NEWS BRIEFS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina today recalled Ambassador Julio Amodeo from Cuba, the Foreign Ministry announced.

The step had been expected as President Arturo Frondizi sought to appease military critics of his soft line toward the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba at the recent inter-American foreign ministers' conference.

Recalling the ambassador does not constitute a diplomatic break, but morning newspapers here had suggested that the crisis between the president and the nation's leading military men was nearing an end. They predicted a gradual break in relations with Cuba.

BARI, Italy (AP)—The Bulgarian pilot whose camera-equipped jet crashed in Italy after making two passes over a secret missile base is expected to go on trial in March on charges of political and military espionage. Lt. Miluse Sokolov of the Bulgarian air force faces a sentence of 15-24 years imprisonment.

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller has arrived in this divorce capital—apparently to end her 31-year marriage to New York's governor in a quick and quiet way.

CENTER, Tex. (AP)—Five young members of an East Texas family died early today while their parents were taking a son to a hospital.

Sheriff Leon Shillings identified the dead children as Jean, 16; Tommy Joe, 7; Carolyn Sue, 6; Kathy Mae, 4; and Glenn Allen, 2, children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Darden.

CO. LPORT, Pa. (AP)—A fast-burning fire, apparently ignited by an explosion, killed a mother and four of her five young children Thursday night at their rural home in western Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's death rate in November was the lowest for any November of record, the Public Health Service reported today.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced today he will appoint Frank B. Ellis, now director of the Office of Emergency Planning, to be a U.S. District Court judge for the Eastern District of Louisiana.

LUANG PRABANG, Laos (AP)—Premier Prince Boum Oum, angered by Pathet Lao attacks on the village of Nam Tha, called off a meeting with neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma today. As a result the prospects for early formation of a unified government plunged.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the government have been issued by a grand jury official at former U.S. foreign aid official and two other men.

The indictments, announced Thursday by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, were returned by a District of Columbia federal grand jury. They named Edward T. McNamara, Gerald A. Peabody and Willis H. Bird in connection with U.S. foreign aid contracts in Laos in 1956 and 1957.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has proposed separate U.N. membership for West and East Germany and for West Berlin, well-informed sources said today.

Groundhogs Make Shade

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Two groundhogs, considered the official legendary weather prophets, emerged from their holes today and saw their shadows, signifying six more weeks of winter.

Rubbing a long winter's hibernation from his eyes, Punxsutawney Phil was the first to emerge in Punxsutawney. At 7:29 a.m., he shuffled dutifully from his snugger, squinted and spied his shadow decorating frozen Gobbler's Knob. He scampered back to his cozy burrow.

The Quarryville groundhog saw his shadow at 7:51 a.m., according to Robert W. Herr, chairman of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs here.

Herr said Dr. Carl Metzger, keeper of the field, was on watch on Crow Foot at the time the groundhog emerged, saw his shadow reflected on the snow and went back into his hole.

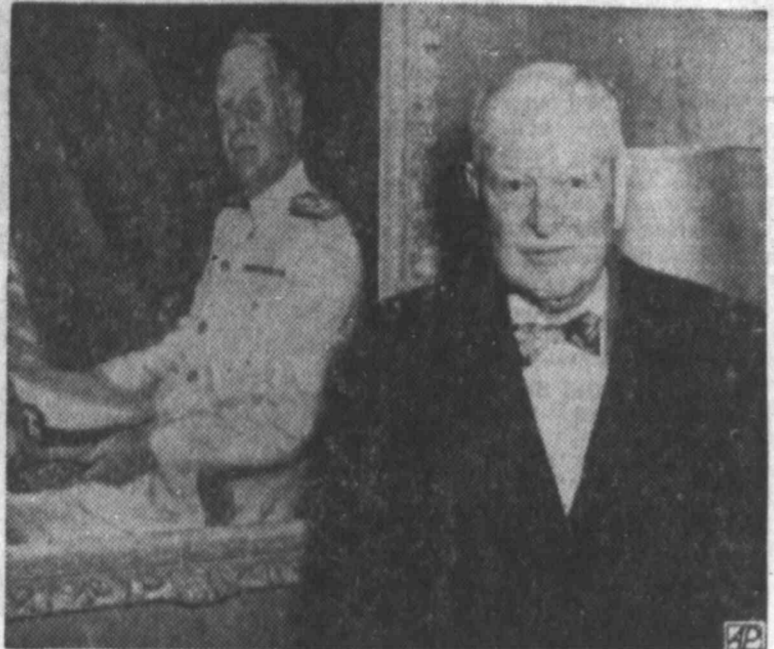

Attired in tall hats and long white night shirts, the members of the two groundhog clubs started out before dawn for the woods and valleys seeking out the legendary weather prophet.

They carried divining rods and other gadgets, part of their annual Feb. 2 caper.

As legend has it, if the little beast sees his shadow, it is a sign of more winter, and back he'll scamper into his hole. If there is no shadow he'll stay in the open, signifying an early

Hints At Pearl Harbor 'Betrayal'

Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, 79, shown at his home in Groton, Conn., next to a painting of himself before World War II, said in an interview with the New York Daily News that he hopes to present new evidence that the Roosevelt administration "betrayed" him at Pearl Harbor. The 1941 Japanese attack, which killed near 3,500 Americans, cost Kimmel his command of U.S. naval forces in the Pacific.

Paris Arms For Fight

PARIS (AP)—French army tanks converged on Paris today to forestall any attempt by the right-wing Secret Army to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle as reports of an imminent peace pact for Algeria persisted.

With mounted machine guns, two squadrons totaling 32 tanks moved on the capital to give armored support to 25,000 riot police alerted against the threat of an uprising by the rightist underground.

De Gaulle will address the nation by radio and television Monday night in what shaped up as a crucial statement on the long

Pope Sets Council Date On Oct. 11

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII announced today that the Roman Catholic Church's Ecumenical Council will be convened on Oct. 11.

The pontiff's decision on the opening date for the 21st world wide conclave in the history of the church—the first in nearly 100 years—was made known by Msgr. Fausto Vallina, press chief for the Ecumenical Council.

The council, to be known as "Vatican II," will bring to Rome some 3,000 leaders of the Catholic Church, and Pope John is expected to invite other Christian churches to send observers. The pontiff has already established a secretariat for unity to facilitate this.

The pontiff in a papal bull on Christmas Day invoking the council expressed the hope that it would serve as a step toward Christian unity. But he made clear that the Roman Catholic Church still looks to a return of "the separated brothers" and not a confederation of churches in which authority would be shared.

The papal bull also foreshadowed a new assault by the council on atheistic communism. The 80-year-old supreme ruler of the church said in that proclamation that militant atheism, operating on a world plan, is "an entirely new and disconcerting fact."

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—John H. Glenn Jr.'s Atlas booster is expected to be repaired by Saturday signaling a resumption of tests aimed at rocketing him into orbit about the earth on Feb. 13.

BOMBS BLAST HOMES OF 2 EXTREME RIGHT CRITICS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Home-made bombs damaged the residences Thursday night of two ministers who have been vocal in their criticism of rightwing extremism, police reported.

The two men, the Rev. John G. Simmons and the Rev. Brooks R. Walker, learned of the bombings while appearing together in a panel discussion entitled, "The Extreme Right-Threat to Democracy."

Detectives said families of both men narrowly escaped injury in the explosions.

A police guard was ordered for the home of the third panel member, actress Marsha Hunt.

Both ministers live in the suburban San Fernando Valley, and both told of receiving previous threats and anonymous telephone calls.

The Rev. Mr. Simmons, pastor of St. Matthews Lutheran Church in North Hollywood, said the blast at his home would not change his determination to battle what he called the radical right wing.

"I will not compromise my beliefs," he told a newsman.

GOP Dinners Pour Cash Into Party Coffers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans across the nation poured out cash for the party till Thursday night along with cries that Democrats are grabbing for more power with "profligate spending" and "political fakery."

And the GOP faithful heard what some of them thought sounded like a political war whoop, not so much for 1962 as for 1964, from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The Republicans spent the evening at 17 party get-togethers in 17 cities, tied together for an hour by closed circuit television. This was the warm-up and kick-off for the congressional election campaign of 1962.

The oratory at the parties followed the usual political pattern of swinging away at the opposition, upholding the GOP cause with professions of confidence, and holding up the party as the great hope of the nation for getting sound, sensible, responsible government.

This was the other side of the record the Democrats played on Jan. 20—the first anniversary of the New Frontier—when they staged a fund-raising banquet that drew people to Washington from over the country.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower paced the parade of Republican speakers. It was the former president who accused the Democrats of profligate spending and "living on a flood of I.O.U.'s." He and other GOP oratorical talent said the opposition is reaching for a more powerful central government and controls.

Eisenhower urged the Republicans to discard such tags as "liberal" and "conservative," to get together, to start working hard and in unity.

No Special Sessions Soon

AUSTIN (AP)—Legislators have the word of Gov. Price Daniel today that he won't call them back "any time soon."

