Brand New Texas Voters

Mrs. Ronnie Smith, left, and Mrs. J. D. Merri- issued them because they have become qualified voters for the first time this year.

Three Days Left To Pay Poll Tax

Citizens of the county who have not as yet paid their poll tax or who have not been issued their exemption certificate (if they are entitled) have just three days left in which to qualify themselves to vote in the elections of 1962.

And from present indications, there are a great many men and women who are eligible to be voters who have failed as yet to comply with the state qualification laws. Poll tax receipts are lagging far behind the figures for the same date in 1960. This year, it is pointed out, possesses almost as much political significance as did 1960. On this date in 1960, the tax office reported 6,315 persons had paid poll taxes and 1,443 had been granted exemption certificates. The grand total was 7,758. Through Saturday afternoon, the poll tax receipts for this year stood at 4,003 and exemption certificates at 1,288. Total was 5,291.

Questions Methods Of Censorship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said Saturday his investigation of the censoring of military men's speeches already shows "reasonable justification" for the practice but weaknesses in administering it. His special investigating subcommittee is exploring charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that Pentagon censors have muzzled anti-Communist orators. No officer has yet testified that he felt himself muzzled.

conference Wednesday called the censoring system "very valuable," and said he intends to continue it. Censors who tamed down speech texts denouncing communism are reported stated for quizzing about their reasons for some of the changes. Privately some subcommittee members said a good deal of the censoring seemed stupid but they used gentler language in public.

In a statement launching the hearings last Tuesday, Stennis said he was alert for any evidence of subversion. But well-placed committee sources said they would be surprised if any turns up. Thurmond himself said he is not questioning anyone's loyalty, but rather the policy—or lack of it—under which speech writers and censors work.

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Now comes the showdown on whether you can vote during 1962. Three days remain for you to pay your poll tax or get an exemption certificate. If someone said you couldn't vote, most people would fight for the right. Yet half of our adult population is letting the right go by default.

Those who relish fire and brimstone testimony have been disappointed up to now, but there could be some of it when the senators start quizzing censors.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has forbidden Pentagon personnel to tell the subcommittee who censored any particular speech. He said the over-all responsibility is his and he will shoulder any blame, and deal personally with subordinates if they had blundered. The State Department, where much of the censoring was done, has not yet announced publicly any similar policy.

The biggest news of the week came on Monday with the announcement that W. R. Grace & Company is acquiring all the assets of Cosden and henceforth will operate it as a division of the company rather than a subsidiary, which is its present status. The deal involves about $35,000,000, but it will amount to use of Cosden funds to acquire the balance of some 1,472,500 shares not presently held by Grace. About half will be in a $14 cash payment per share, and another $10 or $11 in payments from production.

Thurmond told a reporter the subcommittee already knows quite a bit about the censoring and who did it.

Stennis announced the hearings will resume this Tuesday, with members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff testifying.

Officers reported the breaking of a big burglary ring with the arrest of Rowell Leggett and James Leggett of Abilene. So far, they have admitted to 75 burglaries and safe-crackings, including the CIT safe last week and Reeder-Huff-Estes safe previously, as well as possibly other local establishments.

Three Young Boys Drown In Pond

HJC registration is looking good for the spring semester. The figure so far has passed the 600 mark, and the rolls will be held open through Saturday noon.

BORGER, Tex. (AP) — The bodies of three young boys were found Saturday night near here in a farm pond on which they had been skating earlier in the day. The Hutchinson County sheriff's department identified the youths as Billy Cox, 10, son of James R. Cox; Melvin (Rusty) Kite, 10, son of G. E. Kite; and James Langham, 11, son of D. J. Langham.

The sheriff's office said the boys left their homes this morning with a fourth youth who told officers they had been ice skating. When the boys did not return home at dark, a search was started at 8 p.m. and ended with the discovery of the bodies about 9:45 p.m.

Delay Action On Censuring Castro Regime

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — The deadlocked inter-American foreign ministers Saturday night postponed for two days their deadline for resolutions on how to deal with Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba. The move will carry their conference well into a second week.

The 48-hour extension decision was reached at a meeting of all delegation chiefs who sought desperately to hammer out a formula for punishing Castro that would be satisfactory to all.

But they continued wrangling on how and when to throw the Castro regime out of the councils of the American family of nations.

Earlier the ministers agreed to brand Castro's regime a Western Hemisphere outlaw but this apparently was the only major point approved by all 20 ministers.

WEDNESDAY The original timetable of the conference — which began last Monday — was shattered for the third straight time by Saturday night's action. There were two previous 24-hour extensions for presenting resolutions to be included in the final conference declaration.

The meeting, originally scheduled to end Monday, now probably will end up Wednesday. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, leading the drive for tough action against Castro, told reporters the first week's deliberations had achieved progress. He expressed confidence the delegates during the weekend will be able to clear up what he called the few points still unsettled.

The crux of the debate causing the deadlock is a policy declaration sought by the United States and 12 other members reading Cuba out of the Organization of American States.

GO-EASY BLOC But a seven-nation go-easy bloc, led by Brazil and Mexico, stubbornly opposes quick action. The severest argue there is now no legal basis in the charter of the OAS for eviction of an offending member.

They want a delay of perhaps 60 days or more for a committee study of how to go about ousting Cuba from OAS agencies.

The impression was growing in conference circles that a prolonged deadlock may make it necessary for the opposing groups to draft separate declarations.

STERLING CITY — George H. McEntire, pioneer West Texas rancher and prominently identified in the development of Sterling County, died here Saturday evening. He would have been 80 years old on Feb. 5.

He operated the U Ranch west of Sterling City, which had been founded in 1870, and later acquired by his family. His father was the late Col. William R. McEntire, one of the founders of the old American National Bank, which later became the First National Bank in Dallas.

He was married to Miss Ergar Hugger Taylor in April, 1907, and she survives. Also surviving are a son, George McEntire Jr., of Midland; a daughter, Mrs. Jack B. Wilkinson, Midland; and a granddaughter, Mrs. Frances Dunn, Midland.

Mr. McEntire was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and funeral services will be held here at 10 a.m. Monday, with burial to be in Dallas Tuesday.

Orbit Attempt Is Delayed For Days

Glenn Looks To 'Another Day'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—U.S. plans to rocket astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., into lifeless space and three times around the world were frustrated Saturday by a low-lying, leaden cloud blanket.

After spending five hours and 13 minutes atop a fully loaded and highly explosive Atlas booster, a weary but still smiling Glenn returned to his special quarters where he said simply: "Well, there'll be another day." That day won't come before next Thursday or Friday, maybe later.

At a news conference Saturday afternoon National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said the Navy recovery forces reported they could remain at sea through Friday.

"The attempted launch is now scheduled for not earlier than Thursday, Feb. 1, or Friday, Feb. 2, depending on technical evaluation of the space craft and launch vehicle serving requirements," the NASA added.

In any case, there was an unfavorable weather report extending over the next 48 hours. This was the fifth postponement since Dec. 20 and the dimly disappointing end to a week that was supposed to have been the greatest in U.S. space history. Disappointed Probably nobody was more disappointed than the 40-year-old astronaut himself. His friends said he had been anxiously awaiting the "go" signal.

At Palm Beach, where he is weekending, President Kennedy watched the prelaunch preparations on television. He was notified of the postponement two minutes before the formal announcement here.

Pierre Salinger, the President's press secretary, said Kennedy expressed disappointment at the news. And the President was not alone.

In Arlington, Va., Mrs. Glenn was reported "disappointed but looking forward to the next shot." She had had a busy morning, what with talking to her husband by telephone as he waited in his spacecraft and receiving a call from Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

75,000 WATCHING There were an estimated 75,000 people strung out along five miles of beach here, some of whom had camped out all night, waiting for the flight.

The postponement was announced by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at 9:10 a.m. This was followed 30 minutes later by a weather advisory which read:

"Although good weather still prevails in the recovery areas, a layer of clouds 7,000 feet high spread over central Florida during the night and early morning. There are some breaks in the clouds, but officials felt this is not sufficient for adequate camera coverage of the Mercury-Atlas vehicle in flight.

The weather outlook is unfavorable for at least two more days, primarily because of strong wind and rough seas in the western Atlantic."

STARTED AT 2 A.M. Glenn was awakened to face the gray day at 2 a.m. He showered, shaved and ate a hearty breakfast of poached eggs, steak, caffeine-free coffee, orange juice, toast and jelly.

At that moment he was facing quite an ordeal—a 7:30 a.m. lift-off and a four-hour and 50-minute flight three times around the world.

The rugged, 168-pound Glenn then went into the ready room and donned his silver space suit. At 4:46 a.m. he left the grim white building, Hangar 8, which has been his home for nearly two months.

Glenn then entered a transfer van, riding in a gently vibrating contoured chair. The big white van took 15 minutes to roll down ICBM Road to Launch Pad 14 and the floodlighted missile, steaming in the morning coolness from its load of liquid oxygen.

The van backed up to the missile service tower, called a gantry, and at 5:04 a.m. Glenn stepped out. He slid into the cabin feet first and at 5:12 a.m. he was firmly strapped into launch position on his rubber-lined fiberglass couch. Then began the long fruitless wait.

CAROL BURNETT, WITH BOOTS, FINDS DANIEL A 'LIVING DOLL'

AUSTIN (AP)—"Oh, you living doll," comedienne Carol Burnett told Gov. Price Daniel after planting a ring of bright red lipstick marks across his forehead, cheeks and chin.

Miss Burnett was the guest of honor at the traditional stag luncheon of the Austin Headliners' Club before presentation of 1961 writing and photography awards Saturday night.

State Rep. Jack Crain, former University of Texas football star, presented Miss Burnett a pair of bright blue cowboy boots.

"Just my size," she grinned. "Size 12-C." Local celebrities presented the television and radio star with a live armadillo.

"Is that what we had for lunch?" she asked between screams. Daniel officially designated her a Texas ambassador of good will. Richard Brown, Headliners' president and acting managing editor of the Austin American-Statesman, presented Miss Burnett with an award for her outstanding achievements in the entertainment field.

"My only disappointment is that I thought you wanted me to jump out of a cake," she said.

Purcell Wins Runoff Election

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Graham B. Purcell, a Democrat in the tradition of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn, captured a seat in the U. S. House Saturday night.

He beat Republican Joe Meissner, 38, in a special runoff election. Meissner pledged his campaign to a local conservative viewpoint.

A late count showed Purcell with 23,819 ballots and Meissner

Kennedy of two additional House votes more in line with the administration viewpoints than that of the southern Democrats' block. Kennedy picks up the second supporter Tuesday in Texas' 4th District when two administration Democrats are in a similar special election runoff.

A victory for Meissner would have been the upset of history in this 13th Congressional District because it has never gone GOP. The district remained Democratic even when Texas as a whole went for Republicans Dwight D. Eisenhower in two presidential elections and for Republican John Tower for the Senate eight months ago.

Both of today's candidates are Wichita Falls candidates. Purcell issued a formal victory statement declaring: "I see today's victory as another in a series for our President and our party. Make no mistakes about this.

Purcell is a former Big Spring. See story on page 6-A.

"The people of Texas, like the people of the United States, want our country to move ahead—to take leadership in statesmanship, the quest for real peace, the conquest of space.

"And, more important today, perhaps to move ahead in the quest for freedom and economic well being in areas of the world under threat of Communist infiltration and Communist imperialism."

At least two counties in the district gave the Republican the lead. But Purcell's lead in vote heavy Wichita County was 3,428 to 4,044. It is the home county of both candidates and has approximately a third of the vote strength of the district.

Late reports indicated that only two counties out of the 19 in the district went Republican, both by small margins. They were Hardeman and Cooke. The district never has gone Republican.

Meissner campaigned on a platform of conservatism.

Networks Spent Half-Million On Launch Failure

NEW YORK (AP)—The three major television networks said they spent more than half a million dollars to cover Saturday's canceled attempt to launch a man into space from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The three networks, ABC, CBS and NBC, also reported using more than 600 production employees, newsmen and technicians to make live broadcasts and taped coverage which began at 6:30 a.m.

An ABC spokesman said the pool costs for video coverage was about $500,000 which will be split among the networks.

Ice Jams Cause Damage Along Major Waterways

By The Associated Press Melting snow, rain and ice jams stirred up violent waters in rivers and streams in scattered sections of the nation Saturday.

More than 150 barges tore loose from their moorings in Cairo, Ill., damaged shore installations and drifted into the Mississippi River.

The barges, 200 feet long and loaded with grain, steel, petroleum and other cargoes, floated along in currents dotted with ice floes as big as trailers. Most later were rounded up by rivermen.

Reds Trumpet Our 'Failure'

LONDON (AP)—The Russians asserted Saturday night that fear of a launching failure was the real reason American officials postponed the blasting into space of Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

"Failure at Cape Canaveral," a Moscow radio broadcast told home service listeners. "The fact is that officials of the observation point on Cape Canaveral were alarmed by the failure of yesterday's launching of a rocket in the direction of the moon."

"As is known, the rocket which started yesterday from the same point has already deviated from its set direction by approximately 65,000 kilometers (40,625 miles)."

"The rocket mechanisms of the rocket launched yesterday and of the one which was to have been launched into orbit around the earth with a man on board are of the same type."

GOP Cites States' Rights In Opposing Urban Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Republicans took a states rights position Saturday in continued opposition to President Kennedy's proposal for an urban affairs department — and one accused Kennedy of "gutter politics."

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., indicated in an interview that the establishment of such a department would invite cities to bypass the states in dealing with the federal government.

"Do we want to set up a department for direct dealings between Washington and the municipalities, which are adjuncts of the states?" he asked.

He answered his own question by saying that he doesn't believe this would be wise.

Dirksen said he doesn't believe

Kennedy has succeeded in putting the Republicans on a political spot by announcing that if a new department is created he will appoint Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver to head it as the first Negro Cabinet member.

Kennedy took this course after blaming the Republicans for a House Rules Committee vote shelving legislation to create the department. Five Republicans joined with four Southern Democrats in a 9-6 vote against sending the measure to the House floor.

The President reacted quickly by announcing he would set up the new department by executive order—which is subject to veto by either branch of Congress.

Kennedy's course was described by Louis Lautier, Negro special assistant to the Republican national chairman, as an example of "gutter politics." Lautier said in a statement that Weaver "is merely an unhappy pawn in a political chess game."

"The Republican vote in the House Rules Committee not to send the bill to the House floor was based on the demerits of the issue," he said. "The bill was a fraud—it would not solve the problems of urban communities but would create a large and sprawling bureaucracy."

Lautier said political maneuvering by the President is aimed at "hiding the failure of President Kennedy to keep Democratic platform and candidate Kennedy's campaign promises to ban racial discrimination in federally assisted housing."

Laos Troops Battle Reds For Key City

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The royal army flew reinforcements Saturday to Nam Tha, where its troops and Communist battalions battled for control of a ridge dominating that provincial capital.

The dispatch of reinforcements to the imperiled stronghold indicated Premier Prince Boun Oum is determined to hold Nam Tha, whose fall would abandon a huge slice of northwest Laos to the Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas.

The government charges the attackers are the Pathet Lao guerrillas of Red Prince Souphanouvong, backed by two battalions from Communist North Viet Nam. A Communist asserted two Chinese Communist battalions also are operating at nearby Ban That Pao. U.S. military sources said they had not yet confirmed the identity of all the attackers.

The renewed fighting shoved into the background the political maneuvering designed to remove this Asian kingdom from the cold war arena and embark it on a course of neutrality.

Flying home from the Geneva conference on Laos, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma disclosed that a meeting of the three princes set for Feb. 2 in the royal capital of Luang Prabang, 100 miles south of the Nam Tha front had been postponed.

Souvanna, expected to be premier in a neutralized unity government, told reporters in Frankfurt, Germany, he still hoped to meet soon in Vientiane with Boun and Souphanouvong.

Souphanouvong, half-brother of Souvanna, stopped over in Moscow and was in conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Funds Sought For Pollution Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Engineers are trying for a go-ahead on experiments to curb salt water pollution of Southwestern streams, Sen. Robert Kerr, D-Okla., said Saturday.

If the program is authorized and successful in Texas, it could salvage up to 36 million acre feet of water a year for use in the Red and Arkansas River basins, Kerr said.

Southwestern Division Army Engineers at Dallas informed Kerr they have given the Rivers and Harbors Board an interim survey report by the Tulsa District engineer. The report recommends congressional authorization for experimental construction work in two Red River basin areas.

The estimated cost is $300,000.

One project would provide an earth dike around the Estelline spring on the edge of the plain of Prairie Dog Town fork of Red River, one-half mile east of Estelline, Tex.

"Receive Ye The Holy Ghost"

By T. H. Farber, preacher, Church of Christ, 2800 West Highway 80, P.O. Box 1285.

Some say this statement of Jesus in Jno. 20:22 is a command for us to seek Holy Spirit baptism.

Well, this Scripture does not say, "Receive ye Holy Ghost baptism." The word "baptism" is not there. There were different measures of the Spirit; and only Christ received the Spirit without measure (Jno. 3:34). There were three measures given to men: (1) the baptismal measure which fell upon certain ones (Acts 2 and Acts 10); (2) an imparted measure which was given by the laying on of the apostles' hands (Acts 8:17, 18; Acts 19:6); (3) the indwelling measure common to all Christians, that was promised to those who repented and are baptized in the name of Christ for the remission of sins (Acts 2:38). Only Number 1 is called "baptism" in the Scripture. Only 1 and 2 carried miraculous powers. They were temporary in the church. Only Number 3 is for the entire age. See articles to follow.

Welcome to the services today. Sermons: "How One is Called to Preach" (10:30); "How Rigid is the Bible?" (7:00). —Adv.

Woman Treated After Attack

Maria Garcia, 307 N. Bell, was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation at 11 p.m. Friday, for treatment of bruises and cuts resulting from a beating. Police called to investigate, said the woman told them she left the Jalisco Bar to go home. She was attacked by a man whose name she gave police. She also said she would file charges for aggravated assault.

Police investigated a burglary at the J&M Cafe, 510 NW 4th. Some one entered by forcing the rear door, and broke open the cigarette machine and juke box, taking an estimated $22. Police were notified about 3:15 p.m. Friday by the operator, John Reugil, who said the robbery took place between 12:15 a.m. and 3 p.m. Friday.

E. C. Reeves Enters Race For Pct. 4 Commissioner

E. C. (Cleo) Reeves, 42, a long time resident of Howard County, has authorized the Herald to announce his candidacy for County Commissioner of Precinct 4, subject to the Democratic primary of May 5.

"I would like to serve the people of the precinct, and the whole county," said Reeves. "For almost three decades I have made my home in the precinct which I now ask to represent, and I feel that this has given me a chance to be familiar with the many problems and of the desires of the people in the precinct.

Cleo Reeves has lived in the county 29 years, except for time out for duty in the Army Air Corps during World War II. He is a member of the Salem Baptist Church where he has held membership 29 years.

The Reeves farm is about 10 miles northeast of Big Spring, near the R - Bar community. Reeves was educated in county schools and attended Howard County Junior College. He is a member of the Farm Bureau, American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"I favor a strong unit road system," Reeves said, "in compliance with unit system law. I would work toward qualified leadership in the county road and bridge department in order to give the

E. C. REEVES county the best road system possible.

"Between now and the primary election, I hope to see everyone in the precinct personally, in support of my candidacy. Should I miss anyone, I hope the voters will accept this announcement as a personal request for their support and influence."

George Ringener Wins Promotion

LENORAH — George W. Ringener, Reno, Nev., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ringener of Lenorah, has been promoted to lieutenant in the Washoe County Sheriff's Department at Reno.

Ringener, a veteran of the U. S. Air Force in the Korean conflict, has served with the Reno sheriff's department since January, 1956. After returning from Korea he served with the Air Force at Stead Air Force Base near Reno. The 29-year-old officer has served all of his time with the department in the patrol division. He and Mrs. Ringener have one child.

Storm Protection Project Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough said Saturday he had been advised that the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors has acted favorably on an interim report of Army Engineers for hurricane protection at Port Arthur.

Total first cost of the improvement was estimated at $33.4 million, of which the government would pay $23,380,000.

Last Day In Colorado City

Waymon Robinson, left, manager of Colorado City's Burton Lingo Lumber Co., is leaving and Tandy Curlee, new owner, takes over. The sale of the lumber yard and buildings in the background marked the end of one of West Texas' oldest business names still doing business at its original site. Robinson left Friday for Odessa where he will be associated with Burton Lingo.

Burton Lingo Sells C-City Lumber Yard

COLORADO CITY (SC)—When Waymon Robinson cleaned out the big iron safe at Burton Lingo Friday, he closed the door on another chapter of West Texas business history.

Robinson is the manager of the Colorado City store and will move to Odessa's Burton Lingo, following the purchase of the Colorado City yard by Tandy Curlee, H. V. Brown and Billy Cope. Curlee will live in Colorado City and manage the lumber yard.

William Cameron and Willard Burton bought two lots from Martin and Waddell in 1882 and established the yard that in 1887 passed into the hands of Burton, who had lived in Tarrant County. E. H. Lingo and Paul Waples of Grayson County, J. B. W. Burton of El Paso County and John G. Waples of Missouri. The firm became known as Burton Lingo and the yard has operated continuously since that time.

In clearing the safe, Robinson found deeds for land in Roscoe and Snyder and dozens of other West Texas towns, where the five partners had established lumber yards after their start in Colorado City.

Loan Shark Bill Up To Committee

AUSTIN (AP)—Conference committees and delaying tactics appear to be the order of the day when the legislature goes into its final 96 hours of the special session Monday.

High on the Senate and House dockets will be the naming of conferees to try working out a compromise on the loan shark bill. The Senate passed the measure Thursday in a radically altered form from the House version. The House refused to accept the changes.

Another conference committee appears almost certain for the only other major bill still unpassed—the tourist advertising measure.

As it left the Senate, the bill provided $200,000 to advertise Texas tourist facilities, $75,000 to repair the San Jacinto Monument, and a $4,000 a year raise for six state department heads.

A long list of added expenditures were proposed in the House Appropriations Committee, plus requests to raise the advertising items to $300,000 and the monument repair money to $156,000.

Committee Chairman James Cotten said he plans to have some form of the bill for the House Monday. If any major changes are made, the bill goes back to the Senate, where a conference committee probably will be requested.

Possible delaying tactics in the Senate could put off consideration of bills to make San Angelo and Pan American colleges four year schools, wholly state supported.

Sens. W. T. Moore of Bryan and Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells conducted minor filibusters, killing action last week on the measures.

Any additional delaying tactics in the Senate could bog down action on all or most other legislation—at least temporarily.

Gov. Price Daniel said he will sign Monday what he calls the top bill of the session, a measure requiring banks to advertise and report abandoned accounts to the state. He has signed the $15 million farm road bill.

The loan shark bill will go into conference committee as it left the Senate. Briefly, it: Regulates loans up to $200; sets 3 per cent per month interest or $1.50 charge, whichever is larger; prohibits harassment of borrowers; gives enforcement of the bill to the banking commissioner instead of a loan commissioner originally provided; and requires lenders to be Texas residents or companies to be owned 51 per cent by Texas residents.

The major controversy will be over the top regulated loans.

