Soldier Flies To Havana, Asks Asylum

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban authorities reported Saturday an American soldier-flier sought refuge at Havana Friday. The Army said the man named by the Cubans is an Army deserter.

Havana newspapers identified the man as Bobby J. Keesee and said he landed a light civilian plane at Havana Airport at 10:30 Friday morning, described himself as a U. S. Army deserter and asked political asylum.

The Army here said Sgt. Bobby J. Keesee, 28, has been listed as a deserter since Feb. 25. He left his post at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., Jan. 15 on a 15-day leave and indicated he was going to Guaymas, Mexico. When he didn't return Jan. 30, he was listed as absent without leave and later was classified as a deserter. His home is listed as Amarillo, Tex.

The Army said Keesee was assigned as an operator of a flight simulation training device and had access to no secret military information which would be of value to a foreign government.

The Army spokesman said that in addition to being wanted as a deserter, Keesee was under investigation "for passing bogus checks and for forgery."

Keesee had been stationed at Ft. Huachuca since July 1960. He was not married.

Keesee was born in Allison, in the Texas Panhandle. His sister, Mrs. T. O. Riley of Amarillo, told newsmen she raised Keesee from the time he was a year old.

"He just must be mixed up," Mrs. Riley said in regard to Keesee's flight to Cuba. "I don't have any idea why he did it."

She said her brother enlisted as a paratrooper in 1951, was wounded in the Korean conflict and was given the Purple Heart and other medals. She said Keesee planned to make the Army his career.

Algerian Rebel Chief Accepts Russian Hand

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — The head of the Algerian nationalist provisional government accepted "with satisfaction" Saturday a Soviet offer to establish diplomatic relations. France has protested the Russian move.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev made the offer to Algerian Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda last Tuesday after the Algerian cease-fire.

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville called in the Soviet ambassador in Paris, Sergei Vinogradov, to protest. The French took the position they still had not lost sovereignty over Algeria and that this would be recognized by the Algerian provisional government until a referendum in Algeria six months from now decides whether or not the Algerian people want independence from France.

The French claim there can be no diplomatic relations between the provisional regime and another foreign country until the decision on independence is made.

The Soviet premier congratulated Ben Khedda on the cease-fire agreement and said the Kremlin is giving full recognition to his regime and is ready to establish diplomatic relations.

In his reply, Ben Khedda told Khrushchev his message "constitutes a precious encouragement and gives new evidence of the solid ties which bind the Algerian people to the people of the Soviet Union. . . . The Algerian people do not forget the constant support which the Soviet Union has always given for the success of our battle."

Winds Of Hurricane Intensity Rake Texas

It Blew And Blew, And That's Not All

It blew Saturday and blew and blew. After a night of some respite, the weatherman promises it is going to blow some more today.

Oldtimers said Saturday's windstorm was one of the worst ever and certainly the strongest since 1956. Although damage around the city was relatively light, wind gusts were reported as high as 70 miles per hour at Howard County Airport. Visibility at times was less than a mile.

Garbage cans and lids rolled around like grounded flying saucers. A big sign was felled at the Big Spring Motel, and elsewhere some residents were literally shoveling back the dirt at their door steps. The traffic signal light at Sixth and State was torn loose from its moorings.

Downtown, merchants were ready to blockade their doors again the blowing sand, and some did lock the front doors and asked their customers to exit by rear or side doors. Heavy layers of sand were reported in most all stores.

Texas Electric Service Co. and the Southern Bell Telephone Co. were having a difficult time maintaining service, though neither company reported any falling poles.

TESCO said Saturday that all

Twister Strikes At Mineola

By The Associated Press

A small tornado Saturday devastated the business district of Mineola, small East Texas railroad town, as twisters whirled over an area of rich pine forest and oil country.

The Mineola twister struck while a large portion of East Texas was under tornado alert. The alert expired at 7 p.m. and was extended eastward to cover an area from Lufkin to Texarkana, Ark., and 100 miles east of such a line until 11 p.m. Most of the later alerted area was in Louisiana.

Snow fell in the Texas Panhandle and blowing dust was kicked up by furious spring winds that reach hurricane force. The sand blew and reduced visibilities from El Paso to Dallas to McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

LOT OF DAMAGE

There were no serious injuries reported in the Mineola twister although three persons were cut by flying glass and debris. Damage was expected to total close to $500,000, residents said.

Witnesses at Mineola said the tornado formed over the Southwest section of the city and then moved northeasterly to the business district.

Mrs. I. M. Gray, a Mineola resident, said the tornado cloud swept to the ground with a "whirlwind motion."

"Nearly every business house in Mineola has been damaged," Mrs. Gray told the Associated Press. "It's a miracle nobody was killed."

Completely leveled by the whipping winds was a large brick building on U. S. 80 near Mineola's center. Four automobiles in the building were demolished.

Twenty-five automobiles at the heavily damaged Piggy - Wigly store were almost total losses, witnesses said.

2 INJURED

Neil Harle of the Mineola Monitor said Herman C. Bodiford and George Oglesby were injured, neither seriously, when the Bartlett Gulf Station was heavily damaged. Mrs. Mary Belle Shields suffered facial cuts at the Piggy Wigly store.

The home of Mrs. Annie May was lifted eight feet off its foundation and put back on the ground almost intact. Eighty children watching a movie at the Select theater escaped injury although the theater front was blown out. Employees evacuated the children quickly without panic.

Another small tornado was spotted in the Lindale area of East Texas, near Tyler, but the Department of Public Safety said no damage was done when it dipped to the ground in open country.

PLANT STRUCK

The Department of Public Safety reported that a tornado, possibly the same one which struck Mineola, badly damaged the Reliance Clay Products plant between Swan and Lindale. Superintendent H. L. Farwell of the plant estimated the damage at $100,000.

Tyler was raked by high winds and hail. Some roof damage was reported. The wind lifted the roof from the old Farmers & Merchants compress and tangled the metal in nearby power lines. A falling tree crushed a car.

Peeries, 12 miles northwest of Sulphur Springs and some 60 miles north of Tyler, also was hit by a twister about 4 p.m.

Four houses, two barns and sev-

Yep, It Was Strong, All Right

This sign at the Big Spring Motel was jerked from its foundation and hurled to the ground Saturday as wind gusts were measured up to almost 80 miles per hour. Trees, poles, and the usual litter of garbage cans felt the force of the winds as old timers admitted the Saturday blow was one of the strongest in a long time. (Photo by Gary Pickle.)

Probe Of College YMCA Is Urged

LAKE MURRAY, Okla. (AP) — The Southwest area council of the Young Men's Christian Association Saturday urged an investigation of the program and leadership at the University of Texas YMCA.

The action came as the council held its 25th annual meeting. The council called for the probe because "certain features of the program (at the campus Y) have brought to the public's attention student activities which adversely affect the YMCA throughout the Southwest area."

"The intent of the resolution was only to say that the Austin board may want to look into the situation at the college association," Francis Flint, general secretary of the Big Spring YMCA, said Saturday. "I don't feel the Council intended to force itself into the problem and dictate policies or planning."

Flint pointed out that college associations have been autonomous, and have not been responsible to the parent association. Another resolution approved by the Council changes that, he explained.

The council adopted a resolution

MARSHALL IS ELECTED

Arnold Marshall, long-time worker in the YMCA here, was elected president of the Southwest Area Council of YMCA's Saturday at Lake Murray, Okla. He has been active in all facets of the local association and has served on the youth committee of the area organization.

Clyde McMahon, another long-time Y worker here, was re-elected to the National Council of YMCA's, representing the Southwest Area.

Marshall, Francis Flint, general secretary of the local Y, and Wayne Williams, president of the Howard County Junior College Y group, attended the Lake Murray meeting.

that will bring all college associations under the jurisdiction of the area council making a tighter relationship and giving the movement more control over the actions of college groups. This move is expected to eliminate problems such as is alleged to have occurred in Austin.

The Dallas Morning News has been carrying a series of articles on Texas' YMCA, already numbering seven. The articles include criticism that the campus YMCA is a center of liberal and even leftwing discussions and activities.

Doctor Cleared In Bride's Death

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Dr. Manfred von Linde sailed from Haiti Saturday aboard the luxury liner Homeric bound for Nassau and New York.

Von Linde had been held five days without charge while Haitian authorities investigated the death of his wife, the former Lucille Rogers, a New York and Kansas City socialite.

Von Linde, 38, barely had time to shave a five-day beard before boarding the liner. He left behind his luggage and a French poodle he and his 32-year-old bride brought with them to Haiti March 11.

One of Von Linde's attorneys, Charles Emmett Jr., said the surgeon had been cleared completely in the investigation.

Von Linde's release came after a second autopsy of his bride's body showed no evidence of foul play.

The second autopsy was made by Haitian authorities on the request of members of Mrs. Von Linde's family.

NEWS BRIEFS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's former press secretary said Saturday that Nixon had wanted to make Cuban intervention a campaign issue but did not do so for security reason.

When Kennedy came out for Cuban intervention, Klein said "the effect was that in a crucial part of the campaign Mr. Nixon was being clubbed with his own weapon. And, because he had a strong sense of his responsibility to protect security, he had no choice but to argue against Mr. Kennedy—and thus against a policy he previously originated himself."

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — President Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, chatting in the pleasant setting of a country club cottage, discussed international affairs for the greater part of an hour Saturday.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The chiefs of antisubmarine warfare for the Pacific and Atlantic indicated Saturday that Soviet submarines are probing the United States coastline.

In a copyrighted interview in the San Diego Union, Vice Adm. John Thach, Pacific, and Vice Adm. Edmund Taylor, Atlantic, said they are convinced the Russians are using their submarines as watchposts and conceding that the United States is doing the same.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In what a Republican called a friendly filibuster, Southern Democrats kept talking against an antipoll tax measure Saturday at this year's first Saturday session of the Senate.

ALGIERS (AP) — The European Secret Army spurned appeals to surrender Saturday and fought a two-hour battle with French troops surrounding the rightist suburban stronghold of Bab El Oued.

Little Rock Racist Group To Sponsor Walker Speech

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The segregationist Citizens Council will sponsor a recorded speech Monday night by one of its former bitter enemies, Edwin Walker.

Walker, when he was a general, commanded troops which President Eisenhower sent to enforce court-ordered integration at Little Rock Central High School in 1957.

He was the object then of much wrath from segregationists.

Amid Guthridge, president of the Citizens Council, said that Walker has since said that the invasion was illegal and unconstitutional and that he regretted it.

The speech, to be broadcast Monday, was made by Walker in Jackson, Miss., Dec. 29, 1961.

Guthridge said the Citizens' Council approved of Walker's attempt to "prepare our boys under his command in Germany to know the menace of the atheistic, Communist enemy."

Walker was relieved of his command in Germany after allegedly feeding his troops right-wing propaganda. Since then he has resigned from the Army.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

Just about the biggest show of the year will come to town Friday with the presentation of the Air Force's famed Thunderbirds. These aerial acrobats can accept only a fraction of the requests for their demonstration of flying skill. Incidentally, this will be a sort of homecoming for two of the Thunderbirds—Capt. Ralph Brooks is a former Big Spring and is married to Lynette Blum of Big Spring; Capt. Robert G. Moore got his pilot training at Webb AFB.

Those who don't believe that anything can happen in West Texas weather got an education last week. Tuesday morning rain (from .5 to 1.5 inches, and enough to help in some areas, covered the area. High winds came up in the afternoon and by late afternoon a pretty fair sandstorm was going. The week turned springy, then violently windy again.

There are still lots of good neighbors left. Big Spring folk respond (See THE WEEK, Pg. 6-A, Col. 4)

World War I Veterans Cite Civic Leaders For Service

The fifth annual reunion of World War I veterans, and the 15th anniversary of Post 355, American Legion, drew over 180 Legionnaires and guests Saturday night at the Legion hall on US 87 south. The purpose was to honor Legionnaires and community leaders for meritorious service.

George Zachariah, as master of ceremonies, called on Mrs. Kay Bugg for a roll call of charter members of the post, introduced guests, and World War I veterans still members of the post.

The three-purpose meeting was held on the 43rd anniversary of the founding of the American Legion, 15th anniversary of the founding of Post 355, and the fifth

Alabama Negroes' Names On Ballot

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — County Democratic leaders have agreed to put the names of 10 Negroes on the May primary ballot for county party posts—2 of them without opposition.

"So to speak, we are as good as elected," Orzell Billingsley Jr., one of the Negroes, said of himself and Arthur Shores.

The other eight Negroes have opposition in their races for position on the Jefferson County (Birmingham) Democratic Executive Committee.

A federal court suit by the Negroes seeking to force the party's acceptance of them as candidates was dismissed on the basis of the agreement.

Search Called Off For Plane

GUAM (AP) — The Navy and Air Force announced today that the search has been called off for a Flying Tiger lines Super Constellation with 107 persons aboard that has been missing in the Pacific for eight days.

Spokesmen said that all military and civilian ships in the area will continue to be on the alert for some sign of the missing plane.

Aboard the plane was Clarence Thompson, Big Spring serviceman.

Argentine Future Rests With Old Soldier, Champion Of Constitutional Government

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Elder Statesman Gen. Pedro Aramburu was reported Saturday night to have urged President Arturo Frondizi to bow to military pressure and resign.

The Argentine News Agency Telpress issued this report after Aramburu canceled a radio-TV address he was to have made to the nation on the political crisis resulting from Peronist election victories last Sunday.

Aramburu, old war horse who toppled Dictator Juan D. Peron in 1955, was summoned from retirement by Frondizi to try to resolve the crisis. He held long meetings with the Army, Navy and Air Force secretaries and, Telpress said, decided Frondizi should resign for "the pacific of the country."

There was no immediate confirmation of the agency report which, if true, could quickly mark the end of Frondizi's regime that began in May 1958.

After canceling his broadcast, Aramburu drove to Frondizi's suburban residence, stayed 45 minutes, then left hurriedly. Shortly afterward, Frondizi left to attend a dinner in his honor by visiting Prince Philip of Britain.

Followers of Peron sat back and watched the crisis unfold. They had brought it on with startling victories in provincial and congressional elections last Sunday.

They had capitalized on the unpopularity of the austerity program Frondizi pushed through Congress to try to rescue Argentina from the economic chaos left by the free-spending dictator.

Frondizi tried to appease the military, which is sworn to bar Peron's return, by voiding Peronist victories in five major provinces. For the moment at least, the Peronists were content with a petition asking a federal court to throw out Frondizi's decrees.

They also may have been sobered by the fact the 24-hour general strike of their unions called Friday was largely ineffective because other big unions refused to go along.

The military was not appeased by Frondizi's post-election action or by his promise to form a new Cabinet half-civilian and half-military. Angered because Frondizi's government permitted the Peronists to resume political activity, some military leaders insist he get out in favor of a military junta.

Military leaders met secretly throughout the day.

During the morning, authoritative sources reported the navy, which is most outspoken in opposition to the president, had given Frondizi until 9 a.m. to resign.

Whatever his own views of Frondizi may be, Aramburu himself is a firm believer in constitutional government. And since he also commands the respect of the military leaders, he appeared an ideal choice to try to find a solution acceptable to all.

The country remained relatively calm, but the people were beginning to feel the pinch of the crisis.

Prices are rising. Some persons were stocking up on groceries, but no food shortages have yet developed.

Employers were wondering how they can meet payroll because banks remained closed for the sixth straight day.

DALLAS (AP) — A prominent Dallas lawyer, John D. McCall, 70, died Friday after a short illness. Services were held Saturday.

He was formerly chairman of Texas and Northern Railway Co., and a trustee of Howard Payne College.

Skip-Row Planting

A good yield of cotton was produced on this land by use of skip row planting. Here two 40-inch rows of cotton were planted and divided by one row. In between six rows of cotton and two rows skipped are four rows of grass to hold down wind erosion. The two in and one out experiment at the Big Spring Station proved that more cotton was produced than on solid rows by nearly two times.

Skip-Row Planting Benefits Explained

The benefits of skip-row planting, in the sandy lands of West Texas to prevent wind erosion, have been shown through experiments performed by conservationists at the Big Spring Experiment Station. Results of one, two, three, and four-row plantings have been reported.

In a recent research and planning conference held at the station, Dr. Earl Burnett explained the research activities in moisture utilization, conservation, wind erosion, and fertilization of soils. A wind-tunnel brought from Manhattan, Kansas, by Dr. W. S. Cepul, national authority on wind erosion, was used on the experiment station farm to show the effect of wind on taking moisture from the soil, and in blowing. The effectiveness of row widths and row spacing of grass and sorghum against wind erosion was also shown.

HIGH WINDS
"An element of climate that seriously affects agriculture of the area is the high wind velocities of late winter and spring," Dr. Burnett said. "The extremely high winds, coupled with sandy soils, results in a wind erosion problem that is without parallel anywhere in the United States. It is imperative that wind erosion research be continued and strengthened in this area.

"The erratic rainfall in this area results in limited supply of water for plant growth. This means," he continued, "that research should be directed toward making use of the available moisture supply. Thus, moisture conservation is one of the more important research activities at the Big Spring Field Station. Studies relating to water use efficiency of cotton in skip-row systems, reduction of evapotranspiration losses, and runoff water management, are examples of moisture conservation research now under way."

Soil conservation men, including farmers, had their attention called to a report from the Experiment Station which was printed in "The Farm Journal." This report showed the effectiveness of skip-row planting in yield-per-acre. The experiment was conducted over a four-year period, using 40-inch rows of cotton, with grasses and sorghums used in the skip-rows between.

Plantings of 40-inch rows solid on unirrigated land produced 278 pounds of cotton per acre; one in and one out, 532 pounds; two in and two out, 474 pounds; two in and one out, 406 pounds, and four in and four out, 416 pounds.

LESS MOISTURE
Dr. James E. Box, superintendent of the station, said that the "two in and one out" planting was done during a year when there was perhaps less moisture than normal, which possibly reduced the yield to 406 pounds per acre.

