

Stanotex To Test Oil Stain In Scurry Lime

Indications of the discovery of a new oil producing area from a lower Pennsylvanian lime, in Northwest Scurry County, have been encountered at Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Brown. This venture located nine miles northwest of the town of Snyder, topped a lime section at 6,260 feet. It cut a core at $.266-72 feet. Recovery was three feet of lime with a good oil stain and oil fluoresence.

The lime was porous. Operator is in the hole taking a drillstem test. This prospector has developed some free oil, and evidences of possible production from a sand above the current level of operations. The project is located 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC

Lario Indicates New Oil Field In Andrews

Lario Oil & Gas Company No. 1-B Hayden Miles, four miles west of the town of Andrews, appears to have found a new oil field from the lower Glorieta section of the Permian, in Central Andrews County. This exploration, located 1,320 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block A-46, psl survey, is a short distance from production from the San Andres-Permian in the Deeprock field. It was barren in the Deeprock pay section, and is drilling ahead to a possible bottom of 7,500 feet to explore into the lower Permian.

A drillstem test for one hour at 5,645-85 feet, recovered 3,200 feet of salty, sulphur water, with no shows

Recovered Clean Oil The project drilled on down and took another one-hour test at 5,720-70 feet. There was a good blow of Recovery was 600 feet of oil, with the bottom 100 feet of that fluid being heavily cut with drilling mud. The drill pipe unloaded some of the oil while being pulled.

In a one-hour drillstem test at 5,773-5,810 feet, there was a slight blow of air for a part of the period. Recovery was 225 feet of heavily oil sut mud, with some free oil being included in the drill pipe.

The venture is drilling ahead, and was prepared.

Informed sources say that the development has logged between 50 feet and 75 feet of good pay in the they think that a good oil well, and a discovery can be completed from that interval-even if no more pro-

Congress Control

Democrats came up to the voting showdown on control of Congress Tuesday with their traditional head start of unopposed candidates in the South.

But Republicans, accustomed to battling this lead every two years, claimed they will retain their present leadership in both House and Senate when the 81st Congress meets January 3.

The early Democratic lead-even before any ballots were countedis normal because of the party's control in the South. In Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi three incumbent senators had no opponents. A fourth, Senator John L. McClellan (Ark), had only minor party opposition. Similarly in the House, 53 Democratic congressmen were unopposed. So were five Republicans. Nine other Republicans won the nominations of both major parties, as did seven Democrats. They coasted to victory.

Democrats Hopeful Most Democrats claimed a better than even chance to recapture Senate control, and a few even hoped to do the same in the House But GOP bigwigs say they are certain of increasing their House majority and of retaining at least a bare majority of 49 seats in the

The Trotskyites are the leaderless remnants of a group that backed the wrong man in a top-level split during the early days of Russian communism. When Stalin succeeded Lenin, Trotsky escaped with his skin intact. He kept it intact, by being careful and moving frequently, until some of the boys caught up with him in Mexico a few years ago and perforated it with bullets.

So today the American Trotskyites are a small group of parlor Communists. The only time the general public Mark Political Campaign hears of them is during a presidential election year, when they sometimes put up a candidate.

Propose Changes In Rules On Amateurs

AUSTIN — (A) — Recommended changes in the Interscholastic League's rules—including clarifics tion of the amateur rule-are scheduled to go before the League Executive Committee here Wed-

The recommendations were adopted at a two-day session of the league's Advisory Council Monday and Tuesday.

Changes in the amateur rulestormed with criticism a year ago when it was applied to rodeo calf scrambles-were recommended on motion of Amarillo High School Principal R. B. Norman, chairman of the council's special Amateur Rule Committee. The council asked a vote of member schools on revisions that would: 1. More clearly define the terms "athletic sport or game" by adding to the list of sports already recognized by the Interscholastic League additional recognized professional sports in which Texas high school pupils are likely to participate.

2. Provide for announcement one year in advance that other sports which, in the judgment of the State Executive Committee, have become professional be added to the list of recognized professional sports.

3. Provide that participation in sports not included in announced categories shall not constitute a violation of the amateur rule. 4. Provide that a pupil who allows use of his name for the promotion of any item, plan or service shall be in violation of this rule. 5. Provide that the penalty for a violation of the amateur rule shall be for one year only from date of

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 2, 1948-0 Skaggs Heads Soil

Warren Skaggs of Midland was named chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District at its monthly meeting Monday night in Stanton. Joe Carter was elected vice chairman, and Frank Loveless, secretary. Members of the board are Skaggs Loveless, Carter, Edmund Tom and H. Thomas. Carter also is the district supervisor representing Zone Five. He succeeded Gordon Stone who had served since the district was organized in 1941.

Lewis Dawkins, field representa-tive for the state Soil Conservation Board, met with the supervisors to discuss the district program. He creased 750 barrels to 435,200 barreminded board members of their rels, the state's third consecutive responsibilities in administering the program in this area.
