Crossroads Venture Indicates Higher Pay

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-B Santa Fe, northwest outpost to production from the Devonian in the Crossroads field of extreme Northeast Lea County, New Mexico, has found considerable oil in an unidentified Pennsylvanian lime formation.

That show came in a drillstem test at 9,734-94 feet. An 810-foot water cushion was used. The tester was open three hours and 45 minutes.

Gas came to the surface in 15 minutes. Maximum gas volume was 147,000 cubic feet per day. No fluid came to the surface while the tool was open.

Recovery was the 810-foot water cushion and 6,500 feet of clean oil. Gravity was 42.6 degrees. Open flowing bottom hole pressure ranged between 600 pounds and 1,700 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 3,100 pounds.

The venture is coring at 9,796 feet in lime, with a diamond bit and is slated to cut a 30-foot section before coming out.

The well is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 28-9s-36e. It is slated to dig to at least 12,500 feet to explore into the Devonian.

The Crossroads field has one producer from the Mississippian, and has three producers from the Devonian.

First Permian Well
In Flanagan Finished

First producer from the Clear Fork section of the Permian in the Flanagan area of South-Central Gaines County, where pay was originally from the Ellenburger, has been completed at George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 Joe Head, exploration, 4,000 feet south of the Ellenburger pay opener.

The venture drilled to 10,530 feet, making water in the Devonian, and plugged to 12,41 feet to complete in the Clear Fork through casing perforations.

It flowed 24 hours through a 16 1/4-inch choke to make a potential gauge of 157 barrels of oil with no water. Tubing pressure was 40 pounds and casing pressure zero. Other details of the test were not reported.

The well is 631 feet from north and 610 feet from west lines of section 12, block A-23, pal survey.

North Snyder Spread As Flanker Completes

Potential test has been completed at Lipscomb & DeLange, No. 1 Wren, southwest extension to Canyon-Pennsylvanian production in the south end of the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry County.

Flowing natural with no water from the open hole pay formation at 6,785-6,920 feet, the well made a 24-hour potential of 681.56 barrels of 43-gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 960-1. The flow was through a 20 3/4-inch choke.

This new producer is 467 feet from north and east lines of tract 11, section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Water Breaks In At Gaines Strike

Ralph Lowe was attempting to locate source of a water which has broken in at his No. 1 Cunningham-Shell, discovery, from formation thought to be either Wolfcamp-Permian or Pennsylvanian in Southwest Gaines County, 10 miles southwest of Seminole.

The venture was flowing through casing perforations at 8,850-8,950 feet, which have been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid. After the treatment, the well kicked off and flowed five hours through open two-inch tubing, making 172 barrels of oil cut from 12 to 20 cent fresh water.

Changing to a 3 1/4-inch choke, the development flowed steadily for 14 hours, averaging 27.5 barrels of oil per hour. Shakeout was 25 per cent fresh water.

No water developed from the current formation when drilling through, although a water zone was present about 30 feet below the present perforations. It is supposedly cemented off.

Operator is to continue flowing the well to test and try to locate the origin of the water.

Location is 680 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 4, block A-24, pal survey.

Lowe has staked a south offset to this strike as his No. 1 Cunningham-Stanolind, projected at least to 9,000 feet to test the formation making oil in the discovery.

The drillsite is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 4, block A-24, pal survey. It is on a farmout from Stanolind Oil & Gas Company. The derrick was up on last report, and equipment was being moved in for spudding.

Possible Nolan Deep Discovery Reported

Official information has been released on a deep wildcat in Northwest Nolan County, heretofore drilled "tight," which shows possibilities of a discovery from the Ellenburger.

The prospect is Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Ater, venture five miles southwest of Roscoe and 330 feet from north, 2,500 feet from west lines of section 67, block 23, TP survey.

Topping the Ellenburger at 7,088 feet, the prospector drillstem tested for four hours at 7,087-97 feet and (Continued on Page 7)

Housing Bill Gets Approval

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
WASHINGTON — (P) — The Administration's vast housing bill Thursday hit the final lap of its long trip through Congress.

Democratic leaders confidently expected to hand the trimmed-down measure to President Truman Thursday following its approval by compromise form late Wednesday by a House-Senate Conference Committee.

The bill, marking the first major success for Truman's "fair deal" program, calls for a multi-billion dollar program of public housing, slum clearance and farm housing aids.

All that was needed before Truman could sign the compromise into law was its approval by the two chambers of Congress.

Housing Administrator Raymond Foley said he is all set to swing into the public housing program as fast as the President signs the bill. He said he hopes to get 50,000 public dwelling units under way the first year.

Provisions Of Bill
Here is what the compromise housing bill would do:

1. Provide a five-year slum clearance program, with one-third of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local communities. The bill provides $1,000,000,000 in loans and $500,000,000 in grants to states and local public bodies.

2. Requires local authorities to select the low-income occupants of the planned 810,000 public housing units, and to set the rent at what these families can pay. The federal subsidies would make up the difference between the rents and the amount needed to pay for the housing projects.

3. Divides the farm housing program into three parts. The first part provides for long-term loans at not more than four per cent interest to owners of self-sustaining farms unable to obtain financing elsewhere.

The second part sets up a similar loan program, with annual federal contributions, to owners whose farms were not at the time self-sustaining. The third part provides loans for minor improvements on farms that could not be made self-sustaining.

4. Sets up a research program to find cheaper ways of building homes.

5. Provides a 60-day extension of temporary government authority to insure loans by private lenders up to $2,500 for repairing and remodeling existing structures; a 60-day extension of authority to insure mortgages for construction of small homes costing up to $5,000; and a $500,000,000 increase in the amount of mortgage insurance that the government can issue for single family and multiple dwelling units.

Truman Puts
T-H Policy
Up To Solons

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman said Thursday he has left up to the Democratic leadership in Congress the decision whether to continue the fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act at this session.

The President said he still is interested in making the fight for repeal one of his campaign pledges.

He said he discussed with congressional leaders earlier in the week whether to take up legislation in the House. The Senate has passed a bill dominated by Senator Taft (R-Ohio), raising the question whether a bill acceptable to the Administration can go through.

The Democratic leaders, the President went on, are considering whether to take up the measure in the House.

'Muggy' Weather
Due To Disappear

By The Associated Press
Sweltering Texans got welcome news from the Weather Bureau Thursday.

No, the heat wave isn't about to end. It's simply that you won't feel the heat so much. At least, you're not supposed to.

"The air is beginning to dry out," a bureau spokesman explained. "These southwest winds aloft are pulling out the moisture. That means it won't be sticky and muggy. The heat won't bother us so much."

This is about the time of the year that humidity usually drops off.

But it was still hot, and the outlook was for more heat. Wednesday's high readings included 103 at Laredo and Presidio and 102 at Wink. Elsewhere readings were in the 90's.

There was a brief cool spell early Thursday, with Marfa reporting 65, Guadalupe Pass 67 and Dalhart 69. Then temperatures hit the upgrade again.

Scattered rain for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. did little to relieve the heat. Marfa reported 47 of an inch, Presidio 35 and Midland .05.

DES MOINES — (P) — Wingless chickens have been developed by Peter H. Baumann of Des Moines after 12 years of selective breeding.

Baumann, 32, has about 400 of the wingless chickens.

The advantages? Well, for one thing, Baumann said, his birds have white meat where others have only bony wings. It makes them better eating.

And besides, no high fence is needed to keep the chickens in the yard.

Trail Days To Be Staged
In 1950 Despite Deficit

Midland's Trail Days celebration will be repeated in 1950 despite a deficit of more than $3,500 incurred in the staging of the first such event here last weekend, it was decided Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of Trail Days officials and Lions Club directors.

The Fourth of July weekend event, termed a huge success in every way except financial, was sponsored and underwritten by the Midland Lions Club.

Revival of the Lions Club carnivals was favored by the group as a means of raising funds to pay off the 1949 celebration deficit. It was pointed out that carnivals staged by the Lions Club in former years netted as much as $2,500 in profits.

The directors will recommend to the membership at its installation meeting Friday night the presenting of such a community-wide event August 4, 5 and 6 on the high school grounds. All proceeds would be used in retiring the celebration debt. Immediate plans will be launched if the project is approved by club members.

Other civic and service groups will be asked to participate.

Legislature
Meets Again
In January

AUSTIN — (P) — The 51st Legislature called it quits Wednesday afternoon after passing more bills and spending more money than any other legislature in Texas history—but it will be back again within six months.

Return of the 51st to a new session by mid-January of 1950 is assured. The people of Texas may vote for annual sessions beginning next January or Gov. Beauford H. Jester will call a special session.