"The problem of soil fertility on dry cropland is complicated by the erratic distribution of rainfall. Stimulation of growth by fertilizer may utilize moisture too rapidly with a consequent shortage in the later season," Dr. Burnett told his audience. "Research studies to supply plant nutrients as needed, but to avoid reduction of water-use efficiency are being conducted by the Soil and Water Conservation Research Division in the Southern Plains. Continuing research is the key to the solution of the soil and water conservation problems in our nation today. Skip-row planting has proven to be one way to increase production by preventing wind-sapping of moisture from the soil, and by preventing wind erosion."

To Dedicate New Building

AUSTIN. — Faculty, students and ex-students of the University of Texas College of Business Administration and Economics Department will look backward, forward and onward Thursday through Saturday.

The occasion will be dedication of the University's new Business-Economics Building, a $4,109,000 structure that became home for "BBA" and "Eco" groups this spring. Looking backward will be accomplished with the aid of a College of Business Administration history, "Fifty Years of Education for Business at the University of Texas" by Dr. C. Aubrey Smith, accounting professor, and reunions of early graduating classes.

Looking forward, onward and upward will be accomplished through a series of lectures and seminars on trends in business and economics, and education for those fields. Business administration and economics classes will be dismissed Thursday afternoon, and all day Friday, to permit full participation by faculty and students in all dedication activities.

Visitors will begin registering for the three-day program March 29 at 10 a.m. The first event scheduled is a group of five seminars on education for business, from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Women's Second Swim Class To Begin Monday

The second learn-to-swim class for women begins Monday at the YMCA, according to Joe Leach, physical director.

It will be conducted Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week from 2:30 p.m. The course will take six weeks.

The first class to complete the course this year finished Friday. They are ready to begin advanced instruction.

Graduating were Mrs. Nora Smith, Mrs. LaZelle Thomas, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Sonja Casey, Mrs. Betty Smith and Mrs. LaVerne Lusk. They began instruction Feb. 6 and have been swimming three times a week for the past six weeks.

During the course they took up the crawl stroke, correct breathing and the proper kick and arm movements. They wound up the first phase of the Y's progressive swim program by completing a swim across the pool.

"One of the most important things the beginning swimmer must learn is to respect the water, but not to fear it," Leach said. "These women have now learned that and are ready for more detailed instruction."

Leach is the instructor for all adult swim classes at the Y. Advanced swimming will take the swimmers through the four basic swimming strokes — the crawl, back stroke, side stroke and breast stroke. They will also learn to tread water, dive from the side of the pool and surface dive to the bottom of the pool while they are in the water.

The last week of instruction will take up diving from a board.

Emphasis during the advanced course is on proper breathing and leg and arm movements, Leach said.

"Many swimmers already know how to swim, but they do not know how to breathe properly," he pointed out. "The advanced course makes them stronger swimmers." They also learn the frog and scissor kicks for the back stroke and side stroke.

An advanced class begins Tuesday and will continue through May 11. Classes meet each Tuesday and Thursday from 1-2 p.m. It is free to Y members.

With the approach of the swimming season, a tiny tot learn-to-swim class will be conducted beginning April 16. The one-month class will be for boys and girls from 4-5 years of age and will meet each Tuesday and Thursday morning.

"Most of the children are too young yet to really learn to swim, but a few learn to do the crawl stroke well," Leach said. "All learn to stay afloat and paddle a few feet. This could be the difference between drowning and making it to shore should the child accidentally fall into deep water." Children of persons holding an adult or family membership may enter. The children must be of pre-school age.

LOST

By A Christian Writer

Men are lost because they are guilty of sin. "For the wages of sin is death . . ."

(Rom. 6:23). Men are sinners because they have violated God's law. . . . Sin is the transgression of the law." (1 Jno. 3:4).

Immoral men are lost because God's law requires morality. Moral men—good men—are often lost; because God has laws dealing with things other than morals, and they have violated these laws.

The first sin—eating of the forbidden fruit—was not an immoral act. (Gen. 3). One can be a moral man and reject Christ; but this will condemn him (Jno. 12:48). One can be moral and reject baptism; but in so doing he rejects the council of God against himself (Luke 7:30). A good moral man may add certain things to the Word of God, and take certain things away; but this will condemn him. (Rev. 22:18, 19).

The churches of Christ plead with you to obey the Word of God—all of it; and to add nothing to it. This will keep you from immorality, and other sins as well.

American Business Club Firms Up Convention Plans

The American Business Club is firming up plans for the 1962 Regional convention, which will be held here April 5-6-7.

Registration will begin on the evening of April 5 at the Settles Hotel and a social hour will be held for those attending at the Downtowners Club in the Settles starting at 7 p.m.

Friday morning will be devoted to business. Play will get under way in the ABC Golf tournament at the Big Spring Country Club, starting at 1 p.m. Friday.

Trophies will be awarded to the low scorers in the golf meet. Winners will be determined by the Callaway system.

A breakfast party for registrants is scheduled for Friday night at the Big Spring Country Club. Those attending must dress as beatniks or pay a nominal fine. Prizes will be offered for the most appropriately dressed man and woman and to the "most beatnik" couple.

Dinner and dancing will be included on the Friday night program.

The business sessions will be renewed Saturday morning. One of the highlights of the convention will be the awards luncheon, scheduled for noon Saturday at the Settles. Wives will be welcomed at the luncheon. The final business session is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, at which time the election of officers will be held.

The final event on the program will be the banquet and governor's ball, to be held at the Coeden Country Club starting at 7 p.m., Saturday, April 7. All new officers will be installed at that time. An orchestra will be on hand and will provide dancing music until 1 a.m. The Coeden Club will serve breakfast after the dance.

Convention registration will be in charge of Roy Reeder while Walter Stroup is in charge of housing.

The local ABC club will not hold a regular meeting Friday, April 6, due to the fact that the convention schedule is too tight.

In Friday's ABC luncheon held at the Settles, basketball coaches Buddy Travis and Verdell Turner were introduced and Travis, in turn, introduced each of his players.

Travis lauded the Jayhawks for the season they experienced, pointing out that the club fared better than expected. All but four of the players were freshmen.

The 1961-62 Jayhawks wound up winning 29 of 34 starts. Walter Carter drew special mention for having set an all-time individual scoring record with the Hawks.

Travis said local fans could expect an even better record next season, if all things go well.

The HJMC coach lauded the club and its members for going all out to support the college and all athletics within the city.

Second Probation Hearing Scheduled For Matthews

Jim Buck Matthews, Big Spring resident under a five year probation sentence for murder with an automobile, will be brought before Judge Ralph Caton in 118th District Court on March 28. The court will decide if the defendant has violated his probation. The court, if it holds the violation occurred, will order the man to prison to serve the five years.

It will be Matthews' second appearance before the court since he was granted probation on Nov. 27. On the other occasion a few weeks ago, the court did not revoke the probation but warned Matthews that if he was brought before the court again, he would have to go to prison.

The new motion to revoke the sentence said that the former pawnshop operator and T&P employee had been arrested by city police for being intoxicated. The hearing is set for 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The court also will hear a revocaution motion against Henry Torres Lopez, at 9:30 a.m. on the same date. Lopez was granted probation on April 27, 1961. He was placed on three years probation when he pleaded guilty of assault with intent to murder. He was accused of shooting Daniel Cleveland.

Texas Also Has Legend Of Headless Horseman

By ED SYERS

Something - his hobbled horse, a whisper or smell of wind-waked him in dread where he lay black-camped within the scrub that shielded him from the reach of sand-rocky river beach. He rolled silently, leg - spraddled under the cedar. In the same moment he saw it and felt cold on his spine, he slid the Spencer over the little hummock.

Across the point, the big mustang drank, pawing. Gaunt in the thin moon, his rider waited, leaning on his pommel with all the patience of Death. God have mercy! why not? Even the faint light showed just the stump above his shoulders and his sombered head a restless pendulum from his saddle horn.

"El Muerto! The Headless one!" The mustang started toward him.

He squeezed his shot, centered on its chest. The mustang reared, plunging with the ricochet whine. He levered two more, sick with knowing the first could not have missed. El Muerto was gone in the dark at a gallop, his head bouncing against his thigh.

Fumbling his bedroll, clumsy with the saddle cinches, he prayed and cursed in Spanish or English, depending on whether he were vaquero, ranger, trooper or cowpoke. At a dead run, he knew he had left behind his hat and the Colt.

And he knew you couldn't stop El Muerto with a bullet.

BUILDS GUNS

It's really not so long a jump from that man's fear - soaked ride to Al Kennedy, who can build you a gun in Ingram, then outshoot you with it. Al likes lore and knows the story of the Headless Horseman as well as anybody except those who occupy the three widely - separated graves he can take you to.

One is within the old State cemetery in Austin, gray-granite marked and still secluded from the near - passing expressway. Here, Bigfoot Wallace finally rests.

One is the old Knoxville graveyard north of Kerrville, where the sometime Ranger, sometime "outlaw" always dangerous Creed Taylor "died from cigarettes at about 110," according to Al Kennedy. Creed and Bigfoot were friends.

One is the almost time - erased marker on La Trinidad's rancho near Corpus Christi. Here, the Headless Horseman lies. Creed Taylor called him Vidal.

The reason these three distant - separated graves come together in the fact of Texas' headless horseman is a simple thing to Al Kennedy. Vidal had a fancy for other men's stock. He erred in selecting a string of Creed Taylor's horses.

SOME SAY HE STILL RIDES ... a warning to all who rustle cattle

Taylor and a rancher named Flores picked up the trail from the hills, ran onto Bigfoot Wallace near the Nueces. Bigfoot was looking for the outlaw in general and any old excitement in particular. They joined, rode hard into the night and came on the bedded - down outlaw camp.

SURPRISED

Taylor crawled a mile to the caballada and after midnight was back. One guard pacing, three men asleep, the herd quiet. Before daylight, he, Bigfoot, and Flores had belled through the grass so close that the waking men came erect only to die.

One was Vidal, who had terrorized settlers from the border to the hills.

There was a price on Vidal's head, but Bigfoot's grim humor declined it and he could remember old Ichabod Crane and that pumpkin. The three beheaded the outlaw. They selected the strongest, wildest mustang in the herd, roped and saddled him. They lashed the headless man to his mount, bound his hands to the pommel. Carefully, they replaced his hat with leather thongs worked through the chin and jawbones, then tied it all to the saddle horn.

They cut loose the mustang. For five full minutes he fought his rider, but the horseman was up to stay - as the three avengers figured: a warning to rustlers. The mustang broke for the horizon.

"It's a legend from there," says lore - minded Kennedy. "He was 'El Muerto del Rodeo' - the wandering dead you couldn't kill." He hanked everything from Corpus Christi to Eagle Pass. Soldiers from Uvalde's Fort Inge, rangers, vaqueros, even Indians fired, then fled. One cowpoke, riding a lonely late trail, heard company galloping up, waited long enough to see it and kept going to Kansas.

HORSE CAUGHT

"Finally," says Kennedy. "They got the horse at a water hole. Some say a rope, some say with a gun. Vidal's body was pretty near a mummy, and it was a sieve with bullet holes."

That, Al Kennedy took from Creed Taylor's own account, long later recalled. Driving the long rolling brushland, we stopped between Alice and Ben Bolt. It was the remotest service station we could find. We knew - as the old - timers know that "Vidal" was not quite his name; but we let it go with Creed Taylor's recollection. After all, it was the other name that clung to him.

"El Muerto" said Al to the man coming out. "The one with no head."

The dark man filled the tank. "They speak of him. Mostly the old ones." "They say," said Al, "that he still rides at nights." The man counted back the change.

Trustees Get Early Look At Athletic Budget

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District will get an early look at the proposed athletic budget this year.

A special meeting has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to review proposals by Coach Emmett McKenzie. McKenzie will be on hand for the meeting, to be held in the board room of the Administration Building, 100 E. 10th.

McKenzie said he does not expect the proposed budget to vary much from that of last year, when the approved figure was $59,970. This figure was later increased to $62,820.67 by adding the cost of a station wagon for the athletic department in lieu of a car allowance of $240 for the athletic director.

McKenzie said that even though the car may not have resulted in any appreciable savings in total expenses, it has resulted in more efficient travel and convenience. The local underwrite for the budget this year was $32,470, with estimated gate receipts set at $27,500. Receipts so far have surpassed the estimate by $3,716.34, according to Pat Murphy, assistant superintendent - business, and about $300 more is expected to come in this year from volleyball and baseball.

McKenzie said he expects season ticket sales this year to exceed those for 1961 - 62, but that the rest of the gate receipts will depend much on the team's success and the weather.

"We hope to have the budget ready for adoption Wednesday night," Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, said. The meeting was originally set for Tuesday, but was re - scheduled because conflicts would have prevented a quorum.

Tech's Music Camp Scheduled

Major Bid Openings Set

The Big Spring City Commission will open and consider bids on three major projects at its Tuesday night meeting. Projects involved will be construction of a new sewage treatment plant, construction of Beal's Branch trunk sewer line, and for adjustment of utilities on IS 20 for the new route around Big Spring.

In other business the commission will hear and consider the fourth and final reading of an ordinance annexing the area between Birdwell Lane and the Marshall Fields Addition, and between Big Spring Creek and East Twenty-fifth Street, and the third reading of an ordinance amending the zoning ordinance to bring M u r Heights Addition to a 1F-2 residential area; hear a suggested assessment paving program proposed for continuous operation; open and consider bids for grease and oil for the year beginning April 1.

The combined estimated cost of Big Spring's new sewage treatment plant, the trunk sewer construction, and the utility adjustments are set at $1,221,104.35. The first two will be constructed under the Master Plan bond program. The city's share of the utility adjustment will be financed from bonds not used from the issue of 1955 covering the police station, fire stations, city hall, and other projects. Approximately $250,000 from the federal government will be used in the sewer projects.

A breakdown of costs in the new construction shows that the rehabilitation and modernization of the old sewer plant will run to approximately $62,000, new plant $550,000, Beal's Branch trunk sewer, $274,000; downtown relief sewer $33,000; relief sewer line $3,000; sewer line relocation for IS 20, $21,968.45, and water line relocation, and drainage for IS 20, $119,135.90.

The trunk line will be 36 inches in diameter from the plant to Birdwell Lane, and 27-inch, 24-inch, and 21-inch for the remaining distance. The downtown relief line will run from eight-inch to 10 and 12-inch. The Settles relief will be eight-inch.

Other costs include equipment and material $3,000; engineering services (including preliminary reports, design, plans and specifications, residence inspection and supervision), $75,000; legal costs (legal papers, printing, advertising), $3,000; administrative cost $2,000; project contingencies, $75,000. The latter will be cost of easements, landscaping, and unforeseen difficulties.

Seventy-one sets of plans and specifications have been sent to contractors and suppliers on the sewage treatment plant; 25 sets on the Beal's Branch trunk sewer, and 21 sets for the utility adjustment project.

Sales Tax Deduction Is Explained

Forget deadlines, deductions and tax tables—the No. 1 request for information from the Internal Revenue Office here now is: "How much deduction can I take for the state sales tax?"

The IRS has computed a table base on income. In the list that follows, your income is bracketed on the left and the amount of deduction you may claim is on the right. The table is based on four months of 1961 in which the two per cent sales tax was operative in Texas.

Large Number Of Deeds Filed

Deeds recording the sale of property aggregating nearly $500,000 were filed in the office of the Howard County clerk last week.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, clerk, reported that her office bought and attached 471 U.S. documentary revenue stamps to the documents filed.

The law specifies a tax of $1.10 for each $1,000 value of the property listed in the deed. This would indicate that close to half a million dollars worth of property changed hands during the past six days. Some of the deeds which were handled came to the office with the revenue already paid, she explained.

There were 42 warranty deeds alone filed, including 14 Friday. It was one of the biggest weeks the office has ever had in all forms of record filing, Mrs. Petty said.

Limited Nuclear Pacts Are Readied

GENEVA (AP) — Russia and the West were reported Saturday preparing to negotiate several limited accords designed to reduce the risk of nuclear war.

Qualified informants said each side is expected to come up at the 17-nation disarmament talks here next week—possibly Tuesday—with various firm proposals ranging from action to stop the spread of weapons to barring the use of outer space for war purposes.

Agreement on some of these measures—which would not affect basic strategic postures of East or West—could dispel part of the gloom that has been created by big power disagreements on other key issues, including the problems of Berlin and banning nuclear tests.

Progress in these areas in certain circumstances also could brighten prospects of a summit meeting in April or May.

There were firm reports that the Western powers have set out to persuade France to take up her vacant seat at the conference table here. Some Western statesmen were portrayed as hopeful Gaultie soon will change his mind about staying out of the talks, which he considers mistakenly organized.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has arranged tentatively to fly back to Washington Monday or Tuesday and it seemed that only some sudden switch by Premier Khrushchev in the next 48 hours would cause Rusk to change his plans.

Few Western authorities would bet on the chances of any sort of shift in Moscow's tough position but it was noted that Soviet negotiators, when they do give ground, retreat only at the last possible minute.

Rusk may be expected to report to President Kennedy in Washington along these broad lines:

1. He and Britain's Lord Home have repeatedly stressed to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko the resolve of the West to stand fast on their vital rights in Berlin.

2. At the same time they have emphasized to the Russians the readiness of the West to settle the crisis gripping the divided city. Secret talks still are going on, with the Russians giving no sign that they want to break off.

3. The eight middle-road, or uncommitted, nations attending the 11-day-old disarmament conference are showing increasing awareness of the factors which led the United States to slate a series of nuclear tests in the atmosphere next month.

Missile Site Survey Is Completed

LAMESA (SC) — Cong. George Mahon has reported here that surveys to determine possible sites for Minuteman silos in Dawson County have been completed.

Mahon said the program was progressing more slowly than anticipated, but the county area had been determined as a good site. He initially revealed the start of the surveys last September by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

A lack of budgeted funds has caused the project to be inactive this year. There is, however, a request in the next fiscal plan for expansion of the program.

