

West Texas Discovers 46 New Oil Fields During 1948

Successful Wildcats In 23 Counties Of Region Set An All-Time Record

An all-time record for new oil discoveries was set by West Texas in 1948.

During the 12 months of the year a total of 46 wildcat prospectors were completed as the openers of new producing areas. That figure does not include new pays found during the year in old fields. The total number of such new developments for 1948 had not been compiled at the time this report was prepared.

Some of those discoveries are listed below, but are not included in the above total. Gaines and Coke Counties lead the list with five new discoveries each. Scurry, Pecos and Upton Counties came next with four discoveries each.

Sterling reported three new fields. Andrews, Crane, Hale, Hookley, Schleicher, Reeves and Tom Green Counties accounted for two each of the new discoveries.

Cuberson, Floyd, Howard, Nolan, Runnels and Winkler each listed one new field. Three Not Yet Completed Three of the new discoveries, Shell Oil Company, Inc., in Gaines County, Lion Oil Company No. 2, McLaughlin in Scurry County, and Richardson and Bass No. 1 Neal in Upton County, are included in the total.

Even though many of those wells have been officially completed. Each of those wells are major discoveries and they have proven that they will be completed as good producers and openers of new areas for development.

Shell No. 1 Hawkins Shell No. 1 Hawkins has shown for commercial production from the Clear Fork of the Permian, from the Devonian, and from the Ellenburger. It is in section 8, block A-23, pal survey. The project is now bottomed at 12,251 feet in Ellenburger. It has a string of 9 1/2-inch casing cemented at 12,174 feet, and is preparing to test and complete from the Ellenburger. It had a recovery of 147 barrels of 36 gravity oil during a 41-minute drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 12,174-251 feet.

Lion Oil Company No. 2 McLaughlin in section 197, block 97, H&TC survey, in Southwest Scurry County, flowed at the rate of 55 barrels of 43 gravity oil per hour from 6,592-6,814 feet in the Canyon lime section of the Permian.

Map of the Permian Basin showing the new oil fields discovered during 1948. With 46 new fields actually found during the year in West Texas, that section of the basin set an all-time record for number of new developments. The New Mexico discoveries for the year are also shown on the map. A resume of the West Texas discoveries is carried on this page. A summary of the New Mexico discoveries will be issued shortly.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP

HOUSTON —(AP)—The oil industry began the new year by cutting crude oil production. Reduced allowances became effective Saturday in Texas and Kansas, where conservation-minded state officials say there is no further need for record breaking production. The Federal Bureau of Mines last week's support to the curtailment order by reminding the industry no further increase in stocks of either crude or refined products is necessary to fulfill demand. Present stocks, the bureau reported, are sufficient to meet peacetime emergencies despite an anticipated six per cent increase in demand for petroleum and petroleum products during 1949. The Texas Railroad Commission cut the state's January crude production allowable by 260,985 barrels daily. Last Tuesday the Kansas Corporation Commission placed January's daily allowable at 295,000. On December 25, Texas had a daily production average of 2,515,700 barrels, Kansas 306,400. "It is now clearly apparent that there will be no petroleum products shortage this winter," said Chairman Jeff Robertson in announcing the Kansas Commission's action. Domestic crude production for the week ended December 25 averaged 5,640,750 barrels daily, an increase of 355,310 over the week ended December 27 last year. Of the 22 states listed in the American Petroleum Institute's weekly report, only four—Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan, and Nebraska—were producing less crude on December 25 than a year earlier. Sixteen states showed daily average increases ranging from 10 barrels in Virginia to 171,100 in Texas. Utah, now producing at a rate of 150 barrels daily, was listed in AP's final report for 1947. Important discoveries in Colorado,

