Benedum Dual Well Potentials Silurian

Warren Wright and L. T. Lohman No. 1 C. W. Chancellor, southwest extension for both Fossilman and Ellenburger production in the Benedum field of East-Central Upton County, reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 624.44 barrels of 58-gravity oil from the Fossilman, from perforated section at 11,040-110 feet.

That zone had been treated with 1,500 gallons of acid. The 24-hour potential was calculated from an actual flow of 312.22 barrels of oil in 12 hours, through a three-eighth inch tubing choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 7,140-1. Flowing casing pressure was 2,675 pounds, and flowing tubing pressure was 2,250 pounds.

FAR EAST BLUNDER—

U. S. Gives Red Russia Its Chance In Indonesia

With the last Dutch soldier already gone from the Indonesian city of Wonosari, Lt. Cmdr. John W. Alexander of St. Cloud, Minn., a UN observer, signals down the road for Republican troops to enter. Despite Dutch withdrawal, Republicans failed to appear.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This dispatch was filed from Indonesia by Mr. Heath just before he began his return flight, on which he and 13 other prominent American newsmen were killed when their plane crashed in Bombay.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent
BATAVIA, JAVA—(AP)—U. S. diplomacy has committed another major blunder in the Far East. Having lost China, we now have given Moscow the opportunity for which she has been waiting and working to move into Indonesia, an area that might prove the key to a major war in the Pacific.

Directly and through the United Nations, we have forced the Dutch to free Indonesia so quickly and suddenly that, for the next five years, during which World War III may be either unavoidable or improbable, there will be no stable government here.

We have thrown our wholehearted support to the least democratic, least western-minded political group in the islands, thereby giving it a position of dominance in the coming new government.

Military and businessmen feel sure that Washington must be aware of the strategic importance of Indonesia, in any possible war between Russia and the democracies. There are two major reasons for this.

First, because these islands are an aerial crossroads of the South Pacific. From Batavia to Australia is only 1000 miles; to the Philippines is about 1400 miles; to Singapore is only 800 miles. From Java, from Sumatra, from Sumatra from Celebes, modern long-range bombers could harass the Philippines, Australia, the sea routes of the Indian Ocean, the South China Sea, the South Pacific in general.

Second, because the islands are rich in vital oil. There are known reserves of a billion barrels. A Wright, acting general manager for Standard-Vacuum, has no doubt that another billion could be discovered when needed.

China is Russia's. China is pretty thoroughly in Moscow's hands now. Soviet agents are operating diligently in Indo-China, Burma, Malaya. Observers who have studied that area would be surprised if the Communist push is not continued southward from China toward Indonesia.

This fear is strengthened by statements made in Moscow the other day by Evgeny Zhukov, corresponding member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences. In a report short-waved to this area, he told of the role played by the Soviet Union in independence movements here, in Malaya and Burma and Vietnam and elsewhere.

Many non-Dutch observers here believe that the United States, Great Britain and other western democracies have a tremendous stake in the maintenance of a stable government here. Such a government would be anxious and able to resist Soviet aggression, and against a real attack in force could be trusted to call upon the western military powers for assistance.

There was a chance to get such a government here. The United States deliberately turned its back on the opportunity, and gave its whole-souled support to a group whose intentions are questionable and whose ability is yet more doubtful.

The American black bear still survives in many of the U. S. eastern states.

Filmdom's Luscious Lassies Go To Bat For Cheesecake

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Here are some luscious lassies who claim Shirley Temple's trade against cheesecake is strictly a bust. Last week the former top star said she thought leg-art pictures are unnecessary. "If I had a choice between having sex appeal and being an actress, I'd rather be an actress," she declared.

A burst of indignation rose like a storm blast over Universal City. There, snuggled in the foothills above the San Fernando Valley, lies Universal-International Studio, fast becoming Hollywood's cheesecake haven.

The studio now has a clause in its starlet contracts, pressuring them to cheesecake duty for their first five years of service (What happens then?—Are they too old for it, or have they risen above it?). Parlays Sweater To Stardom

At any rate, the cleavage between the studio's beauties and Miss Temple is marked. Egged on by her press agents, Curry Yvonne de Carlo took a deep breath and expounded:

"Rita Hayworth parlayed a $3 sweater into stardom and a multi-million-dollar marriage—what's wrong with that?"

"Lan Turner has done all right for a one-time soda jerk," she added. "She's jerking champagne now."

Shelley Winters chimed in with: "Marilyn Dietrich can be a grand mother and still hit pages on just because she's got good legs and shows them."

"And it was because she showed them in 'Destry Rides Again' that she made her comeback."

Added Ida Lupino: "Betty Grable was the highest paid woman in America the last time the income tax boys released their figures. And they were really releasing a figure that time."

Cheesecake Or No Dinner

Maureen O'Hara was quoted on a more sober note: "The human body can be the most beautiful thing in the world. It all depends on how you look at it. My advice is keep looking at it until you see it properly. If that be cheesecake, make the most of it."

Youth Father Held In Rape Slaying Of 73-Year-Old Women

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(AP)—William Draper, 29-year-old father of three boys, was held Monday as the man who raped Mrs. Jennie O'Keefe, 73, and beat her to death in a dark field.

Mrs. O'Keefe, the mother of a Rochester policeman, was killed in the battered body hidden behind bushes about four miles from the slaying scene. Her clothing was torn.

Draper was arrested Sunday night as he started to drive away from his mother's home at Brockport with his wife and three children.

Assistant District Attorney Clarence Henry said Draper denied the killing until he viewed Mrs. O'Keefe's body, then broke down and confessed.

Draper was charged with first degree murder. He waived examination before Justice of the Peace W. Arthur Richmond of Greece Monday and was lodged in the Monroe County Jail to await grand jury action in several weeks.

Pioneer Resident Dies At Stockton

FORT STOCKTON—Oscar H. Graham, 90, pioneer Pecos County resident, died Sunday afternoon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Clayton Williams, here.

Funeral arrangements are pending. Before retiring, Graham was in the real estate business here many years.

