Sharon Ridge-Canyon Spread By Big Flow

Flowing oil at the rate of almost 100 barrels per hour, Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Wright Huddleston has shown for a one-half mile west extension to the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County.

Top of the Canyon-Pennsylvanian pay section was called at 6,648 feet. The venture drilled ahead for 90 minutes with packer at 6,649 feet. Chokes used were one-inch bottom and 5/8-inch top.

Gas reached the surface two and one-half minutes after the tool was opened. Mud flowed in six minutes and oil in eight minutes. The well flowed 90.45 barrels of 44-gravity oil in one hour, with gas-oil ratio estimated at 1.140-1.

Surveys were being run on last report prior to running pipe and completing the development as the fifth producer in the pool.

It is 560 feet from south and 2,000 feet from west lines of section 163, block 97, H&TC survey, about 14 miles southwest of Snyder.

Shipley Proves Kelly Southwest Extension

H. J. Shipley, et al. No. 1 Maxwell, one location southwest of the nearest completed oil well in the Kelly-Canyon field of Central Scurry County, has proved an extension to that pool.

It took a three hour and six minute drillstem test in the top of the Canyon reef at 6,790-6,810 feet. Gas showed at the surface in seven minutes, and oil started flowing out at the top in two hours and six minutes.

The drill pipe flowed 31.15 barrels of oil in one hour. Shakeout was one-tenth of one per cent basic sediment. There was no formation water.

No gas-oil ratio or gravity tests were run. Operator is preparing to run casing to allow making production tests.

The extender is 560 feet from north and east lines of section 191, block 97, H&TC survey, and four miles west and slightly south of Snyder.

This venture topped the Canyon reef at 6,770 feet, and entered the porous zone in the formation at 6,804 feet. That material is 38 feet high on the top of the porosity to the producer to the northeast, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Moore.

The Shipley project is on a farm- out from Magnolia.

Coke Wildcat Swabs Oil From Palo Pinto

Production tests have been started in the Palo Pinto section of the Permian basin at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Brunson, wildcat two miles southeast of the Bronco-Palo Pinto pool in East-Central Coke County.

After drilling to granite at 5,864 feet, operator plugged back to 4,470 feet and set 5 1/2-inch casing at 4,465 feet. Perforations were shot into the section of pipe at 4,375-4,396 feet and tubing run to 4,318 feet, with packer at 4,214.

The well was swabbed dry, then acidized with 1,000 gallons. Swabbing after acid made two barrels of oil per hour with no water and slight gas. Preparations were being made to re-acidize with 2,000 gallons on last report.

This prospect is 2,019 feet northeast and 700 feet west of the southeast corner of N. Eastland survey, section 331, about two miles south of the town of Bronco.

DST Underway At Borden Prospect

Ryan, Hays & Burke No. 1 Miller, Northeast Borden County wildcat, located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 418, block 97, H&TC survey, and 1,000 feet in a Pennsylvanian lime, and is taking a drillstem test.

Samples from the section above the present total depth showed some indications of oil.

Age of the lime being investigated has not been definitely established.

Low Strike Flows On Tests In Gaines

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Cunningham-Shell, discovery for flowing oil production from a lime section thought by some geologists to be in the Pennsylvanian and by others to be in the Wolfcamp, lower Permian, in Southwest Gaines County, continues to flow, preparatory to completing.

In the latest 24 hours of testing the well flowed 714 barrels of fluid. At least 75 per cent of that was new oil, and the remainder was fresh water. The flow was through a three-quarter-inch tubing choke.

The production is coming from perforated section at 8,850-8,950 feet, which had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Correct Record on this development the headline stated that water had broken in—which left the impression that the fresh water being flowed out with the oil was coming through channels back of the casing.

This statement was in error. The water is apparently coming from the formation. Informed observers think it is water from the drilling fluid used in the hole while the project was being drilled down to the Ellenburger.

Midland counted another polio case Friday.

John E. Husted, 1905 West Washington Street, reported that his young son, age two and one-half years, had been taken to the polio center at Abilene Wednesday.

The boy's case was diagnosed as polio.

STILLWELL SHOT TO DEATH

Housing Bill, Is Passed

WASHINGTON — (P) — Congress Friday completed action on multi-billion dollar long-range housing legislation and sent it to President Truman.

The Senate shouted approval of the compromise measure shortly after the House okayed it by a voice vote.

That gave Truman the first major victory for the far-flung domestic program he calls the "fair deal."

But housing was about the easiest on his program. On this issue he had with him Senator Taft (R-Ohio) who has been the Administration's arch-foe on some other measures, particularly labor legislation. Taft got a similar housing bill through the Senate in the Republican 80th Congress but the House refused to pass it.

The legislation sent Truman provides for a vast slum clearance program and sets up funds for farm housing aids.

There was no debate in the Senate and only a brief flurry in the House.

Assurance Asked

Representative Phillips (R-Calif.) contended in the House that there were not sufficient safeguards to assure that persons displaced by slum clearance would get adequate consideration for tenancy in public housing.

Representative Spence (D-Ky.) told Phillips "there is no discrimination in this bill."

The discrimination argument, Spence said, seemed to involve the negro population. He declared that no other segment of the population has benefited more than negroes from government housing.

Meanwhile, Spence, chairman of the House Banking Committee, introduced a bill—understood to have Administration backing—to enlarge federal help for construction of privately owned homes.

Spence said his committee will open hearings on the bill Monday.

The big housing measure is a compromised, trimmed-down version of what Truman requested. But it still calls for construction of 810,000 public-owned dwellings in 1950.

U. S. Official Says Texas Decontrol Act Meets Provisions

DALLAS — (P) — Housing Expediter T. H. Phillips' top lawyer said Friday Texas' rent decontrol act "complies legally with provisions of the Federal Housing and Rent Act."

Ed Dupree of Washington D. C., announced he will advise Woods of his opinion on his return to the capital. Dupree has spent two days here studying the Texas law and conferring with the regional officials.

"I shall advise the expediter that the Texas decontrol measure complies in every way with all provisions of the federal law and that there is no legal bar to its removing rent controls from Texas when the time comes," Dupree said.

Measure Approved

The legislature, which adjourns Wednesday, passed a bill which would decontrol rents in Texas 90 days from the date of adjournment, plus another 15 days during which the expediter may issue the formal order decontrolling rents.

Dupree declined to say flatly that Woods would decontrol Texas rents but pointed out that the expediter is required to act favorably on the state's actions if it is found to comply with the federal law.

Woods had originally questioned the legality of the legislature's decontrol action in that the original bill contained a provision which would have permitted cities to "re-instate" rent controls if rents jumped unreasonably.

State Of Emergency May Be Requested In Britain

LONDON — (P) — King George VI will be asked to declare a state of national emergency Monday unless Britain's crippling dock workers' strike is ended, Home Secretary C. C. Clegg said Friday.

Ede told Commons the king would be advised by the government to issue a proclamation declaring "a state of emergency exists." It would enable regulations to be made "to restore the essentials of life to the community."

More than 10,000 stevedores were idle in London's spreading waterfront work stoppage and 1,000 British soldiers were unloading food from some of the 105 cargo ships tied up.

Ede did not immediately explain why emergency regulations would go into effect.

Ede outlined the causes of the strike in which London dock workers refused to work two Canadian ships involved in a seaman's dispute.

"The only reason why we have to deal with the trouble in this country," he declared, "is that Communists see in it a chance of fomenting unrest, injuring our trade and hampering our recovery and with it the whole process of Marshall aid on which the recovery of Western Europe depends."

Midland Bond Drive Is Short Of Quota

Midland County still is $21,453.75 short of its $220,000 quota in the Treasury Department's Opportunity Drive for the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds, Chairman John P. Butler said Friday.

A report from state headquarters in Dallas showed Midlanders have purchased $198,546.25 worth of Savings Bonds (Series E) since May 15.

The Opportunity Drive, scheduled to end June 30, has been extended until July 18, Butler stated.

He asked the full cooperation of all Midland County residents in meeting the quota before the extended deadline. The chairman urged those citizens who have not purchased bonds during the drive to do so promptly.

"Midland County must not fail in this important appeal," Butler said.

Effort To Forestall Threatened Steel Strike Made By U. S.

