

Collins Recovers Oil From Basal Canyon At Scurry Wildcat

A discovery from the basal Canyon-Pennsylvanian in North-Central Scurry County has been indicated by J. L. Collins No. 1 G. E. Parks, wildcat eight miles north of the town of Snyder.

The prospector drillstem tested for one hour and 15 minutes at 7,031-36 feet in the Canyon line. A good blow of gas held at the surface throughout the test. Recovery was reported as 6,900 feet of clean oil and 30 feet of water.

This venture is being "drilled tight," all official information withheld, and the above show is unverified by the operator. No further data on the test were available.

Supposedly, the development will drill ahead and test again.

It is 1,980 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

Devonian Flows Oil In Andrews Wildcat

Oil flowed from the Devonian in the unproven territory two miles southeast of the Dollarhide field at Southwest Andrews County. The strike was on a drillstem test at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 18-B Cowden, wildcat which previously had recovered free oil in the basement.

The delineation was at 10,188-220 feet, with the tool open four hours and 18 minutes. A 1,500-foot water blanket was used.

In 36 minutes after the test began, gas reached the surface, flowing through a 5/8-inch by one-inch choke. Drilling mud and water blanket reached the top in three hours and four minutes and oil flowed in three hours and 12 minutes.

The well flowed to pits to clean for six minutes, then was turned to tanks. It flowed 28.21 barrels of oil in one hour to tanks. Estimated gas volume was 685,400 cubic feet per day. Gravity of the petroleum was 38.5 degrees. Shaleout was 10 per cent sulphur water.

This prospector, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, pal survey, is to drill a little deeper and run another drillstem test.

Discovery Outpost In Scurry Flows Oil

Second producer for the Sharon Creek-Canyon field, recently discovered in Southwest Scurry County by Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Bishop, has been developed at Humble No. 1 Huddleston, 660 feet from south and 573 feet from east lines of section 163, block 97, H&TC survey.

After tapping the Canyon reef at 5,636 feet, the prospector drilled ahead to 6,690 feet and drillstem tested for 20 minutes with packer at 6,640 feet.

Gas showed at the top in three minutes, followed four minutes later by fluid. In nine minutes after the tool was opened, oil flowed to tanks at the rate of 75 barrels per hour.

A second drillstem test of the Canyon was run for one hour at 6,590-6,715 feet, showing gas in three minutes, fluid in 11 minutes and oil in 15 minutes.

After flowing to pits to clean, the well was turned to tanks and gaged for 25 barrels of oil in 30 minutes. Gravity of the oil was 43.6 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 1,000-1. The flow was through a one-inch top choke and one-half-inch bottom hole choke.

Bottomed at 6,715 feet, the venture was running a Schlumberger survey. It is due to set pipe and make production tests to complete.

Seaboard Completes Discovery In Borden

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Production Company has completed its No. 1 T. J. Good for commercial production from the South-Central Borden County Canyon line of the Pennsylvanian.

On a potential test, the discovery flowed 468 barrels of oil per day through a one-quarter-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 685-1. Gravity of the petroleum was not reported.

Production was natural with no water from the open hole zone at 7,940-8,000 feet.

Nearest Canyon production is six miles to the south and east in the Vealmoor field of North-Central Howard County.

This field opener is 1,985 feet from south and 2,004 feet from west lines of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey.

Borden Pay Opener Gets Two Flankers

Seaboard and Pan American No. 2 Good will be 600-5 feet from north and 600 feet from west lines of the southwest quarter of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey.

The other flanker will be the companies' No. 3 Good. The drill-

House Passes Compromise ERP Measure

WASHINGTON —(P)— The House Thursday approved a $5,580,000,000 compromise bill to continue the European Recovery Program.

Now the Senate has to act before the bill goes to the White House for President Truman's signature—in just about the form the Administration wanted it.

The House accepted the compromise version by a voice vote. It was whipped into shape Wednesday by a conference committee which ironed out differences between the House and Senate versions of how to extend the Marshall Plan another 15 months.

Senate economy advocates talked of another stab at cutting the total authorization, but leaders there predicted speedy passage of the bill as it stands.

The final bill (1) approves $1,150,000,000 for the Economic Cooperation Administration to use by June 30, and (2) approves spending $4,280,000,000 in the year starting July 1.

These were the exact amounts asked by President Truman and ECA to be spent over the coming 15 months. But the Senate-House group turned down the President's request to authorize ECA to spend $150,000,000 in long-range contracts beyond 1949.

Instead, the members agreed on a $150,000,000 fund to guarantee American businessmen abroad that any profits they make in foreign currencies will be converted to dollars.

House Passes Major Appropriation Bills

WASHINGTON —(P)— The House was set Thursday to run its total money bills for this week over the $24,000,000,000 mark—then quit until April 25.

A $7,576,888,231 appropriation bill financing 28 independent federal agencies for the year starting July 1 was the main block in the path of the lawmakers' Easter recess.

Vacation-minded members appeared to shoo it to the Senate with the same speed which marked passage Wednesday 71-1 of a record peace-time $16,000,000,000 defense bill and a $595,880,000 emergency measure for veterans' education and unemployment benefits.

These bills went to the Senate, which acted Wednesday night on another, highly controversial appropriation measure: a deficiency money bill which included $2,500,000 to let the Tennessee Valley Authority start building a steam plant for generating electricity.

$49,000 More Of Looted Bank Cash Found In Cemetery

NEW YORK —(P)— Led to a lonely, rain-swept cemetery by an indicted bank executive, FBI agents Wednesday night dug up $49,122 cash beside his grandmother's coffin.

He led federal agents to the hiding place after a two-hour talk with his wife and attorney.

A thick fog hung over the isolated Staten Island cemetery as federal agents shoveled under rain-soaked beams from portable flood-lamps and flashlights.

Quit Stalling, Shout Friends Of School Bills

AUSTIN —(P)— Warfare over the Gilmer-Aikin school bills exploded in a hot exchange of charges and counter-charges on the floor of the House Thursday.

Kill the bills or pass them, but quit stalling, Rep. William George Richards of Lockhart urged the House. He said the House is making itself appear ridiculous to the public because of its inaction the last three weeks.

Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, shouting back, "It's a hell of a note that a man can't speak his mind without being accused of using dictatorial tactics."

The outburst came after the House had spent more than an hour and a half on routine motions without getting down to consideration of the pending bill to reorganize the state administrative set-up of the public schools—a key measure in the Gilmer-Aikin plan.

Hanna said he was going to fight the bills until "hell freezes over." He said in a personal privilege speech he was speaking for a House minority that had battled the measure.

The outburst came after the House had spent more than an hour and a half on routine motions without getting down to consideration of the pending bill to reorganize the state administrative set-up of the public schools—a key measure in the Gilmer-Aikin plan.

While the House battle broke out into a verbal slugfest, the Senate refused by a 17 to 8 vote to take up out of regular order the controversial basic science bill. Backers failed to muster the necessary two-thirds vote to advance the measure urged by medical doctors and opposed by chiropractors.

The school bill in the House faced some 15 or more amendments before it was likely to reach a final vote on second reading.

"We have spent three weeks on you know what, and you know why," Richards said, referring to the Gilmer-Aikin bills. "We're bogged down here. Every other piece of legislation is just like a loaded down truck stuck in the mud."

Czechs Hear Rumors Of Bloodless Weapon

WASHINGTON —(P)— There's a rumor going around Czechoslovakia that the United States has a new kind of secret weapon: sleeping drugs which would allow an army to effect a bloodless occupation of the whole country.

A Prague radio Czech language broadcast appears to indicate a good many people in Czechoslovakia engage in spreading rumors about a forthcoming liberation of the country from its Communist rulers, much to the annoyance of the government.

A mental examination has been ordered for Crowe, who is under indictment for embezzlement from a branch of the National City Bank where he was assistant manager.

Bunnies Beware—First Rabbit Drive Scheduled Tuesday

The first rabbit drive of the Spring season is scheduled Tuesday in the farm and ranch area immediately south and southeast of Midland. It will be a typical old-fashioned, family-style event, with the public invited to participate, sponsors said.

The shooters will assemble early Tuesday in the 1800 block of South Main Street and the drive will get underway promptly at 8:30 a.m. Shotguns only will be used, with no shot larger than 6's allowed.

The barbecue will be served at noon on the W. B. Hunter land about three-quarters of a mile south of the old airport on the Garden City highway. Women are urged to bring pies and cakes to the barbecue. The committee in charge of the drive will furnish the beef and other trimmings for a real West Texas feed.

Leaders of the drive are T. Elmer Bizzell, Charles L. Klaproth, Luther Tidwell and A. C. Caswell.

Rabbit drives have been held in the Midland area each Spring for many years. They always attract large crowds of hunters.

Retailers Favor Elaborate Christmas Lighting Proposal

Midland retailers, at a meeting Wednesday afternoon in Hotel Eshbacher, voted to concentrate their efforts and funds on a program designed to make of Midland the best Christmas lighted city in the Permian Basin this year.

Those present at the session sponsored by the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, favored the purchase of adequate Christmas street lighting equipment over a proposal to rent a huge animated Christmas display sign at a cost of $2,000. They agreed that both programs should not be on a city-wide basis.

Keith Stuart, Junior Chamber of Commerce representative, said the JayCee again this year will stage the Santa Claus parade and pledged the full cooperation of his organization in the Christmas program.

One Killed, 10 Hurt In Train Collision

JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—A 110-car freight train and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio "Rebel" crashed head-on near New Albany shortly before midnight Wednesday, killing one person and injuring ten.

Supt. W. R. Moore of the Tennessee Division of the GM&O attributed the wreck to a "misunderstanding of orders."

Moore said only about 30 to 35 passengers were aboard the "Rebel," which was headed to New Orleans from St. Louis. None of the ten persons injured was believed to have been critically hurt.

Joe Cannon of Jackson, a mail clerk on the "Rebel," was killed.

None of the freight cars was derailed, Moore said, but all cars of the "Rebel" left the tracks, though they remained upright except for the engine and mail car, which were telescoped.

Sheriff Thomas Shelton of Union County said axes were used to cut a way into the mail car.

Both the "Rebel" engine and mail car were "completely crushed," the sheriff said.

The freight train was enroute from New Orleans to St. Louis. The accident occurred about seven miles north of New Albany in Northeast Mississippi.

Ollie Will Do Another Solo, But He's Still Laurel's Buddy

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Oliver Hardy is set for another solo comic spot, minus Stan Laurel, in the Bing Crosby picture, "Ridin' High," after he completes "Strange Caravan" with John Wayne. Then there's talk of still another with Charles Coburn. But Ollie insists he and Stan are not splitting up and they'll soon be a team again.

Wayne tells me he'll never again be caught with his reissues down, without a profit. His recent hits brought out a flock of old films for which Wayne didn't collect a cent. His new contract with Warner Brothers has a bonus clause for reissues. He says the clause will be in all future contracts he signs.

Convicted Stomping Slayer Scheduled To Die Early Saturday

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Buster Northern is scheduled to die early Saturday morning for the stoning slaying of Mrs. W. H. McHenry near Dallas on March 27, 1946.

In prison since his conviction, Northern will be led from the death cell at the state prison here and placed in the prison's electric chair.

"I still have hope my sentence will be stayed," the 20-year-old Northern said. "My case is in the hands of God. If he wants me to go, I'll be ready. If he doesn't, I know I will be spared."

Northern was convicted of murder in Dallas May 8, 1946. The conviction was reversed by a higher court. The reversal was made because the indictment alleged Norther stomped the woman to death, but failed to stipulate "with his feet."

He was convicted again in January, 1948. This conviction was affirmed on Nov. 10, 1948. On January 17 he was reprieved until March 17.

On March 8 Northern was granted another 30-day stay by recommendation of the Board of Parole and Paroles.

Mrs. McHenry had been living at Taloga, Okla., and was driving to Dallas to visit a daughter when her attack occurred.

Gene Autry Came To Midland; You Know The Rest—Crowds

Gene Autry came to Midland Wednesday and you know the rest—admiring throngs greeted him.

The singing cowboy movie star and one-man industry of shows and rodeo and radio arrived in his private airplane.

Several would-be cowboys themselves were at the airport to see him first. He greeted the youngsters first.

Midland civic leaders also were on hand to extend an official welcome. In attendance were Bill Naylor, mayor; R. D. Scruggs, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Jack Ellington, chief of police; Jack O'Brien, police captain; Bud Hudelson, VFW manager; Ed Darrell, sheriff; Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager; and Morris Cooper, citizen and good boy.

A police escort for Autry was provided.

Free Enterprise Is Dealt Real Blow In New Farm Program

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Four men, including a state senator, are in the toils of the law as result of a U. S. grand jury investigation of oil dealings in Western Louisiana.

They are State Senator H. Alva Brumfield, Baton Rouge; Hugh Arnold Guy, Bunkie, La.; D. O. Edmondson, Jackson, Miss., and Isaac Thompson, DeQuincy, La.

