Fur May Fly In Washington

Prophecy seems suddenly to have gone out of fashion, but we are going to venture one after-election guess anyway.

The promise to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law stood high, of course, on the list of President Truman's campaign pledges.

So Truman is committed to repeal. And he probably will find some new support in his own party.

Further, some of those Democratic members may want to join their Republican colleagues in defending their own actions.

Truman has invoked his powers under the law without apology or apparent resentment.

Yet the union big-wigs probably will demand outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law, at least as a bargaining point.

In the end we shall have a new labor-relations law. Everybody concedes that.

Stuck With It

When informed of his indictment on a charge of fraud, Rep. J. Parnell Thomas remarked, "I'm going to stay right with this thing."

A Florida golf club gave members turkeys as tournament prizes. That's one way to get a birdie.

Too much time is spent wishing for things we could have if we didn't spend so much time wishing.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM K. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

The beginner at contract bridge is apt to be confused by the playing convention that advises you always to cover an honor with an honor.

For example, if the dummy holds a singleton jack and you hold four to the king you should not cover the jack.

clubs. Should East cover that honor with his honor? He should not.

If East covers the king with the ace, declarer can win with the ace, lead a small club and finesse dummy's nine-spot.

If East refuses to cover the first honor, declarer has to lose a club trick, regardless of what he does.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON—Only one group of people since Nov. 2 have redden faces than the pollsters—the big businessmen who had feathered their nests with Dewey's friends.

Barley, whose wife was an invalid for many years before she died, also goes to dinner on his own. Barkley says he has a "number of applicants" for the job, but if he needs an official hostess, he will draft his daughter, graciously Mrs. Max Truitt.

Merry-Go-Round All American Ambassadors have received cables from the State Department reminding them that it's customary to submit their resignations.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas, one of the most reactionary die-hards on Capitol Hill, is slated to take over Senator Ferguson's investigating committee.

Various cabinet members, all set to resign, are now angling to remain. One is Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, who gave only $100 to the Truman campaign.

 WE, THE WOMEN

BY EUTH MELLETT
NEA Staff Writer

The average housewife spends a lot of unnecessary time and back-breaking effort doing her daily chores because she is still following the old-fashioned domestic routines established by "Grandma," says Dr. Elaine Knowles Weaver, householding research authority of Ohio State University.

Dr. Weaver spends her time figuring out ways of cutting down on the time and effort involved in performing household tasks—working out short cuts and more efficient methods that, if adopted by the average housewife, could shorten her working hours and reduce her fatigue at the end of the day.

You Work On It
That, it would seem, is the kind of problem most housewives could figure out for themselves, if they put their minds to it.

In fact, Dr. Weaver says she knows of one housewife who cut two and a half hours off her working day by making her own time and motion study.

The only drawback is that along with inheriting Grandma's job, the housewife has inherited Grandma's attitude of resignation to the job's endlessness.

Instead of trying to do their jobs as quickly and as efficiently as possible and then quitting, they get a sort of satisfaction over never "getting through."

Before they can be tempted to abandon Grandma's methods they'll have to abandon Grandma's philosophy.

American Table Is Program Topic For Modern Study Club

The American table as a part of the American scene was the subject of a timely program for the Modern Study Club Wednesday afternoon, when members and a guest, Mrs. Ed Gideon, met in the home of Mrs. Carl Westlund, 801 North Marfield Street.

Traditional feasts of the holiday season were suggested in Mrs. Al Boring's discussion of "Native American Foods." The topic, "Table Settings," was presented in two divisions. Mrs. C. G. Keith speaking on "American Pottery" and Mrs. Lamar Lamb on "American Silver and Pewter." Members gave household hints to answer roll call.

Mrs. F. R. Schenck presided for a business session, when the club voted to contribute to the Community Chest.

Others present for the program and refreshment hour were Mrs. Ed Shakely, Mrs. W. S. Nelson, Mrs. Earl Station, Mrs. Harrie A. Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Slough, Mrs. C. L. Sherwood, Mrs. C. H. Children's Story Is Book Week Gift For Shelves Of Library

A National Book Week gift to the Midland County Library is a children's story presented by Mrs. J. M. DeArmond. It was announced Thursday by the librarian, Mrs. Lucille Carroll. It is "Eddie Elephant Has a Party."

This story, a true one, will be told this week to school visitors to the library, Mrs. Carroll said. The first school group to visit the library in Book Week came from the North Elementary School Wednesday, when 86 students from three fifth grade rooms made up the party.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Woodrow Wickman, Miss Lillas Stewart and Charlie Tubbs, the teachers. Mrs. K. C. Heald, Jr., told them a story, "Robbit, a Tale of Tails," showed them through the library and explained how library cards are issued.

The hats of all the American presidents from Grant to Truman ranged in size from 7 3/8 to 7 3/4.

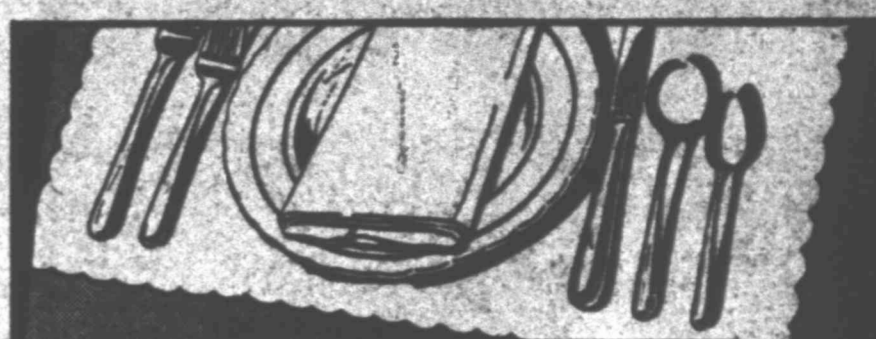

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight" gals who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves. Barentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barentrate.