Martin Finances Show Improvement

STANTON—Martin County finances, hard put for several years, showed modest improvement during 1961, according to the report of Treasurer Elmo Reed.

Nowhere was there a more substantial gain than in the general fund, which is still beset with an overdraft of $38,972. However, it should be noted that the county opened the year with an overdraft of $78,831 in this fund, and by holding expenditures to $36,162 against revenues of $50,000, the deficit was whittled by approximately one-fifth. The road and bridge fund showed $11,065 more income than expenditures.

Other funds of the county, aside from those for debt service, showed balances, most of them up somewhat from the previous year.

Outstanding indebtedness at the end of the year was pegged at $810,577. Of this $695,000 is in bonds, $54,000 in road and bridge warrants, $38,725 in lease-purchase agreements for road machinery, and $22,847 owed for moving gas and electric utility changes.

Reports by various funds showed beginning and ending balances: Jury fund, $7,227 and $7,013; road and bridge fund, $73,483 and $84,548; officer salary, $24,403 and $26,009; permanent improvement $274 and $1,114; road and bridge warrant (series of 1938) $14,722 and $15,596; courthouse and jail bonds $7,162 and $10,210 (plus $5,000 securities held); road bond sinking fund (of 1951) $30,372 and $38,156 (plus $8,000 in securities); road bond sinking fund (of 1952) $20,703 and $20,799 (plus $30,000 securities); hospital bonds $12,057 and $12,136 (plus $5,000 in securities); social security fund $234 and $381.

LEE PORTER

Lee Porter Announces For County Judge

Lee Porter, a veteran in county government, has asked the Herald to make announcement of his candidacy for county judge of Howard County. He is filing for a place on the ballot in the Democratic Primary of May 5.

"A great number of people have talked with me about the County Judge's office and have requested that I offer my candidacy. For this confidence I feel deeply honored. My friends and acquaintances have been good to me through the years, and I would like to be of further public service. In all sincerity, I feel that my knowledge of the county's operations, gained in various offices, qualifies me to serve the people of Howard County as their county judge. On this basis I ask your support and if elected promise to fill the office to the best of my ability."

Porter is a native of Howard County and a graduate of Big Spring High School. He worked at the State National Bank for 10 years before going into public service in 1935 as a deputy tax collector under the late John Woltcott. He was elected county clerk in 1939, which office he held until 1953 when he was summoned by the late Charlie Sullivan to serve as county auditor. With this background he is familiar with all phases of county government.

Valley Looks To Cotton Crop To Recoup Losses

McALLEN (AP)—The Lower Rio Grande Valley, in a financial squeeze because of citrus and vegetable losses in the recent freeze, turns to another big money crop next week.

The cotton planting season opens Thursday. Farmers held out hope that a better crop and possible increased acreage allotment would offset losses suffered by the citrus and vegetable industry.

County agents and farmers were optimistic that the freeze, so damaging to crops, might have caused insects to suffer, too. That would cut down on cotton production expenses.

Some merchants and bankers say money is tight. A citrus and vegetable buyer wonders if his job is safe.

A farm laborer doesn't wonder about his job any more. He knows. He stood in line last week to get free food for his hungry family.

agricultural outlook was rosy. Growers were expected to harvest 10 million boxes of citrus—the largest crop in a decade. Winter vegetable crops were thriving. Then at noon Jan. 9 a dry norther blew into the area. Six hours later the temperatures dropped to below freezing and stayed there 70 hours. Once it dropped to 12 degrees, some of the area's coldest weather in 60 years.

Tender vegetable crops perished. Grapefruit and oranges remaining on trees, an estimated seven million boxes, froze solid. Early estimates set the loss to the citrus industry including damaged fruit and loss of labor at $19 million.

Learning About An Enlarger

Mrs. Alice Peden, chief occupational therapist at the Veterans Administration Hospital, learns how to use equipment in a photographic laboratory recently added to the occupational therapy program at the hospital.

Flash Bulbs Mark New Therapy Plan

Bulbs will light up the Veterans Administration Hospital like never before. Flash bulbs, that is. A photographic laboratory has been added at the hospital, according to V. J. Belda, director. It will become a part of occupational therapy facilities at the hospital. Some patients will be treated in the use of camera and dark room equipment as a part of their treatment. The laboratory was approved in November, 1961 and most of the equipment has arrived. By now, the only items missing are tanks for developing. On hand are a press camera, light meter, flash equipment, condenser type enlarger with timer, work table, drum dryer and storage space for photographic paper, film and fluids. The photo lab is not intended to make a trained technician of a person, although the patient may acquire enough skill to use it later. It is solely a tool to transmit beneficial therapy to a patient. It will come under the heading of industrial therapy, a part of occupational therapy. Treatment for some patients means only a short stay in the hospital and return to the natural environment is a simple matter. For others, some who have been hospitalized for years, the transition from hospital to outside life is not so easy. It is for these patients that the occupational therapy program was designed. The photographic laboratory is one of the tools used to facilitate the change. Industrial therapy begins with easy tasks and progresses to more difficult work. Each accomplishment is a gauge used by the doctor to measure the success a patient has made in rehabilitation. At the same time, it gives the patient confidence in his own abilities. The photographic laboratory work is one of the most difficult phases of industrial therapy. Belda said. If a patient completes this course successfully, he can be sure he is about ready to cope with most jobs. Instruction in the course will be done by Mrs. Alice Peden, chief occupational therapist. She is currently receiving instruction in all phases of the laboratory from Stanley C. Lagourney, chief of the housekeeping division.

Bill Hunter In Race For Coahoma JP

William A. (Bill) Hunter, long-time resident of Coahoma, authorized the Herald Saturday to announce his candidacy for the office of Justice of Peace Precinct 2. He has filed for a place on the Democratic primary on May 5. In April Mr. Hunter was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Mrs. T. H. McCann Sr. of Coahoma. "I appreciate the confidence of the commissioners court in appointing me to this office," he said, "and I hope that my services as Justice of Peace have been effective and satisfactory. Therefore, I am submitting my name, seeking my first elective term in the office. I believe that my experience has made me familiar with the procedures and problems, as well as acquainted with those in law enforcement work. "It will be my aim to continue to administer the affairs of the office just as promptly, as fairly and as courteously as possible. I do want the people of the Justice Precinct 2 to know that I will be available under any circumstance and under any conditions to serve at all hours of the day." A resident of Coahoma for over 28 years, Mr. Hunter formerly operated the Coahoma Telephone Exchange. He is a member of the Baptist Church and has been active in community affairs. He and Mrs. Hunter own their home in Coahoma.

WHAT DETERMINES VITAMIN QUALITY?

It is not the price, for door-to-door vitamin sales people usually charge a great deal more for similar potencies than a pharmacy. "They generally overstate benefits," says the Department of Health.

It is not the potency on the label that is all important. What counts is how well will the body absorb the contents. The vitamins we supply are made by the reliable drug firms who make our prescription medicines. No manufacturing tests for quality are left out to reduce price.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Deed Clears Way For Start Of Construction

A new right-of-way deed, to replace one signed earlier and which had been mislaid, was in the hands of Ed Carpenter, county judge, Friday. He said the deed would be dispatched to the State Highway Department immediately. The deed was threatening to delay the contract award for the rebuilding of US 87 from Fairview to the Big Spring city limits. The State Highway Department has earmarked the US 87 job for letting on Feb. 23—subject, of course, to clearing up of all right-of-way titles. Where the deed became lost, whether here or in the state office, was unclear. A search for it failed to reveal its whereabouts. This made it necessary that a new deed be prepared and signed by the property owners involved. The land is the Dillard property and several persons had to sign the easement. Carpenter said that he had been worried of the possibility the deed might be delayed until the Feb. 23 letting would have to be postponed. However, now that the new deed is in the hands of the State Highway Department, there is no reason why the job cannot go ahead as scheduled. The Dillard deed was the final piece of right-of-way the county had to clear for the job.

ADVERTISING

a force for democracy

Advertising is the bulwark on which many of our freedoms are built. Some of these freedoms are as small as the choice of a tube of tooth paste, and some are as large as the exploration of outer space—but, large or small, they are the open gates through which we can constantly expand the scope of our lives.

Advertising makes possible the marketing of goods and services, encourages competition among businesses, and assures the people of free countries a choice between competing products.

Advertising gives us freedom of enjoyment, because the makers of competing products must price their goods as low as possible—and when the cost of necessities is held to a minimum, people have money left for recreation and entertainment.

Advertising gives workers freedom from much exhausting physical labor—and a greater choice of ways to earn a living. Advertising, by increasing the demand for products, makes mass-production methods possible, necessitates the use of gigantic machines to carry tremendous weights, and creates a labor market in which intelligent "man hours" are more vital than "horse power."

Advertising gives job-holders security by sustaining a demand for products and giving financial stability to the company which makes them.

Most important of all, advertising gives us freedom of knowledge. Every public means of communication in the United States is supported by the advertising it sells.

Without the several thousand trade publications which cover individual segments of our industrial fields, manufacturers would not know of new machinery and techniques available, retailers might never learn of new products available for their stores, and doctors would have to leave their patients and return to medical school to keep abreast of modern medical research.

Without radio and television, we would be unable to hear the voices of our national leaders. During a political campaign, the men for whom we vote can become almost as familiar to us as our families, and we choose our candidates confidently, because we know them—thanks to advertising media.

Without newspapers and magazines we would have no knowledge of important events which take place half-a-block or half-a-continent from our homes. Newspapers, often sold for the less than the cost of the paper and ink, can give us facts from all over the world in a matter of hours. Magazines, published at a more leisurely pace, but still supported by their advertising pages, can utilize their staffs and freelance writers to find the long-range trends, or to explore subjects which will interest and teach their readers.

Advertising has been strongly criticized, and sometimes weakly defended. Perhaps the greatest commentary on advertising as a force for democracy is that there is no advertising industry behind the Iron Curtain.

Dictators have much to hide—and nothing to advertise.

This is the winning entry in the Advertising Federation of America annual essay competition for high school students on the importance of advertising in our economy. Miss Lander was awarded a $500 prize. Her composition is reprinted here in its entirety. It will also be reproduced in almost 200 newspapers throughout the United States and six foreign countries, as part of a continuing campaign in "behalf of advertising."

Off With The Old - On With The New

Mrs. Claudia Brown, left, displays the new 1962 Texas license plates which go on sale Feb. 1. Miss Lou Camp, right, holds the 1961 counterpart. Both Mrs. Brown and Miss Camp are deputies in the automobile department of the county tax collector's office.

New Car Licenses On Sale Thursday

It's just a few short days now until 1962 car tag buying time is with us. And Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax collector and her staff of deputies are getting everything in readiness for the opening day. New car plates go on sale Feb. 1. All cars must be wearing the 1962 black plates with their white lettering by April 1.

Supply of tags is on hand. At present, there are 16,165 passenger plates in the office. The county tags to be sold will be in the DD and DE prefix groups. Tags on hand in the DD group ran from 1100 through 9999. The DE tags start with 10 and run through 7274. There are 3,175 truck tags on hand. They are IR 9375 through IR 9999 and IS 10 through IS 2374. Three hundred and seventy five farm truck tags are here—8H2500 through 8H2574. In stock are 330 truck tractor tags, four farm truck tractor tags, 1,900 trailer tags, 275 house trailer plates, 375 motorcycle tags and 1,015 farm trailer plates. In addition, there are six special tags—plates for use by holders of amateur radio transmitter licenses. These tags were requested in advance.

JOHN NUTT

John Nutt Seeks Seat As Commissioner

John Nutt announced Saturday that he has entered his name as a candidate for the Democratic nomination of county commissioner from Precinct 2.

"I have been considering this step for a long time," he said, "and I offer my name for your consideration solely on my own. I am not backed by any group, and I am not obligated to anyone. If I am honored with the office, however, I will be under obligation to the people of the precinct and county, and I will do my utmost to give the very best service I can."

Mr. Nutt was reared in Big Spring, having come here 41 years ago. He attended Big Spring schools and has been in business for 37 years.

For 21 years he operated a gasoline sales business and served not only Big Spring but the surrounding areas of the county. For the past 16 years he has operated the Western Restaurant at 1101 Gregg. Since 1938 he also has operated a motel at Fifth and Gregg Streets.

"I feel like I have learned some lessons in what it takes for sound business operations, and I want the opportunity to apply this in the county's business. I certainly favor doing business at home wherever practical," he said. "It will be my purpose to serve with fairness and without prejudice to any person or group, to devote every minute that is necessary to do the job as you want it done. I am not much to make extravagant promises, but I sincerely hope to be found faithful in performance. On this basis, I earnestly ask your consideration."

DEAR ABBY
A Time To Be Kind

DEAR ABBY: Every time we are in a crowd and someone tells a joke, my husband says, "I've heard that one before." Or else, when they finish, he'll say, "Here's the way I heard it"—and he'll tell it over, only a little different.

I was taught that it is bad manners to do that and whether you've heard a joke or not you should pretend you haven't and laugh for courtesy's sake. My husband says that is being phony, and he would rather be honest. DEAR PHONY: I vote with you. It's more important to be kind than frank.

DEAR ABBY: The man I married has always detested eye make-up of any kind. I went to a make-up consultant and she told me to fill in the blank spaces in my eyebrows with a little eyebrow pencil.

I used the pencil for a month and my husband didn't even notice it. I thought it made me look a lot nicer. It wasn't painted looking, Abby. It was neat and hardly noticeable. One morning my husband saw me using the pencil and he started to rave about how cheap eye make-up was. I told him I'd been using it for a month and he called me "deceitful" and cursed me as though I had taken a giant step toward degradation. The next time I went to use my eyebrow pencil, it was missing. I later found it broken to pieces in the waste basket. I am very angry. What would you do in my place? SHAGGY BROWS

DEAR SHAGGY: Obviously it wasn't the "work" of the pencil—it was the principle of it that irritated your husband—but he certainly behaved in a childish manner. You knew he "detested" eye make-up when you married him. Write off the pencil entirely.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a man who can be the sweetest person on earth at times, but there are other times when he is so mean and ugly it is frightening. I have cried my eyes out over him.

Hear About Knights

Cubs of Den 3, Coahoma, heard a story about knights of old at a meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Bob Achard. A discussion of the story followed the reading. Refreshments were served by David Brady to six Cubs and the Den Chief.

He gets on the subject of my cheating on him, and he won't give up. He spends hours trying to make me confess that I have been a sweetheart to his brother. Once he accused me of something terrible with an old man who has a room with us. He even accused me of awful things with my own brother. All his accusations are false. After he torments me, he laughs and says he was only kidding. Should I marry a man like this?

DEAR TORMENTED: Not unless you want to be tormented this way all your life. The man sounds sick.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, Big Spring Herald.

Special Reports Due Jan. 31

Farmers, farm operators, and crew leaders who had employees during 1961, who were subject to Social Security were reminded Saturday that the required reports to the Internal Revenue Service of cash wages paid, are due Jan. 31. The reminder comes from Erven L. Fisher, manager of the Big Spring district office of the Social Security Administration.

Whether or not wages must be reported depends on the amount and manner of determining each employee's wages, he explained. If the employee was paid $150 or more in cash wages, the wages must be reported. Or, if the employee worked on 20 or more days during the year, and was paid by the hour, the day or the week rather than by the amount of work produced, the wages must be reported no matter how much they were.

Crew leaders who furnish labor to farm and ranch operators are responsible for filing the reports with IRS of wages paid to the crew members unless the crew leader has a written agreement with the farm operator that provides that the crew leader and his crew shall be employees of the farm operator. Full information about the farmer-crew leader arrangements can be obtained on request from the Social Security office.

ABC Club Visits YMCA Friday

Francis Flint, general secretary of the YMCA, reminded members of the American Business Club that Big Spring boasted one of the finest and most completely equipped facilities of its kind, at the ABC luncheon held Friday at the Y.

He urged ABC members to lend support in the Y membership drive, which is just ahead, and to avail themselves of Y services.

Joe Leach, a member of the YMCA staff, suggested that ABC members enroll in the physical training classes being offered within the Y.

"Too many people are dying before their time," Leach stated,

"because they have not taken care of themselves physically." Garner McAdams, ABC president, asked members to help the club prepare for the district convention. The Big Spring ABC affiliate will again host the convocation April 6-7. McAdams said he had hopes this year's convention would be the biggest and most enjoyable in history.

The "attendance contest" party planned by the service club will be staged Monday evening at the Sands Club, McAdams stated. The two losing teams in the recent attendance contest staged within the club will be hosts to the two winning units at the party.

McAdams also reminded the gathering that February has been designated as National Project Month within the club and he urged all members to help make that endeavor a success.

American Business Clubs throughout the nation have adopted the treatment of spastic paralysis as their project.

Mail Service Is Extended

Thirty families living in the Wasson Place and Highland South additions will begin receiving house mail delivery effective Monday.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster, said that two routes are being extended to provide delivery service to the new areas.

In Wasson place, mail will be delivered to residents of Blocks 3600 and 3700 on Boulder Drive, Block 2400 on Carleton Drive and Block 3600 on LaJunta Street. In Highland South addition, mail delivery goes to residents of the 500 block on Highland and Scott streets.

The post office said that patrons in the new areas had been advised of the impending delivery schedule and asked to provide mail boxes at the curb in front of their homes. The service will be by mounted carrier and the type of box required is similar to that used on rural routes.

Here's . . . What's In A Number:

127,962. The number of miles on the speedometer of our tank truck. Pleasurable miles for us, transporting El Paso-Dixie products from our modern complex refinery, to you.

13,800,000. Pleasure miles for you. The number of miles you have driven on the gallons purchased this past year.

1. Just plain Number 1. Oldham Oil is one year old.

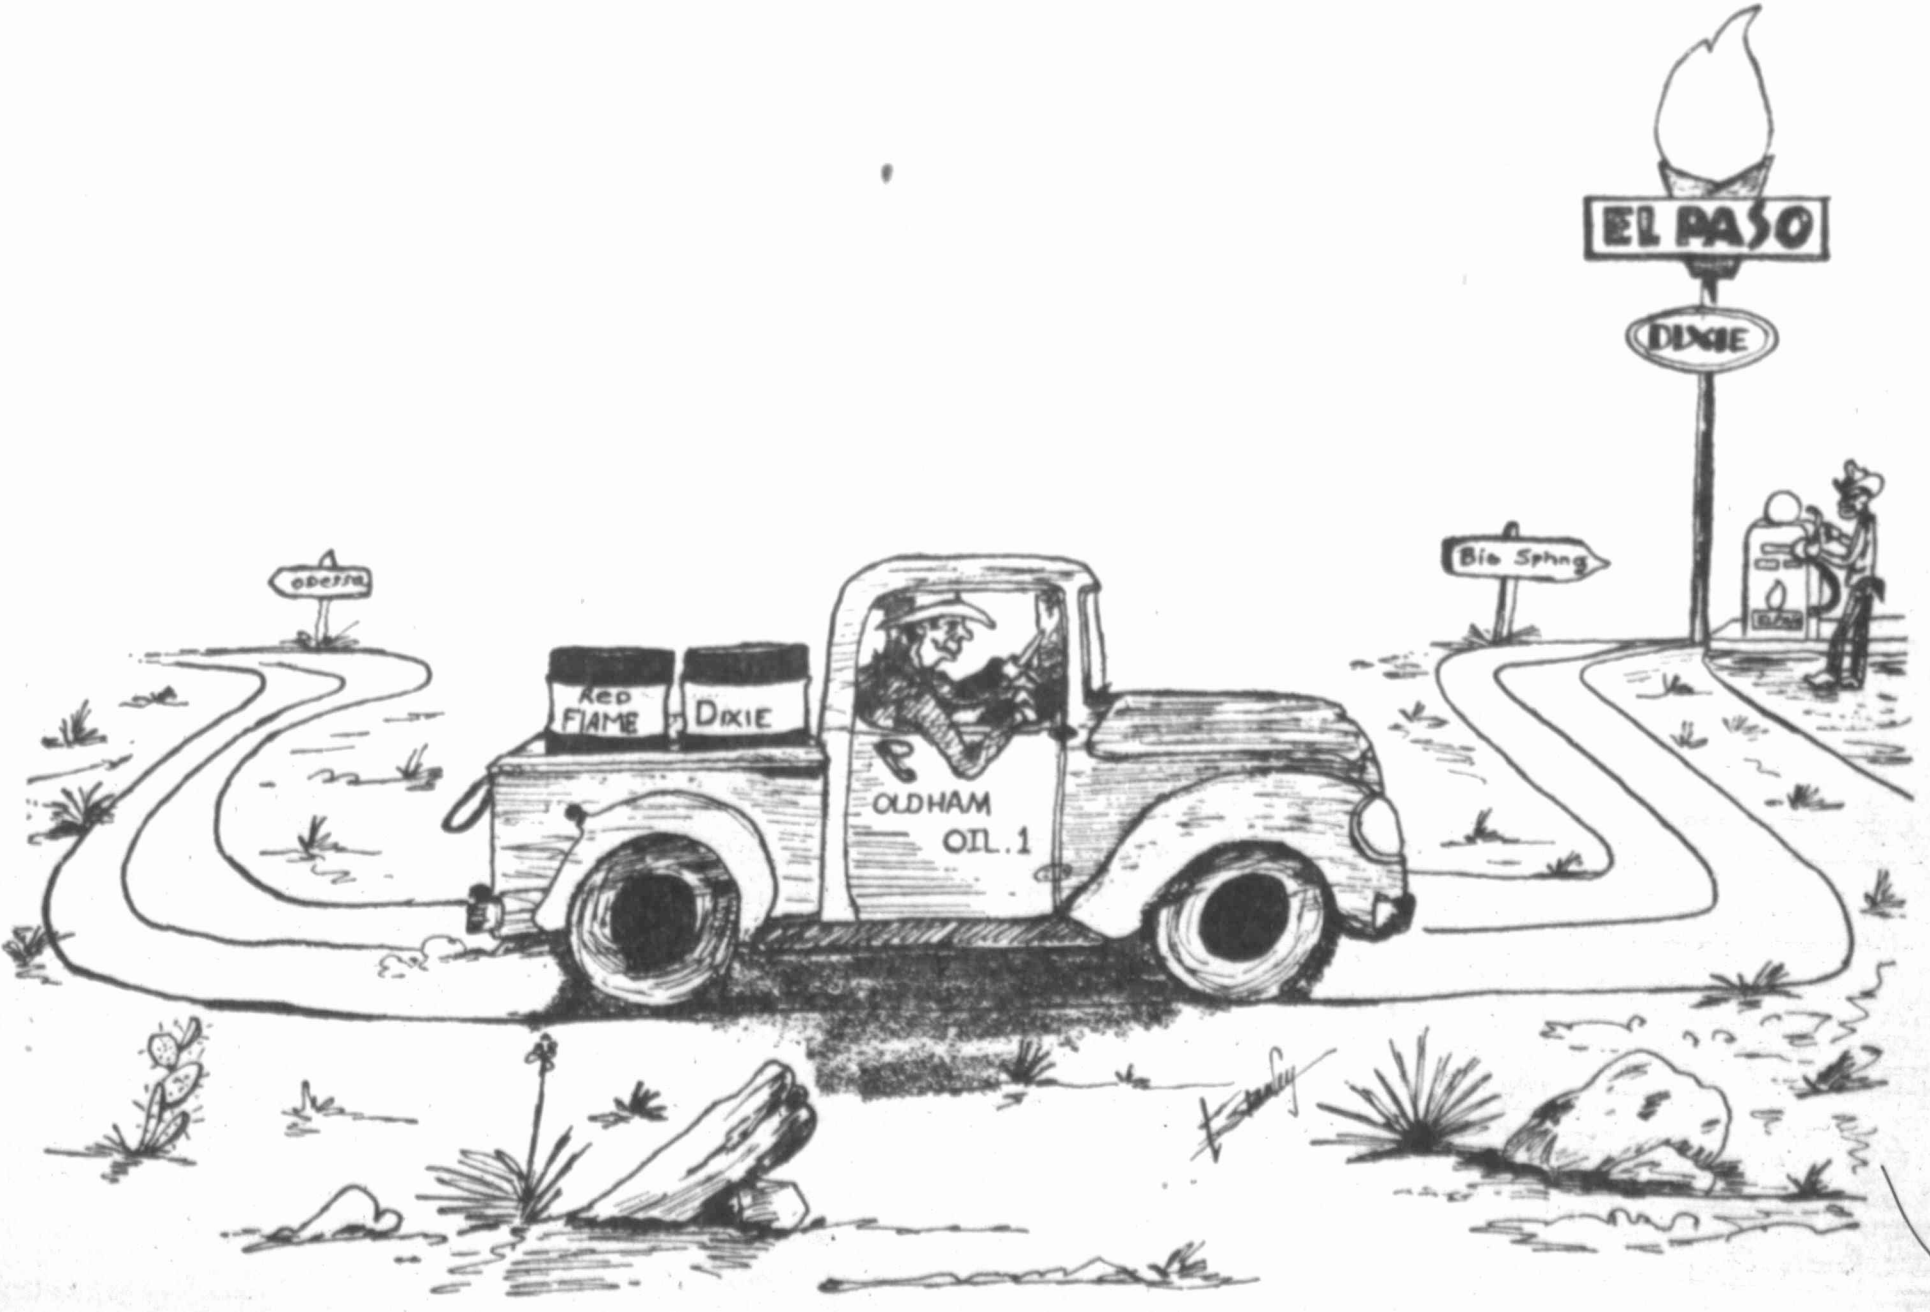

100,000. That's where you come in. This ad is written to say thanks to you. To the men in Odessa and El Paso, who supply us with a good product. To our friends from Stanton to Coahoma, from Lake Thomas to Big Spring, who sell you a good product . . . and to you Mr. and Mrs. Motoring Public, and yes, you too, Junior, let's not forget the kids, your friends at George Oldham Oil extend a thanks as big as all West Texas.

