Astronaut Scores Stunning Space Triumph With 3 Orbits Of Earth

Col. Glenn Safe After Landing

Feat Is Masterful Demonstration Of Man's Ability In Spacecraft

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. rocketed three times around the world today, gave a masterful demonstration of man's ability to operate a space ship, and was recovered safely after landing in the Atlantic.

The spaceship parachuted to within six miles of a recovery vessel, the destroyer USS Noa, landing in the water at 2:43 p. m., and was picked up at 3:01 p. m. His flight took four hours, 56 minutes.

Glenn said he was feeling fine and in excellent condition. Glenn was transferred to the aircraft carrier USS Randolph for a two-hour physical examination.

Then he was to take a 90-minute plane ride to a special hospital set up on Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas. There he was to undergo two full days of post-flight examination.

Following that, he will be brought to an undisclosed place on the mainland, probably Washington or Cape Canaveral, to tell his story at a news conference.

Carrying the United States banner on this nation's greatest day in the space age, the daring Marine lieutenant colonel took over partial manual control of his Friendship 7 spacecraft for more than three hours when trouble developed in the automatic system.

Firmly in command of his space chariot, Glenn himself made the decision to complete the full three-orbit mission at a time when ground officials were considering terminating the flight after two orbits because of the difficulty.

"Affirmative. I'm ready to go," was Glenn's quick reply when asked if he wanted to continue on his 17,530-mile an hour journey at altitudes ranging from 100 to 160 miles.

JOHN H. GLENN
His dream sees fruition

He immediately switched to what the astronauts call a "fly-by-wire" mechanism, in which the craft is controlled by pushing a button on the flight stick to send electronic signals to the jets—18 of which are located on the capsule surface.

By this means, the electronic signal passes through a black box, which then sends the signal to open the jet valves.

The "fly-by-wire" technique is one of three means by which the capsule attitude can be controlled. The first is the one designed to be relied on most is the automatic system which developed trouble today.

A second is full manual control. The third combines features of both and is the one that Glenn turned to.

As Glenn looked at the earth below through the capsule window, he had a spectacular view stretching 900 miles from horizon to horizon.

In weightlessness, the capsule seemed to stand still while continents and oceans passed beneath him in minutes. At one time, he reported seeing thousands of tiny particles speeding along at about the same rate as the capsule over the Pacific. There was no explanation what these particles were.

Glancing at the earth at altitudes ranging from 100 to 160 miles, Glenn had a breath-taking panoramic view stretching 1,800 miles from horizon to horizon. He described the view as "tremendous" and "a beautiful sight."

When he passed over Australia, he sighted the lights of the city of Perth. Nearly all lights had been turned on by residents of the city as a good will gesture to the space pioneer.

"Thank everybody for turning them on," Glenn told Cooper.

Millions of proud Americans including President Kennedy and Glenn's family watched on television as the Atlas booster rocket roared to life at Pad 14 on pull of the earth's gravity. In this state, Glenn had no sensation of weight and would have floated free in his capsule if not strapped down.

Glenn reported no particular discomforts from his long period of weightlessness, encouraging Mercury officials who consider this one of the great unknowns of space flight.

Future travelers to the moon and other planets will be in weightless state for days or weeks and a primary goal of the Mercury orbital flights by Glenn and other astronauts is to determine man's capabilities and limitations in this state.

Control Trouble
Glenn's capsule control trouble developed near the end of the first orbit. He reported that hydrogen peroxide jets which help maintain the capsule's position were not operating properly on yaw (left to right) axis. Later, he

He Can Do It, Too
Mark McMillin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith McMillin (he is the Herald photographer), may not really be in orbit but his space ship is a replica of the one that carried Col. John Glenn around the world three times this morning. And, like Col. Glenn, he is smiling while he orbits, too.

landings systems and the far-flung recovery forces for his salvation. With a mighty shriek of its engines, the Atlas missile blasted off.

The huge missile spilled a torrent of flame over the launching pad.

Ponderously, the 125-ton monster rose slowly from the earth to start Glenn toward his rendezvous with the stars.

As the rocket was ignited, great billows of smoke poured out of the bottom of the tall Atlas shot through with flashes of brilliant light.

Jetting from the bottom was a long tongue of bright orange flame, looking much like a Fourth of July fireworks flare.

Two small rocket engines, used for minor course corrections, blazed brightly on either side of the long, pencil-like silver rocket.

In seconds, a great roar barreled across the Cape and struck the ears of reporters and other observers nearly two miles away. Less than two minutes after blastoff, systems in the spaceship were "go," Glenn confirmed.

Letting his instruments, reporting back on cabin pressure and the gradual buildup of the pressures of gravity that were forcing him back into his contour seat.

Over the launching site was a broken cloud cover through which a full moon peeped in and out of view. Scientists had waited hopefully for holes through which the Atlas booster rocket could be fired.

Glenn was described as primed and confident before he retired early Monday night. He had done the same last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights only to be disappointed by the weather delays.

Newsman discovered the astronaut in a Cocoa Beach barber shop Monday and he told them he was ready and eager to go and that he was not the least disturbed by the numerous delays. He said they "are of no consequence because I have been training and waiting for three years, and a few more days won't matter."

He said he had been passing the time "running through simulated missions and boning up on the stars" he might see as he whirled about the earth.

First, Silence Then Cheers In Hometown

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—First there was a deep silence, then a mighty cheer in the gymnasium of Muskingum College today as astronaut John H. Glenn's rocket roared into space.

Between 700 and 800 New Concord residents and college students crowded into the gymnasium to watch the long-awaited space trip of their hometown hero.

In their modest home a few blocks away, the astronaut's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr. sat before a bank of three television sets to watch their son's space shot on all three networks.

With them were Mrs. Glenn's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thompson of nearby Cambridge, and their son, Maj. Robert Thompson of Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn talked with their son by telephone Monday night.

The couple planned to remain in their home until final recovery of the capsule and to assure themselves of their son's safety. Then they planned to go to the gymnasium of Muskingum College to talk to newsmen.

There wasn't much business scheduled in this little college town where Lt. Col. Glenn spent his early years, school and college.

The official population of New Concord, situated on U.S. 40 between Columbus, Ohio, and Wheeling, W.Va., is little more than 2,000 persons. Hundreds of them knew the astronaut as a boy and a young man intent on a career in aviation. It was certain that all of these were interrupting their daily routine to listen to the radio and watch the events on television.

Texans Are Close Friends Of Glenns

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Texas-born couple, Marine Lt. Col. Thomas H. Miller and Mrs. Miller, are more than mere neighbors of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. and Mrs. Glenn. The four are close friends of long standing.

The friendship between Miller and Glenn dates from 1941—a time when they were in flight training at Corpus Christi. They later flew in the same squadron in the Pacific in World War II.

The homes of the couples, side-by-side in nearby Arlington, Va., were built three years ago.

The friendship between the two men is no greater

Togetherness

Three-year-old Joseph Goodrich Jr., clad in scanty pajamas, and his fur-coated buddy caused Patrolman John Kefeyan to do a double take as they strolled down a Boston, Mass., street in the wee hours of the morning with the temperature at 20 degrees. Joe and his canine pal wound up at the police station where they dined on milk doughnuts and lollipops for about 2 hours until Joe's dad arrived to report them missing.

District Court Hears Guilty Pleas

Nine pleas of guilty were heard in 118th District Court on Monday.

Three defendants were sentenced to the state prison and the other six were granted probated sentences.

Monday afternoon, Judge Ralph Caton sentenced Cosme Ramirez, under two indictments, to two years on each charge when the defendant entered a guilty plea. He was charged with swindle by using another person's credit and with theft over $50.

Tullios McElroy, charged with DWI, second offense, drew a probated one year sentence and a fine of $300. He was allotted nine months in which to pay the fine.

Steven D. Ray, under a burglary indictment, was allotted a three year probated sentence.

Juan Jose Hernandez, burglary, drew three years in prison as his punishment.

On Monday morning, Judge Caton sentenced Pedro Contreras to five years for possession of narcotics. He also granted probated sentences to Forrest Knowles Lee, DWI, second offense; Raymondo Pineda, burglary; Benjamin Thomas Tisdale, DWI, second offense; and Paul Johnson, burglary.

It was indicated at close of court on Monday that others of the defendants on the current criminal docket intend to plead guilty.

Burglars May Hold A Party

Four cases of liquor were taken from the Hill Top Liquor Store, 1203 E. 3rd, sometime last night. Police Patrolmen Walter Johnson and Bob Broughton, who investigated the burglary, said a hole was made in the wall by prying off boards and sawing through.

H. O. Fowler, owner, said he discovered a piece of sheet rock off the wall behind the cash register and called police. A chain, holding one door, was broken off and the lock missing. A bag with $25 worth of pennies, which fell to the floor when a table was pushed away from the wall, was not touched. Missing were four cases of whisky.

Tucker Plumbing Co., 103 W. 9th, called officers Monday to investigate the theft of over $100 worth of tools from a truck parked inside a fenced lot. A large tool box containing pipe fixtures, and several wrenches, were missing when Patrolmen Walter Johnson and Bob Broughton checked the loss with E. C. Tucker, owner.

An attempted burglary Monday night of the Hull and Phillips Food Store, 411 N. Gregg, was foiled when Investigator Bobby West, and Ranger John Wood and Deputy Sheriff Fern Cox, caught a Latin American male at a broken window. Police Capt. Lindy Oldfield and Patrolman D. W. Day arrived and took the man to the police station for questioning.

ENTERTAINING THE PEOPLE

By A Christian Writer

In stating that Christ is the head of the church, and the man is the head of the home, the Bible has drawn a line between these institutions and shown that they have different functions (even if there is some overlapping) Col. 1:18; Eph. 5:23.

The mission of the church is to preach and teach the Word, and help the needy. I Tim. 3:14, 15; Acts 11:22, 23; 1 Cor. 16:1, 2. She is not told to just do something good. Her mission is not general, but specific.

The mission of the home is left general; and when the young people need entertainment, she can provide it.

Glenn's Date With Destiny Was Dedicated Dream For Many Years

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—John H. Glenn Jr. today kept a personal date with destiny, a date he worked unservingly toward for a long time.

In all ways since his selection as a Mercury astronaut three years ago, Glenn drove himself hard—dedicated and determined to ride into space and contribute to man's knowledge.

So far as anyone could tell, nothing could corrode his iron nerve. All those postponements, including the heartbreaker of Jan. 27, when he spent 3 hours and 13 minutes strapped down in a capsule that wasn't going anywhere, could have unhinged a lesser man. But not Glenn.

Modesty also stood out all over

Glenn's make-up during his long training. In vain, he pleaded with the world to take the spotlight off him and his family and focus it on the worthwhile things to be done, and learned, up there in the skies.

Why was Glenn, a family man with two children, willing to risk his life in a space capsule whirling about the globe at 17,500 miles an hour?

"We've got to do it," he once said. "We're going into an age of exploration that will be bigger than anything the world has ever seen."

"People are afraid of the future, of the unknown. If a man faces up to it and takes the dare of the future, he can have some control over his destiny. That's an exciting idea to me, better than waiting to see what's going to happen."

his diet and exercise and slimmed down from 195 pounds to a muscular 155.

FAMILY MAN

Always very close to his family, Glenn nevertheless decided early that the Mercury program was so important he would live in bachelor quarters at Langley Air Force Base, Va., seeing his wife and children only on weekends.

The wife, Anne, David, 16, and Carolyn, 14, live in a comfortable home in Arlington, Va.

"I think it's good for John to be alone," said Mrs. Glenn, "to work out his studies and get a good night's sleep."

During his training period in Florida, he was apt to be found on a Sunday driving from Cape Canaveral to Cocoa Beach to attend services at Riverside Presbyterian Church and autograph Bibles for youngsters afterward.

