BY HIS OWN definition, a politician is never a statesman until after he dies.

But Harry S. Truman, whose funeral services ae scheduled for today, would undoubtedly be the first to halt the rush to plaster the "statesman" tag on his career, if he were able.

History will make the big decision, but whatever is recorded, he man from Independence will go down as having made some of the most monumental decisions ever a president was called upon to make.

CONSIDER, if you will, these few: *The decision to use the atomic bomb on Hiroshimi, which hastened the end of World War II.

*The decision to send American troops to Korea, to halt the advancement of Communist Imperialism.

*Passage of te civil rights bill, which is still having repercusions in America today.

TRUMAN SAID in regard to the slogan, "Give 'em Hell, Harry," that he never intentionally gave anyone hell. "I merely told the truth on people, and they thought it was hell," he told a reporter.

HST became president for his first term following the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He had been sworn in as vice president just 88 days prior to Roosevelt's death.

Observers say the first few months of Truman's administration were among the most vital in the nation's history.

Upon being sworn in, Truman told a group of reporters, "If you fellows ever pray, please pray for me."

In his lifetime, Truman was the living example of how far a "common man" can rise, coming from poor stock to become

He may be the last of a vanishing breed. One thing for sure, there'll never be another Harry Truman.

THE TRAGIC accident last Thursday on Highway 214 at Running Water Draw further points up the need for improvements on that highway. Plans are progressing toward improvement of the road from Friona to Hub, and from Clay's Corner south to the Bailey County line.

However, the big "middle part" of the road, the part on which the fatal accident occured, and on which another was recorded a little over a year ago, is not even scheduled for a highway improvement program in the immediate

We cannot see any reason for widening the road from Friona to Hub without including the rest of the road, which historically has proven to be the most dangerous segment.

A CIVIC leader posed this question to us in a conversation the other day.

"Why is it that when you're travelling, that the worst roads you'll travel on are here in Parmer County?"

The spokesman pointed out that once you get out of Parmer Couny, going any direction, the roads immediately are better. Why this should be, with the county's agricultural wealth and contribution to the state. let alone the increased traffic as shown by actual count, puzzles

So, we'll pass the question along to Highway Department

"Why is it that when you're travelling, that the worst roads you'll travel on are here in Parmer County?"

Squaws Win Pair To Run Record To 12-4

Friona High School's Squaws scored a pair of basketball wins last week, to up their season record to 12 wins against four defeats. The team avenged an earlier loss on Tuesday by thumping Muleshoe's Mulettes.

Then on Thursday night the team relied on some late-game heroics to come from behind for a 49-45 win at Vega in a real cliff-hanger.

The game was the longest overtime battle involving a Friona team in recent years. Then in the third place battle, Claude caught the team in the doledrums and scored a 53-50 single overtime win.

Defensive starter Terri Bingham sustained a bone fracture in her right arm in the Fritch game, and has been out of action since. She reports to her doctor again next Tuesday. which will determine how soon she can see action again.

To bolster the guard end. Coach F.G. Crofford has moved Tena Day into a guard slot. This helps to replace the height lost by Bingham's absence in the lineup.

In the Vega game last Thursday, some crucial free shooting by the Squaws in the late stages of the game proved the difference.

Vandra Niehols hit a pair of free throws with 30 seconds left to tie the score, and a little later Patricia Phipps made a pair that gave Friona its lead at 47-45. The Squaws intercepted the inbounds pass, and Darla Rhodes added two insurance shots with three seconds on the clock for the final margin.

The Squaws had missed some free shots earlier in the game, but came through in the clutch.

The Friona Chieftains split a pair of basketball games during the past week. The team now has an 8-5 season mark.

On Thursday, in a game at Vega, the Chiefs dropped a double overtime barn-burner, 51-46.

"Our timing was off, we missed easy shots. We had just finished our finals, and the kids seemed to be mentally and physically tired," said Coach Ray DeBord.

In the win over Muleshoe, the Chiefs hit 48 per cent of their field goal shots-10 of 21. Friona trailed in that game, 27-26 at halftime, but came back in the second half with a great defensive effort.