PITTSBURGH — (P) — A deeply concerned federal government moved Friday to prevent threatened nationwide steel strike.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, summoned Philip Murray, president of the United Steel Workers, and John A. Stephens, vice president of the U. S. Steel Corporation, to meet in Washington Monday.

Both Murray and Stephens promptly agreed to appear.

The U. S. Steel-USA negotiations—in recent years a major factor in the wage agreements reached by other industries—bogged down last Wednesday.

Benjamin F. Fairless, U. S. Steel president, rejected the steel workers' demands for a fourth round post-war wage boost. Previously he turned down the union's demands for pensions for its 800,000 members.

Meeting Is Called

Murray quickly called a meeting of his policy committee here next Tuesday. The committee has the power to call a steel strike.

The USAW leader said his past refusal to sign non-Communist affidavits would be brought up. Should he and other USAW officials sign such affidavits, the union could make use of the National Labor Relations Board machinery in charging U. S. Steel with an unfair labor practice in refusing to bargain on pensions.

Murray has described a wage boost as "an absolute essential." So far, however, he has not disclosed how much of a raise he wants for his steel workers who now average $1.65 an hour.

Firecrackers Crack Bridge

Shooting firecrackers under U. S. Highway 50 bridge over the Arkansas River north of Lamar, Colo., is believed to have caused a fire, top photo, which blazed for two hours. Two spans, made of steel girders and concrete resting on wood piling, expanded so much in the heat that they buckled paving at the bridge ends, lower photo, and may necessitate complete rebuilding of the bridge. Damage is estimated at $40,000.

British, Reds Make Secret Grain Deal

LONDON — (P) — Dollar-short Britain has secretly agreed to buy almost 1,000,000 tons of coarse grains from Russia in the next year, official sources disclosed Friday.

The informants added that part of a barter deal agreement was initiated in private in Moscow last week—a few days before Britain's economic planners announced a three-month standstill on dollar spending.

Talks for a one-year British-Russian Trade Pact have been going on for some time. The grain deal would form part of the year-long pact.

Negotiations for a longer term British-Soviet trade agreement are expected to follow. Russia is to supply a big quantity of wheat over and above the coarse grains—oats, barley and corn, the informants said. They declined to say how much.

Five-Year Pact Signed

Britain and Argentina signed a five-year trade agreement in Buenos Aires on June 27. That pact was entered into despite United States objections that such two-nation agreements violate the spirit of free competitive international trade.

Board of trade spokesmen made no comment on the British-Soviet trade negotiations. They said there is a complete shutdown on information about the negotiations at least until talks going on in London now for the full year-long trade pact end.

The arrangement is of great importance to Britain. This country buys much of its foods from countries like the United States and Canada for dollars. But Britain's dollar resources are running out and she is seeking to build up alternative sources of supply in the non-dollar food producing regions of the world.

Atomic Energy Body Has New Troubles; Funds Cut Approved

WASHINGTON — (P) — Fresh troubles piled up Friday for the embattled Atomic Energy Commission.

A committee has approved a sharp cut in what the agency wanted to spend, and two congressmen have recommended permanent spending curbs.

The money setback was handed out Thursday by the Senate Appropriations Committee. It refused to increase the $1,090,000,000 in cash and contract authorizations allowed by the House. This represented a $18,879,603 slash from the $1,108,879,603 budget estimate for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Previously a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee had recommended an increase of approximately $35,000,000 in the House bill.

Both Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) of the subcommittee and Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the Joint Senate-House Atomic Committee said that a fight would be made on the floor to override the full appropriation committee's action.

O'Mahoney called the cut "unrealistic." McMahon, in a separate interview, said it was a "mistake."

While the two agree on this, they disagree on what method should be used to check on commission spending.

McMahon would amend the Atomic Energy Law to require that each year Congress "authorize the general programs of the Atomic Energy Commission and also the total amount of money requested to support these programs."

Three Who Escaped Lamesa Jail Nabbed

LAMESA — (P) — Three men who slid down a sheet to freedom from the Dawson County jail were back in their cells Friday.

The men—L. E. Ables, 27; Roy Gene Brown, 23, and Earl Sidney Abbott, 21, all of Ada, Okla.—were described as "potentially dangerous" when they escaped Thursday.

They put up no resistance when they were caught in a farm house 10 miles north of here Thursday afternoon.

Police said they were checking to see whether the three are the men who slugged Robert Ham of near Big Spring during the period they were at large.

Widow Finds Body Of Oil Man In Yard

Two pistol bullets killed Homer A. Stillwell, 28, a landman for the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company, about 9:05 p.m. Thursday on the front lawn of his home, 509 West Cuthbert Street. Officers Friday noon had no clues as to the identity of the gunman who apparently escaped on foot.

A Texas ranger and State Highway patrolmen joined police and sheriff's officers in the search for clues.

Residents of the neighborhood told officers they heard several shots but paid little attention to them, believing youths were exploding fireworks. Two neighbors also told officers they heard a person run across nearby lawns.

Police recalled that Stillwell was a roomer in a West Texas Street residence March 26, 1948, when another roomer, Richard (Dick) Erickson, 31, a Stanolind scout, was shot and wounded. A pistol bullet crashed through a window and pierced the left eye of Erickson about 10:50 p.m. that night. He lost the sight of the eye. Stanolind officials said he now is stationed in Canada where he is working for the company.

Erickson told officers he did not know of an enemy he had in the world and asserted the person who fired the bullet apparently shot the "wrong man." He offered a $1,000 reward for the arrest of his assailant.

Erickson's life probably was saved by the timely arrival of Stillwell, then a scout for Stanolind. He returned from a motion picture theater soon after Erickson was wounded, called a physician and ambulance, and aided in getting Erickson to a hospital. Erickson was alone in the house at the time of the shooting.

On finding Stillwell's body in the yard Thursday night, his wife called.

Revised UN Charter Aim Of Senators

WASHINGTON — (P) — Ten senators Friday announced a move to revise the United Nations charter and set up a World Alliance backed by an international police force.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) said the ultimate aim will be to extend the North Atlantic Defense Pact into a World Alliance open to all nations that accept its principles.

The plan is similar to proposals made by Ely Culbertson, the bridge expert, who has been conferring with senators on his ideas for a "Little United Nations" within the United Nations.

Senators sponsoring the resolution are Flanders, Sparkman (D-Ala.), Aiken (R-Vt.), Cain (R-Wash.), Caperton (R-Ind.), Hendrickson (R-N.J.), Johnson (D-Colo.), Mundt (R-S.D.), Hoey (D-Conn.), and Stennis (D-Miss).

Mundt said members also would agree to: (1) No veto power. Such as Russia has been using often in the United Nations; (2) No military use of atomic bombs; (3) In-

Joan Edwards Is Taken To Home Of Parents In Rankin

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

DALLAS — (P) — They took Joan Edwards—still unconscious 173 days after an accident—back to her West Texas home Friday.

Dallas physicians had been unable to improve the condition of the 24-year-old daughter of the Rankin, Texas, postmaster.

She is suffering from a mid-brain injury, received in an automobile crash near Odessa January 17.

Joan was brought to Methodist Hospital here last month from Odessa. Friday the frail, attractive, paralyzed girl was placed on a bed in the back of a private car for the trip back to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Edwards, of Rankin.

Arrow Poison Used

"There is no reason why she should spend more time at a hospital," Dr. C. C. Nash, Dallas surgeon said. "Her mother will give her the best of care at home. We have not been able to help her. I can see no change in her condition. We gave her shots of arrow poison used by South American Indians which temporarily tended to relax her paralyzed muscles, but the relaxation was only temporary."

"We injected air into her spine and took X-rays of her brain. The X-rays showed extensive destruction of the brain and a typical mid-brain lesion. Brain tissue, once destroyed, does not replace itself. There is nothing surgery or medicine can do for her."

No Immediate Danger

Miss Edwards, graduate of Texas Tech, Lubbock, and former employe of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, has lain motionless and helpless since the accident. Sights, sounds and thoughts fail to register on her injured brain. Her big grey eyes stare but do not see.

Dr. Nash said Joan was in no immediate danger. "She might be kept alive for years."

"We never give up hope for a partial recovery as long as a patient lives," Dr. Nash said. "Sometimes it is a faltering hope, but we can hope, nevertheless."