Oil Industry Begins Year By Cutting Crude Production

WYOMING AND NEW MEXICO during 1948 gave those states significant increases which point to 1949 production boosts that possibly could erase much of the loss resulting from the sharp Texas cutback. When daily averages are figured for the full year the increases will not be so large but on December 25 Colorado was producing 21,300 barrels more than a year earlier, Wyoming 17,450 and New Mexico 14,500. The big four of crude production—Texas, California, Louisiana and Oklahoma—had the largest increases. With Texas out in front with its 171,000, Louisiana followed with an increase of 42,800, Oklahoma 39,000 and California 31,200. Kansas jumped its daily figure by 10,850. Average daily production for states as listed by API for the week ended December 25 and the increase or decrease as compared with the week ended December 27, 1947: New York—Pennsylvania 43,750 barrels, up 60; Florida 850, up 200; West Virginia 7,650, up 1,300; Virginia 50, up 10; Ohio 8,700, down 150; Indiana 3,000, up 450; Illinois 17,850, up 1,500; Kentucky 23,850, down 4,850; Michigan 44,250, down 4,250; Nebraska 350, down 150. Kansas 306,400, up 10,850; Oklahoma 448,200, up 42,800; Texas 2,515,700, up 171,100; Louisiana 495,300, up 42,800; Arkansas 81,800, up 1,050; Alabama 1,200, up 200; New Mexico 124,400, up 14,000; Wyoming 122,110, up 17,450; Montana 26,000, up 1,000; Colorado 66,600, up 21,300; Utah 150 (no comparative figure); California 314,700, up 31,200. TEXAS OILMEN WATCH CRUDE PURCHASE PRICES Texas oilmen also began the new year by keeping close watch on posted crude oil purchase prices. Some spokesmen expressed belief the January production cutback will be accompanied by stiff competition for purchase. Premier Oil Refining Company of Longview, Texas, began the new year with a new posting of $2.75 per barrel, 10-cents above the prevailing figure. The company in late September met Phillips Petroleum's 35-cent hike which meant $3 oil. Premier's new price follows Phillips' action of abandoning its 35-cent hike which brought sharp criticism from within the industry. Premier President Sylvester Dayson said a study of conditions in East Texas fields revealed premiums above posted prices still are being paid. Part of the federal government's Supreme Court suit seeking paramount rights to Texas-Louisiana tidelands calls for the states to account for money already received from leases, royalties and bonus payments. Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles this week said the state's public school fund has received $36,000,000 since leasing of the submerged properties began. Louisiana officials last week estimated that a state's income at approximately $34,000,000. The Louisiana State Mineral Board has voted unanimously to continue offering tidelands mineral rights for lease until definitely forbidden to do so by court order. Administration May Face Open Rebellion On Patronage Plums WASHINGTON —(AP)—Administration leaders may face open rebellion from Southerners if they take patronage away from Dixie lawmakers who didn't back President Truman in November. Some of Truman's supporters have been talking about denying backers of the States Rights tickets the right to say who gets the federal jobs in their states. This already is said to have been done in some minor instances in Mississippi, where Senator Eastland was active in the States Rights movement. One Southern Democrat who took no part in the election campaign told a reporter if any such move became general the smoldering party battle over civil rights is going to flame again. "So far as I am concerned," this Democrat said, "if they take patronage away from any senator, they can have mine too. "It doesn't amount to anything, but I'm not going to just stand by and see them punish others who have about the same views. I have and do not do anything about it. Senator J. Howard McGrath, the Democratic national chairman, declined to discuss patronage matters. It is understood, however, that McGrath favors moving very slowly. It apparently is his attitude that so long as the Southerners show any signs of coming back into the party they ought to be encouraged. ARRESTED FOR FIGHTING Two men were arrested early Saturday for fighting outside of the American Legion Hall, where a dance was in progress. Squirrel fishes kept close to rocks and stay in shadows as much as possible.

Versatile Two-Piecers For Charm

Adventists Give To Mission Fund

The largest mission offering in the history of the Midland Seventh Day Adventist Church was given by members and visitors in the Sabbath School on Christmas Day. L. O. Lovett of the church, Loraine and Pennsylvania Street, reported.

A mission offering is customary in Adventist churches on the last Sabbath in each quarter, and special emphasis was placed on it this year since the day fell on Christmas. Children of the church gave a program preceding the offering.

From the total offerings of all the Adventist churches in North America, the amount in excess of $200,000 each quarter is called the "overflow" and is allotted to a section of the church's worldwide mission program.

This fund for the quarter just closed was assigned to work in the Middle East, West Africa and Ethiopia. It will be used to establish schools, mission stations and medical clinics.

Artichokes take about three quarters of an hour to cook when they are covered with boiling water. After they are removed from the water they should be turned upside down to drain well.

British Health Plan Stirs Wig Market

LONDON —(P)— There's a run on the market for wigs—and it has the government worried.

Bald-headed men—and women—are taking advantage of Britain's new free health service and applying for more than 200 wigs a week. They come without cost under the health plan.

This country's 23 wigmakers figure the government can expect a demand for 100,000 a year at a cost of $40 a head. That's $4,000,000 out of the government's pocket.

What's more wig-wearers are entitled to have one wig cleaned and dressed every two months at a cost to the government of about $400,000 every year.

Commented a wigmaker: "The government is shocked. The trouble is that people who have been satisfied with one wig for years now are cashing in and getting two."

The Spanish Armada which sailed against England 360 years ago had 130 ships, 8,000 sailors and 19,000 troops.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Most successful mothers have these things in common:

One. Children don't make them "nervous." They take the noise and the demands of children calmly as a normal part of everyday living.

Two. They have enough imagination to put themselves into a child's place, and so are never tempted to bully their children or force them into unnecessarily painful circumstances and situations.

Three. They aren't perfectionists. The children are more important than the house, the impression the family makes on others—or anything else.

