

WEBB NOT LISTED IN BASE CLOSINGS

The Air Force announced in Washington Friday night that it will close two pilot training bases in June, but there was no indication that Webb AFB in Big Spring is affected.

The Herald contacted Congressman George Mahon in Washington Saturday. He said:

"The Air Force has been planning for some time to reduce the number of pilot training bases. This is in keeping with the trend toward fewer manned aircraft as the nation develops its missile."

"I know of no plans which would affect Webb Air Force Base at this time."

The Herald learned from a high authority in the Air Force — a source that is informed but which cannot be identified — that Webb definitely is not one of the two bases under consideration.

And Col. Wilson H. Banks, Webb commander, said, "I have no information to indicate that Webb would close, nor do I see any reason why it should."

It was noted that Webb was first to receive the Training Command's new super-sonic T-38 trainers, and has had priority in many other training elements. It retains a high rating, in almost every respect, among ATC operations.

First bulletins on the Air Force announcement, either through error in presentation or through misunderstanding, touched off a wave of inquiries and many expressions of concern in the community Saturday.

Actually, the Washington release said simply that two bases will close, then went on to list the eight stations that are operated by the Training Command for flying training. Webb is on the list. Others in Texas are Reese at Lubbock, Laughlin at Del Rio (just being activated as a training facility) and Laredo. The remaining four are Williams, at Chandler, Ariz.; Vance, at Enid, Okla.; Craig, at Selma, Ala., and Moody, at Valdosta, Ga.

Student Revolt In Guatemala Gains Support

GUATEMALA (AP)—The army imposed stringent measures on this half-paralyzed capital Saturday as a student-led revolt against President Miguel Ydigoras gained wider support and sympathy.

For the first time in five days no serious clashes developed.

Heavily armed soldiers put the city under virtual martial law, on orders from Ydigoras, after about 20 persons were killed and at least 500 wounded in street clashes and disorders.

Troops patrolled the streets and police raided a house and arrested several leftist political leaders of opposition political parties.

FRAUDS CHARGED

The students launched violent protests against alleged frauds in last December's elections in which Ydigoras' Conservative party scored an easy victory. Ydigoras contends the complaints are baseless and says Communists and Castro elements embarked on disorder to cover their disappointment at the election results.

With the city under a military curfew from 8 p.m. to 5 a.m., the army drafted postal, telegraph, power company and bus line workers to keep essential services moving, as more and more employees went on strike in sympathy with the students.

The government announced a half-holiday for its workers as reports of absenteeism in government offices mounted. Government offices normally close at noon Saturday.

BUSINESS CLOSED

Many businesses closed and others half-lowered their shutters. Merchants said many of their employees could not get transportation to work or were afraid to come out.

Nine of the nation's 18 radio stations were off the air in protest against censorship. One station manager said police killed five persons in a crowd that gathered when police raided his station because it made an uncensored broadcast.

Stations that continued on the air broadcast appeals for blood donors and special announcements from the government.

Joint Space Work Proposed To Reds

Kennedy Offers A Get-Together Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has proposed to Soviet Premier Khrushchev a five-point program of U.S.-Soviet cooperation in space, including weather satellites, communications satellites and global mapping and space medicine.

In a letter to Khrushchev, Kennedy raised also the possibilities of joint U.S.-Soviet exploration of the moon's surface and of sending men on scientific voyages to Mars or Venus.

The White House made public the Kennedy letter Saturday. It was dated March 7 and was in response to a general Khrushchev proposal for space cooperation contained in a congratulatory message to Kennedy on last month's orbital flight by astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

Kennedy proposed that U.S. and Soviet representatives coming to New York for a U.N. Outer Space Committee meeting starting Monday meet privately to discuss the Kennedy proposals.

NO REPLY

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Khrushchev has not yet replied to the Kennedy letter. However, this was not regarded as significant by Washington experts.

Because of the complicated nature of space proposals, it was felt Khrushchev hardly could be expected to give a speedy response unless he just wished to make propaganda.

Declaring possibilities for U.S.-Soviet cooperation in space are many, Kennedy specifically suggested these five steps as a starter:

1. Joint establishment of an early weather satellite system to provide global weather data for prompt use by any nation.
2. Joint establishment of a satellite to photograph cloud cover and provide other weather services to all nations, under the Kennedy plan. The two satellites would be placed in near-polar orbits in planes perpendicular to each other, thus providing regular coverage over all the world.
3. Establishment of radio tracking stations in America and the Soviet Union which will provide tracking services of space shots for the other country.
4. The United States and Russia would each send up coordinated satellites to be used for mapping the earth magnetic field.
5. A joining by the Soviet Union in a cooperative effort already under way between the United States and a number of other countries in experimental communications by satellite. The goal would be a system of communications, including TV, connecting continents.

A pooling and exchange of U.S. and Soviet knowledge in the field of space medicine because of "our common interest in manned space flights and in insuring man's ability to survive in space and return safely."

Kennedy told Khrushchev the United States is ready also to discuss now possible broader cooperation "in the still more challenging projects which must be undertaken in the exploration of outer space."

Other Nations Press For Halt To Testing

GENEVA (AP)—India and Brazil built up pressure Saturday night on the United States and the Soviet Union to drop nuclear test plans while the 17-nation disarmament talks are on.

The forthcoming U.S. atmospheric tests—and the prospect of a tit-for-tat Soviet response—emerged as the key issue of the conference as an East-West stalemate developed over how to end the arms race.

U.N. Checks Hot Syria-Israel Fight

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A U.N. cease-fire early Saturday halted the hottest frontier battle in two years between Syria and Israel. Both sides had thrown in artillery and warplanes along the Sea of Galilee and both claimed victory.

As the fighting raged, two Israeli planes dropped bombs on northern Jordan near the scene of the battle, a Jordanian military spokesman said in Amman.

Authorities in Jordan announced they had offered military support to Syria against Israel—the common enemy.

Syria accused Israel of treachery and aggression. Golda Meir, Israel's foreign minister, declared, "We had no alternative but to take action against the Syrian military positions from which firing was directed at Israeli fishermen and police boats."

STORMED STRONGHOLD

An Israeli army spokesman said units of Israel's army stormed a Syrian stronghold on the east coast of the Sea of Galilee, blew up its fortifications and killed 30 Syrians at a cost of five Israelis dead and 10 wounded.

Syria said the Israelis were repulsed with the loss of four tanks and numerous casualties and that artillery set ablaze the base from which the attack was launched. Syrian casualties were given as one dead, five wounded. Israel denied any tanks were involved.

The night attack came after several days of clashes on the Sea of Galilee in which each side had accused the other of provoking incidents involving gunboats and fishermen.

An Israeli army spokesman said three columns of troops, their strength not disclosed, launched the attack.

Israeli territory runs about halfway up the east coast of the Sea of Galilee and then pinches off into territory controlled by Syria. Israel claims the Sea of Galilee is all Israeli.

Tiago Dantas took tea together after formal and informal approaches to the big powers for some sort of pledge to quit testing at once. They charted plans to rally support for their initiative among the group of eight middle-road nations taking part in the four-day conference.

But their initial moves appeared to have received little encouragement from U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk or Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

A qualified informant reported that Rusk told Menon in a private talk Friday the American position remains as stated by President Kennedy: The United States is quite willing to suspend announced plans for an April series of tests in the Pacific—but only if the Soviet Union first signs a test ban treaty containing sure international supervised safeguards to bar cheating.

The source said Gromyko's reply to Menon appeared equally discouraging: The Soviet Union would waive her threat to test again only if the American series next month is canceled. The Russian also repeated Moscow's resolve to join a general test-ban agreement which provides for national international, detection arrangements.

Yet in the face of these developments Menon and San Tiago Dantas did not abandon hope of influencing Washington and Moscow.

The role of the middle-road nations, even after only a few days of discussion, seems to have become a new political factor in the East-West tug-of-war over disarmament.

Burglars Get $28,000 From Texas Bank

BLOOMBURG, Tex. (AP)—Burglars cut a hole through the vault of the Bloomburg State Bank before dawn Saturday and carted away the two-ton safe containing $28,323.

Only about $1,000 in silver was left behind.

The things also took $4,000 to $5,000 in travelers' checks and about $600 in savings bonds.

Cashier E. D. Simmons, who discovered the loss when he went to work at 7:30 p.m., estimated the figure for State Police and Cass County officers.

The bank was unable to operate Saturday due to the confusion, but Simmons said it will be open for business as usual Monday.

Officers were combing the three-story brick structure in the center of this town of 400 to 500 from top to bottom in an effort to find tenable clues.

Bloomburg is a pulpwood and poultry center on the Texas-Arkansas line about 25 miles south of Texarkana.

The bank, founded in 1916, had $900,000 deposits and is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The burglars stole two trucks to carry out their job. One was a hoist truck, stolen at nearby Atlanta. Another was a heavy-duty truck owned by a pulpwood company here.

Child Dies Of Gas In Auto

ROSCOE, Tex. (AP)—A five-year-old Fort Worth child was asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas near here today while sleeping in the back seat of the family's car with six other children.

Little Patricia Ann Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Jr. of Fort Worth was dead on arrival at a Roscoe clinic.

Mrs. Lee said the family was en route from Fort Worth to Denver, Colo., when one of the children became ill. It was then, she said, that she found she could not awaken Patricia Ann.

Four sisters and two brothers of the dead child, all under five, were treated at the Roscoe clinic and released.

The family returned to Fort Worth.

Fire Razes Home 2nd Time, But Not With Death Toll

Six years ago on March 28, fire swept through the home of the Cleveland Gossett family at 1106 NW 8th Street. When the blaze had been subdued the charred bodies of three of the nine Gossett children were found in the ruins.

Saturday, on another March day, fire again struck the home that Cleveland Gossett and his wife had built on the same location as the one burned in 1956. This time, only Gossett was in the house. He escaped from the flaming building unharmed but the blaze destroyed all of the family belongings. Only a crumbling shell remains of the house.

Gossett said that he was in the west room of the building. His wife and his eight children, he said, were at his mother's house a block away.

"I was asleep," Gossett said. "The heat woke me. I found the whole room on fire and the way to the door blocked by flames. I crawled out the west window and all I saved was the clothes I had on. I didn't even get a chance to put on my shoes."

"What will you do now?" he was asked.

"Well, sir," replied the Negro who works at the Pancake Patio, "I guess we'll just have to find us another house."

He said that when the fatal fire of March 28, 1956, leveled the house and took the lives of Jesse Lee Gossett, 12; John L. Gossett, 8; and Joseph Gossett, 3, he and his wife found another building and moved it on to the same lot. This was the building that was leveled Saturday.

He did not know what caused the fatal fire that time; the cause of Saturday's blaze was also unknown.

In 1956, the other six Gossett children were in the house when the fire broke out at 1:30 a.m. All were asleep as was their mother, Juanita. They made their way out of the flaming building.

The oldest boy, Jesse, who perished in the blaze, is believed to have made a desperate effort to rescue one of his brothers and to have been trapped in the attempt.

"Course, this fire today was in the day time and the other was at night," Gossett said. "It's a wonder, though, there wasn't more of us in the house. If it hadn't been my mother has been sick and my wife has been taking care of her, we might have had even worse luck than we did."

Astronauts Handed A Departing Salute

HAMPTON, Va. (AP)—The neighbors of America's seven astronauts turned out by the thousands Saturday in a community salute to them and to the manned spacecraft center where they have spent three years training for their missions.

The center is being transferred to Houston, Tex.

Thousands cheered and waved as the astronauts, accompanied by their wives and children, rode in open cars along a 25-mile route from Langley Air Force Base to the Darling Memorial Stadium in Hampton.

A biting wind failed to cool the enthusiasm along the motorcade route, which led through downtown Newport News and Hampton, or of some 4,000 persons assembled in the stadium to hear a program of speechmaking.

Riding in the motorcade with the astronauts were Virginia Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr., U.S. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., chairman of the House Space Committee; Robert C. Seamans, associate director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; and Robert R. Gilruth and Walter C. Williams, director and associate director of the Manned Spacecraft Center.

At the stadium, Lt. Col. John A. Powers, public affairs officer for the space center, introduced Seamans, Gilruth and astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., Alan B. Shepard Jr., Virgil I. Grissom, Donald K. Slayton, L. Gordon Cooper Jr., M. Scott Carpenter, and Walter M. Schirra Jr.

Powers said that, "Notwithstanding the actions of the past several days, we still have a solid seven-man team."

This was a reference to the "scrubbing" of astronaut Slayton from the next manned orbital flight because of an erratic heart rate.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

A short item concerning Air Force plans to close some training bases got blown to masterful proportions Saturday morning and some alarmists had Webb closing before nightfall. Informed sources say it isn't so, and it isn't in the picture. So there!

The week brought us a better-than-usual assortment of spring weather—a violent sandstorm on Sunday, mild weather, then a 3-inch snow, balmy temperatures, and finally back to the blustery column Saturday. Remember the West Texas saying: "If you don't like the weather, wait a minute; it'll change."

Permits taken out during the week boosted the year's building total past the million dollar mark—$1,103,079, to be specific. At this rate we could have a $14-million dollar year in construction.

As usual — only more so — the 4-H and FFA livestock show proved successful. The sale Thursday evening grossed $13,782, a record. Mark Barr got $125 or $1106 for his grand champion steer and Sharon Harrison $1 a pound or $845 for her reserve. The champion finewool lamb shown by Doug Earnest, the top crossbred lamb shown by Travis Reid and the best Southdown lamb was shown by Orveta Fryar, each for $1 a pound. Local buyers supported the event by paying around $7,000 above the open market price on the stock.

The Amarillo College Choir presented a free concert to an all too small audience last Tuesday. In all it contributed to a pleasant evening, and while comparisons are not apropos, it might be noted that our own college choir could do as well if it had a larger number.

Uncertain Becomes Oasis In Eastex

UNCERTAIN, Tex. (AP)—Uncertain is now officially wet. The recent 87.5 vote for the sale of all alcoholic beverages was canvassed Friday and officially accepted.

Liquor stores and taverns probably won't open for about a month, however. Representatives of the Texas Liquor Control Board visited here last week to offer advice about obtaining licenses and said it would be about 30 days before everything can be processed.

The first sale of alcohol in Uncertain will be the first such legal sale in Harrison County in 50 years.

Windy Weather Is In Prospect

Windy weather is in store for this area Sunday and Monday, the U. S. Weather Bureau said Saturday night. There is also a faint possibility of light showers or thunderstorms late Sunday and late Monday. A strong southerly wind ranging from 15 to 25 miles per hour is expected today. Monday there is a possibility of gusty winds up to 30 and 40 miles an hour with considerable dust. The temperature will be in the lower 70's on both days.

Much Cash Left In Sacks In Baffling Mail Robbery

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Postal inspectors were baffled Saturday by one of the strangest mail thefts in New England history.

Mail pouches containing about $300,000 in cash for the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston were stolen, then found near the New Haven railroad station. Only $41,000 was taken.

The old bills were shipped Wednesday by banks in the Hartford area, 40 miles north of here. The unrecouped money was sent by the First National Bank of Hazardville, a Hartford suburb.

The canvas pouches—ordinary-looking mail sacks—were found near a post office transfer point at the New Haven Railroad's Union Station Friday morning.

The post office confirmed the theft Saturday after there were rumors of a robbery.

Postal Inspector Edward C. Lyons said department investigators from here to the Canadian border, aided by federal agents, were working on the case.

"Particularly puzzling," he said, "was how the pouches could have gotten to New Haven, far out of the way of the Hazardville-Boston route."

Nothing about the shipment marked it as out of the ordinary to the untrained eye, Lyons said.

The big canvas mail bag contained four smaller pouches with the money.

Quake Recorded

WESTON, Mass. (AP)—Weston Observatory of Boston College said Saturday it recorded an earthquake from Colombia, some 2,800 miles south of Boston, at 3:55:08 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

HAD FAILURE ON LANDING

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—Mark Scott Carpenter, 32, son of the astronaut picked for the next U. S. earth orbit, made a suborbital leap from his parents' garage Saturday.

Mark, the oldest son of astronaut M. Scott Carpenter, sprained his ankle and missed a big motorcade and ceremony honoring his father and the rest of the Project Mercury space team.

Mark's scheduled ride with the rest of his family had to be scrubbed.

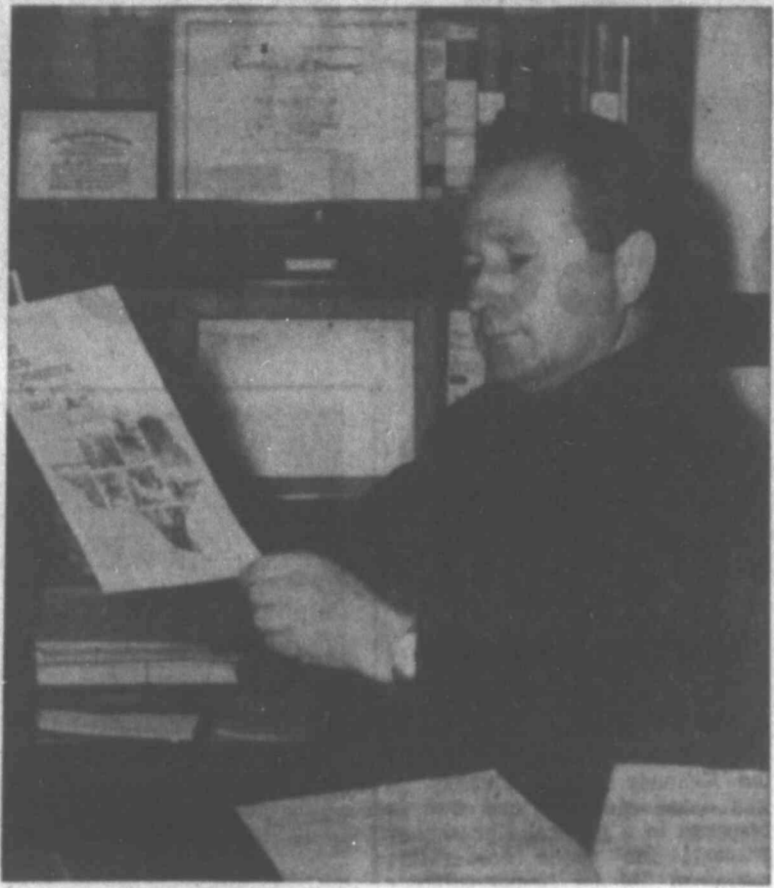

Mrs. Carpenter said Mark jumped off the garage and into a pile of bedclothes an hour before the parade.

Fascinated By Sandstorm, Experts Stay Extra Week

By M. A. WEBB
This is a swich. A man came to the United States Experiment Station here to study methods used in soil conservation, wind erosion and brush control. He came to spend a week, ran into a dust storm and was so absorbed he stayed an extra week.

"Some of your problems here follow pretty closely those we have in Israel," Tuvya Ashbel of Safad, Israel, said Saturday. "You have to use the best methods possible to conserve your land, just as we do. You have rocky soil, sandy soil that blows, and you have both wind and water erosion problems, as well as brush control similar to ours. The only difference is you have so much more."

Ashbel is spending six months with Soil Conservation Service men in the United States. His itinerary carries him to all parts of the nation and then to Washington, D. C. where he will spend a month writing his reports. The Soil Conservation Service will get a copy of that report. He is here as a participant in a "Technical Cooperative Project" sponsored by the Agency for International Development. He landed in Washington, D. C. Dec. 28.

TUVYA ASHBEL
Studies Soil Conservation Methods Here

PINE IN ISRAEL
Ashbel is married and has two children. He is a graduate of Mikveh College, Israel, and has been District Inspector, Afforestation Department, Jewish National Fund, since 1936. He supervises about 30 rangers and superintends in control of all afforestation of the northern district of Israel, which includes fire prevention, grazing control, issuing utilization licenses, and supervising all natural forests in the area.

"We grow principally Jerusalem pine in Israel," he said. "We do not have time to wait for growth of the famous Lebanon cedar. We have had to make the biggest conversion of natural, neglected, forests to economical value in a very short time. With only a few thousand acres of land we have to make it produce the most of whatever it will grow.

"Our country is one of the oldest in the world historically, but is younger than yours in view of modern historians. Israel, as now known, is very young. Our population has made a 70 per cent jump in two years which means that we have to feed them." Ashbel said.

EVERY ACRE COUNTS
"If I have 60 acres of forest in one area I have to look for individual acre suitable for agriculture. When I find them they have to be cleared, rocks picked out and used for fences, and then get them in cultivation. We might find five good farming acres in the 60, but we use them and then maintain the balance of the forest to the best advantage.

The inspector said he was looking for an improved pine for his country, and has sent seed home from the pine forests of Georgia, where he spent some time.

"I found they had some problems in Florida too," he said, "in growing trees in the sand hills. That is one time I could help them through our experiences in Israel. I wrote our government to send them research material on sand-hill plantings. But that is the reason I am here. I came mostly for help but will gladly give what we have learned in exchange even though it might be little."

Ashbel made his first stop in North Carolina where he consulted in operation of paper mills, drainage, and other problems. From there he went to Georgia to learn primarily about fire prevention; to Florida at the Mariana station; to Mississippi where he studied files on grazing lands, and how to control them; to Missouri, and then to Big Spring.

SIMILAR PROBLEMS
"In the East they have no moisture problem, and I had to tell them they don't know how lucky they are," he said. "We have to hold every drop of water we can get."

"But here in the Big Spring area, where farmers can never be sure of their land, where production is concerned, I have watched the soil conservation men talk to farmers. I wanted to see how these men talked and explained the valuable use of experimental projects that have promise better conservation methods," Ashbel continued. "They have an art in talking, and the farmers, feel free in discussing problems. I was privileged to attend the area supervisor's meeting at the experiment station. I learned a lot about cooperative effort and the deeply sincere desires to make land produce its best under often adverse circumstances."

Ashbel said brush control methods were most interesting in Howard County. He said they had similar problems in Israel but could not use aerial methods of controlling it. They have to preserve their trees, and have too small plots of farming land, to do more than use hand-spray or dusting methods.

SMALL FARMS
The supervisor said the small farms in Israel are worked by settlements. Four acres constitute a farm for one family and members have to raise what it takes to feed them.

"We use the most modern equipment we can find to enable us to get the most out of the land in the shortest possible time. We use tractors, which we buy from United States manufacturers, and it is paying off," he said.

His review of his arrival in Big Spring, at the Soil Conservation office, where he met Ben Day, Work Unit Conservationist, was interesting.

"I came to Big Spring knowing nobody," he went on. "In less than 30 minutes I felt at home and felt that I could ask him any questions and get intelligent answers. My ability to speak English helped me to get information in a hurry. The interest of all these men, and the farmers to whom I have talked, in discussing problems, is beyond any dreams I ever had. We met with a group of young people at the Methodist Church the other night, and I felt at home. Every letter I write home is a complete story."

