Forsan's Day Of Decision To Resolve Water Issue

FORSAN — Residents of this little community are somewhat on the horns of a dilemma these days. They are torn between a longing to have an adequate water supply for their town and the normal distaste for increased taxes. Tomorrow they will make a decision. It is the general belief of most of the residents of Forsan that the allure of a better water supply will win.
C. J. Lamb, mayor, and most of the community's property owners, seem to believe that the proposal to issue $50,000 bonds to improve the town's water system will be approved by a top heavy vote. A few voters will vote the plan, these leaders agree.

Overworked Source Of Water Supply
Mayor C. J. Lamb of Forsan stands beside one of the two wells which supply the town with its municipal water supply. Saturday Forsan voters will decide if the town water system is to be improved $50,000 worth.

Monster Found In Tasmania

HOBART, Tasmania (AP)—Australian scientists are puzzled by a huge carcass found on a remote beach on the west coast of Tasmania.
They say it is like no known creature. It is circular in shape and has no eyes, no defined head and no bone structure. Its creamy, rubbery flesh is probably 12 inches thick and covered with woolly hair.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve merger of the two railroads.

49th Commander Denies 'Professional Agitation'

DALLAS (AP)—Maj. Gen. Harley West, commander of the 49th Armored National Guard Division and Ft. Polk, La., discounts any possibility of professional agitation within the division.
West of Dallas, told the Dallas News Thursday night that an incomplete investigation into what he termed a "so-called mass meeting" Wednesday showed no facts to support any theory that outside influence was creating unrest among the reservists and National Guardsmen called back to duty last October at the height of the Berlin crisis.

Twister Hits Town

By The Associated Press
What appeared to be a tornado from the type of damage it caused struck DeKalb in Northeast Texas Thursday night.
At least a dozen homes suffered damage and numerous garages and other small buildings were destroyed, Fred Napp of the DeKalb News reported.
Two miles from DeKalb, a number of chicken houses were destroyed.
The apparent tornado struck from west to east—the typical direction of a twister—and caused damage in a path about 50 yards wide.

Sullivan Asks Supreme Court For New Herring Sanity Trial

AUSTIN (AP)—The Supreme Court was asked today to order a new hearing for John Mack Herring, 18, Odessa high school athlete who was declared insane last month.
The request, a writ of mandamus, asked the court to "command" Dist. Judge G. C. Olsen of Kermit "to vacate and set aside a judgment declaring John Mack Herring insane at the time of the offense alleged in the indictment pending against him in such court."

Plea Of Rail Companies Made To ICC

The application said national defense cannot be served properly with financially weak railroads and the public interest demands they be made strong and healthy.
The two railroads announced Jan. 12 agreement had been reached on a merger. They said then application would be made to the ICC for approval as soon as details could be worked out.

Sebron B. Williams Elected President Of Teachers Group

Sebron B. Williams, assistant superintendent-in-charge of the Big Spring Independent School District, was elected president Thursday of the West Texas Teachers Association for 1962-63 and Odessa was selected as the site for the 1963 convention.
Action came from 154 delegates attending a Thursday night House of Delegates session in the Permian High School cafeteria in Odessa. The delegates are among 3,500 other teachers and school administrators who are attending a convention of the West Texas Teachers Association in Odessa Friday.

SEBRON B. WILLIAMS

Williams, who has been serving the association as vice president this year, succeeds Mrs. Gerald Gordon, journalism teacher in the high school at Colorado City.
Other officers elected were J. C. Jackson, Snyder, vice president; M. F. S. Irevia Edwards, Lamesa, secretary; John Roberts, Kermit, treasurer; Brady Nix, Crane, district executive committee chairman; and Floyd McCrury, Odessa, state executive committee chairman.
Science, technology and the demands of the space age have greatly widened the scope of co-education, Julian Street Jr., staff director of educational services for U. S. Steel, told the association this morning.

Teachers must supply the "know how" but industry is rivaling the universities as a source of new knowledge and will increasingly supply "know why," Street said in his address to the first general session of the 27th Annual Convention of the association at the Odessa High School field house.
Street reviewed a variety of ways in which the businessman and the educator are collaborating to make education a life-long process. Among them are industry-prepared training programs, industry-prepared teaching aids for students from kindergarten through to graduate school, and

Highway Group Meets Here Today

Representatives from cities on US 89 between Weatherford and Van Horn met at noon today at the Desert Sands Restaurant to promote travel on the highway, according to Carrol Davidson, manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.
An effort is being made to get road signs placed at strategic points along the highway to encourage use of the route, Davidson said. Once traffic is diverted to the highway, each city would be responsible for advertising its own facilities and attractions.

Miss Thring Back In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A cloak of secrecy was instituted at Idlewild Airport today upon the arrival from the Congo of Elizabeth Thring, principal figure in a slaying there.
She is the young American woman who was alone with Lt. Col. Hiden D. Stogner, U.S. assistant military attache, when he was slain in his Leopoldville residence last month. Investigation indicated he was struck by a bullet coming from outside the house.
Reporters and photographers were barred from the U.S. customs area when Miss Thring arrived.

Angry, Weeping Divorcees Appear At Support Hearing

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—"Now when my husband was going with this other woman," the lady began in the staid State Senate chamber.
She was quickly hushed by Republican Sen. Carlton H. Morris. "We're only concerned with the facts," Morris said over the laughter in the room. "Let's not put anything embarrassing on the record."
It was all in a day's work for members of the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday as they heard 18 angry divorcees testify in favor of tighter laws providing for support of former wives and children by ex-husbands.
Morris and his committee listened sympathetically as the divorcees, some their eyes ablaze with anger and some near to tears, told their stories.
"MY husband is $4,000 behind in his support payments," testified Bernice Pulliam of Jackson. "He can afford three cars but

Airliner's Flight Recorder Found

Seattle Or Bust

Dean Terrazas isn't really smiling—she's just gritting her teeth because that darn foot stool just gave way. She's also throwing a wet rag at the car she started to wash. Dean is this year's Booster Girl, photogenic representative of the Band Boosters Club which is trying to raise money to send the high school band to the world's fair in Seattle. Band members will be washing cars at George Oldham's El Paso Red Flame service station Saturday 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Sunday noon till 6 p.m., and Big Spring patriots may donate to the fund whatever they think the wash is worth. Incidentally, there won't be any foot stools or rag throwing—this picture was just a gag shot designed to draw your attention.

Castro Heads Cornerstone Of New Party

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's policy makers put Prime Minister Fidel Castro at the top of a list of 25 persons announced today as the directorate for the nation's Integrated Revolutionary Organization. This body, known as the ORI, is considered the cornerstone for the projected new single Cuban political party—the United Party of the Socialist Revolution.

Raul Castro, the armed forces minister and brother of Fidel, was No. 2 man on the list, followed by the minister of industries, Ernesto Guevara, and President Osvaldo Dorticos.

Until now the national directorate of the ORI had never been announced formally, although key Cuban figures have been referred to as national leaders for several months.

The decision to constitute this Cuban commissariat officially was reached Thursday according to a communique which says the formation "signifies a great step toward the formation of the United Party of the Socialist Revolution of Cuba," which eventually will be formed by "the best men and women of the Cuban nation."

Haydee Santamaria, who fought with the rebels in the Sierras, is the only woman in the group of 25.

The announcement appeared under banner headlines in all three morning papers. There was no editorial comment.

House Kills Member Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Proving that some of the best-laid political plans can come a cropper, the House has killed a bill to increase its membership from 435 to 438.

A voice vote returning the measure to a committee pigeonhole Thursday climaxed one of the most hectic and confused House sessions in years.

The bill would have given Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Missouri one more House seat than they will be entitled to under 1960 census figures.

The measure suddenly lost so much of its carefully arranged support that backers couldn't even muster the 90 votes needed for a rollcall.

Just before the final action, its one-time champion, Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, disavowed his support because of an amendment that would have forced the calling of special sessions of the legislatures in the three states to redistrict their congressional seats. Failure to call such a session or to enact redistricting laws would have required all House candidates from the three states to run on a statewide basis.

The amendment was offered by the bill's author and floor manager, Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., and it caught friends and foes by surprise although it had been discussed in previous committee sessions.

Walter, who said that the bill was dead as far as he was concerned, told reporters he offered the amendment because he made a commitment to Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

The commitment, which Halleck acknowledged, was that a new redistricting law in Pennsylvania would salvage the seat of veteran Ivor D. Fenton, Republican, whose re-election was in doubt under a redistricting law.

Veterans Hold Monday Meet

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Department Commander Roger Q. Evans, Baird, visited the Veterans of World War I at Colorado City Monday to discuss veteran problems and to show a movie on the unveiling of a memorial to World War I veterans at Austin, recently.

N. W. Hudson, Lamesa, a national officer, and Simon Best, Snyder, commander of the Snyder Barracks, were present for the talk. Roy Harrison is commander of the local barracks.

