100,000 Cheer Glenn As He Receives Medal

NEWS CONFERENCE

Spaceman Says Weightless Sensation Was 'Pleasant'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. reported today that he suffered no ill effects from prolonged weightlessness during his space journey on Tuesday. In fact, "It was very pleasant," he said.

30 or 45 minutes after launching he was taking pictures with a hand camera and wanted to do some switch work. FLOATING IN AIR "I simply put the camera out and let it float in mid-air, (inside the capsule)," the astronaut said.

He said a great many other people working on planning and engineering phases really did the job; then he referred to Glenn as the anchor man on the team who really pulled the job off.

experts had aimed for. It was a good insertion into orbit. When astronaut Alan B. Shepard told Glenn over the communications radio that "you have a 7 orbit capability," it was a "very welcome sound," Glenn said.

FILM LOST

He said that as far as he knew he lost track of only one thing—a can of film which he batted accidentally and it went sailing behind the instrument panel.

NO EFFECT

What effect did all of the delays have on his emotions and attitudes? He said there was no real effect, he thought well and kept working.

BIG OCCASION

At the outset, Gilruth said "this is a tremendous occasion for me."

President Says 'Thanks' To Astronaut

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. received a medal from President Kennedy today amid roaring acclaim for his fantastic space flight.

As the President presented the medal, he said for the nation "We appreciate it." Returning to the jumping off point of his great adventure, Glenn got a long ovation from perhaps 100,000 persons who lined an 18-mile parade route from Patrick Air Force Base to Cape Canaveral.

In presenting Glenn the Distinguished Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Kennedy said "17 years ago the Marines planted the American flag on Mt. Suribachi. Maybe in the not too distant future, Col. Glenn and the Marine Corps, or a Navy man or an airman will plant the American flag on the moon."

He gave a similar medal to Robert R. Gilruth, Project Mercury director, and because of emotion Gilruth could say little save "I'm very, very proud."

In introducing Glenn, the President called the astronaut's wife and children to stand beside the space hero, then he pointed at Glenn's mother and introduced her as "Mrs. Glenn, who launched Col. Glenn originally."

After the brief stop at the launch pad, the party set out again while the launch crew, with bullet-popping pride, applauded.

The Air Force C130 jet ferrying the space hero from his two days of post-flight examination at Grand Turk Island arrived this morning at Patrick Air Force Base.

Accompanying the astronaut in the big executive-type plane was Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

A few minutes before Glenn's plane landed, another C130 carrying the other six astronauts and Project Mercury officials landed at the base.

Glenn embraced his daughter, Carolyn, 14, who was waiting at the base of the ramp with other members of the family. Then he quickly hugged his wife and kissed her, holding her tightly for a few seconds.

Glenn, the icy-nerved Marine lieutenant colonel, who had flown around the world three times in four hours and 56 minutes, tucked a white handkerchief from his pocket, and made a swift wipe at his eyes.

Next he turned to his son, David, 16, and spoke a few words to him.

Glenn was greeted by the cheers and handclaps of his countrymen—and a host of kids who ducked and darted around adults for a glimpse of their space hero.

Ahead of Glenn, his wife and children lay a quiet weekend before a big parade and appearance at a joint session of Congress in Washington on Monday. They will rejoin Kennedy to fly north for that national celebration.

On March 1, New York will stage one of its traditional ticker tape parades for Glenn, Shepard and Grissom.

New Concord, as small as New York is giant, also planned its own show to tell Glenn how it feels about its favorite son.

A Heart Beating For The Heart Fund

Dr. John R. Derrick, in Big Spring on a tour for the American Heart Association, spoke to biology students at the High School today to inform them of work being done in research to bring about a cure for many forms of heart ailments. Here Jo Sullivan, a biology student, listens to the heart-beat of Dr. Derrick through a stethoscope. Dr. Derrick has been touring for the Heart Association the past two days and is scheduled to return today to his work at the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston.

Heart Researcher Describes Advances

By JOE BEYER

Research in the past five years has made great advances in treatment for heart ailments, Dr. John R. Derrick, a leader in heart treatment and research, said today.

Dr. Derrick, a teacher and researcher at the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston, is currently making appearances in Big Spring while on a tour for the Heart Association. This morning he made appearances at the Senior High School to speak to biology students.

His trip here is primarily to stimulate interest in the work being done to combat heart ailments and to aid the Heart Association in its current drive for financial aid. Another purpose is to interest students in becoming doctors and nurses.

"Some students have already decided on a medical career," he said. "Others might do so if their interest can be gained."

With the current emphasis on space, rocketry and other scientific fields, much of the top talent is being diverted into those fields where once it went into the medical profession, he said.

Most progress in heart treatment has been done within recent years and no part of it can be termed old, he said. He pointed out that among the major recent advances are complete replacement of heart valves and the use of an electrical stimulus to make a weak heart beat at a normal rate.

"Only a few years ago the mortality rate for many types of heart surgery was high, about 35 per cent. Now many operations can be made with as low a mortality rate as five per cent and success can almost be assured," he said.

The more dangerous operations are undertaken only when there is little or no chance of survival without surgery, he said. The operation is then a gamble of a few days, weeks or months against years of living. Dr. Derrick spoke to students in biology from 8:40-11:40 a.m. and was to meet another biology section during the afternoon from 1:30 to 4 p.m. He was free for one hour during the morning, from 9:40-10:40 for an interview.

Accompanying him is Hattie DeLapp, West Texas Area Consultant for the Heart Association. Dr. Derrick arrived here Thursday night from Abilene and leaves tonight for Galveston. Before leaving he was scheduled to make an

Missionary Renews Claim Of Island War Mongering

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A Protestant missionary has renewed reports that warfare among native tribes in Dutch New Guinea was encouraged by a Harvard expedition, of which Michael Rockefeller was a member, so that films could be made of the fighting.

Harvard officials called it a baseless charge and said that the Dutch government had investigated rumors started by missionaries and found them to be without foundation.

A spokesman for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Michael's father, said the youth was attached to the expedition as an unpaid art appearance before the American Business Club at noon at the Setles Hotel and on KEDY-TV at 6 p.m. today.

An informal dinner in his honor is scheduled after the program at Cosden Country Club.

Dr. Derrick received a bachelor's degree at Clemson and his doctorate at Tulane. He interned at Philadelphia General Hospital and had residencies at Tulane Post-Graduate School, department of surgery; Charity Hospital, New Orleans, in pediatrics; Charity Hospital, Tulane Service, surgery; and Boston Children's Hospital, in pediatrics and cardiovascular surgery.

He is currently assistant professor of thoracic surgery, head of the section of cardiovascular surgery, director of the cardiovascular surgery research laboratory; and director of the University of Texas Hospitals' congenital heart center.

collector and did not have photographic equipment.

The Protestant missionary, the Rev. H.M. Lake, 36, on furious until July from the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in New Guinea, said Thursday, however, that he could speak with authority because some natives from the area in which he worked took part in the battles.

Michael Rockefeller, 23, was lost last November when a boat in which he was riding capsized off the south coast of New Guinea in what were described as shark-infested waters.

He had stayed in New Guinea to collect native art after the expedition left.

Strategic Corp To Grow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today enlargement of its Strategic Corps and creation within it of two quick-strike forces, one mainly airborne and the other emphasizing armored might.

Five divisions are being added to the three already assigned. The reorganization does not involve any over-all Army manpower increase. But it does mean that about 75,000 more soldiers have been put into the "ready alert" force.

Actually it becomes a two-corps force. The additional corps will be made up, for the present, of two National Guard and three regular Army divisions. The Army said the new organization will permit greater flexibility in dealing with multiple situations in widely separated areas.

It provides, the announcement said, for two mobile, hard-hitting corps, one essentially airborne and the other stronger in armor. The 49th Armored and 32nd Infantry divisions, National Guard outfits mobilized last fall, later will be replaced by the regular Army 1st Armored and 5th Infantry when the latter divisions reach a state of readiness next summer. The two corps will presumably be released from active duty at that time.

The Army said this is the first time that National Guard units have been assigned to a strategic strike force in peacetime. The new Strac unit is designated as the 3rd Corps with headquarters at Ft. Hood, Tex. The Army said a commander has not been chosen yet.

The present airborne Strac Corps is commanded by Lt. Gen. Hamilton Howze, who will continue in that command. The Strac organization, until now, has consisted of the 82nd and 101st Airborne and the 4th Infantry Divisions.

Spokesmen said no over-all commander for the two Strac Corps organization will be appointed. The two corps will come under the Continental Army Command, which in effect will become the top headquarters for Strac.

NEWS BRIEFS

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. (AP)—Commuting business executives will inaugurate a religious "seminar on wheels" next Monday.

Aboard a special car on the New York Central Railroad will be more than 60 members of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church here who travel daily to their New York City jobs.

Instead of playing bridge or reading, their time will be spent discussing various themes centered around the conflict between religious ethics and commercial business practices.

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Scholarships are available to a number of high school graduates who wish to attend the Southwest School of Printing here.

Qualifying tests are to be administered in the Sam Houston campus March 8 at 8 p.m. Tests will also be given at the Graphic Arts Center March 15 in Dallas.

HILLSBORO, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel and two of Texas' outstanding physicians, Harvey Ringer of Hallettsville and James Murphy of Fort Worth, will be here Sunday to take part in the dedication and formal opening of the Grant-Buie Medical Center.

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk voiced again Thursday night the West's determination to defend the freedom of West Berlin, and said reunification of Germany is the only real solution to the divided nation's problems.

Rusk wound up a two-day visit to North Carolina with an address at Davidson College, where he was graduated a Phi Beta Kappa in 1931.

By The Associated Press

A cold wave swept into the northern Rockies Thursday, bringing stiff northerly winds, snow and near-bizzard conditions in some areas.

However, the storm was losing much of its punch as it moved southward. It was expected to break the three-year East-West moratorium, and fired around 50 shots which in the U.S. view increased the Soviet Union's nuclear weapons effectiveness.

What Khrushchev did do, informants said, was to advise Kennedy of his threat to resume Soviet testing if the United States starts atmospheric explosions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation described the Kennedy administration's new farm proposals today as a "road to a licensed and regimented agriculture, restricted opportunity for farm people, and low per-family net farm income."

The federation's opposition was in a statement by its president, Charles Shuman, to a Senate Agriculture Committee hearing.

Commandant

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Army has announced that Col. James McGibony will become commandant of the medical field service school at Ft. Sam Houston March 1. He has been director of the plans, supply and operations for the office of the surgeon general in Washington since 1959.

Herring Sanity Trial Continues

KERMIT, Tex. (AP)—An Odessa high school counselor described Mack Herring today as an above average all-round boy. This testimony was given at the youth's sanity hearing. He is charged with murder in the shotgun slaying last March 22 of a pretty schoolmate, Elizabeth Jean Williams, 17.

The counselor, Sidney Holden, said he gave Herring an IQ test in 1960 and that Herring scored 123 points. He said the average is 100 points.

Holden said Herring, 18, was in the top one per cent taking the test. The counselor said Herring had a scholastic rating of 84.5, also above average.

DEATH REQUEST

Officers have quoted Herring as saying Miss Williams asked him to kill her, and that she put a shotgun muzzle to her head and he pulled the trigger after kissing her goodby.

Howard Sellers, 17, Odessa High School student, told of being given a ride home by Herring and Miss Williams last March 20, two days before the shooting.

Sellers testified that Betty asked Mack to kill her. He said they all laughed, thinking it was a joke. They then talked how this could be accomplished, Sellers testified.

The youth said Betty remarked that she would write a note absolving Mack of any blame. Sellers said the next day he asked Betty if she had written the note, and she replied "yes." Sellers said that afternoon Mack showed him the note.

NOTE INTRODUCED

The note was introduced at the sanity trial Thursday. The shooting occurred in this county (Winkler), adjoining Ector County in which Odessa is located.

If a jury finds young Herring sane, he then will be tried on the murder charge.

Six peace officers testified Thursday night that they believe the youth was sane last spring, when he was arrested shortly after the slaying. They were called as the state sought to refute testimony of 15 defense witnesses heard earlier in the day.

ASKED HELP

Three Odessa teen-agers who attended school with Herring and Miss Williams testified she had asked their help in taking her life. An Odessa psychiatrist, Dr. Marvin Grice, told the jury Herring could not distinguish between right and wrong at the time.

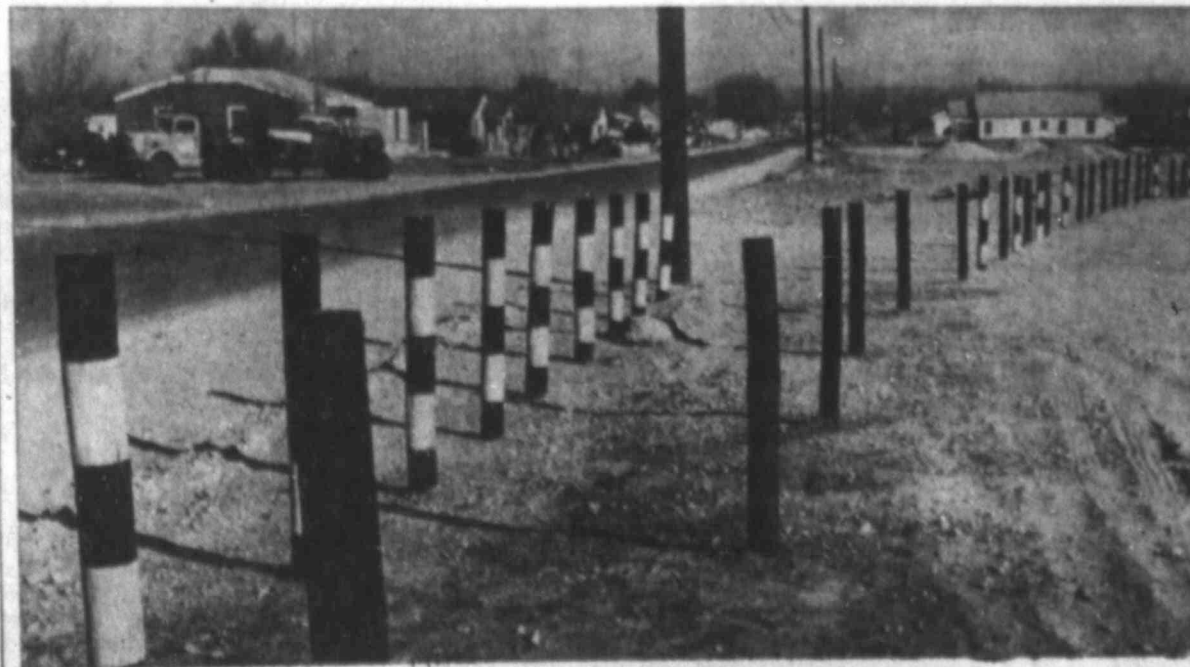

Defense lawyers introduced a letter in the slain girl's handwriting stating: "I'm waging a war within myself, a war to find the true me, and I fear I'm losing the battle. Rather than admit defeat, I'm going to beat a quick retreat into the no man's land of death."

