Connally Is Speaker At Y Benefit

A precedent-setting gesture of support for the local YMCA — a $50 per plate benefit dinner — is expected to draw more than 220 persons this evening. The gala event is set for the Cosden Club at 7:30.

JOHN B. CONNALLY

Persons who have made reservations for the dinner are, in substance making $100 per family sustaining membership subscriptions to the Association. This has been a regular method of support for many years, but the dinner idea was added this year.

Guests tonight will hear an address by John B. Connally, outstanding Texas business executive and former Secretary of the Navy. Connally has announced as a candidate for Governor of Texas, but his talk tonight will be non-political.

Connally spoke on Navy affairs at the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday evening. He had come here by plane Tuesday afternoon, and returned from Colorado City to spend the night in Big Spring. Today, he had coffee engagements in Lamesa and Andrews, and a luncheon appearance in Midland. He is remaining overnight here, and will return to his Fort Worth home Thursday morning.

Another special guest at the dinner will be John Boles, former luminary of screen musicals, who is to sing some light opera selections with which his fame is identified.

R. W. Whipkey will be master of ceremonies, and Rev. Donald Hungerford, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, will give the invocation and the benediction.

A number of out-of-town guests are expected for the affair. They will be received by Dr. W. A. Hunt, Y president, and Mrs. Hunt; and R. L. Tollett, chairman of the benefit dinner, and Mrs. Tollett.

South Africa Tells Plan For Negro State

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd has announced his white supremacy regime plans to give internal self-government next year to a segregated state of two million blacks in the Transkei area on the Indian Ocean.

Verwoerd told Parliament Tuesday Transkei would be the first state set up under his government's program of separate development for Bantu (Negro) states within a South African commonwealth.

Transkei will have a wholly black Parliament and Cabinet with authority over agriculture, education, lands, roads and other internal matters, Verwoerd said. External affairs, defense and certain aspects of the administration of justice will remain in the hands of the all-white South African government for the time being, he said.

Verwoerd's announcement drew fire from Dr. Bernard Friedman, leader of the Transvaal Progressive party. He termed it window dressing to disarm foreign critics of South Africa's apartheid policy of strict racial segregation.

The Transkei is an area of 16,000 square miles on the Indian Ocean south of Durban. The government says it has a population of 2,060,770, all Bantus except for 17,369 whites and 13,716 "colored" persons of mixed origin.

State Warms But More Bad Weather Due

Icebound sections of Texas thawed and wintry weather moderated in all areas Wednesday. But more bad weather appeared en route.

The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast issued Wednesday said much colder weather would move into the Panhandle Saturday, spreading to the Northeast and North Central Texas by Sunday.

South Texas was expected to remain rather cold through Monday, while little change is expected in Southwest Texas.

Snow was forecast for the northern portion of Northwest Texas Saturday.

The mercury skidded below freezing at numerous points Wednesday morning. But it was considerably warmer than the day before, when the lows ranged down to 11 above at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle.

Lowest overnight temperature was 27 at Waco. High was 46 at El Paso.

Representative temperatures included Dalhart 29, Amarillo 33, Lubbock 32, Laredo 40, Brownsville 40, Corpus Christi 37, Austin 30, Dallas 32, Abilene 33, and San Angelo 32.

Fog and drizzle enveloped most of East and South Central Texas in early morning. This time, however, the moisture didn't turn into ice as it touched ground. There also was some light rain in far West Texas.

In the wake of a vicious ice storm blamed for 14 deaths, a quick return to normal was in prospect.

Temperatures held safely above freezing in the lower Grande Valley, where growers suffering millions of dollars in citrus fruit and winter vegetable losses a fortnight earlier had feared more cold would damage their groves.

The warmup began Tuesday in the Panhandle while a freezing drizzle still spread into southern sections of Texas, thrusting all the way to Corpus Christi and Victoria.

Snow and ice-forming mist by afternoon crippled areas from Northeast Texas to the middle coast and westward around Austin, San Antonio and the Southwest Texas hill country.

With the glaze slow to melt in areas farther north, the Highway Department reported auto travel risky over most of the state late Tuesday.

Latin Giants Propose Compromise On Cuba

Colombia Asks Strong Action

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — A leader of the drive for stern punishment of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime in Cuba warned the hemisphere today some nations may intervene in Cuba on their own unless the Organization of American States acts forcefully.

The warning was delivered by Colombia, sponsor of the resolution which produced the Punta del Este conference of inter-American foreign ministers on Cuban communism.

General debate opened a few hours after Latin America's two most powerful nations, Argentina and Brazil, joined in a common front proposing hemispheric coexistence with Cuba while condemning Castro for embracing communism.

Opening the debate, Colombian Foreign Minister Jose Joaquin Caicedo Castrilla demanded a collective economic and diplomatic break with Cuba by all 20 nations sitting in judgment here. His call was echoed by Guatemala.

Caicedo did not say which nations might intervene in Cuba. Countries such as Colombia and the Central American nations have felt heavy pressure from Castro Communist infiltration tactics.

STRONG ACTION
The Colombian stand expressed feelings of a group, including the United States, which seeks the strongest possible action against Castro. The speech was prolonged applause from the delegates, many of whom have been working for milder action.

Guatemala's foreign minister, Jesus Unda Murillo, denounced Cuban ties with the Soviet Union and Red China and called the current OAS attitude suicidal.

He contended it is farcical to talk about the principle of self-determination with regard to Cuba, a Communist state. Guatemala, a target of Cuban attacks, provided one of the training grounds for the anti-Castro force which staged the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba last April.

The agreement between Argentina and Brazil, who have led rival blocs at the inter-American foreign ministers conference, came in the early morning hours in advance of the conference's first full-dress public debate.

Argentina and Brazil pushed ahead with a compromise proposal to bar Castro's government from a voice in deliberations of the Organization of American States on the ground that the revolutionary regime does not represent the Cuban people.

The door would be left open for Cuba to return to the hemispheric fold should Castro change his ways or should an anti-Communist government emerge in Cuba.

FAR MILLER
Isolation from the OAS is a penalty far milder than the diplomatic and economic sanctions President Kennedy's team had hoped for when it came to the Inter-American foreign ministers' meeting. Despite fears of congressional anger that would produce opposition to Alliance for Progress appropriations, the U.S. delegation could do little in the face of the opposition from Brazil, Mexico, Argentina and Chile to stiff penalties.

Few if any delegates looked for any change in Cuban policies as a result of the conference's action, and Cuban delegates scoffed at the idea of the Havana regime being shelved in the OAS.

"We just do not care about that trash," said a member of Castro's delegation.

SIGNAL VICTORY
Any action taken by the conference unanimously is certain to be hailed publicly as a signal victory for the anti-Communist cause. The argument was heard that even holding such a meeting on Cuban subversion would have been politically too risky six months ago, before the Alliance for Progress program was adopted and before Castro publicly embraced Marxism-Leninism.

Privately many observers wonder whether the United States will emerge with a result which could prove worse than nothing.

Observers speculate that the whole business could boom or bust by giving the Castro regime excuse to heap ridicule on the OAS as now constituted and to point out that the Inter-American alliance has been powerless to take any action with teeth in it against the Communist government of Havana.

Graham Escapes Pro-Castro Mob

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham spoke to a crowd of 4,000 at a baseball park here Tuesday night after ducking out the back door of a hall to avoid a pro-Castro mob.

Graham was spirited out of the state legislative hall by local officials when his speech to them was interrupted by a crowd hanging on the front door and chanting.

Several legislators said they thought the crowd was out to overthrow the local government, not to get Graham.

Elements favorable to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Caracas, the Venezuelan capital, have been rioting daily since the start of the Punta del Este, Uruguay, conference.

Graham is making a tour of five Latin-American countries.

Victim Found

TWIN LAKES, Colo. (AP) — The body of a 7-year-old boy, seventh victim of Sunday's avalanche on Colorado's highest mountain, was recovered Tuesday.

C-City's Honored Citizen

Dr. Seth Cowan, young Colorado City physician (center), hears his contributions to civic welfare recited by Henry Lewis (left) as Cowan received the C-City JayCee distinguished service award at the Chamber of Commerce banquet in that city Tuesday night. Cowan got not, one, but three, awards, as the Jaycees' distinguished service award recipient; for his work as president of the chamber. His contribution to Mitchell County activities covers a wide range. Seated at right is John B. Connally, former secretary of the Navy who addressed the C-City affair. (Photo by Tom J. Goss II)

C-City Doctor Is Surprised Honoree At Chamber Banquet

COLORADO CITY — It turned out to be "Seth Cowan night" Tuesday evening, at the annual meeting of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

The young physician found himself the surprised recipient of three plaques, as honors were heaped upon him for civic contributions.

Cowan, retiring as C-C president, received an award for his services in that capacity. Just before that, he had been similarly honored as the organization's outstanding member for 1961. And, to precede it all, the Jaycees had designated him as the community's outstanding young man and entitled to their distinguished service award.

The JayCee presentation, by Henry Lewis, came first, and Cowan, a 32-year-old general practitioner, was so emotionally moved that he couldn't respond for several seconds. Then it was a modest "thank you." As the other awards came along, the good humor of the coincidence relaxed him, and he facetiously declared the whole affair was subject to a general investigation.

Cowan was cited for his professional success, his contributions to his work through numerous public addresses. He has been JayCee vice president and an active leader in the Quarterback Club. He has been a team captain — successfully — in several United Fund campaigns. He has been a director in the Hereford Association and helped with the Hereford show. He is a director of the city's unique Museum Association, and headed up the TB Seal campaign. He was a speaker for the community's recent public improvement bond issues. He was chairman of the Mitchell County Fair Association and helped stage a successful event this past year; has been a leader in city-rural relations, and worked on legislative matters affecting Colorado City.

Principally, he had to take over the presidency when the former C-C president moved away, just when the organization lost its manager. Cowan was credited with keeping the organization functioning efficiently, at the sacrifice of his own time.

He spoke briefly as retiring president, reciting that there have been some achievements, but also some failures from which the community might profit. He expressed the hope that "seeds planted this past year can bear fruit in years to come."

Bob Carver was introduced as the Chamber's new president. Other officers are Bob Reilly, first vice president; Dr. Kenneth Cowan, second vice president; Roy Bates, secretary and George Womack, treasurer. Incoming members of the directorate are Dr. Kenneth Cowan, R. J. Hoback, Arlene Morris and Bob Reilly.

Paul Boyd Hunter was master of ceremonies for the program, held in the Civic House and attended by well over 200 people. Visitors were present from Abilene, Big Spring, Lorraine, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo, Snyder, Stamford and Sweetwater.

Wants Increase
AUSTIN (AP) — The Railway Express Agency wants to hike express charges 10 cents in Texas to cover increased payroll taxes. The Railroad Commission set a hearing on the application for Feb. 8.

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a bill to add one cent to the cost of mailing a letter and raising postage rates for magazines, newspapers and advertising material.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard S. Salant, president of Columbia Broadcasting System news, said today informational programming for children is "one of the most perplexing and frustrating problems that we face."

Salant, first witness as the Federal Communication Commission's hearings on network programming entered their second day, said CBS has set aside a development fund in this area.

MOSCOW (AP) — Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky asserted today Soviet rockets could blast all U.S. "industrial and administrative-political centers" into the heavens in a single blow. He also called for better U.S.-Soviet relations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The traditional business lunch or dinner seemed safe today as a full income tax deduction — but the prospects were dimmer for a round of night clubs with a customer.

The House Ways and Means Committee, looking for more revenue from tighter tax laws, Tuesday ordered a legislative section drafted that would permit deduction of only 50 per cent of most business entertainment expenses — and require proof of the expenses.

NEWS BRIEFS

By The Associated Press
Zero weather clung to the central Plateau region today but temperatures moderated across most of the nation from the central Rockies into northern New England.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — Loyal Congolese government troops and a team of U.N. administrators have been flown to the north Katanga town of Kolongo, where troops on New Year's Day massacred 19 white Roman Catholic priests.

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Morning News said today that the Justice Department is investigating a complaint of a possible violation of election laws in the current special House election in the 4th district.

Subject of the investigation, said the News, is the reported use by State Sen. Ray Roberts, one of the candidates of five trailers which, said the News, allegedly were supplied by Ling-Tem-co-Vought of Dallas.

Roberts from his home town of McKinney, had this to say: "Although I am not under investigation, I can answer that trailer question quickly."

