Wildcat Tests Signs Of Oil Near Pegasus

Slight shows of petroleum have been encountered at Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 V. P. Powell, North-Central Upton County wildcat, in a lower Permian formation above the present bottom of 7,775 feet in lime.

Operator was preparing to run a drillstem test to check those indications, at last report.

This venture is located two miles south east of Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A TXL, discovery for flowing production from the Ellenburger. It opens the Pegasus field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 44, block 40, TP survey, T-4-S. It was started to dig to at least 10,500 feet to explore into the Pennsylvanian. It likely will continue to that objective, regardless of what may be developed in higher horizons.

Magnolia No. 1-A TXL showed possibilities of production in the lower Permian, in a Pennsylvanian formation, and also some indications in the Devonian beneath it reached the Ellenburger and found it oil bearing.

Crockett Ellenburger Has Slight Gas Show

Faint gas signs resulted from a drillstem test in the Southeast Crockett County Ellenburger at The Texas Company No. 2 Pierce, deep wildcat, 21 miles south and slightly east of Ozona and 1,980 feet from north, 660 feet from east lines of section 10, block 000, GC&SF survey.

The tool was open 15 minutes. A slight blow of air held at the top for part of the period. The packer slipped, and drillog was pulled, recovering 400 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud.

The exploration was drilling ahead beyond 11,822 feet in dolomite and lime.

Oil, Gas Develop In Lea Pennsylvanian

Oil and gas shows developed on a drillstem test in Pennsylvanian lime at Amerasia Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Caudie-Federal, one mile south outcrop to the same company's No. 1-BTA State, discovery 12 miles northeast of the Caprock field in Northeast Lea County, N. M.

The examination was for four hours at 8,900-9,030 feet, using 5/8-inch by one-inch chokes. Gas was reported at the surface in 20 minutes at the rate of 82,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 1,800 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, estimated at 50 per cent oil, and two and one-half gallons of free oil. Gravity of the petroleum was 42.7 degrees.

The prospector has drilled ahead to 9,065 feet and was running another drillstem test on last report. It is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 10-12-32e.

This is the same zone of the Pennsylvanian from which the No. 1-BTA State flowed oil and gas on a drillstem test. It has drilled ahead to open flowing production in a deep lime horizon thought by operator representatives to be Ellenburger. Some other geologists are under the opinion the deep lime is Devonian.

Review On Jameson Slated For WTGS

A paper on the geology of the Jameson field in Northwest Coke County will be presented at a meeting of the West Texas Geological Society Thursday night.

W. H. (Harry) Conding, district geologist for Sun Oil Company for the Permian Basin will give the paper. Sun discovered the Jameson field, which is considered one of the outstanding reef-type oil pools in this territory.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. Thursday night in the district courtroom of the Midland courthouse. W. T. (Bill) Schneider, WTGS president, will preside and Alan B. Leeper will be in charge of the program.

Conking first gave his paper on the Jameson field at a regional meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists held in Dallas several months ago. It has since been supplemented with additional and new material to give an up to date report on the field.

Canyon Flows Oil In Sharon Ridge Area

Pearson-Seibert Oil Company of Texas, No. 1-A Bishop, outcrop to the discovery for flowing production from the Canyon lime to open the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field in Southwest Scurry County has shown on preliminary tests that it will be finished as a good producer.

This venture, located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 162, block 97, H&TC survey, topped the Canyon reef lime at 8,624 feet, on an elevation of 2,309 feet.

It drilled ahead from that point 664.684 feet. A string of 5 1/2-inch casing was cemented at 8,624 feet. After drilling the plug operator tested the open hole natural on various sized chokes, ranging from 3/16th inch to 1 1/2 inch.

Flows ranging from 25 barrels to 35 barrels per hour—depending on (Continued on Page 9)

Allies Accuse Russians Of New Berlin Blockade

BERLIN—(AP)—Allied officials Thursday accused the Russians of imposing a new type of Berlin blockade by "stubbornly refusing" to conciliate 12,000 anti-Communist railway strikers.

Once again airlift planes, roaring in on an 8,000-ton daily schedule, are Western Berlin's main source of supply. Millions of dollars of railway cargo has piled up at the Soviet zonal line and in Berlin's strikebound rail yards.

The Western Allied Command of Berlin met in extraordinary session to map new action in the rail crisis. Unofficial reports were that the three Western commandants might directly order the anti-Communist strikers to handle incoming trains. The strikers have not handled the cargoes because the railways technically are under Russian control. The strikers want, besides payment in west marks—worth four times the east mark—assurance all strikers will be taken back on their jobs and recognition of their independent union.

The Kommandatura already has sent Communist - controlled East sector police out of the West sector rail yards, replacing them with Allied-trained police. The ouster came after rioting by demonstrators in which two persons died.

Since this action Tuesday, four days after the strike began, only a half dozen West German supply trains have reached Berlin. Hundreds of loaded freight cars still are untouched in the West Berlin yards. Some 38 West German trains are reported blocked in the Soviet zone and perishable foods abroad are said rotting.

The British Military Government has charged the Russians with bad faith in maintaining an economic stranglehold on this city.

The Soviet-administered railway system refuses to deal directly with the strikers. Its compromise offer of 30 per cent wages in west marks instead of the demanded 100 per cent for the West Berlin employees has been rejected by the Allied-sponsored union.

Bond Purchase Here Near $50,000 Mark

Purchases of U. S. Savings Bonds by Midland County residents in the current Opportunity Drive continued to climb Thursday when Chairman John P. Butler announced sales figures totaling $49,173.75. The Midland County goal is $50,000.

Butler said the sales total does not include purchases of bonds on payroll deduction plans.

The drive opened May 15 and will continue through June 30.

Shanghai Defense Collapses

By FRED HAMPSON SHANGHAI—(P)—Nationalist troops Thursday ran up a white flag atop the Shanghai Post Office, and it appeared the dogged defense of the Lower Soochow Creek was collapsing.

The Communists crossed the Szechwan Bridge and began rounding up Nationalist prisoners. The Garden Bridge was evacuated by the Nationalists but still was under fire from the nearby Broadway Mansion, 17-floor apartment where a number of Americans are trapped. The Communists had not tried to cross the creek there.

It seemed to be only a matter of hours before this tough knot of resistance, which has delayed Communist occupation of North Shanghai, would be wiped out.

The whole city breathed a sigh of relief for the thousands of Chinese who were trying to get the Nationalists there to quit fighting.

At 5 p.m. resistance from the Embankment Building's lower floor was continuing but tenacious, including some 500 foreigners, were trying to get the Nationalists there to quit fighting.

State Veteran Bonus Bill Bounces Back To House Calendar

AUSTIN—(P)—A 400-million-dollar veteran bonus bill was bounced out of committee and onto the House calendar Wednesday night with a recommendation for its approval.

The surprise action was taken by the Revenue and Taxation Committee. Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City had his bill transferred to that group after it had been buried in a Constitutional Amendments subcommittee for weeks.

Cigarette and cigar smokers and beer, liquor and wine drinkers would finance the bonuses.

The committee approved an amendment by Rep. Jim Heflin of Houston to pay off bonds for the bonuses by adding 2 cents in taxes on each package of cigarettes, one cent per can or bottle of beer, 64 cents per gallon of liquor, and 25 cents per gallon of wine.

Cigars—presently untaxed—would carry a levy of 10 per cent of their retail value.

Annual revenue was estimated at more than 30 million dollars.

Horany's bill would pay $250 to Texas veterans of World Wars I and II who served in this country, and another $250 to those who were overseas at least three months.

Horany's proposed constitutional amendment would have to be approved by two-thirds of the House and Senate members and by a majority of Texas voters.

Accused Physician's Wife Denies Visits To Seducer's Desk

CEDAR RAPIDS—(P)—Blonde Sydney Rutledge, 23, firmly denied Thursday she was friendly with Byron C. Hatman after the date she claims he seduced her forcibly.

Mrs. Rutledge was one of three rebuttal witnesses who testified briefly as the defense abruptly rested its case in the trial of her husband, Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., 28, on a charge of slaying Hatman.

Earlier a boyhood acquaintance of Hatman testified the St. Louis area physician was a peaceful citizen who was "bad."

Mrs. Rutledge's testimony was in reply to that of seven co-workers of Hatman that the tall, attractive wife of the defendant went to Hatman's drawing board "several times" after last July 31, when she claims he was intimate with her against her will.

Under questioning by Defense Attorney R. S. Milner, Mrs. Rutledge firmly denied she stopped to talk to Hatman at work any time after July 31.

Last week she had testified she avoided Hatman after the night she contends he pled her with liquor following a sailing party and took advantage of her while she was too ill to resist.

The defense claims Hatman continued to pursue the 28-year-old St. Louis pediatrician's wife after the intimacy and that Rutledge's efforts "to pay him off and get him out of their lives" culminated in Hatman's accidental death as the two men fought in a Cedar Rapids hotel room last December 14.

"All West Texas Night" is the designation of the concluding performance, Sunday, June 5. All previous attendance records likely will be shattered for the final show.

New Storms Lash North, West Texas

Torrential overnight rains sent the flooding Trinity River into Fort Worth again Thursday as storms hit North and West Texas.

The Clear Fork of the Trinity, on an eight-foot rise, poured over its banks and surged through levees at Fort Worth broken by the extensive flood of May 17.

A 46-car freight train plunged into a washout in Johnson County and at Dallas a woman was swept to her death by a rampaging creek.

Windstorms lashed Denton and Denton County and another storm unroofed homes at Dawson, 20 miles southwest of Corsicana.

A two-inch overnight rain swelled the Trinity. Three arterial Fort Worth streets were covered and the waters lapped ominously up toward the business and sparsely populated residential district which was inundated by last week's flood. It was hoped, however the river would level off by noon.

The May 17 disaster drowned 10 persons, drove 13,200 from their homes and wrought damage estimated at from $6,000,000 to $26,000,000.

Thursday, residents of one low-lying area, Linwood, were warned by police loudspeaker cars to be ready to flee. No further interruption to water service was expected from the current rise.

Johnson County Hit Water temporarily surrounded at least 50 homes in the Eastern section of Cleburne, Johnson County, as a flash flood swept down East Texas creek and the creek swelled with a four-inch rain Thursday. National Guardsmen worked through the pre-dawn hours, evacuating families with trucks and boats. Later, the floodwaters receded and most of the families returned to their homes.

Seven miles east of Cleburne, near Keene in Johnson County, a Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe freight train ran into a washout at 3:45 a. m. Thursday. Turkey Creek, swollen by torrential rains during the night, had washed over the creek and the train plunged into the water. The (Continued on Page 9)

HOUSTON—(P)—Secretary of Interior Julius Krug says he believes government tideland suits against Texas and Louisiana will be filed "very promptly."

Krug arrived here Wednesday night to speak Thursday night before a "Save the Soil and Save Texas" dinner.

He got a lot of questions about the tidelands, which, if the federal government's claims are established, will come under the 41-year-old secretary's department.

Leases on tidelands granted oil companies by the states would not be valid under federal control, Krug said, but the companies would not lose their investments.

"There would have to be some kind of adjudication," the secretary explained.

The states, he added, will have no "say" in control of the lands but will share in production on a royalty basis.

This would be set by Congress but the cabinet officer mentioned 3 1/2 per cent of the federal government's royalty.

Midland Rodeo To Honor Area Cities

"Odessa and West-Northwest Permian Basin Night" will be observed June 2, and the following night will be "Big Spring and East Permian Basin Night."

June 4 will be "South Permian Basin Night," with delegations from San Angelo, Garden City, Sterling City, Big Lake, Rankin, McCombs, Crane and Fort Stockton to be honored.

"All West Texas Night" is the designation of the concluding performance, Sunday, June 5. All previous attendance records likely will be shattered for the final show.

Midland and vicinity were hit by an intense electrical and thunder storm about 8 p.m. Wednesday and 4.5 inch of rain fell in town, according to the gauge at the city barn.

French Mayor Cuts Red Tape To Allow Rita To Wed Prince

CANNES, FRANCE.—(AP)—The wedding of Movie Star Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan will go off on schedule Friday, thanks to Communist Mayor Paul Derignon's disregard for official red tape. A delay was feared because the prince didn't want to go through with formalities normally required for French marriages. He frowned on having a notice of intention to marry posted for 10 days on the City Hall door of the village of Vallauris. He also didn't want to publish a notice of intention abroad. Mayor Derignon decided he would do without official word that those formalities had been waived. The mayor explained that publication of the banns is intended to inform anyone who might wish to object to the marriage. But with 100 reporters, photographers, radio and television men on the scene, the mayor knows most people have heard about the marriage. It's all been a headache to the mayor and his little staff. His office has been besieged by reporters and photographers seeking seats or standing room at the wedding.

