Organized Labor Whets Political Knife For Solons

WASHINGTON —(P)— Organized labor Saturday sharpened its political knife for senators who voted for the Taft labor proposals last week—and whose terms expire next year.

CIO President Philip Murray called on his 6,000,000 claimed members to start a campaign of political action now to "remove the obstructionists."

The Administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act was wiped out when the Senate adopted a series of amendments offered by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

In a letter front-paged by the weekly CIO News, Murray declared CIO's "scorn, contempt and unalterable opposition" to the "cynical and short-sighted men" in Congress who, he said, defied what he termed the voters' mandate to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act.

An AFL headquarters, a spokesman called attention to a conference opening July 27 of AFL's political arm, Labor's League for Political Education. It will talk 1950 strategy, he said, adding:

"We won't talk about individualism. But it should be pretty clear: what our move will be."

Army Goes To Voters

In earlier statements, Murray and AFL President William Green indicated they have yielded all hope of salvaging President Truman's labor program this year. Both said they will take the issue directly to the voters.

A tally of senators "for labor" and "against labor" was carried by The Machinist, organ of the International Association of Machinists, Independent. Thirteen of the "against" had asterisks by their names—

The 13 are: Fulbright (D-Ark), Millikin (R-Colo), Baldwin (R-Ore), George (D-Ga), Caperton (R-Ind), Eisenhower (R-Iowa), Reed (R-Kan), Tydings (D-Md), Donnell (R-Mo), Hoot (D-Mo), Young (R-ND), Taft (R-Ohio), and Curney (R-SD).

Baldwin is leaving the Senate in December, however, to accept a judicial appointment in Connecticut.

From this score card you can tell your friends from your enemies. The Machinist told I.A.M.'s 600,000 members.

Money Bill May Receive Blue-Pencil

AUSTIN —(P)— Indications grew Saturday that the governor's veto would be used as a stop-gap way out of the state's money problem.

It was believed widely Governor Jester would blue-pencil the money the Legislature voted elementary institutions for the second year of the next fiscal biennium. It would give the institutions funds starting next September.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert testified Saturday that the state has enough money to pay for the judiciary, departmental and elementary appropriations.

Governor Gets Bills

These bills went to the governor, leaving the road open for his expected veto of enough money in one of them—probably the elementary balance until the Legislature can meet again to tackle the fiscal problem on a long-range basis.

Belief also increased that any such long-range solution would include new taxes or force sharp curtailment of state services.

Jester said he would take no action on the money bills until Monday. The comptroller said he would not set on the last big bill before him—that for state colleges—until Tuesday. That would give Jester his opportunity to chop one of the certified bills down to fit revenue, and permit certification of the money for colleges.

The estimated deficit is around $17,000,000.

Texas Tops Nation In Death Toll

By The Associated Press

Texas was leading all other states Saturday in holiday weekend violent deaths.

Since the weekend began officially at 6 p. m. Friday, 14 Texans have died violently. Traffic accidents, as usual, took the heaviest toll with 10 deaths.

Two accidents accounted for seven traffic deaths. Four persons were killed in a head-on auto crash Saturday six miles south of Jasper, which is 70 miles north of Beaumont. The third victim of a Friday night head-on crash 15 miles east of San Angelo in West Texas died Saturday.

Below Estimate

The toll still was far below the Texas Safety Association's advance estimate of the state's holiday weekend violent deaths. The association had predicted 79 Texans will die violently—27 in auto accidents, 12 by drowning, 25 by suicide or murder, and 15 in miscellaneous ways.

The body of a five-year-old boy was found in an El Paso hotel room. His throat was slashed and he had been bludgeoned. Found unconscious beside her dead son was Mrs. Julia Carvajal De Meza, 38. Officers said they found a note the woman had written. They said she would recover.

Commies Take Note Of Dimitrov Death

SOFIA, BULGARIA —(P)— The death of Premier Georgi Dimitrov, internationally known Red leader, was noted Saturday night by Communists in the wild west.

The Bulgarian Communist Party announced Saturday night the death in a sanatorium near Moscow. Dimitrov, 57, had been under treatment for diabetes and liver ailments since April.

The communists asserted Dimitrov's death was a "heavy and indispensable loss for party, nation and People's Republic." It called him an "outstanding fighter against Fascism and Imperialism."

Kremlin Sets Pace

The Kremlin set the pace in expressing grief at the death.

The Moscow radio, in a broadcast heard in London, said Prime Minister Stalin was a member of the honor guard. Other members included leaders of the Russian Communist party and Soviet government and three top members of the Bulgarian Communist party.

His death ended the action-packed career of a man who was reputed to have been the most influential Communist outside the borders of the Soviet Union. He was a close and trusted friend of Josef Stalin for 30 years.

Queen LaVerne Is Presented At Pageant

Festival Attracts Crowds

Midland's Trail Days Celebration rounded out its second day Saturday as sponsors pointed to an even larger day of entertainment Monday, final day of the Fourth of July weekend festival.

Crowds thronged downtown streets both Friday and Saturday to witness and participate in the holiday events.

Most Midland business houses will be closed Monday in observance of Independence Day, allowing residents full opportunity to attend all holiday events.

The Trail Days parade Friday afternoon attracted a huge crowd. It was termed by many as the best parade ever held here. Parade winners were Habit Cleaners, first; Kruger's Jewelry, second; and Terminal Lions Club, third.

Thousands of citizens attended the spectacular "Frontiers of Progress" pageant Friday and Saturday nights at Midland Fair Park. The final performance is scheduled at 8:45 p. m. Monday.

Scores of boys participated in the Optimist Club-sponsored contests Friday and Saturday afternoons in downtown Midland. Prizes were awarded the winners.

Big Trail Days Pageant Wins Loud Acclaim

Art Cole scores again—this time with his directing of the magnificent Trail Days pageant, "Frontiers of Progress," which had its premiere Friday night in the rodeo arena at Midland Fair Park.

The second performance was staged Saturday night, and the final show is scheduled at 8:45 p. m. Monday.

Cole, popular director of Midland's Community Theater, is on leave of absence from his theater assignment to direct and produce "Frontiers of Progress" for the Geller Corporation of Hollywood. Mrs. Jack Huff is the assistant director.

"We never have seen anything like this in West Texas," was comment which pretty well summed up the feeling of the spectators.

"This is the greatest celebration in Midland's history," was another popular comment.

A number of old-timers who resided in Midland in its early days and who had parts in the development of the city and this section, saw the pageant from cars and from the grandstand. Several were recognized by the announcers.

Splendid!

You'll miss a rare treat—an event long to be remembered—if you fail to see "Frontiers of Progress."

Thanks to Director Art Cole, the Lions Club which underwrote the event, and the hundreds of citizens who have taken active parts in the production, it perhaps is the outstanding pageant in Midland's long and colorful history.

"Frontiers of Progress" has the thrills, the heart throbs and the glamor which was promised. It truly is everything it was cracked up to be. It will bring lumps to your throat.