All were arrested Wednesday after a U. S. grand jury had returned after secret indictments at Monroe, La., last Friday.

The indictments charge:

To keep certain required records and falsifying others concerning crude oil delivered to the Southern States Refinery Company, Inc., plant at DeQuincy.

Guy and Edmondson with failing to keep certain records and falsity others concerning sales of the oil after it was refined;

Guy and Brumfield with conspiring to induce witnesses before the Federal Petroleum Board to testify falsely and to withhold material facts from the board.

Company Named Defendant

District Attorney Malcolm E. La-

Fair identified Guy as president of the Southern States Refinery Company, Inc.; Thompson as foreman in charge of the Spurlock Oil Company's oil gathering system at DeQuincy, and Edmondson as a bookkeeper employed by Guy.

The Southern States Refinery Company, Inc., also is named a defendant in the first two indictments.

Guy and Edmondson with failing to keep certain records and falsity others concerning sales of the oil after it was refined;

Guy and Brumfield with conspiring to induce witnesses before the Federal Petroleum Board to testify falsely and to withhold material facts from the board.

In the first, the government charges Guy and Thompson entered an "unlawful agreement" under which Thompson would "fraudulently and surreptitiously" take crude oil from the Spurlock Oil Company facilities and have it "secretly transported to the Eola, La., plant of the Southern States Refinery Company, without making any record of the transaction. It also charges Guy falsified records on the oil and filed them with the Federal Petroleum Board.

In the second indictment the government charges Guy and Edmondson made "certain false reports, accounts and certificates" on the refined products and filed them with the Federal Petroleum Board.

Brumfield denied it.

The third indictment charges Brumfield and Guy conspired to "influence, obstruct and impede the due and proper administration" of federal laws. It charges they did this "by corruptly inducing such witnesses to testify falsely, to withhold and suppress material facts and to give exculpatory but false information to the Federal Petroleum Board."

Brumfield was not, as previously reported by the Associated Press, indicted on a charge of violating the Connally "Hot Oil" Act.

On Wednesday night, at Baton Rouge, he denied the charges against him, saying the indictment resulted from "my effort to conscientiously represent a client."

In a written statement he said he never had conspired with anyone to induce witnesses to testify falsely or to withhold and suppress material facts concerning his client.

"I did advise Mr. Guy that he was not required by law to make statements before the Federal Petroleum Board," he said.

LaFarge said the four men will be arraigned in the U. S. District Court at Alexandria, La., "probably the last of next month."

Shark Jumps On Beach, Bites Bather

TAMPICO, MEXICO—(AP)—A shark, frightened from the sea by Naval gunfire and depth charges, jumped up on Miramar Beach Wednesday and bit a bather.

Other bathers grabbed sticks and clubs and beat the shark to death.

The U. S. Naval vessel John W. Weeks, six miles offshore, was demonstrating its guns and bombs for Mexican officials.

The government would pay the farmers 20 cents, or the difference between the 25-cent market price and the 45-cent price the government thought was fair.

If the new program became law the government would, more or less, do the same thing in some kinds of food.

Something New, Different

But it would do something new and different on perishable foods like meat, milk, eggs, poultry, fish, etc., which the government might drop below a figure fixed by the government—it would do this.

Take eggs. The government might decide the average price on them should be 45 cents a dozen.

Suppose they dropped to 25 cents a dozen because so many were on the market.

The government would pay the farmers 20 cents, or the difference between the 25-cent market price and the 45-cent price the government thought was fair.

You buying the eggs at 25 cents a dozen, would benefit by the lower price on eggs. But it would be your tax money the government would use to pay the farmer 20 cents.

Who'd win on that deal? No one knows now.

McCamay Woman Has 'Green Thumb'

McCAMAY—If anyone in these parts can qualify for the famous Glidersieve's "Green Thumb" Club then there is no doubt it would be Mrs. Margaret Littlejohn. Glidersieve, it will be recalled, is the radio comedian who bummed into the job as president of the "Green Thum" Club in his home town.

McCamay residents always look to Mrs. Littlejohn for advice when it comes to their plants and flowers aren't inclined to grow. She has the knack of sticking seed in the ground and confidently watching it grow into a beautiful plant.

Mrs. Littlejohn keeps a profusion of flowers and birds about her at all times. This Spring she is growing a Texas Mountain Laurel which has 600 sprays, it is estimated. Two dozen is the usual number of sprays.

Residents get much pleasure from visiting her gardens and find it is much easier than growing their own in a semi-desert country.

Gibbs, Mrs. Lonie Burnett, Mrs. Joe Hudson, Mrs. Bryant Jones and Mrs. Ed Cox attended the convention, as did Miss Myrna Holman of Rankin, county home demonstration agent.

Speakers for the meeting included Miss Maurine Hearn, state home demonstration agent; Sallie Hill of Birmingham, Ala., editor of the Home Department of "The Progressive Farmer" magazine and Floyd Lynch, 4-H Club Specialist from the State Extension Service. A tour of Juarez and dinner in a cafe there was included in the entertainment.

WALLY'S VISITS ENGLAND

LONDON—(P)—The Duchess of Windsor arrived from Paris Thursday and went to a country estate, by-passing the royal palaces whose doors haven't opened for her since Edward VIII abdicated for her love.

Might Damage Public Interest

When Congress instituted the low second-class mail rate for newspapers and periodicals, some 70 years ago, the main purpose was not to subsidize the publishers. It was argued at the time that the subsidy would make it possible for the reader to get news and information at a more reasonable cost.

That argument came to mind as we looked at an article in the current issue of Collier's magazine. The article appeared, by chance, as Congress was considering an increase in the second-class rate. It consisted of 101 questions and answers on cancer, prepared by the American Cancer Society from hundreds of questions put to the society and family doctors by laymen, and timed to coincide with Cancer Control Month.

The article ran four pages, and it cost the cancer society nothing. But if the society had undertaken to mail out those four pages to the public that the magazine reaches (about 3,000,000 circulation) the bill would have been considerable, even without printing costs. If the cost of paper and envelopes, addressing and mailing (unsealed and third class) was four cents each, that would be $120,000.

If the society had bought the same four pages at the magazine's advertising rate the price might have been close to one-third of the mailing cost. And if it had dressed its information up in color, as Collier's did, the bill would have been even larger.

In other words, from $40,000 to $120,000 might have been diverted from cancer research, perhaps, or some other vital activity in the same field to give the public the answers to its most frequent questions about the disease.

What has all this to do with mail rates? Two things, it seems to us. One is that the article in question is typical of the public service that newspapers and magazines have given the public through the years at a very moderate cost.
That is not to say that this particular kind of service is daily or weekly or monthly feature of any publication.
But it does illustrate a general type of service. And it happened along at an opportune time to emphasize a point.

The other connection with mail rates is that this type of service would not come to the public so cheaply with a postal increase. Many if not most publications would have to raise their subscription rates. Some smaller periodicals might be driven out of business.

The Reader's Digest has revealed that its present mailing cost is less than a half-cent and its profit a little over a half-cent a copy. Its new rate would raise the mailing charge by 2½ cents a copy. The Crowell-Collier publications figure that their new rate would cost them $5,- 000,000 a year. The company's net profit last year was approximately $2,500,000. And so on.

It seems to us that the Post Office Department, in the interest of fairness and good bookkeeping, might deduct the cost of sending millions of pieces of free government mail all over the country and then see how much of its annual deficit is traceable to the second-class subsidy.

Congress might also examine the recommendations of the Hoover Commission for the Post Office Department and consider how they might help reduce operating expenses. We have a feeling that if these things were done, any necessary increase might be more bearable and more in keeping with the interests of publishers and public.

Americans eat more than a billion and a half crackers
a year—much to the delight of the clothes-brush people.

This was supposed to be the push-button era. Then pull-zipper butted in.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1948, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Big business firms interpret legislation for congressmen; secretary of the Navy's law firm helps American Enterprise Association; Republicans at one time put lobby group right inside Capitol.

WASHINGTON — One of the you three or four times."

"Well, that's true," Hardgrove fumbled. "I've just seen him a couple of times."

"You mean you've been close friends for years and you've only seen him a couple of times?"

"I can see that we're not getting anywhere," Hardgrove blurted and hung up.

It may be significant, however, that when the secretary of the navy telephones Hardgrove's office, which he does from time to time, he does not ask for "Mr. Hardgrove," nor does he even use his first name, "Malcolm." He asks for "Mal."

Other Democratic Support

It also is significant that Congressman Percy Priest of Tennessee, a Democrat, says that he would not have endorsed the American Enterprise Association except for the Sullivan firm's connection with it. Priest said Hardgrove had used Sullivan's name in asking him to write a letter boasting the association. It was this letter of recommendation, plus those by two other Democrats, which carried Democratic congressmen subscribing to the lobby's analytical service.

It was all my idea," says the Georgia congressman, who is one of the most reactionary members of the Others who helped inspire the association were Lew Brown, head of Johns-Manville, Baxter Jackson of Chemical Bank and Trust; Congressman Dan Reed of New York, Roy Woodruff of Michigan; and the late J. Frederick Richardson, the first manager of the Washington office.

Lobby Is Supported

After the Republicans took over Congress in 1946, Congressman Dan Reed induced House GOP leaders to set up a coordinator's office, supposed to do research for members of Congress, and financed out of the public funds.

Lobby Moves Into Capitol

Another liberal Democrat who was euchiured into endorsing the analytical service is Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, who explained that he had done so on the recommendation of Congressman Priest. He said, however, that he might send out another letter warning of the facts uncovered by this column.

Forty-Niners Club Organized By Square Dance Enthusiasts

Square dance enthusiasts of Midland added another to the list of clubs devoted to the old-time dances with organization of the Forty-Niners Club Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reeder, 507 North San Angelo Street, were hosts for the organization meeting.

Clarence Cardwell was elected president; Mrs. Rex Galloup, vice president; Mrs. Glen Richerson, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Johnson, reporter; Mrs. Frank Blackwell, social chairman; Bob Brewer, membership chairman, and Paul Wecker, ways and means chairman.

Members decided to have their meetings on Thursday nights twice a month, and a business session once a month. Definite dates will be set when the charter and by-laws are drawn up by the governing board at a meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the W. M. Johnson home, 208 West Nobles Street.

Present for the first meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mackey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gillett, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nance, Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell, Mr. and Mrs. Richerson, Mr. and Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Bill Sandeen, Mrs. Galloup, Mrs. W. M. Johnson, Keith Stuart and Paul Wecker.

Plans were discussed for the annual Zeta Tau Alpha picnic in May. The meeting was in the home of Mrs. Thornton Hardie, who served refreshments.

Other members present were Mrs. William Byrd, Mrs. L. M. Freels, Mrs. Erie Payne and Mrs. R. B. Lambert.

Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae Group Gets Charter

A national charter was presented to the Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae Chapter Wednesday afternoon, marking its transition from an alumnae association to a full-fledged chapter. The organization has been operating several years as an alumnae group prior to its recent application for the charter.

Mrs. L. O. Thompson, president, presented the charter. She also announced the appointment of Mrs. J. E. Keyser as social chairman, Mrs. H. S. Forgeron as magazine chairman and Mrs. A. E. Pettit as representative to the Midland Panhellenic.

Film Scheduled For Showing Thursday In West Elementary

A sound film, "Messenger of Peace," will be presented by the Grace Lutheran Church at 8 p.m. Thursday in the West Elementary School Auditorium, with the public invited.

This is a full-length motion picture, featuring such well-known actors as John Beal, Paul Guilfoil and Adeline DeWalt Reynolds. It is the story of a young pastor and his years in a town where his work touches the lives of a number of families. It was produced in Hollywood by Lutheran Laymen's League.

Several weeks ago this film was presented in the Grace Lutheran Church for its congregation. Its reception then prompted the decision to present it for the public as one of the church's programs of Holy Week, the Rev. G. C. Becker, pastor, said.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Harris on the birth Wednesday of a daughter, Beverly Jean, weighing six pounds, seven ounces.

Exercise Pays

Swinging a stick up and back of head is a good exercise to put a figure in better shape for a bathing suit.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If you are willing to swing a stick over your head or propel your arms like a swimmer you have two simple exercises that will put you in better shape for your bathing suit.

Such exercises are not only designed to make arms prettier but will do as much for shoulders and bust.

For the upward thrusts, hold with both hands a stick, about as long as an umbrella, at each end. While standing erect carry the stick up and back of your head as far as it will go. Give this exercise, which moves the muscles of bust, arms, and shoulders with one motion, several swings before you drop your stick and get ready to "swim."

To "swim" standing up, hold your arms straight out in front of you at shoulder level and alternately move them back of you, as though you were swimming, ploughing through heavy surf.

Give this exercise as many strokes as you would if summer were already here and you made a daily swim your daily stint.

The first hydroelectric station in America was built in Appleton, Wis., in 1882.

Bulldog Reserves Blitz Stanton Nine

The Midland Bulldog "B" team piled up 13 runs in the first two innings and coasted to a 16-10 win over the Class B Stanton Buffaloes in an exhibition tilt at Indian Park Wednesday afternoon. Jimmy O'Neal hurled the first three innings for Midland and was credited with the win.