Down SPORTSLANE

With TANNER LAINE

Carry on! The Bulldogs must carry on without Robert (Moe) Price Friday night.

Members of the MHS team should pledge themselves to "win one for Moe."

It is the traditional quality of fighting men that when one falls another takes his place. Without that quality certainly America never would have won a war.

Moe will be missed. Of that there is no doubt. As Larry will be missed. As Bill, as Buckingham, as Bivens, were missed.

A fighting team never gives up. Even when its ranks are the thinnest, oftentimes fighting hearts will beat faster, even faster, and the team which will give everything will win.

You Bulldogs, who are left alone, it's up to you. There will come times when you will think "if we just had Moe." But the cold realization must come—Moe isn't going to be there.

Then what?

You must dig in and give more. Someone will have to run for Moe. And that running should be inspired with the will to go. It must be for Moe in two ways—actually, 2 in his spirit. Moe was a scrapper, a great competitor. The man who takes his place must be one too.

Not only is it the quality of winning armies that when one falls another takes his place, but it also is the quality of winning football teams that they win even when the best player sometimes is out.

Teams win football games, not individuals. All teams win football games because of individuals, whether they perform or whether the team performs in honor to them. Many inspirations for winning have come from sources other than performance or individuals on the actual football field.

Just before the game opens Friday night, we would like to see the Bulldogs form a tight huddle with the coach, touch all hands and clap them together, and a pledge be made—"We are going to win this one for Moe."

Add to the American football "bowl games" the "Vittles Bowl."

The newcomer is named after "Operation Vittles"—the Allied airlift which is supplying Western Berlin over the Russian land blockade.

It will be played in Western Germany between service teams. Proceeds will go to the U. S. Army's German Youth Activities Fund to give Christmas parties for German youngsters.

Lubbock is coming into District 3-AA on a high horse. And that's bad for Lubbock. The loudest wall about the redistricting done by the Intercollegiate League has come from Lubbock, the "Hub of the Plains" and the home of Texas Tech.

Lubbock is afraid District 3-AA won't offer top-notch competition.

Bulldogs Thin On Manpower For Lamesa Battle Friday

District Win At Stake In Night Contest

Midland fans and followers better hope the Bulldogs escape any boys getting knocked out Friday night. The Purple has several regulars out of action and some have been sick this week prior to the game. Reserves are few.

The Bulldogs play Lamesa at 8 p. m. Friday in Lamesa. The Tornados are working up a storm to blow at the invaders. This is the last game of the season for the Lamesans. An all-out effort will be directed at Midland.

Not that Midland won't answer the kickoff. The Bulldogs will be on hand and every able man will give an account of himself. The Bulldogs will be out to win.

Midland will be minus two backfield standouts. They are Larry Messersmith, co-captain and lettered halfback who is carrying a leg injury, and Robert (Moe) Price, sack-back and scoring threat who broke his leg in practice Tuesday.

Quarterbacks Sick

Cecil Stephens, varsity quarterback and one of the hardest running boys in District 3-AA, has been sick but worked out Wednesday. Frank Robertson, reserve quarterback and the team's passer and punter, is sick with the flu and is in bed. Kent Miller, starting center, has an injured rib which X-rays showed not to be broken but the injury is painful and may hamper the big, tall snapper. Jimmy Deavenport, big tackle and defensive power, also has been sick this week.

The Bulldogs ran with a lot of zip in drills Wednesday. They worked on defense and rough stuff was taboo in light of the many injuries and thin manpower situation. The Purple worked defense against Lamesa's spread formation and pass plays. Jimmy O'Neal, line backer, looked good at intercepting the aerials.

A good outfit will start for Midland and two or three of the replacements will even add manpower. After that, the coaches will have to look as if these will start the tilt: Lloyd Henderson and Gene Heil, ends; Dan Branham and Don Deel, tackles; Jack Lynch and John Greene, guards; Kent Miller, center; Cecil Stephens, Bill Little, Larry Buckingham and De Downing, halfbacks. Plenty ready to take a place when needed are: Jimmy O'Neal, Jimmy Deavenport, Al Base, L. C. Thomas, Bob Woods, Harris Smith, David Weaver, Arnold Drake, Jackie Mobley, Bob Burks, Bill Seacor, Duane Fritz, Don Downing, Harry Lockamp, Pat Patton, Roy Mann, Charlie Wheat and Reed Gilmore.

Midland Mildly Favored

Only on the strength of season record and comparative scores is Midland favored to take this game. It's going to be a tough battle. Lamesa is just waiting for the injury-racked Bulldogs, coked and primed. It's going to take determination and will-to-win to push Midland across with a victory. Heavy falls the responsibility on the shoulders of the Bulldogs who are able to play.

One win is important to Midland. It will give the Bulldogs their third conference victory. Lamesa seeks its second district scalp having bested Big Spring 26-0. By the same token, the win is important to the Tornados.

The team which will win the most will win.

The Bulldogs will depart for Lamesa by bus Friday afternoon. A large following of fans will support the Purple, including their band and drill squad.

White Tail Kill On Season Opening Day Totals Above 1,000

AUSTIN—(AP)—The deer kill on the first day of the season was good despite warm weather, reports from throughout the Hill Country of Central Texas indicated Thursday.

Marble Falls, San Saba, Llano, Kerrville, Fredericksburg and Austin sources reported a total bag of more than 1,000 deer.

There were only scattered reports on the number of wild turkeys bagged.

Two loc storage vaults at Fredericksburg had 515 deer and "a goodly number of turkey gobblers" by 10 p. m. Tuesday. The deer were reported in excellent shape and averaged eight points.

Llano was swamped with hunters seeking day leases after 303 bucks were placed on cold storage there the first day. The largest dressed at 127 pounds.

Other Area Reports

Llano County Agent C. V. Robinson said Monday night was clear and moonlight, resulting in extensive feeding by the deer. The animals bedded down during the daytime heat of Tuesday, he explained. Similar conditions prevailed in other areas.