A RELIGIOUS MAN

He said that religion should not be a sometime thing, handy only in emergencies. When he was being considered for Project Mercury, he and Anne consulted their minister about possible religious blocks to manned space travel. The minister assured them there were none.

Anne once said she didn't remember when she met John—but it was while they were playmates together in New Concord, Ohio, before they were six years old.

Glenn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn, still live in New Concord, where they moved from Cambridge, Ohio, after John was born July 18, 1921.

County Jury To Decide On School Annexation

It will be up to a Howard County jury to decide if the action of the Howard County School Board two years ago in summarily annexing two Howard County common schools to the Big Spring district acted properly and within its power.

Trial date for the suit brought by the trustees of the Gay Hill and Center Point Schools against the Howard County Board and the Big Spring Independent School District has been set by Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court for May 21.

Spring Independent School District and an agreement had been reached to try the case on May 21.

The litigation began in May, 1960. The Howard County Board, acting under powers vested in it by law, summarily annexed Gay Hill and Center Point to the Big Spring district. A protest by the two schools followed immediately.

In the interval since the two schools have continued to operate as common school districts under terms of an injunction handed down by Judge Caton restraining the county board and the Big Spring board from taking any further action until the case is settled.

MEN IN SERVICE

Wesley Lee Roberts, son of Mrs. Kelly Vance, 1114 Main, has enlisted in the U. S. Navy, and for the next nine weeks will be undergoing Navy recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif. He is a 1961 graduate of Big Spring High School, and attended Howard County Junior College for one semester. Roberts selected the aviation field of enlistment, after qualifying for the High School Graduate Training Programs through tests.

Recruits from this area are processed through the local Navy recruiting station, located in the post office basement, and are sent to Albuquerque, N. M., for enlistment after mental and physical tests are given in Abilene.

Reports Asked On Screwworms

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Animal Health Commission has asked Texas livestock owners to make immediate reports of any cases of screwworm infestation in their cattle.

The commission also asked owners to send specimens of worms found to its Animal Disease Eradication Division in Kerrville.

Special sample packets may be obtained from county agents, state and federal livestock inspectors, vocational agriculture teachers and county livestock health committee men, the commission said.

Meet Postponed

The Child Evangelism meeting scheduled originally for Thursday evening at West Side Baptist Church has been postponed. The new date will be announced later.

The delay was announced to avoid a conflict with a Baptist associational study course under way this week.

INTRODUCING THE BIG

DODGE CUSTOM 880

NEW FROM DODGE!!

CUSTOM-MADE FOR THE BIG CAR MAN. The new Dodge Custom 880 is a big automobile. No pretense. No half-measures. It offers the comfort and sense of well-being that only a large car can give you. It has been made for one reason. To satisfy, without compromise, the needs and demands of the big car man.

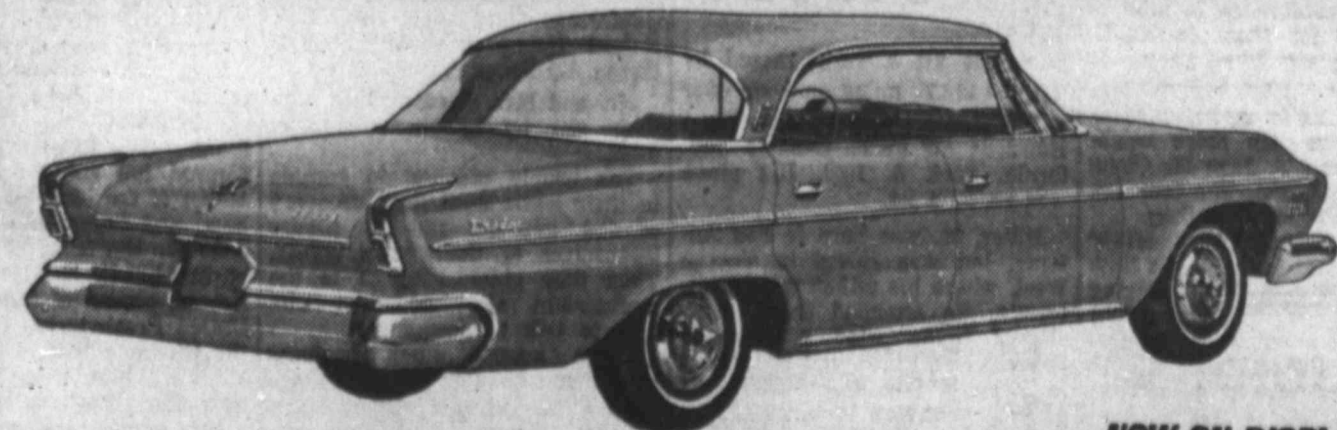

As we have stated, the new Dodge Custom 880 is big. Wheelbase is 122 inches. Overall length almost 18 feet. There's an abundance of room for six adults. The trunk is 33 cubic feet. Mammoth by any standards.

The Custom 880 is powered by a 361 cubic inch V8 which will develop 265 horsepower. It is very hot. It is also satisfyingly economical. This same engine got 20.0 miles to the gallon when it won its class in last year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

The car handles beautifully. Its long wheelbase and perfectly balanced Torsion-Bar suspension system provide a stable, smooth ride. The body, of course, is rustproofed. The brakes are extremely large, as you should expect in a car of its size. And you can drive thirty-two thousand miles between grease jobs.

The new Dodge Custom 880 is now on display at your dependable Dodge Dealer's. The model pictured is a four-door hardtop. Other models include a four-door sedan, a two-door hardtop, six- or nine-passenger wagons, and a convertible. All custom-made for the big car man.

U.S. Still Plans Meeting Despite De Gaulle Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States still plans to attend the 18-nation Geneva disarmament conference even though French President Charles de Gaulle has called for a nuclear disarmament meeting by just the Big Four atomic powers, U.S. authorities said today.

The United States and the Soviet Union joined last year in setting up the Geneva parley, which is scheduled to start March 14. The countries involved are committed to attend.

Although France is one of the 18, De Gaulle suggested in a message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that nuclear arms reduction could better be accomplished by a get-together of the four nations who possess atomic weapons—the United States, Britain, the

Iowa Prison Inmates Aid In Stiff Atom Shelter Test

EDITOR'S NOTE—This article on a fallout survival program being conducted at the Iowa State Penitentiary was written for the Associated Press by Don Reynolds, editor of the prison magazine, the Presidio, by arrangement with State Penitentiary Director Ben Haer. Reynolds is serving a five year term for embezzlement.

By DON REYNOLDS
Editor, The Presidio
FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP)—Here at the Iowa State Penitentiary, 20 prisoners are undergoing a stiff ordeal to test a program that one day may help the nation survive a nuclear attack.

The 20 inmates, selected from a large group of volunteers, are testing the dietary needs of a person confined for an extended period of time in a fallout shelter.

There is no fallout shelter here. The three-week program, which started last Wednesday, is being conducted in individual cells in Cell House 19 under the close supervision of special guards.

The men are being paid $25 each per week. If they should be removed from the test because of medical reasons they will be paid for the actual time they participated.

The volunteers have varied reasons for taking part in the program.

"To send the money home to my wife and family," one inmate said.

"To attempt to make this test so that at a later date all society could benefit from it," said another.

One prisoner volunteered to lose weight; another because of curiosity.

Dr. Robert Hodges, who is conducting the test, said the plan is to find the simplest food people could survive on in the event they had to live under fallout shelter conditions.

Dr. Hodges, of the University of Iowa Hospital staff, said he is interested in determining the least amount of water that people could get by on while on a shelter-type diet.

The 20 volunteers are limited to one quart of liquid daily.

They are testing three types of survival rations — a cracker type food, a jelly bar and a formula diet.

The inmates were given a chance to test the rations before deciding whether to go on with the experiment.

The diets are handled by Miss Joanne Spaide of the University Hospital. She is distributing them separately as breakfast, lunch and dinner.

The quart of water the men receive daily is distributed as coffee and water in equal portions during the meals.

The men are allowed to smoke and continue with their hobbies. No showers are permitted but they are given some soapy water with which to wash and shave.

The volunteers are checked daily on their weight, reflexes, pulse and blood pressure. Once a week they are given a blood test and electrocardiogram.

Thus far, each man is enjoying the test. The hardest part, they say, is being confined.

Third Great Culture Seen

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A Harvard professor believes that Western culture is in a crisis, has spent its creativity and is "trembling to pieces." But he said a few "green blades" of a great new culture are appearing.

The statements were by Dr. Pitirim A. Sorokin in the first talk of his three-week lecture series at Howard Payne University.

He is director of the Harvard Research Center in Creative Altruism.

The great crisis is still regarded, he cautioned, as "just a conflict...between capitalism and communism, democracy and autocracy..." but in reality it "is one of the greatest if not the greatest, crisis in the whole history of mankind."

Dr. Sorokin maintained "there will come into being a third great cultural system, evolving out of the two systems now in conflict."

France consulted with her allies before the message was sent to the Kremlin. A copy was made available Sunday to officials here.

It was noted that De Gaulle ignored Khrushchev's proposal to start off the Geneva conference at the summit level. Washington and London had rejected Khrushchev's request.

Otherwise, much of the French leader's message was regarded as reiteration of his views.

These include his concept of big power dominance in world affairs, distaste for the multinational Geneva parley, and his view that destruction of atomic stocks plus control over delivery systems is the way to achieve nuclear disarmament.

About the time De Gaulle's message was being made public German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe brought to President Kennedy what was described as an original Geneva parley, and his view that destruction of atomic stocks plus control over delivery systems is the way to achieve nuclear disarmament.

The East-West argument on use of air corridors linking West Berlin with West Germany continued.

The Kremlin made public a blunt rejection of Western protests against Soviet jet burning of Allied aircraft in the Berlin air lanes. Moscow contended that the airways should come under Communist—not Western—control because they are over Communist East Germany.

State Department press officer Lincoln White promptly rejected this contention. He said American aircraft will continue to fly through the Berlin corridors to suit their own convenience and "no legal hocus-pocus can change that."

Japanese Housewives Find Movies Misleading

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nine Japanese housewives are beginning to think they have seen too many American movies.

"We discovered to our great surprise that mothers and children are very close and that great emphasis is put on the importance of family life," said Mrs. Tomono Kudo, leader of a study team from Hokkaido Province.

The women are on a tour of the United States to study a great American problem — the family budget.

"We have visited a number of American homes, three in San Francisco and two in Los Angeles," Mrs. Kudo said through an interpreter Monday.

"Maybe we had seen too many life movies but we thought American mothers were not so close to their families as they are."

The women started their Houston visit by delving into the mysteries of the charge account.

They visited a bank, a downtown department store, a supermarket, a discount house and Houston's largest shopping center.

"We have found that American women are very frank and natural in their homes and they are perfectly at ease with us talking about their budgets and their problems," Mrs. Kudo said.

She said Japanese and American women have a common problem—keeping up with the Joneses.

"In Japan we call it monkey-like mimicry," she said. "It is causing some housewives to suffer."

Texan Learned Phone Robbing At $100 School

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Texan has explained the fine points of robbing a public telephone and told a court how he learned them at a $100 instruction course.

Jack Lee Meeks, 33, of Abilene, and his brother, Larry, 29, of Apopka, Fla., pleaded guilty before Judge William Cercone to 19 charges of burglary and one of conspiracy to possess burglar tools.

Larry insisted he had nothing to do with the robberies except to count the money—estimated at $800 a day.

"You went to school in Chicago under a man named Bell to learn this, didn't you?" Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward E. Fagan asked.

"Not exactly," Meeks answered, "but he showed a friend who paid $100 for it, and I looked on."

On his own behalf, however, Meeks added that he had used his knowledge to help Florida telephone company officials.

"I showed phone officials how to modify the locks on the coin boxes to keep them from being picked," he said.

