Oil Flows
In Scurry
Wildcat

Standard Oil Company of Texas appears to have opened a new oil field from the Pennsylvanian lime, in Northwest Scurry County, nine miles northwest of the town of Snyder.

The company's No. 1 Jesse Brown, located 1,800 feet from north and 1,800 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TCo survey, flowed 30 barrels of 42.5 gravity oil in 90 minutes during a drillstem test of the Canyon lime zone of the Pennsylvanian at 8,261-72 feet.

The drill pipe unloaded some oil while it was being pulled, and the last four sands and a double of the drill pipe was filled with oil when they were pulled out and tracked.

Headed Out Some Oil
Some observers estimated that the well produced a total of approximately 90 barrels of oil during the one hour the tool was open. That included the fluid flowed out that which was unloaded and also that which was recovered on the final breakdown.

The tool was open a total of one hour and 50 minutes for the drillstem test. Gas showed at the surface in three minutes.

Oil started flowing out in 44 minutes. It was turned to tanks six minutes later, and in the 1 1/2 hour of the test produced the 30 barrels of oil through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 750 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 20 minutes was 1,400 pounds.

Operator has now cut a core from 6,272 feet to 6,287 feet, and at the time this report was prepared was coming out with that specimen.

It is expected that another test will be run shortly.

SE Ector Set For 13,800-Foot Test

A 13,800-foot wildcat to test in the Southeast Ector County Eilenburger has been staked by Standard Oil & Gas Company. Designation is the No. 2-D E. F. Cowden, 800 feet from north and 2,624 feet from west lines of section 40, block 43, T-2-5, TP survey.

That makes it one location northwest of Stanolind No. 1-D Cowden, producing from the Pennsylvanian in the Eilenburger. The city of Odessa is about five miles northeast of the derrick.

Starting November 6, a rotary outfit was to be moved in, and drilling operations were to commence.

Abell Locates Deep
Wildcat-In Crane

George T. Abell, of Midland, has spotted a venture in the Pecos River bed of Southwest Crane County as his No. 1 State. It is to be a 6,000-foot, rotary tool exploration into the lower Ordovician, possibly the Eilenburger.

The derrick is 185.14 feet east and 2,591.14 feet south of the extreme west corner of section 24, block 1, H&TCo survey, about four miles northeast of the town of Imperial.

Spudding procedure was scheduled to start immediately.

Central Pecos Gains
5,000-Foot Venture

A venture to 5,000 feet in Central Pecos County is slated by W. L. Goldstein as his No. 1 I. G. Prince, et al, 890 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 110, block 3, TP survey.

This rotary tool wildcat, located south of Fort Stockton about 12 miles, is to start immediately.

Gulf No. 1-E Bryant Is Making More Hole

In Central Midland County, 14 miles southeast of the county seat, Gulf Oil Corporation was drilling ahead deeper into the Eilenburger with its No. 1-E Bryant, 600 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 36, block 39, T-2-5, TP survey.

Last report had it below 13,751 feet, penetrating lime. Verified plans of the operator have not been revealed, but some observers expect the wildcat to continue until granite is reached.

By The Associated Press
The Democrats forged further ahead in the general election in Texas Wednesday when the Texas Election Bureau showed President Truman with a margin of more than 266,000 over Governor Dewey, with 669,461 votes counted.

The Election Bureau said this was in reports from 224 counties, 13 of them complete, and that indi-

BULLETIN
Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at noon Wednesday from 232 out of 254 counties, including 13 complete, show the following total in Tuesday's general election:

President — Truman 472,448; Dewey 180,912; Thurmond 64,411; Watson, 1,440; Wallace 2,329; Thomas 416.

Senate—Johnson 458,949; Porter 232,228; Morris 4,245.

Calculations were that the state would cast over a million votes when all returns were in.

In the Wednesday morning tabulation President Truman had 436,629 votes, Dewey 170,259 and Gov. Strom Thurmond, the States Rights candidate, 58,624. Henry Wallace and others in the race were far behind. Wallace showed only 2,315.

Lyndon Johnson led his Republican opponent, Jack Porter, by more than 200,000 votes in the U. S. senatorial race. Johnson had 424,247 and Porter 218,264.

Stocks Slump When
Dewey Loses; Cotton
And Grains Pick Up

NEW YORK—(AP)—Wall Street gasped at the upset election news Wednesday and leading stocks dropped as much as 4 1/2 a share in the first hour and a half of trading.

Blue chips stocks sold in large blocks as traders took second guessing on the Administration's surprising show of strength.

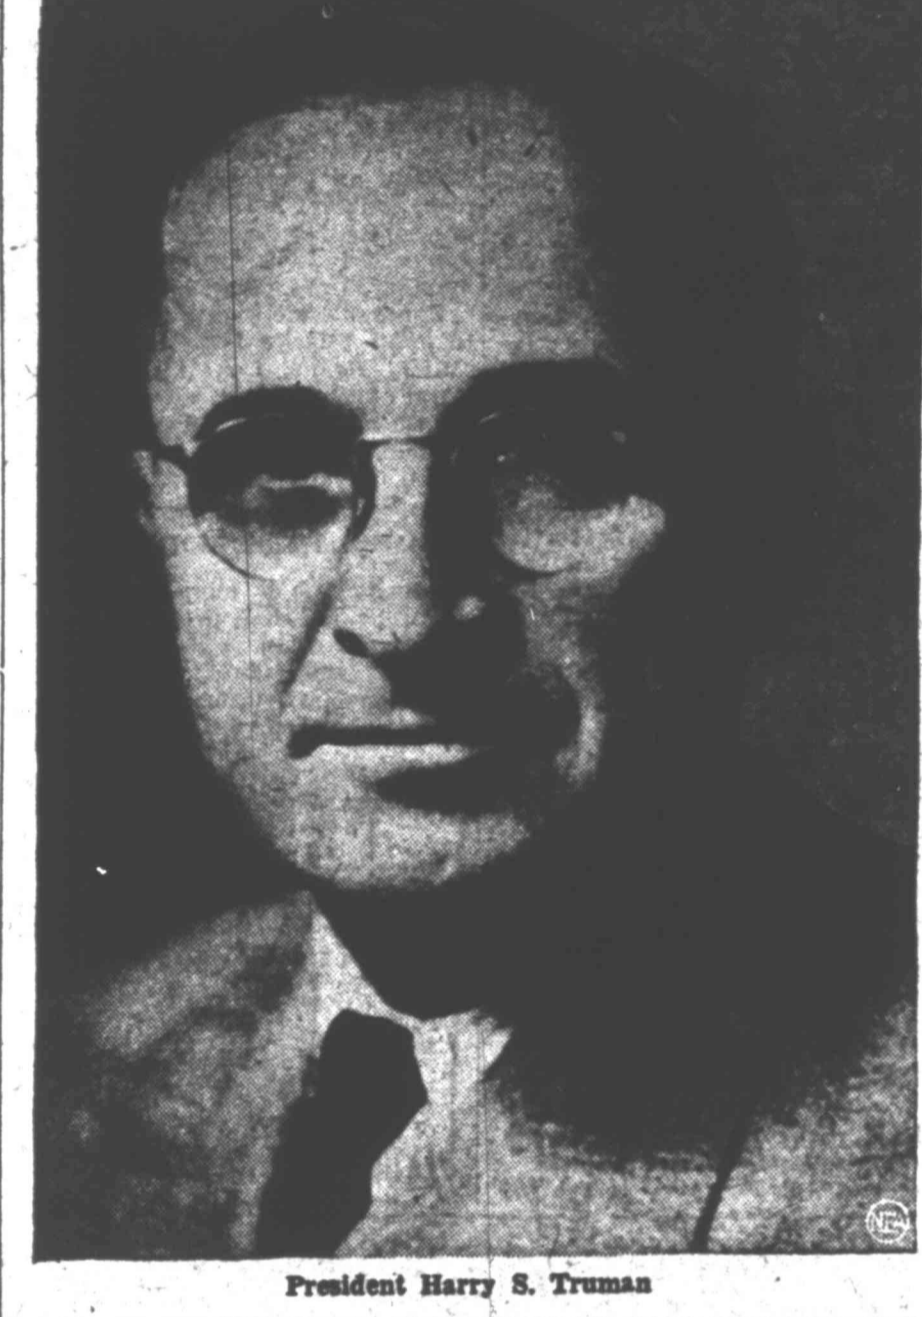

Down three to nearly five points on the New York Stock Exchange were such big-name industrials as U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Firestone, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Anaconda and some of the leading utilities.

