THIRD SPECIAL SESSION CONVENES

Daniel Reads Legislative Program

Escheat, Loan Sharks, FM, Spending On State Agenda

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel laid before the Legislature's third special session today a four-point program concerning dormant bank accounts, loan shark regulation, farm road maintenance and more state spending.

The governor addressed a joint session shortly after both houses convened for their 176th day of the 57th Legislature. The second special session ended Aug. 14.

"I am not one who believes that a 30-day session cannot handle more than three or four bills," Gov. Price Daniel said. He promised to open the session to other measures, including so-called local bills, if the four original proposals are completed within the 30-day period.

Daniel's four proposals were:

1. "Enactment of legislation to include banking institutions in the new escheat enforcement (abandoned property) act . . . or any special act which will accomplish the same purpose."

2. "Enactment of a law regulating small loans so as to stamp out the loan shark racket which has existed too long at the expense and injury of our people." He did not recommend any specific interest rate maximum.

3. "Adjustment of the farm to market road program to provide that some of the presently earmarked funds may be used for maintenance as well as construction."

4. "A supplemental appropriation bill providing more adequate financing of the juvenile parole system ($100,000) and a tourist attraction program $300,000 sufficient to complete with the other states."

The governor added: "In my opinion, any of them is of sufficient importance to justify this session."

He said the state comptroller has reported that sufficient state funds are in sight to cover the proposed supplemental appropriations.

The state comptroller estimated that about $15.4 million is available for appropriation although the current state of the state's financial condition indicates a $6.3 million deficit at the end of the two-year fiscal period in 1963. Charles Herring of Austin was selected to preside over the Senate in the coming session. He replaces Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, who was Senate president pro tempore in the interim following the second special session. As Senate president, Herring also will act as lieutenant governor in the vacancy created when Ben Ramsey resigned to accept appointment to the Railroad Commission. The vacancy will be filled in the November election.

MONEY POSITION

Shortly before the opening of the special session state Comptroller Robert S. Calvert sent legislators his estimate of the state's financial position—a requirement before each legislative meeting. Calvert estimated that state income of $773.1 million in 1961-1962 and $827.7 million in 1962-1963 would be shy of the total $706.9 million appropriated by previous legislatures and the $60.3 cash deficit carried into this fiscal period.

SENATOR ASKS SESSION END

AUSTIN (AP)—Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas introduced a sine die (final adjournment) resolution in the Senate today, minutes before Gov. Price Daniel was to speak to the joint session. No action was taken at once. Parkhouse's resolution, if passed, would end the session at 2 p.m. today.

Vacation Is Over, But Not The Spirit

Vacation at local public schools is officially over, but a few days will be required for students to adjust to the change.

For some, the time has meant excess energy stored up to burst loose before settling down to books. The more sluggish are extending the vacation at least one more day.

Students in the secondary grades registered higher absence rates this morning than usual. Elementary schools, however, are back to normal operation.

Classes resumed today at 8:45 a.m. in public schools. The 12-day vacation is over and most students got back into the school habit in preparation for the end of this semester which comes to a close Jan. 19.

Attendance reports at the Senior High School showed 77 absences, about 10-15 above normal. The attendance clerk indicated that many of these may have been tardy students who made a late appearance at classes.

Runnels Junior High reported almost twice as many students absent as usual. There were 85 absentees and the normal rate is 40-45. More than half the delinquents were seventh graders.

There were 44 students reported absent from classes at Goliad Junior High at the end of the first period today. This number is about normal, according to the attendance clerk.

The youngsters in elementary schools appear to have little desire to prolong the vacation. Reports from Bauer and Washington elementary schools show normal attendance. Only Cedar Crest reported an unusual absence rate of 49 pupils, about twice the normal rate.

Learning Is A Hard Pull

Christmas vacation is over and students once again cram the rooms of local schools. For most it will be a happy return to the land of learning, but for others, a book on the desk will continue to be a cover up for mischief which occasionally pops up. Lonnie Clanton displays a bit of the frivolity which was carried over from vacation as he playfully pulls the locks of Patty Sudberry. Mrs. Ray Ebling, sixth grade teacher at Boydston Elementary, noted the minor infraction, but passed it over for the sake of this picture.

Salazar Warns Portugal May Leave United Nations

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar said in a speech prepared for delivery today Portugal "will surely be among the first countries to leave the United Nations organization."

"Meanwhile we shall refuse them our collaboration in everything that is not in our direct interest," he declared.

Reporting to the National Assembly and to the nation, the 72-year-old dictator criticized the United Nations, the United States and Britain for their failure to come to Portugal's support when India invaded Goa, Damao and Diu last month.

Referring to the U.N. mission of safeguarding peace, Salazar said he believes "we have the right to hear whether our presence and our collaboration are already useless in the United Nations."

"Even if we do not, I do not know yet whether we shall be the first country to abandon the United Nations, but surely we will be among the first. Meanwhile we shall refuse them our collaboration in everything that is not in our direct interest."

That statement was as near as Salazar came in a 10,000-word speech to suggesting direct action on three possible moves diplomatic sources here had expected him to announce as an aftermath of the loss of the Portuguese Indian enclaves.

They were possible withdrawal from the United Nations, revocation of the century-old British

Birth Control Law Is Upheld

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Two officials of a planned Parenthood center have been convicted of violating Connecticut's 83-year-old birth control statute.

Dr. C. Lee Buxton, chairman of the Obstetrics and Gynecology Department at Yale Medical School, and Mrs. Richard W. Griswold, executive director of the Planned Parenthood League of Connecticut, were fined $100 each in circuit court Tuesday.

They were charged with advising on the use of birth control devices at the league's recently opened planned parenthood clinic here.

Police raided the clinic Nov. 10. It was opened Nov. 1 to challenge the old statute, which the U.S. Supreme Court last year called merely "dead words."

The tribunal refused to rule on the law's constitutionality on the grounds that no one was being prosecuted under the 1873 statute.

The league, which has opposed the law for 39 years, was forced to close its last clinic in 1940.

The law bans the use of any drug, medicinal article or instrument for the purpose of preventing conception. A related law states that any person who helps or advises another to break a law can be punished as if he were the principal offender.

Recovering

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, has recovered sufficiently from his stroke to begin reading newspapers.

some participants in the Beja attempt at sedition, the conclusion is that it was an action planned and led by the Communist party, within a general plan of promoting unrest in Portugal," the communists said.

The communists said no other unrest or violence was reported from other military establishments.

At least 16 rebels who took part in the revolt attempt were still at large and the government pressed a hunt for them.

ONLY 40 Authorities claimed only about 40 men took part in the attempt to seize the army garrison at Beja early Monday. Officials clamped tight security measures on known avenues of escape along the Spanish frontier in efforts to round up remnants of the gang.

All police and military units remained in a "state of precaution." The government said two insurgents were killed and 22 captured—including the two leaders of the band—in the uprising which collapsed after a three-hour gun battle with troops of the 3rd Infantry Regiment stationed in the Beja barracks.

Thousands of persons lined a 75-mile funeral route Tuesday as a cortege bearing the body of Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, the army undersecretary, moved from Lisbon to Fonseca's home town of Leiria for burial.

Fonseca rushed to Beja after hearing of the revolt and was shot when he walked into the barracks and demanded that the rebels surrender.

FACE PRISON Authorities said the captured conspirators would face prison terms of from 4 to 20 years if convicted, in addition to the loss of political rights and indefinite security surveillance.

One of the captured leaders, Capt. Joao Maria Paulo Varela Gomes, was reported near death after undergoing three operations and removal of a kidney. The government said the other rebel leader, Manuel Serra, was captured heading for the Spanish border.

Both had long opposed the 30-year-old Salazar dictatorship. Serra recently returned from Brazil and a self-imposed exile stemming from a 1959 anti-Salazar plot.

Gomes and four other army officers involved in the revolt have been dismissed from the service. An announcement said this was "independent from any criminal charges they will face in a court of law." All five are in custody.

In Sao Paulo, Brazil, Capt. Henrique Galvao, the Portuguese rebel leader, declared that the unsuccessful Beja revolt was "a victory although not a decisive one."

Galvao led the band that captured the Portuguese liner Santa Maria last January.

He said the Beja incident was "the logical sequence of the revolutionary process for freedom."

"Nothing will deter the development of this process," he vowed.

Kennedy Orders Formation Of 2 New Army Divisions

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy ordered today the immediate formation of two new Army divisions, expanding the service to 16 permanent divisions.

The Palm Beach White House said the activation of the two divisions would permit the release "later this year," with no time specified, of the 32nd and 49th National Guard Divisions which were called to duty last Oct. 15 in the armed forces buildup precipitated by the Berlin crisis.

One of the new regular divisions, the 1st Armored, will be activated at Ft. Hood, Tex. The other, the 3rd Mechanized Infantry, will be organized at Ft. Carson, Colo.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy approved the action at meetings Tuesday and this morning with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the nation's top defense officials.

He said it was the first item of business on this morning's agenda, after the joint chiefs of staff flew into Palm Beach from Washington for the preparedness talks.

Qualified sources said the two National Guard divisions summoned to duty should not anticipate returning home for at least several months. The 32nd of Wisconsin is training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 49th of Texas at Camp Peck, La.

Kennedy called the Joint Chiefs of Staff from Washington to join preparedness discussions that began Tuesday in the spacious living room of the beachfront estate where he has been spending the Christmas-New Year's holidays.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the conferences would explore "the operational and strategic outlook for 1962."

personal military adviser, already were on hand.

Scheduled to fly in this morning were the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer; Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations; Gen. George H. Decker, Army chief of staff; Gen. David M. Shoup, Marine Corps commandant, and Gen. Frederic H. Smith Jr., Air Force vice chief of staff.

Smith is substituting for Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, who is ill with a cold.

At the start of the defense survey, Kennedy went over the entire Army structure with Johnson, McNamara, Gilpatric and Taylor.

They reportedly are trying to hit on a more efficient combat organization, one which would embrace the regulars, the National Guard divisions and the reserves.

Placing five additional divisions in combat-ready status is part of Kennedy's program for building up the armed forces.

Granddaughter Of Hero, Sgt. York, To Join WAF

PALL MALL, Tenn. (AP)—A granddaughter of Sgt. Alvin C. York, the fightingest man of World War I, steals some of the spotlight from her famous-old grandpa today.

Mary Elizabeth York, 18, will be inducted into the Women's Air Force in a special ceremony at the bedside of the Tennessee mountain man who won the Medal of Honor for his legendary exploits.

"I hope I can make grandpa as proud of me as I am of him," says the girl, who is called Goldie by her friends.

York, now 73 and partially paralyzed as the result of a stroke, asked to witness the induction ceremony. The Air Force agreed to hold it in his modest home in the rolling Tennessee hills.

Mary York is an unassuming girl who is giving up college plans to join the service. After the induction ceremony, Mary goes to Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., for training.

Miss York is a 1961 graduate of Fulton High School in Knoxville, Tenn.

"She's just a nice, light-hearted girl," said Fulton Principal W. M. Davis. "She was well-liked by all the students."

Among her activities, Davis recalled, was participation in school plays and dramatics. Other than that, he said, Miss York stayed in the background.

That betrays something of her grandfather's tendencies. York was a conscientious objector, an "I don't-want-to-fight" man who, nevertheless, did fight.

It was in the Argonne on Oct. 8, 1918, that he killed 25 Germans and took 132 prisoners, including a battalion commander and three other officers.

Gen. John J. Pershing commended York as "the greatest civilian soldier of the war."

The Air Force sent Col. Robert G. Brown, area recruiting commander, from Charlotte, N.C., to direct the special induction ceremony.