2. The number two. It's small also, but double number one. And we are going to double our efforts to keep the speedometer chain spinning and to bring your pleasure miles of driving to 15 million and 20 million.

Out of numbers, but when you drive in this week to the Red Flame pump, if our smile is a little broader, and our handshake a shade firmer, it's our way of extending to you a very humble, sincere thanks.

'Complete, Comprehensive' Farm Policy To Be Offered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farm message President Kennedy plans to send to Congress early next week is being described by administration leaders as the "most complete and comprehensive" program ever offered.

This description has been given by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in recent speeches. The secretary has taken the lead in preparing the proposals which probably will be submitted Tuesday.

The program is designed to lay out a pattern for shaping an overproductive agriculture to the needs of the next 20 years or so as well as for meeting immediate problems of commodity surpluses and prices.

The design is expected to be divided into four separate parts—a new land-use policy; plans for making effective use at home and abroad of agriculture's abundance; a commodity supplement management or control program to halt surpluses, and development of rural areas which do not offer stability through farming.

LAND CONVERSION

Under the land-use program, the administration will recommend that steps be taken to convert, over the next 20 years, at least 50 million acres of cropland from agriculture to other uses, such as recreation, wildlife habitat, trees and grass.

Such a diversion program would have several goals, including putting to use cropland now being idled under soil bank and land retirement programs costing the government $1 billion a year. New uses would be designed to provide new sources of income for this land. Thus government payments for nonuse of this land for unneeded crops could be eliminated.

Under the second part of the program—that of making full use of the nation's abundance of food and agriculture—the President is expected to outline these steps:

OTHER STEPS

1. Use to the fullest extent possible the school lunch and school milk programs, the direct food distribution program for the needy, and make a modest expansion in the food stamp plan.

2. Offer a definition of what is needed in the way of food reserves for national emergencies, as well as plans for protecting such reserves from nuclear attack.

3. Make full use of the food-for-peace program in helping the needy abroad. The President is expected to rule out what some have called a worldwide relief program.

4. Participate in a United Nation Food and Agriculture Organization world food program. Adopted at a meeting at Rome in December, this program calls for contributions of $100 million in food, services and cash over a three-year period by prosperous nations.

Under the commodity supply control part of the program, Kennedy is expected to propose specific plans for wheat, corn and other feed grains, cotton, possibly rice, milk and dairy products and possibly potatoes. He is expected to ask Congress to broaden the field of commodities which could be regulated under federal marketing orders.

House Committee Drafts Money Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—A House subcommittee drew up what it called a "tight" package appropriations bill Saturday calling for $150,000 to advertise Texas to tourists, providing private interests match the money.

The appropriations subcommittee prepared the bill for submission to the full committee early Monday and the House later in the day.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford called the bill "as tight as we could get it with the money the controller says is available for us to spend."

Comptroller Robert Calvert estimated that about $225,000 is available in the general revenue fund.

The bill provides $150,000 for tourist advertising and $154,500 to give district attorneys and county attorneys acting in district attorney capacities a pay increase.

Tubby Assigned To New Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department disclosed Saturday that Roger Tubby, assistant secretary for public affairs, is being appointed U.S. representative to the U.N. office in Geneva. He will have the personal rank of ambassador.

The announcement was made by George W. Ball, acting secretary in the absence of Secretary Dean Rusk, who is at the hemisphere foreign ministers meeting in Uruguay.

There have been reports here for the last week that Tubby, 51, would be given a new assignment. Among various reported reasons for the change, it was said that Rusk and Tubby never had established a close working relationship.

Over 60 Scouters Attend Conference

Sixty-one men from seven districts of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, registered Saturday evening for the T-Man's Conference at Webb Air Force Base academic building. The Pecos Valley district was the only one not represented.

The conference, to run through 3 p.m. today, is set up to train men to conduct training courses in their own districts.

Bill McRee, Lone Star District Scout Executive, said the training at the conference will deal with techniques of leadership training on the local level. G. N. Hughes, council chairman for leadership training, is in charge of the conference which features four sessions.

Students Would Honor Rayburn

COMMERCE (AP)—A resolution urging that regents of the state teachers colleges name the proposed student center at East Texas State College after the late Sam Rayburn has been given House approval in the legislature in Austin.

The move was sponsored by Rep. George Preston of Paris, a graduate of the school. The resolution passed the Senate last week. Sen. Ray Roberts, who is running for Congress to succeed Rayburn, sponsored the resolution in the upper chamber.

Police Check Auto Mishaps

Four automobile accidents were investigated by Big Spring police from noon Friday through noon Saturday. One pedestrian was struck but not injured.

Hamlin Rites Held For Mrs. Sewell

HAMLIN—Funeral services for Mrs. Calvin Wanda Estelle Sewell, 39, who died Jan. 24 following a heart attack at Hamlin, were held Friday from the Faith Methodist Church at Hamlin. Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery.

Mrs. Sewell was born March 19, 1923 at Perry, Okla. She was the daughter of the late Grady Sims and Mrs. Sylvia. She was married at Duncan, Okla.

Survivors include the husband, Calvin Sewell; two sons, Tommy Lee Sewell; two brothers, Leonard Sims, Oklahoma City, and Chester Sims, Perry, Okla.; and a sister, Mrs. Orville Allen, Heidton, Okla.

R. A. Fullen, Big Spring, attended the funeral.

Pallbearers were Roy Kelly, Lester Milton, Phil Smith, Herman Crockett, Joe Lewis, and Nobel Greer.

HOUSTON (AP)—Mrs. Almada Frances Cole, a 31-year-old housewife, was found dead in her car on a lonely road south of Houston Saturday.

Purcell Had Early Practice In Big Spring

Graham B. Purcell Jr., winner of a congressional seat in a special election held at Wichita Falls Saturday, is a former Big Spring resident.

Purcell and his family resided here for about two years in the early '50s, shortly after Graham left law school at Baylor University.

Rusk Listens As U.S. Denounced

The Purcell family moved to Wichita Falls when Graham was presented with a chance to become a junior partner in a law firm there. Later, he ran for District Judge and was elected.

DRY WIT

Around the Howard County court house here, Graham was known for his dry wit.

One of the Purcell sons, Kirk Boynton, was born while the family made its home here.

A native of Archer County and a graduate of Archer County high school, Purcell attended Texas A&M College where he received a bachelor's degree in agriculture.

Dies In Crash

Gov. Donald G. Nutter of Montana was killed in the crash of a C-47 Air National Guard plane while on a flight from Helena to Cut Bank. The plane crashed 25 miles north of Helena. Several others also died in the accident. (AP Wirephoto)

About 80,000 To Be Released

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 80,000 men will be affected by the Army's plans to release by July 1 regular Army personnel whose tours of service were extended by Congress last September, a military spokesman said Saturday.

The plans were revealed Friday by two members of the Senate Armed Services Committee after they heard testimony from Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. at a closed session.

Director Named For Water Group

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Development Board named Howard Boswell Saturday as its new executive director.

Boswell, executive director of the Association of Texas Soil Conservation Districts, replaces Joe Carter who was appointed chairman of the State Board of Water Engineers.

Boswell has held the soil conservation post for eight years. The water development board is authorized to make loans to assist in the construction of water projects sponsored by local public agencies.

Boswell, a native of DeLeon, is a graduate of Texas A&M. He takes the post March 1.

Plan Highway To New Space Center

AUSTIN (AP)—The Highway Commission directed engineer D. C. Greer Saturday to begin preparation of plans for developing a highway to serve the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Space Center to be built near Houston.

The highway will accommodate four lanes of traffic from Interstate 45 to Texas Ave. in Webster and from Texas 3 to the main entrance of the plant.

Glenn's Family Content There'll Be 'Another Day'

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—Disappointed, yes. With a feeling of loss, yes. But she said there'll be another day, and that's our comment, too," said pretty, freckle-faced Lyn Glenn, 14, daughter of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., whose scheduled ride into space Saturday was canceled because of weather conditions.

Lyn came outside the attractive, three-year old brick home of the Glenn family in this suburb of Washington to chat with some teen-age friends.

Mrs. Glenn remained inside, and the word was that she was going to take a nap, having risen at 5 a.m. to watch preparations for the flight on television.

She had talked to her husband by phone—he called while he was still in his capsule at Cape Canaveral, Fla., before the shot was postponed. He had called about 11 o'clock Friday night, a little later than his usual hour to talk with his wife, daughter and son David, 16.

"He apologized for being later than usual but said he had to pack for a long trip today," said

Daniel Stays Mum On Political Plans

AUSTIN (AP)—In the big white-columned governor's mansion at Austin, Price Daniel is playing his favorite game of keeping politicians guessing.

"He doesn't even tell his best friends what he is going to do," a close associate waived.

Daniel became the last big question mark in the governor's race when Sen. Ralph Yarborough said last week he is not a candidate.

Bidding for Democratic nomination is former Navy Sec. John Connelly, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, former Highway Commission Chairman Marshall Formby of Plainview, and Don Yarborough of Houston, who is no kin to the senator.

The sole Republican candidate is Jack Cox, Breckenridge businessman, who switched to the GOP after running against Daniel in 1960 as a Democrat.

BY REP. S.

Daniel has until Feb. 5 at midnight to make up his mind about a fourth term try. Most think he will speak up between Feb. 1, the end of the current special legislature, and the filing deadline.

For a year, Daniel has been peppered at news conferences about his political plans. Each time he would lean back, roll an unlighted cigar in his fingers, look at the ceiling and say he did not want to run for a fourth term—but he would if necessary to carry out his legislative aims.

After the legislature passed Daniel's No. 1 reason for the special session—inclusion of banks in the state's abandoned property laws—there were reports Daniel would not be a candidate.

A darkhorse possible candidate is Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler. He has been considered a likely candidate for governor in 1964. Some say he has a campaign organization that could swing into action at once in case he decides to make a bid this year.

Still another possible candidate is Edwin Walker, who resigned a general's job after a controversy over his indoctrination of troops.

The lieutenant-governor's race is the most crowded.

FOR LT. GOVERNOR

Democratic candidates include state Sens. Preston Smith of Lubbock, Bob Baker of Houston, Jarrod Secret of Temple and Cravetice Martin of Hillsboro. Gene Smith, Fort Worth county clerk, also is in the race. Speaker James Turman is expected to jump in at the end of the session.

Two Republicans want the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor—O. W. Hayes of Temple and Kellis Dibrell of San Antonio.

Since the last legislature did not restrict to provide a home base for Texas' 23rd congressman under the 1960 census allocation, there will be a congressional-at-large election this year.

Texas' other 22 congressmen are elected by districts and sound off in their districts.

This is the off year for election of a senator.

Former Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey, who was appointed to the Railroad Commission, will be a candidate to serve out the remaining two years of the term of the late Olin Culberson. Keith Wheatley, Stamford oilman, and Tom Walker, Houston oil engineer, are Democratic candidates for the commission.

Tyler Dist. Judge Otis Dunagan is challenging presiding Judge W. A. Morrison of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Other state election office holders seeking re-election include Justices Meade Griffin and James Norvell of the Supreme Court, state Agriculture Commissioner John White and state Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Frank Waddell Dies Saturday

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Frank E. Waddell, 82, who ranched in Mitchell County around the turn of the century, died about noon Saturday at his home in Fort Worth.

He was born July 1, 1879 in Fredericksburg. He later lived in Mitchell County and later in the Odessa area before moving to Fort Worth.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 11 a.m. from the Kiker & Son Funeral Parlor in Colorado City. Burial will be in Colorado City cemetery in the Waddell family plot.

Surviving are three sisters, Kate Waddell, and Mrs. Berta Tannisch, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Nettie W. Closser, Edinburg.

Seeks Re-Election

HOUSTON (AP)—Spurgeon Bell, chief justice of the Court of Civil Appeals in the First Supreme Judicial District of Texas, said Saturday he will be a candidate for reelection.

6, whom he admitted killing for the excitement that it gave him.

The recognition dinner for sustaining members of the YMCA drew a large crowd for the formal affair last week, and announcements showed around $13,000 (raised so far in this division) (the plus-backers of the Y). This unit likely will reach its goal, present a real challenge to the participating division when it kicks off its enlistment Feb. 6.

Texas Electric Service Company was given a new 50-year non-exclusive franchise in lieu of one of similar term which was issued only a few years ago. The new document is due to return to the city about $4,500 more per year. Last year the city realized $30,000 from the franchise. The new one pays two per cent of gross receipts and does not exempt municipal, state and federal accounts.

Rep. David Reed and Sen. David Ratliff shepherded an act through the legislature last week to permit the City of Big Spring to bring suit against the State of Texas to break a water rate contract from being in perpetuity. If the city is successful, then comes the necessity of making a new rate, so relief is still a long way off.

The Big Spring High School band has set itself an ambitious goal. The members are planning on going to the World's Fair in Seattle this summer, and it will mean about $7,000. However, the youngsters already have a good start, and if there is a good response to their concert Tuesday, they will be aided substantially.

The winter continues to be a pretty brisk one. Another front moving in at the first of the week brought light snow and ice, plus 15-degree temperatures. By now we're learning to take these chilly readings in stride.

Tom Porter left last week after spending two years as director of rehabilitation at the Big Spring State Hospital. In that space of time he has made many solid contributions toward getting recovered and recovering patients back into harness as useful, productive members of society. He is planning on attending the University of Missouri for the next two years to specialize in counseling.

Howard County 4-H youngsters did themselves proud in the lamb show at Abilene last week. They had the first place pen of 15 group of lambs. Others placed high in the various classes.

Our initial report of the death of Mrs. Dar McRae at Sweetwater listed pneumonia as the cause. Actually, it was due to complications resulting from a freak mishap. She was cleaning a lavatory and picked up a glass for a drink of water. Instead, she got one containing a caustic for plumbing. Her husband gave first aid which restricted apparent injury to severe burns in the mouth, but several days later she suffered successive vascular collapses. The McRae's are well-known former Howard County teachers.

Mitchell Honored On 83rd Birthday

One hundred and seven relatives and friends gathered at the F. W. Beckmeier home, Rt. 1, Ackery, Friday night to honor Mrs. Beckmeier's father, M. T. Mitchell, on his 83rd birthday.

Following the supper some 20 musicians, including Mr. Mitchell, spent the evening playing old time numbers, mostly of the "old fiddlers" type.

Mitchell has three sons and four daughters, all the daughters living in the community; 20 grandchildren; and 21 great-grandchildren. A grandson, Jerry Caves, arrived home Friday after 18 months in Korea, and was present for the party. Friends and relatives attended from Lubbock, Duncan, Okla., Midland, Garden City, Lamesa, Amarillo, and Abilene.

Graveside Rites For Clanton Infant

Funeral services for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Clanton, 695 McEwen, will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in graveside rites at Trinity Memorial Park.

The Rev. Jack Power, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church, will officiate. The youngster died at 2:25 p.m. Saturday and arrangements are under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors, other than the parents, include paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Clanton, Abilene; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Lee Townsend, Midland; great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Clanton, Big Spring; great-grandmother, Mrs. Dixie E. Walley, Odessa.

Fred Waring Scores Solidly With 1,500 Big Springers

There's no such thing as too much of a good thing as some 1,500 Big Springers will attest.

They cheered the old pro, Fred Waring, and his troupe Saturday night through two hours and 45 minutes of rapidly changing music, clowning and spectacle.

The format was only slightly different from his show here two years ago, although "The Song of America," with its musical settings for poems of Longfellow, Holmes, Emerson, Whittier, and Emerson, was so beautifully done that it justified the show title, "Let Freedom Sing."

Of course this scored solidly with the audience, but it was the Waring touch in arrangements, comedy, and downright pleasing soloists that kept the rafters ringing.

In William Dean, a young baritone, and Julie Makis, Waring has a couple of comers. Miss Makis is an irrepressible young lady who zips into a song and puts lots of fun into a program. Bob Day, bouncing from every chair in the orchestra—almost got a big hand, too.

Yet, the standbys such as Leonard Krankendok and Poley McClintock to give that old time flavor. Like Waring, these fellows are timeless.

One of the show-stoppers was the musical monologue of Letti Reynolds, whose climaxing solo from "Madame Butterfly" touched off prolonged applause. The audience also loved the opera spoof with libretto by Maestro Waring, flitting from Tchaikovsky, Mozart, Beethoven, and Mendelssohn. It was opera a la ham, and everybody seems to like ham.

There were many others such as Betty Butterworth, Jerri Toti, Ralph Isbell, Wayne Nelson, Betty Ann McCall, Jean Elverum. The old smoothie who kept it going with a master's touch was none other than Fred Waring. He seems to possess a sixth sense about pacing and portions, an uncanny knack for freshness and about what America loves. Will he ever get over the hill? We hope not.

Ranger And Detectives Discuss Burglaries

Texas Ranger Dudley White, center, of Midland, goes over details of confessions given Rangers in Austin of burglaries in Big Spring by a burglary ring. Detectives Aubrey Hurley, left, and Jack Jones, of the Big Spring Police Department, are to add local information to that already in Austin, for bringing the members of the ring to trial. An uncle and nephew, James Leggett and Rowell Leggett, have been arrested and have confessed to over 200 burglaries in over 70 Texas counties. White took James Leggett from Abilene to Austin this week.

Ranger Tells Of Burglary Ring

By M. A. WEBB
Efficiency of cooperation between law enforcement agencies was demonstrated during the past week when one of the largest burglary rings ever to operate in the State of Texas was broken up. Two men, one of whom was described as the ring leader of the group, have been arrested and taken to Austin by Texas Rangers.

Ranger Dudley White of Midland, working with Big Spring and Abilene officers, took James Leggett to Austin from Abilene Monday night where the man confessed to a half-dozen burglaries, most of which involved safes.

The first lead obtained in clearing several safe burglaries in Big Spring, including Reeder-Huff-Estes and the CIT Corporation safes, came when Rangers arrested Rowell Leggett in Austin and charged him with complicity in 24 burglaries there. The man named five accomplices, including his uncle, James Leggett.

The CIT safe was burglarized after Rowell Leggett was arrested.

According to Ranger White, who has made a study of safe burglaries in 19 years with the Texas Rangers and is an assistant investigator, he was called by Big Spring Police Chief Jay Banks and told of the whereabouts of James Leggett in Abilene.

Chief Jay Banks told the following story about the location of James Leggett: "From information we had, we believed him to be in or around Abilene. I called Chief Dotson in Abilene and we agreed that Abilene police would keep the man under surveillance until Rangers could be contacted. I then called White, because of his outstanding work on safe burglaries in Texas, and he got up in the middle of the night, as cold as it was, and got to work."

Ranger White brought back copies of offense reports and statements from Austin and turned them over to Big Spring Detectives Aubrey Hurley and Jack Jones. Leggett will be brought to Big Spring soon to point out places he burglarized. He could not remember the names but said he could identify the buildings.

When asked if it was easy to get a confession from Leggett, Ranger White said the man appeared to be proud of the record he had made and talked quite freely. He actually wanted to boast about them, White said.

Both of the Leggetts told of more than 200 burglaries in over 70 Texas counties. Rangers said the men told them they would vis-

A. M. Dick Enters County Judge Race

A. M. Dick, for many years a resident of Howard County, announced Saturday that he would seek the Democratic nomination as county judge.

He and Mrs. Dick and their four children reside in the Sand Springs Community. He coupled his announcement with an appeal to the public to pay poll taxes and then use them.

Mr. Dick made the following statement in his announcement: "At the request and encouragement of my many friends, I am entering my name as a candidate for the office of County Judge of Howard County.

"I am a conservative Democrat, have lived in Texas most all of my life, in Howard County for the past eight years and have been employed as a Civil Service employe at Webb AFB for the past six. I am 43 years old, married, and the father of four children—two boys and two girls ranging in age from 20 to 9.

"I am a firm believer with all my heart in our representative form of government; that any office, from the highest to the lowest, should be held by people who truly represent the majority of the people, and that they should always, to the very best of their ability, base their actions and decisions in the best interest of that majority. They should never be the tool of those who seek to further their own personal gain at the expense of the taxpayers.

"In view of these convictions I believe that the office of County Judge offers a unique opportunity to be of service to my community and fellow citizens. I believe with vigorous leadership we could have more economy in our county government, equalization in taxation and last, but by no means least, a sterner attitude toward those who are responsible for a great majority of our juvenile delinquency — the parents.

These, and many more suggestions, I intend to put before the voters before election day.

"To my many friends who have already given me so much encouragement, I wish to urge you to continue your efforts in my behalf. To those of you who are not acquainted with me I am going to devote my every waking hour for the next three months. I want to encourage all of you to pay your poll tax, and please vote."

Over 200 Expected For Martin Chamber Banquet

STANTON — The Martin County Chamber of Commerce has its annual banquet Monday evening, and more than 200 people are expected for the affair.

