17 Die When Racing Train Smashes Bus

ONTARIO, CALIF.—(AP)—A racing passenger train ripped into a U. S. Air Force bus at a crossing Sunday night, killing 17 of the 22 occupants.

Eleven of the dead were military or civilian personnel from March Air Base; five were members of the Ontario Hostess' Club—a service organization—the other was the chaperone, Mrs. Ruby McLaughlin, 45, mother of one of the dead girls, Juanita McLaughlin, 18.

Chief Deputy Coroner Edward P. Doyle said only five, including twin sisters sitting in different parts of the bus, escaped alive. It was hours before officers could draw a coherent picture from survivors.

Acetylene torches finally cut away the mangled wreckage from the battered locomotive, and the train headed east more than four hours late.

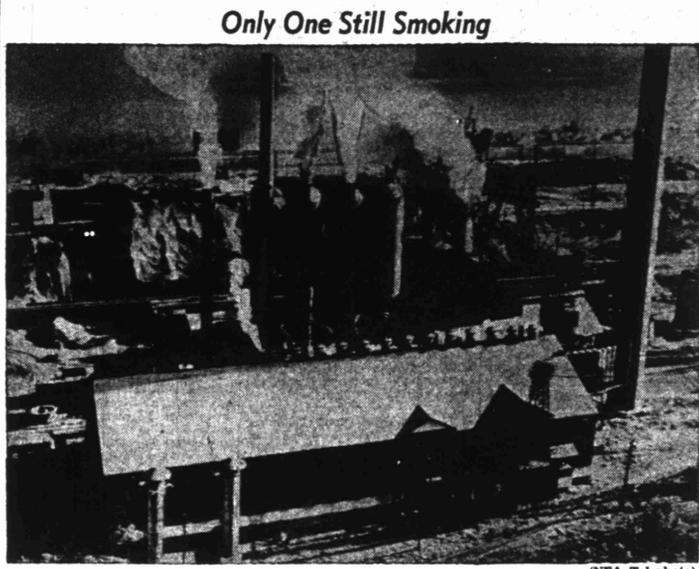

The bus came from March Air Force Base, 40 miles east of here, and carried military and civilian personnel and girl friends home-bound from a day at the beach.

No one on the bus was uninjured, but no one was injured aboard the train, the Union Pacific's Pony Express, eastbound to Chicago. The railroad said the train was traveling 70 miles an hour. Engineer Al Hall declared, "I didn't see a thing" before the crash.

Twin Sisters Survive
Survivors include Omega and Marquita Pearce, 18—cuts and bruises. One of the twins said she was sitting on the rear seat with Charles Plevniak.

"I heard a scream: 'Look out!' The next thing I knew, some men were picking me up," Plevniak was taken the Naval Hospital at Long Beach with undetermined injuries. Nearly a mile of the railroad was derailed.

Only One Still Smoking

Smoke still pours from the stacks of the Portsmouth Steel Corporation plant in Portsmouth, Ohio, but it represents the only blast furnace in the country still operating. The Portsmouth company, employing 4,000 workers, agreed to the presidential fact-finding board's recommendation for a company-financed pension plan. Elsewhere in the country, 514,000 steelworkers are on strike.

Rising Tides, Pelting Rains Precede Blow

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—A 120-mile-an-hour hurricane moved slowly toward the industrial-studded Texas Gulf Coast Monday.

All along the crescent-shaped coastline from Corpus Christi to Galveston, about 250 miles, preparations were made for a big blow late Monday.

Tides already were running high and torrential rains drenched the whole area. Almost four inches of rain had fallen at Galveston.

Corpus Christi, site of the big Naval Air Training Center, ordered schools closed. Thirty-five four-engine bombers took off in a rain squall for a safe haven at Goodfield Field at San Angelo.

Merchants boarded up plate glass windows. Lowland dwellers were ordered away from the coast line.

At 11 a. m. (CST) the hurricane was centered about 100 miles east southeast of Brownsville, on the extreme southern tip of the Texas Coast.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said it was increasing in intensity as it moved eastward. It estimated the wind velocity had increased from 90 miles to 120 miles an hour during the morning.

"It is moving between north northwest and north about 12 miles an hour," an advisory read. "Winds will increase along the Texas coast, reaching gale force (35 to 63 miles an hour) Monday afternoon and hurricane force in the area between Corpus Christi and Galveston Monday night."

The bureau said tides are high along the Louisiana and Texas coasts and will become dangerously high along the upper and middle Texas coasts by Monday night.

Small craft east of Lake Charles, La., to Pensacola, Fla., should remain in port, the bureau said. At Corpus Christi, North Beach residents began moving into Red Cross storm shelters at 11 a. m. (Continued On Page Nine)

Russia Raps West, Hails China's Reds

MOSCOW—(AP)—Russia finally has broken with the Nationalist government in China to give the diplomatic nod to the new Red regime there.

At the same time she accused the Western Allies of trying to split Germany by setting up a separate government in their zones.

The recognition of Communist China was announced Sunday in a note to the premier of the Central People's government at Peiping from Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Another Soviet note, delivered to representatives of the three big Western powers in Moscow, rapped the creation of the West German government at Bonn. It charged the U. S., Britain and France had broken Big Four agreements to try to regain political and economic unity of Germany.

Romania Snubs Tito
Meanwhile, Romania joined the parade of Soviet-style "People's Democracies" in scrapping her friendship treaty with Yugoslavia, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary already have followed the lead of Russia in denouncing their alliances with Premier Marshal Tito's regime.

Reports from inside Yugoslavia say tension was mounting among the people, as Tito's cold war with the Russian-led Cominform reached its toughest stage yet. There were unconfirmed reports in Belgrade that Tito was shifting his troops from Western Yugoslavia to the Eastern borders facing Hungary and Romania.

Associated Press Correspondent Alex H. Singleton reported, however, there appears to be no fear in Belgrade that actual war is imminent.

Justice William O. Douglas Injured In Horseback Accident

YAKIMA, WASH.—(AP)—Justice William O. Douglas, one of the leading figures of the U. S. Supreme Court, was injured Sunday in the Cascade Mountains. He suffered 13 rib fractures and a punctured lung when his frightened horse fell and rolled on him.