The Chicago grain market reacted to the surprise election news by making fair-sized gains. Dealings on the Board of Trade were active.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was one to 1 1/2 cents higher, December $2.28 3/4; corn was 1-8-11-2 higher, December $1.38 5-8, and oats were 1-8-3-8 higher, December 78 1-4.

Cotton opened 50 cents to $2.55 a bale higher at New Orleans and New York.

Marshall Reported
Planning To Resign
Post January 20

PARIS—(AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall will resign next January 20 regardless of the outcome of the presidential election, an informed source in the American United Nations delegation said Wednesday.

The source said there had been many recent reports Marshall might resign.

Marshall, the source said, plans to retire to his farm.

There was no confirmation of this statement from Marshall, who earlier in the morning appeared at the U. S. delegation headquarters. He posed for photographers and listened to broadcasts of election returns with U. S. Delegate John Foster Dulles, foreign affairs adviser to Gov. Dewey, and delegate Warren R. Austin.

During the earlier meeting at U. S. headquarters, newsmen asked him for comment.

"On the elections?" Marshall asked with a smile.

Pressed by reporters, the secretary of state grinned and said only: "Gentlemen, I am an Episcopalian."

Tired Officials Continue Counting

Tired and sleepy election judges and clerks at Midland's seven and five voting precincts ceased their ballot counting about 3 a. m. Wednesday for a few hours rest before resuming their chores at 10 a. m. Slightly more than 50 per cent of the record vote had been counted when the workers resumed.

The counting was progressing at noon Wednesday, but the final tabulation likely will not be available before evening. The five voting places were swamped from the time the polls opened until they closed, with voters lined up awaiting their turn throughout the day.

GOP Suffers
Jolting Loss
In Big Upset

By The Associated Press
President Truman, in an astounding upset of pre-balloting predictions, Wednesday won the presidency. He will have a Democratic Senate and House to work with him.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent, conceded Truman's election at 10:15 a. m. CST.

At that time, Truman was leading in 28 states having 304 electoral votes. Needed to win are 266 electoral votes. Dewey was leading in 16 states with 189 electoral votes. Four states with 88 electoral votes had been captured, or were leaning to, States' Rights Candidate J. Strom Thurmond.

Midland
Favors
Porter

President Truman had a slight lead over Governor Dewey in Midland County balloting Wednesday as a new record in voting was established here. The total vote in the county was 4,901, as compared with 2,994 in the 1944 presidential election, and 721 in the general election in 1946. A total of 3,849 ballots was cast in the July, 1948, primary, and 2,051 in the second primary in August.

Jack Porter had a 186-vote lead over Lyndon Johnson in the senatorial contest, according to the incomplete and unofficial returns. The vote was Porter, 1,214 and Johnson 1,029. Sam Morris had 20 votes.

Approximately 1,700 votes remained to be counted when voting resumed their counting about 10 a. m. Wednesday after closing down at 3 a. m. for a few hours of rest. The final tabulations will not be available until late Wednesday.

Jester Landslide
The vote in the presidential contest was Truman, 1,138; Dewey 827, and Thurmond 246.

Governor Jester led his Republican opponent, Alvin Lane, 1,979 to 328 votes. Gerald Overholt received one and Herman Wright four.

Rep. Ken Rogan had 2,008 votes to four for J. B. Chavez of El Paso, Progressive Party candidate.

All other Democratic candidates had overwhelming leads in the remaining contests.

Democratic nominees for Midland County offices were unopposed. The total vote by precincts: No. 1—1,996; No. 2—63; No. 3—25; No. 4—84; No. 5—1,837.

Dewey
Concedes

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Wednesday conceded the presidential election to President Truman.

The Republican presidential nominee's press secretary, James Hickey, announced at 10:15 a. m. (CST) that Dewey had sent a telegram to Truman conceding the election.

The text of the telegram: "My heartfelt congratulations to you on your election and every good wish for a successful administration, and I urge all Americans to unite behind you in support of every effort to keep our nation strong and free and establish peace in the world."

Dewey's Family And Aides Stunned When Defeat Is Conceded

NEW YORK—(AP)—When Governor Dewey reached his decision to concede the election, his wife and 70-year-old mother, Mrs. George M. Dewey, were in the room.

Women members of Dewey's staff were in tears. Seiden had a man been more confident of success than Dewey was to Tuesday evening. When announcement of his defeat was relayed downstairs in the hotel, Miss Willie Schilling, 22, a stenographer on the governor's staff at Albany, broke into tears.

"It's awful," she wept. "It was my first vote."

Dewey kept a long vigil Tuesday night as the returns, which stunned his aides, moved into his suite. At 3:45 a. m. (CST) an aide told reporters "The governor is still confident he will win."

But there were no more flat claims of victory from the Dewey camp as morning came on. Fingers were crossed all over the place. The New York governor took up his watch immediately after returning to his hotel at 7:35 p. m. (CST) from a dinner at the Manhattan home of close friends.

Becoming partly cloudy Wednesday night and early Thursday. No important temperature changes. Maximum temperature Tuesday 73 degrees, minimum 47 degrees. Minimum Wednesday 53 degrees.

POPULAR VOTE

Associated Press returns at 12:30 p. m. (CST), Wednesday from 118,807 of the country's 138,838 voting units showed the popular vote:
Dewey	15,776,581
Truman	50,966,873
Wallace	953,674
Thurmond	756,718
Total	68,493,846

Nebraska, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Dewey was leading in these: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Vermont.

Thurmond was in front in four states having a total of 38 electoral votes. He won Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina, and was leading in Louisiana. In Tennessee, two electoral votes are in doubt between Truman and Thurmond.

Truman plans to return to Washington from Independence, Mo., Thursday, then go to Key West, Fla., Sunday.

Majority In Congress
Even before the President's victory was assured, the returns had clinched Democratic control of Congress, wresting it away from the Republicans who won it two years ago.

To this majority he can submit the legislative program over which he and the GOP-run 80th Congress quarreled—quarrels so much that Truman called Congress "idiot" and the "second worst" in history.

This program includes power to put on price controls, housing legislation, and the so-called "civil rights" measures which led many (Continued on page 9)

Treasure Hunt Will

Plans for a Treasure Hunt in connection with the official opening of Midland's Christmas Shopping Season were perfected at a meeting of a retail sub-committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon.

Delbert Downing, manager of the organization, presided at the meeting of the special group, appointed to investigate the proposal.

Scores of valuable prizes are planned for the event, merchants contributing the prizes. They will be displayed in store windows before the official window opening, November 30, the night of the Santa Claus parade. On the next day, the prizes will be claimed by lucky residents of the Permian Basin area.

Tickets Are Free
Tickets will be distributed free for two weeks by merchants to citizens of the area. No charge will be made for the tickets. Some of the prizes must be deposited by persons receiving them in boxes in Midland retail stores. The numbers of the prizes will be posted on them the night of November 30 and the following day, lucky citizens must call at the stores to receive their prizes.

The event will be advertised widely and invitations will be broadcast throughout the Permian Basin area for citizens to come to Midland for the shopping of store windows, with Christmas merchandise November 30 at 4 p. m., and the Santa Claus parade with its beautiful floats at 7 p. m.

To Clutter Or Not To Clutter? That's Hollywood's Question

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood's economy panic has reached the comic stage. A studio press agent was sitting behind his cluttered-up desk when an executive passed by. "Better clean up your desk," suggested the executive, "our efficiency expert might not like it."

So the press agent stuffed the loose papers and notes and clippings into a couple of drawers and left the top of the desk immaculate. For several days the press agent was careful not to leave any papers around. Then another studio executive passed by.

