Trail Days To Offer Diversified Program

Offering a maximum of entertainment features, including a spectacular pageant, "Frontiers of Progress," Midland's first Trail Days Celebration opens Friday and continues through Monday, July 4.

Arrangements for the area-wide attraction rapidly are nearing completion and sponsors said Saturday everything will be in perfect readiness for the Friday opening of the big celebration. Preparations have been underway for weeks as scores of Midlanders have labored diligently to produce the big event.

"It will be the largest and most diversified celebration ever staged here," Executive Chairman Reagan

Tickets to the "Frontiers of Progress" pageant will be on sale each day this week at a booth in the Midland Hardware and Furniture Company. A cash discount is allowed for tickets purchased in advance. Box seat reservations also may be made at the downtown ticket booth. Members of the Lion Tamers Club will staff the booth.

Legg commented Saturday, "It will afford residents of Midland and West Texas plenty of entertainment right here at home over the long Fourth of July weekend."

Trail Days, although sponsored and underwritten by the Midland Lions Club, is a community-wide project in which members of all civic and service organizations are participating. Scores of men, women and children not affiliated with clubs also are assisting in many ways.

Opening Day Parade A mammoth parade through the streets of downtown Midland at 4 p.m. Friday officially will open the three days of fun and frivolity. The parade will form at the high school at 2 p.m. Individuals, firms and organizations are invited to march in the procession. Cash prizes will be awarded winners in the float division.

Downtown streets and store fronts are decorated for the occasion and the "Then and Now" store window displays were unveiled Saturday. A reception and tea for women 70 years of age and over will be held at 3 p.m. Friday in Hotel Schaefer. The women later will ride in the parade in limousines and convertibles.

President Truman and Gov. Beauford H. Jester have been invited to attend the celebration, but acceptance had not been received Saturday.

WOMEN HIS CAREER— 'I Took 'Em For Millions,' Says 75-Year-Old Romeo

CHICAGO —(P)—Sigmund Z. Engel, 73-year-old Romeo, told Saturday how hearts and flowers provided him with a million-dollar business swindling women.

Engel, known to police as a confidence man for 50 years, was seized Friday in a widow-baited police trap on complaint of another widow.

The small, dapper Lothario is charged with bilking Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39-year-old mother of three grown children, of $8,700 after promising to marry her.

"I took 'em for millions of dollars," he said. "Maybe five or six million. But they were trying to take me, too, you know."

Saturday, Engel talked fast, both for police and reporters. "I took women for millions of dollars," he said. "Maybe five or six million. But they were trying to take me, too, you know."

Engel, poised and suave, insisted however, that he has never done anything really wrong. "Someone told him women in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco have complained that he married them under various names, then walked off with their money and valuables."

"I am sure that must have been my twin brother," he mused. "Only an expert can tell us apart."

'Liar,' Shouts Hunt In Denial Of 'Five Per Center' Charges

WASHINGTON —(P)—James V. Hunt, self-termed management counselor, denied Saturday ever trying to sell "influence" in getting government contracts and branded as a "liar" anyone who says he did.

Hunt, a former lieutenant colonel, declared he would welcome a congressional investigation of charges by Paul Grindie, Massachusetts manufacturer, published in the New York Herald Tribune Tuesday.

He issued a statement—his first since the charges were made—declaring his job was to serve as a Washington representative of small businessmen who otherwise would find it impossible to get government business.

Includes Accuser "Anyone who says that I ever offered to get him government contracts through 'influence' is a liar and that includes Paul Grindie," Hunt's statement began.

Dallas Group Seeks Permit For Midland Television Station

DALLAS —(P)—Construction of commercial television stations in three West Texas towns will begin "as soon as we get our FCC permit," a spokesman for a Dallas group said Saturday.

Five Dallas business men and one business woman filed an application with the Communications Commission in Washington Friday. They want to build TV stations at Abilene, Midland and San Angelo.

They are James B. Cheek and M. F. Foshee, architects; Ward B. Downs, one of the owners of the Dallas Plumbing Company; Virgil A. Hargett, in the electrical supply business; Dave C. Edwards, manager of the Hillcrest Mausoleums; and Winnie Shelton, a Dallas business woman who spends much of her time in Hawaii.

"Everyday walks now on FCC action on our application," William B. Miller, television consultant and their spokesman, said. "As soon as we get our permits, work will begin. We hope that will be by late Summer or early Fall."

Aggressive, Growing Cities The stations, he said, will cover a radius of about 40 miles around each of the West Texas cities.

Asked how the group came to choose Midland, San Angelo and Abilene as sites, Miller said: "They're aggressive, open-minded, growing cities. And the people here are as much right to it as residents of great metropolitan centers."

The coaxial cable carrying television programs from coast to coast is considered past, there are "seeds" of a tornado in every violent thunderstorm, the Weather Bureau said.

Lightning Fires Tank Lightning set fire to a large Magnolia crude oil tank at Hodges Station Farm on Fort Worth's outskirts. Damage was estimated at $50,000. The tank blazed several hours.

For the Laredo area, the storm ended two days of heat, topped by 109 Friday.

Dallas had 1.29 inches of rain in the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. Saturday. Residents were awakened by crashing thunder. The Trinity River rose five feet.

Some Fort Worth streets and low-lying residential areas were flooded by Fort Worth's 2.67 inches of rain in 24 hours.

Military To Have No Part In Planning

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Administration placed in civilian hands Saturday complete control of the planning of civil defense and industrial mobilization for any war emergency.

Revitalize the planning effort, which has languished since December when the White House began a "quiet demilitarization" of NSRB.

Deal the final death-blow to proposals of the disputed "Hopley Report" of last Fall. Prepared by Russell J. Hopley, head of the defunct Office of Civilian Defense Planning in the Pentagon, the report suggested creation of a full-time, operating civil defense office under the secretary of Defense.

President Truman indicated his distaste for such military supervision in March.

Steelman quoted Truman Saturday in announcing the new plans. The President, he said, has asked for "planning and preparation for civil defense in the event of war, rather than the peacetime operation of a full-scale civil defense program."

Mobilization Plans Meantime, officials said, NSRB can be expected to resume active work on mobilization plans for every industry. It also has charge of preparing an emergency war powers bill—complete with price control, priorities and seizure power—for quick action by Congress in case of war.

Under the new system, Steelman said, the military establishment will have responsibility for planning only one phase of civilian participation in defense—"protection against armed attack."

This will include air raid warning and detection systems, auxiliary harbor and other defenses, camouflage, shelter construction and other "physical" measures.

The Federal Works Agency, under Jess Larson, was ordered to develop the program of wartime disaster relief.

Other agencies given roles in the program are the Federal Security Agency, Atomic Energy Commission and the Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Interior, Treasury and Justice.

Child Dies Of Polio In Midland Nancy McGill, of near Rankin, died here early Saturday of polio, pronounced by her physician the bulbar type.

The 11-year-old child was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McGill, who live on a ranch about 20 miles from Rankin. She was brought to Midland for medical attention at 4 a. m. Saturday and died at 7:50 a. m.

The fatality followed by a few hours another polio case which was reported in Midland Friday afternoon. Kathryn Jean Rodgers, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rodgers, 1806 Rankin Highway, was taken to Hendricks Hospital at Abilene for observation after her illness was diagnosed as polio by a Midland physician. This is the first 1949 case of polio here.

Services At San Angelo The body of the McGill child Saturday was taken to San Angelo for services and interment.

The McGill family has lived near Rankin the last seven years, having moved to their present home from San Angelo. The child had been ill about two days.

Survivors besides the parents, are a brother, Emmett; a sister, Ruth Irene; and a step-brother, Jesse B. Paris, all of Rankin, and the grandmother, Mrs. A. A. McGill of San Angelo.

First Polio Case At Crane Reported CRANE—Charles Potet, Jr., five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potet, prominent ranch and oil family, was flown to San Angelo Saturday afternoon for observation at a hospital there after Crane doctors tentatively diagnosed his illness as polio, the first case of 1949 in Crane County. A hospital plane flew the youth to San Angelo.

The boy is a grandson of Jax Cowden, well-known West Texas rancher. The elder Potet, a former Crane County attorney, was on a business trip to Fort Worth Saturday. He was to go to San Angelo Saturday night.

Attendants at the San Angelo hospital Saturday night said the diagnosis of the youth's illness was incomplete.

Mysterious Disease It provides no definite conclusion except "polio still is a mysterious disease," he said.

Senate Panel Okays New Cotton Controls

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Senate Agriculture Committee Saturday approved legislation providing new federal controls over the planting and marketing of cotton, frankly designed to hold down production in the face of an increasing surplus.

Chairman Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) said the new controls are needed because there already is a carryover of about 10,000,000 bales or slightly less each year is fixed. The crop last year was above 14,000,000 bales and this year's crop is expected to be larger.

Thomas said the new program, if approved by two-thirds of cotton farmers, probably would result in a crop next year of 14,000,000 to 15,000,000 bales "if growing conditions are favorable."

Lewis Reported Ready To Permit Mines To Operate

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA.—(P)—If the nation's coal operators will agree to a three-day work week, John L. Lewis was reported willing Saturday to keep the mines open while he debates new contract terms with them.

That would mean at least some of the 400,000 miners who Saturday began their annual holiday would have part time work when the 10-day vacation period ends July 5.

The reduction to three days a week also would fit right in with the United Mine Workers president's expressed wish to stabilize employment in the industry.

But it would be a sharp departure from the traditional "no contract, no work" policy of the union. The present contracts between the bituminous operators and the UMW expire June 30.

The report of the Lewis offer was heard here while negotiations with more than half the soft coal industry were in recess until Tuesday.

Lewis himself would say nothing about the report.

Texas Areas Lashed By Hit-Run Storms; More Are Predicted

By The Associated Press Hit-and-run thunderstorms of an unusually violent sort hit Texas again Saturday.

Early Saturday and late Friday night they lapped at Fort Worth, Waco, Dallas and Laredo.

Each storm had a dazzling display of lightning, deafening thunder and heavy rain.

Laredo residents said the thunder was the most severe in their memory. Laredo had 2.38 inches of rain.

The Weather Bureau said conditions are ripe for more storms.

Although the tornado season generally is considered past, there are "seeds" of a tornado in every violent thunderstorm, the Weather Bureau said.

Lightning Fires Tank Lightning set fire to a large Magnolia crude oil tank at Hodges Station Farm on Fort Worth's outskirts. Damage was estimated at $50,000. The tank blazed several hours.

Some Fort Worth streets and low-lying residential areas were flooded by Fort Worth's 2.67 inches of rain in 24 hours.

At Waco, where 1.32 inches fell, lightning struck a new house on which nine men were working. The said it sounded "like someone was dumping tubs of bricks on the floors."

The cold front moving across the state kept temperatures down below usual levels.

West Texas had both the high and low maximum temperatures for the day. Presidio was the hottest place, with 104 degrees. Wink had a 101-degree reading. Guadalupe pass recorded 86 degrees, the low maximum. Marfa had an 88.

Midland reported the first case developing in that city this year. Fort Worth had three new cases, San Antonio four, Ector County (Odessa) one. Crane County had its first case for 1949.

Ector County's new case was Mrs. G. G. Eubank, 30. Three cases had been reported at Odessa Friday: A. D. McClung, Mrs. R. T. Rich and Mildred Wilson, 14, daughter of Dr. C. E. Wilson. Mildred Wilson was sent to Parkland Hospital at Dallas. Others were receiving treatment at home.

The state health officer advised a continued, stepped-up campaign against files, and a thorough cleanup around residences and places of business.

Mrs. Edwards returned to her cage a few seconds later to find Sewell inside and the bandit standing at the window.

President-Makers Face West

After the 1950 census, Americans will find that something new has been added to the presidential election formula: markedly greater power at the polls for the three Pacific Coast states.

The wrenching westward shift of population that began with World War II has continued through its aftermath. Oregon's population has zoomed 49 per cent.

The coming census promises the political payoff on these changes. The law compels juggling the 435 House seats after every 10-year nose count, to reflect changes in the relative status of the states.

Unofficial estimates of the Census Bureau make plain a striking switch lies ahead this time. Two national magazines, Survey and the U. S. News, recently have devoted attention to the impending shift.

The big reason for their interest is that gains in House seats mean gains in a state's electoral votes, which are the sum of House and Senate representation. Electoral votes measure a state's weight at the ballot box in presidential elections.

California, newly admitted to the 10,000,000 population class already occupied by New York and Pennsylvania, is expected to pick up seven House seats for a new post-census total of 80 and an electoral count of 32.

Oregon and Washington now stand low in the electoral vote scale, with six and eight, respectively. But each state figures to add at least one in 1950. This would give them a combined 16 votes for the presidency.

The three Pacific states together then would have 48 votes, a sizable chunk of power to cast around, particularly in a tight election. After the 1930 census, their total was just 35.

For one thing, the Far West's gain will be offset by losses in the South and East. Nine Southern states each will drop one electoral vote. New York's probable loss is two and Pennsylvania's one. And Colorado will fall from four to three votes.

Fattening the Far West's electoral vote total at the expense of other regions clearly will force politicians to turn more frequently to the West for presidential and vice presidential candidates. They will want men who can command those 48 Pacific votes.

The Republicans' 1948 choice of Gov. Earl Warren of California was an early recognition of the New Look in politics.

The westward migration took millions from their former voting residences. How many were Democrats and how many Republicans? No one really knows.

Democrats say most of the migrants went from states already safely Democratic, like those nine Southern states. They say these voters, added to existing strong Democratic elements in the Far West, will help to land that region in their column in future balloting.

Republicans reply that negroes bulked large among the westward migrants who came out of the South, and that they are not likely to vote Democratic.

They argue further that if Democrats were heavily represented among those who left populous New York and Pennsylvania, the effect will be to strengthen the GOP in those important states.

Whatever the political outcome of this notable upheaval, it is apparent that our President-makers will have a lot more on their minds in 1952 than simply what shade of make-up to wear for the television cameras.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Speaker Rayburn rallied Democrats behind housing bill; Romeo and Juliet scene on Senate floor; Economic advisers and farm leaders discuss farm program.

WASHINGTON—It was Speaker Sam Rayburn's forthright leadership inside the secret caucus of House Democrats that paved the way for the favorable vote on the public housing bill and President Truman's first major victory at this session of Congress.

When Pearl Harbor was attacked, those well-meaning Democrats realized they had made a mistake. Let's not make the same mistake on this housing issue. We made a promise the people in our platform to enter a public housing bill. We can't afford to go back on it.

Those present were: John Davis of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, Roger Fleming of the Farm Bureau, Russell Smith of the National Farmers Union, and Albert Ooss of the National Grange. Although they represent varying shades of political and economic philosophy, they were gloomy about the drop in farm income.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Editor for NEA Service Here is an interesting hand from Alfred P. Sheinwald's article entitled "Practical Bridge," which appeared in a recent issue of The Bridge World.

As Sheinwald points out, you can just sit there and follow suit, and wait for the next deal, hoping you will get all the aces and kings. If you do get them, maybe you will let a smart opponent talk you out of your contract. The cards you play actually talk so a false card may literally talk an opponent into a wrong play.

Questions and Answers

Q—How much pressure would a wind of say, 40 miles an hour, exert on the side of an automobile? A—A 40-mile wind exerts a pressure of approximately seven pounds per square foot. An automobile might have an area on the side of about 30 square feet, so the total pressure of such a wind would be about 210 pounds.

WASHINGTON COLUMN New Weapons Would Change Character Of World War III

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—Consideration of the North Atlantic Pact and the $1,450,000,000 arms-for-Europe program naturally lead to much speculation on the nature of the next war—if it comes to that.

There have of course been many predictions that the next war will be the last one. The idea behind this is that new weapons will be so deadly that civilization won't survive. That prediction has been made before, but it has been wrong every time.

Toward the end of World War II a number of weapons came into limited use which may play important roles in World War III. Among them may be mentioned the proximity fuse, the medium-range rocket, the jet-powered guided missile, the non-magnetic land mine which cannot be detected by ordinary screening methods, and the recoilless rifle which gives two infantrymen practically the equivalent fire power of a 75-mm. artillery weapon.

