12 Allies Sign Atlantic Treaty

Senate Must Approve To Bind Nation

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States, Britain, France and nine non-Communist Western nations joined Monday in signing their historic North Atlantic Security Treaty.

This was the next to last step in pledging a one-for-all and all-for-one defense against any attacker—a warning clearly intended for Communist Russia, which has denounced the pact as "aggressive."

If and when the treaty is ratified it will establish America's defensive frontiers in the heart of Europe for at least 20 years. A two-thirds vote of approval by the Senate, plus the President's signature, is needed to seal U. S. ratification.

The signing ceremony was set for 2 p. m., CST, in the government's Departmental Auditorium on Constitution Avenue, a few blocks from the White House. It opened a new and perhaps more critical era in the cold war, for the West already is wondering what Russia's counter-moves may be.

All 12 of the foreign ministers who gathered here last week to put their names on the treaty were listed to speak, about five minutes each, before the actual signing got underway (about 3:30 p. m.).

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, signing for the United States, had the task of formally welcoming the visitors and presiding in signing. He was scheduled to wind up the speeches with the day's chief address, lasting about 15 minutes.

Invited to hear the speeches and witness the signing in the high-ceilinged hall were about 1,500 cabinet members and other government officials, diplomats, members of Congress and newsmen representing the world press and radio.

This is the second time in less than two years the American government has joined in signing such a many-sided alliance. The first occasion came in September, 1947, at Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, when the inter-American nations made a Western Hemisphere pact.

Neither that treaty, nor the European pact drawn along similar lines, would cause the United States "automatically" to go to war in event of an attack on one of the other member nations.

But the extent to which this nation would be "morally" committed to fight has been a subject of debate since the signing of the European pact. The treaty, which would cause the United States to help resist an attack on any of the big nations in Senate debate on the North Atlantic Treaty.

The other major issue expected to come up in the Senate is whether the pact would place the United States in a position to help resist an attack on any of the big nations in Senate debate on the North Atlantic Treaty.

High Interest Seen In City Vote Tuesday

Interest in Tuesday's city election mounted Monday as candidates in the two-way mayor's race increased the tempo of their campaigns and took to the air with messages to the voters. Friends of the candidates also are active in the race. A near-record vote in a city election is forecast.

The candidates in the mayor's race are R. H. (Rusty) Gifford, life underwriter, who is seeking reelection to a second two-year term, and William B. Neely, attorney. Both men are well known and are active in civic and church affairs here.

The election will be held Tuesday in the City-County Auditorium. Voting will be between the hours of 8 a. m. and 7 p. m., with voters urged to bring poll tax receipts to the polls.

Considerable interest also has developed in the race for Place No. 1 on the City Council. Jess Barber, veteran building contractor and former city building inspector, and Frank N. Striver, oil company tax commissioner and a Midland resident since 1947, are the candidates. Barber has lived here since 1906. Ben Black is not seeking reelection to the position.

Unopposed Candidates
H. J. Chiles is unopposed for election to his first full term as councilman, Place No. 2. He was appointed to the post to fill a vacancy last February. He heads an oil well acidizing service company.

W. F. Heil, veteran automobile dealer and garage owner, is seeking reelection, Place No. 3 on the council. He is unopposed.

Twenty-two ballots were cast during the absentee voting period which ended Friday night.

The council members named Tuesday will be sworn in at the regular meeting of the City Council, April 12.

Holdover councilmen are Robert I. Dickey, Place No. 4, and Stanley M. Erskine, Place No. 5.

New Disease Termed Serious Threat To Livestock Industry

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A new cattle disease called "X" for want of a better name is threatening herds in this country.

B. T. Simms, chief of the Agriculture Department's Bureau of Animal Industry, discussed it in recent testimony before a House Agriculture Department Appropriations subcommittee. The testimony was released Monday.

Dr. Simms said the disease has appeared in 30-odd states. So far, scientists have not found a way to combat it.

It is not attacking a large number of animals but it is widespread as far as the affected states are concerned, and it seems to be becoming more prevalent. We are definitely concerned. I do not want to be an alarmist but it is serious," he said.

Cites Foot-Mouth Progress
Dr. Simms said symptoms include a thickening of the skin, a discharge from the eyes, drooping from the mouth, and a wartlike growth on the tongue.

He said a high percentage of the affected animals die. There have been cases, he said, where entire herds have been wiped out.

Dr. Simms also reported that apparently progress is being made in the fight to wipe out a serious outbreak of the foot-and-mouth disease in Mexico.

He described the Mexican outbreak and joint U. S.-Mexican efforts to wipe it out as "the hardest, biggest job of animal disease control that has ever been undertaken in the history of the world."

Warren Day of Fort Worth, vice president of the international organization, and other officers and directors of the Midland chapter look on as the charter is presented.

Rain Stimulates Dollar-Day Crowds

Dollar Day, plus the beneficial moisture which fell Sunday, stimulated shopping in Midland Monday as huge crowds thronged the downtown section to buy the Dollar Day values offered in practically all retail stores.

It appeared to be one of the best business days of the year in Midland.

Most stores were crowded with customers' had clerks were busy waiting on the trade. Cash registers were ringing "almost" constantly in many business establishments.

Street, sidewalk and store traffic was exceptionally heavy. The crowds gathered early and were shopping late.

Everyone was in a good humor—thanks to the rainfall and to the pre-Easter values offered by Midland merchants.

Midland Area Gets Million-Dollar Rain

Made to the order of ranchers and farmers and delivered in a manner pleasing to the general public—that was the most beneficial rain and snow which fell on Midland and surrounding territory Sunday.

Such moisture, falling as it did and at this particular time of the year, usually is termed "a million-dollar rain," but Sunday's precipitation perhaps will be worth much more than a million dollars to farm and ranch owners of this section of West Texas.

The fall amounted to from three-quarters of an inch to an inch over Midland territory. It was the most general and beneficial moisture in months. Smiles were on the faces of ranchers and farmers Monday morning as they gathered in hotel lobbies to discuss the moisture and its effects on range, stock and crop conditions.

"How much did you get?" was the popular question.

