Happy Meeting

Capt. Ralph L. Brooks, who flies the right wing position on the Thunderbird team, kisses his mother upon landing about 11:30 a.m. today at Webb AFB. They had not seen each other in about a year. The Air Force Thunderbirds were to perform at the base this afternoon. At right is Mrs. Joe Blam, the captain's mother-in-law. Capt. Brooks is a graduate of the Big Spring High School and he married a local girl.

Vendors' Day Visitors

Two visitors pick up information materials at the Vendors' Day program this morning at Webb AFB. From left are A. J. Stasler, Saunders Company, Big Spring, and J. R. Moore, Superlite, Odessa. More than 70 persons attended the Vendors' Day portion of the Webb AFB open house program.

West Texas Tycoon Faces Conspiracy Charge

PECOS (AP)—Federal authorities jailed Billie Sol Estes, a grain storage and fertilizer tycoon, and three other West Texans on conspiracy charges Thursday night. They accused the quartet of conspiring to transport fraudulent chattel mortgages.

Estes, 37, remained in custody here as his lawyer arranged to post his $500,000 bond, set half an hour after his arrest.

The other men, arrested simultaneously in Amarillo and Lubbock, were held in lieu of $250,000 bond each.

They are Harold E. Orr, president of Superior Manufacturing Co. in Amarillo, and Ruel W. Alexander, secretary of the firm, seized at Amarillo, and Coleman D. McSpadden, a director of the company, arrested at Lubbock.

STARTED YOUNG

Estes, black-haired and ruddy-faced, has said he became a multi-millionaire by investing money he received for a ewe lamb, a Christmas gift while he was 13. Some place the value of his holdings at $100 million to $150 million.

U.S. marshals and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation made the arrests shortly after Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ordered a state probe of Estes' affairs. Wilson sent three assistants to check his business records. He said they will try to determine whether any violation of Texas' securities laws has occurred.

Wilson said he also wanted to "find out just what all of these loan companies are doing in this thing." He referred to a Dallas conference held the past three days by representatives of 10 national and local lending companies.

Thunderbirds Arrive For Show Today

The U. S. Air Force official aerial demonstration team, the Thunderbirds, arrived in Big Spring about 11:30 a.m. today for the show they were to stage here this afternoon.

It took the six pilots just under an hour and a half to make the trip from Nellis AFB, Nev., to Big Spring. They flew from warm, clear weather into an unexpected low ceiling and about 45 degree weather.

The six men made several sweeps over the base, after coming in on instruments, to check the area before landing.

Mrs. George Brooks, El Paso, mother of Capt. Ralph L. Brooks, a former Big Springer, was on hand to meet her son when the team arrived.

Another former Big Springer, Capt. Robert G. Moore, was with the group. He earned his wings and commission at Webb AFB and now flies the No. 2 solo position. Capt. Brooks, a graduate of Big Spring High School and married to a Big Spring girl, flies the right wing position of the diamond formation.

Others of the flying team are Col. John F. Groom, commander, Maj. Ralph D. "Hoot" Gibson, Capt. William J. Hosmer, Capt. Gerald D. Larson, Capt. Robert G. Bell and Capt. Ronald H. Everett.

The C-130 transport carrying some 23 support airmen and equipment was to arrive about noon.

At noon the weather was good and the show was to go on as scheduled, although local flyer participation in the show remained in doubt. The Thunderbirds have two shows, one for weather where the ceiling is below 2,500 feet and another with higher maneuvers.

Performances by the two soloists of the Thunderbird team were scheduled. This is the second time for the two men to perform.

The show was set for 3 p.m., with an open house at Webb AFB from 1 p.m. and continuing through the Thunderbird performance. The first class of the undergraduate training program graduates tonight.

Most ground appearances for the men, previously scheduled were canceled because they arrived 24 hours later than planned.

New President Installed Under Argentine Military

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine (AP)—Jose Maria Guido formally assumed the office of president today under the watchful eye and guiding hand of Argentina's military leaders—and amid a few shouts of "Viva Frondizi."

The oath-taking ceremony was the second for the former Senate president.

The military chiefs were not happy that he took the oath before the Supreme Court Thursday without informing them. For a time it appeared some officers might not recognize the military's own first choice for a constitutional successor to Arturo Frondizi, deposed Thursday.

The second ceremony was decided upon after Guido was reported to have agreed to a set of military demands including outlawing of Peronists, Communists and Castroites and placing all Argentina under federal control.

The president's office already was being used by the military to issue its communiques when Guido, starting solemnly through his hornrimmed glasses, went through the six-minute ceremony.

Shouts for Frondizi were heard from a few persons present at the ceremony in the pink-walled palace.

The act of succession was first signed, with all ministers of Frondizi's last government also affixing their signatures. The military members of the Cabinet were the last to sign.

The act declared that, in view of the facts known by the public which have produced the vacancy of executive power, Guido had assumed the office.

The military signers were Gen. Raul Poggi of the army, who masterminded the bloodless coup which ended Frondizi's stormy rule; Brig. Cayo Antonio Alsina of the air force and Rear Adm. Augustin Penas of the navy.

For hours there was uncertainty and the prospect of a new crisis over whether Guido actually would become chief executive of this nervous nation, ridden by political and economic crisis, even though

Jack Paar Bows Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar has abdicated the "Tonight" show—a nocturnal television kingdom over which he reigned for almost five years.

Paar bowed out Thursday night as master of ceremonies of the National Broadcasting Co. late night show in a 90-minute appearance that brought tears to his eyes three times.

The comedian, 43, left the show with words of praise from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, luminaries of the entertainment world and a studio engineer.

Paar said he was leaving the show because the pressure of putting together the one hour and 45-minute program nightly was wearing him down.

He is scheduled to appear in a weekly, one-hour, early evening series on the same network starting in the fall.

The final show, almost like a capsule of all his shows over the years, contained ample doses of humor, and an attack on two newspaper columnists and a national magazine.

UNDER NEW CONCEPT

Webb Sets Graduation

The 3560th Pilot Training Wing at Webb AFB graduates its first student pilot class tonight under the new undergraduate pilot training concept inaugurated last March at seven Air Training Command bases. Class 62-F, originally composed of 43 students, has 17 graduates who will receive wings at graduation exercises this evening at the base academic building.

The other 26 students in the class were reassigned to Randolph AFB last September to become the first Air Force student pilots to take T-38 Talon basic flight training. They also graduate today.

FLIGHT LINE

In the first three weeks students were exposed to the flight line and had an introduction to the synthetic trainers. In the fourth week the students began formal flying training and also received their first flight in a T-37. This was the beginning of what would end some 130 hours and 11 academic courses later.

The academic courses in primary training consisted of survival, aural and visual code, navigation, flight planning, weather and applied aerodynamics. Along with academics there were courses in officer training. Two of these were communicative skills and leadership responsibilities.

In the 30th week the class went from primary training to basic flight training. Aviation physiology was reviewed and students had their second "flight" in the altitude chamber, this one to 45,000 feet. Other courses were given in T-33 aircraft engineering, flight planning, flight operations, advance or celestial navigation and weapons orientation. On the military side courses in career development and marksmanship training were given. Students had to qualify with the .38 caliber pistol.

NEW METHOD

Since March 13, 1961, the day Class 62-F began UPT, the students have had preflight training, primary flight training and basic flight training.

Formerly, students were required to spend three weeks at Lackland AFB for preflight training and were required to attend one of the primary flying schools. Under the undergraduate pilot training program of 55 weeks, Class 62-F and others that followed have three weeks of pre-

PHYSICAL TRAINING

Throughout the training program, physical education was stressed. Each student had three hours of physical training a week and had to complete the standard physical fitness test.

Total T-33 time was 130 hours while 132 hours were acquired in the T-37 for a flying total of 262 hours in jets. Total time devoted to academics was 430 hours with 329 of these hours spent in the military or officer training phase of the program.

