R. E. Hickson Is Fourth Texan To Receive Award

R. E. Hickson, outgoing president of the Retail Credit Executives of Big Spring, was presented a certificate of merit at a meeting held Thursday evening to install new officers.

The meeting was held at the Cosden Country Club and was changed from a noon meeting, the usual time, to an evening meeting to allow more members to be present.

Hickson received a Certified Consumer Credit Executive certificate in recognition of his service in the credit field. To qualify for the award a person must have at least five years of experience in the field, must be an officer at the local, regional and state levels of the organization and must have completed college level courses in such areas as business law, public relations, personnel management, accounting and economics.

The award was presented by O. L. Dawson, Brownwood, president of District 2 of the Retail Credit Executives of Texas. It is the fourth such presentation made in Texas and the eighteenth such award made in the United States.

Dawson was guest speaker at the meeting. He spoke on the importance of credit and urged the members to work together to promote it.

George Weeks, incoming president, told the audience that work is being done in that direction in

House OKs Youth Bill, Gets Senate's Escheat Measure

AUSTIN (AP) — The House passed today and sent to the Senate a bill providing 15 more juvenile parole supervisors. The vote was 109-16.

The House also received the Senate-passed version of an abandoned property bill, but indicates action will probably be delayed until Monday.

The juvenile parole bill calls for state expenditure of $78,500 for the parole system.

The bill gives the Texas Youth Council authority to hire the 15 more parole workers.

Rep. Ted Springer of Amarillo, a co-author of a bill to put banks under the state escheat law, said the House clerk had received the Senate bill, but copies of the amendments were not available.

Springer said he probably will wait until Monday to attempt to get the House to concur in the amendments.

The House did concur in Senate amendments to a bill by Rep. J. W. Buchanan of Dumas renaming the State Board of Water Engineers the Texas Water Commission and giving the chief engineer more authority. The bill was one of the five major items Gov. Price Daniel gave the legislature to consider.

Also passed by the House to Daniel was a measure by Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford which provides $220,000 to operate the House this session of the legislature and $30,000 for Senate expenses.

If the House concurs with Senate amendments, the bill will go to Daniel for his signature. If the House refuses, a conference committee of House and Senate members will try to work out the differences of opinion.

Although Senate revision kept the bill from going to Daniel, the governor praised the Senate action. The new version "is even stronger than the House version," he said.

Daniel said the bill in its present form is a strong and effective measure to protect abandoned deposits held by banking institutions, require advertisement for lost owners and heirs, and protect state rights to any property subject to escheat.

Major provisions of the escheat bill are that banks may not transfer dormant accounts to profits through use of service charges; advertisements must be carried on dormant accounts, with accounts less than $25 to be put in a state fund not to exceed $250,000; accounts over $25 must be advertised annually or turned to the state; and any missing owner may claim his money after it has been turned over to the state.

Passage of the escheat bill will be the second hurdle the Legislature has cleared since convening Jan. 3. Both houses have voted $15 million for farm road construction in 1962.

A House committee gave a favorable report and sent to the floor for debate a bill by Rep. Maurice Pipkin of Brownsville allowing the creation of rehabilitation districts to take care of mentally ill children.

A bill by Rep. Tom James of Dallas to let district judges set up special grand juries for probes into special areas, such as breakdown of law enforcement and corruption, was heard by a committee.

New Regime Gains Full U. S. Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today the government newly returned to power in the Dominican Republic has ready-made U.S. recognition and will get full diplomatic and economic support from this country.

Work was resumed at the State Department and in the Agency for International Development on an aid program designed to bolster the Dominican economy.

Plans were made to clear away the last barriers to resumption of normal trade by wiping out finally the sanctions once imposed against the regime of the late dictator Rafael L. Trujillo.

Administration officials were obviously delighted at the speed with which the junta dominated by Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria was overthrown Thursday night. The development came with stunning suddenness 48 hours after the Dominican air force chief's hand-picked group had taken power upon the resignation Tuesday night of President Joaquin Balaguer.

"We consider that what has occurred now is a resumption of constitutional government in the Dominican Republic," one official said.

In the State Department, the decision was to "forget about the two days they were out of power" and simply continue with the recognition previously accorded. That means a renewal of normal diplomatic relations whereas the department had threatened to deny recognition—a stronger gesture than breaking of diplomatic ties—if Echavarria established a military dictatorship.

New officers installed at the meeting were Weeks, president; Glen Barnes, vice president; Pauline Sullivan, secretary; and Mrs. Lloyd Wooten, treasurer. Joe Pendleton and James Cape were installed as new directors.

There were 39 persons present at the meeting. Guests present, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, were Mr. and Mrs. Guy F. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blum and the Rev. and Mrs. V. Ward Jackson.

Poll Tax Booth Set Up Today

A booth to facilitate paying poll taxes will be established today at 510 NW 4th, according to Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector.

It is sponsored by the International Union of Operating Engineers, which pays the salary of the deputy handling collections. The equipment and bond is provided by the tax office.

The booth will be open from 4-7 p.m. Monday and Thursday. Hours on Friday and Saturday will be 4-10 p.m. Special deputy at that booth will be Mrs. Jessie Hernandez.

A large sign lettered in English on one side and in Spanish on the reverse side marks the location for persons wishing to pay the tax.

A booth sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be opened at the Cosden refinery Jan. 25 and at the Cosden Building Jan. 26. Mrs. Wally Slate will be present at the locations from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each of the two days.

Mrs. LeFevre urged voters to make purchases early. The deadline is Jan. 31, and to date only 2,156 persons have qualified to vote.

TECHNICAL TROUBLES DELAY PLANNED U. S. MOON SHOOT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A United States attempt to rocket a payload to the moon, scheduled for next Monday, was postponed today for at least a month because of technical troubles with the Atlas booster rocket.

A brief statement said: "The Ranger 3 lunar launching scheduled for January has been postponed due to technical difficulties in the launch vehicle booster. No new launch date has been set."

The Ranger 3 firing was one of three major U.S. space efforts scheduled for Cape Canaveral next week. The others are the attempt to send astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. into orbit about the earth and to orbit five satellites with a single rocket.

Space scientists had a 5-day period starting Monday in which to launch Ranger 3. In this time, the moon will be in a favorable position, some 235,000 miles away.

The trouble in the Atlas booster, not disclosed, is such that it could not be corrected in time to achieve launching in this period. The next optimum period begins about Feb. 20.

Ranger 3 is intended to take a 66-hour trip to the moon, relaying closeup television pictures and then landing an instrument package to measure moonquakes and meteor hits.

Winter Shoves Deeper Into Texas

Winter shoved nasty weather deeper into Texas Friday in the form of an occasionally freezing drizzle for some areas and gloomy fog at a number of points.

In the Texas Panhandle, where one to two inches of snow fell around Dumas the day before, the mercury went on another downward plunge.

Temperatures before dawn ranged down to 2 degrees above zero at Dallart and 5 above at Amarillo. It was freezing as far south as San Angelo and Waco while temperatures held to the upper 50s in extreme South Texas.

Misting rain froze as it fell in early morning in parts of North Central Texas, including the Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco areas.

Fort Worth, San Antonio and Waco had a mixture of fog and drizzle. It also was foggy at Lufkin, Tyler, and most other sections of East Texas. There was a light drizzle at Houston.

The drizzle was expected to start freezing in Northeast Texas and the northwest corner of Southeast Texas later in the day. More scattered light snow was in prospect Saturday for the Panhandle and High Plains in West Texas.

State highway patrolmen reported a little ice developed in North Central Texas during the night but not enough to create a serious traffic hazard.

Clouds hung low over West Texas except for a few spots with clear skies.

Ice which formed Thursday left roads treacherous but open in the Texas Panhandle.

Northerly winds of 10 to 15 miles per hour throughout the state helped spread the chill.

The Weather Bureau predicted biting cold would linger in North Central and Northeast Texas during the night with readings down to 5 below zero in the upper Panhandle, 10 above in North Central and 12 above in Northeast Texas.

Forecast calls for overnight lows down to 15 degrees in Southwest Texas, and 25 in South Central and Southeast Texas.

Judge Delays School Election

No election on consolidation of the Vealmoor and Sands school districts will be held Saturday. Judge Sterling Williams, 132nd District Court, Thursday afternoon issued a restraining order addressed to Juanita Edwards and Curtis White, designated as election judges, forbidding them to hold the election.

The election had been slated for Saturday at Vealmoor and at the Sands school. The issue, as stated in petitions filed with the county judges of Howard and Dawson counties, proposed that the two districts be consolidated.

John Richard Coffee, Big Spring attorney, acting for Max Zant, sole trustee of the Vealmoor school, obtained the 10 day injunction from Judge Williams in Gail late Thursday.

Mrs. Edwards was formally served with the notice of the court's action today.

The petition for the restraining order sets up a number of allegations to support its plea that the election be delayed.

It is specified in one paragraph that the election orders as issued by Judge Ed Carpenter calling the election for Jan. 20 were defective in that neither school district involved is properly designated.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominicans exulted wildly today over restoration of civilian government in a countercoup that formally ousted President Joaquin Balaguer and imprisoned the strong man who had imposed military rule.

"Balaguer boo boo! Balaguer boo boo!" people chanted in the streets, to rhythmic whistling and hand-clapping.

Cars piled high with riders honked the beat and blocked traffic on the main street, El Conde, which only 24 hours before was grimly silent and nearly deserted except for armed patrols.

People hugged each other, stores reopened and a carnival air reignited in celebration of the quick fall of the junta imposed Wednesday by Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria, the armed forces commander.

The general's own officers executed the countercoup Thursday night and jailed him.

Rafael Bonnelly, 57, a lawyer-professor who has been active in the National Civic Union, became the new president, as he had been scheduled to before Wednesday's military takeover.

Bonnelly was sworn in almost exactly 48 hours after he and three other members of an all-civilian state council were led out of the national palace as prisoners of Rodriguez Echavarria who set up a military-civilian junta in the council's place.

Two months ago the capital celebrated the republic's liberation from the Trujillo dynasty in a coup led by Rodriguez Echavarria. Now he is a prisoner.

There was no immediate announcement about what would be done with the imprisoned general, an Air Force veteran, or who would replace him as the armed forces commander. Army Col. Victor Elvy Vinas Roman, 36, secretary of the armed forces, temporarily took over his office at the San Ysidro Air Base.

The government-operated Radio Caribe reported Air Force Gen. Andres Rodriguez Mendez, an exile in Puerto Rico, would succeed Rodriguez Echavarria. But Bonnelly told newsmen the assignment remains to be decided.

Six of the seven members of the State Council—most of them long-time opponents of the Trujillo dictatorship—emerged from incarceration or embassy refuge and resumed control of the government they first took up on Jan. 1.

The State Council's first act after returning to the National Palace was to accept the resignation of Balaguer, a Trujillo hold-over who was president until the junta deposed the seven-man council Tuesday night.

That cleared the way for Bonnelly to step up to the presidency in accordance with an agreement last month between Balaguer and the leading anti-Trujillo faction, the National Civic Union.

Young businessman Donald Read was named to fill Balaguer's council seat.

Radio Caribe said Balaguer's whereabouts were not known.

Rodriguez Echavarria, arrested by his troops, sat glumly under guard in a waiting room in the National Palace as Bonnelly was installed in the council conference chamber 150 feet away. Just two months ago Rodriguez

Echavarria, 37, had been a hero to Dominicans for leading the air force uprising that expelled the last of the Trujillo dynasty.

His guards said the general would be held prisoner until the State Council decided his fate.

