General American To Explore Ellenburger In Southwest Midland

Drilling is slated to start in the near future on an Ellenburger wildcat in Southwest Midland County, about 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland.

The prospector is to be undertaken by General American Oil Company of Dallas as its No. 1-A TXL, owned by Mrs. Hal C. Peck.

It is understood that the exploration will be in the northeast corner of section 20, block 41, TP survey, T-4-S.

That makes it approximately five miles northwest of Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A TXL, owner of the Peasland field for Ellenburger production.

It is expected that the General American venture will have to drill to around 13,800 feet, and possibly deeper in order to make a thorough test of the Ellenburger.

The concern has a lease on more than 12 sections in Southwest Midland County and in Northwest Upton County, surrounding the location for No. 1 Peck.

Superior, Intex To Deepen In Scurry

According to an application filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas, Superior Oil Company and Intex Oil Company, may continue drilling at their No. 1 R. H. Jordan, Northwest Scurry County wildcat, until the venture reaches 9,200 feet.

This venture, which has been drilled "tight" is reported by unofficial observers to have penetrated 8,885 feet, and to be making more hole.

The project is three miles northwest of Pivannan, 680 feet from east line and 2,652 feet from north line of section 579, block 97, H&TC survey, and only a few hundred feet east of the east line of Borden County.

It is credited with having entered the Ellenburger between 8,430 feet and 8,450 feet and to have developed considerable free oil on drillstem tests on that zone.

The wildcat is reported by some observers to have found salt water in the zone between 8,470 feet. It was originally started under a Railroad Commission permit to go to 7,000 feet.

The filing of the supplemental application for a permit to go to 9,200 feet, indicates that the operators intend to continue drilling until the exploration reaches granite. That formation could be encountered at any time, in the opinion of geologists who are familiar with the sub-surface conditions in that region.

Honolulu Schedules Schleicher Wildcat

A 6,500-foot, rotary tool wildcat is to be started shortly in Central Schleicher County by Honolulu Oil Corporation as its No. 1 Wildcat. The well is to be drilled in section 77, block LL, G&S&P survey, were in error.

The drillsite is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 74, block LL, G&S&P survey, about six miles northeast of the town of Eldorado and seven miles north and a little west of the Cooper-Page field, where production is from the Strawn-Pennsylvanian.

Reports in some circles that this wildcat was to be in section 77, block LL, G&S&P survey, were in error.

Texaco Spots Clear Fork Test In Gaines

A wildcat test into the Clear Fork section of the Permian has been rumored staked three miles east of the recently completed Clear Fork discovery on the southeast side of the Planagan pool in South-Central Gaines County.

It is to be drilled in section 7, block E. D. Harris, spotted 660 feet from north and east lines of section 17, block A-22, ps survey.

The Clear Fork is expected to come in above 7,500 feet. With rotary tools, operations are starting soon.

The drillsite is three miles south of the same company's No. 1 Wharton, small strike in the Glorieta-Permian two and one-quarter miles southeast of the Robertson pool.

Canyon Wildcat Set In Sharon Ridge Pool

A Canyon-Pennsylvanian exploration in the southeast part of the Sharon Ridge pool of Southwest Scurry County, in an area of shallow production, is unofficially reported as planned by French M. Robertson of Abilene.

Tentative location is in the southwest corner of section 117, block 97, H&TC survey. It will be 10 miles southeast of the recently opened Canyon production on the northwest side of the Sharon Ridge pool.

Mourning Texans Pay Last Personal Tribute To Jester

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN—(P)—Thousands of grieving Texans Tuesday paid final personal tribute to Beauford H. Jester as the governor's work-broken body lay in state in the big red granite Capitol.

Supreme Court judges and statehouse porters mingled in the steady stream flowing by the opened coffin in the Senate Chamber. State Police and National Guardsmen quietly and firmly directed the human traffic through the center door, around the south side of the Senate Chamber, and out through a reception room.

Banks of flowers scarcely hid a pile of photographic and radio equipment assembled behind the coffin that stood in the center of the room, directly in front of the rotunda. The funeral services will be broadcast.

Jester, whose heart gave out before he finished many a self-assigned task of re-making Texas, died Monday on a train between Austin and Houston. Death came a few hours before he was to see two heart specialists for a checkup.

National Guard Escort
The flag-draped grey casket was wheeled into the north door of the Capitol and through the wide rotunda under the Lone Star of Texas at 9 a. m.

The honor escort of eight National Guardsmen followed it. They accompanied the casket to the entrance of the Capitol building.

AUSTIN—(P)—Final funeral services for Beauford H. Jester will be held at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church of Corsicana.

The Rev. E. F. Bohmfalk, pastor, will conduct the services, assisted by Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston.

Interment will be in the family plot at Corsicana.

Accompanied the casket to the south elevator, then wheeled and walked up the steps.

As Jester's body left the elevator near the entrance to the second floor office he occupied more than two years, a group of officers from the adjutant general's department saluted smartly. The casket then was moved into the Senate Chamber.

His body was flown to Austin Monday in the Bluebonnet, National Guard transport plane in which he traveled tens of thousands of miles (Continued On Page Thirteen)

Officers Tuesday apparently were without any definite clue concerning the identity of the slayer of Homer A. Stillwell, 28, an oil company landman, here last Thursday night.

Many citizens were cooperating by offering bits of information which they felt might lead to a clue in tracking down the slayer.

Telephone calls have been received by officers. In most cases the person calling shows no reluctance in identifying himself, indicating that the citizenry is anxious for the guilty person to be apprehended and brought to trial.

Stillwell was shot to death on his front lawn at 509 West Outburst Street when he went to determine the reason for a dog's barking.

The assailant shot Stillwell twice with .38 calibre bullets at close range.

Gov. Beauford Jester Dies On Train

Popular Gov. Beauford Jester, right, died suddenly in a Pullman berth enroute to Galveston. In this photo, made shortly after Jester's and Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers' successful campaigns for their respective offices, Shivers talks over future strategy with his chief. Now, with the death of the governor, Shivers will take over as head of the state.

Midlanders Band To Fight Grass Fires; Caution Is Urged

Caution is the watchword throughout the Midland ranch country at this particular time as ranchers take steps to prevent dangerous and costly grass fires which can destroy acres of grass lands and other farm and ranch properties.

Roy Parks and M. F. King, prominent Midland ranchers, Tuesday announced an agreement with the Midland Fire Department which will serve as the central agency in the reporting and fighting of grass fires. County equipment is being used.

Persons sighting grass fires in any section of the county are asked to notify the Midland Fire Department immediately. Three blasts on the fire siren will indicate a grass fire. Persons willing to assist in fighting such fires may contact the Fire Department for the location of the grass fire.

Ranchers also have arranged with tractor and bulldozer distributors for the use of bulldozers in case of grass fires.

Broom Brigade
The old-fashioned broom brigade still is the most effective means of putting out grass fires and volunteers will be needed urgently should a fire break out, the ranchers said.

Fire guards are being installed, but their installation, due to the terrific demand, is being held behind schedule. County equipment is being used.

The Spring rains brought about a rank growth of grass and weeds which have been dried out by the hot sun and winds of the last several weeks. A single spark in most any section of the county would set off a conflagration which would spread quickly, burning off many acres before it could be brought under control. Parks and King stated.

Ounce Of Prevention
"The danger is greater than in many years," King said.

Quoting the "ounce of prevention" adage, the cattlemen urged the cooperation of all citizens in helping to prevent grass fires. They pointed out that many grass fires are started by lighted matches and cigarettes tossed out of moving automobiles.

Congress Sees Gradual Tax Relief For Business

WASHINGTON—(P)—The promise of excise tax cuts in 1950—along with new cushions against losses—was held out to business Tuesday by Congress.

This was one of the first tangible reactions as lawmakers surveyed President Truman's 11-point beat-the-depression program.

There was evident agreement that only part of it could be put into effect before a pre-Labor Day adjournment. However, a leading Republican, Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, said he agrees with Truman that within a few years the country can achieve a national output of $300,000,000,000 a year. This is a fifth more than the present rate.

Next Year, Say Leaders
Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House Ways and Means Committee joined with Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee in promising relief next year from some of the heavy wartime taxes. These have applied to a long range of items from furs to face powder, and including transportation fares and communications.

President Truman asked for repeal of the excises on freight as one of the measures to keep the economy rolling in high gear and head off a threatened business recession.

But George told a reporter any such move now would cost the government $1 billion.

No Policy Changes, Says Allan Shivers, New Texas Governor

AUSTIN—(P)—Allan Shivers, the "boy senator" from Jefferson County in 1935, became the actual governor of Texas Monday. He said he would not change major policies of Beauford H. Jester, generally speaking.

Arriving at the capitol about 6 p. m. after the long, hot ride from his Woodville farm, Shivers slipped in a side door, went to his office, then to the press room where newsmen had been waiting.

"Beauford Jester and I were close together in most of our views," said Shivers.

Asked whether he would veto the second-year allocations in the three major money bills which Jester had not yet acted upon, Shivers declined to comment. When the Legislature was striving for a solution of its revenue-spending problem several weeks, Shivers suggested that it limit appropriations to one year.

Jester went part of the way on that plan, vetoing second-year figures in the elementary appropriation to bring the state's budget in temporary balance.

Special Session Due
Shivers said there would be no change in the course outlined by Jester of calling a special session by January 15 unless voters approve a constitutional amendment setting up annual sessions to begin in January of next year. The Legislature then would study eleemosynary and money problems.

He planned to go with his wife to Corsicana for the final funeral services honoring Jester Wednesday.

Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville, president pro tem of the Senate for the interim between sessions, just ended and the next special or regular session, will be acting lieutenant governor.

Thus, he stands next in line of succession to the governorship.

Shivers relaxed for a short time in his apartment in the Capitol Monday night before going to the governor's mansion to express condolences, to the Jester family.

"Do you plan to run for governor next summer?" a reporter asked.

"Frankly, tonight I don't know," Shivers replied. "Something like this—Jester's death—makes you wonder if it's worth it."

Rhymes With Rivers

AUSTIN—(P)—The new governor of Texas, Allan Shivers, has been a public official 15 years, but his name still is mispronounced. It rhymes with rivers.

Fire Department Gets Radio Unit

Another step in the modernization of the Midland Fire Department has been completed with the installation of a two-way radio in one of the trucks, Fire Chief Jim Walker announced Tuesday.

The truck is equipped with a transmitter-receiver unit similar to those in the city's police cars and will be operated on the same frequency and in conjunction with the police radio.

The installation of the radio gives the Fire Department constant communication with the police station and patrol cars, the Terminal Fire and Police Departments and the Odessa Police Department.

Disaster In India Claims Total Of 45

BOMBAY, INDIA—(P)—Thirteen American correspondents and 32 other persons died Tuesday in the crash of a KLM Constellation plane groping through monsoon rainstorms toward a Bombay island airport.

The American reporters were returning home from a tour of Indonesia sponsored by the Dutch government.

The correspondents killed included Charles Gratke, foreign editor of the Christian Science Monitor, and two Pulitzer prize winners—H. R. Knickerbocker and S. Burton Heath.

A fourteen American killed was Lynn Mahan, representative of a New York public relations company. The others killed were 11 Dutch crewmen, including the general operations manager of KLM at Karachi, Pakistan; 17 other Dutchmen, two Chinese and one Briton.

Thirty-three bodies had been recovered by nightfall, approximately 14 hours after the crash.

The plane crashed in a driving rainstorm while approaching the Santa Cruz Airfield, 15 miles north of Bombay. It hit a hill near Ghatkopar, on the opposite side of the 30-mile-long island from Santa Cruz.

Search parties reported the wreckage was strewn over a two-mile area some two miles above sea level and that the wreckage was partly charred.

Special Landing Permit
The accident was said to be the worst in India's aviation history. Dutch planes had not been allowed to land in India since the conflict between the Dutch government and the Indonesian Republic, but a special request from the American newsmen that the restriction be relaxed was approved by Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

The plane left Batavia, Java, July 10. The newsmen had been entertained Monday night in New Delhi by American Ambassador Loy Henderson. They left New Delhi for Santa Cruz early Tuesday. The plane was scheduled to arrive in Holland Wednesday.

At the New Delhi reception Monday night, some newsmen said they had made the request that the plane be allowed to land.