It is the crowning event of a wonderful Fourth of July fiesta. Don't fail to see "Frontiers of Progress."

Midland Has First Branch Postoffice

Midland has its first sub-postoffice Saturday.

It is located at 208 North Maricfield Street and is handling the full volume of parcel post for the city. In addition, 12 of the city's mail routes operate from it.

Superintendent is Edwin E. Ferrell.

The branch will be equipped to handle every service of the main postoffice with the exception of savings bonds.

Installations were made Friday but it will be several days before complete equipment is installed.

The new station is designed to lighten the load of the main postoffice, which constantly is swamped with an ever-increasing volume of business. Postmaster N. G. Oates said.

Free Parking Is In Order Monday

As another part of the Trail Days celebration here, ever which citizens can rejoice in the free parking they will receive Monday.

Police Chief Jack Ellington Saturday night announced parking meters will not be checked during the holiday.

Business as usual is the plan of the day Tuesday, however.

North Atlantic Pact Gets Green Light In Senate

WASHINGTON —(P)— Administration chiefs were reported Saturday night to have abandoned at the last minute a risky new speed-up strategy for congressional action on military aid to Western Europe.

It now will take its chances after action on the North Atlantic Security Pact to avoid stirring new controversy during the pact debate opening Tuesday.

The strategy shift makes more pressing the question as to whether Congress will take final action on the arms assistance program before adjournment. Both President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson have insisted such a program should be passed this session. Once the measure is actually introduced the Administration is expected to put strong pressure behind it.

The heart of the speed-up plan was to send the military aid program, totaling $1,450,000,000 on a global basis, to Congress at once and begin hearings even before the Senate debate on the North Atlantic Treaty is finished.

This strategy was so close to adoption that some officials and members of the arms assistance committee said the program would not be submitted by the President until after the treaty vote.

George said the government's $1,450,000,000 deficit in the fiscal year ending Thursday will make it more difficult to adopt funds for the arms program this session of Congress. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who has opposed the arms plan, said the red ink figure emphasizes the necessity for economy.

Bellevue Estimate Correct

Dallas and Fort Worth grain dealers thought the railroad was right in thinking the crop had deteriorated, but doubted it had been hurt that bad.

The Santa Fe estimate "is about in line with the views of most Texas grain men," G. E. Blewett, veteran Fort Worth grain man, said. "Informed grain men have felt for weeks that the government estimate of over 123,000,000 bushels was far out of line," said Blewett, who is secretary-treasurer of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers Association.

"More light test wheat, grain weighing under 58 pounds to the bushel, and more smutty wheat is reaching the Fort Worth market this year than in the last ten years."

"Telephone calls to grain men this week developed the fact that some wheat will weigh under 50 pounds to the bushel and will not be eligible for government loans. Of course, such grain will find its only use as stock feed."

Many New Homes Up Half-Year Building Mark To Record High

Midlanders are building a greater midland. They are building homes. They are building homes at the greatest pace in the city's history.

An index to another great year in construction here is indicated by the amount of residential building permits issued during the first six months of 1949—$1,947,910—which boosts the first six months' overall construction total to $2,436,405, a record at the half mark.

Figures from the office of the City Building Inspector K. E. McFarland for the first half of the year show the following amount of permits: new residences $1,947,910; residence alterations and repairs $116,670; new commercial construction $214,850; commercial alterations and repairs $157,505. Total is $2,436,405.

During June, the totals were: new residences $276,760; residence alterations and repairs $17,200; new commercial construction $28,000; commercial alterations and repairs $71,000. Total was $553,960.

Holiday Death Toll Of Nation Hits 145

By The Associated Press

At least 145 persons who started out on a carefree Fourth of July weekend will never see another holiday.

As vacationers took to the highways and beaches, death followed. Traffic fatalities mounted to 83 Saturday, 48 drownings were reported, and 14 persons died in miscellaneous accidents.

The National Safety Council has estimated that the traffic toll for the weekend will reach 290. It figured that some 33,000,000 automobiles will carry vacationers to beaches and resorts.

Last year's three-day Fourth of July weekend took more than 500 lives, of which almost 300 were traffic fatalities.

First Registered Nurse in Midland Was Bertie Sexton

By TANNER LAINE
One of the unusual heroines of Trail Days and its subsequent observance this weekend is the first registered nurse in Midland. She still is here and active in her profession.

She is Bertie Sexton. Midland was a little past the smoking-head stage for anesthesia when she came. But not too far beyond that.

She had her trials and tribulations and fell asleep many nights on the floor from sheer exhaustion.

There were several practical nurses here in the early days of Midland, but Bertie Sexton was the only registered nurse. She had her capable hands full, believe it.

Give her a hand on this occasion of marking back to the Trail Days.

Trail Days Scores Hit—

"First School," "Prairie Tragedy," and "In Memoriam" episodes are among the high spots of the pageant.

One of the outstanding scenes of the pageant is the "Union Sunday School, 1887," recalling the city's church history, which is as old as Midland itself.

Yearby narrates the church scene in which the following Midlanders take part: Everett Smith, L. L. Beville, Yates Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. White, Leon Arnett, Tom Wingo, W. T. Forehand, C. W. Kerr, E. W. Coker, E. F. Conner, Mrs. O. L. Beville, Mrs. Everett Smith, Mrs. Joe Wright, Mrs. Yates Brown, Mrs. W. T. Forehand.

Hall, George Walters, Leo Mears, James Kerr, Doyle Lowry, W. E. Brown, Don Mears, the Rev. Raymond G. Hall.

Lions Band Entertains
A Midland celebration in 1898 was presented in the following "Cowboy Carnival" scene. Music for the square dancing was furnished by the Midland Lions Club International convention band which took the part of the Masonic Band of old.

Other Midlanders in the scene are Paul Wecker, Vera Wecker, Ralph McClesley, Margaret McClesley, Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Johnson, Bill Johnson, Billie Johnson, Clarence Cardwell, Marjorie Cardwell, Dan Oliver, Norma Oliver, Kitty Rabalais, Hunter Rabalais, Phil Ireland, Bill Ireland, Lou Daniel, Mack Daniel, Irene Hart, Chester Hart, J. J. Johnson, Waldemar Dressel, Lloyd McSpadden, E. Miller, J. B. Thompson and Gilbert Thompson.

Speeches and old-time dancing feature the "Fourth of July, 1876" scene, which attracts much interest. In the part of the scene, the Lions Band this time takes the part of the old Municipal Band, riding the old Slaughter Bandwagon. The celebrators and band members include: J. J. Johnson, Lou Daniel, Mack Daniel, Clarence Cardwell, Marjorie Cardwell, Kitty Rabalais, Hunter Rabalais, Phil Ireland, Bill Ireland, Irene Hart, Chester Hart, Dr. A. V. The oil scene cast includes Jesse A. Rogers, Stan Shaeffer, Julie Rindisig, Eric Bucher, Lloyd McSpadden, Fred Forward and Waldemar Dressel.