Areas in northern sectors of the United States will at first be considered, Mahon said, since they offer better range flexibility for the missile defense system.

The Air Force has projected an extended program on the Minuteman and plans to construct hundreds of sites in the next few years.

Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock was mentioned last year as the probable headquarters for any missile project in the West Texas area.

School Personnel Workshops Slated

LUBBOCK—Texas Tech's education department will sponsor three education workshops for teachers and school administrative personnel during June.

The first of the three workshops will be the Elementary School Science program June 4-15 in the Tech Union Building. Dr. Milo K. Blecha, science education professor at the University of Arizona, will direct the workshop. Dr. Holmes Webb of the Tech education department will direct the second workshop June 11-29 for junior and senior high school principals. Dr. T. H. Broad, director of curricular services for Oklahoma City Schools, will be a consultant.

The annual workshop for School Business Officials will be conducted June 18-22 by Dr. Berlie Fallon. He is a member of Tech's education faculty and executive secretary of the West Texas School Study Council.

Human Growth Program Set

A series of three classes on growth and body development begins Tuesday at the YMCA.

"Human Growth Series," offered for boys 12-14 years of age and for girls 11-13 years old, will be conducted by Dr. Arch Carson, Dr. Floyd Mayx, Dr. B. Broadrick and Dr. J. M. Woodall.

The purpose of the series is to provide parents and youngsters a common background to discuss problems of growing up, according to Francis Flint, general secretary of the Y. Consequently, a boy must be accompanied by his father and a girl must be accompanied by her mother.

The first session begins at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Dr. Carson will discuss "How Your Body Uses Food."

At the second meeting, April 3, Dr. Broadrick will discuss composition of the body and how it grows.

The final session, April 10, will take up emotional and physical changes which takes place in boys and girls during their growing years. A movie will be shown, after which parents and children may ask questions of the doctor.

Parents should sit with their children during the classes, Flint said. The group will be separated by sex only at the last session. Registration is $1 for persons who are not Y members. There is no charge for members.

Protester Faces Courts-Martial

FT. POLK, La. (AP) — A reserve soldier accused of criticizing a crackdown on protests meetings will be brought before a special courts-martial Monday.

Pfc. Bernis Owen, 23, Searift, Tex., alleged leader of recent protest rallies here by disgruntled reservists, said the rallies were held in the "interest of justice and truth."

Maj. Gen. Harley B. West, commanding officer of Ft. Polk and of the Texas 49th Armored Division in training here, last Monday ordered an end to the protests, which had been held on the post.

Owen allegedly described the crackdown as "a hilarious climax to a chain of injustices."

Maj. James Vance, information officer of the 49th, said Owen was charged with disrespect, conduct bringing discredit to the armed forces and conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline.

He said the charges resulted specifically from Owen's "saying certain words about the commanding general."

Mrs. Holmes, Long-Time Resident, Dies In California

Mrs. Cora Holmes, 90, died Saturday afternoon in San Diego, Calif., where she had been making her home with a son, Brent Melton.

For a half-century Mrs. Holmes had made her home in Big Spring, taking an active role in church and mission affairs.

Arrangements are pending, but her body will be sent here to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home for last rites and burial in the City Cemetery. Surviving are two sons, Brent Melton, San Diego, and Stanley Melton, Austin; one daughter, Mrs. Howard Duff, who resides in Washington state.

With a sternness that covered an equal softness, she sat down in February after her 90th birthday and outlined her obituary. Within a month she had suffered a stroke which was to end in her death Saturday.

Her grandfather, Joe Meeker, led a colony of some 70 souls from southeastern Ohio to the southeast part of Kansas in 1869 when the country was first opened to the public. Cora Meeker was born in Kansas in 1872. Her father was a millman, and when she was six years old, her parents moved back to Ohio. After nine years they went to West Virginia, following the timber and virgin forests.

At the age of 20 she met a young farmer, John Melton, and they were married in 1892. He bought part of a ranch in Borden County, Tex., next to the Tom Good place.

Final figures on the March of Dimes campaign were announced at a roundup dinner Thursday. The total came to $7,916.83, up from the $6,730.33 the previous year. Frosty Robinson and his helpers did a fine job, and this likely made no one happier than Rad Ware, for years a co-chairman but who was sidelined with delicate eye surgery just as the campaign opened.

Another health agency had an important meeting when the county TB Association chapter held a joint meeting with the Permian Basin Medical Association. Dr. James M. Schless, director of state TB hospitals, came here for the meeting. It was revealed that $5,300 toward a $6,000 goal was realized. So far tests have been given to 5,961 school children, and 110 positive reactors (most of whom were cleared by X-ray diagnosis) were pinpointed.

Maj. Curtis L. Utterback is leaving an executive office of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron. He came here in 1960 and has earned many friends and admirers who wish him well on his new assignment to the Dominican Republic.

Our oil patch continued to turn up interesting tests and harvests. Martin County gained a Spraberry producer in the central area. Pico No. 1 E. K. Fisher will be south of Big Spring and a mile north of the Howard - Glasscock pool, and it is projected for 6,500 feet. Pico No. 1 Shive had shows assuring commercial production northeast of Coahoma. Humble No. 3-B Read, after shows in the Tomoya, recovered a substantial (free) in the Fusselman, 2 1/2 miles south of Big Spring and in northwestern Sterling County.

The City of Big Spring completed its new sewer line during the past week, adding 3,000,000 gallons to storage at the filter plant where it is needed not only for reserve but in backwash to keep filters more efficient. The new 1,500,000 elevated storage project is getting going. On Tuesday the city due to open bids on sewer plant enlargement.

An important session is slated for 7:30 p.m. Monday for the formation of a local Council on Alcoholism. Its function is primarily educational, and it is designed to help alcoholics and their families, and to inform the public about the problem. A preliminary session was held last week but the organizational meeting, to which all interested people are invited, is set for Monday evening at Cosden Country Club.

Found Dead In T-P Yards

A man presumed to be John K. Egbert, a transient whose home address is not known, was found dead by railroad employees on Track No. 1 east of the East T&P viaduct about 10 p.m. Saturday.

A card issued by the San Antonio police department gave his birth date as Sept. 19, 1939. No other identification was found on the man, but a small slip of paper indicated he had been to El Paso.

Justice off the Peace Walter Grice, who held an inquest, when called by police, said death was caused by a broken neck by unknown causes, possibly a fall. Time of his death was estimated at around 8:30 p.m.

Big Spring police began checking for relatives and other information late Saturday night.

Reserves Sell Higher Than Champs At Borden Show

BY M. A. WEBB

GAIL — Two 4-H Club girls showed the champion steers in the Borden County Livestock Show here Saturday, that saw reserve champion animals sold at higher prices than the champions. Boys, girls, animals, a n d spectators, were protected from the high winds and blowing dust in a show barn built for the purpose. While the wind was throwing rocks, instead of sand, outside, everything was calm inside.

Six calves were entered in the lightweight class. Winners, in order, were Donna Cox, Terry Cannon, John Whitmire, Larry Don Nunnally, and Don Jackson.

Beauty, Heavy Responsibility Are Hallmarks Of U. S. Capital

By ROBERT W. WHIPKEY

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The sign of spring in West Texas may be dust storms and in other places it might be the crocus or the robin, but in Washington, make no mistake about it, the sign is the influx of tourists.

Already, wherever you look, are groups of high school students, Cub Scout packs and other organized young people. These youngsters soon will be followed by their elders although many of the elders invariably armed with cameras already are here.

We're in a hotel which happens to be close to the White House and this morning we could see a 2-block-long crowd waiting their turn to go through the executive mansion. In another few weeks, the line will be twice as long, as youngsters invade the capitol grounds giving the official guards headaches.

Nevertheless, there is something breathtaking about coming into the heart of the nation and of the world. If your young people haven't seen Washington, they ought to. If you yourself haven't seen it, you ought to. There's talk today it is time to return to unashamed patriotism and to me, when you see the beauty of this capital city, there comes the reminder that this is the finest country in the world. There is no question that the dignity and the grandeur of the government's buildings helps to reassure one that, come what may, here is one of the real beauty spots of the world as well as one of the most important.

Matter of fact, one of the high placed government officials said today: "Some people are buying

Boys Charged With Burglary

Two boys, Randy Moore, 17, and Horace Atkinson Jr., 18, are in the Howard County jail charged with burglary. Both are from Big Spring.

Sheriff Miller Harris said Saturday that both had taken part in a burglary of a farm where they took two guns, a heavy chain hoist, a car motor, and several tools.

Atkinson and a juvenile admitted robbery of the truck stop on IS 20 between Big Spring and Sand Springs. Moore was not in on the station robbery.

Harris said bond had been set at $1,500 each, but that neither boy had made his bond Saturday afternoon.

A Latin-American boy was arrested by Deputy J. B. Hall Friday night just after he and another boy had taken four hubcaps from a car on the Truman Jones Motor Co. lot. Hall said he saw the two boys, with the hubcaps flashing in the light, started to investigate, and the boys ran. He caught the one with the hubcaps.

A man from Colorado City was brought to the Howard County jail on a charge of issuing worthless checks.

Another man was arrested, charged with assault, and placed in jail Friday night. He was charged with beating a woman. The woman was treated at a Big Spring hospital, but was not seriously injured.

property in Washington. I would not want to do this. How are we to know that the Bomb won't erase the whole place within a few years?"

This incites the concern in high places. It is almost unbelievable to witness the responsibility our public officials have to carry on their shoulders. I spent several hours today with Rep. George Mahon. All morning he had attended a most vital committee hearing having to do with appropriations for the Central Intelligence Agency. And this was a Saturday.

Come next week, he will be doing office work at early hours, then attending sessions of Congress, then going to more committee hearings, then coming back to his office to answer mail that pours in from his district. It is one of his concerns that he lacks the time to answer satisfactorily all the letters that come into his office. So many people demand immediate and simple solutions. They are not here. The issues are not defined in black and white. They are in many shades of gray. One wonders after looking through some of the Congressman's correspondence how he ever finds the time or the patience to answer so many letters, some of them meaningless, many of them selfish.

The people of West Texas — even those of a different political hue — ought to be proud that they send a representative here who has the admiration of colleagues of high placed officials and of everyone who does business with him.

Big Springers would be interested to know that another friend — Fred Dean, who as a colonel was commander of Webb AFB eight or nine years ago — is now a two-star general and occupies a very sensitive place in the joint chiefs of staff organization in the Pentagon. And Lt. Col. Carey McCoy, who not long ago was personnel officer at Webb, commands a very special squadron of reservists and all of its members are members of Congress. This goes to show that West Texas can make good right up here among the top politicians.

Explosion Hits McGann Home

The George McGann residence, 413 Edwards, was heavily damaged by fire and an explosion shortly after 2:35 a.m. Saturday. The family was not at home at the time of the fire, and efforts to locate them had not been successful Saturday afternoon.

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said Saturday that the fire apparently burned the attic and roof first and then an explosion occurred which blew out windows and damaged the interior of the home and contents heavily.

Crocker said the cause is not known but that investigation is being made.

Firemen answered a call to 2001 Scurry about 5 p.m. Friday where youngsters set fire to the attic of a vacant house owned by the Chalk Estate. Little damage was reported.

It Took The Roof Off

A fire and explosion left the George McGann home, 413 Edwards, heavily damaged. Firemen were called at 2:30 a.m. Saturday. The McGanns were away from home at the time.

Picture Plus Watermark

A new safety check which has an individual watermark as well as a photograph is being offered to customers of the Security State Bank, as an added precaution against forgeries and other forms of check irregularities. This is a sample check, and the watermark name has been traced so that it would show in the reproduction. Arrangements for the checks—recognized by sheriff's authorities as most helpful in their campaign to stop bogus check cases—can be made at Security State, including photo and design for individual watermark. The processing is done by an Odessa firm.

any other type of individualistic mark. These additional safeguards should be a complete deterrent to forgery attempts on such checks, the processors assert. Larson Lloyd, executive vice president of Security State, said he felt that the additional safeguard is most desirable. The bank will handle the Guardian checks as a customer service.

Checks may be had on order—with delivery in three days—which bear the customer's picture, and also a special private watermark on the safety paper.

Bank customers may go to Security State, where a picture will be made (or the customer may bring a black-and-white snapshot) and also a decision may be made on the private watermarking. This may use the name, a brand, an insignia representing a hobby, or

The checks are the result of a newly-invented watermarking process which is being handled by a West Texas concern, the Guardian Bank Check Corp. of Odessa. Its general manager is G. F. Shampore, who, with Mrs. Shampore, developed the watermark method.

The process, used on safety paper, is a further safeguard for bank checks. The company presented its program to the sheriff's department here, and officials who have been greatly concerned over the mounting wave of forgeries

Wait To Check Injured Plants

Don't be too hasty in removing what appears to be frost damaged growth from ornamental shrubs in your yard!

This is the advice of Herb Helbig, county farm agent, who points out that many residents of this area have had plants injured by the recent extreme cold. The hard freeze hit many shrubs a hard blow, he says, and the natural inclination on the part of owners is to remove the damaged growth as quickly as possible.

"If there is any doubt that the twigs and branches have been killed, it is best to wait a few weeks until the full extent of such damage can be easily seen," Helbig pointed out.

At that time, he said, prune the plant back to the live wood by making a pruning cut several inches below the last sign of dead wood.

To find out how much of a shrub has been killed, use a knife or the thumbnail. Scratch the cambium layer, just beneath the bark, the county agent explained. Discoloration of this layer is a sign that the plant needs cutting back below such damage.

Often, he explained, the damage is to the outside twigs and branch-

Suggs Thinks Railroaders, Truckers Quarrel Too Much

DALLAS (AP)—Tom Suggs is a railroad man who thinks railroaders and truckers, arch rivals for the transportation dollar, quarrel too much.

"For every issue on which we can fight, there probably are 10 on which we should stand shoulder-to-shoulder," he says.

Such counsel of temperance and conciliation would have raised eyebrows in railroading a few years ago—before financially lines started increasingly to turn to lawyers like Suggs to direct their affairs.

It comes naturally to a man who put in five years as a Texas state district judge before forsaking the bench for railroading at age 39. That was in 1944.

In the next 17 years, Suggs climbed to the top. Last month he was installed as chairman of the big and growing Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Since 1959, the studious-looking Texan has served as president of the Texas and Pacific Railway, an important part of the 9,710-mile, nine-state MoPac system.

John Thomas Suggs Jr. doesn't advocate burying the hatchet completely with truckers. The regulated over-the-road haulers and rail lines always will compete for some types of business.

But he favors joining forces to fight illegal, fly-by-night truck operations, haulers whose invasion of regulated carriage is worrying law-abiding transportation men across the country.

One common type of "gray area" trucker hauls livestock or other lawfully exempt agricultural cargo to market and on the return trip covertly and illegally—and at cut rates—hauls general cargo.

Moreover, Suggs believes legit-

mate truckers and rail carriers can profitably combine the flexibility of trucking and the speed and economy of rail haulage with more interchange of traffic.

Unlike some rail executives, Suggs entertains hope for some brightening of the railroad passenger business picture.

"This traffic has been shrinking, but it is still substantial and I do not foresee its demise," he said in an interview.

"I can imagine its experiencing some future growth, principally for trips of overnight length."

Suggs said railroads generally stand to benefit from increasing recognition by the public and in government of the urgency for easing of regulatory handicaps and, in some instances, for major economies possible through railroad mergers.

Rail industry earnings hit a 15-year low in 1961. Earnings totaled $382 million out of revenues of nearly $2.2 billion, and deficits of eastern lines ranged to more than $30 million in the case of the Baltimore & Ohio. One major road, the New Haven, slid into bankruptcy. Suggs said Congress might do well to put all forms of transportation under a single regulatory tent, with equal treatment for each form, somewhat in the style of Canada.

Born in Denison, Tex., a railroad town, Suggs grew up there and graduated from the University of Texas, taking his law degree in 1927. He was appointed a district judge in 1938 after practicing in Dallas and Denison.

Now 57, he enjoys horseback riding, hunting and fishing. He dabbles in amateur archeology and painting. Married, he is the father of two daughters, one of them married, and has two granddaughters.

Bus Driver Acquitted

GREELEY, Colo. (AP)—Duane Harms, 23, driver of a school bus in which 20 children were killed, was acquitted Saturday of involuntary manslaughter by a jury which deliberated all night.

Judge Donald A. Carpenter had ruled that only two verdicts were possible—innocent or guilty of involuntary manslaughter. This is the killing of a person "without intent to do so, in either the commission of an unlawful act or in an unlawful manner."

Earlier in the trial Judge Carpenter ordered that a manslaughter charge against Harms be charged to involuntary manslaughter.

Harms' bus was smashed in two by a Union Pacific passenger train near here on Dec. 14.

Trial Date Due

EDINBURG (AP)—The case of the Rev. John B. Feit, Roman Catholic priest, charged with assault with intent to rape a college coed, will be called for trial setting on or before April 2, Hidalgo Dist. Atty. R. L. Lattimore says.

DEAR ABBY

It's Twice As Difficult

DEAR ABBY: I am 22, have been married twice and am still in love with my first husband. We had two children. He loves us and wants us back. We were divorced over a silly argument. We both got stubborn and, before we realized it, the divorce went through. I married my second husband in a hurry to show my first husband I could still get a man. I am not in love with my second husband. He is younger than I. I guess we were both lonely.

Abby, I would give anything in the world to be back with my first husband, raising our children together. Is there any way out of this mess? SORRY NOW DEAR SORRY: A woman who pulls wedding rings off, and replaces them nonchalantly, doesn't deserve to be rescued from a mess of her own making. Talk it over with your second husband. He is probably also aware that your marriage to him was a hasty mistake, and will agree to free you. Then you may attempt to pick up the pieces of your shattered first marriage.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is in the Army. He will not be home for seven months, but he wants to send me money to go and buy myself a diamond engagement ring. We went looking for rings when he was home so I know his taste. Is this the way to get engaged? Or will people think we are crazy?