The gauge at the city barn here measured the rainfall at .87 inch, while at Midland Air Terminal, 10 miles west, the fall was measured at .99 inch. The low temperature was 34.5 degrees and it was thought no damage resulted from the touch of winter.

Snow Flurries
The rainfall started as a mist about noon Sunday, increasing to a steady downpour during the afternoon. Snow flurries intermingled with the rain during the afternoon, and until about 6 p. m. when the snow took over by itself. The snow storm, one of the heaviest ever seen here, continued about two hours, finally covering the ground for a short time. The snow flakes were termed by many as the "largest ever seen."

They were referred to as snowpuffs rather than snowflakes.

Two to three inches of snow covered the Big Bend country and from Fenwell west to Fecoc Sunday night and Monday morning. The Big Bend area reported a killing freeze, with some stock damage.

The water running off the house-tops was sweet and soothing music to Midlanders Sunday afternoon and evening, and many citizens stayed within to enjoy the pleasing sound. Housewives were elated over the sand settler.

Ranchers said the moisture will bring out the grass and weeds, and that wild flowers are sure to bloom in May. It has been several years since wild flowers covered the countryside in West Texas. They said a few warm days now will work wonders over the cattle country.

Ford Reductions Slight
Under the new price schedule, Ford cars will cost from $13 to $30 less than before. Mercurys will be down $80 to $120, and Lincoln and Lincoln Cosmopolitan models are reduced $100. In addition, the company cut the prices of certain truck models from $10 to $40.

Ford's reduction figures were well below the level of the Kaiser-Frazer Corporation, cuts — by far the greatest in the industry's post-war annals.

On March 28, K-F said it was moving toward a "broader" mass market, and slashed $198 to $333 from its models. Less than two weeks earlier, Willys-Overland had announced cuts ranging from $25 to $270.

The General Motors Corporation reductions came February 25 and amounted to $10 to $40 on cars and $150 on some trucks. At that time Chrysler said it had no immediate plans for a similar step.

Gossett Terms Pact Anti-War Insurance

AUSTIN—(AP)—Rep. Ed Gossett (D-Texas) told the Texas House of Representatives Monday the United States "can not afford another war, even if we win it."

He said that the signing of the Atlantic Pact in Washington is just one of the anti-war insurance steps being taken by the United States. Gossett said it was not an effort to by-pass the United Nations.

Pan American And Taylor Make Strike In Central Sterling

Flowing oil production has been discovered from a lower Permian lime formation in Central Sterling County.

Pan American Production Company and Taylor Refining Company of Houston drilled and tested their No. 2 Rufus W. Foster, wildcat nine miles southwest of Sterling City, for one hour and 13 minutes at 5,473-89 feet.

In four minutes after the tool was open, gas reached the surface and a good blow continued for the remainder of the test. Operator pulled 540 feet of drillpipe and oil began flowing.

Recovery was 1,150 feet of 29-gravity oil and 150 feet of drilling mud out oil. There were no shows of water. Flowing bottom hole pressure was 800 pounds.

On last report, a string of 5 1/2-inch casing was being run. The pay opener will then make production tests prior to completion.

The current Permian horizon is thought to be possibly Wolfcamp. Top of pay was picked at 5,475 feet.

This strike is 880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 10, block 13, SPRR survey, about four miles east of the Marvin pool, which already has been defined in every direction.

Stanolind To Offset Cochran Discovery

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has staked a direct north offset to its No. 2 Edwards, recently completed Devonian discovery in the London area of extreme South-Central Cochran County.

The flanker will be the concern's No. 2 E. C. Holt, staked 680 feet from south and east lines of section 2, block 4, pat survey, about 25 miles southwest of the town of Lehman.

It is projected to the Devonian around 11,800 feet. Last report had the venture moving in rotary equipment preparatory to spudding.

Requested test of this new pool is London-Devonian-field.

Amerada Will Drill Wildcat In Andrews

Location was staked for a 5,000-foot rotary tool worked in Central-Southeast Andrews County, 10 miles southeast of the town of Andrews, as Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Andrews-University.

The driller is 987 feet from north and 854.6 feet from east lines of the south half of section 15, block 1, University survey.

The projected depth is expected to allow an investigation into the San Andres-Permian. Operations are to start immediately.

Diamond M Outpost Scheduled By Lion

An outpost has been staked to the Diamond M field of Central-West Scurry County by Lion Oil Company.

It will be Lion No. 6 C. T. McLaughlin, 1,831 feet from east and 665 feet from south lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey, which puts it about 10 miles west and a little south of the town of Snyder.

Drillite elevation is 2,375 feet. With rotary tools, the semi-wildcat is to start drilling by April 6 toward 8,000 feet for a test into the Canyon line of the Pennsylvanian. That formation is the regular pay of the Diamond M pool.

Pumping Discovery Evident In Sterling

A small pumping discovery from the San Andres-Permian is evident in Southeast Sterling County at Placid Oil Company and The Ohio Oil Company No. 3 Clark, wildcat two miles southwest of Water Valley.

Following the installation of a pumping unit, the venture pumped 38.5 barrels of oil in nine hours. Operator representatives say this production was head oil and the well should settle to around 25 barrels of oil daily.

Production is from the open hole section at 82-95 feet in the San Andres. The well is scheduled to take potential test and complete.

It is 860 feet from north and east lines of section 81, block 5, H&TC survey.

Placid Prepares To Swab Scurry Test

Swabbing tests were to be started at Placid Oil Company No. 1 Early, possible Strawn-Pennsylvanian discovery in Northeast Scurry County, six and one-half miles northeast of Snyder.

After showing some free oil in drillem tests, the venture cemented a string of 5 1/2-inch casing on 7,548 feet, total depth. Operator has now drilled cement plug and perforated it 1,200-45 feet, opposite the Strawn zone which indicated production.

On last report, preparations to swab and test were being made. Location is 487 feet from north and 680 feet from west lines of survey 1, Spring Addition & Walker original grantees.

His sister, Velma Joyce, three, was injured. Sheriff Pearce Bland said the children ran from behind a parked car into the path of another vehicle.
The body of Aubrey Spriggs, San Antonio, was recovered from Lake Medina late Saturday. Spriggs drowned after the boat in which he and a companion were fishing was capsized by a storm Friday night.