Herb C. Petry, Carrizo Springs, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission and a past president of Lions International, will be the speaker.

This year's event will be held at the new Cap Rock Electric Co-operative auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m., and Xi Beta Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will serve the meal. Members of the Stanton Garden Club will arrange the decorations, and the Stanton Music Study Club will be in charge of the music and entertainment.

One of the traditional awards—to the outstanding farmer—will be made by Jake Hodges. Roy Crim will serve as master of ceremonies.

Other program features include a report from Gerald Hanson, the out-going president, on the work during 1961, and a word from Bob Cox, in-coming president, on plans for activities in this year.

Among those to be installed as officers are Dr. J. M. Shy, vice president; Jimmy Stallings, secretary-treasurer; Bob Herzog and Bob Halsip, new directors. Hold-over directors are Cox, R. O. Anderson, Roy Pickett, Roy Crim and Jake Hodges. Retiring directors are Gerald Hanson, James Eiland and Leo Turner.

Tommy Williams, minister of the Church of Christ, will give the invocation, and the Rev. Ellis Todd, First Methodist minister, will pronounce the benediction.

That Important Set

The actors may know their lines and have their parts well rehearsed, but it's all for naught if there is no set for their performance. Here, Sandra Sawyer, Mrs. John Holdun, James Tibbs, Mrs. Don Huah and Sandra Clocchi work on the set for "The Rainmaker," first offering of the Big Spring Civic Theatre which closed Saturday. Dave Brinkley, who brought many years' experience to the group, was largely responsible for the exceptional set design for the play.

Location For Elevated Tank

The large circle shows the location for the city's new 1.5-million-gallon elevated storage tank across the route of IS 20, (paralleling Northwest Twelfth Street), from the smaller tank now located on North Scurry and indicated by the small circle. The grading and filling of the 250-foot-square site was started Friday by W. D. Caldwell.

A Lot Of Cutting And Filling

A bulldozer and water truck started work Friday morning on grading the site for the new 1.5-million-gallon elevated storage tank for Big Spring. A 450-cubic-yard cut is necessary on the southwest corner, where the equipment is working. A 1,500-cubic-yard fill is required for the remainder. The stake in the foreground marks the north line of the site outlined by the black line. It adjoins the north right of way for IS 20 along Northwest Twelfth Street. The present tank, on North Scurry, is in the center background.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

First Step Taken Toward Flying Club Organization

The first firm step toward organizing a flying club in Big Spring was taken Friday at 5 p.m. when 15 persons, attending an explanatory meeting at the Chamber of Commerce office, voted to meet again Feb. 3 at 7 p.m. to elect officers and draft a constitution and by-laws. Six others sent word they would join.

Carroll Davidson, Chamber of Commerce manager, turned the meeting over to Dr. F. W. Lutting, chairman of the air transportation committee, who explained he was primarily interested in getting the club off the ground and would help in every way possible. He then asked Ted McClung, manager of the Howard County Airport, to explain ways and means of organizing, financing, and operation of a club.

"I believe the first step to be taken would be the organization," McClung said. "Officers should be elected, committees appointed, and constitution and by-laws drawn up. The second step would be incorporation as a non-profit organization."

"The next step will be deciding on the kind of airplane to buy. The down payments, monthly dues, and instructional costs, will depend upon the airplane, whether it is a new one or used, and what kind of equipment is wanted on the craft," he continued.

"I have taken figures available on a Piper Custom Colt as a typical schedule for breaking down costs per member in a club. If some other type craft is decided upon, the figures can be broken down in the same way. The kind of aircraft and whether it is new or used will decide the amount in cash or monthly payments," he said.

"The list price of the Colt, without ferry cost, is $5,995. For a 20-member club the down payment cost would be $59.75 each. The monthly cost per member would be $7.67 for three years, or $1.79 per week. If the plane is bought outright, for cash, the cost would be $299.79 per member. This would eliminate some $724.60 in interest charges.

"The hangar rent would be around $1 per month per member. All-risk insurance would run somewhere around 10 per cent, however, there is no set schedule for insurance. Then there would be a cost of some 50 cents per member per month for bookkeeping materials and postage. Total dues would run around $11.47 per month per member, sales tax not included.

"On a new airplane the cost would set up a reserve for maintenance, overhaul, and inspection. On a used airplane it would provide no reserve. Depending upon the handling, the club can get two 25 per cent extensions on the first overhaul which would run the time up to around 1,200 hours. All members would be paying for 'wet' flying gasoline and oil.

Flying time cost would depend upon the instructor. Instructors charge from $3 to $5 per hour. In case a member leaves the club he could sell his equity in the aircraft to someone wanting to join. The number of hours per month each member flies will depend upon what is in your by-laws."

McClung then opened the meeting to discussion and those present discussed the feasibility of buying a new aircraft, used planes, and proposals for organization. All voted to attend the meeting next Friday and make an initial payment of $10 each to get started on a charter. They agreed that the $10 would be an initiation fee and would give the individuals membership status for voting and taking part. The fee will become a part of the first monthly payment on the purchase of an airplane.

Al Eldridge, who holds a commercial license and who has been a member of other flying clubs, was named as temporary chairman and will act until officers are elected Friday night. He is a checker at Webb Air Force Base.

"With the interest we have seen here tonight, and the interest of others who have sent word, it seems quite possible that we might easily organize two clubs," Eldridge said.

Ground rules, by-laws, and organizational setups of other flying clubs, will be used in drafting the rules on the Big Spring Club. Those attending were requested to think over and suggest names to be considered for the club. They were also asked to invite others interested to attend.

Eldridge urged all present to be at Howard County Airport Sunday from 1 p.m. until dusk for the air lift to raise funds for the March of Dimes. All available private airplanes will be used for carrying persons interested on flights over Big Spring. The cost will be $1 per person for those under 12 years of age, and $2 for those 12 and older.

The air lift was originally scheduled for last Sunday but was called off because of inclement weather.

Killed In Fight

HOUSTON (AP)—Manuel Cervantes, 31, was stabbed and shot to death Friday night during a street fight. Police said a man, 25, admitted shooting Cervantes but has denied stabbing him. Investigators said seven men were in the fight.

New Auditorium Almost Complete

STANTON (SC)—L. M. Hays, superintendent, is anticipating completion of the new school auditorium by Feb. 15.

The structure is designed to seat 521, and space will also accommodate an additional 150 folding chairs for larger gatherings.

Facilities include, in addition to the auditorium, a band director's office, storage space for uniforms and instruments, plus three practice rooms. The structure is connected with the high school building by a covered walk.

Cost of the building is $145,000, and another $15,000 is going into stage equipment, seats, carpeting, etc. Rose Construction Company of Abilene is general contractor, and Pierce, Norris, Pace and Associates of Midland are the designers. Formal dedication is being projected for March.

New Science Hall

WACO (AP)—President Abner McCall of Baylor University said Saturday groundbreaking ceremonies for a new $2 million science building will be held Feb. 15. An honored guest will be Mrs. Marrs McLean of San Antonio, who helped provide the facility.

Gene Littler Boosts San Francisco Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. Open champion Gene Littler boosted his lead in the $50,000 San Francisco International Golf Tournament to six strokes Saturday with a three-under-par third-round 68 totaling 201 for the 54 holes.

In second place at 207 came Billy Casper and Bob Rosburg, both with 68s, and Canadian George Knudson of Toronto with 67.

While his nearest rivals fell back, Littler nearly sank a hole in one and also hit two of the greatest recovery shots seen in any tournament.

Littler's tee shot on the 166-yard 3rd hole stopped only a foot from the cup and he tapped in the first of his five birdies.

On the 4th hole, a 570-yard par 5, his second shot was off the fairway under trees. He hooked his third 175 yards to the green and scored his five, turning an almost certain bogey into a par. On the 7th, his tee shot lay stymied under a tree to the left of the fairway. Littler hit a low hooking No. 2 iron to within four feet of the cup and holed for his birdie. Littler grabbed the lead in the chase for the $9,000 first prize with a 65 on his opening round. He added a 68 Friday for a five-stroke midway lead in the 72-hole tournament.

Littler carded a 4-under-par 33 on his opening nine Saturday over the par 36-35 course which measures 6,672 yards. His birdies included putts of 15 feet at the 6th hole and four feet at the 9th.

Tony Lama, tied in second place with Tommy Jacobs and Billy Maxwell at 138 going into Saturday's round, carded 70 for a 208 total.

Maxwell had a 71 for 209 in sixth position. Jacobs had a 72 for a 210 in a group of seven. Also at 210 were Tommy Aaron and Bob Harris with 71s Saturday. Jack Fleck, Paul Harney and Gardner Dickinson with 70s and Australian Bruce Crampton with 69.

Best scores of the day were 66s by Lionel Hebert and Don Whitt at 211 and Whitt had a 213 total. Defending champ Gary Player, the leading money winner of 1961, was 71 in contention with 71-218.

Arnold Palmer had 74-216 while Jack Nicklaus, the 1961 National Amateur champion who now is a pro, had a 73-217.

Wildcats Tip Iowa State

KANSAS IOWA (AP)—Kansas State's Warren Brown flipped in a layup with four seconds left to give the fourth-ranked Wildcats a 56-55 Big Eight basketball victory over Iowa State Saturday night and preserve their jinx over the Cyclones.

Kansas State, now 4-1 in conference play, has beaten the Cyclones in their last six meetings, and each game was decided by two points or less.

The Wildcats trailed by as much as 11 points in the first half and were behind, 55-51, with 1:13 left when Brown cut the margin with his first basket of the game.

A free throw by Kansas State's Pat McKenzie cut the gap to 55-54 with 37 seconds left and while attempting to stall out the victory Iowa State was called for traveling and the Wildcats quickly set up Brown's winning basket.

The victory was Kansas State's 14th in 16 games this season. Iowa State now is 2-3 in conference play and 7-8 for the season.

Gary Marriott was the Wildcats leading scorer with 15 points. Bob Stoy led the Cyclones with 17.

Bobcats Shock 'Dogs Again

SAN ANGELO—San Angelo's Bobcats won their second straight basketball game from Midland High here Saturday night, 38-33, and shoved the Bulldogs out of a tie for first place in the District 2-AAAA standings.

Midland led much of the game but the Cats grabbed the advantage with 5:30 to go and held on. The win was the seventh in eight starts for San Angelo.

Minton White counted 20 points and Charley Spieker 12 for San Angelo, while Bob Ittner had 16 and James Adams 13 for Midland.

Goliad Wins Consolations

SWEETWATER—Coleman went overtime to hand Big Spring Runnels its first defeat of the season in the semi-finals of the Sweetwater Eighth Grade Basketball Tournament here Saturday evening. Final score was 25-24.

In semi-final action, Runnels had won its 13th straight game by flogging Snyder Lamar, 27-20. Snyder stayed in a stall most of the game.

Lee Rebels Decision Big Spring, 59-57

MIDLAND—Midland Lee poured salt into the greivous wounds of the Big Spring Steers here Saturday night, winning, 59-57, to pull the Steers into the District 2-AAAA cellar with them.

The Longhorns, in the process of losing their seventh straight game, led at half time, 31-27, but Lee got hot in the third period, outscoring the Steers in those eight minutes, 20-12.

Albert Eiero of Big Spring fouled out with 3:30 to go in the second period. Eddie Nelson followed him to the bench with 2:30 to go in the third while Dick Eling exited for the same reason with 3:46 left in the fourth.

With 19 seconds left in the game, Lee led by eight points, at 56-48, but Big Spring made seven straight foul shots, six of them by Walter Minter, to cut the Big Springers' disadvantage to a mere point.

With 1 seconds left in the game, Bob Lambert of Lee connected on two gratis pitches to put the decision out of reach.

Nelson was Big Spring's top scorer, with 17 points. DeRoby Gartman followed with 15 while Art Fowler paced Lee with 28. Lambert tossed in 19 for Midland.

A total of 47 fouls were called in the game by officials Jim Scott and Lou Turlo. 26 against Lee and 21 against Big Spring. Lee lost two boys on fouls, Goose Goslin and Carl Schreiner. The latter went out with 2:30 to play while Goslin departed with only 37 seconds remaining.

Midland also won the B game, 32-43.

Goliad Wins Third Place In Tourney

SNYDER — Big Spring Goliad won third place in the Snyder Junior High Basketball Tournament by defeating Colorado City easily, 56-26, here Saturday evening.

The Mavericks had defeated Post, 66-42, and lost to Snyder Travis, 56-31, in earlier games.

Coach Don Stevens used most of his players and the reserves saw more action than the regulars against Colorado City.

Keith Bristow counted 13 points and Rickey Earle ten for Goliad in the third place game.

Earle was chosen as a member of the five-man all-star team.

Post, using superior height to good advantage, defeated Big Spring Runnels, 35-34, in the consolation finals.

Earlier, the Yearlings had lost to Colorado City, 52-44, and won over Sweetwater, 51-45.

In the consolation finals, Teddy Graham of Runnels fouled out early in the third period after scoring 16 points.

Indoor Marks Tied In Meet

LUBBOCK, Tex., Jan. 27 (AP)—Don and Dave Styron of Northeast Louisiana and former University of Texas sprinter Ralph Alsbaugh tied American indoor records in the preliminaries of the Lubbock Indoor Track Meet here Saturday night.

Alsbaugh and Dave Styron won their heats of the 60-yard dash in 6.0, which tied the indoor record set by Herb Carper at Dortmund, Germany, in 1960 and tied later that year by Roscoe Cook at Los Angeles. Don Styron won his heat of the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.0 which tied the record set by Milt Campbell in 1957 and tied the following year by Hayes Jones.

In the finals, however, Ray Cunningham of Texas nipped Styron in the hurdles finals with a 7.1. Bobby Bernard of Texas Christian was a close third.

Alsbaugh nipped Dave Styron in the 60-yard finals, although both were given the same time of 6.1.

Danny Roberts of Texas A&M won the shot put with a 56-1/4 toss, the fourth best ever by a Texan. Abilene Christian freshman Roger O'Brien, was second at 52-4.

Skowron Signed By NY Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Skowron, regular New York Yankee first baseman since 1954, signed his 1962 contract Saturday.

General Manager Roy Hamey indicated Skowron received a modest increase. Estimates put his salary at the $35,000 level.

Odessa Bronchos Deflate Cooper

ABILENE — Odessa High retained its share of first place in District 2-AAAA basketball standings by beating Abilene Cooper here Saturday night, 75-57.

Cooper held the Bronchos fairly well for a half, trailing 35-29 at the intermission.

Dubby Malaise scorched the nets for 21 points for Odessa while Steve Foster tallied 19 and Mike Frush 15 for Cooper.

The win was seventh in eight conference starts for Odessa. Cooper is now 3-5.

Four-And-Twenty An Easy Winner

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Four-And-Twenty, the top-weighted favorite with the story book name, ran off from the opposition Saturday to win the $153,910 Santa Anita Maturity.

Johnny Longden, en route to his first triumph in this battle of 4-year-olds, made it a wire to wire victory. Four-And-Twenty, running for Canada's Alberta ranches, came home with daylight between him and Harbor View Farm's Garwol.

Rex Ellsworth's Olden Times finished third in the field of nine.

The time for the 1 1/4 miles was 2:01 flat.

Four-And-Twenty paid $2.40, $2.40 and $2.40; Garwol $4.80 and

Loudermilk Leads Ponies To Win

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Terri shooting Southern Methodist University, paced by big Jan Loudermilk, pulled away from Oklahoma City University in the second half Saturday night for an 87-66 basketball victory.

Loudermilk poured in 27 points as SMU came from a 36-34 halftime deficit to make a near-rout of the game.

Low styling... Casual look... Pedwin Slip-Ons

There is a fast growing fraternity of college men whose insignia is the crest of PEDWIN. Adhering to the casual feel of slip-ons, they refuse to believe that good taste must carry a high price tag. This is why they have chosen PEDWIN slip-ons. For the updated look of today's youth, without the high price.

Peter Snell Runs Mile In 3:54.4

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Peter Snell of New Zealand, running effortlessly on a grass track, bettered the world mile record tonight with a clocking of 3 minutes, 54.4 seconds that eclipsed Herb Elliott's mark by a tenth of a second.

Snell, Olympic 800-meter champion, whipped two sub four-minute milers as he came from the rear of the field, took the lead at the three-quarter mark and ripped off a 56 second final lap to beat Elliott's record.

Forsan Sweeps Two Games From Water Valley Cats

FORSAN—Forsan swept a District 93-B basketball double header from Water Valley here Friday night, winning the boys' game, 64-36, after the girls had prevailed, 63-49.

The win left the boys with a 2-3 won-lost record in league competition. The girls are currently 4-1, a record good enough to tie them for first place.

In the boys' contest, Kenneth Soles wound up with 17 points and David O'Brien 14 for Forsan.

In girls' play, Jan Stockton scored 21 points. Botnie Simpson 18 and Joyce Sheulits 17 for Forsan. Dona Parks tossed in four and Paula Gordon two for the winners while Carli Overton, Darla Dunagan and Lanell Hughes

Tornadoes Humble Ponies, 60 To 55

LAMESA—Lamesa humbled Sweetwater, 60-55, in an important District 3-AAAA basketball game here Friday night.

Both teams went into the fray with unblemished conference records. Lamesa is now 4-0 and Sweetwater 3-1.

With three minutes left in the game, Lamesa led by only one point, at 55-54, but the Ponies never were able to catch up. Wallace Franklin led the Tornadoes in scoring with 23 points. Mike Perry dropped in 14 for Sweetwater.

Joe Engle Without Franchise To Run

CHATTAHOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Joe Engle, whose love of baseball made him one of the sport's best known figures, had a catch in his voice today.

The venerable Southern Association had folded, the Philadelphia Phillies had decided not to operate a club in the Class A South Atlantic League, and for the first time since 1929, Engle had no baseball club to run. For the first time in 61 years, Chattanooga had no baseball team.

The Philadelphia announcement also killed baseball in Nashville, since the Vols' entry into the Sally League could only be in

Steer Baseball Team Begins Early Drills

Pitchers and catchers on the Big Spring High School baseball staff hit the practice field last week and the remainder of the squad checks in for workouts Monday.

The Longhorns launch play as early as March 2, at which time they host Sweetwater.

In all, coach Roy Baird has booked 11 practice games for the Longhorns. The Big Springers plunge into District 2-AAAA competition Tuesday, March 20, at which time Midland Lee comes here for a 4 p.m. game.

The Longhorns, of course, spend more times in conference play this year than last because two more teams—Lee and Abilene Cooper—have been added.

In addition to Sweetwater, such teams as Colorado City, Snyder, Lubbock High and Lubbock Monterey will be met by the locals. The Steers play a total of three games against Cee City, three against Sweetwater and three against Snyder.

Baird is again being helped by Joe Sibley. The 1961 Steers wound up with an 8-15 won-lost record and Baird reasons the club will improve upon that mark, if the weather turns decent and the Steers can work out regularly.

A cinder mixture has been hauled into the base paths and distributed in efforts to improve the playing field, which had fallen into a state of disrepair. In all, more than 30 yards of the mixture was brought to the park and leveled. Other repairs have been made to the playing field, the fences and the grandstand.

Baird and Sibley will build their team around nine letter winners and five boys who won reverse numerals last year.

The lettermen back include catcher Jerry Tucker, who is out at the present time with an ailing knee; catcher Jeff Brown, second baseman Coy Mitchell, shortstop David Mabery, left fielder Jack Young, right fielder Rickley Wisener and pitchers Dexter Watson and Bowman Roberts.

Pitcher Roy New is eligible to return but he is working in the afternoons and may not get to play. He was the Steers' busiest pitcher last year and ended the season with a 3-6 record.

Brown, Irons, Mitchell and Wisener will not report until basketball season ends Feb. 15.

Sophomores bidding for places on the team include: Josh Sullivan, Mike Gilbert, Ronnie Osborn, Ronnie Payne, Freddie Simmons, Dennis Clark, Garry Harris, Jimmy Seales, Greer Willis, Don Osborn, Alton Fields, Bill Worley and Jimmy Nipp.

James Gilbert and Bill Hale, both of whom are seniors, and Randy Moore, a junior, have also indicated they would like to try for places on the team.

Steve O'Neill Succumbs Following Heart Attack

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Steve O'Neill, an affable Irishman who was one of baseball's best catchers competitor, starting with Cleveland in 1911 and remaining here until 1924, when he was traded to Boston. He was with the Red Sox and New York Yankees one season each and ended his playing days with the St. Louis Browns in 1928.

He managed Cleveland from 1935-37, piloted the Tigers for six more seasons until 1948, and added two more seasons with the Red Sox in 1950 and 1951. O'Neill took over the Philadelphia Phils for 2 1/2 seasons until he was fired in July 1954.

"I was with him 30 minutes before he died," said pitcher George Uhle. "He told me he'd be out of the hospital in a couple days. As a catcher he was great. He was one of the few who had the guts to call for a curve ball with the tying or winning run on third base. 'Don't worry about throwing it in the dirt,' he'd say, 'I won't let it get by me.' And he wouldn't," Uhle added.

"You couldn't find a better catcher," said pitcher Stan Coveleski from his home in South Bend, Ind. "He caught me for over 10 years."

Outfielder Jack Graney said from his home in Bowling Green, Mo.: "He was one of the greatest competitors I ever saw. He could block the plate like nobody else. He was a rough and tumble guy and he never took anything from anybody."

O'Neill was to earn the nickname "Stout Steve" when he placed more than 200 pounds on his stocky frame. But in his playing days he was a rugged O'Neill was struck with a heart attack at his home last Sunday.

Brewer, Ragan Head List Of Contenders

The grass always looks greener on the other side, especially when three others—Gary Player, Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders—total $183,000 with 13 victories and a number of second places. The result finds about one dozen club swingers hoping to "hit it big" in 1962.

There were seven first-time tour winners in 1961. Gary Brewer Jr. probably was the brightest of the group. Only one stroke prevented him from winning three straight events. He was the tour's seventh best money winner with $31,150.

Skaters Vie In Boston

BOSTON (AP) — U.S. figure skaters — their ranks tragically depleted a year ago in a plane crash — held their first national championship since then this week in Boston.

The 1962 championships get under way Thursday and will last through Sunday.

Last Feb. 15 the world was shocked when a jet plane carrying many of the nation's finest figure skaters and officials crashed near Brussels, Belgium. The death toll was 73. Fifteen victims were figure skaters traveling to Prague for the world skating championships.

Among the victims were Mariel Owen, 20; her sister, Laurence, 16; and their mother, Mariel Vinson Owen, all of Winchester, Mass.

Baseball Has Only Itself To Blame

By FRANK LANE
Former Baseball Executive
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baseball has only itself to blame for the ridiculous claim made by purposeful-minded persons that professional football some day will take over as the nation's No. 1 sport.

There's little question in my mind that this so-called struggle between these two major sports for supremacy of fan interest is a preposterously contrived scheme, initiated by certain football owners and spurred by football writers.

Pro football is a fine sport but even the most fanatic football fan must realize that because of its obvious restrictions and limitations, it cannot possibly ever hope to compete on an even basis with baseball.

Pro football points proudly to its time baseball attendances have decreased but it conveniently fails to add that pro football, a one-day-a-week sport, plays only on Sunday, the best potential drawing day, while baseball is played every day in the week.

