Big Acreage Spread In Ward And Winkler Leases For $50-$150

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and Cities Service Oil Company have acquired 10-year commercial oil and gas leases on a total of 4,840 acres of land in Southeast Winkler County and Northeast Ward County for a cash bonus of $50.00 per acre, plus $150 per acre to be paid out of oil produced on the property—if and when such happens.

Total cash bonus paid was $233,000. The oil payment will amount to $698,000—if the full contract on that item is fulfilled. The leases call for an annual rental of one dollar per acre on the property.

The leases were taken jointly by Sinclair and Cities Service.

Near Gulf Acreage

Four and one half sections of the properties are in a solid block and the remainder is scattered in the area adjacent to the block. Gulf Oil Corporation has large lease holdings in that region.

No drilling obligation was included in the deal. The leases were taken on 14 separate half sections and on one quarter section. All of the acreage is in block A, G&M&B&A survey. Most of it is in Southeast Winkler County. A small amount of it runs over into Northeast Ward County.

Tracts covered by the deal are: Northeast quarter section 85, south half 78, east half 76, west half 76, west half 88, north half 74, south half 74, east half 87, east half 86, north half 75, northwest quarter 71, northeast quarter 90, west half 90, northwest quarter 89, northeast quarter 72, south half 72, and the north half 73. All sections are in block A, G&M&B&A survey.

Texaco Set To Drill At SW Ector Wildcat

The Texas Company is to start drilling soon on a 9,800-foot wildcat to explore into the Eilenburger four miles north and west of Penwell in Southwest Ector County.

The venture will be a Texas No. 1 P. S. Springer. The drillette is 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of section 22, block B-15, pal survey.

It is between the Jordan-Eilenburger and the Carthage and Allen-Eilenburger field.

W-C Gains Wildcat Staked By Rutledge

Paul F. Rutledge of Dallas has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start drilling at once on his No. 1 Alfred Bouton, to be a 5,300-foot wildcat in West-Central Gaines County. The venture is projected to 5,200 feet to explore into the San Andres-Permian line.

The drillette is approximately one mile south and a little west of the nearest completed well. It is 680 feet from south and west lines of section 356, block G, CCS&D&RG survey. That makes it 10 miles west of Seminole. Rotary tools will be used.

8,000-Foot Venture Slated In N-C Scurry

Star Oil Company of Dallas has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting permission to start drilling at once on their No. 1 Wm. B. Church as an 8,000-foot wildcat in North-Central Scurry County, five miles northwest of Snyder.

The venture will be located 152 feet from north and 82.5 feet from west lines of section 18, block 40, Kirkland & Fields survey, A-509.

It is understood that Star Oil has a lease on a tract of slightly more than one acre in the northwest corner of section 18. Offsetting acreage is owned by Lone Star Production Company and by Barnsdall Oil Company.

The No. 1 Church is approximately one mile south and a little west of the nearest explorations now drilling on the southwest side of the North Snyder-Canyon field.

Barnsdall Prospector Indicates Production

Some indications of possible production from the Pennsylvania line have been encountered at Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Davenport, Northeast Coke County wildcat, one and one half miles north of Fort Chadbourne.

The best shows were in a drillette test at 5,375-93 feet. The tool was open one and one half hours. There was a small show of gas at the surface while the tester was open.

Recovery was 80 feet of oil and gas out drilling mud, 1,000 feet of free oil, and 300 feet of salt water.

This venture found the first signs of oil in the current horizon at 5,313 feet. Interested observers think there is sufficient oil section above the water to complete for some sort of an oil well.

The venture is making hole below 5,500 feet in line. It was originally started to dig to 6,000 feet to try to locate and investigate the Eilenburger.

The drillette is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the east half of the Beth Clark survey No. 478.

SE Ward Wildcat To Explore In Silurian

Gulf Oil Corporation has staked location for a 7,100-foot wildcat to explore into the Silurian in Southeast Ward County, two miles east of Penwell.

Truman Rejects Arms Compromise

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A group of Senators Thursday moved to earmark $175,000,000 of the Administration's $1,450,000,000 arms program for military aid to non-Communist China.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—James V. Hunt, key figure in the "five percenters" inquiry, was quoted Thursday as saying he once saved a client $400,000 by getting the Army to purchase a supply of DDT bombs. Hunt's fee was $5,000.

LONDON—(AP)—The United States has tentatively proposed ending all further reparations deliveries to Russia from West Germany, responsible diplomatic officials said Thursday.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Vice President Barkley Thursday ruled an amendment proposing $50,000,000 in loans to Spain out of the European Recovery Program on the grounds it attempted to write new legislation into an appropriation bill.

Breathing Spell In Downturn Of Business Looms

By CHARLES MOLONY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Signs built up Thursday of a breathing spell—but probably not a permanent halt—in business downturn that has run through 1949 so far.

A consensus produced by a top-flight official group of economists boiled down—with some "ifs" attached—to this:

1. The immediate outlook is that economic activity likely will hold at the mid-year level for the July-August-September quarter, and perhaps may rise a bit in September.

2. Longer-range prospects are darker, because it seems that, on the whole, fundamental readjustment has not been completed and employment, production, income and prices may continue to drift downward from October through mid-1950.

The men who drew up this appraisal would not be quoted by name.

The longer-range downturn, it was noted, probably will be obscured from recognition by its piecemeal character, a moderate decline and erratic upturn now and then in particular lines.

One sign of an economic breather or reversal was said to be "a significant change in the attitude of businessmen (over the country) within the last two weeks," this involving a swing toward optimism.

The "significant change" was reported by a strategically placed Washington official with an unexcelled opportunity to keep in touch with business thought and get a bearing on its general direction.

Business psychology has been given a leading role in Administration analyses of the causes of the economic downturn that has been in progress since last Fall.

One immediate indication that business might have bounced up from a temporary bottom came in a Federal Reserve Board report that a record-smashing 27-week-long, $2,757,000,000 drop in the volume of business loans had halted in the week ended July 27 and replaced by a $15,000,000 upturn.

It might confirm that "businessmen, backed up in confidence, have dropped reluctance to borrow to build up inventories."

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators Taft (R-Ohio) said Thursday some Republican senators are considering opposing the nomination of Attorney General Tom Clark to the Supreme Court.

Taft said Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Kem (R-Mo) raised this issue at a closed-door session of the Senate GOP Policy Committee Thursday.

In answer to a question, Taft told a reporter: "Yes, there is opposition, but they are uncertain they will do anything about it."

President Truman announced a week ago he was nominating Clark. He also named Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R.I.) to succeed Clark as attorney general.

Both nominations now are pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Ferguson and Kem criticized the attorney general's action in connection with an investigation of the vote fraud charges in Kansas City in 1946.

Self-Styled Negro Ku Kluxers Nabbed Under Masking Law

OZARK, ALA.—(AP)—Three self-styled negro Ku Kluxers who put on sheets and chased two negro girls Thursday faced fines ranging up to $500 apiece.

The three were the first persons arrested under Alabama's five-week-old anti-masking law.

They accused the negro girls of misconduct, said State Investigator C. S. Prier.

A whimsical touch was added to the episode when the three negroes wrote threatening notes to themselves to "get out of town" in the apparent hope, Prier said, that relatives would provide them with traveling expenses.

Held In Murder Of Texas Radio Man

Standing at the end of the table at left is Sam Smithwick, deputy sheriff, charged with the murder of Bill Mason, Alice newspaperman and radio commentator. Smithwick appeared at a preliminary hearing in Alice with E. M. Wilder, center, defense counsel, and Homer Dean, Jr., county attorney.

Slayer Denied Bond

ALICE—(AP)—Sam Smithwick, accused of murdering Bill Mason, radio man, was denied bond and jailed Thursday at the conclusion of his examining trial.

Justice of the Peace Brown Fuller ordered Smithwick held in jail pending action of the grand jury now scheduled to meet October 31.

Although H. M. Wilder, the defense attorney, had pleaded that Smithwick be given bond, District Attorney Sam Reams insisted that in his opinion this was a capital case and that a jury would assess Smithwick the death penalty if he is found guilty.

The largest crowd ever to witness any case in Jim Wells County attended Thursday's hearing. More than 400 persons jammed the district courtroom and scores were outside.

No Defense Testimony

The trial was resumed from last Tuesday. On Tuesday Aveline Saenz, the state's star eye witness, testified he saw the 60-year-old deputy sheriff shoot Mason last Friday while the veteran newspaperman sat in his automobile.

As the trial opened Thursday, District Attorney Reams said the state had no further witnesses to present. The defendant, a tall, 263-pounder, dressed in khaki shirt and trousers, and wearing shiny tan cowboy boots, calmly sat chewing gum.

Wilder told the court: "At this time the defense is not going to introduce any testimony. However, we would like to ask the court in setting bond in this case to make a reasonable bond."

"I just talked to the district attorney and we have not been able to agree on bond and of course, Judge, it will be in your discretion. I will not suggest an amount."

Wilder Unsmiling

Reams, in reply, told the court: "I would like to call attention to the fact that the only evidence before this court is that the defendant shot Bill Mason while Mason was sitting in a car unarmed and with his hands upraised before his face and while Mason was saying, 'Wait a minute, wait a minute.'"

Shivers Declares New Taxes Coming

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers has given Texans and their representatives his pattern of spending and taxation for next January's certain session of the Legislature.

State services that "we must have" will demand new taxes, Shivers said in a radio address Wednesday night, but he drew sharp lines defining the limits.

These were limited to elementary and educational buildings, and money to support such services as those rendered by the state hospitals for the insane.

On general spending, Shivers, in his first policy report to the people since he succeeded the late Beauford H. Jester as governor, had this to say:

"In recognition of changing business conditions, with the possibility before us of an economic recession, it is imperative that the taxation plan arising out of the elementary emergency must not be allowed to expand and convert itself into a more liberal permanent policy of spending and new taxes.

"Our spending policies are already liberal enough—some will say, too liberal. This is certainly not the time for further liberalization or for any additional expenditures except in those fields where the necessity is inescapable."

Natural Resources

Shivers said natural resources can stand some additional taxation, adding that the time was near (Continued On Page Nine)

White Paper Due To Clear Up Relations Between U. S., China

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said Thursday the United States will publish a white paper on its relations with China to clear up "misrepresentation, distortion and misunderstanding."

In a formal statement, the President said the friendship between the United States people and the people of China "is as strong today as it has ever been."

He said the problem is to find ways "to give practical expression to that friendship" and that this is receiving the closest attention of the State Department.

The statement was given out at his weekly news conference.

A reporter recalled that there had been criticism that the United States government has been "too slow" in its aid to the Chinese Nationalist government because of reported Communist influences within the State Department.

Widemeyer Report

Truman said this entirely erroneous criticism would be covered in the volume the State Department is publishing Friday.

He said in his statement that some of the "misrepresentation, distortion and misunderstanding" arose because this government "was reluctant to reveal certain facts, the publication of which might have served to hasten the events in China which now have occurred."

The President said, "under questioning, that the white paper on China would include the Widemeyer report as well as reports made by former Secretary of State Marshall when he went to China as a special ambassador for the President.

The Widemeyer report, prepared by Lt. Gen. Albert Widemeyer, has been under Administration study some time but has not been made public.

In his statement, the President said the mutual interests of the United States and China "require full and frank discussion of the facts."

Draft Act Probably Will Be Allowed To Die, Solons Declare

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators told Army Secretary Gordon Gray Thursday that the peacetime draft act probably will be allowed to die June 25 unless defense officials anticipate an emergency.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the Armed Services Committee said this was a subject of a secret session with Secretary Gray and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, vice chief of staff for the Army.