Mrs. N. W. Hudson, district president of the ladies auxiliary, assisted local wives of Veterans of World War I in the organization of an auxiliary.

Mrs. Earl Burk was elected president of the Auxiliary. Other officers were: senior vice president, Mrs. Leroy Gressett; junior vice president, Mrs. L. R. Messimer; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Roy Harrison; chaplain, Mrs. Blane Morgan; guard, Mrs. L. A. Miller; and conductress, Mrs. W. C. Chadwick.

Trustees are Mrs. Tom Reeves, Mrs. Keith Miles and Mrs. L. B. Elliott.

Walter Estate

Vietnamese Reds Attacked By Air

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese fighter-bombers today battered the Mekong River delta while ground forces pushed through swamps near the South China Sea hunting guerrillas.

The hunt for the Viet Cong guerrillas continued over much of the southern third of the country, but no important new government operations other than the aerial attacks were announced today.

East Coast Residents Begin Cleanup After Hard Storm

Residents and authorities of the six-state area battered by the big storm, bolstered by prospects of massive federal aid, have begun mopping up operations after a three-day rampage of wind and water.

The death toll stood at least at 36, with a number of persons missing. Property damages have been estimated at well over $165 million.

The coastal sections of New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina have been declared disaster zones by the Small Business Administration, which grants special, long term loans to property owners.

Outright federal grants must come by proclamation of President Kennedy.

These grants would go to state and local governmental units for the repair of roads, bridges, schools and other facilities.

The governors of New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland already have asked the President to declare their stricken sectors disaster areas.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York has asked Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to petition for designation of stricken sectors as disaster areas.

Additional federal aid was announced Thursday by the Department of Agriculture, which said emergency food supplies were being distributed to storm victims through state and local agencies.

Damage estimates by states: New Jersey and Delaware, $50 million each; Virginia, $90 million; New York, $25 million; North Carolina, $3 to $5 million; and Maryland "many millions."

Pestilence and starvation menaced survivors, with practically all food supplies and sewage facilities wiped out. Acceptable drinking water constituted a major problem in many areas.

In North Carolina, Gov. Terry Sanford flew over the distressed area.

"I thought it was going to be bad, but it is much worse than I imagined," he said.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Check Plan Working, Suspensions Endorsed

To the Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to commend the sheriff's department on the excellent job being done for the merchants of the community with the "hot check" service.

Because we operate several outlets within the city, we often fall victim to what seems like more than our share of these worthless items. During the two short months the department has operated this service, staff members have collected or assisted us in collecting more bad checks than any other agency has done in 10 years we have operated businesses in Big Spring.

In talking with a number of other Big Spring businessmen, I find them very enthusiastic over the results of the fine job being done by the sheriff's department in general and Deputy Fern Cox who is in charge of the check division.

I pledge my continued cooperation and any other support required toward the continuance of this fine service.

H. W. (TOBY) COOK
Toby's Drive in Groceries

To the Editor:
Through your paper of which I am a constant reader, I would like to express my admiration to Mr. C. B. Arnold in his recent action in suspending the beer license of several north side places.

I think that it is time that someone got interested in checking into this deplorable condition that has turned some of the north side into a place of shame and degradation. If it is permitted to continue as it has, it will no doubt become a training camp of vice and evil activities for our growing Big Spring youth for generations to come. It is in vain to hire juvenile officers or to fight juvenile delinquency because all the odds are now against it as long as these conditions prevail.

In such places there is the by-product of procuring, dope peddling, dancing, knifings, and it is so close to the influence of our youth. They must go through there on the way to school and also on the way back home. Yes, kids see and hear that defying the law is an every day affair. They should never let themselves be caught, they are told by the more experienced in crime. They are told that the policemen are perpetual enemies.

As a private citizen and furthermore interested in a clean north side, I would suggest that these places that were suspended and the remaining ones now open, be closed and never again allowed to operate so close to the business and children's areas; that they be moved way out of town where they will not be such a terrible example to our growing new crop of solid citizens. Then the north side can be rightfully proud of our community. Thanks.

Yours truly,
MRS. M. L. GARZA
Big Spring, Texas

THE MARCH OF TIME

By A Christian Writer

"And that, knowing the time, that now is our salvation nearer than when we believed." (Rom. 13:11.)
The onward march of time is bringing us closer to ultimate salvation, or to eternal damnation, as the case may be.

The days and years are more precious than we may realize. How well are we using them? What are we going to do with 1962? Will some of us waste another year in the service of Satan? Will others of us continue to drag our feet as undependable and lukewarm members of the Lord's church?

"The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light." (Jan. 4:12.)

Welcome to all our meetings. Three preaching services a week: Sunday, 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, 7:30 p.m.

Hear Don Swinney from Silver, Tex., guest speaker Sunday, 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

You are always welcome at the church of Christ, 3005 West Highway 26, 7 H. Target, preacher on Australian preaching mission to May 15. Box 128.—adv.

Tower Visits
Gen. MacArthur
NEW YORK (AP)— Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., visited Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the latter's Waldorf-Astoria suite Wednesday. The senator was here to address an anti-Communist rally in Madison Square Garden.

Key Club Meets With Kiwanians

Big Spring High School choir, under the direction of Ellsworth Winden, was featured at the Thursday luncheon of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

The meeting was a joint session of the Kiwanis and the Key Clubs. The Key Club is a high school organization which is sponsored by the Kiwanians. The Key Club presented the program and arranged for the appearance of the choir and the high school quartet. The groups sang a cappella.

Max Moore, president of the Key Club, presided at the meeting. He introduced Don Alexander, who was program chairman for the day and the full membership of the Key Club was on hand for the luncheon.

The Kiwanians welcomed Ed Carson, pharmacist, as a new member.

Announcement was made that a ladies night party is planned by the Kiwanis Club of Snyder and that Big Spring members are invited to attend. The event is on March 23.

J. C. Pickle, president, asked all members who have not done so to turn in any money or tickets they may have from the recent pancake supper.

Candidates Argue Over Who's Ahead

By The Associated Press

More arguments rang out Friday among candidates for governor over who is ahead.

Those in the race received a challenge from Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to meet in an April 18 debate.

A privately financed poll which gave Gov. Price Daniel the edge and showed John Connally second provided an argument.

Marshall Formby of Plainview said at Lubbock:

"They took that last poll in Floresville (Connally has a ranch home near there) and in Liberty (Daniel's home). We're going to take the next one in Plainview."

"One of the most ridiculous things about that poll was the idea that only 11 per cent still had not made up their minds."

Connally said in Waco the poll was based on information gathered two weeks ago and said he may be first by now.

About 350 people heard Connally speak Thursday to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce. He moved on to campaign Friday at Taylor.

In proposing a debate with his five rivals for the Democratic nomination, Wilson said the Young Democrats at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls had extended an invitation.

The attorney general said he was willing to take part in a debate scheduled earlier before the Weslaco Junior Chamber of Commerce, but some of the other candidates were not.

"I would take this opportunity," Wilson said, "to renew my previous challenge to the other candidates to meet in a face-to-face debate."

Several of those in the governor's race were stumping various parts of East Texas.

Gov. Daniel spoke at a Longview Chamber of Commerce luncheon Thursday and at Jefferson. He went to Marshall Friday.

Don Yarborough headed for Dallas Friday after swinging through Paris, Mount Pleasant, Pittsburg, Gilmer and Gladewater.

Yarborough called at several stops for an aggressive State Industrial Commission and a "pooling of brains and talent to further the economic development of rural Texas."

Jack Cox, a Republican candidate for governor, was in Jackboro to speak at a career opportunity conference Friday. He planned a night appearance in Tyler.

In the lieutenant governor's race:

Jarrard Secret declared that the present auto insurance rate making system is a "monopolistic scheme of price fixing" and "ought to be junked." He made a televised talk at Houston.

James Turman, speaking at a public school week program Thursday in Jasper, predicted "worldwide progress in removal of illiteracy, television transmission in color, improved world understanding and avoidance of large scale warfare" in the next decade. Turman was bound for Athens and Tyler Friday.

Preston Smith scheduled visits in McCarney, Big Spring and Lamesa Friday. He spoke in San Angelo Thursday.

Bob Baker was in Austin to organize a University of Texas supporters' club. He campaigned in San Antonio Thursday.

Crawford Martin made talks at Waxahachie and Hamilton Thursday.

Waggoner Carr said he proposes to call a statewide "congress against crime" as one of his first official acts. Five television stations at scattered points carried his five-minute talk.

Tom Reavley scheduled stops Friday at Freeport, Lake Jackson and Angleton. He appeared at a meeting kicking off a funds drive for Methodist Church colleges Thursday night in Dallas.

Mine Blast Fatal To 30

HEESSEN, Germany (AP)— A coal mine explosion touched off by blasting killed 30 miners today and injured 8 others in this Ruhr Valley town, mine officials reported.