His chances of full recovery, however, appeared excellent Monday. Doctors attending him at a Yakima hospital said his condition was not critical.

Pound Devaluation Poses New Threat To Industry, Hallahan Advises Oil Men

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Devaluation of the British pound probably means more and cheaper foreign crude oil imports, the chairman of the National Petroleum Council said here Monday.

Walter S. Hallahan, Pittsburgh, Pa., said that devaluation makes it even more imperative that imports be brought into line with domestic demand.

Hallahan spoke at the opening session of the twentieth annual convention of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

He criticized "American generosity" for cooperating in building and rebuilding European oil installations.

"As imports have mounted to new record levels, our export markets have been lost to European countries whose facilities for producing and refining petroleum have been built with the money of the American taxpayer," he said.

"This is nothing more nor less than a form of national suicide." "The survival and prosperity of the independent oil operator is indissolubly bound up with the survival and prosperity of the American people," Hallahan declared.

Independent Hart W. Wadsworth, "America must not lose sight of the fact that its oil industry cannot be crippled without impairing the national security in exactly the same degree," he continued. "Thousands of independent companies and individual operators, who have discovered 75 per cent of our crude reserves, are the backbone of the industry. The country should be made to realize that they are being seriously injured by increasing imports and vanishing export markets. The people of America must be awakened to (Continued On Page Seven)

Senate Scrap Over Controversial Farm Bill Starts Monday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate buckled down Monday to a scrap over farm legislation—a politically hot issue that has criss-crossed party lines.

Mindful of the hay President Truman made in the Midwest farm belt in his election campaign last year, senators came to grips with the problem of how far the government should go in supporting farm prices.

Before them was a compromise bill worked out by a Senate Agriculture subcommittee under the guidance of Senator Anderson (D-Mn), former secretary of agriculture under Truman.

It would set up a flexible system of government-backed price supports, ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity for most basic crops. The price props would come down as crop supplies went up.

In principle, the Anderson bill is much like the Aiken law enacted by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress last year to take effect next January 1. But the Anderson measure underwrites farm prices at a somewhat higher level.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt), author of last year's act, is backing it. But some senators, both Democrat and Republican, want higher price supports for basic crops.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said he plans to offer the program of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan as a substitute for the Anderson bill.

"I'm for the highest price supports I can get," he said. "The House voted down the Brannan plan two months ago. The Senate Agriculture Committee pigeonholed it."

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee Monday approved the nomination of Federal Judge Sherman Minton of Indiana to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

CANTON, CHINA—(AP)—Soviet recognition of the Chinese Communist regime is "not only an act of aggression against China but also a threat to peace and security of the Far East," Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh declared late Monday.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Democratic congressional leaders and President Truman agreed Monday that Congress should put off consideration of civil rights measures until the session starting in January.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Rules Committee Monday sent social security expansion legislation to the House under a rule barring any changes. This means the House must accept the bill "as is" or turn it down.

W. J. Sparks Dies In Midland Home; Services Tuesday

William John Sparks, 71, veteran Midland insurance, real estate and abstract man and former Midland County official, died about 2:30 a. m. Monday at his residence here.

He had been in ill health the last year, but recently was much improved and had been visiting his office for a few hours daily until several days ago. His condition became serious Sunday evening and the Midland Fire Department was called to the Sparks home to administer oxygen. He was revived and his condition was thought to be "fairly good" until a few minutes before his death.

Born May 26, 1878, at Cisco, Sparks came to Midland in 1903 as a pharmacist. He saw Midland develop from a small town into the progressive capital of the oil and cattle business of the Permian Basin Empire. He was known affectionately to his friends as "Uncle Billy."

He had been a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Midland since 1905, and had held various offices in the church since that time. He was a deacon and assistant treasurer at the time of his death. He also was a long-time member of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Sparks served as clerk of Midland County from 1908 until 1917. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the First Presbyterian Church, with Dr. Matthew Lynn, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the church from 1:30 p. m. until time for the service.

Survivors Listed
Sparks and the late E. H. Barron established the insurance and real estate firm of Sparks and Barron in 1922. They acquired the Midland Abstract Company at the same time. The firm now is known as Sparks, Barron and Ervin, Charles Ervin having joined the concern as a partner a few years ago.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. C. H. Marchman of Lancaster, Texas, Mrs. G. B. Joplin of Spur and Mrs. Warren Wiggins of Morgan Mill, Texas; three nieces, Mrs. Vera Harper of Midland, Mrs. Hobert Parks and Mrs. Jack Sharp, both of Lancaster, and a nephew, C. D. Marchman of Dallas.

Coal-Steel Strike May Cost Billion

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—One-fifth of John L. Lewis' coal miners went back into the pits Monday but almost a million other steel and coal workers remained on strike for pension benefits.

There are hints the federal government may step into the dispute. Some 80,000 anthracite (hard coal) diggers ended two weeks of idleness in Eastern Pennsylvania. And 22,000 soft coal diggers trooped back to mines in Western states. Lewis said these miners' further inaction is "not now vital to the pending wage negotiations."

It's a morale booster for America's householders since virtually all of the coal mined by the returning 102,000 is used for home heating. No Hint Of Break Coal-using industry, however, must continue to bite into a 44-day supply of bituminous stockpiled at Corpus Christi, North Beach above ground. There was no hint of a return to work order for the 380,000 men who mine most of the nation's industrial coal.

How much steel is available? About enough for four to six weeks. The double-barreled steel-coal strike—it idled 513,000 CIO steelworkers and nearly 400,000 soft coal miners—made big dents in America's economy.

Near $2,000 Taken In Burglary Here; Safe Is Recovered

Burglars struck for the first time in several weeks here Saturday night or early Sunday and made off with almost $2,000.

A 400-pound safe was removed from the Service Club, 117 North Colorado Street, and looted in a field seven miles west and three miles south of Midland. Total loss was estimated at $1,900 by operators of the club.

Officers said about $1,400 in cash and an estimated $500 in checks was reported missing. Some $200 in checks was recovered when the safe was found.

