ASTROLOGERS IN VIOLENT DISAGREEMENT

Doomsday: No Doom Yet

Associated Press Writer

In case you haven't noticed, doomsday is near.

That, at any rate, is the prediction of a group of Indian astrologers who have forecast a variety of dire events for either Sunday or Monday.

But whether the earth is in turmoil by the time you read this, astrologers certainly are. From the United States to India, they are in violent disagreement as to just what Sunday will portend.

To give you an idea of the range of their disagreement, one group has said the human race may end by Monday, while another says the earth may be in for a new golden age.

Astronomers think all of the astrologers are starstruck. They make it their business to observe the heavens from a purely detached point of view, and they see no fateful meaning in the way the planets are lined up.

That, by the way, is the cause of all this excitement. Although you won't be able to see anything special in the heavens unless you happen to be in the area of Borneo, the five visible planets are putting on quite a celestial spectacle.

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn are all lined up comparatively close together with the sun and the moon. In Borneo and out at sea in the Pacific, this lineup will cause an eclipse of the sun Monday.

Astronomers think all of this is very interesting, and several of them have gone on expeditions to New Guinea to watch the show. But they say it's all predictable and happens with a fair amount of regularity about 10 times every thousand years. The last time the lineup occurred was in 1821.

Astrologers — who believe the movements of the heavenly bodies affect human affairs — are considerably more impressed.

Last month, Tahahita Manturani said she and a group of Californians moved to the Arizona mountain town of Clearor because astrologers designated it as one of 12 places in the world to be spared catastrophe. She has since moved away and others in the group, known as Understanding Inc., deny that they expect any dire event, explaining that they settled in Clearor only to retire.

Astrology plays a strong role in the religions of the East and holy men there have been concerned about the coming collection of the planets for months. Thousands have been praying and fasting to avert catastrophe.

In Singapore, Hindus have been offering special prayers in their homes and temples all weekend.

The Indian astrologers say the factors in the present lineup of the planets are not as common as the astronomers think. In astrological terms, they say, the last time a similar collection occurred was 4,974 years ago, and it touched off one of the bloodiest wars in Indian history.

The dire predictions have included earthquakes, storms, floods the outbreak of World War III and even the end of the human race. In case you're beginning to worry, remember that not all the astrologers agree. What they do agree on is that the planetary conjunction will have SOME effect, but from there they go separate ways. Some think the effect will be unpropitious but not disastrous. Others think the effect will be good.

Heavy Fogs Cause Deaths, Much Damage

By The Associated Press

Fog cast a perilous pall over many areas of the nation Saturday, shutting some airfields for hours and causing scores of highway accidents.

The heavy mist closed airports in California over a 700-mile stretch from Sacramento to San Diego during the late night and early morning hours.

As the fog spread into Southern California there were more automobile accidents than police could keep up with.

Fog persisted in California's Central Valley, where it has caused 23 traffic deaths in a week. But some hope for improvement was raised for residents of the foggy San Joaquin Valley.

The Weather Bureau reported zero visibility early in the day in Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno and Bakersfield, Calif., and Reno, Nev.

A New York Central freight train rumbled into a standing freight train in thick haze near Walkerton, Ind.,. Four crewmen were injured.

A United Air Lines jetliner carrying 124 persons skidded after landing at New York's Idlewild Airport. The DC8 skidded when it neared the end of a runway and the right main landing gear rolled over snow and sand. Haze shrouded the field at the time.

A Northwest Airlines jet, with 107 passengers aboard, coming in high because of fog, landed at Milwaukee's Billy Mitchell Field and went off a runway into snow. Nobody was hurt and no damage was reported.

Landings were suspended but takeoffs continued at Chicago's O'Hare and Midway airports during the morning mist.

Congo Chief Arrives For Conferences

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula arrived Saturday to talk with Soviet U.N. Delegate Valerian A. Zorin. But he said he was still against the Security Council debate on the Congo that Zorin initiated.

Arriving here to confer with acting Secretary-General U Thant, Adoula told reporters no council meeting on the Congo was necessary now.

He will receive Zorin, a deputy foreign minister, in his New York hotel suite Sunday noon. But he said he did not know why Zorin had asked to see him.

Zorin made the request Jan. 25, saying the council should do something about the continued secession of Katanga Province.

Three days later, Adoula cabled his objections, describing the Soviet bid as a maneuver and declaring that such a meeting could only create confusion and damage Congolese interests.

In a clear reference to Katanga President Moise Tshombe's recent gestures toward ending the secession, Adoula said the Congo's situation was "showing marked improvement" from the standpoint of territorial integrity.

When the council convened Tuesday, U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson cited Adoula's objections and got it to adjourn without going beyond a procedural discussion.

On his current American visit, Adoula is seeking friends in all quarters. Now that he has agreed to see Zorin, he will be meeting with U.N. delegates of both the Soviet Union and the United States before he goes to Washington.

Kennedy To Offer Education Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy reportedly will stress to Congress Tuesday the importance of education to the nation's survival, without unveiling any new proposals.

Informed sources said Saturday the special education message will spell out in more detail the need as Kennedy sees it for programs already outlined in the State of the Union and budget messages.

The President's budget message put estimated expenditure for existing, and proposed education programs for the year beginning July 1 at $1.5 billion.

Persons familiar with the forthcoming message said it will carry new appeals for these programs:

- Aid for classroom construction and teacher salaries for public elementary and secondary schools, a three-year program estimated to cost $600 million the first year and a total of $2.1 billion. This legislation foundered in Congress last year, largely because of a controversy over aid to church schools. Its 1962 prospects are not regarded as bright.
- Loans of $300 million annually for five years to colleges and universities for construction of academic facilities, and provision for

Reiff Relieved As H-SU Prexy

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Trustees of Hardin-Simmons University "regretfully accepted" Saturday the resignation of Dr. Evan A. Reiff as president.

Dr. W. B. Irvin, chairman of the board, said that because of his illness and hospitalization Reiff was being relieved of all responsibilities but would remain as titular head of the university until July 1.

George Graham, executive vice president, will perform the duties of president until a new president is named.

Reiff announced his resignation Jan. 25, explaining he needed rest. He has been a patient in Hendrick Memorial Hospital since Wednesday. The nature of his illness has not been announced.

Dawson Crop Sets Record

LAMESA (SC) — Dawson County's record-breaking 1961 cotton crop was pegged at 213,217 bales on Feb. 2 in a final tabulation by the local office of the Texas Employment Commission.

The bumper crop set an all-time high, exceeding by 20,217 bales the old mark of 193,000 bales which was reported in 1949. It also marked the fifth straight year for an increase in cotton production that started with 120,000 bales in 1957.

To Visit Poland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward M. Kennedy, President Kennedy's youngest brother, will visit Poland sometime this month, diplomatic sources report.

Sell Stockpiled Goods And Reduce Budget, Says Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., proposed Saturday that Congress direct President Kennedy to sell $3.4 billion in stockpiled strategic materials and use the receipts to balance the budget.

"If we could get money from his excessive accumulation of materials flowing into the Treasury we might be able to balance the budget and keep from increasing the debt limit," Byrd said in an interview.

Byrd disclosed he has agreed to clear the road for investigation by a special committee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., of what Kennedy called the excessive stockpiling of $7.7 billion in war emergency items.

The Senate is expected to be asked to approve a $30,000 outlay for a staff to inquire into the situation before the group begins hearings in about a month.

Senate Republican leaders had

Fronzizi Has New Troubles In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Defying his powerful critics at home, President Arturo Fronzizi declared Saturday Argentina's refusal to vote for expulsion of Cuba from the inter-American family was a blow for "the basic principles of self-determination and nonintervention."

In a warning to the United States and 13 Latin-American nations voting to expel Cuba at Punta del Este, Uruguay, Fronzizi said the death of these principles would turn the hemisphere over to "the law of the jungle."

Fronzizi spoke out in an address at Parana at a time when he appeared to have settled a crisis with his armed forces chiefs. Angered by Argentina's so-called soft stand at the hemisphere's foreign ministers meeting, they had demanded he break relations with Communist Cuba.

Fronzizi then summoned home ambassador Julio Amodeo from Havana and a communique announced that Argentina would vote to oust Cuba from the Organization of American States when the issue came before the group's council meeting in Washington.

Warm Day Is Near Record

BOILING AGAIN

Fronzizi's defiant defense of the Argentine stand at Punta del Este could set the crisis boiling again.

Government sources said, however, the speech did not mean that Fronzizi had gone back on his pledge Friday night to support the full Punta del Este declaration, including the 14-nation resolution for Cuba's ouster from inter-American agencies.

Military sources had no immediate comment on the speech.

In Fronzizi urged the Argentine people to "continue your support for law and order."

Fronzizi accused "reactionary sectors" in the United States of conspiring with "their direct and indirect agents in Latin-American countries to foster insurrection against the national governments which fight for the dignity and independence of their peoples."

Kennedy Puts Full Ban On Cuba Imports

Tanks Poised For French Uprising

PARIS (AP)—Tanks were poised outside Paris Saturday night and more than 25,000 anti-riot police stood ready in the city to repel the uprising which a great many Frenchmen think will be attempted by the right-wing secret army to break up prospective independence of Algeria.

In Algiers and Oran, where the terrorist European underground has gunned down opponents in the palm-lined streets in an effort to keep Algeria French, troops and police also stood edgily alert.

French and Algerian nationalist negotiators are widely reported, though without official confirmation, to have reached at least a basic agreement on the eventual independence of Algeria after seven years of bootedness.

Some felt the ruling rebel bodies might approve or reject the settlement by Feb. 6 or 7, — before the beginning of Ramadan, the month when Moslems fast each day from sunrise to sunset.

Space Launch Set This Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency plans to launch the fourth Tiro weather satellite this week.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the launching was scheduled "in the near future."

Tiros IV will be almost identical to its predecessors except for a considerably improved lens system for one of its two television cameras.

The Weather Bureau announced that a few hours after Tiros IV goes into orbit, information from it would be on the way to Weather Bureau stations around the world.

The bureau said that cloud photographs sent to earth by the first three Tiros satellites on many occasions have revealed information that led to significant improvement in current weather analyses.

"To the forecaster, the greatest value of the satellites is their ability to observe weather systems over the four-fifths of the earth's surface—oceans, deserts and uninhabited areas—where there is little or no conventional meteorological information," the bureau said.

The fourth in a series of seven Tiros satellites now planned, the cylindrical, bathtub-shaped, 285-pound package of instruments will be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. by a three-stage Thor-Delta vehicle.

If the launching is successful, the satellite will circle the earth about every 99 minutes, at an altitude of about 400 miles.

Women, 2 Children Held Until $5,000 Ransom Paid

CHICAGO (AP)—A mother and her two teen-age children told police Saturday of their terror when they were abducted from their home by two gunmen and held in a dingy flat more than five hours. They were freed after $5,000 ransom was paid.

"We sat frozen," Gloria Chanenson, 42, told investigators. "I told the kids not to move. The two men kept fingering their guns."

Lawrence Chanenson, 14, said, "It was like a bad dream."

Mrs. Chanenson's husband, Irving, said the family's ordeal began Thursday night when he answered a knock at the door.

Chanenson, 43, said he was asked to sign for a package. Then three other men walked in with guns. Chanenson told police they touched and one wore a surgical mask covering the lower part of his face.

Chanenson said they demanded $40,000. Two of the gunmen left with the mother and two children, ordered them to lie down in the back of a station wagon owned by Chanenson's father, and drove them to the tenement hideout on the South Side.

One of the gunmen remained behind. He and Chanenson haggled for some six hours, until dawn Friday, over the amount of ransom. The demand finally was scaled down to $5,000.

Chanenson said he withdrew the money from the bank, drove a few miles from his home as instructed, and delivered it in two paper bags to his contact.

Soon after this, Mrs. Chanenson said, there was a phone call in the flat. Eventually she noticed no one was around and she and the children slipped out to the street and took a cab home. They were unharmed.

Chanenson did not report the kidnaping to police until his family was safely home.

Action Called Severe Blow For Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy tightened the U.S. economic squeeze on Cuba Saturday, ordering a complete ban on imports of Cuban products. The action will cost Cuba $35 million a year.

Administration officials said that the embargo, effective next Wednesday, will be a severe blow to the ability of Prime Minister Fidel Castro to export Communist subversion to other Latin-American countries.

His dollar income last year was under $100 million, officials said, so the new U.S. action will reduce it by one-third this year.

Fort Worth Show Setting Records

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show neared the finish line Saturday.

W. R. Watt, president - general manager, estimated that more than 100,000 persons will have seen the rodeo and horse show by Sunday night as it closes, and that nearly 500,000 persons will have toured the grounds.

"We've simply broken every record we've ever had," he added.

Girl Perishes In Bathtub Accident

DALLAS (AP) — The daughter of a Dallas lawyer drowned in her bathtub Saturday night when police called a tragic accident.

She was Camille White, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis White.

The mother said her daughter went into the bathroom at 9:30 a. m. and that several minutes later she found the girl's body submerged in the tub.

Police Sgt. Don Fluche said an abrasion over the right cheekbone led investigators to believe the girl slipped, knocking herself unconscious, causing her to drown.

Mexico Envoy Is Named By Daniel

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel named state Rep. Joe Ratcliff of Dallas Saturday as Texas' goodwill ambassador to Mexico.

Ratcliff said the Mexican government has invited him to come to Mexico City to discuss a co-operation program for developing the tourist industry in Texas and Mexico.

Governor's Race At Full Boil With Entry Of Daniel, Walker

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer
Campaigns for Texas' top political jobs shaped up Saturday as office seekers paid their entry fees for the summer primaries.

The deadline for reserving a place on either ballot is Monday at midnight.

The field is crowded. State Democratic Committee headquarters reported 42 statewide candidates had plunked down cash filing fees. At least half that many more are expected by Monday night, executive director Clyde Johnson said.

The state Republican Committee headquarters, also in Austin, had filing fees from four statewide candidates. Executive director Jim Leonard predicted several times that number would come in Monday.

The hottest race is for governor. However, the lieutenant governor's race, with six announced Democrats and two Republicans, is likely to be a slam-bang campaign also. The fast developing race for congressman-at-large doesn't look like a sewing circle prospect.

The steaming governor's race exploded into a full boil Friday when Gov. Price Daniel and former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker enlisted. Already campaigning at full speed were these Democrats: Former Navy Sec. John Connally, Chairman Marshall Formby, city Gen. Will Wilson, and Houston lawyer Don Yarborough. Republican Jack Cox also was campaigning.

Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, who once was considered a sure gubernatorial candidate, eased a number of fears Friday by paying his filing fee for re-election to Congress.

Filing fees for statewide offices, both parties, are $1,000 except for congressman-at-large, which is $1,125 and the courts of civil appeals are $900.

Here are the statewide Democratic candidates, including the courts of civil appeals, who have paid their filing fees:

For governor: John Connally, Marshall Formby, Will Wilson, Edwin Walker.

Lieutenant governor: Preston

M'NAMARA VS. COMMITTEE

Showdown Coming On Censor Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., said Saturday congressional self-respect requires a showdown in a row between Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and a Senate investigating subcommittee.

McNamara and the subcommittee were reported still at loggerheads over the secretary's refusal to tell its members which Pentagon censors had altered the texts of specific anti-Communist speeches prepared for delivery by military officers.

The secretary said he would shoulder full responsibility, rather than let subordinates face possible criticism for having obeyed his directives. He explained he felt it would injure department morale to expose subordinates.

McNamara has disclosed the censors' names but not what specific censoring they did.

Subcommittee members, Case among them, have been talking of possible contempt of Congress citations to back their demands for the information. McNamara has indicated belief that if anyone is to be cited for contempt it should be he and not any censor who might refuse, on his orders, to answer questions.

A peace conference between McNamara and a delegation from the subcommittee ended Friday with both sides described as giving no sign of budging. They are to meet again this week.

The inquiry is in recess. Case told a reporter "the subcommittee in self-respect will have to assert the right of Congress to ask questions of members of the executive branch of the government in my view."

He said that if the officials don't want to answer, they could then claim "executive privilege" — which McNamara has said he does not want done — and the subcommittee then should determine whether the claim was properly taken.

Case said refusal to accept such a claim, and a continued deadlock, could bring contempt action by Congress.

He said he is not disturbed because a contempt citation, if voted by Congress, would go to the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for determination whether it merited grand jury consideration.

"That is one of the entanglements that comes from that appointment," Case said, "but I am not ready to assume the attorney general would fail to do his duty just because his brother happens to be president."

McNamara reportedly was warned in his unsuccessful peace talks with Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., the subcommittee chairman, and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that it would reflect on Kennedy if the secretary stuck to his refusals. But Case said he doubts McNamara would have taken his position without prior consultation with the White House.

NO MISTAKES IN THE BIBLE

By E. H. Tarkenton, preacher,
Church of Christ, 2000 West Highway 30
P.O. Box 1385.

A reader objects to the teaching that there is but one church, the church of Christ.

He states that he knows of people who "asked God to grant them certain favors and they were granted" even though these people "did not belong to the earthly church of Christ that you preach for".

It is evident there is a mistake somewhere. There could be a mistake about these people receiving the blessings as a result of their own prayers. The blessings may have resulted from the prayers of someone in their behalf, even of someone they do not know.

taken in thinking it is the church of Christ for which I preach.

Humans can be mistaken. But there are no mistakes in the Bible. The Bible is not mistaken when it states that the saved are added to the church (Acts 2:47); or when it says the church is the body, and there is one body, and that the church belongs to Christ (Col. 1:18; Eph. 4:4; Mat. 16:18).

Walker Continues Communism Fight

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker said Saturday his race for governor is part of his fight against international communism.

"The reason I am running and my platform are the same," he told a news conference. "That is the need to defend the United States under God in a struggle for survival against international communism. With nine million others, I want Texans to lead this fight."

Walker lighted one cigarette after another. He leaned back in a chair with two microphones hung around his neck, carefully considering each question before answering. Occasionally he said "no comment."

Walker surprised state Democratic officials Friday by walking in and presenting a $1,000 check to get his name on the ballot at the May 5 primary.

Asked why he ran on the Democratic ticket instead of Republican and about his voting record, Walker said he thought he voted for a Democratic presidential candidate once and he remembered voting twice for Republican candidates.

"I have acceded to demands to run for governor of Texas," Walker read from a two-page statement.

"My friends and supporters are nationwide. It all started in Germany where I received 4,000 letters, petitions and resolutions. . . . Since my return I have had 150 requests to speak.

"National survival is the overriding issue. America's no-win policy has put the nation in dire peril."

"There is no hope in sight for relief from the devious dealers of machine politics," he said.

Near the end of the statement he said he "supported 100 per cent the processes of constitutional government."

"I entered a race where there was national interest and which was of interest to both parties. . . . I am confident of the loyal patriotism of Texans. I am running on my own. I make my own decisions. I hang on no one's coat tails."

Walker said he had been told it takes a strong political organization and a "fabulous sum" to run for governor of Texas.

"I have neither the political machine nor a big bank account. My confidence comes from the assurance of support of small patriotic contributions to my campaign. . . . rely on volunteer efforts and committees at the grass roots level" to extend my cause and my support," he said.

He was asked if he had financial support from H. L. Hunt, wealthy Dallas oil man.