SEEK OFFICE

In the Senate, five members have announced intentions to run for lieutenant governor and Sen. R. A. Weinert of Seguin plans to retire. These six possible openings have a flurry of representatives trying for advancement.

All 31 senators and 150 members of the House, including two Republicans, must run for re-election this summer if they want to keep their legislative posts.

The two Republicans, Rep. Ken Kohler, Amarillo, and Rep. George Korkmas, Texas City, are the first Texas GOP legislators since 1952. They are filling unexpired terms won in special elections.

Other new names in today's roll call included Franklin Spears, who switched from the House to the Senate after winning a special election at San Antonio to succeed U.S. Rep. Henry Gonzalez. Rep. Rudy Esquivel, San Antonio, succeeded Spears in the House. Rep. Glenn Kothmann, San Antonio, succeeded the late Marshall Bell. Korkmas replaced Peter Lavalle.

Odessa Radio Man Is Heart Victim

ODESSA (AP)—Ben Nedow, 60, owner and general manager of Radio KECK, died of a heart attack early today.

Nedow came to the United States from Poland about 40 years ago. He lived in New York, and then in Monahans before coming to Odessa in 1928.

Nedow established a furniture retail and manufacturing business here. He organized Radio Industries, Inc., which operated KECK. The station went on the air in January of 1947.

Survivors include his widow, Betty; a son, Albert Nedow of Odessa; and a daughter, Mrs. Marvin Greenburg of Dallas.

Getting Ready For Paving

The Interstate 20 loop through northern Colorado City is to be paved this year. Contract has been let to Collins Construction Company of Austin in the amount of $1,642,228, which also covers paving of the existing US 80 route through the city. The overpass in the picture is at the west end of IS 20 loop. Work will be started just east of the Snyder highway overpass and proceed 3.7 miles to an intersection with IS 20 on the east. By March 1, grading and structures are to be complete on the west end and paving will be started there. All work is due to be finished by December of 1962.

A Devotional for Today

We are fellow workmen for God. (1 Corinthians 3:9. RSV.)
PRAYER: Dear Father, grant us the foresight to see ways of reaching others and serving Thee. As we look ahead, help us to see new ways of service. Equip us with spiritual power to do Thy work. Help us to pray the prayer Thy Son has taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
(From The "Upper Room")

Importance Of Good Roads

An Indonesian visitor to our country recently named the most impressive thing he had observed in the United States. "O what it would mean to my country to have highways like yours," he said.
Texans might do well to note that they have one of the finest systems in the world—and why they have it.
The postwar expansion of the Texas system has indeed been remarkable, doubling in mileage just since 1948 to nearly 62,000 miles today. The Texas Highway Department recently reported that the state system now represents a $2.6 billion construction investment, with annual maintenance cost nearly $55 million. The cost of modern highway building is enormous, ranging from $25,000 a mile for farm-to-market roads to $2 million a mile for a six-lane divided urban expressway.
Texas highways have been financed mainly from highway-user taxation and, in recent years, extensive federal aid. Texas has been allotted 3,033 miles of the nationwide 41,000-mile interstate superhighway construction. And in the postwar era, Texas cities have at long last fairly shared in the state's highway-building program, with about 3,500 miles of state highways now within city limits and more than 200 miles of urban expressways completed or under construction.

Texas has achieved all this by keeping politics, scandal and waste out of state highway administration (which a number of other states have failed to do) by supporting state taxation for adequate financing, and by planning that has taken prompt advantage of federal aid allocations. All this could hardly have been done if a majority of the people were not aware of the exceptional economic value of a first-class highway system in a state of this one's vast size.
The special legislative system this month is expected to correct one flaw in the highway-building program, by removing the drain of farm-to-market road maintenance costs from construction funds needed to improve and expand the primary of intercity system. And the 57th Legislature, in acting on that legislation, should remember that the people of Texas have come to expect statesmanship where their highways are concerned.

Trade And The States

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield has requested the Kennedy administration to undertake a task of formidable proportions. He wants each member of Congress to be provided, as soon as possible after the new session convenes Jan. 10, with a state-by-state analysis of "exactly what foreign trade means to each of them in relation to both exports and imports as well as domestic production and employment."
Sen. Mansfield favors the President's appeal for broader tariff-reducing powers to seek adjustment with the booming European Common Market. He hopes, probably vainly, for early congressional action, before protectionist pressure groups can mobilize maximum opposition and before the usual adjournment fever sets in during a congressional election year. And he evidently believes that the analysis he proposes would prove that most, if not all, states would have more to gain than to lose economically by freer international trade.
It would be of great value for the general public in each state to have a clearer understanding of what imports and exports mean to them in terms of jobs, income, living costs and taxable values for state and local governmental works and services. This is, in fact, something that state research agencies should have been doing for some time in recent years, ever since European recovery and the emergence of newly independent nations pre-empted a profound change in world trade patterns.

But Mansfield must know that to provide a credible and complete state-by-state analysis of foreign trade impacts and prospects within a month or so would be a monumental, probably impossible, task, unless the administration began the advance work on it soon after taking office. And if and when such a survey is forthcoming, Texas should be among the most impressed with the heavy dependence of their state's economy on a high volume of international trade.

Record Of Menshikov Seems Unremembered

WASHINGTON — It is disheartening to learn that high officials of our government and some members of Congress and of the Supreme Court gathered at a party at the Soviet Embassy a few nights ago to bid farewell to Mikhail Menshikov, the retiring ambassador of the Soviet Union.
Just why should any American pay homage to a ruthless agent of Stalin? This ambassador's acts of inhumanity are written in the records of the United States House of Representatives and are well known to people in Poland who were the victims of his cruelty.
MENSHIKOV was deputy director-general of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration — usually referred to as UNRRA — and served in Poland just after World War II ended in 1945. His mission was to arrange for the distribution of UNRRA's relief supplies. He handled his office in such a way that the food and clothing — largely supplied by this country — went to Communists and their followers. A subcommittee of the House of Representatives visited Poland in 1945 to check up on UNRRA's operations. Here is an excerpt from its report as filed in 1946 with the House of Representatives.
"The temporary head of the UNRRA delegation was Mikhail Menshikov, a Soviet citizen, who wielded great control and influence over the distribution of UNRRA's yet meager supplies. The distribution was limited to recipients who were active supporters of or collaborators with the provisional Polish (Communist) government.
"UPON the committee's return to this country, it lodged a strong protest with the President of the United States and was happy to learn that soon thereafter

Mr. Menshikov was recalled and his place taken by Brig. C. M. Drury of Canada.
"Since the committee's return to the United States it has kept in close and direct contact with UNRRA operations in Poland and has noted a great improvement both in the operation and in the distribution of relief supplies."
In those days they didn't think of Menshikov as "Smiling Mike." In fact, one Westerner who saw a lot of him on that mission in Poland described him in 1958 this way:
"THE MAN WAS nothing but a hunk of wood. He wasn't amiable at all. If that doesn't match up with the way he is now, be sure it's just a mechanical surface change."
When Menshikov came to the United States early in 1958, the foregoing report by a congressional committee was required to be by this correspondent and by others in the press, and there was congressional criticism of the appointment. Representative Timothy Sheehan, Republican of Illinois, said in a speech to the House:
"THE NEW Russian ambassador to Washington, Mikhail Menshikov, seems to have been greeted as one of the new looks in Russian diplomacy. However, in 1946, a congressional committee pointed out that this same man was running UNRRA operations in Poland and distributed the food, not to starving Poles on the basis of need, but strictly on the basis of being Communist-party members.
"Menshikov in distributing this food claimed the credit for the Russians rather than for America, who gave the food. This proved a handy tool to win friends and influence many Poles to join the Communist movement. Now this same Russian is being openly received and acclaimed by many people in Washington who do not remember the facts of history."
"WHILE IT WAS widely noted at the time that Menshikov was a tough and effective agent of Stalin, the United States government unfortunately ignored his record in Poland and did not declare him to be "persona non grata," as it had a right to do when the Soviet proposal to send him to Washington was submitted to the department of state. What is even more surprising is to find Americans prominent in official life—and even in the ranks of labor—attending last week a farewell party for Menshikov at the Soviet Embassy. One wonders if moral indignation has become obsolete.
IT IS STRANGE that the behavior of Stalinists has not been subjected in recent months in the United States to the same denunciation which the Communists of today are themselves directing toward the Stalin regime. One wonders how during the last four years any American could have "welcomed" or fraternized with Mikhail Menshikov. He should have been isolated and boycotted from the day he arrived in Washington. He then would long ago have been withdrawn by the Moscow government.

SEAT OF THE MIGHTY

James Marlow Kennedy Now Due Comparisons

WASHINGTON (AP) — From now on, after a year in office, President Kennedy more and more will be compared in policies, performance and personality with men who had his job or have one like it.
Kennedy is more like former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan than any other world leader of recent times. Haughty, stubborn French President Charles de Gaulle is a complete opposite. So is earthy, bouncy, extroverted Soviet Premier Khrushchev. So is former President Harry S. Truman.

TRUMAN WAS more outwardly aggressive and the result was a lot of conflict — for instance, with Republicans and particularly Sens. Taft and McCarthy — which he seemed to enjoy.

Some of his conflicts might have been avoided with different tactics but this is not to say he was wrong, given the time and circumstances of his presidency.
The country will be forever grateful to him for his decisiveness in beginning foreign aid, his military alliances and stiff-arming the Russians.
In all these areas, and a dozen others, there was conflict of one kind or another.
Much of his willingness to accept it and chance his political future on it no doubt was in part a product of his early background in Missouri precinct politics.

HE PLAYED politics the way it had been played for generations. But that way may not be seen again for some time if only because the circumstances of the presidency are different.
In the Truman years and all those that preceded it—before a trigger-pull on hydrogen missiles could devastate a continent—a president could afford to occupy himself more with domestic politics.
Some other possibilities may also explain the change which has taken place in the presidency as demonstrated by Kennedy and Eisenhower. For instance:
1. American politics may be entering a more sophisticated period when the traditional cat-and-dog fights between a president and his opposition look old-fashioned and time-wasting.
BUT MORE than the Kennedy-Eisenhower presidencies will be needed to show whether this is the case.
2. It may be simply that Kennedy and Eisenhower either think it shrewder or in the long run more fruitful to compromise and avoid bravado or just don't have the stomach for slam-bang fights.
To put it another way, it seems to be a necessary part of their nature to avoid embroilments. Eisenhower did that with Taft, McCarthy, and with everyone else when he could.
But then, of course, he didn't come up through the American political system, either. Even as a general he had made a reputation for avoiding open breaks and in getting opposing factions to work together.
This is how he operated with his Democratic opposition. It is clear, after a year in office, that Kennedy is following with his Republican opponents the same course Eisenhower pursued with the Democrats.
Eisenhower went less than all-out on some of the programs he asked Congress to pass. Kennedy already has shown a great willingness to compromise.

Hal Boyle A Memorable Year

NEW YORK (AP)—What kind of year will 1962 be?
A look in the murky crystal ball discloses it will be one of the more memorable years of modern times, a mixture of national prosperity and international puzzle.
According to our annual fuzzi forecast, the American common man will earn more money than he ever did before in his life—and still be unable to understand where it all went.
He will eat both the cake of plenty and the bread of crisis, as the Russians find new strings of discord and unrest to thrum.
Most people will be living more, but maybe wondering whether they are enjoying it less. Yet everybody—everybody except wives reaching 40—will find something to be cheerful about during 1962.
Here are a few fanciful predictions that may come true during the present year:
On the international front:
Following President Kennedy's advice on personal physical fitness programs, Premier Khrushchev will take a special correspondence course in muscle-building.
The United States will shoot a man into orbit, and the Russians will immediately orbit a beautiful female spy to keep an eye on him.
The Congolese will organize their own version of the "Peace Corps." and send their first trainees over here to help rescue Americans stranded in traffic jams.

