Small Fry Lives Out Her 9 Lives

By SAM BLACKBURN

Small Fry (known to her friends and family as Shorty) is dead and the Homer Petty family, 707 N. Gregg, is sad.

Small Fry was a cat. She was an unusual cat — she had lived with the Petty family for 21 years and three months.

Veterinarians say that this is a record life span for a cat. The books show that cats of 21 years are few and far between. The average age for felines is 12 years and even such instances are not common.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, County clerk and owner of Small Fry, said the little female cat had to be put to sleep Wednesday, when she developed a malignant breast tumor. The tumor was of fairly recent origin.

Up to the time of her death, other than for this malignancy, Small Fry was an amazingly healthy cat. Her eyesight and hearing continued good. She was spry, considering her age. Her appetite never failed.

SMALL FRY . . . in her prime

Probably compared with a human being, Small Fry was more than a century old.

Mrs. Petty said that Small Fry became a member of the Petty family 21 years and 3 months ago when a small, undernourished female cat came to their place and gave birth to two kittens. The mother deserted her young.

"We found them under the floor," Mrs. Petty said. "They were so tiny they did not look like cats at all. They had no hair and we fed them with spoons."

"Small Fry and her sister thrived from the outset. They both grew into adult cats. The sister ate some decoration off a Christmas tree and died of poisoning."

"Small Fry has been with us ever since. She moved when we moved to a new house. She was always around."

Small Fry never produced any kittens. She just lived out her long and happy life.

The Pettrys are too saddened by her death to consider if they want another cat.

"Not right now," said Mrs. Petty. "And we could never get another Small Fry."

Jackie Sees Horse Show In Pakistan

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan took America's horse-loving First Lady to one of the most colorful horse shows in the world today and then gave her a Pakistani thoroughbred to take home.

Delighted at the gift, Jacqueline Kennedy said she was worried about how the animal would get back to the United States. Officials told her the 10-year-old bay gelding, named Sardar or Chief—would travel by an American military plane.

The plane will also pick up the two tiger cubs she got in India Wednesday.

Mrs. Kennedy said she hoped the horse would not get airsick.

Pakistan was giving the U.S. First Lady royal treatment. It was a school and government office holiday Wednesday when she arrived from neutralist India to begin a 4½-day visit to this Asian ally of the United States. Officials declared another holiday today so children and workers could see her drive about the city.

Tens of thousands lined the flag-draped streets as she went to the stadium for the final day of the Lahore Horse and Cattle Show. There she joined Ayub Khan and West Pakistan Governor Malik Amir Mohammad Khan in a carriage escorted by 38 lancers of the presidential bodyguard.

Fifty-six trumpeters sounded a fanfare as the carriage entered the stadium. The crowd of 150,000 rose and cheered. The carriage circled the field and then drove to the reviewing stand.

Mrs. Kennedy and Ayub stood at attention as a massed band of bagpipers, drums and brasses from 48 regiments played the Pakistan national anthem.

Hundreds of gas-filled balloons were released, some carrying placards advertising shoes and other items, as Mrs. Kennedy and Ayub Khan took their places in the guest gallery.

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a $1,000-a-week director and a $72,000 budget, the U.S. Information Agency is producing color movies of Mrs. John F. Kennedy's journey through India and Pakistan.

USIA Director Edward R. Murrow, disclosed this Wednesday after Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R-Mich., asked about the production.

Cederberg is a member of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles USIA spending.

The Michigan Republican said he thinks the First Lady's tour is "being adequately covered" by newsmen and photographers.

When the President travels abroad, the information agency usually contracts with a White House cameraman to make movies for about $425 a week. The films are made into documentaries for overseas distribution by USIA.

Kernohan To Prison

WAXAHACHIE (AP)—Officers took Oscar A. Kernohan Jr. to Huntsville Wednesday to start serving prison terms totaling 297 years for three murders.

Dist. Judge A. R. Stout sentenced Kernohan, 33, to cumulative terms of 99 years in each case.

Kernohan, an Army deserter, was convicted of killing his stepson, Roger Allen Gibbs, 24.

In the afternoon he went before another jury and pleaded guilty to shooting his wife, 37, and a hitchhiker, Norman Cox, 21, of Benton, Ark.

Kernohan admitted strangling his wife in San Antonio, driving to a spot near Pecos, shooting the child and burying them together. He told officers of giving Cox a ride and killing him for $5.

The nation's military officers were divided over whether Frondizi should remain in office. Peronists threatened violence.

Frondizi found little immediate support from the politicians to help him combat rising Peronist opposition. Leading anti-Peron politicians harshly rejected his first attempts to bring them into a "coalition Cabinet of national unity" imposed on him by the military.

Eichmann Lawyer Asks Court To Set Aside Death Penalty

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann's lawyer appealed to the Israeli Supreme Court today to set aside the death sentence against the former Gestapo officer on the grounds that Eichmann was brought to Israel illegally and tried under an invalid law.

Dr. Robert Servatius, Eichmann's West German Defense Counsel, also asked to be allowed to introduce new evidence and to summon new witnesses, including a high official of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government.

Servatius asked the five-judge Supreme Court to summon Dr.

Hans Globke, 63, a government counselor in Hitler's Interior Ministry, as an expert witness on the workings of Nazi racial laws.

Eichmann, condemned to the gallows as a major figure in the Nazi slaughter of six million European Jews, claimed during his trial he was only carrying out orders and had pointed a finger at Globke.

Eichmann charged that Globke was directly involved in working out the legal framework for deporting the Jews and confiscating their property—the job he himself was accused of carrying out as chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section. He did not ask during the trial, however, for Globke to be called as a witness.

Adenauer has repeatedly defended Globke, who claimed that while serving in the Hitler regime he saved Jews' lives even at the risk of his own.

Eichmann, 56, appeared rested after three months spent in solitary confinement since the special three-judge tribunal condemned him to death last December.

The courtroom was packed with 400 spectators, many of whom suffered personally from the Nazi persecution of Jews. Eichmann avoided looking in their direction.

The defense counsel charged that Eichmann, who was captured by secret Israeli agents in 1960 while hiding in Argentina under an assumed name, was illegally brought to Israel for trial.

"The state is the kidnaper in this case," Servatius declared. "The appellant cannot ask for his rights before a court of the state which kidnapped him."

In addition to Globke, the defense sought permission to call as witnesses two Israeli Airline of-

Few Light Showers Fall

By The Associated Press

A few light showers fell in Central Texas and it was at least partly cloudy everywhere in the state Thursday.

Temperatures dipped to near freezing in the Panhandle again before dawn. Other sections had readings in the middle 40s to high 60s.

The Weather Bureau predicted widely scattered showers would spread into eastern areas of the state and continue into the evening. Isolated showers were in prospect for part of Southwest Texas late Friday.

No big changes in temperatures were expected.

The top afternoon temperatures Wednesday ranged from 84 degrees at Brownsville down to 63 at Wichita Falls.

Early morning marks were down to 34 degrees at Dalhart and 39 at Amarillo. It was 70 in Brownsville.

UNCHECKED

For the most part, however, the secret army terrorists roamed unchecked. Officials reported at least 30 persons killed—27 of them Muslims—and 58 wounded in 39 terrorist attacks across Algeria the second full day of the cease-fire between French forces and the Algerian nationalists.

President Charles de Gaulle's government rushed two companies of riot troops from France to Corsica, apparently to forestall any attempt by the secret army to seize that Mediterranean island between southern France and Algeria. In the 1958 Algerian uprising that brought De Gaulle back to power, Corsica rallied to the Algerians.

Confused fighting broke out in three or four sections of Algiers shortly before midnight. French soldiers, wearing bulky bullet-proof vests, sent tracers streaking through the night sky in reply to sniper fire. Two Europeans were reported wounded and captured.