"I regret to leave Big Spring, but I have to go to Tucson, Ariz. We are going to Carlsbad Caverns. After Arizona, I will go to California, Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, and then back to Washington, D. C. where I will spend a month writing my reports."

Tech To Record Earthquake Info

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech has gotten an early start as one of 125 proposed observation stations in a world-wide seismological network sponsored by the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. Under the program, the survey provides the highly sensitive equipment at carefully selected locations. The stations furnish the facilities, and copies of all records are returned daily to the survey for study. Deskin H. Shurbet Jr., professor of geology at Texas Tech, is in charge of the local seismological observatory.

The equipment which detects ground motion is buried in a 10x15-foot underground room near the Tech observatory. Recording instruments are in the observatory.

"By pooling the information received, the Geodetic Survey hopes to determine at least two things," Shurbet said. First is the total number of quakes in the world, and second is the distance one observatory can detect a small quake."

In explaining this, Shurbet said that present observatories can detect large earthquakes anywhere in the world. However, there are numerous small quakes, not noticeable to man, that remain undetected. The network will close the gap between existing observatories to record these small quakes.

"We will detect perhaps more than 1,000 earthquakes a year," Shurbet said. "It will be a rare day when we won't record a quake."

Tech's equipment will be able to detect earthquakes on the other side of the world. In fact, the equipment has sensitivity to magnify ground motion up to 50,000 times. This causes the graphs to detect heavy traffic on campus, especially when cars jam the area for sporting events.

The instruments also record the effects of weather conditions on ground movement. On March 10 and 11 when West Texas winds reached 60 mph, the graphs recorded movement caused by wind-blown trees and by buildings under wind pressure.

"It surprises most people to learn that the earth is never still," Shurbet said. This is obvious by studying the graphs which keep a 24-hour record every day. All lines show earth motion. There is never a straight line.

Tech's new underground seismological observation station is an addition to its seismological observatory which was built and first put into operation in 1946.

THE PERFECT EXAMPLE

By A Christian Writer

Christ said, "For I have given you an example . . ." Jno. 13:15.

In this chapter we have His example of humility and service, in that he washed the disciples' feet. His is an example of love (v. 1); and by living a life that glorified God, he has become our great example (v. 31).

Let us shape, form and mold our lives after Christ, the perfect example.

In walking in His footsteps, let us begin where He began. He came into the world to preach (Lk. 4:17-21); but He did not begin His ministry until he was baptized (Matt. 3 and 4). Paul, in following Christ, also began at this point (Acts 9:18-20). Beginning at the beginning, let us follow Him to the end; and receive the crown of life (Rev. 2:10).

Let us at 3000 West Highway 80 help you find Christ and walk in His steps. Welcome to all services. We do not preach politics nor the "social gospel;" we preach Christ.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING

Blustery Weather Slows Flying Activity At Howard County Airport During Week

Flying has been hampered around Big Spring during the past week, first by the dust and then by the snow.

In spite of the bright day Friday the weather upstairs was rough "as a cob." Ted McClung delivered an airplane to Amarillo and said he was bounced around like a marble all the way up and back—even though he flew in a practically new airplane out of Lubbock.

"Anybody that took an airplane out Sunday (during the dust storm) was a gopher," McClung said, "and either had some urgent business or didn't care much what happened."

All the damsels in Shamrock are Irish colleens, apparently. All pilots were invited to the 16th annual St. Patrick's Day celebration up there yesterday. A dignitary and fly-in breakfast was held at the National Guard armory from 7:30 to 9 a.m. and a full day of varied activities scheduled. But nobody from Big Spring had indicated that he was going to fly up.

Joyce McClung, who was in the hospital recently wrote a personal note to the Webb Aero Club members, thanking them for the beautiful flower arrangements sent to her.

"To show my appreciation I offer each and every one of you an airplane ride, payable immediately (unless you'd prefer to wait until I learn to land)."

Tom Dowlearn of Webb Aero made his first solo since the last report.

Members of the Big Spring Flying Club, Inc. having the club's Colt out for exercise since last Sunday—some as many as three or four times—were: Ralph Rogers, Betty Ray Clifton, Buster Weaver, Donald Fuller, Jay Lebowitz, both of the Marchbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neefe, Dr. M. A. Porter, Bill Wilson, Joe Clark, and John Stanley.

The Colt had its 100-hour inspection last week.

Paul Kasch, who has spent some sick-time in the past 10 days, managed to go on a trip in connection with construction business Friday. Cosden's Herron went to St. Louis and the Dove flew to Austin Thursday.

Demos To Pick Ballot Places

Howard County Democratic Executive Committee will meet on Monday in the Howard County court house to determine the position of candidates' names on the forthcoming primary ballot.

Frank Hardesty, county Democratic committee chairman, said that the names of all candidates in each race will be placed in a hat, well shaken up and drawn one at a time. In the order names are drawn, they will appear on the ballot.

Hardesty said he also would discuss with the committee the problem posed by the suggested referendum on pari mutual betting in Texas which is supposed to be included in the primary voting.

Some counties are puzzled over how to absorb the extra expense that the referendum ballots will add to the primary costs.

It is also the plan of the committee on Monday to officially order the printing of the first primary ballots.

Jackie Cheered On Lake Outing

UDAIPUR, India (AP)—In a white motor launch trimmed in red and turquoise, Jacqueline Kennedy sailed the blue waters of Lake Pichola Saturday with the handsome Maharaja of Udaipur. "Mrs. Kennedy, rindabad!" shouted thousands of Indians thronging the white stone steps along the shore or looking down from rooftops surrounding the Indian prince's lake. They were shouting "Long life" to the visitor from the White House.

The two-hour cruise was a high point of a day ending the first six days of her nine-day visit to India and the President's wife obviously enjoyed the outing.

Her host, the Maharaja, a smiling man of medium height in his 40's, showed Mrs. Kennedy and her party the water palaces of his realm, one of which he will convert into a luxury tourist hotel.

Mrs. Kennedy, in a dress of silk apricot, waved to the crowds on the shore.

She took off her beige scarf and let the cool breezes whip her brunette hair, smoked a cigarette and joined other members of the party in taking pictures along the broad lake, which mirror's the maharajah's whitewashed marble palace.

Red-turbaned attendants in white tunics and trousers manned the wheel and one stood at the bow. Flying at the prow was the maharajah's tiny red flag with a gold and white sun symbolizing that he is of a long line of ruler ancestors descended from the sun god.

Sputnik Sends Information

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Sputnik launched Friday with a load of instruments to measure conditions for space travel is continuing its flight around the earth and is sending back a steady stream of technical data, Tass said today.

The last stage of the carrier rocket is moving close to the Sputnik's orbit, the Soviet news agency added.

Tass said initial results opened up possibilities of getting new information on the ionosphere.

The satellite will pass over Chicago at 7:51 p.m. and San Francisco at 9:25 p.m. Sunday, Tass said. It named no other American cities in the orbit path.

Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh Quit

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh split up today after more than 10 years of marriage. They expressed the hope the separation will be temporary.

The actor moved out of their $200,000 mansion and went to Palm Springs to stay with friends.

Curtis, 33, and Miss Leigh, 33, issued a joint statement through a spokesman saying they have had trouble with their marriage for some time and that it is their sincere hope to work out their problems through a temporary separation. There are no plans for divorce.

Grant Retires As Post Advisor

"The future of our country is certainly bright if young men of the calibre of those in Explorer Post No. 1 are to be our citizens of tomorrow."

With these words, Lt. Stanley Grant resigned as advisor to the post this week. He is being assigned to an overseas post by the Air Force.

Lt. Grant and Capt. Gerald McMillan organized Explorer Post No. 1 in October, 1960. Almost immediately, the Post filled its membership limit through a continuing program of adventuresome projects. Capt. McMillan resigned as advisor when he left for Europe last summer.

"Working with these young men has been a continuing inspiration to me," Lt. Grant said. Capt. Hal Brown and Capt. William Pattison were elected new co-advisors of the Post. Associate advisors include Jimmy Haynes, Lt. John Lewis, Lt. Condon Terry and Marvin Tatum.

As is the habit of Explorer Post No. 1, the boys made another unusual trek last week. They made a 24 hour survival hike in the Veal-moor area. Twenty-one Scouts and four advisors participated.

Dividing into crews, they hiked with full packs through wilderness country, evading other groups. With limited facilities, the Explorers prepared supper of survival rations. Water was taken from a stock pond and purified. After dark, the Scouts participated in a night navigation problem, requiring long hikes to distant points. One crew returned safely in two hours, but the other was lost and found some six hours later.

Breakfast was a return to survival rations, then the hike back to civilization. Additional survival experience is planned for the Post members in the future. The outstanding crew members received trophies for their performance in the activity.

Tuition Gifts To Keep Patricia Ann In School

Six-year-old Patricia Ann Adamson can resume her schooling, and probably will do so this week. And she's very happy about it.

The case was related in The Herald last week, and that's when some local men decided that Patricia Ann ought to be permitted to finish her school year. The money was passed to The Herald, which in turn got it to Airman Adamson. He will arrange to pay tuition fees Monday, and hopes the little girl can take her studies.

That's because some Big Spring business and professional men have stepped forward to help pay her tuition for the remainder of the school year. Patricia Ann's father, Airman I.C. George T. Adamson, recently came here with his family from Georgia, assigned to the 331st FIS at Webb Air Force Base. In that state, five-year-olds can enter the first grade, and the little girl was in school. When they got to Texas, they found she is under the minimum age, and only by paying tuition can a five-year youngster be admitted to local schools. This was a little difficult for Patricia Ann to understand, said her father.

He sought to enter the girl in Washington Place School, was advised of policy by the school administration. Then he went before the board of trustees last week. Trustees were sympathetic, but they had to stand by the rules, and told Airman Adamson tuition would have to be paid. He said he was not financially able to meet this additional $31 per month cost.

Students May Apply For Journalism Scholarships

Applications are being accepted from West Texas high school seniors for the 1962 West Texas Press Association journalism scholarship. The scholarship winner will be awarded $150 annually ($75 each semester) in each of his or her four years in college, providing normal progress toward a degree is maintained. Any one of 10 West Texas colleges may be selected by the scholarship recipient. The winner must major or minor in journalism and be under the supervision of the college journalism department supervisor while under the scholarship.

Application may be made to James N. Allison Jr., the Reporter-Telegram, Midland, on or before May 1. The applicants must be in the top 25 per cent of the graduating class, must prove demonstrated ability in newspaper journalism and have a desire for a newspaper career. A short biographical sketch should accompany applications, together with a letter of intent stating why he or she desires a career in newspaper journalism. Samples of published news stories, in the school paper or other publications, should be submitted. Letters from the high school journalism teacher or publication sponsor, from the high school principal or superintendent, together with a reference from the community's newspaper editor or publisher should accompany the application.

There are now five young West Texans in area colleges under the WTPA scholarship program. Over a student's college career, the scholarship will pay $600.

Absentee Voting Opens In Forsan City Election

FORSAN — Absentee voting for the city council election in Forsan has opened, C. J. Lamb, mayor, has announced. Ballots are on hand for the election on April 7. Absentee voting will close on April 4. Two city councilmen and a mayor or are to be selected. The only candidates are the incumbents, all of whom have filed for re-election. Lamb has filed to succeed himself as mayor, and O. W. Scud-day and John B. Anderson are asking they be returned to their seats on the council. The election is the first since the original election last March which brought the Forsan city government into existence. The town was incorporated in November 1960 and the first officials were named in the spring following. Only one of the officials elected in March is not listed as a candidate. He is Leland Camp who was elected city marshal last March. This job is supposed to be a salaried one but so far no arrangements have been made to pay for a marshal. The ballot which is now ready lists the office but leaves a blank for a write-in selection for the post. Absentee voting will be at the office of the city secretary, Bob Wash.

Hope Dim For Local Man, Others On Missing Plane

The fate of Army Specialist Clarence E. Thompson, Big Spring, and 106 other persons aboard a chartered airliner which vanished Friday in the Pacific remained in doubt Saturday evening.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman declared earlier that "chances are getting slimmer every minute" that any aboard the missing plane would be found alive.

This was distressing news for Spec. Thompson's wife, Alice A. (Sandy) Thompson, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Thompson, who reside four miles north on US 87.

Both Mrs. Thompson, who is staying here while he was on his overseas assignment to South Viet Nam, and his parents were notified by the Secretary of Army Friday that he was missing. He was aboard a propeller driven 167 Super - Constellation, a four engine plane which left Guam Thursday night for Clark Air Force Base near Manila.

It took off from Travis Air Force Base, California, and was en route from Guam to Manila.

Search planes Saturday reported sighting five partially submerged objects in the western Pacific along the scheduled route of the chartered airliner. No persons were seen in the immediate vicinity. The U.S. destroyer Bristle was dispatched to determine what the objects are. The Joint Rescue Center at Agana, Guam said that the Bristle was expected to reach the area at dawn Sunday. Meanwhile the Photographic squadron at Guam sent a Sky Warrior jet to photograph the objects in hopes the picture would give some identification and possibly furnish a clue to the fate of the four-engine craft from the Flying Tiger Line.

A U. S. Air Force spokesman at Clark Field, in the Philippines said the airliner is presumed to have crashed or ditched into the sea. A successful ditching, he said, would mean survivors could have gotten out on life rafts. These are easier to spot on the water, but none has turned up after nearly two full days of searching, he said.

"Chances are getting slimmer every minute," he said, of finding the 93 U. S. Army soldiers, 11 American crew members and 3 South Vietnamese on the flight still alive.

The plane was making a 1,600-mile hop from Guam to the Philippines en route from Travis Air Force Base in Northern California to South Viet Nam.

Nearly 100 planes and nine ships systematically covered a wide area of 250,000 square miles of water.

Probers hinted at sabotage and possible hijacking, although there was nothing to really support such theories. Earlier Thursday a plane belonging to the same line

Gubernatorial Aspirants Set A Rapid Pace

Candidates scorned the 40-hour week for themselves this weekend and intensified their bid for support throughout Texas.

Gov. Price Daniel went to St. Patrick's Day celebration in Shirock and spoke to a Lions Club gathering before going to Childress for an afternoon coffee, and to Abilene for an evening television interview. He will stay in Abilene over Sunday before campaigning in San Angelo Monday.

Marshall Formby took his campaign for governor to West Texas and the Panhandle. He attacked the merit rating insurance plan and proposed a 70 miles speed limit for four-lane, divided rural highways. He returns to Austin Tuesday for several days.

Will Wilson returned to the capital Saturday to preside at the opening of a state bowling tournament and to speak to a University of Texas student group Sunday. He will go to Dallas Tuesday.

Edwin Walker, whose Friday night Houston speech was picketed by about 15 young persons, went to Dallas for more campaigning. He speaks in Dallas Tuesday.

John Connally was in Fort Worth to crown "Miss Irish Rose" at a celebration of the St. Paul's Men's Club. Connally plans a barnstorming tour of San Antonio Monday.

Don Yarbrough began a nine-county tour Saturday from Waco to Pasadena. He starts Monday in Houston with a series of organizational meetings before leaving for Corpus Christi that night and a quick tour through eight towns Tuesday.

Republican Roy Whittenburg was honored at a morning reception - breakfast in Amarillo, attended by a large number of delegates to the Young Republican convention there. He left in the afternoon for an evening Lubbock County Republican rally.

Whittenburg's GOP opponent, Jack Cox, changed plans to spend all day in Victoria and also was in Amarillo Saturday afternoon. Cox then went to the Lubbock rally before leaving for Houston and Galveston news conference Sunday.

tern for another month, it didn't seem to deter the spirit of the explorers. Girl Scouts spent last week observing the 50th anniversary of the movement in the United States. They made quite an impression on service clubs and others, just as the training makes an impression on their young lives.

Career Day at Howard County Junior College drew over 500 seniors from more than a dozen high schools in this area last Monday. It's a chance for the young visitors to look over the exceptional facilities at HJC as well as to talk to adults about the opportunities and training in various vocations.

It's official now. Howard County Commissioners Court last week awarded a contract to A. G. Hall to furnish 54 voting booths - 12 master booths with 43 annexes. They'll be ready for use in the May 5 primary.

The first attack of his lawyers centered on a written statement Bauer gave police, saying he killed the woman at their home at Groveton in Trinity County northeast of here.

The defense introduced evidence of a collect telephone call Bauer made from Trinity to his mother, Mrs. Bessie Bauer, in Katy at 5:30 a.m. the morning of the killing. Trinity is 19 miles southwest of Groveton.

Roger and Calvin Bauer, cousins of the defendant, both testified that the elderly Bauer sisters didn't get along too well together. They said the sisters might refuse to speak to each other for as much as three or four months.

The defense contends that Lillie killed her sister and the committed suicide.

Mail Carriers Look For Pay Increase

Letter carriers from post offices in 30 West Texas towns Saturday night heard their national and state leaders tell them their chances of a salary increase in the next year are bright.

They were told that 94 per cent of the members of the present Congress are favorable to an increased pay check for mail men and that all indications are the bill which the postmen are pushing will be given approval before this session adjourns.

The letter carriers here were delegates to the spring convention of District 4 of National Association of Letter Carriers. The district comprises 38 towns in Texas and involved a fifth of the state's territory.

Approximately 135 men and their wives were at the Student Union Building at the Howard County Junior College on Saturday afternoon and evening for the convention.

The news about the prospects for a pay boost was brought to the meeting by T. T. Morris, Wichita Falls, president of the Texas NALC, who has just returned from a conference on the matter in Washington. Also at the Washington meeting was Emory Parrish, Big Spring branch president.

The mail men are asking for a 14 per cent salary increase. They anticipate that this will not be granted, but all indications are, Morris reported, that there will be a nice hike for the letter carriers. The group voted to go to Abilene in the fall for the second meeting of the 1962 year, but the date was not set. It will be fixed later.

The letter carriers held a business meeting at 6 p.m. at which they reviewed plans on how to press for the passage of the salary bill. Their wives, as members of the NALC auxiliary, also met to discuss ways and means of helping their husbands in the campaign for more pay.

A banquet was the closing event of the convention and the speaker was Glenn Hodges, Dallas, national field director for the NALC. He spoke to the group on the work the NALC is doing to better working conditions for the postal service and was introduced to the group by Parrish who was the toastmaster.

E. C. Boatler, postmaster of Big Spring, welcomed the group to the city.

In addition to Morris and Hodges, other state and district officials of the NALC present were:

Bill York, Dallas, state vice president; Clarence Rehm, Hallettsville, state secretary; Jerry Gietz, El Paso, state treasurer; Frank Eddleman, Lubbock, state delegate at large; Dewey Williams, Kilbuck, District 1 board member; Doug Meador, Borger, District 2 board member; Clint Harless, District 3 board member; Ray Spoons, San Angelo, District 4 president; Lew Sansom, San Antonio, state field representative.

Syngman Rhee's Return Home Is Protested

HONOLULU (AP)—Aged Syngman Rhee, ill and homesick for his native South Korea, postponed his return home Saturday because of Korean government objections.

But his adopted son, Rhee In-Soo, 30, said instead he will fly to Korea to explain his father's health to government officials and hope they will admit the exiled former Korean president.

Rhee, who will be 87 on March 26, had said Friday he would leave Saturday for Seoul. He also apologized for "errors" of his regime.

In-Soo said he is making the trip because he feels the Korean people are not fully aware of what Rhee's health has worsened.

B. Y. Choy, close friend of the deposed president, quoted Rhee: "In respect to the objection of the Korean government, I have decided to postpone my departure time."

"I hope and pray that in the near future I will be permitted to return."

Choy had planned to escort Rhee; Rhee's Austrian-born wife Francesca, and In-Soo, to Korea.

He said the Rhee's wait for word from Korea to leave before leaving Honolulu, where the "Tiger of Korea" has been in exile since May 29, 1950.

Maritime Pickets Halted By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Striking West Coast maritime unions temporarily bowed to a court injunction Saturday and withdrew pickets from San Francisco piers.

But officials said sign-carrying would resume as soon as perishable goods were unloaded from Pacific Maritime Association vessels, and warned the strike would be a long one unless shipowners change their position.

The court order, served late Friday, told striking sailors, firemen, cooks and stewards to quit picketing until perishable cargo is removed from affected vessels.

The unions struck ship lines.

The unions must appear in court Monday to show cause why the court order should not be continued. If continued, pickets would have to allow incoming ships 24 hours in which to remove perishable cargo and prepare for the strike.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several hundred students, most of them Negroes, picketed the Justice Department and the White House Saturday demanding the release of students jailed in Baton Rouge, La., for integrationist activities.

Two students were arrested during a 40-mile walk from Baltimore to Washington during the night, but the demonstration in the capital was without incident.

Five members of the American Nazi Party set up a counter-picket line at the Justice Department, but police made certain segregation was rigidly observed between the two groups.

The Justice Department was closed and the leaders of the demonstration made no effort to see anyone there. Three of their members were removed from the department in wheelchairs Friday night when they refused to leave after being unable to see Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Two students were arrested at the Baton Rouge cases.

Fryar Implement in Stanton Will Have New Home

STANTON, Texas — Work has been started on a new building for the Fryar Implement Company, Ltd., which will be located just north of the Bellvue Motel on the Lamesa Highway.

One of the main stockholders and manager of the firm is Jim Fryar, who took over the John Deere dealership here in September of 1961.

The new building, which is to be constructed of pre-fab all-steel materials, will be ready for occupancy in about 60 days, according to Bill Lane, parts manager.

Fryar and associates bought a six-acre tract and will have a modern repair shop, parts room, sales space and offices, in addition to outside displays. They will continue to handle the present line of tractors and implements, and will likely add other farm items.

Before entering the implement business, Fryar farmed a few miles north of Big Spring.

War Exercises Scheduled At Fort Hood

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP)—The Army and Air Force will throw exercises of aircraft and thousands of men into joint exercises here next month, trying to see how they improve their effectiveness as a combat team.

Air Force F-34 Thunderstreak fighters will fire rockets and napalm. Army units will fire heavy ordnance and both services will fire thousands of rounds of blanks to add realism to Exercise Track Down April 2-15.

The 2nd Armored Division, III Corps and supporting units will take part for the Army. Air Force units will include the 94th from England AFB in Louisiana; the 19th Air Force; the 112th Tactical Fighter Squadron from Toledo, Ohio; the 119 Tactical Fighter Squadron from Atlantic City, N. J.; the 108th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron from Meridian, Miss.; and a composite troop carrier wing from the 9th and 12th Air Forces.

"We want to find out where the Army and Air Force have overlapping assignments and what our real capabilities are," Maj. Gen. W. H. S. Wright, Ft. Hood and 2nd Armored Division Commander, said.

