WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
 NEA Staff Writer

When a Spokane housewife told the judge her husband "thought the height of entertainment was listening to the Lone Ranger" she was granted a divorce.
 If every wife in the country who considers her husband's favorite amusement a downright juvenile would ask for a divorce the courts would really be crowded.
 Think of the number of non-funny paper readers married to men who read the funnies before they read the front page of their newspapers.
 Look at all the women who can't understand how a grown man can get so much enjoyment out of detective stories and western magazines.
 Consider the countless women who can't comprehend how a man can sit in the cold for hours waiting for a chance for a shot at a bird—and call it entertainment.
 Matter Of Choice
 On the other hand, there are just as many husbands who don't understand why a woman will spend her leisure reading trashy love stories and listening to soap operas or how she can play bridge all afternoon.
 What seems juvenile entertainment to a woman and what seems juvenile entertainment to a man are two entirely different matters.
 And fortunately that fact is accepted matter-of-factly in most families, rather than being regarded as incompatibility and grounds for divorce.

Youngsters Learn Stagecraft In Junior Workshop Units Of Community Theater

"John, use your upstage knee," Director Art Cole told John Hunter in rehearsal of "Puss in Boots" by a Children's Theater group in the Midland Community Theater. "Gee, Mr. Cole, I knew I had a right and a left knee but I didn't know I had an upstage knee," replied John, and the director had an opportunity to explain to him and the others in the cast that "upstage" in the theater means away from the audience because the Elizabethan stage was built on a slope and the description which was used literally then has become a standard stage expression of today.

Italian Film Showing Sponsored By AAUW Members Wednesday

Sponsored by the Midland Branch, American Association of University Women, a showing of the Italian film, "Shoeshine," in the Yucca Theater Wednesday will be an experiment to find whether there is enough interest in Midland to warrant bringing other foreign movies here.
 "Shoeshine" has been praised by motion picture critics as one of the most realistic, most moving, and most technically excellent films to be produced anywhere in the world in recent years.
 It is a story of two Roman street boys at the close of World War II and although it was filmed with a purpose, to accomplish reforms in the institutional handling of children in Italy, the subject is presented with compassion and humor as well as with anger.
 Arrangements for the one-day showing here were made by AAUW members in cooperation with J. Howard Hodge, theater manager, with the hope that other foreign films, ordinarily seen only in larger cities, may be brought here. The foreign productions of interest now include Lawrence Olivier's Shakespearean films from England.

A Democracy gives thanks...
 The observance of Thanksgiving Day is a true expression of the spirit of Democracy. It was born in the voluntary action of a band of people who had weathered and overcome hardships as a group. It was one of the first evidences of democratic action in the New World.
 The growth and strengthening of the democratic way brings ample cause for Thanksgiving in this good year 1948. One modern form of democratic action for which thousands are thankful is Blue Cross—Blue Shield. These non-profit, companion plans free member families from the worry and the burden of hospital and medical expense. Through small monthly payments, these once-crippling costs are prepaid without upsetting the family finances. Yes, there is much for which to be thankful in this land where such voluntary group action can remove so great a mental and financial load from mankind.

Pediatricians Say New Drug For Polio Not Very Effective

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—A new drug for polio, used for the first time this summer, is "apparently not a wonder drug and apparently not very effective," two pediatricians said Monday.

The drug is named darvisol. It was tried on human patients after laboratory tests showed it helped protect mice from the polio virus. The report was a preliminary study on some patients in Texas and North Carolina who got the drug. It was stressed that it is still too early to tell how effective the drug may be.

The report was made to the American Academy of Pediatrics by Dr. Clifford C. Grulee, Jr., associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Texas Medical School, Galveston, and Dr. Robert B. Lawson, professor of pediatrics at the North Carolina Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, N. C.

"The preliminary examinations of some patients at treatment centers in Texas and North Carolina shows that darvisol is not very effective, although it may help to some extent," they said.

"It apparently cannot be counted on to prevent paralysis in humans, or to aid materially in a patient's recovery."

Judge Hughes Honored By AAUW Board

An informal tea in the home of Mrs. E. E. Reigle Saturday afternoon gave board members of the Midland Branch, American Association of University Women, an opportunity to meet Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, state chairman of the AAUW's status of women committee.

Judge Hughes was in Midland to speak at a luncheon for the City-County Federation of Women's Clubs to which the Business and Professional Women's Club was hostess Saturday noon.

Guests in Mrs. Reigle's home served themselves from a tea service arranged on the dining room table, and talked with Judge Hughes and asked her questions about her work in the organization.

Those present included Mrs. Ralph Troseth, Mrs. H. C. Bozarth, Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, Mrs. R. B. Monkres, Mrs. Leonard Thomas, Mrs. W. T. Magee, Mrs. R. L. Clarke, Mrs. Keith Stuart, Mrs. R. V. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Earl A. Johnson and Mrs. C. G. Cooper.

After the tea, Judge Hughes was the guest of a group of Business and Professional Women's Club members for a supper in the Midland Country Club before she took the plane for her return to Dallas.

WeeBee Is Newest Miniature Airplane

EL CAJON, CALIF.—(AP)—Want to fly like a bird? Then try the "Wee-Bee," described by its designers as the world's smallest piloted airplane.

The craft completed a successful maiden flight Saturday with Pilot Bill Bouck harnessed to the top of the 13-foot fuselage like a winged man. He reached the controls, inside the plane, through two armholes.

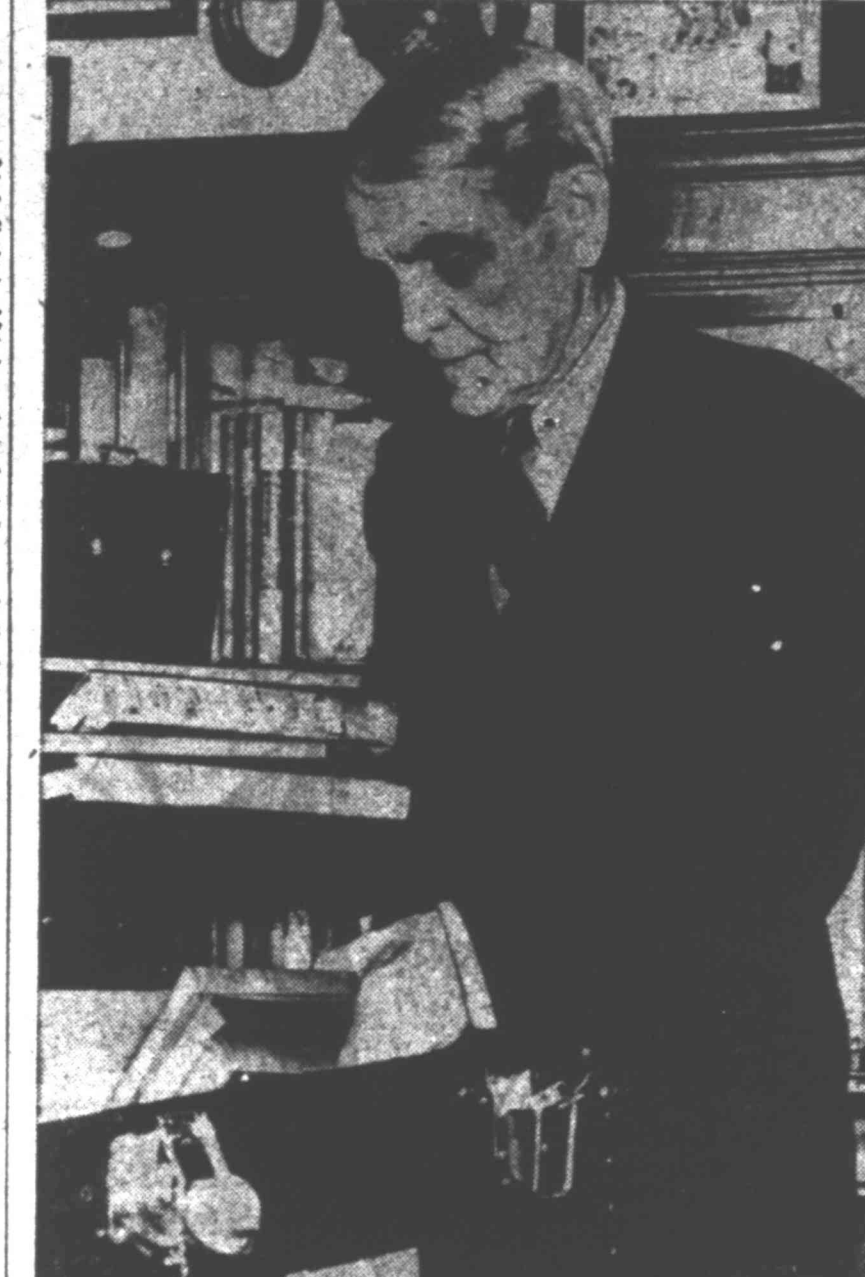

Bouck went up 25 feet on several short flights and said he could have gone higher. The craft has a 15-foot wingspread, weighs 150 pounds. It was designed and built for $200 by Kenneth Coward, 27, Earl H. Montijo, 23, and William F. Chana, 27, San Diego aircraft company workers and pilots.

but then came the war, transport duty and later a job as skipper with the KLM Dutch Airlines.