The explosion in the state-owned Sachsen Mine occurred just half an hour before the morning shift of 2,200 was due at work. A spokesman said the casualty toll was relatively low because only skeleton night crews were working.

The explosion occurred just 30 days after a fire-damp blast in the Luisenthal Mine in the Saarland to the south took 299 lives.

The mine spokesman said all miners appeared to be accounted for and the death toll was not expected to rise unless some of the injured men did not survive.

He said the explosion occurred in a horizontal tunnel connecting various mining locations more than 3,000 feet underground. He reported the blast was apparently caused when blasting ignited a pool of methane gas or fire-damp which had collected in the tunnel.

Driver Education Classes Scheduled

Registration for spring lectures of driver education will be conducted at Goliad Junior High School Saturday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to C. W. Tanner.

Registration will continue during the lunch hours or after school at Goliad and Rummels Junior high schools Monday through Friday of next week.

Students enrolling in the class must be passing all regular classroom work and must be in the ninth grade next year, he explained. About 110 students can be accepted. Students who expect to be in athletics, band, private music, or other extra-curricular work which will interfere with scheduling of driving sessions should take driver training during the summer.

Evening and night classes will begin March 21 and will continue until May 22. One class will meet every Monday and Wednesday from 3:45-5:45 p.m. and a second class is scheduled Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30-7:30 p.m.

Tuition is $25 for each student. This fee may be paid $10 at the time of registration and $15 at the time driving sessions begin.

Each group will drive 18 days, one hour each day Monday through Saturday. Students must be 14 years old before they may begin driving sessions, which are scheduled June 1-21, June 22-July 12, and July 13-Aug. 2.

A second lecture session is scheduled Aug. 3-24. Registration will be at Goliad Aug. 3 and classes will meet there from 8:30-10 a.m. and 10:30-12:30 p.m. each day.

DEAR ABBY

The Mystery Of Death

DEAR ABBY: About three years ago you printed a letter signed "Peter," which I carried in my billfold. It was from a little boy who could not understand why God let his little brother die. I have lost my billfold and with it that precious clipping. Will you please print it again? It was the finest piece I've ever read.

DEAR READER: With pleasure. Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: My Sunday School teacher says that God is everywhere. Please put this letter in the paper and maybe He will see it.

Dear God: Why did you let my brother die? When he was hit by the car my mother prayed to you to let him live, but you wouldn't. My little brother was only two years old and he couldn't have sinned so bad that you had to punish him that way. Everyone says you are good and can do anything you want to do. You could have saved my little brother but you let him die. You broke my mother's heart. How can I love you?

PETER
DEAR PETER: Your question is one that has troubled religious men for thousands of years. One great thinker wrote a book about it. It is called "JOB" and is part of the Bible. It says that the suffering of innocent people is something we cannot understand. But this much is sure: Death is not a punishment. It is one of life's mysteries. Speak to your minister, Peter. Communicate with God by praying, and He will help you in your search for wisdom and goodness and help make your Mommy happy again.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who flatly refuses to put a picture of his wife and children on his desk at work? My husband says it is "corny," and is not done by top-flight executives. If you have an opinion on this subject, please state it in your column.

EXECUTIVE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: A man's family is something to boast about, and I see no reason why their pictures should not be on display alongside his diplomas, degrees and other achievements. If it is "corny," it's the kind of corn that happy family men grow fat on.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PAT: Go to your parish priest and tell him what you have told me. You will feel like a million dollars — and that's a lot of money — about $108,000 after taxes!

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Devotional For Today

"That they may all be one." (John 17:21. RSV.)
PRAYER: O God, help us to free our spirits from all fetters which keep us from entering into full harmony with Thee. May we wing our way into Thy great love, there to meet all our brothers and sisters of one faith and one hope. Restore to our troubled world the peace and joy of Thy presence. In Christ's name. Amen.

Nudging Them Back To Negotiating

Representatives of steel companies and the United Steelworkers Union are due to resume talks in response to an appeal from the President.

The talks, reported going smoothly in the early stages, broke off abruptly a week ago. That was when the negotiators began to get down to the crux of the bargaining and to pinpoint the differences between demands and offers. Those close to the scene had been predicting that the peace and tranquility would suddenly vanish. Many of them have also indicated that there is fair prospect of reaching an agreement well in advance of June 30, the expiration date for the current contract. Both, and particularly the workers, were in need of some external prompting or pressure for face-saving purposes when it comes to talking about concessions.

Economists are pretty well agreed that the last steel strike played hob with the nation's business and triggered a recession. Now that things are rolling again on the business front, the nation could ill afford another period in the economic doldrums simply because a steel contract can't be effected. To avoid this, and to hold down inflationary trends, this year's contract will likely end up not so far different from the current one.

Pretty Expensive Parking

Sen. Paul Douglas, (D-Ill.), not noted for penny-pinching on federal projects, is understandably upset over plans for an underground Capitol "parking palace" that would cost $47 million to handle only 1,900 cars.

That would be about eight times the cost of similar facilities constructed elsewhere. Sen. Douglas figures that more than a dozen 250-bed hospitals could be built over the country for what the parking garage for congressmen and a few Washington visitors would cost.

Another unfavorable comparison is that the elaborate parking facility would cost several times what is needed to expand the overcrowded Library of Congress. In his latest annual report, Librarian L. Quincy Mumford said that the library's service to Congress and executive agencies, as well as its leadership in library development throughout the country, is being severely handicapped pending the construction of a third building now in the planning stage.

Meanwhile, a third House Office building, estimated to cost $75 million (and provide 1,000 more parking spaces), is nearing completion to rival in grandeur the recent completed second Senate Office Building. And talk is stirring about another costly face-lifting and expansion of the Capitol itself.

Sen. Douglas suggests that a halt be called on Capitol area construction until Congress can review priorities and scrutinize soaring costs. That strikes us as a very sensible suggestion.

A Word To The Extremists

WASHINGTON—In the growing debate over the role of the right wing in American political life no document is likely to have wider circulation—and perhaps also greater influence—than the pamphlet by Father John F. Cronin, S.S., just published by the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Issued last week the pamphlet, entitled "Communism: Threat to Freedom," made the front pages of many newspapers. The N.C.W.C., which is the policy-formulating body of the Catholic Church in this country, plans to give it the widest possible dissemination.

Washington (AP)—No president, probably, ever worked harder at his homework than President Kennedy, if as hard. An astonishing knowledge of details shows through every news conference.

The fact that he's only 44 must be a big help.

The details cover the world, from describing the attitude of a governor in Brazil to telling a reporter his figure was too high when he said 13,000 men faced unemployment in a Long Island plane plant.

Some Rash Opinions

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

The most exciting and glamorous thing about war is that it tends to make the individual feel more important than he does in peace. He is swept by a thrilling feeling of mutual effort and exultant unity.

The greatest trouble with peace is that it blows so few bugles into the average man. It doesn't stir him, as war does, to a realization that the welfare of the group he belongs to is directly dependent on the quality of his own individual performance.

Blind Teaches Blind

LONG BRANCH, N. J. (AP)—A blind X-ray technician has set out to prove that sightless men can do more than just learn a skill—they also can teach it.

Bill Smith, a staff member at Monmouth Medical Center, has designed a four-week training program in X-ray processing to help blind men and women learn a useful occupation. Several have already enrolled.

Smith, blind since he was 7, says: "I don't want to have a job because someone feels sorry for the poor little blind boy. We want to feel we have a job we can do."

Mayor Gets Throne

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Don't blame Tempe City Council candidates if they suddenly decide to run for mayor.

The city purchased new chairs for the councilmen and mayor.

The six councilmen received regular swivel chairs. For the left and right turn features. The mayor's chair also rocks.

He'll Tell The World

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—An automobile running around town has this notation nearly painted on a smashed fender: "HERS."

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Until a few years ago I was a sound sleeper. Now I awaken in the wee hours of the morning and find it difficult to go back to sleep. It seems to involve more than simple insomnia.

When I awaken, I am aware that I am tense. There is a vague, fluttery sensation in the abdominal area, and the palms of my hands perspire. This is sometimes accompanied by shortness of breath. I feel light-headed and fuzzy-minded although there is no pain. The long ordeal leaves me weak and thoroughly exhausted. Is this another case of nerves?—R. R.

Diagnosis is a complex matter of taking some symptoms, calling to mind the various things they might mean, and then adding, clue by clue, the facts that point out that it is this or it isn't that.

As a column writer, I am aware of how much I cannot say, because I can't pack 10 or 12 rapid questions into a face-to-face examination. Nor can I prescribe some probable (and perhaps simple) remedy and say, "Come back in two weeks," knowing that, if it does not work I shall have eliminated an entire broad category of troubles.

"Forgive me if I give away 'trade secrets,' but this is the same, logical and economical (for the patient!) way of getting at some of the many nagging, but non-critical ailments of mankind. We mustn't and don't, of course, apply the economical 'let's see' sort of technique when any sign indicates immediate danger.

