Start Of Construction On Memorial Hospital Ordered

Contracts were signed Saturday afternoon for construction of the 75-bed Midland Memorial Hospital and work orders were issued to low bidders calling for the work to begin within a week.

Dr. John B. Thomas, president of the Midland Memorial Foundation, signed the contracts and work orders after final state and federal approval had been received by telegram for the hospital project, which will cost more than $1,300,000. Pledges and cash received in campaigns for the hospital total approximately $750,000 and the federal government agreed to pay a third of the total cost of the project.

Although funds are not sufficient to pay the costs, trustees of the Midland Memorial Foundation decided to go ahead with the construction, confident that sufficient additional money will be obtained within the next few months to pay all costs. However, if funds are lacking, it will be necessary to borrow funds to complete the financing, the trustees pointed out.

Doctor Thomas and the trustees have worked long hours to bring this program to the construction stage and the contractors are being urged to push the project as rapidly as possible.

Costs Are Increasing

The increasing costs of materials forced the total amount of contracts higher than had been anticipated but the architects, Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth and David S. Castle of Abilene, recommended that contracts be let at the present level.

Mukden Falls To Commies

NANKING—(AP)—Mukden collapsed into Chinese Communist hands Saturday in the most stunning government loss of the three-year civil war, reliable sources in this fearful capital reported Saturday night.

Many high Chinese and foreign sources declared the civil war had been decided with the fall of the great Manchurian city. Quick retirement from the remaining small holdings in Southernmost Manchuria was predicted.

Bitter fighting may continue in China proper for months or even years, the sources said, but Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's effort to defeat the Communists on a nationwide scale has died. The latest setback brought speculation on the possibility of replacing China's long-time leader.

Some unofficial quarters said the Communists completely occupied Mukden, swollen to nearly 2,000,000 population by refugees.

Nationalists fled.

Later and equally credible reports near midnight said the encircling Communist Armies had not yet taken full charge but the last government officials fled by car at 3 p. m., leaving the city in an anarchy of confusion.

The Communists themselves broadcast that they had wiped out a government division immediately north of Mukden and that the city's fall was imminent, but their reports did not square Saturday.

Chiang Kai-Shek, for more than 20 years the strong man of China, flew back to Nanking Saturday night from Peiping, his two-week effort to retool his Northern military fortunes a failure.

This evidently strained and weary man—62 years old Sunday—alone can answer the question of what comes next. Most reliable sources said his return foretold "drastic developments."

Voters Will Mark Blanket Sized Ballot

Another general election will be held Tuesday and indications are a record number of ballots for a presidential election will be cast in Midland County. The presidential and senatorial contests hold the spotlight as voter interest has mounted rapidly the last few weeks. Indications are that more split ballots than ever before will be cast in Midland and adjacent counties.

A total of 154 absentee ballots believed to be a record in a general election, were cast here during the absentee voting period which ended Friday.

Voting Places

Midland County voting places and election judges were announced by County Judge Clifford C. Keith, as follows:

Precinct 1—Basement of courthouse; Cecil Waldrep, judge.

Precinct 2—Greenwood School House; Mrs. Herman Fisher, judge.

Precinct 3—Stephenson School House; W. B. Preston, Jr., judge.

Voting will be between the hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m., Keith said. Voters should have their poll receipts.

Voters at the polls will be handed a "saddle blanket" ballot 17 1/2 x 25 inches in size. Candidates are listed under Democratic, Republican, States Rights, Prohibition, Progressive, Socialist and Independent Parties. There also is a column for write-ins.

Control Of Senate, Other Issues Also At Stake Tuesday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The first American presidential campaign of the atomic era wound up Saturday night in a blaze of oratory.

Next Tuesday 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 voters will give a man this soul-shaking assignment:

To safeguard peace and freedom from the dangers crowding in upon them; to curb inflation and prevent a disastrous bust; to help restore a degree of well-being to nations staggering up from the ruins of war.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the man the poll takers say is away ahead, made his last big speech in Madison Square Garden, New York.

President Truman kept insisting, the poll takers are wrong, despite States Rights bolters in the South and the Wallace schism in the North. The President concluded his campaign with an address at St. Louis.

Dewey and his Republican legions had set themselves two targets:

1. To roll up a bigger popular vote margin over Truman than Franklin D. Roosevelt rolled up over Dewey four years ago.
2. To turn back a Democratic threat to regain control of the Senate.

In 1944, FDR had 25,602,000 popular votes and Dewey 22,066,000. The electoral tally was lopsided: 432 to 89.

Much more besides the presidency will be at issue in Tuesday's election. The voters will elect 32 senators, 32 governors and 423 House members.

Little Public Employment

A host of state officers will be chosen, and referenda will pose innumerable questions, ranging from liquor control to legalized betting on horses and dogs.

Blast, Fire Level Texas Salt Plant

GRAND SALINE, TEXAS—(AP)—The packaging plant of the Morton Salt Company refinery here was destroyed Saturday by fire following an explosion, with damage estimated at $250,000 or more.

B. B. (Barney) Berryhill, 50, one of two men on duty, was burned critically. The second man, Jelly Youngblood, escaped injury.

The $1,000,000 factory, which refines salt pumped in brine form from a mine at the edge of town, is in Grand Saline's business district. An east wind carried the flames away from the business section and the chief menace was to the Masonic Church and a residence district.

Damage $250,000 Or More

J. Y. Bell, manager of the mine, said the explosion was believed to have come from an inflammable liquid used to clean printing press rollers. The printing plant—called the dandy mill—included a printing shop for the preparation of packages.

Bell estimated damage to the plant as "at least $250,000." The entire factory, consisting of four attached units, is valued at about $1,000,000.

The destroyed unit was a four-story brick building 300 feet long and 150 wide.

The plant was not operating Saturday. Between 200 and 300 workmen usually are employed there.

FIRST EUROPEAN DPS ARRIVE AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Army transport "General Black" brought 313 of Europe's displaced persons to their new home Saturday.

These latter-day pilgrims, first of 205,000 coming here in the next two years, crowded the ship's rail, shouted, whistled and waved their handkerchiefs and hats wildly as they passed the Statue of Liberty.

Midland Merchants Offer Outstanding $Dollar Day$ Values

One of West Texas' biggest shopping events of the season is scheduled Monday when Midland merchants stage another $DOLLAR DAY$ attraction which is expected to exceed previous events in interest, attendance and values.

Never before have Midland merchants offered such a wide variety of quality merchandise at such outstanding values, and never before have so many retail firms cooperated in the area-wide shopping carnival. The attraction is city-wide in scope, with practically all retail merchants cooperating.

Throngs of citizens from Midland and other Permian Basin cities are expected to be on hand to shop the $DOLLAR DAY$ values. Large crowds were in the city for the October sales event, and attendance Monday is expected to be even heavier.

Christmas gift suggestions are included in many of the $DOLLAR DAY$ advertisements appearing in this issue of The Reporter-Telegram.

Hundreds Flock To Various Hallowe'en Events In Midland

Men, women and children by the hundreds thronged the PTA-sponsored Hallowe'en Carnival Saturday as Midlanders celebrated Hallowe'en a day in advance of the October 31 date.

Sponsors reported record crowds at each of the fun frolics which were held in all schools, including West, North and South Elementary.

Guests and speaks late Saturday night still roamed the downtown streets, but no acts of vandalism were reported to the Police Department. The merry-makers were noisy but not destructive. Most store owners in the downtown section put glycerine on display windows to prevent soap markings.

and in the high school gymnasium. The Memorial Stadium was the scene of the junior high festival. A large crowd also was present at the Terminal School carnival.

Honemade cakes, pies and candy were sold or awarded each of the events, along with sandwiches and soft drinks.

Witches, fortune tellers, spook houses and other customary Hallowe'en features were seen by a Reporter-Telegram reporter who visited each of the affairs during the evening. Each carnival featured a special attraction.

Most of the youngsters attending the frolics wore make-up and Hallowe'en costumes of various kinds. All were having fun, and the PTA units were taking in needed dollars for needed school improvements and equipment.

Many parents were seen coming away from the events with cakes, pies and groceries of all kinds.

A dance at the Youth Center following the carnivals was well attended. Music for the dance was provided by the High School PTA.

A dance at the Midland Country Club Saturday night also attracted a large crowd.

Many speak parties were underway in private homes, and many "ghosts" roamed the city's streets for several hours following the school carnivals.

EISENHOWER was my boss

A trip-ticket and a two-block ride changed my entire life. The place was wartime London; the time, May of 1942. And I saw nothing special or miraculous about the ticket. It merely noted that I, as a natural. Five of us drivers had waited around American Army headquarters three days, to pick up a packet of Very Important Persons due in from the United States via Scotland. The first two mornings we staggered down to the motor pool at 5:30 a. m. And we stayed there until dark both times, only to be finally advised that the weather still held all London-bound planes at Preswick Airport.

This morning, it looked as though the Brass had abandoned their original plan. They were coming on down to London by train. Just when, no one knew. We had been jelled in the motor pool since 5:30, walking in moods as gray as the early-morning fog outside.

The other half of my disappointment came from snobbery. An army driver's prestige is based solely on the rank of the uniform in the back seat. So I had hoped to get General George Marshall or General "Hap" Arnold. Both were in this group, we knew. Both were known to all of us by name and reputation; either would be a bright feather in a driver's cap.

But Sheila and Betty had them. Sheila was one of those nonchalant, likeable girls to whom everything seemed to come easily, without thought or effort. Betty was a proud redhead who used plenty of thought and effort to make absolutely certain everything came her way. And, intimating that I had nobody, Betty lost no time in whispering she was going up a three-star general. She had of the disappointment was

I had never heard of the general, and, quite frankly, I was doubly disappointed at the assignment. I had of the disappointment was

By some estimates, the popular excitement about the election was not so great as the stakes involved. Some estimates placed the vote as low as $1,000,000, much less than the increase in population would warrant. President Truman said it would be around $6,000,000.

AMAZED AT QUICK ACTION OF MERTOX

"For the past ten years I have been troubled with severe gas pains which seemed to press against my heart and made it difficult to breathe. I had a pain under my heart that was almost unbearable at times," writes Mrs. Alma Cummings of Waco.

"My food would not digest and soiled on my stomach. I had bad dizzy spells and when these attacks occurred I felt all puffed up. My appetite has greatly improved and I can now eat lots of things that I couldn't eat before taking this wonderful medicine."

"Since taking MERTOX I feel like a different person. It certainly is wonderful to get up in the morning and do a day's work, without that tired, worn-out feeling. I certainly was amazed at the quick action of this medicine."

bids as costs are increasing every day.

Hedrick said he saw no relief from the high costs in the next few years and predicted they will go even higher. Bidders indicated that any bids called for later necessarily would be higher.

E. E. Cloer of Fort Worth, general contractor, has 500 calendar days to complete the project but said he hopes to turn it over to the foundation for use in a year. C. E. Smith, Inc., of Midland has the plumbing and heating contract, and the Bevis Electric Company of Tyler has the electrical contract. The elevator contract went to the Westinghouse Electric Company of Dallas. All were low bidders.

Excavation Completed

Contractors indicated that they would move onto the job without delay. Excavation work at the site on West Illinois Street and the Andrews Highway has been completed.

Trustees will meet with the architects within a few days to attempt to prune costs as much as possible and to place orders for equipment and furnishings so that everything will be ready for operation when the structure is completed.

The contracts call for the 75-bed hospital, a nurses' home and a caretaker's cottage.

Soviets 'Planned Chaos'

Our three defense departments are now wondering whether they can get by on the budget for fiscal 1950 that Truman has limited to $15,000,000,000. They also seem uncertain how they will apportion the same they get.

The confusion is not due to service rivalries, if reports on the budget discussions are correct. The principal trouble is that the defense heads do not know what sort of a war to prepare for, or when to prepare for it.

The world's war-fever chart has recently shown some sharp rises and falls. The Berlin situation grows tense, and up it goes. A few quiet days, and the fever subsides.

All this is bound to produce uncertainty in the top military circles of the western nations. But the question—and it's one that doesn't seem to have had much public discussion—is whether the uncertainty may not be part of the Russian strategy of economic, not political, war.

This is only a question, not a certainty. There is no doubt that the Soviet government has millions under arms and millions more available, or that it is working in closest secrecy to perfect new and terrible weapons. The western countries cannot ignore these factors or fail to prepare defenses against them.

At the same time it is possible that all the Russian accusations and professed fears and provocative tactics are part of a long-range Soviet plot to gain a number of Communist objectives with a minimum risk of conflict. Perhaps Vishinsky, with his screaming, thumpings and apologetic countenance, is coolly carrying out a well-prepared program. Perhaps his mission to Paris is simply to create more turmoil, with no thought of negotiation.

Possibly the Russian leaders are thinking somewhat in this vein: We are not in shape for a long war, and the United States will not launch a "preventive" war. But the more we accuse the Americans of planning aggression the more the western world will think that we are arming furiously to protect ourselves or to strike the first blow.

That being the case, they—and particularly America—will arm more furiously in return. Money meant for the Marshall Plan will be diverted to armaments for America and Western Europe. Finally the Marshall Plan will fail. And Europe, on the verge of financial, industrial and moral collapse, will be ripe for revolution and communism.

The above is just a guess. It may be wrong, but it is not impossible. And since it is not, it presents a problem which the heads of western governments have doubtless considered. That problem is how to build up a strong and safe defense and still not impoverish the free world by squandering vital goods and money on an unnecessarily big war machine.

One immediate way to tackle this problem, we believe, is for the representatives of free governments in Paris to stop trying to match Vishinsky in insult and vituperation, thus perhaps playing into his hands. Another is for the heads of those free governments to strive even harder to counter Russian provocations with calmness as well as firmness.

This Commercial Age

Maybe it's the influence of the radio giveaway shows, we don't know, but undoubtedly we're becoming a mercenary people. The other day a co-ed at Mercer University in Macon, Ga., ate a live grasshopper for $2. It makes us sigh for the time—and it seems only yesterday—when Harvard students were swallowing live goldfish for nothing.

A driver in Connecticut was fined when his auto threw mud on a pedestrian. Mud slinging is reserved for politicians.

Situation Normal—Still Unsettled

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

Copyright by William Irish—Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE river was empty, the sky was clear. Both were mirrored in his anxious, waiting eyes. Then a little swirl of smudge appeared. It came from where there seemed to be no river, only an embankment; it seemed to hover over dry land, for it was around a turn the river made, before straightening to flow toward New Orleans and the pier. And those assembled on it.

He stood there waiting, others like himself about him.

The smoke climbed now, was high in the sky, like dingy black oil slicks massed together. Under its profusion a black that was solid substance, a slender cone, began to rise; a smokestack. Then a second.

"There she is," a roustabout shouted.

"There she is," Durand's heart told him softly. But it meant a different she.

The smokestack, like a blunted knife slicing through the earth, cleared the embankment and came out upon the open water bed. A tawny superstructure, that seemed to be indented with a myriad tiny niches in two long rows, was beneath it, and beneath that, only a thin line at this distance, was the ungainly black hull. The paddles were going, slats turning over as they reached the top of the wheel and fell, shaking off spray into the turbid brown water below that they kept beating upon.

She made the turn and grew larger, prow forward. She was life-sized now, coursing down on the pier as if she meant to smash it asunder. A shrill falsetto wailed, infinitely mournful, like the cry of a lost soul in torment, knifed from her, and a plume of white circled the smokestack and vanished to the rear. The City of New Orleans, out of St. Louis three days before, was back home again at its namesake-port.

THE first passenger off was a man, striding, sample cases in both his hands, some business traveler in haste to leave. A woman next, more slowly, picking her way with care. Gray-haired and spectacled, not she. Another woman, a man. Not she again; her husband a step behind her, guiding her hand with his elbow. An entire family next.

Then more men, two or three of them in succession this time. Faces just pale ciphers to him, quickly passed over. Then a woman, and for a moment—No, not she; different eyes, a different nose, a different face. A stranger's curt glance, meeting his, then quickly rebuffing it. Another man. Another woman. Red-haired and sandy-browed, not she.

And then no more. The gangplank empty. A lull, as when a thing is over.

He stared up, and his face died. He was gripping the edges of the gangplank with his hands now. He released it at last, crossed around to the other side of it, accosted the officer loitering there, clutched at him anxiously by the sleeve. "No one else?"

The officer turned and relayed the question upward toward the deck in booming hand-cupped shout. "Anyone else?"

Another of the ship's company, perhaps the captain, came to the rail and peered down outside. "All ashore," he called down.

"It was like a knell. Durand seemed to find himself alone, in a pool of sudden silence, following it; though all about him there was as much noise going on as ever. But for him, silence. Stunning finality.

He waited, hoping against hope. No one else. Only baggage, the inanimate dregs of the cargo. And at last not even that.

He turned aside at last and drifted back along the pier-length and off it to the solid ground beyond, and on a little while.

And when he stopped, he didn't know it, nor why he had just when he did. Nor what reason he had for lingering on there at all.

Tears filled his eyes, and though there was no one near him, no one to notice, he slowly lowered his head to keep them from being detected.

THERE was the light touch of a hand upon his shoulder. No exacting weight, no compulsive stroke; valvety and gossamer as the alighting of a butterfly.

His head came up slowly. Then equally slowly he turned it toward the side from which the touch had come.

A figure swept around before him, as on a turntable, pivoting to chain the center of his eyes; its fitting bright-yellow occupant. He looked at her hand, he looked at his own shoulder, so unsure was he the touch had come from her; so unsure was he as to the reason for such a touch. Slowly his hat came off.

The compressed mouth curved in winsome smile. "You don't know me, do you, Mr. Durand?" He shook his head slightly.

The smile notched a deeper rose to her eyes. "I'm Julia, Louis. May I call you Louis?" she asked. (To Be Continued)

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM B. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

If you want the benefit of today's East and West cards.

This week I have given you a number of hands selected from the new book, "Right Through the Pack." This is not a bridge book, but a story book.

Each card tells its own story. The queen of diamonds tells about a fine player. But for some reason,

♠	A 8 7 5 3	♠	9
♥	A K 2	♥	10 7 5
♦	Q 5 2	♦	10 8 7 4
♣	A 2	♣	9 8

♠ K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 A
♥ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 A
♦ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 A
♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 A

"Brigida," the goddess of bridge, inflicted upon this player a long period of bad luck.

After an exceptionally bad day he closed off in a chair. Suddenly the queen of diamonds appeared and told him that she was his fairy godmother, at least at the bridge table. She was going to put him to a test. If he could solve a problem, she would see that his luck changed at the table.

Here is the problem. Hearts are trumps. You can have West lead either a red suit or a black suit, and you can arrange the distribution of your opponents' cards. The problem is, what heart contract will you undertake, and how will you play the hand?

Lay out the cards yourself, and see how you can distribute the East and West cards, and call for a lead that will allow you to make the maximum contract. Then uncover the East and West hands shown and you will see how the player in the story arranged them.

He called for the lead of a red suit and played the contract at seven hearts. West of course had to lead the jack of diamonds. The queen was played from dummy, the king covered and South's ace won. He went over to the ace of clubs and led the five of diamonds. East played the seven, declarer won with the eight, went over to the ace of spades and led the deuce of diamonds. When East played the four, South won the trick and cashed the ten of diamonds, discarding dummy's deuce of clubs. Now declarer could cross-ruff the hand out and make all seven of his hearts independent. East, with six trumps, did not make a trick.