Survivors include the widow; two sons, Joe Graham of Quemado and Oscar Graham of Fort Stockton; the daughter, a brother, Joe Graham of Marfa; a half brother, Layne of Clint; and a sister, Mrs. C. C. Barnett, also of Clint.

It takes about 19 hours to convert coal into coke.

A final word was put in the mouth of Peggie Castle, first film hopeful to sign under the U-I cheesecake clause: "Cheesecake is strictly a lot of gals who won't pose for cheesecake won't be eating cheesecake, either."

Washington Oil-House Committee Delays Gas Act Amendment Action

By JOSEPH MUTTLINGER
WASHINGTON—Members of the House Commerce Committee are slow to bring a natural gas act amendment bill to the House floor because they still don't understand the subject.

One member after another, queried by this reporter, said the committee members have squabbled and disagreed in their secret sessions since April.

What may be the decisive meeting is set for Tuesday.

Each member admitted the basic reason is lack of facts and of knowledge about the effect of any changes.

The U. S. Supreme Court turned in a decision last June warning the Federal Power Commission to leave its hands off reserves of natural gas, persons had hoped that would clear up matters, but it merely adds to the confusion.

Members are despairing of legislation in this session, just as they had to despair of passage of the Moore-Rizley measure in the last session. Hopes Vanish

The despair contrasts with the high hopes held at the start. Last February, Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said:

"A simple measure to exempt producers of gas by independent producers to interstate pipe line companies from Federal Power Commission regulation should be passed. The EPC has not opposed this, and the measure would go a long way toward clearing up years of independent producers. It would encourage them to sell gas instead of holding it."

Then the hearings started and confusion mounted daily. Two FPC members opposed the "simple amendment" and two others approved it. The split commission left the committee members all at sea about the measure.

While the Senate counterpart committee has reported out a measure similar to the Harris bill, many senators are quick to admit they want to understand it better before they vote approval on the Senate floor.

The umpteenth secret meeting is set for Tuesday, but if the committee agrees on a bill, it merely will transfer the fighting and thunder to the House floor.

Having strong support is the Harris measure to exempt from regulation sales by independents.

But if the bill reaches the floor, the prospects are:

1—Chairman Robert Grosser (D-O.) will try to water it down by exempting only "small" independent producers from FPC regulation. Commissioner Leland Olds has given him a definition of "small" which he would use. Olds is for all the regulation he can get away with.

2—Rep. Eugene J. Keogh (D-N.Y.) will try to build it up by proposing a measure to exempt field sales of interstate pipe line companies as well. "It's only consistent," he says.

3—Rep. John Hession (R-Mass.) will suggest all three proposals are "piecemeal" and fail to do the job made necessary by the recent Supreme Court decision in the Parhamite Eastern pipe line case. In view of this "wise decision," he wants a more "basic approach." The FPC should continue exemption of independents' sales from regulation, while we work out a "broader bill."

With three members of the committee trying to amend the committee's bill on the House floor, House members are likely to take the position the committee doesn't know what it's doing.

"Then our bill would be a sure bet for recommitment to committee," said one member.

There have been spurious arguments in the hearings. Committee members singled out only those of Leland Olds, however.

One member says, "Olds has set up a set of figures that don't hold water." He referred to the Olds contentions that the price of natural gas would rise if the amendment were passed. Olds had even said how much, something no one else knows.

"Pure Propaganda"

"This is pure propaganda," this member believes. "It is not hard to dissipate it." Other members agree.

The generally optimistic John Lyle (D-Texas) expressed highest hopes for legislation in this Congress. "I think—I'm not sure—that we'll get a bill through Congress this session," he said.

Like the others, he saw with dismay the chance that the House and Senate would pass different bills. Then a conference committee would have to iron out differences, return the measures to each chamber for a vote.

Then, there could be a White House veto.

Thornton Slaying Suspects Released

Ann Blyth is talking to UI about a film musical. She started out as a soprano with the San Carlo opera troupe.

Ginger Rogers' reaction to reports that she and Jack Briggs are separating: "We played golf together yesterday. We plan no divorce."

William Gargan just signed a three-year deal to star in television and in radio as a private sleuth for a tobacco company.

It's a dog's life department: Lassie will collect $4000 a week for a two-week stage stint at the Oriental theater in Chicago. His routine: Playing dead, rolling over, sitting up and sham-batling with his owner, Rudd Weatherwax.

W. R. Wilderson, writing about "What's wrong with the movies?" in his trade magazine, hit the nail squarely on the head with: "The big fault with our product is that we have too many pictures about nothing."

Not in the script: Brian Donlevy on television: "Acting for television is the most difficult of all mediums. It requires the combined techniques of stage, screen and radio and those actors who are not up on all three will find it difficult to adjust themselves."

Reds Renew Attack In Central China

CANTON, CHINA—(AP)—Fighting between Nationalists and Communists flamed into new activity in Central China Monday.

Official dispatches reported several Nationalist setbacks.

Chinese press reports in British Hong Kong said the new Red drive had caused fresh panic among Nationalist officials in Canton.

The Defense Ministry, these accounts said, has chartered 21 civilian planes to ferry important equipment out of the provisional capital.

The objective of Red troops—on the march after a two-month stalemate—appeared to be Changsha, Hunan provincial capital and a Nationalist stronghold.

Censorship: A boy can't slap a girl on the derriere even when she thinks she's a "him." The censors say so. Script of "The Big Wheel" called for Mickey Rooney to slap Mary Hatcher as she's bending over a car in a garage. She's dressed in a greasy outfit and Mickey thinks she's a man. The censors blue-penciled the scene.

Alabama Gives Klan A Kick

Gov. James E. Folsom and his Alabama legislature deserve to be commended for their speedy, forthright response to the ugly challenge of white-robed terror in their state.

Newly placed on Alabama's statute books is a law that bans the wearing of masks, hoods or robes. The penalty for violation is a $500 fine or a year in jail.

Alabama thus becomes the first state in the South to strike a real blow at the resurging Ku Klux Klan, which most southern authorities blame for the rising tide of violence in the region.