"As I have only the will and not the fortune necessary, a friend of mine, seeing how great is my torment, has graciously consented to look after the details. His name is Mack Herring, and I pray that he will not have to suffer for what he is doing for my sake."

KISSED GOODBYE

Police officers said the youth told them that "I kissed her goodbye and pulled the trigger" in their parked car after Miss Williams put a shotgun to her head.

He is the son of O. H. Herring, an Odessa electrical contractor. The father said young Herring slipped him the letter while being questioned by police, and he gave it to the officers.

Short-Cut Barricaded

City street crews eliminated a traffic hazard at the Marcy Drive and Air Base Road intersection Thursday, erecting a barrier to prevent traffic from turning in this area from Harding Street.

One opening was left in the barricade for traffic to turn near Abilene Street. A. K. Steinhilber, city manager, said a hazard was created by traffic leaving Harding Street, cutting across private property in order to get on Marcy Drive on Air Base Road. Traffic has been entering the Webb AFB entrance road along a two-block area. New traffic will be funneled onto Marcy and Air Base Road at one place, similar to conventional street intersections.

Tough Note By Niki Chills Hopes For Success At Geneva Parley

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (AP)—A tough new message from Premier Khrushchev insisting that President Kennedy agree to a March summit meeting chilled U.S. hopes today for an kind of successful negotiations with the Soviet Union at the forthcoming Geneva conference.

The letter, delivered to the State Department Thursday, also raised grave suspicion among officials here that Khrushchev is trying to use the approaching disarmament conference as a device to prevent Kennedy from ordering a new series of atmospheric nuclear tests. Officials judged the 20-page message to be loaded with propaganda.

The State Department forwarded an English translation of the letter to the White House late Thursday afternoon, a little more than two hours after Kennedy left for Florida. Presumably, his special assistant, McGeorge Bundy, relayed it to the President immediately.

The United States planned to start immediate consultation with Britain and other Allies on a Kennedy reply to Khrushchev turning down his latest summit conference bid. But the State Department informally rejected Khrushchev's insistent urging in a statement Thursday night.

The statement said the U.S. government feels that its proposal to open disarmament talks with foreign ministers, with the possibility of a summit session later on, "is the proper one and the one best designed to lead to orderly progress in the disarmament negotiations."

This statement undoubtedly foreshadows the line of Kennedy's reply which is also expected to express hope once again that, as the statement said, "The Soviet Union will agree to the joint United States-United Kingdom proposal for the foreign ministers meeting."

Khrushchev's letter was the latest in a series of exchanges involving him, Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Kennedy and Macmillan opened the series Feb. 7 with a call for a foreign ministers meeting. Khrushchev on Feb. 10 raised the bid to a summit conference. His proposal was rejected by the two Western leaders Feb. 14 and his message Thursday was a reply to their rejection.

The letter from Khrushchev gave no indication whether he would go to Geneva even though Kennedy and Macmillan did not. But in the initial study of the letter here officials were less concerned with that aspect of the problem than with the change in tone which Khrushchev employed.

Informants said that the text, which still has not been made public, was filled with familiar Soviet propaganda arguments and was sharp and insistent, whereas Khrushchev's earlier response had been relatively mild and cordial.

This time, too, he is reported to have said that he questions the sincerity of the United States in its approach to Geneva in view of press reports that Kennedy was considering resumption of nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere. The President has indicated he will make a decision around the end of this month.

Khrushchev apparently did not refer to the fact that he started atmospheric tests last Sept. 1, breaking the three-year East-West moratorium, and fired around 50 shots which in the U.S. view increased the Soviet Union's nuclear weapons effectiveness.

What Khrushchev did do, informants said, was to advise Kennedy of his threat to resume Soviet testing if the United States starts atmospheric explosions.

Turkish Military Mutiny Is Smashed

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A flash mutiny by disgruntled young army officers that brought Turkey to the brink of civil war was declared smashed today. The armed forces chiefs stood firmly by Premier Ismet Inonu.

The premier, 78, signaled that the bloodless revolt had been ended when he went on the air with a brief, pre-dawn announcement that his government was in command.

Reliable army sources said authorities have seized ringleaders of the brief revolt touched off by discontent over slow progress in carrying out reforms in land allocation, taxes, education and agriculture.

The Turkish armed forces are on duty and have the situation under control, said Inonu. "Their prime duty is to protect and defend the constitution and the entity of the motherland, and they will fulfill this duty."

Inonu made his announcement a few hours after rebellious troops had seized strategic buildings in Ankara in a bid to topple his government.

The revolt failed when chiefs of the air force, army and navy, led by Gen. Cavdet Sunay, rallied behind the premier. Sunay then pledged that the general staff were "firm in their decision to prevent any kind of negative reaction."

The rebels led by a group of young colonels and reportedly supported by Gen. Muhtarin Onur, chief of ground forces, apparently caught the government by surprise as they took over strategic centers during the night to pave the way for a coup.

Inonu was cut off the air when he tried to speak over radio Ankara defending his coalition government. Tanks and troops surrounded the building.

The mutiny apparently was confined to the signal corps, the war academy, an armored school and an officers' gendarmierie school. But for a time it had appeared that other army elements might back the mutineers.

The crisis forced leaders of all four political parties, including Inonu, to sign a joint declaration pledging themselves to work to salvage democracy in Turkey. They appealed to the armed forces to avoid provocations.

The turning point came when the three armies which garrison the country from the Greek border to the Soviet frontier, announced they would take orders only from General Sunay.

There were no casualties reported in the uprising. But the movement of tanks and troops in and out of the capital plus the feeling stirred by the affair caused a public jolt which would take some time to overcome.

In an attempt to allay some of the disruption, stirred over the past 24 hours, Inonu's cabinet issued a communique shortly after dawn declaring: "The duty and honor of the Turkish armed forces underwent a great trial last night. The army and the government are hand-in-hand and citizens can go about their work in peace."

Sinatra, 46, long a bachelor, a millionaire with a string of gorgeous girls, surprised even many close friends when he announced he planned to marry the leggy dancer from South Africa.

Miss Prowse, 25, never married before and new in Hollywood, was much less famous than some of Sinatra's dates and less flashy than others.

Sinatra's two previous marriages — to childhood sweetheart Nancy Barbato and actress Ava Gardner — also were plagued with career troubles. His skyrocketing fame as a crooner rekindled the first, and Miss Gardner's prominence for a while outstripped his own.

Solicitors Launch Fund Drive Sunday

Scores of volunteers will knock on doors Sunday to solicit support of the annual fund drive of the local chapter of the American Heart Association.

Some few, for whom the weekend schedule was not practical, began their solicitations today, chairman of the Heart Sunday collection.

At Coahoma the observance is being headed by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White and at Forsan by Mrs. C. V. Wash. The Sand Springs contacts will be handled by workers from here, and in the rural areas, Jimmy Taylor is in charge.

"All workers will be identified by a badge which contains a red heart and printed text from the American Heart Association," she said. "Some of the workers will be mothers, some will be teenagers, but all are bonafide representatives if they wear the identifying badge."

Most of the contacts will be made starting after 1 p.m., and as soon as the solicitors finish, they will report in to their area chairmen. The area chairmen will then report to the First National Bank at 4 p.m.

Sixty per cent of the contributions will remain with the local chapter, but virtually all of this will be spent in support of research or for special heart surgery or treatment equipment.

For instance, the heart chapter here purchased specialized equipment used by Dr. John Derrick, who happens to be here today for a series of addresses. It gave $500 to Dr. Hugh Wilson of Dallas for a special research project and it also gave $2,000 to the Texas Heart Association for research.

Letter Carriers To Attend Rally

Two carloads of postal employees from the Big Spring Post Office will leave late today for Lubbock to attend a 19th Congressional District salary rally planned at that city tonight.

E. S. Parrish, president of the local chapter of the National Association of Letter Carriers, said that he expects at least 10 to attend from Big Spring.

He said the NALC plans salary rallies in each of the congressional districts as a preliminary to a national meeting slated for Washington later in the spring. The Lubbock rally will be in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church in Lubbock at 8 p.m.

A number of prominent officials of the NALC will be in attendance and speak to the gathering.

The purpose of the meeting is to urge that Congress advise itself on the need of the postal employees for a raise in pay.

New Program Planned At Y

Big Spring's first Tri-Gr-Y program gets under way at the YMCA Saturday at 10 a.m., according to Curtiss Chatham, program secretary.

It is for girls in grades three through six. Two club groups will be formed, one for girls in the first two grades and the other for grades five and six.

Varied activities are scheduled for the first meeting. A short general session will be held at 10 a.m. with meetings of the club groups at 10:15 a.m. Games, stories, crafts and other handwork will highlight the club meetings.

At 11 a.m. both groups will participate in a one-hour swimming session.

The program is open to the public, Chatham said, but members must eventually join the Y.

Negro Cops Are Limited, Reports Illinois Expert

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Most city police departments and sheriff's offices in the South that hire Negro officers restrict their authority to deal with white offenders, an Illinois sociologist says.

Associate professor Elliott M. Rudwick of Southern Illinois University told a conference on corrections at Florida State University Thursday in nearly 90 per cent of the cities where Negro policemen are hired, they are assigned to colored neighborhoods exclusively.

In some cities, the Negro can neither arrest nor hold a white offender, but keeps him under surveillance while calling in white officers, he said.

Juliet Drops Her Romeo

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dancer Juliet Prowse won't be the third Mrs. Frank Sinatra.

She and the singer abruptly broke off their engagement Thursday night, blaming career trouble.

Sinatra and Miss Prowse announced six weeks ago that they planned to marry. They hadn't gotten around to setting the date, although April and June had been mentioned.

The break came suddenly. A terse announcement said: "A conflict of career interests has led us to make this decision jointly. We both feel it is better to make it now rather than later."

A publicity spokesman added: "Neither will be available for comment. There will be no amplification."

Sinatra, 46, long a bachelor, a millionaire with a string of gorgeous girls, surprised even many close friends when he announced he planned to marry the leggy dancer from South Africa.

Miss Prowse, 25, never married before and new in Hollywood, was much less famous than some of Sinatra's dates and less flashy than others.

Sinatra's two previous marriages — to childhood sweetheart Nancy Barbato and actress Ava Gardner — also were plagued with career troubles. His skyrocketing fame as a crooner rekindled the first, and Miss Gardner's prominence for a while outstripped his own.

Oldfield Thinks Russians Failed Orbit Attempt

FORT WORTH (AP) — The chief spokesman for the North American Air Defense Command says a piece of "space junk" now in orbit may be a manned Russian space attempt which didn't work.

Col. Barney Oldfield said the orbiting object, made up of a nose cone and booster unit, which failed to separate, was put in May, 1960. He said the cone may have been manned.

"If so," Oldfield said, "they've put the first cosmic coffin in a celestial cemetery."

Oldfield said U2 reconnaissance disclosed that the Russians may have had many failures along with their successes.

Launching pads centered with huge rockets were photographed, he explained. In later photographs, only scorched earth showed.

"We know they didn't put anything into orbit from these spots," he said. "Whatever was there must have exploded on the pad."

Oldfield said he believes the successful space shot by astronaut John Glenn has provided the key to the moon.

The moon is the "best sterile laboratory so close to us," he explained. "There now is no reason for any American to doubt our ability to get there—or to do any of the things required in the future."

Gold Fever May Hit Nome Again

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Nome, a fabled spot in the Alaska gold rush of '98, may be hit by the gold fever again. The state disclosed Thursday prospectors are eyeing Norton Sound, off Nome.

State Lands Director Roscoe Bell said the Shell Oil Co. and eight individuals have filed applications for mineral prospecting permits on 22,318 acres of shallow bottomland in the sound.

Gov. William A. Egan cautioned against overoptimism, but said Nome's offshore area "may be every bit as rich as the beach and inland area which made Nome famous at the turn of the century."

An estimated $80 to $100 million in placer gold was taken from the black sands of three Nome beach areas then.

Webb Quintet Loses 1st Game

SAN ANTONIO — Webb AFB of Big Spring lost its first game in 16 basketball starts this season here Thursday when it dropped a 93-64 decision to Keesler Field, Miss., in the first round of the ATC District B tournament.

Webb was to play James Connally AFB of Waco in the loser's bracket today.

Scoring leaders for Webb in the game against Keesler were Phil Hayden, 19 points; Mike Quinan, 16; and Fred Luiga, ten.

Turbulent Weather Smashes Into State

By The Associated Press

Turbulent weather smashed into Texas Friday, causing a possible tornado at Waskom in far East Texas and bringing heavy rains to parts of the state.

The Waskom tornado apparently did not touch the ground, but brought battering winds which overturned a trailer house.

Archie Wells, a service station operator at Waskom, said "something came through" overhead roaring like a train. But, he said, it apparently did not touch ground.

Mrs. J. C. Toland also reported strong winds and hard rain but no extensive damage. A few trees and signs were blown down.

Shortly after dawn the Weather Bureau reported a thunderstorm north of Huntsville moving east-northeastward and decreasing in intensity.

RAIN BELT At that time, rain was falling over North Texas along and east of the Sherman-Fort Worth-Temple line, and the rain area moved eastward at about 25 miles an hour.

Some of the rainfall totals by 7 a.m. today included Ennis 1.05 inches, Waxahachie 1.15, Denison .79, Washington 8.1, Richmond .05, Farmersville 1.41, Dallas .64, San Antonio .21, Austin .19, Fort Worth .32, Brownwood .86, Texarkana .85, Crandall 1.18, Longview 1.32, Mineral Wells .44 and Junction .85.

The Weather Bureau put parts of East Texas under a severe thunderstorm alert Friday.

Its special advisory also covered northwest Louisiana, parts of Southern Arkansas and the extreme west part of West Central Mississippi. The bureau said:

"Scattered severe thunderstorms with damaging winds and large hail are expected until 1 p.m. in the area 60 miles each side of a line from 70 miles southwest of Lufkin to 60 miles northeast of Monroe, La. This revises an earlier forecast issued for parts of North Central and Northeast Texas, extreme Southeast Oklahoma, Southwest Arkansas and Northwest Louisiana."