Lt. W. F. Shepherd of the Police Department discovered the burglary about 5 a. m. Sunday. His report said entrance to the building was gained through a back window. The safe had been rolled to a back door, where the knob was knocked off. It then was removed through the back door and loaded into a pickup or automobile.

A motorist reported the safe ditched in the field Sunday morning. Officers from the Sheriff's Department, Police Department and rangers are working on the case.

C-N Scurry Venture Enters Canyon Reef

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Whately, Central-North Scurry County wildcat, three and one quarter miles north of the nearest completed producers from the Canyon reef line on the north side of the North Snyder field, topped the Canyon reef at 7,265 feet, on an elevation of 2,572 feet.

It was making hole below 7,300 feet in lime, at last report. No drillstem tests have yet been run on the section of the Canyon which has been penetrated.

Location is 600 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 548, block 97, H&TC survey.

D. & R. Oil Company and others No. 1-A Martin, Central-Scurry County prospector, two and three-quarters of a mile east of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field, drilled to 7,627 feet in dry lime and has been plugged and abandoned.

It did not find any possibilities of oil or gas production. The Canyon reef was low to the Sharon Ridge field, and that formation made only water.

No. 1 Feldman Deepens
Location is 600 feet from south and east lines of section 159, block 97, H&TC survey.

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., and associates No. 1 Feldman, 10 miles east of Snyder in Central-East Scurry County, and 600 feet from north and east lines of section 83, block 97, H&TC survey, had progressed 6,750 feet in shale, and was boring deeper.

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1 Sentell, about two and one half miles east of the nearest Canyon producer on the southeast side of the North Snyder field, had reached 7,440 feet in dry lime and was drilling deeper.

It has not found any signs of oil, gas or water since entering the Canyon reef at 12,383 feet.

Location is 487 feet from north and west lines of Tract 2 of the Dallas Trust & Savings Bank subdivision of the Grimes ranch in block 1, J. F. Smith survey, seven miles northeast of Snyder.

Andrews Prospector Testing Ellenburger
George P. Livermore, Inc., and Deeprock Oil Corporation No. 1 Hayner, Southwest Andrews County wildcat, five miles north of the Dollarhide field, and 1,980 feet from south and 600 feet from west lines of section 20, block A-51, ps1 survey, was reported by unofficial sources to be bottomed at 12,383 feet in the Ellenburger, and is slated to run a drillstem test.

Operators have not released an official call on the top of the Ellenburger. Some geologists picked that point to be at 12,375 feet. Elevation is 3,279 feet.

Samples in the top section of the formation are said to have shown some oil fluorescence.

Midlanders Give Generously To Help Little Girl

A kind-hearted Midland citizen, as individuals and as groups, is contributing generously to help a little girl in her fight for life against cancer.

Since the story of Wanda Ruth Newworth, who will be three years old in November, was told to the public in The Reporter-Telegram, money has showered to the child from many Midland sources.

Wanda is cared for by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Osborne, Route 1, Midland. They are burdened with medical expenses but had not asked for aid. Neighbors initiated the campaign to raise money to help them.

Almost $775 in contributions have been reported to the newspaper since the news story account of the little girl's battle was published. Contributors Listed

Shoppers Throng Midland Stores For Dollar Day

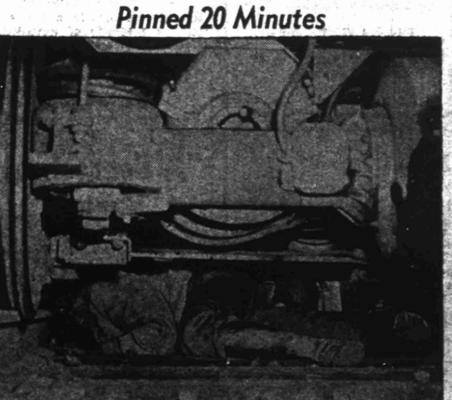

Dollar Day shoppers were out in full force Monday as Midland stores observed the October sales day by offering scores of money-saving values in almost every line of merchandise.

Crowds gathered early in the downtown area and the rush was on immediately after the stores opened their doors. Regular and extra clerks were busy all morning waiting on the customers. It appeared that new sales records might be established during the day.

Many shoppers from area cities joined Midlanders in the buying spree.

Monday morning's cool weather was most appropriate for the opening of the Fall shopping season, and put citizens in the right frame of mind for Fall buying.

Traffic was heavy in downtown Midland throughout the morning.

WE, THE WOMEN

Wife Shouldn't Lose Her Head Just Because Her Spouse Has

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Her marriage has lasted more than 25 years. Now the wife finds out that her husband is seeing another woman on his regular business trips to another city.

What should the wife do? Above all else, she should use her head.

Her pride may tell her to threaten to leave him and show him that he can't treat her like that and get away with it.

But if she'll listen to her head she will get better advice.

Her head will say: "I've put 26 years into this marriage, why should I pull out of it now and turn over my long-term investment to another woman?"

Her head will say: "Pride is a fine thing and the young may be able to afford it. But what is it going to get me, except the momentary satisfaction of making a fine, dramatic gesture?"

Her head will ask the question: "Just what will the years from now on be like if I give up the security and companionship of marriage and the place in the community it offers me?"

Her head will say: "Surely a marriage that has been mostly good for a quarter of a century can't be entirely ruined, even if right now it seems to be."

There's no time in a marriage when it is as important for a woman to keep her head as when her husband has lost his.

And the longer the marriage has lasted the greater the woman's investment in it—and, therefore, the more important it is for her to use her head when it is threatened.

The woman who remembers that can figure out a way to handle almost any marriage problem. The danger is in listening to pride rather than to hard, common sense. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

IN HOLLYWOOD

Old Harlow Films Might Need Cleaning Up Before Reissue

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours' Jean Harlow, dead 11 years, is coming back to the screen this winter via the re-issue of some of her M-G-M hits. But before going to theaters the picture first will go to the Johnson censorship office. They're all pre- Legion of Decency.

Hollywood tried to find a successor to the platinum bombshell, but failed. In case you've forgotten, Howard Hughes discovered Jean and introduced her in "Hell's Angels." A Hughes press agent, Link Quarterberg, gave her the platinum blonde tag.