Former Priest Denies Claim Of Abduction

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A defrocked priest agreed in court Thursday to pay for support of three daughters, disputed paternity of the fourth and denied his wife's charge that their marriage was ended by his abduction by the Roman Catholic Church.

Ex-Priest Walter Ryan, 56, offered $100 a month. Judge Joseph Karesh called that "very fair and reasonable."

Ryan's blonde wife, Alice, 41, said through her lawyer it was "not acceptable."

Ryan, who left his New York home and his family in 1955, testified his only income is $201.57 monthly pension as a disabled Army chaplain.

The slight, solemn faced ex-chaplain testified he had paid his wife $10,677 for child support but cut off payments in March last year after learning of the birth of the fourth daughter and failing to reach a monetary settlement.

The youngest daughter is five, Ryan asserted he hadn't been home for seven years.

Mrs. Ryan filed suit for $2.3 million March 5 against the Roman Catholic Church, saying it had abducted her husband in April 1955 and kept him hidden away in monasteries except for a 12 hour visit in 1956. This suit led to locating Ryan in San Francisco.

Both the church and Ryan denied her abduction charge. Ryan testified he left home by mutual agreement with his wife and had not been in a monastery, nor home, since then.

At the time of their marriage by a Baptist minister in Elkton, Md., in November 1950, Ryan was an assistant pastor of Glen Cove Parish in New York.

Segregated Schools To Lose U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration said today that starting in September 1963, it will cut off from segregated schools the special federal aid given schools serving children who live on federal property.

Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff announced the decision to a House subcommittee which is studying the progress of integration since 1954. He had been asked by the subcommittee for a ruling as to whether it was legal to grant federal funds to segregated schools.

The programs affected by the decision are those making grants for school construction and operating costs to districts that include large numbers of children who live on federal property.

Ribicoff said his department has determined there are about 200 federal installations now served by school districts that segregate their public elementary and secondary schools. He could not tell the committee in which states the installations were or how many children were affected.

Ribicoff said he was announcing the ruling today but that there would be no attempt to implement it before the school year beginning in September of 1963.

Before then, he said, he hopes the districts involved will take constructive action and that Congress will take legislative action to carry out the ruling.

Reds Under Surveillance

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army kept the Soviet military mission in Frankfurt under tight surveillance today.

The Army announced Thursday that personnel of the Soviet liaison mission to the Army headquarters could leave their compound only under U.S. escort.

Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, ordered the restriction after receiving an unacceptable reply from Marshal Ivan S. Konev to an American protest against shooting a U.S. military mission car in East Germany by East German police.

Live Programs To Hop Atlantic

NEW YORK (AP)—The first live television broadcasts across the Atlantic Ocean are scheduled this spring for viewers in the United States and Europe. The New York Times says.

Programs of 10 to 20 minutes will be exchanged by means of a communications satellite, the Telstar scheduled for launching in late May or June.

The Telstar, financed by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., will be put aloft in cooperation with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The programs are expected to consist of live scenes of landmarks on both continents.

Members of the European Broadcasting Union, embracing television systems throughout Europe, will meet next Thursday in Seville, Spain, to work out their part in the exchange, it was said.

The union normally has a technical working relationship with television systems in the Soviet Union and Communist bloc nations.

These systems are linked to Eurovision, a European network, but whether the Soviet Union would have a direct voice in the transatlantic exchange was not known.

Edward R. Murrow, director of the United States Information Agency, discussed the television satellite program recently with representatives of American Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System and National Broadcasting Co.

The networks have named a committee to cooperate with Murrow and will be represented at the Seville meeting.

When Telstar is orbiting over the Atlantic, television signals will be sent to the satellite from the Bell System's station at Andover, Maine.

Telstar will forward the signals to the British post office installation at Goonhillydowns in Cornwall. The British broadcasting system will relay the signals to European homes.

The circuit will be reversed for the sending of European images from Europe to the United States.

Still to be worked out are such questions as whether the pictures will be transmitted on European or United States prime evening time. There will be a six hour time difference in June between New York and London.

Kennedy Said Set To Name New Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was believed today to have practically made up his mind on a Supreme Court appointee to succeed retiring Justice Charles Evans Whittaker. But he kept his own counsel amid a swirl of speculation.

The many names figuring in the guesswork included two Cabinet members — Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff, 51, former governor of Connecticut, and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, 53, of Chicago.

Ribicoff, however, was authoritatively reported today to have told Kennedy he does not want the assignment, preferring to run for the Senate in Connecticut.

Ribicoff once served as a police court judge in Hartford, Goldberg has had no judicial experience, although he has practiced law extensively, especially in the labor field.

In announcing Whittaker's retirement because of physical exhaustion, Kennedy said Thursday he would name a successor shortly.

This was taken to mean he had someone in mind, because it takes time to winnow possibilities.

Some lawyers speculated that since Kennedy has an eye to history, he might name a legal luminary such as:

1. Paul Abraham Freund, 54, law professor and legal historian at Harvard, author of "On Understanding the Supreme Court," and other works about the high tribunal. Kennedy is reported to have offered him the post of solicitor general at the start of the administration but Freund is said to have turned it down. Archibald Cox is now solicitor general.
2. Eugene Victor Rostow, 48, lawyer-economist, dean of the Yale Law School and brother of Walt Whitman Rostow, chairman of the State Department's policy planning council.

Some thought that Kennedy might name a Negro to the Supreme Court for the first time, but others felt he would wait until later before taking this historic step.

World's Fair Monorail On Job

A Seattle World's Fair monorail train, now officially under the operation of the Seattle Transit System, speeds along its Fifth Ave. track with a load of passengers from the fairgrounds to a downtown terminal. The train has been in operation a week, carrying thousands of local sightseers to and from the fair, scheduled to open April 21. A second train is to be in operation soon. Towering over the fairgrounds, behind the apartment building in left background, is the 600-foot-high Space Needle, which has a revolving restaurant and observation platform on top.

Jackie Was Fascinated, But Wants JFK Along Next Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy says her journey through the storied lands of India and Pakistan was fascinating and valuable—but she'd rather go abroad with her husband next time.

President Kennedy, proud and beaming, welcomed the First Lady home Thursday night from her 16,000-mile, semi-official tour. When the family plane, "Caroline," taxied to a halt at Washington National Airport, Kennedy hurried up the ramp to greet his wife inside.

A few minutes later, the smiling First Lady emerged. An airport crowd of about 200 applauded as Mrs. Kennedy, wearing a black suit, walked down the stairs. The President followed, hat in hand.

As she winged homeward from London aboard a commercial jetliner Mrs. Kennedy said the kindness shown her abroad "was because I was the wife of the President — so the people were showing their affection for him and he should have been there to receive it."

The 20-day tour took Mrs. Kennedy to Rome, for an audience with Pope John XXIII, through India, where she viewed the Taj Mahal by day and moonlight and cruised the Ganges River to the holy Hindu city of Banaras; to Pakistan, where she saw the famed Khyber Pass and was given a thoroughbred horse named Sardar; and London, where she had lunch with Queen Elizabeth.

It was Mrs. Kennedy said "The most fascinating experience imaginable." But she said it didn't seem natural to make such a trip without the President. And she added she belongs at home with her family.

That's where she went Thursday night, after a brief hello at the airport to U.S. Indian and Pakistani diplomats on hand to greet her. J. Kenneth Galbraith, U.S. Ambassador to India, gave the First Lady a kiss on the cheek.

Smiling broadly, the President and his lady drove back to the White House for Mrs. Kennedy's reunion with the children, 4-year-old Caroline and John Jr., 18 months.

Mrs. Kennedy made her home-

Alabama Sets Election On Voting Laws

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama, facing continued federal intervention, votes May 1 on a constitutional amendment with a far-reaching effect on voter registration procedure.

It was submitted to the voters by the Legislature in the wake of Justice Department suits charging discrimination against prospective Negro voters in three counties, and indications of court action elsewhere.