"Better clutter up your desk," said the executive. "Make it look like you're really busy. Our efficiency expert, you know."

The press agent started to explain, thought better of it and ever since has carefully kept one-half of the desk clean and the other cluttered.

One of the wonders of Hollywood is the way producers can alibi over poor box office. There isn't a day, week or month that holds no alibi. A brief calendar of such apologies:

Winter: When the weather's bad, people stay home.

Spring: Business always falls off during Lent.

Summer: The weather is hot, so everyone is out of town.

Fall: Too many kids go back to school and must be in bed early.

Mid-Fall: Tough competition from football games.

Pre-Christmas: Everybody is shopping.

Post-Christmas: Everybody is broke.

Post-New Year's: Natural let-down from the holidays.

Now it's Winter again, so you'd think it wouldn't ever be possible for a picture to succeed. The fact remains that people will brave the weather and dig up a spare sou IF the picture is good enough.

Scouts Mobilized For Election Day

One hundred and fifty Midland Boy Scouts were called out on a "mobilization" Tuesday afternoon, the purpose being to assist in "getting out the vote." The program was in line with the drive sponsored by the Midland League of Women Voters.

Scouts were assigned districts, canvassing the residential sections to remind citizens to vote and advising them of the free transportation-baby sitting service offered by the League of Women Voters.

Ralph Smith, chairman of the Midland Boy Scout District said Wednesday a mobilization plan for each Scout unit has been developed to get the Scouts out in quick order in case of an emergency. In the plan, each person involved is to contact a minimum number of other persons to advise them of the mobilization.

The call for Tuesday's mobilization was sounded at 2 p. m., and every unit was assembled and on the job within 15 minutes, Smith said.

Another mobilization is planned within the next 60 days as a practice session on what should be done in case of an emergency or disaster. Each unit will be assigned a special type of work such as setting up a temporary first aid station, assisting with traffic problems, organizing messenger service, establishing communication service, organizing canteen service for rescue workers.

Scouts were assigned districts, canvassing the residential sections to remind citizens to vote and advising them of the free transportation-baby sitting service offered by the League of Women Voters.

Ralph Smith, chairman of the Midland Boy Scout District said Wednesday a mobilization plan for each Scout unit has been developed to get the Scouts out in quick order in case of an emergency. In the plan, each person involved is to contact a minimum number of other persons to advise them of the mobilization.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 3, 1948-3

Program Of Chopin-Schumann Music Is Presented By Club

Music by two romanticists, Chopin and Schumann, was presented for an audience of approximately 60 in the First Christian Church Tuesday night by the Civic Music Club.

The program was presented by Mrs. Edith Conyers, club president, and Mrs. B. W. Stephens, a district representative of the club to the Ninth District Music Federation meeting in Pecos this weekend. Mrs. Hermann Williams, club president, and Mrs. B. W. Stephens, a district officer, plan to go to the meeting.

Rehearsal announced.

New members introduced were Miss Elizabeth Cope, Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore, Mrs. Wilson Burton, Mrs. Joe Ross and Mrs. L. S. Melzer.

"Announcement was made that the first citywide rehearsal for 'The Messiah,' oratorio to be presented during the Christmas season under sponsorship of the Civic Music Club, will be held in the First Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. All individuals and choral groups who wish to join in singing this music are invited to be present.

Mrs. Gibson sketched the careers of the composers represented on the program and also read a paper prepared by Mrs. Stephens in observance of Federation Day, before she introduced the musicians.

Pianist Opens Program

Mrs. Joe B. Koenig, pianist, opened the program with Chopin's "Scherozo in B Flat Minor," and Miss Conyers sang "Madchen Wunch," a Chopin song based on a Polish folk song with a title which is translated as "Maiden's Wish." Mrs. Howard Orr was her accompanist.

The first Schumann number heard was "The Prophet Bird," played by Mrs. Benton Howell, violinist, in Heifetz arrangement. Mrs. Eugene Vanderpool played the piano accompaniment.

Duke Jimerson, a guest, sang Malotte's "Song of the Open Road," accompanied by Mrs. Frank Miller. The program closed with Schumann's "Quintet for Piano and Strings" by Mrs. Vanderpool, pianist; Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Turner Wynn, violins; Mrs. E. S. Hitchcock, viola; Mrs. Charles F. Henderson, cello; and Mrs. Sam Geffen, double bass.

Lutheran Women Are Entertaining Meeting Of Zone 4

Women of the Parish Workers of the Grace Lutheran Church here are hostess Wednesday for a meeting of visitors from over Zone 4, which includes 11 churches. The program is being conducted in the church, and luncheon was served at the Ranch House.

After an hour set aside for registration and informal welcome to the visitors, the program began at 11 a. m. with a devotional talk by the Rev. G. C. Kollmeyer of Odessa.

Mrs. H. C. Bosarth gave the formal welcome address, and Mrs. John Foster of Big Spring responded.

For the morning business session, Mrs. Albert Hohertz of Big Spring, zone president, was in charge. Mrs. Charles Francis of Odessa is zone secretary.

After the luncheon, the Rev. L. Tabor outlined "Missionary Objectives of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League," then reports were heard from various societies. A closing devotional period was scheduled to be followed by a social period with the hostess group serving cake and coffee on the church lawn.

Included in the zone are churches of San Angelo, Cisco, Abilene, Brownwood, Lenard, Brady, Eola, Spangenberg, Big Spring and Odessa.

Mrs. Guy Meisner is president of the Parish Workers here. With Mrs. A. C. Teinert, Mrs. A. R. Baumann and Mrs. C. J. Lowe she served on the registration committee to greet visitors. Mrs. W. A. Baumann and Mrs. H. B. Schauer made up the committee on refreshments, and Mrs. P. M. Haase with Mrs. Arnold Kreigel were listed on the program committee. The Rev. G. Becker, pastor, and Mrs. Becker assisted in preparations for the meeting.

Officers Elected In Busy Wives Club For Coming Year

Busy Wives Home Demonstration Club elected officers for 1949 Tuesday afternoon, naming Mrs. J. T. Harris president to take office in January. The election was at a meeting in Mrs. J. C. Bradley's home.

Mrs. Bradley was chosen as vice president, Mrs. Roy Lands, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Fred True-love reporter. Mrs. E. D. Ward and Mrs. M. C. Wise were named to serve as club delegates to the County Home Demonstration Council.

A demonstration on Christmas baking was given by Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent, who showed a cookie Christmas tree designed for a holiday centerpiece and prepared Christmas desserts which were served to seven members, a new member, Mrs. Ward, and three guests, Mrs. F. D. Spratt, Mrs. A. Hemingway and Mrs. C. E. Lindenmuth.

A called meeting of the club was announced for 2 p. m. November 23 in the assembly room of the courthouse, when Mrs. Messick will give a demonstration of leather tooling.

Enthusiasm Melts

During the closing weeks of the 1948 presidential campaign, a horrid political fate overtook Henry A. Wallace.

His supporters grew less numerous and less enthusiastic. People stopped throwing things at him. Worse still, a lot of them even stopped talking about him.

The trouble seemed to be that people quickly learned, if not everything about Wallace, at least everything he chose or was permitted to reveal about himself.

It was apparent early in the game that he had been taken over by the Communists and had become something very like a ventriloquist's dummy on their knees.

After these revelations, there was little to do except read or listen to his speeches. And the Wallace speeches probably induced the climatic yawn of his campaign.

Like so many Communist harangues, Wallace's speeches never became very specific. Consequently they never became very interesting.

Finally most of the public got tired and went away. Indignation had melted and enthusiasm had evaporated under pressure of the suffocating boredom.

Wallace must have realized himself that he had laid an egg far bigger than any that were thrown at him.

But the third-party candidate will face some grave difficulties in planning for the future. The widespread hostility that he first aroused would be hard enough to lick.

Back To Normal. For a while Jimmy Petrillo had us worried. The musicians' union boss had stepped out of character by setting peacefully with the radio and movie people.

But now he has ruled that harmonica players (some of 'em, anyway) are musicians and competitors. So he has ordered them to quit their own union, the American Guild of Variety Artists, and join his.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service.