These love scenes between Rod Cameron and Marie Windsor for "Dakota Lil" were carried on in a frigid atmosphere—their romance went on ice a week after the film started. . . . Lew Ayres will do another western after "Daybreak." It's "Sugarfoot," the story of a soft-spoken but quick-on-the-trigger cowhand to be made at Warner Brothers.

Bette Davis wants the cash quick. She's turning down all percentage deals now that she's freelancing. If you want to hire her, it's money on the line.

Eddie Cline, who directed old Mack Bennett comedies, will direct the Olsen and Johnson TV show on NBC this winter.

Bricklaying Made Easy

The "first real improvement in five centuries in the method of laying bricks" is demonstrated in Montgomery, Ala., by poed Kitty McGlynn. The device, invented by engineers Paul H. Sommers and John S. Hodgson, is said to speed bricklaying four times the normal pace. Acceptance by the building industry could mean great savings in construction costs—especially in the building of low-cost homes.

Balance Needed In High Court

Where does the Supreme Court belong in relation to the racing currents of political, economic and social affairs?

Under the U. S. Constitution, the judiciary is an independent arm of the government, co-equal in authority with the Congress and the presidency.

Historically, the Supreme Court as the top judicial agency in America came to exercise its check on the legislative and executive authority by passing upon the constitutionality of measures enacted into law.

Plainly the court is thus in a position to do heavy damage to the enacted program of a particular Congress or President.

Was this carrying "checks and balances" too far? Roosevelt thought so.

He lost that battle but won the war when death and resignation of sitting justices enabled him to appoint men of his own choosing.

Many careful thinkers believed Roosevelt was basically right in his outlook toward the court, even though they may not necessarily have approved his "packing" plan.

But isn't there a danger that a court which follows the election results too closely may so completely take on the color of the party in power that it yields its independence?

Both Roosevelt and President Truman have elevated certain men to the Supreme Court whose chief qualification seems to have been that they were loyal Democrats.

Ordinarily the long tenure enjoyed by high court justices carries them through changes in national administration.

But the long hold on the White House represented by the Roosevelt-Truman regime provided such an opportunity.

There is no harder question than how to strike a balance between a court which might block vital social progress and one which would weakly serve as a rubber stamp for a ruling political party.

But it seems to us that the sound course lies somewhere in this direction: A President, whatever his own social philosophy, should strive to construct a Supreme Court which generally represents a balance between conservative and liberal thinking.

In order that these two groups shall not stalemate each other, he should seek to place on the bench one justice whose thinking falls near the center.

How About U.S. Navy?

Perhaps you noticed that a family of six from Fall River, Mass., undertook to swim from the Battery to Coney Island through New York Harbor the other day.

The family promptly announced they will try to swim the English Channel next year.

Or maybe they've heard that dolphin, who swim in schools, have been doing quite nicely for a long time in their efforts to negotiate the treacherous channel waters.

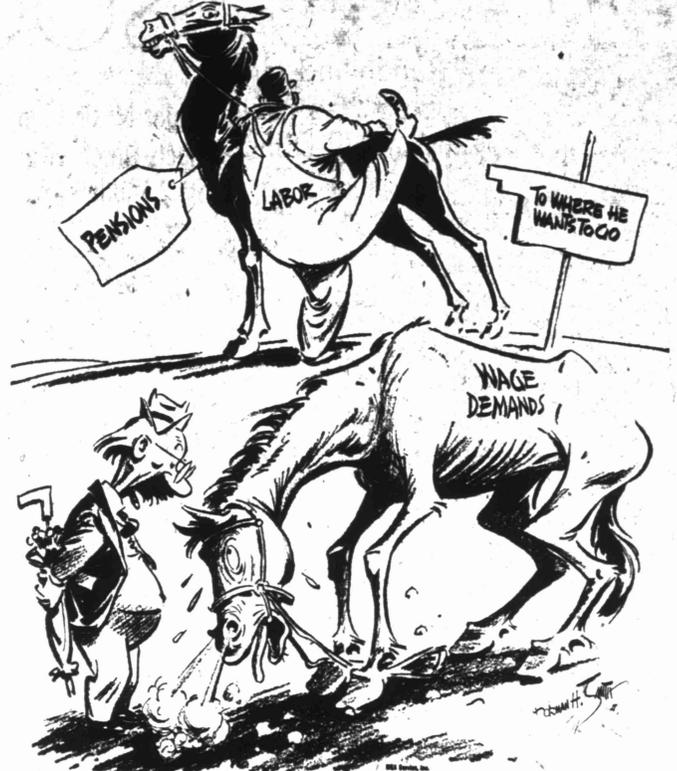

Anyway, this team attempt should be interesting. A veritable armada of rowboats and pilot vessels probably will be needed, to judge from the number of craft that follow single swimmers.

Iceland has had only three murders in 90 years. Probably all cold-blooded ones.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The day the President announced that the Russians had an atomic bomb, the following story slipped out of the Army's intelligence office:

Members of the Russian general staff were discussing the best way to deliver A-bombs to the U. S. in case of war, in one crippling blow.

The most recent report on the progress of making an atomic-powered airplane, not encouraging.

Next, the Russian general in charge of fifth-column activity spoke up. He said that the Russian bombers weren't reliable enough.

But the Russian in charge of civilian components said: "That's impossible, too. Where would we get nine good suitcases?"

So they say

In troubled times like these a draft law is absolutely essential for the quick mobilization and the nation's safety.

—Lt. Gen. Edward H. Brooks, Army's director of personnel and administration of the nation's safety.

We are not here to blame anybody, but we are not going to let anybody blame us.

—Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, in the U. S. for dollar conferences.

Personally I would agree to an amendment to the arms bill of from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 contingent upon putting it entirely in the hands of the President and with no mention of military aid (to Nationalist China).

—Sen. Tom Connally (D), Texas, on aid to non-Communist China.

I think this rising generation has prospects before it that are really unequalled in the history of the world. And that we want to do is to impress upon them their responsibilities.

—President Truman.

The essential problem is how to maintain the greatest area of mutual trading in the world and how to prevent the creation of a barrier between the leading democratic nations.

—Clement Attlee, British Prime Minister.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: After a broken engagement, Tod Densen marries a girl he really doesn't love. He tries to convince himself that this is not "marriage on the rebound."