The "In Memoriam" scene is particularly heart-touching as tribute is paid the men and women of Midland County who gave their lives for their country during World Wars I and II. Members of Midland's veterans organizations take part in the scene in which taps is played and a volley of shots fired.

"Midland Looks to Tomorrow" is the theme of the closing episode in which a group of Young Miss Americas and all members of the cast take part. The narrator proclaims that Midland has had a brilliant and colorful past, but that tomorrow will establish further Midland's claim of being the "Oil, Livestock and Financial Center of the Permian Basin Empire."

Then, as a lone rocket bursts in the air, the spectators stand as the choir sings the national anthem.

Crane Voters Favor Water System Bonds
CRANE—Voters of Crane Saturday approved the issuance of $75,000 in waterworks improvement and extension bonds by a vote of 49 to 3.

The bond vote was ordered when a water shortage occurred. Only 3,000,000 gallons of water per month has been available for Crane residents. The new system will exceed 7,000,000 gallons in capacity.

Citizens Dance Again On Midland Streets

Citizens danced again on the streets of Midland Saturday-like they used to do. It was the square dance event of the Trail Days celebration.

A block on North Main Street, between Wall and Texas Streets, was roped off for the occasion.

And as E. D. Prigger and his Lone Star Ramblers provided western music, the Sashaway and Terlingham Square Dance Clubs trod a fancy measure.

Speakers Blare Music
Frank Monroe welcomed visitors. Loud speakers blared the rural rhythm.

It was "dodie-do, promenade, one wheel off and axle draggin', meet your honey in the hall, call a girl, now you're cornered, don't you fall, sashay, close that door, do it again, chicken in the fryin' pan, kicking out dough, dodie-do."

It brought back memories! Old timers are here who have danced miles and miles on Midland streets—before the days of square dance clubs.

The estimate came from Dr. Stefan T. Posonyi, a specialist on bomb target selection for France during the first part of the European war.

HARLINGEN STREET CATCHES FIRE

HARLINGEN—(P)—You could really have fried an egg on a Harlingen Street Saturday. The street caught fire.

But the Rio Grande Valley's current heat wave wasn't to blame. A grass fire crept to the edge of a freshly tarred thoroughfare and set the sticky covering ablaze. The flames blocked traffic until firemen rushed up and doused them with water.

And after that, the heat wave didn't seem so bad.

Fire Extinguished

HAWKINS—(P)—Firemen Saturday extinguished a blaze which burned 23 hours following an explosion at the natural gasoline plant near this East Texas town. The blast injured 10 men.

A 4,000-gallon bottled gas truck exploded Friday during a blast at the plant.

SEK officials offered $500 reward for information leading to the identification of the Federated Ku Klux Klans, Inc., Saturday offered $500 reward for proof Klan members were involved in the recent outbreak of mob violence in Clay County.

How about the Glorious 5th?

HERE are no part-time Americans when the band is playing and the flag goes by. On the Fourth of July, we all cheer for our wonderful heritage of Independence.

But how about the 5th of July? And the 6th, 7th and 8th? They're just as glorious, because in America we enjoy Freedom every day.

No one can tell us how to vote. No one can dictate our religion—or what we must think or say. These are rights every real American will fight to keep.

But they're rights that can easily slip away unless we work to hold them—work full time at being good citizens every day.

But do we? The shocking fact is that almost half the eligible voters in the land stayed home from the polls in the last presidential election.

And you only have to look around you to see countless other examples of part-time citizenship—the jury duty dodgers, the parents who don't belong to the P.T.A., the Union members who consider their duty done when they have paid their dues, the Stockholders who don't vote.

Remember, celebrating Independence won't keep it for you. You have to work for Freedom. And in this country it's a full-time, 365-day-a-year job—it takes 150 million full-time citizens to do it right!

Which Way Did Parade Go?

Midlanders and West Texans love a parade and they know how to stage a parade. The Trail Days' parade was outstanding—one of the finest which ever graced the streets of the capital of the Permian Basin Empire.

A Sturdy Road Block

Congress has erected a sturdy road block in the path of government reorganization. Thoughtful citizens must hope that the men who approved this action will get the stern rebuke they deserve from the people for their unstatesmanlike behavior.

The Senate heeded his warning and eliminated the exemptions. But then it proceeded to put up a barrier of its own. It decided that any specific reorganization proposal could be killed by a veto from a single branch of Congress.

Finally the Senate triumphed and the single House veto stayed in. The only concession was a requirement that a veto must be by a majority of all the membership, rather than of just those voting at the time.

These observers may be unduly pessimistic. We hope they are. For the Hoover recommendations provide the biggest opportunity ever presented to reduce the confusion, overlapping, inefficiency and waste that have accompanied the headlong growth of government in Washington.

If it fails to seize this unparalleled chance to act, the American people are not likely to listen seriously to any future congressional cries on this theme. How could they believe them sincere?

But Still Impregnable

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Senator Fulbright investigates the "inside boys"; the gentleman from Tennessee gets more crotchety; Taft to make 88 campaign speeches in 90 days.

WASHINGTON—While the Congressional probe of the five percenters has been getting the headlines, another Senate investigation has been delving quietly into certain gentlemen who make much more than 5 per cent.

Five percenters are lobbyists who expedite government contracts through influence in return for a commission of five per cent. But Senator Bill Fulbright of Arkansas is spotlighting a much more significant practice whereby certain government officials, after aiding private firms, then resign to take jobs with those firms.

Senator Taft has scheduled 88 speeches in 90 days during October, November and December—though his election contest is on a whole year away. Truman has put Taft at the top of his scalp list.

Senator Fulbright is writing a book about his experiences as American ambassador to Russia. He tells friends that what he is going to say about Stalin and Molotov will get the Russians so mad they'll put him high on their list of war criminals.

Possible Rise Of Nationalism In Germany Is Calculated Risk

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON—End of the Paris conference of foreign ministers brings American and allied Western European foreign policy to another one of those crucial turning points that always are bobbing up. Regardless of the somewhat disappointing results of the Paris meeting, things aren't going on in the same old stalemated.

A principal factor in the new situation will be emergence of the new West German state. This does not mean that it will be turned loose and allowed to shift for itself. But once having been created, the new German state will have to be given its proper place in the European scheme of things.

The 50,000,000 German people will no longer be just the occupants of an occupied territory, living in a political vacuum. When elections are held and the new provisional government constituted, it will be impossible to undo what has been done.

This new German government apparently will start out with a fairly even balance of power between the Social Democrats of the North Germany and the Christian Democrats of South Germany. But these are not the only political forces that will have to be reckoned with.

Refugees Are Potent Factor. There are from 10,000,000 to 14,000,000 refugees in Western Germany, comprising nearly 25 per cent of the population. At odds with the native-born residents of Western Germany, many refugees are now being moved from Schleswig to the French zone.