BOMB EXPLODE

Several explosions, apparently plastic bombs, rocked the deserted streets of a largely Moslem district.

Earlier in the night secret army commandos, firing machine-gun bursts from a speeding car, raked Moslem cafes in Zeralda and Cheraga, west of Algiers, killing 7 Moslems and wounding 23.

In Oran, a hotbed of European resistance to the cease-fire, settlers clashed openly with French gendarmes. The settlers claimed a victory even though 15 of their number were wounded against 5 policemen.

The gendarmes were driven back, the settlers said, before achieving their objective — the capture of a secret army radio transmitter. The government denied a radio transmitter was involved in the operation and said the gendarmes fired back only after being shot at.

ROOFTOP SNIPERS

Rooftop snipers fired at the gendarmes from all directions. The police responded by riddling buildings in several city blocks with bullets from 50-caliber machine guns mounted on army half-tracks.

Small Nations Revolt At Arms Conference

GENEVA (AP)—Frustrated small nations revolted briefly today against the big power stalemate at the Geneva disarmament conference and served notice they intend to take a hand in trying to break the deadlock.

However, the deadlock deepened because the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union failed completely to find any basis on which they could agree to negotiate for a nuclear weapons test ban treaty.

There was a two-hour and 40-minute meeting of delegations of the three atomic powers this afternoon to discuss a test ban.

Sir Michael Wright of Britain then told reporters, "We shall report (to the 17-nation conference) that we have reached no agreement."

STALEMATE

Soviet Delegate Semyon Tsarapkin said: "We have reached a complete stalemate. We have found it impossible to agree."

A formal session of the full conference had produced the brief but potentially significant reviving of the smaller Western Allies particularly consider responsible for the stalemate.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko are co-chairmen of the conference, with responsibility for planning its work.

Manuel Tello of Mexico, the presiding officer, announced this morning the co-chairmen had failed to agree on how to organize the work and suggested that there be no meeting of the 17 this afternoon. In effect they were asking more time to dick.

LET'S GET ON

At that point, informants later reported, Lord Home said sharply "Let's get on with it." This bid for an afternoon meeting, contrary to the recommendation of the conference leaders, was immediately supported by Italy and Canada. Like Britain they are close U.S. allies and would probably not have acted without some word to Rusk about their plans.

Diplomats who were informed on the closed meeting said that the brief discussion by Foreign Secretary Howard C. Green of Canada and Carlo Russo, Italian undersecretary of state, was bluntly to the point of big power failure and insisted on action by the rest of the conference membership.

Tello then ordered the informal afternoon meeting, saying that was the sense of the conference.

On the nuclear test breakdown, Tsarapkin said on leaving the meeting at the Palace of Nations that no agreement is possible "except on the basis of national control."

"Any kind of international control is out of the question," he asserted.

Gromyko insisted that the Soviet Union's proposed plan for total disarmament in four years should be accepted as the basis for the conference negotiations.

Rusk demanded that the Western proposal for a start on disarmament, with thorough control measures, have equal priority with the Soviet plan.

Home and several advisers met with Gromyko and a number of top Soviet diplomats at the Russians' villa.

Informants reported afterward that they made no progress whatever toward reconciling differences on any of the issues. They said Gromyko stressed, particularly that the Soviet Union is standing firm on its demands for a change in the status of West Berlin, for Western acceptance of East Berlin as the capital of East Germany, and for separate peace treaties with East and West Germany.

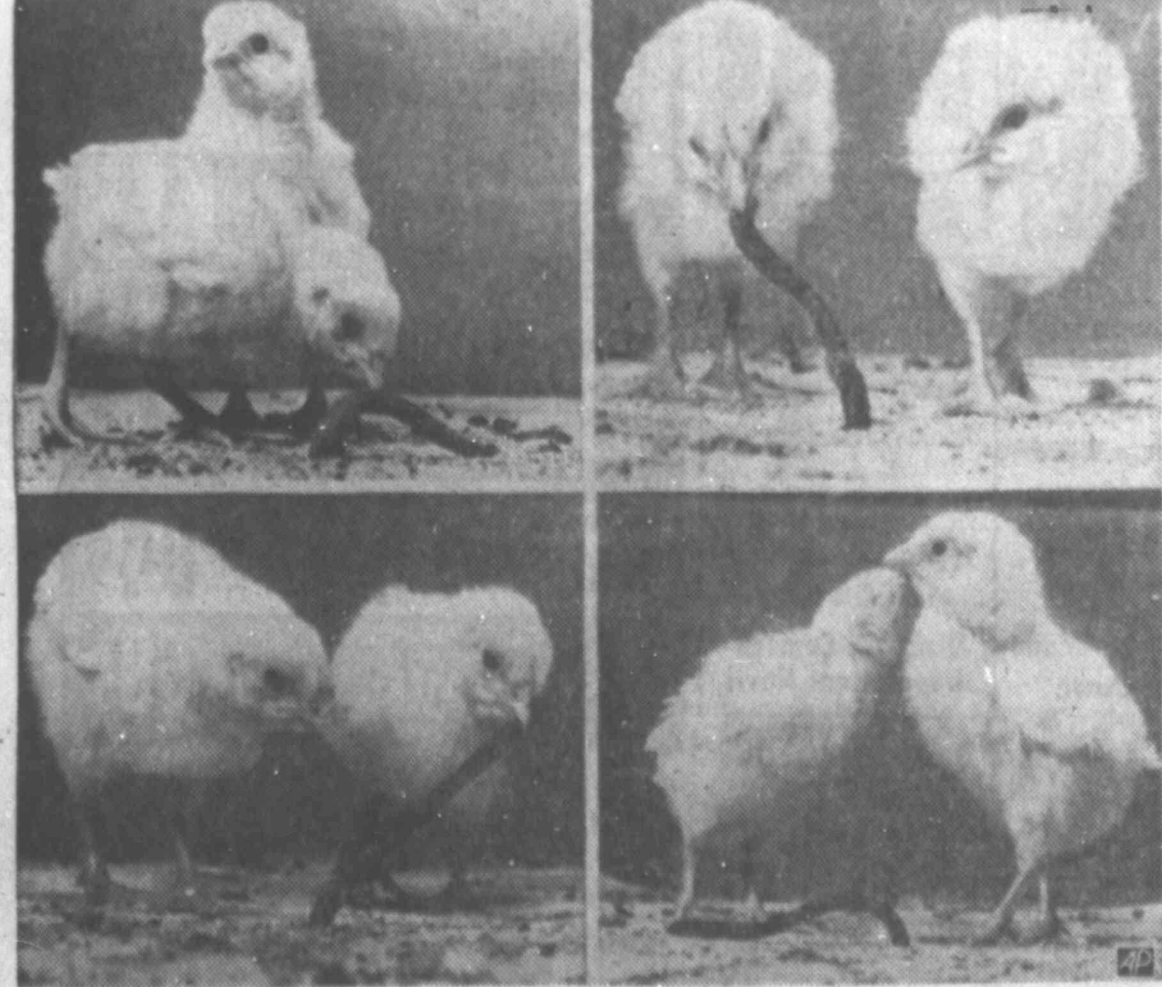

Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz of East Germany arrived in Geneva to consult with Gromyko. He called for a nonaggression treaty between East and West Germany and for a non-nuclear zone covering all of Germany.

Barring some unexpected change in Soviet policy, the Big Three foreign ministers seemed determined to leave Geneva next week with nothing accomplished to improve East-West relations.

Since the West had indicated readiness to make concessions on a number of points, Western officials were puzzled by the Soviet hard stand on all major issues.