Four. While they are interested in seeing their children do well, they don't feel a need of satisfying their own egos through the accomplishments of their children.

Important Things

Five. They try to do things for their children they sense are really important to the children—being at home when they come from school, participating in school activities, making really gay and festive family occasions of holidays, making their friends welcome, etc.

Six. They set an example of kindness and tolerance for their children.

Seven. They see that father isn't the forgotten man around the house, so that the children think in terms of Mother and Dad, rather than just of mother.

Eight. They have good, even dispositions. A jittery mother isn't a good mother, no matter how much she wants to be one.

Hostess Can Learn To Enjoy Own Party

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

With the festive party season in full swing, the hostess who knows how to enjoy her own party will be the most successful at entertaining. Many mature women never master the art. They are too nervous, hurried or fatigued to look after guests properly or to enjoy their company. Such jitters can be avoided if parties are well-planned and preparations are made in advance.

The first rule to be observed for throwing a good party is to bring together people who will be interested in and amused by each other. Avoid the temptation to limit a list to people to whom you are socially indebted unless you are sure all guests will be compatible. If you are indebted to several people who are not well known to each other, it is wiser to have two small parties than one large one.

Don't be afraid to serve simple foods instead of an elaborate menu. Most guests would rather have one or two delicious, well-prepared dishes than a table full of delicacies if fussing over these keeps the hostess in the kitchen most of the time. Plan your food so that you can enjoy it with your guests. Serve the simple menu attractively and don't apologize for any lack of fancier foods.

Gay Party Frocks Take a Bow

By EPSIE KINARD
 NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Revived to make little girls' party frocks as pretty as picture book drawings are overskirts of contrasting cottons. The old-fashioned panier, for example, bows back to a modern encore. This fancy overskirt of the 19th century which encouraged little girls to curtsy gracefully bounces out again ever pert, crisp dresses such as the one of dark cotton print pictured (left). The overskirt is a pleated cutaway of pastel chambray which matches a dress yoke and ruffled caps that stand up like wings above tiny puffed sleeves. Able to match the charms of the panier is the apron overskirt edged with ruffles. The one (right) of ruffled plaid cotton spreads its charms over a dress of solid color broadcloth. Sleeve bandings of plaid tie the saucy little apron into the design of the dress.

Man-Made Mountain To Hold Off Cold Blasts Is Proposed

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—A Corpus Christi newspaper man has come up with the idea of making South Texas a winter playground by piling up a man-made mountain to hold off cold blasts from the north.

John W. DeVine, editor of the Six Points News here, said the idea struck him as he watched a recent dust storm roll toward the Gulf.

DeVine isn't at all sure the plan is feasible, but he said if he had a million dollars he would go into it on a large scale.

"Firsthand, you'd say, 'impossible,' but if you study it a little more, you wonder, and the more you think about it, the more reasonable it seems," DeVine said.

It takes 200,000 farmers producing an average of 1,000 bushels of grain annually to support the United States rat population.

MOVE OVER, MEN— Texas Women Need Elbow Room For New Activities

By MARTHA COLE Associated Press Staff Writer

Move over just a little, men! Texas women, who have proved themselves in almost every conceivable field of activity, need elbow room for new citizenship duties.

State senator to town constable—state club president to rodeo performer—publishers' association head—city manager—football players these were a few significant feminine performances in '48.

Here's a trend for '49: "You've got to recognize that the Berlin Airlift is more important than a fallen cake," a speaker told several thousand Texas women at the state Home Demonstration Club convention in Temple in October. "You've got to be both a housewife and a citizen." And so they are.

Two women will sit in the 51st Legislature at Austin, one less than last year. In the Senate is Mrs. Nevelle H. Colson of Navasota. In the House is Mrs. Rae Files Hill of Waxahachie, the school teachers' champion. Mrs. Colson is the third woman in Texas history elected to the state senate.

Feminine City Manager

One of two feminine city managers in the nation is Mrs. Willie J. Brockman, who was appointed city manager of Beaumont last June. They call her "Bill," and she's only five feet one inch tall and weighs 115 pounds. Her secretary says she's "strong."

Seventy-eight-year-old Mrs. Lizzie Holtzclaw was re-elected mayor of Tatum last April for her third term. She won it after a spirited contest with a Tatum merchant.

Louise (Sis) Dickerson is constable at Kilgore, and Mrs. E. U. Welle is constable at Texas City. Crane and McCamey have women justices of the peace.

Deport has a white-haired, gracious well-groomed bank president, Mrs. J. H. Moore, who is president of the Texas Parent Teachers Association.

Looking like a fashion plate and with a different hat for each session Mrs. John J. Perry of Sweetwater, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, guided the state convention in Austin in May.