"I don't think it would serve any useful purpose to call the legislature back real soon . . . I want to wait and see what happens," the governor said shortly after the third special session closed last midnight.

Daniel's partial answer to the question of when and if there will be another special session leaves only the big question still unanswered—Will the governor seek a fourth term?

He has said he will tell Texans tonight his decision on the governor's race. His political plans may be affected by the outcome of the session just ended, he said early today.

"I was waiting to see what they did. It could have some effect," the governor said. "I really surprised me when those two bills didn't pass. I don't understand why."

The bills were the loan regulation measure and an appropriation bill which included funds to advertise Texas to tourists.

Texas Tourist Plans Killed

AUSTIN (AP)—Advertising plans of Gov. Price Daniel and tourist promoters died in the legislature Thursday.

The House refused twice to accept a package appropriations bill which contained $275,000 in state money to attract tourists and $158,500 for repair of San Jacinto Monument along with other spending items.

The main objection was a provision in the bill calling for up to $1.3 million to be spent for parking facilities, a garage, an emergency control center for use in case of attack or disaster and funds for the governor's mansion.

After this provision was deleted from the bill, the House still refused to consider the bill.

The tourist funds would have to be supplemented by $175,000 in private funds before the state money could become available.

The bill also provided $38,300 for 10 more juvenile parole officers.

The House had appropriated $220,000 for its expenses during the session and the Senate $50,000. Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro said Senate employees could not be paid for the final two weeks because the bill was defeated.

Passage of the bill would have given the Highway Department a total of $450,000 for a tourist advertising program.

The House first refused to accept the package bill 75-73. The vote was 78-70 after the parking facilities and Capitol portions were removed.

Another objection was over the granting of pay increases to district attorneys. The pay hike would have cost about $160,000.

U.S. Seeks NATO Aid In Cuban Slap

Ike Pleads For 'Heart' By Republicans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"It is heart which wins wars," said Dwight D. Eisenhower, "whether on the battlefields or in peace."

He stood before a crowded hall Thursday night for what was supposed to be a brief warmup talk—and turned it into a ringing plea for fighting heart among his fellow Republicans.

"It is heart which keeps us plugging," said the former president, "without ever admitting defeat."

Ike was the main speaker on a cross-country telecast staged with names of top Republicans. But the national TV audience did not hear the off-the-cuff pep talk he delivered earlier to a throng estimated by GOP sources at 10,000 persons.

He stretched the three-minute greeting into seven minutes, much of it more spirited than his TV delivery. The audience at the "We Miss Ike" rally cheered a full three minutes when he finished.

Eisenhower told the gathering that the GOP should fight to cut down the percentage of the Democratic edge even in areas where Republicans know they can't win.

"We had a paper-thin defeat in '60," said Eisenhower. "Still, it was a defeat. Any one of 100 things happening differently could have brought us victory. What we have is the job of plugging all the little gaps."

It takes fighting spirit to do this said Eisenhower—spirit worked up to a real pitch.

He added: "You yourself are more important than the dollars that you give, if along with the dollars you give yourself."

The rally at Olympic Auditorium wasn't primarily a fund raising affair (although the hat, figuratively speaking, was passed).

That part of the evening came later, when a gathering of the wealthier GOP faithful paid $1,000 a ticket to attend a dinner and reception for Eisenhower at a downtown hotel. An official said 83 tickets were sold.

It was a long day for Eisenhower, who interrupted a vacation on the California desert for a visit to Los Angeles for the GOP rally. His wife, Mamie, accompanied him.

U.S. Frowns On Noodling Around

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—To be an egg noodle, an egg noodle must have egg in the noodle, says the U.S. government.

Or, as the Food and Drug Administration said after seizing and condemning 26 tons of noodles Thursday: The noodles were "adulterated" in that the "valuable constituent egg or egg yolk had been wholly or in part omitted therefrom."

The government said the noodles made by the Paramount Macaroni Manufacturing Co. of Brooklyn, N.Y., were labeled "egg noodles" but didn't contain the required minimum of 5 per cent egg solids or egg yolk.

BUCK STRONG MORTAL FOE OF INFLATION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Get set to meet Buck Strong, a wavy-haired little fellow with bulging biceps and a dollar sign for a torso.

He's going to ask your support in the fight against inflation.

Buck Strong is a cartoon invention of Al Capp, and bears some resemblance to the inhabitants of Dogpatch down to his L'L Abner shoes. But Buck Strong is on a serious mission.

His job is to warn against the dangers of inflation and appeal for "sound dollar" policies by government, business, labor and the public.

He'll turn up on motion picture and television screens, billboards, plant posters and—naturally—the comic pages of newspapers.

Isolation Policy Pleas Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was expected today to direct prompt and urgent appeals to its NATO allies and other Allied countries to cooperate with the newly-adopted inter-American policy of isolating Cuba.

The U.S. government itself is reported ready to make more extensive use of its naval forces in an effort to cut off Cuban arms shipments to subversive groups in other Latin-American countries.

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also are looking into the possibility of slapping a total embargo on U.S. trade with Cuba, one effect of which would be to deny Cuba a source of income amounting to about $15 million a year at the present rate of trade.

Subversion In connection with the possible abolition of all trade with Cuba, Rusk charged Thursday at a news conference that Cuba was using American dollars to promote subversion in other countries. He didn't explain the remark.

The possibility of some move by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro against the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo is also under careful watch here, it was learned. In event of serious harassment, U.S. dependents at the big base would be brought home.

Three huge aircraft carriers, the Enterprise, Forrestal and Constellation, are cruising in the Caribbean and could be deployed speedily in the Guantanamo area if necessary.

Officials discount the chance of a Castro decision to attack Guantanamo directly since that would mean open conflict with the United States. But a battalion of Marines is said to be in the vicinity of the base in case trouble brings a need for reinforcements. More could quickly be flown in from Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Rusk was received by Kennedy in an unusual White House welcoming ceremony when he flew back to Washington Thursday from the foreign ministers conference in Uruguay.

Kennedy praised the results of Rusk's diplomacy at Punta del Este and said the over-all result was that the inter-American system had been strengthened and "communism isolated" in the Western Hemisphere.

Then, at his news conference, Rusk refuted any idea of a basic split among hemisphere nations over Cuba. He pointed particularly to unanimous adoption of a resolution declaring Cuba under the Marxist-Leninist leadership of Castro "incompatible" with the American system.

Acknowledging that there were six abstentions on a resolution to exclude the Castro government from participation in the inter-American system, Rusk said that the abstaining governments were bothered by legal and technical questions and did not disagree on the principle of Cuba's unfitness to be in the inter-American system.

Rusk will review the Punta del Este meeting in a radio-television report to the nation tonight at 7 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. All three networks, NBC, ABC and CBS, said they will carry the 15-minute program live.

U.S. trade with Cuba in the first 11 months of 1961 covered $13.6 million of exports and $32.4 million of imports. The exports were made up of food and medical supplies. The imports were about 90 per cent tobacco for the cigar manufacturing industry in Florida and about 10 per cent fresh fruits and vegetables.

Because U.S. exports to Cuba, which once ran to hundreds of millions of dollars a year, have now been reduced to relatively small quantities of foods and medicines the Kennedy administration has been reluctant to take the final step and impose a total embargo lest this be interpreted as a blow at the Cuban people. However, Rusk said Thursday at Kennedy's news conference that the matter would be looked into.

Arms Flow "With respect to the traffic in arms," Rusk said, "although we know that none of the members of the hemisphere is selling arms to Cuba, illicit traffic in arms

Congress Looks To JFK To Open Stockpiling Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress looked to President Kennedy today to pave the way for an investigation of the nation's war-emergency stockpile by formally removing the lid of secrecy from its contents.

The President already has said "the cold facts on this matter must be open to the public" and suggested that a Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., undertake the inquiry.

Symington interpreted Kennedy's remarks at Wednesday's news conference as a "green light" from the White House for his subcommittee to have "a good look at what's going on."

"We have always been told before these items could not be declassified," Symington said at a news conference of his own.

But, a few hours before Symington met reporters, Sen. Harry F.

Adoula Hits 'Outsiders' In Congo Trouble

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Congoese Premier Cyrille Adoula arrived here today declaring the central Congo government will never permit outside interference to dictate to its people.

"I am saddened by the events which have taken place in the Congo in the last few months," Adoula told newsmen on arrival at Idlewild Airport. "I am also saddened by the strife which has been manifested in the Congo and which is due to influences and interests opposed to each other and coming from outside the Congo."

The Congo will never permit interference to carry out propaganda or to promote interests contrary to the welfare of our people," the 40-year-old premier added.

Adoula, who flew here to assure the U.N. General Assembly that his government and the U.N. Command are ending secession in Katanga Province as quickly as possible, drove directly from the airport to U.N. headquarters.

On his arrival he went to Acting Secretary-General U. Thant's headquarters, accompanied by a military aide. Adoula reportedly briefed Thant and Assembly President Mongi Slim on progress being made to unite his divided homeland before addressing the 164-nation assembly.

Adoula was expected to tell the assembly that further U.N. debate on the Congo at this time would only hinder efforts to extend his government's control over his unruly African country.