Rodriguez Mendez was commander of the Barahona base from which the November air force uprising was launched. A group of air force officers who resigned in December, charging Rodriguez Echavarria with dictatorial ambitions, said Rodriguez Mendez was the real leader of that revolt.

Overloaded power lines caused the National Palace lights to flicker and more than 200 persons admiring the small ceremony room looked about nervously as Bonnelly swore to uphold the constitution and carry out its democratic principles.

Quick pledges of support from the army, navy and air force lifted one great problem from the council, but many lie ahead.

When the council was installed Jan. 1, it received only lukewarm acceptance from the moderate, left-center revolutionary party and the scathing disapproval of the leftist 14th of June Movement.

The 14th of June Movement lost no time in getting its pro-Castro propaganda guns rolling again against the council when it was restored. Its loudspeakers called on the jubilant crowd to demand the installation of a government of "national unity" and quick trial of both Balaguer and Rodriguez Echavarria as traitors.

With the exception of Balaguer, the State Council has the same membership it had before: Bonnelly, Dr. Nicolas Pichardo, president of the University Professors Association and a civic union member; Eduardo R. Barreras, former president of the supreme court; Magr. Eliseo Perez Sanchez, Roman Catholic vicar general of the nation, and businessman Antonio Imbert and Luis Amiana Tio, the only survivors of the band that plotted the assassination last May of Dictator Rafael L. Trujillo.

The military junta issued a series of sweeping decrees designed to stifle opposition, but Rodriguez Echavarria was unable to maintain order. Anger was evident everywhere.

Labor Scores First Point For A Shorter Work Week

By NORMAN WALKER Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Success by several thousand New York City electricians in negotiating a 25-hour week is the first result of a new labor drive to create more jobs by reducing working hours.

The drive was kicked off only a little more than a month ago in AFL-CIO convention resolutions calling for strenuous union efforts to reduce the present standard 40-hour work week — both through legislation and contract negotiations—and thus share with more individuals the available work opportunities.

President Kennedy has repeatedly stated opposition to reducing the work week in the present economic situation and state of world trade competition.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has said the same thing. But he has added that the administration has no objection to employers and labor unions negotiating shorter work weeks if they deem it wise for their own particular firms or industries.

The shorter work week just negotiated by the New York electricians is sure to be a major talking point in an AFL-CIO economic-legislative conference here next week. It is to be keyed to economic problems and ways of reducing the nation's 4.1 million unemployed. Goldberg is to be a speaker.

In New York, contractors agreed under pressure of a strike to reduced working hours for members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The union had sought a four-hour day.

In place of a six-hour day plus a seventh hour at overtime pay previously worked by the men, they will henceforth have a five-hour day, with a sixth hour at overtime. Because straight-time pay was raised from $4.40 to $4.96 an hour, their five-day earnings will be about the same.

Negotiations due to get under way soon in the big steel industry may become the next battleground for a shorter work week. The steelworkers union has indicated it will be a major goal because of the dwindling number of workers required to operate the mills.

Reducing regular work hours is not necessarily a way to make more jobs, however, because most workers prefer more income than more leisure and would rather work extra hours at premium overtime rates than take the time off.

Recognizing this, the recently-adopted AFL-CIO resolutions said that work hours could also be reduced by providing more holidays, longer vacations or earlier retirement. Giving a worker an additional four weeks paid vacation, it was suggested, would amount to cutting his work week 3 hours.

Reducing work hours has long been a major union goal. One of the nation's earliest recorded labor strikes was by Philadelphia carpenters for a 10-hour day. Congress legislated the 40-hour week in 1938.

According to government statistics, between 15 and 20 per cent of all plant and office workers have less than a 40-hour work week—about one of every five or six. This is most prevalent in the printing, clothing, brewing, rubber, lumber and fur industries.

A government survey of office workers in New York City last April showed that 87 per cent worked less than a 40-hour week. About 54 per cent were on a 35-hour week. In fact, throughout the nation many more office workers are on short weeks than are plant workers.

actually a shortage of electricians in New York, but the union said it will recruit 1,000 apprentices.

In that connection, Washington union officials here pointed to a Labor Department report which said that "the failure of the 1961 recovery to generate an expansion of jobs in construction, even with the sharp upturn in construction expenditures, is unprecedented in post-war experience."

Sick Baby On Bus Dead On Arrival In Big Spring

A six-month-old baby was dead on arrival at Cowper Clinic and Hospital shortly after 3 a.m. Friday after a Nalley-Pickle ambulance met an incoming bus from the west and took the baby to the hospital.

The Big Spring police department received a telephone call at 3:06 a.m. to meet the incoming bus. Sgt. L. D. Adams met the bus and reported to headquarters that the baby appeared to be dead.

Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter, who was called after a physician reported that the baby had apparently been dead about four hours, said Friday morning that passengers on the bus said the baby got sick about the time the bus left El Paso seven hours before.

"In talking to some other passengers on the bus we learned that the baby was sick for some time and the mother, Mrs. Dorothy Collins, got off the bus at some town along the route to buy medicine," he said. "Just what caused death is not known."

Mrs. Collins, who lives in Lake Charles, La., said she was returning from Los Angeles, Calif., where her husband is working.

Police Captain L. A. Hiltburner called the father of the baby in Los Angeles and was told that the father was leaving immediately for Big Spring.

The baby's body is being held at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, pending arrangements.

Kesner Dies In Car Wreck

Richard W. Kesner, 48, a familiar figure to millions as the first violinist in the Lawrence Welk orchestra, was killed instantly Thursday evening near Reseda, Calif.

Mr. Kesner was the brother-in-law of Mrs. Roy Tidwell, 1510 Main. His three daughters, Judy Kesner, 15, a freshman at Goliad Junior High, Kathy Kesner, 12, in the sixth grade at College Heights, and Lisa Kesner, have been staying with Mrs. Tidwell. Mrs. Kesner, who is Mrs. Tidwell's sister, has been quite ill.

Dick Kesner came here at Thanksgiving and spent three days visiting his daughters. They are to leave Saturday morning for Los Angeles, Calif. The services have been set for Monday at Reseda.

Mr. Kesner has had his own orchestra for some time, and he had been recording during the day at Hollywood, Calif. On the way home, another car going against traffic on the freeway hit his car head on and both drivers were killed.

2 Scout Leaders Given Top Honor By Council

Two area men were among those given the top honor which can be accorded by the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council—the Silver Beaver.

Carl E. Campbell, Big Spring, and Grover C. Springer, Lenorah, were among the five men cited Thursday at the annual council meeting in Midland for exceptional service to boys.

Both have long records of service in Scouting. Campbell's having antedated the Boy Scouts of America.

W. J. Murray Jr., chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas, addressing the 39th annual meeting of the council, called for a greater investment in scouting—both from time and money—as one means of providing a leadership which might preserve freedom in the world.

"I do not know if it's too late," he said, "but I do know we have the great opportunity to produce leadership desperately needed today. It is some sort of an indictment that in a nation with half of the world's wealth we are not raising enough money to do the job Scouting needs to do."

A lot depends on giving more than lip service to make vital the ideals of physical strength, mental alertness and moral and spiritual straightness as embodied in the Scout Oath, he declared.

More than 300 were on hand for the annual dinner, approximately 40 of them from Big Spring. Earlier the annual council meeting had been held with O. D. Albright, Odessa, president, in charge.

Local men named on the board included Dr. W. A. Hunt, Sam McCormick, Joe Pickle, Champ Rainwater, Sherman M. Smith, Elmer Tarbox, Dr. Clyde Thomas, R. L. Tollett, Douglas Orme, W. R. Crooker, Sammy Mellingier, Jack Alexander.

Others receiving the Silver Beaver award were Delbert D. Downing, Midland, E. Patterson, Midland, and Carl J. Holm, Pecos.

Qualifying for the coveted woodbadge for special scouting skill training were E. Don Campbell, W. B. Alexander, Robert C. Bone, R. L. Hall, Joe E. Hallifax, Odessa; Raymond E. (Dutch) Lumsford, Louis H. Mickelson, Leon Ditzel, James A. Akefield, Zack Monroe, Midland, Gerald McMillan, Roland J. Sayers, Big Spring; Billy Miller, Kermit; Harold Wilson, Andrews.

Carl Campbell began his scouting career in Nowata, Okla., prior to the time that the Boy Scouts of America were chartered in 1910. Later, when he moved to St. Louis, he became active as an adult leader and for nearly three decades served in various capacities, including that of commissioner. When he came to Big Spring eight years ago, Campbell at once became active in the Lone Star District, served as commissioner and in other capacities. Despite more than half a century of service, he is still one of the most enthusiastic workers for scouting.

CARL E. CAMPBELL

In 1936, the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell—Carl Jr., E. Don and Gene—received their Eagle Scout badges at the same time, the first time in the history of Scouting that three brothers had qualified for this honor at the same time. (Mrs. Campbell still has a brooch pin with three Eagle Scout badges on it.) Don Campbell, who is now an Explorer advisor in Odessa, and Gene Campbell, who is Cubmaster of pack No. 14 in Big Spring, were there for the occasion. Carl Campbell Jr. had planned on coming from St. Louis to surprise his father on the occasion, but last-minute developments prevented this.

Two grandsons of Carl Campbell Sr., Keith Campbell and Cory Campbell, also are Eagle Scouts. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell's other children, Margaret (Mrs. B. Bill) Jackson of Wichita, Kans., and Betty (Mrs. Kerstin of Reno, Nev.) probably would have been Eagle Scouts, too, except for one detail—they were girls.

Grover Springer was credited with having been a prime force in keeping alive Scouting in Martin County and particularly in his home community of Lenorah. He served nearly a score of years as scoutmaster and has held just about every other adult post of leadership. He is a former schoolman, and businessman, and a deacon in the Lenorah Baptist Church. He also has been active in various civic affairs of his area.

Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Springer gave the Silver Beavers to their husbands, and in turn received corsages.

Kennedy Repeats Inflation Warning

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy again called today for both labor and business to exercise restraint in an effort to head off inflation.

He stressed the need for price stability at home and an increase in exports in a speech to several hundred leaders in business, labor, banking, communications, and other fields, attending a Treasury Department conference on savings bonds.

Reserve Call-Up Policy Criticized

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The national president of the Reserve Officers Association criticized the Kennedy administration Thursday night for calling up reservists over the Berlin crisis.

Rear Adm. John E. Harlin USNR, said the call-up violated the traditional policy that reservists be ordered to duty only for total mobilization.

Dallas TEC Man Objects To U.S. Probers' Methods

DALLAS (AP)—The head of the Dallas office of the Texas Employment Commission expressed indignation today over methods used here by three investigators from Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's Education and Labor Committee.

An investigation was ordered by the New York Negro Democrat after Clarence Laws, southern regional secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, testified before Powell's committee. He asserted that the U. S. Employment Service in Dallas was denying Negro workers employment and training opportunities.

District director F. E. James said the commission has been given no bill of particulars on an investigation into alleged discriminatory practices by the TEC here.

"All I know is what I read in the papers Tuesday," James said. "The next day three inves-

Streets Not Badly Damaged

Pavement on some streets in Big Spring suffered from the hard freeze last week where moisture caused crumbling. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said Friday morning.

"An inspection of our pavement showed that we got off lucky because of the lack of moisture during and before the blizzard," he said. "Twelve places, mostly small, were discovered during the inspection and are scheduled to be repaired as soon as temperatures permit."

"If we had received some rain or other moisture before or during the minus five degree weather, the city's budget would have suffered tremendously," Dunn said. "I understand that Midland and Odessa, both receiving moisture, lost whole blocks of pavement when ice beneath it caused crumbling."

