Wildcat Near Snyder Gets Much Attention

Much attention is being paid to the W. A. Mosier of Fort Worth, No. 1, Hockabee, North-Central Scurry County wildcat, three miles northwest of the town of Snyder. That exploration, located about the mile southeast of the nearest completed oil wells from the Canyon line on the southeast side of the North Snyder field, had reached 5,430 feet in Pennsylvania shale and was making more holes. According to informed sources it has not yet reached the Canyon reef. Many interested operators are hoping it will find that formation soon. The venture is 600 feet from north and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 100, block 3, EACN survey. It is scheduled to keep drilling until it finds and tests the Canyon line.

NE Coke Exploration Develops More Shows

Barnsdall Oil Company continues to develop signs of possible production at its No. 1 Davenport, North-east Coke County wildcat. On the latest drillstem test reported the venture checked the zone at 5,500-61 feet in a Pennsylvania lime. The tool was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in eight minutes. Maximum volume was estimated at 200,000 cubic feet per day. It was sweet gas. Recovery was 80 feet of drilling mud, 1,000 feet of 42-gravity oil, and 540 feet of salt water. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 625 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure was 2,125 pounds. Going Deeper The exploration is to drill deeper. It is one and one-half miles north of Fort Chadbourne, and 1,800 feet from south and 600 feet from east lines of the east half of the Seth Clark survey No. 475. This venture topped the oil-stained line at 5,212 feet. In a one and one-half hour drillstem test at 5,375-93 feet, recovery was 50 feet of oil and gas cut mud, 1,000 feet of free oil and 300 feet of salt water.

Two Deep Wildcats Staked In Crockett

Locations for two wildcats to explore into the Ellenburger in Crockett County, have been officially reported. The Glasco of Dallas, and associates No. 1 Clara Couch is to be near the center of the county. It is located 1,900 feet from north and 600 feet from east lines of section 15, block 87, GC&SP survey. It is 15 miles southeast of the Todd-Ellenburger field and approximately the same distance west of Ozona. Drilling with rotary tools is to start in 1948. The venture is on acreage secured by Glasco and associates in a farm-out deal with Gulf Oil Corporation. That concern originally had a solid block of 7,000 acres in that region. It turned half of it in checker-boarded half sections to Glasco, et al for the deep wildcat. John I. Moore of Midland No. 1-K Shannon is to be a 7,500-foot venture in Central-West Crockett County, one mile northwest of the shallow Olson field. It will be at the center of the west half of lot 11, league 4, Archer County School Land survey, and five miles east of Chan. The exact location is 1,775-47 feet from south and 5,224.72 feet west of the original northeast corner of lot 11, league 4, Archer County School Land survey. Operations are to start soon.

Stonewall Prospector Has Petroleum Signs

Barnsdall and The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Sloane-Calloway, Central-North Stonewall County prospector to 4,500 feet, 15 miles north of Aspermont, showed only salt water, with slight signs of gas in a drillstem test in a Pennsylvania lime at 5,238-90 feet, after having developed some signs of possible production in a higher section. This exploration is at the center of the northwest quarter of section 62, block F, H&TC survey. A drillstem test run at 5-390-478 feet. The tool was open three and one-half hours. Gas showed at the surface in three hours. Recovery was 600 feet of gas cut drilling mud. No formation was developed. It drilled on down and took a two-hour test at 5,525-80 feet. There was a fair blow of air throughout the period. Recovery was 450 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud and 2,350 feet of salt water. The exploration deepened to 5-618 feet in time and the drill pipe became stuck. Operators are now trying to recover the pipe so drilling can be continued.

Cavity Is Plugged In SW Andrews Venture

George F. Livermore, Inc., and Deeprock Oil Corporation, No. 1 Mayher, slated 12,000-foot venture to the Ellenburger, in Southwest Andrews County, four and one-half miles north of the Dallasfield field, was bottomed at 10,947 feet in the top of the Ellenburger. Operators had set a 100-inch casing. (Continued On Page 12)

'Nationalist China Dead' - Acheson

White Paper Defends U. S. Aid Policies

WASHINGTON —(P)— Secretary of State Acheson Friday blasted the Chinese Communists as tools of Russia and declared United States willingness to help the people of China establish true independence. The secretary reviewed U. S.-China relations at a news conference after issuance of a State Department report in which he wrote off China's Nationalist government as a total failure.

Man Killed When Blast Rips Hotel

TYLER —(P)— One man was killed and two others injured in an explosion and fire at a small hotel here Friday. All three were registered guests at the hotel. The dead man was identified tentatively as L. S. Smith, who registered at the hotel Thursday night without giving his address. The injured were G. H. Gavehnt and Paul Burden, addresses also unknown. No one else was hurt seriously. Fire department officials said the explosion apparently resulted from a leaky gas jet in a hotel room. Someone, they said, must have struck a match. The hotel was a two-story frame building. Flames gutted the top floor and damaged the bottom one. The fire started about 5 a.m. and was brought under control quickly. The hotel is the Victory Hotel, on Spring Street in the business section.

Soldiers And Police Stand By To Halt French Reds' March

PARIS —(P)— Two thousand police and soldiers in full battle equipment and gas masks deployed about the Place de la Concorde Friday to stop a Communist protest march against the presence here of the United States chiefs of staff. The soldiers and police rolled up in 100 trucks several hours before the time of the Communist march, which had been announced for 5 p.m. (10 a.m. CST). The forces spread out in the area of the U. S. Embassy to prevent Communists from carrying out their announced intention of protesting there against the Atlantic Pact talks. Radio cars, motorcycles and several ambulances stood by. Meanwhile, American and French military chiefs held what they described as satisfactory talks on Western European defense.

Ingrid Bergman To Seek Divorce, Quit Career In Pictures

ROME —(P)— Ingrid Bergman announced Friday she will divorce her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom. She also said she will quit the movies. The beautiful Swedish star made the declaration in a deeply emotional statement issued by her personal representative, Joseph Steele. Sources close to the actress reported she intends to marry Italian Director Roberto Rossellini. "It was my desire not to make any statement until the conclusion of the picture I am now making ('After the Storm')", "But persistent malicious gossip, that has even reached the point where I am made to appear as a prisoner, has obliged me to break my silence and demonstrate my free will. I have instructed my lawyer to start divorce proceedings immediately. Also, with the conclusion of my present picture, it is my intention to retire into private life." Steele warned that "to say anything about her marriage to Rossellini would be presumptuous and extremely premature." Rossellini, who is directing Miss Bergman's picture, was not available for comment.

TRENTON, N. J. —(P)— A nude girl staggered into the State House Thursday night. Her name is Emma. She was wearing a pair of oldie in and told a passer-by: "We want to see the governor." A man rushed in behind the two, and bellowed: "Governor, we've got your sister's panties on her. It's give you both a spanking." Governor Driscoll was out of the state; most of the employees were out of the State House; and the nude two-year-old girl got a spanking anyway from her father.