Another Honor

Another honor came to another woman whose hats are conversation pieces—Ovelia Culp Hobby, executive vice president of the Houston Post, became the first woman ever to serve as president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Miss Maurine Hearn, on the staff of the Extension Service at Texas A&M College, will preside over the Texas Agricultural Workers convention in Fort Worth January 14-15. She is its first woman president.

The Texas mother of 1948 was Mrs. George W. McDaniel of Abilene. She has five children, is active in civic and club work in Abilene, works on her paintings, raises about 100 chickens annually and has taught Sunday School for 50 years.

The Texas League of Women Voters has a new project this year. They want family relations courts established in larger counties of Texas. The Bill for a secret ballot in Texas, which they have been pushing for two years will be up again before the 51st Legislature. This time they think it has a good chance of passing. "And I don't think we're being too optimistic," said Mrs. Martin Row of Dallas, State League president.

Football Players

In the Panhandle the girls added helmets and shoulder pads and played football last fall. The games were confined to clashes between classes in high schools, but they have plans for expanded activity next season.

All over Texas the women were riding and roping at rodeos. Nancy Binford of Amarillo last fall, was the only woman invited to exhibit in the cutting horse contest at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. With her went Jackie Worthington of Jackboro, named the outstanding all-round cowgirl at the Tri-State Rodeo.

Collegiate Lacking Basic Traits Faces First Job Failure

by LOYD BRADY
CHICAGO —(AP)— Why does the college trained man frequently fail at his first job?

The answer—the is still a child in one way or another, because he lacks one more of seven basic traits.

That is the answer given by Dr. Robert N. McMurry based on a survey by his management firm which studied 1,167 trainees directly hired from college by 247 companies.

He listed the seven traits as:

The ability to stay long enough with a company to repay the investment in training.

The ability to accept responsibility.

Persistence, or the ability "to follow a path to the end," even if the path is unfamiliar.

Self-reliance.

The quality of being agreeable to different groups and different persons.

Personal Goals

Identification of his personal goals with those of the firm.

And the ability to exercise authority without belligerence.

"Absence of these traits, or any one of them, indicates failure of an individual to grow emotionally," said Dr. McMurry.

He listed the study was based on experience with the 1,167 trainees recruited directly from college who were trained at the expense of $2,750 each for the first year, exclusive of such items as supervision and breakage.

Of the whole group, only a small percentage were judged desirable at the end of the first year. The others had left or had proved unsatisfactory and were discharged.

The way to avoid this loss, Dr. McMurry said, is "to keep clearly in mind the qualifications for the job, and to use a patterned interview which permits the interviewer to explore all facts of the applicant's background."

"This latter will give the interviewer a factual basis for judging whether the trainee does have the qualities the company seeks—and this judgment must be made upon a careful evaluation of what the candidate has done rather than on what he says he will do."

Committee To Plan CC Work Program

Members of the Program of Work Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce will meet at 4:30 p. m. Thursday in Hotel Scharbauer to draft a proposed 1949 work program for the organization, President Tom Sealy announced Saturday.

The committee includes the chairman of all committees of the Chamber of Commerce for 1948.

Construction At Stanton Hits Record High In '48

By CLEDDIE SHELBUENE

STANTON—Citizens in this county seat city can look back on 1948 as one of the greatest years in its history for residential and commercial construction. An estimated $450,000 was spent for the erecting of more than 30 new homes, a new church building and several business structures. In addition to this amount, a $300,000 paving program was completed to give the city its first modern paved streets.

The largest single building completed was the new First Baptist Church. The structure is of the most modern design and cost an estimated $75,000.

Construction is nearing completion on the new Texas Theatre building. Bob Whitaker, owner, will give Stanton its first new theatre in more than a quarter century when he completes this $50,000 stone structure.

Town Spreads Out
The business district is spreading out considerably along Highway 80 toward the west city limits. A new $12,000 building to house the John Deer Implement agency is nearing completion. Ector Thornton, owner, expects to move in within the next 60 days. The building is one block west of the schools.

Jack Jones, Stanton hotel owner, has under construction a modern tourist court on a site adjoining Thornton's, and a new home for the Graves Grocery was completed earlier this year in the same section of town.

Just outside the city limits to the west, work is beginning on a $75,000 building to house the Caprock Rural Electric offices.

Residential Construction
Residential construction reached an all-time high for any year during 1948. Many of the new homes are in the upper cost brackets. Sam Wilkerson and John Poe, pioneer Martin County ranchers, completed new homes on adjoining sites in north Stanton. Both are of brick construction and cost was estimated at more than $30,000 each.

Edmond Tom is soon to complete a $40,000 residence.

Homes in the below-$10,000 cost range accounted for more than $150,000 in residential construction. The paving program gave the city some 20 blocks of new paved streets and improvements were completed on more than a mile of old pavement in the city limits.

The increase in construction has brought a noticeable increase in population which now is estimated at more than 2,200.