After the conference, from which even committee staff members were excluded, Tydings said no action on Selective Service appears necessary at this session. He said Congress would meet again next January—in time to consider an extension or revision.

Last year, after much dispute, Congress enacted a peacetime Selective Service Act. Under it men from 19 through 25 years were subjected to draft for 21 months.

No draft calls have been made since January of this year because volunteers have more than filled quotas for the armed services.

Rites Held For H. B. Rouse, Jr.

Funeral services for H. B. (Bob) Rouse, Jr., 30, of Dallas, were scheduled at 4 p. m. Thursday at the Wilkinson-Hatch Funeral Home at Waco. Interment was to be in a Waco cemetery.

He died Sunday in New York City as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident earlier in the day.

He was a former resident of Midland and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rouse of Hotel Scheraga at the time of his death he was an announcer for a Dallas radio station.

Mrs. Roosevelt To Stay In UN, Says President

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said Thursday he had rejected an offer by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to resign from her United Nations post. He said she will return to the next General Assembly as a delegate.

The President said no reference to Mrs. Roosevelt's controversy with Francis Cardinal Spellman over federal benefits to parochial schools was contained in her letter.

He described it as the routine formal offer to resign that virtually all holders of diplomatic posts send in regularly.

A reporter brought up the subject at Truman's weekly news conference. The newsmen said he had been told the widow of the late President had offered to resign her post with the United Nations because of the controversy with the Catholic prelate in New York.

Use Of Presidential Matchbooks By Five Percenters Reported

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said Thursday he is not acquainted with James V. Hunt, a former Army officer who has been mentioned in a Senate committee's inquiry into operations of "five percenters."

Truman made the statement at his news conference when he was told that a case of 1,500 books of pocket matches inscribed, "Swiped from Harry S. Truman," was purchased last December by Hunt from the Universal Match Company in St. Louis.

The President said anybody could purchase those matches. He added, in answer to questions, that matches he frequently passes to White House guests were not given him by Hunt.

He said the reporters' information that Hunt had made the purchase of 2,500 such match folders was the first he had heard about it.

Friend Of General Vaughan

Roger White, attorney for Hunt, told a newsmen the matches were bought at the request of the White House for use on Truman's presidential campaign trip last Fall.

Hunt, who reportedly is a friend of Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, Truman's Army aide.

Senate investigators, meanwhile, indicated the first phase of the public inquiry into the activities of "five percenters" will deal with Army buying.

The special subcommittee conducting the probe expects to start hearings Monday. It has been meeting in private.

Persons familiar with the preparations said it looks now as though the emphasis at the start will be on events which led to the suspension of two Army procurement officers. They are Maj. Gen. Alton E. White, chief of the Chemical Corps, and Herman Feldman, the quartermaster general.

Asks Prompt Approval Of Full Amount

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Thursday rejected suggestions that he compromise in his request for $1,450,000,000 for arms aid to friendly nations.

Truman indicated at his news conference, however, that he does not oppose suggested congressional curbs on his broad authority to allocate the funds and specify nations to receive the aid.

He said the arms aid bill to implement the Atlantic Alliance should be passed by Congress as soon as possible and that the full amount sought should be granted.

Truman said he does not care anything about blank check authority to allot the arms aid money.

He said he is content to let Congress work out the details.

The important thing, he said, is to provide the money and provide it quickly.

Democrats and Republicans alike have agreed that Truman may not get all that he wants in the request for arms aid.

House Foreign Affairs Committee members appeared determined to trim the amount asked, even after they received figures on Soviet military strength. They had a full day of closed door sessions Wednesday with arms and State Department experts who helped draft the big arms aid program.

The situation shaped up:

1. There is heavy sentiment to curb the broad grants of presidential authority proposed and spell out the amount of assistance to be given, the nations receiving it, and the conditions under which it shall be provided.
2. There is substantial sentiment for a sharp cut in the amount and duration of the program.
3. Instead of approving an arms aid plan to run through June 30, 1950, many committee members are limiting it to next March 31, with the idea Congress can extend it if necessary. Those supporting this proposal would cut the financial authorization at least in half.

The expert witnesses who testified Wednesday were recalled Thursday. They are Maj. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, Edward T. Dickinson, Jr., and Dr. Lloyd Berkner, members of the government's Foreign Assistance Correlation Committee.

One committee member said the experts gave reports on current Soviet military strength which were impressive and "showed without doubt that Russia has not reduced its military strength to any extent since the end of the war."

In fact, he added, the Soviet has added the equivalent of 100 divisions of troops through control of satellite nations.

Joint Chiefs Map Mutual Defense Plan

LONDON—(AP)—American joint chiefs of staff have reached a complete understanding with Britain, Norway and Denmark on organization for mutual defense under the Atlantic Pact, Adm. Louis E. Denfeld announced Thursday.

"We are going home, I am sure, with a very much better understanding of the situation than we had when we came over," the U. S. chief of Naval operations told a news conference following meetings with Norwegian and Danish military commanders.

Denfeld spoke for the joint chiefs. The subject of sharing the atom bomb with other Atlantic Treaty signatories was not mentioned in the staff talks, Denfeld told a questioner.

No Arms Aid Talk

"There was no general discussion of arms aid," he added. "Our purpose in coming here was to exchange ideas on proper organization."

Denfeld said a defense organization might be functioning by the end of this year. He added this was just a guess, based on a feeling that "we were getting along so well it would not be too tough to work out an organization by that time."

"We are looking forward to meeting the French, Belgians, Dutch and Portuguese in France Friday and Saturday."

Weather

Partly cloudy with scattered showers in the Panhandle, South Plains and west of the Pecos River Thursday night and Friday. A little warmer. Maximum temperature Wednesday 83 degrees. Minimum Thursday 65 degrees.

Johnson's Played Out From Pushing Through Premieres

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — After 15 years writing about Hollywood I'm premiere-happy.
Searchlights playing tag in the sky turn me into a groveling coward and I rush home and hide behind the packing boxes in the basement.

There was a time when I was an avid premiere-goer. Premieres were on my beat. I was young and I could take it.
Hollywood can't open a door without crowds, searchlights and a master of ceremonies—and I went to all kinds of premieres.

Why I even went to the premiere of a dog kennel.
It was owned by Charley Ruggles and I remember that the guests were served little sandwiches in the shape of dog biscuits. There were assorted kinds of liquid to wash them down and no one seemed to mind.

Maybe those dog-biscuit sandwiches started turning me into a premiere-hater.
I can't remember things too clearly.
Standard Equipment
All I can see now, looking back, is a fuzzy montage of searchlights and pushing crowds, portable bars and three-piece orchestras, screaming fans packed into makeshift bleachers, white-coated waiters standing behind long buffet tables and press agents pounding my ears with information.

Those press agents gave me cauliflower ears and now when I see searchlights and run and hide in the basement my ears still ache.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight" gals who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas drugist for four ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcontrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcontrate.

Meadowbrook Club Will Elect Officers At Saturday Meeting

Members of the Meadowbrook Country Club will have a combination business meeting and barbecue supper Saturday night at 7:30 p. m. at the Midland Officers Club.

A business meeting for the purpose of nominating and electing new officers and directors for the club will follow the informal supper. The meeting is for members only.

Members of the club have received a list of the club's roll and are urged to study it so that they can be prepared to make nominations for the officers.

Present officers are Ed A. McCullough, president; Frank L. True, vice president; David H. Cole, secretary, and Donald L. McKelbin, treasurer.

Directors are John W. Hughes, Early N. Spires, Olen Prather, Floyd O. Bowles, Al Boring and O. H. Beshell.

Five Books Added To County Library Reference Group

Five books have been added to the reference collection at the Midland County Library, Mrs. Lucile Carroll, librarian, said Wednesday.

"American Composers Today" by David Ewen is a group of biographical and critical sketches of composers who have received recognition on the American continents during the last 50 years. Persons included are naturalized or native-born composers of the United States and non-naturalized Europeans who have been familiar figures on the American musical scene since 1900. The sketches include both living and dead musicians.

"The Book of the States, Supplement II" is a directory of state and territorial officials and state legislators through July, 1949.

Hand Book of Plays

"The Theater Handbook and Digest of Plays," edited by Bernard Sobel, is a volume of information on matters pertaining to the theater, stage, drama, plays, players, playwrights, production and producers—amateur and professional, historical and modern.

"The Abington Bible Commentary," edited by Frederick C. Eselen, brings up to date the continuous advance in scientific discovery and philosophic ideals and the social application of these discoveries in making a new appraisal and restatement of religious truth.

"Styles of Ornament" by Alexander Speltz presents the entire range of ornament in its different styles from pre-historic to modern times and illustrates the different uses to which it has applied. This book is of special interest to the architect, decorator, teacher and student of drawing.

Luckman Sounds Warning

"As a nation we cannot afford to become economic hypochondriacs because a country, like an individual, can worry itself sick."

This and a lot more talk like it came recently from Charles Luckman, president of Lever Brothers Company, the big soap and food products maker.

Always a dynamo, Luckman was whirring at his highest pitch as he outlined for Americans the key reasons they should stop quaking with fear over prospects of a depression.

He cited 59,000,000 workers on the job, $200,000,000,000 in liquid savings and an estimated $215,000,000,000 total personal income for 1949.

"It would seem preposterous that anyone could manipulate these figures and come up with an answer that equals disaster," he said. "Yet that is precisely what many Americans are doing."

It's true. And sad and a bit ironic, too. Not many months ago the big cry was: "Let's halt this dangerous rise in prices." Now we've done it and the resulting downturn has us scared stiff.

For a long time we'd been breaking more business records than we had any right to expect we could. Now, just because we've slackened off from that smashing pace, the attitude of many is that we're heading for ruin.

Luckman will have done us a service if his talk at Los Angeles helps to shake us out of this silly frame of mind.

His advice, naturally, was directed most pointedly at businessmen who had grown accustomed to a plush state of affairs and were shocked when those conditions vanished.

"Sales managers, vice presidents and presidents have shiny pants from hatching profits on cushioned chairs," he said. "Let's go out and sell goods."

Certainly it's foolish for us to sit around expecting the private enterprise system to prove itself to us through thick and thin. It can only work if we make it work. So if we can just stop trembling long enough, maybe we can get the jobs done that will keep the economy going smoothly.

How About The 'Longest Trial'

A reporter noted that a certain woman who testified in the New York trial of 11 Communist leaders was the "tallest witness" yet to appear on the stand.