Midland Seal Of Area Laboratory

A fact that may not be too well known is that Midland is the seat of a regional health laboratory covering 23 counties in West Texas. It is a part of the Midland-Howard-East County Health Unit.

The laboratory makes blood tests and conducts water and milk analyses. It conducts test for typhoid fever, typhus and undulant fever. The technicians do parasitology and bacteriological work on tuberculosis. They do a bacteriological analysis of water but no chemical analysis.

Most of the work for the laboratory comes from Midland, Big Spring and Odessa. However, smaller cities of the area are using the facilities more and more.

Rex O. Barnett is laboratory director. Barnett, graduated from Louisiana State University in 1943 with a bachelor of science degree. In 1944 he received his master's degree in bacteriology.

Barnett spent a training period in Austin in the Bureau of Laboratories and came to Midland September 1. He is married and has a 17-month-old son.

SLAV BLOC Echoes Stalin's Charges

PARIS—(P)—The Slav bloc Saturday injected into United Nations debate Prime Minister Stalin's charges that the Western Powers are laying the foundations for a new war.

Western delegates said they believed this marked the start of a renewed and furious propaganda drive timed to coincide with the windup of the American presidential campaign.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON—Keeping-the-Record-Straight Department—The other day in Oklahoma, P. Nelson Deranian, counsel for the Senate Election Subcommittee, let loose a blast against Ex-Governor Bob Kerr running as a Democrat for senator, on the ground that he spent too much money in his primary. That Bob Kerr spent a fist-full of money is pretty correct. However, to keep the record straight, let's look at some things on the other side of the picture.

First, Millionaire Oilman Ed Moore, Republican, whose place Kerr is seeking, spent a young fortune getting elected in 1942. Second, Deranian, together with Senator Jenner of Indiana, chairman of the election subcommittee, are not in a strong position to criticize others.

Deranian, by a strange quirk, happens to be the law partner of Robert W. Lyons, big-time Washington lobbyist, and ex-secretary of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan. But perhaps, when you examine the facts carefully, the quirk isn't so strange after all. For Lyons is really the man who put William E. Jenner in the Senate. And Deranian is now Lyons' man-Friday inside Jenner's committee.

Lyons always has nursed political ambitions in Indiana, but always has been thwarted. In 1944 he was actually elected chairman of the Indiana Republican State Committee, but news of his election caused so many people to hold their noses that he was ousted. What makes Indiana voters hold their noses about Lyons is first, his connection with the Ku Klux Klan at that time when the Klan was in its goriest heyday, and when Kiegale Stevenson was convicted of murder; second, Lyons' $300,000 lobbying fees for the chairmanship.

The record of Lyons' chain-store political career is all a matter of official congressional record for any newspaperman to dig out, and it makes highly interesting reading. The folks back in Indiana are reasonably familiar with it, so much so that Lyons always get anywhere with his political ambitions.

However, that hasn't prevented Lyons from putting his own name in the Senate, namely William E. Jenner, elected in 1946 with the backing of the big Indiana big interest. In fact, some interesting reports were published back in Indiana about Jenner's own campaign contributions at the time of his election. But when the Republicans took over control of the Senate in 1946, no investigation was ever made of Jenner's funds.

On the contrary, Jenner was placed on a committee to investigate other people's elections, and is now chairman of its chief subcommittee. As such, the gentleman from Indiana conducted one of the unfair probes in recent Senate history—namely regarding the 1946 election of West Virginia's Democratic Harley Kilgore. The chief graft unearthed in West Virginia was upon the part of the brother of the Republican national committee man, Walter S. Hallahan, who was indicted for stealing votes. Despite graft on the part of the Republicans, Jenner kept the probe of Democratic Kilgore's election up in the air for two full years.

If Ex-Governor Kerr has spent a lot of money in Oklahoma, it should be investigated—but by an impartial committee, not one whose record and whose backstage wire pullers cannot stand the clear light of day.

Barbarian Humor

Even if Alben Barkley isn't elected vice president, he still will have a lot of pleasant memories of this campaign.

Talking long-distances from Huntington, West Virginia, to Les Biffle, director of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee, Barkley reported: "I've been doing a lot of lying—and is my face red!"

"What from—the wind?" inquired Biffle.

"No, from being kissed by all those pretty girls here in West Virginia."

Wreag Name

Republican Congressman John McDowell of Pennsylvania is one member of the Un-American Activities Committee who does not believe in "kickbacks." However, a bit jittery about his own re-election chances, he had a talk with James B. Carey, Secretary-Treasurer of the CIO and right bower to CIO Boss Phil Murray.

"You know," said McDowell, "I'm really not hostile to your organization, but I want you to be sure and tell your president, Mr. Philip Murphy, that I said so. He's an old friend of mine. Be sure and give Mr. Murphy my regards."

Bankers Increase Rates

The bankers have decided not to wait for the Republicans to move into the Treasury Department to hike the interest rate on crop loans. Already the American Bankers Association is engaged in a significant struggle with the Commodity Credit Corporation over raising interest rates.

At present the interest on cotton, wheat and corn loans is 3 per cent which is split between the CCO and private banks, each getting 1-1/2 per cent. However, the A.B.A. has demanded that the bank's share be raised to 3 per cent, on the grounds that the present return isn't enough to pay service costs of loans. Also, the bankers group contends that the new Federal Reserve restrictions on bank reserves have decreased the amount of money available for lending, so it's unfair, therefore, to expect banks to continue crop loans on such a small margin. A return of these weighty arguments, however, so far have produced only stilled yawns at the CCO. The agency has politely reminded the A. B. A. that, while banks make the crop loans, the government makes all the risk because the loans are insured 100 per cent by the taxpayer. Second, the CCO has some convincing figures showing that bank-service costs are more than offset by the increased volume of crop loans; also, that the increase in size of individual loans has substantially reduced the over-all servicing costs. Third, says the CCO, the middle of the 1948 crop loaning season is not time to reshuffle interests rates. So it looks as if the bankers would lose out, at least until next January.

Real Estate Boys

One of the most significant elections in the entire nation is taking place in San Diego, Calif., where the real-estate lobby is throwing in wads of money and all the support it can muster to re-elect Congressman Charles Fletcher, Republican, one of its chief voters inside the Banking and Currency Committee.

Fletcher came to Congress with the support of the real-estate lobby's "master" wire-puller, Morton Eodish, whose organization is now under indictment. Recently, Congressman Fletcher has been under FBI investigation because of a real-estate deal pulled by him and his father, which may lose a lot of other people's money.

Here are the facts in the case: Fletcher founded the Federal Savings and Loan Association of San Diego and is still its president. Furthermore, he draws a salary of $10,000, even while he is supposed to be devoting his full time to Congress. As a Congressman, Fletcher introduced the bill to abolish rent control, voted consistently against housing reforms and is a member of Lyons' joint committee on housing which sabotaged the Taft-Elliender Wagner Housing Bill. So, all in all he didn't do so badly by the housing lobby.

But in San Diego, Fletcher hasn't done so well by the people who invested in his Federal Savings and Loan Association. First, Fletcher's father sold a tract of land to a San Diego real-estate operator named Larry F. Imig, for around $30,000. Then young Fletcher turned round and loaned Imig the money which he, Imig, paid Fletcher's father for the land. Following this, Imig erected a housing development which he named "Fletcher Park" in honor of the two gentlemen who sold him the land and loaned him other people's money to pay for it. Then Imig, built another development which he named for himself that Imig Park which swank hotel with a swimming pool, tennis club which he named "Imig Park Manor."

Meanwhile, Imig kept borrowing money from Fletcher's Federal Savings and Loan Association, until his debt now runs to around $1,250,000—about one-half the total assets of the association. If this were Fletcher's money it would be one thing, but what worried the Home Loan Bank Board in Washington is that the U. S. government has insured the San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association and Uncle Sam may have to bail Fletcher out.

Congressman Fletcher started in the savings and loan business back in 1934 on only $9,500. He hit it just at the right time, shortly before the war boom. By the peak of the '30s, his association's total capital was $2 million, and $2,000,000—of which about half is tied up with one real-estate speculator.

You can understand, therefore, why Congressman Fletcher blithely voted against public housing. Obviously, when he could lend money to private speculators, he wouldn't government guarantee to bail him out he wasn't terribly interested in the low-cost public housing provided for in the Taft-Elliender-Wagner Bill. Now, you can understand why the real-estate boys are pouring money into San Diego to re-elect their key friend inside the banking and currency committee.

Rice Owls' Power Dumps Raiders

LUBBOCK — (P) — A powerhouse Rice Institute eleven methodically marked up yardage here Saturday before a homecoming crowd of 19,000 persons, grinding a light but fighting Texas Tech eleven under 14-7.

Coach Jess Neely shot a multitude of slithery backs at the Red Raiders, with Fullback Bobby Lantrip, Halfback Huey Keeney, Halfback Gordon Wyatt, Halfback John Kelly and Quarterback Tobin Rote leading the array.

The Owl defenses also stiffened every time the Techs had the ball, cutting down the Raider speedsters before they could get started and breaking up almost every passing attempt. So strong were the Rice defenders, Tech gained only one first down in the first half and its deepest penetration of Rice territory was the 49-yard line.

Owl Drive Early
The Owls used up 11 minutes of the first quarter before they sent Lantrip over center for two yards and the first touchdown. His plunge climaxed a sustained drive of 77 yards down the field, with Keeney leading the attack on a 29-yard romp off right tackle. From the Tech 25, Rote passed to End Froggy Williams and to End Nick Lanza to set up the score. Williams converted.

Late in the second quarter, Rice struck again, this time taking advantage of a fumble by Earl Jackson on the Tech 15 that Derwood Lee gobbled up. Two plays failed to gain, but pass interference gave Rice a first down on the Tech eight. Two plays later Rote passed to Williams on the one and he fell over for the score. Williams kicked his second conversion.

Best Bobcats With North, South Late Thrilling Rally Split Brace

By TANNER LAINE

When Memorial Stadium's lights were flicked and it grew dark and quiet after its thrilling dedication Friday night, the spirits of Mike Buffington, Odie Kelley, Gordon English and others stayed around while and said, as spirits can say: "1948 Midland High School Bulldogs, it was a job well done."

And the spirits of these former football players and those of all the boys of MHS who gave their lives for victory in World Wars I and II will live forever in the wood and steel and sacred grass of Memorial Stadium, dedicated with victory.

Jess Rodgers used to write about the Midland Bulldogs. He was their sports writer on The Midland Reporter-Telegram. Jess Rodgers gave his life in World War II. We are sure Jess Rodgers richly deserves the privilege of writing this glorious story. And so, please Jess, us pinch-hit for you we were lucky and came home alive. But your spirit may guide the humble typewriter of this writer as the spirit of the ex-Bulldogs guided this year's team to victory Friday night.

Once upon a time, a poem goes, there were two frogs. These frogs fell into a pail of milk. One despaired and drowned in the milk. The other frog never gave up. He kicked and he kicked and he kept on kicking. You know the result. He kicked until he churned the butter and on that butter he survived.

Just a simple little story, yes. But a great one in lesson.

Story About Frogs

This little story about the frogs was given to the 1948 Bulldogs as they went into battle Friday night in the Memorial Stadium dedication game. And the Bulldogs won that game 26-20 with as courageous a fight as one could ever see on any football field, anywhere.

Yes, it's true the 1948 Bulldogs weren't supposed to beat the powerful San Angelo Bobcats Friday night. But they did. They kicked a-kicking. They churned the butter, if you please.

Midland always can point to Memorial Stadium now and say—dedicated with victory. And Midland will not soon forget this year's edition of Bulldogs, who gave such a brave performance to make it possible.

It's not so much how the Bulldogs did it, or how much time it took. It is the spirit which they displayed, which was a glorious sight to see. We may not remember the boys who made the scores, the yardage gained, the first downs. But Midland will remember for always the fight the kids put up to win this one.

It looked shaky there at the last. It was Midland trailed by one point and time was going fast, precious time ebbed through the sand glass. The kids came through. They got exactly what it took to win the game—a touchdown in the last 90 seconds. They held like embattled Texans did in the Alamo to keep San Angelo from making a first down which would have prolonged the ball in the Bobcats' possession in the fading minutes. San Angelo, big San Angelo, had four inches to go and two downs to do it—but the Midland line held firm. A... t held again. And the ball went over on downs on the Bobcat 45. From there, Midland went to victory.

That doesn't tell the story. But perhaps nobody could really tell it all. Everyone did his share. The 1948 Bulldogs will go down in history as a fighting outfit. They beat San Angelo 26-20, that much is on record. It was a 3-A conference game.

Here it is, as we took it down for Sports writer Jess Rodgers, all the Bulldogs of the past, the Bulldogs of the future, the 1948 Bulldogs. Coaches Milam, Cookshaw and Gledhill the kids of Midland High, their supporting band and pep squad, and for all the folks, the dads and moms, and all who love Midland, who stood and cheered for the fighting youngsters in Purple.

Tarheels Squeeze By Tennessee Vols 14-7

KNOXVILLE, TENN. — (P) — Charlie Justice's two first-quarter touchdowns passed kept North Carolina in the dwindling list of major undefeated college football teams Saturday by defeating Tennessee 14 to 7. It was North Carolina's thirteenth consecutive victory.

Tennessee, starting slowly, came back savagely to score in the third period on J. B. Proctor's pass to J. W. Sherrill. The Vols challenged all the rest of the way.

The most brilliant run—for 90 yards—was canceled by a clipping penalty. Near the end of the first half, Hal Littleford of Tennessee, took Justice's punt on his ten and ran the length of the field. The officials ruled, however, that Ernie Howard clipped Moses Rodgers, the mighty North Carolina fullback. The ball was called back to the Tennessee nine-yard line to a mighty chorus of boos from the record crowd of 50,000.

Between halves several hundred spectators, mostly boys, closed in on the officials but police dispersed them.

Razorbacks Clip Aggies

COLLEGE STATION

(F) — A bruising fullback, Leon Campbell, and a rugged Arkansas line surged over Texas A&M 28-6 here Saturday.

A partisan crowd of 16,000 watched the Aggies lose their seventh straight game this year, with the second quarter before the hard-charging Razorbacks and melting completely in the third and fourth periods.

Campbell smashed his way across the goal line twice and his terrific teammates, Olympics hurdler Clyde Scott, passed to Ross Pritchard for two more touchdowns.

A pass interception in the final minute of play set up Texas A&M's lone touchdown.

With Arkansas reserves on the field, Aggie center Herbert Ellis grabbed Ray Park's serial on the Razorback ten-yard line. Buryl Batty faked back and found Big Bob Goods in the end zone with a perfect pitch.

Jim Reichert kicked four straight extra points for Arkansas. Herb Turley missed on A&M's try.

Aggie fumbles costly

Late in the first quarter the Razorbacks started an 80-yard drive that was climaxed on the third play of the second period when Campbell plunged over from the three-yard line. It took them just 13 plays to cover the distance.

Aggie fumbles set up two quick Arkansas touchdowns in the third period.

Louis Schaufels grabbed Ralph Daniels' bobble on the A&M 24-yard line. Scott passed to J. D. Smith for 17 yards and then Campbell bulled over for the score.

Less than two minutes later Aggie back Paul Yarbrough fumbled and Major Talbert recovered for Arkansas on the A&M 34-yard line.

Scott, who was hit hard all afternoon by Aggie forwards, ran 24 yards, then got four more. Campbell picked up three and then Scott found Pritchard with a scoring pass.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, the Smackover flash turned in his team's final counter.

Walker Runs Wild As SMU Mustangs Smear Longhorns

AUSTIN —(F)— Doak Walker, a player who does everything and does it right, led the Southern Methodist Mustangs to a convincing 21-6 victory over the Texas Longhorns here Saturday.

Walker made one of his strongest bids of the season for All-America honors the second year in a row as he ran for two touchdowns, kicked three extra points, and originated the play which gave Southern Methodist its third tally.

It took him less than two minutes to convince 68,750 roaring fans that he is one of the great—perhaps the greatest—players of all time in the Southwest.

On the third day of the game, Walker dropped back as if to pass. He cocked his arm, then headed to the right sideline and turned downfield. Wingsback Paul Page threw a key block on the only man between Walker and the goal line, and the Doakster sailed 47 yards for the counter. He calmly toed the ball for the extra point.

Stears Shows Power

That was all the score Southern Methodist needed to win but Walker was just getting warmed up.

Texas, which has a superior forward wall, made it a real contest through the first half and Longhorn supporters had high hopes of victory when Texas marched 60 yards to score in the second period. With Right Halfback Randall Clay and Fullback Ray Borneham carrying on nine of 13 plays, the Longhorns blasted through the Methodist line without faltering. Borneham piled over for the score from the one-inch line. Clay missed the conversion.

A fumble by Texas Quarterback Paul Campbell was recovered in the air by left tackle Joe Ehrig for the Longhorn 34, putting the way for the Mustang's second score.

Sharpshooter Johnson

Sharpshooter Gil Johnson, whose aerials are as deadly as Walker's running, pitched to lead Blakey Blakely for 11 down the middle. He hit Blakely again at the same place for eight more, and shoveled a pass to Walker, who slashed around right end for a first down on the Texas 11. Another Johnson pass put the Mustangs on the three. Walker hit right tackle for one, and then went over left tackle for the touchdown.

SCORING

Tech Shuttle System Trips Unbeaten Duke

DURHAM, N. C. —(F)— Georgia Tech's shuttle system of maintaining backfield speed paid off with a sixth consecutive victory Saturday as the unbeaten United Yellow Jackets shipped previously undefeated Duke 19 to 7.

Before a homecoming crowd of 32,000—far below the anticipated crowd—the Duke team was outplayed but refused to be outclassed. The result was a fairly close game that settled into a routine affair after an exciting start in which the Blue Devils jumped into the lead.

After falling behind in the first few minutes as the result of a fumble and a blocked kick, Tech didn't take the lead until the third quarter.

Tech's touchdowns were scored by Left End Jack Griffin, who caught a long pass from Jimmy Southard for the first score and by Fullback Frank Ziegler and Sub Halfback Joe Cobb.

Notre Dame Hands Navy Loss No. 11

BALTIMORE —(F)—Notre Dame's dazzling football forces rocked shell-shocked Navy 41 to 7 Saturday as the undefeated Irish scored in each quarter as they have done in every game this season.

One look!... One ride!... You'll know it's... the modern design for '49 new Hudson

Come in, see the car that's years ahead—drive the New Hudson—experience the amazing rideability, comfort and safety of the only car you step down into!

Here's your chance to get the thrill of a real discovery—to see and feel what one of the great advances in motor-car history offers you.

You'll see a Hudson of distinguished, streamlined beauty and low-built silhouette that is instantly recognizable because it is the natural result of a basically new design principle—a principle that puts this car far ahead of it is a professed investment in motor-car values.

The key to this new design principle is a recessed floor. The New Hudson is the only car you step down into!

