Travelling Minister Is Alive But Vehicle Isn't

A Concord, N. H. minister, Russell W. Fowler, is still alive today although his 1960 model station wagon is a scrap heap following an accident on IS 29 east of the Condon Refinery Thursday afternoon. The station wagon left the westbound traffic lane and was demolished against the end of a concrete culvert about 4:50 p.m.

Fowler, minister of the Concord Church of Christ, was taken to Malone and Hogan Hospital Foundation around 5 p.m. in a River ambulance where he was treated for a fractured right leg, broken left ankle, broken nose, and fractured jaw. He had several lacerations and bruises.

Fowler was reported in serious, but not critical, condition Friday morning in the hospital. He is 45 years old.

"The man apparently went to sleep and ran off the road," Kelas Davis, Texas Highway Patrolman, who investigated the accident, said. "He never applied his brakes and the car took an almost straight course. The culvert he hit was immovable so the car absorbed the impact."

Davis said the station wagon was beyond repair. The frame was almost doubled on the left side. The weight of the vehicle caused the frame to buckle down, and the top to buckle up in the middle by the sudden impact. Fowler was thrown half out of the car, which may have saved his life. The steering wheel of the car had been pushed back to the seat cushion and Fowler might have been crushed, had he stayed in the normal driver's position.

Fowler's son, Tom, is a student at Abilene Christian College, and his family had stopped to visit with him earlier in the week.

T. H. Tarbet, minister of the West Highway Church of Christ, who visited with Fowler this morning, said the Fowler family were residents of Andrews a few years ago and that he still had relatives in the area.

"Mr. Fowler was making a tour, mapped out," Tarbet said. "He was preaching at various places in the interest of the Concord congregation. He was scheduled to speak in Andrews Sunday night and in Plainview Wednesday night, but did not list all of his schedule."

Tarbet said Fowler was very calm about the accident, although he was greatly concerned about his family. The son was to see his father today.

"He said he did not remember what happened but that he did have trouble with partial sun blindness. He also said he checked his speedometer just a little way back and was trying to hold it on a 60-mile-an-hour speed," Tarbet said.

Big Spring police were called about the accident by a Mr. West and River Funeral home, whose ambulance carried the injured man to the hospital, was notified by a woman.

Fowler is a native of Oklahoma, but he and his family moved to New England in 1957. They were first with the Church of Christ in Brattleboro, Vt. During this time he was engaged in secular work to support his family.

The new church at Concord began worship in the YMCA building, The Fourth Avenue Church of Christ, Franklin, Tenn., took up the sponsorship of the church and purchased the property on which a new building is to be erected. The congregation now meets in the basement of the minister's home awaiting the new church building, estimated to cost $35,000. The membership is 13 and average attendance at worship services is around 25. It was started in January 1959.

Fowler's trip to Texas and across the nation was in the interest of raising funds, through contributions, to build the new church. Plans are to build the church along the conservative lines of a typical New England meeting house.

Concord is the capital of New Hampshire and has a population of 30,000. At present there are only three Church of Christ congregations in the state: Keene, Manchester and Concord.

2 HCJC Board Members Seek Re-Election

The two members of the Howard County Junior College board of trustees, whose terms expire in April, will announce for re-election. They are Horace Garrett, president of the board, and K. H. (Chub) McGibbon.

The board called the election for April 7, 1962, according to law, and specified polling places.

Garrett, who is president of the board, has served longer as a trustee than any other member, except Dr. P. W. Malone. He went on the board in 1948, succeeding Mrs. J. E. Brigham, one of the original trustees. He served many years as vice president of the board before becoming president. He is a grandson of the late Mrs. Dora Roberts, in whose honor the student building is named.

Garrett is serving as president of the Chamber of Commerce, the United Fund, Downtown Lions and other organizations. McGibbon has been on the board since succeeding L. H. Thomas, one of the founders, in 1953, and he has served as secretary of the board. Like Garrett, he has been active in community affairs, having served as president of the Chamber of Commerce, the United Fund, Downtown Lions and other organizations.

Coahoma Bank Holds Its First Stockholder Meet

COAHOMA — Coahoma State Bank held its first stockholders meeting Thursday afternoon. The stockholders voiced approval of the bank's operation for the first six months of its existence.

All officers and directors were re-elected for a new term. No changes in policies or personnel were ordered.

It was announced that the total assets of the bank as of Jan. 1 stood at $970,000. The bank began operation on July 1.

The officers and directors are: Bill Head, president; Carl Bates, vice president; Ed Carpenter, chairman of the board; Weldon Estes, cashier. The board of directors is composed of the three officers and R. A. Foster, R. E. Martin, R. D. Garrett, J. O. Nixon, Mrs. Viola O'Daniel, all of Coahoma community, and Briggs Todd, Abilene.

Rayburn Medal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early passage is expected of a measure authorizing the coinage of a medal honoring the late Speaker Sam Rayburn. The Treasury Department recently said it has no objection to the medal.

Weather 'Snows Under' City's Plumbers With Broken Pipes

Plumbers were literally "snowed under" Friday. Calls were coming in by the minute to all Big Spring plumbers about broken water lines at business houses and residences.

A few calls to city crews came in during the night where water line breaks showed up at meter boxes. A six-inch main on East Sixth broke but was repaired in a short time.

"Most of the damage will be revealed when lines really start thawing out," Lee Nuckles, city water distribution superintendent, said. "When the temperature gets up around 40 degrees the city may look like a sprinkler system."

Fiveash Plumbing Co., one of those called, said pipes were beginning to break all over town. At 11 a.m. they had received 14

Blizzard Beginning To Leave These Parts

Big Spring was colder than Amarillo on Thursday night but not as cold as El Paso.

Which is another way of indicating that the blizzard, which had the area in its icy grip for three days, is breaking up and shifting from this part of the country.

It was a cold 6 degrees in Big Spring last night which was 11 degrees warmer than the low for Thursday morning. The high, as recorded by the U.S. Experiment Station north of town, was 23 degrees.

For the same period, Amarillo, which has been shivering in extremely cold weather for several days, had a low of only 15 and a high of 27. In the same interval, El Paso had a zero reading early today and a high on Thursday of 19.

The sub-freezing temperatures have kept the thin skim of snow from melting away entirely and the countryside is a blend today of gray and brown.

The forecast for tonight and Saturday calls for fair and warmer weather. Northwestern surface winds from 10-20 miles per hour are to prevail becoming higher on Saturday.

The high expected today will be 47 and the low tonight 17 degrees. On Saturday the high should climb to 53 degrees.

Plumbers believe that the breaking cold will bring on evidence of burst water pipes in great abundance. Reports of residences and business establishments without water due to frozen lines have piled up on the desks of plumbing companies over the past two days. Nothing much could be done to relieve the situation while the freeze was still on but the plumbers say when the lines thaw, the breaks will be easily spotted. And the plumbers anticipate an even heavier volume of calls for help.

The frost has broken a few city mains which were inadequately protected.

No way to estimate the damage the cold may have brought about is available.

Herb Helbig, county farm agent, said that he had no reports of any extreme hardship caused to livestock by the cold. The blizzard, fortunately, did not hold long enough to cause excessive suffering among cattle and sheep, he said. The snow, too, was so light it did not bury the grass too deep to be grazed.

City garbage department, hampered by the chill, is running behind schedule and expects trouble in some of the alleys when the thaw hits.

Hospitals are running over with patients. Doctors report many persons are sick. The cold has driven numerous sick persons to enter hospitals and space is becoming increasingly critical.

Arrangements Complete For C-C Banquet

All arrangements have been completed and when the guest speaker arrives tonight the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet will be ready to get under way, according to Carroll Davidson.

The buffet service will be handled through the cafeteria and guests will be seated in the gymnasium. The affair is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. at Goliad Junior High School.

Porter Randall, newscaster, will be the speaker. He will be met at the Midland Air Terminal at 5 p.m. by Winston Wrinkle and escorted to Big Spring. Randall will remain in Big Spring overnight and will originate his broadcast Saturday through local radio facilities.

About 650 tickets to the meeting had been sold by noon today, Davidson said. Persons who have not obtained reservations may purchase tickets at the door. They are $3.50 per person.

A buffet style dinner will be served by Newsum's. It will include roast beef, baked ham and the trimmings.

Out-of-town guests will be recognized, the outgoing and new presidents of the board of directors for the Chamber will each make a speech, the Young Man of the Year award by the Jaycees will be presented, and lifetime members of the Chamber will be recognized.

Randall's speech will conclude the program. The topic of his talk was not designated, but it will relate to Chamber work, Davidson said.

Randall has spent 23 years in radio and television. The past 19 years have been with KFJZ radio and television in Fort Worth. He has been cited for contributions in the field of newscasting. He has written one book based on political tensions between Israel and the Arab world and is working on a second book dealing with his travels through the Orient, India and Russia.

Citizens Want Pony Express

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ozark community in Missouri is asking the Post Office Department to revive the Pony Express. It said that would give it better mail service.

The request was made "respectfully and with complete sincerity" by the Table Rock Lake Chamber of Commerce in a letter to the department. A copy of the letter was put into the Congressional Record by Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo.

The letter says residents of the area—"We're hillbillies and proud of it," says Hall—have to go six miles out to the highway to get their mail now or 19 miles to the nearest post office in Reed Springs.

It wasn't always like that. Mail service was fine 81 years ago, reports the Chamber of Commerce. But in recent years lakes and inlets formed by dams on the White River have covered many of the roads that used to lead into the Table Rock area.

But where the motorized divisions of the postal force are unable to penetrate, horses and mules would do fine, the chamber adds. It has the horses, the mules and people willing to use them to carry the mail. All it wants from a forward-looking Post Office Department is a Pony Express franchise.

Ft. Polk Status Still In Doubt

FT. POLK, La. (AP)—The status of Ft. Polk after reserve units leave later this year is still in doubt.

Chief of Staff Gen. George Decker said Thursday "The post was opened primarily to receive units in training here. What its status will be when the units complete training, I am unable to say."

President Kennedy has said the 49th Division of Texas, in training here, will be released later in the year.

Goldwater Auto Hear Us Cheering

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., ended a speech on what he regards as a peril of inflation at the annual banquet of the Society of Automotive Engineers recently with a special, off-the-cuff plea to the automotive brass that brought down the house.

"While you're working with tailfins and chrome," he said, "can't you please mix in some windshield washers that work—every time; engines that start—every time; windows that go up and down—every time; and clocks that tell time."

Kennedy May Gain Half Of His Program

Congressional Reaction To Message Is Mixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy appears likely to win approval of fewer than half of the wide-ranging domestic and foreign programs he has handed to an election-conscious Congress.

A salvo of applause for Kennedy's State of the Union reference to the Berlin problem — "We are prepared to talk, when appropriate, and to fight, if necessary" — signaled general two-party agreement on foreign policy objectives in the cold war.