The atomic bomb is usually mentioned at the head of this list. But the idea that sole reliance should be placed on the atomic bomb to win the next war is not being questioned seriously. It is of no use against Communist forces in Greece and China. It would be of no use against Russian troops that might launch a sudden offensive movement against Western Europe.

Atomic bombs could of course be used against Russian industrial production. But Western European steel-making capacity of some 35,000,000 tons a year—to cite one example—would be greater than the Russians than their own 20,000,000-ton capacity at home. Other captured resources would be greater, too.

Russia's military superiority in Europe must be admitted. Russian armies probably would be able to occupy much of Western Europe in say, two to three months. Having seized these industrial areas, the United States probably would have a hard decision to make on whether to use atomic bombs against Western Europe because that would mean wanted destruction of the people of allied nations.

The military problem in Europe, therefore, could resolve itself into a question of how best to defend the western democracies against invasion by an aggressor. Keeping a foothold in Europe from which a counter-offensive eventually can be launched is of paramount importance. Here is where the North Atlantic Pact and the military assistance program to build up Western European defensive forces come into play.

The five weapons of late World War II vintage, mentioned previously, may all play an important role in this defensive warfare. The proximity fuse—which incorporates a small radio set in the nose of the shell, causing it to "home" on metal—is an extremely deadly weapon against aircraft. May Doom Bombers are being developed which are capable of changing entirely the character of land warfare in defensive operations.

The initial arms assistance program under the North Atlantic Pact does not contemplate completely equipping the armies of the 12 allied Western European nations with all the latest gadgetry. For a little less than a billion and a half dollars that couldn't be done. Included in this total is perhaps $100,000,000 for European arms manufacturing equipment, $20,000,000 for Greece and Turkey, $1,000,000,000 for arms proper.

It has sometimes been said that since it costs $200,000,000 to arm one division in Europe, that argument misses entirely the real purpose of the arms aid program, which is to complete the equipment of European divisions now inadequately armed and short on transport to build up the effective, full-strength fighting units.

It is of course only a start. It will require additional expenditures in future years. The purpose now is to build up the manpower and armaments of Western Europe for action against an aggressor in what may be a new type of defensive warfare.

Cory wants Mike to find out why her father fell off a precipice in a tunnel. Mike is at first patronizing—having his own ideas about what she might want—but then he is treated to a display of Farrell's temper which leads him to change his mind. He goes to the mine, and after a few days, at the mine he meets the lovely, blonde, Whelan, manager of the mill, and Archie Trask, who is in charge of everything underground. Mike is convinced the mine is playing out and Cory reveals that she has received an offer for the mine that will "pay off" the mine. The three of them millions her father was supposed to have had had been lost on an expedition before his death, Cory says. She is nearly broke.'

G-A Laws To Bring More Money, More Teachers To Most Schools In Texas

By The Associated Press
More money, more teachers—extended programs but tighter operations. That's what the Gilmer-Aikin schools bills, recently passed by the Texas Legislature, will mean to school systems over the state. Sherman schools will receive $100,000 more annually—most of it marked for higher salaries. Fifteen new teachers will be hired. Outlying school districts now under contract to the Sherman District probably will be annexed.

The bills will bring an estimated net increase of $150,000 in state aid annually to Midland schools and Frank Monroe, superintendent, said 18 additional teachers will be employed. To the spreading Houston school system, the measures will mean an annual state aid bonanza of between three and four million dollars and the ultimate addition of 400 teachers.

Statewide Survey
Here are some results of a statewide survey to determine the effects of the bills on education in Texas: Big Spring—It is estimated roughly the annual school budget will be increased by about $100,000. Of this, about $40,000 will go for increased cost of teachers. Because of the lack of building space and resultant half-day school sessions, Big Spring may have to finance some 10 teachers beyond the 103 white teachers the Gilmer-Aikin plan allows the city. Orange—The superintendent believes the measures will bring an average increase in state assistance for the Orange public schools of between $360,000 and $380,000. Marshall—Expenditures for education in Marshall will be raised from a 1948-49 figure of $466,737 to about $596,000. Fort Worth—the local-state financing plan of the minimum foundation program can be met by the Fort Worth Independent District without a raise in taxes. But 22 of Tarrant County's 26 common school districts must raise their tax rates to qualify as nine-month schools and receive state aid. Lighter Teacher Loads
San Antonio—Thomas B. Portwood, superintendent of schools, said the measures will mean lighter teacher loads in the San Antonio, particularly in hard-pressed elementary schools. More teachers will be hired. Dallas—E. D. Walker, assistant superintendent of Dallas schools, said the new plan will not necessitate ily mean more teachers for Dallas. Victoria—Teachers salaries will be increased an average of $400 annually and besides this the net increase for the Victoria District will be $45,000. Corpus Christi—M. P. Baker, school superintendent, says a pay hike will make possible the hiring of better qualified teachers. More teachers will be hired. At present the Corpus Christi District has 600 teachers and more than 21,000 scholastics. Lubbock—The school district may receive as much as $100,000 annually in additional state funds. And teaching standards will be higher—ready Texas Technological College and West Texas State College have enrolled record numbers of teachers for graduate studies in the current summer term. For many veteran Lubbock teachers who have masters' degrees the bill will mean pay increases of $80 to $1,000 a year. The pay scale probably will induce others to continue their studies. San Angelo Benefits

San Angelo—Increased state assistance will bring $293,380 additional annually to San Angelo schools and $40,000 annually to rural schools in Tom Green County. The teacher load will not be affected materially. The Gilmer-Aikin measures require one teacher for every 26 student in the district. San Angelo already has one teacher for every 21 students. Perryton—The bill will bring an added $65,000 per year to the Perryton Independent School District, will allow an increase of six teachers to 100.40 more who will force four common school districts in Ochiltree County to consolidate with the Perryton District. Wichita Falls—The annual increase for Wichita Falls will be $340,000. The faculty and will force four common school districts in Ochiltree County to consolidate with the Perryton District. El Paso—Two representatives of state auditor's office will explain the laws to El Paso school men July 5. C. W. Webb, director of special activities for El Paso City Schools, says until the explanation is heard the following points can be noted: The law provides for no decrease for local school taxes for the next two years, best possible guess is about seven per cent increase in average salary of qualified teachers in El Paso; El Paso schools receive approximately 50 per cent more money from the state than last year, or approximately $700,000. El Paso was the only large school system in the state which fought the Gilmer-Aikin bills.

Flash Flood Takes 52 Mexican Lives

PACHUCA, MEXICO (AP)—Deaths in Friday's half-hour flash flood were raised to 52 by official count Saturday night. Six children were among those killed. Bodies were found in automobiles swept into ditches, and in the streets, after the water subsided. Rescuers, including 300 troops from the 18th Military Zone, and hundreds of Pachuca miners, said many victims seemed to have been stunned first and then drowned. They said the force of the water evidently threw them violently against walls or pavements, so injuring them that they were unable to fight their way out of the six and eight-foot torrents. The water swept swiftly through the market place and adjoining streets. Many of the dead in the streets had much of their clothing torn off. Churning water swirled furniture about homes and swept merchandise from store shelves. Lasts 30 Minutes
Great masses of mud were deposited in homes and offices. Building entrances were blocked. The flood came down from surrounding hills at 5:30 p.m., and in 30 minutes it was over. There was no disorder, but troops patrolled the town. A squad of 100 gendarmes and a regiment with engineers' equipment cleared away wreckage and mud. State authorities announced the dead would be buried in the civil cemetery at government expense. Leading businessmen have started a collection to help the poor and homeless.

Tyler Couple's Pet Is Plenty Confused And Has Good Reason

TYLER (AP)—Pete probably is the most confused fox in Texas. He doesn't know whether he is a dog or a cat. When his kitten playmates climb trees, Pete has a try at it, too. He backs off and runs like crazy—and makes it up the tree by raw momentum. He plays like a dog when he is with dogs. Pete is the pet of M Sgt. and Mrs. Verna Crumbley of Tyler. Mrs. Crumbley is concerned about one thing; she wishes Pete would get weaned. Pete was only about a week old when he started nursing the Crumbley's mother cat, Blackie, who had just had kittens. That was fine, then. But now Pete is bigger than Blackie. When Blackie objects to the nursing, Pete cuffs Blackie around. Pete refuses to be weaned.

Former County Judge Of Duval County Dies

ALICE, TEXAS (AP)—Dan Tobin, 52, of San Diego, Texas, died of a heart ailment in a hospital here Friday night. He was county judge of Duval County 13 years, and was a long-time resident of San Diego. Funeral services are scheduled Sunday at San Diego. Arkansas produces about 90 per cent of the nation's bauxite and also contains the nation's only diamond mine.

Home Interior Can Be Made Cooler Than Outside Air

How the interior of the home can be made cooler than outside air even on hottest Summer days was the timely pointer announced recently by the Construction Research Bureau, New York clearing house for building information, after studying experiments conducted by the National Bureau of Standards. Roof temperatures often reach 140-150 degrees, vast amounts of this superheat penetrating to the living quarters, and the Summer-long Bureau of Standards tests were designed to determine how this could be avoided. On an August afternoon when outside air temperature was 93 degrees, the underside of the roof tested by the bureau was 138 degrees; air in the attic was 130. Almost half of this superheated air penetrated the uninsulated ceiling into the room below and thermometers there showed 106 degrees or 13 degrees hotter than outside air. Conclusions Listed
One part of the ceiling was insulated with full-thick batts of mineral wool and one part of the ceiling had no insulation. Ceiling temperature where there was no insulation was 106.2 degrees, but the ceiling beneath the mineral wool was only 90.8 degrees or more than two degrees cooler than outside air. The bureau reached these conclusions: "A lath-and-plaster or equivalent ceiling exposed directly to heat of the attic will be so hot on warm Summer days as to add materially

Plumbers Suggest Adequate Valves

When installing new plumbing or extending an old system, plumbers advise home-owners to make sure that a valve is included to control the water supply to each piece of equipment so that hot water tank, sink, laundry tubs, bathroom fixtures, washer, furnace, boiler and other equipment can be disconnected for repair without shutting off the entire supply system. Another recommendation is that all supply pipes be pitched toward one point and have a valve near a floor drain so that pipes can be drained easily. "WOLF MONTH"
January was called the "Wolf Month" by the English more than a thousand years ago, since during that month fierce wolves entered the villages in search of food.

University Finds New Ideas Shave Costs In Building

New, cost-cutting construction methods employed by the University of Illinois Small Homes Council in several experimental houses can be utilized by small-scale builders as well as large volume operators and are adaptable to almost any combination of materials, the council pointed out in a recent bulletin. The methods require adoption of the so-called industry-engineered principle of planning in which dimension of the house, its rooms, windows and so on are in multiples of four inches. The system does not require special tools, nor does it depend on mass production or mass buying of materials, according to the council. Along with carefully engineered working drawings, the new methods permit pre-cutting of materials and pre-assembly of roof trusses, exterior wall framing, interior partitions, stairs, windows and other units. The result is a substantial reduction in man-hours of labor and consequently in labor costs. Another point of saving occurs in less waste of material. Conventional building materials were used in the homes. Insulating board sheathing, for instance, was employed in three. This modern material is particularly well adapted to the industry-engineered plan since it conforms with the four-inch multiple requirement. The large sizes of the sheets allow speedy application, a vital point in cutting construction costs. Time studies made by the council in construction of several houses according to the industry-engineered theory revealed savings of 21 per cent in man-hours of labor and 10 per cent in overall building costs.

New FHA Ruling Eases Financing Of Home Repairs

Easier financing for repair and modernization work on buildings is made possible by the Federal Housing Administration's elimination of the 10 per cent cash down payment on Title I property improvement loans. Any of the 5,900 approved lending institutions is permitted to lend up to $2,500 for improving a one-family house or a farm service structure. Under the new ruling, the borrower may spread out all his payments over a three-year period. Beauty Dwelling
For example, if a home owner desires to beautify his dwelling and increase its fire-resistance by re-roofing with asphalt shingles, it is possible for him to borrow the entire amount necessary without making any payment at the time the loan is negotiated. This return to normal lending practice, which removes a barrier to repair and remodeling in both urban and rural districts, is seen as another step in the government's policy of relaxing credit controls in most branches of commerce.

Rigo Petroleum To Search East Pecos Ellenburger At Wildcat North Of Sheffield

Rigo Petroleum Corporation of New York City, will start drilling immediately on the No. 1 wildcat to be a 3,000-foot wildcat to test into the Ellenburger in East Pecos County.

The prospector will be 660 feet from north and east lines of the west quarter of section 40, block 1, I&GN survey. That will put it four miles north of Sheffield.

It is on a solid block of approximately 9,000 acres, which was originally owned by Forest Oil Corporation and Southern Minerals Corporation.

Those concerns turned a checkerboarded spread of about half of the acreage to E. R. Rice of Los Angeles and Midland, for an Ellenburger exploration.

Rice made a deal with Rigo to drill the wildcat in return for a part of the leases he secured from Forest and Southern Minerals. Rice retains considerable acreage in the block.

Cable tools will be used to dig the project to about 2,400 feet to test through the Grayburg lime of the upper Permian. That zone showed possibilities of production about ten years ago in a shallow dry hole which was drilled about one-half mile east of the Rigo No. 1 Monroe location.

The block surrounding the drill-site of the new deep wildcat has been worked with seismic and geologists who have studied the survey say it indicates a large, deep structure.

Forest Oil Corporation has taken a six-months seismic "shoot" option on a solid block of approximately 17,700 acres in North-west Martin County.

The acreage is all in the Briscoe County School Land survey, and covers the ranch of F. D. Breedlove of Midland.

Under the terms of the option Forest has the right to lease not less than 2,000 acres of the block at the end of six months option. The concern can lease all, or any part of the property, above the minimum of 2,000 acres.

Doswell To Venture Near Sharon Ridge

Thomas W. Doswell, et al. of Dallas are starting immediately on a 2,700-foot rotary tool wildcat in Southwest Scurry County as their No. 1 C. W. Addison, et al.

The driller is 660 feet from north and east lines of the south half of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey, which puts it approximately 15 miles southwest of Snyder.

It will be one mile west of the discovery well of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field. Production will be attempted in the Canyon for an extension to the pool.

Hiawatha Completes Diamond M Outpost

One location south extension to the Diamond M field of West-Central Scurry County has been completed at Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 2 L. M. Wilson, 660 feet from west and south lines of the lease in section 183, block 97, H&TC survey.

Flowing 24 hours through a 3.8-inch choke, the well made a potential of 192.07 barrels of 44.5-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1.180-1.

Production was natural with no water, through perforations at 6,787-6,799 feet in seven-inch casing set on bottom 6,800 feet in the Canyon-Pennsylvanian pay.

Lipscomb-DeLange Hunt Scurry Reef

More hole was being made in search of the Canyon reef at Lipscomb & DeLange No. 1 A. L. Wren, et al. outpost to production on the south end of the North Snyder field in North-Central Scurry County.

Last report had the venture being 5,568 feet, penetrating lime and shale.

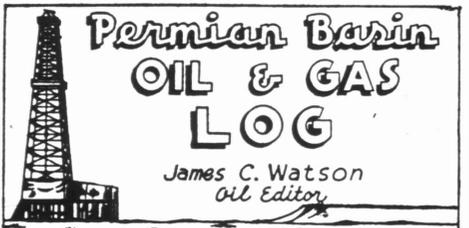

It is 487 feet from north and east lines of tract 11, section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Lion Will Set Pipe In Sharon Ridge-Canyon

Logging 193 feet of pay in the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian, Lion Oil Company was running casing to complete its No. 1 Marchbanks, outpost to the Sharon Ridge-Canyon pool in Southwest Scurry County.

This exploration topped the reef at 6,554 feet, on an elevation of 2,313 feet, making it 106 feet high to the discovery well of the pool.

Pay was logged all the way to 6,693 feet, total depth. Pipe was being set on that depth. As yet, no tests have been taken.

Location is 1,914 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 164, block 97, H&TC survey.

Drilling was continuing from 5,041 feet in lime.

Location is 2,019 feet northeast and 700 feet west of the southeast corner of N. Eastland survey, section 331.