Business Census Is Underway In 10 Area Counties

Ben H. Davidson, supervisor for the Census of Business in the Midland area, has returned from Houston, where he attended a training school conducted by representatives of the Census Bureau. The district office is located in the Ector County Courthouse in Odessa. The district includes the following counties: Midland, Crane, Crockett, Ector, Glasscock, Loving, Reagan, Upton, Ward and Winkler. Approximately six enumerators are engaged in the census work in the area. The Census of Business is a nationwide undertaking in which facts are being collected concerning approximately 3,000,000 retail, wholesale and service trade establishments. The figures collected will provide a basis for measuring the contribution made by the distribution and service trades in supplying goods, employment and wages. Almost a decade of trade activity, expanded to boom-size by the war years, has passed since national business figures last were compiled in 1940, covering the year 1939.

Mothers Build Big Business On Idea

Personalizing records for children makes a thriving business for three Missouri housewives. At the script conference above, two of the businesswomen-mothers, Judith Payne (standing) and Mary Price listen to critical comments of their children before a finished record of the story is cut.

By NEA Service
FERGUSON, MO.—How women can turn their brain waves into a successful business without budding from home is a puzzle which three enterprising young housewives in this St. Louis suburb have solved. Judith Payne, Mary Price and Anne Bassage brain-waved the business of personalizing phonograph records for children in the few months since orders were first taken. Their business has mushroomed, showing a profit which many a businessman would envy. The custom-made stories, holiday, birthday and get-well messages, news of special events and so on are recorded in the basement of the Price home. The three entrepreneurs enlisted the help of a professional engineer to learn the mechanics of cutting records. The engineer also supervised the installation of studio machinery, simplified for novices to handle. Small fry who receive the records from doting relatives and friends are surprised and mystified to hear their very own story spinning off the unbreakable records. Personal data concerning age, nickname, pet likes and dislikes and recent accomplishments is supplied by a detailed questionnaire usually filled out by a proud parent or well-wisher. This data is woven into a basic script. Sometimes a small subject is made the hero of an adventure story. Other times, he hears all about his birthday party. The little daughter of a noted diplomat listened with rapt attention while the mysterious voice explained why her father had to travel so much. Scripts are written after the three businesswomen-mothers have tucked their own brood in for the night. Before a script is recorded, however, these in-the-know youngsters listen, criticize the "corn" and offer candid suggestions for improvements. "Children are quick to detect and resent any efforts to 'talk down' to them," the three women say. "We never use baby talk nor do we try to shame a child into correcting a bad habit." For livelier entertainment, sound effects are worked into stories. Very young children seem to enjoy home-made imitations of fire engine sirens, whistles and animal calls the most. But older children prefer authentic sounds. So the corporation packs recording equipment out to such field assignments as the zoo to capture the baby camel's blast, the lion's roar, the seal's wail or the chirp of a sable antelope.

Recording authentic sound effects for use with stories involves a field trip to St. Louis Zoo. Anne Bassage, third member of the recording firm, coaxed "48er," a four-month-old camel, to bleat into microphone while Theodore Polster, a professional cameraman, manipulates the recording instruments for this tricky assignment.

American Negro Declines Post In State Department

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A grandson of a negro slave returned to his work Thursday as "Peacemaker of Palestine" after turning down a chance to become an assistant secretary of state. Honors are nothing new to Dr. Ralph H. Bunche, but he helped write another chapter in history when he called on President Truman Wednesday. There, in the White House, the 44-year-old negro heard the chief executive praise his work and offer him a top-ranking post in government. It was a "very great honor," he assured Truman, but he could not see his way clear to accept it. To reporters, afterwards, Bunche assigned two reasons: His desire to continue his work with the United Nations, and his inability to give his children a college education while working in Washington for the $10,000 salary paid to assistant secretaries of state. This salary is subject to federal income taxes, whereas he now draws $14,000 tax-free as director of the United Nations' Trusteeship Division.

The shooting occurred in a Gainesville cafe.

Beer Doesn't Mix With Safecracking

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Mixing business with pleasure is bad—even for safecrackers. Three men who ate sandwiches and drank beer while trying to crack a safe at the Southern Venetian Blind Company were surprised by police Wednesday night. One got away, but two were captured.

GOTHAM'S MAYOR WILL NOT SEEK REELECTION
NEW YORK.—(AP)—A free-for-all scramble for the job of running the world's biggest city was touched off Thursday by Mayor William O'Dwyer's announcement he will not seek reelection. O'Dwyer has been expected to seek a second term next November, and his surprise withdrawal threw the race for the Democratic nomination wide open.

Truman Urges Entertainment For U.S. Armed Forces

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Truman said Wednesday night Americans should neglect the moral welfare of the Armed Forces since the war, because it "never occurred to them that now we are fighting for the peace." He urged communities to provide off-duty entertainment for the 1,400,000 young people now in the service, whom he described as the nation's "backlog" in its battle for "the welfare of the whole world." The President spoke extemporaneously before a conference he called to study the problem of "Community Responsibility to Our Peacetime Servicemen and Women." He said the peacetime military forces should receive the same treatment offered to service personnel during the war, and added: "You know how this country acts, though, when the emergency is over. They go to something else. When the war ceased—well, it was all over, they had other things to think about. Never occurred to them that now we are fighting for the peace." Some 500 representatives of business, labor, welfare, religious and veterans groups are attending the meeting. They plan a nationwide program of off-duty recreation for servicemen like that carried on by the USO during the war.

Barkley, Mr. V. P., Sought After Man

WASHINGTON.—(NEA)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley is now the most sought after man in town. At the age of 71 he set a new record by being the oldest man ever to be sworn into the job. But you'd never guess he held the age title in view of the records he's been setting since. There are no official figures, but experts agree that in the few months he has been in office Barkley has probably crowned more beauty queens, awarded more medals, launched more drives, been photographed with more movie stars and been guest of honor at more affairs than any previous Vice President in a full term. His unflinching good nature and salty wit have made him the town's favorite guest. Many invitations. He averages between 40 and 50 invitations a day to attend private parties and dinners. And he gets almost that many requests to appear at public functions. He accepts as many of these demands on his time as he is able to, but insists on keeping a few evenings a week free for some quiet reading in his modest Connecticut Avenue apartment. Barkley has added new meaning to the tradition at the Capitol that any member of Congress can walk into the Vice President's office without being announced. It's a hangout for both Republican and Democratic members, as well as being the clearing house for good jokes. Barkley also manages to spend more time presiding over the Senate—his one Constitutional assignment—than any other recent Vice President. And he is considered one of the best parliamentarians who's ever presided over that deliberative body, thanks to his many years as a Senator and a scholarly interest in the subject. Art and Antiques. His office, just behind the main Senate chamber, is furnished with fabulously valuable pieces of art and antiques. His desk is a tremendous affair, which came from the White House and was once used by Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson. Above his head hangs a tremendous cut glass chandelier which was made in France for the White House. Theodore Roosevelt gave it to the Capitol because he said the tinkling caused by drafts in the White House made him nervous. On one wall is a small gilded mirror which launched a Congressional probe when First Lady Dolley Madison brought it back from the subject.

Supreme Court Gets Fort Worth Loyalist Party Purge Appeal

FORT WORTH.—(AP)—The Second Court of Civil Appeals forwarded to the Supreme Court Thursday an appeal by Loyalist Democrats from lower court rulings invalidating the purge of party officers who did not sign Truman-Barkley loyalty pledges. The appeal was filed Wednesday by Ernest May, Loyalist attorney, who said there were 14 points of error which the Supreme Court should review. The controversy grew out of the State Democratic Convention here last September when the certified Tarrant County delegation was ousted and replaced by a rump delegation.

ENGINEERS SIGN CONTRACTS

BORGER.—(AP)—Phillips Petroleum Company and its AFL operating engineers have signed new contracts for all employees except the gasoline office workers group, the union said. Another record he can probably claim is that of receiving more mail than any previous Vice President. Much of his correspondence comes from persons who still think he is the senior Senator from Kentucky. The rest comes from all over the country asking for his advice, help or presence at some party or ceremony. His office staff of seven keeps working full blast handling the mail and the steady stream of visitors trying to get in to see Barkley.

Mexico To Start Offshore Drilling

MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—Five ships are ready in Veracruz to start the first under-water drilling for oil in Mexico. U. S. Oilman Edwin W. Pauley, who together with the American Independent Oil Company and Signal Oil Company, has a contract for development of Mexican oil resources, said the ships were to leave, probably Thursday. They will operate off the coasts of Southern Veracruz State, Campeche and Tabasco. The ships plan to sink test wells ashore in isolated regions as well as handle off-shore drilling. Pauley said his group, organized as the Mexican Company Cima (Contratistas Independientes Mexico-Americanos) plans to spend $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 in preliminary test drilling this year. The budget for next year is $100,000,000, he said.

How Can One Give Child Sense Of Importance To Family?

By NUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

It's when children don't feel "important to the family" that they're likely to get into trouble, says a Milwaukee educator.

How can you make your children feel "important to the family?" Here are some important ways:

Don't let them grow up feeling that they're in the way.

Without realizing the effect their words have on the children, many parents today talk as though the children were a great problem.

"Well, come if we can find a baby sitter." Mama says wearily in Junior's hearing. So Junior knows from the time he can understand words that he's the only thing standing between his parents and fun. If they can get someone—just anyone in many cases—to take him off their hands, they're free to go out and have fun. If they can't they're stuck with him.

He's also likely to hear his mother complain often that "it's impossible to keep the house looking nice because of the children."

And if his mother is an unhappy housewife, a child is almost sure to have heard her talk about "being tied down." It doesn't take a very bright child to figure out just who is "tying her down."

Be patient with your children. Patience is virtue.

A patient, easy-going mother is a rarity these days. The most overworked phrases of today's mamas are "The children get on my nerves until I think I'll scream," and "It's so wonderful to get away from the children once in a while."

Neither of those remarks indicate a patient understanding attitude on the part of the mother, do they? Teach your children to be active, working members of the family group.

Children don't feel "important to the family" if they have everything handed to them on a silver platter. Give them some responsibilities. Make them earn some of the things they want. Get them to lend a hand with family projects. But also let them have a vote when decisions that affect the whole family are being made.

Plan some social life that includes the whole family.

The old-fashioned family picnic, for instance, is a lot better for Junior than giving him some money and telling him to run along to the movie by himself or with another kid. Nothing gives children more of a feeling of family solidarity than the whole family's having fun together.

Doing things "with the children" is much better than doing things "for them."

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP newfeatures

Beach sitting is the newest wrinkle for monitors of the paper and lollipop set. It's the simplest way to make money yet, says one teenager who adds "all you do is keep an eye on the children while you embroider—perhaps for your hope chest."

Besides the possibilities of having a thriving beach business, if you've been baby sitting all year you can take your flock to the park or lake or beach instead of chasing them around a hot apartment or keeping them penned up on porches or in back yards. And will their mothers love you for it!

The plan isn't exactly new—some girls tried it out successfully last Summer. One group was so encouraged by the fun and easy money that they organized a Sorority of Beach Sitters at Atlantic City, N. J. Equipment helps.

Their sorority is open to girls over 15, with previous baby sitting experience. They wear white shirts with their organization name stencilled across the front and will work only at beaches where written permission has been granted them by authorities.

One important thing the girls stress is that you can relax more if you equip yourself with props that will keep the youngsters amused and anchored at times during the day. These girls already have pooled their resources to obtain a traveling crib which folds up into a suitcase (also can be used as a play pen), identification tags for recording the baby's name, address and information regarding food, feeding time, rest period, safety pins, time clock, spare bottles.

Tag The Children

When a mother deposits a child in her care, a written permit or information is written on the tag, which is placed securely on the child's sun or bathing suit until checking out time.

Standard rates are fifty cents for the first hour and thirty five cents for every additional hour. This includes an occasional ice-cream cone or lollipop, but if the child really has a sweet tooth with mother's permission, then mother must pay for extras.

It is not easy to care for too many children, particularly at a beach, so limit yourself to the number you can safely handle. If you do not have a method of keeping one in a crib and another in a pen and another perhaps reading, you will find yourself running all over the place to keep the children within some kind of boundary.

Games Are Useful

Most little kids act like sandpipers when at the beach. They enjoy running down to the water's edge and dipping their feet or letting the waves chase them back. If you can impress on them that they are not to go into the water without you, half the battle is won. One girl solved this problem by having a swimming class for a half hour each day. This way she managed to keep the young tykes in her charge happy and quiet in anticipation of their swimming lessons.