I had an interesting visit the other day with Harry Conover of New York City and his attractive wife, Candy Jones.

I asked Mr. Conover how he got the idea for the Cover Girl. He said that for five years he thought that instead of a tall statue or a show girl on a cover, it should be the girl next door opening an icebox or driving an automobile.

Finally he got a magazine to accept that idea—and you know how successful it has been.

We played cards. Candy is a gin rummy player. Harry studies the game of bridge a little.

Today's hand came up and it was quite baffling that my partner should be defeated by a play that I think was the first to introduce to the American public—the suit preference play.

I (South) won the opening lead of the four of hearts with the ace when Candy (East) put up the king. Now led the jack of diamonds and was disappointed when Conover (West) showed out.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON - The inside story has just leaked out how tough American paratroopers cleaned out a nest of 15,000 Soviet-Mongolian soldiers who had deserted from the Russian Army in 1945 and holed up in the American sector of Berlin during the early days of the occupation.

An account of the incident was given to visiting senators and congressmen recently by Gen. Lucius Clay, American Military Governor in Berlin.

The Mongol troops had stayed in Berlin, hiding in the ruins, after the Russian army withdrew to its own sector, Clay reported.

Crasy with lust from their first taste of Western civilization, the savage Mongols hived off the city at night, killing, raping and looting. The only U. S. troops Clay had to keep order were green MPs, fresh from the states, and they were no match for the Mongols.

Hard-grassed, Clay sent a frantic order to hold up the sailing of a battle-seasoned Paratroop Division just ready to leave for home. Division and appealed to the paratroopers for help in cleaning out the Mongols.

The combat troops organized into groups of five and combed the American sector, flushing the Russian deserters out of their hiding places. They met brutally with brutality, beat up the Mongols, broke arms and legs, killed a few who resisted. Then they loaded the battered Mongols into trucks and dumped them at the station.

It took ten days for the rugged paratroopers to clean up the job and the first contact American fighting men had with Soviet fighting men.

Impressed, Russian generals pried discreetly to find out from Gen. Clay whether all American combat troops were to remain in Berlin. Note—Gen. Clay repeatedly emphasized to his congressional visitors that the Russians only understood might, mistook conciliation for weakness. It would be a grievous error, he said, for the Americans to retreat from Berlin.

"I am convinced," declared Clay, "that there will be no war if we stand firm in Berlin." No Brannets For Stassen. When Capital Airlines volunteered to distribute the first shipments of Red Feathers for the annual Community Chest drive, pretty phone system at the airport.

Her plane arrived late in Minneapolis, due to an Air Force Day ceremony that clogged traffic at a previous airport.

At Minneapolis, while Community Chest leaders waited for Miss Bucher's plane to arrive, they spied former governor Harold Stassen, also at the airport, and requested him to remain and greet Miss Bucher and her Red Feathers.

Regretfully, Stassen declined. He had to take off immediately for a speaking engagement.

"That's too bad," remarked a Chest official. "You don't know what you're missing. This girl is some dish. Brunette and 21."

"Ah, politics," wistfully sighed the GOP leader. "I know where it is." No More Pearl Harbors. High Pentagon officials, worried over the Berlin crisis, are determined not to be caught napping. They have devised a special telephone system at the Pentagon which can be reached day and night. Some of them recall the dinner-table conversation between the late Secretary of State and the late Secretary of Defense.

It is estimated there are still at least 2,000 covered bridges in the United States.

CRANE-Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Jarvis are at home in Tyler this week after 20 years residence here concluded with his retirement by the Gulf Oil Company following 36 years service.

With retirement effective November 1, Mr. Jarvis was presented his thirty-year service award in informal ceremony at the Gulf office. W. C. Todd of Odessa, superintendent of zone 5, made the presentation, witnessed by Foster, Odessa and R. D. Rhinehart, Crane. Jarvis retires as the zone electrical engineer.

She resumed inquiring, with a look of incomprehension. "How's that?"

"I meant, you'll know it by the wallpaper, when you come to it."

"Oh, Louise" was all she seemed capable of saying. "Oh, Louise."

They moved around then on a brief tour, from room to room, and he showed her the parlor, the dining room, the others. And for each room she had an exclaiming "Oh, Louise," until at last, it seemed, death had left her altogether, and she could only sigh "Oh."

He stepped aside, closed the door, and bowed.

She was looking around, standing in one place but moving her body in a half-circle from there, to take in everything.

"Like it?" he asked.

She moved her hands out to one side of her face now, still clasped, and nestled her cheek against them stantwise. Then across to the other side, and repeated it there.

"Oh, Louise" was all she seemed capable of saying. "Oh, Louise."

They moved around then on a brief tour, from room to room, and he showed her the parlor, the dining room, the others. And for each room she had an exclaiming "Oh, Louise," until at last, it seemed, death had left her altogether, and she could only sigh "Oh."

THEY came back to the hall at last, and he said somewhat diffidently that he would lock up.

HE lifted her bodily in his arms. She came from the ground with a little foamy rattle of skirt bottoms. Moving sideward so that his shoulder might ward off the loose-swinging door, he carried her over the sill and in. Then dipped again and set her back on her feet. "A little touch of lacy bits."

He stepped aside, closed the door, and bowed.

She was looking around, standing in one place but moving her body in a half-circle from there, to take in everything.

"Like it?" he asked.

He went to a lamp, turned the little wheel, heightening its flame to a yellow stalgne. Then to another, and another, wherever they had been left. The walls brightened from dull ivory to purest white. The newness of everything became doubly conspicuous.

"Like it?" he beamed.

Her hands were clasped, and elevated upward to height of her face; held that way in a sort of stylized rhapsody.

"Oh, Louise," she breathed. "It's ideal. It's exquisite."

"It's yours," he said.

She moved her hands out to one side of her face now, still clasped, and nestled her cheek against them stantwise. Then across to the other side, and repeated it there.

"Oh, Louise" was all she seemed capable of saying. "Oh, Louise."

Bear Captain Grabs SWC Lineman Honors

AUSTIN—(P)—Buddy Tinsley, 225-pound tackle for Baylor, grabbed lineman-of-the-week honors in the Southwest Conference.

Publicity men of the seven schools picked the Bear co-captain for his performance against Texas Christian Saturday night.

John Lumley of Arkansas, tackle; center Max Eubank of Texas Christian and Ends Dale Schwartzkopf of Texas and Raleigh Blakely of Southern Methodist were his leading rivals for the nomination.

The poll of publicity directors for lineman-of-the-week is conducted by The Austin American Statesman.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 3, 1948—3

Stan Heath Aims At Offense Mark

NEW YORK—(P)—Stan Heath, University of Nevada's aerial wizard who cracked the collegiate passing yardage record last week, had his sights set Wednesday on the total offense mark.

With six games out of the way and three to go, the Wolfpack quarterback has tossed the pigskin for the amazing total of 1,645 yards to break a 10-year-old passing yardage record. He hit with 13 of 18 passes for 327 yards and five touchdowns Saturday against Oklahoma City.

Figures from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that Heath needs to get only 548 yards to surpass the total offense mark of 2,187 yards piled up in 1942 by Frank Sinkwich, former Georgia All-American. Frank's total came in 11 games.

Heath, who plans to turn professional next year because his collegiate eligibility expires this season, is strictly an "airman."

Deficit On Ground
He has taken the ball from center 164 times, and passed on all but eight of those occasions. He was caught for losses five times before he could throw the ball, but on three occasions ran the ball for enough ground yardage to hold his rushing deficit to five yards. Thus his total offense mark for the six games is 1,640 yards.

The former passing mark of 1,457 was set by Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian in 1938, and equaled by Wilson (Bud) Schwenk of Washington University in 1942.

Heath, whose team meets its toughest foe of the year—Santa Clara—Saturday, also can become fourth player in major collegiate history to complete 100 or more passes in one season. He now has completed 98 in 156 attempts. Charley Conerly of Mississippi set the record of 133 last season; Schwenk completed 114 in 1941; Ray Evans of Kansas 101 in 1941. Lindy Berry of Texas Christian is in second place in total offense, with 1,062 yards in seven games, but several others are close behind—so close, in fact, Berry probably will be overtaken because his team is idle Saturday. Charlie Justice of North Carolina is third with 987 yards, and Fred Wendt of Texas Mines, the nation's top major college runner and point-gather, fourth with 956 yards.