ALERT AREA The alert area was south of the Marshall-Longview-Kilgore-Tyler group of cities and north of the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange industrial complex.

Temperatures remained generally normal during the night, but the Weather Bureau forecast light snow during the afternoon in the Panhandle and occasional light snow mostly in the Panhandle and High Plains during the night and Saturday.

The snow would be a backlash from severe cold in the Western states.

For several hours before dawn parts of North Central and Northeast Texas were under a special severe thunderstorm alert. Weather Bureau observers reported the worst of the storms had moved eastward by about 6 a.m., however.

TEMPERATURES Early morning temperatures sagged to 50 at Dalhart in the Panhandle, which expected scattered light snow by afternoon. Occasional light snow was due to spread through the area and into the South Plains before ending early Saturday.

Thermometers held to the lower 70s all along the coast.

Showers were widespread in Central and East Texas during the forenoon while West Texas had generally clear skies.

Electrical displays accompanied brisk downpours at Austin, San Antonio and Waco. There was fog mixed with rain at Lufkin and Texarkana.

In addition to bringing snow in the Panhandle, the blizzard to the north was due to rout springlike temperatures nearly everywhere else in the state by Saturday. Weather Bureau observers saw a chance for light rain Saturday in North Central and Northeast Texas.

Forecasts called for overnight temperatures as low as 18 degrees in the Panhandle and down to around freezing in all sections except South Central and Southeast Texas, where lows around 40 degrees were in prospect.

Winter's return found fruit trees blossoming throughout the state.

Three Enter Legion Contest

Three contestants announced for the 1962 Oratorical Contest being sponsored today by the American Legion Post according to Bedford Forrest, coach for the Big Spring debate team.

The contest was to be held at 3 p.m. today at the high school. Roscoe Cone, Americanism chairman for the Post, is in charge.

Contestants this year are Linda Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Morton, 1606 E. 6th; Winnora Richbourg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downing, 1805 Alabama; and Mike Halverson, son of Maj. and Mrs. A. K. Halverson, 76-B Ent. All are seniors in high school.

This is the first time Halverson and Miss Richbourg have entered the contest. All are members of the high school debate and forensics teams and all three are participating in the junior play, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The local winner goes to Lubbock for the Legion district contest to compete against other winners in the 19th Congressional District. District winners then go on to the division contest with the state winner receiving a $4,000 scholarship.

Johnnie Cone, coached by Forrest, was the local winner and took top honor in the district last year. He was second in the division.

Judges for the local contest will be Billy Rudd, Judge Ralph Cannon, Del Kirby, Sam M. Anderson and Carroll Davison.

OIL REPORT

New Spraberry Strike Reported

A Spraberry discovery has been completed on the east edge of the Breedlove (Devonian-Strawn) field in northwest Martin County. A suggested name for the discovery area is the Singleton (Spraberry) field. This is the second Spraberry discovery logged in the county in two days.

The well is Pan American No. 2 J. R. Singleton, which flowed 324.01 barrels of oil through a 28-64 inch choke on initial potential. It is about one-half mile northeast of a Strawn discoverer in the Breedlove field and one mile north of a Denonian discoverer.

Pecos County gained the largest gas discovery completed in West Texas during the past few years with Socony Mobil No. 1 Sibley. The wildcat flowed a calculated open flow of 157 million cubic feet of gas a day from the Wolfcamp about 25 miles northwest of Pecos. Flow through an 18-64 inch choke was 4,533,000 cubic feet of gas daily. The gas-oil ratio was 7,330-1 and pay was from an open hole section between 9,412-735 feet. It is about three miles northwest of the Coynosa field.

Dawson Howard

Hamon No. 1 McDougal is drilling below 11,265 feet in lime and chert. Location is C SW SW, section 23-36-4N, T&P survey.

Martin

Pan American Petroleum Corp. No. 2 J. R. Singleton flowed 324.01 barrels of oil through a 28-64 inch choke on initial potential in the Breedlove (Devonian-Strawn) field. The well was drilled to 12,200 feet and plugged back to 8,900 feet. Perforations are between 8,310-50 feet in a 5 1/2 inch string set at 12,066 feet. Flow was through a 28-64 inch choke, with five per cent water and a gas-oil ratio of 650-1. Casing pressure was 175 pounds and the well was acidized with 500 gallons.

It spots north and east of Strawn and Devonian production in the Breedlove field and is about one-half mile northwest of a 12,371-foot hole drilled in 1956. A suggested name for the field is the Singleton (Spraberry) field. The well is C NW NW, labor 11-29, Borden County, survey, about five miles southwest of Patricia.

Sterling

Roden Oil and Cosden No. 1 Reed pumped 27 barrels of new oil and 20 barrels of water on tests of the Fusselman, in 24 hours. Testing is on a section between 9,660-70 feet. This wildcat tested new oil from the zone on drillstem tests and has recovered a total of 16 barrels of new oil previously on pumping tests. It is 2,040 feet from the north and 650 feet from the west lines of section 9-30, W&N survey.

Southland Royalty No. 1-A Ellwood is making hole in lime below 4,501 feet. This explorer is C SW SE, section 53-18, SPBR survey.

Coahoma Water Expansion Plans Being Considered

The Texas Water Commission has plans for expansion of the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 under advisement now.

Commission approval as to engineering and fiscal feasibility of the plans is required before the attorney general can consider issuing an opinion of legality on the bonds.

The water district last Nov. 18 floated bonds for a $230,000 project to install additional water supply lines from Big Spring through Sand Springs and on to Coahoma. Growth of Sand Springs and Coahoma, both dependent upon the water district for supplies, has created a demand for lines which will furnish more water to the area. The treated water is secured under contract from the City of Big Spring.

No Award Yet On US 87 Road Bid

John Roberts, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department, said it would probably be a week or 10 days before an award was made on the contract to rebuild US 87 into a four-lane highway.

He had no other information from Austin than that the apparent low bidder was Cage Bros., San Antonio. He said there was some doubt but that the bid of $93,833 would be accepted.

No information is available at present on when the job will probably start.

The project will commence at the north city limits of Big Spring and extend 6.9 miles north to tie into the road already built north of Fairview.

Engineer Of Year Award Banquet Set

Local members of the Permian Basin chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers and their wives are planning to participate in the traditional "Engineer of the Year" award banquet Saturday in Odessa.

The social hour begins at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln Hotel and dinner at 8 p.m. In addition to recognizing a member to be selected for the special award, those attending will hear an address by Kenneth M. Smith, McAllen, past president of the state society.

A large number of engineers from Big Spring are planning on taking part in this event which climaxes the observance of National Engineers' Week.

Joyful U.S. Goes Into Orbit To Honor Its Hero Astronaut

By The Associated Press

A joyful and appreciative nation has gone into orbit over astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. Cities and towns from coast to coast are honoring him in some way or another.

The Marine lieutenant colonel will get New York City's traditional ticker tape parade, along with fellow astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

Among communities naming Glenn as honorary citizen are Ottawa, Ill., and Quincy, Mass.

At Lockport, Calif., they'll name a 4,200-acre park for him.

Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has proclaimed February 20 John H. Glenn Day in the state, and says he will ask the legislature to make the observance an annual affair.

Up New England way, it's Glenn - Randolph, Vt. Auburn, Maine, renamed a street for him.

Down South the Intercity Civic Club Council of Decatur, Ala. has proclaimed next Tuesday as John Glenn Day and is urging all citizens to wear red, white and blue ribbons to mark the occasion.

At Tallahassee, Fla., Gov. Farris Bryant has designated today as Project Mercury Day in the state where Glenn took off on his historic flight. Bryant called upon Floridians to display the American flag and rededicate themselves to American ideals. The Tampa, Fla., City Council has changed Franklin Street to Glenn Street for one week.

In Maplewood, a suburb of St. Paul, Minn., a school scheduled for completion in the fall will be named Glenn High.

The Chamber of Commerce of Liberal, Kan., has invited Glenn to preside at its annual Pancake Day, which features women running over a prescribed course flipping pancakes in competition with the women of Olney, England.

Washington state Gov. Albert D. Rosellini has invited Glenn to appear with fellow astronauts in May at the World's Fair, Seattle, in conjunction with a conference on peaceful uses of outer space.

Glenn's hometown of New Concord, Ohio, doesn't know exactly when he is returning, but it's going to be one grand, bang-up affair when he does.

Nation's Oldest Priest Dies At 102

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP) — The Rev. Joseph Samuel Garcia, believed to be the oldest living Roman Catholic priest in this country, died Thursday at 102.

He was born Oct. 30, 1859. When he was baptized at Taos, N.M., his godfather was Kit Carson, the famed frontier scout and Indian fighter.

Breeding Cattle Judging Takes Spotlight In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Breeding cattle judging highlighted the Houston Livestock Show program today.

Angus and Brahman entries and the opening classes in Shorthorns and Guernseys were being judged.

The Mid-coast Santa Gertrudis Association was sponsoring the sale of 33 animals as another feature.

The 12-day show opened Wednesday, but the opening parade was staged a day late. It was delayed to coincide with George Washington's birthday. An estimated 400,000 persons crowded into downtown Houston to see the huge Western parade with more than 13,000 participants.

Hotel Threatens Royal Privacy

LONDON (AP)—The privacy of Buckingham Palace was described Thursday as threatened by possible skyscraper snooping from a big hotel now going up on London's Park Lane.

The complaint was aired in the House of Lords during a debate on the merits of the new towers springing up in profusion over London's skyline.

Lord Brabazon of Tara singled out the new Hilton Hotel as a "grave disfigurement." He said, "I think when you look down from the 27th story you will be looking very intimately down into the backyard of Buckingham Palace."

Government spokesman Earl Jellicoe said the trend toward high buildings in London and other crowded British cities is inevitable, but that some control must be exercised on aesthetic and similar grounds.

Judges checked 130 Santa Gertrudis, Brangus and red poll cattle, starting two hours before the parade was over. The grand championships were shared by Texas and Arkansas exhibitors.

Smoke Signal 272-9, the grand champion Santa Gertrudis bull, was entered by the R. E. Smith Ranches of Houston, Winrock Farms at Morrilton, Ark., had the champion female, WR Miss Bodigo 1305.

The champion Brangus bull, OCR Getz 502, belongs to Clear Creek Ranch of Stuttgart, Ark. Willow Springs Ranch at Burton had the champion female, WSR Alicia S-2.

The grand champion red poll bull is 3B Prims Bud, owned by R. A. and Franklin Fuchs of Brenham, Lucy, the champion female, was shown by J. C. and Lester Fuchs of Burton.

Aubrey Head of Snyder showed the champion ram and Mrs. John Burleson, also of Snyder, the champion ewe in the judging of Montadale sheep.

Clinton Hodges of Sterling City swept honors in the Rambouillet show. His entries took both championships and both ribbons, just as they did a year ago.

In Hampshire sheep judging, Glenn Armentrout & Sons, of Newborne, Mo., had the champion ram, and the champion and reserve champion ewe.

In an auction sale sponsored by the Houston Hereford Club, 40 animals sold for a total of $22,765. The 23 bulls went for $11,795 and 17 females sold for $10,970.

The top bull was JH Zato H-113, purchased for $1,550 by Pat Rutherford of Buda while Hull-Dobbs Ranches of Fort Worth, Charles Morrison of Austin paid $1,500 for the top female, Miss Husker Silver 451, owned by Jack Turner & Sons of Fort Worth.

Brake Rockets Gave Glenn A Backward Feeling

NEW YORK (AP)—Motion pictures taken inside Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s space capsule showed that the force of the retro-rocket braking as he re-entered the atmosphere caused him to close his eyes.

This was the point at which he said:

"It felt like it was going to send me clear back to Hawaii."

The rest of the film shows him glancing left and right, looking at various instruments, or out a porthole, without apparent discomfort.

The automatically operated camera took the pictures in 16 mm color to show Glenn's facial reactions during his triple orbit of the earth Tuesday.

The camera clicked at a much slower rate, however, than the 32 frames a second in the average movie.

Glenn's reaction was but temporary and his eyes soon were wide open and observant again.

The camera was fixed so that it showed Glenn from the top of his helmet to the lower part of his chest.

A mirror about six inches in diameter was attached to his space suit, about six inches below his chin, and reflected readings on the instrument panel in front of him.

DEAR ABBY

She Faces
Long Wait

DEAR ABBY: I have a 24-year-old daughter who is so good-looking people are always asking her how come she isn't in pictures or on television. She is going with a man of a different religion. He told her that as long as his mother is alive she shouldn't expect marriage. The dummy says she is satisfied to wait. How can a mother convince her daughter she is throwing her life away? She won't listen to me.

MOTHER OF A SAPP

DEAR MOTHER: She won't listen to me, either. Pray that she'll smarten up one of these days and realize that she has agreed to the longest wait in the world. It may not be forever, but it will seem like it.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what a wife should do when her husband rolls over, hugs, kisses her and calls her by another woman's name in his sleep. My husband did this and when I asked him about it he said he can't help what he dreams. I say a person dreams about what he has done. Am I wrong or not?

DEAR FORTY: There is no telling what a person "dreams about." It can be something he has done, something he wishes to do, something he has never done or something he would never do. Don't hold a man responsible for what he dreams if he behaves himself when he's awake.

DEAR ABBY: I have looked everywhere for the answer to this question, but have yet to find it. My husband does a lot of public speaking and I am usually seated with him at the speakers' table. Should I applaud when he is introduced and when he has finished speaking? I am very proud of him and would like very much to applaud, but I have watched the wives of governors and city officials sit in stony silence while the audience applauded their husbands. Which is "correct"?

PROUD WIFE
DEAR PROUD: Applaud. Don't worry about what others think. It's better to show honest pride than hypocritical humility.

DEAR ABBY: I read somewhere that you were 43 years old. So how come you use your high school graduation picture with column? I think you're trying to mislead your public. WILFRED
DEAR WILFRED: My picture is comparatively recent, and I think you're a living doll.

THE STORY OF REDEMPTION

BOB REYNOLDS

The story of redemption is the most beautiful story in the world. It is beautiful for the child of God because he is a part of it. It can become beautiful for the sinner if he will let it touch his heart.

The story begins with the creation. In the beginning God and man were very close. In fact, out of all of God's creation he chose men to be in his image and to have dominion over the earth (Gen. 1:26-27).

He placed Adam and Eve in the glorious garden of Eden that they might have it for a home (Gen. 2:15). He gave them the right to partake of the fruit of every tree in the garden except one—the tree of the knowledge of good and evil (Gen. 2:16-17).