Before they went to sleep that night he spoke about the baby again. "I really don't want it, Jenny, now that I've had time to get used to the idea. I hope it's a boy. We'll make a football player out of him. And you're not to worry about the money angle, either. Even if you have to quit work, we'll manage some way. I'll get a job on the side, and—"

"Oh, Tod!" She went into his arms and was comforted at last. It was strange not to go down to the shop every morning. All their days began like Sunday, with Tod dawdling over coffee and the morning paper while Jenny made the bed and tidied things.

They could have sold the car. It hadn't really had to have it. But Tod was so proud of it. Then Jenny happened to think of the cottage on the river. Much as it annoyed her to have to sell Pop's shack, still it would bring in some money. They wouldn't be going out there much next summer with the baby, anyway.

Tod went at once to a real estate agent. The cottage brought $500 after the agent's fee was deducted, which was a pretty good sum. Jenny knew the money wouldn't go far, but she refused to let herself worry.

show the moral of this, he ordered the Library of Congress to furnish him with statistics on the smoking and drinking habits of non-Mormons which disclosed that Americans have been spending $67.23 per capita on liquor and $36.39 per person on tobacco—but only $31.79 per capita on schools.

U. S. troops advanced to the suburbs of Berlin where income tax cases against political friends can be pushed—or dropped; where the big gamblers who contribute heavily to most political campaigns can be sent to jail or winked at.

For instance, the political power of the Justice Department to break big city machines was one reason why forthright Attorney General Frank Murphy was kicked upstairs to the Supreme Court.

Because of this it always is dangerous to put a politician in charge of the Justice Department; and for that reason a lot of people will be watching the new Attorney General who will replace McGrath, just appointed attorney general after serving as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

While it's too early yet to judge, so far McGrath is going about this new job not as if he wanted to do a job for the Democratic Party but as if he wanted to do a job for the country. His temptations will be great, but so far he has made a good impression.

Note 1—Among other things, McGrath is continuing Tom Clark's forthright position on civil liberties. Recently he ordered the prosecution of an Alabama policeman, Cecil Thrash, on the charge of shooting a negro in the back, even though the shooting took place two years ago last October.

Note 2—McGrath's chief trouble so far is long weekends in Rhode Island. Merry-Go-Round.

Admiral Chester Nimitz, once a great naval fighter, now a United Nations staff member, has become a great booster for the world organization. Cuba has lodged an official invitation to have the next U. N. General Assembly in Havana; the answer will be "no."

The British did hard over election of Carlos Romulo as president of the General Assembly. They were pushing Iranian Chief Delegate Kasroli as a candidate.

Dr. Philip Jessup as active head of the U. S. delegation to U. N., following Acheson's return to Washington, there will be a minimum of blood between the U. S. and the U. S. R. Jessup is on friendly terms with the Soviets personally and believes the best way to oppose them is without reprisal.

Peron was at home playing golf with a small group of army cronies at dinner, when word of British devaluation was flashed to him by an Argentine press censor. In a matter of minutes, Peron had located by telephone his ministers of finance and foreign affairs, and three of his top economic advisers, and within another half hour they were gathered in a heated huddle. It lasted until almost 3 a. m.

According to one of those present, "the ranting and cursing was truly formidable." Peron's chief beef was that the English had "cheated" by not revealing their intention to devalue before signing the recent five-year trade treaty with Argentina. He overlooked, of course, the fact that most British cabinet members were doggedly seeking to avert devaluation right up to the devaluation itself.

Real explanation of Peron's rage is: He made a "smart" deal with Britain largely as a gesture of defiance toward the U. S. A., and, 2. He now realizes that British manu-

Texas Prison Rodeo Off To Soggy Start

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—The 18th annual Texas Prison Rodeo got off to a soggy start Sunday, but 12,000 persons turned out.

Rain which made the arena slush and heavy stopped a few minutes after the rodeo opened.

A picked field of 57 convicts took part. The rodeo will be held each Sunday this month, with a special show Wednesday, October 19, for disabled veterans from Houston hospitals.

Gov. Allan Shivers attended the opening performance.

America Likes British Style

Full fashions from Britain sport traditionally fine tailoring, designs that cater to U. S. tastes. A slim skirted black serge suit flaunts a lively plaid muffer that gets cinched in at the waist (left). Angled stripes point up pockets and collar of brown and beige worsted dress and jacket ensemble (center). Stripes again for the suit (right) bronze and silver worked in vertical lines on the jacket, horizontally on skirt.

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — Designed to make an American take back her words if she says that British fashions are stodgy are four London-designed collections of ready-to-wear made for the U. S. A. Combining fine British woollens and good London tailoring — "so good" American fashion critics are saying, "that they could be worn inside out" — these imported coats, suits and dresses make a real contribution to U. S. fashions. London designers have catered to U. S. tastes for snappy styling and bright novelty woollens. In creating ready-to-wear for a wide U. S. distribution, designers have bowed to American steam heating in their use of lightweight woollens. Although termed "ready-to-wear," British methods of creating mass-produced clothes involve enough handwork and individual treatment to warrant calling these exports "custom-made" fashions. Despite the amount of custom work they have and the duty that's tacked on, the price of these imports is less than many "home-grown" fashions of comparable quality and style. Typical styling is seen in a dress and jacket ensemble of brown and beige striped worsted. Designed by Maritza of London, the stripes are angled to give shoulders and pockets the dress unusual treatment. Stripes are also angled to point up pockets and collar of a matching fitted jacket trimmed with brown wool and self-covered buttons. Another that reflects Maritza's talents is one of bordered novelty worsted of bronze and silver stripes. For this, stripes are angled vertically at the sides of the jacket to make it more slimming. Stripes go in the opposite direction on a skirt that's given easy movement by back pleats. A detachable plaid scarf of black, white and red wool, which crosses a shoulder and tucks under the belt of a lightweight black serge suit speaks for the fashion flare of Frederick Starke, another designer of the London model house group.