Wendt Leads Rushing
Wendt has rushed for 928 yards to hold first in that department, followed by California's tackle Jensen with 698. Close behind with 682 yards is Jay Van Noy, Utah State, who has galloped to 242 yards in his last two games to take third. Jimmy Finks of Tulsa, 1970, in total offense—890 yards, is second in forward passing with 337 yards in six games—far back of Heath.

Following are the top 10 players in each offensive category:
Total offense—Heath, Nevada, 1,640 yards; Berry, Texas Christian, 1,062; Justice, North Carolina, 987; Wendt, Texas Mines, 956; Finks, Tulsa, 930; Davis, George Washington, 880; Waldall, West Virginia, 802; Gilman, Kansas, 793; Jensen, California, 790; Faunce, Minnesota, 782.
In rushing, Berry ranks ninth with 551 yards and Clyde Scott, Arkansas, tenth with 547.

GOP Leaders Look Like Brides Left Waiting At Church

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(P)—Republicans who stayed up all night at national headquarters to celebrate looked at dawn Wednesday like haggard brides left waiting at the church.
It was so quiet around the Hotel Roosevelt you could hear a poll-taker's chin drop.

But if there was a poll-taker in the place he wisely kept his mouth shut. There were no Republican chins any longer able even to fall open. They had all done that hours before.

It was a scene of political carnage over which spread the lengthening shadow cast by the little man from Missouri.
Win, lost or draw, he had—almost single-mouthed—smashed Republican hopes of gaining control of both Congress and the presidency.

The tidal flood of Democratic votes completely ruined the Grand Old Party's brand new victory party.

Last Grin Of Evening
Some 200 happy party workers crowded into the gold ballroom of the flag-draped balcony, where Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was expected to deliver his victory speech before midnight. Rumor said his aides had composed the speech two days ago.

The crowd stirred uneasily as early returns showed Truman ahead. But they cheered when Campaign Manager Herbert Brownell, grinning widely, stepped out on the gallery and minimized the figures—again predicting victory. It was the last grin of the evening.

Some Republicans left then, sure Dewey had won. But they were probably the only ones who got a good night's rest.
For after midnight deepening alarm swept the gaily-bannered room. The faces of the crowd were a slow-motion study of confidence changing from surprise to doubt, from doubt to disbelief—and then on to stunned fear and panic.

More geysers exist in Yellowstone than in all the rest of the world.

Texas Has Full College Grid Slate

By The Associated Press
Important games dot the schedule all along the line in Texas college football this weekend.

Twenty-four of the 28 teams have games with Sul Ross, the only undefeated, untied outfit journeying to Alamosa, Colo., to play Adams State in a New Mexico Conference game.

The two undefeated but once tied teams—Texas Mines and Baylor—also face tough tests. Mines plays Texas Tech leader in the Border Conference race, at Lubbock. Baylor takes on Texas in the top game of the Southwest Conference race. Southern Methodist, tied with Baylor for the lead in the Southwest Conference, entertains winless Texas A&M at Dallas, while Rice goes to Little Rock to tackle Arkansas. Texas Christian rests.

Lone Star Conference
In the Lone Star Conference, two of the top teams will be seeking to eliminate each other as North Texas State and Trinity get together at Denton. The loser will fade from the race, now led by Southwest Texas State with thirds and no defeats. Southwest Texas plays East Texas State at Commerce and Stephen F. Austin takes on University of Houston at Houston in other conference games. Sam Houston State plays outside the conference, going to Lafayette, La., to engage Southwest Louisiana Institute.

In the Texas Conference Hardin and Abilene Christian College play at Abilene in the top game. The loser will fall out of the conference race. Southwestern plays Austin College and Howard Payne engages Wichita State at Houston. Baptist College, McMurry has an open date.

Hardin-Simmons, a third Texas team in the Border Conference, entertains Oklahoma City University while West Texas State has an open date.
Among the independents, Texas A&I plays University of Corpus Christi. Daniel Baker has an off

Texas Game Can't Worry Baylor's Unbeaten Bears

By HAROLD V. RALPH
Associated Press Sports Editor

Coach Bob Woodruff of Baylor says from now on no matter how close the opposition gets to the Bears' goal line, he isn't going to worry.

He made the statement right after Jack Wilson, one of his assistants, told this story:

On Saturday Baylor beat Texas Christian 6-3 with a goal line stand in the last five seconds. Monday, when Woodruff came to his office he was smoking a cigarette and carrying another in his hand. "Give me a cigarette, Jack," the Baylor coach asked.

Anyway, Baylor fans are resigned to such hair-raising business. Only once has Baylor ever taken the lead in a game and two weeks in succession the Bears have had to ward off drives that looked like touchdowns in the final minute. Texas Christian, for instance, went to the 15-inch line with five seconds to play, and couldn't score. Baylor is the only undefeated team left in the Southwest Conference. This was the team the sports writers picked to finish last, before the season opened.

Figures Not Impressive
Cold figures would indicate the Bears ought to be at least sixth in the field of seven. They rank like that in total offense in the conference, having gained only 1,392 yards in six games both rushing and passing. Texas A&M is the only team with fewer yards and the Aggies are just 25 back. And A&M has lost seven straight games.

Defensively, Baylor is fourth in the conference, having given up 217 yards per game.

Saturday at Waco the Bears play the leading offensive team in the circuit—Texas, which has rolled up 3,283 yards. Texas also rates second in the conference in defense, having given up 201 yards per contest.

Most of the critics are selecting Texas to edge the Baylor string Saturday. However, that's been done before. Mississippi State was supposed to beat the Bears but Baylor tied the Rebels 7-7 and should have won. Arkansas was selected to down them with comparative ease. Baylor came from behind, as usual, and licked Arkansas 23-7. The Bears even had to come from behind twice to beat Texas A&M.

Of course, Coach Woodruff isn't worrying—much.

DESERTERS
There were no Seminole Indians before 1775. They are members of a band which deserted the Creek tribe and moved to the Florida country.

Down SPORTSLANE

—With Tanner Laine

Why play football? This question is asked more than you think. And it is one which football and its supporters can answer.

Perhaps here is the important answer—every 1,000 pupils who reach the fifth grade in Texas, only 392 finish high school. So reports the National Educational Association.

The deduction is simple: boys who like to play football remain in school and in most cases finish.

In the United States as a whole, only 453 of each 1,000 who were enrolled as fifth-grade pupils still are in attendance in the final year of high school, the NEA report shows.

Somewhere along the line, then, 608 out of 1,000 Texans drop out of school for various reasons.

Now if they were playing football. Well, it's a good reason for staying in school.

Frank Leahy, famous Notre Dame coach, says on this subject (why play football?): "To achieve success in any field requires a great amount of mental and physical discipline. A man willing to pay the price for success on the football field has developed a habit which will force himself to achieve success in any field that he later selects."

That's a good answer.
World War II substantiates the position that competitive sport is good for American youth.

Along that line, General McArthur says: "The burning desire to triumph is best instilled on the athletic field rather than in camp. The extra lynch needed for a first down on the football field has its counterpart in the extra mile gained by our armored divisions."

We can think of no better thing for a Midland boy to do than to play football. He gets a lot more out of it than the knocks and bruises or the touchdowns and the first downs. He does more for himself in the long run than he does for the school or the city he represents.

Willingness to pay the price brings success on the football field the same as it does to a lawyer or a top-flight surgeon. Great training must be done by the successful football player as it must be done by the lawyer or the doctor.

We heard one great general say World War II was won on the playing fields of America. For on those fields was developed American will to win. There was developed individual ability to act and think. Better make that think and act.

A boy who can think and act out there on the gridiron can do it on a battlefield, on a ship, or in the air.

So, those who love boys and want them to stay in school and develop qualities which will help them in later life, say: play football.

That Hardin-Simmons and Texas Mines duel last Saturday night, which ended in a 27-27 tie, was more than just a high-scoring contest. It had some of the craziest aspects.