The proposed amendment would create a state board with sole authority to write the questionnaires which applicants must answer before they can get on the voting list. The board would grade the papers, with no racial identification.

The present questionnaire, unchanged in a decade except for the order of the questions, was prepared by the State Supreme Court. Voter registration boards in the counties check the answers and determine whether the applicant is qualified to vote.

Curiously, the threat of further court action is being used as an argument both for and against ratification of the amendment.

Sponsors contend the change in the state's organic law is necessary to give the county boards more uniform and higher standards and a choice of questionnaires to keep prospective voters from memorizing them, and to protect registrars from damage suits.

If the state board grades the questionnaires with no knowledge of race, they reason, there can be no question of discrimination; consequently, county boards would be less liable for personal damage.

Opponents say they are fearful that the amendment would give the federal courts a legal foot-in-the-door to put all 7 county registration boards in Alabama under jurisdiction at one time. They have that contention on the fact that county boards would depend on the state agency for their questionnaires.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. in Montgomery, who enjoined the registration authorities from discriminating against Negroes in rural Macon and Bullock counties, prohibited those boards from changing the present questionnaire or even rearranging the order of the questions.

He may invoke the same restriction when he rules after June 1 in a similar suit against the Montgomery County board.

Foes of the proposed amendment express the belief that the federal courts might act more readily against a state board than against the State Supreme Court which now has exclusive authority to draft a new questionnaire.

Machinery to put the new board into operation was contained in an enabling act approved by the legislature last summer. But that law does not go into effect unless the amendment is ratified.

Cons File Suit Claiming Abuse

HOUSTON (AP) — Suits seeking $250,000 have been filed in federal court by four convicts who claim they were beaten and mistreated by Texas prison officials.

Jack Heard, assistant director of the prison system, said the complaints had been investigated and no wrong doing on the part of prison officials was found. He denied the men were beaten.

Filing the suits were Lorman Donal Payne, 25, Harris County, under a five-year burglary sentence; Gene Autry Pendleton, 27, Dallas County, five years for forgery; James A. Eason, 37, Travis County, seven years for forgery; and Jesse Thurston, 41, Kaufman County, life term for robbery.

DEAR ABBY

Fight Tongue With Tongue

DEAR ABBY: I wish I knew what to do about a woman I must see very often, and who is making a nervous wreck of me. Whenever she is around she monopolizes the conversation. She has something to say on every subject, whether she knows anything about it or not. Her big fault is breaking into a conversation. This bottling-in business makes me very angry. No one can finish a sentence while she is present. She is the kind who can dish it out, but can't take it. Don't tell me to quit seeing her. She is a relative and lives near me, and I don't want a family fight. NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: The type of person you describe couldn't care less about listening. All she wants to do is talk. Either you must fight fire with fire—go right on talking, and continue while she attempts to interrupt you—or you must turn in your tongue and surrender.

DEAR ABBY: I belong to a poker club. I won't say I clean up on the girls every week, but I win more than I lose. Whenever I win a pot, one woman says, "Oh, well, lucky in cards—unlucky in love." In other words, my husband is no bargain. I am very satisfied with my husband and I resent the implication. How should I handle her? She is getting on my nerves. LUCKY IN CARDS

DEAR LUCKY: Call her bluff and ask her to explain her remark.

DEAR ABBY: I was married to—let's call him "John"—for nine years. During that time "John" endeared himself to my family, who thought he was tops. He wasn't as "tops" as they thought he was, but that's another story. "John" and I were divorced. My family blamed me. I didn't care to defend myself by tearing down "John" so, of course, he is still tops with my family. When they have family get-togethers, they invite "John." He doesn't have the good sense to refuse, so consequently he and I are thrown together often. This annoys me because I want to be with my family, but I don't enjoy myself with "John" there. Is there a solution? "JOHN'S" EX

DEAR EX: Tell the one in your family with whom you feel you can be the most candid that you would like to attend the family get-togethers, but would appreciate knowing in advance if "John" will be there. It is your privilege to protect yourself from social situations which could be embarrassing.

FORGIVENESS

By A Christian Writer

We need to obtain forgiveness, for sin separates men from God (Isa. 59:1, 2). We must obtain forgiveness to become children of God; and this comes through faith and obedience (Acts 6:7, and 3:38).

We must obtain forgiveness every day after becoming Christians; and this comes through repentance and prayer (Acts 8:22; 1:14, 18, 19).

In the New Testament, no alien sinner is told to pray for forgiveness; and no erring Christian is told to be baptized. There are two divine laws of pardon for these two classes.

'Drydock' For Beached Destroyer

The USS Monssen, blown ashore at Beach Haven, N.J., stands high but not so dry as Navy salvage crews dig around the destroyer in an effort to drag the vessel back to sea. The destroyer was

Money Orders To Cuba Have Been Halted

You can't send money to Cuba via U. S. Post Office money order any longer, but in Big Spring it really doesn't matter.

According to E. C. Boatler, postmaster, no one sends money to Fidel's domain these days. And certainly no one is getting any money from that tight little island.

The new ruling forbidding money orders destined for Cuba was put in effect March 19. Boatler said that it has been a long time since anyone here tried to send money to Cuba.

"Used to be in the old days, when Big Spring had a pro baseball team, we did a brisk business in money orders to Cuba," he recalled. "There were a lot of Cuban nationals on the team and they were always sending part of their pay back home.

took over, the demand for such money orders practically ceased." Boatler said that in Florida, where he recently visited the post offices prior to the new order, they were swamped with money orders to Havana and other Cuban cities. Florida teems with refugees from Cuba and they were always sending money back to other relatives still on the island, Boatler was told.

He said the new order probably was intended to bring an end to this particular operation rather than to concern offices elsewhere.

Team Developing Artificial Heart

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A University of Florida engineer-doctor research team is working on an artificial heart it hopes may some day replace human hearts that have stopped functioning properly.

The team, Dr. Kenneth Cruze, a fellow in thoracic surgery, and Dr. Marvin F. Eisenberg, an assistant professor of electrical engineering, successfully tested one model in a mock circulatory system.

A second model, almost completed, will be tested on animals.

The heart is a cylindrical valveless aluminum pump with plastic tubing and is powered electrically.

Screwworm Battle Hatches Fly Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is hatching plans to produce 75 million flies a week and turn them loose in Texas.

It is also planning to add to the iron, bamboo and other curtains dividing nations a fly curtain between Mexico and the United States.

There are no plans, however, to change the name of that song to "the flies of Texas are upon you," and the program is not intended to stimulate the sale of fly swatters.

What the government has in mind is eliminating a livestock pest—the screwworm fly—that is costing cattlemen about $125 million a year. In its larval stage the fly feeds on the flesh of cattle.

Formby Sees U. S. Scandal In Estes Case

AUSTIN (AP)—Marshall Formby, Democratic candidate for governor, said today that violations charged in the Billie Sol Estes case could not have occurred without the cooperation of high government officials in Washington.

Estes, a West Texas financier, and three associates were jailed Thursday night on charges of conspiring to violate federal laws in transporting forged or falsely made chattel mortgages.

"I see in Estes and his associates people who can drag down many innocent men in Texas," Formby said. "One of the blackest pages in Texas business history may come out of this scandal if the facts are not muzzled from Washington.

"How did Estes fill grain storage bins with a reported 85 million bushels unless he had help from high officials in Washington? The annual income of Estes must have been around $8 million a year. The question unanswered is why were his storage bins always full when the bins of many other grain men were half full."

It can kill a newborn calf in a week.

The idea is not new. It was used with success a few years ago in Florida. But it has never been tried on such a scale and in country without the natural barriers of ocean and gulf that Florida has.

How do you eliminate flies by producing them at the rate of 75 million a week? Science and sex are the answer.