"We believe we can locate these areas in this exercise and increase our overall capability as a working Army-Air Force team," Gen. Paul D. Adams, Commander-in-chief of the U.S. Strike Command, will be director and supervisor of the exercise.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will leave Sunday on a Pacific trip which will include South Viet Nam.

Graveside Rites For Baby Girl

Lisa Michele Songster, 3-month-old daughter of 2nd Lt. and Mrs. John D. Songster, 207 Mesquite, died Friday night in a local hospital. The child was born Dec. 10, 1961.

Graveside rites are planned at 10 a.m. Monday in Trinity Memorial Park with Chaplain Louis Dunlap officiating. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Survivors in addition to the parents are her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lois M. Songster, Salt Lake City, Utah, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Howard, Valparaiso, Ind.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The former Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, her 21-year marriage to New York's governor ended in divorce, spent Saturday in seclusion at the home of her brother, Percy H. Clark.

Mrs. Rockefeller, 54, the former Mary Todhunter Clark, obtained the divorce Friday in Reno and flew here Friday night. She has declined to speak with newsmen.

Electric 'Short' Causes Fire

A short in a light fixture caused a fire Saturday afternoon at the Trinity Baptist Church, 819 Eleventh Place.

Firemen said a small hole was burned in the ceiling where the fixture was attached, but no other damage occurred.

Another blaze was extinguished by firemen Friday afternoon. It was a small grass fire started on a vacant lot by children playing with matches. The call was to 2110 Warren. No damage was reported.

Colombia's Alternating System Facing Vote Test

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Colombians elect a new Congress Sunday, and the outcome is expected to tell whether coalition government with alternating Liberal and Conservative presidents can last.

President Alberto Lleras Casariego, a Liberal, is due to turn over his post to a Conservative after the presidential election in May.

The leader of Lleras' orthodox Liberals, who favor keeping the system, predicted, "Our vote will be immense and our victory irrefutable."

However, some Liberal splinter groups—traditionally opposed to Conservatives after years of political bloodletting—favor either throwing the alternating system out or insisting on having a hand in selecting Conservative presidential candidates.

The pro-Castro Communist-supported Revolutionary Liberal movement led by Alfonso Lopez Michelsen is running on a platform of killing the system on the ground it has stagnated Colombian development at a time when there is need for social reforms.

The Revolutionary Liberals, however, were expected to run a poor third behind orthodox Liberal and Conservative candidates.

But Conservative followers of former President Laureano Gomez (Laureanistas), who oppose Lleras and refuse to serve in a coalition with his orthodox Liberals, are expected to pick up seats in the Senate and House. The coalition could be put in jeopardy if the Laureanistas refuse to serve with orthodox Liberals.

The coalition is now made up of orthodox Liberals and Conservative followers of ex-President Mariano Ospina Perez (Ospinistas).

Beer, Cigarettes Taken From Cafe

A burglar made off with two cases of beer, about $3.50 from a cigarette machine and more than 120 packages of cigarettes Friday night from the El Rancho Cafe, 337 NW 4th.

The loss was reported Saturday afternoon by Santos Mendoza. Police were unable to determine how the burglar made his entry.

A truck belonging to Jesse Makers, 1802 Alabama, was reported stolen about 5:30 a.m. Saturday. A search located the vehicle about two blocks away. It had been jacked up on blocks and the rear wheels were missing.

H. I. Morris, 106 E. 17th, told police vandals damaged the top of his car Friday night. Apparently a rock had been thrown at it, striking the top and making a dent.

M'Gibbon Granted A Zoning Change

The zoning board of adjustment granted a deviation from the zoning ordinance requested by K. H. McGibbon at a meeting Friday afternoon.

McGibbon asked for permission to extend a canopy for a service station to within two feet of the property line. The ordinance calls for a 25-foot setback. The station will be at Fourth and Birdwell Lane.

The request was approved by a 3-1 vote after members of the board visited the location.

Crewmen Rescued From Plane At Sea

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Coast Guard said Saturday night it had picked up nine crewmen of a Navy bomber which made a forced landing in the Gulf of Mexico 10 miles south of Grand Isle.

The Navy said there were nine aboard the plane, a P2V Neptune bomber.

Two Coast Guard helicopters arrived at the scene some 15 minutes after the pilot reported he was going down. The Coast Guard said.

The bomber was on a training flight from Memphis, Tenn., to New Orleans.

Mrs. Rockefeller Returns To East

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The former Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, her 21-year marriage to New York's governor ended in divorce, spent Saturday in seclusion at the home of her brother, Percy H. Clark.

Mrs. Rockefeller, 54, the former Mary Todhunter Clark, obtained the divorce Friday in Reno and flew here Friday night. She has declined to speak with newsmen.

Defense Opens In Murder Case

BRYAN (AP)—Lawyers for Marvin Bauer opened his defense Saturday in his murder trial. The state accuses him of killing his elderly aunts, Misses Lillie and Hattie Bauer on Christmas Day of 1960 to inherit their property.

The first attack of his lawyers centered on a written statement Bauer gave police, saying he killed the woman at their home at Groveton in Trinity County northeast of here.

The defense introduced evidence of a collect telephone call Bauer made from Trinity to his mother, Mrs. Bessie Bauer, in Katy at 5:30 a.m. the morning of the killing. Trinity is 19 miles southwest of Groveton.

Roger and Calvin Bauer, cousins of the defendant, both testified that the elderly Bauer sisters didn't get along too well together. They said the sisters might refuse to speak to each other for as much as three or four months.

The defense contends that Lillie killed her sister and the committed suicide.

Mrs. Sullivan Dies; Rites Said Saturday Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Jimmie Gilbert Sullivan, 90, resident of Big Spring since 1961 and mother of Willard Sullivan, long-time druggist, were held Saturday at 4 p.m. in the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home chapel. The Rev. John Black officiated, assisted by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd. Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park beside the body of her husband, the late L. J. Sullivan, who died last Sept. 30.

Mrs. Sullivan, who lived at 605 Johnson, became critically ill last Wednesday. She died in a local hospital Friday afternoon.

She was born on Sept. 1, 1881, in Fannin County. She and Mr. Sullivan were married on July 7, 1901, in Orangeville and she came as a bride to Big Spring. Her husband, a railroad worker, was already a resident of the town.

She was a member of the Church of Christ, the Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary, the Pythian Sisters, and the Women's Benefit Association.

Survivors in addition to the son include two daughters, Mrs. E. G. Davenport, Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mrs. H. M. Fritts, Jupiter, Fla., and one sister, Mrs. Russel Nix, Simmet, Texas. Also surviving her are the children of her brothers, M. C. Fairchild and Henry Fairchild, who preceded her in death.

Funeralbearers were: R. D. Urey, J. M. Simmons, Lee Porter, Don McKee, F. A. Gibbs, Milton Carter, Joe Hedleston and Joe Hayden.

LINA MICHELLE BONDARENKO, daughter of 2nd Lt. and Mrs. John D. Songster, 207 Mesquite, Big Spring, Texas, died Friday night in a local hospital. She was born Dec. 10, 1961.

A Little Bit O' Ireland Shows All Over World

A large part of the world became a little bit of Ireland Saturday in celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

The cheer of the Emerald Isle radiated from Dublin to distant lands—wherever the Irish and their friends were gathered.

It was a solemn day, too, with religious services usually preceding the parades and fun.

In Vatican City, Pope John XXIII gave a state address to President Eamon de Valera of Ireland. The pontiff invoked divine grace upon De Valera and "upon all the children of your noble country in Ireland and throughout the world."

In Washington, President Kennedy, wearing a green silk necktie, followed custom by receiving the Irish ambassador, Thomas J. Kieran, who presented a gift of polka shamrocks.

Kennedy, a descendant of Erin and not without a quip, asked the ambassador to give a little speech to newsmen on "How fortunate it is to be Irish."

In New York, 120,000 Irish and non-Irish joined in marching along Fifth Avenue under sunny skies and in a spanking breeze to the applause of an estimated million spectators.

The Loyal League of Jewish Sons of Erin, composed of Jewish persons born in Ireland, celebrated in New York with a dinner a day ahead of the parade.

Parades were the order of the day in a number of cities.

Dublin had a procession with 15 bands and a number of floats along with a lengthy sports program. Shamrocks were in short supply, but souvenir shops offered plastic shilleaghs made in Hong Kong.

Former President Harry S. Truman turned Irish for a day and rode smilingly in a two-hour parade in Savannah, Ga.

Boston had a double celebration. It was St. Patrick's Day and also Evacuation Day, marking the 18th anniversary of the day the colonists drove the British from the city in 1776.

Myers Now Awaits Appeal From Rusk Death Sentence

"I am well satisfied," Dist. Atty. Gil Jones of 118th District Court, said Saturday in commenting on the death penalty assessed against confessed slayer John Edwin Myers Friday by a Cherokee County jury.

"Myers' case was a classic example of the type of crime where death is the merited punishment," Jones continued. "I went to Rusk to do my best to get that sort of verdict. I believe the state made a convincing presentation of its evidence and the promptness of the jury in agreeing with us seems to justify our position."

Myers was tried in Rusk on a change of venue from Howard County, for the murder on last Sept. 1 of Arthur DeKraai, Iowa hitchhiker. He was found guilty of murder with malice, adjudged to have been sane at the time of the crime and his punishment set at death in the electric chair. An all-male jury deliberated only two hours in reaching their verdict.

SANITY ISSUE

Most of the time the jury was out, it was said, it was pondering the issue of the defendant's sanity. Jones said that Myers will be kept in Rusk until final decision is reached in the case. The defense attorneys, he said, announced they will make a motion for a new trial. Ten days time is allotted for this action.

Assuming the motion is overruled by Dist. Judge James Moore, an automatic appeal will be taken to State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Where a death sentence is assessed for a crime, an appeal always follows.

Should the appeal be denied and the lower court sustained, Myers will be brought before Judge Moore for formal sentence.

NOT COMING HERE

"He will probably be kept in Cherokee County jail until that time," Jones said. There is a possibility, however, that he could be removed to the state prison for safekeeping pending final disposition of his case. One thing is clear, he will not be returned to Howard County.

The only man in the court room who appeared unmoved by the presentation was Myers.

The slender defendant, neatly dressed, spent most of the week sitting at the counsel table staring down at his folded hands. He showed little interest in the proceeding but at one time, tears filled his eyes and he hastily wiped a hand across his face.

He listened with bored disinterest as Jones demanded of the jury that he be put to death for the roadside murder of DeKraai and never looked up as the prosecutor displayed the bloodstained clothing his victim wore on the night of his death. A grisly display of photographs of the crime pinned on the bulletin board throughout most of the trial did not arouse his interest.

ONE GULP

When the jury came into court to report, he merely glanced up and then resumed staring at his hands.

When the dire doom of death assessed against him was read by the clerk of the court, he gulped and immediately returned to his attitude of disinterest.

His 14-year-old girl friend, Donna Marie Stone, his companion on the three bloody days travel from Illinois to Texas during which they took the lives of four persons, was brought into court for one brief appearance. Jones wanted her identified as the girl who was with Myers on the night they were arrested in Midland.

She did not look at Myers as

she entered the court room and he did not seem to look at her.

FIRST TIME

Jones said that he was accorded complete cooperation by the Cherokee County officials and that Dist. Atty. Hulon Brown, Rusk prosecutor, lent him every assistance in the trial.

It was the first time that a defendant Jones has prosecuted has received the death penalty. On several occasions, however, the prosecutor has sought unsuccessfully to persuade juries to return death sentences.

"It was my first and the first for Cherokee County," Jones said. He said that a jury to try Myers was seated after 300 of a special venire of 350 had been interrogated. Even as the last juror was placed in the box, the sheriff was assembling six takersmen to supplement the list. They were in the anteroom waiting at the time.

Donna Marie Wants To Return Home

"I want to go back home," Donna Marie Stone, 14-year-old sweetheart of John Edwin Myers, 33, convicted murderer, said Friday night as she re-entered her cell in the Howard County jail juvenile ward.

"I want them (the authorities from Illinois) to come and get me. I may have said once that I would fight being taken back but I don't want to fight. I just want to go home."

She paused and added: "It wouldn't do me any good to fight against it anyway, would it?"

UNDER INDICTMENT

Donna Marie, who was with Myers on a wild three day trip from Chicago to Big Spring last fall during which they slew four persons, is under indictment for two murders in Belleville Ill.

In that state, despite her years, she can be tried for the crime. Illinois authorities were ready to come for the girl weeks ago but they agreed to wait until after Myers had been tried for the fourth slaying of the series. This was the murder of Arthur DeKraai an itinerant plumber from Iowa, who was shot to death on IS 20 a few miles west of Big Spring on last Sept. 1.

The girl is aware that she is charged with murder in Belleville where she and Myers have admitted they shot George Ballard, 47, and his daughter, Carole, 11, to death. The fact that if she is taken back to Illinois that she will be tried there for these crimes does not seem to disturb her.

"I just want to get back home," she repeated.

IN ILLINOIS

Home is Chicago, where her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. James Stone and their six other children live. Belleville is some distance from Chicago but is only 20 miles from Edwardsville, where Donna Marie's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lischman live.

Donna Marie was at the Lischman home last August when she joined up with her skinny boy friend Myers and they set out on their crime-spotted trip south.

Donna Marie has spent most of the time since last Sept. 1 in the cell in Howard County jail. She was briefly in the State Training School for Girls at Galveston but was returned here when the school asked to be relieved of responsibility for her safekeeping. Ten days ago, she was taken to the Cherokee County Jail at Rusk where she remained until Friday. She had been taken there as a possible witness for the state in the prosecution of Myers.

UNDISTURBED

Deputy Sheriff D. R. Buzbee, accompanied by Mrs. Buzbee and City Police Identification Officer Robert H. Bronson escorted Donna Marie back to Big Spring on Friday. She was en route when a jury returned a verdict of guilty against her middle-aged lover and assessed his punishment at death. She was not told of the jury's ac-

Bus Overturns In Avoiding Car

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—A Continental Trailways bus, swerving to avoid a turning car, overturned on a freeway Saturday. One person was killed and up to 20 were injured.

Patrolmen said several occupants of the car fled on foot after the accident but two were apprehended.

The bus driver, C. R. Durnell, said he saw a car starting to make a u-turn ahead of him and swerved to avoid hitting it. But the bus struck the car, he said, and turned over.

Eleven Perish In Two Fires In Maryland

By The Associated Press

Eleven persons, including nine children, died today in two separate fires in Maryland.

In Cumberland in western Maryland, flames raced through a string of row houses, killing six children and one adult.

At Essex, near Baltimore, a father and his three children perished when a fire, possibly touched off by an explosion in a kerosene stove, ignited their small frame home.

The Essex victims were Kenneth William Wilt, 24; Terry Lynn, 4; Billy Allen, 3, and Tina Marie, 1. Mrs. Patricia Wilt, 24, was admitted to City Hospital with burns covering more than 10 per cent of her body.

The fire at Cumberland was fanned by a brisk wind as it raced through the row houses.

Betty Proyer Knipple's four children were among the victims. They were Michael, 11; John 6; Tammy, 3, and Kathy, 1½. The blaze started in the rear of the Knipple home, near the center of Cumberland.

The other victims were believed to be Grace Nery, 29, and her two children by a previous marriage, Michael Rhodes, 5, and Johnny Rhodes, 3½. They also lived in the Knipple row house.

Three firefighters were injured, none critically. Mrs. Knipple, a widow, was not at home. She was given sedation at a hospital and discharged.

Wolfcamp Wildcat Flows 243 Barrels

Roden Oil and Casden Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Reed has been completed as a Wolfcamp discovery well in northern Sterling County.

After unsuccessful attempts to complete in the Fusselman, the test plugged back, treated and potential in the Wolfcamp. It made 243 barrels of 40-gravity sweet oil on calculated flow. On 16-hour potential test the well gauged 162 barrels of oil.

Cosden and Roden Oil, headed by Bill Roden, Odessa, have more than 2,000 acres in a solid block immediately surrounding the venture.

Originally the hole was carried to 9,075 and for more than two months Cosden and Roden sought to complete the well in the Fusselman. While new oil was recovered, the volume was not economical for production.

Meanwhile, operators decided to test shows encountered above 7,450 feet. The hole was plugged back to that depth and the casing was perforated from 7,334-7,360 feet.

This interval was then treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. On the test the venture flowed a calculated 243 barrels of 40-gravity sweet oil and no water through a 12-64 inch choke. A packer was used. Tubing pressure was 730 pounds and the gas-oil ratio was 790-1. Gas flow at the rate of 132,000 cubic feet daily accompanied the oil flow.

The formation is a lime and geologists believe it is the Wolfcamp.

The discovery is 14 miles northwest of Sterling City and is about three-fourths mile southeast of a 2,128-foot Ellenburger failure. Location is 2,040 feet from the north and 650 feet from the west lines of section 9-30, W&NW survey.

The Dorward, West (San Andres) field in Garza county gained its second well with the completion of Clarence A. Wheeler No. 1. J. C. Dorward, The confirmation pumped 60 barrels of 36-gravity oil, with five per cent water, on initial potential.

It was drilled to 2,402 feet and 4 1/2 inch casing set at 2,500 feet was perforated between 2,402-50 feet. The project was acidized with 250 gallons. It spots C NW SW SW, section 138-5, H&GN survey. Elevation is 2,284 feet.

The Spraberry Trend Area in the southeastern portion of Martin County was extended five-eighths mile to the east and southeast with completion of Ne-O-Tex Corp. No. 1 Billington about one-half mile south of Stanton.

The well pumped 215 barrels of 39-gravity oil, with five per cent water and a gas-oil ratio of 730-1, on initial potential. It was perforated between 7,082-1102 feet and 7,940-60 feet. From an elevation of 2,683 feet, it was drilled to 8,010 feet and 4 1/2 inch casing was set at 8,010 feet. Pay topped at 7,062 feet was fraced with 10,000 gallons. Location is C NW SW, section 23-36-1s, T&P survey.

In Dawson County, Hamon No. 1 McDougal has perforated the Fusselman, between 11,566-600 feet, and the Canyon, between 10,090-100 feet. Packer was set at 11,680 feet. It previously tested new oil from the Montoya to assure an extension of that pay of the Hamon (Multipay) field.

The quarter-mile southwest offset to the one-well field spots C SW SW, section 23-36-4n, T&P survey, about five miles east of Patricia.

ISAF Unit To Fire Up

The ISAF unit of the Sid Richardson Carbon plant here will be opened for production in the next few days, according to John Hogg, plant manager.

It has been producing HAF carbon black since it was opened. The work has gone smoothly since it went into operation in July, 1961. It is now producing at about 50 per cent capacity and should approach 75 per cent when the ISAF unit goes on stream.

At full capacity, the plant can produce about 50 million pounds of carbon black annually.

TIDELANDS

Record Prices Bid On Oil, Gas Leases

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A record, $446.7-million bid for tidelands gas and oil rights may point to a new, deep-water drilling boom as far as 100 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico.

Industry representatives said if the boom panned out, it should focus new interest in finding revolutionary ways to cope with the vast and expensive problems of under-seas mining.

The Interior Department's two-day lease sale, concluded here Friday, brought 500 representatives of the nation's biggest oil and gas concerns here.

Some firms formed combines to submit a gross bid that far exceeded the previous high of $226 million paid at a one-day, tidelands auction in 1960.

On the block was a huge tract of 3.7-million acres of submerged lands off Louisiana and Texas, some of it nearly 600 feet under-water.

Company spokesmen said the heavy offshore investment — one combine paid $3,081 an acre for land about 50 miles off the coast — underscored the industry's confidence that rich pools of minerals lie untapped below the outer continental shelf.

Development thus far has been relatively close to shore, mostly in waters under 100 feet.

HIGH BID

The high bid was for $15.4 million by a combine formed by the Ohio Oil Co. and Pure Oil Co. It bid for a 5,000-acre tract in the south Timbalier area off Louisiana's southeast coast.

On Tuesday, the first day of the sale, Gulf Oil put up $14.1 million for a block near the Mississippi River mouth under more than 200 feet of water.

The companies have five years under the lease arrangement to strike oil or gas. If a strike is made, the lease is validated. It stays in effect as long as it produces.

The huge outlay for the land indicates the companies will go after the strikes at a brisk pace, industry spokesmen said. The offshore development is bound to cut into inland drilling operations since the money will come out of the same till.

The big gross was looked on with keen interest by oil equipment makers. The rigs grow more complicated as the hunt goes farther out to sea. Radically new equipment may be needed to bring up the oil.

Shell Announces New Fifth Year Merit Scholarship

A new program to give a fifth year of training to national merit scholarship winners has been announced by Shell Companies Foundation, Inc.

To be eligible for the fifth year of training, a student must have completed four years of undergraduate study on one of the Shell Merit Scholarship Corporation. The company is the first to sponsor a program for the additional year.

Under the scholarship program, scholarships are awarded each year to 25 high school students who plan teaching careers in high school science or mathematics. The program was instituted by the company in 1958.

Location is C SW SW, section 23-34-3s, T&P survey, on a 640-acre lease.

Rig Count For Basin Increases

Permian Basin Rotary drilling increased 10 units during week reaching 235 active rigs, according to Reed Roller Bit Company count Friday.

This tops last week's 225 rigs, but is under the 237 this time a year ago.

Lea County, N. M., with 44 units making hole, paced the basin. Other more active counties included Ector 16, Pecos 15, and Crane 12.

The eight-county local area gained four rigs during the week, going to 25. Martin and Dawson counties, with nine and seven, respectively, led the area.

Totals for the individual counties, with the previous week's totals in parenthesis, follow:

New Plant For Gulf

BAYTOWN (AP)—Gulf Oil Corp. plans to build a propylene plant, in addition to a previously announced ethylene plant, at its 1,000-acre site on Cedar Bayou near Baytown.

The company will develop the entire site as an extensive petrochemical complex, Dr. Alexander Lewis of Pittsburgh, Pa., said Monday at a meeting of the Baytown Chamber of Commerce. He is Gulf's vice president in charge of petrochemicals.

Lewis said a contract to build the 400 million-pound capacity plant has been awarded the Stone & Webster Engineering Co. He did not say how much it will cost. Industry sources said it might be as much as $30 million.

Men Appointed To CED Committees

HOUSTON (AP)—Standing committees have been appointed for the new statewide Committee on Equitable Development of Texas Oil and Gas Resources.

The group is seeking a solution to controversy over drilling for oil and gas on small tracts.

Chairman C. W. Alcorn of Houston named Alvin Hope of San Antonio to head the membership committee; John Hurd of Laredo, liaison committee, and Curtis Hankamer of Houston, public relations committee.