By using a "step-down" sole in an exclusive, all-steel Monocoque Body-and-Frame, Hudson achieves the lowest car on the highway—only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

But no amount of looking at this amazing car—beautiful as it is—can equal the thrill of a Hudson ride! And you are invited to enjoy that ride today! Hudson has a smooth, bug-the-road way of going in cross-winds and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see the way it takes even the sharpest curves, you'll know once again that this car has the modern design for '49—and for yours to come!

Hudson's remarkable ride is largely due to the fact that its "step-down" design provides the lowest center of gravity in any American road car—yet road clearance is ample! It is a widely recognized fact that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have and the safer it will be.

You sense a delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin your ride, and this stability, plus the protection of riding enclosed by a sturdy box-section steel frame, is a grand experience in serene, safe well-being.

This grand feeling is further heightened by the remarkable ease with which this car is controlled. You enjoy this generous roominess in complete relaxation as the New Hudson glides smoothly along.

We cordially invite you to see and drive the New Hudson, to thoroughly enjoy the ride that comes only with "The modern design for '49"

Hello, operator, gimme a line—1-D, San Angelo: "Hello Bulldog, remember when you wrote that the humane society should be called out when Midland played Sweetwater? Well, San Angelo played those little Bulldogs of Midland Friday night. The score was 26-30 in favor of Midland. Yeah, that's right, Midland raked up 17 first downs to San Angelo's nine and gained more than 200 yards.

"Say Bulldog, we just took it up and we find that humane societies cover Cals as well as Bulldogs. So your Bobcats, Blondy, are ready for SFOA. They are all done up in a 26-30 case. Goodbye, sorry you were in El Paso and missed it all."

Midland people, shake hands with the boys—the 1948 Bulldogs. You can be proud of them. We offer them public commendation and we are saying it for everybody, fellows. You did it. We congratulate you. We are proud of you.

Congratulations to the coaches. They did no small part in preparing the boys for the dedication game victory. Here's a public salute to Barnes Milam, Audrey Gill and Jack Mashburn.

The band, the drill squad, the pep squad, all did great work Friday night in support of the team. The crowd was loyal and it rose to its feet in loud support of the Bulldogs.

Is everybody happy?

That poem about the frogs, which Dr. W. L. Marshall used, had been used successfully three times before, she speaker said. He repeated it to the TCU Horned Frogs in 1938 and they won a national championship. He gave it to a Texas A&M team before going out on the West coast for an important game and the Aggies won. He used it another time to inspire a team, which didn't have a chance to win over a highly touted opponent.

The doggin' thing is dynamite.

ROUNDUP UP THE STRAYS... Coaches Pat Patterson and Gail Smith were over to scout the game and they said of Doctor Marshall: "We want that guy over at Odessa next Friday night (Odessa meets undefeated Sweetwater) . . . The 1948 Odessa Bronchos were at the game here Friday in a group . . . That 60-7 score of Austin High over Big Spring may well cause Midland some trouble. Overconfident, Midland might find Big Spring plenty hard to handle here November 12 . . . The Bulldogs have an open date this weekend . . . Now, it's being said: "Get Odessa" . . . We predicted at the start Midland would win four games this season . . . Two more to go . . . People in the stands were so happy Friday night they pounded on each other and yelled like sixty when Hejli caught that pass . . . A person in Midland whom we know the dedication ball game pleased was Marshall Whitmore, who sits in a wheelchair and sees all the games . . . You see, Marshall used to be a Bulldog and a good one, too . . . We have seen him play some great football for MHS . . . Again we thank Ernest Neff for the use of his binoculars . . . We would have been up the creek without them Friday night and that game was one we had to bring up close . . . It was a jubilant dressing room indeed for the Bulldogs after the game Friday night . . . We heard victory bells ringing out after the game . . . Reminded us of a custom up at Texas Tech, where they ring victory bells after games won by the Raiders . . . One night they rang all night . . . Tech had beaten TCU to dedicate a new stadium . . . Midland won four football games over the weekend . . . Worth repeating are these scores: Sulphur 19-0 over Andrews, Pipe 12-7 over Andrews (another game), B Bulldogs 6-0 over Lamesa and B Bulldogs the other one, the big one—Midland 26, San Angelo 20 . . . Hurrah for our side . . . 30 for strays, wild cow milking to get another ball of milk for that frog story again against Big Spring.

Baylor Nudges TCU 6-3

FORT WORTH — (R) — Baylor's Golden Bears struck for a touchdown when everybody thought they were through, then killed Texas Christian's hopes on Saturday night to win 6-3 and remain the only undefeated team in the Southwest Conference.

In a game as thrilling as any ever played in this area, the battling Bears, outplayed for almost three quarters, won 60 grudging yards for the score that eliminated Texas Christian from the conference race.

Homer Ludiker, an ex-Marine with a gifted toe, booted a field goal in the second period after Texas Christian repeatedly had been repulsed by a fighting Baylor line in wild parades toward the Bear goal line or bogged down because of fumbles.

Bears Start Balling Ludiker, who never had tried a field goal before in college football, sent the pigskin through from the Baylor 18-yard line. That looked like it would be the margin of victory because the Bears just weren't setting anywhere.

But late in the third period the Bruins, hitching onto the jerseys of blasting Jerry Mangum and fleet George Sims, began to roll. And they didn't stop until Frank McKinney flipped a pass into the end zone to Bobby Griffin from the Frog three-yard line for a touchdown. Henry Dickerson missed the conversion.

New UN Cease-Fire Ordered As Fighting Mounts In Galilee

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL — (P) — Serious fighting has broken out in Upper Galilee scarcely a week after defeat of the Egyptians in Southern Palestine, and the UN has ordered both sides to cease-fire.

Arabic broadcasts said Israeli forces were on the march all along the northern front. UN observers said the Jews were attacking with artillery, planes and troops along a 20-mile arc from Tarshaha to Lake Hula.

An Israeli Army communique indicated hard fighting was going on, but said the operations were restricted to a Jewish counter-attack to drive out Syrians, Lebanese and Kauki's Liberation Army from the heights the Arabs had set up in the Menarrah region north of Lake Hula.

UN Truce Mission staff chief at Haifa, sent orders to Israeli and Lebanese to cease fire on the deadline of 4 p. m. Israeli time, Sunday. UN headquarters said the Lebanese government promptly agreed, on the condition the Jews also would carry out the order.

No reply had been received from the Israeli government.

Mob Violence Erupts After Traffic Death Of Hillbilly Singer

LOUDON, TENN. — (P) — National Guard ground troops, supported by fighter planes, moved into Loudon Saturday under orders to put down threatened mob violence stemming from the death of a hillbilly singer. The militia moved in at the direction of Gov. Jim McCard. The governor acted on request of local authorities who reported the situation out of hand.

Tension had been high here since Friday night, when Ray Brewer, 26, widely known in East Tennessee as a radio singer, died in an automobile crash. The situation had quieted by the time the troops arrived.

Father Files Charges
Brewer's father charged in a warrant that Sheriff Hugh McDonald and Deputy Clifford Henry were responsible for his son's death. Other visitors from out of the city included Alfred Helmers of Rankin, John Gant of McKinney, W. M. Key of Odessa and Dunlap, N. M., S. I. Medford of Lamesa, J. W. Broughton of Big Spring, W. T. Cotten of Andrews and Claude Cotten, Production Credit Cooperation field man from San Angelo.

Major Warren Giles, of nearby Athens, led the advance guard of troops into Loudon during the afternoon. "All is quiet," he said. "There doesn't seem to be any trouble at all now."

In their version of the affair, McDonald and Hughes said the 26-year-old Brewer's automobile wrecked after he tried three times to ram their car.

The two officers waived preliminary hearing before Magistrate Dudley Cates. Pending action by the grand jury, the officers are at liberty under $5,000 bond.

Meanwhile, the resignation of McDonald and Hughes has been demanded at three meetings but they said they would not quit unless forced by court order.

Police reported Saturday night that Elias Tarango, Mexican, was cut in an affray at a cafe in the Latin American sector of the city. Benito Rubio was involved in the scrape, officers said.

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —
By DON MCGREGOR

It will not take the discerning reader long to realize the old master of this column, Stanley Frank is no longer at the helm. However, what little information of interest to farmers, ranchmen and dairymen that can be picked up will be sent along through this medium. Frank resigned recently to start a livestock paper at San Angelo.

Clark Brothers of Crane delivered about 300 head of calves recently in fulfillment of contract. Reliable sources say the price was 28 cents a pound.

Merwin Haag last week brought in another fine irrigation well. C. C. Thomas of the Midland Production Credit Association reports. Rate of flow is 850 to 1000 gallons a minute.

J. G. Nozgrass, a Stanton farmer in another fine irrigation well. Other visitors from out of the city included Alfred Helmers of Rankin, John Gant of McKinney, W. M. Key of Odessa and Dunlap, N. M., S. I. Medford of Lamesa, J. W. Broughton of Big Spring, W. T. Cotten of Andrews and Claude Cotten, Production Credit Cooperation field man from San Angelo.

J. R. Cuffman, Midland High School vocational agriculture teacher, says Hy-Line chickens are out producing all other breeds in sight. This line of birds was originated by Henry Wallace, the hy-bred corn originator.

James A. Boyd, secretary of the Midland County Agricultural Conservation Association, has begun a monthly newsletter to be sent to producers in Midland County. The first issue, October, has been mailed.

Jay E. Floyd through ACP has installed more than 3,000 feet of pipe on his Midland County ranch. This affords him a much better distribution of watering places for his stock.

Mac G. McConall is eradicated mesquite on a small track of grassland just east of Cloverdale.

The newsletter reports that E. W. Anguish recently completed a well on his place just north of Midland.

Besides the irrigation development on the Merwin Haag place, other farmers and ranches are developing irrigation systems. Good wells are located on the G. O. Golladay, Alton Golladay and Ben Golladay farms in the Prairie Lee Community, on the Charles R. Hall place in the Warfield community and H. R. Solomon on his three miles north of Midland. Boyd reports all these farms have good crops of grain sorghum and cotton.

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan recently advised farmers of the great shortage of steel and the need of scrap iron. Because steel is needed for use in farm machinery, Brannan has asked that farmers gather all they have lying around the farm and sell it to a dealer.

Condensed soups were first canned in 1869.

New Outlet For Permian Basin Crude Is Planned

Plans of The Texas-Empire Pipe Line Company for the construction of 183 miles of 18-inch crude oil pipe line from Patoka, Ill., to Wilmington, Ill., and 31 miles of 16-inch log crude oil pipe line from Wilmington, Ill., toward East Chicago, Ind., were reported Saturday. Cost of the project will be approximately $10,000,000.

In making the announcement, R. B. McLaughlin, president of the company, stated that the project includes a modern type diesel pump station and nine 120,000-barrel capacity tanks at Patoka; and a new modern type motor-operated station and six 120,000-barrel capacity tanks at Wilmington.

McLaughlin stated that the new facilities will provide efficient and economical flow of a large volume of crude oil to the Midwest refining area to assist materially in providing raw materials so those refineries can operate at the maximum capacity to meet the increasing consumer demand for petroleum products.

Nominal capacity of the 18-inch line between Patoka and Wilmington, with the initial pump stations, will be 60,000 barrels per day, which subsequently can be increased to 104,000 barrels per day by the installation of a booster station. Construction of this section of line is scheduled to begin early in 1949 and to be completed into Wilmington by Sept. 1, 1949.

Construction of the 16-inch line from Wilmington toward East Chicago will be undertaken early in the Spring of 1950. A contract has been awarded for the tank grade work at Wilmington, and a contract will be awarded in the near future for tank grade work at Patoka.

Contracts will be awarded about the first of the year for erection of the pump station at each of the locations.

The new system will connect with the new 22-inch pipe line of The Texas Pipe Line Company which is scheduled for completion into Patoka by May 1949 and will provide additional facilities for the transportation of West Texas-New Mexico crude which will originate in the Jal-Cushing project now under construction; and move thence through the new 22-inch line from Cushing, Okla., to Wood River, Ill., which will be constructed this Fall and Winter, and from Wood River to Patoka through the 22-inch pipe line, wholly owned by The Texas Pipe Line Company.

The Jal-Cushing pipe line system is owned on an undivided interest basis by The Texas Pipe Line Company, Shell Pipe Line Corporation, Sinclair Refining Company, and Empire Pipeline Company. The Cushing-Wood River pipe line is owned and will be operated on an undivided interest basis by the Shell Pipe Line Corporation and The Texas Pipe Line Company.

Discovery In McKee Is Made In E-C Lea

HOBBS, N. M.—Production from the McKee sand zone of the Simpson has been proven at a wildcat in the Monument area of East-Central Lea County.

That prospect is Amerasia Petroleum Corporation No. 8-F State, located 785 feet from south and 1,890 feet from west lines of section 26-19-36E. It is adjacent to wells making oil from the Paddock, middle Permian, but there is no proven production from the McKee in nearby areas.

The Amerasia development flowed 896 barrels of 44.3 gravity oil in 24 hours, on a drillstem test at 9,830-9,830 feet.

Through Perforations The production was through perforations in the casing which had been run through the pay horizon. After the tool was opened for the test, gas showed at the surface in three minutes, and oil started flowing in 12 minutes. The fluid was turned to tanks at the end of 15 minutes, and the well was allowed to flow for a full 24 hours to make the 666-barrel oil yield in that length of time.

This project drilled to a total depth of 10,255 feet in granite. That formation was encountered at 10,250 feet.

The section between 9,830 feet and the top of the granite showed some water, and no indications of petroleum.

Sequestering Below Pay Operator is now sequestering more cement back of the casing in the interval below 9,830 feet, to be sure that all lower water is eliminated from the pay section.

The new discovery will be completed and put on production. R. L. Harrison No. 1 Rowley is to be a 4,000-foot wildcat in South-west Lea County, to test into the Delaware formation. It is to be located 2,310 feet from north and east lines of section 6-21-34E.

Emperor Oil Company No. 1 State is to be a 4,000-foot prospect for production in the upper Permian in South-Central Lea County. It is a short distance west of the West Eunice field. Operations are to start immediately.

Drilling Ahead In Line Continental Oil Company No. 1-29 Warren unit, in East-Central Lea County, six miles north of the Brunson field, three miles south-east of the Cass field, and 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 29-20E-36E, had reached 5,677 feet in the Permian and was drilling ahead.

It took a drillstem test in the Tubb sand zone at 5,500-5,600 feet. The tool was open for one hour. Recovery was 110 feet of drilling mud, with a slight show of oil.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Shipp, three miles west of the north-west side of the Hobbs shale low field, in Central-East Lea County, and 600 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 20-18E-37E, had reached 7,194 feet in dolomite, and was continuing.

J. C. Clover No. 2 State, possible wildcat discovery in Central-East Lea County, two and one-quarter miles west of the West Eunice field, and 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 16-21E-34E, was bottomed at 3,948 feet in lime. It had set a string of 7-inch casing at 3,852 feet with 200 sacks of cement. The plug has been drilled and operator is preparing to start testing.

Before the casing was run this project filled up with oil, and would have flowed over the top if it had not been shut in. So far as has been reported, no formation water has been developed.

Magnolia Starts Another Drilling has started at a 12,500-foot wildcat in extreme Northeast Lea County. That exploration is Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Cox-Federal. It is four and one-half miles north and one and one-half miles east of the discovery well for Devonian production to open the Crossroads field.

It has reached 4,283 feet in anhydrite and lime, and was drilling ahead at the end of the week. The four flankers to the Crossroads opener, were all making hole. In Crossroads Region Magnolia No. 1-C Santa Fe-Pacific, 680 feet from south and west lines of section 26-19-36E, has reached 10,800 feet in lime, and was continuing.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 U. D. Sawyer, 680 feet from north and

Higher Price Will Bring Increase In Oil Reserves, Says President Of IPAA

SAN ANTONIO—In discussing the recent increase of 35 cents per barrel for Mid-continent crude oil, issued by the Phillips Petroleum Company and met by a few other purchasing companies, Fred W. Shield, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Saturday, made the following statement:

"In view of the serious international situation confronting the United States, there is nothing of more importance to our nation than its national defense. In the last two world wars the importance of an adequate supply of petroleum products was fully demonstrated and, of even more importance, it was found essential that we have the needed adequate supplies within the borders of the United States.

The large proved reserves of crude petroleum and the excess productive capacity that was available within the borders of the United States at the beginning of World War II made it possible for our country to furnish approximately 83 per cent of the petroleum products used by our allies and ourselves in the winning of the war and it is generally recognized that had our domestic supplies been inadequate we probably would have lost the war.

Price Effects Drilling "It has been historically proven that the discovery of new reserves and the development of increased productive capacity has a direct relationship to the drilling effort and that the drilling effort is directly related to the price of crude oil.

"Since the wartime restrictions on the price of crude oil were removed the price of crude oil has advanced through successive stages, resulting in increased drilling in the United States followed by increased proven reserves and production. In fact, in 1948 the total number of wells drilled in this country will be more than twice the number drilled in either 1942 or 1943.

"Our domestic production today is approximately 900,000 barrels per day greater than the peak production during World War II. These accomplishments are definitely, in my opinion, the result of the increase in the price for crude oil. Had we not had these increases in price there would now be a severe shortage of domestic crude oil.

"The margin between supply and demand in the United States is so small that it is not a safe margin for our national defense. In fact, today we are temporarily a new importing nation. The increase in price posted by the Phillips Petroleum Company, if made effective by all purchasing companies, will make

Flying Wing Sets New Flight Record For Jet Aircraft

WASHINGTON—(P)—An Air Force jet-powered "Flying Wing" bomber has flown nine and a half hours, longer than any jet aircraft has been able to stay aloft.

This definite indication of progress toward solving a major problem of jet planes—high fuel consumption and short range—came in an announcement Saturday by the Air Force. It said the Northrop XB-49, eight-engine bomber, had flown 3,458 miles at altitudes between 35,000 and 40,000 feet on a shuttle course between points in California and Arizona.

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★
Private Industry Not Slighted In Atomic Energy Business

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Republican presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey's concern over leaving development of atomic energy in "the dead hands of government" is one of those things you can file with the issues you have decided to pay no attention to.

A check on how atomic energy is now being run shows that private enterprise is doing all right under it, thank you. In fact, if you insist on worrying about this, you might want to concentrate on whether or not two or three big business hadn't already obtained too large a slice of the atomic monopoly.

Sixty-nine thousand workers are employed on Atomic Energy Commission projects. Only 5,000 of them, or less than seven per cent, are directly on the government payroll. They are the headquarters and field office employees of AEC, the money controllers and security officers who keep the secrets.

The other 64,000 employees are hired by private business. About 38,000 are operating personnel, 26,000 construction workers on new projects.

These people work for some 300 private enterprises, prime contractors who are doing the actual job of research, production and development of atomic energy. There are in addition an unknown number of sub-contractors employed by the prime contractors. Some of the sub-contractors may not even know they're working on AEC projects. The important point is that they're all private business firms, not government enterprises. Even the AEC towns of Oak Ridge, Tenn., Los Alamos, N. M., and Richland, W. Va., are run under contract with private companies.

Roughly 85 per cent of the AEC $685,000,000 expenditures for this year will go directly to private enterprise on contract. The 15 per cent, or $102,000,000 which is spent by the government, goes this way: For Washington headquarters, $6,000,000. For operation of field offices and projects, $26,000,000. For transfer to other agencies of government like Army and Public Health Service, $15,000,000.