Small places where crumbling, or other damage, resulted from the freeze, were at the West Fourth and Bell intersection; West Fifth and Bell intersection; Bell, between West Fifth and Sixth and between West Sixth and Seventh, West Seventh, between Scurry and Main; Johnson, between Tenth and Eleventh Place; Sycamore, and Rosemont intersection; Sycamore, between Rosemont and State; Northeast Second and Goliad intersection, and two small places on Northwest Fourth, west of Lamesa Drive.

Two large areas were found on Seventh, between Gregg and Scurry, and on Settles, between Twelfth and Thirteenth.

Wreck Involves Garbage Truck

A city garbage truck, driven by Luciano M. Sepulveda, 619 NE 8th, was one of two vehicles in a collision at 108 NW 4th Thursday afternoon. Driver of the other vehicle was Alvin Glen Johnke, 110 NE 12th. Approximately $15 in damage resulted to the car but none to the truck.

A hit and run accident in the 100 block of East Third was reported after the driver of a damaged car arrived home. Howard Carter, 1212 E. 15th, was the owner of the car. Driver of the other car was not known.

Three accidents were reported early Friday morning. Mrs. Laura G. Reynolds, 808 Lancaster, driver of one vehicle, was taken to the WAFB Hospital in a base ambulance, following a collision at the intersection of US 90 West and d Airbase Road. She was treated for bruises on her left leg. The accident occurred at 6:35 a.m. and resulted in about $50 damage to the two vehicles. Driver of the other vehicle was John Thomas Kinard, Kermit.

The other two accidents, locations, and drivers involved were: 1500 block West Second, Donald Pat McPhaul, Big Spring, and a parked car, owner unknown; rear of 215 Main, Mattie Combs Wren, 700 E. 14th, and building at 215 Main.

Youth Group Helps Sponsor Walker's Talk

The Young Americans For Freedom, a youth organization formed to stimulate interest in government, will sponsor the broadcast of a speech to be delivered by General E. A. Walker in Odessa Saturday, according to Mrs. Lorin S. McDowell, advisor.

An Indignation Rally to protest aid to Yugoslavia is being conducted at the Odessa Coliseum Saturday at 7:30 p.m. by the National Indignation Convention. Local sponsors under the title of the Big Spring Chapter of the Convention are sponsoring advertising of the rally.

Aviation Committee Discusses Brief

Members of the air transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce heard a report on the request for increased air service for the local airport at a meeting Thursday evening at the Chamber office.

Dr. M. W. Talbot said information and personal testimony brought out in the regional hearing of the southwest carrier's case in Dallas held in 1960 was included in a brief mailed to the Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington, D. C. Also included in the brief was a favorable report handed down by the examiner for the CAB.

The examiner recommended that Trans-Texas Airways serve Big Spring with five flights daily to replace the two-flight daily service currently received from Continental Airlines. Other information about Big Spring, such as population and industry, which is pertinent to support of air services, was included in the report.

"It may be necessary to have someone appear personally before the CAB before anything is done," Davidson said, indicating that although everything appeared favorable, the issue is still not settled.

Another subject discussed was organization of local flying clubs should enough persons be interested. Spokesmen from Webb Air Force Base said Base Operations and the Howard County Airport Board could work together to avoid conflicts in flight patterns and to keep the Airport notified of changes which might affect private flying.

Gene Nabors will organize a group to check into the possibility of improving the looks of the Howard County Airport by planting trees and shrubbery. He will work with the Airport Board to see what can be done.

Dr. F. W. Lurting and Clyde McMahon are co-chairmen of the air transportation committee.

Streets Not Badly Damaged

Pavement on some streets in Big Spring suffered from the hard freeze last week where moisture caused crumbling. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said Friday morning.

"An inspection of our pavement showed that we got off lucky because of the lack of moisture during and before the blizzard," he said. "Twelve places, mostly small, were discovered during the inspection and are scheduled to be repaired as soon as temperatures permit."

"If we had received some rain or other moisture before or during the minus five degree weather, the city's budget would have suffered tremendously," Dunn said. "I understand that Midland and Odessa, both receiving moisture, lost whole blocks of pavement when ice beneath it caused crumbling."

Small places where crumbling, or other damage, resulted from the freeze, were at the West Fourth and Bell intersection; West Fifth and Bell intersection; Bell, between West Fifth and Sixth and between West Sixth and Seventh, West Seventh, between Scurry and Main; Johnson, between Tenth and Eleventh Place; Sycamore, and Rosemont intersection; Sycamore, between Rosemont and State; Northeast Second and Goliad intersection, and two small places on Northwest Fourth, west of Lamesa Drive.

Two large areas were found on Seventh, between Gregg and Scurry, and on Settles, between Twelfth and Thirteenth.

Chamber Lists Texans' Share Of Budget

ABILENE — Texas taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $3,940,500,000 in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending program of $22.5 billion proposed by President Kennedy for the Federal fiscal year beginning July 1, 1962, according to an estimate today by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The estimate was based on the West Texas Chamber's calculations that the Texas taxpayers bear 4.26 per cent of all Federal taxes.

The West Texas Chamber pointed out that any change which Congress may make in this budget will reduce or increase the amount that Texas taxpayers will have to bear depending on whether Congress cuts or spends more.

Names Favorite Exercise

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Has Wise Diet And Favorite Exercise

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — "I feel like celebrating today," June Kenny announced, "because my weight is back to normal. I went all out during the holidays and I've been dieting and exercising ever since to lose what I had gained. I am really very disciplined. A girl who is five feet two has to be, but I feel that the holidays come but once a year so I might as well live it up. But that egoism is murder to the figure, and I think that next year I'll try to be more careful."

"I have tried all kinds of diets, but I think when you count every calorie, your mind is on food so much you give yourself a false appetite. I do much better by concentrating on protein, salads and fruits and giving up all sweets, fats and starches. But losing weight goes faster with exercise. My spot for those added pounds is my hipline. I know by the way my zipper goes up and down when I've gained a pound," she revealed.

June was wearing a sheath for a role on CBS-TV, and when she came back from doing a scene, I told her she had done a good job on her hips.

"I can really whittle away the inches with one good exercise that I do each morning and night. My favorite is to steady myself by holding on to the back of a chair and swinging my leg back and forth 10 times until the circulation is up. Then I lift my leg with the knee bent and swing it to the side, trying to keep the knee in position. I bring it back to the front, stretch my leg straight out and bring my foot to the floor. Then I repeat the exercise with the other leg.

A lot depends on how well you concentrate on keeping your back erect. If you exercise without thinking about what you are doing, you won't be rewarded by good results," June said in parting.

MORE EXERCISES
The law of keeping your muscles firm is to USE or LOSE! Here is an unusual leaflet which will put you on the road to suppleness. Leaflet M-91, "Exercising With Dynamic Tension," shows how you can accomplish more with a short routine than with a long workout. FILM CLUB

Children's Theatre Date Postponed For One Week

The next attraction for the children's theatre of the Big Spring Film Club will be shown Jan. 27, and not this coming Saturday, a club official, Mrs. Connie Wade, said today.

The children's schedule normally calls for a show each alternate Saturday, but Mrs. Wade pointed out that the January schedule is irregular. The last movie was presented Jan. 6.

All showings are in HCJC auditorium and admission is by season ticket.

Mrs. Wade added that the regular Jan. 27 booking of "State Fair" had been cancelled by the distributors and that "Treasure Island" would be shown instead.

The party will be given Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Andrews home, 1605 Lancaster, and will include games of canasta, bridge, rook and others. Admission is set at 50 cents. Funds will go into the welfare work done by the group.

A report was heard in the coffee given Wednesday morning at the VA Hospital; Mrs. Jenny Appleton was a guest.

The next meeting is slated for Feb. 15, in the home of Mrs. Felton Smith, 810 Runnels.

Mrs. Coffey Gives Hyperion Program

Mrs. J. A. Coffey presented the program on Peru for the 1962 Hyperion Club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robert T. Piner. This was in line with the study the club is making on "Exploring America."

A scholarship is planned for a student at Howard County Junior College and will be awarded at a later date.

The next meeting is slated for Feb. 21 in the home of Mrs. Sam Anderson, 900 W. 17th.

Wise Family To Move To Pecos

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wise and son, Bobby, will be moving to Pecos in a few days. Wise is being transferred to Pecos by the Continental Oil Company.

Forsan Club Members See Fashions

"Winter Wonderland" was the theme of the fashion show staged Thursday evening by the Forsan Study Club at the school.

Members and guests viewed models who had made their attire as part of the Vogue Sewing Contest, sponsored by the National Federation of Women's Clubs. Winners will enter the district competition.

Mrs. W. M. Romans was winner in the adult division, with Mrs. Ray Shortes second; in the student division, Paula Sue Gordon was chosen first and Jeanette Rutherford, second.

Commentator was Mrs. Hamlin K. Elrod, who discussed the fashions as 26 women and girls, along with 10 youngsters, paraded through a background of white and silver.

Following the revue, tea was served from a table laid in white net over taffeta and decorated in the chosen theme.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. C. Ferguson, Mrs. Bob Cowley, Mrs. Ozro Allison, Mrs. Bill Conger, Mrs. J. B. Hoard and Mrs. Don Murphy.

The next meeting is scheduled for Feb. 1, at the school, when the subject will be "Women in the Home."

Benefit Party Is Planned

A benefit card party was planned Thursday morning by members of the Gold Star Mothers when they met in the home of Mrs. John Andrews.

The party will be given Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Andrews home, 1605 Lancaster, and will include games of canasta, bridge, rook and others. Admission is set at 50 cents. Funds will go into the welfare work done by the group.

A report was heard in the coffee given Wednesday morning at the VA Hospital; Mrs. Jenny Appleton was a guest.

The next meeting is slated for Feb. 15, in the home of Mrs. Felton Smith, 810 Runnels.

Church Is P-T-A Topic At Midway

Children of the first grade at Midway School and their teacher, Mrs. M. B. McFall, were in charge of the program for a Parent-Teachers meeting held at the school Thursday evening.

The program included talks on "The Role of the Church in the Home and in the School." The topic was discussed by guest speakers, Mrs. T. F. Lowe, Bill Irwin and M. B. McFall.

During a business session members voted to purchase a film strip as their end-of-the-year project. Also they planned to buy an evergreen shrub to be planted on Founders Day, Feb. 17.

Presbyterian Circle Meets

Evans Moffett Circle of St. Paul Presbyterian Church met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bill Edwards for Bible study on the theme, "Faith Without Works is Dead." Mrs. Edwards led the study which was preceded by prayer offered by Mrs. Leon Moffett.

The circle's first project, to purchase robes for the choir, was completed, after which refreshments were served to 10 members present.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. E. Gibson Jr., Feb. 15.

Credit Women Meet For Lunch

Nineteen members of the Credit Women's Club were present for a luncheon-meeting held Wednesday at the Wagon Wheel.

Mrs. A. G. Eitzen presided and minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. James Eubanks. In the capsule drawing, Pearl Bradshaw was winner.

Correspondence was read concluding the meeting.

Bridge Group Fetes Leader

Mrs. J. D. Robertson was honored Thursday evening at the duplicate bridge session at Webb AFB Officers' Club; Mrs. Elmo Wasson presented a gift from the club to Mrs. Robertson, who is resigning her directorship of the group.

Taking over the leadership of the games will be Mrs. Jack Wickard.

Master point night was observed by the players at 11 tables.