"We have used only three trailers although we had five. They were rented by my sister, Mrs. Evelyn R. Robertson (Dallas advertising woman) and made available to me."

"I have the bill for the rental right here on my desk."

The state senator said his sister had a friend, Henry Williams, sign for the trailers. The bill came to $1,600.

Under the Corrupt Practices Act, both corporations and labor unions are forbidden to contribute to candidates for federal offices.

BERLIN (AP) — An informed source reported at least 28 people from Communist territory broke through to West Berlin Tuesday night. About half were women and there were three children.

Donna Marie Stay In Texas Until After Myers Trial

Donna Marie Stone, 14, companion of John Edwin Myers, 34, facing trial March 12 in Rusk for murder, won't be going back to Illinois at the present time.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said he had been urged today by District Attorney Hulon Brown, of Cherokee County, to keep the girl in Texas until after Myers' trial has been held.

Jones had just talked with District Attorney John Karnes in Bellville, Ill., where Donna Marie is wanted to face trial for two murder charges, a few minutes before Brown had called from Rusk.

Jones had told Karnes that insofar as he knew at that time, everything was clear for Illinois to send officers to Big Spring to take custody of the girl. The governor had issued an order permitting her extradition some weeks ago.

After Brown called and urged that Donna Marie not be returned to Illinois at this time, Jones called Karnes again and told him of the development. Karnes agreed to hold off action in his county for the time being.

Brown contended that if Donna Marie is permitted to leave the state, that he anticipates the newly appointed defense attorneys for Myers would immediately file a motion for a continuance. There is every reason to believe, he said, that such a motion would be granted by Judge James Moore of the 14th District Court. Judges usually are lenient in first motions for continuances in capital cases. Brown and Jones are opposed to any further delay in the trial.

Myers is slated to be tried in Rusk on March 12 for the slaying near Big Spring last Sept. 1, of Arthur Dekraai, 34, Iowa hitchhiker. Donna Marie is the only witness to the crime.

Myers has been sent to Rusk on a change of venue. Judge Moore has appointed two attorneys to represent Myers — Orvan Jones and Richard Stone. The court has already ordered a special venire of 400 called for the trial.

In the meantime, Donna Marie is still in her cell in the juvenile ward of the Howard County jail. She has been waiting the arrival of Illinois officers to return her to Illinois. Officers from Illinois have been delayed by icy roads and bad weather in coming to Big Spring.

Karnes indicated in his phone call today that Sheriff Daniel Ring of St. Clair County was ready to leave for Texas. Karnes told Jones he would delay action until further decision is made on the question.

Senate Passes Du Pont Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a measure that would cut millions of dollars from the tax bill of Du Pont stockholders in the event they receive $3.5 billion in General Motors stock from an antitrust decision.

Senate passage late Tuesday, after a week of debate and months of maneuvers, completed congressional action on the legislation. The House passed it last September. President Kennedy's approval was considered certain.

The Supreme Court has ruled that Du Pont's possession of 63 million shares of G. M. violates antitrust laws and that the chemical firm must dispose of it.

FIRST FAMILY TO HAVE NIKI'S KIN AS GUESTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy will have the daughter and son-in-law of Soviet Premier Khrushchev as luncheon guests at the White House Tuesday.

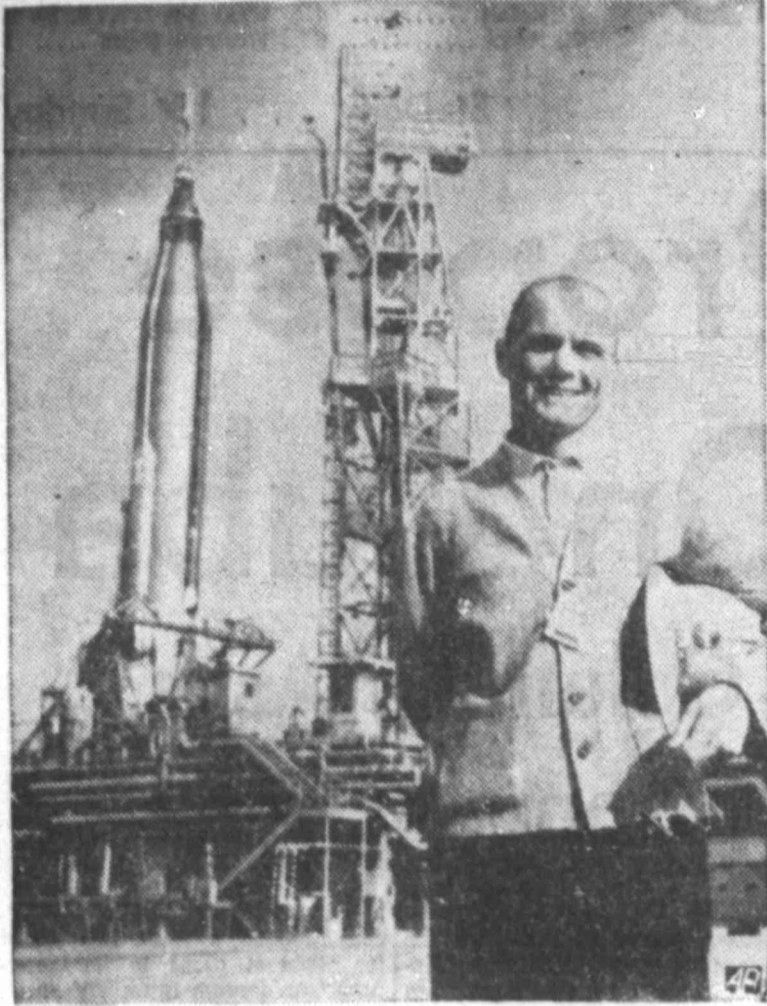

The son-in-law is Alexei Adzhubel, editor of the Soviet government paper Izvestia, who interviewed Kennedy in November. The interview was published in his paper.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Adzhubel and his wife, Rada, are in Havana, planning to go to Mexico City and then on Brazil by way of Washington.

Adzhubel, he said, sent word he would like to see Salinger while in this hemisphere. A call was arranged and when Kennedy heard about it the invitation to lunch followed.

Mrs. Kennedy will be present and so will Salinger and the editor of the magazine "U.S.S.R.," Georgi Bolshakov.

"U.S.S.R." is a Soviet publication distributed in this country. It is the counterpart of "America," which this country distributes in the Soviet Union.

Glenn And His Space Ship

Spaceman's Hometown Feels Impact Of Events

By ADRIENNE BLOCK

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—Lots of home towns have boys who make good. But New Concord, Ohio, will match its hometown boy against any in the universe. He is Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., Mercury astronaut who is scheduled to orbit the earth within the next few days.

On the outside New Concord doesn't look any different from what it did before "Johnny" was selected as one of the seven astronauts two years ago.

The only outward sign is the highway poster on U.S. 40 at each end of the village, 70 miles east of Columbus and 61 miles west of Wheeling, W. Va. The sign reads: "New Concord, O., hometown of John H. Glenn Jr., Mercury Astronaut."

GREW UP IN TOWN

Glenn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr., have lived here 38 years, and the Marine officer spent his grade, high school and college years here. The father is a retired plumbing contractor.

The only publicly displayed picture of the astronaut is a small one on the calendar published by the East Muskingum Music Sponsors, a group of parents whose children study music in the area schools. The calendar is an advertisement for the local booster club, inn, bank and pharmacy.

The excitement and enthusiasm is inside New Concord. It's in the comfortable way the people say

"sub-orbital," "orbital," "re-entry."

"We've made no attempt to capitalize on John Glenn," explains Everett G. Thompson, principal of New Concord High School.

Another villager suggested that if a vendor selling missile replicas came to town, he'd probably be asked to leave.

MODELS STOLEN

"There used to be some models of the Atlas missile on the highway signs," Mayor James K. Taylor said, "but somebody stole them last week."

"I notice that a lot more of our boys are trying to get into the Marines than before, but those are the only changes I've seen," he added.

"The only thing that's really changed our daily routine is the reporters who keep coming to the house," explained Glenn's mother, "but we've been at it two years now and I guess we're used to it."

"Just imagine, people coming into my living room to take pictures to be sent all over the world. It's amazing for quiet folks like us," Mrs. Glenn remarked.

With it all, the mother and father maintain a calm and confident attitude.

Though the neighbors and the newsmen keep Mrs. Glenn on the telephone much of the day, the Glenns try to keep up with their usual activities.

GOING AWAY

A newsmen's telephone call to the father for a Wednesday appointment brought the comment from his wife: "I have a club meeting Wednesday afternoon and I'm going no matter how many reporters come here."

When John is home everything breaks loose, his family explained. "It takes us at least an hour to get out of church after services," said Mrs. Glenn. "All the children stop him on the street."

Mrs. Glenn recalled attending the State Fair in Columbus last August. "If he didn't keep his dark glasses on, all the kids swarmed all over him. I bet he signed over a thousand autographs that day."

The Glenns have accepted their son's coming flight with the calm that governs their lives. "He's sold us on the program," Mrs. Glenn said.

EARTHLY PERILS

Her husband explained, "John says the drive from Washington over Route 40 to New Concord on a dark Saturday night is more frightening than any trip around the earth."

Young Glenn has put New Concord on the map and the people are getting quite a kick out of it, according to Mayor Taylor.

"John's a hero, especially to the younger children."

At the high school, the students, many of them sons and daughters of John Glenn's friends, keep playing his former teachers with questions. "They're proud that someone from their high school is making history," said H. A. Steele, teacher and former principal at New Concord High.

The Village Council has been thinking of John Glenn too. They want to do something to honor him.

There's been talk of naming the new high school John H. Glenn Jr. High School. Some suggest renaming the street on which the Glenns live. Others think the name of the village park should be changed to Glenn. But they've decided to wait until John comes home after the orbital flight before they make a decision.

The villagers' plans for the day of the orbital flight are not elaborate.

PRIVACY

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn will be at home watching their television set with intimate friends. They've asked for privacy on flight day.

The high school student council has agreed to finance the installation of a few sets in the gymnasium.

Mayor Taylor will take off from his job in nearby Zanesville to stay in New Concord and watch the shot.

Creating more excitement than John Glenn's flight were the television antennas being constructed in order to broadcast Mr. and Mrs. Glenn's press conference after the capsule recovery.

The town's rural telephone service will be stretched to the limit by the more than 100 newsmen expected to set up headquarters at the Muskingum College gymnasium in the village.

The only one in New Concord who's nervous and upset is the college's public relations man who has to handle and somehow satisfy all the reporters and photographers.

"You know," said Mrs. Glenn, "I told those television men that they were spending an awful lot of money on us. Something like $250,000."

"But they just said it wasn't too much for such a big show."

When Parents Have Failed

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what kind of mother I am. While my friends and neighbors are bragging about their children, I have to stand by and keep my mouth shut. The reason is, I can't think of anything good to say about mine. They are miserable, selfish, disagreeable brats. I love my children but let's face it, they are monsters. I have tried every kind of punishment in the book and so has my husband, so it isn't that we haven't tried to teach and train them. All we can look forward to is increasing the population of juvenile delinquents. Am I the only mother in this boat?

WISH I'D STAYED SINGLE
DEAR WISH: Your "miserable, selfish, disagreeable brats" were not that way at birth. You have failed somehow as parents. Why not ask your local Child Guidance Clinic for some help?

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am just plain stupid, but I would like to know why teen-agers girls need to carry around great big purses that weigh around ten pounds apiece.

TEEN-AGED BOY
DEAR BOY: Because they want to have a comb, hairbrush, compact, at least a dozen lipsticks, eyebrow pencil, eye-liner, mirror, wallet, bobby pins, sunglasses, chewing gum, safety pins, cough drops, pocket dictionary, needle, thread, scissors, glue, tape, autograph book, fountain pen, ink, pencil, nail polish, hair spray, a pencil of old love letters and a ten-pound weapon with them at all times.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since my husband bought me an electric sewing machine I have been a free sewing service for his entire family. Right now I have ten pairs of boys' jeans on my table with instructions to "taper the legs." They don't even put a pin in them to show me how much. And the boys refuse to come over and try them on. My blood pressure is high to begin with, and this will put me in my grave. How can I handle this without losing their friendship?

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
DEAR HIGH: Don't worry about losing the friendship of such free-loaders. Tell them your patience is hanging by a thread and either they should send the boys over for fittings or go elsewhere and pay for alterations.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WIFE-HUNTING": Take a good look at their mothers. Avoid the beauties. They're in love with themselves.