Cubans Await Party Move

HAVANA (AP)—Cubans are awaiting the announcement of a board for the United Party of Cuba's Socialist Revolution.

Sources close to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government said last week they expected the appointments soon.

The UPCS is the agency which Castro announced last July 26—the eighth anniversary of his revolutionary movement—will merge all Cuban political and related organizations.

In identifying himself Dec. 2 as a Marxist-Leninist, Castro said the party was being created as an all-powerful political body to lead Cuba through socialism "a people's democracy, or the dictatorship of the proletariat."

"It will not be open to everybody, but restricted to revolutionary cadres," he said. "It will be a qualitative and not a quantitative organization."

Raul Castro, the armed forces minister, told a gathering of workers Thursday night at Santiago, Oriente Province, that a social uprising is coming in the United States and Cuba will have a great market and great friends there within a few years.

Meissner Files For Purcell Post

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Joe Meissner, the Republican defeated by Rep. Graham Purcell, is making another bid for the same seat in Congress.

Meissner lost to Purcell, a Democrat and former district judge, in a runoff last Saturday for the 13th District seat in the House. Both are Wichita Falls residents.

Former Rep. Frank Icard, D-Tex., resigned as the district congressman to take an oil industry job.

Meissner, who resigned as a Wichita Falls city councilman to make the first race, filed Thursday as a candidate for the Republican nomination.

Full Slate

HOUSTON (AP)—Harris County Republicans plan "just about a full slate" of candidates in their primary this year, the county GOP chairman, James Bertron, said Thursday.

Smith's Hospital Series Wins Again

For a fourth time, the series of articles written by Bob Smith, Herald wire editor, has been announced among the winners in statewide competition.

His two full-page series on the history, mental illness, treatment and recovery of Kathryn Smith has been selected unanimously as the best in its category by the Texas Medical Association.

Thus, Smith will receive the Anson Jones Award in Category II (daily newspapers in cities less than 250,000 population), and with it a $100 cash prize.

He will be presented a certificate through the Permian Basin Medical Society, and the Herald will receive a bronze plaque.

Last weekend Smith received a second place award by the Headlines Club in Austin for the series, judged the best writing in the science field. Immediately before this, he was named winner of the State Mental Hospital Development Association award for creative work in the field of mental treatment. Entered in the Texas APME contest, the series ranked second in the broad category of feature writing.

Blair Justice, science writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, was named top metropolitan daily newspaper medical reporter in Category I of the Anson Jones Awards. This makes it the third time that Justice has taken top honors in this division of the contest. His entry included a representative sampling of his news of medical events.

The annual award, now in its sixth year, is for excellence in reporting of health information to the public. Twenty-two entries were received this year in the four categories: I — daily newspapers in cities of 250,000 population or more; II — daily newspapers in cities with less than 250,000 population; III — weekly, bi-weekly, and semi-weekly newspapers; and IV — magazines and trade journals in non-health fields.

The editor of the Alice News, James Kerkhoff, was named the winner in the category for weekly newspapers. The award was presented to Kerkhoff on the basis of the general coverage given by his newspaper to medical and health subjects.

Tennessee Gas Transmission Company's publication, The Line, was the judges' choice as the top magazine in Texas in the field of providing health information. Albert L. Smith edits the monthly magazine, which is published in Houston.

Judges for this year's competition were Olin Hinkle, associate professor of the School of Journalism, University of Texas; Margie Clapp, medical writer for the San Antonio Light and 1961 Anson Jones Award winner; Mrs. Marilyn Baker, assistant editor of the Texas State Journal of Medicine; and the seven physicians-members of TMA's Council on Public Relations and Public Service.

The Anson Jones Award, created by the Texas Medical Association in 1956, is named in honor of Dr. Anson Jones, a physician, statesman, and writer, who served as the last president of the Republic of Texas.

Dr. O'Brien Will Speak At Law Officers Meeting

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, widely in demand as a public speaker, will be one of the featured guests at the Feb. 16 meeting of the West Central Texas Law Enforcement Association conference in San Angelo.

Miller Harris, Howard County sheriff who is president of the association, said that he was particularly pleased to have Dr. O'Brien on the program.

He said that he regarded the entire program as exceptional in the importance of the guests who will be heard. As a result, Harris anticipates a full attendance of all members of the association.

The meeting is to be in the Town House in San Angelo. It begins at 8:30 a.m. Feb. 16 with registration. The meeting will occupy only one day.

Other speakers in addition to Dr. O'Brien will be Russell Willis, president of the BCD, Board of Civic Development, San Angelo; T. D. Carroll, with the State Game and Fish Commission; L. Hugh Shaw, highway patrol officer, Midland; and Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety.

GENE DEAN

Minister To Seek Office

LAMESA (SC)—Gene W. Dean, 29, Lamesa, today announced his candidacy for the Texas House of Representatives, 75th Legislative District, comprising of Andrews, Gaines, Dawson and Lynn Counties. He formerly served as Dawson County Republican chairman.

Dean, a native West Texan, has resided in Lamesa for the past four years where he served as pastor of the Sunset Baptist Church. He is presently vice president of the Lamesa Ministerial Alliance, chaplain of Lamesa Lodge No. 999, AFAAM, and an active member of the Chamber of Commerce.

He serves his denomination as a member of the missionary committee of the North American Baptist Association and many of its boards.

Dean resigned his pastorate to make the race for representative and is currently employed by the Lamesa Abstract Co. In the past 11 years he has served churches in Freestone Co., Stanton, Corsicana, Midland and Lamesa. He and Mrs. Dean have children, Darcus Rene, and Gene D.

In his announcement he repeated previous charges of one-party monopoly, a growing trend toward socialism and a welfare state, loss of freedoms and the need for a combination of conservatives under a new Republican party in Texas.

DEAR ABBY

He Needs Pepping Up

DEAR ABBY: I recently married a 42-year-old man who acts like he's 90. Before we were married, all he did was brag about what terrific condition he was in. Now his excuse is that he led such an active life when he was single. It must have slowed him down. I am 33 and far from ready to sit and knit while he reads. His doctor says he's fit as a fiddle. I am seriously considering getting myself a boy friend. NOT KIDDING

WHAT IS ESSENTIAL?

Anything that the Lord has commanded is essential. What is there about faith that makes it essential that does not also make baptism essential?

If baptism is not essential to salvation, does it make any difference what act one performs for baptism? Why should any one so explain the Scriptures, that the explanation requires an essential way of doing a non-essential thing?

Here are two passages of Scripture that the Lord has never changed. They are just as necessary now as they were at the time they were written. First, "He that believeth and is baptized, shall be saved." Second, "Repent and be baptized, and one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins."

Faith has not been repealed. Repentance has not been repealed. Baptism has not been repealed.

When we read a commandment of God in the Bible, we should observe what dispensation it is under. If it is under the gospel dispensation, then it is essential to our salvation, and must be obeyed.—From Firm Foundation.

Keese Reports On Conference

B. M. Keese, zone chairman, reported to the Downtown Lions Club on Wednesday the results of the mid-winter conference held recently in Sweetwater.

Rules for the Lions-sponsored "I Am An American" essay contest in District 2-A-1 were approved, said Keese, and each zone will have the privilege of submitting three top entries. Winners will be announced at the district convention in May.

At the mid-winter meeting, said Keese, the candidacy of David M. (Dock) Ellis, Midland, and George Barnhart, San Angelo and Ballinger, for district governor were announced. Keese said the Big Spring club had been cited for its membership gains. Jeff Brown presented 10 Lions with certificates for membership enlistment during December.

Dennis Taylor Files For 19th Congressional Seat

DENNIS TAYLOR

Dennis D. Taylor, Crosbyton, has filed for a place on the Republican primary ballot as a candidate for congress.

Taylor said he hoped to make a tour of the 19th Congressional district soon and planned an aggressive campaign.

In his announcement, he reaffirmed fidelity to basic constitutional freedoms and said that in announcing he was "rising to the defense of our national liberties."

Among the points he stressed are:

"I believe that the democratic principles of free enterprise and human freedom are responsible for our nation's greatness.

"I believe in the right of every man to choose his own occupation free from compulsory unionism; to be rewarded in accordance with his productive contribution to society; to save, invest and spend his earnings as he chooses, and to worship as his conscience dictates.

"I believe that further centralization of power and authority in the federal government and the apathy of American people to this trend are among the greatest dangers threatening our republic and the American way of life.

"We must conserve the American competitive enterprise system, in which property is privately owned, privately managed, and operated for profit and individual satisfaction, and in which supply and demand are the ultimate determinants of market prices.

"I believe that government propagandizing of the electorate threatens the maintenance of self-government, that secrecy in government affairs should not be tolerated except as actually essential to national security.

"I believe in strong and responsible state and local units of government and in the protection of state laws against federal preemption; that farm people have the right and responsibility to speak for themselves through organizations of their choice . . ."

Incentive Board Makes Five Cash Awards For Ideas

Ideas of five Webb AFB persons were recently adopted by the Webb AFB Incentive Board. Cash awards were authorized and some of the suggestions were forwarded to Air Training Command headquarters for consideration there.