There is some talk that Alabama now may go a step farther and revoke the Klan's state charter, thus making it an outlaw organization. All decent American citizens must hope this goal also is achieved.

More than that, they must wish that a whole procession of states will follow Alabama's lead. Nothing would be more gratifying than to see the South rid itself of these night-riding hoodlums without interference from outside.

It seems incredible that we should have to be decrying such primitive violence in a 1949 America. In fact, were we not so well aware of the tragic results of this practice, we probably would be tempted to laugh heartily at the absurdly silly business of grown men running around in flapping white garments.

But, stripped of their bedsheets, these latter-day terrorists can be seen for what they are: Nazi-style bully boys with an even bigger streak of cowardice, if that is possible. Alabama has had the fundamental good sense to un-frock these spineless bullies permanently.

There is evidence, too, that it is earnestly determined to find among them those who were responsible for the recent flogging and other outrages in the Birmingham area. A county grand jury already has returned a dozen or more indictments.

These various state and local moves to stamp out hooded violence have not kept Congress from launching its own inquiry into the outbreaks. A House Judiciary subcommittee is looking into them.

No harm can come from a further airing of the facts so that all Americans can understand the menace for what it is. But Congress ought to do nothing to discourage the excellent beginning Alabama has made toward crushing this particular lawlessness.

It should allow state authorities a chance to follow through. And permit a little time for us to see whether Alabama's behavior may not prove contagious to its neighbors.

Wide Open House

The House has decided that the place to begin saving is in the Senate.

The House Appropriations Committee refused to approve $10,000,000 for work on a new Senate office building. It did say, however, that senators might make life in the old building a bit more comfortable by getting some new swivel chairs and ice boxes.

Unfortunately, the committee left the House wide open for Senate retaliation. It okayed money for new rugs in House members' offices. A revengeful Senate might yank the carpet out from under them.

Legal Boom

The anti-trust suit brought by the government against the Du Pont industrial empire is expected to last for years. Whatever the outcome, the case ought to take up a good deal of the slack in the legal profession. We shouldn't be hearing about any surplus of lawyers for a while.

Champ Has Full-Time Job

Miss Paris, 19 months, raises one hand in victory after winning the title in a baby contest on the Champs Elysees. But Mr. Paris finds he needs both of his—and then some—in order to keep his scanty pants from taking French leave in front of the judges.

WASHINGTON — The private power lobby pulled skillful wires in the Senate Appropriations Committee last week and created a neat short circuit in one of President Truman's famous campaign promises.

The effect was to switch public power over to the private utility companies in the West. What the committee did was cut out appropriations for government transmission facilities and invite the private power companies to build them instead.

The committee voted so secretly behind closed doors that its action was scarcely noticed by the press. Yet the effect was to sabotage the entire Truman public-power program.

The man who really threw the switch in favor of the electric companies was Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma Democrat. Thomas, who has not hesitated to use his prestige as a U. S. senator to influence the commodities market on which he is speculating, rallied enough Democratic votes to give the Republicans the voting majority.

The two senators who fought hardest to save the public power were Carl Hayden of Arizona and Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrats. They were joined on most votes by Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, Democrat, and Senator Mitt Young of North Dakota, Republican.

Those who voted with Thomas for the big power companies were Senators Pat McCarran of Nevada and Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, Democrats, and Chan Gurney of South Dakota, Clyde Reed of Kansas and Guy Cordon of Oregon, Republicans.

The showdown fight now will take place in the conference between Senate and House Appropriations Committee members. The House already has voted against the power companies and the man who is counted on to fight for the public interest is tough Congressman Mike Kirwan of Ohio. Although he hasn't a single power project in his district, Mike is ready always to roll up his sleeves and battle for public power.

The Senate's sellout to the private power companies was the result of high-paid, high-pressure lobbying. The Montana Power Company was an example. John Corbett, vice president of Montana Power, personally visited every member of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees. While he was exerting his charm in Washington, his company back home was publishing propaganda in a paper called "Public Power Means High Taxes, Socialism and Less Money for Irrigation."

The Montana Chamber of Commerce even spread the lie that public power lines would rob Montana of power by transporting it to Idaho for an atomic energy plant. Released to the press by James Flaherty, president of the Montana Chamber of Commerce, this was categorically denied by Atomic Energy Chairman David Lillenthal.

Montana is a long way from Iowa, but the Montana Power Company even influenced Rep. Ben Jensen, Iowa Republican, arising on the House floor, Jensen produced a map of Montana.

Congressman John Rooney, Brooklyn Democrat, interrupted suspiciously. "I merely want to ask the gentleman who prepared this beautiful map?" sweetly inquired Rooney. "Who does the gentleman suppose

Change Of Location Affords Relief To Hay Fever Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

Although much has been learned in recent years about the relief of hay fever many people try to escape from the ragweed pollen during the late summer. Vacations are often planned for those weeks when the pollen count is high and a place is sought where ragweed is absent or at least slight.

The Northwest Pacific areas of the United States and Northern California are good places. There is little ragweed pollen in the region. In Southern California, Arizona, and New Mexico, there is little or no ragweed.

growing in the higher areas of the Rocky Mountains, though ragweed is present in the plains to the east of the mountains and can blow in when the wind comes from that direction. However, early frost in the mountains tends to shorten the season.

Southern and Eastern Florida have also little or no ragweed. A section of Maine in the northern and western part of that state is also claimed to have little ragweed. Midwest Affected? There is nowhere in the middle west which is entirely free of ragweed pollen during the season. Some areas, however, have short seasons and prevailing winds which tend to keep the pollen in the air over the much lower level than it is over the great plains. Among such areas are Northern Minnesota and the upper peninsula of Michigan, Northern Wisconsin and Central Canada.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority Written for NEA Service

While talking to Robert Trout recently, I said "Bob, you introduced Roosevelt's friends' chats, you've done all of the political conventions, you've traveled all over the world to do broadcasts for us. But why is it newscasters seldom mention bridges?" His answer was, "Does the bridge league put it on the AP or UP wire?"

