this: The two warring parties represent ways of government that are equally repugnant to the American concept of democracy.

Many honest, patriotic Americans who were in China during the war favored the Communists as the lesser of two evils. Some of these persons were in our government, and they doubtless helped shape America's immediate postwar policy toward China.

It was a policy shaped in the glow of hope that followed victory. It was also influenced, probably, by impatience with the Nationalist government.

So, in return for that aid, the American government tried to arrange a truce, and to persuade Chiang to accept a coalition government that would include Communists.

The subcommittee report rightly names this country as the "sole entity in the world today" that can "conceivably be extended to China an effective guaranty of territorial and political integrity."

In an atmosphere of unrest, many peoples on the other side of the world are striving to break free from their colonial status and gain independence.

An American policy of supporting every government that opposes communism may eventually lead to trouble, or at least embarrassment. But in the present world crisis, there seems no other way to fight for world freedom.

A Job For Candidate Thomas

Though it isn't brand new, there's much to be said for Norman Thomas's suggestion that a small commission of civilian experts be appointed to examine the whole problem of communism and Soviet espionage.

If such a group were set up, we would like to see the Socialist presidential candidate on it. As a learned, honest man who has no use for Stalinists, Republicans or Democrats—politically speaking—Thomas should be able to approach the subject intelligently and without any partisan bias.

Most inventors are harmless if left to their own devices.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Southern Newspaper Editors Name Dewey Next President

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—A poll of 150 daily newspapers in 15 Southern and border states reveals that their editors overwhelmingly concede the election of Republican Thomas E. Dewey as the next President.

The average prediction made by Dixie editors held enough to guess on what the electoral college vote would be: Dewey 343, Truman 150, Thurmond 38, Wallace 0.

Sixteen per cent are supporting candidate Dewey and another 16 per cent are supporting Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, the States' Rights Party candidate.

Editors polled to determine future political trends in the South are the 150 clients of NEA Service, Inc., the newsfeature agency which distributes this column.

The great majority of editors, however, predicted that barring legal complications, President Truman would carry all of the Southern and border states save Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Reasons given by individual editors for their support of the various candidates are revealing. Bear in mind that normally these papers lean or are strongly Democratic.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Surgery Is Required To Cure Advanced Bronchiectasis

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service. Repeated attacks of bronchitis, chronic sinus infection, or almost any other long-lasting or frequently recurring disease of the breathing system can result in a distressing condition called bronchiectasis.

Chronic cough, usually with the bringing up of a fairly heavy mucous sputum, sometimes having a foul odor, is common. The diagnosis depends on special examinations, including an X-ray film.

Bronchiectasis interferes with health and ability to work and it can produce dangerous complications and even death. It should be prevented if at all possible.

District Favorites Loom In Schoolboy Grid Race

The Texas schoolboy football campaign enters the stretch this week with 11 undefeated teams and favorites well-defined in the 18 districts of the City Conference and Class AA.

Last week's round of upsets made several changes, particularly in the San Antonio District of the City Conference and District 8 of Class AA.

Alamo Heights upset favored Brackenridge 21-0 at San Antonio and if the Mules can stand properly will be top choice to win the district crown.

Texarkana was known to be tough but not as strong as that 21-0 victory over Gladewater had indicated. Gladewater had licked favored Marshall.

As the race goes into its last five weeks these teams appear the best bets in the various districts:

City Conference — District 1, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); District 2, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth); District 3, Milby (Houston); District 4, Alamo Heights (San Antonio).

Two Drop From Circle
Class AA — District 1, Amarillo; District 2, Wichita Falls; District 3, Odessa; District 4, Austin, (El Paso); District 5, Denison; District 6, Highland Park (Dallas); District 7, Breckenridge; District 8, Texarkana; District 9, Waco; District 10, Palestine; District 11, Fort Arthur; District 12, Baytown; District 13, Austin; District 14, Alice.

Two teams fell out of the undefeated, untied ranks last week and one of them did it in hearty fashion as Fort Arthur whammed John Reagan of Houston 41-0. The other was Stephenville, which plunged

Bulldogs Work To Dedicate With Win

The Midland Bulldogs were scheduled to dig in Monday in drills for Friday night's battle here against the San Angelo Bobcats.

The game is part of the dedication ceremony for Memorial Stadium, new structure of the Midland school system, as a site for football contests and other athletic events.

Midland hopes some of its injured players will be ready to go against the invaders. High-scoring Bill Little, fullback, who was out of the Abilene game, is expected to be in shape for the San Angelo fracas. Dee Bivens, blocking block, has been out since the Austin High game but is expected to be ready for this Friday.

The Bulldogs took a pounding from Abilene but will be all-out this week in preparation for San Angelo. The Bobcats will be mean and mad from a 33-8 licking administered by Odessa last week.