The Legislature will come back to provide a state building program, to give eleemosynary institutions operating funds for the second year of the biennium and to take action toward keeping the state out of the red. Jester has made it plain he thinks a new, "sound" tax bill will be necessary.

Millions To Be Needed
Speaker Durwood Mansford warned a month ago that the 51st Legislature would have to pass a tax bill or the next legislature would face a $100,000,000 deficit.

Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio predicted the Legislature will have to raise $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 in new taxes "when it returns in January." He anticipated the new Gilmer-Aikin school program will cost the state $75,000,000 or $100,000,000 more per year than was forecast.

The 51st Legislature authorized the expenditure of more than $312,000,000 directly or indirectly from general revenue. When it got through, the state comptroller figured a mere $110,000 remained for spending in the next two years if revenue trends stay the same.

A $5,000,000 soil conservation bill was signed by the governor.

President Is Optimistic
On Business

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman declared Thursday he feels bullish about the economic situation.

The President made this comment during a news conference.

Questioned about the economic message he will send to Congress next week, he told reporters to wait for it.

But, when he was asked if he felt bullish or bearish on the economic situation, he said he was bullish.

Then he suggested that news-men read up on the Stock Market developments of the last few days.

A rally has been under way in the Stock Market since mid-June. Wednesday prices hit a six-weeks high.

In the language of stock traders, a "bull" is one who expects the market to go higher and is generally optimistic. A "bear" is one who is on the pessimistic side.

While Truman would not give any hint of what his economic message is to say, some officials are predicting it will be built on proposals made in January.

Loans Included
They include federal loans to industry for expansion, drafting of a "fully formulated" set of public works plans, props for farm living, and broader coverage and bigger payments under the Social Security and jobless pay programs.

Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, said in a radio discussion Wednesday night that, "In all frankness, I cannot see a tax bill going through this year."

It was the first time a top Administration leader has made such an outright statement.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers is known to have told Truman weeks ago that it favors a "lesser good" for tax increases. Some advisers fear that a determined driver for higher taxes would frighten business into further retrenchment.

On the other hand, to drop the request for higher taxes entirely would amount to putting a presidential okay on red-ink financing, in view of the Treasury's report a week ago of a $1,800,000,000 deficit in the fiscal year which ended June 30.

John Foster Dulles Appointed To Senate

NEW YORK — (P) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Thursday appointed John Foster Dulles, his veteran foreign affairs adviser, to the United States Senate as successor to Robert F. Wagner.

Dulles will serve an interim term until December 1. A senator will be elected at a special election November 8 to serve for the balance of Wagner's term from December 1, 1949 to December 31, 1950.

Dewey said it was "unlikely" that Dulles would run in the November 8 special election as the Republican nominee.

All Indicted
For Robbery
With Arms

LAMESA — (P) — Three men, all charged with armed robbery, slid down a sheet to freedom from the third floor of the Dawson County jail early Thursday.

Officers described them as "probably unarmed but potentially dangerous."

The fugitives were listed as Lewis Eugene Ables, 26, Earl Sidney Abbott, 21, and Roy Gene Brown, all of Ada, Okla.

They used a table leg to pry a steel plate from a door, and then, using the same leg, pried apart the steel bars of a window. They tied jail sheets together to descend.

The men are under indictment for armed robbery in connection with the May 21 robbery of Leon Edwards, a Lamesa service station attendant. Edwards was robbed and then carried several miles into the country and released.

Ables and Abbott were apprehended in Lubbock the next day. Brown was arrested in Ada about two weeks ago.

Nation Faces
Another Big
Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH — (P) — The nation Thursday faced the threat of its first major steel strike since 1946.

U. S. Steel Corp., industry bellwether, said "No" to demands of the CIO-United Steelworkers for a fourth round wage increase and for company financed pension and insurance programs.

The union immediately called a July 13 meeting of its wage policy committee to consider a possible strike July 16.

Contract negotiations were recessed indefinitely.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the steelworkers, told a press conference.

"They (Steel Corporation) merely say no to the union and they say so with an air of complete finality. x x x the conferences are deadlocked."

Contract Permits Strike
The present contract has almost a year to run. It was reported this summer on "rates of pay" and insurance. The contract permits a strike if no agreement is reached by July 16.

A statement from U. S. Steel covered the union demands this way:

1.—Wages: "We are convinced that no sound reasons justify an increase in this time."

2.—Pensions: "We propose that this issue of whether or not the contract can now be reopened by the union on this subject be presented x x x to the Board of Conciliation and arbitration for decision."

3.—Insurance: "The companies (six U. S. Steel subsidiaries) continue willing to arrange x x x for insurance benefits x x x but only on the express understanding that the cost of such insurance shall be divided equally between the companies and the participating employees."

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said in New York that "with business now receding in almost every industry across the land, nothing could be more damaging to the economy of the nation than generally to increase labor costs at this time."

Present wage for steelworkers is $1.69 an hour.

Confession Of Tot's
Death Is Retracted

CHICAGO — (P) — A 13-year-old boy told police Thursday he strangled a neighbor child and handed him to a rafter, then retracted his story.

The flurry of conflicting reports from police questioners prompted Edward T. Breen, first assistant state's attorney, to issue this brief statement:

"It's not in the bag yet. The confession was a little premature."

Detective Chief Timothy O'Connor said Charles told him he strangled Thomas with his fingers then handed him by a clothesline over a basement rafter.

Salons In New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE — (P) — The search for clues in the tourist court death of W. A. (Tex) Thornton led to New Mexico beauty parlors Thursday.

Police were checking the salons in an effort to find a young couple reported seen with the oil field explosives expert the night he was beaten to death June 22 in Amarillo.

Witnesses have described the woman as attractive, voluptuous and having a recent up-do hair set.

Police theorize that Thornton picked up the couple somewhere between Tucumcari and San Jon, N. M. A bartender at San Jon gave a description of the pair. He said they both appeared in their early 20's and "very neat and clean."

Inventor's Rearview Window Promises Safe Motoring For Convertible Drivers

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
Every American male from now on who sneers at the woman driver may have to nod down his upper lip before it curls.

A woman driver has invented a safety device for automobiles which will increase the rear vision of every man's convertible (every woman's, too, of course) an estimated 500 per cent.

Mrs. McKee Stone, a Washington, D. C. housewife, is the pretty blonde inventor whose safety window of plastic offers a big enough view to the man at the wheel to help him preserve his superior record as a driver.

The window which also makes many a man mutter "why didn't I think of that?" is a clear plastic rectangle which buttons into place when the rear canvas flap of the convertible is dropped out of the way.

"The idea for this device," says Mrs. Stone, who is a chic-looking mother of two sons, "popped into my head because the safety factor of the limited rear vision in my convertible worried me."

Putting her idea into action, she had a plastic window cut and installed. She was pleased with the result. But the effect on passing motorists, taxi-drivers and policemen was sensational.

"Motorists caught up with me on the highway to ask where I got the window. Taxi-drivers stopped me at traffic lights to comment approvingly. Policemen praised the added safety. When one policeman said 'lady there oughta be a law to put that window in every convertible' I began to think I really had a good salable invention."

That was the beginning of a year of intensive and persevering effort to perfect the window and sell the idea. "I called on and wrote to the large auto accessory manufacturing companies. They were polite and interested, but not enough so to manufacture it. So I decided to make it myself."

"I knew nothing about production lines or raw materials. All I could do was to ask questions. And believe me, I questioned everyone from lawyers to accountants to mechanics to find out how one started a business and marketed a product," says the enterprising inventor.

One of her major headaches was finding the right type of plastic to use. Mrs. Stone tried and rejected several types before she found one which was optically clear, wouldn't scratch easily nor discolor.

Her questions paid off. The business is well launched and the problem now is to keep production up with the orders. If she needed any further proof of her success, she can point to the many realistic, cautious businessmen who have asked to buy stock in her company.

Even the family is amazed at my success. They used to think of me as a pleasantly vague person without any business sense."

Paris Accord Looks Hopeful

The four-power accord reached at Paris resembles the first shaky steps of the hospital patient arising from a long siege in bed. No one can be sure whether he'll soon be walking more steadily or whether he'll flop back into bed in a state of collapse.

In other words, it is impossible to put down at this time the real value of the agreements. They hinge on the good faith of the Russians. They can mean a firm stride toward peace, or nothing.

The western diplomats and their peoples can be forgiven for viewing the results with tongue in cheek until they see how the Soviet Union performs. The memory of broken agreements is still vivid.