The United Nations will seek to solve its financial woes by having itself listed on the stock exchanges of New York, London, Paris, Rome, Bonn, and Tokyo. Shares will also be sold secretly to the Russian public by stock and bond salesmen parachuted into Siberia by the Allies.
On the domestic political front:
John F. Kennedy Jr., will grow some more baby teeth. Let him chew, but why not let him decide when he wants to? Using a pacifier won't hurt some babies, but it won't really help any. And it will be bad for a few babies because it will encourage some parents to rely too strongly on an artificial method of "pacifying" them.
After all, why does anyone give a baby a pacifier? To make him keep quiet when he wants to protest, or express his emotions, or exercise his lungs!
When this happens, either (1) find out what he wants, or (2) comfort him; or (3) let him yell. It's normal for a baby to holler once in a while. If he cries hard, he wants something.
"Dear Dr. Molner: With reference to your item about the laryngectomized (one who has had the larynx removed) who was talking and giving lessons in six or eight months, my brother had this same operation and his progress was so rapid that he was talking and giving speech instruction at the Cancer Institute in three months.—B. S. T."
Thank you—and congratulations to your brother. He is a whiz to be teaching so soon. Many laryngectomized learn to talk very rapidly; some have to work harder at it. I don't want to give the idea that it's easy, but I DO want to repeat that anybody can do it if he or she tries.
"Dear Dr. Molner: I am 17 and

To Your Good Health Pacifiers For Infants? Yes And No

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: Do you approve of pacifiers for infants? Does thumb-sucking or the use of a pacifier hinder development of straight teeth?—G. R. M."
Yes and no. I can't say that I approve of pacifiers, but I can't get very upset when I see a baby "chewing" on one.
When teething, a baby has the urge to bite on something, whether it's a rattle, a toy, a pacifier or a thumb. It assuages the discomfort, if that isn't too strong a word.
This is perfectly normal. There isn't anything for us to worry about, therefore, unless the child manages to get hold of something that will be bad for him. That's up to us, of course. The act of chewing or biting or sucking (or whatever you want to call it) is natural.
Thumb-sucking, or toy-chewing, may after a certain length of time, displace baby teeth somewhat, sometimes, but this is of no great importance.
If the habit persists beyond the age of six, displacement of the second teeth may occur, and this may lead to the need for complicated care later.
Usually the habit is abandoned by the child before that occurs.
Don't worry about whatever a baby chews, so long as it isn't something that is not to be chewed and swallowed.
At the same time, I can't see any good reason for providing a pacifier, and popping it into a baby's mouth whenever he opens it, but a healthy yell. Let him chew—but why not let him decide when he wants to? Using a pacifier won't hurt some babies, but it won't really help any. And it will be bad for a few babies because it will encourage some parents to rely too strongly on an artificial method of "pacifying" them.

After all, why does anyone give a baby a pacifier? To make him keep quiet when he wants to protest, or express his emotions, or exercise his lungs!
When this happens, either (1) find out what he wants, or (2) comfort him; or (3) let him yell. It's normal for a baby to holler once in a while. If he cries hard, he wants something.
"Dear Dr. Molner: With reference to your item about the laryngectomized (one who has had the larynx removed) who was talking and giving lessons in six or eight months, my brother had this same operation and his progress was so rapid that he was talking and giving speech instruction at the Cancer Institute in three months.—B. S. T."
Thank you—and congratulations to your brother. He is a whiz to be teaching so soon. Many laryngectomized learn to talk very rapidly; some have to work harder at it. I don't want to give the idea that it's easy, but I DO want to repeat that anybody can do it if he or she tries.
"Dear Dr. Molner: I am 17 and have been a diabetic for one year. It seems that where I inject insulin, the tissues break down and leave an indentation. Can you give me advice?—M. M."

It's called "insulin lipatrophy." It means a loss of fat under the skin at the point of injections. The cause is not known. It happens very rarely to men, more often to females and little boys.
My suggestions: Don't use cold insulin. The bottle in current use can be kept at room temperature without losing its strength. Try a more concentrated insulin—if you are using U-40, use U-80. (Be sure to use an appropriately marked syringe.) Scatter the shots more. Possibly give them a little deeper.
The hollowed places tend to fill in, but this takes a long time.
Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald requesting a copy of my booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.
Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Way Out With The Crystal Ball

At this season when men are prone to polish the old crystal ball and profess to see what lies ahead in the new year, W. M. Brooks has come up with a clipping of Mother Shipton's Prophecy. He found this legendary bit of long-range forecasting, supposedly composed prior to 1450 A.D., in the Bible of his mother, Martha Brooks.

PERHAPS THE MOST famous line is "a carriage without horses shall go." Others include such as these: "Around the world men's thoughts shall fly quick as a twinkling. . . . beneath the waters men shall walk, ride, sleep, talk," "in water iron shall float," "they'll ride. . . as witches on a broomstick," and concerning a prophecy that in 1926 mighty wars would be planned, she added "but those who live the century through, in fear and trembling this will do." Mother Shipton's rhyme also noted that "the women shall adopt a craze to dress like men and trousers wear, and cut off their lovely locks of hair."
Which reminds me that Hugo Gernsback has issued his 1962 forecast—not about the events of 1962, but about what his 62-model crystal ball shows in the future.

HE QUOTES Futurity Magazine's predictions that in 1984 the invention of the "refractor" will make oceans transparent, hence rendering the submarine obsolete; the perfection (in 1986) of "the quasi-optical ultra-dynawaves (Udywa)" removes the threat of telemissiles forever simply by spotting and destroying all unfriendly missiles hundreds of miles up in space; the breakthrough (in 2010) on "Atofusion," the use of atomic fusion to melt giant tunnels, like a hot poker going through butter, at the rate of several miles per day; the use (in 2014) of "plastic," a combination of plastic and glass, for all sidewalks and paving; the administration (by 2051) of a drug which will render all adults infertile unless and until they have been married two years.

BRO. GERNSBACK'S piece of resistance for 1962, however, is his prediction of the development of a lunar gold transport. He bases this on the assumption that inter-space journeys will be commonplace in 20 years or so. He also assumes that the moon possesses fantastic mineral riches which can be easily developed because weights are one-sixth what they are on earth, hence digging and other operations will be easier. Also, this means that a 1,000 ton space ship will weigh little more than 166 tons on the moon and therefore will be easy to shove off.
By employing smelters on the surface of the moon, the ores could be reduced to pure metal. According to Gernsback's calculations, a big space ball could haul back a cargo valued at half a billion dollars. It would be unmanned and electronically controlled, and thus would be directed to plump down somewhere in the ocean so it could be towed to port.

HE ALSO SEES the moon as a prime observation point for astronomers and for meteorologists who can spot trouble in our weather patterns when they are but pinpricks and capable of being broken up. He sees it, too, as a platform for interspace travel.
If Bro. Gernsback seems at times to be further out than the furthest planet, it might be wise to reflect that Mother Shipton in her day, may have been accused of harboring bats in her belfry.

Inez Robb The New Day—And Biggest Day

Until this moment, the celebration of Christmas (with its concomitant commercial saturnalia) has left me too enfeebled to comment on a sinister development in Washington, D. C.
Just about the time the fallout of Christmas bills assumed deadly proportions and began to taint the milk of human kindness, the District Commissioners of Washington, D. C., announced that they have established next April 28 as official "Grandmother's Day."

THIS DEAR OLD grandmother is to have a day of her own, raised to the commercial status of Mother's Day and Father's Day. As a firm believer in equal rights for men, I shall make it my business from now on to demand equal time for Grandpa. If Grandpa rates a day, so does Grandpa. Mother's Day and Father's Day didn't materialize without an assist by Grandpa!
There is no earthly reason, as the nation's merchants and Madison Avenue will soon see, to make Grandpa wholly dependent, for another necktie or a new pair of pajamas or some shaving soap, on birthday and Christmas largesse.
IF MAMA, PAPA and Grandpa are going to have special days for dragging down loot, surely Grandpa is equally deserving. And why not their sisters and their cousins and their aunts. And uncles, too. And don't forget the in-laws. The commercial possibilities are endless.
But to get back to Grandpa; she, like the old gray mare, ain't what she used to be. Gone are the days of lavender and old lace. I can remember when Whistler's Mother was everybody's grandmother, a sweet, chimney-corner creature of shawls, warm underwear, a lace doily on the head and a little knitting in her hands.
BUT GRANNY began to change a long time ago. The late Heywood Brown once wrote that if he ever discovered his own mother (then a grandmother, too) sitting in the same position as Whistler's Mother, he'd know she was about to bid six no-trump.

The modern grandmother is no longer a built-in baby-sitter, who does the family mending and tending. And anyone who gives this lovely lady a shawl on April 28 had better make it sable.

If I were out shopping for a suitable gift for Granny, circa '62, I'd buy the dear old soul six lessons from Mme. La Twist, a new set of golf clubs, a membership in the local bowling league, a season ticket to the Roosevelt Raceway, two weeks at Elizabeth Arden's Main Chance (look what that did for the prettiest grandmother of them all: Marnie Eisenhower!), a case of eight-to-one martinis, a gold sequin bikini or a revved-up foreign sports car.

OTHER SUITABLE gifts are a face-lift, a new hair styling and color job, a skiing vacation at Sun Valley or a record of the old song:
"Grandma, dear Grandma, come home with me now."
The clock in the steeple strikes four, Another martini, another 'Here's how!' And you'll never get home any more."
La, I can see the gift counters now, prepared against the advent of April 28 and Grandpa's Day in the District of Columbia — cocktail shakers, solid-gold dice, her own personal slot machine, stretch pants, sweaters with the Diana Dors look, brocaded Bermuda shorts, or 10 prepaid evenings of escort or gigolo service to the Peppermint Lounge.

WHEN GRANDPA'S DAY is finally set up—and it's coming—I have my gifts all planned in advance: a life membership in the Playboy Clubs, a steam room all his own and a month in Miami.
Also, I am now laying the groundwork for the biggest day of all, because there are so many of us. On and off Madison Avenue, it will be known eloquently as Sucker's Day. Everybody can play and pay.

Holmes Alexander President Learning From Mistakes

WASHINGTON, D. C.—For the twelve-month ending next Jan. 20 John F. Kennedy earned more than he ever did—$100,000 with a plush $50,000 expense account—but nobody can say that he didn't get the boss a full year's work.
Mr. Kennedy didn't invent the foreign devious, Khrushchev, Castro, Nehru, Chou En-lai, but he has wrestled with them like a real champion although with more spirit than success to date. He has also come to grips with an adversary that had Gen. Eisenhower on the ropes—Old Man Recession. Mr. Kennedy has done so well here that it wouldn't be amiss for some of his detractors to observe a moment of silence for thanks and meditation. Practically everybody in America who works or invests is better off than he was before JFK came into power.

THERE ARE MANY domestic problems which he hasn't solved—like unemployment and inflation. There are mammoth and fundamental errors in which he persists—like free trade and socialized services. But Mr. Kennedy has the rare gift of being willing to learn from his critics. There are numerous examples, but one in the news is the revision of federal assistance standards and practices through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Considering that all started, or was triggered, by the city of Newburgh case in the Republican State of New York, agitated by Barry Goldwater and by other opponents in the Democratic South, Mr. Kennedy's magnanimity in admitting that something was wrong — and doing something about it—makes him a very unique statesman indeed.