McCamey Lions Club Launches Joan Edwards Recovery Fund With $850

MCCAMEY—Approximately $850 was obtained for the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund by the McCamey Lions Club with a softball game Thursday night and the Lions then hurled a challenge to other Lions Clubs and civic organizations in the Permian Basin Empire to join in the campaign to provide funds for the young woman who has lain unconscious almost seven months. The Lions Club took a 15 to 11 beating in the softball contest, administered by the Blue Jays, famed girls' softball aggregation of McCamey.

Rain held down the crowd as it sprinkled almost until game time at the new $12,000 super softball park in McCamey. But more than 400 persons were on hand for the contest and the Lions said more money will be raised in McCamey to assist the 24-year-old Texas Tech graduate back to health. Twenty-five or 30 Lions took part in the contest, but they were unable to beat the girls. Tailwister Is Busy A tailwister, Jess (Wildcat) Russell, was on hand and collected about $100 in fines. Other Lions handled concessions and about $18 worth of 30-day or older Midland Reporter-Telegram were sold as they were hawked through the stands.

Oliver O. Jacobsen in a brief talk outlined the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund Plan to the crowd at the ball game and appealed to all other clubs in the area to assist in the campaign. Two Shot To Death At Big Spring Rodeo

BIG SPRING —(P)— Shots rang out and two men fell dead in a real Western drama before 2,500 rodeo fans here Thursday night. One of the show's judges and a cowboy college student were felled by bullets from a six gun fired by an infuriated Brahman bull rider.

Henry Preston (Buck) Jones, 40, the judge and intended target, died 45 minutes after two .38 caliber bullets plopped into his body.

Carl C. Myers, 23, an on-looker, fell into the arms of a girl, struck by a stray bullet.

Herb Frizzell, 34, was overpowered and jailed after he fired four shots at Jones from short range.

He was taken to the Howard County Jail, where he made a statement to Sheriff Bob Wolf and County Attorney Elton Gilliland.

The officers said Frizzell told them the trouble started over an insulting remark he said Jones made before Frizzell's niece.

He said Jones made the remark as Frizzell and the niece were sitting in a pick-up truck at the rodeo grounds Thursday afternoon.

A fist fight followed. The two men were separated by other rodeo performers.

Went To Get Gun Wolf said Frizzell told him he left the grounds after the fight to get a gun. Several hours later he returned and the shooting took place. The crowd was watching a dog named "Skipper" go through a special act.

As the shots rang out the crowd and the performers alike thought it was just some extra clowning. Then in a split second they realized it was real-life drama. There were screams and a mad rush. The arena soon was a frightened, pushing mass of humanity.

All of the principals in the shooting were Texans. Jones and Frizzell were professional rodeo performers. They had known each other several years. Jones was from Ranger. Frizzell is from Beaumont.

Myers was from Abilene. He was president of the Hardin-Simmons University Rodeo Association. He fell into the arms of Mary Harris after the stray bullet struck him.

Miss Harris said she at first (Continued On Page 12)

Summer 'Cool Wave' Scheduled To Linger

By The Associated Press
Texas' Summer 'cool wave' is due to linger a while. The U. S. Weather Bureau said temperatures probably will remain below normal throughout the state.

Temperatures Thursday generally were five to ten degrees lower than usual for this time of the year. The Rio Grande Valley was the state's "hot spot" with Laredo reporting 99 degrees and Del Rio and Presidio 95.

The lowest was 64 degrees at Guadalupe Pass. Amarillo, in the Panhandle, had a high of 70. Showers fell along the coast, in North-Central Texas and over wide portions of West Texas the last 24 hours.

Rainfall reports up to 6:30 a. m. Friday included Corsicana 1.09 inches, Houston 30, Corpus Christi 28, Dallas and Tyler 27, Victoria 26, Midland 14, and smaller amounts at Galveston, Laredo, Ozona, San Angelo, Guadalupe Pass, Wink, Amarillo, Big Spring and Beaumont.

Scattered thundershowers were forecast for all sections of the state Friday night, with temperatures somewhat higher in the Panhandle and South Plains.

Rainfall Totals .11 Inch In City And .18 At MAT

Midlanders enjoyed "million-dollar sleeping weather" Thursday night after late afternoon rain showers amounting to .11 inch of moisture in the city and .18 inch at Midland Air Terminal.

The showers were the second cooling falls in as many days. Rain amounting to .14 inch fell Wednesday. Thursday's cooling showers were enough to push the mercury down to the light jacket stage here.

A citizen said: "We may not be getting a lot of rain but the cool weather from these showers causes us to get a lot of good sleep."

USO Leader

M. C. ULMER

Ulmer Is USO Leader

Gov. Allan Shivers Friday announced the appointment of M. C. Ulmer, president of The First National Bank of Midland, as regional co-chairman of USO for the Fourth District, which extends from Brownwood to El Paso. Ulmer has accepted the appointment. Sam D. Young, president of the El Paso National Bank, is co-chairman of the 45-county area. Reactivation of USO was requested by President Truman to serve the 1,400,000 men in the armed services, the largest peacetime defense force in U. S. history, except in periods immediately preceding war. Texas' part in the $100,000,000 national quota is $500,000, and Midland's quota is $120,000. Texas has 90,000 men in the armed forces, and Midland County has approximately 140.

Most of the service men are under 21 years old, Ulmer pointed out. More than 70 per cent of the 700,000 enlistees in 1948 were between 18 and 21, with more than 80 per cent under 25.

USO, as the traditional "home away from home" of men in the services, provides not only recreational activity for them during off-duty hours, but also serves as a liaison agency between servicemen and the homes, families, churches and civic activities of the communities near where they are stationed.

Gabrielson was elected Thursday by a 52-to-47 vote over Beck, putting the party's machinery back in the familiar hands of long-time supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Taft himself took no apparent part in the contest, but many of his backers contributed to Gabrielson's scant victory margin.

Hereford Citizens Halt First Strike Threat Since 1895

HEREFORD (AP)—The first strike attempted here since cowboys walked off their jobs in 1895 came to an abrupt halt Wednesday.

An angry group of 150 Hereford citizens confronted an Amarillo labor union official who wanted to organize common laborers on the Hotel Jim Wells construction job here.

The group, which included stockholders of the four-story hotel, farmers, ranchers, businessmen and laborers, asked John H. Henslee, business agent for Construction and General Labor Union, Local No. 688, to discontinue a picket line thrown up at the construction job.

Some six hours working time was lost on the hotel job when Henslee posted a picket. Eight union steel workers refused to cross the line and the work was halted.

"This hotel is a community project, sponsored and being paid for by the people of Hereford," spokesmen for the citizens group told Henslee. Henslee agreed to leave with his pickets, after telling local laborers his only reason in coming was to secure them a union wage scale.

The controversy had been on for about a week. Dr. L. B. Barnett, president of the hotel corporation, said Henslee's leaving involved no wage agreement but was an agreement that contractors on the job could use any common laborers they want to hire.

