Bennett To Study Egyptian Market

LURBOCK — Dr. J. Wayland Bennett of Texas Tech will leave today for Egypt, where he will spend a month analyzing that country's grain markets.

Dr. Bennett, an agricultural economist, will study Egypt's livestock production and the possible economic potential for its utilization of feed grains.

He said the Egyptian government is considering purchase of up to 800,000 tons of feed grain from the U. S.

Dr. Bennett, a native of Lorraine, spent last June and July on a similar mission to Nigeria, Liberia and Sierra Leone in west Africa.

Solon To Ask Report On Text Hearing Costs

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Rep. John Alaniz reported he will ask for a complete report on the cost of operations of a House committee which has held seven hearings on textbooks.

Alaniz is a member of the committee which held hearings here in Austin and Amarillo.

Alaniz said he will oppose further hearings until after the May 5 primary. He noted that all the committeemen are running for re-election and have opposition.

"I don't believe the taxpayers' money should be used to campaign on," Alaniz said. He said he feels some members of the committee may regard it as useful in obtaining campaign publicity.

The committee is the only one of more than a dozen groups conducting studies in the interim between legislative sessions which is receiving unlimited state funds to cover its expenses, Alaniz said.

"Other members of the committee are Reps. W. T. Dungan of McKinney, the chairman, and Reps. Bob Bass of DeKalb, Nelson Cowles of Hallsville and Ronald Roberts of Hillsboro.

Alaniz and Dungan disagreed several times during testimony here on points of procedure. The committee voted down an attempt by Alaniz to prevent candidates for public office from testifying. Dungan overruled Alaniz' protests that several witnesses were not confining themselves to discussing books in use or under consideration for adoption in Texas schools.

Farm Loans For Land Are Made Available

Insured loans through local banks are now available for purchase of land, Lee R. Tunnell, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, has announced.

Three loans aggregating $128,200 have been or are being processed for farm purchases by Nolan H. Stanley, Neil Fryar and David Newsom.

Under the program, said Tunnell, banks furnish the funds and the loans are insured by the federal government. Currently the State National Bank is handling the loans, although First National has indicated an interest and others may also qualify. The purchaser usually has a choice of selecting the lender.

Another type of loan now available, Tunnell added, is to small rural communities with a population of less than 2,500 for installation or improvement of rural water supply and distribution systems that furnish water for household and livestock use. These association loans may run up to a maximum of one million dollars. The rate is five per cent and period of repayment up to 40 years.

Other FHA services include loans for farm development work which includes drilling irrigation wells, installing irrigation pumps, terracing, root plowing, leveling land and other improvement projects, he said.

Indians Studied For Arthritis, Climate Links

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists are comparing two tribes of American Indians to determine the effect of climate and heredity on arthritis and rheumatism.

The U.S. Public Health Service, in announcing the study, noted that for hundreds of years physicians had recommended changes in climate in hopes of helping sufferers of the diseases.

"Yet," the service said, "there is no conclusive evidence that transplanting patients from one location to another has any lasting value—and medical texts on the subject sometimes read more like folklore than presentations of scientific data."

Now, the service said, the study among the Indians may allow the government researchers — representing the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases — "to pin down finally the relationship between climate and arthritis and rheumatism."

More than 11 million Americans are afflicted with the painful diseases. The affliction is called arthritis if the joints are involved, and rheumatism if muscle tendons, ligaments or similar structures are concerned.

The service already has completed a study of more than 1,000 Blackfoot Indians living in Montana, where the year-round weather is relatively cold.

Next year, service researchers plan to undertake the second phase of the project—a comparative study of a Southwestern tribe in hot, dry, Arizona desert, 1,800 miles from the Blackfoot country. The second tribe was not identified.

Glenn Had Pain Killer Along In Case Of Injury

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. had been hurt on his space flight, he could have given himself a pain-killing injection right through his flying suit.

Biomedical experts of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported this today during a detailed symposium on the Marine lieutenant colonel's three-orbit flight of last Feb. 20.

They disclosed that Glenn carried in his survival kit four newly developed "automatic self-injectors" stored in a small package. The injectors contained medications for pain, shock and motion sickness, and a stimulant.