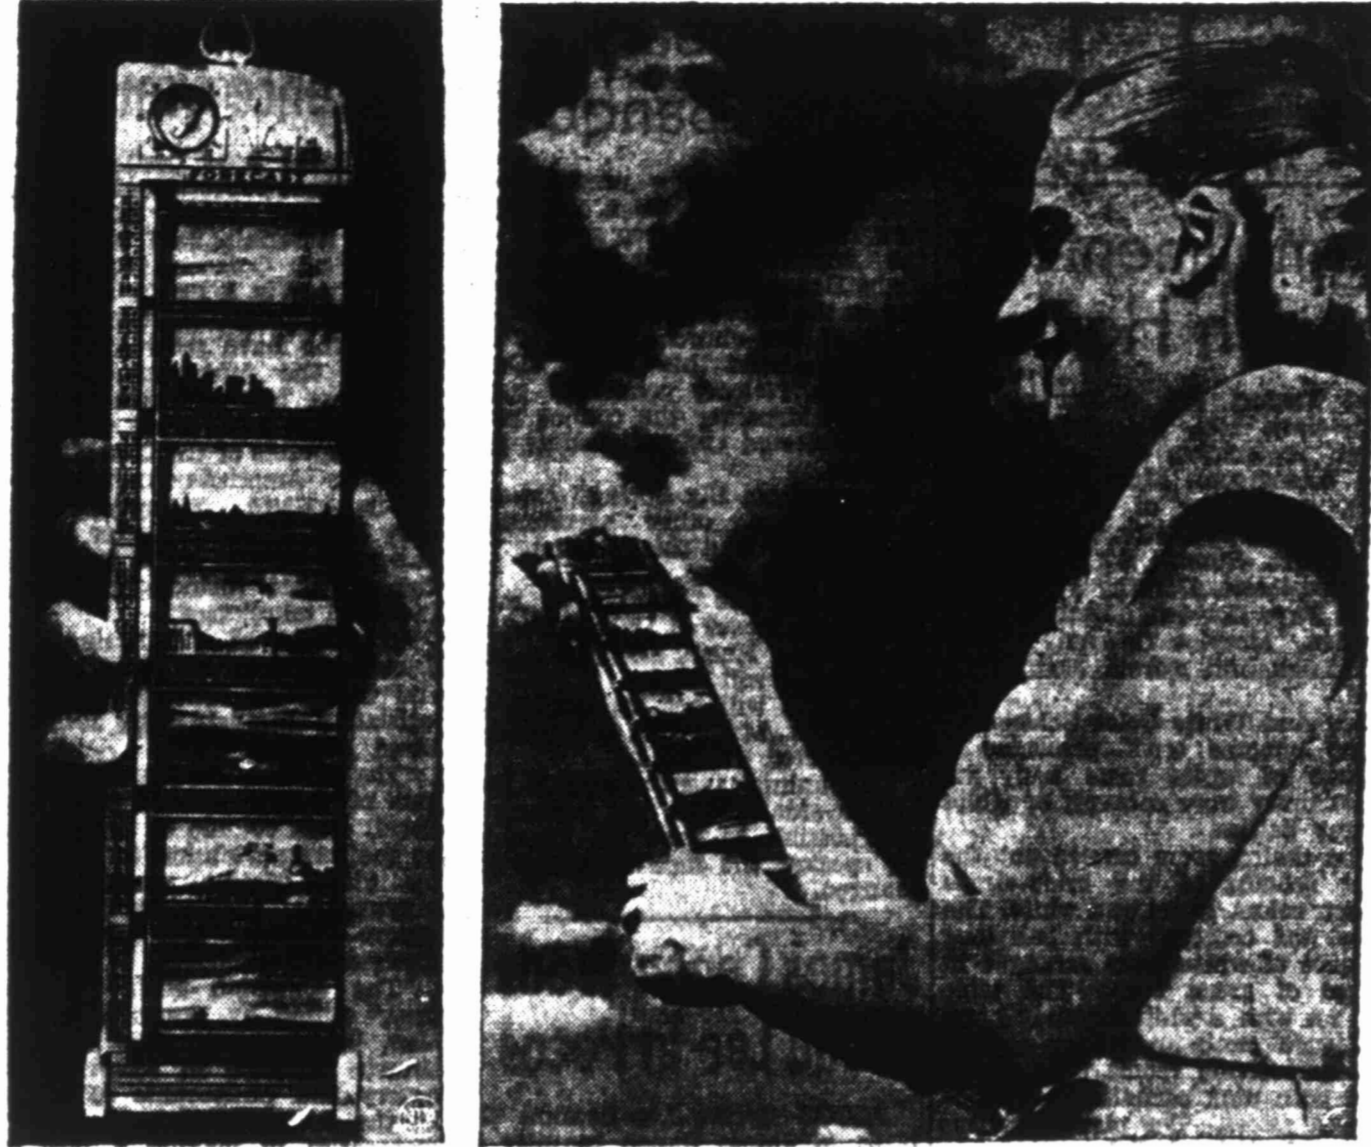

It's that kind of a case. Inevitably, one of these days there'll be a report on the "shortest witness" and then perhaps "the first witness with a goatee," and so on.

The trial has run six months now and forecasts are for another half year. So it wouldn't be too upsetting if some enterprising merchant should offer a handsome door prize to the first spectator through the courtroom portals on the 250th day of the proceedings.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: General Vaughan, John Maragon and Lobbyist Hunt helped Tanforan Race Track lift injunction against building; Tanforan ignored court orders favoring veterans housing; California judges acted when Washington didn't.

WASHINGTON—In the Spring of 1946 when building materials were scarce than hens' teeth and several million veterans were pounding the pavements looking for homes, this columnist published a series exposing the mysterious manner in which the Tanforan Race Track at San Bruno, Calif., was able to flout the U. S. government and spend $2,000,000 on new grandstands, stables, etc.

Indicating they had "friends in Washington," Tanforan officials thumbed their nose at court orders and went blithely ahead with their building. No one at that time knew the reason why. Now, three years later, the backstage story becomes clearer.

The Tanforan Race Track did have friends—including the President's military aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan, together with his mysterious Greek aide, John Maragon, and the now famous lobbyist, ex-Col. James V. Hunt.

For, when they started helping the Tanforan track it still isn't clear. Nevertheless, General Vaughan has been serving as coordinator for veterans affairs, and as such his job is to protect veterans. Information before the Senate investigating committee, however, shows that he used his influence to help a race track building materials supposed to have been reserved for veterans.

Big Bootleggers Turn To Racing The Tanforan track was owned by Joseph H. Reinfeld, one of the biggest bootleggers ever to operate on the basis of the New Jersey connection during prohibition days, and once indicted for the murder of Louis Lefera, a prohibition agent who had seized his rum boat "Herreshoff" with $75,000 worth of whiskey aboard.

Came the end of prohibition, and Reinfeld became the exclusive distributor of Haig and Haig, King William Scotch, Martini and Rossmore, plus regional distributor for Seagrams and Schenley. He also became the owner, with two others, of the Tanforan race track. All three, however, remained in the background.

On June 2 and June 22, 1946, this columnist first called attention to the Tanforan violation of housing regulations. A review of these columns shows that as early as May, 1946, the Tanforan crowd seemed to have mysterious influence in Washington, which ruled that they were merely demolishing former Navy construction. U. S. authorities in California, however, ruled otherwise. And on May 31, Gilbert Kneiss, district civilian production representative, refused Tanforan a permit for new construction, despite which a GPA inspector on June 5 found Tanforan continuing new construction.

Questions and Answers

Q—When was DDT discovered? A—This valuable insect-killer has come into widespread use only during the past decade. The chemical compound was first prepared in 1874 by Othmar Zeidler, a German. Its insecticidal properties were discovered in the 1930's by Paul Muller, a chemist in Switzerland. The first reports of its efficacy reached the United States in 1939.

Q—On a railroad what does the gondola carry? A—A gondola or "gon" is a steel-sided, flat-bottom coal car.

Secret Testimony On Arms Needs May Break Opposition

WASHINGTON—Best testimony that the Congressional Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees will get on the European Military Assistance Program will probably be given in secret session. It will be given by Lloyd V. Berkner, special assistant to the secretary of State, Maj. Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer of the general staff and their assistants. They are "the experts" who worked up the estimates which add up to the $1,450,000,000 arms program which President Truman is requesting.

Initial statements by Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and Ambassador Averil Harriman were on general principles and grand concepts. Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, put on the line the military strategy for the defense of Western Europe.

It is still to suppose, as some of the congressmen apparently do, that the $1,450,000,000 figure was pulled out of a tin hat. In the secret data to be presented to the congressional committees are country by country and item by item estimates of what is needed.

One point perhaps not made sufficiently clear is that for every dollar the United States put into the arms effort, the Western European countries will be putting in the equivalent of five U. S. dollars for their own defense.

Some Equipment Will Be Surplus In some categories the ratio will be even better than that. Some surplus U. S. equipment to be furnished Europe will be supplied for the cost of reconconditioning it. This may be as low as 15 cents on the original dollar cost.

The contention that this Military Assistance Program was conceived outside the bi-partisan foreign policy is hard to maintain. But it was not sprung on congress by the President as a complete surprise.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. KENNEDY America's Capital Authority Written for NEA Service To those of you who have been following the Thursday lesson hand, hereafter Saturday's articles will be a lesson hand on bidding. I have taken the time to write this week from an article by Alfred P. Steinwald entitled "Practical Bridge," which he recently wrote for The Bridge World magazine.

When the dummy goes down after the opening lead of the queen of clubs, North can see that if the heart finesse loses, the opponents would immediately cash the ace of spades and defeat the contract.

Received Direct Information Throughout the intervening year, U. S. general staff officers were in constant consultation with Brussels. Fact officers in Brussels were given defense plans being formulated. Estimates on European requirements were then being received, analyzed, and revised downward.

On April 21, 1949, President Truman informed Congress that the cost would be three dollars later than the Senate Foreign Relations Committee held a long executive session. Secretaries Acheson and Johnson were both there, with their experts. They explained in detail what they had in mind. There was no squawk from Every individual in this country has to give up things he would like to have because he hasn't got the money to pay for them. The government is no different from any individual.

It was only when it became apparent that Tammany Hall was conniving to gain control of the city and its resources, that my course became clear.

Selfish interests are urging us to commit a great blunder. They are now urging drastic cuts in government expenditures. Cuts which would fall hardest on those expenditures which are most important to our domestic economy.

Manville on the night of the revolt, Col. Carlos Manchego—the man who ousted President Velasco Ibarra two years ago, then was himself deposed by the army a week later—entered the headquarters of the Ecuadorian army's only tank corps.

But the police who fled the attack on the president's home had spread the alarm. While Manchego was haranguing the tank corps, the chief of the military zone arrived and promptly placed the ambitious colonel under arrest. With that, it was all over.

Lubbock Man Dies In Colorado Crash

TRINIDAD, COLO.—(AP)—Emmett Busch of Lubbock, Texas, was killed and three other Lubbock residents injured in a two-car collision near here Wednesday night.
Busch died in the Trinidad Hospital after suffering a fractured skull in the smashup five miles south of here on U. S. Highway 85. Lubbock residents injured were: William R. Busby, 25, head injuries; Spurgeon Stewart, 22, head injuries.
A fourth Lubbock man, William R. Hicks, 22, who was asleep on the back seat of the car, suffered cuts.
Highway Patrolman James Hughes, who investigated, said the northbound car driven by Busch smashed head-on with a southbound car driven by John Bryson of Denver. Bryson's seven-year-old son also was in the Trinidad Hospital suffering internal injuries.