DEAR BOY: Because they want to have a comb, hairbrush, compact, at least a dozen lipsticks, eyebrow pencil, eye-liner, mirror, wallet, bobby pins, sunglasses, chewing gum, safety pins, cough drops, pocket dictionary, needle, thread, scissors, glue, tape, autograph book, fountain pen, ink, pencil, nail polish, hair spray, a pencil of old love letters and a ten-pound weapon with them at all times.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since my husband bought me an electric sewing machine I have been a free sewing service for his entire family. Right now I have ten pairs of boys' jeans on my table with instructions to "taper the legs." They don't even put a pin in them to show me how much. And the boys refuse to come over and try them on. My blood pressure is high to begin with, and this will put me in my grave. How can I handle this without losing their friendship?

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE
DEAR HIGH: Don't worry about losing the friendship of such free-loaders. Tell them your patience is hanging by a thread and either they should send the boys over for fittings or go elsewhere and pay for alterations.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WIFE-HUNTING": Take a good look at their mothers. Avoid the beauties. They're in love with themselves.

THE LAYING ON OF HANDS

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 80 P.O. Box 1255

According to his own story, the preacher who wrote the magazine article did not receive the baptism of the Holy Ghost, though he thinks he did. What happened to him is not like what happened in the two Bible instances of people receiving Holy Ghost baptism. There are only two Bible instances — Acts 2 and Acts 10. There are other instances of people receiving the Holy Ghost; but in these cases it is not called baptism.

In the Bible cases of Holy Ghost baptism, the Spirit fell on the people (was poured out upon them), without the laying on of man's hands (Acts 2:2, 17 and 10:44; also 11:15). This man in the magazine article said what he received came by the laying on of a preacher's hands. Where in the Bible was the measure of the Holy Spirit which came by the laying on of hands called baptism? According to this man's own testimony, he is deceived. And sad, but true, he is not the only man deceived about such things today.

Princess Observes Surgery

Princess Liliane, left, wife of former King Leopold of Belgium, observes an open heart operation over the shoulder of Dr. Michael DeBakey. The royal couple were in Houston on an official visit with Dr. DeBakey. The Princess was inspecting the Texas Medical Center during her stay. The operation was on an 80-year-old lady.

Rotarians Hold Observance Of National YMCA Week

The Big Spring Rotary Club met at the YMCA building Tuesday in observance of National YMCA Week. Food was served buffet style. Francis Flint, general secretary of the Y, spoke to the group about the origin, purpose, growth, and activities of the organization. "There are about three million members of 2,000 YMCAs in 79 countries," he said. "It started in England when 12 young men got together to discuss certain activities and engage in prayer for their own leadership. It now covers a multitude of activities and is known for its youth program. The Y pioneered in adult education. Two well known sports, volleyball and basketball, were invented by Y men. "Big Spring has the finest facilities for a city of its size in the nation," he continued. "Some 150 kids are sponsored and 30 youngsters are looked after. These have no other place to go and are getting the advantage of training. We also carry on a program for adults, and a physical fitness program, with an excellent staff." Joe Leach, physical director, was introduced and told the Rotarians of the activities for keeping fit. "The human heart pumps about 13 tons of blood every day," he said. "One doesn't repair a heart, but one can keep it in good condition as he goes along. Human knees, ankles and hips will need operations in a few years if we continue our custom of riding in automobiles every time we need to go a few hundred feet for a loaf of bread or something else to eat." Leach cited a recent test in which 5.4 per cent of European youths were declared physically unfit, and 54.8 per cent of American youths found unfit. "There is something wrong when we have such a deficit in American youth. A strong mind becomes unimportant if we are physically unfit," he said. "We need to realize now that every person needs to be a better individual physically if he is to have an alert mind. We have such a physical fitness program going at the Y and it is well attended by both adults and youth." A short film on "Save A Life," demonstrating rescue breathing, or mouth to mouth breathing, was shown.

To Be Candidate

AUSTIN (AP) — Associate Justice James Norvell, 59, said today he will be a candidate for a second term on the Texas Supreme Court. He represents the court on the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Commissioners Authorize City To Purchase 3 Trucks

The city commission authorized the purchase of two one-ton, and one 1 1/2-ton trucks on bids received at Tuesday night's meeting. Shasta Ford Sales submitted the lowest bid on the larger truck and Polard Chevrolet on the two one-ton vehicles. The 1 1/2-ton vehicle will be with cab and chassis only, with the bed now being used to be installed. A 1961-model 1 1/2-ton Dodge truck will be traded in on the new vehicle from Shasta for $160. The two one-ton trucks will be a six-cylinder. One will have a standard flat bed, and the city will negotiate for a utility body for the other, to provide locked chests for tools and fittings, for the water service department. To be traded in on these two will be a 1961 Chevrolet standard pickup for $150 and a 2 1/2-ton International for $150. The two smaller trucks will have four forward speeds, and the larger will have a two-speed axle. The net price to the city for the 1 1/2-ton truck will be $2,567.27. Net price for one one-ton, with standard flat bed will be $1,744, and for the second, without bed, will be $1,648. The estimated cost of a utility body for the second will be from $750 to $800. Other dealers submitting bids for the three trucks were Driver Truck & Implement Co., Jones Motor Co., and Shroyer Motor Co.

Cowhide Gains Another Name

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister MacMillan signed Tuesday one of the strangest documents ever to find its way through diplomatic channels—a Texas cowhide scroll. The scroll, already signed by President Kennedy, Vice President Lyndon Johnson, and a number of Washington diplomats, was brought to London by Jim Carter, newsman from Victoria, Tex., who is on his way around the world as a good will ambassador for Gov. Price Daniel. Carter got MacMillan's signature by having U.S. Ambassador David Bruce handle the matter through diplomatic channels. Bruce also signed the scroll. Carter leaves London today for Paris to add President Charles De Gaulle's signature to the Texas cowhide.

Election Of New Trustees April 7

The 1962 election of trustees for the Big Spring Independent School District was ordered at a special meeting Tuesday night. Election time was set April 7, according to statute. It will be held at the Senior High School. Absentee voting will be March 13 through April 3. Filing is to be done at the office of the business manager, 1304 E. 13, and must be accomplished not later than 5 p.m., March 7. Election judge will be Lawrence

Robinson and clerks will be Mrs. Alton Underwood and George McNear. Members of the board whose terms expire this year are Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Wendal Parks and Joe Moss. Terms for Clyde McMahon, president of the board, and Harold Talbot expire in 1963 and those of O. S. Womack and Johnny Johnson expire in 1964. Trustees were informed of the problem which has arisen in the election of members to the Howard County School Board. The attorney general has ruled that a 1955 law making all county officials' terms of four year duration applies to the terms of county school board members. If the old plan is followed with terms of two-year duration, the terms of Truman Jones, Jack Cook and Jim Lewis would expire this year. Under the ruling, their terms have two more years to go. A clarification for this election has been requested by the county attorney. Final papers were signed to close out the contract on Lakeview Elementary School. Included in the action was action designating Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, as the authorized representative to replace Floyd W. Parsons and an extension of the contract time by 48 days to avoid penalizing the contractors for delays which the trustees felt were unavoidable. The lease of the old Lakeview facilities to the YMCA was shown to trustees. Action to approve leasing the property had been taken at an earlier meeting. Several clauses of the lease will be modified and the contract will be signed later this week. It calls for leasing 11 lots in the Moore's Heights Addition and the old school building for 25 years at $1 a year and any assessments which may be made against the property. The building must be kept in good repair and should the property cease to be used for Y activities, it will revert to the school district. A contract for a driver education car was signed to obtain a car from Shasta Ford Sales, Inc. It is the same as the contract for a car previously obtained for driver education purposes and calls for a maximum cost to the school district of $175.

Roadside Park Is Slaying Scene

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A motorist discovered the blood-splattered body of a man in a roadside park near here early today. He was identified as Robert Richard Reed, 32, whose wife lives at Vinita, Okla. Military police at Sheppard Air Force Base said Reed had been assigned to the base since Jan. 9. The body lay near a small, foreign-made car bearing a Sheppard AFB windshield sticker. Headlights on the car of Hazel Erwin, from Henrietta, outlined the body as he drove into the small park after midnight. The spot is a short distance across the Wichita County line in Clay County. The slain man's throat was cut and his head battered beyond recognition. In addition, investigators said several bullets from a small caliber weapon were fired into the body. There were bullet marks on the car's windshield and a door glass. Wichita County Sheriff's Capt. Shorty McCormick and Clay County Sheriff Connor Fletcher said there were indications of a violent struggle at the blood-marked scene. They found the dead man's wallet, emptied of money, near the body. The officers said an ink stamp mark on one hand indicated he had been dancing at a Wichita Falls night spot.

Midland Man Is Held On Murder Charge

MIDLAND (AP)—Police in El Paso arrested a Midland man accused of murder within seven hours after a motel maid found a woman fatally stabbed here Tuesday. From a receipt for a motel room in another city, police tentatively identified the victim as Manuela Mata, about 25. They found five knife wounds in her chest. Midland authorities lodged a charge of murder with malice against Christina Reyes Armendarez, about 27, after his arrest at El Paso. Police Capt. Roy Merket declined to say what clues led officers to Armendarez. Merket gave these details: A man giving another name registered at the motel Monday. Employees did not see the woman until the maid found the fully clothed body on a bed. Other clues for detectives were a paper match cover bearing a telephone number, a hunting knife sheath and a bloodstained man's handkerchief. There was no weapon in the room. Detectives estimated the woman died several hours earlier. Capt. Wayne Taylor, head of the Midland police department's homicide division, left for El Paso to take custody of Armendarez.

2 Airlines Plan Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines will combine into the nation's biggest system if stockholder and government approval is forthcoming. They announced plans Tuesday to merge. The consolidated line would be called American Airlines, erasing the name of the pioneer Eastern Air Lines from the roster of American carriers. The proposal to create a system with $900 million in assets, 39,000 employees and 400 aircraft will be submitted to stockholders of both companies and the Civil Aeronautics Board. The board, which has generally encouraged mergers, had no immediate comment.

Tom Killian Dies Sunday

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Tom Petty Killian Sr., 67, died Sunday night in an Austin hospital after a short illness. Killian was born in Texas May 6, 1894. A retired farmer, he had formerly lived in Colorado City, but for the past several years he had lived in Austin. Funeral services were to be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Kiker and Son Chapel. Burial was to be in the Colorado City Cemetery under direction of Kiker and Son Funeral Home. Survivors include one son, Tom Killian Jr., Denver City; two daughters, Mrs. Jess Thomas, Snyder, and Mrs. Juanita Szymaske, La Puente, Calif.; three brothers, Oscar Killian of Lovington, N. M., Norman G. Killian and Burger Killian of San Antonio; three sisters, Mrs. S. H. Bedford and Mrs. V. J. Richardson, both of Colorado City, and Mrs. Morris Carson, Lovington, N. M.; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

No More KP For Technicians

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Kitchen police is over for soldiers at the Army Ordnance Guided Missile School at Redstone Arsenal. Col. William J. Macpherson, the commandant of the school, said KP duty was taking too much time away from troops sent here for technical work on maintenance of missiles. In the future, he said, civilian contractors will take over the job of washing dishes and swabbing floors.

At Least We Have Our Foot In The Door

With most of the major legislation passed or virtually cleared in both houses of the Texas legislature, open season is reaching a feverish pitch.
Big Spring is fortunate in getting a bill—pushed through both the House—where Rep. David Read ran with it, and in the Senate, where Sen. David Ratliff shepherded it—which will permit the City of Big Spring to bring suit against the State of Texas on a water contract.
Big Spring contends with considerable logic when one consults the figures, that it is having to sell the state water far below costs. The state, while negotiating earlier this year after another special act permitted a review of the contract, in effect contends that it cannot accept the city's cost figures in toto and thus cannot agree with the city's requested schedule.

The bill, when signed, will permit the city to seek relief in court.
While passage of the bill does not guarantee the city relief, it does open the way and for that reason is important. This initial step was ushered through at commendable speeds.
Ablene has been less fortunate in securing passage of a special act which would cancel a previous validation of the incorporation of Impact, the phantom (wet) city within the corporate confines of Abilene. It is highly doubtful if this thorn in the Abilene side can be extracted at this special session. However, the issue is vital to all cities and should be cleared as soon as possible. The Impact and a somewhat similar peripheral incorporation at Monahans argue for clarification to prevent confusion and unrealistic restriction.