No specific figures were reported from San Saba, but ranchers reported a better than average crop of fat deer. Several hunters brought in deer the first day.

More than 100 deer were placed on cold storage at Marble Falls. Fifty-five deer and seven turkeys were brought into Kerrville, where hunting was said to be off to a slow start.

The word "plant" originally meant twig, shoot or sapling.

Louis Labels Bivins Toughest Opponent After Six-Rounder

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis labels Jimmy Bivins the toughest opponent he has faced so far on his exhibition tour.

"I don't know why he shouldn't be a contender if he gets serious about his training," Louis said in his dressing room Wednesday night after engaging in a six-round no-decision affair with the Cleveland negro.

"He threw two good right hand punches and I knew I was hit, but they weren't enough to bother me," the champion added. "Anyone who fights him has to be very careful."

No-Decision Melee

Bivins did most of the leading, while Louis opened up only sporadically. He almost dropped Bivins with a right hand in the second when the two were in a neutral corner.

The champion jabbed most of the time and seemed content to take it easy, but opened up suddenly at one point in the fifth and drove Bivins to cover with a flurry of rights and lefts.

Although the exhibition was a no-decision affair, Matchmaker Larry Atkins conducted a poll among newsmen at ringside and reported the writers favored Bivins by a 9 to 5 vote. However, most everyone agreed Louis had plenty in reserve.

Airtight Defense Theory Pays Gridiron Dividends

NEW YORK — (AP)—When all the returns are in this fall, some college coaches who stress football offense over defense might well sit down and reconsider.

Prime examples of the strong defense theory are Michigan and Clemson, two of the nation's remaining undefeated and untied major teams.

Rugged line work is Michigan's answer to high-scoring football opponents, and the Wolverines forwards might be classed as the best in the country. The Michigan opposition has scored just 41 points in eight games.

Clemson is right behind in the tight defense category, for the Tigers have yielded only 47 points in seven games.

Latest figures from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed Thursday that Michigan was fourth in rushing defense, having given up an average of 82.4 yards per game. Clemson is 19th, holding opponents to a 106.9 average on the ground.

Two other major unbeaten outfits, Army and North Carolina, rank third and fourth in total defense against both rushing and passing. Both have allowed only 167.1 yards per game.

Georgia Tech safe bet Michigan opponents have completed 40 per cent of their passes, for 123.3 yards per game, but only three have been for touchdowns. After leading for five straight weeks, Georgia Tech seems a safe bet to capture honors for the best total defense.

Tech is first in rushing defense, having given up only 56.8 yards per game on the ground. In eight games, the Engineers have a 137.6 yard average total defense figure.

Following are the defensive figures: Total defense — (average yards yielded per game to opponents' passing and running) Georgia Tech, 137.6; Maryland, 163.3; Army, 167.1; North Carolina, 167.1; Penn State, 176.0; North Carolina State, 183.3; Villanova, 184.3; Ohio State, 191.0; Oklahoma, 191.0; Vanderbilt, 191.0; Rushing defense—Georgia Tech, 82.4; Vanderbilt, 86.5; Penn State, 86.1; Minnesota, 90.8; California, 96.9; Army, 96.9; Georgia, 98.9.

Passing defense—Richmond, 49 yards per game; Northwestern, 52.8; Brigham Young, 53.1; Maryland, 53.4; Brown, 57.1; Harbin-Simmons, 57.8; Rice, 63.8; Utah, 63.8; Texas Christian, 64.5; Arizona, 65.8.

Abilene Blue Sox Are Sold

ABILENE — (AP)—Four Abilene businessmen have taken over the Abilene Blue Sox of the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball League.

They assured fans the team will play in 1949.

The four bought the grounds, grandstand and other properties from Howard Green and Dr. James P. Bridges—but the deal does not include any players or player contracts.

Green and Bridges had asked $30,000 for their baseball holdings here. Abilene was operated last year under Green's business management as a Brooklyn farm club.

Hayden Greer, who managed Abilene in 1946 and 1947, is expected to be manager again in 1949.

Movie Recipe: One 'Archie,' One Bouncer, Scramble, Serve

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—The movie box office is in the doldrums. Hollywood is yelling, "We gotta give the people what they want."

So today I give to Hollywood, free, Johnson's secret weapon to make at least one producer filthy rich and make a few million U. S. moviegoers happy between popcorn kernels.

My secret weapon is Archie of "Duffy's Tavern." Fellow by the name of Ed Gardner. The formula is simple: Give Archie something to bounce against. I'll explain the bouncing in just a minute, but first let me step on those words in Hollywood's mouth.

I can hear the complaint already: "But radio stars are no good at the box office."

That's a lot of onion juice. Two of the biggest stars in the business, Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer, were no good at the box office in "Arch of Triumph."

It's the story that counts.

Radio stars have been crucified on the screen because the movie-makers thought their names alone would stand 'em in the aisles.

Archie's Millions. So now we give Archie a good story, make a fortune and lure a lot of people back into the movies.

Look at Archie's record. He's crowding Hope and Benny and Fibber in network popularity. The audience for a movie starring Archie is there. All Hollywood has to do is give him a good story.

Archie, as you know, is an English-murdering character who sounds like a grown-up Dead End Kid with Dorothy Parker's sense of humor.

Archie's guests on his airshow usually are opera stars or suave Clifton Webbs or anybody a few million miles above his social standing. It's done liberally so Archie can bounce against them.

When Archie is bouncing against something high class, he can't be topped. In his first picture, "Duffy's Tavern," Paramount made the mistake of bouncing Archie against another comedian, Victor Moore. Archie didn't bounce. He collided. It wasn't funny.

So I say let's get Archie into another movie quick. Suggested stories: Archie goes to Paris and bounces off continental society. Or Archie goes west and bounces off a Jesse James or Calamity Jane.