SOME MOISTURE

Rain and snow fell in many sections in the West and in a few spots in the eastern half of the nation today. Dry weather prevailed in most of the Midwest where rising rivers have caused some flooding.

Cost Of House Selling Goes Up

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff Writer

A man who sells his house these days will find with a shock that the cost of selling has gone up, too.

Especially if he tries to sell with a Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or a G. I. mortgage guarantee to make it easier for him to sell the house.

He will have to pay a premium to a lender of 3 to 5 per cent and perhaps more before the lender will issue a mortgage to the buyer.

This became apparent after a survey of several leading agencies, a real estate man, an FHA official and some sellers.

QUIT LOANS

"We quit making FHA loans," said an executive of a lending firm who refused to be quoted by name.

"The discounts for making an FHA loan got so high we just couldn't sit down across the table from a man and ask him to pay it."

He added, "A lot of lenders got out of FHA because of this."

A veteran Dallas real estate dealer, Mrs. Maude Thompson, said, "a great many homeowners trying to sell back away fast when they find out about FHA costs."

"There is no question about it," said Mrs. Thompson. "On a strictly money basis the FHA favors the buyer, not the seller."

SOME HAPPY

"But some sellers," she said, "are happy to sell to FHA, especially so, for instance, where a man is transferred out of town and needs some money out of his house quickly."

She said lower down payments required by FHA as compared with conventional loans bring homes within the down payment range a buyer may possess, thus making the house easier to sell.

The FHA's aim is to help people buy homes. It guarantees that the mortgage company will get its money. That is all. It does not lend money.

The FHA pays its overhead by collecting one-half per cent interest on the monthly payments and by other fees.

PREMIUM CHARGED

The lender is permitted to charge the buyer one per cent premium for making the loan. This is called a brokerage fee or a "discount." Some call it a "premium."

At one time the lender could charge the seller only one per cent.

E. J. Dee, district director of the Dallas insuring office of FHA says Congress removed the one per cent restriction on the amount that could be charged the seller.

Now the lowest brokerage fee charged the seller that could be found around Dallas is 3 per cent. Five per cent is frequent. Some even talk of a 6.5 brokerage fee to the homeowner.

OTHER COSTS

Then the seller must pay the realtor who sold the house for him. In Dallas the fee set by the Dallas Real Estate Board is 6 per cent. That is another $1,200.

By that time the other costs will appear almost trivial. He may have to paint the house before FHA will guarantee the loan, and perhaps make some repairs.

Then before he can receive payment for the house, he must pay certain federal tax stamps, pay for insurance that the title is good, bring his taxes and damage insurance up to the day the house is sold, and pay an appraisal fee, usually $20 for a house already built.

NOT ENOUGH

But a large number of them do not have the 20 to 25 per cent down payment required for a conventional loan, she said.

A home owner whose house has been on the market for some time without finding a buyer with that kind of money who wants a house goes to the FHA for an appraisal.

A conventional loan for a $20,000 purchase might require as much as $5,000 down payment.

The standard down payment for the same house with the FHA guaranteeing the loan might be about $1,000. This is exclusive of various closing costs which are much the same whether the loan is conventional or FHA.

"Some people who are under no pressure to sell decide to keep their houses when they get an FHA appraisal and earn all the costs," said Mrs. Thompson.

HUMAN NATURE

"One reason," said the realtor, "is that a homeowner may think his house is worth more than the FHA does—that's just human nature. And he backs out when the FHA says it is worth less money than he is willing to accept for it."

"In that case he tries to sell it through a conventional loan."

"It doesn't always work that way, though. I sold a house recently where the FHA gave a higher appraisal than the homeowner was asking."

Dee, asked if the FHA approved the discount-brokerage fee, said, "We just have no jurisdiction over it."

He said "People have gotten used to it," but some still complain, particularly the first time they sell a house.

Dee said the increase in discount fees in the mid-1950s caused no decline in FHA loans. "Volume has remained about the same and a little better."

NO FINAL ACTION

The federal official said congressional bills to roll the seller's discount fee back to one per cent "come before the banking and currency committee each year" but no final action has been taken.

Why lenders charge this fee is a matter of opinion.

One lender whose company quit making FHA loans because of the brokerage fee said the fee is to increase the amount of profit on a loan. "If it weren't for this fee, you'd never get any FHA loans through," he claimed.

John T. Sears, vice president of Southern Trust and Mortgage Co. of Dallas, a major lending company, says the brokerage fee varies somewhat from company to company.

HAS SCALE

Southern Trust and Mortgage has a brokerage scale. The rates are 3 per cent for a brick home selling for more than $11,000, 3.5 for less expensive bricks, 4 for frame homes selling for more than $9,500, and 5 per cent on homes in the $7,000-$9,000 group. Why does a homeowner agree to sell under a situation where he must pay from 3 to 5 per cent and perhaps more as a premium? Why not agree only to a conventional loan?

"You'd be amazed at the number of couples who are hungry for a house, who want something around $20,000 for all sorts of reasons. Maybe they have a friend and want to keep up with them, or maybe they just have tastes in that range," said Mrs. Thompson.

U.S., Soviets Plan Talks On Cooperation In Space

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

The United States and the Soviet Union begin detailed discussions Tuesday on how they can work together in developing a series of far-reaching outer space projects.

The talks were arranged at an informal meeting of high level experts of the two countries following an exchange of friendly letters between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

U.N. diplomats were elated over the apparent willingness of the two super powers to take steps toward cooperation on space projects.

Khrushchev, in replying to a proposal by the President for space cooperation, said the time was ripe to go ahead in several fields.

The Soviet Premier mentioned satellites for weather forecasting and long-range communications, mapping of the earth's magnetic fields, space law and medicine, and the organization of search and rescue for astronauts who make accidental landings.

But Khrushchev said that an agreement would have to be reached on disarmament before the two nations can go far on joint travel to the planets.

Kennedy told his news conference in Washington Wednesday that he welcomed Khrushchev's offer and expressed hope that the basis has been laid for practical cooperation in the exploration of space.

Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Soviet space expert Anatoly A. Blagonravov will open the exploratory talks in New York next week.

They met Wednesday night at the U.S. mission to the United Nations for a friendly chat after members of the 28-nation U.N. Outer Space Committee had heard NASA officials explain the U.S. space program for the next decade.

A suit asking $51,400 damages has been filed in the 118th District Court against Lee Axtens. The crash occurred, the petition states, on Oct. 3 at the intersection of South Benton and East Third streets.

No Deadline Planned For Annual Car Inspections

Car owners who have not acquired the 1962 safety inspection stickers and who plan to do so on April 15—the legal deadline—are in for a shock.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has pointed out that April 15 this year falls on Sunday. On Sunday, he observed, the inspection stations, for the most part, will be closed.

"We do not intend to ask the stations to remain open on April 15," Garrison said. "Therefore, any motorist who has delayed getting his car inspected must do so before that date. There will be no extension of the deadline."

Garrison pointed out recently there are 2,000,000 vehicles in Texas as yet to be inspected and provided with the required safety inspection stickers.

Howard County, at the most recent count, had thousands of cars which are yet to be inspected.

A car with an out-of-date inspection sticker on it after April 15 could cost the owner a fine and a lot of embarrassment.

Garrison pointed out that the purpose of the motor vehicle inspection is to discover any defect that might become a link in a chain of events leading to an accident.

"Since the inspection program began in 1951," Garrison said, "it is encouraging to note that vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13 per cent to three per cent."