Winners, north-south, were Mrs. Fred Haller and J. H. Jernigan, first; Mrs. Travis Reed and Mrs. Hayden Griffith, second; Mrs.

Charles Tompkins and Mrs. Tom South, third; Mrs. Champ Rainwater and Mrs. J. Y. Robb, fourth. East-west winners were Mrs. J. H. Holloway and Mrs. Robertson, first; Mrs. Fred Kasch and Mrs. Jack Irons, second; Mrs. Paul Leo and Mrs. Wickard, third; Mrs. Lloyd Nalls and Mrs. Bill Emerson, fourth.

The vehicle, a gift of the Ford Motor Co., also came with two cases of spare parts and a complete tool box.

Blue Shield, AMA Announce Own Plan For Aid To Aged

CHICAGO (AP)—A new low-cost medical and surgical insurance plan for the aged has been announced by Blue Shield, a nationwide insurance program, and the American Medical Association.

The plan would provide benefits for all persons over 65 for as low as $3 a month. It must be approved and worked out by the 69 Blue Shield affiliates and local and county medical groups.

The AMA said it is recommending that all state medical societies cooperate fully with their local Blue Shield affiliates to put the plan into operation as soon as possible.

First reaction from a few officials of medical groups was generally in favor of the program. Most officials withheld comment pending a study of the details.

The proposal, with one agreed upon less than two weeks ago by the American Hospital Association and the Blue Cross Association, completes organized medicine's answer to President Kennedy's plan to place health care for the aged under Social Security.

The AHA and Blue Cross agreed on a private hospitalization plan for retired persons over 65—to cost $10 to $12 per person a month—under which the federal government would be asked to pay the premiums for all those unable to do so.

The principle of ability to pay, with the most assistance to the needy, is involved in both plans.

Blue Cross is a hospitalization insurance plan while Blue Shield covers specified medical services.

John W. Castellucci, executive vice president of the National Association of Blue Shield Plans, said the Blue Shield program will pay the full cost of medical-surgical services for a single person over 65 with an annual income of $2,500 or less and for a husband and wife with combined income of $4,000 or less.

He said enrollees with income above these limits could be subject to an additional charge at the discretion of the individual physician.

The cheaper monthly charge for Blue Shield is made possible, a plan spokesman said, by the willingness of physicians to lower their fees for the aged. This already is being done in several Blue Shield plans covering the aged, he said.

Castellucci said the plan would provide payments for anesthesia, radiation treatments, X-ray examinations and laboratory tests and pathology services, in addition to surgery, whether performed in a hospital or licensed nursing home.

The extent of coverage for doctors' visits in a hospital or nursing home has not been decided, Castellucci said, but the program expects to provide no fewer than 30 visits and maybe as many as 70.

DEAR ABBY

Might Be A Little Stiff

DEAR ABBY: How does a 17-year-old high school boy get his parents to realize he is not 2 years old? Last Saturday night I came home later than I said I would. It wasn't my fault. The kid who owned the car wanted to go for a ride and I couldn't get home without him. When I got home, my folks had all but called the cops looking for me. I was only an hour and ten minutes late.

It's all over school and I feel like a baby. My parents have grounded me for a whole month. I gave them my word if they let me off this time it would never happen again. They refused. Don't you think the punishment is unfair or too stiff?

GROUNDED

DEAR GROUNDED: If you told the truth, the discipline is excessive. If you lied, you are getting off easy. Personally, I believe your story.

DEAR ABBY: My sister and I would like to know why some men never get married. We know several bachelors who are from 35 to 60. They are very nice men, but if they go with a girl for a while and she gets serious, they quit dating her. These bachelors say they never expect to get married. It's not that they can't afford it, either. Most of them have good jobs and drive nice cars and have money in the bank. Is there some way to change the mind of a man in this category?

TWO OLD MAIDS

DEAR TWO: Bachelors who have been lured, hornswoggled or roped into marriage make the worst husbands. It's better to be an old maid than to wish you were one.

DEAR ABBY: I think I've spoiled my husband. I would never go out in public with my hair in pin curls, but what's wrong with being that way in the morning? I have been married eight months. At first I would slip out of bed after my husband fell asleep and put my hair up in pin curls. Then I'd get up half an hour before he did and take my hair down and comb it. Lately I have been too sleepy to get up early and take the pin curls out, and boy, have I been catching it! He says I am ugly. Don't you think a woman has a right to appear before her husband in the morning with pin curls?

YOUNG WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It's your breakfast "image" that your husband carries to work with him, to last until he gets home in the evening. Make it good and it won't fade.

A Devotional for Today

Let us put our love not into words or into talk but into deeds, and make it real. (1 John 3:18. Moffatt.) PRAYER: Gracious Lord, I would bring into Thy presence just now all my desires and longings, all my gifts, and all my interests. Touch my life anew with Thy spirit, I pray Thee; kindle anew my love, that my religion may continually express deepest reality. Combine within my experience today that rich faith and joy of those who walk the way with Thee. In the Master's name. Amen.

Economy Can Produce A Wider Margin

Although the distribution varied, the total of $2.5 billion dollars for a total federal budget asked by the President held good.

In his budget message, President Kennedy anticipated a surplus of little less than half a billion dollars. This, as indicated meeting the proposed budgetary outlays, is predicated upon a continuing, rosy economic situation.

It may well be that the President has followed the psychology of asking for more than he anticipates will be authorized. However, this cannot be assumed in arriving at appropriations for all causes.

The budget, as proposed, is at a record level with the possible exception of the peak days of World War II when three-fourths of the total was going for defense. The suggested $2.7 billion dollars for defense is well over 55 per cent of the suggested total.

Calculating a 463 million surplus is cutting it too thin. The slightest deviation of emergency could wipe it out.

Of course we are in a precarious time, and the huge defense request is evidence of it. But we are also in a time of unprecedented economic gain. If we cannot achieve a substantial surplus in such times, when can we ever expect to make any headway against the public debt? To be sure we are in a cold war, but if we cannot balance our books now, what hope would there be in time of a hot war?

We cannot agree with the President's reasoning that a larger margin would "risk choking off economic recovery and contributing to a premature downturn." On the contrary, achieving a substantial surplus to be applied to debt reduction (and possibly tax reduction) would contribute greatly to economic vigor.

The budget can be pared. Based on some previous estimates of a 48.5 billion outlay, even the defense proposals are not sacrosanct. This being the case, non-defense items are certainly not immune to close scrutiny and needful austerity.

Soap And Water

Consider soap, that most common of household commodities. Consider the unstinted flow of pure water that brings the soap to cleansing life.

Soap and water—simple, commonplace things that we accept as our due yet could not get along without. They are mentioned here to illustrate a striking fact. This fact is that many things Americans take for granted—not merely enough food and adequate shelter, but numerous amenities that go with those basic needs—are not the common lot among multitudes of human beings scattered about the globe.

It is often said that Americans are more fortunate than most peoples; but small knowledge and perception are required to realize that. Something of an effort of the imagination is necessary, however, to understand how many things ordinary in our lives are extraordinary or even wholly unattainable in the lives of millions of human beings elsewhere.

An abundance of soap and water is available to most Americans. This points up, more graphically than a whole column of statistics, the measure of our good fortune. With this goes an opportunity to help others to help themselves to attain at least these simple blessings.

The New Federal Coercion

WASHINGTON — Lots of things are "new" under the Kennedy administration besides the "New Frontier," and one of them is the new demagoguery.

Webster's New World Dictionary defines a demagogue as "a person who tries to stir up the people by appeals to emotion, prejudice, etc., in order to become a leader and achieve selfish ends."

OFFICIALS of the Kennedy administration from the President down, as well as some members of Congress, have launched a crusade to cause social clubs in Washington to admit Negroes as members. Although these clubs are private institutions—like a private home—high officials of the Kennedy administration have used their power of publicity to denounce those clubs which for years have selected their members without regard to outside pressures. The purpose, of course, is to win votes not only in this area but in all the Northern states of the Union.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY told his press conference that his application for membership to a local club, which had been recently withdrawn, would not be resubmitted. It had been sponsored by Professor Galbraith, U. S. ambassador to India, who resigned from the club when it turned down the application of a Negro for membership. No information has been made available as to whether the club did or did not reject the application on racial grounds or whether it was done because of some failure of the applicant to meet all requirements for membership. Various white applicants also have not been admitted.

A more drastic step has been taken by Rep. Herbert Zelenko, Democrat, of New York, who has just introduced in Congress a bill that would prohibit the District of Columbia from issuing food and beverage licenses or occupancy permits to any club that practices racial or religious discrimination in the admission of members. Who is to find out why an admissions committee declines to elect an applicant?

WHAT OF THE CLUBS in other cities? This is supposed to be a state and municipal matter, but the federal government these days is not dismayed by such barriers. Mr. Kennedy in his state-of-the-union message boasted that his administration "has shown as never before how much could be done through the full use of executive powers."

Thus, any business which wants to retain or get a contract with the government can be threatened with withdrawal or denial of such contract unless its employment policies and purchasing practices conform to the interpretation of "civil rights" laid down by the executive branch of the government.

THIS VERY procedure not only is being used with government contractors, but reaches down into subcontracts. Business is not allotted to subcontractors unless they, too, will agree to conform to the obligations of the contractor in his relations with the federal government on matters of discrimination in employment. Congress has never written a law covering these matters, and it's all being done by what the President calls "full use of executive powers."

Likewise, tax exemptions granted to non-profit organizations can be presumably withdrawn if will be the administration if they do not toe the mark—though a few "freedom rides" may be required to force action in this field.

THE PLIGHT of government officials themselves, incidentally, now is an unhappy one. The President said in a statement to his press conference this week about the episode in which a Negro official of the State Department was denied membership in a local club:

"I have said from the beginning that I thought this was a personal matter which involved not only the members of this government, but involves everyone in the city and everyone in the country, and every individual must make his judgment in the way that he believes to be right and I have stated that my application for the Cosmos Club was not being renewed."

IS THIS A HINT that all government officials should follow the lead of the President? His brother, the Attorney General, resigned from a club here that declines to admit Negroes. How long can other officials withstand the pressure being exerted? Many of the clubs here have members employed by the government or members who do business with the government.

TO THE NEW demagoguery, however, there may have to be added the "new hypocrisy." For there are lots of officials in the Kennedy administration—including President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson—who belong to clubs here and in New York and other parts of the country which practice various forms of racial and religious discrimination. Will some administration official soon go to the annual meetings of such clubs and demand the passage of resolutions condemning what their admissions committees do when they bar certain applicants? It is just as logical, and it all comes under the head of the new coercion and the new demand for conformity.

She Was Followed GLOBE, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Kunz thought something was wrong as she drove away from a Globe market in her pickup. A strange car was following her very closely. She drove three blocks and the car still was right behind her. Pulling over to investigate, she discovered she had been towing a car whose bumper had become lodged in a trailer hitch on the pickup.

NOT OFTEN YOU GET TWO AT ONCE

James Marlow

It's Not The Same World

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you're over 35, do you ever feel a bit lost and left out in the world as it is today? It's not the world you grew up in.

That was pretty much like the one your ancestors knew from away back. Now — distances shorter, speed faster, a billion more people, too many new nations to remember, science and weapons fantastic.

Nothing shows the change better than the dry, matter-of-fact budget message President Kennedy Thursday sent Congress as his estimate of the cost of running the government another year.

THIS COVERS everything from lighthouse service, widows' annuities and metabolic diseases to missile-firing submarines and work on sending men to the moon and around it.