Other little plans which can be put into effect are the "ten hour," "story hour," "play hour," etc.

Teach the children a little game they all can indulge in, and this will keep them happy indefinitely. Make sure you give them adequate protection with beach umbrellas and sunburn lotions during the hot part of the day. It is a good idea to have the story hour just before the nap hour. They will almost surely fall asleep.

The Indians had a good custom to keep youngsters amused (and quiet)—they put molasses on their papooses' finger tips and gave them a few feathers to play with. You'd be surprised how fascinated kids can become moving feathers from one sticky finger to another.

Poppies For Annual Sale Made By Vets

Poppies by the thousands have been made by disabled war veterans in hospitals, and the American Legion Auxiliary of Midland has received its share to distribute in the annual Memorial Day poppy sale Saturday.

Mrs. T. E. Steele is directing arrangements for the observance of Poppy Day here, when the flowers will be worn to honor the dead of both world wars and to raise funds to aid the disabled and children of veterans.

The men who make the flowers, all disabled and hospitalized veterans, are the only persons paid for their work in the Auxiliary's annual poppy program. Women in the Auxiliary who arrange for the sale and girls who do the actual selling on the streets are unpaid volunteers.

Rehabilitation Work

Money raised by the sale goes to the Auxiliary's rehabilitation and child welfare funds. Describing the poppy-making activities in veterans' hospitals, Mrs. Steele said, "It is interesting to see these poppies made, of crepe paper petals and wire stems, in the replica of the wild poppies which grew on the battlefields and around graves in Europe during both World Wars."

"Many of the veterans become very skillful in the work and can produce the flowers with amazing speed. They enjoy the work, and being gainfully employed helps give them a wholesome mental attitude which promotes recovery."

"At one time the Auxiliary used silk poppies, but the crepe paper flowers were adopted because they provide work better adapted for the veterans and can be made at a minimum cost for materials."

Shorter Hair Style Forecast For Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Think women are wearing their hair too short now? Wait until next fall.

"It's going to be shorter than short," says Miss Ethel Gilchrist, president of the Washington Hair Dressers and Cosmetologists Association.

The Hair Fashion Council of America meeting here figured out 15 different hair styles. Although cut short, it will be "very feminine," Miss Gilchrist insists.

"No shingles, but soft little wispy curls on the nape of the neck, short bangs and high feathery things on the side—very soft and very flattering."

Checking Fine Print

Fire insurance companies warn that they are tightening up on loss settlements. This makes it important for property owners to get out their policies, read the fine type, and discover how bad a beating they will take in case of fire.

Myron L. Matthews, vice president of the Dow Service, warns that "probably few" policyholders understand the terms of the contract between them and the company. The great rise in property values, and the companies' warning that they are going to begin enforcing what are known as "co-insurance" clauses, makes it high time to see if you are one of the vast majority that does not know where it stands.

Policies differ, but the typical co-insurance clause is an "80 per cent" provision. If yours is that, and you can't quite figure out the lawyers' fine print, it probably means about this:

"We won't pay more than our share of the actual fire loss, no matter how much insurance you have paid us for." If you have paid for $15,000 worth of insurance on a $12,000 house, with an 80 per cent clause, you could collect only $9,600 if the house burned to the ground.

"We (the company) and you (the owner) are splitting the risk. If your insurance is for as much as 80 per cent of the property's actual value, and it is completely destroyed, we will pay 80 per cent of its value, and you must stand the rest of the loss, as co-insurer. If the house is not completely destroyed, we will pay the full value of your loss up to the face amount of the policy.

"But if the policy is for less than 80 per cent of the present value of the property, and it is less than completely destroyed, we will pay only our share of the actual loss."

It works like this. Your house has a present value of $10,000 after depreciation. You should have it insured for $8,000. If the house is completely destroyed, the company pays $8,000. And if fire does $8,000 damage, you still collect the full $8,000 for which you have been paying.

But suppose the $10,000 house you bought before the war is now worth $20,000 after depreciation. You have raised your insurance coverage only to $12,000. You are insured for only 60 per cent of the house's real value—for only 75 per cent of what the "80 per cent co-insurance clause" says you ought to be carrying.

If the house burns to the ground, you can collect the full $12,000 for which you paid. Maybe you feel you can stand the $4,000 loss you needn't have taken, on top of the $4,000 loss you couldn't avoid as co-insurer.

But most fires do not completely destroy buildings. They damage them, more or less. Suppose your house sustains $8,000 worth of damage. If you were insured for $16,000—which is 80 per cent of the house's value—you could collect the full $8,000 loss. Because you are under-insured, you can collect only 75 per cent of your actual loss, though you have paid for half again enough insurance to cover the whole business.

We do not attempt to justify the philosophy behind this type of policy. Much less do we condone the confusing legal verbiage that conceals the actual meaning of the 80 per cent clause from the average property owner.

But like it or not, that is the most common type of fire insurance policy. Probably a majority of property owners are even more dangerously under-insured, because of the real estate boom and this type of contract than they realize. If the companies now are going to enforce such provisions more rigidly, it is the part of wisdom to find out what would happen to your biggest investment if fire should strike.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Senator Vandenberg urges conciliation with Russia; senators caution Acheson against rebuilding German industry; FDR, Jr.'s bitter opponent hops on his bandwagon.

WASHINGTON—Before Secretary of State Acheson left for Paris, he was stopped by Capitol Hill for some last-minute, parting advice, which will shed light on some of the policies the United States will follow at the Big Four Conference.

Two big questions came up during the hour-long, closed-door conference: How far should we go in conciliating Russia? 2. Where should we draw the line on German recovery?

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan cautioned the secretary of state against taking too stern a stand against the Russians. He agreed we must give ground or show signs of appeasement, but at the same time he urged keeping an open mind to any honest peace overtures. His attitude was that we shouldn't "burn the last bridge."

Senator Thomas of Utah was blunt and to the point about rebuilding Germany. "Is there any feeling anywhere," he asked, "that we should re-arm Germany as a buffer against Russia?"

Acheson assured not, but Thomas kept hammering this point home. He warned that Germany, when she gets her strength back, might side with Russia; that Germany has closer ties to the East than the West; that the Germans even started rebuilding their army and navy across the Russian border after World War I. Thousands of Germans actually worked inside Russia until Hitler bit the hand that was helping him, Thomas recalled.

Watching German Factories Senator Lodge of Massachusetts argued that we should strengthen Germany's economy without building up her war-making capacity. To prevent a resurrection of German military power, he demanded that Acheson insist upon a close watch on Germany's forces and factories.

The secretary of state promised this would be done. He added that Russia would have nothing to say about the Ruhr, since she got nothing from the Ruhr in peacetime.

"What do you mean by Russia?" Senator Thomas broke in. "If you mean the satellite states, then Russia has all the interest in the world in the Ruhr."

Central European countries, now behind the Iron Curtain, he added, always did a big business with the Ruhr, which would give Russia a voice in deciding the fate of the Ruhr.

Acheson and Vandenberg also engaged in a brief dispute over whether the right-of-way to Berlin had been spelled out definitely in the Potsdam agreement. Vandenberg argued that it hadn't been put in contractual form, and urged the secretary of state to see that our right-of-way to Berlin now is made clear at Paris.

FDR, Jr., 'Going Places' No one fought the election of Franklin Roosevelt, Jr. harder than Vito Marcantonio, sole American Labor representative in Congress. The bouncing, brilliant legislator from Manhattan stamped the Twenty-first District, trying to defeat the namesake of the late FDR.

But after it was all over and the votes showed young Roosevelt to be the overwhelming victor, Congressman Marcantonio met Congressman Chet Hoffield of California on the floor of the House. Quoth he: "You want to get aboard with Franklin Roosevelt. He's really going places."

Note—Young Roosevelt's victory in New York was a big psychological boost to his elder brother in California where Jimmie plans to run for governor.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service Today's lesson hand was given to me by Albert A. Ostrow, the director of bridge at Brooklyn College. The college now includes bridge in its adult educational program. However, they do charge for the series of eight lessons, as no taxpayers' money can be used for this program, except for the use of the building.

They run classes every evening the first four days of the week. Mr. Ostrow tells me that there are about 40 persons in each class. Two days are devoted to beginners, one day for intermediate classes, and one day for tournament bridge.

Mr. Ostrow has a little booklet that he uses in the classes called "Modern Basics of Contract." A number of these books were purchased and sent to the training camp of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Here's a hand that combines two points of play. The opening lead of the seven of spades was won with the ace and a spade trumped.

Two rounds of trumps were taken. When the jack fell from the South hand, the declarer now decided to try for an end play. He cashed the ace of clubs and led a small club, hoping that South would have to lead into the diamond ace-queen.

South, however, continued with the king of clubs. Here, North must continue with an ace of diamonds and this will defeat the contract.

Coronary Thrombosis, Heart Ailment, Is Serious Condition

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

Coronary thrombosis or occlusion often starts suddenly without any warning signs. In contrast to anginal pectoris, which is a closely related condition, coronary thrombosis comes without any unusual previous exertion or pain in the heart region. It can develop after severe strain or exertion, but it can also come while sitting at rest in a chair or even when a person is sound asleep.

A coronary thrombosis is always a serious thing. How serious it is which is shut off; in other words, if a large coronary artery is involved a large amount of heart tissue is deprived of blood and the results are proportionately serious.

Sometimes death follows a coronary thrombosis almost at once, because the heart is so badly injured that its function of pumping blood ceases and consequently life cannot go on.

Rest Reduces Danger Much more than the heart continues to beat through its ability to do its normal work is lessened. If the strain on the injured heart is cut down by complete rest in bed and other measures, the heart has a better chance to recover from this serious blow, at least to some extent.

During the last few years physicians generally have realized that the outlook for those who recover from a mild attack is much better than was formerly believed. Coronary thrombosis really began

Worker Is Burned Seriously In Truck Mishap At Sundown

LAMESA—A Sundown oil field worker suffered serious burns and two trucks were destroyed by fire after an explosion on an oil lease 14 miles north of here Wednesday.

A steamer tank being used to clean out an oil well in the Welch field exploded. The worker, B. W. Janway, about 40, was brought to the hospital here. Dr. J. B. McKay said he had serious burns on his arms, head, and back.

The steamer truck and a tank truck were destroyed. The steamer truck belonged to the Universal Treating Company, of Sundown, and was working on a Magnolia lease.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY: Bea Congrove is not satisfied that the death of Lilly Warren on Spear Island is suicide. There are nine people on the island who might have done it, including Bea whose pistol was found beside the body. One of the nine is Miguel Oak, a fishing boat captain, whose presence is unaccountable to all but Bea. George Bascombe came to tell Bea that Fred Silwell's sheep was killed there. Bea also learns that Lilly knew a rumor that there was hidden gold in the cave. Bea takes leave of George and goes to talk to Silwell.

for the death time Harding set. "I mean, the clock would have changed the time to 'suit'." "Let's put it this way," Fred Silwell's eyes were sharp, probing. "Maybe he knows enough to fix a time that accurately. He fixed Mollie up as if he knows what he's doing. He's the only one here that does know though. He could have fixed up the time to suit himself."

"That sounds as if you think Lilly Warren was killed," Bea Congrove said softly.

"Don't go putting words in my mouth," Silwell snapped irritably. He lit a candle, stuck it in the neck of an empty bottle. "My last match," he grumbled. "We're wasting time and it's getting late. You're noisy. You can make some dough out of it. I want to know what goes on."

"If there's something wrong," she pointed out, "it wouldn't be very healthy to go nosing around."

"No. But you can get away with it where I couldn't."

"I'll think it over," Bea said. "You do that. Think hard. Remember, no pay unless what you dig up is exclusively mine."

Miss Congrove nodded, walked to the door. It opened before she could touch the knob. Mollie Stark hurried inside, stopped abruptly when she saw Bea.

"Oh. Oh. I see. Did I interrupt?" If the words were incoherent, she looked like she gave the rumpled coat left no doubt as to her meaning.

"You knew Lilly Warren before didn't you?" Fred sighed. "I suppose she told you. But it isn't any secret as far as I'm concerned. I used to see her around. She was a party girl, and getting too old for it. Maybe she thought this was her last good chance to get set."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Much Of President's Program Still In Vague Outline Stages

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Details on much of President Truman's program still are lacking. Many of the things which the President has asked Congress to do have been mentioned only in broad outline or by name. Translating these titles into specific legislation has been harder than may have been anticipated. Or else the Chief Executive has wanted to string out his special requests for greater emphasis, throwing new ideas at Congress only as fast as he thought the congressional committees could take them up.

Legislation to carry out the North Atlantic Pact by authorizing shipment of arms to Western European countries still is being worked on by State and War Departments. So is a bill to control the export of U. S. arms to friendly countries only.