Top payment of $25 each went to M. Sgt. Theodore C. Bennett, Wing Accounting and Finance Office, and T. Sgt. James E. Wackerle, 356th Maintenance and Supply Group.

Sgt. Bennett's suggestion was to simplify compiling data for procurement reports through the use of codes and mechanization.

Sgt. Wackerle's contribution has to do with seat parachutes in T-37 aircraft. His idea is to modify the seat hole to facilitate the removal and installation of the shoulder harness.

Lt. Richard C. Swainston, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, suggested spacing T-37 take-offs. This meant a reduction in run-up time and also eliminated overheating. Lt. Swainston received $20.

Airman 2. C. Samuel C. Wood of the 3561st Student Squadron received $10 for improving the method of issuing text books to student pilots.

Capt. James P. Smith was paid $5 for suggesting an overprint in the Webb Daily Bulletin.

Local Republicans File Names Of Election Judges

The Howard County Republican Executive Committee has submitted a list of nominees for election judges and assistant judges in the 1962 elections.

The list, prepared by Ralph Hughes, Republican chairman, was filed with County Judge Ed Carpenter on Thursday. Carpenter said he will present the names to the commissioners court on Monday.

The county Republican party is making plans, Hughes said, to compete in local political races and hopes to have at least three party nominees out for county posts.

He said announcement of final plans will be made this weekend or before deadline time Monday. Midnight on Feb. 5 is the last minute a candidate can file for an office in the May 5 primary, Republican or Democrat.

The nominees for precinct judges and assistant judges are:

O. O. Craig, Grant Boardman, Mrs. C. B. Long, Mrs. J. B. Burnett Jr., Larry Wall, Travis Waller, Doyle Bynum, Robert Dyer, John Currie, Mrs. Glenn Pless, James Watts, Ralph McLaughlin, William J. Mueller and Doyle Thomas.

Hughes said that his party is planning to ask four voting places in the primary elections which are ahead. There will be a voting box, he said, in each of the four commissioners precincts in the county.

Carpenter said he was sure the nominees for precinct posts would be approved by the commissioners.

Airlines Raise Passenger Fares

WASHINGTON (AP)—All the 11 U.S. domestic trunk airlines raised their passenger fares three per cent Thursday.

Most of the 13 local-service airlines also increased fares, but not all of them took full advantage of the 3 per cent hike authorized by the Civil Aeronautics board last Dec. 28.

In the Dec. 28 ruling authorizing a 3 per cent increase for a six-month trial period, the CAB suspended a proposal of United Air Lines to increase fares 6 1/2 per cent, and plans of six other trunk airlines for other increases.

A Devotional For Today

Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (I Corinthians 3:16.)
PRAYER: Grant, our Father, that we may be filled with Thy spirit. Thus may others be aware of Thee as we walk among them today. In the spirit of Christ, our Redeemer, we pray. Amen.

The Gap's Not Ours

There is a segment of opinion which holds that every time Russia manages to win that Russia is the biggest and best rockets, and even the best educational system.

This is stuff and nonsense. Take for instance the recent report by the National Science Foundation. The great educational gap is Russia's, not ours, the report concludes.

The three-year study was conducted by Nicholas DeWitt of Harvard's Russian Research Center. DeWitt happens to be a native of Russia and attended primary and secondary schools there. Following the war he managed to get out of Russia and came to the United States where he got his AB at Harvard in 1952 and soon will receive his Ph.D.

Russia is definitely behind the U.S. in general and higher education, according to the study. Average schooling in the U.S.S.R. is only four years, compared with 11 years in the United States. Only 30 per cent of the Russians are graduated from high school, compared with 57 per cent in the United States. Only 7 per cent of the Russians are graduated from college, compared to 12 per cent in the U.S.

In 1959 there were only 2.2 million Russians in college compared to 3.6 million Americans.

Russia is turning out about 290,000 graduates a year in engineering and applied sciences, compared with 90,000 in the U.S. Five-eighths of all Russian college graduates in the 1950s were in engineering, the remaining in medicines and teaching.

But the Soviet Union has no equivalent to the American college and university liberal arts programs. It is not by accident that a liberal education is impossible to attain in Russia; officials figure it keeps students from getting ideas of their own. Nevertheless, there are symptoms of much ferment in Russian educational circles because of this deficiency.

DeWitt is convinced that in the long run the Western educational system is better; it allows students more freedom to promote their own well-being instead of blindly sacrificing to promote national objectives. The U.S. can improve its system, however, he believes, by fixing its educational priorities and pursuing them more diligently.

Bouquets To The T&P Family

The Missouri Pacific Lines board of directors has selected J. T. Suggs to be chairman of the board. Certainly this is a tribute to the ability, the efficiency and the personality of Mr. Suggs, who has served the Texas and Pacific Railway Company as its president since 1959.

Fortunately, the T&P is not to lose his services and although he will have offices both in St. Louis and Dallas, Mr. Suggs will continue to make his home in Dallas. His elevation, according to Downing B. Jenks, Missouri Pacific president, is also in recognition of the importance of the Mo-Pac's southern lines. Last summer on a brief stop here he termed the T&P one of the bright spots of the lines. We have a feeling, based on confidence in our region, that this will continue to be so.

Big Spring people also take pride in the promotion of two T&P officials, Kenneth D. Hestes to be assistant general manager, and Newell Derryberry to be superintendent of transportation. Mr. Hestes formerly held many posts, including that of division superintendent at the Western division offices formerly located here. He was president of the United Fund at the time he moved. Mr. Derryberry caught the eye of officials during the 11 years he served here as dispatcher, much of it as chief dispatcher. Recently he was made chief dispatcher for the entire T&P system, and within less than a month he was promoted to succeed Hestes.

Perhaps it's provincial pride, but we are pleased to see men who came up on the Western division in top places of responsibility—like Wilbur Foster, general manager; Jimmie Tucker, division superintendent; Al LaCroix, head of motor transportation, and many others.

David Lawrence A Present Lull In The Cold War

WASHINGTON — Maybe it's time to look at the Berlin "crisis" in a different perspective than "sudden war." For there are signs that Nikita Khrushchev has decided to put the problem on ice indefinitely.

This means there will be no acute stage for the present, and yet no settlement of any of the basic issues either. The controversy may go on for years just as it is. While there is no agreement to disagree, the effect is just the same as if both sides had decided to let sleeping dogs lie.

SUCH A FORMULA seems to have been adopted in many places around the world by the Soviet Union. It doesn't mean that the Communists have retreated from their demands or objectives or that they cannot be expected to resume at any moment their crisis-making tactics. But it does indicate that the last thing the Kremlin wants is a show of force that will provoke the use of force.

Besides, the Soviets have plenty of places in which to continue their harassment in the cold war. They have put on ice some issues that can be taken out at any minute and warmed up, and they have others that are being cooked up.

A SURVEY of the world scene indicates that the Communists have allowed the Quemoy-Matsu situation in the Far East to freeze, but it can be heated up at any moment that it seems opportune for the Communists to start another crisis.

In Geneva, after hundreds of sessions, the conference on the subject of a nuclear-test ban has for the time being adjourned, but there is no certainty it will not be resumed whenever the spirit moves the Moscow government or some propaganda advantage to the Communists appears in the offing.

MOST PEOPLE may have forgotten that a "negotiation" over the return of American prisoners by the Peiping government, which has involved hundreds of meetings at Warsaw between Chinese and United States ambassadors, has been on ice for several years now.

Then there are the protracted talks

NO BARGAIN!

James Marlow OAS Meeting Not Total Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country won less than complete victory in Latin America on dealing with Cuba. But there were some solid achievements.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was the U.S. spokesman and general at the Uruguay meeting of 21 American Foreign Ministers, which this country wanted and pushed for.

It showed:

1. Some of the biggest Latin American nations don't see eye to eye in all details with this country in handling Cuba. Six refused to vote with the United States to expel Fidel Castro from the Organization of American States.
2. Judging from that result, this country either rushed into the meeting too fast, without learning beforehand where those six stood, or it did not know but optimistically went ahead, ignoring what it had learned.
3. The United States, big as it is and much as Latin America needs its economic help, is not the absolute hemisphere boss. Re-

Hal Boyle Antiques, Anyone?

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you doing your bit to help Mrs. John F. Kennedy's program to furnish the White House with antiques of historic interest?

So far our First Lady has received about 100 or more gifts, ranging from a $200,000 portrait of Ben Franklin to a pair of 1850 brass andirons once used by President Zachary Taylor.

Mrs. Kennedy's goal is a fine one, but in our opinion too limited.

As her idea catches on and contributions continue to pour in, we feel that the White House will hardly hold them all.

Our thought here is that Congress might authorize an annex to the White House and make it a living museum of the American past. Then every family in the nation could do its patriotic part by sending in a treasured heirloom, and thus be represented in the capital by something more enduring than tax money.