TINY HOLE

One end of each injector was fitted with a red safety cap, and the other end contained the medication and needle.

Upon removal of a safety pin, the injector becomes armed. The astronaut would have pressed the needle end of the in-

Odessa JC Asks 4-Year Status

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Commission on Higher Education will receive a request Monday that Odessa Junior College be made a four-year state-supported college.

It will come from G. Kirk Harding, president of the school's board of regents. The regents have adopted a resolution asking the new status.

The request is only for a staff study and a formal presentation will be made to the commission in July. The school would be renamed Permian State College of Technology if the change is approved.

Astronaut Comes Out Strongly In Favor Of Ham Sandwiches

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. came out strong today for ham sandwiches for future orbiting spacemen.

He said his own experience indicated there's no need of restricting spacemen, as he was, to tube-fed foods like applesauce.

Glenn made his sandwich suggestions as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration presented detailed reports on his triple orbit of the earth to an international gathering of more than 1,000 scientists. A few from Communist-bloc countries attended.

MILESTONE

The space agency said examination of the records of the Marine lieutenant colonel's flight showed that it was "an unequalled success, a major milestone in the program for the manned exploration of space."

This was the first detailed scientific report on the mission, the man, and his capsule. But, except for details and amplification, it presented little that had not previously been disclosed by the space agency—and nothing new of a major nature.

If anyone had doubts about Glenn's health they now have the word of the space agency's top medical people that: Before, during and after his orbital jaunt, everything was normal, including his heart—at least so far as all available tests could show.

The only detectable injury he suffered was a couple of skinned knuckles when he "blew" the escape hatch of his space capsule on the deck of the destroyer Noa that had retrieved the spacecraft from the sea.

WORST JOLT

Glenn himself reported that "probably the most solid jolt of the whole trip" was when his capsule swung against the starboard side of the Noa when it was being hoisted aboard by a lifeboat rigging.

Glenn lost five ounces during flight and in the four hours after landing. But his doctors reported that this was only slightly more than he lost in a simulated three-orbit flight on a whirling test device called a centrifuge.

Physicians attributed much of the weight loss to a temporary "mild dehydration" Glenn experienced as a result of being overheated during his re-entry and while waiting to be picked up.

Glenn reiterated that the weightlessness of orbital flight was a "pleasant" experience—and he related that he even tried to see if he could bring on any adverse effects from the weightless state by moving his head through various motions.

NO NAUSEA

His doctors said that even under this voluntary stress, Glenn showed no signs of nausea, dizziness, impairment of equilibrium, or other evidence of physical disorientation.

The closest Glenn came to feeling disoriented was when his slow-down rockets fired as he headed over the West Coast on route to his impact at sea. He said this firing "produced the sensation that I was accelerating back toward Hawaii,"—but he recognized it as only an illusion.

His highest pulse rate—134 beats a minute—was experienced when the first of his two parachutes opened. But the doctors said that Glenn's quickened pulse rates at various times were all "within acceptable physiological limits."

Dr. William K. Douglas, until recently the chief flight surgeon for all the astronauts, summed up the whole medical picture by reporting:

"The preflight and postflight medical evaluations have revealed no adverse effect of 4½ hours of space flight per se."

Douglas did say it's possible that Glenn's flight was too short to produce detectable effects "or such effects have not yet become evident." But he also said it's also possible that "space flight has, indeed, no ill effect."

Here are some other observations from Glenn himself about the flight in general:

—He had no difficulty in eating applesauce sucked from a tube while in the weightless state, "and I believe that any type of food (including ham sandwiches) can be eaten as long as it does not come apart easily or make crumbs."

—When you lie in a space capsule atop a mighty Atlas rocket waiting for takeoff—and you move back and forth on your capsule couch—"you can feel the entire vehicle (including the rocket) moving very slightly."

—Just before his capsule separated from the great rocket "I had the sensation of being out on the end of a springboard and could feel oscillating motions as if the nose of the launch vehicle was waving back and forth slightly."

Glenn attributed this to the rocket becoming lighter, and thus more flexible, as it used up its fuel.