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married, we decided we would not have children for at least five years. Although we didn't plan it that way, I had a sweet little baby boy eleven months after we were married. My husband was very angry about it and, when it came time to have my baby, he was so disagreeable he wouldn't even take me to the hospital. A neighbor took me. Our son is seven years old. Abby, and my husband acts like the boy does not even exist. Our son has been known as "that kid" ever since he was born. My husband shows him no affection, although the boy is very lovable. He speaks to him only to scold or punish him. The boy feels so affection for his father "how could he?"—and he is frightened of him. How much longer should I live like this? My love for my husband has grown very cold.

DEPRESSED: It is not "normal" for a man to behave this way. Something is bothering him. He may need the help of a psychiatrist to unearth it. Whether your husband is ill or just plain mean, your son needs a father. I suggest you seek professional help in improving your situation at home.

DEAR ABBY: What does a girl do when her boy friend gets very lovey-dovey in private but as soon as they get out in public he acts like he never saw her before?

MEG: Rejoice! It's better than his acting lovey-dovey in public and like he "never saw you before" in private.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is 19 and I am 20. He is in the drum corps and that is all he lives for. He has drum corps practice three nights a week and the remaining nights he teaches drums. He is always practicing for the contests and has very little time for me. I tried to make him jealous by going out with others, but he didn't even notice. He claims he loves me, but how can I believe him? Should I stick with him and give in?

MARIETTA, THE DRUMMER'S GIRL: Actions speak louder than words, but not as loud as drums. Don't play second fiddle in this arrangement. But don't be naughty, Marietta.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Snyder Easy Winner In Track Meet Here

Big Spring High School was snowed under by Dutch Stehley's Snyder Tigers in a five-way track and field meet here Wednesday but the Steers captured five first places and made respectable showing in several other events.

Snyder scored a total of 117 points, compared to 56 for Big Spring. Forsan was third, with 21 1/2 points; followed by Coahoma, with 20 1/2; and Flower Grove, with 13.

The Longhorns won first places in the discus throw, shot put, 800-yard run, mile and broad jump. Snyder entries prevailed in eight events and tied for first place in still another.

Baxter Callaway of Snyder emerged as the high point man of the meet. He tied for first in the high jump, finished second in the 220 and 100 and had a leg on the winning sprint relay team for a total of 13 1/2 points.

Big Spring's Eric Nichols would have threatened for the individual point lead had he not developed a blister on his heel. He won the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet 8 inches.

Snyder dominated both relay events, winning the spring relay in 43.9 seconds and the mile relay in 3:35.0.

Lon Morris is winner, 98-65. HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Moberly, the perennial Missouri champion and two-time winner of the National Junior College Basketball Tournament, marched into the semifinals of the 1962 edition along with Lon Morris of Jacksonville, Tex.

David Holguin of the Steers is ordinarily a half miler but he tried the mile and finished first easily. His time was 4:59.1, not sensational but good, considering the circumstances.

Walter Fields picked up a second place for Forsan in the pole vault and figures to prosper in his own district meet. Kenneth Soles, a sophomore, was also an able performer for Forsan, as was Frankie Firenze for Coahoma.

St. John's And Dayton Favored In NIT Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Sophomore-sparked Dayton and senior-paced St. John's carry the favorite roles tonight in the semi-finals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

The Ohio Flyers, seeking their first NIT title in 11 tries, are slim picks over hustling Loyola of Chicago, which also leans on first-year men. The home town Redmen, out for their fourth NIT crown, are granted a larger edge over a sound Duquesne team in the second half of the double-header.

The first game goes at 7:30 p.m., EST, the second at 9:30 o.m. Dayton, five times runner-up in this tournament, has its work cut out against Loyola. The Flyers swamped Wichita and Houston on the way to the semis, largely on the inspired play of sophomores Bill Chmielewski, 6-foot-10, and Gordie Hatton, 6-foot-11.

The rugged Chmielewski has 36 points in two outings. He also chipped in with fine rebounding and feeding Hatton, with 43 points, is the team floor leader as well. Gary Roggenbuck, Hal Schoen, and Tom Hatton, Gordie's older brother, round out the fine cast.

The Loyola Ramblers, who drew a bye in the first round, also were impressive in dumping a solid Temple team, 75-64 in the quarter-finals. Their pell-mell attack features four soph, including 6-foot-6 Vic Rouse, who leaps like a 7-footer.

The nation's scoring leader, the Ramblers run and run and aren't afraid to pop the ball up. St. John's and Duquesne are more deliberate. The Redmen feature 6-foot-10 Leroy Ellis, out-standing player in the metropolitan area.

Despite a weak bench, St. John's produced a superb effort in knocking out Holy Cross Tuesday night, moving the ball into the right shot came along. Duquesne collected the scalps of Navy and nationally ranked Bradley en route to the semis. The Dukes lack height but not poise, much of which is provided by sophomore Willie Somerset, a 5-foot-10 take charge guy.

The burly backcourt man is built like a football player, which he was. Tournament wags are saying his mother made his give up the gridiron game because "she was afraid he would hurt somebody."

Somerset has 46 points in the tourney, and his dogged drive and cool direction have helped make up for the Dukes' lack of height. Clyde Arnold, 6-foot-6 and just so so far, is the big man.

UCLA Could Turn Out To Be Cage Sleeper

By DON WEISS Associated Press Sports Writer LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A team noted for its alertness, UCLA may turn out to be the sleeper in the National Collegiate (NCAA) basketball championships that move into the show-down stage at spacious Freedom Hall Friday night.

The UCLA (18-9) champions of the Far West regional eliminations, defending national champion Cincinnati (27-2) in the second game of a semi-final doubleheader that opens with top-ranked Ohio State (25-1) meeting Wake Forest (21-8).

No one who remembers the way another West Coast sleeper, California, came from out of the also-rans to win the national title the last time the championships were held in Louisville—in 1959—is overlooking the Bruins.

Their lack of height, which shows 6-5, 230-pound Fred Slaughter as the over-all biggest man among the front liners? Forget that, too, in lining the Far West regional at Provo, Utah, they disposed of the biggest team in the NCAA tournament—Oregon State, with 7-1 Mel Counts—by the tidy score of 89-69.

Their low national ranking? They were rated third best in the Big Five conference in pre-season estimates, yet here they are only two victories away from the national championship.

"I've never been so proud of a team in my life," Coach John Wooden said. "They play well together now," said Coach Jack Gardner of Utah, which beat the UCLA 88-79 in the Los Angeles Classic last De-

Robinson, athletic director at Texas Tech, to be the speaker, but arrangements could not be worked out.

The Forsan P.T.A. will be in charge of all arrangements in connection with the banquet.

At the end of the school year, as per custom. However, the list of letters in each sport will be announced during the banquet.

Coach McKenzie To Speak At Forsan Banquet Sat.

FORSAN — The annual Forsan High School athletic banquet takes place in the school cafeteria here at 8 p.m. Saturday and the principal speaker will be Emmett McKenzie, head coach at Big Spring.

That boys and girls who have participated in the athletic program at Forsan this year will be honored guests, along with their coaches.

The parents of the athletes can also attend the banquet, if they so desire.

Original plans called for Polk Robinson, athletic director at Texas Tech, to be the speaker, but arrangements could not be worked out.

The Forsan P.T.A. will be in charge of all arrangements in connection with the banquet.

At the end of the school year, as per custom. However, the list of letters in each sport will be announced during the banquet.

Cousy To Play Again In '63

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Cousy has had news for the rest of the National Basketball Association. He'll be back for another season with the world champion Boston Celtics.

A veteran—33-of-a dozen years in the physically exhausting NBA, the 6-1 floor general and court magician decided Wednesday after talking it over with the boss, Walter Brown, to play one more year.

"If Walter wants me to return for another season I'll do it," Cousy said before the conference. "I owe him that much."

The former Holy Cross star had been mulling over two other possibilities: staying with the Celtics in a front office job or leaving pro basketball to coach the sport at Boston College.