Violent dreams, not remembered on waking, which is possible, can cause this sort of thing. That gets into psychiatry, however.

From the purely physical aspect, and this is not exactly what we'd call rare, the patient might have some degree of hypoglycemia—that is, periods of low blood sugar.

If this is it, the trouble can be effectively offset by a bedtime (just before retiring) snack that will liberate its food value gradually: A glass of milk; some crackers and cheese; a small sandwich containing meat or cheese. It's worth a try and cannot do harm. Additionally, mild sedation prescribed by your doctor may be helpful. One or both of these have solved many a case like this. But remember, I can't gauge my answers to fit such facts as may innocently have been omitted from a letter to me.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 67 and my only complaint is a slightly oversized prostate gland that specialists tell me does not call for immediate removal. I believe, though, that this condition impairs my bowel action. I use half of a glycerine suppository once a day. Do you consider this harmful?—R. M.

It is possible for an enlarged prostate to interfere somewhat at times with either bowel or bladder action, depending on which side the prostate gland is enlarged.

Your solution—the half a suppository—is both practical and safe.

Around The Rim

Thar's Life In Them Thar Spaces

A prediction if you please: The greatest ultimate danger in the exploration of space will come from living things.

This peril will be greater than that of atmospheric re-entry, blastoff, landings, meteors, radiation, psychology, or charged particles.

THE EVIDENCE has been piling up for several years that life came from space and that the earth was merely an incubator and, later, a hothouse or greenhouse. The evidences are many, but the two major ones are:

1. Presence in meteoritic objects of virus particles and fossils and
2. Laboratory experiments designed to re-create the spatial and earthly conditions of the time of our planet's birth.

COSMOLOGISTS, in these experiments, have proved that organic particles may be created from inorganic materials under the batterings of high-energy radiations and charged particles, particularly in a high vacuum. Space is not entirely empty. It contains traces of every element. And the high vacuum and other conditions of space make possible a radical chemistry unknown on the earth.

Scientists now are agreed that life must be the rule in this universe rather than the exception. It is a foregone conclusion among most experts that some form of life will be found on our "lifeless" moon, even if it be only viruses.

IT WILL BE no surprise if living matter also is found in the debris of space. Those same bombardments of radiation and nuclear particles that create radical organic materials also serve to keep those same materials broken up, keeping them from forming into the complex molecular chains of which living things (as we know them) are made. So we are not likely to find full-grown viruses floating free in space. They'll be hiding under the moon's dust cover or just under the surface of asteroids and meteors.

THIS DOES NOT MEAN, however, that conditions in deep space (such as dust clouds) cannot offer the same protection for formation of living particles as the primeval earth or the moon's dust jacket or the insides of floating rocks.

Many science fiction writers have depicted indescribable creatures existing, not on strange worlds, but in deep space. Some were benign, others aggressive and voracious. Some of these creatures even ate up spaceships and astronauts. A bit far out? Maybe not. Lots of impossible things have been happening lately, and the flood of wonders has only begun.

War Over A Tartan For Sailors?

Who will deny that this is a contentious and cantankerous century? Every man jack is itching to step out in the alley and put up his dukes.

At any moment now, Uncle Sam is apt to be in a full-scale, shooting war with Scotland. And all because American sailors manning U. S. submarines based in Scottish waters want a tartan all their own. Once upon a time, imitation was the sincerest form of flattery—today it is a casus belli.

SINCE I AM WEDDED to a young American of Scots ancestry, anything I write is guaranteed to get me into trouble both at home and abroad. But, it is beyond the realm of my imagination to envision American sailors in kilts. That is, voluntarily. Bell-bottom trousers, yes; but bell-bottom kilts, no!

However, American submariners based in Scotland want a tartan. It could be that they are stir-crazy. That's my explanation that occurs to me. At all odds, the Americans had gone so far as to have a tartan designed by a Scots expert on tartans when word of this further frightful American invasion of sacred Scottish customs trickled into the Highlands.

WELL, WE MUST face the bad news. The clans are gathering. We shall be lucky if the Scots take their case to the United Nations before declaring war.

It is my inclination to let the submariners have a tartan of their own. If a kilt is any comfort to these men who go down under the sea in ships, and stay there indefinitely, the Scots ought to be proud to share a plaid with brave men. However, the Scots have taken the opposite view, and submariners, before they order kilts, ought to look at the fight record of Scots.

THE ENGLISH have lived in uneasy peace—at least, it is called that—with the Scots for the past two centuries. But up to that time, the Scots for the better part of a millennium made life hell for the English. Even in the 20th Century, the Scots don't seem about to knuckle under. There is a lively separatist movement in the Highlands, one constantly plumping for complete independence from England.

All in all, American submariners should take a second look at this situation, particularly at their own knees, before forcing the issue. Knees, like elbows, are nature's utilitarian hinges, designed for service rather than for beauty. The masculine knee, in particular, is apt to be almost wholly pragmatic. What woman, and I ask this discreetly, has not known a Greek god in day-to-day charcoal gray flannel who fell apart at the knees the moment he took to Bermuda shorts?

FURTHERMORE, are American submariners prepared to accept the corollaries of a tartan? Are they willing to accept haggis as a substitute for C-rations? Haggis, commonly made of a sheep's heart and liver, mixed with onions, suet and oatmeal (ah, there, Dr. Johnson!), is—just to make it tastier—balled in a sheep's stomach. Haggis and kilts are as close as ham 'n' eggs.

Now we come to the bagpipes. A tartan or kilts are unthinkable without a bagpipe. It is my honest opinion that even a sailor weaned on rock 'n' roll might find a steady diet of bagpipe music a strain. It's a bonnie instrument, all right, but one can achieve the same affect with a dozen alarm clocks going off in unison.

STILL AND ALL, if American submariners want to wear kilts and are willing to put up their dukes, they'll find plenty of allies at home as well as in the Highlands.

Little Hope In Disarmament Pact

WASHINGTON — Exchanges of messages between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev are serving only to confuse more and more the issue involved in trying to abolish nuclear war by international agreement.

For the tragic truth about the utter impossibility of assuring safety through so-called disarmament agreements has not been revealed to the world. President Kennedy's statement, for instance, that he will offer at the forthcoming Geneva conference "a series of concrete plans for a major 'breakthrough to peace'" is in itself likely to raise false hopes.

THE PRESIDENT says he will include "specific proposals for fair and enforceable agreements to halt the production of fissionable materials and nuclear weapons and their transfer to other nations. This in itself can be done. Halting further production, however, is meaningless because the stockpiles are already massive in quantity.

Mr. Kennedy also proposes "to destroy the warheads and the delivery systems that threaten man's existence." This cannot really be accomplished because fissionable materials cannot be destroyed. Some scientists a few years ago proposed that the material could be "denatured" by mixing it with another element to make it unsuitable for use in weapons, but subsequently it was discovered that any such impurities could be removed.

AS TO THE destruction of delivery systems, this, too, raises false hopes. As a matter of fact, atomic weapons today are so light and so small that they can be carried by almost any kind of plane. Even passenger planes can carry them.

To say, therefore, that all delivery systems would be destroyed goes beyond what is reasonable or feasible.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY's proposal that "warheads" be "destroyed" is a sequel to the recommendation made by President Eisenhower in 1953 that eventually all weapons should be "sanitized" so as to extract from them all the fissionable material that might be useful for peaceful purposes. But in the intervening nine years so much fissionable material has been accumulated by both the United States and the Soviet Union—so much more than is currently required for peaceful uses—that the commodity itself cannot be readily and permanently disposed of. Even if it were sunk in the ocean, it could be secretly recovered.

Indeed, if the fissionable materials were kept in a form that is not immediately usable for weapons, they could be converted back to full weapon use within a period of only a few weeks.

THIS ALL ADDS up to the fact that the power to destroy by means of nuclear weapons cannot be nullified merely by non-use or by destroying warheads or weapons systems or by converting fissionable materials to peaceful uses.

It seems to have been overlooked, also, that if any major nation like the United States accepted restrictions that would for a little while render it weak, the nation with the largest conventional forces could suddenly attack and capture the stockpiles of fissionable materials.

TO TURN OVER to the United Nations all nuclear weapons or materials wouldn't solve the problem either. For the U.N. is itself subject to the whims of a majority which can be dominated by one or another of the major powers.

The President's whole case is based on the assumption that an agreement can be made with the Soviets which would permit periodic inspection by the other side, and that there is some way to keep watch inside Russia by some international system of constant observation. In times like the present, when minutes count, the prospect is not bright that quick action by an inspection group could be depended upon, especially since the Soviets have managed to entangle every written agreement they have ever made with a cumbersome mechanism of so-called "enforcement."

IT IS NOT possible today to deprive peoples everywhere of the ingredients of gunpowder or dynamite. Nor is crime prevented in American cities by limiting the sale of guns, large or small, to persons of peaceful purpose, including those engaged in hunting game. The key to preventing war lies not in the destruction of weapons, but in the controls placed upon those human beings who might be likely to pull the trigger.