28 Die, 18 Injured In Fiery Crash

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Sheriff J. H. Durlley of Ventura County Tuesday said 28 persons were killed and 18 injured in the flaming crash of a Standard Airlines plane near the summit of Santa Ynez Pass. The crash occurred soon after the pilot reported a fight had broken out among passengers on the New York-to-Long Beach, Calif., un-scheduled flight. There were 48 persons aboard.

The Air Traffic Control Bureau at Burbank received a radio message from the pilot, Roy White, 25 minutes before the report of the crash, saying a violent fight had broken out aboard the ship.

Passengers Start Fighting
"Two of the passengers started fighting over Riverside," said the message. "I want police at the airport at Burbank and I want one of the men arrested. One man is badly beaten."

The pilot requested permission to set down at Burbank. The plane was scheduled to land at Long Beach.

Stanley Weiss, president of Standard Airlines, flew over the wrecked plane in a cabin monoplane and said the pilot's cabin appeared to be burned out "but the rest of the plane doesn't look so bad."

The injured passengers were taken to Birmingham Veteran's Hospital in Van Nuys.

Harold Tucker was the co-pilot, and the plane, a converted C-46, carried Mary Ann Rose and Charles Lotz Greiner, Long Beach, as stewards.

Boy Spots Wreckage
An unidentified boy spotted the crash and ran a mile to the Box Canyon Ranger Station to report it.

"There is only one wing and the tail left," a sheriff's sergeant reported. "The rest of the plane was entirely burned."

A rescue crew was dispatched by the Los Angeles Red Cross to augment early arrivals at the crash scene who had been fighting a forest fire in the region Monday.

The Los Angeles County Fire Department sent two companies to aid in rescue work and prevent the flames from starting new fires in the surrounding brush and scrub oak country.

New Soviet Blockade Continues Tuesday

BERLIN—(P)—Russia's "little blockade" of Berlin piled up trucks at Helmsdorf again Tuesday.

Truck traffic to this four-power city, 100 miles inside the Soviet zone, was banned for the third day except for four trucks an hour allowed to pass over the Autobahn (superhighway) from Helmsdorf to the British zone.

There has as yet been no Russian explanation, although the Soviet had told the British they would send a letter Tuesday setting forth the reasons for the new restrictions.

Worst Heat Is Yet To Come, Predicts U.S. Weather Man

By The Associated Press
Texans stewed in their own juices again Tuesday. For those in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the worst is yet to come.

In fact, the U.S. Weather Bureau said temperatures would hit 105 in the Dallas-Fort Worth area Wednesday, after skidding well above 100 Tuesday afternoon.

Temporary relief came to the Panhandle and South Plains in the form of cooling showers. Precipitation included 53 inch at Clarendon, 35 at Amarillo, 12 at Lubbock and a trace at Childress. Beaumont also had rain, 8.1 inch, and El Paso reported .19 inch.

But dawn saw only scattered clouds to hide Texas from the blistering sun and the temperatures climbed fast. Wichita Falls reported 90 degrees at 8:30 a. m.

Presidio's 103 was tops in the state Monday, followed by 102 at Dallas, Laredo and Wichita Falls, 101 at Alice and Corsicana, and 100 at Austin, Waco, Fort Worth, Bryan and Mineral Wells. Corsicana's 101 and Dallas' 102 were local highs for the year.

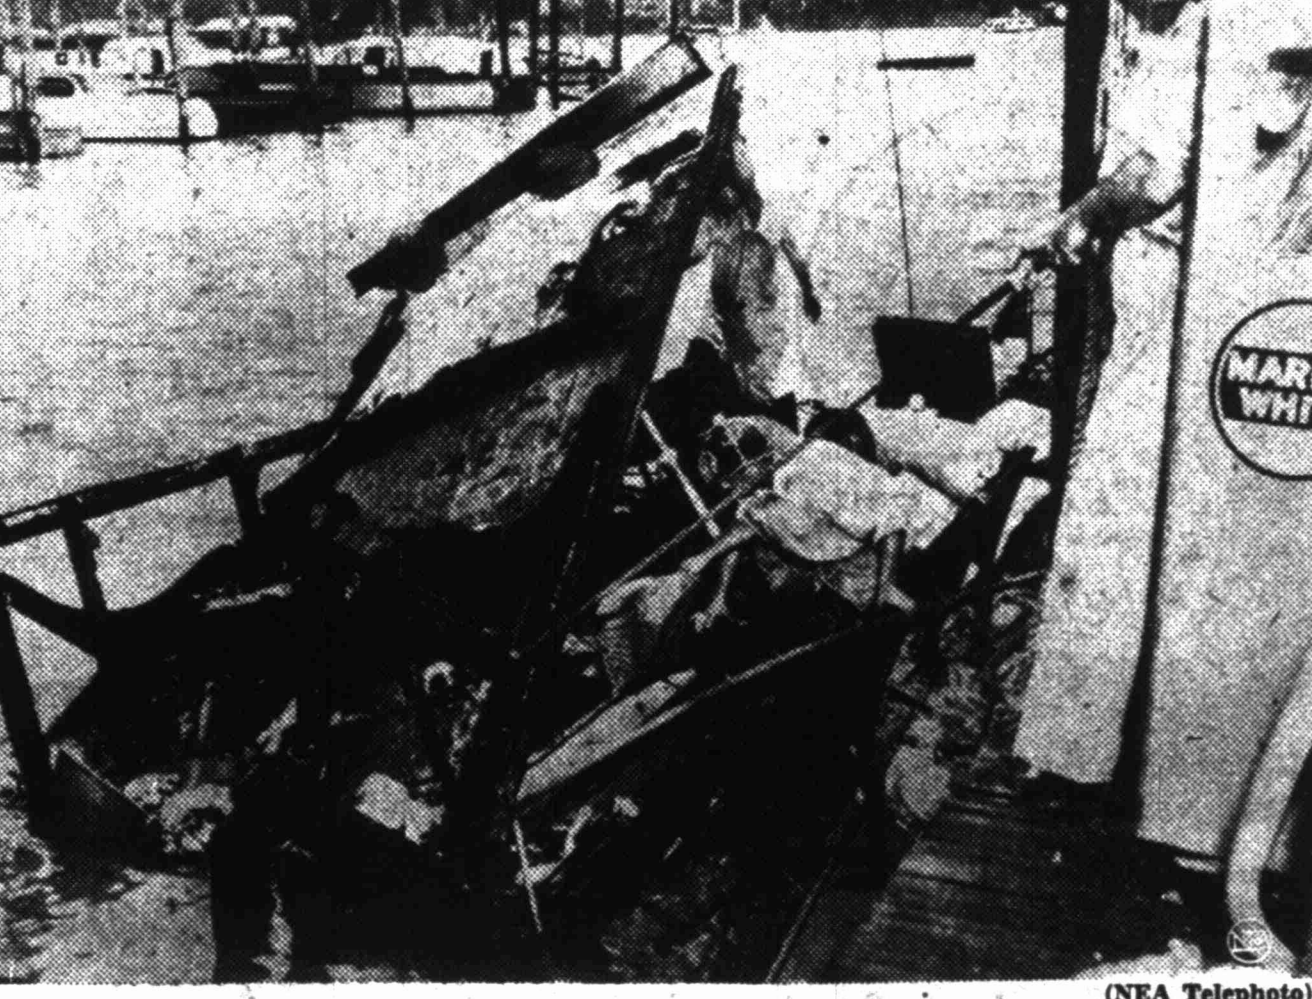

Scattered thundershowers were predicted for most of Texas through Wednesday. But, the Weather Bureau said, there won't be much relief from the heat.

Two Known Dead In Airlift Plane Crash

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(P)—Two U. S. Air Force fliers were found dead Tuesday beside a C-54 which crashed in the Russian zone of Germany while flying the airlift to Berlin.

Air Force Headquarters said the third member of the crew was believed dead in the plane's still smoldering wreckage.

Archie, Master Of Insult, Finds Panning Guests Pays Off

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood has had its professional ribbers from time to time, but no one has made insults pay off quite like Ed "Archie" Gardner on his "Duffy's Tavern" radio show. Duffy's Tavern radio show, which is all from Oscar winners to the idols of bobby-soxers.

Some of them love it as a welcome change. Others have demanded changes in the script. Here are some of Archie's best insults: Rudy Vallee was introduced as a radio star of the old silent days—"sort of a prehistoric Perry Como."

"Remember the time you bought a crystal set and thought there was something wrong with it?" asked Archie. "Well, Vallee was the guy."
He defined Lauren Bacall as "the dame with the husky, throaty voice, like Tallulah Bankhead on a clear day. She inspired the 'Lauren' in 'Laurengitts'."
Of Arthur Treacher, Archie said: "Some guys go around looking as though they smelled something bad, but Treacher looks like he's found it."
"There's a thin line between singing and crooning, and that thin line is known as Sinatra. He makes the bobby-soxer swoon because his voice sounds better when the listener is unconscious."

"How can they dare say every week that this guy is so round, so firm and so fully packed?" (When De-Glamorizer Archie dubbed Hildegard as "the rich man's Cass Daly" and Marlene Dietrich "the baritone Margaret Truman.")
"Actually," added Archie, "I'm very fond of Marlene. With them legs, she's made more successful crossings than the Matson Line. They've earned her a couple of million bucks and you've gotta admit that's pretty good pin money."
When Archie asked Dinah Shore how long she had been away from Duffy's Tavern, she answered: "Two years, eleven months, three weeks, two days, seven hours and 22 minutes." When he chided her for counting, she quipped: "I always count my blessings."

He told Helen Traubel, the opera star, that in the tavern visitors had a choice of their one-dish menu. "And judging by appearances," he said, "I think you've been taking it when you should have been leaving it."
But Ed can take it, too. Visting guests have had their retaliatory licks. Humphrey Bogart told Archie: "I've experienced many killings in my movie career, but this is the first time I've watched a guy bump off a language."
When Archie told Gertrude Lawrence that he was her new Noel Coward, she replied: "You're half right."
He once urged Sophie Tucker to make a picture with him. Said he, "Sophie, Hollywood is calling you."
She replied: "If you make the picture, I can hear what they're calling me."
Imported Talent
Winston Churchill's daughter, Sara, due to arrive in movietown soon with picture aspirations... Barry Fitzgerald headed for the hospital for a badly needed foot operation... RKO planning to reissue some of its old Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers starring musicals because of the success of their reteaming in "The Barkleys of Broadway"... Audie Murphy and Gale Storm teaming up for "The Kid From Texas"...

Leo Carrillo signed for a new film version of "Pancho Villa," to be filmed in Mexico this Summer. The picture will have the cooperation of the Mexican government and will be made in separate English and Spanish versions.
Howard Hughes and the producers' association in another rattle over Hughes' ad campaign on "The Outlaw"... Two intriguing film titles coming up: "Born to Hang" and "You Only Love Twice"...

Eve Arden says no more Eve Arden-type roles for her. "Every time a writer needs a wise-cracking secretary or some body's girl friend, he says: 'It's a typical Eve Arden part.' Then they hire Eve Arden. Well, from now on they won't get Eve Arden. They'll have to hire somebody else."

Hollywood finally kids itself about western pictures. "Grand Canyon" will be a satire on a film company making a western. One scene will show the hero getting aboard his horse via a ladder. It's really happened in the Beverly Hills.

Emotional Stress Important In Irritable Colon Disorder

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
One of the most common ailments known to civilized man is a condition commonly called irritable colon or spastic colitis. There is no true inflammation present so that most doctors prefer the first name. Persons who have this condition often believe they are constipated because they do not have one or more satisfactory bowel movements a day.
In a person with an irritable colon, the wavelike motions or peristalsis of the bowel which propel material down the intestines come too close together and force the waste along at a too-rapid rate. This generally results in diarrhea for a short time, after which the bowels will not move because they are empty.
Those who are afflicted with an irritable bowel are likely to be on the thin side. They are often overly nervous and emotional and it is certain that emotion will effect the peristalsis.
Abdominal Pain
Peristalsis may come so frequently that there is discomfort and griping in the abdomen. Emotional upsets or worry almost always make the condition worse, usually producing passage of loose stools. This may be followed by a day or two during which the bowels do not move but the abdominal pain may continue.
Exposure to cold, and various irritating foods, especially raw fruits and vegetables, may make the condition worse. Cathartics and laxatives frequently are responsible for setting off an attack.
When the condition has not existed too long treatment is fairly effective. This includes strict avoidance of laxatives and laxative foods.