The big bill to carry out the President's inaugural message "Point IV" is likewise still being drafted in the State Department, after four months preliminary work by an interdepartmental agency committee. Writing a law which will provide technical know-how to underdeveloped countries has proved a lot harder than just talking big and bold in a speech. What it will cost, no one can yet set.

The President's budget message mentioned briefly the need for an appropriation of $300,000,000 for military public works. Just what the President had in mind has not been disclosed. It would be for continuation of construction begun earlier. Requests from Army, Navy and Air Force are now being cleared by Bureau of the Budget.

Civil Defense A program to set up a civil defense organization still is under study by the National Security Resources Board. This originally was in the Department of Defense, where the Hopley report was written. But the President liked the report so little that he took the civil defense job away from the armed services and gave it to NSRB.

Federal Security Agency has been working on legislation to increase unemployment compensation. It will be unveiled at House committee hearings expected to begin this season. FSA also is drafting a bill to provide federal grants in aid to the states for vocational education of the physically handicapped.

President Truman's proposals to encourage production of more low-cost private housing—so distinguished from low-cost public housing covered in the Senate-passed bill—lie in with a number of bills introduced by Senator Maybank of South Carolina, Flanders of Vermont and others. Housing and Home Finance Agency now is reviewing all these bills. It may come up with an Administration measure incorporating features of many of them.

A new disaster relief bill is in the making. Following last winter's experience under the western blizzard, which required special appropriations to handle, the idea now is to have a law on the books which would permit immediate relief action by the government.

Flood Control Reviewed The President's Missouri River flood control plan is now under review by governments of the 10 states in this basin and by federal agencies. When it is completed there will be a special message to Congress, an accompanying legislation to carry it out, and the President outlined this in his budget message.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers has been studying concentration of economic power for more than a year. This may lead to proposals for new legislation to strengthen the anti-trust laws, as called for in the President's budget message.

Though the Federal Reserve Board has been relaxing credit controls, it has under consideration legislation to extend its power to impose such controls, should need for regulation arise. The President's proposal to increase federal tax collections by $4,000,000,000 a year was mentioned in all three of his January messages to Congress. But this is still on the inactive list. Nothing may come of it until next year's appropriation bills are all passed. It will then be clear whether the government will be operating in the red. If it is, a special tax message is likely.

What all his unfinished business adds up to is the fact that President Truman's full program may not be known in all its ramifications until Congress returns to Washington in special session next Fall, or for the regular session next January.

So they say

If enough businessmen go in for deep depression adjustments, the sum of their adjustments is depression. —Emerson P. Schmidt, economic research director, U. S. Chamber of Commerce, warning against hoarding dollars.

Mr. Truman has been too long away from Missouri if he believes the American people will sign a blank check for such an ambiguous (National Health) program. The people will want to be shown. —Dr. Elmer L. Henderson, chairman of the board of the American Medical Association.

The tragic fact is that countries like Soviet Russia could achieve 10 times as much for their own people by developing what they already have, than they ever can achieve by any process of world conquest. —Henry Ford II.

Set an objective with a time limit. You reach it. Then you set another objective. You never think about money. —Millionaire Ross David Siragusa, describing his formula for building a million-dollar bank account.

If we could just raise the standard of living of the people in Asia and Africa and South America, our prosperity could never cease. Just two per cent is all we need to do that. —President Truman.

"You didn't think so. He's rich." "But he doesn't do anything." "It won't be long before you'll be back in L.A. with all the money you want. Think of the fun you'll have then." Silwell was patient, but Bea could sense a strain. "That'll be fun," Mollie said. "But it better not be too long." "I told you it wouldn't be. Give me a couple of days. And stop coming down here. He might see you and get ideas." "Ideas? Mollie doesn't think he could get an idea. But I'll be good. I know you can't do without me." Bea heard the door close. Fred Silwell swore softly, viciously. There was the sound of a cork being drawn. He laughed then, a low, wet sound without humor. "Don't be too sure, Mollie. Don't be too sure." (To Be Continued)

Lazy Habits Blamed For Skin Troubles Of Many Youngsters

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Many of those blackheads which peek dot young faces can be blamed upon lazy habits of skin care.

Case in point is the lick-and-promise method of washing faces which so many girls' mothers report.

If that describes your method of scrubbing, take warning. Fail to wash an oily skin—that is the type of skin which is indeed a push-over for blackheads—and you are pretty certain to have dirt-laden pores. Oil on the skin provides an unfailing attraction for dirt.

Before you begin casting around for other ways to free your skin of blackheads, start scrubbing your face. You may be surprised to discover that daily scrubbing may be all that's needed for a spring clean-up.

The best scrubbing aid besides soap is a soft complexion brush which will create the mild friction needed to dislodge embedded soil. Load the bristles of the brush with rich soap lather and scrub face and neck not once but twice. Whisk the brush in little rotary strokes around the blackhead areas. Rinse thoroughly after you give your face with lather to make sure that no soapy residue is left on the skin.

Books With Western Theme Given Library For Memorial Section

Two volumes for the Memorial Section of the Midland County Library have been presented by the Board of Directors of the Library Association in memory of Elliott Barron, who was a trustee.

Both the books are for the Western Shelf of the library. Mrs. Lucile Carroll, librarian, announces. They are "Rocky Mountain Cities," by Ray Benedict West; and "The Inverted Mountains—Canyons of the West," by Roderick Peattie.

Another book with a western theme given in memory of Barron is "Wyoming Cattle Trails," by John K. Rollinson, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pasken.

Create New Hobby For Middle Years

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The attitude of many middle-aged women is expressed by these familiar words, "I've lived my life, so I'll sit by and watch my children live theirs."

When a woman begins to feel no more interest than that in the rich years ahead, she should give her defeatist attitude a good going over.

When a woman's children are grown and her obligations toward them have been fulfilled is the time for her to begin a stimulating new life for herself. The moment one new interest grips her attention, her defeatist attitude expressed by "I'll sit by and watch" will be changed.

A plan to lead a fuller and more stimulating life, now that the mother of a brood is free to pursue new interest, will make her a more fascinating woman to her husband, friends and children. Her failure to "grow" and to enrich her personality is apt to put her in that category which every woman wants to avoid, of being a dull mother and wife and a stick-in-the-mud friend.

Mrs. Bryant Is Luncheon Hostess As Fine Arts Club Terminates Year

A luncheon at the Ranch House with Mrs. Wilson Bryant as hostess marked the season's close for the Fine Arts Club Wednesday. A variety of garden flowers in baskets decorated the room.

Mrs. Dewitt C. Haskin was the speaker on "Mexican Gardens." She told of gardens she has seen in Mexico, those in private homes as well as the world-famous floating gardens of Xochimilco. Gardeners in Mexico stress shade, ornamental plants, fountains and high walls, she said.

Luncheon Is Courtesy For Bride-To-Be

One of the attractive parties being given for Phyllis Chancellor, June bride-elect, was a luncheon in the Midland Country Club dining room Thursday with Mrs. George Abell and Mrs. A. C. Castle as hostesses.

Chancellor is to marry Dick Nelson of Centralia, Ill. A number of parties have already honored her and others are planned preceding the June wedding.

Double crystal cornucopias elevated on stands held flowers on the table, one at either end. They were tied with bows of green satin ribbon, and ribbon streamers extended the length of the table. White daisies with greenery set the color note for the table, repeated in the white and green mints which filled bonbon dishes.

The three-course luncheon was served to Miss Chancellor, her mother, Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, and Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, Jr., Mrs. Thornton Hardie, Mrs. Lynn Durham, Mrs. Ronald Jarrett, Mrs. J. A. Shorten Skirts To Revamp Last Year's Frocks For Summer

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Hemlines have climbed noticeably higher since you last wore those warm-weather frocks which are going back into wardrobe service.

So many ankle-slapping leftovers will probably need shortening if you want last summer's long skirts to look as up-to-the-minute as newer fashions do.

When taking up skirt length, don't rely too implicitly upon old hemline creases as guides for new markings. All hemlines have a tendency to go uneven after a period of long wear and frequent laundering.

The best procedure for re-hemming is to rip out the old hem and to determine the new one by meticulous markings of the skirt while you have it on. Since you can't possibly mark the new hemline yourself, you will have to enlist the services of some obliging person.

Have her use a wooden ruler and have her mark with pins or chalk as you stand in your accustomed postural habits and pivot around to accommodate her reach.

To make your shortened garments look professionally hemmed, put in widely spaced stitches and catch threads into all hemlines so that stitches will not be visible from the outside.

Confederate Widows Get Pension Increase

Widows living in the home will continue to receive $25 a month. There was no change in pensions for the veterans themselves.

San Angelo Kicks Tribe Again, 7-1

The Midland Indians and the San Angelo Colts are scheduled to complete their three-game series at San Angelo Thursday night. Ralph Blair is the probable hurler for Midland and Jimmy Baker, a left-hander, likely will pitch for the Colts.

SAN ANGELO—That number-four hole in the Midland Indian batting order showed up like a sore thumb again Wednesday night and the San Angelo Colts coasted to a 7 to 1 victory to make it two in a row in the scheduled three-game series at Guinn Park. The Indians could get only six hits off the offerings of Durwood Cox who went the route for the first time.

Glenn Patton, sensational young hurler for Midland, pitched seven-hit ball but didn't get any support at the plate. Three errors and his six bases on balls also helped the Colts to the win.

Gus Pena was the only Indian to get two hits. Both of his were singles. Bob Rose collected Midland's only extra-base blow, a double to drive in Carriel Nipp with the only Indian run. Nipp had singled to get on base in the second inning.

Several Base Runners
Several other times, the Tribe had runners on the bags but the men who are playing as long ball hitters failed to get a base knock.

San Angelo scored one in the first and another in the second to win the contest. They didn't stop, however. Just like the night before, the Colts added insurance with one in the fifth, three in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Even though the Colts did not get a hit longer than a single, they were able to roll in like a fast train. The win gave them the series, regardless of the outcome of the third game.

Turnesa, Stranahan Only Americans Left In British Amateur

PORTMARNOCK, IRELAND—(AP)—Willie Turnesa of Elmford, N. Y., defeated Robert Walker of Scotland 5 and 3 Thursday to enter the fifth round of the British Amateur golf championship.

Turnesa and the Toledo, Ohio, strong boy, Defending Champion Frank Stranahan, are the only Americans left in the tournament. Stranahan eliminated Ed Lowery, 46-year-old San Francisco automobile dealer 5 and 4 Wednesday.

Midland Shriners Honored At Dinner By Latin Americans

Midland Latin American leaders honored members of the Midland Shrine Club and public officials at a Mexican dinner in the Latin American Recreation Hall Tuesday night. Jose Lopez was in charge of the program.

The event was attended by Mayor W. B. Neely, Bob Scruggs, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and more than 40 Shriners and guests.

The dinner was given in appreciation of the Shrine Club's assistance to the Latin Americans in remodeling the Recreation Hall.

Michigan State's track and field team stars won three firsts, three seconds and five other places in winning the 1949 ICA indoor team title.

Rotary Engineers Wins Softball Tilt

Rotary Engineers defeated the Rebels 6 to 3 in the only softball game played in the Midland Softball League at Wadley Field Wednesday night. Rain cancelled the second contest between Standard and Shell.

W. C. Hammit went the route for the Engineers, allowing only two hits to notch the victory. P. Blizel hurled for the Rebels and was touched for four base knocks.

Western Plastic will play the Crane Golf nine in an exhibition game at Wadley Field at 8 p. m. Thursday.

SPORTS SLANTS

by SHORTY SHELburnE

The first Bulova wrist watch to be given away by Hughes Jewelry to the player of the week will be awarded at Indian Park June 6. Voting for the player of the week who will receive the first award will start Monday night. Manager Harold Webb has assured fans he will have a ballot box in a convenient place at the park to receive the votes.

A blank for voting is printed in each score book. It should be filled out and dropped in the ballot box. Credit Hughes Jewelry with an assist in making the contest possible. Watches will be given free of charge to the player voted the most valuable each week.

It's a simple matter to discover why the Midland Indians have lost almost as many ball games as they have won this season.

In checking the records we find the runs have been left on the bags 140 times in the home games only. Almost that many more have been left on in games on the road.

On at least four occasions in Indian Park, the Indians have loaded the bases with none out or one out and then didn't score a run.

That should be sufficient evidence to support the campaign Sports Slants has been waging for a number-four hitter who can knock the ball out of the park consistently.

It's no secret that the top of the batting order gets on base more than the bottom. And, it's no secret that a good percentage of those runners who have been left on base would have scored if we had a hard hitting number-four.