On The Farm In Parmer County MACK HEALD County Agent

LATE FALL AND EARLY WINTER are good times to set out new trees in your home or community landscape.

Citizens are quick to point out to visitors and tourists the better residential districts, parks, campuses and other areas where old trees thrive as the most beautiful parts of their communities.

Here are several reasons to plant trees-

1. Trees reduce smog and purify the air by acting as dust and pollution filters and by releasing life-giving oxygen into our air. 2. Trees moderate the climate by protecting from extremes in wind, heat, cold and drought.

3. Trees provide many bird and animal species with food and shelter.

According to real estate people, one of the best reasons for planting good trees is to increase the value and sales appeal of homes. Beautiful, well-placed trees are a prime selling factor, especially in older homes.

Trees are probably one of the biggest bargains in our environment. Since considerable time may be required to produce trees of useful size, plant them as soon as possible and select adapted varieties that fill specific needs.

Here are some basic points of landscape design to keep in mind when placing trees in the landscape-1. Consider the scale and proportion of the tree species at maturity. Too often large growing trees are placed in areas where they must be later removed because of being too close to a home or other structures. Trees may become too massive and visually overcome a small structure.

2. Use restraint in the number of different tree species planted in a land-space development. Too much variety results in confusion and lack of unity.

3. Consider year-round interest in foliage, flower, fruit and bark as well as placement for proper shade and sun needs and a proper balance between evergreen and deciduous trees.

Make trees a part of an overall landscape plan. And remember that a tree is a living investment that increases in value continually if properly selected, placed and cared for.

Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. The per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 24 cents for corn, 23 cents for grain sorghum and 20 cents for barley.

3. Under either option, substitution of wheat in excess of the allotment and soybeans planted for harvest as beans will be considered as feed grain for purposes of preserving feed grain base history for the farm.

New office buildings for Friona Industries and Pioneer Cattle Order Buyers, Inc. boosted the totals for the commercial construction authorized by permit. In fact, the two buildings accounted for all but $37,000 of the total in that category, and that was represented by the new fire

LARGEST PERMIT

The permit for the Friona Industries building amounted to $100,000, and was included in the February total, which was the year's top month. The total for Pioneer Cattle, $70,000, was among the $142,650 figure filed for November.

New residence construction once again led the way in the construction totals, with 17 permits issued for new home building estimated to cost $458,800. There were 11 less residential permits issued during 1972 than in 1971, but total value of residential construction for 1972 was only $19,400 less than the previous year, indicating that the homes built or started during 1972 were in the higher cost

AREA'S LARGEST

Hi-Plains Feed Yard: Industry's Young Giant

FIVE YEARS AGO last May, ground was broken at Hi-Plains Feed Yard northwest of Friona. Since that time, well over a half million cattle have been fattened by the feeding installation, which has become a young giant in the cattle

A group of Friona area men, who had studied the feeding industry carefully, banded together to form Hi-Plains Feed Yard, Inc., and another chapter in the area's feeding industry was begun.

This was 1967, an eventful year for the feeding industry in the Friona area. The announcement by the group which would build Hi-Plzins came two weeks ahead of the decision by Missouri Beef Packers to build its Friona plant. Also that summer, work was begun on Hi-Pro Feeds, by a separate company, but also a big addition to the area's feeding picture.

STOCKHOLDERS LISTED

Clarence Martin is president of the corporation which was formed at Hi-Plains Feed Yard, Inc. Other stockholders include W.S. Ingram, Joe Osborn, Sloan Osborn, Law rence Martin, Wesley Barnett, Charles Osborn, Ralph Shelton and J.G. McFarland.

One of the most modern mills to be found anywhere was constructed, along with a unique two-story office building.

On October 7, 1967, Hi-Plains began receiving cattle. The feedlot began operation with pen space for 25,000 cattle. It was the stockholders' plan to first fill the 25,000 pen space, and later, perhaps in a year or two, increase the capacity to 40,000.