Though Cousy did not admit it, he believed the BC post was his for the asking. He planned to talk with officials at Boston College today, explaining personally his decision to remain with the Celtics.

It was believed that the non-playing Boston job would have been a combination of scouting and public relations work for the Celtics, who despite their three consecutive NBA championships are not particularly good gate attractions in Boston.

"I guess you fellows will have to watch me running up and down the court for another season," the Cozy grinningly cracked to writers as he and Brown emerged from the 90-minute conference in Brown's office.

Brown felt the answer to a question whether he was glad to have Cousy returning was obvious.

"Of course we're glad he's coming back," said Coach Bones McKinney of the Deacons. "I think we've licked our troubles."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Bobby Dodd Jr., son of the famed Georgia Tech football mentor, may not play football his senior year at the University of Florida. Junior is not taking part in spring drills now. He sat on the bench much of the 1961 season, giving way for sophomore Tom Batten, who moved up to share the quarterbacking duties with Larry Libertore.

Johnny Carrigan, who will conduct his 12th Big State Boys Baseball Summer camp this year at Meridian, said in a visit here earlier this week that he would probably move the school after this year.

The school board at Meridian, which rents facilities to Carrigan, raised the fee on Carrigan to the extent of $10 per player.

Registration per session at Carrigan's school is $150. This includes lodging, meals, instructions, group entertainment, accident insurance, baseball cap, two T-shirts and two pairs of hose.

Carrigan has coached more than 3,000 boys since opening his school, including several from here. He gets his biggest registration out of Midland, next to Dallas. He had 32 boys from Midland in last year's school.

His first session will start June 10 and extend through June 30. The second session gets under way July 1 and runs through July 21. The final session begins July 22 and will be completed Aug. 11.

One of the boys who was in Carrigan's school, Buckley Staley of Phoenix, Arizona, received a $65,000 bonus to sign with the New York Yankees not long ago.

If Carrigan moves his school, it likely will be located in Dallas or Fort Worth. The facilities at both places are much better than they are at Meridian, according to Johnnie.

Jack Irons, Big Spring's all-district football back last fall, probably will attend New Mexico State University, where he would be playing under Warren Woodson.

Woodson, of course, is regarded as one of the real coaching wizards in the country. Irons would prove to be Warren's type of ball player, because Jack gives it everything he has on every play.

Those who have seen him play are high in praise of Tommy Young, the shortstop on the Big Spring High School baseball team.

Young can go into the hole behind second to make the big play. He can also play the outfield with authority.

Kentucky University may have had the best sophomore basketball player in the country the past season but supporters of the Creighton University team are willing to argue about the matter.

Johnnie Frankie, the Rice University coach, says of Paul Silas, the Creighton soph phenom:

"He has the most amazing reflexes I ever saw in a player. I never saw anybody—including Jerry Lucas—who plays the boards like this kid."

Silas, who stands 6-foot-7, grabbed off 519 rebounds during the regular season. No college player in the nation did as well.

Cage Tourney Starts Anew

The E. C. Smith-YMCA Independent basketball tournament resumes tonight in the H.C.J. Gym, with games at 7:30 and 8:45 o'clock.

The Forsan Oilers clash with Inter-State Securities of Odessa in the opening contest, a consolation round bout.

At 8:45 p.m., Morton's Foods of Big Spring sees action for the first time against Southwestern Agency of cultural and Chemical Company of Wall.

In opening games Tuesday, Cortese-Milch of Big Spring defeated Forsan, 93-49. E. C. Smith Construction turned back Inter-State Securities, 102-69, and Waddell Blanks of Odessa downed Enloe Tile of Big Spring, 98-75.

Trophies are being awarded to the first, second, third place and consolation round winners. In addition, a most valuable player award and a sportsmanship trophy will be given away at the conclusion of the tournament.

North Texas Golf Team Is Winner

DALLAS (AP)—North Texas State beat Southern Methodist 6 1/2-2 1/2 in six-man team golf matches Wednesday.

Only Dewitt Weaver and Max Strother were able to win singles matches for SMU. They were tied in the doubles by Frank Luke and Elgie Seaman.

Luke, the medalist with a par 70, Bill Garrett, Bob Greenwood and Don Wilson won singles matches. Greenwood and Garrett, and Wilson and Bob Whitten won doubles matches for North Texas.

Orioles Fretting Over Pitchers

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles' prized Kiddie Korps consisted today of Chuck Estrada, a possible weekend recruit, an appendicitis case and a big fat question mark.

That big question mark was penciled in after the name of Jack Fisher, towering young right-hander jolted by a series of sharp pains in his right shoulder while warming up to pitch Wednesday's exhibition game against the Cincinnati Reds.

The 23-year-old, 6-foot-2 fireballer turned up with an inflamed shoulder earlier in the spring training, then reported himself ready to take his turn on the mound.

He is being flown to Baltimore for X-rays.

The sudden loss of Fisher, who served home run No. 60 to Roger Maris during the 1961 campaign while posting a 10-13 record with a .380 earned run average, left only Estrada as a full-time abled-bodied member of the Birds' big four.

Steve Barber, the club's big winner last season with 18 triumphs, is tolling for Uncle Sam, but may be available to pitch weekends. Milt Pappas, 13-9 last year, is recuperating from an emergency appendectomy and will not resume workouts until April.

The series of stunning setbacks has forced rookie manager Billy Hitchcock to realign his starting quartet, using Estrada with veteran Hal Brown, Dick Hall and Billy Hoelt, acquired from Detroit, pitched five innings as the Orioles whipped the Reds 12-6 at Tampa.

Kansas City, getting strong pitching from Norm Bass and Bob Grim, edged Washington 2-1 at West Palm Beach and then announced that $125,000 bonus hurler Lew Krausse was being shipped to their minor league camp.

Elsewhere, top pitching performances were turned in as the Chicago Cubs shut out Cleveland 2-0 at Tucson. The New York Mets blanked Detroit 1-0 at St.

Soviets Plan Vast Shelter System, Belie Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union claims to be planning an elaborate system of civil defense shelters plus the mass distribution of gas masks and special protective clothing.

These claims, which contrast sharply with Russian charges that the U.S. civil defense program reflects war-mongering, were revealed today in a 406-page translation of an official Soviet document.

Called "Medical and Civil Defense in Total War," the volume was placed on sale by the Commerce Department's Office of Technical Services. It was originally published in 1959 by the Byelorussian Ministry of Health, and was written by L. F. Supron and F. P. Zverev.

The book, based on lectures given at a medical institute in Minsk in 1955-58, gives no hint of how much progress has been made in carrying out the various plans.

In discussing steps to be taken in the event of an attack alert, the authors state that every citizen "must have his own gas mask, a cape made of white, close-knit material, individual first aid kits, and protective stockings and gloves."

No mention is made of whether these items have been distributed. The text makes clear elsewhere that the articles of clothing are of special design and material.

The book gives almost as much attention to germ and gas warfare as to the hazards of nuclear attack.

The volume is heavily laced with political propaganda and starts out with an attack on "the aggressive ruling circles of certain capitalist states."

There are references throughout the book to standby plans for the populace to take shelter in an attack and one statement refers to plans "to expand the network of existing shelters."

Communist propagandists have been particularly critical of the Kennedy administration's promotion of fallout shelters. According to the Soviet document, the civil defense program of the U.S.S.R. embraces not only the protection of the population and the economy during and after an attack, but also the interception and destruction of enemy bombers and missiles.

While boasting of Soviet defenses, they say that "even with the most effective anti-aircraft defense, the possibility of penetration of single planes or pilotless

Lions Plan Zone Meet At Coahoma

JFK Discovers Problem With Near Shelter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, who is urging a nation-wide fallout shelter program, has a shelter problem right next door.