The most promising feature of the accord is that relating to the proposed Austrian peace treaty. If such a treaty could be signed, it would mean removal of Russian troops not only from Austria but from Hungary and Rumania, where they are supposedly guarding lines to Austria.

In the present tentative advance, we plainly owe much to Russia's feud with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. A major barrier to agreement was removed when the Soviet Union withdrew its support of Tito's territorial claims against Austria.

Russia also showed a somewhat more cooperative spirit in the knotty matter of German assets in Austria. The Kremlin yielded its former sweeping demands in this field and agreed to accept $150,000,000 from Austria in settlement of its claims.

Beyond this, however, the Western Powers stipulated that the final settlement would give Russia all the assets of the Danube Shipping Company in Austria, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria, and substantial extraction and prospecting rights in oil fields in Eastern Austria.

The assets problem, furthermore, is still left open. And last-minute Russian maneuvering at Paris raises the question of whether Moscow may not yet find a way to fasten a stranglehold on Austria's economy.

The deputy foreign ministers and regular diplomatic channels will try to settle remaining provisions of the Austrian treaty by September 1. Meantime, we can perhaps gauge Russian sincerity by watching the Soviets' behavior in Germany.

The Paris agreement frankly conceded the four powers' inability to get anywhere on German unity and a peace treaty. But all pledged themselves to go on trying for those goals.

As interim steps, they reaffirmed the New York agreement on lifting of the Berlin blockade, agreed to work further for restoration of normal traffic and communications, to return at least in part to four-power control of Germany, and to seek expansion of trade and other economic relations between the eastern and western zones.

Western officials aren't putting much stock in these features. The general reaction is that in Germany we are about where we were before the Paris conference began a month ago. But they are willing to be shown.

Possibly the chief gain in all this is none of the specific proposals but simply the evidence that Russia appears to desire a lessening of cold war tensions—at least for the moment.

Without knowing for sure why Russia wants this breathing spell, we can welcome it. So long as we do not relax our vigilance against a quick Soviet turnabout toward new cold war aggressions.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Medical lobby pressures congressmen against federal health insurance; National Soldiers' Home should be expanded; Bendix strike offered serious threat to Berlin airlift.

WASHINGTON — Latest gadget the American Medical Association lobby is using in the pressure campaign against federal health insurance is a post card, distributed from doctors' offices, which threatens vote retaliations against members of Congress who support the health program.

The card reads: "As for myself and family, which consists of ... votes, we are unalterably opposed to compulsory health insurance or any other legislation which tends to regiment our population and socialize our government."

The sender fills in the blank with the number of votes in his family. Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, a leading sponsor of health insurance, reports he has received hundreds of the stereotyped cards. Some also have been mailed to President Truman.

One sender, whose wife recently underwent an operation, wrote Pepper that he was "compelled" by the doctor performing the operation to fill out and sign the card. Another reported that he feared he would "antagonize my doctor and nurse" if he didn't comply with their wishes.

Both these individuals informed Senator Pepper that they strongly supported the health-insurance program. Similar cards also are being distributed by Florida insurance salesmen.

Old Soldiers. Five hundred forgotten soldiers, who survived past wars but are victims of old age, are waiting to get into the National Soldiers' Home at Washington, D. C.

But there's no room. Those on the inside would like to make room by building new quarters. They have plenty of money—$33,000,000, every cent contributed through the years by enlisted men. But the money is held in trust by the Treasury Department, and the ex-soldiers can't get it out without an act of Congress.

Although this money belongs to the soldiers and not the taxpayers, the Budget Bureau has turned down a request to release $16,700,000 in trust by the Treasury Department, and the ex-soldiers can't get it out without an act of Congress.

Meanwhile, the waiting list of aged, lonely ex-soldiers is growing longer. Threat To Berlin Airlift. The public never was told how the Bendix strike at South Bend, Ind., involving fewer than 6,000 workers, came closer to grounding the Berlin airlift than the Russians ever did. That was the reason the Air Force urgently summoned both sides to the Pentagon last week to settle the strike at a dramatic, all-night session.

Here, for the first time, is the inside story: After negotiations broke down at South Bend, Secretary of the Air Force Stuart Symington personally invited Bendix boss Malcolm Ferguson to Washington. Simultaneously he sent an Air Force plane to Detroit to pick up Walter Reuther, chief of the United Auto Workers.

The two men were brought in to see Symington separately. The secretary of the Air Force warned both that plane production would be crippled, the Berlin lift forced down for lack of key parts—if the strike continued.

It was Reuther who suggested they sit down on the spot and settle the strike. "With all this talent from both labor and management," he declared, "if we can't settle this strike, then just plain can't be settled. And I'm willing to sweat it out."

Ferguson was brought in, and the two men met face to face. "I am convinced that by using the democratic processes," Reuther offered, "we can settle this strike, and by doing it in that way, we will enable the Air Force to continue to defend the democratic processes we are using."

Ferguson promptly agreed. Assistant Secretary of Labor John Gibson also was called in, offered to serve as arbitrator. For several hours the two sides haggled behind closed doors, took time out only for quick snacks. Symington kept a Pentagon kitchen open all night to accommodate them.

By 3 a.m. the negotiators were still deadlocked. Finally Reuther burst out: "The thing that bewilders me is how a situation that has dragged out ten weeks and should have been settled at the outset, yet has been handled with good faith and good will and intelligence, could have gotten so 'snarled' up as it is tonight."

Reuther used one word that can't be repeated here which caused the tense, solemn group to burst out in laughter. This broke the ice and started the negotiators on the road to settlement. By 11 a.m., almost 24 hours after they started negotiating, an agreement was reached, ending one of the most critical strikes since V-J Day—another triumph for the democratic processes.

The President paid high praise to Democratic Representative Mike Mansfield of Montana. Mansfield reported that the Interior Department's public power and reclamation program, which Kirwan navigated through the House, faced a "very tough" battle in the Senate. "I'm for you all the way," commented Truman. "You know, the Interior bill was the best we've ever got through the House. Mike Kirwan deserves the major credit. He fought it through the Appropriations Subcommittee, through the full committee and finally through the House over the protests of the private power lobby."

Italian Theaters Being Subsidized

ROME —(AP)— Italy will spend 229,847,000 lire ($383,000) this year for subsidizing private theatrical plays in local dialect. To encourage the companies to produce new plays by Italian authors, the Undersecretary of State for Theaters and Tourism gave a bonus of $600 to the companies which produced 17 new plays by Italian authors during the 1948-49 season.

Early Treatment Is Important In Control Of Social Disease

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

One of the two most important venereal diseases, syphilis, seems to be becoming a less serious problem as time goes on. It is still, however, the cause of much suffering. Perhaps beyond all other diseases syphilis can produce a wide variety of symptoms. Because it is now less common and because it is more often treated early and more vigorously, there is reason to hope that eventually it will be conquered.

The first symptom is as a rule a local sore. This is usually followed in a few weeks by a mild skin rash. Later syphilis may attack almost any portion of the body. It is responsible for some cases of heart disease and blood vessel disorders. It frequently affects the nervous system and is the cause of a condition, the common name of which is locomotor ataxia. It may attack the brain and cause mental symptoms.

Blood Test. Except in the earliest stage, diagnosis is best made by an examination of the blood which is called the Wassermann test or one of the newer methods of a somewhat similar nature. This test turns up many cases of the disease which have been entirely unsuspected.

The most important method of controlling syphilis is to start treatment early. Modern methods of treatment usually can prevent its spread to others very rapidly even though this does not mean that the patient is cured.

The problem of exactly how to treat the disease is complicated. Penicillin will certainly free someone with the early contagious form quite rapidly. It is not, however, absolutely certain as yet whether this will cure the disease or not.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"It's crazy," I repeated. "The idea of not being able to go into your own mine because you've got claustrophobia!"

Cory Parnell flushed scarlet. "All right, Mike, I'm a coward. I can't help it. I've tried and tried, but every time I get a few feet past the portal—"

I reached for her hand but she snatched it away. "Cory, you've got me wrong. Claustrophobia's nothing to be ashamed of. Everybody's got something the matter with them. Take me—I'm scared to death of horses."

She brightened up visibly. "Really, Mike?"

I felt better. You hate to see somebody with guts limped by a thing they can't fight.

"What I meant," I said, "was that if people around here know you never go into the mine, how do you expect to keep them on their toes?"

"Because I can trust them."

I groaned. "Cory, don't give me that again. Listen, and I'll tell you what I've been doing."

I gave her the story, leaving out the bit where I nearly got cocked off. She heard me out and when she'd thought it over for a few minutes, she came out with something absolutely typical: "Mike, I wish you knew who it was."