The other $55,000,000 of government money goes for the procurement of materials for private contract operators and for research. This includes a big allocation for Office of Naval Research, which administers a number of secret projects. They are not operated directly by the Navy, but by a combination of industrial and academic contracts on which there is no public breakdown. But again, private industry gets the lion's share of these funds.

Biggest AEC prime contractor today is General Electric Company. It has a $150,000,000 a year contract on two projects. It operates the $350,000,000 Hanford, Wash., plutonium plant. Present plans call for doubling its size. GE has a long list of industrial sub-contractors, which is secret.

GE is also contractor for the $15,000,000 Knolls atomic power laboratory being built at Schenectady, N. Y. This includes the first atomic power plant, a $30,000,000 installation being built some 20 miles away.

'Unconquered' To Open Three-Day Run At Yucca Theater

Cool B. DeMille spent 14 months and six figures on research before the first camera turned on his monumental tribute to the American pioneer, "Unconquered." The Paramount Technicolor spectacle, opening Sunday at the Yucca Theater in Midland, has Paulette Goddard, Gary Cooper and Howard Da Silva heading a cast of thousands. The picture will continue at the Yucca through Tuesday.

The research revealed fascinating facts: that Pittsburgh once was considered part of Virginia; that thousands of English men and women were sold into bond slavery in this country; that all women in the 1700s were addressed as "mistress" whether maid or wife; that no one ate tomatoes—then known somewhat cynically as "love apples"—because they were considered poisonous.

False Friendships
A research item not used in the film, but gleefully employed by DeMille as a conversation piece, is an old law that forbids women to obtain husbands under false pretenses. It reads:
"... all women of whatever age, rank, profession or degree who shall impose upon, seduce or betray into matrimony any of His Majesty's male subjects by virtue of beauty, paint, cosmetics, washes, artificial teeth, false hair, Spanish wool, iron stays, bolstered hips or high-heeled shoes shall incur the penalty of the law now in force against witchcraft and the marriage shall be void."
"Unconquered," DeMille's first film in three years, is an epic-proportioned picturization of Neil H. Swanson's adventure-packed novel of frontier America. It has been hailed everywhere as DeMille's crowning achievement.

Body Of Negro Man Sought In Slaying Is Found In River

NEW ROADS, LA.—(AP)—The body of a negro man dressed in women's clothing was found in the Mississippi River Saturday and identified by officials as that of James Bruce, wanted in connection with the slaying of a state prison captain's wife.

The badly-decomposed body was found in the river one mile from Morganza, between Angola and Baton Rouge.

Bruce has been sought for questioning since the morning of October 20 when the body of Mrs. John H. Spillman, 44, was found stuffed behind a clothes locker in a bedroom of her home on the prison grounds.

Marathon Flyers Pass 250-Hour Mark

LONGVIEW.—(AP)—The Texas endurance fliers — Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons — were to pass their 250th hour in the air shortly after midnight Saturday.

The two Dallas airmen, who are trying to break the endurance record of 726 hours set in 1939, announced Saturday they would make the Gregg County Airport their operations base until the record is passed.

They hope to stay up 1,500 hours in their single-engine plane.

Porter Predicts Two-To-One Victory

HOUSTON.—(AP)—Jack Porter, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, predicted Saturday he would defeat Lyndon B. Johnson by a vote of more than two to one in Tuesday's general election.

"There is no question but that the people of Texas on Tuesday will settle once and for all time the controversy over the Democratic nomination by naming me their senator," Porter's statement said in part.

Mrs. Lake Will Speak To City Garden Clubs

Members of the four garden clubs of Midland will meet together in the City-County Auditorium at 2 p. m. Thursday to hear Mrs. Will Lake of Fort Worth, a gardening authority known over Texas through her writing, talks, and her work in her home city.

MRS. WILL LAKE

She will speak here to members of the Midland, Yucca, Tejas and Perennial Garden Clubs. While she is on the trip to this section, she also is scheduled to speak to the Final details will be arranged at the monthly meeting of the Council of Garden Clubs Tuesday morning. It will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the home of Mrs. J. C. Smith, 1001 West Kansas Street.

Government Tips Move, Loses Plans

PEIPING—(AP)—Next time government black market prosecutors will move in secret.

They made no bones about their intention to arrest a P-51 fighter pilot for blackmarketing at Peiping's South Field. They headed out to the field to arrest the pilot. But a friend telephoned the pilot who jumped into his fighter plane and headed for Communist headquarters in Hopei Province.

Loss to the government—one pilot and one expensive plane.

125th ANNIVERSARY

The century and a quarter success of the Chickering piano is the result of a steadfast devotion to the ideals of the founder, Jonas Chickering. Ever mindful of these ideals, those to whom the perpetuation of this great piano has been entrusted are determined the Chickering will always have the distinction of being more than America's oldest piano—that it will also continue to be America's most distinguished and best loved piano—just as it has been for 125 years.

We invite you to see and hear today's Chickering. When you hear its golden voice, and see the refinement of its cabinetry, you too will conclude there is no substitute for a century and a quarter of experience in building fine pianos.

Latex Foam Cushions Make Easy Work For Amateur Upholsterer

To simplify the task of re-upholstering this old chair, latex foam is used to make the new cushion. The model outlines a paper pattern of the chair seat on the smooth-surfaced side of the foam sheet. Top right. After cushion is cut out with scissors, the turns pad upside down and trims cored edges at a slant so that pad will fit more smoothly into seat frame, bottom right. At left, the new cushion has been rubber-cemented in place and the model tacks upholstery fabric over the seat.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If you need to re-upholster old chairs, you can simplify the job and achieve more professional looking results by using cushions of latex foam rubber. Because this resilient material which comes in sheets ready to be cut to size is so easy to use, the woman who must do her own upholstering needn't be afraid to tackle the job.

More talking points are that latex foam offers no food to pests, will hold its shape without matting or lumping.

Latex foam is available in sheets of various thicknesses to suit different upholstery needs. A sheet of one-inch thickness is suitable for the average chair upholstering job.

To give a chair a comfortably cushioned seat for example, first remove the old upholstery fabric. If the old padding is a hair-filled cushion placed over burlap-covered springs or webbing, pull or cut the old cushion out of the frame but leave the burlap-covered base intact.

Make a paper pattern of the seat by holding paper over the wood frame and outlining with the pencil the space to be cushioned. Cut out the pattern and trim to fit the seat. Then trace pattern on the smooth surface of the sheet of rubber foam with a grease pencil. Now cut out the cushion with a pair of sharp scissors or a razor.

To insure a smoother fit of fabric over the new chair cushion, bevel the edges. This is done by flipping the cushion upside down and by holding scissors at a slant against the edge of the cushion by slicing off a thin tapered strip of rubber.

If your chair has a burlap-covered frame, dot rubber cement around the edge and center of the burlap and press cushion firmly in place. If you are padding a solid wood seat, cement the foam cushion to the wood.

With the cushion in place, all that remains to be done is to tack the upholstery fabric around the wood frame of the chair. Some professional upholsters recommended that a thin piece of cotton felt be placed between rubber cushion and fabric. This extra pad absorbs some of the wear and prolongs the life of the fabric, say these experts.

A similar procedure for upholstering a chair seat is followed for padding a chair back or the top of a kitchen stool, or a dressing table bench or a window seat. Leftover scraps of latex foam may be cemented together and used to make smaller pads for footstools or for stuffing decorative pillows.

LOOK OUT WHEN IT'S DARK— Three Out Of Five Fatal Highway Crashes Occur At Night, Safety Officials Report

"Look out when it's dark out!" This warning by Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, is the slogan of a traffic safety program emphasizing the hazards of driving and walking after dark.

"Darkness triples your chances of a fatal traffic accident," Colonel Garrison said. "That is, for every mile of motor travel three times as many fatal accidents occur in the hours of darkness as in daylight, according to the National Safety Council."

"And of all fatal traffic accidents, three out of five occur at night," he said.

"The causes of an increase in traffic accidents after dark seem pretty obvious, but people seem to ignore them. You turn on the lights in your house when night falls—so let's turn a little light on the causes of night traffic accidents and try to cut down the night toll of deaths and injuries."

Here are some of the reasons why more traffic accidents occur at night, according to W. J. Elliott, chief of the Texas Highway Patrol.

1. Motorists cannot see as far nor as well as in daylight.
2. More drivers and more pedestrians may have been drinking.
3. Drivers at night—and pedestrians, too—are more likely to be tired. Fatigue reduces alertness and ability to react quickly.
4. Speeds considered safe in daylight may be too fast for safety at night.

Two hundred, 900 and 1000 blocks on West Florida, 900 through 1300 blocks on West Dakota, 1000 block on South Johnston, 200, 900, 1100, 1200 and 1300 blocks on West New Jersey, 1100 through 1300 blocks on South McKinzie, 900 and 1000 blocks on W. Collier in Strawn, 1000 blocks on South Camp, 1000 and 1100 blocks on South Connell and the 900 block on West Carter.

Cates said house numbers and boxes along the line of travel are required for delivery. Boxes must be placed at the curb and any type box may be used, Cates said.

Development Of Cowden Addition Announced By Grafa

The immediate development of Cowden Addition in North Midland was announced Saturday by Barney Grafa, Midland realtor.

The addition is north of Highland Addition to the present city limits, and west of the North Big Spring Street pavement for three city blocks.

It will be developed with FHA-approved and inspected homes of moderate size. Prices will range from $8,250 to $13,500, Grafa said.

Five brick veneer and 11 frame homes now are under construction. The prominent Midland developer said that in order to insure orderly development with FHA built homes, no lots are offered for sale, but dwellings will be put on the market as fast as completed. Arrangements have been made with several Midland contractors to develop the area as fast as good building practices will permit, Grafa stated.

A modern shopping center has been provided for on the tract. A grocery store already has been built and is open for business. The addition is 14 blocks from downtown Midland.

Grafa invites citizens to visit Cowden Addition and to inspect the new homes under construction.

Warner Brothers Producer Can Get Stars For Bit

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Just before producer Alex Gottlieb landed in the doghouse at Warner Brothers, he's been responsible for a long series of hits he went to a studio topper with the script of "Two Guys and a Gal." As a showmanship gimmick, the script had bit roles for Cary Cooper, Joan Crawford, E. Flynn, Danny Kaye and Jane Wyman. The studio topper read the script and said: "Alex, why do you write in roles for these stars? You know you can't get them to play bits." Alex said: "Let me try." "Okay," said the studio topper, "but you won't get them."

Playing bit roles in the picture are Gary Cooper, Joan Crawford, E. Flynn, Danny Kaye, Jane Wyman, Eddie Robinson, Ronald Reagan and Eleanor Parker.

Columbia and Glenn Ford are feuding. He wants a new deal on his contract . . . Maria Montez and Warner Brothers are talking a term deal. She gets back to Hollywood from Europe November 15. Husband Jean Pierre Aumont starts rehearsals with Lili Palmer the same date in New York for "The Emperor of China." . . . Height of bad taste: That photograph in a fan, that of Charles Korvin wearing only shorts and a cowboy hat.

What goes with the Vic Matures? They're battling in public. Guess What!

Sign on a San Fernando Valley pet shop "Dog Food, H. H. Silver! Fresh Ground." . . . A ski suit company wanted Ann Southern to pose in a ski-outard (the dancer's scapery leotard adapted for skiing) as a Sun Valley tie up. "Look," said Ann, "when I pose in glamorous stuff, I'll do it in a gown. When I ski, I'll ski in baggy pants." . . . Freeman (Amos) Gosden is completely recovered from his recent illness. He even kidded the cause of his hospitalization by referring, on a recent broadcast, to "General DeGallstones."

Dinah Shore and Eddie Cantor open their USO touring in San Francisco, then go to Denver . . . Bob Crosby will be Bing's guest on his airshow soon . . . Mrs. Spencer Tracy leaves soon for a lecture tour of medical colleges. She'll talk on her pet subject—children's deafness from the parent's point of view.

Reel Riley Real

Any resemblance between radio shows and the film versions of the same has up to now, been purely coincidental. Fans of Bill Bendix in "The Life of Riley" are due for a shock—the film version is following the airshow line with all the fidelity possible. That's because Irving Brecher, who dreamed up Riley five years ago, is producing and directing the picture.

I asked Brecher if the film may launch a Riley series. "Could be," he said, "but we're not talking about that yet." If it's a hit, as it should be after a five-year build-up, you can count on UI slating one a year. Bendix isn't worried about being typed as Riley in a series. He's probably the most versatile star in Hollywood. Look at his record just this year: The bartender in "The Time of Your Life," a knight of the Round Table in "A Connecticut Yankee," Babe Ruth and now Riley.

New It's "The Hildegarde Story" that may reach the screen. Lester Cowan has the deal cooking.

David O. Selznick just wrote a check for $25,000 to the Claude DeBusby estate for the film rights to six compositions. He'll use them as background music for "Portrait of Jennie." . . . Gene Tierney has reservations at LeRoy Sanitarium in New York for the arrival of her baby the end of next month.

New Bookkeeping Machines Installed In First National

The First National Bank Saturday installed eight new Burroughs post-war model bank bookkeeping machines in its bookkeeping department at a cost of approximately $25,000, M. C. Uimer, president, announced.

The new machines were being used by bank personnel Saturday afternoon in getting out October statements.

D. M. Carr, branch manager of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company in Fort Worth, who is in Midland to supervise the installation, said the machines are the latest models available and were shown for the first time at the New York Business Show earlier this year. Howard Meadows is the firm's Midland salesman. The machines represent a complete installation of machinery in the bookkeeping department.

The machines provide additional proofs and automatic transcripts of each day's posting, together with totals for balancing. John F. Butler, vice president and cashier of the bank, said: "They provide new ease of operation for personnel, speeding up the bookkeeping procedure and assuring greater efficiency," he said. The machines were in order 18 months.

The machines are in new gray color and are trimmed in plastic.

Eisenhower Was My Boss

(Continued from page 1 Sp. D) said it in such a way I could almost feel wrinkles in my face, braces on my teeth.

I turned apprehensively to Sheila. "Surely, you've heard of General Eisenhower?" As an American (married to an English officer from Sandhurst) she was my only hope.

"Eisenhower?" Sheila thought a moment. "Eisenhower? Never heard of him."

"Here they come!" The about pull-out of all our cars . . . and out of our bloom. All we could see was the tall figure of Ambassador Winant and, beside him, Major General Chaney, the only Yank general in London. (Colonels were real "rank" in those sparse days.) Someone identified General Marshall; all recognized him from newspaper photos. We also managed to pick out General Arnold and Mr. Harry Hopkins.

"One of those fellows must be your General Eisenhower," Sheila said, pointing shamelessly. All I could see was a mass of uniforms and much handshaking. There seemed to be three major generals in the group.

The six Y-I-P's walked away from their special track, moving toward the line of automobiles. We ran to our staff cars, opened the doors, and tried to stand at soldierly attention.

They all climbed into Ambassador Winant's car.

Paul Moss, Odessa Attorney, Appointed 70th District Judge

AUSTIN—Paul Moss, Odessa, attorney and ranchman, has been appointed judge of the 70th District.

That was my first "meeting" with General Eisenhower.

I followed the others back to headquarters, hardly impressed by the name of Eisenhower. At our motor pool office the briefing was as bad as earlier. In fact, it was worse; we had orders to wait around for further instructions. That was at 9 o'clock. By 1 p. m., I was starting. No one else would risk it, so I went out alone to have tea and a sandwich.

Coming back to Grosvenor Square, I noticed with alarm that things were happening. The other cars were pulling out. Mine was the last in line; the one just ahead already was halfway down the street. Two officers were walking toward my khaki-colored Packard. They were nondescript, although one was taller than the other. Both wore two stars on each shoulder. The smaller general, I noticed, had nice broad shoulders.

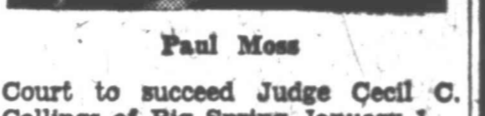

I rushed up, completely confused. Finally I looked from one to the other and puffed, "I'm General Eisenhower's driver. Are you looking for me?"

The shorter general nodded, his full face breaking into a grin destined to spread across half the world's newspapers. "I'm General Eisenhower. This is General Clark. We would like to go to Claridge's, please." I drove them there without incident. As they got out, General Eisenhower remarked, "Thank you. Tomorrow at nine, please."

I had driven them exactly two blocks after waiting three days for that trip.

Then, I had no feeling one way or the other about General Eisenhower or General Clark. If there was any reaction, it wasn't exactly cordial. After all I had crawled out of bed at 5:30 three mornings in a row—to drive these Yanks exactly two city blocks.

But in that May of 1943 there was no hint that the smiling general would become our supreme commander, that his quiet companion would lead a bizarre submarine mission to the enemy soil of North Africa. To me they were only temporary passengers, in London for a ten-day visit.

Soviet Accused Of Holding Japanese POWs In Servitude

TOKYO—(AP)—An occupation spokesman charged Saturday that Russian demands for expense money to return Japanese war prisoners may be an excuse to hold them "under conditions of forced servitude."

The spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters issued his statement in response to a Moscow dispatch which said MacArthur had ignored two weeks a Soviet letter inquiring about Japanese payment for repatriation costs.

The spokesman said the repatriation agreement provided for Japanese payment of expenses from the time repatriates were embarked in Soviet-controlled harbors, "which has been done."

Short Agreed Quotas

Headquarters estimates that the Russians have returned about 30,000 Japanese but still hold more than 471,000.

The spokesman said the Russians, for the last 18 months, had failed to meet their agreed quota of 50,000 repatriations a month, and lately had been short by as many as 500 persons per ship. Ships are furnished to the Russians for the purpose, on request.

"Furthermore," he said, "no request for shipping for the period of November 1 to 15 has as yet been received, suggesting that the Soviet authorities have decided for some of their own, at least temporarily, to discontinue repatriation in direct violation of their obligations."

Cheese, Fruit Go Well Together

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Cheese is one of the most widely used foods in the world and may be served in countless ways from soup to dessert. Today more and more Americans are using it at the end of a meal with fruit. Remember this nutrition hint:

Cheese as first-quality protein. Therefore, when you serve it as a desert food, you can reduce the amount of other proteins, such as meat or fowl, served earlier in the meal.

Arrange your favorite cheeses attractively on a tray and serve with them a bowl of beautiful fruit and crisp crackers—plain or toasted. That arrangement makes an ideal dessert course or it can be used for refreshments after cards or for any other evening gathering.

Sliced pears or apples "dunked" in a cheese spread is a variation on the cheese-dessert theme. Have each guest quarter,

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Dew Pearson

WASHINGTON—For five hectic hours government officials begged and begged for more steel the other day, but all they got from the steel industry was a brush-off as cold as the steel it produces.

The steel kings couldn't even spare a few tons for a supplementary pipeline which must be built to insure the smooth running of the atomic-energy plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Yet they were able to supply steel for beer cans, juke boxes and pinball machines. They also flatly rejected a request for steel to build oil barges and storage tanks—sorely needed to step up the Wintertime flow of fuel oil and gas. This means many families will not be able to heat their homes when severe weather hits.