His first opportunity to return to Kent for his degree came this year when he was able to sandwich in classes between his regular overseas runs. A change to any other school would have meant the loss of credits and another year.

Here's the way Wilkin works it: His airline flight is from New York to the Netherlands. On Saturday his Constellation leaves New York at 9:30 a. m. for the 17 1/2-hour hop to Amsterdam. Monday night he begins the return trip, landing at LaGuardia Field Tuesday at 11 a. m. After a little rest and a change of clothing he's back in a plane, but this time as a passenger heading

Bradley Offers Wise Prescription

After reading Gen. Omar N. Bradley's speech to the Chicago Economic Club we are convinced that General Eisenhower has a wholly worthy successor as chief of staff. General Bradley's military brilliance is unquestioned. But his speech was marked by the same clear-sighted wisdom, compassionate wish for peace, and understanding of the civilian's viewpoint which have made General Eisenhower the admired and trusted public figure that he is.

General Bradley acknowledged that military expenditures were high and that they completed with needs of social progress. He said that it is the people and Congress, not the military, who must make the final decision on military budgets and rearmament. At the same time he expressed the sound view that one division for the prevention of war is worth a dozen divisions for fighting a war.

General Bradley noted that "there is happily a vast difference between the possibility and probability of war." But he warned that between them may lie a "twilight of tension" in which there is danger of complacency if the cold war should become a "war of boredom."

It was encouraging to us to see that the general had bluntly labeled as "fools" those persons who talk of winning a war in a few days with new weapons, or who say "if war is to come, let it come now." And it was more encouraging to hear from a man, who has a commanding voice in military policy, a statement of what he thinks that policy should be.

We need, said General Bradley, a stable, long-range military policy no less than we need a stable long-range foreign policy. It should be a policy that does not "respond to crises after they have erupted" and does not shift "every time a paper is rustled east of the Elbe."

Foreign policy today is badly hampered by interim uncertainty. Military policy is still hampered by disagreement among the leaders of our armed services, which seem to be "unified" more in name than in fact. Both situations give cause for some concern. So it is all the more reassuring to hear this clear and sane statement from the chief of staff, and to feel that it is being urged upon our makers of top policy.

The makers of top policy include Congress, of course, as well as the executive department. And it seems likely that Congress will have the same confidence in him that it had in his distinguished predecessors, General Eisenhower and Marshall.

If the present chief of staff will talk as convincingly to Congress—and through Congress to the people—as he did to the Economic Club of Chicago, he will probably find strong backing for his wise prescription for the nation's continued welfare.

Mechanized Utopia

Because zippers offer quick relief from the onerous job of fastening buttons, snaps, buckles and such, their manufacture has grown into a $100,000,000-a-year industry. And because they also will get out of order at the most embarrassing and frustrating times, we now have a zipper repair tool which, its maker says, "is adjustable to 100 per cent of all zipper problems." We find all this encouraging. For the gadgets that make our lives simpler (and at the same time more complex) also make jobs.

If this keeps up the American citizen may reach the point where he carries more equipment than a telephone lineman. But that's probably a small price to pay for banishing the specter of technological unemployment.

When a gang leader has a questionable employe on his payroll, it's customary to lay him out rather than off.

Scravls on a telephone pad usually mean the operator is having trouble getting the number.

FCC's Non-Censorship Ruling Weathered Election Very Well

By PETER EDSON NKA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—In spite of the tough slugging by rival candidates in the past election, Federal Communications Commission's ruling that radio stations may not censor political broadcasts came through with only one challenge. Even it was not serious. So the ruling will stand until another election rolls around, or unless Congress amends Section 315 of the Communications Act of 1934, which might happen in the next session.

When FCC made its controversial interpretation of this section of the FCC act February, the radio industry freely predicted that it would cause all kinds of trouble. FCC not only said the law banned political censorship, it held that radio station operators could not be sued under state laws for libelous or defamatory remarks made over radio stations by political candidates. FCC handed down this opinion shortly after Wayne Coy became chairman. In announcing it, Coy said he wanted to clear the air for the 1948 campaign. Up to that time, radio station operators were confused as to their duties and responsibilities on political broadcasts. FCC tried to settle the question, pending a test case before the courts in which a legal opinion would officially interpret the law.

FCC stepped into the issue through a three-year-old application for renewal of license by station WHLS, Port Huron, Mich. In this Port Huron case, as it is called, three 1945 candidates for city commission had bought time for broadcasts over WHLS. When the first candidate presented his script, the station manager read it and decided that it contained statements which were untrue. The station manager then canceled the broadcast. He also canceled time for the other two candidates, since he was required by law to make equal time available to all rival candidates requesting it. These two candidates then appealed to FCC to cancel the station's license on the grounds of censorship. FCC, after waiting three years, set aside the complaint and renewed the station's license. Then the commission went on to say that the law meant what it said—that there can be no censorship and no libel in political broadcasts. Radio broadcasts are interstate commerce, and they can be stopped at state lines.

That was where matters stood until last July, when the Houston, Texas, Post, operators of station KPRC, filed a petition in Federal District Court, asking that the FCC ruling in the Port Huron case be set aside. One of the points raised by lawyers for the Post was that an action in using gumdrops for holiday gifts and fruit cakes cut them with a kitchen scissors.

The Houston court then dismissed the petition of the Houston Post, finding that since there was no action against station KPRC, the court had no jurisdiction. This left the FCC's Port Huron ruling standing just where it was, and it will take another test case to clarify the matter further.

In the last election, FCC got only a dozen complaints that radio stations had not granted candidates for public office full time for political broadcasts. Considering that there were 1,000 broadcasting stations and many times that number of candidates wanting time on the air, that record is considered good.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Cities Attack Air Pollution, But Health Problem Remains

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service The amount of smoke and fumes belched into the air varies widely from place to place. Some cities have many industries, apartments burning soft coal, and other sources of air pollution, while other communities do not have the problem at all.

The control of air pollution has not been completely ignored. Recently the American Journal of Public Health contained a series of articles concerning this problem in Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, and New York. The Cleveland report indicated that the problem could be attacked at its point of origin in the industrial plants in residential neighborhoods, and by other means. The same report warned that the community must not be misled into believing that complete elimination of air pollution is possible. Also such programs on smoke abatement as can be carried out are costly.

The Pittsburgh report stated that 1,500 smoking stacks in that city had been cleared in the previous four years, and that this should have had some effect on general conditions. The Los Angeles experiments indicated that the cooperation of health department officials, engineers, and industrial hygiene bureaus working together could accomplish a great deal for air pollution control. For many years the sanitary code of New York City provided that no person should allow smoke, cinders, dust, gas, steam, or offensive odors to escape or be discharged from any building to the detriment or annoyance of any persons outside. These regulations applied to buildings, locomotives, and vessels. In 1927 these provisions were made stronger and more specific so that further progress in control of pollution of New York City has been obtained.

These reports indicate an encouraging interest in cutting down the amount of air pollution. The problem as a whole, however, is still in its infancy. With the enormous industrialization of our large cities, it has become a pressing matter which fully merits all the efforts which can be put into the subject by health officials, sanitary engineers, industrialists and community-minded citizens.

made easily, but several North and South pairs found themselves in a difficult five-diamond contract.

West's opening lead of the king of spades held the first trick. If South had made the mistake of taking this trick with dummy's ace, his contract would have been defeated.

Now the ace and king of diamonds were cashed, and the king and ace of clubs. A small club was ruffed by declarer with the jack of diamonds, and a small trump led to dummy's ten-spot.

On the two high clubs in dummy, declarer discarded two of his losing hearts. After conceding a heart trick, he won the rest of the tricks, making his contract.

If South had made the mistake of taking the first trick with the ace of spades in dummy, it would have been impossible to establish the club suit without first allowing East to get in the lead with the queen of clubs. East then would have switched to the jack of hearts, and this would have defeated the contract.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON — At Key West, happy, humble Harry Truman and his faithful sidekick, Alben Barkley, swam, fished and loafed. But though they dined and talked much, they left with a clear understanding of Barkley's new role in the administration.

It was agreed that the new vice president will serve as Senate majority leader and take an active part in the Truman program. Barkley—right up to the day before inauguration, Barkley will be needed for any purpose of the Democrats—if there is one.

After January 20, it has been decided, the new vice president will operate as a working liaison between the President and Congress. He will do more than sit in the presidential chair for all tourists to look at, but will mingle actively in the corridors and use his influence in putting over Truman's program.

But that isn't all—Barkley also will sit in on cabinet meetings, will take some of the executive burdens from the President's shoulders.

Senator Gets Religion Wisconsin Senator Joe McCarthy has really got religion when it comes to public housing. Joe now is working among Republicans who blocked the Housing Bill in the 80th Congress to swing them around to public housing, and stum clearance.