Wins SMHDA Top Writing Award

R. L. (Bob) Smith, wire editor for the Big Spring Herald, Friday received the first place award of the State Mental Hospital Development Association for outstanding writing concerning mental health or treatment of the mentally ill. He received a plaque and a check from Jack Y. Smith, president of SMHDA, while Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, where Smith did nearly two years research for his articles, watches.

Bob Smith Articles Win Double Awards

This is a big weekend for R. L. (Bob) Smith, wire editor for the Big Spring Herald.

Friday he was announced as the first place winner of the annual writing contest sponsored by the State Mental Development Association.

Saturday he was in Austin to receive a second place award from the Headliners Club for outstanding writing in the field of science.

Both of the awards were based on his two-part series concerning Kathryn Smith. These dealt with the background of a young woman who eventually became a mental patient, and described her slow but rewarding progress toward recovery. The Herald devoted two full-page spreads to presentation of the articles on June 4 and June 5, 1961.

Only last week the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors cited Bob Smith's story of Kathryn Smith as the second best in the field of feature writing in 1961.

The State Hospital Mental Development Association award was presented by Jack Y. Smith, president.

"We know that painstaking research and work went into the gathering of the information and the preparation of the copy for the articles," said Smith. "We are proud to be able to recognize this fine contribution to a deeper understanding of the problems and importance of mental health."

The SMHDA, which is headquartered at Odessa, annually posts the award, encouraging writers to seek new avenues of thought in dealing with treatment of the mentally ill.

Smith received a handsome engraved plaque and a substantial cash award in connection with his first place entry. On hand to witness the presentation was Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital and who assisted Smith in nearly two years of research which served as a background for the series.

The Headliners Club presented $3,000 in prizes Saturday evening to 13 persons for outstanding writing and photography in 1961. In all, 15 Texas dailies were represented by winners of awards ranging from first place to honorable mention and special citation. There were over 355 entries in eight categories.

Smith's second place in reporting and interpretation in the field of science rank next to Ralph S. O'Leary, the Houston Post, for general reporting of science news.

First place winners in other categories included: Houston Press, for a dramatic pictorial history of Hurricane Carla; Phil J. Record, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, for his story on the breakdown and confession of a murder suspect; Russel Tinsley, Austin American, for a story on flight of a family from a simulated nuclear attack; and Richard Curry, Dallas Times-Herald, series on the proxy fight for control of the Allegheny Corp., (tie) Wray Weddell, Austin American Statesman, for a series on the history and possible future consolidation of city and county government in

LOUIE E. THROGMORTON

Throgmorton To Speak Here

Louie E. Throgmorton, vice president and director of public services for the Republic National Life Insurance Company of Dallas, is to be the speaker at the annual banquet of the American Business Women's Club.

The affair is to be held at the Settles Hotel at 7 p.m. on Feb. 5. Scenic chapter officials announced.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the recognition of the "Boss of the year" by the club. Throgmorton, a native of Piggott, Ark., has been with the company for the past 11 years and has been widely in demand as a speaker before civic and business organizations. Each year he travels about 200,000 miles to give approximately 400 addresses.

In Dallas, and at Shreveport, La., where he formerly lived, he has been active in civic affairs. He is one of the organizers of the Religious Heritage of America, Inc., and is a lay leader in his (Disciples of Christ) church.

In the West Texas area, Kathryn Duff, the Abilene Reporter-News, received honorable mention for writing where timeliness, depth and understanding of human qualities are factors. Howard McMahon, the Abilene Reporter-News, received a special citation in this field. Jerry Hall, a native of Stanton and now on the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, won second place in the category for interpretation or editorial leadership. He wrote a series explaining proposed charter amendments.

DOYLEENE LITTLE

Garden City Girl Gets H-SU Degree

Doyleene Little, a 1958 honor graduate of Garden City High School, has completed bachelor of business administration degree work at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

She will begin work with Humble Oil and Refining Co., Midland, Feb. 1. Miss Little is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Little, Route 2, Big Spring.

While at H.S.U., she was a member of the Cowgirls, holding the office of reporter. She was also pianist for the Life Service Band, program chairman of the University Business Association and a member of the Student Education Association.

She was employed as a secretary in the Business Administration Division at the College.

Annual UF Meet Called Feb. 15

Annual meeting of the United Fund of Big Spring and Howard County has been called for Feb. 15, at 5 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The membership consists of everyone who made a contribution to the U.F. President John Currie said a full attendance is urged.

Main item of business will be the election of a new segment of the board of trustees. The board consists of about 100 people, and a third of this membership is elected each year for a three-year term, under a rotation system.

The board is due to meet following the membership meeting and elect new officers. With Currie, present officers are John Taylor, vice president and Lester Morton, treasurer.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends for the kindnesses shown us at the loss of our loved one.

Air Lift Set Today To Help MOD Drive

Residents interested in getting an aerial view of Big Spring and surrounding country, and those interested just in taking an airplane ride, will be given an opportunity to do that Sunday afternoon at Howard County Uirport.

Webb Aero Club has set up an "air lift" to help the March of Dimes. Money taken from the rides will be turned over to the fund to help in the fight against polio.

Those from 12 years of age up may get a ride for $2, and those under 12 for $1, which will give about 15 minutes to take a good long look at the Big Spring area.

The Aero Club's three airplanes will be available and every individual who owns an airplane hangared at the air port will be ready to take up anyone wanting to ride. Reports indicate that some 20 planes will be available, most of which are four-place, and some capable of carrying more.

The air lift was originally set for last Sunday, but was postponed due to the weather. The weatherman has promised a good flying day, and sponsors hope to avoid another postponement. However, if flying conditions are not good, the air lift will be put off another week.

Text Committee Named Friday

Textbook committee for the Howard County Common Schools was approved by the Howard County School Board at its meeting Friday.

The committee is composed of Walker Bailey, county school superintendent; Mrs. George Archer, Mrs. Mildred Buchanan, all of Gay Hill school; and M. G. Kilgore, Center Point school.

Sometime in March, the committee will meet and decide on textbooks to be used for the next six years in geography classes, grades four through six; American history, grade eight; and music in grades seven and eight.

The committee will have five choices plus the book already in service. The committee can select any of the lot but if it chooses the text currently in use, the tenure of the book is restricted to two years.

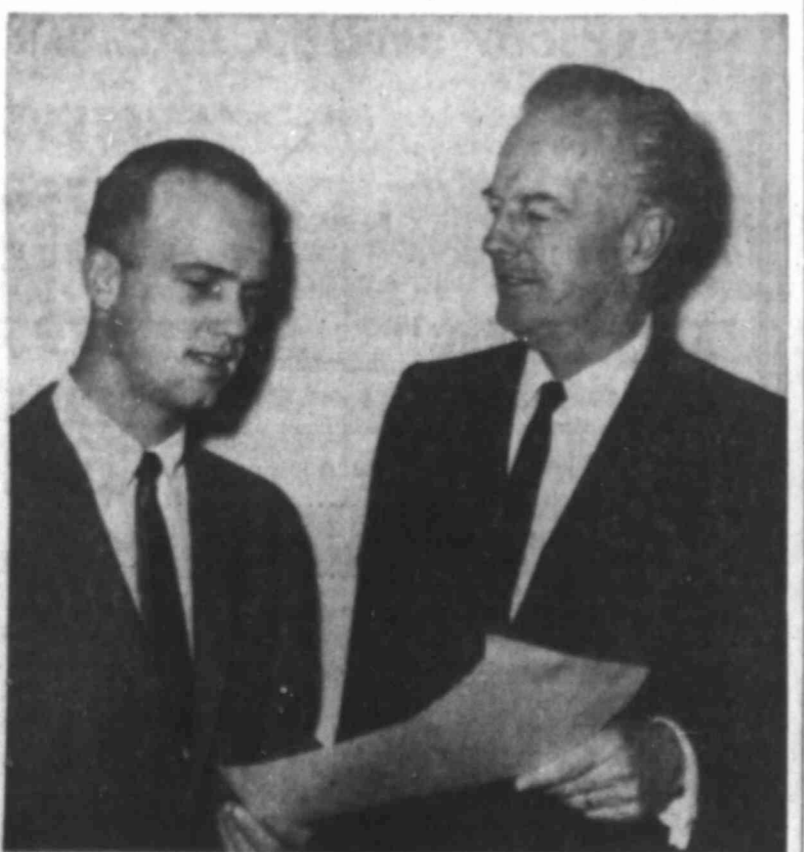

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank the friends and relatives for the prayers, gifts and other kindnesses shown us during the illness of our daughter, Donna. She is much improved, but we still covet your prayers in her behalf.

Big Spring's Bill

Senator David Ratliff, right, and Representative David Read look over the bill that will allow the City of Big Spring to sue the state for a better water rate contract with the local State Hospital. Ratliff guided the bill through the Senate earlier in the week, after Read had pushed it through the House, during the current special session of the Legislature.

WELCOME

To These Newcomers

longed to her late husband is used by the children to examine an Arkansas quartz of Martha's rock collection. Encased in plastic and filed with care in the open book are family letters dating back to 1853. The letters contain interesting facts concerning the early days of the South — facts which are being written into a family history by Mrs. Talbot.

school at the University of Tennessee College of Medicine in Memphis. Before coming to Big Spring the Sanders resided in Nashville, Tenn. Reading, bridge and gardening are Mrs. Sanders' hobbies, while her husband goes in for photography and flying, having 25 of the required 40 hours flying time.

Edwards-Mitchell Ceremony Read At Christian Church

Judy Love Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Mitchell, became the bride of William Bolling Edwards III of Joshua, in a double ring ceremony Saturday night at the First Christian Church.

The Rev. John C. Black officiated during the service which was conducted before an altar centered with a tall urn which held giant white chrysanthemums and gladioli. Majestic seven-branch candelabra, holding cathedral tapers, formed the background for emerald trees on either side of the altar. White standards tied with white satin ribbons marked the pews.

Mrs. J. C. Douglass Jr., vocalist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. John Birdwell. The organist also played the wedding marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding gown was of white peau de soie richly embroidered with white seed pearls, fashioned with molded bodice and wide skirt which tapered into a chapel train. The fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a tiara of pearls.

The wedding gown was borrowed from a sister-in-law, Mrs. R. G. Mitchell; a gold heirloom bracelet belonging to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. M. Mitchell, was something old, and something blue was a garter. The bride tucked birthdate pennies in her slippers.

Mrs. Richard S. Moore was her sister's matron of honor and Carolyn Halbrook was maid of honor. Ellen Edwards was bridesmaid. The three attendants were dressed identically in turquoise frocks made with molded bodices and full skirts; their headpieces were fashioned to match their dresses, and they carried winter bouquets of turquoise and white. W. B. Edwards Jr., father of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were R. G. Mitchell, brother of the bride, Billy Horne, Cecil Ollar and John Edwards, brother of the bridegroom.

Tapers were lighted by Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Ollar. When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride wore a suit of London tan, styled with straight skirt and belted jacket. Her accessories were of matching tan tone.

The couple will be at home in Arlington where both will be students in Arlington State College. Mrs. Edwards is a graduate of Big Spring High School where she was active in Tri-Hi-Y and F. H. A. She was a fall student at HCJC. Mr. Edwards graduated from Joshua High School and attended HCJC for two years. He is a student at Arlington State and is employed by the Go Perfuming Company of Fort Worth.

MRS. WILLIAM BOLLING EDWARDS III

with a skirt of white net covered the bride's table which was centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature wedding couple.

Mrs. Cecil Ollar, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests.

Executive Board Of A&M Mothers Slate Meeting

The mid-season executive board meeting of the Federation of Texas A&M College Mothers' Club, of which the Howard County A&M College Mothers' Club, Big Spring, is a member, will be held in the Birch Room in the Memorial Student Center on the campus of the Texas A&M College at College Station, Saturday, February 3, at 10 a.m.

At this meeting the fourteen officers of the Federation, who transact most of the business and planning for the Federation and its fifty clubs located in all areas of the state, with the President, Mrs. Joe A. Smith, 706 Mobile Drive, Pasadena, presiding, will give progress reports on the Group Projects, voted on in September, 1961 meeting.

Webb Windsock

Attention all fashion minded women - and Webb has many such - The February luncheon is planned especially for you. The wives of Wing Headquarters had this in mind when they started planning the program for this event. Fashions will be shown from Hemphill-Wellis and will be right in step with busy ways and days of the AF wife. JoAnne Forrest will do the commentary for the show and models will all be from Wing. There will be a drawing for a spring hat, plus that early peek at what the fashion world will have to offer this coming season. We hope to see many of you there and don't forget about reservations, they must be in by noon, Tuesday the 30th. The same goes for cancellations. You can call Mrs. James Gehrig at AM 3-4715 or Mrs. L. J. Morris at AM 4-4531. See you at the luncheon.

Capt. and Mrs. J. P. Smith have their daughter, Mrs. W. L. Tucker, and their grandson here for a two week visit from Boulder, Colo.

There will be a special meeting of the Squadron Wives at the Officers Club Tuesday night at 8 p.m. The reason for the meeting will be to select a king and queen to represent the Squadron in Frontier Days. All are urged to attend the meeting as it is most important.

All foreign born wives are invited to the February meeting of the International Club to be held at the Service Club on the 19th at 7:30 p.m. There will be another reminder in this column before that date. Wives from Japan, Ireland, Scotland, Panama, Belgium and Morocco are presenting a show of dances and costumes from their various lands for a PTA meeting at Marcy in early February.

Mrs. Phillip Hayden of Wichita, Kan., Mrs. Donald Sonnier of Baton Rouge, La., and Mrs. Manfred Langenstueck of Cologne, Germany, have just recently joined their husbands who are members of Class 40-G.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. R. G. Mitchell, Mrs. R. W. Halbrook, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. H. K. Straughan and Mrs. C. L. Cook.

Out - of - town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook of McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edwards of Fort Worth, grandparents of the couple, Mrs. A. M. Moore of Houston and Ann Mitchell of San Antonio.

REHEARSAL BREAKFAST

Judy Mitchell and W. B. Edwards III were honored at a rehearsal breakfast Saturday morning at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant. Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Moore of Houston. Mrs. Moore is a sister of the honoree.

Tables were decorated with a cupid theme and each place was marked with an ornamental rice caddy filled with rice.

Out - of - town guests included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edwards Jr., John and Ellen Edwards all of Joshua; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edwards, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ollar of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook and Mrs. H. K. Straughan of McKinney; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mitchell and Sharon of El Paso.

Donald Carlises To Make Home In Illinois

Airman S.C. and Mrs. Donald F. Carlisle are en route to Chanute, Ill. following their marriage Wednesday at the chapel at Webb AFB.

Mrs. Carlisle is the former Nancy Faye Jones, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Jones. The bridegroom is the son of S. Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Clark of Danbury, Conn.

The double ring wedding ceremony was read by Chaplain Benjamin Meacham before an altar decorated with white stock. Music for the service was played by Mrs. Meacham on the organ.

The father of the bride escorted her to the altar. She wore a street length dress of white brocade with a jacket of lace. Her nylon veil was shoulder length.

A corsage of white carnations and bridal wreath tied with white satin streamers, was carried on a white Bible.

Kay Jones was her sister's maid of honor and wore a dress of rose pink lace. Her corsage was a large white mum tied with pink ribbon.

Lanny Baize was best man.

MRS. DONALD CARLISLE

City HD Club Has New Member

Mrs. Elton Appletton was hostess for a meeting of City Home Demonstration Club, held Friday at her home. Nineteen members answered to roll call and one new member, Mrs. W. F. Bordsfaks, was welcomed.

Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, TDA health and safety committee chairman, presented a program on dental health with committee members, Mrs. C. L. Lumpkin and Mrs. E. A. Williams, taking part. Their subjects were "Prevention and Control of Tooth Decay," "Proper Care of Dentures," and "ABC's of Good Dental Health."

A true and false test in relation to the program was conducted afterward.

During the business session the club adopted a new constitution and by-laws and THDA recommendations were accepted.

Ushers were Gary R. Siniff, Columbus, Ohio, and John Norton.

The couple visited in Waco before continuing to Chanute where they will make a home while he completes his schooling. For the trip Mrs. Jones chose a suit in lilac shade with black accessories.

The bride is a mid-term graduate of Big Spring High School and was a member of the Rainbow Girls.

The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School in 1960. He attended HCJC and Texas Western in El Paso. He will be attending electronics school in Chanute, having enlisted in the USAF in August of 1961.

Mrs. Novella Kirkpatrick, grandmother of the bride, attended the wedding from Canyon.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

The A. D. HARMONS have added another member to their family. He is little HARVEY DICK HARMON whose birthday is Dec. 28. The Harmons brought him in to their home two weeks ago to join the little adopted sister, Kendra, 6, in making the well rounded family.

The new birthdate in the family makes Mr. Harmon glad he was born in August — Mrs. Harmon was a New Years Day baby and Kendra celebrates her anniversary each year on Dec. 31.

MR. and MRS. C. P. HARMONSON who have recently moved their family to El Paso are at home at 1100 Avalon, Apt. C.

MR. and MRS. L. C. RONE, 3709 Connally, are in Denton today to attend graduation ceremonies at North Texas State University at which time their son, DONALD K. RONE, will receive his bachelor degree in business administration, finance and banking. Donald is a graduate of Midland High School and as a student in the university he has been president of the North Texas State Insurance Club, a member of Iota Mu Sigma and secretary - treasurer of the Finance Club of North Texas.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES RONE of Midland are also in Denton for the ceremony. They will all be guests of the graduate and his wife who is from Midland also.

Irish BUTLER McCauley who was stationed here several years at Webb AFB will terminate a visit today in the home of MRS. RILLA WEBB. Butler is now making his home in Houston.

MRS. JAMES STEPHENS and Michele have returned to their home in Abilene after visiting Mrs. Stephens' parents, MR. and MRS. BILL SEALS.

MRS. TOM GOOD is a patient in Malone-Hogan Foundation Hospital where she underwent foot surgery.

MRS. BEATRICE FRANKLIN who has spent the past month with her mother, MRS. ESTELLA YATES, and two sisters, MRS. M. G. BURCHETT and MRS. R. L. McCULLOUGH, has returned to her home in Ontario, Calif.

Friends of MR. and MRS. PAT ADAMS will be interested to know that their little six-year-old daughter, PAM, has been selected as "Smile Queen" of the first grade in Fryberger Private School in Dallas. She will compete with the public schools first grade smile queens soon. She is the granddaughter of MRS. IMOGENE LLOYD. The Adamses are former residents of Big Spring.

Waring Honored In Home Of J. Duncans

Following the Fred Waring concert Saturday evening at the Municipal Auditorium a reception honoring the concert artist and his party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, 1300 West 16th.

Mrs. Clyde Angel, president of the Concert Association, Mr. Angel and the Duncans formed the receiving line.

Some 250 guests were received at the door by John Taylor who was assisted by George Oldham. Throughout the Duncans' home were varied arrangements of flowers. Yellow chrysanthemums in a large copper pitcher were featured on the divider above the sunken den.

In the dining room, the table was spread with ecru, cutwork linen and appointed with silver. Ivory tapers in silver holders were lighted and flanked the centerpiece arrangement which was a silver epergne filled with tinted green spider mums and red carnations.

Talbot and Mrs. Ike Robb. Others in the house party were Mr. Newsom, Dr. Swift, Dr. Talbot, Mr. Robb, Mrs. John Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Harrol Jones, Mrs. Ann Houser, Helen Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Weaver and Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Wasson.

Dear Mother,

During the Christmas holidays, while I was home, several of my girl friends and myself visited BLUM'S to make my selection of sterling, china and pottery for my coming wedding event this summer and since we were so busy during this time, I neglected telling you about it.

I had no idea that planning a wedding could be so involved! Thanks to a friend of mine, however, my worries are over. She told me what a bride-to-be in Big Spring should know when it comes to wedding plans! That the new bridal service at BLUM'S, here in Big Spring is absolutely magnificent!

They have a bridal register in which they wrote my name and my choice of patterns for silver, china and crystal. Now, when my friends shop at BLUM'S, they can mention my name, and BLUM'S will show them the gift register for guidance. They even recorded my gift preference. This way there will be no duplication of gifts and it makes shopping so much easier for my friends.

By the way, BLUM'S is the best yet at gift wrapping, you should see how expert they are and they will deliver, too.

BLUM'S bridal consultant, Mrs. Pauline Blum, is a charming person and one of the friendliest people I've ever met. I already feel as if I had known her for years. She told me so many things about planning a wedding that I had never dreamed of. I'm so eager for you to meet her.

Mother, there are so many wonderful things I'd like to tell you about BLUM'S and all of the lovely new patterns they have to choose from, but it would take pages, so I'll just wait until I come home this summer as I want you and daddy to go to BLUM'S with me and see for yourself how wonderful and complete it is.

With BLUM'S helping me, I just know I'll have the prettiest wedding in Big Spring.

Love, Pat.

P.S.: Oh yes, I almost forgot the most important thing to tell you, BLUM'S assured me they would have the stock to back up my selections, as they are most anxious NOT to disappoint anyone. They also assured me, they would have my selections all set up at the time needed. All of this fine extra service at NO EXTRA CHARGE.

Three For Tea

Mrs. Walton Rich, her daughter, Geraldine, and a neighbor, Mrs. David Bayless at 4 o'clock tea in the Riches' home on Langley. Mrs. Rich, from Ireland, and Mrs. Bayless, from England, adhere to the custom practiced in their former homes and each afternoon, sometimes with neighbors as guests, they have their tea and pastries. Mrs. Rich is most proud of her Waterford crystal, not shown, which is made in her home town.

Tea Hour Observed In Traditional Fashion

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

France may have its sidewalk cafes; Germany its beer gardens and polkas; the U. S., its "happy hour," but England and Ireland have their tea time, Big Ben, and the Blarney Stone. Not to mention the Irish Reel with the lasses who do them.

Mrs. Walton Rich supplies good humored conversation and Mrs. David Bayless, superb English tea, when the two get together on Langley Street, Webb AFB, for "a spot of tea" complete with such goodies as lemon curd tarts and jam tarts which were served during this interview.

Mrs. Rich comes from Ireland and Mrs. Bayless, from England, both having a mutual taste for tea, which is properly served each afternoon in one home or the other, frequently with a neighbor or two joining the party.

In Ireland, Mrs. Rich's family lives in Waterford, Waterford County, which adjoins the County of Kilkenny. Waterford is in Munster Province and, as with Scottish clans, kilts bear the mark of the province. For her five-year-old daughter, Geraldine, Mrs. Rich is presently making a kilt to resemble that of her country. Also she is teaching the Irish Reel for a local school presentation.

Tea time is a favored hour in the Irish home, according to Mrs. Rich. Often the lemon curd is spread with thick rich cream on packages "continental style," which is wonderful for tea.

Her neighbor, Mrs. Bayless, is quite the English woman, however, she and Mrs. Rich consider themselves true Texans. In Big Spring, their husbands are stationed at Webb Air Force Base. Mrs. Bayless has been in the states for quite some time, being one of the first war brides to arrive from England in 1946. She is the mother of two sons, who became acquainted with their English relatives from 1953 to 1955, when their parents were in England. Their mother's home was Little Shelford, Cambridge, England.