Clear Fork Shows Water In Mitchell

Water resulted from a drillstem test of the Clear Fork-Permian at Humble No. 1 Crabtree, Ellenburger wildcat in Northwest Mitchell County, 12 miles northwest of Colorado City and 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 2, block 26, H&TC survey.

The tool was open one hour at 3,085-3,300 feet, showing a good air blow throughout the test and recovering 490 feet of muddy sulphur water plus 140 feet of sulphur water.

The prospector was making new hole under 3,502 feet in lime.

Three Outposts To Pegasus Make Hole

In the Pegasus area, where prolific flowing Ellenburger production was discovered in North-Central Upton County, three explorations were making new hole toward the deep zone.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-BB TXL, northwest offset to the center of the northeast quarter of section 22-25-26.

Drilling is to be started by August 1. The wildcat is on acreage secured by Abercrombie and Hawkins in a farm-out deal with The Pure Oil Company.

Pure turned a checkerboarded spread of several thousand acres surrounding the driller to the Houston operators for drilling the well. Pure originally had approximately 70,000 acres of leases in that region.

Offsets Discovery Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company is to start operations immediately at a 12,500-foot exploration in North-Central Lea County to test through the Devonian. The venture will be Texas Pacific No. 1-B-1 State.

It is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 2-12-33E. That makes it one location diagonally northeast offset to Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-BTA State, discovery from the Pennsylvanian and from a deep unidentified lime zone in the Permian.

The venture is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 44, block 40, T-3-S, TP survey.

York-Harper Fishing At Midland Wildcat

York & Harper, Inc. was still shut down, fishing for driller, with its No. 1 TXL, wildcat projected to 13,800 feet in Central Midland County, 12 and one-half miles south of the City of Midland.

Total depth was 4,430 feet in lime. When fish is recovered, more hole is to be made.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 25, block 39, T-3-S, TP survey.

More Pay Shown As Good Outpost Flows

Further exploration of the Canyon-Pennsylvanian in the area of the recently opened Good field in South-Central Borden County has shown more pay section for Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Pan American Petroleum Company No. 3 Good, outpost to the Canyon discovery well of the field.

A one-hour drillstem test at 8,007.8046 feet showed gas in three minutes, mud in 10 minutes and oil in 11 minutes. Flowing to tanks 49 minutes, the well made 17.88 barrels of oil for a total of 28.96 barrels.

The prospector then cored ahead to 8,066 feet, recovering 19 1/2 feet of white porous lime, bleeding oil throughout and with good stain and odor. Preparations were being made to cut another core.

High To Discovery This exploration, located at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey, entered the Canyon 77 feet high to the discovery well. It is scheduled to core the entire pay section before attempting completion.

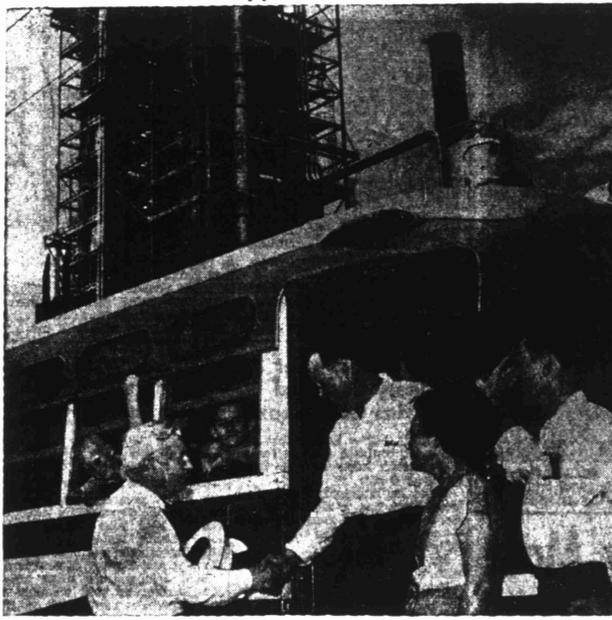

Seaboard and Pan American were preparing to complete their No. 2 Good as the second producer in the pool. It is located at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey.

Total depth was 8,005 feet. Production has been indicated on cores. On last report, flow line was being hooked up to start testing.

APCO Plans DST In Andrews San Andes

Drillstem test was planned for Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-D University, extreme East-Central Andrews County wildcat, six and one-half miles north of the Mabree field and 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 11-18-37E, making new hole be-

Houston Associates Stake Granite Test In DeBaca Farmout

HOBBS, N. M.—Location for a 6,500-foot wildcat to drill to granite in Northeast DeBaca County, Texas, was reported Saturday.

The venture will be J. S. Abercrombie and Lloyd Hawkins, both of Houston, Texas, No. 1 J. L. Napper. It will be 12 miles northeast of Fort Sumner and at the center of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 22-25-26.

Drilling is to be started by August 1. The wildcat is on acreage secured by Abercrombie and Hawkins in a farm-out deal with The Pure Oil Company.

Washington Oil—Texan May Get Interior Department's Oil, Gas Division Directorship

WASHINGTON — One of these seven men may be the next director of the Oil and Gas Division of the Interior Department, a post now vacant.

Hirsch Johnson, former Texas assistant attorney general, now a tax attorney with the Internal Revenue Bureau in Washington.

E. H. Eddleman of Fort Worth. William C. Murray, Jr., chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission.

O. C. Bailey, chairman of the Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission. Col. Louis E. Cottull of the Armed Services Petroleum Purchasing Agency.

Alec Crowell of Shreveport, consulting engineer. Don Carroll, the OGD's capable geologist.

Some of the men want the $10,000 a year post, others do not. The names are on the desk of Interior Secretary J. A. Krug. He with the advice of Under-Secretary Oscar Chapman, is selecting the director.

There is reason to believe some of the men already have been asked if they would be available if the post were offered.

Some of the names were proposed by a committee of the National Petroleum Council this month. Griffin has the support of Sen. Tom Connally for the spot.

While other men may be under study, any of these would do an effective job for both the oil industry and the government.

Gasoline Prices Here's the cast of characters for the big gasoline price extravaganza Wednesday as gasoline users square off against gasoline producers.

Judges and umpires — Senator Burnet R. Maybank (D-S.C.) chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, which conducts the show, and members of the committee.

Gasoline users — The American Automobile Association, American Taxibus Association, Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Gasoline producers — Socony-Vacuum Oil Company. South Carolina oil jobbers may testify, too.

The umpires are biased as the show starts. They reviewed five reasons advanced by oil companies for the present levels of gasoline prices, and said in a preliminary report they are not satisfactory. The report was released a week ago.

Oil And ECA It didn't make headlines, but Sen. Kenneth Wherry (R-Neb) gave a terrific tongue lashing to Walter J. Levy, chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration, during a session of the Senate Appropriations Committee. Senator Wherry accused Levy of knowing little about oil, although he poses as an "expert" having worked for an oil company for only six months.

Levy angrily reported he has been with ECA 15 months at great personal sacrifice; it may have cost him his job in private industry, he said. The petroleum chief, age 38, was raised in Austria, wrote oil news for years in Europe and America, and was with the State Department for years in the petroleum section.

Paul Hoffman, administrator of the ECA, broke in to say he had the fullest confidence in Levy, and that he would "underwrite him for $50,000 or anything more that he can earn in private industry."

Thereafter, the Nebraska senator retorted sarcastically to Levy as a "50,000 expert."

Between the accusations, Levy said American oil companies operating abroad will have a surplus of at least 28 million barrels in the coming year.

An ECA survey recently revealed that U. S. companies abroad are ready to supply Europe with 182 million barrels of oil; but there's a market for only 154 million barrels. Levy told for the first time.

In contrast, British and other non-dollar oil "can be easily sold," he said.

This "surplus" as it was described by Levy shapes up as another ominous factor in the swelling volume of oil available for importation into the U. S. if it fails to find a market elsewhere.

Tidelands Case The report of special master William H. Davis in the California tidelands case constitutes a setback to the Federal Government.

It opens the way for further hearings, testimony, and the appearance of "expert" witnesses on survey and other matters.

All these things the Department of Justice contends are unnecessary. They merely serve to delay final settlement of the boundary, it says. Perhaps more important, Davis

Ohio Opens Office In Canada; Names Griffin As Manager

The Ohio Oil Company is to establish a district office at Calgary, Alberta, to direct Canadian operations, with D. J. Griffin as district manager.

Griffin has been with the company's production department since 1922. From 1935 to 1941, he served as scout and district landman at Hobbs, N. M. He was transferred to Casper, Wyo., in 1941 and appointed Casper Division landman in 1944.

This expansion will be part of the company's newly established foreign division, which handles its exploration and production operations outside the continental United States.

This new division, headquartered in Findlay, Ohio, is headed by Fred J. Funk, who has been assistant to the concern's manager of production.

Funk has been associated with Ohio since 1930. After nine years as a geologist in Wyoming, he was appointed division geologist of the Wyoming division. In 1944 he was named assistant to the chief geologist and later that year, assistant to the manager of production.

Initially, the foreign division's activities will be confined to the Dominion of Canada, where the company now is actively engaged in acquiring substantial acreage of prospective oil lands.

Dickey, Ledebur, Forest Officials, Visit Headquarters

Robert I. Dickey, regional manager in the Permian Basin for Forest Oil Corporation, and Clint W. Ledebur, regional landman for the same concern, have gone to Bradford, Pa., where they will spend two weeks visiting at the Forest general offices.

While there they will confer with officers of the company on plans for their development program in this region during the immediate future. They plan to return to their offices in Midland on July 5.

Ledebur was accompanied by his family. They will visit relatives in Pennsylvania and adjacent states while away.

Buskirk Named To Head District For Magnolia Pipe Line

H. M. Van Buskirk, district superintendent of the Heidton district, Okla., of Magnolia Pipe Line Company, will be transferred to Midland as superintendent of the West Texas district, with headquarters in Midland, effective as of July 1.

He will succeed V. L. Red, who is being transferred to Olden as superintendent of that district.

C. C. Coffindaffer, Olden district superintendent, will be switched to superintendent of the Heidton district.

Rocky Mountain Oil Play Slackens, Says Operator In Midland

Petroleum development activity in the Rocky Mountain region is down from a peak a year ago, according to Phil Yeckel, Midland oil operator.

Yeckel recently spent two weeks in Wyoming and adjoining states checking on oil operations in those areas. He says there are just about half as many drilling rigs running up there as there were 12 months ago.

Drilling activity in Southwest Canada has also slackened, Yeckel reports.

Danciger Establishes Midland Office With Larsh District Head

Danciger Oil & Refining Company, headquartered in Fort Worth, has opened an office in Midland. The concern is located in the Wilkinson Building. Furniture has been moved into the office and at present, preparations are being made to start operations.

N. B. (Po) Larsh, former district geologist in the Midland office of Sinclair Oil & Gas Company, has resigned after 22 years with that concern to become district geologist for Danciger's new office.

He first came to West Texas in 1925 with Marland Oil Company (now Continental Oil Company) from East Texas. At that time, which was before the big East Texas field discovery, operations in that region consisted of drilling in to the fault line.

Joining Sinclair in 1927, Larsh returned to East Texas for two and one-half years. He came back to Midland in 1934 as Sinclair district geologist. Larsh and W. A. (Art) Yeager, district landman, made up the staff of Sinclair's Midland office at that time.

Larsh has remained in Midland since 1934. His residence is on the sand hills road southwest of Midland.

Other personnel in the new Danciger office will be George H. McIntyre, landman, who is being transferred from the firm's Fort Worth office, and a stenographer not yet named.

Danciger's current Permian Basin production is in the Buhart field of Southeast Reagan County, and in Eddy County, N. M. The company has production in other parts of Texas and in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Hallman Elected Oil Scout President In Midland Association

J. D. McCormick of the Midland office of Gulf has been elected second vice president of the association, and Cliff Wilderspin, also of Midland, and with Honolulu Oil Corporation, is to serve as secretary-treasurer for the next year.

The new officers take over on July 1.

API Has Barbecue; 600 Attend In Spite Of Wind, Sand, Rain

Approximately 600 persons attended the social meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, Friday night at the Ector County Park in Odessa.

An attendance of around 1,500 persons had been indicated for the affair. Officials of the chapter say that the sudden wind, sandstorm and rain which hit Odessa shortly before the program was slated to start kept many away.

A barbecue dinner was served. Following the meal dancing and other types of entertainment were offered. This was the first meeting held by the organization to which the ladies were invited.

Simpson Made New Supervisor Of RRC San Angelo District

Elmer C. Simpson is new deputy supervisor of the District 7-C office of the Railroad Commission of Texas at San Angelo. He had been inspector for that district the last two months.

He succeeds Edward Bierschwa, deputy supervisor for five years, who died June 8 in San Angelo. Successor to Simpson has not been named.

Simpson joined the Railroad Commission in December, 1948, in Midland after retiring from Magnolia Petroleum Company with 30 years of service.

RESOURCES

It is estimated that there is enough coal in the United States to last 2000 years, and enough oil to last a century. There probably is enough motor fuel to supply all needs for at least 2000 years.

Canada, with an area of almost 4 million square miles, covers a surface almost as large as Europe and larger than the United States, excluding Alaska.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—Rayburn Getting Federal, State Leaders Together In Tideland Controversy

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON —(AP)—Oil matters have had a comparatively quiet year in Washington but activity picked up a bit last week.

Investigations have been missing so far this year. Pending bills have made little progress.

Both congress and the supreme court took action last week.

And House Speaker Sam Rayburn quietly continued to get state and federal officials together on settlement of the now aging tideland ownership controversy.

Most of the activity, however, centered on natural gas.

House and senate committees approved legislation designed to prohibit federal power commission control over independent producers and gatherers of natural gas.

Press For Passage

Sponsors of the bill promised to continue to press for passage although the supreme court on Monday, in effect, ruled that FPC has no jurisdiction over gas production and gathering.

The court also upheld a Mississippi state tax on out-of-state oil or gas pipeline companies. A two per cent levy on pipeline gross receipts on Mississippi business had been challenged by interstate oil pipeline companies.

Bills designed to curb FPC's power over the natural gas industry are not new. Many oil and gas associations, particularly among independent operators, long have sought passage of the bills which received committee approval Wednesday.

A court ruling that FPC has no authority over the desire of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company to transfer ownership of gas reserves to a new company owned entirely by Panhandle Eastern stockholders.

A previous court ruling held that gas produced for pipeline shipment out of a state becomes subject to FPC control.

FPC attorneys reportedly maintain the new law does not affect the latter ruling but merely holds that the commission cannot control disposal of leases.

Some producers interpret the court's ruling as meaning there no longer is a necessity for FPC approval. Others think the ruling needs interpretation from the court itself.

Arguments on legal points rage in Washington and among natural gas producers.

Perhaps that is why sponsors of the current bills say they will press for passage this session.

OIL TAXES

Seven consecutive cutbacks in Texas crude oil production are eating deeper and deeper into the state's income.

Austin officials, following the July-August cutback order, have estimated tax losses now amount to $30,000,000 annually.

May's oil tax income was $2,200,000 below December. In December the state's crude production allowable total 2,717,000 barrels daily. The July-August allowable is 1,871,000.

Meanwhile, United States production has dropped to a daily average of 5,492,350 a year ago.

A 10 per cent cutback in Louisiana counts for the latest decline. The state's daily average fell 11,100 barrels the week ending June 18.

HERE AND THERE

Illinois legislators, with the 1949 session drawing to a close, are attempting to push through a senate approved bill placing the state's gasoline tax at 5-cents a gallon, a two cent increase.

The Oil and Gas Journal reports that world crude oil production averaged 9,154,800 barrels daily in April, compared to 9,242,300 in March and 9,445,000 in February.

Thomas H. Miller, acting director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, predicts oil demand can be expected to increase "significantly."

Harold H. Hobbs, scout for The Ohio Oil Company is secretary-treasurer, and R. N. (Bob) Knoepfel of Carlsbad, with The Atlantic Refining Company is to be year-book editor.

The advisory committee consists of Fred Tyler, Roswell, with The Pure Oil Company; Elbie Miller of Jal, with Western Natural Gas Company and Knoepfel.