Treated For Poisoning

A Midland woman, who hospital attendants said had swallowed an undetermined amount of poison, was admitted to Western Clinic-Hospital shortly before 1 p.m. Friday. Her condition was described as serious.

MARLIN—(P)—Funeral services were to be held at Reagan Friday for Sallie B. Davidson, 18, who was killed when her car hit a bridge abutment.

Yvonne Fields, 19, of Pharr, and Jimmy Cullen Rogers of Marlin were injured in the accident Thursday.

Miss Davison and Miss Fields, both Baylor University students, were here to conduct a Vacation Bible School.

Polly Moran Finds Slapstick Doesn't Pay In Political World

By ERKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—There will always be a place for slapstick comedy but count on Polly Moran when it comes to politics.

Polly brought low comedy to the screen 34 years ago—she's got the scars to prove it—and was a tremendous success.

But when she brought slapstick to California's mayoralty campaign, people laughed themselves into tears—and voted for someone else.

Polly just couldn't play it straight when she campaigned for mayor of Arroyo Laguna Beach, Calif., the seaside town to which she retired 10 years ago.

When she got up to make a speech she started on a serious note but always wound up with slapstick vaudeville routines.

Her favorite was about beer not making her fat but making her lean. "It makes me lean on bars, on trees and on buildings," Polly mugged it out while the voters screamed.

But when they counted the votes, Polly's name was at the bottom of the list—200 votes out of 8000.

She says: "I learned myself right out of the race."

Now Polly is coming back to the screen for a brief role in "Adam's Rib" at M-G-M. She plays the foreman of a jury in a courtroom scene with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn.

But Polly has to play it straight—and that breaks her heart.

As she says: "There's no more real falling down slapstick on the screen. There's too much culture and too much art. Yet people are hungry for low comedy."

Polly proved that in a recent Laguna little theater version of "The Women." They cast her in the bit role of Mrs. Wagstaff, the irritable lady getting a permanent in the beauty parlor.

Polly played the role as broad as the Pacific Ocean.

"I hammed it up good," she said, "and broke up the show."

The play made Polly realize there's still life in the old girl yet. She had heard stories that when ever her name is mentioned around Hollywood, people say:

"Polly Moran! Ye Gads, is she still alive?"

"Maybe I do look like a feminine C. Aubrey Smith," she grinned, "but I don't need a wheel chair."

Man Jailed Because Payments Not Made On Hospital Bill

KINGSVILLE—(P)—Ascension Garza who has wife and seven children to support and no job, is in jail because he didn't make payments on a $1,450 hospital bill.

Garza's three-month-old triplets—Delma, Thelma and Velma—are in a hospital with dysentery. But it's not because of their bill that Garza was jailed.

Last November he pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault after he ran into a woman with an automobile.

County Judge Tom Brookshire sentenced him to two years in jail and fined him $200. But the judge said he would suspend the sentence, if Garza would start paying the woman's hospital bill.

Garza said he would. Then he was laid off as a pipefitter's assistant. The triplets were born. He didn't find another job and didn't pay the hospital bill.

Saturday he was arrested and put in jail to start serving the two-year sentence.

To Care For Family
The woman whose bill Garza was supposed to pay was a resident of Mexico. She was deported after she recovered.

Garza told Jake Trussell, Kingsville newspaperman in an interview: "I don't want to say anything about this any more. I have been sentenced and I am serving my sentence now. The case is closed as far as I am concerned."

"Until I was laid off, I always supported my family. I can't help it that I was laid off."

Judge Brookshire said: "His triplets have nothing to do with this case. If Garza hasn't met the conditions he will have to serve the sentence and the state will take care of his family."

"Garza was put on probation for 30 days," Brookshire said. "During the 30 days he was supposed to begin payment of doctor and hospital bills. Garza made no attempt to pay the bills."

Holland has a tax on all Christian names after the first one.

Housing—

six years, with annual federal rent subsidies running up to $200,000,000 a year for the low-income families who will occupy them.

Truman asked for construction of 1,080,000 units—through local housing authorities—in seven years, with the rent subsidies up to $400,000,000 annually.

The bill also calls for $1,000,000,000 in loans to states and local bodies for slum clearance, and $500,000,000 in grants for this purpose; and for $325,000,000 to aid financing of housing facilities for farmers who cannot get credit elsewhere.

The new Spence private-owned housing bill would enable the construction of at least 50,000 homes, by increasing from $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 the amount of RFC funds available to provide a secondary-home mortgage market.

Working On Pact

The proposal came while the Senate was working on the North Atlantic Pact and the European Recovery Program.

The situation lined up about this way:

North Atlantic Treaty—Senate leaders hope to reach a final vote on the pact either Monday or Tuesday. They expect overwhelming approval of the 12-nation alliance but not until after some senators are assured their vote will not commit them to voting for the re-arrangement of Western Europe.

European recovery—Members of the Senate Appropriations Committee appeared to be agreed the Economic Cooperation Administration may have to take a fairly heavy cut.

Senator Robertson (D-Va.)—one of the strongest supporters of ECA—conceded a cut in funds is "inevitable." Robertson said he will try to soften the blow on ECA.

World Wide Pact—Mundt said the new pact plan will be offered as a resolution in connection with the arms-for-Europe program. President Truman is expected to send the arms plan to Congress next week.

Do Gifts Strain Your Budget? There's A Simple Substitute

By KATH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

A housewife asks: "What can I do about the problem of gifts, which keeps throwing my budget off? Between now and August I have to buy five wedding and three baby gifts."

In this family, struggling to buy a home on a small, fixed income, gifts have to come out of the family clothes allowance, which itself is cut to the barest minimum.

My advice to this housewife and any others who are having the same kind of trouble is "Cut out the gifts."

But it is pleasant and warm-hearted to give gifts to one's friends and relatives when they marry, have babies, celebrate anniversaries and birthdays and such.

But it is pleasant and warm-hearted only when those gifts can be afforded. When they mean a sacrifice to the family they're just a worry and a burden.

The sad thing is that the gift of a young couple can't afford more than a burden to the one who receives it. I've heard brides complain because they received 15 or 20 trays as wedding presents. And new mothers complain that they received a dozen baby dresses, their baby never had on, gifts outgrown before they could be used.

But there's one gift that any wife could give that costs only a few cents. That is a warm-hearted letter of congratulation and best wishes.

To sit down and write with warmth and sincerity: "I am so happy for you" is a very real and personal gift. And if the sincerity is there, the letter may be treasured after other wedding gifts are worn out or hidden away in basements and attics.

So my advice to the wife who is wondering how to squeeze eight gifts out of her family's clothes allowance is to take her pen in hand and send the gift of her sincere best wishes.

Certainly those best wishes will be more sincere than if she were sending a gift that deprived her family of something they really need.

Demonstration To Be Presented In Studio With Talk By Utter

A demonstration of landscape drawing will be a feature of the Saturday morning criticism hour conducted in the Palette Club Studio by Bror Utter of Fort Worth, who is teaching Summer art classes here.

Open to the public, the Saturday morning sessions are usually devoted to criticism of work of the students, answers to questions and informal comment on art and artists. The demonstration will be added this week, at the meeting starting at 10 a.m.

Utter will use as the subject of his demonstration one of his landscapes in pencil, a drawing of an old house in Weatherford. Anyone interested is invited for this meeting, and those who attend may see other paintings by Utter which are hanging now in the studio.

We're observing our THIRD Anniversary

... and we're proud of the confidence that you have given us during the past years. We opened our clinic with the purpose of using Chiropractic to give you maximum health . . . our patients know that we have accomplished this.

Dr. C. L. Brady
Palmer Graduate

Health is a gift that thrives under Chiropractic care.

Millions have lived full and beneficial lives without a telephone, airplane, automobile, radio, and other modern conveniences; but empty is the life that has not health.

Chiropractic is essentially a health science, built on the premise that within man there is an intelligent constructive force operating through clearly defined channels. It is this life force which generates, develops and maintains our bodies from conception to grave. The discovery of how and where this life force could be interrupted internally, plus a method to overcome and correct such interruption, is the sum and substance of Chiropractic.

Our Sincere THANKS

for the faith you have given Chiropractic. It is gratifying to realize your acceptance of this highly scientific practice.