Hope is immediate past president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. Hurd is a former president of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

U.S. Slowly Losing Crude Domination

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—Other nations chip away at U.S. domination of the world crude oil market.

The United States still is the largest producer but its share of world output is dropping steadily.

The Middle East area could take over the top position by 1967 if recent trends continue.

New production from North Africa could delay the Middle East challenge. The transportation facilities being developed to move the flush production from Algeria and Libya could dent the Middle East boom.

December output in Africa averaged 632,000 barrels a day, compared to 47,000 barrels 10 years ago.

The United States was contributing 82 per cent of world output at the end of 1951. The Middle East was contributing 15 per cent.

By the end of 1961, the United States had dropped to 31 per cent. The Middle East had jumped to 24 per cent.

Part of the U.S. loss has been the Soviet Union and her satellites accounted for 8 per cent of the late 1951 production but boosted her share to 16 per cent by the end of 1961.

Most of Russia's gains have been made in the past 5 years. She was turning out only 10 per cent of world output at the time bombs fell on the Suez Canal in November, 1956, and disrupted Middle East production.

Middle East output slumped and U.S. production boomed during the Suez crisis. The Middle East recovered quickly after the canal was reopened in 1957. The United States cut its production sharply and, aggravated by a world surplus and lagging demand, has never regained the record level of 7,818,400 barrels a day set in March, 1957.

The United States was producing 6,966,999 barrels a day in October, 1956. Production had increased only 5 per cent to 7,810,000 by the end of 1961.

The Middle East has the proved reserves to back up ambitions for further spectacular growth.

The Oil and Gas Journal estimated world reserves at 309 billion barrels. The Middle East's share was estimated at 88 billion of 28 per cent. The United States had 35 billion or 12 per cent, Russia 32 billion or 10 per cent.

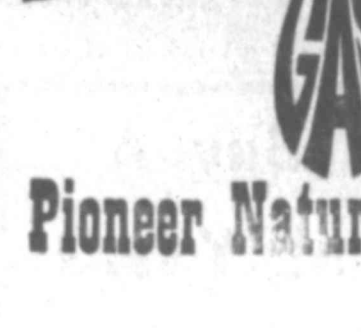

Here's just ONE of 28 REASONS why... YOU SHOULD COOK ON a GOLD STAR GAS RANGE

FLAME-FLAVORED, CLOSED-DOOR BROILING — Expert chefs agree that nothing brings out the juicy goodness of meats like a five flame. And the broiler door stays closed because Gas flames consume smoke! Twenty-seven other features, including automatic rotisserie and roasting controls, are your assurance of the finest range money can buy!

TRY THIS SIMPLE TEST Hold a lighted match an inch or so above the smoke from a cigarette and see how the smoke disappears. This is the principle of smokeless Gas broiling.

March Potential Remains Steady

New potential in the area in March is holding its own. Making it look even better is the addition of two good oil discoveries in the eight-county area.

There have been 18 new wells for a total of 2,618.23 barrels of new potential.

After more than a year of mediocre production Sterling County came into its own with the weekend completion of a 243-barrel Wolfcamp discovery.

Another project in the same county, Humble No. 3-B W. N. Reed has tested new oil in the Montoya and the Fusselman.

The discovery in the lower Leonard about 3 1/2 miles northeast of Coahoma, which was potentialized March 6, gave Howard County 312 barrels of discovery oil. An attempt to confirm the pool by re-working an old project about 1 1/2 miles to the north of the field was a failure.

Leading the eight-county area is Martin County, with four Spraberry Trend completions and a second well in the Breedlove (Spraberry) field. All came in for more than 200 barrels of new oil, giving the county a total of 1,200.92 barrels.

A glance at production in each county shows that Borden has yet to register new potential. Dawson has two wells for 202.01 barrels, Garza has six completions for 406.87 barrels, Glasscock has one well for 50.29 barrels, and Howard has one for 312 barrels.

Mitchell has recorded one new well for 160 barrels of new oil and Sterling County has two for 286.33 barrels of oil.

Aluminum Drillpipe Set For Additional Testing

RICHMOND, Va. — Commercial testing of aluminum drill pipe entered a new phase recently with announcement of three developments by Reynolds Metals Company.

1. Shell Oil Company has ordered a second string of 4 1/2 inch drill pipe.

2. The first 3 1/2 inch diameter aluminum drill pipe string is being fabricated for commercial testing.

3. The longest aluminum drill string ever ordered is being fabricated.

Shell has ordered a 9,000 foot string for use in offshore drilling in Alaskan waters. The first aluminum drill pipe string commercially tested has been in use by Shell for the past 18 months.

The new 3 1/2 inch diameter drill pipe is being fabricated for Woolf and Magee Drilling Company, Tyler. The 7,000 foot string will be used in the Wilcox and Tuscaloosa formations in the Southeast.

Trice Production Company, Longview, will use a 4 1/2 inch diameter string 14,520 feet long. It is the longest aluminum drill string ever ordered.

Crockett Gets Gas Discovery

A sizeable gas discovery was finalized in Crockett County over the weekend. It flowed better than four million cubic feet of dry gas from the Strawn on initial potential.

Sunray Midcontinent completed the No. 1 T. E. Glasscock about 16 miles southeast of Ozona. Calculated absolute open flow was 4,450,000 cubic feet daily.

It came in from perforations between 8,680-84 feet. The well is a rank wildcat about 9 1/2 miles northeast of the Joe "T" (Strawn) field. It spots 660 feet from the south and 2,500 feet from the west lines of section 14-E, GC&SF survey.

The average calendar daily allowable was 2,729,253 barrels, an increase of 8,661.

Copies of a reprint of the Lamesa Courier of a quarter century ago were distributed. The featured story was the organization of the new Rotary Club in the city.

Instructor Commended

Capt. James C. Day, instructor pilot at Webb Air Force Base, will be recommended for the USAF Flying Safety "Well Done" award, as a result of sharp judgment last week in averting a flying accident. Capt. Day, with a student under the hood in GCA landing, took control of the aircraft when an engine malfunction resulted in power failure, as a "go-around" was started. The aircraft was about 350 feet in the air, at a point nearly one-half down the runway. Day elected to land, touched the T-33 down 1,000 from the end of the runway and engaged the arresting barrier. There were no injuries and no landing damage. Capt. Day has been at Webb since January, 1961.

Webb's Newspaper Editor Transferred To Viet Nam

One of the city's hardest working newspaper editors will be leaving for Viet Nam within a few weeks. He is T. Sgt. Herbert S. McGregor, editor of the Webb AFB "Prairie Pilot."

Sgt. McGregor has been editor of the paper ever since it has been called "Prairie Pilot," since September, 1959. He has taken unusual pride in his journalism post and has often worked through the night making sure his paper is put to bed and ready on time for its readers at Webb.

Sgt. McGregor was born in Oracabessa, Jamaica, West Indies. He earned the Cambridge School Certificate from Wolmers School in 1933. He came to the United States in 1944 and his varied civilian and military experiences since that time have taken him to many parts of the world.

His service overseas with the military (almost eight years) has been in the Philippines, Germany, Korea, Japan and Libya.

In 1945 at Anniston, Ala., he received his United States citizenship while in the Army.

Sgt. McGregor has a phenomenal linguistic background. He can speak, and is qualified to teach, six languages, including English, Latin, French, Spanish, German and Russian. He can speak and write reasonably well in several other languages.

The sergeant attended Brooklyn College in New York where he majored in Russian. He also has completed the Academic Instructors Course at the Air University at Maxwell AFB, Ala. Before coming to the U.S. he was a purchasing agent for the Gibraltar Evacuee Company at Kingston, Jamaica from 1940 to 1944 - a colony of Britons removed from the Mediterranean fortress for safety.

Sgt. McGregor lists an impressive assortment of hobbies - with emphasis on languages and bridge. He is rated a Junior Master in the American Contract Bridge League and is a member of the Dallas Bridge Association.

SGT. H. S. MCGREGOR

Sgt. McGregor was the scoutmaster of the Lord Robert Baden-Powell Scout troop in Jamaica and served as lay preacher for the Oracabessa Wesleyan Methodist Church. He is a member of the Toastmasters International and served in the organization while at his last base, Perrin AFB near Sherman.

His mother, Mrs. Leilita McGregor established residence in New York City in 1950 and Sgt. McGregor now lists it as his home.

Vendor's Day Planned At Webb

Irishmen Around World Given Pope's Blessing

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII on St. Patrick's Day received President Eamon de Valera of Ireland in state audience and gave his blessing to Irishmen throughout the world.

The supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, visibly moved, described Ireland's great patron saint as "that giant of the apostolate." The day also marked the conclusion of a year's commemoration for the 15th centennial of the death of St. Patrick.

Pope John said that St. Patrick's preaching and example aroused in Ireland "an irresistible movement of conversions to Catholicism."

De Valera, a New York-born Irish statesman, wore the Vatican's highest decoration, the Supreme Order of Christ, to the audience. The pontiff awarded it to him Friday.

The high honor was given because of De Valera's distinguished service to the Roman Catholic Church.

Rancher Slain During Argument

FORT WORTH (AP)—A rancher was shot to death early Saturday at his place south of Benbrook Lake by a racoon hunter during an argument over a missing dog.

The victim was Jack Corn, 33, who lived with an uncle on the Corn ranch at the southwest corner of the lake.

Corn was a member of a family that has owned ranch land here for about 100 years. As he lay dying from a shotgun blast in the stomach, Corn told the uncle, Frank Yeager, the license number of Hunter's auto.

Sheriff's officers a short time later arrested an ex-convict, Carl Sellers, 42, whom they found asleep in his car in the driveway of his home in Fort Worth.

Sellers claimed the "whole thing was pure accidental."

Stanton Moves For New Library

STANTON — A new library for Stanton and Martin County now seems assured, with the acquisition of a block of land which the city has decided to the Martin County Library group. The new building, which will be let to contract within the next two months, will be located on the southwest corner of the City Hall block. Present plans stipulate the structure will cost from $10,000 to $12,000.

Pistols Among Loot Taken At Pawn Shop

Five pistols valued at more than $150 were reported stolen from Fox's Pawn Shop, 120 E. 2nd, about 3 a.m. Saturday.

Police were summoned when a burglar alarm sounded at 2:56 a.m. They found a plate glass window on the east side of the building broken. A pistol was lying on the sidewalk a few feet away.

Although the owner was not able to verify the loss, a camera and watches were thought to be missing also.

E. A. Fiveash, 803 E. 14th, reported the theft of several lengths of sewer pipe from 204 Andree. He told police the pipe was taken some time in the previous three or four days. The loss was reported Friday.

An attempt to siphon gas illegally from a car at 3905 Hamilton was foiled Friday night. Mrs. John Morris said two teen-age boys were surprised in the act by a neighbor. They departed in such a hurry the hose they were using was left in the gas tank.

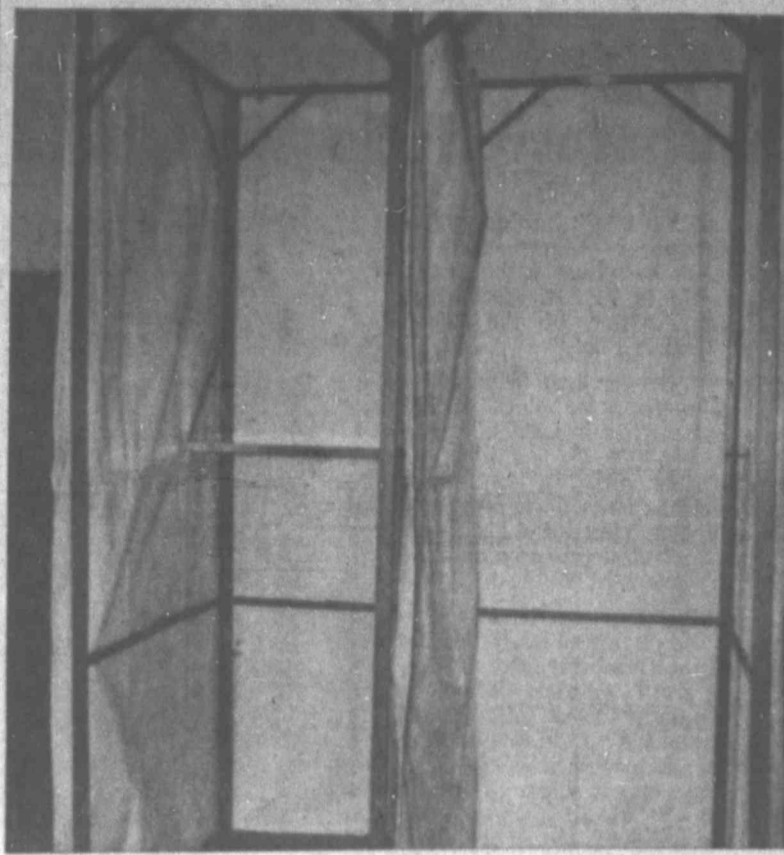

A fire extinguisher was reported stolen from the Gay Hill school bus while the vehicle was parked on the Furr's parking lot between 8:30-8:45 a.m. Friday.

Jon Webb, 605 W. 6th, a salesman at McEwen Motor Co. notified police Friday about 11:15 p.m. that the rear license plate was missing from a car on the company's lot. Two boys were later picked up in connection with the incident. They were turned over to the juvenile officer, according to Police Chief Jay Banks.

A similar incident had occurred the night before, when license tags stolen from a used car were placed on a new car from Truman Jones Motor Co. The new car was driven 28 miles and returned to the lot.

Improvements

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP)—Work will start April 1 on improving the Titus County courthouse. The general contract for $96,040 for repairs went to Howard Newman.

Know What These Things Are?

They're voting booths of the general type which will be put in service in election precincts in Big Spring this year. The booth to the left is called a master booth; the one to the right is an annex booth. The master booth shows the shelf on which the voter places his ballot when he votes. The booths may be folded when not in use and packed in a metal case for storage. The county has purchased 54 of these devices.

Woman 'Electrocuted' In Bathtub, Lives To Tell It

PESHASTIN, Wash. (AP)—"I'm being electrocuted. Don't touch me. Go down and turn off the power."

Mrs. Wayne Simpson shouted this alarm to her husband Tuesday as he returned to their farm home and found his wife in the bathtub, an aluminum sun lamp under her.

Simpson ran downstairs and pulled the power switch, ending 40 terrifying minutes during which she was paralyzed by electricity.

Telling of her ordeal Friday, Mrs. Simpson commented: "Why I'm not dead, I'll never know."

"The doctors just shook their heads. I shouldn't be here, they said."

Mrs. Simpson related that she was alone in the house and decided to take a quick bath. Her husband had fastened the sun lamp to the wall nearby because she liked to have it on while bathing.

When she reached down to pull the drain plug:

"The clamps let loose and the lamp fell into the water with me—a tub full of water. I just stiffed."

"I couldn't move a finger. Even my eyes were stiff. I was just lying there as stiff as a board."

"I could just feel the electricity going through me. I was quivering with the power going through me."

The tub finally drained. The sun lamp was under her and "kept making this crackling sound. I could feel it burning." She was "just praying all the time."

She relaxed when the tub emptied. Finally her husband returned home.

Paving Work Is Resumed At Stanton

STANTON—After a delay of several months due to inclement weather, the paving program for Stanton will be resumed next week.

Present plans call for a total paving of about 98 blocks, however only 21 of these are scheduled for the immediate future. Contractor for the work is the H. G. Counts Company of Midland.

The 21 blocks are scattered throughout the city, according to G. B. Shelburne, city treasurer, but in most cases tie into existing pavement.

Width of the new paving will vary from 37 to 41 feet in width and cost, $4.55 per foot for the narrow streets and $4.86 for the wider ones. The city pays 20 per cent of the cost, while the property owner picks up the tab for the rest.

Extra drainage accentuated by the additional pavement will be taken care of by a joint agreement among the city of Stanton, the Texas Highway Department and the T&P Railway Co. Since all run-off water flows across the highway and railroad to the lake in the south part of town, other drainage outlets are needed.

The Highway Department has allocated $51,000 for the construction of three outfall channels, to be built across US 80 directly across from St. Francis, St. Paul and Convent streets.

The railroad which closely parallels the highway has also agreed to build three timber pile trestles. The ones at the end of St. Francis and St. Paul streets will be 41 feet long, and the one opposite Convent Street will be 28 feet.

The resolution approving the paving and drainage project was passed unanimously by the City Council at their meeting March 12.

Besides her sister, Mrs. Whitfield was survived by four brothers, two sons, five daughters, two stepsons, one step-daughter, 33 grandchildren, 5 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

T&P Promotes A. G. Adams

He served with the Seabees from 1943-46, and after separation from service he took his B.S. degree from Texas Tech in 1949.

He was sent to Chicago as chief clerk - soliciting freight agent, in 1953, and two years later returned to Texas as the traveling merchandise agent at Abilene. He was promoted to his previous position in Dallas in 1956.

Flight Examiner

Dr. P. W. Malone, a Federal Aviation Agency flight examiner, is checked out on a mock-up of a T-33 aircraft ejection seat at Webb's Physiological Training Unit. Dr. Malone is the first flight examiner to receive training in the new course set up at Webb in cooperation with the FAA.

Flight Examiners Given Training At Webb AFB

A training course for Federal Aviation Agency flight examiners has been set up at Webb AFB's physiological training unit.

The course, designed to acquaint examiners with the problems of altitude, is a nationwide project. An agreement between the FAA and the Air Force designates training duties to Air Force bases. Webb's territory is this immediate West Texas area.

Although the 12-hour course is primarily for flight examiners, it may be taken by anyone the FAA feels the training will benefit.

Dr. P. W. Malone, who completed the course Tuesday, became the first flight examiner to do so. The unit has also trained five glider pilots.

The scope of the course includes physics of altitude, effects of altitude, respiration and circulation, pressurization of aircraft, hypoxia (lack of oxygen in the blood, cells or tissues), principles of altitude systems, hyperventilation, principle of respiration and visual problems, special disorientation problems, noise and vibration and an altitude chamber flight to 29,000 feet.

Class instructors are Capt. Dick E. Wilson and Capt. Charles R. Lillie.

ACC, Texas Deadlock For Lead At Odessa

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
ODESSA (AP) — Abilene Christian and Texas tied for the championship of the West Texas Relays Saturday with 73 1/2 points apiece as 11 records fell and three were equalled in the three-day windswept track and field meet.

Bayliss Bennett of Texas failed in a gallant effort to win the pole vault and thus his team finished in a deadlock with the Wildcats for the title. Texas was defending champion.

Odessa won the pole vault with 14 feet 8 inches and Bennett wound up second when he failed to hit this height in three tries. He had 14 feet 2 inches.

A great mile relay, with Dennis Richardson running a 47.5 anchor lap, put Abilene Christian back into the running as the meet wound up for all events except the pole vault. Texas was third in the mile relay and Abilene Christian went ahead with 71 points to 67 for Texas.

Cincinnati, Ohio State Post Wins In Playoffs

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Mighty Cincinnati won the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball championship for a record fourth straight year Saturday night, whipping Colorado 73-48 behind the two new members of the defending national kings, Ron Bonham and George Wilson.

Cincinnati took consolation honors over Texas Tech 63-61. The victory, the Bearcats' 16th in a row and 27th in 29 starts this season, put Ed Jucker's brilliant team into the national NCAA semi-finals at Louisville against the Far West Regional champion next Friday night. San Francisco was the last to win two NCAA titles back-to-back — in 1955 and 1956. It was this same San Francisco team that had shared the NCAA record of three successive regional championships with Cincinnati until Saturday.

Frank Boynton Out Front By 3 Shots At St. Pete

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Frank Boynton of Corpus Christi, Tex., kept punching his iron shots in the second round of the $20,000 St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament Saturday and took a three-stroke lead over the rest of the field.

Owls Outlast Frogs, 7-6

HOUSTON (AP) — The Rice Owls survived a ninth-inning Texas Christian rally Saturday to win the Southwest Conference baseball opener for both teams, 7-6.

Ken Schoppa was the winning pitcher but the junior southpaw gave up three runs in the ninth inning on four hits.

The late-game hits included a three-run homer by Jay Walrath. Wayne McClelland relieved Schoppa and saved the game for Rice with a strikeout.

Kenny Pyle, Lee Raesener and Jim Fox played key roles in the Rice victory. Pyle replaced starting shortstop Butch Blume when Blume got spiked in the third inning.

Pyle, in his first time at bat, singled in two runs to start a four-run rally that overcame a 4-0 TCU lead.

TCU took the lead in the third with a three-run rally on a double by Don Reynolds and singles by Billy McAdams and Walrath—plus two Owl errors.

TCU's lone error proved costly. Rice was leading 4-3, in the six when Fox hit a grand slam to Leon Baze at third with the bases loaded and two out.

Baze rushed his throw to second and allowed two runs to score. Rice picked up another run in the seventh when Gary West doubled, moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on an infield out.

This was Rice's second victory in as many games. TCU is 5-3.

Jay Fox Wins Miami Event

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Brah Burn Farm's Jay Fox was moved up to win the $112,000 Gulfstream Park Handicap Saturday after Calumet Farm's Yorky was disqualified and dropped to second on a claim of foul.

Dorchester Farm Stable's Carry Back, the favorite, finished third and Harbor View Farm's Garwol was fourth in the mile and a quarter classic.

Yorky finished first by a neck but the stewards said the Calumet colorbearer fouled Jay Fox inside the eighth pole.

Carry Back, on the outside, made his usual stretch run under jockey Manuel Escobar but he couldn't catch the leader.

REGENTS FIRE HIM

Grandelius Gets The Bad News

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — University of Colorado regents Saturday fired Everett (Sonny) Grandelius who coached the Eight Conference football championship.

The six-member board voted 5-1 to terminate the 31-year-old coach's contract effective March 1, 1963, "with leave of absence in the interim."

The discharge followed adoption of a regents' report finding that "there have been numerous violations of Big Eight and NCAA rules and regulations."

"These violations were deliberate and willful, and were committed with flagrant disregard for well-established university policy. These violations during the term of Coach Grandelius began soon after the arrival on the campus of the head football coach."

Grandelius said he had no comment immediately.

The regents charged Grandelius with a 1951 graduate of Michigan State, who came here in February 1959, committed violations of Big Eight policies that "constituted a calculated systematic pattern which was followed until the facts became known to the university (investigating) committee."

Grandelius, who had a 21-9 record in three seasons and held a contract until February 1966, was also accused by the regents with these infractions:

Permitting and encouraging "certain individuals to contribute to a secret 'slush fund' which was used to provide financial assistance to some prospective and enrolled athletes, in violation of Big Eight and NCAA rules and regulations."

Members of the football coaching staff promised and provided financial assistance to certain prospective and enrolled athletes.