Hardin-Simmons did not punt during the game. Only nine times in the contest did a series of downs go to the fourth down. Only nine times did both teams fail to score while in position of the ball. Only two penalties were called and both against Hardin-Simmons. First downs were 22-19. In all, the Miners were halted short of pay dirt only five times, the Cowboys four. The Miners were ahead 27-13 with 14 minutes left to play. The Cowboys stormed back to make a point a minute and tie up the battle.

On the final play of the game, a Cowboy back, juggling the leather on a screen pass play, broke open to the Miner 33-yard line, almost getting away.

Here is another of those all-time. This one we can call the all-occupation team:

- LE—Miner (Tennessee)
- LT—Barber Morris Harvey
- LG—Butler (Harvard)
- C—Gardner (Rutgers)
- RG—Baker (California)
- RT—Painter (Lenoir Rhyne)
- RE—Carpenter (Baldwin-Wallace)
- QB—Rimer (Davidson)
- HB—Sheppard (Drexel)
- HB—Cook (Holy Cross)
- PB—Dean (Cornell)

ROUNDUP UP THE STRAYS

Robert (Moe) Price, Midland half-back, made the Star-Telegram schoolboy football honor roll for last week's performance.

Not long ago, Lloyd Henderson and Kent Miller of the Bulldogs made the roll for fine defensive work but were listed from Brownwood. It was in the Midland-Brownwood game they shone. Tommy Hart, Big Spring sports writer, compliments Midland's stadium in his column "Lookin' Em Over," calling it one of the best and a credit to District 3-AA.

Hart pointed out many had failed to notice Midland's nice plant because of the massive Odessa's stadium completion just after Midland's was finished. Austin High of El Paso really rolled against Big Spring—513 yards rushing and 98 yards passing, for a total net of 611 yards. Wow! Missouri Valley needs a win Friday to tie the all-time college mark for straight wins.

The mark is 39 straight wins posted by the University of Washington in seasons 1906, 1907 and 1908. Gloomy Gil Doble was the U of W coach at that time. As far as penalties go, SMU Mustangs continue to be the good boys of the SWC with only 96 yards in penalties in six games, as compared with Arkansas' 423 yards in six battles.

You see what happens when you get picked for a bowl before the season even starts—Tulsa is bowing out of the Delta Bowl. The Hurricane was picked for this bowl before the season started. Tulsa explained its withdrawal as because of its record this season, which is plenty bad—six straight losses.

The blacktail deer season begins Saturday West of the Pecos. The Cotton Bowl committee is flooded with applications and we know some of the thousands and thousands are from Midland.

Hope the locals are lucky in the draw. Freddie Corcoran was following Sammy Sneed around the course Tuesday and Fred remarked: "Dewey is leading." Sneed perked up his ears, "Is he?" asked Sam. "What did he get out in?" . . . 30 for strays, Haymarket is a town in England, not a place where hay is sold.

Major Amos Hoople Hesitates To Pass On To Untutored Deep Algebraic Abracadabra

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Old Backet Club Man

EQAD! In view of my astounding success as a prognosticator of football results, hordes of readers have written in to ask how I conjure up my forecasts astronomically.

Easy! We all have our secrets, but I am perfectly willing to unbind and disclose some of the factors which go into the calculation of results.

First, astronomy. No good prophet will lay his finger on a figure until he has ascertained what character of the sodiac is in sway. At the moment we seem to be under the sign of Scorpius, or The Scorpion.

Now here is a factor over which the young forecaster may stub his toe. There are 12 signs of the sodiac, named from the constellations.

In the time of Hipparchus, 2000 years ago, the signs coincided, but the precession of equinoxes—that is, the retrograde motion of the equinoxes along the ecliptic, which is the sun's yearly path—caused each sign in the sodiac to move backward 30 degrees. Thus now the sign Aries (The Ram) is in the constellation Pieces (The Fishes) and so on.

It is so easy to become confused that I hesitate to pass on the untutored minds the algebraic abracadabra required to straighten out this business of Rams and Fishes.

But I expect the Wolverines to win, November 8, anyway, also the Badgers, Mustangs and Bears—so why be too concerned about Scorpions?

Want to get off to a good start? Then let your nearest Conoco Mileage Merchant steer you right. . . .
He'll tell you that when it comes to fast, smooth winter starts, a lot depends on having the right kind of oil in your engine. He'll tell you, too, the right oil is winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil.
First, because Conoco Nth winter-grade Motor Oil is specially refined for cold-weather performance. It's lighter . . . freer-flowing. Saves wear on your battery because it gives you faster starts.
And second, Nth oil extra-protects against "dry" friction starts . . . saves wear on engine parts . . . because it contains a special added ingredient that actually OIL-PLATES metal surfaces.
So, if you want to start off right—and right off—on the next wintry morning. . . .

EISENHOWER

was my boss

by Kay Summersby
Captain, WAC, Army Of The U. S.
Copyright, 1948, by Kay Summersby

Instalment 4
The future supreme commander extended a friendly hand and an equally friendly greeting. "Kay, how are you? I've been wondering where you were ever since I returned to London. Thought you wanted to drive for me?" He glanced at General Spaatz. "Tooy, you've been hiding her in the Air Force."

I muttered shyly that I had been busy at Air Force headquarters, out of touch with Grade-A gossip at Grosvenor Square. But I did remember to congratulate him upon appointment as commander of European Theater of Operations, which fact I had learned in the newspapers.

"Would you like to come back and drive for me again?" he asked bluntly.

I didn't know what to say. General Spaatz spared me the embarrassment of a reply. "Now don't you take Kay away from me," he growled. "She's the only driver I've found who really knows London."

Dropping the subject, General Eisenhower turned back to me. "Well, when are you coming to London?" He smiled again. "I've got some fruit for you. Sort of crushed, but still fruit."

Fruit! After almost three rationed years in wartime London, with fresh fruit as rare as nylon, I was over-anxious in replying. "I'm driving General Spaatz in tomorrow, Sir. Tomorrow morning." He laughed. "Well, be sure to come in and see me."

Next day I hurried up to the first floor (second floor, American style) of the modern Grosvenor Square block of flats which had become Theater headquarters. The General's office were surprisingly small and unpretentious.

"I'm Kay Summersby," I announced hopefully to a tall captain. I believe the general expects me?" He introduced himself as Captain Ernest (Tex) Lee. "Yes," he said, "the general expects you. To tell the truth he has expected you ever since he got back to London. I even left a note for you in what someone at the motor pool said was your staff car."

I remembered that note, signed by a Captain Lee and asking me to stop by his office. I regarded the paper as a joke at the time; I hadn't known that Captain Lee was an aide.

General Eisenhower, although in the midst of new staff conferences, took time to chat and to hand me a veritable treasure: oranges, lemons, and grapefruit.

The General apologized because some of the fruit was bruised, then asked directly, "Would you like to come back again, for good?" "Of course," I murmured, still not certain.

"I'll see what can be done about it," he concluded in dismissal. I was transferred back to London.

Returning to London, even I could see the sharp change in American Army discipline. The motor pool had once been rather a social center; we went to work around 10 in the morning, took an hour and a half for lunch, knocked off about tea-time in the afternoon. Now it was run on strictly military lines. Headquarters had been reorganized. Instead of the easy-going group of "observers," those schedules included long liquid lunches and early cocktail hours; 20 Grosvenor Square was peopled by army men who comprised the hard core of America's new European Theater of Operations. And they were on a seven-day week. General Eisenhower had come over to do a job; he was wasting no time.

Within a few weeks numerous men-who-had-been-in-London - too long were on their way back to the States, unable to adjust to the new order. Their rank was high. General Eisenhower often remarked, when irritated by some too-social officer: "I'd like to send him back on a slow boat, without destroyer escort!"

The general was far from a martinet on spit-and-polish. But he emphasized that good discipline made good soldiers and often saved lives in combat.

During those early days, I actually had little driving. Most of the general's time was consumed by staff conferences, planning, paper work.

With the comparatively slow business, I got to know the rest of the general's "official family," as he called us.