It seems a male screwworm fly rendered sterile by radiation is just as interested in female screwworm flies as his untreated brothers—and she in him. Flood an infested area with sterile males, let nature take its course, and pretty soon no larva, no flies, and no problem.

The Department of Agriculture, which is already producing 10 million sterile flies a week and losing them on unsuspecting females in Texas, wants $3 million to expand the program at once. Its request was made public today by a House Appropriation subcommittee.

The harsh winter in the Southwest has probably killed a lot of the flies, the department said, and if it moves in now on a big scale the problem will be that much simpler.

This will be no fly-by-night scheme, department witnesses said. Once the flies are eliminated from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and other infested areas, millions of irradiated flies will be dumped periodically in a 50-mile path along the Rio Grande to intercept any females flying up from Mexico.

It is estimated it will take about three years for the screwworm flies to eliminate themselves.

Village Makes Jackie Citizen

MESSINI, Greece (AP) — This village in the Southern Peloponnese has made Jacqueline Kennedy an honorary citizen because she helped a local girl with a serious heart condition.

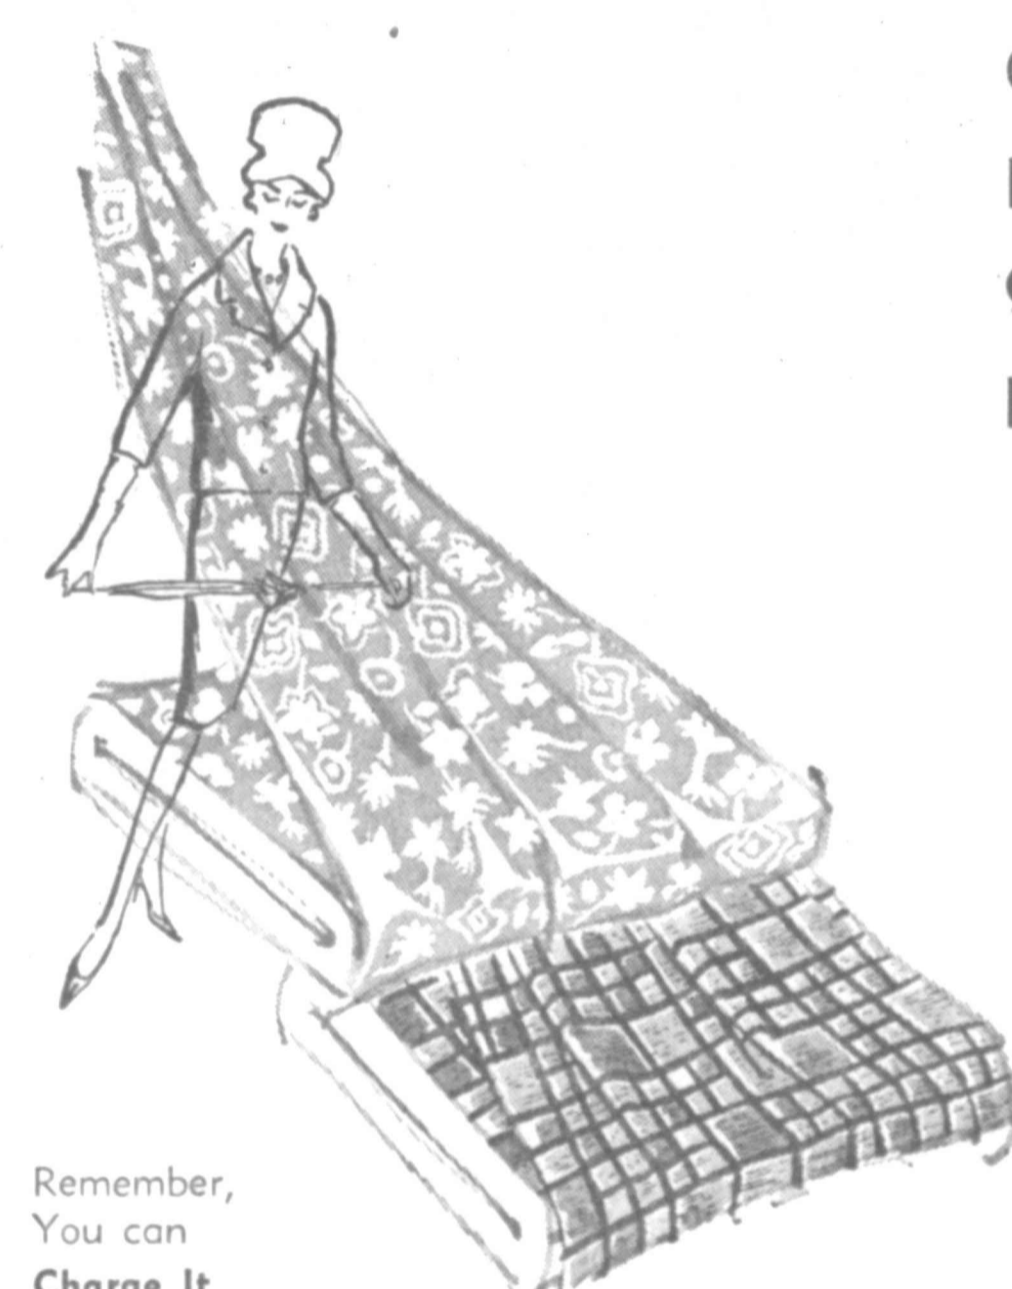

Mrs. Kennedy became interested in the case of Chrysanthemis "Mimi" Papacostis, 11, last July when the First Lady toured Greece. Heart surgery at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington apparently was a complete success, and Mimi returned home last week.

Barbara Baxley, soon to be seen in MGM's "All Fall Down," cautions to look at yourself periodically with fresh eyes; the image you have may be unrelated to reality.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Ballet Exercise Is Best For Trimness

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Barbara Baxley calls Broadway her home, but she was lured to Hollywood for "All Fall Down," and during her visit we lunched together at MGM.

"We get wedded to habits and concepts of ourselves," Barbara began, "and it's always a shock to discover the ideas are outmoded. For years I was too thin. I ate whatever I wanted and never seemed to gain. One day when I was rehearsing a play, I overheard myself described as 'the chubby one.' I ran to a mirror and when I looked at myself with fresh eyes, I realized how much I needed to reduce."

"I love ballet, and I borrowed an exercise routine for myself and worked out 45 minutes every day. Now I don't need to reduce. I exercise for 10 minutes daily to keep limber and stay in condition. And when have the time, I go back to my ballet class."

"In exercising," Barbara cautioned, "don't forget your feet. They play an important part. I like to lie on the floor, put one leg up with my knee straight and draw a circle with my ankle while pointing my toes. I do this 10 times (with each leg) in each direction, and then I lower my toes, making the sole of my foot parallel with the ceiling."

Barbara chooses this exercise as one of her favorites.

"Stand on both feet and tighten your buttocks. Then, keeping your knees straight, lean forward until you form a right angle. Extend your arms to the side as if they are floating on air. Breathe deeply, feeling a wide expanse in your chest and a strong pull in your legs. Come up and repeat the exercise 10 times."

Leaflet M-74, "Exercises to Keep Young and Slim," has easy routines which take only a few minutes a day to do. You'll look better and feel better by following the suggestions in this leaflet. Spring Into Summer Magic Of 'Symphonie'

Spring swept into summer last evening when "Symphonie of Fashion" was presented at the Cosden Country Club. Some 400 persons, men and women, made up a capacity audience.

Particularly noted in the array of spring and summer styles were furs, which Mrs. Jim Zack, narrator, stressed for wear throughout the summer. Stoles were modeled with cottons as well as other fabric blends.

Throughout the show, background music was provided by Mrs. Leslie Green at the organ. Decorations, in keeping with the musical theme, featured metallic cutouts of musical instruments and notes on the stage backdrop. On either side of the hall room tuba horns were filled with spring bouquets which spilled out onto the bases. Co-chairmen for the decorations were Mrs. Gilbert Gindgold and Mrs. A. A. Lindsley, General chairman was Mrs. Philip Hanigan.