Though previously regarded as a tool of the real estate lobby, McCarthy now insists that he has always stood up for a liberal housing program. He fought against public housing and slum clearance, he explains, because he feared these two provisions would drag the rest of the housing bill down to defeat.

Perhaps, like the Supreme Court, the senator from New York has read the election returns, but any way he has now written Sen. Robert Taft for help to round up Republican votes for a bipartisan housing program—which would give the Democrats all they are asking. This is a little funny in view of the fact that Taft was an original author of the housing bill and at the last session tried to get McCarthy to vote for it.

However, McCarthy has a couple ideas of his own which he would like to add. He will try: (1) to assign public housing units to needy families solely on the basis of need, as determined by social workers; (2) to relieve the Federal Housing Administrator of all extra duties and permit him to devote his full time to public housing; and (3) to grant a 100 per cent secondary market for veterans' cooperatives so they will have no trouble obtaining loans.

French "Merit Train" Isolationists frequently argue that Europe does not appreciate American aid; claim we are pouring food dollars into an ungrateful, bottomless European pig.

Touring France today, however, are 49 boxcars, relics of World War I in which American troops traveled, which comprise the Train of Merit or "Merit Train" to the American people. The Merit Train is picking up gifts from the French people to the American exactly as the Friendship Train toured the United States one year ago, and the French train is a gesture of appreciation for the Friendship Train.

It is significant that the chief organizers of the Merit Train are French veterans. Spearhead of the movement is Commandant Guy De La Vasselais, French liaison officer to General Patton during the war. The idea of sending us boxcars which carried U. S. troops was conceived by the Association of French Railway Veterans.

But every cross-section of the French population is participating. President Auriol personally is contributing 49 porcelain vases of the famed Sevres variety. The French Minister of Agriculture has collected 49 bushes and trees from all over France. The French mint has struck off 49 sets of medals, some of them duplicates of medals given to Eisenhower and Patton by a Verdun Veterans Association has donated the original 1918 flag which flew over Verdun, inscribed with the historic words "On Ne Passe Pas" (They Shall Not Pass).

The City of Oen, which understood such devastating bombardment when Field Marshal Montgomery tried to oust the Germans after the Normandy landing, has sent 49 bronze school bells.

These are only a few of the precious gifts sent by the French people. Incidentally, the French are sending no wines, perfumes, or luxury items—only gifts of sentimentality and historical value.

Each of the 49 boxcars will be deposited, with its contents, in the 48 states, while the 49th will go to the District of Columbia to be turned over to government officials for the Territory of Hawaii, which flew a special train to the mainland and contributed three carloads of sugar to the Friendship Train.

At a time when so many international projects are being twisted or obstructed by political maneuvering, here is a gesture from the French people to the American people sent in the spirit of openhanded friendliness.

Prudential Senator Charitable Alben Barkley, newly elected vice president, would like to leave the door open for Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho, the Democratic Party's prodigal son, to come back.

The subject was brought up the other day by Illinois Senator Scott Lucas, probable majority leader in the 81st Congress. At a luncheon in the back room of the Democratic Policy Committee, Lucas suggested that Taylor ought to be purged for teaming up with Henry Wallace.

"Now, Glen Taylor isn't such a bad fellow," gently chided Barkley. "I know two or three sons of guns who are a damn sight worse. When the roll is called, you'll see they're not to be hard on Glen Taylor."

Note—Barkley didn't immediately identify who he considered "a darn sight worse." Later, however, he named two likely candidates to be swept out in a Democratic house-cleaning—Senators James Eastland of Mississippi and John McClellan of Arkansas, both with Dixiecrat sympathies. If left alone, they would inherit control of Senator Homer Ferguson's investigating committee and be in a spot to embarrass the administration.

Minnesota's political humpty—Senator, Sen. Joe Ball (rhymes with "Fall"), will go back to newspaper writing, again about possible a column to papers across the country. Harold Stassen's political machine, dormant since the GOP National Convention, is beginning to stir again. His supporters are talking about possible a run for President—in 1952. (Only 1499 campaigning days 'till elections.)

young ladies around here by now. That'll make it more comfortable for you. How about tomorrow night? Nothing on for then, have you?"

"Not a thing," said Durand, satisfied with having gained his reprieve for the present at least, and trying with the thought of sending his excuse sometime during the course of the following day as the best way of getting out of it. Any further reluctance at the moment, he realized, would have veered over into offense, even where such a thick-skinned individual as Worth was concerned.

Waltz into Darkness BY WILLIAM IRISH

THE STORY: Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on a correspondence with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. She comes from St. Louis to New Orleans by boat to meet a man she is young, ravishing, blond. Within a month of their marriage, she withdraws $50,000 from his bank account and disappears. Investigation reveals her impostor. Durand retains Walter DeWanna, detective, to prove that a man was committed against the real Julia Russell, who vanished on the boat to New Orleans. A year later, Durand is alone in Biloxi. He makes the acquaintance of a Colonel Worth in a hotel bar.

"I'd be honored," said Durand. He was beginning to wish the night page boy would put in an appearance.

"She'll be coming down in a minute or two for me to pick her up." The colonel was suddenly visited with an inspiration. "Why don't you join us for tonight? Love to have you. Come on out with me and I'll introduce you."

"NOT tonight," said Durand a little hastily. Grasping at any excuse he could find, he stroked his own jaw line tentatively. "I wasn't expecting Alfred I'm not presentable."

"The colonel cocked his head critically. "Nonsense. You look all right. You're clean shaven."

He behought himself of a compromise. Well, just step out the door with me a moment and let me have you meet her, as she comes down. Then we'll go on alone.

Durand was suddenly visited by scruples of delicacy, which came in handy to his purpose. "I don't think she'd thank you for bringing anyone straight out of here to be presented to her face to face. It mightn't look right; you know how the ladies are. After all, this is a men's drinking cafe."

"But I come in here every night myself," the colonel said uncertainly. "But you know her; I'm a stranger to her. It's not the same thing."

Before Worth could make up his mind on this fine point of social etiquette, the habitual bellboy had come and delivered his summons. "Your lady's down, sir."

The colonel put a coin in his gloved hand, drained his drink. "Tell you what, I have a better idea. Suppose we make it a four-woman. I'll have my fiancée being some one along for you. She must know some of the unattached

European Aid Shows Results

American funds are doing a big job in Europe, and here's a concrete example. This flour mill in Trieste was almost completely destroyed during the war, but U. S. aid funds rebuilt it into the largest and most modern plant of its kind in the Mediterranean area. It's now handling Marshall Plan flour for Trieste and Austria, and its silos hold 30,000 tons of grain.

Road Bond Issue Is Approved At Crane

CRANE—Crane County voters Saturday approved the issuance of $100,000 worth of road bonds to supplement a previous $425,000 issue for an extensive paving program over the county.

The vote Saturday was 106 for and five against.

The program also calls for widening and improving of city streets.

Virginia City Is Gormet's Delight On Thanksgiving

WILLIAMSBURG, VA. — Williamsburg, almost as famous for its old Southern cooking as it is for its historical and educational significance, is the gourmet's delight on Thanksgiving Day.

There are crispy dishes of scalloped oysters, the perennial roast turkey with special chestnut or oyster dressing, hot plum pudding with brandied hard sauce, peppermint candy ice cream and other favorites.

The Thanksgiving holiday is celebrated simply in the restored 18th century capital city. Services are held at historic Bruton Parish Church, court church of the Virginia Colony, in the morning and the exhibition buildings of the city are open for visitors to glimpse the manner of life two centuries ago.

HUNGARIAN OFFICIAL: ATTACKS CATHOLIC CHURCH

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY — A Communist Hungarian official Sunday launched a new attack on the Catholic Church, with a warning that the "liquidation of clerical reaction" is near.

Minister of Transport Erno Gero said Josef Cardinal Mindszenty is "the head of reaction."

Which Comes First—Esther Or Red? M-G-M Wishes It Knew

By ERSKINE JOHNSON, NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—It will be a long and bitter fight at M-G-M when lawyers are brought in to decide who comes first—Red Skelton or Esther Williams—in billing for Neptune's Daughter.

Rex Harrison will play the skinkest King Henry VIII in theater history in Maxwell Anderson's "Anne of the Thousand Days." Such rely-polies as Charles Laughton and Charles Coburn have played Henry in the past.

Talking about actresses not being typed—there's the comparison of Joan Fontaine in the psychological drama, "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands," and her slap-happy characterization in "You Gotta Stay Happy."

When a few high skeptics were doubtful as to whether this would be the time to refilm the classic "Little Women," Mervyn LeRoy took it upon himself to show that the time is now, considering that a million or more copies of the book are purchased yearly and goers were in baby carriages when the talkie version was made in 1933. The new version, enhanced by color, indicates from its first sneak preview that LeRoy was so right.