A few figures will demonstrate what has happened in a little over 30 years when the world population, now over 3 billion, was only 2 billion. Take 1929:

There were only 122 million people in this country then; now there are more than 185 million. Government spending then was just a little over $3 billion; Kennedy's estimate for the fiscal year starting July 1 is $92.5 billion.

Strangely even in those days 33 years ago — when the United States had a tiny Army, a few warplanes, plus a Navy and old-fashioned cannon—defense costs made up a big part of the government's total expenses.

THEN DEFENSE costs were $1.3 billion out of a total $3 billion spent. But, of the $92.5 billion Kennedy says will have to be spent next year, $32.7 billion will go into defense.

In 1929 before the depression—foreign aid was something no one dreamed of. Yet, in the 18 years since World War II this country has put over $85 billion into foreign aid.

Kennedy this time asked for nearly $8 billion of new foreign aid funds. And, he figures, the cost will go up in the future. Details of the difference between the world of today and of the 1920's are endless.

For those who grew up before missiles, hydrogen bombs, satellites and lunar flight one tiny item, truly glossed over in the 1,539 packed pages of Kennedy's budget is a chilling reminder of the difference between now and the 1920's.

This item, just a few lines, is the only mention of the Central Intelligence Agency America's super-spy outfit overseas. A few small figures on the cost of a new CIA building and the salaries of the men who put it up.

NOT A WORD about how much CIA spends on spying — a good guess is about $1 billion a year — or how many people it has, although in the Washington area alone it has perhaps 10,000 to 15,000.

This agency is so hush-hush, reporting directly to the President, that Congress itself never knows how much money it votes for CIA every year. The funds are concealed in the money voted for other agencies.

Spying is old. But the worldwide and densely concealed operations of this agency, upon whose information important government decisions are made, make spying in the 1920's look as simple as a peeping tom.

Its very existence makes the world of today, compared with the 1920's, look sinister and deadly beyond anything imagined then. And, of course, it is.

Back To The Cave, Men

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Should a nuclear war come, east and middle Tennesseans may find themselves back in man's earliest home—the cave.

The state division of geology has released a study of the more than 700 limestone caves lacking the area and Civil Defense experts have pointed out they make excellent fallout shelters.

The caves are good for this purpose because they meet two basic requirements—shelter and uncontaminated water — CD experts say.

"Dear Dr. Molner: It is my understanding that Vitamin A is the only one that can be stored by the body. What are the symptoms of Vitamin A poisoning? I have been taking 50,000 units a day for a skin condition. — Mrs. S. C."

No, Vitamins A, B and D are all stored (B less than the others). Excess Vitamin A shows first by a yellowness of the skin, especially the palms and soles, with other disorders later. The amount you are taking might be described as "average maximum," so there is no apparent reason to be disturbed about it.

Around The Rim

Remember Rocks From Space?

Some random opinions:

I know it's not cricket to say "I told you so," but I will anyway. If you closely read yesterday's Herald, you noticed one of General Electric's leading scientists talking seriously about snatching an asteroid out of its orbit and directing it at an Earthly target—with enough impact energy to shatter a continent.

Well, a couple of months ago I had a series of columns about using "rocks from space" as ultimate weapons. I feel vindicated, and am momentarily expecting messages of congratulations from Admiral Rickover and Dr. Von Braun—and perhaps a few ghostly words from Billy Mitchell.

But now that it's official, here's a random opinion on the ultimate weapon. Why not just snatch the moon or some similar large object, obliterate the Earth, and thus solve all our problems?

SEEMS THAT every time man takes a hand in combatting the excesses of nature, a few old-maidish types kick up a ruckus. Within the last year or so there have been protests against a Legion post clubbing rabbits to death in a mass hunt to get rid of the varmints (clubs are cheaper than bullets, you know, and much more effective); the killing or removal of goony birds on Lake Island, where they are a threat to wandering jets; the killing of sparrows and starlings in certain big cities. Yet, some of these same people in one instance insisted that all stray cats be captured and gassed—not because of the usual public health reasons, but because the cats eat birds. Cats get as hungry as people, and they help to keep down bird pest populations. These people should remember that there is such a thing as natural law.

SOME OF OUR juvenile laws border on the idiotic. In New York a few years ago, a boy aged 16 killed a policeman, but he was too young to be tried for murder. He was tried and convicted at age 17. But 17 is too young legally for execution. So, the state held him in death row until his 18th birthday, at which time they gave him a birthday present — his last.

This makes no sense. If a young person is morally accountable for his actions at 16, he is equally accountable for whatever punishment is provided by law at that same age. Conversely, if a person is not accountable for actions committed at age 16, he is not accountable to the executioner at any age.

CONSTITUTIONALLY, the law provides punishment for criminal offenses, but forbids vengeance or unnecessary cruelty. And it was both vengeful and cruel to hold that teen-ager for an unnecessary two years to electrocute him.

The example given concerned New York and murder, but nearly every state, including Texas, has inequities in juvenile laws. Some evening-up is needed. —BOB SMITH

Britain's Royal Soap Opera

That peculiarly American art form, the washboard weeper or soap opera, flourishing here on stage, screen, teevee and radio, has never been able to leap the Atlantic to success in England.

Neither is this inexplicable. England, for centuries, has had its own real life soap opera, centered in its royal family, beside which any other washboard weeper is drab and lusterless. The competition from the real thing is too stiff for any soap serial.

THE BRITISH PRESS and people hang on every detail of the life and times of the royal family, and what they don't know they are never loath to make up. The graveyard out of Buckingham, Windsor Castle or Sandringham is far faster than telegraph.

However, accustomed as she is to glass houses, there must be days when Princess Margaret wonders what's hit her. In the years since the death of her father, the late King George VI, the princess has been transformed from the darling of the empire into the Commonwealth's fall girl.

PRINCESS MARGARET was Papa's pet and his subjects once thought her the cutest thing on two feet. But now she has been cast as the villainess of England's long-run weeper. Every soap opera must have a heroine who is beautiful, pure, patient and much put upon. That's her Majesty. Likewise, it must have a stock character who can never, ever do anything right. That's Princess Margaret.

Only last month two British newspapers with national circulations shouted that the Princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, nee Antony Armstrong-Jones, weren't earning their keep or government allowance of $42,000 annually.

ANGRY RIVALS of the Sunday Times are howling like banshees "that the Queen's close relative is used for the enlargement and enrichment of the newspaper empire" owned by Roy Thomson, Canadian press lord. He is publisher of the Sunday Times.

So Lord Snowdon is damned if he doesn't and doubly damned if he does, and the same goes for his wife.

Sometimes I wonder if the British monarchy is anchored as firmly to its throne as the word assumes. Or if the attacks on Princess Margaret and her husband are subtle attacks on the institution of monarchy by persons lacking the courage to make a frontal assault.

THE BRITISH are in love with their pretty, hard-working Queen. But will that romance, for such it is, carry over into a tough, modern world to enfold her son Charles, a nice, stolid boy who is yet to show any signs of genius or brilliance. The Angry Young Men, notably John Osborne and Lord Altrincham, have already launched a vehement offensive against Her Majesty. So, in a way, the frontal attack has begun.

IT IS THE NATURE of soap operas that they are almost interminable — almost. In the present instance, the $64 question is not whether the Princess and her husband will duck the rap but whether, in the long run, the monarchy itself will be able to beat it.

Tune in tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow to discover if Meg is forgiven. If Tony gets to keep his job and if the monarch, God Save the Queen! hangs on to hers. (Copyright, 1962, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

A Little Better Outlook For The U.N.

WASHINGTON — A series of fortunate developments begin to make it appear that United Nations policy will at the very least succeed in preventing the worst from happening in the Congo. The worst, it is scarcely necessary to add, would be civil war, with intervention by the big powers in the pattern of Spain and hideous tribal conflict as a grisly side show.

WITH THE possibility — even perhaps the probability — that this difficult venture in U. N. order-keeping will succeed, it is believed that the administration's chances for getting Congressional approval of American underwriting for part of the $200,000,000 bond issue have improved. There is certainly room for improvement. The odds have been running against a proposal on which the Kennedy Administration has staked its own prestige and the future well being, if not the existence, of the U. N.

The decision to put so many chips on this one card was taken with due deliberation. The choice appeared to be clearly between a U. N. that was an effective agency for order-keeping and a U. N. that was an amiable debating society which would gradually decline into futility and decay.

THE POWERFUL interests that have backed the secession of Katanga welcome a chance to see the U. N. reduced to impotence. So would the Soviet Union, which has been enraged by the measure of U. N. success thus far in the Congo, and France and the Arab states that have treated the world organization with more or less open contempt.

But others who have been genuinely committed to the U. N. are disturbed by the bond issue proposal. Senator George Aiken of Vermont, a moderate Republican who has given strong bipartisan support to a wide range of foreign policy issues, calls it ill-advised.

THE CHOICE, as seen by policy-makers here, was between bankruptcy with perhaps the collapse of the U. N. and a rescue operation in the form of the $200,000,000 bond issue of which this government has agreed to underwrite up to one-half. In the first instance it may have been unwise to have defrayed the cost of the Congo operation through special assessments which member states felt they could ignore without jeopardizing their status in the U. N.

Since this was done, however, there seemed no alternative but to try to make it work until such time as the entire operation could be put on a sounder base. This is being attempted in a three-part operation as follows:

- 1. THE COST of special operations in the Congo and in the Gaza strip is being included in the regular assessment of each member through June.
2. The question of whether such regular assessments are mandatory and must be paid as a condition of membership is being referred to the International Court at The Hague. Legal experts at the U. N. are confident the decision will be in the affirmative.

2. ISSUANCE of the bonds, with provision for repayment over a period of years out of that share of the regular assessment covering special operations.

Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee, chairman of a subcommittee on Africa, is prepared to hold hearings on the U. N. operation in the Congo. With other Senators he made a firsthand study of the Congo operation last fall and returned convinced that it is the most conspicuous example to date of the capacity of the U. N. to keep order in a revolutionary situation. The inquiry may finally be made the responsibility of the full Foreign Relations Committee.

SENATOR DODD went on his own private mission to the Congo, which included a dramatic confrontation with violence in Elisabethville. Closed hearings he has initiated in the Senate Internal Security subcommittee appear to be concerned with the authority of Moise Tshombe in Katanga. If Gore came back persuaded that the U. N. had done the best possible job under almost impossible circumstances, Dodd seems to have returned with just the contrary opinion, and should he get public hearings going it will be to prove his view.

THE DEBATE will be over the future existence of the United Nations and whether it is to survive this time of transition. The final vote, as viewed by those who have staked so much of the administration's prestige on the outcome, will determine whether it is to wither away as a stale debating society or whether, in President Kennedy's phrase, it is to become an effective policeman on the beat. Chest Percussion Discovered 200 Years Ago

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Roving through my reading matter, I note that it is just 200 years since chest percussion was discovered — that business of "thumping" a patient's chest, a method of examination which still has its uses.

An Austrian, Dr. Joseph Leopold Auenbrugger, whose father was an inn-keeper, devised this method, inspiring by having seen his parent rap on wine barrels to estimate the amount they contained.

A full barrel — or a chest cavity containing fluid — does not give the same resonant sound that is heard when there is a substantial empty space.

The physician thus not only can detect some lung ailments but can roughly ascertain the shape of the heart and its size, and while, of course, more precise methods are now in use, for general examination percussion remains very useful in finding cases which may warrant fuller diagnostic tests.