Notwithstanding the goodness of God, man was tempted of the devil and did eat the forbidden fruit (Gen. 3:6). By committing this one act, in direct disobedience to God, man placed a great gulf between God and himself (Gen. 3:22-24).

This was done as a consequence of sin (Rom. 6:23). Sin always results in a separation from God (Isa. 59:1-2).

It has never been possible for man to atone (make amends) for his own sins. Since man could not atone for his own sins God provided an atonement for him. Because he loved us (John 3:16), he, through grace (Eph. 2:8), made it possible for us to have our sins forgiven.

Because it is a law of God the atonement for sins had to be a blood offering (Heb. 9:22). God sent his only begotten Son to offer his blood for us. He did this for man: a creature that is in rebellion toward him; that is continually disobedient; that can never be worthy of this matchless gift (Rom. 5:6-8).

Christ died for every man (Heb. 2:9), hence, every man has been redeemed by God. This does not mean, however, that all men are automatically saved. To be saved man must accept the sin offering.

How does man accept the offering? As grace and love are God's part in the redemption story, man also has a part. Man is to have faith, or to believe (Acts 16:31; Heb. 11:6), and is to render obedience to the Lord (Heb. 5:9). Hence, man's part is to obey the commandments of God by faith.

Are you part of the redemption story? If you are not, it's not God's fault because he has done his part. Won't you do yours?

A Devotional For Today

Where there is neither Greek nor Jew . . . Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all. (Colossians 3:11.)
PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we are grateful that Thou hast made us all of one blood. However different we are in color or class, or nationality, deep inside we are all one. Deepen, Lord, our sense of Thy fatherhood so that our brotherhood may grow. In Christ's name. Amen.

Still In The Balance

While the Punta del Este conference produced some hopeful results, it would be a mistake to assume that the problems of our relations with Latin America are even close to being solved.

A number of astute observers seem to arrive at a common, basic conclusion: The fate of Latin America, politically speaking, is still in the balance.

The big difference now is that there are some hopeful signs that the scales may be tipped in our favor.

Understanding of the problem is the first step toward a tedious but perhaps an ultimately satisfactory solution. First of all, Latin America cannot be considered always as a bloc, for cultures, aspirations and attitudes vary from country to country. So while there is a multi-lateral general situation, the attack often will have to be unilateral.

It is well also to realize that the Communists whether dominated by Castro's brand or direct from Russia, have wormed their way into key places of responsibility. With the exception of one, every student federation appears to be Communist controlled. Nearly all the labor federations also have a decided red tinge in leadership. By no means all students or all laborers are Communist, but the Reds have been aggressive in grabbing places of influence.

Added to this is the fact that the lot of the average citizen indeed is sorry by any standards. He is an easy target for anyone promising reforms.

The Alliance for Progress offers a starting point of reform without communism. Several observers, however, feel that the answer rests not alone with the United States but with the countries themselves. Until they demonstrate a disposition to seek immunity from the export of Castroism, they cannot attract the private capital they must have. On the contrary, some of their own desperately needed capital is flowing out in the face of this instability.

Thus, by exposing Castroism, by opening the way for economic, arms and other embargoes, the Punta del Este conference has provided a ray of hope that communism may be constricted until Latin American people have a chance to work out their destinies in their own way. The next two or three years will be crucial ones in determining whether we can hope for genuine solidarity with the southern hemisphere.

It's Costing Us

There is no pleasure in recalling a prediction that our fire insurance credit would be reduced if fire losses kept mounting. The State Insurance Commission has dropped our 20 per cent credit to 15 per cent, and this means that the home owner with a $10,000 policy will pay about $5 more in premium this year.

The average five-year loss on which our 20 per cent credit had been based was $72,875. Consider the record of the past two years with an average loss of nearly $130,000, and you can forecast that more penalty is to come unless we have some mighty exemplary lack of losses.

Another factor contributing to the pen-ality, proving that you can be penalized for lack of protection as well as for loss, is a sub-standard manning table for the fire department, lack of certain equipment, lack of ample water (due to insufficient sized water mains) in certain localities. Projects under the Master Plan will in time help solve some of these penalizing shortages.

Of course, this will cost money. What we can do through day-by-day sound fire prevention measures is to see that it doesn't cost us any more than that, or that perhaps we might get some of it back through greater credits.

Glenn Has The Real World's Record

WASHINGTON — When a world's record is established in any branch of sports or science, the rule is that respected judges shall witness the event, that it shall be open to the public, and that the evidence shall be available instantly to everybody who watches.

Under these circumstances, it now can be convincingly stated that Lt. Col. John H. Glenn has established a world's record in flying three times around the globe in less than five hours.

AS IN THE CASE of many unrecognized attempts at records of various kinds, the two Soviet fliers — Gagarin and Titov — have claimed that they, too, flew around the earth. But there still is no official proof, no witnesses other than those designated by the Soviet Government, no observation by any foreign scientist or by any member of the foreign press. This is why doubt was cast on the Soviet effort as being a possible hoax motivated by the knowledge that the United States would shortly put a man in orbit.

Officials of the United States government have been given reports from Russia that the two Soviet fliers did circle the globe, but the international agency in Paris which is supposed to receive the scientific proof of the event hasn't gotten the details even at this late date.

IN CONTRAST, the United States invited Russian news correspondents to witness the launching of the flight by Colonel Glenn. In fact, the entire nation saw by television the launching at Cape Canaveral and followed the progress of the astronaut for several hours.

Everything that the Russians released for publication on the Titov flight — including the photographs allegedly taken from the space ship — could have been simulated. In contrast, it will be noted that communication was maintained with Colonel Glenn continuously, and that at one time he referred to the lights that had been specially turned on as he passed over Australia and for which he expressed appreciation by radio.

THE TRACKING stations recorded Colonel Glenn's voice broadcasts, and the whole world now has a taped record of the flight minute by minute.

Unquestionably, the achievement by Colonel Glenn not only makes the American people happy but it gives a thrill to everybody in this free world. For the episode emphasizes the difference between an open and a closed society — a comparison of the behavior of a nation which has nothing to hide with one which feels it necessary to maintain the strictest secrecy.

EVEN THE MANY postponements and delays at Cape Canaveral were not suppressed, whereas Russia's failures were never publicized. In an open society there is no choice. Credibility cannot be established unless everything is revealed — the defeats as well as the victories. Certainly America's prestige abroad has been enhanced by the way the Glenn flight was handled.

President Kennedy expressed eloquently the pride of the nation in Colonel Glenn's successful venture into space and the feeling of universal satisfaction over his safe return. The President commended all who participated in every phase of the project. Indeed, their work in the many years and months of preparation will probably never get the attention it deserves. For the effort to put a man in space didn't start just a few months ago. It was under way long before Major Gagarin claimed to be the first man in orbit in April 1961 — just three months after the Kennedy administration took over from the preceding administration.

TODAY, America has more satellites and other objects than Russia has circling the earth and they are furnishing important data of a scientific nature. The whole space problem has been approached from the standpoint of an advance in the field of science rather than as a stunt.

Many persons, however, have been asking: "What is the purpose of these flights and what practical return is there to the people who have been requested to put up billions of dollars of tax money over the years for that purpose?" That question will be given many an answer on the scientific side, but it will be a long time before the present generation of Americans gets the full benefit of the investment in space flights.

ONE SATELLITE, however, is soon to make it possible for television waves to be relayed around the earth. This will benefit viewers everywhere. But aside from the scientific gains, it is apparent that the flight by Colonel Glenn has stressed once more that the earth is a relatively small object in the planetary system. Yet the people on the same globe are torn by disunity as they worry about the possibility of destruction by a nuclear war of their own making.

Nautical But Nice

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — A lad of 7 who had been reared on a boat was turned loose on Municipal Pier to try out his new bicycle.

When his father asked him how far he had gone, the nautical-minded youngster replied, "I went as far as the city head."

"What is that?" his father asked. "You know, Daddy," he replied, "the city building down on the corner with the bathrooms inside."

Demos Helped Kill Urban Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP)—His own Democrats wrecked any chance for President Kennedy to make a political issue out of the reorganization of urban affairs and housing.

The far-outnumbered Republicans in the House were against it but helped to stop it without Democratic help. They got it in abundance, particularly from Southern Democrats.

This doesn't leave Kennedy room for telling city voters in this year's congressional elections the Republicans did him in. The most he can say is that he was for it. That can't help his party much.

The Republicans' opposition was based on the argument that a new department would only make the government that much bigger and, since it would be concerned with cities, it would interfere with the rights of states to be concerned with cities.

IT BECAME clear that the bulk of Southern Democrats would oppose the measure after Kennedy announced that he would appoint Robert C. Weaver, a Negro, to his Cabinet to head the new agency if the department were created.

Right now the various government agencies dealing with housing are grouped under one main unit, the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Weaver is head of that. But both he and the HHFA lacked the prestige and influence which go with a department. The idea for creating such a department has been bouncing around for years. It has been examined inside and out by congressional committees. Kennedy recommended it last year in a message to Congress. In effect, he has said the problems of cities and their people are so big they need a department.

HE BACKED a bill to set it up. But the bill never got out of Senate and House committees to the floor of either house for a vote. The whole business began moving toward a fast climax last Jan. 24.

Two things happened that day: 1. The House Rules Committee voted against letting the bill come up on the floor. Southern Democrats and Republicans have dominated that committee, perhaps the most conservative in Congress.

Although the Democrats outnumbered the Republicans in the committee 10 to 5, the vote against the bill was 9 to 6. Four Southern Democrats joined the five Republicans in throttling the measure.

2. Kennedy decided to take a step which didn't require committee action at all. He told a news conference he was sending Congress, under his reorganization powers, a plan to set up a new housing department.

THIS MEANT the plan would go into effect in 60 days unless the House or Senate disapproved. That would require a wide, open vote on the floor so everyone could know who was for or against.

It was at this conference that he announced, in answer to a question, that he would name Weaver to head the new department. Then he played a little politics.

He blasted those five Republicans on the Rules Committee who voted against the new department bill without mentioning the fact that, being outnumbered two to one, they couldn't have done anything to block the bill unless those four Southern Democrats joined them.

As the days passed the Republicans repeated the arguments against a new department, mentioned above, and it became plain Southern Democrats were going to vote against the reorganization plan, too.

Soft Music Helps

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Absolute silence doesn't help you to work better, it's distracting. Psychiatrists have found most people's mental powers are at a peak against a background of soft music.

Crackpot Mother Has Own Ideas On Child Care

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My married daughter is under the influence of a former registered nurse who lets her own children run around half naked. Her babies are kept in the playpen—wet to their waists, barefoot, and wearing diapers only. The youngsters are always having colds and ear-aches. She fills them up with aspirin and penicillin, and the poor kids are full of medicine.

I have known some wonderful mothers who were registered nurses, and admired them, but why do we have to have crackpots like this one?—MRS. S. J.

I don't know why. It's too bad, isn't it? Frankly, I'm not used to the idea that children should be bundled up too heavily. Some people, I'm afraid, seem to have the idea that the way to keep Johnny well is to wrap him in as many clothes as he can manage.

This may do harm. Get a child all sweaty from too much clothing, and then he's going to be more sensitive to a chill from a draft. And while we can't positively prove that such chilling is harmful, my observation convinces me that it probably causes a temporary lowering of resistance.

Therefore I say that light or moderate clothing is perfectly all right for children in mild weather or in a warm house. In really hot summer, a minimum of clothing is comfortable and adequate. But in anything but hot summer weather, I certainly favor more than just a diaper—a shirt, at least. And when children are old enough to stand, I think it is better for them to wear shoes, if for no reason other than to keep them from stepping on things that might hurt them.

About letting children remain wet—sanitary nor comfortable for the child, and isn't good training for him, either.

The results of the situation you describe should be evidence enough to convince your married daughter that she should not follow this pattern with her own babies.

Frequent colds are bad enough. The ear-aches you mention are an even more dangerous sign. They mean infection—and ultimate impairment of hearing is only one of the gloomy consequences. An ear-ache in a child should never be taken lightly. The cause should be cleared up with the least delay possible.

Dosing with aspirin and penicillin is no substitute for keeping children healthy in the first place. And while we're at it, something is very wrong if this woman is getting penicillin to use so casually.

Penicillin is a marvelous drug, but there are severe dangers in its misuse. For one thing, patients must be watched for any sign of becoming sensitive to it. For another, promiscuous use of the drug permits germs to become resistant. "Staph." or staphylococcus germs that have become resistant are only one example of a danger that we must guard against, not just for our own sake but for everybody's. Correct doses used only when necessary are the only means we have of preventing germs from becoming resistant.

NOTE TO A.V.M.: These small broken veins are quite common. They are called "spider veins." They tend to come and go. The cause is not known, but there is no connection whatever with cancer. The best thing is to forget about them.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Molner's helpful booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Molner, in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Fearing What Is Not Known

One would think people no longer are superstitious. The advance of science and education has just about destroyed the old traditional superstitions—only a tiny minority of the population still is ignorant or mentally retarded enough to believe them.

Yet, man is a contrary creature. Superstition is as much a part of his nature as his inborn impulses to love, hate, build, or destroy. Modern man has his own superstitions, and they take some strange forms.

ONE MUST understand the nature of superstition before an analysis is possible. And it is basically simple—superstition is one of the many forms assumed by a more basic human instinct. Superstition is an expression of fear.

But it is a special kind of fear. Other forms of the fundamental instinct include fear of heights or of falling, fear of physical injury or pain, fear of death. The list could be made endless.

But superstition is fear of the unknown. Other fears serve a useful purpose in keeping us from killing or seriously injuring ourselves. But fear of the unknown has served for nothing but evil for the human race.

PRIMITIVE MEN killed strangers not because the killers were bloodthirsty, but because the strangers represented an unknown factor—a possible danger. Thousands of innocents were hanged, burned and tortured during the Middle Ages because of a superstitious belief in witches, a fear of the unknown that eventually grew into mass panic.

Today, few people believe in spooks or witchcraft, and those few are laughed and scorned into silent obscurity. Modern Americans, like their ancestors, are essentially pragmatic. Yet, the fear of the unknown still is a part of our nature. Being an instinct, it must find expression.

ONLY THE PIONEERING elite have learned to conquer this particular fear—men like Columbus, Darwin, Freud, Edison, Admiral Rickover, Von Braun, and the latest, Col. John H. Glenn Jr. The pioneers, in fact, have so conquered fear of the unknown that the unlighted darkness fascinates them and draws them outward.