George Ochoa Termed Devil With The Ladies, Panther On Wheels When Drunk

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
LAREDO—(AP)—You could have knocked George Ochoa's friends down with a feather.
They wait, amazed, as officers hunt George in this country and Mexico, to talk with him about a couple of brutal murders.
Like one crazy said: "That isn't like George. He's mean as hell when he's drunk—but he's always fought with his fists—not guns."
Handsome, sporty (Gavo) Ochoa, 38, was quite a guy in this town, a polished gentleman when sober and a panther on wheels when drunk. A gay caballero, blue-eyed and smiling, George was well-educated, clever, witty, an athlete, and a devil with the ladies.
He had a strutting pride in his great, deep chest and the muscles that rippled over his trim, 190-pound body.
"He took off his shirt at the slightest opportunity," Manuel Garza, president of Club Campestre, Nuevo Laredo country club, said dryly. "He loved to show off those muscles—it was one fault I found with him. But everybody liked George."
But now George is accused of murdering Henry D. Whittenburg, 31, South Texas ginner, and is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Air Force Cpl. James Lindsay, 30, of Oneda, Tenn. Both men were slain in separate rooms, on separate floors, in a downtown Laredo hotel Sunday.
George knew Lindsay but it has not been established that he ever met Whittenburg. The slain men were acquainted, and both knew Mrs. Rosa Maria Ochoa, George's beautiful wife, District Attorney E. James Kazen said Thursday.
Both Whittenburg, who operated the Farmers Gin Company here, and Lindsay, who had lived here before and had come back to see his wife, were killed with shots from a .32 caliber pistol.
"The motive?"
"I think there was a motive of jealousy," Police Chief D. O. Galagher said. He declined to elaborate.
Born in Laredo, George inherited the prosperous customs brokerage business established by his father. His firm, which handles the shipping of goods from Mexico to the United States, provided him with plenty of money—and spare time.
"He was very touchy when drinking," Manuel Garza said.
And he was drinking last Saturday night. He had some beers at the Nuevo Laredo Country Club and then went to a bar in Laredo, about 9 p. m. He tackled Alberto Molina, a lighter younger man, who also was at the bar, and mugged him up pretty badly. Molina went downstairs to a pool parlor to wash off the blood and then went back upstairs and

West Texas Gas Company Installs Short Wave Radio

West Texas Gas Company announced Thursday that it recently has completed the installation of nine fixed short wave radio stations along its more than 800 miles of transmission lines.
The company has also equipped 30 trucks and automobiles with two-way radios.
This radio net work together with more than 300 miles of company-owned telephone lines and long distance commercial lines provides as good a communication system as is available.
R. F. Hinchey, president of West Texas Gas Company, explained, "Communication between all points of West Texas Gas Company's transmission lines is very essential and must be maintained at all times in order that it may render good natural gas service to the thousands of homes and businesses in the 23 counties the company serves."

Confessions Of Engel—

n't afford her gifts to me I tried to give them back.
I am what I am, with no apologies. I dealt in romance, period. For a price I have brought exquisite moments of happiness to lonely women in a dozen lands. Women seeking defenders should apply elsewhere.
There ought to be a place in this world for at least one joybreaker like myself. Scoffers at this idea should examine my fan mail. Ninety per cent of my correspondents term me a "fascinating rascal" and wish me well.
My price was often high. However, it was not always paid with cash on the barrel-head. I, too, have a fondness for exquisite moments—an Achilles' heel.
Change Of Pace
Aware of my charm, confident of mastery of my subject, knowing my unusual power, occasionally I ignored the "money angle" and paused to dally along the way. My motives were often mixed. Observe my change of pace.
"Milford" boomed the Baroness Hochst Lichtenstein of Vienna, who deemed me her equal, "you are incorrigible—and I love it."
The baroness was midwived and mountainous. From her loaded drawers cheerfully accepted diamond donations totaling more than $100,000.
"Dahling," burbled Marguerite (Peggy) Hoffman, penniless estranged wife of a rich Chicago furrier, "you're simply the nuts—and I'm wild about you."
Peggy was shapely and excitingly beautiful. I overlooked her deplorable penury and we travelled as a team, gayly evading her evidence seeking mate.
"You matchless old fraud," cried Marie Collins, astute handler of theatrical talent, "I can't resist you. Let's make money and have fun—together."
Nestled $150,000
Here was a business woman with feminine allure. I joined her in a Hong Kong theater venture netting me $150,000. Romance filled the moments in between.
My life with 1,001 women has been fabulous—to what end? My editors would like to moralize, to rue my mispent years in Elysian fields, to warn naive widows against the wiles of wolves in tails and top-hats.
Alas, I am no moralist. I shall end the giddy masquerade, let my hair down, "tell all," as the saying is; but I shall have to hew to the facts and let the morals fall where they may. Seek well, and they may be discovered.

Perhaps there's a lesson in this: At 74 my current address (very temporary, I hope and trust) is the Cook County Jail, Chicago. Any who murmur that this is no situation for an elderly man of dignity will be right, indubitably.
Cannot Change
Yet I have few regrets. I have lived fully, if dangerously. I cannot change. I wouldn't if I could. Incorrigible? Like the baroness, hundreds of women found me that way—and loved me. Where's the incentive for change?
Men and women alike are curious about Sigmund Engel, now a

They named me Sigmund Samuel Engel; that middle initial "Z" resulted from a newspaper mistake and I let it go. I always admired names like John Q. Adams and Francis X. Bushman. I felt it added a touch of distinction.
I have a sister, Ernestine, three years my junior. She is now happily married in Milwaukee and desires no part of her roughish brother. So be it. My parents, are buried in Milwaukee. May they rest in peace.
As a boy my home life was normal and happy. My father was wealthy and I was brought up in genuine luxury. At Eddy Street Grammar School, in High School and at California U. in Berkeley, Calif., I was graduated with high honors in law and art. A brilliant future was predicted for me.

My interest in girls was only passive, though I was a campus favorite. I recall one early "love" with a girl whose books I carried to classes. At 22 I had a diploma and began study in a San Francisco law office.
Handling certain legal matters for Martin Beck, the theater magnate, I developed a sudden passion for show business. At the old Orpheum, then managed by Beck, I was presented to Rosita Renee, even then a circuit headliner.
The singer's glamour bedazzled me. I must have had a love affair for she quickly returned my love. After two days we were married. The year, 1897. So I awoke to find myself a family man and kneed-deep in show business. I envisioned a glorious life with a single woman. Tragic, isn't it?

(Young Engel appears in tomorrow's installment as a family man, vaudeville star, talent manager and caffeine romancer whose peccadilloes ended his marriage and launched his great lover career.)

San Angelo Takes Final Game, 11-4

The Midland Indians hit the road Thursday for a week before returning to the Reservatorium. They open a three-game series in Sweetwater, Thursday night.

The San Angelo Colts salvaged the final game of their three-game series with the Midland Indians Wednesday night. The Concho Country boys piled up a heavy lead in the early innings to take a 11 to 4 decision from Harold Webb's Braves.

Ernie Nelson was on the mound for Midland as the starting hurler. It was his first appearance in more than two weeks. He lasted seven innings before giving way to Julian Presley.

The Colts counted four times in the third frame to break the ice and kept adding their runs in bunches. Two singles, a double, a triple and a Midland error accounted for the first rally.

Nelson whiffed the side in the fourth and faced only four men in the fifth.

Colts Score Again
In the sixth San Angelo broke loose for two more. A walk, a triple and a single brought them in. Nelson allowed one in the seventh, a home run over the leftfield wall by Outfielder Karger.

The Colts finished up with four in the eighth. A walk, interference by the catcher, two singles and a double supplied the power. The Indians counted their four in the last of the eighth. Ralph Blair opened with a single, Bob Rose walked and Stanley Hughes singled to score Blair. Warren Sitter singled Rose home. A single by Julian Presley then scored Hughes and Sitter tallied on Hunter's balk.

Austin Two Hits
Hunter put the Indians down in order in the last of the ninth to notch his first victory since coming to the Colts from Temple.

Buck Austin was the only Midland batter to collect two hits off Hunter.

The box score:

Team	AB	R	H	O	A
San Angelo	35	11	20	7	7
Midland	33	4	6	27	11

Defensive play such as that helps the pitchers more than anything in a tight game. In the eighth Leon Hayes in his 10-inning performance Monday night.

Another amazing thing among the Indians is the hitting of Buck Austin. Austin violates all the practices usually observed by a good hitter—then knocks the cover off the ball. He steps in the bucket, swings at inside pitches and many other things not commonly considered as good points for a batter.

For the last week he has been hitting just as much as anyone on the ball club and several of his knocks have gone for extra bases. As long as he can hit like he is now—who would ever ask him to change his stance?

Coaches Pick Ponies To Repeat In 1949

BEAUMONT—(P)—The Southwest Conference football race this year will be one of the best-balanced in history but Southern Methodist will repeat with the championship.

That was the consensus of coaches from the seven school in radio interviews here Wednesday night.

The coaches were interviewed by Harold V. Ratliff, sports editor of The Associated Press, as a feature of the Texas Coaching School.

Appearing on the program were Blair Cherry, head coach at Texas; Harry Stidler, head coach of Texas A&M; Bob Woodruff, head coach of Baylor, and Assistant Coaches Deke Brackett of Arkansas, Rusty Russell of Southern Methodist, Abe Martin of Texas Christian and Joe Davis of Rice.

Seven Nominated For Rookie Award In Longhorn League

ABILENE—(P)—Seven first-year men have been nominated for the Longhorn League's "Rookie of the Year" award.

Sports writers and broadcasters who cover the circuit have selected Bill Dosey, Ballinger; Carlos Pascual, Big Spring; Wayne Batson, Odessa; Kenneth Jones, Midland; Wayne Wallace, San Angelo; Roy Hill, Roswell, and Wayne Moon, Vernon.

From this list the newsmen will make their final choice August 15. League President Hal Sayles will make the award later in the month.

Three-foot, 11-inch Charlie Young looks like he could make good use of a stepladder to take the measurements of this beauty lineup. The girls, most of whom are more than six feet in their stocking feet, are competing for the title of queen of the Tall People's Clubs convention in New York. The winner was a mere pee'wee, Helen Lukacs, of Chicago, third from the left. She's only five-foot-11.

Ike Wins Another

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(P)—World Lightweight Champion Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., won a unanimous decision over Benny Walker of Oakland in a 10-round non-title fight Wednesday night. Williams weighed 140 and Walker 143.

Frank Frisch, Chicago Cub manager, never played minor league ball. He left Fordham University in 1919 to play with the Giants.

League Records Fall In 11-Frame, 13-13 Melee

Two all-time Texas League records were broken, along with probably a few score-keepers' pencils, when fourth-place Oklahoma City and sixth-place San Antonio battled to a wild, 11-inning 13-13, tie Wednesday night.

The game was called at the end of the eleventh because of the league curfew.

The Fort Worth-Sweetwater game also was called at the end of 10 innings to allow the Sports to catch a train. The score was 3-all at the time.

The seventh-place Beaumont Exporters whitewashed the third-place Dallas Eagles 10-0. And second-place Tulsa trounced last-place Houston 8-1.

San Antonio scored nine runs in the fourth frame. Oklahoma City then tallied eight in the bottom of the fourth to tie the score, 13-13. That ended the scoring for the night, and established a new one-inning scoring record for the league—17 runs.

Ten Hurlers Told
The hurlers also cracked an 18-year-old record for the number of pitchers used in one inning. The Texas League sent a total of seven to the mound in the fourth. Ten hurlers told for the two teams in all.

Fort Worth trailed 3-1 entering the bottom of the ninth. A broken bat single by Hank Wylie tallied two runs to tie the score. Neither team could score in the tenth.

Tulsa scored five runs in the first inning to lead Houston. The tallies came off three hits, a walk and three errors by the Buffs' second baseman, Solly Hemus.

Beaumont's Zeke Melignano hurled three-hit ball to subdue Dallas' Johnny Hernandez, hit a leadoff homer in the second and a three-run homer his next time at bat, in the third. Tom Upton homered for the Exporters in the sixth.

Odessa Eliminated In Legion Tourney

BRYAN—(P)—The Galveston and Laredo American Legion junior baseball clubs play here Thursday night for the right to battle Sunset of Dallas in the finals of the state tournament Friday night.

Sunset drew a bye into the final round after defeating Galveston's Rattlers in a 5-5 defeat Wednesday night.

Laredo blanked Odessa 4-0 to stay in the running.

Outstanding feat of Wednesday night's play was the hurling of Sammy Ward of Laredo, who scattered five Odessa hits for the shut-out victory.

John Lobert was 60 years old when he made his debut as big league manager with the Phillies in 1942.

Little Professor's Bat Sparks Bosox In Pennant Surge

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dominic DiMaggio, Joe's "kid brother," is sparking the Boston Red Sox's belated pennant drive with his 30-game hitting streak.