For readers who wonder why the doctor "thumps the chest," there's the answer. Incidentally, Dr. Auenbrugger ran into a great deal of criticism and abuse for announcing his discovery. Some rivals were jealous, some probably were plain bull-headed. That has happened a good many times in the past.

Happily, the doctor lived to see his discovery adopted and praised, but before that happened, he was so violently criticized that he had to resign from his hospital staff position.

Granted that new ideas often get a most rigorous going-over today — and that's healthy — I wonder if perhaps we haven't made some genuine advances over the years in our willingness to accept the new and novel, once proved.

Oh, yes, I'm familiar that as recently as about three decades ago, when early ambulation was first proposed and practiced, there was a threat to "denounce" the physician who originated the idea. The opposition soon evaporated in the face of fair testing of the principle.

There's an insistence on testing ideas now, a demand that we be sure before we accept — but blind prejudice, in this regard, is vanishing. Yes, I think we progress.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I should appreciate it if you would write about symptoms and cure of peptic ulcer." — Mrs. H. G. I recently wrote a booklet,

Hawks, Bronchos Collide Here At 8:00 Saturday

Major Bob Shaw brings his New Mexico Military Institute basketball team to Big Spring Saturday to clash with HCJC in a Western Conference game. The starting hour is 8 o'clock. By that time, the Bronchos will have won their third straight WC game or will limp into town with a 2-1 record. The Roswell team plays San Angelo in San Angelo tonight. That one could go either way. This will be the first game for HCJC in a week. Last Saturday night, they lost a two-point decision to the Texas Tech freshmen in Lubbock. The Jayhawks will log a 14-3 won-lost onto the floor. Going into tonight's game, the Cadets have won six of eight starts. They've averaged 74.5 points a game, compared to 63.4 for the opposition. In their 17 starts, the Hawks have averaged 75.9 points to 59.6 for the common foe. In addition to Texas Tech, the Jayhawks have lost to Cameron, Okla., and Paris, Texas, this season. Most of the Western Conference teams have been taking time off this week for mid-term examinations. The Hawks and the Cadets are no exceptions. Buddy Travis, the local coach, is apt to start a lineup composed of Walter Carter, Ernest Turner, Jim Wilburn, Jerry Tillman and Elvis Spradling. Although Carter stands 6-6 and Spradling is 6-5, the Hawks will give away a lot of height to the Roswell team.

At 7-0, John Larson is one of the tallest junior college players in America. Chris Reddington, a 6-foot-5 player, is the top Roswell hand, however. He's one of the league's leading scorers and has been averaging 11.2 rebounds a game, one of the best records in the league.

In their last start, MMMI shaded San Angelo, 69-52. If they get by San Angelo and HCJC, the Bronchos probably will breeze to their second successive Western Conference title. No one else figures to hold them close. Saturday night's game will be broadcast over radio station KBST Big Spring 1490.

Larry McElyea, star guard, and a tri-captain of the Hawks, was a mid-term scholast; casualty and will not be available to the local team this spring. Absence of McElyea, a sophomore from Abilene, will, of course, hurt the Hawks' depth. HCJC scoring: Walter Carter 127, 126, 300; Ernest Turner 87, 207, 120; Jim Wilburn 69, 207, 120; Jerry Tillman 58, 207, 120; Larry McElyea 58, 207, 120; Bill Thompson 41, 207, 120; Lou Baleston 41, 207, 120; Jim Wilburn 41, 207, 120; Conroy Lacy 41, 207, 120; Bill Thompson 41, 207, 120; Clark Jennings 41, 207, 120; Pete Green 41, 207, 120; Jerry Brooks 41, 207, 120; Team figures: 1204, 753; Opponents: 1084, 603.

The Students went through the double-elimination tournament without a loss. A total of 20 games were un-reeded in the meet, which got under way Jan. 8. Carl Grandberry pushed 12 points through the hoop for the Students while Bob Strauss had 11. For the 331st, C. B. Locke set a fast pace with 15 points. Rangy Midland 'Dogs Churn By Longhorns

Uncanny outside shooting in the early stages of the game by Joe Sanchez plus complete domination of the boards by their tall boys accelerated the Midland Bulldogs to a 67-46 District 2-AAAA basket-ball victory over the Big Spring Steers here Thursday night. The Steers, now 1-4 in district play and 13-6 overall, visit Abilene for a game against the Eagles Saturday night. Excellent shooting by Dick Edling kept the Steers as close as they were last night. Edling, hitting practically all of his shots from about quarter court, went up with 27 points—tops for either team. James Adams and Bob Itner completely dominated the boards for the Bulldogs. Adams stands 6-foot-7, a good five inches taller than any thing the Longhorns could field. Itner is only a couple of inches shorter. Adams counted 24 points for the Bulldogs. Sanchez fouled out late in the third period but not before he tallied 18 points for Midland. He didn't miss a shot in the first period. Dwain White had 12 points for the Bulldogs, who now stand 4-1 in conference play and are conceding the best chance to overtake Odessa High in the race. Rickey Wisener broke loose for a crisp and hit on a long shot for the Steers. He wound up as the Longhorns' second top point-getter, with eight points. Midland also won the B game, 43-42, and it was a real thriller. The resident Dogies were down 13 points at half time but grabbed the lead late in the game. Midland then intercepted the ball in the final 30 seconds and scored the point that nailed down the win. In that one, Jeff Brown scored 19 points for the Dogies while Eddie Shirley led 17 for Midland. Following the game, coach Jimmy Marcus of Big Spring said it was the Dogies' top effort this year.

Four Champs Will Return

ODESSA — Four Open Class champions will defend titles in the 16th annual Golden Gloves tournament scheduled here Feb. 1-3-5. They are Stephen Armesto, 112, Odessa; Domingo Romero, 118, Midland; Zeké Sanchez, 126, Odessa; and Cruz Rangel Jr., 147, Odessa. Rangel may fight in the 135-pound division this year. Boxers are expected to represent these seven teams: Odessa Boys Club, Guadalupe Community Center of Midland, Crane Jaycees, Midland Optimist, Fort Stockton Boxing Club, Winkler County Youth Center of Kermit and Abilene Boys Club. Members of those teams will be weighed in their own gyms the afternoon and night of January 31, the day before the start of the four-night tournament. Entrants who are not members of those teams must weigh in at the Odessa Boys Club, corner of East 19th and Center Streets, between 5 and 7 p.m. January 31. Ringside tickets can be ordered by mail now. They are priced at $2 each for the first three nights and $2.50 for the championship finals. An additional 25 cents should be included to take care of mailing costs. Checks or money orders should be made out to Odessa Amateur Boxing Association and orders should be mailed to The Odessa American, Box 2852, Odessa. The tournament will be held in the Ector County Coliseum.

Elbow Cagers Win Over Coahomans

ELBOW — Boys' and girls' basketball teams representing Elbow won two games over Coahoma contingents in conference play here Thursday evening. The boys won, 42-26, after the girls had finished on the long end of a 38-15 score. In the boys' game, Doug Franklin hit a season's high of 25 points and Ray McKinlon had 11, both for Elbow. Jack Ellis and McKinlon did fine jobs in the back courts for the winners. For Coahoms, Mosley tossed in 20 points while Perigo and Butler each tallied three. The Elbow boys now have a 6-3 conference record and are 7-5 overall. In the girls' tilt, Jodie Dodds tallied 13 points, Kayla Lawson 11 and Jessie Arnold eight for Elbow while Donna Duke had six, Regina Williams five and Cynthia Buchanan four for Coahoma. The Elbow girls boast a district mark of 7-2 and an overall record of 8-4. They led at half time, 26-1. The Elbow teams play the winners in the Flower Grove-Stanton games in the Grady tournament today.

DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist Coach Hayden Fry reports three more football stars have decided to sign pre-enrollment applications at the Dallas school. They are guard Billy Morrow of Hooks, tackle Dougland January of Houston Aldine and linebacker John Palmer of Yuleta. They're due to sign up Feb. 1, the first date allowed under South-western Conference rules.

Two Local Teams Win At Andrews

ANDREWS — Two Big Spring teams survived first round play in the annual Andrews Junior High School Basketball tournament here Thursday night. Big Spring Runnels fashioned its first win of the season at the expense of Brownfield, 56-36, getting major assists from two eighth grade boys, Joe Jaure and Tony Sarcho. Big Spring Goliad flogged Plains in another game, 52-33. Jaure led Runnels in scoring with 20 points while Teddy Graham came in for 16. Goliad, which now has a 3-7 won-lost record, was paced by Don White, who had 14 points, and James Foster, who had 12. Goliad plays the winner of the Lamesa-Tulace, N. M. game at 7 o'clock this evening while Runnels oppose the survivor in the Andrews-Denver City clash at 8 o'clock. The tournament winds up Saturday night.

Eder Jofre Is Undisputed Fight Champ

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Jubilant little Eder Jofre is the undisputed bantamweight boxing champion of the world today. The hammer-fisted little stylist, unbeaten in 44 professional fights, solved the squabble over the 118-pound crown with a 10th round technical knockout of Ireland's Johnny Caldwell Thursday night and became Brazil's first undisputed world champion. Caldwell, 23, unbeaten in 20 previous fights, held the European version of the title going into the bout before a turn-away crowd of about 20,000 in Ibirapuera Stadium. Jofre claimed recognition in South America and by the United States' National Boxing Association.

They're tentatively scheduled for a rematch in London, but the date is uncertain. Jofre, 23—a 5-foot-5 slugger who has stopped his last 11 opponents and owns 31 knockouts in his 44-0 record, was in control throughout and had the Irishman on the floor twice. Jofre's vicious left hand put Caldwell down for a nine-count in the 10th of the scheduled 15 rounds. That sealed it. Caldwell pulled himself to his feet and Jofre swarmed to the attack, Caldwell staggered back to the ropes. Jofre smashed home a right to the face and an uppercut to the chin. Caldwell's arms sagged to his sides and he appeared confused and helpless. At this point his manager, Sam Docherty, vaulted through the ropes. That stopped Jofre at the 10th. Jofre, ahead on the cards of all three judges, previously had Caldwell down for a three-count in the fifth, and opened a cut on his nose in the third and eighth. The three judges, Tony Petronella of Providence, R.I., Edmar Teixeira of Brazil and Peter Wilson of England, all had Jofre ahead. Petronella called it 89-83, Teixeira 90-73 and Wilson 88-82. Willie Pep was the referee. Jofre said he hoped to fight Mexican bantamweight Herman Marquez in Los Angeles before a return with Caldwell. No date was mentioned. Jofre weighed 117½, a half pound less than Caldwell, who had to exercise for almost an hour to make the 118 pound limit.

Ex-Collegians Lead Tourney

By JACK STEVENSON Associated Press Sports Writer PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Anything can happen and probably will today in the second round of Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament as the huge field chases two youngsters and a sharp-shooting old timer. Former national collegiate champions Joe Campbell and Phil Rodgers had the lead to themselves at 67 until Chuck Congdon, 52, came along to equal it and wrap the first round of this 72-hole event in a three-way dead-heat.

All three fired over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course. Today they tee off at Pebble Beach, a layout considered two to three strokes tougher. Rodgers of San Diego, the 1958 NCAA champ while at the University of Houston, continued the spectacular golf that won him the Los Angeles Open by nine strokes two weeks ago. Campbell, the collegiate titlist at Purdue in 1953, fired five birdies in the final nine holes to put himself on the top rung. Then Congdon, of Tacoma, Wash., who was playing tournament golf before the other co-leaders were born, blazed in with his 67 that included birdie putts of 40, 20 and 18 feet. Even with their five-under par rounds, the leading trio could count only a one-stroke lead over Jackie Cupit, Bill Casper, Mason Rudolph and Harry Umbinetti, the latter a pro from North Bend, Wash., who was invited by Crosby himself. Cupit and Rudolph both played at Monterey Peninsula but Casper and Umbinetti played at more rugged Cypress Point. By Saturday night all players will have toured each of the three par 72 courses.