One of the evil consequences of fear is that it may help to bring about the very thing we are afraid of. Fear of war, for example, has been one of the chief causes of war.

So they say

I contend publicly for the first time that American business is conducting a cold war against the American people. —CIO President Philip Murray, charging that business does not live up to its social responsibilities to workers and retired employees.

CLIPPED ANGEL

By Clive Gornish, Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Mike McTale, a mining engineer, in spite of his ideas about women mine operators, has agreed to help beautiful Cory Farrell start out with the mine she inherited from her father.

They started about a hundred feet from the portal and nearly all of them had been allowed to cave in one place or another. They didn't interest me because I was looking for a hole in good ground that showed signs of recent use.

The John W. Westons, who wouldn't have moved to the farm "unless we had electricity," are exemplifying the good rural electric power can do. Top picture shows Mr. and Mrs. Weston at the deep freeze unit on their farm just north of Midland. With them is a nephew, Bobby, who was visiting. Also note electric washing machine. Middle picture shows the Weston farm house, a comfortable farm home, which has all modern electrical appliances. Bottom picture shows Weston at irrigation pump house. The pump is electric-powered. The pump power connection made recently was the 2,000th connection made by the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc. On this page is a story about what electric power has done for the Westons on a farm. And it is a story which could be told of many families in West Texas.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Still "dry," isn't it Podner? But we will get that rain, yet. And if you haven't seen the Farmers of Progress program, Podner, be sure to see it Monday night. It really is something.

Cotton fleas and square borers now are causing considerable damage in some Midland County cotton fields, according to County Agent Hubert Martin who, with Perry Collins, inspected numerous fields last week.

The damage is spotted, Martin states, even in some fields. He said this partly is due to the age of the cotton. Young cotton does not seem to be damaged at all, and in some fields there is no damage to the older crops.

Dusting is being done in infested fields. Farmers are using straight sulphur for cotton fleas and a mixture (40 per cent sulphur and 10 per cent DDT) for the square borers, Martin said. Dealers have responded in a fine way to see that ample poison is on hand to meet the emergency.

Power dusters mounted on tractors are being used by most farmers to work their fields. Ten to 12 pounds of dust per acre is being used.

The county agent and farmers are keeping a close watch on the situation.

Late cotton is coming along fine and is looking good. Some farmers had to replant as many as three and four times due to hard rains and high winds.

The screw worm infestation is the major worry of the ranchers at this time. They are having to work early and late to control the situation.

Some ranchers, too, are beginning to wonder just a little about the rain situation. Of course they are not worrying as yet, but a little moisture right now would help to keep the grass green. Range conditions still are excellent, but the grass is beginning to burn a little.

Boys and girls of the Midland County 4-H Clubs did pretty well financially with their concessions booth at the Texas Electric Show '49 here last week. They worked hard and their labors netted them a nice profit.

Two Midland 4-H Club girls, Clara Bryan, 600 North Fort Worth Street, and LaVerne Whitley, 409 West New York Street, now have 50 little chicks each. They were awarded the chicks which were on display in the farm and ranch tent at the Texas Electric Show.

The West Texas Hergford tour which started out from Abilene Wednesday was acclaimed a tremendous success from every standpoint. The trip ended Thursday night after the trippers had visited numerous ranches and had seen many fine cattle.

The Martin County 4-H Club grass identification team placed fifth in the State 4-H Contest held recently at A&M College. The team included Dewayne Peterson, James Tunnell, Earl Koonce and Fred Church.

Reeves County has a brand new county agent. He is James P. Taylor who took office Friday, succeeding Cate Knight who resigned because of ill health. Knight, who is in an El Paso hospital, is retiring from the service. Taylor, a graduate of Texas A&M College, has been assistant agent of Young County, and has been with the Extension Service the last two years. Knight established quite a record, particularly in 4-H Club work, during the year he served in Reeves County. He formerly resided in Sierra Blanca.

The annual Sterling City rodeo and barbecue, scheduled last week, has been postponed indefinitely because of widespread polio. No cases of polio had been reported in Sterling City late in the week.

The announcement that the 15,423 acres of government owned land in the Camp Bartlesley maneuver area will be offered for sale beginning July 12, probably will not be received with too much dissatisfaction by Midlanders who trained at the Abilene camp during World War II. Most of the exes, including the writer, many times wished Uncle Sam never had acquired the land in the first place. However, Butler Hurley and Barron Wadley might want to submit bids for the property which they know so well. We can imagine what they would do with it.

Inquiries regarding the 48 tracts of land should be sent to John Sharp, 208 East Anderson Street, Brownwood. World War II veterans have priority number five. Seems a long time ago now that we used to hike to and over those 15,423 acres of maneuver land.

The Williams Feed and Supply Company of Midland has won recognition for the accuracy and uniformity of its custom grinding and mixing service. The firm received a Certificate of Mixing Accuracy for 1949 following analysis at the Ralston Pupina Company, St. Louis, Mo., of samples taken from regular mixes prepared for customers of the mill.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt has received two complimentary, box-seat tickets for the Fourth Annual Jay Cee World Championship Rodeo to be held July 20-23 at Ranger. The show, according to the advance publicity, will be held in the $40,000 stadium owned and operated by Ranger Jay Cees. An excellent rodeo is promised.

Rodeo fans will be interested in the matched steer wrestling contest between the team of Ken Boen of Fort Smith, Ark. and Charley Colbert of Hugo, Okla., vs Hank Mills of Pueblo, Colo., and Homer Pettigrew of Chandler, Ariz. The match will be held at the 28th Annual San Luis Valley Ski-Hi Stampede, August 2-5, at Monte Vista, Colo.

The purse will be for $11,000, with each contestant putting up $2,500. The contestants will bulldog five steers each, making 20 in all for the three days.

This is one of the first matched bulldogging matches staged anywhere in the country. Wonder if the events will gain such prominence as matched calf ropings.

And speaking of matched ropings, our old friend "Slinging" Sammy Baugh who, in football's off-season, ranches over around Rotan, teamed with Fred Dalby of Aspermont to defeat Alvis Townley of Paducah and Fred Albright of King County in a matched calf roping recently at Paducah. The contestants roped four calves each.

Total time for Baugh and Dalby was 134.4 seconds, while Townley and Albright had a combined time of 200.5 seconds.

"Slinging" Sammy demonstrated his football passing ability in the arena prior to the roping event.

The displays of electric appliances in the farm and ranch tent at the Texas Electric Show of '49 here last week surely attracted lots of interest and comment. Life on the farm isn't what it used to be.

The following from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Texas Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin:

"Ranges and pastures continued supplying good to excellent green feed over most of the state. However, range feed was beginning to curtail in most Coastal Bend, extreme southern and Trans-Pecos counties. Needle grass was causing considerable trouble with sheep in Plateau counties. Cattle and sheep continued to make fair to good gains. Marketings of sheep and cattle were light for this season of the year.

Six of Texas Technological College's Southdown lambs have been purchased by 4-H Club boys to be fitted and shown in district shows this winter.