Stanton jumped on O'Neal for one run in the first inning on two singles and an error by Catcher Ronnie Estell. Big Jimmy shut them out the rest of the time he worked.

Reed Gilmore singled to open Midland's hitting in the first frame. Jack Mobley got one on an error. Bill Mapp, a freshman, drove the third base line that was labeled double from the time it left his bat. Gilmore and Mobley scored easily. Thomas walked. Estell struck out. Jimmy Chauncey was hit by a pitched ball to load the bags and Crowley walked to force in another run. O'Neal gave him plenty of working margin by doubling across three runs.

Midland's second inning at the plate was some more of the same. Singles by Thomas, Estell and Gilmore and a triple by Mann were mixed with two walks and three Stanton errors to produce seven big runs.

Stanton Closes Door
Kenneth Henson, Stanton's 14-year-old control pitcher, closed the door on the Bulldog batters after the second inning. He set them down with one hit and no runs in the third and fourth frames before giving way to Whistle Lindsay on the mound. Poor backing in the field caused the young right-hander to face 31 batters in four innings.

Bob Wood relieved O'Neal on the slab for Midland in the fourth inning. He couldn't find the plate with both hands and the Buffaloes treated him rough. Woods walked two and gave up a single to Leroy Gibson and doubles to E. Koonce and Henson during Stanton's fourth fourth.

The Buffs nipped Woods for four more runs in the fifth on two walks, an error and doubles by G. Koonce and Fisher.

Midland picked up their final three runs in the fifth, also. Lindsay, the Stanton chucker, walked Thomas and Medart and Chauncey got on when the Stanton third baseman threw wild to first. Gilmore drove in the three runs.

He hit a single good as he hurried for the Bulldogs in the sixth and seventh frames. He allowed only one run and one hit, a double by E. Koonce.

Mann was the big stickler for Midland, banging out a double and triple in two official times at bat.

Gilmore Hits Well
Reed Gilmore had three singles in four trips and Thomas and Estell had two bingles each.

E. Koonce doubled twice and Kenneth Henson had a single and double for Stanton.

The line score follows:

R. H. E.
Stanton 100 441 0-10 9 7
Midland 670 030 x-16 11 6

Batteries—Henson, Lindsay and E. Koonce; O'Neal, Wood, Roberts, Chauncey.

Gardella Hits Back At Red Charges By Dodger Club Prexy

NEW YORK — (P)—Men who have hauled baseball into the courts struck back sharply Thursday at Branch Rickey's charges that the "reserve clause" is opposed by persons of "awed community tendencies."

The bushy-browed president of the Brooklyn Dodgers made the statement in a talk before the Baltimore Advertising Club Wednesday.

The remarks drew quick return fire from Danny Gardella, the former Giant outfielder who has a $300 suit against the game pending, and from lawyers representing named players.

Gardella, now an attendant at a Mount Vernon, N. Y., hospital, said the Rickey statement wasn't worthy of comment and added: "My lawyer and myself do not intend to hurt the game in any way."

Danny's lawyer, Frederic A. Johnson, said he would match "my own and Danny Gardella's record with that of Rickey any time."

San Angelo Negro Is Super Speedster—Or Is He, Really?

SAN ANGELO—(P)—Everybody is agreed Leroy Crawford of Blackshear Negro High School did a terrific half-mile in the Interscholastic League district meet.

The timer—and there was only one-caught the 16-year-old runner in 1:56.5, which would be 3.9 seconds above the national scholastic record and within nine-tenths of a second of the world mark.

But Coach A. L. Reed of Blackshear is doubtful if the single timer was exactly accurate.

But the boy is strong, the boy's showing in the district meet is due to attract a large crowd, most of the folks armed with stop watches, when Blackshear is host at a track field meet here Saturday.

Gardner Defends Reserve Clause

SHREVEPORT, LA.—(P)—Texas League President J. Alvin Gardner says baseball could not operate without the reserve clause, now under legal fire.

Here for the opening of the Tex-As loop campaign, Gardner spoke Wednesday at a joint meeting of the Shreveport Optimist and Lions Clubs.

Gardner outlined advantages of the reserve clause for the average player. He said the baseball draft system permits a good performer to advance.

Mann was the big stickler for Midland, banging out a double and triple in two official times at bat.

Gilmore Hits Well
Reed Gilmore had three singles in four trips and Thomas and Estell had two bingles each.

E. Koonce doubled twice and Kenneth Henson had a single and double for Stanton.

The members inspected a plot of the club layout developed by Port Worth landscape artists.

Plans for a drive to increase the membership were announced. More than 100 attended the dinner meeting.

Dallas Eagles, Missions Cats, Sports Grab Texas Loop Starting Night Tilt

By The Associated Press

The Dallas Eagles, built into an awesome baseball machine with Oilman Dick Burnett's millions, had the Texas League pointing Thursday.

The Eagles did a terrific opening stunt Wednesday night as they blasted the Oklahoma City Indians 23-2, spraying the Indians' park with an assortment of 26 hits.

San Antonio, Fort Worth and Shreveport joined the Eagles in the opening night winning bracket, the latter crowding 10,000 into its field to see a 3-1 battering of the Beaumont Exporters. It gave Shreveport the lead for the opening day.

Only 1,866 saddened fans turned out to see Dallas slaughter the Indians. San Antonio drew 7,000 to watch its 5-3 win over Houston while 4,061 clicked the turnstiles at Tulsa, where Fort Worth's champion Cats continued their winning ways 7-5.

Friday night the clubs shift to Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and Beaumont with Dallas promising to break the all-time attendance record of 16,014 set by Fort Worth in 1930. Burnett has predicted 16,000 to 17,000 will turn out at Dallas. Kennedy Comes Home

Vernon Kennedy did a little homecoming stint as he let Oklahoma City down with seven hits. Kennedy played at Oklahoma City years ago before he went to the majors. Bill Serena, Dallas third - sacker was the hitting man of the night. In his four hits he had two home runs, one with the bases full. Dallas' Jerry Witts got five hits but none were for extra bases.

Shreveport ripped Gail Pringle for four runs in the first inning and had no trouble taking care of the Exporters as Pitcher Dee Sanders let the Ships down with seven hits.

Bill Martin drove in two runs with a single in the eighth to bring San Antonio its win over Houston. The bases were full with two out at the time. Earl Reid of the Missions and Glenn Gardner of Houston hooked up in a pitching duel with each allowing six hits.

Fort Worth jumped out for seven runs before Tulsa could come close to getting to Chris Van Cuyk, starting Cat hurler. In the ninth the Oilers bounded out five hits, featuring a long home run by Jack Baumer, but Veteran George Dockins came in to put out the fire.

Tennis Club Meeting Scheduled Thursday

HICKORY, N. C.—(P)—The heavy New York Giants still were searching Thursday for starting pitchers. Clint Hartung, one of the biggest "ifs" of the mound staff, was the assignment here against Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians.

Sheldon Jones was blasted for seven hits including home runs by Cleveland's Lou Boudreau and Ken Keltner in five innings Wednesday. The Giants won, however, 16-6.

John M. Hill, secretary of the organization, said plans will be discussed for a summer tennis program here.

Leo Brady is president of the club.

Webb Back With New Talent; Lobo Tilt Slated Friday

Harold Webb, owner-manager of the Midland Indians, blew into town like a storm Wednesday night from his talent hunt in the Spring training camps of Sunny California. He brought back something to show for his absence, too.

The skipper obtained Lowell Adams, an outfielder; Robert George Rose, an in-fielder, and Rudy Val Kelley, a right-handed pitcher. He lined up five more promising young players for future delivery if they are needed.

Adams comes here from the Bakerfield club of the California State League with a ticket marked "option only." The Frisco State baseball moguls think so much of him they aren't taking any chances of losing out.

Adams is a lefty all the way. He stands six feet and weighs 170 pounds. He's a rookie.

Kelley is an Indian lad who reportedly has been the talk of the camp at Bakerfield. He has a blazin fast ball, according to Webb.

The chukker is 20 years old, is six feet tall and weighs 180 pounds. He is playing his first year of professional ball.

Rose is a limited service infielder who performs best at second base. Webb says he played with Fresno last year.

He throws right and bats left, is 20 years old and weighs 180.

Webb has his finger on four other pitchers who he thinks can strengthen the Tribe, when and if, they are needed. He also lined up two other infielders.

More Good News

All the good news didn't come from California, Webb says. Ross Alvis, steady infielder with the Indians in 1947, has notified Webb he will be in camp within the next few days. The skipper thinks highly of Alvis and has his eye on him for the wide-open third base slot.

With all the new material in camp, including Weldon Stewart, the Indians will lineup a lot different against the Lamesa Lobos in Lamesa Friday afternoon.

Webb is buzzing with high hopes for a good club now. He doesn't

South Is First In E. Relays

South Elementary walked off with the championship of the annual Elementary Relays here Wednesday by scoring a total of 116 points. North Elementary finished second with 110 points, Latin American School was third with 99 and West Elementary placed fourth with 91 points.

A total of 1,016 students from the first through the fifth grades participated in the meet. A special program of events was used and included competition for both boys and girls.

Jimmy Padgett of South and Bill Dillard of North tied for individual high point honors with 10 each.

North Elementary won the "Traveling Pennant" for boys. South Elementary took first in the division for girls.

Complete results of the meet will appear in the Friday edition of The Reporter-Telegram.

Hoover Task Force Hits Back At Army On Budget Padding

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Striking back at Army criticism, a Hoover Commission task force defiantly insisted Thursday the Army had padded its original 1950 budget requests.

The subcommittee of the government reorganization group flatly denied that its report on the national military establishment contained ten "misstatements of fact," as alleged by Secretary of the Army Royall.

It said the Army's comments disputing the task force findings actually "confirm the committee's report in every instance and in practically every detail."

For example, it said, its report that the Army once had "asked for funds to modernize 102 more tanks than it possessed" was absolutely true. The task force said the discrepancy wasn't noted until its own investigators pointed it out.

It said much the same thing about a clerical error which added $30,000,000 to another Army budget figure.

Point-By-Point Rebuttal

The commission headed by former President Hoover based a series of recommendations for government changes partly on the reports of its task forces.

The task force on the military establishment handed in the results of its investigations in November. Royall followed up in March with a letter to Hoover asking that the "ten misstatements" be corrected.

The task force point-by-point rebuttal, along with Royall's letter, was made public Thursday by Ferdinand Eberstadt, former member of the War Production Board who headed the Hoover subcommittee.

In a covering letter to Hoover, Eberstadt said the Army comments in fact support the committee finding that "The Army's budget requests, as originally submitted to the secretary of defense, were on a highly inflated basis which bore little apparent relation to the President's ceiling or to any strategic plan."

Abandoned Wells Reported In Midland

Midlanders still are calling The Reporter-Telegram to report abandoned wells and cisterns in or near Midland. The holes in most instances are open and unmarked, creating hazards for both adults and children.

City officials also have received numerous calls concerning the wells and cisterns.

Citizens have become conscious of the hazards since the tragic death of little Kathy Fiscus in an abandoned well shaft at San Marino, Calif.

Softball Schedule To Be Drafted Here

Other business of the league also will be handled.

Commissioner Claude Watkins will preside at the meeting.

Texas Tech Closes Year With Surplus

AUSTIN—(AP)—The state auditor reported Thursday Texas Technological College at Lubbock closed the last fiscal year with more than a million dollar surplus.

As of Aug. 31, 1948, the college had an unappropriated surplus of $1,042,482.56, auditor C. H. Cavness said. Total plant assets were listed as $1,042,880.06.

Cavness recommended creation of the office of comptroller for the college because of the school's growth.

Bulldogs Travel To Sweetwater For District 3-AA Diamond Tilt With Last-Place Mustangs

The Midland Bulldogs departed Thursday morning for Sweetwater where they are scheduled to meet the Sweetwater Mustangs in a District 3-AA baseball game in the afternoon.

Lefty Max Harris was named as the initial hurler for Midland on the strength of his outstanding four-hit performance against the tough Lamesa Tornadoes last week. He was to be followed by Ray Williams.

Ray Mann was to be a first, Jimmy Conine at second, Norman Drake at third and Marion Tredaway at short. Outfielders were to be Larry Buckingham, Moe Price and Dee Bivens.

Sweetwater is at the bottom of the standings with a record of one win and four losses. Midland is just a notch up with a one and three record.

Texas Weather Is Cool, Fair, Bright

By The Associated Press

The weather was fair and bright and cool over most of Texas Thursday. Conditions were cloudy to partly cloudy along the Gulf Coast. Dalhart had an early-morning temperature of 34 degrees, the lowest in the state.

Temperatures over Texas at mid-morning included: Lubbock 46, Amarillo 40, Abilene 56, El Paso 65, Brownsville 78, San Antonio 44, Austin 66, Corpus Christi 73, Houston 66, Dallas 59, Lufkin 70, Texarkana 67, Tyler 66 and Fort Worth 59.