DALLAS — The largest Easter Seal Sale in the history of the Texas Society for Crippled Children has been launched with the mailing of more than 1,000,000 sheets of the seals in Texas. This is exclusive of the 1,500,000 school packets which are purchased by children.

The Texas Society for Crippled Children entered the 18th annual Easter Seal Sale with 125 organized county affiliates, according to Martin M. Ricker, executive director. In all of these counties, 91.8 per cent of the money derived from the sale remains to care for local children.

The Midland County sale, sponsored by the Children's Service League, started on the weekend as envelopes containing the seals were placed in the mail.

In a letter announcing the 1949 Easter Seal Sale, President Roscoe L. Thomas of Dallas points out some of the year's accomplishments of the Society. Through special legislation sponsored by the Texas Society, special education offers educational opportunities to 11,000 children, who, because of physical disabilities, are unable to attend regular school; rehabilitation teaches trades and business to 2,000 handicapped; hospitalization and medical care have been provided 7,500 less fortunate children; transportation was furnished 80 children who did not have the means to travel to medical centers; there are

It's Still A Noble Calling

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is quoted as saying that she can't imagine why her son, Franklin, Jr., or anyone else wants to get into politics. This may seem a strange remark from a person whose name is associated with political distinction and who takes an active interest in politics herself.

It is not hard to imagine, however, that when she made it she had in mind the pressure and bitter criticism and exhausting responsibility that a political career sometimes brings. Yet we feel that Mrs. Roosevelt, on reflection, might be willing to modify her statement.

As it stands now she sounds as if she were subscribing to the familiar blanket of criticism which the thoughtless are fond of spreading over all politics and politicians. But the fact that there are hypocrites and dishonest men in the profession does not mean that politics cannot be the highest form of public service that a citizen can render.

Jobless Engineers?

Two members of the Hoover Commission, Senator McClellan of Arkansas and former Congressman Manasco of Alabama, have taken issue with the commission's recommendation that civilian functions of the Army Corps of Engineers be transferred to the Interior Department.

Their objections, we believe, deserve serious consideration. The Corps of Engineers is a skillful, experienced organization. There has been no quarrel with its efficiency. Its civilian functions, such as flood control and river and harbor development, contribute to the country's development at the same time that they provide peacetime training.

A transfer of those functions would add to government labor costs. It would reduce the Corps of Engineers and impair its effectiveness in a military emergency.

It would seem that there is a valid objection to this item in the commission's list of generally wise and valuable proposals.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Truman is advised depression looms in 1950-51; business bust can be averted by stringent program of social security, public housing, etc.; economic advisers agree on general remedies.

WASHINGTON—There's been a lot of petty bickering between the President's Council of Economic Advisers, but there's one unpleasant fact they all agree on. They foresee definite depression in 1950 or 1951—unless immediate steps are taken to head it off.

The council, it will be recalled, was created by Congress in 1946 to advise the White House on how to ward off depression. And although the three members differ on a lot of things, they feel that depression can be stopped—though only by the concerted cooperation of the administration, Congress, business, farmers and labor.

To understand the background of the Economic Council's vitally important business diagnosis, it should be recalled that for the past 100 years American economy has been riding a roller-coaster of ups and downs, inflation and deflation, of booms and busts. In the past 50 years these ups and downs have become more severe—so severe that the political in Moscow is known to have based its global strategy on the theory that one more economic depression would wreck the entire American system.

Since V-J Day most Americans have been enjoying the greatest wave of prosperity in history—for two of the past three years. The public is unsatisfied demand for goods they could not buy during the war; 2. The cold war, which has caused the government to pour billions into the world's economic stream.

However, the council estimates that the long pent-up demand for automobiles, refrigerators and other consumers' goods is now just about filled, while the vast expenditures to Europe in another year will begin to taper off, so that depression will come in 1950-51.

Another factor is the psychological effect of swiftly rising prices followed by dropping prices. If OPA and inflation controls had not been thrown overboard by Congress and prices had not shot up so high, business dislocation might not be so bad now.

For, while falling prices at the moment may be healthy, yet a lot of business—especially small business—always gets hurt by falling prices. And the psychological effect of falling prices encourages depression; for people, waiting for lower prices, don't buy.

The three members of the President's council of economic advisers are: Chairman Dr. Edwin Nourse, a New Yorker, long-time member of the Brookings Institute, and generally considered the most conservative counselor.

Leo Keyserling, a native of South Carolina, former secretary to Senator Wagner, and who has had a long experience in the U. S. Housing Authority. A liberal, Keyserling frequently disagrees with more conservative Chairman Nourse.

John D. Clark, a native of Colorado and former economics professor at the University of Nebraska and the University of Denver. Clark usually lines up with liberal Keyserling.

However, the council has composed its differences to recommend a program to President Truman which it regards as absolutely essential to block depression. While all three agree, Dr. Nourse considers the voluntary phase of the program more important, but Keyserling and Clark, though not disagreeing, would place more emphasis on the government phase.

The program which Nourse considers most important is: Farmers—Convince farmers to grow bigger crops and accept somewhat lower support prices, thereby reducing the consumers' food bill, but continuing a reasonable return for farmers.

Business—Sell businessmen on lower profits per item, thereby getting greater volume and continued reasonable profits. Labor—Persuade labor leaders not to seek wage increases that will throw the economy out of gear.

Growing Pains Pass In Time If Abnormalities Are Mild

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service. Children often have vague pains in their arms or legs usually called 'growing pains.' Probably most youngsters with these vague pains merely have been growing so fast that their bones and muscles have not quite kept up their proper relations.

Sometimes the curve of the spine may not be just right, or crooked, or bow legs are present which cause slight strains on the muscles or ligaments. In such cases in which the abnormalities are mild, plenty of sunshine, good food and the passage of time usually take care of the difficulty.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. QUESTION: "I have a great deal of trouble with cold feet, especially just before going to sleep. The feet look white. What can be done for this?"