"My support comes from hundreds of small checks all over the country, mostly in Texas. I am in no way committed to Mr. Hunt who I consider a fine gentleman and an inspired American."

Walker said he had consulted Hunt as "I guess I have consulted 300 people."

He was asked if he is a member of the John Birch Society. "If I was not a member I would be considering being a member," he answered. When pressed by the questioner, he said that meant "yes" he is a member.

Max L. Thomas, 30, announced Saturday that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination as county commissioner from Precinct 2.

A lifelong resident of the precinct he seeks to represent, Thomas is a resident of the Otischalk community and associated with an oil production company.

Thomas was reared at Coahoma and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Thomas of Coahoma. He also is a graduate of Coahoma High School, and since two years of service in Army radar work, one year of it in Korea in 1953, he has been with the Basin Oil Company at Otischalk. In 1954 he was married to the former Verna Clinton.

Thomas said that he felt he had accumulated a background of experience in his work which would enable him to make sound decisions, but that he still was young enough to devote his full energy to the task of being a good commissioner.

He said he favored a strong, systematic program on county road maintenance and construction. His long residence in Coahoma and Otischalk afforded him a chance to become familiar with the conditions in the precinct and with the expectations of the people.

"I know it will be impossible to see everyone," he added, "but I hope this announcement will be considered as a personal appeal for your vote and influence even though I might not, try as hard as I may, contact you personally. I will do my dead level best to do the job in a manner to justify your trust in me," he concluded.

Stolen Vehicle Is Abandoned In Arizona

A station wagon stolen here last September has been located in Arizona, according to word reaching Sheriff Miller Harris. The car, owned by Mack Tate, was stolen here on Sept. 25.

Harris said Arizona authorities informed him the car had been found abandoned near Benson. However, the officers later said that it had been misplaced and a new effort to establish its whereabouts was under way Saturday.

Word of the car reached here when a garage in Arizona sought to seize the vehicle for payment of repairs made on it. This effort led to the disclosure the car was stolen.

Legion Post Is Sponsoring Dance

The American Legion post is sponsoring a Valentine dance Friday evening at the Settles Hotel. Post officials said that the affair, to which the public is invited at a $2 script, will get under way at 9 p.m. Music will be by the Manuel Puga orchestra.

Students In Protest March

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A small group of students from Trinity and St. Mary's Universities marched in front of the Mexican consulate Saturday protesting Mexico's Cuban policy.

F. S. Hipple of Houston, a Trinity senior who is co-chairman of the Students for Anti-Communist Action, said the demonstration was a "proxy" action against all nations which did not vote for expulsion of Cuba from the Organization of American States at the Punta Del Este conference.

The students presented a formal letter of protest to Consul General Angel Cano del Castillo, saying:

"The Mexican government has failed to assume its obligation for the collective defense of the Western Hemisphere by instructing its representative to abstain on the crucial vote to evict Castro," the letter said.

Cano told the students "I think you have misunderstood the position of Mexico. There is no legal point in the constitution of the OAS allowing for the expulsion of any member."

Daniel Cites Eight Planks In Seeking A Fourth Term

AUSTIN (AP) — An eight-plank platform was listed by Gov. Price Daniel in announcing he is a candidate for an unprecedented fourth term.

He called for better law enforcement through new statutes and revision of existing laws, further educational advancement, state-finance efforts to woo new industries and tourists, sales tax revisions and a balanced budget.

"Two years ago, when I was running for re-election as your governor," he said, "I would never have thought of offering at this time for another term. . . ."

"However, during the past year, circumstances have caused me to at least consider the matter. . . . I have purposely kept this as a possibility for several reasons, not the least of which has been the failure of the legislature to enact these enforcement measures."

Declaring no public official is indispensable, Daniel said at another point:

"There are many Texans who are capable of doing this job, but I know of none with the experience that I will take to get the job done who has evidenced the energy, devotion and persistence needed under the present circumstances existing in our state."

Daniel outlined this platform:

1. "Improvement of law enforcement procedures, practices and statutes, including support of 10 specific legislative proposals."

The proposals include revision of criminal laws, a small loan regulation bill, more juvenile parole officers, authority for district judges to try juveniles 16 or older, prohibition of obscene movies, stronger narcotic peddling penalties, chemical drunk driving tests, an updated driver license law, stronger lobbyist regulation and a ban on legislators practicing before the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

2. "Continued improvements in our public schools and colleges."

Returned Here

Miller Harris, sheriff, returned Bonnie Sue Reynolds, wanted here to answer a forgery charge, from Temple on Saturday. The woman was arrested in Temple on a local warrant.

He cited increased support for colleges and higher teachers' salaries under his administration but made no specific recommendations.

3. "Adequate financing of the State Industrial Commission and the tourist attraction program for bringing new industries and tourists to Texas." A Daniel-supported bill to appropriate $300,000 for advertising tourist attraction died in the special session.

4. "A complete study to provide reorganization of the state government and its fiscal system, a balanced budget, and every possible economy. . . ."

5. "Correction of the inequities in the new sales tax law." Daniel said he would oppose any increase in the sales tax or any effort to enact a state income tax but favored switching income of the ad valorem tax from the state to cities and towns.

6. "Defend the recent tax placed on gas pipeline companies."

7. "Work for continued good relations between management and labor."

8. "Continue to work against excessive oil imports and federal price fixing on natural gas."

As Mess Girl, She Sees Seas

HOUSTON (AP)—Girls seldom answer the call of the sea. Agatha Johnson, 23, is the exception. The blonde, blue-eyed lass always wanted to see the sea.

"And oh boy, have I seen it," she said Saturday.

Last year and 30,000 miles ago the California college student interrupted a trip from San Francisco to New York to sign on a Norwegian ship at New Orleans as a mess girl.

Since then she has seen the Coral Sea, the South China Sea, the Sea of Japan and a lot of ocean in between.

"Now I just want to see a bit of land for a change," she said with a sigh.

Her ship, the SS Gisna, is docked in Houston now. The next stop is New Orleans and the end of Agatha's wandering for a while.

"I've got to go back to school," she said.

She said someone suggested "It might be good fun to work on a ship and see the world so I signed on as a mess boy."

She waits tables in the junior officers' mess.

First Aid Instruction

Three students in the sixth grade at South Ward School practice what they have learned about first aid in their physiology course. The Red Cross First Aid Textbook is used as supplementary material to show students practical applications of information they learn about the body. Displaying the bandaged arm is Beth Frazier. Checking with the book to make sure everything is correct are Nancy Mathis and Ralph Long.

Red Cross First Aid Work Offered As School Course

In perhaps a unique combination, the American Red Cross and a Big Spring elementary school have teamed up on a course offering.

The Red Cross Manual on First Aid for Junior Red Cross members is being used as a supplementary text in a sixth grade physiology course at the South Ward School.

Some 100 students in four sections are using the manual during the second semester of instruction in the course, according to Mrs. H. L. Derrick. Although no other school in Big Spring uses it, the manual has been used at South Ward for a number of years and this year has been extended to four sections.

"The addition of first aid instruction to the health course has helped tremendously to stimulate student interest," she said. "In learning about first aid, the students review what they have learned about the human body and the knowledge stays with them much longer."

During the first half, the regular text was used to acquaint the children with basic information about the human body and animal life from the one-cell stage to more complex organisms. The course even includes a brief excursion into the world of the atom. Once the foundation of knowledge has been laid, the students can build on it to increase their knowledge of the human body.

Workbooks prepared as the students progress through the course, practical application of information learned through the use of first aid techniques and films help impress the knowledge more firmly.

Successful completion of the physiology course has other benefits. The students receive school credit and also qualify for a certificate from the Junior Red Cross. Boy Scouts may use it for credit in earning merit badges.

Other teachers of classes using the manual are Mrs. Marvin Tatum, Mrs. Jack Wilson and Conita Jernigan.

Bobby Morrow To Address YMCA Campaign Workers

Volunteers helping with the YMCA participation division will hear a famous and devoted Christian layman as their speaker here Tuesday.

Bobby Morrow, Abilene, a triple gold medal winner in the 1956 Olympics, will be the inspirational speaker at a dinner affair set for 7 p.m. in the YMCA gymnasium. Regarded as the "world's fastest person," Morrow still has to move at a rapid pace to meet all his engagements in business and in serving worthy causes such as the YMCA. As a student at Abilene Christian College, Morrow won the NCAA sprint championship, a national year the Sullivan Award, the highest honor to an amateur athlete, was conferred on him. In the Olympics, Morrow reached the pinnacle of fame when he won the 100 and 200 meter races, then ran a successful leg on the winning 400-meter relay race.

Always a popular athlete, Morrow has been in demand as a speaker at various affairs, particularly those for youth and religious groups. He has been interested in various business ventures, including a giant motel now under way at Abilene. He also was associated with Elmer Tarbox, Big Spring, in promotion of Elmer's Handicaps (a weight device for improving muscle strength and tone). Morrow files his own plans to fill many of his engagements.

Tuesday's kickoff affair will move like Morrow at a track meet, D. M. McKinney, participating membership chairman, said. Those who arrive prior to 7 p.m. will be started at once through the serving lines and by 7:25 p.m. the program is due to be under way. If possible, workers will be in the card selection stage shortly after 8 p.m.

Adolph Swartz, who is heading up this year's membership enrollment, will report briefly on the status of the current campaign. Division heads are Dr. W. A. Hunt and Arnold Marshall. There are four sectional leaders under each, and these have five team captains, who in turn have five workers.

The entire campaign effort is on a volunteer basis, and every penny subscribed will go directly to membership income so vital to YMCA sound financial status. The sustaining membership campaign has produced most encouraging results so far, and Swartz indicated that the real success of the YMCA program this year will depend upon the effectiveness of the participating division.

Steelworkers Map Contract Tactics

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Officials of the United Steelworkers Union open a three-day conference Monday to map proposals for the coming contract negotiations with the steel industry.

The gathering of the union's executive board and Wage Policy Committee is one of the earliest ever in advance of negotiations.

The executive board meets Monday and Tuesday. The Wage Policy Committee convenes Wednesday.

What proposals the union will formulate probably won't be known until negotiations actually get under way. In the past, officials have announced broad objectives following the wage committee meeting but have declined to elaborate on specific demands.

There is a general opinion among steel people that the union will press for improved fringe benefits and greater job security, rather than high wages.

There also has been speculation the USW may try to get a shorter work week, a pet project of USW President David J. McDonald. Speculation was heightened recently when New York electricians won an unprecedented five-hour workday. Some suggest the electricians' pact may influence the steel talks.

The early scheduling of the union conference is seen as a result of pressure from the White House. The Kennedy administration has made it clear it would like to see an early contract settlement—early enough to prevent stockpiling of steel as a hedge against a possible strike.

It is feared a big steel boom in the first half of the year would put a squeeze on the nation's economy in the second half.

Stockpiling already has started. Production for the week ended Jan. 27 was estimated at 2,390,000 tons—about 80 per cent of capacity. Production hasn't been that high since April 1960, when raw steel output was figured at 2,417,000 tons.

The present 30-month contract for some 420,000 basic steelworkers expires June 30. There has been no indication when formal talks will open.

Under the current contract, steelworkers' basic wages range from $2.28 1/2 an hour to $4.38 1/2.

CRMWD Sales Up For Month

Water deliveries got off to a good start during January, according to the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Monthly production figures compiled by O. H. Ivie, assistant general manager, showed a total of 587,669,000 gallons in water sales, a gain of 3.82 per cent over January of 1960.

The gain all resulted from increased use by the member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder. Together they took 391,250,000 gallons, compared with 322,443,000 last January. Odessa's draw was 214,866,000 gallons, up 14.09 per cent, Big Spring 140,207,000, up 7.21 per cent, Snyder 36,177,000, up 12.79 per cent.

Among the oilfield repressuring companies, SACROC showed a four million gallon gain with 135,187,000. The total repressuring sales stood at 196,419,000 during January, down from 203,506,554 for the same month a year ago.

May Have Credits

Taxpayers who had retirement incomes during 1961 may be entitled to retirement income credits on their federal income tax returns. This retirement income credit can be as much as $340 for an individual taxpayer, Joseph P. Gordon, Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, reminded. The drafting room of the city engineering office is headed by Chief Draftsman Johnny Hernandez, left. Bruce Dunn, director of public works, center, and Chief Engineer Ernest Lillard, go over drafting of grades for pavement on East Fourth Street. All plans are drawn for city work in this room.

City's Engineering Staff Supervises Area Growth

The work of keeping maps current for the City of Big Spring during the past year has required about as much time of draftsmen and engineers as is required of world map makers.

The engineering division had a big hand in surveying, mapping, and inspecting $2,217,700 worth of construction in 1961. This included 100,774 lineal feet of curb and gutter, or 19 miles on two sides of streets; 194,679 square yards, or 10.5 miles, 36-inches wide, of paving; 102,350 lineal feet or 19.38 miles of water lines, and 92,600 lineal feet or 17.54 miles of sewer lines.

The engineering division, headed by Ernest Lillard, has a normal staff of seven, with an added inspector employed under the bond program. It is a part of the public works department under Director Bruce Dunn.

Chief draftsman is Johnny Hernandez, secretary of the division is Elsie Creighton. Other members are: Inspectors Dewey Bayer and R. M. Heine; party chief, Melvin Byers, and two rodmen, T. A. Eillett and Dan Quinlivan. A second draftsman is to be employed soon to replace one who resigned last week.

MASTER PLAN

Office and field work takes the time of the engineer, draftsmen, and two inspectors during the construction being done under the Master Plan bond program.

Some of the work normally done by the office force takes in drafting: keeping water and sewer daily pumpage records current; keeping all maps current and making changes as new additions are annexed; designing all work that comes up on the streets, water and sewer lines and taps for municipal crews, and some of the subdivisions admitted to the city limits before the new subdivision ordinance became effective.

Designing work accomplished for subdivisions in 1961 included water, sewer and paving for Wasson No. 1, Worth Peeler No. 3, and Marshall Fields Estate; relocation of utilities on US 87 north of Big Spring; relocation of utilities for 18 20 around Big Spring. Total work done under designs was $400,000.

The survey crew, which does the field work, has had its part in layouts of construction running in excess of $1,180,000 in 1961.

Aside from the normal work coming from the various city departments, including cross-sections, alley lines, checking on street locations, and others, the survey crew goes into bigger jobs. Field staking subdivisions, admitted before the city's subdivision ordinance came into effect, were done.

Subdivisions staked in 1961 included water, sewer, and paving for Worth Peeler No. 3, Marshall Fields Estates, Wasson Place No. 1, and the second phase of Suburban Heights.

The field survey crew also staked 55 blocks of streets to be paved under the assessment paving program.

SURVEYED

All the construction done during 1961, including moving of utilities, and the laying of new water and sewer lines under the bond program, were surveyed by the city's crew, with notes to the drafting office for completed plans and specifications.

Following work by the survey crew, draftsmen, and construction

Cosden Shares In Govt. Contracts

Cosden Petroleum Corporation shared in the award of 260 unclassified federal contracts for equipment and supplies during the fourth quarter of 1961, according to the U. S. Department of Labor. The contracts aggregated $24,711,694 for the Texas firms.

Cosden was listed for two contracts of jet fuel in the amount of $1,800,000. Other area contracts included: Abilene—Seven contracts for $1,998,209, including Bass Soap Company, laundry soap $51,250; Paul Carroll Oxygen Co., $12,000, gases; Compressed Gas Company, compressed and liquefied gases, $10,000; Decco Corp. of Texas, diesel, $30,657; T. S. Lankford & Sons, trousers, $1,904,302; Lubbock—Adolph Hanslik, raw cotton middling, $227,168.

New Deputy Joins Dawson Department

LAMESA (SC) — Raymond L. Stark Jr., 47, has been employed as a deputy on the staff of Dawson County Sheriff Henry Mayfield.

For the past 18 months, Stark has been with the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville. Prior to that he was a deputy sheriff in Ector County for nine years and was also employed at other times on city police forces of Abilene and Fort Worth. He replaces Royce Pruitt who resigned recently to become sheriff of Glasscock County.

Engineering Inspectors

Two inspectors of the City of Big Spring's engineering department check on all work done by both city crews and contractors. At left is Dewey Byers who is employed for inspections of Master Plan bond program work. R. M. Heine, right, is the city's inspector for normal and special construction on pavement, water and sewer lines, and other utilities.

Glenn Unworried By 13th Takeoff

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. said Saturday he is anxious to get ahead with his often-postponed orbit of the earth, and is as confident of success as ever.

To a question whether he is superstitious about the newest scheduled date for the orbit attempt, Feb. 13, he smiled and replied: "That can only be good."

Glenn and his family, standing on the front porch of their home, met with about 100 newsmen and television crew members—Glenn's first news conference since he spent more than five hours in the Mercury capsule last Saturday, only to have the shot postponed.

Weather forced cancellation of that attempt and technical troubles have caused the longer postponement.

Glenn said the troubles that developed in the Mercury-Atlas vehicle after the weather postponement are of a type that probably would not have given trouble had he made his flight that day.

He said program directors would like to eliminate all the difficulties, however.

"We are going only when we are good and ready," he said. "We are anxious to get the flight off after all the trials and preparations, but we want to get this thing right."

Glenn declined to discuss his feelings while he was waiting in the Mercury capsule for launch time.

"I was disappointed, but realized that there will be another day," he said.

Glenn was asked about an earlier remark attributed to him that he had a job to do and the press had one to do.

Glenn explained that he was referring to the attention the press was giving him personally. This is a big human experience, he said, but perhaps newsmen on occasion have been missing some of the real purposes.

He said Project Mercury is after hard, cold scientific information and "sometimes the personal things, like whether Anna gets her hair done are overshadowing the serious purposes."

His wife, Anna, and their children, David, 16, and Carolyn, 14, were with him throughout the news conference. They smiled occasionally, but remained silent.

Heart Specialist To Visit Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — Dr. John R. Derrick, Galveston, will be the speaker at an open Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting here Tuesday during a "Heart Research Day" sponsored by the Dawson County Heart Association.

Charles Bratcher, president of the heart unit, announced that the Kiwanis meeting at the Community Center will be open to men from all civic clubs and wives are also invited.

Dr. Derrick will speak to science students at the high school, and will address school assembly.

A noted heart surgeon, heart specialist, lecturer, medical author and instructor, Dr. Derrick is currently conducting a research project at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston. Dr. Derrick received a $500 grant from the Dawson County chapter for the research.

Employees Of The Senate Find Selves Without Pay

AUSTIN (AP) — There are hazards in politics and not all just for the politician.

About 200 Senate employees — secretaries, clerks, young pages, parking guards — still wonder what happened to their salaries Thursday night.

The House killed the supplemental appropriations bill. In it was a section permitting the Senate to spend already appropriated money to pay its employees for the last half of the session.

Sen. Crawford Martin made a last second stab at getting another bill passed so the employees could get their money. The Senate agreed, but the House said no.

So the employees are payless.

Several said they had called a loan company which makes loans on state employees' checks. The company agreed to give them money equal to their checks, to be paid back at the next legislative session. It would cost 10 per cent.