Without thinking, I said, "We could find out easily enough. All we'd have to do is sit on the roof of that shed tonight and watch the parade."

Questions and Answers

Q—What is the name of the plant used to catch fish? A—Fishes are the seed of an East Indian plant botanically called Anamirta cocculus. The seeds are used commonly in India for stupefying fish. When the dried berries are thrown into a stream, any fish in the vicinity are quickly stupefied and easily caught by hand.

Q—Where is the Isle of Cloves? A—Zanzibar, an island lying just off the eastern coast of Africa, is called the Isle of Cloves because it produces 80 per cent of the world supply of that spice.

Q—What was the Reconstruction Act? A—It was an act which divided the former Confederate States into five military districts under command of United States generals, who were permitted to supplant civil government wherever and whenever they wished to. This act was passed over the veto of President Andrew Johnson.

Q—Which state is frequently referred to as the Baby State? A—Arizona is known as the Baby State because it was the last federal territory to be admitted into the Union as a state.

Q—Where is the oldest university in America? A—Lima, Peru, claims the oldest university in the Western hemisphere, the University of San Marcos, which was founded in 1551.

Perhaps no more effective barrier to Communist advances (in the Far East) could be erected than that formed by a flourishing commerce, raising living standards and affording some confidence in the improvement of the general welfare.

This Suspect Puts Heat On Himself

DALLAS —(AP)— Detective E. R. Gaddy's eyes glistened with suspicion when he saw a 60-year-old negro man. Despite the 85-degree temperature the man was wearing a heavy overcoat.

Gaddy demanded an explanation, and got one. "It ain't so hot here," the negro said. "I've just come from California and, boss, it's hot out there."

CLIPPED ANGEL

By Clive Grierson Cornish

THE STORY: Mike McTig, a mining engineer, is investigating the drop in production from the Dark Angel, inherited by Cory Parnell from her father. Mike suspects she stole ore, but they have covered their trail by using a nearby mine as a dummy through which the stolen ore is sold. Mike goes to the Dark Angel and discovers that the Argus is being used to mine the ore. Mike follows the trail and finally reaches an exit, opening into a dunned state highway department garage. Here, Mike strikes back at the stoles ore away to the Argus workings.

Cory, she says she can't go to see what she is found because she is afraid—she's got claustrophobia—a fear of closed-in places.

That again. Listen, and I'll tell you what I've been doing."

I gave her the story, leaving out the bit where I nearly got cocked off. She heard me out and when she'd thought it over for a few minutes, she came out with something absolutely typical: "Mike, I wish you knew who it was."

Without thinking, I said, "We could find out easily enough. All we'd have to do is sit on the roof of that shed tonight and watch the parade."

"Then let's do it!"

Right then is when I should have put my foot down. I should have pointed out it was risky, unnecessary, and that things had reached the stage where the law should be called in, preferably in the shape of several smart detectives.

I should have told her not to be melodramatic, and generally acted my age.

Instead of that I toyed with a copy picture of Cory and me sitting close together in the dark for several hours, sharing an adventure, and perhaps the two of us planning our life together. I'll admit I behaved like a romantic idiot—but I liked it.

"Okay," I said, "and any time you'd like a few dozen dragons slain, just say the word."

LATE that afternoon I said goodbye to Uncle Jake and Archie Trask, and told them how sorry I was I hadn't been able to find any ore for them. "And any time you'd like the same thing to everybody I ran into, and told them, also, that Cory was driving me into Seattle right after dinner. I wanted it known to everyone that Mr. McTig had taken the hint and was pulling up stakes.

We set out about eight o'clock and when we'd gone about a mile toward Driscow, Cory pulled into a gravel pit where the car was out of sight from the road.

She knew a trail that led past the far edge of the townsite and we stumbled along in the dark for an hour until we finally came out on the road, just below the shed which the Highway Department had apparently forgotten it owned.

I scouted the ground and noticed both trucks were in the shed, but there were no signs or sounds of activity. I gave Cory a boost up onto the roof.

It was flat and once it had been tarred and gravelled, but now it was covered with moss. A foot high parapet went along the front edge and we settled down behind it like a couple of fans in the bleachers.

A LITTLE before midnight the roof started vibrating and I knew ore cars were in the tunnel. We heard the rattle of ore cascading into the trucks and then it stopped and a moment later the shed doors below us swung open. Somebody stepped out and stood listening for fully half a minute.

"All clear," he said, and it was the voice of Uncle Jake.

Cory grabbed me so hard I nearly yelled.

A starter whirred and a loaded six-wheeler pulled out. It traveled with dimmed headlights and turned along the road in the direction of Argus Mines.

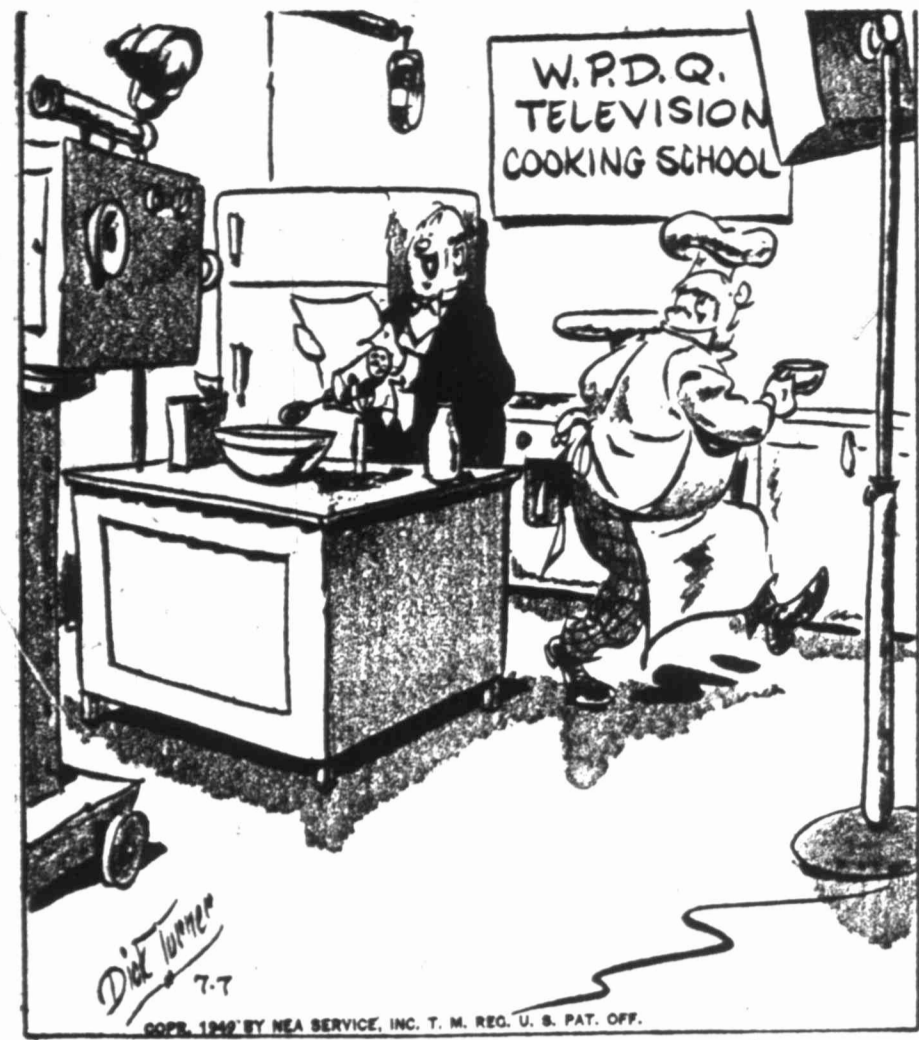

"Who's driving it?" Cory whispered.

I shook my head. "The second truck pulled away and somebody came out of the shed and stood with Uncle Jake."

"You filled that last on a bit too full, Jake"—that was Archie Trask—"the tarp didn't quite cover the load."

"It doesn't matter," Uncle Jake said, "that snoot artist has gone home."

"Yeah, but if any of the stuff spilled on the road it might start someone wondering." (To Be Continued)

Cooper Shows Stuff Under New Manager

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

All Walker Cooper needed was a change of scenery—or was it a change of managers?

Big Coop, who popped off publicity about his trials with the New York Giants under Leo Durocher, sounded off with his big bat Wednesday for his new boss—Bucky Walters—at Cincinnati.

Six straight base hits, including three three-run homers, added up to a big 10 runs batted in for the ex-Giant.

