

Panel Urges Rail Unions To Help In Streamlining

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential commission recommended today that labor unions give the nation's railroads broad leeway to streamline operations and eliminate thousands of jobs found unnecessary to run the trains.

The commission, reporting to President Kennedy conclusions of an exhaustive year-long study, said however the carriers would have to be prepared to ease the blow on displaced workers by providing them with partial pay for periods up to three years as well as schooling for their jobs.

greater savings than will be immediately possible. The rail industry quickly accepted the recommendations but the unions flatly rejected them.

The Association of American Railroads, speaking for the industry, said the commission findings represent "an important contribution to the welfare of the country" and when made effective should stabilize employment and enable the carriers to improve service.

labor-practices and launching of a new rail program.

MAIN POINTS
These are the principal recommendations:
Abolish firemen gradually beginning next July 1 from all freight and yard service locomotive crews. This alone would wipe out some 35,000 jobs within a decade—at eventual savings the carriers have estimated at $250 million a year.

useful function aboard the present oil-burning diesel engines.

NO NEW FIREMEN
However, the Canadian change-over provided that no currently employed fireman would lose his job. It simply required no new firemen would be hired. The Rirkind commission said this attrition plan would work too slowly in this country.

WORK HOURS
Shorten work hours for many workers. The commission found some employes work only four hours for a day's pay, others as much as 15 hours. It said a present 16-hour limit on a work day should be quickly reduced to 14 and eventually to 12.

DEAR ABBY

No Girl In This Port

DEAR ABBY: I am a sailor in the U. S. Navy. Recently I made plans to marry a 16-year-old girl from my home town. In order to get enough money to get married on, I re-enlisted in the Navy for six years. I got a $400 bonus.

When I went home to get married, my girl's father ran me out of the house and refused to let his daughter marry me. She's not old enough to marry without his consent. Now I'm in the Navy for six more years and can't get out. What should I do?

FLEET POST OFFICE
DEAR FLEET: It looks like you are stuck with a six-year hitch and $400. Make the best of it, Mac, and see the world.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died suddenly last November. At a Christmas party I renewed acquaintance with a man I had known for many years. On New Year's Eve he asked me to marry him. My teen-aged daughter became very upset when I told her, and said that out of respect to her I should wait at least one year. When I told this man I wanted to wait, he cooled off and started seeing another woman in town. The talk around town is that he may marry her. I think I passed up a good thing and would like to have another chance with this "...And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." — Acts of Apostles 2:47.

Notice how many important truths about THE CHURCH are revealed in this short Scripture:
1. The church did exist in the first century, which was a long time before there were denominations.
2. There was only one church. Otherwise it would have been confusing to write of THE church without designating which one.
3. No one can be saved outside the church, for we are told the Lord adds to the church such as should be saved (not just a part of them). If one is not added, it is because he should not be saved.
4. The church is not a sect or denomination, because it contains all the saved; not just a section of them.
5. Man does not join the Lord's church; God adds him to it. A knowledge of this fact will help one identify the true church in our day.

The people worshipping at 3900 West Highway 80 propose to be only a congregation of THE CHURCH, and not a sect, or denomination. Who can deny that they are just that? Biblical history shows that such a church came into existence. Who can show that it has become extinct?
These people have joined nothing. They seek no joiners. Their effort is to get people to obey the gospel and be saved so that the Lord will add them to the church. Is this sectarian?
Now in progress: Wednesday night lecture series. Speaker this evening, 7:30 p.m., Durward Boggs, from 37th St. Church, Snyder, Texas. Subject, "Jesus, A Man Approved of God."
You are always welcome at the church of Christ, 3900 West Highway 80, 7:30 p.m. Tuesday (next) preaching mission (in May 19), Box 138, adv.

SPACE NEWS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two proposals to give astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. the Medal of Honor have been introduced in Congress.

One bill, introduced by Rep. Frank Chelf, D-Ky., would authorize presentation of the medals to all seven astronauts assigned to the Project Mercury man-in-space program.

bonuses of two years salary for each of the astronauts and of $5,000 to "each scientist, physicist, mathematician, engineer and technician and other persons materially and actively engaged in Project Mercury."

The other proposal by Sen. Olin D. Johnston, D-S.C., would authorize the Medal of Honor for Glenn alone.

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is still a phenomenal demand for the four-cent stamp commemorating the space flight of John H. Glenn Jr., the Post Office Department reports.

To meet the requests of collectors, the first-day cover issue has been increased from 1 million to 1.6 million.