We have been enthusiastically rummaging among the family heirlooms in our own basement, just to get the ball rolling, and have decided we can spare Mrs. Kennedy the following:

A coal mine pick dating from the 1870s used by my grandfather, who emigrated here from Ireland. The pick is in first-class condition. A walnut desk built about 1861 by my wife's great-great uncle which contains a secret compartment to hide the family fortune from Civil War raiders. As he had only $1.20 in cash at that time, the historic interest centers around this question: Why did he spend three weeks building a desk with a secret compartment, when he could just as well have hidden the $1.20 in the croch of a backyard tree?

A fur stole I bought my wife in 1946. This stole is unusual in that it lived as a rabbit and dyed a mink. I quote my wife: "If Mrs. Kennedy is looking for a real antique, I can't think of anything that fits the description better than that fur stole you bought me as a surprise. It still surprises me everytime I see it."

A genuine golden oak chair with cane bottom, Grand Rapids, 1908. While you occasionally come across these chairs, they are getting scarcer. Many of the finest homes in America no longer have one.

Anytime the White House lets us know it will pay the freight bill, we stand ready to pack up our antiques and send them to Washington.

Look around your own attic. Do you have some similar priceless antiques you can contribute, too? Remember, they're tax deductible.

To Your Good Health P.B.I. And B.M.R. Tests Show Metabolism

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Recently my physician ordered a "P. B. I." blood test for me. He said it was the same as the one that I used when I breathed through a machine, but that this other test is much better.

Some of my friends have had this test, too. We wonder how the blood can tell the same thing as breathing into a machine. And how is the P. B. I. blood test better?—T. P.

The letters "P. B. I." mean "protein-bound iodine," and the test shows how much iodine has been absorbed in a particular form into the blood.

This "P. B. I." test is one which a good many people are having these days. It does, indeed, tell much the same facts that can be read from "breathing into a machine," or the so-called "B. M. R." test, or "basal metabolism reading."

Now all of us vary a little bit in the way we use up our food and the air we breathe. Some of us are rather placid and calm. Some of us are high-strung boppers. Some of us say, "It's sort of chilly in the house, isn't it?" and some of us say, "Golly, it's pretty warm!" In the same house, I mean.

Some of us are like slow, smoldering fires, and some of us are like fires with a strong draft.

In a good many cases, the difference is in the activity in our thyroid glands. Some thyroids are over-active. Some are under-ac-

Around The Rim And So, Back To Earth Again

What it's like to be a "celebrity": Your first inkling comes when your editor calls a staff conference, and you learn you have won two places in an important contest. First place, headline writing, second place, feature writing, in the Associated Press Managing Editors competition.

YOU'RE WELL PLEASED, naturally. But then you recall that the winning feature story has been entered in several other competitions. Everything was allright until Mr. Pickle announced the feature's APME success—now, you're nervous and fidgety while awaiting word from the other contests. You know if the entry wins second place in one statewide contest, it may stand a good chance in the others. Further, the thought comes that each succeeding contest is more specialized in relationship to your winning article. It was about mental health, which classifies under medicine, which in turn is a field of science, and the APME category was for general feature writing.

ALL THIS TENDS to make you nervous—and, one day, you write your amusement column, okay the page proof, and fail to note your byline isn't on the column. Naturally, the publisher is upset about this.

Then the awards begin coming in, and your head swims and your ego inflates. The Headliners Club gives you second place in science writing—and you discover the first prize went to a man who wrote about an IBM machine. You begin to calculate your chances in the two remaining contests. Almost immediately the State Mental Hospital Development Association announces you won first place.

THIS IS YOUR day of glory—picture in the paper, big type in the headline, and the boss pays your expenses to Austin for the Headliners awards.

The glory flutters for a moment when you find yourself among other winners, quite a few of whom have received honors greater than yours. But you take comfort in the fact that at least you are counted among the greats—this year. The fun begins when TV's Carol Burnett crawls over the Governor at the stag luncheon, leaving a bright red ring around his face, and Cactus Jack Fryor, Austin's immortal standup comic, pokes irreverent fun at everybody only to discover Mr. Daniel is as equally adept at repartee.

YOU FEEL A kinship with your newspaper colleagues as you laugh, and it doesn't leave at the evening banquet when you and several dozen others march up the red carpet under a bright spotlight, inside Austin's huge convention hall, hear your accomplishments praised, get your citation and shake hands with the governor. You draw a blank at speechmaking time, but the words come out anyway, and you're hardly aware of the 2,500 faces down below. You stay late into the early morning looking up old friends and making new ones, and as you drive back to Big Spring next day you're feeling right proud.

OF COURSE, there is a letdown. Too much glory at once. People look you up to collect on old debts, and the printers who put your story together want to know when the beer bust. Your friends rib you, but you don't mind. Especially with the arrival of a telegram announcing you have won in your category, the Anson Jones award of the Texas Medical Association. Again, your head swells, and you say to yourself, man, all I need now is to hear from Mr. Pulitzer.

So, as you rummage through your desk you find another of your amusement columns, written after coming back from Austin, with a note from the boss attached. From the wording of the note, it would seem Mr. Whipkey is most unhappy that for the second time in a row you have let your column slip through without a byline. In fact, the boss is most explicit and deflating about it.

And you know you're back home again. —BOB SMITH

Inez Robb Commie Attack On U.S. Justice

Once more across the desk of this hard-hearted Hannah there is flowing another fresset of so-called literature from the so-called Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell.

The only surprising aspect of the matter is the committee's persistence in sending its hoked-up, hysterical stuff to one who believes that justice was done Morton Sobell when he was tried with the Rosenbergs and sentenced to 30 years in prison.

THE NEWEST pitch in this case, the darling and the special project of the American Communists, is an appeal—by the above committee—to President Kennedy. The Chief Executive is exhorted either to (1) grant immediate freedom through executive clemency or (2) commute Sobell's sentence.

Sobell, now in the United States prison at Atlanta, Ga., comes up for parole on Aug. 4 of this year. If the Federal Parole Board of the Bureau of Prisons at that time believes that Sobell has paid his debt to society, well and good. It is a decision by which Americans could and would abide.

BUT THE IDEA that Sobell should be the recipient of executive clemency or a White House commutation of sentence on the ground that American justice railroaded him, an innocent man, into prison is more than this citizen can stomach.

That classic Communist tactic, i.e., the party effort to smear American justice and jurisprudence, to cast doubt upon its honor and honesty and to attempt to destroy, in the public mind, the reputation of American courts, has been relentlessly pursued by this so-called Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell.

THE SAME inspired assault on the courts was made during and after the

Marquis Childs Realities In Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON. — In the past five or six years the United States has poured into the small country of Laos at least $350,000,000 in one form or another. Missions of various kinds — diplomatic, military, CIA, training in the use of modern weapons and improved agriculture — have all struggled to try to impose a Western-oriented government on a primitive people resistant to any centralized regime.

YET, FOR ALL this effort with a population of perhaps 2,000,000, Laos is today still a point of critical danger. It could in the very near future pose a major test of strength between East and West. And here at home the political opposition seems only too eager to raise the cry, already sounded by Republican National Chairman William E. Miller, of "who loused up Laos?"

On taking office a year ago the Kennedy Administration found that Laos had become a client state, dependent for its very existence on several million dollars a week made available to the clique of princes heading the government in the capital of Vientiane. As able American correspondents, such as Keyes Beech of the Chicago Daily News, have shown, corruption and black marketing both in Thailand, from whence the flow of aid comes, and in Laos itself dissipated not a little of this help.

INITIALLY serious thought was given to direct American military intervention. But Laos is a completely landlocked country with no roads and virtually no air strips for conducting modern military operations. If Korea, with its ports and its proximity to Japan, was all but lost with massive American intervention Laos would be a tougher place to hold.

The President decided to uphold a neutral Laos. He sent Averell Harriman out to conduct negotiations and subsequently appointed him Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs.

HARRIMAN's background and perspective are significant. As the war ended in 1945 he was the first to warn of Stalin's militant intention to communize the world. This was not a popular view when, as a result of the wartime alliance, a great many people wanted to believe in peace and harmony.

Negotiating with the Communists at Geneva last year, Harriman became convinced that Moscow was also prepared to settle for a neutral Laos. If the fighting were resumed, Red China would almost certainly intervene in force across an undefended border and the danger of a full-scale war would be grave indeed. It is here that the strained relations between China and the Soviet Union seem to figure more significantly than can be documented.

UNDER THE AGREEMENT he negotiated with his opposite number at Geneva, Soviet delegate Georgi Pushkin, a neutralist government was to be formed in Vientiane with Prince Souvanna Phouma as the principal neutral. Souvanna had been pushed out of the government in the fall of 1960, largely through the machinations of the CIA, and effective power put in the hands of Phoumi Nosavan, a military "strong man." The front for the "strong man" was Prince Boun Oum, who is head of the present government.

Boun Oum — in reality Nosavan — is now refusing to live up to the terms of the Geneva agreement and share the offices.