A cool front swept over the state from the Northwest Wednesday and Wednesday night.

Partly cloudy weather is predicted for East Texas Friday. Fair weather is expected in the remainder of the state.

James N. Allison and R. R. Russell left Wednesday night for Nashville, Tenn. Allison's son, Jimmy, a senior student at Sewanee Military Academy, Sewanee, Tenn., will join them in Nashville to spend the Easter weekend.

Retailers—

Continued from Page One before Congress was adopted by unanimous vote. The group also favored the repeal of retail excise taxes. Copies of the resolutions will be sent to Rep. Ken Regan.

Murphy told of the National Affairs conference held here Tuesday night and urged individuals to write their congressmen expressing their personal views on these and other legislative matters.

The merchants voted to table the proposed rodent control program.

Suitor Must Be Fond Of Children

Mrs. Elena LeBaron, 30-year-old divorcee who is looking for a husband, reads to her eight children in their Salt Lake City home. The youngsters are: top left to right: Ross, six; Jennie Lou, two; Charles, five; LeGrand, three; bottom, left to right: David, four months; Elene, 12; Rosalinda, eight, and May, 10. Obviously, a suitor for Mrs. LeBaron's hand must be fond of children.

Carpenter Is Held In Connection With Slaying Of Banker

INDIANAPOLIS.—(AP)—Clarence Gorman, 27-year-old Indianapolis carpenter, on parole from a prison sentence in California, was held in jail without charge Thursday in connection with the slaying of a small-town banker.

Sgt. Robert Shields, state police detective, said Gorman admitted he fired the shot that killed Fassett Hinshaw, 51, president of the Citizens' Bank at Shirley, 30 miles northeast of Indianapolis. He quoted Gorman as saying his revolver discharged accidentally when the vault-puller pulled him during a hold-up attempt.

Sgt. Price Cox, state police detective, said Gorman dictated a statement admitting the shooting before he knew Hinshaw had died.

True Statement

Sergeant Cox said he told Gorman that then Hinshaw had died and asked him if he still wanted to sign the statement. He quoted Gorman as saying, "Yes, it's a true statement and I'll sign it."

Gorman was captured on a street here Wednesday night a few hours after Hinshaw's death. Hinshaw, who was shot in the doorway of his home Monday night, died in a hospital at Newcastle Tuesday.

Prosecutor Robert Brown said he would ask first-degree murder in connection with Gorman, and Francis Earl Hedrick, 19, and Lawrence Albert Anderson, 30, both of Indianapolis. The latter two were arrested Tuesday and charged with auto banditry.

Sergeant Shields said Hedrick and Anderson both admitted being at the scene of the shooting and Anderson admitted stealing the getaway car March 26 in Las Vegas, Nev.

REDS ASK FREE TRADE

BERLIN.—(AP)—The Russian-backed German Communists Thursday proposed restoration of "free" trade between the Russian sector of Berlin and the blockaded Western sectors. Their offer drew a skeptical reception.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Three divorces were granted by Judge Paul Moss in 70th District Court here Wednesday.

Nazi—

Continued From Page One were to blame for the Nazi crimes. The other two judges ruled officials who signed criminal orders were just as responsible as the men who committed the actual murders and brutalities. The judges of the majority were William C. Christian of Red Wing, Minn., and Robert T. McGuire of Portland, Ore.

Tried On Eight Counts

The charges were:

Count 1—Planning, initiating and waging a war of aggression.

Count 2—Conspiracy to commit crimes against peace and humanity.

Count 3—Murder and ill-treatment of prisoners of war.

Count 4—Dropped.

Count 5—Atrocities and offenses against civilian populations (mass extermination of Jews).

Count 6—Plunder and spoliation of invaded countries.

Count 7—Enslavement of conquered people.

Count 8—Membership in criminal organizations.

Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, suave English-born chief of the Nazi Party's foreign organization, was sentenced to five years. He was convicted on only count eight.

Ernest Woermann, chief of the Political Division of the German foreign office and prewar counsellor at the London Embassy, drew a seven-year sentence on two counts—one on five.

Karl Ritter, former ambassador for special assignments, known as the hatchet man of the foreign office, got four years on count three. Ritter showed up in foreign capitals just before they were invaded by the Nazis.

20-Year Sentence

Edmund Veesenmayer, convicted of directing the liquidation of several hundred thousand Jews as minister plenipotentiary in Hungary, drew a 20-year sentence on counts five, seven and eight.

Hans Heinrich Lammers, one-eyed chief of the Reichschancellery, who was convicted on six counts more than any other defendant, also drew a 20-year term on counts one, three, five, six, seven and eight.

Richard Walther Darré, Argentine-born minister for food and agriculture, was sentenced to seven years on three counts, one, five, six and eight.

Otto Dietrich, Hitler's press chief, got seven years on counts five and eight.

Gottlob Berger, S. S. lieutenant general, who acted as liaison with occupied territories, drew 25 years on counts three, five, seven and eight.

Cash From Gold Teeth

Lutz Schwerin Von Krosigk, former finance minister rated second to Hermann Goering in mobilizing Germany's financial forces, got 10 years on counts five and six.

Emil Phul, director of the Reichsbank, which turned into war cash good teeth and jewelry taken from gas chamber victims, drew a five-year sentence on count five.

Karl Rasche, head of the powerful Dresdener Bank and director of many concerns in occupied countries seized by the Nazis, was sentenced to seven years on counts six and eight.

Paul Koerner, Goering's deputy in the four-year plan for war preparation, drew 15 years on four counts—one, six, seven and eight.

Paul Pleiger, Ruhr coal expert, who played a leading role in Nazi war production, got 15 years on counts six and eight.

Hans Kehrl, who once headed the War Production Office, was sentenced to 15 years on counts five, six, seven and eight.

Four Defendants Ill

The last four defendants to be sentenced were absent from the courtroom because of illness.

Gustav Steinbrück Von Moyland, bright young man of the foreign office who succeeded Weisaecker as state secretary, got a seven-year sentence on counts three and five. He is in a German hospital with typhoid fever.

A ten-year sentence was passed on Wilhelm Keppeler, Hitler's first economic advisor and organizer of the "Circle of Friends" of Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler. Keppeler also in the hospital with suspected typhoid, was convicted on four counts—one, five, six and eight.

The court ruled Wilhelm Stuckart was so ill any sentence against him would amount to the death penalty, so no sentence was given him in addition to the four years he already has been in prison.

Walter Schellenberg, chief of S. S. Intelligence, was sentenced to six years on counts five and eight.

Hold Head High To Look More Youthful

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

There is more than one reason for holding your head high if you are to look more youthful.

A drooping head typifies an attitude of dejection or apology. If you want to look as young and alert as you feel you won't express this attitude by slumping.

Because allowing a head to droop is nothing more than a highly critical beauty reason for correcting posture may be more convincing. Your nightly routine of creaming a throatline to keep it smooth and unlined will be less effective if you cancel out the benefits by carrying your head at a downward slant. If you will study your profile's behavior in a mirror you will see that drooping head encourages chinline sag and deepens creases in a throatline.

Eyes, too, look more youthful when a head is held up in proper alignment with the spinal column. To see for yourself, hold a hand mirror at eye level in normal daylight. When you tilt your nose slightly up in the air, you will see that a more even lighting of your face helps to banish under-eye shadows. When you drop your head forward so that light shines more strongly on the forehead, those unwanted shadows are intensified by contrast.

A silvery substance, which acts as a mirror perfect diffuser of light, gives promise of making the present inside-frosted electric incandescent bulb obsolete. It is said to give a bulb superior to the diffusion from regular inside-frosted lamps without diminishing lighting efficiency.

Light Diet

Oblivious to all the commotion he caused, 2-year-old Alan David Pals shows how he ate a light bulb in his Pittsburgh, Pa., home. Doctors said he appeared to be doing well despite his strange taste in between-meal snacks.

Mrs. McKinney Is Program Leader In Progressive Club

"Women in Education" was the subject for the Progressive Study Club's program Wednesday afternoon, as members continued a review of Women's Art in the World Progress.

Mrs. Anna McKinney discussed the program topic and Mrs. T. M. West presented a sketch of a modern woman educator, selecting the president of Vassar College.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Donald Johnson and Mrs. Jane Lockett.

Members present included Mrs. W. C. Kimball, Mrs. Lindley Latham, Mrs. John V. Norman, Jr., Mrs. W. H. Pomeroy, Jr., Mrs. Burl H. Self, Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Jr., Mrs. Frank L. True, Jr., Mrs. Hader Upchurch, Mrs. L. O. Baggett, Mrs. Sol Bunnell, Mrs. James C. Clary, Mrs. John DeFord, Mrs. John L. Hart and Mrs. A. A. Jones.

Mrs. Lee Koonee and Mrs. Ed Sharpe of the Humble Pipe Line Camp recently were released from hospitals in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reynolds announced the birth of a son, April 12, in San Angelo. Mrs. Reynolds has been seeking information on the subject since Monday night, when a petition asking the support of the organization in applying for decontrol bill was submitted to the Chamber directors.

Grover Godfrey, secretary of the Dallas Home Builders Association, Thursday told Downing in a long-distance telephone conversation copies of the bill passed by Congress have not been printed in sufficient quantities for distribution and local governments do not know the exact procedure to be followed in the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Vaughn attended an Assembly of God Church supper in Crandall recently.

Guests in the Tom Lynch home are her sister, Mrs. C. C. Hickie of Sinton and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnna Allison are living in Wink while he temporarily works for an oil company. They will move soon to Odessa, where he has been transferred.

Rent Decontrol Data Is Limited, Confusing

Information on the new rent control bill and the procedure to be followed in asking decontrol of rental areas is limited and confusing. Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing said Thursday. He has been seeking information on the subject since Monday night, when a petition asking the support of the organization in applying for decontrol bill was submitted to the Chamber directors.

Grover Godfrey, secretary of the Dallas Home Builders Association, Thursday told Downing in a long-distance telephone conversation copies of the bill passed by Congress have not been printed in sufficient quantities for distribution and local governments do not know the exact procedure to be followed in the matter.

The Dallas man is sending Downing such information as is available.

The United States Chamber of Commerce also is forwarding information to the Midland Chamber.

Southern Senator Averts Threatened Shortage Of Grits

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The South can relax Thursday. Its hominy grits are not going to Europe.

A Senate-House conference Wednesday afternoon agreed to strip from the European Recovery Program a provision which made some grits lovers shudder.

This proposal was that 15 per cent of all the corn going to Europe would be used for home-hominy grits, corn meal or corn flour.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) protested several days ago against any such action, lest it leave Dixie short of grits.

The proposal had been offered by Senator Gillette, a Democrat from the corn state of Iowa. Gillette said it would be a good thing for Europe to discover the great food value of grits.

Russell quickly agreed. But he added if it meant any shortage of grits in the South he was against it.

The Senate-House conferees sided with Russell.

Some kinds of fish can survive being frozen in ice, but the length of time they are frozen and the conditions under which the ice melts are important factors to survival.

New Drillsites Mount To 58 Over Week In Midland Areas

Locations for 58 new petroleum explorations were reported to the office of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission of Texas during the past week.

In addition three amended applications were filed with the commission. They involved changes in applications previously filed on that number of development projects.

Included in the new locations were applications for the drilling of seven wildcats. Andrews County claimed two of the new wildcats. The remaining five were divided equally among Cochran, Gaines, Mitchell, Pecos and Scurry Counties.

Cochran and Scurry Counties led the list of new explorations with nine new projects each. Andrews reported seven new drillsites. Hockley and Pecos Counties gained four new locations each.

Borden and Mitchell each gained three new projects. Crane, Gaines, Reeves, Upton, and Winkler Counties reported two new ventures each.

The remaining new drillsites were distributed one each to Garza and Hale Counties.

Hockley County listed two amended applications and Glasscock listed one.

Experts Claim That Elephant Smartest

BANGKOK -- The four fat around a table, sipping lime squashes and rating animals according to intelligence.

They had 100 years or more work with animals behind them. Here is the order, as presented by George Emerson, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer wild animal trainer who came to Bangkok to take home a boatload of animals:

1. The elephant.
2. The great apes family (gorilla, chimpanzee, orang-utan and gibbon).
3. The dog.
4. The horse.

With Emerson were David L. Mobley, who would rather talk about his birds at California's Catalina Island; Noel Rosefield, Far East collector for the Catalina Wild Life Expedition; and Mahout Sawart, a Siamese elephant boy and the only real youngster in the group.

The quartet are collecting elephants, birds and varied animals for return to the United States. There they will be sent to Louis Gobel's animal farm for use in films and also to circuses, to Catalina Island and to other animal spots in the U. S.

ASPHALT LAKE

From the famous pitch lake of Trinidad, off the coast of Venezuela, millions of tons of asphalt have been taken, yet no impression appears to have been made on the contents. Pressure from below forces new supplies of pitch to the surface to form the seemingly inexhaustible reservoir.