This means that democracy and freedom must be established wherever autonomy or dictatorship exists today. Ways and means of concerting the will of peoples need far more attention than international conferences which pursue with the dictators themselves a fruitless purpose—agreements that are not worth the paper on which they are written.

Advocates Will Power

Shelley Ames, new addition to CBS-TV's "Father of the Bride" series, tells how she lost 20 pounds and never gained it back by curtailing her food intake and exercising will power.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Keeping Weight Off Harder Than Losing

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Shelley Ames confesses that she never would have won a role on CBS-TV's "Father of the Bride" series if she didn't have will power.

"I am 20 pounds lighter now, and that's what pleases me," she said. "That was three years ago and I haven't gained it back. Anyone can lose weight. To take it off is one thing, but to keep it off is another."

"No one can reduce for you. Fat has to come off because you want it off. Before I went to the University of Utah, I realized that my figure was awful. I wanted to make a good impression on the new friends I was going to meet, so that summer I told myself that I could not have potatoes, bread and butter, anything fried or sweet. I was not going to count calories but I was going to eat less. It worked. In 10 weeks I lost 20 pounds. My mother was so delighted with me that she bought me all new clothes."

"Now I eat sparingly of the things I know will put on weight. You have to change your habits or you'll find yourself right back from where you started. I check my weight regularly and if I've gained more than my normal fluctuation, I go on a diet immediately," she said as she sipped a cup of sugarless tea.

"New fat goes easily, but your body makes an adjustment if you wait too long, and then you have to work much harder for the same result."

I wanted to know how Shelley took off those 20 pounds, which she admits is her warning of gaining too much.

"For breakfast, I have orange juice or a half grapefruit, one hard boiled egg and black coffee. I find an egg is more filling when it is boiled a long time. My lunch varies with cottage cheese or lean meat, skim milk, sliced tomatoes and a fresh apple. For dinner I have meat, fish or chicken, a green salad, vegetables without butter and no dessert. I take vitamins as a food supplement and two teaspoonsful of wheat germ oil. I feel well," Shelley explained, "and in one day I can lose two pounds."

S. D. Smart Funeral Pends At Ralls

Samuel David Smart, 57, owner of the Triple Gables Motel at 3500 US 80 West, died about 1:30 p.m. Thursday from a gunshot wound, ruled by Justice of Peace Walter Grice to be self-inflicted.

Officers arriving at the scene found the man's body in the west driveway at the motel with a head wound and a 12-gauge automatic shotgun on the ground beside the body. One shell had been fired in the gun, and three remained in the magazine, all with No. 4 shot.

Police radio dispatcher Doris Smith received a telephone call at 1:33 p.m. from someone in the area saying that a man was dead in the driveway of the motel. Patrolman Tracy Kupper arrived at the scene at 1:35 and other officers shortly afterward.

Detectives Aubrey Hurley and Jack Jones, who investigated the incident, said Smart left a note on the desk of his office which indicated that the man had been despondent and had possibly suffered from severe head pains.

Funeral services are pending at Carter Funeral Home at Ralls. The body was taken to Ralls Friday morning by River Funeral Home.

Students Run Government For A Day

Eighty-seven persons attended a breakfast this morning at the Settles Hotel to kick off Student Government Day in Big Spring. The group consisted of state, county and city officials and their student counterparts. Only Wayne Burns, county attorney, who is out of town, was absent from the group.

Ed Foreman, an Odessa business leader and Republican candidate for U. S. Representative, was the speaker. He spoke of the need for persons to become active in government and political fields and urged the students to support the party of their choice.

He advised students to make the choice of what kind of life they are going to lead, pointing out that they can go along with the crowd and do only the minimum, or they can work harder and longer than others and get ahead of the crowd.

After the breakfast, students went with their official counterparts to observe government in action. Activities included a city commission meeting held this morning for the benefit of student commissioners, a session in Corporation Court and a trial in 118th District Court.

Some of the students, such as Coy Mitchell, who is student Chief of Police, will have to cut his day short because of other activities. Mitchell was due to play in a school baseball game this afternoon.

His morning, however, was filled with a tour of the police station under the direction of Leo Hull, assistant chief of police, and a visit to the courtroom.

Others, such as Sandra Long, student County Health Nurse, will have a longer day. Miss Long this morning was briefed on operation of the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit by Dr. Bowen, her official counterpart, and for the afternoon she was scheduled to accompany Miss Bowen on one or more calls.

A total of 41 students from Big Spring, Sands in Ackerly and Foran are taking part in Student Government Day program. Two score high school boys and girls, seated in the 118th District Court room, watched with intense interest this morning as a youth of their age pleaded guilty to a charge of car theft.

They heard the owner of the stolen car tell how it was taken from its parking place last December. They listened as a city detective testified about the investigation into the theft and heard him identify the youth seated at the defense table as the same person named in the indictment.

Then they watched as the defendant Kenneth Dwayne Vaccaro, 17, stood stiffly before Judge Ralph Caton and heard the judge sentence him to serve two years in the state penitentiary.

The students were in the court visiting of various offices as a part of the school week program being carried out.

The defendant had been indicted by the recent grand jury and is facing trials in Lubbock and elsewhere for other complaints.

This Sheriff (Age 16) Sees Courthouse For First Time

"Would it be all right if I visited the other offices in the courthouse?" asked the sheriff diffidently.

"Certainly," was the reply, "but why do you want to visit the other offices?"

"Well," explained the sheriff, "you see, I am 16 years old and I have never been in a court house before until today."

In case you are confused, the sheriff in this case was Dina Baxter, senior in the Big Spring high school. Her appointment as sheriff was for Friday only and she was making her official appearance at Miller Harris's office.

The slender brunette has had a big time being sheriff. She made a trip earlier this week to Rusk with the every-day sheriff, when Harris escorted a prisoner to the jail there.

This morning, she rode out with the deputies when they went to "pick up" a prisoner on a warrant.

And a little later, she got to visit the courthouse.

At Officers' Meet

Harry Davis and Willard M. Hill, psychologists at the Big Spring State Hospital, are in Odessa today attending a meeting of Texas probation officers for the Northwest District. They will be on a panel taking part in today's session of the two-day meeting which ends tonight.

One of many experiments performed in High School science courses is being demonstrated here by Doug Whitley, physics and chemistry instructor. The schools offer the student a thorough grounding in the sciences, including an advanced course for students planning to major in the sciences at the college level.

TEXAS EDUCATION WEEK

Varied Math, Science Curriculum Is Offered

From the simple arithmetic problem of "one plus one equals two" to the complex abstraction of "a plus b equals c," students in the Big Spring Independent School District are offered a complete background in mathematics. The outline in the sciences is the same.

The student planning to attend college and desiring a thorough grounding in science and mathematics may pick and choose from a wide variety of offerings. The student planning to end his education with high school graduation will find the offerings also suitable to his needs.

All students receive a grounding in mathematics, from the first day they enroll in the school system until they have completed the tenth grade. The last two years of school can be free of mathematics if the student desires.

Becoming acquainted with numbers is the first grade level program. Recognizing and mastering number manipulation is the goal. In the second grade, the student begins with simple addition and subtraction and in the third grade these problems become more difficult.

Fractional numbers are put into the curriculum at the third grade level.

In the fourth grade, multiplication and division of numbers is introduced. Numbers involving money and Roman numerals are included in the classwork.

Bigger numbers, graphs, geometric forms, more complicated fractions come into the curriculum in the fifth grade. By this time, the student is handling addition, subtraction, multiplication and division in more complex sizes.

In the sixth grade, complicated problems and symbols are introduced. This is the last of the primary grades and students are expected to have a good foundation for higher mathematics at this point.

In junior high school, per cents, lines and angles, simple geometry and substitution of letters for numbers are pursued in the seventh grade. In the eighth grade, considerable time is spent consolidating and enlarging upon the mathematics already learned and putting some of the skills to use in business problems.

Going over to high school, the student gets his first choice in the matter of math. He may elect to take Algebra, particularly if he intends to enroll in college; or he may select general math, designed for the student who will end his education at high school. If he takes general math in the ninth grade and follows it with business math in the tenth grade, he may end his math education at that time. These are all that are required.

For the college bound student, there are two Algebra courses, one for each of the ninth and tenth grades, followed by a geometry course, another in trigonometry, one in solid geometry and ending up with a College Algebra course when the student is a senior. This complete math program will prepare a student, at the high school level, for any course of study he may desire when he moves into the college classroom. It is as complete as any offered in Texas school systems.

A well developed science program is also offered in Big Spring. Some phases of science are discussed in classrooms from the minute the student is enrolled. But it is the fourth grade before the student begins pursuit of a course of study with science definitely in mind. A life and earth science program is offered in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Many avenues can be taken in this course, left largely to the teacher. She tends to help students follow their natural curiosity about such things, helping them collect rocks, or collect butterflies, or any number of similar programs.