There was bipartisan approval, too — mixed with some Republican skepticism — for Kennedy's pledge to submit a balanced budget next week.

But these displays of unity did not dispel signs that many of the President's major proposals will be trampled under amid congressional pulling and hauling.

Not all of the news was bad for Kennedy, however.

LOWER TARIFFS — He and his leaders could look toward the likely enactment of a program—in a form yet to be determined—to give the executive authority to negotiate lower tariffs with the European Common Market.

Kennedy could expect tax revisions, closing of some loopholes and extension of excise levies. He was assured of an increase in the $286-billion debt limit, for which he has yet to make a formal request. He might get a postal rate increase.

He could believe that when the shouting is over he would wind up with less restricted authority to buy $100 million in U.N. bonds and to start the ball rolling on a special, three-year, $3 billion fund for the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

But partisan reaction marked for future casualty lists his requests for emergency anti-recession authority; Standby power to lower taxes and to launch a public works program.

EMPLOYMENT — Congressmen, concerned about unemployment, might act on manpower training and youth employment programs. But, as usual in times of a rising economy, they seemed disinclined to give the President powers to be used at some uncertain future date. Nor were they enthusiastic about setting uniform federal standards for unemployment compensation payments. It was almost a certainty that no new civil rights legislation would clear the legislative mills. And it would take an unexpected turnaround to get approval for a $700 million program to help finance fallout shelters.

Kennedy's request for action to provide medical care for the elderly through the Social Security system had to be put in the highly doubtful class.

There were some hints the President himself shares such doubts, but he wants to get a vote on record in the House. His own leaders held out little hope for any general school construction bill such as he suggested. But they felt there was a chance to push through some federal aid for higher education.

An uncertain fate awaited administration farm proposals and a mass immunization program against polio and other diseases, both to be unveiled in future messages. Tightening of the food and drug laws was surrounded by uncertainties.

Controversy already has arisen over his plan to set up a department of urban affairs. The President might have to go around Congress and gain this objective on his own through use of an executive order.

Democrats called the President's presentation eloquent, forward looking and inspiring. Most Republicans found it unimpressive.

Some GOP members complained that Kennedy had adopted former President Harry S. Truman's scatter-gun technique—asking Congress for a long list of things he knew he wouldn't get.

Senate Republican Leader Ev-

eret M. Dirksen of Illinois said the message resembled "a Sears Roebuck catalog with the old prices marked up." He added that it will "make the new frontier blaze with controversy."

Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, the assistant House Republican leader, termed the message, "a political document with this year's congressional elections in mind."

On the other side of the aisle, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana thought the message had "the authentic earmark of greatness." His assistant, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, praised the President for asking for "higher goals, higher standards and greater achievements" in an effort to see that "the amazing prosperity of the 60's is to be shared by all."

NO CUTBACK — But there was some Democratic dissent. Rep. Howard Smith, D-Va., chairman of the House Rules Committee, said he was disappointed the President proposed no cutback in civilian spending to offset increased defense outlays.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, called the Kennedy civil rights proposals inadequate.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said he was opposed to elimination of poll taxes and literacy tests as Kennedy suggested.

Kennedy's request for authority to lower taxes to help ward off a recession brought hot fire from Republicans. Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., called it preposterous. Sen. Homer Capehart, R-Ind., said it would be unconstitutional.

Valley Devastated By Harsh Weather

Record low temperatures hit the semi-tropical Lower Rio Grande Valley a devastating blow early Friday as the mercury sank to 12 degrees in some sections.

Stunned citrus growers feared the three-day of sub-freezing weather may have spelled the end of the valley's sprawling citrus groves.

A similar freeze in 1951 destroyed an estimated 12 million citrus trees, his was to have been the come-back year for many citrus growers.

Most tender vegetables were killed by the first night of bitter cold that dropped temperatures below zero at least 29 deaths.

The Weather Bureau termed Brownsville's low of 19 Friday morning as the lowest on record in Texas' southernmost city. Old-timers, however, recalled 16 degrees on Feb. 12, 1899.

Official lows around the valley early Friday included Mont Alto and San Juan 12, Elsa 13, Harlingen and Raymondville 14, Rio Hondo 15, Edinburg 16, McAllen 17 and Mission 18.

Only about 30 per cent of the valley's grapefruit crop had been harvested. County Agent A. H. Karcher said it appeared grapefruit still in the orchards was lost. He said the unpicked grapefruit was "frozen hard as a rock."

Karcher estimated that 70 per cent of the orange crop had been gathered.

Agriculture Commissioner John White rushed his inspectors to the Rio Grande Valley to survey the situation.

"About five or six million boxes of fruit were in the field and all of it is frozen," White said. "If we have a quick thaw all will be ruined. If there is a slow thaw, some of it may be salvaged."

White said the vegetable situation is bleak.

"Our best information is that all the vegetables down there are gone," he said.

Open gas heaters were blamed for two deaths at Orange. The victims were the Rev. N. W. White, 78, retired pastor of an Orange Methodist church, and Mrs. Susan Rhodes, 91. In both cases, they backed into open heaters and their clothes caught fire, Orange had a low reading of 15 degrees Friday morning.

Elsewhere over the state it was another night of bitter cold with El Paso and Wink again reporting zero weather.

Other low temperatures included Junction 1 degree, Texarkana 4, Midland 6, Lubbock 9, San Antonio 10, San Angelo 11, Dalhart and Brownwood 12, Beaumont, Austin, Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth and Abilene 14 and Amarillo 15.

Skies were clear early Friday over the entire state, and the Weather Bureau said a gradual moderation of temperatures will continue through Saturday. The bureau said, however, another freeze was in prospect for most of the state Friday night.

Female Figures Don't Figure In Fashions

NEW YORK (AP)—Even as medical researchers gleefully compile statistics to show that the American woman is getting larger, fashion designers busy themselves whittling away at dress sizes.

Nobody seems bothered by the paradox: Better health, nutrition and exercise have produced such splendid feminine specimens that they require size 6 dresses, formerly reserved for midgets, pygmies and precocious moppets.

MRS. RICHARD PATTERSON,

Compulsive Buyer Has Way Out

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Are you a compulsive antiques buyer? Is your home loaded with pieces that are gathering dust?

Then, why not let someone else enjoy them? That's the conclusion reached by Anne Lacey of Torrington, Conn. She became an antiques dealer.

"I'd been collecting antiques for about 10 years," explains Anne. "I had the attic, garage and cellar full, and our summer cottage at the lake was bulging, so I had to do something."

She had thought of opening an antiques shop, but she has a full-time job as telegraph editor of The Torrington Register. And she likes it.

"I turned to the Antiques Flea Market that has been going great guns in Connecticut since Russel Carrell of Salisbury started it three years ago. It gives me a wonderful chance to show my merchandise, see the collections of other dealers and to buy and sell."

Ann was showing her wares recently along with 150 other dealers at Rye, N. Y. The flea market is made up of exhibitions in station wagons and cars in parking lots. A fee of $10 entitles you to two parking spaces—one for the car, one for treasures.

Primitive paintings, bullet-making kits, pewter porringers, dolls, whaling lamps, swords and what-have-you were on display in open trunk racks, within wagons or on tops of the cars.

Business was brisk. And one compulsive buyer could recognize another.

"The way I look at it," Anne says, "it makes my hobby self-supporting. It is true that I buy more than I sell sometimes, but it gives someone a chance to enjoy something I'm finished with and I can reinvest the money in something I like."

Her favorite collection is clear pressed glass in a thistle pattern.

Does she ever make money? "I break even lots of times," she says.

HERE'S HOW

Beautiful And Cheerful Mud Rooms Are Possible

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The mud room can be an attractive area of the house rather than a gloomy little dump spot.

An entranceway from garage or basement usually is the mud area. These pass-throughs are ideal places for color and imagination.

Linoleum and tile are good floorings for boots, dripping umbrellas and soggy clothing.

The walls should be dressed too in good waterproof material. A self-adhesive vinyl material goes on easily. A knotty pine pattern is ideal for this purpose. Use it right over the door too.

A combination coat rack and boot tray will keep coats out of the way and wet boots and rubbers off the floor. Make the unit yourself by constructing a coat rack against the wall, using plywood or other suitable material.

son. The era of the splinter silhouette is upon us.

Hannah Troy Thursday presented a collection designed predominantly for the small fashion plate. Harvey Berin featured slim waists and narrow, narrow numbers pared of any spare millimeters of material.

To recount Troy's proud glories, there were silk and worsted suits with demi-filled jackets, empire dresses with their waistslines high—sometimes accentuated with cummerbunds—and skirts curving in toward the hem, fleecy coats with printed linings matching the dresses underneath, glitter top dinner dresses, a trio of twist dresses in teal brown silk crepe worn with feather boas.

In the Winston collection by Roxane, Madeira embroidery stood out—often literally, in applique flowers raised from the background fabric. Print textured silk coats covered chiffon dresses of the same print, two-piece dresses owned jackets that doffed to show chiffon tops. Cocktail dresses came in prints so splashy you'd probably never notice if you got spilled on.

Tunics played more than a walk on part in both the Winston and Berin showings. In most cases the tunics descended so close to the skirt hem it looked almost as if the model's petticoat was showing.

In Berin's collection by Karen Stark, skirts were often paneled and wafer-thin in profile. Waists were whittled to more shadow than substance, and low-set pockets encouraged the spare look.

Traveling prize was won by Mrs. R. W. Harrison, and the next meeting announced to be held in the home of Mrs. Lewis Underwood.

Insecticide Use Subject Of Program

Bob Boydston of Midland was guest speaker for the Oasis Garden Club Wednesday morning at the Cosden Country Club.

Approximately 30 members and guests heard the talk on "The Proper Use of Insecticides." Mr. Boydston said "All insecticides are poisonous and poison is a vicious word; therefore, all insecticides should be handled cautiously and used with common sense.

Difference in climate and temperature can affect the various insecticides and their ability to do the job designated to them."

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Boone Horne and Mrs. Gene Turner.

Elected to office for the ensuing year were Mrs. J. D. Leonard, president; Mrs. J. L. Milner, vice president; Mrs. R. M. Nugent, secretary; Mrs. Paul Klonka, treasurer.

Dogcatcher's Pal

Bimbo, a 100-pound Newfoundland whose gentle disposition has made him a privileged resident of Brooklyn's ASPCA dog pound, is shown with a puppy stray huddled protectively between his paws. Bimbo, turned over to the shelter two years ago by a master whose apartment became too small for the dog's increasing bulk, has become the pal of the shelter's 43 dogcatchers and is unofficial greeter to incoming canines.

Loveable Dog Is Pound's Mascot

NEW YORK (AP)—Bimbo is a 3-year-old Newfoundland who used a sweet disposition to parlay what other dogs might consider a tragic occurrence into a happy life.

Turned over to the dog pound by a master whose apartment was too small for his increasing bulk, the 100-pound Bimbo has become the best pal of not one but 43 dogcatchers. He also is the pound's unofficial greeter to incoming canines.