Robert Trout is a natural broadcaster. He thought he was going to be a writer, but one day he went into a little station in Virginia, WJVB, and as he says, he never got out of there. There was a fellow there who used to broadcast every night for the Alexander

Gazette, which claims to be the oldest daily newspaper in the United States. He did not show up that night, and somebody said to Bob, "You want to be a broadcaster? Here's the paper. Take his place." So Bob sat down and read the newspaper to the folks for 18 minutes over the air.

Television viewers are now enjoying Trout's new program Saturday nights called "Who Said That?"

When Bob used to travel with the president, the boys sometimes played cards all night in the dining car. They might start off with a bridge game, but before the night was over, the chips were on the table. But he still remembers the argument the boys got into when their hand came up.

The argument started when declarer went down one at six hearts. North claimed that South should not have bid five hearts, but only four. He then would have bid six clubs. South said he had a hundred honors in hearts and he thought the contract just as safe at hearts as at clubs. North then said it is always safer to play a contract with the trump divided 4-4, rather than 5-3.

At six hearts declarer has no place to put the losing spade and he must lose a club. But at six clubs declarer can make two spade tricks, five heart tricks, a diamond and three club tricks and a spade ruff, giving him 11 tricks.

But even Senator Hickenlooper himself now says that these particular matters of mismanagement and waste are not what he is driving at as his primary objective. He says that the most important thing about the atomic energy project is the safeguarding of secrets which are vital to national security.

He makes three principal charges of laxity in security regulations: 1. That almost 4,000 employees were given access to restricted areas before they had been fully cleared by the FBI. (The AEC answers by saying this was a risk it had to take to speed up production. Only 29 of the cases revealed any irregularity and only five indicated disloyalty.)

2. That shipments of isotopes to foreign countries constitute a violation of the law. (The other interpretation of the law is that the ban applies to fissionable materials, not isotopes. The two specific cases raised at the hearings involve shipment of one milligram of radio-activity equal to one one-thousandth of a gram of radium-226 or iron 59 to Norway and shipments involving 300 milligrams of various isotopes to Finland.)

3. That the AEC has not been fully cooperative in providing information to the FBI regarding the activities of known communists and other persons who are known to be disloyal to the United States.

These and other mistakes exposed in the hearings thus far may show signs of some mismanagement. Whether they are evidence of what Senator Hickenlooper called "incredible mismanagement and maladministration" is something else again.

One effect of these disclosures has been that the Congress is slapping a new rider on the 1949-50 AEC appropriation bill. It will require congressional approval on all future expenditures of more than $500,000 and all increases in such expenditures over authorized amounts.

ARE a justifiable over-spending in that it is in a new business in which new problems constantly are being encountered and that much overtime had to be ordered to speed up the job. Also that the government, as sole owner of its "company towns," has had to do things which no private landlord could be forced to do by his tenants.

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★ Spectators Leave AEC Bout As Third Round Bell Rings

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—End of Iowa GOP Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper's great Atomic Energy Commission investigation is not yet in sight. Conclusion of AEC Chairman David Lillenthal's side of the story marks only the end of round two.

Round three will be fought more or less in the dark. That will be when Chairman Brien McMahon takes the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee into executive session. It will probe, off the record, some 25 or 30 AEC loyalty investigation cases which the committee previously refused to let Hickenlooper expose in open hearing. How long this phase of the investigation will take is anybody's guess.

Interest in this whole business has fallen to an extreme low. Even though the hearing room is air-conditioned and it's a good place to go to get out of the heat, it doesn't draw 50 people.

Some observers who have been following the hearings closely, however, are inclined to believe that Senator Hickenlooper won the first round of his challenge fight, on points that Hickenlooper set out to make. But his blows opened up these somewhat vulnerable spots:

A new junior high school at Richmond, Wash., cost $3,966,000 instead of the originally estimated $1,786,000.

Sixty-five new construction projects being built by General Electric at Hanford, Wash., cost $7,000,000 more than original estimates.

Contracts were made to buy natural gas as primary fuel for Oak Ridge, Tenn., when plenty of coal was available.

Some 350 leaky-roofed houses were built at Los Alamos, N. M. Degree is Doubtful

These and other mistakes exposed in the hearings thus far may show signs of some mismanagement. Whether they are evidence of what Senator Hickenlooper called "incredible mismanagement and maladministration" is something else again.

One effect of these disclosures has been that the Congress is slapping a new rider on the 1949-50 AEC appropriation bill. It will require congressional approval on all future expenditures of more than $500,000 and all increases in such expenditures over authorized amounts.

ARE a justifiable over-spending in that it is in a new business in which new problems constantly are being encountered and that much overtime had to be ordered to speed up the job. Also that the government, as sole owner of its "company towns," has had to do things which no private landlord could be forced to do by his tenants.

But even Senator Hickenlooper himself now says that these particular matters of mismanagement and waste are not what he is driving at as his primary objective. He says that the most important thing about the atomic energy project is the safeguarding of secrets which are vital to national security.

He makes three principal charges of laxity in security regulations: 1. That almost 4,000 employees were given access to restricted areas before they had been fully cleared by the FBI. (The AEC answers by saying this was a risk it had to take to speed up production. Only 29 of the cases revealed any irregularity and only five indicated disloyalty.)

2. That shipments of isotopes to foreign countries constitute a violation of the law. (The other interpretation of the law is that the ban applies to fissionable materials, not isotopes. The two specific cases raised at the hearings involve shipment of one milligram of radio-activity equal to one one-thousandth of a gram of radium-226 or iron 59 to Norway and shipments involving 300 milligrams of various isotopes to Finland.)

3. That the AEC has not been fully cooperative in providing information to the FBI regarding the activities of known communists and other persons who are known to be disloyal to the United States.

REFUGE

By Mildred Crom and Horwood White

"THE STORY" Mrs. Malone, a widow, is the cook for a strange, wealthy, arrogant woman who is feeling in a gigantic trailer to a mysterious destination. With her is the Marchese Delacasa, who speaks with an accent. The other servants include Victor, a Filipino houseboy who graduated from Columbia, and Rudy, the unassuming chauffeur who may once have been a boxer.