The basement of the Executive Office building, on the west side of the White House, isn't considered safe for a shelter in a nuclear emergency.

The old, gingerbread building once housed the State, War and Navy departments. Many of Kennedy's top aides are among the 1,200 federal employees who now work there.

George Viault, the building warden, says the big vaulted cellar might be fine for a shelter except for one thing—it's a maze of hot and cold water pipes. If a lot of people were huddled down there and the pipes burst, there could be a disaster.

So civil defense experts have done the best they can and marked off shelter areas on upper floors. These are in inner corridors, where the brick walls are thick and the doors strong.

As in the case with many federal buildings, private citizens would be welcome to seek shelter there in emergency. Viault figures he could take care of quite a few people.

"We could bed them down, after a fashion," he says. "With the cafeterias we could feed them after a fashion, if conditions were such that we could get food free from radioactivity and if we could cook it."

"War experience has shown that people can survive a good deal of rugged living."

Private citizens dashing in for shelter might find themselves rubbing elbows with a lot of important officials.

Among occupants of the building are Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, top military adviser to the President; McGeorge Bundy, assistant to the President on national security affairs; the Council of Economic Advisers; the National Space Council and a small branch of the Secret Service.

Kennedy Says Arms Talks Must Go On

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite unabating signs of an East-West stalemate, President Kennedy says the Geneva disarmament conference and its sideline talks on Berlin must go on.

And he is gratified by Soviet Premier Khrushchev's declared willingness to cooperate with the United States on outer space projects.

At his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy acknowledged there is a basic difference between U.S. and Russian positions at Geneva on policing a nuclear test ban. He said "there is no evidence that we are going to quickly reach a settlement" on Berlin or Southeast Asia.

Kennedy asserted, however, that he is not prepared to abandon the effort at Geneva. "It would be a mistake," he said, "for us to feel that there the prospects are finished."

Welcoming Khrushchev's reply to his proposals for cooperation in such fields as weather forecasting and communication via space satellites, Kennedy said the United States is committed to moving ahead "in a spirit of cooperation and for the benefit of all mankind."

SPACE PANEL

A few hours after the news conference in Washington, U.S. and Soviet representatives on the U.N. Outer Space Committee met in New York.

Kennedy promised U.S. interests would be protected in these negotiations—negotiations he said are necessary "as space continues to be more and more under the hazard of being used for military purposes."

Kennedy's mood was serious, almost stern, throughout his 10th meeting with newsmen in the last 11 weeks. He spoke with obvious feeling about support for the United Nations and the service performed by National Guardsmen and reservists.

He shut out further discussion of his dispute with former vice President Richard M. Nixon over his 1960 campaign stand on Cuba. When a reporter questioned his implication that the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, was American territory, he said he may have been "incorrect legally" but insisted the United States holds treaty-granted responsibility for the area.

OTHER TOPICS

On a variety of subjects, Kennedy had this to say:

NUCLEAR CONTROLS—An array of observation posts around the world would be inadequate unless inspection teams were allowed inside the Soviet Union, for example, to determine whether a nuclear explosion or an earthquake caused signals picked up by detection instruments located elsewhere. Soviet refusal to admit inspection teams has raised the greatest barrier to agreement at Geneva.

UNITED NATIONS — Advocating the purchase of U.N. bonds, Kennedy said there is no evidence the United Nations would be able to pay back within the three allotted years a $100-million loan proposed by Republican senators as an alternative. Failure to go through with the bond purchase, he said, would break down U.N. operations in the Congo and Middle East.

LIFE IS UNFAIR

RESERVISTS—Some people always get better breaks than others, he advised reservists who objected to being called to active duty. "Life is unfair," he said. But he declared they have "strengthened the foreign policy of the United States" in the Berlin and Southeast Asian crises and predicted they will find satisfaction later in feeling they contributed to the security of their families and country.

ALGERIA — Reproaching Moscow for quick recognition of the provisional Algerian government, Kennedy said the United States will act when the proper moment comes rather than attempt "for political purposes to exploit a situation."

CUBA—Cuban plans to try prisoners captured in last year's futile invasion attempt as war criminals "is a matter of great national as well as personal distress," he said.

MEDICAL CARE—To brand his medical care program an opening wedge for socialized medicine, Kennedy said, is to use a version of "the oldest argument in the world." Had that argument succeeded, "there would not have been any progress on any social legislation in this country."

COMMUNICATIONS — Kennedy said he would have to examine whether cutting to $1 the price of shares in a communications satellite corporation to enable all taxpayers to get in on the project would be in the public interest. He voiced doubt the rate of return would compare with other investments for many years.

RS70—Nobody won or lost, Kennedy said, in the agreement that averted a contest over whether Congress had authority to order the executive branch to spend more than it wanted on the high-altitude RS70 bomber. It served the public interest and preserved good relations with Congress, he said.

Principal policy-making officials of the Department of State and of other governmental branches will discuss affairs on a "background" basis. The program calls for President John F. Kennedy to make an appearance before the group as the climax of the Tuesday talks.

Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Chester Bowles, the President's special representative; George C. McGhee, Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs; Charles E. On Short Notice Mrs. R. B. Hall Prepares Meals For Her Family

Good meals on short notice have been the duty of Mrs. R. B. Hall for the past 20 years. For 21 years Mrs. Hall has been married to R. B. Hall who is an engineer on the Texas and Pacific Railroad. For 20 of these years he has been with the railroad and, being subject to call, his meals must be prepared most of the time on short notice.

To take care of this problem, Mrs. Hall makes use of her deep freezer as well as a freezing compartment in her refrigerator. She prepares a number of pie crusts in the pans and freezes them. When she wants pie it is an easy matter to cook the crust and fill it.

The Hall family has been in their new home at 2500 E. 24th about three years. It is a comfortable place and has room enough for activities of the twins, Phillip and Phillis, the last of the children at home, who will be 14 in August. The twins are in Goland Junior High School and take an active part in the school choir and also in the East Fourth Baptist Junior and senior choirs. Their oldest brother, R. B. Jr., is music and educational director at the Frederick, Okla., First Baptist Church. Mrs. Buford Hull and Mrs. Michael Tavagalione are sisters who live here, and Perry Hall is another brother who also makes Big Spring his home.

An aquarium, a canary, a 75-pound Doberman pinscher and a three-pound Chihuahua round out the family, pet wise.

Although this week's homemaker is a busy business woman during the hours the children are at school, she makes time in her busy week to teach the Reapers' Class of women at the East Fourth Baptist Church.

Mrs. Hall, who is an agent for the Rio Grande National Insurance Co. from 8 a.m. until she gets through, likes to cook and keep house for her family. She has learned to cook Italian food from the mother of her Tavagalione son-in-law and passed on a few tips on getting just the right flavor in lasagne and Italian meat balls. The Italians call it something else but Mrs. Hall says it's just plain mint leaves chopped fine and added to the meat.

One of the favorite basic dishes of the Halls is chicken spaghetti which she serves often.

Prepares Pies Pronto

A pecan pie is out of the oven and ready when Mrs. R. B. Hall's family calls for dessert. The makings for pies are kept ready at all times because Mrs. Hall's meal preparation is sometimes limited to a matter of minutes.

minutes. Remove from broth and cool, then bone. Combine broth, spaghetti, onion and celery. Cook until tender and add mushroom soup, evaporated milk, cheese, pimiento and boned chicken. Mix and cover. Let stand until cheese melts. Serves six.

ROAST TIP
2 1/2 or 3 lbs. rump or Pike's Peak roast of beef
1 pkg. instant onion soup
Rub roast with soup mix and wrap tightly in foil. Bake in oven at 250 degrees for about 3 hours. Make brown gravy with drippings.