Governor Jester Died Without Pain, Physician Reports
By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
AUSTIN—Gov. Beauford H. Jester died without pain—without knowing he was dying.
He died in his sleep. He never knew what hit him.
"That is a good way to die," Dr. H. L. Evans of Houston said Tuesday.
Dr. Evans is the physician who pronounced Governor Jester dead.
"Most likely he died of coronary thrombosis," Evans added. "A blood clot probably formed in a coronary artery in the heart. The supply of blood to the heart muscle suddenly was cut off. Death resulted."
The governor died in a Pullman car early Monday morning. He was bound from Austin to Galveston for a rest and a year examination.
Called to the Southern Pacific Station at Houston, Dr. Evans found Jester's body in the lower berth of the Pullman car—Lower Five.
"His features were absolutely composed," said Evans. "There was no sign of any suffering or struggle. I noticed that the bed clothing had not been disturbed. He obviously died in his sleep."
Justice of the Peace Tom Maes, who returned a verdict of death due to natural causes, said: "The bed-sheet was pulled up neatly over the governor—it wasn't ruffled a bit. And his hands were folded over his chest. To me it looked like he just slept away."

FUNNY BUSINESS

Friend Hubby Hits Comeback Trail In High

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—The American husband has become the eighth wonder of the modern world.
The other seven are (1) Sophie Tucker, (2) the Berlin Airlift, (3) the four-dollar British pound, (4) the Empire State Building, (5) Texas and or California, (6) Soviet Russia's foreign policy and (7) Joseph Paul DiMaggio, the Yankee Clipper.
Like "DiMag" the U. S. husband is enjoying one of the greatest comebacks in history.
Time was when he was merely a cross beast of labor responsible only for bringing home the bacon. But all that's changed. Papa's a new man. Mama has to call him "Daddy" again now—and she has a hard time keeping up with him. She can't afford to let herself get frowzy and fat. Papa's taken the inner tubes off his midriff, and if she doesn't do likewise, why, he puts her on a nine-day diet. He knows what grub has the most vitamins and grows the least blubber. He does out her calories like a miser.

"It's the only way I can cure my slice!"

Yes, sir, the old man's got mama taking lessons in interior decoration, and he thumbs through the ladies' magazines looking for new recipes he can amaze the neighbors with. (The garlic flavor usually dies cut of your tonsils in three days.)
Bargain Hunter Now
Papa's become a bargain hunter himself now. He prowls the shops on his days off.
"These men shoppers are worse than the women ever were," growled our family butcher the other day. "And the way they watch the scales—you'd think they never saw an honest man in their life."
I know a telegraph editor out in Joplin, Mo., who told his wife she ought to make her own clothes.
"If it's so easy, why don't you do it?" she said.
"Darned if he didn't. Now he makes clothes for the whole family."
In Alabama the husbands are getting so good at camellia growing they take the prizes at flower shows that their wives used to win.
"Well, at least it keeps them out of pool rooms," said one frustrated lady.
The low-down in business is making husbands even more thrifty. Recently a friend of mine went into a store to buy some hand-knit wool socks. The price—$7.50—shocked him.
"I can make them cheaper than that," he said.
He's taken up knitting.

LUCKIES PAY MORE to give you a finer cigarette!

Yes, at tobacco auctions Lucky Strike pays millions of dollars more than official parity prices for fine tobacco!

There's no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike! To bring you this finer cigarette, the makers of Lucky Strike go after fine, light, naturally mild tobacco—and pay millions of dollars more than official parity prices to get it! So buy a carton of Luckies today. See for yourself how much finer and smoother Luckies really are—how much more real deep-down smoking enjoyment they give you. Yes, smoke a Lucky! You'll agree it's a finer, milder, more enjoyable cigarette!

L. G. GRIFFIN, veteran independent auctioneer of Clarksville, Va., says: "Season after season I've seen the makers of Luckies buy fine tobacco—prime, ripe, golden leaf. I've smoked Luckies for 14 years." Here's more evidence that Luckies are a finer cigarette.

Display-Shower Fetes Mrs. Bill Moore, Jr.

RANKIN—Mrs. Bill Moore, Jr., the former Pansy Mae Smith, was honored at a display-shower Saturday afternoon when the Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church entertained for her. The party was held in the club room. Mrs. Hamilton Still presided at the guest register. The club room was decorated with bowls of vari-colored zinnias.

The refreshment table was centered with an all-white floral arrangement and punch and cookies were served by Marlene Holmes and Myra James.

Mrs. Moore, whose marriage took place June 25, received many lovely gifts. The Moores are living in Fort Stockton.

Leading Lady Needed For "The Drunkard," Summer Production

A leading lady for the Summer Mummies' play, "The Drunkard" or "The Fallen Saved," is needed, Art Cole said Tuesday. Readings for this part will be held on the mezzanine floor of the Scharbauer Hotel at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The Summer Mummies are a group of Midlanders who are interested in presenting a melodrama. Anyone may belong. The play will be presented about August 1.

The leading lady should be a young woman between the ages of 17 and 25, young and innocent and a typical heroine. The rest of the cast has been selected.

"The Drunkard" is an old, old play, which originally was presented by P. T. Barnum about the middle of the nineteenth century, in his museum in Boston. At that time it was a serious melodrama; however, now it is an uproarious comedy presented in the traditional melodrama style. There will be musical numbers between the scenes, including "A Bird in a Gilded Cage."

William Pomeroy, Jr., is the director of this production and Bill Pennebaker is the general chairman of production.

Women Of The Church Meet For Programs

Five Circles of the Women of the Church of the First Presbyterian Church met Monday afternoon.

Mrs. L. W. Sager was hostess to Circle One with ten members present. Mrs. John Hills conducted the Bible Study and Mrs. C. E. Bissell discussed a Survey article on the "Christian Home."

Mrs. W. C. Fritz gave the Bible lesson for Circle Two in the home of Mrs. Frank Downey, 606 West Storey Street. Mrs. Frank Aldridge was co-hostess.

Circle Three met with Mrs. R. L. Miller, 911 West Michigan Street, with eight members present. Mrs. Miller made a report on the executive meeting held last week. Mrs. W. T. Graham discussed a Survey article and Mrs. A. P. Shirey conducted the Bible study.

Two new members were received by Circle Four in the meeting in the home of Mrs. John B. Richards, 1804 West Texas Avenue. They were Mrs. T. C. Frick and Mrs. Paul Laverty. Mrs. Matthew Lynn and Mrs. H. L. Brady were guests. Mrs. Lee Thacker and Mrs. Richards presented the program.

The Training Circle met with Mrs. Dayton A. Bliven, 309 Banner Street. Mrs. Donald Johnson conducted the Bible study from the Gospel of St. John and Mrs. William Carter discussed a Survey article on the "Christian Home."

A short history of the local church was given by Mrs. Richard Peters. Refreshments were served to 13 members.

Past Matrons And Patrons Meet In M. A. Floyd Home

Eleven persons attended the meeting of the past matrons and past patrons of the Order of the Eastern Star in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Floyd, 509 North Colorado Street, Monday night.

U. S. 80 Marker Is Built At Weatherford

RANGER—"Fastest Route to El Paso and West Coast" reads a large, attractive sign now being erected on U. S. Highway 80, three miles east of Weatherford. A map at the bottom shows cities from Weatherford to El Paso.

The sign, which will be flood-lighted, was underwritten by Ranger and the contract covers three years. J. E. Meroney, Ranger Highway 80 Builders Club president, and Rip Galloway, Ranger Chamber of Commerce manager, are confident that other towns along the route will aid in the cost.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Beauford H. Jester

Flags throughout the State of Texas today are at half-staff in respect to the memory of Gov. Beauford Halbert Jester who died suddenly Monday.

And throughout this great state hearts are heavy as citizens pause in reverent silence as a tribute to their departed chief executive, who at the age of seven years had expressed a desire to some day be governor.

That desire was fulfilled some 46 years later when Beauford Jester was elected governor of Texas. And two years later he was elected to a second term. The fulfillment of that early desire gave Texas one of her most capable and best-loved governors.

The news of Governor Jester's death came as a tremendous shock to Texans everywhere, many of whom could not believe the startling announcement. But as the news release was confirmed, citizens bowed their heads in silent prayer. One of Texas' greatest and most unselfish public servants was gone—killed perhaps by overwork in discharging his many and varied obligations of state.

Citizens of his home city of Corsicana long had known Beauford Jester as a competent attorney, an outstanding civic worker and a good citizen. Texans at large knew him first as a member of the Texas Railroad Commission and then as governor of the State of Texas—the first in Texas' second century of statehood. But best of all they knew him as a friendly, cordial and sincere fellow Texan.

His administrations were busy and trying in many ways, but throughout it all Governor Jester conducted himself and his office in a most admirable manner, with honor and respect.

One of his last official acts was the bringing of the state budget into balance by vetoing $17,000,000 from an appropriation bill. Many other problems of utmost importance weighed heavily upon the shoulders of the governor during the long session of the 51st Legislature.

Many noteworthy accomplishments may be credited to Governor Jester and historians will record his administrations as outstanding. Many citizens naturally did not agree with the governor on some of his policies and actions, but most will agree as to his honesty and sincerity.

Governor Jester's passing is a great and distinct loss to the State of Texas.

The Reporter-Telegram joins with other Texans and Texas institutions in paying sincere tribute to the memory of Beauford Halbert Jester and in expressing heartfelt sympathy to his widow and other members of his family in their hour of bereavement.

The World Of Tomorrow

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Army research diminishes fear of A-bomb casualties; Interior Secretary Krug's health worries his friends; New York radio station supports Attorney General Clark's citizenship program.

WASHINGTON—While the Atomic Energy Commission is informing Congress of streamlined methods for bigger and better atom bombs, Army doctors have been working quietly to prevent loss of life from those same bombs—and with surprising success.

It can now be stated that, as a result of this research, Army doctors have lost part of their fear of the bomb's casualties, and that at least 20 per cent of the lives lost at Hiroshima now could be saved.

This is the conclusion of Col. E. Albert de Coursey, commandant of the Army's Medical Research School, whose principal assignment has been to prepare medical defenses against the atomic bomb.

He explains that 65 to 85 per cent of the victims at Hiroshima and Nagasaki died of burns and injuries, easily treated by medical science. The challenge of the medical profession therefore is to abandon the present method of treating each patient as an individual, and work out a system of mass treatment. Even the assembly line technique, Dr. de Coursey suggests, may have to be applied to medicine.

The doctors also have made progress in treating atomic radiation, which attacks the blood cells and causes hemorrhages. Tests on the animals at Bikini showed that atomic hemorrhages can be stopped by a common dye, known as toluidin blue dye. Thereafter the problem is to have enough blood plasma on hand to administer mass transfusions.

As further proof that the atomic bomb isn't as devastating as it has been built up to be, Dr. de Coursey claims that a person might even survive when directly underneath an atomic explosion—provided he was protected by a few feet of earth or concrete.

Furthermore it is believed that a person could come out alive from a simple, six-inch, concrete shelter, located even within the two-mile radius previously considered fatal.

In both cases the shelters would protect those inside from the deadly gamma rays. But whether the shelters themselves could withstand the terrific concussion, Dr. de Coursey points out, would depend upon how much was absorbed and deflected by the surrounding buildings.

Note—Dr. de Coursey admits that the super atomic bomb, developed since Bikini, would increase the casualties but not change the medical problem. The bigger the bomb the more the patients, but their treatment remains the same.

Another Cabinet illness The Truman Administration may have the unfortunate experience of another sick cabinet member, unless friends of Secretary of the Interior "Cap" Krug take him in hand.

Krug's fainting spell while testifying before the House Public Lands Committee last month was not an isolated case, but the third time this has happened publicly. While making a speech in Los Angeles, Krug was forced to stop, retire from the rostrum, and could not resume. Again, at Phoenix, Ariz., while speaking on a radio network, Krug was only two minutes through his address when he started to keel over and had to hand his speech over to someone else to read.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

During the war I had a lot of fun going to various Army and Navy hospitals throughout the country and doing card tricks for the boys. Bob Hawk made an appeal on the radio at that time for decks of cards, and we got close to a million and a quarter decks. I made a lot of these into trick decks, so I could teach the boys how to do some simple card tricks without much practice.