Real Literacy

The fact that there is still an illiteracy problem in the United States after many decades of virtually universal education was brought sharply to attention by President Kennedy's call for action on this front. A vigorous effort should be made to see that every American capable of it can read and write.
Yet there is another, related if not overriding, problem that should not be neglected. This is the "higher illiteracy" of which Francis S. Chase, dean of the University of Chicago's graduate school of education, recently wrote in Context. His concern is with those who, though they can read well enough, "have not developed the ability to carry on a transaction between the world of ideas imbedded in language symbols and the world of real persons, objects and events."

This is a way of saying that, with many people, what they read does not "register." They see the words but do not relate them to real life. Developing this kind of relationship, of understanding, is and surely ought to be one of the principal functions of the public schools. Literacy alone is far from being enough.

David Lawrence Public's Acceptance Of Kennedy

WASHINGTON — The latest Gallup Poll is the talk of the town. It isn't merely because the rating at the end of the first twelve months is higher for President Kennedy than it was for the last three Presidents after their first year but because of a peculiar emergence of what was referred to as a religious factor in the last campaign.
For the poll shows that 88 per cent of the Catholics manifested approval as contrasted with 73 per cent of the Protestants.

has hardly had a chance yet to mark out his course. Many of the recommendations he has made are subject to criticism, but the public generally is not aware of the pitfalls of his economic policies. They will be only if such policies bring on another recession and more unemployment. Businessmen who know from experience the consequences that may flow from some of the unsound theories which Mr. Kennedy with the best of intentions has accepted from the hands of his advisers would rather wait a year or more before coming to conclusions about the Kennedy administration. They still can't believe he will swallow the economic fallacies that characterized the New Deal's 7-year failure to "prime the pump" in the biggest depression in our history.

JUST WHY Catholics should differ from Protestants in their appraisal after the first year of a President who happens to be a Catholic is not explained, especially since it has been taken for granted recently in political circles that Mr. Kennedy had alienated many of his supporters among Catholics because of his adamant opposition to federal aid to private or parochial schools.
Perhaps the key is to be found in a natural pride among Catholics that President Kennedy has shown himself to be a man of sincerity and earnest application to duty, and indeed this is doubtless one reason why among all voters he has attained a high rating in the Gallup Poll.

BUT, FOR ALL practical purposes, the Gallup Poll seems an accurate measure of the trend of public opinion as a whole. The favorable image which the country has of President Kennedy is largely due to one of the most powerful and comprehensive publicity campaigns ever undertaken by an American President. Not even Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who were masters of the ways of getting publicity, can compare with him. For Mr. Kennedy has a politician's conviction that a favorable press is nine-tenths of the battle for votes.

THUS, FOR INSTANCE, the poll shows that while 87 per cent of the Democrats expressed a favorable opinion of Mr. Kennedy, as many as 58 per cent of the Republicans and 75 per cent of the independents did likewise.
The question posed in the poll was: "Do you approve or disapprove of the way Kennedy is handling his job as President?" Many people who would say "Yes" in answer might say the opposite if asked specifically whether in an election held right now they would cast their ballot for him. There's quite a difference between applauding a man's conscientious effort to perform the duties of the presidential office and passing judgment on the specific steps of a President has taken in domestic and international policy.

IT SHOULD NOT be inferred from this that the press is slanted in his news reports. On the contrary, these have been as objective as could be desired. But the difference from the preceding administration is that Mr. Kennedy makes news that has to be reported—and so does his energetic wife. Youth is a novelty in the White House, and that in itself makes news. Every time such innovations as water-skiing or horseback-riding are introduced or a new emphasis is given to arts and music, it makes news for the women's pages.

ON THE WHOLE, as the citizen answers the Gallup Poll's question, he would be likely to give Mr. Kennedy an "A" for effort. The "way he has handled his job" could mean the image that the public has obtained of an earnest young man, anxious to learn while beset with a multitude of nerve-racking problems.
Internationally speaking, for example, Mr. Kennedy has certainly maintained the basic principles of American foreign policy, though it remains to be seen how he will eventually deal with the Cuban problem.

THE PRESIDENT is a keen student of publicity. He doesn't ask anyone to commend him but merely to give his side a fair presentation. This is all that's really necessary, especially when the opposition is so weak, disorganized and unperceptive that it doesn't make enough news to offset the administration's efforts.
But granting that a favorable image of President Kennedy has been produced by the barrage of publicity he has gotten in his first year, it also can be traced to his policy of caution in international affairs—the branch of his job which has had much of the limelight in the last twelve months.

THE TIME to judge a President is at the end of his term and not at the end of his first year. This writer recalls how William Howard Taft was inaugurated in March 1909 after receiving the second largest electoral vote ever given a President up to that time, and enjoyed popularity during his first year. In fact, he was a likeable personality anyway, but at the end of four years his party had split apart on economic issues, and his faction got only eight votes in the electoral college in his bid for re-election. It's more important always to know what the employment and economic condition of the country will be when a presidential election rolls around. That's usually the key issue, and it had more to do with Nixon's defeat than is generally accepted by political observers.

BUT WILL IT RUB OFF?

James Marlow Should We 'Muzzle' The Military?

WASHINGTON (AP) — This week Robert A. Lovett, defense secretary under President Truman, said he feels that "as a government we talk too much (and) give the impression of being unbuttoned."
He told this to a Senate subcommittee which began hearings Tuesday on whether military men are permitted to talk enough. The hearings will go on for weeks, probably get overheated, and will take three directions:
(1) Censorship of speeches by military officers before civilian groups; (2) teaching or educating troops about communism; and (3) participation by military men in seminars and public meetings.

ALL THREE questions come down to this: How much freedom shall military officers have to speak on matters not directly connected with their military duties?
President Kennedy's administration—like President Eisenhower's before it—has a policy which insists speeches military or other government officials give on national security matters be in line with White House views and the American foreign policy.
The investigation is the result of charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, a major general in the Army Reserve and a South Carolina Democrat, that the Pentagon "muzzled" anti-Communist talks by military men.

He said the muzzling was done on orders "direct from Moscow." He wouldn't elaborate on that one.
TWO FORMER high-ranking officers are most frequently mentioned in discussion of this case: Adm. Arleigh Burke, former chief of naval operations, and Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, former commander of the 24th Army Division in West Germany.
When Kennedy took office last year Moscow decided to release two American fliers held prisoners for 18 months after their plane had been shot down in the Barents Sea off northern Russia.
The Kennedy administration and Moscow consulted in some form on this release because on Jan. 25 Kennedy and the Russians issued simultaneous statements on it. That was five days after Kennedy took office.
About that time a speech by Burke was censored, Kennedy explained later that no one in this country knew at the time whether the fliers would be released.

Hal Boyle Success Story

NEW YORK (AP) — "Success begins at home," said Jenó F. Paulucci, who in 15 years built a borrowed $2,500 into a $40-million food empire.
"No matter how depressed the area you live in may seem, if you look around you can find idle resources you can develop. Growth is possible anywhere."
Jeno is the son of an immigrant Italian miner in Minnesota's hard-hit Mesabi iron range.
At 13 he earned $2.50 a week in a grocery store and remembers "sometimes I had to take my pay in spotted fruits and vegetables."
At 17 he became a wholesale grocery salesman, slept in his car at night, ate his own food samples to cut down expenses.
At 27 he borrowed $2,500 to grow bean sprouts. His office was a rented quonset hut, and the first year he took in $400,000. This year he expects to gross exactly 100 times that figure — or $40 million.
At 43, Jeno has become far more than America's bean sprout king. As president of the Chun King Corp., headquartered in Duluth, Minn., he is the nation's largest manufacturer of American-Oriental foods.

He also packages Italian delicacies. He has a food empire that stretches from Minnesota to Florida. He has six plants, some 1,600 employees, a fleet of 40 trailer trucks. He raises or processes everything from mushrooms to blueberries, wild rice to celery — on more than 700,000 acres.
He even markets potting soil, sod and moss. He has just started a nationwide chain of Chinese drive-in restaurants.
One thing led to another for Paulucci, a slender, blue-eyed man with a passion for growth.
"Just as a farmer must plow something back into his soil, so must a businessman. He must create a service, or make something grow where nothing grew before," he says.
"There is a tremendous satisfaction in building a business against odds in a geographical area where other industries have failed.
"You turn a handicap into an advantage — that's one of the great secrets. It unlocks your mind and makes you alert and creative. Handicaps strengthen your organization."

THE PRESIDENT said: "Therefore, there is some value in coordinating statements made by high-ranking responsible officials. It is the policy which must be followed by this administration."
Walker's case was different. He lectured his troops in Germany on anti-communism and a publication, Overseas Weekly, said he also described "as definitely pink" Truman, Dean Acheson, former Secretary of state, and others.
The Army investigated and reprimanded him, according to Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr., "for taking injudicious actions and making derogatory statements about prominent Americans."
The Army record showed he refused to answer—taking the equivalent of the 5th Amendment—when asked if he acted contrary to military regulations by advising his men on American political matters.
Walker, relieved of his command, quit the Army, began making speeches, and last week announced he has become "the symbol of patriotism for this country."

To Your Good Health Weight Reduction Can Help Hiatal Hernia

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Does bleeding of the mouth come with hiatal hernia?
I have such a hernia of the stomach, and would like to know if proper diet and loss of weight would help. Is it possible for hiatal hernia to shrink, or would medication help? — A. B.
Hiatal (or hiatus) hernia is not one in the exact sense of the usual abdominal hernia, or rupture. Rather, it is a hernia, or fault, which is entirely internal, at the point at which the gullet passes through the diaphragm. It's a very great deal more common than is popularly supposed, so it behooves people to have a mild acquaintance with the term.
As to "bleeding of the mouth," do I understand correctly? Bleeding "OF" the mouth, gums, nose, or related areas, is one thing. It has nothing to do with hiatal hernia. But bleeding "FROM" the mouth, that is, vomited blood, can occur if an ulcer has formed at the hiatal hernia. This is not usual, but it can happen.
There are also cases called "alding hernias," in this respect, because the intestinal corridor may slip upward or downward at the faulty point, causing distress intermittently.
If (as can be done) it is ascertained that bleeding is from this point, an "ulcer diet" is required.
Otherwise such a diet cannot be expected to reduce or "shrink," or "cure" the condition. It may relieve discomfort, which is well worth while, however.

In my experience many patients with hiatal hernia are overweight women of middle age (although other ages are not exempt). Reduction of weight usually helps them a great deal — for when we gain too much weight, not all of the excess is visible. Some is in the form of fat inside the abdomen, and it causes crowding and pressure. This certainly can irritate a hiatal hernia which otherwise might not be a problem at all.
As to medication, yes, it can occasionally be used to counteract acidity and inhibit spasm, and thus be helpful in treating the condition. In some cases surgery is the correct and only solution—in cases in which symptoms are severe; repeated bleeding occurs; there is persistent pain or difficulty in swallowing.
For the most part, treatment such as for moderate cases of peptic ulcer is best. For severe cases, surgery — which is true of ulcers, too, of course.
Dear Dr. Molner: Next summer I will be 15½. I would like to get my nose done at that time. My mother says I am too young and I should wait until I am at least 16 or 17. However she does agree that my nose needs it. I have a terrible complex about it and just can't wait until I am 16 or 17. Please tell me if I am too young. — J. S.
Since both you and your mother agree that this plastic surgery should be done, then I'd suggest consulting the surgeon as to the right time to do it. (I'd think 15½ would be quite acceptable, but leave it to him.)

Dear Dr. Molner: My legs and arms are covered with black and blue and yellowish bruise marks. I seem to bruise easily, just by walking into a chair, for example. Does this indicate any abnormality? I am 41. — E. C.
Yes, such easy bruising may be significant. Sometimes a dietary deficiency (lack of Vitamin C, from fruit juices, or calcium, from milk) is the cause. Improving the diet is the cure, of course.
In other cases some blood abnormality may be present: Insufficient platelets, anemia, or some flaw in the clotting mechanism. It is well worth while to see your doctor.
What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading my booklet "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.
Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Comfort Of A Ceaseless Watch

Every 24 hours the North American Air Defense Command maintains a check on some 200,000 flights, including a tab on some three dozen objects flitting regularly around in space.