Plunger For Butch

Progress note: Butch Jenkins now has a "private press agent." . . . Velos and Yolanda deny those rumors that they're splitting up the act. They'll be back dancing together after Yolanda has her baby. . . . That page ad for "The Saxon Charm" with the line: "Another hit by the author of 'The Hucksters'—proves that fame is more fleeting every day. Nowhere in the ad can you find the name of the 'author,' Frederic Wakeman.

Irene Dunne just plunged into a pile of scripts so-o-o high, still looking for another "Awful Truth" or "Love Affair." . . . M-G-M is talking a film deal with Gene McCarthy and Tommy Farrell, the clever comics who wowed Ciro's audiences a few months ago. Tommy is Glenda Farrell's son.

Paramount is changing the time of "The Web of Days" from Civil War days to the present. It's Paulette Goddard's next. Movies, Video Linked

Full of significance of things to come is the news that Alan Ladd will make a television trailer for his new picture, "Whispering Smith." It's the first move on the part of the film industry to link celluloid with video. . . . Fox is searching for someone to fill the musical gap left by Dick Haymes' departure from the studio. Latest hopeful to be tested is Danny Scholl, singing star of the Broadway hit, "Call Me Mister."

The unhitching of Lou Levy and Maxine Andrews will in no way affect Levy's position as personal manager of the Andrews Sisters.

Midland Man Is Carrier Official

J. P. Comalander of Midland was elected first vice president of District Four, National Association of Letter Carriers, at its semi-annual meeting Saturday night in San Angelo.

Other officers are: Busell Davidson of Abilene, president; James Midgley Dallas, second vice president; and Kennard Moon, San Angelo, secretary-treasurer.

Approximately 100 persons attended the one-night session.

Lyle Graham of Dallas, state president; Jere McDonald of Temple, state treasurer, and A. F. Baker, Austin, member of the constitution and by-laws committee of NCLC, were special guests.

Members attended from Midland, Austin, Dallas, Abilene, Brady, Beltinger, Cisco, Odessa, Haskell, El Paso and Temple.

DIES UNEXPECTEDLY
BEAVER FALLS, PA. — Dr. McLeod Milligan Pearce, 74, president of Geneva College for more than a quarter-century, died unexpectedly Monday.

Emcee Of Hillbilly Radio Programs Dies

DALLAS — Hal Horton, the man who kept the corn flowing on numerous hillbilly radio shows, is dead.

The veteran master of ceremonies died of a heart ailment Sunday night. He was about 50.

Horton was born in Montclair, N. J., and had worked here about 12 years. He was on the staff of radio station KRLD.

Programs with which he was identified included Mutual's coast-to-coast checkerboard Jambores and the same network's Smoky Mountain Hayride.

Attorney To Address Accountants Tuesday

William Neely, Midland attorney, will discuss "Tax Incidents of Business Survivorship Agreements" at a meeting of the Midland-Odessa Chapter of the Texas Association of Public Accountants at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the county courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse.

All accountants, lawyers, tax men, insurance men and other interested persons are invited to attend, Louis Bartha said.

Whats Next For America If Communists Win China?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — We guarded the front door and then found out someone had set fire to the kitchen.

That's just about the spot we're in now.

We blocked the Russian Communists at Berlin, and still are blocking them.

In the meantime the Chinese Communists have been overrunning China and may take over the country very soon.

At this moment it doesn't seem we can do very much.

Right now we're pretty well tied up trying to help Western Europe so the Communists can't take over there.

It's questionable that we could pour enough strength into both places at the same time to do the job.

Sid Slight For Us

President Chiang Kai-Shek has been no howling success in China. Under his leadership the country has gone to pieces, riddled with inflation and starvation.

But if the Chinese Communists win and Chiang's government falls, what then? It looks like a sad sight—from our viewpoint. Take a look:

—Here are some population estimates. China—475,000,000; India—322,000,000; Korea—27,200,000; Indo-China—27,030,000; Burma—17,000,000; Netherlands East Indies—72,000,000; Siam—7,678,000.

That's a total of 947,908,000 people in Asia. If the Chinese Communists take over the 475,000,000 Chinese, the pressure on the other countries of Asia will be terrific.

What About Japan?

What of Japan, with 80,171,000 people, and Australia, with 7,581,000?

We'd pretty surely try to hold our grip on Japan but if the rest of Asia in time went Communist, then—

Japan would be an island off the continent. Could it survive without steady help and pressure from us, if the rest of the continent refused to deal with Japan unless it went Communist too?

Australia, part of the British Empire and far down in the Pacific from Asia, probably would not be affected for a long time to come.

This is a gloomy picture here. It simply points out what the future may hold. There do not seem to be any bright spots in it.

It shows what a job we have on our hands in trying to stave off Communism in the long pull ahead.

'Cactus Jack' Garner Has 80th Birthday

UVALDE, TEXAS — "Cactus Jack" Garner turned 80 Monday.

In favor of every man reaching his own conclusions and his own confusions.

The Texan who was the 32nd vice president of the United States thinks there have been "too many statements by too many people."

And that was his explanation of why he didn't have some birthday statement full of advice. Another reason is his long habit of reticence about making statements.

John Hanes Garner reached his 80th birthday in good health and good spirits. He planned an outing in the woods, but no special preparations for the day were announced.

Since returning to private life in 1941 after two terms as vice president, Garner has lived quietly, keeping an eye on his banking, ranching, and real estate interests.

His wife died in August and he since has lived alone in his big house next door to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tully Garner.

Garner has said he wants to live to be 93, so that more than half his life will have been spent as a private citizen. During his public career he served in the Texas Legislature and in Congress before becoming vice president.

Bascom N. Timmons, Washington newspaperman and Garner's biographer and friend, is visiting him here.

Timmons said Garner told him he "was never going back" to Washington.

Father Of Kermit Woman Succumbs

RANGER — Harry H. Herman, 84, former oil field contractor, died Sunday.

He came to Ranger at the outbreak of the oil boom in 1918. He also had lived at Weatherford, and worked in oil fields of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, and Oklahoma. He was a native of Willow Grove, Pa.

Survivors include two sons, Harry of Ranger and Clarence of Marshall; two daughters, Mrs. M. B. Lovry of Kermitt and Helen Westfall of Weatherford; a brother, George, of Pennsylvania, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Holstead of Bartlesville, Okla.

Spaak Fails To Form New Belgian Cabinet

BRUSSELS — Premier Designate Paul-Henri Spaak failed to form his new cabinet Monday.

Sunday he announced he would have the list of the new cabinet by noon Monday. However, he told the press he had been unable to iron out a disagreement of Socialists and the Catholic Party over government subsidies to non-state schools. He will keep trying.

16 Or More Texans Die By Violence In Weekend Accidents

By The Associated Press

At least sixteen persons died violently in Texas over the weekend.

Traffic accidents accounted for nine deaths, plane crashes four, and fire two. One boy was found hanging by a rope from a tree.

A former Hollywood woman stunt filer and an advanced flying student were killed Sunday when their plane crashed into a plowed field near an airport.

Dead were Mrs. Louise Fernandez, 44, former stunt filer, and John Anderson, 24. Both were residents of Dallas.

Witnesses said they had been stunting at low altitude.

A man and a woman were killed Saturday when a plane crashed on a small sand island off the Southeast Texas coast.

Deputy Sheriff A. J. Williams of Fort Lavaca said death certificates for the two named them as Gordon H. Mims, 46, of Fort Worth, and Vera Marie Bongio, 51, of Houston.

Boy Found Hanging
Susano Soriano and Alejandro Castro, both of Edcouch, were killed Sunday when a truck piled up on a curve two miles west of Harrell.

Eddie Miles, 11, of Corpus Christi was found hanging by a rope from a tree at the home of his grandparents near Beeville Sunday. Doctors said death was from strangulation.

Homer Whitten, 33, Colbert, Okla., was killed Sunday when his auto overturned between Denison and Reg River.

Mrs. Homer Boyd, about 40, of Trinidad was killed Saturday night in an auto collision near Kerens.

R. N. Barr, 48, a salesman for a liquor distributing firm, was burned to death early Sunday morning in a fire that swept through a four-family apartment house at Fort Worth.

Robbie Biggers, 16, was killed in an auto-truck collision at Wichita Falls Sunday.

Clyde Coleman Kerr, 45, Houston, was killed in an auto-truck collision near Robstown Friday night, and Bobby Burnett, 12, of Thrift, was killed when hit by an automobile that same night.

Roy Lee Johnson, 46, a pedestrian, died in a traffic accident at Fort Arthur Saturday night.

Charles Monros, 70, visiting in Edinburg, was injured fatally in an auto collision near that city Sunday.

The cause of two deaths has not been officially determined and these were not included in the weekend toll.

The body of a 24-year-old man was found on the smoldering mattress in a smoke-filled San Antonio hotel room Sunday. He was identified as Joseph J. Takish, stationed at Lackland Air Force Base. A coroner's verdict has not been rendered.

An inquest verdict still was awaited at Dallas in the death of Mrs. T. J. Braeeton, 68, church leader. Her body was found Friday floating in Turtle Creek here.

Inflation can be cured by drastic credit controls, but you can't do it without unemployment. —Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R) of Vermont.