"Bimbo has become one of us," said Harry J. Connolly, manager of the staff at the Brooklyn branch of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

"He lives here and works here and he's the only dog in the place that isn't either up for adoption or being held for an owner to claim," Connolly said in an interview with John G. Rogers, of the New York Herald Tribune.

The gentle tail-wagger was named Sir Charles something-or-other when he arrived at the pound two years ago.

But when it became clear that he liked it in dog limbo, the keepers named him Bimbo.

"Pretty soon, we were giving him the run of the yard," Connolly said, "and he was paying us back in his own way. At night, he's a watchdog keeping the kids from climbing the fence and raising heck in here."

"When the wagons bring in a new bunch of dogs, some of them are pretty wild sometimes, all nervous and barking and howling."

"Bimbo is so calm and sensible that just his presence when he walks by the cages of the new dogs simmers them down. Bimbo is especially nice to the new puppies."

Bimbo has learned a number of tricks from Borman Halpern, an ASPCA attendant who gives his commands in German — a stunt that keeps other people from getting into the act.

Reacting to Halpern's calls, Bimbo will move in circles, sit, stand, walk on hind legs, jump fences, open his cage door and so on.

If these tricks aren't enough to illustrate Bimbo's intelligence, there's one other characteristic that might be noted: He always turns and runs when the smallest kitten spits and readies its claws.

Date Set For Junior Rodeo

The Howard County annual Junior Rodeo will be held on Aug. 9, 10 and 11. Herb Helbig, county agent, said today.

The Howard County 4-H advisory rodeo committee met at the county agent's office on Wednesday and set the date.

At the same time, it was announced that a contract for rodeo stock had been signed with the H-K Rodeo Co. of Snyder.

Later, a meeting of the Howard County Junior Rodeo Association directors will be held to arrange details of the show.

The members of the 4-H Club rodeo committee, which met on Wednesday night to plan for the event, are Jess Thornton, R. V. Fryar, James Barr, Slick Boatler, Freddie White, Helbig, and Lovell Kuykendall, assistant county agent.

The Howard County Junior Rodeo is affiliated with the National Junior Rodeo Association and points scored here are accepted by the NJRA in determining national titles.

A Devotional for Today

I give myself unto prayer. (Psalms 109:4. ASV.)
PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for the privilege of praying to Thee and for the assurance Thou dost hear and answer our prayers. Teach us to call upon Thee at all times and under all circumstances. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.
(From The 'Upper Room')

Headaches On The Gila

Down in the southwestern corner of Arizona the mighty Colorado River crosses the international line into Mexico. Before that, the great bulk of its water has been diverted to irrigate Arizona and California farmlands. But under treaty guarantee, Mexico's farmlands must get 1.3 million acre-feet a year.

For some time now, however, the water reaching Mexico has been becoming saltier and saltier, polluted by the Gila River. The reason the Gila pollutes the Colorado is a long story. It involves falling water tables and deep irrigation wells from which huge pumps lift brackish water which eventually gets into the river.

The Mexican reaction is not a long story. It is brief, harsh and to the point. Mexicans demand that Uncle Sam cut it out before any more Mexican farm land is ruined. There have been demonstrations. One in Mexicali the other day was participated in by 8,000 shouting, gesticulating Mexicans, threatening among other things to boycott all goods purchased from American cities.

The situation is causing headaches at the State Department. There have been charges on our side of the border that the demonstrations in the Baja California town are Communist-inspired. The Mexicans are declaring that the situation makes a mockery of our Alliance for Progress.

Although the Mexicans are entitled to receive a flow of reasonably pure water, the rights of farmers north of the border must also be given full consideration. But some equitable arrangement, one perhaps involving a partial desalinization or dilution project, ought to be worked out. The best way to halt the demonstrations is to end the situation that caused them. Men of good will can accomplish this.

Broader Than It Seems

A special session of the Texas Legislature, such as that now going on in Austin, is often called "the governor's session," because the state constitution flatly states that "there shall be no legislation upon subjects other than those designated in the proclamation of the governor calling such session, or presented to them by the governor."

Yet, several senators and representatives are busily introducing local and special, as well as a few general, bills that were not in the governor's call. They may only hope that if they can get such bills well along in the legislative process, indicating strong political and popular support for them, that the governor will include them on the session's agenda before adjournment.

Actually, the loophole in the governor's control of special sessions is larger than that. If both houses of the legislature pass a bill on a subject which the governor has not submitted, it will become law unless the governor vetoes it. The state courts have ruled that they will not go behind the action of the legislature and governor to hold a law unconstitutional that was so passed.

The courts have legally assumed that the failure of a governor to veto a special-session bill, on a subject which he did not formally submit, indicates his intention that the bill should be within the session's call. That is rather tenuous reasoning, but so is much of the judicial interpretation of the overly detailed and often vague Texas Constitution.

Of course, if legislators took undue advantage of this loophole, to the extent of threatening a runaway special session, the governor could retaliate by vetoing all such bills. They could not be passed over such a veto in this situation. Otherwise, as a matter of political expediency, a governor is likely to let such bills in reasonable number go through unless he personally opposes them.

How far they can go in this practice is something the legislators must weigh carefully. Local interests, however, should know that a special session is not as limited as the constitution would make it seem.

Khrushchev And Molotov

WASHINGTON — Maybe the body of Stalin is to be brought back for exhibition on Red Square in Moscow alongside of Lenin's remains. This wouldn't cause much more surprise than the announcement just made that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has changed his mind about Molotov and restored him to duty at an international post in Vienna.

THE WHOLE WORLD has been told that Khrushchev disavows Stalin's record, and yet Molotov is the only Russian alive today who shared with Stalin responsibility for the outbreak of World War II. This cost the lives of millions of Russians and left millions more maimed.

It was Molotov who encouraged Hitler in 1939. It was Molotov who assured the Nazi dictator that he was free to attack Poland and would not be troubled by a major war on his Eastern front while he attacked France and Britain on the West. The fear of a two-front war had kept Hitler worried for five years, and the British and French foreign ministers did their utmost in the summer of 1939 to try to win Stalin as an ally so as to deter Hitler. But they found later that Molotov had been engaged concurrently in a double-cross maneuver in Berlin. In September came Hitler's attack on Warsaw as Soviet forces seized Eastern Poland.

MOLOTOV'S CAREER has been one of intimate identification with the ruthlessness of the Stalin regime. Yet the tactics of Stalin have come in for vehement denunciation ever since February, 1956, when Khrushchev at the Communist party congress first condemned Stalin. It was the ingenuity of American intelligence agents which made possible in June 1956 the disclosure by the State Department here of the text of that speech, which up to that time had not been made public anywhere.

NEITHER PRESIDENT Eisenhower nor the late John Foster Dulles, who was then Secretary of State, were fooled by the Khrushchev effort to disassociate himself from Stalinism. Mr. Eisenhower said at his press conference on April 4, 1956, that there was "no discernible basic change in the fundamental purposes of communism," though the repudiation of Stalin might be "the beginning of a forced reformation of some kind." Mr. Dulles, too, spoke hopefully of

Unpolished But To The Point

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's State of the Union Message is the picture of a man in a hurry in more ways than one. But some of the details are missing.

It was an ambitious message: Full of things to do, Kennedy will be kept busy if he tries to make good on all of them.

But the message looked hastily written, even patched together. He was still making changes—many changes—at the last minute by adding to the prepared text as he went along in his reading to Congress.

THIS MESSAGE didn't compare, in careful phrasing, with the first State of the Union Message he delivered last Jan. 30 or in rhetoric—with his highly polished inaugural address 10 days before that.

He was probably more effective for being less literary. Some of those 1961 speeches had a transparent self-consciousness that one lacked. This had an air of this-is-get-down-to-cases-fast.

He didn't always get down to cases.

For instance, he called on Congress to wipe out literacy tests and poll taxes as bars to voting. He neglected to say how: By constitutional amendment or congressional vote.

Last year, despite his campaign promises of 1960, he didn't back any civil rights legislation other than asking for an extension of the Civil Rights Commission. But it remains to be seen whether what he said Thursday is really a switch.

THE TEST IS whether now, after finally saying these steps should be taken, he'll fight for them or just let his statement do for the year.

The same goes for the backing he gave Thursday to the proposal he made last year on federal aid to education: Money to help build public schools and pay teachers' salaries.

It got lost in controversy and this year, some thought, he would drop the fight for that and concentrate on trying to get federal help for higher education.

If he ignored the public school program, he'd be accused of renegeing. Thursday he said he was still for it. The test of how much he's for it is how much he fights for it.

Throughout his talk Kennedy moved back and forth between saying simply some things are needed and saying that on others he will offer programs. Not all were new. Some he offered last year but they got nowhere.

IF BOTH KINDS of statements are lumped together—and if he intends to follow through on all of them instead of just mentioning some and letting it go at that—then it can be said he laid out 40 proposals before Congress.

He also took time to review what he considered accomplishments of his administration in 1961. These covered many fields and directions. Some he wrapped up in one package, some he listed separately.

If listed singly, then he cited at least 70 areas of achievement; if in packages, then at least 40.

His biggest roll call of accomplishments was in defense, ranging from modernizing weapons to building up the fleet.

Even before Congress gets down to work, which won't be before next week, it can be safely said on past experience he does not stand a chance of getting all he said is needed.

HELL, PROBABLY consider himself lucky if, in this congressional election year, he gets 60 to 70 per cent. And he still hasn't mentioned some of the hottest proposals he'll ask Congress to approve this year.

They come later when he gets down to ABC on how much his individual programs—for instance foreign aid and money for defense—are going to cost.

Through it all ran a sense of action, of up and doing.

THE SUBJECT is highly technical and complex. While the decision that must be taken dwarfs every other issue, there is little evidence of public awareness or public opinion that might influence the outcome one way or the other.

Those arguing for delay in initiating what is almost certain to become a new round in the nuclear arms race make their case on the clearly established results of the Soviet's series of up to 50 tests that broke the moratorium. Before that series the Soviets were at a great disadvantage in nuclear weaponry, which is why they went against all their past denunciations of testing to start tests that included a 50-megaton explosion.

THEY HAD failed to keep pace with the United States in developing mobile missiles such as the Minute Man, and on the Polaris submarine. The number of their missiles sited on hardened bases was far short of what had been projected by West-ern intelligence two years ago. In the development of tactical nuclear arms they were far behind. The Soviet military pressed relentlessly to catch up.

Now, after an extended analysis of the Soviet tests, the judgment is that the American nuclear lead is still considerable.

THEREFORE, the argument against testing at once runs that the United States can hold off for two or three years, or even longer. This could open the way to a pause in the arms race in which a serious attempt at the beginning of disarmament with inspection and control could be made. If this possible opening is lost, it is hard to see when another will occur, and sooner or later a nuclear war will be touched off which would be all the more devastating because of the continued race.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Does frequent itching in the rectum mean a fistula, or fissures? Can one be cured without surgery?—Mrs. D."