Of this number, the filter center is able to establish the identity of all but a meagre handful.

Col. Barney Oldfield, who explained this constant vigilance to a group of newspapermen the other day, said that on the day previous—quite typical—the command had cleared up all but 18 flying objects.

WITHIN A DEADLINE of three minutes, another eight of the unidentified objects was established by radio. This left 10 in the air, so orders went out to various stations (such as our 33rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Webb AFB) to scramble. Before the interceptors could get to the targets, two other of the mysterious craft were brought into radio contact and gave satisfactory identification. That left eight for the interceptors on which the defensive planes zeroed in dead earnest. However, in every instance, the unidentified craft were identified from close surveillance. Had any of them not been, and had it not obeyed signals to turn and land, the interceptors would have blasted it from the sky.

IT IS AMAZING that the command can watch that many flights per day and keep track of all but an infinitesimal fraction. But it would take only one enemy plane to lay its eggs of hell if it were bent on striking.

Until now it has been a case of pilots forgetting to file flight plans, or deviating from planned courses, or getting lost, perhaps wandering across the border and back. But the Air Defense watchdogs don't know this, and they check out everyone of these unidentified craft to satisfy themselves that the plane was not sent as a dummy or a feint, or as a trial balloon for air defense.

THE COLONEL POINTED out that in this type of interception, our defenses are good. We could use an interceptor with higher and faster operating range, but by and large we have capability of quick and effective defensive operations.

Where the dangerous gap exists is in interception of intercontinental or other guided missiles. Our tracking systems can spot them, predict their arrival time, and the probable point of impact. The Nike-Zeus is showing considerable promise as an interceptor missile, but it may be from two to four years away as an operational item.

SO FAR AS WE know, Russia has no real effective anti-missile missile. It's not safe, however, to assume this, hence the imperativeness of the Nike-Zeus project.

Meanwhile it is comforting to know that our warning systems and our air defense personnel maintains a ceaseless watch, day and night, not only on the objects in flight and in space, but for submarines and for fishing trawlers. —JOE PICKLE

Inez Robb Good Luck To Traffic Controller

Traffic control is like taxation or walking to work. Everyone is in favor of it for the other fellow. Breathes there a motorist with soul and indignation so dead he doesn't take a high moral tone when someone else double-parks, parks illegally, runs a red light, speeds, honks his way across town, weaves in and out of traffic or screeches to a halt in the middle of the pedestrian crosswalk?

BUT WHEN HE does it, brother, it's based on sound judgment, extrasensory preception, freedoms guaranteed by the Bill of Rights and immunity from picaresque rules meant for lesser men. He's got an in at City Hall or knows a guy who runs the Traffic Court or Somebody under who will make the traffic cop wish he were dead.

This poorman's philosophizing is occasioned by the coincidence that New York has just hired itself a new traffic commissioner and expert, Henry A. Barnes. That the man is a genius is attested by the fact that he comes to New York from Baltimore, where he straightened out traffic.

MOTORISTS who were trapped in Baltimore in its old, bad days would have given odds of a thousand to one that no solution, short of sowing the city to salt, could untangle its motor mess.

So Barnes' bona fides are impressive. But so is the opposition he will face in New York, identical with that he would have to wrestle with in any American community of more than 10,000 population.

THE NATIONWIDE opposition confronting Barnes and his brethren is based on the incontrovertible fact that every American motorist is convinced he is the best driver, bar none, in the nation. This nonpareil also believes there would be no traffic problem if he weren't constantly menaced and persecuted by idiots behind the wheels of every other car on streets or highways.

Just to prove the point, Barnes scarcely had one working day under his belt when he offended the powerful New York County Medical Society by suggesting that doctors with MD licenses on their cars had no more right to double-park than, say, Joe Blow — belief that thousand upon thousands of New Yorkers have been hugging to their bosoms for years.

RAM! OFF WENT a blunt telegram from the society reminding Barnes that in re traffic, doctors are a privileged group.

For years, New Yorkers have been growling about the arrogance of trucks and buses and the bedlam into which the two throw traffic there, no less than in other cities. There has been talk, and nothing else, for years about curbing abuses of both.

However, the roar out of the medical will be as nothing to that of James Hoffa if and when Barnes tackles the truck and bus problems, as tackle he must. No doubt, the sound and the fury will be heard even above the roar of traffic.

EVEN SO, the doctors and Hoffa combined will not equal the rage and outcries of the owners and drivers of private cars if Barnes ever decides to eliminate parking on side streets and avenues in midtown. I can hear the keening now of the Fifth, Sixth and Madison Avenue Associations, mercantile groups, if Barnes ever tries to speed traffic by eliminating parking on these avenues. And wait till he goes after the chauffeur-drive, double-parked limousine trade!

Good luck to the new traffic commissioner; he'll need it. His biggest problems in this free-wheeling nation, is that while every man is for him, every hand is against him.

Holmes Alexander Nixon's Standing In California

SAN DIEGO — You could say of Richard Nixon's campaign to become California Governor that he's out to disprove the dictum of novelist Thomas Wolfe who wrote and lived — "You Can't Go Home Again."

Nixon left Whittier, Calif., twenty years ago to become a government lawyer in Washington. He served as a Navy officer in the Pacific, but was still in or near Washington when friends invited him home to run for the House of Representatives in 1946. From then on, as Congressman, Senator and Vice President, he was indisputably an absentee Californian. This is the single, infectious spearpoint which his opponents have maliciously hurled and which festers in his side. It is the weapon with which James Mitchell, Mr. Eisenhower's Secretary of Labor, was beaten last fall by a relatively unknown for the governorship of New Jersey.

YET THERE ARE no precise reproductions in human experience, no exact political parallels. Wolfe felt that a sojourner who made his name away from home would not return to friendship and welcome. But Wolfe was a special case—a man whose celebrity occurred because he wrote with unflattering and compulsive frankness about his town and family, and who was tragically lonesome in every place and phase of life.

Richard Nixon, as a political activist, has tried much like a novelist to communicate with people about life — and, like Wolfe, Nixon has often been rebuked, derided, made to feel lonely and unwelcome. But Nixon has more courage than Wolfe had, more ability to swallow disappointment, dismiss self-pity, and to summon his inner forces to make the next try better than the one before.

AS A NATIONAL celebrity, even though abused, humiliated, defeated and snubbed by his opponents as a stranger and interloper, Nixon has brought credit upon California. Unlike Mitchell in New Jersey, Nixon is a proven campaigner and winner. Today, at the outset of a canvass that is aimed at renaturalization, at knowledge-in-depth of State problems, at a communication more intimate, and a victory more personal, Nixon is bathed in an aura that no other Californian has achieved.

Nixon, when I interviewed him for this article, cavalierly dismissed his principal Republican primary opponent, Joe Shell. Nixon is now running against Gov. Brown, and he will run hard all the way to November. Knight, who has withdrawn from the race, has been ill and, at 65, would have been the oldest California Governor in easy memory. Besides, Knight threw a low punch which failed to land on Nixon and pretty well disqualified himself as a serious candidate. Shell, 43, is a sane conservative who favors the anti-union Right To Work, accepts John Birch Society support, and belongs to the Go Right, Young Man movement which is sweeping the nation.

BUT NIXON, while he approves Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, which allows a State to adopt compulsory or voluntary union shops, sees California as an industrial State to which Labor has come to stay. His quarrel with the Birch Society is, he says frankly, "against Robert Welch and all that stuff about Eisenhower being a Communist." Nixon will say nothing in the campaign to offend Shell or other sane conservatives.

In a bigger sense, Nixon is trying to overcome the unwelcome home-boy attack by rising above it. He believes that any Governor of California ought to be sizable enough to make his influence felt on national and world affairs. Nixon will reject the opposition's attempt to provincialize the California election. He will not abandon his education and role as a world figure.

But he remains, world figure and all, a man who, in intellectual boyhood, went away — and oh, how he yearns for open arms to welcome him home.

Newly Wed Couple Making Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Ardis McCasland Jr. arrived here Monday to make a home at Park Hill Terrace following their marriage Saturday in Dallas.

The bride is the former Bernadine Edmonson of Irving whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andy G. Edmonson of that city. Mr. Mc-

Casland's parents make their home here at 1707 Alabama.

The wedding ceremony was read at 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon at the Episcopal Church in Dallas by the Rev. Roland S. Polk in the presence of members of the immediate families.

Russell Brydon, organist, played pre-nuptial music.

Eloise Snell of Fort Worth was maid of honor and Tony Richardson of Austin served as best man. Andy Edmonson was the usher.

Following the ceremony, parents of the bride were hosts for a reception at their Irving home. The bride was graduated magna cum laude from TCU in June with a BA degree. She was a member of Alpha Chi, Student Faculty Forum, the University Choir and was manager of Radio Station KTUC.

Mr. McCasland is a graduate of Texas University and is employed by Cosden Petroleum Corp. as project engineer. He was a member of Associate Society of Mechanical Engineers and Mica.

Out of town guests present for the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McPhail, Terry and Candy, of Tulsa, Okla.

Mrs. John Knox Leads Program

Mrs. John Knox initiated the study on "The Edge of the Edge" for members of the Reba Thomas Circle of the First Methodist Church when the group met at the home of Mrs. Gordon Hughes Tuesday evening.

Assisting in the presentation were Mrs. Don Ford, Mrs. Hayes Bacus, Mrs. Bert Shive and Mrs. Hughes.

Mrs. C. M. Frost brought the devotion for the 13 members present.

Mrs. Seth Lacy will be hostess for the Feb. 13 meeting.

Garland Harrison And Peggy Teague Marry

The home of Mrs. Alean McGill was the setting for the marriage of her son, Garland Harrison, and Peggy Teague, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Teague, Wichita Falls, Saturday night.

The Rev. Mr. Teague read the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a white street length dress fashioned with bracelet length sleeves and jewel neckline. She wore a pearl and rhinestone tiara and carried a bouquet of white feathered chrysanthemums on a white Bible.

Traditionally the bride chose as something old a necklace and earrings; something new was her wedding attire; borrowed were the tiara from Mrs. Gene Cowan, the matron of honor, and the Bible from Esther McGill; her garters were blue and she wore birthdate pennies in her shoe.

Lloyd Harrison served his brother as best man. The bride was graduated from Snyder High School in 1956 and attended HCJC for one year. She is presently employed by the Jess Thornton Agency.

The bridegroom is a 1954 graduate of Big Spring High School and also attended HCJC for one year. He operates Harrison Plumbing Co.

The couple is at home at 204 Owens.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and the guests were registered by Esther McGill. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lenard Edgerton and Mrs. James Teague from a table covered with a lace cloth and centered with the bride's bouquet. The three-tiered wedding cake was iced and decorated in white and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

In addition to the bride's parents, James Averitt attended from Midland as an out-of-town guest.

WELCOMING COFFEE

A welcoming coffee will be held at the Officers' Club, Webb Air Force Base, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. There will be a demonstration presented on proper application of make-up.

NALC Auxiliary Makes Plans For District Meet

Emory Parrish offered prayer, opening the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the National Association of Letter Carriers which was held Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Truman Mason, 1800 Alabama. He also joined in a discussion of a district meeting of the NALC and Auxiliary, to be held March 17 at the Student Union building, Howard County Junior College.

Eleven members of the Auxiliary were in attendance and two guests, Mrs. James Jones of Fayetteville, Ark., and Mrs. Parrish.

The hostess gave a devotion on "Love," and delegates to attend the state convention in June were chosen as Mrs. Reba Parrish and Mrs. Fern Bronaugh.

Project Is Discussed By WSCS

General plans were made for the annual fund raising affair by members of the First Methodist WSCS Tuesday when they met at the church for business and study.

Feb. 8 is the date set for the chili meal that will be served from 11 a.m. until 2 and from 5 until 7 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. Price has been set at 75 cents per ticket. Other particulars will be announced at various circle meetings later.

Mrs. Bill Ward was in charge of the program on "Our Greatest Mission Field." The devotion was given by Mrs. Rex Baggett.

Taking parts on the program were Mrs. Warden Mays, "A Voice of the City"; Mrs. Robert Hill, "A Voice of the Church"; Mrs. L. A. Webb, Mrs. Ed Clements and Mrs. Dewitt Seago, "Voices of the People."

The meeting closed with the group singing "Come Thou Almighty King" and praying in unison.

The next general meeting will be held on Feb. 27 at the church, KTUC.