The Indians have capable men holding down number-five and number-six spots in the batting order but there's not one in the bunch of them who is a serious home run threat even if the count is up.

It wasn't that way last year and the year before with Jim Prince in the lineup. Jim Prince is doing it up at Lubbock this year.

Who's gonna do it for Midland? A final announcement has been made that the VFW Swimming Pool officially will open Saturday and will be open daily from there on.

The pool is located at the VFW Hall seven miles east of Midland on U. S. Highway 80 and is one of the best in this section.

As far as you can find out that'll be the first chance for Midlanders to take a dip this year.

J. S. Day of Midland scored one of the earliest and greatest victories for this city in trapshooting. He won the high average title of North American back in 1910.

The pattern was set by Day in that early year and at present is being carried on by the hottest group of skeet shooters in the history of Midland.

George Glass, Jr. is the top title holder at present. He is the World's Junior Skeet Shooting Champion. Also he is Texas Junior Champion.

Dick Snider still is carrying the torch for A. D. Ensey of the Odessa Oilers in his column in the Odessa Sports Slant.

Ensey, through Snider, is yelling about the amount of time it took to play the games in the recent Odesa-Midland series. He charges Webb with delaying the game through protests to the umpires, etc.

Snider takes Webb to task for his colorful carryings on in the coaching box.

To Mr. Ensey and Mr. Snider: Harold Webb and his so-called bad and clownish acts in the coaching box means money for the pocket of the club owner in the league where he appears. By and far, Webb is the most popular manager in the circuit and fans throughout the Longhorn League like to see him act up.

You boys should be thankful for Webb putting a little color into your club, underplayed series last week. The fans liked him because a thousand people don't root and yell when a guy does something if they don't like it. They weren't booing Webb. They were getting a kick out of his stunts.

As for speeding up the game, you might drop a hint to Al Monchak that his jawing and finger pointing don't speed things up any.

HALF SLANTS . . . Mrs. Sam O'Neal, Odessa's woman golfer of note, is an employee of the United States Post Office Department there. Jay Pierce of the San Angelo Standard-Times says the reason she didn't show up for the Midland tourney was because the post office would not let her off.

The Midland Bulldogs will be invited in complete new football suits for next year's grid campaign. They're making a clean sweep of the old era, including the shoulder pads they wore while going down to defeat.

It'll be different come September 1949 . . . Bill Shoopman, Odessa photographer who covered the Women's Golf Tournament for that city's newspaper, is a former Texas Mines grid star . . . Frank Miller covered for Sports Slants and The Reporter-Telegram in the photographer's role . . . There are three bowling leagues operating in Midland now. The Mixed League, the Men's Summer League and the Humble Oil Inter-Office league . . . Thanks a lot to you who called in on an apartment for Julian Pressley. He appreciated it as did we.

WT-NM League—Twin-Killing Gives Blue Sox Big Push Toward Loop Lead

By The Associated Press
The Abilene Blue Sox are two strikes closer to front-running Albuquerque Thursday in the nip-and-tuck race for West Texas-New Mexico League top honors.

The Albuquerque-Lubbock game was rained out Wednesday night. Abilene climbed to within half a game of the league leaders by sweeping a twin bill from third-place Borger 14-0 and 7-0.

Abilene's Rene Vega hurled three-hit ball to take the opener. Rudy Lorona pitched five-hit ball in the nightcap for Abilene.

Pampa defeated Amarillo 12-9 on Roy Parker's three-run homer in the eighth.

The Clovis game at Lamesa was rained out.

Black Indians Set For Thursday Tilt

The Midland Black Indians are scheduled to take on the Amarillo Colts in Indian Park at 8:15 p.m. Thursday.

The Black Indians have signed a former Amarillo hurler, Harry Dooley, and will send him to the hill against his ex-teammates in the Thursday night contest.

Others in the starting lineup for Midland will be Manager B. Harrison at first, Y. B. Batie, leftfield; Gene Grant, second base; Claude Tucker, third base; T. A. Hall, rightfield; I. Carpenter, catcher; James Marshall, centerfield; L. Ritcherson, shortstop, and Dooley pitching.

Although Ted Atkinson annually has been one of the leading Hialeah riders, his victory on Olympia this year was his first Flamingo victory.

Texas League—Groggy Eagles Drop Third Straight Tilt To Cowtown Kittens

By The Associated Press
The groggy Dallas Eagles aren't humming "Home Sweet Home" Thursday after closing a 15-game Texas League home stand—they lost ten of those games.

After dropping their third straight game to the fourth-place Fort Worth Cats Wednesday night by a score of 6-5, the Eagles are only a game and a half ahead of the San Antonio Missions.

San Antonio squeezed out a 4-3 win over the cellar crew from Houston. Third-place Shreveport split a twin bill with the seventh-place Beaumont Exporters. Shreveport won the opener 1-0 while Beaumont took the nightcap 4-2.

Sixth-place Tulsa defeated fifth-place Oklahoma City 9-6.

Jerry Witte homered for the Eagles. The Texas League double play record of eight was tied in the game, with Dallas producing five and Fort Worth three.

San Antonio's Joe Frazier hit a three-run homer in the ninth inning to climax a four-run rally that downed Houston.

Shreveport copped the opener when Lefty Kent Sterling walked three men in a row to force in a run that beat Beaumont. Beaumont's Carl Ray, aided by Reliever Carl DeRose, scattered six Shreveport hits to check the Sports in the nightcap.

Tulsa's 14 hits, including three doubles, and five Oklahoma City errors gave Tulsa the victory.

Skiing experts report that stainless steel ski edges stay sharp.

Slingin' Sam To Hang Up Uniform After '49 Grind

TEMPLE, TEXAS—(P)—Sam Baugh says this is it. Next season, declares the passing great of the Washington Redskins, will be his last in football. It will end 13 seasons on professional grids.

The former Temple High School, Sweetwater High School and Texas Christian University star is here, where his mother is in a hospital.

Schneiter Sets Pace In PGA Tournament

RICHMOND, VA.—(P)—Several top-drawer professionals faced probable elimination Thursday as the thirty-first PGA Tournament became a wild scramble to overhaul George Schneiter of Ogden, Utah, in the battle for medalist honors.

Thursday's test over the 6,877-yard Hermitage Country Club layout was the second 18-hole round of 36 holes of medal play. It will narrow the field of 136 down to 84 for the start of match competition Friday.

Texas Loop Crows Smaller Than 1948

DALLAS — (P) — The Texas League drew 505,499 in attendance the first quarter, which ended May 20. This indicates the 2,000,000 mark again will be reached for the season but is off compared to the same period last year.

Secretary Milton Price announced that the 1949 attendance was 36,981 under last year's first quarter. Some, but not all, of this can be attributed to bad weather. There were 10 games postponed last year while 17 have been washed out this season.

Of the ten ties recorded in the National League home run hitting championship, Mel Ott of the New York Giants figured in three.

Washington Slaps Champion Indians

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer
Wednesday night Cleveland lost again, 6-2, although Larry Doby hit another homer. This time it was a long drive that cleared a sign atop the right-centerfield scoreboard at Washington.

If things ever get tough at Yankee Stadium, Tommy Byrne can make a living beating Detroit. The New Yorker did it for the fifth straight time of his career Wednesday, 6-2, striking out 12 men.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's protected their second place spot by downing the Chicago White Sox 6-4.

The St. Louis Browns turned on the Boston Red Sox to win an 8-4 game.

Brooklyn tightened the National League race by thumping Pittsburgh 8-6. The Dodgers are only a game out of first.

Howie Pollet looked like the Pollet of 1946 as he pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a six-hit, 3-0 win over the leading Boston Braves.

Chicago's Cubs defeated the New York Giants for the second straight game 3-2.

Bud Lively came through with another well-pitched effort as Cincinnati shaded the Phillies 3-2.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Two Heads Are Better Than One (Or None)

I get a kick out of buying stuff down at the hardware store. And I always ask for a little advice from one of the two brothers who run it, because I know beforehand exactly what the answer will be.

Like when I needed a new garden hose. "Henry," I says, "how about this new plastic hose—is it really as good as rubber?" "Well," he says, "I'm inclined to think it is—but you'd better ask Tom."

I found Tom in back and asks him the same question. "Well," says Tom, "in my opinion it is—but you'd better ask Henry." "I already have," I says, "and when you two cautious old codgers agree I'd bet my life on the decision."

From where I sit, your own opinion is worth a lot—but so's the other fellow's. That's why I keep saying, over and over, let's be tolerant of the other person's point of view—whether it's on politics or farming—or whether you like milk shakes and he prefers a temperate glass of beer.

Moisture, Lack Of Storage Space, Shipping Embargo, Slow Down Texas Wheat Harvest

By The Associated Press
The nation's 1949 wheat harvest continued to lag Thursday as moisture kept cobines out of North Texas fields.

Farmers in that area—jittery over possible damage each hour a near bumper crop had to wait—worried with the rest of the winter wheat belt about another problem: lack of storage.

Railroads said they had plenty of cars to move the harvest; men and machines appeared enough, also. But the near-record crop estimated at 1,021,476,000 bushels had a housing problem.

An embargo by the American Association of Railroads Wednesday brought the problem home. Effective June 1, it stops movement of grain consigned to storage. Grain going to market for sale isn't affected.

The association said storage bins were half full from grain held over from last year. No permits are required. But shippers must certify arrangements for storage have been made.

The embargo covers Texas (except the ports of Galveston, Houston, and Port Arthur), Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri, Oklahoma, Council Bluffs, Iowa, and East St. Louis, Ill.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Senate debated a bill to provide additional storage space for grain and other crops held under government loan. It is a compromise, worked out in conference, and already approved by the House.

Under it the Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation is given broad authority to provide storage bins, elevators, warehouses, and refrigerated storage for farm products.

Some grains already have been combined in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

The year's first load moved May 20 when Johnny Dunagan, 43, of Olney, Texas, took wheat from his Throckmorton County farm to an Iowa park elevator.

Wet weather has hampered combining since. Lubbock Picture Brighter

At Abilene, some grain brokers said they already were hesitant about buying wheat not already sold. They thought the embargo might result in much wheat being left on farmers' hands for the time being.

The picture appeared better at Lubbock, S. E. Cone, Grand Seed Company spokesman, said sooner or later "it will be an automatic embargo," since storage space in most sections is already at a premium. But the Lubbock spokesman for another firm said he believed things would be worked out "okay" in the South Plains.

He said that in recent weeks from 100 to 150 cars of commodity grain had been moving from the area daily. Lubbock is to have a new 2,000,000 bushel elevator ready soon.

Gibson Named Head Of Extension Service

COLLEGE STATION —(P)—George G. Gibson, red-headed native Texan, Wednesday was named director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The 42-year-old dairy specialist, a licensed attorney, will take over his job June 1. He succeeds Dr. Ide P. Trotter, who became dean of Texas A&M's graduate school last March.

Gibson's appointment was announced by Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of the Texas A&M College system. Gilchrist said Gibson had been named by the directors on May 14 but that the necessary approval by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan had delayed the announcement.

The tall, slow-talking native of Trinity, was graduated from A&M in 1929 with a BS in agriculture. He took his masters degree at Iowa State College in 1930.

Compromise Settles Whistle Stop Battle

ELECTRA—Mayor T. Leo Moore claimed victory Thursday in his drive to make Electra more than a whistle stop on the Fort Worth and Denver City Railroad. Seth W. Barwise, general counsel for the railroad, and Moore issued a joint statement that "all matters in dispute have been satisfactorily settled."

"I don't want to gloat it around," said Moore, "but it sure looks like we won the deal. Most every train will stop at Electra. I feel sure of that. And the ones that don't stop—well, they'll creep through mighty slow."

A couple of weeks ago the railroad put its streamlined Zephyr on a fast new schedule which made a "conditional stop" out of Electra and seven other towns. The railroad said it would stop only for long-haul passengers.

Plenty of Mail
Electra threw up a city ordinance that the train had to stop for sanitary inspections and other reasons. The railroad retaliated with an injunction in Federal Court at Dallas.

Under an agreement worked out Wednesday the trains will stop to pick up all first class mail that can't be picked up with the automatic hook system. Mayor Moore said "We'll see they have plenty of mail."

Also, all trains will slow to 25 miles an hour through the town. The railroad will repair all crossings Electra wants repaired and put in some warning signals at the west edge of town.

The railroad company, said Moore, also is going to paint the depot.

Shanghai—

...civilians on the Bund and north of Soochow Creek who had been trapped since early Wednesday. They had endured all sorts of fire.

The United States and British Consulates were trying to intercede with both sides for a ceasefire.