Card game diagram showing a hand with cards like KQ8, J1085, J1088, A2, 1076, KQ7, Q752, A92, 962, AQ42, A109, and a trick table.

Atlanta, Ga. They all have tuberculosis and are taking the bed rest treatment. They cannot play very often, but when they do, they take their bridge very seriously.

Cook thought he had stretched the bidding a little when he bid two no trump. I cannot criticize that. However, he could not figure out how he was going to make his contract until he remembered something the coach had told him one time at football—on a rainy day you sometimes just kick the ball to the opposition, and hope for a lucky break. That is what he did in this hand.

He won the opening lead of the jack of spades in dummy, and cashed four diamond tricks. West made the mistake of discarding a spade, heart and a club. Cook then led a heart, which West won with the queen.

Badly-Needed Armed Services Unification Barely Is Started

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Unification of the armed services has really just started. It is now almost two years since Congress passed the law merging Army, Navy and Air Force into a single Department of National Defense. Additional legislation to make further unification possible is now before Congress. But the National Military Establishment now can point to only four areas in which unification has been fully accomplished. They are:

- 1. Consolidation of the three service public relations departments into a single office under a single civilian director—William Fry—who is responsible only to Defense Secretary Johnson.
2. Merger of all three services' legislative relations with Congress into a single liaison office under Maj. Gen. W. B. Persons, in the office of the secretary of Defense.
3. Bringing together the financial affairs of all three services in a single Budget Office. For the first time, a single military budget has been presented to Congress for the fiscal year 1950.
4. Combining the Air Transport Command and the Naval Air Transport Service into a single Military Air Transport Service under Maj. Gen. Lawrence S. Kuter.

Some 85 other steps to effect greater unification are now in various stages of progress. Many of them will require special laws, now before Congress, to carry out. So it will be months—possibly years—before the U. S. armed services can lay any valid claims to being unified. Among these other steps leading towards unification, these may be listed as most important:

A new uniform code of military justice has passed the House and is now before the Senate. When finally made law, it will repeal the old Articles of War and of Naval Government, which go back to the time of Cromwell. It will give all military personnel a modern and much fairer legal code. New legislation governing pay of the armed services is also before Congress.

Relations between the regular services and the National Guard and Organized Reserve are being completely revised. A six-man civilian board under Army Secretary Gordon Gray last August recommended fed-

Questions and Answers

- Q—How many completely "dry" states are in the Union?
A—Mississippi and Oklahoma are the only two states which forbid the sale of hard liquor.
Q—Has the Hyde Park home of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt attracted many tourists?
A—Since its opening as a historic shrine, the estate has become one of our most important tourist attractions. More than a million persons have visited the grave of the late President.
Q—Is there a breed of dog called the "Carlin"?
A—Carlin is the old name for the pug but it is now obsolete.
Q—What major league team holds the record for home runs in one inning?
A—The Boston Red Sox hold the American League record with four home runs in one inning. Ted Williams, Jimmy Fox, Joe Cronin and Jim Tabor, accomplished that in 1940. The 1939 Giants established the major league record with five homers in an inning.
Q—Who first used the word vitamin?
A—The term vitamin was first used in 1912 by Dr. Casimir Funk, who gave this name to the substance obtained by him from rice-polishings in an attempt to isolate the factor whose absence is responsible for beri-beri.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are a house guest in a home without servants. WRONG WAY: Make no attempt to help with the housework, since you are a guest. RIGHT WAY: Care for your own room, making your bed, etc., and lend your hostess a helping hand wherever you can. Uniform procurement regulations for all three services will be published this Fall. A consolidated construction program for service installations has been sent to Congress. It cut original requests for some $3,000,000,000 worth of work to $233,000,000 for the coming year. With all these and other unification measures in operation, Secretary Johnson believes military expenses can be cut by $1,500,000,000 or more a year.

REFUGE By Mildred Cron and Harwood White

THE STORY: Mrs. Malone, a widow who opens a main highway, is closing up her place after a successful tourist season. She intends to return to Los Angeles. As the woman waits for the truck to be loaded, a black-haired driver takes a deep puff of his cigar, dropped it and ground it into the sand with the tip of his polished shoe.

Mrs. Everson was not tall, but she gave the impression of height because of her slenderness and the lofty heels she wore.

"You take my advice," the young woman with frightened eyes cried, "and don't you let him talk you into it! I was going to cook for her. But I'd rather be dead first! She's crazy. She's crazy, I tell you!"

Her voice rose in a kind of scream. Mrs. Malone said quickly: "I think the bus is coming." She picked up her suitcase.

"You'd better be ready. They hate to wait." She felt a certain embarrassment at having witnessed the hysterical outburst. But she was curious, too—very curious.

The black-haired driver took a deep puff of his cigar, dropped it and ground it into the sand with the tip of his polished shoe. The bus was making time. It loomed larger and larger, seeming to drink in the long blue river of road.

Mrs. Malone stood firmly planted, waving her winter coat so that its fur-trimmed sleeves flapped like a scarecrow's. Then she could hear the brakes beginning to take hold. The engine backfired noisily and the bus slowed to a stop.

"One passenger only... You'd better wait for the 'special.' It'll be along in half an hour," the driver called.

"Oh, dear," the young woman cried. "I can't wait! I want to get away from here! I've got to!" Mrs. Malone was first in line. It was her privilege to go. But that meant she would never know.

"You go ahead," she said. "I'll wait here. I'm in no hurry." "Oh, thank you!"

THE young woman scrambled into the bus. Mrs. Malone could see the other passengers craning at the windows to get a better view of the monster trailer. Some of them were standing up and pointing.

But the bus couldn't wait. The door closed and the tires began to turn with a bubbling sound. Rapidly, the bus fled.

"That was very nice of you," the uniformed man said. "Why did you do it?" "I thought maybe I'd take the job." Mrs. Malone had not intended to go so far. The sudden impulse stemmed from her dread of being alone. Her husband had been an exciting companion—adventurous, brave and good-natured—and this would be her first winter without him.

"Come and meet her. You can see for yourself." Mrs. Malone folded her coat and placed it neatly on top of the suitcase. She was aware of an accelerated heartbeat as she followed the driver and waited beside him for the steps to make their mysterious appearance.

Then she followed him into the trailer, ducking her head to clear the low doorway. She found herself in a narrow entry, from which a door opened to the left.

"Mrs. Everson? I think I've found another cook for you."

A FIRST quick glance through the door disclosed a necessarily narrow yet luxurious interior: an impression of silvery walls, hydrangea-blue curtains, sofas or bunks upholstered in gray satin.

But Mrs. Malone had no opportunity to observe the details. A woman was sitting tailor-fashion on one of the sofas. Her appearance was so extraordinary that her surroundings seemed unimportant in comparison.

She wasn't young, nor was she strictly beautiful. She had, rather, the ageless look achieved by certain famous actresses. Her skin was taut, her contours flawless, her hair abundant and rather dark. She had immense blue eyes and a narrow, painted mouth. Her hands were large, the nails lacquered. Here, as so often happens, she stood revealed as a woman possibly in her 40's.

expected in so slight a woman. "Where did you find her, Rudy?" she asked the driver. "Did she drop out of the sky, like a frog in a rainstorm? A cook in the middle of the Mojave! How come?"

MRS. MALONE explained quickly. She was not a cook by profession, but she was willing to try, provided, of course, that too much was not expected of her—fancy desserts, for instance, such as pastries.

"I understand soups, meats and sauces. They say I make the best coffee in California. That's about all."

"It will be enough," Mrs. Everson interrupted, "if you're also willing to learn. What's your name?"

"Malone." "Molly!" The crimson mouth smiled; there was a trace of mockery in the eyes.

"My name's Margaret." "I'll call you Margaret." Mrs. Everson unfolded and stood up. She was not tall, but she gave the impression of height because of her slenderness and the lofty heels she wore. Quenching her cigar in a crystal dish full of half-smoked stubs stained with lipstick, she said: "This is the situation. As you possibly in her 40's. She wore a black crepe dress fastened by a clip set with diamonds in mounting platinum squares. "How do you do?" she said. Her voice was a deep, alto, un-south and 330 feet from west lines of the east 100-acre of survey 274, which makes it nine miles south of Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Odom, recently completed Straw-Pennsylvanian.

The other two ventures, which will be in Burnett County School Lands, have not been staked as yet. All three tests are slated on acreage received in a farmout from Standard Oil Company of Texas.
Contract for drilling the trio has been awarded to Taubert Drilling Company of Wichita Falls and Abilene.
The new location is four miles northwest of a 5,446-foot dry hole in the Ellenburger drilled in June 1948 by Stanotex. The Ellenburger came in at 5,150 feet, on an elevation of 1,896 feet, for that failure. The project was Stanotex No. 1 Lily.

Tom Green Venture Gets San Andres Oil

Hole was being made through the San-Andres-Permian at George W. Strake of Houston No. 1 W. C. Weddell, Northwest Tom Green County wildcat, 25 miles northwest of San Angelo and 330 feet from west, 430 feet from south lines of section 68, block 5, H&TC survey. It was below 1,161 feet penetrating lime. A small amount of free oil was being recovered each time the bailer was pulled. Drilling is to continue to 2,000 feet.

Lubbock Exploration Calls Lime Zone Top

Slick-Moorman Oil Company and C. W. Chancellor No. 1 Cloud, North-Central Lubbock County wildcat, to 5,500 feet to test into the middle Permian, had reached 3,200 feet in lime, and was shut-down while a new pump was being installed.
Drilling will be resumed as soon as the new equipment is in place. Top of the lime was picked at 3,180 feet. Elevation is 3,283 feet.
The exploration is 12 miles north and slightly west of the city of Lubbock, and 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 22, block D, L&SV survey.

ploration in the Crossroads area of extreme Northeast Lea County, N. M., which has indicated a new pay for the region.
After showing clean oil on a drillstem test at 9,734-94 feet in a Pennsylvanian lime formation, the venture cored ahead to 9,850 feet and ran a two and one-half hour drillstem test with packer at 9,825 feet.
Recovery was 900-foot water blanket, 450 feet of drilling mud cut with sulphur water and 6,750 feet of sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas. The exploration was cored ahead with a diamond bit following the test.
It is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 28-98-36e.
Original pay of the Crossroads field is Devonian.

More Water Made At Borden Wildcat

Ryan, Hays and Burke No. 1 Miller, Northeast Borden County wildcat, located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 418, block 97, H&TC survey, was drilling ahead past 8,200 feet in Pennsylvanian lime, after recovering salt water in a two-hour drillstem test at 8,222-52 feet.
The recovery from the investigation was reported to have been 180 barrels of salt water, and one half barrel of drilling mud, with a slight amount of dead oil.
The interval covered by the test is thought to be either lower Canyon or upper Strawn. The venture is due to continue digging until it reaches 8,500 feet, or finds oil or water in the lower Strawn lime.
Up to now it has not developed any indications of production in any horizon it has penetrated.

Lost A Bull Fiddle In Telephone Booth

PETTS WOOD, ENGLAND.—(AP)—You've seen a bull fiddle? You know how big a telephone booth is. A man lost a bull fiddle here in a telephone booth.
Stanley Small, manager of the Daylight Inn, found the instrument there the morning after a dance.
Assuming it had been mislaid by a member of the band, he waited for the owner to turn up.
That was weeks ago.

Italian Reds Strike Milan, Italy

MILAN, ITALY.—(AP)—Northern Italy's important steel and machinery industry closed down Tuesday as approximately 700,000 Communist union workers quit their jobs in a strike.
NORTH ANDOVER, MASS.—(AP)—William A. Mazarinko and his large, brown bull aren't speaking—not after what happened Tuesday morning.
Fire broke out in the Mazarinko barn about dawn and Mazarinko called the fire department which rushed apparatus out to the farm—or almost to the farm.
The bull plainly didn't like red fire engines—he just planted himself in a narrow roadway and challenged the firemen to come on. They didn't.
Doubting as picadors, the fire fighters armed themselves with pitchforks and drove the bull back into a field. The bull got loose and came back. The fire was getting worse. The firemen finally penned the bull in a nearby pasture.
By that time the big, wooden barn was beyond saving.
Loss approximated $12,000.