Light Reading I didn't tell Ed Gardner I was going to get him back into pictures when we split a beaker

Elementary School Champions

Undefeated in three years of play and only once tied, West Elementary School's Westerners took the sports program football championship this fall. Here are the boys who won the 1948 pennant: front row left to right—James Barron, Mike Patton, James Monroe, Mike Millam, Sammy Fyest, Bill Harris, Gary Howard and Ronald Sherman; second row—Carol Thomas, Danny Page, Bob Turpin, Reams Cox, Barry Cummins, Billy Carpenter, Barry McGowan and Jimmy Little; third row—Albert McKandless, Gary Robertson, Dan Cox, Stu Chancellor, E. C. Feemster, Coy (Red) Hudson and Coach J. C. Small. Not shown in the picture are two West players, Walter Dunagan and Jim Owens.

Radio stars have been crucified on the screen because the movie-makers thought their names alone would stand 'em in the aisles.

Archie's Millions. So now we give Archie a good story, make a fortune and lure a lot of people back into the movies.

Look at Archie's record. He's crowding Hope and Benny and Fibber in network popularity. The audience for a movie starring Archie is there. All Hollywood has to do is give him a good story.

Archie, as you know, is an English-murdering character who sounds like a grown-up Dead End Kid with Dorothy Parker's sense of humor.

Archie's guests on his airshow usually are opera stars or suave Clifton Webbs or anybody a few million miles above his social standing. It's done liberally so Archie can bounce against them.

When Archie is bouncing against something high class, he can't be topped. In his first picture, "Duffy's Tavern," Paramount made the mistake of bouncing Archie against another comedian, Victor Moore. Archie didn't bounce. He collided. It wasn't funny.

So I say let's get Archie into another movie quick. Suggested stories: Archie goes to Paris and bounces off continental society. Or Archie goes west and bounces off a Jesse James or Calamity Jane.

Light Reading I didn't tell Ed Gardner I was going to get him back into pictures when we split a beaker

Merchants Offer Valuable Prizes In Treasure Hunt

Residents of Midland and vicinity will share prizes valued at approximately $3,000 in the Christmas Treasure Hunt sponsored by Midland merchants.

The event is a feature of the program officially opening the Christmas shopping season November 30.

Grid Card

The Midland C Bulldogs were scheduled to play the Big Spring Doggles at 3 p. m. Thursday at Big Spring.

John M. Cowden Junior High's eighth grade Bulldogs were slated to play the Odessa Juniors at Odessa at 6:30 p. m.

The Midland B Bulldogs will play the San Angelo B Bobcats at 3 p. m. Saturday at San Angelo.

Chamber of Commerce officials have contacted a majority of the merchants and more than 50,000 tickets have been distributed. An additional 20,000 tickets now are being printed and any merchant who has not been contacted should call the Chamber of Commerce if interested.

The Treasure Hunt is open to everyone who has occasion to visit Midland retail stores. Tickets for the hunt are distributed free upon request. No purchase is required to obtain a ticket.

Boxes have been provided in the participating stores where stubs of the Treasure Hunt tickets may be deposited. Prior to the hunt, the ticket boxes will be collected and stubs will be placed in a master container for mixing. Designated officials will draw a ticket for each prize to be given away. Numbers on the tickets drawn will be placed in front of prizes in the display window of participating stores.

Unveiled Windows At 6 p. m. on November 30, the windows will be unveiled and the Treasure Hunt will start.

Persons holding tickets may go from store to store seeking prize numbers which correspond with the numbers on the tickets they hold.

When the numbers have been matched, the prizes may be claimed. In order to receive a prize the holder of the lucky ticket must claim it in person on the day following the Treasure Hunt.

Prizes will not be announced prior to the hunt, but several merchants have signified their prizes are valued at $100 or more each.

Fifty merchants are participating in the Treasure Hunt program, and more are expected to join within the next few days, Chamber of Commerce officials said.

Grandfather Tobacco Plant Recreated

TUCUMAN, ARGENTINA—(P)—A plant which died thousands of years ago has been recreated and is growing happily in California. It is the grandfather of all tobacco plants, even though it would be a considerable disappointment if you tried to smoke it. The story of how it was created anew is a sidelight on how modern botany works.

Dr. Thomas H. Goodspeed of the Berkeley Botanical Garden is responsible for the recreation of the plant. He told about its birth during a visit to the South American Botanical Congress here. Tobacco was originally a hybrid between two entirely different plants. Under some unusual condition back before history began, they were cross fertilized and produced a new plant which continued as a new type. The new plant gradually changed and ultimately became modern tobacco. The parent plants also continued to exist and their modern descendants still grow near each other here in northwest Argentina.

Doctor Goodspeed discovered one of the parents many years ago during an exploring trip in this area. In 1942, during another trip, he found the other parent. Back in California, he crossed the two plants.

It's Easy To Understand UN Babbling

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(P)— Are you aware?

Are you hep to what is going on in the United Nations? Can you astonish your friends with your easy command of diplomatic terms? Do the people who used to laugh when you sat down at the piano now hold back their hoots until you try to pronounce plenipotentiary?

Well, there is a way to end all that. No longer need you babble with the rabble about simple subjects like baseball, the structure of the atom, the eternal whether about the weather.

Understanding the United Nations is as simple as A-B-C. Or, rather, it is as simple as learning your ABC's all over again — and backwards.

Phases And Phrases
Too help pierce the fog of phases and phrases that erupts from the UN sessions you merely need a dictionary of the new diplomatic language generated there.

Somewhere lost in every group of words used by the statesmen is a meaning — something someone is trying to say. The worlds only need to be translated to be understood. So herewith is presented a glossary of the more common phrases employed at the United Nations, which should make its debates crystal clear to everybody.

Truce — Something which is stranger than fiction.
Sovereignty — A thing every nation thinks every other nation except itself ought to give up.