Six Days Of Freedom

(NEA Telephoto) Frank Grandstaff, center, leaves Tennessee State Prison at Nashville for Big Spring, Texas, to hear his "Big Spring Cantata" played at the 100th anniversary celebration of the community. Serving a life term as a habitual criminal, Grandstaff was granted a six-day "furlough" to attend the ceremonies. At left is Big Spring druggist "Shine" Phillips, who led the movement to grant the convict his brief freedom. Sheriff R. E. Wolf, right, of Big Spring is Grandstaff's official guard until his return to prison.

Convict Weeps At Hearing Cantata Sung At Big Spring

By MARTHA COLE
BIG SPRING.—(P)—A life-term convict stood in the wings of a stage Sunday and cried. He was hearing for the first time—his musical history of Big Spring. Grandstaff, on a six-day furlough from the Tennessee State Prison, then slipped quietly into a front row seat. But minutes later he was pushed to the stage—the center this time—to receive the applause of hundreds. The one-time piano salesman in West Texas, a man described as having unusual talents, was given a warm, heart-felt ovation for a work composed in a prison cell. Grandstaff's cantata, "Big Spring," was sung by a male chorus as part of this West Texas city's 100th birthday celebration. "I'm happy, I'm very happy," Grandstaff said. "Yes, it sounded just as I thought it would."

"Happiness is a town named Big Spring," he told a crowd estimated at 2,000 persons just before the program in the Municipal Auditorium began. "Everyone here has gone out of his way to make my stay here one to be remembered." "You need not worry about me while I am here," he said in a low, emotion-choked voice. Shine Phillips, the druggist who wrote the book, "Big Spring," that inspired Grandstaff to compose his music, introduced the convict to the crowd. Hope For Freedom "We hope for further freedom for a man of such splendid talent, personality and background," Phillips said. "To most people, the highlight of the celebration was Grandstaff's cantata—composed in solitary, the time tapped on the wall of a cell. "Any free man must be talented to transfer narrative prose into rhyme stanzas and set appropriate choral music to that text," said Dr. Roy Harris, composer in residence at Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn.

Survivors said the party had been to Corona Del Mar and Long Beach on a special services outing. It had dropped off some girl friends of the air base personnel only a few minutes before. A graphic eyewitness account came from O. K. Englund of La Crescenta, Calif., who was driving on U. S. Highway 60, which parallels the Union Pacific tracks. Englund sells accident insurance and has investigated many crashes. "Suddenly," he said, "rocks began hitting my windshield and I drove into a big cloud of dust. I stopped. A fellow was staggering around, yelling 'My arm, my arm!' I saw one man lying against a post, bones sticking out from his body. There were pieces of bodies scattered everywhere. Pieces of the bus were scattered around, none so big you couldn't lift them. "I came upon a girl, naked from the waist up and bleeding badly. I helped lift a man half buried in the sand. "I must have seen about 15 people lying around, and there were only five of them alive."

Porkers Too Rough, Declares TCU Coach

DALLAS.—(P)—Bill Rives, sports editor of the Dallas Morning News, said there were indications an official protest may be made to the Southwest Conference over the "rough tactics" of the University of Arkansas football team. Rives said Texas Christian University Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer and Horned Frog players were incensed over what they described as the rough tactics of Arkansas. Arkansas Saturday defeated Texas Christian 27-7. Rives, who covered the game, said Sunday that Meyer would make only this statement for publication: "Just list our injuries. That ought to show how I feel." Rives said Orelin Browning, defensive TCU halfback, suffered a broken jaw; Quarterback Lindy Berry and End Morris Bailey each had several teeth loosened; Wayne Rogers, an end, had an injured right knee, and Center Max Eubank a black eye.

Devaluation—

this very real menace to their standards, their property, their opportunities and their very lives. "Just as the oil industry has led the way in many other crusades, it must not in this critical moment overlook its responsibility to lead in the crusade for the preservation of American ideals. "We must recognize that we are in an era of expanding world production and contracting markets, but the American producer has a right to expect that the American market will be protected against ruinous and unfair competition from abroad, especially from those sources that are financed by American generosity. As a matter of national security, the American people have a right to expect it." Proper Balance Essential The Petroleum Council chairman said that organizations of the independents had stood in the path of any monopolistic trend in the industry, and that as a result, "the oil industry today maintains its position as the outstanding symbol of American free enterprise." Hallanan said there was both necessity and room in the industry for the major integrated companies and the independent operators. "One supplements the others," he asserted, "but we must be careful to preserve the proper balance between these two essential groups. It will be an evil day when the independent is forced out of business through unfair competition or by other methods not in keeping with our standards of fair play. That would be an ominous day not only for the independent, the industry and the nation, but for those who might gain temporary economic power through such practices." Expressing apprehension over the use of American taxpayers' dollars to finance European oil production and refining facilities that are capturing American export markets, Hallanan said this "is nothing more nor less than a form of national suicide. We are creating a Frankenstein," he added, "that will seriously cripple the effectiveness of the domestic oil industry, and to the same extent and in the same degree the national security will be impaired."

Socialistic Dogma
The speaker expressed the opinion that those who propose to raise the living standards of backward nations "at the expense of destroying our own industry and lowering our own standards are motivated not so much by a sense of pity and generosity as they are by the political considerations of a Socialistic dogma which prescribes that the talented, the energetic and the thrifty should divide with the dull, the shiftless and the irresponsible. What they proclaim, in effect, is that if the backward people of earth are unable, even with our help, to lift themselves up from their impoverished state, then it is our obligation to descend to their unfortunate level." "There is very obviously only one end to such a course, and that is economic stagnation, social and political decay. It will inevitably halt the forward march of America and set the clock back a hundred years in this country. And after we have suffered from that irreparable blow, we will discover that the backward peoples will be just as far back—perhaps farther—than they were in the first place. We cannot help the weak unless we maintain our own strength and virility." Vast New Horizons Declaring that there had been a greater advance by mankind in the ninety years since the first commercial oil well was drilled in 1859 than in all previously recorded history, Hallanan said: "We have come a long way in the last ninety years, but we are still far from the end of the road. Vast new frontiers and horizons lie ahead. The oil industry has fully met every responsibility of war and peace during its ninety-year life. It will move forward to meet the new and greater responsibilities of tomorrow, provided it is permitted to work in a political climate that permits freedom of action and encourages and rewards individual initiative." The IPAA convention continues through Tuesday. New officers and directors were to be named Monday afternoon. In a meeting held Sunday, preliminary to the convention, J. Paul Jones, Bradford, Pa., was named president of the National Stripper Well Association. Jones succeeds Fred Schmann, Wichita Falls, Texas. V. C. Perini, Abilene, Texas, is the new first vice president; M. G. Powers, Huntington, W. Va., second vice president; G. G. Sauer, Bradford, treasurer; and G. J. Tucker, Wichita Falls, secretary.