Americans are guaranteed the right to assemble peacefully by the Constitution. It says nothing whatsoever about how many clothes you have to wear. —Alois Knapp, defense counsel for Fern Hill Nudist Club, Bloomington, Ind.

The greatest danger for the future of our country is not in the hazards of atomic warfare. The greatest danger lies in this: that the tested methods of democracy will be jettisoned, will not be applied to the public uses that cluster about atomic energy. —David Lilienthal, chairman, U. S. EISENHOWER was my boss

by Kay Summersby

Captain, WAC, Army Of The U. S.
Copyright, 1948, by Kay Summersby

Installation 29
On the afternoon of November 20, our welcoming party assembled at the El Aouina airstrip. There was the usual waiting period, then, when we heard the nearing sound of engines, every neck stretched upward as five C-54s circled the field. One cut in for a straight, swift landing. We all strained for a first glimpse of President Roosevelt, but it turned out to be General Marshall. Apparently the Secret Service was taking no chances on enemy fighters knocking off the Number One plane and their Number One boss. Tex, with new lieutenant-colonel leaves on his shoulders, bundled the general into a waiting car. The other four planes landed one right after another; two began unloading passengers and a third seemed to be an empty "spare." The Number Two plane taxied to our end of the field, and stopped. Several men rolled up a ramp. I drove my Cadillac over beside the plane and waited.

"Hey, there!" A burning Irish face appeared at my car window, distorted with anger. I recognized Mike Reilly, the Secret Service chief who had been very much in evidence at Amlicar. "You're not expected to drive the President, are you, Lady?" he yelled.

"But you can't!"
"And why not?"
He was on the very of apoplexy. "No woman ever drives the President," he shouted thumping on the door. "No woman ever has—or ever will, as long as I'm boss here. Certainly no Limey woman!"

Just as I started to elaborate on my own Irish background, with some very Irish temper, he ran toward the plane. I looked over and saw General Eisenhower standing on the ground. In the doorway was Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

His personality positively crackled, without as much as a word. That famous smile magnetized every eye. Even General Eisenhower, usually prominent in the foreground, seemed to fade away with the others into a gray backdrop which permitted the spotlight to shine on only one person. To every person standing there, President Roosevelt was the only man on the airstrip.

But the show was lost upon me, as I spotted Tex leaving General Marshall's car and heading in my direction, followed by his two sons, Elliott and Franklin, acquaintances from my London days. Admiral Leahy stopped talking as the general moved over and said, "Mr. President, this is Miss Kay Summersby, the British girl you asked about."

Shaking hands, I immediately lost any trace of nervousness. Mr. Roosevelt's grip was friendly, his smile warm.

"I've heard quite a bit about you," he said. "Why didn't you drive me from the plane? I'd been looking forward to it."
From some deep storehouse of the past, I produced a maidenly but maddening blush. "Mr. President, your Secret Service wouldn't let me drive!"

They all laughed.
Mr. Roosevelt looked up. "Would you like to drive me from now on?"
"It would be a privilege, Sir."
"Very well. You shall drive me then. I'm going on an inspection trip soon."

He turned to the lovely view out the window, which framed the Bay of Tunis and the Bonn peninsula beyond, and began talking of how he wished there were time to spend weeks in Tunisia, away from official worries, just resting.

I recognized a kind of dismissal and took my leave.
Mike Reilly was bouncing around the driveway. I called him over this time: "I've just been presented to the President."

"Heard you were," he grunted. "And no matter what you say, I added spitefully, 'the President himself has asked me to drive him.'"
With good Irish humor, Mike surrendered. We agreed to bury the hatchet, as we'd be working together.

Seething with insubordination and loss of face, I jerked the new-type gears and gave the embarrassed sergeant instructions how to run my car. Then I hurried away and climbed into another limousine, positive that everyone there, including the President of the United States, was laughing at the entire mixup.

But the comedy had just begun. A Secret Service man came over as they put the President into my Cadillac and asked me to come back to drive the big car. As I climbed into the front seat, Mike Reilly's florid face reappeared. "It's all off again, lady," he whispered. "You can't drive—the sergeant will take over from here!"

Going back to the other car, my heels threatened to shatter the runway.

Butch walked up and stuck his head in the window. "Don't worry about it Kay. We'll fix everything when we get to the villa... It's just one of those things." He motioned to his companions, Admiral King, and Mr. Hopkins, whom I had met previously in Algiers. "How's about going in this car?" he yelled to them.

Speeding blindly, I gave those three a ride they'll never forget, back to Algiers, through the city, and up the hill.

The guard around General Eisenhower's White House, now a temporary but very literal White House, looked as though the American Army expected the Germans' return to Tunisia any moment. My passengers got out and disappeared inside. Mike Reilly rushed over and said patronizingly, "It's okay for you get back in your own car now. They've gone in the house."

I looked straight ahead and replied coldly, "I'll stay right here until I get further orders from my boss. And no big gimp of an Irishman's going to move me!" He stared for a moment, lips set, then walked away.

"Miss Summersby?" It was an officer from the official party. "The President has asked to meet you," he smiled, beckoning me to follow.

Glancing in the rear-view mirror to check a shiny nose, I trailed along into the villa. The noisy group of men in the front room were a little more than a blur; I was worried about leaving my hat on.

I walked into the library. General Eisenhower, who nodded encouragingly stood by the fireplace. President Roosevelt sat by the window, half-hidden by his two sons, Elliott and Franklin, acquaintances from my London days. Admiral Leahy stopped talking as the general moved over and said, "Mr. President, this is Miss Kay Summersby, the British girl you asked about."

Shaking hands, I immediately lost any trace of nervousness. Mr. Roosevelt's grip was friendly, his smile warm.

"I've heard quite a bit about you," he said. "Why didn't you drive me from the plane? I'd been looking forward to it."

Schoolboy Gridders From Palestine And Wilson Lead Parade

DALLAS —(AP)—George "Red" Wright, Palestine's double duty ace, and Billy Scott of Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) grabbed star rating in schoolboy football last week. Wright scored four touchdowns on runs from 15 to 35 yards as his team clinched the Dallas District title by thumping Sunset 55-13. Wright caught two passes of 25 and 17 yards while playing end on his club's first touchdown drive, then switched to the backfield to score one touchdown as Palestine won its first 10-A title since 1922, beating Comroe 14-0.

Others singled out for star mention by The Dallas News in its weekly roundup included: Bill Blanton, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) back; scored three touchdowns, one on an 86-yard run, as Heights took the Fort Worth title by running over Fort Worth Tech 46 to 0. Blanton also kicked two extra points and gained 133 yards on 10 rushing attempts.

Bill Haas, Kingsville back; scored two touchdowns and passed for another in Kingsville's 18-to-13 win over Robertson.

Texas back Jerry Norton, Texarkana back; scored two touchdowns, passed for another, kicked three extra points, carried the ball 161 yards in 16 tries, passed for 84 yards, punted twice for a 47-yard average and made a brilliant 90-yard touchdown run that was called back.

Wayne Ligon, Wichita Falls tackle; defensive star in 7-to-6 win from Vernon, he was the surest blocker and tackler on the field.

Robert Smith, Austin back; kicked four extra points to run his consecutive string of successful conversions to 13 and scored one touchdown as the Maroons took the 13-AA crown by whipping Corpus Christi 37 to 6.

Francis McMichael, Gladewater guard; played a bang-up defensive game with his earth-rattling tackles in the Bears' 27-to-20 victory over Henderson.

Kermit Wins Over Hobbs, New Mexico

KERMIT — Hobbs has the best team in New Mexico but Saturday night Kermit beat the mythical champion 19-13.

Madson and Spinks were outstanding in the Kermit backfield onslaught.

Peasley, Jett and Stout were Kermit's best linemen for the night.

Kermit tabbed 13 first downs to 13 by Hobbs.

Special Hearing Clinic To Be Held

Dr. Henry Schlichting, Jr., announces that beginning Monday morning, November 22nd, and thru Tuesday, November 23rd, a special hearing clinic will be held at the Midland Naturopathic Clinic, 2201 West Texas, Midland. Dr. Schlichting, owner of the Clinic, states that the main object of the clinic is to give all those who suspect that they are hearing impaired, an opportunity to have their hearing tested on the new Audiometer equipment which has been installed for this purpose. Any person who wishes to check up on his or her ability to hear may without charge or obligation have a complete audiometer analysis made which will indicate the amount of loss involved. These analysis charts may be referred to your ear specialist for study and indicated treatment, as the equipment used for this purpose at The Midland Naturopathic Clinic is the Bureau of Standards requirements and is accepted by the American Medical Association.

For those persons who require a hearing aid to overcome their handicap, they will be given an opportunity to see and try the new Bionone Hearing Aid. This new hearing aid is a recent development in the hearing aid field that uses the new printed circuit, this design eliminates many of the service difficulties of older model hearing aids by omitting dozens of tiny parts that are a source of possible trouble during the normal use of the instrument. This invention also makes it possible to produce a hearing aid that is so tiny that it will fit into a man's watch pocket and yet give ample hearing power even to those suffering from extreme hearing loss.