Weather Station Aimed At Judging Crop Yields

By M. A. WEBB

There's a weather station in Big Spring that uses weather reports for judging crop yields instead of making forecasts. A person interested can go back to 1900 for rainfall and daily temperatures, and back to 1916 for records on wind pressure indicating blowing dust or calm, evaporation of water, cloudiness, fog-giness, clear days, and about any other kind of record that might influence the growth of crops. Grady Randel, technician with the US Agricultural Research Service at the Experiment Station, located on Northwest Twelfth Street, keeps these records.

TWO TYPES

Two types of thermometers are used in recording the low and high temperatures. One is a 24-hour cylindrical barograph which shows the temperatures during the 24 hours, and at the same time shows the moisture content of the atmosphere. Usually, the higher the temperature the lower the moisture content.

The two markings on the graph paper look like a silhouette of a tree, with each going away or toward each other as the temperature and moisture changes. Barometers are used to check the high and low atmospheric pressures.

Randel's instrument is not set for sea level as most barometers are. The normal fair weather reading is 27.5.

"If the pressure shows below 27 on this one we can look for a good sized blow to follow," he said. "We can usually tell two or three days ahead of time when the wind is going to get up and it gives us time to take care of any growing plants which might need protection from the wind. Sometimes it's possible to get rain during these lows, but the winds have to rush in from the outside to fill in the low spots, or equalize the pressure, and chances for rain are slim.

THREE TANKS

When the temperature gets high the moisture content of the earth, and water level in tanks, get lower. The station has three tanks for measuring evaporation.

Over a 41-year period of checking evaporation, Randel said records show that the average for December is 2.70 inches, and for July, during the crop growing season, 10.62 inches. Months between show varying averages. The July reading means that a tank of water would lose 10.62 inches in depth during July from evaporation.

Other instruments used at the station are rain gauges, including an automatic gauge and a standard gauge. Except for hard-blowing rains they measure the same, but the standard seems to work better during blows. The automatic gauge has an attachment to catch and measure the moisture content of snow.

An anemometer measures the force of the wind and is used to get the daily average wind pressure more than to check for gusts.

"When we have high temperatures and lots of wind the moisture content of the soil is depleted rapidly," Randel said. "We take micrometer readings every morning on the water tanks to check the evaporation. This is checked against the wind pressure gauge. The anemometer is set just two feet off the ground to get the pressure at ground level. The wind is nearly always at a different pressure on the ground than at higher elevations and this is important to farmers."

SOIL READINGS

During crop planting season Randel used a soil thermometer in order to keep farmers posted on the best time to put their seed in the ground. If they plant too cold the seed will not germinate and may rot. Farmers generally want to plant as soon as the temperatures are right, if they have moisture enough.

And what is the meaning of all these records?

"Simply stated," Randel said, "It is to coordinate the data from the readings with the crop yields in our continuing research program. All factors enter into the research and through this we can determine what crops are best suited to given areas, on different soils, and with different amounts of rainfall."

Valley Freeze Kills Insects

WESLACO (AP)—Insects suffer too during a prolonged freeze.

This fact has Lower Rio Grande Valley citrus and cotton men hopeful their next crops will be better and less expensive to produce because of the severe freeze early last month.

Area horticulturists and entomologists say the insect population has been damaged. Only time will tell just how much.

Mike Schuster, area entomologist, said he felt sure that such cotton insects as thrips, mites and aphids suffered, and to some extent the boll weevil.

"The freeze eliminated many hosts of these insects," Schuster said. "The green plants that they usually feed on until cotton is available were wiped out."

"It is just a simple matter of starving to death."

"We feel that production expenses will be cut because of this but right now we can't estimate how much."

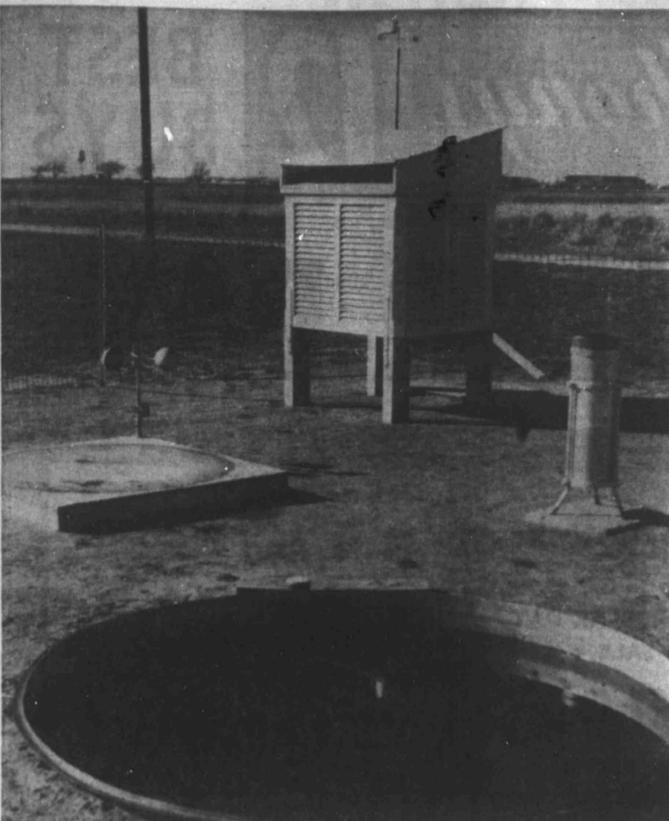

Schuster warned that it was false security to believe that all insects had been wiped out. "We hope to have better production and less cost due to less insect control measures but we will still have some pests," he said.

Citrus spokesmen also were optimistic that this industry lost some of its insects because of the freeze.

"There is no question that soft brown scale suffered during the freeze," Gene Winn, manager of the Texas Citrus Mutual, said.

Scale, which attacks citrus leaves and in some instances kills trees, had many orchards with a dirty, black appearance prior to the freeze.

After the freeze, trees dropped their leaves thus ridding themselves of the insect.

Temperature, Rainfall, Evaporation

These means of checking evaporation, wind velocity, rainfall, and temperature, are a part of the weather observation system at the Big Spring Experiment Station. In foreground is water tank for checking evaporation, right center is rain gauge, left center is anemometer for checking wind, and in center back is the temperature and moisture content gauge housing.

Checking For High-Low Temperatures

Grady Randel, with the Agricultural Research Service at the Big Spring Experiment Station, checks the high and low temperatures for each 24-hour period; the moisture content of the air; water evaporation to compare with temperature and wind velocity, and rainfall gauge if any moisture falls.

Texas U. Names Lawyers For Desegregation Case

AUSTIN (AP)—Regents at the University of Texas approved Saturday the appointment of three lawyers hired to represent the university in a suit seeking full desegregation of university dormitories.

The lawyers are Leon Jaworski of Houston, and Edward Clark and Franklin Denius, both of Austin.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson asked a federal court last month to dismiss all pleadings filed in the case, brought last year by three Negro students. He asserted it was the function of his department to represent the university in legal matters.

The university said it had hired the lawyers because the case probably would run longer than Wilson's term as attorney general. Wilson is a candidate for governor.

The lawyers, in turn, asked the courts to overrule Wilson's pleas. They said he had no "right or authority" in the case.

The regents also approved making the editor of the student newspaper, the Daily Texan, an appointive position. The editor has been elected by the student body. He now will be named by a faculty-student committee.

Approved the suggestion that a committee be appointed to study and recommend plans for the academic program at Texas Western College in El Paso for the next 10 years.

Feb. 23 Is Letting Date On Highway 87

Joe Smoot, resident engineer for the Texas Highway Department, said Friday that plans to ask for bids on the US 87 rebuilding job Feb. 23 are unchanged.

The State Highway Department is to rebuild the road from the city limits of Big Spring north to Fairview into a 4-lane thoroughfare. A similar treatment has been completed on the segment of the road from Fairview north to the Howard County line.

Howard County Commissioners Court acquired right of way for the road improvement program and the final paper in this phase of the project has been dispatched to the state office.

Ed Carpenter, county judge said he understood the state plans to push ahead with the job as one of the first major projects in the area this spring. He estimated the cost would run around $400,000.

Final Cotton Total Due Soon

Final count on Howard County's 1961 cotton production is still to be made but the time draws near when the official total will be known. Most of the cotton has now been ginned.

Some picking still goes on in the county. The Co-Op gin here had 20 bales on its lot on Saturday waiting to be ginned and said that a few bales still arrive each day.

In the Lomax area, the fields are cleaned. The Lomax Gin closed down operations on Thursday.

Gins at Ackerly and Knott are operating about two days a week. Ackerly gin estimated it would remain operating about one more week. Knott expects to close down about the same time.

Fairview gin had nine bales on hand Saturday morning. It had been operating on a two day a week schedule recently and plans to close down either this weekend or early the following week. Co-Op has already closed down one of its Big Spring plants. The Gular gins plan to stop work next week. Coahoma Gin is still functioning on the same schedule as are the ones in Big Spring.

It has been several weeks since any effort was made to get a count on bales processed so far this year. The Texas Employment Commission will make one more final gin count sometime late in February. Texas Electric Service Co. which also makes a count of bales ginned, made its last check in late December.

At that time more than 37,000 bales had been handled by the county's gins and observers estimated there were still 10,000 or more bales still to be picked.

The estimate of a 50,000 bale crop for the year remains in effect and most agricultural leaders are certain the goal will be reached.

Lamesa Has Good Building Start

LAMESA (SC) — Lamesa got off to a good construction pace in 1962 with January amounting to $231,650. That was the best monthly figure since last August. Totals included authorizations for 14 new dwellings. Total permits here in 1961 were $2,681,900, the third best figure on record.

Others taking part on the program will be Jack Alexander, to welcome new members to the board, and the Rev. Spitt Seago, to deliver the invocation.

HC Hawks Turn Back San Angelo, 89-72

SAN ANGELO — Howard County Junior College look a stranglehold on first place in Western Conference basketball standings by bombing San Angelo, 89-72, here Saturday night.

San Angelo now has a 7-3 record within the league. The win was the sixth in league play without a loss for the Jayhawks and their 18th of the year, compared to three defeats. After the first few minutes, HC led all the way and was in command at half time, 46-29. The contest the Rams got in the final half was 13 points with half the second half gone. The Big Spring club beat the SAC troupe with a great defensive effort. After the Rams had scored their first six points, they went minutes before they tallied again and the Hawks were leading by 19 points. Jim Wilburn and Ernest Turner threw the Ram offense off balance by stealing the ball time and again. Wilburn, a freshman from New Mexico, pilfered the ball seven times during the first half and once in the final 20 minutes. Turner, a frosh from Grand Prairie, in-

Trying It For Size

Buster Barnes, only returning regular from the 1961 Big Spring High School football team, tries on his new grid jacket, with an assist lent by head coach Emmett McKenzie. The football awards were passed out in an assembly program at the local high school Friday morning. The varsity award was Barnes' second. He'll also be the only two-year letterman in camp this fall. He plays linebacker on defense and guard on offense, but may be moved in spring training.

Leatherneck Again Shatters Record

BOSTON (AP) — John Uelses, 16-foot pole vault crasser again Saturday night and in the process shattered his own day-old record with a fantastic vault of 16 feet, 3/4 inch.

Uelses missed twice at 15-4. But he made it on his third try. Then it went up to 15-9/4 and he hit it the first time again.

The bar was raised to 16-3/4. At first, the officials said it was 16-1 and it was announced that way when he made it. But a remeasurement showed it to be a quarter-inch shy of the 16-1.

Last night, when Uelses cleared 16-3/4, the crossbar was knocked down by a rush of bystanders to congratulate him in the pit. AAU chief Dan Ferris at the time said there was some question of recognition because it was not remeasured as required in the rules.

They took no chances this time. No one was allowed near the pit until AAU officials climbed the ladder and spent three minutes with a tape measure. "I was very tired," said Berlin-born Uelses, "and I almost stopped on my way down the runway because I felt something in my leg.

A crowd of 13,417 on hand for the Boston A.A. Games in Boston Garden sat glued to their seats as the 24-year-old Leatherneck corporal went over with perhaps a half inch to spare on his first try.

Only last night in the Millrose Games in New York, the handsome, crew-cut from the Quantico (Va.) base became the first vaulter in history to get over 16 feet. In that one he cleared 16-3/4.

He almost was eliminated when the crossbar was at 15-4. After going over 14, 14-6 and 15 with

Red Raiders Win Over Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Texas Tech outlasted Arkansas 66-64 Saturday night and held its grip on the Southwest Conference basketball lead.

Mae Percival broke a one-point Arkansas lead with a field goal and a free throw with 3:44 left, and Tech went into a stall that proved the winning factor.

Harold Hudgens, who led the Raiders with 22 points, drove for a layup to make the score 60-56. Then little Del Ray Mounts, who scored 19 points, got a field goal and pushed the lead to six points.

Mounts and Jim Wilson of Arkansas traded two free throws each, then Tommy Boyer, who paced Arkansas with 22 points, sank a long field goal to cut the lead to 64-60.

Roger Henning sewed it up for the Raiders with a field goal at 66-60, and another field goal by Boyer and two free throws by Wilson only made it close.

The victory gave Tech a 5-1 conference record to 3-3 for Arkansas. The Hogs could have tied for the lead with a victory. Arkansas led 33-31 at halftime.

Ponies Upended By Rice Owls

HOUSTON (AP) — Four Rice players scored in double figures Saturday night as the Owls beat Southern Methodist 61-53 to keep second place in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

Texas Tech beat Arkansas 66-64 to hold first place with a 5-1 record. Rice moved to 4-2.

The loss was SMU's third against as many wins. Rice took an early lead and never trailed again although the Mustangs did tie the game at 27-27 with little more than a minute left in the first half.

Herb Steinkamp and Kendall Rhine rallied Rice, however, and the Owls built a 32-27 lead for the dressing room.

Steinkamp, a sophomore from Vandy, Ill., came back in the second half to score 10 more points and led both teams with 18.

Rhine had 12, Ken Phillips 13 and Oile Shipley 10 for the Owls. Jan Loudermilk led SMU scoring with 19 points.

Bradley in Front

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — With the return of All-America Chet Walker, Bradley's ninth-ranked Braves stormed past St. Louis 72-67 Saturday night in a Missouri Valley Conference basketball game.

Aggies Take Early Lead, Win, 79-72

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas A&M waxed warm in the first seven minutes of the second half Saturday night to outscore Texas Christian 19-4 and the Aggies held on to win 79-72 for their fourth Southwest Conference victory in six starts.

The Aggies' second-half spree crested 17-51 with 6:51 remaining and only three field goals by TCU against A&M's reserves in the final 59 seconds made the score more respectable.

The teams battled on even terms in the first half with the score being tied seven times and the lead exchanging hands eight times.

The Frogs led by four points with 1:25 to go in the opening half but quickly committed three errors to allow A&M to regain the lead, 34-33. A 42-foot shot by Benny Johnson just as time ran out gave the visitors a 38-35 half-time edge.

Six of the Aggies hit in the double figures with Carroll Broussard's 19 points leading the way. Guard Phil Reynolds scored 21 for TCU. The Aggies hit 52.8 from the field to TCU's 39.4. A&M also out rebounded the home club 49-39.

Walter Carter, the gang-buster from Gate City, Va., lowered the boom on Ram defenses for 29 points, the same number scored by Turner. Elvis Spradling, Jerry Tillman and Wilburn also hit in double figures for HCJC.

Freshman Kirby Pugh, from Abilene, led the Rams with 21 points.

The teams were practically even in the battle of the boards. HCJC captured only one more carom than did the Rams — 48 to 47.

Carter led the Hawks in that department with 15, while Spradling and Turner wound up with ten each. Pugh had 16 for San Angelo.

The Hawks hit 21 of 44 shots from the field the first half for 48 per cent, and 14 of 34 the final 20 minutes for 40 per cent.

San Angelo connected on 11 of 40 the first half for 29 per cent but warmed to 40 per cent after play was resumed, scoring on 18 of 49 tries.

Twenty fouls were called against SAC, compared to 16 against the Hawks. Spradling of HCJC was the only man to leave the court on fouls, however. He departed with about four minutes of play remaining. Tillman and Turner had four fouls each when the end came.

James Tebbetts and Bobby Shuffield were charged with four personals each for SAC.

The Hawks play again next Friday, at which time they oppose Odessa on the road.

HCJC 49-1 — Carter 12-2-28, Spradling 4-2-10, Tillman 4-3-11, Turner 10-9-29, Wilburn 5-0-10, Thompson 0-0-0, Broussard 3-0-0, Total 37-20-60.

SAN ANGELO (72) — Tebbetts 6-1-13, Shuffield 6-2-12, Ramsey 1-0-2, Curry 4-2-10, Watson 5-2-4, Welch 3-4-18, Halftime — HCJC 46; San Angelo 28.

Golding Takes New Position

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Joe L. Golding, whose Wichita Falls Coyotes have won four Class AAAA state football championships, was named athletic director of secondary schools in the Wichita Falls school system Saturday.

Hunter Kirkpatrick, his long-time assistant, was elevated to head coach.

The announcement was made at the Coyotes annual football banquet by Supl. Joe McNeil. He said Golding had been offered and had accepted a 5-year contract as the school system's athletic director.

Golding and Kirkpatrick played football together at East Texas State College and then joined the coaching staff of the Denison High School. Golding came to Wichita Falls in 1946 and, when he was named head coach a year later, Kirkpatrick was named his assistant.

Since that time the Coyotes have won 153 games, lost 25 and tied 2.

The Bruins started out strong with the lead changing hands seven times in the early part of the first. But with 14 minutes left in the first period, Texas went ahead to stay.

ABILENE — Forsan lost out in first round consolation play of the HSU girls' basketball tournament to Hawley, 38-33, here Friday.

Bonnie Simpson scored 16 points for Forsan as did Bobby Watts of Hawley.

ROSCOE — Roscoe's Plowboys assumed the league lead in District 6-A by belting Wylie, 55-39, here Friday night.

Roscoe had been deadlocked for first place with Rotan, which lost to Coahoma.

Phil Powell Wins Harlingen Meet

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Phil Powell came from behind Saturday to win his third Life Begins at 40 Golf Tournament championship by defeating former title holder Lonnie Wendland of San Antonio, 2 and 1.

The Wichita Falls florist thus became the second man in the history of the tournament to pick up the trophy three times. David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas, the only other three-time winner, was sidetracked in his attempt to win it four times when he was taken out in the quarterfinals by Powell.

Wendland, the 1960 winner while then playing out of nearby McAllen, jumped in the lead on the first hole and had the defending champion down three holes through seven.

Wendland still held a two hole lead at the turn but Powell began making his move early on the back nine and caught up with a

Gene Littler Assumes Lead At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — In a day of dramatics, Dick Mayer fired a hole-in-one for a possible $50,000 bonus, and the quiet man of golf, U.S. Open Champion Gene Littler, moved into the lead in the $50,000 Palm Springs Classic.

The handsome 37-year-old Mayer, virtually the unknown golfer in recent years, will get the $50,000 special prize unless someone else matches his shot—then the bonus must be split. It was a lucky break for Mayer who has had mostly bad luck since he won the National Open in 1957.

Mayer's big blow came early in this warm, bright day in the fourth round of the 90-hole test. The tournament winds up Sunday and will be nationally televised by NBC from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Big Spring time.