Flaherty Services Conducted Monday

Funeral services for Allen Henry Flaherty, 37-year-old Midland oilman, were held at 5 p. m. Monday in the Ellis Chapel, with the Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating.
Interment was scheduled Tuesday in the Rose Hill Mausoleum at Tulsa, Okla.
Flaherty died of a heart ailment Sunday.
He had resided in Midland since 1935 and was associated with his father in the firm of Flaherty and Son, drilling contractors. His father died in 1942.
Survivors include his widow and a daughter, Dorothy Deen, of Midland, and his mother, Mrs. Clarence Duncan of Odessa.

Chicagoans gazed in wonderment at this sign—VICE, with large red arrows pointing to an entrance. What the amazed gapers didn't know was that workmen, erecting the sign on an auto agency building, quit for the weekend and neglected to spell out the word "SERVICE."

Boy Loses Joint Of Finger In Press

A boy watching the operation of a job printing press Monday lost the first joint of a finger—apparently through curiosity.
He was Gary Dee Howard, age 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Howard, 1109 West College Street.
His finger was caught in the fly wheel of a press at the Stapleton Printing Company while he watched its operation by the owner of the shop.
Howard was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital.

WE, THE WOMEN

You're Better Off If Husband Doesn't Talk About His Work

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
"My husband never tells me anything about his work," complains a young wife. "It's humiliating to always have to admit he hasn't told me about this or that when other wives of men in his company discuss what is going on at the office."
It needn't be humiliating, you know. It all depends on how you admit you don't know any office gossip.
If you make the admission sound as though you're resentful about it, the other wives will probably feel superior to you.
But if you say matter-of-factly, when asked if you know a bit of news, "No, Jim never talks much about the office at home," then you're making a statement of fact that calls for no apology. You're actually giving your husband a build-up.
Just remember this, when you feel resentful about your husband's not sharing office gossip with you: No woman ever hurt her husband by not knowing any office gossip.
Can Hurt Husband's Career
But plenty of wives have hurt their husband's careers because they knew things they were tempted to tell or were eager to let other wives know they knew.
It may be fun for a wife to be "in the know"—but it's a big responsibility.
The wife who doesn't know office gossip never has to worry for

Families Ponder Doom Of Village

FLAGSTAFF, ME.—(P)—The 28 families hanging on in this doomed village don't know whether to get out or stay to the end.
Capt. Cliff Wing has an answer: "I'd like to build a boat like Noah built the ark," the 77-year-old ferryman said, "and gather all these people and go out on this new lake and stay. There we could be all together. It's this separation that gets me."
Impounded Waters
The captain referred to the lake that will be created by impounding the Dead River's waters behind a dam now under construction. The lake will flood Flagstaff and nearby Dead River plantation. When the waters will rise still is undetermined.
Flagstaff's community farewell—old home days—has ended. It brought some 400 former residents back for a last look at the town. It was far from a Fourth of July celebration. It was solemn and sombre. The Rev. Arthur R. MacDougall called it "this seeming burial."

Ah, But No Says The Wise Judge

SUNDERLAND, ENGLAND — (P) Susan Ellison, pretty bus conductor, complained in court about the strange antics of one of her passengers.
"He threw a sandwich at me, whistled on a bird warbler and then kicked me on the thigh," she said, and claimed she had a bruise to prove it.
"About this bruise on the young lady's thigh," said defendant Henry Dinney, 47. "I would very much like to see it."
"I'm sure you would," commented Judge A. P. Wilson.
He sentenced Dinney to a month in jail for assault and a month for being drunk and disorderly.

"I'll be down to see you in about 10 minutes," Taylor told Duetsch.
"You mean you'll be up to see me," Duetsch corrected him. My room is on the top floor."
"I'll be down," repeated Taylor. "I'm talking to you from my plane, and right now I'm about 8,000 feet above you."

Texas Wheat Storage Problem Being Met

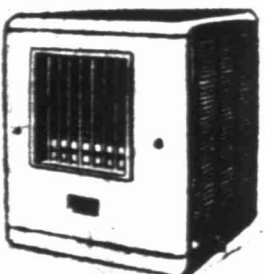

FORT WORTH—(P)—G. E. Blewett, secretary of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers Association, says the storage problem on new wheat in Texas is being met because the yield is considerably under pre-harvest estimates.
Blewett said here less wheat is stored on the ground this year than in any year during the last decade and that bins of many farmers are not full.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Senior Loop Goes All-Out In Effort To Win Star Tilt

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN—(P)—The National League, from President Ford C. Frick down, is throwing in all its chips in an all-out effort to win the sixteenth annual all-star game at Ebbets Field Tuesday.

Never has the victory-starved Frick been so determined to hang one on the chin of his rival league head, Will Harridge of the Americans.

For the first time since the classic originated in 1933, Frick played an active role in shaping the lineup of the team. He still hasn't gotten over last year's humiliating defeat, a 5-2 pasting by a bunch of "crippled" American League players.

It has been learned Frick recently sat down with Billy Southworth, National All-Star skipper, and after studying the probable American League lineup helped Billy select the eight pitchers to represent the National.

Southworth announced that either Lefty Warren Spahn (9-8) of his own Boston Braves or Right-hander George (Red) Mungler (6-4) of the St. Louis Cardinals would be his starting choice.

Ted Williams Injured
Manager Lou Boudreau of the American League has nominated Mel Parnell, who has won 11 and lost five for the Boston Red Sox.

Boudreau got some bad news Monday night when the doctors reported that Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox had a fractured rib. Williams said he would be on hand Tuesday but didn't know if he would play.

Even if Williams doesn't play, Parnell has a powerful batting cast behind him, led by Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. The elder DiMags replaced the injured Tommy Henrich, another Yankee, in the starting lineup.

Here are the starting lineups and current averages:

AMERICAN
D. DiMaggio, Boston (.339) rf

EL CAMPO YOUTH DIES OF POLIO IN HOUSTON
HOUSTON—(P)—One polio death was recorded here Monday and five new cases were admitted to hospitals.

Iben Schneider, 14, son of an El Campo grocer, died of bubbar-type polio.
Lamesa edged Amarillo 7-6.

Maxwell Qualifies In Junior Tourney

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—Match play in the 23rd annual state junior golf tournament opened here Tuesday at the Brackensridge Park golf course.

San Antonio's Joe Conrad fired a five-under-par 36-30-66 Monday to win the medal. Wesley Ellis, Jr., San Antonio, was second with a 67. The only other player under par was Gil Kuykendall, Austin, with 69. It took a 75 to qualify for the championship flight.

The only former champion in the field, Billy Maxwell, Odessa, qualified with even par 71.

Other scores included:
Dan Barry Winters, Abilene, 72; Dilmus James, Abilene, 73; and Sammy Reynolds, Wichita Falls, 74.

Longhorn All-Star Arbiters Announced

ABILENE—(P)—Umpires for the Longhorn League's all-star game at San Angelo July 18 have been announced.

Milton Eilers will work behind the plate, A. B. Sykes at first base, Jack Dorothy at second and Eddie Hammond at third.

+Rankin News+

RANKIN—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marshall, who with their two children have been visiting Mrs. Marshall's mother in Ogden, Utah, have returned to Rankin for a few days.

The Marshalls left their children in Ogden and after attending to business matters here will return to Ogden for an indefinite stay.

J. H. Forrester of Westbrook, Texas, was a Rankin business visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Walcher of Houston visited in the home of their son, Jack Walcher, and family last week.

Mrs. Jake Cockrum and daughter, Mary Alice, are visiting in the E. D. Yates home this week.

Recent guests in the E. D. Yates home were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kenne and son, Gus, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon King and son, Gordon, Jr., of Corpus Christi. Mrs. Kenne and Mrs. King are nieces of the Yates. The group was on its way to the Pacific Coast on vacation. They plan to visit friends in Seattle and to visit other coastal points before returning home.

Stanley Kozlmar, who was bitten by a copperhead snake while fishing on Independence Creek recently, was taken to San Angelo for further treatment Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brown, who have been working for the Trinity Drilling Company and living in Rankin, moved to Ozona Monday.

Dunn Lowery made a business trip to Dallas last weekend.

Mrs. George Stephenson will be on vacation the next two weeks. Persons wishing to use the Rankin Park Building may contact Mrs. Tom Workman.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brasher left Sunday on a two weeks vacation trip to Florida.

Old Folks

Orle Arntzen has won 15 straight games, or all he pitched, for Albany of the Eastern League this season. Records show the Cedar Rapids right-hander to be 40.

Sugar Ray Still King Of Welters

PHILADELPHIA — (P)—Ray Robinson still is king of the welterweights but he would give up the crown readily for a shot at Jake LaMotta's middleweight title.

"If there ever was any doubt whether Sugar Ray is the best of the welters, he erased that impression Monday night with a clean cut, unanimous decision over Cuba's hustling Kid Gavilan."

Robinson announced he was perfectly willing to continue fighting in the 147-pound division.

"But I would gladly give up my title for a chance at the middleweight championship. I want to fight LaMotta again," he said.

Beats Jake Four Times
He whipped LaMotta four out of five times before Jake won the 160-pound title.

Judge Harry Lasky and Referee Charley Daggert each gave the champion nine rounds and Gavilan six. Judge Frank Knareborough scored the fight 12 for Robinson and three for the challenger.

"I do not understand how the officials gave so many rounds to Robinson," said the Cuban. "I thought I won eight rounds."

The fight drew a gross gate of $175,754—considerably more than the promoters' expectations—with Robinson collecting 40 per cent and Gavilan 18 1/2 per cent or a net of $128,435.

The Harlem flash, with only the defeat by LaMotta to mar a string of 39 fights since turning pro in 1940, punched sharply and met Gavilan's two-fisted rushing tactics with a beautiful defense.

Robinson weighed 147; Gavilan 144 1/2.

The youngest U. S. amateur golf champion was Bob Gardner who was 19 when he won the first of his two titles in 1909.

Longhorn League—Broncs, Rockets, Cats, Colts Notch Loop Play Victories

By The Associated Press
The league-leading Big Spring Broncs have climbed another full game on the two deadlocked second-place clubs in the Longhorn League and now sport an eleven-and-a-half-game lead over Vernon and Midland.

Big Spring, behind the two-hit hurling of Julio Ramos, whitewashed the Sweetwater Swatters 3-0 Monday night.

The Roswell Rockets downed Vernon 6-4.

The Ballinger Cats downed Midland 13-5.

Ted Tiernan hurled four-hit ball to give San Angelo a 10-3 victory over Odessa.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JULY 12, 1949-9

TEXAS LEAGUE—

Injuries Hit All-Stars, Cats On Eve Of Big Tilt

FORT WORTH—(P)—The floundering Fort Worth Cats play host to an injury-riddled all-star team Tuesday night in the Texas League's ninth mid-season classic.

Two and possibly three of the all-stars, individual players voted best at their positions, may not see action. And Fort Worth, which won the right to act as host and foe for the second straight year, Monday night ran its losing streak to six games. Tulsa stretched the string of losses 3-2.

Texas Girl Cagers Bow To Mexican Team

MEXICO CITY—(P)—The Mesquite, Texas, girls' basketball team lost its first game of an international tournament Monday night, bowing to the Politas team of Mexico City 31 to 24.

The Politas put up a strong defense and the Mesquite girls, who arrived in Mexico City shortly before game time, couldn't seem to get going until the final period. Then their rally came too late.

Mesquite is not due to play Tuesday in the tournament, which pits Mexican teams against those from Cuba, Panama, Guatemala and the U. S.

feats, Monday night went on the disabled list. He has a collar bone separation, suffered during a game Sunday.

Oklahoma City Catcher Ray Murray, another all-star, suffered a split finger Sunday. And Dave Jolly, Tulsa pitcher, has a sore arm which may keep him out of action.

Dallas missed a chance to pick up on the league-leading Cats by dropping a 7-2 decision to Oklahoma City. The Eagles still are two games back.

Shreveport nudged Beaumont 3-2, and Houston blanked San Antonio 4-0 in other games.

Al Vincent, manager of the Tulsa Oilers and boss of the all-stars for the second straight year, made no changes in his plans to use San Antonio's Tommy Fine as his first pitcher.

Fort Worth's Bobby Bragan still planned to start Eddie Chandler on the mound.

A crowd of a little more than 8,000 is expected to cram into La Grave Field for the game. Fire May 15 destroyed most of the club's grandstand.

SPORTSLANTS

BY SHORTY SHELBURNE

With the scheduled start of pre-season football workouts just a month away, Coach Tugboat Jones is making all preparations to be off with a bang when the time comes.