There are now hundreds of people in Midland and surrounding trade territory who are using hearing aids and thereby are able to enjoy music, conversation, church services and all every day activities that others enjoy which would not be possible without an aid to overcome this handicap. If you are one of these, visit The Midland Naturopathic Clinic along with those who are planning on a hearing aid, and try the new Bionone instrument. You will be amazed at how small and convenient it is to wear and the improvement in hearing ability it offers.

The Midland Naturopathic Clinic has been offering the public complete hearing service for a number of years and maintains a complete stock of batteries for most all makes of electronic hearing aids.

As a special service during this clinic, you may use the telephone to request this test in your home if you are unable to make an office call. Remember the date—Monday, Nov. 22nd, Tuesday, Nov. 23rd, 2201 West Texas, Midland, Texas. The address is 2201 West Texas and the telephone number is 1889—(adv.)

Southwestern Loop Gridders To Close Season This Week

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

There is an upsetting situation in the Southwest Conference as it comes to the final week—the two teams with the poorest records meet the two with the best to decide the championship.

Texas A&M and Texas Christian may give the answers to the puzzle involving Texas and Southern Methodist. Southern Methodist clinched a Cotton Bowl bid and at least a share of the crown by beating Baylor last week. The Mustangs can get clear title by whipping Texas Christian Saturday.

Texas can keep its hopes for a share of the title by beating Texas A&M in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game between these two huge state schools.

Rice, which picked up steam in the second half to crush Texas A&M, 21-7 meets Baylor.

Arkansas, which had a brisk warm-up with Tulsa 55-18, tangles with William and Mary at Little Rock.

Aggies Plant To Austin Southern Methodist came to the end of a perfect season last year against Texas Christian. The Mustangs were lucky to come off with a tie.

Texas A&M hasn't won a game all year, but working on the theory that it can't be worse, the Aggies might break an ancient jinx and beat Texas in its own Memorial Stadium.

Both the Aggies and Horned Frogs are in perfect position. Each is figured to lose, but if one or both doesn't—what an upsetting thought! Texas' chance for a share of the title depends on its beating A&M and Texas Christian's beating Southern Methodist.

Win, lose or draw with Rice this week, Bob Woodruff's Baylor Bears have their best record in years. At the moment they stand third in season standings and are tied for third in the conference.

Arkansas can take some of the glitter out of the Delta Bowl if it thumps William and Mary, one of the teams already signed for this Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 29 day game.

Class A Schoolboys Start Grind To First State Championship

By The Associated Press

Playoffs for the first Class A schoolboy football championship in history open in Texas this week. Thirty-two district champions are paired to begin the state tournament.

In Class B, 10 district champions will be determined to complete the bracket of 44 for the opening round next week in play for regional crowns.

Mount Vernon, New Braunfels and El Campo are considered the stand-out teams in Class A as the bi-district round arrives. These teams are undefeated, Mount Vernon and El Campo holding long "winning" streaks and New Braunfels being one of the high-scoring outfits of the state.

Mount Vernon hasn't lost a game for two seasons. El Campo has run its streak to 32 straight. New Braunfels, in taking 10 victories this season, has rolled up 458 points to 25 for the opposition.

Mount Vernon is Standout Mount Vernon is the general choice of the upper bracket with New Braunfels and El Campo expected to clash in the finals of the lower bracket to furnish Mount Vernon's opponent in the finals.

The Class A district champions pair like this in the first round this week:

Upper bracket—Phillips vs. LeFors, Lockney vs. Post, Monahans vs. Rotan, Ballinger vs. Dublin, Holiday vs. Bowie, Handley vs. Irving, Farmersville vs. DeKalb, Mount Vernon vs. New London.

Lower bracket—Athens vs. Van, La Vega vs. Huntsville, Cameron vs. San Saba, Navasota vs. New Braunfels, Aldine vs. Jasper, El Campo vs. Edna, Falfurrias vs. Weslaco, Devine vs. Carrizo Springs.

Class B district champions determined are: 2-Happy, 3-Hale Center, 4-Idalou, 5-Maria, 6-Iraan, 8-Eden, 9-Hermleigh, 10-Woodson, 12-Valley Mills, 13-Bridgeport, 14-Princeton, 17-Masonic Home (Fort Worth), 18-Richardson, 19-Corpus State Home, 21-Talco, 22-Union Grove, 23-Judson, 24-Beckville, 25-Eikhart, 26-Groveton, 27-A&M Consolidated, 28-Midway, 29-Anahuac, 30-Crosby, 31-Tomball, 32-Sweeny, 33-Katy, 36-Leander, 38-Edgewood (San Antonio), 39-Florsville, 40-Port Lavaca, 41-Ingleside, 42-Mathis, 44-Edouch-Elsa.

Sul Ross Halfback Tops Grid Scorers

NEW YORK —(AP)—Ted Scown, a shifty halfback from Sul Ross State College, broke away for six touchdowns Saturday to grab the national football scoring leadership with 144 points.

Playing in 10 games, Scown has scored 24 touchdowns. He usually gets one 80 or 90-yard scoring sprint per game. Sul Ross ended its regular season unbeaten.

Scown's magnificent spurt left Dan Towler of Washington and Jefferson, the national leader last week, in second place with 133 points.

The recognized national scoring record is 124 points by Bill Dudley of Virginia in 1941. However, that mark includes only what the National College Athletic Bureau calls major schools. Small school records were not kept until this year.

TORNADO LASHES BOMBAY BOMBAY, INDIA —(AP)—A tornado lashed Bombay Sunday night and killed at least three persons. Officials counted 50 seriously wounded. Hundreds more also were reported hurt.

Now only partly legible, the marker says this was the Japanese Air Raid Defense Center. The most bitter fighting on the island occurred here. One hundred thirty-seven Japanese bodies were taken from the blockhouse after the battle.

Lt. William Deane Hawkins of El Paso, Texas, who led a scout-squad platoon down the pier to the beach and earned the Congressional Medal of Honor, participated in the flamethrower and grenade attacks against the blockhouse. He was wounded, but carried on in a drive across the airfield until mortally wounded by a Japanese shell.

Remainder Of Schoolboy Champs To Be Determined

Associated Press Sports Editor
By HAROLD Y. BATHIF

Six district champions will be determined this week to pave the way for the opening of the Texas schoolboy football playoff in the City Conference and Class AA.

Champions now awaiting the bi-district round are: City Conference—District 1, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); District 2, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth).

Grable Picks First All-America, Based On Heart Flutters

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—Guess who's getting into the 1948 All-America football team schedule—none other than Betty Grable.

Naturally, the curvy cutie doesn't spend her nights poring over grid statistics. Undoubtedly she received some prodding from the 20th Century-Fox publicity department in selecting her squad. But she accepts full responsibility for the choices.

It should be explained that Betty's players are not necessarily the nation's greatest at tackling, blocking or running back punts. They are, she claims, the most handsome. The lads may be in for a lot of campus kidding, but here goes.

Quarterbacking the Grable All-America is Oregon's Norm Van Brocklin. Any guy who can complete more passes is okay with her, said the baby of "When My Baby Smiles at Me."

Deal Has The Games

For halfbacks Betty chose SMU's Doak Walker, who has "the best-looking legs," and Minnesota's Billy Bye, who appeals to her "materially." Completing the backfield is Yale's handsome Fred Naderby at fullback.

Pat O'Sullivan of Alabama captains the squad at center. Mississippi's Barney Poole and UCLA's Bill Clements flank the line at ends. Guards Bill Fischer of Notre Dame and Rod Franz of California were chosen for their rugged good looks.

The tackle spot presented a problem. Betty said she could find only one handsome enough to make the team—Phil O'Reilly of Purdue. Any other nominations?

Surveying her 10-man All-America, Betty concluded: "I don't know how good some of them are, but if they can play football as well as they look—oh, brother!"

Monahans, Rotan Will Battle In Sweetwater Bowl

Monahans will play Rotan at 7:30 p. m. Friday in Sweetwater. It is a bi-district Class A football battle.

Sweetwater, with a fine bowl, was selected as a neutral site for the game.

No Marker Remains To Tell Of Marine Deaths On Tarawa

TARAWA —(AP)—Five years after the battle of Tarawa young coconut trees stand waist high in the emptied American Cemetery on Betio Island.

There is no tablet, no marker, no single cross to tell of the 985 Marines who were killed in the 76 hours of assault that won Iwo Jima, but shocking victory on November 23, 1943.

In the swift, fierce battle across Betio's evil yellow-green reef, 2,183 of the Second Marine Division were wounded. In three days of as furiously concentrated action as any in World War II more than 5,000 Japanese defenders of Betio's scant 268 acres were killed. Only 17 wounded prisoners were taken. Scars and rubble still show clearly the fight to the death kind of battle Tarawa was.

Army, Penn State Double On All-East Mythical Eleven

NEW YORK —(AP)—Penn State and Army, the East's two most robust football powers, each grabbed a pair of positions Monday on the All-East eleven selected by The Associated Press after consultations with coaches, scouts and other grid experts.