Your friends, who have visited us at your suggestion, have received our most courteous understanding of their cases.

We continue to apply the most modern methods with the finest up-to-date scientific equipment available.

Roper's Post-Mortem

Elmo Roper, one of the poll-takers left holding a bag of jumbled statistics after President Truman's 1948 election upset, has just completed a post-mortem study of that dopester's debacle.

The analysis provides no comfort for Roper. Nor does it offer any startling new explanation of the 1948 outcome. Rather, it tends to confirm the heretofore widely circulated but largely unsupported theories as to why Truman won.

Those theories, briefly, are that overconfident Republicans stayed home, that usually Democratic union workers turned out in greater force and that farmers switched away from their normal GOP allegiance.

Roper's findings were based on close canvass of results in seven major cities, 112 industrial counties and five predominantly rural midwestern states.

He discovered that in all but one of the seven cities the upper-income voters stayed away from the polls in larger numbers last year than in 1944. These groups tend to vote Republican. And in fact, those in that bracket that did vote plumped more heavily for the GOP than they did four years earlier.

On the other hand, returns showed that in six of the seven cities lower-income groups went to the polls in stronger force in 1948 than in 1944. And they voted more heavily Democratic this time.

The percentage increase in these voters was not as great as the percentage drop among upper-income voters. Roper concluded that had it been so the Democrats would have scored a whopping landslide, for lower-income people of course are far more numerous.

In surveying 112 industrial counties, Roper found almost without exception a substantial gain in voting turnout. As with the lower-income groups in cities, this vote tends to be Democratic, and in 1948 it actually was.

As for the farm states, the Democrats' percentage of the total two-party vote jumped well above 1944 levels in all five studied. The total turnout, however, remained about the same.

Roper did not learn whether these results meant normally Republican farmers had crossed over, or whether they simply stayed home and let their Democratic neighbors carry the day.

The net advantage of all these developments lay clearly with the Democrats.

Thus far the Roper analysis looks sound enough. But it seems too early to suggest, as he has done, that these factors may establish a long-range trend toward the Democratic Party.

One election doesn't make a trend. To be sure it followed four previous Democratic triumphs in a row. But the 1948 contest was extremely complex. The outcome was compounded of a puzzling mixture of many political attitudes.

Some of those attitudes were held by independent voters who feel no bond with either party. They could shift quickly. Even more firmly settled notions can be thrust aside, as witness the farmers' performance.

The factors that appear to have been decisive in 1948 may be changed markedly in 1952. Indeed, if there is any enduring lesson in last year's election, it is probably the unpredictability of the voting public. Trends there are, yes, but obviously they can be reversed, interrupted and distorted by the uncertain actions of voters.

We'll soon be reading about some star rookie pitcher who is good to the last drop.

There is really not much difference between "has-beens" and "going-to-be's."

LABOR'S AIMS: LET'S YOU AND ME GET HITCHED HONEY!

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Truman cabinet split on devaluation of British pound; Taft-Hartley battle had interesting sidelights.

WASHINGTON — Before Secretary of the Treasury Snyder left for Europe he had a highly important and secret talk with President Truman in which he outlined his plans for getting the British to devalue the pound.

This is the real purpose of Snyder's trip—despite all the publicity camouflage about consultation with U. S. financial experts. Reason for the camouflage is that the Treasury doesn't want the British public to know that we are trying to run their currency from this side of the Atlantic.

Sir Stafford Cripps, head of British economy, had informed Washington even before Snyder left that if the United States insisted on devaluing the pound he would resign. This probably would mean a general election in England.

Three members of the Truman cabinet also disagree with Snyder—Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Secretary of Labor Tobin.

Brannan and Tobin don't want to devalue the pound because the less value the pound has the less it buys of American cotton, tobacco, pork, etc. Sir Stafford Cripps has somewhat the same thing in mind—though from a different angle. If the pound is depreciated, the British consumer will not be able to import as much food for his money—though Cripps wants to see it imported from the British dominions and Argentina, not from the U. S.

Backing up Snyder against the three cabinet members is Paul Hoffman, head of REA, who fears the collapse of the Marshall Plan unless the pound is devalued. In fact, Marshall Plan Ambassador Averell Harriman has been pressuring the British so vigorously, even before Snyder arrived that lanky Sir Oliver Franks, the British ambassador in Washington, was rushed to London by air to help take the heat off.

Despite the strong differences within his cabinet, and the above ramifications, Truman gave Secretary Snyder a completely free hand in dealing with the financial crisis. No "Senator Dewey"

Governor Dewey telephoned his old friend, Senator Irving Ives, from Albany the other day to get some advice on how he should appoint to the temporary Senate vacancy left by retiring Robert Wagner.

"Why don't you come down to Washington yourself?" urged Ives. "No," replied Dewey. "I don't want to."

Lawyers Dewey and Dulles Several of John Foster Dulles' New York law associates were discussing a report that Governor Dewey would nominate the elderly New York lawyer to the Senate.

"Remember last year," said one, "we thought that Dewey would be elected and we would be able to divide up Dulles' share of the firm's profits?"

"Yes," replied another, "the day after the election we were afraid Dewey would join the firm, and we would have to cut up our share to divide with Dewey."

Capital News Capsules Aftermath of the Taft-Hartley battle—Senator Virgil Chapman of Kentucky, who owns his sheepman to Alban Barkley, voted against Barkley and the Administration right down the line. . . . There was a lot of fuss over Senator O'Connor of Maryland, who was brought back to Washington for the Taft-Hartley vote. O'Connor lived up to his advance billing and voted with the Administration. However, when the heat was off, he quietly switched over to Taft's side and voted for the injunction that he earlier had opposed. This also was true of Tydings of Maryland, Frear of Delaware (Democrats) and Lodge of Massachusetts (Republicans). . . . One vote would have changed the entire Taft-

Hardly picture, thus creating a tie and a chance for Vice President Barkley to break the tie. Three senators, according to Senator Lucas, were pledged to vote with Labor, but switched at the last minute—Capehart of Indiana, Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, and Hendrickson of New Jersey. . . . Senator Lucas' skillful handling of the Taft-Hartley fight, even though he lost, will help his difficult reelection chances in Illinois. . . . The man who really knows that we are trying to run their currency from this side of the Atlantic.

State Department cables report a bitter feud raging within the Politburo over who shall succeed Stalin as the dictator of Russia. One Politburo group supports Molotov, another Georgi Malenkov, who is emerging as the new strong man in Russia. Malenkov has burst into prominence by succeeding Andrei Zhdanov, recently dead under mysterious circumstances.

Seadog Gets Bored Admiral Chester Nimitz is fed up with mediating the India and Pakistan dispute and wants to come home. Neither side has made the slightest move to come to terms and Nimitz has cabled the State Department that he's tired of twiddling his thumbs under the hot Indian sun.

The lobbyists are complaining the loudest about the remodeling on Capitol Hill. While the Senate chamber is closed down, there won't be room in the temporary chamber for visitors—or lobbyists. Incidentally, the temporary chamber will be so cramped that the capital architect secretly has ordered a supply of lumber to remodel a larger room in the Senate Office Building—just in case the senators won't put up with the inconvenience.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service A chap walked into my office the other day and asked if he could trouble me with a bridge hand. Today's hand is the one he gave me. He thought the play was unusual and wanted to know if it had a particular name. It certainly has—it is a double grand coup.

My caller's name was Rodolfo D'Avalos, and as we chatted, I learned that it was he who first brought and introduced the rumba to the U. S. back in 1928. Later he developed the conga as a ballroom dance, and surprisingly enough, he took that back to Cuba. Now he is working out a new Mexican folk dance called the La Rampa, a Mexican version of our square dance. From the way he played today's hand, D'Avalos does pretty well at bridge, too.

He let the opening lead of the eight of clubs ride, and East won it with the king. At first I thought he had made the wrong play, because he had several places to put his two losing clubs. However, he had to take the club finesse in order to create a needed entry.

East returned a dummy with the seven of spades with the jack. The won in dummy with the jack. The seven of spades was played and D'Avalos finessed his nine-spot. When it held, he cashed the ace of diamonds, went over to the jack of diamonds in dummy, led the six of spades and finessed the ten-spot.