"If the scientists really know it's going to happen," she reasoned, "they'll say so, won't they?" They'll give us plenty of warning.

"Can you imagine the riot if they did? I don't think so."

"Then you really believe . . ."

"I'm here, Victor's here."

His eyes flickered in the peculiar way they had.

"And the pay," he added, "is excellent."

Again that silence, while nobody moved.

"Where is it we're going?"

"Don't ask me! Mrs. Everson got the maps. I gather she has some idea of discouraging pursuit."

RUDY glanced around the narrow room in which they sat.

"As you said yourself, she's bringing civilization with her. It's all here, on wheels. Money. Liquor. Cigaretta Matches. Electricity. Gas. Books. Caviar. Ice. Canned goods, including music—everything from Bach to Ellington. Jewels. Medicine. Ourselves, to wait on her. And a companion."

"Oh, him."

"Yes, him. Lordy, the flashing, indelently smile that stirred so strangely in her memory. But his eyes held a certain disdain.

"He's a little easier to explain," he said ironically. "During all those years of waiting Mrs. Everson thought about the gay world of fashion, but she didn't belong to it. So when she got out of hock, she was awkward and uncertain. That's why she hired the Marchese Delacasa; he had experienced everything she had missed."

"For instance?"

"He's a cousin of kings, a man of fashion."

"If he's so important, why did he hire himself out to her?"

"He's not so important," Rudy said. "Not any more. He's a shabby refugee, as penniless as any tramp. But he remembers his past. And ye gods, but he has the gift of gab! Everson listens and dreams of herself at Monte Carlo, the court of St. James, knocking them cold in a ski-suit at St. Moritz."

Rudy broke off with a bitter laugh.

"I SOUND like a fashion magazine, don't I? Well, so does he! I've had to listen to him for hours on end. This mousy aristocrat, talking about Wallie Windsor and the ancient art of China and gardens and beauty and old manuscripts and ballet dancers and protocol! And while he talks, I drive."

Rudy flexed his fingers.

"My arms ache from steering that chromium ark toward Arah."

"Then why do you do it?"

"The pay is excellent," he reminded her. "Also I'm not sure. I want to see what comes next."

A strange sensation crept through Mrs. Malone's veins to gather with the blood of life. It was the again recognized, fear. Suddenly she got up, pushing her chair back.

MAJOR LEAGUES—Stephens' Bat Rings As Red Sox, Indians Divide

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vern Stephens lashed out two homers and drove in all Boston's runs as the Red Sox divided a doubleheader with the Indians in Cleveland Sunday.

With First Baseman Mickey Vernon knocking in three runs with a double and single, the Tribe won the opener 4-2. Stephens batted in both Boston runs with a home run and a single in three official times at bat.

The Sox came back to win the nightcap 2-1 as young Chuck Stobbs outpitched Veteran Al Benton. Again Stephens fashioned both Boston runs. He singled to score Johnny Peaky with the tying run in the sixth inning, and won the game in the ninth with his 23rd homer.

The split prevented the two clubs from making any gain on the pace-setting Yankees, but the Red Sox were able to vault past Philadelphia into third place. The Athletics dropped to fourth place, losing a doubleheader to the Tigers in Detroit 8-0 and 5-4.

The Yankees split a twin bill with the White Sox in Chicago. Joe DiMaggio's sixth home run in the seventh inning gave the Yankees the opener 2-1. The White Sox pounded Fred Sanford and Frank Shea for 14 hits to earn a 7-3 triumph in the nightcap.

Paul Campbell Tees Off

Paul Campbell, little used first baseman, shared the hero's role with Southpaw Ted Gray as the Tigers moved down the A's twice to climb within a game and a half of the Mackmen. Campbell slammed a home run with the bases full and added two singles as Gray blanked the A's 8-0 in the opener on three hits. The Tiger first baseman then won the second game with an eleventh-inning single that drove in the winning run in Detroit's 5-4 triumph.

The St. Louis Browns swept their first doubleheader of the season, taking two from the Washington Senators 15-8 and 7-4.

Brooklyn retained its game and a half lead over runner-up St. Louis, edging out the Chicago Cubs 4-3 while the Cardinals were beating the Giants in New York 10-1. The third-place Boston Braves lost ground, splitting a twin bill with the Cincinnati Reds, while Pittsburgh nosed out fourth-place Philadelphia 2-1. The Braves won the opener 5-4, but the Reds came back to win the nightcap 3-2.

Officers Seek Home For Lad Who Killed 67-Year-Old Grocer

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Juvenile authorities hoped someone would come forward Monday with an offer of a home, love and understanding for a seven-year-old boy who killed a man.

Teddy Moreno, housed in the nursery of the juvenile home, is completely unaware he killed Fred Throckmorton, 67, his grocer friend, Friday.

Juvenile Judge Milton D. Sapro said the shooting was accidental. There is no thought of punishing the boy, he added. The court just wants a new home for him.

The shooting took place in Throckmorton's store. The boy had been sent there by his stepmother. While the grocer filled an order, Teddy walked behind the counter and saw a gun. He picked it up, apparently thinking it a toy-like one he had at home—and pulled the trigger.

Haste Makes Waste, Motorist Discovers

SHEBOYGAN, MICH. — (AP) — Haste wasted $53.35 and four automobile tires for Edgar Marlin. Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And The Wishing Well

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, one day found the Wishing Well. It was far away in a corner of the Great Forest, hidden in a bunch of trees. It was a deep hole in the ground with water in it. That is what a well is, or at least that is what the Wishing Well was. And all around the well was a little wall made of rocks. The wall was to keep anyone from falling down in the water. But there was something else about the Wishing Well—something you ought to know.

People said that if you dropped a rock in the well, and listened for the splash of the rock in the water, and made a wish, the wish would come true. But of course you had to hear the splash of the rock in the water, people said. Daddy Ringtail looked at the water in the Wishing Well. It was a long way down. Then he looked around on the ground for a rock to drop in the water. He found one. He dropped it, and the rock went had to do was walk up the steps and on to the top. "A Wishing Well!" Daddy Ringtail said to himself. "And I guess it really is, for I wished for a way out, and I found it." But that's the way with many wishes. They'll come true so often if you look around for a way to help them come true. Happy wishing, I say—don't you? Happy day! Irishman, Wearing Friendly Smile, Is Hurried To Hoboken

NEW YORK — (AP) — "How do I get to Hoboken from here?" asked the naked man.