In a number of instances cost-free transportation to the university was provided prospective athletes for the purpose of their enrollment.

Cost-free transportation was provided certain athletes between their homes and the university at vacation periods.

Prospective athletes were provided cost-free transportation to the sites of summer jobs.

The university's athletic program has been under investigation for several months by the NCAA.

Grandelius' Colorado team won nine and lost one in the regular 1961 season, then lost to Louisiana State 25-7 in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

He had a 5-5 record in his first season in 1959 and 6-4 in 1960, all 7-3, after a later forfeiture made it 7-2.

This was the first head coaching assignment for Grandelius, a native of Muskegon, Mich., and backfield coach at Michigan State from 1955 through 1958 and played professional football for the New York Giants.

Falech TKO'd By Rodriguez

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Luis Rodriguez of Camaguey, Cuba, third-ranked U.S. welterweight, scored a third-round TKO over Ricardo Falech of Argentina Saturday night in a scheduled 10-round televised fight in Miami Beach Auditorium.

Falech, reputedly a tireless windmill puncher, never got started as Rodriguez turned on a flailing attack that floored the Argentine once in Round 2 and three times in Round 3 before Referee Billy Regan halted the bout.

The Argentine landed no blows that had any noticeable effect on Rodriguez's attack.

Rodriguez weighed 147 1/2 and Falech 147 1/2.

The winners will meet in the semifinals Thursday night.

Loyola overwhelmed Temple and dazed the crowd of 12,000 at Madison Square Garden with its rascareous, fast-shooting offense.

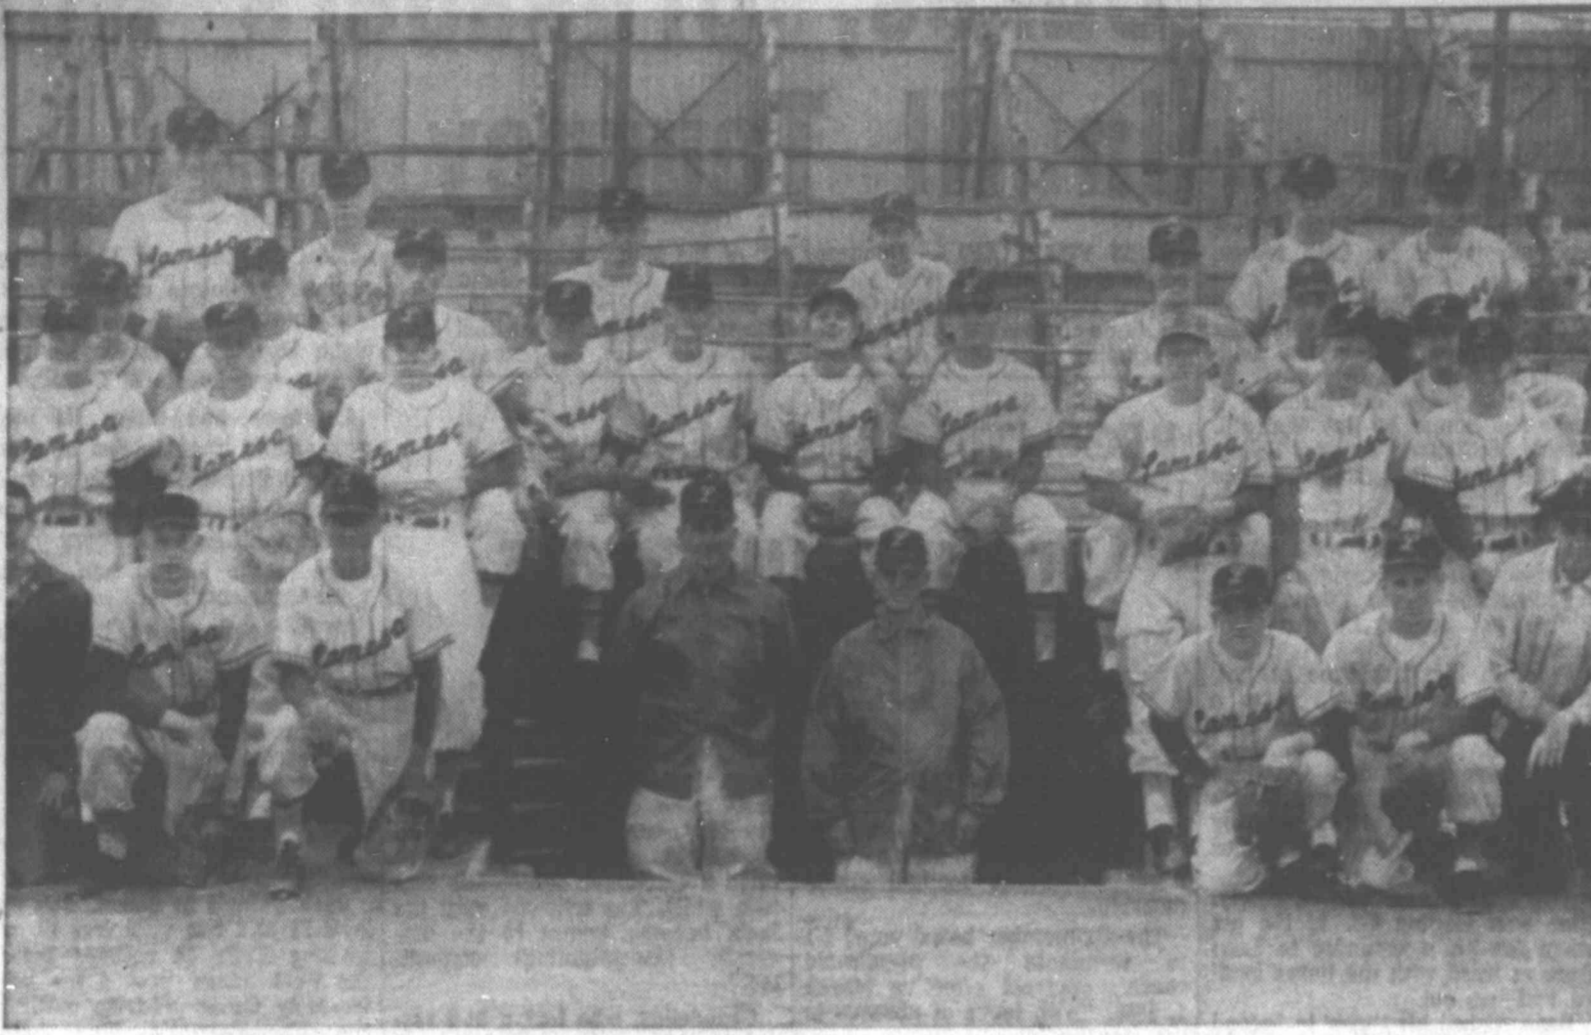

The Ramblers stashed it away in the first half, hitting 50 percent from the floor, out-rebounding the Owls 22-21 and pushing in front 49-30.

Ron Miller led the Ramblers with 19 points, while Vic Rouse and Jerry Harkness scored 15 each.

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago Loyola's high-stepping Ramblers buzzed past Temple 75-64 and Dayton trounced Houston, 94-77 in Saturday night's quarter-final doubleheader of the 25th National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

The Tornados, coached by Jack Wetzel and Fred West, will be contesting for the district title against the Mustangs, Colorado City and Snyder.

Liston Reasons He Is Best Fighter Active

NEW YORK—“I don't think there's nobody in the world as good as myself.” Charles (Sonny) Liston, dripping confidence and contempt, had that comment on the fight he will have next summer with champion Floyd Patterson for the world heavyweight title. They signed the contracts Friday for the fight, which could be the richest of all time.

The promoter, Tom Bolan, predicted a gross of at least $6 million. There will be no live television. Bolan said six cities, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Washington and Seattle will under consideration as the site, which will be picked by Patterson. The champion will also pick the date and announce it within a month. It will be not earlier than June 18 nor later than Sept. 30.

Seattle has offered up a $1-million guarantee to hold the fight in connection with the World's Fair. Bolan said, “We will explore all possibilities and take the one giving us the best deal.” Liston made it clear at the signing ceremonies that he thinks he is getting a bad deal. He signed for 12 1/2 per cent of the gross. Patterson gets 45 per cent of the live gate, and 55 per cent of the other rights, plus the right to dictate time, place and promoter for a return match if Liston wins.

Liston already is listed a 7-3 favorite. Patterson said that didn't bother him. “The odds were 2-1 against me in the second Johansson fight,” the champion said. “I hope to make the experts look bad again.” Liston said he planned to change the champion's mind about that about the fourth round. Patterson said he expected to weigh about 191 or 192 some three or four pounds heavier than he did in his last title defense against Tom McNeely Dec. 4. Liston's last outing was on the same date, in the other half of a closed-circuit television doubleheader. He weighed 212 1/2 in knocking out Albert Westphal of Germany in the first round.

HC Girl Netters Sweep Matches

Girl tennis players from Howard County Junior College swept their series Friday at Amarillo, but the boys got swept.

In the No. 1 singles division, Hermalinda Lopes of HCJC carried out Lay Matney in straight sets 6-0, 6-0, then in the No. 2 singles Lucilla DeLeon duplicated the feat over Janelle Haynes, 6-0, 6-0.

Hermalinda Lopes and Lucilla DeLeon then turned back Matney and Haynes in the No. 1 doubles match, 6-0, 6-1. Marcy Griffin and Betty Ellison teamed in the No. 2 match to defeat Peggy Bowen and Gail Sims, 6-1, 6-1, giving the HCJC girls a 6-0 edge in the match. Coupled with a 4-2 win over Odessa girls last week, HCJC has now built its girls' net total to 10 points for the season.

In the boys' No. 2 singles, Jim Brown of HCJC bowed to Kenneth Fulton, 6-4, 6-4, and in the No. 2 match, Norman Wright of HCJC carried Jerry Pybus to brink effort before losing 4-6, 4-4. In the No. 1 doubles match Brown and Wright lost to Fulton and Pybus, 6-1, 6-0. The No. 2 doubles match was defaulted since HCJC had no second doubles unit.

HC Girl Netters Sweep Matches

gave Amarillo boys a 6-0 advantage in the matches.

HCJC netters play again Friday at Frank Phillips College in Borger. Anna Smith said the girls performed well, and that while losing the boys showed considerable improvement. This is the first year for the boys.

However, Kansas City already has clinched first place in the American Basketball League's Western Division for the second half. The Steers won the league's first-half playoff.

Two fighters are 27. Patterson, born in Waco, N. C., is the only heavyweight champion ever to regain the crown. He did it by knocking out Ingemar Johansson of Sweden in June 1960, after being knocked out himself the year before. His only other loss was an eight-round decision to Joey Maxim in 1954.

Warriors Avenge 1961 Cage Loss

History won't repeat in the National Basketball Association playoffs this year.

Just a year ago, the Philadelphia Warriors met the Syracuse Nationals in the semifinal round. The Warriors were heavily favored. Instead, the amazing Nats won the series in three straight.

The same two teams clashed again Friday night in Philadelphia in the first game of the semifinals. This time, the Warriors whipped to a 110-103 victory to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five series.

In the other semifinal Friday night, also the first of a best-of-five series, the Detroit Pistons fought off the Cincinnati Royals 123-122 in Detroit.

Plainview Club Seeks New Pro

PLAINVIEW — The board of directors of Plainview Country Club voted this week not to renew the contract of Horace Moore, the pro here since 1955.

The club is now taking applications for the job. Applications should be sent directly to the club.

He has sought the fight for a long time. Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, hailed at Liston's police record and his management. “But the fight was made because Floyd Patterson wants to fight Sonny Liston,” he said.

F. Thomas Is Now With Fifth Team

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Frank Thomas is making the grand tour of the National League — Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago, Milwaukee and now the New York Mets.

“I have no regrets,” said the 32-year-old outfielder. “In baseball you never know where you'll be next year. I figure that the club that is getting me wants me more than the club that let me go. I will go to all 20 clubs, that means I will have been around 20 seasons. “I am looking forward to a great year. I feel I have a lot left. Once you're down, like I was in Chicago, they all get down on you. Milwaukee gave me a break and I came through for them. “When Milwaukee sold me I was one of the most surprised people in baseball. Last fall when I signed my contract in advance, they told me they were counting heavily on me for next year, I don't know what happened but I am happy to be with this club.” Thomas started the 1961 season with the Cubs and their eight manager-coaches. “It was a wonderful idea for spring training,” he said. “An individual coach for each position. They could watch the kids closely. But when the season started, nobody could tell me that eight different minds all think the same. Anyway, I didn't play after the start.”

Lubbock Monterey Trounces Steers

LUBBOCK — Lubbock Monterey spotted the Big Spring Steers one run and then bombed the visitors into submission here Friday afternoon, 13-3.

Coach Roy Baird of the Steers went with his untried pitchers. Jack Roden started on the mound for the invaders while Tommy Fierro, Richard White and Eddie Nelson later saw action.

Monterey's ace backstop, Dale Harris, put the game on ice in the fourth inning. The big boy drove the ball over the left field fence with three teammates aboard to put the Platsmen ahead, 9-1.

A pair of singles by Jack Irons and Jeff Brown combined to provide Big Spring's go-ahead run in the first inning. The hits came after Hampton had struck out the first two men he faced.

Monterey took the lead for keeps in the five-run third and padded it with Harris' grand-slam in the fourth and three runs off two hits and three consecutive walks in the fifth.

“They say we are discards. I think all of us want to show them. I know Milwaukee was wrong in letting me go. They are still looking for outfielders. I still can't figure that move. But this is a new year. And I'm ready for a big season.”

Paschal Panthers Decision Cooper

FORT WORTH — The Paschal Panthers scored all their runs in the first two innings here Friday afternoon as they downed the Abilene Cooper Cougars, 4-0.

Paschal scored on an error in the first for its initial run, but blasted five hits to score three second-inning runs.

The Cougars made a move in the third, loading the bases after two outs, but the Panthers doused the threat.

Eddie Boyle pitched the complete seven innings for Paschal, giving up only two hits—a single by third baseman Rolf Ertzweg and another by shortstop Harry Hamric.

Roy McCharen manned the mound for Cooper, being charged with his first loss of the season. Paschal ... 130 000 1-2 3 2 Cooper ... 000 000 0-2 2 0

Batteries: Roden, Fierro (3), White (4), Nelson (5) and Brown; Hampton and Harris.

Steers Sweep Pair Over Snyder Club

Big Spring snapped back from a Friday loss to defeat Snyder twice, 19-3 and 7-0, here Saturday afternoon.

The provincials profited from sterling mound jobs on the parts of Lefty Dexter Pate and Jack Roden. Pate was wild but he set the Tigers down without a hit in the seven-inning opener.

Roden yielded four hits, but he hurled Big Spring's first shutout of the season.

In ten starts now, the Longhorns have won seven times. They open District 2-AAAA competition here against Midland Lee at 4 p.m. Tuesday, then play Odessa High—the league favorite—here on Saturday.

Pate was his own worst enemy in the first game. He yielded ten walks, forcing Snyder's first two

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

JOEY GIAMBRA

DAN LEWIS

Joey Giambra, who lost a close fight decision to Farid Salim in New York recently, is the same fellow who offered to fight in this area a couple of years ago. . . . A clean-cut young man who actually aspired to a stage career, Joey probably could have been champion had the element in boxing not rubbed him the wrong way and had he agreed to take what fights came his way. . . . Giambra was living in Dallas at the time he visited here. . . . Joey hails from Syracuse, not far from where Carmen Basilio got his start, but he always claimed the promoters around there gave him a bad shuffle. . . . He was willing to go along with the gag of dressing like a professional Texan, but, for some reason, the Dallas people didn't warm to him and he soon pulled stakes. . . . They say he gave Salim, who is five years his junior, a good tussle and he could have won the nod by throwing a few more right hands in the late rounds. . . . As it is, Joey is probably near the end of his career as a fistcutter. . . . Wayne Rideout, one of the twins who made track history at North Texas State University in the '30's, is now a teacher at Bryan High School. . . . His twin brother, Blaine, teaches at Childress. . . . For the record, Paul Anderson is still lifting weights. . . . The Georgia strongboy tried professional boxing for a while, but invariably found he had left his fight in the gym. . . . The New York Yankees drew a paid crowd of 3,800 for an intra-squad baseball game at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., recently. . . . The Lamesa school board voted not long ago to donate $100 to the Little League baseball movement there. . . . If ex-Big Spring Billy Maxwell hadn't been picked to play in this year's Masters Golf Tournament, the nod would have gone to Don Fairfield, the former U. S. Open Champion, who picked both Dave Marr and Maxwell, rated Phil Rodgers, the winter sensation, no better than sixth in the balloting — behind Dave Ragan, Dave Hill and Mason Rudolph, but just ahead of Bobby Nichols of Midland.

Layne Will Probably Play Again

Bobby Layne, the local bowling impresario, has been told by coach Harold Fischer to play a lot of golf this spring and report to the Steeler training camp and check on his reflexes. . . . If they remain good, he'll play another season of NFL ball. . . . If not, he'll help Parker coach. . . . Chances are he'll play—at least long enough to be a Sammy Bahg's all-time record for throwing touchdown passes. . . . He's now tied with the Slinger, each with 187 in his career. . . . Bobby already holds the NFL record for passes thrown and yardage gained on aerials and is only nine completions short of Sammy's all-time mark in that category. . . . Incidentally, Layne's Bowlarama in Austin (in which Bobby owns 18 per cent), has been closed for many months now but should re-open later this year. . . . The Bowlarama here has experienced a slight business increase this year. . . . Layne's local manager, Harold Fischer, has his business home in order now and expects to devote a little more time to golf.

Senior Boys Helped With Workouts

Dan Lewis, the Rannels coach here, says that the volunteer work of several high school seniors in the junior high spring football drills probably contributed as much as 25 per cent to the effectiveness of the workouts. . . . Bobby Pryor, Mike Hughes and Willie Mendoza all tolled with the Rannels boys while Jack Wilson and Butch Vaughn worked with the Goliad players. . . . It was a labor of love with the five, too, since there was no way to reimburse them for their efforts. . . . The idea of having high school seniors work with the junior high boys is head coach Emmett McKenzie's and will probably be repeated here in future years. . . . The Rannels seventh and eighth grade teams came on fast in spring workouts, by the way, and should be rugged this fall. . . . Joe Jaure suffered a bone fracture in his hand and Bobby Griffin got a hairline fracture in his leg but both Rannels' boys will be ready this fall. . . . Jaure could become the greatest running quarterback this school has ever had. . . . The Dallas Texans of the AFL will draw $90,000 in guarantees for five exhibition games this fall, a sharp increase over last year. . . . Big Spring has been rated fifth in the Odessa American's District 2-AAAA baseball poll but the clubs ranked below the Steers—Midland High, Midland Lee and

Remember the Fish — Better the Day for Fishing

Umps People, Despite What You Can Hear

By JACK HANCOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Umpires are people. They get married, rear children and pay taxes. They do not always wear blue suits and dark scarves.

In the month of March the tribe will be found in Florida, Arizona and California spring training camps exercising their arms, legs, eyes, ears, throats and patience for the long summer ahead.

At the moment there are 44 big league umpires, including three or four "on trial" whose contracts were bought from the minor leagues on a conditional basis last September. Eventually there will be five four-man crews, captained by the senior umpire, in each league, with perhaps a spare to take care of injuries or illness.

The pay runs from a minimum of $7,000. Top men get in the vicinity of $20,000, depending on seniority and talent. Five per cent of an umpire's salary goes into a pension fund with the leagues adding a certain amount. After five years of service, an umpire can collect a pension at the age of 55. He gets more the longer he stays and the older he is before he starts collecting.

Aggie Donatelli, a National League umpire since 1950, is a reasonable man, willing to talk freely about the pattern and problems of an umpire's existence. Aggie has a wife and four children.

"We have only a few signs, such as a rain sign if the senior man decides a game should be stopped, or a light sign to turn on the lights. We also have a dropped ball sign to tip off an umpire who might have been out of position and didn't see the ball dropped."

Umpires buy their own equipment. That includes two uniforms at $75 each, one for use behind the plate every fourth day and the other for use on the bases. The plate uniform includes a coat with a huge pouch-pocket for baseballs. The plate uniform coat also is larger because the umpire wears a fiber protector under it. In the American League an inflated protector. The National League does pay for special summer uniforms of light weight material.

An ump also must buy two pairs of shoes, one for plate work and the other for the bases at $20 each. The plate shoe has a steel toe and a higher arch with a longer, padded tongue. Shin guards cost $15, a protector $25 and a mask $15.

For a single game the umpires have available five dozen balls. For a doubleheader, 10 dozen. Before the game the umpires rub these balls with a special kind of clay from a New Jersey farm, to remove the glossy sheen.

Gary Walker Shatters Denton Discus Mark

DENTON—ACC's freshmen unseated HCJC as champions of the junior college - university freshman division in the annual North Texas Relays here Saturday, scoring 21 points to 18 for the Jayhawks.

Gary Walker, HCJC freshman, set one of the four records in the division when he hurled the discus 157 feet 11 inches. The old record was held by another HCJC entry, Tiffin Stone, who tossed the saucer 136 feet 10 inches last year.

Other marks fell in the mile relay, where ACC bettered its own mark with a 3:18.7 clocking; 100-yard dash, won by SMU's Billy Foster in 9.5; and in the shot put, where ACC's Roger Orrell, excellent with a throw of 31 feet 13 inches.

A wind which blew up to 20 miles an hour handicapped the teams.

Lamar Tech won the college division, scoring 63 points to 61 1/2 for North Texas. Oklahoma Baptist was third, with 19, while Tarleton State trailed with 4 1/2.

Arlington Heights won the high school division, counting 139 points. Dallas Jefferson was second, with 87 2-5, followed by Denton, which had 83 3-20.

Four high school records fell, as did one one class mark.

HCJC's representatives won the 440-yard relay in 42.7 seconds, placed third in the sprint medley relay, third in the high hurdles,

Dallas New Site Of Football Tilt

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Dallas has been selected as the site of the National High School All-America football game May 18, Mose Simms, the game director, said Saturday.

The game will be in the Cotton Bowl and will match high school senior football players from over the country.

The Greater Lions Club of Arlington, Tex., will sponsor the game, which is produced by the Wigwam Wise Men of America, an Oklahoma City group.

Dick Williams Unavailable To Richards And Houston

MIAMI (AP)—Three times in the past six years Paul Richards has obtained handyman Dick Williams from another club.

And he'd probably like nothing better than to have the Baltimore Orioles infielder-oufielder for his new Houston Colts.

Williams says he saw Richards a few times just before spring training opened. They are Texas neighbors, living only 30 miles apart.

"If you ever get released you can come and play for me in Houston," Richards told Williams this winter.

Richards originally got Williams from the Brooklyn Dodgers on waivers in June, 1956.