The state name of Colorado is a Spanish word for red.

Cap Rock Cooperative Serves Farm Families

The Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc., made its 2,000th connection recently on the 10-acre farm of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Weston. The Westons live just north of Midland and have been served by Cap Rock lines about a year, but this Spring they drilled an irrigation well and it was at this well that the 2,000th meter was installed.

Weston is the Permian Basin representative for Barco Reagan Forge and Engineering Company and Petroleum Rubber Company and his duties require most of his time. But he and Mrs. Weston enjoy rural life, and, by harnessing electricity to do the major part of the work, they manage to do more farming on their 10-acre tract than a lot of people do on a quarter section of land.

Eight of the 10 acres are in sudan, used for grazing for the milch cow, six head of beef cattle and two saddle horses. Additional grazing land is rented when needed, but the sudan patch in irrigated permanent pasture, greatly increasing its carrying capacity.

Cotton Congress Slated July 27-29

DALLAS—(P)—E. D. White, head of the cotton division of the Economic Cooperation Administration, Washington, will be a speaker at the 10th annual Cotton Research Congress which will be held here July 27-29.

Another speaker will be Read Dunn, director of foreign trade for the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tenn., Burris C. Jackson, chairman of the Statewide Cotton Committee of Texas, said.

About 5,000 persons are expected to attend the Cotton Congress, Jackson stated.

The opening session will be devoted to a Cotton Congress machinery show in Fair Park here.

"With the type of farm program developed by the government the biggest concern in cotton today, nation-wide interest is being manifested in the 1949 cotton congress," Jackson said. "Coming soon after the first department of agriculture estimate on 1949 cotton acreage, this meeting will afford the industry its first chance to analyze the supply and demand outlook for the current season."

Area School Heads End Meeting Here

School administrators from 11 West Texas counties late Friday concluded an area meeting held in the Midland High School to hear representatives from the State Auditor's Office discuss and interpret the Foundation School Program Act. S. B. Culpepper and D. M. Tate of Austin were here to conduct the conference.

The discussions dealt mainly with proper procedures in putting the new Gilmer-Alkin laws into operation this fall. The Foundation Act is a part of the Gilmer-Alkin legislation adopted recently by the State Legislature.

More than 40 persons attended the one-day meeting, which Supt. Frank Monroe of the Midland school system termed "most successful."

Culpepper and Tate left Friday night for El Paso where they will conduct a similar meeting.

Insects Imported To Combat Scale

KINGSVILLE—(P)—Tiny insects have been brought from Hawaii to combat grass scale which invaded South Texas pastures in 1942 and since has become increasingly destructive to all types of grasses.

The insects, not much larger than a gnat but shaped like a wasp, are known to entomologists by the four bit name of Anagrus finlandicus.

The big King Ranch here financed importation of the first colony of the insects after it was learned they had been a controlling factor in Hawaii's fight against a scale that damaged sugar cane there. The colony was placed in the charge of P. T. Rihard of the Texas A&M College Experimental Station, Westlaco, Texas. It may become the foundation swarm for Texas' supply in the future.

Nick Diaz, in charge of King Ranch pasture grass program, and Rihard expressed hope that the imported scale destroyers would find South Texas grass scale to their liking. The scale, which looks like a tiny legless tick, is Antonino Gromines. According to Diaz, this scale literally sucks the life out of a clump of grass once it attacks.

It stays underground in the winter and begins its destruction once the weather is warm.

When grass scale first appeared in this area about seven years ago it seemed to confine its attacks to only about five types of grass. Now 23 types of grasses are affected, and the infestation has been found as far north as Comal County to the northwest and Harris County to the northeast, Diaz said.

Autoists' Summer Needs For Gasoline Immense; Analysis Of Taxes Given

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON—(AP)—Gasoline has every reason to be travel weary even before you fill your automobile tank for a vacation trip.

Only a few minutes are needed to fill a gas tank but it is quite a distance from an oil well to a conveniently located service station.

It takes trucks, barges, tankers and pipeline to get gasoline to Lynchburg.

Crude oil moves from 200 to 600 miles by pipe line from Texas wells to Gulf Coast refineries.

Mileage for Lynchburg gasoline from other producing areas might be lower but since Texas produces approximately 48 per cent of the nation's crude oil the nationwide average is affected greatly by the state's operations.

New State On Asia's Horizon

This map highlights the terms of the new French agreement which established the state of United Viet Nam in Indo-China. Former Annam Emperor Bao Dai was installed as ruler of the French-inspired government in his late France's hope to quell Nationalist uprisings and to keep the territory permanently within the French Union.

Attractive House Has Stucco Exterior

This attractive house has an extremely simple stucco exterior. It has an attached double garage, which provides a nice work space for the man of the house. Access to the bathroom and rear hall from the garden is a fine feature. Ample breakfast space is provided in the kitchen. Dining room space, while small, is capable of seating eight persons comfortably. The plan offers a livable area of 1,100 square feet. The overall depth is 44 feet; porch area, 50 square feet; garage area, 340 square feet.

Window Shutters Can Add Touch Of Color

Although window shutters originally served to give protection against the weather, their chief function now is to add color and architectural beauty to a home. The roof color is the key color in exterior design and the shutters should be painted to blend or contrast with the roof. If the roof is covered with green asphalt shingles, a matching green or a harmonizing orange-red would be a pleasing color for the shutters. When the asphalt shingles are in blended mixtures of two or more colors, shutters which match one of the more prominent colors in the roof would be attractive.

Good Roofing Pays Its Own Way; Fire Safety Is Factor

A little extra investment is well worth the outlay when it comes to roofing a new home, experienced roofers point out. The roof is important not only because of its appearance but because of its essential function of providing protection from all kinds of weather.

Water Hammer In Pipe Easily Ended

Water hammer in plumbing supply pipes is annoying, dangerous and should be ended without delay, it was stated by the Construction Research Bureau, New York clearing house for building information.

Providing a simple, inexpensive air cushion will solve the problem. This consists of a one-foot length of pipe placed vertical with the supply pipe and connected to it with a tee coupling. The air cushion pipe must be installed vertically and tightly capped. It can be placed at any point where two lengths of the supply pipe join. Old Plumbing
 Water hammer is found most often in old plumbing where inside pipe diameters have grown smaller by incrustation, or where false economy led to installing too-small supply pipes. When a wide-open faucet is shut off quickly, the water keeps moving, slamming hard against the faucet valve. It then tries to find an outlet elsewhere, hammering noisily against every inch of the pipe. The force delivered is equivalent to hitting the pipe with a hammer and will soon cause leaks and otherwise damage the system.

A simple roof, with a minimum of hips, valleys and intersections, naturally is more economical to put on than a "cut-up" one. The economy resulting from a simple design often will more than make up for the added cost of using high quality shingles. Simple roofs also are likely to be more efficient and watertight.