Confessions Of Engel, The Romantic Swindler

By SIGMUND SAMUEL ENGEL
As Told To Edgar Brown
(Copyright, 1949, Chicago Herald-American)

Bursting into show business in the gaudy San Francisco of '97, teamed in marriage to a top star of vaudeville, how could a young lawyer of 22 peer ahead 50 years and see himself a controversial headliner of international romance?—always pressed by the law, but how could the clearest crystal ball reveal him as the financially successful suitor of a Russian countess, a Gotham grandmother, a Tokyo geisha girl and so many rich, lonely widows that he couldn't keep them indexed in his mind?—How could he project himself into the role of an ever-loving, ever-leaving comforter of women or a genial, insatiable scoundrel—depending on the ethical viewpoint—always pressed by the law, but generally two jumps ahead?

I was that young man, and I had no crystal ball. But that's how this particular great lover was produced. Show business was my passion, its beautiful girls added me, their bewitching influence shaped and guided my weird career.

For a long time, as long as youth remained, I pursued lovely natural power over women. I went commercial, and brothers and sisters, things have been pretty much on a commercial basis ever since.

As a bridegroom in San Francisco I had no such fantastic thoughts. My gorgeous bride of two days, Rosita Renee, the singing star of vaudeville, made one stipulation: I was to abandon the law and become her manager.

Rosita was earning $2,500 weekly, a fabulous figure for that era, and her whims were certainly to be indulged.

We hit the road in high good humors, playing all the town night clubs, the Orpheum Circuit and enjoying a solid family life as well. Presently, in turn, came three daughters—first Annie, then Elsie, finally Malvina.

Things were figuratively born in the proverbial trouper's trunk. When they were 5, 4 and 3, respectively, they were so lovely that Rosita and I felt we simply had to share 'em with the public. We formed a five-act.

Joined Vaudeville Act

Naturally, I was the fifth member. The Renees, we billed ourselves in simple magnificence. And in the sort of comic opera production we presented, my knowledge of several languages stood us in good stead.

It was built on the lines of the famous Four Columbians act, which starred Matilyn Miller for years. In 25 minutes of quick changes, we represented 10 nations in our famous songs and dances. It was good enough for top billing.

These were happy, untroubled years and my wandering eye for other women was well controlled. But like all such years they ended abruptly. Annie got married, her sisters soon did likewise.

All are still happily married, and let me leave them that way, shall we? In any event our lucrative vaudeville act broke up.

Quit Stage

It was about time, anyway. Rosita was losing her bloom and my talent has always been open to question. We gave up the stage, but never the theatre. We hid to New York where I became an actors' agent and producer of two-day acts.

With the still charming Mrs. Engel installed in a Central Park

West apartment I opened an elaborate suite on the 12th floor of the Palace Theatre building. Business piled in; at one time I was handling as many as 120 acts.

Meanwhile my urge for the company and adulation of women burned inside me with a steady glow. Its flame was fanned by the parade through my offices of unnumbered beauties—each ready, willing, eager for romance with her agent.

I succumbed. I offer no apologies except that I am human. Rosita Engel, my once-beloved wife and mother of my three adorable daughters, became the first victim of my mania for the opposite sex.

"He is so unbelievably attractive, it is not his fault, I must be broad-minded, these hussies actually chase him and bawl over him."

Didn't Blame Wife

Thus Rosita consoled herself during the last five years of our quarter-century of marriage. Then, when my prancing became the talk of the town and thus unbearable, my wife quietly divorced me. I didn't blame her, didn't contest it. Rosita Renee is dead now, and I have only loving respect for her memory as a genius of the stage, a wife and a mother. For many years I was to withhold my love from any other woman—while protesting my love to hundreds.

Are you getting the true picture, you who are curious about "how a great lover gets that way?" In this period I was out in pleasure, spending my own money on many women, checking no bank accounts, thinking only of pleasure.

But I was learning things about women that amazed me. One was that uniformly they adore me through no effort of my own. Does this sound intolerably conceited? Many truths written into this life story will have a similar ring.

I learned that women appreciate courtesy, respect, chivalrous conduct in a man much more than is generally suspected. Being human, they also respond more quickly to a suitor who appears to them to be independently wealthy. "All-Out Approach"

And I learned that the direct, "all-out approach"—a violent though perhaps fraudulent declaration of undying love—is the quickest and surest way to a woman's heart. Few can resist such an appeal, or even care to resist.

These things I stored in my treasure-chest of knowledge, and they proved useful almost immediately when I ventured abroad for a sojourn which I told myself would make me forget my lost Rosita. Actually I was not suffering.

I reached London fortified with genuine credentials supplied by my staff member of the Austro-Hungarian consulate in New York City. This man had been a friend of my father, the San Francisco exporter, and was pleased to serve me.

Stopping at the Savoy on the Strand, the most popular hostelry for American socialites, I hastened to present my letters to the Austro-Hungarian ambassador. His excellency's welcome was hearty. The inner circle's doors opened.

Met Striking Brunette

One of the first London women I met as I began interestingly to learn my Mayfair, was a striking brunette destined to initiate me into the easy avenues that would supply me with idle, luxurious living for the rest of my life.

Her name was Cecelia King and she radiated personality and an aura of high living. Her gowns and her hair and her house on Grosvenor Square, near the American Embassy, were all superb.

She was a beauty, too, in the British style—and I must be brutally truthful. It isn't my style. The British belles are a bit savier in my view, sort of like thoroughbred horses.

They are likely to have too-prominent teeth and other handicaps. Their mouths, I have found, are scarcely full, rich and ripely kissable as are those to be enjoyed in the good old U. S. A.

Nevertheless Cecelia was a grand companion. I was told she was kin to Mackenzie King, the former Canadian Premier, but I never checked on this. Didn't care. Almost from force of habit I began to court the girl with my usual fire.

We were pretty pally, though my marriage had been studiously avoided as a topic, on the day I ran short of money. Off-handedly I mentioned my temporary embarrassment; we were in the library of home. She strolled to a desk. "A loan, old thing," she drawled, and tossed me a stack of British pounds that added up to $75,000 American. When I protested furiously she shrugged.

"Don't be a boah," she snapped. "How about a weekend twosome in Paris?"

Little things like that can alter the entire course of a man's future.

(In the next installment Cecelia and the great lover go to Paris, where Cecelia gets the brushoff in favor of a siren from Berlin's Tiergarten Alley.)

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Earliest Possible Treatment Is Vital To Saving Sight

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Of all the senses, the ability to see is perhaps the most important. The person who has been blind cannot know what color really means or the appearance of other human beings. One who has become blind after having been able to see is in an almost equally bad situation.

Many cases of blindness, whether present at birth or developing later in life, can be prevented. Active in seeking to avoid unnecessary blindness is the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

This organization is interested in any measures which can be used to prevent loss of vision. Recently it held its earliest anniversary conference at which many papers were presented and numerous suggestions offered for combating loss of vision.