Now the queen of hearts was led and overtaken in dummy with the king. The good queen of diamonds was trumped with the four of spades. Dummy was entered by playing the jack of hearts and overtaking with the ace. The ten of hearts was led and D'Avalos once again shortened himself by trumping with the five of spades.

Dummy was entered by playing the ten of clubs and overtaking with the queen. The ace of clubs was led, and East, having nothing left but the king and jack of spades, had to trump with the jack. D'Avalos overtrumped with the queen and cashed the ace.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Diagnosis Of Polio From Early Symptoms Sometimes Difficult

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. When polio occurs in a community the parents of children who become ill often jump to the conclusion that the cause of the illness is that dread disease. Most of the time they are wrong and something less serious is at fault.

What are the symptoms which may suggest polio and which should cause parents to seek medical advice immediately? At the beginning there is usually a period of infection. They do not always mean that the disease will develop as poliomyelitis or that there will be any paralysis. They merely call attention to a possible danger which should not be ignored.

When in serious doubt it is best for parents to seek expert advice. This does not mean that they should be unduly frightened by every little upset.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. QUESTION: I am allergic to many different kinds of food and break out in hives when I eat them. Is there anything that can be done to help besides doing without these foods?

ANSWER: There are some fairly new preparations which are called antihistamine agents which may bring temporary relief, at least in some cases. There is, however, probably nothing that can be done to prevent such hives except doing without the foods to which you are sensitive.

'Billions For Defense' Must Be Balanced, Says Nourse

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Efforts to hack a billion dollars off the $15,000,000,000 U. S. defense budget, together with congressional reluctance to take up the $1,500,000,000 program of military assistance for Europe, raise an old question. It is how much the United States can afford to spend on preparedness in time of peace.

Chairman Edwin G. Nourse of the President's Council of Economic Advisers analyzed this question during a recent Joint Armed Services Orientation Course for civilian industrial leaders and the press. What he tried to do was define the balance between military and civilian points of view.

Military planners sometimes think that the armed services should have first call on all U. S. resources. Civilian economists think principally of providing customers with the greatest possible volume of goods and services. To them military security is security.

The old idea that an army travels on its stomach must now be expanded, says Dr. Nourse. It must now include the idea that the armed services travel on the national economic machine.

After V-J Day, everyone looked for peace and reduced spending for war. But in March, 1948, President Truman gave Congress the bad news that $3,000,000,000 more would be needed to bolster national defense. The result was that a downward trend in prices was immediately reversed. It became a new burst of inflation. By early Fall it had carried wholesale and retail prices to new peaks of inflation.

New Controls Necessary Dr. Nourse says he then came to the conclusion that this extra defense effort would so aggravate scarcity of both materials and manpower that new inflationary controls would be necessary. And since this was a cold war instead of a hot one, there was some doubt whether more controls would be acceptable to the American people.

In making up the 1950 military budget, it therefore became necessary to set limits on military expenditures. As the late Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal put it, under enlargement of military spending would weaken the national economy. The President decided to hold military spending down to $15,000,000,000, even though this might involve some risk.

Since that time a new recession has set in. Dr. Nourse says it is still too early to tell whether this decline will continue to further depression, whether it will level off, or whether it will lead to new expansion. But while this recession is on, there is some pressure to increase military expenditures. The idea is to restore business confidence and maintain prosperity till the middle of 1950.

Dr. Nourse admits there is some validity to this theory, but it requires qualifications. If military expenditures were cut at this time, it might produce a serious recession. On the other hand, it cannot be argued that increased military expenditures would be an unmitigated good for the country.

During the war many domestic expenditures had to be cut. School construction was retarded. Streets and highways were neglected. Houses were not built as fast as new families were formed. "Brownouts" in many areas showed electric power production needed expansion.

Dr. Nourse compares the situation to that of Spain. In 1936, the Spanish government was forced to transport cattle on the American continent were transported from Haiti to Mexico in 1921 under the direction of Cortes.

Stillwell—

ed police. He was dead when they arrived.
Mrs. Stillwell told officers she and her husband heard a dog barking about 9 o'clock and that he went outside to investigate. A few minutes later, she said, she heard noises and noises which she believed were caused by exploding fireworks.
When Stillwell failed to return within a few minutes, she opened the front door, snapped on the porch light and saw the form of a man on the sidewalk. She immediately called police.
Officers said Stillwell was shot twice in the breast at close range. His shirt was powder-burned. The bullets, they believed, came from a .38 calibre pistol. One bullet was found in the yard. Both had jagged wounds on the right temple, right forearm and left knee. Sheriff Ed Darnell theorized a scuffle preceded the shooting and Stillwell was slugged with a pistol.
Two neighbors believed they heard four shots, another believed he heard as many as six. No shells were found by officers but they found footprints under several windows at the Stillwell home. They said the prints apparently were of the same size shoe which made the prints under Erickson's window the night he was shot. Bullets of .38 calibre apparently were used in both shootings.
Officers were able to trace the footprints more than a block from the Stillwell residence.
Police Chief Jack Ellington and Sheriff Darnell were among the first officers to arrive at the scene of the shooting.
State Ranger John M. Wood and State Highway Patrolmen W. B. Dixon and James Parks promptly joined in the search for clues. The officers agreed that every possible clue and theory would be sifted in their efforts to apprehend the slayer.
The Stillwells were married last Fall and he had been promoted from scout to landman by Stanolind.
Stillwell's body was taken to the Ellis Funeral Home and funeral services probably will be held here Sunday afternoon. The body will be forwarded to Chicago for interment.
Justice of the Peace Joseph A. Seymour said his official verdict in the case would be "murder by person or persons unknown."

which is showing the oil, was left uncaused for about 60 days, while the venture went on down to the deep horizon, where no petroleum was found.
May Be Exhausted
Since the water being recovered is fresh water it is thought that it was absorbed by the porous pay section, out of the drilling fluid. That being the case, the water now accompanying the oil likely will be exhausted in the near future.
The producing zone did not show any formation water when drill-stem tested.
This new discovery is on the northwest side of the Doss field, which has heretofore produced from the middle Permian above 7,200 feet.
It is about 12 miles southwest of Seminole, and 660 feet from south and east lines of the northwestern quarter of section 4, block A-24, psi survey.
Reagan Gets New Benedum Venture
A 12,500-foot, rotary tool exploration has been staked on the east side of the Benedum multi-pay field in West-Central Reagan County, where the prominent pay formation is Bendum limestone of the Pennsylvanian around 10,600 feet, as Plymouth Oil Company No. 2-45 Johnson.
It is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 45, MK&T survey.
The venture has spudded to 305 feet in redbeds. It was waiting for cement to cure on 13 3/8-inch casing cemented at 295 feet with 300 sacks.
Although the proposed depth is calculated to take the exploration into the Ellenburger, there is a good possibility that if Bendum production is encountered, completion will be made from that formation.

Courthouse To Get Face-Lifting Job

The Midland County courthouse is due for a face-lifting. According to County Judge Clifford C. Keith, bids for the repair work will be accepted at the regular meeting of commissioners July 25.
Plans call for the cleaning, repairing and painting of the building's exterior.
Sealed bids will be received prior to 10 a. m. July 25, the judge said.

Hiss Jury Requests More Instructions

NEW YORK—(AP)—A federal jury trying Alger Hiss for perjury returned to the courtroom Friday and requested further instructions from Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman.
The jury requested that the portion of his charge relating to "corroborative and circumstantial evidence" be restated.
The jury's request came after it had been deliberating the fate of the former high State Department official for a total of six hours and 51 minutes. It had been in session two hours and 11 minutes Friday morning.
After the judge read that part of the charge requested by the jury, the jurors retired and resumed deliberations.
During the reading, which required 10 minutes, Judge Kaufman noted that under the law no person may be convicted of perjury unless it is established by two independent witnesses or by two witnesses backed by corroborative circumstances.

Strickland's Trial May Be This Month

SNYDER—(AP)—District Attorney Eldon Mahon said Friday the trial of Henry W. Strickland, 20, Jackson, Miss., may begin late this month.
A district court grand jury indicted Strickland Wednesday on murder charges in the death of Robert C. Sperry, 48, oil field worker. Sperry was found dead June 27 in the Seury County jail where both he and Strickland were confined. Strickland had been jailed on auto theft charges.