But not all of us are so fortunate or so brave. Space is an unknown quantity, the ocean depths are shrouded in mystery, the mighty atom is beyond present understanding—and all have something fearful about them. Most people dare not admit these fears, even to themselves, lest they be put down as daft or even superstitious. But the human mind has a powerful ability to rationalize, and this provides the safety valve for modern fear of the unknown.

THIS RATIONALIZED fear turns to such forms as agitation for nuclear test bans, or protest against costly space programs, or even spills over into political fields, so that some people see the Communists, not as deadly human foes, but as some sort of superhuman demons with the unknown powers of Satan.

The day after Col. Glenn's space flight, already a few people were overheard protesting the cost, futility and foolishness of space exploration. (Similar comments were made about Columbus.) Did these superstitious moderns think what Col. Glenn could have done from up there with a supply of hydrogen bombs?

That Lively Hotel In Algiers

When I read the other day that four murderous members of the Secret Army Organization had staged a two-hour reign of terror in the bar of the Aletti Hotel in Algiers, I closed my eyes and murmured, "Where else?"

THE INCIDENT was extraordinarily well reported because, at the time, 12 brave correspondents were in the bar. Where else? That's where they congregated during the African phase of World War II. That is, the Aletti bar was a home-away-from-home, or club, when correspondents weren't prowling up front in Tunisia.

What is available in the Aletti bar to slake the thirst now, deponent knoweth not. But during the winter of 1943, when the Aletti was my home-away-from-home, the bar had little to dispense except raw Algerian brandy, which sent an overseas cap shooting straight for the ceiling, or Algerian red or white wine.

OF COURSE, there was Algerian champagne at a dollar a bottle. To newcomers it always seemed a stunning bargain—until they discovered that all the bubbles disappeared by the time the first glass was poured. Its taste was that of diluted vinegar.

There must be thousands of servicemen who poured through Algiers and the Aletti during the African campaign who found themselves again in the Aletti bar when they read of the two-hour OAS rampage there.

BEFORE World War II and its takeover by the U. S. Army, the Aletti was one of Algiers' two fashionable, luxury hotels. (The St. George, where General Eisenhower and his staff were stationed, was the other.) The Aletti was designated in the Army hierarchy as a hostelry for colonels or better, with six of its rooms reserved for correspondents.

The Aletti is perched on Algiers' beautiful harbor where, in the winter of '43, one had a nightly ringside seat when the German planes came over to bomb Allied shipping in the roadstead.

DESPITE THIS distraction and the fact the hotel had lost most of its windows, particularly on the harbor side, colonels or better and correspondents fought to be assigned to the Aletti. Its chief attraction, far outweighing the bar, was the fact that for two hours daily—from 7 to 9 a.m.—it had hot water.

In a city almost without fuel, hotels or lodgings had hot water twice a week, at best. The fact that we at the Aletti could bathe daily was stupendous. Those of us lodged at the Aletti used to make it a point to be in the tub at 7 a.m. promptly. Then, when we went to the mess across the street, we handed out our respective keys so others could enjoy the luxury of a hot—well, warm—bath, too.

WITH FAST RYAL rye as my asset as eight to 10 could sneak a bath in any Aletti tub between 7 and 9 a.m.

Once, when I was in Tunisia, a fellow correspondent lodged at the Aletti tried to shoot down the chandelier in the lobby. The Army authorities took a very dim view of this, as I was to learn 48 hours later when I got back to Algiers.

I was scarcely in the hotel when the British town major, an imposing figure in charge of housing in Algiers, came to see me. Why, he asked me, had that news fellow taken violent exception to the chandelier? In view of the fact that I had been absent during this action above and beyond the call of duty, it seemed odd to put me on the witness stand.

"OBVIOUSLY, he was drunk," I said after not too much thought.

"That's the only sensible explanation I've had," the town major huffed. What the masculine correspondents had told him I never learned. But my explanation obviously satisfied the town major. Anyway, we heard no more of the incident, which became famous as "The Great Aletti Chandelier Ambuscade."

It was interesting to learn the other day that the Aletti still maintains its lively reputation.

Our Problems In The Cold War

WASHINGTON — Two important statements were made last week bearing directly on the central problem of the United States in the cold war—how to stop the indirect takeover of communism through the exploitation of poverty and the revolution of rising expectations.

One was the speech by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara in Chicago in which he discussed the steps being taken to counter Communist guerrilla action. This is the response evolved in the National Security Council to the speech of Premier Khrushchev in January of 1961 in which he stressed the prevention of a nuclear war while declaring support for "wars of liberation and popular uprisings."

McNAMARA's careful outline of the measures essential to checkmate communism in these wars of liberation, while at the same time strengthening the nuclear deterrent, got wide attention. As a statement of policy it had been reviewed both by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the White House.

The second statement, which received almost no notice at all, was a report by Sen. Mike Mansfield, majority leader of the Senate, to the Foreign Relations Committee, on Brazil and United States policy there. Mansfield was saying, in effect, that unless responsible Brazilians are willing to work for essential reforms inside their own country no amount of aid from North America will be of any avail. In fact, it may do more harm than good, since failure in the end will turn the mass of the people against the United States and condition them to accept the slogans of communism as truth.

WHAT THE SENATOR was saying about Brazil applies with equal force to other Latin-American countries giving lip service to the President's Alliance for Progress program.

While Secretary McNamara did not specify South Viet Nam, obviously that is where the military formula he discussed is currently being applied, with more than 6,000 American troops reported to be training and supporting the Vietnamese army. Very large sums of American military and economic aid have been put into South Viet Nam. Yet, as the late reporting by Homer Bigart of the New York Times has shown, there continues to be a question as to the degree of support given the regime of Ngo Dinh Diem in Saigon and, therefore, a question as to the effectiveness of the resistance to the Communist guerrillas.

WHILE SENATOR Mansfield was talking about economic aid the scope of his report was such that it might well have covered the kind of military assistance being undertaken in Viet Nam and, to a lesser degree, in Laos. Economic aid from the outside is no magic formula if the will to reform is not there. In the same sense no military formula can very well make up the difference if the will to resist is not present.

SECRETARY McNAMARA spoke of the need to simplify tactical weapons "so that they can be used and maintained by men who have never seen a machine more complicated than a well sweep." But, as Sen. Mansfield implied, what is in the minds of the men who accept American aid and American weapons—or in the minds of the men who profess to be their rulers—may in the showdown be as important as the technical skill in handling a simplified tactical weapon.

Sen. Mansfield's discussion of the realities of aid in relation to change inevitably becomes part of the debate over the aid program now beginning in Congress. Pointing out the peril of inflation in Brazil and the threat of an explosion, the Mansfield report declared:

"TO RECOGNIZE these problems is one thing; to act vigorously and effectively on the social ills and economic imbalances and inadequacies which underlay them is another. The predominant political tendency appears still to be to avoid such action and to seek a painless relief of the symptom."

In other words, the tendency is to ignore the realities and to go on hoping that just a little more aid will somehow do the trick.

No Retirement For Veteran WAC Colonel

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Little more than a week ago Lt. Col. Emily Carla Gorman was an ex-schoolmarm planning on retiring from the Women's Army Corps and going back to college. But after almost 20 years of Army life, Col. Gorman is used to changes and being a part of events in the making.

Last month she was in South Vietnam, attending a conference on U.S. military aid to that Communist-haunted country. She has attended meetings in Latin America, visited Bangkok and Tokyo. When the end of fighting in World War II came, she was an executive secretary for the Allied Control Authority—and heard the talks between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his opposites in the four-power authority, including Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

Col. Gorman was among the pioneers in today's WAC organization. She joined up in July 1942. Asked how she came to decide to abandon a teaching career and go into military service, she says she thinks it was "principally patriotic reasons, perhaps with a bit of pioneer spirit."

Col. Gorman was a teacher in upstate New York public schools, at Pulaski, Massena and Rochester for 10 years, then for two years was employed in personnel placement work and served with the Oswego, N.Y., office of Civil Defense. She has been making plans to retire from the Army and go to a school, probably here in Washington, to get a doctorate. But, unknown to her, her plans were being rewritten. The present WAC commander, Col. Mary Louise M. Rasmussen, will leave the directorship, effective Aug. 1. The Army began checking records. They pointed to Emily Gorman as the logical choice from about 50 lieutenant colonels of the corps. The director moves up to full colonel rank while in office. She had wide experience in the WACs, especially in training and personnel aspects. Among other assignments, she was chief of the WAC Training Center Administrative School at Ft. Lee, Va. She also had served with the Continental Army Com-

Hawks, Lubbock Vie Saturday

HCJC's travel-weary Jayhawks try to take another swipe at NMMI in a Western Conference basketball game with Lubbock Christian College at 8 o'clock here Saturday night.

NMMI is about the only team conceded much chance to overtake the Hawks in the championship race and the Bronchos trail the locals by two games on the all-important losing side — with five games to go.

Lubbock Christian is deep in the second division of the league but is capable of playing some fine ball. The Pioneers recently humbled the Texas Tech freshmen, 74-72. The Picadors earlier had beaten HCJC.

In conference place, Lubbock stands 4-9. Overall, the Pioneers are 9-17. They've averaged a respectable 74.9 points a game, compared to 79 for the opposition.

Top hand for the Christians is a Colorado City product named Jerry Haley, who has been averaging 19.5 points a game. Haley has hit in the 30's in several games this season. He's very dangerous any time he gets beyond midcourt.

Other Lubbock standouts include Richard Lundy, 6-3; Bob Ned Boaz, 5-8; and Cherry Eldridge, 5-7. Haley is 6-foot-2.

The Pioneers are coached by Lester Perrin.

Buddy Travis, the local coach, will probably start a lineup consisting of Ernest Turner, 6-2; Elvis Spradling, 6-4; Jerry Tillman, 6-0; Lou Baletton, 6-3; and Walter Carter, 6-6.

The Hawks recently completed a four-game road trip, three of which they won. Their only reversal was at the hands of NMMI and that by a mere point.

Within the conference tonight, Amarillo goes to Clarendon and Frank Phillips of Borger visits Odessa.

Only other game Saturday night finds Frank Phillips playing NMMI in Roswell.

The WC season extends through Tuesday, March 6, after which most of the clubs will get ready for the Region V tournament at Amarillo, down for March 8-9-10.

Midland Team Will Seek To Retain Bowling Title

A Midland team, representing radio stations KCRS, tries to defend its team championship in the annual Big Spring Women's Bowling tournament, which resumes Saturday and will be conducted Sunday evening.

The Midland club hits the marbles at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

Another champion due to be on hand Sunday is Doris French of Abilene, who topped first place in Class A singles last year. She bowls on the 12:30 p.m. shift. Doris also had the high scratch score last year.

Jo Scarborough of Midland won first place in the all-events last year. She'll see action Sunday morning, too.

Team prizes up for grabs include those offered by Cizon's Jewelers, Bowl - A - Rama and Zack's. Winners will be announced at the conclusion of play Sunday night.

Saturday's activity gets under way at 2:30 p.m., at which time competition in singles and doubles will be resumed. Team play starts at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The final shift on Sunday takes to the runways at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

All action is taking place at the Bowl - A - Rama.

June White of Big Spring was the first weekend's leader in Class A singles, with a score of 641. Jo Scarborough of Midland followed with a 629.

In team play, Luther Allied Van Lines of Odessa was out front with a 2639, followed by Dean Slaven's Letties of Midland, which posted a 2610.

In Class A doubles, the team to beat consists of Sugar Brown and Dot Hood of Big Spring, who posted a 1177. Frances Glenn and Jo Ann O'Daniel, also to Big Spring, were second, with a score of 1168.

In Class B singles, the fem pacting the field is Nell Dorman of Lubbock, who had a 625. Runner-up in that division was Frances Cook of Big Spring, with a 609.

The tandem of Lancy Whitson and Seville Sensabaugh, Midland, led in Class B doubles, with a 1166, followed by the twosome of Gena Graham and LaVerne Casey, Big Spring, who had a 1159.

Lewis Enters 11 Hawks In Meet

HCJC track coach L. L. (Red) Lewis and 11 members of his track and field team are in Denton, where they take part in a three-day meet that also includes teams from North Texas State University and Arlington State College.

The Jayhawks are down physically for this one. The club's star sprinter, Herman Robinson, isn't even making the trip due to a muscle injury.

Tommy Yarbro, a freshman from Abilene, accompanied the team, although he has leg trouble, too. He'll run in the mile relay team.

Dean Chestham, another sprinter, also has a slightly pulled leg muscle but he'll go in the sprints, the 440 relay and possibly the mile relay.

Others who will compete include Wayne Marrow, 800 and mile; Stan Overby and Larry Mauldin, pole vaulters; Tommy Wise, both hurdles; Kenneth Windham, high jump and broad jump; Kenny Kersterson, sprinter; Leroy Smith, mile; and Gary Walker, discus.

Next week, the Jayhawks take part in the Border Olympics at Laredo.

Forsan Fems Host Longhorn Club

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffalo Queens, marking time for their bi-district game with Mertzon, clash with the Loop Longhorns in a basketball game here at 8 o'clock tonight.

Like Forsan, Loop is a district titlist.

The Buffalo Queens will carry a 17-7 won-loss record onto the floor tonight. In District 82-B, they have seven of eight starts.

Starting at forwards for Forsan probably will be Betty Queen, Bonnie Simpson and Jan Stockton or Joyce Shouls at forwards and Carla Jo Hughes, Darla Dunagan and Lanell Overton in the backcourts.

Sterling To Play Fort Davis Club

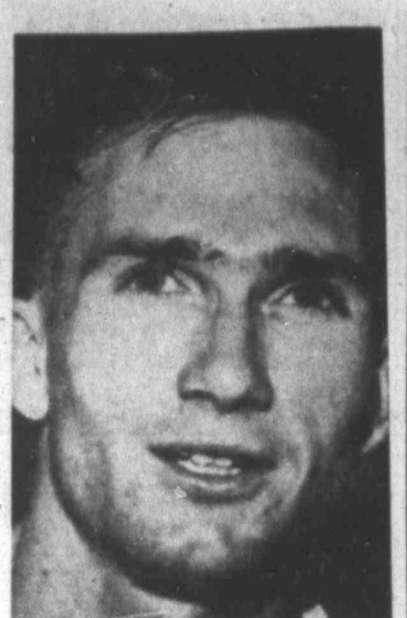

ODESSA — Favored Aspermont has drawn Canutillo in the first round of the Class B regional tournament to be conducted here Saturday.