The most important preventive is to obtain the best possible advice at the earliest possible moment. Infections of the eyes and other defects which may lead to blindness frequently can be treated with complete success if caught early.

It is not possible to restore sight in all patients who have become unable to see. It can be done, however, in a few cases. In some, for example, an operation may be considered when the cause of blindness is lack of transparency of the cornea of the eye.

It is a mistake to speak of "transplantation of the eye," as actually it is transplantation only of that part of the eye referred to as the cornea.

The operation is a delicate one. The normal eye tissue must exactly replace the diseased tissue taken out. It can be done successfully by any expert eye surgeon, however, and many people already have had their vision restored by this means.

The eye tissue to be grafted into a blind person can be stored for only a few days. Consequently the storage, transportation and quick grafting to a person who needs it is important if satisfactory results are to be obtained.

In order to speed the restoration of vision to those who can be treated in this way, eye banks have been formed in several cities.

Alfred, Two Others Mentioned For New Federal Judgeship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Possible appointments to the two new federal judgeships in the South Texas District have not been studied by either Senators Connally or Johnson (D-Texas).

Connally said Thursday that despite names of likely candidates in newspapers and letters, "there have been no formal recommendations to us."

Among those who have been mentioned are Ben Connally, Houston, the senator's son; former Texas Governor James V. Alfred, who gave up a Southern judgeship in 1942 to run against W. Lee O'Daniel for the U. S. Senate; and Henri Warren, Corpus Christi.

No Escape From Popcorn Even South Of The Border

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

ENSENADA, MEXICO — I've a flash of U. S. movie addicts who like to gargle popcorn and wrestle with candy bars. Mexico will love you.

I asked the manager of a Mexican movie theater on the Avenida Ruiz here if his patrons mixed popcorn with their celluloid.

"Si, señor," he said. "Popcorn, tocos (the Mexican hamburger) and frijoles. They eat everything."

He pointed to a sign outside the theater which had escaped my attention:

"Evita Munes in 'Cachita La De Triana' and 'Hot Pepporn.' I can't win even in Mexico."

I but at least I'm doing better with my long forgotten high school Spanish than Ed Cofield, the Steve Hannagan of West Coast vacation resorts.

On his first visit to the swank Riviera Pacific hotel here a desk clerk listened blankly while Ed got his high school French and Spanish mixed up in ordering a room facing the ocean.

While he floundered between "mar" and "mer," the desk clerk interrupted in clipped Donald Coleman English:

"Precisely, sir, what does that mean? You want a room with Double Talk."

It's a murderous Mexican trait, I've discovered. Address them in English and they "no sabe." Speak to them with the best Spanish you can muster, and they come back at you in perfect English.

Working all day for the Yankee dollar isn't just a line from a song here. The town is just a fishing village but it's overrun with American tourists and 1949 model taxicabs. Wandering merchants are everywhere. Barefoot urchins sell chewing gum and old men peddle ice at two cents a chunk in burlap-covered buckets.

It's the Americans, not the Mexicans, who are the lazy ones at Ensenada.

At the border town of Tijuana things are different. I've never seen so many busy Americans rushing from one curio shop to another, betting on the horses, betting on the racing greyhounds and even betting on people at jai alai.

The enormous Frontal Palace features jai alai, one of Mexico's favorite sports. It's a sort of four-wall handball with wicker rackets. Individual players, like horses, are the objects of parimutuel betting. It's billed as the "fastest game in the world" and there's no doubt about it.

It's the first time I ever saw jet-propelled Mexicans.

All of the coastline south of Los Angeles, dotted with such resorts as the Hotel Laguna, the Del Mar Turf and Surf Hotel with its adjoining race track, the old and magnificent Hotel del Coronado, and the Rosarita Beach Hotel, is booming. But Ensenada is still the end of the line for Mexico's coastal sightseers.

Bob Hope's next for producer Bob Welch at Paramount will be "Rookie Cop," story of a Bowery cop at the turn of the century. Gloria Holden, who once played the bride of Frankenstein and the daughter of Dracula, is Shirley Temple's mother in "A Kiss for Corliss." There's a good gag in the same picture.

Shirley and Darryl Hickman are discussing David Niven, Shirley's alleged suitor. "He's not very old," says Shirley, "only 37." "Only 37," screams young Hickman. "Wow! That's almost as old as Jack Benny." Benny approved the line.

Dan Dally is asking his divorce-seeking wife to file in California instead of Nevada so she'll have time to think things over for a year instead of just six weeks.

It was almost a lost Ray Milland last weekend at the Balboa Doll House. A candle on his table set the tablecloth afire.

Gregory Ratoff's divorce settlement with his wife stipulates that he gets to keep his library of books, his phonograph records and all of his Russian mementoes. She said he could keep his accent, too.

Sequel to my collection of double marquee signs is Jo Stafford's two-faced record: "Just One Way to Say 'I Love You'" on one side "Homework" on the other. Which reminds me. The M-G-M record company will release "Ten Commandments of Wedded Bliss" telling people how to be happy though married. It's on a non-breakable record.

Twenty-three of the 56 men who signed the Declaration of Independence had attended college.

The Lord thundered from heaven, and the Most High uttered his voice.—II Samuel 22:14.

Quit Kicking!

According to some experts, the present downturn in business has been stimulated by the wait-and-see attitude of many consumers.

As far as prices go, who can judge a fair price under existing conditions? Rare is the farmer who is ready to concede that he is getting too much money for his product.

Many businesses nowadays are operating on a thin margin of profit. One observer, commenting on the recent experience of the textile manufacturers, pointed out that "they concluded everything was too high in price and urged on by the constant necessity of orders to run 24 hours a day, they have consistently and progressively cut away their profit."

The retail distribution industry is another that is operating on an extremely thin margin—its profits depend on efficient operation and volume.

In reality the United States at this moment is nearer to production-for-use under the capitalistic "profit" system than communism, socialism or any other theoretical social scheme could ever hope to achieve.

So why sit around in curiosity waiting to see if things are going to pot? This country is going ahead, come what may.

Oil Has A Birthday

On August 27, the American oil industry will be 90 years old. On that historic date in 1859 Col. Edwin L. Drake brought in the nation's first commercial oil well at Titusville, Pa.

Today oil is one of the basic necessities—practically every American uses it in many forms each day of his life. But matters were very different then. Colonel Drake was ridiculed. He was harassed by creditors. He was forced to contrive his own tools and techniques as he went along, on a trial and error basis.

We have demanded oil, for the arts of peace and war, in an ever-increasing flood. We have demanded more products, and better products. The industry has never failed. It has built up our proved reserves to an all-time high, even as consumption was outrunning all the forecasts.

All of this has happened in less than a century. When Colonel Drake sank the first well, a new and brilliant chapter in the history of the world was started. We are a long way from the end of it.