FASHION RANGE
Fashions ranged from the tailored simplicity of street attire to elegant evening wear and from early spring apparel to the summer sheer. Sportswear was also a feature, notably clam diggers, bell bottom trousers and swim suits. Models suggested both brightly tailored and rhinestone trimmed metallic suits to be really in the swim of things this summer.

Miss Erin Marcum donned the new blue look for the evening's performance. Hers was a full skirted sheer, ruffle trimmed. Miss Jan Geutill was smart in a yellow, black and white swim suit with matching beach towel. Also dressed for the swim was Miss Linda Kendrick, tall and stately in a suit detailed with gold and rhinestones. Miss Barbara Howl, petite in red, white and blue swimsuit, worn with matching coat.

Mrs. Leland Younkin, a striking brunette, wore silk splashed with bright blue and green on a background of white. A mother-daughter team was Mrs. Ken Morgan and Katie Bess. Mrs. Morgan was smartly attired in textured grey fabric and fur stole, while her daughter wore a frothy lace of creamy white.

Miss Marilyn Jacobs appeared stylishly dressed in a dacron skirt and blouse, ready for any occasion. In shades of pink, rose and red, the costume blouse and skirt were removed, revealing a matching swimsuit.

Stunning in black cocktail formal, Mrs. Harris Wilhoite's gown was distinctly chic in silk shantung styled with brief overblouse to become a dinner dress.

Streetwear resembling wool texture were also featured. Mrs. John Holl's suit was soufflé tweed styled with pleated skirt and jacket. Her accessories were black patent.

Blossoms of blue were made into a raincoat which was most becoming to Judy Talbot, whose dress was white and skirted with permanent pleats.

The program was concluded with the grand finale when all models appeared together.

Hair styles and accessories were coordinated with costumes stressing the latest trends.

Door prize was won by Mary Wade.

SOCIAL PERIOD

Concluding the evening refreshments were served in the Blue Room with Mrs. Henry Victor in charge. Venetian lace covered the refreshment table which was appointed with silver. The center arrangement was silver candelabra and green tapers based in greenery interspersed with baubles. Mrs. V. O. Wade, Altar Society president, and Mrs. Maury Ruppel presided.

Proceeds from this second annual benefit will go to Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Kennedy Asks Congress For Science Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has asked Congress for authority to set up a new office of science and technology. He wants government efforts in the two fields coordinated in the interests of national security and general welfare.

Hos proposal went to Congress in the form of a reorganization plan. The proposed office would be headed by a $25,000-a-year director who would report directly to the President. The director would be appointed by the President, subject to confirmation by the Senate. A deputy director would get $20,500 a year.

Kennedy said the arrangement would constitute an important development in the executive branch organization for science and technology. "Under these arrangements the President will have permanent staff resources capable of advising and assisting him in matters of national policy affected by or pertaining to science and technology," Kennedy said.

Some of the functions of the National Science Foundation would be transferred to the new presidential office. These would include the task of evaluating scientific research programs undertaken by government agencies.

The reorganization plan will become effective in 60 days unless vetoed by either the House or the Senate.

Dutch Marines Fight Group Of Indonesians

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP)—Dutch marines fought a hand-to-hand Indonesian invader in a brief gun battle on the island of Gag, a Dutch military commander said today.

One Indonesian was reported killed and the rest sent fleeing in the skirmish Thursday on the Dutch island off the western tip of West New Guinea. The Dutch said they suffered no losses.

The size of the Indonesian force of infiltrators was not disclosed but the Dutch said they captured quantities of ammunition, outboard motors, gasoline, light machine guns and American-made rifles.

Gag is in the archipelago bordering Indonesian territory. An Indonesian bomber last Sunday bombed a small Dutch patrol boat in the Bay of Gag, wounding three Dutch soldiers.

Wood Defense Hits Evidence

PALO PINTO, Tex. (AP)—The defense attacked today circumstantial evidence on which the state seeks to convict Dickie Don Wood of murder.

Wood is accused of strangling Mrs. Patricia Weaver, 25, a pretty divorcee, in Wichita Falls Aug. 11. The nearly nude body was found in a parked car.

Prosecutors rested and the defense started presenting its case late Thursday after a motion by Wood's lawyer for an instructed verdict of innocent was overruled.

Defense witness Petty Fuller testified he had a fight on the night Mrs. Weaver's body was discovered. About midnight, he said, Wood picked him up at the drive-in where the fight occurred and touched his face in looking at a cut near Fuller's eye.

Havana Radio did not say where the trial is being held or exactly how many prisoners are being tried. More than 1,000 men were captured after the abortive invasion April 17, 1961.

Woman Balloonist Receives Award

Mrs. Constance Wolf, who took off on a cold night last Nov. 19, from Hamilton Field in Big Spring in a hydrogen-filled balloon to set a new world record for women balloonists, has done just that.

The National Aeronautics Association, announced Wednesday that Mrs. Wolf has been chosen to receive the 1961 Montgolfier award for the record-breaking flight from Big Spring to Boley, Okla.

Martin Decker of Bala Cynwyd, Pa., president of the NAA, said Mrs. Wolf is the first woman balloon pilot ever to receive the international award.

The honor is being awarded for the 40-hour and 13-minute flight of 364 miles in the 33,559-cubic foot balloon which, at times, went as high as 13,597 feet. She claimed 15 world records in duration, distance, and altitude for five categories of balloons.

Mrs. Wolf, whose husband, Alford Wolf of Blue Bell, Pa., is attorney for the American Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, chose Big Spring for her take-off because of the dry atmosphere, clear skies, and wide open spaces. She had tried more than once to make the flight from the Midwest and East but could never find weather suitable to get off the ground.

The gas used to fill the big balloon was trucked to Big Spring from Houston. About seven hours were required to fill the balloon, ballast it, and get it off the ground. Hundreds of persons crowded around Hamilton Field to watch preparations and the final take off.

The balloon duration record for women formerly was held, unofficially by Russia's Miss L. Ivanova. Her flight, in April, 1948, lasted 34 hours, 21 minutes and 36 seconds. There were no previous distance or altitude records for lady balloonists in the categories claimed by Mrs. Wolf.

Her reason for making the flight: "I got so tired of hearing about what Russian women had done and felt that whatever they could do American women could do better, so I decided to try to end the bragging for all time."

Mrs. Wolf is a 56-year-old grandmother. She became interested in ballooning in 1951 when her husband was stationed in Germany with the Air Force. She was given instruction by Fred Forrer, Swiss balloonist, and she owns a 34,000-cubic-foot balloon made in Germany.

Mrs. Furlong Takes Stand

HOUSTON (AP)—Jurors heard arguments today in the murder trial of Mrs. Margery North Furlong, a Houston housewife who testified she shot her husband because she "was scared to death."

Mrs. Furlong, 37, wearing a cream colored ensemble and pearls, said William Harrison Furlong III, 38, her third husband, broke glass panes from two doors at her home the night of Aug. 9, 1960.

"The gun was in my hand and I pulled the trigger," she testified. "I pulled it out of pure fright. I was scared to death."

Mrs. Furlong, who inherited a $1.5 million estate, was the first defense witness.

Her small daughter by a former marriage, Lynsey Green, 12, broke into tears after taking the stand. Judge Sam Davis called a recess.

Later the girl said that after Furlong left her home, her mother directed her to lock all the doors so he could not re-enter.

Furlong was shot with a rifle several hours after Judge John Compton had issued an order forbidding him to bother or communicate with Mrs. Furlong.

Abilene Youth Faces Charges

Charges of attempted burglary have been filed against Granville Wayne Southwood, 18-year-old Abilene youth, in connection with the attempted break-in at the Blue Top Liquor store Wednesday night.

His 16-year-old companion, arrested in the same investigation, is being held by juvenile authorities and will be turned over to Abilene officers.