It might mean either of those; it might mean a hemorrhoid; it might mean some other form of irritation. IT DOES mean, however, that it's about time to have your doctor decide which. Maybe surgery is the only answer, but many cases can be helped otherwise.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of the Big Spring Herald, requesting a copy of my booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

A Game With Eternity

NEW YORK (AP)—Julie Harris, a human being on fire, plays a constant game with eternity.

She lives by a kind of "doctrine of the last chance."

"If you approach whatever you do with the idea that this might be your last day—your last chance to do it right," she said, "everything becomes terribly exciting. You can't be bored."

Miss Harris has so successfully transmitted her own quality of inner excitement to audiences that she has won nearly 30 acting awards. Her fellow performers regard her as one of the best of living actresses, and hold her a bit in awe.

I met her backstage after a matinee and felt pretty much like a peasant in the presence of this empress, for I am among this girl's idolaters.

Onstage, Julie has a quicksilver genius that enables her to play a French maid or Queen Victoria and make them both seem real. Offstage, she is a somewhat shy character.

She is small, slender, slow to speak, and given to birdlike gestures. You can sense the buried intensity in her, the hidden flame that fired her at the age of 11 for a great actress. That flame still burns brightly within her.

"I'm afraid my biggest defect as a person is my drive to be a perfectionist," she said. "Sometimes a person who wants everything to be exactly right, forgets the limitations of human frailty, even sometimes forgets love."

"I brood a lot, mostly about myself—the defects in my work. But brooding over oneself can become a sickness."

"After all, you cannot really reach perfection. You can only try to. When I feel that I have fallen short of what I want to do, it makes me unhappy."

"But I don't show my troubles. I keep them inside me."

"I make an effort to do the task at hand as best I can and forget brooding."

Perfectionists often become angry at the limitations they meet. Here is how Julie says she reacts at such times: "I go away and count up to 100 slowly. If you can turn away just at the moment when you feel you could go berserk, when you come back the air is clearer—and you can go on and cope with the problem."

Breast Lumps May Or May Not Be Malignant

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner: What percentage of breast lumps in girls under 21 are malignant?"

"What is your opinion of a lump which swells and becomes sore along with the rest of the breast before each menstrual cycle, and recedes and loses the soreness afterward?—F.T.D."

By dint of education, we at last have many women watching for signs of that common peril, breast cancer.

Now it's time, obviously, to make clear that a great many lumps are NOT malignant.

Any lump is worth examining; however, many will be harmless and some will be only minor irritations. To answer today's questions:

I can't provide a "percentage" of malignant lumps in girls under 21 years. The percentage I am sure is small. It is rare for such a malignancy at that age.

Yes, a malignant lump WOULD show growth in 10 months—but I hope nobody waits that long.

Yes, there are methods, other than removal, which are used to determine what is causing the lump—a technique known as transillumination, X-rays, and aspiration (that is, drawing out) fluid from a cyst.

For the final question, the breast is made up of what we call "dynamic tissue." It responds to glandular activity, which in turn rises and falls to regulate menstruation.

Because of this it is not unusual for this glandular rise and fall to cause the breast to be congested and sore before a period, and return to normal afterward.

If a cystic lump exists, it, too, can swell and perhaps become sensitive as the glandular activity rises, and then recede again as glandular activity subsides.

Thus this sort of cyclical fluctuation in size of a lump is substantial indication that it is a cyst. However, if your mind isn't at rest concerning it, removal of the cyst (biopsy) is relatively simple. It will not be deforming, and will settle positively the question of whether it is malignant or benign — it's pretty certain to be the latter, of course.

"Dear Dr. Molner: A relative of ours has a daughter of whom we are very fond. We are concerned now because she wants to marry her uncle, her father's younger brother. They met again recently after not seeing each other since childhood. I am afraid something might be wrong with any children resulting from such a marriage. Am I worried over

Around The Rim

The Ingredients

We have only to look to the histories of Latin America — or South Korea — to see the danger.

And it is wishful thinking to say it can't happen here.

No government, civilian or military, democratic or authoritarian, is going to be without some corruption. Human nature itself precludes perfection. Yet, the overturning of almost every civilian government by the military has been based on charges of corruption. Usually, charges of treason are also present. This has been true from the time of Julius Caesar to the present.

IN SOUTH KOREA, the corrupt regime of Syngman Rhee finally was tossed out, mainly through student revolution but helped by the fact that powerful army factions did nothing to stop the revolt. Then, one of the military factions threw out the new civilian government. The charge was the usual—corruption and treason. Some corruption in the new government was undeniable, and undoubtedly disloyal elements had made some penetration. Yet, there was no more—indeed, less—corruption than is usual in government, among Rhee's successors, and any government is going to have its share of espionage and counter-espionage.

SOUTH KOREA'S STRONGMAN, General Park, is the perfect soldier—proud, arrogant, accustomed to absolute obedience, and prone to instant judgments with little use for theory or scholarship or diplomacy. To his mind, any official living on more than a secretary's salary is corrupt; anyone who disagrees with the general is a traitor.

The United States has had would-be dictators before, but always there were people and circumstances which prevented tyranny from taking the whole country. These were a handful of libertarians who were not afraid to speak out, and the fact that this was a huge, largely unpeopled country whose population was not accustomed to obedience.

TODAY, THERE ARE a few willing to speak out, but they are mainly those already in positions of power. Men in lesser positions are not so brave as they once were. And the country is tied together so tightly by the wonders of our technology that we no longer are divided into distinct regions. A carefully planned military coup, helped by the speed and destructive power of modern vehicles and arms, has become more possible than ever.

THERE ARE still plenty of Americans who would like to tell their fellow Americans what they may or may not do or think. The authoritarians are beginning to organize as a political base, some of them are forming into armed guerrilla bands, and at least one general is known to have popped off indiscriminately about certain prominent and obviously loyal Americans being Reds. It is not uncommon among some military officers, as well as certain civilians, to hear charges of treason hurled at Truman, Eisenhower, members of the Supreme Court, etc.

It can't happen here? We have the makings for a dictatorship. And it may be wise to recall that Rome existed as a republic a bit longer than we have before the first Caesar came along.

—BOB SMITH

Inez Robb

Hold On, The Boom Is Coming

Friends, Romans, countrymen: I have you been puzzled about the great gray train robbery of the 'sixties?

Have you been worried about that golden rain that was to make every man a financial kin in the current decade?

HAVE YOU been wondering when "they" were going to start paving the streets with gold? (In New York, we'd settle just for macadam. "Out of the chuck holes by Christmas, 1969!" is our fearless motto.)

Remember 1959 as she set a course for 1960? Recall all those sweet prophecies of every financial writer and big economist and—industrialist who kept telling you and me that all we needed to be rich in the 'sixties was a shovel and pickup truck? (My shovel is in the coat closet, good as new; the pickup truck in mint condition.)

I WAS so excited at the prospect of being rich overnight that I spent most of 1960 in the front yard, my apron held up invitingly in anticipation of all that gold and those blue-ribbon stocks. Even had my typewriter moved out under the honeysuckle bush, just to be on hand and just in case... But the only rewards were a little rain and a few dead leaves.

Fared no better in '61. That is, we citizens weren't picking any fortunes off the street unless we had a gun and a Brinks license. And the ravens weren't distributing caviar with champagne on the house. For most of us, it was business as usual and the routine juggling to meet the monthly payments on the car, television, refrigerator, new carpets and the hide-a-bed.

WHAT INDUCES this column is a real spate of new financial editions still pouring from the presses of New York's newspapers. In the first place, if one has the strength to lift 'em, he's lucky. And, next, if he has the patience to rifle through the monetary tea leaves, he will discover that the gray train hasn't jumped the track. Just been unexpectedly delayed.

The timetable is just a little off. That's are also insisting that underground tests are of little value. It is ironic that only a short time ago they were saying that such tests were so important the United States could not enter a test-ban treaty that left them undetected and uncontrolled. The American detection system used to monitor the recent Russian tests was so highly developed that it caught two underground shots, one of 10 kilotons and one of only five, which shows how empty this contention was.

Preparations for atmospheric testing are rapidly going forward so that all will be in readiness if the decision is to go ahead.

THERE IS A MORE sophisticated argument than that being made by the military. And it is likely to prevail. It is to the effect that the present political climate makes it impossible for the president to hold off. In the face of the Soviet stand on Berlin this would be taken as a sign of weakness. In consequence the course of events will probably be as follows:

Preparations for atmospheric testing in the Pacific will be completed by the end of March, and the British will have granted the United States permission to use their facilities on Christmas Island.

THE ATMOSPHERIC tests will begin shortly thereafter and they will coincide with a new wave of fallout carried over from the Soviet series.

While the Soviets will be unprepared for a major endeavor they will respond by setting off a series of quickly improvised propaganda blasts. Their military can be counted on to demand immediate preparation to "catch up" with the latest American developments.

When, if this proves to be the course of events in the next three months, there will be another possible pause — another opportunity to try for a start at disarmament — no one can foresee. That is why those making the case for delay, for a "wait and see," feel a sense of urgency bordering on desperation.

THEY HAD failed to keep pace with the United States in developing mobile missiles such as the Minute Man, and on the Polaris submarine. The number of their missiles sited on hardened bases was far short of what had been projected by West-ern intelligence two years ago. In the development of tactical nuclear arms they were far behind. The Soviet military pressed relentlessly to catch up.

Now, after an extended analysis of the Soviet tests, the judgment is that the American nuclear lead is still considerable.

THEREFORE, the argument against testing at once runs that the United States can hold off for two or three years, or even longer. This could open the way to a pause in the arms race in which a serious attempt at the beginning of disarmament with inspection and control could be made. If this possible opening is lost, it is hard to see when another will occur, and sooner or later a nuclear war will be touched off which would be all the more devastating because of the continued race.

It might mean either of those; it might mean a hemorrhoid; it might mean some other form of irritation. IT DOES mean, however, that it's about time to have your doctor decide which. Maybe surgery is the only answer, but many cases can be helped otherwise.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Takes Issue With Letter

To the Editor: I am writing in response to Mr. Parker's letter on labor. He claimed that your newspaper gave labor unions an unfair news coverage...

Mr. Parker complained about the laws which our Congressmen plan to pass to restrict the power of labor unions. Mr. Hoffa is having all the truck drivers have their contracts renewed until October of 1964...

I would like to ask Mr. Parker if the working man is as bad off as he claims. Why do they pay Mr. Hoffa such a big salary? I do not believe that Mr. Hoffa's salary helps the truck driver very much...

Thank You, GREG GOSSETT, 545 Hillside

Income Must Be Reported

"Taxpayers who fail to report all taxable income for 1961 are liable to be called to account for it. In fact, they may be subject not only to the tax, but also to interest and penalties."