—Three times during flight, he turned his spacecraft 180 degrees in a yaw maneuver and faced forward in the direction of flight. Glenn said "I liked this attitude—seeing where I was going rather than where I had been—much better." But, more important, he related, the maneuver was one of a number of demonstrations that "I was able to control the spacecraft at all times... one of the most significant features of the flight."

CONTACT LENSES... A Revealing Story About The Price and Quality

Do you know that single vision contact lenses, when fitted by most practitioners, cost $150 or more? Not so at Texas State Optical. The very finest single vision contact lenses are fitted by TSO Doctors of Optometry at a cost of only $65, including a professional eye examination.

Impossible, you say? Famous Micro-sight Contact Lenses are produced in our own scientific laboratory. Having our own laboratory greatly reduces our cost, whereas most other practitioners must buy their lenses from outside laboratories at much higher cost. Too, we are afforded the opportunity of reducing our own cost by serving so many patients in TSO offices throughout Texas. In addition, we expect only a reasonable profit, not an exorbitant profit from each fitting. These factors add up to real savings to our patients.

What about the quality? In processing contact lenses, our laboratory uses the most advanced production techniques known to Ophthalmic science. Continuous research has greatly improved the design of the lenses, as well as the edging, finishing and polishing methods, thus assuring maximum wearing comfort and minimum adaptation problems. Our Doctors of Optometry have fitted over 26,000 patients with contact lenses, an experience which assures more precise fitting and more comfortable wearing. Nowhere can better made, more accurately fitted contact lenses be obtained, regardless of how much they may cost.

What do others say about TSO Contact Lenses? If you would like to have an unbiased opinion of TSO Contact Lenses, don't ask another practitioner who seeks your patronage, but ask someone who already wears contact lenses. Such a person will tell you how really wonderful TSO Contact Lenses are. We understand that, because our price is so reasonable, some practitioners (competitors) have said that our contact lenses are made of inferior material. The truth is that we use only the finest acrylic plastic obtainable at any price; that the cost of this plastic material is very small; that the important cost factors are: the time of the professional contact lens specialists who fit them, the skilled technicians who make them, and the investment in precision machinery and instruments used in processing the lenses. The Doctors of Optometry and contact lens specialists who fit and make our contact lenses are experienced and skilled, and our laboratory is equipped with the most up-to-date processing machinery and instruments.

What about bifocal contact lenses? TSO now fits new Micro-sight BIFOCAL Contact Lenses at only $130, complete with professional eye examination. These BIFOCAL contact lenses are the very latest, most improved design, patient tested and proved. If you wear bifocal glasses, you may want to be fitted in Micro-sight BIFOCAL Contact Lenses.

DEAR ABBY

Go On And Tie That Knot

DEAR ABBY: I have been living with this fellow since 1946. Everyone thinks we are married, but we are not. We have a nice home and are respected in the community and I want to keep it that way. We would like to get married quietly now, but don't know how to do it without publicity (license in the paper, blood tests and so forth). I would appreciate any help you can give me. I can't sign my name, so please put this in the paper and I'll watch for it.

DEAR WANTS TO LIVE RIGHT: DEAR WANTS: Every state has its own laws with regard to marriage. In California you may go to a clergyman of your choice and be married quietly. The "records" will be filed away in the church and no publicity will follow. And you will be just as married as any two people can be.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who constantly corrects others in public about the pronunciation and use of words? JUST CURIOUS

DEAR JUST: I think that person is showing HIS ignorance. It is infinitely more important to be KIND than correct.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old boy with a very active social life and a better than average school record. As far back as I can remember my mother has wanted me to take piano lessons. Until recently I have refused. Finally, we made a deal. If I took piano lessons, my mother would give me permission to smoke. I have started taking piano lessons and am bored. I now realize that the piano is not for me. I told my mother I would quit smoking if she let me quit the piano. She said NO! Please tell me how I can get out of this dizzy deal.

DEAR NO CHOPIN: You don't have to be a Chopin to enjoy music. Almost everyone who goofed off when he had the chance to learn music has regretted it. I can't say much for the "deal" your mother made, but make the best of it or all that money for music lessons will go up in smoke.