CHEF'S SALAD

A chef's salad is a good choice for Sunday night supper. Make it of salad greens—as many varieties as your refrigerator holds—plus celery, hard-cooked egg, thin strips of tongue, ham, or chicken, and thin strips of mild yellow cheese.

Toss the salad with a well-seasoned French dressing and serve it with hard rolls and butter and Melba toast.

Thin slices of avocado and diced red pimento may be used to garnish consomme for a company dinner.

"Doubtless" playing cards—those which may be read from either side—with indices in the corners did not become standard until about 1870, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Pork Pie With Spanish Sauce

Pork Pie with pastry topping lends a different, flavorful touch.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Want something different? Then order a fresh cala ham from your meat dealer. Ask him to cut off just as well.

Pork Pie With Pastry Topping (4-6 servings)

Three cups cubed cooked pork, 3 cups sliced carrots, 3 tablespoons fat, 1/4 cup finely diced onion, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups well-seasoned chicken broth, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/8 teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup coarsely diced green pepper, 1/16 teaspoon powdered thyme, 1/2 package pastry mix.

Cut cooked pork in 3/4-inch cubes; cut scraped carrots in 1/2-inch cubes and cook until barely tender in small amount of boiling salted water. Melt fat over moderate heat. Add onion and cook 1 minute. Stir in flour. Add chicken broth and cook, stirring frequently, until sauce thickens.

Add chicken bouquet, ginger, mustard and salt. Combine sauce, cubed pork, cooked carrots and green pepper. Pour into well-greased shallow baking dish, about 10 x 6 inches. Keep in warm place while preparing pastry for topping. Add thyme to pastry mix. Add water according to directions on package. Roll pastry out on lightly floured board in shape to fit top of baking dish. Cut vents to allow escape of steam. Place topping on pie and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) until pastry is lightly browned, about 25 minutes. Serve immediately with a mixed green salad.

Here's a fine-flavored suggestion for cooking those pork steaks cut from the cala—or shoulder chops you may have purchased separately from your meat dealer:

Pork Steaks In Spanish Sauce (4 servings)

Two shoulder pork steaks, about 1 1/4 pounds, 2 tablespoons fat, 1/4 cup finely diced green pepper, 1/4 cup finely diced celery, one 8-ounce can tomato sauce, one 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, 1/8 teaspoon powdered oregano, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Dip steaks in flour, or brush with kitchen bouquet, and brown on both sides in melted fat. Remove from pan. Add onion, green pepper, celery and cook for about 2 minutes. Add tomato sauce and contents of can of mushrooms.

Sprinkle with pepper, chili powder, oregano and salt. Replace the steaks, covering with sauce. Cook over low heat, covered, until pork is tender, about 45 minutes. Serve immediately with sauce.

Springtime In Iran Isn't So Pretty To Us

WASHINGTON—(P)—Springtime in Iran doesn't look very pretty this year from the Washington perspective.

Russia has been involved in several Iranian border "incidents." The Russian radio is becoming more active and more violent each day in its attacks on Iran and its American military advisers. Russia on March 19 even demanded that Iran withdraw its consuls from Russian territory and announced that it was taking all Soviet consuls from Iran.

What does all this mean? Diplomats see two possibilities:

1. Russia might be merely stepping up its war of nerves. An appeasement party might develop in Iran. But, say officials in close touch with Iran, Communism has made little progress there.

2. Russia might be contemplating invasion. Iran may look like the softest spot. The big question would be: What would the United States do? Perhaps the Kremlin cannot conceive of America's taking up Russia's challenge to a third world was to protect the sovereignty of far-away Iran.

But some diplomats see the situation as comparable to Hitler's first aggressions. Once Russia had succeeded in an invasion, they say, there would be no reason to stop in Iran. All Middle East would be open to it. With half the world's oil, the Suez Canal and other communication lines, military operations against Africa would become possible, and Turkey's position would become untenable.

Up to now Russia has never directly invaded another state. In some Communist expansions like those in Poland and the Balkans, the Russian army was there first. It had merely to watch while local Communists seized power. In others, like Czechoslovakia, native Communists did the work, aided only by propaganda and intimidation from Russia.

The American position has been made clear. Iran, Turkey and lutions, 1939-41." When Hitler sought to draw Russia into a Four-Power Pact with Germany, Italy and Japan, the Soviet Union agreed to enter the offer later being rejected by Hitler) if this clause were included in the pact's text:

"Provided that the area south of Batum and Baku in the general direction of the Persian Gulf is recognised as the center of the aspirations of the Soviet Union. (The Persian Gulf is on Iran's southeastern coast.)

As for the Russian tale about our establishing ourselves in Iran, Acheson said we have no bases there and plan none. We have 62 officers and enlisted men in Iran, one mission training the Iranian army in housekeeping duties and another mission training the police force. The Iranian government also informed the Soviet Government on Feb. 19 that the Americans in Iran were "employed only as technical advisers and by no means in any position of command in the Iranian Army."

As to what Russia's thought might be about Iran, the specialists point to the State Department document, "Naz-Soviet Re-

Easter in the Cards Old and New Greetings Offer Contrast

Eloquent comparison of antique Easter greeting cards with those of today is symbolized in center pictures. Alynn McElroy, New York actress, dressed in a turn-of-the-century costume, studies an antique card depicting a flying rabbit, which is shown in close-up (top left). In sharp contrast is the saucy rabbit on the new card which is admired by model (right) who is dressed in this year's Easter bonnet and suit. Present-day drawing of spring chicken (bottom right) looks more humorous than its saucy-dressed ancestor (center left). Spray of Easter lilies printed on modern cross-shaped card (top right) is simpler and more softly colored than flowers and gilt cross on family-album card (bottom left).

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

There's proof in a comparison of today's Easter greeting cards with those of 40 or 50 years ago that American charm, wit, good taste and ingenious know-how have leaped forward as fast as Peter Rabbit's lightning-like strides.

Peter Rabbit is still as symbolic of the Happy Easter season as he was when grandma was a girl. Her descendants who preserved the penny post-card-size greeting card which grandma received from an admiring son add a note when flipping through her classics, that the graceful white lily was as sacred a symbol at the turn of the century.

A rare collection of the 1900's Easter greeting cards on exhibit in the Cleveland museum of the American Greeting Card Publishers provide visual proof of all of this. Any comparison of these with this season's cards, however, offers eloquent proof that the artistic and mechanical treatment of the lily and the bunny is as different from those of today as a flying egg crate relic from a 1949 jet-propelled plane.

These antique cards show that somber and humorless symbols have given way to witty, saucy or tongue-in-cheek images. One card dating from the early 1900's depicts the Easter rabbit as the kind of unloved little pest which gets chased out of gardens. His melancholy expression belies the gaiety of "Happy Easter" greeting which he paints like a stiff-fingered robot on a gaudy gold-and-colored egg.

Taken from a saucy descendant who pops out of today's Easter cards. Sporting a top hat, a striped cravat and a boutonniere and flashing a bewhiskered grin, he bears none but a remote family resemblance to his solemn-faced forbear.

During the last 50 years chicks and ducklings have gone as sophisticated as the worldly bunny.

A card of early vintage which depicts a hen garbed in a dress of calico print brandishing her umbrella at a runaway cottontail provides contrast with the Easter message which is conveyed today.

Glamor On The Job Easy With Program

BY BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeature Beauty Editor

Just because you work at a 9 to 5 job each day is no reason why you should deny yourself recreation. You can get it during the week by using your lunch hour and rest periods to the best advantage.

Some offices and factories, realizing the relaxation that exercise affords their employees, have installed recreational facilities. These are used at sporadic intervals at off-hours during the day.

You don't have to be an old grump on your job to please the boss. He doesn't particularly appreciate a girl who sits glued to her desk and develops round shoulders and a sour disposition. Usually she does her work in a plodding fashion that is no inspiration to the rest of the staff.

Walking Helps
Get up from your desk occasionally and stretch your legs. Walk to the water cooler and take advantage of the beautifying effects of water which will help keep your skin from drying, keep it fresh and lovely, muscles firm and strong, and vital organs in condition to perform their functions.

On your lunch hour, devote part of your time to a good brisk walk. Or if your office does have ping-pong tables or other sports equipment, participate in their use.

Most large firms encourage after-work recreation also. Employees form bowling or swimming teams which also make for good employee relationships.

If you have an opportunity to join in sports activities with your fellow employees by all means take advantage of it. You can become a dual wit by following that old bus or subway route every night. Make tracks at least once a week for an evening of exercise. Girls who work in strange towns where they find it difficult to make friends would be wise to visit the local "Y" or community recreation center where they can let off some steam. It is easy to meet people, too, when you are participating in sports. Try it and see.

Powerful Hormone Tested On Cancer

BERKLEY, CALIF.—(AP)—A powerful hormone which can shrink living rats to two thirds of their normal size is being tested for its possible value against cancer.

This substance is adrenocortical hormone, called ACTH for short. It was found a few years ago by Dr. C. H. Li, University of California biochemist, in the pituitary glands of beef.

Whether this substance will have a shrinking or other inhibitory effect on cancers without producing unfavorable effects on other tissues remains to be seen. It is being tried out in several laboratories in this country, Dr. Li said.

Jailbirds May Fly Coop In Work Training Plan

BOMBAY—(AP)—Bombay jailbirds may soon become useful, self-supporting and respectable members of society through a special training course.

The director of publicity, government of Bombay, says that the government proposes taking measures to reform prisoners.

The most striking reform, to be introduced shortly, contemplates the treatment of well-behaved prisoners as free men while still serving terms. These prisoners will be sent out of jail in batches to be employed on public works such as road building, construction of tanks and other work. They will be paid for their work and their families will be allowed to join them after a time. They will live in camps run by themselves and will be responsible jointly for seeing that there are no attempts to escape.

Another measure proposed is the setting up of a model farm for imparting agricultural training. The government intends to send the peasant class prisoners to this farm after they have completed a substantial portion of their sentence to receive training in improved methods of agriculture.

A scheme is also worked out for opening a well-equipped central workshop for training prisoners in different technical lines.

Measures already implemented include:

1. Abolition of penal diet and gummy clothing.

2. Payment of wages at a fifth of the labor charges, provided the prisoners finish their daily quota, and full payment for work done over and above their daily task.

3. Removal of restriction on smoking.

4. Release on furlough for short periods of well-behaved, nonhabitual prisoners not involved in robbery or daucity or whose presence is not prejudicial to public peace and tranquility.

When metals break, the fractures begin with extremely small cracks. The break does not occur instantaneously throughout the sample, as usually assumed. The tiny cracks are the nuclei, which grow into a large split when enough tension is applied.

Author Of 'Sunbonnet Babies' Is Still Pounding Typewriter, Now For Teen-Agers

By ANDY ANDERSON
AP Newsfeatures

WINTER PARK, Fla.—A woman "too busy entertaining other people's children to have a family of my own" is still pounding her typewriter at the age of 76.

She is Eulalie Osgood Grover who wrote the perennial Sunbonnet Babies books and who now is completing a narrative biography on Benjamin Franklin, generally for teen-agers as was her first such book-length biography on Robert Louis Stevenson, published in 1940.

She has been at work slowly on the book for several years and says she feels that the great American, who died in 1790, and "I am contemporaries."

Book Still In Print

But it is "The Sunbonnet Babies" she is famous for and which you yourself probably remember.

It was Miss Grover's first book for children and was published by Rand, McNally in 1902. It appeared simultaneously and the author says she thinks it was the first juvenile book to be issued in that manner.

The school edition has been in print without interruption since then; and the trade edition was until recently.

During the period, Miss Grover edited one book of poetry and has written nearly a score of other juvenile books. She says the outstanding one was "Volland Mother Goose," illustrated in four colors and published originally in 1915. It has been in continuous circulation since.

Not Easy Writing

She taught the first three grades and it seemed to her the primers were inadequate to get a child's interest but, anxious to teach the higher grades, she went to France to study French.

She returned just too late to get a job, however, and her brother—then a publisher's representative—happened to show her some sketches of sunbonnet babies. She immediately wrote to the artist suggesting collaboration, with her doing the text for a child's reader.

Thus, the books came about.

Writing a primer must be introduced at, on the average, not more than three to a page. There are about 150 words which form a kindergarten vocabulary, and these must be used. About 150 more words may be introduced to carry the narrative, but they must be monosyllabic, or nearly so.

Children's textbooks in those old days, she says, were printed in small type, contained a scrap-book variety of illustrations, seldom were illustrated in color, and the text was boringly repetitive.

The Sunbonnet and Overall books helped change all that for the print used was about one-third of an inch high, had no curlicues then so fashionable, and the illustrations were simple instead of fanciful.

Eulalie Osgood Grover is a native of Manterville, Minn. She was born there June 22, 1873. At that time her father, "rather fresh from the seminary, was in charge of a home-mission Congregational church. When I was one year old, my parents returned to their native New England where their four children were educated and went out to do their part in the world."