This warning came from Ellis Campbell Jr., district director of the Internal Revenue Service, whose office is 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas.

Numerous types of income besides salaries and wages must be included in the preparation of federal income tax returns if received.

While the forms themselves and the accompanying instruction booklets detail several of the most common types of income which must be reported, the IRS representative said, "taxpayers are reminded that interest on savings accounts and Series 'E', U. S. Savings Bonds, tips, and most dividends and profits on sales of real or personal property, are taxable income."

Y Committees Are Appointed

Chairmanship appointments to the various committees of the YMCA have been announced by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of the board of directors.

They are Arnold Marshall, personnel committee; R. W. Whipkey, long-range planning committee; Ike Robb, finance committee; Clyde McMahon, membership committee; and Truman Jones, building and grounds committee.

NEWS BRIEFS

By The Associated Press The Deep South looked forward to a promised warming trend today as the thermometer began to inch back up from the lowest readings in years.

Some relief from nearly a week of frigid weather came to most of the snow-covered sections of the Midwest. And a warming trend was indicated for broad sections from the Rockies into New England.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will speak in Los Angeles Feb. 1 during a 30-city closed circuit telecast.

The program, under auspices of the Republican National Committee, is designed as a 1962 campaign kickoff.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says his first political objective is to be re-elected this year, but he left the door open to a Republican presidential bid in 1964.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today he has changed his mind about quitting and will be a candidate for a second term.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The United States today resumed economic aid to Prince Boun Oum's right-wing Laotian government.

The payment to defray most of the government's expenses had been held up for nearly two weeks, but an embassy spokesman refused to comment on the reason for the delay or for the resumption of aid.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads came to grips today with the knotty dollar-and-cents phase of their plan to merge.

Directors of the nation's two largest rail systems gather separately to consider, and probably decide on, financial terms of the proposed union. Nearly $5.5 billion assets are involved.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Predictions of gloomy prospects in elections this year and a warning that failure could carry over to 1964 marked today's opening of the Republican National Committee's meeting to map campaign strategy.

MOSCOW (AP)—With new instructions from Washington, U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson renewed his consultations about Berlin with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has found that a Florida firm furnished employees with guns and ordered them to run down picketing strikers with autos during a 1960 union organizing strike.

In a unanimous ruling Thursday a three-man NLRB panel also found that an employee of the Florida road building firm—the Cone Bros. Construction Co. of Tampa—had threatened to shoot down employees "like a covey of birds" during the strike.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will ask Congress next week for money to start development of a new midrange ballistic missile that could be fired from trucks, railroad cars or barges, informed sources said today.

Bank Promotes Lloyd Cline

LAMESA (SC)—Lloyd Cline has been elected vice president of the First National Bank here, it was announced by G. Richard Crawley, president.

Cline's elevation from an assistant vice president's post was announced following an annual stockholders' meeting and a session of the board of directors.

Cline, who started at the bank in 1948, has also held positions as teller, assistant cashier, assistant vice president and loan officer. All other officers and directors were re-elected.

College to Explore Science Addition

Howard County Junior College trustees Thursday gave a green light for initial steps to what may become the next major physical addition to the school.

They authorized Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, to begin studies on the requirements of an adequate, modern science building. This preliminary work will also include the compilation of a list of schools with new science plants.

There is no timetable of this project. Indeed, the board is not committed to it. The action taken Thursday was preparatory in nature in order that the college will be in a position to move rapidly if and when such an unit appears feasible. The wing currently in use is relatively modern and well equipped, but with demands mounting in this field and technical equipment changing so rapidly, trustees agreed that the possibility of a plant second to none should be explored.

Early action is anticipated on two other construction projects, one the paving of Adams Avenue (the street which bisects the campus from west to east) and on installing curb and gutter, together with paved parking areas on part of the campus. An appropriation of $11,000 was pledged for a cooperative project with the City of Big Spring to extend the Adams Avenue paving from its present terminus at the Dora Roberts Student Union Building eastward to the east side of the stadium. While this would contribute to dust con-

200 To Make Market Tour

ABILENE.—An even 200 West Texans — stockmen, farmers, feeders, financiers, packers and others — will leave from Fort Worth Saturday, Jan. 13; Lubbock and Amarillo Sunday, Jan. 14 to participate in the Livestock Feeding-Grain Market Development tour to Arizona and California.

Pullman sections will originate from Fort Worth, Lubbock and Amarillo. They will assemble in Clovis, N. M., where a special train will be made up to start the tour at noon Sunday.

The tour is sponsored by the agricultural livestock committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The 200 participants will represent 60 West Texas communities, said Dean W. L. Stangel of Lubbock, chairman of the committee.

Schedule calls for the special train to reach Phoenix, Ariz., at 7 a.m. Monday. The West Texans will inspect livestock feeding operations in the Phoenix area Monday and Tuesday. Monday evening they will have as their guests members of the Arizona Livestock Feeders Association for a dinner meeting in Phoenix, Dean Stangel said.

The group will travel from Phoenix to San Diego, Calif., Tuesday night and will spend Wednesday looking over feeding operations in the El Centro region. The tourists will move to the Bakersfield area Wednesday night for a two day inspection of that area. A dinner meeting similar to the one in Phoenix will be held for the California Livestock Feeders Association Thursday evening.

Coahoma Justice To Get Raise

Bill Hunter Jr., justice of the peace at Coahoma, will be paid $1,200 for his services in 1962 under plans approved by the Howard County Commissioners Court.

The commissioners have authorized advertisement of plans to increase the pay to that amount from $720. Action will be taken on Feb. 12, the next regular meeting of the commission.

Funeral Scheduled Sunday For Richard D. West, 44

Last rites will be said Sunday for Richard Darrell West, 44, who died at 1:40 p.m. Thursday in a Galveston hospital of burns sustained in a flash fire at Cosden's refinery more than a month ago.

Services will be at 4 p.m. in the Nalley - Pickle Funeral Chapel with B. R. Horwe, elder of the Primitive Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. West was born Nov. 11, 1917 at Brownwood but moved here about 20 years ago from Breckenridge.

He was burned severely Dec. 4 in a flash fire at the Alkar unit at the Big Spring refinery and was flown Dec 19 to the John Sealy Hospital.

Oil Report

Texaco, Inc. No. 1 McDougal, Dawson County wildcat virtually assured of production in the Montoya, Fusselman and Mississippian, has perforated another zone, probably the Pennsylvanian, and returned new oil.

The zone is between 11,090-100 feet. Drillstem tests earlier recovered fluid with 40 per cent oil from a zone between 11,090-118 feet.

In Sterling County, Roden Oil and Cosden No. 1 Reed flowed one barrel of new oil from the Fusselman. The choke froze and the operator shut in.

Four new sites were staked in the area. Seven projects have been completed.

Texaco To Try Fourth Section

Texaco, Inc. No. 1 E. C. J. Graves pumped 221 barrels of oil on initial potential in the Spraberry Trend Area. The gravity was 38 degrees, five per cent water was produced.

John L. Cox No. 1, Ackerly (Dean) field. It is set for 8,900 feet by rotary tool about two miles west of Ackerly. It is on a 160-acre lease and spots C NE NE, section 7-34-3N, T&P survey.

John L. Cox No. 2 J. C. Mott pumped 217 barrels of 38 gravity oil, with one per cent water and a gas-oil ratio of 785-1, on initial potential in the Spraberry Trend area. It was fractured with 100,000 gallons. The well bottomed at 8,010 feet, 4 1/2 inch casing is at 8,010 feet, and perforations are between 7,118-36 feet and 7,974-92 feet. It spots 2,640 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the east lines of section 22-36-1E, T&P survey, one mile southwest of Stanton.

John L. Cox No. 1 Shanks Unit had a pumping rate of 229 barrels of oil on initial potential. The Spraberry Trend Area completion also produced five per cent water, had a gas-oil ratio of 655-1, gravity was 38 degrees and the well was fractured with 60,000 gallons. Total depth is 8,060 feet, 4 1/2 inch casing is at 8,060 feet and perforations are between 7,114-24 feet and 7,976-96 feet. Location is 660 feet from the north and 1,580 feet from the east lines of section 21-36-1E, T&P survey, on a 150-acre lease one mile west of Stanton.

Ware Is Resting After Operation

Rad Ware is resting as well as expected after undergoing eye surgery in Dallas on Wednesday. The retina on his right eye slipped a week ago, and he was sent to Dallas to be under a specialist.

The surgery was scheduled originally for Tuesday, but ice and snow prevented one of the doctors from getting to the hospital. The operation itself was successful, but it is too early yet to determine what amount of vision he will have in the eye. He cannot yet have visitors. His room is No. D236, St. Paul's Hospital, Dallas.

Officers Back From Huntsville

Sheriff Miller Harris and Deputy Tommy Cole are home from Huntsville where they went to take two prisoners to the state penitentiary.

The prisoners were W. C. Jackson, under five year sentence for forgery, and George Anguiano, returned to the prison for parole violation.

Freeze Blamed For 6 Deaths

HOUSTON (AP)—Sub-freezing temperatures received at least indirect blame today for the deaths of six young children.

A boy, 2, died from frostbite. Five other children died from bronchial pneumonia. A seventh child was in critical condition from frostbite.

Dr. Joseph Jachimeczky, Harris County medical examiner, said the six deaths resulted from lack of proper home heating equipment. The children ranged in age from four months to two years.

Groehl Reported As 'Doing Well'

Ted O. Groehl Sr., prominent oil man who was injured in a collision Saturday afternoon, is reported doing well at Cowper Clinic and Hospital.

He suffered a fractured skull, fractured pelvis and severe shock when the car he was driving was in collision with a city fire truck making an emergency run. The accident occurred at Seventeenth and Douglas.

Ware Is Resting After Operation

Rad Ware is resting as well as expected after undergoing eye surgery in Dallas on Wednesday. The retina on his right eye slipped a week ago, and he was sent to Dallas to be under a specialist.

The surgery was scheduled originally for Tuesday, but ice and snow prevented one of the doctors from getting to the hospital. The operation itself was successful, but it is too early yet to determine what amount of vision he will have in the eye. He cannot yet have visitors. His room is No. D236, St. Paul's Hospital, Dallas.

Officers Back From Huntsville

Sheriff Miller Harris and Deputy Tommy Cole are home from Huntsville where they went to take two prisoners to the state penitentiary.

The prisoners were W. C. Jackson, under five year sentence for forgery, and George Anguiano, returned to the prison for parole violation.

Freeze Blamed For 6 Deaths

HOUSTON (AP)—Sub-freezing temperatures received at least indirect blame today for the deaths of six young children.

A boy, 2, died from frostbite. Five other children died from bronchial pneumonia. A seventh child was in critical condition from frostbite.

Dr. Joseph Jachimeczky, Harris County medical examiner, said the six deaths resulted from lack of proper home heating equipment. The children ranged in age from four months to two years.