THE BEST THING you can say after a year of Mr. Kennedy is that he's a wonderful fellow, and a much better executive than Mrs. Roosevelt, former President Truman, the late Speaker Rayburn, Vice President Johnson and Hubert Humphrey ever thought he could be. The worst thing you can say is that JFK keeps bad advisory company, who steer him wrong and leave him either in a terrible state of failure or (what's worse) in a state of hesitation. He couldn't do better in 1962 than—throw the eggheads out!

Probably the most perilous cul-de-sac down which his left guard has led the President is the quarrel he has picked with the Right Wing "extremists." If Robert Welch has done nothing worse than write an angry letter about Gen. Eisenhower, or if Gen. Walker is guilty of nothing more than hectoring his troops to be anti-Communist, I can't see that they deserve the scathing punishment of public, presidential censure. The President's talks in Washington State and California were unwise, impolitic, uncharitable and un-supporting. They did no good, and the harm they did will be long remembered.

ALL THIS wouldn't be worth mentioning, of course, if Mr. Kennedy had not previously showed himself willing and able to rectify his errors. Well, some day soon JFK ought to shoo the eggheads from his office, and think the matter out for himself. The one thing that all conservatives have in common, whether they're dreamers, activists, cranks, extreme or conservative conservatives, is the religious fervor called patriotism.

I heard President Kennedy make one of the very finest addresses in our spoken literature, comparable to the Gettysburg Address, on Memorial Day at Arlington Cemetery. Gen. Eisenhower, in his eight years in Washington, didn't even bother to perform the annual wreath-laying at the Tomb of the Unknown, but Mr. Kennedy cared enough to put off a holiday trip and do so.

IT'S MY OPINION that just a few added sentences to that speech, recognizing the fervor of the Right and the patriotic excitement of rightist extremism, would have brought him millions of newly-made friends and would have deprived any bogus and dangerous Radical Rightists (if there are such) of many followers.

Be that as it may, the country has a young, energetic, maturing President with a gift which the gods must have bestowed at his birth—the gift to learn from his own mistakes.

New Year's Armful

Mr. and Mrs. Guenther Bauer hold their three new sons, Mark, Mitchell and Michael, born New Year's Day at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. Had they been born a day earlier it would have meant $1,800 in tax exemptions for their father for 1961. The infants weighed 5 pound 2 ounces, 5 pounds 10 ounces, and 5 pounds 13 ounces. The Bauers live in South San Francisco.

Castro Shows Off Might, Taunts Would-Be Invaders

HAVANA AP—Backed by modern Soviet-bloc weapons and Latin America's fastest air force, Fidel Castro says his armed forces await any new invasion "with a smile on our lips."

The Cuban prime minister showed off his new military equipment Tuesday at a parade marking the third anniversary of his victory over the Batista dictatorship. He said that "Yankee imperialism" was the sole reason for Cuba's rearmament.

Highlights of the parade were three Communist-made MIG19 jets which swept overhead with a flight of 18 MIG15s or improved MIG17s.

The three swept-wing MIG19s are the fastest planes known to be operating in any Latin American air force. A ripple of pride and excitement swelled through the crowd as the jets roared over Havana's Jose Marti Square.

The MIGs are believed to have been piloted by Cubans who recently completed flight training in Czechoslovakia. Castro said his forces have been much improved since they defeated the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba last April.

"We are not a warmonger," he said. "We do not want to use these arms. But we shall fight (if attacked) with a fierceness unimagined by our enemies. We will exterminate them. We await the invaders with a smile on our lips."

The Cuban leader assailed his critics in other Latin countries, especially Presidents Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela and Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia, whom he called "murderers of workers, peasants and students."

Addressing himself to fellow Latins, Castro said: "Brothers, mobilize against any eventuality. The stupider they (the United States) act, the faster the hour of liberation approaches." The crowd roared approval.

Castro announced he is calling a "national assembly" of hundreds of thousands of Cubans on Jan. 22, the date the American foreign ministers meet in Uruguay to consider the danger posed by Cuba to the Western Hemisphere.

He said the mass rally will proclaim a second declaration of Havana to "show the imperialists our decision to fight and show (Latin American) puppets this is a decisive and heroic people."

Berlin War Scare Eases, Not Ended

By EUGENE KRAMER
An Associated Press News Analysis

BERLIN (AP)—East-West war over Berlin appears less likely than a year ago but look for new periods of crisis and tension ahead.

That seems to be the feeling of both Berliners and some Western officials.

Two reasons are heard why war seems more remote than in 1961. One is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently takes more seriously than he did a year ago Western determination to defend West Berlin and its access routes. Khrushchev has withdrawn his deadline for signing a peace treaty with Communist East Germany and has not rattled his missiles recently.

The other reason is that the status quo in Berlin is more bearable to the Communists than the situation that existed a year ago. The thousands of refugees each month, including many technicians, teachers and students, were pouring out of East Germany through West Berlin. The satellite regime was threatened with collapse.

The Communists raised their border wall through the heart of the city in August. That dammed the tide of refugees to a trickle, solving their most critical problem.

Some quarters expect new tension over Berlin early this year, particularly if the Communists find the West firmly opposed to concessions in the diplomatic probe now starting.

Some observers believe negotiations over Berlin could be long delayed in starting or break down along the way.

The Communists then could be counted upon to boost tension. The easiest way to manufacture a new crisis would be for the East Germans to harass traffic along the access routes to West Berlin across East German territory, or to interfere further with traffic between East and West Berlin.

The Western Allies do not recognize the East German regime as a legitimate government. They insist that the Soviet Union take full responsibility for the satellite's actions. Moscow, in its campaign to get East Germany recognized, shows increasing reluctance to do this.

Some observers predict any new Berlin crisis will include a strong Communist pitch to the growing bloc of neutral and African-Asian countries. The Reds would try to shift complete blame for the new threat to war on the Allies and create new pressure for the West to make concessions to avert war.

Rio Grande Suit Heard

AUSTIN (AP)—Lawyers for Lower Rio Grande Valley water users argued today before the Supreme Court that landowners along the river have a right to obtain water for irrigation.

The court heard arguments by Todd Overton of Fort Stockton, Harry Hall of Mission, Hamilton Lowe of Brownville, for the lower river water users.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Houghton Brownlee Jr. argued for the state. The case is the so-called Valmont Plantations Case.

Overton said the essential issue is whether Spanish and Mexican grants along the Rio Grande carried irrigation rights with them and that a decision in trial court holding that the rights were carried in the grants was correct. This decision was reversed by the Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio in a long opinion.

The question before the court involves riparian rights, which are the traditional water rights granted those living on the banks of the river. The water below Falcon Reservoir is being sought by valley irrigators, along with the right to store water in the reservoir for future use.

Large sections of land, both above and below the dam are now irrigated under a proration system of distributing the water because of the limited supply.

DEAR ABBY Or Maybe She's Dumb

DEAR ABBY: We would like your opinion on a subject that has caused a lot of discussion around our office. One of the men who works here claims that in the 29 years he has been married he has never had a fight with his wife. He says she has never argued with him, questioned him or disagreed with him. Furthermore, he claims he has never heard her raise her voice. Is this possible?

CAN'T BELIEVE IT

DEAR CAN'T: It's possible, but most unlikely. Perhaps there is something wrong with his hearing.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is a very mature eleven-year-old. About a week ago she started wearing an identification bracelet a boy at school gave her. In her crowd it means she is "going steady."

This afternoon I got a phone call from the boy's mother. (I have never met her.) She said she was terribly upset to learn that her son had given my daughter his I.D. bracelet and she wanted my daughter to return it. She said the bracelet was a "good" one, and a birthday gift, and she didn't want anything to happen to it. I told her that my daughter did not STEAL it, it was given to her and, furthermore, I did not run my daughter's life and I hung up on her. Did I do right?

SORRY NOW

DEAR SORRY: You should be. No eleven-year-old is old enough to "run her own life." Tell your daughter to return the bracelet, and the sooner the better.

DEAR ABBY: My grandfather, who has been ill for quite some time, is expected to die at any moment. Is it necessary to have my grandmother's relatives to the funeral? If they do attend, is it necessary to have them sit in the pews reserved for relatives?

rant people it would embarrass us to have them sitting with the relatives of my grandfather. In other words, the whole family is ashamed of them. However, we would do what is right.

JUST WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: A funeral is not a "party" that one attends by invitation only. Your grandmother's relatives have a right to attend, and to sit in the pews reserved for relatives.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOVED AND LOST": Your letter reminds me of an old Chinese story: "One tear met another tear floating down the river. The first tear said, 'I am the tear of a woman who lost her lover.' The other tear said, 'I am the tear of the woman who got him.'"

Steers On Target, Turn Back Rebs

Coach Delnor Post got fine performances out of all his hands as Big Spring throttled Midland Lee, 65-50, in the first District 2-AAAA basketball game for both teams here Tuesday night.

Eddie Nelson did a fine job of rebounding for the Longhorns and led the team in scoring with 25 points while Albert Ferro was a wizard at passing and setting up plays.

Collier Is Fired As Feline Coach

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky began looking for a football coach today after the university's athletic board fired Blanton Collier, the softspoken coach who replaced Paul (Bear) Bryant.

The board voted Tuesday to buy the remaining three years of Collier's contract, saying its decision was by "mutual agreement" with Collier. His salary was reported at $17,500 annually.

The board only five weeks ago gave Collier a vote of confidence. Collier, 55, who came to Kentucky in 1954 and compiled a 41-36-3 record, said he had no immediate plans for the future.

Bryant, who came to Kentucky in 1946, pulled the Wildcats out of the football doldrums and led them to three major bowls—the Orange, Sugar and Cotton—in successive years. He left in 1953 to take the head coaching job at Texas A&M and now is at Alabama.

The Wildcats were 5-5 last season.

Celebrities Play In Links Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A celebrity event today serves as a prelude for the 36th annual $50,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament which begins Friday over Rancho municipal course.

Bob Hope, Lawrence Welk, Gene Autry and others of the entertainment industry join up with such pros as Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper Jr., Gary Player and Doug Sanders.

The Los Angeles Open has drawn 24 of the top 25 leading money winners of 1961, the only absentee being Sam Snead.

Abilene Eagles Bounce Permian

ABILENE—Abilene's Eagles thrashed Odessa Permian, 52-48, in the District 2-AAAA basketball opener for both teams here Tuesday night.

Four free tosses in the final 14 seconds of play provided the Eagles with the edge they needed to win. Jimmy Mallon and David Wray each made two of them.

Wray bucketed 19 points, as did Charlie Morton of Permian.

The Rebels kept within two or three points of Big Spring through much of the first half but the Steers pulled away in the second period and led at half time, 34-21.

The Steers' biggest point spread was 18 points, posted with four minutes to play. After that, the reserves took over.

The Steers hit 47 per cent of their shots from the field the first half and 46 per cent the final two quarters.

The victory was the 13th of the season for Big Spring, compared to two losses. The Steers play Odessa High in what should be a bell-ringer here Friday night.