However, the original pens were filled in a matter of months, and a crew began constructing additional pens. These pens were filled practically as they were built, and in less than a year's time-by the summer of 1968, Hi-Plains Feed Yard had reached a "cattle population" of 50,000-making it the largest feedlot in the state at the

A peak of 55,000 head has been reached on a couple of occasions at the yard. This is just about the limit under the present pen structure. However, a 30,000-head expansion program is in the works, which should once again make the establishment "Number 1" in size in the state.

Manager Earl Elam is a veteran of 20 years in the feeding industry. He was born and raised at St. Joseph's, Mo., and grew up on a farm where cattle were fed.

Elam moved to Denver in 1950, where he was connected with commercial feed yards for 17 years. He came to Friona to help oversee construction, and has been with the yard ever since it opened.

In addition to the thousands of dollars represented by the cattle in the feedyard, Hi-Plains has been a tremendous economic shot in the arm for the Friona area.

EMPLOYS 42

The installation employs 42 people full-time, providing an annual payroll in excess of $360,000. The majority of the employees live in Friona, adding their strength to the city's church, and civic endeavors, as well as from the material standpoint.

Besides the permanent employees, Hi-Plains usually has about five summer employees. These are normally young people, or those needing summer employment. "I'm a firm believer in helping our young people by giving them jobs. I think every business that is able should provide a summer job for those kids who want to work," says Elam, who added that the feedlot work is good work experience for the youngsters, in addition to helping them realize that dollars are to be earned.

The addition of Hi-Plains Feed Yard also has been a big boost to the farm economy of the Friona area.

EARL'S PARMER

Since the giant feeding establishment was added to the local scene, maize prices in the local area have been better than ever before. This is especially noteworthy in that maize has been for years the Friona area's number one cash crop, with Parmer County producing more maize than any other county in the state and

DEMAND FOR CORN

The feed yards have also created a demand locally for corn, and has allowed the area farmers to further diversify. Hi-Plains alone contracted for around 63,000 tons of ensilage for the 1972 season. This means that there are approximately 2,500 acres of corn in cultivation in the local area that was not being grown prior to the completion of the feed yard.

Hi-Plains Feed Yard feeds an average of 850,000 pounds of maize alone each day. This gives you an idea of what a giant volume of materials go into keeping 50,000 cattle fed.

Officials of the feedlot point out, however that while Hi-Plains is large enough to affect all of the advantages and economies inherent to large-scale feeding, at the same time they are not too big to pay attention to individual feeders and their cattle.

Assistant manager is Bill Bailey, who also has been with the company since its planning stage. Bailey heads the company's computerized accounting system.

The yard's consulting veterina rian is Dr. John D. Shuman. Feed ration formulation is handled by Mark Hoelschel, an independent consulting nutritionist.

typical American real coffee lovers who drink about 750 cups a year, you'll probably agree that hardly anything can perk up your day better than a better-tasting cup of making better coffee. First, remember to always start with a really clean and 'sweet' coffee pot. Coffee flavor is delicate, and a clean coffee maker preserves its natural flavor. Use a mild detergent to clean your coffee maker; or better yet, one of the already prepared coffee pot destainer products. Dip-It is the most popular.

Second, always use cold water when filling your percolator or other coffee maker. Percolators and drip pots are designed for cold water use.

Third, try placing one of the new "wraparound" coffee filters in the top of your coffee maker, before you add the correct measure of your favorite blend of coffee, Using coffee filters is the newest basic step developed for getting better taste from any kind of coffee, made in any your filter basket clean. kind of coffee pot or percolator. Here's how the filters work. When placed in the top of the percolator, they keep all of the coffee grounds, including the tiniest ones, from coffee. Here are some tips on entering the brew and causing bitter taste in the coffee. Recent discoveries showed that the tiniest coffee grounds when they fell into the brew were often causing bitterness. Why? The brewing part of the percolator gets up to 15 degrees hotter than proper flavor temperature, and the overheated tiny grounds secrete excess tannic acids, oils other distasteful elements. Coffee filters now prevent this bitterness.

Convenience is another welcome advantage to homemakers who regularly put a Star coffee filter in their coffee pots. After you pour out clear, full flavor cups of delicious coffee for your family, you simply dump out the entire "filter pack" of used coffee grounds into your trash receptacle. This saves you time, and helps you keep