Bride Wears Satin
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with fitted bodice, a round collar at the high neckline and sleeves pointed at the wrists. A draped peplum accentuated the hips, and the long skirt formed a chapel train. Her full length veil was caught to a shirred white net butterfly coronet outlined with seed pearls. Her bouquet of white gardenias and gladiolus with white satin butterflies was outlined in net frills and had wide white satin streamers.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Joe Donald Allen of Moran, and Miss Marialyce Smith of Goldthwaite was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of rose and brown taffeta, and carried white prayer books topped with pink carnations and net with brown ribbon streamers.

Bob Kellerman was best man and Jack Dibrill the groomsmen. Howell Johnson and the bridegroom's brother, Lloyd Lee Hayes, were the ushers who also served as candle lighters.

Trip Follows Reception
Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex which was decorated with floor baskets of gladiolus and greenery. The bride's table, laid with white linen, had as a centerpiece the flower-topped prayer books carried by her attendants, flanked by pink tapers in crystal candelabra tied with brown ribbon.

At the punch bowl was Miss Joan Cole, and Mrs. Burt Barnett of Crane served wedding cake. Miss Mary Ruble of Fort Arthur registered the guests.

For her trip to Carlsbad and other places in New Mexico, Mrs. Hayes wore a steel grey gabardine suit with black and white accessories, and a shoulder bouquet of gardenias. She is a graduate of McCamey High School and of John Tarleton College, Stephenville, where she was a member of the DST social club and faculty editor of the school annual. She attended San Angelo Business College and has been employed by the Shell Oil Company in McCamey. Hayes, also a graduate of McCamey High School, will receive his degree in petroleum engineering from A&M in June.

State's Teacher Needs Are Cited

AUSTIN — Texas schools must have a minimum of 51,772 new teachers in the next 10 years.
That is 5,000 more than the total of teachers now in the schools. They number 46,500.
Replacement of teachers is causing educators great concern, according to Waurino Walker of Waco, first vice president of the Texas State Teachers Association and a member of the National Education Association Committee on teacher education and professional standards.
"There is already a tremendous shortage of teachers and the profession is not proving sufficiently attractive to induce enough people to enter it," Miss Walker said here.
"Texas, itself, is now short several thousand qualified teachers. National and state surveys disclose that in the next decade 1,377,714 new teachers will be needed throughout the United States."
Many Replacements
"Texas will have to find a bare minimum of 51,772 new instructors. Surveys of the National Committee show that 31,689 teachers will leave the Texas schools during the next 10 years. They will die, retire or quit the classroom for other reasons."
The birth rate, rapidly accelerated during the war years, will soon be reflected in huge increases in attendance in schools throughout the nation, Miss Walker pointed out.
"Texas, alone, will need nearly 16,000 to take care of the increased enrollment due alone to the advanced birth rate," the teachers association officer said.