SYRUP NUT PIE
3/4 cup white or dark syrup
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1 cup pecans
3 eggs
1 tsp. vinegar
1 tsp. butter
Put all ingredients in mixing bowl and beat together with wire whip for about two minutes. Pour mixture over pecans in lined pie tin and bake in 375 degree oven for 35 minutes. Take from oven and let cool before serving.

APPLE COBLER WITH CAKE TOPPING
1 can pie apples
1/2 can water
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 box any ready-mix cake, yellow or spice flavor better
Butter
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
Combine apples, water, sugar and cinnamon in 10-inch Pyrex pan. Sprinkle cake mix lightly and smoothly over apple mixture. Dot with butter and bake in 300 degree oven approximately 30 minutes or until brown. Serve warm. Delicious with ice cream or whipped cream.

Raisins Dress Ham
Pale colored raisins — sometimes called "golden" — are delightful used in the usual raisin sauce served with ham. By the way, you might like to serve this sauce sometime with pork chops.

Dishwashing Tip
A hot water rinse not only kills germs on dishes; it will steam dry china, glass and silver to shining cleanliness, eliminating the need for drying. For automatic dishwashers the thermostat on a water heater should be set at 160 degrees. If you wash dishes by hand, set the dial between 130 to 150 degrees.

Party Magic BROCKLES COCKTAIL SAUCE
Fish - Dips - Steaks

Ham Casserole Makes Full Meal
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped onions
3 tbsps. flour
1 cup milk
2 eggs, well beaten
2 tbsps. lemon juice
Salt and pepper to taste
1 can (1 lb.) Louisiana yams, drained
1 ham slice, cut in quarters
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen broccoli
Melt butter or margarine, add onions and cook until tender. Add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add a little of hot mixture to eggs and mix well. Add to hot mixture. Gradually add lemon juice and mix well. Season with salt and pepper.
Arrange yams, ham and broccoli in greased 1-quart casserole. Top with onion mixture. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Serves four.

Handy Tips For Better Pie Crust
Refrigerating pie dough is known to make pie dough more flaky.
Too much liquid usually produces a tough crust. So use water sparingly; just gradually sprinkle it over the mixture as you work it with a fork.
When dough is overworked, it is sure to be brittle when it comes from the oven. Handle with care.
A little more shortening than the recipe calls for never hurts a crust. Usually a flakier crust is the result.
To make your pie more attractive, before baking just brush the top of the crust with a mixture of egg yolk and water. Another good way to top a crust is to brush crust top with sweet milk before baking and sprinkle with sugar.

Old Time Favorite
1 can (1 lb. and 13 oz.) canned yellow cling peach halves
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1 stick (2 or 3 inches) cinnamon
1 bay leaf
5 whole allspice
Whole cloves
Drain syrup from peaches into a medium-sized saucepan. Add sugar, vinegar, cinnamon stick, bay leaf and allspice to syrup. Stir over moderate heat until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil. Insert a whole clove in center of each peach half; add peaches to boiling syrup; reduce heat and simmer about 5 minutes. Cool. Refrigerate overnight in covered container.

Strawberry Rice Cream Delectable

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

A delightful dessert will be yours to serve to family and friends if you try this recipe. It's a combination of cooked rice, gelatin, sugar, whipped cream and fruit.

We used strawberries for the fruit and found them a happy choice. We turned the dessert into individual aluminum molds that have small indentations in the bottom, then decorated the unmolded "cups" with a garnish of the pretty sliced red berries. If you have similar molds, be sure to use them for the dessert.

STRAWBERRY RICE CREAM
1 pint basket strawberries
1/2 cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup hot cooked rice
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup heavy cream
Extra sugar

Wash strawberries in cold water, drain and hull; mash enough of the berries to make 1/2 cup. Berries may be mashed on a plate with a fork. Reserve remaining berries for garnish.

Pour cold water into a small saucepan and sprinkle gelatin over top; let stand about 5 minutes to soften. Place over low heat and stir until gelatin dissolves. Mix well with rice, 1/2 cup sugar, salt and vanilla; refrigerate.

When mixture begins to thicken, mix in the mashed strawberries thoroughly. Whip cream and fold in. Turn into a large or individual molds, or spoon into individual dessert dishes. Chill until firm. Garnish unmolded dessert with remaining strawberries, sliced and sweetened to taste with extra sugar.

Makes 6 to 7 one-half cup servings.

Note: After sugar is added to sliced strawberries for garnish, allow to stand at room temperature until sugar dissolves.

Either way, each with as many variations as there are cooks will provide something mighty tempting. Some of the variations are achieved during preparation. Others, in the manner of cooking. Still others impart variety by choosing different go-with items.

Along the Gulf Coast, for example, some Southern Fried chicken has an interesting lemon accent which highlights the crispy-skinned, tender-meat portions. It's generally accompanied by a serving of red-rice, a combination of red kidney beans and white rice. Rub fresh lemon over the skin before cooking.

Kentucky dwellers like to serve fried chicken with piping hot griddle cakes covered with chicken gravy, fashioned from the browned drippings. In Virginia, waffles topped with cream gravy serve as traditional menu-mates for the chicken. In Kansas, lots of sour cream is added to the gravy.

Georgia diners, with a yen for grits at every meal, naturally like

Southern Fried Chicken Most Popular Dixie Dish

"Southern fried," applied to chicken, is a distinctive mark of eminence, recognized throughout the nation.

Yet, there are so many variations of Southern Fried Chicken it's difficult to draw a rigid circle around any one method and say "that's it."

It's quite proper, indeed, to take a basic recipe, adapt it to personal taste, surround it with accompanying fare of your own choice and label it "Mah Own Southern Fried Chicken."

Take a plump young chicken, 1 1/2 to 3 pounds, ready to cook; salt, pepper, flour, and fat or oil. Cut chicken in serving pieces. Season with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Heat fat (about 1 1/4 inches deep) in heavy frying pan.

Put the thickest pieces of chicken in fat first. Do not crowd—leave enough space for the fat to come up around each piece. Cook slowly, turning often. Do not cover pan. The thickest pieces will take from 20 to 35 minutes to cook. After the pieces have been browned, cooking may be finished in a moderate oven (350 degrees), if more convenient.

Or try this style: Cut a young chicken (about 1 1/2 pounds ready-to-cook weight) in quarters or smaller pieces. Dip in thin batter made with 1 cup sifted flour, 1 egg, 3/4 cup milk and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Heat fat in a deep pan to 365 degrees. Fry chicken, a few pieces at a time, for 10 to 15 minutes.

Evaporated milk, cream and whole milk may be used in place of, or combined with, the well-beaten eggs as the dipping fluid. Even the depth of hot fat or oil varies from state to state. Generally, for pan-fried chicken, it is about 1/2 inch deep, but there are those who like to use 1 to 2 inches of fat for a deep fat-fried version. Use lard, butter, margarine, vegetable fats and oils—or a combination. Get it hot, but not so hot it smokes.

For batter-type coatings, the chicken pieces may be dipped into waffle or pancake batter. Here, again, spices and condiments may be added for flavor intrigue.

Egg-crumbs coatings also offer tempting variations. Dip the chicken pieces first into well-beaten eggs and then roll in fine pretzel, bread, cracker or cereal crumbs. Or, as they do in Alabama, use golden-hued corn meal.

Science At Work

By The Associated Press
A peek at behavior, a long look at heredity, and a powder for atomic warning are subjects for science at work:

Take A Notion

Ever wonder what it is that makes you pick up that box of cake mix in the supermarket and absentmindedly drop it in your shopping cart, although you have two boxes on the shelf at home?

Could be you're hungry, and the message is finally getting through your subconscious.