In fact, all the steel executives agreed to do was continue allocating the basic steel necessary for defense. Even this was forced down their throats, since the Draft Act gives the government power to take what it needs for national security anyhow. For that reason the executives did not object to keeping up the steel supply for military requirements and airplane construction, which they were told would be continued at the present rate, nor for atomic-energy construction, which they were told would be cut 20 per cent.

The steel men started balking, however, when Clifford Hahn, representing the Commerce Department's Office of Industry Cooperation, asked for steel to build a 22-inch pipeline into the atomic-energy plant at Oak Ridge. Previously the Atomic Energy Commission had insisted that alternative supplies be necessary in case the coal-firing equipment failed. Such a failure, Hahn warned, would shut down the furnaces possibly for four or five months.

At first the steel men hesitated over the size of the pipeline, then tabled the request for "more information." This amounted to an outright rejection, since they also took the attitude that voluntary allocations should be stopped when the law expires next February. After that, it would be up to the government to bid for steel like any other customer.

Though indifferent at first, the steel executives became downright rude when Acting Secretary of Interior Clegg Davidson pleaded for more steel to break the bottleneck in the petroleum industry. Curtly, the executives turned down each request, even laughed in his face at one point.

Paul Mackall, vice president of Bethlehem Steel Co. took the lead. "Show us one manufacturer who is not getting enough steel," he taunted.

Max Ball, chief of the Interior's Department's Petroleum Division, jumped up, waving a letter. "Here's a letter from a manufacturer who can't run a third of his plant because he can't get steel," cried Ball.

"Oh," blurted Mackall, under his breath. "I know who that is." Secretary Davidson finally pulled a letter out of his pocket that he had written to Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer and heatedly read it to the steel executives.

"Your letter indicates," Davidson read, referring to a past letter from Sawyer, "that the Steel Products Advisory Committee expects adequate materials for capacity production to be supplied only to line pipe mills and, apparently, only to such pipe mills as are integrated with steel producers, and that is not willing to enter into a voluntary agreement under Public Law 385 to supply adequate steel for even this limited category."

Davidson accused the steel men of promoting voluntary allocations as long as they were threatened with mandatory controls, then failing to keep up their part of the bargain after the law was passed. But all his pleading was in vain.

Note — Tennessee's Congressman Estes Kefauver has unleashed a barrage of telegrams demanding action by the steel industry on the Oak Ridge pipeline.

High-Talking Barkley Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee Alben Barkley made a speech the other day on a higher plane than GOP standard-bearer Tom Dewey's loftiest campaign oratory. In fact, the speech was delivered on a plane 7,000 feet in the air. Aboard a Capital Airlines ship between Niagara Falls and Washington, Barkley makes to say "a few words" when a birthday cake was being out for the pilot, Douglas Seherer. The Kentuckian responded with a five-minute speech praising the birthday cake as one of the great "institutions" in American life.

Reminding his small audience, including a hostess and two news reporters, that his remarks were non-political and not aimed at winning votes for the Democrats, Barkley concluded:

"Now that we've paid such high tribute to the beautiful cake, let's eat it."

Senate Love Seat Edward F. McGinnis, the Senate servant at arms, is so optimistic that the Republicans will retain control of the Senate he had his office redecorated two weeks before the election. McGinnis, who was appointed by Senator Curley Brooks of Illinois, had had capital cabinet-makers busy building some very interesting new furniture for his office, including a green satin-covered divan and—here is the payoff—a love seat, upholstered in tan and green damask.

But that's not all. McGinnis also purchased a fancy $85 coffee table to go with the divan and the love seat.

Capital Chaff Ex-Congressman Robert Slaughter of Kansas City, whose lobbying helped knock down the price of grain, will be turned over to a new grand jury for failure to register as a lobbyist. . . Senator Revercomb of West Virginia promised two bottles of whiskey to Senate mailing clerks if they would make the mailing of 300,000 pieces of literature to West Virginia voters. (He got free postage via his senatorial frank). . . Mike Reilly, former head of the White House secret service detail under Roosevelt, has been dropped as a bodyguard for Governor Dewey. He had a recurrence of the same ailment that caused him to leave the secret service. . . Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan has found some new names for Governor Dewey. Says Brannan: "This stock market of the radio quiz show. I want to give you a few hints on who is Mr. Hunt, and I will positively identify the "mechanical man." . . The Air Force has cut its major accident rate over the past two years from 61 to 51 per 100,000 flying hours. . . The Agriculture Department would like "price support" to be known as "price floors" because consumers have been flooding the department with protests blaming "support" for keeping up the cost of living. Actually, price supports are to farmer what minimum wages are to labor.

More News Here is more of the roll call of Nazis whom Senator Revercomb of West Virginia wanted kept in the United States. Revercomb sent a telegram to the Justice Department, July 6, 1948, asking Attorney General Tom Clark to withhold the deportation of these enemy aliens until April, 1949. The Justice Department went ahead with the deportation of 57 of them.

Those Revercomb tried to protect included: Waldemar Meuser — Came to the United States in 1938 as a butler for Dr. Griebel, the German espionage agent. His wife publicly referred to Americans as "dogs."

Maximilian Karl Reichel — Member of the Henlein movement in Czechoslovakia which helped bring about Hitler's annexation of the Sudetenland. His name appeared on the Nazi party list as a full member.

Carl Diegel — Member of the friends of New Germany, forerunner of the Bund in Los Angeles. Until before Pearl Harbor, he was the owner and operator of the Aryan Book Store in Los Angeles, principal source of literature for bund members.

The third clerk, John Graham, is campaign for GOP Congressman William Straton, now running for state attorney general in Illinois. Yet congress knew that congressional clerks could not work on a congressman's personal business.

Merry-Go-Round Ivan Morgan, president of the Morgan Packing Company of Austin, Ind., and former Republican state chairman of Indiana, is pleading mental illness in the income-tax investigation the Treasury has started against him. . . He wants to sue her for $100,000 but he can't find her to serve the complaint. COW COUNTRY REPORT—

Fall Season Doesn't Mean More Beef As Cattlemen Wait For Better Prices

By RALPH RITTER
OMAHA, NEB. (NEA)—Jet-black Anguses and square Herefords should be pouring into trackside loading pens in the cattle country these days, but this year the market isn't going to be loaded. Although October and November are traditionally the peak months of the railroad round-up business, the railroads, biggest movers of livestock, report they were hauling seven to 10 per cent less this October as against last year's carload shipping. Cattlemen seem to prefer to wait until prices picked up again. Many ranchers, like Nebraska's ex-Gov. S. R. McKelvie, who owns By-the-Way Ranch near Valentine, ship their cattle to Omaha and board them at five cents a day in feed pens on the city's outskirts. "When the price looks good, a 30-minute run by truck puts them on the market," McKelvie said. Cow-Talk All Good Other ranchers consign their stock to commission houses, which have pens under lease in stockyards. They, too, hold until the cattle bring top money. Although less cattle are rolling eastward in the stock trains, in the cattle country the cow-talk is all good, from the cattleman's standpoint. A minister, buying bread in Shosoni, Wyo., listens to the conversations of ranch housewives and makes a mental note to include in next Sunday's sermon, a gentle mention of church repairs. A garageman, after lunching with ranch hands, confidently orders larger stocks of automotive accessories, and grocers prepare their shelves for three grades of canned peaches instead of one. The bartender at Chadron, Neb., talks steers before he sells whiskey, because cattle determine his prosperity, too. In Lysite, Wyo., where rancher C. D. Rapstadt meets the train with his cattle, the scene is a duplicate of other equally typical cattle towns throughout the West. His Herefords, brown and white under the early sun, are filmed with the dust of the Ten Sleeps trail, but they're fat and ready for shipping. As cowhands sort the calves from the herd and commission men eye their consignments with speculation, the necessity for speed becomes apparent. Delay in loading or shipping means loss of poundage and, therefore, loss of money. Reason For Hurry There's another reason to hurry. It's 179 miles from Lander, Wyo., to Omaha. Lander, the Chicago & Northwestern's cattle round-up begins, and Lysite is 77 miles east. The entire trip must be made in 36 hours since government regulations require rest and feeding for cattle confined longer than a day and a half. The last sliding door clatters shut, and as bawling steers and heifers start their futile search for comfort, the loading hands drift tavernwards. Anxious ranchers check the time and peer up the track. In the distance, a blue plume of engine smoke sprouts. From now on it's up to the trainmen. The cattle train's stop at Lysite, Wyo., is almost as brief as if it were a passenger train. Delay at the trackside loading pens costs money in the cow country, and the cattle have only 36 hours to get to Omaha. Hurriedly, Lysite's five cars are added to the train. The brakeman drops his arm. As the round-up freight moves, Rancher Rapstadt and three other cattlemen, one of them palming a little stack of silver dollars, lose their tenseness. Cattle Mean New Radio The cattle train wobbles eastward, and as it passes, a cattleman's wife stands on her porch to count the creeping cars. Smiling, she compares the number of this season's trains with trains of other years and, happily disregarding

Instructions In Voting Procedure Supplied By League

Every effort to assist Midland County citizens in voting their preference in the November 2 General Election is being made by the League of Women Voters here. By mail, information has gone to poll tax payers telling them how to make a ballot and also explaining the eight proposed constitutional amendments. In addition, the league is offering to transport voters to the polls and to provide baby sitters. The non-partisan organization, in its instructions, again reminds voters to scratch all except one candidate for each office. "In voting, do not scratch, check or in any way mark the name of a candidate for whom you are voting," the league cautions. "In voting a straight party tick-

"The election judges want to assist you. If you are in doubt concerning any feature of the voting procedure, do not risk having your ballot tossed out—ask for advice. You elect the men and women who run your government; so please vote. Vote as you please. Remind your neighbor." The league also gives instructions in voting mechanics concerning the constitutional amendments.

AMARILLO—(AP)—Garland Louis Wortham, 46, and his son, Louis Garland Wortham, 23, are charged here with poisoning in the death of Mrs. Billie Irene Wortham. Mrs. Wortham, 33, wife of the elder man, died Tuesday. The father and son are held without bond. The two were arrested Friday on charges signed by the mother of Mrs. Wortham. The charges were filed when a chemical examination of the woman's viscera showed traces of poison. The viscera was sent to the Department of Public Safety in Austin for examination after an autopsy was performed here at the request of the dead woman's mother.

Morgan Dam Project May Provide Water For Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—The Texas Electric Service Company has announced plans to construct a large water reservoir on Morgan Creek five miles south of here and also to supply Colorado City with water. The large lake would serve both as a city water supply and a steam generating station for the utility company. J. B. Thomas of Fort Worth, president of TESCO, explained the proposal to a group of 50 Colorado Citizens and said the need is so urgent his company is prepared to proceed within a week with the construction if the proposals are accepted. Approval was granted by unanimous consent by citizens who attended the meeting Friday afternoon. The dam will cost the electric company approximately $1,000,000 and the city proposes to vote bonds to finance construction of a filter and pump station and to lay water mains to connect with the city's water system. Water would be sold to the city for approximately five cents per thousand gallons when consumption reaches a million gallons per day. City's Share Of Cost The city's share of the cost of the program was estimated at $450,000. TESCO plans to build a steam generating plant of 40,000 kilowatt capacity, which will be the second largest station of its kind between Fort Worth and El Paso. Additions to the Permian Basin station near Monahans will make a 50,000 kilowatt station. Frank Kelley, chairman of the engineering committee of the Colorado River Municipal Water Association, told the group the TESCO proposal would not interfere with the project to construct a larger reservoir 25 miles northwest of here to serve Midland, Big Spring and Odessa. He said the Morgan Creek project would be more economical for Colorado City's water supply. The proposed Morgan Creek reservoir would cover approximately 2,000 acres of land and its capacity would be larger than Lake Worth at Fort Worth. The citizens named a committee of C. C. Thompson, Del Barber, Harry Radtke and Kelley to obtain options on the site for the reservoir. TESCO officials hope to complete the dam in time to impound Spring rains in 1949. Colorado City now receives its water supply from deep wells. Good rubies or emeralds of four carats or more are usually more valuable than diamonds of the same size.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

Here's a tip, men. And don't ever say I wasn't the first to warn you. The women of the country may get started on an entirely new kind of antique craze.

It's like this: In one of the current women's magazines—probably lying right now on the coffee table in your living room—there's a double-page spread of pictures of a fashion artist modeling her own personal wardrobe. Among her "new look" dresses is a black number with a train, about which the magazine's fashion editor comments: "She wears the old, and the old."

Her black taffeta evening dress came from an antique shop, cost a dollar.

No Brass Spittoons
You can expect any day now to have Mama come home from an auction loaded down, not with brass spittoons to be turned into flower pots, or an old buggy seat she has visualized as an amusing piece of lawn furniture, but with an armload of old clothes smelling of moth balls—which she has visualized as her "new look" wardrobe.

You should be able to look quite calm when your little treasure shows you an old relic she is going to wear to the next dance.

There's one bit of consolation for you, though. When Mama cluttered up the house with broken-down antique furniture you had to live in it. If she comes home with an antique dress, she'll have to wear it.

Practical Beauty Is Boast Of Home Furnishings In Plastics

Handsome screen upholstered with a padded, button-tufted plastic sheeting provides decorative concealment for the radio-phonograph and television combination behind the hinged center panel.

This new multi-purpose occasional table adjusts in length and height and the top tilts up for reading or writing. Although it looks like wood, the table is made of lightweight metal with a protective plastic coating which resists stains.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—New and improved plastics applied to household products forecast easier housekeeping and better decorative effects for Mrs. America.

Among the newcomers rating impressive displays at the recent National Plastic Exposition were such trend-setting products as television sets concealed in decorative screens, trick tables masquerading as wood, pastel-tinted upholstery, textured draperies and luminous lampshades.

Typical of what's coming up in plastics for the television era is the new camouflaging screen with three panels each covered with a padded, button-tufted plastic sheeting of creamy beige. A hinged center panel of the screen swings open to reveal the radio, phonograph and television combination. Its glamorous pale surface may be kept gleaming, makers claim, with a whisk of a damp cloth. The same claim is made for padded plastic draperies that look like fine-textured fabrics.

A protective plastic coating applied to lightweight metal makes a "seven wonder" occasional table that looks like polished wood. Pull-out sides extend the table length from the normal 28 inches to 49 inches. Grooved bags permit the table height to be raised from its normal 26 inches to 40 inches. The plastic top, which resembles expensive tooled leather, tilts up for reading or writing.

"New table lamps have dual controls which provide, besides ordinary illumination, a "black light" that makes the fluorescent treated polystyrene shade glow softly.

More interesting new decorative effects are forecast by hollow colored or clear plastic "bricks" which fit together with an interlocking device for quick assembling. These newcomers which are patterned with diamond-like facets are designed for use as non-load bearing partitions in rooms.

Doors that can't be slammed shut substantiate this claim with feather-like construction of plastics. Sides are made of plywood and interiors are made of a honey-comb of strong, plastic-impregnated paper.

More newcomers heading for homes are bathroom wash basins which weigh as little as two pounds. These are molded of acrylic resins in opaque shades of pink, blue, green, white. Kitchen sinks are made of the same plastic.

Skillful Hair Tinting Defies Detection

SUSIE APPLETON—

"Nature endows a brunette, for tones of dark hair and the dye job which duplicates that effect should never be one dark monotone," says Mr. Paschke.

To counteract a "dyed look," Mr. Paschke often allows his dye swab to skip a gray hair now and then on a dark head. He even likes to leave some of the silver strands undyed at the temples. This is accomplished by sectioning off the strands and pinning them out of the way of the swab with which dye is applied. Letting hair at the temples remain gray, says Mr. Paschke, makes a softer face-frame. As hair grows out the hair line demarcation between dyed and undyed shafts will be less noticeable. Because the growing-out process is not as noticeable when this technique is used, a woman can go for longer periods of time without re-

With modern dyes in the hands of an expert, hair can be tinted so skillfully that your color dodge will defy detection, says Jacques Paschke. This New York hair stylist and dye-specialist has helped many a famous woman keep her age a secret. His success in coloring hair so that a restoration job looks natural is in the trick of shading, one which can be used by any skilled specialist.

Dyeing hair a slightly lighter shade than the original color is recommended by Mr. Paschke. If a customer's hair was originally medium or dark-toned, he advises against a color restoration to make it light blonde or platinum.

When you have your hair re-colored, choose a youthful hair style. A smart new coiffure is as helpful as restored hair color in rejuvenating a woman's appearance, says Paschke. He suggests, simple, short-cut styles with hair softly curled at the sides and top for a coiffure which is youthful but not coy.

Has Anyone Lost A Pet Raccoon?

Elaine Conger of 211 North Le-rained Street noticed a raccoon in the driveway Saturday morning and went out to investigate. The raccoon showed his teeth, hissed and quickly removed himself to the nearest tree limb.

The SPCA was notified and the animal was picked up. He was found to be wearing a collar, and SPCA authorities believe he is someone's pet. If that be the case, the raccoon may be reclaimed by dropping by the SPCA kennels at East Indiana and Adams Streets.

Father-Daughter Supper Becomes Tradition Of Girl Scout Week

Father and daughter box suppers are traditional in Girl Scout Week in Midland, and are scheduled this year for 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. Tuesday. There will be a supper at each elementary school, and one at the high school gymnasium for senior and intermediate troops.

Program Is Outlined For Girl Scout Week

The Girl Scouts have several events with their mothers during the year, but only this one with fathers. Prizes are given for the most attractive and most unusual boxes. After judging, the boxes are unpacked for the supper, then a program is presented.

Last year a hat decoration contest was introduced, in which each girl planned one of her mother's hats and her dad modeled it on the program. The contest was so well liked that it will be repeated this year.

In addition to the judging of boxes and the hat contest, each group will have a program feature. For the senior and intermediate troops it will be a style show parody presented by the fathers. Art Cole will be master of ceremonies; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Bissell, judges; Mary Ann Searles, accompanist; Mrs. J. S. Griffith and Mrs. W. W. West, chairman.

At West Elementary School Mrs. Vernon Bottoms is chairman and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rinker will be judges. Lee Flood, master of ceremonies, has written skits to be presented on the program.

A program of Scout activities will be included at the South Elementary School, with Mrs. I. A. Searles as master of ceremonies. Mrs. C. D. Gouchie is chairman for this group, and Mrs. Inez Luce judge.

When it is available, Americans consume 50,000,000 pounds of meat daily.

The program for Girl Scout Week, which opens Sunday with each girl attending her own church in uniform and sitting with other Girl Scouts in groups, will continue with a different activity scheduled daily.

Girls Send Fathers Supper Invitations

Invitations to their fathers for the annual box supper that will be an event of Girl Scout Week, Sunday through Saturday, were made by girls of Brownie Troop 15 Thursday in a meeting in the South Elementary School. They also learned the procedure of opening a troop meeting, and practiced the Brownie song and promise.

Games were enjoyed afterward by Diane Hoover, Marie McKenzie, Sandra Norwood, Linda Hester, Jean Ann Crawley, Linda Merie Stracener, Sandra Counties, Ollie Dell Dawkins, Julia McIntosh, Laveta Clark and Dolores Brashears. Mrs. Arch Morgan and Mrs. Floyd Counties, leaders, were also present.

Revenues of the United States Post Office totaled $1,234,572,170 in the 1946 fiscal year.