The big fellow had the biggest day of his long career against the Chicago Cubs Wednesday afternoon. It was also the biggest day for the Reds as they rolled up a 23-4 landslide.

Brooklyn's one-game lead was cut in half when the Dodgers lost to the Boston Braves 7-5 but the runnerup St. Louis Cards blew a 3-1 lead in the last of the ninth and bowed to Pittsburgh 4-3. As a result the Brooks still lead by a full game.

Rain washed out Philadelphia-New York games in both the National and American.

Both Cleveland and Detroit lost ground by dropping night games but the Boston Red Sox pulled up over the 300 mark by shutting out Washington 5-0 in a game called in the sixth due to rain.

Steve Souchock's double with the bases loaded in the eighth gave the Chicago White Sox a 9-6 edge over Cleveland.

The St. Louis Browns outlasted the Detroit Tigers 6-5 in 13 innings.

Junior Indians Lose 13-6, Finish Third

The crippled Midland Junior Indians, minus five of their starting players, dropped a 13 to 6 decision to the Odessa Junior Blue Sox in Odessa Park at Odessa Wednesday night. It was the final game of the season for Midland.

Ray Williams, Midland's starting hurler, was touched for seven hits and 10 runs in the early part of the game. Frank Roberson finished on the mound.

The loss dropped Midland to third place in the standings. Odessa and Lamesa are tied for first and will meet in a playoff tilt later this week.

Midland 302 010 — 6 11 6
Odessa 442 210 x—13 9 2

LONGHORN LEAGUE—BRONCS BREAK LOOSE

By The Associated Press

Big Spring's vaunted power broke loose Wednesday night and the Longhorn League leader buried Odessa under a 15-3 score.

Thirteen runs in the seventh and eighth innings insured the Broncs of their ninth victory over Odessa this year against no losses.

In other games, Ballinger scored five runs in the first two innings and went on to whip Roswell 10-5.

Lou Ehlinger's single in the fourth inning drove home the only run of the game as Vernon blanked San Angelo 1-0.

Midland outlasted Sweetwater in a wild one 10-9.

Lefty Hayes Saves Game With Fine Relief Stint

The Midland Indians try for their second win of the series against the Sweetwater Swatters 8:15 p.m. Thursday Indian Park. Buck Austin is the probable starter for Midland. Spence or Lookhart likely will hurl for Sweetwater.

By SHORTY SHELburne

The Midland Indians almost fooled around and lost a one-sided ball game to the Sweetwater Swatters in Indian Park Wednesday night but they finally managed to salvage the victory, 10 to 9. The Indians took a seven-run lead in the seventh inning but it dwindled to a two-run lead when Sweetwater scored five runs in the eighth.

Ralph Blair notched his eleventh win of the season but he had to have help from Lefty Leon Hayes in the ninth. Blair worked nice enough during the early part of the game but poor support made him look bad in spots.

Many of the base hits credited against Blair could have been turned into easy outs with just a little more hustle on the part of a couple of infielders.

The Indians were behind at only one point in the game. They took a single by Presley, an error, a walk to Dawson, and a single by Pena before Blair took the mound for the third with two runs on two singles and a double. It was their only time to lead the contest.

Hughes walked on Midland's third and Presley poked his seventh home run of the season over the leftfield fence. Consecutive singles by Kenny Jones, Pena and Buck Austin added another run.

Blair blanked the Swatters during the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Sparkling defense by Pena and Hughes helped out. Heads up ball by Jones plus a lot of hustle by the rookie receiver also aided.

A single by Hughes, a walk to Sitter, a single by Presley, an error, a walk to Dawson, and a single by Pena gave Midland three more tallies in the fourth.

The Indians added single runs in the sixth and seventh. A walk to Dawson and a single by Blair provided the first one and Bobby Rose's life on a fielder's choice and a double by Sitter gave our side the other.

Hayes Relieves

Blair was relieved in on Blair in the eighth. He gave up five singles, two bases on balls and the Swatters parlayed them with a committed error and other errors in judgment by the Indians for five runs.

The roof caved in on Blair in the eighth. He gave up five singles, two bases on balls and the Swatters parlayed them with a committed error and other errors in judgment by the Indians for five runs.

SPORTSLANTS

By SHORTY SHELburne

Regardless of the action taken on the very undesirable incident unrelayed by the Odessa ball club in Indian Park Tuesday night, it stands as an all-time case in the Longhorn League.

The professional griping and sore-headedness that has been plaguing Frank Mormino all season has been the biggest flaw in the entire league setup.

It hasn't been in just one game or two, it has been a continuous thing with the twigs in every game we have seen them this season.

—SS—

The never-ceasing protest, petty eccentricities, bush-league actions and continuous crying to the umpires has done more to lower the league and baseball in West Texas than anything else.

The place it has hurt most is with the fans. The cash customers who pay the way of baseball just about have a stomach full of such carryings-on as was seen here Tuesday night. More than a hundred fans told Sports Slants they're slowing up on attending games just on account of the way Monchak and Mormino acted in the three-game series.

—SS—

The case definitely was sufficient against the two to warrant a heavy fine and a lengthy suspension. There never has been a more detrimental case in baseball.

Any time a player, regardless of his official capacity, fails to leave the field when he is ordered out—it is time he was fined. And when he insists on carrying the argument even further—the fine should be doubled. If the police have to be called in to remove the player from the field, it's time to suspend him.

—SS—

Al Monchak, to me, is two different people. He is a very nice fellow off the baseball field. On the field he is little more than a sore-head.

He has great qualities in the field and at the plate for a baseball player. We once admired his playing.

His recent actions have nullified any admiration we might have had for him. Continued tolerance of his undesirable remarks, actions and habits on the playing field can do nothing more than hinder baseball in the Longhorn League.

—SS—

As for Frank Mormino, he does nothing but stick his nose in every piece of business where it doesn't belong. He has no more right to enter into the discussion of a disputed play than does the bat boy. Nevertheless, he always is in the middle of every dispute just like he owned the whole thing. Someway, somehow he needs to be taught that his presence on the field of play requires only his playing the game to the best of his ability and no more.

Stars Ready For Big Tilt On Tuesday

By BEN PHELEGAR

NEW YORK —(P)—The Major League all-stars won't settle their annual argument until Tuesday in Brooklyn, but the nation's baseball fans already have won.

The all-star squads follow exactly the dictates of the 4,637,743 fans who balloted.

Managers Lou Boudreau of the Americans and Billy Southworth of the Nationals were bound to use only the top choice for each of the eight positions. They exercised their judgment solely in the pitching department which wasn't included in the popular voting.

Two additions brought on by peculiar circumstances were sure to meet with the fans' approval.

Joe DiMaggio, of the Yankees, who suddenly returned to his brilliant form after missing the first 65 games of the season, was included on the American League squad for the 11th time.

Eddie Waitkus, of the Phils, who was leading the National League first base poll when he was shot by a crazed girl admirer, was named an honorary member.

Dominated By Pair

Brooklyn and St. Louis dominate the National League roster announced Wednesday night. They each landed seven players on the 26-man squad. The New York Giants placed four, followed by Boston, Cincinnati and Philadelphia with two each and Chicago and Pittsburgh with one each.

Three of the eight National League pitchers are Dodgers—Rube Brouder, Preacher Roe and Don Newcombe. Rounding out the staff are Howie Pollet and George Munger of the Cardinals; Warren Spahn and Vern Bickford of the Braves and the biggest surprise of the squad—Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati.

The starting lineups have to remain intact through the first three innings barring injuries. For the American Leaguers, who have won 11 of the 15 all-star tilts, it will be Eddie Robinson, Washington, first base; Cass Michaels, Chicago, second base; George Kell, Detroit, third base; Eddie Joost, Philadelphia, shortstop; Ted Williams, Boston, left field; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, center field; Tommy Henrich, New York, right field; and Birdie Tebbets, Boston, catcher.

To Choose From Seven

For his starting pitcher Boudreau will choose from among Lou Briscoe, Philadelphia; Mel Parnell, Boston; Vic Raschi, New York; Alie Reynolds, New York; Virgil Trucks, Detroit; and Bob Lemon, Cleveland.

Opening for the National League will be Johnny Mize, New York, veteran of eight previous all-star games, at first base; Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, second base; Eddie Kaskaz, St. Louis, third base; Felix "Lefty" Gomez, Pittsburgh, left field; Stan Musial, St. Louis, center field; Willard Marshall, New York, right field, and Andy Seminick, Philadelphia, catcher.