San Angelo was one of the early-season favorites to win the district but the 'Cats have faded. They will be keyed up to beat Midland, however, in order to spoil the stadium dedication.

Here are the 3-AA standings:

Team	W	F	Pct.
Odessa	3	0	1.000
Sweetwater	2	0	1.000
Abilene	1	1	.500
San Angelo	1	1	.500
Lamesa	1	2	.333
Midland	0	2	.000
Big Spring	0	2	.000

Team	W	L	T	Pts.	O. Pts.
Sweetwater	5	0	0	165	27
Odessa	5	1	1	179	73
Abilene	3	3	0	54	60
San Angelo	3	3	0	85	71
Big Spring	2	3	0	48	148
Lamesa	2	4	1	38	74
Midland	1	5	0	60	163

Texas Endurance Flyers Whiz By 100-Hour Mark

LONGVIEW, TEXAS —(P)— The drone of an airplane engine over Gregg County Airport here Monday gave assurance that endurance fliers Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons still were in the air.

During the night the two Dallas pilots passed the 100-hour mark in their attempt to beat the world's endurance record of 726 hours set in 1939.

They radioed from their specially equipped plane that they are "just getting into the routine of things." Simons radioed they were sorry to learn that two endurance fliers in California, Bill Barris and Dick Riedel, were forced to land Sunday after spending 106 hours in the air.

Refuel Twice Daily
"We know how much preparations go into it," he said. "We hope they can get back into the air as soon as possible to resume competition."

"They're sure got our sympathy," Simons said.

Vinmont and Simons are flying a single-engine monoplane, dubbed Miss Texas. They take turns flying. They sleep on a specially built bed.

Twice a day they refuel—at dawn and at dusk. Their plane swoops down over a runway and picks up gasoline and supplies from a speeding car. They use a hook and rope system.

When they took off at dusk last Wednesday they predicted they would stay in the air 1,500 hours, more than two months.

Monahans Up With 21-0 Andrews Win

MONAHANS—(P)—The powerful Monahans Lobos with a last Friday victory over Andrews 21-0 are predicted by some sportswriters to win the state Class-A crown.

The game played at Andrews was in doubt until the last quarter when Ray Cathey plunged two yards over center for the second Monahans score, and Ed Alton Imme intercepted a Mustang pass in midfield and raced 45 yards for another touchdown.

Cathey's plunge was set up by a 27-yard run by Waidow Young from the Andrews 29-yard stripe. This was the tricky Young's longest run of the game as the Mustangs stopped the Monahans back time after time to sour the ground-gaining reputation he had earned against previous foes.

Monahans' first-quarter score came on a pass completion to Young from Quarter back Eddie Sampson—good for 48 yards. Sampson was removed from the game a few minutes later because of rules infractions, being replaced by David Uechl. Weldon Boggs kicked successfully for extra points on every touchdown occasion to help account for the Monahans victory.

J. C. Allen, 38, was killed when another car smashed into his parked car near Luftkin Sunday. Allen was sitting in his car watching a forest fire.

J. A. Weaver, 25, Houston, was killed in a traffic accident near Galveston Sunday.

The body of Mrs. Cleo Jerrain, 46, was found Saturday in her Denison tourist camp, where she lived. She had been shot to death. An automatic was found near her body.

How "BIG" is a gallon?

At Shell it includes work in 1152 different kinds of jobs

Combined efforts of the men and women in exploration, production, manufacturing, transportation, marketing and research, make it possible for Shell to provide more than 1000 products from petroleum.

Every man, woman, child:
With petroleum products furnishing 48 per cent of America's energy—almost equaling all other sources combined—annual requirements are over 90 billion gallons... or 628 for each man, woman and child in the country. Now, look at the effort needed to produce one gallon of Shell gasoline...

Extra special delivery:
Who moves the "crude" from fields to refineries, then starts gasoline off to you? Transportation, with trucks, tankers, trains, barges, pipelines, handles that job. And Marketing, the final link, sees that the gasoline you need is waiting at your Shell service station...

All pulling together:
A gallon of gasoline includes the combined work of each individual operating group, plus Shell Research, the essential ingredient. How big is a gallon? Measure it by the size of the job of making it—plus all of the convenience, comfort, health, and mobility which petroleum means to you.