Area Organization Backs Girl Scout Local Activities And Provides Camp

Girl Scouts of Midland, who will join in national observance of Girl Scout Week beginning Sunday, carry on their program as a unit in the Permian Basin Area, which was organized at Odessa in September, 1946.

Scouting has expanded into many cities of the 17-county area since then. The area achievement of which the Girl Scouts are proud first area president, and Oscar Maples of Kermit is now president of the board of directors. The area does not have a professional staff now, but an area steering committee has been set up to guide the work.

Mrs. C. E. Bissell of Midland is chairman of this committee, and other members are Mrs. G. W. Ramer of McCombs, Mrs. J. C. Coleman and Mrs. Ella McBride of Alpine, Mrs. W. R. Shelton of Monahans, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Puckett and Mrs. Judson Crawford of Fort Stockton, Mrs. A. C. Williams of Kermit, Mrs. J. E. Starley of Pecos, and Mrs. F. E. Stever of Odessa.

Bunice Prien of Dallas, regional director, supervises the area and has met twice with the steering committee. In September at a meeting in Fort Stockton, program material was exchanged and future needs and plans were discussed.

Serving on the area board with Maples are M. C. Puckett of Fort Stockton, vice president; Rose Erisone of Pecos, secretary; and Archie Scott of Pecos, treasurer.

Chairmen who are members of the board are Mrs. M. C. Puckett of Fort Stockton, organization; Bill Lee of Monahans, public relations; Mrs. R. L. Boone and the Rev. R. J. Snell of Midland, staff and office; B. F. Berkley of Alpine, finance; Mrs. Ella McBride of Alpine and Mrs. J. J. Black of Midland, camp; Mrs. G. W. Ramer of McCombs, training.

To acquaint residents of the area with the facilities and beauty of Camp Mitre Peak, an open house is planned at the camp November 7 with Alpine Girl Scout Association as hostess. Mrs. J. J. Black, camp chairman for the Midland association and a member of the area camp committee, can give information to persons interested in seeing the camp.

The camp is now fully owned by the area as the result of action taken this year by A. W. Yeager of Midland, who had been to the camp, appreciated its value to the girls and wished it placed on firm financial ground. He headed a group of Midlanders in raising more than $15,000 to complete payment for the grounds. The camp is to be operated again next summer, and all Girl Scouts and leaders may use it at any time for troop camping.

Thurmond Schedules Last Campaign Speech

The final address of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina in his campaign for president of the United States on the States' Rights Party ticket will be made Monday night from Columbia, S. C., Richard S. Brooks, Midland chairman, said Saturday.

The speech will be broadcast over 18 Texas radio stations, including KCRS, Midland; KRBC, Abilene; KBST, Big Spring; KPYO, Lubbock; and KGKL, San Angelo.

Because of gravity, a grandfather's clock in Spitzbergen needs a longer pendulum than one at the equator.

Camping, Outdoor Programs Interest Girl Scouts Most

Asked why they want to be Girl Scouts, most girls will answer that they want to go camping, on hikes or cook-outs. For this reason the leaders of Midland groups are encouraged to make outdoor activities an important part of the year's program.

During the last year Midland girls have entered into the outdoor program and enjoyed experience in the open ranging from backyard meetings to troop camping. Mrs. J. J. Black is camp chairman for Midland.

Two senior troops made a trip to Camp Mitre Peak in the Davis Mountains. Two intermediate troops camped at the Girl Scout camp.

Many Brownie and intermediate troops have had cook-outs, field trips and outdoor programs.

A successful day camp was held August 8-20 at Cloverdale Park with Mrs. Otis Baggett as director and Mrs. F. D. Herren assistant. The 250 girls who attended participated in archery, handicrafts, supervised play and nature study. Herbert G. Buder directed archery, an activity which appealed to most of the girls.

Two cook-outs were included, one breakfast and an evening meal to which parents were invited.

A four-day day camp was held for the three negro troops, with 50 girls attending. Six adults were in charge. Cecil Ligon and Callie Mae York were the camp directors.

Busy Year Closing For Girl Scouts Of Midland Troops

With two months remaining in the year, Midland Girl Scouts are proud of their record of activities in 1948 as reviewed by Mrs. Robert M. Payne, program chairman, at the beginning of Girl Scout Week.

The chief project early in the year was a clothing drive for the Children's Service League which continued through February and to March 12. In this drive, 1080 articles of clothing and 95 pair of shoes were collected for the league to use in its work for children of the county.

In March, Troops 1, 3, 9, 10 and 25 folded Easter seals for the Children's Service League. March 8 to 12 was designated as "Visit your troop week." In celebration of the thirty-sixth anniversary of Girl Scouting, a radio program, "As Friend to Friend," was presented March 10 by Troop 7.

On April 30 a Court of Awards was held at West Elementary School with Mrs. Howard Ford and Mrs. Don Johnson as chairmen. Intermediate Scouts received proficiency badges they had earned during the year.

Day Camp was conducted August 8 to 20 in Cloverdale Park, with Mrs. Otis Baggett as director.

On September 22, 60 leaders and council members attended a kick-off coffee with Mrs. Robert Payne as chairman. The Girl Scout round-up was held on the high school campus September 25 with 209 girls attending. Mrs. C. L. Snure and Mrs. L. H. Michaelson were in charge.

A booth was placed in the Midland County Fair, opening September 30, with Mrs. I. A. Searles as chairman, and 182 girls took part in the fair parade.

From October 11 to 15, girls of Troops 1, 4, 5, 8 and 12 folded seals for the Midland County Tuberculosis Association.

Growth Of Girl Scouting In Midland Is Shown In Report

Mrs. Stanley Erskine, organization chairman of the Midland Girl Scout Association, has an interesting report of the growth of Scouting in the city.

In 1946 there were 13 troops with 195 girls enrolled; in 1947 there were 20 troops; last year the number rose to 29 and this year there are 34 troops with 867 girls.

As the troops increased it was necessary for the organization chairman to find adults to serve as leaders, and for the leaders to form troop committees. There are usually five adults working with each troop, so with 34 troops there are 170 adults working directly with Girl Scouts.

Workers Reassigned At present there are 16 Brownie troops, 13 intermediate and five senior. Of this number, three are troops for negro girls.

In each school there are organization chairmen who find meeting places, obtain women for active work with troops, and pass along information to the troops.

Mrs. J. S. Griffith has this duty for high school, Mrs. W. W. West for junior high, Mrs. Vernon Bottoms for West Elementary, Mrs. E. N. Spiars for North Elementary, Mrs. Danna Gouchie for South Elementary, Mrs. Ralph Robinson for Terminal School, and Mrs. Steve Haslip is council representative for the negro troops.

Old Clothes May Put Hair On Your Chest

NEW YORK (AP)—Your old clothes might someday make a medicine to grow skin and hair, animal food for better furs or feathers, and a chemical to prevent corrosion. This would be quite a future for old rags, from underwear to overcoats. But a discovery by the research chemist of Botany Mills, Inc., Passaic, N. J., may open the door.

They found a way to extract a rich protein material from wool wastes, the pieces left over when wool is made into fabrics. Wool is made of protein. So is human hair, skin, and other tissues. The protein from wool was found to contain 17 amino acids, the bricks from which all proteins are made. The stuff is yellow to light tan in color, is tasteless, and has little odor.

The protein, named Botanein P, is being studied to find uses for it. There are many possibilities, says Charles F. H. Jackson, Jr., vice president and general manager of the company.

After burns or injuries, the concentrated protein might help speed the growth of skin and hair. Used in food, it might improve the growth of fur and feathers on animals and fowl. Other indicated uses, he adds, are in cosmetics, especially sunburn creams; a concentrated nutrient for cattle; in broth or yeast to study bacterial growth; in purification of beverages; an agent to prevent corrosion; a fixing agent for non-run dyes; or pigments in calico or indigo printing, and as an adhesive.

The protein could also be recovered from old rags and worn-out clothing containing wool, after dyes and impurities had been removed, Johnson said. It would supply a big source if widespread uses are found for the protein.

German Mills Make Goods For Russians

BERLIN (AP)—Germany, which according to the Potsdam agreement is supposed to be demilitarized, has never stopped producing army uniforms. But now they are being made for the Russian army.

German press reports say that some of eastern Germany's biggest clothing and textile factories have long been busy with Red army orders. The Socialist press claims that the big Peek and Cloppenburg firm, one of the best known in Berlin, has been working for the Red army since 1945 at full capacity. # JACK PORTER'S MESSAGE TO "WE THE PEOPLE"

FACT-FINDING GROUPS

It is entirely wholesome and "in good taste" that the voters prepare themselves in exercising their duty of suffrage. Their right to vote is both a privilege and a duty. With this vote, they can do much harm or much good.

In this column, the suggestion has been made that the voters who are interested in developing the facts regarding the issues of the present senatorial race form themselves into fact-finding groups. The previous issue suggested informal groups of five, six or seven. On account of the nearness of the election, it may be advisable that these groups be comprised of ten, eleven or twelve voters. Larger groups than this might result in the voters being swayed by mass psychology to false conclusions rather than being guided by the facts.

The scout whose duty it is to get the information concerning a particular subject and report his findings to the group should go to the records as far as he is able to do so, and if he is unable to reach the records, should inquire of someone he knows to be quite well posted. This may be the editor of his local paper, his doctor, lawyer, storekeeper, preacher or anyone else who he knows has the best interest of Texas at heart.

Let the voters make up their minds as to what are the real issues in the campaign and search out the truth regarding them.

The Tidelands issue must never be overlooked, because of what it means toward better salaries for the school teachers of Texas—better salaries which will enable them at all times to keep themselves better prepared for the fulfillment of their duties. If the school children of Texas are not robbed of the funds accruing from the Tidelands, it means better buildings, athletic equipment, facilities for getting to school, and a better education for them, which in turn means a better way of life.

TRUE OR FALSE

It is stated in this column that all of the statements which will be presented are factual. Of course, this does not apply to the statements made under this column headed "True or False." This feature is being run so that the voters may test their knowledge regarding the facts pertaining to the issues in this campaign.

1. Franklin D. Roosevelt supported and worked for a Republican nominee for President who defeated the Democratic nominee, Alton Parker.
2. Thomas Jefferson served eight years as a Republican President of the United States.
3. Lyndon Johnson, Congressman from Texas, was one of the leaders in the fight to keep the Tidelands title for the benefit of the school children of Texas, and so cast his vote.
4. It would be against the law for a voter who voted in the Democratic Primary to cast his vote for Jack Porter in the General Election.
5. There were two separate votes taken on Bretton Woods, and on both of these all of the 21 Texas Congressmen voted each time. Lyndon Johnson cast his vote contrary to all of the other 20 Congressmen from the State of Texas.
6. Franklin D. Roosevelt supported Republican Elmer LaGuardia for Mayor of New York City.
7. The facilities for accepting, tallying and returning the vote in the Democratic Primaries are all the same in Dallas, Harris, Galveston, Brown, Eastland, Wharton, Clay and Chambers Counties, which Johnson has questioned, as they are in Jim Wells, Duvall, Starr, Zapata and Jim Hogg Counties, which Stevenson has questioned.
8. The Supreme Court of Texas has interpreted the law regarding a party pledge to mean that the voters may follow their conscience in casting their votes in the General Election.

9. Lyndon Johnson, as Congressman from Texas, voted against the bill providing funds for the Un-American Activities Committee to carry on its investigation of Communist activity in this country.
10. Lyndon Johnson, as Congressman from Texas, voted against the bill introduced in Congress which required that American observers be allowed to supervise lend-lease goods and equipment going to Russia.
11. Both candidates in the present race for United States Senator from Texas used all their influence to have Henry Wallace nominated as Vice-President in 1944.

Keep these numbers for later an attempt will be made to publish the correct answers to each by number.

EXCERPTS FROM AN ADDRESS DELIVERED

BY JACK PORTER

If we are soon again to be subjected to the horrors of war, we know whom we will be fighting and why and what is our greatest handicap. The answer to this three-pointed question is Communism. Let us try to figure out what we must combat, who and what they are, their strength and danger and what makes them tick.

Communism is an ideology necessarily centering in a supreme dictator. The dictator commands vast manpower and resources. It is just part of this being a dictator to attempt to conquer the world. Our greatest handicap in this fight is the infiltration of Communists into America and its government, which has occurred and is now going on. Communists are fanatical, sly, adroit, aggressive and tireless workers. They are just as sincere and serious as any other people who are afflicted with some dreadful disease which is clutching at and warping their lives.

Converts to Communism believe it is the perfect state of society—"all join together, working for the common good, each doing what he or she can best do." Now, that is theoretically perfect. To promote a nation into adopting their creed, they willingly and gladly enter upon a life of hypocrisy, spying, lying, stealing, fraud, propagandizing, deceit, immorality, godlessness and murder. They believe the end justifies the means. This is the picture of what we have to combat.

We have always relied upon, and believed that right must prevail. The sad fact is that right will not prevail soon enough to save us, if what is right is made to appear wrong and what is wrong is made to appear right. This the Communist worker is in a position to do and succeeds in doing. He plays upon the frailty of human nature by telling the people what he knows they will like to hear and by telling them what he knows will require no proof in order to get them to believe. In America, he tells the people that they are being ground down by special interests and glowing holds before them a doctrine wherein human rights and freedom from fear shall prevail. He has other convenient catch-phrases to picture a Utopia they can have by following his ideology.

We have heard many of these catch-words and phrases in the past few years. The Communist workers have proven they are so effective that the politicians wishing to secure and perpetuate themselves in office commonly use these handy catch-phrases without any real intent to promote Communism or to practice Communism after they are elected. After they are in office through the use of such catch-words, they find themselves subject to such pressure from the majority groups to whom they have appealed that some of them are prone to live up to their promises. There are many cases where real constructive citizens become

The friends of Jack Porter who are running this ad pledge that the information presented in this daily column will be factual information. His friends concede that the presentation of these facts is made for the purpose of promoting Jack Porter's candidacy and soliciting votes for Porter; nevertheless, the facts will be presented in an unbiased spirit, for we believe that the unvarnished facts are all the political argument needed to be made for Jack Porter.

At 6:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. each day except Sunday tune in on your favorite station which is carrying a regular program of talks made by Jack Porter and speakers for Jack Porter. Check your newspapers for time and station for the additional addresses which Jack Porter is making.

Refer to this paid column running in The Dallas News entitled "Jack Porter's message to 'We the People'."

Join in the attempt being made to get the facts regarding the issues of this campaign before all of the voters. Telephone your friends shortly before each of these speaking times so they can hear Jack Porter's message. Call their attention to any material appearing in the newspaper which will assist them in getting the facts. Remember, the facts will make us free.

Jack Porter is the kind of man who will be happy to accept the decision of the voters whatever it may be after they have weighed all of the facts.

Communist office-holders. It doesn't take a Communist to write and pass Communist legislation. Remember that.

If Communism is the perfect state of society, why combat it? Why not accept it? I want to give you a simple illustration on a smaller-than-national scale to try to uncover the fallacy of their claims to perfection.

Please picture one hundred individuals joining together, each working for the common good of the group, each person doing what he can best do. Now, that sounds good in theory and sounds intelligent, efficient, and, in fact, noble. But when put into practice, who is going to scrub the floor? They do not all volunteer at once. Who is to tell one that he is to scrub, and who is to tell the one who tells him to tell him? Perhaps someone who is told in an orderly and Communistically "lawful" manner that he to scrub thinks he is better fitted to do some more pleasant work. He is not happy because he is not following what he dreamed of as his lifework and does not do a good job of scrubbing. Some member informs on him. Someone who has been chosen to enforce the performance of duties by members of his class has the job of forcing the scrubber to scrub or be liquidated.

Now, already, we perceive the Police State—the informer, the spy, the enforcer, and the higher-ups, and at the top the dictator in the theoretically perfect state of society. Convert the illustration of this small group to Communism on a national scale. The member who in this process becomes a victim to be liquidated has nowhere to go and there begins the probability for him of an unpleasant surprise appointment. The specters of the bloody purges and the slave labor camps suddenly appear. The dictator, soon drunk with power, carries them all into wars with no thought of the cost of life, but just to satisfy his ambition.

Unbelievably soon, the things that the citizen reasonably thought "can't happen here" are in full process, with all the bureaucratic workings between the dictator at the top and the now slave at the bottom grinding away every last vestige of human liberty.

I believe that every worker, labor union member, small businessman, industrialist, and member of a profession can visualize what he, individually, has at stake and will lose if individual liberty and free enterprise in America is supplanted by the Police State. If so, we reach the conclusion that Communism is bad, that we will have none of it, and that we will fight with all hearts its assault from abroad.

We must plan to safeguard our country against being taken from within. The card-carrying Communist is bad, but the greater danger lurks in his more subtle teammate, the Pink. The Pink is frequently found in a position of trust, more often as a handy assistant to those occupying positions of trust, frequently as a co-ordinator or conciliator, or in labor union circles—always wherever he can infiltrate into the professions having to do with disseminating information and instruction. The most effective law which can be invoked against these fanatics is the law of common sense on the part of the voters and the people. The laws we have against treason, espionage and sabotage are some protection. Those guilty of breaking them should be sentenced with the full penalties provided. Let's use common sense. Let's leave off maudlin sympathy for the man who is trying to cut our throat.

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, during nearly six years' service in the Senate, has repeatedly stated that if the people will keep their government within the limits of that great doctrine, the Constitution of the United States, the nation can be saved. Let the people heed these wise words. The fountain-spring of government is from the people. Let us in a rebirth of genuine patriotism exercise our ballot, publicize our thoughts, and get these laws administered and interpreted so that America can be saved. If you elect me your United States Senator, I shall exert my utmost energy toward getting these laws administered and enforced.

You may say that the Communist suspects should not be given the benefit of the doubt. But because this is America, with all its Constitutional guarantees of freedom, America cannot fully protect herself with laws. The voter is under no pledge to give the benefit of the doubt. In every choice he makes between candidates for office, he should vote to stamp out this menace wherever he can detect it or even suspect it. If you can uncover in inquiring about me anywhere anything which leads you to believe that I will in

'Oil And Atom Bombs' Is Kermit C. Of C. Discovery

KERMIT—"Oil and Atom Bombs—we'd make a combination hard to beat," was the encouraging message sent Wednesday to residents of Los Alamos, N. M., by Kermit, through his chamber of commerce.

The organization was extending congratulations, inducements and offers to help the New Mexico town get itself made a part of Texas after a court ruling that certain areas of Los Alamos were the "New Mexico in the eyes of the state government."

Girl Scout Week To Start In Churches

Girl Scout Sunday, to be observed by members of Midland troops who will attend the churches of their choice, opens Girl Scout Week. The members at each church will sit together, with the adult leaders who attend that church.

The Ministerial Alliance cooperates in this program and recognition will be given the Girl Scouts in Midland churches.

The Girl Scout organization asks every girl to be a faithful member of her own religious group and to honor God in the finest way she knows, by the things she says, thinks and does. The Girl Scout promise is: "On my honor I will try to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout laws."

Girl Scout Week, opened by the church-going program, is designated because the founder's birthday was October 31. Juliette Low called together the first group of girls in Savannah, Ga., in March of 1912 and formed the organization, the counterpart of the English Girl Guides. It includes girls from seven to 17 years of age, grouped in three divisions, Brownies, intermediates and seniors.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh all over your places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sure! Health.