BOSTON (AP)—Recruiting of scientists and engineers for the nation's man-on-the-moon project has opened in Boston. Space officials said Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s orbital flight gave a big boost to the drive to enlist top brains in the U.S. push to outer space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration began a week-long series of interviews with scientists and engineers. After this week, NASA's recruiting team of 30 scientists will hold separate interviews in many New England cities.

Nationally, NASA is seeking upwards of 2,500 persons holding engineering and science degrees for the Apollo moon project.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's seven astronauts wear civilian clothes to underscore the civilian nature of the U.S. space program.

The appearance Monday of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. and five of his fellow astronauts in civilian clothes caused some comment among spectators viewing ceremonies honoring Glenn's three orbits around the earth.

NEW YORK (AP)—The package of gratitude this city will present John H. Glenn Jr. and his six fellow astronauts Thursday will include ticker tape, fireboat salutes and thousands of holidaying school kids.

These, plus the formal welcomes of city fathers and the cheers of the city's millions, may add up to the greatest celebration of its type ever staged here, city officials said.

Lt. Col. Glenn, the Marine who became the nation's first astronaut to orbit the globe, will be accompanied by his family—as will the six other American spacemen.

A Long Wait

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—James Johnson, 71, was granted a divorce Tuesday on ground of desertion. The petitioner said his wife left him more than 50 years ago and never came back.

Sky's The Limit As N. Y. Plans To Welcome Glenn

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a real American hero to make New York turn handsprings in the way of a celebration. But that's just what it will have Thursday—Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. and his fellow astronauts—and that's why the sky will be the limit.

Gotham is preparing for one of its biggest blasts of all times, weather permitting.

As the New York Times put it, "a reception fit for a king is being planned by the city for Glenn, America's first flesh-and-blood Buck Rogers, and his six fellow astronauts."

Police said they couldn't estimate how many of the city's eight million residents would turn out but that they were expecting something close to a record demonstration if the weather is fair.

In any case, Glenn and colleagues will get the royal treatment. There'll be the traditional ticker tape parade from the Battery to City Hall for formal greetings from Mayor Robert F. Wagner and others. Afterward there will be a procession to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for a luncheon and other festivities.

For the occasion, Lower Broadway's name will be changed to "Astronauts Way."

Schools located along the honored party's route from La Guardia Airport to lower Manhattan will permit teachers to take pupils out to see the motorcade go by.

In other schools, students by the thousands will watch the day's activities on television or keep up with them by radio.

At City Hall, Wagner will read a proclamation designating Feb. 20—the day Glenn orbited the earth three times—as "Astronaut Day in New York City" as long as there is a New York City.

Through the years, beginning before the turn of the century, New York has staged the greatest celebrations ever seen in modern times.

Honorees have been kings and queens, English Channel swimmers, round-the-world fliers, sport champions and practically anyone who has captured the public fancy.

One of the earliest demonstrations of tremendous proportions was the reception accorded Adm. George Dewey, the "Hero of Manila" in 1899.

The late Mayor James Walker and his "official greeter," Grover Whalen, made heroic welcomes a trademark in the Twenties.

Among the most fantastic displays ever put on by New Yorkers were those in honor of Charles A. Lindbergh for his 1927 solo flight across the Atlantic, and grown in population by the time Eisenhower and MacArthur received their tributes.

Eisenhower, the World War II hero, came to New York on June 19, 1945, and was hailed by masses estimated at four million or more.

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine said it was the city's biggest turnout up to that time.

MacArthur, the hero of World Wars I and II who was fired by President Truman as Far Eastern commander during the Korean War, got his due in New York on April 20, 1951.

He arrived by night at Idlewild Airport in Queens and an estimated million cheered him as he drove to quarters in the Waldorf-Astoria.

The next day, in a gigantic motorcade which covered a huge section of Manhattan, it was claimed that as many as 7.5 millions thundered a welcome.

Of this tremendous outpouring, it was said, perhaps four million came from out of town.

No matter who got the biggest and most enthusiastic crowds, one thing is certain—no place on earth does it like New York.

Waddling's Out For Gym Classes

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be no more duck waddling in the city's schools, says the Board of Education.

The board announced it had instructed all schools to drop any exercises involving a sustained squatting position.

The decision was based on a report last fall by an American Medical Association committee which warned that such exercises might damage the knee structure.

The Facts Behind The Figures

Figures sometimes tend to be dull. But the facts behind the figures are usually interesting because they concern people.

Take The Herald's circulation figures, for example. Our certified circulation is 10,554 papers delivered daily by over 80 people.