Coleman Roger Rafferty from County Sligo, Ireland, stood on a Manhattan pier, wearing nothing but a friendly smile. More than a mile of Hudson River water separated him from his clothing aboard the S.S. Boston City, tied up at Hoboken, N. J.

Rafferty, a fireman aboard the ship, explained to a startled pier guard that he decided to go for a cooling swim.

"I lost my sense of direction, but I kept on swimming," he said.

Police wrapped him in a blanket and took him back to Hoboken.

tumbling down, and down and down. Daddy Ringtail leaned over the wall to hear the rock when it splashed. He heard it all right. But he heard it too late, for he had leaned over the wall too far. In he tumbled and down he fell, just as the rock had done. Head over heels, down he went, and down, and down, and down.

He splashed in exactly the way and exactly the place the rock had splashed. Then he stood up in the water as wet as wet could be, feeling very foolish for having fallen in.

"But as long as I'm here," he said to himself, "I may as well make a wish. For I've already dropped a rock in the well, and I heard it when it splashed." And so he did wish. He wished he could find a way out of the well, and having made the wish, he began to look around for a way to climb out. Oh, it wasn't very exciting, for there were some steps, and all he

All-Star Battle Booked Monday

It's the cream of the crop in the third annual Longhorn League All-Star game at San Angelo Monday night. Gametime is 8:15 p.m. in Guinn Field, one of the finest plants in West Texas.

It's the West vs. East. And the West is favored. However, injuries and the condition of pitchers might give great hope to the East.

The West has won two previous battles. West representatives include those from Midland, Big Spring, Odessa and Sweetwater. The East players are from Sweetwater, Vernon, Ballinger and San Angelo.

Webb Manard, manager of the Midland Indians is skipper of the West. His good friend and rival, Bob Huntley of Vernon, will mastermind the East.

Hunting little Kenny Jones, Midland backstop and a choice for the West team, will not be able to play. A replacement has not yet been named. Gumbo Helba of Big Spring was chosen as a pitcher but he has departed the league and Pancho Perez of Big Spring will replace him.

The team rosters:

The loss of Kenny Jones to a hospital bed Saturday is the hardest blow in the string of knocks injuries have given the Midland Indians this year. He undoubtedly will be the hardest man on the ball club to replace while he is out of the lineup.

Never before in our life have we seen a catcher who hustles like Jones. He just never stops.

He has hustled so much already there isn't any reason in the world why he shouldn't win the "Rookie of the Year" award while on the injured list if he can be.

Wade Whiteley and the Midland swimming team are working hard in preparation for the coming JayCee Invitation Swimming Tournament here August 6.

The following swimmers are out for the team: Mike Brunner, Bonnie Brunner, Carl Boone, Jeanette Conroe, Jane Curd, Caroline Curd, Shirley Culbertson, Arnold Drake, Bill Erskine, Larry Friday.

Bucky Herndon, Jerry Herndon, Mary Herndon, Duane Hammond, H. Hensley, Paxton, Howard, Jr., Emily Hamilton, Jim Hammett, Bob Graham, Dick Jackson, Caroline Leggett.

Waldo Leggett, David Leggett, Enid Little, Bill Little, Bill Mims, Joan Mims, Atrelle Pace, Robert Pitt, Charles Ruckman, Dan Radcliff and possibly others.

Lee Pinkston, the noted junior golfer from Abilene, is just about the best in these parts when it comes to the greens. He played on the Abilene High School team and has entered several of the largest meets on his own this Summer.

We look for a hot finals match to shape up between Pinkston and Midland's Graham Mackey in the Midland tournament which opens here Wednesday. We also look for both of them to win spots for the national junior meet.

The first "dress rehearsal" for the opening of Midland's Ranchland Hill Country Club will be held Friday at the new clubhouse. It will be a stag party followed by an inspection tour of the entire layout.

Although the club is scheduled for opening early in August, there still is a lot of work to be done. The reason for the work is that the club has been planned in detail to make it the best in this part of the state.

Golf equipment is being delivered to the club now. Barbecue pits, picnic tables and other facilities soon will be ready. The first nine holes of the golf course are in top condition.

Nothing has been spared in building the finest country club with the lowest membership fees.

The Odessa Blue Sox and the Rollins Mercury team of El Paso, both Junior American Legion clubs, will open their series for the Division II title at Oiler Park in Odessa at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Al Monchak hit two home runs for Odessa, but Ballinger collected 13 hits.

Vernon used three hits, two errors and two walks for five runs in the seventh inning and sewed up the game.

San Angelo used 18 hits to the very best advantage in drubbing Midland.

Snead seems certain winner in postponed Dapper Dan finale.

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Sammy Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro, was regarded as a shoo-in Monday to win the Dapper Dan golf tournament—and pocket a $2,000 check.

Snead's three sub-par rounds in the 72-hole event have given him a five-stroke lead over Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago. The long-driving West Virginian has a 203 total for 54 holes.

Sunday's scheduled 18-hole final was washed out and the pros, almost to a man, conceded it would take a terrific upset to keep Snead out of the top spot.

Tied for third are Bob Hamilton, Landover, Md., and Toby Loyons, Warren, Pa.

Five men are tied for fourth with 210. Among them is Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn.

Winters Officer Wins Mississippi Shoot

BILOXI, MISS.—(AP)—A. E. Speer of Keeler Air Force Base won the high overall championship in the state skeet shoot here Sunday, breaking 291 out of 300 targets.

Previously, the Winters, Texas, sharp shooter won the small bore and 20-gauge events for the state and tied for sixth in the all-gauge.

Re-Armed, brother of Armed, champion money winning gelding, began his racing career with a victory at Belmont Park.