The little professor must hit in 26 more consecutive games before he can tie his big brother's major league record of 56, set in 1941.

With DiMaggio on his batting spree, Ted Williams leading the league in hitting at .344 and the pitching staff rounding into form, the Sox look like the standout team they were supposed to be last Spring.

Still third, six full games behind the New York Yankees and two back of second-place Cleveland, the Sox once again are within striking distance of the leaders.

Ellis Kinder's 14-strikeout job in Wednesday's 9-3 romp over the St. Louis Browns is the latest indication of Boston's new-found pitching strength.

The New York Yankees boosted their margin over Cleveland to four games by downing Detroit 7-5. The Indian's scheduled night game in Washington was rained out.

Hank Blaustein, Connie Mack's rookie first baseman, saved his first hit of the season for a big moment.

Whipping Chicago 3-2 with an eighth inning double.
St. Louis clung to its half-game lead over Brooklyn in the National League by blanking Boston 7-0 Wednesday night after the Dodgers thumped Pittsburgh 10-5 in the afternoon.

The New York Giants ran their streak to six straight victories, dumping Chicago 4-1.
Earl Balfanzberger of Cincinnati turned in the pitching gem with a two-hit shutout over Philadelphia 2-0.

GIRL AGAINST THE CHANNEL;

Seems To Me I've Always Known How To Swim, Says Shirley May France

At rest, Shirley looks like any other pretty teen-age girl as she sits in the sun beside a pool.

At work, Shirley May France is a powerful swimmer whose stroke "has been developed to be slow and easy" to avoid tiring.

By SHIRLEY MAY FRANCE

(Copyright 1949 by NEA Service, Inc.)

DOVER, ENGLAND—When things get so bad they can't get any worse, then they've got to improve.

An old sea captain gave me that advice Wednesday when I wondered about the weather, which they say is the worst ever faced by a would-be channel swimmer.

I've had nothing but rain and wind since I've been here. Wednesday there even were gale warnings flying along the channel.

But my coach, Harry Boudakian, and my father agreed with me that I ought to train anyway, since on the actual swim I might start in the mildest of weather and run into a storm a few hours later. It could happen over here.

So I went out and battled the winds, swimming through waves that broke over me occasionally, even though I remained inside the Dover breakwater. Outside the breakwater hundreds of cross-channel passengers lined the decks of the ferries gazing with seasickness.

I caught a glimpse of them occasionally but I think they were too busy being unhappy to notice me.

It's getting to be a personal feud between me and the channel. Every day I say to myself: "I'll show you who's boss" and we really have a knock-down fight all the time I'm in the water.

The stroke I'll use in attempting to swim the channel is the one I've always used. It seems to me that I've always known how to swim, but my father says he taught me when I was six.

His early teaching is undoubtedly what has made me a champion, plus the fine points Coach Harry Boudakian has given me.

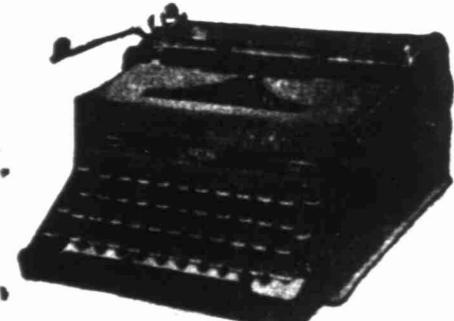

I use a simple crawl stroke, with a flutter kick. My head never leaves the water. I just turn it to the side for breathing.

Most sprint stars use the same stroke, but there is a difference which makes me unsuited for short distances at high speeds. That difference is timing and rhythm.

My stroke has been developed to be slow and easy. It doesn't tire me out. A sprinter, of course, must be short and fast with his stroke. He must be racing time, while I'm racing fatigue. I've got to do everything I can to keep from tiring myself out.

The stroke is about the most important element in that fight. That's why it's slow, so my muscles won't have to work so hard. If you want to get an idea of the rhythm with which my arms move, sing "Slow Boat to China."

Swimming coaches who have seen me in action say that I'm timed to the split second.

Swim Meet Slated For Saturday

Final preparations were being made by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday for the First Annual West Texas Invitation Swimming Tournament to be held here Saturday. The meet will be staged at the VFW Pool nine miles west of the city.

Wade Whiteley, coach of the Midland Junior Chamber swimmers, reported his team is ready. He said entries from other cities are coming in, indicating a record number will be present.

Fifteen cities in this area were invited to send teams to the tourney.

Prizes will be awarded for the first three places in each event and trophies will be awarded the winning teams.

Lamesa Climbs Up To Tie For Second Place In Standings

By The Associated Press

The Lamesa Lobos have climbed to a second-place tie with Abilene and the Pampa Oilers have moved into a fifth-place tie with Amarillo in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Dan Pinto slammed out a three-run homer in the seventh inning of the game. The Oilers have a 7-5 win over Lubbock. Mike Dooly and Jackie Sullivan homered for Lubbock in the fourth.

Pampa rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to defeat Abilene 5-4. Everett, Oiler third baseman, hit a three-run homer in the spurge.

Borger batsmen blasted out 29 hits in trouncing Clovis 20-8. Six home runs were hit during the game.

Amarillo's scheduled game at Albuquerque was rained out.

All-Star Gridders

Wind Up Practice Drills Thursday

BEAUMONT — (AP) — Schoolboy football squads wind up practice Thursday for the annual all-star game of the Texas Coaching School.

The teams, being coached by Carl Snavely of North Carolina and Don Faurot of Missouri, meet Friday night in the climaxing feature of the clinic.

One player was added to the South squad Wednesday. He was Bob Honeycutt of Gladewater, who was brought here when Don Carpenter of Milby (Houston) suffered a knee injury.

Another injury was reported Wednesday afternoon but it was not in practice. After the workout for the day had been completed, Bob Rooker of Lubbock, member of the North squad, threw his knee out of joint while practicing placekicking.

The injury was not serious and Rooker, an end, is expected to be able to play.

Snavely is the North coach with Faurot tutoring the South.

Dom DiMaggio, who hit 318 for the Boston Red Sox in 1946, is on his way to a higher average this season.

Rotary Engineers, Reporter-Telegram Knock Off First Division Clubs In Softball Tilts

The red-hot Rotary Engineers moved a step closer to the first division of the Midland Softball League Wednesday night by dumping second-place Joe's Gulf 10 to 0. The Reporter-Telegram edged Shell 12 to 10 in an extra-inning tussle.

W. C. Hammit hurled his best of the season for Rotary, allowing only two hits. The Oilers had only six men to reach base. Slick Mangrum homered for Rotary.

Leroy Collyar, Reporter-Telegram pitcher, won his own game by doubling home the winning runs in the ninth inning. Yancy and A. C. Tredway hit home runs for the Reporter. Yancy's lick was one of the longest ever poked at Wadley Park.

Allison, Edwards and Beggs starred on defense for the newboys.

Two makeup games are scheduled at Wadley Thursday night.

League-leading Western Plastic meets Shell in the first game and Rotary Engineers play the Reporter.

Texans Sweep Four Small Gauge Events

DALLAS—(AP)—With one trophy safely tucked away, 18-year-old Ben D. Jorie, Jr., of Utiqa, N. Y., tried to pick up another—and bigger—one in the National Street Tournament.

Wednesday he scored a perfect 100x100 to win the Champion of Champions Bob Canfield Memorial Trophy, open only to state champions in 12-gauge or smaller guns.

Thursday he defended his national 20-gauge championship.

Three other titles were on the block Thursday. Mrs. John LaFare, Jr., Haverford, Pa., defended her national women's 20-gauge crown.

H. C. Russell of Minneapolis was on hand to defend his industry 20-gauge title, and Herman Ehler of Dallas defended their two-man 20-gauge championship.

Texans won all four small gauge trophies Wednesday. Grant Tinseng of Houston shot a perfect 100x100 to keep his small gauge crown. Mrs. Janice Mason of Dallas won the women's small gauge.

D. Lee Braun of Dallas won the industry small gauge with 98x100. Ehler and Conway fired 18x200 to take the two-man small gauge crown.

Of the five pinch hitters used in the recent All-Star game only Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals hit safely.

Former Governor Is Accused Of Shielding Georgia Bootleggers

ATLANTA—(AP)—Former Gov. M. E. Thompson and other Georgia political leaders were accused Wednesday night of protecting bootleggers who flooded the state's dry counties with illegal whisky.

A counterfeiting angle was added to the already sensational developments Thursday.

State Revenue Commissioner Charles Redwine exploded the political bombshell. He said he based the charges on the testimony of a former Revenue Department official, a special state investigator and other state agents.

Redwine already has made his information and exhibits available to a Fulton (Atlanta) County grand jury.

The testimony, as quoted by Redwine, centered on the 1947-48 Thompson Administration. The commissioner also mentioned former Gov. E. D. Rivers, Thompson's political friend, former Revenue Commissioners Glenn Phillips and Downing Musgrove, former Liquor Enforcement Chief T. M. Price, and big liquor dealers.

Counterfeit Stamps

A two-foot stack of records were turned over to Fulton Solicitor Paul Webb. The exhibits show more than $1,000,000 in 1,300 illegal sales to dry counties in a six-month period, from June 14, 1948, to Jan. 8, 1949, Redwine said.

He added they were seized in a raid on an Atlanta wholesale liquor firm. Seven cases of whisky also were confiscated. Redwine said the state tax stamps on this liquor were counterfeit.

The far-flung liquor ring apparently flourished under state protection, the commissioner charged. Three witnesses, he added, spoke of a 60-cent per case "fee" on the bootleg liquor. Special Investigator Charles Blum was quoted as saying the fee "was added to the list price to go into a campaign fund."

Thompson, Phillips and Musgrove denied any part in the ring outlined by Redwine.

Truman Expresses Hope For Oil Loan Sought By Mexico

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said Thursday the United States has not rejected a loan for Mexican oil development. He reiterated that he hoped that a loan could be worked out.

Truman made this clear at a news conference when he was asked whether the United States had rejected the loan because Mexico did not pay back claims growing out of expropriation of oil refineries.

Quickly Truman said the loan had not been rejected and that he hoped it could be worked out. With that, he ended further discussion of the subject.

In a previous conference, Truman had said the negotiations for the loan ran into a stytle.

Scattered Storms Keep Texans Cool

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms jumped along the Gulf Coast of Texas Thursday morning and light rain was reported at Amarillo and El Paso.

Temperatures in the early morning hours were cool—good sleeping weather. They ranged from 60 at Amarillo and Dalhart to 77 at Galveston.

Spotty showers Wednesday kept the weather mild except along the Rio Grande. In that area Laredo had 101 degrees; Presidio 103.

The lowest maximum was 80 at Lubbock. That West Texas town reported .15 inch of rain.

Other rainfall included: Amarillo .27, Big Spring .24, El Paso .13, Houston .38, Galveston .38, Dalhart .09 and Cleardon .09.

Equally Attractive Girls May Vary In Success With Men

By MITH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"Why is it," a 20-year-old girl wants to know, "that some girls attract one man after another while other girls, who may be just as good-looking, fall time and time again to get more than one or two dates with a man?"

It's because, though men aren't all alike, what attracts one man usually attracts other men.

Assuming that two girls are equally pleasant to look at from a masculine point of view, it's easy to figure out which one will appeal to men if:

One of them sets out to show a man how intelligent she is and the other one sets out to show a man how intelligent he is.

One of them is self-conscious and ill at ease and the other is so much at ease herself she can put the man at ease, too.

One of them is completely feminine in her interests and attitudes and the other prides herself on being different from most women.

One of them laughs often and easily at the man's attempts at humor and the other tries to make him think how clever she is.