Big Spring homes receive The Herald by carrier boys walking their routes, putting a paper neatly into your door. There are now 69 boys working on as many routes here in the city of Big Spring alone. You probably know your carrier boy as the friendly, freckle-faced kid up the street. Every day, regardless of weather, he brings your paper with the latest news of the world, the nation and your area . . . the latest business news in the advertising columns that let you live better and spend less.

Our second largest group of carriers would be our agents in Sand Springs, Coahoma, Westbrook, Colorado City, Ackerly, Lamesa, Stanton, Forsan and Garden City. These nine agents, plus 8 motor route carriers, account for 2,497 papers delivered in the trade territory. Our motor routes travel over 1,000 miles every day in delivering The Herald to homes outside of towns with agents. In addition, they deliver the bundles to agents in the towns listed above.

Our mail subscriptions are handled in The Herald office and account for 312 papers daily . . . going to such far-away places as Germany, Japan, Formosa, and many other foreign lands where ex-Big Springers now reside.

Add them all up and they amount to a circulation of 10,554 papers delivered into that many homes, read by over 30,000 people daily. Proud as we are of our carrier organization, we treasure more highly the confidence of our readers that allows us to show steady gains in circulation. This confidence of the readers who daily invite The Herald into their homes makes it the most effective advertising buy for all types of businesses. It reaches this vast audience at a lower cost than any other type of advertising. We would welcome the opportunity to help you plan an advertising schedule tailored to your needs and aimed at the 10,554 circulation of The Herald.

High School Players To Stage 'Anne Frank'

The thespians of Big Spring High School, in the staging of "The Diary of Anne Frank," are attempting an ambitious undertaking.

The play will be presented beginning at 8:15 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the high school auditorium. It is the annual junior class play, with prices at one dollar for adults and 75 cents for students, proceeds going to the junior-senior prom.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" is one of the most dramatic and successful plays ever staged on Broadway. It was first presented there on Oct. 5, 1955, scripted by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett from the book "Anne Frank: The Diary of a Young Girl."

Also, a road show version of the play was given here a couple of years ago and was praised by most who saw it.

The story of Anne Frank is taken from life—in fact, from the diary the child kept during the harsh years of World War II. The diary, after the war, was found by her father, Otto Frank, and was published as a book. The book promptly climbed into the best seller lists in America and Europe.

Anne Frank was a young Jewish girl whose family was prevented from fleeing their Nazi persecutors. The Franks, along with several other refugees, were given shelter by a Christian Dutch family, and spent almost the entire war closeted in a tiny, crowded attic in Amsterdam, living as quietly as mice lest their exterminators find them.

This eventually, is what happened: Anne's diary ends abruptly on a hurriedly scribbled note after Nazi police have tracked down the fugitives and broken into the attic. The diary was left behind to gather dust until it was found years later.

All participants in the drama, save Otto Frank, died in the Nazi concentration camps. He looked up his old friends and protectors, re-visited the attic, and found Anne's diary.

In book form, the story was read eagerly, particularly in a reformed Germany, and German versions of the play were acclaimed as in other countries. It was the simple story of a bright and innocent young mind raising itself above the inevitable petty quarrels of the trapped, crowded, hunted refugees, raising itself above even the constant fear of detection, a dead almost certain death; indeed, in spite of the horrors of man's inhumanity to man, keeping faith in man's ultimate goodness.

It was these simple but deep expressions, more than any other factor, that gave both book and play such dramatic impact.

The Big Spring High School production of "The Diary of Anne Frank" will feature Dina Baxter in the title role, with Mike Halverson as Otto Frank. Others in the cast will be Carol Odom, Winn Richbourg, Pat Hampton, Chap Smith, Susan Zack, Cal Boardman, Mike Faulkner, and Eric Brewster.

Crew members include Linda Morton, assistant director; Candy Harris, publicity; Sue Smith, costumes; Dan Cone, lighting and stage manager; Charles Leek and Mike Robertson, sound effects; Barbara Thompson, Rick King and Donna Kenning, props; and Nancy Hardin, Arnold Gibson, Linda Gibson and Carolyn Seago, makeup.

Linda Morton also will be the Voice of Anne Frank, reading excerpts from the diary which tie the scenes together.

Fantastic Ideas On How Money Should Look

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Americans have utterly fantastic ideas about what their money should look like and how the glue on postage stamps should taste, says the man in charge of printing stamps and bills.

Director H. J. Holtzclaw of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving told a House Appropriations subcommittee some of his troubles in closed-door testimony made public today.

He told the congressmen it is frightening to think about proposals that bills of different denominations be printed in different colors.