Tugboat has announced the Bulldogs definitely will train at home this year. He has a number of sound and good reasons why a football camp away from home is not possible.

Coach Jones made every effort to find suitable living quarters and fine facilities at Alpine for a two-week camp but an agreeable place to feed the boys could not be found. The lady who fed the team "family style" meals last year said she definitely could not take care of them this year.

It's common knowledge among football followers that a team can not be given the proper training on a diet commonly given out at a cafe or hotel. The food at the restaurants probably is good in most cases, but high school football players require a certain diet when in training.

So, the Midland Bulldogs will go to work August 15 at the Memorial Stadium practice field. Training at home has good points enough to far outweigh a training camp away from home.

Here, every team can be started out at the same time. If they had gone to camp, only about 30 boys would have received the full benefit of the full training schedule.

Every boy can sleep in his own bed at home. He will eat two meals at home each day. The coaches will be in constant contact with every candidate from the A through the C string.

The boys will be served a noon meal each day at the cafeteria. It will be a specially-prepared menu in keeping with the best training diet.

Two workouts will be held each day. The first will start at 8:45 a. m. and last about two hours. The other will start at 4 p. m. and run about the same length of time.

Tugboat Jones and his assistants coaches aren't fooling about this football proposition. The coaches will start working out a full week ahead of the team, getting themselves in shape so they can set the proper training example for the boys.

All coaches, Jones, Red Rutledge, Garvin Beauchamp, Joe Atkins, and Audrey Gill will attend the Texas Coaching School in Beaumont August 1 through 5. They will return home August 6 and start their own training sessions.

Every coach will know just exactly what he is to do before the team workouts ever start. They will follow a time table each day. Everything will be run on a strict daily schedule.

Tugboat Jones will be entering his first season here. Already he has gained a great backing among football fans. Everyone knows by now he will be out there giving everything he has and his boys will do the same.

Tuesday Jones said, "I'll expect every boy who has the desire to play football to be in good physical condition when he reports to me August 15. It is the responsibility of each player to get himself in shape. If he has the real spirit and desire to make a great football player, each boy will be in good shape when training starts."

Tugboat expressed regret at the possible disappointment among the players in not getting to go to an outside camp for training. He did the best he could and it just couldn't be this year.

He also expressed the belief the boys are possessed of the proper spirit and attitude to forget such a trivial matter and work just as hard here at home. Jones is behind his boys 100 per cent and the boys are for him. That's what makes a winner.

The two class men Harold Webb has signed for the Midland Indians undoubtedly will be the biggest shot in the arm the team has had this season.

Claude Horton is no stranger to Indian Park. He hurried for the Sweetwater Swatters last season and had one of the most impressive records in the league.

Horton started 11 games and finished 10 of them. He won eight and lost two, compiling an earned run average of 2.41. In the 10 complete games he pitched, Horton struck out 84 batters or if you wish to break it down, he whiffed 84 men in 86 innings on the mound. He issued only 13 bases on balls all season.

A pitcher like that can do nothing but help.

Wyman Hunicutt, a veteran infielder-outfielder, had one of the best records in minor league baseball for the 1947 season. He was with El Dorado in the Cotton States League.

Hunicutt batted .335 for fifth place in the league. He hit 32 doubles, five triples and 18 home runs. He batted in 104 runs.

He played 110 games at second base and fielded .916 for the season.

He can help the Indians in more ways than one.

We're glad to have both Horton and Hunicutt.

Unemployment Is Not Alarming, Says Fund Report

NEW YORK—(P)—Unemployment figures, like everything else, are reflecting the return to a normal buyers' market.

But unemployment, while on the increase, still is only slightly above average when viewed in the perspective of the last hundred years.

That conclusion is based on a study by the Twentieth Century Fund, which found that five per cent of the labor force under normal conditions is looking for work at any given time.

Standard of Texas knocked off league leading Western Plastic 5 to 3 in a Midland Softball League game at Wadley field Monday night. Clayton Henderson was tabbed with the loss.

Rotary Engineers smothered The Reporter-Telegram 13 to 1 behind the brilliant pitching of W. C. Hammit.

Black Indians Play Odessa Oilers Here

The Midland Black Indians and the Odessa Black Oilers are scheduled to play a baseball game at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday in Indian Park. Harry Dooley will pitch for Midland.

Wolves apparently mate for life, and the father aids in rearing the family.

Ballinger Cats Bop Midland 13 To 5

The Midland Indians and the Ballinger Cats tangle again in Ballinger Tuesday night in the final game of their two-game series. Glenn Patton is the probable starter for Midland.

Harold Webb's crew moves to Sweetwater for three games, starting Wednesday night. They return home for two with San Angelo Saturday and Sunday.

BALLINGER—The Ballinger Cats piled up a big advantage in the early innings here Monday night and kept adding all the way to take a smashing 13 to 5 decision from the Midland Indians. Buck Austin, Midland's starter, was driven from the hill in the big second inning. Rookie Forrest Martin finished the game.

Midland scored one run in the first to take the lead for the only time during the game. Ballinger counted two in the first and five in the second.

The Indians' biggest rally netted them only two runs in the fourth frame.

Nelson in Outfield
Julian Pressley, Lou Dawson and Ernie Nelson led the Midland hitters with two bingles each. Nelson filled in at the rightfield position.

Bases on balls were plentiful and cost the Indians several runs.

The Indians, although they lost, still are tied with Vernon for second place in the standings.

Alarm Swarm Warmly Warned

BEDMINISTER, N. J.—(P)—This tiny community gets a big kick out of following the fire engines. Chief Christian told the puzzled thrill-seekers it was all a false alarm to get them together.

He warned them they'd better not follow the engines again at less than 200 feet, unless they wanted a summons.

The sirens sounded and the fire engines roared. As usual, residents piled into their cars and chased after them to see the excitement.

When they got to the outskirts of town the fire engines stopped. Chief Christian told the puzzled thrill-seekers it was all a false alarm to get them together.

Male Cheesecake Is Newest In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Here's the newest thing under the Hollywood sun—male cheesecake.

Ever since Mack Sennett's bathing girls, Hollywood cheesecake has sold like—well, cheesecake. Now it is getting another gender, reports Robert Ryan.

The actor discovered this after starring as the punchy prizefighter in "The Set-Up." It was his first postwar film in which he showed his naked chest. Since then a vast amount of his fan mail asks for his photo, specifying he should be as undraped as possible.

And when he tours the country, photographers have been asking him to do a Gypsy Rose Lee before the shutters click. All this amazes big Bob.

"Heck, I'm no Tarzan," he says, adding with a canny eye to business, "but if that's what they want, I'll give it to 'em."

Ryan hinted the male cheesecake trend might come from a belief male stars wear falsies, too. "I think the public has an idea we're blown up with air," he said. "Actually, film actors have better builds than the average American."

Legs—Errol Flynn.
Ryan mentioned others with good all-around shapes; Bill Williams, Vic Mature, Donald O'Connor, Guy Madison, and in the small, handy size, Mickey Rooney.

Ryan recalled the controversy a decade ago over whether Robert Taylor had hair on his chest. "That's no test of ruggedness," said Ryan, who has a fair-sized stubble on his chest. "The greatest specimen of a man I ever saw was Max Baer in his fighting prime. And his chest was hairless."

But some film stars take no chances. There still is a market here for chest toupees.

Could Be Much Hotter, Say 142 Degrees Or So

LANCASTER, PA. —(P)—Hot? Think nothing of it. After all, you could have been hotter. You could have been in Albert Reitz's greenhouse.

Reitz was mopping his brow, looking at the thermometer that registered 101 degrees when suddenly, wham!

A terrific blast shook the greenhouse and 30 panes of glass were blown from the building.

Reitz made his way carefully through the glass and entered the greenhouse to find an unbroken thermometer registering 142 degrees.

Apparently, Reitz said, sunlight beating through the glass kept expanding the air inside until the glass was shattered.

Crippled Ex-GI Happy Hoeing His Own Row

Tough Sledding: Ray Burd, in his mule-drawn sled, chops cotton on the Jarrett farm near Memphis. Fellow chopper is Ora Bell Jarrett, who is helping the crippled veteran adapt himself to farm life.

MEMPHIS —(NEA)—Ray Burd was a telephone lineman before he lost the use of his legs when a German building blew up around him. Now he rides a sled behind a mule, his legs tied to the sled with the reins, weeding his own potato patch and chopping cotton.

The new life he found in farming delights him. He's sun-tanned and his arms, from increased usage manipulating his wheel chair, are powerful. Building them up even further, to take the place of his legs, has become his main project.

"I have to report to the hospital every three days," he says. "I wish I could show my buddies in the paraplegic ward that there is plenty of good things they can do."

Country roads are tough to tackle with his wheel chair. But he works his way along the ruts and up and down hill—even across pastures to the fish pond, tugging at the wheel chair wheels with his muscular arms.

Weight Problem
Another new problem he faces is that of his weight. His body doesn't get complete exercise, and many persons confined to wheel chairs become fat. Burd now weighs 180 and wants to keep himself at that figure.

Burd is living on the farm of M. J. Jarrett, Ora Bell, the Jarrett's oldest daughter, is helping him adapt himself to farm life. She pushes his chair when he doesn't have time to make the trip under his own slower power.

The veteran is welcome in the Jarrett's home; they marvel at his spirit and the way he works out new ways to make himself useful around the farm.

When he decided he was going to plant half an acre of sweet potatoes, Jarrett was at first doubtful. But he encouraged Burd, loaned him a mule and helped him build the sled. The next thing the Jarretts knew, the potatoes were all planted.

To weed the potatoes, Burd cut about two feet off a hoe handle. To plow them, he traded a chopping cotton assignment with Jarrett, who did the plowing in exchange.

Likes Country
"I just like it out in the country," Burd says. "I was a telephone lineman for years before I went to war. I was a lineman in the Army, too. I have the sentimentality for a desk job, but I wouldn't like that."

"I really think it is easier for a man like myself to adapt himself to a different kind of life out in the country than it would be in the city. For one thing, you don't have to worry about your appearance."

Burd was born and reared in Boise, Idaho. In service he went through Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany—then, when he was within 50 miles of Berlin, the hotel he was in exploded.

"I'm thinking I'll build a home where the potato patch is. I am supposed to get a car free, but I think it will be either a tractor or a truck."

The St. Joe River in Idaho is the highest navigable river in the world.

Grady The Cow May Become Bovine Cinderella Princess

By JOHN RANDOLPH

YUKON, OKLA. —(P)—Remember Grady the Cow?

How in a moment of fright she jumped through the tiny door in Bill Mach's silo here last February, and couldn't get out?

And how she was freed five days later with a generous helping of elbow and axle grease, while all North America held its breath?

It's time to bring Grady's story up to date.

First of all she was ghastly sick after her rough and ready exit through that 17 by 25 1/2 inch door. Her neck was injured and she could hardly eat. It was really touch and go for a while.

But lately she's been feeling fine and eats like a cow, if not like a horse.

Fame Conquers All
Right now Mach and a wealthy cattle breeder, H. H. Wegener are plotting a romance between Grady and a blue-ribbon boy friend—a $5,000 prize bull named Hi-Tone the 32nd.

Ordinarily such a match would be far beyond Grady's dreams, for her family can't compare to great Hereford aristocrats like the Hi-Tones.

But fame conquers all, and it looks like Grady is going to be a Cinderella princess, sure enough.

"We're leaving it strictly up to her," says Mach. "Hi-Tone the 32nd is ready any time."

But even without romance Grady's life is far from dull. She gets two or three letters and nearly a dozen visitors every week.

Most of the callers are tourists crossing the country on US 66—the "Main Street of America."

Western Hospitality
"I'm glad to have them come," says Mach. "It just keeps me as-

Midland Teacher Is Attending Workshop At East Texas State

COMMERCE—Mrs. Rachel Drake of the Midland public schools is attending the Workshop for Recreational and Educational Activities for Exceptional Children at East Texas State College here.

Students in one of the classes carve horses from bars of soap, model heads of Lincoln out of a mixture of sawdust and glue and make handbags out of old automobile tubes.

Dr. Myrtice Pledger, professor of special education, says the object of the workshop is to train students to use inexpensive or waste materials in teaching crafts, games and music to handicapped children in their respective schools. These students will take their ideas and materials to their school rooms to make school life as nearly normal as possible for handicapped children.