Bill Would Limit Nation's Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A bill to cut down threatening surpluses of cotton went to the House Thursday. The measure, passed by the Senate Wednesday, would authorize the Agriculture Department to limit the amount of land on which cotton could be grown, and would provide for a new division of this cotton acreage among the cotton-producing states.

The program would set up a minimum allotment of about 10,000,000 bales for the next two years, compared with a 14,625,000-bale crop in 1948 and one this year which is expected to be even larger.

British Are Likely To Receive Sympathy But No U.S. Money

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Great Britain seemed Thursday to get American sympathy—and not much else—in her newest financial plight. Members of Congress generally reacted coolly to the announcement that Britain is down to her last $1,942,000,000 in gold and dollars. Their general observation was that the problem is one the British will have to solve for themselves without increased U. S. financial aid.

In diplomatic circles, Secretary of State Acheson displayed a tendency to discount the British situation somewhat.

He said that, like an individual whose income drops, Britain was cutting her purchases.

Unless Congress changes the figure, England will get $20,000,000 in Marshall plan aid this year. That was taken into account by Sir Stafford Cripps, finance minister in announcing drastic cuts in buying from the United States and other dollar areas.

Taft Sees Limit

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told a reporter he thinks most of his party will regard the $20,000,000 as the limit of aid.

"The British have a planned economy and it just hasn't worked," he said.

"They'll have to work out their problem for themselves by changing their system or doing something else. We can't be expected to give them any more help than we already have."

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), a member of the Appropriations Committee, said, "We have been pouring out our money to them for years and they are in worse condition than they were when the war ended. I don't think they will get anywhere until they change their Socialist government."

Bodies Of Drowned Pair Are Recovered

BURLEY, IDAHO—(AP)—The bodies of a man and woman who drowned in the Snake River were recovered Wednesday.

The two were identified as John O'Brien Hurl, 29, of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Jean Dean, Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Dean drowned when she fell into the swift stream from the Overland Bridge Tuesday. Hurl died when he jumped into the stream attempting to save her.

810,000 Low-Rent Homes Are Planned In Housing Program

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—This is the government's new public housing program.

To start building 810,000 decent, low-rent housing units in the next six years for low-income families living now in slums or run-down homes.

Once a family's income improves beyond a certain point, it must get out of public housing and find a private dwelling.

This market room for a lower-income family. Over many years many people can be helped that way. That's the idea behind the program.

The government's main role in all this helping—with money—cities and communities build the public housing.

The government won't own or run the housing. The cities and communities will do that.

Cost Is High
How much will all this cost the government? Congress says no more than $12,320,000,000, spread over 40 years.

Since government money will be used in public housing, the government will have some control over it. For example:

1. Loans—The government can give the cities as much as $1,500,000,000 in loans over the next six years. A city can get a loan up to 90 per cent of the cost of building a public housing project.

2. Grants—This is where the government hands out money it never gets back, for a grant is an outright gift.

Congress says the government can give the cities $12,320,000,000 in grants to get public housing. But the money will be handed out over 40 years and then with no more than $308,000,000 given in any one year.

Standard smothered the Rebels 16 to 4 in the other game. In a makeup tilt Tuesday night, Joe's Gulf defeated league-leading Western Plastic 6 to 4.

The Western Plastic team is scheduled to enter the Monahans Invitation Softball Tournament July 18 and the Andrews tourney July 23.

1,200 Grievances In Crown Shutdown Listed By Workers

PASADENA, TEXAS—(AP)—Crown Petroleum Corporation shut down completely Thursday. Company spokesmen blamed a "new type" of sit-down strike by employees.

A spokesman for Local 227, Oil Workers International Union (CIO), denied there was any sit-down. He said if the company closed the plant it is a lockout.

Company representative said employees sat at their jobs for several hours Wednesday writing and re-writing grievances. The company's contract with about 350 members of the union expired last Thursday.

Company officials said some 1,200 grievances had been turned in since Monday. It said only one or two could be classed as legitimate complaints.

Midland High Graduates Set Envious Scholastic Records In College Work

Midland High School graduates of 1948 last semester established enviable scholastic records in colleges and universities of the nation, according to a survey released Thursday by Principal Charles F. Mathews. The study also showed an exceptionally high percentage of the graduates attended college.

The purpose of the survey, Mathews said, is to present the results of the quality of college work for the 1948 Senior Class of Midland High School. Data was compiled concerning each subject pursued by the graduates in order to determine the adequacy of the school in preparing pupils for college.

Twenty-six schools of higher learning returned grades for the 1948 Spring semester from 71 pupils. Only two schools failed to cooperate in the study.

The reports returned from the colleges and universities were most gratifying to school authorities, Mathews stated.

A tabulation of grades disclosed that 90.5 per cent of the graduates earned creditable college work. Only 9.5 per cent were doing unsatisfactory work. In the unsatisfactory group, a part of the grades were conditional failures as a result of excessive absence from classes.

A breakdown of percentages revealed that 14.7 per cent made A or superior grades; 29.8 per cent made B or excellent; 31.2 per cent made C or average; 14.8 per cent made D or passing; and 9.5 per cent were classed as doing unsatisfactory work.

During the Spring semester of 1949, 50 per cent of the 1948 Midland graduates were enrolled in colleges and universities.

General Defends Atomic Commission
WASHINGTON—(AP)—An Army general said Thursday there has been a "complete model change" in the atomic bomb since the Atomic Energy Commission took over the project in 1947.

Brig. Gen. James McCormack, Jr., director of the AEC's military application division, also said all production facilities "worthy of serious concern" now have been broken and weapons production is on a "stable basis."

Mrs. Mesta Has Luxembourg Agog; GI Benefits Still Much In Demand

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A U. S. official just returned from Luxembourg says that little Grand Ducty is all agog over the appointment of Washington's number one hostess, Perle Mesta as its U. S. minister.

Shortly after President Truman's appointment of Mrs. Mesta was announced, there was a big state dinner in Luxembourg City. Mrs. Mesta was the number one topic of conversation for one point and the Luxembourg Minister of Tourism got up and announced he was going to resign.

When somebody shouted, "Why?" he replied: "Now that the famous Mrs. Mesta is coming to our country, there is no longer any need for my services. She will attract so many visitors here there will be no reason for us to worry about the problem any more."

GI Bill Still Booming
General belief that GI bill of rights expenses would begin to taper off next year now is being revised. The original assumption was that the majority of the veterans wanting higher education would have applied for it. Slight business recession and resulting unemployment in 1949 have changed the picture.

What A Difference
This is how composition of the U. S. budget has changed in 10 years, measured in terms of per capita expenditures: In 1939 the government was spending $8 per person on national defense. Today the figure is $96 per person. In 1939 the government spent 15 cents per person on international affairs. Today it is $36 per person. In 1939 the government spent $4 per person on care of veterans. Today it is $32 per person. In 1939 interest on the public debt cost $7 per person. Today it is $37 per person.

Brass Turns Green—Or Blue
New officers assigned to big brass at the Pentagon are being decorated in one of two colors—"Eisenhower green" or "Marshall blue." Top officials get their choice of which shade they want on their walls.

When General Eisenhower returned from Europe, he had one of the Pentagon painters mix up a particular shade of green for his office. Hence the name "Eisenhower green." It's medium dark and easy on the eyes.

"Marshall blue" was the color Secretary Marshall had chosen for his office interior decoration scheme, several years before.

Midland Area Drillsites Rise To 67; Includes 11 Wildcats

Locations for 67 new petroleum explorations were reported during the past week to the district 8 office of the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission of Texas in Midland. Included were 11 wildcats.

Amended applications covering changes on nine previously reported explorations in the district were filed.

Cochran County has five amended applications. The remaining amended applications were distributed one each to Andrews, Crane, Ector and Garza Counties.

Pecos County led the list of new locations with 16 projects, eight of which were wildcats. Ector County gained 15 new exploration and Scurry County followed with 14 prospectors.

Five new locations were listed in Andrews. Drillsites were established for four new explorations in each of Cochran and Gaines Counties. Gaines also reported two wildcat locations. Hockley County reported two new explorations.

The remaining locations were staked one each in Borden, Crane, Dawson, Garza, Loving and Reeves Counties. Location was staked for a wildcat location in Sterling County.

Sooner Scientists Think Way Found To Predict Winds

STILLWATER, Okla.—Some Oklahoma scientists have their fingers crossed, but they hope they've found a way to predict tornadoes with pinpoint accuracy.

They measure lightning with an electronic yardstick. If the bolts reach a certain unusual size, that suggests a tornado storm is in the offing. Electrical engineers have worked on the theory for two years at Oklahoma A&M College here, and now they see progress.