"I hit .296 and was doing pretty good when Richards traded me to Cleveland for Jim Busby the following June," says Williams. "I hate to let you go, Paul told me, 'but I need a centerfielder.'"

"That was June 13, 1957. That night for Cleveland I hit a home run, a double and a single off three different pitchers and beat Baltimore."

"Richards just shook his head. 'The following April, Richards got me back in a five-man deal. But in October, 1958, he needed a shortstop and sent me to Kansas City for Alex Carrasquel.'"

"For two years with the Athletics I hit over .300 against Baltimore. Paul got me back last April but I laid a big egg for him, hitting only .206 for 64 games."

"I don't think Houston has a chance to get Williams," says Billy Hitchcock, the new Baltimore manager.

"Dick can play several spots, and play them well. I can use him at third base, first or in the outfield. He's a real valuable man."

Ridan Is Favored In Derby Event

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex. (AP)—Ridan, who reeled off eight straight victories, was named the Kentucky Derby favorite at 4-1 as opening prices were posted in the Caliente future book Saturday.

Second choice was Sir Gaylord at 5-1, while Royal Attack was third at 6-1.

Game Commission Reports Many Hunting Violations

By The Associated Press

Too many Texas hunters could not put down their guns at the end of the hunting season, The Game Commission reports 309 arrests in February including 139 for shooting violations. Headlights topped the list, with 47 arrests and $8,309 in fines.

Members of the Laguna Madre Fishing Association spent much of their last meeting discussing their "junk yard"—the artificial reef made of junked car bodies. Jack Francis said another reef may be made closer to shore, a better break for outboard fishermen. Next meeting of the association is March 21.

J. R. Singleton, regional coordinator of the Game Commission, says Shelter Reservoir near Houston will be opened to boat fishing April 1. Pole fishing began Feb. 15.

Billy Smith is the new chief of region one of the State Parks System with headquarters at Big Spring. Smith, 31, formerly managed the Goliad State Park. R.W. Barlow, assistant executive director of state parks, said Smith will be in charge of most West Texas parks affairs.

Joe Davidson of Tyler goes to work April 1 as a specialist in the management of quail distribution and habitat development for the Game Commission. Davidson presently is field representative of

STATION BSVAH

Prescription Radio Is Therapeutic Aid

By JOE BYER

Few persons work at a radio station because a doctor prescribed it.

On the other hand, most radio stations aren't located at hospitals.

But neither is unusual at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, according to V. J. Belda, director.

There patients use a closed circuit radio station both for entertainment and as a therapeutic agent of the physical medicine and rehabilitation section.

Operated by patients, the VA station is on the air daily from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. It offers shows originated by patients and acts as a reception center for area stations at other times.

The call letters are BSVAH, for the name of the hospital. Its programs are available through headphones in hospital beds and through loudspeakers in dayrooms, dining rooms, canteens and the library.

Russel F. Hoover, chief of recreation therapy, is director of the station and is the only hospital employee directly connected with it. Since the station was started 12 years ago, about 80 patients have used it as a part of their therapy, according to Hoover.

An important part of treating patients is stimulating their interest, Hoover said. Many of them have spent so much time in hospitals that there is a danger they may lose interest in anything except being sick.

The radio station, as well as other activities, provides a place to develop interest once it is aroused. For instance:

A patient now working at the station had responded little to many activities offered. To some of the therapies the patient responded well; to others, not at all. Finally, he had regressed almost to the lack of interest shown when he was hospitalized here in January 8, 1961.

CHANCE REMARK

Hoover saw the patient playing the piano one day and casually remarked that if he kept practicing, he would be able to play on the station for the entertainment of other patients.

"It was an off-hand remark and I forgot it," Hoover said. "About a month later he came by and asked me if I meant what I had said. I didn't know what he was talking about."

The man began to practice regularly on the piano and soon felt he was ready to play for other patients. He began playing 30 minutes one day a week. Now his practice sessions, program planning and request show keep him busy six days a week.

"He plays by ear, so he goes to town to listen to new records," Hoover said. "Those he cannot grasp immediately or some he especially likes, he will buy."

This one patient is much closer to going home than he was before he became interested in the radio station, Hoover thought.

STRICTLY THERAPY

Prior experience in the field of radio is not necessary to use the therapy. In fact, few patients who have worked with the station have had it. Assignment to the station is by a doctor's order as a part of the medical program of the hospital.

"We are not here to train a person for a job in radio," Hoover said. "Our part is to help the patient get back into society as a productive member."

Volunteer groups occasionally stage performances in the studio of the station. The show is channeled through the hospital for patients who care to listen.

All special events which are broadcast over local stations are funneled into the system. At other times, tapes are used for announcements about the hospital or records from the music library are played.

Most of the records are purchased with funds donated especially for this purpose. It is a small collection by most radio standards, but includes records in most fields.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

Big Springs can take a bit of provincial pride in the publication of another book by Curtis Bishop, who grew up and was schooled here a quarter of a century ago. People will recognize several names borrowed from his Big Spring days. Since then he has graduated from the University of Texas, has done newspapering and historical research, and has turned out some 25 books from his prolific pen.

Many of these have been in the sports field: the cut his journalistic teeth as a sportswriter and was also quite a tennis player, and the latest fits into that category. It is LITTLE LEAGUE DOUBLE PLAY (J. B. Lippincott Co., $2.95) and capitalizes on Bishop's keen interest in and knowledge of Little League operation. As the father of two Little Leaguers and himself once a manager, he certainly has the background for such a book. A previous production was "Lank of the Little League."

The story deals with the spare little ward of a busy and stern aunt. He manages to slip out of a private school long enough to try out for the Little League and luckily make the team. With the connivance of his aunt's fiancé, he managed to play. In the process he wins a friendship with Julian Vega, a Mexican Little Leaguer transplanted in Austin, and these two become something of a LL curiosity—a successful double-play combination. When the aunt returns at a crucial time and learns her nephew is playing LL, ball against her wishes, the fat is in the fire. As if this isn't enough, Ronnie and Julian face another—and it helps solve the riddle.

"Twilight on the Range" is not without its whimsical cowboy humor, for the austerity of that day had its lighter moments—in retrospect, anyway. Timmons tells of his mortification when the first cow he roped, the first time he was permitted to work the herd, jerked the horn off his saddle. He got the nickname Muley for a time.

The opening phase of his biography, however, deals with the more familiar Texas Panhandle, and into it is woven a portrait of a giant among Texas cattlemen—Charles Goodnight. Billie Timmons never departed from the influence of this fabled rancher and his wife.

This is a good book for youngsters, not alone those with a bent for Little League but also for any who love adventure. Sometimes dialogue gets a little flippant and sophisticated for youngsters, but on the whole it's well done. Best of all, it keeps moving... like a fast double play, you know —JP

Fond of the Goodnights, he nevertheless succumbed to the lure of the trail. Once on the northern ranges, he stayed, experiencing adventures, disappointments and perils such as being lost in a blinding blizzard. He made money, but more frequently he was broke. Between him and his horse, Buck, there arose a deep attachment and one of the happiest moments of his life was when Buck was given to him.

The University of Texas Press has added a second volume to its M. K. Brown Range Life Series, and it is a virile addition.

William Timmons' TWILIGHT ON THE RANGE ($4.95), proves

"We cannot expect the Americans to jump from Capitalism to Communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of Socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have Communism."

Dictator Nikita Khrushchev (3 1/2 mos. before visit to U.S.)

The story is told with remarkable, vivid detail and yet is not over-told. It fits perfectly with the rugged simplicity of his day and thus makes a contribution to the perpetuation of the West. It was far more interesting as it actually existed than the shoot-em-ups and TV shows portray it. —JP

Driver Training Help Is Cited

An Award of Merit, for contribution to traffic safety in the public schools' driver-training program, has been awarded to the McEwen Motor Co. by the Texas Automobile Dealers Association.

H. C. Pittman, Austin, executive vice president of the TADA, cited McEwen's lending of a Buick to the school district for the training program.

Members of TADA for the past 13 years have loaned automobiles and pickups without charge as a public service, to high schools and special training groups.

Missing Over Year, Ralph Magee Is Declared Dead

FORSAN (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Heard Sr. have received word from their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Magee, Albuquerque, N. M. that her husband, Capt. Ralph Magee, has been declared officially dead.

Capt. Magee was stationed at Kirtland AFB for six years before leaving 21 months ago for Laos where he served as assistant Air Force attaché to the U.S. Embassy.

He was reported missing on March 23, 1960 when he and six others failed to arrive at Saigon on a flight later determined to have been shot down over rebel-held land.

While officially reported missing, he was promoted to captain (promotions continue in the Air Force since missing personnel are presumed alive until after more than a year).

Mrs. Magee, the former Lavonne Hoard, married the Air Force pilot five years ago. Her three oldest children, Jay, 10, and Janet and Janice, identical twins,

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MARCH 18, 1962

Mrs. Delanie Crawford, Howard County's Home Demonstration agent, is a homemaker in every sense of the word—actually and professionally.

Following a day's work which might be in her office at the Howard County Court House, in a rural meeting, or supervising a county-wide event, she goes home—a new one in the Kentwood Addition—to her husband and four children, Carolyn, Linda, Joan and David.

Well known by women throughout the county, it is Mrs. Crawford whom so many call upon for consultation in matters of the home. It is she who keeps informed on new methods and products for the home and in turn passes this knowledge on to those in need of it. Sewing, cooking, and decorating are to name only a few of the homemaking phases which she teaches and demonstrates.

Now, in her own new home, she is demonstrating her ability by making curtains, refinishing furniture, covering lamp shades and all those little things which make a home more attractive and comfortable. In processing these projects she has taken into consideration many factors including the wishes of her family.

Her projected domestic program also includes landscaping, with a 90 by 60 foot, fenced backyard to be divided into halves. One half will be the children's playground and the other half, sodded from the extended brick patio. Wrought iron will be a divider and the yard is where the Crawfords plan to spend many summer evenings.

Floors throughout the home, with the exception of livingroom and front hall, are of vinyl asbestos tile—practical and easily cleaned. Provincial prints are predominant for curtains and wallpaper, while in all areas natural wood doors and paneling are featured. Inside shutters installed by Mr. Crawford, are in keeping with the Colonial cottage built of new old-brick.

Colors used in the various rooms are in keeping with the room's function and personality of its occupant.

The living room, however, will be predominantly off-white and beige when Mrs. Crawford has it completed. Off-white draw curtains have been made and a table refinished in antiqued white matching a white based lamp. A beige-toned straight line sofa will also blend tastefully into the decor of the room.

Particularly pleasing is a bedroom shared by Joan and Linda. Blue and white checked Priscilla curtains and matching lampshade tie in with the blue-painted chests and book shelves, typical of a "sugar and spice" room.

Mrs. Crawford is especially pleased with her laundry area which is shut-off from the back hall by folding doors. Electric units, washer and dryer, are only around the corner from the kitchen and dining areas.

It is a fact, Mrs. Crawford practices what she teaches.

Brownies Visit Weimer Farm

Members of Brownie Troop No. 422 hiked from the city limits to Col. Robert Weimer's farm Tuesday.

Under the supervision of Donna Weimer and Daria Seeb, the girls learned Scout trail signs along the hike. They were shown various activities around the farm and all the farm animals.

Mrs. Leonard Einstein, den mother, and Mrs. Fred Huffman accompanied the troop on the hike. Mrs. Huffman is a member of the Girl Guides of England.

Cold drinks were furnished by Mrs. William Harris.

A new member, Pamela Harris, was welcomed.

Teenage Girl Is In Coast Guard

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Old Tars would tell you it's bad luck to have a woman aboard a ship. It'll be worse luck for the recon-verted fireboat City of Portland this summer if there isn't one aboard.

She'll be Capt. Marjorie Moore, an 18-year-old college sophomore and one of the youngest women in the country holding a master's license from the U.S. Coast Guard.

Marjorie will join the ship fresh from her second year at Nason College in Springvale, Maine.

She is sea-going daughter of Capt. Donald A. Moore who operates a charter boat service out of Saco, Maine. He bought the 90-foot steel fireboat from the city of Portland, and plans to use it on excursions this summer.

When Marjorie takes the helm it will be with the same easy familiarity with which a Vermont milk maid tackles the family chores.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Kivlehan of Newport, R.I., announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Mary, to Lt. (j.g.) Harris Spencer Wood, USNR, 1500 Rannels. Wood is the son of Mrs. G. E. Wood and the late Dr. Wood. Miss Kivlehan is a graduate of St. Catherine Academy at Newport, and is presently attending Salve Regina College there. Wood is a graduate of the University of Texas where he was a member of the Kappa Alpha Order. He is presently Gunnery Officer on the USS John Willis, based in Newport. A June wedding is planned.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

Now that spring has sprung just about everything she has to offer, we likely will begin to have some pretty fair days. With fair days, of course, will come one of the biggest rashes of style showings we have had the pleasure of beholding in some years. I suppose if there is any way of making most all the women happy it is in showing them what the merchants believe is going to be the best thing for them, fashion wise, for the approaching season.

We received an invitation from MRS. CLAUDE MILLER who now lives in Snyder, to attend a showing there on Saturday. I could not go but if some of the good Snyderites will keep asking me, maybe one of these Saturdays in spring I will gather up some of my townpeople and go to Snyder and view what they have to offer.

An interesting thing about style shows is that, like Christmas cards, there is so seldom a duplication, no matter how many shows one sees. I like them... even though my desires always tend toward those frocks out of my financial reach.

MRS. J. D. JONES is still under treatment in Galveston and enjoys hearing from her Big Spring friends and neighbors. She receives her mail at Hotel Galvez.

MR. and MRS. GUS BRANNON of Cross Plains are visiting their daughter, MRS. W. N. NORRED, and husband for a special purpose. Mrs. Norred is a St. Patrick's Day celebrant... that's the day her birthday falls on and each year her father and step-mother make an effort to be with her to observe the day.

A little note from MRS. R. E. BLOUNT in Austin brings us up to date with some of the family. Mr. Blount has recently had surgery on his legs and is progressing nicely. HELEN BLOUNT (I don't know her name since she married) is doing a small role in "How to Make a Success in Business Without Even Trying" on Broadway and happily it seems to be going to run indefinitely. The Blounts lived here a number of years ago and were one of the type family that joins in making a town a good place to live. We still think of them as Big Spring residents... just living in Austin for a while.

MRS. GEORGE DAWSON writes from Chicago that she is enjoying living in the city where Dr. Dawson is under treatment. She has Catherine Anne with her and April. Mrs. Dawson recently toured the Blue Cross-Blue Shield Hospital Service Plan with the Women's Auxiliary of the Chicago Medical Society.

One of the highlights of the stay in Chicago as far as Catherine Anne is concerned was to attend the Medinah Shrine Circus and see the wonderful animal acts. She is attending school and has maintained a high average in her grades along with classes in swimming, dancing and crafts.

JOE BLUM who is a proud grandfather of several has a collection of little charms for his watch chain. Each one indicates a grandson or granddaughter. He's not a grandfather that lets grandmothers have all the glory.

After the exciting train trip to Los Moches, Mexico, MRS. HARVY WILLIAMSON and MRS. BRAD WAGNER of Amarillo who has been visiting the Williamsons, plan to go on up the coast to a resort and stay for ten days. George Oldham took Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. Wagner to Presidio where they joined Bruce Frazier's tour. MRS. LUCIAN JONES was also expected to make the trip... and knowing Mary as I do, I would say she got there.

All our sympathy goes to the PHIL GROZIER family who only recently moved to a farm home near Arkadelphia, Ark. The family had purchased 28 acres of farm land with a seven room house on it. The furniture they had used in their home here was not adequate so they had purchased new pieces. When they had been in the house three days Mrs. Grozier was in town at the washateria and he at a barbering job in the city. The house caught fire and burned to the ground leaving them only the clothing they wore and the clothing to be washed. Word of the mishap was received here by Mrs. McCauley in whose building at 14th and Austin Phil had his barber shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Visit From Kansas

Visitors in homes of the Bob Clarks and the Charles Biddisons this week are Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Reed of Parsons, Kansas. They are the parents of Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Biddison.

'Automotive Flowercade' Is To Be Presented Next Month

Four O'Clock Garden Club has planned and will present "Automotive Flowercade," April 28-29. The show is to be held at Shasta Ford Motor Company, and is open to the public, according to Mrs. Bill Swindell, general chairman.

Entries will be received at Shasta Ford Co. between 9 and 11 o'clock the morning of April 28. The show will be closed to the public from 1 until 3 o'clock in the afternoon for judging.

Hours for public display will be from 3 until 6 p.m., Saturday, and from 2 until 6 p.m., Sunday.

Entries must remain on exhibit through Sunday, the 29th, until 6 p.m. and must be removed by the exhibitor by 7 p.m., the chairman announced.

Exhibitors in the Artistic Division are expected to replace any wilted material before 1 p.m. Sunday; defective arrangements are to be removed by the show committee if not presentable to the public; exhibitors will furnish appropriate container of clear glass for horticulture specimens and all specimens must be in the container with water at the time of entry.

Pre-registration is requested in all artistic classes. It is requested that each member secure entry cards and pre-register at least two entries in the Artistic Division. Any number of entries is permissible to each, however no more than one entry in each class will be allowed by any exhibitor.

Mrs. Swindell states that horticulture exhibits must be grown by the exhibitor; plant material for the Artistic Division may be that grown by an amateur other than the exhibitor and purchased fruits and vegetables may be used as fresh cut plant material.

With exception of Junior Division and open invitational classes, all entries will be limited to members of Four O'Clock Garden Club Council. By calling Mrs. Bill Swindell, Amber 4-6477, further information may be obtained.

AWARDS
 The standard method of awards will be followed, with point scored to be taken from the Handbook for Flower Shows. Judges may withhold awards if not merited. Fresh cut plant material must predominate in any arrangement considered for a tri-color award.

A junior achievement award will be given to the outstanding exhibit in the Junior Artistic Division and the Junior Horticulture Division.

A sweepstakes award is to be given in the two major divisions of the show. The members of the Four O'Clock Garden Club having the greatest number of blue ribbons receives the sweepstakes award. In case of tie, red ribbons will be counted.

DIVISIONS
 Division One, its sections and classes, will be entitled "Parts Department," in keeping with the general theme; Division Two, the artistic division, entitled "DeLuxe Features and Accessories," Division Four, junior section, "Early Models"; and Division Four, educational division, "Research Department."

"MECHANICS"
 Mrs. Glenn Lepard is co-chairman for the event and committee chairmen are named as Mrs. Bill Tubb, schedule; Mrs. J. A. Solo-

Carter-Butler Nuptial Vows Said In Evening

MRS. KENNETH CARTER

Uniting Miss Judy Butler and Kenneth Carter, a nuptial service was read Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock by Elbert Garretson in the Birdwell Lane Church of Christ. An arch of greenery, palms and fern, with baskets of white gladioli, and candelabra holding burning tapers formed a background for the double ring ceremony.

A capella presentations provided background music. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hedgcock, 2308 Marcy. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe Carter, 407 Austin, are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace and tulle. It was fashioned with molded bodice having a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves which fastened with lace covered buttons. Her halo veil was of matching lace and tulle, trimmed with white sequins and pearls.

She carried a hand styled bouquet formed of cymbidium orchid and feathered carnations. Linda Carter, sister of the bridegroom and maid of honor, wore a white polished cotton dress styled with orchid organza overskirt. Her hat and veil were of matching orchid shade and she carried a single long-stemmed rose tied with orchid ribbon.

Commuting Dad Moves Family From Midland

All of my business was in Big Spring and my family in Midland, so for two years I commuted, spending most of my time in Big Spring," Johnny King explained when asked why he and his family moved from Midland. His wife Agatha, pointed out that she and the children, Cynthia, four, and Tamara, 18 months, saw very little of their husband and father, therefore they decided to make their home in Big Spring, where they could be together.

King is a self-employed ceramic tile contractor. Up until two years ago he had been employed with a Midland firm for about seven years. Work is usually steady, stopped only by sub-zero weather. He is a native Texan, born in Waco and his wife's birthplace was Westbrook.

"There is very little time for hobbies or recreation but we both like to bowl and fish," Mrs. King explained. "I enjoy yard work and gardening, which I hope to find time for this spring," she continued. Hunting is another of King's preferred pleasures but he finds little time for the sport.

They are members of the Baptist church, but as yet have not affiliated with a Big Spring church because of illness.

Business, home and children keep the Kings busy around the clock, which is true of most young couples with a goal.

Couple Is Wed At Whiteface

Zada Bea Snodgrass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Snodgrass of Morton, became the bride of Daniel Leon Cave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cave of Ackerly at 6:30 in the evening Friday at the Whiteface Methodist Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Scott Mitchell of Lubbock.

Sandra Powell, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" as a pre-nuptial selection, and "The Wedding Prayer" as a benediction. She was accompanied by Robert Snodgrass, pianist.

When she was given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white slipper satin with chapel train. The sweetheart neckline and hem were accented with white lace appliques. The three-tiered veil of French illusion fell from a crown trimmed with three rolled satin roses. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations atop a white Bible.

As the bride approached the altar, she presented her mother with a long stemmed rose. Following the ceremony she gave the bridegroom's mother an identical flower.

ATTENDANTS
Attending the bride as matron of honor was a sister, Zona Roulin. Bridesmaids were Muriel Zo Wilson, another sister, and D'Arne Snodgrass, a cousin. The attendants were dressed in pale green broadcloth with three-quarter length sleeves and softly pleated skirts. They carried single long stemmed white roses.

Rita Jo Snodgrass and Marilyn Goehry, cousins of the bride, wore dresses of lime green broadcloth. Their wrist corsages were of white carnations.

Karen Wilson, niece of the bride was the flower girl. Jerry W. Cave, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. David Cave and Don Carmichael were groomsmen and Olan Smith, James Alberding, Steve McGinty and W. B. Snodgrass served as ushers.

RECEPTION
Guests were registered at the entrance of the sanctuary by Roxanne Townsend. A reception followed in Fellowship Hall.

Assisting in the reception hostesses were Mrs. W. B. Snodgrass, Jackie Russel and Margaret Carter.

The table was centered with the roses of the feminine attendants and white candles. White lace over green was chosen for the table covering.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a beige wool suit with bone and orange accessories. The corsage was the roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride who attended Texas Tech, was business manager of Casa Linda Residence Hall. The bridegroom graduated from Texas Tech with a major in agricultural engineering.

The couple will be at home near Lamesa where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

Pamper The Soil First

Let's face it. There's no easy road to having an attractive healthy lawn. So, why not start at the bottom of it — the soil.