Harold H. Hobbs, scout for The Ohio Oil Company is secretary-treasurer, and R. N. (Bob) Knoepfel of Carlsbad, with The Atlantic Refining Company is to be year-book editor.

Pioneer Midland Oil Man Back To Stay

W. T. (Billie) Walsh, one of the pioneer oil and gas lease brokers in West Texas has returned to the area and is to be a citizen of Midland.

He has been living at San Mateo, Calif., since he retired from active work several years ago. It is understood that he and Mrs. Walsh decided Midland offered many advantages that were not available in California and decided to return here to be permanent residents.

They have purchased a home and will soon be established there. At present they are at Hotel Scharbauer.

Walsh started in the brokerage end of the oil business in West Texas at Fort Stockton in the late '20's. He moved to Midland in 1930 and worked out of here until 1933 when he went to Tyler and operated in East Texas until he went to California.

New Aluminum Dog House, Type For Oil Fields, Is On Display

Aluminum is now being used to make dog houses—the oil field kind. One of the first ever manufactured is on inspection at the Mid-Continent Supply Company in Odessa this week.

It was built by the Aluminum Body Corporation of America in Vernon, Calif. The unit weighs about 960 pounds, less than a third that of a regular steel dog house. Cost is about the same.

The floor and roof are made of 5/32-inch armor plate aluminum, which has a greater tensile strength than steel. Because of sun reflection, it is cooler. Being lighter, it is considerably easier to load and haul.

Magnolia Petroleum Company has temporarily abandoned its No. 10 Con Federal, extreme Northeast Lea County wildcat, after perforating and testing sections at 9,650-72 feet and 9,676-82 feet. Plugged back depth of the exploration was 9,688 feet. No commercial production has been developed at the project.

Magnolia No. 1 Jack Markham had set a string of 9 5/8-inch casing at the total depth of 5,000 feet and was waiting for the cement job to cure. A total of 2,595 sacks of cement was used.

This semi-wildcat in North-Central Lea County is located 680 feet from south and east lines of section 11-9a-35e.

Magnolia is drilling below 9,288 feet in lime on its No. 1-B Santa Fe, one-half mile west of Mid-Continent No. 1 Dessie Sawyer, a flowing producer from the Devonian. Location is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 28-9a-36e.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-D Sawyer a flanker to Devonian production in the Crossroads field and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 27-9a-36e, was drilling below 11,075 feet in lime.

Oil Development Company of Texas No. 1 Santa Fe a flanker to Devonian production in the Crossroads area, was making hole below 10,945 feet in lime.

Humble No. 1 Federal-Wiggs, South-Central Eddy County wildcat, 16 miles due south of Carlsbad, had progressed past 5,946 feet in lime and shale and was drilling deeper.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 31-24a-27e.

Gaines Ellenburger Develops No Shows

The Ellenburger made no shows on the first drillstem test of that formation at Ralph Lowe No. 1 Cunningham-Shell, wildcat in the edge of the shallow Doos field in South-Central Andrews County, about 10 miles southwest of Seminole.

The tool was open 30 minutes at 11,740-820 feet, showing a slight blow of air throughout the test and recovering 10 feet of drilling mud. No signs of oil, gas or water developed. More hole was being made under 11,845 feet in lime.

This exploration, 680 feet from south and east lines of the north-west quarter of section 4, block A-24, psi survey has shown for a flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian at a lesser depth.

Livermore, Deeprock Run Test In Andrews

George P. Livermore, Inc., and Deeprock Oil Corporation No. 1 Mayhew, Central-West Andrews County wildcat to go to the Ellenburger, about five miles north of the Dolanfield field, ran a one-hour drillstem test at 8,390-8,508 feet, in a lime and shale formation.

Recovery was 90 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. The venture is to drill deeper.

The zone tested is just under the Permian, but it has not yet been identified.

The exploration is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 20, block A-51, psi survey.

Indians Sweep Pair From Odessa

Patton Returns To Form To Cop Win

The Midland Indians move to Oiler Park in Odessa for the final game of a three-game series at 3 p.m. Sunday. Midland holds a two-game edge.

Buck Austin is the probable starting hurler for Midland. Manager Al Monchak is expected to send Lefty Jim Carson to the hill. The Indians go on the road for six games before returning home for a doubleheader with Odessa here July 4.

By SHORTY SHELBERNE

The Midland Indians patted the Odessa Oilers in both games of a doubleheader in Indian Park Saturday night. Ralph Blair took the opener by a 6 to 5 count and Glenn Patton nailed down the last one 4 to 1.

The Indians and the Oilers played nip and tuck baseball in the first game. Midland took a two-run lead in the first inning on a home run by Bob Rose and Stanley Hughes' score after he was hit by a pitched ball.

Odessa came back with two in the second on a double by Frank Mormino and a single by Rex Pearce who drove in Batson after he had gained life on Hughes' error.

Midland got one in the third on a walk to Rose and a long single by Carriel Nipp. They added another in the fourth on Dawson's walk and a single by Kenny Jones. Odessa counted one in the fourth on a double by Mormino and a single by Batson.

In the fifth, Midland led the game away. Nipp led off with a double and Pressley tripled him home. Pressley scored on Dawson's fly to rightfield.

Odessa picked up one in the fifth on singles by Rotari and Monchak. Blair cut their last inning rally short after one run had scored on singles by Pearce and Monchak.

The second game was extremely well played. It was scoreless until the sixth inning when Midland opened up to give Patton the winning edge.

Patton fired the ball like the Patton of old. At one point he struck out the Oiler heavy end, Monchak, Mormino and Batson, in order and with 10 pitches.

Big Sixth Inning

Midland's four runs in the sixth inning came on walks to Hughes and Dawson, a sacrifice by Filigamo, singles by Nipp, Pressley and Gus Pena and a bit of heads-up ball playing by Kenny Jones.

With Dawson on third after Pena's single, Jones whiffed. Mormino dropped the ball and didn't bother to throw the first after the third strike. Jones beat the throw to first and Dawson tripled across with run number four.

Odessa's lone run was a homer by Manager Monchak over the left-field fence in the seventh inning.

Kenny Jones was awarded a Bu-Lova wrist watch between games for being voted the Player of the Week. The box score:

Breeze - Catching Eye Catcher

A brief excursion into fashion designing was taken by NEA-Acme photographer Mike Ackerman, veteran of many years of "shooting" shapely mermaids in beach garb. Mike, whose beat is beauty-studded Miami, designed the eye-catching outfit shown below and persuaded manufacturer Mel Warshaw to whip up a couple of demonstration copies. In case you're curious about technical details, Mike's creation is of rayon taffeta, in multi-color print inspired by Seminole tribal designs. The strapless bra top ties on with double ties. Photos are by the proud designer, of course.

String Ensemble—"Trunks" are two free-breezing, fore-and-aft panels that tie on the sides. "The a tight knot," warns Dottie Sykes.

Uplift Movement—Mike Ackerman anticipated frolics in some breezes, so added a bit of party beneath the panels, as Helen Poulson demonstrates.

Indian Signs—Helen Poulson shows multicolor print, adapted from Seminole Indian costumes, which decorates the "Sun Worshiper."

Falling Aster—Here's comely Dottie Sykes again, posing to show you that the panty-panels drape as well behind as before.

George Glass, Jr., Takes Junior Division Skeet Crown In Great Eastern Tournament

LORDSHIP CONN.—Two bright-eyed youngsters from the Longhorn State locked horns Saturday in the Great Junior Skeet championship and when the smoke of their shotguns cleared away, George Glass, Jr., of Dallas, with a score of 98X 100. The Dallas lad got off to a slow start but wound up by smashing his last 25 targets straight, for a total of 97X100.

Third place went to Robert Bleck of Rochester, N. Y., with a score of 95X100.

Another Texas lad upheld the shooting reputation of the Texas delegation by winning the sub-junior championship in a sparkling shootoff. Jack Rogers of Palestine broke 92X100 to tie with Bobby Mazok of Stratford, Conn. In the shootoff young Rogers only lost one target to Mazok's four.

At the halfway mark in the 150-target race for the Great Eastern individual skeet championship, which will be completed Sunday, fourteen runners turned in perfect scores. Among them was Mrs. Janice Mason of Dallas, winner of the ladies' 20 gauge championship.

The Houston Buffs scored three runs in the first inning Saturday night but the Fort Worth Cats charged back with nine and won, 13-4, to square the series.

Eddie Chandler, who walked three men and gave out two singles in his rocky first inning, settled and allowed only four more hits through eight innings. Sam DiBlasi, Fort Worth outfielder, made his debut as a pitcher in the last round.

The Dallas Eagles walloped the San Antonio Missions 10-2 as Roy Sawyer won his eighth game without a defeat.

The big hurler wore a blister on his pitching hand and left the game after six and two-thirds innings. In the fourth he had driven in two runs.

Jerry Wirtz hit his 21st home run of the year for Dallas in the fifth inning with Emerson on base. Tulsa Wilts In Ninth Tulsa pitching wilted under ninth-inning pressure as Shroveport batted in five runs to win 8 to 5.

Al Mazur changed the game's complexion with his towering home run in the ninth scoring Frank Bettes who had doubled to open. It put the Sports ahead 5-4, and they went on from there to clinch it.

The Oklahoma City Indians defeated Beaumont 8-6 after gaining an early one-run lead only to drop behind in the sixth inning 5-1.

Beaumont tied the game 6-6 in the eighth but Oklahoma City surged back in front to win in the last of the eighth when Grant Dunlap homered behind Herb Conyers' single.

Long Shot Upsets Mighty Coaltown

CHICAGO—(P)—Star Reward, a 11 to 1 shot in the wagering, registered a smashing upset Saturday in the $27,800 Equipoise Mile at Arlington Park by defeating Coaltown, beaten for the first time this year after eight consecutive victories.

Coaltown, weighed down with top impost of 132 pounds, snatched the lead for only the briefest moments in the stretch when he sailed past the pace-setting Carrara Marble and With Pleasure.

But in that fleeting moment Star Reward, ridden by Bobby Baird, charged up from fourth place on the outside and conquered Coaltown to the acclaim of 24,822 fans. His margin of victory was three lengths.

Coaltown, with Free America as a running mate, went to the post at odds of 1 to 5, and paid $220 to place. Star Reward returned $2400 and $420. There was no show betting.

Coaltown, with Free America as a running mate, went to the post at odds of 1 to 5, and paid $220 to place. Star Reward returned $2400 and $420. There was no show betting.

Coaltown, weighed down with top impost of 132 pounds, snatched the lead for only the briefest moments in the stretch when he sailed past the pace-setting Carrara Marble and With Pleasure.

But in that fleeting moment Star Reward, ridden by Bobby Baird, charged up from fourth place on the outside and conquered Coaltown to the acclaim of 24,822 fans. His margin of victory was three lengths.

Washington Doubles Team Is Victorious In Collegiate Tennis

AUSTIN—(P)—Jim Brink and Fred Fisher of the University of Washington won the national collegiate tennis doubles championship Saturday, defeating Art Larson and Sam Match of the University of San Francisco 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

It was the fifth time Brink and Fisher played together. It also was the first time a Washington team ever won the national championship.

The doubles finals wound up the annual tournament with San Francisco winning the team championship with seven points and Rollins College, Washington and Tulane tying for second with four points each.

Jack Tuero of Tulane bounced back twice Saturday morning to beat Match for the singles championship.

The tall, swarthy man who was supposed to win the title two years ago and failed had the reserve strength when the chips were on the line this time and he soared from behind dramatically for a grueling 2-6, 0-6, 6-4, 9-7, 6-0 victory over the poker-faced veteran from the Pacific Coast.

STANTON HANGS 24-4 WHIPPING ON FORSAN

STANTON—Stanton's Junior Legion Farmers pounded five Forsan hurlers for 14 hits here Saturday afternoon and rolled to an easy 24 to 4 victory. Richard Rikki pitched all the way for Stanton and gave up only six singles.

Two brothers, Earl and Gerald Koonce teamed up to lead the Stanton hitting attack. Earl had a perfect day with four hits in four trips while his brother garnered three for five.

The score: R. H. E. Stanton 000 100 003—4 6 10 Forsan 312 035 055—24 14 7

RESIDENCE BLAZE

The Midland fire department made a run to the negro section early Saturday night to extinguish a house blaze. Considerable damage was done to the frame residence before the fire was brought under control.

McCamey Girls Softball Team

The McCamey girls softball team has dropped only one decision in six starts this season, and rapidly is gaining notice as one of the top feminine clubs in West Texas. They are anxious to match games with any outstanding girls teams in this area. Pictured here, front row, left to right, are Irene Orchard, Lucille Goodwin, Martha Foster, Sue Winters, Ruth Thomas and Alameda Alexander. Back row, left to right, Vera Stone, Norma Jean Caldwell, Janet Pauley, Mac Brunson, Madge Thomas, Judy Blakney and June Rich. Members of the team not shown include Miva Moorman, Billie Levy, Babe Joyce, Dorothy Todd, Jackie Leonard and Erma Faulkner.

SPORTSLANTS
BY SHORTY SHELBURNE

Miss Lotta Williams, a rabid backer of the Midland Indians and one of the ladies who helped hoist the Longhorn League pennant here Thursday night, says the flag will stay up there for sure.

Miss Williams says she and Cordelia Taylor took a full five minutes in tying the knot in the halyard before they raised the pennant.

She reveals it wasn't a square knot or a slip knot they used to secure the bunting. It was a "permanent knot" to keep the flag up there from now on.

Sports Slants knows for sure if all Midland fans backed the Indians like these two ladies do, the pennant would be there forever.

The old injury jinx has hit the Indians again and harder than was expected at first.

Marty Filigamo injured a knee sliding into third base on a triple in Tuesday night's game and will be out for some time if it doesn't heal better than is expected.

Marty is the most improved ball player on the team and the Indians need him. His hitting has stepped up by leaps and bounds and his fielding is second to none.

We hope he can be in there against the Odessa Oilers Sunday afternoon.

Midland baseball fans will get a chance at some special added attractions at Indian Park July 4.

A beard shaving event will be staged between games of the double-header between the Indians and the Odessa Oilers.

It should be worth the money to see John Friberg, Ray Gwyn and several others of the Midland citizenry wielding the razor on each other.

Big Joe Goodwin of the Crane Gulf softball team will be out of action for the remainder of the season due to a shoulder fracture suffered in a game at Monahans last week.

Joe has been leading the Crane club at the plate and hasn't dropped far down the line in batting for the Texas Softball League, of which Crane is a member.

The loss of Goodwin undoubtedly will hurt Crane's chances in the pennant race.

Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo smacked the other Brooklyn homers. Ralph Kiner belted two and Dino Restelli, Wally Westlake and Ed Stevens one each for the Pirates. Kiner's blows were his 17th and 18th.

The nine homers fell one short of tying the major league record for most home runs in a game by both clubs.

Bob Chesnes started for Pittsburgh and walked home two runs in the first inning.

The score: R. H. E. Brooklyn 209 030 201-17 17 0 Pittsburgh 502 020 001-10 12 3

Frankie always was known as the warrior and Dizzy was just the opposite.

Often Frankie would say, "Diz, I sure would like to pitch you today but I'm afraid you don't have your stuff."

Dizzy's reply was typical in most cases: "Now don't you worry, Frankie, I doubt if them guys get even a loud foul offen Dix today."

And, we might add, many was the time when the opposition didn't get much more than a loud foul off Dizzy.

ALICE TEXAS.—Dr. George A. Farquhar claims a birdie. His ball vanished on his second shot on the No. 1 hole at the Country Club golf course.

He found it eventually—in a bird nest, 10 feet high in a mesquite bush.

Farquhar took a No. 6 iron and swung. The ball landed six feet from the cup.

He putted in for a par 4. Or was it a birdie?

HALP SLANTS.—Manager Harold Webb Saturday announced the outright release of Rookie Rudy Kellee, a right-handed hurler. Kellee was used mostly in relief roles while with the Indians. His biggest achievement was a five-hit, 3 to 2 loss to the Big Spring Cubans.

Bill Middlebrook tossed a no-hit game in his first appearance for the new McCamey club in the Texas Softball League recently. The franchise was transferred from Port Stockton to McCamey several days ago.