The Cadets, unbeaten and placed Sam Tamburo at one end and sent along Joseph Drasenovich to play alongside of Henry at guard.

The 1948 All-Eastern football team:

Ends — Dale Armstrong, Dartmouth, and Sam Tamburo, Penn State.

Tackles — Ernest Stautner, Boston, and Richard Clark, Cornell.

Guards — Joseph Henry, Army, and Joseph Drasenovich, Penn State.

Center — Charles Bednarik, Penn State.

Backs — George Sella, Princeton; Levi Jackson, Yale; Bobby Stuart, Army, and Lou Kusserow, Columbia.

China's Fate-

(Continued from page 1) understanding has resulted from what has already happened. Asked whether he was going back to the UN meeting, he said he did not know.

Arrives In Paris

President Truman sent forward one of his associates with an umbrella to escort Marshall to the airport building shed. The President himself then walked out in the pelting rain to greet Mrs. Marshall, then the general.

He said to each one in turn, "It's sure good to see you." In addition to Mrs. Marshall, those making the trip from Paris with the secretary of state included Mrs. Charles E. Bohlen, wife of the State Department counselor, and Brig. Gen. Marshall Carter, an aide to Marshall.

Diplomatic authorities agreed that China presents Truman and Marshall with their most urgent—and in some ways most difficult—problem. There was no assurance they would try to reach any sort of final conclusions in their first round of talks.

Before Truman, is a request from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek for the United States, in effect, to take over the running of Chiang's war against the Communists through American military advisers in China as well as greatly increase this country's material help to the Chinese.

Important Discussions

Aside from the China question, subjects which seemed likely to come up for discussion in the course of Marshall's foreign policy report to the President included:

1. Berlin—The hottest point in the cold war in Europe appears certain to remain that way for a long time, Marshall must report.

2. France vs Germany—While it has not yet aroused public alarm, State Department officials have become deeply concerned over increasing French resistance to the Anglo-American plan to boost Western German production under the European Recovery Program.

3. Military alliance—Marshall brings to Washington the latest information on exactly what the Western Europeans want in the way of a military alliance with the United States. Weekend reports from London said they want a fifty-year pact but will be content with indirect promises of American support in place of an absolute pledge to go to war in event of attack.

4. Lend-lease—Work on this project for the military strengthening of Western European countries is not so well advanced as on the more general alliance undertaking.

5. Global strategy against Communism—In Marshall's view, one of the most difficult and constant problems in foreign policy is to maintain a balance between demands abroad and resources at home. Diplomats expect that at some point the President and he will have to come to grips with this issue which links together Chinese aid, European lend-lease, and all the other military and civilian help programs the United States is either operating or contemplating.

Oil & Gas Log

Venture In Ward Has No Recovery On DST

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 7 Yarbrough & Allen, Northeast Ward County wildcat to test into the Ellenburger, seven miles northeast of Monahan, and 1,900 feet from south and east lines of section 12, block 17, block B-13, psi survey, was drilling below 10,740 feet in lime and shale, in the lower Simpson.

It took a 45-minute drillstem test on a Simpson sand section at 10,690-738 feet. There was no air blow, no gas, and no fluid recovered. No signs of oil or gas were developed.

Champlin Stakes Site For Andrews Venture

Champlin Refining Company staked a wildcat in the area between the Block 12 field and the West Parker-Devonian field in Central-Southwest Andrews County, near its No. 1-F University which is trying to complete as an oil well from the Clear Fork.

The new venture is to be the No. 1-U University, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 27, block 12, University survey. The well is about 20 miles southwest of the town of Andrews.

Projected depth is 8,500 feet, with rotary tools, for tests into the Devonian. Spudding operations are due to begin November 25.

Delaney To Offset Shafter Lake Field

An extension try for the Shafter Lake-Devonian and Wolfcamp field in Northwest Andrews County is slated by M. J. Delaney Company, of Dallas. That concern has scheduled a 10,000-foot, rotary test as its No. 1 University.

The drillstem will be 1,964.7 feet from north and west lines of section 12, block 13, University survey, 12 miles northwest of the county seat.

It is to be on the northeast side of the Shafter Lake pool, about 3/4 of a mile northwest of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company's No. 1-BG University, bottomed on 10,000 feet in an attempt to complete from the Devonian as a commercial oil well. The Stanolind prospect has also indicated production from the Wolfcamp.

Delaney is to start at once on the new flanker.

Tex Harvey 1 Floyd Running Deep DST

A drillstem test was run at Tex Harvey Oil Company No. 1 Floyd, East Midland County wildcat projected to the Ellenburger, 18 miles southeast of the city of Midland. Total depth was 11,781 feet. The packer was set at 11,702 feet. The tool was open three hours and 40 minutes with a strong blow of air at the surface throughout that period. Last report had the operator coming out with the tester.

The current formation is not officially identified, but observers think it probably is still Silurian. Location is 2,000 feet from north and 600 feet from east lines of section 15, block 37, TP survey T-3-S.

Brewster Wildcat To Dig To 3,500 Feet

Weldon and J. D. Lancaster, of McCamey, have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start drilling immediately at 3,500-foot wildcat in Southwest Brewster County.

The project will be their No. 1 Earl McElroy. It is to be located 330 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 1, block 364, Andrew Sargeant survey. That puts it approximately 60 miles south of the town of Alpine.

SE Fisher Prospect Runs String Of Pipe

Lion Oil Company and Exploration Drilling Company No. 1 Hale, Southeast Fisher County possible discovery from the Stippen lime of the Pennsylvanian, four miles southeast of Roby, and 330 feet from north and 267 feet from east lines of sub-division 37, league 317, El Paso County School Land, is bottomed at 3,541 feet, in lime and has a string of 7-inch casing set at 3,523 feet, with 125 sacks of cement. Operators will drill the plug, and try to make a well from the open hole.

This development had a recovery of 3,553 feet of fluid, all oil except about 95 feet of drilling mud, slightly out with brackish salt water, in the bottom, during a four-hour drillstem test at 3,520 feet. The well flowed oil for 20 minutes after this test, at the estimated rate of six barrels per hour.

Russian Answer On Currency Questions Is 'Satisfactory'

PARIS—(AP)—Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina said Monday the Russian answer to his Berlin currency questionnaire "appears to be satisfactory."

The November president of the United Nations Security Council said, however, a comparison of the Berlin reply with the answers from the United States, Britain and France, expected to be delivered to him Tuesday, is necessary to decide if a basis of agreement on the Berlin crisis can be reached.

Bramuglia said he had scheduled a meeting of the six "neutral" members of the Security Council to begin as soon as the Western replies are received. If the six neutrals decide they can work out a new plan to end the Berlin dispute, it is likely the full council will be convened by the end of this month to consider their plan formally.

Singer Bobby Breen Missing In Airplane

HAYWARD, WIS.—(AP)—A single engine monoplane with singer Bobby Breen as a passenger disappeared on a 300-mile flight across Wisconsin Sunday, bringing fears the ship may have crashed in an isolated forest area.

Ernie Roth, Canton, Ohio, advance agent for the former child motion picture star, said Breen and his pilot, Kenneth Thompson of Waukesha, Wis., were long overdue on a flight from Waukesha to Hayward.

ACCIDENT VICTIM IS DISCHARGED MONDAY

Mrs. Ola Mae Foutch, who was injured in an automobile accident on East Highway 80 Saturday night, was discharged from Western Clinic Hospital Monday. She suffered a scalp injury in the wreck.

LEAVE FOR PANAMA

Mrs. A. C. Nuttall and daughter, Linda Lee, left Saturday to join Sergeant Nuttall in Panama.

Ore-Laden Vessel, Missing And Found, Now Overdue Again

ORANGE, TEXAS—(AP)—The small Nicaraguan motor vessel Explorer, richly laden with 93 tons of concentrated gold and silver ore, is missing again Monday, Orange Port Director J. F. Kerr reported.

The vessel was found late Saturday night by the shrimp boat Mary B 10 miles off the Camaron, La. jetty, and given enough fuel to reach Orange, Kerr said. The ship should have arrived here Sunday, he added.

He estimated the value of the motor vessel's cargo at almost $1,000,000 and said there were conflicting reports as to whether the motorship, when found Saturday was out of fuel or simply low on fuel.

The Explorer, which has no radio, was about 50 miles off course when contacted by the shrimp boat.

The Nicaraguan vessel was due here last Monday. It left Puerto Cortes, Honduras, November 11 with the cargo of ore destined for a smelter at El Paso, Texas.

MIDLAND STUDIO JOINS IN TREASURE HUNT

The Midland Studio and Camera Shop Monday became a participant in the Treasure Hunt, feature event of the official opening of the Christmas Shopping Season November 30. This brought to $5 the total number of participating firms. Thousands of Treasure Hunt tickets now are being distributed free of charge by business houses.

Randy Rubin, owner-manager of the studio, said four prizes, valued at $300, will be offered by his firm.