ANSWER: This is some kind of disturbance of circulation. Whether it is caused by Raynaud's disease or some other condition is hard to tell. A careful diagnosis is indicated. If nothing serious is found, soaking the feet in warm water before retiring might be helpful.

Serious abnormalities may be responsible in some cases. The help of an orthopedic surgeon in deciding whether or not surgery is desirable. A few children with growing pains seem to have something wrong with one or more of their internal glands. When present, this requires correction.

Occasionally the pains may be caused by diseased tonsils, adenoids or sinuses, and this is probably related to the muscular rheumatism which older people get.

There is also a debate among medical men as to whether growing pains may be a mild form of rheumatic fever. Usually rheumatic fever comes on suddenly with swollen and painful joints and other characteristic symptoms. Rheu-

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

The other night I had dinner with Guy Lombardo at the Roosevelt Hotel in New York City, where he and his band appear every night. Guy got his start in my old home town, Cleveland. When they came over from Canada to Cleveland, they contacted a booking agent named Mike Shea. "Sure, and I have the right name for you," said Mike. "The Royal Canadians." The next day Mike booked the band in a dance hall in Akron, and the Royal Canadians were on their way to fame.

They are making a lot of recordings. One of the latest, which Guy predicts will go far, is "Everywhere You Go." The title is appropriate to bridge, because everywhere you go, you find bridge being played. Guy admits that a lot of it is played in his band. Don Rodney, the vocalist, says that most of their arguments concern partner's overall of one no trump, so let's clear it up for the boys.

If your partner opens one of a suit, and you bid one of anything, you are simply giving your partner a chance to bid again. You are not promising him any particular strength. Therefore, you should make the easiest one-over-one response possible.

If you respond with one no trump over your partner's opening bid, you are not showing strength. You tell your partner that you cannot bid one of any suit over his, but that you do not have a passing hand.

In order to go into the two one in another suit, for example, two clubs over one spade, you must have a trick and a half.

A jump response of two no trump is seldom the correct bid. However, in today's hand, North cannot bid two hearts because that also is a weakness bid. He has no other biddable suit, so he goes to two no trump to show his partner practically a game-going hand.

When his partner bids three hearts, he goes to four hearts, which is easily made.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Long Debate, Fireworks Seen At General Assembly Opening

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—U. S. delegates to the United Nations see four issues as likely to provide long debate and some fireworks at the General Assembly meeting in Flushing Meadows, N. Y. The big issues will be the Cardinal Mindszenty case, Franco Spain, freedom of information, and disposal of the former Italian colonies.

Like the U. S. Senate, the UN General Assembly will have the filibuster to contend with. With the exception of the Mindszenty case and the admission of Israel to the United Nations, every one of the 21 items on the agenda for this session is a hold-over from the Paris meeting of last year.

The General Assembly didn't get through its 73-item agenda at Paris. The reason was that Russia and her satellite delegations resorted to a lot of time-killing that slowed up debate. As a result there is now a fairly general impression that the United Nations has degenerated into a kind of international gab fest which never does anything.

The United Nations has a real public relations problem in overcoming this bad reputation. Denmark, Norway and Sweden have proposed to do something about it by changing the General Assembly rules to permit some limitation of debate. It is doubtful if these changes can be made to apply to the coming session. So a task force is in prospect on the more controversial issues.

Colonies Present Problem The Assembly will have to start from scratch on disposal of Italy's prewar African colonies. They are Somaliland, Eritrea and Tripolitania. Italy lost title to them because she started the war on the side of the Axis. They were "liberated" by the Allies. Italy now wants them back under a UN trusteeship agreement. She will have strong support to get them from the Western Powers at least. For without overseas territory, overcrowded Italy cannot be made self-sufficient.

What may come out of the Cardinal Mindszenty case is anybody's guess. Liberation of the cardinal may be demanded. He is now serving life imprisonment on charges of black market dealings and espionage. Hungary, who the Communist government convicted him, is not now a member of the United Nations, though her application is pending. Any action by the General Assembly, censuring Hungary, would reduce her chances of admission.

The question of Franco Spain is two-edged. Poland and other Communist countries want strong United Nations action taken to remove the present Spanish government. Latin-American republics want the 1946 UN resolution against Spain toned down, so that full diplomatic relations may be restored. The Spanish government itself wants admission to some of the UN subsidiaries like World Health Organization and International Aviation. It is probable that ultimately the 1946 resolution will be toned down, though not entirely repealed. Debate over the Spanish question is sure to be sharp, regardless of outcome.

Freedom of Information The question of freedom of information has been before the United Nations since 1946. A conference of 54 nations was held at Geneva last year. It prepared drafts on the agreement. One, submitted by the U. S., provided for free entry of foreign correspondents into member states and the unrestricted transmission of news into and out of foreign countries with minimum censorship. Other proposals were submitted by the British and French. The Russians object to all three on the grounds that they do not require the press to struggle against fascism and to eliminate yamaguchiism. Inasmuch as the UN Subcommittee on Freedom of Information was given a three-year lease on life, its proposed agreement will probably be around, unsettled, until 1951 or maybe later. Or if adopted by majority vote, the Russian bloc will probably abstain, as it did when the convention on Human Rights was approved last year.

Other long-standing questions before the General Assembly are: Chile's complaint against Russia for refusing to allow the Russian wives of Chilean nationals to leave the Soviet. India's two-year protest against the treatment of Indian nationals by the Union of South Africa. Poland's protest against what it considers the Western Powers' refusal to hand over displaced persons who do not wish to return to the countries of their birth, behind the Iron Curtain.

The mere existence of the United Nations will not break down the differences which now divide the east and west. But the United Nations can and must serve as a means of settling those differences peacefully. —Trygve Lie, secretary general of the UN.

Secrecy and security are not always the same. Sometimes security is necessary and is the best way to further our security. In other cases, secrecy impairs our own security... and... safety. R. E. KIMSEY'S VISIT SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA LONG BEACH, CALIF. — Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Kimsey, 723 West Storey Street, Midland, Texas, were guests at the Wilson Hotel here during a recent tour of Southern California.

sewing machine always left me. No one was home when I entered the house. Yet I could hear a pounding and thumping going on in the kitchen. I opened the door and immediately was set upon by a mad wrath. It was white, about the size of a small child. It flailed the air with its thin arms; jumped furiously from floor to table top to floor to stove to floor to chair to floor to stove to floor to table top.