WHAT HARRIMAN has been discovering in his new office, as he is frank to say, is not that the United States has created satellites in Southeast Asia but that this country tends itself to be a satellite. (Copyright, 1962, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

She Keeps Calm

Knowing ourselves and being able to deal with life's problems is the key to being relaxed and staying calm, according to Suzanne Pleschette, star of "Lovers Must Learn."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Suzanne Pleschette Gives Beauty Hints

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—When I watched Suzanne Pleschette play a love scene with Rossano Brazzi on the "Lovers Must Learn" set, she looked so chic that I could hardly believe that she was the same girl who so brilliantly played the "Miracle Worker" role created by Anne Bancroft.

"I love high, high fashion," Suzanne said later in her dressing room at Warners. "And I believe that it isn't the exclusive property of tall girls. I am only five feet, and I have carefully studied what is best for me. It is things such as necklines, sleeve lengths, collars and patterns that a small girl should check."

As we were talking, my eyes admired Suzanne's long lashes. "If I had not been told that your eyelashes were real, I would have assumed you were wearing false ones," I told her.

"They were so long at one time that I cut them because I couldn't wear sun glasses comfortably," she commented.

We talked of beauty problems and Suzanne said, "There is nothing to undermine your feeling of being attractive like a bad skin. But I was fortunate in finding a doctor who gave me a good oily skin soap to wash my face with and who took me off chocolate, nuts, sea foods, and soon my complexion was cleared."

Suzanne feels that tenseness is another factor that undermines one's attractiveness. She said, "I think rushing and the fear of being late creates tensions. You have to be organized and allow adequate time. When things pile up on you, you must be discriminating and deal with first things first."

"You make it sound so simple," I commented.

"I feel we have to know ourselves to be able to deal with the problems of life. Many complexities are self-made. It isn't always easy to stay relaxed, but I am able to look forward to each day and start it in a leisurely fashion."

Learn to relax with Leaflet M-4 "How to Relax." You'll discover how to let tensions go and command your body to do your will. Don't let yourself be a slave to nerves when simple suggestions will make you feel free and easy all day and night. For your copy of this important leaflet, send only 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California.

Beginner Buys Antiques Starting With Eye-Catcher

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswriters Writer
Is there a key to choosing antiques for the home?

Many amateur collectors ask that question. The current trend to antiques and traditional reproductions is making many people dissatisfied with the furniture they own. Others do not care, but if antiques are the fashionable things to have, they're for them.

People of financial means may rely on reliable dealers to supply them with the finest furniture at a price. The purchaser merely decides whether she wants to live with the formality of say, the popular French salon furniture, or the warmer Provincial styles.

But what of the woman with a small budget who now covets antiques about which she hears so much? She can buy good reproductions. These are so authentic that she can feel they are a pleasing substitute. Or she can settle for a few antique accessories or old American furniture, not quite the before-1830 date that marks an antique.

A great deal of furniture made in the latter half of the 1800s is priced right for beginner collectors. Much of this furniture is NOT worth the price, but one with good taste should know the difference. The good pieces may be some day be classified as antiques. The event will honor the district agent, Mrs. Aubrey Russell from Lubbock, and a prominent club woman, Mrs. Wilbur Smith from Tahoka, the guest speaker. All HD women are invited to attend.

Lomax members were asked to bring March of Dimes contributions to the next meeting which will be with Mrs. Bob Glenn. Standing rules for the club were submitted by Mrs. Etchison.

Mrs. Ralph Newman, vice president, conducted the meeting and a demonstration on how to make lamp shades was presented by Mrs. Neil Fryar who stressed proper lighting for different rooms. Before adjourning members were asked to have their state hospital cookies delivered to Mrs. Newman's home on Feb. 13.

"Women in the Home" was the theme for a meeting of Forsan Study Club Thursday evening in the school cafeteria. The program on "American Homes" was presented by Mrs. C. B. Long. The Pledge of Allegiance was repeated in unison, opening the program.

During a business session members worked on district federated reports, and the next meeting announced for Feb. 15, when a tasting tea will be held at the school beginning at 7:30 p.m. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Roy Lamb and Mrs. A. J. McNallen.

Many Not-New Residences Always Are Up For Sale

By ANDY LANG
AP Newswriters
When you buy a house, the chances are you expect to live in it a long time. But the records show that, on the average, a family lives only six or seven years in the same home. Now you know why there are so many not-new homes up for sale all the time.

What causes this constant shifting of the population into different residences? There is no one reason, not even one reason that stands out above all others. People move for a variety of reasons. The family breadwinner may get a job opportunity in another city or may find that his company has relocated its headquarters or he transferred him to a branch office somewhere else.

ADDED INCOME
The family may have added income that enables it to seek a more luxurious dwelling. The house may be condemned for a public improvement. The area may have become too crowded. The house may be too rundown to make remodeling practical. Or the family may have grown so over the years that there just isn't enough space.

Another contributing factor in this home-to-home movement is the tendency in recent years to move into retirement houses and areas. Old folks once were content to live out their lives wherever they were at the time of retirement. Now they want to sell the old homestead and move somewhere else. In many cases, they move hundreds or thousands of miles away in order to get the benefit of warmer climates. Some prefer retirement developments where the needs and wants of older persons are given special attention. Others prefer to settle in areas where they can mix with younger persons.

MODERN TRANSPORTATION
But there no longer is the feeling of years ago that they must stay close to their children and grandchildren. Modern transportation has made it easier for families to get together even when separated by long distances. Yet it isn't the speed of transportation alone that has generated this feeling. It's a kind of modern attitude that retired people should live where they want to live, not necessarily where their families live.

BUYER BENEFITS
One reason why you often can get a good buy in a home that isn't new is, as we said a few paragraphs back, people expect to live a long time in houses they buy. They make changes, add landscaping and do a dozen other things to turn the house into a home. Then, when they decide to move for one reason or another, the buyer gets the benefit of the improvements.

His only problem is to decide whether it is more economical for him to pay extra for a home with such improvements or to put the improvements in a house that doesn't have them.

Spring Styles Shown At OWC Luncheon

The Valentine season and space age shared the spotlight Thursday when Wing Headquarters Wives were hosts to the Officers Wives Club at the Officers Club at Webb AFB.

More than two hundred officer's wives and civilian guests were present for the style show and luncheon entitled "Spring Into Space." Colorful Valentine decor was used throughout the dining hall. Tables for officers and guests of the club were centered with arrangements of red carnations and white gladioli with accents of styrofoam cupid and hearts. Honeycomb red Valentines completed the decor. Other tables were colorfully decorated with large and valentines.

A large heart, shaped with numerous red heart-shaped valentines, pierced by a cupid's arrow, formed the background on the stage. Places were marked with programs which were faced with lacy red valentines and a white space ship with the lettered theme of the show, "Spring Into Space."

Civilian guests included Mrs. Ralph Quinn, Mrs. Akin Simpson, Mrs. Randall Polk, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. R. W. Whipkey, Mrs. V. J. Belda, Mrs. E. W. Dozier, Mrs. Dean Forrest, Mrs. Imogene Lloyd, Mrs. C. L. Patterson Jr., Miss Rose Timmerman, Dorothy Bell, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. W. J. Phillips and Mrs. Joe Pickle.

Following a short business meeting when the club voted to donate $25 per month to the Big Spring State Hospital for use in entertainment of adolescent patients, Mrs. Dean Forrest presented the style show. Models presented dresses that included fashions for sports and casual wear; at home, street and after five attire.

Showing the clothes furnished by Hemphill-Wells were Mrs. Don Pendergrast, Mrs. Leland Younkin, Mrs. Ronald Austin, Mrs. Robert H. Hartzog Jr., Mrs. Robert McCann, Mrs. Roger Rouleau, Mrs. John Holt, Mrs. Harris Wilhoite, Mrs. Robert Bales, Mrs. Val Nelson, Mrs. Donald Mooty and Mrs. Ronald McKinley.

Mrs. Al Short, organist, played background music for the fashion show, with narration by Mrs. Forrest. The models entered through a silver framed doorway. As an entertainment feature, a humorous skit written by Mrs. Holt, was a takeoff on "Dearie, Do You Remember When?" Mrs. Hartzog assisted Mrs. Holt in the presentation.

A flowered spring hat was worn by Mrs. James Price. Door prizes were won by Mrs. Eric Miller, Mrs. Bobby Gilbert and Mrs. Niles Carter.

Hostesses presented a centerpiece to Mrs. Wilson Banks in recognition of her assistance in arranging the show. Gifts were also given Mrs. Short and Mrs. Forrest.

CHURCH-STATE

Journals Assess Kennedy's Year

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Under such titles as "The Religions Issue Revisited," journals of religion throughout the country have been devoting a good deal of space lately to assessments of the first Catholic President's first year in office.

Most agree President Kennedy has been successful in allaying the fears of some Protestants that church-state separation would suffer with a Catholic in the White House.

Some went even further. "We have the phenomenon," writes John Wicklein in American Judaism, "of a Roman Catholic holding to a stronger and more specific commitment on church and state than any Protestant ever gave."

Similarly, Christian Century, a non-denominational Protestant magazine, began a lead editorial with the flat statement that Kennedy "has compiled a better record on the issue of separation of church and state than any other president we have had in the past 30 years."