He said he has been called "an atheist, a Communist, and a labor agitator" for mixing demands that patriotic slogans, portraits—and even the Gettysburg Address—be printed on bills.

Postage stamp lickers frequently have proposed that the bureau produce stamps with glue flavors ranging from maple syrup to strawberry, he said.

"The citrus fruit industry in California took the matter seriously and planned us for a long, long time to make the flavor like an orange or a grapefruit or a tangerine," he said.

Holtzclaw said he is sticking to a vegetable-based stamp gum that is "as nearly odorless and tasteless as possible."

Other money matters covered in a batch of testimony made public today:

Silver dollars, which haven't been minted in 27 years, are becoming more popular. Coin collectors may be hoarding the cartwheels.

With the population growing and coin-operated vending machines becoming more popular, the mint is working overtime to keep abreast of the demand for coins.

Counterfeiting money is easier than it used to be. Secret Service Chief James J. Rowley blames "rapid technological advances in printing and simplified reproduction processes."

It costs $9.07 to print 1,000 bills—77 cents less than in 1961.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to establish a Padre Island national seashore recreation area was reported out of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee by a comfortable majority Tuesday.

It provides for a park 88 1/2 miles long.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said this is the most important advance by the bill since he first introduced it in 1958.

"The approval of this bill by this able Senate committee, under Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico," Yarborough said, "is a cause for rejoicing by the millions of people in Texas and the nation who are supporting the effort to create a great national seashore recreational area on Padre Island."

The bill will be reported to the Senate substantially in the form recommended by the National Parks Service and the National Parks Advisory Board, Yarborough said.

Three hearings were held by the Senate committee. One was at Corpus Christi in December, 1959, another here in August, 1960, and a third here last April.

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Frank W. Sharp, Houston real estate developer, has disclosed offers of $30,000 homes to the seven U.S. astronauts.

Business firms here will build and furnish the homes, he told Rep. Albert Thomas, D-Tex. Tuesday night, at a cost to each astronaut of about $10,000.

"We want to show them that we are happy to have them as our neighbors," Sharp said.

The astronauts will train near here after the National Aeronautics and Space Administration completes its $60-million manned space center.

'Featherbedding' Discovered Not Only In The Railroads

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Featherbedding today because of the current battle for job security.

The question becomes part of union resistance to automation. And what management scorns as featherbedding (paying two or more for doing the work of one) means something else to many workers—sharing the available jobs or assuring safety if something goes wrong with the machine or its lone operator.

In the public mind featherbedding is a term long linked with railroading. But of late managements in many other industries have complained that the practice is widespread and growing. This goes all the way from factory production lines to Broadway, where producers complain that union rules call for standby stagehands and musicians, who shift little if any scenery, play few if any notes.

The fight to cut costs by elimination of jobs that management regards as unneeded is likely to be bitter.

That was evident when some labor leaders attacked a presidential commission's recommendations on revising railroad labor rules two days before the report was submitted to the President.

They said the report, reaching the White House today, would mean loss of more jobs at a time when rail employment has been shrinking.

It has been declining for a number of reasons. One is the drop in rail business because of increased competition from trucks, buses, autos, barges and planes. Another is that automation and other technical advances let machines and electronic devices perform work in the yards and on the road that men once did.

When workers who once did these jobs are kept on the payroll, management calls it featherbedding. The commission would give the railroads the right to eliminate such jobs gradually and thus further reduce the payroll.

Naturally the men who would lose these jobs don't like it.

They thus join the multitude of others who are complaining about the inroads of automation.

Among these are the Steelworkers now hammering out a new contract with management. They contend that mechanization of the steel mills is costing jobs. Among the remedies suggested are a shorter work week, longer vacations, early retirement incentives, more benefits for those laid off, all of which would either share the available jobs or ease the pangs of enforced idleness.

Baptists Stage Racial Study

FORT WORTH (AP)—A depth study of the race relations problems facing Texas Baptists will be staged here March 12-13 as a part of the sixth annual Texas Baptist Christian Life Workshop.

The acting president of Bishop College (Negro) in Dallas, Dr. J. M. Ellison, will speak to the group on "The Negro and the Race Problem," followed by an address featuring Jose Rivas, professor at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, on the subject, "The Latin American and the Race Problem."

Brooks Hays, special assistant to President Kennedy and former president of the Southern Baptist Convention, will speak on "A Layman Views the Race Problem."