Miss Grover's "part in the world" may never be fully known because impressions on small minds are difficult to trace, but it's a safe bet she molded many little brains for the better, and made many little lives a lot easier and happier.

LEAVES ON TRIP

Mrs. W. C. King of Midland and her sister, Mrs. R. A. Parrott of Lake Charles, La., will make an extended trip through Arizona and California. Mrs. King was scheduled to leave Thursday. She will combine business with pleasure on the trip.

CARNIVAL

"Before I start getting tough with you about this raise, Mr. Wiggins, I want you to know this is my wife's idea!"

Like Two Fried Eggs On Blanket

EVANSTON, ILL.—(AP)—Dale Stimpie, a private watchman, was making his nightly rounds. He saw a curtain move in a house. That was suspicious because the owner was out of town. Another curtain switched a bit.

Stimpie hailed a passing car. He and two officers, guns drawn, stole up to the house and peered in. They stared into the large, blinking eyes of an owl.

Shake Down

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Blue Moon

You probably never saw a blue moon up in the sky. I never saw one either, but Daddy Ringtail told me of one. He said there once was a blue moon, way up in the sky up over the monkey house, there in the middle of the Great Forest.

It was the night that followed the day that Sammy Ringtail, the monkey boy, had found a bright new penny. The blue moon shone on the penny, making it prettier than ever.

Sammy sat down on the porch floor of the monkey house. He was rolling his penny across the floor as near as he could to a hole in one of the boards.

"Sammy," Daddy Ringtail said from the swing where he sat, "if your penny goes in that hole in the floor, it will fall down to the ground, and you may never find it."

"Oh, that's all right," Sammy Ringtail said. "The hole is so small! Why? I could roll this penny all night, and it would never fall through."

But that is where Sammy was mistaken. The very next time he rolled the penny—bright and shiny in the blue moonlight—it went in the hole and fell down to the ground.

"Oh me!" said Sammy.

He slid down to the ground. Daddy Ringtail went with him. They looked and looked in the grass for the penny.

"Daddy Ringtail," said Sammy, "how did it ever happen? The hole in the floor was so very small. How did my penny fall through it?"

Daddy Ringtail shook his head. "It wouldn't happen but once in a blue moon," he said. "I hope we find it."

And pretty soon they did find it. Sammy took it back up to the porch of the monkey house, but he didn't roll it across the floor again. Oh, he wasn't afraid it would fall in the hole any more, oh no. The hole was very small, and Daddy had said that it wouldn't fall through but once in a very blue moon. Sammy kept the penny in his pocket where he thought it ought to be safest, although even today, when something like a penny, but doesn't often say: "Why that wouldn't happen but once in a blue moon!" Happy day now, and tomorrow's adventure will be Daddy Ringtail and Green Grass Growing.

Navy Mauler Hauls Record Payload

Spread out in front of this Navy Martin AM-1 Mauler, nicknamed Able Mabel, are the 14,179 pounds of armaments, fuel and pilot which the 15,153-pound plane can carry in flight. The craft recently set a new world's record in payload for one-man carrier-based attack planes. Twenty years ago it would have taken 10 planes to lift this load, which includes three 2200-pound torpedoes, 12 250-pound bombs and four 20-mm. cannons with 800 rounds of ammunition. The plane can fly scouting missions up to 2000 miles.

Shoulder Lamb Chops With Jelly Pears

Spring fever's in the air, so settle back and enjoy it by serving tender, easy-to-prepare lamb shoulder chops for dinner. You can take your pick of ways to cook shoulder lamb chops because these, like the more expensive loin or rib chops, may be broiled, pan-broiled, or braised. However you choose to prepare them, you'll be rewarded with juiciness and rich flavor.

Shoulder lamb chops served with jelly pears (see picture next page) make an attractive spring dinner platter and are a wonderful flavor combination. Broil or pan-broil chops and serve with canned pears filled with mint, currant, or grape jelly. If chops are 3/4 to 1 inch thick, they may be oven broiled. If thinner, pan-broiling is the better method to use. Season and turn; brown other side.

In broiling shoulder or other lamb chops, they may be cooked medium or well done; however, the preference is for well done. For medium doneness, lamb chops require 7 minutes to each side; for well done, 8 minutes.

Another attractive way to serve shoulder lamb chops is to arrange them pin-wheel fashion around a decorative bowl of fresh mint and currant sauce. This is a good lamb accompaniment throughout the spring and summer when mint is plentiful in gardens. To prepare this fresh-as-seafood sauce: Add 1/2 cup minced mint leaves and 1/2 cup orange juice to a jar of currant jelly. Blend well with a fork and chill in the refrigerator an hour before serving.

Subtle Lamb Seasonings
Lamb dishes of various kinds become family favorites when seasoned with just the right touches. Here are some seasoning hints to tuck away into the meat section of your own precious recipe collection:

Lamb Stew
1. Add canned tomatoes, 1/8 teaspoon rosemary, 1/2 garlic clove. (Later remove garlic.)
2. Add caraway seeds, paprika, and mashed garlic clove.

Lamb Patties
1. Flavor well with chopped parsley, ground allspice, salt and black pepper.
2. Marinate seasoned lamb patties in salad oil, lemon juice, and grated onion for 30 minutes.

Lamb Roast
1. Rub with a mixture of salt, pepper, and a little ginger. Bake 1/2 hour, then pour over meat 1/4 cup melted margarine or butter mixed with a tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Bake even 20 minutes.
2. Baste during cooking with French dressing or tomato soup with caraway seed added.

Lamb Shanks
1. Braise with water or meat stock;

Easter Seal Funds Aid Handicapped

Every Easter Seal purchased by individuals, firms and organizations here and elsewhere throughout the nation aids in carrying on the continuous program of care, treatment and rehabilitation of crippled children. The youngster pictured above yet may walk again as the result of someone's contribution to the Easter Seal fund. Payments for seals should be forwarded to the Midland Children's Service League before Easter Sunday. Mrs. H. L. Beckmann is chairman of the group and Mrs. Robert S. Dewey is treasurer.

Boy Baker's Bread Butters His Career

Fourteen-year-old Dale Coons gets an audience for his date bread at Phoenix, Ariz. His prize-winning secret: Follow the recipe.

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(NEA)—Dale Coons, 14-year-old baking and cooking whiz, gathered the professional chefs around him and proceeded to divulge the secret of his prize-winning culinary technique.

The chefs, their high white caps starched for the occasion, waited in hushed silence.

"Well," said Dale, as he cooks prepared to take notes, "my secret is that I always follow recipes."

To date, that simple but effective routine has enabled Dale to win 17 blue ribbons at various state and county fairs. He clinched his meteoric rise in a bakery by finishing first in a fabled 100 at the Messa fair.

The champ is no slay. He's the president of the freshman class at Messa, Ariz., high school, an accomplished football player and otherwise a perfectly normal teenage boy.

But three years ago his mother, Mrs. L. M. Coons, walked away with a handful of pretty blue ribbons at the fair, and it looked easy to Dale. The next year he entered his specialty, date bread, and his career was set.

He so entranced by life on the range that he wants to be a cowboy. But cooking will just be a vocation. When he comes home, after a hard day over a hot souffle, he'll have no part of the kitchen.

"My wife will have to be a good cook," he insists.

Youth Center Chatter

By June Haslip—Joyce Howell
Despite sand, wind, snow, rain and six-weeks tests here we are again! What more can we do?

It seems as though many of us are "April babies!" We want to wish a happy birthday to the following: Evelyn Heil, Joyce Howell, Pat Boles, Ann Arick, Larry Clark, and Stan Coker. John Zant ends this month of birthdays with one the 29th. Happy Birthday, "Teeners," and we wish you many more!

Have you ever stopped to glance at the bulletin board? Between the bar and fountain there is a large board which has everything imaginable on it.

Some of the dances, pictures drawn by some of our "artists" important announcements, and, thanks to Mr. Engel, a copy of the weekly "Chatter."

If any of you have snapshots, pictures, or anything else that might be of interest to everyone, bring it down and put it on our bulletin board. The Youth Center, by the way, will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 11 p.m. Friday and Monday.

It seems that each week we get more members. Those receiving cards this week were: Sam Van Landingham, John Blackmer, Faragon, Howard Clark, Jan Houck and Lendon Cope. Many of these new members have older brothers and sisters who are members. We certainly are glad to have you kids with us.

The tennis courts have claimed many of our regular members lately.

Ping-pong champs seem to be excellent tennis players, too. Joe Dorsey, Corky Moss, Pat Douglass, Goss Yeager and Donald Johnson are a few boys equally skilled in either game. Jean Ferguson, Jo Ann Nelson, Peggy Charleton, Pat Boles and Sue Ann Franklin are some of the girls. And, of course the other members of the tennis team are good at both games, too.

Our congratulations go to the teams and individuals who helped Midland to victory in the Interscholastic League Meet held in Midland last week. Those Youth Center members who placed are too numerous to name. However, Betty Wilson, Frank Blackwell, Ann Boring, Virginia Breedlove, Maggie Murphy, Jim McGraw, Duane Fritz and others are planning to go to the regional meet soon. Good luck, kids.

There are also several boys who will go to regionals for placing in the various divisions of the track meet. The tennis team placed this time, too. We certainly are proud of all these people and we hope you bring back lots of trophies.

We saw Melba Clarke, Joy Guyton, Nell Cole, Lois Black, Patsy Bray, Pat Benedict and several others at the track meet Saturday in shorts. Most people said it was too cold, but these girls managed to get sunburned! How did you do it, girls?

The Juniors are talking about the Senior rings they just ordered.

We certainly will miss the year's seniors. The Youth Center just won the case without you "old folks."

Herb Greggerson was back with us last week and we certainly were glad to see him. There was quite a crowd and everyone was most co-operative. Mrs. George Glass and Mrs. E. W. Halfast were there to help and we want to thank them from the bottom of our hearts. Mrs. E. W. Anguish, Mrs. J. H. Jewell and several other mothers came in to watch the couples "struggle" around the floor. Mr. Greggerson will be back about May 4, and we'll all be waiting for him, for with his arrival comes the fun of square dancing!

Seems the Youth Center must be "haunted." Just a few weeks ago Mr. Engel came in and turned on the light—but one refused to go on. After several tries, Mr. Engel came to the conclusion the stubborn light was burned out. So, he called for Dick Monroe, a ladder and a new bulb. As Dick climbed to the ceiling and reached out to touch the light, it magically popped on, leaving Dick in a state of "mild shock." Then, a few days ago, the juke box absolutely refused to play the right songs for anyone, regardless of the nickels cosily fed to it. It was most embarrassing to several onlookers when Mr. Engel walked over, dropped in a nickel, and the onerous machine obligingly played the right number! Yip! We're convinced there must be ghosts in the Youth Center.

The Interscholastic League Meet interfered with the playing of the ping-pong tournament scheduled last week, but it's definitely set for this Saturday.

"Teeners" just dropped in and out of the Youth Center this past week.

The track team is on the road again.

Now the Yanks expect us to eat the ruddy stuff!

It was the explosive reaction of all sides.

—Dick Monroe

TRAFFIC COP FIXES PLATFORM FOR CRIPPLE

CHICAGO—(AP)—Patrick Devine, a traffic cop, saw the woman every afternoon. She was on crutches. The struggle out into Wabash Avenue at Ninth St., and pulled herself aboard a streetcar.

That weekend, really, was looked forward to by the "inmates" of Midland High School.

Easter vacation's here again, and there will be two extra days "cut up."

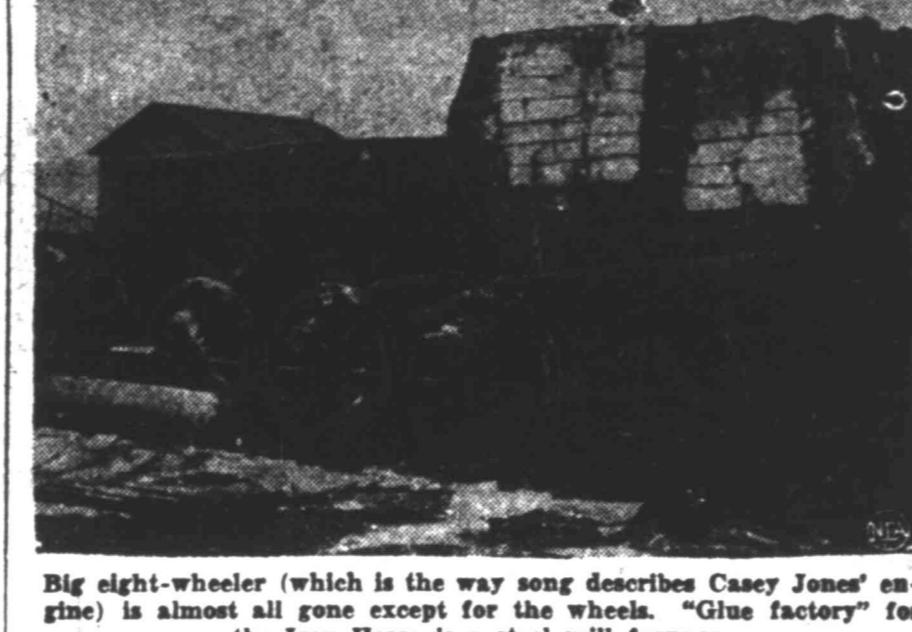

Alien Nelson, a former Midlander, now living in Brownwood, was here last weekend visiting friends.