Through the earth—2 1/2 times:
Your gallon starts at Production, where wells are drilled and operated. Last year the industry drilled 20,000 miles, or 2 1/2 times through the earth! Then comes the second big step, called Manufacturing, where refineries turn crude oil into liquid energy—the gasoline you use.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Dark-Dark

By WELLEY DAVIS

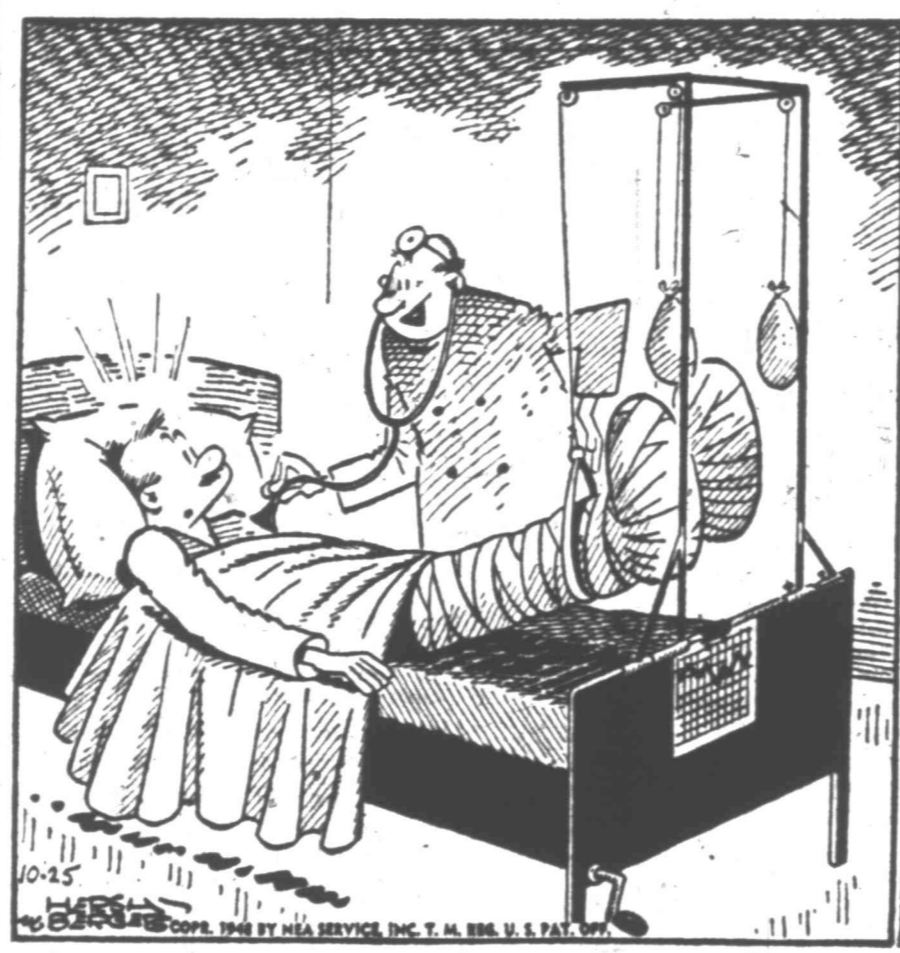

It was a very, very dark night in the Great Forest. Sammy and Bobby—the monkey boys—had just gone to bed. Daddy Ringtail put the cover over them. He opened the window. He said goodnight, and then he turned out the light. "Daddy Ringtail!" said Bobby Ringtail, because he was a very little monkey. "What is dark-dark?"

And he scratched his head, because that was something he had really never thought about before. Then he got up and turned the light on —and there was the light. Then he turned the light off—and the light was gone. "Now where did the light come from?" Daddy Ringtail asked. "And where did it go?" He turned the light on again. But Sammy said: "That's all right, Daddy Ringtail. Turn off the light and let us go to sleep." But Bobby said: "Daddy Ringtail, where does the light go—when it goes out?"

U. S. Officials Welcome Mexican 'Wetbacks'

This trailer truck, crowded with 127 Mexican farm workers—called "wetbacks"—prepares to leave U. S. Immigration Border Patrol headquarters in El Paso, Tex. The men are going to pick cotton in New Mexico's Pecos Valley. They had all waded the Rio Grande river after the border was thrown open wide to them, on abandonment of efforts to halt illegal immigration. Thousands of "wetbacks" will be turned over to American farmers.

Survivors include the husband; two daughters, Mrs. C. E. Stevens of Wichita Falls and Joan Hamilton of Abilene; the mother, Mrs. W. O. Teague of Fort Worth, and a sister, Mrs. W. B. McNeerlin of Monahans.

October 30 Named Young Democrat Day

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McCrath (D-R.I.), Democratic National Committee chairman, Monday set October 30 for celebration of "Young Democratic Day."

A committee announcement said local and state Young Democratic organizations, with nearly 5,000,000 members, will celebrate the day with rallies, parades and "first voter" ceremonies.

HIT PARADE SINGER HAS HONEYMOON-LESS WEDDING

They were married Sunday but said radio commitments require postponement of the honeymoon.

Youthful Victim Nabs 'Bank' Bandits

ABILENE — (AP) — When 10-year-old Harry E. Dunlap, Jr., discovered his glass "bubble" bank and its $12.79 in contents missing he went into action and caught the culprits red-handed.