Selecting School Textbooks Termed Laborious Task

Selection of textbooks for schools is a laborious and time-consuming task, according to Sam M. Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District. Much work goes into culling the many offerings of publishers before a book is offered on the local level. From the time publishers are asked to submit their products until the approved book is available for use, some 15 months of work is done by committees on the state and local level. A 15-member state textbook committee appointed by the State Board of Education, assisted by advisers who are considered authorities in their fields, review books offered as texts. The 1961 committee worked with about 800 advisers, Anderson said. Interested members of the public are invited to examine the books at the same time. About three months later the committee meets to hear all objections which persons may have to any book offered for adoption. The number of books is then cut to from two to five choices in each subject. A list of the titles is submitted to the Commissioner of Education, who may delete any title from the list, but may not add a new book. Hearings with interested persons and groups continue for about one month. The State Board of Education then takes official action on the list of books recommended by the Commissioner. Local textbook committees then have their turn at the books accepted. They may select one or all of the titles offered in each subject. The Big Spring Committee has reviewed books offered at this time and has decided which will be accepted and which will be rejected. Teachers who use the books have been given the opportunity to evaluate the books and make their own recommendations to the local committee. Members of the committee have scrutinized the books and discussed the merits of each book with the publishing company's representative. After selection has been made the new textbooks will be printed in needed quantities.

Residents Are Invited To Textbook Adoption Meet

Textbooks for use in Big Spring Schools are slated for adoption at a meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m., according to Sam M. Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District. The meeting will be held in the board room of the school administration building, 100 E. 10th. The public is invited to attend and will be given the opportunity to comment on the selection of books. Texts to be chosen for use in the system include Geography for grades 4-6, Vocal Music for grades 7-8, American History for the eighth grade, English Dictionaries for grades 4-7, Science, American History and World History for High School and Vocational Industrial Education. Adoption of the texts will be made final by school trustees at a meeting later in March. The books to be adopted are available for persons who wish to see them before they are accepted. Sebron Williams, assistant superintendent - instruction, said. Selection was made by members of the textbook committee approved by the local trustees. On the committee are Anderson, Williams, George E. Dyer, Mrs. Doris Gambill, Mrs. John Hale, Barbara Jones, Lillian Jordan, Jerry Kelley, Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, Helen Lidstone, Arden L. Marple, Morris Molpus, Mrs. Marjorie Morris, Mrs. Lois Singleton, Mrs. Elmer Slaughter, and Mrs. Thelma Williams.

9 Fishermen Call For Help

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Nine shipwrecked tuna fishermen—one of them injured—are awaiting rescue on a tiny Pacific island where they have been stranded 22 days. The men are on Clipperton Island, which is so narrow and so low in the water that breakers sometimes sweep almost all the way across it. It lies 1,400 miles south of here and about the same distance off the coast of Central America. The crew of the San Diego fishing boat Monarch was stranded on Clipperton early this month when the 72-foot craft went down. The men lived on tuna, wild pigs and coconuts until last weekend, when a Mexican fishing boat, the Fanita, discovered them. Word of the castaways was relayed here by radio. The American Tuna Boat Association asked for Coast Guard and Navy assistance. A Navy guided missile destroyer, the USS Robison, was diverted to Clipperton. Members of the Tuna Boat association said the Fanita was too small to take the crewmen off the island. The Navy said it will be Thursday morning before the Robison can reach the island. "That's a nasty island," said a Coast Guard officer who had seen it. "It's fringed by coral reefs and the sea breaks heavily—sometimes sweeping almost over the whole island." Clipperton is two miles long, a quarter of a mile wide at its widest point, a few yards wide at its narrowest. The Monarch, skippered by Manuel Chula, 35, of San Diego, left here Jan. 16 with a five-week fuel supply. Her last reported position, on Feb. 8, was in the vicinity of Clipperton.

3 Major Points In Filing Your Income Tax Return

By JAMES MARLOW
Associate Press Staff Writer

Here are three major points to think about in filing your 1961 income tax return: picking the right schedule; husband-wife problems; and exemptions.

1. There are three tax-rate schedules. Pick the one right for you. The tax is highest on No. 1, lower on No. 3, and lowest on No. 2.
2. Take all the exemptions you can. Each one means $600 subtracted from your income before what's left is taxable.

3. SCHEDULES
There are three schedules because there are special rules for different groups of taxpayers:

No. 1—for single persons and married persons filing separately; No. 2—for married people filing jointly and certain widows and widowers; No. 3—for unmarried or legally separated taxpayers who qualify as "heads of household."

The schedules are on pages 9 and 10 of the instruction sheet sent taxpayers by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Page 9 is for those figuring their own tax. Page 10 is for those using the tax table.