The rest of the Christian Century editorial was given to chiding the Jesuit publication America, which a week earlier had presented its Catholic appraisal of the President's first year.

With respect to his church, America said, Kennedy had conducted himself "more or less as almost any Catholic president might have been expected to conduct himself in a land largely dominated, in the cultural sense, by a strong residual Protestant tradition."

The Jesuit journal noted that "for understandable political reasons" the President seemed to avoid close public association with his own church's dignitaries, but that on the other hand "photographs of the President with Protestant spokesmen like evangelist Billy Graham are pure 14-karat gold."

Kennedy "has regularly bent over backward so as to make it dramatically clear to any Southern Baptist who might be watching that he doesn't give an inch." In reply, Baptist Press quotes its executive director of public affairs, C. Emanuel Carlson: "If the President is as politically motivated as the editor (of America) says he is, and if he is as conscious of the Southern Baptists as the editorial claims, then I am very happy that the Southern Baptists are not making great demands for appropriations from the government."

In his article in American Judaism, reporter Wicklein said he had found that many who opposed Kennedy in 1960 on religious grounds today were "mollified but watchful," and that his election had not necessarily quashed the religious issue for all time.

Wicklein said he had discovered that while most former opponents today "have little but good to say about the man they fought so hard," there still appeared to be no change in "the extreme anti-Catholic group that manifested itself so strongly" at the end of the 1960 campaign.

"There are plenty of folk in the Midwest and South," Wicklein wrote, "who aren't going to let Kennedy's support of religious freedom get in the way of their prejudices."

Right Use of the Lord's Day

THE SABBATH DAY; ITS ORIGINAL PURPOSE AND HOW JESUS OBSERVED IT

Scripture—Exodus 20:8-11; Mark 2:27-3:6; Luke 4:16-20, 31-40; Nehemiah 13:15-22.

By N. SPER JONES
 LAST WEEK'S lesson concerned keeping God's name holy; this week's, the Fourth Commandment, stresses keeping a special time holy for God. Our word "sabbath" derives from the Hebrew word "shabbath," which means "to cease or rest." This is related to the Hebrew word "shabbath," which means seven; on the seventh day of creation God rested.

It is interesting to note that this is the only commandment which begins with the admonition "remember." God does not say, "Remember not to kill" or "Remember not to steal"; He simply states the rule not to do so. It would seem that one is not so in danger of forgetting these commandments as of the apparently simple request to keep God's day holy. God knew, however, how easy it is for other thoughts and events to creep in and crowd out man's all-important time with God.

This commandment seems also to have been designed with the poor working man in mind. If all labor ceased, even the lowliest of servants in those days would have an equal chance, with their masters, to communicate with the greatest Master and renew their energies.

The whole purpose of the Fourth Commandment was to turn man's thoughts inward to the truly great things, arresting the dizzy whirl of daily details of living. One wonders if this might not be one of the best medicines for ulcer patients, or one of the best preventative for some heart attacks or mental breakdowns.

Some versions of the Bible render the translation of Mark 3:5, "the hardness of their heart"; the more accurate is "the hardening of their heart." What we are today is not nearly so important as what we are in the process of becoming.

If one does not strive to become something more than he is, as a person, he is dead; he has not the vitality and high purpose which supposedly render him human and, therefore, more and more God-like. Thus it is the process, the becoming, which makes the essence of our life.

IF MATTERS MUCH!
 It matters little where I was born Or whether my parents were rich or poor. Whether they shrank from the cold world's scorn Or dwelt in the pride of wealth secure. But whether I live an honest man, And hold my integrity firm in my clutch, I tell you brother, as plain as I can, It matters much.
 "And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord"—Eph. 6:4 IT MATTERS MUCH!
 A fifteen-year-old youth in New York stabs another his age to death in a rival gang fight. "Nurture" from parents coupled with the "Admonition" of the Lord could have saved this killing. These gangs fighting and would have prohibited the development of the gangs in the first place! I think this over before denying. Yes, IT MATTERS MUCH!
 "That from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus"—II Tim. 3:15. Someone has wisely said, "If you carry the Bible while you are young, it will carry you when you are old." The kind of mother Timothy had and also his grandmother are described in II Tim. 1:5-6. These are the kind of people who MATTER MUCH. It matters a great deal Mother, are you reading your child the truths of the Bible or are you sauntering about your home in modest in your clothes, barely enough to have clothes on at all, foul in your language, with a cigarette dangling from your lips and mad at some neighbor, planning some worldly amusement to pamper the flesh. Then if so, any foreignism, Facism, Communism, Nazism can sit still a little longer and mothers like YOU shall have done their part to sell America morally short. You'll have your blame. YES, IT MATTERS MUCH!
 Where family prayer is daily had God's word is daily read, And faith in Christ is never dead, This is a Christian home. Where family quarrels are pushed aside, To let the love of God abide, Ere darkness falls at even tide, This is a Christian home. IT MATTERS MUCH!

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

NEVER TOO LATE....

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	24	36-44
Monday	Matthew	25	1-13
Tuesday	Romans	8	31-39
Wednesday	Colossians	1	3-8
Thursday	Colossians	1	9-14
Friday	II Corinthians	4	1-6
Saturday	Hebrews	10	19-25

HOW I used to hate to practice the piano when I was a child! Yet, today, how I wish I could play well—and that I had the time to practice!

So often, we turn our back on opportunity, only to find, when we want it, that it's too late.

Not so with the Church. The Church gives you no reason for regrets. If, long ago, you gave up going to church, there is no reason why you can't start again now. Even if you've never gone to church, you'll find a warm welcome awaiting you this and every Sunday. For God's love is constant and everlasting.

In the Church it is, literally, never too late.

Extension Fund Explained To Parish Workers

The Parish Workers of St. Paul Lutheran Church met at the home of Mrs. Albert Hohertz Thursday evening with 27 present.

The program opened with a talk on the "Great Commission" given by Mrs. Hohertz. Speaker for the meeting was Albert Hohertz, who spoke on the Church Extension Fund, giving a brief history and the functions of the fund. The fund is borrowed from the Baptist church, Hohertz explained. Since its formation, the fund has grown from $350 to more than 1 1/2 million dollars. It has helped establish many Lutheran churches throughout Texas.

Attention was directed to the need for layettes and other forms of relief help, especially in foreign countries, by Mrs. Jack Watkins. Sewing for foreign relief was continued on the agenda as a project for the Parish Workers. The group also decided to participate in the Day of Prayer program to be held just prior to the Lenten season.

Received into membership at the meeting were Mrs. Junell Gary and Mrs. John Schatz. Visitors were Mrs. Robert Bryson, Mrs. George Elias, Mrs. Walter Jessup, Mrs. Kenneth Koskela, Mrs. Gus Oppgaard, Mrs. Jim Pullig and Mrs. Paul Rogers.

YMCA Schedules Self Defense Class

A course in the art of self defense will begin today at the YMCA, according to Joe Leach, physical director.

It is similar to a course offered previously for women, but this time, it will be a continued course for both men and women with no specific beginning or ending after today.

Classes will meet from 5:30-7 p.m. each Friday. The day and time may be changed if another hour is found to be more suitable, according to Joe Leach, instructor. Webb was also instructor of the previous course. Students will be taught the basics of self protection.

"It is not a judo course," Webb said. "Not everyone needs or wants to learn judo, but everyone should learn to protect himself or herself should they be attacked." The course is free to Y members.

Good Crowd For Gym Program

Dance and Gym Night at the YMCA Thursday was met with enthusiasm by the 174 adult spectators, according to Joe Leach, physical director and master of ceremonies for the program. "This is the largest crowd we have had for this program," Leach said. "Every chair in the building was used and there were still persons standing."

Girls and boys performed in groups and together in gym exercises demonstrations and in dance numbers. In addition, there were two duet performances by Miriam Jolley and Rene Burson.

Mrs. Ora Burson directed the girls and Leach led the boys.

"I believe that my experience, education and background qualify me to hold the office of district judge, and if elected I will fairly and impartially administer the duties of district judge and can and will make a fair and honorable judge. I will utilize the power and authority of the office to expedite litigation and to eliminate delays and strive for efficiency in the operation of our judiciary. "Due to the fact that I am now actively engaged in the practice of law, I shall not be able to contact all of the voters of the 118th Judicial District as I must devote considerable time to my private practice of law. If I do not contact you personally, please do not feel that I am slighting anyone, but earnestly solicit your support. I personally know many, many voters, having lived in Big Spring for the past 34 years, but those who do not know me, I urge you to ask anyone that does know me and inquire into my background and qualifications and I shall be content to abide by their opinions. Again, I earnestly solicit your vote and help in the forthcoming election, and appreciate very much the kind words and encouragement of many friends and citizens in this area."

Sermons Listed

"Communion With Christ" has been chosen as the topic for the 11 a.m. Sunday service at the Northside Methodist Church. The sermon will be in Spanish, the Rev. Ramon Navarro, pastor, said. Title of the 7:30 p.m. sermon will be "Learning to Pray with Christ."