Besides providing protection against the weather, a good roof should be a safeguard against the fire hazards of chimney sparks and windborne embers. For that reason many communities require that roofs be covered with fire-resistant or fireproof roofings.

One of the most popular of fireproof roofings is the asbestos cement type.

Good Materials.
 The head of a 91-year-old roofing company recently gave this advice to his fellow roofers in a trade magazine article: "My suggestion is to employ good materials. By doing so there would be no need for replacements as often as when the materials are of a cheap quality."

Since the average person building a home has had little opportunity to become familiar with the various roofing materials available, it will pay him to give the matter some study before making his selection. Manufacturers have prepared illustrated booklets and folders describing the variety and use of their products. These can be obtained from dealers. The dealers frequently have roof sections on display in a variety of styles and colors.

Radioactive Sulphur Traces Citrus Burn

VANCOUVER, CANADA —(AP)—Radioactive sulfur tracers and a Geiger counter are used in the University of California to learn how sulfur burns citrus fruits. This knowledge may be useful to make safe such popular insecticides as sulfur dust and lime-sulfur sprays. The methods were reported at the annual meeting of the Pacific Division of the American Association of the Advancement of Science. The report was based on work done by Dr. F. M. Turrell and Marcela Chervenak of the College of Agriculture's Citrus Experiment Station, Riverside.

It appears that when there are not enough metals present in the peel sap to tie up the sulfate formed from the sulfur dust, the sulfate becomes sulfuric acid which is responsible for the burn.

Archeologists have found remains in Kansas which indicate that three and four-toed horses no larger than a fox terrier once made that part of the country their habitat.

Mural Changes Wall To Picturesque View Farm Machine Shed Can Pay Own Cost

By JACK QUINN
 AP Newsfeatures
 LOS ANGELES—If you would like to change a wall in your home into a picturesque seascape or a view of a placid mountain lake, now is your chance. A new process by which ordinary scenic photos are reproduced—king size—on wallpaper permits you to gaze at your favorite scenic spots to your heart's content.

A California firm recently began producing such enlargements by a special printing process. In place on a wall, each mural measures 6 feet 6 inches by 15 feet. Its six 40 by 60-inch component panels are applied with paste like any wallpaper. By using only the center panels, the size of the picture may be reduced to fit almost any wall.

The murals, which are washable, are manufactured in black and white or sepia tones. Treated so as to appear three dimensional, they have the same effect as an added window—pushing the walls back and enlarging the room.

Thus far, the manufacturers have made plates for three murals, a Carmel, Calif., seascape and shots of Reflection Lake in Mt. Lassen National Park and Jackson Lake in the Grand Tetons.

They plan eventually to have a library of several hundred prints.

Peter C. Goldsmith, a Los Angeles advertising man, began research on printing processes a year ago. He settled on a method by which a standard four by five-inch photographic negative is enlarged to 120 square feet. His first step is to make a 20 by 30-inch print. This is retouched, photographed, and reproduced on a 40 by 60-inch printing plate. Six of these make a complete mural.

Instead of medals for bravery, soldiers of Amman, Indo-China, in 1940 received orders on the royal treasury for as much meat and other foods as they and their families could eat during the soldier's lifetime.

A machine shed is considered an inexpensive building for a farmer to own because in most cases the shed will pay for itself by preventing rapid rusting and depreciation of machinery.

The most popular type of machine shed is open along both sides and closed at the ends. It is covered by a gable roof which extends a few feet out from each side.

Requiring a minimum amount of material, the open-sided shed can be constructed economically and quickly. It shelters machinery from the sun and from rain and snow in ordinary circumstances.

Weatherlight
 Because the roof provides virtually all the protection afforded by this sort of structure, it is important that it be sound and weather tight. Colored roofing can add materially to the appearance of an unsightly shed which otherwise might detract from the overall appearance of a farm.

Another popular type of shed is enclosed completely and includes a repair shop at one end. This arrangement makes all machinery conveniently accessible for repair regardless of the weather.

Some farmers prefer to have both types, an open-sided shed for storing bulky machinery and an enclosed shed for smaller implements and repair work.

Churches Grow In Membership, Also In Size Of Their Plants

The many, modern church structures in Midland with their air-conditioned comfort are a far cry from the one little frame church where early day union services were held.

Not only is Midland a city of oil and cattle wealth but it also is a city of fine churches. With 33 churches representing at least 14 different denominations, the citizens have their choice of places in which to worship.

Modern air-conditioned churches are dotted over the city, with more springing up all the time. In addition to new congregations being formed, there are numerous building programs underway for the expansion of present churches.

The Baptists of the city are best represented in number of churches, with a total of 11.

Baptist Church Oldest
From the standpoint of service length and size, the First Baptist Church leads the denominations. It was organized January 10, 1886, and the building was completed in the early 1900's that still comprises part of the church as it now stands at the corner of Main and Illinois Streets in Midland. The first unit has been remodeled and added to on several occasions. A new and completely modern plant now is planned to replace the present structure. The present pastor is the Rev. Vernon Yearby.

Organized Dec. 1, 1940, in a tent on the 700 block of South Main Street, the Calvary Baptist Church now owns and occupies its own modern and attractive church plant at 1001 South Main Street. Membership has grown from 70 charter members to more than 500.

An expansion program is being planned under the guidance of the present pastor, the Rev. A. L. Teaff.

Other Baptist churches include the Bible Baptist, 710 South Colorado; First Prewell Baptist, 1000 South Mineola, Primitive Baptist, 210 East Florida; Terminal Baptist, Air Terminal; Trinity Baptist, 411 North Fort Worth; Mexican Baptist Mission, 911 East Tennessee; and three Negro churches: Antioch Baptist, 709 East Louisiana; Macedonia Baptist, 100 North Tyler; and the Mt. Rose Baptist, 211 North Tyler in the Moody Addition.

Two Methodist churches take care of the residents of that denomination, the First Methodist and the Asbury Methodist.

The First Methodist Church was organized Aug. 23, 1885, to establish it as one of the oldest churches in Midland. The present auditorium and educational building was erected in 1940 at its present site, 300 North Main Street, and was debt-free in 1943. The church plant is one of the largest, finest, and best-equipped in the Southwest, but already an ever increasing enrollment has over taxed the facilities and another educational building is planned adjacent to the present buildings. The pastor is the Rev. Howard Hollowell.

The Asbury Methodist Church, located at 106 West Dakota, was organized June 8, 1947, under the sponsorship of the First Methodist Church. It has grown to well over 200 members during this short span. Present pastor is the Rev. J. Lennox Hester.

A Methodist church for negroes, the African Methodist Episcopal Church, is located at 204 North Lee Street.

Three Churches of Christ
The North Side Church of Christ is one of three churches of that denomination serving Midlanders.

The beginning of its organization was in 1925 when a group including three pioneer families met in the old courthouse for fellowship. The present home of the church is the corner of North A and Tennessee Streets. The attractive building was erected in the early 1930's though plans are now under way to expand facilities to meet the demands of the fast-growing congregation. Present minister is the Rev. J. Woodie Holden.