Late in the day the 31-year-old Littler finished with a four-under-par 66 at the Indian Wells Country Club and this gave him a two-stroke margin heading into the final 18 holes.

Faulkner Rides Ioneajax To Win At Sunland Park

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. (SC) — Displaying rare courage, W. J. Terry Jr.'s Ioneajax scored her eighth Sunland Park victory by capturing the Queen Sunland purse withstanding a bold bid by Pound and Pesto, which missed by a nose.

Monola was third in the eight-horse field. It was the second win of the afternoon for jockey Bob Faulkner, a last minute substitute for Pete Moore, who was injured in a spill in the third race.

Trainer Bob Zumwalt had the five-year-old mare razor sharp for her spring debut and she was never headed, although repeatedly challenged throughout the 5 1/2 furlong duel. Final time was 1:05.3. Ioneajax rewarded her backers with $10.00, $5.00 and $3.40 return.

The field broke well and were closely bunched as they hit the far turn with the eventual winner holding a slim lead over the determined Monola.

At the quarter pole, Pound and Pesto began a strong move on the inside and was closing strongly to catch Monola in the final strides but could not get to the winner who refused to quit.

The favorite, Son Duke, raced evenly but was no match for the top trio and wound up fourth.

Pretty Queen Sunland crowned the winner, to the delight of the male patrons.

Jockey Pete Moore was thrown violently to the ground when his mount, Go-Kingo, stumbled shortly after the start of the third race.

Moore was treated at Providence Hospital and released after treatment for a chin laceration and a badly bruised leg. It was not immediately determined how long his injuries will keep him out of action.

Brilliant weather continued to provide 2,901 fans with ideal racing conditions. The mutual handle totaled $179,891.

Are There No Track Barriers For Man?

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Peter Snell and John Uelses, two youths in their early 20s, reigned Saturday as crowned princes of an astonished track world that once again was beginning to ask: Is there any limit beyond which man cannot go?

The "impossible" 16-foot barrier in the pole vault was cracked by Uelses Friday night at New York's Madison Square Garden as the 24-year-old German-born U.S. Marine from Quantico, Va., cleared 16 feet, 4 1/2 inches. A few hours later at Christchurch, New Zealand, Snell, a 22-year-old supply surveyor who eclipsed Herb Elliott's mile record with a 3:54.4 clocking eight days before, smashed two more world standards and completed an unprecedented mile-half mile double.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Close friends of John Malaise, the former Big Spring High School cage mentor, say he will step down as head basketball coach at Odessa High School after this year. He reportedly will remain in the school system there as a teacher. Malaise's retirement as a coach would coincide with the graduation of his son, Dubby, who quite probably is the best player in the history of the school.

Hugh Cochran, a former Big Spring athlete, should be in line for the Odessa job, but there is no assurance he will get it. Cochran has been in the Odessa school system several years and should have had a head basketball job some time ago. Did you know that the 54 home runs hit by Mickey Mantle in the American League last year was the all-time high in that department for a man who did not win the league championship?

Curly Hays, the able Abilene official who toiled in the HCJC-Amarillo College game here the other night, has just about quit working the big college cage contests. Says he's getting too old for the pursuit. Curly still referees the big college football games, however, gets assignments all over the country. Butch Baird, the former Lamar Tech golf coach, failed by one stroke to make the recent San Francisco Golf Tournament. Bill Argo, ace sprinter for HCJC last spring, wound up in North Texas State College after he had signed a letter-of-intent to re-enter Baylor. Incidentally, Red Lewis, the Jayhawk track mentor, doubts seriously that Argo could make his mile relay team this year. The Hawks have the potential to set a national meet record in that event. Lewis thinks three members of the team will be under 48 seconds for the quarter, the other under 49 before the season is over.

Quite probably, young Tim Smith will be moved from end to guard, Robert Wilson from center to tackle and Buster Barnes from guard to center when the Big Spring Steers begin spring football workouts in May. Barnes, as of now, looks like the Steers' best bet to rate all-district and all-state honors honors next fall. He goes at full throttle in all practice sessions and hours upon hours of work with the team, muscled look of the athlete. Right now, Buster is playing baseball and shows every sign of clicking in that sport. Pedro (The Warrior) Rodriguez, the 26-year-old Mexican lightweight signed to a five-year contract by M. H. McMurrice of the Tarzan (Martha Country) community, will fight on cards in Phoenix on Feb. 7 and Feb. 14. He may also appear on a San Antonio card later in the month. After those three bouts, he will probably be pronounced ready for a main event. The University of Florida athletic program is almost certain to suffer if the school goes to the three-semester system, as is virtually assured. The college is now bursting at the seams with students and even more pupils are on the way. The three-classes would start in September and continue right on through August. Under present NCAA and Southeastern Conference rules, Florida simply wouldn't have any four-year athletes around in the spring. Pro sports in Houston haven't hurt the colleges. Bud Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers of the NFL, says Rice is still out-drawing his club at the club by quite a bit. Lewis White, the HCJC half miler from Keller, suffered a hair-line leg fracture while running around the track and long after the Hawks started working out and has just now started to work again. It's come to the point in some West Texas schools (e.g., Andrews) where track is a nine-months sport. Their teams work out as long as classes are going on.

Arizona State Interested In Tucker

Arizona State College at Tempe has indicated an interest in Jerry Tucker, the Big Spring football quarterback. Fullback Jack Irons may wind up at Texas Tech, where he would study Aeronautical Engineering. He's an A student. The Los Angeles Dodgers of the National League have sold almost 14,000 box seats at $265 each for the 1962 season, which means they already have over $3,500,000 in the vault. Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, expects more than 3,000,000 people to see his club at home this year. Did someone say there was a golf rush in California? The Dodgers, by the way, will collect rent from the Los Angeles Angels of the rival league. When district attorney Gil Jones fired his hole-in-one at the Country Club here the other day, he didn't even see the ball go into the hole — he was reaching down for his tee at the time. A fellow player, R. H. Weaver, told him of his good luck. The ace must have inspired Gil, for he wound up with a 69 for the round, best he has ever shot at the course. He fired five birdies en route to his score. Weaver himself had a 74 while Lester Morton and Frog Koger, other members of the party, posted a 78 and an 80, respectively. The Country Club, by the way, has a record 305 members now and the figure is almost sure to grow by spring. Pro Jerry Green is planning a ladies' ring tournament for April and the annual women's club tournament for May, as well as a club handicap tournament for next month. Young Harris JC of Georgia, rated right behind top-dog Coffeyville, Kansas, in the most recent juco national basketball poll, does not have a top scorer among the nation's leading 10 but is second only to Wilson Branch, Chicago, in team scoring—with a 97.1 average. The Young Harris team has a potential All-American in Larry Carr.

Royal Named Ath. Director Of Texas Univ.

AUSTIN (AP)—Regents at the University of Texas appointed football Coach Darrell Royal Saturday as director of athletics at the university. Royal will continue as football coach. Ed Olle, who has been acting as athletic director and business manager, was appointed assistant athletic director. He will continue as athletic business manager. Royal will assume his new dual position Sept. 1 at an annual salary of $20,000. Olle's salary was given as $14,000. For Royal it was the climax of a rapid series of successes while at the university. He was hired as football coach in 1957 and led a Longhorn team which had won only one game the previous year in the Sugar Bowl against Mississippi.

His first team had a 6-4-1 record. Since then his squads have won 33, lost 9 and tied 1. His 1961 squad, rated No. 3 in the nation at the end of the season, was rated one of the finest in Southwest Conference history. It won 10 and lost only one—a 6-4 defeat to TCU. Victories included a 12-7 win over Mississippi in the Cotton Bowl. Royal graduated from Oklahoma University where he was an All-America quarterback.

Eaton Hired At Wyoming

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — The University of Wyoming Saturday hired Lloyd Eaton, 43, to guide Wyoming's football future in the new Western Athletic Conference. Eaton, defensive line coach under Bob Devaney at Wyoming the past five years, was chosen unanimously by the Wyoming Board of Trustees. The board Friday freed Devaney from an unexpired contract to become head coach at the University of Nebraska. Eaton was hired under a three-year letter of employment, more similar to that given members of the faculty, than a coaching contract. No salary terms were announced.

Dick Mayer Hits Jackpot With Ace

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Professional Dick Mayer, who has had a long run of hard luck since he won the National Open in 1957, hit a possible $50,000 jackpot Saturday when he scored a hole-in-one in the Palm Springs Golf Classic. The handsome, 37-year-old scored the bonus-winning ace on the 174-yard second hole in the fourth round of the 90-hole tournament. He used a 4-iron and the ball took one hop and bounced into the cup. The surface of the second green is one of the hardest on the course. Mayer must now sweat out the remainder of the tournament, which winds up Sunday, hoping that no one duplicates his shot. The bonus must be split if more than one player scores a hole-in-one. "Making an ace was the last

Monty Hoyt Crowned New Skating Champ

BOSTON (AP)—Monty Hoyt, a 17-year-old high school honor student from Denver, whirled through his freestyle routine with artistic brilliance Saturday and became the new senior men's figure skating champion of the United States. Barbara Roles Pursley, 20-year-old Olympic bronze medalist from Arcadia, Calif., and mother of a 7-month-old baby, is favored to take the women's crown Sunday.

She has a halfway lead over Frances Gold of Norwalk, Conn., daughter of the famed Canadian Coach Otto Gold. The slender 6-foot Hoyt succeeded to the crown won last year by Bradley Lord of Boston, one of the 18 top American skaters killed last Feb. 15 in the tragic Brussels plane crash. Hoyt also becomes the leading U.S. male hope for the world championship next month in Prague, Czechoslovakia — an event canceled last year because of the air tragedy.

The young Denver student had to put on one of his flashiest free skating performances to beat out Scott Allen, the 12-year-old whiz from Butler, N.Y. Allen finished second, followed by David Edwards of Haverford, Pa., and James Short of Alhambra, Calif., the only other contenders. Hoyt led after the compulsory figure phase of the competition but he was expected to have difficulty matching young Allen's free-skating wizardry. However, the Denver youth met the challenge with a well-conceived and brilliantly executed program which was more artistic than acrobatic.

Dexter Elkins Wins, But Misses Record

DALLAS (AP) — Texas' fourth indoor track and field meet of the season brought the biggest crowd — 6,000 — and produced eight records but a try for the world's record in the pole vault that failed attracted the most attention. Dexter Elkins of Southern Methodist made the effort — an attempt at 16 feet 4 1/2 inches — Friday night in the windup of the Dallas Invitational Meet. It was the highest he ever had tried and it was because Marine John Uelses had gone over 16 feet 4 1/2 inch at Madison Square Garden minutes before.

Elkins had won the event with 15 feet 6 inches, the third time for him to do 15-6 or better this indoor track season. Then he shoved up the bar by 6 1/2 inches and made three tries. He hit the bar going up on the first, fouled on the second and then knocked the bar off coming down on the third attempt. The crowd cheered the gallant effort all the way. The upset of Ralph Alspaugh of Texas in the 60-yard dash by Boyd Timmons, Houston freshman was a feature of the meet. Timmons won the event in 6.3 as Billy Foster, Southern Methodist's star freshman, finished second. Jimmy Weaver, North Texas State ex, set a new indoor dirt track record of 6.3 in the preliminaries and Foster tied it. Weaver was third in the finals. Alspaugh, who had won two of three previous starts and equalled the American indoor record of 6.0 at Lubbock last week, failed to place. Danny Roberts, the Texas A&M shot put star, won his fourth straight championship — a clean sweep of the indoor schedule — shaving the shot 55 feet 3 1/2 inches. Ray Cunningham, the brilliant Jackie Upton of Texas Christian leaped 6 feet 6 inches for a new high jump mark and Thad Crooks of Texas A&M won the university 1,000-yard run in a record 2:14.8. Abilene Christian produced a new mile relay record of 3:22.1.

January New Oil In Area Tops 6,500 Barrel Mark

More new potential was reported in the eight county area during January than for any month in more than two years.

January oil got 1962 off to a brisk start with 6,586.16 barrels of new oil from 44 completions. This is 1,156.24 barrels more than during December, 1961, the best month of last year.

Dawson County, which had more than 2,000 barrels of new potential but ran second to Martin County's 2,906.19 barrels, walked away with the spotlight as one pay section of its indicated multi-pay discovery was finished. Texaco, Inc. No. 1 F. P. McDougal, about 11 miles south of Lamesa, flowed 347 barrels of oil from the Fusselman.

The number of completions is down one from the 45 of a month ago, but eight above January, 1961. Drilling likewise slipped down with four fewer new sites stalked. There were 36 new field locations and eight wildcats filed last month for a total of 44.

No other counties besides Dawson and Martin approached the four-figure mark in potential. Borden County, with 640.91 barrels of new oil, was third, and Garza County was fourth with 404.49 barrels.

The county - by - county survey, for the eight county area follows. BORDEN

Four new wells in the county registered a total of 640.91 barrels of new oil. Two are in the Jo-Mill field, one is in the Fluvanna and the fourth is in the Good, Southeast field.

Two new sites were stalked in unproved territory. The Jo-Mill field gained two locations and the Good, Southeast field received one for a total of five in the county. One project in the Koonsman field was plugged and abandoned.

There were nine completions for 2,043.78 barrels of new potential, yet the county's production in January ran second by some 900 barrels a day.

The Ackerly field was most productive, yielding 1,524.38 barrels from seven new wells; one Spraberry well was completed.

After more than a month of testing various zones in the Texaco, Inc. No. 1 McDougal, the wildcat was completed in the Fusselman for a 347 barrel-a-day strike. It flowed from perforations between 11,574-642 feet. Perforations in the Montoya and Mississippian are being checked for production after good shows on drillstem tests.

Three new projects were filed in the Ackerly field, on in the Huddle-Manning, one in the Jo-Mill field and one new site was a wildcat for a total of six. A wildcat was plugged and abandoned.

The six completions chalked up in the county brought in 404.49 barrels of oil on initial potential. Two are in the Huntley field and the Gordon Simpson, Huntley East, Justiceburg, Northwest and Post fields each have one.

One wildcat is among five new sites. Three others are in the Ricker "A" field and one is in the Justiceburg field. A wildcat and a Sims field project were dusters.

GLASSCOCK New potential was non-existent in the county during January. The only activity registered was filling of two wildcat locations.

HOWARD A beehive of drilling activity may have been stirred up near Coahoma during the last week of January, but to date no confirmation of a strike has been received. Pico Drilling Co. No. 1 Shive reportedly flowed 40-45 barrels of oil an hour on tests of a formation about 5,300 feet. Unofficial sources state the hole has been cased and a completion attempt will be made. The rig has been taken down.

Other activity has five new wells in established fields for 194.73 barrels of oil. Three new wells are in the Howard-Glasscock field and two in the Snyder field. Wildcats, the Howard-Glasscock field and the Iatan-East Howard field split six locations evenly with two each and the Snyder field gained one for a total of seven. Two wildcats proved to be dusters along with one Howard-Glasscock project.

MARTIN Martin County pushed the 3,000-barrel mark hard with 14 new wells for 2,906.19 barrels of new oil. Thirteen completions in the Spraberry Trend Area logged 2,866.19 barrels of oil as the Trend was extended. The other well is in the Mabree field.

The Trend had most activity with seven new sites. The Ackerly field gained two locations and two attempts are scheduled to extend the Trend field.

MITCHELL Six new wells in four fields produced 396.06 barrels of new oil. The Iatan - East Howard and Sharon Ridge (1,700) fields each had two completions and the Turner-Gregory and Westbrook fields each had one.

The oil story for this county during January was summed up with two locations in the Claxton field and one in the Herrell, East field.

Activity which does not appear on this report but may be significant in the future is that on a wildcat being drilled. Roden Oil and Cosden No. 1 Reed, about 14 miles northwest of Sterling City, has sampled new oil from the Fusselman.

No Trial Probable On Appealed Cases

It seems quite possible, from reports of cases appealed from Big Spring corporation court to the Howard County court, that very few, if any, will ever be tried. There are 249 cases, some of which involve more than one offense, on the county court file since July. None has been called for trial.

"We are at a loss to understand why something can't be done to get these cases off our books," Chief of Police Jay Banks said Friday. "They cover several types of offense, including traffic violations, disturbances, thefts, driving without licenses, and others. You name it and it's there.

"In the meantime the offenders are going free to do just as they have in the past. We have to make additional offense charges. Some have the idea that as long as they can appeal a case they'll never have a record, which is true," he said.

Sherrill Farmer, warrant officer, whose duty it is to file the appealed cases, or see that they are filed, said it appeared that his long hours of compiling information and getting cases filed, were useless.

"I talked to the county attorney today," he said, "and he feels that it is not his duty to try the cases, although he has been thinking about them for some time. He said he was writing the attorney general for an opinion about whose responsibility it is to try them. All of us are anxiously awaiting the reply from the attorney general."

Banks and Farmer both said it appeared that the police were butting their heads against a stone wall if appealed cases could not be tried, especially if appealed from the corporation court.

John Burgess, city attorney, said he had offered help in prosecuting cases in the county court which were appealed from corporation court, but had not been called.

"Citizens are paying taxes to have a police force to enforce laws," Banks said, "and if a guilty person can appeal his case from corporation court to county court, knowing that he will never be tried, they are paying those taxes for nothing and the police force is working to no purpose."

Records show that many drivers involved in recent accidents were charged with driving without licenses. More than half of them were juveniles.

"We are beginning to file cases against owners of cars," Farmer said, "whether they are parents or others. Under the Texas Uniform Traffic Laws, the owner of a vehicle who lets an unlicensed driver operate it can be charged with the same offense committed by the driver. If an accident is serious enough he can be charged with assault with a motor vehicle whether he is in the car or not."

Farmer said some Big Spring attorneys, employed to defend those coming before the corporation court, are recommending that their clients pay their fines if the judge finds them guilty.

"They feel that the appeal route is a subterfuge to get out, in most instances involving traffic violations, of having penalties added to their insurance premiums," he said. "This seems to be the same attitude found in many cities of the state."

He said others pay fines for their clients and collect the amount in their fees for representing them. Others recommend the appeal of all cases where clients are found guilty.

"We are also having a difficult time in getting some of our DWI charges tried," Banks said. "We are supposed to obtain the names of witnesses and furnish officers' reports, but not supposed to take written statements from witnesses who are available for calling. It is not possible to have an officer at the scene of every accident involving two or more vehicles and consequently he does not see the actual accident. He can get names of those who did see it." These cases are all filed in county court even though city police make the arrests.

DEAR ABBY

A Matter Of Confidence

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is away in the service and he writes me very beautiful love letters. I've always let my mother read them, but the last one was rather "personal" so when my mother asked to read it I told her no. She started to sulk and I'm sure she thinks it is much worse than it really is. She went into one of her non-speaking moods, which bothered me so much I offered to show her the letter, but she says she doesn't want to see it now. What can I do about the situation? I am 24.

FEELING BLUE

DEAR FEELING: You can't blame your mother for feeling hurt when, after sharing all your letters with her, you suddenly receive one you refuse to show her. Forget the incident. Your mother will get over her hurt. You're a big girl now. In the future keep ALL your letters confidential and you'll have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: I know a blonde who swears she uses nothing on her hair to keep it light. She washes it once a week, and I notice that just before she washes it the roots are somewhat darker than the rest. Also, in the summertime, her hair is about two shades lighter than it is in the winter. Who does she think she's kidding?