DEAR ABBY: My heart goes out to the daughter-in-law who signed herself "IGNORED." I know how she feels because I am "ignored," also. Only I am a mother-in-law. My only child was married 15 years ago. They live only 22 miles from me, but I have grandchildren I have never seen. I don't weep and moan and feel sorry for myself. I take my troubles to the Lord. He keeps me strong and of good cheer.

ALSO IGNORED: Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

LAW OF MOSES, LAW OF GOD

By A Christian Writer

The Apostle Paul contended with a certain sect because they tried to require Gentile Christians to "keep the law of Moses, which law was done away in Christ (Acts 15: 13-18; Jno. 1:17).

The "law of Moses" and the "law of God" in the Old Testament are one and the same thing. The terms are used interchangeably in Neh. 8:1, 8, 18. In Neh. 10:28-31 it is called the "law of God" and "God's law, which was given by Moses," and is said to pertain to such things as keeping the sabbath day, the sabbath year, and other holy days.

Reservists Protest Owen Sentence

FT. DEVENS, Mass. (AP)—A protest, signed by 134 Army Reservists, against the recent court martial of a Texas Army Reservist at Ft. Polk, La., has been sent to Army Sec. Elvis Stahr.

Pfc. Bernis Owen of Seadrift was sentenced by an Army special court-martial to six months imprisonment March 27 at Ft. Polk on charges growing out of his protests against retention of active duty.

Officials at Ft. Devens made no comment on the reported protest by the Reservists.

In their letter, the Reservists contended Owen was denied a fair trial and that "the imposition of maximum punishment was out of all proportion to his so-called offense."

Holding Infant, Austin Man Threatens To Jump

AUSTIN (AP)—For 40 minutes a screaming father perched near the top of a 150-foot tower with a baby boy in his arms and threatened to leap early today.

As police and firemen stood by, a Roman Catholic priest finally induced him to hand over the infant and descend in a maintenance elevator inside the tall city street light tower.

Officers identified the man as Joe Avila Garcia, 36, of Austin and said he had been drinking. They held him without immediate charge. Police gave these details. Garcia fled with the two-month-old baby after a fight with his wife, 33.

While she was en route to a hospital for treatment of head injuries, he started up one of Austin's "moonlight towers," topped by a cluster of bright lights to illuminate a broad downtown area.

Father Antonio Gonzales, 38, came from Our Lady of Guadalupe Church nearby as witnesses summoned police and firemen.

Screaming incoherently in Spanish, Garcia kept complaining his wife was never home. He threatened to leap if anyone followed him up the tower.

NASA Warns TV Viewers: Men May Die

CHICAGO (AP)—Television audiences must be prepared to witness death in space flight efforts, the administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration warns.

The administrator, James E. Webb, speaking at the 40th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters, said men died while exploring the earth's unknown regions, and it is foolish to ignore this possibility in the far more hazardous regions of space.

"If we are to ride into space with our astronauts via television, we cannot avoid being there if tragedy strikes," he said. "Perhaps as a nation we can learn that some of the most valuable lessons of space flight come from failure."

The NASA chief noted that by far the largest daytime audience in television's history watched Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s space flight on Feb. 20, and he praised broadcasters for their extensive coverage.

At one time or another during Glenn's three-orbit trip the flight's progress was followed on television in nearly 44 million homes, Webb said.

Reporter Sports Walker Shiner

This is the eye that was punched by Edwin A. Walker, resigned major general.

Kelly explained that he was trying to ask the general whether he was going to disavow an admirer of his, George Lincoln Rockwell, American Nazi.

Kelly hadn't finished the query when—pow—he got a right jab in his left blinker. Kelly is sporting a small mouse but said he isn't really hurting.

Kelly didn't hit back, and anyway, the general had the weight and reach advantage on him. At the request of The News, the Army looked up Walker's physical statistics and reported them as: 6 feet tall, 200 pounds. Kelly's figures: 5 feet 6, 155 pounds.

Baylor Student Congress Votes Against Racism

WACO (AP)—After an hour of warm debate, Baylor University's student congress approved a resolution calling for removal of racial barriers by a 30-5 vote Thursday night.

It urges administrators take steps to integrate classes at the Baptist school, which has more than 5,000 students.