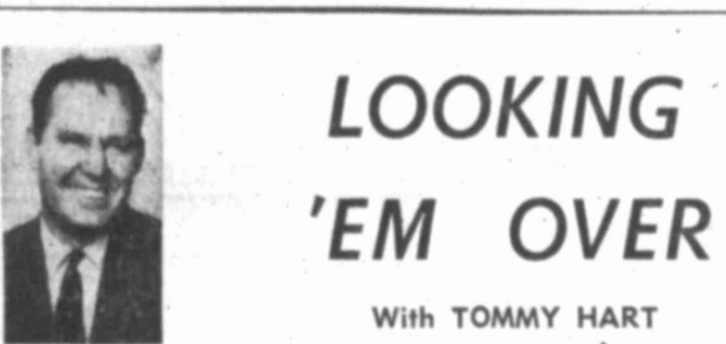

In the B game, Big Spring built up a 17-point lead at half time but lost the decision, 51-47.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue: PINKIE GEORGE, manager of boxer Alejandro Lavorante: "You know the old expression about fighters having a chin? Well, we also talk about some fighters having a China head. Almost any fighter will go down when he's clipped a good one on the chin, but some will hit the deck any time they get hit on the head. That's the ones we say have China heads — and Floyd Patterson is one of 'em. He's down at least once in nearly every fight. He fields a big punch with one part of his head or another and boom, he's on the canvas. Not necessarily hurt, but down. Speaking of China heads, Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, must have some China in his head, too, the way he handles the champion. Either that, or he doesn't have any confidence in his fighter. Gus tries to duck all but the pushovers."

CHARLIE MCNEIL, defensive back for the San Diego Chargers, criticizing Texan Johnny Morrow, one of the game officials, after the recent AFL championship battle: "That one fellow was responsible for 90 per cent of the calls. He was downright terrible."

PETE QUESADA, owner of the Washington entry in the American (baseball) League: "What most people don't understand about baseball, and this includes baseball people themselves, is that it is a small business. Total volume of sales for our club, including advertising, concessions, gate receipts and radio-television rights, came to approximately two million dollars. But we get more attention than General Motors, which one year I recall had a profit after taxes of nine billion dollars."

FORREST GREGG, former SMU grid star, now a regular for the Green Bay Packers: "I'd rather play tackle than guard. You have more room to operate at tackle. On pass protection, for instance, you can't drop back as far when you're at guard, because then you'll get in the center's way. At tackle, you can take the end wide, around the quarterback. At guard, you've got to stay in there and fight the tackle with no room to maneuver. Too, the tackles in this league are bigger than the ends, so when you play guard you have a bigger, tougher man to contend with. And when you pull out to lead a play, things get pretty congested behind the center with the quarterback and the running backs and you trying to find your route. You have to pull out a lot more at guard than at tackle in our system."

PAUL RICHARDS, Houston baseball manager: "Washington made a great deal when they got Jimmy Piersall from Cleveland. I'll tell you how good I think Piersall is. If I'd have had the fellow at Baltimore this season and last season the Orioles would have been in the last two World Series, instead of the Yankees. I rate him so well that I'll give 75 per cent of Houston's entire expansion draft quota for Piersall, no questions asked, no rebate. I never managed the guy but I'll take my chances. As I see it, Piersall will take a chain as far as he can. If the manager pulls the rope on him the first day I think he'd be all right — he could handle the guy."

CLYDE McCULLOUGH, Minnesota baseball coach: "Tony Kubek is the best shortstop I have ever seen anywhere. I've seen some of the best, even Marty Marini. Kubek plays the pitcher. He plays his position differently behind each Yankee pitcher and he gets himself into position to make the tough plays. He thinks out there."

Villanova Cats Seek Twelfth Straight Win

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Staff Writer

Villanova's Wildcats go after their 12th straight victory tonight against another unbeaten team. But the opposition isn't likely to provide a major test despite its spottier record.

The Wildcats play Seton Hall (4-1) at the Villanova Field House. From past performances, Jack Kraft's hustling 'Cats should scuffle with the Pirates. While Villanova has been beating some big boys and zooming into No. 5 position in the national rankings, Seton Hall has been building its record against lesser lights.

Seton Hall, in the midst of demerol after being hurt by last year's point-fixing scandals, are playing a schedule roughly half major, half minor. So far they have beaten Southern Illinois, Fairleigh Dickinson, Wagner and Rider.

Building around the quick, high-scoring Hubie White and sophomore Wally Jones and George Lettwich, Kraft has put together a spirited club stressing speed and aggressiveness. After winning their first eight, the 'Cats really dashed into the spotlight by clipping Niagara, previously unbeaten at Duquesne and Iowa in the Quaker City tournament.

In other games tonight, eighth-ranked Duke is at home to Penn State, Texas Tech opens defense of its Southwest Conference title against Texas, and West Virginia returns to Southern Conference competition, where it is 5-0, after losing three out of its last four to non-league rivals. The Mountaineers entertain VMI.

Kentucky, third ranked nationally and the only member of the top ten in action last night, took a 19-point lead against Virginia in the opening half and whipped the Cavaliers 93-73. Adolph Rupp played 15 Kentuckians and 12 of them scored, with Larry Pursiful's 21 points high. Cotton Nash added 19 for the Wildcats and Scottie Baesler had 17.

Indiana tied its team scoring record and scored a new high against a Notre Dame squad, pounding the Irish 122-95.

In the last-minute hero department—Jerry Smith's three-point play with 37 seconds to go gave Furman a 77-76 Southern Conference snooker over William and Mary; Bill Kirvan's three points in the final 56 seconds of overtime provided the clincher as Navy edged Georgia Tech 64-62; with 11 seconds left, Bob O'Billovich stole the ball at midcourt and raced in for a layup that enabled Montana to top Idaho 63-61; Tennessee State made up a 17-point deficit in the final 12 minutes of regulation play, drawing even on Porter Meriwether's 30-footer seven seconds before the buzzer, then trimmed Seattle in overtime 101-97.

Wake Forest broke open a tight one in the second half and downed Minnesota 78-70. Davidson surprised Alabama for the second time in two weeks, 73-67. Vanderbilt made good on 23 of 26 free throws in the last half in beating Yale 79-69. Butler maintained its perfect record against Ivy League, defeated Princeton 63-58. Maine upset Connecticut 73-68 in the Yankee conference. Other results—Auburn 67, Chattanooga 47; Memphis State 85, New Mexico State 70; Mississippi 68, Florence, Ala., 64; Tennessee Tech 86, Mississippi Southern 68; Creighton 84, South Dakota 58; Texas Western 82, New Mexico Western 54.

Sands Decisions O'Donnell Clubs

ACKERLY — Sands High School basketball teams swept a triple-header from O'Donnell here Tuesday night.

Benefiting from a fine team effort, the Sands' A boys decisively defeated the visitors, 56-47, after leading at the end of the first period, 12-10; at half time, 28-27; and again after three rounds, 39-36.

The Sands girls prevailed, 45-29. In that one, the Mustangs were in charge at the end of the initial round, 12-4; at half time, 22-13; and at the conclusion of three periods of play, 36-23.

To make the victory complete, the boys' B team prevailed, 56-38. The Mustangs scrimmage Big Spring in Big Spring Thursday and visit Gail for a contest Saturday. They open conference play next Tuesday in Sterling City.

Bobcats Trounce Midland, 63-61

MIDLAND — The San Angelo Bobcats broke a home court spell the Midland Bulldogs had enjoyed over all foes by winning a 63-61 court decision here Tuesday night.

The defeat was the first the Bulldogs had experienced in 20 home games.

Minton White led San Angelo in scoring with 24 points while James Adams had 18 for Midland.

Surge In Last Half Wins For Jayhawks

South Plains didn't know how to combat a three-quarter court press and blew a 78-55 Western Conference basketball decision to HCJC's Jayhawks here Tuesday night.

The Texans from South Plains gave the Hawks all they could handle in the first half and led by two points at a couple of stages but the Big Springers had recovered their aplomb by half time and dominated play in the final 20 minutes.

The victory was the first in conference play for HCJC, against no losses. Overall, the local legends are 12-1. South Plains is 5-10 overall and is 0-2 within conference.

Ernest Turner zeroed in on the South Plains basket, scoring a total of 25 points for HCJC. Walter Carter was right behind with 21, 13 of which he hit from the free throw line.

Coach Buddy Travis gave everyone a chance to play and the reserves looked very good toward the end, when the Texans had run out of gas.

The Hawks built up their biggest lead of the evening with 8:20 to go in the game, at which time they led by 31 points—68-37. The regulars exited immediately thereafter.

James Collins paced the South Plains attack with 12 points while Cecil Marshall had 11.

South Plains hit 10 of 25 shots from the field the first half for 40 per cent and only five of 13 the final half for 38 per cent. The Hawks saw to it that they were afforded few shooting opportunities after the intermission.

HCJC had 12 of 29 the first half for 41 per cent and sizzled in the final half, with 13 of 21 for 62 per cent and an overall mark of 51 per cent.

So furiously did the Hawks play the last half, the Texans captured only two offensive rebounds after grabbing off four the first half.

The Hawks, on the other hand, came down with 17 offensive caroms and 22 on defense. Turner led the local team in rebounding with 12 while Carter had eight.

South Plains went 5:26 minutes the last half before hitting a field goal.

HCJC visits Lawton, Okla., this week to take part in a two-day tournament.

Bearcats, Buffaloes Are Entries In Cage Tourney

Garden City and Stanton are among area teams entered in the 31st annual Reagan County Invitational Basketball Tournament, which starts Thursday and continues through Saturday.

Garden City has drawn Wink as a first round opponent while Stanton plays Iraan.

Four teams out of the 28 entered loom as top threats to take the championship won last year by Fort Stockton. And coach Joe Morning's Panthers, boasting a 12-1 record for the season, are 1-0 so far.

The other three are Brady, Ozona and host Big Lake. If the results go according to form, Brady will meet Fort Stockton and Big Lake will meet Ozona in the semifinals.

Fort Stockton is paced by 6-8 Eddie Pruitt and 6-3 Buddy Luce and boasts probably the tallest team entered. Brady, returning stellar guard Charles Reynolds, also an All-State football quarterback, and 6-1 George Kidd, who boasts an unstoppable fadeaway jump shot, also figures to be a rugged outfit and could take it all.

A good shooting team led by Finn Watkins makes Big Lake tough while Ozona has 6-3 1/2 Van Miller, 6-2 Carl Montgomery, 6-1/2 Hal Long, 6-1/2 Phillip Carnes and 5-10 1/2 Pete Montgomery.

The complete first-round pairings: Thursday — 7 a.m. — Big Lake 'B' vs. McCamey; 8:20 — Merton vs. Rankin; 9:40 — Miles vs. Christian; 11 — Craze vs. Junction; 12:40 p.m. — Garden City vs. Wink; 2 — Uvalde vs. Sonora; 3:20 — Eagle Pass vs. Alpine; 4:40 — Iraan vs. Stanton; 6:40 — Barnhart vs. Eldorado; 8 — Fort Stockton vs. Sterling City; 9:20 — Ozona vs. Coahoma; 10:40 — Big Lake vs. Rocksprings.

Friday — 7 a.m. — Forsan vs. Brady; 8:20 — Marfa vs. Colorado City.

Diezel Is Due To Take Post

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Despite some opposition from the Louisiana State Board of Supervisors, Paul Diezel is expected to leave the football power he built at LSU for a new challenge as head coach at Army.

Army, which hopes to make an announcement Thursday, is believed to have offered the former West Point aide a five-year contract at $20,000 a year. There also are the fringe benefits of attractive, free living quarters at the point, and post exchange and commissary privileges, probably worth another $5,000 a year.

Diezel, 38, one of the nation's most successful young coaches, still has four years to go on his LSU contract at $18,500 a year. Jim Corbett, LSU athletic director, said the coach had not asked for his release, but indications were the request would be made today. The New Orleans States-Item said it had learned that Diezel would fly to West Point Thursday.