Story Of YMCA Is Recounted

A history of the 118-year-old YMCA was presented in a program given for Modern Woman's Forum Friday in the home of Mrs. Hugh Duncan. The occasion observed YMCA Week and speaker for the program was Francis Flint, YMCA general secretary.

Mrs. C. W. Parmenter, program chairman, introduced the speaker who told of the YMCA founder George Williams, a member of a devout English farm family. Williams went to London and while living there he missed the family association to which he was accustomed. There he invited friends to meet with him for Bible study and conversation, thus the beginning of YMCA. The organization has 3,000,000 members in the U. S., with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

Flint praised the local support in the YMCA program expressing appreciation of the full membership and their contributions to the program. He said "The corps of any organization is the people who use it."

Following the talk a question and answer period was held and Mrs. T. G. Adams reported on the progress of the West Side Recreation Center.

Refreshments were served to 14 members. Mrs. Adams will be hostess for the Feb. 9 meeting.

Soak Irish Moss

Irish moss, specified sometimes in old-fashioned recipes, has to be soaked in cold water, then heated to 140 degrees or above to dissolve. The moss "gels" liquid mixtures.

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT Toppings Are Delectable; But Not Very Digestible

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

Conversations while buying a hat next spring may sound more like a visit to an ice cream parlor than a millinery shop.

Some women will order sherbet; others lime ice or creme cafe. Naturally, in these days of the Twist, many will want to try peppermint, and many, many others will take vanilla.

Still, these masses of fluff and flora overhead will be more delectable than digestible, even for posse-pouching ponies.

Blooming hats flowered into fashion last year. Since, not only the lad and the flowers, but the chapeaux themselves have grown to giant proportions.

On next season's bonnets flamboyant flowers will wind around high rising crowns, mounds and pointed peaks and finally brim over the face like unruly weeds.

These fussy, frilly toppers were created by American milliners to flatter the fluffly, fluttery, feminine fashions which will dominate a style-conscious woman's wardrobe this spring.

Just as those cossack type furry hats have been able to conceal the wearer's uncoiffed locks this winter, this spring garden variety will do equally well at the task. Indeed, a person could be bald these days without anyone knowing or caring.

However, the big news in spring hats are not the huge flowers, or shapes, but the sweet tooth colors.

Pale beige (described as creme cafe) or off white (vanilla) are the new, neutral, "wear-it-with-everything" hues.

Clear, lemon yellows are blended with a range of greens from lime to spearmint. Pastels are frosted to look as cool as soda glasses. The sherbet hues — raspberry, strawberry, orange and peach-well, these are self explanatory.

Whipped cream white will still be on the scene to combine with ice white suits and coats for spring. But it will be used sparingly, mostly as a topping with flowers, bands and bows in minty colors adding the fashion flavor.

At least these millinery concoctions are minus calories. They are big and sugary, but light-headed.

Packaged Crab

In some fish markets fresh lump crab meat may be had packed separately from fresh flake crab meat. Sometimes, however, both fresh lump and flake crab meat are packed together.

Nile Influences The Ceil Chapman Styles

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Fashionable ladies of ancient Egypt wore robes of transparent linen, and working girls wore nothing at all.

Obviously designer Ceil Chapman had no choice. In her spring collection, "Daughters of the Nile," she modestly skirts the bare facts of history and settles for the spirit of that exotic era.

As a consequence, 200 fashion writers winding up a week of New York Couture Group showings saw bare-shouldered Chapman models undulate along the runway in clinging, draped or pleated chiffon dresses, under the baleful stare of a huge pharaonic statue onstage.

Sinuously successful were strapless gowns gathered high under the bosom and draped in a body-molding line. Sometimes the bare shoulders were sheltered by suede tops and the daring combination of suede and chiffon won applause.

The Egyptian snooze, that familiar squared-off half-circle head-dress the Sphinx has affected for some centuries, was worn with some of the dresses as a hat.

Colors were named appropriately: Sahara brown, lotus green and yellow, baked sand, henna, which glamor girls of 6,000 years ago used for tinting fingers and toes, and kohl, which they used to darken eyelashes.

Although Ceil Chapman made it her theme, the Egyptian influence cropped out here and there in several other collections shown this week, including Oleg Cassini's and Monte Sano & Pruzan's. But even if Elizabeth Taylor's "Cleopatra" finally gets filmed, it's not the time to barge ahead with predictions of another Egyptian fashion craze like the fierce but shortlived one of seven years ago.

Larry Aldrich said nothing about Egypt but his collection also featured floating chiffons, the high waistline and midriff insets accentuating it.

Designed by Marie McCarthy.

the Aldrich fashions emphasized the soft look that dominated the showings this week. Almost everything will be fitted, soft, rounded and feminine in the spring-and you have a hard time finding women to object to those general principles.

Aldrich suits were slim but moved gracefully because of pleats or gathers that provided gentle freedom. Natural waistlines, when they appeared, were underscored with patent leather belts or tie sashes.

In long formal dresses, the lean silhouette was suspended from a high bustline and often one shoulder was bare.

Question: What famous inventor, the son of a soapmaker, is credited with introducing the first formal bathtub to America? Answer: Benjamin Franklin.

His original tub was shoe-shaped and made of copper—a far cry from the ceramic tile step-down tub of today. Today's designers, understandably enough, prefer the newer tub because it offers no unnatural obstruction to the design flow of the room. Besides, it's better for bathing.

Snap Bean Guide

If the pods of those snap beans bulge, the beans are probably too old to be of good texture and flavor.

Miss Scott Is Wed To Billy B. Griffin

LAMESA (SC)—Eleanor Kay Scott and Billy Bruce Griffin were united in marriage at 7 p.m. Friday in the Bryan Street Baptist Church with the Rev. Donald Pruitt, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Scott Jr. and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. T. Griffin.

The double ring ceremony was read before an archway entwined with greenery and white satin ribbons with a background of cathedral tapers in candelabra. Flanking the archway were baskets of orchid and white chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of imported Florentine lace over satin with the fitted bodice fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was styled with graduated tiers of lace.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and she carried an orchid surrounded with white carnations. Her jewelry was a silver leaf necklace.

The maid of honor was Jo Jordan of Big Spring and junior maid of honor was Joylene Estep, the bride's sister. Sheryn Scott and Shelia Watkins were bridesmaids. Rhonda Bufkin of Andrews, the bridegroom's niece, was the flower girl and the ring bearer was Kenneth D. Clement. Don Scott was the best man. Groomsmen were Larry Griffin, the bridegroom's brother, Harold Scott of Big Spring, a cousin, and Jerry Dunn of Lamesa. Ushers were Charles Burdett and Sam Shultz.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony in Fellowship Hall of the church.

For a wedding trip to Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, the bride chose a wool suit of gold, orange and brown with brown accessories. She wore a four-strand necklace of brown and gold with matching earrings and a hat of brown and gold.

The bride is a graduate of Lamesa High School and attended Texas Tech and Howard County Junior College. While in high school she was a member of the Booster Club, Girls' Athletic Assn., Latin Club and DO Club. She was a member of the Women's

Flat Look Remindful Of '20s

PARIS (AP)—Roman designer Roberto Capucci opened his Paris house today with high-keyed color and a flat look that will leave his clients wondering just where their bosoms went.

Waists were often empire, just below the bust used to be, and hems just below the knee, following the majority of Paris designers in their spring and summer shows.

A dazzling deep-orange wool coat covered a violet dress which had a two-piece effect. The empire line came with a seam above the waist in front and slightly lower in back.

Another combination to make the eyes blink was a bright red coat over a Kelly green dress. More clear, sharp color came in a small jacketed orange suit with a violet silk blouse printed in turquoise and rust geometric patterns.

The same suit done in eggshell wool with a pale blue printed blouse brought applause.

Early day dresses were often sheaths with straight skirts, an inset stitched at midhigh, and tops flat as envelopes.

For late afternoon, Capucci brought in hot weather cottons in waffle piques. Some were orange and violet but a note of lingerie crept in with three white suits. One had a jacket lined with light pink and blue organza flowers. The matching blouse looked like a tiny flower bouquet.

Wife-Saver

Automatic dishwashers and garbage disposals have eased the housewife's burden, but there's more that can be done. For example, countertops and backsplashes can be surfaced with an easy-to-clean material like ceramic tile. It can't be stained by foods, grease or household acids, proof too.

Raisin Wine

If you want that raisin sauce for baked ham or smoked tongue to be particularly delicious, use red wine as part of the liquid in the sauce.

Visitors Noted In Forsan News

FORSAN (SC)—Mr. and Mrs. Ed R. Kennedy and family have had Mrs. Hugh and children, and grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Grant, from Andrews, visiting in their home.

Wears Wig

Glynis Johns feels that the way to always look well-coiffed is by having a wig. She is soon to be seen in Warner Bros. "The Chapman Report."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Finds Wig Helps Save Hairdressing Time

HOLLYWOOD — When visiting Glynis Johns on "The Chapman Report" set, I watched her play a sexy scene with Ty Hardin. When she rejoined me set-side, I mentioned that she had changed to a blonde since we last met.

"It's a wig," Glynis said. "I like it so much I've ordered one of my own. Most of my friends have them. They're so lightweight you forget you are wearing them, and you pop them on like a hat. Mine has a comb in front to hold it in place. It isn't hot because there is no hair lacing, and the air can get in. Wigs have really caught on. I depend on mine ever so often. It saves lots of time, and I don't have to sit under a dryer before going out."

"Are they expensive?" I asked.

"You can buy them for less or for more, but I paid approximately $150 for mine, and you really can't tell it from my own hair," Miss Johns replied.

"I can't help mentioning how attractive you look today," I told her.

"I'm much happier now," she explained. "When you saw me before, I was having a bad time with a romance. It was on again, off again, and the uncertainty took a lot out of me. I don't worry about anything any more, and I am grateful to Science of Mind for pulling me through. It teaches you how to handle the complexities of life in a more simplified way than psychoanalysis."

As we walked across the lot at Warner Bros. to the Green Room, Glynis said, "I feel like having chicken salad today. At one time I was a great calorie counter, and I went on a health kick, but now I just listen to my body, and I never have to diet any more. Your system will demand what it needs. Animals have this instinct, and so do babies, but as we grow older we tend to lose it. Now when I get an urge for something special to eat, I eat it, and my weight never fluctuates."

"This urge for something special has to be a true feeling. If you have a problem, you may have a psychotic hunger, but for a person who has no emotional problems, I feel it is the answer to maintaining weight."

"In London I was rehearsing a play. It was very strenuous, and most of the time I ate baked beans. My friends insisted that I needed meat, but I didn't feel like eating it. Later I read that beans were an excellent diet for anyone doing brain work," she revealed.

"Yesterday, I had no solids," Glynis confided. "I felt like having liquids, and I had consommé, vegetable juices and fruit juice. Today, I feel great. There are so many people who make a false god of calories but never seem to lick an overweight problem."

"Once when I was following a set diet, I didn't feel well. I know now that I was not giving my body the food that it needed to function effectively."

"I am sure the diets of the future will be concerned with the quality and balance of what you eat, rather than the calorie count," she added.

Like so many English girls, Glynis has a beautiful complexion.

"I can't stand make-up," she said. "And I never wear it when I'm not working. If I'm going to a gala and I want to look especially nice, I'll use an artificial tan — a cream I put on five hours before. It gives me enough color so that I don't need anything but lipstick."

Glynis is a devotee of exercise and steam baths at her favorite gym.

"I have found a gym here in Hollywood that has a type of steam bath that you pour water

Would-be office seekers who have not quite made up their mind have but one week left in which to reach a decision.

Frank Hardesty, county Democratic committee chairman, warned that candidates must file their names with him by midnight Feb. 5 or forfeit their chance to get their names on the May 5 primary ballot.

Meantime, the Republicans are planning their own localized strategy. Ralph Hughes, who is Hardesty's Republican opposite number, said Saturday that his party is still planning to have two or three local candidates in the field.

"None has filed with me officially," Hughes said, "but that does not mean we will not have some entries by Feb. 5."

The county Republicans are hopeful of entering a candidate for county judge and for the two county commission posts in this year's voting. Hughes said he felt certain the party would have several candidates officially entered in the county races by Feb. 5.

Hardesty pointed out Saturday that the filing fee assessed for state representative will be $40 higher than last election. He explained that in the past the fee has been $10. It is now $50.

The reason?

"The law says that as long as a county is under 40,000 population, the filing fee for state legislative posts shall be $10," Hardesty said. "Howard County, by the last census, now has 40,139. Hence — $50 instead of $10."

The county chairman said he would accept filings until midnight on Feb. 5.

The following candidates had officially filed with the county chairman through Friday:

District Judge, 118th District Court: Ralph W. Caton.

County Judge: Lee Porter.

County Clerk: Roberta Oldfield and Pauline Petty.

County Treasurer: Mae Darow and Frances Glenn.

County Superintendent: Walker Bailey.

County Surveyor: Ralph Baker.

County Commissioner, Precinct No. 2: Dwight B. McCann, Ralph White and John Nutt.

County Commissioner, Precinct No. 4: E. C. Reeves, R. S. (Red) McCullah, L. J. Davidson, Raymond River and C. L. (Jack) Roden.

District Court clerk: Wade Choate.

Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, Place No. 2: A. E. (Shorty) Long and Jess Slaughter.

Justice of the Peace, Precinct 2, (Coahoma): Mrs. Fred Adams and William A. Hunter.

State Representative, 78th Legislative District: Ed Carpenter and David Read.

State Senator, District No. 25: David Ratliff.

State Board of Education: W. A. Evans.

Congress, 19th Congressional District: George Mahon.

Stockstill Takes Forsan School Post

FORSAN (SC) — Roy Stockstill, who has been serving as principal at Plains High School, will assume his duties Monday as superintendent of the Forsan Independent School District.

He succeeds Merritt Romans, who has been serving as acting superintendent following the resignation last autumn of Joe Holladay.

Stockstill is 42, with a teaching and administrative background. He and Mrs. Stockstill, the former Esta Lee Covey of Fort Worth, have three sons, Ronald, 18, now in the U. S. Marine Corps, Bill, 16, a junior, and Rusty, 11, a fifth grader.

The new superintendent took his BS degree from Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth, did graduate work at Texas Christian University, and received his Master of Education degree from McMurry College.

He saw service with the U. S. Marine Corps during World War II and was with the corps in the Korean campaign.

His professional background includes service as a special agent with the federal government, a teacher in the Fort Worth

ROY STOCKSTILL Schools, superintendent of Buffalo Gap, and more recently as principal at Plains Junior High. Stockstill is a member of the Masonic order, of the Lions Club, the V.F.W., American Legion and of Kappa Delta Pi.

Dawson Grand Jury Has Long Session, Indicts 22

LAMESA (SC) — The Dawson County grand jury Thursday returned 22 indictments after deliberating nearly four full days. Ted Turner of Welch was jury foreman.

Twenty-two persons were notified and seven cases passed by the jurors, who heard more than 100 witnesses. The jury also investigated alleged mistreatment of prisoners by county officers, but took no action, according to Dist. Atty. George H. Hansard.

Indictments were returned against Weldon A. Lindsey, DWI (second offense); A. L. Harris, murder with malice aforethought; William Q. Kidd, DWI (second offense); Adam L. Banos, forgery by altering; Herbert Messer, forgery and passing;

Reynaldo Benevides, Jessie Moreno Jr. and Carlos Martinez De Leon, companion case of burglary; John Howard Cooper and Dennis Ray Cummings, companion case of forgery of a credit card; Donald Crane, theft (two counts);

B. J. Elliott, worthless check; M. M. Davis, worthless check; Johnnie Lewis Robinson, assault with intent to murder; I. G. Garcia, murder with a motor vehicle; Bobby L. Compton, Wendell Norland Ray, companion case of forgery and passing;

Harry Stanley, forgery by altering; Pablo Sanchez, Miguel De Los Santos Garcia and Guadalupe Rivera, companion case of robbery; A. L. Harris and Joe Louis Scott, companion case of theft; Virgil Gibson, receiving and concealing stolen property; Pedro Hernandez, possession of narcotics; Terry Yela, forgery and passing; Joe Sanchez and William Henry Hodges, companion case of theft (two counts).

Guilty pleas were set for 10 a.m. on Feb. 11 and a criminal jury session of 106th District Court will be conducted by Judge Truett Smith on Feb. 12.

Girl Scout Council Meets

Eighteen local residents attended the West Texas Girl Scout Council meeting in Sweetwater last week. The 120 members of the council met for dinner in the Newman High School Cafeteria.

Speaker was Henry Norris, Nolan County school superintendent. Norris served as district executive for the Boy Scouts in Nolan, Stonewall and Fisher counties for 15 years.

Included in the business meeting was the election of new board members for 1962-63; Johnnie Ammons, Roby; Mrs. Frank Mitchell, Roby; John Russell, Colorado City; Mrs. Angus Roberts, Lamesa; Wayland Yates, Abilene; Mrs. John Morgan, Sweetwater; Mrs. Fred Stevenson, Sweetwater; and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, Big Spring.

Delegates voted to add three new counties to the council's present jurisdiction of 13. The new counties are Haskell, Stonewall, and Kent.

Those attending the meeting from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Col. and Mrs. D. W. Pendergrast, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Holcombe, Capt. and Mrs. J. M. Gehrig Jr., Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, Mrs. Garland Helton, Mrs. Harold Hamilton, Mrs. R. D. Tindol, Mrs. H. B. Dirks, Mrs. C. M. Wozencraft and Mrs. James Prindahl, all of Big Spring.

Representing Stanton at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Costlow and Mrs. H. P. Morrison.

A New Twist On Boston Banning

BOSTON (AP) — The twist will not be banned in Boston, but promotion of the dance craze as a principal attraction will be banned by the city's three-man liquor licensing board.

Timothy Tobin, a board member, said "We cannot ban the twist, but we do not want places encouraging it, and we will tell them to stop."

Restraining Order Blocking Vealmoor Election Expires

A temporary restraining order, granted on Jan. 18 by Judge Sterling Williams of the 132nd District Court at Gail which blocked a scheduled consolidation election in Vealmoor and Sands School districts, expires Sunday.

John Richard Coffee, attorney for Max Zant, school board member for the Vealmoor district who obtained the injunction, said he has no plans to carry the litigation further.

"Our purpose," he said, "was to prevent the scheduled election on Jan. 20. The temporary restraining order, which Judge Williams issued, achieved that end. There is no reason why we should pursue the matter further."

Meantime, if the advocates of a proposed union of the Vealmoor Common School District with the Sands Independent School District want to go ahead with their plans, they will have to start all over.

In other words, they will have to get a new petition circulated, see that it is signed by the proper number of qualified persons and then present the petition to the county judges of Howard and Dawson Counties for approval.

Two viewpoints exist in the Vealmoor district relative to the school situation. One wants the consolidation with Sands. The other is opposed to consolidation with any district but, if faced with a choice, would prefer that the consolidation be with the Borden County Independent School District.

The real wish of this latter group is to keep things as they are—with the school at Vealmoor continuing as a unit within itself.

Already one election on the proposed consolidation with the Sands district has been held. In that election the proposed union was beaten by three votes. Two days later, after the Nov. 18 election, a new petition asking for a second election was filed and this was scheduled for Jan. 20. Judge Williams' order blocked this election.

Opponents of the election at that time argued that many patrons in the district would be deprived of their right to vote if the election was held on that date because they did not have poll tax receipts which were valid. Now, these spokesmen say, an election after Jan. 31 will permit voters holding current year poll tax receipts to participate.

Meantime, Max Zant, who until Friday was the sole trustee the school had, told the Howard County School Board that there are now 23 boys and girls attending school at Vealmoor. He is a leader of the group which seeks to keep the Vealmoor school at status quo.

On Friday, the county board named Dwain Williams, former member of the board, and Roy Anderson as trustees.

Planning For A Big Party

Someone, apparently with a yen for a big party, entered two places on Lamesa Drive early Friday morning and carried off 15 cases of hot beer, 345 cans and bottles of cold beer, an undetermined amount of frozen vegetables, meat, bread and other food, plus $30 in cash from a register and cash box. An unknown amount of money was taken from three machines.

Police Sgt. J. L. Adams and Patrolman Jimmie Ellison found the back door of the Club Cafe open at 3:20 a.m. Mrs. L. E. Jobe, owner, was called and she found that the deep freeze had been opened and food taken. She could not determine immediately how much was missing. The place was entered by punching a hole in a window and pushing out a propstick.

The same officers found the back door of Zora's Cafe open at 5:14 a.m. Zora Harrison, owner, came to the scene and reported the amount of money taken from the cash register, cash box, and the amount of beer missing. Three machines were broken open and an undetermined amount of money taken from them. Five cases of beer were found outside by officers.

A Devotional For Today

The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms. (Deuteronomy 33:27.)
PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for Thy light amid the darkness; for Thy assurance in the face of doubt, for the struggle that strengthens us in faith and courage. We thank Thee that Thou dost ever extend to us Thy everlasting arms; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Redeemer. Amen.

You Have Only Three Days

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday — these are the only three days remaining in which to secure your right to vote in 1962.

That goes, for any election, whether for school board, college trustees, city commissioners, precinct and county officers, state representatives and other officials on up to and including governor. Nobody knows, but you might vote in a few cases as school consultants, bonds, wet-dry, and assorted other referendums.
The point is that you must have either your poll tax receipt or your exemption certificate in order to cast a ballot. It is amazing that in a particular moment when the exhortation is to reaffirm one's patriotism, only one out of two adults you meet going down the street has bothered to qualify himself or herself as a voter.

If you are one of those who have put this off, awaiting a convenient moment, get down to business first thing Monday. Being qualified to vote is just about one of the most important things you can do as a citizen. Protect your right to vote, then vote as often as the privilege arises.

Best Time Of The Year

We've been through some mighty sippy weather, and there may be more. So our thoughts may be more on overcoats, weatherstripping and protected pipes than on pretty lawns, shade and border plants.
Yet right now is the time to begin to do something about those dreams for an attractive yard next summer.
This is especially the time of the year to be getting in your permanent plants such as trees and shrubs. If you wait until these warm spring days awake the old planter's instincts in you, it may be too late for best results.
Now also is an excellent time to plan for your flowers and to haul in fill dirt, top soil and fertilizer.

Steps now not only will yield better results, but they may help you to establish a vigor in your plants that will be less costly in the summer.

Don't overplant, particularly on your permanent items, for they have a way of growing and crowding if one does not allow for natural enlargement: yet on the other hand don't sit too comfortably in that easy chair when the best time of the landscaping year is at hand.

Economic Report No Help To Business

WASHINGTON — The last thing the Kennedy administration would really wish to do is to encourage inflation and a drop in the purchasing power of the dollar. The administration nevertheless is, in effect, telling labor unions that they can demand the benefits of the savings made by machinery not only in their own industry but in other industries as well.

TO NOTE THIS surprising trend takes a careful reading of the "fine print" in the report of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, to which Mr. Kennedy gave his blessing when he commended it in a message to Congress last week. Basically, there is in it the mistaken belief that the economy can be managed by an application of doctrines and theories at variance with actual experience. Discussing collective bargaining and the setting of prices, the report says:

"The guideposts suggested here as aids to public understanding are not concerned primarily with the relation of employers and employees to each other, but rather with their joint relation to the rest of the economy . . .