If it works, it's some of the best news the Central and Southern states have had in years.

Each Spring the people in the Middle West and South brace themselves for these terrible seasonal storms. A tornado can turn a town into a little Hiroshima in 30 seconds. A hurricane covers more ground, but its big wind is only a hotfoot compared to a tornado's 500-mile-an-hour supercharged hell.

About 250 persons die in an average 150 tornadoes every year. But one really bad tornado can kill almost that many in three minutes.

That's why a warning service is such a desperate need in twister country. The weather bureau has a good understanding of tornadoes, but it has never had enough faith in its own tornado predictions to issue warnings and possibly cause needless panic.

Dr. H. L. Jones, professor of electrical engineering at the college, hopes to do better than that. He and his assistants think they will be able to spot potential twisters as far as 250 miles away.

Camera Included
Their instruments are a gadget called an oscilloscope and a movie camera.

The oscilloscope, used a lot by radio amateurs, takes a radio signal and turns it into a picture, but instead of a real picture you get a set of wave forms—lumpy lines that look like a flickering fever chart.

Like any other radio it picks up static—and makes pictures of that, too.

The Aggie searchers tuned their scopes to all the static they could locate, and took reels and reels of movie film of what flickered across the scope's viewing tube.

They discovered two kinds of lightning. One small wave was very common. The other was a King-size wave and rather rare.

The engineers now believe—after two years of study—that the little waves are ordinary everyday lightning, and that the big waves are the lightning surges of tornadoic storms.

Will Switch To Radar
"We hope to pick up a tornado when it is about a mile above ground," Dr. Jones said. "Once we know it's a tornado, we'll switch to radar to follow its course and possible location."

"We want to be able to say a tornado is expected, where it is forming, which way it is traveling, and its speed."

If they can do that, they will lift a curse that haunts nearly half the United States each Spring—a Spring where April showers bring death, and the May flowers are all too often woven into wreaths.

Lloyd's Of London Has 1000-1 Shot

LONDON—(AP)—Lloyd's of London is offering Britishers 1,000-to-1 odds against catching infantile paralysis, smallpox or typhoid.

The world-famous insurance firm started issuing a new policy which guarantees holders 10 pounds ($40) a week till they have collected $4,000 if they are stricken with any of the dread illnesses. All this for a $4 premium.

The offer, open only to residents of the United Kingdom, is called the "1,000-to-1 insurance against epidemics."

FRESH PEARS
Serve fresh pears on a bed of salad greens with a little finely cut preserved ginger and a square of cream cheese. A dressing of mayonnaise mixed with sour cream is a delicious accompaniment to this salad-dessert.

Chicks Win Bout With Fire Siren

WAYNE, N. J.—(AP)—If there is a fire siren right across the street from your chicken farm, you don't get much sleep. And it's not very good for the chicks either.

"Either the siren or we have to move," Chick Breeder Edward Parkala told the township committee.

The committee thought it over, listened to the rasping growl of the siren, and said they'd move it. Parkala said the chicks flew into a tizzy every time the thing let go. They'd flutter into a heap and 20 or 30 of the tiny birds would smother before he could unscramble them.

Afghanistan became a political entity in 1747, previously having been a cluster of small states under various rulers.

Hope, Crosby Won't Crack About This

SNYDER—(AP)—Bing Crosby and Bob Hope probably won't laugh at this one: There's no oil in their oil well.

The comedians were partners with veteran oilman W. A. Moncrief in a wildcat oil well in central Scurry County.

It was labeled a "duster" and workmen prepared to abandon it.

Refuses Lie Test

(NEA Telephone) Musician-saleman Arthur Marino, 28, has refused to submit to a lie test in the slaying of his fiancée, Joan Coward, 17, authorities have revealed. They termed "highly fantastic" Marino's story that the girl was bludgeoned to death and he was forced to drink poison by two men who overpowered the couple in a parked car. Marino is recovering at St. Francis Hospital in Blue Island, a suburb of Chicago.

Lower California Holds Link To Past

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—On Cape San Lucas, the southernmost extremity of Lower California, exists one of the last strongholds of the flora and fauna which perhaps characterized Southern California several millenniums ago. Slowly retreating from aridity and other factors, this semitropical area contains plant and animal life that furnish an important link with the past.

Two UCLA zoologists, Charles Lowe, Jr., and Kenneth Norris, are on an expedition to gather plant and animal specimens in the area. The expedition is being sponsored jointly by the University and the Palm Springs Desert Museum.

The zoologists report that distribution of the animals alone may tell a rather complete story about the climatic changes that have taken place in southern California over a period of many years. The fact that the same species exist in isolated areas in various latitudes along the coast indicates that the arid regions in between have only recently (geologically speaking) been formed.

ERP Undergoes Acid Test In Greece Ravaged By Nine Long Years Of War

ATHENS, GREECE—(NEA) The European Recovery Program has had its acid test in this beaten-up country, which has been at war for nine years.

Economic Cooperation Administration officials believe that the corner has been turned and that the Greek people are on the road to more prosperous times.

Even before World War II, Greece was a poor country. Then some of the most savage and destructive fighting of the European conflict paralyzed it completely. When the shaky peace came to most of the rest of the world, Greece continued to be ravaged by civil war and guerrilla fighting.

The problem looked almost hopeless when the American Mission for Aid to Greece arrived in 1947, offering emergency military and economic assistance. During the ensuing year, AMAG laid a good foundation for the work that the ECA took over in the Spring of 1948.

"CA officials set an ambitious goal, a four-year program aimed at getting Greece back on its own feet. Rebuilding of roads, bridges, canals and dock facilities was given top priority, on the theory that transportation must come first in helping a country recover.

With a good start on improving the transportation facilities, ECA quickly got the other parts of its plan under way. They include improving public health, development of power and irrigation facilities, teaching the farmers better agricultural methods, encouraging the fishing industry, luring a tourist trade to Greece, building schools and hospitals and establishing new industries.

Approximately $63,800,000 has been the cost of the first year's effort in Greece.

Reds Are Pushing Propaganda Study

MOSCOW—(AP)—"Pravda" said in a leading editorial that "a certain improvement" has been achieved this year in the political education of Party members and candidates.

"In the course of the gigantic work of directing socialist construction," said the paper, "the Party has succeeded in training hundreds of thousands of propagandists. It cannot, however, be said that all propagandists answer in their knowledge and experience to the high demands made on them.

"In some parts there are still traces of formalism and scholasticism in the organization of studies. Lively discussion is often replaced by the question-answer method."

"Pravda" said that in preparing for the new scholastic year main attention must be paid to improving further the propagandist personnel.

A fresh instance of the Party's concern for raising the level of the ideological, theoretical training and methodological knowledge of propagandists was the decision of the Central Committee of the Party to organize courses for the leaders of political schools and study circles on study of the biography of Lenin and Stalin and the history of the Party.

Indian State Bans English Language

GWALIOR, INDIA—(AP)—A government servant in Madhya Bharat who uses English in official work will face a fine or dismissal when the Hindi use bill becomes law.

Officials of the union of Princely States say the measure is necessary because most of the people can't understand orders issued in English. Only Hindi in the Devnagari script is to be used.

Strikes are not a modern idea. The first known strike in history was the strike of secession of the plebeians against the patricians in ancient Rome, about 494 B. C.

Hamburgers Can Cut Cooking Woes

HAMBURGER ANGOSTURA—A glorified variation on a popular American theme.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
Pack hamburgers loosely, then cook quickly and briefly. That's the formula for tenderness, juicy and flavorful results.

Hamburger Angostura

To one pound of chopped beef add 6 dashes of bitters. Broil or fry quickly on hot fire. The secret of hamburger Angostura is to keep them from being too well cooked. The juices of the meat should mingle with the bitters, but not absorb them. If the meat is cooked for a short time the bitters will impart a distinctive flavor. Too many cooks spoil the hamburger by over-cooking.

Now let's take up another angle of ground meat. Yes, of course, the meat loaf. Let's be fancy and use this recipe of Freda DeKnight's from her "A Date With a Dish."

Company Meat Loaf

(Serves 6)
One pound veal, ground, 1 pound beef, ground, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1 medium onion, chopped, 2 cups bread crumbs, or mashed potatoes, 1 can mushroom slices and juice, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons horseradish, 1/2 cup tomato catsup, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon garlic and celery salt.