Good Things Come High

J. Edgar Hoover and his FBI are said to be unhappy because they have been compelled to disclose some of their prized detective techniques in the trials of Judith Coplon in Washington and the 11 Communist leaders in New York.

It is admittedly regrettable that the FBI's investigations into espionage and subversion will consequently be handicapped for a long time to come.

A Buffalo man lets his hair grow because he says haircuts give him heart trouble. One more raise from the barbers and we may have that, too.

The heat is running the national debt a close second—both being staggering.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Copyright, 1949, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: General Vaughan goes to bat for Tanforan race track; Change of Tanforan's ownership never was proved; Maragon is in danger of perjury.

WASHINGTON — Gen. Harry Vaughan, the President's jovial, back-slapping, poker-playing military aide, holds the official title of "coordinator of veterans affairs."

But Thursday this column showed how, when the Tanforan Race Track in California violated building regulations aimed to speed veterans' housing, General Vaughan used his influence not to help the veterans, but to help the race track.

More Eggs Than Potatoes Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan isn't taking the House defeat of his farm program lying down. The scrappy cabinet member has a surprise punch about ready to toss at his congressional foes.

It is true that track President Guy Standifer was out, having gone to jail, and that Eugene Mori was the new president. But according to a federal court deposition published by the Newark Star-Ledger on Jan. 15, 1949, Reinfield was the chief owner of the track.

It now looks as if John Maragon was in serious trouble over both his income tax and perjury. Senate investigators now have established the fact that the lobbyist, who long has been inside the curfew of the White House, maintained a secret bank account in the National Bank of Commerce in San Antonio in 1945 and 1946.

Despite this Maragon informed the Senate investigating committee that he had only a small income in 1945, '46 and '47 and he failed to reveal his San Antonio bank account. All this was sworn to under oath.

McKenney on Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENZIE

America's Card Authority writes for NEA Service Mrs. Phyllis Schellenberg, who with Harry Fishbein, operates the Mayfair Bridge Club in New York, was telling me of an incident that occurred to the late Heywood Brown, well-known columnist and writer.

Brown had been playing with his coat off and not wanting to be seen in his suspenders, he had dropped them from his shoulders. As he got up to acknowledge the introduction the suspenders caught on the arm of the chair. He made his bow in his shorts, but he never lost his poise. He simply said, "Polks, I really have lost my pants in a bridge game."

However, Phyllis said Brown did not get upset because he sat right down and made his contract on today's hand, which has become quite famous.

West opened the king of hearts. What would you play from dummy? If you play the ace you would lose your contract, because East would trump and you still would lose a club.

Brown let the king of hearts hold the trick. When the queen was continued, he trumped it, picked up the outstanding trumps and discarded the losing spade.

Progress Reported In Aftosa Campaign MEXICO CITY (AP)—Preventive vaccine has been given all animals in the area infected with foot and mouth disease.

At least one vaccination has been given 13,071,533 cloven-footed animals, the Joint Mexican-U. S. commission fighting the disease announced Thursday.

A second vaccination has been given 55 per cent of the animals and in some places a third round of shots is under way.

The commission said it can not predict whether the campaign is successful until after all vaccination has been given a third time. No additional cases of the disease have shown up during the second and third vaccinations. The third vaccination is expected to be completed early next year.

Mexico's Dicker For Oil Loan Reveals Complicated Situation

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—Mexico's surprise ending of negotiations for an oil development loan from the United States may be only one phase of a complicated internal Mexican economic and political situation.

Mexico is deep in a postwar readjustment situation similar to the one the British are so worried about. Mexico enjoyed a war boom, with high prices for everything, including attractions for American tourists who had no place else to go.

Most of this business dropped off after the Mexican had trouble regaining its prewar trade with Europe, which was broke. The hoof and mouth disease epidemic cut off Mexico's big cattle exports to the U. S. When the U. S. oil shortage ended in 1945 and Mexico's oil exports dropped off, the country developed a bad dollar shortage.

Anyway, all these developments create a situation which demanded that Mexico do something to increase her exports. One of the best bets seemed to be an increase in oil production. In 1948 Mexico exported $4,000,000 worth of crude oil, but imported 26,000,000 barrels of refined products. Gasoline consumption in Mexico has been increasing steadily as more roads are built and more autos sold.

Social Situations SITUATION: You are introduced to a young man by a girl who has had several dates with him and has talked about him a lot. WROONG WAY: Say, "I'm glad to meet you as Judy has talked about you so much."

RIGHT WAY: Remember that Judy probably doesn't want the young man to know that she has talked about him a great deal, so don't mention that fact if you don't want to embarrass her.

REFUGE advertisement featuring a woman's face and text: 'THE STORY: A wealthy widow, Mrs. Everson, has fled with her servants in two great trailers to escape destruction if atomic war comes. Mrs. Everson has sold all her property, converted her cash to jewelry, saying that those prepared to survive will rule after the catastrophe. With her is her cook Mrs. Marsh, her chauffeur Rudy, her houseboy Victor, and her companion the Marchese Delacoste. Arriving at a sheltered seacoast spot in canyon country, Mrs. Everson announces that this place is safe and prepares to camp for several months. She holds a dinner in celebration of their arrival. After dinner, Victor informs Rudy, with Mrs. Everson's consent, that the wife has gone out alone and is waiting for him. Rudy, who thinks of Mrs. Everson only in terms of her wealth, follows. Mrs. Everson goes to her quarters, but the sky is dark, the atmosphere is heavy. Mrs. Everson begins to wonder if it is the bomb or a storm. XXIII THE heat, even at this time of night, was still oppressive, but Mrs. Everson shivered. Quickly she made her way to the trailer, caught the hand-rails and pulled herself up into the bluish gloom of the entry. The salon door was open and she saw that the Marchese was lying on the sofa. A bucket containing ice and a bottle of champagne stood on the floor within reach. His eyes were open; he was listening now to a recording of Respighi's "Pines of Rome." "Come here, Malone," he said. "Yes, sir." "Do you hear that? The Janiculum. I was born in Rome. Sixty years ago. Listen. The nightingales in the lex groves. Have you ever been there?" "No, sir." "Beautiful. Sad and lonely and haunted. Once you have seen Rome, you carry it with you forever in your mind and heart. Crumbling. Rich as old ivory. Old... old..." "Is there anything more I can do?" Mrs. Malone said. "Oh, No. No—nothing. Good night, Malone." In spite of the throbbing heat, she closed the door of her cubicle, undressed and lay down on top of the covers. MRS. MALONE must have slept an hour, perhaps. She awoke with a start to hear the roaring of a motor and the grinding of tires as they fought the sand for traction. She sat up, reaching for her robe. The truck! Someone was driving it away! She groped with her bare feet, found her slippers, ran to the door. Standing on the top step she leaned forward to look. The lightning had increased now to an almost continuous flickering and dancing of blue fire. By this unholy light Mrs. Malone could see the great uprisings above the bank. Gears scratched violently, and a sudden the headlights bored into the forest. The truck climbed, rocked, straightened out and roared off in a diminishing thunder of exhaust. "Victor!" Mrs. Malone called. "Victor!" Mrs. Malone called. She was answered by a shriek that came from the direction of the falls. Her blood froze. Animal or human? The sound ripped the silence like tearing a cloth. Mrs. Malone felt it in her teeth, along her spine; it was both a screech and a wail, a demon sound. "Victor!" Mrs. Malone cried again. She saw him running with a flashlight through the sand. Then he seemed faintly to leap across the stream in the direction from which that single hair-raising scream had come. "Mrs. Everson!" he shouted. The round spot of intense light from his flash swung, wavered, paused, and Mrs. Malone saw Mrs. Everson stumbling out of the forest. "What is the matter?" the Marchese asked. He came up behind Mrs. Malone. "Mrs. Everson..." she began. The Marchese pushed her aside, ran down the steps and started across the stream. Mrs. Malone tumbled along the wall, found the switch panel. The lights came on, bright and steady and reassuring after the tumult outside. Then Victor and the Marchese appeared with Mrs. Everson between them. She was pale as death, with her face bloody and the gold dress in ribbons—and no jewels. No jewels at all. The necklace of great emeralds was gone, the bracelets, the rings... "Quick!" the Marchese called. "Randy!" They carried Mrs. Everson into the salon and put her down on the sofa, piling the satin cushions under her head. With scratched, shaking hands she tried to hold the small glass of brandy to her lips. Her teeth chattered against the rim, and the liquid spilled down into her bosom. "Rudy..." she gasped. "He tried to kill me. He got the jewels. He's gone." "I will go after him in the car," Victor said. "I can make it faster than he can. I will tell the police and they will stop him." Mrs. Everson shook her head. She looked up at the Philippine with a strange, unreadable expression. "No," she said. "You mustn't. It is too late. You wouldn't come back. And I need you here." (To Be Continued)