NOT ME

DEAR NOT ME: She may not be "kidding" anyone—or trying to. The natural oils DO tend to make the hair appear darker, hence the darkness at the roots toward shampoo time. And the sun has been known to bleach blondes blonder.

DEAR ABBY: My son is being married in two weeks and I

Mrs. O'Bannon Asks Reelection In Glasscock Co.

GARDEN CITY — Mrs. Freddy O'Bannon is announcing her candidacy for re-election to a second full term as county treasurer of Glasscock County. She is filing for a place on the ballot in the Democratic primary of May 5.

Mrs. O'Bannon, in her announcement, pointed out that she has been a resident of Garden City and Glasscock County for many years, and for any who might not know her, she said she would gladly stand on the recommendation of her acquaintances. She said that "I will continue to do the best of my ability to serve the people of Glasscock County. I will be very grateful for the support of the voters of my county."

Entertainer Is In Charge Of ABClub Program

Tommy Preston, a professional entertainer in civilian life, appeared before members of the American Business Club at the Settles Hotel at noon Friday. He is now an airman, stationed at Webb AFB.

Preston turned "fire-eater," gulping lighted torches with the ease of a kid popping chocolate drops into his mouth.

On one occasion, he had a member of the club light a cigarette from a flame shooting from his mouth.

Another time, he saturated a sliced apple with white gasoline, ate it and then blew the gas, which he said had retreated to his lungs, through an ordinary gas pipe. To demonstrate his point, he borrowed a cigarette lighter and lighted the gas from the distant end.

Preston's act was embellished by his repartee, which also made the touch of the professional who walks the boards.

Guests of the club included Christian Vogt, who was visiting here from Stenieu, Germany, and Ed Brown, Lamesa.

CARD OF THANKS
To our kind friends, neighbors and relatives we wish to express our sincere appreciation for sympathetic attention, beautiful floral tributes and other courtesies extended to us at the passing of our beloved husband and father.
Mrs. M. E. Broughton and Family bought a black dress especially for the wedding. Many of my friends have told me that I absolutely should not wear a black dress to my son's wedding as it would be a big insult to the bride. Why? I am a stout woman and do not feel that I look right in anything except black. I would like your advice.

LIKES BLACK

DEAR LIKES: Black is appropriate for mourning. Wear beige, gray or a pastel color.

'SPRING INTO SPACE' WITH WEBB OWC

First in the season's fashion parades was the style show "Spring Into Space" given by Wing Hdq. Wives for the Officers Wives Club luncheon held at the Webb AFB Officers Club, with Mrs. Charles A. Smith, chairman. Models walked "the launching pad" wearing casual and sportswear, street ensembles, at-home styles and elegant after-five frocks. Champagne and bone and black patent were prevalent accessory colors with silk and cotton fabric firsts.

FREE WHEELING and free swinging is the full skirted creation worn by Mrs. Robert Bales, pictured left. The gingham of black and white check is flatteringly feminine and features frosted hand-woven design on sleeves and billowy full skirt. White pearls and gloves with black patent accessories are complementary details.

OFF INTO SPACE on a dreamy spring day Mrs. Val C. Nelson can while away the hours at home in silken comfort. She may be the prettiest sight of the day or evening in the "at home" costume of linen-weave silk. Her flower arrangement is only second to the rainbow tones of silk.

A STELLAR ATTRACTION for a lovely evening is the cocktail dress in startling white crepe worn above by Mrs. Harris B. Wilhoite. Slim as a swizzle stick the sheath is detailed with fringed strands of silken threads on back and front bodice. For added elegance Mrs. Wilhoite donned long, white fabric gloves, crystal and pearl jewelry and white silk high-heeled pumps.

Photos by Keith McMillin

THE PRE-JET ERA and good old days in the Air Force were recalled in a humorous take-off on "Dearie, Do You Remember When?" presented by Mrs. Robert H. Hartzog and Mrs. John F. Holt during the style show intermission. Mrs. Hartzog wears a black and white linen-weave ensemble, while Mrs. Holt's sheath is of spring-green silk shantung.

SUPERBLY JET-STREAMED in crisp textured Dupioni pure silk, this spring suit, featuring a super slim skirt and collarless cardigan jacket, is modeled above by Mrs. Robert B. McCann. The champagne tone with bright color accents is foremost on this season's color chart. Lime toned, spun sugar straw cloche picks up the lime accents in the lean-over-b blouse of printed silk. Bone leather handbag and pumps are her accessories.

SOFT AS A CLOUD, alluring and completely feminine is the chiffon print pictured left in tones of peacan and blue on navy, worn by Mrs. R. H. Hartzog. The bodice is gently draped and the skirt gently shaped. This silk chiffon is designed to headline throughout the summer. Harmony contrast is noted in the peacan colored pumps and gloves with blue satin handbag and matching blue satin, flower bedecked Juliet cap.

THE HIGH ALTITUDE, jet-aged costume dress pictured right in Kelly green is of pure silk and worn by Mrs. Donald R. Moaty, whose tall silk chiffon toque is in champagne tones like the matching lustre calf pumps and tote bag. This two-piecer is detailed with bolero having a standing ringlet collar.

MRS. LEWIS NEWELL

Newell-Wimberly Rites Are Read In College Chapel

The candlelit sanctuary of the Joseph A. Hill Chapel in Canyon was the scene of the wedding ceremony Saturday night that united in marriage Phyllis Wimberly of Dawn and Lewis Newell of Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Wimberly of Dawn are parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Newell, 501 Circle Drive.

The Rev. James T. Bolding, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lubbock, officiated in the double ring rites, read in the West Texas State College chapel at 6 p.m.

The altar was lighted with candles held in candelabra and festooned with baskets holding arrangements of white chrysanthemums and greenery. Pews were marked with candles and white chrysanthemums.

Pre-nuptial songs were sung by Ed Roundtree of Pampa. Selections included "O, Perfect Love," "My Own Has Come to Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. As-bry Wimberly of Amarillo, an aunt of the bride, was organist.

The bride entered the sanctuary escorted by her father. She wore a traditional wedding gown of dulcetered satin and Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with fitted bodice and full, princess skirt. The sculptured lace which covered the bodice formed a scalloped neckline; the fitted sleeves came to a point over the hands. A bateau bow caught at the waistline fell into a graceful chapel length train. A waist-length tiered veil of scalloped French illusion was attached to a queen's crown of pearls and sequins.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, tied with satin streamers, on a white Bible.

Martha Sansing of Spearman was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Doris Ward and Polly Cornett of Amarillo. The bride's attendants were dressed identically in street length dresses of gold crystal peau de soie. The fitted bodices were topped with cap sleeves and bouffant skirts were enhanced with large bows at the waistline. Matching pill box hats held scalloped veils of maline. They carried baskets of small white chrysanthemums.

Truett Newell served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Pat Tinley of Denver City and Bob Chester of Canyon. Ushers were Ted Wimberly of Dawn and Buddy Newell, brothers of the couple.

Altar tapers were lighted by Linda Dodd of Pampa and Judy Lee of Alamogordo, N. M.

For a wedding trip to points in Texas, the new Mrs. Newell chose a two-piece suit of blue wool crepe, a small white hat with short veil and black accessories. Her corsage was roses from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will make a home in Big Spring where the bridegroom is associated with Southwestern Investment Co.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and West Texas State College. She was a member of Delta Zeta and Phi Gamma Nu. She also attended Texas Women's University at Denton.

The bridegroom was graduated from Big Spring High School and West Texas State College. He also attended H.C.J.C. At West Texas he was a student senator, a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha.

RECEPTION
Guests were received by the bride couple, their parents and the feminine attendants at a reception in the Student Union Building.

Laid with a white crocheted cloth over gold, the table centerpiece was made from the bride's bouquet, flanked with white candles.

White columns separated the three tiers of the decorated wedding cake which was topped with a wedding bell.

Rosalie Hurt of El Paso registered the guests.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. William Wimberly and Mrs. Walt Beavers of Dawn, Mrs. Bill Gentry, Hereford, and Pat Ashton, Carolyn Collard, Georgie Mantis and Suzan Benn all of Canyon.

Judy Wilson of Canyon provided piano music during the reception.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

The week ended with such a beautiful record of sunny days... What does one care if the groundhog did see his shadow? Few people are happy to just have all clear, warm days. Most of us enjoy a cold snap that makes us stoke the fire and put heavier clothes on.

Now the merchants are beginning to put out their spring clothes and the colors are delightful. The pretty muted orange and lime shades are just what the ladies are sure to order. And the lemon yellow is an eye-catching color. But don't do away with the warm clothes yet, more winter is bound to come.

MRS. HOUSTON PARKER is in Amarillo to visit her son, TRAVIS AARON, and Mrs. Aaron. Mr. Aaron has recently been made district manager of the Southwestern Public Service.

LUCIAN JONES planned to return here today from Las Cruces, N. M. Mrs. Jones has remained to spend the week with her son, Dennis.

JIM BETTLE, son of former resident ALBERT BETTLE, has been named scientific leader of a United States scientific party in the Antarctic. He will be in charge of McMurdo station, a cooperative point for 12 countries which are continuing their IGY (1957-58) cooperative studies.

In addition, Bettle's party from the Schellenger Laboratories at Texas Western College, will fire 26 Arcas solid fuel propelled rockets some 250,000 feet into the fringes of space during the next 12 months. They are collecting data on temperature conditions in the antarctic atmosphere.

Bettle is a Texas Western engineering graduate and former president of its student body. He is the nephew of MRS. ROY LAMB and CLAYTON W. BETTLE and the step-grandson of MRS. F. W. BETTLE.

During their visit to Madison, Conn., recently MRS. ALBERT SMITH and MRS. INA RICHARDSON talked to Albert Smith and at that time Big Spring temperature was 12 and the temperature in Madison was a comparatively balmy 20. The Big Spring women returned during the past week from a visit with Mrs. Smith's daughter, MRS. WALLY CATALDO, and her family.

MR. and MRS. IRA RICE and Kent, are in Fort Worth to attend the Fat Stock Show and also to visit their daughter, Mrs. Bob Nickler, the former Rosemary Rice.

MRS. V. O. WADE is in Dallas to visit her daughter.

First Grade Entertains

A musical program followed by refreshments, entertained patients at the state hospital Friday when the monthly birthday party was held.

The program was given by children in the first grade of Betty Farrar's school. Hostesses were WSCS members of Park Methodist Church.

The Rev. R. L. Bowman, pastor of Park Methodist, gave the devotion and prayer.

Paula Faubion Weds Clyde Larry Jander

Paula D'Ann Faubion, daughter of Mrs. K. E. Faubion, and Clyde Larry Jander, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Jander of Waco, were married Saturday evening in the First Christian Church.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. John Black before an altar centered with a fern tree and flanked on either side with tall baskets of white gladioli. Branched candelabra holding white tapers furnished a background.

Mrs. John Birdwell, organist, accompanied Clydel Chapman who sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Kenneth Faubion.

A wedding dress of white Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta was chosen by the bride. Long fitted sleeves tapered over the hands and the bodice was styled with sabrina neckline. The floor length skirt was appliqued with a scalloped design of lace. A tiara of sequins and pearls secured the veil of illusion bordered in lace.

The bride carried a white Bible topped with her bouquet of white roses.

Named as something borrowed was the Bible loaned by Mrs. Charles Hale of Midland; something new was the wedding attire; something old was the engagement ring belonging to her mother; a garter was blue, and she wore birthdate pennies in her slippers.

Cheryl Hoisager was maid of honor and wore a blue dress with fitted lace bodice and scalloped neckline. The full skirt was chiffon over taffeta.

Mrs. Charles Hale, matron of honor, and Dean Terrazas, bridesmaid, were dressed in pink, identical in design to that of the maid of honor's dress. The attendants wore headpieces of white satin and carried pink carnation nosegays. Accessories were white.

Candles were lighted by Eddie Faubion and Ricky Jander, brothers of the bride and bridegroom.

Vickey Coburn was flower girl and carried a blue basket from which she dropped rose petals. Her dress was of blue brocaded taffeta trimmed in lace. The hairdress was of white satin ribbon.

Larry Sharp of Waco served as best man. Groomsmen were Jackie Lee of Waco and Don Em-mons while Ronald Depre' and Leo Rackley ushered.

For a wedding trip the bride wore a suit of rose wool with black accessories and the rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride will finish her studies at Big Spring High School in May. She has been a member of the band for six years and is also active in the Spanish Club and is parliamentarian for the FFA chapter.

The bridegroom attended high school in Lorena where he played football and was a member of the FFA meat judging team and also of the 4H Club dairy judging team. He also belonged to the Robinson Saddle Club. He is now stationed at Webb AFB.

At the reception in the church parlor the guests were received by the bridal couple, their mothers and the feminine attendants.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli. The cake, served by Mrs. Hale, was a three-tiered confection topped with a miniature bride and groom, a set which is a family keepsake and will be used for the wedding of the bridegroom's younger brother. Punch was served by Miss Terrazas.

Mrs. Ross Stuteville and Carolyn Wiggington registered the guests.

Coming from out of town for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Maxey and Jimmy, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Scottie Sanderland, Odessa; Grace Jordan, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. Betty Klawitter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maxey and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Biggs and family all of Waco.

'Four' For Golf

From the size of him anyone would suppose that Bill Kull could hit a golf ball a country mile, so when he says he prefers not to tell what he shoots it is assumed he is hooking or slicing, off on approach shots or stymied on the green. No matter, he considers himself a beginner and as for most golfers, the game is and probably will remain a challenge. Kull's attractive wife, Rita, also enjoys a game of golf when she can find the time, and their two handsome young sons, Billy and Chuck, are beginners at the ages of five and three.

Construction Brings Family To Big Spring

Construction of a new ammonia plant has resulted in numerous newcomers to Big Spring. Among the families moved here by Foster-Wheeler Construction Co., is that of Bill Kull, field representative for the company.

Kull, his wife, Rita, and sons, Billy and Chuck, ages five and three, respectively, reside at 3212 Drexel, in a neighborhood where "everyone has been exceptionally friendly and like to get together for a cup of coffee," says Mrs. Kull.

Originally from Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Kull attended high school together. He finished his education at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Since working for Foster-Wheeler he and his family have lived in New Orleans, La., Houston, St. Mary's, W. Va., and Tulsa, Okla. He has had only one brief assignment out of the States.

Golf is one of the outdoor activities which Kull enjoys. In Tulsa he played the Mohawk course and the new La Fortune course but like many golfers he'd rather not talk about what he shoots.

Fishing is a recreation in which all the family participates, and Kull has particularly appreciated his fishing trips to North Minnesota and Ontario, Canada. Also, he likes to hunt and he plays the piano although he says his talent for this is on a par with his golf game. Perhaps he may be inclined to discredit his ability somewhat in both fields of endeavor, for the boys are not only learning to play golf with small sticks but have taken to a portable electric organ with a great amount of enthusiasm.

Mrs. Kull, an excellent housekeeper judging by the neat and attractive living room, is interested in many things especially those in which she joins her menfolk. They all like water sports and when she can get away a game of golf is to her liking. Sewing is a pastime at home, along with an occasional game of afternoon bridge. In Tulsa she was active in garden clubs and especially liked flower arranging. The Kulls attend St. Mary's Episcopal Church. They will remain in Big Spring until completion of the ammonia plant.

Pre-Natal Exercise Advocate

Audrey Hepburn advocates exercises during pregnancy and discipline in the diet following childbirth in order for a young mother to regain her figure and feel well.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Discipline Is Secret Of Regaining Figure

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — When Audrey Hepburn flew in from Paris for the premiere of "The Children's Hour," I visited her in her suite at the Beverly Hills Hotel. She was wearing a sleeveless woolen Givenchy and looked more like a little girl than a proud mother. She showed me pictures of her son and said, "He weighed nine and a half pounds when he was born."

Audrey likes to keep her weight at 110, and I wanted to know if she had any trouble getting back to normal.

"Not at all," she explained, "because I worked with a doctor all through pregnancy. I went to her three times a week for pre-natal exercises. I felt wonderful, and I'm sure the exercises made it easy for me to get back into shape. My doctor places emphasis on breathing, and I was able to expand my ribcage two inches more than when I began."

"What sort of exercises did you do?"

"There were so many. I would lie on the floor with my legs together, bring them up and down slowly but not quite touching the floor when I came down. Then I lay on my side and lifted my legs slightly from the floor and down again. The purpose of the exercises was to use the muscles that are involved in childbirth so you will have an easier time. We were living in Switzerland and Mel (her husband is Mel Ferrer) and I walked for a couple of hours every afternoon. We were in the mountains and it was beautiful and I felt so well all the time."

"After the baby was born, I weighed 118 but I soon began work on a picture and lost the excess weight. But I found that about four o'clock in the afternoon I would get very tired. I visited with Adele Davis, the author of the fine book, "Let's Eat Right and Keep Fit," and she explained to me what was wrong."

"Miss Davis educated me on the importance of fortifying my body with vitamins," she explained, "and you need have no fear of taking too much C because what your system doesn't need is eliminated. I learned how to renew my energy. Often I felt so tired in the middle of the afternoon that the camera caught my fatigued expression. I learned to take three tablespoons of powdered liver. I drank this in a cup of consomme, and it was like a transfusion, for I felt refreshed almost immediately."

Since then I've concentrated on building health and energy with food. I enjoy it. This is not a question of rigid discipline. When I look at something such as a white slice of sugary cake, I have no desire for it because I know it will do nothing at all for me."

"I have always found Audrey a very orderly and disciplined person, and I told her so."

"Discipline is terribly important to me," she exclaimed. "I think it should be taught from the day you are born. My baby is never given attention when he cries for it. Discipline is never a gift. It comes with training, and it is necessary for a happy, healthy life. It is not a sometimes thing, but it should be used every hour of every day. The effort spent for discipline pays big dividends. Self-respect is based on it. Accomplishment of a goal is another. And it helps you not to make repeated mistakes."

In parting, I remarked that Audrey had changed perfumes.

"You remember," she said, "when a perfume becomes so familiar to my nose that I cease to smell it, I change because part of the pleasure of wearing a scent is the pleasure it gives the one wearing it."

If you are having a baby, recently had one or know someone who is, you'll want this guide to regaining your figure. Leaflet M-9, "Regaining Your Girlish Figure After Childbirth," gives exercises while in bed, after you're up on your feet and a diet designed for your specific needs. ## Unborn Is Affected By Diet

Newsfeatures
"Eat enough for two," may once have been dietary advice for the expectant mother, but no longer.

Now a balanced diet is prescribed: with adequate vitamins and minerals.

And there are medical research reasons—having to do with birth defects—behind the new prescription.

Until about 20 years ago, scientists generally went along with the idea that birth defects were due for the most part to heredity. So if a baby picked the right ancestors, he had a good chance of coming into the world with sound mind and limb.

Then studies began to show that the birth picture is not that simple.

Doctors now know that if a mother - to - be gets either too much or too little of certain hormones, minerals or vitamins during certain stages of her pregnancy, the baby may die or may be born malformed.

In one study going on now, Dr. Marjorie Nelson of the University of California is experimenting with pregnant rats, trying to determine just how the absence of a vitamin or mineral interferes with proper prenatal development.