Sentencing was scheduled for today.

A Devotional For Today

One Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. (Ephesians 4:5-6.)
PRAYER: O God, source of order and unity in this world of chaos and strife, inspire human groupings into starting a new way of life — one of peace baptised with the Holy Spirit. In the name of Christ, the Savior of the world. Amen.

Keep The Hope Burning Brightly

All during this month there has been much in the papers and on the air about cardiac vascular disease. Numerous programs have been given on the subject, and a vast amount of literature has been distributed.

This concerted action serves two purposes, both important to the program of the American Heart Association. One is to familiarize the public with the need for support of a program designed to attack the groups of associated ailments which constitute the nation's foremost health problem. The other is to inform people about heart disease, how it can be dealt with, and of the progress being made to treat and to lessen the chances of being affected by cardiac vascular trouble.

Indeed, there is a ray of hope arising from the vast cooperative battle. Within the lifetime of many of us, the odds of a heart victim living out a relatively normal span of life have increased tremendously. In fact, those who survive the initial shock have excellent chances of returning to full usefulness. The strides made in heart surgery are little short of miraculous.

All over this nation hundreds upon hundreds of the best medical surgical and biochemical minds are digging into the mysteries of cardiac vascular irregularities. As they ferret out threats to unravel these mysteries, they work with other teams to fit the pieces of the great jig-saw puzzle together. This all adds up to hope.

The accomplishments are possible because of the dogged determination of researchers, the dedication of those in the profession attacking the problem, and because you, and you, and you, support the work with your money. Please help keep this hope burning brightly by your gifts this month.

The Touchy Problem Remains

The moves and counter-moves concerning the air corridors into Berlin serve as a reminder that this touchy problem, while eased in recent months, is still a sensitive one and potentially explosive one.

As in other instances, the Russians are attempting to block backings to vary the policies of air space use in the corridors leading into Berlin. By harassing Allied aircraft, they hope to constrict it not make the air lanes ineffective. Knowing full well that these are the only truly free channels into and out of Berlin, the Allies are not taking the pressure lying down. They have ordered planes to continue flying and to ignore Soviet claims that they were reserving the space up to 7,500 feet.

This is ticklish business indeed, but the risk of touching off serious repercussions is a calculated one; it is one that must be taken.

The President has stated plainly and repeatedly that we will insist on our rights in Berlin. We must stand on that.

Russia has felt obliged to construct a wall which by its very existence proclaims that it has to fence in its people to hold them. It only follows that Russia certainly would like to seal off all of Berlin, but we cannot afford to let this happen.

Another Try For Peace

WASHINGTON. — No self-respecting cartoonist could stay in business for a week if he were deprived of the stock figure labeled PEACE. From Daumier to Low, Herblock and Mauldin PEACE has been a thin, bedraggled creature harried from one shelter to another by the gods of war.

BUT NOW the unfortunate girl has at least a temporary home. The disarmament agency located in the State Department is hard at work putting together details of the proposal for beating swords into plowshares, which is presumably to be presented at the 18-nation disarmament conference in Geneva on March 14. No one in this age of disillusion needs to be told that peace will not break out on March 30 or even on June 1 when the conferees under the terms of their mandate are due to report back to the United Nations. If Premier Khrushchev follows up current hints out of Moscow and persists in making the Geneva meeting a Communist-bloc summit, the whole thing will be merely another futile propaganda exercise. What is somewhat encouraging is that the Disarmament Agency is preparing not just for one conference but for the long pull.

THE BASIC CHART for American policy at Geneva is still President Kennedy's speech of last September 25 to the General Assembly. That was a broad outline of a plan for phased disarmament, with each stage covered by international control and inspection. In that speech the President quoted from the resolution of the neutral nations meeting at Belgrade endorsing "general complete and strictly an internationally controlled disarmament."

Currently the task of the Disarmament Agency is to put specific terms on the generalities of the Kennedy speech. After this is done it must be coordinated with the views of the other four Western nations. British disarmament specialists have come from London to discuss the problem. A long and painstaking process, it sometimes seems that the more involved and circuitous it becomes the more likely it is that the whole affair will die of bureaucratic strangulation.

REGARDLESS OF the level at which the Geneva talks begin they will start with East and West holding diametrically opposed points of view. The West says: we believe in complete and general disarmament which must be established stage by stage through the right of inspection of the military establishments of each side. The East says: we believe in complete and general disarmament and the inspection only of those weapons and forces which have been taken out of the military complex first in one stage and then another down to zero.

This does not mean that the conference is bound to come to nothing. The Soviets are capable of abruptly reversing positions that have appeared forever frozen. And this is a contingency for which the Disarmament Agency hopes to be fully prepared.

ONE THING this commission is determined to try to avert. That is to prevent the undoing of the disarmament effort — whether pointed up to this next conference or for the long term — by powerful interests that do not believe in disarmament, do not want it and will if they can prevent it from coming about.

The road out of the past is strewn with casualties. They testify to the peril of the disarmament negotiator who goes off in his innocence to a conference, leaving his rear unguarded. One was Harold Stassen who seemed to be making progress in the London talks in 1957 when he suddenly found himself abandoned and gibed at as a figure of fun.

ANOTHER WAS James J. Wadsworth who persisted through the long punishing ordeal of the nuclear test negotiations at Geneva and at least twice came within shouting distance of an agreement. In Washington members of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, together with the committee staff which is, in effect, a part of the Atomic Energy Commission-Pentagon apparatus, did their all-too-effective best to frustrate Wadsworth.

This time the intention is that the head of the Disarmament Agency, William C. Foster, will not go teetering out on the edge of a conference limb. In the first instance, if Secretary of State Dean Rusk heads the delegation going to Geneva, Foster will accompany him. But when the talks become protracted and Rusk leaves, it is probable that Foster will also return to Washington and the long-term concerns of the agency he directs.

SO MANY FALSE starts have been made that to say anyone is optimistic over the future of disarmament would be a wild exaggeration. The skeptical believe the same tired wheels are being set in motion again. Yet from almost everyone concerned there is evidence of a realization that the arms race is reaching such a pitch of intensity that this may be a now-or-never attempt.

A Great Mew And Cry

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Of all the ungrateful cats.

All of one recent night there was a hearty howl from a cat which got stranded on the steep roof of the Hyde Park Presbyterian Church. Early next day, two employees of the Humane Society reached the scene.

One shinned up the first roof, then a second, and finally the third. He inched along toward the cat. When he was within inches of it, that perverse animal suddenly scurried down the roof and in a series of graceful leaps reached the ground.

Peg-Legged Pet

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP) — The conversation piece at Pete Brown's is a peg-legged Leghorn hen which scratches for worms with the handicapped leg.

The hen lost her leg in a trap, has outgrown one artificial limb and is about to grow too large for the second.

"I knew she was going to make it when she began scratching for worms with that wooden leg," said Brown.

The Riddle Of Francis Gary Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public quizzing of Francis Gary Powers, after the government finishes questioning him, might make headlines for a few days but probably wouldn't illuminate or prove much.

There have been some persistent questions about the case of the 32-year-old U.S. pilot whose spy plane was downed while on a flight over Russia May 1, 1960.

DID A RUSSIAN rocket bring him down? Why didn't he destroy his plane to keep it and its equipment out of Russian hands? Why did he admit his guilt so readily at his trial?

Powers already has answered some of them. President Kennedy has put a limit on how much he can say publicly.

The government has been questioning Powers, with the press kept away, since the Russians released him and he returned here over a week ago after serving 21 months of a 10-year sentence for spying.

Once the government has finished, Kennedy said last week, Powers "will give whatever information would be in the national interest to give." This limits what he can answer.

THERE'S BEEN talk, but nothing final, about a further congressional investigation. The chairman of a couple of Senate committees have expressed interest in digging deeper into his case. Some other senators are reluctant.

When Powers' plane started down, 1,200 miles inside Russia, he was supposedly flying at 68,000 feet, or 12 miles. There has been doubt the Russians had a rocket good enough to bring him down from that height.

After Powers' Moscow trial Pravda published a letter it said he had written to clear up the point of why his plane went down.

It quoted him as saying he didn't feel any blow of a direct hit but believed the plane was wrecked by the shock wave of an explosion and thought the tail was blown off, forcing the plane to nose down, with the wings then dropping off.

WHY DIDN'T POWERS blow up his plane, when he knew it was going down inside Russia, instead of taking to his parachute, as he said he did at about 14,000 feet? At his trial Powers denied he had ever made the flight?

The Russians suggested at the trial that he was supposed to commit suicide with a poison needle they said they found on him. Powers said this was to be used only if, after capture, he was tortured and couldn't stand it.

The answer to the question—why did he ever admit at his trial he was on a spying mission over Russia?—seems simple enough. He could hardly deny it when the U.S. State Department had already admitted it.

THERE'S NO answer yet to this question: why did he seem to cooperate with the Russians at his trial to the extent of saying "I realize I committed a grave crime" and expressing regret he had ever made the flight?

It has been reported, but not publicly verified by him, that he was brainwashed and drugged.

The answer might be as natural as this: that the Russians promised to let him off with a comparatively light sentence—instead of shooting him for spying, as they could have done—if he frankly admitted what he had done.

During the trial the Russians deliberately handled him like a mechanical man who had been merely carrying out orders. Soviet authorities made it clear their main purpose was convicting the United States before world opinion.

Before anyone starts condemning Powers for not being a tight-lipped hero who should have killed himself or kept silent at his trial, he might ask himself honestly: what would I have done in Powers' place?

Some men bend more easily under pressure than others. Some are extraordinary in resistance to it. There's nothing in Powers' known record to suggest he was ever extraordinary in anything, from school on up.

Hard Work's A Pleasure

NEW YORK (AP) — "It is a great luxury to be allowed to do what you want to in this world," said Lotte Lenya. "So many aren't."

"But to be given the chance—that makes a happy person. Then hard work becomes a pleasure."

Miss Lenya, widow of composer Kurt Weill, is one of those rare theatrical figures who become a legend in their own lifetimes. She achieved this enviable stature by creating in 1928 the role of Jenny in "The Threepenny Opera," a role she has played more than 1,500 times in Berlin and here.

"I got the part originally because I was the wife of the composer," she said frankly. Her remark, however, hardly does justice to her standing as one of the most popular "singing actresses" of her generation.

Lenya — as she likes to be called — has led a life as fabulous as any character in a play.

The daughter of a landlady and a coachman, she sometimes slept in a coal bin as a child in Vienna. She was dancing in a circus at 6, did a tightwire act at 8. When she met Weill in Berlin, she was earning $5 a week as a dramatic actress.

As the star in his musical plays, she became a reigning favorite in Berlin in the late 1920s. She fled Germany with Weill in 1933, and they came here two years later.

After a few forays on Broadway, none of them very successful, she went into virtual retirement in 1945, from which she emerged only after her husband's death in 1950.

Now her career—in late middle age—is again distinctly on the up-beat.

She is a candidate for an academy award as best supporting actress for her role as the corrupt Contessa in "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone." Her rough, almost rasping lyrical power as a singer is winning fresh recognition in "Brecht on Brecht," an off-Broadway show in Greenwich Village. She is considering touring in a one-woman show next season.

"For some reason the college students now seem to have discovered me," she said, smiling. A haunting quality in her recordings appeals to them.

Leukoplakia Rarely Becomes Cancerous

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My sister has a bad case of leukoplakia. The doctor had her on Vitamin A capsules. Her tongue and mouth were doing well, but he took her off and said he wanted to try something new. Right away her tongue and mouth became worse.

After a few days she became so discouraged that she started taking Vitamin A and is feeling better. If she takes too much Vitamin A, what could happen? I understand that leukoplakia can become cancerous in a short time. I want to help and encourage my sister but I certainly don't want her to do anything contrary to the doctor's advice.