Jean Ferguson can be found on the tennis courts each morning at 6:30. How do you do it, "Fergie?"

Now it's about time for us to go back to thinking about six-weeks' tests and leave you to think all this over until next week.

DIESLS SEND STEAM LOCOS TO SCRAPPY PILE, RAPID-RATE

Diesels Send Steam Locos To Scrappie Pile, Rapid-Rate

Big eight-wheeler (which is the way song describes Casey Jones' engine) is almost all gone except for the wheels. "Glue factory" for the Iron Horse is a steel mill furnace.

CONWAY, Pa.—(NEA)—They got another diesel on the Salt Lake line, and like Casey Jones, the Iron Horse is heading for the graveyard.

Big eight-wheelers (like the one Casey rode to fame and death) and others on the more recent roster of steam locomotives (Pacifics, Mikados, Consolidations, Mountains and Mallets) are puffing into yards all over the country to find a scrap heap at the end of the line.

On nearly every railroad, as the diesel locomotives take over, the coal-burners are doomed. Few new ones are being built. But the Iron Horse still is useful; its bones make top-grade scrap for steel furnaces.

Locomotive Graveyard

In Conway, a railroad town on the banks of the Ohio 20 miles from Pittsburgh, the Pennsylvania Railroad has its own graveyard. In it, 18 locomotives are chopped up every month. The Penny retired a total of 565 steam engines last year, many being sold outright to scrap yards, as against only 244 in 1947 and hardly any in 1946.

At Modena, Pa., on the banks of Brandywine Creek, a 100-acre graveyard is operated by Luria Brothers, one of the biggest commercial scrap dealers. Two hundred and fifty steam engines were scrapped there in 1948.

To build an Iron Horse from blueprints takes more than 80,000 man-hours. It can be broken up in about eight hours.

Superstructures are cut away with acetylene torches. Then the boll-ers are stripped of sheet iron and asbestos and fed into 105-ton alligator shears, and the underframe is cut loose. Chopped into fragments, what's left of the Iron Horse is loaded by magnet to be hauled away to steel mills.

GO ONE BETTER

The locomotive graveyards go the slaughterhouse one better. They use even the whistles; along with other trimmings, like the bells, gauges, valves, rods, brake-parts, and other still-useful items, they're saved for use as scrap parts for steam engines that still survive.

Even some of the bones that go to the mills as scrap eventually find their way back to the high iron as tangible ghosts of Casey Jones. They're turned into steel plates, rods and castings used in making—among other things—the diesel engines that are sending the Iron Horse to the graveyard.

Rules Kippers No Food For Infants

MARGATE, ENGLAND—(AP)—County Judge A. F. Clements ruled here that fried kippers and gorgonzola cheese are no proper breakfast for a two-year-old baby.

The judicial finding grew out of a suit of a hotel proprietor who tried to collect from a man who moved before staying an agreed time.

He moved, said the man, because there was nothing but cheese and kippers for the baby, and the court said he was jolly well right.

Ounce of Prevention...

COWBOYS of just a few years ago would have been puzzled by the above illustration. But livestock producers today see it as a picture of a routine job . . . vaccination of a calf to help keep him healthy.

Livestock producers and meat packers have a common goal: to supply America with all the wholesome, nutritious meat this nation of ours needs. And so at every step of the way—from range, farm and feed lot to the tables of consumers—precautions are taken to produce meat of the best possible quality . . . meat that will receive the familiar round purple stamp "U. S. Inspected & Passed." This purple circle, found on every important cut supplied by federally inspected packers, is the housewife's guarantee of good, wholesome meat.

Growing animals are subject to various ailments. Meat, milk, wool and other valuable by-products . . . enough to supply a good-sized nation . . . are lost on farms and ranches each year. Add to this the lost grain and grass fed to animals which never live to maturity, or fed to unthrifty livestock that gain slowly. Total dollar losses run into billions.

Much has been done toward reducing these losses. New drugs and chemicals, such as the sulfas, penicillin and phenothiazine, are conquering livestock ailments, pests and parasites. But some of these causes of reduced production and profit are stubborn. To lick them will take increased knowledge, cooperation among neighbors and a constant watch for danger signs. But the increased earnings which can result from these efforts make them more than worth while. Production of healthy livestock is the only way to keep the markets for the meat you produce supplied and expanding. In solving your problems your local, state and federal veterinarians are good men to turn to for help.

Film Famed Easter Pageant In America

This year, enjoyment of the 22-year-old annual Wichita Mountain Easter Pageant will not be confined, as in the past, to those who can make the pilgrimage to Lawton, Okla., scene of the spectacle. This noted Passion Play, with its cast of 3,000 non-sectarian citizens of Lawton and surrounding communities, has been made into a $2,500,000 motion picture, entitled "The Lawton Story." Its principal actors are "just folks"—their names unknown to Hollywood. For instance, the Christus is played by ex-GI Millard Coody, of Lawton. He earns his living as a bank clerk. Another "star" is six-year-old Ginger Prince, of Atlanta, Ga. The pageant was filmed in the Holy City, 22 miles from Lawton. Said to be the only permanent replica of ancient Jerusalem ever built, the Holy City was constructed in 1933 and paid for by federal grants totaling $150,000.

Is Neodymium In Your Future, May Have To Spell It

WASHINGTON—(P)—There may by some neodymium in your future—or even some didymium or lanthanum.

These are three of a group of 14 metals—called "rare earths"—which occur in nature in association with various minerals. Hitherto little has been known about them. They are difficult to extract from ores containing them, and their atomic structure makes it difficult to separate one from another.

But Atomic Energy Commission scientists, employing delicate chemical separation methods developed for A-bomb work, have now succeeded in producing "limited amounts of rare earths of a purity and quantity previously unattained." They believe these metals may have a bright commercial future "as alloy metals in the manufacture of high-temperature structural materials and other specialized products."

We've been using one of the most common of the rare earths in everyday life for some time. This is cerium. It is used to make a "mischievous"—from which sparkling flints of cigarette lighters, miners' lamps and welding torches are made. Pure cerium also is used for certain types of radio tubes and non-iron alloys.

But the scientists hope that other metals in the rare earth series may find practical use as soon as sufficient quantities are produced. Your kids may have to learn to um, samarium, gadolinium, ytterbium and yttrium.

You kids may have to learn to spell them!

Irishman Says U. S. Schools Too Large

BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND—(P)—American schools are too big and aren't tough enough, according to an Irish teacher.

Joseph King Carson, secretary of the Ulster Teachers Union, said discipline in American schools was "certainly a lot less rigorous" than it is in Ireland.

After visiting Washington and New York as a member of the executives of the World Organization of the Teaching Profession, Carson said that the U. S. schools with as many as 2,000 pupils failed to give children the personal guidance they need. He said schools of up to 500 pupils are big enough.

Try Ice Cream 'Easter Eggs'

Youngsters will enjoy ice cream basket for an Easter holiday party.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

During these Easter school holidays, give a little party for the youngsters. Colorful ice cream "Easter eggs" will be an edible sensation when served in a basket.

It's all a bit of effortless magic. From the corner store comes the ice cream in bulk (a happy way, of course), supplying those good dairy proteins, vitamins and minerals to your family's diet; out of a tin comes the moist coconut; and for the sauce, simply allow a box of frozen sweet ripe strawberries to defrost. Here's the way to put it all together:

Ice Cream Basket (8-8 servings)

One pint each strawberry, chocolate, vanilla and pistachio ice cream (bulk), 1/2 pound small colored candy Easter eggs, 1 tin shredded coconut, 1 package frozen strawberries until needed in freezing unit of refrigerator with the control set at freezing. You can make the "eggs" in advance, or at serving time. Shape them from hard ice cream with a small ice cream scoop, a deep tablespoon or a round soup spoon.

Unless served at once, place them in freezing tray, lined with wax paper and set control at freezing. Allow strawberries to defrost.

To serve: Line a typical woven Easter basket (8 inches in diameter) with cellophane, or with a deep glass pie plate or shallow baking dish. Fill the basket with the ice cream and garnish with colored candy eggs. Put coconut in individual dishes to form "nests" for the ice cream "eggs"; serve strawberries for toppings.

For extra Easter atmosphere, serve the ice cream eggs with butter cookies made from your favorite recipe and cut out with a small bunny cutter. The bunnies may be decorated with pastel-colored frosting or with white frosting and pink-colored frosting for the ears.

For the eyes, use a small piece of raisin or cherry.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and son, Don, of Andrews were recent guests of Gran Faircloth.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Coleman of Denver City recently visited the R. E. Coleman family here.

A tentative date of April 22 has been set for the Crane High School senior play. The cast includes: Jane Clark, Billy Dan Lively, Roger Cloud, Bill Henderson, Bill Marlowe, Mary Joyce Evans, Iowin Gilstrap, Jackie Mathis, Mary Lou Reynolds, Charlotte Schmittler, Gene Murray and Coylene Pope. Miss Louise Haley is director.

Social Situations

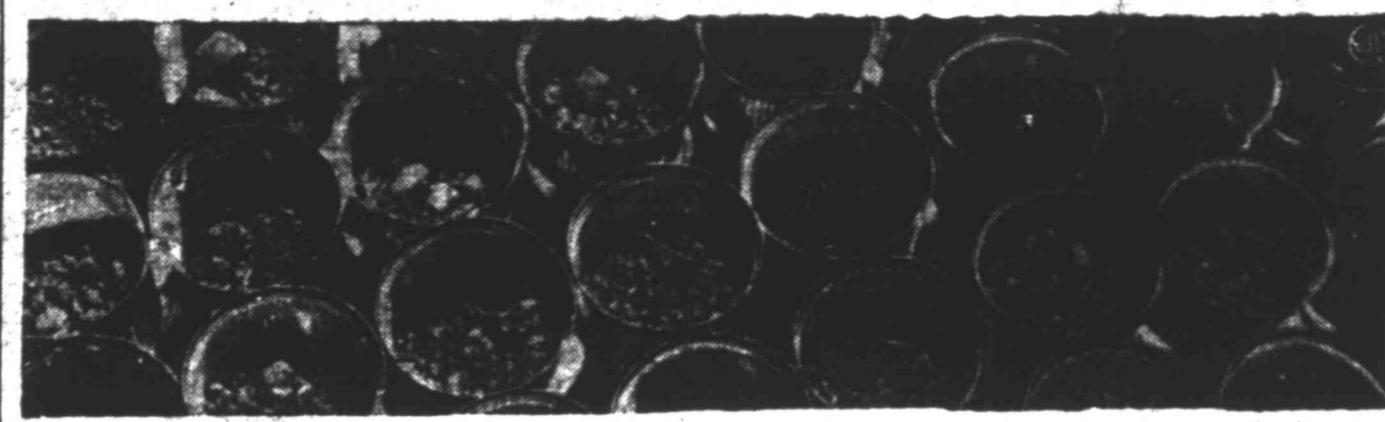

SITUATION: You are going to the hospital to visit an acquaintance and you are able to take along flowers from your garden.

WRONG WAY: Feel that since you are not a close friend of the person, taking flowers from your own garden would seem too informal a gesture.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that when you are visiting the sick, such friendly informality as taking flowers from your garden shows real thoughtfulness and feeling.

Heat sour cream with caraway seed and a dash of salt. Then serve over boiled new potatoes and sprinkle with finely chopped chives or the top of green onions.

Science Digs In Baskets Of Dirt For Wonder Drugs

THE WORLD'S EARTH, in endless samples like those arrayed above, turned up the mold from which Dr. Benjamin M. Dugger developed aureomycin, newest of the "wonder drugs." But once a new drug has proven itself in the test tube, it is tried on animals to see its effect on living bodies, like mice.

Only if it passes this test is it tried on human beings.

PEARL RIVER, N. Y.—(NEA)—

Out of the soil in your lawn or garden, your field or pasture, might come the long-sought cure for small pox, for measles, for the ridiculous but miserable and expensive complaints of rickets and rickettsia.

These are caused by that type of germs known as viruses. They do not seem to respond to the "wonder drugs," penicillin, streptomycin or aureomycin, which do so much with the two other types of infectious disease spread by bacteria and rickettsia.

But mold from the soil produced the drugs that brought under control a score of other germs. Many research laboratories are combing the country for soil that may contain a mold that will prove the mortal enemy of the virus diseases.

The mycologists (fungus researchers) at Lederle Laboratories in Pearl River, directed by Dr. Benjamin M. Dugger, have studied available soil reports from all over this country and to some extent from abroad. Dugger knows that certain types of mold appear in certain types of soil. Earth is gathered from far and wide, that might contain molds that will produce a new wonder drug.