At the seventh grade, a life science course is required, which includes a half year of health instruction and a half year of biology, paleontology and similar type studies.

At the ninth grade in high school, the student may elect between biology or general science. The latter is a general sampling of all the sciences. However this course is being dropped in September as the staff plans to substitute a physical science course.

General science will be moved to the tenth grade, where there will also be an offering of practical science, a second year of biology and a course in chemistry. At the 11th grade, a physics course is offered.

For the student who plans to make science his career, an advanced science course was launched this year. It is available to senior students who will major in science at the college level and

Scientist Sees Betterment Of Human Heredity

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Future parents will select their children's characteristics from sperm banks, a Nobel Prize-winning scientist says.

Only in this manner can the human race prevent a genetic decline that spells self-destruction, the scientist, Dr. Hermann J. Muller of Indiana University, told the faculty and students at Colorado College.

The 71-year-old zoologist predicted that sperm banks will be in operation in this country within a generation or two.

"As the accruing benefits of this new way of life, both the spiritual and material benefits, become more manifest, more and more of the general public will wish to join in partaking of the rewards," he said.

The speaker was awarded the 1946 Nobel Prize for proving that radiation produces hereditary changes in living cells.

Muller did not discuss the sperm banks in detail—who would administer them, how donors would be selected and so on. However, he said parents would be able to select such physical and personal characteristics as color of hair, unusual intelligence, or sturdy physique.

Supt. Abe Holder Gets Salary Hike

LAMESA (SC)—Supt. Abe Holder was voted a $500 a year salary increase and given a one-year extension on his contract, by Lamesa school trustees recently.

Holder's contract extension gives him another three-year contract, effective July 1, and sets his annual salary slightly above $11,000. Trustees also increased the pay of substitute teachers from $8 to $12 a day.

Holder presented a proposed budget for study and listed an increment of $160 on teacher pay which would put the system back at $300 above the state level. He also urged the appointment of a counselor for junior high school and a business manager or assistant superintendent.

Jayhawks Get Scare But Win Over LCC

AMARILLO — Favorites came through without a slip-up in the first round of the Region V basketball tournament here Thursday but top-rated HCJC and Odessa had very close calls.

HCJC, which brought a 27-4 win-loss record here, had to go overtime to edge a scrappy, upset-minded Lubbock Christian College team, 57-55. Odessa was out-shot from the field but beat the Amarillo Badgers at the foul line, 55-54.

In other games, San Angelo had an easier time than expected with Frank Phillips, winning by a score of 97-72, while NMMI outlasted Clarendon, 82-71.

The regulation game between HCJC and Lubbock Christian College ended with the score at 50-50. LCC had deliberately slowed down the game. The strategy almost paid off. The Hawks could never get their game smoothed out.

The outlook looked very bleak in the extra period because the Hawks had three players out with fouls — Elvis Spradling, Ernest Turner and Jim Wilburn.

Big Walter Carter and Lou Balenton came through, however, for the Hawks. Carter hit five points and Balenton two in the overtime for the Big Spring club to more than offset three points scored by Jerry Haley and two by Cherry Eldredge. HCJC never trailed in the extra period.

Carter, emerged as HCJC's high point man with 16, well below his average. Haley, a Colorado City boy, was the top man of the game for LCC and the game, with 21 points.

HCJC led by as much as six points in the second half, 46-40, after trailing by two at half-time. SAC was expected to have a difficult time with Frank Phillips but the Rams all but bombed the Plainsmen off the court.

Bobby Shuffield scored 20 points and Kirby Pugh 15 for San Angelo while Jackie Barnett and Jim Norton each had 16 for the losers.

Steers Host Lubbock, Mustangs In 4 Games

By Saturday evening, coaches Roy Baird and Joe Sibley of the Big Spring Steers should have a fair idea of the strength of their baseball club.

The Longhorns play two today against the strong Lubbock Westerners, then return Saturday for a doubleheader against the Sweetwater Mustangs.

All four games will be played here and the first game each day gets under way at 1 p.m. Present plans call for each game to go seven innings.

Ponies Scrap Tech Tonight

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—With a capacity crowd on hand and a limited television audience looking on, Southern Methodist and Texas Tech battle tonight for a berth in the NCAA basketball playoffs.

The Southwest Conference champions meet in 7,166-seat Daniel-Meyer Coliseum on the Texas Christian University campus.

The winner will go into the first round of the NCAA playoffs Monday night against the Air Force Academy at Dallas.

Tonight's game is the last between Southwest Conference teams this season. Texas and Texas Christian wound up the schedule with a makeup game here Thursday night. The Longhorns won 75-61 but the outcome made no change in the standings.

Other teams finished conference play Tuesday. SMU, with 6-6 scoring ace Jan Laudermilk, is a slight favorite over Texas Tech, led by talented 6-10 Harold Hudgens and 5-10 Del Ray Mouton.

In their two previous meetings, Texas Tech won 68-63 in Dallas and SMU triumphed by the same score in Lubbock.

Jayhawk Thinly Clads Are Due Back At Denton Meet

DENTON—Entry lists are due this weekend for the 11th annual North Texas Relays, scheduled March 16-17 at Fouts Field.

Winton (Pop) Noah, NTSU track coach and meet director, said all entries should be in his hands by Monday morning.

The North Texas meet is being held a month earlier than usual. Coach Noah couldn't set the normal Relays schedule of April 14 because the high school regional meets were moved back to that weekend and NTSU is a region host.

The regional dates were changed originally to avoid the Easter vacation over the weekend of the 21st.

Rev. Mayo To Conduct Revival Here

The Rev. Clifford Mayo, Lubbock, will be the evangelist for the spring revival at the Church of the Nazarene, 14th and Lancaster, starting today at 7:30 p.m. and continuing through March 18.

Rev. Mayo is a graduate of Texas Technological College at Lubbock and did graduate work at Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky., where he received a B.D. degree in 1952. He has done evangelistic work over most of the United States and Mexico, much of which was interdenominational.

For four consecutive years, Rev. Mayo was evangelist for the Greater Tri-City Area Interdenominational Youth Revival, New Albany, Ind. Participating denominations included Methodist, Nazarene, Baptist, Assembly of God, United Brethren, and Presbyterian.

The United Wesleyan Revival in Dallas also had Rev. Mayo as evangelist in the summer of 1961. Six different denominations sponsored this evangelistic effort, in which he spoke to capacity crowds.

The evangelist has completed a year as a Methodist Home Missionary for Latin Americans; six years as a pastor; and six and one-half years in the field of full-time evangelism.

According to the pastor of the local Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. W. M. Dorrough, the revival will also feature special music and singing at each service. The last weekend of the revival, March 16-18, the Good-News Quartet of Fort Worth will be on hand. All services are open to the public.

Marshall Brown will be in charge of the singing with Mrs. Bob Spears, organist, and Mrs. Earl Bohannon, pianist. Friday night, the Youth Choir, directed by Bob Spears, will present special music.

As the years passed, Moore decided he wanted to become a policeman and eight years ago he joined the force.

Eventually they met on the same church program, unaware the other would be there. But religious faith and the passing years had replaced hatred with fellowship. They decided that together they could carry an effective message of brotherhood that might help in the battle against juvenile delinquency.

Moore later took up the battle and suffered severe stab wounds. For weeks he hovered between life and death, one thought dominating his conscious moments—to get well and get revenge.

But Bennett was sent to prison, and other crimes—burglaries and robberies committed during prison breaks—kept him behind bars 23 years.

The Obligation to Be Truthful

THE RIGHTNESS OF SPEAKING THE TRUTH AND AN ILLUSTRATION OF YIELDING TO THE TEMPTATION TO SPEAK FALSELY

Scripture—Exodus 20:16; Matthew 12:35-37; 26:69-75; Proverbs 12:17.

By N. SPEER JONES

SO OFTEN we hear good people referring genially to "a little white lie" they may have told. They usually confess this without shame, for a "white lie" may even be told with the best of motives—to spare someone else some unpleasantness, for instance.

Such a little deception is really cause for grave concern, though it may not seem so. In a situation where love appears to override truth, it would seem better to say nothing at all, rather than yield to the temptation to lie slightly. For the whole trouble with the "little white lie" is that it leads very easily and imperceptibly into a larger and grayer lie, then on to a "big black lie."

Man's heart is never static. It changes constantly, growing more good or more evil in different ways, as he feeds it from his store of experience. The little white lies or little truths—built upon each other to form either great malignancies or great pearls.

For this reason, the Bible exhorts us constantly, especially in the New Testament, to maintain strict vigilance over our hearts. In today's lesson Christ reminds us that "out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh" (Matthew 12:34).

Man's heart is a treasure, created by him as he moves through life. The word "treasure" (Matthew 12:35) is a translation of the Greek "thesaurus," treasure chest. The words he speaks generally reflect this reservoir.