MRS. J. S. Leukoplakia is a thickening of the linings of the mouth—or of similar tissues elsewhere in the body. However, we most frequently note it in the mouth.

The surface, normally pink, shows patches of white as it thickens. An area of leukoplakia may become cancerous in some small percentage of cases. Although this happens infrequently, it's certainly worth while to keep watching leukoplakia, or to get rid of it entirely, if possible.

Vitamins A and C, in large doses over a long period, are often helpful. Sometimes injections of crude liver are beneficial.

Most certainly it helps if the underlying causes are found and corrected. These can be poor oral hygiene; chronic irritation from lip-biting, sharp, broken teeth or dentures that don't fit correctly; and perhaps the commonest of all, heavy smoking. Other types of irritation may also be responsible.

As to your sister taking Vitamin A after her doctor had switched to some other medication—or wait until the Vitamin A is best for her, for all you know. Or for all I know, or for all her doctor knows. But she should not just go ahead and take it without letting her doctor know exactly what she is doing. Not all people react the same way to medications. Observing the results is the only way to find out which people may be exceptions to general rules.

Your sister's doctor, having started the new medicine (which, conceivably, contain a mixture of Vitamins A and C, or may be something else) can't tell what the new medicine will or won't do if she is taking something else unknown to him.

It is possible to take too much Vitamin A, as it is possible to take too much of almost anything. However, vitamin A causes trouble only after very large overdoses for quite a long time.

The skin may become yellowish, or the hair thinner or coarse, or the skin dry and rough. There may be bleeding under the outer layer of the bones, hence causing swelling and tenderness. Fortunately the symptoms disappear promptly when the drug is stopped.

Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor tells me I have a fibroid tumor as large as an orange. I am 45. Shall I have a hysterectomy now or wait until I'm 50? I still have normal periods. Is it possible for the tumor to get smaller?

MRS. A. R. Waiting five years may be too long. While these fibroids sometimes diminish slightly with menopause, this cannot be predicted. Some of them may cause serious trouble. So I suggest that you let your doctor decide whether removal should be done now.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

He Couldn't Face His Fan Club

The first job I ever had on a daily newspaper was in a town deep in the heart of the Indian country.

All around town were the reservations of the Kiowas, Comanches, Apaches and other tribes. These Indians were known as "blanket Indians"—they were fond of letting their hair grow long and of draping heavy blankets around their shoulders. They wore feathers in their hats, had gaudy dresses and shirts in addition to gaily colored blankets. Moreover, they projected a gamey aura which led to the suspicion that battling was not a popular custom among them.

THE STREETS were usually well populated with bucks, squaws and papposes, and all in all, they added a picturesque touch to an otherwise drab scene.

The building where I worked had been a store before it was converted into a newspaper office. My desk was shoved forward into an alcove where the store had formerly had show windows. I was surrounded by plate glass.

A wide sidewalk was immediately to my left—just the glass separating me from the street.

I would come in off my beat, sit down at my desk and begin writing my stories for the day. About the time I had gotten myself settled and hard at work, I would notice out of the corner of my eye that I was no longer alone.

LINED UP along the plateglass show window would be an assortment of Vanishing Americans. There would be a couple of bucks, two or three squaws and a clutter of papposes.

The kids, with beady black eyes would have their noses pushed against the glass. The squaws, usually on the fattish side and of short stature, would be right behind the kids. And bringing up the rear would be the bucks—standing so straight they sort of bent backward with their arms folded across their chests. The whole caboodle would have the traditional frozen features of the noble red man, and they would stand there for hours (it seemed to me) watching me type.

I KNOW MY typing is not orthodox and it has brought many comments, not all of them complimentary. None of my detractors stood watch over me as the Indians did.

I would twist my body to one side to block out the images of my red-skinned observers and try to continue my work. It wouldn't work. I still knew they were there and the impulse to turn and stare right back at 'em was irresistible. And that's what I would do.

ALAS, THEY WERE better hands at staring than I was.

The upshot would always be the same—I would get so jittery I couldn't take it any more. I would get up from desk, go get a drink of water at the fountain and then sneak out the back door.

I was too chicken to go out the front and walk right past my fan club.

She At Least Got Her Shots

In the past 25 high-binding years, Vox Pop has been highly vocal about the fact that, coming or going financially, Uncle Sam nails us all. And that, at the end of any given fiscal year, we don't have much to show for it.

Well, sir, I have something to show — something freely given by Uncle. I have a right arm, stiff, swollen and not too comfortable, thanks to a yellow fever inoculation, courtesy of the United States Government. Uncle Sam is the man who does out yellow fever serum free of charge to any of his chills who require it.

IN PREPARATION for a trip, which has now been scrubbed, I am a battleground of typhoid, cholera, tetanus, typhus, smallpox and yellow fever serums. The only one that comes free, thanks to the U. S. Government, is yellow fever.

"Why?" I asked when I went down to the end of Manhattan island to the outpatient clinic of the U. S. Public Health Service.

IT ISN'T because of any sudden socialistic tendency in the government, so let the conservatives take comfort. The government has long offered this service to its citizens because yellow fever serum is delicate, and "does not keep well." I.e., it rapidly deteriorates, after a vial of it is opened. This makes it expensive and difficult for a private physician to administer.

In Manhattan, the Public Health Service will inoculate all comers with yellow fever serum between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays. I thought there might be three or four victims at most. But 47 persons, ranging in age from three to 87, were inoculated on that day.

"ON AN AVERAGE DAY, we inoculate forty," a spokesman said. "Mainly, they're headed for Asia and Africa."

At the moment I am a walking pin cushion. I was assigned a few weeks ago to join the press corps going to India and Pakistan with the First Lady on her semi-official visit to both lands.

But, as the days have passed, the plans or arrangements for the press, radio and televue personnel accompanying Mrs. Kennedy have grown continuously more nebulous — with two exceptions. First, the White House has incessantly emphasized to each of us that it would make no arrangements whatsoever for those accompanying the First Lady.

AND, SECOND, it has said ad nauseam that the Indian Government would have to be paid in advance for all transportation and accommodations, although at this writing no one has the faintest inkling as to the kind of transportation or accommodations, or what the Indian Government plans to charge for them.

It has proved difficult and irritating for news media to pay the Indian Government until the bill is presented. A blank check hardly seems warranted.

FURTHERMORE, the White House has placed surprising and continuous emphasis on the fact that, for the press, the trip will be "difficult" and "rough," with casual mention that here and there we might be quartered in tents.

Newsman are not apt to be strangers to a soupcon of hardship now and then. So I interpreted the White House's continued harping on how uncomfortable the trip would be as a definite wish to discourage a press corps from accompanying the First Lady. Now I am assured, from the horse's mouth, that I am wrong.

INDEED, the Executive Mansion is disappointed, I am given to understand, that only 25 newsmen, as of now, are going. Frankly, a little positive thinking and a bit of applied psychology could have prevented editors from withdrawing reporters from the trip, especially after the bosses had paid for all the serum except yellow fever.

Letters On John Birch Society

WASHINGTON — To Joseph Rauh Jr., Americans for Democratic Action, 1341 Connecticut Ave., Washington, D. C.: In reference to my recent column about you and the John Birch Society, you wish to set the record straight — you're against JBS. I had hoped to run your full letter, but it's a little long, so I am filing it with my Syndicate for anybody who wants the whole text. Suffice it to say that you never intended to conceal your opinion, which is this:

"WE EXPRESSLY affirm that the Birch Society and the Communists are brothers. With respect to Mr. Alexander's statement that it is McCarthyism to say (this), our answer is simply that the truth can never be McCarthyism."

You then continue the indictment with a bill of particulars. Like the Reds, you say, the Birch Society members "play rough," organize into small and secret cells, operate by slander, employ dupes to snare well-intentioned ideologists, wish to pull out of NATO and end foreign aid. With these goals achieved, you say, the Birch Society "would make the Communist goal of world domination come true."

HON. JOHN H. ROUSSELOT, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.: Your office sent me, on the same day that I received Joe Rauh's letter, your press release entitled, "The John Birch Society As I See It." As a Birch member, you point out that the central purpose of the Society is to join the total war against Communism, in particular to fight it on the home front, where we are losing. You stress the respectability of the Society's 27-member Council, more than half of whom are in "Who's Who." You challenge the House, Senate and Attorney General's Office to find anything illegal or subversive about the Society. You say that, far from being racially biased, the Society has two all-Negro chapters and several chapters with mixed Negro and white members. One of the few persons evicted from a Society meeting was anti-Semitic. You quote the Blue Book or members' guide as saying:

"THOSE MEMBERS who cease to feel the necessary degree of loyalty can either resign or be put out. . . . We mean business every step of the way. . . . we shall have shortcuts for eliminating (undesirables) without going through any Congress of so-called Democratic processes. Otherwise, Communist infiltrators would bog us down. . . ."

As a non-member of the Society and ADA, I am glad to be instructed. Plainly, the Society believes we have a Communist menace at home here in our embattled mid-century. ADA believes that the real menace is McCarthyism or Fascism of home-grown variety. Between the two, it seems to me that the Society is living in the present, ADA in the past.

TO BELIEVE that the Society has a close kinship to Communism, as Joe Rauh insists, you would have to believe that men like Congressman Rousselet are helping to arm our enemies with nuclear weapons to blackmail or destroy us, have openly vowed to "bury us" under Socialism, seized power by killing the Russian czar and his family, retained power by murdering each other, have renounced God and admittedly have no use for morality of any sort.

RAY BURRUS, Barr Building, Washington: You write to remind me that the world's one highest hope for decency and freedom is not in disarmament or peace treaties with Communism, but in the military supremacy of the Western World. Citing Toynebe, you recall that approximately once a century the West forcibly rejects uniting schemes by men like Napoleon and Hitler, and keeps instead its freedom in diversity. Had Germany or Japan won World War II, and possessed the atomic monopoly which the U.S.A. held in 1945-49, humanity would almost certainly have been herded into One World. "The people and administration of the United States did not do so and were not tempted to do it," wrote Toynebe. For President Kennedy to regain nuclear supremacy, and build on it despite the squawks of Reds and pacifists is, I agree with you, mankind's last, best hope.

DEAR ABBY

The Mother Is The Loser

DEAR ABBY: A year ago I was married to a wonderful fellow. We have a month-old baby girl. We would be so happy, if only his mother would accept me. She refuses to come to see me and has never seen the baby. She is only 45, very attractive, has a good job and is a divorcee. My husband is her only child. He sees her all the time, but without me. His mother did not attend our wedding or any of the showers for me before our marriage. She made it plain she disapproved of the marriage, but gave no reason. I wanted to go to her and tell her how much I loved her son and that I wasn't "taking him away from her" but wanted to be a daughter to her, but she refused to see me. How can I win her over?

DEAR ABBY: You can't. If she ever wakes up and realizes how foolish she has been, she'll come to you. In the meantime, learn to live without her. She's the loser.

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a very nice, religious man for five months. He has shown a serious interest in me and has taken me to meet his family. On our third date he asked me how old I was and I told him I was 24. (Actually I am 31.) He is 26. The subject has never come up again but I am worried that he will find out I lied to him. Should I tell him the truth and risk losing him? Or should I keep it a secret? Does age make much difference?

DEAR LOOKS YOUNG: Age doesn't make as much difference as deceitfulness. Tell the young man you have a five-year lead on him. If he loves you enough, it won't matter.

DEAR ABBY: After ten years of marriage my husband and I still disagree on one minor question. Is the large hem of a bed sheet supposed to go at the foot of the bed? Or does it go on the top? I think it goes on the bottom. At least that's the way my mother taught me to make a bed in Texas. My husband insists I am wrong. Can you settle this?

DEAR STILL: Your husband is right. The large hem goes on top. At least that's the way my mother taught me to make a bed in Iowa.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of Big Spring Daily Herald.