Mr. McCasland is a graduate of Texas University and is employed by Cosden Petroleum Corp. as project engineer. He was a member of Associate Society of Mechanical Engineers and Mica.

Out of town guests present for the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McPhail, Terry and Candy, of Tulsa, Okla.

Service Program Is Given

The Royal Service program of the Baptist Temple was held at the church Tuesday evening with members of the Fryar Circle in charge. Hostesses were members of the Evans Holmes Circle.

Mrs. Joe Newham, Fryar Circle chairman, was crowned queen for having eight of ten members present.

Mrs. Jackie Tucker read from Luke 18:15-17 and described how a deserted family of children was aided through the Vacation Bible School.

The service was titled "Caring Not For the Ways of God." Mrs. Alvis Harry was song leader. Mrs. Charles Dunnam took the first part and her subject was "Taking the High or Low Roads" from Job 23:13; second part, Mrs. Melvin Lackey told of the lives of lax church members; third part, Mrs. Richard Grimes spoke on the un-churched people living in the eight state area between Colorado and Montana. Mrs. Harry's subject was "This is My Country, America," and Mrs. Newham told of the pioneer areas while Mrs. Mike Arnold described work in Rock Ridge, Wyo.

Mrs. A. W. Page offered the closing prayer.

The social hour was in charge of the Evans Holmes Circle who chose a Valentine theme for the table decoration. A white bell decorated with Valentine cutouts centered the table that was laid in white and trimmed with red and white streamers.

Thirty-eight members and a guest, Mrs. Lester Arnold, were present.

Mrs. Clark Hostess To Mu Zeta Group

Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, meeting Monday night in the home of Mrs. Eddie Clark, 1807 Morrison, heard a discussion on landscaping and gardening. Mrs. J. Gordon Bristol, the speaker, talked to a group of 12 members.

The next meeting is to be held in the home of Mrs. Sam Armstrong, where a program will be presented on dried arrangements with Mrs. Dale Smith the speaker.

Home From Hospital

Mrs. Rendal Hamby and her new daughter, Dedra Lynn, who was born Jan. 18, are home from the hospital. Dr. and Mrs. George Dawson, Jr., are maternal grandparents and paternal grandparents are Mrs. Renis Kaufman and Joe Hamby all of Big Spring.

Contests In Speech Are Continued

Opening the Tuesday night meeting of Toastmistress Club, Mrs. Robert Chepolis gave an inspirational thought for the evening. Held in the Blue Room of the Cosden Country Club, the meeting featured the second part of a speech contest being conducted on club level.

Mrs. Philip Smothermon was timer and a lexicology drill was presented by Mrs. Leland Younkin. Mrs. Ronald Austin served as topic mistress.

Mrs. Leonard Einstein, who presided, presented the "toastmistress of the term" award to Mrs. Smothermon, and an evaluation of business was made by Mrs. Francis Bates.

Speech contestants were Mrs. Bates who talked on "The Working Wife"; Mrs. Albert Freeman, "Shed, Red or Dead"; Mrs. Hollis Smith, "Humour Effect Your Tensions?"; Mrs. Jarvis Ward, "The Importance of the Social Graces."

Three contestants were chosen and will be judged, the winner to represent the club in a contest on Council level when the Council Convention is held in Big Spring in April. The three are Mrs. Hollis Smith, first; Mrs. Younkin, second; and Mrs. Jarvis Ward, third.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Charles Goodell, Mrs. Jefferson Koonce, Mrs. Everett Truxal and Mrs. Hank McDaniel.

Instruction School Held

A school of instruction was held for members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge when the meeting was held Tuesday evening at the lodge hall.

Mrs. Letha Massie, lodge deputy, was the instructor for the school which benefited both new and old members.

Mrs. J. R. Petty, district deputy president, extended an invitation to the lodge to take part in a school of instruction to be held by the Big Spring Lodge, No. 284, next Tuesday at 7:30. The group accepted the invitation.

Resolutions of respect were read for the late Mrs. Gertrude Wasson, a 12 year member of the lodge and also for the late John Tidwell, father of Mrs. Ray S. Doty. Mrs. Beatrice Mittel made a memorial gift in honor of her father, the late John Bates.

Mrs. Clifton Odell was accepted into the lodge membership and will receive the initiatory degree, Tuesday, Feb. 6.

Thirty-seven attended and reported visits to members who are ill and shut-ins.

Mr. Fisher Is B&PW Speaker

"Social Security" was the topic for a talk by Ervin Fisher when he appeared as guest speaker for members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday. The affair was a dinner meeting at the Wagon Wheel.

Mrs. Nell Frazier gave the invocation.

Mr. Fisher, manager of the local Social Security Office, brought an informative talk on the functions of his office. A question and answer period followed.

Guests included Mrs. Roy Worthy and Wilrena Richbourg. Hostesses were Mrs. Dorothy Ragan, Mrs. Frazier, Marie McDonald and Mrs. Clyde Pullis.

Twenty-eight members attended.

Royal Service Held At E. Fourth Baptist

All circles of the East Fourth Baptist Church met Tuesday evening in the church for a Royal Service program on the topic, "That The Way May Be Known." Program leader was Mrs. Norman Welch with the Mollie Phillips Circle in charge.

"Bring Them In" was the opening song and prayer by Mrs. R. C. Stocks followed. The devotional thought was "A Parable of Two Ways," with Mrs. Rayford Dunnagan the narrator.

Participants were Mrs. Charles Wester, first hidden voice; Mrs. James Mahoney, second voice; Mrs. Arnold Tonn and Mrs. Gorman Rainey, a duet, "All on the Altar." Mrs. Jimmy Welch was piano accompanist.

Mrs. Dunnagan gave a special prayer for mission vision and evangelistic fervor in Southern Baptist churches. "Baptist Jubilee Advance" was presented by Mrs. Arthur Leonard; "30,000 Movement," Mrs. Howard Shaker; "This Is My Country," Mrs. H. Reaves; "Pioneer Areas," Mrs. Lee Nuckles; "Some of the 30,000," by Mrs. W. R. Crowover; conclusion by Mrs. Norman Welch.

Mrs. Tonn and Mrs. Rainey sang "Whispering Hope," after which the calendar of prayer was read by Mrs. Welch. Mrs. Dunnagan offered the closing prayer.

Members of the Anita Lowe were hostesses for the refreshment period.

Plans Complete For Convent's Open House

Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society met Tuesday night at the School Hall to make plans for an open house at the Convent Sunday, Jan. 28, from 9 until 12 a.m.

Sponsored by the Altar Society, the open house will honor sisters who staff the school.

Members also made tentative plans for a bingo party, Feb. 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the hall. The Altar Society will serve refreshments during the evening.

The meeting was opened and closed with prayer by Father Francis Beazley, and during a social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. R. C. Frayser, Mrs. R. L. Anderson, Mrs. C. E. Renfro and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 13.

Circle Meets At Hughes Home

The Reba Thomas Circle of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. O. G. Hughes. Mrs. John R. Knox opened the study of "Edge of the Edge," and a devotion was given by Mrs. C. M. Frost.

Eleven members were present.

Grand Jury Considers 29 Cases, Returns 19 Bills

Howard County Grand Jury, in session since Monday morning, reported 19 indictments to Judge Ralph Cato at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday. They had considered 29 cases during the two and one half days they were in session.

The grand jurors, speaking through the foreman, Toots Mansfield, commended the law enforcement officials of the county and city. Mansfield made the statement to the judge just before the body was excused from further duty at this time.

The grand jury is composed of Mansfield, Mrs. Maxine Bruce, W. D. Caldwell, Mrs. Harold Talbot, Mrs. Tommy Gage, O. S. Womack, J. D. Elliott, Albert P. Hohertz, Jack Wolfe, James E. Cape, J. T. Baird and W. H. Ward Jr.

Judge Cato warned the grand jurors that they will probably be recalled for further service later in the year. This jury is appointed, he said, for the January term of the court. This is the "long" term extending from the fourth Monday in January through the fourth Monday in June.

Gil Jones, district attorney, said that no additional cases other than those originally listed for consideration had been presented to the grand jury.

Indictments voted included: Paul Johnson, forgery of a check on July 29, 1961; Charles C. Royal, forgery of a check on Oct. 28, 1959; Winfred Canady, forgery of a check on Feb. 11, 1959; Cosmo Ramirez, two indictments, one for charging two watches to another Ramirez at the Cizon Jewelry store on Jan. 9 and a second indictment for shoplifting a .410 gauge shotgun from Montgomery-Ward Co. on Jan. 6;

Thomas A. Gray, theft over $50, the complaint alleges that he reported on Dec. 9, 1961 that he had been robbed and the state contends he took the money himself; Gene Aubrey Lee, Jimmy Lee

Stephens, and William Charles Johnson, indicted for the Sept. 8 burglary of the Shaw Liquor Store; Crispin Hernandez, indicted for the Nov. 19, 1961 burglary of the L. R. Collins building; Juan Jose Hernandez, indicted for the Nov. 12, 1961, burglary of the Wheat Furniture Co.;

Kenneth Dwayne Vaccaro, indicted for theft over $50 in the stealing on Dec. 14 of a 1956 model car from H. F. Simpson; Pedro Contreras, indicted for possession of narcotics on Nov. 15, 1961; Andrew Perez, indicted as an ex-conviet having a pistol in his possession; William K. Clark, theft over $50, in connection with the taking of a 1954 automobile on Dec. 30, 1961, from Mrs. Nolen Garrett; Don Lee Bunch, car burglary on Dec. 1, 1961; Edward Owen Robertson, DWI second offense; Ernest Henry Jr., car burglary on Dec. 5, 1961 and Jose B. Flores, burglary of the Fox Pawnshop on Nov. 23, 1961.

Connally Calls On All Citizens To Unite Against Communist Foe

COLORADO CITY—Maintaining the security of this country is not solely the responsibility of the military establishment; Communist foes around the world are attacking us on every front; and all citizens of the nation must unite to combat these assaults.

This was the essence of remarks made by John B. Connally, former Secretary of Navy, at this city's annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday evening.

A crowd of more than 200 heard the former secretary detail much of the operation of the military establishment, particularly the Navy.

He said Americans can be confident that the U.S. has the greatest fighting team in the history of the world, and the greatest capability of any nation in the world; "therefore, we should always lead from strength."

"I do not believe there will be an all-out nuclear war," said Connally, "because our foes know that we have the capability of destruction."

He reviewed the SAC strength, with bombers on station around the world, and able to deliver nuclear bombs; the new power of the Navy with its nuclear submarines, the Polaris series. These, he said, in a short time will be coming off the ways at the rate of one per month, can cruise around the world without surfacing; can remain on duty station for 60 days—and each carries more destructive power than all that used by all the armies, on both sides of World War II.

Pointing to the vast sums spent for military upkeep, Connally said, "the military appetite is—and should be—insatiable. You must remember that the leaders in our Armed Forces are always working in the unknown—exploring, developing, perfecting, trying to see into the future. Before any item of military hardware becomes operational, there has been research and development. This all takes tremendous sums of money."

Connally said this country is able to buy what it needs for security, but that Defense Department leaders want to be sure that "we need what we buy."

Efforts are made to cut down costs without reducing military effectiveness, the former government official pointed out. He had high praise for Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, secretaries of the Armed Forces and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"All are able men as dedicated to the welfare of this country as you are," he said. He also lauded Rep. George Mahon as one of the "most knowledgeable men in Washington on the military establishment."

Washington (AP)—Army Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau testified today that changes made by Congress in some of his anti-Communist speeches have "caused me to wonder" but "have not prevented me from getting across my basic message."

Trudeau, head of Army research and development and former chief of Army intelligence, made the statements in testimony at a Senate investigation of charges that Pentagon censorship has hindered military men.

He said the State Department was responsible for some changes or suggested changes in his texts, but that he did not always know the sources of the changes.

Wisdom Teeth Replace Molars

DALLAS (AP)—A team of oral surgeons has reported the successful transplanting of wisdom teeth, to more useful spots in a series of patients.

The third molars, or wisdom teeth, replaced extracted six-year molars in a series of 40 patients at Parkland Hospital in the last two years.

Dr. Robert Walker, chief of the Division of Oral Surgery at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School, reported the work at the Dallas Mid-Winter Dental Clinic.

Upper and lower wisdom teeth can be used to replace any molars, said Dr. Walker. "They are almost by design made for replacement of these teeth."