It is true that people often say one thing and do another, and certainly everyone tries to be good.

GOLDEN TEXT

"By your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned."—Matthew 12:37.

(Matthew 12:37). He reminds us of the enormous power of speech, a tool which we all use and which most of us take pretty much for granted.

Just as the motorist is apt to forget that his toe unleashes the power of 300 horses, the housewife or salesman is apt to forget that his or her words can make or break hearts, ruin young lives or endow them with greatness.

It is also true that those who wield their tool of speech with the greatest power are often those least qualified to do so. The demagogues like Hitler can rouse people to frenzies and ruin whole nations, while some of our wisest men sit silent.

So it behooves us all to pay close attention to what we say, and to develop our tool of speech for good—both immediate good and for the treasure of our hearts.

When Christ warns us that our words can condemn us

WHAT GOD HAS JOINED TOGETHER

The language of Matthew 19:6 is so important to those who desire to live right before God. "... what therefore God hath joined together, let no man put asunder." Married people who become impatient with each other need on their walls this motto: "This problem, when solved, will be simple." Someone once said, "The years teach us much, which the days never know." It is so easy for this generation, with their minds unregenerated in Christ, to cut marriage asunder almost at will, lowering themselves to the level of a brute beast instead of respecting the impulses of sex as from God, with the divine purport of procreation.

What God has joined together is ours to either sweeten by love or to sour by neglect; marriage is "physical," but it cannot succeed if left to the physical alone, or if the spiritual, ethical, moral side is ignored. There must be the spiritual and intellectual manifestations, which lead to creative love and one is as sacred as the other. What God hath joined together, is not intended to end by hatred, aversion and laxity in a civil divorce court! For what God hath joined can be broken only by death or the guilt of adultery. It cannot, as a law of God, be broken before God by a decree of human law. It cannot be broken by trying to go back at the beginning of the marriage and complain that perhaps God did not "join" it in the first place. It cannot be broken by the "lie" of mental cruelty when no adultery is involved; nor can marriage be broken by disgust, anger and infatuation with some other silly person. What God hath joined together is "one" husband and "one" wife. Marriage is not the product of man's experimentation, as though he, by the process of "evolution" could evolve to his present state of marriage to one person as against "polygamy" or "polyandry." People have sometimes descended to those states, but man started in the "Garden of Eden" with marriage and this has been and will be his only "happy" condition unless, of course, he mars his own joy with SIN. Like it or not, friend, this is where we are because God made us this way; rebel as we may, or try to make infidels out of man as some will, the facts of man will remain.

Elbert R. Garretson, Minister

Austin College Choirs Will Appear Here Sunday

The Austin College A Cappella Choir and Brass Choir of Sherman will appear at the First Presbyterian Church here Sunday at 11 a.m.

The current tour of the choir is the second of the 1961-62 school year. Last fall, they toured seven cities in Southeast Texas and Louisiana.

The 53-voice A Cappella Choir will be directed by Bruce G. Lunkey, voice teacher and director of choral activities at Austin College. Director of the 13-piece Brass Choir is Daniel Boda, teacher of violin and music theory. Included in the Brass Choir are four trombones, four trumpets, tuba, two baritone horns, and two French horns.

Included on the program for the choir's spring tour are selections from J. S. Bach's motet "Jesu, Joy and Treasure" by the A Cappella Choir. The group will also sing "Dank Sei Unserm Herrn" (Schuetz), "Looke Downe O Lorde" and "Be Unto Me, O Lorde, A Tower of Strength" by Byrd, and "Bonum Est Confiteri" by Palestrina.

Other songs by the A Cappella Choir will be Vaughn Williams' "Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Refuge," and five traditional American hymns, "Begin My Soul," "I Will Arise," "Bright Canaan," "His Voice As the Sound," and "Saints Bound For Heaven."

The Brass Choir will be featured in "A Mighty Fortress is Our God" by Bach, excerpts from "The Fairy Queen" by Purcell, "Prelude and Fugue" by King, and the recessional from "Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mendelssohn.

Soloists

Feature soloists for the Austin College A Cappella Choir are Florence Spragins, Little Rock, Ark., and George Livings, Dallas. The choir, along with the Brass Choir from Austin College, will perform at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday at 11 a.m.

Give God A Chance—God Will Open Doors For You!

WANDERLUST

You see a giant ship at dockside and suddenly, you yearn to board her and journey to far-off, exotic ports.

Why? For the sake of excitement — adventure — or because, like most people, you feel the need to escape, at times, even from yourself?

This desire to escape is human. But it is also impossible. No matter where you go, the self you'd like to fling away, travels with you.

Sail the seven seas, if you can. But first find personal peace. Go to church. God shows you, through His Church, the only way that you, and that self of yours, truly can travel together.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Webb Officer Hurt In Wreck

An officer from Webb AFB, Lt. Terry J. Uyeama, 27, was taken to the base hospital in a River ambulance following a two-car accident at the intersection of Birdwell Lane and Marcy at 10 p.m. Thursday. He suffered a possible broken nose and other injuries, but was not in serious condition. The small car he was driving was listed as a total loss.

Driver of the second car involved was Gerald Wayne Moore, 194 Lincoln, a 17-year-old student, who was accompanied by Barbara Daily. Neither was seriously injured although both were reported bruised and sore Friday morning. Damage to the car was estimated at $500.

2 Men Held In Robberies

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Baytown men were in jail today, charged with robbing two Houston loan firms of $1,700.

Officers arrested Elmer Jack Boney, 23, an ex-convict, and Floyd Franklin Robertson, 28, Thursday night.

HCJC Trustees Okay Extensions

Slight extensions of the sidewalk and parking area project were approved Thursday by the Howard County Junior College board of trustees.

The board also indicated that it would begin to look at science buildings in some other schools with the idea that such a project should be the next in line at the college. Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said space was the problem. A new science building adequate for all needs, would enable the college to handle more than twice its current enrollment, he said.

In this connection, John Gary and Daryl Hohertz appeared to ask consideration of the board in architectural services if and when any new buildings are erected.

Presented to the board was Doug Davis, member of the local chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and historian for the national unit. With him were Mrs. Elizabeth K. Martin and Rudolph Brewster, sponsors. Phi Theta Kappa is a scholarship fraternity for junior colleges, the counterpart to Phi Beta Kappa for senior colleges.

Dr. P. W. Malone, who presided at the board meeting, commended Davis for his record.

The paving on Adams Avenue will be extended about 30 feet east to cover the intersection for the turnout to the new parking area opposite the Dora Roberts Student Union Building. A sidewalk from the paving area to the cottage for the superintendent of grounds also will be installed. A unit price of $1.75 per square yard of paving and $1.50 per linear foot of curb and gutter, plus $10 for the sidewalk were quoted.

Approval of the purchase of two more welding machines at a cost slightly in excess of $500 was voted. The cost is covered in fees for instruction.

Dr. Hunt reported on final enrollment figures for the spring. The total was 657, a gain of 52 over the spring of last year, up about 8.5 per cent. The fall enrollment of 721 was 12.5 more than the 641 of the fall semester in 1960. He also reported that all arrangements have been made for the election of trustees April 7.

P-TA Elects New Officers

New officers elected for the coming year at the Boydstun School P-TA meeting Thursday were Mrs. T. A. Harris, president; Mrs. R. E. Watkins, vice president; Mrs. Jesse Majors, secretary; and Mrs. B. C. Coleman, treasurer. Seventy members were present for the meeting and voted to revise the by-laws.

M. R. Turner, principal, gave the devotional opening of the meeting. "Space Age Science" was presented by Don Bynum and John Fish of the high school physics department.

Mrs. Dwight McCann, president, expressed appreciation for the mothers' participation in the Heart Fund. Mrs. O. R. Gilliam, Savings Stamp chairman, announced the sale of $114.30 in stamps for February. Mrs. W. C. Blankenship's Fourth Grade won first in sales, and N. D. Green's Sixth Grade won second. Mrs. Blankenship's room also won the room count Thursday.

Cub Packs Are Merged

A joint business meeting of Cub Scout Packs 138 and 238 held Thursday night at College Heights Elementary School resulted in a merger of the two groups. The group retained the designation Pack 138.

W. T. McRee, local scout executive, presided over the meeting until C. J. Chapman was elected the new committee chairman. Other officers were then elected.

Leaders for the Pack will meet on the third Thursday of each month, with Pack meetings on the fourth Thursday of each month.

Leaders elected at the meeting are Joe Davis, cubmaster; and assistant cubmasters Bill Tubb, Bill Draper, J. R. Piper and Marvin Woodridge.

Other committeemen are J. C. Jones, A. D. Jenkins, W. L. Talafuse and James Weidel.

Public Employees Elect New Officers

New officers were installed at a meeting of the Texas Public Employees Association at the Big Spring State Hospital Thursday night, according to Mrs. Hilla Weathers, reporter.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, installed the officers. Chaplain Max Maguire was guest speaker.