Powers OKs Lie Detector

WASHINGTON (AP) — U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers has agreed to take lie detector tests during interrogation by U.S. intelligence officials, informed sources said today.

Use of a polygraph, or lie detector, is not unusual in such sessions, the sources reported.

The informants also said that Powers is not being injected with "truth serum" during his extensive questioning, and that he is cooperating fully with intelligence agents.

Where Powers is being questioned has not been disclosed. He has been kept under wraps since his release by the Soviets Feb. 10.

The sources said Powers' period of interrogation may take longer than had been expected. Officials at first figured the questioning would last about two weeks.

Qualified sources say now it could take longer than that for experts to piece from Powers' story an accurate picture of what caused his high-flying reconnaissance plane to go down during a flight over the Soviet Union May 1, 1960.

How he was shot down was one of the critical mysteries surrounding his ill-starred flight because of the question whether the Soviets had developed a high-altitude anti-aircraft rocket.

The Soviets said they had such a rocket and that they had shot Powers out of the sky at a height of 68,000 feet.

U.S. officials challenged that claim, believing the plane was out of reach of any Soviet weapon. They were inclined to think the U2 was felled by mechanical trouble.

In September 1960 while he was in a Soviet prison, Powers wrote a letter tending to support the Soviet rocket claim. He said in the letter to the New York Times, and published in the Soviet Union by Pravda, that he believed the plane was wrecked by the shock wave of an explosion that glowed as an orange burst that was in the rear of the plane or maybe on the right side.

"Although I did not see what caused the explosion," he wrote from his cell, "I am sure my plane did not blow up by itself. All the indicators which register the performance of the engine were in good order until the very moment of the explosion, which I felt and heard."

The plane then began falling apart, he said, and he managed to bail out at 14,000 feet.

Guerrilla War In Viet Nam Not Over Soon

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara warns that guerrilla warfare in South Viet Nam may continue for years.

McNamara flew back to Washington today after nine hours behind closed doors in top-level talks with 22 military and diplomatic leaders called to Hawaii to meet him. He said on departure the situation in the troubled Southeast Asia republic "seems to be stabilized insofar as Communist advances are concerned," but the end is not in sight.

His meeting, the third in the past two months for which officials have gathered here from Washington and Viet Nam, was termed earlier as a "check up on our progress in stopping communism."

At planside he released a written statement which amounted to a general summary of the situation in South Viet Nam.

He said, in part: "With our assistance and advice, Viet Nam has been able to equip and train armed forces.

"We have assigned special forces who have experience and knowledge of counter-guerrilla warfare to train Vietnamese forces in this type of warfare.

"This type of warfare is a long and hard struggle because it is not full-scale warfare but guerrilla warfare. Some of these wars have lasted for as long as 10 years in other parts of the world, but I am hopeful this will not be the case in South Viet Nam."

But, he added, "we must be prepared to be patient in our approach to this problem and not expect overnight or clear-cut results for some period of time."

Pat Boone Has Guard At Home

LONDON (AP) — Movie actor Pat Boone has a 24-hour British police guard around his London home.

The residence was ransacked Sunday by thieves who made off with about $2,000 in personal effects.

Boone and his wife have been here about a month. He is working on a British movie with actress Nancy Kwan.

HCJC Trustees Take Alternate Paving Bid

Trustees of Howard County Junior College released one bidder Monday from his proposal and awarded a grading and paving contract to the next lowest bidder, W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring.

Troy Jones, Midland, appearing with L. L. Leaton, for Jones Bros. of Midland, said that he had failed to add in the cost of sidewalks in submitting his bid of $14,224.50 for an outlay of walks, curbing and gutter, grading and paving of parking areas on the campus. He asked if he could be released, and the board concurred without penalty.

Jones estimated that his costs for the walks would have been at least $3,000. This would have put him beyond Caldwell's proposal.

The board, however, considered only his withdrawal of bid. Caldwell's proposal had been $17,118.50. Most of the work will be behind the gymnasium, in front of the Industrial Arts building, and opposite the Dora Roberts Student Union Building. Olen Puckett designed the work.

The board made plans to ask the city commission to reconsider an action of last week in which commission declined to include paving of a two or three-block section on Adams Avenue (the east-west bisector of the campus) in the 1962 paving program.

The board said it had never been informed of any city minute not to pave the street at the time the city accepted the avenue for dedication as a city street, nor had it been informed as promised of the commission's consideration of the matter last week.

An order was adopted officially establishing April 7 as the trustee election date. The deadline for filing passed with only Horace Garrett, president, and K. H. McGibbon, secretary, as applicants for a place on the ballot. Voting boxes will be established at Big Spring, Forsan and Coahoma, the seats of the county's three independent school districts.

The board authorized Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, to advise the county commissioners court that the college would work with the county on filing for delinquent taxes, either real or personal.

Dr. Hunt was given permission to make a trip to Europe this summer, at his own expense, to attend the Lions International Convention, if the opportunity presents itself.

Mrs. F. M. Campbell, Ovoville, Calif., mother of Lt. Campbell, was to arrive in Big Spring this afternoon to complete arrangements for the memorial service.

Pilot's Rites Still Pending

Body of 2nd Lt. Jean F. Campbell, 23, young jet plane student, will be shipped from Big Spring to Butte, Mont., for burial. Lt. Campbell was born in Butte.

Plans are being made for a memorial service here but details have not been worked out. The services, if held, will be in the Webb AFB chapel.

Lt. Campbell was killed Monday morning when the T-38 Talon jet trainer which he and 1st Lt. William E. Rees were flying, crashed about a mile west of the base. Lt. Rees, an instructor, escaped without serious injury.

Taylor Given Special Award

Jimmy Taylor, former Howard County agent and now associated with the First National Bank, was honored Monday at the meeting of the Jaycees.

Herb Helbig, who succeeded Taylor as county agent, presented an award of appreciation to Taylor on behalf of the Texas County Jaycees Association. He said that Taylor had achieved an outstanding record as agent here.

Roy Reeder, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, outlined some major projects of the organization and asked for Jaycee consideration of them. He asked that the Jaycees give particular thought to the proposal for a coliseum and for advertising the community.

Ronnie McMillan, chairman of the livestock show committee, began drafting his committees to prepare for the March 13 show. This is one of the prime Jaycee projects for the year.

Coghlan Goes Back To Sea

An enthusiastic supporter of local sports and familiar to many young men in Howard County, will leave Big Spring March 2 for a new assignment. He is Signalman L.C. Ed Coghlan, recruiter for the U. S. Navy recruiting station here.

Coghlan was assigned to Big Spring in July, 1959 and quickly made the station one of the tops in the area. During his stay here, Coghlan recruited many outstanding young men from Howard, Andrews and Dawson counties.

He has been assigned to duty aboard the USS Crow, a destroyer escort which calls Key West, Fla., its home port. Coghlan and his family plan a short visit to Greenville, Miss., before reporting to the new duty station.

The recruiter was a familiar figure at local football and basketball games and an outspoken fan. Fitting with his job, he is a strong booster of the U. S. Navy.

"I've enjoyed living in Big Spring," he said, "and I thank the friends who have helped make my stay here a successful tour."

But like all Navy men, Coghlan is a little anxious to get back to sea, where a sailor is most at home.

Public School Week Observance Set

Plans for Student Government Day and observance of Texas Public School Week were made at a meeting of the education committee of the Chamber of Commerce Monday afternoon.

Sam M. Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District and Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, co-chairman of the committee, presided.

Student Government Day will be held March 9, a day teachers will be away from the classrooms attending a Texas State Teachers Association meeting.

The chamber staff will contact governing agencies of the city and the county to determine participants, arranging a kick-off breakfast for the students and obtaining a speaker.

Students will be responsible for inviting other county schools, setting up a two-party system and holding elections. Last year schools from Coahoma, Sands, Forsan and Knott were invited.

The Chamber will also provide all the forms and ballots. Each city and county official will host his student counterpart at the breakfast to begin the day and will give the student a briefing on problems and activities of his office.

Texas Public School Week will be held March 5-9. The week has been observed since 1950 when it was set up to inform the public about schools and invite persons to visit classrooms to learn more about public schools.

School administration committees have been appointed to advertise the week, according to Anderson. Walker Bailey, county superintendent, accepted the responsibility of getting information about the event to county schools.

Visit periods were set from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. each day. The morning will be for individual visits and afternoon visits will be group orientation. Visitors will be invited to eat in the school cafeterias.

Special emphasis will be placed on visits by businessmen on March 6. The Chamber of Commerce will invite persons to attend school on this day.

Members of the education committee were appointed to pass information about Texas Public School Week to civic clubs.

Buchanan Files For County School Board

Jack Buchanan, widely known Howard County stockman and formerly a member of the Gay Hill common school board of trustees, has filed as a candidate for Howard County school trustee. He is seeking the office now held by Truman Jones. Jones has made no statement whether he plans to run for re-election.

Buchanan's name was filed with the county judge. Other school trustee nominations filed with the judge's office on Monday and Tuesday include four names submitted on a petition signed by patrons of the Gay Hill school district — Weaver Brown, H. H. Moates, R. W. Harrison and Hollis Puckett. The first three men are already board members and are proposed for new terms.

Three trustees are to be named in the district.

Two candidates for places on the Forsan County Line Independent School District board are also on file. They are Paul Lancaster and Bob Covley.

Deadline for candidates for school board to file expires on March 6. The election will be on April 7.

Bill Allows Pay Increase

A amendment to a special bill which was approved several years ago providing District Attorney Gil Jones with an investigator, now makes it possible for Bobby West, the investigator, to be paid a higher salary. Heretofore, his salary was limited by the old law.

Price Daniel, governor, signed the amendment, titled HB 88, Monday.

It grants the county commissioners court permission to set West's salary at any suitable figure it may elect and it likewise authorizes the commissioners to supply the investigator with an automobile. At present, West uses his own automobile and is paid a car allowance by the commissioners.

Jones said that the bill is a "permissive" one—that the commissioners are not compelled by it to raise the investigator's salary. Until the amendment was enacted, he pointed out, the maximum salary set by the old bill prevented the investigator from being granted any increase in pay.

Hampton Named Information Officer

Mabern Lloyd Hampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hampton, 1503 Tucson, has been appointed public relations and information officer for the City of San Antonio, according to City Manager Jack Shibley.

A graduate of Big Spring High School, he attended Howard County Junior College, and Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos where he received a BBA degree in 1959. He is presently doing graduate study in business and industrial relations at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, is an officer with Toastmasters International, and is a member of the San Antonio Personnel Association. Hampton is married to the former Nancy Warren, San Antonio, and has a son, Craig, who is one year old.

Police Check Two Accidents

Police activities during the past 24 hours included two accidents and several arrests for drunkenness.

Liquor Control Officer Bill Flynn notified the police department at 5:50 p.m. Monday that the beer license for J&M Cafe, 501 NW 4th, had been suspended following discovery of a pool table in the place.

HC Raps F. Phillips For Tenth Win In WC

BORGER — Paced by Walter Carter's 40 points, the HCJC Jayhawks made it ten tens in 11 Western Conference basketball starts by defeating Frank Phillips of Borger, 103-93, here Monday night. The Big Spring collegians wind up their road trip by meeting Amarillo tonight. Tipoff time is 8 o'clock. After tonight, the Hawks have only one more road game, that against South Plains in Levelland March 2.

The defeat left Frank Phillips with a 6-6 record within the conference. Overall, HCJC is 22-4. Earnest Turner also gave the Plainsmen a rugged time, tossing in 33 points. Carter and Turner were the only two Hawks who hit in double figures.

Merkel And Seagraves Clash Here Tonight

Merkel and Seagraves clash in a Class A bi-district basketball game in the high school gymnasium here at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The winner becomes eligible to play in the Regional tournament this weekend.