It finally perched a moment. Heavens above! It was a turkey! A plucked turkey!

Now I've seen nudes, plain and fancy, bewitching and embarrassed, but I never saw one as naked as this one, or as hysterical. It began again its crazy jumping from floor to stove to floor, making a horrible gobbling noise in its throat. I backed out of the kitchen. I snatched the phone off the hook and tried to think of the number of the butcher of the fire department, of the police department. I had a one-turkey riot on my hands.

While I stood at the phone, Sally bounced in. "Guess what!" she cried, beaming. "I have a surprise for you! A woman from the country brought in a turkey, a great big one." Sally stretched her arms to show me how big. "She said you bought it at Christmas time but asked her to keep it on the hoof until you sent for it. But she's going away. So she delivered all the remaining birds alive to her customers who had ordered them before so they could kill them when they wanted them to eat."

Bursting with pride, she concluded, "I fed it for you. It's all ready to cook. I intended to be home before you returned, but I went out for a little air. . . . Phew, turkeys smell awful." She wrinkled up her nose prettily. "And you beat me to it."

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

"No. Just the sheets and pillow slips." "Are you sure?" At this, Sally grew less sure of herself. "There were only two little pairs of socks," she confessed. "Yellow socks?" I suggested. She nodded her head.

THE next week's washing took on a rosy hue, even though this time Sally had played it smart, so she told me, and knowing much, much better than to wash the socks with limes, she had set them aside to do last.

"What did you do first?" I asked, knowing from the tint that something was wrong. She explained that one of her friends had told her how she washed her silk things by putting them in the machine with lukewarm water—just a little—and mild soap suds. "But Sally," she cried, beaming, "I have a surprise for you! A woman from the country brought in a turkey, a great big one." Sally stretched her arms to show me how big. "She said you bought it at Christmas time but asked her to keep it on the hoof until you sent for it. But she's going away. So she delivered all the remaining birds alive to her customers who had ordered them before so they could kill them when they wanted them to eat."

Bursting with pride, she concluded, "I fed it for you. It's all ready to cook. I intended to be home before you returned, but I went out for a little air. . . . Phew, turkeys smell awful." She wrinkled up her nose prettily. "And you beat me to it."

"Sally," I pined her with my eye, my evil eye. "how did you make that turkey hold its" while you plucked it?" she said competently. "I didn't want to make a mess all over everything, chopping its head off. And I didn't think I could wring its neck. I'm not strong enough. I killed it a nice, quiet way. I chloroformed it."

WHAT Sally loved was surprises, and since she had bulldog blood, her failures didn't vanquish her enthusiasm; they only spurred her on to new efforts. The matter of the gelatin must have rankled, for a few days later she heard there was some in stock at the Commissary and she had Sony bring home a package. I heard her humming in the kitchen and soon she came to tell me there was a lovely crown mold for me in the refrigerator, and it would be ready for our dinner that night. . . . But it wasn't. It was just as loose as the last batch.

Sally looked so puzzled and discouraged that I asked her how she had made it. "Like you told me. I boiled the water. Hard. Then I mixed it. I even rinsed out the mold with cold water."

"Did you empty it before you poured in the mixture?"

"Oh, yes. But it didn't fill the mold so I had to add more water." She smiled happily at her ingenuity.

The best he could do was a stuffed one.

Mrs. P. D. Pederson, Miss Jimma Lou Gumm and Miss Margaret Mims were hostesses.

Miss Stice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Stice, and Fair are to be married on April 14 in the First Methodist Church here.

Blue and yellow, colors chosen by the bride-elect, were brought to the tea table in jonquills and acacia which made the centerpiece.

A scalloped blue satin cover which overlaid the floor-length white organdy cloth, and tiny blue and yellow buttons and bows fastened to the organdy in scatter-dot effect. Jonquills and blue iris repeated the color motif through the house.

Mrs. Pederson presided at the guest book. Mrs. E. V. Gumm and Mrs. Roy Dahl showed callers to the room where gifts to the bride were on display.

Altrusa Club for the Midland Woman's Club Building fund.

Tickets will be available at the door for those who have not bought them in advance from club members, Grace Wallace, ticket chairman, announced Monday morning.

The Altrusa Club, one of the newest units of the Woman's Club, has sent special invitations to the other clubs affiliated with that group and to other women's organizations of the city which are cooperating in plans for a Woman's Club Building for Midland.

The program is not restricted to members of those organizations, however. It is open to the public, and Altrusans have especially stressed invitations to employed persons who do not have an opportunity to hear daytime book reviews. The book selected for this program, a Broadway stage success of its season, was chosen because of its interest for men as well as for women.

Mrs. Emery, heard here in reviews of books which have ranged from humorous to serious in subject matter, is on the staff of Sather Brothers of Dallas and has appeared in all parts of Texas and in adjoining states in the last decade.

She arrived by plane at noon Monday for the program. Katherine Shriver, president of the Altrusa Club, will introduce her to the review audience.

Dr. Fillman Hostess For P.E.O. Luncheon

Luncheon in the Scharbauer Hotel with Dr. Louise Fillman as hostess Friday was followed by a business meeting for the P.E.O. Chapter of P. E. O. in the home of Mrs. Herbert Hemphill, 1207 West Indiana Street.

Places at the luncheon table were marked by amusing sets of buttons and bow-ties, and a bouquet of Spring flowers was set in the center.

Mrs. Joe Looney of Wevoka, Okla., was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Tom L. Ingram. Mrs. John Shelly and Pat Burke were new members present.

Other members attending were Mrs. Mittie Norman, Mrs. L. E. Patterson, Jr., Mrs. James E. Sprinkle, Mrs. Horace Skinner, Mrs. Vernon Yearby, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. James N. Allison, Mrs. John Casselman, Mrs. F. C. Cummings, Mrs. Clint Dunagan, Mrs. Tom Head, Mrs. W. D. Henderson and Mrs. G. E. Mershon.