In fact, it appears that many of our subconscious moods and drives may begin at the stem of the brain in some sort of partnership of electrical and chemical action.

Experiments, described in this month's Scientific American magazine, indicate that an animal's behavior can be manipulated by electrical stimulation of the brain.

Chickens, with electrodes in their brains, can be made to peck, flee, or vocalize, by electrical stimulation, the article explains. This sort of study may help man understand his own behavior.

Take A Virus

The T4D is a virus. It has 100 genes—or units of heredity. A bacterial cell has 10,000 genes, a human cell about a million.

But Dr. Robert S. Edgar of the California Institute of Technology is hoping the puny virus and its genes will teach him something of the heredity in individual cells.

The T4D is just eight millionths of an inch long, shaped like a tadpole, its head jammed with nucleic acids, the blueprints for future generations. By itself, the tail jabs in like a hypodermic needle and injects the nucleic acids.

These bits of genetic memory take over the cell and convert its production line to making more virus. In 30 minutes the killer virus has used the stolen factory to turn out some 200 viruses and a lethal chemical that explodes the cell and releases the viruses.

By destroying certain links in the chains of genes of the viruses Edgar has been able to learn more about them, where they occur and what some of them do, thereby getting some clues to heredity in humans and animals.

Take A Powder

A new and inexpensive button—to measure how much radioactivity an individual may meet in an atomic attack—has been designed by University of Wisconsin scientists.

It contains a little bit of lithium fluoride powder—which can record the amount of radiation that strikes it. When it is heated to about 500 degrees Fahrenheit, the powder releases its energy in the form of light. From there it is simple: the more radiation, the more energy, the more light.

A small button, which could be mass produced for something like a dime a copy, could be hooked onto drivers' licenses, easily processed in hospitals in an emergency, scientists said.

Awards Made For New Ideas

Hilton H. Fields, 3560th Maintenance and Supply Group aircraft mechanic, headed a group of Webb AFB civilians who received cash awards for their management-improvement suggestions.

He collected $50 for devising a landing gear strut on a T-37 trainer without disconnecting the brake bleeding valve. This time-saver is expected to save $1,000 at Webb this year.

Awards of $15 went to Carmel D. Lawson, 3560th M&S aircraft sheet metal worker, who fashioned a die holder for retaining a heated die in its proper position, thus preventing damage to another machine.

Ernest A. Richters, M&S aircraft sheet metal tender, received $15 for his stand to hold sheet metal.

Fred H. Brunson, former M&S materiel expeditor, received $15 for his idea for improving the ordering requirements for the flight line, eliminating delays.

Weldon B. Covert, 3560th Civil Engineering parts tender, received $15 for improving the method of ordering supplies from the warehouse.

Science Fair Is Set At Coahoma

COAHOMA — Pupils at all grade levels are combining their efforts for a Science Fair here this weekend.

The first showing will be from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria room. The displays will also be shown again from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday.

Arrangements are being handled by Phil Wynn in the high school and Gerald Oaks in the junior high. Elementary school children also are entering exhibits under the supervision of their teachers.

Besides the many projects and demonstrations provided by the pupils, Webb AFB will supply an exhibit—a cutaway model of the T-28 (supersonic) engine.

Spier Says Better Job Could Be Done

Whether it's traffic mishaps or producing stalwart Americans, we already have skills to do a far better job than we are doing, Maj. Wilson O. (Pat) Spier said here Wednesday.

Maj. Spier, in charge of the West Texas district for the Texas Department of Public Safety, addressed the Downtown Lions Club at the Settles Hotel. With him was Capt. C. W. Bell, formerly located here by the DPS.

Although Texans drove 47 billion miles last year and held fatalities to 4.8 per 100 million miles, against a national average of 5.2, the tragic fact remains that 2,400 died needlessly on highways in Texas during 1961, he declared. From traffic accidents, the economic loss alone totalled 350 million dollars, he said.

"We have good machines, good traffic laws, good highways," he said, "and we have the skills to stop this carnage if we will use them."

Not only is the accident rate alarming, Maj. Spier added, but the crime rate as well. Since World War II, the number of felony crimes (200,000 last year in Texas) has increased three times faster than the population. Among some groups, the rate has been six or seven times as fast.

The tide against this could be turned at home if parents will just take time to fulfill their duty, he asserted.

"We give our children too much and expect too little," he said. "The boy or girl busy in positive, creative activity does not get into trouble."

"Parents owe it to their children to create right attitudes toward the law and toward responsibilities, and to impress upon children their great heritage as free Americans, because 'we must save America not only for today, but for tomorrow.'"

The program was in charge of Red Williams B. M. Keese, zone chairman, announced the zone meeting for Thursday evening at Coahoma. He also said response to the "I Am An American" essay contest, sponsored by Lions Clubs, was heartening. The deadline is April 1.

Maj. C. L. Utterback Leaves 331st FIS

Maj. Curtis L. Utterback, 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron operations officer at Webb AFB, has been reassigned to the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group in Santa Domingo, Dominican Republic. He leaves Webb Monday.

The 19-year Air Force veteran, born in San Angelo, began his service career in 1942 when he was graduated at Foster Field in Victoria, as a pilot and a lieutenant. After P-47 training he became a gunnery instructor and continued in that until 1945 when he was separated from the service and began work toward a college degree.

In 1947 he returned to the Air Force and became an instructor at Randolph AFB. Two years later he was assigned as an observer on the United Nations Special Committee on the Balkans and in 1950 joined the 61st Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Selfridge AFB.

In 1951 he went to Korea when he became the operations officer for the 334th Fighter Interceptor Squadron and then later, the 25th Fighter Interceptor Squadron. While with the 25th he flew 100 combat missions and scored three and a half kills.

In 1953 he was assigned as an instructor with the 3596th Combat Crew Training Wing at Nellis AFB, Nev., then reassigned to South America as a fighter pilot adviser with the Peruvian Air Force. He became the operations officer and later the commander of the 37th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Ethan Allen AFB, Vt.

MAJ. C. L. UTTERBACK

Maj. Utterback came to Webb in February, 1960 and last year participated in the Air Defense Command "William Tell" at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

He is married to the former Dorothy Goble, Waco. He and his wife have two children, Lloyd and Joanne.

On Hollywood And Divorces

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clyde Mack, the cynical flack, dropped by my desk to talk about Hollywood divorces.

Clyde is a press agent whose realistic view of the Hollywood scene keeps him unemployed most of the time. Trouble is, when a producer asks him what he thinks of a movie, Clyde tells him.

"I see you're writing another divorce story," said Clyde, reading over my shoulder. "Did you know that Hollywood divorces come in threes, just like Hollywood deaths?"

"An old wives' tale," I scoffed. "No, no, old wives don't tell tales in Hollywood," he corrected. "They merely sue on grounds of 'mental cruelty.' No matter if their husbands were drunks, chasers or both, the charge is always 'mental cruelty.'"

"Very interesting," I said dubiously. "Now if you don't mind—"

"Oh, I know these divorce stories inside and out," Clyde continued. "You know what a Hollywood marriage is called—if it has lasted 18 months or over?"

"I give up."

"One of Hollywood's perfect marriages." The film colony is 'shocked' and 'taken by surprise' when it breaks up.

"Another thing. Even if he tried to pour hot lead in her ear, they are 'still friends.' She may start throwing the bone china at the mention of his name, but the announcement always says they are 'still friends.' I pecked out a few words, but he continued.

I finally interjected: "Look, Clyde, I've got a deadline. See you later. Give my best to your wife."

"My wife?" he said glumly. "We're separated. 'Clash of personalities.' She can't stand mine. Too bad. It was one of Hollywood's perfect marriages."