Dr. Harrison and Mrs. Ollie Jolley, nursing service, presented motivation awards to Mrs. Dorothy Hassell, Mrs. Mary Hughes, Mrs. Lorna Baum and Bill Owens. New officers are Shelby Parnell, president; Mrs. Hassell, vice president; Mrs. Oleta Weaver, secretary - treasurer; and Mrs. Weathers, reporter.

THE FRONT ROW

By BOB SMITH

News from all over: "Advise and Consent," the play that blows the dome off the U. S. Capitol, will be in Lubbock Auditorium Tuesday evening. Starring are Farley Granger and Chester Morris.

Also in Lubbock Auditorium will be a special show by Genevieve, that delightful French dancer who rose to U. S. fame on Jack Paar's show. The Lubbock appearance will be Monday, March 26.

Three new dance dramas, plus "The Medium," by Menotti, will be the March 14-17 offering of the department of drama at the University of Texas.

The Big Spring Film Club's next selection will be "One Summer of Happiness," at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

This Swedish picture has received four film festival awards. A drama of young love, it gives an insight into a staid rural community in a period of social transition. The plot throws together a farm girl and a vacationing student for a brief period of happiness before tragedy strikes.

They're getting real ambitious over in Odessa. Handel's "Messiah" will be presented with a chorus of 7 thousand voices accompanied by a hundred-piece orchestra.

The gigantic undertaking will be under the baton of James Gambino, who conceived the idea. The performance will be in Ector County Coliseum.

Gambino is combing the Permian Basin area for soloists and chorus members. Those interested may contact the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, whose cultural affairs committee is sponsoring. Auditions for solo parts will be held this coming Sunday at 3 p.m. in St. Luke's Methodist Church in Odessa.

Proceeds will go to Otto's Boys Ranch at North Cowden.

Dallas' opera season is to run

May 8-13 at State Fair Music Hall. The Metropolitan from New York will stage the entire season.

Included are "Salome," "The Girl of the Golden West," "Tosca," "Lolita di Lammernoor," "Cosi Fan Tutte," "La Forza del Destino," and "Aida."

Many local opera lovers may perk up to hear that among the singers will be Theodor Uppman, who was featured here a couple of years ago on a Concert Association program. He'll portray Guglielmo in "Cosi Fan Tutte."

Anyone going up North Carolina way? If so, and if you're art lovers, you might take in the "Murals of North Carolina" which now decorate the assembly hall of the Knapp Building, Institute of Government, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The murals are by Francis Van-dever Kugler, and from the looks of a brochure the university sent us, they're pretty good.

Kids Stand Up For Predators

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—First graders at Cielo Vista Elementary School have asked Gov. Edmund G. Brown to save predatory animals.

"Dear Mr. Governor," wrote Melody Westby, 6, "I would like to see a skunk even if they do smell bad."

"Please Mr. Government," pleaded Steve Smith, 6, "I've never see a mountain lion. Please don't poison them."

"Dear Mr. Governor," wrote Mark Pelton, 6, "I love coyotes cause they are nice and God made them."

The youngsters wrote to the governor Thursday at the request of Pearl M. Tyne, president of the Defenders of Wildlife. Dr. Dwight E. Twist, superintendent of schools, said Mrs. Tyne asked support for an assembly resolution against unnecessary destruction of predatory wild animals.

Lopez broke through the door. He grabbed Barbara and scurried out handing Barbara to her mother. Lopez ran without waiting for a word of thanks.

"I was too embarrassed to be seen in the bermuda shorts," he explained.

Paper Threatened Over Secret Army

GRAZ, Austria (AP)—The newspaper Kleine Zeitung said Thursday it had received a telephone call threatening grave consequences unless it stopped a serialized report on the right-wing Secret Army Organization in Algeria.

An editor of the paper said the caller identified himself as acting on orders of the secret army.

Methodists Begin Drive For Schools

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Methodists launched a drive to raise $32 million for their colleges and universities Thursday night and quickly received pledges for more than a fourth of the total sought in the next five years.

A $600,000 gift from R. E. Smith, Houston oil man, was among 1,056 pledges totaling $8,482,187. He is general chairman of the campaign.

Along with advance gift reports to the United Capital Funds for Texas Methodist Higher Education, church members heard spirited pep talks at a 2 1/2-hour dinner meeting.

Ranking clergymen, lay leaders and educators were present from throughout the state.

The North Texas Conference, which includes Dallas, reported 378 pledges totaling $4,432,329. The Northwest Texas Conference had $1,261,867 in advance gifts, the Central Texas $815,908 and Southwest Texas $56,818.

Charles Ferguson of New York, senior editor of Reader's Digest and a former Southern Methodist cheer leader, told the gathering: "I don't think we should have to sell education as a lead pipe cinch. Education, like everything else, is a risk."

"We should sell education because we have confidence in it and in ourselves."

"A lot of Russian children are being educated, but not as Christians. Here is an effort not only to equal them but to surpass their education."

Cop Saves Child From House Fire

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Clad only in Bermuda shorts, off-duty policeman Ralph Lopez, 27, broke down the door of a neighbor's burning home and rescued a 3-year-old girl.

Firemen said the child, Barbara Morin, apparently started the fire while playing with a cigarette lighter.

Her mother, Mrs. Ralph Morin, was outside hanging clothes to dry. She dashed into the house and rescued her 7-month-old baby. When she tried to return, she found she had locked the door.

Lopez broke through the door. He grabbed Barbara and scurried out handing Barbara to her mother. Lopez ran without waiting for a word of thanks.

"I was too embarrassed to be seen in the bermuda shorts," he explained.

Guard To Begin Air Defense

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas National Guard will take over several Nike Hercules air defense batteries as soon as training programs are completed.

Gov. Price Daniel said Thursday he hoped "this is merely a first step which will eventually see state troops operating all Nike sites in Texas."

Guardsmen will man the sites with several civilian technicians. Employed by the adjutant general's department. The technicians will enter the active Army training program, Daniel said. Most of the full-time guardsmen will be trained at Army Service schools. The courses vary from eight to 45 weeks and most will be at the Army Air Defense School at Ft. Bliss.

'Decadent' Jazz To Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union, where kings and jazz officially are decadent, soon will have both in a visit by Benny Goodman, "The king of swing."

A two-year cultural exchange agreement signed Thursday by American and Soviet officials will boost by 10 to 15 per cent the number of exchange visits of teachers, technicians, artists, officials, athletes and others between the two countries. An estimated 2,000 exchanges a year were carried out under the 1960-1 agreement.

This will be the first time a Goodman jazz group has played in the Soviet Union. Communist negotiators first balked at including the clarinetist in the exchange. Red officialdom frowns on jazz as a "decadent bourgeois product."

But, U.S. negotiators prevailed after pointing out that Goodman has performed with classical music groups in this country and will be able to do the same in the Soviet Union as well as play jazz.

The New York City Ballet and the Robert Shaw Chorale are also slated to tour the Soviet Union this year, while the Soviet Union is sending to the United States the Bolshoi Theater Ballet, the Leningrad Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra and the Ukrainian Dance Ensemble.

Both sides hailed the expanded agreement as a step forward in U.S.-Soviet relations, otherwise bogged down in cold war disputes. The negotiations had been under way at the State Department since January.

U.S. officials declined to label the 33-page pact as a victory for the United States, but they favored the program generally as a means of penetrating the isolationism of the Soviet Union.

While the U.S. negotiators won some new projects, as did the Soviets, the American side admittedly made little headway in expanding the free flow of information in winning broader research opportunities for U.S. students in the Soviet Union or in gaining financial compensation for U.S. artistic performances in the Soviet Union comparable to what the Soviets get here.

The Soviets did agree to a U.S. proposal to double, from 50,000 to 100,000, the circulation of each other's official monthly magazine. The United States has been providing "Amerika" for Soviet readers and the Soviets have

Rocket Destroyed

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP)—The Army says a Nike-Zeus anti-missile rocket was destroyed on purpose because it veered off course after launching.

The firing here Thursday was planned as a test of the rocket's key third stage—the one designed to seek out and destroy enemy missiles in space.

An Army spokesman declined to say whether the unsuccessful test would delay two forthcoming tests—the planned nuclear blasts in the Pacific next month and the Kwajalein Island Nike-Zeus tests planned for later in the spring.

Comic Acquitted But Fined Anyway

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Comedian Lenny Bruce has been acquitted by a Municipal Court jury of using obscene language in a night club act here last October. But Bruce was fined $100 for contempt of court following a separate hearing held after the jury's verdict was returned Thursday night.

Municipal Court Judge Clayton W. Horn ruled the comedian was guilty of contempt of court because of a letter in which Bruce complained of unfair treatment in earlier court appearances and questioned Horn's qualifications to preside in the case. The letter was delivered to Judge Horn on the first day of Bruce's four-day trial.