Winterizing Home Will Cut Fuel Cost

How to save money on fuel is vital to home owners. The household can cut his oil, coal or gas heat bill back to prewar levels, in spite of today's imposing fuel prices.

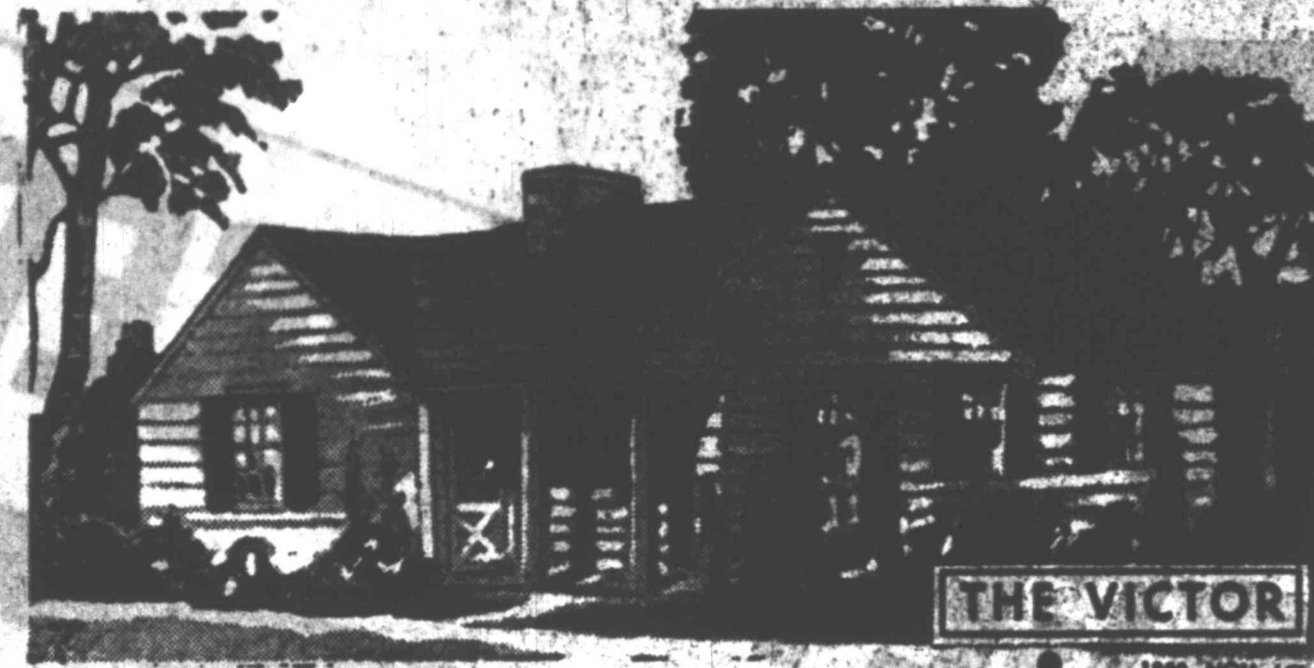

The family paying 15 cents for fuel oil can cut this price to 7 1/2 cents; the family paying $20 a ton for coal can actually make it cost only $10; the gas heat customer by one-half.

Winterizing of the home is the way to do it, says the Construction Research Bureau of New York, clearing house for building information. Winterizing means installing storm windows and doors, weatherstripping these openings and installation of full-thick mineral wool insulation in walls and roof.

When these steps are taken, fuel savings of 50 to 75 per cent can be attained, according to tests made by the National Bureau of Standards. Mineral wool insulation full-thick in walls and roof will save 35 per cent. This alone means 9 3/4-cent fuel oil when the price is 15 cents; $12 coal instead of $20. The storm seal saves 12 1/2 per cent and weatherstrip four per cent.

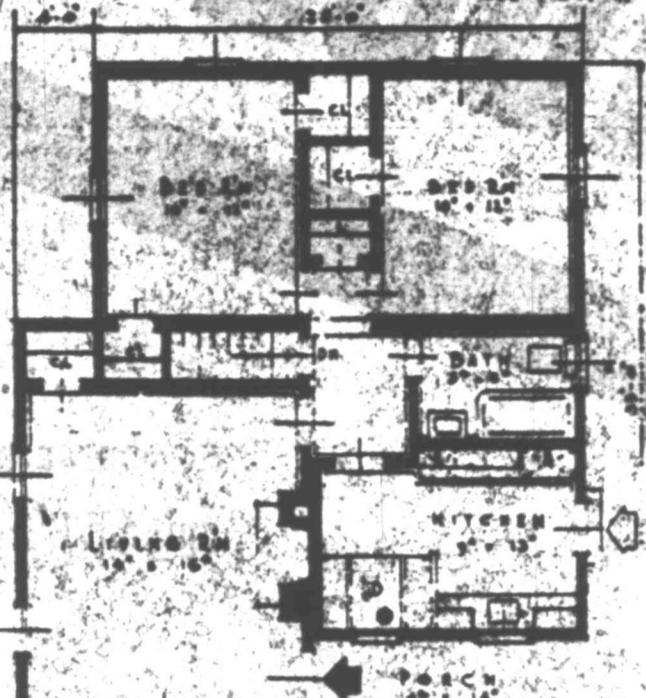

Italy introduced brocoli into England in the sixteenth century.

Well-Balanced, Attractive And Economical Home

THE VICTOR

Offering practically the irrefutable minimum in accommodations, the Victor has four good, livable rooms and bath arranged in a most delightful and pleasing manner. And the exterior, with its balanced lines, is as attractive as can be found in homes costing twice as much. It is an outstanding plan in the lower price field. The Victor has just a few luxuries—a living room a couple of feet larger each way than called for in FHA standards. It also boasts an open fireplace. The kitchen has a built-in dinette, and each bedroom is 20 square feet larger than FHA requirements. There is a partial basement that would permit the installation of a "pipeless" furnace, the most economical form of central heat. The Victor was designed according to the exacting standards of the Housing Plan Service, and meets all FHA requirements.

THE VICTOR FLOOR PLAN

The American fox squirrel is the largest member of the squirrel clan, measuring about 25 inches in length. Usually red, they are sometimes albinos or coal black. Baby squirrels are born blind and remain blind for about five weeks.

Curtain Treatment Adds To Interior Beauty Of Dwelling

Tasteful curtain treatment adds much to the interior beauty of the home. Interior designers say it is essential that the windows harmonize with the furnishings and that one should never overdo them. Any look of skiminess should be avoided.

Curtains should hang to the window sill, to the bottom of the apron beneath the sill, or to the floor; never stop somewhere between apron and floor. Straight-hanging curtains are suitable in almost any room. Use of ruffled draperies calls for discretion. Too-wide and too-full ruffles in a modern setting create a sense of clutter. Rooms appear larger if draperies match the wall color. With figured wallpaper and floor covering, use plain draperies of the predominant wall color. Patterned draperies should harmonize with plain walls and floors.

Keys To Happy Building Plan

Plan your home as nearly rectangular as possible. A plan that is a square rectangle gives the most light and air. The least exterior wall and foundation work. Every job of your architect work. Work on the foundation, less waste space under the roof, basis more efficient.

A two-story house is usually cheaper to build than the same size dwelling with all rooms on one floor. It has less foundation, less waste space under the roof, basis more efficient.

There are some popular dimensions. Minimum height, ceiling floor to top of first floor, 8 to 9 feet; room height, first floor surface to second floor surface, 9 feet; upstairs, second floor surface to attic floor surface, 8 1/2 feet.

A popular first floor window is 4 feet 6 inches to 5 feet, 2 inches high. The width of ledge is 2 feet six inches to 3 feet, 10 inches from floor. Top of the window is a minimum of 7 feet from floor. Double hung windows are usually 2 to 3 feet wide.

A popular second story window is 4 feet 6 inches to 5 feet, 2 inches high. The width of ledge is 2 feet six inches to 3 feet, 10 inches from floor. Top of the window is a minimum of 7 feet from floor. Double hung windows are usually 2 to 3 feet wide.

Builder's chest can be 3 feet wide and 5 feet 4 inches to 7 feet tall. Room doors usually are 2 feet 6 inches to 2 feet 8 inches wide.

If you can work a vestibule into your plan it will pay big dividends in comfort. An entrance door opening directly into a living room can be cold and drafty and mean more housework.

Ample closet space goes far in keeping home life happy. The most common criticism of a house is lack of closet space. Clothes closets can be shallow—just deep enough for free hanging of clothing on hangers along a rod. People argue about this, but many architects contend you will throw money away if you build clothes closets much deeper than 24 to 27 inches. Double bedrooms should have two closets.

To economize on plumbing, plan your bathroom next to the kitchen or directly above it.

Don't have a bathroom that opens into two bedrooms. It is better to have only one bathroom door opening from a hall.

Don't change your plan after work begins. The place to make changes is in the preliminary drawings. After a contract is signed there is no chance for competitive bids on changes. You pay what the builder asks for such "extras."

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are taken to lunch in a restaurant by another woman.

RIGHT WAY: Be a gracious guest, and accept the other's hospitality without arguing.

WRONG WAY: When it is time to leave the table say, "Let me leave the tip," or argue that you wish to pay for your own check.

Improper Use Of Thermostat Is Real Fuel Waster

As much as 10 per cent of the home heating fuel is wasted by setting thermostat at 78 degrees instead of 68 and by placing thermostats on cold outside walls or where they are affected by drafts, says the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Constant starting and stopping of the burner wastes fuel. This happens when the thermostat is improperly located, the HEPA points out in its latest bulletin, which also states that "the most effective means for saving fuel is proper insulation. Heating engineers find that three to four inches of mineral wool is the most effective insulation with resulting fuel savings amounting to 35 per cent."

Split Ballots Legal, Party Official Says

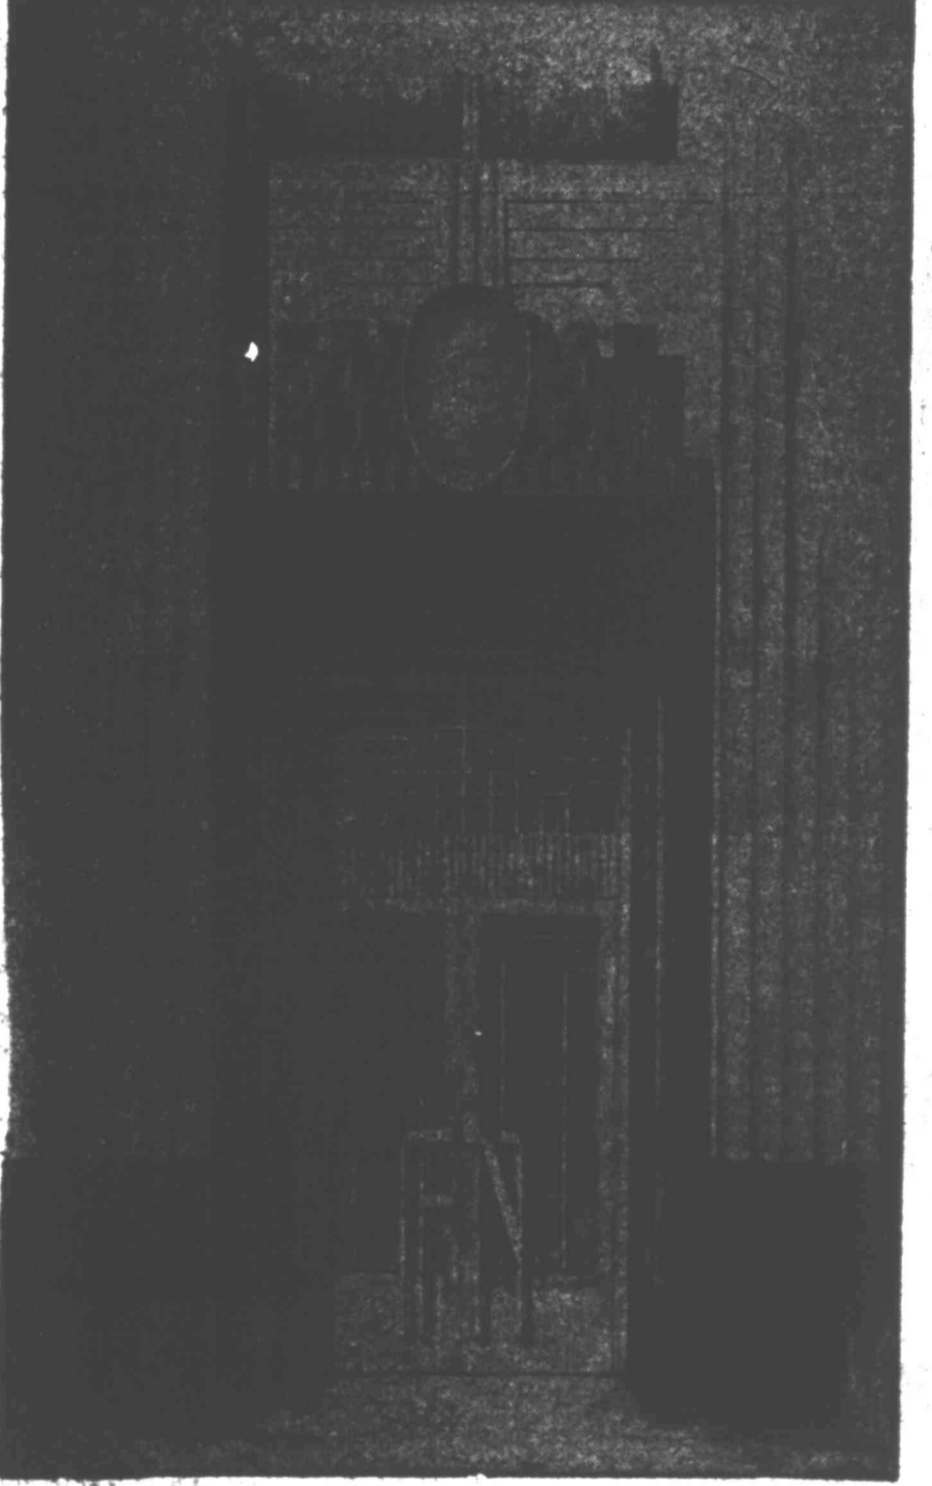

HOUSTON—Every voter in Texas is free to go to the polls Tuesday and vote for any candidate he wishes for president of the United States, Robert W. Milner, Jr., Texas State Rights campaign director, said Saturday.

"Rumors have been spread," Milner said, "that split ballots will not be legal and therefore will not be counted. This is absolutely false." Milner pointed out that those who had participated in the Democratic primary had only taken a pledge to support "the nominees of this primary." The Democratic primaries in Texas have nothing to do with the nomination of president and vice president, he said.

By WESLEY DAVIS Daddy Ringtail was walking through the forest one day, when suddenly he saw a chinkapin tree.

Daddy Ringtail stooped down to pick up a chinkapin that had fallen to the ground.

The squirrel was indeed very busy, working as hard as he could to pick up the chinkapins and to carry them up the tree to his home.

"Thank you Mr. Squirrel," Daddy Ringtail said, and picked up a chinkapin and started to eat it.

Three Of Eight Amendments Concern State Tax Matters

By MAC ROY RASOR
(Last of a Series)

AUSTIN.—(P)—Want to tell the state how the taxes you pay should be spent?

Voters November 2 will have one such opportunity when they ballot in the general election on a proposed constitutional amendment that would harness a portion of their taxes exclusively for rural roads and flood control.

Two other of the eight amendments being submitted at the election deal with tax matters. One would preserve the $3,000 homestead tax exemption should the amendment just mentioned be adopted. The other would permit a husband and wife to divide their property between them.

Probably none of the proposed constitutional changes presents more matters for consideration than the tax-harnessing amendment.

It would transfer to the counties after January 1, 1951, the right to levy the 30 cents per $100 valuation property tax now levied by the state for general fund purposes. The state would be required to abandon the levy, retaining property taxes only for Confederate pensions, college buildings and school funds.

The counties would not be forced to levy any or all of the tax. If levied, however, it could be used for nothing but rural roads and flood control.

The state did not levy the tax in 1946, and 1948, lush financial years which permitted a tax holiday under the present structure.

Opponents of the change argue: 1. Road-minded counties might never provide the tax relief now possible under the state set-up.

2. The state would have to find a new revenue source to replace the one it relinquishes. (They hint at a sales tax.)

Friends of the change contend that:

1. It permits counties to help themselves in their long-pending rural road and flood control needs. 2. All counties would be brought on par with those counties which already have been granted full return of the levy by the legislature because of some county "hardship," such as a flood or storm disaster.

Remission Counties
In those remission counties, the state automatic tax board would continue to levy the state tax beyond 1951 and return it to the county until expiration of the remission period specified by the legislature.

The amendment is seventh on the ballot, listed as H. J. R. No. 24. The fifth amendment on the ballot, H. J. R. No. 35, is a corrective to H. J. R. No. 24. It assures the continuation of the present $3,000 tax exemption for homesteads should voters adopt the amendment changing the general fund property tax.

Inheritance Tax
The proposed amendment dealing with inheritance taxation grew out of a federal law interpretation that an estate could be taxed in whole at the death of either the husband or wife and again at the death of the second partner, amounting to "double taxation."

The amendment would make it constitutional in Texas for a husband and wife separately to hold property, both real and personal, provided they declare partition of their joint property in their lifetime.

The amendment is third on the ballot, listed as H. J. R. No. 13.

Phone Book Revives Memory

For two days, Philadelphia social worker Margaret Kane read 70,000 names from the telephone directory to an amnesia victim found wandering in the park. After 658 pages, more than halfway through the book, she read one that caused him to leap off his hospital bed and remember that he was James McMenamin. Philosophical about it, she says, "After all, his name might have been Zywal."

P-TA Works For Student Betterment

We, the students of Midland High School, would like to express our appreciation to the P-TA for the sale and lucrative Halloween carnival Saturday night. We realize that only by hard work and effort was this accomplished. Sometimes, however, we forget about the P-TA and the work it is doing. Our parents and teachers are striving for the betterment of our school and its students and in doing so much, earnest effort is required. This year the P-TA is working toward two projects. First, they are supporting our Youth Center. Little needs to be said about the benefit and pleasure which the Youth Center offers and the enthusiasm of the students for the Youth Center. Second Project. The second project for the year is to be the purchase of a public address system for the school. This system would be of unspeakable benefit to the students. These projects are ones that cannot be accomplished over night but our parents and teachers have consecrated much effort for our benefit. Sometimes, we, the students, think of our P-TA as an association of our parents and we do not include our teachers. But our teachers also put forth much labor for us and we especially thank them, too.

FFA Notes-

Two lucky Midland FFA chapter boys will attend the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Kan. Being chosen as a delegate to the convention is a coveted honor among the members. The Southern Agriculturist magazine is sponsoring a contest by sending one Midland Chapter member to the convention. This is a state contest and can be entered by any chapter in Texas. The members at their meeting discussed giving a box supper with the home economics girls. The majority agreed. A date has not been set. Marion Treadway gave a report on the Catolico elections. Fourth and fifth period agricultural classes went to a dairy sale at Conner's dairy farm Wednesday afternoon.