FCC Announces Plan To Quadruple Nation's Television Channels

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Bigger and better television is on the way—but the projected expansion may take as much as two years getting into full swing.

The Federal Communications Commission late Monday issued long-awaited proposals for quadrupling video operations to bring visual broadcasting to all parts of the nation.

Forty-two new television sending channels, in addition to the dozen already in use, are contemplated.

FCC officials said the proposed multiplying of channels would make possible about 2,245 broadcasting stations in 1,400 cities and towns. They said only 543 stations in 221 locations can be squeezed on present channels.

Gen. B. K. Yount Dies Near Phoenix

PHOENIX—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Barton K. Yount, retired, president of the American Institute for Foreign Trade, died Monday at Oak Creek Lodge, north of here.

General Yount, wartime commanding general of the U. S. Army Air Forces Training Command, was on vacation. He was 66.

General Yount and his wife entertained a small group, including actor Jimmy Stewart, at a dinner Sunday night. Mrs. Yount told Frank L. Snell, Phoenix lawyer, that her husband had not complained of feeling ill prior to midnight. He called her then and died shortly afterwards.

Founder of the institute, General Yount had lived in Phoenix since retiring from the Army in 1946.

Survivors include his wife and a son, Barton K. Yount, Jr. General Yount graduated from West Point in 1907. He was assistant chief of the Army Air Corps from 1938 to 1940. In 1941 he commanded the 3rd Air Force and from 1942-1946 was head of the training command.

General Yount retired from the Air Force June 30, 1946.

New York Veteran Finds Novel Method To Make Ends Meet

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Rainy day roundup:

An unknown hero of our times is Ray Emmert of Zanesville, Ohio. This 40-year-old ex-soldier solved his personal unemployment problem by having himself buried alive in a coffin six feet underground.

For weeks thousands of curious people thronged to his temporary grave and dropped coins into a contribution box for the privilege of staring down through a 10-inch observation tunnel at Emmert's placid countenance.

After 45 days Emmert emerged, collected his financial tribute, and claimed a new "buried alive" record. His chief complaint was that he got "tired of looking at nothing but faces."

The whole experience typifies the desire of 20th century man to escape from oppressive reality. And it may set a pattern for the man of the future.

No Good Reason

There is no reason why every man shouldn't, from time to time, follow Emmert's example. All he needs to "get away from it all" is a shovel, a cheap pine coffin—and a friend to cover him up.

The milk man could lower him a fresh bottle of milk every morning, and the delivery boy from the delicatessen could drop him a ham sandwich or a hard-boiled egg once or twice a day. It would be a wonderful way to spend a restful vacation—right in your own back yard. And you wouldn't have to go through that annual argument with your wife over whether to go to the mountains or the seashore.

What could be better? No worrisome sunburn, no vexing mosquitoes, no hotel bills, no sore muscles.

This relaxing fad of being buried alive might well sweep the country, except for one thing:

Every man has an uneasy feeling that, once he was six feet underground, his relatives and friends might decide he wasn't worth the trouble of digging up.

What can a man believe anymore?

The corset industry says American women buy 3,500,000 "falsies" a year.

And, as if that weren't bad enough, Manhattan butcher shops are now using rubber parsley in their display cases.

A friend of mine was worried because his child was slow to learn to talk.

Then, one morning at breakfast, the child looked up and said gravely:

"This is now."

The papa is convinced now he's got a genius.

GOP Leaders Will Demand Spy Hunters Re-Open Hiss Probe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two Republicans announced Tuesday they will demand that the House Un-American Activities Committee reopen its Alger Hiss hearings.

There were signs, however, that the request would hit a solid wall of Democratic opposition, starting with Chairman Wood of Georgia.

Wood called the committee together to hear Elizabeth Sessuly, Washington representative of the Food and Tobacco Workers Union (CIO). She was to be questioned in connection with the committee's investigation of Communist activities in the District of Columbia.

Reps. Nixon (R-Calif.) and Velde (R-Ill.), committee members, said they will ask that the committee summon witnesses who were not heard during the Hiss perjury trial in New York.

The witnesses, they told reporters, include Mrs. Hede Gumpertz Masling, former wife of Communist Gerhart Eisler, and others mentioned to the committee by Whittaker Chambers, a one-time Communist espionage courier. Chambers accused Hiss before the committee of having passed government secrets to him for delivery to Soviet agents while Hiss was a State Department official in the 1930s. Hiss has denied it.

Wood said he would oppose calling any witnesses who are under subpoena for the Hiss trial or likely to be brought in when the case is tried again.

Storm Of Protests
The first trial ended in a deadlocked jury last week when the jurors could not agree on whether Hiss had committed perjury during a grand jury investigation which followed the House committee's hearing a year ago.

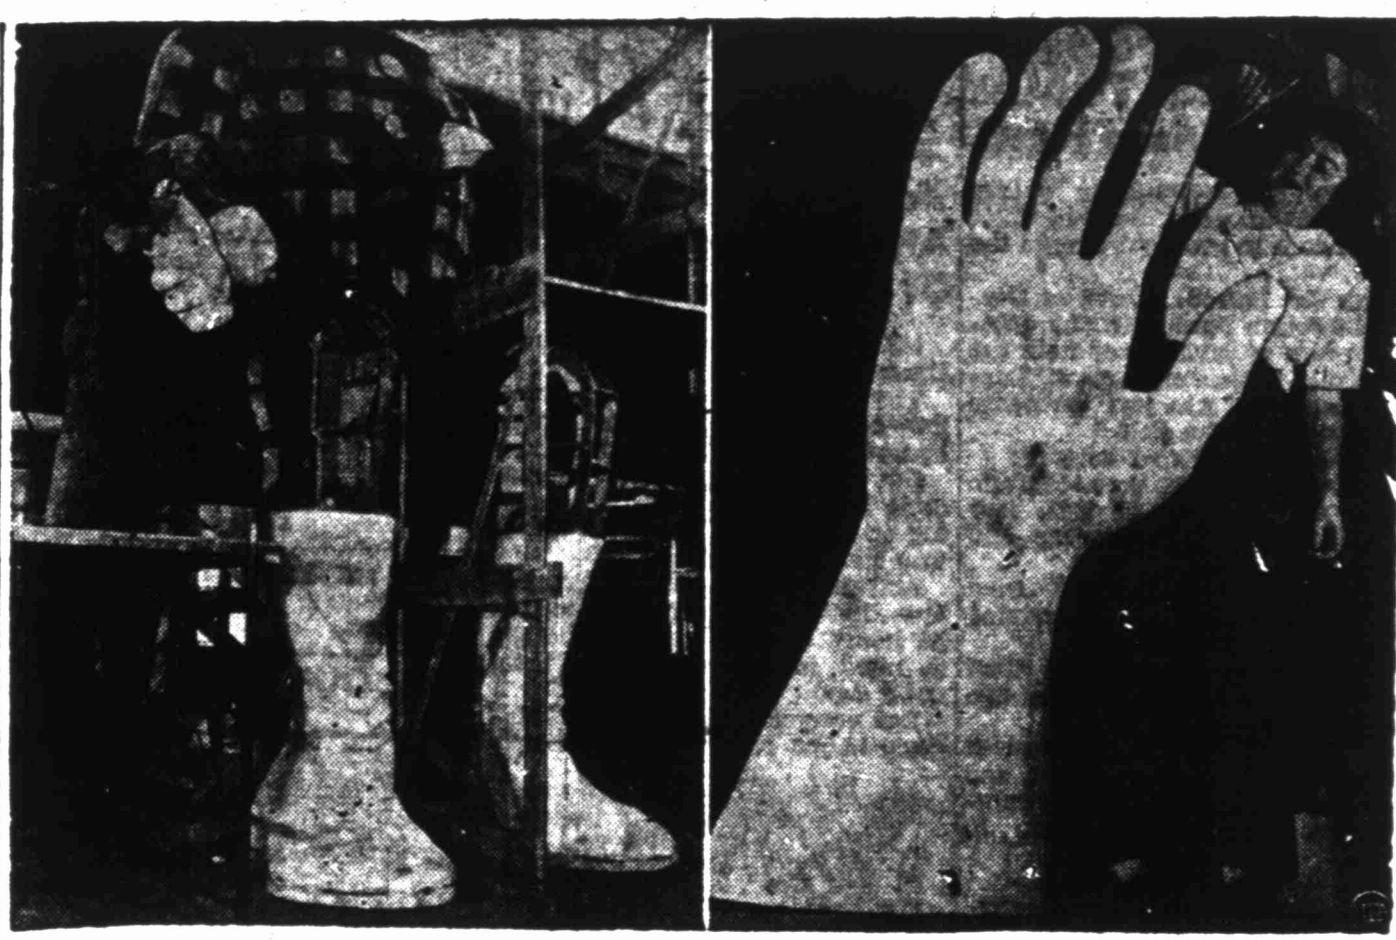

A suggestion over the week-end by Nixon and Velde that Congress investigate the conduct of the perjury trial by Federal Judge Samuel Kaufman brought a storm of protests on the House floor Monday. Wood called it "just a political move" and said the judge's actions are none of the committee's business.

Nixon and Velde issued a joint statement saying they had not questioned Judge Kaufman's loyalty or patriotism. However, they added, his conduct on the bench "is an eminently proper question" for Congress to consider.

Nixon said he and Velde had not decided whether to push their request for the investigation.

Big Paul Bunyan Goes To Town

Getting Paul Bunyan decked out for this year's Chicago Railroad Fair takes a heap of work and material. The 35-foot latex replica of the legendary character, being constructed in Pittsburgh, Pa., gets outfitted, left above, with buttons the size of pie plates. It took 12 blankets to make a shirt for the whopping figure of the North Woods woodchopper. Some idea of the size of the hand is shown at right above, as a girl worker puts the finishing touches on Paul's "manicure." He'll be equipped with a pair of blue eyes, right. When synchronized, they will move in a life-like manner.

Mourning Texans

on missions for Texas over the nation and in the state.
The first of two funeral services was scheduled to be held in the Senate Chamber at 2:30 p. m. Then the body will be flown in a private plane to Corsicana, Jester's home town, where funeral and burial rites will be held Wednesday.
Jester's body was taken to the governor's mansion across 11th Street from the Capitol soon after it arrived from Houston Monday night. The family and many close friends gathered there. The group included his mother, 87-year-old Mrs. George T. Jester of Corsicana, who came 180 miles by car in record-breaking heat.
The governor's widow, Mabel Buchanan Jester, and two of the children, Joan, 20, and Beauford, Jr., 10, were secluded upstairs. Barbara, 24, (Mrs. Howard Burris of New York), will fly to Corsicana. Shivers was among the callers.
Hundreds of telegrams and telephone calls expressing sorrow poured in. They came from old friends, from dozens of governors who had known Jester in his personal fight for states' rights and for state ownership of the Tidelands. Truman Wirci Sympathy
President Truman's telegram said he was "shocked and saddened. x x x I offer this assurance of heartfelt sympathy."
There were telegrams from U. S. Attorney Tom C. Clark, a personal friend on the opposite side of the political fight on the Tidelands; National Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath; Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson; former Governor and Mrs. W. Lee O'Daniel; former Governor and Mrs. W. P. Hobby of Houston; former Governor Pat M. Neff of Waco; Mrs. Ross Sterling, widow of the former governor.
Then there were messages from Governors Pittman of Nevada, Carey of Arizona, Wright of Mississippi, Tuck of Virginia, Patterson of West Virginia, Robins of Idaho, Payne of Maine, Bowles of Connecticut, McMurry of Arkansas, Tamm of Tennessee, Carlson of Kansas, Talmadge of Georgia, Smith

ARE YOU ON A DEAD END STREET?
Some people travel this road all through their lives and often undermine, rather than build their health. They become chronic complainers. Everything seems to upset them and they become irritable, naggy and fretful. Their life is miserable because they have failed to obtain relief from the pain in their body.
PAIN is the cry of an injured nerve, therefore it will be to your advantage to investigate the science that will correct the cause of your pain now!