Visitors See Final 'Pygmalion' Show In Matinee Crowd

Visitors from Fort Stockton, Royally, Odessa, Lubbock and other nearby cities were in the audience for the final performance of George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Pygmalion," at a matinee presented by the Midland Community Theater Sunday afternoon.

Faxon Toward, president of the Community Theater, and Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager, welcomed the guests at an intermission. Coffee was served at intermission under direction of Mrs. John P. Butler.

Close of a six-day run marked the completion of an experiment with "theater-in-the-round" by the Midland dramatic group which was pronounced a success by Director Art Cole, the cast, production staff and audience.

May Repeat Staging
Replying to a number of requests for more of the centrally-staged plays, Cole said that others may be presented if the Community Theater membership wishes, although the next production will be with conventional staging.

It will be "Laura," scheduled for a May showing. Work on it will start after Cole returns from Waco, where he will go Tuesday to appear on a panel discussion of the Southern Educational Theater Association at Baylor University.

Audiences pronounced "Pygmalion" a success, not only for its staging in the center of the auditorium, but also for the cast's handling of Shaw's plot. This was the first Community Theater play chosen from the lists of standard drama rather than from Broadway successes of recent seasons.

Arthur Writes Epilog
Spectators who have not read the Shaw play may be interested in the author's epilog in which he explained that he did not intend the comedy as a romance and therefore ended it with the principal characters in conflict rather than in a happy-ever-after situation.

With Shavian logic, he explained why the two were unsuited to each other and why they were happier as Higgins remained a bachelor and Eliza married Freddie, who was sincerely devoted to her. Higgins and Colonel Pickering remained her friends, he said, and helped the young couple establish a flower shop which, after some initial difficulties, they made into a profitable business.

Texas, Texas A&M, Baylor Look Best In SWC Diamond Race

By The Associated Press
The University of Texas Longhorns have a good chance to come out of a four-game schedule this week on top of the Southwest Conference baseball standings by a comfortable margin.

The Steers catch last place Rice at Austin Monday and Tuesday and meet Texas Christian University at Fort Worth Friday and Saturday.

Texas A&M, currently tied for first place with Texas, tunes up for its series with Baylor Friday and Saturday by meeting Bryan of the Class C East Texas League Monday.

Baylor is regarded as one of the three strongest teams in the league. The others being Texas and Texas A&M.

Texas pulled off the Bears last week 10-4. A&M won its only conference game by dumping Rice 7-0.

Baylor won one conference game last week, beating Southern Methodist 10-9.

Baylor has the best season record to date, ten victories against two defeats.

Rice and Southern Methodist open a two-game series at Dallas Friday.

TU Track Fortunes Hit All-Time Low As Sprinters Limp

AUSTIN — (AP) — University of Texas track fortunes were at a pretty low ebb Monday with both of the team's major point-makers on the shelf with leg hurts.

Loss of Charley Parker and John Robertson, ace sprinters, cost the Longhorns first place in the Texas Relays Saturday. Oklahoma A&M came through with 26 points to 23 for Texas to lead the way in the university-college division of the big track and field carnival.

Because Robertson pulled a muscle, Texas couldn't even compete in its specialty, the 440-yard relay, in Saturday's final.

Coch Charles Littlefield said Robertson might be back with the team in two or three weeks but that was doubtful. Anyway, he hardly will be available next Saturday when Texas meets its arch rival, Texas A&M, in a dual meet at College Station. Texas has bested A&M three times this season but can't hope to do it again without Robertson and Parker. Parker also missed the Texas Relays because of a pulled muscle suffered at Fort Worth. Parker possibly will be able to return to the team Saturday against A&M.

Both teams will be seeking their first conference win of the season. Midland has dropped two previous starts and Lamesa has lost one.

Buck Weaver, Pierre LaBelle, Jack Pappenhelm, Rod Fenton and Alex Kasabaski struggle in the feature five-man event.

The first man out is eliminated in the wrestle royal. The next two out go in a one-fall, 20-minute time limit match and the two survivors battle in a two-out-of-three falls, one-hour limit bout.

AUGUST, GA. — (AP) — Thirty performers rehearsed Monday for one of the great American sports acts, the Masters Golf Tournament, and some of them played good parts on their long, wide stage.

Ghezzi had a four-below-par 68, the lowest shooting of the season, plus a 71 Sunday. Clayton Hearner of Charlotte, N. C., is second low with a 69 and 71.

Practice rounds will continue Tuesday and the dress rehearsal will be held Wednesday. The 72-hole medal play tournament begins Thursday with rounds of 18 to be played each day through Sunday.

Frank Stranahan, the Toledo strongboy, has rounds of 71 and 70. So has Herman Barron. Stranahan and Skeel Riegel of Philadelphia are considered the choice of the amateurs.

Despite repeated denials there were reports that a New York-Brooklyn trade was brewing. Several of the Giants' executives were due to meet here, supposedly to discuss disposition of farm talent.

Rooster Rebels At Woman's Plan For Chicken Pie

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A rooster which lost its head two days ago still was alive Monday.

A veterinarian says it should live as long as its windpipe and throat remain open.

Dr. Alan Ross examined the phenomenon Sunday and found a small part of the rooster's brain, which controls respiration and circulation, was still left in the severed neck. Its movements, he explained, are controlled by its spinal cord.

The bird was purchased, with head missing, on Saturday by Mrs. Martha Green. She had a Sunday chicken dinner on her mind.

She placed it in the sink to pluck the feathers when the bird stood up and began walking around. It made a strange noise. It wasn't a crow, but the normal sound a chicken would make with its head off.

Mrs. Green is feeding her new-found pet with milk and egg yolk by inserting an eye-dropper in its throat.

Nationalist Leaders Seek Cease Fire For Peace Talks With Reds

NANKING—(AP)—Top government leaders warned Monday that any attempt by the Communists to cross the Yangtze would result in withdrawal of Nationalist peace delegates to Peiping.

Communist troops who captured Hainyang, important rail city 110 miles north of Hankow, were reported marching to the South. Another important Yangtze city 150 miles southwest of Nanking, also is under attack.