Until the fighting ends along the creek, at least 1,000 foreign civilians will be unable to leave the buildings north of the creek and along the Bund.

Elsewhere in Shanghai, the military phase of the changeover apparently was almost complete.

Communist Peoples Bank currency appeared. It is valued at one to 120,000 Nationalist yuan, or about 300 to $1 U. S.

Lilienthal—

...said, is the policies of the commission.

"From the standpoint of actual production the atomic energy program has gone forward due to the zeal and loyalty of the scientific and technical personnel in charge of the various projects," Hickenlooper conceded.

Hearing recesses
"The point of my objection," he added, "is not to the activities of these people but to the administrative policies which the commission under Mr. Lilienthal's guidance and influence, has followed and continues to follow."

"These I believe to be harmful and not in the best interests of the continuing development of the basic programs outlined by Congress."

The hearings had gotten little further than that when a recess was taken. McMahon announced there would be no further public hearings until some time next week, but that a committee would meet in a closed session Friday.

New Well Extends East Texas Field

TYLER, TEXAS.—One of the largest producing oil wells in East Texas of recent date has extended the southwest boundary of the Waskom field in Harrison County.

The well, the No. 1 J. D. and J. B. Furr, was drilled by the Mudge Oil Company of Dallas. It flowed 450 barrels on official 24-hour Railroad Commission potential.

United Carbon To Close Borger Plants

BORGER.—United Carbon Company, Inc., will close its Alexander, McIlroy, Sanford A., and Crescent channel black plants June 1.

These older plants in the Borger area employ about 100 men.

The company said economic conditions forced their probably permanent closing.

Oil And Gas Log—

...the size of the chokes—were developed. No formation water has appeared.

Operator is continuing to test and probably will run potential and complete late in the current week.

Flanker To Barnhart Tests Pennsylvanian

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Brossman, Southwest Reagan County exploration, one half of a mile north of the nearest Ellenburger production in the Barnhart field, was on a total depth of 7,247 feet in a Pennsylvanian lime and shale formation.

The section above that point had logged some oil and gas signs.

Operator is to run a drillstem test on that interval. The development is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 221, block 1, TP survey. It is eight miles east of Big Lake.

Sinclair Makes Hole At Lynn Prospector

Sinclair Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Lindy, South-Central Lynn County wildcat, one mile north of the town of O'Donnell, had reached 9,960 feet in an unidentified lime, and was boring deeper.

So far as has been reported this prospector has not found any signs of possible production. It is slated to dig to around 11,500 feet.

The project is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 47, block 8, EL&RR survey.

Dollarhide Outpost Falls In Fusselman

Fusselman—Silurian prospects have drowned out Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-E Cowden, outpost to the Dollarhide field of Southwest Andrews County.

After squeezing perforations at 8,764-88 feet where water developed, operator perforated higher in the Fusselman at 8,645-80 feet and tested, showing a moderate amount of oil following a 9,000-gallon acid treatment in two stages.

The zone then was re-acidized with 12,000 gallons, swabbing made 20 barrels of fluid per hour which was 100 per cent sulphur water.

Setting retainer at 8,595 feet, perforations were squeezed off. The venture was last reported waiting for cement to cure on the squeeze job.

There is a good possibility that the venture will plug back to test shows developed in the Clear Fork and Wolfcamp sections of the Permian when drilling through. If either formation flows oil in commercial quantities, dual completion might be attempted with the Devonian. The Devonian in this prospector flowed oil on drillstem tests.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 14, block A-52, psi survey.

Tom Green Wildcat Makes Salt Water

An unidentified deep dolomite formation made water at M. E. Davis No. 1 W. C. Jones estate, wildcat in Central Tom Green County, eight miles southwest of Wall and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 190, district 11, SPRR survey.

A 45-minute drillstem test was run at 5,235-62 feet, showing a good air blow throughout. Recovery was 100 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud plus 3,900 feet of salt water.

Drilling was continuing from 5,272 feet in dolomite.

Woman Drowns At Dallas

At Dallas, where rain, accompanied by hail, measured up to 3.28 inches, an unidentified woman was drowned. Sudden floodwaters swept the car in which she was sitting into rampaging Turtle Creek. Larry Martinez, also an occupant of the automobile, swam to safety.

Rainfall totaled 1.50 inches during the windstorm at Dawson. Besides the damage to homes, sheds and out-buildings were demolished, telephone and power service disrupted and streets littered with tree branches.

Emhouse, eight miles northwest of Corsicana, reported considerable damage to cotton and other crops from a hard hailstorm.

Richmond, in Navarro County, had three inches of rain and Corsicana 2.25 inches.

A three-inch downpour sent Mill Creek roaring out of its banks between Frost and Italy.

Streets Are Flooded
Vivid electrical displays splashed the skies while the big rains fell at Dallas. Streets were flooded.

A wind and hail storm which struck Denton and Tarrant County about midnight caused heavy damage to roofs, barns and trees.

Fifteen planes were damaged at the Municipal Airport. Winds swept some of them 1,000 yards from the airport. Two hangars were damaged.

Pioneer residents said the hailstones at Denton were the largest they had ever seen.

Texas Power and Light Company lines were down west of the city. Telephone service was disrupted. Many barns were blown away.

Meanwhile thunderstorms boomed and flashed across West Texas. Abilene had 1.36 inches of rain. Fort Worth 1.53 inches. Hail cracked the windshield of an American Airlines plane flying in the Guadalupe Pass area, and turned it back to Dallas.

A woman, known only as Sue or Susie, had not been recovered at Dallas by mid-morning.

At 10 a. m. Thursday the Clear Fork of the Trinity gauged 14.1 feet at Padlock Viaduct, near Fort Worth and still was rising, with a 15-foot level expected, 13.5 feet above normal.

Lose All-Night Fight
The water rose an estimated 11 feet higher in last week's flood.

Fifteen workers at levee breaks in Trinity Park lost their frantic all-night fight at 8:15 a. m. Thursday, when water began pouring through and eight tractors and two draglines barely were removed from the area in time. Six scrapers were abandoned by the Clear Fork and Wolfcamp Company workers in their flight.

Two feet of water stood in the 1900 block of White Settlement Road and 10 inches flowed over Jacksboro Highway in the Henderson Street area. Water in the Benbrook Dam area a foot in 30 minutes around dawn Thursday but was falling by mid-morning.

One house in the Huffman's Camp area, four miles northwest of Conover, was washed away and four others were under water.

The two thunderstorms which brought the deluge struck the city at 10 p. m. Wednesday and 3 a. m. Thursday, knocking out power and telephone circuits in scattered areas.

At least two lightning casualties were reported—Annals, a Tourist Courts, where $2,700 fire damage was estimated, and the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Sims, where the chimney was struck, a hole torn in the roof and lights and phone blown out.

Winds, Dust, Hail
The thunderstorm at Dallas disrupted the city's transportation system, washed out city streets and brought the month's total rainfall to 7.97 inches, about four inches above normal.

Strong winds whipped dust through Odessa and nearby. Notres, Goldsmith and Kermit. Later, thunderstorms settled the dust with heavy rains. Notres had some hail.

Thunderstorms and rain were reported at Midland, Wink, Lubbock, Childress, Big Spring, Denver City, Wichita Falls and Dallas. El Paso reported dust and lightning.

High winds accompanied by half an inch of rain struck Lamesa. Telephone service was disrupted from Lamesa to O'Donnell, and from Lubbock to O'Donnell. Lamesa's power was cut off at a short time.

Meanwhile, Refugio, in South Texas, cleaned up the damage caused by a windstorm that struck Tuesday night. The blow unroofed four or five houses and damaged other buildings. The wind was accompanied by torrential rain and hail.

A 73-mile-an-hour wind broke windows, knocked down trees and damaged power and communication lines at Abilene Wednesday night. The wind was the highest recorded by the Abilene Weather Bureau since it was established in 1885. Almost an inch and a half of rain fell in 45 minutes.

Lightning and a fire destroyed a barn and all its contents on the J. D. McManus farm, two miles southwest of Corsicana. Damage was estimated at about $1,000.

A total of 46 inch of rain fell at Midland during an intense electrical storm. This ranch and oil territory has had more than 10 inches of rain this year after years of drier weather.

Inquiry Into Plane Purchases Pledged

WASHINGTON.—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) announced Thursday there will be "a thorough and searching investigation" of the B-36 bomber purchasing program by the House Armed Services Committee.

He said he will request the inquiry at a full committee meeting next Tuesday.

The veteran Georgia lawmaker made his announcement as a Republican member of his committee asked the house to set up a special committee to do the same job.

Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) introduced a resolution Wednesday to institute an investigation of all Air Force plane procurement policies, going back over four years. Van Zandt laid emphasis on the connection of Louis Johnson with Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, makers of the B-36, up to the time Johnson became secretary of Defense.

Thompson Advances Quota System For Curbing Oil Imports

DALLAS.—Regulation of oil imports through a quota system worked out by Congress is advanced by Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission as a means of serving the nation with oil and petroleum products and all the natural gas it needs.

Thompson advanced the plan at a hearing of a House Small Business Committee panel on the effects of petroleum imports on the domestic oil industry and national security.

Rep. Wright Patman (D-Texas) of Texarkana is chairman of the panel and sitting with him is Rep. E. J. Keogh (D-NY).

The hearing opened Wednesday and continued Thursday. After additional hearings in Washington, the committee will place its findings before Congress.

Thompson said the quota system was needed "so producers can go forward with confidence in meeting the challenge that we have oil supply adequate for defense even though foreign oil supply be denied us."

Vital To Independents
Thompson declared his concern was mostly for independents and wildcaters who have waged a fight to curtail oil imports.

Patman asked him how Congress could go about acting in a satisfactory way with confidence in meeting the challenge that we have oil supply adequate for defense even though foreign oil supply be denied us.

"Independents must be assured of a reasonable market or they will be taken over by those companies who have imports as well as domestic production," Thompson said.

Thompson declared the United States market now could absorb 350,000 barrels of imports daily.

J. P. Coleman, Wichita Falls independent, and Thompson said it was Dallas, former president of the American Association of Oil Well Drilling Contractors; Fred Sherman of Wichita Falls, president of the National Stripper Well Association; and Bryan W. Payne of Tyler, president of the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Company, were other witnesses.

Progress Reported In Strike Parleys

DETROIT.—The Ford Motor Company Thursday prepared a counter-proposal in the speed-up strike of the CIO United Auto Workers.

In the exchange of proposals lay the hope for a settlement and the return to work of 180,000 Ford employees as well as undetermined thousands of others affected by the strike.

Wednesday's two-hour negotiation session brought from Federal Mediator Arthur C. Viat a report of "definite progress."

Cotton Shipper Pays Judgment; GI Freed

RUTLAND, VT.—A sympathetic Tennessee cotton shipper contributed funds that opened the doors of Rutland jail Wednesday night for one of three war veterans held under a century-old law for non-payment of court judgments.

Ralph H. D. Fugate, 29, a combat veteran, was released after spending 52 days in jail.

The court judgment, totaling $2,682.39, arising from an automobile accident, was paid by Edward Sanders of Memphis, who said he read of Fugate's plight and "sympathized" with him.

The veteran has claimed from the outset that he did not have funds to meet the judgment.

The other two veterans, Bernard J. Smith, 23, of Fair Haven, and Frederic L. Lapan, 34, of Marshfield, are still held. Smith owes $500 and Lapan $450 on accident judgments.

Industrial Output Continues Downward

WASHINGTON.—The Federal Reserve Board reported Thursday that industrial production dropped in April for the fifth straight month and was continuing down in early May.

The board's index of production reached the lowest level since July 1947, with a five-point fall in April. This tied the drop in March for the biggest decline since the war.

April output, measured on the seasonally adjusted index, skidded to 179 per cent of the 1935-39 average compared with 184 in March and an all-time high of 195 last October and November.

At that level, April production was nearly five per cent below the same month in 1948 and a bare three index points above the spot passed in July, 1947, on the long postwar climb.

"Present indications are that in May manufacturing has continued downward and that there has also been some decline in output of such basic commodities as coal, oil, etc.," which had increased in April," the board said.

Big Spring Hospital May Open Next Year

WASHINGTON.—A new veterans hospital in Big Spring, Texas, will be ready to open the next fiscal year.

U.S. Determined To Maintain Relations With Red Satellites

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON.—The United States was reported determined Thursday to maintain practical working relations with Communist governments. This despite its strong disapproval of Communist ideas and methods.

This basic policy now is being worked out in the development of a new American attitude toward China as that country comes progressively under Communist control. It is illustrated dramatically also by the appointment of a new American minister to Communist Hungary.