Dr. Nelson already has demonstrated that even a temporary deficiency of folic acid (one of the vitamin B complex) during early pregnancy can cause birth abnormalities in her laboratory animals. The defects range from cleft palate to displacement of organs and malformations of the heart and eyes.

When the researcher put pregnant rats on a folic acid - deficient diet during the second week of their pregnancy, at least 80 per cent of the embryos died or were born malformed. However, when she carried out the same experiment a week earlier or a week later, the young appeared to suffer no adverse effects.

Dr. Virginia Apgar, director of the division of congenital malformations of the National Foundation-March of Dimes, says, "Dr. Nelson's project has a direct bearing on the question of birth defects in humans. It is definitely known, for example, that severe folic acid deficiency in a woman can lead to loss of a baby during early pregnancy."

Dr. Nelson, who has been working under a research grant from the National Foundation, also has found a high incidence of skeletal defects in young rats when the mother rat's diet was deficient in the mineral manganese. She will continue her work in this area, using radioactive material in the manganese-deficient diet to try and trace what goes wrong inside embryonic cells to hinder their normal development.

Artichoke Tips
If you like artichokes in salads or as a vegetable, it is possible to grow them in your garden even if you live in the north. Start the seeds indoors in flats, transplant seedlings to pot after the first true leaves appear, and transplant once more to the garden when weather is warm.

Artichokes are really perennials, ordinarily grown where frost does not occur. Up north they must be grown like annuals and therefore need the early start in the house to assure flower heads in early September.

Youngster Launches Family Into Nubian Goat Business

By JOE PICKLE

Lyndal Lowe had a little trouble in getting started right, and so indirectly he got the Howard Lowe family, started in the goat business.

After Lyndal, the Lowe's third son arrived, the distraught parents tried about every formula that could be concocted, but nothing agreed with the baby. The doctor suggested that goat's milk might turn the trick, and it did, and soon the Lowes had one goat, then another. It wasn't long before the premises were covered with goats, finally as many as 32.

When Lowe was transferred to Big Spring by the Texas & Pacific Railway Company, he left Mrs. Lowe and the boys to tending the flock at their home between Clyde and Baird while he was on the road. This didn't work so well, so last June he moved the family to a place at Sand Springs.

Naturally a few of the goats came along, and now the Lowes are again watching the flock grow.

BOOSTER

Lowe is a great booster for milk goats. He pointed out that there are two or three other herds here, from which many customers are served. He's such an enthusiast for goats that he contends they are the ideal suburban animal.

"You can feed five of them on what it takes for a cow," he claimed, "and together they give more than a cow."

Lowe goes in for Nubian goats.

WHO'S KIDDING? YOU CAN'T GET HIS GOATS
Lyndal Lowe has company as he bundles the kid crop

They are to the goat family business what the Jerseys are to dairy herds, whereas the Swiss goats correspond to the Holsteins. Contrary to a conception held in some quarters, goats are not necessarily smelly, according to Lowe. During the rutting season, the buck does become rather fragrant. The older he gets, the more pungent is his aroma. So from August through January, the bucks are kept in a pasture far removed from the does.

The gestation period is five months, so as a normal thing the heaviest milk flow begins around the first of the year and continues through May. Experienced producers seek to have a few young does coming fresh in June.

CONDITION

All goats must be drenched regularly to keep them in prime condition, and the shine (bloom) of their hair is a barometer to goat well-being. A ration of bright alfalfa hay and commercial goat chow is fed, and an apron is fastened under the goat's belly while being milked. This, and other precautions, help insure a good, sweet milk, which is instantly cooled and processed like cow's milk.

Perhaps the most notable characteristic of goat milk is that it is naturally "homogenized," which means that fat globules are more easily assimilated by some people. The price runs about twice that of cow's milk.

Goats have two teats, and a good animal has a width of frame from the rear that will permit easy carriage of ample udders, a back line not unlike a horse, wide and deep front line, a Roman nose. A good milk goat will give from two to four quarts a day, and a five-quart animal is a prized possession. Goats are fastidious and extremely friendly, frequently crying when the master leaves.

The kids are frisky and bounce around like a rubber ball when the mood strikes. Lowe teaches them to drink out of a pan the day they are born and thereafter they run in the same pen with the does without nursing.

CHILDREN

The Lowe family had four boys—Stanley, Mark, Lyndal and Leslie—and just before they moved here, a daughter, Loris, was born.

"So we figured that rounded out our family," said Lowe. "Maybe we could let the increase in the family take place in the goats."

That's what is happening, although weather dealt Lowe a blow. When the thermometer dipped to 5 below zero, two of the does blessed the herd with triplets. Half of them died, but the herd is gradually growing. Now he has six does ready for production, two young does due to be ready within six months or so. In addition there are the kids and the buck.

Mrs. Cypert Enters Race For Treasurer

GARDEN CITY — Mrs. Jonnie L. Cypert announced Saturday she will seek the office of county treasurer of Glasscock County. She announced subject to action of the Democratic primary, and this marks her first time to offer for public office. In making her announcement, she said:

"As a candidate for the office of Glasscock County treasurer, I earnestly solicit your support and influence. I am a widow with four high school children living at home.

"I feel that my business experience as office manager and part-owner of a butane company in Garden City for seven years has equipped me in office management and public relations to handle the detail work of the county treasurer's office in an efficient manner. I fully realize that strict attention must be given to all phases of work which this office entails, and I am ready to assume the responsibility of it if I am elected. Your vote will be appreciated."

Turman Joins Lt. Gov. Race

AUSTIN (AP)—Speaker James Turman has joined a crowded race for lieutenant governor.

Other Democrats seeking the office are Sens. Preston Smith of Lubbock, Bob Baker of Houston, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro and Jarrard Secrest of Temple, and Gene Smith, a former state representative of Fort Worth.

Republicans O. W. Hayes, a Temple businessman; and Kellis Dibrell, a San Antonio lawyer, also are in the race.

"I am the only candidate . . . who has had the experience and responsibility for organizing a legislative house, for formulating a legislative program, and for presiding over the daily affairs of a legislative body," Turman said.

Turman lives near Gober in Fannin County. He is in his fourth term in the House.

Turman, 35, graduated from East Texas State College at Commerce and the University of Texas, where he later taught. He was assistant to the president of Texas Woman's University in Denton.

Mrs. Turman teaches in the Austin schools.

Sheriff's Check Department Gets Off To A Good Start

Howard County Sheriff Miller Harris said the new check department in his office collected 102 worthless checks during January and recovered $2,202.85 for Big Spring merchants who had accepted them.

It was the first full month the new department has operated. Officers were pleased with the initial operation and point out that in a year's time, if the January averages were maintained, the department would save business men of the city a loss of $20,000 or more.

However, the department does not plan to be content with the average set in January. It is anticipated that, as the department becomes more firmly established and its facilities better recognized by the business men of the city, the volume of checks processed, the number of worthless check writers apprehended and the money collected for these bad checks will increase steadily.

The department said 162 business establishments contributed worthless checks to the officers for handling in January. A total of 455 checks were placed in the files during the month but 101 of these were old and were filed primarily for reference. Of the 354 processed as active cases, the department recovered $1,095.44 on 63 checks written by Howard County residents and $1,087.40 from 39 checks collected outside of the county.

During the month the department filed four misdemeanor complaints against worthless check writers. One pleaded guilty and paid off a $78.85 check he has written. Two of the other also pleaded guilty but have not as yet made restitution on the checks against them. The fourth defendant is out on bond.

Two felony check charges were filed by the department in January. One of the defendants paid a $150.45 forged check he had written. The other defendant has posted bond and been released from custody.

One foreign check for $21.50 was collected.

The total collected on all checks for January was $2,123.75.

Biggest check turned in for the department to handle was $163. Smallest bad check submitted was for $1.

Deputy Aubrey Standard is in charge of the new department which was set in operation on Jan. 1.

It is modeled after a similar operation set up by the sheriff of Wichita County.

Merchants here are cooperating excellently, Harris said and are well pleased, from reports, with the results being achieved.

MRS. R. B. G. COWPER

WENDAL PARKS

JOE A. MOSS

Incumbents Ask Re-Election As Members Of School Board

Three trustees have announced for re-election in the coming election of trustees to the board for the Big Spring Independent School District.

They are Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Wendal Parks and Joe A. Moss. Each has served a three year term with the exception of Moss, who was appointed as a replacement for Dan M. Krause, who resigned Nov. 7, 1961.

After serving on the board since 1959, Mrs. Cowper seeks a second term to continue with a task which she describes as "extremely interesting."

"I feel that I have learned much during the first term," she said. "Equipped with this knowledge I should be able to better serve the public. If elected, I will do my best to fulfill my responsibility as I have tried to do in the past."

Mrs. Cowper has been a resident of Big Spring since 1936 and taught in local schools for one year after graduating from the University of Texas.

A native of Denton, Mrs. Cowper attended public schools there. She is active in P-TA work, women's clubs and church work. The Cowpers have four children.

"As a parent, I have a keen interest in doing everything possible to get the best instruction for Big Spring's school children," she said.

Joe A. Moss, secretary of Cosden Petroleum Corp., is seeking another term after being appointed to the board as a replacement for Krause.

"It is both a privilege and a responsibility to serve as a trustee for our schools," he said. "It is a trustee's task to see that the children of our community are offered the best education that can be realistically provided with the taxpayers' support. Being the parent of a school-age child, I can understand and appreciate that objective."

"Should the voters return me to the board for my first elective term, I pledge my wholehearted interest and efforts to the educational welfare of our children," he said.

Moss has been with Cosden since October, 1953, when he joined the firm as assistant general counsel. He was attorney for the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools prior to that.

He is a graduate of the school of law at the University of Texas and began his law career in Austin. He is currently president of the Howard County Bar Association.

Moss spent two tours as an officer in the U.S. Navy. He is active in church work and is vice chairman of the Lone Star District of the Boy Scouts.

Wendal Parks, a native of Big Spring, operates the Tate, Bristol and Parks Insurance firm. His father, the late J. R. Parks, was a conductor on the Texas and Pacific Railroad for 50 years.

Parks graduated from Big Spring High School in 1937 and continued his education at Texas Tech. He spent four years with the Air Force during World War II. He has two daughters.

"I did not realize the job of being a trustee was as big as it is," he said of his first term in office.

"It takes a few years to gain the knowledge and experience needed to do a good job. Now that I have gained that experience, I would like to be given the opportunity to put it to good use," he said.

"I believe we have reached a point where good conservative measures must be instituted to give our children everything they need in education without all the frills which are too often connected with schools," he said.

Parks is a past president of the Kiwanis Club and has been president of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association. Other activities include work with the Chamber of Commerce, Knights of Pythias and the Elks.

The election will be held April 7. Deadline for filing is March 7.

Poll Taxes Being Counted

Deputies in the office of Zirah LeFevre, county tax collector, were still busy processing poll tax receipt applications on Friday and the tax collector said it was doubtful if a final official check would be available before late Monday.

The applications being handled were those turned to the office before midnight on Jan. 31. If an application was in the hands of the tax collector before midnight, a poll tax receipt will be issued to the applicant and he will be able to vote in the election this year.

Last year — a non-political year — the official totals were determined on Feb. 5. Poll tax receipts stood at 6,832 and exemption certificates at 1,560 for a total of 8,212.

This year, the unofficial total is above 9,500. In 1961, on the final day and night of the poll tax period, there were 1,100 poll tax receipts and 128 exemption certificates issued by the office. This year, the final day's total was considerably higher, it was indicated.

BAND BOOSTERS MEET MONDAY

Members of the Big Spring Band Boosters Club will discuss sponsorship of the high school band in its efforts to make the trip to Seattle, Wash., and appear in the World's Fair.

The boosters meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the band hall at the high school. An executive committee meeting is slated for 7 p.m. All parents and other persons interested in the school music program are urged and encouraged to attend, according to Walter Stroup, president.

RUSSELL RAYBURN

Rayburn Files For County Judge Post

Russell Rayburn, a long-time resident and businessman in Big Spring, announced Saturday that he would seek the office of county judge of Howard County.

For most of his adult life Mr. Rayburn has been either associated in or operating a jewelry business, and most of his adult life has been spent here.

In authorizing the Herald to announce his candidacy subject to the action of the Democratic primary, Mr. Rayburn had this statement to make to voters and citizens of Howard County:

"I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of county judge.

"I am a native born Texan, 50 years of age, and with the exception of two years, have been a resident of Big Spring for the past 26 years. I am fully qualified for this office, and if elected will devote my full time and energy performing the duties to this office efficiently and impartially.

"I will appreciate your vote and influence, and may I urge you to exercise one of your greatest American heritages — the right to vote. Thank you very much for your consideration."

How Texas Solons Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — How Texas congressmen voted on recent roll calls:

On Mansfield motion, adopted 61-25, upholding the referral to Judiciary Committee of the civil rights bill dealing with literacy tests for voting: For — Yarborough and Tower.

On confirmation, 71-12, of nomination of John McCone director of the Central Intelligence Agency: For — Yarborough and Tower.

On passage, 319-79, of bill authorizing federal aid for expanding college facilities. For — Beckworth, Brooks, Gonzalez, Purcell, Patman, Thomas, Thompson, Thornberry, Wright, Young.

Against — Alger, Burleson, Dowdy, Fisher, Killgore, Mahon, Poage, Rutherford, Teague.

Forsan Schedules First Council Vote

FORSAN — Forsan voters will go to the polls on April 7 to elect a mayor, two councilmen and city marshal in the first regular election since this community was incorporated a year ago.

J. C. Lamb, mayor, said that he would seek re-election. Reports indicate that the two council members whose terms are expiring will also be candidates to succeed themselves. They are O. W. Scuddry and John B. Anderson.

Leland Camp is the present city marshal. Because the groundwork for the town's financial structure has not been established, Camp, who is supposed to be the only paid official of the community, has not as yet received any pay for his first year's service. The other three councilmen were elected for two year terms and will hold office until April, 1963. They are A. P. Oglesby, Bobby Wash, who also served as secretary to the council, and C. B. Long.

The original council was elected last year.

Sometime in the near future—possibly before the April 7 election of the new councilmen—the residents of Forsan will go to the polls to vote on a proposed bond issue to expand and improve the water system of the town. A date for this election will probably be set in the near future, Mayor Lamb said.

Eagle Scouts To Be Honored

A dinner affair recognizing the achievement of youths who have become Eagle Scouts during 1961 and prior to the date of the event has been set for Feb. 9, the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council announced Saturday.

The dinner will be held at 7 p.m. in Permian High School at Odessa, and Kenneth Koon, Odessa, an Eagle, will evaluate his experiences in Scouting. There also will be a talk and a film on the Antarctic expedition No. 1, with Dr. Paul Siple, sent as an Eagle Scout on this expedition, as narrator.

Council officials are anxious that not only will the boys who became Eagles during the past year, but that all Eagle Scouts will also attend.

"We are anxious to have the names of very man or boy in the council who has attained the Eagle rank," said Carl Corbin, assistant area executive. "We don't care how young or old he may be, we would like to be in contact with him."

Reservations for the Eagle recognition dinner should be made by contacting the council office at Box 1306, Midland.

LET'S WASH OUT SOME SOILED IDEAS ABOUT ADVERTISING

No well equipped home in America would be complete without a scrubbing board, if it weren't for advertising and the sleek, new washing machines that advertising "makes" women want.

You often hear that advertising sells people things they don't really want. Does it? Don't you want your dishwasher, for example? Was it advertising that sold it to you, or was it that three-a-day sinkful of dirty dishes?

Well, not exactly things you don't want, say the critics, but things you don't need. That's true. You don't need your orange juice squeezer. You could squeeze them by hand. Or buy frozen juice. But could you afford frozen orange juice if it weren't advertised? Imagine what it would cost if only a few housewives knew it existed! It's advertising, telling millions of people that what they want is available, that makes it available at an affordable price. How much would it cost to brush your teeth, if toothpaste weren't advertised? And how good would the toothpaste be?

There's the answer to whether advertising adds to the cost of things. It doesn't. It adds to the quality of things. Manufacturers must keep making their products better in order to have something better to advertise. If they didn't, their competitors would. And frequently do. This forces all manufacturers to meet the improved standards—or lose you as a customer. How many of your favorite brands were on the market ten years ago?

And who winds up the winner as a result? You do. You buy better things, more things, less expensively. You enjoy the world's highest standard of living and you contribute heavily toward raising the standards in less privileged countries—largely because of advertising and the products it sells.

What about abusive or offensive or dishonest advertising? There is a certain amount of that, just as there are abusive, offensive, dishonest sales people. In both cases, the answer is simple: Don't buy from them.

Flying Club Organizes, Plans Plane Purchase

The Big Spring Flyers, Inc. got off the ground Friday night when 16 paid their initiation fees, selected a name, elected officers, and tentatively approved a constitution. Two others present, and two more who called, said they would come into the group before Feb. 9, the date set for ratification of the constitution and approving by-laws.

Alvin J. Eldridge, who has served as temporary chairman, was elected president by acclamation. He holds a commercial license and has logged over 400 hours of flying in aircraft rated up to 450 horsepower. He is technical representative for field service and training for NORAIR, a division of the Northrop Corporation, assigned to Webb Air Force Base.

OTHER OFFICERS

Vice president is Roger Brown, Big Spring attorney, who holds a private license, and has 100 hours of flying time in aircraft up to 160 horsepower. Mrs. Betty Ray Clifton, secretary, is a student with 65 hours in aircraft up to 160 horsepower. Treasurer is Joe Clark, a student in aircraft to 145 horsepower. Officers will serve for six months, and may be re-elected. Operations, maintenance officers, and all committees, will be appointed by the president. The constitution and charter ratification meeting will be held

Well, He's Still Got The Frame

ELLSWORTH, Kan. (AP)—The Rev. Emmett Coler, pastor of St. Bernard's Catholic Church here, bought a painting for $13 at an auction last summer because he liked the frame.

Then there arose speculation that the painting was an original by the Flemish artist, Peter Paul Rubens. The painting was submitted to experts in New York. It is not a Rubens, and furthermore, "it is not even of the Rubens school," says Paula Insel, head of the Galerie Paula Insel in New York. Father Coler said he wasn't upset. "I never have been too concerned if it was an original or not," he said.

Purchase Paper

club, but interest has grown to such extent that 25 may be permitted. A Piper Custom Colt will be purchased by the new club at a cost of $5,995. A second wing tank will be installed to give maximum flying time and will add $200 to the cost, and tie-down rings for $30, making the total $6,225.

Monthly payments of those wanting to pay out the aircraft on terms will be under $12, not including instructional cost which may be scheduled by the student as fast as he is able and under the instructor of his choice. Down payment will run under 50% and will include interest. Those wishing to do so may pay cash for their interest in the aircraft and save the carrying charges.

COSTS
The $11.47 per month, based on a 20 member club, will include airplane cost, gasoline, oil, reserve for engine overhaul, propellers, and maintenance. Insurance will be based on the type chosen by the club and will run approximately 10 per cent of the monthly cost. Flying time payments will be $3.80 per month per member. Payments will be lessened with 25 members in the club.