Nashville Vols Tap Tulsa Oilers 9-1 In Dixie Series Contest

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—Righthander Ben Wade will shoulder the responsibility of trying to get the Nashville Vols even with the Tulsa Oilers in the Dixie Series Monday night. The Vols, pennant and playoff winners in the Southern Association, got back in the ball game Sunday with a 9-1 victory behind the three-hit pitching of Frank Marino. The triumph brought new hope to the Vols after they were whacked soundly in the first two games. On the line to oppose Wade in Monday night's fourth game is slim Jim Avrea, a righthander with a tantalizing sinker ball. Tulsa now needs two straight verdicts to end the series without trekking back to Nashville.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Wild Geese

The wild geese were flying south. They flew very high as little as dots, and as they flew they all made a noise of "Honk, honk! Honk, honk! Honk, honk!" On across the sky they flew. "Honk, honk! Honk, honk!" Soon they had crossed the sky and could be seen no longer. They were too far away.

"Ah me," Daddy Ringtail said, because he had been watching the geese from the porch of his monkey house.

"Ah yes," said Mother Ringtail, because she too had thought that the flight of the geese was a pretty thing to see and hear.

Daddy Ringtail said again as he did every year. "The warm days of Summer are gone at last. The cold days of Winter will soon be here. Every Fall the geese fly south to keep ahead of the cold winds that blow from the north."

Oh, but Mother Ringtail was thinking that the geese had made a mistake this time. The Winter was coming to the forest, of course, but surely no time soon.

"No sir," Daddy Ringtail said, "those geese are fellows that can't be fooled. The cold north wind is on its way right now."

Daddy Ringtail waited. Mother Ringtail waited with him. They were sitting now in the living room by the window—looking out in the night and across the trees of the forest. Not a leaf in a tree was stirring. The night was warm.

Then it happened, but gently at first. There came a rustling of leaves as the wind came softly from the north. Then the trees began to toss their branches. A door slammed. And at last the cold north wind came a-howling through and around the house. Quickly the windows were closed, and quickly a fire was lit in the fireplace. It was fun to be there thing to see and hear.

If you listen by night or maybe by day, some time you will hear them. They are a happy thing to hear, and a happy day now to you at your house.

'Glad They're On Our Side,' Commented By Specialists At Permian Basin Air Show

By BERRY APPLING
The remainder of its performance was at a disappointing slow rate of speed.

Soon after the P-80's departure, four P-82's arrived overhead. From the standpoint of the crowd this was the most exciting part of the show.

The event, sponsored by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Midland-Odessa Chapter of the Air Force Association, began at 1:30 p.m. at the Midland Air Terminal.

First arrivals for the overhead performance were six T-6's (Texans) from Goodfellow Air Base at San Angelo.

Soon after, an F-51, which had arrived early and landed, took to the air to rejoin 13 of his mates from Brooks Field.

The F-51's made a pass at the field from the northwest closely followed by a speedy B-26 from Biggs Field at El Paso.

Arrival of the Shooting Star was delayed. Its departure from Williams Field in Phoenix, Ariz., finally was announced and in an unbelievably short time it appeared on the western horizon.

Midland police and members of the Sheriff's posse handled the traffic and the JayCees presided at the concession stands.

ican heritage of freedom. Knowledge is the key to all your liberties. "Your newspaper is the key to a better understanding of our community, our state, our nation and the world in which we live."

"Freedom of choice starts where people live and work." The Reporter-Telegram publisher continued. "Read your hometown newspaper with care to discover the freedom of choice which promise you a happier and more abundant life right here in our hometown."

Allison discussed the work which goes into the publishing of a daily newspaper and the functions of its departments, emphasizing the importance of the newspaper boy, "the business man of tomorrow."

"The American press has a proud tradition of service but we cannot rest on our record," Jean Ferguson addressed Kiwanians on the importance of National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week, urging more consideration by employers to physically handicapped persons, but urging that they be employed not on the basis of their disability but on the basis of their ability.

Joe Koeger, immediate past president, presided at the meeting due to the absence of Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, president. A meeting of the district committee was announced for Monday evening by Reese Cleveland. The group will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the City-County Auditorium.

On the ground an H-5E helicopter attracted swarms of curious West Texans. A slated performance didn't develop because of mechanical trouble. Also of interest on the parking ramp were two B-26's, a C-54 military transport, a C-47 transport and numerous trainers such as the Texan and a BT-13.

The B-26 caused comment among ex-Air Force personnel. It strongly resembled the old A-20 and bore no resemblance to the old war-time medium bomber with the B-26 designation. New Air Force uniforms also caused lifting of eyebrows among the exes.

Midland police and members of the Sheriff's posse handled the traffic and the JayCees presided at the concession stands.

It will be drilled as R. J. Carraway of Dallas No. 1 T. A. Roe Co. go to about 10,000 feet to test into the Pennsylvanian line.

The prospector will be seven miles northwest of Lamesa and 680 feet from north hand west lines of labor 10, League 31, Mungler subdivision, Taylor County School Land, survey, in the Mungerville area.

Humble Oil & Refining Company, Standard Oil Company of Texas and Magnolia Petroleum Company have acreage in the vicinity.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc. have the rotary drilling contract and are now moving equipment to the derrick.

SW Ector Offset Is Low To Nearest Well Standoil Oil & Gas Company No. 1 L&K Realty Company, north-west seepout from production from the Ellenburger in the Yarrowburgh & Allen field of Southwest Ector County, topped the Ellenburger at 10,000 feet.

It has now bottomed at 10,670 feet in lime, and is taking a drillem test. It has a datum of minus 7,788 feet and informed observers think it has 160 feet of Ellenburger above the water level.