Contrary to popular notions, the water in a fish bowl or tank seldom should be changed or replenished.

Dear Santa

I am a little boy almost six years old. I promise to take better care of my toys than I have in the past. Would you please bring me a little banjo and fiddle, a Jimmy Cricket watch, a little kangaroo, a typewriter, cash register and airplane. I guess that will be all.

I will leave you a piece of candy on the kitchen cabinet for your troubles.

Your friend,
Jim Pat Campbell

Dear Santa:

I am a little girl six years of age. I have been pretty good this year. Would like for you to bring me a magic skin doll, dices, doll buggy. Also bring something for mother, daddy, big brother, baby, and something for grandpa and grandma.

Bye Santa, with love—

IN LAST 16 MONTHS... MORE MEN VOLUNTEERED FOR THE ARMY than chose jobs in any other business

HERE'S THE RECORD

Between July 1, 1947, and October 21, 1948, a total of 214,616 forward-looking young American men signed original enlistment contracts with the U. S. Army. This number is greater than the number of men who obtained jobs with any other American business during the same period.

During this sixteen-month period the total of all enlistments in your U. S. Army amounted to 341,959. Of this group, 93,473 veterans returned to the Army—men who had discovered that the U. S. Army offered them more than civilian life. And in the same period 33,670 men re-enlisted to continue their satisfying, productive Army careers.

Thousands upon thousands of intelligent young men are finding worth-while, remunerative and satisfying careers in the Army. And every day more men are taking advantage of the unlimited opportunities the Army offers—opportunities that can't be duplicated in civilian life.

For instance, in the month of August, 1948, alone, 44,204 signed enlistment contracts of three years or more with the Army.

Today fifty-seven per cent of the volunteers in the Army have had previous military service—enjoyable, happy service which they want to continue.

This impressive record is solid, conclusive proof that the Regular U. S. Army offers the kind of career opportunity that the young men of our nation demand—an opportunity not only to learn but to serve at the same time.

WHY MEN RE-ENLIST

Ranking high among the reasons thousands of men give for selecting or continuing careers in the Army are the chances for rapid advancement in their chosen fields. Today the Army is expanding fast. This expansion means unlimited opportunity for promotion of skilled, highly trained men.

Advancement is important; however, there are many other good, sound reasons why so many intelligent men choose to stay in the Army. Here are but a few:

- ★ On the day a man enlists the Army starts a retirement-benefit "stake" for him which continues to grow as long as he stays. At the end of six years he has established an equity which compares with a retirement benefit of $6,250.
- ★ Army technical schools offer the most advanced and specialized training in interesting, practical fields—give technical "know-how" you'd have to pay for in civilian life.

HERE'S WHAT THE NEW ARMY OFFERS YOU

Before you choose any career, compare it with a future in the Regular U. S. Army. Never before has the Army offered such tremendous opportunities for a real career to the alert, ambitious young men of America.

On the one hand you have the chance to serve your country while learning a new trade or skill—to further your education in important fields. And on the other hand there are the financial advantages, the job security, the retirement benefits, the chances for rapid promotion, the free medical and dental care that are yours in the Army.

A career in the U. S. Army is an opportunity that just can't be beat. And it's a lifetime opportunity! Get the full details now at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office.

Control Of German Ruhr Proves Tough Headache For West

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Ultimate control of the rich German Ruhr—industrial keystone of continental Europe—is providing one of the toughest issues to be settled by America, Britain and France.

Twice now the Ruhr, with its wealth of iron and coal, has been the arsenal of an aggressive Reich engaged in world war. The Allies have sworn that never again shall Germany be able to utilize the treasure of the Ruhr in this manner.

However, the Ruhr is so important to the rest of Western Europe that its strength must be restored. Here lies one of the greatest steel-producing areas of the world. Europe can't recover economically while the Ruhr is impotent, and this means that the Marshall Plan also is dependent on it.

Once Fairly Simple
Not so long ago that problem seemed fairly simple. Just keep the Ruhr under rigid military control while the war damage is repaired and manufacturing is got underway. Well, it isn't as easy as that. Germans must work the coal mines and the blast furnaces—and you can't get full production from sulen workers. They must have inducement, and so America and Britain have decided that one incentive would be eventual operation of the industries by the Germans themselves—with proper military controls.

But France, thrice overrun by German armies in seven decades, is insisting on international operation of the Ruhr. She is afraid to let Germany control an asset which is a potential war threat.

De Gaulle Sounds Off
France's Gen. Charles De Gaulle says the decision to turn the Ruhr mines and mills back into German hands is "the gravest decision made so far during the 20th Century."

He adds: "England and America flatter themselves they can make something of the Reich to oppose Russia. Perhaps they can. But perhaps they can't. Hitler didn't have any difficulty in reaching an accord with Russia when he wanted to dominate Europe."

That's a disturbing thought, and knowing France very well I should say the average Frenchman would agree largely with De Gaulle. They haven't forgotten how Hitler tore up the Versailles Treaty in 1936 and goose-stepped his troops into the Rhineland. Then came World War II.

Dogs may have been domesticated for more than 100,000 years, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Gas for the Lamps of Berlin

The allotment of gas for the western sector of Berlin is only 13 cubic meters for a family of three per month, so the citizens have turned to smuggling to get enough fuel. This can of smuggled gas, containing 30 cubic meters, will keep the lamp lit for 200 hours. The gas is smuggled from the Russian zone in trucks. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Joe Schuppe.)

Perjury Conviction Of Labor Leader Is Affirmed By Court

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Court of Appeals Monday affirmed the perjury conviction of Harold Christoffel, one-time Milwaukee labor leader.

The former president of Local 248, UAW-CIO, at the Allis-Chalmers plant, was convicted here in Federal District Court last March of falsely telling the House Labor Committee he never had been a communist.

Christoffel was sentenced to a two to six-year federal prison term by District Judge Edward M. Curran, who then released him on $5,000 bail pending trial.

Communists

to the United States, could I belong to a church?

A. You would have to choose at once between church and Communism. If you should choose the church, then prepare for persecution.

Q. Could my child be baptized or christened in the church?

A. At the risk of prison for parent and pastor.

Q. Would my child go to Sunday School?

A. Not only would Sunday School be illegal, but also your child would be taught to report you to the police for trying to send him.

Q. Are Communist trying to corrupt religion in the U. S. A.?

A. Yes.

Q. What is their method?

A. The Communist Party of the United States assigns members to join churches and church organizations, in order to take control where possible, and in any case to influence thought and action toward Communist ends. It forms "front organizations" designed to attract "fellow travelers" with religious interests. It tries to get prominent religious leaders to support Communist policies, disguised as work for minorities or oppressed groups.

Democratic Leaders May Postpone Scrap To Block Filibuster

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senate Democratic leaders may postpone any effort to block future filibusters while they seek a compromise with Dixie opponents of civil rights measures.

Reporting this, a Democratic official said one plan under discussion is to have a committee study the whole question of revising Senate rules.

As the code now stands, a score of Southerners can prevent the Senate from acting on any civil rights measure by talking indefinitely against a motion to take up such a bill.

The closure—closing of debate—rule applies only when a bill actually is before the Senate. It doesn't work against a motion.

For that reason, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told reporters that, for practical purposes, "the existing closure rule isn't worth anything."

Favors Closure Change
He noted too that opponents can filibuster any motion to change the rules, as Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) already has predicted. Southern members will do. Vandenberg said he favors a rule change to make closure—which requires approval of two-thirds of those voting—apply at any time.

An Administration Democrat, who didn't want to be named publicly, agreed with Vandenberg's analysis of the ineffectiveness of the present closure rule.

Because of this situation, the Democrat said it may be necessary for the party leadership to compromise with the Southerners if it is to make any headway with President Truman's proposals for laws banning job discrimination, punishing lynching, abolishing state poll taxes and curbing race segregation. Compromise Possible

Some Southerners have indicated they might be willing to accept modified versions of anti-poll tax and anti-lynching bills. They have drawn the line, however, at accepting anti-job discrimination and anti-segregation measures.

On another filibuster front, Vandenberg proposed that the Senate change its rules to permit 90 per cent of its members to force a vote any time on a national emergency measure.

This wouldn't affect the civil rights controversy, because at least 20 Senators, more than 20 per cent of its members, always oppose such proposals.

NTC Opera Program Will Be Televised

DENTON, TEXAS—(AP)—A history-making television broadcast of North Texas State College's Opera Workshop production of Carmen has been scheduled over WBAF-TV Sunday, December 12, at 9 p. m. Miss Mary McCormick, opera director, announced Monday.

The broadcast, which will climax a tour of four Texas cities by the workshop troupe, will be the first time an operatic production has ever been given over television, Miss McCormick said.

FIRE DAMAGES APARTMENT ON NORTH MAIN SUNDAY

The Midland Fire Department extinguished a blaze in a garage apartment at 500 North Main Street about 5:15 a. m. Sunday. Walls of the apartment and a mattress were damaged.

Firemen said the fire started when a man went to sleep while smoking in bed.