Delivery of the airplane will require less than two weeks, Ted McClung, manager of Howard County Airport, said. He said he felt delivery could be made from Lubbock.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Webb Club Adds New Plane And Several New Members

The second aero-club for Big Spring was assured Friday night when 16 persons paid their $10 initiation fees.

A new custom Colt PA 22-108 was added to the Webb AFB Aero-Club aircraft inventory this week.

making four. The craft was purchased from the Ratts Aviation Co., Wichita, Kans. Lt. Franklin Strickler flew commercial air to Kansas and flew the airplane to Big Spring Sunday. The Colt cruises at 109 miles per hour, with fuel consumption at 6.8 gallons per hour. Rental rate is expected to be around $5 per hour.

S. Sgt. Don Williams and Airman 2C. Ernest Marks have successfully completed the written examinations for their private licenses.

New members joining the club are Airman Charles Ward, Capt. and Mrs. Gerald Schrimmer, Maj. and Mrs. Elgin Davis, Homer Conners of Civil Engineers, Lt. Buddy Dees, and Airman Perrin.

Maj. Tom McMillan has been appointed Aero Club adviser and maintenance officer. Jo Gardner club secretary, and Capt. Schrimmer instructor pilot.

The monthly meeting of the Aero Club has been changed to the second Monday of each month. The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 12 at the John H. Lees Service Club.

The weather man has been kind to flyers for the past week and, including Sunday afternoon when 270 persons enjoyed the March of

No Rush For Car Licenses

Howard County motorists are buying their 1962 tags these days but there is no big demand for them.

On the opening day tags were sold, the county tax office deputies were kept busy but not rushed by applicants. On Friday, second day of the season, the same story applied. Motorists have all of February and March to buy tags but there is an appeal that tags be acquired early. Each year, as the deadline for plates nears, the office of the tax collector is besieged with belated buyers.

It was pointed out that no waiting is now necessary and that the new plates can be purchased in minutes these days where it may take a lot of time toward the end of March.

It was reiterated that an applicant for 1962 car tags should bring his car title and the receipt for his 1961 plates with him when he comes to the office. These documents are necessary in order that the new plates can be issued.

Cupid Was Busy During January

Cupid was a tolerably busy fellow in this county during January.

Records of Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, show 36 couples applied at her office for marriage licenses during the month. February, which usually vies with June as the popular month for weddings, was off to a good start.

Valentine Day, Feb. 14, makes this month a period largely dedicated to lovers and romance. As a result, the county clerk's office usually gets an increased number of applications for marriage licenses during this month.

Interesting Topic For Primaries

Those who didn't pay their poll taxes might reconsider had they known the torrid climax of filings in the governor's race. But then again, we doubt it, for most people who are genuinely interested in the affairs of government get around to filing regardless of the field, or regardless of whether it is an on or off year.

Instead of a three or four way split, the gubernatorial campaign now stacks up as a five or six-way split.

Prior to Friday when Gov. Price Daniel filed for a fourth term and former Gen. Edwin A. Walker filed for a place, the Democratic ballot loomed as a three-way chase between Attorney General Will Wilson, former Navy Secretary John Conally, and former Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby. Then Don Yarborough, Houston, injected his name when Sen. Ralph Yarborough stepped out as a possible candidate. Now all this must be reshuffled, because it is certain that the governor will command some percentage of the total, and Walker will undoubtedly catch some part also.

This leaves the preponderance of candidates on the conservative side with several in the moderate bracket. Don Yarborough, whose other entry into politics was a fairly impressive showing for attorney general as a relatively unknown, may be on the liberal side of moderate. Jack Cox has the Republican camp to himself. Whether the field will mean fratricide among the Democrats, or will undercut GOP hopes will be an interesting topic for 1962.

Vote 'Aye' For Membership

This week Big Spring and area residents will be approached by more than 200 volunteers who will be seeking to secure their memberships in the YMCA.

We hope they will receive a warm response.

This is the participating division of the membership campaign and will have to do with families and individuals who actually will be making use of the YMCA facilities and programs during the year. Naturally, the Y would be grateful for membership fees paid in full at the time they are taken, but actually payments may be split over several months.

We mention this because a fee, quoted in one amount, may sound like a little strain on an average family budget. When you examine what it actually costs, it breaks down to the equivalent of the price of a cup and a half of coffee a day.

Where can you find a comparable bargain for your family in wholesome, creative activity?

Where can you better invest your funds, outside of your church tithe, where they will help undergird a program in Christian citizenship training for young people?

Big Spring has a first class YMCA facility and program.

Do you want it to remain that way?

We believe that you are proud of this plus institution and what it means to the life of our community. We hope you will express that pride in support of the YMCA membership appeal.

Can We Do Anything Better Than They?

WASHINGTON — Maybe we ought to try to lick 'em before we decide to join 'em. Something like this conclusion seems to be making headway as Congress prepares to consider the President's trade policy of lowering or abolishing our tariff protections against the manufacturing nations of West Europe and of Japan.

We're not trying to lick anybody when we electricians go to a five-hour-work week, when we continue to pad the payroll with workers who don't do much work, and when we continue to pay the farmer to raise foods that we take off the market to inflate the price.

NEITHER THE President nor Under Secretary of State George Ball, who seems to have charge of the proposed trade program, has been frank and penetrating in discussing our export position. But a recent paper by Professor Per Hoel, American Institute of Foreign Trade, Phoenix, Arizona, while supporting Mr. Kennedy's plan, makes some trenchant comments as to what's wrong with the 96 per cent of American manufacturers who don't export.

ONE THING that's wrong is that our potential exporters have been fed an inferiority complex by their government. What is a government subsidy if it isn't an official recognition that the recipient is weak, feeble, retarded? Industries that get propped up by special favors from Washington are very unlikely to become vigorous, independent and minded to kick the props away. It wouldn't be hard to tick off a dozen or so American industries — starting with the makers of typewriters, bicycles, textiles, pottery, watches and hats — which have been all too readily convinced that they aren't as good as foreigners.

ANOTHER THING that's wrong is that contemporary foreign trading in this country commenced with the end of World War II. And what industries were on their marks, ready to race into foreign markets in 1945? The answer is — only the war gains and a few lucky smaller firms. This is why only 4 per cent (Mr. Kennedy's figure used in his speech before the NAM) of American manufacturers sell their goods regularly abroad. The rest of them, at war's end, found a home market that was rich and hungry for consumer goods which were supplied with a will.

THE LAW BOOKS are loaded with statutes against American companies which might want to go into foreign trade. The income tax on profits derived from exporting is a major discouragement.

Strange Bounce Of The Foreign Trade Ball

When it comes to foreign affairs, economics is like a tennis ball with a cross-spin. You can't tell the bounce by looking at the trajectory.

Take, as an example, President Kennedy's request to Congress for authority to lower tariffs. It came just before Secretary of the Treasury Dillon and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Martin told the Joint Economic Committee of Congress that our balance-of-payments deficit is worsening. The nation's gold stock, below $17,000,000,000 from a high of $25,000,000,000 in 1949, is oozing outward again.

Yet, the President seems to say to Western Europe in particular and the world in general: "I'm asking Congress for authority to lower tariffs. This would make it easier for your exporters to sell goods here, and thus to earn more dollars."

But that's the way economics bounces. Really, the President is saying just the opposite. Ever since the 1870s, the United States has had a trade surplus—a favorable balance of trade (see chart). We customarily export more than we import. And, according to mercantilist theory, that's dandy. It results in an inflow of gold.

ANOTHER BOUNCE The mercantilists don't reckon with the 1950's and 1960's. Our export surplus has run around five billions a year, yet we lose gold. The trade surplus has not been enough to offset (a) U. S. economic and military aid abroad, (b) private investment abroad, and (c) withdrawal of foreign funds from the U. S.

And so, it's natural to ask, "Why would the President import, which would reduce the trade surplus, when our balance-of-payments deficit isn't under control?"

Again, a strange economic bounce! We are ready to accept higher imports, in order to (a) hold onto our already high exports, and (b) have a chance to push exports higher.

Because of the Common Market, if we don't open our trade doors wider, export doors will narrow.

Approximately one-third of U. S. foreign trade is with Western Europe. And this trade nets a surplus of nearly $2,000,000,000 in good years. We now hurdle the tariffs of West Germany, or France, or Belgium, because all other countries in Europe contend with those same tariffs.

BACK TO HAWLEY-SMOOT

However, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland, and Luxembourg have entered into a customs union. They're lowering tariffs to each other—and ultimately will have no tariffs at all among themselves. And it's possible that Great Britain and other countries will join the union.

That will be set the United States apart—back to the days of Hawley-Smoot tariff.

If the Common Market countries lower tariffs internally and maintain tariffs externally, then the U. S. exporters of manufactured and agricultural products will be at a disadvantage. A German exporter could get into the Belgian and French markets, say, over a lower tariff than an American exporter.

Therefore, merely to assure continuance of today's competitive status quo, the President wants the power to bargain for Common Market equality. He wants to be able to say, "When you cut tariffs, we'll cut ours to match. Then you won't be at a disadvantage in selling in the United States, and we won't be at a disadvantage selling to you."

BENEFICIAL EFFECTS

Tariff reductions and tariff equality will have other consequences: Some American manufacturers have been "investing" their way inside the Common Market by building plants in Europe.

However, if tariff barriers come down, or are leveled entirely, then American companies might prefer to expand here, rather than abroad. They'll be even-Steven, tariff-wise, with European sellers. This would: 1. reduce the export of capital, and thus cut down the pull on gold; 2. give an impetus to economic growth here, because of increased domestic investment; 3. tend to increase the immediate balance-of-trade surplus—U. S. exports would rise; 4. increase profits of U. S. corporations, and thus encourage investors to keep money here rather than seek higher returns and growth rates elsewhere.

Such are the strange bounces in economics. The President proposes to buy more from abroad and, in so doing, reduce the gold outflow, because we'll also sell more.

Nor Rain ...

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" is a quotation often applied to postmen. But, apparently, it also applies to the Nashville Public Works Department.

It was pouring down rain recently; the gutters were full to the curb — tops; automobiles splashed slowly through the pools at intersections.

And there, down the middle of the street, moved a city water-truck, jets spraying on both sides — performing its routine duty of washing the streets.

Around The Rim

Bein' Young Don't Hurt Culture

Dear Rufe:

I'm late gettin' around to this, pardner, but I been busy tryin' to strip the last of the cotton, and I nearly didn't get to the last culture session we had here.

What we had was this singin' orchestra outfit, or this instrumental choir outfit, call it what you want. Leastways, it looked better on the stage than some other outfits you could name. First, there was some real pretty girls. Second, there was some young folks, although not all of 'em was so young. There is somethin' about young folks—as you might recollect—that waltz a lot of spirit into things.

WELL, WHAT THEY DID was to have the singers stand on stair steps right up the middle of the stage, and the horn and drum and pianna players split in two parts. The horn and the drum boys was on one side, the pianna and the organ players and the fiddlers was on the other. They all stayed together mostly because of the old feller who stood out in the middle, with a light on him all the time. He did all the talkin', among other things.

The singers would sing, sometimes all together, sometimes in threes or fours, and sometimes all alone. High notes, low notes, fast or slow, looked like they was always havin' fun.

PART OF THE music got real serious, though, when it started tellin' about the history of this country. It went all the way back to Columbus, which is a long way back, and ended up in the Civil War, which is about as nasty a place as you could end anything.

While they was a-singin' this stuff about the Indians and the Pilgrims, and George Washington, and maybe Davey Crockett, these people on the stair steps kept a-changin' around all the time—boys here, girls there, then turn it around, fancy formations and all that—until I thought they was in a lodge drill. And about the time we brought this history up to the final chapter, it would've surprised me if ole Abe Lincoln had a-walked right on the stage. But he didn't.

SOON AS WE got that over, the kids did some of their own stunts, like playin' they was in opera, but not really, and that kind of thing. Pretty tricky stuff, too, and it would take a real music student, like me or you, maybe, to appreciate just how they changed that opera into something you could understand.

THEY WAS nearly all music and not much dancin'. There was just a wee bit of twistin', which is good, because a lot of it would've killed the culture. One girl kicked up a little to show off her striped pantaloons, but the leader put a stop to that. He seemed to be a no-nonsense kind of feller. Never did sing or play nothin' himself, though. Makes you wonder what it takes to be a leader.

Speaking of them pretty girls, they changed their dresses several times, and all of them was bright and sparkly. I kept feelin' sorry for one little ole girl. She wasn't on the stair steps as a singer, but was over with the fiddlers, playin' a squeeze box. She got to change her dress every time the others did, but she was always so covered up by that squeeze box that you couldn't hardly tell it.

ANYWAYS, she did good, and looked good, and it just shows you that if you are young enough you can make culture seem like it is, even if it ain't.

Men Vs. Machines In War

WASHINGTON — As the shadow of the machine — automation, the great electronic computers — looms larger over every aspect of contemporary life, a discussion is going forward on a policy-making level here about the role of machines in controlling the course of a future war.

Certain of President Kennedy's advisers have been impressed by an article in the current Foreign Affairs magazine by Sir Solly Zuckerman, scientific adviser to Britain's Minister of Defense and chairman of the Defense Research Policy Committee in London. The article is based on Zuckerman's contribution to a symposium on "Science and Warfare in the 1970's" held at NATO's Paris headquarters under the auspices of General Lauris Norstad, supreme commander in Europe.

ZUCKERMAN rejects the concept that has gained increasing credence of a war automated by giant mathematical computers feeding out commands to the complex machines of modern war. This is an oversimplification of an involved argument, but his viewpoint is summed up in his conclusion in which he warns against creating "in a mathematical vacuum situations which are based neither on past experience of affairs nor on any conception of the innumerable variables and factors that determine social decision either today or tomorrow."

"THE HUMAN BRAIN, human values, human judgments, are still superior to the mechanics and processes of electronic computers or guidance systems," Zuckerman writes. "The day this ceases to be true there will probably be no human brains. But until then let us use true scientific method as an aid to human judgment — and not as a hindrance. Science is human experience; it is not an alternative to judgment and it is certainly not something that can operate outside human experience."

AN INCIDENT that occurred here recently serves to point up the question of men versus machines, raising some troubling doubts about human conduct and the role of the individual in a mechanized society. When war is conducted by a few technicians operating mechanical brains what is the place of courage, of individual bravery, dash and daring?

The Marine Corps more perhaps than any other service has had a tradition of personal courage and derring-do. It has had, too, to fight for its existence against the efforts of the other forces to absorb it in the interest, as alleged, of economy and efficiency. In writing the history of the Corps, Colonel R. D. Heinl Jr. included a chapter called "The Right to Fight."

THIS TELLS, from the Marine Corps point of view, the struggle under President Truman and his Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson to prevent the Corps from being cut back to a kind of sea police force. That fight, carried to Congress and the country, stirred great acrimony among those who wanted to merge most of the functions of the Corps with the Army and the Air Force. Now Marine headquarters has denied clearance to "The Right to Fight" on "policy" rather than security grounds.

CENSORSHIP means that the history cannot be published. Most Marines, fanatically proud of their tradition, are likely to regard this as a slight to the institution they love. Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs Arthur Sylvester says that the matter has not come to his attention and here is a possibility that an appeal the action may be reversed. It might be the better part of valor not to revive the memory of the struggle to preserve the Corps. But Marines are proud of that fight and its heroes, as well as their long roster of battles in every war in America's history.

William James, the American philosopher, wrote "The Moral Equivalent of War" to argue the need to find a substitute for the challenge of battle which over the centuries has brought out many of man's noblest qualities. If war is finally reduced to push-button technology the search for that equivalent may begin in earnest.

Proper Channels Being By-Passed

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration may not realize it but an image of better-skelter is being created by its own publicity apparatus. The idea is being conveyed that what is good for the political machine is also good for America.

Several things have caused a raising of eyebrows here, and a feeling of concern is beginning to spread throughout the country. Questions like these are being asked:

1. WHY IS the administration seeking to tighten its control of all the political organizations in the larger cities of the country by building up a Department of Urban Affairs that could conceivably dictate to municipal governments and take from the local authorities the control of their own cities?

2. Why is the President by-passing the Department of State and the U. S. Information Agency, for which Congress expends annually a lot of money on the theory that the conduct of foreign relations and the carrying on of information programs, respectively, are the direct responsibilities of those two executive agencies in the government?

3. WHY DID THE President recently conduct a series of inner government conferences, including 52 of the top policy-making officials, and set forth the policies of the government in the cold war without making any explanation to the American people or to Congress of the important decisions he has reached on foreign policy?

The newspapers were given background information on these inside conferences and naturally such dispatches were read with considerable curiosity in Congress and by Allied governments abroad, if not by the Moscow government as well.

SUBJECTS LIKE our preparations for limited and conventional war and counter-guerrilla operations have certain aspects that need not be publicized, but it would have been helpful to the understanding of American policies throughout the world if the firm words attributed to the President during his conferences with high officers of the government had been put in some official form for the rest of the world to read.

The by-passing of the Department of State and the U. S. Information Agency has been revealed in the announcement that the President's press secretary, who doesn't speak Russian and who has had no experience in the foreign service, is suddenly to undertake a high-level negotiation in the matter of exchanging television and other information programs. Why isn't a task like this performed by Edward R. Murrow, director of the U. S. Information Agency through the American embassy in Moscow?

THERE IS A tendency at the White House to by-pass the Cabinet officers charged by law with certain responsibilities. There is also a tendency to conduct conversations with high officials of other governments through intermediaries who have not been trained to overcome the language difficulties and who may not know how to avoid the pitfalls of an interchange of views on policy questions.

THE KENNEDY administration, in violating the customary rules of international intercourse, is taking chances. Sooner or later the Allied governments will be hearing indirectly through Soviet ambassadors that the United States is ready to concede on this or that point. This will not, of course, be accurate, but the Soviets will not worry about this as they see how much mischief they can perpetrate out of information obtained in confidential conversations between the President or his press secretary and various Soviet spokesmen.

Can't Brag

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Michael Lombard can't take too much credit for his son, William Lombard, recently being named Rochester chief of police.

Fifteen years ago the senior Lombard gave his son some advice — not to become a policeman.

Served Washington

PIQUA, Ohio (AP)—"The last of Washington's Life Guards" rests in a tiny cemetery carved out of a forest north of Piqua.

The man who outlived the rest of General Washington's personal Revolutionary War bodyguards, a Virginia farmer named Lewis Boyer, was buried in Wesley Chapel cemetery in 1843.

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: What is tachycardia? Would it have any bearing on a breath problem?—MRS. T.A.

It means a heart beat that is more rapid than usual. In a great number of cases it appears to be mainly a nervous reaction, and getting the nerves settled is the answer. (It can, however, be due to serious physical defects such as overactive thyroid or heart disease.)

As to a "breath problem," I presume you mean a feeling of shortness of breath, which can accompany a fast heart rate.

If, in any case, serious physical conditions are involved, they become readily apparent in an examination, so see your doctor. If it is due to thyroid or heart disease, treatment should be started. If it is nerves, that too can be treated.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it true that continuous wearing of pony-tail hair style by a child will result in baldness? Will it be temporary or permanent? How long would it take to get bald spots if such be the case?—M.S.

A convincing number of cases have been observed in which a tight — observe that word! — pony-tail has resulted in loss of hair. But many pony-tails show no such result.