Overnight showers fell in West Texas but the weatherman said they were so light and scattered they would bring little relief from the heat.
Clarendon reported 35 of an inch, Lubbock .17 and Big Spring .01. Midland had 48.
A number of places reported temperatures of 100 or better Thursday. Wink was the hottest with 104 degrees. Sherman's 102 was the season's highest there. Big Spring and Childress also had 102. Abilene and Midland recorded 101. Dallas, Fort Worth, Laredo and Mineral Wells all had an even 100.

Russians Have Fleet Of 300 Submarines

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Navy is giving "anti-submarine warfare" high priority because Russia has fleet of 250 to 300 of the most modern undersea craft.
A secret Navy report to this effect became public Friday through release of testimony before a Senate Appropriations Committee.
Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations, told senators: "We are paying a great deal of attention in the Navy to anti-submarine warfare. We figure it is one of our major missions and one of our most important missions."
Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), without mentioning Russia by name, asked about published reports that "a certain nation has much advanced submarines and that it is a matter in which we are somewhat behind."

Some progress toward recovering the junk is being made, according to operator representatives. The exploration is 12 1/2 miles south of Midland, and 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 25, block 39, TP survey, T-3-S.

Dollarhide-Devonian Extension Finished

Union Oil Company of California No. 2-H Cowden, south extension to the Dollarhide-Devonian field in Southwest Andrews County, has been officially been completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 168 barrels of oil and no water, from the lower Devonian through casing perforations at 8,2701-8,315 feet.
That zone had been treated with 1,000 gallons and with 2,500 gallons of acid. The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke. No water was developed from the pay section.
Gravity of the oil was 40.3 degrees and gas-oil ratio was 1,898-1. The well has a higher pay in the Devonian at 8,181-8,240 feet, which

Indians Battle Swatters In Double-Bill Here Friday

The second game of the Sweetwater-Midland series scheduled in Indian Park Thursday night was postponed due to rain. Manager Harold Webb announced a double-header will be played Friday night. Starting time will be 7:30 p.m. The games will be seven innings each.

Webb is expected to send Lefty Ernie Nelson to the mound in the first game and Buck Austin in the second. Nelson has been troubled with a shoulder injury suffered in Vernon last week but is reported to be improving.

Austin has been filling in at the leftfield position for Marty Fillgamo for the last 10 days.

Swatter Manager Dick Gyselman probably will start Spence in the first game and Lookhart in the nightcap. Both hurlers have impressive records for the season.

The Indians go on the road for seven games, opening in San Angelo Saturday night.

Cast Is Completed For All-Star Game On Fort Worth Field

DALLAS (AP)—The cast is complete for the ninth annual Texas League all-star game. A squad of 19 players from seven clubs will play the Fort Worth Cats at Fort Worth next Tuesday night.

The all-star squad was announced Thursday by League Secretary Milton Price following the canvass of ballplayers from sports writers of the Texas League cities. Dallas and Oklahoma City each placed four men and San Antonio three while other clubs got two each.

Fort Worth is host to the all-star game and furnishes the opposition for the second straight year by virtue of having led the league race as of July 4.

Hot-Shots At Plate
Vicente, all-star manager, will have a squad that includes eight batters with averages of better than .300. Herb Conyers of Oklahoma City, the leading hitter in the league, heads the list.

Amateurs Capture Texas Cup Crown After Long Lapse

FORT WORTH (AP)—The amateurs hold the Texas Cup Matches golf championship for the first time in nine years.

The pros lost their grip Thursday when Fort Worth's Royal Hogan came from behind in the last four holes to win his match with Don Murphy of Texasarkana 2 up.

Joe Conrad, a San Antonio amateur, set a new record for the River Crest Country Club course in the morning round with a six-under-par 64 on the first 18 holes. Pro Frank Champ of Lake Charles, La., was his victim.

The amateurs were out front in nine of the 12 morning matches. They had tied the pros 3-3 in team point totals in doubles.

The pros rallied in the afternoon with four victories and two ties. That kept the championship a toss-up until Hogan's Bantam Ben's brother, came through in the last match.

Raymond Gafford, Fort Worth, figured in one of the ties, deadlocking with Earl Stewart of Longview. They split the point, one half to each team.

In Quick Succession
In rapid succession came victories by pros Charles Klein of Amarillo, Jack Harden of El Paso and Warren Smith of San Antonio. Klein beat Dallas' Reynolds Smith 2 and 1; Harden whipped Odessa's Don Cherry 7 and 6 and Smith stopped Dallas' Gene Towry 2 and 1.

Jack Munger gave the amateurs a lift by beating Dallas' Graham Ross 6 and 5.

Austin's Morris Williams came in with a 5 and 3 victory over pro Tod Menefee of San Antonio. But Conrad blew to a 71 in the afternoon and had to sink a 20 foot putt on the 39th green to gain a tie with Champ.

Odessa amateur 6 and 5 over Houston's Elroy Marti; pro W. A. Stackhouse, Laredo 2 and 1 over Austin's Ed Hopkins; amateur L. M. Crannell, Dallas 6 and 5 over Dallas' Breard Mims, and amateur Bob Watson, Wichita Falls, 5 and 4 over Plainview's Gene Mitchell.

WAKE UP AND LIVE

of course, you're sick with crying pains creating agony and misery. Many people are, but the question is: Why put up with them? Life is lived but once. Why go through it half living and bent with nerve-racking pain? Sickness, pain and misery, tend to upset plans and create an atmosphere of discord and worry. This, of course, disturbs the household and makes a lot of trouble. Wake up and live, get the cause of your pain corrected NOW! It can be done!

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELburnE

It looks as if the fans will get their wish in the manner of selecting players for the 1950 Longhorn League All-Star Team. Many baseball backers have suggested the fans do the balloting in selecting the players and Longhorn President Hal Sayles has indicated he favors the institution of such a method for next season.

The time it takes to count votes and set up a proper means of carrying the balloting out seems a little lengthy to attempt such a move this year.

The proposal will be voted upon at a meeting of league officials and manager in San Angelo July 18, the date of this year's All-Star tilt.

We see no reason why it won't carry by a wide majority.

Ballots for selecting this year's teams have been mailed out to managers in the league and the results likely will be released for publication Sunday or Monday.

The West has had the best of things in two previous games and it appears the situation will be the same this season.

In the first All-Star Game in 1947 at Ballinger the West defeated the East 11 to 4.

Last season at Odessa, the West won by a 5-4 count.

The only players still in the league who have played on at least one All-Star team are: Hoss Alvis and Stu Williams of Ballinger, Rex Pearce of Odessa, Cotton McCaskey, Lupo Gonzalez, Bob Huntley and Gunn Simons of Vernon; Jimmy Perez and Pat Stasey of Big Spring; Red Cowley, Jimmy Baker, Derwood Cox and Joe Lanham of San Angelo; Mel Neudorff of Roswell and Ernie Nelson of Midland.

Many of them undoubtedly will repeat on this year's teams.

Sam Van Hooser, former Midland Indian hurler recently traded to Lamesa for Leon Hays, has refused to sign with the Lobos at the salary they offered him. He says their offer isn't a living wage.

Sam has hurled a lot of good baseball for Midland and it appears now that it will be up to Midland to take care of its own Van Hooser undoubtedly will be suspended for the remainder of the season for failure to report. Now he is looking for a job.

Midland, the fastest growing city in Texas, should be able to offer employment to a fine lad who has served the Indians faithfully. Anyone who has a job to offer—please call Sports Slants. Sam just wants a job that will pay him a living. He's scheduled to marry a Midland girl within a month, so with him this call is an emergency.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Yankees Continuing To Stop Opponents

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the wise guys wait for the New York Yankees to wilt, they continue to knock off the contenders, one by one.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's were the latest, dropped five full games behind the Yanks by Thursday night's 6-2 setback.

A two-run homer by Hank Bauer broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth to give Allie Reynolds a working margin over Lou Brissie. Cleveland crept to within a game and a half of the A's by smothering Chicago 8-2 with a 17-hit attack.

Gets Walking Papers
The Boston Red Sox trampled Washington 8-3 and chased Mickey Haefner right off the Senators ball club. Owner Clark Griffith, dissatisfied with Haefner's "indifferent" performance, gave the lefty his walking papers after a bad first inning. Haefner walked five, muffed up a grounder and allowed one hit as the Sox rolled up a five-run lead.