Monahans' new football stadium is taking on signs of nearing completion. The plant is designed to seat 8,500 and will be one of the finest high school stadiums in Texas. It will be used in part of the big VJ Day celebration there August 13.

Texas A&M's athletic department is ready to accept applications for tickets to the Aggies' four 1949 home football games. Villanova, Baylor, SMU and Texas will be the foes.

The Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars is sponsoring a state golf tournament in Abilene July 21-24. It will be open to VFW members only.

Morgan Hampton, golf pro at the Abilene Country Club, writes us the Twenty-Third Annual Invitation Tournament will be held there July 1, 2, 3 and 4. It is one of the biggest Independence Day tournaments in Texas.

Jack Pappenheim, a grappler of note at the VFW Hall here earlier this year, currently is campaigning in Oklahoma. Outfielder Dave Steger has been released by the Sweetwater Swatters. He never attained last season's form.

Lefty Craig, a Sweetwater hurler, has been sold to the Vernon Dusters.

Friday results in Longhorn League: Sweetwater 11, Roswell 5; Big Spring 3, San Angelo 1; Vernon 9, Ballinger 3.

Midland-Odessa, postponed, rain.

Black Indians Take On Coffeyville Nine

The Midland Black Indians challenge the Coffeyville (Kansas) Black Boosters at 3 p. m. Sunday in Indian Park. It will be the first meeting of the two teams.

John Hall, curve ball artist, will toe the rubber for the Midland team. Others in the lineup will be Harrison, Battle, Grant, T. A. Hall, Tucker, Dooley, Marshall and Carpenter.

JOHNNY'S REVENGE

CINCINNATI.—The two clubs which fell victim to Johnny Vander Meer's two successive no-hit games in 1938 both owned his contract before Cincinnati acquired him.

The Brooklyn Dodgers lost him through a front office over-sight when he was just breaking in and the Boston Braves sold his contract to Nashville in 1936.

Pressley Clings To Top Spot In Indian Batting Averages

Julian Pressley, although in somewhat of a slump the last few days, continues to lead the Midland Indians in batting. He dropped 15 points during the last week but still is hitting a lousy .390 with 12 home runs and 13 doubles. Press is second only to Bob Gruen in the home run department.

Little Kenny Jones still is on the warpath with his club and holds second place in the batting standings for the Redskins. He is batting .350 and has 14 doubles to his credit.

Carriel Nipp dropped only three points during the week. His average now is .332. He is tied for leadership in doubles hit in the league with 17.

'Athletic Week' Is Theme For Summer Recreation Program

The Summer Recreation Program here will observe "Athletic Week" this week in another of its planned and supervised activities.

The week's program will be conducted mostly at Memorial Stadium. Various types of races, baseball relays, and horned frog and turtle races will be held.

A track meet with distances shortened for the younger participants is scheduled during the week.

Two baseball games are scheduled at the Memorial Stadium practice diamond between the Latin American team and the team from Midland's elementary schools.

A treasure hunt, water painting, chalk coloring, drawing jacks, table tennis and other games are scheduled for girls.

The program is gaining in attendance at the Carver School. Craftwork, quiet games, nature hunts and coloring are the chief project there.

Swimming sessions from 9 to 11 a. m. each day will continue at Pagoda Pool.

A complete program is being carried on at the Latin American school for all children of school age.

Advertise or be forgotten.

Sam Van Hooter, although on the injured list now, has the best pitching percentage for the Indians. He has won two and lost one.

Ralph Blair is the big winner with a nine win and five lost record. Ernie Nelson has won seven and lost six.

Glenn Patton picked up a win in relief last week to raise his record to four and four. Buck Austin has won a single game and lost two.

Charley Gehring, former Detroit second baseman this year, became the fifty-sixth man named to baseball's Hall of Fame.

Three Die In Refinery Fire

A spectacular fire followed by explosions at a Perin Amboy, N. J. refinery claimed the lives of three workmen. Blasts and flames did more than a half-million dollars damage to the asphalt plant.

Senate Showdown On Emergency Strikes Is Set For Tuesday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Both sides scrambled Saturday for a handful of key votes in the Senate battle over whether to keep Taft-Hartley law injunctions against national emergency strikes.

And both sides claimed a slight edge in the showdown slated for Tuesday. The Senate has agreed to vote then on the issue.

His plan provides for both injunctions and government seizure of struck plants.

In the other camp, Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) said the outcome may hinge on how three senators decide to vote.

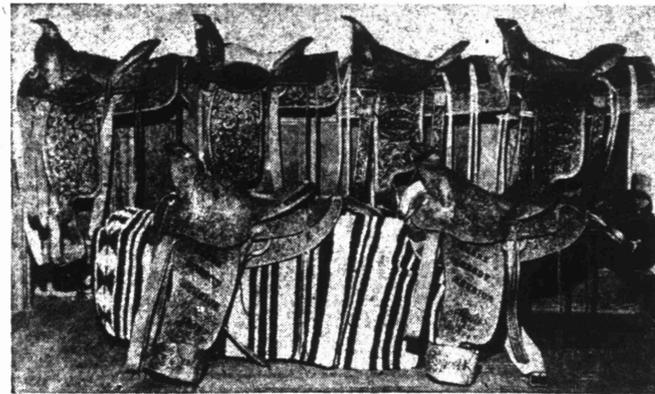

The amendments the Senate will vote on Tuesday give the lawmakers a definite choice between:

1. An amendment by Senator Hollands (D-Fla.) which would provide for 60-day injunctions. That plan is sponsored also by Hoey and Republican Senators Schoepel (Kan.) and Bricker (Ohio).

2. An amendment by Senator Lucas (D-Ind.) which would strike the injunction section out of Taft's proposal and keep the 60-day seizure provision.

If Hollands' injunction-only amendment is adopted and the Lucas amendment is defeated, then the Senate will get a chance to vote on Taft's amendment providing for both court orders and seizure.

Stamford Rodeo Winners To Get Saddles

Six saddles will be awarded winners of the various cowboy events at the annual Texas Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo at Stamford, July 1, 2 and 3. The attraction is expected to attract thousands of visitors from a wide area. The event is billed as the "world's greatest roundup of cowboys."

Then-Now Display Windows Unveiled

"Then and Now"-themed store windows are being displayed by Midland merchants in support of the spirit of the approaching "Frontiers of Progress" pageant.

The Trail Days windows first were displayed Saturday. Clothing and antiques dating back almost 100 years are being seen in store and shop windows, side by side with modern articles which fill the same need.

Committee Report Lashes House Delay On Military Reform

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report Saturday blamed strong "secret enemies" for the House Army and Navy Committee "delaying" action on military reform.

The measure, heralded by the group as the key to billion-dollar-a-year savings, was approved unanimously by the Senate May 26. Three weeks later House hearings were announced, to begin on June 28.

The statement assailed the views of Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House group and long-time friend of the Navy.

It was signed by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University and chairman of the Citizens Committee, which includes two former vice presidents, John Nance Garner and Charles G. Dawes and scores of former cabinet officers, governors and leaders of industry and labor.

"This bill has the publicly avowed support of citizens of the highest caliber but apparently it also has secret enemies stronger than we know," Dr. Johnson declared, without identifying them.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

And the dry spell continues... No moisture to speak of for two weeks now... Pretty hot too... But this could be the week for another gully washer.

A group of Midland and Martin County ranchers and farmers Tuesday will make a one-day tour of irrigated pasture lands in the Plainview sector, Warren Skaggs, Midland rancher, said Saturday.

Permanent pasture improvements which have paid off for ranchers in the Plainview area will be inspected by the Midlanders. The pasture irrigation project around Plainview is said to be one of the most successful in the Southwest.

Skaggs, who ranches 25 miles south of Midland, says conditions are excellent in that area. He says he has more grass than in several years and his sheep are in good shape.

He also has lots of needle grass, which is causing him and other sheepmen considerable trouble. Needle grass is something the sheepmen very easily could do without.

This Midland Trail Days Celebration, Podner, really is going to be well worth while. Nothing quite like it ever before has been staged in West Texas.

There are plenty of boys still residing here like Paul Barron, J. E. "Bob" Hill, Ralph Barron, L. M. Daugherty, the Cowden boys, Ed Dickenson, Addison Wadley, Dr. John B. Thomas, Marvin Ulmer.

Wallace Wimberly and others who could relate some mighty good yarns if you could just get them started. They have been here all the way and have seen Midland grow from a small town to the oil and livestock capital of the Permian Basin area of West Texas and New Mexico.

Many other special events like the fiddlers' corner square dance, Old Timers Parade, etc., will be of interest to everyone.

So, Partner, I spect we should plan to be in Midland for this big Fourth of July weekend attraction. We will see lots of old friends and the interesting events will recall many pleasant memories.

Junior Cowboys and junior cowgirls will "come a ridin'" at the World Championship Junior Rodeo in Big Spring Monday and Tuesday nights. The youngsters will compete in calf roping, bull riding, and girls' ribbon race, cloverleaf race and hat race.

The West of the Pecos event likely will attract record crowds.

Another top Fourth of July Rodeo, which always enjoys large crowds, is the annual Texas Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo at Stamford, Texas, which is held in Pecos before the turn of the century.

Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., are furnishing the stock for the Pecos attraction.

Navy Plans High Speed Tests For Midget Missiles

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Navy plans to test missile models at speeds of 7,000 miles an hour or more—twice the speed reached by weapons like the V-2, and 10 times the speed of sound.

The test models will be tiny. Their outside diameters, including fins, will be only about four-fifths of an inch. They will be fired from a 20-MM cannon barrel in a 313-foot closed tube at the White Oak, Md., Naval Ordnance Laboratory.

A reversal of that outcome—defeat of the Hollands proposal and adoption of the Lucas amendment—would rule out a vote on Taft's double-barreled plan.

Navy officials, in announcing details Saturday, said the White Oak range is unmatched anywhere. It has been three years in construction. The tube is three feet in diameter, has one-inch thick steel plate, and weighs 100 tons.

Plaque Presented To Master Farmer

PECOS.—A Master Farmer plaque was presented to Ralph Burkholder of Barstow, in absentia, by President Paul Dowling at a meeting of the Pecos Lions Club recently at the Community Center.

Burkholder, unable to attend the meeting because of illness, was presented the plaque for having been chosen master farmer in the Upper Pecos Soil Conservation District.

Search Centers In Kansas For Suspects In Thornton Slaying

DODGE CITY, KAN.—(AP)—Texas officers continued their search in this area Saturday night for a young couple sought in the slaying of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, oil field explosives expert.

Thornton's body was found on a blood-soaked road in an Amarillo tourist court Thursday morning. His skull had been fractured in two places. A shirt and towel were knotted around his neck.

The black sedan of the slain man was found abandoned near Friday night. In it were the clothing and personal papers of a young man and woman, last known persons to be seen with Thornton.

May Hays Backtrack Texas Ranger Frank Propst, one of the officers, said the couple may have headed back toward Texas or New Mexico. He said a couple took a taxi to the city limits Friday night and planned to hitchhike to Liberal, Kan., 78 miles southwest of here.

A man and woman, each described as about 22 years old, came to the Amarillo tourist camp with Thornton. They disappeared Wednesday night and so did Thornton's 1948 four door motor car. Police traced the couple to Hinton Junction, Okla., and Elk City, Okla.

The Texas Highway Patrol reported robbery may have been the motive in Thornton's slaying. They seized a large sum of money, believed taken from him and his diamond ring was missing.

King Leopold Is Major Issue In Belgian Elections

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM—(AP)—Belgians choose a new Parliament Sunday in a clash between friends and foes of King Leopold over his five-year exile.

For the first time in Belgian history, 2,930,270 women can vote, along with 270,182 men. Only a few voters will stay away from the polls, those who do may be fined up to 30 francs (about 75 cents).

Most of the new women voters are thought to be sympathetic to their handsome, blond king, who married a beautiful commoner while his country was occupied by the Germans. Many Belgians objected to the marriage, however, and many others charge he sympathized with the Germans.

Four major political parties are vying for the 212 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and the 175 in the Senate.

The biggest group, the pro-Leopold Social Christians do not pledge Leopold's return, but they do promise a referendum on the tough question. The Socialists, Communists and most Liberals oppose this.

Texas Polio—

(Continued from Page 1) Service figures—as of the week ended July 18, gives Texas 555 cases this year, 54 more than the same time a year ago. Texas reported 106 of the nation's 278 new cases last week.

The health service says September is the peak month for polio. Canon's death was the second in the Plainview clinic this year. He was admitted earlier in the week. Canon was a block foreman for Western Compress at Abilene. He was working with a wheat harvesting crew when he was stricken at Tulsa Thursday noon. His case was diagnosed as bulbar poliomyelitis.

From City Residences. Dr. Cox gave this report on San Angelo's first 100 cases: Almost a half were under five years of age. About three-fourths were under nine, 66 were males, 44 females; 92 cases were reported from city residences; only eight from rural areas.

Then-Now Display Windows Unveiled

"Then and Now"-themed store windows are being displayed by Midland merchants in support of the spirit of the approaching "Frontiers of Progress" pageant.

The Trail Days windows first were displayed Saturday. Clothing and antiques dating back almost 100 years are being seen in store and shop windows, side by side with modern articles which fill the same need.

Committee Report Lashes House Delay On Military Reform

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report Saturday blamed strong "secret enemies" for the House Army and Navy Committee "delaying" action on military reform.

The measure, heralded by the group as the key to billion-dollar-a-year savings, was approved unanimously by the Senate May 26. Three weeks later House hearings were announced, to begin on June 28.

The statement assailed the views of Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House group and long-time friend of the Navy.

It was signed by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University and chairman of the Citizens Committee, which includes two former vice presidents, John Nance Garner and Charles G. Dawes and scores of former cabinet officers, governors and leaders of industry and labor.

"This bill has the publicly avowed support of citizens of the highest caliber but apparently it also has secret enemies stronger than we know," Dr. Johnson declared, without identifying them.

"How otherwise can we account for the delay with which this bill has met in the House after it passed the Senate without a dissenting vote?"

Program Outlined For Youth Caravan Visit To Churches

Young people of the Methodist Churches in Midland, the Intermediate, senior and older youth groups, will have a week of programs starting Sunday under leadership of a Youth Caravan.

A Caravan is a team of young people, especially trained and accompanied by an adult counselor, who have volunteered for seven weeks of service. A group spends a week in each church visited, working with the local youth organizations.

In Midland the program will be carried out through the Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church and the Asbury Methodist Church. Jerelen Jowell and Mary Lynn Manning are the presidents of the respective organizations.

Introduced At Supper Caravan members were introduced at a lawn supper Saturday night in the Noel G. Oates home to pastors of both churches and the Youth Councils, which include counselors and teachers. Yearbook Plans Take Shape In Woman's Club

A meeting schedule completed, next season's program for the Midland Woman's Club is taking shape and will be ready for inclusion in the club yearbook, which committees plan to assemble early next month, Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, program chairman, reports.

The yearbook, first to be issued in several years by the Woman's Club, will include lists of member clubs, names of individual members, Woman's Club officer and committee lists, and the schedule of meetings.

Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith, Woman's Club president, announces that most of the preliminary work has been done and that workers with the various phases of preparation will meet soon to compile the material for publication.

Begins In September Mrs. Lindley Latham and Mrs. B. R. Mathews are in charge of assembling the membership lists for the book, and Mrs. Hodge is assisted on the program committee by Mrs. L. G. Byerley.

The program will start in September, when the Fine Arts Club will be hostess in Mrs. Hodge's home. For that program Mrs. Sam Greer of Tyler is scheduled to be the speaker. Mrs. Greer attended a meeting of the United Nations committee on educational, social and cultural functions last year.

The October hostess will be the Business and Professional Women's Club, and in November the Modern Study Club will entertain the Woman's Club. It has invited Mrs. L. E. Dudley of Abilene, chairman of the Fine Arts Department in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, to be the speaker.

Texas Program Planned No meeting is scheduled in December; the Altrusa Club will be hostess in January and the Woman's Wednesday Club in February. For the March meeting, the Twentieth Century Club plans a program relating to Texas Day.