A lawn is no better than the foundation upon which it is laid and soil is the foundation. You may never have a really healthy lawn without first removing all trash; digging out as many rocks as possible; hauling in top soil if good soil is not present; spreading the area with peat, decomposed tin trash, or rotted sawdust if the soil is lacking in organic matter.

A perfectly smooth or gradually sloping lawn is obtained by having the soil graded according to your particular landscape. Water that runs down the gutter is expensive; leave the soil approximately two inches below sidewalks and curbs.

Work into the seeded a fertilizer of one part nitrogen, two parts phosphorus, and one part potassium.

Take care of your lawn during its beginning stages. The result will be gratifying.

Prevent Sugaring

If you want to keep your opened jars of jams and jellies from "sugaring," be sure to keep them tightly covered.

Doctors Say Hormones Make Skin Look Younger Safely

NEW YORK (Special) — A leading dermatologist and his assistants have conducted a "half-woman" test that proves conclusively estrogenic hormones make skin look younger, smooth dry skin wrinkles, often fade "old-age" skin discolorations.

A preparation containing female hormones was applied to one side of the face and neck and to one hand of 50 middle-aged women. A similar formula containing no hormones was used on the other side. It was quickly apparent that the side treated with hormones looked better. At the end of the test in all but two cases, skin lines were definitely less noticeable, complexion was softer, smoother, fresher. There was no local irritation in any case; examination revealed absolutely no systemic effects. The hormones had beautified effectively and safely.

In an effort to speed up hormones' beautifying action, a trustworthy 40-year-old laboratory developed a fluid formula called HORMONEX Beauty Serum. This laboratory conducted a test on 15,000 women volunteers who were asked to use the formula for just twelve days on one side of the face and neck. An impressive percentage signified that good results were attained even in this short period.

Hormonex Beauty Serum acts so rapidly because pure female hormones are dissolved in a combination of penetrating Sesame Oil and a patented, liquid Lanolin. Only 7 drops a day are required to treat face and neck.

If you would like to test HORMONEX Beauty Serum without risk, get a bottle at your favorite toiletry counter today, use it just twelve days. If the change is not astounding—if you are not completely satisfied, your dealer is authorized to refund purchase price without question. HORMONEX Beauty Serum is inexpensive to use. A 100-day supply costs only $3.50. Look younger quickly. See these wrinkles smooth out, starting today! You may obtain Hormonex Beauty Serum at:

Gives Complexion Advice

Jol Lansing gives advice to youngsters with complexion problems in today's Hollywood Beauty.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Problems From Diet To Wigs Discussed

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — (Editor's Note: Lydia Lane writes your letters but regrets that a personal answer cannot always be given. From time to time, she will answer beauty problems in her column. If you would like your question and answer to appear in this space, write to Lydia Lane, Attention and Answers, in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Q—Will you please give me a good reducing diet. I need to lose 10 pounds, but I break my diet after the first few pounds. I know I'm overweight, and I need to do something about this if I am ever to have any dates. (Barbara B., Chicago, Ill.)

A—Anna Maria Alberghetti has a lovely figure now, but there was a time when her weight was a problem. "I loved ice cream and spaghetti," she said. "And I could not reduce until I had made up my mind being thin meant more to me than eating my favorite foods. Once I had made this decision I lost eight pounds in three weeks. I ate plenty of lean meat, green vegetables, fresh fruit, and I gave up all starches and desserts." You must know what bad habits are causing your problem. Learn to give up these foods and you'll be able to reduce the way Anna Maria did.

Q—I am 15 years old, and my face has broken out. Is make-up to cover blemishes harmful? My mother thinks it is. (Caroline J., San Francisco, Calif.)

A—Jol Lansing has this answer for your problem. She suggests that you and your mother consult your doctor. I am sure that he can recommend one of the medicated make-ups that are designed for skin problems such as yours.

Q—My problem is my nails. They split and peel. I've gone without polish for several months but it doesn't seem to help. I'm so envious of anyone with lovely nails for I always notice hands. (Dorothy D., Denver, Colo.)

A—Try using nail polish and coat your nails with a plastic finish. If you add a fresh coat of polish every other day, you may find a solution to your problem. "I could not grow nails until I kept them covered with polish," June Lockhart confessed. "I only use remover every six weeks. I keep piling on polish, and my nails are so fortified they never break."

Q—I don't have a lot of time for exercising, but I do want to give myself a little workout every morning. Do you think that three minutes or so will do any good? (Betty J., Marshall, Tex.)

A—Marguerite Piazza uses a three-minute hourglass to time her workout. She says, "I vary my routine, but I always include one of my favorite exercises. I lie flat on the floor and lift my head and feet (legs close together) about two inches from the floor. I stretch myself as long as possible and hold this position for a slow count of 10. I lower myself and repeat. This exercise reaches almost every muscle in your body if it is done correctly."

Q—My hair is so fine that I live in rollers. I am considering buying a wig. Do you think this will be harmful to the hair? How much should a good one cost? How much should one pay for having a wig cleaned and dressed? (Dolores, Dallas, Tex.)

A—The phrase cheap is cheap applies to wigs. The most famous wig maker in the world recommends his $150 model. And $10 is a fair price for dressing a wig. "When I am on personal appearance tours," Jayne Mansfield confesses, "I often wear a wig of the exact color of my hair and no one ever knows it. Wigs are so light and well ventilated today that they do not harm your hair at all."

Ever notice that your home-baked bread, rolls or coffee cake have a "yeasty" flavor? This happens, usually, because the yeast dough was allowed to rise in too warm a place.

Grandma Moses Used Wood For Her Paintings

When interviewed on her 100th birthday, the late Grandma Moses, the great painter of primitives, was asked what kind of canvas she used. She replied that she used only "wood, the harder the better," as the base for her paintings. She went on to say that she puts on three coats of white primer before starting her painting.

Because of its long life, many artists are using wood rather than canvas. The artists' board is made by exploding wood chips in huge guns, and then putting the fibers back together again under high heat and pressure. Thermal setting tempering liquids then are baked in to make the thin boards exceptionally resistant to moisture and abrasion.

Grant Wood, listed among the great American artists of this century, was among the first to paint on tempered wood.

Appliances In White Boosts Kitchen Decor

White appliances can help to add a note of color (that's right) to any kitchen. To have a bright, cheerful kitchen the large appliances—stove, refrigerator, washing machine—do not necessarily have to be in gaudy colors.

Many homemakers recommend using bright color accents in kitchen decor that contrast with the large all-white appliances. One way to add a bright note of color is with ceramic tile countertops and splashbacks. Practical ceramic tile is available in a wide variety of colors and patterns that can color-accent any kitchen.

A colorfully painted soffit, with matching curtain colors is another way to add bright accents to your kitchen. The large white appliances provide the neutral background for color accents.

All white appliances provide the ideal neutral background for the bright color scheme.

Serve Polenta

Serve polenta—cornmeal mush mixed with grated cheese and molded and sliced — with a good canned spaghetti sauce for a quick supper. Add a green salad and a hearty dessert.

Easy Regulation

A rotary grater may be used for both fine and coarse grating simply by applying light or firm pressure.

Two Quiet Towns Speak Out With Historic Sites

By ED SYERS

Traveling westerly for San Angelo, you'll find the two quiet towns of Menard and Paint Rock—40-mile neighbors—more or less on your route. They are "musts" for however brief your visit.

On the pecan-banked San Saba, Menard has our state's least-known yet, in many ways, most important Spanish Mission—Presidio. Much of its fame derives from the macabre—the manner and results of its death.

To the north, Paint Rock's Concho canyon walls show the most complete record of Indian pictography in America. This primitive calendar—almanac—newspaper binds these two locals with a two-century knot of time.

I hope you can come on them as I did, and in the same order.

MENARD

I dropped in on Menard's Bob Weddle. Former Dallas U.P. staff-

man, he writes tight and well. Today he edits a weekly so he can stick with book-writing. He is polishing "The Pilgrims of San Saba." He summed it for me.

The mission was anchor bastion on the third and last and most northwesterly surge of the Franciscan friars into the lonely land they called, by times, "Apacheria."

In 1757, San Saba was the most heavily-garrisoned outpost of all—a hundred troops mounting Presidio guard. Yet within a year, its log-built mission was burned, two priests and 17 others murdered, the beleaguered garrison driven out.

Affronted Spanish arms took one year to muster the most formidable punitive force yet thrown against the Apaches. Presidio San Saba saw them launched in the drive that would secure New Spain's land forever, saw them reel back from total rout at the Red River.

The western missions were abandoned. Presently, the whole century-and-a-half Franciscan effort had collapsed. After that few ventured as far as San Saba.

Of course, Jim Bowie carved his name in the archway in 1831 when he was lost-mine hunting. But then, that was Jim Bowie.

PAINT ROCK STORY

Bob Weddle can direct you, as can Eden's Walt Dufraim, to the Paint Rock story.

It lies on private land owned by the family of Mrs. Elen Hartgrove Sims, a lovely and lively lady who took me through the Concho canyon's mile of 1500-cun-formed Indian symbols for which there is no Rosetta stone.

The road is easy, dropping below the eastern thrust of limestone blocks which rim a 100-foot high bluff with square-faced rock tablets. The tablets are minutely covered with the careful handiwork of ancient man who recorded their boasts, their hopes, their drouths, their battles and victories, their despairs and deaths. Many, Mrs. Sims admits, even the archaeologists can't read.

She stopped us under one that needed no guesswork. On an upper ledge was the sprawled body of a skirted frontier woman. Ahead was a shield with two crossed lances. Below, two scalp. Then some sign which Mrs. Sims thinks meant the prowess which destroyed a lonely wagon, once headed west.

There are recurring turtles. They could be a warrior's amulet. They could mean slow tribal travel the direction of the arrows. The same is perhaps true for the birds which fly perpetually against their rocky sky. There are countless pointed hands, possibly an Indian abacus. Marching vertical lines: armies?

Mrs. Sims showed me the Indian's deathly fear of his ultimate enemy, starvation. There were stalks of corn and bright, bright sun and grasshoppers. There were happier signs of turkey and buffalo, times of the full belly.

DEVIL

There is a bright red devil, horned and tailed. There is a wedding gone wrong: the bridegroom standing on his head, the bride running off with somebody else. There is the same strange circled cross which has turned up in the bushmen caves in Europe and Asia, even in the Bible's Land of Ur. It meant power.

And, of course, Mrs. Sims showed me the defacement that finally locked her ranch gates to free entry. Names painted on the wall, the 22 scars.

How old is this? Three hundred years, her best guess. But then, those fading old ones... There could have been others fading when they were young. And yet others. Finally, she showed me the two pictographs I most wanted to see. I knew their date precisely: 1752.

One showed a Spanish Mission afire. The other showed priests murdered. As I had left Bob Weddle with directions for Paint Rock, he had told me to look for them. The Indians had made two mistakes: showing two lovers on the mission instead of its one, showing three priests killed instead of two.

Bob figures that in the lust of Indian killing, it was easy to get confused. I wish Bob's book well. He was a prime mover in the designation of San Saba as a Texas Historic Site a few months ago, and he hopes hard for complete restoration. And I hope the state or private enterprise can do something to open, year-round, the amazing story of Paint Rock to the multiple thousands who should see it.

And, of course, I recommend seeing the two in the order I did. It isn't often you can talk to a newsman about his new book and find him scooped by rock-painting Indians two hundred years earlier.

Borden County Stock Show Set Saturday

GAIL — The annual Borden County 4-H and FFA livestock show and sale will be held here Saturday.

While approximately 100 animals will be on display at the school's livestock barns, there will be but 60 of them in the sale to be held in the afternoon at the show barn.

The big end of the show will be in lambs, with hogs second in number. A total of 13 calves will be exhibited.

Show sponsors are hoping for a large attendance from Big Spring. Last year there were more people from Snyder and Lamesa taking part in the sale and show.

Arrangements are being headed by Jay Holms, county agent, and Sid Long, vocational agriculture instructor.

The show will start at 8:30 a.m., and at noon the members of 4-H Club and FFA members will serve luncheon in the school cafeteria. Sponsors are furnishing meat for the luncheon.

Rich Anderson and Bill Wilson are serving as committee members to promote attendance by Big Spring businessmen.

Stock Show Sale Grosses $13,762

Official receipts from the big auction sale which brought the 25th Annual Howard County FFA and 4-H Fat Stock show to a close on Thursday night are $13,762.20.

Herb Helbig, show superintendent, said that check of the sales slips was completed Friday. The total, according to reports, is the largest in the history of the show.

Approximately $9,500 of the money was paid for the 24 steers sold. Remainder was for the 70 lambs placed on the auction block.

Checks to the boys and girls who sold their animals will be prepared and mailed in a few days, Helbig said.

Most of the bidders bought in animals at prices well above the market and then resold their purchase to wholesale meat buyers who were on hand to take the stock.

Helbig said that the show was a complete success in all details and that he deeply appreciated the Junior Chamber of Commerce members for their efforts. The Jaycees and the Howard County Junior Live Stock Association sponsors the annual fat stock show.

Injuries Fatal

BEAUMONT (AP)—Arthur Snider, 27, of Houston, died Friday night from injuries suffered in a three-car accident about 50 miles northwest of Beaumont on U.S. 69 near Woodville.

Thomas REPAIRERS AND OFFICE SUPPLIES Has Royal Typewriters Budget Priced To Fit Any Color Scheme

Only One-Third Of County's Motorists Have New Tags

In the span of the next two weeks, two-thirds of all Howard County's motorists must apply for their 1962 license plates. The plates have been on sale since Feb. 1 and through March 9, the office of Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, had issued 6,611 tags of all kinds. It is estimated there are more than 20,000 vehicles of all kinds in this county which must have 1962 tags in place by April 1. April 1 is official deadline for the purchase of plates but this year that date happens to be a Sunday. Therefore, the real deadline will be March 31. Mrs. LeFevre anticipates a wild rush for tags developing about the middle of this week and extending on through the final day. She points out that in addition to the office in the Howard County Court House car tags can be purchased at five substations in town — at any of the three Lewis Variety Stores or either of the two Newsom food stores. However, at these substations, only plates for passenger cars which need only re-registering are available. Owners of trucks, trailers, motorcycles, passenger cars from other states being registered in Texas for the first time, or cars for which the 1961 license receipt or title is missing must come to the county court house for their tags.

er tags and 275 house trailer plates. Relatively few of these have been issued. Mrs. LeFevre suggests that it would be of much greater convenience to the motorist not to wait until the last few days. While there is a faint appearance of a tag rush at certain times during the day in the tag office, in general the motorist who calls at the office now would be served immediately.

City's Role To Be Main Topic

ABILENE — The growing role of city government in helping to attract and to serve new industry will be the subject of a talk by Steve Matthews, executive director of the Texas Municipal League, at the Ninth Annual Industrial Conference. This is being sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in San Angelo on March 22, according to an announcement from Eldor Buelow, vice chairman of the WTCC Industrial Development Committee.

The success of local initiative shown by three San Angelo manufacturers and the operation of a successful industrial development program by the San Angelo Industrial Development Foundation will be an important part of the program.

World Service Carnival Planned

Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs of the Big Spring YMCA will sponsor a carnival Saturday to raise funds for World Service.

The event will be held in various rooms of the Y beginning at about 7 p.m. and will continue until about 10 p.m., Curtis Chatham, youth secretary, said. There are six high school and 11 junior high school clubs participating. Each club will operate a booth in this fund-raising effort. The public is invited.

All proceeds go toward supporting Y work in all parts of the world. World secretaries currently are working in almost every country of the globe to bring the YMCA to other nations. This year's goal will probably be about $500, Chatham said.

Fare Hike Studied

DALLAS (AP) — A request for a 2-cent fare hike by Dallas Transit Co. was studied Saturday by city officials. The company asks that the present 23 cent, 28 cent and 33 cent fares be raised to 25 cents, 30 cents and 35 cents.

DEAR ABBY

Finding Out In Time

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and my boy friend is 21. We have gone together two years and had planned our wedding for March 25th. Last Saturday "we" (it was his idea) decided to postpone it indefinitely. He says "we don't have enough money." We both have good jobs and I intended to continue working after our marriage. He says he still loves me and there is nobody else, but he thinks we should both date others "to be sure." I have "been sure" for over a year. I can't understand the sudden change. All the plans have been made and I am deeply hurt. What do you think?

CONFUSED AND HURT DEAR CONFUSED: I think you are lucky. Your boy friend obviously is not ready for marriage. What a break to find it out BEFORE the wedding! Date others. You might meet someone who is better suited to you. Or, in the meantime, this one might grow up.

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me what a guest should do when he is having dinner at the home of a very swanky friend and the fish tastes "funny"? Should he say something to the hostess? Or should he just quietly not eat it?

CHASTISED: He should very quietly tell the hostess.

DEAR ABBY: How can you tell the father of a 15-year-old boy to stop kissing him goodbye every morning and also to stop the good-night kissing? I don't want to hurt his feelings, but I think our son is too old for that.

THE BOY'S MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: In some families the son is never too old to be kissed. Even by his father. If yours is not that kind of family, and if your son resents it, tell your husband that a "man-to-man" handshake would be more appreciated by the boy. (Better yet, let THEM handle it.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SAD HEART": He who excuses, accuses himself. Don't carry your marriage license in your purse. If people want to talk, you can't stop them.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Local Men To Attend Y Meeting

Four local men will be at Lake Murray Lodge, near Ardmore, Okla., Thursday through Saturday, according to Francis Flint, general secretary of the YMCA.

They will be among 300 delegates from Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Southwestern Louisiana who are attending the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Southwest Area Council of YMCAs. Scheduled to attend from Big Spring are Arnold Marshall, Clyde McMahon, Wayne Williams and Flint.

The theme of the 1962 meeting is "Planning Effectively For The Future." A special feature of the convention will be a workshop for Y presidents and branch chairman. Philip S. Hopkins, New York, N. Y., executive for field services of the National Council of YMCAs, will lead the workshop.

CHEVROLET CARS FOR EVERY FAMILY, EVERY BUDGET, EVERY TASTE

Chevrolet

Want to pull out all the stops—except the one marked price! The Jet-smooth Chevrolet serves up all the room, refinement and riding comfort you could want. Spacious, gracious interiors and a baggage-room of a trunk. Body by Fisher craftsmanship with thoughtful touches like parallel-action electric windshield wipers. Quiet, comfortable Jet-smooth ride. New V8 vinegar or tried and true 6 savings. Really, here's everything you need to go around feeling expensive—all at a Chevrolet price. That model on the car ferry is an Impala Sport Sedan.

Chevy II

Hungering for a car that's lovely to look at, lively to step out in, easy to park, pack and pay for? Here it is—the car just about everybody's been trying to build. But, when all candidates were put to the test, Chevy II ran off with Car Life magazine's award for Engineering Excellence and earned these kudos from the editors: "Maximum transportation at minimum cost—minimum in both initial price and cost of operation" ... "sound and solid" ... "delightful car to drive." That's the Nova 400 4-Door Station Wagon parallel to the shore.

Corvaire

If you spark to the sporty things in life, this one ought to fire you up but good (and that goes double when you get a gander at the price). With that engine-transmission weight astern, the steering feels as light and responsive as a bicycle's. The rear-engine traction keeps Corvaire clamped tight to the road. The cornering's darned near flat—no more crack-the-whip feeling as you skim through a sharp curve. And, for all its evident sports-car spirit, Corvaire's just as practical as a pie pan. That model waiting at the ramp is the Monza Club Coupe.

Sara Beth Homan Is Selected To Attend Blue Bonnet Girls State In June Of 1962

By MARILYN GUM
Petitions for student council representatives and cheerleaders will begin circulating on April 2. Five council representatives will be elected from each class and three seniors and two juniors will be elected cheerleaders.

Each class of the homemaking girls went to tour the civil defense shelter during this past week. They were instructed about what one should do in case of attack.

Sara Beth Homan will represent BSBS and the American Legion Auxiliary at the annual Blue Bonnet Girls State in Austin. Four hundred girls will participate in this mythical "state" from June 13 to 22. Cora Sue Turner was selected by the Legion Auxiliary as an alternate. Girls State is a practical application of Americanism and good citizenship.

On March 2, the annual Bosses Banquet was given by the Distributive Education and Industrial Co-operative Trades students. Superintendent of Schools Sam Anderson welcomed the guests and each student introduced his employer. The parents of the students were also present. A short program was held after everyone had eaten. Barney Eden served as student master of ceremonies. There were songs by a boys and girls quartet consisting of Sheryl Whiteside, Pat Martin, Janet Prier, and Betty Morgan. A second quartet made up of Jimmy Hensley, Clinton Gambill, Greg Peay, and Vernon Garretson also sang.

Winn Richbourgh and Linda Morton presented a first place trophy to Big Spring High School in an assembly. The trophy was won in debate at Hardin - Simmons University. Winn and Linda were competing against 50 schools representing 30 towns. The girls debate team defeated Bryan Adams of Dallas to win the tournament.

The homemaking girls presented a Ma, Pa, and Me Night last week. The theme of the supper featured a "hubbly" theme. There was a Miss Universe from Slocumville Contest along with a program titled "The Sing-a-longers." Featured on the program were Beverly Rioridan, Laura Yeager, Nancy Norman, Linda Painter, Theresa Foster, Cheryl Whittington and Virginia Wilson.

On Thursday of this past week, Seminole brought two debate teams to BSBS for two rounds of practice debates. BSBS debate students were Cheryl Bray, Susan Gibbs, Linda Morton, Mike Halverson, Jay Hatch, Arnold Gibson, and Barbara Thompson.

The Court Jesters held their annual Thespian banquet to induct new members of the National Thespian Society last Saturday night. Cheryl Bray, Larry Diegthon, Mike Halverson, Carol Odum, Nancy Harden, Cal Boardman, Joanna Patterson, Cathy Boren, and Candy Harris were inducted. Mrs. Rita Weeg was inducted as an Honorary Thespian. Thespians receiving stars were Barbara Thompson, Winn Richbourgh, Mike Halverson, Nancy Harden, Larry Diegthon, Cal Boardman, Jimmy Atkins, and Dan Cose. Honor bars were presented to Linda Morton, Susan Zack, and Winn Richbourgh.

A reminder to students—nine week exams are scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this coming week. Third and sixth period tests will be given on Wednesday, second and fifth period on Thursday, and first and fourth on Friday.

The BSBS band is now selling magazines in the hope that they be able to raise the remaining money for their trip to the World's Fair.

Placing with their prize livestock in the annual show were: Heavy weight Hereford steers—Mike Houston, third; Norvin Hamlin, fourth; Don Worthan, sixth; Lightweight steers—Danny Coats, sixth; Lightweight final wool lambs—Dickie Carlton, fourth; Jimmy Welch, fifth; Calvin Ferrell, seventh; Vellon Jones, eighth; Lightweight crossbred—Blake Talbott, second; Heavy Crossbred—Vellon Jones, tenth; Calvin Ferrell, twelfth.