Husband-wife filing:
Anyone filing gets a $600 exemption for himself if he's under 65, $1,200 if he's over 65, and another $600 if he's blind, under or over 65.

SINGLE PERSONS
A single person, with or without dependents, must use schedule No. 1 with its highest tax rate except, as explained later, for certain widows and widowers and those who qualify as head of household.

You get the same exemptions for your wife as for yourself—but only under certain conditions that cover a wife with NO income, a wife with under $600 income and a wife with $600 or more income. Remember that in most cases a husband and wife save money by filing a joint return because, in filing jointly and in that way only, they can use schedule No. 2, which has the lowest tax rate.

In some cases they can save money by filing separately. If you have doubts, figure your tax both ways.

IF YOU HAVE A WIFE
Here are the conditions involving a wife:

A wife with NO income doesn't have to file a return. But, if she files jointly with you, each of you claims your individual $600 exemption on that single return and use schedule No. 2.

If a wife with NO income doesn't file jointly with you, you can file your own return and claim a $600 exemption for her. But in this case you must use schedule No. 1, which has the highest tax rate. If a wife had taxable income, but it was under $600, she doesn't have to file a return. But, if she had any taxable income, even though under $600, and doesn't file a return, you can't claim an exemption for her and you must use schedule No. 1.

If she had income, under or over $600, and files jointly with you, then each of you reports your individual income and claims an exemption on that single return. In this case, you'll use schedule No. 2.

WIFE MUST FILE
If your wife had $600 or more income, she, like anyone else with that much income, must file a return, either separately or jointly with you.

If she files jointly, then each of you claims an exemption on that single return and you'd use schedule No. 2. If you and your wife file separately—each must then use schedule No. 1—each will claim your own individual exemption on your separate returns.

In a relatively few cases, and for special reasons, when husbands and wives both have income they'll save by filing separate returns.

Don't forget: when couples file separately they both must either take the standard 10 per cent deduction allowed all taxpayers without itemizing their expenses, or both must itemize. If they itemize, they must use Form 1040.

ONLY TO $500
While a single person or a couple filing jointly are allowed a standard deduction of 10 per cent of their income up to a limit of $1,000, a married person filing separately can take the standard deduction of 10 per cent of income only up to a limit of $500.

A husband and wife who filed separate returns in 1960 or 1959, or in both years, and now realize they could have saved money by filing a joint return then, can make up for the mistake by now filing a joint return for those years.

If you were married any time in 1961, even as late as Dec. 31, you were considered married for the whole year. If you were divorced as late as Dec. 31 you were considered divorced for all of 1961.

You can NOT claim an exemption for your divorced wife even though you paid more than half her support in 1961.

NO EXEMPTION
Here are the provisions on widows and widowers:

If your wife (or husband) died in 1961—and you did NOT remarry—you can claim a $600 exemption for her on your return and use schedule No. 2. If she had income, you must report it in your return.

You can also use schedule No. 2, with its lowest tax rate, if your wife (or husband) died in 1960 or 1959, provided you meet these requirements:

You must have been entitled (in 1960 or 1959) to file a joint return with her in the year of her death, but didn't, and now want to in order to save money through the lower tax rate of schedule No. 2. You have NOT remarried; you have a child or stepchild who qualifies as your dependent; and you furnish over half the cost of your home which is the principal residence of your dependent child or stepchild.

SCHEDULE NO. 2
You'd list your own income, exemptions and deductions but you could NOT—as you could have if your wife died in 1961—claim a $600 exemption for her. You'd get, however, the benefit of using schedule No. 2.

Head-of-household:
You can use schedule No. 3—with its tax rate lower than No. 1 although higher than No. 2—if you meet these requirements:

You were unmarried or legally separated at the end of 1961 or were married by the end of 1961 to someone who for part of the year was a nonresident alien; you must have furnished over half the cost of maintaining your home which was the main residence of yourself and your unmarried child, stepchild or grandchild, even though NOT a dependent of yours, or of any other relatives you can claim as a dependent; or if you

Stock Exchange Leader Charged With Tax Evasion

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Truman Bidwell has resigned the powerful post of chairman of the Board of Governors of the New York Stock Exchange following a federal grand jury indictment charging him with evading $55,908 in income taxes.

He claimed persecution from "high places in Washington," and said "neither the investing public nor the stock exchange is involved."

The government, too, took pains to emphasize that the indictment dealt with Bidwell's personal taxes and had nothing to do with his activities at the exchange.

Nevertheless, the indictment added fire to the persistent rumors of a widespread tax investigation in the securities field.