Police Check On Burglaries

Five reports of burglaries and thefts were investigated by Big Spring police Wednesday, including one theft by bailie.

Thomas Office Supply reported that a typewriter had been rented for a week, and that it was overdue. A check of the address and telephone number given by the renter showed they were those of another person who did not know the person signing the rental statement.

Albert Knapp, 410 E. 21st, reported that a screen had been cut and a window opened at his home. Investigation showed that two cartons of .22 caliber ammunition, a wrench, and a screwdriver were missing.

J. E. Hughes, owner of the Auction Barn, 801 Lamesa Drive, called police to investigate theft of $3 in change from the cash register and a transistor radio valued at $10. A window had been broken and footprints were found outside the window.

It took a small person to get through iron bars six inches apart to enter the Col-Tex Service station at 1003 Lamesa, where a window was broken out. The cash register drawer was open and about $2 in pennies missing.

T. O. McGee, owner of a house at 104 Dupee, called officers to investigate theft of approximately $110 worth of plumbing equipment and mattresses from his rent house. Two mattresses, a hot water heater and several pieces of plumbing fixtures, were missing. McGee, pastor of the Church of God in Christ, said he had rented the house about two weeks ago to a woman but she had not moved in. The lock was missing from the front door.

Other investigations made by police included windows broken at 701 E. 1st and a bunch of mail boxes piled in the middle of Wason Road.

Two Sergeants Retire At Webb

Two Webb AFB master sergeants with a combined service total of more than 40 years Wednesday were retired from the Air Force. They were M. Sgt. Garrod N. Neighbors, 751st Mobile Training Detachment, and M. Sgt. Arthur E. Archer, 3560th Consolidated Maintenance Squadron.

Sgt. Neighbors joined the U.S. Air Corps in June, 1961. He has served in Africa, Germany, Greece, Puerto Rico, Korea, Japan, the Philippines, Italy, Iran and Ethiopia. He came to Webb last July. Sgt. Neighbors plans to live in Springfield, Ill.

Also with continuous duty since 1941 is the career of Sgt. Archer who entered the Air Corps in July of that year. Sgt. Archer spent most of his early career at Enid, Okla., and during the Korean conflict he had duty in Korea. He came to Webb in September, 1953. The retiring T-37 Section Chief plans to live in Oklahoma City, Okla.

LEWIS E. HEFLIN

Lewis Heflin Asks Support In Judge Race

Lewis E. Heflin, 42, announced today that he is seeking the Democratic nomination as county judge of Howard County.

He said he would do his best to carry to voters personally a positive program for administration of the office if honored with it.

Mr. Heflin has resided in Howard County for the past two years. He came here in 1938 and was married to the former Juanita Gibbs. There were five children in the family and Mr. and Mrs. Heflin make their home at 1509 Lancaster. He is a member of the West Side Baptist Church.

Except for time out during World War II to serve in Army ordinance, Mr. Heflin has been associated with businesses here. For the past three years he has been in business for himself.

He is a past president of the Big Spring Jaycees.

"In announcing for this office," he said, "I am aware of its importance and of the responsibility, but I feel that I am old enough to possess sound and mature judgement and young enough to be vigorous and hard-working."

"I will work for a continuous improvement of the county's road system. I will work for tax equalization. I will devote my energies to keep the county court docket as nearly current as possible. I will try to apply the principles of business operation to the county's affairs, and I will encourage the county to be a pacesetter for progress here."

Zachary Was Low Bidder For Big Dam

A contract award to H. B. Zachary of San Antonio for construction of the Bureau of Reclamation dam across the Canadian River is expected to be made within a few weeks.

Zachary was easily the low bidder on the project organized by the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

His bid was for $17,868,160, and was $1,579,622 below bureau estimates, the second lowest bid submitted by Con West Corp., Parkville, Mo. in the amount of $21,175,735, and others ran up to a top of $26,032,064.

The actual award will be announced by the Bureau of Reclamation office in Denver, Colo. When the contract is announced, the contractor will be allowed about 3 1/2 years to construct the dam.

Subsequent contracts will be awarded for the construction of the vast pipeline system which will carry water to Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Levelland, Tahoka, Lamesa and other cities. The complete project may have a cost figure of approximately 90 million dollars, according to previous estimates.

Loan, Spending Bills Die As Session Ends

AUSTIN (AP)—The House and Senate took turns killing a loan shark bill and a $519,000 spending bill in the final minutes of the Legislature's third special session Thursday night.

First the senators rejected, 16-14, a conference committee compromise on the loan measure.

Then the representatives returned from dinner and voted down, 132-15, a conference version of the appropriations bill.

Both chambers hurriedly named new conferees to negotiate on the spending measure. After two tries, House members still refused to concur.

DEATH BLOW
Senate rejection of the loan shark compromise proved to be its death sentence. Five Senate conferees were named but got no chance for a last minute try. The House failed to send anyone to meet with them.

House members gave quick 85-57 approval to the loan bill.

Gov. Price Daniel, talking with reporters shortly after the session ended, said he was not in a position to say when he would call another. Later, at a news conference, he said he would not call another session "in the foreseeable future."

He would not elaborate on how long that might be, but added as he was leaving: "I just don't have any plans to call them back at the moment."

The governor said he was "deeply disappointed the loan regulation bill was not passed after all the work we put in on it. I am disappointed the tourist program will not proceed to get the added revenue for our state that is so badly needed. I am also very unhappy repairs for the San Jacinto Monument were not voted."

PENDING BILL
With just 20 minutes left before the midnight deadline, the Senate approved the spending bill by voice vote.

Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro made a futile last second effort to push through a bill to let him spend money already appropriated to pay Senate employees' salaries for the past two weeks. He got Senate approval, but the House refused to give him the money.

The appropriations bill would have provided $275,000 to advertise Texas tourist facilities, $180,000 for Prairie View A&M College to repair fire damage, $58,300 for 10 new juvenile parole officers and $6,000 for Southwest Texas State College—all from the general revenue fund.

In addition, it would have allowed the Game and Fish Commission to spend $104,530 of its money, primarily for repair of damage by Hurricane Carla to a laboratory in the Gulf Coast area.

The stumbling block in the spending measure was a provision which carried no appropriation from general revenue funds—permission for the Building Commission to begin planning a $750,000 state parking garage near the Capitol.

DREW PRAISE
The loan shark bill, which brought high praise from Daniel's office, would have covered loans up to $800, with accelerated interest rates up to $300.

Regulatory provisions of the bill drew praise even from opponents who succeeded in killing the measure in the Senate. It was primarily the $800 ceiling on regulated loans which brought defeat. Another major barrier was the sliding interest rate scale, which opponents contended would put small loan companies out of business.

The bill would have permitted 3 per cent a month interest on loans up to $100, 2.5 per cent on $100 to $200 and 2 per cent on $200 to $300 loans.

Loans between $300 and $800 would still have borne the 10 per cent constitutional limit, although the first $300 would have carried the accelerated rate.

The midnight deadline ended 30 days of furious arguments that began over dormant bank accounts and ended in controversies over loan shark regulation, money to attract tourists and natural gas for irrigation pumps.

ESCHEAT LAWS
Daniel originally called the special session for one purpose: Getting Texas banks under state abandoned property laws. On the opening day, he expanded the call to include regulation of small loan firms, more money to maintain farm roads and another appropriations bill mostly to bolster sagging tourist trade.

Subsequently he added reorganization of the State Board of Water Engineers as a major subject.

Still later, after considerable progress was made on the major subjects, Daniel opened the door to a flood of local and special interest bills.

First of the major issues to win legislative approval was a bill providing $18 million a year for farm road maintenance in addition to restoring $15 million in new road construction funds vetoed by the governor after the last session. It went to the governor's desk Jan. 15.

Both houses completed work

Jan. 19 on the reorganization of the State Board of Water Engineers. The immediate change was reorganization of the three-man board in charge of policy matters while a chief engineer handles administrative and engineering matters as directed by policy.

FINAL APPROVAL
The controversial dormant bank accounts bill won final approval Jan. 22. This measure, effective 90 days after the end of the session, requires banks to advertise once a year for the owners of all unclaimed accounts.

Accounts under $25 go to the state if the advertising produces no results after one year. Accounts over $25 must be turned into a state conservator fund or the advertising continued annually. Owners or their heirs always would be able to regain the money, either from the banks or the state.

Delaying talk in the Senate spelled defeat for House-passed bills to make San Angelo College and Pan American College fully state supported by 1965.

The Senate refused to consider, and thus killed, a bill setting up safety regulations for house trailers. It also killed a bill prohibiting voters in one party's primary to cast ballots in another party's runoff election.

The first measure to die on the final day was a bill which would have allowed users of natural gas for agricultural purposes the right to appeal rates to the Railroad Commission. The Senate refused 14-12 to accept another conference committee report.

The Senate stopped the clock at 11:50 p.m. to have time for making Sen. Culp Krueger's election as interim president pro tempore official. The 48-year-old El Campo senator was nominated at a closed caucus in the afternoon.