American Victims Named
The KLM office in New Delhi supplied the following names as the American victims:
Charles Grakke, The Christian Science Monitor.
Vincent Mahoney, The San Francisco Chronicle.
James Branyan, The Houston Post.
Nat A. Barrows, The Chicago Daily News.
H. R. Knickerbocker, Radio Station WOR, New York.
John Werley, Time Magazine.
Miss Elsie Dick, Mutual Broadcasting System.
Tom Falco, Business Week.
S. Burton Heath, Newspaper Enterprise Association.
George Moorad, Portland Oregonian and Radio Station KGW.
Fred Colvig, The Denver Post.
William H. Newton, Scripps Howard Newspaper Alliance.
Bertram D. Hulen, The New York Times.
Lyn Mahan, of the Swanson Public Relations Company, New York. This company represented the Netherlands government in sponsoring the tour for American reporters.
Two Americans originally in the party—Mrs. Dorothy Brandon of The New York Herald Tribune and William V. Mathews, Tucson, Ariz., publisher, had decided not to return aboard the ill-fated Constellation.
Hundreds of peasants working in rice fields and a hydraulic engineer of the Bombay Municipal Water Works witnessed the crash. Visibility was poor when the airport lost touch with the plane.
The engineer said the bodies of the passengers and crew members were strewn on the hillside. The bodies were burned, making identification difficult. One woman passenger still was alive when the first rescuer reached the spot but died within a few minutes, the engineer said.
KLM officials in New Delhi pointed out that its pilots were wholly unfamiliar with the Bombay airport area which the line never had served.

London Dock Strike Spreads As Soldiers Unload Food Cargoes

LONDON —(P)— Defiant dockers by the hundreds joined a wildcat walkout Tuesday as the British government seized the strike-crippled port of London.
The cabinet assumed virtual wartime powers to break up the stoppage officially blamed on Communist agitation.
The Army and Navy sent 2,380 soldiers, sailors and marines to the wharves to unload food.
But the strikers, who numbered 10,222 Monday were joined by another 2,728 men Tuesday. Fewer than 13,000 of the 25,000 who make up the London dock labor force reported for work.
The National Dock Labor Board said 127 ships were idle and eight unladen.
Near Martial Law
Mounted policemen were ordered into the water front area to enforce a state of near martial law.
Strikers showed resentment as the government took over dockland under the Emergency Act of 1920. Many who had stayed on the job ever since the unofficial strike began June 27 walked off after a series of meetings at the various dock gates Tuesday morning.
Meanwhile the cabinet picked an emergency committee to run the docks for the government while the state of emergency, proclaimed Monday, continues.

Tidelands Conference Slated Late Tuesday

WASHINGTON —(P)— Officials of the big oil tideland states meet late Tuesday with House Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) to give him their reaction to the latest proposal for settling the federal-state submerged lands ownership dispute.
Representatives of Texas, California and Louisiana Monday got from Rayburn his ideas on legislation to end the controversy.
Rayburn declined to disclose the points in his recommended legislation, but said he hoped the proposal would be the basis for an agreement. He plans to submit it to U. S. Attorney General Clark and Interior Secretary Krug after hearing the views of the states.
The speaker said the recommendations could not be described as a compromise, but rather a proposal to be used as a basis for settling the dispute with the federal government over ownership of the submerged coastal lands.
"I'd like to see the states get something out of this," the Texan continued. "I'm fearful our state may be hit like California and get nothing."

Woman Reporter Quit Plane In Fear Of Sabotage

MANILA —(P)—William R. Mathews, Tucson, Ariz., publisher, said Tuesday Miss Dorothy Brandon of The New York Herald Tribune had refused to return aboard the ill-fated KLM plane that crashed near Bombay for fear it would be sabotaged.
Mathews, who arrived here aboard a Pan American plane from Bangkok, Siam, quoted Miss Brandon as saying the plane would be "sabotaged as sure as your life."
"So far no evidence that the plane was sabotaged has been uncovered. The Arizona said Miss Brandon expressed fear because most of the passengers aboard the plane had been impressed by the Dutch side of the Indonesian question.
The group originally went to Southeast Asia as guests of the Netherlands government to study the Indonesian conflict.

Controversy Greets CIO-Proposed Wage Hikes, Tax Slashes

WASHINGTON —(P)— Controversy grew fast Tuesday over a CIO-sponsored economic report which called upon the nation to fight off a possible depression by means of wage raises, tax reductions and public works.
The CIO hired Robert R. Nathan, a consulting economist, to analyze the national situation. His findings were issued here Monday at a big gathering of reporters, cabinet members, senators and others.
Monday's report advocated wage raises—of different sizes to fit the industry—in all except "severely depressed" industries and companies. It said many industries can afford to raise wages and cut prices at the same time.
That pleased labor unions but ran in the teeth of the contentions of those industrialists who say higher wages would force prices up and be bad for the economy.
Nathan argued that "higher wages—greater purchasing power—is exactly what business and the country need in order to reverse the trend of decreasing employment and production."
President Truman in an economic report to Congress Monday, had urged against wage-cutting, but had made no specific call for big wage raises.
Many businessmen liked the President's report better.
Emerson P. Schmidt, economic research director for the United States Chamber of Commerce, told reporters: "The President's report has a sound tone. The Nathan report is anti-social in that it will encourage the pricing of labor out of the labor market."
It included a "positive program" for the government to use in combating unemployment and preserv-

RECKLESS DRIVING FINE
Justice of the Peace Joseph A. Seymour Tuesday fined a Latin-American youth $20 and costs on the defendant's plea of guilty to reckless driving charges.

Too bad... but you're going to... whether you want to or not!

Ever stop to think what could happen to your right of free choice if the Government owned... and ran America? You can bet you wouldn't decide where you would live... the Government would!

Haven't you, lately, heard your husband... or your employer... or your neighbor... talking about some restriction the Government has placed on his business? That he can't do this... can't do that? Probably you've given it a passing thought and shrugged it off as something that didn't concern you.

BUT IT DOES CONCERN YOU... VITALLY! Government control of private business is, and should be, the greatest concern of every American today... because it is the symptom of a hidden disease that is spreading throughout America. It is a disease that is eating at the very foundation of our American system of free enterprise—free choice. It is a disease that, if not cured, will destroy the individual rights and liberty that we now enjoy.

Government ownership of private business leads directly to Government ownership of America... Government ownership of you. It means, in its fullest sense, that you will do what the Government tells you to—not what you want to do. Where you live, where you work, the food you buy, the car you drive—all will be decided by the Government—not by you.

Every American who believes that the right of free choice is one of his most priceless possessions should think, talk and act now to stem the trend toward Government ownership of private business. FREEDOM NEEDS A SOAP BOX, TOO!

Jester's Body Removed From Train

(NEA Telephoto)
 Hospital workers remove the body of Gov. Beauford Jester from train after he was found dead in his Pullman berth by a porter in a train station at Houston. Jester, enroute from Austin to Galveston for a physical checkup, died quietly in his berth.

Body Of Governor Returned To Mansion Without Ceremony

AUSTIN—(P)—There wasn't any ceremony when they brought Gov. Beauford H. Jester's body home to the governor's mansion Monday night.
 But it was a touching, impressive homecoming, just 13 hours after the governor's body was found in a Pullman car at Houston.
 Jester's body was brought to Austin by plane and was taken to the Wood-Corley Funeral Home. At 8:30 p.m. the body was brought back to the century-old executive mansion.
 Perhaps three dozen close friends and co-workers were waiting. The big gold room downstairs was decorated with sprays of flowers.
 The Jester family was in seclusion upstairs.
 Men began drifting out to the front porch of the mansion, and down the front walk. Then the hearse came, preceded by a car of State Highway Patrolmen.
Friends Weep In Silence
 The patrolmen got out of their car and formed a half circle at the rear of the hearse. They made no attempt to stop traffic on the street. The door of the hearse was opened and a dozen of the friends who had been waiting, and the highway patrolmen—lifted the simple grey metal casket from the hearse. The casket was draped with an American flag.
 The men carried the casket up the concrete steps to the walk in the front yard of the mansion. Then they placed it on rollers.
 No word was spoken as the casket was opened in the gold room.
 And silence remained in the room as the friends filed past the casket, and down the front walk. The governor was dressed in a dark suit.
 And on his tie was the star of Texas.

Jimmy Hayes Named McCamey CC Head

McCAMEY—J. W. C. (Jimmy) Hayes has been elected president of the McCamey Chamber of Commerce for 1949-50, succeeding Mayor C. W. Brown, first president of the civic organization.
 Other new officers are O. O. Jacobsen and J. A. Rutherford, vice presidents, and A. L. Cullens, treasurer. Fletcher Stapp is manager.
 The by-laws of the organization were revised to allow for eleven instead of nine directors. The new directors include E. P. Halamick, T. A. Fauley, Horace Slaughter, Jack Ott, Charles Langdon, E. R. Whittemburg, Brown, C. C. Carl and Sid Hoffman.

Veterans' Insurance Dividend Checks To Start Out In January

WASHINGTON—(P)—Dividend checks from national service life insurance probably will start going out at the rate of 200,000 a day next January, the Veterans Administration said Tuesday.
 Carl R. Gray, Jr., veterans administrator, said the complicated preparation procedure makes payment this year impossible. Gray's letter replied to published charges that the dividend is being delayed until an election year for political reasons.
 The Veterans Administration is going to pay a $2,800,000,000 special dividend on about 20,000,000 policies held by 18,000,000 World War II veterans and servicemen. Individual payments will vary widely depending upon the type and size of policy and the length it has been in effect.

Crude Oil Output Slides Down Again

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—Daily average crude oil production during the week ended July 9 dropped 142,500 barrels over the previous week's output, The Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.
 The Journal set the week's daily average at 4,680,875 barrels. More than half the loss was traceable to a drop in Texas production—73,575 barrels to 1,805,000 barrels.
 Other major declines were in Kansas, down 32,200 barrels to 245,950; Oklahoma, 8,300 to 286,300; Louisiana, 15,425 to 474,050, and Mississippi, 8,450 to 91,950.
 New Mexico dropped 1,150 to 136,300.
 The American black bear once ranged from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Northern Alaska to Central Mexico.

Salesman Arrested For Nevada Slaying; Bond Set At $50,000

HOUSTON—(P)—A 29-year-old salesman, under indictment in the slaying of a wealthy real estate man at Lake Tahoe, Nev., is being held here under $50,000 bond.
 Mark James Donnelly, who was indicted on June 20 for murder by a Reno, Nev., grand jury in the June 17 slaying of Walter Hempel, 73, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Lake Tahoe.
 Hempel's body was found slumped in the front seat of his automobile on a road which circles the lake on the California-Nevada border.
 Willis said Donnelly was arrested here Monday and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner W. F. Carothers for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. Carothers set bond at $50,000 and Donnelly was placed in the city jail by Deputy U. S. Marshal Neal Matthews.

Basin, Ozark Pipe Line Systems Are Dedicated Tuesday

CUSHING, OKLA.—The Basin and Ozark Pipe Line Systems, together comprising the largest crude oil pipe line ever built by private capital in America, were dedicated here Tuesday.
 Walter S. Hallanan, chairman of the National Petroleum Council, was the principal speaker at the ceremonies officially opening the 1,000-mile project.
 The two lines, together stretching all the way from New Mexico to Illinois, are designed to provide additional economic transportation for crude oil from the rich Permian Basin of New Mexico and West Texas to the refinery centers of the Midwest. According to Hallanan, they represent another important step toward the efficient utilization of our natural resources.
 The two lines are the joint projects of four companies working without government subsidies of any kind.
 The Basin Pipe Line System from Jal. N. M., to Cushing, Okla., was built by The Texas Pipe Line Company and is owned by it, Shell Pipe Line Corporation, Sinclair Refining Company and Empire Pipeline Company. It has a designed capacity of 241,000 barrels of crude daily into Cushing.
 The Ozark Pipe Line System from Cushing to Wood River and Patoka, Ill., was built by Shell Pipe Line Corporation and is owned by it and The Texas Pipe Line Company. It will transport 186,000 barrels a day.
 Hallanan, the principal speaker, is president of the Plymouth Oil Company in addition to his position on the National Petroleum Council. During the war he was active on the Petroleum Industry War Council and the Petroleum Administration for War.
 His address was scheduled to follow a barbecue on the grounds of the Cushing pump station, junction point for the two lines, which was attended by prominent government and oil industry officials from all parts of the country, by representatives from the four principal companies, the press and local citizenry.
 After a dinner in Tulsa Tuesday night, certain of the guests will leave the following day for a tour of the Ozark System ending in St. Louis, July 14.