Dr. Walker said the procedure is limited to patients 12 to 16 years old, but it results in a valuable service for many.

It can help maintain proper spacing, obviate the necessity of a bridge, and eliminates the future trouble highly predictable with wisdom teeth, he said.

Local Steer Places Second

Emma Lee White of the Howard County 4-H Club won second place with her medium-weight steer at the Abilene Livestock Show on Tuesday. Howard County's 4-H pen of three steers rated third in that competition.

These were the best showings local competitors made in the big exposition.

Other local placings: Mack Barr, 10th in the light heavyweight steer division; Mack Barr, fifth in the medium weight steer division; Ronnie Ward, 9th in the light weight steer division.

Approval Seen On Angola Demand

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. delegates predicted today the General Assembly will give overwhelming approval to an Arab-African resolution calling on Portugal to end harsh rule in Angola and start the West African colony on the road to independence.

Commission Mulls Utility Easements

Several easements for utilities were considered at Tuesday night's meeting of the city commission and authority for condemnation of some property given to the city attorney.

The trunk sewer line to connect with the new sewage disposal plant, which will follow a route close to the rebuilt and expanded IS 20 in East Big Spring, will require right of way from two parties. The city manager was authorized to negotiate for the right of way and, if it could not be secured, to have the city attorney condemn the property. The lines will have to be laid before work on the highway starts this summer.

Rayford Gillman, who owns property on San Antonio and West Fourth, requested permission to transfer property to the city to get an alley straightened in the block. He owns property on both sides of an alley already opened and in which the city has a sewer line. He agreed to pay $164 for moving the sewer line, and will trade a part of his property to the city for some of the present alley to get it straightened. The commission approved the exchange.

Morris Robertson, who lives in the Clanton Addition, appeared before the commission requesting a new water line for residents on a street now in use but never dedicated. He agreed to the commission's request to secure all deeds for a right-of-way dedication of the street before a water line could be laid. The residents now connected to the old line, which is small, will be given an improvement of existing services with no cost.

If vacant property is improved and water requested the owners will be assessed on a pro-rata basis. Sewer lines will be provided after engineering work is done, but will be tapped under the city's pro-rata policy for all residents where no sewer line now exists. No sewer line now serves the area.

Dan Krause, trustee for an estate owning property at the southeast corner of Gregg and Fifth, appeared before the commission seeking information about rezoning the property, formerly used by a motor company, for the purpose of a barbecue stand. He said the proposed tenant had asked for a permit for on-premises consumption of alcoholic beverages. The property is not zoned for this purpose. The rezoning will be submitted to the Planning and Zoning commission at its regular meeting in February.

He said the proposed tenant had asked for a permit for on-premises consumption of alcoholic beverages. The property is not zoned for this purpose. The rezoning will be submitted to the Planning and Zoning commission at its regular meeting in February.

Commission Mulls Utility Easements

Several easements for utilities were considered at Tuesday night's meeting of the city commission and authority for condemnation of some property given to the city attorney.

The trunk sewer line to connect with the new sewage disposal plant, which will follow a route close to the rebuilt and expanded IS 20 in East Big Spring, will require right of way from two parties. The city manager was authorized to negotiate for the right of way and, if it could not be secured, to have the city attorney condemn the property. The lines will have to be laid before work on the highway starts this summer.

Rayford Gillman, who owns property on San Antonio and West Fourth, requested permission to transfer property to the city to get an alley straightened in the block. He owns property on both sides of an alley already opened and in which the city has a sewer line. He agreed to pay $164 for moving the sewer line, and will trade a part of his property to the city for some of the present alley to get it straightened. The commission approved the exchange.

Morris Robertson, who lives in the Clanton Addition, appeared before the commission requesting a new water line for residents on a street now in use but never dedicated. He agreed to the commission's request to secure all deeds for a right-of-way dedication of the street before a water line could be laid. The residents now connected to the old line, which is small, will be given an improvement of existing services with no cost.

If vacant property is improved and water requested the owners will be assessed on a pro-rata basis. Sewer lines will be provided after engineering work is done, but will be tapped under the city's pro-rata policy for all residents where no sewer line now exists. No sewer line now serves the area.

Dan Krause, trustee for an estate owning property at the southeast corner of Gregg and Fifth, appeared before the commission seeking information about rezoning the property, formerly used by a motor company, for the purpose of a barbecue stand. He said the proposed tenant had asked for a permit for on-premises consumption of alcoholic beverages. The property is not zoned for this purpose. The rezoning will be submitted to the Planning and Zoning commission at its regular meeting in February.

Gen. Trudeau Says Censors Cause Wonder

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau testified today that changes made by Congress in some of his anti-Communist speeches have "caused me to wonder" but "have not prevented me from getting across my basic message."

Trudeau, head of Army research and development and former chief of Army intelligence, made the statements in testimony at a Senate investigation of charges that Pentagon censorship has hindered military men.

He said the State Department was responsible for some changes or suggested changes in his texts, but that he did not always know the sources of the changes.

Trudeau quoted changes called for by censors in one of his speeches, adding that there also were changes in others "with the source of the suggested changes" unidentified, which gave my staff and me cause for wonder about the motivation involved."

Decision Due Friday In Thrill Slaying Case

STANTON — Enrique Juarez, 13, who has told Sheriff Dan Saunders of beating and stomping his 6-year-old cousin Pedro Hernandez to death on Monday and of hiding the boy's body in a Lenorah cotton seed house, will be brought before Martin County Judge Jim McCoy at 10 a.m. Friday for a decision on his case.

Because he is a juvenile, the county court has jurisdiction. He cannot be tried for the murder at this time but he can be sent to the Texas Training School for Boys at Gatesville. If Martin County officials choose to do so they could file a charge of murder against the boy and delay his trial until Juarez has reached the age of 17.

Meantime, Juarez is in a cell in the Martin County jail and has been allowed to talk to no one.

He made a detailed confession Monday night of the slaying of tiny Pedro, who is described as having been a very frail child. Enrique showed no emotion at the time he confessed, Sheriff Saunders said, and told the sheriff that he "got a kick" out of beating and stomping on his young cousin.

On Monday evening, when Pedro's mother had spread the alarm her son was missing and Sheriff Saunders had organized a search party for the child, Enrique was one of the more enthusiastic searchers, the sheriff said.

Before the boy was found around 9 p.m. Saunders said that Enrique left the group. When all the evidence indicated that he was the last person seen with Pedro, the

OIL REPORT

More New Oil Being Recovered

More new oil was recovered from three zones of a Dawson County indicated multi-pay discovery, Texaco No. 1 McDougal, according to today's report from the operator.

Recovery was 41 barrels of oil from the Mississippi on 143 barrels of oil from the Fusselman and 108.8 barrels of oil from the Montoya.

A Martin County venture, Pan American No. 1 Breedlove Operating Area, has perforated at three intervals between 8,200-400 feet. The perforations are probably in the Spraberry as are other perforations between 8,480-925 feet.

Baxter No. 1 Mills-Patton, also in Martin County, has fractured perforations heavily and is preparing to swab.

Dawson Hamon No. 1 McDougal is digging through lime and shale below 8,765 feet. It is C SE SW, section 23-36-4n, T&P survey.

Kern No. 1 Wright is drilling below 7,490 feet. Location is C SE NE, section 13-34-4n, J. Polte-vent survey.

Texaco No. 1 McDougal opened the Mississippi on 12-64 inch choke, then opened to 18.64 inch and flowed 41 barrels of new oil and 2 per cent basic sediment and water in nine hours. The Mississippi was shut in and on an 8-64 inch choke the Fusselman flowed 143 barrels of oil in one hour. Recovery included 1 per cent basic sediment and water. That zone was shut in and the Montoya flowed 13.8 barrels of oil in one hour on a one-inch choke before it died. Swabbing recovered 95 barrels of oil in nine hours. The operator is continuing to swab the Montoya. Location is C SE SW, section 23-36-4n, T&P survey.

Trice No. 1 Arnett is drilling in shale below 11,105 feet. The vensheriff went to the house on the James Bullard farm near Lenorah where the Juarez and Hernandez families live. The officer found Enrique in bed.

In an adjacent room, Mrs. Marie Hernandez, distraught mother of the missing child, who had been told of his death, was weeping.

Saunders questioned Enrique and in a short time the boy told how he had knocked Pedro down and how the child's head had crashed into a piece of pipe in the seed house at the Planters Gin in Lenorah. Then he recited how he began kicking, beating and stomping the unconscious boy. Later, he buried the body under two feet of cotton seed.

The killing occurred around 4:30 p.m. The first official search for Pedro was launched around 7 p.m. and Sheriff Saunders and his party found the body at 9 p.m.

The body of Pedro was taken to Stanton where an autopsy by Dr. J. M. Shy revealed cause of death due to a skull fracture and a brain hemorrhage back of the right ear. Dr. Shy told Saunders there were

Record Projects Planned This Year

DALLAS (AP)—The Army Corps of Engineers is scheduled to spend $183 million on Southwestern projects this year—a record. The previous record was $175 million set last year.

The engineers' Southwest Division includes eight states with more than 40 major projects under way.

Four major projects are scheduled to start in Texas this year, including the Stillhouse and Somerville Dams, a hurricane protection project at Texas City and a deep water navigation project—the Port Aransas - Corpus Christi channel.

numerous injuries on the body sufficient to have caused death in addition to the one he listed in his report.

Funeral services for Pedro will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church with Father Pierce officiating. Burial is to be in St. Joseph's cemetery. Arrington Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Pedro was born in Stanton on May 7, 1956. He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Eleasio Hernandez. The father was in San Antonio at the time of his son's death.

Enrique is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Selferino Juarez. They moved to Lenorah only a short time ago from San Antonio.

Purcell Gets JFK Backing

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Graham B. Purcell, Democrat, has the backing of President Kennedy in a runoff election Saturday to name a 13th Texas district congressman.

Purcell received a personal letter from the President endorsing his candidacy.

Joe Meissner, Republican, opposes Purcell in the runoff election to name a successor to Frank Ikard, who resigned to become executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute.

"I am well aware of your candidacy for Congress, and I and my friends have called attention to your talents and ability," the President wrote.

"The nation needs the kind of representation you can furnish in Congress, and I am delighted that our party has selected you to be its candidate in the 13th District of Texas."

Purcell is a former Big Spring resident.

High School Band Given Permission For Fair Trip

The Big Spring High School band received permission Tuesday night to accept an invitation to perform at the World's Fair at Seattle, Wash. this year.

Trustees voted to allow the students to miss five days of school. No school funds will be used for the trip.

Wendal Parks and Johnny Johnson voted against the motion which four other trustees favored. Their reasoning against allowing the trip was that value to be received was not worth a five-day absence and that to permit it would establish a precedent for similar requests which might originate from other school groups.

The band has been invited to present two concerts May 3 during Swedish Week. Doug Wiehe, band director, told trustees that the students would leave May 2 and return for school May 9. This schedule would include a 38-hour ride there, two days at the fair and a stop on the way back unless the students would rather remain at the fair another day.

Cost of the trip will be about $4,500 by chartered bus. Other expenses can be expected to total about $30 for each student, counting only meals and rooming accommodations.

No other long trip has been planned this year, according to Wiehe.

"We are pleased to get the invitation to play at the Fair," he said. "It should be good experience for the students in preparing a concert for presentation in addition to the value of sightseeing."

He said no arrangements had been made for raising the necessary funds. About 10 adults would be needed to accompany the 70 students.

Mrs. Meek Dies Tuesday

Mrs. Media Meek, 77, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. David J. Hopper, 2313 Lynn Drive. She had been ill for several years and was seriously ill since Dec. 25.

Mrs. Meek was born April 6, 1884 at Sweetwater and moved to Robert Lee. She has made her home with her daughter the past several years.

Her husband, J. W. Meek, preceded her in death in 1954 and she will be buried beside him in Trinity Memorial Park. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Nalley-Pickle Chapel with the Rev. Dewitt Seago officiating.

Pallbearers will be W. F. Reed, Everett Hood, Delbert Hopper, Sterling City, and W. D. Bryant, J. R. Hopper and R. F. Haggard, all of Stanton.