The battle for five places in the biggest of all junior golf tournaments will open at 8 a.m. Tuesday at the Midland Country Club when West Texas' finest young golfers tee off in the Sectional Qualifying Round of the United States Golf Association Junior Championship Tournament. The entry field of 15 sports nothing but top flight golfers.

The juniors will go 18 holes and the five with the lowest medal scores will earn the right to enter the national tournament for juniors in Washington, D. C. late this month.

The medal scores in the sectional qualifying round also will qualify the golfers for the Midland Country Club Junior Invitation Tournament. Match play in the invitation event will open Wednesday and the finals will be held Thursday.

The entry list includes Rex Baxter, Jr., of Amarillo; Arlyn L. Scott of Odessa; Dillmou D. James and Lee Pinkston of Abilene; Jerry Green of Odessa; Joe Ed Black of Lamesa; Bill Tatum, Jr., of Lubbock; and Roane Puetz, Buzzy Bray, John Ward, Graham Mackey, Teddy Kerr, Frank Green, Paxton Howard, Jr., and Lew Ground, all of Midland.

Angelo Bops Tribe 14-6

The Midland Indians resume Longhorn League play Tuesday night in San Park opening three-game series with the revived Ballinger Cats.

The Midland Indians must have gotten out of bed on the wrong side Sunday and those pesky San Angelo Colts caught 'em crippled and bare-footed and sure stepped on their toes. After a long, grueling set-to in the hot sunshine, San Angelo copped the second game of a two-day stand, 14-6. The Colts had won Saturday night 11-6.

It could be the law of averages caught up with Midland. Sam Harshaney of the Colts has been trying for two years to win a game in Indian Park. As leader of the Del Rio Cowboys, he never was able to do so. Now he has two scalps.

The umpiring Sunday was a bit on the sunstroke variety, we thought, or did Harshaney do it from the shade.

It was one of those times. The Colts hung up any old kind of hurler and he was able to get the crippled Indians out. However, say for Bill Guthrie of the Colts—he went the route although he was dead-tired at the finish. Midland just couldn't drop him.

The Tribe came hustling out of their "steam-heated" dugout Sunday and racked up two runs in the first two frames, one in each. It looked like we were away.

But ouch! The Colts got the range in the fourth frame and when the dust cleared, they had four tabs.

There was still a lot of Midland hope, however.

This turned to gloom in the sixth stanza when the Colts amassed two runs and Midland was loked in the seventh when five more San Angelo ponies crossed the plate. The visitors got the me more in the ninth.

Midland got one run in the seventh and three in the ninth.

An 11-3 attack by the Colts coupled with Midland's three errors and other "mistakes" marked the contest as a San Angelo afternoon.

West Texas Oil & Gas Log—

burger. It originally was projected to 8,800 feet to attempt completion in the Devonian.

Location is 1,900 feet from east and 600 feet from south lines of section 24, block A-57, pal survey.

Tide Water Locates Terry Deep Wildcat

Tide Water Associated Oil Company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start operations at once on its No. 1 J. P. Nysdal, et al. as a 12,000-foot wildcat, to explore the Ellenburger in Central-South Terry County.

The exploration will be located 600 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, pal survey, and 14 miles south of Brownfield. Interest is held by Amerada Petroleum Corporation, Cities Service Oil Company, The Texas Company and Tide Water each have interests in a four section block surrounding the location. Tide Water has the major share of the interests and will have the operation of the well. The other three companies are contributing to the project in proportion to their holdings in the block.

This exploration was reported several weeks ago in unofficial circles, but was not officially verified until the filing of the drilling application. It was originally reported that the fee owner of the land on which it is to be drilled was Anderson. Tide Water's records show that to be in error.

The prospector is in a region which has been designated the Corrigan area by Tide Water, Corrigan & Crump of Midland have drilled several San Andres tests in that region during the last 10 years, some of which had some good shows of oil.

However, none of those projects were able to develop any commercial production.

Mitchell Discovery Reported Flowing

Superior Oil Company No. 1 Dockery, Ellenburger discovery in Central-West Mitchell County, was reported by unofficial sources to have been flowing to storage Sunday.

No estimate or gauge on such production was available. Operator is still withholding official reports on the exploration.

Last report from any source of any gauge on the well was an unverified statement that it had flowed 1,000 barrels of oil in 16 hours about the middle of last week.

The production is supposed to be from the top of the Ellenburger between 7,990-8,024 feet, where a 2,000 gallon acid treatment had been injected.

The wildcat is three and one-half miles southwest of Westbrook, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 17, block 28, TP survey, T-1-S.

York-Harper To Skid Midland Wildcat Rig

York & Harper, Inc., No. 1 TXL Central Midland County wildcat to 13,800 feet to explore into the Ellenburger, is reported preparing to skid 30 feet from the location at which it started and drilled to 4,430 feet in the upper Permian lime.

The Republic governor, in an address of welcome to the convention of Lions International, also said it is important that the United States Senate ratify the North Atlantic Treaty "with real enthusiasm." "Otherwise," he said, "we would appear to be denying our inevitable and inescapable association with the cause of freedom. We would appear to be starting all over again down the same road we followed after World War I which led to World War II."

More than 25,000 Lions and their families are in town for the convention.

Noelke Area Wildcat Will Test In Permian

M. & M. Production Company No. 2-B Bouscaren, wildcat in the shallow Noelke field of Northwest Crockett County is to try to develop commercial production, and make a discovery from the lower Permian lime. The venture logged several sections between 3,855 feet and 4,750 feet, which showed for possible production—including one at 3,955-78 feet, which flowed out some clean oil on a preliminary test.

This prospector drilled to total depth of 7,280 feet, in the Ellenburger, which was entered at 7,140 feet. That zone made only sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas in the formation. Operator has plugged back to 4,750 feet, in the lower Permian, and cemented a string of 5 1/2-inch casing at 4,640 feet.

North Snyder Field Spreads Southeast

Castleman & O'Neill of Midland, and J. R. Hunter of San Antonio No. 1 Wren, outpost to production on the southeast side of the south extension to the North Snyder field has shown that it will make an oil well and extension for the Canyon lime pay.