Open House Set Sunday

An open house has been scheduled Sunday from 2-5 p.m. at the new addition to Lakeview Elementary and Junior High School, according to E. S. Morgan, principal.

The public is invited to view the new $132,821 addition, he said. It was accepted formally by trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Dec. 12, 1961.

Ten regular classrooms, one combination classroom-library, a visual education room, storage closet and nurses station have been added to the older facility.

Refreshments will be served by the Lakeview P-TA and faculty members will be at their stations to show the rooms to visitors. Guides will show guests through the building.

One God
GOD'S OWN DECLARATION ABOUT HIMSELF, AND THE RESULTS OF OUR BELIEF IN IT
Scripture—Exodus 20:1-3; Deuteronomy 6:4-9; Matthew 6:24; John 14:1-11.

By N. SPEER JONES
FROM LAST WEEK'S general discussion of the Ten Commandments in their historical setting, we move this week to a specific study of the "first and greatest" of these Commandments.

It is so natural for us today to think of God as the one and only God that it is hard to imagine a worship of several deities at once. Yet for many, many years in the world's history, this polytheism was far more prevalent than monotheism, the worship of one God.

In the Greek era philosophers began to think in terms of a single Moving Spirit or First Cause, but the concept was not held among the common people. Certain Eastern sects devoted themselves to worship of

GOLDEN TEXT
"No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon."—Matthew 6:24.

A single god, but this deity was often the sun or some other false god.

About the time of Christ many Romans did taken homage to the ancient gods, meanwhile embracing wholeheartedly one of these monotheistic sects, such as Mithraism. This was a Persian-originated religion which worshipped a single god of light and truth, often represented by the sun. For a time Christianity almost seemed destined to lose out to such sects.

In this context it is easier to understand the importance of the First Commandment; it forbids not only the polytheism prevalent at the time, but it also forbids atheism—the denial of any God.

equivalent of an Aramaic word meaning wealth, riches or treasure. The love of money is in reality love of self; love of God is manifested in our love of others. We cannot truly love others without loving God.

The alternate reaction to serving two masters is in reality the same reaction manifested in two different temperaments. The positive, temperamental person reacts by hating one master and loving the other. The more negative, cold-blooded person reacts by despising (a "cooled-off" type of hatred) the one and clinging to the other.

In either case the conflict produces added damage through the tension of being torn in two directions. The person at peace with himself has only one Master.

"ATHEISM"

A cartoonist once drew a picture of an atheist and placed by him this statement coming from his lips, "I do not know there is a God, I do not know the Bible is true, I do not know that Jesus is the Son of God. Therefore, all who disagree with me are fools."

A young skeptic once in conversation with an old and firm believer said, "Sir, I don't believe there is a God, nor miracles, nor heaven nor hell." The old fellow said, "Son, I was just thinking that if all the frogs on earth would croak out and say, 'There is no sun nor moon', that it would make no difference in the truth. The Bible says, 'The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God.'"

Two men were once in a conversation and one of them an atheist, and to some of his grotesque arguments his friend replied, "Sir, no man is an atheist, except in the sense that a dog is an atheist because he has not brains enough to think."

The glaring inconsistencies of atheists and evolutionists is seen in their claims to be scientific, while the multitude of them disagree. For example, Darwin and Wallace were diametrically opposed on "Sexual selection being the most potent element in the evolutionary scheme. While Tyndall stood opposed to Bastian and Haeckel on the proposition that evolution and spontaneous generation must stand or fall together." Spencer and Weisman could not agree on inherited characteristics. Professor Shaler taught that matter could be educated, and Prof. John Fiske ridiculed the notion. The Materialistic evolutionists differ from the Idealistic evolutionists and the Untheistic evolutionists differ from the Theistic evolutionists.

So-called "Christian Evolutionists", in striving to straddle the fence between faith on one side and fancy on the other, teach the process of evolution was interrupted by divine power. This is neither "Christian" nor scientific.

What is so pathetic is that many scared and little people are wise in their eyes and conceded in their own sights and think they appear wise by ignoring the simple process of believing the best of evidence, namely that "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth"—Gen. 1:1. But some folks will not accept what they cannot smell, see or taste and thus they rule out the evidence of divine testimony. What ever is made had a maker, what ever is created had a creator. Law has a lawgiver. All design has a designer.

No thinking man can be without faith.

Elbert R. Garretson, minister

Local Church Takes Forward Strides In '61

Members of the Big Spring Church of the Nazarene contributed $162 per capita to their church in 1961. The denomination as a whole gave $144 which was an increase of nearly $2 a person over the preceding year when the church ranked first in the nation in per capita giving among Protestant sects with 100,000 or members.

Big Spring Nazarenes gave $17,000 for all purposes in 1961, while the denomination climbed to a record $47,122,000. The local church property, located at 14th and Lancaster, is valued at $60,000. When the new church and parsonage were built in 1957 the indebtedness was $21,000. At the beginning of 1962, this indebtedness had been reduced to only $3,400.

Membership in the local church is 105 while the denominational total climbed to 228,570, a gain of 2.6 per cent. Adding to this a total of 55,000 Nazarenes in foreign lands brings the total membership to 382,000. The denomination started 35 new churches during the year for a total of 4,775 by January, 1962.

Sunday School membership in the Big Spring church has increased to 225 while the denomination's total is approximately 750,000.

New Nazarene work was started in the Republic of Panama in 1961. At year end, the church had more than 500 full-time missionaries in 43 world areas. A former Big Spring Nazarene, Mrs. Wanda Knox, is now serving as a missionary in the Highlands of New Guinea. Her late husband, now deceased, pastored the Big Spring Church in 1954.

Special offerings for world missions at Thanksgiving and Easter each exceeded $1,000,000. The Big Spring church gave $2,333 for world evangelism the past year, and $930 in the Thanksgiving offering. This is approximately 12 per cent of money raised going for missions.

Gets Lutheran
WEST POINT, N. Y.—For the first time, a Lutheran has been named as a chaplain of the U.S. Military Academy. He is the Rev. James D. Ford, 29, an Ivanhoe, Minn., pastor named as assistant cadet chaplain, to serve under West Point Chaplain Dr. Theodore Speers, a Presbyterian.

UNUSUAL SOURCE, TOO Unusual Gift To Unusual Church

NEW YORK (AP)—In a reversal of missionary giving, Southeast Asian Christians have sent a gift of $1,000 to a church situated in the heart of this capital of affluence.

If the gift itself seems unusual, the church that received it may appear even more so.

"Our activities are related to the culture around us," said its pastor, the Rev. Howard Moody, and that culture is well known. Judson Memorial Church is located in Greenwich Village, haven of the unorthodox.

The pastor admits, in the parlance of his congregation, that "some of our critics consider us way out."

In addition to a place of worship, Judson Memorial Church also has an art gallery where disappointed painters can display their unwanted work; a pool hall; a teen-age center equipped with everything from wood-carving tools to bongo drums; a clinic where former dope addicts congregate to discuss, as the pastor put it, "how to keep off the stuff"; a poet's theater where struggling writers of verse drama receive mutual encouragement; a dormitory inhabited half by American college students and half by foreign students, who conduct bull sessions on their conflicting ideologies; plus other similarly unusual features, including the church's own literary journal.

"Our church is oriented basically for those who aren't members of it," explained the Rev. Mr. Moody, 40, an intellectual who can discuss Christianity—or poetry—with his flock in their own swinging language.

As he jokingly explained the makeup of his congregation, "We have 85 card-carrying members and about 300 or 400 fellow travelers." The average age of the 85 regulars, incidentally, is 28.

About 75 to 100 teen-agers a week drop by the church where they find, in the pastor's words, "a nonthreatening atmosphere."

"We don't have the usual settlement-house type of operation based on a preconceived program in which a youth has to fit," he said, "here, he just fits where he happens to fit, if he fits at all."

Judson Memorial Church is affiliated with both the American Baptist Convention and the United Church of Christ, and the Rev. Mr. Moody is an ordained minister of both denominations. All church activities, however, are strictly nonsectarian.

The pastor is at a loss to explain how the East Asia Christian Conference, donor of the $1,000, heard of his church. He suggests "perhaps one of my friends in the World Council of Churches told them about us."

The money was collected by women in India, Pakistan, Iran, Thailand, Korea and other countries. They belong to the Fellowship of the Least Coin, an organization inspired by the Gospel parable of the widow's mite.

Each member donates the least valuable coin of her nation once a year to a fund which is administered by the East Asia Christian Conference—a group similar in makeup to America's National Council of Churches. The conference, in turn, contributes yearly to some church project in every continent of the world.

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

OLD HANDS AT THIS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A man who knows nothing about trees may admire a forest. But he'll never make a living in the timber business.

The Bible is like our other resources. It can fill any man with a sense of awe... but its rich treasures are for the earnest and patient seeker.

As you've held the Book and leafed its pages, you could almost feel its sacredness. And yet, when you began to read, perhaps it was like plodding an unfamiliar path.

Try again, today. But try with the zeal of the apprentice who counts experience itself a valuable reward. And turn to the Church for the inspiration that its worship and Bible study can provide.

Soon, like the timberman's forest, your Bible will be a friendly place of familiar trails, rich in God-given treasure. For, remember, even old hands once groped to find the Way.

Steers Seek Second Conference Victory

Tonight's basketball game between Big Spring and Odessa Permian, which will be played in Odessa, will go a long way toward determining whether or not the Steers are able to escape the District 2-AAAA cellar.

place in the standings last year with an 0-10 won-lost record. This season, they're 1-2 in conference play, having turned back Midland Lee and lost to Odessa High and Abilene Cooper.

Permian is still winning within the league but has come on fairly well in recent games and will have the advantage of a home court tonight.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Bowden Cook, the former Stanton mentor, is now basing in glory as head coach at Nederland High School. His team went all the way to the finals in the Class AAA football wars before losing to Dumas, 6-0, last month.

After the fourth game, however, the transplanted Alabamian, who played his college ball at Texas Tech, was in danger of losing his job. The Nederland school board was unhappy with him for having guided his club to only one victory in those four games.

His club straightened up at precisely the right time—when the district wars came on—and didn't lose again until the championship game.

Nederland should be tough again next year. The Bulldogs lost most of their backfield but the line returns practically intact.

Incidentally, John Mack Anderson, who was Emmett McKenzie's first assistant coach here one spring and then pulled out for what he thought was the head coaching job at DeFuniak Springs, Fla., is now head basketball coach at Nederland.

He's assumed those duties in addition to his football assignment.

When he was at DeFuniak Springs the last time he was reared there, he wrote McKenzie here that if he ever got back to Texas he probably never would leave again. Anderson had wound up as a coaching aide at DeFuniak Springs after being assured he would be named the chief of operations in athletics.

Gene Brito, the former professional footballer (Los Angeles and Washington) is seriously ill.