Text Hearing At Amarillo Comes To End

AMARILLO (AP)—The Amarillo portion of the state textbook hearing has ended amid charges of political football, communism and needless bickering.

The charge that the hearings have "become a political football" came from Rep. Ronald Roberts of Hillsboro, a Textbook Study Committee member.

"I feel that a lot of people may attempt to use the hearings to enhance their political ambitions or to defeat candidates," Roberts said.

"I don't personally feel there is anything wrong with the method we are using to select these textbooks. Basically that method is sound."

APOLOGY APPLAUDED

While Roberts was briefly absent, Mrs. Harold Boots of Amarillo, a witness, told other committee members "I wanted to ask Roberts how long he had been a card-carrying Communist."

After Roberts returned, another witness, Larry Williams of Amarillo, sent the committee a note in which he said he wanted to offer his personal apologies for Mrs. Boots' remarks.

Williams read his note aloud at the request of committee Chairman W. T. Dungan of McKinney and the 80 persons attending stood and applauded.

Mrs. Mildred Shively of Amarillo suggested earlier that the entire matter of textbook selection be kept on the local level to assure the inclusion of the "spiritual emphasis which made our country great."

U.N. ISSUE

The Rev. W. L. Porterfield of Gruver discussed a history text, "This Is America's History," which he said is being used in the eighth grade at Gruver. He objected to a statement in the book that the United Nations has been instrumental in contributing to peace.

"This is an opinion, not a statement of fact," he said.

W. W. Williams of Amarillo said "Texas and Our Spanish Southwest," a history used in some public schools, "contained only 175 words about the Battle of the Alamo and 378 words on Billy the Kid."

DISTORTION CLAIMED

Don Cornelius of Amarillo charged that "The American People: Their History," presented a distorted picture of such men as Benjamin Franklin, George Washington and Paul Revere.

He said the book called Franklin a middle class American and George Washington a man who preferred to be a farmer.

Albert McLaughlin of Amarillo said another textbook, "This Is Our Nation" had left out some names and omitted background information on others.

Rep. R. W. Bass of DeKalb, author of the resolution creating the committee, accused Rep. John Alaniz and Roberts of asking "leading questions."

Rail Crash Injures 9

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train today plowed into the wreckage of a freight train which had derailed almost simultaneously. Three diesel locomotives and 17 of 18 cars of the passenger train derailed, injuring at least nine persons.

The passenger train, the Pennsylvania Limited No. 55, was bound from New York to Chicago when the accident occurred 23 miles east of this central Pennsylvania community.