At Cypress Thursday PGA champion Jerry Barber and South Africa's Gary Player were soaring to 79's there while Arnold Palmer had a 75. Jack Nicklaus, the 1961 national amateur champ and now a pro, had a 71. Defending champion Bob Rosburg shot only a 75, the same as Art Doering who carded a hole-in-one on the 119-yard seventh at Pebble Beach in the first foursome to play it.

MIDLAND — San Angelo broke in front early and led all the way in defeating Midland Lee, 73-46, in a District 2-AAAA basketball game here Thursday night. Charley Spieker led San Angelo in scoring with 15 points. Four of the San Angelo players hit in double figures. Art Fowler of Lee paced the game's scorers with 24 points. San Angelo now has a 4-1 won-lost record within the conference. Lee is 0-5.

Bible, Camera
Tourists Combine Travel, Religion

NEW YORK (AP)—More and more Americans are combining travel with religion.

They are going, Bible and camera in hand, to Old Jerusalem and Bethlehem in Jordan, to Galilee and Nazareth in Israel. And they are going to Europe as well—to see the shrines at Lourdes, Fatima, Rome, Assisi, Padua, Paray le Monial.

Approximately 20,000 Americans went to the Holy Land in 1960 and 21,000 in 1961. David Lee, director of religious travel for American Express Travel Service, reports: "I think it would be conservative to say there will be between an 8 to 10 per cent increase over 1961 this year."

Tom Broderick, director of the Guild of Catholic Travel says, "There are no official figures of the number of Catholics traveling. But interest in Catholic pilgrimage and Catholic interest tours to Europe and the Holy Land have expanded considerably over the past few years."

"I would say they're increasing at a greater rate than general interest travel is."

"We had a very, very active year in 1960—with the passion play at Oberammergau, an international eucharistic congress in Munich and the Olympic games in Rome. There's always an anticlimax in Catholic travel after a big year. I think '62 will be almost as good as '60."

Broderick adds that most American Catholics touring Europe combine their visits to shrines with stops of historic, scenic and cultural interest.

A study done for the Jordan Tourism Information Service notes that in Jordan, most visitors are interested primarily in the holy places. However, a high percentage don't stay more than two or three days in the country because they are on world tours.

Studies indicate that most of the religious travelers are from small towns, are women, and are over 50 years of age.

But of course there are many exceptions. "On our shorter tours—three weeks for example—we get younger people, often from offices," Lee says.

"And one time I went out to the airport to see a group off to Jordan. And there stood a slender young man in a pair of tight pants. He told me he was a cowboy from Montana and he'd read about the tour in a Catholic weekly magazine one night in the bunkhouse."

"He said when he wasn't reading that magazine, he read the Bible, and he had a great curiosity to see the places in it. 'I don't know how much cowboys make, but he told me he had borrowed $800 from the rancher he worked for in order to go and he'd promised to pay back the money from his wages when he came back.'"

God Is Spirit

THE ONLY WORSHIP ACCEPTABLE TO GOD IS SPIRITUAL WORSHIP; ALL ATTEMPTS TO MAKE IMAGES OF GOD ARE CONDEMNED BY GOD HIMSELF

Scripture—Ezekiel 23:18; John 4:24-26.

By N. SPEER JONES
GOD'S Second Commandment is the subject of today's lesson—and there is no more important or provocative subject for any study, for it includes the character of God Himself and our relation to Him.

F. W. Farrar draws this interesting parallel: "The First Commandment bids us to worship the one God exclusively; the Second bids us to worship Him spiritually. The First Commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the Second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms." (Quoted in "Paloube's Select Notes," p. 21).

As we have indicated before, this second commandment was more of a bombshell in Moses' time than it is now, due to the predominance then of image worship.

The term "graven image" is particularly telling. Physically it meant any piece of stone, metal or wood carved or engraved (graven) into the form of a deity. The word "graven" also means deeply impressed or firmly fixed, and symbolically this indicates the true determination of such image worship.

When one associates with an image, one eventually and inevitably comes to mistake the qualities of the image for those of its model.

The character of God is difficult enough for us mortals to comprehend, with our limited vision; by attempting to represent it in physical form, we limit our vision still more, by discouraging the imagination and by "firmly fixing" in our minds those characteristics of the image as those of God. Such images thus act as dampers, fettering our souls to material specifications, rather than encouraging them to rise to meet the unknown. They attempt to lower God to our terms.

This is emphasized by Christ's idea. An idea is the product of man's mind, and not an active Being which affects other beings. Thus those whose concept of God is of an Absolute Idea or of Tendancy for Righteousness support a religion which lacks this vitality.

A few sidelights: The jealousy of which God speaks is revealing of His love for us, for jealousy is the pain of unreturned or slighted love. God has condescended to love us, and looks for our love in return.

It is interesting that Christ makes one of His profoundest revelations about God to "the woman of Samaria." Women were considered inferior; a Samaritan was a Jew's worst enemy; furthermore, the conversation makes it plain that this particular Samaritan woman was common and unimpaired by ideals, for she was living in adultery after five marriages. Just like Christ's humble birthplace, this passage is one of many signs that greatness may often touch the commonplace.

"ATHEISM"

"Theism" and "Theo" relate to God, "A" in the greek is a negation meaning "No". Hence, an atheist is one who says there is no God. To say there is no God is to say there is nothing higher and greater than man. This, in turn, is to say that man is self-existent and totally self sustained. This also leaves man to make his own rules and to live without respect for higher authority. To respect what the heavens and earth declare, namely that there is God as Creator, redeemer and provider is to respect Him as appellant and plaintiff against evils that exist in the world. A respect for God's existence is to have set up in one's life the purest and strongest standard against trying to "get by" and I'm convinced that atheism is herein guilty of seeking to "get by." It amounts, therefore, to a "setting aside" of principles. It becomes a means of evasion of duty, a kind of anarchy, which, without respect to the authority of God and the Bible sets up erratic standards of its own. Atheism amounts to an effort to "escape."

Since atheism is a denial of Bible authority it may therefore take on many shades and colors. It may deny only a part of the Scripture; it may set up, by way of substitution for Bible authority, a presumed authority of "The Church", so-called. For when once the idea has been destroyed of respecting the authority of the Bible, men can have "thrust down their throats" the idea that religious authority rests in the church or in a priest, a conclave of preachers, or a creed book. Once the idea of anarchy is established, stubborn pride will rule out what Christ says about the church for which he died. What, then, will rule a man's life is, "You go your way and I'll go mine," and "Go to the church of your own choice," and this is always said with a total disregard of Bible teaching. Why should any Bible believer think he has any choice of churches any more than he has a choice of Gods. Please read Ephesians 4:1-6 and John 17:20-21. But not all people are actually atheistic who follow anarchy in religion (The idea of you go your way and I'll go mine), but they do represent one shade or color of disbelief of what the Bible says. "Faith" is more than a bare belief in the existence of God. It is rather a belief in His word (the Bible). To equate faith in God with faith in His word is to equate an atheist with one who does not believe God's word. This is safely within the principle of John 14:15.

Miss Howard Goes To SMU Tuesday

Delores Howard, assistant organist at the First Methodist Church for three years, will leave Tuesday to continue her schooling at Southern Methodist University, where she will major in music. She has completed two years' work at Howard County Junior College.

Miss Howard has studied voice, piano and organ here most of her life under local teachers. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Howard, 1500 Lancaster.

Parsonage To Be Dedicated

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Colorado City's First Methodist Church will hold a dedicatory service for its new parsonage Sunday afternoon at 2:30, according to the Rev. Darris Egger, pastor.

The parsonage, at 1516 Austin Street, was built in 1958, but its dedication could not be held until it was debt free, according to Rev. Egger.

Bishop Paul V. Galloway, San Antonio, presiding bishop for the Southwest and Northwest Texas Conferences, will dedicate the building and will preach at the church at 5:30 p.m.

The Rev. Clarence Collins, Lubbock, and Dr. H. Clyde Smith, Big Spring, district superintendent of the Big Spring District, will assist in the dedication, Egger said.

A reception and open house will be held at the parsonage immediately following the dedication. Among those in the receiving line will be Mrs. Charles C. Thompson, president of WSCS; Gwan Strange, chairman of the official board; Rev. and Mrs. Egger, Bishop Galloway, Rev. and Mrs. Collins, Dr. and Mrs. Smith, and Rev. and Mrs. Cal C. Wright, Colorado City.

New Church Loan
NEW YORK (AP) — The United Presbyterian mission board has borrowed a second $5 million from the New York Life Insurance Company to help finance new churches. A previous loan of the same size aided 130 churches in 31 states in getting started.

Anti-Alcohol Move
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A resolution urging total abstinence and support of legislation to control alcoholic beverages will be presented to the annual International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) in Kansas City Sept. 29-Oct. 4. It was drawn up by church departments here.

First Cana Conference Set

Married couples here will have their first opportunity to attend a Cana Conference at Webb AFB Sunday, Jan. 21 in the Service Club, starting at 4 p.m. and concluding at 6:30 p.m. Renewal of marriage vows and benediction will be in the Base Chapel.

Chaplain, Capt. Howard L. Howard, Catholic chaplain, will conduct the conference using techniques and format gained from attending "The Seminar on Human Factors," conducted at the Catholic University of America in October, 1961.

The Cana Conference will consist of two talks on marriage and family, and a general discussion period. Topics to be treated are love in marriage, importance of sex, complete unity in marriage, psychology of the sexes, help toward happiness, and vocation of parenthood.