Aspermont will oppose the far West Texans at 11:15 a.m. at Odessa College Gym. Sterling City plays Fort Davis at 9:45 in the other contest. Aspermont has lost but once this year, to AAA champion Seminole.

Third place game will begin at 7 p.m. with the finals down at 8:45. Winner of the tourney qualifies for the state meet in Austin next weekend.

Eleven Tournament Teams Still Alive

By The Associated Press

Eleven teams that played in the state schoolboy basketball tournament last year are in the field going after the 24 places in regional playoffs Friday and Saturday.

Class AAAA has none but Class AAA has three that made the tournament last year, including South San Antonio, the defending state champion. The others are Clear Creek and Dumas.

Class AA comes up with two—Buna, the 1961 champion, and Dimmitt.

James Bowie, the defending champion, Brownboro and White Deer are still in the fight for Class AA berths.

Three Class B teams that made the big tournament last year are bidding to return. They are Aspermont, Blanket and Santa Rosa.

Eight teams contest for the four spots in Class AAAA. Friday night Dallas Jefferson and Tyler Lee clash at Dallas while Houston Jeff Davis and Baytown tangle at Houston. Saturday Odessa and Lubbock Monterey play at Lubbock while Bryan challenges San Antonio Edison at Austin.

In Class AAA, four teams are in a tournament at Lubbock to determine one spot in the state meet. They are Dumas, Sweetwater, Graham and Seminole. The other three places will come from clashes of Richardson with Waxahachie at Dallas and South San Antonio and Kingsville at Corpus Christi Friday night, and Silsbee vs. Clear Creek at Houston Saturday night.

Class AA will decide its four in these regional tournaments: At Lubbock: Dimmitt, Perryton, Fort Stockton, Dublin; at Denton: Jacksboro, Linden, Kil-dare, Cooper, Canton; at College Station: Madisonville, Rockdale, Buna, Lampasas; at Victoria: West Columbia, Floresville, Devine, Donna.

Class A also will determine its four teams in regional tournaments. The contenders: At Lubbock: Seagraves, Ozona, White Deer, Farwell; at Denton: Munday, James Bowie, Honey Grove, Clyde; at College Station: Canyon of New Braunfels, West Sabine, Groesbeck, Brownboro; at Victoria: Barbers Hill, Three Rivers, Hitchcock, Woodboro.

Class B is the only division sending eight teams to the state tournament. It will decide its eight through these regional tournaments: At Canyon: Briscoe, Booker, Pep, Mangel, Flower Grove, Quitaque, Roosevelt, Adrian. At Brownwood: Hawley, Talpa-Centennial, Blanket, Blum, Milam, Priddy, Desdemona, Valley Mills.

At Kilgore: Crandall, Redwater, Alba-Golden, Cayuga, Carlisle, Spring Hill, Broadus, Huntington. At Brenham: Snook, Round Top, Carnine, Spurger, New Caney, Danbury.

At San Marcos: Kule, Pflugerville, Lometa, Rockspurs. At Kingsville: La Verne, Bracketville, Austwell - Tivoli, Santa Rosa.

At Odessa: Aspermont, Sterling City, Fort Davis, Canutillo.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Big Walter Carter and the HCJC Jayhawks are on the verge of climbing Mount Everest.

The all-star scoring records of the school few thought would ever fall are in sight of the big freshman from Gate City, Va., and his teammates.

The soft-spoken giant now has 639 points. The all-time HCJC record for points tallied by an individual is the 719 achieved 57 Bob (Dallas) Williams of the great 1952-53 team. That means Walter needs at least 81 points in the remaining games to shatter the mark.

The Hawks in 1952-53 played an incredible 40 games, which means that Williams averaged 18 points a game.

Carter, the young man every school in the country might be seeking before he's through here, has averaged 23.7 points a game. He's been limited to less than ten points only twice this season, has tossed in 40 points on two occasions. He's been in the double figures in 18 straight games.

Quite probably, the Hawks will play less than 40 games, unless they can breeze through the Regional Tournament at Amarillo and go all the way to the finals in the Nationals.

The current Hawks are averaging 79.1 points a game, whereas the 1952-53 Hawks finished with a record of 78.9 points a start. The 1952-53 club scored a total of 3,154 points, whereas this year's team already has 2,128.

Other starting members of that great 1952-53 HC club, listed with the points each scored in parentheses, included: Casey Jones (384—a record for a player who didn't win the season's scoring title); Charles Warren (331); Bobby Maines (493) and Richard (Ricketts) Gilmore (340). Don Stevens, now a coach here, also clocked a lot of playing time and wound up with 248 points.

Maines missed one game due to an injury that year, otherwise he would have gone over the 500-mark easily.

Williams set another team record by hitting 214 free pitches that year. Carter already has 189, is almost sure to break that record, too.

Midland is bidding for the 1964 Texas Women's Bowling Association tournament, which usually starts in February and continues through the middle of April.

Tyler is hosting this year's meet and it is attracting at least three local teams and 17 Big Spring keglers. The Bowl-A-Rama, Cecil Cooley's Shamrock and E. C. Smith's Construction Company will be the Big Spring teams playing in the meet.

The wife of Col. Helen Stogner, assistant military attache for the U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville, says she will continue with the operation of the Stogner's thoroughbred farm at Sunland Park, N.M., despite the death of the colonel last week. He was gunned to death by an unknown assailant.

The Stogners purchased a 15-acre farm in Sunland Park eight months ago for the purpose of raising thoroughbreds, which was to serve as a start for their racing stable.

Mrs. Stogner and her six children presently reside at the farm on Gibson-Veek Road. The day before the colonel died, the Stogner's broodmare, You, dropped a bay filly by Social Hour at Twin Farms.

Mrs. Stogner said: "I know Helen would want me to continue with the farm and the horses. He was so proud of our fine start."

The horse owned by Big Spring's Bud Tucker, Apparent, led for a while in the Springtime Handicap at Sunland last week but faded and finished out of the money.

Frank Sumrall's Worridan won the event by half a length over Prince Pupule while Cabin Fleur was third.

Local Sextets Win In Meet

Both Big Spring teams won in first round of the 17th annual Big Spring Invitational Girls' Volleyball tournament, which got under way in Steer Gym Thursday morning.

The big meet, which attracted 22 teams from all over West Texas, will be concluded with a championship game at 8 o'clock on Saturday night.

At that time, trophies will go to the top four teams. In addition, individual prizes will go to the top spiker and outstanding set-up, along with six members of the all-star squad.

The Big Spring A team flattened Colorado City, 36-11, in its first start Thursday. The Big Spring B team took the cue and won over the Sweetwater regulars, 34-17.

Later, the local A team ousted San Angelo, 67-7, to advance to the quarterfinals. The Steerettes were joined there by Fort Stockton, which lashed Phillips, 21-18.

In other first round games, San Angelo beat Big Spring Runnels Junior High, 34-22; Lamesa A turned back Abilene, 28-16; Phillips kayoed Big Lake, 35-11; Imperial fashioned a 25-15 success at the expense of Pampa; Fort Stockton downed Odessa, 47-12; Denver City trounced Abilene Cooper, 47-4; and Andrews ousted Lamesa B, 38-14.

The Big Spring A team and Lamesa A square away at 7 o'clock tonight while Big Spring B opposes Denver City at 2 p.m. If the A squad wins, it will see action again at 9 a.m. Saturday. A victory by the B team would send it back to action at 7 o'clock tonight in the Goliad JH Gym.

Consolation finals take place at 6 p.m. tomorrow while the third place contest starts at 7 p.m.

First round action was to be completed this morning, at which time Snyder was booked to oppose Pecos and Crane was to vie with Monahans.

Coahoma trailed for a half but came storming back to take command in the third period.

The Bulldogs had three regulars foul out but none when it hurt. All departed in the final two minutes of play. Those fouling out were Sandra Nichols, Sandy Clanton and Jeanine Hodnett.

Coach Grady Tindol of Coahoma had particular praise for his guards, who he said did an outstanding job. Those he singled out included Shirlene Richters, Peggy Bennett, Jeanine Hodnett, Kay Porter and Caroline Wilson. Nichols tossed in 17 points, Darlene Mason nine, Clanton six and Bennett four for Coahoma.

Judy Strickland paced Wylie with 17 points, 15 of which she hit from the foul line. Wylie hit only six field goals, in all.

Wylie led at the end of the first quarter, 8-7, and at half time, 16-14, but Coahoma was in charge at the end of the third period, 28-21.

TWC's Phillips Singles Out Fuller For Success

Coach O. A. (Bum) Phillips of Texas Western College had a word of advice for departing members of the 1961 Big Spring High School football team.

"You've got to have pride in the team, if you hope to succeed. Place the success of your team above your own success, because no man is more important than the team," he said.

"You've got to work hard, for there is no easy way to succeed. And you've got to get ready to make sacrifices," Phillips stated.

"You must realize as you start practice that you should learn something every day, ending each practice a little bit better than you were the day before. Nothing but perfection should satisfy you."

The TWC mentor pointed to Leon Fuller, the Steer coaching aide, as a good example of what ambition and a desire to succeed or it can be the other way around. You have a choice.

To returning members of the team, he suggested that they "think now" if they want to win in the future.

"You've got to have pride in the team, if you hope to succeed. Place the success of your team above your own success, because no man is more important than the team," he said.

"You've got to work hard, for there is no easy way to succeed. And you've got to get ready to make sacrifices," Phillips stated.

"You must realize as you start practice that you should learn something every day, ending each practice a little bit better than you were the day before. Nothing but perfection should satisfy you."

The TWC mentor pointed to Leon Fuller, the Steer coaching aide, as a good example of what ambition and a desire to succeed will do for an individual.

He recalled that Fuller reported to the coaching staff as a 125-pounder when he (Phillips) was coach at Nederland High School and played football despite the fact that he was repeatedly told that he would never be big enough to succeed in the sport.

It was in track season that Leon showed his true mettle. Phillips said Nederland had swept to district championships in other sports and wanted the track and field title to complete the sweep.

Leon ran the "open quarter" against overwhelming odds and was defeated but came back to run a leg on the mile relay team to beat his conqueror and insure the championship for Nederland.

Fuller tried it in football at Lamar Tech for one year after leaving Nederland. Phillips recalled, but again his lack of heft was a handicap. He was recommended to Tyler Junior College where he blossomed as a fine back and finally wound up a fine career as a captain and star halfback under coach Paul Bryant at the University of Alabama.

For the entire gathering of gridgers, Phillips passed on this observation:

"Football did more for you than you can ever do for football. You learn to compete and this country was founded on competition. The dedicated football player never gives up in the face of odds. Football offers you competitive things that will help you the rest of your life."

Phillips recalled seeing the 1961 edition of the Big Spring football team when his Amarillo High club scrimmaged the Steers at Levelland before regular play got under way.

"At that time," he said, "I thought we would both have terrible seasons. Well, we did and you didn't. The desire you showed was the difference."

Phillips paid tribute to Emmett McKenzie, the Steers' head coach, for his ability to demand and get top performances out of players, recalling that Emmett guided the 1957 Nederland team to the Class AAA state championship although the club's ranks had been decimated of veterans by graduation the previous year.

McKenzie, in turn, praised the 1961 Steer team and his coaching staff. He singled out last fall's Big Spring team as "the finest club I ever had dealings with."

Coaching-aid Roy Baird was asked to introduce the cheer leaders present while assistants Don Robbins and Joe Sibley introduced the gridgers themselves.

Master of ceremonies was Elbert Boulouin. Over 200 persons, including wives of Lions' Club members and the football players' dates, attended the banquet.

Irons, Pate And Tucker Are Winners Of Football Awards

Three seniors who played leading roles in the successes of the 1961 Big Spring High School football season were awarded trophies during Thursday night's Lions Club banquet at the Settles Hotel.

They were Jack Irons, all-district linebacker, named the Scholastic Athlete of the Year; Dexter Pate, designated the outstanding lineman of the team; and Jerry Tucker, the outstanding back.

Pate, later placed on the Texas Sportswriters Association all-state team as a center, received an award furnished by radio station KBST.

The other two prizes were created by Dibrell's Sporting Goods store. All three are given annually.

The award went to Irons because he maintained the highest scholastic rating among all the football players. He is an A student.

In a surprise gesture, Pate presented Coach Emmett McKenzie with a plaque signed by all seniors on the 1961 team, which he referred to as a "token of gratitude" for the players.

The plaque was inscribed: "To Coach Emmett McKenzie, in token of appreciation from all the senior football players."

Pate referred to McKenzie as "one of the finest fellows I ever have had the privilege of knowing."

Tucker was first string quarterback on the 1961 team.

Steers Enter Track Relays

Coaches R. C. Moore and Leon Fuller of Big Spring High School are taking nine boys to the Comanche Relays at Fort Stockton Saturday.

The show opens the outdoor season for West Texas track squads and will attract a banner field. Preliminaries start at 9:30 a.m., along with some finals in the field events.

Finals in other events start at 1 p.m. The meet will end shortly after 4:30 p.m.

Big Spring's best bets for awards appear to be John (Red) Schwarzenbach in the weights and Eddie Everett in the hurdles.

Other entries in Big Spring's classification include Union of Brownfield, Roscoe, Crane, Rotan, Merkel and Eldorado.

Meet directors are Bob Carter and John May. Referee is Curtis Kelley of Big Spring.

Union Lawyers Seek Legal Backing Of Pension Claims

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Labor union leaders said today their lawyers are drafting legislation for Congress to establish a public insurance system to guarantee failing corporations make good on worker pension claims. The idea is to apply the same sort of plan that insures payment of bank deposits when banks default. The union chiefs said certain companies that have failed have wiped out the accrued pension rights of workers that are in effect savings put aside for the workers' old age.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, who initiated the plan in the AFL-CIO industrial unions department, has won backing of fellow federation chiefs to push such legislation in Congress. Reuther said that every year some firms go out of business with resulting loss of pension rights by thousands of workers. Often, he added, pension funds are insufficient to maintain benefits for workers already retired or to provide payments for those nearing retirement. The proposed legislation would require that pension trusts pay nominal fees to an insurance firm, just as the Federal Deposits Insurance Corporation requires many banks to insure deposits. Railroad union chiefs took time out from winter meetings of the AFL-CIO Executive Council to confer Thursday night with top executives of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads over labor objections to their proposed merger. Pennsy board chairman, James Symes and the NYC president, Alfred E. Perlman, said they came here to explore the unions' fears that combining the carriers would result in thousands of workers losing their jobs. Both sides said the meeting was merely an exchange of views. But the talks evidently failed to bridge the labor organizations from their opposition to the NYC-Pennsy mergers.