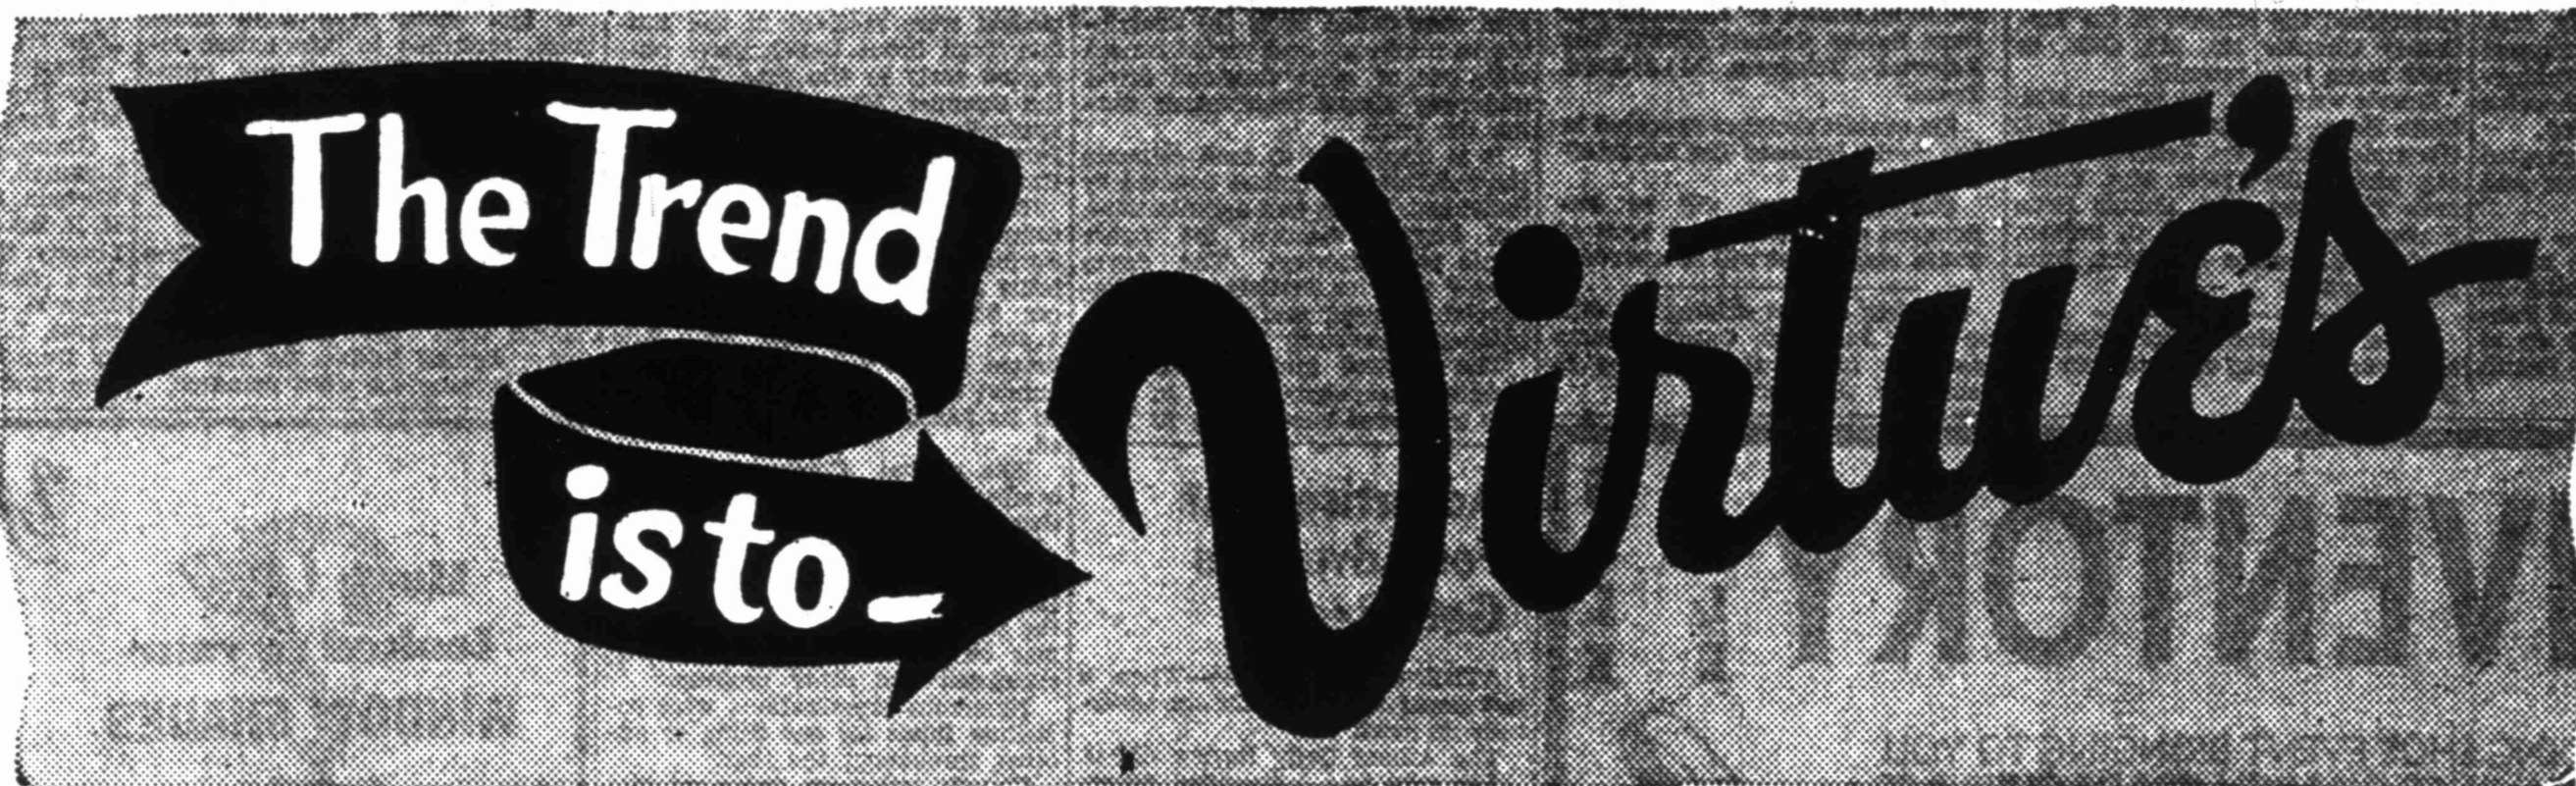

Air Communications In Airlift Headed By Adopted Texan

WIESBADEN, GERMANY — (AP) — An adopted Texan, Col. Jess Guthrie of San Antonio, heads air communications in "Operation Vittles," the airlift to Berlin over the Russian blockade.
Guthrie, described admiringly by Lieutenant Eustace, an information officer, as "one of the biggest Texas blowhards you ever heard," has just issued to his subordinates eight commandments couched in Biblical language.
Counseling his officers to "commend, reprimand, promote and demote as justified by the acts of thy disciples," Guthrie comments: "Blessed are the merciful, but promotion to colonel will be slow."
He caps off his instructions with: "Harken not my words and be reprimanded, for sad is the life of the Eightball."
Guthrie, who served 19 years as an enlisted man, mostly at Kelly Field, calls himself a "Texan by choice, not by accident of birth." Eustace did not disclose Guthrie's native state.
When war hit, Guthrie was commissioned and in six years he became a colonel. He commanded air communications over the "Hump" in the China-Burma-India theater during the war.

When you machine-stitch rayon jersey, stretch the fabric a little and keep the tension loose so that the seam will be as elastic as the fabric itself. Because of the construction of this fabric, you'll find this fine needle is easier to use.

Financial Drives Came Thick And Fast In '48

Generous Midlanders again in 1948 were called upon the contribute to numerous and varied causes, with one or more financial drives underway almost continuously during the year. It is impossible to even estimate the thousands of dollars donated by individuals, firms and organizations, but lumped together the figure would be staggering. The drives mainly were for worthwhile and benevolent causes, and citizens contributed generously and willingly. The $750,000 Midland Memorial Hospital campaign, started in 1947, was completed successfully in 1948.

More than $32,500 in cash and pledges were received in the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch drive conducted early in the year. Then in the Summer, Midlanders kicked in approximately $15,000 to save the Permian Basin Area Girl Scout Ranch from foreclosure. The annual American Red Cross campaign was conducted in the Spring, with approximately $14,000 being received. The American Cancer Society campaign brought in $1,500, and the Easter Seal Sale netted several hundred dollars. The annual Christmas Seal Sale reached its $5,500 goal as the year ended.

Advertisement For Advertiser Gets Results