Veto — A device with five handles for getting rid of hot potatoes without loss of dignity.
Negotiations — A type of conference known in baseball as "a rhu-barb."

Bloc — A group of dissident nations whose leader is known to the other side as "bloc-head."
Russian Glossary
Peace — This is what all the fighting is about.

The foregoing are general terms. There follows a strictly Russian glossary:
War monger — A nation that won't tell you how to make an atom bomb.

Petty bourgeois — One who has three meals a day—and enjoys them.
Fascist — A non-Communist.

ACIDITY
Fear, anger, excitement, careless eating—these cause acidity. Drink delicious pure Ozarka Water, free from chlorine, alum, copper sulphate. Physicians recommend it. Shipped everywhere.

Thanksgiving Dinner Costs Up About 10 Per Cent Here

By Cledde Shelburne
 In these days of the dollar-a-pound steak and rising prices, housewives throughout the Midland area are wondering just how much the price of the traditional Thanksgiving Turkey has advanced since last year. Apt as not they are in for a surprise.
 Those expecting to pay a dollar or more per pound will be surprised when they learn the current top price in most retail markets in this area is only 85 cents. Produce men here believe that 90 cents a pound is as high as they will go.
 Most markets now are accepting orders for Thanksgiving delivery at market prices.
 Turkey raisers in this immediate area are expected to supply only a small part of the total needed to meet the demand. Comparatively few turkeys are being raised in the county this year, and many farmers are holding their hens.
 The short supply from local producers will make it necessary for wholesale produce houses to ship in enough additional birds. This could cause some rise in the market price here.
 If you prefer chicken to turkey, your budget will suffer a lighter blow. The current market price on hens is about 65 cents a pound and is considered to be more stable than the turkey market.
 Turkeys sold at about 75 cents a pound in this area last Thanksgiving while hens sold mostly at 65 cents.
 Other food items generally used to complete the menu for a Thanksgiving dinner have advanced about 10 per cent in price.
 So, when the meal is prepared and eaten and the bill is paid, this year's case of Thanksgiving Day indigestion from over eating will have cost about 10 per cent more than the one last year.

Newcastle Disease Becomes Serious Threat To Poultry

A poultry disease discovered in 1926, and found in the United States in 1944, was reported in Texas in 1946.

It is a dangerous foreign disease known as Newcastle disease and has become a serious threat to poultry raisers. A Texas A&M bulletin explains that in other countries the disease has been known to cause a mortality rate as high as 100 per cent, though in the United States the death rate is much lower.

This serious malady is caused by a filtrable virus which has proven to be different from any other poultry virus now known. It attacks chickens of all ages and also turkeys, pigeons, geese, ducks and other fowl. First symptoms of the disease usually appear in five or six days after exposure.

Newcastle disease appears suddenly and spreads rapidly. Symptoms may be either respiratory and breathing troubles or nervous disorders. Egg production completely disappears.

Symptoms may vary in chickens of various ages. Young chicks' first stages are usually gasping and wheezing. Later nervous disorders and paralysis may occur. The head may be twisted and drawn between the legs, back between the shoulders or to one side. Excitement may cause seemingly normal chicks to walk in circles or backwards.

Symptoms for chickens of broiler age are similar to those of younger chicks except there are more cases of fatal paralysis. However, mortality for this age is lower than that of chicks, being only five to 10 per cent. Death rate for small chicks ranges up to 90 per cent.

Prominent respiratory symptoms are present in nearly grown and mature birds, though nervous disorders and paralysis is not nearly so frequent. Egg production drops to zero in four or five days but all to 10 per cent.

Newcastle disease is hard to diagnose from symptoms alone. Four other virus diseases produce symptoms similar to Newcastle disease and cannot be distinguished by observation. They are infectious bronchitis, epidemic tremors, laryngotracheitis and fowl paralysis. Also two nutritional deficiencies, crazy chick disease and curly toe disease, cause similar symptoms.

Report At Once
If Newcastle disease is suspected a report should be made at once to the Department of Veterinary Science, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, College Station, and ask for help in diagnosis. No sick birds should be sent by common carrier as this may spread the disease.

The disease may be spread by sick birds or recovered carriers, also by mechanical or accidental carriers. Whether it may be transmitted from the hen to the chick through the egg is not known. After Newcastle disease has broken out on a farm, the best protection may be provided other birds by vaccination. In vaccination, the poultry raiser should follow the manufacturer's instructions. Birds may be vaccinated any time after they are four or five weeks old but poults should be vaccinated at least one month before they start to lay.

Apples And Cheese Go Together

Apples and cheese make a wonderful dessert combination.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Apple production is down this year compared to last—in fact the crop will be about 20 per cent below average. However, the apples you get will be very fine. Prices, of course, may be higher.

Here are some top eating-apple suggestions:
To wind up a hearty Autumn dinner in high style, serve apples in their natural state and then "let digestion wait on appetite and health on both."

Apples and cheese are natural affinities. For a sophisticated dessert, serve polished red apples with a variety of cheese spreads. As the apple is sliced, each slice is spread with cheese and eaten in the fingers.

Whether the lunch box travels to school or to work, tuck in an apple or two and a generous wedge of sharp American cheddar cheese. A wonderful dessert combination is a bowl of gleaming apples and Autumn grapes, accompanied by melting Camembert or crumbly Roquefort, crisp crackers and fragrant hot coffee.

Keep a bowl of apples in the living room where it will catch the glow of the hearthfire and tempt the late-evening appetites of those who must finish "one more chapter" before retiring.

Cranberries are good, too, this year. Here is a good cranberry recipe for your holiday files:

Cranberry Nut Bread
One cup cranberries, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, grated rind 1 orange, 1 egg, beaten, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter.

Put cranberries through food chopper; mix with half the sugar. Sift remaining sugar with dry ingredients; add nuts and orange rind. Combine beaten egg, milk and melted butter and add to flour mixture. Fold in sweetened cranberries. Bake in buttered bread pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour. This bread slices best when one day old.