Detroit teed off on Red Embree for six runs in the first inning to snap its five-game losing streak with a 9-2 romp over the St. Louis Browns.

Brooklyn boosted its National League lead to two full games by trimming the Boston Braves 5-2 as runner-up St. Louis bowed to Pittsburgh 2-0.

Lefty Dave Koslo had a night he'll never forget as he hit his first two major league home runs, driving in five runs in the New York Giants' 11-3 slaughter of the Phillies.

Despite 17 Chicago hits, Cincinnati eked out a 7-6 edge over the Cubs.

Longhorn League
Odessa At Long Last Captures Tilt From Big Spring's Broncs

By The Associated Press
Odessa finally won a game from Big Spring in the Longhorn League Thursday night.

Big Spring left the gate wide open, starting a rookie pitcher and using two infielders for relief work. Odessa whammed out 15 hits and beat the league leaders 12-4.

But they played a doubleheader and Big Spring showed a turn-about by copping the nightcap 9-5. Second-place Vernon gained a half game on Big Spring by beating San Angelo 4-1.

Roswell blasted Ballinger 19-9. Both teams got 38 hits, Roswell 21 of them.

It was too wet to plow at Midland and Sweetwater and Midland sat this one out.

Final Round Begins In Sandwich Tourney

SANDWICH, ENGLAND — Bobby Locke of South Africa, Harry Bradshaw of Ireland and Max Faulkner of England led the field into the final round of the British Open Golf championship Friday, each with a 54-hole total of 213. Locke had four-under-par 68. Bradshaw also whizzed around in 68. Faulkner carved out his third straight 71.

The two American hopes, professional Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh, Pa., and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, virtually eliminated themselves. Stranahan took a 74 which gave him a 54-hole total of 218. Bulla wound up with a 76 for a total of 220 at the three-quarter mark.

Records Disclose Change Of Scenery Aids Sauer, Cooper

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK —(AP)—Does a change of scenery benefit a player? Well, ask Hank Sauer or Walker Cooper. Better still, take a gander at the achievements of these stalwarts since they changed uniforms three weeks ago.

Their improvement, especially with the stick, has been amazing. Sauer, since his shift from Cincinnati to Chicago, has become a terror at the plate. In 23 games with the Cubs, Hammering Hank has blasted 10 home runs, driven in 24 runs, and built up a .395 batting mark.

Sayles Says Refund Not Due On Tickets For Forfeited Till

Longhorn League President Hal Sayles has ruled there should be no refund on tickets for the Midland-Odessa game which was called by forfeit in the fourth inning here Tuesday night. Umpire A. B. Sykes forfeited the game to Midland when Odessa Catcher Frank Mormino failed to leave the field after being ejected from the game.

Sayles said there is no regulation in the league rules and laws providing for a refund on a forfeit.

Compare that with Sauer's work with the Reds. In 42 games with Cincinnati, Sauer hit only four homers, knocked in only 17 runs and hit barely over his weight—a mere 237.

Cooper's work with the Reds has been no less sensational. The big catcher sneaked away from the New York Giants with a lowly .211 figure in 43 games. Coop collected only four homers and batted in 21 runs.

Since joining the Reds on June 16, Cooper has walloped seven round trippers, and has sent 20 runs across the plate. His Cincinnati average is .347.

Since his shift from Chicago to Cincinnati, Harry Walker has increased his average 10 points to .288. Ditto Peanut Lowrey, who pushed his .270 Chicago average to .292 with the Reds.

Two other gents who are happy over their new surroundings are Hank Edwards and Herman Reich, both with the Cubs. With Cleveland, neither could get going, hitting in the low .200's. Playing regularly with the new club, Edwards is banging away at a .335 clip, and Reich is three points over that mark.

Reports reaching Midland say the Odessa ball club is preparing to contest the fine on Mormino. The case probably will be brought before the league officials sometime this month.

MARX HOUSE RAIDED
SYDNEY —(AP)—Police raided Marx House, headquarters of the Australian Communist Party, Friday and took away two truck loads of documents and files.

Texas League—Writers Overlooked Good Man In Witte

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Sports writers of the Texas League appear to have committed a faux pas (that means booting one) when they didn't put Jerry Witte, Dallas first sacker, on the all-star team that plays Fort Worth next Tuesday night.

The 28th home run of the season to go one ahead of the league record for the period. In 1924 Clarence Kraft of Fort Worth, in clubbing 55 homers, didn't get his 28th until July 8.

Jerry also tops the circuit in runs batted in with 94.

He was the big gun Thursday night as Dallas climbed back into the win column by socking Oklahoma City 12-5 and gaining a game on the leading Fort Worth Cats, who fell to Tulsa 3-2. The Eagles now are five and one-half back.

Third-place Shreveport also moved up a game as the Sports dusted Houston 12-8. Shreveport bashed over seven runs in the sixth to sew up the game.

Beaumont lashed out for 20 hits in crushing San Antonio 12-3. Gale Pringle won his ninth pitching victory of the season.

Yale's football team loses 11 lettermen this season, including placekicker Billy Booe who made 22 out of 22 extra point attempts last year.

WT-NM League—Situation Is Normal With One Exception

By The Associated Press
It was status quo in the West Texas-New Mexico League Friday except for one lower strata club—Pampa—which moved into sixth place.

Albuquerque and Lubbock, with only three percentage points between them, were tied Thursday night by rain. Third-place Abilene gained a half-game by trimming Borger 10-0. But the Blue Sox still are five games away from second place Lubbock.

Pampa edged Amarillo 3-2 to replace that club in the sixth spot. A four-hit attack in the ninth did the job for the Oilers.

Fred Rodriguez scattered seven hits while Abilene blasted 17 in whamming Borger.

Clovis got six unearned runs in the seventh to beat Lamesa 11-4.

Saunders Mills' Onolee Hanover, world champion trotting mare on a half-mile track, has been turned out for the 1949 season. The six-year-old will return to the races next year.

Increase In Cotton Acreage Is Shown

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Agriculture Department reported Friday 26,380,000 acres of cotton were in cultivation on July 1. This is an increase of 14.2 per cent over a year ago.

The acreage of cotton in cultivation on July 1 by states and the percentage of last year's acreage, respectively by states included:

Oklahoma 1,200,000 acres and 112 per cent of last year's acreage; Texas 10,400,000 and 118; New Mexico 323,000 and 150.

In anticipation of a big crop this year, government agencies are preparing for a possible growth referendum late this year on production controls on the 1950 crop.

Controls would include planting allotments and marketing quotas for individual growers. They would have to be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum.

Sections Of Nation Cooled By Showers

By The Associated Press
There was some relief in parts of the nation's heat belt Friday but there's still lots of hot weather around and more coming.

Tundershowers and Canadian breezes helped cool off some of the hot spots in the Eastern States and the Great Lakes region. But the hot and humid weather of the last week persisted from the Rockies southward into Texas.

Fish Didn't Say Whether Shoes Fit

ST. CATHERINES, ONTARIO—The sad tale of Fisherman George Kostandoff. He not only lost the fish, but a pair of shoes, too. While fishing at the Welland Canal pondage, a black bass grabbed one shoe. Kostandoff kicked and the shoe flew off into the drink. In anger he flung the second shoe at the retreating fish. Kostandoff, mad and fishless, went home barefoot.

German Woman Has War Surplus

HAMBURG, GERMANY—(AP)—Two German officers met in a Russian prison camp. They soon discovered that they lived in the same German town, in the same street, at the same number—and had the same wife.

This is how it came about, according to the Hamburg newspaper "Abendblatt." A German major, returning to the front from home leave in 1942, told his wife to marry again if he were killed. Soon she was officially told of his death in action.

Eighteen months later she married another officer. In due course he was captured. But husband number one had not been killed. He was picked up on the battlefield by the Russians.

Finally through the painfully slow communications from Russian prison camps the wife learned of her difficult position. She asked the two men to wait until they are back from Russia. Then, she says, she will decide which one to keep as her husband.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And A Bowl Of Soup

Old MacDonald was sitting at the table in the dining room. His napkin was under his chin, and his fork was in his hand. He was all ready for a bite of supper, and another bite, and a whole lot of bites.