Hereabouts, the trip is being pegged as an introduction of the new coach, who will succeed Dale Hall. Hall was fired after three years and three losses to Navy. If and when Diezel requests his release, sparks may fly in the bayou. The personable former assistant to Army's Earl Blaik built LSU into a perennial national power in a matter of three years.

Taking over in 1955, he had an unbeaten, national champion by 1958 and in seven years his overall record has been 46-24-3, including a 2-1 record in bowl games. This season LSU lost its first game (at Rice), then won 10 in a row—including Monday's 25-7 whipping of Colorado in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Diezel would have to receive a favorable vote from a majority of the 14-member board of supervisors to obtain his release and several members have indicated they feel Diezel should stay.

"It's time these coaches realize they have moral obligations as well as character building obligations," said board member C. J. Dugas of Donaldsonville, La. "Most of them regard contracts as 'just another piece of paper.'"

Another member, Tom Dutton of New Orleans, said: "Frankly, I don't believe that he will break his contract. I don't believe Paul will be happy in joining the fiddle-footed coaches who walk off the job and have no respect for the sanctity of a contract."

Ernie Davis Is AP Back Of Year

By The Associated Press

Ernie Davis, closing out his brilliant varsity career in a series of postseason games and heading into what promises to be a shining pro career, continues to reap honors as the most celebrated college football performer of 1961.

The Syracuse star's latest distinction was being named back-of-the-year in the annual Associated Press year-end poll Tuesday.

Davis beat out the three other All-America backs in the voting, being chosen by 43 of the 212 sports writers and broadcasters on the panel. Bob Ferguson of Ohio State and Jim Saxton of Texas tied for second in the balloting with 34 votes each, and Minnesota sparkplug Sandy Stephens was next with 29.

In three seasons at Syracuse, Davis was the key man on teams that won 24 of 29 games, captured the national title with a 10-0 record in 1959 and also posted two postseason victories, against Texas in the 1960 Cotton Bowl and over Miami, Fla., in last month's Liberty Bowl. An elusive and strong runner, the 210-pound half-back rushed for 823 yards and scored 94 points this past season, surpassing school records established by the fabulous Jimmy Brown. He finished his collegiate career with 2,386 yards running and 220 points scored.

Since then Davis has been awarded the Heisman Trophy as the country's top player, and has signed a three-year National Football League contract calling for $80,000 with the Cleveland Browns.

In the pros, he will join Brown to form what shapes up as a devastating one-two running punch.

Saxton, the spidery Texas half-back, was the long-range threat as the Longhorns won nine of ten starts and the Cotton Bowl game against Mississippi. The slim and lightfooted 160-pounder totaled 344 yards running on two successive Saturdays, gained 846 for the season, and averaged a glittering 7.9 yards a carry.

Ferguson repeated as All-America fullback after another season of stardom as he line-smashed for Ohio State's Big Ten champions. The Buckeyes' iron man, a 217-pounder with bull-like power, hit opposing lines 202 times for 938 yards in nine games.

Stephens' all-around value was epitomized in the Rose Bowl Monday when he sparked Minnesota to its 21-3 victory over UCLA with his running, passing, kicking and field leadership. The 215-pound quarterback did about everything for the Gophers this season, with his chief contribution the ability to pull off the vital play.

Behind the top four in the back-of-the-year voting came quarterbacks Pat Trammell of Alabama, 12; John Hadl of Kansas, 12; and Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State, 9; tailback Dave Hoppmann of Iowa State, 7, and halfback Lance Alworth of Arkansas, 4.

Gopher O'back Stephens Singled Out

By The Associated Press

Sandy Stephens of Minnesota swept both first place and runner-up spots for outstanding one-game performances in the annual Associated Press year-end football poll today.

The All-America quarterback topped the balloting with 21 votes for his brilliant play against Michigan, and received 11 votes for his starring role against Michigan State. Stephens also was cited for his work against Illinois and Iowa.

Performances by Jim Saxton of Texas, Gale Weidner of Colorado and Curtis McClinton of Kansas drew nine votes each for third in the poll. Mel Renfro of Oregon and Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State turned in standout jobs that received seven votes each and Pete Pedro of West Texas State got six for his run-away against Texas Western.

Against Michigan, Stephens led Minnesota to a come-from-behind 23-20 victory. He gained over 300 yards running and passing. He scored once on a 63-yard sprint, passed for another touchdown, threw for a pair of two-point conversions and made an interception on his own two in the final seconds. The following week the multiple-talented 212-pounder directed the Gophers to a 14-0 victory over nationally top-ranked Michigan State, contributing a scoring pass and an interception to Minnesota's triumph.

Saxton's 79-yard scoring sprint and 173 yards rushing in Texas' 27-0 decision over Southern Methodist gained nine votes for the spindly halfback. Weidner was picked for his dramatic performance against Kansas, when he threw three touchdowns, passes in the final quarter. Colorado roared from behind for a 20-19 victory. McClinton's four-touchdown spree against California got him a top spot.

Renfro got his support for the contributions he made as Oregon beat Stanford 19-7. Coming back after five weeks out with an injured foot and playing only 10 minutes, he scored on a five-yard run, triggered a 29-yard touchdown pass play and returned a kickoff 94 yards for Oregon's third TD.

Gabriel was named for the dazzling show he put on against South Carolina, passing for two touchdowns and running for two more and a two-point conversion in a 38-14 North Carolina State romp. Pedro made the list with an explosive night — six touchdowns and 226 yards as West Texas trounced Texas Western 56-27.

All told, 43 players were selected for 37 performances. Stephens of course, led the field in votes and with his four-game citations. Bob Ferguson of Ohio State was named for three games, while the following were mentioned for two games — Saxton, Pedro, Ernie Davis of Syracuse, Eddie Sames of Michigan State, George Wilson of Arizona, Ron Miller of Wisconsin, Dave Hoppmann of Iowa State, Wendell Harris of Louisiana State and Jim Bakken of Wisconsin.

Botanical Hobby Proves To Be Rewarding To Mrs. Harrison

By KATHLEEN DOZIER
Orchids, strange exotic blossoms, have been studied and grown by those having botanical interests but few are the amateur botanists who successfully grow the orchidaceous. Mrs. Preston Harrison, however, has found that through her own methods orchids can thrive in the semi-arid climate of Big Spring.

Of the epiphytic species, orchids usually are showy flowers with a corolla of three petals, one (the lip) differing greatly from the others and often spurred.

This would describe the plant presently in bloom at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harrison. The two blossoms are lavender with magenta lips, the petals measuring eight inches across, on the fourth day. The orchid blossom is not fully developed nor considered in full bloom until it is five to seven days old.

One of two miniature plants is also in bloom. The aurenica, as it is called, blooms twice a year, while most of the cattleyas bloom only once each year.

Mrs. Harrison has 14 cattleyas but will soon have 19 when she divides and re-pots some of the plants. Colors range from white with ruby lip and purple anthers, lavender and deep purple, to black.

Her hobby began some seven and one-half years ago when with all the children in school and a small apartment to keep, she had time on her hands. She began to inquire from local florists about purchasing orchid plants. With no results in Big Spring, she went to Midland florists where she learned of a lawyer who let her have a trianna, her first plant, which has been dropped, suffered from sunburn, and been divided twice with no ill effects other than a few spotted leaves.

The plant first forms the lead which goes into the pseudo bulb, and in turn, the leaf. The sheath appears and within the sheath the buds develop.

The orchid which feeds on air and some fertilizer, is potted in osmundia or cinamon fern which Mrs. Harrison orders from Florida.

Although the plant is natural to humid climates, with proper feeding, watering, heating and light or an atmosphere conducive to good health in humans, it will thrive in this area. Conditions governing the growth of the African violet are very similar to those needed by the orchid, according to Mrs. Harrison.

Beginning the hobby without knowledge of the subject is not advised by Mrs. Harrison. She would suggest that a reputable reference on orchid growing be studied before purchasing plants. With the basic principles in mind, care of the orchids should be adjusted as deemed necessary. Too much water, sunshine or light, and too much fertilizer can be most harmful.

Purchasing plants is important, she points out, with prices ranging from the bargain plant up into the hundreds of dollars. No less than $7.50 nor more than $10 should be paid for a good beginning plant.

Dr. Harrison, too, is interested in his wife's hobby and with the help of their sons, Preston Jr., and Robert, he is building a hot-house where many of the orchids, violets, fern, jasmine, gardenia, and other plants will be kept. Although Mrs. Harrison is looking forward to completion of the hot-house in about three weeks, she intends to keep some of the collections in the living room. Ever present, their development can be closely watched and their beauty admired.

Orchids In Bloom

Orchids thrive with the care received from Mrs. Preston Harrison, whose goal is an attempt to hybridize. Also in bloom is a miniature plant which Mrs. Harrison holds (lower photo).

Mrs. Harrison's goal is to hybridize orchid plants. This requires a bit of surgical skill but the proposed attempt should be successful since her professional field is nursing.

The Forsan Study Club will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the school for a program on "Women in Fashion." Leader will be Mrs. W. M. Romans.

Jacketed Sheath

Here's a costume where the sheath is a flattering scoop-neck with quite short sleeves, and the jacket is cropped just enough to show the belt. No. 3232 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. In size 14 the dress takes 2 1/2 yards of 44-inch fabric; the jacket, 1 1/2 yards of 44-inch. Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to IRIS LANE, Big Spring Herald, Box 1490, New York 1, N. Y. Add 10 cents for each pattern for first class mailing. Pattern Book 50 cents.

SCOUT AREA ERE BUYING

Community Important Factor In Purchasing

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures
There's more to buying a house than being satisfied with the house you're buying. You may like the looks of the house, you may approve its construction features, you may be pleased with the amount of storage space, you may feel that it has many expansion advantages. But you won't get long-lasting satisfaction from your new home unless you first have taken into account other factors that constitute a good purchase.

Will you, for instance, be satisfied with the type of community you'll be in? This is easy to determine when you are buying into an old, established neighborhood. It's not difficult to determine whether a neighborhood will suit you. Asking questions and looking around will provide you with the answers.

Return to the area several times, during the day, at night, on weekends, in fair weather and foul. If you have children, be sure there are other children nearby. Are the schools and churches convenient? How about shopping areas? Are community features, such as recreational facilities, important to you?

Ease of commuting is vital to some persons. Many men have commuted long distances for years with no regrets. They're willing to spend extra time traveling in order to live in a neighborhood which is good for their family. But some men—and women—regard commuting as a major nuisance. If they buy a house in an out-of-the-way place against their better judgment or because someone has talked them into it, they soon regret it.

Then there's another factor that is a bit difficult to define. It has something to do with emotional appeal. It's what you feel about a house the first time you look at it. It's what makes you say almost instantly, "That's for me."

Above all, there's the matter of cost. A recent survey of home buyers in a metropolitan area showed that 73 per cent of them listed cost as their most important consideration. And rightly so. That emotional appeal we mentioned comes into the act at this point. Sometime you fall in love with a particular house, but can't really afford it or think you can't.

That's the time to sit down with a pencil and paper and figure out what's what. If it's a new house, you may have certain landscaping expenses or you may not, depending on what is included in the sale. If you buy an older house, you have to consider the cost of maintenance, not only that which has to be done but that which you may decide to do on your own.

One last point. Somewhere along the line you're going to have to compromise. Rarely does anybody ever get everything in a house, neighborhood and price that he wants. You'll have to give a little here and there. Make up your mind to that, being certain you get most of the things you want, and you'll be a lot happier with your choice.