One of them has a low and pleasant voice and the other talks continuously in a voice pitched to drown out any interruption.

Good Grooming
One of them seems to shine with cleanliness from her glistening hair to her well-manicured hands and

Other girls go in for the "sloppy" look.

One of them is easy to get along with and the other one never seems to be having a good time.

One of them talks about herself all the time and the other encourages the man to do most of the talking, but so subtly that he doesn't realize he's doing it.

One of them is lady-like in manner and the other is willing to make herself conspicuous in order to attract attention.

Those are just a few of the reasons why two girls can share beauty honors and yet one of them clicks with men and the other doesn't. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

A-Bomb 'Stockpile' Doesn't Mean Missiles
Are Piled Up Like Brick, AEC Declares

WASHINGTON—(AP)—When you hear about a "stockpile" of atomic bombs, don't get the idea they are piled up like bricks.
The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) itself says so, although it does use the word "stockpile."
Well, what's the AEC's definition of "stockpile" as used in its last semi-annual report?
"It means," the commission said in reply to a reporter's query, "to accumulate."
Period.
The AEC replied "no comment" to a query whether its use of the term stockpile meant assembled bombs.
But no matter how our supply of bombs may be kept in stock, they are kept ready for quick use if need should arise.
AEC Chief Lillenthal made that clear at a recent congressional hearing.
Representative Hollifield (D-Calif.)

Conferees Expected
To Agree Promptly
On Cotton Program

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A quick agreement by House and Senate is expected to speed to President Truman's desk legislation clearing the way for cotton farmers to slash their acreage beginning in 1950. The idea is to ward off future sharp price breaks.
The House passed a bill late Wednesday authorizing the secretary of agriculture to fix two-thirds of the farmers approve to limit 1950 cotton plantings to 21,000,000 acres. There were 26,380,000 planted this year.
Similar legislation has been passed by the Senate. A House-Senate conference committee will iron out the differences.
The House bill, by Representative Pace (D-Ga.), also takes steps in preparing for wheat production controls to protect growers in areas where wheat acreage has expanded rapidly in recent years. Similar protection is sought in the bill for new growers of peanuts.
The Pace bill's primary purpose is to bring about a balance of cotton production with demand, to maintain the cotton price support program. Such a balance is intended to forestall government losses on the loans it makes to support cotton prices. The bill amends the present law under which the secretary of agriculture cannot allot less than 27,500,000 acres.
Referendum Necessary
In the years beyond 1950 the bill provides that the secretary can allot acreage to hold cotton production down to 10,000,000 bales a year, or at 1,000,000 bales under the total of the preceding year's combined domestic consumption and exports.
The 1948 cotton crop was 14,626,000 bales.
The Pace bill authorizes the secretary to call for a farmer referendum on cotton acreage controls. If two-thirds of the planters approve quotas, then the controlled acreage will be broken down among the states and apportioned to the counties and ultimately to the individual farmers.
If the planters reject quotas, then they will get no government price supports.
The bill has a special provision for trends in cotton production, giving special weight to increased plantings in the West during the last three years.

Would Replace Bronze Statue Melted Down
By Nazis To Honor Discoverers Of Quinine

MADISON, WIS.—(NEA)—An international movement has been started to replace a bronze statue to the discoverers of quinine which was melted down by Nazis during the war for its metal.
Quinine was isolated by two youthful French pharmacists, Joseph Pelletier and Joseph Caventou, contributed in 1820 to the funds with which a statue to Pelletier and Caventou was erected in Paris. In 1941 the occupying Germans, hard-pressed for metal for armaments, scrapped it.

Since the war, representatives of the French government, learned societies, and the medical, pharmaceutical and chemical professions and industries have approved a design for a new statue. Dr. George Urdaug, professor at the School of Pharmacy at the University of Wisconsin and director of the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy, has agreed to head the drive in this country for the $20,000 that the new statue will cost.
"France gave to America the Statue of Liberty," Dr. Urdaug said. "It gave quinine to the world through Pelletier and Caventou. We helped her regain her national liberty and we could, in restoring one obvious evidence of what she did for mankind and for the United States, manifest our awareness of our deep debt and obligation."

It's A Pipe

William D. Roysa, a Bowling Green (Ohio) State University junior, was one of a seven-man crew cleaning sewers at Bay Village, Ohio. It was nice and cool down there and Roysa told his fellow-workers 'You know, for $28, I'd stay in this sewer all night.' Timothy Aspery took him up on it and Roysa won the bet. Above, the heavy iron grill that covered the sewer opening has been removed so he can have his picture taken with Aspery, right, and Thomas Hill. Roysa, sewer-bound from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m., said it 'wasn't bad down there' despite a foot of water at the bottom and an odor that definitely was not Chanel No. 5.

+ Wink News +

WINK—Mrs. Reviea Kegler, Mrs. Ted Uso and Mrs. Creek Brown were business visitors in Pecos last week. A. G. Lee, Vernon Painter and W. Williams of the Humble Pipe Line Company attended the barbecue and retirement party given for J. W. Thomas recently at Cloverdale Park in Midland. Mrs. Ann Jacobi of Electrica, Rev. and Mrs. Dittler, several families and about 15 intermediates of the First Methodist Church left recently for the Methodist assembly grounds at Sacramento, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Smith were business visitors in Iran for several days. H. L. Waldrop, young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Waldrop, was seriously burned last week when he pulled a pan of hot gravy over on him. J. T. Parrish has returned from several days spent in the Winkler County Memorial Hospital in Kermit. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilson, Barbara and Nancy, have returned from a weekend spent in El Paso and Juarez.

Here's all you have to do to be eligible to win in WHITE MAGIC SOAP'S MAGIC QUIZ

1. Be prepared to answer the Question of the Week of the White Magic Soap Quiz. This should call your home on the telephone.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK August 1 to August 6, 1949

What is a Gondola?

2. And be prepared to answer a second question which will appear in some part of the printed portion appearing on a package of White Magic Soap. Featured in all SAFEWAY STORES.

3. If you live within a 20-mile radius of a SAFEWAY STORE in any of the following states you are eligible to receive a telephone call from the White Magic Soap Quiz Man: California, Oregon, Washington, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, Western Texas, Nevada.

4. Telephone numbers to be called will be selected on an impartial basis by the Ruben H. Donnelly Corporation, to insure absolute fairness in the selection of numbers to be called. Anyone in your home may answer the question.

5. The contest will open on July 25, 1949, and will run for 8 consecutive weeks, closing on September 17, 1949.

6. The White Magic Soap Quiz Man will place all calls from contest headquarters in the Los Angeles area on Monday through Friday - excepting holidays - between the hours of 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. Pacific Standard Time.

7. You may have a package of White Magic Soap (available at Safeway) handy for quick reference, or you may use a facsimile of the illustration and copy appearing on a White Magic Soap package, or you may remember what appears thereon. But you must have on hand anything to be eligible for a prize. For a package of White Magic Soap will certainly make it easier for you to answer the second question - if you are called.

8. Contest subject to all Federal and State regulations.

9. Employees of Safeway Stores, Inc., their relatives and divisions, advertising agencies, and the contest judging organization - and their families - are not eligible as contestants.

Mayes Electric Handles Wiring, Large Or Small

Estimates on any type of inside wiring will be cheerfully given by the Mayes Electric Company, 1013 North Loraine Street. The telephone number is 186.

No matter how small the job, it will be given as strict attention as the largest contract. Home wiring is a specialty of the Mayes Electric Company.

Among the larger contracts now being handled by the firm are the Skelly Building and First National Bank Building.

Although the firm handles some of the city's biggest contract jobs, it always is ready to extend to Midland the value of its experience, no matter how minor the job.

The firm was opened here about a year ago.

Four Service Trucks

tures, of which there is a design and type for every purpose. She also will assist the home owner in selecting the right fixture for the various purposes and rooms.

All employees of the firm have several years experience behind them and J. C. Mayes, the owner, is a veteran in the business. He is assisted by his son, J. C. Mayes, Jr., who studied electrical engineering at Texas A&M College.

Locksmith's Wife Not Bad Herself

CHARLESTON, W. VA. —(AP)—What does the locksmith's wife do when he is busy picking locks? She picks locks herself. That is, if she is like Mrs. Madelyn Judy, attractive wife of Charleston locksmith Reardon Judy.

He likes to recall that shortly after their marriage, before he knew of her talent, he left her in charge of the shop while he was out on a job. Four allegedly pickproof locks were in the shop at the time. When he returned they were pickproof no longer.

"A lot of people come into the shop with locks they want picked and ask for my husband," she said. "They seem surprised when I tell them I can do it."