SERGEANT'S SWEETHEART DEAR SWEETHEART: If you have shopped for rings together and know what he would buy for you, don't worry about what people will think. Buy the ring.

DEAR ABBY: We are three girls who go together. A certain girl is trying to go with us. She sits at our lunch table and tries to get herself into our conversations. I hope you won't think we are stuck up, but we are afraid if we don't get rid of her she will give us a bad reputation. She has no friends and none of the boys cares for her. We have been told that you are judged by the company you keep. How can we get rid of her without hurting her feelings?

THE THREE MUSKETEERS DEAR THREE: The girl needs a friend. Be nice to her. It will not ruin your reputations — it will enhance them.

DEAR ABBY: How can a girl, who is five feet eleven inches tall, get a date with a man who is at least as tall as she is? All the runts run after me. I have been a skyscraper ever since I was 13, and no one will know how I suffered in high school. I outgrew every boy I ever went with. I am not horsey. I am graceful, have a nice complexion and I don't act loud. I would like to dance with a fellow for a change who comes up higher than my belt buckle. Can you help me? I hear there are actually clubs for tall people.

TOO TALL DEAR TOO TALL: There ARE They can give you the local clubs for tall people. Check with your Chamber of Commerce. They can give you the local contact. But remember, kindness, integrity and goodness don't come by the linear foot.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mighty Bearcats Win Over Buckeyes Again

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mighty Cincinnati, with Paul Hogue playing rings around ailing Jerry Lucas, crushed Ohio State in their long awaited rematch Saturday night, 71-59, and won the national collegiate basketball championship for the second straight year.

Wake Forest won third place, edging UCLA, 82-80, in the opener of the showdown doubleheader before 18,469.

Hogue, a 6-foot-8, 240-pounder, was facing a Lucas considerably under form as a result of the sprained left knee the Buckeye ace suffered in Friday night's semifinals. But it's doubtful that even a 100 per cent Lucas would have made any difference.

The Bearcats of Ed Jucker, who shocked the basketball world by beating Ohio State, 70-65, in overtime in the title game last year at Kansas City, played it almost all the way with their wonderfully cohesive unit of Hogue, Tommy Thacker, Ron Bonham, George Wilson and Tony Yates.

Still it was Hogue who made the difference this time, the first time two schools ever met in successive years for the NCAA championship.

Hogue scored 22 points and did a tremendous job on the boards, both on offense and defense. This, combined with the jump shooting of Thacker and the high pressure defense and ball hawking of the Bearcats, made the outcome never in doubt after a 37-29 halftime lead.

The pressure began to tell on Ohio State as time ticked away. The Bearcats poured it on, leading by as many as 20 points before a late Buckeye rally cut down the final margin.

Making it two championships in two years of coaching for Jucker.

The Bearcats pushed their season record to 29-2 and wound up winning their last 18 games. Ohio State finished 26-2.

Lucas, the three-time All-American, and player of the year the last two seasons, hit only five of 17 shots and scored 11 points. His left knee was heavily bandaged.

All-America Len Chappell did the heavy job again for Wake Forest with 26 points.

Billy Packer and Dave Wiedeman, the Descons' fine backcourt pair, combined for 40 other Wake Forest points — Packer getting 22 and Wiedeman 18. Gary Cunningham and Fred Slaughter each had 17 and Walter Hazzard had 15 for UCLA.

As Goldstein wrapped his arms around Griffith, the dazed Paret continued his slow slump to the floor. He collapsed on the canvas as the announcement of Griffith's victory was made.

A physician rushed into the ring to attend Paret. Then he was carried out of the ring on a stretcher.

Paret, who had taken a severe beating although he had fought Griffith in the sixth round, didn't seem to have any pep at all in the 12th. He was sluggish and moving flatfootedly.

Griffith, eager to make up for his split decision defeat to Paret last Sept. 30, kept Paret against the ropes most of the fight.

Men's Meet Set

A men's invitational bowling tournament will be held at the Bowl-A-Rama in Big Spring, May 12, 13, 19 and 20—the second and third weekends of that month.

Dayton Claims NI Cage Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Dayton ended a long string of frustrations Saturday by winning the National Invitation Basketball Tournament with a powerful 73-67 victory over St. John's of New York.

The exciting final was played before a Madison Square Garden crowd of 16,637 after Loyola of Chicago had beaten Duquesne 93-84 for third place.

Dayton, a five-time runner-up in nine previous NIT's, was led to its first triumph by sophomores Bill Chmielewski and Gordy Hutton. Chmielewski, completely outplaying St. John's vaunted Leroy Ellis, spearheaded the Flyers into control of the game and Hutton applied the clincher in the closing minutes.

Dayton pushed ahead by 11 points midway in the second half but saw the lead dwindle to five with 7:18 to go. Then Hutton, a 6-foot guard, put on his clutch performance with 11 of Dayton's final 13 points. He finished with 18 points.

Chmielewski, a 6-foot-10, 235-pounder, was named the tournament's most valuable player. He scored 24 points for a four-game total of 107.

Ellis scored 22 points for the Redmen, hitting only five of 19 from the floor but clicking on 12 of 13 free throws. Kevin Laughery was high man with 26 points for Tampa, Boston nipped San Francisco 5-4 at Scottsdale, Washington knocked off Milwaukee 7-5 at Pompano Beach and Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 3-1 at Fort Myers.

In the day half of an unusual exhibition doubleheader, Baltimore whipped Detroit 9-6 at Miami.

Houston and the Los Angeles Angels also played a nighter at San Diego.

The Cards pounded the Twins for 13 hits while a quartet—Ray Washburn, Tody McDaniel, Ed Bauta and Johnny Kuck—limited Minnesota to five. The Mets overpowered the A's with a 16-hit offensive. Don Zimmer drove in four runs with two doubles and a single and Frank Thomas slammed a double and two singles, scoring four times.

HC Net Team Tips Phillips

CANYON — The boys' tennis team from HCJC grabbed its first win in three outings Saturday afternoon by taking three of four contests from Frank Phillips of Borger.

The HCJC girls took three wins from West Texas State as Herminda Lopez downed Manta McAninch, 6-0, 6-1; Lucille DeLeon beat Sharon Campbell, 6-3, 6-4; and the HCJC pair teamed up to post 6-2, 6-1 wins over Sharon and Lucille.

The Jayhawks will host Hardin-Simmons April 3 in their next net meet.

Queens Again Win Tourney

ABILENE—The HCJC Jayhawk Queens won first place in the Hardin Simmons Volleyball tournament Saturday afternoon by defeating the host squad in two of three games in the final round, ending their regular season.

The Queens defeated Abilene Christian College, 12-7, 15-1; San Angelo College, 15-4, 15-8; and Hardin Simmons in the championship game, 5-10, 12-5, and 13-5.

Three HCJC girls were named to the all-tournament team. They were Kay Watson, spiker, and Mary Griffin and Betty Ellison, set-ups.

Abilene Christian College was the consolation champion in the 8-team tourney. It defeated Hardin Simmons B team, 10-6, 15-7; and Wayland 15-0, 15-2.

Swatzy also finished second in the discus throw with a toss of 154 feet, 8 inches. Travis Johnson of San Angelo won the event with a 164-foot effort.

Edward Martindale, also of San Angelo, finished second to Schwarzenbach in the shot put.

Eric Nichols, Big Spring, finished fourth in the high hurdles with a 15.8 clocking and was third in the low hurdles, at which time he was clocked in 21 seconds flat. The hurdles were running into a 25-mile-an-hour wind.

In all, Big Spring scored a total of 28 points.

Waddell Blanks Triumphs In Basketball Tourney

Waddell Blanks of Odessa copied championship honors in the E. C. Smith-YMCA Independent Basketball Tournament by defeating the E. C. Smith Construction Company team, 88-80, here Saturday night.

Wayne Evans led his team to victory with a 24-point effort but the game's top point-getter was Delnor Potts of Smith's, who tossed in 29.

Waddell Blanks led only but two points (38-36) at half time but the local quintet was never able to catch up.

Paul Engle had 18 points, Jay Farmer 13 and Lewis Martin 12 for Odessa while Doyle Edminston tallied 16, Larry McElyea 13 and Elvis Spradling ten for Smith's. Dick Ebling of Cortese-Milch was adjudged the best sport of the tournament.

WITH RED-HOT 67

Bill Casper Is Miami Leader

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bill Casper, returning to golf's money competition after a rest, fired the finest round of the $50,000 Doral Country Club Open Saturday and forged to the front at the half-way mark.

A five-under-par 67 lifted Casper into the lead with 137 when the first-day leaders, Bobby Nichols and Jack Nicklaus, faltered.

Nichols soared to a 77 for 146 and Nicklaus fired a 74 for 145. Bob Goalby posted a 69 Saturday to move up to second place with 139.

In a tie for third place at the day's end were Arnold Palmer and Tommy Bolt with 142s. Nicklaus and Red Baxter, the only other players in the big field still standing better than par, were tied for fifth.

Casper, the 16th ranking money winner of the last 18 years, had been off the tour for five weeks, taking it easy at his San Diego home. He posted a two-under-par 70 in the first round despite gusty winds.

Tied for seventh place with par scores of 144 were Paul Bonadona, Jim Ferree, Ted Kroil, Phil Rodgers and Tommy Jacobs.

Unable to better the cutoff point and advance into the third round were Bob Rosburg, the year's fourth highest money winner; Jack Fleck, former U.S. Open champion; Joe Campbell, winner of this year's tournament at Baton Rouge; Stan Leonard, eight-time Canadian PGA champion, and Johnny Pot, the sixth highest money winner of 1961.

Paret Beaten In Title Bout By Griffith

NEW YORK (AP) — Fired-up Emile Griffith of New York stopped champion Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba in the 12th round Saturday night and regained the world welterweight title.

A series of right-hand blows to the head staggered the 25-year-old Paret midway in the 12th and as he started to slump to the floor, Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the fight at 2:09 of the round.

As Goldstein wrapped his arms around Griffith, the dazed Paret continued his slow slump to the floor. He collapsed on the canvas as the announcement of Griffith's victory was made.

A physician rushed into the ring to attend Paret. Then he was carried out of the ring on a stretcher.

Paret, who had taken a severe beating although he had fought Griffith in the sixth round, didn't seem to have any pep at all in the 12th. He was sluggish and moving flatfootedly.

Griffith, eager to make up for his split decision defeat to Paret last Sept. 30, kept Paret against the ropes most of the fight.

Dayton Claims NI Cage Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Dayton ended a long string of frustrations Saturday by winning the National Invitation Basketball Tournament with a powerful 73-67 victory over St. John's of New York.

The exciting final was played before a Madison Square Garden crowd of 16,637 after Loyola of Chicago had beaten Duquesne 93-84 for third place.

Dayton, a five-time runner-up in nine previous NIT's, was led to its first triumph by sophomores Bill Chmielewski and Gordy Hutton. Chmielewski, completely outplaying St. John's vaunted Leroy Ellis, spearheaded the Flyers into control of the game and Hutton applied the clincher in the closing minutes.

Dayton pushed ahead by 11 points midway in the second half but saw the lead dwindle to five with 7:18 to go. Then Hutton, a 6-foot guard, put on his clutch performance with 11 of Dayton's final 13 points. He finished with 18 points.

Chmielewski, a 6-foot-10, 235-pounder, was named the tournament's most valuable player. He scored 24 points for a four-game total of 107.

Ellis scored 22 points for the Redmen, hitting only five of 19 from the floor but clicking on 12 of 13 free throws. Kevin Laughery was high man with 26 points for

Carp Have A Real Liking For Bourbon

By The Associated Press
The next time you're fishing vainly for carp, try dabbling a little bourbon on the hook. Russell Tinsley, outdoor editor for the Austin American, reports an office caller who says bourbon and whole wheat bread are the best carp baits he's ever found. Russell's caller had some other suggestions when the fish won't cooperate—a plastic worm with the scent built in, chicken manure, onions or garlic. The moral here might be: If you can't catch 'em, you can still get even.

The Texas Game and Fish Commission Wildlife Coordinator, A.J. Springs, reported on the first open season on Sandhill Cranes in Texas. The Sandhill Crane season was authorized in West Texas and New Mexico last year to harvest the surplus of the game species. He reported the average weight of cranes killed in Texas was 64 pounds on juveniles, and slightly more than seven pounds on the adults. He estimated about 2,100 hunters went after cranes and got about 1,900.

Roger is A-1 as far as the players and I are concerned," he emphasized. Maris has been feuding with various members of the press and Thursday refused to pose with Rogers Hornsby, Hall of Fame player who now is a coach with the New York Mets of the National League. Maris reportedly refused

Huskers Enter Texas Relays

AUSTIN (AP) — Nebraska, featuring an outstanding shuttle hurdles relay team, has entered the 35th annual Texas Relays scheduled April 6-7. University of Texas officials said Saturday. The Huskers return the same four men who last year clocked 69.7 in the 400-yard special event. They are Ronald Moore, Bill Fasano, Fred Wilke and Leroy Keane. The University of Wichita also entered the relays in the university division and Long Beach State entered the college division. Director Froggy Lavorn announced. Through Friday, a total of 26 athletes from 18 schools had entered the university division. The college division has attracted 143 entries, while more than 600 others have entered the junior college-freshman, high school and unattached divisions. Charles Frazier, former great sprinter at Texas Southern, has entered the special 100-yard dash. He'll be competing against Ralph Alsbaugh, former Texas great, and Darrell Horn of Oregon State, among others. Nebraska's shuttle hurdles team will face the Texas Longhorns' foursome of Ray Cunningham, James Cooper, Bob Sewell, and Ray Poage.

Jackie On Tour Of Khyber Pass

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (U)—Jacqueline Kennedy toured twisting, historic Khyber Pass Saturday and visited a post on the border which has been closed for six months because of feuding between Pakistan and Afghanistan. Battered tribal leaders, in flowing frockers and turbans that had golden fringes around the bottom and plumes of starched feathers, welcomed her with two gift sheep at a traditional ceremony.

The chief made a brief speech of friendship for American aid, and Mrs. Kennedy replied, "You don't have to tell me that."

The wife of the U. S. President also has set a fashion note. She was wearing Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan's Karakul cap, his parting gift when she left Rawalpindi, Pakistan's new capital. She wore it slanted over the left eye.

If the fad catches on it would benefit most of all Afghanistan, with which Pakistan has been feuding. Some of the best Karakul sheep are raised in northern Afghanistan and their wool is the country's best dollar earner.

The hat, called an Astrakhan, is of the overseas cap style made famous by the late Mohammed Ali Jinnah, founder of Pakistan, and is often called a "Jinnah Cap."

She commented admiringly on Ayub's black headpiece just before she left Rawalpindi, and Ayub said, "Why don't you keep it?"

She did and said she was going to try to get one like it for President Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy landed at Peshawar Airport, from which Francis Gary Powers set off in his plane.

Total Building Permits Drop

AUSTIN (U) — Total urban building permits issued in February dropped 19 per cent from January, the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas reported Saturday.

However, the bureau said, last month's level was still 10 per cent above February, 1961, and the total permits for January and February were up 22 per cent from the first two months last year.

Residential permits in February were up 4 per cent from January and topped February, 1961, by 40 per cent.

Nonresidential permits showed a 50 per cent drop in February from the previous month. The total put the February index 18 per cent below the same month last year.

MOSS CREEK LAKE ACTIVITY
Where oil prospects are sought

Oil May Help City Pay Its Expenses

By JOE BEYER
Big Spring may soon receive help with financing their city. Should the Ray Smith No. 1 Barber make a well and prove the theory of the operator, royalty from the well should give the budget an unexpected boost in income.

City property in the Moss Creek area was leased to Ray Smith for oil and gas rights after the city commission authorized the action at a meeting Jan. 9. Big Spring received $10 an acre as a bonus with $1 an acre rental for 333 acres in section 15 and 7.5 acres in section 14, block 31, T&P survey.

Authorization was given on condition that a pooling agreement could be reached with the heirs of the Hutto estate.

The lease calls for drilling to either the Abo Reef or 5,200 feet from the surface, whichever is encountered first. The lease was signed Feb. 1, 1962.

The city is to receive one-eighth of all production from lands submerged when the water level of the lake stands at 2,337 feet, or spillway level.

The project was set for 5,700 feet and is now making hole below 4,800 feet. No tests have been reported to date.

Interest in the project was shown before the well in the Coahoma (Wichita - Albany) field was completed, but undoubtedly the operator is playing the usual southwest - northeast trend of fields in this area.

Pico Drilling Company, operators on the No. 1 Shive well which was taken over by Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Co. when it struck pay, has spotted two more ventures in the same trend area.

The No. 1 Spears, a quarter-mile southwest offset to the discovery well, is now preparing to test a second section of the Pennsylvanian after making tests of the Wichita - Albany and a zone thought to be the Wolfcamp.

Another project west of US 80 south, Pico No. 1 Fisher, is moving in rotary rig to begin the 6,500-foot test.

The trend has been drilled unsuccessfully a number of times in the past, with only one other well completed. That is the one-well Hutto (Wolfcamp) field about 2 1/2 miles northwest of the Ray Smith No. 1 Barber.

A short review of the other projects follows. The numbers are in the order they appear on the map.

1. Bell Petroleum Co. No. 1 Lowe - Read was drilled to 9,035 feet before it was abandoned in December, 1961. Traces of oil were recovered from a lime between 6,420-90 feet, but the Fusselman, between 8,858-943 feet, yielded only 2,190 feet of gas and slightly salty water. The project was abandoned after logs were run.

2. This is a twice - abandoned project, the first time at 9,150 feet, in March, 1955. R. S. Brennan Jr. and F. O. Heffren re-entered the No. 1 Florence Reed after the Texas Pacific No. 1 Shive was completed, but abandoned it at 5,561 feet after testing the lower Permian, between 5,256-58 feet. The zone was washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and 10,000 gallons of regular acid.