Zest Added

Worcestershire sauce adds zest to a simple cheddar cheese spread, cheese soup or a cheese soufflé.

Leftover Ham

A small amount of baked ham leftover? Dice it and add it to green peas that have been cooked with strips of onion and seasoned with salt, pepper and butter.

Browning Meat

Many good cooks like to use a combination of butter and a blend of oil when they brown chicken or meat; the oil helps to slow down the browning of the butter.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Now that we are three days into the New Year it is to be supposed that we will settle down and get at least a good day's work done several times a week. The social activities of the holiday season are gay and delightful but it is hard to accomplish all the things that need to be done each day when it is so much more fun to visit with those friends and relatives who have come for a holiday visit.

The Big Spring Country Club tea dance was one of the best parties on the first day of the year.

Included in the capacity crowd were MRS. GEORGE WHITE and her visiting daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. DEE JON DAVIS, who planned to return to Austin Tuesday, and B U D D Y WHITE, a student in Texas Tech.

MR. and MRS. ASA JENKINS from Anadarko, Okla., were guests of her parents, the JASPER ATKINSES. The WHITNEY REYNOLDSSES (Lynn McMahen) from College Station joined the RONALD HOWARDS (Brenda Barr) for a foursome. . . MRS. KENT MORGAN looked smart in a short white sequined sheath and MRS. JIM ZIKE chose a white brocade taffeta short dress. ANN GATT'S dress of red featured a drape over the shoulder that fell to the hem line both fore and aft. . . very pretty color with her black hair. . . Red was also the choice of MRS. FRED HALLER, who wore a chiffon full skirted type with gold decor. . . MRS. J. T. MORGAN'S shirtwaist style was also red which she wore with matching slippers.

MR. and MRS. GLEN SMITH have returned from Austin and Decatur and several other places where they had journeyed during the holidays. The couple spent Christmas in Decatur with their son, Glen, and his family. Also with them were MR. and MRS. JIMMY SMITH and Elizabeth of Austin. Jimmy's wife and daughter accompanied the Smiths home as did Sharon Smith. After the grandparents took the Austin people home Saturday, they brought Sharon back to Abilene where her parents met them and took her back with them to Decatur.

The charming guests of COL. and MRS. LEONARD EINSTEIN, DR. and MRS. MURRAY WEINER of Rahway, N. J., plan to fly back home today. The Weiners and their three children, Jeffrey, Barbara and Jody, came to Big Spring on Dec. 23, for Christmas with their friends.

JAMES RIPPS of Fort Worth was here briefly Monday. He brought his parents, the A. M. RIPPSSES, home from Raytown, Mo., where they had all spent Christmas together with the younger Ripps family. He is being transferred to Fort Worth and hopes to move his family there this month.

Skit Given By Baptist WMS

Westside Baptist Church WMS met Tuesday morning at the church. Mrs. C. L. Kirkland was in charge of the program and provided piano accompaniment for the morning session.

Mrs. E. O. Sanderson gave a devotion, after which a skit was presented with Mrs. N. M. Hitt, the narrator. "The Shadow in the Doorway" was presented by Mrs. J. O. Murphy in the role of a WMS visitor; Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, a housewife; Mrs. Gene Holman, a lady of wealth; Mrs. David Coffman, a bride; Mrs. Leroy Minchew, a business woman; Mrs. Sally Sanders, an elderly woman. Eleven members and a visitor, Mrs. Lee Burrow, joined in singing the song of dismissal.

Club Has First Meet Of Year

"Laudering" was the theme of the program presented for members of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. N. Adams.

Mrs. Delaine Crawford, HD agent, was the speaker, giving the correct methods of laundering various fabrics and explaining the importance of following directions.

Soft water is necessary for the best laundering. Mrs. Crawford told the group, and good rinsing must be done in order that the fabric will not be scorched when it is ironed.

Members were warned to watch the size of the load carefully and not to overload the machine. Roll call was answered by eight, who told "What I Like Best About HD Work."

Thought for the day was "Life's greatest tragedy is to lose God and not miss Him." Mrs. Adams brought the devotion for the club, and the special prize was awarded to Mrs. L. A. Griffith.

The next meeting is set for Jan. 16 in the home of Mrs. O. D. Engle, Knott Rt. at 2 p.m.

1930 Hyperion

The 1930 Hyperion Club will meet Saturday at 3 p.m. at Cosden Country Club instead of the location originally announced in the club yearbook.

Use Shrimp

Macaroni salad often has ham as an addition; but if canned shrimp is on the pantry shelf and there's no cooked ham at hand, you may use the seafood instead of the meat.

Rebekahs Hear Talk And Report

Mrs. Horace J. Smith, noble grand of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153, gave a farewell speech Tuesday night when a meeting was held at the Lodge Hall. She commended officers and presented ceramic birds, pansy plants and lilac shrubs, as gifts of appreciation.

A report was made by Mrs. Charlie Boland concerning a Christmas visit to the Children's Home. A communication was read stating that Grand Lodge is to meet in Galveston March 15-20, with headquarters for Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at the Galvez Hotel.

Mrs. Dolores Morris was elected to membership by initiation, which is to be held Jan. 16. Resolutions of respect were read for Mrs. Tina Johnson, mother of Mrs. Jesse Coker; Mrs. Etta B. Wade, mother of Mrs. Morgan Martin; Roscoe Tolbert, brother of Mrs. J. F. George; Mrs. Bill Witt, sister of Mrs. Jim Skalkicky.

Following lodge, the evening was concluded with refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith.

Golf Association To Install Leaders

Members of the Ladies Golf Association, Big Spring Country Club, will gather at the club at 1 p.m. Friday for a luncheon and the installation of officers. Games of duplicate and contract bridge will follow at 2 p.m.

Reservations for the luncheon must be made by Thursday at noon at the club, AM 4-7701.

Pants Disguised

Kid Cutties, those skirts that are really disguised by deep pleats, have a junior version. This little girl wears a washable woolen culotte suit with a boxy jacket for vigorous play on days too cold for cotton, too warm for coats.

Holiday Coffee

Holiday decorations were used for the coffee given recently for about 32 guests. Hostesses were Mrs. William Semler, in whose home the affair was given, Mrs. K. L. Nellermeoe and Mrs. Frank Johnson.

AT PREMONT

Probe Of New Bank Requested

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Banking Board will receive Thursday a request for an investigation of the establishment of a new state bank at Premont.

The bank's charter was approved by the board in emergency session Sunday, and the bank opened Tuesday.

The old bank, known as the First State Bank of Premont, was closed Saturday after C. L. Richardson, its former executive vice president, was placed under $50,000 bond on charges of concealing evidence from state bank examiners.

The new bank is called The First State Bank of Premont. Richardson was in Jim Wells County Jail Tuesday after failing to make the $50,000 bond. He waived examining trial on one set of charges involving concealment of two notes, one for $21,000, the other for $23,250.

A hearing is scheduled Friday in 79th District Court in Alice on a civil suit filed by the old state bank at Premont against Richardson.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press An antibiotic for plants, how a cockroach finds a mate in the dark, and frisky snowfleas are topics of scientific studies:

For Sickly Plants

Before long, farmers and fruit growers may be able to give sickly trees and plants an assist with a dose of a new wonder drug, an antibiotic for plants, now being perfected by British scientists.

From a patient screening of 8,000 soil samples, they turned up venturicin which, if present in a soil, will be produced as an agricultural spray. Venturicin is an antifungal, although not an antibacterial, and seems to be harmless to animals.

So far, the scientists reported in Nature magazine, it has been found effective in stopping apple scab, barley mildew, broad bean rust, gray mold, cucumber mildew, and other plant diseases.

Roach Romance

A Harvard biologist has found out how cockroaches find a mate in the dark.

When Dr. Robert Barth reported a pair of glands, called the corpora allata, from the necks of female cockroaches, the males ignored them. The glands, he explained, normally produce a hormone which triggers production of a chemical considered very agreeable by the male.

The female's odor, different for each species of cockroach, will attract nearby males. This is quite unlike the attractiveness of the odors given off by some other insects. Female moths, for example, release an odor which will beckon males from many hundreds of yards away, he said.

Snowflea Frolic

Don't tell the dog, but there's a hardy little gray-white insect called a snowflea that thrives in sub-zero temperatures and hops with the best of them, although without accuracy.

Actually, the snowflea won't bother animals, but it can be a pest by invading cold-water pipes in houses and sometimes find its way into refrigerators. But, the National Pest Control Association reports, such invasions are infrequent and can be controlled by exterminators.

Snowfleas are a type of spring-tail, that is, insects possessing a pair of spring-like tails that can be tripped when quick distance is required. Snowfleas can hop as much as a foot. Trouble is, they don't seem to have any control over the direction their springs will take them.

Snowfleas are occasionally seen frolicking in bands atop moist snow, the association says.

Britain To Reject Claim By Guatemala To Colony

LONDON (AP)—Britain is planning another sharp informal rejection of Guatemala's claim to British Honduras—coupled with a public offer to discuss a solution of the century-old territorial dispute.

Informed sources said the British offer to talk is intended to counter threats by President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes to break diplomatic ties with Britain and to expel all British nationals unless the Guatemalan claim to British Honduras is recognized.

The Foreign Office so far has refrained from making any formal comment on Ydigoras' warnings. Informants expressed belief the Guatemalan leader has suddenly revived the territorial issue to divert attention from domestic difficulties.

Ydigoras reportedly said he would take the drastic step of breaking with Britain because of lack of progress towards a settlement. British officials say an offer to negotiate made by London two months ago still has not been picked up by Guatemala.

British Honduras, a colony of less than 9,000 square miles with a multiracial population of 90,000, has been a source of dispute with its neighbor to the west since 1859.

Guatemala is not the only country claiming the timber-sugar-citrus producing colony on the easterr seaboard of Central America. Mexico, to the north, tacitly accepts British sovereignty but has insisted that it will be entitled to take over part of the country if there is any change of ownership.

Shipwrecked British seamen in 1638 were the first to settle what today is British Honduras. Pirates and loggers later frequented the wild coast. Until the late 18th century, the British settlers were attacked repeatedly by neighboring Spanish colonists.

Guatemala bases its claims on the fact that British Honduras in colonial times belonged to the Spanish captaincy-general of Guatemala.

An 1859 British-Guatemalan treaty laid down the frontier between Guatemala and British Honduras. The pact contained a controversial clause relating to a joint undertaking to develop certain communications. Each government has accused the other of falling down on its obligations.

Guatemala contends this breach has rendered the entire treaty null and void.

Airlines Make Safety Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The scheduled airlines achieved in 1960 a flight safety record bettered only twice since flying became a major industry.

The Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Safety, reporting this Tuesday, said preliminary 1961 figures indicated a fatality rate, on the U.S. international and domestic airlines, of 0.29 deaths for each 100 million passenger miles.

This was the tenth consecutive year of a fatality rate of less than 1 per 100 million passenger miles. It compared with the 1960 fatality rate of 0.75.

Passenger deaths on the scheduled airlines totaled 150, including one person on the ground struck by a propeller.

The safest year for the airlines in recent times was 1954 with a fatality rate of 0.07. Next best was 1957 with 0.21.

Hiram Boaz, SMU Founder, Dies; Services Set Thursday

DALLAS (AP)—Funeral services for Methodist Bishop Hiram A. Boaz, founder of Southern Methodist University, will be held here Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Highland Park Methodist Church.

Bishop Boaz, 95, died at his home here Tuesday. He had been ill of uremic poisoning about six months. He ate lunch and then took a nap from which he did not awake.