Add vegetables and bread crumbs to meat. Work in eggs and milk along with dry seasonings. Shape into loaf. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Bake 45 minutes. Pour mushrooms mixed with horseradish and catsup over meat. Continue to cook another 1/2 hour. Sprinkle with parsley and serve. Make gravy if desired. Note: Mushroom soup may be used in place of sliced or whole mushrooms.

Swedish Blonde In Important UN Job Leads Social Unit

By ADELE KERR
AP Newswire Writer

LAKE SUCCESS—A good-looking blue-eyed blonde from Sweden now holds one of the topflight jobs in the United Nations.

She is Alva Myrdal, principal director of the U.N. department of Social Affairs and first woman to hold a U.N. job of that rank. She is also the first woman to act as a U.N. assistant secretary general, which she did for several weeks in March in the absence of her chief, Henri Laugier. Behind her lies 20 years of experience as a sociologist, writer and educator in Europe.

The U.N. department which she directs is responsible for programs concerning human rights, freedom of information and of the press, the status of women, migration and population and the control of narcotic drugs. It also is concerned with the world's only international social service program.

Seek Sore Spots

All the programs seek to help heal social sore spots which cause great human suffering and help provoke the friction and tension in which the seeds of war can grow.

Mrs. Myrdal brings to her job ideas and experience which made history in Sweden. She is the wife of Dr. Gunnar Myrdal, Executive Secretary to the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe. In 1934 the Myrdals wrote a book, which touched off two waves of social legislation. At that time Sweden's birth rate had dropped to 75 per cent of what was needed to produce a generation of equal size. Main reason was the high cost of rearing children.

Care, Not Cash

The Myrdal's book, which became a best-seller, proposed cutting the cost of rearing children to enable people to have as many welcome children as possible. Later the pair served on a national commission which worked those theories into laws that were eventually enacted.

"Instead of doling out cash to children, we make provision for them in housing, feeding and medical care. Mothers get free pre-natal, post-natal and maternity care."

"After the Swedish people received this help, the country's birth rate rose again to a point where it supplies a full new generation."

Mrs. Myrdal, who is the mother of three, also founded the Training College for Pre-School Teachers and served as its director from 1936 to 1948.

To make sure the grocer gives you a full pound of sugar, you might count the grains. There should be 2,360,000 to the pound.

Doing Fine

New-born Eolise Victoria Wilkerson is reported "doing well" after a Caesarian delivery in a Houston hospital. The child's mother, a polio victim, was said to be also in good condition.

Bolivian Tin Miners Are Social Problem

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA—(AP)—Bolivia's social workers and the federal health ministry are working to rehabilitate thousands of tin miners suffering from "mal de minas." The disease is a form of silicosis.

Bolivia's labor laws provide cash indemnity for the afflicted miners. But the money soon burns through pockets of Indian homespuns. Few miners put anything aside for the rainy day and look forward to the day they can quit with "mal de minas" and an indemnity ranging from $500 to 50,000 Bolivianos ($50 to $500) in their pocket. Mine sickness takes a few lives.

Most of the mines have dust respirators for the miners. However, mining tin two miles or more above sea level calls for all the oxygen they can get. Many respirators are tossed aside.

Indian Jose with his indemnity in his pocket is among the "new rich" in the mine field. But within two or three months his pockets are empty.

The ex-miners return to the farms where they scratch out an existence with crude farm implements or migrate to the cities where, if their lungs are not too badly damaged, they become transportation or factory workers. Others become public charges or burdens for their families.

Jewish Migration Begins in Karachi

KARACHI—(AP)—A Jewish party of about 12 men, women, and children is migrating from Pakistan to Israel in July. There are about 400 Jews in Karachi and this is the first contingent to migrate.

The migrating party includes business people who have been in this part of the world for years. They say they hope for "better prospects" in Israel.

Churchill Gets Old Watch Back

LONDON—(P)—Winston Churchill has got back an inscribed gold watch he gave away 50 years ago. Churchill was a war correspondent in the Boer War in South Africa. The Boers caught him and jailed him. Churchill escaped. Two Britons who worked in a gold mine hid him in the pit. Later, Churchill gave both of them watches. One of them, Joseph McHenry, died several years ago, leaving the watch to his wife. Now she has died and left it to Churchill. Churchill disclosed he has accepted the gift.

Club Steaks Make Summer Company Meal

A steak's a steak in any man's language and there's no better choice for entertaining. Besides being tops in popularity, steaks are easy to prepare for the guest dinner. Club steaks served with French fried potatoes or French fried onion rings will rate you as a clever hostess. Club steaks usually are purchased one to a person.

Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief—they'll all agree on the supreme goodness of a sizzling steak! The diplomatic conquests made with this all-time favorite cannot be measured by scientific means. But you can bet your last drop of Worcestershire sauce that a steak's been the "gentle persuader" in many real life scenes. You may not want to do any persuading, but you probably do want something very tempting for a special occasion coming up. Then too, lots of you will be going to the Summer cottage soon. When guests arrive, what could be easier to prepare or more popular with everyone than steak? In short, steak is a good choice for entertaining no matter what the occasion or season of the year. Steaks which may be broiled are club, sirloin, porterhouse, and T-bone. These usually vary in price because of the greater amount of tenderloin in some. Porterhouse includes the largest portion of tenderloin, T-bone a somewhat smaller amount. Club steaks contain little or no tenderloin and, therefore, are a somewhat less expensive cut. They're ideal for guests and usually are purchased one to a person. A large sirloin steak will serve three to four persons, depending on thickness and appetites. Broiling is the best method for cooking steaks since it produces an attractively browned exterior, a plump appearance, and a juicy interior. Steaks to be broiled should be at least one inch thick and the fat around the edges should be gashed so that the steak will lie flat when broiled. For one inch thick steak placed two inches from the heat, broil each side 6 minutes for rare meat, 7 minutes for medium rare, and 8 minutes for well done.

Heat Controls Now Cut Chicken Losses

MINNEAPOLIS—(P)—Not even babies in the most fastidious hospital get better temperature and humidity attention than Richard Cole's chickens—and one result is that he boasts a chick mortality rate less than a third as high as the commercial average.

Cole, a young veteran, has a 7,000-bird brooder house with special automatic controlled heat and humidity features. In 10-week tests he has shown a chick mortality rate of less than 3 per cent compared to the customary 10 per cent. Engineers of the (Minneapolis Honeywell) company who installed them say the control arrangements are more elaborate than most home or business-building air conditioning.

The brooder house has a radiant-panel heating system under the floor, warmed by a conventional oil-fired furnace. It is a three-section house, with heating plant and storage bins in the center section, while each of the side sections has a capacity of 3,500 chickens. The building is so designed that one man can handle 7,000 birds a day, Cole said.

There are exhaust fans operating from humidistats, and controls which "sense" coming temperature changes and automatically make adjustments in inside temperature to compensate for change in wind direction, sun effect and other climatic variations outdoors.

Completes Ride Tide To Tide

SANTA MONICA, CAL.—(P)—George F. French III, 19-year-old Princeton University senior, is concentrating on relaxation after pedaling across the continent. He rode a bicycle from Asbury Park, N. J. He said he made it in 23 days, 20 hours and 48 minutes. "My Princeton finals were tougher than the bike ride," said the stocky youth as he ended his grind by riding into the Pacific Ocean surf.

Jane Greer Wins Sweater Girl Title

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Jane Greer won the title of "Sweater Girl of 1949" in a photo finish. So says President Bob Landry of the Motion Picture Photographers' Association, which had the difficult task of making the selection from a considerable array of talent.

Although it was 10 years ago that Lapa Turner was crowned the first sweater queen, she still ranked in second place.

However, said Landry: "Jane edged her out because, on looking the situation over carefully, we decided that she has the greatest amount of chest appeal."

Can Mother Show Interest In Child and Still Allow Privacy?

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"Can you tell me what's so terrible about asking an 18-year-old daughter what boy she was talking to on the telephone and if he asked her for a date?" a bewildered mother asks.

It seems she answered the telephone for her daughter and when the girl finished her conversation she asked interestedly, "Who was it dear?" When the daughter told her the boy's name the mother said: "Did he ask you for a date?"

With that, says the mother, her daughter lost her temper, and said it was "impossible to have a privacy at home."

Undoubtedly the innocent sounding questions that caused the flare-up were just the straws that broke the camel's back.

It isn't likely any daughter would have become so upset over such an incident unless for a long time she had felt that her mother wasn't allowing her any privacy at home.

May Appear To Be Frying

Many mothers who naturally are interested in all the details of their children's lives fail to see that what they consider only "normal interest" may seem like "prying" to their children.

Actually, whether the interest is irritating or not depends on how it is shown. Continual questioning