Other Church of Christ congregations are the South Side Church of Christ, 710 South Baird and a Negro Church of Christ located at 101 North Lee.

The First Presbyterian Church was organized December 2, 1885, with nine charter members. The first building was constructed on the corner of West Wall and Big Spring Streets. The present building was constructed in the mid-thirties though only recently a $200,000 educational building was added to care for the more than 500 members. The present pastor is Dr. R. Matthew Lynn.

Midland's First Christian Church, located at 215 North Lorraine, was organized in 1890. Present property was purchased in 1892 and the building was completed in 1908. Plans now underway call for a new building to be constructed in the Park Hill Addition. It has grown rapidly in late years and in 1947 ranked thirty-second among Christian Churches in the state.

The Grace Lutheran, located on the Northwest corner of West Wall and North J, was founded in 1830 though its beginning is traced back to the early twenties when a few Lutherans settled in the Midland area. The church didn't have a resident pastor until 1945 when the present minister, the Rev. Gilbert C. Becker was installed. The building now in use was dedicated May 25, 1947.

The Trinity Episcopal Church, located at 1410 West Illinois Street, was founded in 1929, with the first services held in the private dining room of the Hotel Scharbauer. The present church building was completed in 1939 and the membership has grown until there are more than 400 baptized members and 300 communicants. A new parish house, recently was added. The present rector is the Rev. R. J. Enell.

First Catholic Mission
The first Catholic mission was established in Midland in 1896 though it was not until July 8, 1923, that a parish was founded. Called St. George's Catholic Church, it served both Latin American and American families. It is located at 417 East Texas.

Most recent addition for the Catholics is St. Ann's Catholic Church located at 2900 West Texas Street. Purpose of the new church is to service the English speaking element of the faith.

Milliners, Dressmakers Were Prominent In Business Life

When the pioneer Midland woman wanted a new dress or hat, the situation called for far more than a trip to a convenient shop where she could take her choice of the latest styles.

Unless the costume was for a very special occasion, she probably made the dress herself, since most girls were taught to sew as a matter of routine housewifely skill. But hats and the more elaborate dresses — and dresses certainly could be elaborate in those days — called for the services of the milliner and dressmaker who were among the town's most important business women.

"Ready-made" dresses and hats were scorned by any woman with the pretension of being well-dressed. The woman's shop or department was non-existent, but the ready-day stores stocked materials and "trimmings" from which the dresses were made, and the milliner had had "frames" and a staggering array of ribbons, buckles, pins, lace, feathers and flowers to decorate them.

First Milliner

Perhaps the first milliner in Midland was a Mrs. Aber, who had her shop in her home on Weatherford Street and then took a location in the back of the building occupied by the Red Cross Drug Store about where the Kruger Jewelry Store now is located.

Miss Dale Meeks, now Mrs. Carl Reeves and still a Midland resident, was her assistant.

The late Mrs. J. M. Flanigan, then Miss Crosby Hindman, came to Midland as the milliner for the J. H. Barron Store. Miss Maggie McCormick, now of Mineral Wells, came later and had a millinery and dress shop in the days after women had accepted ready-to-wear styles in suits and dresses but still wanted the individual touch in a hat made especially for each customer.

That individuality was much prized, and a good milliner prided herself on making each hat a separate creation. Some, however, were known to yield to a customer's admiration for a bonnet that had been created for another, and make a duplicate. One Midland woman look no comfort from the knowledge that "imitation is the sincerest flattery" when she found another hat, exactly like the one which especially pleased her, the second time she wore her own to a church choir in which both women sang.

Designing Touches

Dressmakers as well as milliners won their reputation by designing touches that were different and that other dressmakers would want to copy. Decoration was more important on dresses around the turn of the century than now. Much braid, beading, tucks and ruffles made dresses which could hold their own with the huge flower-and-feather-laden hats, often swathed with veils, that topped a costume.

Rankin Student In Dallas Is Married

RANKIN — Jean Paul Neel, daughter of Mrs. W. E. Neel and the late Dr. Need of Elsworth, Kan., and Richard Sikes Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Johnson of Rankin, were married June 24 in the St. Michael's and All Angels Episcopal Church in Dallas.

Both are students in Southern Methodist University, and they will continue to live in Dallas and attend the university.

Maryn Need, sister of the bride, and R. H. Johnson, Jr., of Dallas, brother of the bridegroom, were the couple's only attendants. A wedding breakfast with the bride's mother as hostess followed the ceremony. Only members of the family and a few close friends were present for the wedding and breakfast.

After the couple returned to Dallas from a weekend at Lake Texoma, they were honored at an open house Sunday night at the R. H. Johnson, Jr., home. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Johnson, Sr., were hosts and the guests included Paul Johnson of Rankin.