The movement of American policy is based on the idea that the presence of a diplomatic mission in an important foreign nation is highly useful to the United States. It is argued that such representation implies neither approval nor disapproval of the political system. Hungary Is Example

The Hungarian situation arose as a result of charges made against American Minister Seiden Chapin during the Communist government's trial of Catholic Cardinal Mindszenty. Chapin was accused of working against that government and violating Hungarian laws.

In February Hungary demanded his recall. He promptly was brought home "for consultation" and the United States formally reserved all its rights in connection with the issue of whether Hungary, as a former enemy state operating under a peace treaty, actually had any right to force him out.

The United States might have sought to force Hungary's acceptance of Chapin. However, that would not have offered a practical solution to the problem of maintaining a strong, observant legation staff in the Russian satellite country, because the American government had to face the fact that Chapin's usefulness in Hungary was ended.

Oil Well Drilling Is Discussed At Rotary Club Meet

A classification talk on oil well drilling was given by B. R. Schabrum, general manager of the C. B. King Drilling Company, at a regular meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday noon in Hotel Schabauer.

The Rev. W. R. Mann, secretary-treasurer, presided, and the speaker was introduced by Bob Payne, program chairman.

Schabrum said oil well drilling has developed into "big business" and that contractors must conduct their operations on a business basis. A total of 39,000 wells were drilled in the United States during 1948, at a cost of approximately $500,000,000, he said.

In West Texas 2,758 wells were drilled at an estimated cost of $75,000,000, of which approximately $30,000,000 was payroll accounts.

Optimistic View

He painted an optimistic picture of the future of the industry. West Texas, the world's largest known oil reserve. He pointed out that although the 340 rigs now operating in the area compare with last year's peak of 425, more footage has been drilled in 1948 than during the same period in 1947.

The speaker explained the step-by-step procedure in drilling wells in the Permian Basin, and compared the operation of oil well drilling with the operation of a factory.

Contracts, equipment, problem-solving techniques and progress and improvements in the industry were mentioned.

Delbert Downing, Chamber Commerce manager, made a brief talk concerning the Midland Road, which opens Wednesday.

Carroll Thomas announced the next week's meeting will be held in the Rotary Club's Boy Scout Hut on Maiden Lane in Northeast Midland.

WHAT PART DOES ADVERTISING PLAY IN YOUR FUTURE?

Here's How Advertising Helps Make Your Income Safe and Sure; Helps Create Good Jobs for Your Daughter and Son

WHAT OTHERS SAY:

MINER—Practically every business uses what I mine. When their sales slack off, mines slow down. Some close. So when I see advertising—almost every kind—I know it's selling goods for firms that use what I mine—and so make my income steadier.

RAILROAD MAN—For freight to roll, goods must be sold. So when I read or hear advertising I know it's as vital to my job as steel rails.

HOUSEWIFE—Some folks seem to forget that there's no use of a firm's making goods unless it can sell them. I like all advertising because I can understand its job is to sell. And I can see that no sales at the plant where my husband works would soon mean no pay check for us.

TODAY producing goods is no longer America's big problem. In most fields selling the goods is the big job.

You know of dozens of businesses right in your neighborhood that could be twice as big as they now are if they could sell twice as much. And if they were twice as big, they'd employ twice as many people.

One of the lowest-cost methods of selling goods on a big scale is through advertising. Advertising sells goods. When more goods are sold, often prices come down—so more people buy those goods more often.

That means more jobs at the factory—and at all the firms that do business with that factory; the mines, mills, transportation companies, dealers, stores, banks, insurance companies, real estate firms, etc.

All along the line there are more and better jobs for everyone.

That's how advertising—by stimulating business—makes for a more secure present and brighter future for you and yours.

- Other Ways Advertising Helps You:*
1. Brings you better goods for less money.
 2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
 3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Advertising... BY SELLING MORE GOODS TO MORE PEOPLE

Makes your job more secure

AFL Teamsters Favor Texas Truck Strike

DALLAS—(AP)—Some 3,000 AFL teamsters in Texas have placed a strike weapon in the hands of a contract bargaining committee which has reached a stalemate with operators of 33 common carrier motor lines. The Dallas chairman of the Teamsters Negotiating Committee, M. R. Dixon, said the group favored a strike even before it rejected a management wage offer this week. No date has been set for the strike, Dixon said, and no further talks with company representatives are scheduled.

Rev. Ditterline Is Reappointed Pastor Of Church At Wink

WINK—The Rev. George R. Ditterline, pastor of the Wink Methodist Church since 1945, has been reappointed to pastorate by Bishop W. Anne Smith, president of the New Mexico Conference of the Methodist Church. Mr. Ditterline, who is entering his fifth year as pastor of the Wink church, is a graduate of Vanderbilt University School of Religion, Nashville, Tenn., and is former associate instructor of educational psychology in Arkansas State. He is an accredited instructor in religious education, and in the doctrine of the Methodist Church. During his pastorate, the church, which was destroyed by fire in 1947, has been rebuilt at a cost of $28,000 and that without debt. More than 300 members have been received into the fellowship of the church. The Sunday School has increased three times over in average attendance. Mr. Ditterline has served as president of the Wink Lions Club during the last year. He is vice president of the Winkler County Ministerial Association and vice president of the Winkler County Scottish Rite Club. He is president of the Board of Conference Claimants of the New Mexico Conference, having held this position the last five years. He reports the board will be able to pay the retired ministers of New Mexico a pension equal to $25 per service year, which means that those ministers having served the church 40 years, and are now retired, will receive $1,000 a year retirement pay.

Honor Students At Crane High

Joy Dickson

William Sam White, Jr.

Joy Dickson and William Sam White, Jr. were named salutatorian and valedictorian, respectively, of the 1949 Senior Class of Crane High School. Miss Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dickson, was Senior Class "favorite" and was editor of the school annual. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. White, pioneer residents of Port Stockton and Crane, was a band student until his last year. His grade average was 89.63. He plans to enter the University of Texas this fall. Miss Dickson plans a business education.

Conference Panels Asked To Adjust Big Money Bill Figures

AUSTIN—(AP)—The House Wednesday turned down Senate figures in the bills providing money for state departments, higher education, and courts, and called for conference committees. Thus the 51st Legislature moved a little closer to the time when it finally can adjourn. Failure of the Senate to act on the fourth big money bill, that for eleemosynary institutions, apparently was the last major barrier to bringing the session to an end—unless legislators decide a new tax is needed. The big hitch on the eleemosynary bill reportedly has been indecision on the part of Senate leaders with respect to the proposed state hospital building program. The indecision may be caused by the belief a 21-million-dollar program would run the state into debt unless state revenue is increased. That's where the new tax possibility enters the picture. House Keeps Plugging The Senate did not meet Wednesday afternoon, but the House continued working hard to clear its calendar of legislation. It quit after long debate of the driver financial responsibility bill. No direct vote on the measure was taken. The House approved creation of two more committees. One bill provides for appointment of a Texas Legislative Council to work between sessions in an effort to find ways for more efficient operation of the state government. Ten representatives and five senators would serve. The measure, passed by 117-8 vote, was sent to the governor. A resolution calling for a 10-man committee to study and recommend changes in the state insurance laws was approved and sent to the Senate.

Pecos Preps For Lions Convention

PECOS—Pecos' big, new Community Center Building and large City Auditorium are being polished and shined in preparation for the influx of Lions Club members and their ladies expected for the District 2-T-2 convention to be held here Sunday and Monday. A large attendance is expected from the clubs in Alpine, Andrews, Balmorhea, Barstow, Big Spring, Crane, El Paso, Five Points, Fabens, Fort Stockton, Garden City, Grandfalls, Harlingen, Fort Hancock, Iraan, Lamesa, Lorraine, Marfa, McCamey, Midland, Monahans, Odessa, Pecos, Rankin, Seagraves, Seminole, Sheffield, Snyder, Stanton, Terminal, Van Horn, Wink, Ysleta, Pyle, Colorado City and Kermit. Political Fireworks Political fireworks loom with the entry of Roy Carter of Kermit into the race for district governor. The inside track, however, is believed to be held by Jim Daugherty, former president of the Midland club. First candidate in the race, Midland Lions will bring their band and make a determined effort in Daugherty's behalf. Monday's program will be a heavy one. It starts with the president's and secretary's breakfast at 7:30 a.m., and closes with the governor's ball at the Pecos Country Club in the evening.

Rankin News

RANKIN—Members of the Rankin school faculty who will attend colleges during the Summer months are Mrs. Leola Hurn and Mrs. Opal Dickson who will be at Sul Ross, Alpine. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shiller at San Marcos, and Miss Cleona Quitt, who will receive her masters degree at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. Mrs. Leola Hurn and sons, Bill and Herb, accompanied by Don Still, left Saturday to spend 10 days in San Angelo. Bruce Monroe of Hobbs, N. M., visited his mother, Mrs. Zack Monroe, and Rankin friends and relatives Tuesday. John Robert Prude of Fort Davis will preach in the Rankin Methodist Church at 11 a. m. Sunday. John Robert was reared in Rankin, having graduated here with the Senior Class of 1945. He received his degree at Sul Ross State College and has been teaching the last year at Fort Davis. His father, John G. Prude, was for many years coach in the school here and served later as superintendent of the Rankin schools. A picnic supper and fellowship hour in the Rankin Park has been planned for 7:30 p. m. Saturday by the Methodist Youth Fellowship, which is sponsoring John Robert Prude's visit. All friends, both old and young, are invited to bring a picnic supper and eat, together, at that hour. Mr. and Mrs. John G. Prude and daughter, Elizabeth, of Fort Davis and Miss Betty Hicks of Odessa are expected to be here for the occasion. 215 HOLIDAY DEATHS CHICAGO —(AP)—The National Safety Council estimated Thursday 215 persons, will die in traffic mishaps in the U. S. during the three-day Memorial holiday. It requires approximately 25 minutes to take a roll call of the U. S. House of Representatives.

Gas Companies Consider Merger

DALLAS—(AP)—C. H. Zachry, president of Southern Union Gas Company, says stockholders of his company and of Texas Public Service Company will vote on a merger July 12. Texas Public Service would be merged into Southern Union, he told stockholders. Texas Public Service Company owns and operates natural gas distribution systems presently serving 65,000 consumers in Austin, Galveston and Port Arthur. Southern Union, operating for 21 years primarily in West Texas and New Mexico, will become a better balanced company if the merger is completed, Zachry said.

Shrine Club Dance Scheduled Friday

Midland Shrine Club members will be entertained with an informal dance to be held at 8 p. m. Friday in the Officers Club at Midland Airpark, officials announced Thursday. Shriners are urged to "bring a new member." Admission will be by fez and 1949 Shrine Club card. A good time is pledged by Shriners in charge of the social event.

RENT CONTROLS LIFTED IN THREE TEXAS CITIES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rent controls were removed Thursday from the Texas cities of Sweetwater, Marshall and Corsicana, and also from Nolan County, outside of Sweetwater. The action was announced by Housing Expediter Tighe Woods, who also denied a request for removing ceilings at Lockhart.

Damask Keys Anniversary Table

Irish linen damask beautifies reception or anniversary table.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Because June is traditionally the month of weddings it's also a time for celebrating many wedding anniversaries—silver and gold and all the happy years between, says Jean Way, table arrangement authority. Whichever the occasion and whether the entertaining is simple or elaborate, interest always centers on the table, she believes.

Instead of a formal wedding reception with an elaborate sit-down breakfast, many of this year's brides will be planning to have a small home wedding reception, all very simple and easy to arrange—just wedding cake with coffee and punch, but served from a beautifully decorated all-white table.

For an all-white color scheme, nothing is lovelier than Irish linen damask for the tablecloth and a lavish arrangement of white roses and green foliage for decoration. The white wedding cake will be garlanded with rosebuds or with green and white calladium leaves accented with clusters of sugar-frosted grapes or strawberries. White china, self-embossed in a grape design, and a milk glass punch bowl will complete the setting.

Switch the colors and this same table setting plan can be used in honor of a silver wedding anniversary. Begin with a gray linen damask tablecloth, use a silver punch bowl and white china banded in silver or garlanded with pink embossed grapes; wreath the wedding cake, frosted a pale delicate pink, with clusters of silver artificial grapes and mass pink roses and silvered foliage in a silver bowl for decoration.

Gold can easily be substituted for silver for the golden wedding anniversary. On this occasion, the cloth will be gold linen damask. The centerpiece will be yellow roses arranged with gilded foliage and the pale yellow wedding cake will be circled with gold artificial grapes and leaves. The china will be banded in gold and the cake forks will be gold color metal alloy. The bright color of an amber punch will give a golden hue to a clear glass punch bowl.