Shanghai Officials Say Mah Jong Taboo

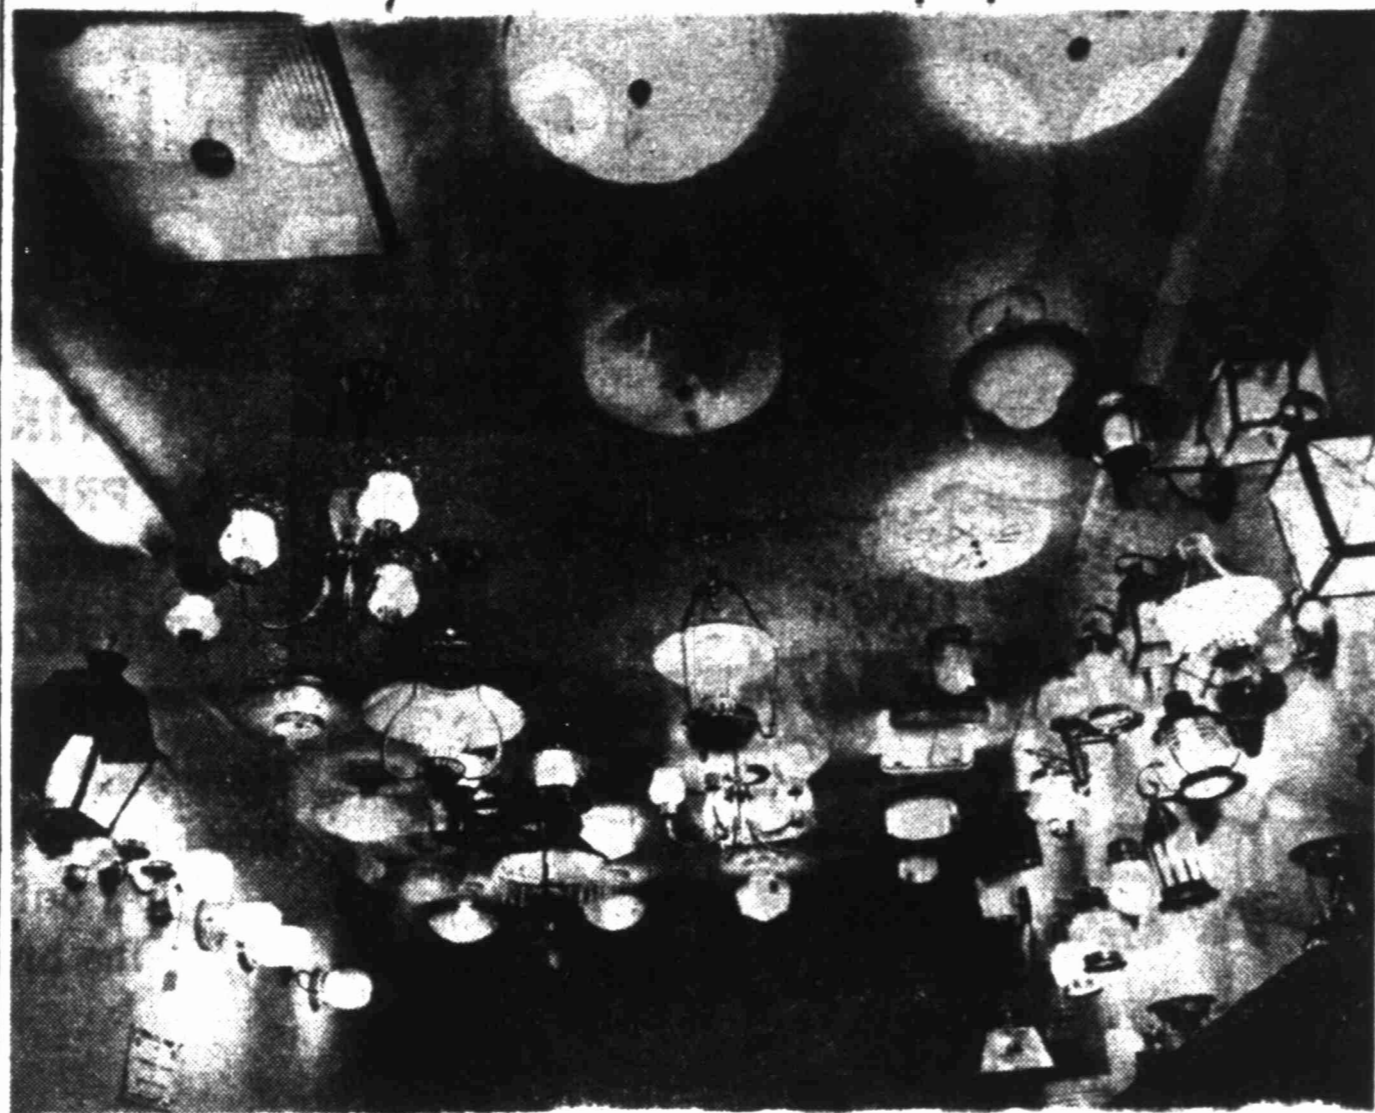

SHANGHAI—(AP)—Now mah jong is taboo in Shanghai.

Communist authorities have decreed it was a waste of time to play China's favorite game.

Sixty-eight players have been arrested, fined up to 40,000 Communist dollars each, sentenced to jail and made to sweep the streets.

Mah jong, a game with domino-like tiles, was popular in the United States in the late twenties.

Mayes Electric Fixtures Displayed

Pictured is a portion of the electrical fixtures at Mayes Electric Company, 1013 North Loraine Street. The home owner can find fixtures to suit any need, and in any price range. New fixtures are arriving daily to keep the stock complete, therefore offering the customer a wide variety. Mayes Electric Company also will contract to wire residences or any other types of building.

Majestic Cleaners Keep Fabrics Fine

You can leave your finest fabrics, along with your everyday clothes, at the Majestic Cleaners, 615 West Wall Street, and they will receive the same efficient and dependable treatment.

Since the firm handles all types of fabrics it is unnecessary to make more than one stop in leaving your work to be done.

All work is given several thorough inspections before being turned back to the owner. Some articles are given as many as four inspections, according to E. G. Dill, manager.

All employees of the Majestic Cleaners have had several years experience in dry cleaning and finishing.

Cleaning of delicate silks and other fine fabrics is a specialty of the firm.

Summer weight woollens and gabardines are handled with special care and are finished without the "shine" which often times will result from inferior work.

The Majestic Cleaners is equipped with Billingsley equipment, which is of the latest design.

Harlingen Men May Take Mexico Warning

HARLINGEN —(AP)—A Harlingen masseur says he has been asked to take his "save the lives of aliens" campaign "to the cities of Mexico."

P. Ferree said Celestina Aleman, Mexican immigration chief at Matamoros, made the request. Ferree and Aleman conferred at the Mexican city.

Ferree is making a Rio Grande Valley crusade to warn Mexican cotton pickers to return to their country only through legal ports of entry.

RUSSIANS PRINT HOWARD FAST'S 'FREEDOM' BOOK

MOSCOW —(AP)—Howard Fast's book, "The Road to Freedom" has been published here in Russian.

Reviewing it "Culture and Life" said it "has the force of an indictment of the whole social and political structure of contemporary America."

Dill had several years experience in dry cleaning before going into business for himself. He served 38 months in World War II and with the exception of that period has been engaged in the dry cleaning business since 1935.

The telephone number of the Majestic Cleaners is 2847.

Three Units Of Baker Oil Company

Three outlets are served by the Baker Oil Company, wholesale dealer for Cosden products here.

R. B. Baker has been manager of the firm for the past five years and has been a Midland resident for the last 24 years.

The present thriving business had a modest beginning. It includes several services in addition to oil and gasoline.

A butane service was added last year and the company also handles kitchen appliances.

The most recent addition to the Baker Oil Company is a wholesale and retail diesel fuel service.

The office is at 1409 East Wall Street.

Baker declares the firm's growth is due to the excellent patronage of Midland and area residents and that further growth of the business is certain if the present progressive trend here continues.

Stations leased by the Baker Oil Company all are staffed with expert service men and besides gasoline, motor oils and greases these establishments carry a full line of tires, tubes, batteries and other accessories.

Cosden products are featured.

It is estimated that some 12 million bicycles are in use in this country today.

Daddy Ringtail And The Black Sheep

One day Daddy Ringtail sat down on the limb of a tree, and with him was Sammy Ringtail, the monkey boy. They were watching three sheep who were playing around in a field. One of the sheep was black. The other two were white.

"Watch them!" Daddy Ringtail whispered to Sammy. "They will do everything their leader does. He may lead them into trouble."

The black sheep was the leader. He jumped across a creek, and the other two jumped after him. The black sheep took a nibble of grass, and the other sheep took a nibble too.

"Do they have to do everything their leader does?" Sammy asked. "No," Daddy Ringtail said, "they the leaders to quit their job of leading, I think, don't you? Oh, but a happy day to you at your house, and tomorrow I'll tell you the adventure about Daddy Ringtail and Buffen House. (Copyright 1949, General Features Corp.)

don't have to, but they always do. A sheep always does everything that the leader does."

Then the black sheep, who was the leader, began to walk along a tree—one that had fallen across the creek, like a bridge. The tree was narrow and slippery.

"Those sheep had better watch out!" Daddy Ringtail said. "They will fall in the water. They will get wet and cold."

And that's what the leader did! Kersplash!

Now the other sheep, who weren't thinking much at all, saw the black sheep fall in the water. But it must have seemed to them that the black sheep jumped in the water, for they jumped in the water with him. The three of them were now so wet and cold. They began to sneeze.

"What do you think about that, Sammy Ringtail?" Daddy Ringtail asked. "Did the sheep do wrong to follow the leader?"

"They got into trouble," Sammy said. "They didn't have a wise leader—and they forgot to think for themselves."

Oh well, Sammy decided, people should follow the leaders, but first be sure that the leaders are good and wise. If the leaders try to lead into mischief, then it is time for

Polar Expeditions Require Much Planning, But Resulting Knowledge Worth Expense

GPN at work in Little America IV. Ground Pulse Navigation unit keeps track of all aircraft within a 30-mile range. Ships of Adm. Byrd's exploratory fleet (background) are anchored in Bay of Whales.

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Plans for another American expedition to the South Pole are now almost complete and await only the official announcement of the departure date. Modern expeditions to the Antarctic might be more comfortable than they were in the days of Amundsen, Cook, Scott and Wilkes, but they are infinitely more complex to plan. When those hardy old-time explorers got their violent seizures of wanderlust, they got a good boat with thick sides, rounded up a bunch of rugged gents, bought two good compasses and some dried meat and shoved off. Today when that greatest of all Antarctic explorers, Adm. Richard E. Byrd, decides to revisit

Here's How To Get On A Quiz Program

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(AP)—One lady in the radio audience waved some lingerie over her head. Another held up a live squawking chicken. "They were trying to attract the attention of an announcer selecting contestants from the audience to appear on a quiz program."

"But that isn't the way to get on a quiz show," agreed Marie Goodson and Bill Todman. "We aren't looking for screwballs."

These two young men—both under 40—are authorities on how to be chosen to appear on the radio give-aways. They've picked thousands of contestants for the five network quiz shows they produce—Stop the Music, Winner Take All, Hit the Jackpot, Beat the Clock and Spin to Win.

No Master Minds
"What do they look for?"

"We're not looking for the greatest brains in the studio," said Todman. "We're looking for nice people the audience will like."

"Yes," said Goodson. "We want to avoid people who are off balance. The art in getting selected as a contestant lies in attracting the announcer's eye without scaring him away by being too brash or anxious."

Women wearing white gloves and a large hat are likely to be chosen merely because they stand out to the announcer as he passes through the audience. But a woman wearing flashy jewelry automatically is rejected.

"People don't like to see anyone win money who already looks as if he had more than he needed," explained Goodson.

Over the years the producers have found housewives often make better contestants than college teachers.

"The housewife doesn't feel she has to prove she's smart, so she is more relaxed," said Todman.

They also have learned that men or women from the South or Southwest part of America make the best contestants on a geographic basis.

"It isn't that they are any more intelligent or better informed," remarked Goodson. "They simply are more friendly and homey-talking."

Who makes the ideal contestant?
"Oh, I'd say it would be a young man from Fort Worth, studying to be a doctor and married to a girl who is working to help him get his degree," said Goodson.

"It would help if the wife had just had a baby," laughed Todman. "The audience loves young fathers."

his chilly South Polar haunts. It's a pretty involved business.

First, the State Department has to study the problem for months to make sure that no tender international toes are trod upon. They take it up with the United Nations in confidential meetings.

Then the rest of the Government has to get in the act. Agriculture wants in because of the food storage possibilities of that great outdoor icebox. Commerce is interested in the mapping of the area and the trade routes. Interior is interested in the minerals. The Atomic Energy Commission wants to know if there is uranium there.

The technical side of the planning is a staggering job: Deciding what radio equipment to take, and how much food, medical supplies and clothing will be needed; figuring out if the equipment should be flown or brought in by sea.

Being an old hand at that sort of thing, Admiral Byrd finds this aspect of an expedition easiest.

From previous southern junkets, he knows the men he wants along and one nod from him usually gets an eager volunteer.

Looking back on his last expedition to the South Pole region, some of the great accomplishments of that trip can now be properly evaluated. The geographical discoveries alone were history-making.

For the first time, the whole Antarctic was mapped. Great land masses, tremendous mountains and valleys and huge unfrozen lakes and bays, which nobody even guessed existed, were seen for the first time by man.

Great strides were made in the development of polar navigation. And much was learned about the business of existing where it is so cold.

On the military side, much of what was learned by Byrd and his men remains secret material. It is known that the expedition was invaluable in proving what types of clothing are best for that climate and the best methods of maintaining living conditions for combat troops.

It was proved that the polar ice cap is hard enough and strong enough to provide excellent landing fields for a great many airplanes. The Marine Corps' landing vehicle, the LVT, showed itself the best for polar travel.

The Navy learned that single-screw ships with no extra plating on the side could operate successfully among ice flows. The submarine turned out to be not as good a craft for operating in polar seas as was previously thought.

What new information Byrd's next expedition to that mysterious land will produce even Byrd himself won't predict. Whatever they hope to find down there this time, however, our military leaders obviously feel it is worthwhile for him to make the trip again.

State Legion Parley Slated This Weekend

The three-day session of the Department of Texas American Legion will get underway officially at 9:30 Friday when convention program chairman, Clyde Thomas, Fort Worth attorney, calls the opening session to order. For three closely scheduled days, legionnaires from every corner of the State of Texas, will pack the convention headquarters.