Czechoslovaks Want Changes In Schools

PRAGUE—(AP)—Czechoslovakia's educational system is due for an overhauling so that students who get as far as the university will have something more than book knowledge. Any student applying for university admission has to pass a sort of intelligence "acceptance committee" composed of one professor and two senior students.

The answers have to be right politically, of course. And the answers may, or may not, have been in books somewhere along the educational assembly line.

It's the answers that are making the educational authorities see red. One student who applied to enter journalism school was asked "Who is Dmitrovi?" He didn't know. "Well, what about Vishinsky?" The answer: "Never heard the name." Then, the candidate answered: "You see, I read books only by Czech authors."

One girl student who wanted to become a school teacher and recited reams of Shakespeare to prove her literary ability, was turned down because, among other things, she insisted beer was made from grapes.

One candidate for the medical college insisted that "The Marshall plan is an organization of the American Unitarian church which distributes Bibles and baby clothing in Germany . . . or in western Europe."

Church Members Profit By Modern Parable Of Talents

BUTLER, PA. (AP)—The Butler Trinity Lutheran Church is going to have a brand new $1,100 heating system thanks to the ingenuity of the pastor and 110 of his parishioners.

Last June the Rev. Hudson M. Clements borrowed $800 from a Butler bank and distributed the money to 110 members of his church in amounts varying from $2 to $10.

The 26-year-old minister told the 110 to invest the money in any manner they saw fit and to bring in their capital and any profits.

At a recent morning service the 110 reported—with a total of $2,124 enough to pay off the $800 loan and buy a new heater for the church.

A dentist, Dr. C. E. Miller, reported the largest return, $88 which he said was realized from an investment in alloys for dental fillings.

Mrs. Lewis Kuhn brought in $84 with the report she had baked and sold 48 pies, 32 dozen buns, 137 dozen cinnamon rolls, and one cake.

Evelyn Huselton brought in a dollar for each of her six years, explaining she had invested her $2 in strawberries.

Other parishioners reported they had sold balloons at the Butler County Fair, washed cars, sold brooms, mowed lawns, painted pictures, made Christmas tree decorations and raised rabbits.

EISENHOWER

was my boss
by Kay Summersby

Copyright, 1948, by Kay Summersby

Installation 17
"My personal mail's getting so heavy it's almost a full-time job in itself," the general complained one day. Then, as though struck by an after-thought, he added, "How would you like to take it over, Kay?" I jumped at the opportunity. Nevertheless, this was no haphazard offer; General Eisenhower probably believed the work might brush away some of my gloom and fill up the empty hours between motor trips.

General Eisenhower probably is the one great military leader in history who felt humble enough, even during crucial campaigns, to answer all personal mail. These letters began to trickle into AFHQ soon after the North African landings, numbered 30 to 50 a week by the time he reached Tunisia, and attained the proportions of a paper tidal wave by the time he was on the Continent. He first attempted to answer only those from C-I relatives; then, after I took over, insisted that each and every letter receive a reply.

"They have something important to say," he once remarked, "or they wouldn't take the trouble to write. So it's my job to answer them."

The mail was a constant delight. One letter might be from an Arkansas mother worried about her son wearing his long underwear. One might ask, in careful finishing-school script, that a certain young man be transferred from the wicked city of Algiers. Another might suggest a Rube Goldberg invention to win the war at one Superman stroke.

Still another, stained with tears and written laboriously, would simply and movingly offer God's blessing. Quite a few noted the slowness of promotions. The range of problems and subjects was greater than that faced by any priest at confession, for it seemed half the Western world regarded General Eisenhower as father, son, boss friend, and a sort of male Dorothy Dix. Their letters poured in from each of the United States, from Canada and the United Kingdom, written in everything from a sharecropper's scrawl to an executive's stiff but touching dictation.

Occasionally, no writer ever blamed the general personally for a particular grievance, whether it be the Darlan fiasco or the Kasserine Pass tragedy, a wounded husband or a sadistic C. O. The far-flung correspondents seemed to sense his staggering load of problems and usually wrote apologetically, "I'm sure you'd take care of this, if you knew about it." Very few wrote him with awe; they were respectful but informal, in the style of correspondence with a favored uncle or a city councilman.

Requests for autographs were an increasing problem. Ike decided to comply, if the writer were engaged in some sort of war work, no matter how small. Those who mentioned such activity—blood donations, bandage work, Red Cross service, USO aid, paper or fat collection—received a signed letter in reply. In this way, even the general's autograph was put to work for the war effort. I got the most fun out of the letters from the youngsters, who reported tremendous feats of home-front war work and wrote all about it, often in unconsciously humorous fashion, to win that autograph of General Eisenhower, which they prized more than any gift-box top.

Naturally, the mail included scores of parcels of every shape and description. They contained cigarettes, hand-knitted scarves and gloves and socks, sun glasses, Western magazines, books, food, piles of home-made fudge. Although meant as personal presents, they were far too many for the general's use. We saw that they went to the spots where they were most needed, the hospitals and the rest centers and the front-line troops.

Handling this flood of mail drew me into the small office, where I soon became part of the real official family. Before I had been among the outside, after-hours intimates; now I was in the "paper world," the official inner circle. And I acquired three new friends, Sue Sarafin, Margaret Chick, and Nana Rae, WAC's. With whom I was to be associated for the remainder of the long mobile war.

Meanwhile, all routine office work took second-place to one priority objective: the gigantic build-up for "Husky," the invasion of Sicily. Patton's Seventh Army and Montgomery's Eighth trained in the field until their men were almost stale with fatigue. Headquarters became increasingly tense.

Five days before the actual operation, official observers began to arrive. Among them, I met one of the war's most glamorous men, Lord Louis Mountbatten. Sitting beside him at dinner that night, I found the Combined Ops chief as engaging, interesting, and handsome as the gushing press described him.