The mycologists submit samples to the scrutiny of the highly trained eyes and brain of Dr. Dugger. Working under the guidance of these specialists—"mold-hunters," as many lesser, but still important individuals who carry out the end-less tests preceding discovery.

Long years of laboratory experience and a deep understanding of microbiology are the basic foundation for the type of ability possessed by Dr. Dugger. His discerning eye for the unusual in the behavior of molds was the essential ingredient in discovering aureomycin.

The methods by which this soil is studied illustrate the way in which, in the hands of skilled scientists, such useful drugs are developed.

From each sample of earth, Dr. Dugger makes a culture of the spores it contains. Meanwhile he grows the germs against which he hopes the mold will prove effective.

On a plate he places individual spores of the mold he is testing. After the mold has a head start in growth, he spreads the germ culture on the plate. If areas develop around the mold spores in which the germ culture fails to grow, he makes further tests until he has a mold that is "antagonistic" to a given germ or a series of germs.

When such experiments indicated that he was on the trail of a valuable new drug, the research-production team at Lederle made aureomycin in larger quantity. It was given to animals with various types of infections to see if the drug had the same effect in a living body as it had against the germs in the test tube. It was also given to healthy animals that later were exposed to a given infection to see whether the drug would prevent as well as cure.

This stage already has been reached by some of the new drugs that Dr. Dugger has made from other earth molds since discovering aureomycin. The public will hear little about these drugs until they pass all tests and prove useful in clinical work on human beings.

Record Number Of New Cars Expected

DETROIT—(P)—In a little more than three months the auto industry has built 1,600,000 vehicles.

Production heads are talking about a six months total of 3,300,000.

The year 1949 may hold some sales uncertainties, but production facilities are being geared for record breaking volume. Most industry sources expect this year's total output to top the 1929 record of 8,585,450 vehicles.

The only thing that could prevent a new record mark this year, they say, would be a serious labor strike in the plants of one of the "big three" producers. The industry is not discounting the possibility of labor trouble this year.

The Big Three

The "big three" of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler are leading in the production program as usual.

Last week they accounted for 82.6% of the 97,301 passenger cars produced in the United States.

There appears little doubt anywhere in industry circles that production this year will overtake demand in all price fields. That should mean more downward price revisions ahead at attracting more new car buyers.

Easier availability of new cars also should force a lot of older age vehicles into the scrap heap.

The Automobile Manufacturers Association estimates that nearly 13,000,000 of the cars now in use in the United States are 10 years of age or over.

Before the war the number in that age bracket was less than 8,000,000.

ERP Makes Great Strides In First-Year Operations

By DANIEL DE LUCE

PAGE 10-A—(AP)—Now on the inside of the European Recovery Program claim it now has a 40 to 60 per cent chance of long-range success.

A year ago, they saw only a 20 per cent chance. But they say their feeling of cautious optimism is growing.

The European Recovery Program—ERP—already has cost the United States five billion dollars since it was started April 3, 1948.

The total cost may reach 17 billion dollars before the program is completed in mid-1952.

The payoff hoped for is nothing less than this: the peaceful evolution of diverse nations toward self-supporting European unity, which will foster economic well-being and virile democracy for all of Europe.

The payoff might, with the impetus of the Atlantic Treaty, be a kind of United States of Western Europe.

Long-Range Gamble

Only a gypsy fortune-teller could pretend to know now whether Western Europe ultimately will reach this objective. The ERP, in aiming in this direction, is strictly a gamble.

But in short-range activities, the ERP is less uncertain. Judged on factual results month by month during its brief life, the ERP is accomplishing a good many of the urgent tasks which its backers claimed it would accomplish.

The ERP involves many operations, but most of all, it is investment banking. It furnishes investments to stimulate and expand European trade and industry through normal commercial channels.

The dollars come out of the U.S. Treasury. At least 90 per cent of them are gifts to ERP countries, with certain strings attached. The remainder are loans, requiring full repayment with 2 1/2 per cent interest.

The ERP actually is controlled by something called the ECA, which double-checks the recovery programs submitted from something else called the OEEC.

The Economic Cooperation Administration—ECA—is an American governmental agency, headed by Paul G. Hoffman in Washington and W. Averell Harriman in Europe.

The Organization for European Economic Recovery—OEEC—is composed of representatives from 19 European states or areas who by joint planning, coordination and cooperation have agreed at times to act like a ministry of economics for Western Europe.

The immediate political purpose of the ERP, when it started in April last year, was to check communism. This has been done.

In no ERP country is there the likelihood now that Communists will gain governmental control by anything short of invasion by the Soviet Army.

The immediate economic purpose of the ERP was to sustain the postwar recovery drive of Western Europe. By the end of 1948, with due credit to the ERP, Western Europe's industrial production had risen 14 per cent above 1947. Another substantial production boost is in sight for 1949.

At the moment, it's the theory of the Air Force that present jet fighters aren't able to take off from the ground, climb to the 40,000 feet at which the B-36 can fly, and shoot it down. That's a disputed point with the Air Force, and the Navy's air experts claim that it's pure baloney. But if the XF-85 proves to have a practical operation, the critics of the B-36 won't have an argument.

The plane can be refueled, re-armed and repaired, in a minor way, by the mother plane after each flight. This means that it can make any number of missions during the one mission of the bomber.

Electric Flood Forecaster Weather Bureau's "Brain"

Ray K. Linsley, U. S. Weather Bureau official, tries out the analog he dreamt up as an auto-matic flood forecaster. Its "brain" consists of two Brown Electronic potentiometers.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The U. S. Weather Bureau has developed a revolutionary, electronic flood forecaster.

It can predict exactly just how high a river will be at any one point and chart the progress of a flood crest. The machine is called an "analog" and works, as its "brain," two highly sensitive instruments called potentiometers.

The workings of the gadget are extremely complicated but it saves endless hours of manual labor and figuring which are normally involved in flood forecasting. And the answer is always absolutely accurate.

Potentiometers.

The actual bed of the river-showing various curves and widths—is simulated in the machine by adjusting various condensers and resistors. Then a current of electricity which is proportionate in strength to the size of the crest of water, which is measured far upstream, is put into the potentiometers.

The result is a graph which shows just how high that crest will be as it progresses down the river and just when it will pass certain points.

The analog grew out of an idea that came to Ray K. Linsley, assistant chief of hydrology. It was perfected with the aid of M. S. Kohler and L. W. Fosket, two other Weather Bureau officials.

Based on Principle

It is based on the principle that a condenser will store electric current in proportion to the flow of electricity through it. In the same way, a river channel will store water in proportion to the rate with which water flows through that channel. The same mathematical equation governs both phenomena.

At present the Weather Bureau has only a pilot model of the analog, but before the end of the year

Aggie Muster Will Be Held April 21 Throughout World

COLLEGE STATION—More than 30,000 students and former students of Texas A&M College will gather at 349 meeting places in the United States and at many points throughout the world on the evening of April 21 for the 4th annual muster ceremonies. The muster is held to pay homage to the heroes of the fight for Texas independence and to all A&M men who have died.

The student body is in charge of the program at A&M which will be broadcast over the Texas Quality Network. The clubs and many special group gatherings of former cadets will have their own programs in conjunction with the student ceremonies. Marvin G. Rice, veteran student from San Antonio, is chairman of arrangements.

A solemn tradition of A&M men, the muster was born in 1903 on the college campus. It has been held annually since that first April 21 muster and has become a sacred activity of former student groups.

Momentous Corridor
One of the most momentous musters was the one held on embattled Corridor under the long shore guns of the invading Japanese army in 1942. Many A&M men were trapped on the tiny island fortress with the U.S. forces and were fighting a last ditch stand against the Philippine Islands attackers. Among them was Maj. Gen. George C. Moore, class of 1908, and a former commandant of the corps of cadets.

Mustering ceremonies will be held in 40 states in the U.S., the Panama Canal Zone, Costa Rica, Puerto Rico, Caracas and Maracaibo, Venezuela and Mexico City. Texas A&M will meet in Korea, Tokyo, Saudi Arabia and occupied Germany.

Midland Aggie exes annually hold a muster. And in the past, regional musters were conducted here.

Here's How New Farm Aid Plan Would Work

OLD: The farmer sells his eggs at the present support price of 35 cents a dozen. The government spent $38,000,000 in last three months buying up surplus to maintain this price.

NEW: Government would not buy up surplus, but if farm price of eggs dropped to 20 cents a dozen, Uncle Sam would pay farmer the 15 cents difference in cash.

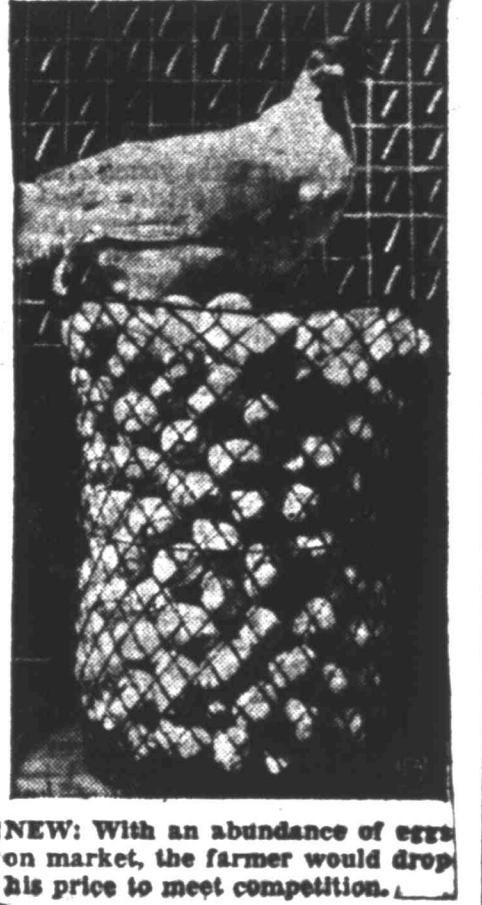

OLD: Price support keeps prices up. Housewife goes right on paying 60 cents a dozen for her eggs, because government keeps price high artificially.

NEW: With farm price down to its natural level, former 60-cent eggs could retail at 45 cents a dozen. Theory is consumer benefits from law of supply and demand.

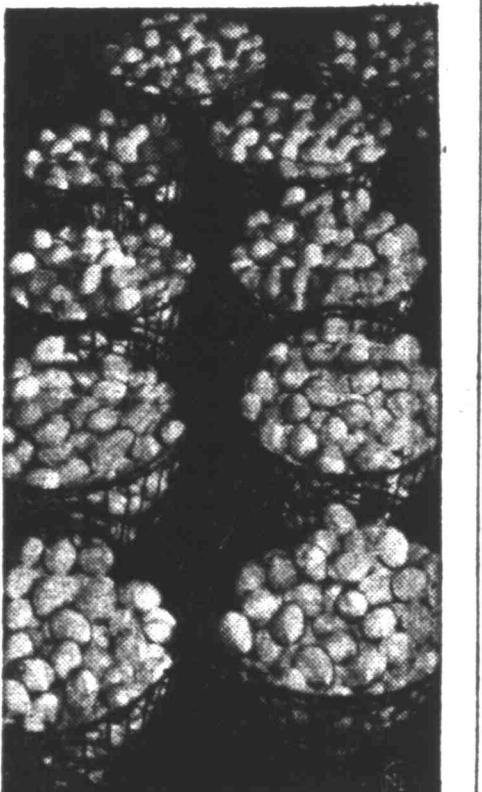

Graphically shown are highlights of the sweeping new farm program sponsored by Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan, contrasted with present price support program. It would permit prices of eggs, milk, vegetables and other basic perishables to drop as far as the law of supply and demand compels. When prices paid to farmers fall below what government income formulas say they should receive, farmers will be paid the difference in cash. The taxpayers will supply the cash. Under present law, some $2,000,000,000 has been pledged this year in loans to support prices.

OLD: Even though hens produce a surplus, government buying maintains the 35-cent support price.

NEW: With an abundance of eggs on market, the farmer would drop his price to meet competition.

OLD: With surplus, government buys it up, reducing number of eggs available to housewife.

NEW: With same conditions, farm prices drop, but farmer is guaranteed same income.

Replacements Make Berlin Airlift Go

WEAR OUT IT IS REPLACED. So the planes do not wear out as your automobile wears out.

Air Force officials say not a single airlift plane has been scrapped—except those which have crashed during the grueling months of supplying Berlin with food and fuel.

An airlift plane flies through the corridor to Berlin. Air force maintenance crews work on a 24-hour-a-day, seven-days-a-week schedule. During January they made four engine changes a day on airlift planes. It takes nearly two days to install a new engine. Each weighs roughly 2,400 pounds.

The average life of an engine is 192 trips to Berlin. The steady grind of three-a-day flights to Berlin quickly wears out engines—and many other parts. But as part went swimming in the Balmorhea lake recently.

Guests in the Ogden Whitley home recently were Mr. and Mrs. George Bresee and son Tim of Kermit.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Smith toured the Davis Mountains and