JUNE HAZLIP-JOYCE HOWELL

Let you thought we wouldn't make it this week, because of exams. Fooled you, didn't we! (To tell the truth, we weren't sure we could do it either.)

If you have been in the Youth Center this week you surely noticed the improvement in the looks of the place. Yes, Saturday was "Ladies Day" at the Youth Center, or at least it seemed that way. Bright and early Saturday morning, (Imagine getting up at 7 after staying up until the wee hours at slumber parties!) the girls appeared in their blue jeans all set to do a lot of hard work! Mrs. Roy Minear came down and opened the Youth Center so that the "gals" could eat while they worked. A grand total of five (5) boys turned up to help! However, these girls were not remembered "important" engagements and wandered off. Buddy McDonald, Billy Cartwright, John Zant, Moe Price and Allan Olson were the heroes who earned the girls "thanks!" This article very appropriately could be named "Into the Jungle with a Boy Scout Knife" as that was about what it all amounted to. Sidney Smith, Toya Chapple, Lynn Griffith, Adele Blackman, Gloria Anguish, Jean Ferguson and Emily Hamilton were some of the girls who did such a swell job on the Youth Center's "crop of weeds." Thanks, Teeners! It's fellows and gals like you who make the Youth Center what it is!

We would like to thank the City Police for coming out and helping us repair our Stop sign which was knocked down recently. We would like to thank Mrs. Minear for the beautiful paint job on our Youth Center sign, and her help in setting up all those weeds and trash.

Medal of Honor:

This week we are going to be just a little different in the awarding of the Medal of Honor. Instead of awarding it to a Youth Center member, we are awarding it to a very deserving person, the mother of one of our members, Mrs. John McKinley. Since Mr. Engel's resignation, Mrs. McKinley has done as much if not more than anyone else to keep our Youth Center open. Mrs. McKinley is the one who has been telephoning persons to keep the Youth Center so that we may keep going there. If you would like to keep the Youth Center or if you know of anyone who would like to, please phone Mrs. McKinley at No. 799. We would also like to thank all the parents and other interested friends who have so generously donated both time and effort to keep the Youth Center open.

We saw a new face, or maybe we should say an old face at the Youth Center this last week. Roy Richardson, who is an old resident of Midland, has been dropping in and out of the Youth Center lately. Glad to have you with us, Roy! Everyone seemed to have his car last Saturday. We saw several freshmen girls, Camilla Birkhead, Peggy Simmons, Marion Sevier, Nancy Roberts and Diane Anderson "having a picnic" in Sue Ann Francis' Jeep at the corner of A and Illinois streets. We also saw Peggy Caffey and Betty Campbell in Peggy's car. Shirley Harrison, Adele Blackman, DePhane Tabor, Peggy Charlton, Suzie Young, Wilma Like and Gloria Anguish were seen at Bordens. Later on, after letting a few girls out, Emily Hamilton and Rosalynn Leggett were seen with this bunch. And while every one was riding around in cars, we saw Jim Deavenport riding around in the Youth Center on a bike!

Since Mr. Engel left we've had quite a bit of trouble tracking down the new members to tell you about them, but now we've finally located a few of them! Bill Van Landingham, Tommy Edrington, Sammy Kersh, and Bobby Standley are the newest arrivals in our Youth Center "family!" We're glad to see you, Teeners, and we hope you'll like the Youth Center as much as we "Old-Timers" do!

A new way to chew gum has been devised! Wilma Like, Suzie Young, and Adele Blackman had a contest in gum-chewing. They each had a piece of bubble-gum and a piece of Dentine in their mouths and the object of the game was to see who could keep the gum from mixing the longest! Who won, girls?

Mary Ann Searls, Gall and Dorothy Black were out of town this week-end on a short visit to the Mire Peak Girl Scout Camp.

This week we would like to congratulate the girls who won, or rather earned, the coveted Majorities positions! Wilma Green, Ann Wells, Margi Carter, Dorothy DeWulf and Gwen Roberts are the five Drill Squad majorities for the coming year. Emily Hamilton and Adele Blackman will alternate for the other positions. Margi is to be the head majorette.

The head majorette for the Band will be Jane Ann Curd. Peggy Charlton, Pat Emmons, Carolyn Clark, Jeannie Liddle and Nancy Webb, who will move here from Odessa soon, are the other band majorettes.

Rakes Federal Appointee

Rep. Herman P. Eberharter (D-Pa.), left, nominated by President Truman to be a federal judge, was pictured by John G. Buchanan, right, chairman of the American Bar Association's judiciary committee, to be unfit for the position. In testimony before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee considering the appointment, Buchanan charged Eberharter with "drunkenness" and "cruel and barbarous" beating of his first wife.

senior trip and on Sunday they all looked a bit sleepy.

Quite a mob of seniors came to the Youth Center to let the others know they were home. Saturday night.

This weekend several of our members will be going to the Episcopal Youth Camp. We'll miss you, Kids. Congratulations are due Allan Olson and Wanda Burnside who recently won a trip to Arkansas by making prize winning speeches.

Lynn Griffith and Nancy Gray were seen in Lynn's car. Moe Price also was seen in his newly painted car, which doesn't look the same.

Jean Ferguson was seen, (or heard) driving a snappy car with dual carburetor! We saw Peggy Read learning how to play ping-pong the other day. She has the makings of a real champ.

Well, the music is in a rut and so are we, so... Good-bye till next week, you lucky people you.

Sweet Young Things Have Worries, Too

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The sweet young thing had a stormy look in her eyes as she marched up to my desk.
"May I be of any assistance to you, ma'am?" I inquired cautiously.
You have to be cautious in a newspaper office these days when pretty girls come up to you. You never know whether they want you to be the last man in their pyramid club, or to tell you they just shot down their dear old grandmother for reading too many comic books.
"Yes, you can help me," she said. "You wrote a piece telling college men graduates how to get ahead in life. But how about the girl graduates? Haven't you anything to tell me?"
"Have I?" I asked, looking to see which ear she wanted filled first.
"I don't think there is anything

I can tell you," I said.
"Why?"
"Because you just showed you have already learned woman's most important art—how to get men to do what you want."
"Oh, men!" she said. "I sometimes wish all the men in the world were dead—not that they probably aren't."
Men Take So Much Space
"Why are you mad at men?"
"Because they take up so much space. What chance has a woman who wants a career? Men hold the big jobs. If there's a soft touch in life, it's theirs."
"Look," I said. "You've got life backwards. Men lost out in the struggle to rule the world long ago. It's a woman's world today. The prime aim left to men now is to make women happy. Men work, women spend. This isn't just a feminine age we're living in—it's a feminine rampage."
"Well," she said. "I can see why they call you the poor man's philosopher. You certainly aren't the poor woman's Socrates—or Gabbler, either, for that matter. What about equal rights?"

"What about equal wrongs—do you want those, too?" I asked. Einstein couldn't figure a formula to give women equal rights. And wouldn't be fair to them if he did.
"How can I have a successful career?"
"Work hard, use your brains, be friendly—just like I told the college boys. And don't try to capitalize on sex in business."
"Is there any way I can avoid it?" she dimpled.
"No, I guess not," I sighed. "Not for another 30 years. Then it won't make any difference."

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Striped Dog

Mugwump Monkey — call him Muggy if you want to — was playing in the forest when the dog came walking out of some bushes. What a dog it was! It had spots on its back, and stripes all down its sides. If you ever saw a dog like that, I'll be very much surprised.

Mugwump made friends with the dog, and was taking it home when he met Sammy Ringtail. "What's that?" Sammy asked, and pointed at the dog.

"It's a dog!" said Mugwump. "How do you know?" Sammy asked.

"Well," Mugwump said. "Well—I THINK it's a dog." "It doesn't look like a dog to me," said Sammy. "Look at those stripes! Who ever saw a dog with stripes?"

Well, Mugwump didn't know anyone who had ever seen a dog with stripes. He was beginning to think that the dog was maybe not a real dog at all. "Sammy," he said, "we'd better go ask Daddy Ringtail. If it isn't a dog, I don't want it."

"Well, now!" Daddy Ringtail said when he saw the dog that maybe was a dog and maybe wasn't. "I don't know. If it IS a dog, it's the first one I ever saw with stripes."

But Daddy Ringtail said for everyone to sit down on the ground beneath a tree, to see what the dog would do—if it was a dog. "If it's a dog," Daddy Ringtail said, "it will do the things a dog does." And that's what the dog did.

It sat down by Daddy Ringtail's feet. It licked the monkey daddy's hand. Then it turned its head around, and bit at an itchy place on one of its stripes. It barked at a noise in the forest. It did all the things that only a dog would do.

"Well!" Daddy Ringtail said, when he was sure. "It's the first dog I ever saw with stripes, but it IS a dog!"

Yes, and these things that happened made me surprised to tell you: don't be surprised at what-ever happens. There's always a first time for anything to happen, even a dog with stripes. Be sure to read tomorrow's adventure right here in your newspaper because it is another story about the Striped Dog. It will be the story of Daddy Ringtail and Yes and No. Happy day for now!

OKLAHOMA CITY.—P.—The elderly man walked into the restaurant, said he wanted a meal on credit—and placed a partly-wrapped pistol on the counter. "I was frightened and I fixed him some hot cakes and eggs," said the waitress, Mrs. Evelyn Jean Dauber. Then he ordered a slice of pie. But there wasn't any. So he took his pistol, patted her on the head, and said as he left: "I'll pay you sometime—if it takes 50 years."

Keep Graduation Party Simple

Hefty sandwiches and soft drinks are ideal for graduation get-togethers.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

The 1949 high school graduating class likes fun and excitement but doesn't go in for over-fancy eating. They want a lot to eat and drink all at the same time—unlimited supplies of hamburgers and sandwiches and cases, not single bottles, of their favorite "pop." Therefore, in planning a get-together for your graduating senior and his classmates, keep it simple but make it ample.

If you don't want hamburgers, then serve salad rolls and sandwiches to avoid need for forks, and buy bottled carbonated beverages by the case. Buy them far enough in advance to chill thoroughly before serving, then pack them back in the cases for convenience in handling. Chilling the beverages in the bottles insures a better flavor, more zip, and less likelihood of an overflow when the caps are removed.

Tuna Salad Rolls
(For 12)

Twelve soft finger rolls, butter, 12 crisp lettuce leaves, 1 can tuna fish (7-ounce), 1 green pepper, cut fine, 4 tablespoons chopped pickle, 1 cup finely cut celery, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt, pepper, mayonnaise.

Prepare rolls as above. Mix fish and other ingredients, with mayonnaise to moisten. Fill rolls and garnish with 2 slices stuffed olive.

Spring Salad Rolls
(For 12)

Twelve soft finger rolls, butter, 12 crisp lettuce leaves, 1/2 cups grated, crisp raw carrots, 3/4 cup finely cut crisp celery, 1/3 cup finely cut walnuts, 1 cup cooked, chilled green peas, about 1/3 cup mayonnaise.

Slit the rolls along the top and about half way through so they can be opened. Spread them lightly with creamed butter and line each roll with a lettuce leaf. Mix vegetables and nuts with enough well-seasoned mayonnaise to moisten. Fill rolls with the salad mixture and garnish each one with a long, thin strip of pickled beet or sweet pickle.

Sandwich Fillings for the Class of 1949

1. Soft round rolls, lightly buttered, filled with chopped ham and pickle relish moistened with Russian dressing.
2. Soft round rolls with sliced luncheon meat spread with horseradish.
3. Rye bread spread with grated cheddar cheese moistened with chili sauce.
4. Enriched white bread, buttered lightly and spread with cream cheese mixed with crushed canned pineapple.

Train Daughter To Be Self-Reliant For Future Poise

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The girl who grows more dependent upon her mother as she grows older needs to develop some self-reliance.

Otherwise she will never, as long as her mother is able to guide her, live her own life as an independent woman. Clinging to a mother's apron strings may not matter so much while a girl is single, but this lack of self-reliance may matter and cause friction between her and her husband when she marries.

Too much dependence upon a parent can be best discouraged by the mother herself. If you recognize the lack of self-reliance in your young daughter, start making every effort to "put her on her own."

When she comes to you for advice on how to dress, encourage her to make her own decisions; to express her own taste. When young-party plans come up, insist that your daughter map out her own. Tell her that she can submit her plans to you, but that it must embody her own ideas.

If you're inclined to "baby" her, stop this treatment. One of the best beginnings is to stop treating her as though she were a visitor in your home. Many mothers who like to indulge their children make this mistake to the extent that a daughter never lifts her hand at housework; never assumes any responsibility.

Giving a girl responsible chores to perform on her own is one of the best methods of training in self-reliance. The person who will thank you most for all this training will be your future son-in-law.