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Girl Against The Channel— Shirley Encounters First Of Many Channel Hazards

By SHIRLEY MAY FRANCE
(Copyright by NEA Service, Inc., 1949)

DOVER, ENGLAND—(NEA)—I've encountered one of the lesser hazards of swimming the channel—a jellyfish. While swimming along one of my best workouts thus far, I suddenly felt a numbness in my left shoulder.

I looked up at my father in the accompanying rowboat and said: "Something just made me shudder."

He replied: "It's only a pocket of cold water. There are a lot of them."

I knew better. Dad thinks I'm afraid of jellyfish because I once read that the pioneer channel swimmer, Captain Webb, was stung so badly he almost had to give up the swim.

Anyway, the feeling soon passed. Every day gives me increased confidence that if I get the right combination of breaks, I can swim the channel. Old John Burwill, who has been piloting swimmers across for many years and has spent a lot of time sitting in front of his cottage near our hotel, made me very happy by saying he liked my stroke.

He said I seemed to swim faster than any woman contender he has seen and he asked me how long I could keep it up.

I told him honestly that I could go at that pace for an indefinite number of hours.

He asked what I did when I got tired. I said I hadn't been very tired in any swim so far but that if necessary I could turn over on my back and swim backstroke.

Too Many Photographers

But I said I wouldn't waste any time floating. In my opinion you just get chilled and lose more energy than you would save.

Golly, it's getting tough going to the water from our hotel. It's fifty yards but every day there's a lot of amateur and professional photographers making me pose every step or two.

I'm learning to be patient because I know they're rooting for me like everybody seems to be doing here. Last night a group of kiddies ran after me a block or two shouting "Shirley May, Shirley May, good luck Shirley May."

But it takes a lot of getting used to, to have flash bulbs explode in your face when you're trying to eat breakfast and crowds circling you when you stand on the beach being greased down for a practice swim.

I am enjoying my first steaks from America and they are delicious. They were sent over by airplane by NEA Service, Inc., for whom I am writing these daily stories.

Somebody called to Dad in fun that the British cook might boil the steak and he rushed into the kitchen to demand that it be grilled. Mrs. Enniver, proprietress of the hotel whom we call "Mrs. Miniver," ran him right out of the kitchen and said she had been broiling steaks before he was born.

Everybody laughs at my habit of asking "how much" on anything. My family is not rich and I've learned to price things. But the best money I've ever spent was on a phone call to my mother, who was visiting friends at Fall River, Mass. I was brave enough during the call but after I'd hung up I bawled like a baby for five minutes.

It suddenly occurred to me that a lot depended on me alone—out in the channel you're all by yourself—and I felt terribly homesick.

But I'm all right now.

Texas League— Tulsa Oilers Gain On Leaders As Cats Lose To Ocee Tribe

By The Associated Press

The fourth-place Oklahoma City Indians defeated the first-place Port Worth Cats Thursday night 4-2 to allow the second-place Tulsa Oilers to gain a slim lead over Tulsa and a half game of the top in the Texas League.

Tulsa downed the third-place Dallas Eagles 11-6 to put the losers seven games from the top. Dallas now holds a slim lead and a half margin over Oklahoma City.

The Shreveport Sports beat the San Antonio Missions 7-6. And Houston whitewashed the Beaumont Exporters 4-0.

Oklahoma City's Al Olsen scattered six Port Worth hits to notch his fourth win of the year over the Cats.

Tulsa's Russell Burns hit two two-run home runs and Eddie Knoblauch smashed out two triples to pace the attack on five Dallas pitchers.

San Antonio's Don Lenhardt hit his 22nd homer of the year with Pat Seery aboard in the seventh to tie the score against Shreveport. But Al Mazur doubled in the eighth to score Andy Dubois to give the Sports the verdict.

Jack Creel hurried four-hit ball for Houston.

Still Trim

South Favored In All-Star Scramble

BEAUMONT—(AP)—A ponderous South team—its averages 195 pounds—was favored Friday to beat the North in the fifteenth annual all-star football game of the Texas Coaching School.

Tutored by Don Faurot of Missouri, the South aggregation has a line averaging 202 pounds—some 12 pounds heavier per player than the North, coached by Carl Snavely of North Carolina. In the overall, the South averages 195 and the North 163.

The game Friday night will be the climax of the Texas Coaching School. A capacity crowd of 10,500 is forecast.

The South, using the Split T formation, has its offense geared to the passing of Claud Kinnannon, the Waco all-star, and its running game built around the big Tom Stolhandke of Baytown and lightning fast Galien Dinkle of Marshall.

Anchoring the South line will be the giant Bill Athey of Waco. Key man in the North wall will be Bill Georges, the Arlington Heights (Port Worth) great.

The North may be superior on the ground with its versatile T. Jones of Childress and wild Waldo Young of Monahan along with power men Darrow Hooper of North Side (Port Worth) and Mal Fowler of Van.

South Takes To T

Both squads have players on the injury list. Don Carpenter of Milby (Houston), a fine passer and punter, may not play for the South because of a leg hurt. Bob Rooker of Lubbock, an end, definitely is out of the North line-up because of a knee injury. Bob Zolt of Cameron, big South tackle, also is doubtful. He is nursing a head cut.