The charmer of the group was that genial navy officer, Harry C. Butcher, former vice president of Columbia Broadcasting System and then a lieutenant-commander. A tall, smiling, and very social chap, Butch was front-office boy, full-time aide, personal friend, eager publicist, and chief diarist. (That diary was later recognizable the world over as the best-selling My Three Years With Eisenhower.)

Butch's only failing, was an over-zealous enthusiasm for public relations. The general occasionally stormed when his naval aide gave out some highly personal sidelight to the press. But it was Butch who lived with the general, traveled with him, and served him most ably as friend.

The Butcher zeal for publicity work was equalled only by the army aide-de-camp's energy in executive work. Tex was the bespectacled booming-voiced, towering captain who rode herd on the general's paper work. He was the administrative titan, the red-tape artist, the office chief, the official warrior.

Another character in the innermost cast was Sergeant Mickey McKeogh, the black-haired, blue-eyed little Irishman who had been a bellhop in New York. Mickey was everything to his general, his walking memo pad and his left hand, an impeccable and loyal orderly who did anything from shining shoes or brass to shopping. Above all, he shared his unflinching, bubbling Irish humor. And he wrote a personal report regularly each week to Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, the general's wife.

I gradually oozed into the circle because all by off hours were spent waiting around the general's office until he was ready to take a trip anywhere from the War Office to supply headquarters in Cheltenham. Also, I started to recognize, then know, all the senior subordinates who poured into that little office with their problems. I gingerly attempted some paper work and helped out on 'phone calls. Without knowing it, I was joining the Unofficial Official Family: Butch, Tex, Mickey, and Kay.

Chairman J. Parnell Thomas of the House Un-American Activities Committee pulled through in New Jersey. But one of his Republican colleagues on that committee, Rep. John McDowell of Pennsylvania was defeated.

Former Gov. Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma Democrat, quickly outdistanced Rep. Ross H. Hays, the Republican seeking the seat being vacated by Senator E. H. Moore (R).

Another former Democratic Senator, Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, outdistanced Senator George A. Wilson in the Corn Belt.

In Illinois it was the same story. Paul H. Douglas, college professor and Democrat, beat GOP Senator C. Wayland "Curley" Brooks, Republican Senator Joseph H. Ball was outdistanced in Minnesota by Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis. And in Wyoming Democratic Gov. Lester C. Hunt bested Republican Senator E. V. Robertson.

As in the House, key committee chairmanships will go back to veterans who previously held them. These include Senator Tom Connally (Texas) for foreign relations, Senator Walter George (Ga.), finance, and Senator Kenneth D. McKellar (Tenn.), appropriations.

Lions Program Is Radio Broadcast

The program at the luncheon meeting of the Midland Lions Club Wednesday in the Scharbauer Hotel was a "roving microphone" broadcast over radio station KCRB.

J. M. McDonald, quizzed Lions members about their views of the election outcome. The panel was preceded by a news cast given by David Cole. Wayne Harrell was announced.

Roy Minear presided at the luncheon. Yates Brown led group singing. Invocation was by N. G. Oates.

Bill Rutherford was introduced as a new member of the club.

Truman—

(Continued From Page One) Southern Democrats to break with Truman. Among the civil rights proposals are laws against race segregation on trains and buses crossing state lines, against making a voter pay a poll tax before he can ballot in federal elections, making lynching a federal crime, and forbidding an employer to discriminate because of race or religious belief when he hires a workman.

For Truman, the win was a tremendous personal achievement. With a fighting campaign, the man from Missouri roused his party from despondency and led it to a victory which almost all its leaders except the President himself had written off months ago as an impossibility.

For Dewey and the "team" around him, it was the bitterest end of a 10-year dream. The New York governor has been aiming at and working for the presidency that long.

He broke precedent when he captured the Republican nomination this year after a losing race against Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944. He can hold no hope that his party will entrust its banner to him again.

For the rest of the world, the outcome meant double assurance that there would be no shift in American foreign policy. The present policy has been called bi-partisan, but some edginess has been evidenced in Europe over the widely held election expectation that a change in political administrations was coming.

Cabinet Shifts Probable In Washington, speculation already is running high that Truman now will make many shifts in his own administration.

This is based on the view that he got little help in his campaign from many Democratic office-holders who had looked on it as a lost cause. Among the cabinet members, Truman's chief campaign help came from Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin and Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan.

Along with their big victory in the White House and congressional contests, the Democrats made many gains in state and local offices. They captured the governorships from Republicans in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana and Montana. The Republicans overturned the Democratic administration in Utah.

Before the election, the 48 states were split evenly in state house administrations—24 Republican and 24 Democratic.

The shifts indicated the Democrats would now have 30 and the Republicans 18—bearing some upset in still undecided races. Truman licked Dewey in the closest presidential race in 32 years and in as amazing an upset as the American public ever helped engineer. He stays on at the White House for the first full four-year term despite the loss of the fat electoral votes of New York and Pennsylvania—and despite the desertion of Alabama, South Carolina, Mississippi and probably Louisiana to the States Rights cause.

He keeps intact as a going concern a Democratic Party that can shrug off Henry A. Wallace's Progressives and probably can ignore Civil Rights agitators if it can't bring them to heel.

For the 64-year-old President not only had to shake off the challenge of his 46-year-old Republican opponent—he had to roll over the States' Righters and the Progressives. Wallace's vote knocked Truman out of New York state and helped Dewey take the lead in Connecticut and Maryland. But Truman raised Illinois and Ohio. He took Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota out of the Republicans' hip pockets.

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will take over as vice president January 20, when the President begins his first full four-year term. Indications are that Senator Scott W. Lucas of Illinois will succeed to the job as majority leader.

A victorious Truman will certainly have more to say about the shaping of foreign policy than he appears to have had in the past. And the President may have some political scores to settle. On the other hand, Truman will owe a measure of allegiance to the labor leaders who stuck by him in his fund-starved, whistle-stop hand-shaking drive for votes.

Johnson—

(Continued From Page One) House, was second with 88,278. All eight constitutional amendments carried. Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham, who is due to return to the House speakership due to the national Democratic triumph, had no statement to make, but said he was feeling fine except for a cold contracted "out getting Truman votes."

Robert L. Johnson of the Texas Election Bureau said it looked like the record vote for a general election set in 1944 of about 1,500,000 would stand.

23 Votes For Truman Johnson predicted that the ballot would not exceed 1,100,000. The Democratic victory in Texas gave 23 electoral votes to President Truman despite a bitter party split upon which the Republicans tried strongly to cash in.

It elected Johnson to the Senate seat being vacated by W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel, again despite a vigorous GOP effort to make hay of Johnson's hair-breadth, contested victory over Coke Stevenson in the Democratic runoff primary.

It elected all Democratic candidates for state office and filled all of the state's 21 congressional seats with Democrats. Ken Regan of Midland was one of the 21.

Widespread disapproval of President Truman's civil rights program and his stand for federal ownership of tidelands built up a strong protest vote, but it was divided between Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican, and Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, States Rights candidate. Even though combined, the protest vote was not enough to change the result.

Heavy GOP Vote Jack Porter, Houston oilman, although going down to decisive defeat by Johnson in the Senate race, rolled up one of the heaviest Republican votes ever cast in Texas. Porter said his showing of votes was an indication that "Texas is beginning to awaken to the importance of a two-party system."

Stevenson, former governor, threw his support to Porter after seeking unsuccessfully to outstep Johnson's nomination by an 87-vote margin in the August 28 runoff primary. A Senate investigation into that election is in progress. Stevenson appealed to the Senate after the United States Supreme Court, on Johnson's plea, stopped a federal inquiry into the election, in which Stevenson charged fraud.

There will be two new faces in Texas congressional delegation. Homer Thornberry of Abilene will take the Tenth District seat which Lyndon Johnson vacated to run for the Senate. Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen was elected to the 15th District seat of Rep. Milton West, who died last week. West was not a candidate for reelection. Neither Thornberry nor Bentsen had Republican opposition.