3. Southern Mineral and Forest

Oil Man Heads College Panel

DALLAS (AP) - Cloe Thompson, Dallas lawyer and oil operator, was elected president Friday of the Howard Payne College Research and Development Foundation at an organizational meeting.

Both Want A Surprise

That fisherman anxiously waits for a fish in Moss Creek Lake to bite at his bait. On the shore, oilmen are just as anxious for a good report from below. The rig belongs to Ray Smith and the drillsite is No. 1 Barber. An oil strike here could mean a help to the city taxpayer, as the City of Big Spring has an interest in this project.

Oil drilled the No. 1 R. V. Guthrie to 9,378 feet. No other information was available at this time.

4. Stanolind No. 1 S. D. Buchanan is an old hole which was drilled and abandoned in February, 1951. It bottomed at 9,352 feet and topped the Spraberry at 5,110 feet, the Mississippian at 8,815 feet, the Reef at 8,870 feet and the Ellenburger at 9,275 feet.

5. Pico Drilling Co. No. 1 W. M. Spears is preparing to test the Pennsylvanian, between 8,650-716 feet. The Wichita-Albany returned 500 feet of slightly gas-cut mud, not too cheerful a prospect after the No. 1 Shive. Another zone, thought to be the Wolfcamp, between 5,600-700 feet, returned 30 feet of free oil and the Pennsylvanian, between 7,885-8,152 feet, returned 3,785 feet of 43.5 gravity oil in three hours and 15 minutes.

6. Texas Pacific No. 1 Shive is the discovery well of the Coahoma (Wichita - Albany) field and is currently the only producer in the field. It was completed as a lower Leonard discovery for 312 barrels flowing through a 16-64 inch choke from perforations between 5,270-301 feet.

7. Stanolind No. 1-A Barber was plugged and abandoned in February, 1952 at a total depth of 9,660 feet. A section between 6,610-661 feet returned 180 feet of heavily oil and gas - cut mud. No other shows were reported, although three tests were made below 8,600 feet. A section between 6,545-665 feet returned only salt water.

8. U. S. Smelting No. 1 Hutto was drilled to 7,830 feet in 1954 and was deepened to 9,250 feet as a Fusselman test in 1959. The Fusselman and Mississippian were both tested without returning oil. Fusselman perforations were between 9,194-96 feet and the Mississippian was tested between 9,044-56 feet.

9. Pan American No. 1 Hutto is the lone producer in the Hutto (Wolfcamp) field.

10. Stanolind No. 1-D TXL, about four miles southeast of Big Spring, was taken to 10,013 feet before it was declared a failure in April, 1952. Slight shows were

Colorado Gains In Oil Reserves

HOUSTON (AP)—Colorado has regained a position among the nation's top 10 states in crude oil reserves.

A 15 per cent increase in proved reserves in 1961 permitted Colorado to move from eleventh place to ninth while edging past South Dakota and Mississippi.

It is the third time since 1949 for Colorado to regain the big 10. Declines in reserves knocked her out of such a ranking in 1950, 1957, and 1960. Comebacks also were made in 1954 and 1958.

North Dakota's reserves declined the first time since major production was discovered there in 1952. The four per cent slump dropped her from ninth to tenth place.

Mississippi's decline was less than two per cent but it knocked her from 10th to 11th place.

These were the only changes in the rankings of the 23 oil states in the 1961 crude oil reserves report released by the American Petroleum Institute.

Utah and Alaska caused the only major changes in the rankings of the 24 natural gas states. Shoving West Virginia back a notch, Utah used a 33 per cent boost in reserves to take over the No. 10 position. West Virginia dropped to No. 11 despite boosting her reserves 10 per cent.

Alaska's gas production was the lowest among the 24 states but she increased her reserves a whopping 764 per cent to jump from No. 21 to No. 16.

The Alaska jump caused minor downward adjustment in the rankings of Montana, Illinois and Nebraska.

The nation's crude reserves climbed to 31.7 billion barrels. Gas reserves increased to 267.7 trillion cubic feet. Both are all-time highs.

Crude reserves increased four-tenths of one per cent or only 145 million barrels.

Gas reserves were increased

Drilling Hits High For 1962

Permian Basin rotary drilling hit a 1962 high last week, with 249 rigs making hole Friday according to Reed Roller Bit Company's survey.

This tops the 235 counted the previous week and the 245 units active this time last year in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

Lea County, N. M., with 43 rigs in operation, was the most active area in the basin.

The county - by - county survey, with previous figures in parentheses, includes: ANDREWS 10 (10), BORDEN 3 (1), Brewster 1 (0), Chaves 1 (1), Cochran 6 (2), Coke 4 (2), Crane 13 (14), Crockett 7 (8), Culberson 3 (3).

DAWSON 7 (7), Dona Ana 1 (1), Ector 16 (16), Eddy 12 (12), Fisher 3 (2), Gaines 6 (8), GARZA 2 (2), GLASSCOCK 1 (1), Hockley 3 (2), HOWARD 3 (2).

Irion 1 (0), Kent 1 (3), Lea 43 (44), Loving 1 (0), Luna 1 (1), Lynn 1 (0), Lubbock 2 (0), MARTIN 8 (9), Menard 2 (0), Midland 4 (5).

MITCHELL 1 (1), Nolan 5 (4), Pecos 14 (15), Reagan 1 (0), Reeves 4 (1), Roosevelt 8 (7), Rumsley 4 (4), Scurry 4 (3), Schleicher 2 (2).

STERLING 2 (2), Stonewall 3 (4), Terry 1 (4), Terrell 4 (4), Tom Green 1 (1), Upton 7 (6), Val Verde 1 (1), Ward 5 (5), Winkler 8 (8), Yoakum 9 (6), TOTALS 249 (235).

11. Ray Smith No. 1 Barber is currently making hole below 4,800 feet.

12. Ray Smith No. 1 Mary Wade Hayes was drilled to 5,240 feet 1961. No tests were reported on this Wolfcamp explorer, but on-official sources indicate the project went through the edge of a zone which may pay off to the east of this hole. Presumably the No. 1 Barber is now being drilled to check this theory.

13. Pico Drilling Co. has staked the No. 1 Fisher as a 6,500-foot project about one mile north of the Howard - Glasscock field. Rotary rig is now being hauled in.

Imports Blamed For Big Deficit

TULSA (AP)—Oil imports were blamed Saturday for nearly half of this country's $2.5 billion deficit in international trade payments in 1961.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America said oil imports from 1958 to 1960 accounted for more than 26 per cent of the deficit in U.S. trade balances and that the deficit from oil imports for those years totaled more than a billion dollars a year.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MARCH 25, 1962

SHEATHED IN SILK and resplendent in color, Mrs. Ken Perry is attired in a multi-colored, pure silk linen dress. Appropriate for many occasions, the sheath is styled with a geometrical pattern in shades of bone, gray, and turquoise. The color pattern is duplicated in Mrs. Perry's jewelry. In contrast is the black coat of the French poodle, Petite Suzette, owned by Mrs. Jim Zock.

A PARASOL PARLEY while Old Sol beams unsparingly. Mrs. Matthew Smith, seated, wears a lime green primitive muslin dress with matching parasol. The sunback bodice, cut low, is trimly fitted to the fullness of a box-pleated skirt detailed with white stitching. With open yellow pique parasol, Mrs. Thomas A. Nelson prepares to step out into the sun. Her dress is fashioned with bateau neckline, wide self-belt and full, pleated skirt styled with stitched apron panel.

WHITE BECOMES WHITER when worn by a dark-haired beauty. Mrs. Paul Meek wears a belted sheath of white linen. Colors from the espalier in the background are repeated in the skirt detail — yellow and blue flowers with green leaf embroidery. Pearl jewelry and gloves complete the costume.

BELL BOTTOM TROUSERS and a pea jacket—all blue—is a delight to the casual teen-ager. Diana Harris, a junior at Big Spring High School, is particularly delighted with its new tarpoon fabric which requires no ironing and is crease resistant. Miss Harris' playmate is Petite Suzette.

SMART SIMPLICITY is noted in the knit ensemble which is modeled by Mrs. Robert Bales. The linen and cotton sheath has a matching full-length coat. With the ensemble, jewelry of iridescent jet is worn. A versatile costume in bone, the knit fabric is completely washable.

'Pop' Performs

Gilbert Gingold at the keyboard plays a tune, while seated at his right, Pamela, 4, pats her foot in rhythm. Also looking and listening are Lori, 5, and Mrs. Gingold. Newcomers in Big Spring, the Gingolds find that the weather and the climate is something to "write home about."

Pleased With Weather Gingolds Happy Here

An enthusiasm for work and play is apparent in the home of Gilbert D. Gingold and his wife, Ann. Their new residence at 1717 Yale is radiant with the interest and thought indication of the word "home." In a glance it is evident that both the man of the house and his three "girls," Ann and two daughters, Lori and Pamela, have lent their personalities to the sum of the interior.

Gingold, a native of New York, is manager of technical services with Sid Richardson Carbon Company. He received a bachelor's degree at St. Francis College in New York and his master's from the University of Akron in Akron, Ohio. For five years he was in the Sales Division of Sid Richardson at Akron, and it was here he met his wife.

A former basketball player, Gingold played varsity ball in Madison Square Garden and in Boston Gardens. Standing a full six feet and two inches, Gingold is apparently the outdoor man but he is just at home seated before the piano in the parlor. His renditions of some of the popular melodies is most entertaining.

Although his hobby is golf "a man's real hobby is his work," according to the technical manager. His work consists of supervising and managing the laboratory which is the customers service lab and development lab set up for the purpose of improving rubber products.

While telling of himself, Gingold intermittedly boasted of his wife's accomplishments which are many. A graduate of Harcum at Bryn Mawr, she was reared in Akron. She can capably handle a fine show horse and is artistically inclined. She has created numerous pieces of copper enameling including a rooster and hen wall plaque in bronze tone with contrasting brilliant blue and orange shades worked into the feathers. Also she molds and decorates her own rock candy Easter eggs with scenic decor within the shell.

Mrs. Gingold has two hobbies. She is an avid bridge player and is numbered among the duplicate players of the city. She also fancies antiques and has an outstanding collection of cutglass. She especially prizes a pair of white vases which she has been told are of the 17th Century.

The family attends Immaculate Heart of Mary Church. The latest project Mrs. Gingold has undertaken is on the decorations committee for the church's fashion show benefit to be held this week.

Abolish Clothespins And Frozen Ghosts

Wintery days turn the laundry into frozen ghosts on the clothes line. Home service consultants point out that freezing can break fibers in fabrics. This results in less wear. That's one of the reasons clothes last longer when they are dried in a clothes dryer. There is no wear and tear caused by clothes pins, wind and a swaying clothes line. Eventually you'll discover you can reduce the clothing inventory for the family, too.

Gloves For Gardening

If you are tired of picking thorns out of that green thumb, protect it — with a pair of split leather gardening gloves. You can trim, feed and pamper your roses, barberry and firethorn yet keep your nails unbroken and your hands soft and well groomed. Split leather gauntlets tucked into a gardening apron or tool basket will be immediately at hand when needed. The flaring leather gauntlet covers your hands well above the wrist and permits you to work deep in a spiked hedge without fear of injury and infection.

Four times as resistant to penetration as any other glove material, split leather is safest for picking up bits of broken glass. Hoisting and weeding can be blisterless chores, when hands are gloved. Soft and supple, leather gloves allow full freedom of motion for wielding pruning shears, hedge clippers and grass scissors.

MRS. EDWARD GLENN SLATE

Slate-Hammon Rites Performed In Evening

Miss Florence Jean Hammon and Edward Glenn Slate repeated nuptial vows Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the sanctuary of East Fourth Street Baptist Church. The Rev. Billy Rudd, assistant pastor, officiated in the double ring service.

Altar baskets of gladioli, palms and emerald foliage, with candelabra holding lighted tapers, formed the altar background. Mrs. Wanda Watts, organist, played "The Wedding Prayer," "I Love You Truly," and "Because," preceding the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leo Hull of Big Spring, and Lee F. Hammon, Thibodaux, La. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. J. M. Slate and the late Mr. Slate of 1101 Mulberry.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal sheath of white bridal satin fashioned with chapel train. The bodice was detailed with appliqued lace medallions which formed a scolloped neckline. Her fingertip veil, attached to a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. For something old she wore the wedding ring of Mrs. P. A. Christian, her grandmother; for something new, the wedding gown; something borrowed, a veil belonging to Mrs. Hershel Stocks; blue, friendship garter, belonging to the matron of honor.

The wedding bouquet was formed of stephanotis centered with a white orchid and carried on a white Bible.

Mrs. Jimmy Sinclair, matron of honor, was attired in a taupe shirt-waist dress of silk organza over taffeta. Maids of honor, Eva Wallace, of Hamlin, and Linda Paige, wore dresses of identical style in creme cafe shade. Their flowers were semi-cascade bouquets of bronze mums and poms.

Freddie Slate of Lubbock served as best man to his brother. Groomsmen were James Slate, another brother, and Hershel Stocks, Kenneth Harmon, Russ Roberts, Billy Johnson, all of Big Spring, and Buddy Martin of Terrell were ushers.

Tapers were lighted by Jimmie Ruth Stiehl, niece of the bridegroom, and John David Hull, the bride's brother.

town were Mrs. Frank Graff of Marshall; Dick Christian, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hull, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Orbie Sikes of Talpa; Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Byerly, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Byerly, of Coleman; Mr. and Mrs. Boy Byerly of Merkel; Mr. and Mrs. Hammon of Thibodaux.

WEDDING TRIP

The couple left afterward on a wedding trip to El Paso. For travel the bride wore a pastel green sheath of wool, black accessories and the orchid from her bridal flowers.

Returning to Big Spring they will make their home at 206 1/2 East 17th St.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Slate are graduates of Big Spring schools. She was chaplain of the National Honor Society, business manager for the school paper, editor of the shorthand paper and is now employed as secretary with the Howard County Farm Association. A member of the football team, Slate served with the Army after graduation and is now employed by the U. S. Postal Department.

Soft Slippers Are Peaceful

Slippers mean peace. Since time began, the traveler discarded his boots. His slippers were fetched and all was peace, calm, serenity. In many respects, the modern equivalent is the same.

From the city's hot pavements, from a day of driving children to play, camp or shopping, from everything that represents the terrors of civilization, slippers are the symbol of escape. They are the uniform of the castle that is every man's (and woman's) home.

NEW IMAGE, NEW NAME

However, there has been a change, according to the National Shoe Institute. In fact, the change has been so dramatic that the very word "slipper" is a misnomer. Something like an "at-home shoe" would be more appropriate.

Instead of being the shapeless beat-up slipper that men loved or the boudoir scuff of old, the at-home shoe is now pretty, dressy and elegant. In designs for women, slippers are fashioned in the styles of the Orient or with themes in the manner of Roman sandals or with some fluffy, exotic fur or with gold and brilliants. For men, they are of brocade or of the finest grained calfskin, deer or suede or of patent leather that is as dressy as an Edwardian dancing pump.

Muffins Not Cake

True muffins do not resemble cake! They should have an even but coarse texture and an only slightly sweet flavor.

Guests were received afterward in Fellowship Hall. In the receiving line with the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hull and Mr. and Mrs. Lee F. Hammon, Mrs. J. M. Slate, Mrs. Sinclair, Miss Wallace and Miss Paige.

An imported ecru linen cloth covered the bride's table which featured a centerpiece of the attendants' bouquets flanked with silver tapers.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, was embossed with white bells and beige-tinted roses.

Mrs. Freddie J. Graham of Ackery, the bride's sister, was in charge of the register. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Rufus Tuckness, Mrs. E. T. White, Mrs. Dub Kizer, Mrs. Harvey C. Hooser Sr., Mrs. D. W. Rigby, Mrs. Freddie Slate and Miss Linda Moak.

Style Show Set For Friday Night

Mothers of the Eighth Grade Tri-Hi-Y at Rannels Junior High School will be guests for a style show on Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co.

Fifteen girls will model clothes from Swartz' Junior Shop and perform other hostess duties. The show will be given under direction of Mrs. Ira Bigham.

Leaders for the group are Mrs. R. L. Heith and Mrs. John Ritenour.

Popular Slippers

The horizon of the slipper has expanded. It is as much at home outdoors as in. Especially imaginative are the summer designs, conceived in nautical colors for beach or boat wear or planned as a part of a wardrobe to match slacks that might be plumb or olive or any color of the rainbow. Truly there is a slipper or an at-home shoe for every occasion, and for every attire. A slipper wardrobe is the new order of the day.

BEWARE OF USELESS RHEUMATIC CURES

Our ancestors believed that, if they turned their shoes upside down by the bed before retiring it would cure rheumatism.

Of course you know better. But, many useless and potentially harmful remedies and gadgets are still being sold to the thoughtless. Ask our opinion before buying any remedy, particularly those sold by mail or peddlers. We sincerely believe anyone with rheumatic pains should depend on their physician for advice on what to take.

Webb Garden Club Has Landscaping As Project

The women have planted irises and chrysanthemums and have made plans for a rock garden at the entrance of the Officer's Club.

The project was begun in February when rose bushes were planted about the base grounds. Mrs. James Hayes is in charge of the project and announced that the club would be glad to have any excess annuals or perennials local gardeners may like to donate.

The April 2 meeting will be at the pavilion at 9:30 a.m. and members will be shown how to make Easter corsages.

A membership campaign is now in progress for officers wives. Mrs. Hayes may be telephoned at AM 4-7294.

Lace On Tour

Intricate hand-worked laces that adorned men's collars, trimmed their boots, fluttered at their cuffs, and peeked coquettishly from the décolletage necklines of ladies some 400 years ago is now touring the United States.

These are part of the Ikle and Jacoby antique lace collection which is permanently housed in the Gewerbe Museum, St. Gall, Switzerland.