"PRODUCTIVITY is a guide rather than a rule for appraising wage and price behavior for several different reasons."

Unfortunately, the difference between a "guide" and a "rule" vanishes when dogmatic statements about wage and price behavior are given the implied, if not explicit, approval of the White House. For, disregarding almost immediately their own broad approach, the economic advisers go on to state some rather definite principles as follows:
"It is desirable that labor and management should bargain explicitly about the distribution of the income of particular firms or industries. It is, however, undesirable that they should bargain implicitly about the general price level.

"EXCESSIVE WAGE settlements which are paid for through price increases in major industries put direct pressure on the general price level and produce spillover and imitative effects throughout the economy. Such settlements may fail to redistribute income within the industry involved; rather they redistribute income between that industry and other segments of the economy through the mechanism of inflation."

This appears to be a statement of what does happen as a consequence of labor demands, but the President's Council of Economic Advisers on the very next page of their report negate most of what they have advised. They introduce a contradictory definition which the labor unions will find stimulating. It is right down their alley, and reads as follows:

"THE GENERAL GUIDE for noninflationary wage behavior is that the rate of increase in wage rates — including fringe benefits—in each industry be equal to the trend rate of over-all productivity increase. General acceptance of this guide would maintain stability of labor cost per unit of output for the economy as a whole—though not of course for individual industries."

The New York "Herald Tribune" in an editorial exposes the economic fallacy of this "general guide" as follows:

"IF THE AVERAGE annual gain in productivity per man hour throughout the economy were to be taken as 3 per cent, then a 3 per cent annual hike in wages for each 'industry' would be in order. For some industries this would represent a rise greater than productivity. For others less, but on balance the average of unit labor costs would remain constant. What the Council leaves out of its equations is the motive force behind the advances in productivity. These advances don't just happen by themselves. They have to be made to happen. And they are not made to happen by the hourly wage earners, who more likely will have fought them tooth and nail as threats to job security. They depend on the vision, skills and daring of technicians and entrepreneurs, backed by the willingness of investors to gamble the needed capital.

"WHAT MOBILIZES these forces is the hope of cutting unit labor costs, and thus either increasing profits directly or making the product more competitive by lowering its price . . .

"It's not the man who is becoming more productive but the machine on which he works."
Yet the President's Council of Economic Advisers evidently thinks that to give to labor virtually all the savings of the added productivity need not be "inflationary" nor "disruptive of overall price stability." But is management expected to receive nothing additional in return for the money it has invested for labor-saving equipment? Evidently, it is to be discouraged from raising its prices to get an added income. Thus, the report reaches this conclusion:

"BUT WHEN A disagreement between management and labor is resolved by passing the bill to the rest of the economy, the bill is paid in depreciated currency to the ultimate advantage of no one."

The net of it is that in cases where labor gets in wages more than the benefits of the increased productivity—as it so often demands and brings on a strike to achieve—it would appear to be all right to increase prices. But management, due to competitive conditions, often finds itself unable to raise prices. So presumably it should not pass on to the public the added labor cost and must instead face a reduction in profits and cut or omit dividends. That's hardly the way to run a successful business. As for unions, it's a green light for increased wage demands. It will hardly discourage big strikes and especially the threatened strike in the steel industry this summer.

Judge's Story

BUFFALO, N. Y. — State Supreme Court Justice Alfred M. Kramer likes to tell about the swearing in ceremonies for Mayor Bernard J. Dowd on New Year's Day 1946.
Justice Kramer, then secretary to Mayor Dowd, said the mayor arrived for the ceremonies and was over-awed by the large number of floral offerings in the office.
Turning to Kramer, the mayor cracked: "Al, you take the oath while I water the flowers."

Defalcations May Be A Barometer, Too

Now all the major documents are in — the President's State-of-the-Union message, the Budget, and the Economic Report. They all add up to confidence in continued prosperity. "The prospect for 1962," says the President's Council of Economic Advisers, "is a continuation of the favorable trend of 1961."

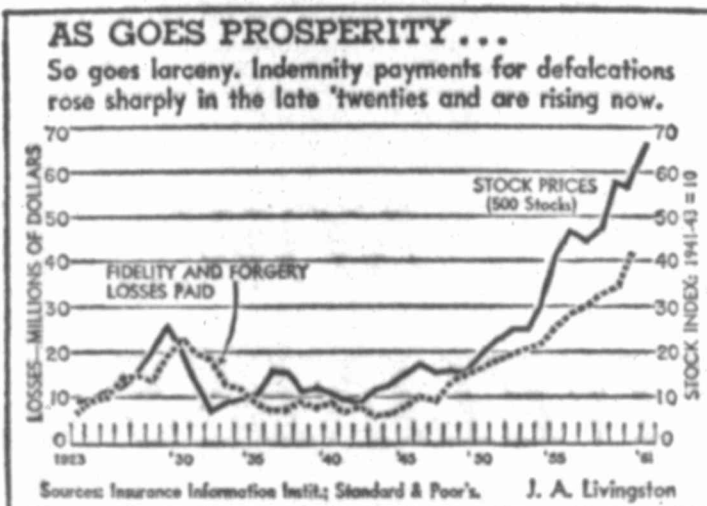

Sole uncertainty: Will the expansion be sufficiently broad and deep to "carry the economy to maximum employment, production, and purchasing power," and thus fulfill the mandate of the Employment Act of 1946?

For a son, daughter, nephew, or niece majoring in college economics, the Council's Report makes an excellent mid-semester presentation. It is a 200-page, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. And it won't do the youngsters' professors any harm, either.

It's a New Frontier document: "Even at record levels, national production had not yet reached its potential at full employment; and the purchasing power of the American people — the command over goods and services represented by their incomes—was still too low."

EISENHOWER VS. KENNEDY
President Kennedy's campaign theme—to get the country moving—was between all lines. Such economic partisanship is to be expected. If a President's Economic Advisers are articulate, as are Walter W. Heller, Kermit Gordon, and James Tobin, the document will effectively present the Presidential viewpoint—as this does.

During the term of President Eisenhower, Economic Reports were less exhortative. Both Raymond J. Saulnier and Arthur F. Burns, as Council chairman, emphasized "reliance on private enterprise and on the incentives and opportunities which such a system supplies for the development and use of individual plants and enterprises."
Heller, on the other hand, is all for giving the economy a governmental shove at every opportunity and almost every place in which slack occurs.
Yet, the ultimate purpose—of Presidents and Councils—is the same: Greater production, greater employment, and greater growth. The reports differentiate the philosophical biases of the Council members and the Presidents they serve, and the manner in which each President is prepared to use his vast power to influence the course of the economy.

SET THE PATTERN
The pattern for the reports was set by Edwin G. Nourse, first chairman of the Council, under President Truman, and his fellow Council members, Leon Keyserling and John D. Clark.

The first report, issued in 1947, was only 54 pages, of which 12 were statistical. But it set a high standard. The latest volume contains almost 100 pages of tables—it is the finest statistical summary of what makes the economy run.

Kennedy's interest in economic problems, no doubt, accounts for the high quality of the Report—even in its verbiage has an Alice-in-Wonderland intricacy. The President loves this fusty stuff—when he can break away from Berlin, Cuba, Laos, and the Congo.

In contrast, Truman was an action man, a politician. He didn't concern himself with economic minutiae. In his book, "Economics in the Public Service," Nourse says Truman turned over the first draft of the first report submitted to him to the members of his "Little Cabinet" for reading and reworking. President Eisenhower was inclined to leave the deep thinking to Burns and Saulnier, though he was an attentive listener.

CRIME AND PROSPERITY
Meanwhile, January hasn't lived up to the bumper promises of the Report. Department store sales in the first weeks of the New Year were slow—under sales of a year ago; automobile sales, while up, were not up dramatically, aside from General Motors. And the stock market has been expressing swayed questions about cholesterol, and cholesterol of course is a form of fat, how is it that rabbits, which don't eat meat or fat, produce cholesterol in THEIR furry little bodies from eating "rabbit food?" But they do!

I've spent a great many hours reading up on all the new reports of cholesterol studies. I have no doubt that we are on our way to some new knowledge on another way to stay healthy.

But we haven't yet arrived. Maybe next month or next year somebody will dig out the further facts that Nature has so far hid from us.

Meantime you want to know, of course, what to do on the basis of what we have found out to date.

First, we can't avoid cholesterol — nor should we want to — even by eating "rabbit food." The body makes its own cholesterol from many sources, chief of which is solid fat.
Second, this isn't something that can be influenced overnight, or in a few days, by diet. Years? Perhaps.
Third: The one thing we can do is to avoid overloading our systems with too much fat — especially animal fat. Eggs have cholesterol in them, but I strongly doubt if they are harmful. I

Around The Rim Why Not Try For A Better Job?

When does a job get to be perfect? It must be a common dream, to find the perfect place to work; money, hours, surroundings, boss, all that sort of thing.
I'm sure those New York electricians have their problems, but it just seems at first blush that a 25-hour work week would be something to shoot for.

HOWEVER, there must be better types of employment than that. I just got to thinking, what if there were the position that could offer such things as:

Reporting to work at 10 a.m., give or take a quarter hour or so; with a 45 minute coffee break to come at the worker's convenience. Lunch period starts at 11:30, and two hours are provided for this. If the employee finds it inconvenient to go home, employer would provide a de luxe luncheon. The work day would end at 3:30, perhaps a bit earlier in the winter season when it gets dark early.

WEEKENDS would extend from Thursday until Tuesday.

It would be the obligation of the employer to provide such free employee accommodations as (1) lake with cabin, fishing, boating, skiing, etc. (2) bowling lanes; (3) golf courses; (4) stables; (5) hunting preserves; (6) suitable club accommodations for card games, dancing and social gatherings; (7) whatever other facilities that the employees' committee might want to suggest.

THE PAY TIME would start at the moment the employee gets out of bed in the morning, and continue until he went to bed that night. The term for this is comfort to comfort, rather than portal to portal.

Transportation to and from work: It would be the obligation of the employer to provide Cadillac limousines for the worker, having the vehicle, with chauffeur, four, available at the employee's convenience. Car to be well heated in winter, air-conditioned in summer. If, in emergency, a Continental has to be substituted for a Cadillac, the employee would have the right to take the matter to the grievance committee.

VACATIONS would start at three months, then increase to four, any time at the employee's option. This time would be, of course, at triple pay.

Three days off would be granted for all legal holidays; and the employee would have a week off to celebrate his birthday, the pay for this week to be in multiples of his age; for instance, if he is 27, he draws 27 times his regular wage for the week. This is an incentive to keep him on the job until next year.

Complete hospitalization, medical care, drug bills, dentist fees—all these to be paid in full by the employer. If anything occurs that can happen to a human body that has never happened before, the benefits cover that, too.

EMPLOYEE would have the option of retiring at any time after the age of 45, or after having served five years on the job. Pensions would be equal to four times the annual pay. The pay, incidentally, has an escalator clause that calls for it to double each six months.

Employer would never be permitted to issue instructions or orders; he could only make suggestions, in a courteous manner. Employee has the right to tell any customer to go jump in the lake. Matter of fact, can tell the boss to do the same thing.

WELL, AFTER ALL, it's a dream job. My fate is that just as I went to snatch it, I would find that it had just been filled. Only thing I could do then would be to holler for a shorter work week, so the job could be shared.—BOB WHIPKEY

The Gallup Poll Kennedy's Popularity Stays High

PRINCETON, N. J.—President Kennedy has completed one year in office enjoying a higher rating with his fellow Americans than did Presidents Eisenhower, Truman, or Roosevelt after their first 12 months in the White House.

The first anniversary of Kennedy's inauguration—following one of the closest elections in U.S. history—finds 77 per cent of the public approving of the way he is handling his job as President.

THROUGHOUT the year, the President's Gallup Poll popularity rating has not dipped below the 70 per cent line. On the average, three out of four persons interviewed across the nation gave him a vote of confidence.

Since last January, Gallup Poll reporters have regularly kept a watch on Kennedy's standing with the people by asking this question of representative samples of the adult population:

"DO YOU APPROVE or disapprove of the way Kennedy is handling his job as President?"

The latest rating:

KENNEDY POPULARITY
	Per cent
Approve	77
Disapprove	11
No opinion	12
One year after he took office—following an election victory of landslide proportions —former President Eisenhower, in January, 1954, received a vote of confidence of 71 per cent of the public for his handling of his job.

FORMER President Truman's first anniversary in office—he took over in April, 1945 following the death of Roosevelt—found his popularity index right at the 50 per cent line.

Despite his razor-thin victory over former Vice President Nixon, Kennedy's initial actions while President-elect found favor with the public. On the eve of his inauguration last January, 69 per cent of voters said they approved of the way he had dealt with the problems he had faced since his election.
During his first few months in office, Kennedy's popularity trended upward to a score of 78 per cent in early April.

IN THE AFTERMATH of the ill-fated Cuban invasion that month—with the public rallying in support of the President—Kennedy hit his "high point" in popularity thus far with 83 per cent approving. This surpassed Eisenhower's high point of 79 per cent, and approximated Roosevelt's "high" of 84 per cent after Pearl Harbor, and Truman's 87 per cent shortly after F.D.R.'s death.
The President's present popularity is broadly based; he enjoys a high rating throughout most segments of the population and in all major regions of the country.
As of now, for example, nearly six out of 10 GOP voters say they approve of the way he is handling his job. Among the rank-and-file of his own Democratic party, nearly nine out of ten gave him a vote of confidence.

WASHINGTON — Each day that passes sees President Kennedy nearer to the decision that overshadows all others — whether or not to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.
With realization of what this can mean in another round of the nuclear arms race, public interest has been increasing. The most potent pressure on the President to start a new test series comes from Capitol Hill and members of House and Senate who feel that this is the only way to insure that the United States will keep ahead of the Soviet Union.

THE ARGUMENT is a familiar one and it has its base in past controversy and, in particular, the dispute that was finally resolved with President Truman's decision to proceed with the hydrogen bomb. But it also reflects a vested interest in the vast scientific-military-industrial apparatus committed to nuclear weaponry. Jobs and payrolls are involved in an economy that over-all owes a lot to the $50 billion and up spent on armaments.

The position has its base in the organized peace movement. That movement has been broadened recently with affiliated groups including several large trade unions. The objective is to lay down a barrage of telegrams on the White House and on the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee where much of the active pressure for more tests originates.

BUT BECAUSE this is obviously an organized effort it tends to be discounted. Charged with a deep emotionalism, as President Kennedy noted in his comment on the women picketers for peace, the movement is a reflection of a widespread fear of nuclear war. Yet, to those confronted with the far-reaching significance of the decision it must at times seem irrelevant to the facts of nuclear armament on both sides of the East-West divide.
Those within the administration, and numerically they are in a minority, arguing for a delay in the decision feel that the President is looking for an opening justifying a postponement. This could take several forms. One would be an agreement by the Soviet Union to ban atmospheric testing. With the present highly effective monitoring system any violation would be immediately detected.
BUT THE PRESIDENT would continue to be subjected to the same kind of pres-

Valentine Semi-Formal Set For Feb. 9 At Goliad

By ROXANNE BOLTE
There will be many visitors in San Angelo Feb. 22, 23 and 24, for the Teen-Age Library Association state convention which is to be held there. Between seven and eight hundred teen-agers are expected to be present, with at least one sponsor to every four or five teen-age librarians. Each school will be limited to four delegates, no matter what size the school may be. Delegates from Goliad have not been announced yet. Headquarters for the convention will be in the Cactus Hotel and the San Angelo Central High School. Registration will take place Feb. 22. That evening there will be an executive board meeting. On Feb. 23, there will be an officers' and delegates' workshop, a tea, and a dinner, followed by a play, "Charley's Aunt," to be given at the San Angelo College. On Feb. 24 there will be a breakfast and a business meeting at Central High School.

Goliad's first big dance of the year, the annual Valentine semi-formal, will be held Feb. 9 in the Goliad gym. Only students of Goliad will be permitted to attend. Tickets will be 50 cents, stag or drag, and they may be purchased in the home rooms. The grade that raises the most money for its nominee by 4 p.m. the afternoon of the dance will have its candidate crowned queen that night. Each grade will be allowed two special days to raise money for its candidate. The dance is a student council sponsored activity.

The eighth grade class party is to be held Friday, Feb. 2. All you Goliad eighth graders be sure to attend the Sadie Hawkins festivities. Mammy Yeakum and another of the Dogpatch characters extended the invitation Friday morning over the public address system to all class members.

Goliad wishes to welcome three new members to its staff this semester: New teachers are Mrs. Doris Huihregtse, ninth grade typing; Mac Robinson, eighth grade English; and Don Everette, seventh grade science. Everyone who enjoys music should attend the band concert at the City Auditorium, Jan. 30, at 7:30 p.m. The bands playing will be Runnels, Goliad, and Big Spring High School, in that order. Tickets are 50 cents for students and one dollar for adults. The proceeds will be used to help pay the expenses of the high school band's trip to the World's Fair at Seattle, Wash., in May. Present at the concert will be one of the nation's outstanding baritone players, Mr. Harold Brasch. After the concert, Bill Jones, Goliad band director, Douglas Wiehe, high school director, and Joe Burchfiel, Runnels, will go to Dallas for the all-state music meet.

Goliad really came out on top last week in the Andrews' Junior High School Basketball Tournament held there last weekend. In the finals Goliad defeated the home team 44-42. High scorers for Goliad were James Foster, 24 points, and Don White, 21 points. Monday evening Goliad Freshmen defeated Runnels 57-31, in the high school gym. Eighth graders were defeated 41-22 and the seventh graders 33-16. The home economics girls met Friday for their regular meeting.

Committees Appointed For Junior-Senior Prom

By MARIYUN GUM
Report cards were issued Wednesday at BSHS. The second semester also began this week. Students are urged by faculty members and administrators to study even harder this semester than before to bring up low grades.

Last weekend speech students journeyed to Midland for a speech tournament to capture seven final positions in the individual events. Barbara Thompson and Susan Gibbs entered in Girls' Persuasive Speaking. Entering Boys' Persuasive Speaking was Jay Hatch. Mike Butler competed in Boys' Poetry, while Linda Morton placed first in Girls' Extemporaneous Speaking and captured the second place in Prose Reading. On Feb. 16 and 17, the speech department will enter a tournament to be held in Abilene on the Hardin-Simmons University campus. Speech students plan to enter individual speaking events as well as entering debates against some of the large high schools in Texas and Oklahoma.

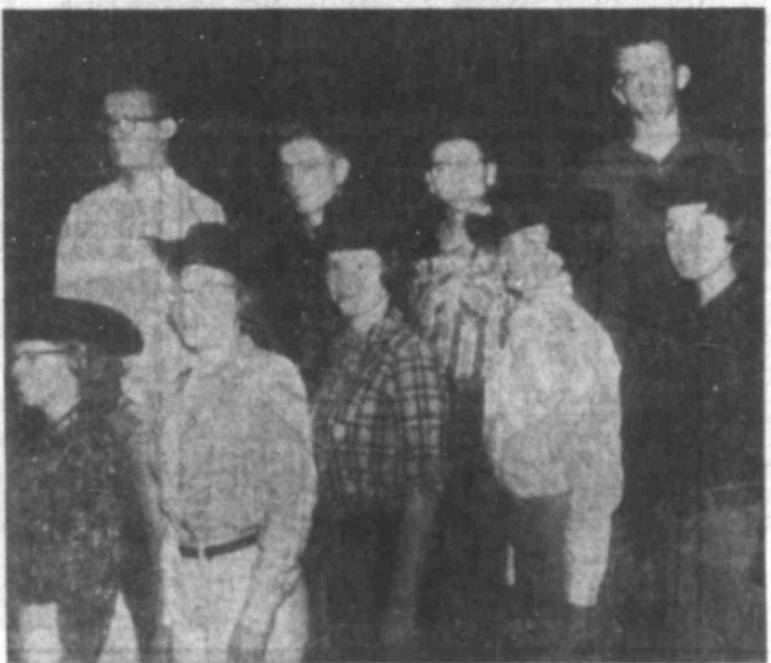

The Twirp Week dance will be held in the BSHS gym on Saturday, Feb. 3. The dance will conclude the activities of the annual Twirp Week in which the girls have the opportunity to ask their favorite beau for a date. The Twirp Week dance is scheduled to be held from 9 to 12 p.m. Records will be furnished as music for the dance. Admission to this activity will be $1.00 stag or drag, plus an activity card.

Committees selected for the junior class at a class meeting last week are: The Ways and Means Committee - chairman, Kandy Hensley, Brenda Cowper, Alice Coker, Cynthia Vaughn, Carol Odum, Ronnie Crowover, Tommy Gentry, Bill Horton, Jeff Brown, Robert Wade, Donald Bradford, and Jerry Bethell.

The Activity committee: chairman, Margaret Gary, Dean Terrazas, Beverly Riordan, Beverly Dobbins, Sara Homan, Joyce Davidson, Gary Bradbury, Bennett Brooke, Daria Moore, Dale Bulrough, Terry Macklin, Lindsay Hall, Don White.

Garden City Favorites

Runnels Wins Two Out Of Three From Goliad

By CANDY RACUS
Last Monday night's games with the Goliad Mavericks were a big success. The undefeated seventh grade team stomped Goliad once again, 33-16. The eighth graders, also undefeated, won again, 41 - 33. Congratulations, boys!

The freshmen were defeated, 57-31. The highlight of the games was when Peggy Spier, freshman, was crowned basketball queen by Mr. Roscoe Newell. She was escorted by Jerry Power. Congratulations, Peggy.

Nominees were Sherry Stevens, escorted by Howard Bain, and Andria Askins, escorted by Johnny Hughes. The volleyball season is coming up next. The girls will play their first game with Goliad Feb. 6. They also play Goliad Feb. 9 and 19. The winner of two out of three games gets to enter in the high school tournament. Good luck, girls!

Runnels has a new PE teacher, Mrs. Jane Dotson. She graduated with a bachelor's degree from Texas Tech and went back this last summer to get her master's degree in education. We're glad to have you, Mrs. Dotson!

Students will present their research papers at the Science Congress scheduled at Andrews on Feb. 17. The students will be judged on the type of experiment and on the preparation. Only students from the ninth grade to the twelfth grade are eligible to enter. The Biology students held a business meeting Jan. 23. The next meeting will be on Feb. 13. Guest speaker will be Dr. Augustin Torres, Chief of Laboratory Service, Veterans Hospital. Dr. Torres, who is certified by the American Board of Pathology, is a most interesting speaker. Be sure not to miss it!

Don't forget to buy your ticket to the band concert, Jan. 30. The Runnels Band will be first on the program followed by Goliad and the BSHS Band. By buying a ticket, you will be helping the senior high band to attend the World's Fair in Seattle and also to help buy Runnels' new uniforms.

HC Play Cast Is Announced

By LYN CLAWSON
The Jayhawks have added two wins to their record. They defeated New Mexico Military Institute 74 to 69 and Odessa Junior College by a score of 82 to 69. They again play on their home court Tuesday when they meet Amarillo.