Aside from the weight advantage and what looks to be a superior passing attack, the South also is favored because it took to the T formation easily while the North, made up mostly of boys who have been playing under the T, has found it difficult to adjust itself to Snavely's single wingback style.

Probable starting line-ups (kick-off 8 p.m.):

NORTH
ENDS—Teague, Texarkana, and Bell, Bowie.
TACKLES—Ligon, Wichita Falls, and Georges, Arlington (FW).
GUARDS—Drops, Dallas, and Thompson, Odessa.
CENTER—Williams, Phillips.
BACKS—Jones, Childress; Daniels, Denton; Young, Monahan, and Graves, Stephenville.
SOUTH
ENDS—Sexton, Aldine and Saxe, Beaumont.
TACKLES—Dixon, Ingleside, and Davis, Palestine.
GUARDS—Athey, Waco, and Barron, Temple.
CENTER—Reeder, Fort Arthur.
BACKS—Kinnannon, Waco; Dinkle, Marshall; Magouirk, New London, and Stolhandke, Baytown.

The net proceeds of $31,500 from the 1949 PGA golf champion at Dayton, O., were contributed to the local hospital and represented the largest single contribution of its kind from one event.

Texas Softballers Win Losers' Bracket Tilts At Texarkana

TEXARKANA—(AP)—New Orleans won a berth in the finals of the VFW National Youth Softball Tournament here Thursday night, defeating Flora, Ill., 5-2.

Friday night, the Crescent City club will meet Whittier, Calif., in the losers' bracket. Texarkana defeated Ravenwood, Mo., 6-1, and Abilene downed Magnolia, Ark., 5-4.

In the junior division, losers' bracket, the Robins of Texarkana beat the Owls of Texarkana 7-0, the Abilene juniors defeated Hooks, Texas, 9-8, and Rotan won over the Texarkana Cardinals 8-6.

Fort Worth Batboy Stricken By Polio

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The Fort Worth Cats' 11-year-old batboy won't get to go with them on their South Texas trip Saturday.

Theron Edgar Brooks III, the elementary school batboy, is in City-County Hospital a polio victim.

But Cats Manager Bobby Hagan promised Theron will have a treat to equal the trip he had looked forward to.

"As soon as he's able, the whole team will come out to the hospital to see him," Hagan said.

Hayes Hurls 7-3 Victory

The Midland Indians and the Sweetwater Swatters continue their series in Sweetwater at 8:15 p.m. Friday.

Ken Swan, a new rookie hurler from Beaumont, is scheduled to hurl for Midland. Spence is the likely starter for Sweetwater.

SWEETWATER—Lefty Leon Hayes blanked the Sweetwater Swatters for six innings here Thursday night while his fellow Braves scored runs in pairs to cop a 7 to 3 win. Hayes was in the driver's seat all the way, whiffing 10 Swatters and allowing only one extra-base knock.

The Indians were on starter Bill Schwartz all the way.

Besides scoring seven runs they left 14 men stranded on the bags.

Stanley Hughes, Warren Sitter, Julian Pressley, Gus Pena and Hayes collected all of Midland's hits. Each hit binged twice.

The Indians opened the scoring in the third with two runs and added two more, enough to win, in the fifth. One in the sixth and two in the seventh put the game on cold storage.

Five Swatter errors helped the Midland cause.

We were interested in seeing in a recent dispatch that a Big State League pitcher, Bill Farris, had set a new record for strikeouts. He whiffed 16 men in an 11-inning game to run his season's total to 207. The old record in the Big State was 191.

In comparison, the present Longhorn League record for a season's strikeouts is 247 and is held by Leroy Jones, brother of Midland's Kenny Jones.

Julio Ramos of Big Spring seems well on the way to breaking even that high record, however. He has whiffed more than 200 already and has more than a month to go.

Seven rookies from seven different towns in the Longhorn League were nominated in the first ballot for Rookie of the Year honors.

There are eight teams in the league, meaning that one town cast a vote for some rookie not on their own team.

Here's how the votes came in: Bill Dossey of Ballinger, Carlos Pascual of Big Spring, Wayne Bason of Odessa, Kenny Jones of Midland, Wayne Wallace of San Angelo and Wayne Moon of Vernon. That leaves only Sweetwater without a man nominated in the first ballot.

Odessa and San Angelo both went to Beaumont with one big point in mind—to get the 1950 coaching school for their city.

The Odessa coaches even went so far as to arm themselves with batches of Chamber of Commerce ballyhoo to impress upon others at the gathering their city's idealness for the school.

We notice Tugboat Jones didn't seek the school for Midland. He knows we have everything to offer that Odessa does but he also knows both towns are lacking in hotel and other facilities to handle such a large number of men.

Just leave it to Odessa, though. They always seek something too big for them. Take the 1949 Longhorn League pennant for example.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Tigers Nip Yanks; Tribe, Bosox Gain

By JACK HAMD
Associated Press Sports Writer

That old extra inning trouble felled the New York Yanks Thursday when they lost to Detroit in 11 innings 3-2. Pat Mullin, who murders New York pitching, broke up the game with his fourth single of the day, scoring Eddie Lake. Vic Raschi was the losing pitcher.

Cleveland pulled another long game out of the fire, trimming Washington 6-3 in 12 innings to take the first of their twilight-night doubleheader. Then the Indians proceeded to humble the Senators 14-1.

The Boston Red Sox smothered the St. Louis Browns 12-2 with 14 hits.

A scheduled Chicago-Philadelphia night game was rained out.

Both the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers went on double-figure batting sprees to keep step in the National League race, where the Cards still hold a half-game margin.

St. Louis routed Boston 10-2. Home runs by Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Tommy Brown led Brooklyn's 14-hit attack in an 11-3 romp over Pittsburgh.

Chicago Johnny Schmitz ended two streaks, the New York Giants' six-game winning string and the Cubs' eight-game losing slump, with a 1-0 shutout victory.

Cincinnati made it four in a row by taking a pair from the Phillies 8-5 and 9-1.

Optimist Teams To Continue Playoffs

Playoff games in the Optimist Softball League scheduled for Thursday evening were postponed due to rain. They will be played Friday evening.

The Braves and the 88ers will play at Borden Field at 6 p. m. and the Tigers will meet the Eagles on the high school diamond, also at 6 p. m.

The games will be the second in a best two out of three series.

If there are any ties following Friday's games, third games will be played Monday evening.

Bobby Jones attracted the highest gate receipts—$53,319—at the Marion Cricket Club for the amateur championship when he was completing his grand slam in 1950.

Northern Hardwood Artists Trim South In All-Star Contest

BEAUMONT—(P)—The North now holds a dominating lead in Texas Coaching School all-star basketball.

Playing the first double bill of the series, the North squad, coached by Adolph Rupp, Kentucky's producer of champions, stormed to triumphs of 33-23 and 42-38 Thursday afternoon and night.