The semi-official Central Daily News reported that through Sunday Communist leaders in Peiping had made no decision on the government suggestion a cease fire order be issued during negotiations.

El Paso Woman Dies In Highway Accident

EL PASO—(AP)—Mrs. Pauline T. Jelski, 26, of El Paso was hurled to her death Sunday from a car near Las Cruces, N. M.

She was riding with her husband when their car was struck from behind by another car. She was thrown from the vehicle.

Medical Research Approaches Cure For Hardened Arteries

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Medical researchers are on the verge of finding a cure for hardening of the arteries—the nation's No. 1 cause of death—so says a physician.

Dr. Lester Morrison, who heads a research staff at General Hospital here, made the assertion before more than 300 physicians and other experts who closed a two-day conference Sunday.

Dr. Morrison reported that a new treatment for arteriosclerosis had been used successfully on 100 patients. Experiments were conducted for two years on rabbits.

Treated With Choline

Arteriosclerosis sufferers were treated with choline, a substance found in the B-complex vitamins. The disease is caused when the liver deposits too much fat in the bloodstream, Dr. Morrison explained.

The fat thickens the blood vessels, he said. "That means you get a hemorrhage of the heart or brain—coronary thrombosis or cerebral thrombosis—a heart attack or stroke."

The researchers separated 200 patients into two groups. Only one group was treated with choline. Dr. Morrison said 35 per cent of the patients who receive no choline died within two years. Of the group that did get it, only five per cent died.

"We showed that by using choline in the animal we could restore sclerotic arteries to normal," Dr. Morrison declared. "That means we could make old animals young again."

Red Haired Divorcee Faces Arraignment In Plumber's Slaying

ANTIOCH, CALIF.—(AP)—Sheriff's Inspector Ray Stoffels Monday quoted red haired Lillian, Rose McClay as giving this motive for stabbing and hammering her pipefitter lover to death:

He lied to her when he said he was a single man.

The 25-year-old divorcee from Malin, Ore., was to be arraigned Monday on a murder charge in the death of Warren McGourty, 31, of Sacramento and formerly of Seattle.

Stoffels said Mrs. McClay admitted she "smashed McGourty's skull with a hammer while he was sleeping at her side and stabbed him 26 times."

The divorcee was quoted by Stoffels as saying she loved McGourty but killed him after he told her he was separated from his wife, Lois, and that he intended to have other women.

McGourty's nude body was found in an Antioch hotel room Tuesday. Mrs. McClay drove his car to San Diego and surrendered to police there Thursday.

Former Federation President Dies At Dallas Convention

DALLAS—(AP)—Mrs. Edgar Stillman Kelley, 83, past president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, died here while attending the convention of the federation.

Mrs. Kelley, widow of a noted American composer, had just been re-elected a director of the federation.

Father Of Six Held In Woman's Slaying

CHICAGO—(AP)—An insurance salesman was quoted by police Sunday night as saying he shot and killed a young unwed office secretary who was mother of two of his eight children.

The woman, Joan Vestal, 24, was found dead in her apartment Sunday. Police Captain John Walsh said the salesman, Harvey McDonald, 34, married and father of six children by his wife, told him the woman was shot accidentally as he struggled with her for possession of the gun.

McDonald was held without charge for further investigation.

FHA Problems, Needs Discussed At Pecos

PECOS—H. M. Cudabac, Albuquerque, chief underwriter for the Federal Housing Administration, Friday noon told civic leaders that while the people of Pecos had done little toward obtaining FHA insurance, the FHA facilities have been available.

He added that the FHA organization makes "the same approach to every town in the district" and there has been no discrimination. "FHA is just as available to Pecos as to any other town in the district," he declared.

In a round table discussion of FHA problems, Cudabac declared that while it is possible for individual residences to be built under FHA regulations, the person who builds several houses at once has the better chance to win approval. He added that the latter person has a better opportunity to make a profit on his transaction.

Annual Field Day Set At Balmorhea

PECOOS—Annual cattle breeding and feeding field day at the Balmorhea field station will be held Saturday. Director R. D. Lewis of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station announced.

The cattle will be available for inspection during the forenoon while local cattlemen will serve a noon barbecue. Brief discussions of purposes and results of the experiment will follow the luncheon.

A total of 192 young purebred bulls and heifers from various ranches have been fed since November 24 to determine their relative ability to make rapid and economical gains. These young cattle are the progeny of 24 herd sires used on the cooperating ranches.

Results obtained during the last several years have indicated a large part of the difference in ability to make high gains is inherited, and the main purpose of the feeding and development experiment is to get the information which will make it possible to combine the inherited ability to make fast and economical gains with the desirable type of cattle which will meet the market demands.

Most of this work has been with Hereford cattle, but also has included the Santa Gertrudis breed. This year, six head of young Beefmaster bulls were fed for the first time in comparison with the other breeds.

The $100,000 is presented to the university as unrestricted money for educational and research activities.

The 50,000 alumni of the University of Chicago have contributed $1,677,754 to the university since 1942 when the first campaign was held in conjunction with the university's fiftieth anniversary celebration.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And I Dreamed I Was A Horse

You know what a friendly wolf the Huffen Puffen is, "I am the Huffen Puffen, I am, I am," the Huffen is always saying. "And I can huff, and puff, and huff, and even blow houses in, I can!"

That is the Huffen's Huffen Puffen speech. He likes to say it. It makes him sound as important as he thinks he is, he thinks, although he would never really blow a house in at all. Once the Huffen, who is a friendly wolf, dreamed he was a horse. He was a beautiful white horse. In his dream he had horse feet where wolf feet ought to be, and a horse's tail where a wolf tail usually was. He opened his mouth and whinnied the noise that a horse makes when he's feeling good and wants someone to ride him.

And in the Huffen's dream that he was a horse, Daddy Ringtail, our monkey friend, came walking along the Elephant Path. He stopped when he saw the Huffen, and again the Huffen whinnied like a horse with his mouth.