Casting for the contest play, "Suppressed Desires," by Susan Glaspell, was completed last week. Names to be cast were Kay Crowover as Henrietta Brewster, Gary Pickle as Stephen Brewster and Lazette Yearby as Mable. The first practice is scheduled for tomorrow evening. The play is to be presented April 8 and 9 in Gainesville. Martin Landers, speech teacher, said that he also plans to put it on before several of the area high schools free of charge before that time.

The debate team members, Johnny Cone and Steve Blair, will participate in the Baylor University Annual Debate Tournament Feb. 1 and 2. They will leave Thursday and return Sunday. Martin Landers will accompany the boys as a sponsor. During the activity period next Wednesday, a very important meeting of Phi Theta Kappa will be held. Doug Davis, president, has asked that all members be present to consider the new candidates for the honor club. At the present time a faculty committee is reviewing those who qualified scholastically to be admitted. Initiation will be scheduled in the very near future.

The election for Mr. Jayhawk is to be Wednesday between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the SUB. This re-election was called because there was an error on the ballot in the last election. Running are Elvis Spradling, Gary Pickle, Jerry Tillman and Conroy Lacy.

Sands Basket GCHS Teams Beat GCHS

By GLYNDA FLEMING
SANDS - Sands "A" boys and girls teams were entered in the GCHS tournament last weekend. The girls lost their game in the consolation finals by two points to Flower Grove. The boys won second place after losing to Loop in the finals. Linda Bristow, a senior, placed on the all-tournament team for the girls. Eugene Coleman, also a senior, made the boys all-tournament. Congratulations to both of you!

"Sergeant York" was the latest film presented by the student council. These films have all been well attended by the student body. The next film will be "Macbeth" and will be shown on Feb. 7. Our basketball teams played host to Garden City last Tuesday night. Both girls and boys teams won. This ended the first round of conference play for Sands, leaving both girls and boys with a 3-1 record in conference. The boys have lost one game to Sterling City; the girls lost one game to Forsan. The most attractive girl and boy were selected for the annual this week. The winners were Lana Chapman and Bob Smith, both seniors.

CHS Junior Play In Great Success

By CAROLYN WILSON
COAHOMA - The Junior play, "The Nervous Wreck," which was held Friday night was a great success. The cast was as follows: Mrs. Higgins portrayed by Patsy Edens; Cynthia-Higgins by Jon Ellen Ford; Eddie Higgins by Tommy Grant; Alice Higgins by Linda Roberts; Ivan Petroff by Paul Camp; Madame X by Pat Hughes; Althea Coldwater by Ronnie Cunningham; Gladys Burr by Linda Morrow; J. M. Burr by Stanley Haney; Jimmy Washburn by Maurice Cutright; Ralph Wilson by Gene Howell; Tildy Mae Jenkins by Geraldine Gaines.

Make-up work was done by Carol Gibson; sound effects were provided by Buddy Anderson and Steve Dick. Advertising of the play was done by Judy Echols and Peggy Greenfield; these girls also were the ticket salesmen. Lighting was provided through the assistance of Bill Turner. These students should be congratulated on their fine job of portraying each of these characters as well as the fine work done by the students off stage. Miss Jan Tucker and Mr. P. A. Wynn also are to be commended for their excellent assistance and work with the Juniors for the play.

Last Monday Mr. R. A. Foster and a number of the FFA boys attended the Abilene Fat Stock Show. They left Monday and returned Tuesday. Coahoma's pen of 15 FFA lambs won third place in this divisional competition. Among those placing were Mark Barr and Maxwell Barr, showing steers. Jerry and Eloise Webb showed lambs. Dan Shelburne placed fifth in the Lightweight Crossbred division; Joe Anderson came in second and Vernon Long placed tenth in the division of Intermediate Mutton. Charlotte Mann won tenth in the Mutton Breed division.

Two School Days At FHS

By BONNIE SIMPSON
FORSAN - Forsan pupils were lucky this week and only had two days of school. School was not held Monday and Tuesday because there was no electricity and pupils were dismissed Friday because the teachers had an In-Service Training meeting.

The junior and senior English classes are beginning work on research themes. The seniors are to report on some famous man while the juniors must report on their future vocations. These research themes must include a personal interview with someone who works in their chosen vocation. If any of you businessmen are bothered by an unhappy looking junior, please have pity on him and give him a little help.

Wednesday, at 12:30 p.m. a student council meeting was held to hand out the Community Birthday Calendars which had arrived. Anyone who bought one can be expected a student council member to deliver his in the next few days. (If you didn't buy one, you should have!)

The junior class held a meeting to discuss the Junior-Senior banquet Wednesday. Committees were set up and a place and date were decided upon. A theme has not been decided upon, but it is to be secret until the night of the banquet.

Tuesday, Forsan was host to Sterling City for the fourth conference game of the season. Forsan girls came out on top while the boys got the short end of the deal. Friday, Water Valley came to Forsan for the fifth conference game.

West And Etchison Win Free Records

Bessie West, Coahoma sophomore, is this week's winner of the free record to be given away through the Megaphone. Taylor Etchison, a freshman from Garden City, wins the January bonus record. The winners may pick up a certificate at the Herald and take it to the Record Shop to receive a record. In addition to a free 45-rpm to be given away each week, Oscar Glickman, owner of the Record Shop, will offer a long-playing record as a bonus once a month.

Shy Bachelors, Predatory Females Mix Comedy Menu

An eye-filling array of young beauties lends support to the hilarious misadventures of Tuesday Weld, Richard Beymer, Terry-Thomas and Celeste Holm in the 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Color comedy-romance "Bachelor Flat," starting today at the Ritz Theatre.

This light-hearted boy-meets-girl introduces to American audiences England's top comedian, Terry-Thomas, as a "stiff upper lip" British professor of archaeology teaching in an American college. All the wit, charm and farcical humor that have made his name box-office magic across Britain are here in a situation comedy created for this kind of talent.

Tuesday Weld, who most recently appeared in "Return to Peyton Place" and opposite Elvis Presley in "Wild in the Country," receives star billing with pros Terry-Thomas and Celeste Holm. Starting with the premise that Thomas, the object of the affections of every co-ed on campus, has decided to wed fashion designer Miss Holm, the story quickly and happily brings into focus Tuesday Weld, as the mischievous teen-age daughter of Miss Holm, Tuesday, posing as a juvenile delinquent, attempts to win the professor, but only upsets his simple way of life and drives him to the point of madness. Richard Beymer, last seen with Miss Weld in 20th Century Fox's "High Time," is a cynical law student, who reproaches Tuesday far her behavior, but finds himself melting under her charms.

Miss Holm, making a return to the screen after many successful years on the Broadway stage, is the perfect foil for the sophisted Thomas. The antics of Weld and Beymer, especially in a fishing sequence where Tuesday gave the manly Richard and revives him with mouth-to-mouth respiration, should gratify teen-agers as well as the young in heart of all ages.

"Bachelor Flat" offers a cast of glamorous newcomers and adult favorites, in addition to a special scene-stealer in the person of a dachshund named Jessica.

Director Frank Tashlin has fashioned a light and lively screenplay from the Bud Grossman play, "Libby." Jack Cummings produced.

Fanny

Charles Boyer comes to the aid of a stricken Fanny (Leslie Carson) in the heart-tugging Gallic movie which has earned the plaudits of critics and tasteful audiences alike. "Fanny" will return to the Jet Drive-In Theatre today. Maurice Chevalier co-stars.

Blue Hawaii

Elvis Presley serenades his co-star, Joan Blackman, in this scene from "Blue Hawaii." tale of a young Island promoter (also singer, of sorts) who is chased by all the young femmes who come to the noted new state and to the jet set for their health. The show returns Wednesday to the Jet Drive-In Theatre.

SINGING ROLE

Teddy Randazzo is a singer, a nightclub entertainer, a prolific songwriter and a musical arranger. In "Hey, Let's Twist!" Randazzo portrays an important singing role.

Top British Comedian In U. S. Debut

British comic import Terry-Thomas was first discovered by an American producer in 1939 while impersonating Al Jolson in a London Vaudeville troupe. On a trip to the United States in 1960, he was elated to find seven of his films playing simultaneously in New York.

The man with the famous gap between his teeth now crosses the English Channel to make his American screen debut in "Bachelor Flat."

The "Mr. Comedy" of Great Britain has had four separate film careers. He began as an extra, graduated to bit player, developed into a character actor, and now holds his own with top names on the British screen.

"Bachelor Flat" presents him as respectable, clean living Professor Bruce Patterson, whose British charm causes him to be pursued by the entire female population of an American College. News of his impending marriage to fashion designer Celeste Holm enrages the co-eds to the point of picketing his Malibu beach house, dressed in black bathing suits.

Thomas attempts to concentrate on his prize archaeological finding (an eight foot dinosaur bone) are hampered by an over-zealous neighbor, Roxanne Arlen, and by Tuesday Weld, his fiancée's teen-age daughter by a previous marriage, who comes home from school to woo her future father. His predicament can be described as "sticky wicket."

American audiences will recall Terry-Thomas in "Make Mine Mink," "Tom Thumb," "School For Scoundrels" and "The Green Man." He starred opposite Peter Sellers in "I'm All Right Jack," "Man In A Cocked Hat," and "Your Past Is Showing."

He has written all his own stage and cabaret material, and most of the songs in the LP recording "Strictly Terry-Thomas," which will shortly be released in the United States.

Peppermint Lounge Story Told In 'Hey, Let's Twist!'

Beginning Thursday the Ritz Theatre will have on its screen the story of how, almost overnight, New York's now-famous Peppermint Lounge came to be the newest, wildest dance rendezvous of society, the intelligentsia and the columnists.

It's all told in "Hey, Let's Twist!" and told with the same headlines who perform nightly at the Lounge—Joey Dee and the Starlighters, and the twisting Peppermint Loungers. In addition, there is a supporting cast which includes pert and pretty Jo-Ann Campbell, recording star, who has appeared in many top TV shows; nightclub entertainer Teddy Randazzo; Zohra Lampert, currently featured in "Splendor in the Grass"; Kay Arden and stage star Dino di Luca.

"Hey, Let's Twist!" was actually filmed at the Lounge which has earned for itself apt description "The Temple of the Twist."

The Lounge is a small place off Broadway on West 45th Street and it is filled nightly to capacity, with people waiting outside clamoring for admission. Society folk mingle with teen-agers, trying to out-dance them; many people just come to watch and many return home frustrated because they were among those who couldn't get into the Lounge.

Now, with Paramount's release of "Hey, Let's Twist!" everybody who wants to get inside the Lounge will be able to do so simply by seeing the picture.

But "Hey, Let's Twist!" is more than a camera's-eye-view of the famous Peppermint Lounge. It is a story of a father trying to put his sons through college on the non-existent profits of a small Italian restaurant near Broadway, and it tells how the boys not only turn the place into the money-making Peppermint Lounge but find romance as well.

"Hey, Let's Twist!" has six numbers featuring the twist, played and sung by Joey Dee and the Starlighters, and danced by the Peppermint Loungers. It was produced by Harry Romm and directed by Greg Garrison from an original screenplay by Hal Hack-ady.

Jazzman Loses Girl's Custody

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jazzman Pete Candoli, husband of actress Betty Hutton, lost physical custody of his 7-year-old daughter by a former wife.

A Superior Court judge awarded physical custody of Tara Claire Candoli to her mother, Vicki Lane, after the mother claimed Candoli and Miss Hutton left the child in care of servants while out of town on show engagements.

Candoli and Miss Hutton won custody of the girl in an earlier decision. Candoli was granted joint legal custody and reasonable visitation rights. He will pay $150 monthly child support.

The parents were divorced in August, 1958.

Fibber To Wed Comedian's Widow

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jim (Fibber) McGee Jordan, 64, and Gretchen Stewart, 32, reports that they plan to be married in Honolulu Feb. 1.

She is the widow of comedian Yogi Yorgesson.

The couple met while vacationing in Hawaii last summer. Jordan's wife, Marian, who was Molly on the air, died last April 7 of cancer. Yorgesson was killed in an auto accident May 20, 1956. Jordan and his bride plan to tour the Orient on their honeymoon.

World Dancer

Jo-Ann Campbell, who plays the love interest opposite Joey Dee in "Hey, Let's Twist!," has literally sung and danced her way around the world. She appeared in Italy, Germany, Turkey, Greece, Manila, Hawaii and Australia. In Sydney and Melbourne she was part of a group that included Bobby Darin, Jimmy Clanton and George Hamilton. She now records for ABC-Paramount Records.

Kazan Protege

Zohra Lampert, who portrays a society columnist in "Hey, Let's Twist!," is under personal contract to director Elia Kazan as a result of her brilliant role in "Splendor in the Grass." A native New Yorker, Miss Lampert hopes to be able to divide her professional time fairly equal in the theatre, films and television. She speaks French as fluently as English and paints well enough to have two Madison Avenue galleries bidding for her work.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

To commemorate the Lagos meeting of the leaders of Africa and Malagasy governments this month, Nigeria has issued a new set of five stamps. The meeting, part of a series between government chiefs, seeks to insure political, economical, cultural and scientific cooperation among the states involved.

Featured on the new stamps are the following themes: cooperation in the field of medicine and public health, cultural cooperation, commerce, international cooperation via communications, overall cooperation between the independent African and Malagasy States.

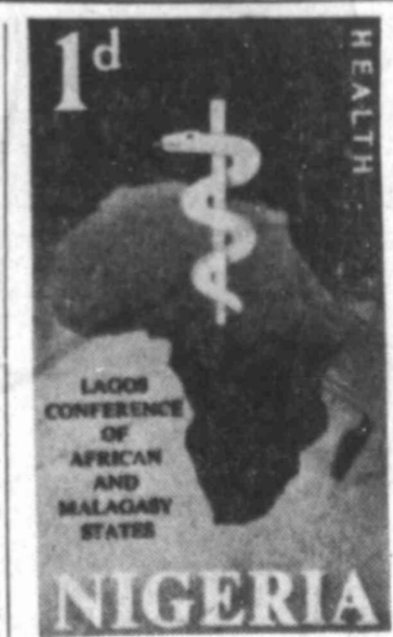

An attractive new air mail stamp has been issued by Israel depicting the Bay of Eilat. The new 3 pound stamp is part of the present series introduced in 1960, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

Designed by Miss Friedel Stern, who also created the nine preceding values, the new horizontal issue is the largest size stamp in the series. Featured is a sweeping panorama of the Bay of Eilat with the town to the left. A palm tree shades the area while a ship approaches the harbor and an airplane flies overhead.

For collectors who specialize in the stamps of Russia a new album has just been released in the "World Series" line by Minkus Publications.

The contents of this new album, developed after extensive research, includes spaces for the early Russian Empire stamps, Provisional Government, Russian Socialist Federal Soviet Republic and 174 pages on the U. S. S. R. Also included are spaces for Livonia, Russia Civil War, Russia Post Offices Abroad in China, Crete, the Levant, Armenia, Ukraine, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Transcaucasian SFSR and the Western Ukraine.

Tunisia has issued a new definitive stamp honoring the ancient "winders" craftsmen whose artisan activities are still being carried on in Tunisia today. The new stamp depicts a "winder" at work. In earlier days "winders" produced by hand such articles as combs, rosary beads, cigarette cases and fan-shaped pipes. The equipment used consists of a wheel in a flint-lock.

The Netherlands reports two new stamps being issued in January to commemorate the 29th wedding anniversary of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard. The 12 centimes red and the 30 centimes show side view portraits of the royal couple at the right. In the upper left are the dates 1937-1962.

VENA LAWSON

Vena Lawson Enters Name For Re-Election

GARDEN CITY — Vena Lawson announced Saturday that she is a candidate for re-election as county and district clerk for Glasscock County.

Mrs. Lawson is a long-time resident of Glasscock County and worked in the office prior to the time she was first elected. "I would like to continue to serve as county and district clerk," she said, "and I feel that my experience has contributed to an efficient handling of the duties and responsibilities of this important office, and in a manner which citizens have right to expect."

"I am proud of my record of service, made possible by the voters in previous years. I am grateful to the people of Glasscock County for the many kindnesses and courtesies in the past and for confidence in entrusting me with the office. My pledge is to try to continue the very best service possible, and to this end I earnestly seek your loyalty and support. I will do my best to justify your faith."

Robby Stevens Is New Den 4 Member

"Parade of Presidents", the February theme for Cub Scouting, was the program for members of Den 4, Pack 63, when they met in the home of Mrs. Gilbert Grantham Wednesday. Robby Stevens was welcomed as a new Cub by the seven members present.

Deadline Near, Poll Taxes Go Well At Cosden

Mrs. Cliffa Slate, special deputy for the tax collector's office, issued 151 poll tax receipts to employees of the Cosden refinery on Thursday. Mrs. Slate had set up a desk at the plant. Today she is issuing poll tax receipts at the downtown office building of the company.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax collector, said that Jim Lewis, operator of the Lewis 5-and-10 Stores, had arranged for applications for poll tax to be received at his three stores from now until deadline on Jan. 31.

Mrs. Jesse Hernandez, special poll tax deputy who is operating a substitution for the tax collector at 510 NW 4th, issued 18 poll tax receipts Thursday.

Mrs. Hernandez will be at her desk from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Meantime, Mrs. LeFevre warned of the deadline next Wednesday. She plans to keep her office open until midnight on Jan. 31 as a convenience to belated poll tax customers.

Poll tax receipts so far are lagging badly behind 1960 which was a comparable year election-wide, to the current year.

Ground School For Aero Clubbers

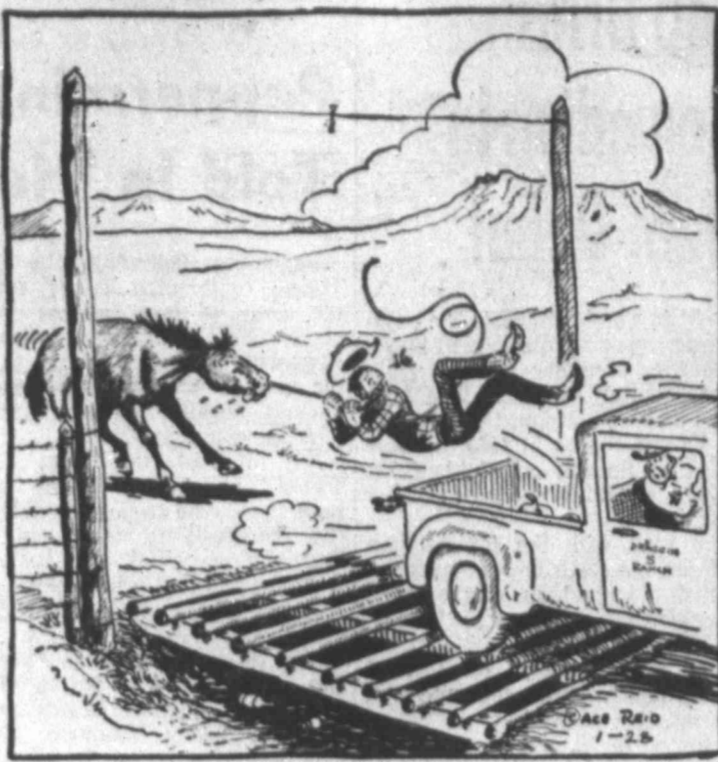

The Webb AFB Aero Club began operating a ground school Thursday night for 30 club members and prospective members. The course, which is to be held Tuesday and Thursday nights at the Academic Building, will last seven weeks.

Instructions are being given in map reading, weather, radio procedures, cross country planning, reading and plotter computer, and Civil Air Regulations. Also planned will be the showing of films from the FAA on weather and navigation.

Class instructors for the 20-hour course are Bill McClendon, Cosden Petroleum Corp. pilot, and Wes Pierce, Webb civil service employee.

Cemetery Plane Crash Not Fatal

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP)—A fighter-bomber being tested at Republic Aviation Co. plowed across a highway and crashed and burned in a cemetery. The pilot was rescued unharmed by a policeman. The craft, an F105, was piloted by Capt. David A. Tilton, 33, on the Air Force resident test staff at Republic. He was pulled from the wreckage by Patrolman Fred Fiore, 49.

Indian Guides Draw Crowd

Extra chairs had to be set up Thursday night to handle the 200 or more spectators at the YMCA Indian Guide Dance, Display and Skit night, according to Curtis L. Chatham, program secretary.

"We had 150 chairs set up at the beginning," he said. "Counting the young braves who participated in the show, there were probably between 250-300 persons in the gymnasium."

Thirteen tribes in the Indian Guide program put on a show of Indian dances or skits and had craft projects on display. Feathers were awarded to first and second place winners in the first and second year levels.

The Karankawa tribe took first place in both the dance and display event on the first year level. Second place in the dance went to the Algonquins and the Blackfeet won second place in display.

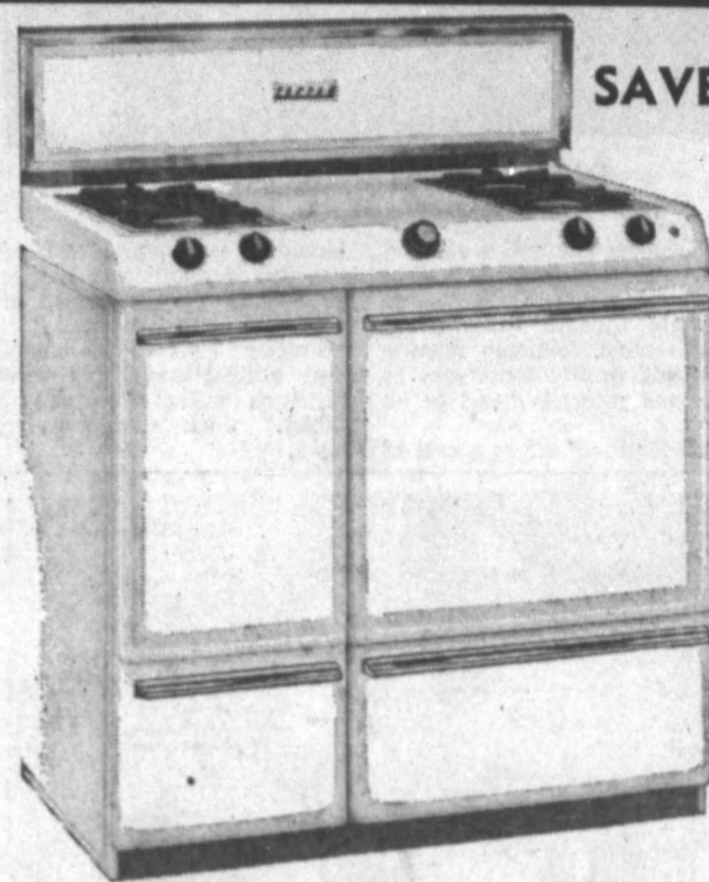

On the second year level, the Choctaws won both the dance and display first prize and the Comanches were second in both events.

Judges for the dance and skit were Bill Draper, Chub Jones, Bill Coleman, Dr. R. B. G. Cowper and Ralph Hughes. Jack Hanson assisted with voting. The display contest was judged by spectators.

EARLY SUNSHINE

by Vanity Fair

Really, our pale clear yellow is as nice to run around in as sunshine itself, and nearly as neutral! We love the look of this color from the skin out in lingerie, girdle, bra. We love it sparkling with its own glowing print. It gives you fashion plus flattery—and who could ask more of nylon tricot and Lycra, even by Vanity Fair!