Here's what we DON'T know: Whether it affects some people and not others; how long it takes; whether it is permanent.

My advice: Pony-tails are cute, and if you like 'em, use this hair-do but don't try to pull them too tight that they pull the hair strongly at the "wrong" angle.

Dear Dr. Molner: Since childhood I have had a deviated septum which hasn't bothered me too much. Two years ago I developed chronic pharyngitis. One specialist said to have the deviated septum corrected; another said not to have the operation since I still have plenty of air coming through the nostril. Have you any suggestion?—MRS. S.N.

This is another of many instances of differing judgment; it isn't that the physicians are "right" or "wrong" per se. Two men of skill have differing opinions.

What's the patient to do? My only answer is to consult a third specialist.

I doubt that an operation is necessary so long as adequate air space remains. If the air space is obstructed, that's a different matter.

A good many things other than septal deviation can cause chronic pharyngitis; tonsils, infected adenoids or infected lymphoid tissue in the throat, smoking, allergy, dust, smog, fumes, etc.

Dear Dr. Molner: I recently had cobalt therapy and would like to know more about it.—MRS. A.W.

To boil it down to the important facts, "cobalt therapy" is treatment with rays from metal (cobalt) which has been made radioactive. The rays are the same as from a high-voltage X-ray instrument. (Lower-voltage X-ray machines have "softer" rays which do not focus as sharply, but that's the only essential difference.)

Whether the source of the rays is cobalt (or cesium, or perhaps we'll have other sources presently) or from X-rays, the rays are useful. Where we obtain the rays is a technical question for the radiologists. The rays are the same, and we are devoutly glad that they have been discovered and put to use.

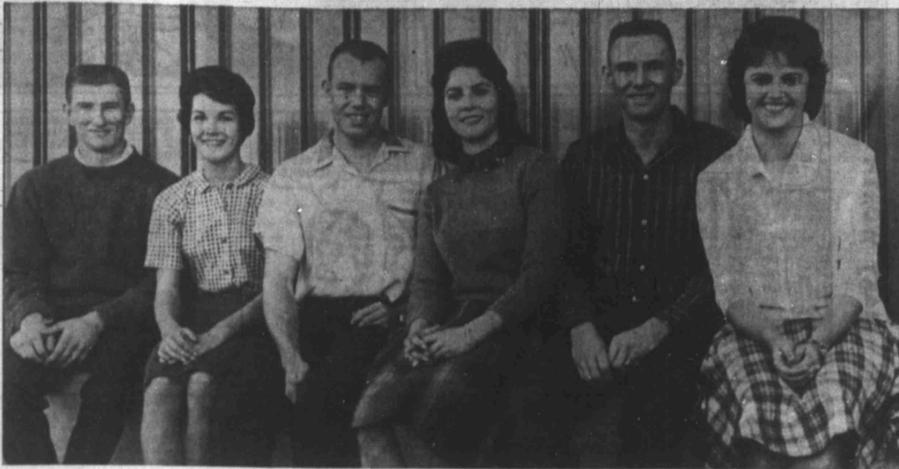

Headaches! You can beat them. Write to Dr. Molner in care of Big Spring Herald for a copy of my booklet, "How To Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Dr. Molner is interested in all his readers' questions, and whenever possible uses their questions in his column; but because of the great number received daily, he regrets that he cannot answer individual letters.

The Library Club met Thursday, Jan. 25 after school. Plans were made to attend the Thirtieth Annual Convention of the Texas Teen-Age Library Association to be held in San Angelo Feb. 23, 24, and 25. The Runnels Library Club plans to send five delegates. All of you should start going to our school library more often. There are many wonderful books still unread!
The bands had a very successful concert Tuesday. The Runnels Band opened the concert with four selections. Next came Goliad, and with four numbers; and the senior high school band played several songs which concluded the concert. The attendance was wonderful, with around 1,200 music lovers present. Guest soloist was Harold Brasch, baritone player. Sylvia Edwards, junior in the senior high band, accompanied him in several selections. This concert was a real boost for the high school band, which is planning to attend the Seattle World's Fair in May.

FHS Girls In Tourney

By NELL GARNER
(For BONNIE SIMPSON)
FORSAN — The Forsan High School basketball girls left Thursday morning to go to the tournament at Hardin-Simmons. Their first game was with Avoca. We hate to report that they lost by a score of 46-40.
Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. the seventh grade presented a play entitled "Snow White and the Eight Dwarfs." In this particular presentation the girls and boys exchanged parts. It was presented to the elementary students.
Tuesday afternoon, the junior and senior girls met with Mrs. Romans in the Homemaking lab to discuss a few plans for the FHA banquet to be held Feb. 10. The main job is going to be the clean up.

Seven BSHS Students Place On All-State Band

By MARLYN GUM
A roaring pep rally was held in the BSHS gym Friday morning during the second period. During the pep rally the BSHS Steer football team was awarded its jackets and sweaters. Also, the basketball boys were introduced by Coach Delnor Pass. The Steers met Abilene Cooper in their own gym Friday evening.
Seven BSHS band members qualified at Regional and Area tryouts in the All - State Band Concert in Dallas this weekend. In the regional meet at Odessa Permian Jan. 6, four band members of BSHS were chosen to go to Dallas. Band members selected to play are: Pat Bishop - clarinet; Don Mitchell - tuba; Tommy Bacus - cornet; A. J. Pirkle - French horn; Bobby Dawes - oboe; John Lawson - trombone. Carol Odom missed out by one-half point. These seven students and their director, Douglas Wiehe, are now in Dallas for the Texas Music Educators Meeting. Those qualifying in the initial tryouts will play in the concert band under the direction of Commander Charles Bridler, conductor of the U.S. Navy Band.

Also, the band received an invitation to perform at the World's Fair in Seattle, Wash. Trustees of the school board voted to allow the band's absence from school for five days. The band has been asked to present two concerts May 5 during Swedish Week. The plans will be to leave May 2 and return to school May 9. Most of the time will be spent in traveling to and from Seattle, but the students will have a little time to see the fair grounds. Every band student planning to go will be required to work on music and help raise money for the trip. The chartered buses which will be taken will be approximately $4500. Projects to raise money for the big affair have only been talked about. A Mid - Winter Concert was given by the three bands in the Municipal Auditorium. A portion of this money will go in the "Seattle Here We Come Fund."

The Future Homemakers helped with the March of Dimes drive Saturday, Jan. 27. Representatives of Chapters I, II and III were out on the streets taking donations and selling March of Dimes balloons.
The Steerettes journeyed to Odessa for the Odessa Volleyball Tournament Friday morning.
The junior class sponsored a cake sale yesterday for the purpose of making money for the prom. A hint to the wise is sufficient: Time's a wastin'!
A March of Dimes dance will be held at the Cosden Country Club on Feb. 10. All high school and college students are cordially invited. The Journalism department and the Cosden Women's Association are sponsoring the affair. Door prizes valued at several hundred dollars will be awarded. Admission price to the dance will be $1.00 stag or drag. Doug Davis, radio announcer from KBYG, will serve as emcee for the dance. Virginia Morris and Francis Earp are in charge of the publicity crew. The door prize committee is made up of Pat Wiley, Betty McWhorter, Leola Vance, Annette Lebowitz, Judy Jones, Glenda Washington, and Lana Fullbright. Serving as head of the decoration committee will be Martha Thompson.
Pat Bishop, number four twirler in the state, competed Saturday and Sunday in the Winter Sports Carnival held in St. Paul, Minn. She competed for the National title against 500 twirlers from 50 states.
The Faculty Supper, sponsored by the student council, was held Thursday night at the cafeteria. All faculty members were cordially invited. The theme of the affair was Mardi Gras. Council members dressed along with the theme.
Seven members of the Big Spring FFA along with Truett Vines, vocational agriculture teacher, will attend the thirteenth Annual San Antonio Livestock Exposition which opens on Feb. 9 and continues through Feb. 18. FFA boys who will have animals to San Antonio are: Norvin Hamlin-heavyweight steer; Mike Houston - registered Hereford steer; Danny Coats - registered heifer; Dicky Carlton - Southdown lamb; Blake Talbott - Crossbred lamb; James Wyatt - Crossbred lamb. There is a possibility that five more boys may enter lambs in the lamb division.
The Court Jesters elected their Honorary Thespians last Thursday. Mrs. Rita Weeg and Mr. Bob Lewis were selected. They will be inducted at the annual Thespians Banquet.

SHS Leaders For 1962

Stanton High School recently revealed the names of those who had been selected to be cheerleaders and football captains for 1962 and 1963. Left to right: Bud Glaspie, Ann Yater, Jan Rhodes, Marilyn Sale, Claudene Nowlin and Billy Groves. Dewey Anderson, also a co-captain and Mary Glaspie, a cheerleader, were unable to be present for the picture.

Stanton Student Council Sponsors Valentwrip Party

By MARSHA BRISTOW
Hello, again! Last week I missed the deadline so here's hoping that you missed reading about SHS last week. We have been very busy these last two weeks.
The student council is helping the girls during this twirl season by sponsoring a "Valentwrip" party Friday night. This party will be a game and dancing party. Everyone in SHS is invited and the admission is 15 cents per couple. There will be a small door prize given away at the close of the party. See you there!
Monday night seven FHA girls helped the Alpha Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority serve the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. Those girls helping were Elizabeth Pickett, Phyllis Long, Gay Gates, Nancy Robnett, Kay Bryan, Joanna Epley, and Brenda Bryant. These girls are some of the ones that are working toward degrees in our local FHA Chapter.
SHS is right up with the times! All over the U.S.A. schools are reported to be almost deserted because of illness, and we are no exception. There are many students out with the flu, colds, and the mumps. I would like to say to all of my ailing friends: "Hope you are soon well and back at school!"

The last two weekends have been filled with telethons. Monday mornings are filled with the various opinions on which station had the better talent. All the avid telethon watchers are eagerly awaiting the Big Spring telethon.
Thursday and Friday of last week the band was directed by Mr. Robert Young. Our director attended the Texas Music Educators Association meeting in Austin. He will attend forums and discussions on current music problems, etc. We know that he will bring back many new and progressive ideas for us.
Speaking of the band, the band members are getting very excited. We are supposed to move into the new band hall and auditorium about the middle of February. We can hardly wait!

'Sail A Crooked Ship' Is Ernie Kovacs' Last Film

Ernie Kovacs' last movie, "Sail a Crooked Ship," comes to the Ritz Theatre beginning today. Kovacs, considered by many critics and fans to be one of this generation's finer comics, was killed a few weeks ago in an automobile accident in Los Angeles. "Sail a Crooked Ship" is based on the Nathaniel Benchley novel in which a frustrated burglar almost succeeds in getting himself into crime-dom's hall of fame. Ernie Kovacs, in a superb performance, is the self-styled "Captain" who steals a mothballed Liberty ship and, with a nitwit band of fellow-bunglers, happily sets out for Boston to rob a bank. They are aided by a shanghaied ex-Navy officer who manages to bring them through such near-disasters as a hurricane, a fire, Kovacs' kookie "cutie" who is along for the cruise, a mutiny and just about everything else that can happen.

Robert Wagner is the inept young man shanghaied by Kovacs, along with his prim fiancée, Miss Hart. And it is Wagner and Miss Hart who, after surviving the many hazards which beset a "crooked ship" and her nitwit crew, finally wrangle Kovacs and company into a major naval battle—with the Coast Guard. They do it by using one of Miss Hart's more elastic undergarments as a provocative slingshot.

Carolyn Jones is the "cutie" in the case, a girl who knows she looks good in a bathing suit, perfectly willing to give almost anybody lessons in the fine art of man-handling. Frankie Avalon, the recording artist, sings two times in the course of the film, and also plays the Captain's nephew who wants to join the Navy some day and welcomes this chance to get in a little sea duty. Frank Gorshin also starts in "Sail a Crooked Ship," as a memory wizard who knows all about everything, except human nature.

'Flower Drum Song' Screen Version Of Broadway Musical

The screen at the Ritz Theatre, is reflecting the music, the dances, and the comedy and pathos of Universal-International's "Flower Drum Song."

The Ross Hunter production, in association with Joseph Fields, adapted for the screen from the Rodgers and Hammerstein Broadway musical, is colorful musical merriment woven around a delightful and rib-ticking conflict between the age-old customs of the Orient and the ring-a-ding modernities of life in San Francisco Chinatown today.

An even dozen great songs are performed by a cast headed by Nancy Kwan, James Shigeta, Juanita Hall and Miyoshi Umeki. Numbers include the explosive "Chop Suey" and "Grant Avenue" and the wistful "You Are Beautiful" and "Love, Look Away."

The titles are introduced against a series of Dong Kingman paintings, and the finale spotlights the pageantry of a ceremonial Chinese wedding.

Director is Henry Kostler, a veteran of movie musicals since the days when he delivered the great Deanna Durbin hits.

If you liked Nancy Kwan in "The World of Suzie Wong," you'll love her in "Flower Drum Song." As the hip-swinging, hep-talking Chinatown doll, Nancy pours charm, excitement and sex appeal into her performance and caps it all with her brilliant talents in song and dance. James Shigeta is the romantic focus of a love triangle that reaches hilarious heights. Miyoshi Umeki, Japan's first Academy Award winner, repeats her great Broadway success as she plays the Hong Kong "picture bride" who arrives in San Francisco to fulfill a marriage contract. Her portrayal is the motivating force behind the story of "Flower Drum Song" and the wide-eyed, delicate beauty makes the most of it with a "blockbuster" performance displaying her rich talents for pathos, humor and music.

What Juanita Hall was to "South Pacific" in her role as "Bloody Mary" is repeated with her delineation of "Madame Liang" in "Flower Drum Song," a role she has already immortalized both on Broadway and in the national company of the stage musical. Her powerful handling of the "Chop Suey" number is truly one of the highlights of the film.

A new face is that of Jack Soo in the role of the angle-shooting San Francisco Chinatown night club operator.

The rest of the cast includes Benson Fong in a portrayal of the wealthy Chinese father who wages a losing struggle against the modern ways of western culture, ballerina Reiko Sato as the lovelorn dressmaker, Patrick Adiarte as the rocking-and-rolling teenager, Kam Tong as Miyoshi's philosophical father, and Victor Sen Yung as a cornball night club master of ceremonies.

Alfred Newman supervised and conducted the music with his associate, Ken Darby; and Hermes Pan created the choreography. Photography was by the Academy Award-winning cinematographer, Russell Metty, A. S. C., the costumes designed by Irene Sharaff, and the screenplay was penned by Joseph Fields from the best-seller novel by C. Y. Lee.

Ivanhoe

Robert Taylor and Elizabeth Taylor (no relation) are depicted, complete with costume, in a scene from "Ivanhoe," a movie based on a legendary Middle Ages character, showing through Wednesday at the State Theatre.

No Kissing Games For Miss America

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Miss America and Vancouver's official greeter swayed toward each other for a light buss on the cheek at the airport. It didn't come off. "Here now," snapped chaperone Angela Petesch, "there'll be no kisses."

Blushed Miss America, Maria Beale Fletcher of Asheville, N.C.: "It was slightly embarrassing."

"Really disappointing," murmured Alderman Frank Baker. Grey-haired Miss Petesch remarked that "kissing strangers is not becoming for our Miss America. It's downright undignified."

Miss America was here for a two-day fashion show.

Pancake Supper Tickets Selling Like Hot Cakes

Kiwanis officials estimated Saturday that not less than 400 tickets to the annual Kiwanis Pancake supper have already been sold and they expect four times that number or more will be distributed before the supper is served. The big event is on the night of Feb. 23 in the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building.

Sherman Smith, general chairman of the ticket sales campaign, said that the 10 teams of Kiwanians were working hard and that he expected the ticket sales this year to set a new high record. He said that each of the teams is headed by a captain selected because of his reputation as a successful campaigner in events of this nature.

Thursday noon, the captains made tentative reports to the club on tickets sold to date by their team members and it was indicated the total was near 400. In the time since, Smith estimates another hundred or more have doubtless been distributed.

Team captains are Jay Ranks, Ernest Welch, Ward Jackson, J. C. Smith, Walter Eubanks, Stanley Bogard, Bob Travis, Bill Johnson, Harvey Clay and Bruce Dunn.

The Kiwanis Pancake Supper is a tradition in Big Spring. It is based on the general idea that a ticket entitles the holder to all of the pancakes, butter, bacon, coffee and syrup he can eat. The price is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. Tickets are available from all members of the Kiwanis Club.

Boren Explains Aid Program

Although most students enrolled under the War Orphans Education Assistance program pursue college studies, eligible children may also take training in business and vocational schools. Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, pointed out Saturday.

Students who have completed their high school education but do not desire to attend college, and students who drop out of school when they pass the age of compulsory attendance, may enroll for business or vocational training approved by their vocational counselors.

Prospective students are eligible for enrollment under the program if the death of their veteran parent was attributed to an injury or disability incurred in wartime service or in some cases of extra-hazardous peacetime service. The other parent may still be alive.

Generally between the ages of 18 and 23, these students may get as much as $10 a month for as many as 36 months of training when enrolled in full-time, approved courses and smaller payments for less than full-time enrollment.

MEN IN SERVICE

PFC. LOY D. DITTO

A former Knott resident, Pfc. Loy D. Ditto, was chosen the most well-liked member of his Battalion recently at Ansbach, Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ditto.

He entered the Army in July, 1960 and took his basic training at Fort Ord, Calif. Other training stations have included Fort Sill, Okla. and McGraw Kaserne in Munich.

Pfc. Ditto attended school at Knott for 11 years and completed his senior year at Sands High School in Ackerly.

Army Pvt. James T. Donivan III, 24, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Tropashka, live in Big Spring, is participating in the 3rd Armored Division's month-long winter training exercises in Grafenwohr, Germany, which will end Feb. 7.

Donivan, a member of Company B of the division's 45th Medical Battalion in Frankfurt, entered the Army in March, 1961 and received basic training at Fort Hood. He arrived overseas in September, 1961. ## Dividend Mailings Almost Complete Mailing of nearly $30 million in special dividend checks to 400,000 Korea Conflict veterans holding "W" type GI insurance policies is now virtually complete. Ray Boren, contact representative at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, said Saturday.

However, more than 200,000 Korea veterans are still eligible for this special dividend. They hold "RS" type GI policies and must convert to or exchange for "W" type insurance before Sept. 14, 1963 in order to qualify for the special dividend.

On or after that date, while they may still convert to a permanent plan "W" type policy or exchange their temporary policy for a lower premium term "W" type policy, they will not be eligible to receive the special dividend.

Each of these "RS" policyholders will receive a letter from the VA early in 1962 explaining the advantages of changing to "W" type policies.

Budget Meeting

V. J. Belda, director of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, will be in St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 6 to attend a budget meeting. All phases of the budget for the 1964 fiscal year submitted by the local hospital will be reviewed that day.

International Set

This is a cosmopolitan family of puppies - miniature poodles, and every one of them as black as an ink spot on a piece of coal at the bottom of Carlsbad Cavern. The dogs are, left to right, Cher, Coquette and Francois Deux, newly born to a mother brought from Mannheim, Germany, named Betty Von Oderstand, and to a

2,000-MPH Bomber Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert has told senators he hopes tests can start by the end of this year on the 2,000-mile-an-hour B70.