Merkel carries a 14-11 win-loss record onto the court tonight while Seagraves is 12-13 on the year. Seagraves beat Plains, 40-36, in a playoff for the 5-A crown after the two teams had finished in a deadlock in regular season standings. The game took place at Denver City.

James Petty saved the Eagles' bacon in the Plains game by hitting a bucket to tie the game and send it in overtime with only five seconds of play remaining. The tally at that time was 36-36.

Plains failed to score in the overtime period and Monty Sampson and Scott Johnson each counted a field goal for Seagraves to send the Eagle fans home happy.

Seagraves' victory broke a string of four straight district titles for Plains.

Within its conference, Merkel finished with a 7-1 record. Probable starters for Merkel are James Bible, who stands 6-foot-2 and who has been averaging 19 points and 15 rebounds a game; Mack Mansfield, 6-1; David Scott, 6-1; Danny Doan, 6-1; and Roger Moore, 5-11.

Plains will probably go with a lineup consisting of Sammy Faulkner, 6-0; Doug Payne, 6-2; John Walker, 6-0; Jerry Crump, 5-10; and James Petty, 5-9.

Three of Merkel's players—Mansfield, Scott and Moore—are Juniors. Juniors on the Seagraves' lineup are Crump and Petty.

Boyce Hale of Big Spring has been selected as one of the officials for the game.

Cincy Second In AP Poll

By The Associated Press For the tenth straight week, Ohio State's brilliant Buckeyes are the unanimous choice today as major college basketball's No. 1 team.

The Bucks, who pushed their record to 20-0 with two more victories last week, drew all 43 first-place votes again in the 11th weekly balloting by the members of The Associated Press' special nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Ohio State wound up with a 60-point edge over Cincinnati, which moved up to second place after the runner-up of the last few weeks, Kentucky, was beaten by Mississippi State. Kentucky fell to third, just ahead of Kansas State, which held its position of last week.

Mississippi State moved up to fifth, Bradley dropped a notch to sixth, Bowling Green jumped from tenth to seventh, Duke slipped one position to eighth.

The Top Ten based on games through Feb. 17, with first-place votes in parenthesis, balloting on 10-9-8-7-6 etc basis:

- 1. Ohio State (43) 430
- 2. Cincinnati 370
- 3. Kentucky 309
- 4. Kansas State 289
- 5. Mississippi State 239
- 6. Bradley 227
- 7. Bowling Green 135
- 8. Duke 116
- 9. Colorado 64
- 10. Oregon State 42

Others receiving votes (not necessarily in order)—Duquesne, Villanova, Dayton, North Carolina State, Auburn, New York U., Purdue, Wichita, Utah, West Virginia, St. John's (N.Y.), Arizona State U., Chicago Loyola, Southern California, UCLA, St. Louis, Virginia Tech, Utah State, Creighton.

Bantamweight final: Winner Martinez Romero, vs. winner Windham-Sandoval.

By MIKE COCHRAN FORT WORTH (AP) — Championships go on the line tonight in the 26th state golden gloves tournament and two 1961 titlists will be seeking two of them.

Richard Marquez, the slim but powerful Corpus Christi belter faces Amarillo's Ronnie Morgan for the lightweight crown and Steve Freeman of Houston encounters Fort Worth's Tony Alvarado for the featherweight title.

Marquez, the defending champion, dethroned Carlos Cordova of Houston in Monday's semi-finals while Freeman, the 1961 bantam kingpin, battered Clark Stanley of Beaumont en route to a lopsided lightweight decision.

A fine match for the heavy-weight crown sends paunchy Bill Riddle of Dallas against Howard Payne football player Tex Parr, representing Brownwood.

Riddle outpointed Lynn Farr of Texarkana while Parr was disposing of his kid brother, Phillip Parr, and Odessa High School gridstar.

Amarillo held firmly to its thin lead over Fort Worth in the race for the team championship, compiling 15 points to the Fort Worth aggregation's 11.

As Texas' top amateur fighters set the stage for the title tussles, which will determine this state's representatives in the Tournament of Champions starting Feb. 25 in Chicago. Two divisions, bantam and flyweights, will lead off tonight's 12-hour card with semi-finals and the winners then will close out the 1962 tourney with their finals.

Gene Gilliam of Dallas, whose brother Burton was a 1961 welterweight champion, can keep a title in the family when he meets Texarkana's Buddy Shaver for the light-heavyweight championship.

The middleweight finals pit Carson Wall of Amarillo against Frank Pryor of Fort Worth with Manny Perez of Amarillo going against G. B. White in the welter final.

FORT WORTH (AP)—Results in the state golden gloves tournament Monday night: Flyweight quarter-finals: Gilbert Martinez, 115, Beaumont, beat Stephen Arneson, 112, Odessa. (3). Heavyweight quarter-finals: Charles Matis, 115, San Antonio, beat Paulino Coronado, 113, Dallas, beat Clark Stanley, 115, Beaumont. (3). Bantamweight quarter-finals: Leodoro Martinez, 115, Amarillo, (3). Domingo Romero, 115, Odessa, beat Joe Matis, 115, San Antonio. (3). # Cats Appear Likely To Make Playoffs

By ED CORRIGAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Ever since last March, the University of Cincinnati has been pointing to the current basketball season with just one thought in mind—to get another shot at Ohio State—in the NCAA postseason tournament.

The Bearcats have had their ups and downs and just a month ago, appeared ready to roll over and play dead when they lost to archrival Bradley in the Missouri Valley Conference.

But they're back in the running today and, in fact, unless the fates go against them they should make the NCAA tournament again.

Monday night, they turned the tables on Bradley, 72-57, on their home court and pulled into a tie with the Braves for the conference lead, each with 9-2 records. Each has one more league game.

Should Cincinnati win the Missouri Valley title and the NCAA berth, Bradley probably would wind up in the National Invitation Tournament in New York.

The NCAA needs 10 at-large teams to round out its list of conference champions. The MIT field consists of 12 teams. Each took four in the opening blasts Monday.

Here is how they line up: NCAA—Oregon State (17-3), Creighton (16-4), Detroit (14-7) and Villanova (16-6).

NIT—Providence (16-5), Duquesne (16-5), Loyola of Chicago (16-2) and Houston (18-5).

Ron Bonham and George Wilson, a couple of sophomore flashers, were the main architects of the Cincinnati triumph. Bonham scored 20 points, 16 in the first half, and Wilson chipped in with 16, along with 14 rebounds.

The Bearcats held Chet Walker, Bradley's All-America, to 16 points, 11 less than his average. Kentucky had its troubles, but managed to hang on for an 87-80 victory over Vanderbilt in a Southeastern Conference game—mainly through the efforts of Cotton Nash, who scored 38 points.

Two other members of the top 10 also won. Mississippi State, No. 5, also had its problems before subduing Georgia, 83-74, to stay in the SEC lead, while Duke, No. 8, rolled to an easy 97-71 Atlantic Coast Conference decision over Virginia.

Both Creighton and Loyola of Chicago celebrated their NCAA and NIT bids with victories. Creighton ran its winning streak to seven by whipping Centenary of Louisiana, 77-70, and Loyola trampled St. Norbert, 105-52.

Western Kentucky won the Ohio Valley Conference crown by defeating Morehead, 77-51 to join Arizona State University (Border) and Bowling Green (Mid-America) as an automatic qualifier for the NCAA tournament.

In the Big Ten, Iowa outlasted Michigan State, 59-51; Wisconsin remained in second place behind undefeated Ohio State by edging Illinois, 105-101, and Indiana cut down Michigan, 86-77, with Jim Rayl hitting nine straight free throws for a three-game string of 32—a league record. Purdue polished off Notre Dame, 115-90, in a nonconference game and in the process set a school scoring record.

In the Big Eight, Missouri pulled out of the cellar by turning back Oklahoma State, 69-64. Oklahoma eked out a 67-66 victory over Kansas and dropped the Jayhawks into the basement.

Furman clinched third place seeding in the Southern Conference tournament, trouncing Richmond, 79-54. North Carolina beat Maryland, 70-67, in the only Atlantic Coast Conference game of the night.

Coahoma Fems Win In Playoff Test

COLORADO CITY — Grady Tindol's Coahoma girls and Wylie clashed at 7:30 o'clock here Thursday night for the right to meet Sundown in Class A bi-district competition.

The District 6-A championship will be at stake. Sundown is the 5-A champion.

Coahoma defeated Merkel, 55-53, in an overtime game here Monday night to eliminate the Badgers in the conference playoffs.

Coahoma, Merkel and Wylie had all tied for first place within the league.

Sandra Nichols tossed in the two points that enabled Coahoma to win in the overtime period.

Darlene Mason of Coahoma and June Owens of Merkel had matched field goals earlier in the two minute overtime period.

Mason led Coahoma in scoring with 27 points while Nichols had 14. Owens paced the Merkel attack with 34 points.

Peggy Bennett, Shirleen Richter, Karen Wilson, Kay Porter and Jeanne Hodnett all did outstanding work in the backcourts for the Bulldogs.

COAHOMA (55)—Sandra Nichols 4-4-14; Darlene Mason 9-9-27; Sandy Clayton 2-2-4; June Owens 2-4-4; Total: 12-17-34. MERKEL (53)—June Owens 12-10-34; Sandrine 2-0-4; Seymore 5-5-15; Total: 19-15-33.

Score by quarters: Coahoma 13 12 10 20 55; Merkel 14 22 18 53.

Gary Geiger May Be Set For A Banner Campaign

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox have signed outfielder Gary Geiger, who'll be trying to storm up the comeback trail after a 1960 season in which his lung collapsed and a 1961 campaign in which his batting average did the same.

Geiger, who agreed to terms with the Red Sox Monday along with pitchers Gene Conley and Billy Muffett, has had an uphill climb since he reached the majors with Cleveland in 1958 and was converted from a pitcher to an outfielder.

Traded to Boston in 1959 in a deal that sent outfielder Jimmy Piersall to the Indians, Geiger hit at a .245 clip for the Red Sox, and zoomed through the first half of the 1960 season with a .302 average. Then his lung collapsed.

Geiger, who will be 25 in April, had to sit out the rest of the season. When he returned last year he was only able to compile a .232 mark although he hit 18 homers. Now fully recovered, he is being given first shot at the center field berth.

Conley, a hard-throwing, 6-foot-8 right-hander who has had moderate success both as a pro basketball player and as a pitcher, apparently is making baseball No. 1 this year.

He has arranged to leave New York of the American Basketball League in time for spring training. In the past, playing for Boston of the National Basketball Association, Conley has waited to start baseball after basketball ended.

Conley, who posted an 11-14 record last year, had his best season with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1959 when he compiled a 12-7 mark.

The Minnesota Twins got home run slugger Harmon Killebrew on the dotted line and the Chicago White Sox landed three key players—second baseman Nellie Fox, outfielder Floyd Robinson and baseman Al Smith. Pitcher Stan Williams signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers and outfielder Felipe Alou with the San Francisco Giants.

The Twins said Killebrew, who hit 288 and smacked 64 homers, received a "substantial increase" over his 1961 paycheck. Fox took a slight cut from his salary of about $50,000 after hitting only .251. Robinson was the top White Sox hitter with a .310 average while Smith hit .278 and led the team in homers with 28 and runs batted in with 93.

Williams, who struck out 204 batters last season, had a 15-12 record and a 2.91 earned run average. Alou, whose brother Matty still is on the Giants unsigned list, batted .289 with 18 homers and 53 RBI.

Hawks May Enter Border Games

LAREDO (AP) — Defending champions in three of the four classes had teams in the Border Olympics today as the entry list soared toward the 1,000 mark.

The big meet is March 9-10. There were 779 individual entries from 64 schools when a checkup was made Monday night. There were seven teams in the university class, seven in the college division, nine junior colleges and 41 high schools.