Proponents cited a recent straw vote on the campus indicating favor for admitting qualified Negro students and letting them participate in Southwest Conference athletics. They said it was a duty of the congress to adopt the resolution as voice of the student body.

Opponents declared that if Texas Baptists wanted integration, the university already would have desegregated classes.

Senate Gives Overwhelming Approval To U.N. Bonds Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has given lopsided approval to President Kennedy's plea for authority to extend $100 million in aid to the financially troubled United Nations.

Through a long legislative day Thursday a coalition of Democrats and Republicans beat back efforts to limit the President's authority.

What emerged for consideration by the House was a compromise measure much to the administration's liking. Passed 70 to 22, it would permit Kennedy to either lend the United Nations the money on his own terms or buy U.N. bonds bearing 2 per cent interest, repayable over 25 years.

Attached is the condition that all U.S. loans above $25 million must be matched by bond purchases by other U.N. member-nations. This isn't likely to tie Kennedy's hands. Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., floor manager for the bill, said other nations already have agreed to buy more than $52-million worth.

A ringing declaration by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois that "I have not lost my faith in John Fitzgerald Kennedy" highlighted the legislative struggle and pointed up the partisan support for the measure.

Dirksen had sponsored the com-

U.S.-Russian Dispute Settled

BERLIN (AP)—One dispute between the United States and Russia has been settled. As a result, the U.S. liaison mission in East Germany and the Soviet mission at U.S. headquarters in West Germany may once again move about without restriction.

The agreement Thursday between U.S. Gen. Bruce C. Clarke and Soviet Marshal Ivan S. Konev eased the atmosphere somewhat but brought no significant change—or even hope of immediate change—in the general tension hanging over West Berlin.

Clarke, the U.S. Army commander in Europe, and Konev, the Soviet commander in East Germany, met in Potsdam, East Germany, to settle the dispute that developed after East German police shot up a U.S. mission car.

The two commanders agreed their missions at each others' headquarters would resume normal activity today. There was no public mention of the shooting incident.

promise jointly with the Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana.

While the proposal may be in for rougher going in the House, Senate Democratic and Republican leaders were confident the big margin piled up for it in the Senate would help turn the tide on the other side of the Capitol.

"RELIABLE PRESCRIPTIONS"

Young Inventor Has Other Ideas, Seeks Aid

HOUSTON (AP)—Pat Flanagan, 17, is seeking legal advice on what to do with a hearing aid device he has invented.

The youth said today he wants to be certain his neurophone gets into the hands of a capable and reliable firm.

"I have to be cautious because I have some other ideas I think are about as good as the neurophone," he said.

Mrs. Betty Flanagan, his mother, said her telephone has been ringing constantly since newspapers published stories Wednesday about the invention. One expert has described it as "very exciting."

"We've been deluged with calls from hearing aid companies, electronics firms and parents of deaf children," she said.

The neurophone transmits sound by radio impulses directly to the brain. It bypasses the ears.

Mrs. Flanagan said Pat's mail included a letter from a 71-year-old convict in the state prison at Huntsville. She said the man, deaf since 1911, wants to try out the device.

The neurophone involves fitting two insulated electrodes over the temples without contacting the ears.

Pat became interested in noise and sound on discovering he had trouble hearing an airplane's radio above engine noise. He has been taking flying lessons for a year.

A ham radio operator since he was 12, Pat began experimenting with his radio equipment. His neurophone is the result.

Official Defends State School Fence

AUSTIN (AP)—The chairman of the Texas Youth Council said Thursday that fencing one unit at the Gatesville State School for Boys is not "harsh or sadistic or cruel."

Robert Kneebone of Houston said the fence which will encircle the Mountain View Unit "will house the most aggressive and problem children."

The council met with a group called the Texas Citizens Committee of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

How Texas Solons Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas joined 69 other Democrats in voting with the majority Thursday night when the Senate passed the U.N. financing bill.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., voted against the measure, approved by the Senate 70-22.

Earlier, Yarborough voted against an amendment to the bill by Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga. The amendment would have given Congress a veto over use of U.S. personnel in U.N. operations.

Sen. Tower voted for the Russell amendment, which the Senate defeated 72-21.