Beggar Has Jewels, Doesn't Know It

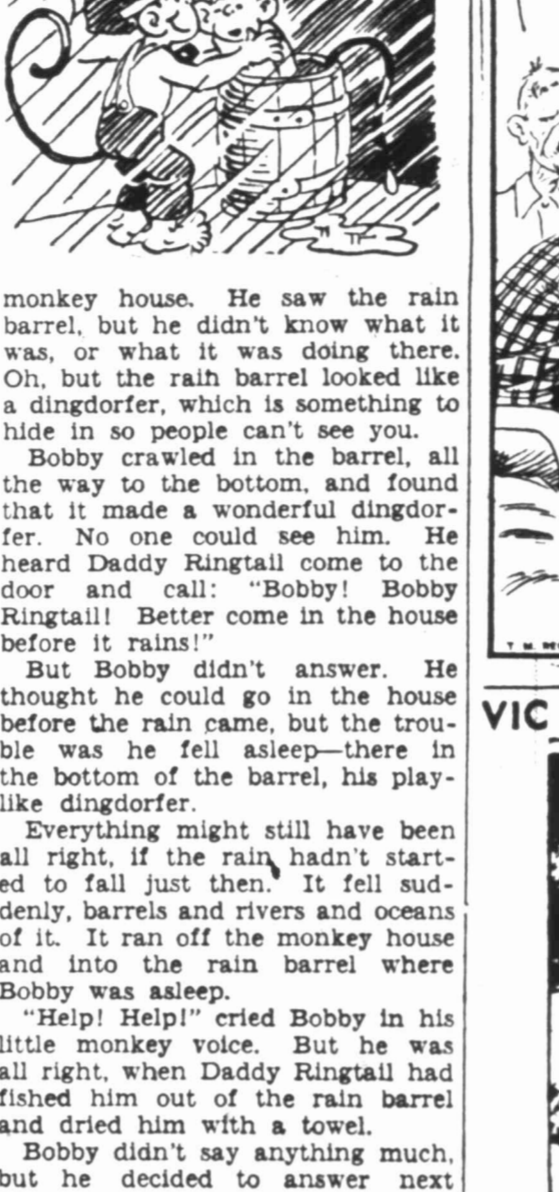

CAIRO (AP)—A ragged beggar who pleads for alms in the shadow of the Pyramids had a fortune in stolen jewels. But he didn't know it. Police for months had been hunting $80,000 in gems taken last Summer from Mrs. Nahas Pasha, wife of the Wafdist Party leader. Finally they caught the thieves. After holding out until the police fed them a chicken dinner, they admitted they had given many of the jewels to a beggar named Bahluk. The jewels were wrapped in a package and the beggar didn't know what they were, they said. He had been instructed to hide them. After questioning, Bahluk was released. "I just went around looking inside that cloth," he admitted ruefully. Senator William Blount of Tennessee was named in the first impeachment proceedings before the Senate—in 1798—and the charges were dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS Daddy Ringtail And The Rain Barrel "Maybe it will rain today," Daddy Ringtail said, when he looked at the clouds in the sky. "Mother Ringtail, what we need is a rain barrel—to put out on the porch of the monkey house to catch some rain if it falls." Mother Ringtail thought that a rain barrel was the thing to have. If they had a rain barrel with rain water in it, they wouldn't have to go to the river for water to drink. They could get it out of the rain barrel. Daddy Ringtail got a barrel and put it up on the porch to catch any rain that ran off the roof when the rain fell down from the sky. Then he went in the house to tell Mother Ringtail what he had done. Soon after that, Bobby Ringtail climbed up to the porch of the

Trail Days Parade Effectively Portrays The Old And The New, As Thousands Watch

Midlanders and holiday visitors thronged business district streets Friday afternoon to witness the Trail Days parade which wound its way showing "the old and the new."
Parade float winners were: Habit Cleaners, first; Kruger's Jewelry, second, and Terminal Lions Club, third.
The prize-winning float carried an "olden times" theme. It was a hack, or surrey "without the fringe on top," as some said. It was horse-drawn and carried Mrs. Dean Kelly and others. It represented a family scene with pioneer dress and all the "trimmings."
Second-place winner, the Kruger float had a "combination of the old new" theme. It consisted of elaborate decorations for a truck, which bore four-year-old Cricket Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coates, dressed in a modern bridal gown. The youngster represented the new with the old "wishing well" in the background and had other "old" traditional decorations.
Make Horsepower
The Terminal Lions float was an old model vehicle which chugged along with barely enough "horsepower" to make it. Its occupants were more than show persons. They had to help make the "horsepower."
Leading the parade was the American Legion contingent of veterans and women uniformed veterans. It represented the Woods W. Lynch Post No. 19 and did a good job of leadership and marching. It bore the colors and the legion flag. Coming next were floats and vehicles representing Midland service clubs, oil companies, businesses and other units. Occupying an important position was Miss LaVerne Estes, Trail Days Queen, and her court. And beautiful belles of yesterday also were riding along in the parade.
Throughout the long parade, which stretched for blocks, the idea of "past and present" was carried out. The Fire Department had an ancient truck and a modern fire-fighter. Old cars and horse-drawn conveyances mingled with sleek new automobiles, which purred like kittens compared with the old "putt-putts."
Riding in the parade in uniform was the Midland County Sheriff's posse. The Lions Club Band rode in the old Slaughter band wagon. The musicians attired in old band uniforms, blowing and going.
With His "Family"
Copper Daugherty tipped his derby hat as he chugged along in an old vintage auto and he had "his family" along.
Negro majorettes stepped high wide and handsome to the steady drum beat of a negro Boy Scout in uniform.
There were Indians and Indians and Indians. Brightly paint-daubed and almost naked—they made a fearsome sight as effective as any band of warring Comanches ever did.
There was more power in some of the giant oil company vehicles in the parade than probably was possessed by all the early-day vehicles in Midland county.
The Midland High School Band made music as it rode along in a "gasoline carriage."
There were Girl Scouts and Brownies, riding, for the new.
There were bearded horseback riders, riding for the good old Trail Days effect.
There were assorted horseback riders and vehicles of all kinds—in the big parade.

Teen-Age Vacation Jobs Test Maturity

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
High school and college girls who expect clouds of glory and easy money when they take a vacation job this Summer had better prepare for the responsibilities and realities of the working world instead.

You may be just marking time, but the only time your superiors will mark is the hour you amble in mornings and the hour you scoot out.
If you're serious and really apply yourself, a vacation job can pay off in new skills. Salesgirls, for example, can develop poise and ease in handling people. You can learn the weight of a smile, a pleasant manner and a little applied psychology.
A job, even a temporary one, pays off in maturity. The teenager will have to cope with difficult problems, to make decisions and take responsibility for mistakes and failures.
You will learn lots of things: To take orders without back talk, on one hand, and show initiative on the other; that co-workers judge by results, not by good intentions. You'll learn also that faking facts might have rated "passing" in school, but will rate "failure" with the boss.
You might as well start job-hunting with the notion that the Cinderella legend has some flaws in it. By the end of your working Summer you'll know for sure that the successful man and woman around you got that way by means of solid work and extra effort with little or no help from a fairy godmother.

Make-Up Smooths Acne-Pitted Skin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Smoothing out an acne-pitted skin with make-up ma, keep a girl in front of her mirror a little longer but the results will be worth the extra time it takes.
The filling-in technique for any annoying little skin pits requires a little of foundation cream, says a Hollywood expert. Make-up man Perc Westmore suggests filling in those acne holes with a cream base, lighter-in-tone than skin. The cream base can be pressed in and set, he says, by using a puff lightly dusted with plain talcum powder.
That is the only procedure for making up an acne-pitted skin that differs from a girl's usual tricks with foundation and powder.
After the first application is on comes regular make-up. For that, Westmore recommends using a liquid foundation cream of a skin-matching tone, which, he says, should be smoothed on evenly and carefully so as not to disturb the cream base which has been applied.
Over the liquid base, which follows, cheek rouge may be blended and powder may be dusted in the usual way.

LEFTOVER SLICES OF MEAT
Leftover slices of meat may be arranged in a shallow baking dish, covered with gravy and topped with mashed potatoes. Then heated thoroughly in a moderate oven. Sprinkle the potatoes with paprika before they are heated and then garnish with parsley sprigs just before the dish goes to the table.

Figures She Is Good 'Carpenter'

One Midland negro probably feels that his wife would make a good carpenter. Hospital records show that she is good with a hammer, anyway.
Mance Mayberry, Midland colored resident, walked into the Western Clinic-Hospital Friday night and presented himself for treatment of head wounds received at the hands of his wife. Reported cause of the wounds was the business end of a hammer.

SUPPER DISH

For a luncheon supper dish serve creamed spinach over cooked spinach that has been chopped, seasoned with butter or margarine and salt and freshly ground pepper. Baked potatoes are good with this dish if you don't mind using your oven on hot days. Tiny new potatoes cooked on the top of the range and served with finely cut chives are good also.

California grows almost one half of the nation's commercial supply of fruits and nuts.