Harry and his mother got home from the grocery store Saturday morning and discovered their house had been ransacked and Harry's bank gone. While Mrs. Dunlap summoned police, Harry went outside and got a description of two boys who had been seen in the neighborhood.

He jumped on his bicycle and headed toward a creek. As he neared the creek he met the two boys who fitted the description, nonchalantly started talking with them and stayed with them until police arrived.

His $12.79 was recovered.

Automatic Gadgets Get Job Done, But Fail In Eye-Appeal

By SAUL PETT
(Finch writing for Hal Bayle)
NEW YORK — (AP) — So I'm a reactionary, an enemy of progress. So what? I still won't go to the 40th National Business Show which opens in New York Monday.

A spy whispered to me, "They are showing the latest high-speed and electronic machines which increase human output and efficiency in some cases more than 100 times. The new office equipment also has eye appeal."

How efficient can you get? And why? There's something terrifying in the way people are always figuring out ways to make us more and more efficient. And don't talk to me about eye appeal. I like what I see now, I'm looking at a red-headed secretary across the room and if any scientist threatens to replace her with a machine I'll beat him over the head with a small electric.

One thing they're going to have at the business show fascinates me. The rest scares me. This one gadget should help promote human relations in business offices which otherwise are growing more and more mechanistic.

It's called the "Secretary's Merry-Go-Round," which "allows one or two seated persons to float to any desired point within a large area, serving, for example, an executive between two or more desks."

Doesn't Wear Nylons
Imagine the base of a barber's chair. That's what this thing is built on. On the base are two independent arms, which can swing backward or around. On the end of each arm is a chair. At the other end is a tall light. Nobody tells me what the tall light is for.

This kind of thing intrigues me but when you start talking about "completely automatic typewriters" I get a little shaky. They've got one now which "permits complete typing of a letter from heading to conclusion without manual attention." That means, of course, I see less of the red-headed secretary.

This monster types about 300 letters and addresses 1,200 envelopes in a day. It contains a dual roll, similar to a player-piano music roll. On one side is the letter, on the other, the addresses.

The machine automatically reverses from one side to the other when a letter is completely typed. Envelopes are addressed by flicking a switch. Efficient, isn't it, but this typewriter doesn't wear nylons.

Reds Start Drouth Prevention Program

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Soviet Union launched Monday a 15-year super-plan to abolish drouth and double Russia's grain harvest.

Announcement of the giant scheme to ward off dust bowls by revolutionary reforestation schemes involving 300,000,000 acres of collective state farms was made in special editions of leading Soviet newspapers Sunday.

CALIFORNIA FLYERS WILL TRY TO AGAIN

FULLERTON, CALIF. — (AP) — Bill Barris and Dick Riedel say they'll take off again late Monday in a new attempt to break the endurance flight record.

Their monoplane, Sunkist Lady, was forced down Sunday by Magno trouble after 106 hours in the air.

Stanley Hiller Jr., company president, and two companions show how the new control rotor system gives the craft inherent stability.

Franco Eyes UN Back Door

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
(For DeWitt Mackenzie)

Before the current United Nations session ends in Paris there is an outside chance the back door will be pushed open for Spain.

Three times since mid-1945 Gen. Francisco Franco's government has been declared unacceptable as a UN member. Then, to back the Allied world's disapproval, the U. S. government got out a pamphlet in March, 1946, publishing part of Franco's war-time correspondence with Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini.

It included several expressions of Franco's willingness to join the Axis providing he got the guns and grain.

Within the last few weeks, however, a number of prominent Americans have come away from visits to Madrid with kind words for Franco.

What has started the trend to forgive and forget?

A State Department official says "times have changed." He acknowledges Spain now is eyed from the military standpoint. He says military men must think of Spain in the Allied camp should the Russian-Western cold war change to a hot Latin American one.

The current move in Paris is led by Latin Americans, with Argentina as the prime mover. They would like to see Spain admitted at least to the UN sidelines to such affiliated agencies as the International Telecommunications Union and the Civil Aviation Organization. And they would like to see UN member nations put top-ranking diplomats back into Madrid.

The official American view is described this way: (a) Nothing is gained by cutting Spain out of such arrangements of convenience as those which govern a good many of the world's airlines, radio channels, cables and the like, and (b) the UN's 1946 decision to pull ambassadors out of Madrid merely got Franco more support at home.

Few off-shore issues have raised such a fever in the United States as Franco's rise to power with German and Italian military aid. State Department men say "emotion has always surrounded the question."

There is no talk, however, of granting Spain a full UN membership. That would have to go through the Security Council, where Russia has a veto. And the Russians have supported more bitter anti-Spanish moves than any other nation.