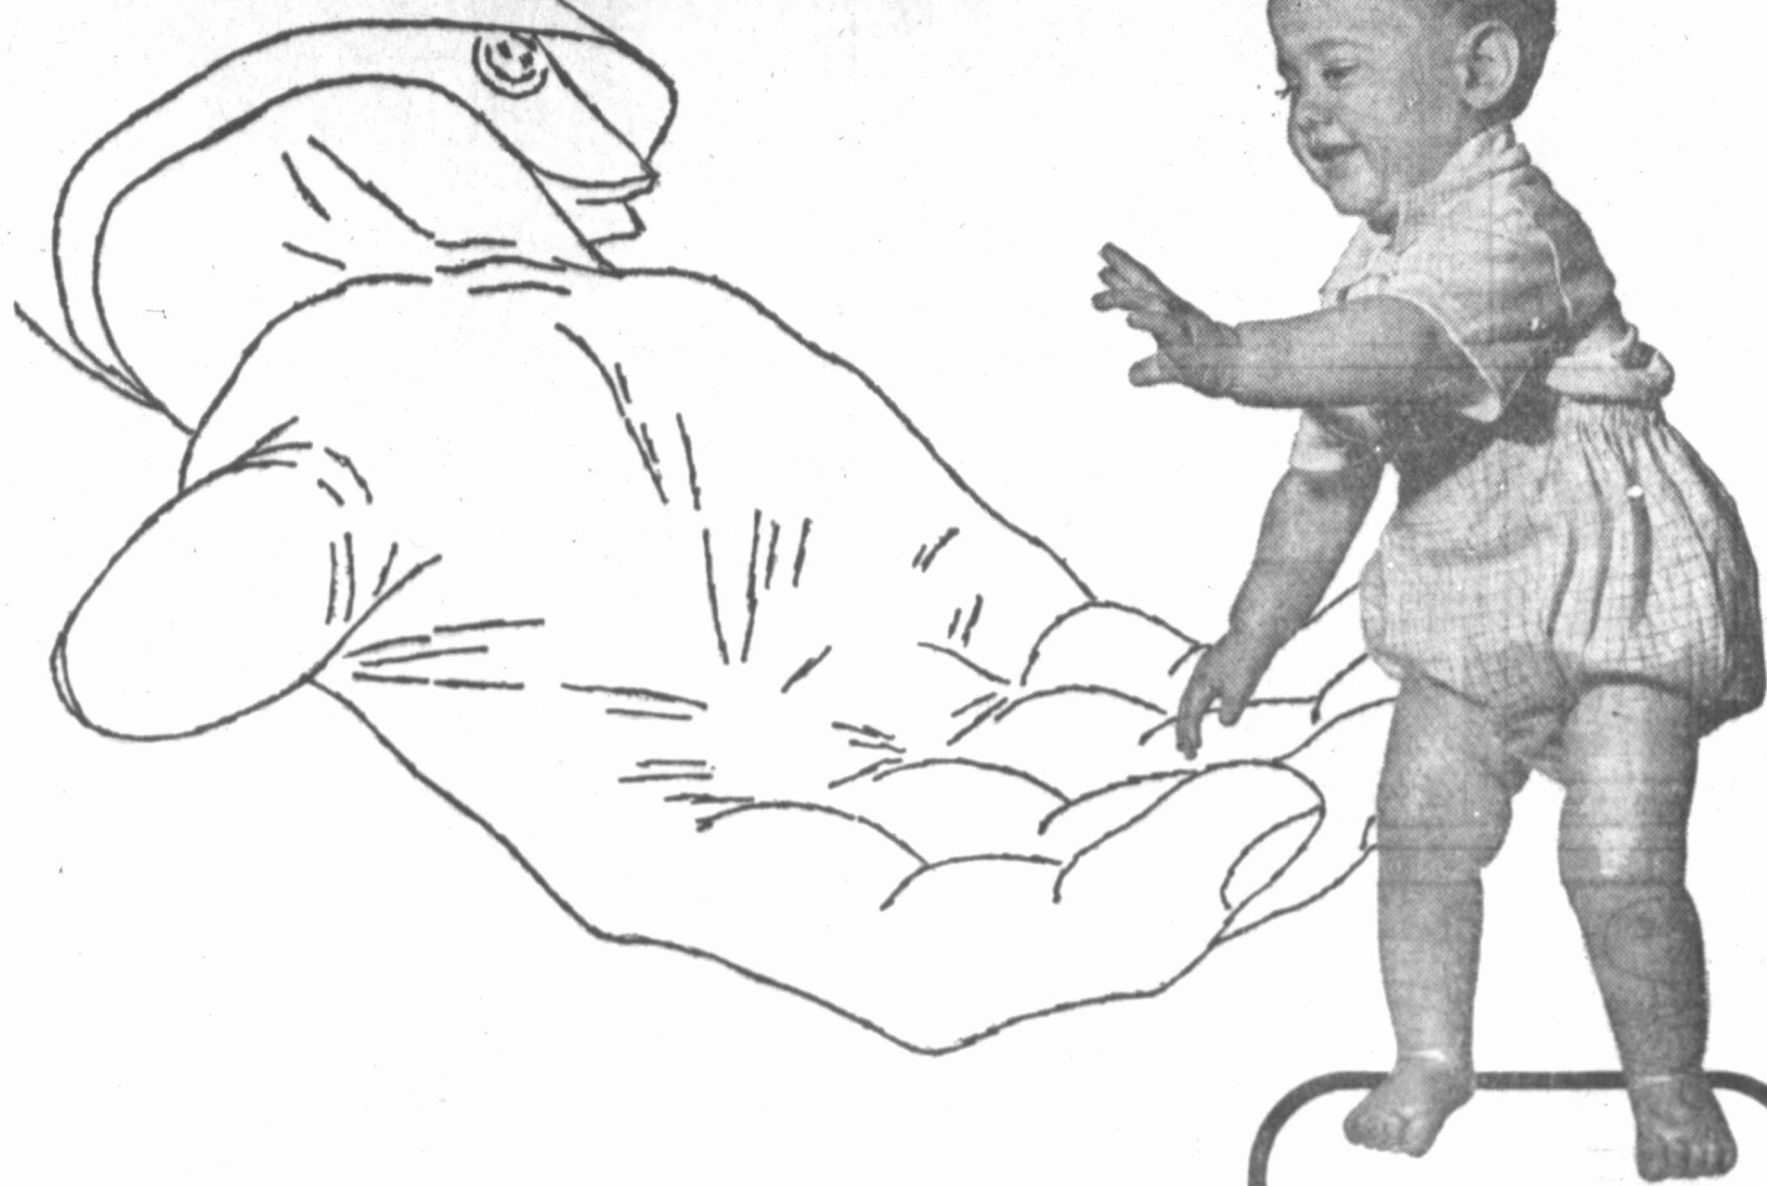

Refreshments will be served and the free base nursery service will be provided for those attending. All are invited to attend this program designed to foster happier marriages.

Business, Religion

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A man's religion — or lack of it — doesn't seem to have any bearing on his business ethics, according to a Harvard University study of American business practices.

DAVID'S First STEP

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Joshua	4	19-24
Monday	Matthew	18	1-6
Tuesday	Matthew	18	10-14
Wednesday	Proverbs	22	1-6
Thursday	Psalms	34	11-18
Friday	Proverbs	4	1-6
Saturday	Hebrews	12	3-11

The first step is a thrilling moment! An exciting new world is opening up for David. Soon he will be able to chase a butterfly, explore the old apple tree, play with Tommy and Mary next door.

The first step is the hardest, David needs the encouragement of Daddy's waiting arms. The second step will be easier. Soon David will be skipping about like a lamb.

The first step to Sunday School and church will be another thrilling moment in David's life. This first step will be hard for a shy little boy. David will need the encouragement of Mommy and Daddy. Soon he will be asking to go to Sunday School.

An exciting new world of religious discovery is waiting for your children when they take their first step to church.

Daniel Postpones Stickney Execution

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Complying with a U.S. Supreme Court order, Gov. Price Daniel has postponed the execution of condemned slayer Howard Stickney to Feb. 20.

Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas granted a temporary stay for Stickney 10 hours before he was due to die in the state prison's electric chair early today. It was the 13th time the execution of Stickney, 23, has been halted. He received the death penalty Jan. 29, 1959, in the Galveston beach slaying of Mrs. Shirley Barnes, 36, of Houston in 1958.

The order from Justice Douglas in Washington allows time for the full court to weigh a new appeal for the Houston man.

Members of the State Pardons Board in Austin were hearing a clemency plea from lawyer Bob Looney on behalf of Stickney as the stay was granted.

Marching in front of the state capitol as Looney appeared before the board were half a dozen persons with signs reading: "Stickney—Murderer or Victim?"

Rep. Henry Fletcher of Luling asked the Texas House Thursday to urge a new trial for Stickney. He withdrew the resolution, however, without seeking a vote.

U.S. May Make Closer Check On Bracero Lists

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. employers of Mexican farm labor face closer checks of their need for the imported labor and their compliance with rules governing the program.

The Labor Department also plans to increase the fee for recruiting a bracero to $15. Employers now pay $10 for initial recruitment of a worker and $5 for recontracting him. The increase is to go into effect July 1, and the fee will be the same for a renewed contract for an initial contract.

These steps to tighten the Mexican farm labor program were outlined in President Kennedy's budget for the year starting July 1.

The Labor Department's section of the budget estimated 290,000 braceros would be imported in the current year and again in the year beginning July 1.

An appropriation of $1,740,000 was asked for the Compliance Division of the department's Employment Bureau, compared to $1,140,000 for the current year.

For other expenses of the program, aside from compliance activities, the department asked $2,200,000 for next year, compared to $2,019,000 for this year.

Under the program, Mexican officials recruit the workers and for physical and job qualification examinations they are sent to five reception centers in the United States. From these centers they are sent to jobs in various parts of the nation, but mostly to farms in border states.

Welch Says Aid Helps Communists

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, claims Americans "have been taken down the road to communism by steps designed to fight communism."

He cited the U. S. foreign aid policy as an example, saying the Communists favor the U.S. giving billions of dollars to underdeveloped countries because it encourages the recipients to "hate Americans' dollar imperialism."

Welch spoke to about 2,000 persons at a meeting sponsored by the San Diego group of the John Birch Society.

Pickets marched outside before the talk with signs denouncing Welch as an enemy of democracy.

TV Quiz Scandal Figures May Retain Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten defendants in the television quiz show scandals who have pleaded guilty to perjury and won their freedom apparently also are free to keep what's left of their prize winnings.

A spokesman for the National Broadcasting Co. reports that none of the thousands of dollars won by contestants ever had been returned.

He said return of the money never had been offered nor asked, and that much of it probably had been spent before the scandal became public.

The contestants entered guilty pleas Wednesday and were given suspended sentences by Special Sessions Justice Edward F. Breslin.

They could have been sentenced to three-year prison terms and fined $500 each for lying to a grand jury in denying they had received advance help to answer quiz show questions.

Hike In Saline Budget Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—An increase of $2,445,000 for research in the saline water conversion program was recommended by President Kennedy in his budget for 1963.

The total budget request for the Office of Saline Water was $9,785,000, down $30,000 from the estimated $9,805,000 to be spent this year.

However, the budget contains no funds for construction, as the five authorized demonstration plants are due to be financed from this year's budget.

"Emphasis during the coming years will be placed on expanding and accelerating the basic and applied research aspects of the program," the Interior Department said.

Lots Of Hardware

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—What does it take to build a Saturn superbooster for space flights? Among other things it takes a total of 30,000 electronic and electromechanical parts ranging in size from a pinhead to a softball.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration listed that many items in its latest edition of the "Blue Book," an inventory of Saturn parts.

Lubbock Firm Low Bidder On AEC Check Holes

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A Lubbock, Tex., firm is the apparent low bidder for drilling holes to be used in checking underground effects of atomic blasts at the Nevada test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission said Western Republic Co., one of nine firms competing, bid $934,882.

The project calls for drilling eight exploratory holes and deepening of three previously drilled at the test site 65 miles northwest of here.

They are part of the AEC's public safety program to determine presence of underground water and whether it becomes contaminated by underground nuclear detonations.

The AEC also is interested in the rate and direction of water flow under the test site. Depth of the holes will range from 1,000 to 4,200 feet.

Board Refuses Low Rate On Impact Beer Shipments

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission has refused to set a rate of 34 cents per 100 pounds for truck shipments of beer into Impact, a legally wet community in predominantly dry Taylor County.

The rate requested for shipments from El Paso to Impact would amount to about 15.5 cents per running mile, "lower than the cost of shipping the beer," examiner W. E. Fincher said Thursday.

The effect of the order is that beer shipments will be made at a rate about the same as for other shipments. Fincher said this would be about 80 cents.

Impact, on the edge of Abilene, incorporated in 1960 and voted to allow beer sales last September. The validity of the incorporation election is being tested in court.

Sees End Of Need For Farm Controls

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—W. B. Murphy, president of the Campbell Soup Co., said Thursday night that farm controls are not necessary "when there is a sound contract between the grower and the processor . . . backed by superior aggressive research work and skillful crop service."

The plant his company is building at Paris, Tex., he said, "would not be a practical thing without direct contracts with farmers un-