The two youths are wanted in Abilene in connection with a car theft case. They were in the alleged stolen car at the time the burglary attempt was made here, officers said, and the car was wrecked when the pair was frightened away from the liquor store by a burglar alarm.

The two boys were arrested as they walked along the road Thursday morning.

Ed Relates His Troubles At Harvard

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of the President and an aspirant to the U.S. Senate, disclosed today he was asked to leave Harvard University in 1961 for having a friend take a freshman examination for him.

"What I did was wrong," he told the Boston Globe in an interview. "I have regretted it ever since. The unhappiness I caused my family and friends, even though 11 years ago, has been a bitter experience for me, but it has also been a very valuable lesson."

Kennedy later returned to Harvard and was graduated in good standing in 1956.

The story of young Kennedy's withdrawal from Harvard has been rumbling around in Massachusetts political circles for some time.

TOLD STORY

Kennedy, saying he wants to set the record straight, told this story of the incident.

"I entered Harvard in 1956 at the age of 18. During the second semester of my freshman year I made a mistake. I was having difficulty in one course, a foreign language.

"I became so apprehensive about it that I arranged for a fellow freshman friend of mine to take the examination for me in that course.

"The dean learned of this and my friend and I were asked to withdraw with the understanding that we might reapply for admission after a period of absence, provided that during that time we could demonstrate a record of constructive and responsible citizenship."

After leaving Harvard, Kennedy joined the Army as a private and served two years in Europe as an infantryman.

READMITTED

"Upon my return to the United States," Kennedy continued, "I made application to Harvard and was accepted for readmission. My friend, who was also readmitted, and I later represented Harvard in intercollegiate athletics.

"I worked hard, passed all my courses — some with honors — and was graduated in good standing in 1956."

Kennedy said he applied for admission to University of Virginia law school after graduation from Harvard.

"The authorities at that institution," he said, "were fully aware of all the facts surrounding the Harvard incident. They have an honor system at the law school of the University of Virginia. I was accepted at that institution and was graduated in good standing three years later."

NO COMMENT

Harvard University Dean John U. Munro declined comment on Kennedy's story. He said it was a closed affair so far as Harvard is concerned.

"Any information that anyone wants about Edward Kennedy's record at Harvard," he said, "should come from him. This is our regular policy."

President Kennedy, a Harvard graduate, is a member of the Board of Overseers, the university's governing body.

Dean Frederick D. G. Ribble of the University of Virginia law school, according to the Globe, said of Kennedy: "He came here from Harvard as a graduate in good standing. He had a satisfactory record at Harvard and had come to us recommended by his tutor there. We felt his character was excellent. Harvard had endorsed both his character and his performance."

SATISFIED

"We were thoroughly satisfied with him as a student here. His conduct was excellent. We were also thoroughly acquainted with details of his withdrawal from Harvard and we took the position — and properly so — that if Harvard was satisfied with him and awarded him a degree that was enough for us."

Young Kennedy has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate. He seeks the seat vacated by his brother who resigned in 1960 to become President.

Opposing Kennedy for the nomination is Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., nephew of speaker of the House John W. McCormack.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE

On the Republican side, another name candidate seeks the GOP nomination — George C. Lodge, former assistant secretary of labor in the Eisenhower administration and son of Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.N. ambassador and former U.S. Senator from Massachusetts.

Lodge is opposed by Rep. Lawrence Curtis, R-Mass., whose district is destined to be abolished under a redistricting awaiting the signature of Republican Gov. John A. Volpe after its passage by the Democratic controlled state legislature.

Off To Jail

Pfc. Bernis Owen, 23, of Seadrift, enters an Army vehicle at Fort Polk, La., for a trip to the stockade to begin serving a six-month sentence. Owen, outspoken in meetings at which Army Reservists sought release from active duty, was convicted of disrespect by a special court-martial and drew a $50-a-month fine in addition to the sentence.

Cool Air Spreads Slowly Over State, Brings Rain

By The Associated Press

Cool air spread slowly southward in Texas Friday, triggering a little rain in eastern areas of the state.

There also was light drizzle at College Station and San Antonio. In early morning the cold front's forward edge stretched from near Marshall to Cotulla.

and on across the state to just east of El Paso. Temperatures before daylight ranged from the upper 30s in the Texas Panhandle to the low 70s in the extreme south.

Weather Bureau observers said there was a chance for occasional light snow in the northwest part of the Panhandle.

Showers or light rain were expected to continue along and near the advancing cold front and to develop behind it in Northeast, North Central and part of Northwest Texas during the day.

Forecasts called for a few more light showers Saturday and overnight temperatures from near freezing in the Panhandle to the 40s in southern sections of the state.

Readings early Friday ranged from 37 degrees at Dalhart to 72 at Brownsville and Laredo.

Of the 97 employees of the company in Big Spring, 27 already were under the savings bond deduction plan for systematic bond purchases.

Weather Bureau observers said there was a chance for occasional light snow in the northwest part of the Panhandle.

Showers or light rain were expected to continue along and near the advancing cold front and to develop behind it in Northeast, North Central and part of Northwest Texas during the day.

Forecasts called for a few more light showers Saturday and overnight temperatures from near freezing in the Panhandle to the 40s in southern sections of the state.

VA Hospital Employees Get Cash Awards

Two employees of the local Veterans Administration Hospital were recently given cash awards through the incentive awards program of the hospital.

Receiving the awards were Helen Uhlhorn, a registered nurse, and Verdean M. Kirby and Mrs. Edyth C. Pedro, for their joint contribution, V. J. Belda, manager, said.

Miss Uhlhorn received $15 and a suggestion award for recommending a change in the type of drinking cup used by patients while they take medicine. She suggested using a more reasonably priced cup. Estimated first year savings is $124.

The joint suggestion of Kirby, who works in engineering, and Mrs. Pedro, a Central Service worker, was for an improvement in constructing an over-the-bed heat cradle. This device is used whenever patients cannot have sheets or other cover touch them, such as in burn cases.

The suggestion provides more room inside the heat cradle, allowing the patient freedom of movement, and at the same time, prevents it from falling off the bed.

Other suggestion awards which were approved, but for which there was no cash award, were suggestions of Joe A. Lopez, nursing service, and Mrs. Ozella N. Long, secretary to the supply officer.

Since the beginning of this fiscal year July 1, 1961, eight such incentive awards have been made totaling $175. They have resulted in an estimated savings of $2,206 during the first year. Two of the eight resulted in intangible savings.

Twelve others have been approved, but the benefits or savings did not qualify for cash awards.

Gymnastics Performers

Big Spring will be well represented at the sports competition coming up Saturday at Tulsa, Okla. Boys and girls representing YMCAs in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and southwestern Louisiana will be present. Local girls to perform in gymnastics are, left to right, Miriam Jolley, Ruthie Russell, Sharon Hanson, Suzan Russell, Juanita Garcia, Mary Ragsdale and Patsy Huente.

Local Delegation Enters YMCA Competition At Tulsa

Eight gymnastics performers and two wrestlers will represent the Big Spring YMCA Saturday in southwestern area competition in Tulsa, Okla.

Some 1,600 boys and girls from Y's in Arkansas, Oklahoma, southwestern Louisiana and Texas are expected to be competing.

Wylie Woodard, southwestern area champion of the 126-pound class in 1961, will be wrestling against heavier competition this year. Joe Leach, physical director of the Y, said Woodard will be the 138-pound class this year and will face some stiff competition, according to Leach.

The other wrestler from Big Spring is Billy McDonald, wrestling at 140 pounds. This is his first time to compete.

"McDonald is strong and fast, but sometimes that does not take the place of experience," Leach said. "We are looking for him to do well his first time out."

"There will be a lot of good wrestlers there," he said. "Two of the three United States gold medal winners in the 1960 Olympics will be participating."