Very few men live up to the "dashing" tag, but Lord Louis Mountbatten is dashing—a tall, noble, intriguing man with a romantic background which began back as long as the days when he was a distinguished London playboy. He got along splendidly with the general, to whom he referred as Ike; the latter immediately called him Dickie. Lord Louis, an obvious admirer of the general, often got so excited during conversation that he almost moved into his listener's lap; as one of his own staff put it, "Dickie could talk the leg off a race tout." All in all, I found him very handsome—especially in Navy whites—and refreshingly charming.

Before that week was out, our war flamed up in full fire again. On July 9, General Eisenhower flew to Malta to supervise the assault upon Sicily which began early the following morning. The Germans had sworn to make a bitter battlefield out of every inch of the island and we all watched the news apprehensively.

Sicily may have been a side-issue campaign back home but on the scene it was a huge, vital operation; none of the big brass bothered to hide his worry. After all, the staff planners had ordered about one thousand naval craft of every description and at least 150,000 men to take part in the invasion—more than assaulted North Africa itself. We all breathed easier when the landing went off all right. But the Americans at headquarters cursed U.S. General Patton, who had the tough job in "Torch" operation, also ran into the stiffest opposition in this show.

Crane County Will Get Improved Road

CRANE—Highway 51 out of Crane north is to be widened and improved at an estimated cost of $132,000 according to a letter received by Judge J. A. Beyer from the State Highway Department.

The qualified property owners of Crane county are being called to the polls Saturday to vote a $100,000 road bond issue. If the election carries an adequate paved road system over the county will be completed including widening and improving of city roads. The issue would supplement the insufficient $425,000 bonds last voted.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

Sometimes worn bearings in the starting motor cause the armature to rub. This can be ascertained without removing the motor by holding a small piece of iron or steel against the outside of the housing while someone steps on the starter button. If the gauge is attracted to the housing, the armature is rubbing.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Talking Tree

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail had finished his lunch at the monkey house. He was all alone and sleepy. He lay down there and across the bed. He looked out the window at the leaves of the very tall tree where his monkey house sat in the top. The leaves of the tree were still.

"You tell me now," Daddy Ringtail said to the tree, "if you see a cloud that looks like rain. I must close the windows if the rain begins to fall."

Yes, Daddy Ringtail asked the tree to tell him if any rain should start to fall. Oh, but it wasn't a joke when he did it. There are trees who can talk, but they will never talk to you unless you believe they can.

Daddy Ringtail closed his eyes for sleep, but he didn't close his ears. He listened for anything that the tree might say. And as he listened, the leaves of the tree began to stir. They rustled together, whispering. Oh, it was only the wind, or was it? Daddy Ringtail listened carefully, while the tree just seemed to say: "Sleep. Sleep. Sleepy time now." And the voice of the tree was ever so gentle, because the wind was blowing softly through the leaves.

Daddy Ringtail became sleeper and sleeper. His eyes were closed tight and tight and tighter. He didn't see the cloud of black that had moved up in the sky. But the tree saw the cloud, and the tree knew that the cloud was bringing rain to the Great Forest.

The tree tried to tell Daddy Ringtail about it. No longer was the voice of the tree so gentle and soft. It was loud and excited. The leaves of the tree were dancing in the wind. They changed from green to a silvery white—as the wind turned them upside down. "Wake up! Wake up!" they tried to say. "The rain is coming today!"

Daddy Ringtail heard the tree. He understood what the tree was trying to tell him. He jumped out of bed and closed the windows just as rain began to fall from the sky. The rain rained and rained and rained, oceans and rivers and lakes of water, while the wind and the leaves of the tree danced merrily. And I know that the tree was really a talking tree, don't you? I wish I could always know what a tree is saying, but a happy day to you at your house, and a happy day to all the people there.

MAYBE IT'S INFLATION— Football Scoring Is Bigger, Better

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe it's the inflation, maybe not—but college football is headed for its greatest offensive year in history.

When the curtain rings down in the next few weeks, the campaign will have produced the highest scores, most touchdowns, most passes and most total yards of any season since the sport was introduced the middle of the last century. At the rate they're going, the major college teams are going to rack of 2,000 points more than last year, which was the best scoring season on record.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, which keeps track of such things, says the 121 colleges listed in the major class have scored 17,432 points in 954 games so far.

1947 Is Dead Goin' Last year's total—which is a dead goin'—was 18,653. Teams are averaging 18.27 points a game compared with last year's 18.7.

There are 191 games to go. A new record is bound to be set in touchdown production. In 1947 there were 2,775. Already there have been 2,567. So you can count on at least 300 more TDs than ever before.

Field goals already have topped last year's all-time high of 38. There have been 41 of the three-pointers.

The greater numbers of touchdowns naturally has brought an equivalent greater number of extra points. But point-kicking proficiency also has improved. Whereas the average conversion last year was 65.6 per cent, the upright-splitters are moving along at a 70.7 clip this time.

More And Better Passes The trend is toward more and better passes. It looks like at least 1,000 more passes will be thrown with 600 more completions for 12,000 more yards and 130 more touchdowns than in 1947.

Last year 17,025 passes were thrown, a total of 7,130 completed for 102,349 yards and 82 touchdowns. Already aerial artists have flung 15,128 this season with 6,523 completion for 95,278 yards and 797 touchdowns.

The total yardage probably will exceed the 1947 gains by 30,000. The major teams covered 285,299 compared with 261,676 already traveled this year.

The average gain per game is 275.3 yards compared with 255.4 in 1947.

Sectionally, the Southwest has captured the scoring leadership it held during the "aerial circus" era but later lost. The boys in the wide open spaces are averaging 19.35 points per game for the best in the land, with the East second at 19.32.

The traditionally defensive minded Southeast trails in the scoring department with an average of 16.31 points per game.