ATHENS, TEXAS (P)—When a newspaper advertises for an advertiser its news. The Athens Daily Review did it. The man was a classified advertiser. He walked into the Review office and took out an ad, offering to rent his house, rent-free, to anyone who would take care of it. But he failed to leave his name, address or phone number. Result: the Review office was deluged with applicants. "And they were irritated and even somewhat angry when we couldn't produce the name of the advertiser," H. M. Kemp, publisher of the newspaper, smiled. "As the days wore on, the clamor increased. We were getting pretty desperate."

So the Review ran a three-column, front page story, headlined: "Wanted: One Advertiser." The story outlined the paper's predicament. "We would like to know who he is, too." And the story fetched the advertiser. He came in grinning. Next day, the Review ran a triumphant front-page note, announcing that its advertisement for an advertiser had succeeded.

An excellent sauce for Brussels sprouts is quickly made by melting a quarter cup of butter or margarine and allowing it to brown lightly over low heat; then add two tablespoons of cider vinegar and pour over a quart of the sprouts that have been cleaned and cooked.

Half a cup of hot milk and a teaspoon of salt will be sufficient to add to a pound of potatoes that have been boiled, peeled and mashed. Beat the mashed potatoes with the hot milk and seasoning until they are light and fluffy; pile into a shallow baking dish and brown under the broiler.

Man's Room Should Provide Comfort, Ease, Convenience

There is hardly a man alive who does not want a place to do his serious reading and concentrating, play at his hobbies, or enjoy just plain solitude.

A man's room should provide the greatest ease, comfort and convenience to fit his personal interests and tastes. He appreciates good looks and good taste, combined with old-shoe comfort.

Simplicity and free use of color are the keynotes in planning it. Begin with the floor. Make it an integral part of room design, coordinating room colors and serving as a background for furnishings. Asphalt tile flooring is suggested by interior designers for masculine atmosphere and to lend color.

Floor color depends upon treatment of the rest of the room. With pastel walls, darker shades of marbled asphalt tile are good such as brown, red or green. With strong wall colors the floor can be gray, tan, buff or light blue.

NEW DECORATIONS FOR PHONE BOOTH

LONDON (AP)—Maybe it will improve the service. The Post Office is experimenting with fluorescent lighting and more decorative interiors for some of London's telephone exchanges in the belief the brighter atmosphere will increase staff efficiency. If it works other exchanges will be redecorated.

Spacious, Pleasant Appearing House

Here is a three bed-room compact home for the larger family. It has a spacious, pleasant appearance given to it by large corner windows, second floor overhang and a brick veneered lower half. Each of the three bedrooms on the second floor is a breeze-catching corner room. There is good closet space in each of the bedrooms; a linen closet; comfortable-sized bath and a minimum of space taken up by the hall.