Try Baking These Buttery Cookies

Cooky enthusiasts will appreciate a recipe for Knubbar, a Swedish delicacy. Here's how they're made: Preheat the gas oven to 350 degrees. Cream 1 cup butter or margarine with 1/2 cup sugar until fluffy. Work in 1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds and 2 cups sifted flour. Grease a cookie sheet well and roll out the dough on the greased sheet, cut in 1-inch squares and bake about 6 to 8 minutes in the gas oven. This recipe makes 3 dozen small cookies.

Snug Male Ease

The use of elasticized toelines and a heavy, rubberized fabric goring on the sides or beneath the tongue give the new season's shoes for men a fashion complement. They offer a snug fit and a trim line that complements the narrower trousers.

Modern Woman's Forum Hears Lecture On Art Appreciation

A Fine Arts program was given for members of the Modern Woman's Forum by a guest, Mrs. Richard Patterson, and Mrs. J. S. Sims when the club met in the home of Mrs. R. L. Warren.

Mrs. M. A. Cook and Mrs. V. E. Jones were in charge of the program.

Mrs. Patterson, a local artist and teacher, lectured on "Understanding and Appreciating Art." She pointed out the fact that everything we use is first sketched before it is made. She noted three types of painting: realistic, impressionist, and abstract. She illustrated the talk with color slides of her work and also exhibited some of her paintings.

Mrs. Sims chose to tell of the famous Leonardo de Vinci painting of "The Last Supper." She told the women that the original painting was on a wall of the Santa Maria Monastery in Milan, Italy. Through the years so many artists have attempted to restore the colors it is no longer the work of the originator. However, there are three reproductions in the United States that have kept the likeness of the original for posterity. These are a mosaic of 300,000 pieces at Lake Wales, Fla.; wax figures by the two Catherine Stuberghs of Los Angeles, which were bought by the citizens of Santa Cruz, Calif., for their museum; the stained glass reproduction in the mausoleum at Forest Lawn Cemetery near Los Angeles.

The April 13 meeting will be at Coker's at 3 with Mrs. J. Fred Whitaker as hostess.

Seventeen attended the meeting.

Boys Choose Moccasins

Boys footwear fashions this Easter head toward more "robust" brogues and oxfords just like Dad. And it's a good thing too, considering the activity of the normal schoolboy.

Moccasins, particularly with low riding gusseting are great favorites for school and play. Their medium-weight leather sole and full leather linings give added protection and comfort to a very flexible shoe. Slip-ons with an elastic collar that fits like a glove score high.

When it comes to color, boys are conservatives. Black and dark brown — in that order — are still the color leaders. However, burnished olive in smooth and grained leather dress shoes and desert tan and loden green in brushed leather chukka boots are also favored.

A Pilot's Wife Has Base Tour

Mrs. Glenn Sanford was among the wives of Class 63-E, Webb Air Force Base, participating in a "Red Carpet" tour of the base this week.

The tour is conducted as an indoctrination for wives of each pilot training class. After a luncheon Mrs. Sanford with her husband, 2nd Lt. Sanford, sat in on a briefing for pilots. Mrs. Sanford then was shown a Link Trainer and inspected an aircraft. Afterward she visited the mobile tower to watch her husband's landing and from there was taken to the Academic Building to observe class training.

Wives of student pilots arriving at the base are given the opportunity through the "Red Carpet" tour to visit areas where their husbands are actively engaged in training.

Miss Miller Becomes Bride Of Duane Motley Of Stanton

STANTON — Miss Sandra Mae Miller became the bride of Duane Motley in a double ring ceremony Saturday at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Motley.

The Rev. Ellis Todd, minister of the First Methodist Church, officiated at the rites that were read before the altar centered with a sunburst arrangement of white pompon chrysanthemums. Fern was used as a background for the candelabra on either side of the floral arrangement.

Mrs. Harold Smith of Andrews was the vocalist and sang "Whither Thou Goest" as a pre-nuptial selection, and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction following the services. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Eddie Cook, twin sister of the bridegroom.

Mr. Miller escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage.

The bride wore a waltz length dress fashioned with a bodice of white Chantilly lace with scooped neckline and bracelet sleeves. The full skirt was of white chiffon, held at the waistline by a pleated cummerbund. The veil of illusion fell from a tiarra encrusted with seed pearls. The bride wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of her grandmother.

The bridal bouquet was a white cymbidial orchid surrounded by fringed carnations carried atop a white Bible.

Miss Iva Nell Kilpatrick of Midland was the maid of honor and wore a dress styled identically to that of the bride but in lime shade. She carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with matching satin streamers.

Merle Miller, a brother of the bride, served as best man. Elma Nichols and J. L. Brooks lighted the tapers and ushered.

For a traveling costume the new Mrs. Motley chose a three piece navy and white knit suit. The couple is making a wedding trip to Cloudcroft and other points in New Mexico.

When they return to Stanton to make a home, the bridegroom will continue his work with the Texas Highway Department.

The bride is a graduate of Stanton High School and completed a course in cosmetology in Midland. She is employed by Maxine's Beauty Shop.

The bridegroom also finished high school in Stanton.

Who's Chic With Dowdy Old Shoes?

Look at your shoes. It's a sure bet everyone else does. Their condition is an important factor in the general impression of a person's appearance.

If shoes look unkempt, the efforts spent on a perfectly pressed suit or a freshly laundered blouse are wasted.

Here, from the National Shoe

Institute, are simple hints to insure longer - wearing, better looking shoes.

1. Have your shoes properly fitted.
2. Give new shoes a protective film of polish before you wear them even once.
3. Ask your shoe salesman about the proper method of cleaning each pair of shoes you buy. In general, a paste polish gives a high shine, a lotion a supple softness. Reptiles can be cleaned most effectively with saddle soap. Some fabric and suede shoes can be spot cleaned with art gum erasers.
4. Clean each pair of shoes worn during the day before putting them away at night.
5. Have your shoes repaired when they show the first sign of wear. If your shoes seem to be wearing unevenly or too fast, your walking habits may be at fault.

6. Have special shoe trees for each pair of shoes. They'll last much longer, keep their shape beautifully. Suede and some fabric shoes should be treed and kept in boxes, away from dust and moisture.

'ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

According to those who know, last year when the Rainy Day duplicate bridge series was begun at the Big Spring Country Club the heaviest rain of the season fell. . . . This series is to begin soon and I'm sorry it didn't start Saturday so we could have had a "ruddy" day.

Guests in the home of MRS. THEO ANDREWS this week end are her daughters, MRS. IRENE DANIELS of Pecos, and MRS. J. A. CASEY of El Paso. They have been here since Friday.

PHIL DOZIER and his cousin, DAVID CHAMBERS, both students in the University of Arkansas, were to leave today at noon after spending several days with Phil's mother, Mrs. E. W. Dozier.

MRS. CLYDE ANGEL is going to take a lot of West Texas to South Texas on Monday. She is to be the featured speaker for the Texas program of the Woman's Study Club in Victoria. She plans to fly down Monday for the Tuesday program.

The ODELL WOMACKS visited in Sweetwater Saturday with former residents, MR. and MRS. JAMES UNDERWOOD. Mrs. Underwood joined her husband in Sweetwater last week to make their home. He was transferred by Continental Oil Co.

MRS. HOWARD STEPHENS, one of the hardest workers in the First Methodist Church, the Parent-Teacher Association and the March of Dimes for a number of years has received recognition for her work.

Mrs. Stephens has recently been invited to submit a career sketch to Who's Who of American Women in the category of church women. The former Johnanna Barbee is a native of Big Spring and was graduated from Big Spring High School. She is a charter member of the WSCS which was organized here in 1940 and has held numerous offices in the local society as well as in the district. She has been president of local units of Parent-Teacher Association as well as City Council. She has served as chairman of the March of Dimes and also of the Mother's March for which she received the service award in 1960. She holds life memberships in the P-TA and the WSCS.

MRS. DEANNA MASON and son, JIM, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Martha Johnston, Dallas, have returned from a two-week visit in Washington, D. C. Her husband, SGT. GRADY MASON, is at Andrews AFB and has been under treatment at Walter Reed Hospital following his return from Okinawa. Mrs. Johnston visited with a son stationed in Ft. Belvoir, Va. The Masons other child, Kinda, stayed with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter in Coahoma.

Little Girl's Shoes Are Light And Bright

Light and bright sums up the little girls' shoe story this spring.

The pumps, strap shoes and the oxfords that will bounce along in the Easter parade are made up in new lighter leathers with built-in ruggedness. Smooth, grained, brushed and patent leathers take on new brilliance in a host of sunny colors. Clear pastels, yellow-to-beige neutrals and gold also sparkle on skipping feet.

Together with the renewed popularity of strapped shoes this spring, there is a trend away from extreme narrowness in little girls' styles. However, the slim, slightly tapered silhouette remains popular, even as square, oval and oblique toes appear in more styles. Lightweight supple leathers drape neatly to accentuate the beauty of a young, narrow foot yet bend and stretch easily as a youngster runs, jumps and pirouettes.

The mary jane is a hit this year—after several quiet years. The reason—the many, many new colored patents in girls' footwear this year. More reds, greens, pinks and yellows are available in smooth, lustre and grained leathers, too. Two and three colors and leather textures are worn in low-cut slip-ons.

Foot-flattering strap shoes are seen in every size and shape, as well as in every leather, color and silhouette. Single and double straps are frequently worn with white pearl buttons. Forked and asymmetric straps hold eye appeal without added detailing. The "convertible" is a special favorite with little girls who are intrigued by the fact that they can wear it over the ankle, above the heel or remove it entirely.

Fashion-conscious girls are eager to wear moccasins with kiltie detailing, handsome stitching and bright leathers. This soft leather shoe is lined in leather for extra comfort and set on a slim leather sole for daylong support.

Although many girls still prefer the simple moc slip-on, others go for the moccasin-front tie—particularly ghillie ties. Caramel, gray and turquoise are favorites in smooth or brushed leather. Grained leather is seen in green, orange and yellow.

Hears Of Winning

A long distance call from Los Angeles this weekend proved exciting to Mrs. R. L. (Joy) Collins. In a Studio Girl Cosmetics Co. world-wide sales contest, she was first place winner in a field of 12,000 contestants.

Mrs. Collins Wins First In World-Wide Contest

Excited but not surprised when notified of winning a world-wide contest, Mrs. R. L. Collins exclaimed, "I was determined to win the European trip because all of my life I've wanted to go abroad and knew that the only way I would ever go was to work for it."

Mrs. Collins, mother of two teenagers, is an agent for Studio Girl Cosmetics. She and her family live at 1401 Stadium. It was here she received the long distance call from the Los Angeles office notifying her that she had won the world-wide contest in a field of 12,000 contestants. This entitles her and her husband to the European trip, plus a wardrobe of her own choosing and a round of personal appearances at home and abroad.

The contest was expected to run a little more than one year but Mrs. Collins completed the requirements in six months and 20 days. In this length of time she held 400 beauty clinics, starting the first of September. Averaging about eight or more persons per clinic, she contacted some 3,200 women during this period of time. Clinics were held in Big Spring, Colorado City, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, Coahoma, Ackerly, Knot, Forsan and other communities in the area.

Dennis and Wynelle will stay with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jackson at Vealmoor, while we are gone," Mrs. Collins explained. Her husband, "Skeeter," who has the B and S Auto Sales Co. on Fourth St. will have someone in charge of the business while traveling with his wife. Their trip begins July 18, and they will be gone until August 15.

There are to be parties commencing Monday evening when Mrs. Collins will entertain with a supper for those who opened their homes for beauty clinics, helping her to win. Company officials will arrive just prior to the Collins' departure from Big Spring and will assist her in having a bon voyage party. She, with her husband, will then attend area meetings in Dallas, San Antonio, Phoenix, Ariz., and Los Angeles. From there the Collinses will travel to San Francisco where they will take a jet flight over the North Pole to London, on to Paris, the French Riviera, Italy and other points of interest. Back in Los Angeles Mrs. Collins will be guest of honor at a national meeting of company representatives on Aug. 6.

Returning to Big Spring August 15, there will be a one-week family reunion, after which Mrs. Collins will go to St. Louis, Mo., and from there to Hattenfield, N.J.

Before thinking of the wardrobe which is part of the winnings, Mrs. Collins plans to rest and spend some time with her family. "They have been sadly neglected, but have been encouraged me throughout the contest," she explained smilingly.

Mrs. Helms Is Hostess

Mrs. W. C. Wagy and Mrs. Chester Cluck were guests of the City Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon when the group met in the home of Mrs. Lewis Helms.

Mrs. B. D. Rice gave the devotion from Eph. 4: 1-7.

Twenty-three members answered roll call on how much time they spend thinking of others. Members brought the quarterly reports and listed 32 trees and 55 shrubs planted, 61 garments made and 12 chairs upholstered.

W. D. Berry, head of civil defense, brought the program and told of fall out harm and how people can protect themselves from it. Pamphlets on fall out and what to know and do about nuclear attacks were distributed as well as those pertaining to first aid.

The meeting on April 13 will be held in the home of Mrs. J. W. Elrod.

Members were reminded of the all council exhibit slated for May 23 at the old student union building at H.C.J.C.

Trim Drumsticks With Bacon Strips

To dress up poultry drumsticks, remove the broiler pan and preheat the gas broiler. Wrap chicken legs with a slice of bacon, fastening the end with a small skewer or wooden pick. Broil 6 inches away from a medium gas flame for 20 minutes, then turn the drumsticks and broil 20 to 30 minutes more.

Serve on a bed of parsley with a casserole of Spanish rice and a citrus and avocado salad.

Shoes For Gardening Are Comfortable And Smart

Specially tanned leather gardening shoes are now available for both men and women in a wide variety of styles and colors that look smart and feel fine afoot.

Equally at ease following a lawn mower or relaxing under the backyard willow, gardening shoes come in moccasin and plain toe slip-ons and ties. Their uppers are of ultra-flexible "split leather" that guarantees light, easy walking as the amateur gardener moves from hedge to lawn and from pruning fruit trees to spraying roses. "Split leather" is made when a tough heavy cattlehide is literally split, providing a flesh-side leather which is lighter afoot yet good looking and rugged.

With so many power mowers in use these days, weekend gardeners should take the precaution of buying a pair of the new safety lawn shoes. Equipped with a standard industrial steel toe plate —sewn into the leather where it cannot be seen or felt — the safety toe shoe can withstand crushing weights up to a ton without bruise or laceration to tender toes.

Unlike the industrial safety shoe which is frequently a heavy semi-boot, the steel-toe lawn shoe is lightweight and low-cut. Styled for casual wear in smartly brushed split leather, these shoes are available for both men and women.

In soft flexible chestnut gray and tanned leather, the lawn shoe looks, feels and acts like any other leisure shoe. Its non-skid leather soles prevent backwrenching slips and falls on freshly cropped lawns and protect your feet against sharp rocks and bits of glass. Since leather "breathes" through its natural pores, your leather gardening shoes will stay dry and cool all through the warmest afternoon.

These Envelopes Closed And Almost Never Opened

SAM BLACKBURN
There are nearly 500 heavy manila envelopes in the two file cabinet drawers. Each is carefully sealed with tape.

Printed across the front of each envelope is the warning: "Must not be opened except on orders of the court."

The date on the oldest of these envelopes is April 3, 1933. The latest bears a date only a few days ago.

These are the final and completed records in adoption cases which have been handled in the 118th District Court and which have been granted in the past quarter century.

It is interesting to consider that the individual whose adoption is recorded in that first envelope, dated April 3, 1933, is now a man (or a woman) of near middle age. It is even possible that the person involved does not know that he or she is adopted.

SEALED

The records are carefully kept of these adoption proceedings but, once a case has been closed and the petition granted, the minutes are sealed. Obtaining permission to open one of these envelopes is difficult — almost impossible.

There are no instances in this county where one of the envelopes, once sealed, has ever been opened or so court officials say. Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, said that the sealing of the records is according to the adoption laws of Texas. This particular law was enacted in 1931. Its purpose is to safeguard the child and its adopted parents from annoyance and embarrassment.

Judge Caton said there are possible developments where it may be necessary to order one of the envelopes opened but he said that such a condition must be of great importance for the court to order the records unsealed.

Adoption proceedings in the Howard County court are not uncommon.

Indeed, the residents of this county seem to be unusually eager to provide homes for babies who need foster parents.

Wade Choate, district court clerk, said there were 65 petitions for adoption filed in 1961. Fifty-five of these were approved by the court. There are 21 petitions for adoption now pending. It takes two or three months, as a general rule, for a petition for adoption to make its way through the required routine and reach the judge's hands.

Choate said that he anticipates a record number of adoption cases in 1962.

DISMISSED

There were 10 petitions filed in 1961 which were dismissed. Choate says several reasons enter into these dismissals. In a few, he explained, the petitioners were Air Force personnel who filed the action and then were transferred to some other base before enough time had elapsed for the court to act.

In other cases, the real parents of the child up for adoption changed their minds. (The parents of a child can change their mind and decline to permit the adoption down to the very day the final hearing is held, the clerk pointed out.) In a few cases, the petitioners changed their minds and dropped the proceedings. In general, however, an adoption petition usually moved right on through to the culmination.

Judge Caton says that the pleasantest and most heart-warming enterprise which can take place in the solemn confines of a court room is when one of these adoption cases reached its climax and comes before the judge for his final order.

Such scenes are often enacted in the court here. The foster parents, accompanied by the child in the case, show up — usually well ahead of the time set for the hearing. They are so eager to complete the routine and know that the child they have come to love is finally and legally theirs.

PRIVATE "PUBLIC" RECORDS
Jo Ann Watkins, deputy clerk, and sealed adoption case files.

Their attorney arrives and, at the appointed hour, the judge takes his seat on the bench. The clerk is on hand to record the event. The report of the special investigator the court has named to check into the character, income, health and other factors of the couple wanting the child and their attitude toward the proposed adoption are reviewed.

AFFIRMS REQUEST

And then the court, in a few short words, affirms the request of the foster-parents. The baby, he tells them, is now their child — as legally so as though he had been born to them.

