Experts Want Clamps On Credit

By the end of 1949 consumer credit is expected to pass the $17,000,000,000 mark. Measured in dollars, the private debt of the American people is twice as great as in prewar days and three times its level at the end of World War II.

Economists of the Federal Reserve Board don't like to see this continuing growth of credit. But the men who atually are lending the money aren't yet worried. They believe buyer credit can be expanded safely another $3,000,000,000 to $5,000,000,000.

The lenders argue that consumer debt is running only a little more than eight per cent of personal incomes left after payment of taxes. In 1939 such credit amounted to

So long as incomes remain fat enough to keep that ratio below its previous high, the lenders apparently will be satisfied to go on putting consumers on the cuff for all kinds of goods and services.

Reserve Board experts feel that high incomes ought to mean a higher proportion of straight cash payments instead of bigger and bigger credit allowances. If people have the money, they should use it to pay for things instead of going into debt.

These economists are perturbed about the easier and easier credit terms being offered in many places on sales Fof automobiles, radio and television sets, refrigerators and other home appliances.

Incidentally, about $18 of every $100 in consumer credit is owed on cars. Buying of appliances and radio American GI's spending Christmas desert bloom. Money repaid in installments to small loan firms, banks and cradit unions comes to $25 more.

The experts like to distinguish between installment compared with that at home. Howloans and other credit, including charge accounts, some loans from banks, service credit from doctors, lawyers, garages, laundries and the like. Repayment in lump sums is the feature of this type.

Such credit is now about $125,000,000 below the level of a year ago. Yet it still bulks very large, with charge accounts representing $19 of each $100 in consumer debt, single payment loans $17 and service credit toting up to $6.

The installment allowances, however, produce the furrowed brows among Reserve Board members. They think they should have power to restrict these loans, as they did until Congress let the authority lapse last June 30.

But the figures show that the former restrictions had little retarding effect on the growth of installment credit. Terms were stiffer than now, but the total outstanding debt went on rising anyway.

Probably the total will continue soaring to new heights may start a train of friendships until lenders decide-perhaps suddenly-that people no longer have the income to make their payments. For that seems to be the only economic measuring rod they're in-

Reclamation For Eastern U. S. A. New York's water shortage has caused government engineers to survey the water resources of the entire nation to see whether we gradually are drying up. The results are reassuring regarding the country in general, but not reassuring regardng the big cities

The fact is that the big cities are draining their reservoirs faster than the water flows in, chiefly because people are running their spigots and factories are operating their pumps more. Meanwhile 95 per cent of our water runs into the sea unused.

Only long-term solution is refor the big cities of the East. New York City, for instance, must take a lesson from Los Angeles, which has stretched an aqueduct 200 miles to tap the water of the Colorado. Manhattan can do the same by piping water 80 miles from the Hudson above Poughkeepsie, at salt water. Pumps already are being installed for that purpose on the Delaware River, but they won't be able to keep up with New York's increasing water needs.

Boyle Dishes Out Birthday Advice For Joe To Follow

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(P)— To Joseph Stalin care of the Kremlin, USSR

Congratulations, old Tovarich of wartime, on your happy anniversary Wednesday. You woke up on the shortest day of Winter to find yourself 70 years old—the life span alloted to man by the Bible you studied as a boy. I sure would like to attend your big hoedown. You Russians really know how to throw a party! The last one I attended was in 1945 when we linked up with your boys on the River Elbe. I was carrying a rifle for Uncle Sam at the time. We were shy of caviar and vodka, but we tanked up on German wine and traded our rations back and forth. It was a wonderful time. We laid aside our guns, your boys and our boys, and laughed and drank together on the river's bank -and nobody was afraid of anybody. None of us who was there can ever forget that first day of full peace and happiness after the long years of war.

Circumstances being what they are, I can't be with you in Moscow. But I would like to send you a birthday gift-of advice. The advice, Joe, is to stop and KERMIT—Kermit this week has a police department for the first time in history.

Dietrich H. Kramer, former captain on the Odessa police force, is Kermit police chief. He accepted the position here Saturday, Fred Pearson, city administrator, Pearson said Kramer currently is the only man on the newly-set up force. Kramer probably will hire one or two assistants in the near future.

Kramer's salary has been set at $325 a month by Kermit commissioners. Commissioners last week authorized the department here after some six month's discussion and consideration. Kramer had been a member of the Odessa force since 1947. He is veteran and married. Pearson said Kramer already had made several arrests Tuesday.

We'll do our best not to disappoint anyone who wants to make a long distance Christmas call. All available switchboards and circuits will be in use—and we've added a lot of new ones this year. Every operator who can help will be on

But so many people will be saying Merry Christmas over long distance lines that circuits are sure to be crowded. You can help reduce delays two ways:

- 1. Please give the operator the out-of-town number you are calling, if you know it.
- 2. Please don't inquire about the progress of your call. It will be put through in turn and as promptly as possible. Calling back to ask about it may actually delay your call-as well as others that are waiting.

Thanks much for your cooperation. And if your call is delayed, thanks for your patience and understanding.

THIS YEAR YOU'LL HAVE TWO DAYS TO SAY MERRY CHRISTMAS

This year, Monday, December 26, will be an official holiday, too. If your Christmas call can be made then, it will go through faster. Holiday rates will be in effect all day.