Mugwump came in from the kitchen and said: "Would you like a bowl of soup?" Old MacDonald put down the fork in a hurry. He picked up a spoon. He was all ready for a bowl of soup. "Soup! Soup! Soup!" said Old MacDonald.

"Uhh," said Mugwump, "but it tastes like dishwater." Old MacDonald's chin whiskers shook to hear it. Said he: "I don't like soup that tastes like dishwater!" And so Mugwump asked him maybe if he would like to have some dishwater that tasted like soup!

Old MacDonald opened and closed his mouth several times, trying to say all the loud and noisy things he wanted to say, but the words wouldn't come out. He was just that teased about it all. He was just about ready to jump up and jump, but Mugwump put the bowl of soup in front of him.

Old MacDonald sniffed. He sniffed again. The soup didn't smell like dishwater smells. It was wonderful soup, all right. And maybe you think I'm going to tell you it wasn't soup at all. Maybe you think I'm going to tell you it was really dishwater that tasted like soup. Oh, but it was

Fleet Searches For Absentee Sardines

LA JOLLA. — A small fish, no longer than 10 inches, has a six-ships navy stalking him along the Pacific coast.

He's the Pacific sardine. In company with the billions of his fellow sardines that were teeming in California waters only a short while ago he represents a $65,000,000 industry.

Sardine schools have begun to dwindle alarmingly in California waters. The catch has dropped from a former high of 800,000 tons annually to less than 150,000 tons, representing a $30,000,000 loss to the California fishing industry.

In order to determine why the sardines left and where they went a combined fleet of six ships from the University of California Scripps Institution of Oceanography, the State Fish and Game Division, and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has launched the greatest oceanographic survey in history.

According to Dr. Roger Revelle, associate director of the Scripps Institution, this massive operation is reaching 500 miles to sea and from Oregon to Lower California. Involving many phases of Science—oceanography, meteorology, zoology, botany, and chemistry—the research is financed by a $700,000 grant from the California Legislature and a tax of 50 cents a ton on all sardines caught in California waters.

Sorry!
It's out of my hands

Why talk to me about the importance of going to Church? You don't expect me to put on my Sunday suit and stroll down there alone, do you?

Dad and Mother are the people to see... they make all the important decisions.

Sure! I'd like to start Church School pretty soon. Yes, and I'd like to see the whole family in Church. A little chap like me can understand religion much better when he doesn't wonder why his folks aren't on speaking terms with God.

And, frankly, I think you grown-ups need the Church as much as I do—it wasn't my generation that got the world into such a mess!

All right, you can quote me. And I'll even let you put my picture in the paper. 'Cause, confidentially, I think we would all be a whole lot happier if Dad and Mother, and some of the rest of you older folks, would look at these spiritual matters through my eyes!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Senate controversy is brewing over the nomination of John Carson, of Detroit, to be a member of the Federal Trade Commission. It involves Carson's recent statement that "capitalism had its death rattles in 1929." Carson said he referred to the old "boom-and-bust capitalism."

Shanghai Police Have No Love For Americans

By JAMES D. WHITE, AP Foreign News Analyst

The anti-American incidents reported from Shanghai occur in a Communist setting, but are not necessarily the direct work of the Reds.

The police who beat up a young American vice-consul are the same ones who served before Shanghai went Red. They might have done the same sort of thing before, if they had thought they could get away with it. They have no love for Americans, but considerable envy and prejudice.

The former employees of the U. S. Navy who besieged the U. S. consulate-general in Shanghai at the same time, demanding more severance pay, also could have staged the same stunt before the Reds came if they had thought it would do them any good.

The point is that they now think these things may do them some good. This is because the Reds have been filling the air with anti-American statements for purposes considerably higher than Shanghai. Envy and Prejudice

Envy and prejudice against the foreigner, always present in China, are coming to the surface just as they did when Chiang Kai-Shek triumphed in 1927 and after V-J Day. The difference between now and then is this:

Chiang needed help from abroad more urgently than the Reds do now and so his Nanking government could not allow such incidents to continue. The Reds might be able to stop them now, but are not likely to because their need for immediate help is by no means so urgent.

Meanwhile, such things can be expected to continue. A great many Chinese need little urging to let the foreigner—who has been around more than a century, living far better than most of them could hope to—know that he is tolerated at best and unwelcome at the worst.

The Reds have capitalized upon this because as the Nanking government grew weaker in the civil war, it became dependent upon American aid or the prospect thereof.

Red's Argument Against U. S.
The Reds said this showed that Nanking was a "puppet of American imperialism." The weaker Nanking grew the better this argument sounded to a lot of Chinese.

Their resentment of foreigners focused more and more on Americans, with the Reds helping at every turn.

The Reds have chosen this course partly because they are Communists, but also because they occupy a certain strategic position in world politics.

First of all, the Communist formula has worked in their case. Mao Tze-Tung, the Red chairman, shows not the slightest sign of going back on it now. Instead he has said, again and again, that his China stands firmly with Russia in the cold war and will fight for her if it gets hot.

High Klan Official In Birmingham Jail
BIRMINGHAM—(AP)—A high K. Klux Klan official is in county jail here because he refused to comply with a grand jury's request that he produce Klan records.

William Hugh Morris, state director of Federated Ku Klux Klans, Inc., was sentenced for contempt of court Thursday by Judge Robert J. Wheeler. Length of the sentence was not determined.

Judge Wheeler told Morris, a Birmingham roofing contractor, that he would remain in jail until he turns the records over to the grand jury.

Between 1929 and 1933, the number of restaurants and eating places in the United States increased from 134,293 to 170,434.

Housing In Federal Project Set Aside For Low-Wage Group

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Who'll get into the new homes built under the government's public housing program? What rent will they pay?

The housing is for people now forced to live in slums or rundown homes because their income is low. Veterans and their families will get first consideration for an opening in a public housing project if everything else is equal.

The rents will vary from city to city. And even within one project in any one city rents will vary, even for the same kind of accommodations. For example:

Jones has a wife and three small children. Smith has a wife and three small children. They live side by side, occupying exactly the same number of rooms, and the same kind of rooms. But—

Jones may pay a little higher rent than Smith, if Jones' income is a little higher than Smith's.

Maximum Figure Set
In each project there'll be a maximum rent that can be charged anyone. Also, there'll be a minimum. A family's entire income may be from some welfare agency—a family on relief—but if it gets into a public housing unit it will have to pay the minimum rent.

Government experts think the average rent that will be charged families in the various projects should run around $23 a month, plus $7 for utilities.

Every family must pay at least 20 per cent of its income in rent, minus $100 for each child under 21. No Flat Answer

What kind of income does a family have to have to be admitted to one of the projects. At this time no one can give a flat answer.

But under a public Housing Act passed in 1937 by Congress, 191,000 public units were built. The average income of families being admitted to them in 1948 was $1,481.

But—once a family is admitted, that doesn't mean it can stay there forever. To be admitted at all, its income will have to be under a certain figure. (The amount will be decided later in each project.)

A constant check will be made on each family's income thereafter. If, say, Jones' income finally goes above the maximum a family can have and still be allowed in a project, he'll have to move.

Woods Asks Report On Rents In Dallas

DALLAS—(AP)—National Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods wants an official report on rent increases in Dallas.

His request came Thursday. Woods said he was asking for the report because he had queries from "veterans groups and others" asking what had happened to rents in Dallas since they were decontrolled June 23.

He asked only for complaints that were made directly to rent offices here.

Meanwhile, Ed Dupree, the general counsel, met with Dallas rent attorneys and officials. He was sent here to study Texas' new rent decontrol law.

Second Miller Suit Gets Postponement

HOUSTON—(AP)—A second suit against Rio Grande Valley Financier Sam L. Miller has been put off indefinitely.

Federal Judge Allan B. Hannay granted postponement of a $58,333 suit Thursday. A $97,000 suit had been suspended Wednesday at Ed-inburg.

Miller faced a number of suits totaling more than $200,000 when he returned to McAllen from a trip to Guatemala.

The suit postponed Thursday was brought by R. C. Allen, a stockholder with Miller in the Border Transportation Company. Allen asked foreclosure of a mortgage on the Marjorie E. a motor vessel used in Miller's fruit-importing business.