In addition to electing a Democratic slate of national and state officials, Texas voters also approved the eight amendments to the State Constitution that were on the ballot. All were overwhelmingly approved except the one calling for a retirement plan for state judges. This amendment, however, appeared to have a safe lead of more than 25,000 votes on late tabulations.

Oil-Gas Log—

(Continued From Page One) tests to test into the Ellenburger. Location is 800 feet from north and west lines of section 31, block 40, T-4-S, TP survey.

Shell No. 1 Hawkins Is Showing More Oil

Shell Oil Company, Inc. No. 1 Hawkins, South-Central Gaines County discovery for the Devonian, 15 miles south and west of Seminole, continues to show for more production. In a drillstem test at 10,378-428 feet, the recovery was 210 barrels of 30-gravity oil during the 60 minutes the tester was open.

During the 21 minutes operator was trying to close the tool, a total of two barrels of oil cut mud and three barrels of oil was sloshed out at the top of the drill pipe. Total fluid recovered from the one hour of testing was 210 barrels of 30-gravity oil. There was no water.

This development had produced a total of 206 barrels of oil in one hour of testing on the sections between 10,272 feet and 10,378 feet. Operator is drilling ahead and probably will stop and run another drillstem test soon.

This exploration, located 1,983 feet from north and 688 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23, TP survey. It is two and one-half miles southwest of the Robertson field, which produces from the lower Permian about 7,500 feet.

Shell No. 1 Hawkins was originally started to go to at least 12,500 feet to explore into the Ellenburger. Since the Devonian has been found to be productive, operator representatives have revealed whether the project will be continued to the deep horizon or will stop and complete from the shows which have already been developed.

Tex Harvey Shows Gas From Devonian

Tex Harvey Oil Company, No. 1 Floyd, East Midland County wildcat, 13 miles southeast of the city of Midland, and 2,000 feet from north and 800 feet from east lines of section 15, block 37, TP survey, has reached a seven-hour drillstem test in a soft zone in the Devonian lime and chert at 11,224-294 feet. Gas showed at the surface after two hours. The volume was estimated at 30,000 cubic feet per day. Recovery was 195 feet of gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of oil or water.

The project was drilling ahead and had reached 11,204 feet in lime and chert. Operator probably will go to about 11,350 feet and undertake another drillstem test.

Arick Field Flanker Continues To Drill

General American Oil Company No. 2-B Carmickle, outpost to the Arick field, in Southwest Floyd County, and 1,980 feet from north and 680 feet from west lines of section 18, block 25, TTRR survey, had reached 4,948 feet and was drilling ahead in lower Permian lime.

This exploration topped the Wolfcamp porosity at 4,790 feet, as compared with the top of that section being around 4,900 feet in the other wells so far drilled in the Arick area. The No. 2-B Carmickle had a considerable section of soft drilling and logged some signs of oil and some fluorescence. However no drillstem tests were run on the formation. The venture is going on to around 6,000 feet to explore into the Pennsylvanian lime, the current producing formation in that area.

Manchurian Losses Stun China Loyals

SWEEPING.—(AP)—Extent of the Communist victory in Manchuria stunned government supporters in North China Monday. Chinese loyal to Chiang Kai-Shek called it a "disaster" and a "monumental tragedy." They feared more setbacks now that the Communists can unleash their Manchurian armies for attacks elsewhere.

The government has given no idea of its losses in Manchuria with the fall of Mukden. There were indications, however, that not a single soldier escaped the Mukden area to the support of Yingkow, 115 miles south. No new reports came from Mukden bombed by government warplanes Tuesday for the second straight day.

Truman Hides Out, Eats, Goes To Bed On Election Night

KANSAS CITY —(AP)— President Truman, who fought like a champion to upset the dolesters and sway the vote of a nation, took his first night's sleep Wednesday.

He arrived at his penthouse in the Hotel Muehlebach at dawn to tell how he slipped away to Excelsior Springs Tuesday to spend election night in a hotel hideaway.

When you order a Telephone... We'd like to connect all telephones without delay, but in many cases it just isn't possible. When you apply, we look into every possibility of serving you promptly. We want to serve you just as much as you want to get a telephone. HERE'S A QUICK LOOK AT THE STEPS WE TAKE: 1. THE SERVICE REPRESENTATIVE FIRST FINDS OUT IF THERE IS ROOM ON THE SWITCHBOARD TO CONNECT A TELEPHONE. IF THERE IS... 2. SHE CHECKS A RECORD OF THE TELEPHONE CABLE IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD TO SEE IF THERE'S A SPARE PAIR OF WIRES. BUT IF SHE FINDS NONE, SHE DOESN'T GIVE UP. 3. SHE ASKS THE PLANT DEPARTMENT IF THEY CAN HELP. THEY MAY LOCATE A PAIR OF WIRES TO CONNECT YOUR TELEPHONE, PERHAPS USING A PAIR JUST DISCONNECTED. BUT EVEN IF THEY FIND NO SPARE PAIR... 4. SHE TELLS YOU HOW THE MATTER STANDS, AND WHEN TO EXPECT SERVICE, IF CONSTRUCTION DATES ARE KNOWN. SHE WILL GET IN TOUCH WITH YOU AS SOON AS YOUR SERVICE IS AVAILABLE. YOU NEED NOT CALL AGAIN. Some checking needs to be more detailed than this, some less, but all orders are handled carefully, and filled as quickly as local conditions allow. Although 50,000 more people in the Southwest order telephones every month, we are getting more service to more people every day. SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Assassin Of Gandhi Says He Acted For Benefit Of Humanity

NEW DELHI —(AP)—Narayan Vinayak Godse, 35-year-old Brahmin, said in court Wednesday he killed Mohandas K. Gandhi "purely for the benefit of humanity." His confession, a 68-page statement, invited the court to pass the maximum sentence of death by hanging, saying "I do not desire any mercy be shown me nor anyone beg mercy on my behalf."

The statement was introduced after four months of the trial of Godse and 11 others accused of aiding and abetting him in the January 30 assassination of Gandhi. Godse expressed "confidence about the moral justification" of his act in firing the fatal shots, and appealed to posterity to "weigh my act and find the true value thereof."

He said he personally respected Gandhi's saintliness and "before I fired the shots I actually wished him luck and bowed to him in reverence."

But Gandhi's policy and action, he said, "brought ruin to millions of Hindus."

War Plants Placed Into Reserve Pool

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Twelve surplus war plants that cost the government $148,168,000 have been put into a reserve pool for use in the event of another war.

In reporting this, the Federal Works Agency said, the plants are sold or leased as surplus. Eventually will go into the National Industrial Reserve set up by Congress last July.

Within a short time, the agency said, it expects to take over from the War Assets Administration three more plants.

All will be reconditioned and then put "in mothballs." Normally these plants, having served their wartime purpose, would have been sold or leased as surplus.

Federal Works also is to take over, repair, and keep in stand-by condition about 50,000 units of machine tool, manufacturing equipment and other property in the plants.

The plants already placed in the national reserve, and the amount it costs to build and equip them include:

Dow Chemical Company, Freeport, Texas, $6,732,000; Dow Magnesium Corporation, Velasco, Texas, $20,887,000; Oklahoma Ordnance Works, Pryor, Oklahoma, $15,987,000.

Designer Compiles The Perfect Dummy

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—Fashion Designer Edith Head has combined anatomical parts of nine film actresses to form the perfect dummy. This is a literal dummy, one used for fashion scenes in "Bitter Victory."

A perfectionist, Miss Head had to make it the best. Choosing from the stars she has designed for, she picked this list (reading up to down—of vice versa, according to taste):

Neck—Diana Lynn, 13 inches.
Shoulders—Barbara Stanwyck.
Bust—Olivia DeHavilland, 34 1-2 inches.
Waist—Loretta Young, 24 inches.
Hips—Elizabeth Scott, 35 inches.
Arms—Reddy Lamarr.
Hands—Veronica Lake.
Legs—Mariene Dietrich, of course.
Feet—Mona Freeman.

Would Move To Speed Up Line

"Do you live North or South of Main Street," the election judge asked citizens in a long voting line Tuesday.

Said a tired citizen: "I live North of Main Street but I will move South if it will help speed up this line and let me get out of here."