Requirements Listed For Food Handlers

Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the Midland-Howard-Rector County Health Unit, has announced an inspection of Midland restaurants by state officials is continuing. Dan Mowrey of the State Food and Drug Department is here to assist in the inspection.

Particular emphasis is being placed upon the performance of the duties of restaurant employees who can, by careless food and utensil handling, nullify every effort of the management toward maintaining a sanitary establishment.

The City of Midland passed an ordinance in 1946 regulating the licensing of food handlers and making it unlawful to handle food without a license.

Certain standards must be maintained in order for a person to hold a license. According to the ordinance a food handler must have a state health card; keep hands and fingers out of contact with food, drink, ice and surfaces of eating and drinking utensils with which food and a person's mouth come in contact; protect food from exposure to filth; protect perishable foods; not smoke in rooms where food is prepared, and not work while suffering from a communicable disease.

Here's a harvest dinner, all in one dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here's one of those round-up harvest meals that cut costs, kitchen and serving time. You'll like it.

Harvest Dinner In A Dish

(8 servings)

One-quarter cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 cup ground beef, 2 tablespoons salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, 2 cups cooked potatoes, cubed, 2 cups string beans, cooked, 2 cups corn, cooked, 4 medium-size tomatoes, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

Cook chopped onion in shortening until almost tender. Add meat and brown. Add one teaspoon of salt, the pepper and chili powder; stir until well blended. Place in greased two-quart heat-resistant glass casserole. Place potatoes over meat; sprinkle with some of salt. Arrange string beans in layer on top of potatoes, then the corn on top of beans, sprinkling each layer with salt. Slice tomatoes and place over corn. Sprinkle with remaining salt and the teaspoon of sugar. Top with grated cheese and chopped parsley. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes.

Sweet Potato Pie

Two eggs, well beaten, 2 cups pureed canned or cooked sweet potatoes, 2 tablespoons cream corn starch, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1/8 teaspoon ground ginger, 3/4 cup extra sweet corn syrup, 1/2 cup juice from sweet potatoes, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter or fortified margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, one 9-inch unbaked pie shell.

Add well-beaten eggs to sweet potato pulp and blend thoroughly. Combine cream corn starch, salt, cinnamon, ginger and corn syrup. Gradually add potato juice, milk, butter or margarine and vanilla; mix thoroughly. Fold into first mixture. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 45 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Girls, You'll Find More Eligible Men Out On The Farms

COLLEGE STATION — If you're looking for a husband, your chances of finding him are better in the country than in the city.

Yet rural women leave the farm much earlier than young men and the migration rate is higher.

Why?

Recent studies conducted by rural sociologists in Washington State may have the answer. College girls were asked to give their preference for choice of husbands. Professional men were rated first with business men second. The reasons given for not wanting to marry farmers had nothing to do with the man or his occupation, but his environment. The girls didn't like the social disadvantages, isolation, hard physical labor and long hours, as well as poorer educational advantages and smaller incomes that are usually found in rural areas.

No Indication

Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension family life education specialist of Texas A&M College, says the study gave no indication that college education turns young women against farming—in fact, the higher the education of the girl's parents, the more favorable she is toward marrying a farmer. And girls from farm homes preferred farmers for husbands almost as often as professional men.

The majority of these students, she says, expressed willingness to become farm wives if they could have the same conveniences in the country, too, as well as the fact that farm life is favorable to raising children, happy family relations and better health.

And yet they continue to leave the farms for the cities, where their chances for marriages are lower. The reasons given by these college girls are worth consideration by farm organizations and other groups interested in farming and farm life, Mrs. Johnson concludes.

TAILORS PROTEST SHORTAGES

SHANGHAI — (P) — How can a tailor do his tailoring without cloth or thread? He can't, say Shanghai tailors, and they'll close shop unless the government eases the rigid silk ration which isn't enough to let them keep within hailing distance of customer demand.

PUNCTUATED MAIL

DENVER — (P) — Colorado's rural letter carriers have a beef, says their president, Joe A. Hill of Pine. They wish hunters would stop taking potshots at letter boxes stuck on posts at roadside gates.

A tree can grow to little more than 300 feet tall because mechanical laws make it impossible for a higher tree to stay erect.

Continental Has Family Fare Plan

Under a new family fare plan which went into effect this week, Continental Airlines now offers half-fare rates to teen-agers and spouses when accompanied by a full-paying head of the family for air travels on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, H. O. Whiles, acting station manager here, said.

The only exception to the plan, Whiles said, is that half fares may not begin a portion of the itinerary on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving, except on a connecting flight. Congestion at airports during this holiday is responsible for the lone exception.

The head of the family may be either husband or wife, and this one pay person must pay the full fare. The other spouse and-or children 12 through 21 years of age each pay 50 per cent of the adult one-way fare. The children two to 12 years currently have been charged half fare, the station agent said. Youngsters under two years are flown free of charge when accompanied by a paying adult.

ON THE SEA

The first lighthouse in the United States exposed to the sea was that on Minots Ledge, a reef off Boston. It was built in 1848, destroyed a year later, and replaced in 1860.

Electrical charges on their particles enable certain soapy chemicals called detergents to prevent the curdling of paint, cosmetics and other commercial preparations.

'Mom And Pop' Day Is Held At Rankin

RANKIN — The Rankin School, as a part of the recent National Educational Week observance, held a "Mom and Pop" day. A regular day's schedule was divided into 20 minute periods, and parents were sent invitations to attend school with their children. Each invitation bore the schedule of the student's work for a day.

Following classes an assembly was held in the auditorium for parents, teachers and students. The fourth grade pupils danced "Put Your Little Foot" and Jan Daugherty sang "Tree in the Meadow." Irene Nettleship was the accompanist.

A contest had been held for "Mom and Pop Day" and the fifth grade won a half-holiday as an award for having the most visiting parents during the afternoon. The school served cookies, ice cream and hot chocolate to all present.