Baylor will defend its championship in the university class, Texas Southern in the college division and Baytown in the high school division.

Howard County is defending titlist in the Junior College division but hasn't yet entered. It is expected to, however.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue: JERRY BARBER, veteran pro golfer: "The game is now being dominated by the younger players. They are determined that golf will be played their way, or not at all. They are trying to make golf into a game of speed. It doesn't seem to matter how well you play the game, but how quickly you can get off the course. The new PGA rule penalizing players falling behind the group in front is discriminatory. It was put in by the players who are very fast. And it was put in for the convenience of the PGA staff members. It seems ridiculous that people who work for you can run you around like a bunch of idiots. Older players are slower players. They do more thinking. Golf is a thinking game, not a race. It will run off the courses. Can you imagine Ben Hogan or Bobby Locke trying to play golf this way? It takes four hours for me to play a round properly. Now they want us to get off the course in about three hours and a quarter. This is one of the most discriminatory things perpetrated on players by other players that I have ever heard of."

JERRY BARBER RAY COLLINS, tackle for the Dallas Texans of the AFL: "I've been in pro football 13 years now and I'll bet $1,000 against a beer that Sherrill Headrick is the best linebacker in football."

JOE GOLDING, Wichita Falls' veteran football coach: "A winning coach is not necessarily smarter, but you can bet he works harder than those who are not."

CASEY STENDEL, manager of the New York Mets, when asked to pinpoint his success as a baseball manager: "I used fastball pitchers on cloudy days."

FRANK LANE, discussing Roger Maris, the home-run king: "He's a pro. He'll do all right. You know, he's not one of my favorite people. He's cold and greedy and he'll cut down his own grandmother to win. But he's a fine baseball player. He knows what to do with that glove, too. No, he's not a .300 hitter. But I expect him to hit 50 home runs this year. He never before played a full season."

A BRITISH WRITER, discussing golfer Arnold Palmer: "He is so architecturally composed, he resembles an unheated cathedral."

BILLY CANNON, star halfback of the Houston Oilers of the AFL: "The best way to prove that we are winning in our campaign against the NFL is to look at the record. They brag about signing 60 of the 100 college players they wanted. You divide 14 clubs into that and you come up with 4.3. Well, the AFL, consisting of eight clubs, signed 40 of the top 100. Divide eight into 40 and it's an even five. We're winning. We got some great players, like Lance Alworth of Arkansas; Jimmy Saxon of Texas; Bill Neighbors of Alabama and others. I'll say this: The AFL is 200 per cent improved over the first year. There was a real difference in the calibre of ball this year. At LSU I ran over some people. You just don't do that with the pros. If a linebacker gets you it is like hitting a stone mountain. I guess. Of course, if you reach the ponies (the secondary), you can get cute. But not in the middle, man. You just don't, that's all."

Pulitzer Prize Winner Among New Political Faces

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pulitzer prize-winning author, a Lutheran minister, a former two-star general and another Herbert Hoover are among the new faces seeking high federal and state office this year.

The urge to serve also has hit ten sons of three former U.S. senators and a one-time basketball star.

The Pulitzer-winning candidate is James A. Michener, who won the award in 1948 for Tales of the South Pacific. He will run for the Democratic nomination for a seat in Congress from Pennsylvania.

The House seat he is after is in Bucks and Lehigh counties and has been held for three terms by Republican Willard S. Curtin. Michener, 55, who lives near Doylestown, a suburban Philadelphia community, has never sought office before.

Then, of course there's George Romney, the Detroit auto maker, who has announced for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Michigan. If he wins this first try for public office, there is talk he might be a GOP presidential possibility in 1964. Romney won't discuss that.

Herbert Hoover has announced for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate from Iowa, but there's a catch. He's an Oskaloosa farmer, not the former president, a native of West Branch, Iowa. Farmer Hoover says he's a distant relative of the 31st president.

Another presidential relative, Edward M. Kennedy, brother of President Kennedy, Monday added to speculation he might seek the Democratic senatorial nomination from Massachusetts. Questioned about this in Warsaw, Poland, he said he didn't think that was the place to make such an announcement.

His most likely opponent is Edward J. McCormack Jr., Massachusetts attorney general and a nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack. Neither has announced.

A congressman's widow, Mrs. Corinne Boyd Riley, has just won the Democratic nomination for the U.S. House in South Carolina to fill out the rest of her late husband's term expiring in January. The special election is May 8.

Mrs. Riley says she will not seek the full two-year term, but her primary opponent, another woman, State Rep. Martha Thomas Fitzgerald, is expected to seek the Democratic nomination for the full term in a June primary.

In California, Loyd Wright, Los Angeles attorney and former president of the American Bar Association, has announced for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate.

John Alsop, 46, brother of writers Joseph and Stewart Alsop and president of the Mutual Insurance Co. of Hartford, is among the announced candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Connecticut.

In Georgia, Republicans will be trying to elect their first governor since Reconstruction days. They are backing A. Edward Smith, a prominent Columbus attorney.

A motel operator at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, 53-year-old Edward F. Hutchinson, will oppose Gov. John H. Reed for the GOP nomination for governor.

In Maryland, Rogers C. B. Morton, a beef cattle farmer and multimillionaire, has announced for a congressional GOP nomination. He's a brother of the former GOP national chairman, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, and has lived in Maryland 10 years.

George C. Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge, former ambassador to the United Nations and Massachusetts senator, is seeking the Republican senatorial nomination in Massachusetts.

R. Crosby Kemper Jr., Kansas City banker, wants the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate in Missouri.

For congressman-at-large in Ohio there are two familiar names among Republican candidates: Robert Taft Jr., majority leader of the state House and son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, and Lowell Fess, a state senator and son of the late Sen. Simeon D. Fess of Ohio.

Controversial former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker is among the announced candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Texas. He said he's running as part of his fight against international communism.

A Lutheran minister, the Rev. Richard G. Christensen of Edmonds, seeks the Republican nomination for the Senate from the state of Washington. In Wyoming, Kenny Sailors, former University of Wyoming and pro basketball star and now a Jackson Hole dude rancher, has announced for the Republican senatorial nomination.

FIFTEEN MILLION HEADACHES

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C. The Jan., 1961, Readers Digest says there are 15,000,000 Americans who are suffering from recurring headaches.

The article told of special researches on headaches and stated "Experts now believe that practically all chronic headaches are traceable to dilated vessels in the head or to the effects of muscle tension, or to a combination of both."

Note these quotes carefully, "Routine tension headaches — usually start in the back of the neck or base of the skull — head and neck muscles become rigid, go into spasm. With sustained contraction comes constriction of the bloodvessels and their network of nerves. Decreased circulation adds to the pain of the muscle spasm. The headache begins."

We have devoted many articles to headaches in the past and have explained this common cause of recurring headaches.

Arterial bloodvessels have muscles run in a circular manner around the vessels. Nerves control muscles. These vascular muscles are influenced by the action of spinal nerve fibers, called vasomotor nerves. When these vasomotor nerves are disturbed by spinal displacements, circulation to the affected part of the body can be upset. When irritated nerves cause these vascular muscles to contract, the blood vessels become partly closed and narrow. When the nerves are compressed or "pinched", the muscles relax. The blood vessels become larger, wider, or "dilated."

All of this suggests that vertebral displacements in the spine can be the basic, underlying cause of headaches — and we find it usually is the cause!

15,000,000 victims of recurring headaches? What a pity! Many hundreds of thousands of people have recovered from recurring headaches through Chiropractic care. The Hansen Clinic has corrected hundreds of cases since we opened less than four years ago. 15,000,000 sufferers in America means an average of one out of every 12 people. There may be a headache victim in the block where you live or among your friends at work. It seems safe to say, "Someone whom you know may be suffering from recurring headaches — needlessly — simply because he or she does not know what you have just read about Chiropractic." Isn't there something you can do about informing that person? He or she is entitled to health.

If you are one of the unfortunate 15,000,000, investigate TODAY. What have you got to lose except your headaches?

Texas Skies Are Cloudy

By The Associated Press
Skies across the state were partly cloudy to cloudy Tuesday morning with increased overcast and scattered showers expected for most portions of the state by Wednesday.

Temperatures ranged from the upper 30s in the north portion of the Panhandle to the 60s in Southern Texas. Amarillo and Dalhart reported lows of 39 degrees. The warmest spot in the state was McAllen with a 69 degree mark.

Forecasts call for increased cloudiness through Wednesday with scattered showers in the northwest portion. The showers are expected to spread over the west portion then continue over the rest of the state. The northeast, however, is expected to miss the rain activity.

Temperatures are to continue mild Wednesday, except for turning colder in the Panhandle Wednesday.

Monday, most of Texas basked in warm sunshine. The only cloudy skies were in a South Texas triangle bounded by Laredo, Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Water Request Approved in Part

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Water Commission approved in part Monday an application by Amador to divert water from a reservoir for municipal purposes.

The city had requested 3,360 acre feet a year for city use. The commission approved a diversion of 1,900 acre feet. An acre foot is 325,851 gallons.

The water is to be diverted from Palo Duro Creek, a tributary of the Red River in Randall County.

Mickey Cohen Sees Cell Again

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mickey Cohen, whose cell almost needs a swinging door, sped in and out of county jail again Monday.

The former gambling figure's latest trip home required only a $1,050 bond—practically unnoticeable compared to the $100,000 bond it sometimes takes to get him free.

A complaint charges Cohen with two counts of battery and two counts of disturbing the peace. Police said he hammered a Teamsters Union picket with the man's own sign Saturday and shoved another man.

"This is too ridiculous to even make a statement," said Cohen. "Picket line? There wasn't no picket line."

But police called it "an entirely unprovoked attack."

Capt. Joseph Stevens said: "Here is a man—Cohen—who is constantly complaining that his civil rights are being violated. Yet less than 24 hours after he gets out of jail, he jumps on these men who were peacefully picketing a place and violates their constitutional rights."

Cohen had been freed on $100,000 bail pending his appeal of an income tax evasion conviction.

Police said Cohen drove up to the Keystone Plating Co. in Van Nuys where Thomas Spivey, 39, and Burford Parrish, 54, were picketing.

"What union you belong to?" Spivey asked Cohen as yelling. Spivey said he told Cohen he was in Teamsters Local 399, Van and Storage Drivers, and Cohen shouted: "I own the local and you are out."

Then, witnesses told police, Cohen grabbed Spivey's sign, hit him over the head, grabbed Parrish and shoved him.

Two men jumped from a nearby car and ushered Cohen to his vehicle. "There isn't no more union," the pickets said Cohen yelled as he drove off.

State Hospital Patients Treated

Patients at the Big Spring State Hospital were treated to candy, apples and music Monday afternoon through the courtesy of businessmen and a visiting musician.

Lester Stewart, here to assist the Salvation Army with its annual revival, spent the afternoon going to every ward to play and sing.

The candy was provided by the Edwards Heights Pharmacy and Leon McKinney. About 300 pounds of candy was donated, according to Mrs. Hilda Weathers, volunteer coordinator.