Early arrivals to the convention city of Fort Worth will find much entertainment in the fun and frolics of the Forty and Eight Society of the American Legion. The famed fun and honor group of the Legion opened its one day convention in Fort Worth today. The public hearing of new candidates for the famed group has long been one of the highlights of American Legion Conventions. The Forty and Eight group will conclude its convention with the formal initiation of new candidates at the annual "Grand Wreck."

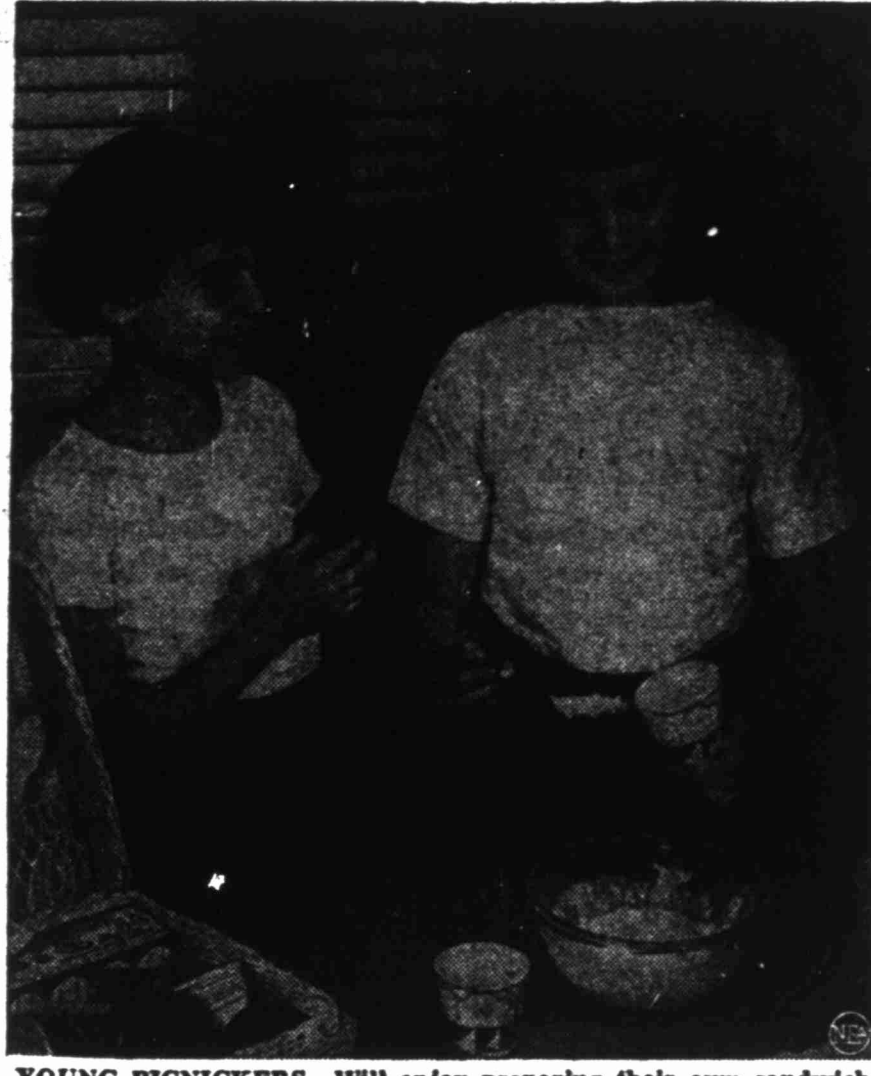

Governor To Attend
Governor Allan Shivers will attend the three day convention as a regular delegate. The governor will speak to the convention at the closing session on Sunday, as will U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark. Legionnaire Clark, who is slated to become the first Texan in history to be a member of the U. S. Supreme Court, is a former law partner of Bill McCraw, Department of Texas Legion Commander. Other notables who will speak at the convention include Perry Brown, present National Commander of the American Legion and two former National Commanders of the Legion, Alvin M. Owsley of Texas and Harry Colmery of Kansas.

Sandwiches Will Please Teenager

YOUNG PICNICKERS—Will enjoy preparing their own sandwich spreads as well as eating them.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Let the teen-agers prepare a few jars of sandwich spreads, pack up boxes of crispy soda crackers, wheat toast wafers and other kinds. Give them something cold to drink, some fresh fruit. There's a real picture—for the back yard, the park or the hills.

Here are spreads easy for youngsters themselves to make:
Carrot-Orange Spread
(Makes about 2 cups)
One cup creamed cottage cheese, 1 cup grated raw carrots, 1/4 cup orange marmalade.
Combine all ingredients and blend well.
Creamy Peanut Spread
(Makes about 1 cup)
Two tablespoons peanut butter, 1 3-ounce package cream cheese, 1/2 cup chopped dates.
Blend peanut butter and cream cheese together well. Stir in chopped dates.

Creamy Ham Spread
(Makes about 1 cup)
One 3-ounce package cream cheese, 1/2 ounce can deviled ham, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chili sauce.
Blend cream cheese, ham and chili sauce together well. Stir in celery.
And here are some additional hints for the youthful picnicker.
Stuffed Eggs: To carry to picnic, put two stuffed egg halves together and wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil. (Mix yolks with mayonnaise, salt and pepper for filling.)
Frozen Fruit: Take it out of original cups and place in small paper cups for individual servings. Covered, of course, but thaw and be ready to eat by time children reach picnic grounds. Serve with chocolate nugget cookies, square sugar wafers, etc.

Other Fruit: Whole oranges, cherries, grapes, plums, peaches, pears, bananas. Take them whole.

Soap Still Luxury In Many Nations

VIENNA—(AP)—Soap is still a rich man's luxury in many European countries. Even in those countries where it is not restricted, the price is generally higher than low income groups can pay. Hospitals and other public institutions still depend on charity shipments from abroad for the bulk of their needs. CARE officials throughout Europe report the use of inferior quality soaps in institutions is a serious menace to child health.

An Associated Press survey showed France, Italy and the Scandinavian countries as the brightest spots on the European soap map. Britain, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia are at the other end of the scale. In Germany, the extremes are countries like Poland, Austria and Germany where you can buy all the soap you need if you have the money.

In Czechoslovakia the soap ration is one bar of toilet soap every three months. There is also a small ration of laundry soap and soap powder. The government had promised to put soap on free sale but the price will range from 50 to 80 cents a bar. The average British ration is seven small bars of toilet soap every two months. In Yugoslavia it is half a pound per month per person, and the supply is irregular. In Poland a bar of toilet soap costs 25 cents.

Austrian soap is of poor quality. A bar of American soap on the black market costs 50 cents. An inferior type of soap is still rationed in Germany. To supplement their one small rationed bar Germans pay 30 cents a bar for American soaps which are on sale almost everywhere.

CARE officials in Vienna say the real need in Europe is for better distribution of good soap to low income families with children and to public institutions.

Whisky Aging Plan Is Still Imperfect

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Reports that a Japanese citizen claims he can "age" whisky 15 years in 12 minutes are nothing new in the U. S. patent office. The office has 239 registered schemes to do the same trick.

The 239 patents were issued between 1897 and 1942. Some of the processes were used by distillers shortly after repeal of prohibition in the United States. They were abandoned, however, as basically unworkable when naturally aged whiskies became available.

OLD VINES STILL GROW
RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—When Raleigh's first colonists landed in 1687, they found scuppernon grape vines growing here. Five of the vines are still growing. They have trunks so large that a man's arms will not span them.

Cathedral Will Have African Art Features

BRAZZAVILLE, FRENCH EQUATORIAL AFRICA—(AP)—One of the boldest experiments in amalgamating African art into Christian churches and liturgy is at present being carried out in Brazzaville. Fr. R. Lecomte said the new Brazzaville cathedral now under construction would contain new features directly drawn from African art.

The tom-tom which for thousands of years has served the Bantus as a means of communication and a dance instrument will enter the cathedral as a sacred instrument and rhythm the chants and prayers. Rallings of the tribune and choir will be made in wrought iron by an old blacksmith of the M'Bedi tribe.

The interior decoration will also be carried out in special form unknown in modern times and which can only be found in old Assyrian temples. Huge panels will represent scenes of the Bible in pieces of ceramic. The design of these Biblical scenes will be exclusively African.

ONE FOOT THEFT

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The thief who stole 35 boxes of shoes from the automobile of salesman Allen Burchfield doubtless was burned up when he examined the loot. The shoes all were for the right foot.

QUICK CHANGE
Chicago climate is so changeable that variations of more than 30 degrees within 24 hours are not rare, and changes of 20 degrees are common, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Man Requests Body Be Sent To Prison

TOLEDO, OHIO—(AP)—An ex-convict picked up by Toledo police for routine questioning wants to go back to prison—but not just yet. Inside a pocket of Charles A. Rutledge's trousers, police found this note:
"My name is Charles Aloysius Rutledge. They call me Walking Charlie. I served two years at Angola, La., and my number is 33,289. Should I be found dead, please ship my remains to the penitentiary."

POTATOES VS. SPUDS

Potatoes are called "spuds" from the initials of the old "Society for the Prevention of Unwholesome Diet," which held potatoes unfit for human food.

Stunt Backfires On Publicity Man

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bob Sayre, a press agent, is prematurely gray anyway. Otherwise results of one of his latest gags might have made him so.
Bob drew the chore of publicizing the movie "Rope of Sand" which is laid in South Africa's diamond fields. He and his red headed wife spent several evenings putting glass diamonds into envelopes. The envelopes were distributed where they would do the most good. The stunt was a grand success. Bob's boss was happy, gave Bob a bonus.
Then his wife found that the half-carat diamond in her engagement ring was missing. As nearly as they can figure someone who got "glass" diamonds in the publicity stunt has the real thing. Bob says his bonus will just about pay for a half-carat diamond.

Soap Still Luxury In Many Nations

VIENNA—(AP)—Soap is still a rich man's luxury in many European countries. Even in those countries where it is not restricted, the price is generally higher than low income groups can pay. Hospitals and other public institutions still depend on charity shipments from abroad for the bulk of their needs. CARE officials throughout Europe report the use of inferior quality soaps in institutions is a serious menace to child health.

An Associated Press survey showed France, Italy and the Scandinavian countries as the brightest spots on the European soap map. Britain, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia are at the other end of the scale. In Germany, the extremes are countries like Poland, Austria and Germany where you can buy all the soap you need if you have the money.

In Czechoslovakia the soap ration is one bar of toilet soap every three months. There is also a small ration of laundry soap and soap powder. The government had promised to put soap on free sale but the price will range from 50 to 80 cents a bar. The average British ration is seven small bars of toilet soap every two months. In Yugoslavia it is half a pound per month per person, and the supply is irregular. In Poland a bar of toilet soap costs 25 cents.

Austrian soap is of poor quality. A bar of American soap on the black market costs 50 cents. An inferior type of soap is still rationed in Germany. To supplement their one small rationed bar Germans pay 30 cents a bar for American soaps which are on sale almost everywhere.

CARE officials in Vienna say the real need in Europe is for better distribution of good soap to low income families with children and to public institutions.

Whisky Aging Plan Is Still Imperfect

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Reports that a Japanese citizen claims he can "age" whisky 15 years in 12 minutes are nothing new in the U. S. patent office. The office has 239 registered schemes to do the same trick.

The 239 patents were issued between 1897 and 1942. Some of the processes were used by distillers shortly after repeal of prohibition in the United States. They were abandoned, however, as basically unworkable when naturally aged whiskies became available.

OLD VINES STILL GROW

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—When Raleigh's first colonists landed in 1687, they found scuppernon grape vines growing here. Five of the vines are still growing. They have trunks so large that a man's arms will not span them.