Progressive Study Club members will be the April hostesses, and the garden club, which are affiliated with the Woman's Club will entertain at the last meeting of the season, in May.

It has been several years since the City County Federation of Women's Clubs, which last year changed its name to the Midland Woman's Club, has issued a yearbook. Decision to have the book for next season made it necessary to stress enrollment in the Spring this year rather than at the actual beginning of the season in the Fall, so that names can be included in the book.

Close behind the leader in the contest are Simone Walker and Landes Legge, who lack only a few books completing the course. A prize will be awarded at the end of the summer to the girl and the boy leading in the number of books read. A report is made on each book as it is finished.

Eighty children are entered in the contest, and others may still enter. It will continue until September 1.

Gold Rush Party Is Entertainment For BTU Group Members

Commemorating the centennial year of the Gold Rush of 1849, the Christ Patrol Training Union of the First Baptist Church had a "Gold Rush" party and barbecue Friday night.

The group was divided into state camps by small outlines of the states, Kentucky and Tennessee, as tags, at the church and given instructions to travel under trail instructions. The group reached California when they arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Neill, 1603 West Kentucky Street.

Debate Held The backyard was decorated with old wagon wheels, picks, shovels, and kegs denoting the forty-niner mode of life. Signs such as "Nugget Hill," "Gold Dust Trail," "Strike-It-Rich Tavern," and "Beware! Abandoned Mine" were posted around the yard.

Games carrying out the theme were played. In 1849 the question was whether or not to allow slaves in California, but in 1949 it is whether or not to allow women in California. A debate was held to decide the question in order to send the decision by pony express to Congress.

The pony express rider returned shortly to announce that Congress had admitted California into the United States as a state. In order to celebrate their victory, the forty-niners were served refreshments.

Travel Guides For Vacation Are Among Books In Library

Faraway places for vacations, and some closer home, are subjects of travel books and pamphlets available in the Midland County Library which Lucile Carroll, librarian, suggests as guides for residents planning trips this Summer.

Since travel experts emphasize that vacation enjoyment is often in proportion to advance preparation, the librarian lists guidebooks and other publications which will inform the prospective traveler of the place he plans to visit.

Of help to the vacation planner are a group of "Duncan Hines' books: The Vacation Guide, Good Places to Spend an Enjoyable Vacation, Adventures in Good Eating, and Lodging for a Night."

Starch Accessories To Keep Fresh

Lorraine Browning, New York actress, dips cotton lace collar and cuffs of her white crepe blouse into a light starch bath that gives frills a longer lease on freshness.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
A hot Summer's day at the office may "take the starch out of you" but it won't take the starch out of your frilly collar and cuff sets if you iron in that stiffening the night before.
A little cold-water starch goes a long way toward keeping young career girls in spanking white, flower-fresh accessories.
The smooth surface that light starch adds to lingerie frills helps them to resist dirt. It's a well-known fact that a starched lace collar and cuffs go twice as long un-wilted and un-matted as their cotton mates that don't get crisped up.

LITHE LINES AT SEA

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK—If every girl on the beach looks like a beauty contest winner, much of the credit will go to new bathing suit fashions.

The two styles shown are typical of the Summer fashions, designed to give nature a helping hand. Credit for flattening planes and molding curves goes to the elasticized fabrics used for both suits. The fabric seen in the strapless navy and white suit (left) is new blister-knit wool—a puffy texture which allows a style like this one to be built along classically simple lines. The blister-knit puffs are flecked with white and the scalloped top of the suit is edged with red. What gives this suit stretchability for swimming and the clinging of a second skin when it's not in motion is an elastic thread knit into the wool.

Metallic rayon-taffeta gives glamorous gleam and satin latex clinging fit to the two-piece swim suit (right). Combining with the glistening taffeta of colorful stripes are panels of solid color satin latex which give shorts their slim fit and the bandeau bra its flattering curves.

Pecos Completes Clean-Up Campaign

PECOS—Pecos is back to normal following clean-up drive that brought about excellent results. Many local persons volunteered their services and equipment last weekend to clean the city of dirt, filth, and weeds after the city council had made a plea for assistance in its fight against polio. Local dusting firms furnished airplanes for a thorough dusting of the city during the weekend. Pilots furnished their services free. All stores in the city were closed Thursday afternoon. The city council closed all swimming pools until Wednesday morning of this week. The clean-up activity came after a local physician had diagnosed the illness of a Pecos boy as being polio. The lad died later in City-County hospital at El Paso. No new cases of polio have been reported.

Soft Touch Depends On Care

By ALICIA HART NEA Staff Writer

Hands, busy with the baby buggy, vacuum and garden, can emerge from their chores looking as pampered as the next pair if care is taken to remove the traces of work-a-day tasks.

Summer hand care is based on plain common-sense principles of cleanliness, lubrication and protection. Cleanliness of course is basic. A fine soap, enriched with lanolin, if your hands are dry and flaky, lathered up in lukewarm water and put to work with a medium-bristled brush, will dislodge stubborn grease and dirt around nails and knuckles. Add a pumice stone to your soap dish for those really discoloring grass, ink, paint and chemical stains that just won't go.

Lubrication and protection come next. And here hand lotions and creams are double-barreled in effectiveness. They lubricate the skin, help to replenish oils washed away in the kitchen sink.

Lotions and creams also offer protection. A few special types form an almost impenetrable coating over fingers and hands when applied before a particularly dirt-making, greasy task. Other lotions, more commonly formulated for the beauty shelf, offer protection of a fine film, beautifying in effect, which wards off the drying action of the hot sun, hot water and hot and heavy baking.

You can work in a triple play

Hands need protection. Girl (below) works hand-in-glove in garden, but smooths on hand-lotion first (right).

with lotion if you add a "massage" as you slather on the stuff. Work over the backs and palms as though you were "wringing your hands." Shape fingertips to a point. Then clap hands together vigorously to spark up circulation.

There's a beauty assist from gloves as well as creams. Work gloves now come in two layers, neoprene outside, knit cotton or soft napped lining inside. The tough rubber is proof against abrasives, soaps, kitchen grease and water. The soft absorbent linings cancel out clammy hands, insulate you against hot dish water and work under-hand as beauty mitts if you slick on cream or lotion before you slip into the glove.

Old War Horse Has Plan All Worked Out For Checking Reds In Event Of Conflict

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(P)—I know an old soldier, retired one World War and three international riots ago, who spends his time refiguring his campaigns and keeping the mice away from his medals.

The old boy knows his trade well and loves to work out small problems like the probable daily average ha. intake of Hannibal's elephants in crossing the Alps.

I called on him the other day and found him fuming—as usual—over three big maps hung on his library walls.

"What's up now, colonel?" I asked cheerfully. "Planning a motor trip to Long Island?"

The colonel gave me his customary glare.

"In the first map I have corrected the errors made by Grant at the siege of Vicksburg," he snapped. "The second map shows my plan for seizing New York City."

How To Stop Reds

"The third map," he went on, "illustrates how we could stop the Russians at the Rhine by using the atom bomb."

"But the atom bomb is a strategic weapon, not a tactical one," I protested. "It's for knocking out enemy cities—not enemy armies."

The colonel gave me a scornful glare.

"Sonny," he said pityingly. "The way to win a war with a new weapon is to use that new weapon in every way you can."

"Suppose the Red armies attack. Everyone figures they'd overrun Europe while our fly boys were wiping out Russian cities with atom bombs."

"But how long would it take us then to get the Russian armies out of the rest of Europe? Five years? Ten years? But why concede in advance they can overrun Western Europe."

"Before they can hit for the English Channel," son, they have to cross a big wide river called the Rhine. To cross that river their army has to mass together. And whenever they mass, son, it's my idea we can hit 'em hard with atom bombs. I don't care whether you drop the bomb on 'em or shoot it over with a big gun."

"Either way you'll cost them about five square miles of an army. And I can't think of a better way to invest an atom bomb in wartime. It made sense to me."

"Colonel," I said, "I think I have been underestimating your gray hairs."

"What loses wars, son," he replied, "a head with a one-track mind, whether it's on old or young shoulders."

"Gets Under Your Skin!"

Advancing years need not rob you of romance. Away with tell-tale signs of age! Don't "camouflage" them. Try to correct them with Endocrine, the first successful hormone cream. Like Young Lovers, Take The Long Way

WOONSOCKET, R. I.—(P)—Like young lovers, Mr. and Mrs. Elphège Manseau took the long way home.

The Manseaus drove to Precious Blood Church to mark their 50th wedding anniversary.

When they came out they found their car gone. In its place friends had put a horse-drawn shay, just like the one they used to drive to their wedding.

This one was manned by a coachman, a butler and a footman, all in livery.

Manseau said: "Giddap but don't hurry."

Strange Things Happen, Strange Things Found, In Midland Post Office

By DICK VENATOR

You can lose just about anything in the Midland Post Office lobby and expect to get it returned, with one outstanding exception—your fountain pen.

It may be that the post office patron, vexed and harried by attempts to address a letter or parcel with the post office variety of pen just cannot resist the temptation to hang onto the smoothly-performing fountain pen which some person before him inadvertently left behind.

There are many items of many descriptions turned into the lost and found department of the Midland Post Office and the commonest of these is the fountain pen, according to Postmaster N. G. Oates. There are lots of inquiries about pens which the owner discovers he left behind in the post office, but not one in 50 is turned in the postmaster declared.

Oates says Oates, the public is inordinately honest, which makes it even more difficult to explain the fountain pen enigma. Should you leave your wallet, containing several bucks, in the post office lobby, the chances are very great you will get the wallet—and the bucks—back.

The Woman Tourist

Take for instance the case of the woman tourist.

This woman, California bound, stopped off at the Midland Post Office and left behind her handbag containing $480 in bills of various denominations.

A Midland resident, finding the handbag on a desk in the lobby, promptly turned it over to Oates. The postmaster identified the owner by papers found in the handbag. Checking Midland hotels and tourist bureaus with no avail, Oates was planning other strategies in an attempt to get hold of the owner when he got a telephone call from Monahan.

It was the owner of the $480, and the purse. She explained that she was headed for L. A. but not very fast, now that she had lost her cash, and added that she might have left it in the Midland Post Office lobby.

Oates assured her that the handbag with the contents intact was in his desk. She gave him an address in El Paso and the postmaster sent it to her there, by registered mail.

There are more coin purses and billfolds turned in to the lost and found department at the post office than any other item.

The procedure is to advertise the found item on the bulletin board in the lobby for 30 days. If it is not claimed then the finder may have it for his own.

If the article is not claimed by the loser or finder, after the 30-day period, it is sent to the dead parcel post branch at Fort Worth.

Naturally, Christmas is the busiest season for the lost and found department, but there isn't a week in the year which doesn't find several items turned in.

There may be something prophetic in the fact that women's right-hand gloves are no longer found in the lobby. Not so long ago, the lost and found department always kept a nice collection of these and strangely they very seldom were claimed. Now that the gloves are no longer being lost in the lobby, Oates guesses that a change in fashions has been wrought.

Sometimes Groceries

Groceries of all types, fresh meats and fruits are other items which are left regularly in the lobby, and strangely are seldom inquired about. Naturally the perishable products go into the trash barrel when they begin to spoil.

Men's trousers and women's panties just purchased at the store are frequently left on the desk in the lobby but strangely these are more quickly claimed than other articles.

Bundles of used clothing, children's dresses, socks, ribbons, imitation pearls, shoe buckles, razors, blades, cameras, hair tonic and cough medicine are a few of the items listed in the files of the post office lost and found department.

Efforts to which the post office employees go in finding the owner of lost articles are exemplified in the following case:

A parcel turned in by a person who found it in the lobby yielded a pair of "gay deceivers." Oates surmised that they were left by some shy maiden and probably wouldn't be called for. The sales slip showed them to be worth several dollars so Oates had an employe to return them to the store where they were bought.

In a few days, a young lady breezed into his office and inquired if her "gay deceivers" had been turned in to the lost and found department. He informed her they had been returned to the department store and could be picked up there.

In April of this year, a small but expensive camera was found in the lobby by a Midlander who turned it over to the postmaster.

Part of the film had been exposed and the postmaster had it developed to determine if any of the subjects in the prints could be recognized.

Owner Shows Up

Although no one in the post office recognized any of the persons in the pictures, the owner of the camera came in to claim it before the lost and found department was put to any more effort toward identification.

Several ladies' wrist watches have been turned in, but no men's watches. Oates said this probably was due to the fact that the catch on ladies' watch bands is very delicate and easy to be jarred loose, while the type worn by men is built for more durable use.

A Crane resident one day left a billfold in the Midland Post Office lobby. It contained $25 and a blank check, issued by a Crane bank. A woman's name was embossed on the billfold. Oates telephoned the bank at Crane, who in turn advised the woman that her billfold and money were awaiting her at Midland. This, of course, entailed no smart detective work, but just illustrates the extra efforts to which the post office employes will go to find the owner of these lost articles. Oates started working at a win-into the street where it was permitted to burn up.

Business As Usual

The fire department was not notified because the lobby has a tile floor and wouldn't burn anyway. The place was filled with smoke which soon cleared out and within a few minutes business went on as usual.

Oates says that several years ago a toughie who had a bad reputation in these parts after having shot several folks, came to the window and inquired about a pair of mail order shoes which he figured should be due.

He was informed there was no package for him. Undaunted, the bad boy said he knew that those shoes had time to be here and that if he didn't get them someone was going to go. Shot.

After much persuasion, he was convinced that he shouldn't shoot anyone in Uncle Sam's post office, so he agreed to go on the outside, but vowed if he didn't get those shoes before closing time there was going to be trouble.

He kept a vigil in front of the post office until shortly before closing time and then wandered off, much to the relief of the clerks inside.

Midland Stores Named Lenox China Dealers

The Lenox China Company of Trenton, N. J., has announced the appointment of Vosatko's Jewelry and Kruger's Jewelry, both of Midland, as exclusive dealers for the popular and well-known Lenox China. Each store will handle separate patterns of the chinaware exclusively.

Lenox ware first came into nationwide prominence when it was chosen by President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson as the official dinnerware for the White House. It again was chosen by the Franklin D. Roosevelt and still is in the White House and on President Truman's yacht, company officials said.

The demand for Lenox China has been and is widespread throughout the world. The Midland dealers invite Permian Basin residents to see the patterns on display in their stores.

Feedbags Used To Make Many Accessories

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK—Latest fashion triumph of the feedbag is its Cinderella conquest of the accessory field.

The grain, flour or poultry feedbag which spreads its floral charms over the ribs of umbrellas and makes gay basket-bags, head scarves and wrap-around stoles, proves that the empty sack is worth salvaging.

Whether the home sewer gets the bag blown free of dust or thoroughly cleaned, the cloth it yields is fine cotton fabric. Available at large or small city grocery or rural stores in as many print patterns as counter-bought-cottons, the feedbag's advantage over cotton in the bolt is its slashed price tag.

As a result, Summer accessories in the bag are limited only by the ingenuity of the little woman who pulls them out. Two 100-pound bags will make her a ruffled parasol. There'll be enough fabric left from the sunshade to make a draw-string basket bag. The basket comes courtesy of a strawberry crate, stained or painted to disguise its origin.

Only one 100-pound bag is needed to make a sweeping plaid stole. If thread-pulled at the ends, the stole will supply its own fringe.

Another feedbag of any print or color will yield a head scarf that requires only the squaring off and hemming of a 50-pound sack to make a small kerchief. A 100-pound bag will, of course, make a scarf of whopping size.

Fashion's salvage of cotton feed bags yielded these stylized print accessories. Small head kerchief (upper left) was easiest home-conversion job. Self-fringed plaid stole (center left) was made from 100-pound sack. Two sackcloths made the ruffled parasol and strawberry basket-bag carried by pretty rowboat passenger (below).

Highway Engineer Urges Motorists To Heed Traffic Signs

AUSTIN—Would you drive with your head tucked under the dashboard of your car?

It's as sensible to do that, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said, as to ignore warning signs along the streets and highways. "Either one represents a case of flying blind," Greer said, "and cars aren't equipped for blind flying."

The Texas Highway Department is cooperating with the Texas Safety Association in an effort to impress the importance of traffic markers on motorists and pedestrians alike.