No. 1 L&K Realty Company previously indicated for a discovery from the Devonian from 8,415 feet to 8,468 feet. That zone made 5,440 feet of free oil, plus 376 feet of heavy oil and gas-cut drilling mud.

Tentative top of the Devonian was placed at 8,415 feet, give it a minus datum of 5,336 feet. It is contracted to drill to 11,000 feet.

The prospector is 680 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block 8-1, pt. survey, and 15 miles northeast of Monahans.

A Navy plane reported at 10:20 a.m. that the storm was 200 miles southeast of Corpus Christi. It was moving in the Corpus Christi direction at 12 miles an hour, the plane reported. It estimated the wind at 120 miles an hour.

The Corpus Christi Weather Bureau said the storm would head northeast midway between Corpus Christi and Galveston Monday night. This would be in the vicinity of Port Lavaca. The area is dotted with oil derricks and refineries. It also is a big recreational and fishing center.

Four to five-foot tides were expected at Corpus Christi and Port Aransas, just up the coast from Corpus Christi. Most of the tourists were said to have left the area. Precautions were being taken at Houston, Texas' largest city. The Air Force flew out 30 bombers from Ellington Field. Other equipment was lashed down. A torrential rain hit the city during the morning.

Some streets were flooded. Many towns nestle in the irregular coastline. They include Angleton, West Columbia, Bay City, Rockport, Port Lavaca, Austin, Sinton, Freeport, Palacios, Brazoria and Aransas Pass.

Coal-Steel— (Continued From Page One) over-all loss in wages and sales is expected to reach a billion dollars. All told, 53 basic steel plants and 50 iron ore mines in 27 states are shut tight. That's 95 per cent of the nation's steel mills. A handful of companies, notably American Can Company with 15,000 workers in 28 plants, agreed to union terms. New Strike Threat

But a new strike threat hangs over industrial America. The Steelworkers' Union has 200,000 more members working in 700 steel fabricating plants from coast to coast. Their contracts start running out October 15. And the union says the men will quit work unless management treat free pensions and free insurance. Never before in the nation's history have coal mines and steel mills been struck together.

Constant Recurring Headaches Should Be Examined Carefully

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Perhaps more people suffer from headaches than any other common ailment. Although it is true that a headache can be a symptom of some serious disease, more often it is merely a minor though unpleasant ailment which does not last long and from which recovery is complete.

A fairly common type of headache which has not been recognized for very long appears to arise from a relaxation of the blood vessels in or near the brain. In this type of headache the treatment consists of giving some fluid which causes the blood vessels to contract. Indeed, there have been reports of rapid relief from this kind of headache merely by injecting adrenalin into one of the veins. Also favorable reports have been made on the injection into the veins of a substance called sodium nicotinate (not related to the nicotine in tobacco). The underlying cause of this type of headache is difficult to treat and the cause practically unknown, but increasing the fluids, giving special diets, and reducing the amount of salt taken into the body seem to bring about favorable results in some cases.

ANSWER: There is nothing much that can be done at that age. It probably is the result of rickets in childhood.

Preventing Migraine
One of the most important kinds of headache is known as migraine. As a rule this type of headache is located on one side only. Before it starts the sufferer often has peculiar sensations. In migraine, drugs given just before an attack may stop the condition from fully developing.

ny severe or frequently recurring headache should not be ignored. When possible the cause should be identified. After this is done the symptoms should be relieved if possible by simple pain-killing drugs like aspirin. The further management of headaches depends on knowing what caused them and taking the appropriate steps to attack the source of the difficulty whenever possible.

Aircraft Executive Denies Pearson Claim Of Employee Desertions

DALLAS—(AP)—Claims that 1,000 Chance Vought aircraft workers have left Dallas because of housing conditions were branded "absolutely ridiculous."

Fred O. Detweiler, acting general manager, made the statement. Columnist Drew Pearson made the claim in his broadcast Sunday. He said 1,000 of the company's employees have returned to Connecticut.

Detweiler said about 1,275 employees came here with the company and of that number "about 75 have left our employ." He said that would be a small turnover even if the company were still in Connecticut.

He said he knew of none who left Dallas because of housing conditions.

Playwrights Get A Break As Their Works Presented

SEATTLE—(NEA)—Tryout Theater is giving the would-be Eugene O'Neills and Maxwell Andersons a chance.

Unknown playwrights usually have a hard time getting anyone to produce their works. The success of Tryout indicates that untired plays can still draw paying audiences to see "live" talent.

Tryout, a community theater operated by volunteer workers, produces only plays by unknown playwrights. Authors from as far as Paris and South Africa have been introduced at Tryout.

Belegged by cries from his play-writing students—"We never get a chance to see our plays on a stage"—George Savage, associate professor of English at the University of Washington, persuaded 12 of his friends to invest $15 each in the venture.

High drama? George Savage, father of the Tryout Theater, reacts as a play by a young author is given its first chance before footlights.

When the first production made its debut in August, 1943, Savage was sorry he'd been so persuasive. The only theater they could afford sat 64. Expenses for scenery, lights, and equipment were high.

The play selected for the first presentation was so new it was unfinished. The cast rehearsed the second act while the last act was being written.

The wife of the president of the University of Washington painted scenery. A blind student washed all the seats with soap and water.

Since that initial effort, Tryout has run a little smoother. Active and associate memberships have been sold to increase the capital of the venture. A 15-man board of directors decides what plays are to be produced after hearing the recommendations of a five-man play selection committee.

As word of Tryout spread, playwrights rushed in manuscripts. One play had 30 separate scenes, including a full-size swimming pool. But most indicate that there are a great number of talented playwrights yet to be discovered.

One major problem has been to find writers of good comedy. Too many young playwrights are more interested in presenting serious messages than light entertainment.

Several plays first presented by Tryout have won prizes, others have been published in book form. Some were produced by other community theaters. "Accidentally Yours," by James Elliot, was produced on the West Coast, starring Billie Burke and Grant Mitchell. Another was purchased by the movies.

Besides its artistic triumphs, Tryout is a financial success. The play plan, within a few seasons, to have their own theater with a paid, full-time administrative staff and director.