Representing the gymnastics group will be Miriam Jolley, Rene Burson, Ruthie Russell, Suzan Russell, Mary Ragsdale, Sharon Hanson, Juanita Garcia and Patsy Huente. They will be competing in free calisthenics.

Each girl must work out a routine to present within a given time. The routines demonstrate agility, coordination and physical exercises.

The group left this morning to take part in the all-day event Saturday. Accompanying the boys and girls will be Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanson, Mrs. J. F. Ragsdale, Mrs. Otilie Jolley, Mrs. George Russell and Mrs. J. H. Garcia.

California Democrats May Take Kennedy Up On Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Enthusiastic Democrats seem likely to take President Kennedy up on his expressed desire to pay another visit to California—this time for political purposes.

Kennedy's comment at his news conference Thursday that "I will be glad to go back to California" indicated that the President is giving top-level political priority to efforts to thwart former GOP Vice President Richard M. Nixon's bid for the governorship of that state.

And if Nixon wants to call Kennedy a "carpetbagger" for any such campaigning against him, Democrats think that will be just fine.

The general opinion among them—and it is shared by some Republicans—is that Nixon's original "carpetbagger" blast at Kennedy and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, did not help the former vice president's chances in the general election, if he wins the Republican nomination.

It later was explained that Nixon's statement was misunderstood, that he had not meant to apply the term to the Kennedys while they were in California as they were last week for reasons other than political.

Kennedy said he thought the incident "was handled very satisfactorily from my point of view on each side."

California Democrats are counting on Kennedy to help them solidify party ranks so that they can take advantage of the 3-2 margin of voter registrations they hold over the Republicans.

They think any roughly worded attacks on the President will tend to draw the Democrats closer together and help provide an incentive for them to go to the polls in the general election.

There are signs that Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, seeking Republican renomination, shares this view. Kuchel, who is opposed by two Republican conservatives in the primary, is not likely to indulge in any personal attacks on the President.

Kuchel's strategists figure that if he is renominated as they expect, he will have to get 75 per cent of the Republican vote and 22 per cent of the Democratic turnout in order to win in November.

While Nixon has endorsed Kuchel for renomination, the two Republicans thus far have gone their separate ways in the preliminary campaigning.

If they win in the primary they inevitably are going to be placed in closer association in the general election campaign. Politicians are waiting to see how this arrangement between two men who do not see eye-to-eye on all the issues will work out.

Brunch Brought For Tax Office

Mrs. Arlen Sturdivant, 3218 Cornell, read how busy the deputies in the office of the county tax collector would be this week, due to the grand rush for car tags by procrastinating motorists.

She sympathized with the deputies and decided that they should be given a little token of her sympathy. So she baked up a batch of cookies and delivered them to the office.

If business picks up so briskly that the girls can't get out for a coffee break or for lunch, they can stave off starvation by munching on the cookies.

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor, said that her staff was appreciative of Mrs. Sturdivant's thoughtfulness.

Tax Revision Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders in Congress hailed today President Kennedy's tax revision bill victory in the House and turned their attention to a Senate fight expected to be just as hot.

An almost straight party-line vote saved the bill in the House Thursday. Passage by a vote of 219 to 196 came a few hours after the President at his news conference made a personal plea for the measure. The House action was considered his biggest triumph of the 1962 session.

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the Democratic whip, said "this sets the pattern for the Kennedy program this year. These were Democratic votes."

On final passage, 218 Democrats and a lone Republican, Rep. Richard H. Poff of Virginia, supported the bill, while 162 Republicans and 34 Democrats voted against it.

House Democratic leaders said privately that when the day began the bill lacked the necessary votes to survive. Up to voting time the leaders worked furiously, buttonholing all Democratic House members.

The key test was a Republican effort to strip the two most important provisions from the measure—$1.2 billion in annual tax cuts to business that buy modern machinery and equipment and a withholding system for interest and dividends.

The administration won this fight with the support of 225 Democrats. Voting to strip the bill were 163 Republicans and 27 Democrats.

The Senate Finance Committee will lose no time in getting down to work on the bill, but floor debate in that branch is many weeks away.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon will be the opening witness as five weeks of public testimony begin next Monday. Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said more than 200 witnesses are listed and the hearings may run even longer.

The committee is sharply split on the bill. Liberals are anxious to strengthen loophole-closing provisions and add many more, while conservatives feel that the bill already goes too far.

One veteran member told a reporter privately he felt these conflicting pressures might cancel out and leave the bill pretty much in the form in which the House passed it.

Besides the business investment and withholding provisions, the bill as it cleared the House increased taxes on mutual banks and savings and loan associations, on mutual fire and casualty companies, and on cooperatives. It also tightened present regulations on entertainment expenses and on foreign income.

Republicans argued the bill would cost about $1 billion in revenue the first year because of the business credit.

Democrats claimed that the over-all effect was about a stand-off, with the credit offset by new revenues from all the other provisions. The withholding provision alone is expected to bring in about $630 million in revenue which now escapes.

Rate Increase

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Natural Gas Corp. has asked the City Council for a rate increase. The company said the average bill of a residential customer using 6,000 cubic feet of gas a month would be increased $1.30.

Baby chicks can't talk—we know that. But we wonder what this little chick would think if chicks could think? Probably he's bewildered... a great big world... great big problems... an orphan already... and hungry! Yet, there's deep meditation here. Man is often like that little baby chick; bewildered, confused, wondering... especially those on the threshold of a new life or venture. We don't know all the answers, of course, but we do know some! We do know how to reach our Creator (PRAYER), how He reaches us (BY HIS GRACE). We also know that the most serene place for such communion with the Creator is in church. Here you'll find many answers to many problems. It's worth a try, isn't it?

New venture

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Klan Banned From Mountain

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The chairman of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association says the Ku Klux Klan will not be allowed to burn any crosses atop the granite mountain northeast of Atlanta.

The Klan had announced plans to stage a cross-burning rally there while the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is in convention here July 2-8.

The mountain used to be private property and was a favorite cross-burning site during the Klan's heyday. But the state now owns Stone Mountain, and memorial chairman Matt L. McWhorter said Thursday, "We have not permitted any meetings of that kind and do not intend to."

Ever Wonder What Happened To The Stars Of Yesteryear?

By ANDREW MEISELS
NEW YORK (AP)—Remember Veronica Lake, the "peek-a-boo look" girl of the 1940s?

Today she waits on tables and serves as a part-time hostess in the cocktail lounge of a Manhattan hotel.

Once one of Hollywood's most glittering stars, she appeared in dozens of films. Her face and figure were featured in scores of magazines and newspapers. Two decades and three husbands later she lives at the Martha Washington Hotel for women and works for tips and her meals at the Colonnade Room downstairs.

ANOTHER NAME
Miss Lake now goes by the name of Connie DeToth. Connie is her real first name. DeToth is the name of her second husband, film director Andrew DeToth. She was divorced about two years ago from her third husband, music publisher Joseph A. McCarthy.

She looks older now, of course, and her long blonde hair—once combed so that it fell over her right eye—is swept back. She is still an attractive woman.

Miss Lake—or Connie—moved into the hotel about five months ago after living for a time with friends. Most of the tenants are unmarried career women or students or widows.

"BEGAN WORK
The former actress, who was awarded $65 a week temporary alimony when she divorced McCarthy, pays $7 a day for her room. She began working at the lounge downstairs about three months ago because, she said, "I like people. I like to talk to them."

Connie took one evening off. An old ankle injury has been bothering her recently, and she came into the cocktail lounge on crutches, sat down in a booth and propped up her left foot on the seat.

From time to time, somebody would come over and sit down with the former star.

A man sat down and asked her if she'd be interested in a part in a play. Connie changed the subject.

"CAN'T STAND IT
Later, she said, "Everybody wants to manage me. I can't stand being managed." She said she doesn't need the money. She talked of taking a part "sometime" or maybe investing in a business.