Modern House Shrinks In Size; Grows Larger In Use

The average $10,000 American home has shrunk to one-third its size of 20 years ago; yet, at the same time, this smaller house is in effect larger than the multitude of new ideas in its design and use, it was stated by the Construction Research Bureau, New York clearing house for building information.

Today's $10,000 house contains about 700 square feet. Two decades ago, $10,000 built a house of 2,000 square feet, the bureau said. The difference is due to higher costs for everything from land to on-site labor.

Architects and builders, well on their way toward compensating for the reduction in size by discarding every space-wasting idea, are making today's home vastly more comfortable, more functional and even better structurally than the big house of the late 1920's.

Partitions today are made thinner without sacrificing strength or sound absorption, by using new and improved materials. Rooms do double duty through designer's ingenuity.

Improved heating equipment is one of the biggest factors that puts more living space into today's small house. The outmoded radiator of 20 years ago look up 10 or more cubic feet, space now saved by recessing radiators in the walls. Smaller radiators are needed today because more efficient furnaces and the extensive use of full-thick mineral wool insulation in walls and roofs eliminate the need for oversized equipment.

Still more space is saved by eliminating radiators entirely and heating the home with baseboard radiation or steam or hot-water coils in the floor. Greater efficiency and modest cost of these new heating methods are made possible largely by the use of mineral wool insulation, the Research Bureau said. In a house so protected, size and initial cost of the heating plant can be cut between 20 and 30 per cent and the home kept comfortable with a third less fuel.

Excess Water Around Foundation Causes Damage To Homes

Small cracks developing in plaster near the ceiling and over doors, and between the baseboard and flooring, are a sign that the house is settling. It is a mistake to fill these cracks without getting at the cause of the trouble because the condition will continue and serious damage may result.

All houses settle somewhat, but if the tendency continues it is usually because excess water is soaking down around the foundation footings.

To prevent this, all eaves of the house should be equipped with gutters connected to down spouts draining into a dry well at least ten feet from the foundation wall. The lawn should be graded to slope slightly away from the house, and all depressions near the house filled so water cannot collect in them.

Fire Losses Show Increase In 1948

Fire losses in the City of Midland showed a slight increase during 1948 over losses for the previous year, according to an estimate released Saturday by Fire Marshall Hill Klatt. He estimated the 1948 total loss at $75,000.

More than two-thirds of the year's destruction by fire came in the month of August when the city was hit by a blaze which destroyed a building housing Chambers Lumber Company, Mastercraft Furniture Shop and a warehouse belonging to White's Auto Store. Several major fires in the residential sections also came in August, running the total loss for that month of $51,349.46.

On the brighter side, the month of May passed without a single damaging blaze. The fire department made 300 runs during the year, most of them in the city limits. Calls answered outside the city were to farm and ranch houses, the two air fields, and to aid other fire departments in extinguishing blazes outside the county.

BOBBY ORSON LAST EMERGENCY PATIENT OF '48

The distinction of being the last emergency patient treated at the Western Clinic-Hospital in 1948 went to Bobby Orson, small son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Orson. Bobby suffered second degree burns about the stomach and arms about 8:30 p. m. Friday when he fell against a gas heater. He was treated and released.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Temptation

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was sitting up in a tree one day. He was across the Elephant Path from the very tall tree with Daddy Ringtail's monkey house in the top.

it smelled wonderful! Mugwump climbed across the Elephant Path, following his nose to the place where the smell of the scrambled coconut pie was coming from.

Oh, me, and oh my, my! There was a scrambled coconut pie sure enough. It was sitting in the window of Daddy Ringtail's monkey house, right where Mother Ringtail had put it to cool.

And there was the scrambled coconut pie, and there was Mugwump. He pushed his mouth together with his hands so he wouldn't bite. He knew he shouldn't be doing it. Oh, it was a great temptation. I can tell you, but he didn't bite. He pushed his mouth together with his hands so he wouldn't bite. But as soon as he took his hands away, his mouth came open, pop, again. That pie was a very great temptation, which means that Mugwump was wanting to take a bite almost as much as he knew he shouldn't. And the wanting to take a bite became more and more, and the knowing he shouldn't became less and less, until Mugwump knew that he soon would be taking a bite if he didn't do something about it.

Mugwump called out: "Mother Ringtail, would you please, pretty please, move the pie away to another place?" And so Mother Ringtail moved the pie away, and Mugwump didn't have any until supper was ready. Oh, but Mugwump was right in what he did, of course. When a somebody knows that they can't stay out of mischief, it's a happy thing to ask a somebody else to take the mischief away—whether it's mischief like biting a pie that you shouldn't, or maybe some other kind. Happy day, and watch for another adventure tomorrow. (Copyright 1948, General Features Corp.)