Located 467 feet from north and east lines of the west half of tract 12, section 20, J. P. Smith survey, this venture topped the Canyon reef at 6,516 feet, on an elevation of 2,487 feet.

That gave it a datum of minus 4,029 feet, and made it 51 feet high to the Liscomb & DeLange No. 1 Wren, both nearby producers on the side of the pool.

The Castleman & O'Neill, et al. No. 1 Wren ran a drillstem test at 6,516 feet. Gas showed at the surface in three minutes. Mud flowed out at the top in 50 minutes and oil started coming out of the drill pipe in 70 minutes. It was flowed to pits for only a few minutes and was then shut in without any gauge or estimate being made on the production.

The venture is drilling ahead below 6,600 feet and will continue to 6,880 feet, and bottom at that point. A string of casing will then be cemented on top of the reef and the well will be completed.

Bronte Exploration Completes On Pump

Hickok & Reynolds, Inc., has completed its No. 1 J. L. Keeney, exploration in the Bronte field of East-Central Coke County, for 84-45 barrels of 47-gravity oil per day from the Palo Pinto lime section of the Permian.

The potential test was made pumping 24 hours. Total fluid produced was cut with 10 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 100-1.

Production was through perforations at 4,400-4,416 feet in 5 1/2-inch casing.

The new well is 600 feet from south and east lines of the lease in section 454, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

Upton Devonian Top Called Near Pegasus

The North-Central Upton County Devonian has been encountered by Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 Powell, deep wildcat 2 1/2 miles southeast of the Pegasus area. The venture was under 11,584 feet, drilling lime and chert. It topped the Devonian at 11,570 feet, on an elevation of 2,868 feet, which makes it approximately 480 feet low to Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A TXL, Ellenburger discovery of the Pegasus field.

The Republic Natural exploration is located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 44, block 40, T-4-S, TP survey.

Humble Gets Water In Cochran Dolomite

An unidentified dolomite formation yielded water on a drillstem test at Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Masten, slanted 12,000-foot wildcat in Southwest Cochran County, about 14 miles southwest of Morton.

The tool was open one and one-half hours at 10,161-236 feet, using a 500-foot water blanket. Recovery was the water blanket, 100 feet of drilling mud and 3,236 feet of salt water with a sulphur odor.

This venture, 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 18, league 135, Armstrong CSL survey, was drilling ahead from 10,312 feet in dolomite.

Three Negroes Held For Rape, Robbery

GROVELAND, Fla.—(AP)—Three negroes Monday confessed the rape of a young white woman and the robbery of her husband, Sheriff W. V. McCall reported.

A heavily armed mob tried to take two of the negroes out of jail Saturday night. The negroes had been moved to another jail before the crowd of about 100 men gathered at the courthouse in Tavara.

National Guardsmen were called out Sunday to keep order but the threat of violence subsided and guardsmen left early Monday.

Sheriff McCall identified the suspects as Charlie Greenlee, Samuel Shephard, and Walter Irwin, all about 20. They are being held in undisclosed jails. A fourth negro is being sought.

McCall said the trio admitted they robbed and beat Willie Padgett of Groveland, then kidnaped and raped his 17-year-old wife.

Padgett said four negroes stopped as he and his wife were stranded by car trouble. They first offered to help, Padgett said, but then he was hit on the head, his wallet stolen and his wife taken away in the negroes' car.

Mrs. Padgett was found walking along a highway and taken to a hospital. She was released Sunday.

Hope Revived For Military Aid To Chinese Nationals

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A reported softening in the State Department's attitude may produce some military aid for Nationalist China before this session of Congress ends, Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) predicted Monday.

Knowland told a reporter advocates of a program to help keep Southern and Western China out of Communist hands have agreed to push their proposals soon after the Senate votes on the North Atlantic Alliance.

The Atlantic Pact ratification vote is scheduled for 3 p. m. CST, Thursday. Expected treaty approval then would signal State Department delivery of its request for a $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program.

Of this amount $1,130,000,000 would go to Western European signers of the treaty and the remainder to Greece, Turkey and other countries. While some of these funds might be used in the Philippines, no allowance has been made for China.

Knowland said those who want help sent to China may seek to include $200,000,000 for China in the general arms program.

Shriners Gather For Chicago Meet

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Shriners poured into Chicago Monday for their diamond jubilee convention.

Officials of the Masonic organization said 50,000 to 60,000 will come from other cities.

But 100,000 persons were expected to jam Soldier Field Tuesday to see the installation of Movie Comedian Harold Lloyd as imperial potentate and to hear an address by President Truman.

Truman is a member of the Ararat Shrine Temple at Kansas City. But his appearance here will be as President rather than as a member of the organization.

Big Bad Bug Halts Dallas Stage Show

DALLAS.—(AP)—The final performance of "Bloomer Girl" at the Starlight Opera was called off Sunday night when the leading lady saw a bug and ran screaming off the stage.

Opera officials offered to refund admissions and explained that Nanette Fabray had been scared by a swarm of locusts when she was a child.

The show was well into the second act, Miss Fabray, jauntily waving a parasol, began to sing "Sunday in Cicero Falls." A big bug struck her in the face and fell into her clothing. She swiped at the bug, turned her back on the audience, and shouted to the wings: "I can't go on. I can't go on." Then she began screaming.

Dewey Urges Pact Ratification In Address To Lions

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey urged Monday that Western Europe be welded into an economic unit like the United States, and said Marshall Plan funds should be spent primarily toward that end.

The Republican governor, in an address of welcome to the convention of Lions International, also said it is important that the United States Senate ratify the North Atlantic Treaty "with real enthusiasm."

"Otherwise," he said, "we would appear to be denying our inevitable and inescapable association with the cause of freedom. We would appear to be starting all over again down the same road we followed after World War I which led to World War II."

More than 25,000 Lions and their families are in town for the convention.

Officers Have Own Cleanup Campaign

Midland officers had a clean-up campaign all their own Sunday when a produce truck scattered its load over U. S. Highway 80 about 12 miles west of the city.