Joe Rauti, owner of the Colonnade Room, came over and said there was a call for her from a man connected with a television show.

"Please, honey," she said, "I just don't feel like talking tonight."
Rauti shrugged and walked off. "She's a good girl," he later told a reporter, "but she's had a bad time. Did you know she has three kids? Oldest one's a girl of 20. Talks about them all the time."

THE OLD MOVIES
Some nights, when the television set in the cocktail lounge is turned on, Connie DeToth can see Veronica Lake in an old movie. There were three of them telecast locally this week—"Star Spangled Rhythm," "Blue Dahlia" and "Sullivan's Travels."

The attractive waitress watched the glamorous girl on the screen for a while.

Then she turned away and said: "I don't believe anybody was ever that young."

Onstage, But Now A Nurse

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At 9 o'clock every night, Mary Beth Hughes makes her entrance wearing a bathing suit in a sexy farce called "Pajama Tops" at LeGrand Theater.

At 8:15 every morning, she enters a Vermont Ave. doctor's office in nurse's white, beginning her full day as a surgical assistant.

NO HARD LUCK
The strange double life of Mary Beth Hughes comprises no hard luck story, as with Veronica Lake. With Miss Hughes, it was a question of knowing what she wanted and going after it.

"The picture business has changed," said the actress, a 20-year veteran in films. "On the last three television films I worked on, the producers were former prop men."

"The directors were not just amateurs; they were incompetent amateurs."

NEED OF CHANGE
"I felt the need of a change not merely because I didn't like how the business had changed. It was also economically unsound for me. Two years ago, I worked eight days in films during one year. I've got a 15-year-old son and a house to support; my expenses run $550 a month. I could not keep dipping into my resources."

She happened to meet a plastic surgeon at a cocktail party. He recommended an operation to remove smallpox and acne scars and lift drooping eyelids. She had it—"I don't mind admitting I had a face lift; it's good for business."

She urged the surgeon to give her a job. He tested her sincerity by asking her to accompany him on a couple of operations—a skin graft on the legs of a burned girl; removal of a cancer from the head of a 70-year-old.

SHE'S A NATURAL
Miss Hughes watched both with no adverse effects, and the surgeon hired her last October. She underwent hospital training and soon was assisting the surgeon in operations.

"Doctors and nurses tell me I am a natural," she said with unhidden pride. "I learn quickly and my reactions are right. Believe me, this gives me more satisfaction than anything I ever did in show business."

Whoever handled the big battle scenes knew what he was doing. It depicted the entrapment by Roman legions of a mob of Jewish guerrillas. Seldom has Hollywood risen above a confused mob scene, but this time the disciplined soldiers moved forward in ranks and in perfect order, mowing down the opposition. Ancient battles did get confused, but only when the generals allowed things to get out of hand. The battle in "King of Kings" was like battles really were fought.

Other crowd scenes were effective, including the Sermon on the Mount.

But here the compliments end. In all fairness, it must be said a universally acceptable characterization of Jesus of Nazareth is impossible—if only because each person has his own conception of what He was like, and if the image he sees onscreen is different, the movie-goer often reacts unfavorably.

Thus, it takes both courage and conviction to attempt such a portrayal. "King of Kings" lacked both. It would seem the producers tried to please everybody and succeeded in pleasing no one. The characterization of Jesus was, as a result, a complete nothing.

Other characterizations were handled similarly—the direction jerked and halted from one scene to another so fast that no actor had a chance to establish his screen personality.

The greater sin, however, was

Band's Seattle Fund Growing

The Big Spring High School Band is within sight of its goal. With the help of the Band Boosters Club, the students are raising funds for a trip to the Seattle World's Fair. The trip will cost about $4,800, and the latest estimate by Walter Stroup, Booster president, puts the fund at $3,800.

Thursday's opening night performance of "King of Kings," dedicated to the band fund, took in an estimated $220 or more. The students also earned $300 during a magazine subscription drive.

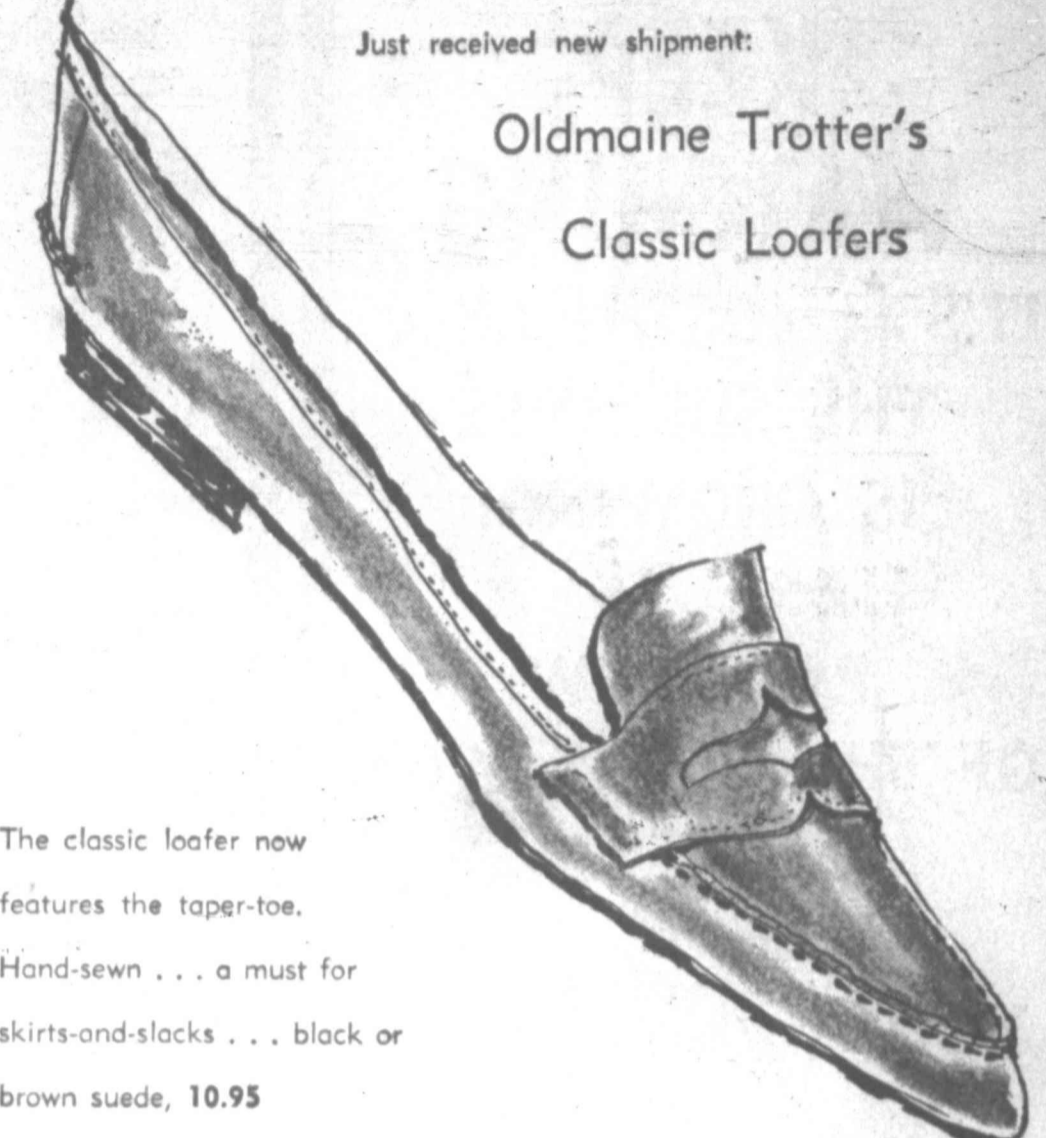

Plans for the immediate future include a car wash Sunday at the George Oldham Service Station on South Gregg, and a band concert in the city auditorium sometime in April.