It brought the North's margin in the four-year series to four wins against one defeat.

The South squad, tutored by Henry Iba of Oklahoma A&M, led its foes half-way in each game but couldn't match the basket-shooting of big O'Neal Weaver of Martin's Hill and Derrell Murphy of Shallowater in the stretch run.

Weaver made nine points in the first game and 10 in the second to be leading scorer of the two games but he beat out Freddie Whillock of Gayuga by one point.

Whillock rammed in 16 points in the night game and earned a tie with Weaver for designation as outstanding player. The selection was made by sports writers covering the games. Both boys will receive trophies from the Texas Sports Writers Association.

The afternoon game was a dull affair.

The night tilt was a good one and was very close until the final quarter and never was headed after that.

Longhorn League— Rained-Out Cats Go Up To Sixth Place As Swatters Slump

By The Associated Press

The Ballinger Cats have replaced the Sweetwater Swatters in sixth place in the Longhorn League standings.

Ballinger's scheduled game at Roswell, N. M., was rained out. Midland downed Sweetwater 7-3, to put Ballinger half a game ahead of the Swatters.

First-place Big Spring defeated last-place Odessa 3-1. And second-place Vernon won a 12-frame marathon from San Angelo 4-3.

Leon Hayes fanned ten men and scattered seven Sweetwater hits to beat the Swatters.

George Lopez batted Big Spring to victory over Odessa. Lopez' two-run single in the eighth frame was the big blow of the Bronco attack. Bill Wynn homered for Odessa.

Vernon's hurler, Carl Carter, scored the run that beat San Angelo in the twelfth on a single by Manager Bob Huntley.

Galveston, Sunset Are Legion Finalists

BRYAN—(P)—Galveston and Sunset High School of Dallas meet Friday night for the championship of the State Junior American Legion Baseball Tournament.

Daddy Ringtail And Huffen House

The Huffen Puffen is a friendly wolf who lives in a hollow tree house. He calls it his Huffen House. One day he moved all the things out of the kitchen, and then he started to paint the floor. That's what he was doing when Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, came walking up to the window. "Happy day, Huffen Puffen!" Daddy Ringtail said through the window. The window was open, and so it was a very happy thing to say "happy day" through. And the Huffen said: "Happy day from your old friend, the Huffen Puffen!" The Huffen Puffen was happy indeed to see Daddy Ringtail but the Huffen stayed down on the floor on his hands and knees, painting and painting the floor with the brush. "Don't paint yourself in a corner," Daddy Ringtail said. "Hah!" said the Huffen. "I'm not going to paint myself at all. I'm not. I'm going to paint the floor."

Daddy Ringtail laughed. Of course he didn't mean that the Huffen might paint himself. He meant that the Huffen should be careful. No one wants to walk on (PROOF NEXT SUNDAY) PROOF OF LAST WEEK'S AD: AN OSTRICH DOES NOT BURY ITS HEAD IN THE SAND! An African explorer states that the ostrich does sometimes thrust its head in the sand, but not for the purpose of hiding, but because it is seeking for water, which it frequently finds beneath the sand of the desert. 1. "Popular Fallacies" - A. S. E. Ackermann, Third Edition. 2. "Nuggets of Knowledge" - Geo. W. Stimpson. 3. - Mr. C. Du P. Chiappini, Trade Commissioner for South Africa, in an interview reported in the Daily Graphic, Oct. 1912.

Nudist Maid Thinks French Bathing Scanties 'Horrible'

DENVER —(AP)— Nudists put on their clothes Thursday night and attended a dramatic show at their annual convention.

"After all, we're the American Sunbathing Association and there's no sun at night," explained Mary Kilgore. She's chairman for the convention in Deer Creek Canyon, southwest of Denver. The nudists ignored a newspaper reader's suggestion they should have assembled in nearby Bear Canyon.

Thursday night's affair was less sociable for some of the skinfolk than their clothesless frolics.

The absence of clothes makes for a more sociable life, a pair of To-

Where the Communists got their arms:

First, they obtained captured Japanese weapons which the Russians abandoned in Manchuria; second, they captured huge supplies of American equipment due to "the military ineptitude of the Nationalist leaders, their defections and surrenders and the absence among their forces of the will to fight."

Why American future policy should be:

"Ultimately the profound civilization and the Democratic individualism of China will reassert themselves and shirk throw off the foreign yoke. I consider that we should encourage all developments in China which now and in the future work toward this end."

Why the Marshall and Hurley missions failed to unify China:

"The distrust of the leaders of both the Nationalist and Communist parties for each other proved too deep-seated to permit final agreement, notwithstanding temporary truces and apparently promising negotiations."

Senate Threatens Penalty To France In Aid Allotments

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate threatened Friday to slap a multi-million dollar penalty on France for alleged mistreatment of 37 Americans in French Morocco.

A qurel over the rights of Americans doing business in Morocco pushed aside any quick vote on the $5,647,724,000 foreign aid bill.

A majority of senators appeared in the mood late Thursday to penalize France for giving the Americans what was described as a rough deal in their efforts to do business.

The foreign aid measure carries an amendment which would deny the use of counterparty funds to any American nation violating an American treaty.

These funds—in the case of France—are francs put into a special account to match the dollar aid received from the Economic Cooperation Administration. The ECA has control over the funds.

Reds Lunge Deeper In China; Loyalist Revolt Aids Cause

CANTON —(AP)— The fortresses of Changsha fell to the Reds Friday in a credible report of a Nationalist army's retreat on that city, which means the road to Canton soon will be almost wide open.

Loss of Changsha, 365 miles to the north, was bad news enough for the Nationalists. But the Reds in another lunge southeast of Changsha were only 215 miles from this refugee capital.

Both these reversals were admitted officially.

Unreal but credible reports said Gen. Chen Ming-jen, new governor of Hunan Province, had revolted.

General Chen only recently replaced Gen. Cheng Chien. The government charges Cheng fled from Changsha and went over to the Reds Monday. The government ordered Cheng's arrest.

The unofficial accounts said General Chen, close friend of his predecessor, also went over to the Reds, taking at least one of his three armies with him. His armies totaled 90,000 men.

West Texans Are Big-Hearted

The Joan Edwards Recovery Fund Plan proves that big-hearted West Texans haven't forgotten the young woman who once lived in McCombe.

Miss Edwards, an employee of The Reporter - Telegram, was injured critically last January 17 in an automobile accident on an icy highway near Odessa, and never has regained consciousness. Her case has attracted nationwide attention. She now is in a San Angelo hospital for X-ray examinations. Only recently she was returned to her home in Rankin from a Dallas hospital. Prior to that she was in an Odessa hospital. With her in San Angelo are her parents, Postmaster and Mrs. M. J. Edwards of Rankin.

Friends of the young woman hope the Joan Edwards Recovery Fund Plan will spread promptly to other sections of West Texas so that ample funds may be provided for treatment which will restore the young woman's health.