"Traffic signs and signals and pavement markings cover almost every situation which can be anticipated, yet the regularity with which they are ignored is appalling," Greer said. "Observance of traffic signs will help greatly to reduce traffic accidents."

Distinctive Shapes
Greer pointed out that traffic signs are easily recognized by their distinctive shapes, even at a distance which makes their lettering illegible.

"Round markers are used to indicate approaches to railroad crossings," he said. "The familiar 'cross-buck' marks the crossing itself. Ob-long signs indicate speed limits or other regulatory instructions. Diamond shaped signs warn of danger ahead. Eight-sided signs are used only for stop signs."

The highway engineer emphasized that every sign has a meaning and a purpose, and is installed for the protection and guidance of the people only after study by traffic engineers has established its advisability.

Airline Hearing Is Scheduled July 18

A Civil Aeronautics Board hearing on its "show cause" orders affecting Midland service of the American and Pioneer Airlines will be held at 10 a. m. July 18 in Austin, the Midland Chamber of Commerce was advised Saturday. Examiner James A. Verner will conduct the hearing.

The CAB several weeks ago ordered American to show cause why it should not discontinue service to Midland for a five-year period. Pioneer must show cause why it should receive a permanent operating certificate or an extension to its present temporary permit.

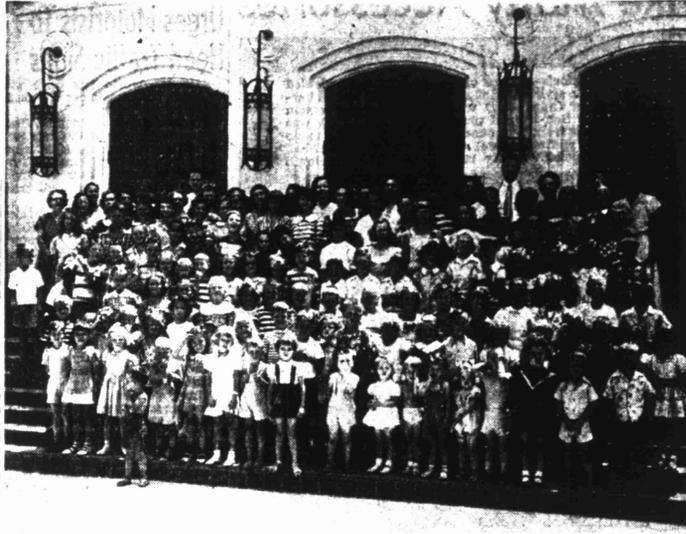

The Midland Chamber of Commerce is intervening in both cases and will be represented at the Austin hearing. Manager Delbert Downing stated. The Chamber the last several weeks has been gathering information from individuals and business firms concerning the usage of commercial airline service in and out of Midland. The information will be presented in brief form at the hearing in Austin.

Needed Service
Stanley M. Erskine, chairman of the Chamber's Aeronautics Committee, said Midland and the Permian Basin area definitely need both American and Pioneer service in the normal conduct of business and that everything possible will be done to see that present airline operations at Midland Air Terminal are not disturbed. Continental Air Lines also serves Midland and vicinity, making Midland the commercial airline center of the Permian Basin area.

American Airlines is opposing the proposed order to discontinue service to Midland. The Odessa Chamber of Commerce also will submit briefs supporting both American and Pioneer Airlines at the hearing.

Here's A New Strawberry Special

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Before the local strawberry season ends, celebrate with this new recipe:

Strawberry Pinwheel Shortcake (6 servings)
One and one-half cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1 egg, beaten, 1/3 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter or fortified margarine, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1 quart strawberries.

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and two tablespoons sugar. Cut shortening into flour until mixture is like coarse corn meal. Add beaten egg and milk all at once and mix lightly. Pat out dough on a floured board into a 9-inch square. Spread dough with melted butter or margarine.

Mix together 1/2 cup sugar and the grated orange rind; sprinkle on dough. Roll as for jelly roll; cut into six slices. Arrange biscuits, cut side up, around edge of lightly greased heat-resistant glass fluted pie plate, 10-inch size. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for about 25 minutes.

Wash and hull strawberries. When biscuits are cool, heap fresh strawberries in center of pie plate for serving. Serve with or without cream.

Here is a good summer luncheon dish to serve with sliced cold meat. It can be made from quickly cooked macaroni simmered in chicken broth and its flavor heightened by chopped watercress.

French Macaroni (4 servings)

Eight ounces elbow macaroni, 1 cup well-seasoned chicken broth, 1/4 cup butter, 1 bunch watercress, 1/2 cup grated Parmesan-type cheese.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until barely tender, about 5 minutes. Drain well. Place in saucepan and add chicken broth and butter. Mix well and let simmer, uncovered, over low heat until the broth has been absorbed, about 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, cut off watercress stems and save for use in soup stock. Coarsely cut the watercress leaves. When ready to serve, add cheese and watercress leaves to macaroni. Toss lightly to mix well and serve immediately.

Sun Glasses Cut Down Night Vision

The pro and con on wearing sunglasses in front of the TV set is still in that controversial stage, but most other pro and con arguments on sunglasses have been settled for good.

Catch Slowly That Prexy, Lieutenants Won't Tell Secrets

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congressmen have been slow to catch on that they can't make the President or his lieutenants give them the information he doesn't think should be made public.

One of the most familiar headlines of recent years reads: "Congress Committee Demands Confidential Data." Usually it involves material obtained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Last year the big case was that of the FBI letter to the Secretary of Commerce regarding a loyalty check on Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the Bureau of Standards.

A few weeks ago the Senate subcommittee on Immigration demanded that the Justice Department produce its files in 188 persons, most of whom were connected with the United Nations and foreign governments. The attorney general declined to deliver the files. He agreed, however, to reply to certain questions about the 188 persons, and the committee accepted the compromise.

The argument started when George Washington was president. Seventeen presidents have had to thrash out the matter with their Congresses. Every one of them won Congress has never forced the issue once a president has taken a determined stand.

At the heart of the question is the doctrine of the supremacy of the three branches of the federal government in their own fields. None can give orders to the others in matters which the Constitution, the laws or legal precedent leave to the others' discretion. The long established principle is that the president can withhold from Congress any information if publication, in his opinion, would be contrary to the public interest.

Congressmen debating the issue have often asked: "Why should the President be the sole judge of what should or should not be made public?" Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) violently objected when in 1930 President Hoover refused to furnish the Senate with various data concerning the drafting of the London Naval Treaty in 1930. His point was that the Senate and president were partners in the treaty-making process, and pertinent documents were the joint property of the two partners.

The argument on the other side has been that the president is the only feasible person to make the decision. If Congress were to insist on reading the material at their leisure, the release had damaged the public interest, the harm would have been done.

What can compel a president to produce documents he thinks ought to be kept secret? The only way of doing it. The courts can't force the president to exercise his judgment one way or another. The only thing Congress could do would be to impeach him, and to the average citizen idea is politically inconceivable. Strong public opinion would be aroused on behalf of a chief executive pilloried in his fight to prevent the release of information he believed would injure the nation.

Suppose Congress should manage to impeach and have imprisoned for contempt a department head who had refused its demands? The president could immediately pardon him, for the pardoning power is unrestricted. Nevertheless, the issue has been raised ever more frequently in recent years. The nation has never before had so many secrets it wished to guard, such as the atomic energy program and the far-reaching FBI investigations of communist spy activities.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt repeatedly came to grips with Congress on the issue between 1941 and 1944. The battles were mostly over FBI reports and the records of the Federal Communications Commission. Mr. Roosevelt finally had the controversial FCC records transferred to the White House files so that Congress would have to call on him personally to produce them. This was a device that President Theodore Roosevelt used. The Senate in 1909 tried to force the head of the Bureau of Corporations to hand over certain documents relating to an anti-trust case. The long struggle over the matter ended when TR ordered the bureau chief to hand the documents to him for safe keeping. President Truman took the same action in the Condon case, directing the secretary of commerce to send the disputed FBI letter to the White House files.

In many of the disputes the presidents were seeking to preserve the secrecy of foreign relations. It was such an issue that George Washington faced in 1796, when the House requested him to give certain inside information concerning the negotiation of the Jay Treaty, establishing peace with England.

Two-Part Panty Cuts Diaper Detail

CLEVELAND—(NEA)—In the matter of baby diapers a certain amount of change is inevitable. But a Cleveland inventor has produced a fundamental change in baby's diapers which, in the end, should make more comfortable the swaddling days of every mother's son—and daughter.

James H. Rand, III, working in his converted stable laboratory at Bratenahl, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, has developed a radically new disposable diaper said to be longer-wearing, more sanitary, more comfortable than anything previously developed in its line.

The Rand diaper consists of a plastic outer "envelope" into which is inserted a newly-developed, highly absorbent pad of non-woven cellulose cloth and similar materials. The diaper and pad are so designed that they scarcely touch the baby's tender skin at any place except the waistline. And the pad is chemically treated to absorb hurriedly and carry away from the baby's skin the wetness which so often causes diaper rash and bladder infections.

Rand tackled the problem at the request of Dr. Charles M. McKhann, head of Babies and Children's Hospital in Cleveland, and professor pediatrics at Western Reserve University.

"It was just about the pickiest job we've ever tackled," says Rand with a grin. "The first thing we had to do, believe it or not," Rand says, "was to measure the bottoms of hundred of babies. Strange as it seems, nobody apparently had previously taken such measurements. At least there weren't any figures available on them."

Plans made in these sessions will be reported in a general meeting at 7:15 p.m. Friday, and the week's schedule will close with a service of dedication at 8:30 p.m.

Nation To Thrive Must Feed People
NEW DELHI—(AP)—How can a nation thrive if it can not feed all its people? In the second year of her independence, India finds this question looming ever larger. Agriculture Minister Jairamdas Daulatram put it bluntly to the legislative assembly recently: "Unless the agricultural wealth increases there is no foundation for further progress."

PUPPY FEEDS FISH
LEWISTON, MONT.—(AP)—A gun club put a mud puppy—a young salamander—into a small aquarium with the idea that the creature's transformation into a salamander would be an interesting exhibition. But they reckoned without a Loch Leven trout and a Rainbow trout in the same tank. The mud puppy turned into supper for the trout long before he could change into a salamander.

In dividing recipes so as to make fewer portions remember that there are three teaspoons in a tablespoon and four tablespoons in a quarter of a cup. If it is ever necessary to divide an egg beat the yolk and white together then divide by spoonfuls; a large egg will measure about four tablespoons.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Dr. Edward Condon writes human masterpiece regarding his wife; Bureau of Standards chief asks J. Edgar Hoover to let his wife answer FBI questions; Care is requested in future FBI reports.

WASHINGTON—Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards, whose wife was smeared in an FBI report made public in the Judith Coplon trial, has written J. Edgar Hoover a letter which may be one of the great human documents of the year.

Dr. Condon publicly had demanded that Hoover apologize for the wrong done his wife, but in his later letter to Hoover he withdrew the demand for an apology, though continuing to press for a full investigation of the unchecked gossip. Dr. Condon's letter, so far unpublished, states:

"Dear Mr. Hoover:
"On Saturday and Sunday, angered and hurt by the unjust and unfair allusions to my wife contained in an 'unevaluated' FBI report which was made public in connection with a court trial last week, I issued statements to the press in which I demanded an apology from you.
"I would like to assure you that these statements grew solely out of the spontaneous anger natural to any man on seeing the name of his wife sullied in the press through official documents implying improper conduct, through their distortion of an innocent and normal act. I believe that you can appreciate and sympathize with my reactions.

"It is apparent, however, that you could not reply to my statements because the injury is irreparable by any apology, because it would be impossible to remedy the sufferings that many have undergone, including myself, as a result of similar operations, and because there is the possibility that any reply from you might be pertinent to a court matter. In the light of these, I regret any inconvenience that I may have caused you.

Urges Care And Caution
"The fact that the present unfortunate events did take place does emphasize, it seems to me, the need for care and caution in connection with investigatory procedures. I have repeatedly pointed out the importance of proper investigations and proper security measures and, for example, I have held again and again that the President's loyalty program is a splendid and excellent thing.

"But the care and caution which I mention are crucial if we are to attain the ends which we seek and, indeed, if we are not to jeopardize that very thing—our free and democratic country—which we value above all else."
"In this connection, I do not believe that the welfare of our nation is served when slanderous material about decent Americans becomes a part of official documents used as though the contents were truly factual and evaluated.

"Are you aware, with all the enormous amount of effort that has been spent on investigating Mrs. Condon and myself as a result of malicious and vindictively-motivated false alarms, that not one of your agents come around to see either Mrs. Condon or myself, either to interrogate us or to get straightened out on some point or other?"

"And this is so in spite of the fact that I have repeatedly offered to cooperate fully with any fairly-conducted investigation. I know, as a matter of fact, that your files on Mrs. Condon and myself are shot through with errors with regard to easily ascertainable facts. We would be glad to go over all of this material with your agents in order to get it straight.

"Having never met you personally, I look forward to meeting you, if you wish, and to discussing these or other matters which may be of mutual or general interest.

No Animus For Hoover
"I would like to assure you that I am writing you in a friendly and cooperative way, and I would like to confess that one of the reasons that I have addressed you so frankly and openly is the article entitled 'The Challenge,' which you wrote for the Sunday magazine section called 'This Week.'

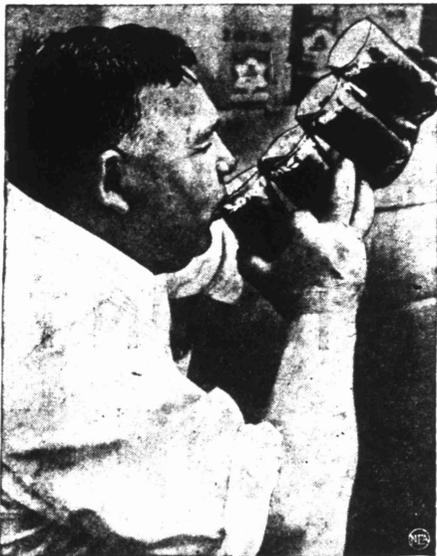

"When I read this fine piece, beginning with the quotation from the Prophet Micah—'What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?'—and ending with your sentences—'These three simple phrases set up an indestructible guidepost for human conduct. In clear and simple words they establish the essentials of decency. All are of the spirit—justice, mercy, humility—when I read these, moved by their profound truth and applicability in this troubled world, I felt that you would not mind a simple, frank and friendly letter discussing matters that weigh heavily on my heart, not merely in personal terms, though I am vulnerable enough like all mankind to feel anger and sorrow over unjustified aspersions, but in terms of that freedom and democracy which we cherish."

Note—It is not known outside the Justice Department, but it was either an ironic twist of fate or a deliberate trick by some FBI subordinate that put the Condon files into the Judith Coplon case. They had no relevance whatsoever, and were not in the files which the attorney general had read in advance.

However, when the stack of FBI reports turned up in court, the Condon report strangely was included among them. The FBI explanation given to higher-ups is that the Condon papers got stuck in a paper clip behind another report. Insiders can't help but consider it strange that one of the most efficient bureaus in Washington would let so secret and highly important a document get mislaid in such a way that it would turn up in court.

Under The Dome
President Truman is blistering mad at his Council of Economic Advisers for its refusal to endorse the Brannan farm program. Dr. Nourse says the Brannan plan is "political," feels the council should remain above politics. Mr. T. got such good reports from the Democratic farm rally at Des Moines last week he has decided to hold a Democratic labor meeting in September—right in the home town of the chief author of the Taft-Hartley Act—Cincinnati.

Bottoms Up!

A little wine instead of coffee starts the day off with a bang for Leo Young, 55-year-old Brooklyn trucker. Claiming to eat even more than "Diamond Jim" Brady, Leo leads off an average meal with consomme and an antipasto, wraps himself around a 5 1/2-pound steak with plenty of french fries, topped off with a slice of lemon meringue pie. A few more steaks provide the hefty heavyweight with hors d'oeuvres and a cup of coffee royal gets him out of his chair. Leo claims bowling keeps him trim.