Seven New Faces Seen In MHS Halls

By NAN PENDLETON
In the last few weeks-MHS has gained some new students for its freshman and sophomore classes. The freshman class is larger by two and the sophomores now number five more. Wayne Reems and Betty Stringfellow are now in their first year of high school. Wayne comes from Ballinger, Texas. He's in Mrs. Pen's homeroom and he's taking science, English and Algebra, history and PE. He belongs to the Science Club. And if you live near 925 N. Dallas you might drop over to see Wayne. Betty Stringfellow is from Little Rock, Ark. She has been attending Jacksonville High there but now she is in Mr. Aiken's homeroom. She hasn't joined any clubs yet but if anyone needs a good worker, he might look Betty up. The new Sophomores are Barbara Acker, Carolyn Cook, Jimmie Drury, Glenn Jones and Gwendolyn Roberts.

More Newcomers
Barbara moved here from Phoenix, Arizona. She's in Miss MacAdams' homeroom. She belongs to the Homemaking Club and she's taking bookkeeping, biology, foods, English and PE. She lives on the Cloverdale highway. Carolyn Cook came from Austin where she attended Austin High. She's a member of Miss Klapproth's homeroom. She belongs to the Spanish Club and her favorite subject is biology. She lives at 510 W. Louisiana. Jimmie Drury is an old Midlander. She attended MHS last year, but moved to Ozona. She's back now, and we're very glad to have her. Glenn Jones came to Midland from Rising Star and he belongs to Miss Klapproth's homeroom. Gwendolyn Roberts is also a new sophomore. She belongs to Miss Phillipus' homeroom. We want to welcome these new students and we hope that they will like Midland and MHS.

Stadium Dedication Assembly Subject

Assembly was held Tuesday morning in the high school auditorium with Bob Short acting as master of ceremonies. The flags were presented and Miss Elizabeth Cope lead the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner." The first speaker introduced was Charles F. Matthews, principal of Midland High School. Tanner Laine, sports editor of the Reporter-Telegram, and Jack Jones, president of the Midland Booster Club, spoke. Larry Messersmith and Bill Little, co-captains of the football team, spoke in behalf of the team. This was followed by some yells led by the cheer leaders, Janis Slough, Bob Short, Royce Rae McKee, Artie Leftwich and La Verne Estes. Each of these speeches was on the dedication of the new football field, Memorial Stadium, which was held Friday night. Closing the program the group sang the school alma mater and then was dismissed to third period classes.

Guess Who?

If you have noticed two big, handsome football players roaming the halls lately, you can guess the subjects of this Who's Who. They are Bill Little and Larry Messersmith, co-captains of our MHS Bulldogs. They were elected captains last year to serve the '48 football team. Larry Messersmith was born in Farman, Nebraska, on August 31, 1930. That makes him just about 18. He moved to Midland in 1948 when he was a sophomore. He began playing football for us right as he had played in Farman his freshman year. This will make his fourth year to have played. Larry is five feet, 11 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds. He has brown eyes and had black hair until an experiment with peroxide was executed. He claims his ideal girl "has to be good looking, fairly tall and blond." After graduation Larry's plans are uncertain. But he wants to be a coach. Bill Little is the vice president of the senior class and plays fullback on the A team. He is five feet 10 inches tall and weighs 175 pounds. This year he is taking five solids including English, biology, geometry, foods and American history. Bill was born in Chicago, Illinois, on August 26, 1930. He has attended school in Midland almost all his school life, as he moved to Midland when he was in the fourth grade. He has played football four years, including this year. Bill is a three-year letterman. Texas Tech seems to be his choice for future schooling and he plans to try for the football team there. He has high hopes of some day being an artist. As for an ideal girl, Bill gave the following measurements: 5' 3", 100 pounds, brown hair and brown eyes.

Girls Choral Club Presents Programs

The Girls Choral Club under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Cope gave an entertaining program for the P-TA members Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. They sang "A Tiny Seed Became a Shrine," "Dreaming" and "Woman in the Shoe." November 9 marks the date they will sing in assembly and December 7 they will entertain the Business and Professional Womens Club. The Choral Club members are: Ann Boring, Virginia Breedlove, Jeanie Bunt, Wanda Burnside, Betty Campbell, Diane Daugherty, Rita Dunlap, Vi Jean Fuglar, Wilma Gidley, Pease, Greathouse, Shirley Harrison, Christa Heidleberg, Mary Jo Hejl, Doris Hightower, Joyce Howell, Joyce Jones, Densil Ann Kemp, Sue King, Ruth Lester, Betty Jean O'Neal, Shirley Pulliam, Juanita Rice, Marian Richardson, Jacqueline Stafton, Bet Suddert, Virginia Webb and Mary Helen Whitmire.

Editor's Notes

Catolico sales still haven't been going nearly so fast as they should be, according to the staff. All Catolico sales must be completed by November 5 at 5 p.m. All class pictures and faculty pictures have been made and snapshots are being made all the time. The staff is trying to finish composing the Catolico quickly this year so that the students may get their annuals before school is out. This is not possible if the students do not cooperate by subscribing for their yearbooks within the next few days. And remember, the sooner you buy your Catolico, the sooner you know who gets Catolico Queen. Mr. Monroe has been asked to participate on the program of American Association of School Admin-restriction on March 1, in St. Louis, Missouri. Tentative plans have been made to acquire moolah for the high school journalism class. Present inadequate funds prevent the class from running as many photographs as an interesting paper requires. The present policy is to have each celebrity furnish the money for his individual photograph. This hurts us more than it does us, but out of the goodness of our hearts we are trying to raise funds instead of asking the money from the honored person. So, we ask your support at the door if our plans go through. P. S. Bob Short will be chairman. The Journalism Class was pleased to have visit them Wednesday Mrs. H. C. Rowland, former instructor of the class.

Exes' Column

Dicky Jackson attended the game at Abilene last Friday. Dicky is attending SMU this year. After the game he came home to spend the weekend. Dorothy Faye Holt, Patsy Lou Arrington and Elizabeth Ann Cowden were home from Texas University last weekend. Fred Duff was at the Abilene Midland game last Friday night. Spaw is home this weekend and also attended the game in Abilene last weekend. Patsy Collins and Sarah Hunter were home last weekend. Patsy and Sarah are attending TCU. They are roommates there. On the way home they stopped in Abilene for the game. Dicky Jackson is in Austin this weekend attending the Texas University-Southern Methodist University game. Wonder who he'll be yelling for? Berneal Pemberton was home last weekend from Texas University. Gordon Mashburn was home last weekend. Gordon is a freshman in Tarleton this year. Eddie Clarke, Patsy and Turia Bates, Joe Anderson, and Billy Charles Velvin were home from Tech last weekend. Buddy Anguish was home from Texas University last weekend.

Barrymore To Walk

Screen Star Lionel Barrymore, right, who has been confined to a wheel chair the last 10 years, will be walking again in the next few months, even without crutches, if he reduces another 20 pounds. Director of Barrymore's current film, Henry Hathaway, left, assists him to his feet for his first film in 10 years minus his wheel chair.

Dan Dickenson, Chic Krouse Take Major Leads In Junior Play, 'Remember The Day'

Dan Dickenson, junior, is Dewey Roberts in the junior play, "Remember The Day." Dewey is a school-boy who is in love with his teacher, Miss Trendell. The play is set in 1916 and will be presented in the High School Auditorium November 4 and 5. This is Dan's first acting experience.

Dan has blond hair, hazel eyes and stands five feet, seven inches tall. He made his entry into the world in Hillsboro, Texas, September 1, 1932. Until the time he moved to Midland when he was eight he lived in Tyler, Texas, Texas, Amarillo, N. M., and Penwell, Texas.

He lists as his pet peeve people who don't laugh at his funny (?) jokes. Blue rates as his favorite color and steak as his favorite food. This year, he is assistant editor of the Catoico, junior representative on the student council and vice president of his class. His subjects include geometry, typing, civics, English and P. E.

He is treasurer of the Model Airplane Club and a member of the Science club.

That cute junior with brown hair and blue eyes, five feet four inches tall is Norma Jean Krouse, better known as Chic. Chic is Miss Norma Trendell in the junior play "Remember The Day." Miss Trendell is the teacher that Dewey Roberts falls in love with. This is Chic's first experience in acting and she says she likes it.

Chic lists as her pet peeve cold weather and steak is the food of her choice. She moved to Midland this summer from St. Joseph, Michigan. She is 18 and was born on December 7, 1921. She is vice president of her home-room. Her subjects are civics, English, a capella, biology and typing, which rates as her favorite.

Behind The Scenes In The Midland High School Library

By MARY FAYE INGHAM and NAN FENDLETON
At the west end of the second floor hall of MHS is one of the school's most valuable departments, the library. Miss Louise Boyd is the librarian. She is a graduate of Texas State College for Women. While there, she majored in Spanish and minored in English and library science. Since that time she has taught in five schools before coming to Midland—Electra, Texas; Suda, Texas; Hot Springs, N. M.; and Lehigh, Iowa.

The large, light room houses over 4,000 volumes of all kinds and types of literature. These are classified under the Dewey Decimal System. Here is the Dewey System briefly.

000-099 includes encyclopedias, newspapers and magazines.
100-199 includes philosophy.
200-299 includes religion.
300-399 includes sociology.
400-499 includes language.
500-599 includes science, including mathematics, botany, zoology and others.
600-699 includes useful arts such as medicine and home economics.
700-799 includes fine arts; architecture, music and drama.
800-899 includes literature; Dickens, Thackeray.
900-999 includes history and travel.

Novels are listed separately under their authors, surnames and biographies are listed according to the surnames of the people about whom they were written.

References
The library has an extensive reference shelf. There are four sets of encyclopedias and numerous other reference books. The latest addition to this section is a four volume set called "Ten Eventful Years," put out by the Encyclopedia Britannica. All reference books except encyclopedias must be used in the library.

Any student of Midland High must use the library, unless he has an unpaid fine. As a matter of fact, students themselves do a great part of the library work. There are 10 student librarians. They are Janis Slough, Eddie Darby, Denzil Kemp, Francis Treadaway, Lawanna Huckabay, Marie Olliff, Dot Roderick, Marion Richardson, Margie Carter and Howard Ischar. These students were chosen for their reliability and upon their recommendation. They are required to maintain a C average or above. Some student librarians become interested in library work when they are freshmen. During their first year (the freshman), 12 lessons in the use and running of the library are required.

Magazines
The library maintains an extensive current magazine section. Study hall students may check out these magazines when the period is half over and return them when the bell rings. There are 11 monthly and weekly subscriptions delivered to the library plus four newspapers. Nearly every department of the school has a special subscription. There are farm journals, music and drama magazines, industrial journals and news magazines. For the first time in recent years, back issues of magazines are on file for reference. There is also a reader's guide to tabulate recent magazine references.

An attempt is made to keep the books in the library and to supply new ones. Last week 75 books were returned from being rebound and 212 new books of every kind are now being classified and will be placed on the shelves soon.

The library is a deservedly popular place. Nearly every student of MHS has used it and every afternoon there is a long line of people waiting to check out books. The library renders an invaluable service to the school and students by gathering in one place reading matter for learning and for pleasure. It is efficient and up to date. The Bulldog staff feels that every MHS student should be familiar with the library and how it works.

Clublicity

By PEGGY LOU WHITSON
The DE Club had a party at the Air Terminal last Thursday. Included in the entertainment were dominoes, cards, record-playing and dancing. Cold drinks and cookies were served as the refreshments. The group discussed having a hayride on November 10.

Wednesday, in the Typing Club, the program committee met while the remainder of the club typed. The members decided their future name would be the Business Keys Club.

After the meeting of the Science Club had been called to order by its president, Bob Short, the group witnessed two films. The movies were "Sponge Fishing" and "Jewels of the Sea."

Spanish Club, group number one, held its club meeting on Wednesday. During the meeting the game Halo was played. This Spanish game is similar to our bingo in the United States. Members passed a rule that anyone speaking English during this club period would be fined one cent each time they talked. George Glass has been fined three cents and Shirley Harrison two cents. They just can't seem to keep from talking (in English, that is!).

The Camera Club finished electing its officers in club meeting Wednesday. The officers include Goss Yeager, president; Billy Secor, vice president; Joan Wyche, secretary; Jack Lynch, treasurer, and Ronny Estel, reporter.

The members of the Latin Club decided during their club period to have a meeting once a month because of the club period conflict. Their new name is to be the Junior Classical League.

Calendar
Monday—Football boys, Drill Squad and band meet during home room period.
Tuesday—Assembly. The Junior play cast will be presented.
Wednesday—Clubs will meet.
Thursday—Clubs will meet.
Friday—Home rooms will meet.

Fun Or Vandalism?

Just what does Hallowe'en mean to you? To many of us, it means a time to dress in funny clothes, wear fake faces and pull pranks on people and, in general, a time to have fun. To have fun, yes, but not to willfully injure or destroy someone's property. This is an act which we call vandalism, the willful destruction of someone's property, whatever that property may be, windows, cat tires, etc.

This is not what we call fun, is it? Let's turn the picture around. Suppose it were a glass window in your home or in your school building that was broken or a tire on your car or bicycle that was ruined. Then it might be a different story.

In this country we have a thing we call freedom. We can do as we please, when we please so long as we do not interfere with anyone else, their rights or their property. But when we do injure them, we are no longer obeying our laws and our great constitution. And when we pull pranks on Hallowe'en we sometimes forget about the rights of ours. We take advantage of it and sometimes pull a little too far, as when a glass window is broken, "just a little fun."

But is this what we call fun, the destruction of someone's property? By all means, No. We can have fun without the destruction of property. We can pull pranks on people without doing harm to them and we can have plenty of fun, too.

So let's think about this as we begin our Hallowe'en pranks and fun. Have fun and lots of it but don't let your fun be destructive.

Students Debate World Government And Severance Tax

"Resolved: That the United Nations now be revised into a Federal world government" and "Resolved: That the state of Texas should increase the severance tax on its natural resources" are the subjects which the students in Speech 31 are debating this year. Several practice debates have been made and many others will follow.

The students in this speech class plan to enter several tournaments. One of these will be at Abilene Christian College in Abilene and one will be at Baylor University at Waco.

This class not only contains debaters but extemporaneous speakers as well. These students also plan to enter the tournaments. At the Interscholastic League meet the subject for debate will be the question on severance tax, and at the Forensic League meets world government will be debated.

Many members of the National Forensic League are found in Speech 31. The National Forensic League is a national society for debaters, declaimers and extemporaneous speakers who have earned 20 points in their particular type of speech work. Those members are Virginia Breedlove, Shirley Bunt, Harry Loskamp, Jim McGraw and Maggie Lee Murphy. The other members of the club not in this class are Donald Kirk, Ken Nichols, Bob Short and Peggy Lou Whitson.

Members of the class other than those in the National Forensic League are Ann Boring, Duane Fritz, Mary Lynn Manning and Charles Wheat.

Novels are listed separately under their authors, surnames and biographies are listed according to the surnames of the people about whom they were written.

References
The library has an extensive reference shelf. There are four sets of encyclopedias and numerous other reference books. The latest addition to this section is a four volume set called "Ten Eventful Years," put out by the Encyclopedia Britannica. All reference books except encyclopedias must be used in the library.

Any student of Midland High must use the library, unless he has an unpaid fine. As a matter of fact, students themselves do a great part of the library work. There are 10 student librarians. They are Janis Slough, Eddie Darby, Denzil Kemp, Francis Treadaway, Lawanna Huckabay, Marie Olliff, Dot Roderick, Marion Richardson, Margie Carter and Howard Ischar. These students were chosen for their reliability and upon their recommendation. They are required to maintain a C average or above. Some student librarians become interested in library work when they are freshmen. During their first year (the freshman), 12 lessons in the use and running of the library are required.

Magazines
The library maintains an extensive current magazine section. Study hall students may check out these magazines when the period is half over and return them when the bell rings. There are 11 monthly and weekly subscriptions delivered to the library plus four newspapers. Nearly every department of the school has a special subscription. There are farm journals, music and drama magazines, industrial journals and news magazines. For the first time in recent years, back issues of magazines are on file for reference. There is also a reader's guide to tabulate recent magazine references.

An attempt is made to keep the books in the library and to supply new ones. Last week 75 books were returned from being rebound and 212 new books of every kind are now being classified and will be placed on the shelves soon.

The library is a deservedly popular place. Nearly every student of MHS has used it and every afternoon there is a long line of people waiting to check out books. The library renders an invaluable service to the school and students by gathering in one place reading matter for learning and for pleasure. It is efficient and up to date. The Bulldog staff feels that every MHS student should be familiar with the library and how it works.

Solid South Is Important in Politics

By ROBERT E. GRIGER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — What is the "solid South" and why is it important in politics?

As pointed out here, the "solid South" includes 11 southern states with 127 electoral votes. This is almost one-half of the 268 electoral votes a presidential candidate needs to win. If border states are added, the electoral votes exceed one-half of the necessary total.

These are the Solid-South states, with their electoral votes: Alabama 11, Georgia 12, Florida 9, Mississippi 9, Louisiana 10, North Carolina 13, South Carolina 9, Virginia 11, Tennessee 12, Texas 24, Arkansas 9. These states are traditionally Democratic.

The "border states, where presidential results are almost always close the way or another, are: Maryland 8, West Virginia 6, Kentucky 11, Tennessee 12, Missouri 15, Oklahoma 10 and (sometimes) New Mexico 4.

Since 1890 the South has sent usually solid Democratic delegations to Congress. And in presidential campaigns the South has voted Democratic almost without exception. This means a Democratic candidate for president usually starts off assured of this big bloc of Southern electoral votes.

Walked Out
In the present campaign half of the Alabama and all of the Mississippi delegates walked out of the Democratic national convention. They pulled out because they disliked the civil rights platform the convention adopted. But they couldn't just join up with the Republicans because the GOP also had adopted a civil rights platform.

So a group of Southern Democrats decided to start their own State's Rights Democratic organization. They held a meeting, attended by people from all the Southern states and nominated Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina for President and Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi for vice president. Thurmond has conducted an active campaign. He has accused "the greedy bosses of the three political parties" of using the civil rights program "to make a cheap bid for the votes of a minority faction." The three parties to which he referred are the Democrats, the Republicans and Henry Wallace's Progressive Party.

One hope held by some Southerners is that even if Thurmond is not elected president he might capture enough votes so no other candidate would get a majority. In such a case, Congress would elect a president and vice president from among the candidates, and the States' Rights people voice some hope their men might win.

Other possibilities are, of course, that Southern voters will remain true to tradition and vote for President Truman, or some may overcome their prejudice against the Republicans and vote for Dewey. Whatever states vote for Thurmond will reduce the number of electoral votes the Democratic candidate (Truman) normally could count upon as being in the Democratic bag. In 1928, Texas, North Carolina, Florida, Virginia and Tennessee voted for the Republican, Herbert Hoover, opposing Al Smith, a Catholic and a wet.

States' Rights party claims it is "grass roots" movement—supported by the voters as well as the politicians. It would make such a movement to lose the Solid South definitely out of the Democratic basket.

The Hungarian partridge is native to Central Europe. It was imported to this country about 50 years ago, and is an ideal game bird because it is able to withstand droughts and severe winters.