Berlin Practice Alert Supports Bobby's Talk

BERLIN (AP)—American troops rushed through the streets of West Berlin today in a dramatic demonstration of Robert F. Kennedy's pledge that the United States would defend this city against the Communists as it would New York or Chicago.

Kennedy reaffirmed U.S. commitments to protect the Communist-encircled city and pledged the United States to the "peaceful but persistent purpose that Germans shall once again find themselves reunited."

About 1,500 men of the 2nd Battle Group, 6th Infantry, tumbled from their bunks before dawn to take up battle positions in the American sector of the divided city. Grabbing weapons, the troops set up machine gun posts at crossroads and dug in anti-tank positions while infantry paroled the dark streets.

Before a crowd of 180,000 at West Berlin's City Hall, Kennedy declared Berlin will not be attacked because "an armed attack on West Berlin is the same thing as an armed attack on Chicago, New York, London or Paris. You are our brothers and we will stand by you."

The U.S. Army said the two-hour practice alert, over before breakfast, was designed "to evaluate the unit's ability to react to various situations" and called it routine. But it was significantly timed with the U.S. attorney general's visit here and his assurance to West Berliners that "the full strength of American power" will protect their vital links with the West against Communist encroachment.

Police estimated a half million West Berliners turned out despite cold wintry weather to cheer the attorney general. Kennedy's younger brother, Edward, also on tour, flew here to see him but was almost overlooked by the huge crowds greeting the attorney general.

Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, received a tumultuous reception as they darted around West Berlin on the first day of their visit Thursday. In speech after speech, Speaking to an overflow audience at West Berlin's Free University he drew applause when he asserted that the trend in the United States is not conservative or reactionary, but toward social welfare.

"Far from being a workers' paradise," he said, "communism has become the most effective machine ever devised for the exploration of the working classes." The attorney general also alluded to Soviet attempts to preempt space in Berlin's vital air corridors to the West.

"We have stood in the past—and we will stand in the future—for for uncontrolled access to and from Berlin," Kennedy said. "We will permit no interference with this access, as we have recently demonstrated with regard to the air corridors."

Kennedy also asserted that the United States was firmly committed to full freedom for West Berliners; continuation of West Berlin's ties with West Germany and the Free World; maintenance of Allied forces in West Berlin "as long as you desire"; and "an active and viable West Berlin."

"Berlin will not merely exist," he said. "It will grow and prosper."

Recognition Asked

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., has asked the Kennedy administration to recognize a Cuban government-in-exile. He also called for military support for the government-in-exile against Fidel Castro.

Bonds Approved

CORSICANA (AP)—Voters at Barry, a Navarro County hamlet of 225 people, have passed a $100,000 bond issue to finance a water and sewer system. The vote was 75 to 16. Barry is 10 miles west of here.

Mexican City Claims Astronaut

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Old-time residents of Guanajuato, a picturesque colonial city about 300 miles northwest of here, are laying claim to U.S. astronaut John Glenn as a native son. The Mexico City newspaper Diaro la Tarde claims the residents recall that a mining engineer named John Glenn lived in Guanajuato a little more than 40 years ago. His wife bore a son who would be about the astronaut's age. A search of city records to back up this belief hasn't produced anything, the newspaper said, but the old-timers are sticking to their claim.

Astronaut's Parents

Through a television hookup, the smiling, happy parents of John Glenn talk with their grandchildren from Washington College, New Concord, Ohio, with their son's home in Arlington, Va. It was one of the happiest moments of the day for the couple—next to learning of their son's successful space flight.

Candidates Eye Special Groups

By The Associated Press
Organized labor and the endorsement of candidates by various groups drew attention in the Texas governor's race Thursday. Utterances by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Don Yarborough, two of the six Democrats in the contest, dealt with these topics.

Gov. Price Daniel and John Connally wooed support among South Texans gathered for Laredo's Washington birthday celebration.

President J. H. West of the Texas Farm Bureau said at least five gubernatorial contenders will appear at the bureau's "measure the candidate" session next week in Dallas.

Wilson asserted that anti-trust laws should be broadened to prevent abuses by labor unions. He also said unions should be forbidden to use their funds for political purposes.

"A more vigorous enforcement of anti-trust laws on the state level is a necessity if we are to preserve American free enterprise," Wilson said.

Aides of Yarborough said the Hidalgo County chapter of the Political Association of Spanish-speaking Organizations had decided against endorsing any candidate for governor. Delegates at a recent state PASO convention endorsed Daniel. Yarborough said he viewed the Hidalgo move as grass roots support for his candidacy.

Yarborough stumped the Port Lavaca and Point Comfort areas Friday. At a non-partisan rally arranged by the American Legion at Bryan, Yarborough asserted Thursday that "Texas is tired of tired governors and weak leadership."

Connally said former Dist. Atty. Dan Walton of Houston will manage his campaign in Harris County.

Fire destroyed the Amarillo home of Roy Whittenburg, a Republican candidate for governor. He cancelled appearances at Lubbock, Abilene, Odessa and El Paso.

Jack Cox, also seeking the GOP's gubernatorial nomination, received an Americanism award Thursday night at Breckenridge, his home town, from American Legion posts.

West said invitations to the Farm Bureau's gathering Monday afternoon in Dallas had been accepted by Marshall Formby, Daniel and Wilson and both the Republican candidates for governor. He reported Connally and Edwin Walker, another Democrat in the race, said engagements elsewhere would prevent their appearance.

Candidates for lieutenant governor will go before the Farm Bureau session at noon Tuesday, West said.

State Sens. Jarrard Secrest of Temple and Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, Democrats running for lieutenant governor, were among office seekers due at the Laredo celebration Friday.

Waggoner Carr and Tom Reavley, in the Democrats' contest for attorney general, were among others getting in some campaign kicks.

Carr, the former Texas House speaker from Lubbock, opened his state headquarters in Austin with a coffee gathering Friday.

In a taped television speech Reavley again said he "will not turn from my oath taking to reach for another political office."

Kiwanians Hear SA Evangelist

Dr. Luther A. Horn, evangelist here with the Salvation Army, told the Kiwanis Club Thursday that he had long since become convinced "the more boys we have in the pew, the fewer men we will have in the pen."

Dr. Horn was presented to the club by Maj. Robert Short, commandant of the Big Spring Salvation Army citadel.

He also introduced Lester Stewart, accordionist, who is here with Dr. Horn. Stewart, blind from childhood, pleased the Kiwanians with his spirited renditions of four numbers. He also demonstrated his skill as a vocalist.

Horn, complimenting the Kiwanis Club on its work with young people, said that "progress in this world, walks on the feet of children."

He also expressed the hope that in the absorption with the space age with other of modern life problems that this land "would not permit all of the many graceful customs and gestures of the other days, when existence was not so hectic, to pass from the scene."

"I am a southerner," he asserted, "and I apologize to no one for being a southerner. And there are many pleasant practices in the South which I sincerely hope will stay with us through the ages ahead."

Talmadge Higginbotham was introduced as a new member. He formerly was associated with the Kiwanis Club of Lovington, N. M. J. C. Pickle, president of the club, called attention to the annual Pancake Supper on Friday night at the HCJC Student Union Building. He asked that as many members as possible report to the SUB at 2 p.m. Friday to assist in getting the supper preparations under way.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., urged Congress Thursday to "act now, not next year," to preserve Padre Island as a national seashore recreation area. He said passage of such a bill would benefit people all over the nation "not only for our time but for all time."

District Revenues Ahead Of Last Year

Revenues for the Colorado River Municipal Water District last month ran substantially ahead of a year ago, the January revenue statement reveals.

Virtually all the increase from $176,469 in January of 1961 to $192,380 for last month was in sale of water to oil companies for repressuring. Elsewhere, revenues were virtually the same as a year ago.

Sale of water to the member cities aggregated $110,246 as compared with $109,557. A year ago sale of water to the oil companies amounted to $45,509, but this January it jumped up to $59,730. Recreational revenues (mostly from annual lease payments on lots) stood at $22,395, slightly more than the $21,313 for January a year ago.

Operating expenses for the month amounted to $58,217, down slightly from the $160,103 of January in 1961 (principally due to a maintenance item). A total of $134,163 was left to transfer to the net revenue fund to meet debt service and special fund requirements.

Expenses for the month included $137.50 for supervision labor, $390 for operating labor, $54.19 for repairs and supplies, $381.50 for maintenance labor, $93.29 for general maintenance, $3,748.95 for well field electric power, $2,433.45 for water purchases, $376.20 for automotive expense, $26,039.29 for lake pumping expense, $21,422 for administrative and general expense, and $2,640.51 for recreational service.

Revenues were based on sale of water during December. This included 192,124,000 gallons to Odessa, 125,929,000 to Big Spring, 42,710,000 to Snyder, 145,638,000 to SACROC, 22,896,000 to Lion Oil, 34,938,000 to Sharon Ridge, 1,741,000 to Texas Gulf.

Mead, A. J. Forrester Jr., Mrs. B. E. Walker and Rita Overstreet. Mrs. C. F. Newsom of Hereford also asked to appear.

Mrs. Don Cavness, secretary to Dungan, said a group from Borger and one from Hereford also want to attend but the names were not available.

The textbook committee was granted money at the recent special session of the Legislature. It held four meetings during the special session.

When the session ended, Dungan said he would hold additional meetings if he received enough requests. The Amarillo meeting is the second. One was held in Austin several weeks ago.

PURITY OF CONDUCT IN ALL PHASES OF LIFE
Scripture—Ezekiel 30:14; Daniel 1; Matthew 5:27-30; Mark 7:14-23.

By N. SPEER JONES
THIS WEEK'S lesson, on the Seventh Commandment, points out the two-fold meaning of the Lord's law, "Thou shalt not commit adultery"—the literal and the figurative.

It might be well to begin with some definitions. In the Bible, adultery generally means the unfaithfulness of a husband or wife in sexual relationships. Fornication refers to all forms of sex relationship outside marriage. Lust, in English, originally meant any kind of strong desire, good or bad. The Biblical meaning of the word which we translate "lust" means chiefly evil and uncontrollable desire. In current usage usually lust means evil desire related to sex. The many references in the New Testament to purity in sexual relationships give indication of the growing moral

HOW TO STUDY THE BIBLE

"Study to show thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." Thus did Paul admonish Timothy, whose example serves every child of God! How people often read the scripture is pictured in the following poetical words:

Some read with design to learn to read,
But to the subject pay little heed,
Some read it as their duty once a week,
But no instruction from the Bible seek
While others read it with but little care,
With no regard to how they read or where.
Some read it as history to know years ago,
How people lived three thousand years ago.
Some read to bring themselves into repute,
By showing their ability to dispute,
While others read it because their neighbors do,
To see how long 't will take to read the volume thru.

There is much more to this poem, yet this will suffice to illustrate the levity and weakness on the part of so many, many people as they approach the Holy Bible. There are six simple questions which we ought to ask when reading any book of the Bible; we do not have to have an answer to each one, yet something known about these six will help us very often in understanding the particular book; Who wrote it? To whom? Why? When? Where? and under which dispensation? (Patriarchal, Jewish or Christian ages). The commands of the Bible are specific, they are not general to all people; Noah was to build the Ark, not a command for us. The Jews were to keep the Sabbath, not for us. The apostles were to tarry in Jerusalem, waiting for the baptism of the Holy Spirit; this was not for us. The Promises of the Bible are not general to all. For example, the promise of baptism of the Holy Spirit. Let the Bible interpret itself. Take all said on any one subject and study it carefully. Let each word have its natural, ordinary meaning, unless the context indicates otherwise. For example, John 3:5, speaking of being born of "Water and of the Spirit". Here, water means water, and not something else. To refute this, a man must confute common sense and repudiate the rightful rules of Scripture study.

DALLAS' FIRST BAPTIST

Downtown Church Grows More Robust Each Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—At a time when many downtown churches have been forced to move to new neighborhoods or the suburbs to serve the members, the First Baptist Church of Dallas becomes more robust each year.

The massive red brick church, built in 1890, occupies a block on the edge of the business district. Three buildings nearby house many of its weekday functions and recreational activities that range from hobby rooms and a library to a complete gymnasium, a 4-lane bowling alley and a skating rink. The first three floors of one building are a parking garage which members use free of charge on Sunday.

Less than 3 per cent of its 12,000 members live within a 2-mile radius of the church, the largest in the Southern Baptist Convention. Most live 15 to 20 miles away.

Last December members oversubscribed a $1,218,600 budget, called by the pastor, Dr. W. A. Criswell, "the largest of any church in the history of Christendom."

"We are not a wealthy congregation," said Dean Willis, business administrator. "About half of our members give between $50 and $300 per year. A fourth give less than $50 and a fourth more than $300. Forty-five per cent of those who made pledges said they tilted."

Although First Baptist has 12,000 members, it counts only 7,500 persons as active in its giving program. Of these 6,500 are enrolled in Sunday School.

The church places great emphasis on its Sunday School. A paid, full-time staff member supervises each age division from nursery to adult. With a few exceptions classes have 8 to 30 members.

The $1,218,600 budget provides $502,045 for denominational, benevolent and missionary programs; $501,855 for local church programs and $214,700 for building indebtedness and capital outlays.

The largest item in the local church budget is $237,565 for salaries of the ministers, staff, office and maintenance personnel, workers in the nursery for children of mothers attending services and weekday programs and a supervisor for the recreational program.

Lutherans Cancel Book On Religious Differences

By JULES LOH
NEW YORK (AP)—A few weeks ago the board of parish education of the United Lutheran Church in America abruptly canceled the impending publication of a book that had been nearly six years in preparation.

Title of the book was "The Difference." It explored themes that divide Lutherans and Catholics.

"Considerable time has elapsed since this course was first projected, and the climate has undergone a marked change in the interim," explained the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Getz of the board's editorial division.

"Recently the emphasis has been upon conversations between the two faiths," he said, "and stress is being laid upon understanding each other."

Similar manifestations of this new religious climate are occurring in every part of the nation, and it's safe to say that next week's 28th annual Brotherhood week will be observed in an atmosphere closer than ever before to that which its sponsor, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, seeks to promote.

The new climate is reflected in a series of four pamphlets the NCCJ has issued for this year's observance. Their common title is "Platform of Good Will" and they present the viewpoints of Catholic, Protestant, Jew and Eastern Orthodox.

Though they were written separately, a thread of similarity runs through all four pamphlets which further points up today's emphasis on conversation and understanding noted by Dr. Getz.