Survivors included the widow and three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Penniman of Dallas, Mrs. Graham R. Hall of Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Prentiss M. Terry of Washington, D.C., and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Boaz, a native of Kentucky, was president of the old Polytechnic College of Fort Worth when he persuaded Methodist leaders a major university was needed in North Central Texas.

Budget To Have Important Effects

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analysis NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen and bankers will have their eyes on Washington for the next two weeks. So will labor and investors and taxpayers. And so, too, should consumers. All will have a great deal at stake.

For the fiscal and economic program which President Kennedy is expected to reveal shortly in general terms in his State of the Union Message, and in detail in the budget message to follow, will have broad-and-butter significance for almost everyone.

'Ballooned' Bread Warning Given

AUSTIN (AP)—State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White cautioned Texas housewives to keep a sharp eye out for "ballooned" bread.

White served official notice to all Texas bakeries Tuesday that the manufacture, packaging and sale of a "ballooned" loaf of bread is "a misleading trade practice, illegal under provisions of the Texas weights and measures law."

Indonesia Rejects Dutch Offer For Negotiations

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Foreign Minister Subandrio today rejected the latest Dutch offer to negotiate their dispute over West New Guinea. He said Indonesia would negotiate only if the Dutch agreed in advance to transfer the area to Indonesian control. Otherwise, said Subandrio, Indonesia will take the Dutch-controlled western half of the "big island" by invasion, as it has threatened. "We do not object to bilateral negotiations with the purpose of the transfer of the administration of West Irian (West New Guinea) to Indonesia," Subandrio said. Subandrio thus replied within 24 hours to Dutch Premier Jan de Quay's unconditional offer to talk over the future of the 159,000 square miles of jungle and mountain territory claimed by Indonesia ever since it won independence from the Dutch in 1949. Subandrio said De Quay's offer "seems to me to be a mere formality because he still emphasized the basic policy of the Netherlands is self-determination for the people of West Irian." In the Hague, the Dutch government refused to comment on Subandrio's rejection. It has no diplomatic relations with Indonesia. A spokesman said the government expected to be informed officially of the Indonesian reaction through the U.S. government or acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

Fitness Clinic Resumes Today

The physical fitness clinic being conducted by the YMCA is back on schedule after the holidays. Classes will be held today at 5:30 p.m. as usual, according to Joe Leach, physical director. The program had continued during the holiday period, but attendance had dropped considerably because of vacations, trips and other Christmas and New Year's activities. Most of the 32 persons enrolled are expected back today. Leach invited others interested in the clinic to drop in and get started. "Now is a fine time to do something about that turkey and ham which has collected during the holidays," he said. The clinic consists of purposeful walking, running and exercising to use all muscles in the body and bring them to the peak of condition. Each person's activities are tailored to his needs and an individual can begin the program at any time. Fitness exercises will be followed by volleyball at 6 p.m. Only two candidates have officially entered the political lists for 1962, according to the records of Frank Hardesty, chairman of the Howard County Democratic Executive Committee. David Read has filed for reelection as state representative to the Texas Legislature from the 101st district. Ralph Caton has filed for re-election as judge of the 118th judicial district court. Candidates are required to file their applications with the county chairman. Hardesty said he has all necessary forms. There is no fee for filing. Candidates have until Feb. 5 to officially list their names with the executive committee. Such notification assures their names appearing on the ballot. On Feb. 12, the executive committee meets and determines the assessment to be made against each candidate for primary expenses. Candidates will have until Feb. 17 to pay their assessments. Mrs. Olene Whitesides has assumed her duties as secretary to the Howard County Commissioners Court and to County Judge Ed Carpenter. Mrs. Whitesides will replace Mrs. Roberta Oldfield, who has resigned to accept a post with the Howard County Farm Bureau. Mrs. Oldfield has also announced she will be a candidate for county clerk in the forthcoming Democratic primaries.

Bowden Awarded Webb Contract

The R. B. Bowden Construction Co., San Marcos, was awarded a contract this week for repairs to runway, taxiway, and access road at the Colorado City auxiliary. The successful bid was $47,571.50. Twenty-nine bids were invited and three were received. The Tile Shop in San Angelo was the successful bidder on a $4,682.00 job for the installation of conductive tile at Webb.

MRS. J. R. DODSON

Mrs. Dodson To Speak Thursday At Local Church

Mrs. J. Richard Dodson, recently returned from missionary work in the Congo, will be the speaker Thursday at 8 p.m. at the First Christian Church. Mrs. Dodson is a native of San Angelo. She was also married there and she and her husband have three children, all born in the Congo. She is an ordained minister as well as a qualified educator and nurse. The Dodsons went to the Congo in 1953, and except for a one year furlough, have been there since. They served in Elisabethville, in Katanga Province, as well as at Coquilhatville, near the equator. The couple is on the staff of the United Christian Missionary Society.

Grand Jury Indicts One

STANTON — Martin County Grand Jury had little work to do when it was convened on Monday. Only one case was laid before it — a charge of DWI second offense against Elbert E. Lawson. The grand jurors returned a true bill against Lawson and were excused from further duty by District Judge Ralph Caton.

Meeting Held

Den 3, Pack 202 held its first meeting of 1962 Tuesday night at the Northside Methodist Church Annex, according to Den Mother Mrs. Theresa Bauch. After the opening prayer by Mrs. Juanita Marquez, plans were made for the next meeting. Supper was served to seven cubs and their parents. Mrs. Carolina Navarro and her two daughters were visitors.

FIDEL CASTRO

POPE JOHN XXIII

Fidel Falls Under Excommunication

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A high Vatican prelate said today that Fidel Castro and certain officials of his regime have fallen under automatic excommunication.

Archbishop Dino Staffa, a leading expert on canon law in the Vatican secretariat of state, said excommunication had been incurred by Castro and all Cuban officials responsible for "impeding and imprisoning" Roman Catholic bishops in Cuba.

The statement by Archbishop Staffa was not a formal announcement but was given in reply to a newsman's questions.

Archbishop Staffa, who is secretary of the Vatican's Sacred Congregation of Seminaries and Universities, said the excommunication had been incurred without formal announcement by the Vatican.

He said announcement of excommunication in these cases is normally made by the Pope himself. Vatican sources speculated that Pope John XXIII had made no announcement in an effort to avoid further strain in relations between the Vatican and Cuba.

Castro Appoints Vatican Legate

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has appointed a new ambassador to the Vatican in an apparent move to ease strained relations between his pro-Communist regime in Cuba and the Roman Catholic Church.

Castro's appointment of Luis Amado Blanco y Fernandez became known with the routine publication of the 1962 directory of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican.

An official at the Cuban Embassy confirmed the appointment of Blanco y Fernandez, but said he had not yet arrived in Rome. The previous Cuban envoy, Dr. Jose Ruiz Velasco, presented his credentials in March 1960. He was recalled by Castro less than nine months later.

Castro's ouster of several Roman Catholic priests from Cuba led to further strain between the Vatican and Havana, and by last summer relations between the two appeared near the breaking point.

Papal Greetings To Cuban People

HAVANA (AP)—A New Year's message from Pope John XXIII expressing "sincere hopes for Christian prosperity for the beloved Cuban people" was published in Havana newspapers.

The brief message replied to a New Year's greeting from President Osvaldo Dorticos. It acknowledged Dorticos' message of best wishes.

Firemen Hurt

FORT WORTH (AP)—Three firemen suffered minor injuries and damage was estimated at $25,000 to $30,000 Tuesday when a fire swept a north Fort Worth building.

Durantes To Sell That Extra House

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene: The James Durantes will no longer be a two-house family. Jimmy is solving the "dilemma" that has existed since he married Margie Little a year ago. She had a hilltop house and he had one on the flat, and neither wanted to give theirs up. So they lived in both.

"We're puttin' one of dem up fer sale," Jimmy said. "Which one? Margie's, of course. After all, I am still boss of de family—at least I was when I checked two days ago."

From now on Tony Curtis works only for himself—either in his own productions or partnership deals. He learned his lesson with "The Lady L," which tied him up for months and was never made by MGM.

"Complete chaos," he says of the experience. Chaotic or not, he got paid a nice $300,000 for his trouble. Comings and goings: Debbie Reynolds to New York for confabs on her dress business. Van Heflin to the East for an NBC special about Highway 1, then to the Philippines for a movie. George Gobel home from the Broadway flop of "Let It Ride." He dropped a bundle but needn't worry; he'll probably be back on TV next season. Catching up on the year-end attractions: "The Innocents" is a good chiller, excellently acted by a British cast and directed by Jack Clayton with a keen eye for scare tactics. The timing may be bad for this attraction, following so soon after the memorable Ingrid Bergman TV version of the same yarn, "Turn of the Screw." Charlton Heston is looking for another modern movie; he's not ready to get back in tunics yet.

4-Row Cotton Limit Goes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department is giving up the four-row limitation on skip-row cotton planting.

Secretary Orville Freeman made the announcement Tuesday. In skip-row planting, rows of cotton are alternated with land left idle or are planted to another crop which does not compete with cotton for plant food, moisture or sunlight.

The land left idle or planted to other approved crops had to be the equivalent of four rows of cotton, at a minimum. If the skip rows are narrower than that, the entire acreage—that part planted to cotton as well as the part idled or planted to other crops—was counted as planted to cotton under federal acreage allotment and marketing quota regulations.

Freeman said it is expected many growers will shift to a two-and-two pattern—that is, two rows of cotton and two rows left idle or planted to other crops. Lifting the four-row restriction, he said, will provide the cotton growers with more latitude in cropping operations.

He said it should also have an incidental advantage of further reducing the overproduction of feed grains, as much of the skip land has been planted to these crops.

Under new regulations, only land actually planted to cotton will be counted as cotton land in determining a grower's compliance with crop control programs.

Libel, Slander Suit To Be Heard

HOUSTON (AP)—A judge refused Tuesday to throw out a libel and slander suit against a preacher from nearby Jacinto City.

Dist. Judge Sears McGee overruled a motion by the Rev. Van Moreau that he dismiss the suit. Jesse Woods, a Jacinto City Democratic party leader, filed against Moreau and other unnamed defendants followed him.

Woods charged the preacher out of a meeting at the Jacinto City Baptist Church after Woods objected to a speaker's comment that President Kennedy and his family had associated with socialists.

U2 Pilot Lands In Tree

PICAYUNE, Miss. (AP)—A U2 jet aircraft—the same type which was downed over the Soviet Union in 1960—crashed in the dense Pearl River swamps near Picayune Tuesday night.

The pilot, Capt. Charles P. Stratton, 32, was reported safe early today by authorities at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

Capt. William N. Orr, deputy public information officer at Keesler, said Stratton was perched in a tree "and he's okay."

Stratton's home is in Detroit, Mich., but he, his wife and two children live at Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, Tex.

Rescue parties from the Air Force and the Coast Guard entered the swampy area at daybreak.

Orr said the U2 was attached to the 4080th Strategic Wing at Laughlin AFB. It was on a flight from Del Rio to Birmingham, Ala., and return.

The plane, in flames, crashed about 9:30 p.m. Witnesses reported seeing the fiery crash from as far away as New Orleans—75 miles south-southwest of Picayune.

Another Term

AUSTIN (AP)—Judge W. A. Morrison of the Court of Criminal Appeals said Tuesday he will seek another term on the state's highest criminal court.

Crash Kills 23

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The crash of a truck into the Rio Huanehué killed 23 persons Sunday at Valdivia, police said Tuesday. Eighteen persons were rescued. The truck was taking peasants, many of them Indians, back to their homes after shopping for a New Year's Eve celebration.