Sometimes foster grandparents are in the court room, too, or personal friends of the new father and mother. Sometimes the rule against photographing court proceedings is broken — when this happens the judge and the other officials, are always looking the other way.

Then the new mother and father, their baby, their friends file out of the court room and into the elevator. All of the pent-up excitement they have been repressing in the court room is released. Everyone talks at once. Everyone looks again at the baby as if it had never been seen before.

Back in the court, the judge scribbles his notes on the action taken in the case, signs his name to the docket sheet and retires to his office. The final records of the case, duly signed and sealed, are neatly folded. They go into the heavy manila envelope and are tightly sealed with tape.

The clerk places the envelope in the file where it joins the 400 or more similar envelopes which have been placed in those files since 1933.

And printed across the holder in black letters:

"Must not be opened without order of the court."

You A Grabber Or A Waiter?

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Do you pass up small pleasures now to enjoy bigger ones later?

The Harvard University Center for Research in Personality is studying this subject—the ability to delay gratification.

Tests with children indicate a majority will grab a bag of candy immediately rather than rely on a promise of double that amount if they wait a week.

Dr. Walter Mischel, who heads the project, says people can train themselves to delay taking something favorable immediately in order to gain something more desirable later on. However, he adds, not every adult gives himself this training.

Do Away With Litter

If every home in your neighborhood had a disposer, 75 per cent of the bulk of trash would be eliminated for city garbage collectors. This new appliance is smokeless and odorless and costs about a nickel a day to operate. It presents a logical answer to the complex problem of garbage removal in suburban communities.

Here's just ONE of 28 REASONS why... YOU SHOULD COOK ON a GOLD STAR GAS RANGE

FLAME-FLAVORED, CLOSED-DOOR BROILING — Expert chefs agree that nothing brings out the juicy goodness of meats like a live flame. And the broiler door stays closed because Gas flames consume smoke! Twenty-seven other features, including automatic rotisserie and roasting controls, are your assurance of the finest range money can buy!

TRY THIS SIMPLE TEST Hold a lighted match an inch or so above the smoke from a cigarette and see how the smoke disappears. This is the principle of smokeless Gas broiling.

And remember FLAME-FAST GAS cooks at least five times cheaper than "real type" cooking

Pioneer Natural Gas Company

Tropic Tempters

Zingy brown sugar patent and Singing Sands calf, above, are combined to be called Blend'or. Very chic, the matching handbag gives that costume look. Below, a marvelous new soft go-with-everything beige called Singing Sands. These, too, have a matching handbag.

Enough Cooking

When you are thickening canned fruit syrup with corn starch for a pudding sauce, stir the mixture constantly over moderate heat until it boils; then, still stirring, boil about two minutes. We recommend this method because corn starch needs thorough cooking; however, it should not be overcooked or it will "break down."

Fund Launched To Repair San Jacinto Shrine

HOUSTON — A statewide movement to establish a fund for repairs to the decaying San Jacinto Monument has been undertaken by a group of Houston residents.

The fund will be known as SALT, the letters standing for Save A Landmark of Texas. Texans are urged to send their contributions to SALT, P. O. Box 2330, Houston.

Texas National Bank, Houston, will collect contributions daily and act as depository for the SALT funds. Fred A. Setser, public relations officer at the bank, is treasurer of the SALT committee.

Jim Heaney, a Houston druggist, chairman of the SALT committee, said "The San Jacinto Monument belongs to all of Texas. In fact, to all of the United States; measured by its results, San Jacinto was one of history's decisive battles. Texas freedom from Mexico led to annexation and to the Mexican War, resulting in the acquisition by the United States of the states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, California, Utah, and parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and Oklahoma, nearly a million square miles of territory, almost one-third of the present area of the American nation."

"It certainly ranks along with the Alamo as one of our state's important tourist attractions."

Diminish Need For Extra Storage Space

Slow drying and variables in washday schedules account for the fact that many families have to keep more clothes and household linens on hand than are actually necessary. Users of automatic clothes dryers find they need fewer of these items and less space for storage, because most of them can be washed, dried and used all on the same day.

Lima Beans Swell

As a general guide, remember that a cup of dried lima beans will yield about 2 1/2 cups beans after soaking and cooking.

Work Is Scheduled For Elevated Tank

Big Spring's new elevated water storage tank, which will hold 1.5 million gallons or 6,251.25 tons of water, and which will set on approximately 330 tons of concrete, will start toward the sky April 9. Weather conditions, of course, could delay it.

The new tank, located north of the IS 20 route which follows North Twelfth Street and northeast of the present North Scurry street tank, will be the first above-ground structure erected under the Master Plan bond issue.

It will be 91 feet and four inches in diameter, hold 35 feet of water and the top will stand 117 feet from the ground. Bottom of the water level will be 73 feet from the ground. There will be nine feet of air space between the water and the top of the tank.

Twelve steel legs, 45 inches in diameter, will support the tank. A dry riser, 10 feet in diameter, will carry water into and out of the tank, and will contain a stairway to the top. A steel door at the bottom will allow workers to climb through the riser to the bottom of the tank. A 36-inch access tube, from the bottom of the water, through the center, will allow men to get on top and then back into the tank to clean or paint the inside when needed.

Weights of the steel tubes or legs, the dry riser, center pier, sway rods, the tank itself, and accessories, are not known. The gross weight is estimated to be in excess of 6,750 tons.

The aluminum-finished tank will have six-foot high black letters on the north sides spelling out "Big Spring Steers."

No means is provided for climbing to the tank from the outside and there will be no balcony around it.

"We are hoping this is one way to prevent the structure from being written on," A. K. Steinheimer, city manager, said. "We appreciate the purpose but the writing is not a pretty sight."

The tank will be a spheroid design, and will be erected by the Chicago Bridge and Iron Co.

The base bid on the tank was $159,475. The bid on the foundation was $24,035 by Boyd McDaniel of Big Spring and Abilene. Total cost of the structure, under both bids, will be $183,510. Plans and specifications, and engineering, were done by Freese, Nichols and Endress, Fort Worth consulting engineers.

There will be no light atop the new tank, Steinheimer said. It is considered outside any landing or glide patterns of aircraft, and a letter from the Civil Aeronautics Board stated no clearance lights were needed.

Colorful Leather Shoes Best Bet For Former Devotees Of Sneakers

For the first time in several years there will be no sneakers in the Easter parade. Teen-agers who have been wearing canvas tennis shoes for all occasions, even the most inappropriate, are on a new kick this year — colorful leather shoes.

The reason teen girls are relegating sneakers to the gym floor and the tennis court from which they came is that the beat and kookie look is giving way on the campus to the demure, feminine air. New developments in leathers such as brilliantly-hued patent leather and new styles like the strapped, sophisticated mary jane pump are responsible for this new teen trend.

In flat or pump, the new patent leather shoe is an eye dazzler. Made by a new process that combines longer life with a brighter sheen, this spring's patent leathers include buttercup yellow, brilliant coral, electric blue and deep green.

Some of the dressier pumps are seen in aniline dyed patent which is finished to preserve the natural markings on the hide and add another, beautiful fashion dimension to a youthful pump. Of course, brilliant black and washable white patent leather shoes will also gleam and shimmer as you walk down the Avenue. Smooth, lightweight leather lining keeps your feet cool, dry and comfortable all day long.

The multi-colored shoe — with two or more colors and leather textures — is another teen favorite. On a low or pancake heel, the smooth or grained leather dress pump sports portholes and an elastic collar. For casual wear, you will find it in brushed or grained leather flats.

Gold dust is spilling all over the campus these days. In smooth and crushed leather pumps, teens wear gold shoes for street and dress occasions. In grained or smooth leather, teen flats go to class, sparkle at extra curricular activities and make a hit at a dance. One of the shoe styles that is so "way out" that it's actually "in," is the gold leather moccasin that is lighting up the floor at high school and college dances.

As a matter of fact, this spring a girl dances in all-leather shoes or she's left in her stockings. Only leather soles are flexible and friction-free enough for twisting. And a super-supple leather upper bends, stretches and twists as a girl goes through her dance floor calisthenics. With leather's "breathing action," her shoes remain dry and comfortable no matter how staccato the dance beat.

Meanwhile, back at the Easter parade, many a girl will be stepping pretty in sophisticated mary janes. In patent, smooth and finely grained leather, the strapped shoe shows up in a multitude of variations — all pretty. In one of the widest choices available in years, there are single and double straps, forked and asymmetrical straps, T-straps and ankle straps.

Bean Cooking

If your dried beans do not cook in the time given in the recipe you are using, don't blame the rule! Dried beans vary according to the growing season, variety, and the climate in which they were grown, and these factors affect their cooking qualities.

Tricks With Butter

Not keen on garlic bread? Then slice a loaf of crusty bread but not all the way through the bottom crust. Press open the slices with your fingers and spread copiously with butter and sprinkle with poppy or celery seeds. Bake in a hot oven for about 15 minutes.

Step With Spring

White ostrich with calf toe and heel, shown above, is styled for spring and summer foot comfort and beauty. A designed detail lends accent to the square toe. Below, elegant styling of spring color and fabric in Le Saber. Of pure India silk, it features multi-colored citrus squares.

Into Its Own

Coming into its own, patent leather is revealed this season in colorful array along with traditional black. Combined with silk shantung, it lends interest to the slippers and matching bag.

In bright orange tone. Always smart and at the same time practical are the bag and shoes in glossy black patent. Across the toe of the shoe is a matte buttoned detail.

A Devotional For Today

I went down to the potter's house, and there he was working at his wheel. (Jeremiah 18:3, RSV.)
PRAYER: O Thou, the potter of human souls, into Thy hands we submit ourselves. Make us vessels of service in Thy kingdom. Fill us with Thy spirit 'til all shall see Christ only and always living in us. In this age of power, we pray Thou wilt raise up a generation which is strong in faith, guided by the Holy Spirit, and conscious that only Thy redeeming power can make us into Thine image. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.
 (From The 'Upper Room')

Carr Has The Capabilities

While it is true that it is easier to know neighbors intimately, there is more than provinciality to recommend Waggoner Carr of Lubbock for attorney general of Texas.
 Waggoner Carr alone of those seeking this high office has a depth of demonstrated ability and experience in state affairs. Not only is he one of three men ever to serve consecutive terms as Speaker of the House, but he served at a period of great legislative stress. Some of the most vital issues of the past decade came up during his tenure—most of them being settled and others, such as a broader and growing tax base, being unmistakably shaped.
 From the days when he served as a county attorney in Lubbock, Waggoner Carr has enjoyed a reputation of coming to grips with a problem without equivocation or delay. When he was speaker of the House, and an ugly charge involving his attention, Carr took immediate and bold action which preserved confidence in the House. This is typical of his sense of responsibility.

 The office of attorney general is more than merely a source of legal opinions on state statutes, although this is an important function which Carr can handle well. The office, in a sense is the DA's office of the State of Texas, and the attorney general can exercise a vigorous influence on law enforcement and can spearhead the never-ending battle against organized crime. The attorney general also has numerous inter-related duties with other state agencies, and a knowledge not only of the mechanics of government but the personalities in government—both products of his rich legislative experience—will be of invaluable service to him, and thus to the people of the state.
 In his first statewide race two years ago, Carr polled 600,000 votes and came near staging a major upset. Had he gained just a little more backing outside of home region of West Texas, he would have made it. We believe he will make it now, that Texas will benefit from it.

Keep The Pressure On

Four more suspensions have been ordered by the Liquor Control Board for taverns on the North Side. This brings to 10 the number of recent suspensions ordered by the LCB. Some of these are in addition to the suspension of the city police department's dance hall permits.
 Most of the causes cited are for permitting soliciting for immoral purposes, etc.
 These suspensions may not clean up a situation, but they will help hold it in check and can help toward cleaning it up. If it takes more suspensions, then we hope they will be forthcoming. If there are other places in other areas that are getting out of line, we hope they will feel the effect of stringent regulation. Law-abiding operators will share that view, too, for the excesses of those few who run their place as though it were a waterfront den will work against all.

Attitude Of The End Run

WASHINGTON—There's a tendency nowadays in governmental circles, particularly among the younger and more impatient liberals, to ignore the Constitution and to find some way of getting around the document. The Senate today is struggling with the question of whether to amend the Constitution or bypass it. One faction seeks by mere passage of a law to abolish the poll tax and other qualifications set up by the states as a basis for eligibility of vote, while another faction feels this should be done only by a constitutional amendment submitted to the states for ratification.
 The Constitution itself, however, is specific on the rights of the states to stipulate their own tests of eligibility for voting, and the change really can be made only by constitutional amendment. In Article I, Section 2, the document says:

twice passed constitutional amendments and submitted them to the states for ratification. Thus the Fifteenth Amendment says:
 "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude."
 Again, the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution, as proclaimed in 1920, reads as follows:
 "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."
 THE SUPREME COURT has had to deal in various cases with many kinds of discrimination by state action and has ruled that the citizen must be given "equal protection of the law" and that his privileges and immunities as a citizen should not be impaired by reason of any discrimination. But the court also has held that a state may specify almost any qualifications for voting, such as education or literacy tests or property taxes, as long as these are equally applied.
 There is, therefore, plenty of law and constitutional authority to get at any real discrimination. The poll tax, it has been contended, is in itself a form of discrimination, but this cannot be persuasively argued because persons irrespective of race or color have paid the poll tax and have been permitted to vote.
 A major issue eventually could arise out of another kind of "discrimination" against the large number of citizens who can read and write and have some sense of responsibility about the use of their tax money. They could find that the balance of power in a senatorial or congressional contest is held by a minority of illiterates who might be reachable through various forms of favor given or promised in order to win their support.

"THE HOUSE OF Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.
 It is interesting to note that, when the Seventeenth Amendment was proclaimed in 1913 to permit direct election of United States senators by the voters instead of by the state legislatures, the same language as in the original Constitution was used to specify that the qualifications of electors (voters) in senatorial elections would have to be the same as those for the "most numerous branch of the state legislature."
 This clearly means that the states today are the final judges of what the qualifications for eligibility to vote shall be, as long as these are uniformly applied.
 THERE IS A CLAUSE in the original Constitution which says that "The times, places, and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives, shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof." The same article gives Congress the power to "make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators." This has never been construed judicially, however, to mean that Congress has any authority over voter qualifications. It concerns solely the time, place and manner—the mechanical process—of conducting elections, such as the setting of the date for national elections or providing that election of members of the House of Representatives shall be by "districts."
 THIS HAS LONG been recognized by Congress itself, which, when desirous of eliminating certain forms of discrimination in the qualifying of voters, has to deal in various cases with many kinds of discrimination by state action and has ruled that the citizen must be given "equal protection of the law" and that his privileges and immunities as a citizen should not be impaired by reason of any discrimination. But the court also has held that a state may specify almost any qualifications for voting, such as education or literacy tests or property taxes, as long as these are equally applied.

Dilly Of A Guard

HEREFORD, England (U) — Parading outside a little whitewashed cottage in the nearby hamlet of Lower Eggleston is "Dilly" — probably the most unusual "house guard" in Britain.
 Dilly, now in her 18th year and blind from birth, is a Khaki Campbell duck.
 For 17 years, she has maintained a guard over the house of her owners, Miss Winifred Evans, a seamstress, and Miss Elizabeth Burnett, a retired school teacher.
 Blindness is no handicap to Dilly. When strangers appear at the cottage gate, she promptly issues a challenge with a series of high-pitched quacks and a violent flapping of wings.
 If the visitor does not halt, she attacks.
 For familiar friends such as the postman, newsboy and milk woman, Dilly's quack is less strident. She recognizes them by their footsteps and voices.
 "There never has been any question of Dilly ending her days in the oven," says Miss Burnett, "she's a perfect guard despite her blindness."

WHAT WE COULDN'T DO WITH HIS MONEY

J. A. Livingston Iffty Flight Line Imperils Budget Surplus

Two months ago, on Jan. 18, President Kennedy sent these brave, hopeful words to Congress:
 "The Federal Government is expected to operate in fiscal 1963 with some surplus. This is the policy which seems appropriate at the present time."
 "To plan a deficit under such circumstances would increase the risk of inflationary pressures, damaging alike to our domestic economy and to our international balance of payments."
 "On the other hand, we are still far short of full-capacity use of plant and manpower. To plan in accord with the 'original flight plan' of a business slowdown would risk off economic recovery and contributing to a premature downturn."
 Since then, the economy has not moved strongly forward. The narrow surplus President Kennedy talked about—a half billion dollars—looks more and more like a deficit.
 True, President Kennedy's economic advisers have not abandoned hope. They projected a total output of goods and services—Gross National Product—of $570 billion for this year, a gain of 9 per cent over 1961's $521 billion. And as Walter W. Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, vividly puts it, January and February have not been in accord with the "original flight plan. The trajectory is low." But he adds carefully, "It's too early to be sure we won't make $570 billion."
 Why? Because at best January and February statistics are iffy. And this year, with a late Easter—April 22 versus April 2 last year—plus streaks of unusually poor weather, the early warning signals of a business slowdown could prove false.
 The Gross National Product in the fourth quarter of 1962 is now estimated at about $550,000,000. To achieve the Heller-Kennedy bogey for the year, a pattern such as this would be required:

and revenues came almost entirely from customs duties.
 In those days, most "government" was state and local. In 1960, for instance, total government outlays in the U. S. were around $200,000,000, of which federal outlays were probably less than $50,000,000.
 This relationship persisted until the Great Depression and the New Deal. In 1929, as an instance, state and local government purchases of goods and services were five times those of the federal government.
 But after Franklin D. Roosevelt took the "general welfare" clause of the Constitution to heart, federal expenditures rose to two-thirds of those of state and local governments. Then, after the war, with the rise in national security outlays, the federal share climbed further.
 By 1950, federal and state and local purchases were even-Steve, and by 1955 federal exceeded state and local 1 1/2 to one.
 Since then, state and local government purchases have expanded more rapidly and now are about 90 per cent of federal purchases (see chart).
 It is possible that the long post-depression rise in federal outlays is coming to a plateau. The same is not indicated for state and local government spending.
GENERAL WELFARE
 A significant change has taken place in the composition of government expenditures. In the early days of the United States, federal outlays were very small.
 A clinic isn't a hospital, but some clinics — Mayo, Cleveland, Leahy, Ford and others—have associated hospitals. And of course, a great many other hospitals have clinics.
 We now have a trend toward more neighborhood clinics, set up so that a group of cooperating physicians can share facilities that they could not afford individually.
 And there's another use of the word in a slightly different form—clinical. In research, many new and valuable ideas originate in laboratories. When there has been sufficient study and testing, the final and necessary step is clinical testing, which means testing the methods or drugs or treatments with patients.
 No, the word clinic isn't a title. I think its indiscriminate use by many small medical offices is wrong.

present century—well-baby clinics, eye clinics, dental clinics, tumor clinics, maternal health clinics, mental hygiene clinics, all contributing vastly to our general health and well-being.