Survivors include her daughter, Mrs. David J. Hopper; two sons, J. M. Meek and C. Meek, both of Big Spring; seven grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Opening Thursday
The final dress rehearsal for "The Rainmaker" is scheduled tonight and the Big Spring Civic Theatre production will open at 8 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Jim Wade and John Haldun play the lead parts. Other performances will be Friday and Saturday nights and advance tickets are $1.50. At the door, adult tickets are $1.75 and children's tickets are 75 cents. Webb AFB airmen will be admitted with a 75 cent duet.

Volunteers To Meet Thursday

The first quarterly meeting of the Volunteer Council for the Big Spring State Hospital will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on Ward 8 of the hospital, according to Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent.

Plans for the coming year will be discussed and the proposed budget will be presented for approval, according to D. M. McKinney, chairman of the council.

"All volunteers and the public are invited to attend," he said. "At this meeting they can get an idea what will be coming up and ways they can help with projects in which they are interested."

He said the field of the council will be broadened this year and representatives from every one of the 51 counties which the hospital serves would be needed to put the program over. About 67 organizations from Howard County are expected to be represented at the meeting.

COLORADO CITY — Lamesa defeated Colorado City, 67-33, in a District 3-AAA basketball game here Tuesday night. Lamesa also won the B game, 47-34.

Action Will Allow City To Sue On Water Issue

A resolution, passed Monday by the House of Representatives in Austin, and Tuesday by the Senate, will allow the City of Big Spring to sue the State of Texas to terminate its water contract with the state hospital. The contract effective Oct. 22, 1937, set a rate of 10 cents per 1,000 to the hospital. The city has sought unsuccessfully to negotiate a new contract with the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools to get the rate on what the city calls a more equitable basis.

David Read, local representative, pushed for approval of the resolution in the House Monday, and Sen. David Ratliff piloted the measure through the State Senate Tuesday. Both gave the resolution top priority. It now awaits the signature of Gov. Price Daniel.

"The resolution was drawn by City Attorney John Burgess, on the grounds that the contract contained no termination date, and that it would make the 10-cent rate perpetual," A. K. Steinhilber, city manager, said. "The contract will have run 25 years on Oct. 22, 1962 and we have plenty of precedent in court decisions for terminating it and re-negotiating with the board for a rate in line with our cost of buying and distributing water."

A move, started more than a year ago when the hospital asked the city for additional water, was made by the city to get a rate in line with its present costs. The hospital board refused to negotiate on the grounds that the present contract is still valid. The attorney general backed the board.

A resolution was passed by the legislature during its regular session last winter authorizing the board to negotiate for a new rate. The attorney general ruled that the board could do this "for new and adequate considerations" to the state. However, the board and city were unable to come to an agreement for a new contract, and some board members said they favored letting the current rate stand until the city could seek relief in the courts.

The city's brief in the case claims that the city is losing some $625 per month under the 10 cents per thousand gallon rate.

Read and Burgess worked out a resolution granting the city permission to sue the state.

The city commission has taken a stand against providing more water under the old rate. When plans were made, under the Master Plan bond program, for extending a 12-inch main along US 87 north, it was with the intention of making more water available to customers on the line. The commission voted unanimously to go ahead and extend the line but not to connect with the hospital water system until such time as a new water rate is established.

The commission instructed City Attorney John Burgess, Tuesday night, to begin preparation of the suit to terminate the contract when the governor signed the resolution and when time requirements have been met.

Algiers Obeys Secret Army

ALGIERS (AP) — The French tricolor was flown today throughout Algiers' European areas in a massive demonstration of opposition to Algerian independence.

The flag display was ordered by the European Secret Army Organization, which also called for a 75-minute general strike later this afternoon and told the European population to turn off the lights in their homes for the last 15 minutes. The strike was expected to paralyze the city.

The Secret Army Organization used the occasion of the anniversary of the 1960 settlers' uprising to demonstrate anew its hold on the European population and its determination to keep Algeria French.

In sharp contrast to the European flag display, the walls and windows of Moslem quarters were bare.

Caldwell Gets City Contract

A contract for cleaning, cutting, and filling the site for the city's new 15-million-gallon elevated storage tank, east of the U.S. Experiment Station, was awarded to W. D. Caldwell for $1,500 at Tuesday night's meeting of the city commission.

Authorization was also granted on a call for bids on construction of foundations for the new tank. These bids will be considered at the Feb. 15 meeting of the commission.

Caldwell was low bidder for the grading work at the tank site. Jones Construction Co. bid $2,100, and I. G. Hudson $3,402. The contractor will have approximately 10 days in which to complete the work.

Jim Nichols of Freese, Nichols and Endress, consulting engineers of Fort Worth, told the commission that Chicago Bridge and Steel Co. was now fabricating the tank and would be ready to start erection by March 15.

"This means that the grading must be completed as early as possible for the foundation work to start immediately after contract is awarded," Nichols said. "It will be necessary to pour some 120 cubic yards more concrete on the foundations than originally thought. We cannot use the bell-bottom type footings because of the nature of the soil, so the 12 legs will be sitting on footings tumbled out about five feet. The expansive soil will require that the pourings be made with the same moisture content in all of the holes."

Nichols said the 12 legs will be 48 inches in diameter.

Four Accidents Considered Minor

Four accidents were investigated by Big Spring police after noon Tuesday. There were no injuries.

Joseph Fred Page, 1315 Wood, and Feliciano E. Morales, 199 NW 9th, were drivers of vehicles in collision at West Fourth and Presidio. A second accident, at Third and Runnels, involved drivers Houston Jackson Zinn, Settles Hotel, and Melba Louise Jackson, 1710 Laurie.

Others, locations and drivers of vehicles involved, were: Third and Main, Claudie Everett Moss, 1207 Ridgeland, and Dixie Carol Bugg, 700 W. 16th; Eighteenth and Main, William T. McRee, 1903 Morrison, and Sheri Jon Andre, 1015 E. 20th.

Big Enrollment Expected At HCJC

Registration got underway Wednesday at Howard County Junior College with prospects of continuing heavy enrollment for the spring semester.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that the sign-up would continue through next week (and actually through next week for late registrants), but he urged prompt enrollment. Classes are starting Thursday so no time will be left.

Today's registration will continue through the afternoon, and from 6:30 p.m. through 9:30 p.m. it will be possible to sign this evening for both day or evening classes.

Kennedy May Visit Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — The Austin American said today that President Kennedy may come here in the spring for a major political speech.

Ed Connally, state Democratic Executive Committee chairman, said in Abilene it is likely that Kennedy will visit Texas for a big fund raising dinner. Austin, Houston and Dallas were listed as possible sites.

National committeeman Byron Skelton of Temple told the American no decision had been made on where the dinner would be held. He said a large place would be needed.

Vaughn Pledges

LUBBOCK — Fifteen students will pledge Saddle Tramps, men's service organization at Texas Tech, during the spring semester. The organization's purpose is to promote spirit and student participation in Tech athletic events.

Among those that have been accepted as pledges is Wayne Vaughn of Big Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Vaughn, 617 Tulane, Big Spring.

Highway Bids

AUSTIN (AP) — The Highway Department tabulated $9,139,105 in low bids Tuesday for the first day of contract awards on 579 miles of construction and seal coat work on the state's roads and highways.

Satellite Launch Attempt Fizzles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Rocket failure today ruined an attempt to boost five satellites into orbit simultaneously to probe a number of space mysteries.

But 20 minutes after launch the Defense Department announced that the upper stage failed to build up sufficient thrust after ignition and the entire rocket assembly plunged in the Atlantic Ocean far downrange.

Officials said the $3.5-million vehicle fell into the sea "well south of Cuba."

The failure wrecked the United States' most ambitious multiple payload experiment to date. Attempts have been made previously to send three satellites aloft with one booster, but never as many as five.

The five satellites were to have been sprayed into orbit by spring devices much like the pellets from a shotgun charge. Because of this, project officials nicknamed the project "Bucksshot."

This was to have been the first of three major U.S. space efforts scheduled this week. On Friday, an Atlas-Agena rocket is slated to hurl a Ranger 3 payload to the moon to take closeup television pictures and land an instrument package on the lunar surface.

Doomed by today's failure were: SR-4 (for Solar Radiation 4) to study X-ray radiation from the sun and possibly learn how storms raging across the sun's face affect space near earth.

Rescued From Hotel Fire

A fireman carries an unidentified woman guest at the Barbara Worth Hotel at El Centro, Calif., down a ladder as smoke billows from the upper floors. The fire destroyed the hotel.

Ernie Kovacs' Last Show A Happy Collection Of Fun

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television show that Ernie Kovacs put together and taped a few weeks before his death on Jan. 13 was shown by ABC Tuesday night. Happily, it contained a typical and wide assortment of the things that Ernie—and most of the rest of us—thought were funny.

There were the wordless, short sight gags—the beautiful lady of the haven who drops her veil to reveal a Van Dyke beard; the house of cards that drops through the concrete foundation as the last pastboard is put in place; an art restorer working on Lincoln's twitching nose at Mt. Rushmore, to mention a few.

There were fine sketches demolishing phony avant garde poetry, painting and sculpture done in "Person-to-Person" style. In the first, Kovacs, playing the interviewer, conducted an arty interview with a poet who was persuaded to read his new epic, "Death:—
"Death, death, dwack
"Oh, sheaves of weed the wind"
"There's a lot of truth in that," said Kovacs in reverent tones.

It was adroit, imaginative nonsense. The sponsor omitted the commercials, and at the end an announcer quoted the clergyman at Kovacs' funeral, "We loved this man. He gave happiness, joy and gaiety to the world." And he did, including Tuesday night.

Hugh O'Brian, who after all those successful years playing a bold, intrepid Western lawman in "Wyatt Earp" has managed to pull out of the type-casting rut, so feared by performers, in jig-time. This fall he starred in a Broadway play, a family drama, and now he will play the hero in an upcoming NBC "Theatre '62," adaptation of "Spellbound," a role about as far away from a quick-draw cowtown marshal as an actor can get.

Giant Tanker Set For First Load

TEXAS CITY (AP)—The giant tanker Manhattan finally is getting to take on its first load of oil. The ship, largest commercial vessel ever built in the United States, was stranded at anchor near Galveston Island for four days by fog.

The ship is as tall as a 10-story building from keel to the top of the midships house. It can carry as much oil as a tank car train 27 miles long, an Amoco spokesman said.

President's Church-State Stand Hailed

CHICAGO (AP)—President Kennedy's record on the issue of separation of church and state has been hailed by one of the nation's leading Protestant publications.

The praise was voiced in an editorial of the Christian Century, an interdenominational Protestant weekly magazine widely circulated among clergymen.

"In his first year as president, John F. Kennedy has compiled a better record on the issue of separation of church and state than any other president we have had in the past 30 years," an editorial said.

"Our tape measures him not a smaller but a bigger man than he was a year ago. We expect that he will grow even more in the years ahead."

The Christian Century editorially took to task the Roman Catholic magazine America for observations on Kennedy it published earlier.

"In a lead editorial in its Jan. 13 issue the magazine concludes that the President's public relationship to his own church has been entirely negative and that his approach to Protestants has been politically motivated," the Christian Century said.

"What piques America's editors is the fact that President Kennedy refused to bow to the will of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in including parochial schools in his aid-to-education bill a year ago. 'What riles them even more is the fact that Mr. Kennedy in presenting his education program put his objection to the use of public funds for parochial schools on a solid constitutional basis.'

"Stranger still is the editorial's inference that it is quite all right for the president to be a politician in some instances and in regard to one segment of the population but not right for him to be a statesman in resisting the special interests of another segment."

State Liquor Tax Take Is Up

AUSTIN (AP)—The Liquor Control Board has reported that its 1961 revenues from taxes, permits and licenses totaled $38,728,511, an increase of about $2.5 million from the previous year. The board said 38,000 active permits and licenses were issued during the past year, an increase of about 5,000. The expense of operating the board was about $2 million, the report stated.

Layman Tells Baptists Pastors Need Assistance

DALLAS (AP)—A lay leader told Texas Baptist pastors Tuesday they were exhausted, discouraged and defeated because they were trying to win the world by themselves without help from laymen.

Howard Butt Jr. of Corpus Christi said laymen were at fault too because they are not accepting their responsibilities as Christians.

"Every member of a Baptist church should be a minister," said Butt, vice president of a grocery chain in South Texas. "There might be only one pastor per church, but every person should accept the responsibility of the ministry." Addressing 5,300 church members at the annual Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference, Butt said the main problem is "it costs a lot to be a Christian—it costs ourselves."

"The Christian life is not difficult," he said. "It is impossible."