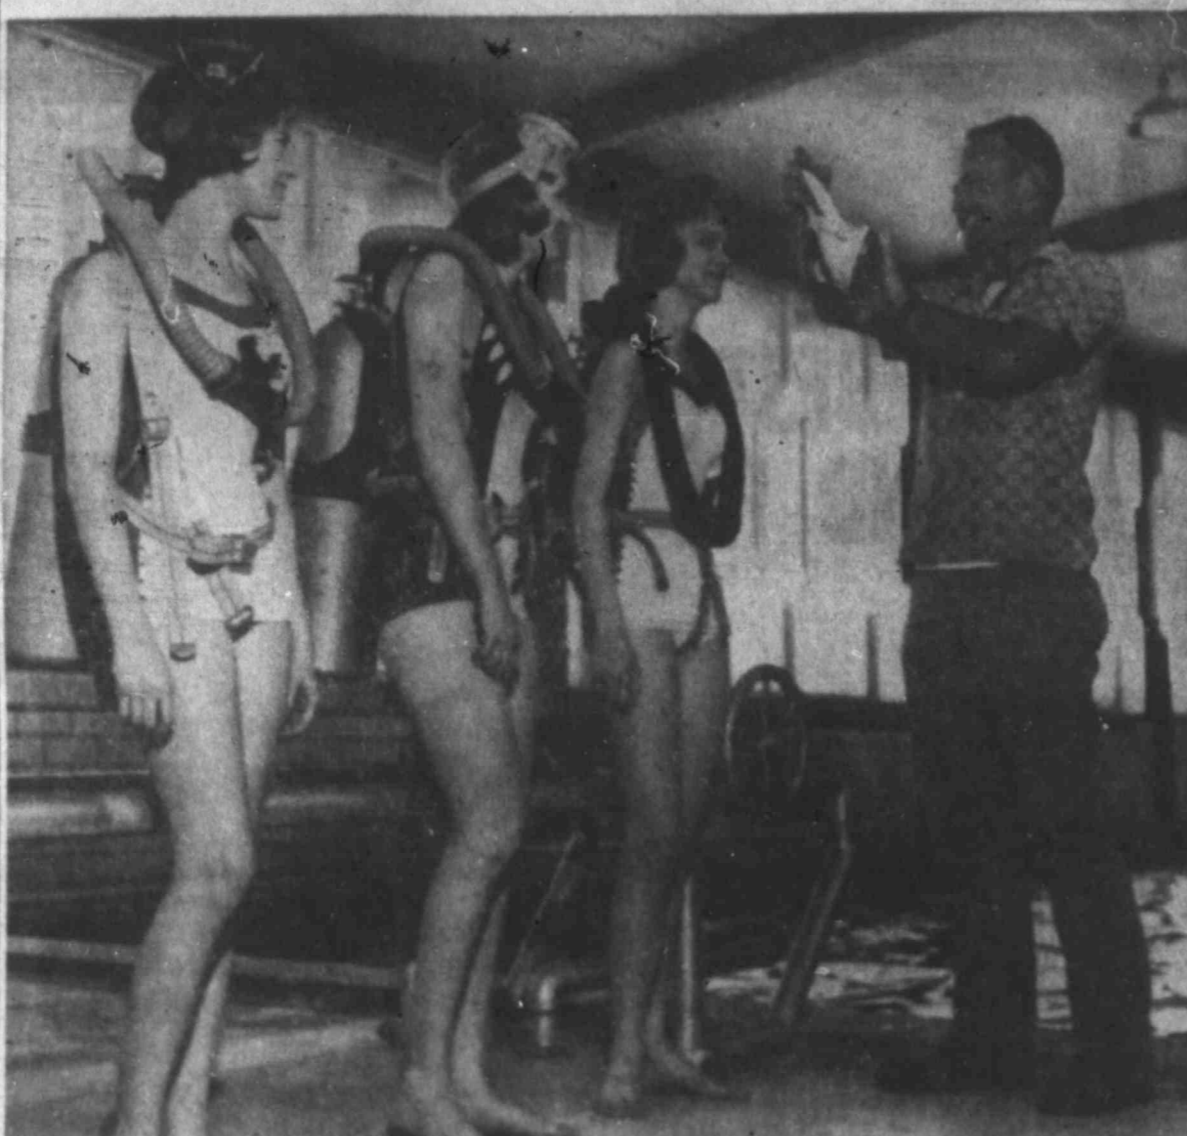

Ambulances took seven of the injured to Lewistown Hospital and two others to the Black Community Hospital here. A spokesman at Lewistown Hospital said only one person there appeared to be seriously injured.

Training YMCA Mermaids

Scuba diving is being offered at the YMCA each Saturday from 8-10 p.m. Instruction began a week ago, but there is still room for persons wishing to learn the skill, according to Joe Leach, physical

SCUBA Diving Caps Off YMCA Swimming Program

The swimming program offered by the Big Spring YMCA is capped off with a course in SCUBA diving for persons who have mastered the other swimming skills, according to Joe Leach, physical director.

Instruction is from 8-10 p.m. each Saturday with Bob Chambers and Steve Stevens, certified instructors, putting students through the swimming and diving paces. In order to enter the course a person must be physically fit and a strong swimmer. If a person does not qualify, the progressive swim probably the most direct route to take.

About 15 persons were at the first class and more can be accepted. Persons 14 years and older may join.

Equipment is available without cost to SCUBA divers. Persons wishing to buy their own equipment may do so through the Y, Leach said.

The swim program offered by the Y is highly adaptable to the needs of both young and old. The progressive program for children and youths begins with instruction for the child who has never learned to swim. On completion of that phase the person can float, dive and begin to swim.

Second on the scale of achievement is the minnow classification. Before moving to another stage, the swimmer can dive, swim under water, change swimming stroke and swim a minimum of 20 feet.

Fish status requires sculling and treading, diving to recover objects and swimming 100 yards by using two kinds of stroke. Flying fish requirements include the underwater push and glide, water treading, running jump from a springboard, corkscrew swimming and swimming 100 yards using the crawl stroke and swimming 220 yards using any style.

With each advance, the swimmer becomes more accomplished. Next in line is the shark stage, followed by Junior and Senior Life Saving courses. To become a SCUBA diver, a person must have completed the shark stage.

The adult is not left out of the swim program. Instruction is available for women in both beginning and advanced classes. Persons desiring special instruction should contact the Y. Men wishing to improve their swimming skills should contact Leach to arrange a time and swim program.