SHACKLE PROFITS

AND YOU

INVITE NATIONAL SUICIDE

It's a pretty serious indictment of something or other—these questionable influences at work to put a ball and chain on U. S. Business.

Take all this talk, for example, about dictating how much profit a business can earn—after taxes.

That road leads to one inevitable end—a wreckage pile of business, the like of which this nation has never witnessed.

There are today, in this country, three and a half million businesses. The largest number of businesses, small, medium, and large in the nation's history.

Against all the odds, despite all the resistance, business is the only major department in our entire American economy that is self-supporting.

And the simple, honest reason is that U. S. Businessmen have the brains and "know-how" and guts to start business, and keep business going at a profit, taking all the risks of loss that must be taken under our Profit and Loss System.

The only countries in the world who even come close to our wages and prices, do so with money and men borrowed from the U. S.

Why then, do you hear among businessmen, today, expressions of mounting discontent? Why the growing reluctance to start a business? Why so often the remark — "What's the use, the reward is no longer worth the risk?"

The answer to that is clear, and two-fold.

Every schoolboy knows that the incentive back of every business is profit. When that incentive is throttled—business dies. Those who are plotting this country's future by ignoring its past, may well take note.

Secondly—every one of the 18 million shareholders in U. S. Business, the real owners of business, bought those shares under the self-same incentive—to receive a profit. Take away the ability to pay that profit—and there will be no investors in U. S. Business.

If you need further warning—take a look around the world. To England, where the only incentive is mere subsistence, where a man earns all his ration cards permit him to spend in four days of work. To Russia, where the State demands all the profit—and the only incentive is the threat of a forced-labor camp—starvation and death.

We'd better take more than a serious look at this one. Because just about every man, woman and child in our country is concerned with this problem of whether business lives or dies.

One fact is clear, unmistakably clear. If you throttle profits, the number one source out of which business provides itself with the means of progress—you invite national suicide. That's the most serious danger this nation has to face.

Church Now Holds 'Drive-In' Service

RISEING SUN, IND. —(AP) The Rising Sun Baptist Church collapsed in April while being repaired. So the congregation arranged for drive-in services each Sunday evening during the Summer in the town park.

The first service was attended by about 200 persons who sat in their parked cars while the Rev. Louis L. Day conducted services with a refreshment stand as a pulpit. "Now we are all in church," he told his parishioners. "Let us respect it as if we were in one of the world's most costly cathedrals. Let there be no smoking for the next hour, and if you have a chew of tobacco in your mouth please park it on a stump somewhere. Nothing will disturb it, not even a billy goat. After the service is over you can go back and get it."

Daddy Ringtail And Huffen Puffen Laughs

The Huffen Puffen is a friendly wolf. He lives there in the Great Forest, and this morning early he was walking along and walking along the Elephant Path, going to see Daddy Ringtail at the monkey house.

The Huffen laughed and chuckled while he walked. He was laughing and chuckling all about. "Are you happy because you're the Huffen Puffen?" Daddy Ringtail asked.

"Oh, I am the Huffen Puffen. I am, I am!" said the Huffen. But that isn't what he was laughing about. He said it wasn't, while he laughed and chuckled some more. Daddy Ringtail laughed to hear him. "Maybe you're happy because you're a very important fellow?" Said the Huffen. "Oh, I am a very important fellow. I am, I am, but that isn't why I'm laughing and chuckling today, it isn't." And the Huffen bent over double with his happy laughing. As soon as he could tell it, he would, he said. Just let him finish with his laughing about it.

Daddy Ringtail stood very still to listen when the Huffen was ready to tell him. This is what the Huffen said: "Daddy Ringtail, yesterday was June 25th, it was." And the Huffen went on to say that six months away—next December 25th—comes the day that is Christmas Day. That is what he was laughing and chuckling with a thought about. Christmas Day was only six months away! Oh, six months is a long, long time, I know, but the Huffen didn't care. He said he was going out all day and say a "Happy Christmas" to everyone. With it, of course, he'll try to be kind and gentle to everyone. Everyone tries to be kind and

From Adjutant General To Station Attendant

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Former Texas Adjutant General Harry Knox, who held down a $10,000-a-year job as aide to W. Lee O'Daniel when the latter was in the U. S. Senate, is now the lone, night attendant at a suburban filling station.

His title is night manager, but he is the whole shebang. He wipes the windshields, fills up the gas tanks, checks the tires. He changes oil and fixes flats.

The 48-year-old former Brownwood wholesale merchant, one-time chairman of the Texas State Board of Control and in charge of vast expenditures of tax funds, is philosophical.

His salary is $50 a week. He works from 11 p. m. to 8 a. m. His wife and 14-year-old daughter tip-toe lightly about their apartment during the day while he gets his sleep.

Interviewed at his home shortly before his "breakfast" the other evening, he said:

"You know, when I come home now with my $50, I feel good. I sure enough feel like one of the common citizens."

He paused for a moment, then added with a grin:

"And I'm not saying that for any public effect."

Happened To Cross

Knox was the typical, small city wholesale merchant until his path and O'Daniel's happened to cross. The latter was selling flour. When O'Daniel decided to run for governor, Knox was one of his first and most enthusiastic supporters. He still is.

When the establish flour salesman entered the Governor's mansion at Austin, he picked Knox as his Adjutant General. Then the Brownwood merchant served for six years on the State Board of Control. Meanwhile, O'Daniel came to Washington as a senator. At the expiration of Knox's term on the Board of Control he came up to head the senator's secretarial staff. With O'Daniel gone from the national political scene, Knox looked about for another job. He applied for a job at the Agriculture Department, Commerce Department and other government agencies.

He said he had proper Civil Service credentials and a "strong endorsement" from both Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, and from Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo. The latter represents the district which includes Brownwood. Incidentally, Knox made an unsuccessful race for Congress when Fisher was elected for his first term, in 1942.

"It seems that every time I tried for a job," he continued, "they'd find there was no vacancy for a man of my qualifications."

"One agency executive remarked, 'I learned, that I wouldn't touch that man with a 40-foot pole.' Another sent word to one of my endorsers that they couldn't take me on because O'Daniel had caused them so much trouble."

"That's not official, but I know perfectly well that the reason I couldn't get a government job was because of my affiliation with O'Daniel."

Satisfied that he wouldn't be able to get on the government payroll, Knox then began to look elsewhere for work.

He says he hopes eventually to retire to a farm or ranch along the shores of Lake Brownwood, but that right now he wants to stay in Washington and pay off a mortgage on a six family-unit apartment house he acquired a year and a half ago.

The red-brick three-story building is located directly across the street from the Supreme Court lawn and next to the big apartment building which O'Daniel owned while he was in the Senate. Knox declined to state what he paid for his property, but said he wouldn't sell it for $50,000.

"For Your Home"

"I'm paying it off in regular payments just like you'd pay for your home," he added.

"I figure I'll have it paid off in 13 1/2 years. No, the rents I get from the five apartments we rent out isn't enough to take care of the payments and upkeep."

Knox says he plans to acquire a filling station of his own, when he finds one he can lease at a reasonable figure.

The station he operates is owned by a major oil company. He thinks the financial risk is too great for an individual to build a big expensive filling station of his own. The experience he is getting now, which even includes scrubbing the oil spots off of a concrete parking apron during the "free hours of the morning, will come in handy when and if he does take over a station for himself, he figures.

Answering a parting question about politics, he said he personally never intends to run again for public office. He inferred, however, that perhaps he would like some day to again be in a good appointive position.

"You know," he added, "there is talk that O'Daniel might run for governor again."

"Maybe he ought to. The expenses of the Texas state government have risen to three and a half times what they were when he was governor."

Around the Capital:

Those who think of a stuff-shirt, big-waisted old man when you mention the word "congressmen" would drastically change their concept if they could attend such an affair as the recent Texas State Society picnic in Rock Creek Park.

Many of the Texas legislators, particularly those with families, were on hand with their picnic baskets. They included Wichita Falls Congressman Ed Gossett with his wife and their five youngsters, the oldest of whom is 8. It was the first time many of the legislators had seen all of each other's families.

Before and after the supper, which was spread out on the ground, they organized two scrub baseball teams.

Rep. Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth and Grapevine, who has two boys and two girls, the oldest of whom is 8, played a fast game at first base. He was dressed in a left-over pair of his old GI pants and tie-less blue shirt. Heaviest hitter and best player, notwithstanding a lame ankle which was shot in the war, was Rep. Olin (Tiger) Teague of College Station. His two Scout-age boys played on the opposite side, while his little daughter cheered both teams. Rep. Albert

Thomas of Houston, on hand with his family, umpired.

The Texas State Society which has gone in for square dancing, planned a moonlight cruise on the Potomac River as its next event.

....

The Rev. F. H. Rayward, Methodist minister of Sydney, Australia, who recently received an honorary degree at Southern Methodist University, is enthusiastic about Texas.

Enroute back to his homeland he stopped in Washington and was escorted about by Robert Nesbitt, local representative of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce.

Frequently as they walked about in the Capitol he spoke with praise of the places he had seen in Texas and the people he had met. In Galveston one Sunday, he filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church where Dr. Wilfred R. Johnson is pastor. Dr. Johnson at the time was away on a visit to Australia.

Recent visitors here included George H. Lacy, chief civil engineer with the Gulf Oil Company at Houston; W. G. Boyd and son of Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Rawlins and Lauree Lee Jones, Leveland; Fredling Helm, Plainview; Agatha Turner, William L. Adair, Nell Adair, Ken Hancock, all of Lubbock; Judge Walton S. Morrison of Big Spring; Judge Alton Chapman and Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. J. H. Hutchinson, all of Floydada; Sam P. Allen of Wayland College, Plainview, who was in charge of a group which included Mori Hiratani, Mildred Patterson, Alerina White, Wayland students and George Morris and Gwendolyn Stinnett, both Texas Tech students.

Shintful Goings On

Wallace Wender gave a new twist to the Adam's rib gag when Chicago doctors used a bone graft from his shin to heal an old injury of his wife, Jean. Now, both are wearing casts, but if operation's a success they'll be off soon.

Air Conditioning Installed In Boat

DENISON —(AP)— Texans, who have air-conditioned about everything but the great outdoors, have done it to a boat now.

A Denison firm air-conditioned a 40-foot cabin cruiser owned by John Powell, retired businessman, who likes to fish in Lake Texoma.

It was close work—a "squeeze play" in the tight quarters of the craft. But it brought the temperature down 20 degrees lower than outside.

PLINT, MICH. —(AP)— Bongo, a ringtailed monkey, is a hero in town here.

When a second floor fire broke out in the Joseph Potvin home, Bongo was rescued by his master. But he wouldn't stay rescued, Potvin said.

As soon as he was free outside, Bongo dashed back into the house. Potvin, though clearly outdistanced, re-entered in pursuit. He met Bongo sliding down the baluster, in his arms his prized possession, a black cloth lamb.

CHICAGO —(AP)— "Coffee and" cost Alfred Ellis $282.05. It was the "and" that proved expensive.

Ellis, who owns a store, bought a cup of coffee in a nearby soda fountain, returned to his place and drank it. Thus far he was out five cents. Then he brought back the cup and saucer to his store. While he was out, quick thieves took $282 from his cash register.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—You think Kilroy gets around? He's a piker. Scrawled on the Sphinx in Egypt are some shorthand hieroglyphics. Translated, they read: Morris I. Kilgman.

Deep in the dungeon of the Castle of Chillon in Switzerland are some scrawly marks. Like the Sphinx's copy, they mean: Morris I. Kilgman.

In a sweltering hotel on the island of Bali, the guest register is signed with the same shorthand signature: Morris I. Kilgman.

Egyptians, Swiss and Balinese may wonder who is this Morris I. Kilgman—that is, if they can read shorthand. Actually, the man who out-Kilroys Kilroy is a crack New York court stenographer, who's devoted his annual three-month vacation for the past 19 years to travel.

Kilgman Was There During that time, he's trekked 1,000,000 miles across five continents and through more than 30 countries. Wherever he goes, he drops into local courts to see how the other half scrivens, and to leave his way John Hancock as a memento that Kilgman was there.

At 39, Kilgman is an official court reporter for the U. S. district court. Right now, he's busy writing 50,000 words a day in the trial of the 11 Communist leaders.

Court reporters in other countries lead a different life. In Bali, Kilgman discovered his counterparts sit on the bench beside the judge and, after taking down the testimony, instructs the judge what sentence to pass.

A court reporter who can step up his speed as fast as 300 words a minute, as Kilgman often does, must keep his hand flexible even while holidaying. So he takes along novels printed entirely in shorthand.

Robinson Crusoe During one Mediterranean cruise, he was sprawled in a deck-chair reading a shorthand "Robinson Crusoe." The lady in the next chair, glancing over his shoulder, wondered if that stuff there was Arabic.

She wouldn't believe his explanation that it was shorthand. To convince her, and the other spectators, Kilgman got a copy of the English version of Defoe's novel from the ship's library.

Then, with cocktails bet and a committee of three sitting in judgment, Kilgman and the lady read the same passages of the novel aloud—he from his copy, she from the regulation one.

Not only did Kilgman convince the judges and the skeptical lady that he was, indeed, reading "Robinson Crusoe" in shorthand, but he read it faster than she read the English.

Went To Seance This feat was nothing to a man who has been through what Kilgman has. Once, dressed formally, he reported a swank Park Avenue seance, but the spirits weren't in a dictating mood. In Sing Sing, he jotted down the testimony of a murderer awaiting the chair in death row.

He was stumped once by a witness. Testifying in an auto accident case, she was asked what the automobile tire sounded like when it blew out.

Sticking her tongue between her lips, she blew a mighty blast, creating a raucous sound taught by no shorthand school in the universe.

Solemnly, Kilgman noted: "The witness answered with a Bronx cheer."

Lab Landing Strip To Aid Research

PITTSBURGH—A vest-pocket "landing strip" designed to fit into a laboratory, soon will help Air Force engineers find out what happens to the tires of a high-speed plane when it lands.

The miniature "runway" will be capable of duplicating landings at speeds up to 250 miles an hour. It will be installed in a U. S. Air Force laboratory at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

The "landing strip" is a steel flywheel seven feet in diameter and about three feet wide. The control unit and motor will be built by the Westinghouse Electric Corp. here.

Monarchists Still Dream In Bavaria

MUNICH—(P)—Diehard monarchists still dream of reviving a south-German kingdom of Bavaria. Their king would be Crown Prince Rupprecht, 80-year-old son of Bavaria's last reigning king, Ludwig.

Ludwig lost his throne in 1918, along with all other royal German rulers in the post-war collapse of Kaiser Wilhelm's imperial Reich.

Since then Bavaria has been just another German state. Its governors were elected, not born, into office. Its once rich and powerful monarch seemed to be only a dead relic of an age gone by—fit only for museums which its castles had become.

But the loyal followers of the throne continue to dream. They gave a convincing demonstration of this recently when Crown Prince Rupprecht celebrated his 80th birthday. Thousands of people from all over Bavaria turned out to pay him homage. Celebration turned into a series of truly royal receptions.

The monarchists made one big political attempt recently to realize their dreams. In the confusion of Germany's second defeat they sensed a chance to recoup what they had lost in the first world war. In 1946, they formed a political party. They called it the "Koenigsparlei," or "king's party."

Almost overnight 10,000 persons from the city of Munich alone rallied to the royal colors. All over Bavaria the movement spread.

U. S. Military Government soon stepped in and banned the party on the grounds that it had become a "playground for fascist elements."

Party or no party, however, the monarchist dream continued to smolder. Monarchists and monarchist sentiment emerged in several other parties. Strongest supporter of Bavarian monarchism now is the Bavarian Party, a minor but growing organization which exploits the traditional desire of Bavarians to be independent from all the rest of Germany.

Dog Can't Read, Clergy Laughs

LONDON—(P)—What kind of a joke gives a preacher a real belly laugh?

This one made clergymen, including the Archbishop of Canterbury, guffaw for three full minutes after it was told to the annual Church of England Assembly of Clergymen and Laymen.

A woman bought a drinking bowl for her dog. The clerk asked if she wanted the word "dog" painted on it.

"No thanks," said the woman. "My husband doesn't drink water and the dog can't read."