Four Make All-District

By BONNIE SIMPSON
FORSAN — We are very happy to report that three of our basketball girls made the All-Regional and four made the All-District basketball team. Those making All-Regional were Jan Stockton, Bettye Conger, and Carla Hughes. On the All-District team are Jan Stockton, Bettye Conger, Carla Hughes and Darla Dunagan. We had a very good season this year and are really proud of our team.

The volleyball team is now being coached by Mr. Merritt Romans. The team played its first conference game against Sands Friday night at Forsan. There was a junior high game, a "B" game and the varsity game. There are quite a few girls out for volleyball and we are looking forward to a good season.

Thursday we did not have school and the seniors and juniors thought it was a blessing. The seniors took this opportunity to finish their research themes and the juniors worked on decorations for the Junior-Senior banquet.

Has anyone noticed anything new in the gym? Well, if you haven't, next time you go in, take a good look. Two new practice goals are being installed on the west wall. These are going to be a great improvement when basketball season rolls around next year.

The student council bought a silver service set and a twenty cup percolator for the school. These were received last week and are in the Home Economics Department.

The date for the Athletic Banquet has been set for Saturday, March 24.

BSBS Leaders For 1962

Nine Weeks Examinations Begin Tuesday At Rannels

By CANDY BACUS
Everyone had better stick his nose in the books for the nine weeks tests are this week. Tuesday the third and sixth period tests will begin. The second and fifth period tests will be on Wednesday. First and fourth period exams will wind up the tests on Thursday. Next week is a big week, so be prepared for it!

We would like to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Daa Bustamante on the arrival of a new baby girl, Danna Jo. Mr. Bustamante was an assistant football coach in football season and was head basketball coach. He is now head coach of track.

The athletic boys are getting ready for a track meet at Sweetwater next weekend. They will meet with Midland and Snyder before the season is over. All the seventh, eighth and ninth grade boys will participate. The boys have just finished spring training.

The Howard County FFA and 4-H Club Junior Livestock Show was quite an event last week. It was held at the fair grounds, Swede Hanson, sheep expert, judged the lambs. Calvin Holcomb, Gaines County agricultural agent, judged the steers. The show started Tuesday and ended Thursday night. The Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Howard County Junior Livestock Association were sponsoring the big show. Doug Rountree, David Terry, Darrell Lane, James Wyatt, Neal Henry, Robert Warner and Pablo Tovar participated in the show.

The Rannels Band is going to Big Lake on April 7 for a music contest festival. Members who were chosen to try out for the All-Star Band are Benny Benam, drums; Tommy Lane and Sheryl Gambill, trombone; Kathy Morton and Judy Stuteville, clarinet; Kathy Seddon and Candy Bacus, flute; Hollis Webb, bass clarinet; and Brenda Reid, French horn.

The seventh and eighth grade volleyball girls played in a tournament at Kermit Saturday. Their first game was with East Pecos. The freshman volleyball girls had an open week last week.

The Biology Club of Rannels is planning a four day trip to Big Bend National Park beginning on April 6. Although there is a conflict between the band contest at Big Lake and the biology trip, something will probably be worked out so the students in both organizations will have a chance to go both places.

The Freshman Biology Club met last Tuesday, and Mrs. Mary Breckenridge presented a very interesting program on laboratory tests. A biology teacher at the high school, she has a B.S. degree and is a registered technician.

Wednesday when there was a blanket of snow on the ground. Rannels students participated in a snowball fight with the high school boys. It was a well arranged fight and no one was hurt. Mr. Roscoe Newell, Rannels principal, refereed the fight.

Junior Play To Be Presented In April

By GYLINDA FLEMING
SANDS — The Sands girls have been very busy this week playing volleyball. They had a practice game with Klondike girls Monday night. There was an "A" and a "B" game. Tuesday night we played our first conference game against Sterling City, here. The "A" team won their game and the "B" team lost. Friday night we played our second conference game with Forsan, there. There was a junior high game.

The boys have been running track the past week or two. The Sands seniors attended Career Day at Howard County Junior College last Monday. They seemed to have learned a lot and also had a lot of fun.

The juniors have been practicing on their play, "The Magic Touch," which is to be presented the first week in April. The seniors received their play books and have cast the parts. It is a comedy called "Bolts and Nuts."

GCHS Boys Enter Ozona Track Meet

By DIANA PHELPS
GARDEN CITY — Monday proved to be an interesting day for GCHS seniors this past week. They have begun to think seriously of the future, and visiting Howard County Junior College on "Career Day" helped them. Many interesting facts about college life were learned, and the day was most enjoyable. The day included an assembly, talks with teachers, lunch furnished by the college, and a question and answer period.

Tuesday night the girls "A" and "B" volleyball teams played Water Valley there. Both games were won by Water Valley. The girls played a practice game with Coahoma Friday night.

Many students rejoiced Wednesday when school was dismissed because of snow.

The boys traveled to Ozona recently for their first track meet.

Goliad's Choir To Enter Meet

By ROXANNE BOLTE
The Goliad advanced choir, ensembles, and soloists are working hard on their contest music. The University Interscholastic League Music Competition Festival will be held in Odessa, March 24, with approximately thirty choirs present. Each choir will sing three selections and will be judged on such things as tone, technique, interpretation, selection of music, and stage appearance. Ratings are from I - superior - to V - poor. The judges for this year's contest are Robert Buchanan, Gene Kenney, and Cloys Webb. This is the first year for Goliad to enter this music contest.

March 10 the Goliad advanced band journeyed to Lamesa to attend a band clinic. While there, they participated in sight reading activities, where the students tried to play pieces which they had never played before. They also listened to several of the bands against whom they will compete March 24. On that Saturday most of the band will go to the University Interscholastic League Competition in Odessa. Odessa has 42 soloists and 71 ensembles entered. Medals will be awarded for first place ratings.

Goliad's library has a variety of new books to suit the tastes of almost everyone. Examples of fiction books are "On Golden Summer," "Miss Gail," and "The Bucket of Thunderbolts." Some non-fiction books are "Picasso," "The Mistletoe," and "What Does a Jet Pilot Do." Approximately forty-five new books will be on the shelves Monday.

Attending the SMU Reading Conference in Dallas, March 8-10, was Mrs. James Wilson, reading teacher at Goliad. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Rutherford, principal of Park Hill and Miss Mary Foreman, Elementary Counselor. The conference was sponsored by The Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading. Their theme was "New Challenges in the Teaching of Reading."

The student council met Tuesday to discuss its various problems. It was decided that black and white trash cans would be distributed over the Goliad campus. The student council also agreed to take over the flag raising duties, starting tomorrow. Data for the spring forms was set for May 21 at the Garden Country Club. There are now 29 members in the student council, which number includes seventh grade representatives elected this semester.

If you want to take Driver's Education this summer, better hurry, because the rush is on! Approximately 88 students are signed up for the summer courses, the lecture part being given March 22 - May 21 and the actual driving being done during the summer. Maximum number of pupils per class is 36 with approximately six-classes per day. There are only 20 vacancies left, so sign up by Tuesday because all vacancies are expected to be filled by then. Classes are offered to any public school student with passing marks, from the eighth to 12th grades. Driver Education instructors are C. W. Tanner and Harlan Hulbregse. Thirty students completed their driving courses Friday and 30 more are due to start driving Monday.

Daddy Date Night Scheduled At CHS

By CAROLYN WILSON
COAHOMA—Saturday night the athletes of CHS were honored with a banquet. Presentations showing appreciation on the players' part were made to the coaches. There was a large number attending and all seemed to have a good time.

All CHS FFA and 4-H students who had fed a steer or a lamb participated in the Howard County Twelfth-Fifth Annual Fat Stock Show. Coahoma made a very fine showing by receiving many honors.

Thursday the Coahoma "A" and "B" volleyball teams ventured to Garden City for a practice game. Due to a mix-up, Garden City was caught unprepared and had to make a team hurriedly. Since they were only able to get five girls, some of the coaches had to help out. Both teams played well but were defeated.

FHA girls, don't forget Daddy Date Night which is to be held in the activity room on Tuesday. Be sure to ask your fathers and if they are unable to come, bring a friend.

WRA To Sponsor Volleyball Tourney

By LYN CLAWSON
The Jayhawks returned from the regional tournament last week-end with a second place trophy after being beaten by San Angelo Junior College in the finals 87 to 75. Walter Carter, Elvis Spradling and Earnest Turner were named to the All-Tournament team.

Approximately 600 high school seniors from this area converged on the HCJC campus last Monday for a day of planning their college and future careers. The day seems to have been a total success.

Stanton Band Has Banquet

By MARSHA BRISTOW
Hello everyone! I hope that everyone is back on schedule after the long weekend. The freshman, sophomore, and junior classes had a three day weekend, but the seniors had a special treat even on Monday. We attended Career Day at Howard County Junior College. Everyone was so friendly to us, and we got some ideas about college life from our visit. We toured the campus and the dormitories. We also listened to lectures and saw demonstrations about the different professions we might be considering going into. We also ate lunch in the student cafeteria. All in all, it was a grand day! Thanks so much, HCJC, for giving us such a day!

The band really had a busy weekend! Friday night was the Band Banquet, which was held in the high school cafeteria. The invocation was given by Nina Yater, and the mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. John Wilkes. We were happy to have our principal, Mr. Johnson and his wife, our superintendent, Mr. Hayes and his wife, and two of our School board members with us at the banquet. The board members were Mr. Coates Bentley and Mr. Jim Eiland. The Pastoral, a singing group composed of Kay Bryan, Janis Morrison, Shelia Turner, Carol Nichols, Nancy Williams, Nancy Robnett, Claude Nowlin, and Brenda Bryant, sang a medley of Irish tunes for us. Then the senior band members spoke on the history of the band. The seniors were Nina Yater, Charles Lester, Glen Wren, and Marsha Bristow. Mr. Stephenson, our director, then gave the awards for the year. All the members of the bands received an award and then ten Outstanding Awards were presented. Those receiving outstanding awards were: Carl Herrog, George Foreman, Judy Barnhill, Glen Wren, Tim Bristow, Robert Roten, Rodney Roten, Mike Wood, Jerre Webb, and Marsha Bristow. The benediction was given by Margaret Uhlman. In my opinion this was the best band banquet we have ever had!

The student council this week did a lot of planning. We have launched a project to make the money to send our new officers to State meeting. We are selling "Katydid" candy, which has nuts, caramel and chocolate in it. So if you need some good candy, just approach a student council member! We have also decided to begin devotionals three times each week. These devotionals will be given the first thing in the morning on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Last Saturday the band attended the Lamesa Band Festival. Amid the blowing sand, we had lots of fun and really benefited by the experience.

The track team spent this weekend in Denton participating in the North Texas Relays. They won that meet last year. Last weekend they won the Border Olympics at Laredo.

The annual basketball banquet sponsored by the Evening Lions Club has been set for March 27. Dee Nut, head basketball coach at Abilene Christian College, will be guest speaker.

Virginia Samples Wins Free Record

Virginia Samples, an eighth grader at Rannels Junior High School, is this week's winner of the free record to be given away through the Megaphone. The winner may pick up a certificate at the Herald and take it to the Record Shop to receive the award.

In addition to a free 45 r.p.m. to be given away each week, Oscar Glickman, owner of the Record Shop, will offer a long-playing record as a bonus once a month.

Mozele Groebel, Pat Armstrong and Karon Koger say you couldn't tell by looking . . . but, yes, these are rain coats! They'll protect you wonderfully from spring's wet weather and they'll shine in fashion whatever the weather. In attractive American Junior Laminated burlap and linen all weather coats.

Classic Film Drama Set For Ritz Screening Today

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's film version, in CinemaScope and color, of the famous Vicente Blasco-Ibanez novel, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," begins today at the Ritz Theatre.

It was filmed largely on location in Paris and the French chateau country, and directed by Academy Award winner Vicente Minnelli.

More than three years of preparation were devoted to this classic drama which is a passionate love story, the story of a family torn asunder by divided loyalties, the spectacle of Paris invaded by the Nazis during World War II, and the drama of a rich and reckless scion who devotes his life to pleasure until he is caught up in the realities of a tremendous conflict.

Playing leading roles in the cast are Glenn Ford, Ingrid Thulin, the celebrated Swedish star in her first Hollywood film; Charles Boyer, Lee J. Cobb, Paul Henreid, Paul Lukas, Yvette Mimieux and Karl Boehm, young Austrian star also making his American film debut. The picture's panoramic scenes also called for hundreds of bit players and extras.

The story revolves about two related families, the Desnoyers and Von Hartrofts, who are first introduced at a family reunion taking place at the ancestral estate in Argentina, ruled by the patriarch Madariaga (Lee J. Cobb). It is here that the tension between the families breaks out when the Von Hartrofts reveal themselves to be fanatic followers of Hitler, with the bitter division bringing about an emotional strain which causes the death of the 80-year-old patriarch.

Says Broadway Needs Magic

NEW YORK (AP)—Producer David Black doesn't go along with the frequently heard notion that Broadway is undergoing an economic crisis.

"I don't believe there is such a thing as a theater problem," he declares. "I think the problem is that the New York public is not being given what it wants—good theater, an element of romance and magic. The public will respond when this is provided."

Black, currently represented with the hit "The Aspern Papers," is next planning a musical version of "I Am a Camera."

'Two Loves' Opens Today

A triangular love story, set against a New Zealand background, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Two Loves" stars Shirley MacLaine, Laurence Harvey and Jack Hawkins, with the Japanese actress, Nobu McCarthy heading the supporting cast. It is in CinemaScope and color.

The film opens today at the State Theatre.

This is a moving and compassionate drama, albeit filled with touches of humor, of four people connected with a school in a remote section of northern New Zealand whose personal relationships are fraught with dramatic consequences.

Shirley MacLaine makes a departure from her previous musical and comedy roles to play the most dramatic characterization of her career as the school teacher, Anna Vorontsov, devoted to her young Maori charges, impatient of dull text books and conventional teaching procedures, happy with her career but disturbed by an inexplicable fear of accepting adult love.

Laurence Harvey and Jack Hawkins portray the two men who attempt in totally different ways to break down this barrier. Harvey as the wild, uncontrolled, passionate Paul Vercoe, who has turned to teaching because of his failure as a singer; Hawkins as the older, tolerant school inspector Abercrombie, who falls deeply in love with Anna but who hides his time. Also drawn into the emotional vortex is the young Maori girl, Whareparita, (Nobu McCarthy), who becomes Anna's classroom assistant. Before the story reaches its dramatic climax, all four principals have become involved in a net of love and frustrations, emotional turmoil and romantic awakenings in a series of events encompassing both happiness and tragedy.

"Two Loves" is based on a novel by Sylvia Ashton-Warner. In her book the author placed the dramatic conflict of the story against a background of the Maori way of life in its honest simplicity and the happy outlook of the native children, and the film version, as directed by Charles Walters, attempts to catch this feeling in the relationship between Anna and her devoted pupils. It is the classroom scenes that give the story much of its humor as the children learn from a unique teacher whose words, such as "knife, drunk, father, jail and tears," are recognizable from their own experiences at home or in village contacts. There are some 30 youngsters of various nationalities in the picture's classroom and school playground scenes.

Also playing important roles are Ronald Long as a sympathetic headmaster, Norah Howard as a class-conscious resident of the community, and Juana Hernandez as an old and very wise Maori chief.

"Two Loves" is a Julian Blaustein Production for MGM. Ben Maddow adapted the novel to the screen, and Bronislau Kaper wrote the musical score, which stresses native Maori songs, chants and ceremonial music.

'King Of Kings' Story About And For Youth

In most of the artistic representations in museums and art galleries, the Apostles are depicted as bearded patriarchs. But as they are seen in Samuel Bronston's "King of Kings," and as they actually lived during the lifetime of Jesus, the disciples were all young men in their teens and early twenties.

It was important to the success of our film to cast the Apostles as close to their actual ages as we could," Director Nicholas Ray declares. "Essentially, the story of Jesus and the people of his age is a story about—and for—young people. We wanted that quality of youth to be always present in our screen story."

Oldest of the disciples is, of course, Simon Peter, the work-hardened Galilee fisherman who left his nets to become a "fisher of men." Peter is personified in the film by tall, angular Royal Dano, who became a celebrity with his portrayal of Abraham Lincoln on television.

Youngest of the disciples was teen-aged John, who is played by Jose A. Mayans, youthful Spanish actor who began applying for the role six months before the story went before the cameras.

Judas, betrayer of Christ, is portrayed by the talented young actor, Rip Torn. Born in Taylor, Texas, Torn has made an impression on Broadway since he appeared in Tennessee Williams' "Sweet Bird of Youth."

Defining Thomas, the disciple who first met Christ during the Sermon on the Mount, is played by Michael Wager, best known for his Broadway performance as the Dauphin in "St. Joan", opposite Sibhan McKenna.

Simon, the Zealot, is personified by Milo Quesada, a native of Buenos Aires and a well-known actor of the Argentine theatre. He has appeared in 18 films, including "The Gaucho Way," the first American film made in the Argentine.

The disciple Philip is played by Davis Moss, young American actor and full-fighter who comes from a famed show business family. His uncle was the late Sam Zimbalist, producer of "Ben-Hur."

James, who Jesus called one of the fiery "Sons of Thunder," is portrayed by Amsterdam-born Barry Roomans, who was diverted into a screen career from his original study of medicine. Matthew, who lived to write the only account of the Sermon on the Mount, is played by Mexican and Spanish screen actor Ruben Rojo.

Andrew, younger brother of Simon Peter, is played by a native of Madrid, Augustin Barrera. Thaddaeus, another of the young disciples, is played by Budd Straight, an American from Central City, Iowa, who went to Spain two years ago to act in "It Started With a Kiss," and has been working in films ever since.

Nathaniel, also known as Bartholomew, is played by a young Brazilian actor, Jean Moraes, who has worked in films in Italy, France and Denmark as well as Spain.

James the Younger, the 12th disciple, is played by Simon Mizrahi, a young Egyptian of Iranian extraction who met Ray while studying the technique of American film-making.

"King of Kings" will have an extended run at the Ritz Theatre.

In all, six different nationalities and four different languages are represented by the group of disciples. According to Dano, this is faithful to the New Testament. "At the time of Christ, there were numerous dialects and languages spoken in Judea," he says. "We think we are as honestly representative of the true age and appearance of the disciples as could be found for any motion picture version of the life of Christ."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is releasing the Biblical production. Jeffrey Hunter heads the cast which includes Robert Ryan, Hurd Hatfield, Ron Randall, Harry Guardino and Viveca Lindfors.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

To honor the golden jubilee of the Ceylon Boy Scouts Association, the government of Ceylon has issued a colorful new 35 cents stamp. It features the Ceylon Scout badge in buff on a blue background as based on a design by W. A. Ariyasena. Ceylon is marking the occasion with a National Scout Jamboree.

The Boy Scout movement was introduced to Ceylon in 1912 by F. G. Stevens who was at that time a British engineer attached to the Public Works Department. His first Scout troop was formed at Christ Church College, Matale.

The stamp world is still buzzing with conversation about the U. S. Man In Space stamp issued to commemorate the first orbital flight by Lt. Col. John Glenn. The stamp was conceived by Postmaster General J. Edward Day and Deputy Postmaster General H. W. Brawley. The idea came to them shortly after astronaut Alan Shepard made his first space pioneer flight.

The stamp idea was put to officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. They were reminded that never before had a previously unannounced stamp been issued simultaneously with the event it commemorated.

All concerned agreed the plan was feasible provided it could be accomplished under strict security precautions.

Instead of "cloak and dagger" the operation might have been entitled "stamp skulduggery and space security."

Western Samoa will issue 10

pictorial stamps on or about June 1. The 1 penny will show a Samoan woman displaying a ceremonial mat, 2 pence Samoa College, 3 pence Public Library, 4 pence Samoan Parliament, 6 pence Map of Western Samoa, 8 pence Faleolo Airport, 1 shilling Samoan Chief, 1 shilling 3 pence Government House at Vaialima, 2 shilling 6 pence National Flag of Western Samoa, 5 shillings Public Seal of the Independent State of Western Samoa.

The Portuguese Postal Administration reports that a set of three new stamps has been issued commemorating the 50th anniversary of the National Republican Guard. The 1 escudo 2 escudos and 2.50 escudos bear the same design featuring a Guardsman. The colors, however, are different for each.

The Republic of China will commemorate the Second Annual World Meteorological Day with a set of two new commemoratives, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. One stamp features the Yu Shan Observation Station dominated by the imposing Mt. Yu. The other stamp depicts an observation balloon against a background of a circling earth in space. The insignia of the World Meteorological Organization appear on each of the new stamps.

New State Road Map Is Released

AUSTIN. — The Texas Highway Department — originator of a proposal to standardize symbols on state maps for easier understanding by motorists — features some of the new symbols on its 1962 Official Highway Travel Map.

In four colors with "See Texas" as its theme, the new map is now available free to the public.

In 1956, Texas recommended that a standard set of symbols be adopted for use on all state maps — to make the maps easier to read for motorists crossing from one state into another. This proposal was eventually adopted by the American Association of State Highway Officials and within the next few years all official state highway maps will be using these accepted standard symbols.

Such symbols will make the nation's travel maps easier to read and understand — whether in New York or New Mexico, South Dakota or South Carolina.

Texas Highway Department officials said they plan to adopt all the AASHO highway symbols when the basic travel map is re-released within the next two years. On the new map, U. S. highways and Farm to Market roads — both formerly indicated in black — are now shown in a red band and a blue band respectively. Shields for U. S. highways remain red; but Farm to Market road shields, which were black, now are "boxes" in blue, too.

Officials of the Texas Highway Department said that markings for the State highways will remain a black band. Also, Interstate Highways will retain their two narrow black bands with a red center. This is the standard symbol for showing the Interstate Highway System.

Multilane-divided highway miles now completed and shown on the new map total 2,131 miles. They include the finished sections of the seven National Systems of Interstate and Defense Highways throughout Texas.

698 Farm to Market and Ranch to Market road miles added. Approximately 20,988 miles of the state's more than 33,000-mile Farm to Market road system now under maintenance are shown on the map. So are the 26,921 miles of Interstate, U. S. and State highways.

A section tells about the vacation activities in Texas that are "as varied as the landscape of the Lone Star State itself." In another section, entitled "Good Highways: A Texas Tradition," the map reader is told about the state's "vast 62,000-mile highway network which offers the maximum in safety, comfort, and convenience for all types of motor travel."

The 1962 map plots 1,828 cities and towns. It also features twelve inserts, which are not city maps but maps showing major routes in the state's dozen largest cities. They are Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

Free copies of the new Texas motoring map may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5064, Austin.