"The notable achievements in the fight against religious intolerance during this century," writes Protestant Jaroslav Pelikan, professor of ecclesiastical history at Yale Divinity School, "make it possible, perhaps for the first time, to think about going beyond mere tolerance to genuine understanding."

The Rev. Walter J. Ong, S.J., professor of English at St. Louis University, feels "the world into which we are moving is one which cannot endure unless men increase their understanding of one another," and that understanding is possible "only when there is some degree of communication between those seeking" it.

The Rev. Leonidas C. Contos, dean of the St. Sophia Greek Orthodox Cathedral in Los Angeles, says the followers of the various religions instead of talking to themselves "have begun to say some meaningful things to each other."

Dr. Bernard Mandelbaum, provost of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, also sees the need for conversation and suggests it begin by discussing similarities rather than differences. But he also says "this is not to imply that any energies needed to preserve the distinctive faiths should be diverted from that purpose."

Lutherans Slate Sunday School Program In Odessa

The Spring meeting of the Permian Basin Sunday School Association, will be held at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Odessa on Sunday, according to A. A. Graumann, superintendent of St. Paul Lutheran Sunday school. Registration will begin at 2:15 p.m. with the program activities beginning at 2:30.

"Personalizing Your Teaching" will be the general theme of the program. Fred Nelson, a public educator and member of Faith Lutheran Church, Andrews, will discuss the theme during the assembly session.

Special meetings for the nursery, kindergarten, primary, junior, intermediate, senior, youth, and adult teachers, officers and board members will be under the direction of sectional leaders. An added feature on the program will be the showing of "God and the Seven Thousand Emeralds," a mission film depicting the work in the Philippines.

"This mission activity is of special significance to us," Graumann stated, "because a former pastor-member of the Sunday School Association has recently gone to the Philippines to launch a seminary for the training of native pastors." Congregations of the area have been supporting the missionary in various phases of his work.

SHARE

*The lion that can roar the loudest and bite
the hardest usually gets what he wants.*

That's the way it is in the animal kingdom, and sometimes the system creeps into man's world too!

Most of us have too much RELIGIOUS AWARENESS to believe that such a system is the best one. We would rather live in a world in which kindness and peace and unselfishness were the rule.

Our Churches can help us build such a world. They can turn our religious awareness into SPIRITUAL GROWTH.

On Sunday morning, the man in the armchair knows just as well as the man in the pew what is wrong with the world. But the man in the pew will be busy doing something about it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake.
(2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support.
Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Kennedy And Brandt

U.S. Attorney General Robert Kennedy, left, and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt ride in an open car from West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport on Kennedy's arrival. The younger brother of President Kennedy flew to West Berlin from Rome along the 185-mile Frankfurt-Berlin corridor in a U.S. Air Force plane. Kennedy came to the divided city for a two-day visit.

Bobby Lays Wreath To Red Victims At Berlin Monument

BERLIN (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy laid a wreath to the victims of Communist tyranny at the Red Wall dividing Berlin today and received some cautious waves from East Berliners beyond the barricade. East Berliners could be seen peeking from behind curtains as the U.S. attorney general's motorcade drove up to the wall at Bernauerstrasse. Apartment houses along the East side there have been boarded up and evacuated. But houses lying a little back from the wall are still occupied and from several of their windows appeared hands, fluttering briefly before being quickly withdrawn.

Firemen May Burn Off Vacant Lots

Big Spring residents may see some vacant lots with high weeds and grass being burned off in the next few days. Several of them have already burned, causing firemen to scurry hither and yon on calls where cigarettes, children playing with matches, just plain fire-starters, and trash burning, have caused blazes. "We may have to take a truck out, set fire to some of these places when the wind isn't blowing, and get rid of some of the hazards," Fire Marshall A. D. Meador said Thursday. "There are places with high wind blowing, could almost explode over a big area and cause a lot of property damage." Meador said nine out of 10 calls during February had been to grass and brush fires but little property damage has resulted. "That doesn't mean that we won't have some damage," he said. He added that the department has given permission for a few residents to do their own burning, where the resident had water handy to prevent spreading, and where permission had been asked. There was one grass fire on a vacant lot Tuesday. Wednesday saw firemen answering calls to grass fires at a vacant lot in the 1400 block of West Third; another at 1111 E. 4th, caused by a lighted cigarette, and a brush fire catching sorghum along on the Pat Patterson ranch four miles out on the Old San Angelo highway. A big grass and brush fire started from burning trash at 602 W. 3rd Thursday afternoon was allowed to burn out with no property damage. A stack of old tires at the rear of a service station caught fire and smoke could be seen for miles, firemen said. Firemen were called to 2004 Rummels at 6:25 a.m. Friday when a cigarette caused the loss of a chair in the Bob Steward home. Slight smoke damage to the house resulted.

Rites Set For Mrs. Clark

Funeral for Mrs. Dora Mae Clark, who died at 77 in a local hospital Thursday, will be held in the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home chapel at 10 a.m. Saturday. Rev. Jack Strickland, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church, will officiate. Interment will be at 2 p.m. in the Sweetwater City Cemetery. Mrs. Clark was born Jan. 3, 1885 at Coleman. She made her home at 130 E. 41st in San Angelo for 32 years and was a member of the Methodist Church. Survivors include six sons, Roy L. Clark, Selegman, Ariz., Dick Clark, New Clark, Bo Clark, all of Odessa, Bill Clark, West Plains, Mo., Pete Clark, San Angelo; two daughters, Mrs. Frances Journell, Houston, Mrs. Mable Harmon, Big Spring; 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Tennie Mitchell, Gunter, Texas.

Lot Of Groceries For Club's Huge Pancake Supper Tonight

It takes a lot of groceries to provide a pancake supper like the one the Big Spring Kiwanis Club will serve tonight at the HJCU Student Union Building. J. C. Pickle, president of the club, with Jack Roden, co-chairman of the supper, went grocery shopping Thursday afternoon. Their job was to assemble the raw materials for the big event. And here is what they bought: 300 pounds of bacon, 300 pounds of flour, 120 gallons of milk, 18 pints of coffee cream, 24 pounds of coffee, 40 pounds of sugar, five cases of butter, 10 pounds of salt, 10 pounds of baking powder, and 60 gallons of syrup. These commodities were to be delivered at the SUB this afternoon. At 2 p.m. Kiwanians were to begin showing up at the building. Electric grills owned by the club will be put in place to supplement the equipment already in the SUB kitchen. Jasper Atkins, whose secret recipe is used annually for these pancake suppers, will supervise the mixing of the batter. How many pancakes will be cooked and served? No one will hazard a guess but all veterans of the kitchen agree that the number will be astronomical. At 5 p.m. the first of an estimated 2,000 or more hungry customers will arrive. From that hour on the Kiwanians, all 50 of them, will be up to here in pancakes, bacon, syrup, coffee, milk, and all of the other elements. No one knows exactly how many tickets have been sold in advance but it is believed there have been more disposed of this year ahead of the date than ever before. And, of course, tickets can be bought at the door. Serving will continue through 9 p.m. The theme of the supper is as always—all you can eat for the price of a ticket. If the first round of pancakes, bacon, butter, syrup and coffee is not enough, the diner is invited to make a second tour of the chow line. These annual pancake suppers have been featured by the Kiwanis for more than a decade. They have become an institution in Big Spring. Many residents proudly boast they have been present at every supper since the first. They are highly regarded by pancake gourmets who regard Atkins' recipe as the greatest. "I always go," one woman said, "wouldn't miss it for anything—I see friends I haven't had a chance to talk to for a whole year." The club devotes the profits it makes from the pancake supper to the furtherance of its youth work in Big Spring.

Forecast Predicts Winter Due Back

Big Springers accustomed in recent weeks to summer resort weather, despite the fact that it is February, may be in for a rude shakeup this weekend. The first hint developed Friday when a biting westerly wind whipped up this morning. This was sharp enough to void the bright sun which was shining and tended to thin out the throngs of window shoppers who have been in evidence earlier this week. The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast for Saturday held out no hope for anything better. The skies will become partly cloudy today, the weatherman said, and there will be some dust. There are chances of thunder-showers late today and tonight, the forecast continued. It will chill down to 33 degrees tonight and Saturday will be colder than Friday. A blizzard moving in from Canada has winterized most of the middlewest and is now creeping across Texas. Unless the weathermen can muster up some moisture before next Wednesday, the month of February is going by as a duster. Only a trace of moisture has been recorded during the entire month—up to now—and that was on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14. Only .06 of an inch fell in January. March winds are scheduled to start howling across the plowed land and if they hold true to form and no rain comes, the dust is going to be visible for miles and miles and some homes are going to be covered with dust-carpeted snow-to-wall. And, somehow or other that mythical groundhog has not come up with the kind of weather he is supposed to prophesy, but it may be coming. So far February has recorded only six days with temperatures dropping to 20 or below, and 21 was the coldest recorded on Feb. 6. On the other hand temperatures have gone into the 80s on five days. Feb. 13th saw the thermometer climb to 86. There are five days left in the month to chalk up some rain.

Hubcap Thefts Are Increasing

A new rash of hubcap thefts has broken out in Big Spring in the past few days. Police investigators made three such reports Thursday. Joe Lopez at the VA Hospital reported that three caps had been stolen from his car while parked there. Elton Kelley, R. I. called officers after four hubcaps and a tachometer were taken from his car at the Bowl-A-Rama. A. E. Suggs, of Suggs Construction Co., reported theft of hubcaps from a new car at the firm's location. Other activity reported to police included the impounding of a car blocking a driveway, investigation of a trusty escaping from a work detail at the municipal auditorium, and location of the parents of a lost girl. Mrs. Jesus Sosa, 700 NW 10th, told police that someone entered her home and took a portable TV set valued at $295. The door of the house was left unlocked.

Gas Purchase Leads To Arrest

Two men, driving a red 1960 model car, stopped at the Gibbs Service Station at Fourth and Birwell at 1:47 a.m. and had the gasoline tank filled. At 2:30 a.m. they were in custody of Colorado City police. The car was stolen and they left the Gibbs station without paying a $6.40 gas bill. The service station attendant, who called police, gave a description of the car and the license number. A check showed it was stolen in Snyder. Big Spring police notified Colorado City police who arrested the two occupants of the car. James Albert Lee and Earl Morgan Barker were held in the Colorado City jail on a charge of car theft filed in Snyder.

Pioneer Reports Customer Gains

Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Big Spring, gained 432 new customers during 1961, giving the firm a rate gain almost twice that for the nation. At the end of December, 1961 the company had 10,162 customers, a 4.4 per cent increase over the 9,730 of the year before. The national gain was 2.8 per cent, according to statistics of the American Gas Association. Included in the local figure is the city of Big Spring, Coahoma, Sand Springs, Forsan and the surrounding area, Champ Rainwater, manager for Pioneer, said. Throughout the nation gas utility sales rose 5.2 per cent during 1961. There were 34.5 million customers using 113 million gas appliances, a gain of 900,000 customers and four million appliances.

Nesbitt Files Release Petition

James Nesbitt, who alleges he is held in jail by Sheriff Miller Harris, has filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the 118th District Court. Nesbitt's petition says that he is charged with burglary and that he had not been taken before a magistrate and that no bond has been set in his case and he claims he is entitled to these privileges. He likewise contends it is "highly unlikely that the allegations against him will be presented to a grand jury." Judge Ralph Caton has set the matter down for hearing on Feb. 26 at 4:30 p.m.

Marilyn Hasn't Given Up Yet

By JACK RUTLEDGE
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Marilyn Monroe, a three-time loser in the field of matrimony, says she hasn't given up trying.

"I'm keeping my eyes open," the movie star told a packed news conference Thursday.

The actress, here on vacation, said she was happy that her latest ex-spouse, Arthur Miller, Pulitzer prize-winning playwright, had remarried.

"I learned a lot from him and I'm glad," she said. "I wish him the best," she said. "I wish him the best," she said. "I wish him the best," she said.

Asked about recurring rumors that she might rewed Joe DiMaggio, all-time baseball great, whom she saw this week in Florida, Miss Monroe shook her head.

"We tried that once," she said. She commented that even though her three previous marriages had failed, "I haven't given up."

Asked if she had anyone in mind, she merely said "I'm keeping my eyes open."

"Which of your marriages were the happiest?" one reporter asked.

"The last two," she said.

So, Who's Got A Red Face Now?

TURNERS FALLS, Mass. (AP)—Hard-boiled? Perhaps young America isn't quite what some dramatists have pictured it.

When principal George F. Wrightson permitted the "twist" at a Turners Falls High School dance, the school newspaper said the student body had "received one of the greatest compliments ever given to it by an adult."

The page one editorial said: "The 'twist' is a dance that has caused much controversy, and we must realize that it was no small thing for Mr. Wrightson to allow us to do this dance."

"It showed trust, understanding and a type of pride on his part. The student body thanks him for this honor showed us."

TV Rightist Show Flunks

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"CBS Reports" in its 60 minute look at the growing conservative movement in this country, Thursday night handled a hot, controversial subject with kids gloves, and the result, unfortunately, was a bland, inconclusive program.

It concentrated on some of the well publicized organizations and individuals included in the phrase "right-wing." Robert Welch of the John Birch Society was shown angrily refusing to be interviewed. A group of Missouri "Minutemen" were seen on a practice guerrilla patrol, looking for Soviet boats on the Mississippi River. Dr. Fred Schwarz of the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade was pictured lecturing on the dangers of communism and selling his literature to an audience of old folks.

2 TV Actors Are Injured

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dan Blocker, 33, "Hoss" of the Bonanza series, and his TV brother, Pernell Roberts, 32, who plays Adam, were injured during the sequence filming Thursday at Iverson's Ranch in the San Fernando Valley.

An NBC spokesman said Roberts' mount fell and Blocker's went over him. Both men were taken to Northridge Emergency Hospital and then transferred to the care of a bone specialist, Dr. Jack Moshein, who said Blocker suffered a fractured left collar bone and Roberts sprains of neck muscles. Blocker will be in a cast for four weeks, the physician said.

Leaves Hospital

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles, 13, heir apparent to the British throne, was discharged today from a hospital where he underwent an appendix operation last week.

Anti-Communism Show Offered On TV Tonight

What has been described as a more favorable public response than any program it had ever broadcast. So much public interest was aroused that a second showing is planned.

It is a three-hour program called "Hollywood's Answer to Communism," and will be presented over KMD-TV (Channel 2) from 6:30 to 9:30.

Pioneer Natural Gas, with Midland banks, is the sponsor. The same company presented the anti-communism program over an Amrillo station recently, and the station reported that it engendered