 —MRS. W. R.
 A "birthmark" is a mark of some sort which occurs because of some small quirk of nature, rather than being caused by some accident or injury. It's not a good term, really, because it has nothing to do with the process of being born. Such marks can, and often do, become visible only some time after birth. If your doctor isn't worried, you shouldn't be, either. If it is disfiguring, ask his advice about having a skin specialist decide whether, either sooner or later, the mark should be removed for the sake of appearance.

 Dear Dr. Molner: Is it true that a woman becomes pregnant only at a certain time of the month? Could you explain it, please?—MRS. H.
 Yes, since ovulation—the appearance of an ovum, or egg from the ovaries—occurs only once a month as a rule. This happens in the average 28 day cycle, usually between the 12th to 16th day from the beginning of the last period, but it often varies a day or more beyond that approximate timing. Fertilization of the ovum usually must occur within about 48 hours of the time of ovulation.
 Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.
 Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim You Are Invited To Join

The mail brings a special invitation to join a new organization.
 Offhand, one might say that I am in more organizations than I properly can assimilate. The wallet which weighs me down so that I list to the portside when walking holds not currency of the realm, but membership cards.
THERE ARE certificates showing that I am duly registered in religious, fraternal, service, civic, social, financial, professional and just plain nonsensical sorts of clubs, societies, associations, lodges and what have you. It's not that I do the organizations any good, or vice versa, it's just that you once get in the swing of joining, there's no stopping. A habit you can't kick, as it were.
 So, first reaction to the invitation was to toss it in the wastebasket. But on closer examination, I find myself interested. You may be, too.
YOU CAN, with the proper motives, qualify for a full lifetime membership in something called O.E.P.Q.O. Translated freely, this is "Organization Encouraging People to Quit Organizations."
 I am not able to credit the person responsible for this creation, but he may deserve a medal—or at least a big membership.
 It is plainly specified that there will never be any meetings, there will be no dues, there will be no officers. All correspondence sent to the O.E.P.Q.O. should be addressed in care of the dead letter office. There is a notation that the organization should have been founded in 1776.
THE CARD goes on to say:
 1. The bearer, absolutely and completely, without portfolio, has made proper consideration and is entitled to all rights and privileges as set out in Rules & Regulations of the "Organization Encouraging People To Quit Organizations."

 2. The Lifetime Membership entitles member to one vote in any of the meetings that will not be called.
 3. MEMBERS will never be given any accounting of income or expenditures.
 4. Participants will never get member any personal monetary return from investment.
 The outfit even has a song. I will not repeat this in its entirety, but you get the idea from this stanza:
 The club is not illegitimate;
 It will not affect your taxes;
 But with your lifetime membership,
 You'll be grinding fewer axes.
 Now this appeals to me. And I may break the rule of not joining any more societies, and try to get in this one.
JUST THINK, no phone calls from a chairman's secretary, reminding you for the third time of the meeting; no financial report to dispose of without knowing anything about it; no appointment of special committees to look into plans for the next project. In fact, no project.
 If the O.E.P.Q.O. could catch on—and perhaps President Kennedy could submit a recommendation to Congress on it, as he has on everything else—this country could begin to move a lot freer and cleaner, with much less clutter, and a much happier people. There would, of course, be fewer clubs concerned with helping somebody else, but there might even be another outfit formed called S.S.A.T.U.H. That would be the Society for Stopping All This Unnecessary Help.
 See you at the next meeting.
 —BOB WHIPKEY

Holmes Alexander No Complications: He's Against Ted

WASHINGTON — Gratitude is a rare quality in the news profession, or for that matter in the human race, but gratitude's the feeling I have toward Ted Kennedy for seeking the Massachusetts Senate seat once held by his illustrious brother. My heart overflows because this is one candidacy on the crowded 1962 ballots about which I entertain no doubts or wait-and-see hesitations. Ted Kennedy? I'm against him.
 IT ISN'T that I know him very well, or dislike him in the least, or feel that the Kennedy Clan has done anything very wrong lately. But Ted Kennedy is no kind of a guy for the job he's seeking, and he will create a bad situation in the Senate and the U. S. A. if he makes it.
 What wonderful certitude can be summoned about the Massachusetts Senate race, and what dusty answers are to be had in so many other political arenas.
 In New Hampshire, next door to the Bay State, I have two close friends who down the years have often been right when I was wrong, and have done me more kindnesses than I have the power to repay.
WILLIAM LOEB, sagacious and embattled publisher of the Manchester Union Leader, is supporting Mrs. Dolores Bridges for her late husband's seat, and Mrs. Bridges is not only a charmer but has all the right ideas about foreign and domestic policies. Robert C. Hill, former ambassador to Mexico, is as good a friend as Loeb, as charming and well-informed as Mrs. Bridges, and Hill is also just the kind of Republican who could go from the Senate to the White House and give New Hampshire its first President since Franklin Pierce.
HILL ISN'T a candidate because he's too loyal to Styles Bridges' memory to run against Dolores Bridges, but I'm not yet off the hook. I'm a friend of Perkins Bass, who is running against her.

 If Bass were obliging enough to be a leftist, I could oppose him—without a twinge. But while he's more internationalist than Loeb, Mrs. Bridges, Hill and myself, he is a domestic conservative and the proud holder of the Distinguished Service Award presented to him last December by the irrefragable Americans For Constitutional Action.
NEW HAMPSHIRE leaves the emotions battered and gives ample reason for gratitude to Ted Kennedy who presents an uncomplicated target for opposition. Things aren't much better in the California primary where Joe Shell is the better Republican but Dick Nixon, who defeated John Kennedy in 1960 in California, has claims on being the better G.O.P. candidate.
 Another first class Democrat who will make a high quality Senator has emerged in Congressman Dan Brewster of Maryland. But soul-searching is the order in Texas where Price Daniel, John Connally and General Walker are in the Democratic gubernatorial primary. The same is true in Michigan where support of Republican George Romney for the governorship might make the columnist an accessory to fraudulently creating a counterfeit presidential candidate.
BUT TED KENNEDY — what a welcome offering! Unless you believe in hereditary succession, in beardless inexperience, in opportunism, in imitation and gimmick-guys and brashness, you have to be against Brother Ted — well, don't you?

Marquis Childs Slight Delay Might Avoid Mousetrap

WASHINGTON — While the President's nationwide television address was supposed to have put an end to all differences, the issue of nuclear testing in the atmosphere has arisen again in acute form.
 The chief reason is a dramatic coincidence that the Soviets will almost certainly try to exploit. It happens that in mid-April with the spring rains the heaviest fallout from the Soviet tests of last year will come down in the northern hemisphere. Guarded as are the Public Health Service references to fallout, in what critics have charged is a deliberate effort to play down the hazards, a recent PHS report said the fallout of cancer-producing strontium-90 would be "somewhat higher this spring" than following the series of Soviet-United States tests from 1956 through most of 1958.
THE FEAR IS that if a new American test series coincides with the beginning of this heavy fall of strontium-90 the Soviets will launch a worldwide propaganda effort to put the blame on this country. The subject is so complex and there is so little public knowledge and so much public apprehension that this misrepresentation might succeed.
 Certain of the President's advisers are therefore recommending that he postpone the start of the tests scheduled for the end of April. In his television address the President said that preparations were going forward for a test series to begin about April 30 unless the Soviet Union agreed to a nuclear test ban providing inspection and control by an international agency. Last week the Soviet delegation at Geneva once again denounced inspection and stood on a system of national policing of a ban.
THE ARGUMENT IS OBVIOUS — by waiting at least until early summer the full responsibility will be on the Soviet Union. And it will be a heavy responsibility, since the PHS report shows that beginning in April or May many Americans, and especially children, will be taking in considerably larger amounts of strontium-90 each day.
 The advisers recommending a delay are those who during the long controversy argued that the President could afford to wait in the hope that an opening for a test-ban treaty would be found before the nuclear arms race went into another seesaw. The President's atomic and military advisers were overwhelmingly in favor of starting new tests at the earliest opportunity. Some of the most influential men in uniform, say we could be mouse-trapped. They now see the threat of the mouse trap in the turn that the Geneva conference has taken. The Soviets reversing their earlier tough stand have agreed to discuss a nuclear test-ban treaty.

ONE CONSEQUENCE is an undercurrent of talk about the British being ready "to sell us out again." This is an ironic repetition of the history of the nuclear test-ban talks that began in late 1958. Twice, in the view of both American and British negotiators, a treaty with reasonable inspection safeguards was in sight. Opposition from Washington by hard-line opponents, much of it on Capitol Hill, closed this door on both occasions.
 There is no reason to believe the President has changed his view of the need for tests unless the Soviets quickly agree to an inspected test ban that could win the approval of the Senate in a treaty. In lengthy discussions with the British the date of May 1 has been set for the start of the tests to be held on Christmas Island with its extensive British installations. The current belief is that this date will be adhered to.
THOSE ARGUING for no change — they represent a view somewhere between the military and the go-slow advocates — say that for the strontium-90 coming down for two or three weeks in April there will be time to make the world understand that this is of Soviet origin. While the President has said that the new American tests will be as clean and as limited as possible within the frame of military necessity they will add to the cumulative deposit of fallout and so will the later series which the Soviets have said they inevitably must conduct. That is the record to be written in the bones of human beings now living and in the genes of those still to be born.

SHS Twirp Week Scheduled In April

SANDS—We completed the series of movies last Wednesday with "From Here to Eternity." In my opinion, it was one of the best we have had this year. The movies have been well attended by the student body.

The student council met again Monday. It was decided to have Twirp Week April 16-21. We will have Dress-Up Day April 19. The day we get out for the Easter holidays.

Sands girls' volleyball team won their third conference game with Water Valley Tuesday night by one point. Our record is now 2-1. The "B" team lost theirs. The girls went to Garden City Friday night for another game. However, one of the starting set-ups, Zaida Bodine, was out because of the mumps. Hurry up and get well, Zaida, so we will have you for the volleyball tournament.

We are having a district intramural volleyball tourney during the noon hour now. Anyone can participate. They are divided into six teams, with teachers as coaches. They are Mr. Jones, Mr. Fierce, Mr. Watson, Mr. Maxwell, and Mr. Youngblood. Mr. Youngblood's team won over Mr. Maxwell's team Thursday.

The FHA girls and their sponsor, Mrs. Jack Esler, attended area meeting at Midland Saturday. About twenty girls went.

The teachers have been giving their nine-weeks tests this week. My congratulations go to the people with an average high enough to be exempt from the tests.

'King Of Kings' To Open In Big Spring Thursday

Nicholas Ray is a robust, silver-haired giant of a man with large expressive hands and the slow, deliberate speech of a seven-day-a-week thinker.

"I've made some films I'm proud of, some I'd rather have done under different circumstances, and some outright mistakes I hope I've learned from," Ray says. "But I am emphatic about my newest, 'King of Kings.' This is the most important project I have ever undertaken. I can only hope that it is as great a film as people say it is."

WHY THIS?

Many critics who have expressed admiration for such films as "Rebel Without a Cause" have already wondered at his desire to undertake such a vast and epochal subject as Samuel Bronston's production of the life of Christ.

"King of Kings" opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

"While our film, as written by Philip Yordan, has many scenes involving multitudes and the violence of the times, it is essentially a very personal story—the story of Jesus during His mission on earth," Ray declares. "I have been very excited about making this picture since my first talks with Mr. Bronston last year. First, I believe that, for millions of people the world over, Jesus is far greater than any hero they have ever seen depicted on the screen. And we were constantly aware of the challenge we faced of making

PORTRAYING MARY AND JESUS
Siobhan McKenna and Jeffrey Hunter

the events of His life universally believable, so that regardless of the degree of the individual's faith, he will be convinced, re-convinced or reassured that Jesus did live and that His life had great meaning to all of us today. Second, I have always been concerned with youth and their struggle for belief and understanding. And I will be personally satisfied if our film can establish the fact that the story of Jesus and the men and women who were first attracted by His teachings is essentially a story about, and for, young people."

Members of the Big Spring High School band are selling tickets to the opening night of "King of Kings," proceeds of which will be added to the fund to send the band to the World's Fair in Seattle. Those wishing to order by phone may call Walter Stroup, president of the Band Boosters Club, at AM 4-6126.

Ray, who was born in Galesville, Wisconsin, has been tackling challenges of this sort since his boyhood. At the age of 15, he had determined that he would be either a theatre director or a symphony conductor. While still a high school student, he had already written a radio series which helped him to win a scholarship. Later, he was selected by Frank Lloyd Wright as one of 35 students to study architecture, music, sculpture, philosophy and the theatre under Wright's supervision at Taliesin.

"Our group lived together, studied together and exchanged ideas on every conceivable subject, with emphasis on architecture," Ray recalls. "I came to believe that architecture is the most universal art, which can be applied to the structure of drama, to music or even to a way of life."

Jeffrey Hunter in "The True Story of Jesse James."

"At the time, although Jeffrey was not playing the principal male role," Ray recalls, "I found myself subconsciously wanting to spend more time with his performances. I noticed then a quality of genuine gentleness in his conduct with people that I remembered when we first began discussing the role of Jesus in this film. In Jeffrey, it is an honest warmth, tempered by humility and self-restraint, and it comes across on the screen. So do his exceptional eyes. He is superb as Christ."

HOME IN ROME

Since spending most of the past year in Europe Ray has decided to make his permanent home in Rome. Mrs. Ray, former ballerina of the Ballet Russe, taught 16-year-old Bridget Bazlen the Salome dance for "King of Kings."

Perhaps one of Ray's biggest thrills in making "King of Kings" was to discover, after he had already begun filming the scenes, that one of the principal authorities on the customs and laws of early Judea documents the conditions and setting of the trial of Jesus exactly as Ray, for dramatic reasons, had decided to stage it.

"It would be impossible to hope that with a film of this importance we can be in 100 per cent agreement with every one of the millions of people whose lives have been profoundly influenced by Christ," Ray observes. "But in each scene we were concerned primarily with capturing the spiritual meaning of the events of His life and relating them to today. That, I believe, is our greatest purpose in telling the story of Jesus—making His existence a living reality for the people of the modern world."

After this stimulating training, Ray moved to New York, where he worked with stock companies, first as a stage manager, then as an actor, and later, as a director. He was a member of the Federal Theater group which staged the "Living Newspaper." In 1936, he acted in "The Young Go First," the first play directed by Elia Kazan. Ray then became writer, director and producer of "Back Where I Come From" for CBS.

Ray's career was advanced by another friend, John Houseman, who had left his Broadway enterprises to become head of the OWI overseas radio service. For two years, Ray directed the OWI "Americana" series of broadcast. Later he made his motion picture debut as Kazan's first assistant on "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn." He returned to his association with Houseman, with whom he directed the Broadway musical, "Lute Song." The following year, he directed "Beggars' Holiday." He was also responsible for the TV enactment of "Sorry, Wrong Number."

WON PRAISE

Ray's early films, usually associated with sociological and psychological problems, won him the praise of film critics and a special reputation in Europe and South America, where audiences have a preference for "realistic" dramas.

His first major international box-office triumph was "Rebel Without a Cause," which launched James Dean. He also directed

'Judas' Actor Studied His Role Deeply

Rip Torn, who portrays the character of Judas in Samuel Bronston's "King of Kings," is what is commonly known in Hollywood as a "New York actor," although he hails from Tyler, Texas.

Torn appears in the controversial role as a result of a meeting three years earlier with Director Nicholas Ray, who saw him in a TV show and invited him to discuss doing a film together at a future date.

"When we first began casting," Ray says, "I immediately thought of Rip for the role of Judas. Knowing his discipline as an actor, I believed that he would give an original and unforgettable performance. He certainly has done so, beyond even my original expectations."

BONED UP

Torn's preparations for the role of Judas were exhaustive. Before arriving in Spain to begin his first scenes in the film, which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is releasing, he read most of the classic ecclesiastical and literary studies of the betrayer of Jesus. He consulted a number of prominent psychologists and analysts, including the famous student of Freud, Dr. Theodor Reik, to learn the possible psychological foundations of Judas' betrayal of Christ.

"In my own mind, I was already convinced that Judas would not have committed this great sin for a mere 30 pieces of silver," Torn says. "Certainly, the man must have had much more profound and complex reasons—political, psychological or moral—for handing Jesus over to the Romans."

UT GRADUATE

Rip has been interested in drama since he graduated from the University of Texas. Following several terms of graduate work, he made an unsuccessful attempt to become a film actor in Hollywood. His dramatic ambitions were interrupted by two years of duty as Lt. Torn in the U.S. Army.

Dislikes His Own Product

DUXBURY, Mass. (AP) — Eighty-six-year-old H. E. Merry isn't fond of chickens or eggs, but they're providing a pretty good living for him in his retirement.

When Merry retired from the meat business 10 years ago, he began raising Rhode Island Red chickens and selling "extra large eggs." He says seven of every dozen are double-yoked. He has peddled as many as 215 dozen in a week.

Even so, Merry says, "I dislike both eggs and chickens."