His physician says he's suffering from an inflammatory process (not an infection) of several bundles of nerves within the spinal cord. As a result, there has been a partial paralysis of his legs and a slightly impaired function of his arms.

Brito's friends in Los Angeles have started a campaign to help him and his family, hope to raise $100,000.

Bowling is a frustrating endeavor for most people, at one time or another.

Take the case of the woman who entered a meet in Illinois last year with an average of 124. She proceeded to throw 16 gutter balls, didn't hit a pin until the fifth frame and wound up with a total score of 12.

An outstanding basketball prospect here has to be Paul Thomas, a Negro youth attending Lakeview Junior High who already stands 6-foot-6.

Thomas, who was an outstanding pitcher in Little League ball a few years ago, is an eighth grader but he's playing with the ninth grade team.

He could be the tallest boy to come up here since Richard LeFevre (6-foot-10 or thereabouts) played here in the '30's. Richard was the father of the LeFevre twins, Zay and Jay LeFevre, both of whom distinguished themselves on the basketball court.

Another member of the Lakeview team, Curtis Flewellen, is also considered quite a comer in the sport.

A total of $8,616.17 was wagered at Sunland Park's winter season, which just closed. Of that amount, $319,164 was bet the final day.

Biggest single payoff of the campaign occurred by Prinkoess, who returned $199.30 for a single $2 place ticket.

On Oct. 15, seven favorites came through on the card and the same number again on Oct. 20. In all, 94 per cent of the favorites responded with victories, highest in the track's history.

The 38-day spring season at Sunland opens Feb. 2, and continues through April 29.

Garden City Cats Oppose Sterling

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Bearcats will carry a 2-13 won-lost record into their District 93-B basketball opener with Sterling City here tonight.

The record of the Cats is deceptive. Coach Russell Coalsen has sent his team against several teams of higher classification this year. Garden City holds victories over Forsan and Grandfalls.

In Sterling City's Eagles, the Cats will be meeting the co-favorites for the 93-B flag.

Coalsen will probably start Denny Cyfert, 6-4; Gary Pagan, 6-3; Don Thompson, 5-10; Babe Shields, 6-0; and either Wayne Low, 5-10; or Sonny Helps, 5-7.

Low will get the call if he has sufficiently recovered from a broken elbow he suffered early in the season. He is a junior, as is Phelps.

Cyfert is the lone regular back from last season. He is a senior and has been averaging 12 points a game. Pagan, 6-3, is only a freshman. Shields is a senior while Thompson is a junior.

Hugh Schaffer, 5-11 junior and a letter winner, will also see a lot of action tonight.

Won't Talk

Porfirio Rabiosa, playboy and former Dominican diplomat, enters court in New York, under subpoena, to appear before a grand jury in connection with the murders of Dominicans in New York. He refused to sign a waiver of immunity and to testify. He was questioned earlier by the district attorney's office about the fatal shooting of Sergio Bencosme, an anti-Trujillo exile.

Baylor Club To Meet Saturday

LUBBOCK — The South Plains Baylor Club will hold an open house Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bass, 2514 E. 17th, club president Bill Patterson announced.

All Baylor ex-students and friends are invited to the meeting, which will follow the Southwest Conference basketball game between Texas Tech and Baylor Saturday night in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum. Members of the Baylor administration and the Bear basketball team will be honor guests for the open house.

Lead On Thief

DALLAS (AP)—Detectives said Thursday they have a very interesting lead on the burglar who has stolen jewelry worth more than $700,000 in six years.

2 Negroes Find Southern Kindness As Bus Is Stranded

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—A Negro woman and her small granddaughter are enjoying this community's belated—but bountiful—hospitality after spending two days and nights aboard a stranded transcontinental bus.

The passengers, Mae Lee Johnson, 55, of Bourbon, Miss., and Gwendolyn Faye, a smiling child of almost three who wears pig-tails, were kept warm and comfortable on the bus because the white driver ignored a chance to take lodging at a hotel and kept the heating system going.

The Continental Trailways bus stopped here during a snowstorm Tuesday and C. C. Barlow of Tex-

Kiwanis Club Planning Feast

Big Spring Kiwanis Club's famous annual pancake supper will be served in the Student Union Building at the Howard County Junior College on the night of Feb. 23.

J. C. Pickle, president of the club, said the date had been selected because the SUB would be available at that time with no interference with college activities.

He said that Jack Roden would head up the committee on arrangements and that announcement of the assignments to each Kiwanian would be made soon.

These annual pancake suppers have been held for more than a decade. The club members cook the pancakes, prepare the bacon, coffee and other items. They also serve the patrons. The suppers are attended by hundreds of Howard County residents. They are famous for the width and breadth of the county and the annual supper is looked forward to with interest by scores of non-Kiwanians.

All profits from the supper go into the club's fund for the aid of underprivileged and needy children of the community.

Last year, the Kiwanis Club grossed $1,500 at the supper.

Announcement of the date was made at the regular Thursday luncheon of the club at the Settles Hotel.

Soc Walker, vice president of the club, made a detailed report on observations at a recent state conference of Kiwanis officers in Dallas. He and Bruce Dunn, another club vice president, attended the conference.

Bailey Seeks Superintendent Position Again

Walker Bailey, county superintendent of Howard County, announced Friday that he was a candidate for re-election to this post.

A long-time resident and schoolman in Howard County, Bailey had this announcement to make: "I should like to submit my candidacy for re-election to the office of county superintendent of Howard County, subject to the Democratic Primary election to be held on May 5, 1962."

The county superintendent is an elective four-year term. He has jurisdiction over the common school districts, or rural schools, in the county, but he has no legal jurisdiction over the town and city, or Independent school districts. This office does assist the superintendents in the Independent school districts in an advisory capacity relative to Texas School Laws, and with regulations of the State Board of Education and the Texas Education Agency.

The county superintendent is the intermediate school officer of the county, acting between the local schools and local school boards and the Texas Education Agency.

"I believe my training in school administration plus the experience I have gained while serving in the capacity of your County Superintendent qualifies me to serve you better as a county school administrator. Let me assure you that whatever your school problems may be, I shall be available at all times to discuss them with you, trusting that we may be able to arrive at some satisfactory solution of them."

"I shall try to see every voter in the county before election day, but if I should miss seeing you, please accept this as a sincere appeal for your vote and active support."

Rep. Latimer Candidate For State Senator

TRUETT LATIMER

Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene, a member of the House for the past 10 years, has announced that he will be a candidate for state senator from the 13-county 24th district. Latimer is a native of Shackelford County and was reared in Jones County. He moved to Abilene to attend Hardin-Simmons University and received a bachelor's degree in 1951. He is a former insurance man and has served as alumni director for Hardin-Simmons since 1955.

Latimer said he would formally file as a candidate with the individual county Democratic chairman soon and "I promise the most aggressive all-out campaign for the state senate that this district has seen for many years. I feel that the 250,000 people who live in this 13-county district are entitled to representation in the Senate that is not afraid to speak out on issues which affect them. As a candidate and as Senator I will make myself available at all times—not just on election years—to every community in the district."

Elected to the 53rd legislature in 1952, he has held many chairmanships and vice chairmanships of committees and has served on 12 of the legislature's 43 standing committees. In 1955 he helped rewrite the Texas Insurance Code after scandal had plagued that industry. He was author of the 1957 Texas Water Planning Act and the Texas feed control act. He was a house sponsor of the bill creating the West Central Texas Municipal Water District now constructing a multi-city reservoir on Hubbard Creek. He served 12 years in the national guard and a year in the Army reserve. He is married and he and Mrs. Latimer have two small daughters.

Lamesa Banks Report Records

LAMESA (SC)—Lamesa's three financial institutions reported record-breaking deposits of $40,345,400 at the end of 1961. Loans were up over $5 million.

All three institutions—Lamesa National Bank, the First National Bank and Lamesa Federal Savings & Loan Association—reported huge gains in both deposits and loans.

Deposits smashed a one-year record set at the end of 1960 at $33,397,789. At the end of 1959 deposits were $30,967,149.

The record cotton harvest, already at 294,000 bales and incomplete, topped the old mark of 193,000 bales and was largely responsible for the new banking mark here.

Lakeview Y Board Meets

The board of directors for the Lakeview branch of the YMCA met Thursday evening to plan for opening of the old school building after it is remodeled.

The building is to be donated to the Y, and the property leased for $1 a year plus assessments. It is now vacant and work will begin as soon as a contract can be completed and signed. This may be some time next week, according to Capt. Pernel Johnson, president of the board.

Membership rates were established by directors at the meeting. They are $3 for youths, $10 for adults and $15 for families each year.

A special meeting was called for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Y to set up a membership enrollment program.

Officers of the new Y branch are Johnson; Charlie Merritt, vice president; Oliver Reed, treasurer; and Mrs. Opaline Finley, secretary.

View Cleared At Intersection

City crews were notified at 9:46 a.m. Thursday that bushes needed cutting at the intersection of West Seventeenth and Douglas, where new stop signs had been erected, to clear the view.

At 10:29 a.m. a collision was reported at the new four-way stop intersection. Drivers of vehicles were Williamson Carr, 801 E. 18th, and Ronald Joe Huld, 1202 Sycamore. No injuries were reported. Stop signs were erected Wednesday on Douglas, making the intersection a four-way stop, following the collision between a fire truck and an automobile Saturday. Ted Groehl, 615 Dallas, was seriously injured in the accident. Limbs of trees obscuring view of the new signs were cut Thursday.

Big Spring police investigated one other accident Thursday afternoon, at Tenth and Gregg, with no injuries. Drivers of vehicles were Janet Lee Prior, 410 W. 10th, and Ruth G. Taylor, Ackerly.

CLEAN HEAT

MEANS CLEAN CLOTHES

Electric drying is sunshine-clean!

You can be sure your freshly-washed clothes will dry sparkling clean when you dry them electrically. Flameless electric heat is as clean as summer sunshine. It adds nothing but moisture-removing warmth to the air inside the dryer, so white clothes stay white, colored clothes stay bright. And electric heat is so gentle and so precisely controlled that even the most delicate fabrics can be dried with complete safety. See your favorite appliance dealer soon for an electric clothes dryer that will save time, work and money . . . help you live better . . . electrically.

Noted Playwright Leaves $500,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Moss Hart, one of the nation's top playwrights, left an estimated $500,000 when he died Dec. 20.

According to papers filed this week in Surrogate's Court, Hart left $100,000 outright to his widow, actress Kitty Carlisle, as well as the income from most of the remainder during her lifetime.

A $50,000 trust was created for Hart's brother, Bernard. An outright $25,000 bequest went to a friend, Joseph M. Hyman.

Indian magician Yusultini and his wife and partner, Faecza, perform their levitation act on a beach near Durban, South Africa. Yusultini says there is a gimmick to the act but won't disclose it. He became tired of criticism about the act which normally is performed on a theater stage and took up the challenge to do it in the open air to disprove the generally accepted theory that he relies on thin supporting wires hidden on the stage.