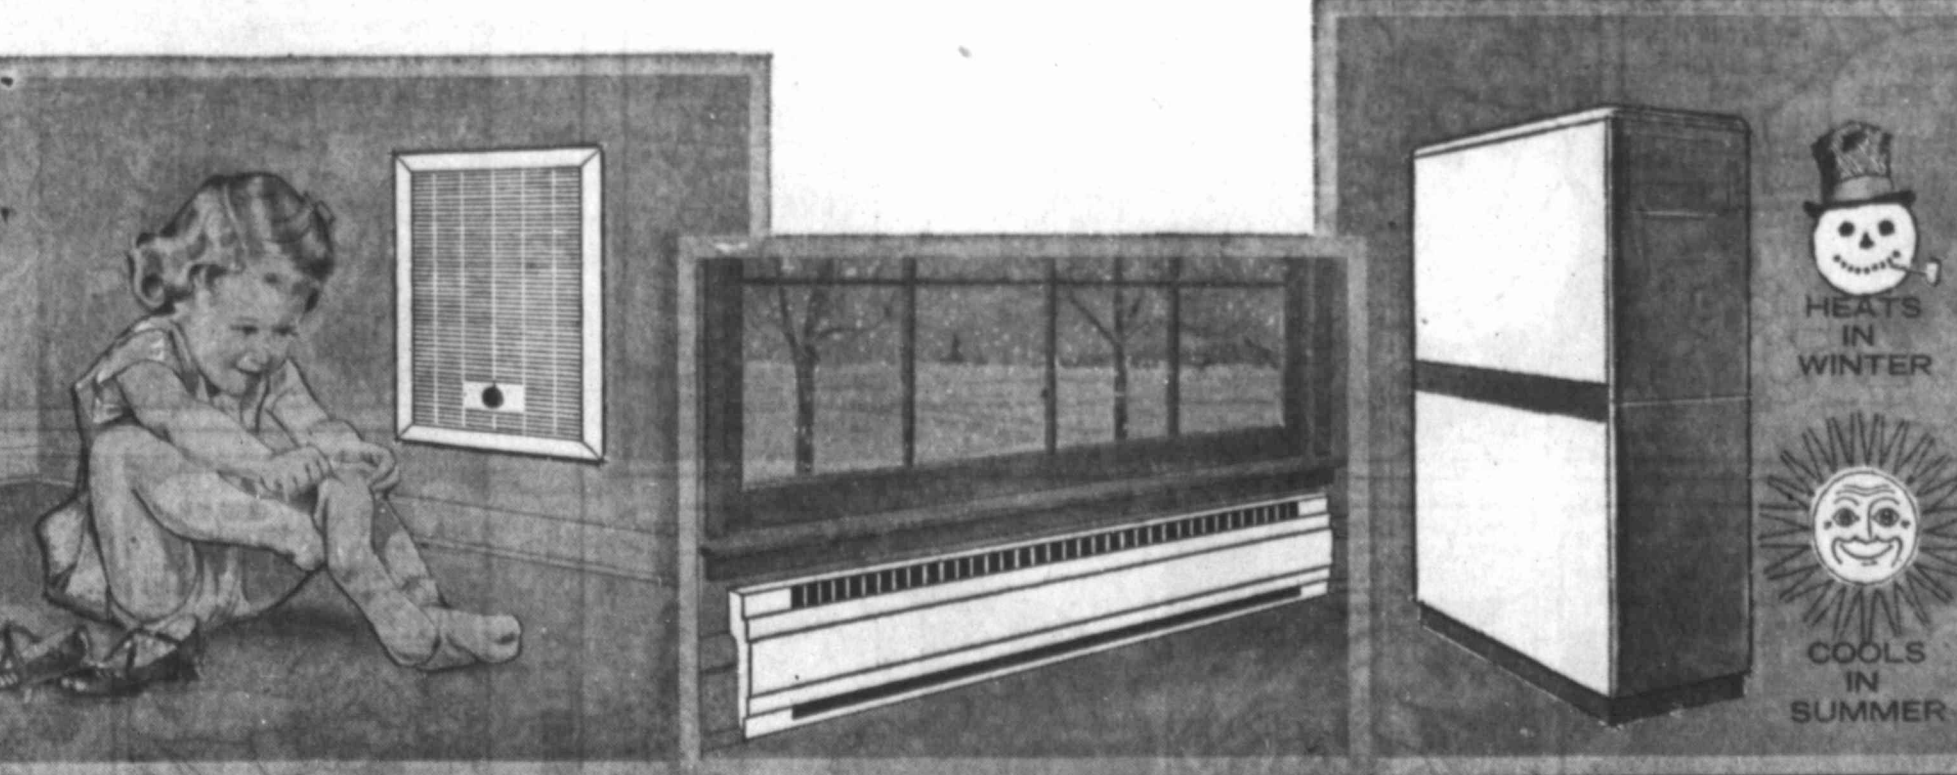

Twenty-five boxes of apples were brought to the hospital by Lawrence McCoy, Aztec, N. M. McCoy was referred to the hospital by Dr. G. T. Hall.

Twenty boxes were distributed among the patients and the other five will be baked into apple pies for Sunday dinner's dessert.

Texans Invited To Safety Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-five Texans have been invited by President Kennedy to attend the forthcoming President's Conference on Occupational Safety.

They are among some 3,000 representatives of labor, management and government agencies invited to a 3-day meeting starting March 6 to seek ways of improving the safety of American workers.

Those invited from Texas include:

- W. D. Hanna, Amarillo; W. Bush and nurse Rosie S. Jones, Beaumont; L. M. Kempf, El Paso; Col. Edward J. Dehne, Ft. Sam Houston; James C. Sharp, Lubbock; C. D. Attaway, Marshall; R. Wilkins, McGregor; Mungar T. Ball and R. G. Blanchard, Port Arthur.

The government does not pay the expenses of those attending.

Texas Musicians Confer

Jacques Singer, right, conductor of the Corpus Christi Symphony was in Portland, Ore., to conduct two concerts with the Portland Symphony, and arrived in time to talk music with another Texas pianist Van Cliburn, who played with the symphony. Singer, a former conductor of the Dallas Symphony, played a hand in recommending Cliburn for the G. B. Dealey Award in Dallas in 1952.

Woman Killed In Headon Crash

BROWNWOOD (AP)—A woman died and seven persons were injured today in a headon car crash five miles west of Goldthwaite.

Mrs. Gayle Smith, about 20, died a few minutes after the accident. Mrs. Jeannine Shaw, riding with Mrs. Smith, was seriously injured.

Six Negroes riding in the second car also were hurt.

Connally, Wilson Skirt Area As Political Campaign Warms

By The Associated Press

Bobby Arrives For Rome Visit

ROME (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived today for a two-day visit during which he will have a private audience with Pope John XXIII and see top Italian governmental leaders.

The U.S. Embassy described Kennedy's visit here as private, but said he will make courtesy calls on Prime Minister Amintore Fanfani, Foreign Minister Antonio Segni and Justice Minister Guido Gonella before leaving for Berlin Thursday. Kennedy's appointment with the Pope is for Wednesday.

Kennedy was accompanied by his wife, Ethel, presidential adviser Arthur Schlesinger Jr. and a party of 15 on the flight here from Bangkok, Thailand, via Beirut, Lebanon.

Texas' political candidates are off to a scurrying week of campaigning.

John Connally, former Navy secretary, was to visit Brady, Coleman and San Angelo Tuesday to start of a three-day swing of West Texas and South Central Texas.

Monday night Will Wilson, also a Democratic candidate for governor, said in Lubbock that public school education in Texas needs to gain weight. He advocated a heavier diet of science, mathematics, languages and history in public schools.

Gov. Price Daniel promised Monday to talk with the General Service Administration in Washington on March 1 about the proposed sale of land surrounding the De Zavala cemetery, along with the San Jacinto Ordnance Depot.

Daniel urged the federal government to give the 152 parks either to the state or Harris County for preservation as a park.

While Gov. Daniel was going about campaigning, Connally said in Houston he doesn't know why Daniel wants a fourth term. "If I had been governor for six years I think I could have solved some of the problems Texas now faces," Connally told campaign workers.

He said, "I wouldn't get out and ask the voters for two more years to solve the problems I said existed when I first took office and I would not say 'send me a legislature I can control.'"

In other political activity across the state: Candidates for governor and lieutenant governor have been invited by the Texas Farm Bureau to give their views on various issues at a statewide county Farm Bureau presidents conference in Dallas Feb. 27.

Republican State Chairman Tad Smith of El Paso told a news conference in Austin that Texas Democrats had no legal or moral grounds in forcing the Republicans to hold primary elections in May.

Democratic officials last week contended that Republicans must hold a primary in every Texas county in order to qualify GOP candidates for the general election ballot.

He mentions particularly commercials for one headache remedy, a head-cold congestion remedy and several cigarettes. (I'm pretty bored with pictures of draining sinuses, myself, but at the top of my current "turn the darned set off" list is the one with the hand marching, for no apparent reason, through a field of tobacco. And those smokers who come up, up, up from a valley of fog is in No. 2 place.)

When Johnny Carson moves into Jack Paar's spot next fall, the name of the NBC program will revert to its original one: "The Tonight Show, starring Johnny Carson."

The true measure of Johnny's success will be shown in the speed with which NBC changes the name to "The Johnny Carson Show."

Richard Boone has agreed to make another season of "Have Gun, Will Travel" shows, and Walter Brennan, who was thinking about quitting "The Real McCoys" will take it easier next season, but appear in about half the new episodes. . . . Gale Gordon, who has been chosen to replace the late Joseph Kearns as "Mr. Wilson"—he'll play the original's brother—is a very familiar face after all those years of "Our Miss Brooks" re-runs. He was the sputtery school principal.

Recommended tonight: Dick Powell Show, NBC, 9-10 (EST)—Powell and Sammy Davis Jr. star in "The Legend."

Pacifist Thinks Mrs. K's Talk Was Sincere

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, sparkplug of the Women's Strike for Peace which maneuvered Nina Khrushchev into public disarmament discussions, says she thinks the Soviet premier's wife made a very sincere appeal in her broadcast Sunday night.

Talk among a group of women friends in Mrs. Wilson's home here last year burgeoned into a nationwide demonstration which sent hundreds of women marching around the White House in behalf of disarmament and a final end to nuclear testing. It culminated in letters to Mrs. Khrushchev and Mrs. John F. Kennedy calling on them to use their influence to that end.

Mrs. Wilson, whom Mrs. Khrushchev mentioned by name, said she considers the broadcast in effect a reply to communications which the organization has sent her.

Mrs. Wilson said one of the greatest difficulties in U.S.-Soviet relations is the American tendency to accept as mere propaganda whatever the Russians may say. She contended the thing to do now is accept what Mrs. Khrushchev said at face value and proceed from that base.

5 Are Indicted In Lubbock Death

LUBBOCK (AP)—Five persons have been indicted here in what officers call one of the most brutal slayings in their memory. A Lubbock carpenter, J. R. Castle, 46, was found shot and beaten to death in a caliche pit near Lubbock Jan. 21.

Named in the indictments returned Monday by a 72nd District Court grand jury were Elvis Dalrymple, 27, his wife, June Dalrymple, 22; Ida Joe Whitten, 27; James Edward Hammons, 27; and Mary Virginia Grizzle, 22. Miss Grizzle was arrested in Dallas and is being held in the Lubbock County jail. The other four suspects named in the indictments are held in a Denver, Colo., jail.

Commercials Still On Ugh! List Of Critic

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Although there turn up occasional reports of surveys indicating that the viewers really like commercials, a television columnist must be permitted to doubt their accuracy.

This columnist does, largely because so many annoyed, frustrated and angry letters about commercials continually flow in from readers.

One long-standing complaint is that commercials are frequently louder than the entertainment programs surrounding them. This has been denied officially and repeatedly, but my own ears tell me it is true.

Another frequent complaint is the deadly repetition. As one viewer puts it, "Does it make sense for a company to spend thousands of dollars on a program that attracts regular viewers—and then have it repeat, repeat and repeat the same commercial until you want to close your eyes and ears to avoid it?"

He mentions particularly commercials for one headache remedy, a head-cold congestion remedy and several cigarettes. (I'm pretty bored with pictures of draining sinuses, myself, but at the top of my current "turn the darned set off" list is the one with the hand marching, for no apparent reason, through a field of tobacco. And those smokers who come up, up, up from a valley of fog is in No. 2 place.)