Wilson Rules On Poll Taxes

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson held today that a county tax assessor-collector may not issue a voting poll tax receipt to a taxpayer whose mailed application and remittance is received after Jan. 31, even though it may have been sent in an envelope postmarked before Feb. 1.

In reply to a request by Mt. Pleasant Dist. Atty. Alfred Flanagan, Wilson said that the poll tax is not paid until the remittance is in the hands of the tax assessor-collector or his authorized deputy.

Brewed with pure artesian water...

from the Country of 1100 Springs

Photographed in Bandera County on the Medina River... in the Country of 1100 Springs. The cold, clear water you see here will disappear underground and filter for 100 miles through limestone to artesian wells beneath the Pearl Brewery.

This is a corner of our brewery. To be exact, it's the far end of the magnificent water system that supplies the Pearl Brewery. The stream you see is fed by springs, and its bed is pure limestone. For every mile this river flows, it loses hundreds of gallons of water to the porous, thirsty stone. Once in the limestone, the water never leaves, never stops filtering until — a hundred miles later — our own artesian wells bring it up from a quarter-mile beneath the brewery. Delivered pure and fresh (as only limestone can do it), this water brings out the delicate flavors you often miss in beer. It gives Pearl life you can see! The bubbles that rise when you fill your glass are the "pearls" of life that gave this great beer its name.

Contest Getting Good Response

AUSTIN—Entry response to the $400 Scholarship Essay Contest being sponsored by the Texas Good Roads Association proves that the young people of Texas are strongly interested in the roads on which they ride, Callan Graham, executive vice president of the TGRA, said today.

But he warned that only 30 days remain until the close of the contest April 30. The subject is "What Better Highways Mean to My Community," and essays must not exceed 500 words.

The scholarship contest is open to any high school senior student in Texas. First-prize winner will receive a $250 scholarship, second prize will be a $100 scholarship, and third prize a $50 scholarship.

Sign Up Again

During March, eight out of nine eligible Webb AFB airmen re-enlisted for new tours of duty with the Air Force. This gave the base an 89 per cent retention rate for the month. The 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron signed four out of six airmen for a 67 per cent rate.

331st Airman Selected For Special AF Program

AIRMAN MUNGER

Hunt Attends College Meeting

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, is in Austin today for the meeting of the Texas Association of Colleges.

He was in conference Thursday morning with Dr. J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, and junior college officials regarding mechanics of new junior college budgetary procedures. The afternoon he met with the Texas Association of Public Junior Colleges.

Attends Course

Coye Conner, service manager at Shasta Ford Sales, Inc., Big Spring, attended a course in service merchandising at the Ford Motor Co. Marketing Institute in Dallas this week.

The institute serves nearly 1,200 dealers in the Southwest Region of Ford Division and Lincoln-Mercury Division.

Airman I.C. Rollin N. Munger will soon be promoted to staff sergeant, attend the University of Wyoming at no cost, work for a degree in aeronautical engineering, and attend Officers' Training School for three months and become a second lieutenant under the Air Force's Airman Education and Commissioning program.

Airman Munger is an alert-center operator in the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron. He came to Webb AFB with the F-102s from Eathen Allen AFB, Va., in March, 1960. When he arrived, he did not have a single college credit. Now, less than two years later, he has 51 credits acquired at Howard County Junior College and six more from USAFI courses. The airman recently re-enlisted for six years.

To qualify for the program an airman must have a minimum of 30 semester hours, collected at an accredited college. He must also successfully complete a college-level General Educational Development test, the officers' qualifying exam, and pass physical requirements for entrance to OTS. In addition, he must have maintained a "C" average or above. Airman Munger will leave soon for the University of Wyoming. The school was selected as a result of a counseling between Munger and Joseph Hinton, base education advisor. The airman was allowed to select his major from a predetermined list. Airman Munger works the night shift at the 331st and has attended college during the day, carrying between nine and 14 credit hours each semester. He entered the Air Force in November, 1955, and his overseas assignments have been at Okinawa and Formosa. He is married to the former Jimmie Barr of Shreveport, La. The couple have three children, Jana, 3; Dean, 1; and Michael, 4 months.