Bill Would Allow Highest Loan Interest Since 1891

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas small loan dealers could charge the highest legal interest rate since 1891 under a regulatory bill passed Thursday by the House and now before the Senate.

An amendment to the Constitution adopted in 1891 held interest rates to a maximum of 10 per cent a year. Voters removed the ceiling in 1960 when they authorized the legislature to enact new interest limits and to regulate the small loan industry.

Accepting the argument that 10 per cent is an unrealistic rate on loans under $100 with a short repayment term, the House passed a bill with a sliding interest scale—from 36 per cent a year on loans under $100 to 18 per cent on a $1,500 loan from companies regulated by the bill.

Banks, credit unions, co-operatives and savings and loan associations would not be covered by the bill.

The House added an amendment that would allow a 64 charge on a loan of $20 to $100 for the first three months in lieu of interest.

Representatives favoring the amendment argued that it costs a lender about $4 to run a loan of any size through his books. On a $20 loan for three months, the 36 per cent annual interest rate would not provide a return large enough to cover costs, they said.

A central feature of the bill provides for a new state small loan commissioner with power to license and regulate small lenders. A $200 license fee would be charged for each loan office. A lender would be required, as a condition for licensing, to have at least $15,000 in liquid assets.

The commissioner could inspect a company's books and records and bring court action against a firm violating the law.

Yankee Soldier's Kin To Dedicate Civil War Marker

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel reports the grandson of a Union prisoner of war at Camp Ford near Tyler will dedicate a historical marker Sunday at the site of the old camp.

The marker will be the first in a program aimed at explaining Texas' tourist attractions.

George Abell of Midland, grandson of Corp. George Whitfield Hatheway of the 5th Kansas Cavalry, contributed $1,000 for the marker, the governor said. The marker is of cast aluminum, four by three feet in size and mounted on a six-foot post.

Abell's grandfather was captured with about 1,300 Union soldiers while escorting a wagon train in Arkansas. He was interned at Camp Ford for about 11 months in 1864 and 1865.

In a telegram to Abell, Daniel said Abell's contribution "assured the first Texas travel information marker at Camp Ford." He said the marker also is "a fitting contribution to the Civil War Centennial program."

S. E. Asbury Dies At 89

BRYAN (AP)—Samuel E. Asbury, 89, scientist, musical composer, art collector and historian, died Wednesday night.

He retired as assistant state chemist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station in 1945. He opened the station in 1901.

His work in chemistry largely concerned analysis of feeds and fertilizers.

As a practicing metrist, he worked with some of the nation's leading poets. He studied music and drama at the Harvard graduate school and spent much of his retirement composing a musical drama of the San Antonio campaign of the Texas Revolution.

Fire Destroys Industrial Facility

HONDO (AP)—North American Industries facilities at Hondo Air Force Base were destroyed by fire Thursday night.

The $70,000 building was owned by the city of Hondo. North American makes water softeners and was setting up an assembly line for the manufacture of aluminum outdoor furniture.

Greer Claims State Is Stuck

AUSTIN (AP)—State highway engineer D. C. Greer says the federal government owns the Texas Highway Department $75,000, but is withholding the money without good reason.

He said Thursday the government has collected $75,000 on a debt claim dating back to the 1954 emergency hay program by withholding that sum from funds due the state.

Greer said the highway department filed a protest with the U.S. comptroller of the currency in December when it learned of the government's intentions to take $74,843 from the state.

"They just subtracted that sum from the money they owed us and sent us a check for the remainder," he said. "There's no relief in sight, but we're checking with the U.S. attorney general on the validity of the government's action."

"The highway department is in the position of an innocent bystander in this affair. We had nothing to do with the hay program originally, and we do not feel that this department should be considered responsible for any question, financial or otherwise, connected with the program."

The hay program was initiated to help farmers and ranchers buy hay for cattle, sheep and goats during the winter of 1954 and the first part of 1955.

Junior Stock Show Dates Set In March

Twenty-fifth Annual Howard County 4-H and FFA Fat Stock show will be staged on March 13, 14 and 15.

Dates were selected at a meeting of the sponsors, the county agents and the 4-H Club committee Wednesday in the office of Herb Helbig, county farm agent.

As has been the history of the show, the sponsors this year will be the Howard County Junior Livestock Association and the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce. The show is largely financed by memberships in the junior stock association and one of the initial activities will be the membership campaign to be started soon.

Helbig was selected as general show superintendent. He said he had contacted Calvin Holcomb, Gaines County agent at Seminole, and that the latter had agreed to serve as judge of the steers. Helbig said he had been unable to contact the man selected as lamb judge.

The sale will be on March 15 and plans are for the big barbecue which always marks the eve of this event to be staged as in the past. Additional details will be worked out soon.

Helbig said the show will follow the same general format it has in the past.

Furr's To Help CARE Program

DALLAS—Frank J. Phillips of CARE and Jack O. Stone of Furr's Super Markets jointly have announced the first annual "Furr's Food for CARE" campaign which will be initiated today and will extend through Feb. 2. During this campaign Furr's Super Markets will urge support of the CARE Food Crusade by their patrons and distribute special donor envelopes through 63 stores in Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

Phillips said of the pilot promotion: "We feel that a super market is the most significant vehicle through which Americans can be stimulated to answering the call of millions of hungry people throughout the world. As they fill their baskets full of abundant food, they will be made aware of starving men, women and children who are depending on them for the very life that food produces."

CARE is a non-profit, private organization through which Americans can feed a family of four for one month by contributing $1. The name of this donor accompanies the food package to the recipient whose need has been meticulously screened by a CARE mission chief located in the country, who supervises all distribution. CARE serves those people not being served by any other efforts and also provides eventual independence through the distribution of self-help items.

Phillips added, "The most effective way to win friends for freedom is to nourish their aching stomachs and then provide a means through which they can become self-sufficient." he sent to CARE, 1622 Kirby Building, Dallas.

Plane-Truck Crash Kills 3

KINGSVILLE (AP)—A crash involving a TV2 jet plane and a fire truck killed three Navy airmen and injured a civilian fireman Thursday.

Authorities said the plane unaccountably swerved on takeoff from the naval auxiliary air station at Kingsville, in South Texas. They said the truck was parked beside the runway in normal position.

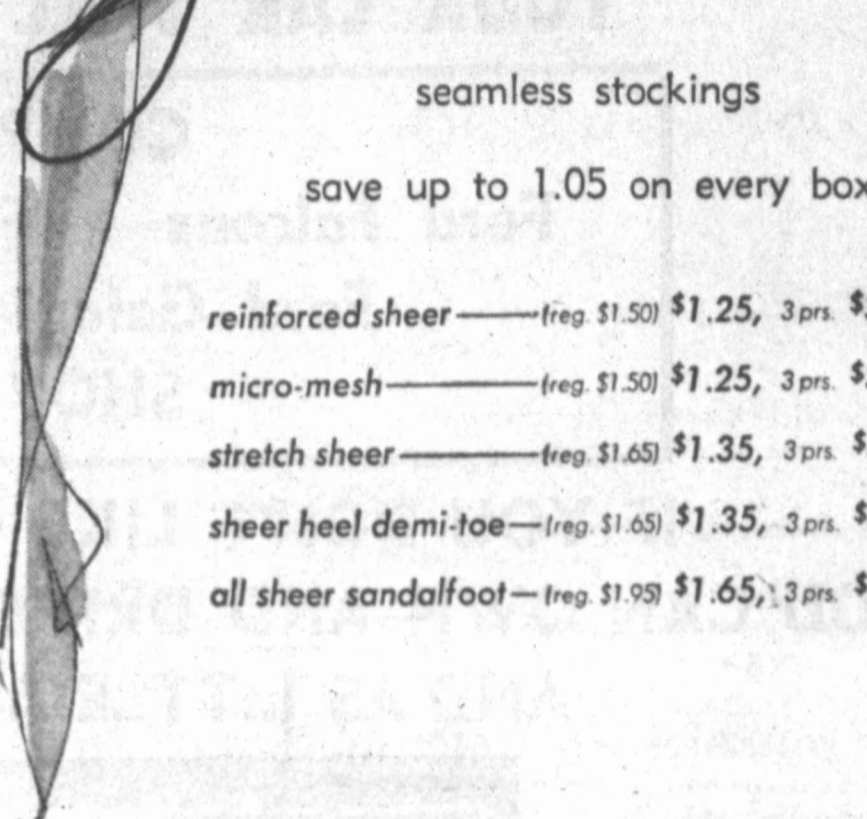

Killed aboard the fire truck were Ezell Lindsey, 19, of Winston-Salem, N.C.; Kevin Dwyer, 17, of the Bronx, N.Y.; and Archer Jones, 20, of Milan, Tenn.

William Bates, 41, of Kingsville, the truck driver, was injured. Two other members of the truck crew escaped injury.

U.S. Space Agency Picks Most Powerful Rocket Yet

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The space agency, leap-frogging over three concepts of the Saturn rocket, has decided on a super Saturn with far more power than any rocket the Free World has ever known.

The first stage, or lift-off booster, will have five engines developing a total thrust of 1.7 million pounds of thrust. That compares with the 1.5 million pounds of thrust built into the Saturn first stage which was launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla., last November.

And the huge rocket will be capable of carrying a payload of about 110 tons, twice the normal maximum load of an ordinary railroad box car.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Marshall Space Flight Center here announced Thursday that a decision had been made on the five-engine cluster for the first and second stages of the advanced Saturn. The third stage will carry a single engine.

Two stages will be used for earth-escape missions.

Earth orbital trips for three men are to be accomplished with the present Saturn, the C1.

The advanced Saturn, expected to be ready for launching in 1965, will be used first to send a three-man craft into orbit around the moon and back to earth. Later work for it will include a manned landing on the moon and the return trip to earth.

In deciding on this type of advanced Saturn, NASA bypassed three concepts—the C2, C3 and C4. Each was more powerful in concept than the preceding number but none would have been as powerful as the one decided on, which probably will become known as the C5.

The Saturn now undergoing the

THE BIG BOGEY-BOO

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher,
Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1283.

People remain divided, disagreed and confused religiously because they are being frightened away from Bible study and discussion. They are being told by many of their leaders that it will not do any good; but will only result in confusion.

Thus the people are frightened off from studying together for the purpose of discovering the truth and becoming united upon it.

Why be frightened by the big bogey-boo? The proof of the pie is in the eating. Give it a fair test, and you will see that when two honest truth seekers accept the Bible as authority, and diligently study it together, they can agree upon its teaching. Some men are doing all they can to keep you from trying this.

"Study . . ." (II Tim. 2:15). The word of God can unite us. "For God is not the author of confusion . . ." (I Cor. 14:33).

Sunday's sermons: "Must a Worship?" "Baptism: What It Is Not." "What It Will Not Do". Welcome.