"Oh yes, and yes indeed!" Daddy Ringtail said. "I'll be glad to go for a ride!" He jumped on the Huffen's back, and away he rode down the Elephant Path in a dream that was very real. The Huffen ran fast and kicked up his heels. He trotted along. He slowed down to a walk. He ate some fresh green grass that grew by the Whispering River. Oh, it was fun to be a horse in a dream that seemed to be really happening.

Then the Huffen woke up. He wasn't dreaming any more. He was lying in his bed in his hollow tree house. There was Daddy Ringtail standing beside him, too—Daddy Ringtail who had stopped by the Huffen's to say a "Happy day, and how are you?"

"Hah!" said the Huffen. "I am tired. I am, from running up and down the Elephant Path with you on my back. And I think my stomach hurts from eating fresh green grass."

Oh, the Huffen thought that his dream had really happened. He

Contrary to a whispering campaign being circulated that I am opposed to the city manager form of municipal government, I favor that form above all others; however, I do not feel that this form of government should make your mayor a figurehead.

Furthermore, I count as my friends the hold-over councilmen and all those gentlemen who are candidates for the open places and know that if elected your mayor, I can and will work with the council to your best interests.

YOUR SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED!

C. of C. Manager Is Kiwanis Speaker
 Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club Monday noon in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.
 He was introduced by L. A. Bartha, program chairman. Vice President Lionel Carver presided.
 The speaker discussed the activities and major projects of the Chamber of Commerce and told how individuals and service clubs can assist in promoting the community-wide program. He termed the proposed erection of a community exhibit building as the organization's No. 1 project.
 Highway projects were discussed by Downing who also told how funds voted in the recent road bond election will be used.
 Downing said deeds for 17.2 miles of right-of-way on the new Midland-Lamesa highway have been received from the State Highway Department, and work on the project is expected to be underway this Summer.
 He invited Kiwanians to attend the area National Affairs conference to be held here April 12. The meeting is sponsored by the Midland C. of C. and the National Affairs Department of the U. S. Chambers of Commerce.

Rain—
 now are jubilant optimistic as they prepare to hit the fields as soon as conditions permit. Planting will be started soon over most of the country.
 The rain and snow covered a wide area according to reports received Monday. Leonard Proctor said his ranch country south of Midland was covered, and Sam Preston reported three-quarters of an inch on his ranch 20 miles southeast of Midland.
 Free Bird reported good moisture on his place northeast of Midland and all the way to Cochran County.
 George Glass said the foreman at his ranch northeast of Midland reported a half to three-quarters of an inch of moisture.
 An inch of rain was reported from the Elmer Bizzell and Ernest Neill farms south of the city.
 John King said it rained about half and inch at his place 10 miles east of Midland.
 Roy Parks reported from three-quarters of an inch on his ranch country west of the city.
 The J. O. Nobles ranch to the northeast got three-quarters of an inch.
 An all-day snow was reported in Andrews County, and others said the moisture was heavy all the way to Lovington, N. M.

Jester Asks Lifting Of Pension Tax Levy
 AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester Monday asked the Legislature to back a plan which would save the state's property tax payers an estimated million dollars a year.
 He asked that the Confederate pension levy be reduced to zero until Jan. 1, 1953, noting that there is enough money in the pension fund now to pay increased grants in full for five years.
 After Jan. 1, 1953, the Automatic Tax Board would be empowered to levy as much of the two-cent rate per $100 valuation "as may be required to pay generous pensions" to Confederate veterans and their widows, under Jester's suggestion.
 The balance in the pension fund was nearly three million dollars last August 31. There now are only six remaining Confederate veterans and 891 widows drawing the pension.
 The session Monday started the Legislature's thirteenth week, and shortness of time remaining in the 120 days suggested by the Constitution doomed most pending legislation.
 Only 82 bills have been acted on finally by both houses.
 Horseheads, N. Y., was so named because of the massacre of horses there during the Revolutionary War.

New Problems Loom Before UN Meeting
 NEW YORK—(AP)—The carry-over session of the United Nations General Assembly which opens Tuesday is shaping up as a full-fledged meeting of the 52-nation forum.
 Originally scheduled to deal only with items left unfinished at the recent Paris assembly, it now promises to have on its agenda several new and controversial items.
 In recent weeks the following developments took place:
 1. Bolivia requested the assembly to take up the case of the imprisoned Hungarian prelate, Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.
 2. Australia said it would seek a full airing of the case of 15 Bulgarian Protestant clergymen imprisoned by that Communist government.
 3. India and Australia demanded that the Indonesian case, now before the 11-nation Security Council, also be put on the assembly agenda.
 It also was believed possible that during the session which opens at Flushing Meadow at 2 p. m. Tuesday, certain delegates might comment on two other vital international developments—the North Atlantic Treaty and the Berlin crisis. There has been speculation the Russians will attack the new treaty.

Bumper Peacetime Fund Recommended For Farm Agencies
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—The problems of agriculture may "become worse before they become better," the House Appropriations Committee said Monday.
 It made the comment in approving a bumper peacetime $701,122,079 money bill for the Agriculture Department.
 The bill, scheduled for House debate starting Tuesday, would finance the department for the fiscal year starting next July 1.
 Among other things, it provides $27,043,439 for soil conservation payments, $75,000,000 for the school lunch program, $50,963,500 for the Forest Service and for an increase from $750 to $2,500 in the maximum amount of payments allowed individuals for soil conservation practices. There is also $350,000,000 in loan authorization for Rural Electrification administration, which is not counted in the cash total.
 While $25,798,828 below the amount President Truman requested, the total recommended is $127,203,126 more than the department was given for the present year.

Texas Completes 200 New Oil Wells
 AUSTIN—(AP)—Two hundred new oil wells were completed in Texas last week, bringing total new completions for the year to 2,122, the Railroad Commission reported Monday.
 The figure for the year is 475 ahead of completions for the same period a year ago.
 There were 16 gas well completions last week, boosting the year's total to 198, 36 ahead of a year ago.
 Thirteen oil wildcats and 4 gas wildcats were reported among the week's completions.
 The Air Force said the victims included:
 First Lt. Charles C. Lindley, Pecos, Texas; First Lt. Thurman C. Emfinger, Owens, Texas; and First Lt. Altus P. Anson, Jr., Lubbock, Texas.
